Dr. McCoy Favors Prepaid Medical Care Provincially Between Doctor and Patient

Gives Address at Trans-Canada Medical Meeting At Montreal the Past Week

Much is being heard these days of a National Health Insurance Plan and some of the Opposition members in Parliament are urging the government to put such a plan into being. As may be expected, there is also opposition to the plan, which has been outlined to some extent some time ago and which is in operation in several other countries at the present time. There is a feeling that present plans in other countries are not operating too perfectly and that there are too many abuses of the privileges extended. It is therefore that ways and means are being sought to take out the flaws in other plans and make Canada's plan as near perfect as possible.

Doctors are not wholly in agreement with the proposed government plan as now considered. They are not opposed to Health Insurance, but they are opposed to proposed methods of administration and operation of the plan. It is therefore that a trans-Canada meeting of doctors was held in Montreal the past week and the question of National Health Insurance was much to the fore. In fact a doctor who is very well known to us here in Huntingdon and one of the native sons, Dr. E. C. McCoy, of Vancouver, B.C., gave a very important address on the subject. Dr. McCoy is very much interested in a plan for prepaid medical care and which he feels should play an important part in any National Health Insurance scheme introduced into Canada. He has made a study of plans presently in use in various parts of this country, the U.S.A. and other countries of the world. From the results of his studies of these plans, he has reached various conclusions which he feels should be the basis of any Health Insurance scheme that is brought into being in this country.

Dr. McCoy is chairman of Trans-Canada Medical Plans and he addressed the 1953 meeting held in Montreal, which commenced on Thursday of the past week. The first part told of the work now being done by the organization until the date of the meeting. The second part told of the work now being done and of the service plans; the third part showed how he believed the organization could play its part in a national health insurance plan in Canada. It is the latter two parts which will be given by the following excerpts from his address:

"T.C.M.P. today consists of seven Prepaid Care Plans across Canada. The total membership of the plans in T.C.M.P. at present is 984,358. During the past year, these plans paid out $15,394,075.68 for medical accounts.

"These plans are all service plans and this is a point we wish to emphasize. To the best of my knowledge there are only five ways that medicine may be practised and paid for:

1) Private contract
2) Indemnity plans
3) Government sponsored plans
4) Service contract
5) Private practise

"In looking these over, I think we all readily know most of their advantages and disadvantages. The private contract denies the free choice of doctor which is one basic principle in which we believe — but it does work adequately well in some small isolated communities.

"Indemnity plans certainly have a place but do not answer the people's demand for complete coverage. Also, doctors don't particularly favor indemnity plans on a large basis unless the doctors are adequately represented on the governing board because if over 50% of the people in any area become covered, the doctors tend to lose control of the fee schedule. The schedule the company pays comes more and more to be accepted as the schedule. On a small basis this is not an important factor. They have a place — but certainly are not the full answer from either patient or doctor point of view.

"Government sponsored plans have many advantages and disadvantages. However, in most places that goernment sponsored plans have been introduced, the free choice of doctor has been lost — or at best there remains a restricted choice. Also the doctor tends to get involved in a lot of 'red tape' and spends too much time filling in papers instead of practising medicine. Also it seems very hard to retain the proper doctor-patient relationship. Again, it usually becomes expensive.

"The service contract where the patient's full bill is paid for — on as full a service basis as possible — seems to approach more nearly what both patients and doctors desire. In working out such a scheme, the service as I mentioned should be as complete as possible — getting rid of all exclusions, if possible, and paying the bills in full. If doctors believe what they say when they say people should be able to prepay for their medical care, then it would seem realistic that this type of plan should be he objective.

"The 5th method is that of private practise with the patient paying his own bill. I'm sure many doctors would desire that this method remain — as it has been in Canada for many years. However, medical care is becoming very expensive with newer methods of investigation and treatment, etc. Also I believe one must face the fact that the world is changing with resultant changing philosophies and changing standards of living — with a greater emphasis on security and collectivism — and making as much of everything available to as many people as possible, with the cost spread over groups as a whole — in other words some socialistic trend. Hence, people want to prepay for medical care and not suddenly be faced with a financial catastrophe. I think the doctor who can't see this or understand this, must just have his head buried in the sand — and he had better get it out — and realize that prepayment for medical care is coming whether he likes it or not — and perhaps it would be better if he used his knowledge and ability to help plan some way so that people could prepay.

"In other words, I think that private practise where the patient pays his own medical bill — much and all

Celebration Set May 18 This Year For Victoria Day

OTTAWA -(CP)- Don't get confused if some calendars indicate Victoria Day will be celebrated Monday, May 18, this year while others list the holiday as May 25.

The holiday will be celebrated May 18 in line with legislation adopted by Parliament last year. Victoria Day was traditionally celebrated May 24. Parliament accepted a bill by J. L. MacDougall (L—Vancouver-Burrard) providing for celebration of the holiday on a Monday, no matter on what day May 24 might happen to fall.

The legislation stated that in cases where May 24 fell on a day other than Monday the holiday would be celebrated on the Monday immediately preceeding May 24.

Some members of the Commons have received requests from their constituents for information on the holiday and it was noted that some calendars around the Parliament Buildings listed it on May 18 and others on May 25.

The State Secretary's Department confirmed that the holiday will be May 18. An official announcement is expected shortly.

Jaycees to Show Series Of Films

Will Assist Members In Various Lines of Business

The regular monthly meeting of the Huntingdon J.C.C. took place on Tuesday, Jan. 20th at the Legion Hall. The regular meeting was preceded by a movie that was obtained through a commercial outlet by the film committee. This film "Word Magic" was part of a special series that comes under the general heading of Salesmanship.

Many members of the J.C.C. are in the general business of selling and generally recognize that education is the way to success. The visual education being provided would seem rather expensive ($1.25 to $1.50 per person per 30 minute movie) but many members feel that they will learn enough from the films to repay this amount many times over.

In order to get the complete series to the members before the close of the season it was decided to run the films every two weeks. The next one will be February 3rd at 8.00 P.M. at the Legion Hall. Members are invited to bring any friends who may be interested.

Word Magic:
Making a Sales Presentation Stay Presented:
How to Win a Sales Argument:
How to Remember Names and Faces:
How to Make Your Sales Story Sell:
The Autopsy of a Lost Sale:
Members will be advised as to the exact time and place of each showing.

After the showing of the movie last Tuesday the J.J.C. discussed several items on the agenda including the Christmas Decoration Contest, etc. As usual at the close of the meeting refreshments were provided — highlighted by coffee by Mrs. Maccrow.

Huntingdon Agricultural Society Successful Year

Black and White Day to Be A Feature of 1953 Fair

The annual meeting of the Huntingdon Agricultural Society Division A was held at the County Building, Huntingdon, on Thursday afternoon, with a fairly good attendance.

Following the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting, the financial statement for 1952 was read by the secretary, Lyell Graham. Without quoting the figures of the various items of receipts and expenditures, the financial condition of the Society was shown to be sound. It was noted that several of the long standing debts had been paid off and that payment had been made on the mortgage. It was outstanding that all prize money had been paid in full. The receipts showed that about $8,000 had been taken in during the year in various ways and this is a much larger sum than has been reported for several years.

Mr. L. Beaudin, Agronome, and Mr. J. Smaill, former secretary of the Society, both commended the officials for the fine statement read and the way they had handled the finances, and other matters to do with the Fair.

The election of a new Board of directors followed with Mr. Beaudin in charge. A slate was presented and this was accepted by the meeting. Mr. Beaudin duly declared that the slate as read would comprise the directorate.

Mr. A. Pinsonneault, President of the Huntingdon-Ormstown Holstein Club, asked the Board if they would allow a Black and White Day for one day of the 1953 Fair and that the exhibitors be permitted to leave the same night if they so desired. The officials agreed to the one day, but maintained that the local exhibitors must leave their cattle for the full length of the Fair. Both the President and Secretary, L. Beaudin said they would inform their members of this decision.

It was decided to ask all municipal councils to make a grant toward the 1953 Fair and various members were appointed to interview the councils at their next regular meetings. In this connection it was mentioned that two members of the Board had visited the Hinchinbrooke Council in this connection and at the time a by-law was passed prohibiting horse racing on Sundays. These two members had been blamed for submitting a request for such a by-law. Mr. A. H. Crutchfield spoke in this behalf and he wished it to be known that such was not the case.

The following is the slate of directors accepted by the meeting and the officers and committees for the year 1953:

Directors: A. H. Crutchfield, D. McCoy, T. C. Paul, Carl Wheeler, T. L. Irving, Gerald Higgins, D. O. Taylor, R. MacDonald, Ross Pringle, Raymond Hamilton, E. E. Farm Forum Meeting Discusses Insurance

An open and interesting discussion on Insurance in General, covering Life, Fire, Health and Automobile Insurance, was held in the Auditorium of the Huntingdon High School, on Monday evening, Jan. 26th. This discussion was sponsored by the Huntingdon District Farm Forums and was attended by 100 or more members and non-members of the Forum. The first item on the programme was the actual discussion led by Mr. Cyril Dahms which was followed by a question and answer period. Mr. Ken Pope and Mr. William Wilson answered the queries of the audience which proved most interesting and educational. Following question and answer period the discussion was closed and square dancing was enjoyed to the music of Mr. Harold Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Banning and Mrs. Marguerite Arthur. Refreshments were served and a very successful evening, both socially and educationally, was brought to a close.

Election For Aldermen Monday

Two Seats to Be Contested By Four Candidates

It was Nomination Day in Huntingdon, on Monday, for members for the Town Council and while some members were re-elected by acclamation, there will be a contest for two seats. Two of the old members of the council did not stand for re-election, thus two seats were left vacant. Dr. J. E. Caza was named to replace Mr. A. Saumier in Seat 1 and Alderic Tremblay to replace Mr. N. Foisy in Seat No. 5.

Those elected by acclamation are as follows: Mayor, Leo Cappiello; Seat No. 3, D. McGerrigle; Seat No. 4, Paul Lefebvre; Seat No. 5, Alderic Tremblay; Seat No. 6, R. E. McWhinnie.

The contests will be for Seat No. 1 between Dr. J. E. Caza and Leo Galipeau; Seat No. 2 between E. Fournier standing for re-election and A. C. H. Picard. The polling will take place on Monday, February 2nd.

For the past few years the business of the town has been conducted in a business like manner and all services have been well looked after. Previous to that time conditions were not all that might have been desired. The electors should bear this in mind when choosing the candidates to represent them at this election. A good council means much to our town and we should endeavour to see that the right men are elected to fill the positions. Mark your ballots carefully and don't be mislead by rumours unless you verify them. Study the records of the candidates offering themselves for election and decide which will give the best service to the town.

Huntingdon Red Cross Has Successful Year in 1952

Four Members Decorated For Service — Many Articles Made by Work Group

The Annual Meeting of the Huntingdon Red Cross Society was held in the County Building on Friday evening. President E. C. Martin made reference to the activities carried out in 1952. The Blood Donor Clinic was a great success and in the report of Miss F. L. Walker it was stated 261 donors presented themselves, of which number 133 had not previously donated blood at this clinic. Mr. Martin made mention of the fact that Decorations in behalf of the Red Cross Society were conferred upon Messrs. C. M. Oney, Huntingdon, and Adrien O'Reilly, Dundee, and to Miss Elsie Elder and Mrs. Mae O'Connor, Huntingdon. Mr. Martin stated the financial campaign was disappointing in that the objective had not been attained. The principal reason for the deficiency was pointed out that the industrial firms who in past years had been generous contributors had not, on the whole, contributed in a like manner in 1952. Thanks was extended to Messrs. H. Huot and Gordon McHardy for the work they did as joint chairmen of the financial campaign. Thanks were extended to the many canvassers who officiated and words of commendation accorded for the promptness in which they carried out their respective canvassing tasks.

Mrs. Louis Roy reported that the Huntingdon Red Cross Society workers had made 6 quilts, 346 pieces of sewing and 134 pieces of knitted goods, these figures, stated Mrs. Roy indicate a substantial increase over 1951. The Red Cross Loan cupboard which contains many items of use to people who may be sick, is not being availed of as it might be.

Mrs. Mae O'Connor and the Rev. W. S. Hatcher of the Welfare Committee were asked to investigate an appeal that had been made for Red Cross assistance. The assistance was requested for a family who had suffered a fire loss of their home. Nine children and the parents lost their belongings in the fire.

Victim of Auto Accident Awarded $14,351 Damages

For an accident in which Aime Boule, longshoreman, lost a leg and suffered consequent incapacity for life of 50 per cent, the driver of a car that struck him on Craig street, Patrick Flannery, of Huntingdon, has been condemned to pay him $14.351.85 by Mr. Justice Roger Brossard in Superior Court.

Crossing Craig Street

Boule was crossing Craig street east on the night of March, 1948, and was aproximately half way across when he was hit by the car driven by Flannery, the evidence showed. In defence Flannery said the victim was at fault for corssing at a point other than an intersection and in continuing on his way as the car drew up along beside him.

His Lordship rejected the defence and decided that car driver alone was responsible for the mishap. According to his own story in court, His Lordship recalled, Flannery had seen Boule standing still in the centre of Craig street. He thought it strange, he said, that a person would be at a standstill there without making any attempt to move.

If that were the case, His Lordship commented, and the car driver considered the pedestrian's conduct to be "abnormal," he should have exercised all the greater prudence in passing him on the street.

That he failed to do His Lordship considerel. Craig street at the point of the mishap is quite wide — at least the width of three automobiles — when the car driver realized that an abnormal situation existed he should either have applied his brakes and slowed down or have swerved around the standing figure. He did neither and must be held liable for the damages, His Lordship concluded.

Bernard Nantel acted for the plaintiff.

Tragedy Strikes Huntingdon Family, Mother Found Dead

Mrs. R. Reddick Died As Result of Knife Wounds, Husband Suffering From Wounds

Tragedy struck in a home at Lacolle, on Friday morning, when a woman was found stabbed in the neck outside her second floor room. The victim was Mrs. Ray Reddick, whose home for the past few years has been at Huntingdon, but who formerly lived at Riverfield, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Reddick had gone to the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fewster, at Lacolle, to spend some time there. Mr. Reddick has been caretaker of the Huntingdon Curling Rink for the past few years and originally farmed at Riverfield before coming to Huntingdon. The first knowledge that something had happened was when Mrs. Fewster ran out of the house calling for help at 9 a.m. Dr. Dusseault, of Lacolle, was called by the daughter and found that Mrs. Reddick was dead and Mr. Reddick was also suffering from wounds. He was rushed to Montreal for treatment. It is understood that his condition is improving.

Police arrived on the scene and Dr. Jean-Marie Roussell, medico-legal expert, said Mrs. Reddick died as a result of five knife wounds. The husband, police said, attempted suicide and is under police guard at Verdun Protestant Hospital.

Meantime the funeral of Mrs. Reddick was held on Monday, at Riverfield, Que., where she and her husband had owned a farm for many years.

Chief of the homicide squad, Lt. Det. Ubald Legault said Mr. Reddick will be a witness at the inquest when it opens as soon as he is well enough to testify.

Police said there was still a complete lack of motive for the tragedy and the daughter, who was in a state of shock, could give no reason.

Mrs. Reddick's age is given as 54 years and her husband's as 57 years. Neighbors said that Mr. Reddick had suffered a nervous breakdown re-recently and had been vacationing at the home of his daughter in Lacolle as a rest.

The family is well and favorably known in the districts of Huntingdon and Riverfield and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to them at the time of this tragic occurrence. Mr. Reddick was a very fine and enthusiastic curler and has skipped many a rink to victory and to win several trophies of distinction.

THE FLYING MACMILLANS

While he has spent most of his life on solid land — breeding cattle and farming — Gilbert MacMillan is now quite an Airway adherent. As president of Dairy Farmers of Canada he frequently flies to Toronto and other points; he also flew to Europe three years ago, to Mexico two years ago. The above photograph was made just before he boarded the T.C.A. Plane for Vancouver to attend the annual meeting of Dairy Farmers of Canada of which he was subsequently re-appointed President. With him are his daughter, Mrs. Cameron (Gilberta) Farquhar of Fort Covington, N.Y., and her daughter Caren. (Photograph courtesy Trans-Canada Air Lines).

English River - Howick - Aubrey Curling News

Week of January 19.

Mild weather on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 15 and 16 forced the postponement of the Ladies' Moore Bonspiel. However, temperatures dropped Friday afternoon, and on Saturday the schedule was started. A great many games were played during the day, with both sheets at English River and at Aubrey busy from morning until late in the evening. At the present time seven games remain to be played in main and consolation events. It is expected that these will be later this week, due to the start of games in the Coronation Bonspiel, most of the ladies will be busy during the first few days this week. Full results of the matches will be available in next week's Gleaner.

The Ladies of the English River and Aubrey clubs served meals on Saturday to the visiting curlers, from dinner at noon until the final midnight snack, the ladies were busy catering to their guests.

The first games of the annual Shawinigan Bonspiel were scheduled for Monday night. Aubrey-English River met Ormstown teams, and Howick played Beauharnois.

In Royal Victoria Jubilee play, Howick teams of Don Ness and Bruce Ness played off, the winner in this match being Don Ness. He then met a Fertile Creek team skipped by Robt. Anderson, and won again in a close fought game. English River and Aubrey played off, with the Aubrey team of Keith Robb defeating Harold Robertson of English River. Robb then met Ness, in the game to decide which team would enter play in Montreal. The Howick team again won, eliminating Aubrey, and on Friday played two games in Montreal. The first, against a team from Pembroke, resulted in another victory for Howick, but the second game, Friday afternoon, against Mr. Wm. Logan of Caledonia, the Howick team went down to defeat, thus being eliminated from the Jubilee competition for this year.

1952 Pat Lid games got under way in Howick last Monday, with Donald Ness defeating Bill Peddie. These games are played off by teams in a club which played in last year's Edinburgh Trophy Competition in Montreal. Prizes for the winning team in a club are, of course, the well known cups and saucers which curlers so covet.

The school boys took over the ice in Howick on Saturday morning, and enjoyed a couple of hours of vigorous curling. The enthusiasm of the boys assures of a good supply of experienced curlers for the years to come. Many are already almost past the "beginner" stage, and will soon be a match for the old hands.

The first round of the Opening Bonspiel of the Howick Club was played on Friday and Saturday evenings. Sixteen teams took part. The results were as follows:

Clarence Kerr 13; W. G. McArthur 5.

Gerald Roy 12; Russel Logan 9.

Glen Whyte 7; Don. Ness 7.

W. Watson 3; A. Allen 10;

W. Logan 7; R. Stewart 7.

R. Anderson 7; C. Younie 7.

M. Ness 11; W. Peddie 5.

J. E. Ness 8; R. B. Ness 8.

The four teams with highest scores play off on Tuesday night, and winners of these games will play the final that same night, ice conditions permitting. In this round C. Kerr meets A. Allen and M. Ness meets G. Roy. Winners of this round play the final.

A Howick ladies' team, skipped by Mrs. R. Bruce Ness, is taking part in the Coronation Bonspiel this week in Montreal. There are no entries in this competition from English River, but one team from Aubrey is playing. It will be remembered that the English River team skipped by Mrs. Aubrin Reddick last year won the Braemor Trophy in this competition.

Local teams are taking part in the Lacolle Bonspiel this week. On Monday, Howick Club was represented, and on Monday evening, English River. On Tuesday evening a team from Aubrey played.

Round Byre AND Ring

By Frank Napier

ALL-CANADIAN GET-OF-SIRE

This Get by Houckholme Sovereign Sky Rocket has been named All-Canadian Holstein-Friesian Get-of-Sire. Exhibited by Rockwood Holsteins, St. Norbert, Man., this group was a first prize winner at the Royal Winter Fair. At the left is Rockwood Rocket Tone, the All-Canadian Aged Bull, next to him is Rockwood Beulah Pal Rockette, the All-Canadian Four-year-old and third, Rockwood Dorothy Pal Rocketess, the All-Canadian two-year-old. The first two mentioned were Grand Champions at the Royal.

ALL-CANADIANS

As announced in The Gleaner last week, Rockwood Canary Rocket, owned by W. K. McRae & Son, Howick, Que., has been designated Reserve "All-Canadian" two year old Holstein bull. While we referred to that competition and honours several weeks ago, we may again repeat here that the "All-Canadian" Holstein competitions are organized by the Holstein-Friesian Journal of Canada and that all first and second prize Holstein winners at the leading Canadian Exhibitions and Black and White Regional Shows are eligible for entry in the "All-Canadian" contest. The photographs and show ring records of the entries in the fifteen classes concerned are scrutinized by a nomturn the Selection Committee inating committee and the six best in each class are passed on for the consideration of the final Selection Committee — the latter being comprised of the judges at the leading Canadian shows of the years concerned, in this instance 1952. In names an "All-Canadian", a reserve "All-Canadian" and, one or more "Honourable Mentions" in each of the 15 regular classes.

CANARY ROCKET

It will be recalled that Rockwood Canary Rocket was grand champion at Ormstown Exhibition and Huntingdon Fair; second at the Royal in 1952. He was reserve All-Canadian two year old to Grey Home Lochinvar Supreme which had been reserve grand champion at Western Fair and the C.N.E., grand at Grey B. & W. Day and first at the Royal. In which latter class Canary Rocket was second.

Rockwood Canary Rocket's dam is Amulree Canary Wayne with a record of 19,905 lbs. milk, 863 lbs. butterfat, average test 4.34%. She is one of 17 daughters of Snow de Kol Wayne whose 61 records average 16,259 lbs. milk, 622 lbs. butterfat, average test 3.83%.

Houckholme Soverign Sky Rocket, sire of Rockwood Canary Rocket, has 55 daughters whose 83 records average: 15,546 lbs. milk, 607 lbs. butterfat, average test 3.91%, at average of 2 years, 353 days—9 on 2x, 9 on 305 days.

THE SKY ROCKETS

However, that was only one of several "All-Canadian" awards which were made this year to members of the Rocket family, sons and daughters of Houckholme Soverign Sky Rocket, therefore brothers and sisters of Rockwood Canary Rochette. Of that group, all bred by Rockwood Holsteins, St. Norbet, Man., sons and daughters of Houckholme Soverign Sky Rocket received the following awards:

Aged bulls: All-Canadian:—Rockwood Rocket Tone for Quinte Cattle Breeders' Association, Belleville, Ont., grand champion at Royal Winter Fair and Peterboro Championship Show. This is the fourt consecutive time he has won an All-Canadian award.

Two year old heifer: All-Canadian: — Rockwood Dorothy Pal Rocketess, for her breeder Rockwood Farms. She was first prize 2 year old, in milk at the Royal Winter Fair.

Get of Sire: All-Canadian: get of Houckholme Soverign Sky Rocket for Rockwood Farms. The said group comprised of three All-Canadian winners: Rockwood Rocket Tone (aged bull); Rockwood Beulah Pal Rockette (4 year old heifer); Rockwood Dorothy Pal Rocketess (2 year old heifer) together with a fourth of whose identity we are presently not aware.

ANOTHER McRAE ENTRY

W. K. McRae & Son, Howick, had an entry in the aged cow class in Garrymede Connie Pabst, senior and grand champion at Ormstown Exhibition. However, while she did not attain an All-Canadian listing, she was one of the six aged cows which were selected for consideration by the nomination committee.

ANOTHER VETERAN

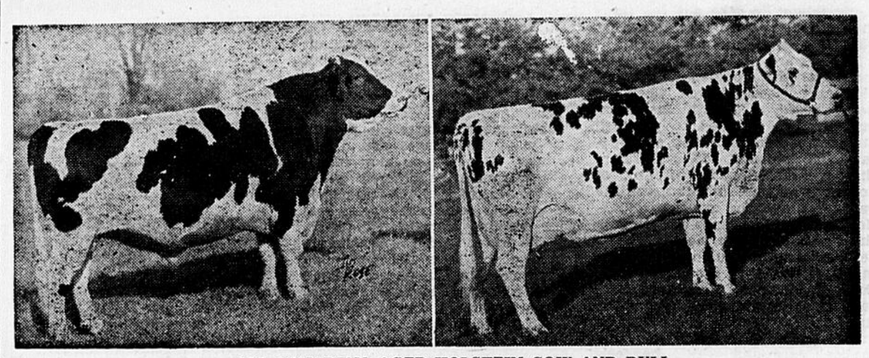

Spring Farm Juliette, bred and owned by J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, Ont., was declared the All-Canadian aged cow for 1952. Altogether, that veteran champion has been an All-Canadian winner six times and Reserve All-Canadian twice. She also combined with her three year old maternal brother, Spring Farm Fond Hope (All-Canadian three year old bull) to win the All-Canadian Produce of Dam award. This is the third straight year that this pair have been All-Canadian Produce. Incidentally, J. M. Fraser was the leading exhibitor of All-Canadians with four All-Canadian winners, two Reserves and two Honourable mentions. Daughters of Spring Farm Fond Hope were All-Canadian senior yearling and junior yearling, respectively.

Twenty-one breeders shared the 30 All-Canadian and Reserve All-Canadian awards and 29 animals received Honourable Mention. The six Provinces of B.C., Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, and New Brunswick provided the winners. Quebec had one reserve and three Honourable Mentions. The other Quebec winners (in addition to Rockwood Canary Rocket being:

Aged bull. Honourable Mention—Grand Rang Caesar Ajaz Tensen for W. K. MacLeod, Disraeli, Que.

Produce of Dam: Honourable Mention—produce of Hillside May Mono Lee for W. K. MacLeod, Disraeli, Que.

ALL-CANADIAN AGED HOLSTEIN COW AND BULL

At the left is the All-Canadian aged Bull, Rockwood Rocket Tone, bred by Rockwood Holsteins, St. Norbert, Man., and owned by the Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association, Belleville, Ont. This is the fourth time that he has won an All-Canadian award. Spring Farm Juliette, right, has for the fourth consecutive year been named All-Canadian Aged Holstein cow for J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, Ont. Rocket Tone was Grand Champion bull at the Royal Winter Fair while Juliette was Grand Champion at the C.N.E.

It was a worrying time . . . when it should have been a happy one. The stork was flying our way, but we didn't have the money needed to welcome our new baby. After going over our finances for the umpteenth time, we decided there was nothing for it but to cash our bonds. There had been too many 'surprise' expenses.

Luckily for us, our B of M manager had other ideas. "Here's a real chance for you to save, and you're missing it," he smiled.

"Save? At a time like this?" we nearly shouted.

"It's not as hard as you think," he said, ". . . quite a few of my customers do it.

"First, you have to plan yourself a budget . . . You need a road map, if you're to know where you're going with your money. Here's a little booklet called 'Personal Planning'. Read it carefully. It shows you how to work out your own way of getting ahead, financially—and how to save regularly from now on."

"But how can we save in our present pickle?" I asked him.

"Borrow against your bonds," he said. "You've got a steady job. After all, if you cash your bonds now, you'll have the money you need, but you won't have any savings left. If you use your bonds to borrow, you get them back by paying off your loan instalments. In other words, you're saving your savings. This is one of the times when borrowing is really saving."

Our story has a happy ending, because our financial worries went out of the window before the stork flew in. Yes, our baby had a happy welcome. We paid back the loan. Now, we still have our bonds, we're living on a budget suited to our needs and aims, AND we're saving regularly.

Saving is the only way to move ahead of your worries, and stay ahead. And — sometimes — borrowing at the B of M is the best way to save. Find out how to save despite today's high prices. Ask for your copy of "Personal Planning" at your neighborhood B of M branch. It's yours for the asking.

Editorial Notes...

That Skating Rink For Huntingdon

FROM time to time letters come to the editor for publication in this newspaper, that are not signed by the sender. That is, they are signed simply as "A Subscriber" or "A Friend." While such signatures can be used in the newspaper, the letter itself must be signed by the sender's proper name, or it will not be published. This same applies to any items sent in for publication, the proper name is not used for publication purposes, but is an evidence of good faith on the part of the sender.

However, the reader will think that this has nothing to do with the heading of this article, but actually it has and we feel now is a good time to mention the above. The fact is we received such a letter the past week and while it touched on a matter that many people are wondering about, the letter was not properly signed and therefore we are unable to publish it. It did have the effect of bringing to mind the subject of the above heading. The letter brought up the old question of what has happened to the money collected during the "Old Home Week" celebration. It will be remembered that this money was collected for the purpose of a suitable war memorial. It was later suggested that this war memorial take the form of a new skating rink for Huntingdon and especially so in view of the demolition of the old skating rink more than a year ago. A further suggestion was made that the building incorporate in it one that could be used for Huntingdon Fair and that the new building be erected at the Fair Grounds. As far as we are aware, nothing has been done toward a decision on these suggestions and thus Huntingdon is still without a rink.

The Town Council decided to flood a portion of Prince Arthur Square and make a rink which could be used by the children of town. Unfortunately, weather conditions this winter have not been of type for outdoor ice-making and this rink was considerably delayed. It is functioning now, however.

There being no rink in Huntingdon, several hockey clubs in the district have been forced to arrange to play their games at Ormstown, or other points and some have erected uncovered rinks. The two schools in Huntingdon have built their own rinks on school property, but they also have been hampered by weather conditions.

The question is raised that delinquency is on the upsurge due to too much idle time on the hands of youth and that a rink would do much to halt this. Some citizens blame lack of interest in our youth for the reason that the matter of the skating rink has been allowed to drag along. Visitors express surprise that Huntingdon has no skating rink, while towns of smaller size and population have, but that there is such a fine curling rink.

We know it is in the minds of some at least, to have a new skating rink built, the question is when is someone going to get around to putting thoughts into action. There is a fair sum of money available for the purpose, that is known. True it will not entirely cover the cost of building at today's prices, but surely some means could be found to raise the additional sum, or even to have a mortgage which could be worked off by events held at the new rink. It has been done in other places, so why not here. It is too late for anything to be done this winter, but we think that efforts should be put forth to see that something is done for next winter. It is highly probable that under present weather conditions, the matter of artificial ice will have to be considered, although this can be made with that future in mind when a skating rink is planned. Preparations need not be a stumbling block.

Congratulations To Huntingdon Fair Board

A few years back indications were that Huntingdon Fair would die and be no more. General interest seemed to be lacking on the part of everyone. In view of this it was gratifying to hear the splendid report that was presented to the annual meeting of shareholders the past week.

Not only did attendance increase, but there were more exhibitors and much more interest on the part of exhibitors. A greater variety of entertainment was provided for the patrons and more incentive given to exhibitors. Much work was done on the grounds and to the buildings and generally the appearance was made more attractive. There is still much work to be done in this respect and the Board has signified a willingness to do more as funds are available. Much of the money raised has been through the means of dances held apart from the Fair itself. Members of the Board have given of their time and services in this extra effort to raise funds to help the financial standing of the Society. They are to be commended for this. They have signified a willingness to continue this effort in the coming year and it is hoped they will get the support it warrants.

It is quite likely that the Board will support a Black and White Day for the Holstein Breeders this year and these days seem to be an attraction to the various breeders in the district. In this way they are fostering the true agricultural spirit of the fair as well as catering to the entertainment features.

During the past year the Board has reduced several of its financial obligations by paying off old outstanding debts as well as a payment on the mortgage and the entire payment of the prize money due. Not only does this show increased interest on the part of members of the Board, but also good management.

It is this good management which can count so much in the success of the annual fairs. The public is quick to notice a thing well done and is thus apt to give it more support. Such support is merited, for the Broad is doing good work in improving the fair in all ways.

In Tribute To Dr. Alvah Gordon

THERE are many people in Huntingdon and the Chateauguay Valley who will mourn the death of Dr. Alvah Hovey Gordon, which occurred on Thursday night in Montreal. These people from this district have received much benefit from his advice and treatment.

Not only was Dr. Gordon a healer of the sick, but he taught others how to treat and practise medicine and also the gospel. He had practised medicine for over fifty years in Montreal and elsewhere and he became an associate Professor of Medicine at McGill's great school in 1924 and full professor in 1936. He was one of the founders and charter member of the Royal College of Physicians of Canada. For forty years he was superintendent of the First Baptist Church Sunday School.

Thus he was closely associated with humanity in those needs of succour which are considered most important to life and to nation. He was what might be termed a true medical missionary. Not only did he practise his profession, but he helped others to further their knowledge. Together with this he believed in and taught others to believe in the Christian spirit. His was a helping hand in many ways and no doubt he too, was helped by devine guidance because of his great service to humanity. A doctor's life is a busy one at all times, but apparently he did not find it too busy to be of service to his church and creator.

Because of this he will be greatly missed by all and affectionately remembered by all with whom he came in contact.

In The Wind?

AMERICAN observers generally are agreed that the change of government in the United States will result in a friendlier approach to business by the federal government. "Business will no longer be on the defensive in dealing with government," Newsweek Magazine states in a recent issue. "The new relationship will be one closer to partnership."

There can be no question that the American people will benefit from the change of attitude towards business on the part of their federal government. And business itself will be able to spend more time producing and less time protecting itself.

Of particular interest in Newsweek's forecast that "Anti-trust prosecutions will be eased. Industries currently involved in anti-trust actions, like movies and oil, will stall until new personnel comes into the Justice Department."

Not infrequently, trends in Ottawa follow Washington's lead. It may be that a more friendly attitude on the part of our own administration towards business and businessmen is in the wind.

The Milk Shipper's Association has notified members to demand a cent more per gallon from 1st September, to April 30th than had been agreed upon last Spring. The increased price is held to be unavoidable if the supply needed by the city is to be maintained. How the milkmen of Montreal regard the rise in price remains undecided. The new prices are 13c for September, 16c for October and 18c for winter months.

The sale of the Central Hotel is now settled. On Tuesday it was bought by Mr. Taylor of Magog who takes possession on September 20th.

The Medical Approach to A National Health Scheme

By JOHN W. NORTH

Although the federal Minister of Health recently estimated that a comprehensive national health scheme for Canada would cost about $600 million a year, medical authorities, basing their opinion on a study of the operation of the National Health Services Act in Great Britain contend that it would cost at least double this amount — or, approximately $400 a year for a family of five. They point out that a generous estimate made by the British Government in 1947 to cover the cost of the scheme put the amount needed annually at £170 million, whereas in actual operation the cost has reached £400 million annually, and it is only kept down to this figure by charging for prescriptions and other items previously handed out free.

There is no reason to suppose that the costs of a similar scheme in Canada could be any better controlled.

In view of the petition being circulated by the C.C.F. urging the Dominion government to introduce a health insurance act basically similar to the British act, this reporter sought out medical men to get their views on the subject. A spokesman for the Canadian Medical Association, while careful to point out that his organization was non-political and represented doctors of all political views, spoke emphatically against any form of state medicine whether disguised as insurance or not. In the view of the association, he said, it would lower health standards rather than raise them.

He went on to say that doctors were ready to admit that the present system was not perfect. However, the answer lay in the voluntary, prepaid health insurance plans which the medical profession has sponsored and supported financially in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Nova Scotia.

That a big section of the public shared this view was borne out by the fact that 20 per cent of Canadians were already enrolled in Blue Cross plans and that enrollments were increasing at the rate of 25 per cent per annum. The C.M.A. believe that the pains should be extended to cover everybody, with the government limiting itself to the payments of premiums for those unable to afford them.

The attitude of doctors towards state medicine, as expressed by individual physicians as well as by officers of the C.M.A., can best be told in the form of a composite interview. Although the facts and opinions were gleaned from a number of medical men, I am, for the sake of clarity, attributing them to a mythical Dr. Beaver, whose role, insofar as this piece is concerned, is to answer the questions of an average layman. Facts and figures quoted have been checked with government papers and with the records of the Canadian Medical Association.

The composite interview follows:

Layman: "Just what is it, Doctor, that the medical profession has against socialized medicine?"

Dr. Beaver: "Experience has shown that when doctors are regimented, as they would be if medical services came under state control, professional standards drop. This has happened in England and it has happened to a much more serious degree in New Zealand where medical services have been nationalized for the past 20 years."

Layman: "But why should professional standards drop simply because the government foots the bill? Surely if a doctor is relieved of worry about collecting his accounts he should be able to give better attention to his patients."

Dr. Beaver: "It doesn't work out that way. In England a third of the general practitioner's time is taken up with paper work — filling out forms, making returns and so on. He must fill out a form for a patient to collect social security benefits, he must fill out another for drugs, another for a patient who is a temporary resident of his district, others for the various chronic illnesses. He is required to fill out different types of certificates for different types of accident; he must complete a triparite form for pregnancy with a copy for the patient, presumably in case she should be in doubt about her condition. And there are many more.

"When you take into consideration this extra work along with the fact that, under a free system providing cash benefits for the sick the number of patients has increased enormously, you will realize that doctors simply haven't the time to make thorough examinations. In many cases three minutes is about the time a British doctor can devote to an individual patient."

Layman: "The increased number of patients would seem to prove the need for socialized medicine. It must mean that in the old days a lot of people couldn't afford to call in a doctor when they were sick."

Dr. Beaver: "Perhaps there were a few who couldn't afford medical attention, but the real trouble is that a free system, providing cash benefits for those off work for five days or more, has produced a great deal of malingering. It has also increased the number of those people who waste a doctor's time with frivolous or imaginary complaints."

Layman: "It doesn't seem right to condemn a plan simply because some people abuse it. In any case the big majority of people have decent standards and these are the ones who would benefit from free medical services."

Dr. Beaver: "It is a mistake to suppose that the services would be free because, of course, the cost would come out of taxes and taxes are paid, directly or indirectly, by everyone. In England the cost of the plan has increased taxes by 20 per cent. In New Zealand by more than that.

"It is worth remembering that higher taxes, after a certain point is reached, are reflected in lowered health standards because unreasonably high taxes lead to debased living conditions. And free medical services are not enough to maintain the general level of health if people are without proper food, housing and recreation."

Layman: "One of the arguments I have heard against health insurance is that costs in England are more than double what it was estimated they would be. Why should it be assumed, because of this, that costs in Canada will show a similar disparity?"

Dr. Beaver: "Judging from past experience costs would be far more than double here. We have an illustration of this in the case of two of the provinces which adopted free hospitalization schemes.

"Hospitalization is the most controllable of medical services; yet, in spite of this, actual hospital costs weer four times as high per capita as experts working for the federal government, who prepared a model provincial scheme, had estimated they would be. In 1946, when the model plan was prepared, costs were estimated at $4.60 per capita. In Saskatchewan, where the plan was adopted, costs came to $15.19 per capital in the first year of operation. And in British Columbia, which also adopted the plan, costs reached $17.50 per capita."

Layman: "It is hard to believe that state medicine would lower health standards when we are told that they are already extremely low."

Dr. Beaver: "Sponsors of socialized medicine would have you believe that health conditions in Canada are deplorable, but the truth is that standards here are higher than anywhere else in the world. Consider the improvement which has taken place in the past fifty years. In 1901 the median age of death was 21.7 years — which means that 50 per cent of mortalities occurred before people attained that age and 50 per cent afterwards. And now just think — in 1951 the median age of death was 67 years.

"Surely this medical revolution, accomplished under our present system, is a sufficient answer to those who would have you believe that we are lagging behind in health matters."

Layman: "Would doctors lose money under a national health services plan?"

Dr. Beaver: "No, in the main we should be better off. The medical profession in England today is receiving a good deal more than it received in the aggregate under private practice, and there is no reason to suppose that this condition would be different in Canada. However, doctors are not primarily concerned as to whether they would profit or lose under a state plan. Our concern, in line with the traditions of medicine, is for the national health."

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Commons last week closed out the first stage of one of the toughest scraps it has seen in years—the debate on the now-famous Currie Report.

In two votes the big Liberal majority overcame the combined forces of the three opposition parties to break an attempt at starting an inquiry into Canada's defence effort far broader than the Currie investigation. The votes sent the report to the defence expenditures committee.

The 26-man committee this week was to start the second phase in the spectacular career of the report, which describes a "general breakdown" in control of the Army Work Services, inefficiency said to be more costly than thefts, "indifference to administration" and "serious" flaws in security.

The committee's job is to examine defence expenditures generally. The Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties supported a CCF motion to have the committee extend the work done by the Currie investigation into the whole defence program.

This motion was defeated in one vote, and another vote soon after carried a government motion earmarking the Currie Report as the committee's first item of business.

The sharp Commons battle over the report started soon after it was tabled in the Commons Dec. 15. It continued through the three days before the Christmas adjournment and resumed unabated when the house reconvened Jan. 12.

Saskatchewan Report

The report of a royal commission which recommended against construction of a huge irrigation and power project in the dry area of South Saskatchewan temporarily took the spotlight from the Currie report.

This commssion estimated the project would cost $250,000,000 and turned thumbs down on the plan to harness the South Saskatchewan River because, it said, it would be unprofitable.

The verdict caused deep disappointment in the wheat-growing province, and placed a new political problem before the federal government. Agriculture Minister Gardiner had backed the project, and so had his Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration. The PFRA said the job would cost little more than $100,000,000, less than half the royal commission's estimate.

In Regina, Premier Douglas said he hoped the federal government would ignore the commission's findings, and accept the advice and estimates of the PFRA.

The commission said the big South Saskatchewan project might be considered as a relief measure in any future widespread unemployment, or when the area has enough population to provide a market for the green crops which would be grown in the 455,000 acres to be irrigated between Outlook and Saskatoon.

The money that would be required for the South Saskatchewan project, it said, could be better spent on a number of smaller irrigation and land reclamation schemes for the prairies.

Soldier's Reply

During the Currie Report debate, a soldier-parliamentarian replied to a personal question which had been raised by another member.

Lt.-Col. E. W. George, Liberal member for Westmorland and commander of the reserve army's 8th Princess Louise's New Brunswick Hussars, said he gave up practically every spare hour to the reserve army in 1951, and charged the federal treasury for those hours and for no more. The hours covered work done both in New Brunswick and in Ottawa.

He said he took command of the unit in 1951 and found the job demanded every hour he could give it. The effects of the hours spent on the job and of the "wholehearted support" of his men was shown in the unit's record—winner of every prize available for reserve tank units.

Col. George was replying to the charge made by Carl Nickle (PC—Calgary West, who said that Col. George, for his parliamentary and military duties, charged the treasury for at least 413 days in 1951, or more days than there are in a year.

Col. George said the figure was 333½ days, not 413. Mr. Nickel had said he charged for 204 army days. The number was actually 202½ days, Col. George said. And his parliamentary indemnity in 1951 was for 131 days when the house was in session—not 209 days as Mr. Nickle had stated.

"I resent deeply the imputation that I am in the reserve army for what I can get out of it," Col. George said. "All these charges, implied or directly stated, I deny with indignation and with clear conscience."

Debate Quieter

Little new fire was added to the Currie report debate in its closing stages.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, again raised the issue of the advance copy of the report that got into CCF hands. Discovery that the advance copy differed from the final report tabled in the commons led to disclosure that the Defence Department had checked Mr. Currie's report before it went to the Commons.

Mr. Drew criticized the government for ordering the RCMP to find out how the CCF got the advance copy. He said the only thing that was lost through removal of the copy from a Montreal printing shop was "any pretence of this government that it permits reports to get out without prior checking."

Defence Minister Claxton denied he had "threatened" CCF leader M. J. Coldwell with use of the RCMP unless he disclosed where the report came from. He said he had informed Mr. Coldwell "out of courtesy" that the RCMP were being used.

Mr. Claxton also denied CCF charges he had pressured Mr. Currie into letting the defence department check another advance copy of the report. He said Mr. Currie isn't the sort of man who lets himself be pressured.

Trip to Leach Textiles

Last Thursday, January 22, the students of the Home Economics Class of Huntingdon High School, accompanied by their teacher, Miss Heikkinen; Miss Howie, the French Specialist; and Dr. Cook, principal, were kindly invited by Mr. F. Cleyn and Mr. R. Tinker to visit Leach Textiles. The purpose of this visit was to acquaint the pupils with the process of making worsted materials. On arriving at the mill they were cordially greeted by Mr. Wooller, Mr. Weirks and Mr. Long, who had offered to guide them about the building and to explain the various processes. On entering the manufacturing department a modern efficiency sign was noticed with wording as follows: "When you stop to gossip, two or more people are not working". Each student took special heed of this thought. Each group consisted of ten students. These groups were led through the building and were shown the processes of spinning, weaving, carding and burling. After almost two hours of talking and explaining, the aforementioned gentlemen took them to Mr. Cleyn's office. Once there, Mr. Cleyn told the students that the workers in the factory were doing their job as well as anyone in the world. He also told them that when they were buying a suit or a piece of material, they should not take the material with the foreign trade label but should take the Canadian material as it was the best that anyone could buy anywhere. Te told the students that they would be doing their country a great favour by doing this. At this point, Sheila Philips extended her thanks on behalf of the students for the very enjoyable visit they had had. I am sure that all the pupils who shared the privilege of witnessing the process of making worsted materials benefited by it a great deal.

Interschool Dance

On Friday evening, twenty-one Huntingdon Academy students travelled by bus to Howick High School where an inter-school dance was being held. Several other Huntingdon students went in private cars. The dance was also attended by students from Hemmingford and Ormstown.

A record player furnished music for the round dances, while lively violin and piano music lent vivacity to the square dances.

Several guests, chosen at random, were the victims of stunts performed on the stage. Needless to say, this part of the program was more enjoyed by the spectators than by the participants.

Soft drinks and cookies were served in the cafeteria. Sheila Phillips, on behalf of Huntingdon, thanked the students of Howick for their warm hospitality. The Huntingdon students who went by bus were accompanied by Mrs. MacGregor.

Huntingdon Defeats Valleyfield First Time in Many Years

On Friday afternoon, January 23, Huntingdon Academy met Gault Institute in two fast-moving hockey games. Exactly on the stroke of three, the puck was dropped and the girls' game began. In the first period, Gault took the offensive and moved into the Huntingdon zone. A shot was made at right angles to the goal. The goal, endeavouring to stop the puck, deflected it, causing it to slide in; hence, by a fluke, at the end of the first period, Gault was leading 1-0. The score remained during the next period. Both sides battled furiously but the majority of the action was in the Valleyfield zone. Finally, at the beginning of the last period, Huntingdon's "Gordie Howe", Beverly McCracken, got a break-away and scored. The score was now tied at 1-1 and although both teams tried hard to make an extra point, the game ended with the score unchanged.

Then it was the boys' turn to display their ability in competitive hockey. In the first period, Huntingdon took the offensive and moved in to score two goals in rapid succession. These goals were scored by George Stark and Allan Martin with John Campbell getting an assist on the latter's goal. The two teams battled furiously during the second period but both teams failed to score. During the third period Allan Martin took another pass from John Campbell to score the third goal of the game. Valleyfield played tremendous hockey but due to the spectacular goal-tending of Noah Beaudin the score remained 3-0 when the game ended.

For many years, the Valleyfield team has remained unbeaten by Huntingdon Academy. This is the first time a victory has been achieved; hence it is an epoch in the athletic history of our school. Both hockey teams feel that their success in these games is largely due to the expert coaching, advice and moral support given them by Mr. Myles Tillotson.

A joint birthday celebration, in the form of a family gathering, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Brooks, on Tuesday evening, in honour of Mrs. M. Brooks' and her nephew, Garth Mooers' birthdays.

The bride-to-be was greatly taken by surprise on entering the tastefully decorated sitting room where about 35 friends and relatives were seated. She was escorted to a beautifully decorated chair to where in front of her was a table laden with gifts. As she opened the gifts assisted by her mother, Mrs. John Perry and Mrs. A. Johnston and passed around for everyone to admire. Phyllis very graciously thanked everyone for the lovely gifts. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Harry Moneypenny, Sr. The guests departed wishing Phyllis much happiness.

ELECTORS OF HUNTINGDON

I have been a citizen of Huntingdon for nearly thirty-three years and during these years I have served the people of this town and district to the best of my ability. No matter who he was, I never refused my services and the door of my house has always been open to everyone. I didn't seek the honour of being your representative on the town council, but many of my fellow citizens have asked me to take the place of Mr. Saumier, who has retired. Thinking it was my duty to accept not only the honour but also the work that any such position brings with it, I decided to run as an alderman.

Since I have been in Huntingdon you have elected me to many responsible positions. I have tried to fulful my duties faithfully and with dignity, having respect for everyone. I have served as President of the Board of Trade, President of the Skating Rink and President of the Softball Club. Four years ago I was President of the Rotary Club of Huntingdon. I have taken part in your joys as well as in your sorrows. In my church, I was Church Warden. In the School I was a Commissioner and President of that Commission for twelve years and if today we are proud of our two schools I feel I did my share of the work.

For the laboring class I have worked in their interests by helping to bring new industries to Huntingdon and have invested money in the Huntingdon Realties, which organization was responsible for securing industries for Huntingdon. Can my friend and opponent, Mr. Leo Galipeau, say as much for himself? I doubt it! I have never refused to work in the interests of my town —which town I love.

If you electors think that the record of my opponent is better than mine and that he can represent you better at the town council, do not hesitate, give him your support ;although if you think I should represent you as an alderman, I beg of you to vote for me on Monday, the 2nd of February.

Thank you,

Dr. J. E. Caza

ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF HUNTINGDON

I am coming once again before you, to solicit your votes. It is because I feel I can render service to my Town.

There is much to be done, and in some cases it is urgent, and all this takes money.

If I were elected, my first step would be with the rest of the members of the Council, and at our own expense, to meet our Member at Quebec, and try to obtain a Government grant for the work to be performed.

During my last term as member of the council I worked hard, and found the Government very generous, which is evidenced by the fine Fire Truck, roads, etc.

Expenses were kept at a minimum and we administered the affairs from the Revenue, without using the Capital.

The preparation of the roads required a considerable expense, we had a deficit, due to the fact that the revenue was much smaller, at that time.

During the last regime, taxes in general, water, municipal, garbage and business have gone up.

Money has been borrowed.

Presently the electors are represented by men from only one section of the Town.

In a word, I will not carry water during 4 years with a leaking pail, without noticing it.

A. C. H. Picard

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. J. Murphy

Death claimed a life long resident of Ormstown in the person of Mrs. Jermiah Murphy, on January 8th, at the Patterson Nursing Home, Huntingdon. She was the wife of the late Jermiah Murphy who predeceased her on October 2nd, 1951. Mrs. Murphy had been ill for a year and kindly cared for at the Patterson Home since last May. Her patient and kindly nature and her willingness to help others endeared her to all who knew her.

Left to mourn her passing are two brothers and one sister, William and Edward Fin, Ormstown, Mrs. Ernest Ouimet, Cornwall, Ont., beside several neices and nephews.

Her funeral took place January 10th, from McGerrigle Funeral Home to St. Malachie's Church Ormstown. The Pall bearers wer Percy Sadler, Bart Gillis, John Harold, Alvin and Lawrence Ouimet, all nephews. The large number of mass offerings and floral tributes and messages of sympathy attested to the esteem in which Mrs. Murphy was held and sorrow expressed to the bereaved family.

District Girls to Attend C.G.I.T. Conference

A C.G.I.T. Conference is to be held in Wesley United Church, N.D.G., Montreal, on Saturday, Jan. 31, when girls from the Montreal district and from a few points outside will come together to discuss the problems of Canadian Girls in Training. There will be discussion groups, folk dancing, sing-songs and games. There will be a film entitled "The High Wall" — the story of growing tension between two gangs due to race prejudice.

A camp re-union of campers who attended C.G.I.T. camp last summer at Cedar Lodge near Lake Memphremagog takes place on Friday night. It is hoped that the campers will relive some of their exciting camp experiences.

The Conference planned by the Provincial C.G.I.T. Committee under the direction of Miss Daisy MacNeill, Girl's Work Secretary, is convened to give mid-winter direction and inspiration to the groups which are carrying on their programs for the development of Christian character and personality in their members. The main theme centers around race prejudice which is one of the problems the teen-ager must face.

Miss Barbara Warner, Hemmingford, Mrs. A. Peddie, Howick, and Mrs. J. Manning, Franklin Centre, who are leaders, will attend the conference with a group of girls from their district.

The final games of the Moore Bonspiel, which was begun at English River and Aubrey Clubs Jan. 17, has been postponed for a short time. The regular meeting concerning this bonspiel will be held during the afternoon of the final day, and it is hoped that representatives from each club will be present.

Two local teams were represented in the Coronation Bonspiel in Montreal. Mrs. John Gruer, of Aubrey, skipped one rink, while Mrs. Bruce Ness skipped the Howick entry.

Local curlers have been unable to enjoy much curling on their own ice lately, due to the unseasonably warm weather. However, with the prospect of cold weather, curlers will no doubt be out in force. Among the competitions scheduled for the near future, the Governor General's is creating the greatest interest. School News

The students of Mrs. Fraser's room held a Junior Red Cross meeting on Friday afternoon, Jan. 23rd, with 16 members present. The meeting opened with Scripture reading by Kenneth Sutherland. The Sec'y, Dawn Elder, read the minutes of the previous meeting, and the business meeting was taken by the President, Margaret Arnold. It was noted here that $15. had been forwarded to headquarters in Montreal by the Treasurer, Fern Sutton. This amount was realized through the sale of 150 calendars, which is quite a number for the relatively small membership of the school.

Mrs. Fraser read the monthly Newsletter from the J.R.C. The collection amounted to 50c. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

The Coronation Nears:

With the appearance of pictures of Regalia for our Queen's Coronation in various newspapers and magazines, comes the realization of the nearness of this noble event and its world-wide interest. Many who are wives and mothers themselves and knowing that the Queen is made in the same strong mold as her father, will hope that the years to come will not put too heavy a burden on her shoulders. She is many things to us — a symbol of unity; an example of women's leadership; a sparkling smile from our newspapers; a clear soft voice on our radios. She is also many things to her husband and children and we would surely hope that she will be able to spend some reasonable time with them every week, especially once the coronation and its attendant duties are over. It was noticed in an article where the Queen and her sister, Princess Margaret, were discussing the Queen's appearance on television. Her Highness fears she was gaining weight and under the doctor's supervision started on a diet to reduce the excess weight and has since lost fourteen pounds with an allowance of two candies per week. This seems such a woman-like thing to be doing.

It is often too readily assumed that The Queen will be crowned with St. Edward's Crown, the official Crown of the realm, this is not necessarily so. A precedent was provided by the Coronation of Queen Victoria.

The massive and weighty crown, it weighs more than five pounds, was much too heavy and too big for the Young Queen, who was to reign for 63 years. The Imperial State Crown that which has been used by Sovereigns and formal State occasions, like the opening of Parliament, was remade especially for her to be crowned with. The St. Edward's Crown was not, however, absent from the coronation but ordered to be carried, throughout the ceremony by the Lord High Stewart. At other Coronations it has been the custom for the Crowning to be performed with St. Edward's Crown and for the Sovereign to wear the Imperial State Crown on the return journey from the Abbey to Buckingham Palace.

The fabulous Koh-i-Nur Diamond was worn as a brooch by Queen Victoria but King George ordered it to be set in Queen Mary's Crown though it could still be moved and worn as an ornament.

Legend was against the Koh-i-Nur being incorporated in the King's Crown. It was said to bring misfortune to any male who wore it. Whereas its sinister influence was powerless against a woman. The Indian History of this gem was marked by bloodshed, treachery and ill luck, like the Cullinan Diamonds the Koh-i-Nur is the property of the State. Queen Mary presented her crown to the Sovereign for the use of future consorts. In the Crown of Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, the Koh-i-Nur has rested since 1936. The gold spurs of St. George are said to be excellent copies of the originals which were lost in the Cromwellian dispersal of the Royal Regalia. At the Coronation the sovereign's ankles are touched by the spurs.

The Ampulla is believed to be more than 1400 years old. This solid gold eagle has been hollowed out to hold six ounces of concentrated oil. For the filling, the head is unscrewed but in the ceremony the oil is poured through the beak. The annointing spoon into which is poured the oil from the ampulla is presumably as old as the sacred vessel. The archbishop of Canterbury dips his fingers for the actual annointing of the Sovereign. A story about this priceless spoon which is ornamented in the manner of medieval manuscripts with exquisite honeysuckle chasing, says it was valued by Cromwell's Parliamentarians at sixteen shillings (which would be approximately two dollars).

The Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, announcing further arrangements approved by the Queen, said that the problem of television from the Abbey had been re-examined. The extension of television to parts of the service east of the screen had been approved.

It is therefore hoped to make arrangements for the Recognition, the Crowning and the Homage to be included, stated the Duke.

The annointing, the common prayers and the administering of the Sacrament would be excluded.

The Earl Marshal has announced that the Coronation Commission have approved the extension of the Route of the Coronation Procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey. The procession will go down Northumberland Avenue and along Victoria Embankment to Bridge Street instead of passing through Whitehall. Whitehall forms part of the return journey. The extension of the route will mean that some thousands of children will see the Queen on her way to the Coronation. The route of the Procession from Westminster Abbey to Buckingham Palace will remain unaltered. After the Queen has returned to Buckingham Palace there will be a fly-past by the Royal Air Force.

Extra precautions were taken for the safety of the Royal Regalia when a decision was made to allow pictures to be taken. The arrangements were a matter of great secrecy. Press photographers were subjected to the strictest supervision and guarded continuously for 15 hours until their task was finished. The Crown jewels have been lodged in the Tower of London since the Restoration. A conference of experts called by King Edward devised the octagonal show case in which the Crown Jewels and Regalia are on view to the general public in the Wakefield Tower of the Tower of London. Units of the Brigade of Guards are in attendance at all time and stationed in the Tower.

Lift Midwinter Morale With Colour

These sprightly pictures of spring fashion openings are no help.

One plods through today's slush thankful for the few tired garments one has. Hopes to scrape together enough money for a new outfit by spring.

What's the answer?

Sew a cheery new coloured lining into an old jacket. The big, bright fashion news for spring is jackets lined to match a dress. Linings are meant to show. They will be in flowery prints or pale pastels.

So — if you're feeling low, pick up a sparkling remnant to contrast with or match the colour in a dress or blouse you already have. Choose your lining in a colour which will be holding its own by spring — reddish hues, pink, softer shades of yellow, green or brown. If you haven't much of a rainbow to choose from, line your jacket in any shade with a new tone to it, and wear it with your basic black dress.

Sewing lining sounds tricky, but it isn't. Don't let that word tailoring put you off. The big thing in handling lining is the order in which you take each step.

Changing a lining is a good introduction to tailoring details, since your jacket will be already made. You can see the way the jacket is finished when you take the old lining out. Remove it carefully. You will want to use it for your pattern.

Here are a few points suggested you take each step.

your new lining to make allowance for a small pleat in the centre back and at front shoulder seams. These pleats in the old lining are not just a style whim. They are put into all well tailored suits for ease in fit.

The entire jacket should be assembled — yours will be in any case — facing attached and sleeves set in, before your lining is inserted. You will need to rip the bottom jacket hem and hems at sleeve ends.

Lining pieces should be joined at side and shoulder seams and pleats pressed in and tacked before it is pinned to the inside of the jacket.

The next step will be greatly simplified if the jacket can be placed wrong side out on a dress form. Stitch lining first to neck, armholes, shoulder and front facings — by hand. Seam up your sleeve linings on the machine, and insert with hand stitching last.

Lining can be caught around the inside bottom of a short jacket, but should be hemmed separately to hang free in a long coat, with only an occasional tacking stitch to hold it in place.

The final step is hand hemming of bottom and sleeve ends and your jacket is like new. What a lift that colour gives. Be sure to wear it open Shed some of the glow on others.

Activities at St. Joseph's School

St. Joseph's organization of sports is coming along nicely. Already the school hockey team has played three games, won one against "Rockets" 6-2 and lost two games with a new hockey team of Valleyfield. St. Joseph's has ten other hockey teams between country and town boys, Seniors, Juniors and Midgets. A waiting room house near the rink allows all players and skaters to dress and warm up. It is heated by "Propane Gas" and lighted by electricity. A new pair of nets have been placed on the goals. The school committee bought a new set of sweaters and stockings for the seniors, maroon and white, adorned with a crest representing the new school. A new hose, scrapers and shovels will complete the equipment for the rink.

The new school is coming on splendidly. Tile floors have been laid in each room. The cafeteria and kitchen will soon be ready, allowing service to 250 persons. The hostess will be Mrs. Dupuis. Presently all boys go to Notre Dame cafeteria for hot soup paid for by Pastor, Canon Pigeon, Mr. Sellar and other generous benefactors. We expect that the new school will be completed soon. Many thanks again to Mr. Raymond Lecompte and his employees.

Next Saturday afternoon Brother J. A. Gagnon will show movies at the Parochial Hall at 2 o'clock. He will be assisted by two friends of his, Gerard Shanks and J. C. Perreault from Montreal. They will show a film entitled "Petit Poucet". Appearing in person on the stage will be the young actors in this film, "Cadet Rousselle'. "Petite Poule Grise", and "Carnival on Ice", etc., will also be shown. All youngsters are cordially invited and also adults if they desire to.

Policyholders Benefit

In death claims, the life insurance companies distributed $113,516,000 as other benefits to living policyholders, says The Financial Post. These payments to living policyholders are about 61% of the total benefit payments of $187,349,000 for the nine months.

Up to Sept. 30, the life insurance companies operating in Canada paid death claims totaling $73,832,000 to Canadian beneficiaries of deceased policyholders, about $5 millions more than in the corresponding period of 1951, and $22 millions more than in the first nine months of 1947.

Higher death payments are primarily due to the growth in the volume of life insurance in force.

SPORTS CAMERA

Call out the militia! We're being invaded from the United States—in a hockey sense, that is.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has agreed to let at least one American team enter the playdowns for the Allan Cup and the senior Canadian championship. And there's a possibility more U.S. teams may be in the hunt, too.

A recent CAHA meeting at Ottawa voted unanimously to allow Spokane (Wash.) Flyers to enter Allan Cup playoffs this season. Whether there will be other U.S. teams allowed in will be decided at the association's annual meeting in Montreal in May.

The Flyers will get a crack at the Allan Cup if they win the British Columbia championship. The CAHA's B.C. branch already has granted the Washington state team permission to play for the Savage Cup, the B.C. senior championship trophy.

The American team's three opponents in the Kootenay League, Trail, Nelson and Kimberley, were successful in their plea to the CAHA to let Spokane in.

Other U.S. Clubs

The Kootenay loop isn't the only Canadian amateur outfit with U.S. entries. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., has a club in the senior Michigan-Ontario League and possibly may be one of the American teams admitted to Allan Cup competition if the CAHA opens the door any wider.

Then there's the New York- Ontario League, comprising Eastern Ontario teams and one from Clinton, N.Y. It's a senior B loop and probably will be excluded from play for the Allan trophy, for senior A squads.

Guess we shouldn't worry too much, though, about the chances of an American representative skating off with the treasured Allan mug.

We haven't checked on the nationalities of the players on the U.S. clubs in question but if they aren't at least 98-per-cent Canadian-born we'll eat a frozen puck at centre ice.

Even in the National Hockey League, the pro game's best with four U.S. teams and only two Canadian, there's only one player who was born south of the border.

The only American-born representative among the NHL's 120-odd players is Pete Babando. A so-so left-winger who has bounced from Boston Bruins to Detroit Red Wings to Chicago Black Hawks and now is with New York Rangers, he was born in Braeburn, Pa.

Horseracing

Ever hear of a luncheon where the guest of honor was a horse? Well, there was one a while back at New York City's Yonkers Raceway in tribute to Good Time, the champion money-winning pacer.

As other guests ate their roast beef and salads, Good Time—now retired to stud after six years of campaigning—munched apples, carrots and sugar and heard himself extolled as the greatest harness horse of all time. His earnings of $318,792 have never been approached.

Thursday the tail-end Shawinigan Falls Cataracts scored a goal a period to down Valleyfield Braves Hockey League fans.

Valleyfield's goal came halfway through the final period. Jack Irvine robbed Goalie Roger Bessette of a shutout on a close-in play with Andre Corriveau and Jacques Deslauriers. Jim Anderson of the Cats was sitting out a boarding penalty at the time.

Shawinigan Falls nursed the two-goal lead after that and outshot the Braves 12-8 doing it. Bessette turned away a total of 36 pucks, while Valleyfield's rookie netminder, Roger Morrissette, stopped 33.

Bert Giesebrecht put the Cataracts ahead at 3.40 of the first period when he beat Morrissette with a 15-footer on a breakaway with Irwin Groose and Billy Arcand.

Scoring two goals in overtime, Valleyfield Braves turned back Ottawa Senators 5-3 Saturday night in wide-open Quebec Senior Hockey League game before about 5,800 fans.

The win moved the Braves to within a point of the third place Senators.

Andre Corriveau, who paced the Valleyfield attack with a pair of goals and as many assists, drilled home the winner at 2.44 of the overtime period. He drew out Goalie Ray Fredericks on a good stick handling play with Kitoute Joannette and Georges Bougie. Rollie Duranceau scored the insurance goal at 5.18 on a power play with Larry Kwong and Renald Lacroix.

The four points Corriveau picked up put him out in front in the league's individual scoring race with 61 points, one ahead of Chicoutimi's Stan Smrke.

Other Valleyfield scorers were Bougie and Bruce Cline. Ottawa scorers were Jack Griesebrecht, Emile Dagenais and Johnny Arundel.

Corriveau put the Braves in the lead at 14.16 of the first period from five feet out after carrying the puck from centre ice. Giesebrecht got that one back on a slow shot from just inside the blueline that rolled under Goalie Roger Morrissette's foot as he attempted to kick the puck out.

On Sunday the front-running Chicoutimi Saguenays dumped the fifth-place Valleyfield Braves 3-1 before 2,000 Quebec Senior Hockey League fans to lengthen their league lead to four points.

The Sagueneens took a 1-0 lead in the first period when Pete Taillefer let ride out a hard one which bounced in off Marius Groleau's stick, and made it 2-0 when Stan Smrke scored on a screen shot at 2.22 of the second.

Kitoute Joannette saved Valleyfield from a shutout when he dumped the puck behind Goalie Marcel Pelletier at 5.26 of the third, but Bucky Buchanan scored again for the Saguenays on a breakaway.

Highlight of the final frame was the handing of match misconducts to Georges Bougie of Valleyfield and Groleau. The pair were given minors for roughing. They fought in the penalty box and both tumbled on to the ice, and three seconds after their original penalties were given match misconducts. Gordie Haworth also got a major for fighting with Gerry Glaude.

as it has many desirable features that are very difficult to achieve under any plan — is on the decline — and we might as well face it and help mould the new method.

"I have attempted to point out to you why the service plan is the best plan available — and that is why, under T.C.M.P., we are primarily coordinating service plans. We believe this will give what the people want — and at the same time retain the patient-doctor relationship on a proper level.

"In trying to point out to you where we believe T.C.M.P. could play a large part in a national health insurance plan in Canada, one must attempt first of all to answer several questions that must be answered and one must outline what one means by health insurance. Certainly, many of those who today are discussing this problem across Canada know very little about it — but are attempting to play politics with health insurance — and one cannot help but feel that the provision of medical care is too personal a service to be brought into the realm of politics. Health insurance not only enables individuals to prepay their medical costs, but does this in such a way as to secure a wide pooling of risks and distribution of costs in much the same manner as any other form of insurance. Such questions as, "Should such a plan be voluntary or compulsory?" "Should it be run by government or by odctors?" "Should it be provincial or national?" "How should it be paid for?" — are all important questions that we should be prepared to answer before we can intelligently deal with the problem.

"I believe there are two main aspects to the provision of medical care. The first is the field of public health and preventive medicine on a community basis — the other is the field of curative medicine which an individual basis and to have a proper health insurance plan, we must consider both of these fields. Curative medicine is the more expensive part while public health and preventive medicine is much less costly. On the other hand, public health and preventive medicine on a compulsory basis. From a public health point of view, there is not much sense in you being immunized against diphtheria if your neighbors aren't also. The only place where such a compulsory scheme properly fits into our way of life is under government sponsorship, therefore, this part of medicine should properly be provided by the government out of the tax dollar — personal contribution here is not necessary. Prevention cannot be properly done by individuals — it must be done by all. Individuals as individuals just aren't sufficiently interested in prevention.

"On the other hand, individuals should be vitally interested in curative medicine. It is high-priced as stated before and the individual must share part of that cost at least. This should be done on a voluntary basis — if we are to retain two of the basic principles which we believe to be essential — those are 1) free choice of doctor by the patient and 2) free choice of doctor to refuse any patient. I know of no compulsory scheme that does not interfere with one or both of these principles to a greater or lesser degree. However if any individual small group wished this to be compulsory for their group, they could have it so without interfering with the desires of the people as a whole to keep it on a voluntary basis — as a matter of fact under some plans at present, compulsion is in effect — as it is a condition of employment in certain groups — agreed upon by management and unions.

"One frequently hears it remarked that doctors are against health insurance. They are not — They want health insurance — the C.M.A. has gone on record as being in favor of it — they realize the need of it perhaps more than most laymen as they are dealing with sickness continually. Quite rightly they do not want to become government employees as they believe a personal service like medical care must retain the above mentioned two basic principles — and as government employees it becomes very difficult if not impossible, to retain these two basic principles.

"If one accepts the above, one next comes to whether such a scheme should be administered by the Government or by doctors. I don't believe it should be by either one. I don't believe the Government could administer it even on a voluntary basis without getting too much politics and red tape mixed up in it. I don't believe the doctors alone can administer it adequately because it is most important that the subscriber have a voice in the provision of his care.

"I believe the plan should be administered by a board composed of representatives of the two groups of people primarily involved — the consumer and the provider of the care. That is, the subscribers and the doctors both — such a board to be elected or selected from the two groups. Several plans in Canada now operate under such a system and operate very well.

"Next, we should consider whether such a plan should be provincial or national. I believe that it should be no greater than provincial at outside. Centralization of such a scheme leads to more red tape and book work — and certainly doctors in Nova Scotia or B.C. are not going to take the certain amount of regimentation that must go with such a scheme, from someone sitting at a desk in Ottawa in the same way that they would from someone in Halifax or Vancouver. By the same token, the patient isn't going to accept rulings, etc., from one central office in the same way that he would from a provincial office and more important he isn't going to remain so much interested in keeping down the costs as he would if the scheme is on a more local basis. As a matter of fact, the more local it is — the more interested he is in keeping down the costs — but there is a limit to how local the scheme can become and remain economical. I believe that provincial plans or plans of about that size are best. Costs of living vary — different provinces have different types of government — some of which provide more medical care than others — also doctor's fees vary as costs of living varies — thus it is most difficult if not impossible to set a fee schedule for all of Canada that is fair. That is one place that indemnity schemes do have an advantage. They can do national coverage fairly readily because they pay only a certain amount toward a bill and the patient pays the rest which varies from province to proivnce.

"This now brings us to where T.C.M.P. fits into this plan. Provincial schemes alone are not enough — people frequently move from one province to another — usually from any one of nine provinces to British Columbia — and they should not have to lose coverage or undergo new waiting periods, etc. It will cowhere T.C.M.P. fits in. It will coordinate these various provincial plans — allow subscribers to move from one to another, without loss of waiting periods and without loss of coverage. Also it provides a means whereby national employers can arrange coverage for employees in several provinces — and at the same time it will be working towards getting as nearly as possible a uniform type of coverage — at possibly fairly similar rates.

"At the present time, the various provincial plans do not cover enough people — some will only take employed groups — some will not take individuals. T.C.M.P., if it functions efficiently, will have to have all of its member plans enlarging their scope and making prepaid medical care available to all.

"You may now well ask — who will pay for this. There is no doubt that the subscriber should pay if able — it might be done in conjunction with employers in some cases — if desired. However, the subscriber must pay at least part — or it becomes too expensive. You do not get anything in life for nothing and if the subscriber is not vitally interested in the cost, he tends to abuse it. Even when he is interested in the cost, he tends to abuse it more than he would if he were paying the doctor's bill in full and this is why no government can estimate the cost of medical care in advance — regardless of estimates they may produce. The human element in such a personal service is impossible to estimate — and the human element is what makes or breaks the plan.

"For those who cannot pay at all, the government must pay — as I'm sure all of us agree that we must look after our indigents. However, I believe the government should contribute these costs — but should not administer the plan.

"This, gentlemen, is where I believe T.C.M.P. could fit into a plan for national health insurance for Canada. I believe it would give us better medical care — better from both patient's and doctor's point of view — than any other plan in existence today — although I must admit that the U.S.A., after a lot of investigation and research, is now coming to strive for something that is not too unlike what we are trying to do in Canada."

LOCAL LEAGUE HOCKEY

A game was played at Ormstown on Wednesday night between Huntingdon and Hemmingford in the local Hockey League which consists of the following five teams, Hemmingford, Huntingdon, Howick, Ormstown, and Valeyfield. In the first period of Wednesday's game Huntingdon took a 5-0 lead with goals scored by E. Ouimet (Boyd), Brisebois (G. Ouimet), G. Ouimet (Brisebois-Dupuis), E. Ouimet (Boyd, G. Ouimet Brisebois). R. Moore served one penalty. In the second frame G. Ouimet and Dupuis assisted on a goal by Brisebois and Keddy scored once for Hemmingford unassisted. Penalties were handed out in the second frame to Moore, Brisebois, E. Ouimet, Menard and Derepentigny. In the third period no penalties were served and M. Fortin scored for Hemmingford and Brisebois (G. Ouimet) scored for Huntingdon. This making the score 7-2 in favour of Huntingdon. Enthusiasm and interest in these games is hindered by the long and frequent arguments between the referees and players. Much time was lost in this particular game and like many others, no understanding was reached.

The Huntingdon team was defeated on Friday night at St. Anicet, 6-5.

Colored Berets For Army Dress

The Army is going back to color. The days of scarlet tunics as regular dress are past but color is coming back in regular uniforms, this time in the head gear.

Army Headquarters at Ottawa said recently colored berets for servicemen of all branches have been approved.

Brightest of the lot will be the scarlet berets for men of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps reminiscent of the days of scarlet tunics. Airborne units will retain the cherry beret used during the Second World War.

Men of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps will sport navy blue berets with yellow patches backing their corp badges. Royal Canadian Engineers, Signals Corps and electrical and mechanical engineers will wear the same beret with dark blue backing for the badges.

The Postal Corps will have a distinctive light blue backing for its badges on the navy blue beret. The Royal Canadian Medical Corps will use its traditional dark cherry color for backing on their badges.

The Irish bonnet of Irish infantry regiments and balmorals and glengarry's of Scottish regiments will be retained. Light infantry regiments will wear light green berets and rifle regiments will keep their "rifle" green, a darker green.

Other colors include red backing on blue berets for the Royal Canadian Artillery, Provost Corps and Ordnance Corps.

Men at headquarters already have been issued their new berets. Units in other areas will get theirs as soon as they are in stock.

St. Andrew's Notes

CHATEAUGUAY — The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's United Church was held Monday night in the Church Hall. Rev. J. W. Patterson of Lachine, Que., interim-minister, presided. Charles F. Rowe was appointed secretary.

The financial statement, presented by I. W. Gilbert, treasurer, showed a substantial balance.

Reports from the various organizations, Woman's Missionary Society, Woman's Association, Young People's Union, the Sunday School and kindred groups indicated a successful year.

Mrs. Hartland Rowell, organist and choir-director, reported that new gowns had been bought for the choir members, and expressed her thanks to all who had contributed to the choir fund.

The gowns, a beautiful maroon shade, with matching mortar boards, book covers and holders, were dedicated at the Sunday morning service, Dec. 21st, by Mr. Douglas Brooker, student-minister. Mr. Patterson congratulated the members on the splendid reports, showing progress in all organizations. He had a special word of commendation for the Young People's Union.

The meeting closed with prayer, following which refreshments were served by the Woman's Association.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Spencer with their children John and Janet have taken residence in Lachine, Que.

Short On Junk

Strange as it may sound, your job, or the amount of business you do next year, may depend on a pile of junk.

The connection between "junk" — in this case scrap iron and metal — and Canada's burgeoning industrial development may seem somewhat remote.

But it is very real. So real that if more scrap — nearly half a million tons more a year — doesn't start moving soon, Canada's $150 million steel expansion program just won't bring results in finished steel. And with it our defense program and much of our spectacular industrial development may be jolted.

The Horse Population May Be Down, But is Not Out

For some years now, the heavy horse, who once commanded far higher prices than any other stock raised on a farm, has been rapidly displaced from his place of honour as the farmer's chief supply of power for field work, and his chief means of transporting his goods to market and his family to church.

Tractors have taken over most field work, and the family now enjoys an automobile rather than a roadster. Today, a great many youngsters raised on farms will have little or no experience in handling horses, but every child can drive a tractor before he goes to school, practically. There is still some trade in saddle horses, but the men, who, not so many years ago, kept several stallions and raised a great many colts each year, must view sadly the rapid decline in horse population. The raising of heavy farm horses for working has almost ceased, and those few who do keep on raising a colt or two each year, perhaps only out of nostalgia, often have to sell their heavy animals for meat; a most discouraging end for such a fine animal.

There seems to be one bright spot in a generally gloomy picture, however. It stemmed from a visit a short time ago from an old acquaintance who is now associated with a large pulp and paper concern in Northern Quebec. He holds the position of buyer for the woods operations of the company. This involves a great deal, as last year this concern cut some 3000,000 cords of pulp wood in the bush. The thousands of men employed to do this cutting must, of course be fed and housed, and the buyer was required to purchase for this huge family of cutters, flour by the ton, potatoes by the car-load, pork and beef carcasses by the hundreds, and so on. He told of how a few years ago, immediately after the war, most pulp and paper and lumber companies set about mechanizing their woods operations with power saws, and with tractors and bulldozers in place of the hundreds of horses they formerly used. Of course, they felt sure that this power machinery would prove more efficient and cheaper in the end than the old methods where horses were used exclusively for hauling cut wood out to lakes, where it was piled on the ice, and then went out in the spring with the ice, and on down stream to the mills. After a few years of skiding with heavy machinery, having to make roads in rugged country for deisel tractors, and having to keep mechanics and skilled drivers employed to handle the complicated machinery, this company, and several others, he said, have gone back to using horses again. The old system of teams and sleighs was far better adapted to the rough terrain and the cold weather of northern Quebec, and this company had disposed of all its tractors and was using six hundred horses this winter. Another company, cutting nearby, had done likewise and was using some nine hundred horses this winter. Most of these horess were from the West, but no doubt some would be obtained from Quebec horse breeders if they were available. The company, he said, had rented most of their horses by the day, but also had bought some. The skidding season is comparatively short, since cutting is done during the early months of the logging season, from September to January, then the men skid out the wood to the lakes and rivers during January and early February, when ice is safe, and, if possible before snow gets too deep. It seems that horses are well cared for, considering everything, but work very hard nevertheless, and at the end of the season are seldom in good shape. Those that are injured or cannot stand the long days and heavy hauls are destroyed, which is simpler and kinder than attempting to treat them.

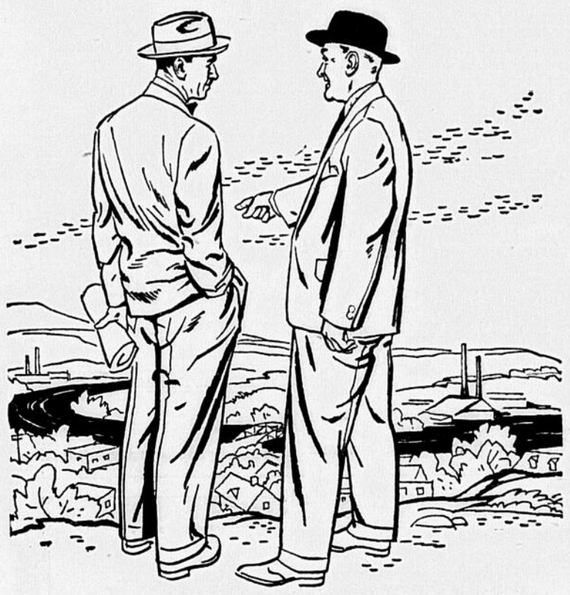

It is, quite a tribute to the horse to think that in this day of mechanization at least one spot has been found where the bulldozer and tractor are not superior, at least, not yet. Whether this swing back to horse power in the bush will affect horse breeders much, is hard to say. Logging companies do not require anything like the thousands of horses that used to play such an important part on farms and on the road, but this may prevent, or at least delay, the disappearance of the heavy horse from this country.

"The die has now been cast"

An American manufacturer was planning to open a plant in Canada. He considered various locations and found what seemed a likely site. He talked to a local bank manager, got facts about the community and its facilities.

Some time later the company wrote to the banker:

"The die has now been cast. It is our intention to locate in S . . . We feel that it is well suited to our particular operation. You have been of great aid to us. Your accurate and rapid presentation of facts necessary to reach a decision was top-notch."

Such letters show how a branch bank serves not only its own depositors and other customers but how, by assisting business development, it benefits the whole community.

W.M.S.

The Presbyterian W.M.S. Auxiliary met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. D. Watson. The meeting opened with the Call to Worship and prayer by Mrs. Jamieson, followed by Bible reading and prayer by Mrs. W. Tully. The Treasurer reported receipts from Carol Service were $13.57. Mrs. Jamieson reported that on Dec. 31st, the Executive of Athelstan Auxiliary accompanied by Mr. D. Mawhinney met at the Bank of Montreal and purchased a Dominion Government Bond for $500. This was made possible by the legacy from the estate of the late Mrs. Wm. Anderson, nee Euphemia Sandilands. A letter from General Treasurer was read, stating our allocation for 1953 is raised to $265.00. Two of the members had received letters of thanks for Christmas greetings sent to the Old People's Home, Montreal. Notice of World Day of Prayer was read and Mrs. Mawhinney invited the meeting to be held at The Manse. It was planned to use Dime Cards as a means to help finances. The offering amounted to $6.20 and Offertory Prayer given by Mrs. Jamieson. A letter from Rev. John Elder, telling of the work in British Guiana, was read for lesson. Roll call was answered by ten members repeating a Bible verse on Honour. Lunch was served to twelve, members and guests.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Athelstan Presbyterian congregation was held in the Church Hall on Friday night, with a fair representation of interested members. The meeting opened with a devotional period. Mr. Mawhinney was appointed Chairman of meeting and Mr. Waldie, Secretary. Very encouraging reports were heard from the Secretaries and Treasurers of the various organizations in connection with the Church. Those from Missions were especially good, a total of almost $1000 was raised for Missions, this includes Church Budget and W.M.S. etc. The church books showed a balance of over $1200, which will be reduced rather drastically when the bills for new furnace are presented.

A motion was made and seconded, that the Secretary put on record that a donation of $580 was received last year from the estate of the late Mrs. Anderson, nee Euphemia Sandilands. Mr. Fred Ross resigned from the Board of Managers, after a long term in office, and Mr. Russell Myatt was appointed to fill out the remainder of Mr. Ross' term. At the close of the business meeting, an oyster, provided by the managers, was served, with tea, sandwiches, etc., for any who did not enjoy oysters.

Obituary

THE LATE

GRACE ELIZABETH McCREA

Grace Elizabeth McCrea, wife of the late William J. McCrea of Champlain, passed away at the Physicians' Hospital in Plattsburg on January 17, 1953 in her 78th year. She had been ill for nearly six weeks and passed peacefully away in her sleep.

Born in Lacolle, P.Q., on October 3rd, 1875, she was the daughter of the late Albert and Caroline Clarkson.

In 1899 she was united in marriage to William J. McCrea at Lacolle, Que. The deceased was a faithful member of the Methodist Church. She loved her home and was a devoted wife and mother, and will be very sadly missed.

The many floral tributes attested to the esteem in which she was held by her wide circle of friends.

She is survived by one son, Arnold McCrea of Champlain; three sisters Mrs. George Cookman (Allie) of Lacolle, Mrs. Alan Sutherland, (Laura) of Montreal and Miss Elsie E Clarkson of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; also several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 2.30 p.m. from Parsons funeral home in Champlain, and interment in Glenwood cemetery beside her late husband who passed away a year ago.

The Rev. William Malpass, pastor of Champlain Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. William C. Watson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church officiated at the service.

Howick

Howick United W.M.A.

HOWICK—The January meeting of the Howick United W.M.A. was held at the manse on the usual date, the 3rd Tuesday. The theme of the meeting was "Rest". The hymns and the roll call all centred around that thought. Twenty-three members were present, also a former member in the person of Mrs. George Fiskin, who was sincerely welcomed by all present.

Arrangements were made for the Day of Prayer, as it will be held in the United Church this year; delegates to the Presbyterian, Feb. 25th and 26th in St. Luke's United were appointed, namely: the president, Mrs. W. Edwards, Mrs. Robert Templeton and Mrs. W. Kerr. Mrs. Lawrence Gruer read a very suitable poem entitled "So Long as there are Homes."

As this was the Annual Meeting, reports were read by the Secretary, the Treasurer and the various convers of the different departments. The secretary's report showed that the W.M.A. has a membership of 32, 20 of whom are Life Members, one new Life Member had been added this year. Every month a regular meeting had been held, one in the summer was in charge of the Mission Band, then one in the autumn was a joint one with the Evening Auxiliary and the C.G.I.T. Several special speakers had addressed both regular and Thankoffering meetings and were most interesting. The Treasurer reported that the allocation had not only been met, but exceeded, $454 had been forwarded to the Pres. Sec'y. This included $80 which had been raised by the very energetic Mission Band. The Cor. Sec. reported letters and cards sent to different members in time of bereavement. Community Friendship Secretary's report clearly showed that newcomers, the sick and shut-ins had not been forgotten. This is a very worthwhile department and is capably handled by the convener, who also looks after the Cradle Roll. Christian Stewardship, Citizenship and Temperance and Literature reports all showed that much work had been accomplished along these lines. The Supply Sec'y mentioned the wonderful bales of new and second-hand clothing that had been forwarded to head-quarters, all going to show that a needy cause was being looked after. Mrs. George Fiskin favored the meeting with the beautiful solo entitled "I would like to tell you what I think of Jesus." Before the close of the meeting. Rev. Edwards led in a timely devotional, reading a few familiar verses from the Acts, emphasizing especially the words "Come unto Me and I will give you rest." Our greatest need in this day and age is rest, for bodily rest is so essential. But there is no rest in trying to evade the issues of life, We must try and do our share, remembering Christ's invitation to come unto Him. He is at the helm and can guide us aright, his words to all are "Learn of me, follow me, and I will give you rest." Rev. Edwards referred to the terrible unrest in the world today and said how happy we shall be if this year brings peace, but if not we shall still be undaunted, for we have our God and he is our Guide.

Prayer and the installation of the officers for 1953 closed the meeting.

Georgetown Evening Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Georgetown Evening Auxiliary was held Wednesday evening, Jan. 21, at the home of the president, Mrs. Raymond Anderson, with 17 members present. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Glen Whyte and Mrs. Clifford Brown led in prayer.

Letters were read, one from Mrs. Tristram thanking the members for being able to fill their allocation, one from Mr. Wilburn Anderson, Sec'y-Treas., of thanks for donation of $25.00 to the Sunday School. Two others, one to bring attention to a short Bible study course and a book on Africa which might be used for the study period. The other stated the allocation for 1953 is $125.

The Treasurer, Miss Helen Wilson started this year with no balance on hand, but the collection at this meeting amounted to $6.00.

The Supply Secretary, Mrs. Wm. McArthur was not present, but sent word that wool has been ordered and should arrive shortly.

Miss Laura Robertson, Card Convener, reported $16.58 on hand from sale of cards. Has quite a supply of Christmas Cards left which is being kept over until the following Christmas, also has a good supply of everyday cards and notepaper.

A discussion took place about delegates to the Presbyterial to be held at McVicar Memorial Church, Feb. 3rd. It was decided that everyone that could possibly go, to do so.

A "Bring and Buy" sale of any kind of article to the value of 50c was suggested for the February meeting.

Following the closing of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and food committee and the programs were made out for the following five months.

The 31st was unacceptable because of the party which is being held in Ormstown.
