GERMAN DRIVE AGAINST KHARKOV STALLED

Nazi Reserves Fail To Bring Clear Decision

Germans Suffering Heavy Losses of Men and Materiel in Efforts to Recapture Key Russian Southern Front City—Soviets Register Gains in North—Position of Rommel in North Africa Aggravated.

By ROGER GREENE,
Associated Press Staff Writer
Soviet headquarters declared today that the Red Army on the Central front had captured at least forty-four towns and villages, crushed stiffening German resistance and advanced within eighty miles of Hitler's old headquarters at Smolensk.

Although almost outflanked by the Red Army's capture of Bely, the Nazis were battling desperately to defend their grip on the bastion of Vyazma, 133 miles west of Moscow, the last major barrier on the road to Smolensk.

Russian troops were reported within thirteen miles of Vyazma at the nearest point, and a communique said more than twenty towns fell to Soviet forces operating in the vicinity.

On the Kharkov front, 400 miles south of Moscow, Red Army headquarters said the Germans were continuing to throw great masses of reserves into their come-back offensive, but so far the battle appeared to be indecisive.

Frontline dispatches said that the Russians beat off a series of violent Nazi tank and infantry assaults South and Southwest of Kharkov, killing 800 Germans and destroying twenty-six tanks in one sector and wrecking nine tanks in another.

On the Tunisian front, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's promise to give the Axis a "very bloody nose" was marked by exploratory thrusts against the sixty-mile-long Mareh Line in Southern Tunisia as the British 8th Army prepared for a climactic assault.

Rain and sandstorms prevented large-scale operations, but Gen. Montgomery's big guns—the weapons that broke up six Axis attacks with the loss of fifty-two tanks—were reported raining havoc on the Mareh defence works.

In the North, Lt. Gen. Kenneth Anderson's British 1st Army was reported continuing its patrol activity in the Seldjan sector, thirty-five miles West of Axis-held Bizerte naval base, where the Germans have been attempting to widen their narrow defence corridor.

Allied military observers said the Axis was on the down grade in Tunisia, following a series of costly offensive jabs, and declared that with the Royal Navy controlling the sea and Allied planes clearly superior in the skies, Rommel and his estimated 250,000 troops had little chance of a "Dunkirk escape" from the North African trap.

Allied aircraft, striking at Japan's vital supply lines, were credited with

NOTED BANKER SHOWS MORE IMPROVEMENT FROM HEART AILMENT

Boca Grande, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—John Pierpont Morgan, head of the world-famous banking firm, continued to show improvement today from a heart ailment with which he was stricken on his way here for a vacation.

Attending physicians said the 75-year-old financier is slowly regaining his strength.

Mrs. George Nichols, Morgan's daughter, who had been at his bedside for several days, left last night for New York while a second daughter, Mrs. Paul Penney, remained.

Great Post-War Security Scheme Offered United States Congress

By CHARLES MOLONY,
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—The National Resources Planning Board called on the United States today to steel itself for a continuance of wartime restrictions for months after hostilities cease, but held out beyond that hope for a life of untroubled abundance.

Simultaneously, it proposed a social insurance system, corresponding in importance to the report of Sir William Beveridge in Britain, designed to assure all Americans against want from birth to death and an economic structure in which the Government would be a partner in certain major industries and labor would share in business management.

The speech from the Throne at the opening of the present session of the Canadian Parliament forecast appointment of a committee to study social insurance plans with a view to providing a "charter of social security for the whole of Canada."

The House of Commons approved establishment of such a committee and it soon will begin its work.

The Board's recommendations were presented by President Roosevelt yesterday for "full consideration during this session" to a Congress which thus far has rejected a Presidential request to give the Board funds to continue its planning work after next June 30.

They were covered in two lengthy documents, a 50,000-word "post-war plan and programme," and a 400,000-word report on "security, work and relief policies." The latter expanded in detail upon abundant-life aspects sketched in the former.

The post-war plan's chief features

APPROVAL NEAR FOR EXTENSION OF LEND-LEASE

Expected Measure, Given Overwhelming House Approval, Will Pass Senate Before Week-End.

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—A measure continuing for another year the life of the Lend-Lease Act reached the United States Senate today, carrying a citation of overwhelming approval from the House of Representatives.

Chairman Tom Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee expressed hope of opening floor consideration of the bill today, but it may be stymied temporarily by plans to obtain action first on farm labor deferment legislation and on a deficiency appropriations measure.

Nevertheless measured by its test in the House yesterday when the extension bill was passed by 407 to 6 roll-call vote, it appeared certain the measure would be ready for President Roosevelt's signature within a week.

The House action came after the Democratic majority, and approximately a score of Republicans, combined to block a move to give Congress the final say on what the

DEFENDS STAND OF ADMIRALTY ON AIR POWER

First Lord of the Admiralty Declares Every Effort Being Made to Strengthen Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm.

London, March 11.—(AP)—A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the House of Commons last night that the Admiralty is deeply concerned over the submarine menace, and in response to criticism of its anti-submarine policy the First Lord defended his department, saying it is "quite plain" that "those responsible for naval control have a great deal to do with enabling our brave officers and men at sea to be successful in their task."

Alexander denied charges he said were "banded about" that the Admiralty was not air-minded.

In May 1940, when he went to the Admiralty, the Skua and the Swordfish were the only aircraft flying operationally with the navy, Alexander said. At that time priority was given to the building of fighters for the defence of Britain, he said, adding "and if we had lost control of the air then we should have lost the whole battle."

The navy now is getting the Barracuda and the Avenger torpedo bombers, and Alexander said he hoped to get deliveries of the Curtiss dive-bomber, which are being manufactured in Canada under the name of "Hell-diver" very soon, he said.

The Barracuda, a "first class" torpedo bomber, "is flying and being supplied in increasing numbers and will soon come to the point of forming operational squadrons" and deliveries of Avenger torpedo bomber "are starting now to us," Alexander said.

Despite the casualties of the last three years, Alexander said that Britain now has the same number of aircraft carriers, as then, a large number of auxiliaries and an expanding fleet air arm, thus he said, refuting the implication that the Admiralty had been idle in meeting the aerial threat to communication.

The First Lord added that on the question of the U-boat menace, "there has been constant co-operation between the United States and ourselves on this question and also the most valuable co-operation with Canada."

First Picture Of Berlin Bombing

Germany's Propaganda Minister Goebbels (in light coat, center) found that it was all true about the tremendous destruction wrought by British bombers on Berlin. He's shown inspecting the shattered shell which the night before was St. Hedwig's Cathedral. This picture, obtained from a neutral source and transmitted by radio, is the first to show damage to the German capital.

Macdonald Again Declares Ships Sunk In St. Lawrence Area Twenty

Ottawa, March 11.—(AP)—Navy last year, the Minister said he could only repeat previous statements that only twenty ships were sunk in 1942. He added he had invited Mr. Gagnon to name a representative of the navy and a third man named by the other two, could go into the facts and determine which statement was correct.

Allied Airmen Again Attack Japanese Ships In Pacific

Allied Headquarters in Australia, March 11.—(AP)—Allied airmen pounced on five more Japanese merchant vessels in the Southwest Pacific area yesterday, probably destroying one ship of 7,000 tons and heavily damaging another of 5,000 tons, Allied headquarters announced today.

The 7,000-tonner was found at Butong Island, off the Southeastern tip of Celebes, and a big bomber scored a direct hit with a heavy bomb. The communique said the ship was "left burning fiercely and was probably a total loss."

Two more ships were attacked at Wewak on the Northern coast of New Guinea and several near hits with 1,000-pound bombs were scored, the communique said. At least one of the vessels, estimated at 5,000 tons, received severe damage, it was announced.

The warehouse area of the port also was attacked and later heavy bombers strafed the building area from a low altitude despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

WAR BULLETINS

London — The radio station at Bremen, Germany, went off the air at 12:43 p.m. (7:43 a.m., E.D.T.) today in the middle of a political review without giving any reason. The interruption of transmission frequently means that enemy planes are approaching.

London — President Eduard Benes of the Czechoslovak Government here said in a message today on the fifth anniversary of Germany's annexation of Austria that "both democratic Austria and democratic Czechoslovakia have a great mission to fulfill in the new Europe which will arise out of this war."

New York — The Berlin radio last night quoted Rome dispatches as saying a newly-created post of Deputy Chief of the General Staff of the Italian armed forces had been assigned to Gen. Francesco Rossi, 58-year-old chief of the Italian Army Ordnance Department.

Rossi has been a member of the General Staff since 1921, said the broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

DEEP WATERWAY SCHEME AGAIN BEFORE HOUSE

Entire Project, Including Power and Navigation Works, to Cost $250,000,000 Congress Report Says.

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—Plans for having the St. Lawrence waterway and power development open the Great Lakes ports to ocean-going vessels and provide one-third of the United States electric energy through water power are disclosed in the National Resources Planning Board's report, submitted to Congress by the President.

As conceived, the Board reported, the entire project is estimated to cost about $250,000,000. Representatives of the Canadian and United States Governments have agreed upon a treaty under which the project could be built in the post-war period. The treaty now is before Congress for consideration, the Board said, adding that:

"Any project of this magnitude and regional extent must cause changes in the social and economic conditions within the area of its influence. As plans are perfected to produce the maximum national bene-

Britain Creates Air Transport Command To Secure Peace Routes

TWO THOUSAND GERMAN PLANTS ARE DESTROYED

Air Secretary Tells House of Commons of Important Results of United Nations Bombing Campaigns.

London, March 11.—(AP)—Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair announced today the creation of an R. A. F. Transport Command as the result of a campaign for Britain to make an effort to recoup her wartime losses of position in world air transport.

Sir Archibald said the R. A. F. Ferry Command at Montreal would become a subordinate formation.

The new command is expected to be a counterpart of the United States Transport Command, the activities of which in building a round-the-world air system have caused grave concern in Britain over the British post-war position in commercial air competition.

The question, into which Playwright Clare Boothe Luce, representative in the United States Congress, recently injected her personal bombing offensive which has resulted in proposals for international agreement for sharing the air.

Sir Archibald made the announcement in introducing Air Ministry estimates.

Sir Archibald said that "all transport aircraft which are now possessed or which we shall produce here or obtain from America will be used to meet urgent war requirements."

"With these new aircraft we shall be able to form new transport squadrons. With an increased number of transport squadrons an organization will be required to control operations throughout the world."

"I have decided, therefore, to establish an R. A. F. Transport Command. To create such a Command sooner would have been to put the cart before the horse. It has not been commanders and staff we have been short of, but aircraft. Now the Command will come naturally

Damage to the Phillips radio works at Eindhoven, Holland, cost the Germans the loss of millions of radio tubes annually, a critical loss in modern warfare, he added.

The 4,000 tons of bombs dropped in the rising offensive in March compared with 10,000 tons dropped in the short month of February, greatest month yet for the R. A. F., when 1,000 tons of bombs were dropped on three different nights.

Promising even greater exertions by the R. A. F., Sir Archibald added a statement which seemed an indirect answer to criticism of the United States Army Air Force's day bombing policy.

"The Americans are lion-hearted, skilful fighters," he said. "Their methods are a complement to our own. They are precious and welcome allies. The more American bombers come to take part in the air offensive, the better we shall be pleased and the sooner the malignant power of Germany will be broken."

Sir Archibald also informed the House that more than ten per cent of German aircraft which in the last three months attempted weak reprisals for R. A. F. bombings had been shot down. Such a low rate is generally considered almost prohibitive for an attack in force.

He said forty-six of 392 enemy planes which crossed the British coast in daylight during the last

Liberal Member Urges More Rigid Control Of Governmental Expense

H. A. MacKenzie, Member for Lambton-Kent, Ont., Declares that People Will Be More Willing to Pay War Taxation if Effective Efforts Are Made to Reduce Ordinary Expenditure—Flays Abuse of Postal Franking.

By JAMES McCOOK,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, March 11.—(AP)—The House of Commons yesterday heard suggestions by H. A. MacKenzie (Liberal, Lambton-Kent) that Parliament should look inward to find means of reducing governmental expenditures and thus assisting the war effort.

Speaking in the budget debate, Mr. MacKenzie said Canada was budgeting for an expenditure of $5,500,000,000, about ten times as much as in 1939, and "the people would feel more satisfied if they were assured that money was being carefully expended and rigid economy practiced in respect of normal Government expenditures."

He said that either the number of members in the Senate should be reduced or the Upper House abolished altogether. The Senate might be given the task of studying estimates or examining war expenditures.

Mail franking privileges had been "abused" by Members of the House and Senate and some Members were using the House of Commons and the post office "as a clearing house through which to spread their political propaganda and doctrines to their constituents at the public expense."

Mr. MacKenzie was one of five speakers in the continuing budget debate yesterday. Others were Alfred Benbow (Progressive Conservative, Saskatoon), C. E. Johnston (N.D., Bow River), Dr. F. W. Gershaw (Liberal, Medicine Hat) and T. L. Church (Prog.-Con., Toronto-Broadview).

Mr. Church, who had not completed his address at the evening adjournment, told the House that every possible precaution will be taken to deal with enemy activity in the St. Lawrence area during the coming navigation season. The Minister was discussing recent statements in the Quebec Legislature on St. Lawrence ship sinkings, and said he could only repeat previous statements that navy reports showed only twenty ships sunk in the area last year. Onesime Gagnon (U.N., Matane), had said in the Legislature that upwards of thirty ships had been sunk.

Mr. MacKenzie said he believed it would be agreed that Canada was over-governed. The Dominion, with about 11,500,000 people, had more than 4,000 money-spending municipalities, 850 law-making municipalities, 27,000 members of the House of Commons and 96 members of the Senate. There "could well" be a further reduction in the number of House members.

Liquor Regulations Do Not Meet Needs Of People, Says Duplessis

Quebec, March 11.—(AP)—Opposition Leader Maurice Duplessis said in the Legislative Assembly yesterday that unless liquor restrictions are relaxed in Quebec Province "we will have an era of bootlegging such as we have never seen in prohibition times."

The first thing we know we will have a crop of disorders such as we have never known."

"Today the needs of the people are not being met," he said, "the regulations permit those with money, or those who hoarded stocks, to have as much liquor as they want, but the poor working man who wants a glass of beer can't buy it."

Mr. Duplessis spoke on an Opposition motion which asked for the production of all Orders-in-Council adopted in connection with the Quebec Liquor Commission from November 8, 1939, to February 18, 1943.

He spoke before Premier Godbout told the House that present restrictions are reasonable and that the "people after recovering from their fear that the restrictions would be very severe are beginning to realize that they are reasonable."

Mr. Duplessis said: "Quebec has no lessons in temperance to learn from any of the other Provinces, or from Mr. King. Let the other Provinces do what they like, and it isn't Ottawa's affair to mix in Quebec's business."

The restrictions are an insult to the people of the Province of Quebec. They are unjust, unfair and dangerous for the cause of law enforcement and they will work out only for the benefit of the bootleggers and in favor of the friends of disorders and subversive ideas."

The Opposition leader said that if he hadn't seen the results of prohibition he would be ready to experiment with it, "but prohibition has always brought disaster."

The restrictions constitute another infringement of provincial autonomy, Mr. Duplessis said. "I heard Mr. King myself over the radio threaten the Provinces by saying that certain regulations would be enforced and that others he would leave to the Provinces to enact. But he told them not to forget that the Federal Government had overriding powers over the Provinces under the War Measures Act. That was the worst of blackmail and this man should have been reproved for such words."

temperance, he said, the Government was encouraging bootlegging. Premier Godbout said that he congratulated "the leader of the Opposition on his stand, but I would congratulate him more heartily if he had shown in what way the new restrictions do not encourage temperance."

In Quebec only the hours of distribution were changed, he said, and there was a ten per cent reduction in the amount of beer offered for sale.

"I am not a prohibitionist either, but some restrictions were necessary. In this war as in all other wars and in all other countries, the consumption of alcohol was increased in wartime by youths working in war factories, by young men and women in the armed forces who spend holidays and leaves in large cities."

"We have taken from no one the reasonable opportunity to obtain all the liquor they want. The hours have been curtailed, but they are no shorter than the hours in which one may buy bread, milk or butter."

"There was a class of society which had to be protected, the youths of our Province, and we reduced the drinking hours to make them reasonable."

"Today everybody realizes the situation and is in favor of it. War workers in Montreal who threatened to stir up trouble two weeks ago came to me in Montreal last Monday and thanked me for the way in which the restrictions were imposed."

The Federal Government asked that beer consumption be cut by ten per cent, he said. "That is reasonable since beer is rationed and lots of other things. Sacrifices are being made on all fronts and sacrifices should first be imposed on unnecessary things."

Debate on the motion came after Mr. Duplessis spoke on another Opposition motion which asked for the production of all Orders-in-Council referring to privileges granted, rentals, purchases or transfers of waterworks in the Province, and to the building, repairing, enlarging, or reconstruction of dams, barrages, in connection with waterworks.

Mr. Duplessis said that the Provincial Government should "re-vindicate our rights and protect our natural resources against Federal Government infringements."

He termed as unconstitutional the federal tax on consumers of electricity because the resources belong to the Crown in the right of the Province. Similar resources were not taxed in Ontario, he said, and this led to disadvantageous competition in the industries in this province.

The present Government, he said, was building up a public hydro system in the statute books but nowhere else. "We have had two years of inaction since the Government was authorized to put the Beauharnois Light and Power Company under public control."

He told the House that when he was Premier from 1936 to 1939, R. E. Powell, President of the Aluminum Company of Canada, asked for permission to develop power sites on the Peribonka River. "We refused, because we believed that the Peribonka power site was three months were definitely destroyed. Twenty-six of 240 which crossed at night were knocked down. The Air Minister said this was nearly three times the rate of loss of British aircraft attacking Hitler's Europe.

The R.A.F. Bomber Command's "punching offensive" had caused the Germans to switch a not unimportant proportion of their plane-building capacity from bombers to fighters, the Air Secretary declared.

British and American air forces in Northwest Africa have destroyed an additional 767 enemy planes against loss of 392 of which 171 were R.A.F. craft, he said. Presumably, although he did not say so, the remaining 221 were largely American.

Looking to the future, the Air Secretary hinted at special measures being taken to combat U-boats and to support troops which will make an eventual assault on the continent.

It is intended, he said, to improve air cover for Atlantic convoys until there is no time of the day or night when plane protection will not be provided for North Atlantic routes.

He disclosed the R.A.F. has formed a number of special tank-buster and fighter-bomber squadrons to give close support to troops.

The Russian home radio told the story of two broadcasts, evening and morning, and then all the newspapers carried it on the back page of their four-page editions — the space usually allotted to foreign dispatches except those of transcendent interest.

There was an editorial comment. Admiral Standley likewise declined further comment.

"I have made my statement," he told the Associated Press. "I have nothing more to say at present."

MacDonald made his statement yesterday at the request of Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative leader.

Mr. MacDonald said if Mr. Gagnon had information that more than two hundred ships were sunk it was his duty to give it to officials so it could be investigated.

RUSSIANS TOLD OF STANDLEY STATEMENT
By EDDY GILMORE.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Moscow, March 11.—(AP)—The Moscow radio and newspapers informed the Russian people today of Admiral William H. Standley's declaration that they had not been told the complete story of United States aid to the Soviet Union.

The story was broadcast and printed under a New York dateline and credited to Tass, Soviet news agency which has offices in New York.

The story said: "According to the Moscow correspondent of the Associated Press, the United States Ambassador to Moscow, Mr. Standley, made a statement, American correspondents announcing that, as he presumes, the information is not given to the Russian people on American aid to Russia."

This was the first information received by the Russians on the controversy.

Details of the new process were withheld until restrictions on the development of a new catalyst.

But because of the lack of young men on the farms, threshing operations had been reduced last fall. When the winter came early, more than forty-five per cent of the crop was left to lie under the snow.

Dr. Gershaw said every war industry in Canada should have medical supervision and the causes of illness and accidents should be recorded. Nutrition, rest, sanitation, the hours of work, the ability of the worker to stand the strain of his work and the causes of infection should be supervised. Every industry should arrange for periodic medical examination because only in this way could men be kept up to efficiency.

Mr. Bence said there had been a lack of cohesion, co-ordination and long-range planning in connection with many phases of the war effort. Temporary buildings in Ottawa, constructed or being constructed, on June 1 last year were expected to cost $411,000, and construction was still proceeding about three years after the war started when labor materials were getting scarce. Similar Ottawa building was continuing.

Returns In Red Cross Drive Now Stand At $20,000, Which Is Two-Thirds Of Objective

Booked returns in the Sherbrooke Red Cross drive today stood at the $20,000 mark, which is two-thirds of the 30,000 objective, officials of the campaign, which ends next Monday, announced this morning.

They said that this amount represents only what has actually been turned in and audited at headquarters in the Canadian Bank of Commerce Building and by no means represent actual subscriptions known to be in the hands of canvassers. Solicitors are requested to turn in their cards as soon as possible.

As a matter of fact headquarters reported that there were many unopened envelopes and reports in the office this morning which it had been impossible to handle owing to the short staff.

Many larger subscriptions are yet to be added and when booked will swell the total appreciably, officials stated.

Subscription in the past forty-eight hours amounted to over $4,000. Yesterday's returns included donations from residential sections of the city. The number of subscribers was large but the average subscription comparatively small so that much work was involved in tabulating names and amounts.

Campaign officers are reminding the public that contributions to the Red Cross are subject to ten per cent income tax exemption for individuals and five per cent for corporations.

People in Quebec have subscribed over a million dollars in the current Red Cross campaign as when returns were tabulated last night total subscriptions amounted to $1,056,385 which compares favorably with the amount donated at the same time last year.

In making comparisons with the 1942 appeal however there is one serious factor present in this drive which did not arise last year—the serious week-end storm which almost disorganized campaigning in the province due to blocked roads.

The Canadian Red Cross Society has received innumerable tributes concerning its work and one of the outstanding among these has come from the office of the High Commissioner in Canada for New Zealand.

"I am sure your Red Cross Society must be thrilled and inspired in the knowledge that your great humanitarian work is so very much appreciated. Letters express the thoughts and feelings of the New Zealand people generally about the wonderful service the Red Cross Society is giving to our soldiers in the prison camps and on the battle-fronts everywhere.

"Your organization is the harbinger of love and sympathy—the great channel of goodwill and communication whereby the loved ones at home know that their fathers, husbands, sons, and relatives and friends are being looked after, through the great International Red Cross Society.

"Every parcel sent forward is blessed by the sender and doubly blessed by the receiver and echoes in the hearts of all in reverence and thankfulness to your Red Cross Society for the magnificent service which is so spontaneously and cheerfully given."

BIG INCREASE IN V.O.N. WORK IS INDICATED

The work of the Sherbrooke branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses during the past year reflected a definite increase over 1941 and 1940, according to a report tabled at the regular monthly meeting.

The number of cases cared for during 1942 was 1,110, an increase of 141 over 1941 and of 584 over 1940, while visits amounted to 7,391, an increase of 828 over 1941 and of 2,763 over 1940.

It was also reported that the V.O.N. assists the doctor at the Child Welfare Clinic, which is held each Thursday and where health instruction and supervision is given for the infant and poor school child, and treatments provided for immunization against diphtheria. In addition the treatment provides facilities for the correction of physical defects found in children up to the age of fourteen.

Visits are also made to the English schools when there is evidence of communicable disease, and during the year the vision of 1,025 children was examined.

Miss M. Bouchard presented her reports, as nurse-in-charge, for the months of January and February. In the former period, there were 84 new patients, 641 visits made, 20 of these to patients in Lennoxville; nine confinements attended and assistance given to the Child Welfare Clinics. In February there were 78 new patients and in all care was given to 133 patients. There were 550 visits, including 46 in Lennoxville. There were eight confinements and nine night calls were answered.

F. A. Briggs reported receipts for January at $660 and expenditures at $452; and for February receipts at $828 and expenditures $521.

Rev. Dr. G. Ellery Reid, President, referred to the great loss suffered by the Association through the deaths of Mrs. C. B. Howard and J. P. Wells, K.C., D.C.L., two Vice-Presidents.

A resolution was passed endorsing the compulsory pasteurization of milk.

The annual meeting of the Association is to take place in Toronto on April 15th and it is hoped that delegates from the local branch will attend. An interesting report by Miss Maude H. Hall, Acting Chief Superintendent, to the Executive Council of the V. O. N. for Canada and to the local branch was read.

"The Sherbrooke branch," this report stated "was visited and supervised by Miss Christine Livingstone, National Office Supervisor in February. The nurses were supervised in the district and it was found that Victorian Order routine and procedures were followed and a high standard of bedside care and health teaching has been maintained. They were well received in the homes where grateful patients expressed their appreciation for this service of visiting nurses which was available to them, the doctors who were visited also voiced their appreciation."

A special meeting of the Executive was called during the Supervisor's visit to discuss the best way to meet the steady growth of work and the recommendation to appoint a fourth nurse to the staff was accepted and acted upon immediately, and the appointment of Mrs. F. J. Smith was ratified at the monthly meeting.

EASTER MAIL FOR OVERSEAS MUST BE EARLY

C. E. Soles, Sherbrooke Postmaster, said today that letters and parcels for Canadian servicemen should be mailed at once for delivery by Easter Day. He stressed that no mailing for Easter should be made later than next Monday.

Correspondents are urged to make sure their mail is fully and correctly addressed and prepaid in full and that a return address is given.

Owing to the fact that the Canadian Postal Corps despatched Overseas more than 832 tons of mail in January, Postmaster Soles stated that augmented Easter mailings has increased the problem of obtaining shipping space and making timely delivery.

BLAZE IN STORE CELLAR PUT OUT

An empty blazing wooden box in the cellar of the store operated by George F. Moore at 84 Alexander Street was put out by the Municipal Fire Department yesterday before any serious damage resulted to the stock. Loss was slight.

Burning rubber in the kitchen stove took firemen to the home of B. Lyon, 111 London Street. There was no damage.

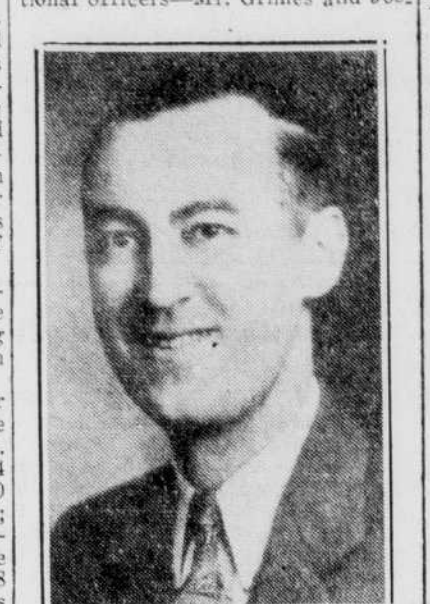

The Department responded to three other calls and put out a chimney and two stove pipe blazes. Fires occurred at the residence of G. P. Pinard, 102 Ninth Avenue; Ernest Lacroix, 67 Laurier Avenue, and Joseph Champagne, Drummond Road. All damage was negligible.

FINED FOR CREATING DISTURBANCE

A Bromptonville taxi driver pleaded guilty to a charge of creating a disturbance at the Sherbrooke Arena and was fined $20 and costs by Recorder Raoul Gagne in Police Court this morning.

Place Of Y's Men's Movement In World At War Is Outlined By International Secretary

The place of the Y's Men's movement in a world at war was the theme of an address given last night at the regular weekly meeting of the local Y's Men's Club by Henry D. Grimes, of Lawrence, Mass., the International Secretary-Treasurer of the International Association of Y's Men's Clubs. The local club was playing host to two of its international officers—Mr. Grimes and Jos.

HENRY GRIMES

eph Connell, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., the former International President, who is at present with the R.C.A.F. and stationed at Victoria.

In his remarks the International Secretary-Treasurer recalled that the Y's Men's movement had been founded at Toledo, Ohio, by a group of young business and professional men in the early 1920's. The movement soon spread to neighboring cities and states and in 1922 the International Association was formed with headquarters at Lawrence, Mass. Now there are Y's Men's clubs on every continent with active clubs in more different countries than any other international service organization.

Before the war there were clubs in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Estonia, Hungary, Greece and Italy—but of course contact with these clubs has now ceased and their activities, if any, driven underground. The six clubs in Japan were ordered disbanded by the Imperial Government about a year before Pearl Harbor. In the outbreak of war in the Pacific contact with the clubs in occupied China has also been broken off, although it is known that the Nanking Men's Club is still intact and has been reorganized at Chungking, the present seat of the Chinese government.

SESSION HELD BY GUILD AT LENNOXVILLE

The regular monthly meeting of St. Monica's Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Brady on Church Street with fourteen members present.

During the business session plans were made to have necessary repairs made on the rectory. Mrs. C. Parkin and Miss D. Sterling were named as a committee to look after this work. Plans were also made to hold a penny sale during mid-Lent or the first week in May. Mrs. J. E. Herold invited the members to her home on Academy Street for the April meeting.

General Notes

Mr. Jack Davis, of Montreal, who was in town this week to attend the funeral of Mr. Kenneth McLeod, was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Archie McMullen, and Mr. McMullen, Prospect Street.

Mrs. Garnetta Harvey, of Montreal, arrived in town Tuesday morning to attend the funeral of Mr. Kenneth McLeod and was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rainey, Belvidere Street.

Tpr. Elwood I. Marlin has returned to Camp Borden, Ont., to complete his training in the armored corp, after spending the past few days with his mother, Mrs. J. S. Marlin, Clough Avenue, and with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Marlin in Sherbrooke.

Miss Estella Wellman pleasantly entertained the members of the Philatheta Society of the United Church on Tuesday evening at her apartment on Prospect Street. The President, Mrs. Austin Scott, was in the chair. The meeting opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Miss R. Bailey, Secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. L. Parker gave the financial report of the dinner served to the members of the presbytery in February. Plans were made to hold a rummage sale on May 15th. Plans were also made for a St. Patrick's hot baked dish supper. Mrs. A. Scott invited the members to her home for the April meeting. At the conclusion a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses Miss Wellman and Mrs. A. Gilbey.

National Government. Moreover, new clubs have been organized in North China and the organization is growing in that country.

For many years there has been a large and active Y's Men's Club in Mexico City, and recently clubs have been started in Brazil, Uruguay and Chile. The South American continent now affords one of the brightest fields for future development of Y'sdom.

There must be something in a movement which proves to be so resilient and so vital under difficult conditions," declared Mr. Grimes. "Our international complexion provides a unique opportunity for constructive service now, and more important still in the difficult post-war years ahead. The development of beautiful contacts with men of similar views in many different countries, both by correspondence, exchange of ideas and personal contacts, is one of the ways in which organizations such as our own can make an important contribution to the solution of international difficulties."

The speaker reminded his audience of the Chinese ideograph or character for the word "crisis." It is made up of two symbols—one meaning "danger" and the other "opportunity." Enlarging on the idea conveyed by this significant combination, Mr. Grimes suggested that Y's Men see in the present crisis an opportunity for service—to create something concrete and constructive out of present danger.

The guest speaker was introduced by former International Director John Fitzsimons, while the thanks of the club were conveyed by Immediate Past President Wesley Bradley.

W. Hawley Griffith, a former President of the Sherbrooke club, introduced a number of former Y's Men who were present at the meeting, including Harold McCullough, G. S. Sampson, Ernie Johnson, of Rock Island, Lewis Rosenbloom and F. Gordon LeBaron.

A feature of the meeting was the presentation by Past International President Joe Connell of the "Merit Award" to two outstanding members of the Sherbrooke club—John Buckell and John Aylwin. Larry Perzan made the citation, stressing in particular the recent valuable contribution these two men had made to the club by the compilation of a new song book for the use of the members.

Chorister John Buckell led the sing-song, which was featured by a piano solo by Pianist Jack Lemagan. Other guests included Sgt. Jack Greenberg, R.C.O.C., Pilot Officer Forrest Lord and Douglas Brundage. President Dean Bishop was in the chair.

CHINESE GIVE $77 TO DRIVE FOR RED CROSS

Chinese residents of the City of Sherbrooke once again rallied to aid the Red Cross and donated a total of $77 in the campaign for funds which is in progress at the present time, it was learned today. The canvass was made by Seasons Lee, manager of the Grand Cafe, in several days.

"The Red Cross is close to the hearts of the local Chinese people—clearer this year than at any other time because my people know that this organization needs money badly if it is to carry on," Mr. Lee said.

"My countrymen already know the taste of war and also know what fine work the Red Cross has done in China alone," he added. "The war is nearing its climax and we now have it on the word of Mr. Churchill that an effort to storm Hitler's fortress definitely is planned to take place this year."

"When we look at the figures showing the articles of every description turned out daily by the thousands of prisoner-of-war boxes that are packed and shipped every day, it is very easy to understand why the money is so urgently required for the Red Cross campaign."

There are twenty-one Chinese residents and business establishments contributing sums ranging from $1 to $15. Topping the list of subscriptions are two fifteen-dollar donations made by Mr. Lee on his own behalf and the other in the name of the Grand Cafe. Other contributions follow:

Capital Cafe, $6; Chu Fong Chin, Hum Hing and Grand View Cafe, $5; Lee See Ten, Lee Wai Yuen, Woo Tung, Di, Mah Chin Chu, Sing Lee Laundry, Tom Hop Laundry, Yee Yee Laundry, Roy Lee and Charlie Chin Laundry, $2; Hum Yick, London Cafe, John Sato, Charlie Sing Laundry, Yee Sing Hing and Lee Fook.

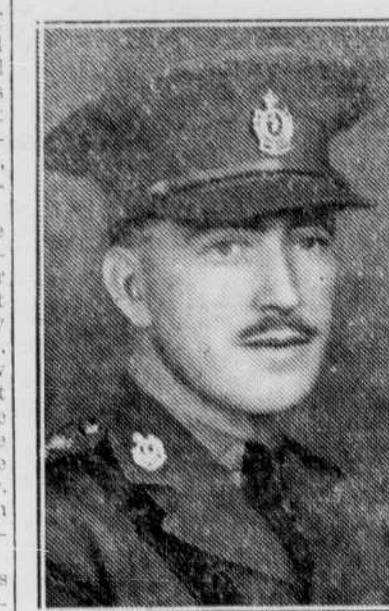

One dollar donations were made each by Miss Mary Labrecque and Lewis Jones, employees of the Grand Cafe.

Date For Registration Of Single Men Has Been Extended To March 15

PROMOTED TO RANK OF MAJOR

Major George Henry Logie, son of Mrs. Harry Logie and the late Mr. Logie, of Sherbrooke, whose promotion Overseas from the rank of Captain was recently announced. Major Logie was a member of the Sherbrooke Regiment at outbreak of war and transferred to the Royal Montreal Regiment, with which unit he proceeded Overseas in December of 1939.

Emery H. Fortier, Selective Service Officer for the Eastern Townships, said today that by Order-in-Council the date for registration of single men under the military call-up has been extended to next Monday. The final date for registration previously had been fixed for March 1.

The single men affected are male civilians born from 1902 to 1923, inclusive, who were not previously notified to appear for a medical examination or who did not report for that purpose under the military call-up. The term "single men" refers to men who were unmarried at July 15, 1940; marriage after that date does not alter a man's status as a single man.

Also classed as single men under the regulations are those who are widowers without children, divorced or judicially separated at July 15, 1940.

Mr. Fortier said that there still seems to be confusion in some men's minds over whether or not they were "single" for military call-up purposes. The further extension he pointed out, will help these men to determine their status. Penalties will not be imposed upon men who now register for previous failure to report for medical examination.

Single men can register at the Sherbrooke Post Office or report to the Selective Service Office in the Olivier Building, Corner King and Wellington Streets. To date two hundred single men in the nineteen to forty age groups have turned in their registration cards.

PREPARING FOR PEACE

All units of the United Nations are in complete agreement with the joint declaration of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt that the Axis powers must be fought until they unconditionally surrender, as in no other way can there be lasting peace and security. Stockholm sources report, however, that the announcement, standing by itself, is a serious defect, playing right into the hands of the German propagandist department, which points out that the German people must fight to the very last man and cartridge to try and escape the terrible conditions which a victorious enemy will impose upon them.

The implication is therefore, that while proclaiming unconditional surrender, the Allies should also make it known that they do not plan the economic and political extinction of Germany. Dr. Goebbels, by force of circumstances, has changed his tune from trumpeting triumphs to pronouncing fears of annihilation which must be met with unyielding effort and sacrifice. The German people have to ask themselves whether they will suffer less by continuing to fight to the end, or by accepting the terms of surrender, whatever they may be. In the absence of such knowledge Goebbels can whip the nation into frenzied efforts and waging war by telling them that what is meant by unconditional surrender is virtual extinction as a nation.

There is undoubtedly reason in the Stockholm view. The Germans must know that at best the terms of peace will, under the circumstances, be stern even if just, because of the destruction deliberately wrought in occupied countries, and the horrible outrages perpetrated upon millions of people, of which they cannot be altogether unaware even if they have not seen those things for themselves.

Germany must be disarmed and controlled, but cannot, as a nation, be obliterated. The Germans can hardly expect that the Allies will be much less severe than Hitler has declared for the nations he hoped to defeat. In Mein Kampf, he spoke of a Germany mastering the world through the power of the sword.

Although it is premature, and impractical, to announce the peace terms now, it might have a beneficial effect on the length of the war if the Allies were to shower Germany, and her partners, with millions of leaflets giving them an assurance that the people will have a reasonable opportunity to live their lives in peace and comfort as long as steps are taken to prevent the peace of the world being disrupted again.

SOUTH AFRICA'S PROBLEMS

The new South African budget, recently introduced by Hon. J. H. Hofmeyr, Minister of Finance and Education, includes a fifteen per cent increase in income tax and a super-tax increase in the gold mines contribution from 20 to 20½ per cent, also an increase in the excess profits tax from thirteen shillings, sixpence to fifteen shillings in the pound.

There will be an increase on dividends paid to overseas shareholders of from one shilling to one shilling sixpence in the pound and various increases in customs and excise duties on beer, spirits, cigarettes and tobacco. Postage is raised from three halfpence to twopence and a levy of 12½ per cent is imposed on telephone accounts.

The foregoing increases with existing taxation are expected to realize more than £100,000,000 ($430,000,000). Defence expenditures for the coming year are conservatively estimated at £96,000,000 ($432,000,000) of which the Finance Minister hopes to raise £48,000,000 ($210,000,000) from revenue and the remainder from loans. It is emphasized that South Africa's loan position remains sound.

Following a very favorable start to the summer season here the grip of drought closed in on large areas of the Transvaal, Free State and Natal. Unless rains fall soon the recent prediction that the maize crop would be sufficient for next year's needs will be short by several million bags. The Union now faces the prospect of competing for shipping space in the importation of maize, with neighboring territories in the same position. Maize is the Union's principal breadstuff.

State aided research towards the possible discovery of mineral oil wealth in South Africa will be carried on this year to the extent of £30,000 ($135,000). Col. C. F. Stallard, Minister of Mines, said the possibilities of such research were sufficiently distinct to justify this expenditure.

South African newspapers and periodicals will be reduced approximately a further ten per cent in size as result of regulations announced by Col. Nicolaas Kruger, Controller of Paper. Daily papers mostly will be only thirty per cent of their pre-war size and week-end papers twenty-five per cent. Magazines and other periodicals will be only half their 1939 size.

Plans to make Kimberley and Johannesburg rivals of Amsterdam, Holland, in the diamond-cutting world are nearing fruition as the result of the Government's adoption of a scheme for the expansion of the industry. Minister of Mines Stallard and Minister of Labor W. B. Madeley are completing negotiations with the diamond-workers' union to increase the ratio of apprentices to journeymen 400 per cent and to absorb 250 new workers recruited from the ranks of returned soldiers.

South Africa will have a new Afrikaans (original Dutch) dictionary more complete than any now in existence, when Prof. J. J. Smith of Stellenbosch University, completes his work on this project, which began in 1926, with a £10,000 ($45,000) grant from the Government.

Hon. C. F. Clarkson, Minister of Public Works, has reported favorably on an experimental three-room house costing £170 ($765) suitable for the natives' sub-economic housing scheme. The natives (negroes) will be able to rent such houses, containing living-room, two bedrooms, storeroom and bathroom for £1 ($4.50) a month.

THE FARMERS' INCOME

A recently-tabled return in the Canadian House of Commons states that last year 1,488 farmers in the Dominion paid income tax aggregating $150,102. The return also showed that the smallest number of farmers who paid income tax during the past thirteen years was 249 in 1933, and the highest 2,626 in 1930. According to figures in the Canada Year Book, the total farm income in 1932 was $762,302,000 and in 1929 it was $1,631,000,000, these being the crop years on which the succeeding year's income tax would be paid.

The number of occupied farms in Canada varies, but it is generally between 700,000 and 750,000.

Assuming that farmers fill up their income tax papers at least as honestly as the average man who is in business, it would seem that despite its vast importance in the economic life of Canada, farming is not a profitable form of enterprise. If there were, say, three-quarters of a million drygoods stores, shoe stores, hardware stores, grocers, butchers, or bakers, and only about 1,500 of them were eligible for income tax, our economic situation would be disastrous. In fact, it would be absolutely impossible for the Government to carry on, because the trivial sum that could be obtained from 1,500 taxpayers would only run the Government services of this country for a few hours.

A public man stated the other day that farming people were one-third the population of the country, but they only had one-sixth the income. If that be true, it is a startling condition of affairs, and drastic steps are needed to adjust the balance. Of course, the farmers have great advantages in the way of producing their own food, for which they make no allowance in making out their income tax papers, and indeed it would be impossible for them to do so unless the Minister of Finance instructed them they must allow so much per head, per annum on that account.

But with whatever advantages they have, farmers' incomes and farmers' expenditures have too much "spread," and it is no wonder so many farmers' sons and agricultural workers quit the land and take to the cities. In view of the vast and growing importance of food production today and for after the war the situation demands urgent attention.

FROM THE RECORD FILES

A memorandum from the British Admiralty introduced into the Canadian House of Commons naval debate declared that it would be unwise for the Dominion to undertake the construction of capital ships at home, the cost of yards and facilities being excessive for the number of vessels required.

The officers elected at the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Baptist Church were C. J. Wright, M. Woodard, D. S. MacIntyre, J. F. S. McCaw, R. Gunning, R. Milford, R. Wadsworth, E. Salter and Miss Hopson.

Another appeal is being made to the courts to determine the possibility of enforcing Lord's Day Observance legislation in the Province of Quebec, chaos at present prevailing in this respect.

Prize-winners at a masquerade party given at Bishop's Crossing were Miss Fannie Bishop, Miss Sarah Andrew, Mr. D. A. Matheson and Mr. W. Bentley.

PRESS COMMENTS

PART OF THE PRICE OF WAR FOR PRESS OF CANADA

Sydney Post-Record
It has been decreed by Ottawa that the price of newspaper shall now, and hereafter till further "adjustment," be $4 a ton higher in price than it was up to the end of February. Donald Gordon, who made this announcement, said that the increase was not sufficient to place the newspaper industry on a safe footing, that Ottawa was endeavoring to get Washington to agree to a still further advance, but added: "It is fully realized that price increases in raw materials impose a considerable burden upon the publishing industry."

This looks like so self-evident a proposition that one wonders what Mr. Gordon thinks the publishing industry is going to do about it. Newspaper represents considerably more than half the average publisher's outlay for the "raw materials" used in his business. This increase is approximately eight per cent, and will add at least $100,000 a year to the production costs of the nation-wide chain of daily and weekly newspapers printed in Canada. And it comes on top of a rationing regulation which has cut down considerably the quantity of newspaper—and consequently the scope for advertising and circulation on which newspapers depend for their revenues.

How long Canadian publishers may be able to take it both ways will depend on how much further this process of raising costs and reduced earnings is to be developed by the Price Bureau at Ottawa. So far as the smaller papers are concerned the limit has already been about reached, and many of them have been compelled to raise their subscription prices in order to make both ends meet. Others are deliberately restricting their circulations and still others have reduced the number of their papers, so as to be able to carry on with their sharply rationed quotas of newspaper. All these devices, it is hardly necessary to point out, are prejudicial to the public interest, and none of them are adopted by the publishers from choice. They are in part the price of war, and perhaps in part the consequence of ill-considered bureaucratic measures, imposed by dollar-a-year economists at Ottawa. For the resultant situation, it may be added the Federal Government is alone and directly responsible.

THE U. S. NAVY IS DOING A SERIOUS JOB

From the New York Sun
It is almost pathetic the way our Army and Navy are disappointing the Japanese War Ministry. In the fighting on Guadalcanal, says General Sato, the Americans, worried by Japanese grand strategy, began action but were completely checked. They were checked, all right, but not by Japanese strategy. The boys simply forgot to take along their swimming suits. When they had killed or captured all the enemy on the island they couldn't catch the others who had taken to the water. Maybe Father Neptune would do better by them next time. The General also thinks that Americans are too serious and are lacking in sportsmanship. He suggests that Pacific Ocean be turned into an arena for a "battle for superiority." That's not a bad idea; Admiral Nimitz already has it in mind. It has taken our Navy a while to recuperate from the effects of the brand of sportsmanship the Japanese exhibited at Pearl Harbor, but its recovery has been rapid. Midway and the Coral Sea have already testified to an astonishing resurgence, but any American sailor could tell General Sato that these, as compared with what the Navy is getting ready to do, were just setting-up exercises. To the charge of seriousness we must, of course, plead guilty. In all the world there is nothing that is serious.

HOW OLD IS THE EARTH

Royal Ontario Museum News
Most Canadians are familiar with the seemingly endless expanse of rock which spreads across our North-western prairie to it as the "Canadian Shields." But few people are aware that the rocks which make up this "shield" are among the oldest on earth. To know their age is next to knowing the age of the earth.

We have put the question, "How old is the earth?" to Dr. E. S. Moore, of the Royal Ontario Museum. "To determine that a particular rock formation is older or younger than some other rock formation is not difficult but to determine the absolute age of a particular formation is difficult. Many methods whereby we can estimate geological time have been suggested," said Dr. Moore. "For example, we can make estimates on the basis of the time required for streams to carry to the sea all the salts found there. We can measure time by the rate that streams cut their canyons, or by the rate at which land areas are reduced through erosion. The application of these methods, in an attempt to arrive at the age of the earth, gives very indefinite results because there has been no uniformity of rate in the working of these processes."

"The best method for estimating the age of the earth," continued Dr. Moore, "is based on atomic disintegration of radio-active substances in rocks. The rate at which such substances break up into several elements, such as helium, lead and thorium, is constant and has been determined. Therefore, by very delicate methods, the quantity of these elements, set free by the breaking down of radio-active substances is determined and the age of the rocks can be fixed."

FOR AN OTTAWA CONFERENCE

New York Post
Every day that passes means the death of hundreds of men, women and children, victims of Hitler's determination to exterminate the Jews and other minorities. We hope that not many days are allowed to pass before the Ottawa Conference convenes and gets down to serious business. The conference has been suggested by Secretary of State Hull to British Ambassador Halifax after both official spokesmen had expressed their governments' concern for the ghastly plight of European minorities. That programme stresses the need for the United Nations to enlist the good offices of neutral agencies and nations to secure the release from captivity of as many as possible of Hitler's victims; to provide them with temporary sanctuary in Allied or neutral States; to give adequate financial guarantees to carry on for the duration until permanent settlement can be arranged. The proposal provides, too, for the United States and Great Britain to adjust their immigration and quota laws to the grim necessities of war. Here we have one of the best tests of the United Nations' announced good intentions. We raise this point because Mr. Hull raises it when he cautiously reminds the British Ambassador that our immigration policy can't be changed by anyone except Congress. We raise it, too, because Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary in the British Cabinet, recently declared in the House of Commons that he was unwilling to admit Jewish refugee children without close relatives in England because, in his opinion, it would promote anti-Semitism. So he lets anti-Semitism have its way, to keep from having anti-Semitism. The road to hell for millions is paved with good intentions thus qualified. The Ottawa Conference, yes! Let's have it, and now! And in the unqualified, unconditional spirit of the Casablanca Conference.

FOOD DOESN'T JUST GROW

Los Angeles Times
One reason for the dislocations of American manpower which now have Washington belatedly chasing itself around in circles is that few of those in authority appear to have taken the trouble to inform themselves in time on the extent of wartime shifts in employment. Figures now available indicate that we are just about two years late in getting corrective and protective measures started. In the interval of inaction, a great deal of milk has been irretrievably spilled. One such computation indicates, for example, that agriculture has lost nearly 3,000,000 workers in the past eighteen months. Another is a just-completed employment survey made by the National Industrial Conference Board showing that the number of hired farm workers in December was by some 70,000 the lowest ever recorded.

HAVE A SMILE

Anxious not to miss a good opening, the ambitious young man dashed into the lawyer's office. "I read in the paper that your partner's dead," he said, between gasps. "Can I take his place?" The lawyer looked at him without a smile as he replied dryly: "Certainly you can take his place, if you can arrange matters with the undertaker."

He'd waited patiently at the post office counter for many minutes while the two assistants conversed. "Her evening cloak was a wonder," said the blonde. "It was lamb edged with fox fur, and wide sleeves of printed Oriental satin." Then the woman turned. Rapping on the counter, the customer said: "I wonder if you could provide me with a stamp in royal blue, with a perforated border all round the 'tout ensemble' delicately treated on the reverse with mullage? Some thing about two cents, please."

"How be Daisie doin' now she's married?" asked Mrs. Gilles. "She's doin' grand," replied Mrs. Hobson. "She's got the puttiest lil' cottage with a garden an' that some real mahogany furniture, two pigs as some fowls, an the parson's wash-

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

NEW RULE EMPLOYED TO GAIN ADVANTAGE

This is the fourth of a series of 12 articles on the new laws of contract bridge.

Because of the importance of the condemnation law, I want to give you an example of it in the bidding as well as in the play. Under the old laws, when you had an insufficient bid and attention was called to it, you had to correct it. Today's hand will show you how it works under the new code.

North made an insufficient bid of one heart over South's one spade. East immediately called attention to the insufficient bid, but said, "I wish to concede the bid of one heart"—and proceeded to bid two diamonds.

East's hand is not strong enough to come in the bidding at the three-diamond level. But if he can get the bid in at the two-level, he believes it may direct West to open a diamond, and that lead may defeat a contract of four hearts.

Under the new laws East has a perfect right to bid two diamonds, if North and South get to four hearts, they will have to lose three diamonds and a heart trick. If East had not been able to bid two diamonds, West probably would make the natural opening of the jack of clubs, in which case a couple of the losing diamonds could be discarded on good spades.

GIN RUMMY QUIZ

Q. If a player holds three 3-card runs and a 10-spot, and then draws an ace, should he go down with one or play for gin?

A. This is the ideal gin hand, as the player has six possible cards to draw to put him out. Even if opponent goes down, he cannot be hurt.

I felt terrible!
I thought my blouse was white until ...I saw Helen's RINSO-WASHED blouse!

PEGGY: Good gracious, Helen, next to your blouse mine looks downright dingy. How you must have rubbed to get it so gleaming white!
HELEN: Not at all! It's easy to get clothes the whitest white with Rinso. Rinso's thick, lively suds float away dirt—even ground-in dirt.
PEGGY: But is Rinso really safe for my washable colored clothes, too?

HELEN: It most certainly is! Washable colors stay bright as flowers, even after dozens of washings.
PEGGY: I'm convinced! From now on I'm going to use nothing but Rinso on washdays.
Dishwashing's easier Rinso's Soak-and-Swirl way! Just soak dishes in Rinso's rich suds; then rinse 'em clean in no time. Rinse, drain 'em, don't dry 'em. Grease is gone—they'll drain without streaking. And with Rinso your hands don't get red and rough!

Not Hard To Be a Whiz at Repartee

Bright Phrases Win Friends

Gay friend-winning repartee! A girl needs it these days, for chances to make friends are brief—a casual meeting, a few minutes between dances, that's about all.

So, if you get stuck on "yes... no... I don't know" at such times learn a few bright phrases. Then, meeting Jack on the street, you slip easily into talk with a smiling "This is nice... what are you doing in this part of town?" and what to say next is no problem! Everdrop on any "clever" couple; they'd use jaunty but really everyday phrases like these. "Who wasn't third? The world and his wife!" "She's a refreshing person!" "Who's going to break the ice—me or you?" Not hard, is it?

As you get the trick you sail smoothly into a party with a "So nice of you to ask me!" to your hostess; you get your dance partners to blushing with a deft compliment, "How well you rumba!" In letters too you sound sincere with a warm "all my love and sympathy!" instead of a chilly "sorry to hear!"

Our 32-page booklet lists dozens and dozens of vivid phrases to make your conversation and letters sparkle. Gives pleasing remarks appropriate for many social, business occasions.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Effective Phrases for All Occasions" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

HOLDS PARTY

Ayer's Cliff, March 11.—In the I.O.O.F. Hall a very pleasant party was sponsored by the Women's Institute for the benefit of the "hot lunches," served to the pupils at the Ayer's Cliff High School, driving in from a distance. Mrs. R. Gordon McHarg and Mrs. Willis Dustin were in charge and the evening opened with a half hour of "charades," when J. N. Hibbard, V. A. Davis and the Misses Pat Miller, of Beebe, and Audrey Keeler were chosen as the best team. The prize to each of these was a cake of Lux soap.

The young folks in one part of the hall played table tennis and crokinole, while "500" and checkers were played by the older people, who entered into each game with a good deal of zest.

The "door prizes" were won by Mrs. E. E. Crook and Lysel Thompson, while Mrs. S. R. True and N. W. Lobb held the lucky cup and saucer bearing the blue marks. Mrs. D. N. Vaughan told fortunes and a great deal of amusement was afforded those who had their future told them in a very alluring manner.

The young people served the refreshments which consisted of crackers, cheese, doughnuts and coffee. Mrs. McHarg and Mrs. Dustin were ably assisted by Mrs. W. H. Rexford, Mrs. Glen Little, Mrs. Wm. Robinson and Mrs. Crook, while Mr. Crook made the coffee.

Each expressed themselves as having spent a very pleasant evening. The proceeds were most satisfactory.

Newsy Notes From Scotstown

At the March meeting of St. Alban's Women's Auxiliary, the devotional period was held in the Church, and was conducted by Rev. O. Berry. The W.A. Litany and prayers for absent and sick members and those in trouble were said, as well as special prayers for the King's Forces. With Mrs. J. A. Penoyer as organist, the hymns sung were, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee" and "The Kingdom Come, O God." A portion of the study book, "In the Service of Suffering," was reviewed by Rev. Mr. Berry, and the period closed with the Members' Prayer. Following the devotional period, a business session was held in the Church Hall, directed by the President, Mrs. Joseph Start. A sum of money was voted to the Dorcas Secretary for the work in that department, and the members were asked to save all tins, one-half pound size and smaller, for the Overseas Club, to be used to send taffy in the next boxes for Overseas. Literature on the price ceiling was distributed, and Blue Books, in which to keep a price ceiling record, were given out. It was decided to establish a Voluntary Fund, in the form of a tin box, to be passed around at each meeting, and the contents devoted to the care of the sick and needy of the congregation. Mrs. Penoyer was appointed to take charge of the box. The President announced that the World's Day of Prayer would be observed on Friday, March 12, in St. Andrew's United Church. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Afterwards the members and two visitors worked on a quilt for the special April sale.

The monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Good Cheer Mission Band was entertained by Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw and was conducted by the President, Wayne MacAulay. The theme for the afternoon, "We Worship Through the Bible," was announced and the hymn, "Tell Me the Stories of Jesus," was sung, followed by prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Dorothy Taylor, and the call to worship, "Be ye doers of the Word, not hearers only," was given by the President, and was followed by the response, "O come let us worship." It was planned that an Easter party be held, and a programme arranged. A reading was given by the leader, Mrs. A. A. MacKenzie, and the Scripture lesson from Luke XIX, was read by Alan Woodside. Following the Litany, the response, "Praise Him," was given and the offering dedicated with the hymn, "We Give Thee But Thine Own." A portion of the study book,

"The Bible Goes to the Northland," was reviewed by Mrs. MacKenzie, and Scripture texts were given by Alma MacKenzie, Mary Lou Ladd, Gerald Lobley and Gloria Burrows. Mrs. MacKenzie gave the temperance lesson on "Peace," followed by prayer for the Band Missionary, Miss Margaret MacKary. The meeting closed with the Mission Band Purpose.

DUPES BIG AID TO REPUBLICAN ARMY COMMAND

Belfast Justice Comments Upon Support Given Illegal Organization by Persons in Important Places.

Belfast, March 11.—Justice Robert Dick Megaw, reviewing activities of the Irish Republican Army at the opening of the Ulster Winter Assizes, declared "persons in high and influential positions" wittingly or unwittingly acted as "champions of treasonable operations."

"In some instances they are dupes or gulls," said the judge. "In others, they are sentimentalists who regard crime as a mental disorder and object to its punishment. Then there are those who regard appeasement as a practical policy."

"It is support of this kind on which the I. R. A. largely relies and without it the movement here would soon collapse. Those taking part in repressing and diverting the administration of the law are in several instances sympathizers with the active operations of the I. R. A., but are too cowardly to say so."

He said that apart from I. R. A. offences Ulster's crime situation was satisfactory. The judge said there was "palpable evidence" that the I. R. A. would render assistance to the war enemy and he denounced protests against the arrival of United States forces in Ulster.

"All loyalist members of the community have the warmest feelings of gratitude for the presence of the United States forces."

The judge said I. R. A. activities had "sorely tried" the Ulster police during the past year, and listing "alarming and dangerous occurrences" attributed to the I. R. A., said police and their barracks in all counties, except Londonderry, had been attacked with firearms and bombs.

The Rains Came . . . In Tunisia and New Guinea

The war may not be all wet, but it's certainly damp on the Tunisia and New Guinea fronts. Heavy rains in the first months of 1943 slowed up combat action in the North African theatre. Picture from German sources, top, shows a Nazi truck stranded by an overnight rainfall that washed out the road. Enemy troops study the situation from a ridge while other vehicles wait to advance. Down in New Guinea it's raining too, and the American soldier at right ruefully surveys his camp grounds flooded by a downpour of only a few hours' duration.

INDIANS RECEIVE CHERRIER IN PLAYDOWN

Open Two-Game Series At Local Rink Tonight

FANS WILL SELECT SPORTS CLUB TROPHY HOLDER TONIGHT

The Sherbrooke Sports Club Trophy, awarded annually to the rookie player showing the most progress in local intermediate ranks, will be voted upon at tonight's Intermediate play-off game between Sherbrooke Indians and the Cherrier Club from Montreal. All fans attending the match this evening will be handed a ballot as they enter with the names of the candidates inscribed. These slips must be marked in between the second and third periods for completion. The winner being announced later in the evening.

The players nominated for this cup are Yvan Sirois, R. Bergeron and Lalonde.

Cherrier Recreation Club, champions of the Montreal and District Intermediate Hockey League, will carry their season's undefeated record into the Park Street Arena tonight against the Sherbrooke Indians, Eastern Townships loop winners, for the inaugural match of the Provincial intermediate playdowns.

Phil Piche swept through their twelve game regular schedule without a loss to finish on top of the loop with twenty-three points, nine points up on the second place Lachine Beavers. Montreal Locomotive and Deaf-Dumb teams completed the four club play-off while the Silver Bullets dropped out by one point.

Cherrier carried their winning ways into the circuits playdowns to top Locomotive five to four on the round of a two-game total goal tourney. They were forced to the limit to take this though, being held to a three-all draw in the first game they came back for a two to one win in the second. They thus earned the right to battle Lachine in the final, the latter club disposing of Deaf-Dumb Institute with a two-goal score of 15 to 7.

The League leaders made a walk-away of the opening contest, pasting the Beavers with a none to one shellacking just a week ago. Lachine decided to withdraw from the competition after last Sunday's second game of the best of three series was called off because of transportation difficulties.

Many of the invading Cherrier squad will not be unfamiliar with their hockey surroundings as a large per cent of the puck chasers are graduates from Eastern Townships circuits. Representatives from local hockey circles on the club are Phil Piche, Gaston Plamondon, Emil Letarte, Henri Bernier, Willie Emond and Coach Lou Gregoire.

Piche began the present season with the same Indians he is scheduled to face this evening. He played in only one game, however, when the locals trimmed the Princess of Wales Regiment with Phil counting four goals and one assist. He spent the 1941-42 season with Baltimore in the Eastern United States Amateur Hockey League, returning to this country after that season.

Another who started the hockey season locally was Emil Letarte, playing in the same game as Piche, he accounted for one marker. Gaston Plamondon pivots the all-Sherbrooke forward line. He is also a former Red Indian. Henri Bernier, one of his loop's leading netminders, is another Sherbrooke product, playing in local junior ranks before going to Montreal. Bromptonville is also well represented on the line-up with forward Willie Emond and Coach Lou Gregoire.

The Cherrier rearguard features Armand Raymond, a former N.H.L. puckster with Montreal Canadiens. Since his return a number of years ago, amateur hockey he has played for various intermediate clubs around Montreal as well as several of the Senior Group teams. He played part of the present season with the Montreal Royals before joining Cherrier. Jack Dye forms the other half of this very effective defensive combination. He also is a former Royal of the present season, having partaken in several of their early games. Last year he saw a 16' Phil Piche who was a teammate of his at Baltimore. Frank St. Laurent completes the back line members.

Leading the front line brigade is Jean Arnaud, a name that has always been connected to the number one intermediate loops around Montreal. He formerly starred up front for the old Verdun Maple Leafs and Montreal Concordia in the O.S.H.L. Bobby Burr is another of their effective forward aggregation. This is perhaps the first season for many that his name has bottled a Sherbrooke Indians, who finished their final series with Lord Sherbrooke Tuesday night with only eight men on their active roster, may be reinforced this evening if their own players are not able to return. At present Roger Roy, who is in the army, Gaudet, injured Tuesday, and Yvan Sirois, out since last Friday, are on the sick list. The prospect of adding two star players from the Training Centre are bright. Noel Boileau, league leading scorer, and David right winger on their first line, may be the new arrivals.

MANUEL ORTIZ CLEARLY WINS BANTAMWEIGHT

Oakland, Calif., March 11.—(AP)—There's no disputing Manuel Ortiz' clear title to the world bantamweight championship—not after the pasting he gave Challenger Lou Salica last night.

The shifty, hard-socking little Mexican from El Centro, Calif., cleared up the 116-pound title question by stopping the ex-champ from Brooklyn in the eleventh round of a fifteen-rounder that was Ortiz' fight from the start.

Ortiz won the title from Salica in Hollywood last August, and only the New York State Athletic Commission refused to recognize him as champion because the fight went only twelve rounds instead of fifteen. Ortiz had been accepted by the National Boxing Association and the forty-seven states it controls.

Salica, a master boxer, had to call on his twelve years of ring experience to save himself from a worse beating. Ortiz had the edge in every round, battering his aging rival with a fearful assortment of blows to the midsection and face.

Salica was groggy from a body belting as the tenth ended—and then it came.

Ortiz sent the Brooklyn fighter down for a nine count with a terrific right to the body as the eleventh opened. Salica rose on wobbly legs, clearly unable to put up an effective defence. His manager gestured to the referee to stop the bout to save his fighter from further punishment.

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

If your child lacks a zest for food, it may be that his diet is short in very important food elements which, science has discovered, everyone needs for health. His growth may be stunted or impaired and he may be an easy victim to prevailing sicknesses.

As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in his diet.

Three servings of New, Improved Ovaltine furnish a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of Vitamins A, B, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—also quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins—all for building sturdy bodies.

So—if your child eats poorly, is thin or under par, why not start giving him New, Improved Ovaltine regularly? Get a tin at your drug or food store.

Relieve your Headaches Backaches Colds Rheumatic Pains

Dr. Chase's PARADOL For Quick Relief of Pain

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

DON'T FORGET THAT—

An ordinary cool place will not give your furs maximum protection. You should not take the risk of storing your furs in just a cold storage, because they are valuable to you and you want to preserve and lengthen their life as much as possible. Therefore, they must be put in a cold DRY place and only a DRY storage will help the pelts retain their natural oil and save them from drying and cracking.

THEY need YOUR HELP more than ever now!
