MAY STUDY HOUSE SPEAKER'S RECORD

Former PM, 3 Others Executed

MOSCOW — (AP) — The former prime minister of Azerbaijan and three other top officials of that Caucasian republic have been executed for treason and counter-revolutionary activity.

They were accused of being accomplices of former Soviet police boss Lavrenti Beria.

The newspaper Baku Worker, which reached Moscow today, said they had been charged with "terroristic acts."

The chief defendant in the trials, which the newspaper said was held publicly in Baku between April 12 and April 26, was identified as M. D. Bagairov, former secretary of the Communist party in that area and the chairman of the council of ministers of the Azerbaijan republic.

Bagairov was removed as chairman of the council of ministers in August, 1953, a month after Beria was purged. He had been secretary of the Communist party since 1947.

The indictment said he and his accomplices were guilty of treason, of using improper methods of police investigation, of setting the state security organs against the government and the Communist party and of counter-revolutionary activity.

There has been no word of the trial or execution in the Moscow press or over the radio.

Four Were Injured when this car crashed into the back of a cement truck last night on the Montreal Road. Arthur Galipeau, East Angus, driver of the truck and a passenger were not injured. True Liberals Side With U.N. Says Duplessis; Lapalme Makes Income Tax Reduction Promise QUEBEC — (CP) — A Liberal promise to reduce the provincial income tax and a Union Nationale prediction of sweeping the June 20 Quebec general election highlighted campaign speeches Monday night by the two principal party leaders.

In predicting a sweeping victory at the polls, Premier Duplessis told a rally at Riviere-du-Loup that all "true Liberals" are with his Union Nationale party.

"Our opponents are not true Liberals because all true liberals are with us," the premier said of Liberal leader Georges Lapalme and his provincial party.

Meanwhile, at Maniwaki, Que., 85 miles north of Ottawa, Mr. Lapalme promised that if elected his party would end "the discrimination against the people of Quebec" by reducing the provincial income tax.

He reiterated that double taxation is forcing already-established industries to leave Quebec and preventing new ones from entering.

Mr. Lapalme said his party would reduce the provincial tax to 10 per cent of the federal levy, thus making it completely deductible from the federal tax. Present tax is 15 per cent.

Speaking in support of Maurice Soucy, Union Nationale candidate, 66-year-old Premier Duplessis said he would not make promises that his government could not keep. However, he said, his administration hoped to "recuperate enough of our right" to undertake the construction of more hospitals, homes for the aged, orphanages and schools.

Mr. Duplessis said the main issue of the election was provincial rights which were threatened by the federal government. In Mr. Lapalme's criticism of the Quebec income tax, he said 120 companies had moved their head offices from the province during the last three years because of the double levy.

He added that during 1954-55 only 28 of 174 British industries which established themselves in Canada moved to Quebec.

Registration forced on Cypriot villagers

NICOSIA, Cyprus — (Reuters) — Every person over the age of 12, including old men hobbling on canes and women clutching babies was forced to register in a mountain village today at the start of a vast new British operation to quell terrorism on Cyprus.

Each of the 383 affected Greek Cypriots in Platres, 60 miles southwest of Nicosia, filed into a school building to be photographed and fingerprinted. British authorities have ordered compulsory registration in 72 other villages in southwest Cyprus where terrorist ambushes have increased.

Officials estimate that it will take about a month to register the populations and issue them with identity cards. British troops stood by in Platres as the villagers gave personal particulars and were photographed with numbers held across their chests. There were no incidents.

Meanwhile, the outlawed Cypriot Communist party scattered leaflets in Nicosia today calling for an end to the bloodshed that has marked the union-with-Greece movement on Cyprus since last year.

New violence cropped up even as the furtively circulated leaflets were picked up. Two British-owned cars set on fire by terrorists in Famagusta, and a Turkish Cypriot policeman injured during bomb throwing incidents in Nicosia May 21 died in a hospital. He was the 16th police fatality since the pro-Greek EOKA terrorist group began activity 13 months ago.

The leaflets said the proscribed Communist party's policy was that "violence should cease — in whatever quarter it may come from."

It urged that all further hangings of convicted Cypriots should be postponed as a first step toward a general amnesty; emergency regulations should be abolished; all political prisoners in this British Mediterranean island colony should be released; Archbishop Makarios, leader of the union-with-Greece movement in Cyprus be restored.

Four-fifths of the island's half-million population are Greek Cypriots. The minority is composed mainly of Turkish Cypriots, who bitterly oppose any move to merge Cyprus with Greece.

An "anti-riot" fence will be constructed to divide Greek and Turkish quarters in Nicosia's walled city following clashes recently between the two ethnic groups.

Newspaper Says B And K Visit Here Possibility

LONDON — (CP) — The Daily Mail says in a New York dispatch that Russia's Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin are planning to make an official visit to Canada.

The dispatch says the Russian leaders are "known to be anxious" to visit the United States, and implies that an official visit to Canada, which would be covered by American newspapers, radio and television, would be a suitable opening gambit. The U.S. is thought to be reluctant to extend an invitation at this time.

ROME — (AP) — A leftist surge in late-reporting northern industrial centres cut deeply today into early advantages by centre parties in the Italian local elections.

Stalin prize winner Pietro Nenni's party-leading Socialists polled heavily in Milan, Genoa and other great cities. With more than one-fourth of the votes counted, leftist totals were slightly above their showing in the 1953 general elections.

The Communists held firm to their strongholds of Bologna, Taranto, Reggio Emilia, Savona, Modena, Ferrara, La Spezia and the provinces of Pisa and Bologna.

Both East and West are watching the returns closely, as this is the first major election in western Europe since the Kremlin adopted its new policies of anti-Stalinism and coexistence.

The Christian Democrats were doing well in many other areas. In Rome, together with their centre allies, they gained over the last election and had within 100,000 votes of the combined total for the far left and far right.

The Christian Democrats ran strongly in Sicily, capturing the major cities and single-handedly winning 144 out of 266 Sicilian towns.

With their centre allies, the Christian Democrats beat back a strong leftist challenge to retain control of historic Florence.

In many smaller communities they were also strong, winning over 12 towns from the far left in Milan province. Of 218 towns under 10,000 in that province, the Christian Democrats will control 134 to 80 for the Communists-Socialists.

Turin and industrial Milan were also favoring the pro-Western parties.

The great northern port of Genoa, now held by the centre, was the scene of a race so close that the last few polls could decide it.

His Record Stands

DALLAS, Tex. — (AP) — A one-armed post office driver with a 28-year perfect safety record retired Monday. Tesla Armstrong, 60, who lost an arm in a fireworks accident in 1912, started out riding a bicycle, and from there went to a motorcycle and an automobile. Now he plans to look for another job.

Today's Chuckle

Three cell mates in a Russian prison were talking it over:

First: "I was accused of atheism for being late to work."

Second: "I came to work early and was accused of being a spy."

Third: "I came to work on time and they accused me of buying an American watch."

Florida Negroes Boycott

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A second southern state capital has been hit by a boycott of Negro bus riders stemming from a dispute over segregated seating arrangements.

Some students at Florida A. and M. University for Negroes began walking Monday in preference to riding buses, in protest against the arrest of two Negro girl students for refusing to move to the rear of a Cities Transit Co. bus.

Rev. C. K. Steele, president of the Tallahassee chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said without elaborating that the boycott would be "continued beyond the university campus."

Montgomery, Ala., has felt the effects of a boycott for several months. Most of its 50,000 Negroes have been boycotting buses since Dec. 5, 1955, in a protest against city and state segregation laws.

Florida has an old law requiring bus and railroad companies to provide separate accommodations for white and Negro passengers travelling within the state.

Florida, however, has no anti-boycott law like Alabama. Negro leaders of the boycott in Montgomery were convicted recently of violating laws, and appeals are pending.

The two girls students here, Wilhelmina Jakes, 26, and Carrie F. Patterson, 20, were arrested Saturday and charged with placing themselves in a position to cause a riot. They were released in $25 bond each pending a hearing Friday.

Steele said the NAACP is looking into the legal angles of the arrests, and into a cross-burning in front of the students' home Monday night.

European Atom Pool Agreed On

VENICE, Italy. — (Reuters) — The foreign ministers of six west European countries agreed here today to call a conference to draw up treaties for the creation of a European atomic energy pool and a six-country single market.

The ministers — of France, West Germany, Italy and the Benelux nations — also agreed to appoint Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium as president of the treaty-drafting conference.

The twin projects would enable the six powers to pool their atomic energy resources, and would demolish the barriers to trade among them.

Both projects were drawn up by a committee of experts which the foreign ministers appointed last June. The committee, headed by Spaak, said the idea of Euratom — as it will be called — is to create joint research and training centres and a European plant for making enriched uranium, thus boosting the growth of nuclear industry.

Newspaper Editorial Sparks New Twist In Pipe Line Debate

OTTAWA — (CP) — Disturbed by what was termed a reflection on his position as impartial mediator of debate, House of Commons Speaker Rene Beaudoin has asked that a committee of opposition members examine his record.

Mr. Beaudoin made the request Monday after Colin Cameron (CCF—Nanaimo) read this excerpt from an editorial in Monday's Montreal Gazette about the Commons pipeline debate:

"Nor was this all. To make matters worse, the Speaker of the House of Commons, and his deputies, were inevitably dragged into the struggle on behalf of the government."

"Instead of playing an impartial rôle, they were required, whatever their opinions may have been, to play their parts in chipping and chopping parliamentary rights and privileges — all in the interests of stifling the voice of the house and getting the bill through."

That, said Mr. Cameron, is "a reflection upon yourself and your deputies and also, therefore, a reflection on every honorable member of this House."

If it were not true, Mr. Cameron added, "then some action should be taken with regard to the publishers of this particular newspaper."

"If, on the other hand, it should be true, then some action should be taken with regard to the government."

Mr. Beaudoin said he does not like what has happened nor what has appeared in the press during the volcanic gas pipeline debate "any more than any honorable members do."

"No doubt," he added, "something should be done."

He suggested the Commons elections and privileges committee be set up entirely of opposition members and that Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre), an acknowledged procedural expert, be named its chairman.

It could call as witnesses procedural experts like MacGregor Dawson, who has written books on the subject, and former Commons clerk Arthur Beauchesne, whose writings on House rules and procedures have figured prominently in the procedural battle that has marked much of the pipeline debate.

The committee, which would have to be given a directive of the House before it could take such action, would go into Mr. Beaudoin's rulings thoroughly. It would not have to stick to just those he has made in the pipeline debate. It could go right back to this start in the chair, in 1949.

"And I myself shall abide by the report of that committee," Mr. Beaudoin said.

Opposition leader Drew sought Monday to move a motion censuring the government for what he said has been its subordination of the office of House chairman to the "partisan interests of the government."

This followed Mr. Drew's oral notice Friday that he would move to have chairman W. A. Robinson formally censured by the House following the suspension of Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) for refusing Mr. Robinson's repeated order to sit down.

Mr. Beaudoin ruled Mr. Drew's motion out of order. It was one of the few rulings by the chair that has not been appealed since the pipeline fight opened.

There have been 41 votes since the legislation was first put before the House May 14. Seventeen of these have been appeals of rulings by the chair.

Train Derailed Outside Montreal

MONTREAL — (CP) — Thirteen cars of a Canadian National Railways freight train inbound to Montreal from Halifax were derailed at near St. Hubert today. There were no injuries.

A CNR despatcher here said traffic between Montreal and the Maritimes and eastern United States probably would be blocked off until some time this afternoon.

Extra crews have been called out to help clear the main line on the south shore of the St. Lawrence. Cause of the derailment and further details of the accident were not immediately available.

Debate May Close By This Weekend

OTTAWA — (CP) — The hot and heavy Commons gas pipeline debate, sidetracked for three days by a bitter procedural wrangle, has begun again. It may not last beyond the end of the week.

Discussion on the controversial subject matter of the government pipeline legislation was opened Monday in the committee of the whole House, constituted last week to study details of the bill's seven clauses.

The committee debate began on the fourth clause, however, after a series of motions by Trade Minister Howe beginning last Thursday had barred discussion of the first three sections.

The day's debate had these features:

1. Trade Minister Howe said tightened credit restrictions dashed a serious effort by TransCanada Pipe Lines Ltd. to get temporary private financing of the Prairie section of its proposed $375,000,000 gas line from Alberta to Montreal. He had believed the attempt would be successful until three weeks before the government brought in its measure to lend TransCanada up to $80,000,000 to cover 90 per cent of the cost of building the prairie leg this year.

2. Opposition leader Drew, branding the proposal "one of the most outrageous sell-outs" of Canadian resources ever seen, said that if the bill goes through the government should demand a majority of TransCanada's share stock.

3. CCF leader Coldwell said government tactics in the pipeline battle have blasted Parliament as a democratic institution. He hoped Conservative and CCF opposition would succeed in delaying the bill's passage beyond the June 7 deadline set by the government.

4. Rev. E. G. Hansell, spokesman for the Social Credit party which backs the government stand, accused the other two opposition parties with following the Communist line in their fight against the bill.

Prime Minister St. Laurent made an immediate surprise announcement: "That if the motion on the third clause were carried, debate could start on the fourth or remaining three clauses and continue 'all this week' on remaining stages of the measure."

Besides the present committee stage, the third-reading stage remains. Mr. St. Laurent did not elaborate on his statement but it appeared the government would have to use closure to get third reading by Friday night.

Mr. Drew and Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said the prime minister's statement was no concession whatever.

Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver Kingsway) said the statement was "an insult to the House."

World News In Brief

TORONTO. — (CP) — A man posing as a hydro-electric meter reader, robbed a contractor's home of $1,110 Monday after slugging a housekeeper into unconsciousness. Mrs. Silvia Durbanio, 32, told police she heard a man call out "hydro reader." She pointed to the meter, returned to her kitchen work and was slugged.

VANCOUVER. — (CP) — Murder charges resulting from a street brawl faced three men today after the death of a young man who was badly beaten Saturday. William Robert Martin, 22, died in hospital Monday without regaining consciousness.

GUNTERVILLE, Ala. — (AP) — An automobile and a cabin cruiser collided near here Monday when the boat's controls jammed and it jumped out of Gunterville lane on to a highway. A car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lee Isdell struck the boat and Mrs. Isdell suffered a possible skull fracture and cuts on the face and head.

CHICAGO. — (AP) — Mrs. Hattie Payne, 33, told a court Monday that her husband blackened her eyes 192 times. Her story of a black eye a month from their marriage Nov. 1, 1938, to their separation Oct. 5, 1954, won her a divorce.

AMMAN, Jordan. — (AP) — Syrian President Shukri Kwatat arrived Monday for a state visit during which he is expected to have important political and military talks with Jordan officials. Kwatat was accompanied by seven high military officers. Jordan's King Hussein met them.

BRUNSWICK, Germany. — (AP) — Richard Skarabis, a former major of the Nazi Elite Guard, was sentenced Monday to four years for killing two Communists in the bloody 1934 Nazi purge.

JERUSALEM. — (AP) — More than 100,000 oaks in Wingate Woods were destroyed by fire Monday. They were planted by the Jewish national fund as a tribute to the late Maj.-Gen. Orde Charles Wingate, who as captain in the British Army in Palestine in 1936 trained Israeli squads for defence against Arab marauders.

Torpedo-Man First Class Dick
Merrill, of the U.S. Navy recruiting service showed the model and also told some interesting facts about the carrier, about submarines and about Navy life in general.

Each of the members of the club brought high school boys with them, and all enjoyed both the dinner and the speaker.

The Forrestal has a weight of over 76,000 tons, according to Sgt Merrill, and has a deck space of four acres. It cost $372-000,000 to build, can handle 100 planes, and travels at about 30 miles per hour.

The model shown was 1/250 of the actual size of this great vessel. The size of the deck was such that planes could be landing and taking off at the same time. It would be possible, for instance, to dispatch 32 planes in a matter of four minutes.

President Beverly Haselton presided at the meeting, and the speaker was introduced by C. R.
MacLean. The thanks of the club for an interesting talk were given by Maurice Moore.

Higher Taxes Unless Electric Problem Solved — Mayor

Meeting Next Week With Richmond Co. On Power Site Sale

By WARREN SPAFFORD

Unless Sherbrooke finds a way out of its electrical problems, ratepayers will face another increase in taxes, Mayor Armand Nadeau said at a meeting of city council last night.

"If you want lower taxes in the future, it's time to seriously study the electrical problem," the Mayor told councillors. "We all agree that if taxes are to continually increase, we'll not stay in office."

Officials of the Richmond Pulp and Paper Company will discuss purchase of the Bromptonville power site with city council next week. The company has suggested that it buy the dam, but it was decided last night that not only the dam would be sold, but also the grinder house and the land which the city owns along the river.

A week ago, City Treasurer Pierre Bachand produced a detailed report of the financial situation at the Brompton plant. It showed that to break even, the city must get $209,000 for the site.

Council took advantage of the Brompton debate to hold what might be termed a "tune-up" battle on the future of all Sherbrooke's hydro-electric plants.

Referring to a survey made by experts at a cost of $14,000 in 1953, Mayor Nadeau said that the firm of Beauchemin and Herter did not recommend the development of the Bromptonville site in view of the economic conditions which prevailed at the time. In fact, said the Mayor, they did not recommend further expansion of the electrical system.

He also outlined other aspects of the report, especially those concerning the condition of the six generating stations owned by the city. Beauchemin and Herter made the following recommendations:

Rock Forest Station, built in 1911—equipment outmoded but construction good.

Frontenac, built in 1917—repair dam, replace units, install 2 new turbines.

Drummond station, built in 1927—repair dam, install new generator.

Weedon plant, built in 1920—dam and equipment in doubtful condition.

Westbury, built in 1927—repair dam and station.

Eustis, built in 1903—complete reconstruction should be studied, equipment in fair condition.

Since that time certain repairs have been affected at the Frontenac, Westbury and Eustis stations.

The Mayor said that since the city had spent $14,000 to have a complete survey of the City's system made, Council should at least respect some of the recommendations made. He pointed out that in 1949, when he was an alderman, the Brompton site was purchased because it was recommended by engineers. The people approved the purchase in a referendum and again last fall, when the Beauchemin report had been submitted, the people turned down a proposition to develop the Bromptonville site. This, he said, proved that the attitude of the population has changed considerably in six years.

Despite the Beauchemin and Herter report, engineers still recommended the development of the site and their plans were drawn up and voted on last fall. The Mayor stated that the city was perfectly justified in selling the site in view of the vote last fall.

Boards Of Trade, Settlement Soc. To Hold Meeting

The joint annual meeting of the Eastern Townships Settlement Society and the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade will be held tomorrow at the St. George's Club, 325 Dufferin Avenue.

Following the luncheon at 1 p.m., a business meeting will be held in the club board room at 2:30 with opening remarks by H. P. Stone, president, and the official welcoming address by Mayor Armand Nadeau.

Guest speaker will be Dr. A. N. Langford, of Bishop's University, who will talk on "A Conservationist Looks at Orford." Mr. Stone will cover the "Freight rates in relation to Industrial development in smaller communities" and E. J. Struthers will give a "History of Mount Orford Park."

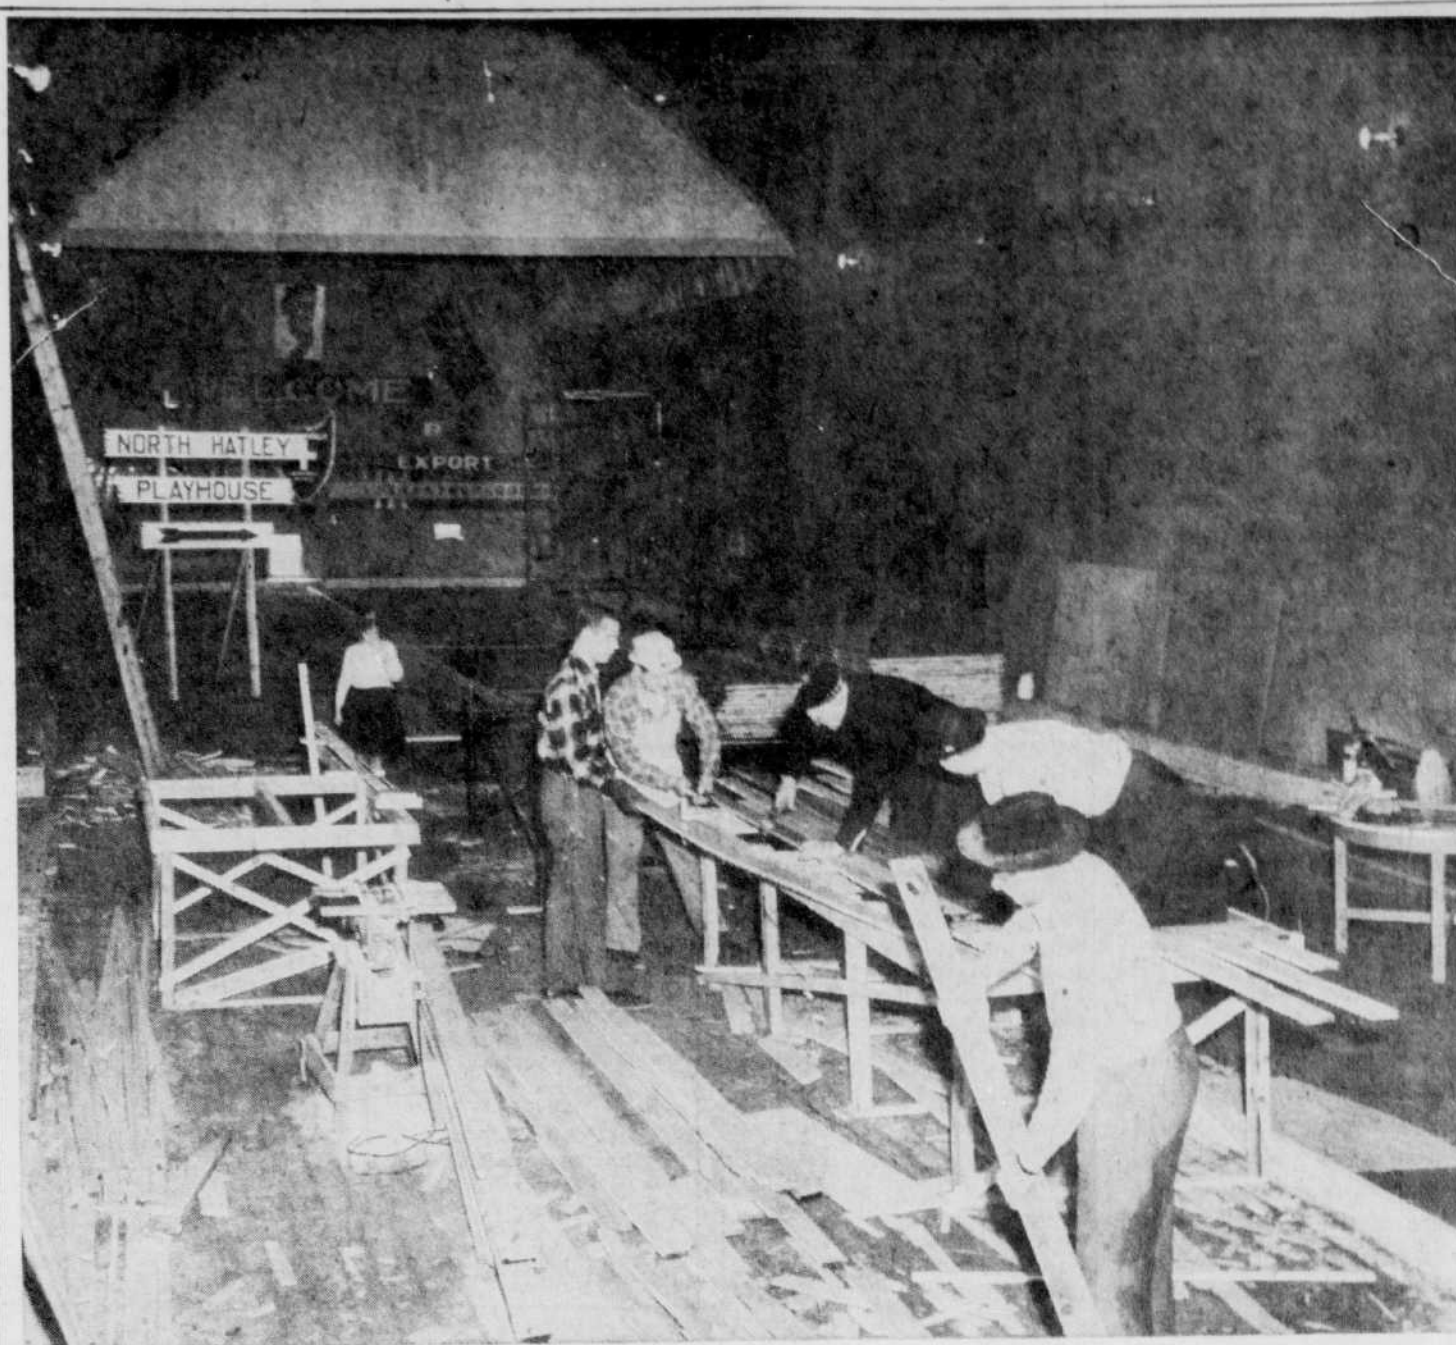

Other business will include the reading of the minutes of the last executive meeting of April 16, 1956; matters arising from the minutes; discussions on Conservation, Pollution and Flood Control; resolutions; election of the new officers and new business.

Due to limited accommodation it is essential that all should notify the office if they will be present. Kindly contact the office at 6 Wellington St. South by telephoning LO. 2-3633.

Gregg Probing Job Insurance Cases At Magog

OTTAWA — Labor Minister Gregg said Monday he has asked the unemployment insurance commission for a report on how a strike at Magog, Que., is affecting workers not directly involved.

Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC—Hamilton West) said in the Commons that 78 men have been thrown out of work by a strike in another plant. She asked that applications for unemployment insurance be processed as quickly as possible.

Playhouse Progresses — Work is continuing on the North Hatley Playhouse, scheduled to open July 5th. Officials and participants in the Dominion Drama Festival, who visited the Playhouse after the Festival concluded, were impressed by the work that has been done on the theatre. Final program and professional casting are to be announced early next month. Some parts are being held open on a tentative basis for Eastern Townships artists interested in reading for one or more roles. Those interested should contact Assistant Director Royce Gale, of Sherbrooke.

Local Salk Future Uncertain

Sherbrooke's immediate Salk vaccine future remains in doubt, according to Dr. Emile Poisson, Director of the Sherbrooke Health Unit.

Dr. Poisson said today he had received no indication how much vaccine would be made available to this district this year. He said, however, that enough vaccine had been received to assure a third (booster) shot to all children who received the first two shots last year.

"While we don't know how much more we'll be getting, we hope to receive at least enough to supply first shots to those who missed out last year," he said.

Dr. Poisson's statement followed an announcement from Ottawa that many Canadian children would have to weather the 1956 polio season with only one shot of the preventative vaccine instead of two. In some sections of the country, many children who received their first two injections last year may not be able to get a third shot until late in the year — after the polio season has passed.

The fear expressed earlier this year that production delays in Canada's only source, the Toronto Connaught laboratories, would prevent fulfilment of the original inoculation target, became a reality today.

Dr. J. K. W. Ferguson, Toronto laboratories director, announced only 2,000,000 doses can be delivered by June 15, just before school children scatter for the summer holidays.

The original target was some 4,800,000 doses—enough to provide the first two doses for 2,000,000 children and the final third "booster" dose for the 880,000 inoculated last year. In fact the provinces had ordered a total of 6,000,000 doses for delivery by June 30. But Dr. Ferguson said there was a production slowdown caused by changes in manufacturing and testing of the vaccine.

Connaught expects to deliver the full 6,000,000 doses by the end of 1956. But by the time the additional supplies are delivered, the height of the seasonal polio threat will have passed; the heat of the summer will be over.

However, Health Minister Martin said in a statement today the best medical opinion indicates that even a single dose provides a considerable degree of protection against paralytic polio and that this protection will carry over until it is possible to administer the second dose later in the year.

For some of the children who will get their first shots before the end of June, second and third shots will be administered in the fall, he said.

He praised provincial and municipal health departments on the "truly magnificent" way in which they carried out the inoculation program so far this year — "the largest nation-wide public health project of its kind ever undertaken in Canada."

The provinces in general had given priority to providing first injections for children who had not been inoculated before. All provinces had displayed a ready willingness to adapt provincial programs to the changing supply picture, he said.

The vaccine production was extremely complex and it was not surprising, Mr. Martin added, that production difficulties should be encountered from time to time.

"I can say with complete conviction the Connaught medical research laboratories have bent every effort to ensure maximum production consistent with the high standards of safety and potency that must be observed."

"And I know that the parents of Canada would not wish the Connaught laboratories or the federal laboratory of hygiene to relax in any way the rigorous tests that are carried out to ensure the safety and effectiveness of the vaccine."

Early this year there had been some faint hope that a second manufacturer, the Institute of Microbiology at the University of Montreal, would get into production quickly. But a new building for this purpose was only recently completed and the first batches of vaccine will not be ready until the fall.

With this year's polio season barely begun, Sherbrooke has already recorded one case of the disease.

Dr. Poisson said a young child contracted polio here May 15. He said that the youngster had not received any Salk injections.

Last year there were only five cases of polio in the city, none of them too serious.

Council Defers Action On Post Office Offer

The next step in Sherbrooke's current negotiations with the Federal Government on the purchase of the old Post Office building was deferred another week at last night's council meeting.

Sherbrooke offered $30,000, but the Crown Disposal Corp., claiming that Government evaluators had placed a $79,000 tag on the building. The Government has given the City until June 15 to re-bid and unless an agreement is reached, the building will go to the highest bidder.

Council turned down a request by the CPR for 20,000 square feet of land to locate a warehouse for a plywood company. The railway company said it wanted the land, situated in the Collinsville area, for a plywood company which wanted to construct a warehouse.

It was pointed out by Alderman Fortin that the land in the Collinsville area had been bought for industrial development and should be disposed with in the manner for which it was purchased. He said a warehouse could not be considered in this category.

Following last week's request by a trio of taxi-drivers to increase the number of taxi permits in Sherbrooke, Council last night voted unanimously to keep the number the same. At present 75 permits have been issued and Alderman Nicol said that until Sherbrooke citizens complain of inadequate service the number of permits issued should remain the same.

The Chief of Police will soon be provided with a list of vacant lots within the city limits used as garbage dumps. Several complaints have been received at City Hall concerning the dumping of garbage on vacant lots. Several places were named and it is expected that the police department will take action against illegal dumping.

Engineers Meet At North Hatley To Elect Officers

The next and final meeting of the season for the Eastern Townships Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada will take place June 2nd at Hillcrest Lodge, near North Hatley. This occasion will be a joint meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada and the Corporation of Professional Engineers of Quebec and will take the form of a Ladies Night.

A short business session for the E. I. C. members will be held at which the Nominating Committee will handle the election of officers for next season. The program will include brief speeches by the guests of honor and the showing of two very interesting films, which have been secured through the courtesy of the Canadian General Electric Company.

The meeting will be under the joint chairmanship of Jacques Lemieux, Chairman, Eastern Townships Branch, Engineering Institute of Canada and Gaston Masse, Eastern Townships Regional Representative of the Corporation of Professional Engineers of Quebec.

Dep. Governor Guest Speaker At Lions Club

Deputy District Governor of Lions Clubs, Pierre Chapuis of Coaticook was guest speaker last night at the dinner meeting of the local club, presided over by Dr. Georges Caine.

Mr. Chapuis, in his remarks, praised the Sherbrooke Club for their achievements in the past year, particularly for winning the attendance prize in their zone. He also spoke of the value of international club meetings, mentioning the wonderful reception given the Coaticook Club when they visited the club at Saco, Maine.

Mr. Ronald Savoie, in recognition of his services as chairman of the club committee, was presented with a set of cufflinks and pin by the District Governor who also made a presentation to J. L. Gauthier, past president of the club.

Gerry Villeneuve represented the local club at the Charter Night held at Knowlton last week.

Head table included: President Saine, Cecil Dunn, Mr. Chapuis, Ronald Savoie and Hap Rice.

Should Accept Invitation

It might be a good idea for the United States to accept a Russian invitation to send a few high-ranking air force officers to Soviet aviation ceremonies next month.

Such bold bids by Moscow have more than one purpose. Apart from spreading the idea that the Russians are making all the overtures for peace in this world, the gestures also are aimed at probing the temper of the American public and the present administration. Most likely, the Russians hope such invitations will be rejected.

There is every reason to believe, for example, that Communist Party Chief Khrushchev recently extended an invitation to the United States to be amply represented in a Soviet agricultural fair because he was convinced the offer would be cold-shouldered by the state department. If by some chance the offer were accepted, there would be no less for the Russians in the gamble.

The United States, however, could have much to gain. Acceptance of these bids — and indeed some imaginative offers from the American side to the Soviet Union — could help show the world that the United States has a calm and relaxed attitude toward the prospect of Soviet competition in any field. There is nothing to gain in giving the impression that Americans fear such contacts.

This is an election year in the United States, and the Soviet Union has been intent upon taking every advantage of it. They have the notion, that election years make American political leaders timid, and the best weapon against timidity is boldness.

The indications are that the Russians, having invited American officers to their show in Moscow, would expect some of their officers to be invited back to something similar in the United States. The policy on such matters, they are aware, can provoke controversy in Washington over just how far to let down the bars.

There is a growing school of thought that more is to be lost by avoiding contacts than by encouraging them. The Russians have been attempting for several years to prove that not the Soviet Union but the United States retains an iron curtain between the two blocs of nations.

A good look at the United States, these people argue, might have a salutary, sobering effect upon Russian leaders. Already the Russians who have toured the United States have shown how deeply they were impressed by what they saw.

The theory upon which world Communist leadership bases itself today is that capitalism, as epitomized by the structure of the United States, is inevitably decaying and bound to collapse. A good look at the United States by high-ranking Russians might go far to give them second thoughts.

On Records

It's a funny thing about records. You just get one nicely set and suddenly everybody and his brother start taking cracks at it.

It seems to run in rashes. Suddenly the jinx that hung over the four-minute mile was swept away and a few months later they were breaking it in pairs.

Latest, of course, is good old Mt. Everest, that lofty pinnacle that defied daring mountaineers for centuries. When Hillary and company gained the peak three years ago there was great rejoicing — though why such feats command such adulation is one of the mysteries of our civilization.

Now, a Swiss team has made it look easy, though of course it will remain the No. 1 challenge for aspiring mountain-climbers.

Pretty soon there just won't be any challenge left. The English Channel is no novelty any more. Even treacherous Juan de Fuca has been whipped.

Well, the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans are still there.

This And That...

Too many people go sour on their jobs, possibly because they take their own sweet time.

In lots of places fishing season is here again, so the big ones will start getting away.

What a shock it must have been when the new 1956 automobiles first saw some of our roads.

Very few children grow wild if they're really home-raised.

Police arrested an Ohio man after he gave his wife a beautiful shiner. She'll be her own eye witness.

This time of year ambition is what leads lots of people to look for a more comfortable place to do nothing.

DUMMY DISCARDS DECEIVE

You've surely often deceived opponents by plays or discards from your own hand. Have you ever deceived them by the cards you've played from the dummy? It seems impossible to get a deceptive effect by the plays made from an exposed hand, but it can be done, as we'll see in today's hand.

West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the king. Declarer led a spade to the ace, returned to the ace of clubs, and led the queen of spades.

West took the king of spades, and declarer began his campaign by discarding a small heart from the dummy. South was far more interested in dummy's hearts than in dummy's diamonds, but he wanted to create the opposite impression.

West returned a club, and South ruffed. Declarer next led the jack of spades and discarded a second heart from dummy. East discarded his last club on the third round of spades.

South could afford to lead still another trump and to discard still another heart from the dummy. This trick gave East something to think about. He still had his original three hearts and four diamonds, while dummy had saved only two hearts but four diamonds.

Perhaps East should have sniffed the air for the aroma of red herring, but it didn't occur to him that anything was going on. East discarded the deuce of hearts, and the party was over. South led a heart and gave up two heart tricks, after which his

From the Record of Saturday, May 29, 1926.

Among those taking part in an entertainment in Waterville were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Jacques, James B. McNaughton, Mrs. H. Swanson, Mrs. F. W. Ayer and Miss Esther King.

The wave of banditry in this district is spreading, three separate hold-ups being staged on the Brompton Road by five masked highwaymen last evening. In some of these episodes a victim was badly manhandled.

A further group of British Liberals headed by Viscount Grey, have lined up behind Lord Oxford and Asquith in his fight with David Lloyd George for control of the party.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Friday, May 29, 1936.

Proposed amendments to the Sherbrooke City Charter, providing for the special taxation of chain stores and for expending $200,000 on an industrial building have been rejected by the Legislature.

Declaring that the Opposition tactics were motivated by "a thirst for power", Premier Taschereau declared his Liberal Government intended to hold on to office even if it meant keeping the Legislature in session all summer to pass the budget. The annual bill authorizing the extension of the franchise to women was again defeated, this time by forty-three to twenty-four.

The Alberta Social Credit Government has announced that after the next interest payments are met, the interest rates on all Provincial bonds will be slashed to 2½ per cent. The Government also plans to issue scrip certificates in an effort to increase the purchasing power of the people.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Wednesday, May 29, 1946.

The miners and plants of the Johnson Company located here and at nearby Black Lake are idle today as the result of a strike called last evening in an inter-union dispute concerning questions of jurisdiction. About 600 workers in all are involved.

Fourteen of his associates at Dachau preceded him to the gallows yesterday.

The withdrawal of the last of the Canadian army occupation force from Germany to England for repatriation to Canada was delayed more than a week by engine trouble on the liner Ile de France whose sailing date was postponed, it was learned today.

ADVICE ON HOW TO PROLONG LIFE

(Editorial in Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

Speaking to the Forest Kiwanis Club recently, Dr. William Cameron, London, Ont., specialist in internal medicine, made a startling prediction. Looking over the hundred odd men at the luncheon, he said:

"Forty of you will die of heart disease and a fair number will have to quit your job because of it."

The physician then offered an avenue of escape for his audience. He urged for more common sense in eating. He said that diet and type of employment are very important. He also urged a little drink now and then and declared that an alcoholic stimulant before dinner relaxes the blood vessels and does more good than harm. He said that overweight is dangerous but equally dangerous is too strenuous exercise.

He warned against fear. He said that it may be caused by a number of events and one of the chief is reading published articles about dangers. Fear, he said, stimulates tension and is extremely bad for the general health of a man, especially in middle-age or later.

He gave the best possible therapy for relief of tension, high blood-pressure and other common ailments, as relaxation. He warned, however, that it requires common sense to relax and added that common sense is the rarest of human capacities.

At this point it might be obvious that if man relaxed and avoided the rush of everyday business life, he would evade high blood-pressure, heart ailments, stomach ulcers and perhaps a million other common ailments.

To relax is a real life saver. It is a panacea for a hundred ills. It has been said that any man who has had a complete breakdown in early life, learns better how to relax than his brother who has enjoyed first class health right up to middle age.

Get your doctor to advise you how to relax properly. And apply yourself to it.

You'll live a lot longer if you do.

A DAY TO REMEMBER

One of my favorite gatherings Takes place each year in May, When we all gather at home To greet mother on Mother's Day. Again we pass over familiar roads That lead to the old home farm. There to be greeted, by dad and mom With smiles and an open arm.

And when all have arrived Brother, sis and their family Dad will look with a smile At the sprigs of his family tree; And he will spin a yarn or joke While his laugh booms loud and high, Telling us without words He is happy to have us nigh.

And mom will hurry about In her quite and gentle way, Preparing food for the crowd, Handing cookies to children at play. Chatting with us as she works, Giving us each a chore, As we remember she used to do In our childhood days of yore.

And besides the bountiful dinner There's treats for the kiddies galore. For when they go to grandpa's No one ever wants for more. And when the day has ended And the good byes have been said; We turn homeward with memories To brighten the days ahead.

BLOSSOMS

O Father of all green and growing things, Give me the faith that flowers have Who weather frost and crystal night 'Til golden blossoms wake in light.

God of the lovely world that's born in May, Make my faith a growing thing That with the budding bough and reaching leaf It, too, may blossom in the spring.

Many Humorous Numbers Featured Fine Variety Program At Coaticook

COATICOOK — An enjoyable variety program was presented at the Coaticook High School auditorium recently, the proceeds of the evening being given to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, who recently lost their furniture and personal belongings in an early morning fire.

Rev. F. Cant acted as master of ceremonies and also made the donation to Mr. Lawrence, who expressed his thanks for his kindness shown by many friends.

The program opened with the singing of "O Canada." Mrs. Grace Gregoire presented a humorous monologue, "Plain Old Kitchen Chap," dressed as an elderly country gentleman. Mrs. Bailey gave a vocal solo, which was followed by a square dance number by the girls of the school. Mr. Robert McAlpine rendered vocal numbers, accompanied by Mrs. L. Akhurst at the piano.

The Tiny Tots rhythm band item drew laughter and applause, the "tiny tots" being several mothers of the school children. Miss Irene Boomhour, of Ayer's Cliff, a former music teacher at the High School, gave a piano solo, which was much enjoyed. Mr. Leslie Bishop's musical saw selection was followed by a Scottish country dance by several of the girls, coached by Mrs. J. Barron, who also took part in the number.

During a short intermission a candy sale was held.

Mrs. L. Akhurst and Mrs. M. Grady were then heard in a group of old fashioned songs, for which they were dressed as minstrel men with blackened faces. A male quartette, Bob McAlpine, Lucien Lefebvre, R. St. Pierre and A. St. Pierre, sang several numbers, both in English and French, accompanied by Mr. R. Lacroix. Mr. Les Bishop gave a tap dance and soft-shoe routine, after which Mr. St. Pierre rendered a saxophone solo.

Mr. McAlpine was heard in a group of songs and Miss Patsy Mayhew gave a humorous monologue, "Such a Wedding." The closing number was a Scottish dance, "The Flowers of Edinburgh."

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED

The C.G.I.T. group of the Coaticook United Church entertained the mothers at a mother and daughter banquet held in the church hall.

The tables were attractively decorated and at each place there was an interesting souvenir menu and program with a girl in C.G.I.T. uniform on the cover. Miss Melba Andrews was the toastmistress for the evening.

Following the toast to the Queen, a sing song was led by Mrs. P. Lawrence. The guests and leaders were introduced and Miss Jane Baskerville gave a toast to the mothers, which was replied to by Mrs. L. Baskerville.

The toast to the church was given by Miss Irene Cromwell. Rev. F. Cant responding. Mrs. Lawrence then gave a talk and Miss Jo-Ann Boisclair expressed the thanks of those present to the ladies of the W.A. for the fine meal.

The toast to the C.G.I.T. group was given by Mrs. A. Grady and Miss Mary Adams replied. The toast to the leaders was given by Miss Shirley Williams and Mrs. F. Cant replied. Miss Janice Boisclair gave the toast to the graduates and Miss Marion Smith responded. The evening closed with the singing of "Taps."

The C.G.I.T. executive this season consists of Miss Jo-Ann Boisclair, president; Miss Louise Brunet, vice-president; Miss Shirley Williams, secretary; and Miss Jean Boisclair, treasurer. The leaders are Mrs. F. Cant, Miss P. Brunet and Mrs. P. Lawrence.

BOY SCOUTS

The members of the First Coaticook Troop of Boy Scouts sponsored the showing of two very enjoyable films in the Guild Hall. The boys acted as ushers, fire pickets and took part in the program in various ways.

The first film was a colored sound movie of the World Jam-boree held at Niagara last year. The second, called "Waterlily," depicted the training of Sea Scouts.

The Scoutmaster, Mr. W. Lepitre, welcomed the parents and friends and Michael Tucker gave a reading, "A Boy." Scout Michael Barren thanked those present for attending and said goodnight on behalf of the troop.

MISSION CIRCLE

The members of the Baptist Mission Circle met for a short meeting in the Coaticook Baptist Church.

Mrs. C. Drew opened the devotional period, assisted by others who gave readings, and Mrs. J. V. May presented the topic, the subject being the work of the missionaries in Angola, Africa, and its excellent results. Prayer by Mrs. W. A. White and the benediction closed the meeting.

LADIES' AID MEETS

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church met with Mrs. Ernest Parker at her home. Matters concerning repairs to the parsonage were discussed and decision was reached on several items of work.

A social hour followed the close of the business session and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Fraser and Miss Parker.

General Notes

Mr. William Kilgour, Mr. G. Weston, Mr. Andrew Thompson were visitors in town recently.

Mr. N. Turnbull, Mr. Pat Turnbull, Mr. James Turnbull and Mrs. Elsie Beerworth, all of Montreal, were here to see their father, Mr. A. E. N. Turnbull, who is seriously ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Beerworth is spending a few days with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. K. Potter spent the weekend at various points in New England.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cromwell and Irene spent the weekend with Mr. Edward Cromwell and family at Kingston, Ont. They motored there with Mr. R. McAlpine, who visited friends in Ontario. Mrs. M. Grady also accompanied them and visited relatives.

CANTERBURY—

Miss Yvonne Cougles, of Montreal, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Purdie, Misses Diana and Heather Purdie, of Pointe Claire, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Bennett.

Members of the community gathered to form a "Be" to repair and clean up the Bown Cemetery.

Doukhobors Doused By Fire Hoses

NELSON, B. C. (CP) — Powerful jets of water from fire hoses were used Monday to break up a crowd of more than 30 unruly Sons of Freedom, hard-core radical sect of the Russian religious Doukhobor movement.

The group, about 30 women and a half-dozen men, gathered in front of the home of Emmett Gulley, secretary of the co-ordinating committee on Doukhobor affairs.

The Freedomites, from communities surrounding this eastern British Columbia city, shouted demands for the release of more than 75 Sons of Freedom children from the New Denver welfare school.

The children were rounded up by RCMP two years ago when their parents ignored laws requiring the children be sent to school. The youngsters were dragged from haylofts and from beneath homes as their parents fought the ruling.

The Freedomite sect, responsible in the past for bombings, arson attacks on rebel members and nude parades, claims Canadian schools teach principles contrary to their religious beliefs.

The fire department was called when the men and women refused police orders to break up the noisy meeting on Mr. Gulley's lawn.

Two women fell wailing and screaming to the ground when the first stream of water blasted into the crowd.

When the fire hose burst at a connection, several firemen were drenched.

The Freedomite mob moved a short distance, then continued their shouting and wailing. The fire department pumper truck, the hose repaired, moved after them and sprayed them with more water. The weird procession moved slowly down the street and out of town.

DAVIDSON HILL AND BETHEL—

Mr. W. Proulx, Mrs. William Robinson and Miss Irene Davidson, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davidson in Melbourne. They were accompanied home by Mrs. A. Davidson, who had been visiting in Melbourne and Richmond.

Mrs. George Lancaster, of Richmond, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lancaster and family, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Lancaster and sons.

The many friends of Mrs. Henry Lancaster are sorry to learn that she remains very ill. Mrs. Rosa Jamieson, of Boston, is spending a month with her and her little granddaughter, Judy. Mrs. George Bereton and Mrs. Raymond Wall and son, Brian, of Verdun, spent the weekend with her mother and grandmother and Mrs. Henry Lancaster and Mr. Munroe Lancaster.

In Memoriam

CROOK — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Robert George Crook, who passed away on May 27th, 1955.

One year has passed since that sad day.
When one we loved was called away,
But God knew Bob was suffering,
So he closed his weary eyes,
And said "Peace be Thine."
Always remembered by,
DAD, MOM & JIMMY.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton A. Hill and Miss Gail Hill attended the graduation ceremonies of the Catherine Booth Hospital School of Nursing, Montreal, on Friday, when their daughter and sister, Miss Joyce Hill received her diploma.

To Address Canadian Club

LADY BANTING

The guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of The Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships will be Lady Banting. The meeting will be held in the Mayfair Room of the New Sherbrooke Hotel, at 7 o'clock, May 31. Lady Banting, who is a native of Stanstead, Quebec, was educated in New Brunswick, and is a graduate in Arts of Mount Allison University. She holds the degrees of M.A. and M.D. from the University of Toronto, as well as several honorary degrees from other universities. For several years she was a lecturer in the Medical School of the University of Hong Kong, and is a member of the Royal College of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Recently she has held research fellowships both in England and the United States.

During the summer months Lady Banting is once more a resident of the Eastern Townships, as she has acquired "Lee Farm" in Rock Island, the lovely old home of her father's family.

The subject of Lady Banting's address, which will be illustrated by coloured slides, will be "The Hunt of the Unicorn."

"Are you sure these are 'SANFORIZED' pajamas?"

You can be sure of this: they're not "SANFORIZED" unless they carry the "SANFORIZED" label! Look for — insist on — that label on all washable cottons before you buy. Because — no matter how often they're washed — cottons carrying the "SANFORIZED" label won't shrink out of fit.

SANFORIZED FOR COTTONS THAT WON'T SHRINK OUT OF FIT

Mrs. R. T. Muir of Grand Mere spent the week-end as a guest of Mrs. R. E. Wark, Church St., Lennoxville.

Mrs. John Benne and son, George William of Drummondville, arrived on Saturday to spend a week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crawford, Montreal St.

Mrs. S. M. Murphy of Northampton, Mass., will be the guest for several weeks of Mr. and Mrs. Murdo MacLeay, at their home, St. Francis St., Lennoxville.

Friends of Mrs. Lorne Anderson, Elgin St., will be sorry to hear she is a patient in the St. Francis Sanatorium, room 4020, where she is undergoing treatment.

Friends of Miss Roberta Breault, Court St., will be sorry to hear that she is confined to the Sacred Heart Hospital at Cartierville, where she underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Dick have returned from Montreal where they attended the annual convention of the Engineering Institute of Canada held in the Mount Royal Hotel. Mr. Dick was elected a vice-president of the Institute.

Mrs. Rene Portelance entertained two tables of bridge at her home, Vimy Street, on Thursday. Prizes were won by Mrs. Wyatt Johnson and Mrs. John Fox. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Mary Portelance who brought in a decorated birthday cake for Mrs. Vincent Harte. Mrs. Frank Barnes invited the group to her home for the closing bridge of the summer.

The wives of the delegates to the centenary celebrations of Victoria Lodge A.F. and A.M. which are being held this week-end, are being entertained at tea at Rockcliffe on Saturday afternoon from 3:30-5 p.m. Receiving will be Mrs. George Smith, wife of the Master of Victoria Lodge, Mrs. D. Two new members were welcomed to the group, Mrs. Edna MacIntyre and Mrs. C. W. Forbes.

Plans were made for the annual tag days on Sept. 7-8 and also for the tea and sale to be held at the MacKinnon Memorial on October 23.

The next meeting will be held on August 21 at the home of Mrs. T. Walker.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess assisted by Mrs. L. M. Draper.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Selby, of Dunham, will be at home to their friends on Wednesday afternoon, June 8th, from two to five o'clock; and in the evening, from seven to nine, in honor of their Golden Wedding anniversary. Kindly omit gifts.

Viennese Delights, Coffee And Strudel

The strudel is not only a truly delectable dessert—it is delightfully cosmopolitan in flavor. Though it is thought to be Hungarian in origin, the Austrians took to it so warmly that the strudel is now practically a national institution.

The basis of a good strudel is the pastry itself. It should be flaky, tender, delicately thin. (In Vienna, they say that you should be able to read the morning newspaper through strudel pastry.) The traditional way of making strudel dough is a somewhat difficult process, but this recipe turns out strudel dough that is perfect and, at the same time, easy to make.

Follow a pleasant continental custom when you bring the strudel to your table. Pour generous cups of steaming coffee Viennese style—topped with drifts of whipped cream. Nothing tastes better with this fruit-filled pastry.

PINEAPPLE PEACH STRUDEL

1 cup sifted enriched flour, ¼ tsp. cream of tartar, 5 tbsps. ice water, ½ cup butter cut in ½-in. cubes, *pineapple peach filling.

Mix and sift flour and cream of tartar. Toss butter cubes in flour until well coated but do not blend with flour. Add 3 tbsps water all at once. Mix gently with wooden spoon, using a folding motion, until mixture forms a ball (do not break up butter more than necessary). Pour remaining water over crumbs in bottom of bowl and pat into pastry ball. Flour board well.

Toss pastry in flour on board until it can be handled. Pat into a square 1½ to 2 inches thick. Roll out ¼-inch thick, keeping corners square. Brush off excess flour. Fold in thirds. Roll a little to seal layers. Fold in thirds again. Chill. Repeat 4 times.

Roll out as thin as possible in filling over pastry. Roll up as for jelly roll and seal ends. Flatten roll. Place on baking sheet. Brush top with egg yolk diluted with a little water. Bake in hot oven, 425 F., 40 to 50 minutes. Dust with confectioners' sugar. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

PINEAPPLE PEACH FILLING

2 pkg. frozen sliced peaches, 1 large can (approx. 1 lb. 4 oz.) crushed pineapple, ¼ cup chopped Maraschino cherries, ½ tsp. cinnamon.

Thaw peaches and chop. Drain thoroughly. Drain pineapple thoroughly. Combine all ingredients.

Life In Cyprus —

Thetford Resident Tells Of Experiences

By GLADYS TAYLOR

Thetford Mines' newest English speaking residents have travelled a long way to reach the asbestos mining centre. Dr. Paul Kavanagh, recently appointed chief geologist for the Asbestos Corporation, arrived here two weeks ago from Cyprus; his wife and children a week later.

A few days ago Dr. Kavanagh left Thetford Mines on a summer's exploratory expedition for the Corporation, leaving his small family in a strange apartment, in a strange town and in what, Mrs. Kavanagh admits, seems almost like a strange country, unaccustomed as she is to hearing French.

Mrs. Kavanagh was born in Orange, New Jersey, and raised in Poughkeepsie, New York. Her parents still live there. A graduate geologist in her own right, Nancy Kavanagh attended Bryn Mawr College and then worked as geological librarian at Princeton, where she met her husband who was studying there. The Kavanaghs were married in Ottawa, Mr. Kavanagh's home. They lived in the United States for a year and then went to Cyprus, where Mr. Kavanagh was employed with the Cyprus Mining Corporation. Although their daughter Janet is a Canadian, their tiny son, Teddy was born a Cypriot. Youthful, quiet-spoken and still a little strange in her Thetford Mines apartment, Nancy Kavanagh rocked her three-month-old son and talked of her recent experiences in Cyprus.

She loved Cyprus as a country. It was beautiful, the climate ideal and there were no mosquitoes or black flies. However during the last year of their stay, as the tension mounted and the riots spread, it became a nerve-racking place to live.

"You were never safe," she said. "For instance we knew a man who went to visit his wife and new-born baby in the hospital. He was shot standing beside her bed. Another man singing in a church choir. Armed men entered the church, told the congregation to turn their faces to the wall and shot him as he stood in the choir loft."

Mrs. Kavanagh's husband wore khaki clothes while on his exploration duties in the hills and she was always afraid he might be mistaken for a soldier and shot or kidnapped. On one occasion they were stoned while out driving. Another time they were going down town when a riot broke out suddenly around them.

Her very last day in Cyprus was perhaps the most harrowing of all. A plane that was to leave Nicosia 20 minutes before hers, was delayed for some unexplained reason. A few moments before its passengers boarded it, it blew up, leaving its would-be passengers standing and watching what might have been their funeral pyre.

The same thing happened to a flight following hers, she learned later. Her own plane made the trip safely, but there was never a moment during it that she did not expect a hidden time bomb to blow them to their death.

Before leaving Cyprus, little Janet Kavanagh could understand Greek better than English and still says "good-bye" using the Greek word and gesture — a small hand to her forehead. She developed a taste for dried black olives, black bread and Turkish coffee. Mrs. Kavanagh learned what she calls "kitchen Greek."

It was sufficient to order supplies and give instructions to the servants.

While in Cyprus, Mrs. Kavanagh had one holiday out of the country. She visited Lebanon, Syria and Jerusalem. This summer she had hoped to visit Athens and Istanbul. She could see the mountains of Turkey from the windows of her home.

Though she will miss many things in Cyprus, Mrs. Kavanagh is happy with her move if only because, as she says, the children are safe here and with schools close and always open they are assured of an education. She was again thinking of uneasy Cyprus where every time a Greek flag is run up on a school, it is closed.

Although Mrs. Kavanagh expects this summer will be a lonely one for her, she is looking forward to the fall, when her husband will return and they will be able to take a more active part in the life of Thetford Mines, their new home.

Awards Presented To Brownies At Closing Meeting

The closing meeting of the 1st Sherbrooke Brownies took place recently with the Commissioner, Mrs. Harold G. Way being present for the enrollment of five recruits, Helen Connor, Joan Collinson, Leslie Lendrum, Susan Bennett and Shirley Robinson.

Three Brownies, Mary Lou Arnold, Maureen Westgate, and Susan Goodson were presented with their "Golden Bars." Wanda Harris was absent.

To complete the successful year, three "golden hands" were given to Barbara Westgate, Carole Forbes and Elaine White, as well as a skater's badge and a swimming badge to Barbara.

Much credit is due to their Brown Owl, Barbara Ross, who was honored with an appropriate gift on the occasion of her approaching marriage.

Mrs. Way led the pack in games after which refreshments were served in the lunch room by Mrs. C. W. Forbes and Mrs. Edna MacIntyre.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Campbell of Asbestos, Que., announce the engagement of their young daughter, Carole Jean, to Mr. Gilles Lambert, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Lambert, also of Asbestos. The marriage has been arranged to take place on June 16 at Asbestos.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sullivan of Lennoxville announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Mr. George Hartwell, son of the late Bradley Hartwell and Mrs. Hartwell of Hatley, Que. The marriage will take place in the near future.

Friends Entertain For Bride-Elect At Stanstead

STANSTEAD — Miss Joan Peasley, a popular June bride-to-be was guest of honor at a charmingly arranged shower held at her home, "Rolling Hills", Stanstead.

Miss Peasley had been visiting at the home of friends in Ayer's Cliff, and en route to Newport, called at her home for her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Peasley, who was supposedly accompanying them to Newport. Upon entering, Miss Peasley was taken by surprise to find several of her former school mates and neighbours awaiting her arrival.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Faith Gaffield, she was escorted, to a chair artistically decorated in pink and blue. Over this was arranged a decorated umbrella, and confetti filled balloons, with garlands descending to the chair.

On a table before her was arranged a display of wrapped and ribboned gifts. She was assisted in opening these by her future mother-in-law, Mrs. P. M. Standish, of Ayer's Cliff. Miss Peasley expressed appreciation for the lovely gifts and useful articles for her new home.

Miss Gaffield played several selections on the piano. A buffet tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Peasley, Miss Joan Johnston, of Longueuil and Miss Hazel Johnston, of Thetford Mines, both of whom were home for the holiday week-end.

The guest of honor was presented with a bride's cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Ruby Sheldon, of Beebe, the bride-elect making the initial cut.

Among the guests were Mrs. Mansel Gibson, of Montreal.

MISS PHYLLIS DARLENE SHORT and MR. WILLIAM HENRY RAMSAY, whose engagement is announced by the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Short of West Brome and Waterloo, Que. Mr. Ramsay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ramsay of Greenfield Park, Montreal. The marriage has been arranged to take place on Saturday, July 14, at three o'clock in St. Luke's Church, Waterloo. LENNOXVILLE WING S.H.A.

The May meeting of the Lennoxville Wing of the S.H.A. was held at the home of Mrs. T. Saunders, Warren St., Lennoxville, with the president, Mrs. T. P. Hanson, in the chair.

Final plans were made for the Wing's annual tea and garden party which will be held June 21, at the home of Mrs. Lorne McAllister, 12 Clough St., Lennoxville. Mrs. Charles Parkins offered to act as general convener and Mrs. Ansell Farnham as ticket convener. There will be a food table and a wool table.

The Lennoxville Wing is operating the Hospitality Cart for the month of May at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mrs. J. Scorer, sewing convener, reported that 32 small tuck-in pillows with cases, had been turned in to the hospital.

The September meeting of the Wing will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Parkins.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION LENN. UNITED CHURCH

The regular monthly meeting of Group IV of the Women's Federation of the Lennoxville United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Colby, Queen St., on May 23.

In the absence of Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. McLeod conducted the devotional period, based on the life of Abraham's wife, Sarah the Industrious.

Mrs. Colby introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Norris Wood, who read an interesting biography of Sir Wilfred Grenfell, the outstanding missionary to Newfoundland and Labrador. Because he had been a personal friend of Dr. Grenfell's since he was a boy of eleven years, Mr. Wood was able to draw upon his own experiences in Grenfell's company. His scrapbook, snaps and painting of Dr. Grenfell which he showed were much appreciated.

On behalf of the group, Mrs. McLeod expressed thanks to Mr. Wood for his talk.

Mrs. McLeod reminded members of the annual Missionary Silver Tea on May 31. Mrs. Lipsey asked to be replaced as Missionary representative for Group IV, but agreed to stay on until the end of June. The Treasurer reported a balance on hand of $25.86, after payment to the Federation Treasurer of 17 membership fees. The business meeting concluded with the Mizpah benediction in unison.

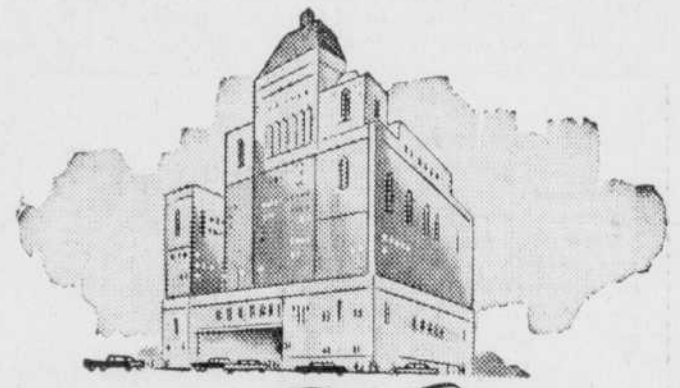

The hostesses, Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Colby served refreshments during the social hour.

OBITUARIES

CYRIL R. DARBY, OF DERBY LINE, VT.

DERBY LINE, VT. — The funeral of Cyril R. Darby of Derby Line was held on Sunday afternoon, May 13 at 2:30 o'clock in Stanstead South United church, Rock Island, where hundreds of relatives and associates gathered as a last gesture of respect to a highly respected citizen of the Boundary communities.

The church of which Mr. Darby was a member and layman, was filled to capacity, as was the downstairs hall, which was equipped with a loud speaker system to carry the service.

Words of comfort and tribute were spoken by Rev. E. Geoffrey Tenneson, parish minister, who was assisted by Rev. Thomas Tyson, of Sutton, an immediate past minister of the church. Organ medleys were played by Mrs. Gordon Patton, a life-long friend of the family.

The honorary bearers were: Raymond Grow, Bert Lewis, Stuart Taylor, Dr. A. R. V. White, Leslie Lewis, Walter Curtis, James Downing, Roland Roy, Byron Herrick, Ralph Cochrane, H. Taylor, George Ames, Arthur Cowles, Herbert Rice and C. R. MacLean. Paul bearers were H. D. Ames, Lloyd Selby, C. Payne Hovey, Harry Rice, Arthur Palin and Arthur Judd, Sr.

Interment took place in the family lot in the Derby Line cemetery.

Among those attending the funeral were representatives of the Sherbrooke-Quebec Presbytery of the United Church of Canada; the Comrades of Foster Cosby Post, No. 73 of the American Legion and the Foster Cosby Auxiliary Unit; representatives of Stanstead Frontier Branch of the Canadian Legion; members of Golden Rule Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 5, Stanstead, as well as fraternity brothers of other Masonic Lodges; members of the Boundary Rotary Club and representatives of other Rotary clubs; the staff of the two Caswell and O'Rourke stores, the staff of the National Bank of Derby Line; Stanstead South Church choir, and a host of friends, many from a long distance.

Mr. Darby was born at Sherbrooke, Que., on December 7, 1894, the son of Reading W. Darby and his wife, Lizzie Robinson. He received his education at Derby Academy. On June 17, 1919, he was united in marriage to Ruth Jenne, of Derby, Vt., this union was blessed by three children, Robert and Harriet, Mrs. Dalton Downing, both of Derby Line, and Paul, of Newport, Rhode Island.

Mr. Darby served with the armed forces of the United States during World War I. He was a charter member and a past president of Foster Cosby Legion Post, and a member of Golden Rule Masonic Lodge, serving as Worshipful Master in 1939.

He had been a member of Stanstead South Church for many years, having served as layman and as a deacon for some time past. He was also a member of the Boundary Rotary Club and a director of the National Bank of Derby Line. For the past 37 years he had been associated with the firm of Caswell and O'Rourke, of which he was manager.

Mr. Darby contributed generously of time, money and gifts to the support of his church and to all worthy causes and his philanthropic deeds were many. In his home he was a thoughtful and loving husband, father, grandfather and brother. His passing leaves a great vacancy in the home, the business establishments and the community.

Mr. Darby was taken ill in February and entered the Mary Fletcher hospital in Burlington, Vt., where he underwent major surgery. In April he was able to return to his home for a few days. Suffering a set back, he returned to the hospital, where everything possible was done to make him comfortable. He passed away on May 9.

The numerous remembrances during his illness, and later the floral pieces and gifts of money for cancer research purposes were silent tokens of the love and esteem felt for the deceased.

He is survived by his widow, and three children, two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Robert Darby and Mrs. Paul Darby; eight grandchildren, Christina, Ruth and Susan Darby, Michael, Elizabeth and Mary Downing, all of Derby Line, Richard and Thomas Darby, of Newport, Rhode Island; three sisters, Mrs. Florence Parker, of Phoenix, Arizona, Mrs. Maurice Hall, of Derby, and Miss Marion Darby, of Stanstead; a brother, Fredric, of Los Angeles, Calif.

CLARENCE PERRON OF BRATTLEBORO, VT. Formerly of Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — The funeral of Clarence Perron, of Brattleboro, Vt., was held at the Rushford Funeral Home in Newport, Vt., on Saturday afternoon, May 12. The pastor of the Newport Baptist church spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family and friends.

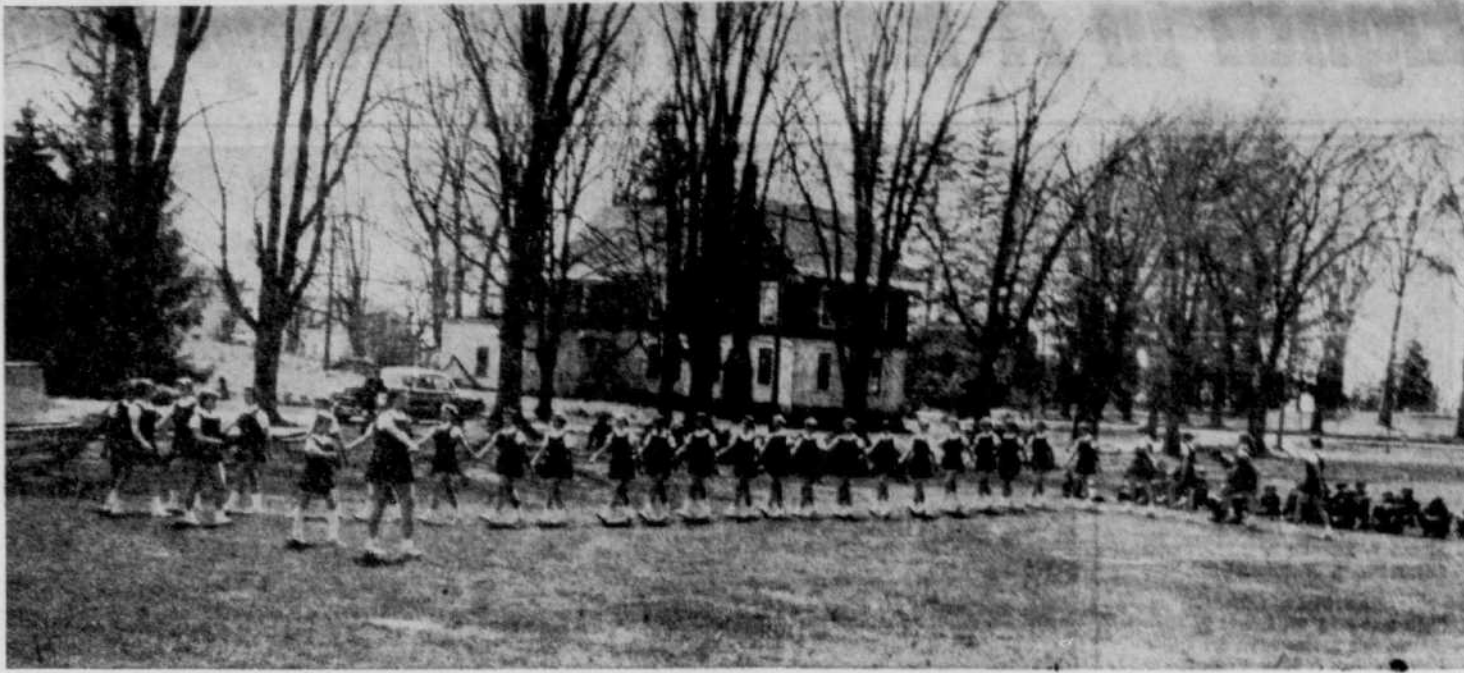

Medleys of favorite recorded hymns were played before and after the service. The bearers were six friends of long standing, Rudy, Howard and Stanley Miller, Herman and Galeon Sisco and Earl McMullen.

Burial took place in the Glover, Vt., cemetery.

Born at Derby Line on May 9, 1910, Mr. Perron passed away on his 46th birthday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Perron, of Rock Island.

At the age of one year, he

At Stanstead College Cadet Inspection

COLLEGE GIRLS PRESENT CALLISTHENIC EXERCISES ON CAMPUS

STANSTEAD. — The annual inspection of cadets of Stanstead College took place on the college campus.

Army officials making the inspection and receiving the salute at the viewing stand were: Col. F. L. Armitage, E.D., Coaticook; Col. James Reekie of Army Headquarters, Ottawa; Lt. L. Bouchard, assistant cadet training officer and officer commanding the 27th Field Regiment, Montreal; D. W. Libby, WO 2 of Cadet Service, Montreal; H. G. Edwards, WO 1, Coaticook; and L. O. MacPherson, college principal.

The college cadets, Captain Michael Gerrie, Major David Houghton, company commander, Platoon Officers Owen Wheelock, came with his parents to reside in Rock Island, where he received his education. For several years he was employed at the Union Twist Drill company, Butterfield Division. For the past 14 years he has been a resident of Brattleboro, where he was a painter by trade.

For the past three years he had not enjoyed good health, and early in March he underwent delicate surgery at the Mary Hitchcock hospital in Hanover, N.H., where, despite everything medical science could do, he passed away.

The lovely floral pieces were silent tokens of esteem felt for the deceased by his many friends and co-workers. Possessing a friendly disposition he was well liked by all who knew him.

Surviving are his widow, the former Mrs. Mary Calkins, a stepson, Norman Calkins, two daughters, Carol and Sandra by a former marriage, both of Nashua, N.H.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Perron, of Rock Island; four sisters and brothers-in-law, Mrs. Emerson Peavey, Alex Philip and R. Moss and the platoon ranks and band looked smart on the campus.

They presented marching, manoeuvres, target sighting, P.T. squad, the latter under the direction of Peter Farwell, and a group of the young men demonstrated several callisthenic exercises under the direction of the instructor, David Boswell.

Under the direction of Miss Georgia Copland, the girls of the college presented several callisthenic drills in rhythm and tumbling and jumping.

Afternoon tea was served in the college parlors, with Mrs. M. L. Moore and Mrs. A. McKinley Rose presiding at the tables.

Among those present were Mrs. F. L. Armitage, Coaticook; Mr. G. LeBaron, Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Lavalley, Megantic; Mr. and Mrs. Tubman, Montreal; Mrs. Bernard Drew and children, of Georgeville.

Ruth, of Beebe, Vt., and Mr. Peavey, Mrs. Wilfred Chabot, Pearl, of Derry, N.H., and Mr. Chabot, Mrs. Wallace Rever, Marion, of Tomifobia, and Mr. Rever, Mrs. Floyd Webb, Blanche, of Rock Island, and Mr. Webb; a brother, Albert Perron of Oshawa, Ont., and sister-in-law, Mrs. Perron, as well as several nieces, nephews and other relatives.

Among those attending the funeral were Mr. Albert Perron, of Oshawa, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Chabot and Pamela, of Derry, a cousin, Mr. George Comeau, of Berlin, N.H., and other relatives and friends from the New England States and the Eastern Townships.

MRS. ROMEO DUQUETTE, OF SWEETSBURG
Sweetsburg — The death of Mrs. Romeo Duquette occurred on Thursday, May 17, following an illness of almost two years. She was in her 55th year.

Mrs. Duquette, the former Ansea Dextradeur, of this place was married twice. Her first husband, Paul Lemay, of Granby, died some years ago. To their union 13 children were born, of whom 10 survive. She later was married to Romeo Duquette. Two teen-age sons of this marriage are living.

The funeral was held at 9:30 a. m., May 19, in the Church of Ste. Rose de Lima, Rev. Armand Desnoyers, parish priest, officiating, assisted by Rev. Louis Jodin, of Knowlton, and Rev. Ernest Dube, of Dunham. Miss Therese Daigle rendered music for the High Mass.

Interment was in the cemetery at the rear of the church. The floral tributes were very numerous and beautiful and many spiritual offerings were also received.

Present at the funeral were relatives from Drummondville, Montreal and Granby and from Providence, Pawtucket and Central Falls, Rhode Island.

DR. J. E. TOMKINS, OF YUKON, OKLA.,
Formerly of Stanstead

STANSTEAD — Dr. J. E. Tomkins, a former Stanstead physician and a native of Coaticook, died last week at his home in Yukon, Oklahoma, at the age of 87.

Born in Coaticook on April 17 1869 Dr. Tomkins was the son of an English minister who served in the area and in Newfoundland. He graduated from McGill University in 1893 and practised medicine here, his office being located in what is now the Gibson home near Christ Church. He moved to Yukon in 1907.

In August, 1952, many of the 2,000 babies he had delivered, ranging in age from six to 43, held a "Doc" Tomkins Appreciation Day" in Yukon. He was unable to attend the celebration, as he was confined to bed with a heart attack.

Dr. Tomkins is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sally Tomkins; his son, John E., of Detroit; and three sisters, Miss Minnie Tomkins and Miss Kaye Tomkins, both of Montreal, and Mrs. Alice Vercoe, of Boston, Mass.

ALFRED M. ALDRICH
DERBY LINE — The funeral of Alfred Merrill Aldrich, who passed away at his home on May 8, was held from his late residence on Friday, May 11, Rev. Geoffrey Tenneson officiating.

Many old friends and neighbors came to pay their last respects and the many floral pieces were a silent token of the love and esteem in which he was held.

The pall bearers were his six eldest grandsons, three from each family. Interment was in the family lot at Crystal Lake cemetery, Stanstead.

Relatives present were Miss Ruth Aldrich, Braintree, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Locke Aldrich and six children, North Haverhill, N. H., and Mrs. Luella Robbins, of Derby, Vt.

Mr. Aldrich was born at Barnston, Que., on September 19, 1864, the only son of Ira Merrill Aldrich and his wife, Anna Maria Blake. There were four sisters, the eldest, Abby, was accidentally killed when a child, Miss Minnie A., Myra, Mrs. James Gilbert, and Maude A., Mrs. Herbert Tice, all predeceased him. His father died leaving him with a man's responsibilities to carry on the farm at the age of 15 years.

On May 3, 1893, he was united in marriage to Alice Maude Hastings, of the Township of Stanstead. He remained on the farm where their six children were born. He was considered a successful farmer, a kind and respected friend and neighbor.

In 1914 the family moved to Rock Island for better educational advantages. The farm was sold in 1916 and Mr. Aldrich purchased a home in Derby Line, where he had since resided.

His pastimes were reading, playing cards and fishing being always eager to read the daily papers, walking downtown for them and enjoying a game of cribbage with his many friends at the Village. He was able to play a keen game almost until the end and took his last fishing trip when almost ninety years of age.

Dale Long Clouts Eighth In A Row; Yanks Dump Red Sox; Braves Win

Long Receives Standing Ovation From 32,221 Home Town Fans; Got Chills All Over, Says Dale Long

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — "I got chills all over. It was bigger than the one in Philadelphia. I am glad it happened for the people who loved it."

Dale Long stood in the Pittsburgh clubhouse after Monday night's 3-2 victory over Brooklyn. He was doing his best to tell how it felt to hit his eighth home run in eight games, breaking the major league record he set Saturday in Philadelphia.

"Have you got any left?" somebody asked.

"Who cares as long as we keep on winning," he replied.

After Long circled the sacks with his 14th homer and disappeared into the dugout, the roaring crowd of 32,221 stopped the show. They wouldn't let the game continue until Long took a bow. They cheered wildly without a letup.

Finally, Long popped his head out of the dugout, doffed his cap and waved to the frantic customers who are beginning to talk about Long not Mickey Mantle, breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in a season.

Branch Rickey, chairman of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said he never had seen the likes of the ovation given Long. "Never in my life did I see a crowd make a ball player take a curtain call," exclaimed Rickey.

The Dodgers tried a fielding shift on Long, moving shortstop Pee Wee Reese to the first base side of second base and shifting heavily to the right against the left-handed batter. Long grounded out to Reese once and struck out the last two times up after hitting his homer in the fourth inning. It was the first time the shift had been used against him.

Indians Journey To Coaticook Tonight And Will Be Hosts To Canadiens Here Thursday Night

Sherbrooke Indians suffered their first setback in the Eastern Townships Senior Baseball League Saturday evening when the Miners of Thetford posted a 7-4 verdict over the Guy Peatou squad. Sunday's two games were washed out.

The Indians will travel to Coaticook this evening to play a postponed game from last week. On Thursday night the same two teams will clash at the Park Avenue Stadium in the only tilt booked at the local park this week. On Sunday the locals are slated to play in Thetford and Plessisville.

In Saturday's tilt the Indians and Miners collected the same number of hits, seven, and each team was charged with one error. Bob Badour was the losing hurler while Rocky Robitaille earned the win.

Bert Morin smashed a homer for the Indians while Paul Ruel collected three hits and brother, Claude, poled out a two-bagger. Normie Dussault and Bert Cotterell each picked up a single.

For the Miners Vachon and P. Goulet each had two safeties while Auclair, Perron, Grenier and Simon all had singles. Manager Proteau hasn't made by announcements regarding who his hurlers will be for tonight's and Thursday's games.

Sven Davidson To Play In Toronto Event

TORONTO — (P) — Sven Davidson, No. 1 Davis Cup player from Sweden and ranked fifth amateur in the world, is to play in the International Invitation Tennis Tournament here Sept. 6-12.

Tournament officials said that Davidson, runner-up to Australia's Lew Hoad in the French championships Saturday, called his entry during the weekend. They said Hoad may also enter.

Howie Pollet Back With Sox

KANSAS CITY — (P) — Howie Pollet, veteran southpaw pitcher, was back with Chicago White Sox today after the club had given him his unconditional release 10 days ago.

Pollet joined the Sox this spring as a free agent, and was waived following his unsuccessful American League debut against New York Yankees.

A recent deal with Baltimore left the Sox room on their roster for a pitcher, so Pollet was signed again.

Bob Bedard To Play In Event At Mt. Gabriel

Bob Bedard and Henri Rochon, two of Canada's top tennis players will compete in this weekend's Mont Gabriel Invitation tennis tournament, it was announced yesterday by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association.

It will mark the first appearance in the tournament for Bedard, ranked No. 1 in the country. This event will be closely watched by officials of the CLTA and will be considered when the time comes for the selection of Canada's Davis Cup team which plays the United States at Victoria, B. C. July 27.

Rochon has won just about every major tournament in the country except this one. In 1954 the victory was knocked off by Don Platt of Toronto. A few weeks ago Rochon captained the Canadian team to a 5-0 victory over the British West Indies in the first round Davis Cup play.

With Bedard's official entry, net experts are leaning toward the Sherbrooke star as the pre-tournament favorite. Bedard is a member of four Cup squads and is after his performance last year, was elevated to the No. 1 spot in the nation's annual listings. A strong field is expected to perform in this event which carries official sanction of the CLTA and PQLTA.

"We're not going on past records in deciding the team to meet the Americans," said Gordie MacNeil, PQLTA president. "The entries will have to prove themselves this weekend. Like Rochon Lorne Main was upset at this tournament last year and dropped from first to fifth in the national rankings," he added.

Brendan Macken and Lawrence Barclay are previous winners of the Mont Gabriel Trophy.

Staley Bought By White Sox

CHICAGO — (P) — Righthander Gerry Staley today was bought for an undisclosed sum by Chicago White Sox from New York Yankees.

The 35-year-old veteran's only appearance for the Yankees this season was for one inning. With Cincinnati last season he had a 5-8 record. He was with St. Louis Cardinals from 1947-54.

CANADIAN DRIVER SUSPENDED

NEW YORK — (P) — Donald Rathford, a harness racing driver from Ball Creek, N. S., was suspended Monday for five days by the judges at Roosevelt Raceway for cutting in front of another entry in a race at the Westbury track May 25.

Pat Supple Wins Bantamweight Title With K. O. Over Gil Geekie In Ninth To Fight Dai Dower For Empire Title

QUEBEC — (CP) — Pat Supple, a stocky bundle of two-fisted power, has become one of the youngest fighters to hold the Canadian bantamweight boxing crown.

The 20-year-old Montrealer, who made a Canadian Olympic team, hit the big time professionally Monday night when he knocked out veteran Gil Geekie of London, Ont., in the ninth round to win the vacated bantamweight title.

The bout was scheduled for 12 rounds but it was evident as early as the third that it would not go the limit.

Supple, using jolting lefts and rights to the head and body, floored his opponent for nine counts on three occasions — in the fourth, the eighth and just before he put Geekie to sleep for good.

Immediately following the bout, Harry Sheppard, co-manager of Supple, announced his boy will fight Dai Dower, the British Empire flyweight champion, in Wales July 19 with the flyweight title at stake.

Sheppard said the match has already been sanctioned by the British board of boxing control and that "signed contracts are on the way."

The fight between Supple and Geekie materialized when veteran Fernando Gagnon of Quebec City retired from the ring recently. Gagnon, who now makes his home in Montreal, held the bantamweight crown for 10 years.

Supple, who has yet to suffer a loss professionally, entered the ring at 115 while his 28-year-old opponent tipped the scales at 114 1/2. The win ran his string of pro victories to 15.

An estimated 4,500 persons paid to see the fight in the municipally-owned Coliseum.

Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., was awarded a 10th round technical knockout over Rocky Sullivan of Boston in the semifinal following the championship bout. Courchesne had won a disputed split decision the first time the pair met.

Referee Joe Villeneuve stopped the uneven battle at 2:31 of the final round after Sullivan had been down twice. Courchesne weighed 135 1/2 and Sullivan, 138 1/2.

In a scheduled eight-round middleweight go, Tinker Picot of Boston scored a fourth-round TKO over Cecil Bancroft when the Halifax boy failed to come out at the bell. Bancroft was a last-minute replacement for Yvon Turelle of Montreal who was injured in training.

Bancroft weighed 169, four pounds heavier than Picot. The victory increased Picot's knock-out string to 15 in 16 pro victories.

Danny Savary, 126 1/2, Quebec City, knocked out fellow-Quebecer Andre Lavoie, 126, at 2:40 of the first round in a scheduled four-rounders. Andre Millette, 125 1/2, Sorel, Que., scored a unanimous decision over Fernand Dupuis, 130, Montreal, in another four-rounder.

David Mackie Upsets Doug Sanders, One Of Leading American Contenders In British Amateur; Joe Conrad Wins

TROON, Scotland — (P) — David Mackie, a 22-year-old Scot, performed the first big upset of the British amateur golf championships Monday, eliminating one of the leading American contenders, Doug Sanders of Cedar-rath, Ga.

Mackie thought so little of his chances that he had bought a one-day round-trip ticket to Troon from his Glasgow home Monday morning. He will be staying at least another day, as a result of his 2-and-1 victory over Sanders, who had been rated high on the basis of strong showing in practice rounds.

Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Texas, last year's surprise winner, drew a first-round bye, then won his second-round match, beating I. A. Ewen of New Zealand 5 and 4.

A second upset was scored by Robert Manley, of Savannah, Ga., who powered over Alan Slater of England. Slater is the cold-blooded Yorkshireman who gave Conrad a battle in the final last year.

Prominent Britons who advanced through the first round included Ian Caldwell, 2-and-1 winner over Norman Scheer of Newark, N.J.; Phil Scutcheon, 4-and-3 victor over Bill Kirkpatrick of England; Gerald Micklem, who defeated Englishman Gordon Hendry 4 and 3; 1956 English champion Guy Wolstenholme, 2-and-1 winner over Ray Graham Jr., of Glen Head, N.H., and Mackie, Caldwell, Scutcheon and Micklem are members of the Walker cup team.

Mackie's victory over Sanders was the real surprise of the day. The 22-year-old Miami salesman had made an impressive record in America and had looked good in practice here for his first British tournament.

But at the 17th hole, Sanders hit his drive off line and used a putter to climb a hill to the green when he should have used a wedge to leap it. That left him a long putt he couldn't sink for a par three he needed on the 223-yard hole to keep the match alive.

Troon's 6,583-yard, par 35-36-71 links made up a bumpy layout which seldom gives a player a level lie. Troon calls for dead-ahead tee shots and leaves little room for error. Most of the medal scorers Monday were high, often lapping over into the 80s.

Lucien Dugre's Stable Arrives At Blue Bonnets

Lucien Dugre, of Sherbrooke, owner of one of Canada's finest harness racing stables, has checked into Blue Bonnets Raceway with a string of 11 horses.

Dugre's horses, who spent most of their time campaigning on the top American tracks, were shipped here from Roscroft Raceway in Washington where they have been racing for the past month.

Included in the string are several horses who have campaigned here before but most of them are recent acquisitions who will make their local debuts within the next few weeks.

Most prominent of the newcomers is The Tippler, a five-year-old pacer who has a life mark of 2:01.2. Snowflake, a three-year-old filly by Adios, has already turned in a 2:08.4 mile.

Dugre is also reported high on the prospects of a three-year-old trotter he purchased in the United States. The horse, Victory Frost, has a 2:08.3 victory to his credit.

Among the holdovers is Aerial Gunner, the six-year-old trotter who was one of the best performers in Canada last year. Aerial Gunner, who won more than $11,000 in prize money last season, had raced once at Roscroft. He is expected to make his first local start this weekend.

It's A New Race In National League; Dodgers Fifth As Milwaukee Sets Pace; Bob Friend Hurls Two-hitter To Win

This, in case you hadn't noticed, is a brand new year in the National League. And while it's a long, long while from May to September, it's a pip of a pennant race so far.

A year ago the National went into Memorial Day strung out behind Brooklyn, with the Dodgers enjoying a six-game bulge and St. Louis and Milwaukee 11 games back. Pittsburgh was 18 games to the rear and in the cellar.

This year Milwaukee is winning what has been a two-way scrap for the lead with St. Louis, while the Pirates are just a game back.

And where's Brooklyn? Somewhere south of the first division — three games back in fifth.

The Milwaukeees blasted the Cardinals 10-3 Monday night — thus removing a screwy predicament that had them a length short in the games-behind column but still in first. Pittsburgh made it cozy by nudging the Brooks 3-2 — with Bob Friend winning his eighth on a two-hitter and Dale Long blasting his eighth home run in eight consecutive games to better his major-league record set Saturday.

Bob Rush's three-hitter tripped Cincinnati as Chicago Cubs won 4-1. Philadelphia kept the road rocky for New York by beating the Giants 5-2.

In the American League, the race has the look of a romp. New York Yankees grabbed a 4 1/2-game lead, beating Boston 2-0 as Whitey Ford gained his seventh triumph and second shutout while the runnerup Cleveland Indians lost to Detroit 3-1. Kansas City dumped Chicago White Sox 6-4, on a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter in the ninth, and Baltimore clipped Washington 6-5 in 10 innings.

The only hits off Friend were a first-inning homer by Duke Snider and a one-out single by Junior Gilliam in the third. The rest of the way was easy for the right-hander as he rolled up his eighth complete game and third victory over the Dodgers. Carl Erskine, who had won nine straight in Pittsburgh, was the loser for a 2-4 mark. He hasn't won since that May 12 no-hitter against the Giants.

The Brooks employed a shift, the left-handed Long—the first team to do so—and he grounded out and fanned twice. His 14th homer, tops in the NL, tied it at two-all in the fourth. Then a triple by Hank Foiles and a single by Bob Skinner won it in the fifth for the crowd of 32,221—largest for a Buc night game since 1950.

Bobby Thomson and Del Crandall homered for the Braves, who had a 6-0 lead in two frames to chase Herm Wehmeier. Gene Conley, in relief of Lou Sleater, was the winner. Hank Aaron was 4-for-4 for the Braves and Ken Boyer and Jackie Brandt homered for the Cards.

Harvey Haddix, with Robin Roberts relieving in the eighth, won his first for the Phils. The ex-Card southpaw singled along with Willie Jones and Marv Blaylock in a clinching two-run fly-off of Al Worthington.

Ford, in trouble only twice, scattered five Boston hits while the Yankees made the most of four singles off Frank Sullivan. Two in the first and an infield out by Yogi Berra, back from an eight-game stay on the injury list, scored one run. Two errors by shortstop Bob Buddin helped the other across in the fourth.

Steve Gromek eight—hit the Indians while Herb Score suffered his fourth defeat. Ray Boone homered for Detroit.

The White Sox blew a 2-0 lead as Kansas City scored four in the eighth with homers by Gus Zernial and Jim Finigan. They tied it in the top of the ninth. Billy Pierce went in as a reliever in the bottom of the ninth. He walked a man, and then came Slaughter.

Reliever Mike Fornieles, late of the White Sox, doubled in the 10th and came home with the clincher for the Orioles on Chuck Diering's singles.

Indianapolis Motor Speedway Hit By Flood But Big Race To Go Tomorrow

INDIANAPOLIS. — (P) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway, with a reputation for fabulous weather luck, was hit by a flash flood today, but water from a rain-swollen creek began dropping rapidly late in the day.

Barring further rain, the 500-mile race will be run Wednesday as scheduled. It has been 41 years since its single postponement in 1915.

The flood missed the track proper, but rivulets trickling through the outer concrete wall forced cancellation of a final time trial session.

The lineup will stand with the 33 cars qualified when rain stopped trials Sunday. There was a question whether a new Novi V-8, qualified by Paul Russo of Canoga Park, Calif., would be in the field.

Crew chief Jean Marcenac said the Novi would be withdrawn unless a sister car, driven by Paul's nephew, Eddie of Hammond, Ind., was given a chance to qualify. It wasn't.

If the Novi is withdrawn, alternate Eddie Sachs of Indianapolis will move into the lineup.

The Novi decision didn't appear to be irrevocable. Marcenac pulled the unqualified Novi out of the lineup of cars ready to go today if the track was opened for the 63 minutes left over from Sunday's rain-shortened trials. Then he put it back in the lineup late in the afternoon but repeated that both or neither of the Novis would run.

Chief steward Harry McQuinn said there can be no further qualifications because the track must be cleared Tuesday.

Left at the waiting line when the qualifying deadline passed, besides the second Novi were cars of Mike Magill, Haddenfield, N.J.; Archie Moore, Seattle; Tony Bonadies, New York; Len Duncan, Philadelphia; Nino Farina, Turin, Italy; Johnnie Kay, New Britain, Conn.; Ernie McCoy, Reading, Pa.; Jim McWhitney, Anderson, Ind.; Bill Cheesbourg, Tucson, Ariz.; Marshall Teague, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Dempsey Wilson, Lawndale, Calif.; and Roy Newman, Indianapolis.

Sure starters in the front row Memorial Day are Pat Flaherty of Chicago, who set a qualifying record of 145.596 miles an hour on the first day of trials May 19; Jim Rathmann of Miami, who qualified at 145.120, and Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., 144.980.

Rathmann has the Hopkins Special rebuilt from the car in which he won the 1955 Indianapolis 500.

The three drivers who survived the four-car Vukovich wreck also will be in the lineup—Johnny Boyd, from Vukovich's home town of Fresno, Calif.; Rodger Ward of Los Angeles, and Al Keller of West Palm Beach, Fla.

NBA Approves Heavy Series For New Champ

BOSTON — (AP) — The executive committee of the National Basketball Association Saturday approved an elimination series for the heavyweight title starting with the Hurricane Jackson-Floyd Patterson bout next month.

The committee decided the NBA would recognize as champion the winner of the three-bout series.

The winner of the Jackson-Patterson bout June 8 will meet light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, stopped by Rocky Marciano in the latter's last bout before retiring as heavy king.

Master Your Game...No. 15 Make Use Of Iron's Loft

BY JACKIE BURKE
MASTER OF THE MASTERS
Bunting the ball with an iron from the fringe of the green does not constitute a chip.

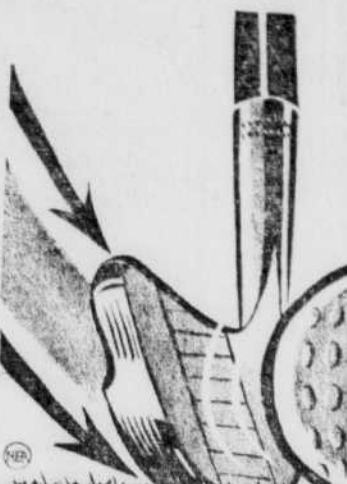

Unless one particular motion is applied to it, such a shot depends entirely on luck.

The motion is downward, the essential action in all iron shots. The chip is, in essence, a billiard shot. Whether the pin is 10 feet away or 100, the ball must be hit down upon.

This imparts spin and spin means control.

Without a downward blow you are not taking advantage of the loft built into each iron for a purpose. That's why the manufacturer made nine of them.

To create a golf shot, the ball must ride on the face of the club, held there by the turf against which you hit down until the compression of the ball propels it

Two World Records Set At USC Meet

MODESTO, Calif. — (AP) — Two world records — the 440 and two-mile relay — were bettered Saturday night in the California relays.

Jim Lea, 23, formerly of the University of Southern California, ran the quarter mile in 45.8 and an all-star two-mile relay team won the two-mile relay in 7:25.2.

Lea eclipsed the 440-yard mark of 46 seconds flat set by Herb McKenley of Jamaica in 1948.

The unattached team from Los Angeles, Jim Walters, Hal Butler, Danny Schweikert and Bill Weiss beat the former two-mile relay standard of 7:27.3 established by Fordham University in 1954. Second place Occidental and third place Southern California with 7:26.6 and 7:26.7, were also under the Fordham time.

forward. This holds true whether the ball is hit 200 inches or 200 yards.

The forward direction in which the ball is propelled is built into the iron by the manufacturer.

Beyond generating a certain amount of clubhead speed, there is nothing you can do to increase this.

Get confidence in the loft of your irons from the chip.

This knowledge will erase your fear of the longer irons. (NEA)

NEXT: The six-iron is your best choice for the ordinary chip.

at the 1955 Jamboree had a chance to see the great dams and smelters that make Canada a world supplier of aluminum.

But some did see a Canadian use of the light metal; outdoor cooking with aluminum foil. One Canadian troop showed how they used this handy material for doing potatoes, steaks and other foods over the campfire; how they kept food fresh in summer heat by protecting it with aluminum. If this missionary work carries the idea back to distant lands, Canada may have to turn out still more aluminum foil—even though last year her output, if laid in a 12-inch strip, would reach 382,000 miles.

Prizes Are Presented At Affiliation

COWANSVILLE—There was a larger attendance than usual at the affiliation of the Cowansville C.G.I.T. with the W.M.S. of Emmanuel United Church, held in the church parlors. Miss Claire Christie is president of the C.G.I.T. and Mrs. Gerald Fee president of the W.M.S.

The welcome to visitors and members of the W.M.S. was given by the vice-president of the C.G.I.T., Diane Sanborn, of East Farnham. Susan Hitchcock presented a donation of $5 from the girls group to the W.M.S. for a mission work, which was accepted by Mrs. Fee with thanks.

Mrs. J. B. Moore, county secretary of the Scientific Temperance Study Course work and second vice-president of the Quebec Provincial W.C.T.U., presented the fourth prize in the National Union to Diane Sanborn, who wrote this course of exams. The prize was a beautifully bound copy of the Bible, done in mauve leather.

Mrs. Moore presented Susan Hitchcock, of Cowansville, with a prize for good workmanship in the National Union of the W.C.T.U. a copy of the Great Mackenzie River. Both young ladies thanked Mrs. Moore and the Cowansville group who sponsored the Study Course.

Mr. Murray Mason showed an interesting film, "The Caribou Hunters," after which Mrs. Fee showed slides of church and C.G.I.T. groups and pictures of the church grounds, Cedar Lodge and other camps.

During the refreshment hour, Miss C. Christie presented gifts to C.G.I.T. leaders, Mrs. Reginald Holliday, the Misses Margaret Stevenson and Noreen Crick. She also expressed regret that Miss Doris Bridgette, of Sutton, was unable to be present and said a gift would be forwarded to her. She extended thanks to Mrs. Katherine Winsor for teaching the mission work on Indians during the past winter.

Eunice Hitchcock thanked the W.M.S. ladies for serving refreshments to the girls, their mothers and other guests.

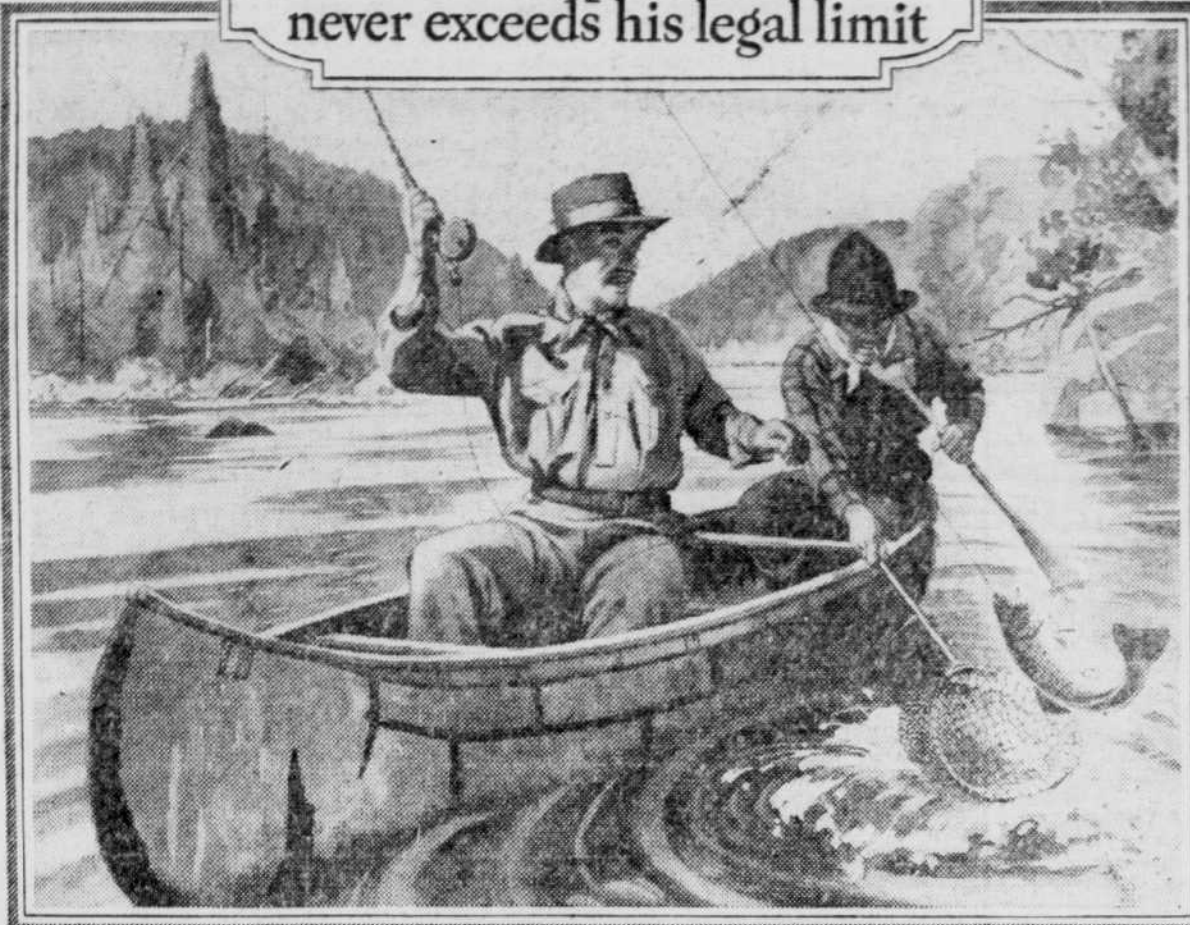

Domition prizes awarded in the National Temperance Study Course sponsored by the Cowansville W.C.T.U., are presented by Mrs. J. B. Moore top picture, right, to Diane Sanborn, centre, and Susan Hitchcock. This one is really a good "trick":

The Financial Times shows how little it considers the value of the main Liberal promise by saying:

"The most noteworthy of the election promises is to eliminate the traffic jams in the Montreal area. There is no suggestion as to just how this is going to be done; but if this objective is going to be achieved within the next ten years, it is going to be quite a trick."

After considering the obvious impossibility of the Liberal Party's promises, it is not surprising that The Times says very plainly that: "No one gives it any real chance of turning out the present administration."

You Can't Balance Budgets With Election Promises

The Liberal party in Quebec has presented its platform for the provincial election on June 20th next; and a very attractive program it is for the Quebec voter—always assuming that it could be even partially implemented.

Among the promises made are free public education; a $150 allowance for parents whose children attend college; a university loan system and payment of statutory grants to needy mothers and for maternity allowances; payments of urban loans on a system similar to that now in force for farm loans, and an improved farm loan system with a $10,000 instead of an $8,000 ceiling; creation of a provincial credit organization to help school corporations; missions and municipal corporations.

All this would cost the province just a little money, but the provincial Liberals, nothing daunted, are promising to ease rather than increase the tax burden. They are pledged to raise the ceiling on restaurant meals for tax purposes from sixty cents to a dollar and to remove the tax on fuels for home consumption and on patent medicines.

The most noteworthy of the election promises is to eliminate the traffic jams in the Montreal area. There is no suggestion as to just how this is going to be done; but, if this objective is going to be achieved within the next ten years, it is going to be quite a trick.

The Liberal party in Quebec has fallen into the same trap. In its haste to improve its position in the Legislature—no one gives it any real chance of turning out the present administration—it is promising the electorate "all this and Heaven too." It is going to spend more, much more, and at the same time take less from the taxpayer. How it is going to be done, if they have yet taken the time to figure out the problem, is something they are keeping to themselves.

The National Union Party offers its many years of achievement in fact.

It promises no miracles, but often delivers them.

Where promises contradict themselves.

The Financial Times, Montreal's leading financial newspaper, sees the absurdity of the Liberal's election promises, as is shown by this recent editorial-page comment.

No political party can promise a greatly increased expenditure and lower taxes in the same breath, and expect to be believed by men and women of business sense. You just don't balance budgets that way, as the Times headline shows.

Yet the Liberal platform tells you that you can eat your cake and have it.

"All this and Heaven too" the Times calls it with sarcasm.

Obviously it can't be done, unless the Liberals are magicians who do it with mirrors.
