World News In Brief

Avonmouth, England, Sept. 8.—(P)—Some 500 fire fighters finally beat out a $2,100,000 dockside oil blaze today after a 38-hour battle.

Twenty tanks holding 14,000,000 gallons of fuel oil turned this port into a flaming cauldron following an explosion Thursday.

Troops, sailors and airmen joined regular firemen armed with chemical foam in fighting the blaze. More than 35 fire fighters were treated for injuries. Two employees of the Regent Oil Company, which owned the petroleum tanks, were killed.

Cause of the explosion still is undetermined.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—(P)—U.S. authorities announced today that an American soldier, shot by German communist police Thursday, died in a Soviet military hospital.

It is expected that the U.S. army will send a sharp protest to the Russians over the shooting because eyewitness reports indicated no provocation to justify the shooting by the Soviet-controlled "people's police."

Moscow, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—Louis Wicart, French doctor, said last night Soviet research workers in the field of cancer treatment are "on the eve of a solution of the problem."

Wicart is one of 12 French doctors who have been on a three-week visit to health centres in Russia.

London, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—The King returned to London this morning after an all-night train journey from Scotland.

"After a thorough medical examination by his doctors at Buckingham Palace he hopes to return by air tonight to resume his vacation at Balmoral."

A statement issued Wednesday from Buckingham Palace said the King's visit to London had been arranged to allow his doctors an opportunity for a thorough medical check up.

Nicosia, Cyprus, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—The British cruiser Liverpool leaves here today for Yugoslavia. She will be the first British naval vessel to visit that country since the war.

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Sept. 8.—(P)—A bus toppled over a 140-foot embankment near here last night killing five persons and injuring 40.

Liverpool, England, Sept. 8.—(P)—A ferry steamer on a pleasure cruise with 550 passengers collided in the river Mersey with the battleship Duke of York last night, slightly injuring 50 persons on the ferry. Neither vessel was severely damaged.

Guatemala City, Guatemala, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—Police surrounded the national palace of this Central American republic when 1,000 road workers demonstrated to support a demand for wages they claimed had not been paid. There were no disorders and the crowd dispersed.

Edmonton Archbishop Is Named Anglican Primate

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 8.—(P)—Archbishop Walter Foster Barfoot, who believes in both prayer and hard work, last night was installed as Primate of the Church of England in Canada.

"I would not be human if I were not somewhat anxious, even fearful, of the high office for which I have been called," he told a congregation of 1,000 in Christ Church Cathedral following the solemn ceremony of installation.

The 58-year-old Archbishop of Edmonton, elected to the church's highest office last yesterday by the Anglican general synod, called on those of the Anglican faith for "support to unify further the church from coast to coast."

He said that after his election a fellow Bishop, an old friend and counsellor, had calmed his anxiety over the weight of office by whispering, "you are not alone."

"Those words go very deep in Christian hearts," the new Primate said.

He succeeds the late Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia who died last November.

He automatically was raised from Bishop to Archbishop with his installation as Primate.

Japanese Peace Treaty Will Be Signed Today By All But Three Nations

Gromyko Tip Is Almost Fulfilled

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—(P)—A grim tip that a beer truck would crash into Andrei Gromyko's automobile and kill the Russian delegate to the Japanese treaty conference almost came to chilling reality yesterday.

Whether the incident actually was a plot by White Russians to assassinate Gromyko—or only an almost fantastic coincidence of a highway accident—no one could determine.

But a big truck, carrying 6,000 pounds of bacon, was overturned by a "mystery car" shortly before the speeding Russian automobile roared north along highway 101 this morning, en route to the treaty session here.

The Russian car, escorted by highway officers, shot around the wreck at 70 miles an hour, and escaped a possible crash.

No one could say whether the driver of the unidentified car was a White Russian and an avowed enemy of the present Russian regime.

But two large beer trucks were following the meat truck. Both were tied up in the heavy traffic which flows along the six-lane highway.

The time-table of the strange occurrence showed that perhaps the Russians' speeding automobile escaped a terrific collision with the meat truck only by a matter of minutes.

The tip to San Francisco police came Thursday night, when an informer said:

"A beer truck will crash into Gromyko's automobile on Bayshore boulevard Friday in an attempt to kill him."

The informer, whose identity was not disclosed, said unnamed White Russians planned the assassination of Gromyko, the Soviet deputy foreign minister who had attempted to stall the Japanese treaty negotiations here.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was informed of the tip. The Russian delegation was warned to be on the alert.

Long Treatment For Archbishop

Montreal, Sept. 8.—(P)—Archbishop Philippe Desmarcel of Sherbrooke, who suffered a fractured hip in a traffic accident Aug. 31, will be bed-ridden for at least two months, a spokesman for the Sacred Heart Hospital said today.

The prelate's condition was reported as "very satisfactory and improving gradually." He was injured near St. Etienne when the automobile in which he was a passenger collided with a truck. His driver, Rev. Wilfrid Cote, also of Sherbrooke, suffered fractured ribs. He is also recovering in the same hospital.

Only Communist Bloc Refuses To Accept Pact — Gromyko's Delaying Tactics Are Thwarted.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—(P)—Every nation at the San Francisco conference — except the three communist bidders — lined up early today to sign the Japanese peace treaty.

Not one was held back from the signing ceremony — scheduled to start at 10 A.M. — by Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko's thundering that it is a pact for a rebirth of Japanese militarism and a "new war" in the Orient.

Gromyko himself went down to defeat in a free-for-all conference debate last night, shouting the diplomatic version of "we wuz robbed." He blamed his reverses here on American "pressure" on other delegations.

A short time later he rose from his seat and with his communist colleagues walked out of the hall. But it was a false walkout in the sense of a Russian withdrawal from a conference.

Three minutes later the usually grim-faced Russian, grinning apparently at the excitement he had caused, walked back in again.

The Russian, Polish and Czech delegates generally were expected to boycott the signing ceremony today. Gromyko, however, had called a 9 A.M. press conference, perhaps to explain his position and take a few last cracks at the United States and Britain and the treaty they so successfully sponsored here.

British officials said that Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison, who arrived last night, might speak briefly when he signs the pact. No other talks were due, however.

It was believed that the day would also bring the signing of a security treaty between the United States and Japan under which American troops will remain in Japan after peace becomes effective.

Forty-nine nations, including Japan, gave notice by last night that they would sign the peace pact. Of the 52 here, that left out only Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Canada endorsed the treaty yesterday through her External Affairs Minister, L. B. Pearson. He said that the treaty is both "generous" and "realistic."

In a five-minute speech Pearson dismissed Russian-bloc criticism and propaganda "which convinces no one except those whose convictions are prefabricated."

Gromyko's final reversal in debate came during a hectic night session in which he was hopelessly out-manoeuvred by other delegations and the rulings of State Secretary Dean Acheson as presiding officer.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida of Japan, in his only speech to the conference, had expressed his government's assent to the treaty, yet declared its "pain and anxiety" over the loss of territory which the pact will confirm.

He assailed Soviet communism, saying the threat of aggression would make it necessary for Japan to remain in the Pacific "temporarily" after the occupation.

When he finished Acheson announced that all scheduled speeches had been concluded and the conference had to decide what next to do.

Gromyko wanted to know what had happened to Russia's amendments which he had circulated Wednesday. Among other changes they would have prohibited American troops in Japan after the occupation and would have drastically limited Japanese forces.

Acheson said that when Gromyko spoke Wednesday he had not introduced the amendments but merely made a statement of them. The Russian said the amendments were before the conference.

Acheson ruled Gromyko out of order and then called for a vote on whether he was right. The conference sustained Acheson 46 to 3. In a few minutes Gromyko was back at the speaker's stand.

He began with the accusation of American "pressure," then launched into his familiar recital: Red China had had no voice in the treaty; the United States wishes to create a war bloc based on Japan; Russia's treaty proposals, though ruled "illegal," will find an "echo among the nations particularly interested in the defence of peace in the Far East."

American delegate John Foster Dulles, winding up the debate, declared the United States had made "earnest efforts" to come to agreement with the Soviet Union but had found it impossible to do so.

Excitement over Gromyko's walkout was little lessened in conference corridors because it proved to be a dud. Dulles had predicted the previous night that Gromyko would take a walk at some point.

People all over the auditorium were keyed up for just such a move. Gromyko unquestionably was aware of this.

Miss America Will Be Chosen This Evening

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 8.—(P)—The spotlight in this thronged seaside resort swings to beauty and glamor tonight for the crowning of the new Miss America.

It is the final curtain in the pageant which started with 51 aspiring pretties. By nightfall only 10 will have a chance at the title with its prized scholarship and money-making possibilities.

The big moment is scheduled for 12:30 a.m. when the judges are expected to announce the 1952 Miss America.

By noon 15 contestants will have been selected as scholarship winners. The 10 receiving the highest number of votes will appear in the finals tonight. The other five automatically will receive $1,000 scholarships. Names of the 15 will not be announced, however, until tomorrow's performance begins.

There are three divisions in the contest. Each girl must take part in a talent contest and must appear once in an evening gown and once in a bathing suit. Evening gown winners are not announced.

The only double winner in the announced divisions is Lu Long Ogburn of Smithfield, N.C. The 19-year-old brown-haired Miss North Carolina won the first bathing-suit competition Wednesday night and last night got the vote in the talent section with a piano rendition of "Malaguena."

Miss Arkansas was last night's other preliminary winner, taking first in the bathing suit section. She is 18-year-old brown-haired Charlotte Rosalie Simmen of Little Rock.

The girls in the contest come from 44 states, Puerto Rico,

Car Price Increases Approved

Detroit, Sept. 8.—(P)—Higher price tags for most lines of new passenger cars in the United States were being figured out today.

Some boosts, expected to run from about $65 on the lowest-priced cars to as much as $250 on higher-priced models, probably will be effective by the end of next week.

Authorization to make an increase under a complicated formula that would raise prices an estimated five to six per cent was given the industry yesterday by the Office of Price Stabilization.

By the time retail dealers are allowed to apply their profit margins, ranging from 15 to 30 per cent, it is estimated that the total boost might go as high as eight per cent over current list prices.

Further price increases also are possible, the O.P.S. order indicated.

The announcement brought immediate indication that the "big three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler would make the increases effective as quickly as possible.

President C. E. Wilson of General Motors said the full amount of the increase would be passed on to retail buyers. Chrysler said the order "does not give the relief that is needed." Ford withheld immediate comment.

In an earlier statement, however, Ford Vice-President Ernest R. Breech implied that a price increase would be made effective as soon as possible.

So far, only Packard has said definitely that it will not increase prices. Some others among the independents, or smaller companies, also are expected to withhold immediate increases.

Exhibition At Toronto Ends Tonight

Toronto, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Canadian National Exhibition ends tonight in a burst of oratory and fireworks after one of the best runs in its history.

Officials were hopeful that sunny weather will bring out crowds to boost the over-all attendance total close to the 3,000,000 mark.

Attendance dropped to 143,000 yesterday, down 11,500 from the corresponding day last year. However, with today's crowds still to be counted, the over-all attendance to date stands at 2,435,500.

Scheduled for the final day were a speech by Sir Denis Lawson, Lord Mayor of London; a special match race between Jerry Kerschner of Toronto, who won the men's professional swimming championship of the world at the exhibition last week, and George Bevan of Winnipeg, Canadian men's amateur swimming champion; completion of the national horse show; and the deciding game of the Canadian women's softball championship finals.

A visit by Hollywood producer Walter Wanger to Elwood Hughes, C.N.E. general manager, raised the possibility that next year's edition of the world's biggest annual fair might be used as the background for a motion picture. Wanger thought a story could easily be set against the exhibition crowds and color, its grandstand

U.N. Treaty On Information Blocked By Divergent Views

By NORMAN ALSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
United Nations, N.Y., Sept. 8.—(P)—United Nations efforts to work out an international treaty on freedom of information have reached an impasse.

A new move to set up rules on international transmission of news and freedom for correspondents may come at the U.N. assembly opening in Paris Nov. 6.

But the conflict between those U.N. members who want press restrictions and others who call for enlargement of press freedoms appears to have deadlocked U.N. work on the problem after almost four years of debates and drafting of proposed treaties.

The latest evidence of an impasse came last week at Geneva when the U.N. economic and social council confirmed a committee decision not to call a conference to redraft a convention on freedom of information.

A conference of 57 governments drafted a treaty on freedom of information at Geneva in 1948. Ever since it has been debated and revised in U.N. meetings but with no final decision.

Two years ago the U.N. assembly in New York—with Canada's backing—approved a convention on international transmission of news and right of correction—originally drafted by the 1948 Geneva conference. But when the Assembly passed the news transmission treaty it deferred its coming into effect until the U.N. approves a treaty setting out of the principles of freedom of information.

It is possible that the whole program may be dropped until international views on the question are more compatible.

But when the report of the economic and social council comes

Financial Talks Open Next Week

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—(P)—The jigsaw puzzle of world money troubles falls into the hands of Finance Minister Abbott next week.

For a few days at least, he will be at the helm as world financial wizards grapple with the involved problems of trade restrictions and exchange rates and loans to get countries back on their feet.

Gravest issue and one likely to be discussed in hush-hush tones is the world price and movement of gold as the representatives of 49 countries meet at Washington at the annual session of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund.

The chairmanship of the meetings falls for the first time to Canada and to Mr. Abbott as chief delegate. His advisers include Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada and Louis Rasminsky, the bank's specialist on exchange rates and gold.

Uppermost in their minds is the question of gold.

For months the Canadian gold-mining industry has besieged the government to seek a higher price for the metal or at least to have the fund allow Canada to sell a portion of its production on the so-called "free" market.

The free-market price usually ranges slightly higher than the $35 (U.S.) per ounce fixed by the fund. South Africa, a fund member and the world's largest gold producer, sells about 40 per cent of her production on the free market.

Canadian officials have long contended that Canada should have the same right as South Africa. They brought the question before the fund last year but the question was left in abeyance pending study.

Yesterday, John Snyder, U.S. treasury secretary, hinted broadly to a Washington press conference that the U.S. will take a firm stand on gold.

The U.S., he said, sees no reason why the price should be raised. He observed that the fund's staff has not yet completed its study of the free-market question. Its report won't be ready until the end of the year.

That may lead to a shelving of Canada's hopes, but a lot may depend on manoeuvring at the conference table.

On other questions, Canada may: 1. Suggest, along with the United States, that the time has come for Britain to reduce her restrictions against dollar-area trade. Britain has already indicated she will counter by declaring that new financial difficulties may lead her to increase them.

2. Decline, at this time, to return to a fixed exchange rate for her dollar, cast free from government control a year ago.

Quebec, Sept. 8.—(P)—Construction of a $750,000 school at St. Hyacinthe to train veterinarians will begin soon, Premier Duplessis announced yesterday.

The Quebec government school for veterinarians now is housed temporarily at St. Hyacinthe.

Reds' Passports Should Be Refused, Duplessis Says

Quebec, Sept. 8.—(P)—Premier Duplessis suggested yesterday that the federal government refuse passports to communists wishing to attend a convention in Moscow Dec. 5.

"This would prevent them from bringing back to Quebec the communist poison they picked up in Moscow," the Premier said.

He made the statement after he revealed seizure by Quebec provincial police of communist literature at Camp Laford near L'Annonciation, Que., in the Laurentian mountains north of Montreal.

The documents, published in Russia and Czechoslovakia, were seized in a raid last month.

They were designed to spread communism and to assist in the establishment of a communist school, the Premier told his weekly press conference.

Among the documents was a letter from Pierre Gelinas, editor of the weekly newspaper, Combat, banned in Quebec. Premier Duplessis said the letter invited the camp's guests to attend a convention Dec. 5 in Moscow.

Last June, Russian-language communist school books were seized by provincial police at Rouyn, Noranda, Val d'Or and Malartic in northwestern Quebec.

The Premier announced: 1. The official itinerary of Prince Elizabeth and Prince Philip Oct. 2 when they arrive to start their tour of Canada.

2. A decision by the Algoma

MERLE OBERON 'RETIREMENT' STUMPS STUDIO

Hollywood—Behind the Screen: Merle Oberon's retirement announcement, first announced by this column, has RKO's lawyers stumped. They insist that the studio still has Merle under contract for many pictures, but refuse to say how many. Merle was paid full salary when she reported to RKO for the lead in "The Korean Story" last year and production was postponed.

Dick Powell and Peggy Dow are shrugging their shoulders about it, but Joyce Holden, playing a thoroughbred horse who assumes human form, steals first honors from under their noses in UI's "You Never Can Tell." She'll be groomed as the studio's No. 1 comedy star.

TV Nixes Movies

You'd be surprised at the number of movie dolls who are being offered exclusive seven-year contracts at figures from $750 to $1000 per week by the big TV networks. Contracts permit Broadway plays but FORBID motion picture work in Hollywood.

Humphrey Bogart's fuming over reports that he dissolved his Santana Productions because of the red ink on the bookkeeping pages. The independent company, he insists, has merely closed down temporarily to save overhead costs.

Carmen Miranda is nixing around-the-calendar night club dates. She'll work only six months a year in the future. . . . Producer Alex Gottlieb has Broadway hopes for his local stage hit, "Susan." It kids Hollywood—but in a nice way.

Reports that Katharine Cornell has developed a case of cold feet about her film biography of Florence Nightingale aren't true. The stage star has secret plans to film the picture in 1953 after she appears in a stage version of the Cecil Woodham-Smith biography.

The answer to all the guessing about Anne Jeffreys and Robert Sterling. They will wed. Sterling's one word comment on wedding bells: "Eventually."

Inevitable double bill spotted by Harry Cimring: "The Guy Who Came Back"—"He Ran All the Way."

Irene Ryan to Macdonald Carey: "Texas better start building some more cities. Warner Bros. are running out of movie titles."

The stars of the Kefauver committee quiz, as Hollywood sees them, will parade across the screen in Republic's "Hoodlum Empire." George Raft will play a Costello type, Vera Ralston a Virginia Hill variation.

Hunt Stromberg is the latest film producer ready to dump his film library into TV. Included in the films are "Bridge of San Luis Rey," "Lady of Burlesque" and Hedy Lamarr's "Strange Women."

Duncan Renaldo and Leo Carillo, teamed on TV, are climbing into the saddle for a series of coast-to-coast rodeo appearances. Mario Lanza's last look at the scale in his bathroom opened his eyes to a tremendous 233.

Type casting: Danny Thomas' 13-year-old daughter, Margaret.

Prying vitally needed information from a Japanese captive is marine lieutenant Rick Widmark. Scoring a combat officer in the last war, Widmark leads his platoon to victory in the Technicolor production, "Halls of Montezuma," which opens tomorrow at the Granada Theatre.

DRUMMONDVILLE

A well known Drummondville contractor, Mr. Leon Lavoie, was the victim of a fatal road mishap which occurred at Marcotte Village. Driving back from Windsor Mills, Mr. Lavoie failed to make the curve of the new L'Avener-Drummondville highway, with the result his automobile overturned, throwing the victim about twenty feet; he suffered a possible fractured skull besides serious internal injuries, rushed immediately to the St. Croix Hospital, he died the same evening around 11 p. m.

Mr. Lavoie is survived by his widow, nee Cecile St. Louis besides his seven children, Hervé, Jean-Claude, Jacques, Lise, Denise, Andrée and Lucie; he also leaves to mourn him his brothers, Emile Arthur and Adelard, of Windsor Mills, Leopold and Euclide, of Drummondville, his sisters, Mrs. Albert Godbout and Mrs. Napoleon Bideau of East Angus, Mrs. Georges Lagace and Georges Caron of Drummondville, and Blandine, Jeannette and Helen Lavoie, of St. Joseph.

Mr. Henri Groulx, a well known and highly respected citizen of Drummondville died suddenly following a heart attack. Mr. Groulx, who was in his 59th year had been in failing health for some time, but the end came unexpectedly. Of a quiet unassuming nature the deceased was employed for a number of years as City foreman and in charge of the many and vast improvements here in public works and services. A widower, Mr. Groulx was survived by his sons, Robert, Jean-Paul, Georges-Henri, Roland, Andre and Jacques; his daughters, Roland and Jeannette; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Henri Groulx, of Wexham, besides several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at St. Frederick's Church, Brook Street, with a large turn out of relatives, city officials and friends. Our deepest sympathy is expressed to his sorrowing family in their bereavement.

The Drummondville City Council adopted at the regular meeting of the City Council, a by-law, authorizing the borrowing of $100,000 for various public works.

His Worship Mayor Biron, K.C. pointed out during the course of his address however, that the debt of the municipality will not increase by that amount this year, as around $10,000 will be paid on old debts. However Taxpayers will be asked to vote on this borrowing in a referendum to be held on September 14th and 15th inclusive. The $100,000 will be divided as follows: Essential improvements at the filtration water works $11,494; purchase of Real Estate to open St. Georges Street as far as St. Joseph Blvd., $3,235.84; waterworks and sewers $45,553.95; paving and graveling $36,609.52; sidewalks $27,551.99; deficit on paving works authorized by-law No. 347, $12,015.00; addition to the Baseball Stadium and improvement of Ball Park $22,489.95; sealing and printing of bonds balloting, $1,048.86. Total $160,000.00.

Housewives at St. Isidore d'Auckland had particular reason to rejoice when the new aqueduct promising a steady comfortable supply of running water was officially inaugurated.

Barely forty years old and numbering some 170 families, this parish has not hesitated to make the necessary sacrifices to ensure to its householders the comforts and safety of modern technical progress in the fields of drinking water distribution, sewage and adequate fire protection systems.

Several hundred people were on hand at the benediction of the works by the Reverend Leonidas Adam, Cure of Christ Roi parish who also delivered a special sermon to mark the occasion.

Mines Minister for Quebec, the Hon. C. D. French, then officially opened the water distribution system. Visits to the various installations, pumping station, a luncheon will play the comedian's daughter in "I'll See You in My Dreams." Bob Hope's doctors just gave him a rough going-over. The verdict: Terrific health.

Citizens of Greater Drummondville, are again being reminded, that a Boy Scout Paper Drive, will be conducted shortly, the date of which has not as yet been officially set, however, in all probability will be before the month is out. The Scout Executive again wishes to thank all those who have given their co-operation in the past and their continuation in the future in order that this noble work may be carried on. The exact date will be announced through the medium of your newspapers, shortly.

DUNHAM

Mrs. Mollie Smith, of Hartford, Conn. has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Doherty and family. While she was here, she and Mrs. Doherty and Mrs. C. O. Martin motored to Richmond, to visit relatives and on their return, called on Mrs. Robert Doherty, at Warden, who has been ill for several weeks.

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Riordan are patients in the B.M.P. Hospital, at Sweetsburg, suffering with virus pneumonia.

In the report of the ladies taking a trip by motor across Canada and to California, the name of Miss Christine Robinson, of Farnham's Corner, was omitted.

On the average, February is the least rainy month of the year in London.

hath an ending. Can't you hear them bid you: "Be strong and very courageous! Never despair! Carry on! God is! All is well! We are waiting, watching, expecting you. You know that Christ's "own most gracious smile shall welcome you" to your awaiting, prepared heavenly home. (John 14:1-2).

BREAD TO THE FULL

A wise person will begin forthwith preparing for that life beyond the veil. Here and now you can be happy if and when you adopt Christ's code. Spiritual health also can be yours here and now by eating the food prescribed for the strengthening and refreshing of your souls—the Bread of Life for whosoever eateth that bread hath everlasting life. Think of it! He who feeds by faith with thanks-giving on that heavenly Food shall never die! And, in this life, in the strength which God supplies, walks down the years, a victor, able to do all things!

Now talking about this is not enough. The food on the dinner table is worthless unless it is wrought into life. So with this Bread of Life. (John 6:35). I must take Him, live with Him, obey Him. I must incorporate Him into my spiritual being. Then shall I receive bread to the full.

Won't you, in the food which Mother Earth produces, as well as the Heavenly manna that Christ through His Church provides, endeavor to behold God as the Source, the Giver, the Provider, the Father Who feeds? And pray "Bread of Heaven. Feed me till I want no more!"

As I take a long last glimpse of that sheaf of corn, I ask the Lord of Harvest to grant that we—you and I—"wholesome grain and pure may be."

Mrs. Dean Bishop, Prominent Local Resident, Dies In Montreal At 42

Mrs. Dean Bishop, who had taken a prominent part in many women's activities in this city, passed away yesterday at the Montreal Neurological Institute, after an illness of three weeks.

Mrs. Bishop was 42 years of age.

A valued member of the congregation of St. Peter's Church where she was a member of the choir and formerly directress of the Altar Guild, Mrs. Bishop was a life member of the Municipal Chapter of the I.O.D.E., treasurer of the Duke of Wellington chapter, I.O.D.E., vice-president of the Ladies' Curling Club and Ladies' Captain at the Sherbrooke Country Club.

Born Dorothy Winifred Welsh, at Milwaukee, Wis., she was a daughter of Mrs. Edith Welsh and the late Henry W. Welsh, and came to Sherbrooke with her parents while still in her infancy.

She was educated at the local public schools and Sherbrooke High School.

Her mother, Mrs. Edith Welsh, her husband, Dean Bishop, two young sons, Dean Curtis and Ronald Bruce, both at home, a brother, Norman Welsh, and a sister, Miss Elsie Welsh, all of Sherbrooke, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Norman Welsh, and two brothers-in-law, Bruce Bishop, of Sherbrooke, and Craig Bishop, of Windsor, Ont.

On arrival from Montreal, she will be resting at the J. W. Blake Funeral Home, 86 Queen street North. Funeral service will likely be held on Monday.

Community Chest Requires $25,000 To Meet Deficits

Employing the tentative slogan "wear a red feather with pride," the Community Chest of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville today announced the local campaign would be held the week of October first to sixth, inclusive.

The objective this year is $25,000.

"This sum," states campaign general chairman Walter S. Sutherland, "is only the minimum amount required to balance the deficits incurred by the participating organizations during 1951."

The organizations to be assisted by the Red Feather Drive are the same community services which participated last year, organizations which have proved themselves essential to the well-being of Sherbrooke as they have in all other communities.

"Your donation, whether large or small," Mr. Sutherland adds, "goes directly to help the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., the Salvation Army, St. John Ambulance Association, Boy Scouts Association, Lennoxville Public Library and the Sherbrooke Public Library."

Headquarters have already been set up at the Bank of Commerce, Dufferin avenue, and anyone wishing to help may do so by phoning 2-7524.

The sum of $25,000 is only the minimum required to meet already existing deficits and in order for the participating organizations to expand in fields they now deem necessary the campaign will have to go over the top.

Damage to the Holden car, a 1950-Ford sedan, is estimated at $450.

The Holdens were proceeding to Sherbrooke when the mishap occurred.

Provincial Police Traffic Officer Yvan Roberge investigated.

Duplessis Bridge Probe Is Adjourned

Three Rivers, Que., Sept. 8.—Judge Rene Lippe yesterday adjourned to Sept. 13 the hearing into the collapse of the Duplessis bridge here Jan. 31 with the loss of four lives.

The adjournment, second since the hearing began late last month, followed testimony Thursday by Robert Eadie, chief engineer of the Dominion Bridge Company, builders of the bridge. He said an explosive charge could have caused the collapse of "heating" on one of the failures.

When the hearing re-opens next Thursday the two-man commission will view the broken pieces of the bridge, still in place across the St. Maurice river between here and Cap de la Madeleine. They also will view that part of the structure on which two strands of electric wire were found.

Karl Kaiser, construction engineer of Dominion Bridge, supported Eadie's testimony regarding discovery of the pieces of wire around a section of the steel of pillar No. 2.

He said some external factor was responsible for the crack in the girder and the subsequent collapse of the bridge. He said that in this "external influence" the possible reason for the collapse will be found.

Kaiser showed the commission a detailed photograph of the "peculiar break" which was noted by himself and other engineers in the salvage debris.

A Nice Trick If You Can Do It!

Above is a photo of the handiwork of the late Bill McCallum, of Sawyerville, that of putting nails through glass without breaking the glass into pieces. The above was brought in to the Record office by Harold Knapp, a resident of Sulphide, Ont., and nephew by marriage of Mr. McCallum. It shows a bottle which used to contain a cleansing fluid speared to a piece of wood by several five-inch nails and also several pieces of window glass, similarly tacked.

Mr. McCallum couldn't have had too many predecessors or emulators in doing the above for the Robert Ripley "Believe It Or Not" organization was after him for a photo of his art. However, these negotiations bogged down. Mr. Knapp describes the late Mr. McCallum as a temperamental sort of person who wouldn't perform his specialty unless he was in the mood. He had many requests during his lifetime from Americans who had heard of his trick to give them a sample of it but, as far as Mr. Knapp knows, he turned them down.

Even an offer of money for a sample of this work would be turned on deaf ears.

Nor would he impart to anybody the secret of this trick, another favorite specialty of which was putting long trails through light bulbs without breaking the bulbs. "The secret died with him," says Mr. Knapp who adds that he doesn't know where or when his uncle-in-law acquired his extraordinary power. "Rumour has it," Mr. Knapp informs, "that he started it when he was working at a northern lumber camp and nailed all the dishes to the dining hall tables."

Mr. McCallum's brother, Charles, lives in Randboro.

School Enrolment Hits All-Time High As Lennoxville Group Seeks $100,000

A campaign objective of $100,000 has been set by the Building Fund Committee of the Lennoxville High School, the campaign to commence the week beginning September 24th.

The campaign is the initial plan of the Committee to raise money to complete the approximately $500,000 extension to the Lennoxville High School.

The hope is to get citizens of Lennoxville and district to pledge this amount of money, in donations payable between now and five years from now. The School Board expects the new extension will be ready for the Autumn term of 1952.

Co-chairmen of the Building Fund Committee are Robert Murray and D. G. H. Melton. R. M. Boright, Hon. J. S. Bourque, J. S. Hamilton, Dr. A. R. Jewett, Archdeacon Albert Jones, Rev. N. D. McLeod, Mayor Lee M. Watson, and R. A. Webster are honorary vice-chairmen.

Others of the Committee are: secretary, Howard J. Moffatt; treasurers, David Gray and R. H. Spry; chairmen for manufacturers and special names, William S. Richardson and R. A. Webster; Lennoxville canvass, J. W. Dunrobbery.

Three of the bank's employees identified Graham Madden, picked up by police, as the man who took the cash. William Engel, alias Jack Carson, who police said forced three customers and 15 employees to line up against the wall, was picked up a block away from the scene Wednesday.

The money was recovered in an east-end rooming house after Madden was questioned for over three hours. Information given by Engel led to Madden's arrest.

THE PHONE RATES

The Sherbrooke City Council, in common with many other municipal bodies in Eastern Canada, has decided to oppose the application by the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, now before the Board of Transport Commissioners, for an increase in the rates for its services. One argument in favor of these municipal protests is that they would be more listened to, because the councils represent the people, than protests from various non-elective bodies representing various interests. The Toronto Telegram has apt comment on this point at issue:

"The municipalities, it is stated, will oppose the proposed increase. For them to oppose it merely on the ground that it is irritating to have to pay more would be as futile as a resolution against inflation or the law of gravity."

In other words, the protest will have to be accurately briefed before the Transport Board of Canada, to show that the Company does not require the proposed increased revenues to maintain its expansion and afford a reasonable return to the shareholders on their investment. This sort of thing is not subject to offhand judgment but only to the searching analysis which can be given to it by a quasi-judicial board, competent to weigh all the evidence.

MORAL DECENCY AND THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

A few days ago former United States President Herbert Hoover rose to his feet in his native Iowa and delivered an eloquent appeal to his countrymen to help find the way back to moral decency in American public life. He could well have added "private life" and made his remarks apply to other countries that his own United States.

Mr. Hoover spoke of many things. But at heart his counsel was a simple one. He called upon us to restore the old virtues, to live once again by the old, tested codes of ethics like the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount.

His diagnosis of our moral ills was penetrating. His advice was thoroughly sound. If we are to find our way back to decency, what better guideposts can we have than the Commandments so many seem to have ignored in this troubled time?

We have set them down afresh, in service to the Christian ideals of honor and right living which must underlie our free way of life if it is to survive:

1. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
2. Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image, nor any likeness of anything that is in Heaven above, or that is in the Earth beneath, or in the water under the Earth.
3. Thou shalt not take the name of thy God in vain.
4. Remember the Sabbath and keep it Holy.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother.
6. Thou shalt not steal.
7. Thou shalt not kill.
8. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
9. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man-servant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

THAT APPLE A DAY

This fall, it is expected that Canadian growers will have harvested one of the largest fruit crops in the country's history. This would not be possible had not the chemist taken a hand in helping the grower to control a horde of insect pests and plant diseases which invade our fruit crops annually.

Take apples for example — the largest fruit crop we have. Entomologists claim there are more than 100 diseases and insects which can infect an apple orchard. Among these are apple scab, codling moth, apple maggot, European red mite, rosy aphid, cankerworm and many others. At one time orchardists were helpless against such destructive pests. Scabby, wormy fruit on the market was the rule rather than the exception.

Then came the chemists. Working hand in hand with entomologists and growers, they developed lethal chemical sprays and dusts. Bordeaux mixture, calcium and lead arsenate, ferbam, DDT, and parathion came from their laboratories after painstaking research. A chemical was even produced to prevent premature dropping of fruit before it was picked. In all, an apple grower has to apply about a dozen sprays to his orchard during the year to stave off the diseases and insects which would destroy it.

The results not only show in cleaner and more succulent fruit, but in greatly increased yields and higher profits to the grower.

PRESS COMMENTS

MR. ST. LAURENT'S REAL TROUBLE

Ottawa Journal

Why can't all of us admit a simple fact? The fact that Prime Minister St. Laurent's real reason for not imposing price controls is because he knows that price controls without wage controls wouldn't work, but is afraid to impose wage controls because they would be dangerous politically.

Price controls without wage controls would not work; the proposition is as simple as that two and two make four. But what equally will not work is Mr. St. Laurent's policy of practically doing nothing at all, with inaction accompanied by dubious argument for doing nothing at all.

Mr. St. Laurent tells us that the thing we must do "individually and in co-operation with others" is to "produce more and keep down production costs." What co-operation is Mr. St. Laurent's Government giving business to keep down production costs? Was such co-operation given at the special session of Parliament a year ago when the Government compelled the railways to pay wages which enormously increased their costs? Or is such co-operation given when the Government, in its non-war operations, keeps on spending more than it needs to spend, necessitating higher taxes and increasing production costs?

Basically, says Mr. St. Laurent, a reduced supply of goods and higher prices are caused by defence requirements and world prices.

There is no greatly reduced supply of goods in Canada—no shortage, certainly, of food and clothing. Our shops are bulging with them. Nonsense, therefore, to suggest that defence requirements are making goods scarce. Defence requirements may do that later on; they are not doing it now. Actually, because of lag in rearmament, defence is not taking more than six per cent of our national production.

The idea propounded by Mr. St. Laurent — or propounded by the brief with which somebody armed him — that too many Canadians with too many dollars are bidding for scarce goods and sending up their price, has no basis in fact whatever. What is happening in Canada, practically all that is happening, so far as prices are concerned — is that production costs, represented largely by wages and taxes — are driving up prices of goods whether they are scarce or not. Mr. St. Laurent says, what is quite true, that we may require a generation of defence effort on a large scale, and that any stop-gap plan which might serve for three or four or five years would be quite unsuited to conditions "which may last for a generation or more."

Well, if with relatively little expenditure on defence the prices of goods are mounting now, what is likely to happen when defence expenditures increase? Will Mr. St. Laurent, two years hence or five years hence, still refuse to try to control prices because of unwillingness to control wages? Of will he then, as now, be content to drift; to try nothing? It is Mr. St. Laurent's lack of realism, his seeming fatalism, that frightens.

REMOVE THIS MENACE

Ottawa Journal

The Fathers of Confederation thought it proper that the provinces should not have the right to prohibit interprovincial trade. If this power had been granted it is easy to imagine the border disputes that would have racked the country. One of the advantages of life in Canada is that the traveller can go from one end of the country to the other without being bothered about what he carries in his suitcase; this right has been taken so much for granted that it is hard to believe the Dominion Government has taken to itself the power to remove it.

The Canada Dairy Products Act, passed at the last session of Parliament but not yet proclaimed, gives the Cabinet the power to regulate interprovincial trade in dairy products. Quebec and Prince Edward Island have placed a ban on margarine and Ottawa people probably have friends in the neighbor province who like to buy a pound or two of margarine to take home when they visit Ontario, and who feel they are breaking no very important rule in so doing.

For some reason the Dominion Government felt it should intervene and have the power to prohibit the export of margarine to these two provinces who themselves are unable to raise barriers. There may, of course, be sympathy with the viewpoint of Quebec and Prince Edward Island who think their butter producers need protection against margarine, a product brought into extraordinary importance by the vigor of Canadian debates about it.

But concessions made to the two provinces on margarine, should they be granted by the central government, would create a precedent. If margarine is barred from Quebec and Prince Edward Island by Federal order, might there not be a howl for the barring of Manitoba fish from Ontario, New Brunswick potatoes from Nova Scotia, and Alberta beef from British Columbia? Depending on weather and economic conditions, on the movement of labor and the productivity of fields and orchards, provinces have varying requirements and anxieties. Always before them would be the temptation to offer temporary, or permanent, protection to local industry and products by invoking a law they knew to be available.

The dairy products bill was fought with vigor in the Senate, where senior members of different parties pointed to the dangers. Since then there has been time for reflection and to gather the opinion of the country. The Fall session will start in October and there will be time for tying-up and discarding unwanted pieces of legislation. Here is an opportunity for the Government to show its wisdom and remove a danger to that most treasured of Canadian possessions — national unity.

Bible Thoughts

The heaven, even the heavens, are the Lord's; but the earth hath he given to the children of men.—Psalms 115:16.

It is this earth that, like a kind mother, receives us at our birth, and sustains us when born; it is this alone, of all the elements around us, that is never found an enemy of man.

—Pliny.

"SCRAM!"

Corn

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

During these early autumn days I delight to walk in the fields. Sometimes Corn arrests my attention. There's something particularly lovely about stacks of corn; they are so green, so tall so stately. All nature appears in a joyous mood; the hills with joy rings; the valleys stand so thick with corn that even they are singing. (Ps. 65:10).

Back across the centuries I find my mind travelling to Egypt and the exciting experiences Joseph's brethren had when famine compelled them to seek corn in Egypt. There are parallels therein with our modern world. Our Canadian forebears learnt the value of the wholesome coarse bread made from corn ground by the grist mills. The first Canadians—the Indians—addressed corn as their mother, the life-giver which had power to bestow new gifts on them. The first Americans who came over on the Mayflower, knew its value when food was scarce in those 1620 days. Through their story runs the ballads of the negroes singing in the cornfields, like Ruth of old, for home sweet home.

Do you wonder then, that when the Churches are decorated at Harvest Thanksgiving with the kindly fruits of the earth and the harvest of the sea, that I reserve a special place for Corn—the Hallmark of Western civilization—the bedrock upon which man's vast productivity rests?

THE SHEAF OF CORN

Think then for a few moments of a sheaf of Corn, so beautiful in form and color, the product not merely of the man who grew it but human genius and industry over countless years. Here is a miracle! Scientists and farmers together devote much time co-operating to produce new strains of wheat, barley and oats that are richer than ever and immune to their own particular blights. Thus wheat and corn go together. And a sheaf of corn is as good a symbol as one could wish for of that industry which is the special differentia of men.

Man must work. It is a part of the Divine plan. Too many modern folk regard work as a nuisance, if not a curse. Powerful unions co-operate to reduce working hours and have perhaps created the impression that work is a necessary evil. I am aware that economic and industrial conditions account for no small part of this misunderstanding and they will have to be improved before work can become the absorbing preoccupation it ought to be to us all. Anyway there stands the sheaf of corn symbolizing hard work! There can be no road to prosperity but by hard work. God honors work. He works. And work, however arduous, can become a joy if it be approached and carried out in the right spirit. This is one of the lessons a sheaf of corn suggests.

GOD IN THE HARVEST?

Another is the everwhereness of God. For God and man are partners. Scientists tell us that God performs 95 per cent of the work; man is credited with only five per cent. Back of the soil, the farmer's work, the rain and sunshine stands, God declaring "with-out Me ye can do nothing." God in the harvest? Of course! When harvests ripen He, the Giver of all, is there. Only God, I repeat, can awaken that germ of life lying dormant within each grain. We are dependent then upon Him. I only hope the sheaf of corn can shatter the painful illusion that we are independent. We are partners, co-workers with Him, bound in the one bundle of Divine life with our roots in Him. Our duty then is not to reason why; we must work, co-operate, all the while depending upon Our Father Who will never fail nor forsake us.

"THY FINAL HARVEST-HOME"

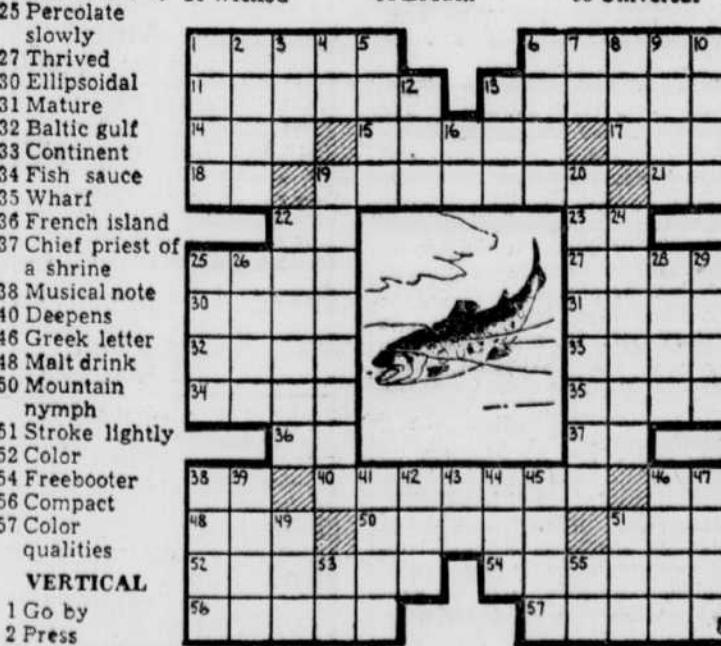

Canada's originals—the Indians—believed that the Corn could speak. Today I think it would quote that verse of Scripture—"As a man soweth so shall he reap"—to teach us that men and nature must obey known laws. Of course, among the wheat, tares will appear. They generally do. But the final day of reckoning will come and there will be a separation. According to the Word of the

BLACK COCK

From The Record Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Local police are confronted with a series of armed holdups in the outskirts of the city. Several armed robberies of farmhouses are also reported.

Prime Minister Lloyd George has urged that Sinn Fein leaders join in a new conference designed to clear up the Irish crisis.

THIS ONE CAN FOOL ONLY THE EXPERTS

You can't work a first-class swindle against a second-class player. He won't even notice what you're trying to do to him. That's why today's hand is such a gem. It took a great player to cook up the contract, but declarer had to be an expert to fall for it.

West opened the four of spades, dummy won with the queen, and East signalled loudly with the ten. South discarded a low diamond and cashed the king of spades to discard his other low diamond. West followed suit with the five of spades, since to drop the deuce would tell declarer that he had started with five cards in the suit.

Declarer now led the jack of clubs from dummy, allowing it to ride to West's king. West returned the six of spades (still concealing the deuce), and dummy won with the ace. Declarer next took the ace of clubs, ruffed a club in dummy, and led back a low trump. The jack of hearts forced out West's ace.

West could now lead the jack of spades, and South ruffed with the three of hearts. Declarer next laid down the ace of diamonds, and East chose this moment to throw a monkey wrench into the works. East happened to be Samuel M. Stayman, author of the most brilliant plays in the world. He nonchalantly dropped the king of diamonds without a second's thought or hesitation.

V has made a gift of $900,000 from his personal fortune to the British Treasury as part of the campaign to reorganize the finances of the country. A unanimous invitation has been extended to Mexico to enter the League of Nations.

TEN YEARS AGO

The German capital has suffered heavy property damage as the result of a right-long attack by Royal Air Force planes.

diamond and declarer could not shut out West's eight of hearts.

Needless to say, the average declarer would have drawn trumps without worrying about the deuce of spades or king of diamonds. And, of course, drawing the trumps would have made the contract.

Q—The bidding has been: North 1♦, East 1♥, South 2♥, West 2♦, North 3♦, East 3♥, South 4♥, West 4♥.

Q—The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-8-7-3, Hearts J-10-5. What do you do? A—Bid two no-trump. You have slightly better than average strength, so your hand is worth two responses. Your second bid must indicate the balanced distribution and over-all strength. Your club stopper is very sketchy, to be sure, but you can't always have a sure stopper in each suit. It's better to take a chance on the clubs than to make some unnatural bid at this point.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-8-7-3, Hearts J-10-5. What do you do? Answer Monday

ATTACHED STARS

The ancients thought the stars were attached permanently to the dome of the sky, so they called them fixed stars to distinguish them from the wandering planets.

In England, during 1709, coal was sold for as little as 50 cents a ton at the pithead.

Legion Log

Activities of Legion Branches in the Eastern Townships

Sherbrooke Branch No. 10 Well comrades, plans are being finalized for the visit of Bill Boss, Canadian Press correspondent in Korea, to our branch.

It was finally confirmed this week that he would be coming. This is certainly a great event for our branch and the home will probably be packed, so anyone who wants a seat should get down early. We are hoping to get going about 8 p.m., Monday, Sept. 10.

Our regular meeting will be postponed to the following Monday, September 17, so keep this in mind. Do not miss this Monday. The invitation is for your wives, too, or for the girlfriends of those few remaining happy bachelors in the Legion.

Plans are still on the fire for bringing the Legion Revue to Sherbrooke. The thought at the moment is to try and get the new gymnasium at Bishop's University. Comrades Knowler and Leger are hard at work on this project and we should be hearing something new by the time our next Log comes out.

Plans are being worked out for the Poppy campaign and Comrade Bourgeois will be my co-chairman on this campaign.

Comrades Stewart and Conley gave a report at our last executive meeting on the darts and things are really humming in this field. We are hoping to have new boards in the near future and the boys are attending a special meeting of the darts league, following which further news and information will be forthcoming. Keep your arms in good shape, because from all reports we have too many players and may be forced to have two teams.

Our Armistice dinner will be held on November 3 this year and we are still waiting for an answer from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, whom we invited to be our guest. The district council meeting date is September 15, at the Branch, and all delegates are requested to attend.

Movies will be shown this coming week, on Tuesday, September 11. I am still plowing at you fellows about bringing in a new member each. Surely you know some veteran who is entitled to membership in the Legion and who is not yet a member. Why not help some other veteran to become a member and enjoy the privileges of the home. Your executive is working hard and has asked for very little help in giving you entertainment and making the home more pleasant. Why not each of you contribute your little part towards the building up of the branch. Each new member who is brought in makes the branch one link stronger, making it possible for us to do a better job in aiding needy veterans and getting help from the government as a whole.

It is said of any job that you get out of it just what you put into it. This is certainly not too great an effort to ask of the members. Get behind the wheel comrades and steer those new members into the branch. Remember: this Monday Bill Boss will be down, so let's pack the home to the rafters. And this Saturday our Ladies' Auxiliary is putting on a "do" for all members. Let's all join in the fun. President Syd Hart.

Ladies' Auxiliary, Branch No. 10 Don't forget your date for the party tonight at the Legion Home. There will be lunch for those who wish it and prizes. Come along. I am sure you will all have a good time.

The reports on the sale of tickets for the draw are good so far. I trust you will keep up the good work. Our monthly meeting is next Wednesday, September 12. By reports, we should have a few new members coming in. We hope so. Any member who has not yet paid her dues should bring them on Wednesday and give them to our treasurer.

We have important business to discuss at the meeting so try and attend. Gladys Knapp Richmond Branch Plans are well advanced for the annual street fair to be staged by the Richmond Branch of the Canadian Legion on Saturday, September 15.

The year's fair promises to be the biggest and best ever staged by the Legion. There will be 15 booths, valuable door prizes and a drawing for "Mary's Lamb."

The Canadian Legion Pipe Band from Sherbrooke will be on hand. Don't fail to be on hand for the street fair, one of the highlights of the year as far as Richmond is concerned.

show and its many buildings scattered over 350 acres on the Lake Ontario shore.

Officials announced that next year increased space will be given to small lot agricultural exhibitors, that dairy and beef cattle will be shown at the same time in the same buildings and that extra signs will be put up in the livestock sections to educate city-dwellers in the names and features of the showing stock.

ble for the alleged violations. They believe the enemy is using this peg on which to hang their somewhat tardy accusations. But there is also the possibility that the communists intended to use their latest "findings" to clear U.N. commanders of direct responsibility for the alleged incidents.

The communists might then agree to resume negotiations without waiting for the apology they demanded. Peiping radio also today made its first comment on Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway's proposal that the conference site be moved from Kaesong.

It quoted a communist correspondent at Kaesong as saying the suggestion was "nothing but a plot to transfer the responsibility for violations of the neutral zone to communist shoulders."

But there was still no official communist comment on Ridgeway's proposal. E. T. SOLDIER THIRD With The Canadians In Korea, Sept. 8.—An Irishman from Montreal, L. Cpl. Urian Kelley, 29, of the Royal Canadian Regiment, gained top marks among the more than 60 men graduating from the 25th brigade's second non-commissioned officers' course. The course was given near the front lines. Placing third was Pte. Paul Vincent, 25, of Ashbestos, Que., Royal 22nd regiment.

New Delhi, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—Indian police have smashed two kidnapping gangs which have been snatching young women and children and selling them in Delhi for prices ranging from $45 to $450, police officials said today.

Thirty-eight women and children have so far been recovered. Ten persons have been arrested.

Miss E. Nilsson Entertained The Waterville W. M. S.

Waterville, Sept. 8.—The July-August meeting of the Waterville W.M.S. was entertained by Miss E. Nilsson, at her home, with a banner attendance of twenty-one women and girls.

Mrs. Beckett presided and conducted the worship service. The theme was "Working Together," with Miss Swanson at the piano. Romans XII: 4-10, was read and selected verses from a hymn were sung and silent prayer was offered.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were satisfactory. Mrs. Beckett informed the ladies that Mrs. Burnell was packing a box for Overseas Relief, to be sent next week.

A message of thanks from a sick member was delivered. The secretary was asked to write a note of sympathy to a former member, who has been bereaved. A prayer for wisdom and guidance in work was offered.

A duet, "O Lamb of God Still Keep Me," was sung by Mrs. C. Smith and Miss Nilsson; and the solo, "Just For Today," was sung by Miss Swanson, accompanied by Mrs. Beckett.

The benediction was pronounced by the president. In the pleasant social hour that followed, Miss Nilsson served refreshments, being assisted in serving by the Misses Elaine Smith, Sheila Robinson and June Douglas.

The Doctor Says

CHRONIC DIARRHEA SHOULD BE TREATED BY A DOCTOR
By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

A reader asks what is a good remedy for diarrhea. This question unfortunately cannot be answered, because a short bout of diarrhea does not need any treatment at all, and long-continued diarrhea, or frequently-recurring diarrhea, presents a problem in diagnosis. Treatment of such cases is not all alike.

The only way to approach this subject is to name a few of the conditions which can cause acute or chronic diarrhea. The acute cases are most commonly due to some kind of food poisoning.

Germs, or their toxins, are commonly taken into the body with contaminated food and may act on it by upsetting the intestinal tract.

The majority of them clear up rapidly, but in acute cases, medicines, particularly those of the penicillin or streptomycin group, are often necessary.

Chronic diarrhea is really more of a problem. The most common kind of chronic diarrhea is recurring in nature, will come for a few days and then disappear.

This is particularly true of the condition known as spastic colon. Here dietary indiscretions, the too frequent use of laxatives, are often responsible.

However, nearly everyone with spastic colon notices that the condition gets worse whenever they become nervous or emotionally upset. Germs are not considered to be at fault!

There are other forms of chronic diarrhea of which one of the most important is that caused by amebias. The ameba is a small animal parasite which invades and irritates the tender lining of the intestines. Often amebic dysentery is associated with passage of blood.

This disorder is believed to be rather common and it can only be diagnosed by examination of the intestinal waste for these microscopic enemies. When the dangerous form of ameba is found, treatment should be undertaken at once since complications can be serious.

Dangerous to Neglect
The conditions mentioned are probably the most common causes for chronic diarrhea. But, diarrhea may also follow operations on the stomach, it can be present in cancer of the bowel, and certain diseases of the body as a whole such as a toxic goiter or diabetes may lead to diarrhea.

For all these reasons it is dangerous to neglect such a symptom, since the longer it remains untreated due to a serious cause, the more difficult it will be to cure.

Self-treatment as well as neglect can do a lot of harm. If the self-treatment merely involves taking some drug or medicine while concealing the cause, it is just as bad as neglect. No one who has a long lasting chronic diarrhea or a diarrhea which recurs at frequent intervals should fall into either of these traps.

MARRIAGES

GRENIER-FORTIN

Sutton, Que., Sept. 8.—St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Sutton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding which took place on Saturday, August 4, at half-past nine o'clock when Laurie Elizabeth, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Grenier, became the bride of Paul Emile Fortin, of Waterloo, Que. Rev. Father Dandenault officiated, assisted by Rev. Lucien Le Francois. The church was decorated with baskets of variegated pom dahlias, white hydrangea and gladioli and pale blue and white lighted candles in low holders. The organist played the wedding music and softly rendered appropriate selections during the ceremony and signing of the register.

The bride wore a ballerina-length nylon frock over taffeta, the skirt being fashioned on bouffant lines with bands of nylon inserted in the tulle, with a short bolero, and she wore long lace mitts and carried a nosegay bouquet of coral and white carnations with baby's breath tied with white ribbon streamers. Her close-fitting hat designed in coronet style was made of braided nylon net.

The bride's mother was gowning in a pale blue tricot summer suit, with which she wore a navy hat, white accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The groom's mother was in a two-piece dress of navy sheer with a white hat and accessories and a red carnation corsage. The bride and groom were attended by their respective fathers.

Following the ceremony a buffet wedding breakfast was served to approximately ninety guests at the Mountain View Hotel. Mr. Stanley Rough, of Arvida, proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. Mr. and Mrs. Grenier left later for a motor trip to New York, Atlantic City, Washington, Niagara Falls and Ottawa. The bride travelled in a white sharkskin suit, wearing a green straw hat and accessories.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Fortin will resume their respective positions with the Waterloo Plywood, where Mr. Fortin has been a stenographer for the past year, and Mr. Fortin has for several years been employed as mechanical draftsman. They will make their home in Waterloo.

Guests at the wedding were from Waterloo, Sutton, Cowansville, Adamsville, North Troy, Vt., Montreal, Knowlton, Arvida and Shawinigan.

DOROTHY DIX

Insecure Husband

Lack Of Self-Confidence Prompts
His Questioning Wife's Trust

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is the summation of all my girlhood dreams. He is intelligent, kind, a wonderful father and very dear person. Our life is very harmonious. I am most positive he has never been unfaithful to me, but frequently he asks that I do not leave him if he should stray from the straight and narrow, for, he says, man is weak and someday he may slip. I trust him implicitly, so this situation is very embarrassing to me. I don't think I could retain the same feeling of love and respect for my husband should such an incident arise. He gives me a feeling of waiting for the inevitable situation to develop.

DOROTHY DIX

Answer: Your husband is beset by a sense of insecurity that makes him constantly seek reassurance. Since you've only been married three years, he hasn't acquired the feeling of permanence that will eventually make your trust a foregone conclusion for him.

DEMONSTRATE YOUR FAITH
Until that point is reached, you can continue to show by action and word that you do trust him completely. The contingency of his infidelity is very remote and you had best proceed on the assumption that it is not going to happen. You must have enough faith for both, and build up your husband's confidence both in himself and in you.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I are having a terrible struggle trying to make ends meet. Several years ago my husband worked for his father, to whom he returned all the money he earned. My husband also worked his way through college while the younger children were sent to college and didn't have to lift a finger to help themselves. Now, I would like to get back the money my husband gave his father. My father-in-law pays no attention to my request, and my husband is angry with me for asking for the money. We need it so badly that I am resorting to every means to get it.

Answer: It's difficult to judge from the meager facts just who is right in your case. If your father-in-law is well off, it seems only just for him to help you out if your need is so great. If he, too, is struggling to make ends meet, and regards the money in question not as a loan but as assistance rendered by the oldest son, it is probably unlikely that you will ever receive it. Trying to make an adjustment of a matter that goes back several years usually presents difficulties. If your in-laws are adamant about their inability or unwillingness to give you this money, you had best let the matter rest before you stir up hard feelings among everyone.

DEAR MISS DIX: Some time ago I met a man who was very nice in every way. We went steady for two years, then he told me he didn't want the responsibilities of married life, and we broke off. Now after six months of not seeing each other, he wants me to go out with him again. I feel I am in love with him, but do you think I'd be foolish to go with him again? When we broke up I dated a number of other men and right now have another chance to marry. I'm 28.

Answer: If your friend still has the same feeling about matrimony you would be very foolish to go with him again. Unless you just want pleasant company, you're wasting your time. A man who is not willing to marry is not in love. Don't get too involved, and run the risk of heartbreak that you can now avoid. As for the matrimonial opportunity—just be sure you are really in love with any man you decide to marry. Don't grab second-best just for the sake of a wedding band. It's too tenuous a tie to hold a reluctant husband.

"NO KITCHEN SHOULD

An Electric Kettle — The fastest way of boiling water! Just plug it in — enough boiling water for four cups of tea or coffee in 2½ minutes... It's fast because the element is right in the water — all the heat goes into the water — no current is wasted. Can't overheat — turns itself off automatically if it should boil dry... A "must" when there's sickness in the house... and handy any time.

An Electric Iron — Drop in and feel this electric iron. "Why," you'll say, "it's so light!" Yes, only three pounds... and, because of its big soleplate, you can cut your ironing time by as much as a third. Finger-tip Fabric Dial "tunes in" correct temperature for every fabric.
from $15.50

An Electric Toaster — Toast, made right on the dining table or in the kitchen, just to everybody's taste — lightly done, golden brown, crisp — and piping hot. Saves time... prevents waste for you, only make just enough. A handsome piece to grace your table, too! Toasts both sides at once.

Asbestos-Danville-Shipton School Has Been Opened

Classes Started On Tuesday In Fine Modern High School At Danville

Classes started this week in the Asbestos-Danville-Shipton High School, the fine new structure at Danville that was completed earlier in the year.

A total of 310 pupils turned up for the opening on Tuesday, compared with the 300 who were housed in two schools last year.

Principal of the school is G. L. Rothney.

Danville's first school was built more than 100 years ago, states an article on the new school which was prepared by A. Leslie Perry, the architect.

The first was a single room building with forms around the walls, ill-lit and cold; the present school is a modern one-storey building with plentiful light and air, heated with radiant heating pipes in the ceiling and containing every convenience for the education of children and for general use by the community.

The school itself contains eleven classrooms, a large gymnasium, rooms for teaching special subjects, play areas, self-contained janitor's quarters, clinic, principal's teachers' rooms and three large storage spaces. The general shape of the plan is a broad Y with the vertical leg containing the gymnasium and the two arms which spread out along the contours of the slope containing the classrooms. The gymnasium serves many functions. It can be used as a gymnasium for basketball, volleyball, badminton, physical training and other recreational activities.

An office for the instructor and storage rooms for equipment are provided. Locker rooms for boys and girls are alongside it, but are also close to the exit to the playing fields. An unusual feature consists of tables that fold into the wall making it possible to use the main hall as a lunch room as it is located to a well equipped kitchen.

The classrooms are bright and cheery, with six large windows and gay colours, skillfully designed to provide the best lighting without glare. Prismatic glass is used to cast light up to the ceiling so that the inside rows of desks will receive good illumination. Colour harmony is employed throughout to provide attractive interiors and at the same time avoid excessive differences in the reflection values of the various colours. An important factor making for good results is the use of light green chalkboards. There is generous pin-up space in all rooms. The science room, with balances, fume cabinets, and like equipment for the teaching of chemistry, physics and allied studies, also doubles as a visual education room. There is a large preparation room where chemicals will be stored separately so as not to damage the physics equipment which will be stored in the main room. The Home Economics room is laid out with units resembling a modern kitchen and other parts of the rooms have facilities for sewing and laundry work.

A manual training room is equipped to give courses in wood-working and metal work. The home-making and manual training rooms are located in the wing with the gym so that they can be used for community purposes. The construction of the building, costing $8.90 a square foot, is simple and economical. It is a single storey, with a concrete slab floor resting on concrete foundations. Two basements are provided for storage, one under the south wing for field games equipment and one under the stage for chairs and scenery. The walls are of concrete block with brick facing and stone trim.

Bearing partitions are also of concrete block, while those between classrooms which carry no loads are of 2"x4" studs insulated with rockwool to prevent sound travel. The interior finish is Flexboard an asbestos product from the nearby mines, which makes a sturdy finish and interesting pattern. All ceilings are smooth plaster. Radiant heating has been employed including the pipes in the plaster ceilings, and a combination of aluminum foil and rockwool insulation ensures that the heat is directed down into the room. This heating plan, with complete thermostatic control, has proved very efficient in fuel consumption and has the advantage of keeping the walls clean. Another noteworthy feature of this school is its complete intercommunication system. Using the latest development of radio, each classroom is connected to a master station in the principal's office so that he can speak to all or any of the classes and they can answer him. However "listening in" is not possible as each room has a shut-off key. This system is equipped with horns which replace the conventional period bells.

The artificial lighting is with a new type of incandescent light that is less expensive in its initial cost than fluorescent units and while the power consumption will be greater the cheapness of the lamps and the freedom from maintenance expense will justify its use. As a non reflective chalkboard is used no chalkboard lighting has been installed. The floor covering is asphalt tile and in the gym a new type of flexible tile has been used, with inlaid playing lines. These permanent lines will mean a substantial annual saving in painting costs. In the corridors and classrooms light coloured tiles are used to maintain the even colour reflective factors carried out in the painting.

Clothes will be stored in each classroom using cloakroom alcoves as a balance to the project space. This space contains cupboards and a large work counter with a sink and drinking fountain. This arrangement is varied for the senior classes where there is no project space.

This building is an example of the benefit from Consolidation of school municipalities as facilities will now be available that could only previously be enjoyed by sending children to the large cities. The Danville-Asbestos-Shipton community therefore stands to benefit considerably by this new building which was built by George Lennon, of Inverness, Quebec, Wiggs, Walford, Frost and Lindsay carried out the radiant heating and A. Leslie Perry was the Architect.

Asbestos, Sept. 7. — Members and friends of the United Church met recently to honor Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, who will soon be leaving Asbestos.
Mr. Simpson is being pensioned off from Canadian Johns Manville Co., and has accepted a position with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, with headquarters at St. John's, Que.

welcomed the honored guests and friends then called on Rev. Foggo, pastor of the church, who gave a very fine welcome to all. Mr. C. McGraw then read a resume of the work Mr. Simpson has done for the church and community, since he and Mrs. Simpson came to Asbestos in 1922, and commented on how valuable his work had been with the company as he had been asked to remain another month for important consultations and spoke of how much Mr. and Mrs. Simpson would be missed in the church; he then wished them success in their new home and presented them with a well filled purse of money, as a slight token of the esteem in which they have always been held.
Mr. Simpson thanked the speakers for their kind words and said that he did not realize he was such a good fellow but had always been pleased to do what he could to help out with church work. He expressed his thanks to everyone who had contributed to the gift of money and said that he hoped, about five years from now, they could return and buy a home in Danville, where they have many friends as well as in Asbestos.
Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the church, from the decorated table, and after the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

A'S-CUBS PLAY-OFF SERIES OPENS HERE THIS EVENING AT 8.00

Drawing For $1,000 Will Be Held Here Tomorrow Night In Third Tilt

Sherbrooke Athletics play Drummondville Cubs this evening at the Park Avenue Stadium in the opening game of a best-of-seven semi-final series. The game starts at 8:00 p.m.

The A's finally got their wish—to open the series tonight instead of yesterday. The weatherman for once helped out the locals.

Tomorrow afternoon the two teams will battle it out in Drummondville and will return home for the third game of the series to be played under the lights tomorrow evening at 8:00 p.m.

Max Manning, who recently joined the local pitching staff, will be on the mound for the A's tonight. Jean-Pierre Roy is expected to toss for the Cubs.

DRAWING SET FOR TOMORROW NIGHT
The drawing for the $1,000 will be held tomorrow evening. The management is raffling the money in appreciation for the 100,000 attendance objective which was reached.

There will be seven prizes. The first, $500; the second, $200; the third, $100; the fourth, $50; the fifth, $25; the sixth, $25 and the seventh $25.

Knot-hole buttons and tickets from booklets of "10" will no longer be good for the play-offs.

Just who will pitch tomorrow afternoon and evening is anyone's guess. But Terry McDuffie, who won the final scheduled game of the season with some brilliant relief hurling, may get the call.

Flanagan, Brown, Shapiro, Goslin and Roche will also be on hand.

It is expected that a large number will be on hand for tonight's battle.

Ex-Griddler Misses Death By Inch

Cardena, Calif., Sept. 8. — (AP) — Old time football stars are hard to kill, or else they're just plain lucky.

John Claussen Heldt, 51, who said he was a grid performer at Iowa in 1922, missed death by a fraction of an inch today when he was trapped for two hours under a boxcar.

His head was wedged against a wheel and his body was twisted around the brake rods.

Trainmen said the train was just starting to move when they heard Heldt's cries. The car jolted to a stop.

Heldt was vague about how he happened to be under the boxcar in the first place.

Heldt suffered a head wound and a dislocated hip.

Buddy Clark Leads Lions Golf Tourney

Montreal, Sept. 8. — (CP) — Buddy Clark, Montreal Hampstead, toured a wet Lacaille course yesterday in a par 72 to lead Montreal and Ottawa professionals in the $4,000 Lions Club Golf Championship.

Clark held a one-stroke lead over Montreal Hampstead's Stan Horne in the first round of the 54-hole medal play which ends Sunday.

Two Montreals and a Quebecer were tied for third place with 74. They were Rodolphe Huot, Royal Quebec, Bill Kerr, Montreal Beausfield, and Jimmy Swarbrick, Montreal Marlborough.

The newcomers to the Saints fold are Pete Wright and Alex Sandalack. Sandalack stands six feet and weighs in at 180 pounds while Wright tops six feet by one inch and throws 205 pounds at opposing forwards. He is 24 years old, Sandalack, 29.

The newcomers were recommended to the local management by Ray Bary, former Saint centre player, who played out west last year.

Sandalack played for Regina last year and formerly played for St. Paul in the United States Hockey League. His record shows that he is rarely punished for a defence player as he spent only 22 minutes in the "sin bin" the year he played for St. Paul. Wright, on the other hand, is reported to throw his weight around quite a bit. He formerly played with the Earl's Court Rangers of the British Hockey League and made a tour of Europe with the Edmonton Mercurys who represented Canada in the World's Hockey series.

Wright made his senior hockey debut with the St. John Beavers of the Maritime League in 1947-48 and also played with the Saskatchewan Quakers.

Coach Dugre also announced that Tom McDougall, still under contract with Sherbrooke, will train with the Hershey Bears of the American League, while Rene Pepin will practice with the Providence Reds of the same league, at Grand Mere.

Others whom the Saints have on contract now are: Gerald McCabe, defence; Bob Pepin and Nil Tremblay.

Season tickets are now on sale at the Arena and last year's ticket holders have until Tuesday to reserve their old seats. On Wednesday, the seats go on sale to the general public.

Season ticket holders may obtain the same seats for the exhibition games here with the Montreal Canadiens, Sept. 23, the Springfield Indians, Sept. 27, and the Providence Reds, October 10.

The locals begin training at the Arena on September 16 but at the beginning of October they will go on a series of exhibition games in the Lake St. John area as the Sherbrooke Horse show will then be at the Arena.

Turpin Boxes, Robinson Rests

Pompton Lakes, N. J., Sept. 8. — (AP) — While middleweight champion Randy Turpin boxed 15 rounds at his upstate New York camp, challenger Sugar Ray Robinson just lolled around his training quarters yesterday.

The Harlem Dandy did some road work yesterday morning. From then on he rested, listening to the radio, playing table tennis and fishing.

He has boxed 52 rounds to date in 13 sparring sessions. He will box four rounds today and the same Sunday. He expects to weigh 158 for his Wednesday title fight with Turpin in the Polo Grounds.

fight had said he was in good condition.

Eddie Egan, chairman of the commission, adjourned the hearing until district attorney Frank Hogan concludes his investigation.

The district attorney's office said earlier in the day that it would present all facts uncovered in its inquiry to the grand jury.

Saints Sign Two New Defencemen, Normie McAtee Is Given Release To Coach Hockey Team In States

Coach Ivan Dugre today announced the Sherbrooke Saints had signed two defencemen, who last year played in the Western Senior Hockey League.

At the same time, Dugre said, that Norm McAtee, veteran centre with the Saints had been given his release so he could pilot a team at Troy, Ohio. Paul Duchesne, sub goalie for the Saints has also given his release and will play for McAtee at Troy.

The newcomers to the Saints fold are Pete Wright and Alex Sandalack. Sandalack stands six feet and weighs in at 180 pounds while Wright tops six feet by one inch and throws 205 pounds at opposing forwards. He is 24 years old, Sandalack, 29.

HERE and YONDER
By GORDON HARMER

Sherbrooke Athletics — provincial league pennant winners — won the title the hard way.

After spotting the St. Johns Braves four runs the locals staged one of their familiar comebacks and won the thriller 7-4. The locals staged several comebacks during the season but last Wednesday's was the most sensational.

The A's, who only a month ago were battling it out for third position, suddenly caught fire and chalked up an impressive string of victories.

Playing-manager Roland Gladu deserves a round of applause for the way he has handled the team this year. He had plenty of headaches. Players left him without notice and others failed to live up to expectations but he found the placements and gave Sherbrooke their first pennant in organized baseball.

Attention — dart players! The Eastern Townships Dart League (Southern Division) will hold a meeting at Hillcrest Lodge on Tuesday evening, September 11, at 8:30.

All teams interested in playing in the newly formed league are asked to send representatives to the meeting.

Several important matters will be discussed.

The Mt. Orford Golf Club will hold a field day today and tomorrow.

Competitors may play either day. There are four valuable prizes for gross and net in each class, "A", "B", "C", and "D".

This evening a dance will be held in the clubhouse, situated near the picturesque mountain.

It is expected that a large number of golfers will participate in this tournament.

Promoter Eddy Bolduc will present 36 rounds of boxing in his final fight card of the season to be held at the Sherbrooke Arena, Sunday, beginning at 2:30 p.m.

In the feature event, Bernie Sergerie, a 125-pound clouter from Montreal, will battle with Clement Bolduc, of Sherbrooke, in an eight-rounder.

The semi-final bout brings together Bob Smith, of Drummondville, and Reg. Lacroix, 157 pounder from Sherbrooke. Lacroix will be defending his E.T. middleweight crown in an eight-rounder.

There are several other top-notch fights including a five-rounder between Burke Emery, a rugged 150 pounder who works for the Sherbrooke Record, and Butch Bousquet, 148 pounds, of Magog.

The first international pro and amateur golf tournament to be held at the St. Johnsbury Country Club, St. Johnsbury, Vt., will be held Sept. 15-16. There will be $700 worth of prizes for the amateurs and $300 in cash for the professionals.

Competitors may play one day or both and their lowest score will be turned in for the competition. So golfers if you have one had round you can forget about it and try again.

A special prize, a set of 8 Kroden Irons, will go to the left handed golfer with the lowest net. This is a special competition for lefties.

Every entry, right-handers and left-handers, will be given a number and the lucky ticket holder in the raffle will receive four Wilson Top-Notch Woods.

There are also 21 prizes for the three classes, "A", "B" and "C". The prizes are 10 numerous to list but they include: two wrist watches, toasters, heaters, Sunbeam Shavers and many other valuable prizes. As a matter of fact we have yet to see as many attractive prizes at stake in a tourney of this type.

Silvio Garcia, who played heads-up ball for the last part of the season after getting away to a shaky start, has won the Lord Calvert Trophy.

Garcia was chosen by the fans as the "Player of Distinction on the local team". Congratulations, Silvio!

The fans, however, in our opinion underrated second baseman Bill Metzger. They placed Metzger ninth in the standings but even though he came to Sherbrooke late in the season he was a big help and was in there trying all the time.

Sixteen-year-old Maureen Connolly, of San Diego, Calif., smiles after downing Doris Hart, 6-4, 6-4, to move into the finals of the U.S. women's tennis championship at Forest Hills, N.Y. She then beat Shirley Fry for the title, to become the youngest player to win the championship.

Boxing Card To Be Held In Afternoon

The boxing card originally scheduled for Sunday evening has been changed to Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Promoter Eddy Bolduc announced the change had been made due to the baseball game slated for tomorrow evening.

Six bouts have been lined up, topped by the main event of Bernie Sergerie of Montreal and Clement Bolduc of Sherbrooke.

Bolduc is recognized as the leading contender for the Canadian featherweight title.

Yankees Win 3-2 Over Washington

New York Yankees clutch-hitting veterans—Johnny Mize and Joe DiMaggio—each delivered a two-out double in the ninth inning to win the game.

The victory moved the Yankees to within a half game of Cleveland Indians, American League Leaders, who were scheduled to play a tonight doubleheader against St. Louis Browns.

It was a tough setback for Sid Hudson, Washington right-hander. Going into the ninth he had given up eight hits but was magnificent in the pinches. Allie Reynolds hurried for the Yankees.

A barrage of extra base hits by Andy Pasko, Billy Cox and Carl Furillo knocked in 10 runs as Brooklyn Dodgers hammered Philadelphia Phillies 11-6 to retain their 5½-game lead in the National League. The defeat eliminated the Phillies, 1950 champions, from the 1951 pennant race.

While the Dodgers mauled three Philadelphia hurlers, the runner-up New York Giants downed Boston Braves 7-3.

Cox knocked in four runs with a double and triple. Pasko hit a three-run homer and Furillo drove across three runs on two homers. All this made Preacher Roe's 19th victory a cinch.

Bobby Thomson slammed a triple, double and three singles out of the batting tries while aiding right-hander Larry Jansen gain his 18th pitching triumph for the Giants. In sweeping their three-game series with the tribemans, the Giants clicked off their 23rd victory in their last 26 starts. New York pounded three Boston pitchers for 15 hits, including Monte Irvin's 19th homer in the ninth inning. Jansen kept 10 Boston hits well scattered.

Cantor Favored To Beat Allan McFater

Toronto, Sept. 8. — (CP) — Allan McFater, taciturn Toronto Scot who talks best with his fists, will be the underdog for the first time in 19 professional fights when he meets Solly Cantor Monday night.

The voting was most impressive, club officials stated.

"I want to thank the fans of Sherbrooke and Calvert Distillers for making this the proudest moment of my life," said Garcia. "To the players also I want to express my thanks for helping me have such a successful season."

The "Player of Distinction" voting was close most of the season. Manager Gladu who had topped the poll for many weeks, slipped in the balloting, but spurred in recent week to take over runner-up honors. The popular player ended up with an impressive 4,400-point total.

Pedro Ballester who also led in the voting for a long stretch, finished in third spot with 3,693. Claro Duany ended not far behind. At one stage of the balloting this season, only 20 points separated the first three players. Hiram Gonzalez took fifth place with 2,968 following by Ray Brown who led the pitchers with a total of 2,675. Lou Shapiro was seventh with 2,183.

United States Walker Cup Team Beats Canadians; Stranahan-Campbell Lose

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 8. — (CP) — Allan Boes of Winnipeg and the team combination of Walter McElroy and Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver did all the winning for Canada yesterday against the United States Walker Cup Team as the Americans won the one-day meet 10 matches to two.

Boes, 34-year-old veteran player, was the only winner of the eight 18-hole singles matches played over the par-72 Saucon Valley Country Club in the afternoon against eight members of the same Walker Cup Team which defeated Britain.

The Winnipegger handed a 4-and-3 defeat to Bob Knowles, Jr., of Boston, winner this year of the French Canadian Championship.

But the Canadians' outstanding triumph was forged by McElroy, recent winner of the Canadian Amateur Title, and Mawhinney in the morning Scotch foursomes.

They put the skids under the high-rated Americans, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., one up in the foursomes each player on a team competes alternately, with one ball to a team.

The matches were the first between Canada and the U. S. Young Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N. Y., who will defend his U. S. amateur crown here Monday, sparked the Americans to victory.

Urzetta shot par golf over the 6,979-yard Saucon course to edge McElroy 2 and 1. Sammy also teamed with Harold Padgett of Cleveland to score the most impressive victory in the foursome play, Subduing Don Doe of Granby, Quebec Amateur Champion, and 18-year-old Laurie Roland of Vancouver, Canadian Junior Champion, 4 and 3.

After the matches some of the American players said the Canadians played a stronger game than Britain in the Walker Cup.

C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ont., non-playing Canadian captain, said he was satisfied with his team's showing.

Nick Weslock, Windsor, Ont., gave Stranahan a terrific battle. Stranahan, twice holder of the Canadian title, was overtaken at the 16th but Nick played a poor shot at the 17th and lost the par-four 18th when Stranahan played a beautiful second shot.

Dick Chapman, Pinehurst, N. C., present holder of the British Amateur Title and twice Canadian champion, won 2 up from Mawhinney, 1950 Canadian Amateur Champion.

Gerry Kesselring, Kitchener, Ont., lost a one-up lead he held at the turn over Charles Coe, Oklahoma City. Coe won four straight holes on the back nine and took the match 3 and 2.

Campbell finally shook loose from the persistent play of Roland, Canadian Junior Champion, and captured his singles 4 and 3.

Padgett, a little player who is about the hottest putter in American golf, edged Doe, 5 and 3.

Jim McHale, Jr., of Philadelphia hung on to an early lead to win 3 and 2 over Phil Farley of Toronto, runner-up in the Canadian Amateur this year to McElroy.

The Scotch foursomes lost by the Canadians were just as close as the singles. Coe and McHale won 2 and 1 from Farley and Weslock; Chapman and Knowles defeated Boes and Kesselring 3 and 1.

Boes jumped into an early lead in the afternoon over Knowles, who played a poor first nine, and the Winnipeg Southwood player was four up at the turn although he took a medal 39.

Knowles took the 10th with a par four and the 13th where Boes hooked in an unplayable lie. At the 14th, a 203-yard par three, Boes put his ball 10 feet from the pin and holed out for a deuce. He ended the match at the 15th, sinking a 12-foot putt.

McElroy was a sick youngster most of the day. He complained of a sore
