BRITAIN HOPES FOR JOINT REPLY TO GERMANY Passive Resistance Is Supported By Cuno Government

British Cabinet Considers Reply On Reparations

Chancellor Cuno's Speech Seemingly Has Had Little Effect in Great Britain, Where Dominant Opinion Expressed by Those in Authority Is that Importance of German Government Utterances Is Approaching the Vanishing Point, So Far as Actual Effects Are Concerned—Great Britain Will Not as Yet Admit Impossibility of Bringing Allies into Accord for a Joint Reply to Germany's Latest Reparations Offer.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, August 9.—Chancellor Cuno's speech in the Reichstag, yesterday, seemingly has had little effect in Great Britain, where the dominant opinion expressed by those in authority is that the importance of German Government utterances is approaching the vanishing point so far as the actual effects are concerned. The most welcome part of the speech was the Chancellor's admission that the German Government had nothing to expect from Great Britain in the way of sympathy or assistance. It is hoped this will mollify the French, who have been insisting that the present British policy is serving only to strengthen Germany's resistance to the Ruhr and elsewhere.

The cabinet met again this morning and continued its efforts to formulate an answer to the French and Belgian notes, which contained a virtual rejection of the British draft note to Germany. Great Britain will not as yet admit the impossibility of bringing the Allies into accord for a joint reply to Germany's latest reparations offer, it appears from current utterances in political quarters.

No definite announcement of British policy is expected until after the publication of the documents appertaining to the recent Allied negotiations. The making public of these documents will probably be delayed until next week.

BELGIUM TO TAKE INITIATIVE IF NEGOTIATIONS SHOW NO SIGNS OF BEING RESUMED WITHIN A SHORT TIME

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Aug. 9.—The Belgian Government has decided to take the initiative and directly approach Great Britain and France if the reparations negotiations among the Allies show no signs of being resumed at an early date, says a Brussels despatch to the Excelsior.

Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jaspar will come to Paris, the correspondent asserts, to propose that the reparations claims from Germany, so far as France and Belgium are concerned, be confined to the material damage suffered by those countries, and furthermore, that Great Britain cancel the inter-Ally debts, receiving from Germany for her part the amount of money she owes the United States.

On this basis, according to the despatch, the Belgian ministers will suggest that inter-Ally pourparlers be started to settle the guarantees to be required from Germany, thus coming within the provisions of the Versailles treaty.

CABINET AGAIN TAKES UP REPARATIONS PROBLEM

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Speculation regarding the deliberation which the cabinet resumes today is centered upon the possible effect of the British attitude in the reparations crisis of Chancellor Cuno's speech before the Reichstag yesterday.

The Chancellor's declared indifference to what the die-hards here have regarded as the British Government's too great tenderness toward Germany is hailed in pro-French quarters in England as another reason why there should be an agreement among France, Belgium and Great Britain.

There is, however, nothing to suggest that the position of the ministry will be materially affected by anything that Herr Cuno said, and the cabinet is still faced with a serious problem.

The ministerial discussions preliminary to today's session have revolved, according to some political writers, around the question of referring the points at issue either to an international commission to determine the capacity of Germany to pay, or to the League of Nations and the World Court.

These authorities believe this to be the crux of the cabinet meeting. In the meantime, Premier Baldwin continues to be subjected to a cross fire of criticism from the advocates of contrasting policies in a manner more familiar in the case of a dying ministry, than one whose Premier has held office only a few weeks.

CUNO GOVERNMENT LIKELY TO REMAIN IN POWER

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Information received in official quarters here from Berlin indicates that the Cuno Government is likely to continue in power. The retail storekeepers dismayed by the fall of the mark are said to be preparing to close their shops tomorrow, but the Government is regarded as strong enough to meet any eventuality.

The inter-Ally Reparation Commission has taken note of the new gold loan projected by the German Government.

PLAN TO CHECK SPECULATION IN EXCHANGE

Belgian Premier States Bourse Will Be Closed if Speculation Continues.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BRUSSELS, Aug. 9.—Premier Theunis today served notice on all bankers and brokers that if speculation in exchange continued, strenuous restrictive measures would be taken, beginning with limitations of exchange transactions and eventually leading, if necessary, to the closing of the Bourse.

The Premier is of the opinion that the decline in the Belgian franc is unjustified in view of the industrial prosperity of the country, the splendid crops, the favorable budget situation and the diminution of the circulation. All of these factors, he contends, should favor a better rate for Belgian money.

DUBLIN, August 9.—At the adjournment of the Dail yesterday President Cosgrave announced that the Dail would be dissolved today. He added that nominations for the new Dail would be made August 18th, that the elections would be held Aug. 27th, and that the new parliament would assemble on September 9th.

SEVERAL HURT IN HARVESTERS TRAIN WRECK

Train Jumped Rails Near Warren, Ont.—Cause of Wreck Is Unknown.

(Associated Press Despatch)

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 9.—Physicians in attendance on passengers injured in the harvesters' train wreck near Warren late yesterday reported early this morning that all are expected to recover.

A. Shaw, who sold out his home in Montreal and was on his way to Calgary to take up farming, is probably the most serious case. His injuries are severe contusions on shoulders, arms and head and internal injuries.

His two little sons, John and Richard, aged six and eight, are also in the hospital with him, having been severely bruised, but suffered no broken bones.

Mrs. Shaw had an almost miraculous escape and is uninjured beyond shock.

Mrs. Mary Lacross, bound from Quebec City to Winnipeg, has internal injuries.

Others injured in hospital here are:—

Mrs. C. S. Adams, Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, broken leg and sprained back.

L. Brier, Montreal, nose broken and bruises on body.

Sixteen other casualties were taken to Sudbury hotels, but beyond bruises and some minor cuts they are not serious. They were all from Montreal, mostly from the Lachine section, the names including: J. Thomas, Mrs. D. Eastwood, Milton S. Lloyd, W. Moore, R. Wheatley, Edward Moore, George Bratton, G. Cafe, Mrs. M. Shaw and two children, Ernest Gagnon and his wife, Gustave Masse and wife, A. Caron and Marie Gagnon. All were bound for Winnipeg and point west.

Mrs. Fraser, an aged woman from Montreal, taking her small granddaughter to Mactier, is also slightly hurt.

What caused the wreck is still a mystery. The train consisted of twenty cars in all, and was hauled by one of the largest locomotives in the C.P.R. service. It was making thirty-five miles an hour when Engineer Kitchen felt the bump of the ties and knew it had jumped the tracks. He applied the emergency brake and for a moment believed the train would stay on the ties, but the engine suddenly went into the ditch and upset. Neither fireman nor engineer were injured. Directly behind the engine was a through baggage car. This served as a buffer for the rest of the train. It was smashed to kindling and baggage scattered. The next three cars contained family parties and it was in these cars that all the casualties occurred. One overturned and another, taking the opposite track, went clear over the right of way into the Sudbury-North Bay highway. The third followed on the same side as the first. Next was the refreshment car, which slid into the ditch but kept upright and not even the milk taken on at North Bay was spilled. Supper was served from this car shortly after the wreck.

Two cars behind the refreshment car carried young men only. They were upset but no one was injured beyond bruises.

HAMLET OF SUMMER HOMES THREATENED BY FLAMES

Serious Fire Broke Out on Island of Orleans Yesterday—Flames Finally Checked.

(Associated Press Despatch)

QUEBEC, QUE., Aug. 9.—Fire yesterday, at St. Petronille, Island of Orleans, completely destroyed the house, barn and forge of Napoleon Ferland, a farmer and lighthouse keeper.

The fire spread to the adjoining woods and for a time threatened to wipe out the hamlet of summer cottages.

The villagers as well as the members of the Orleans Golf Club worked hard to keep the fire from spreading and succeeded in confining it to the three buildings destroyed before the Quebec firemen arrived on the scene in response to an appeal from the summer residents of the island.

Cuno Declares Passive Resistance To Be Supported—Regarded As Most Depressing Statement Made By Present Government

Chancellor Reiterated that Germany Could Not and Would Not "Abandon a German Land and Betray Fellow-Countrymen"—Coalition Parties View Statement as Serious in View of Present Situation.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BERLIN, August 9.—Chancellor Cuno's address to the Reichstag, in which he declared that passive resistance—the sole weapon of the Ruhr and Rhineland—would continue to be supported by the nation, has been received as the most depressing statement yet made to the national legislature by the present government.

The Coalition parties view it as serious in view of the present situation, and also regarded it as a disappointing utterance.

The Chancellor was vividly disconcerted by the boisterous heckling of the Communist members, who, when he arose to speak, hailed him as "traitor," "swindler," and "president of the Stinnes Company."

He was continually interrupted as the address progressed, but when it was finished there was prolonged applause.

Asserting that the British draft reply to the last German reparations note contained much that was impossible of fulfillment, Herr Cuno said it appeared Great Britain had gone extraordinarily far in her concessions to the French viewpoint.

The British draft reply, he continued, "suggests that Germany should withdraw its orders and regulations regarding passive resistance, thereby giving the occupation authorities the possibility of re-establishing the normal economic life of the occupied regions."

"Therefore, it is necessary to continue with all our strength passive resistance, free from mad acts of violence and terror, against the people of the occupied regions, and to support actively from the unoccupied territory the population which is persevering in a passive resistance of its own will."

The Chancellor reiterated that Germany could not and would not "abandon a German land and betray fellow-countrymen."

Repeating the French statement that the Ruhr was to be freed only when the last pfennig was paid, and pointing out that the most vital interests with which Germany might pay had been taken away when the Ruhr was seized.

Herr Cuno asserted that if Germany's collapse was to be accomplished "in the name of justice," she must be under no illusion.

"Submission to the merciless obstinacy of the French Government," he added, "would have to be sealed with a document which would be worse than the Treaty of Versailles, which weighs like a curse upon the peoples of Europe."

Herr Cuno said he was only certain that there was no reason for great hopes and that Germany must believe and help herself.

"If there is not light on the horizon," he declared, "then it is for us to keep alive by means of our own iron determination."

Civil war of disorder could have no place in Germany at the present time, the Chancellor declared, adding that such outbreaks would be suppressed by the government.

SLIGHT DROP IN THE RETAIL FOOD PRICES

Cooking Eggs and Dairy Butter Showed Largest Declines—Potatoes and Beef Higher.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, ONT., August 9.—A slight decline in retail prices of food is recorded by the statistics branch of the Department of Labor. The average cost of the weekly family budget, including staple foods, was $10.71 at the beginning of July, compared with $10.23 for June.

For July a year ago the budget cost $10.27. The same articles cost $16.92 in June, 1920, when prices were at their highest, and $10.20 for 1914.

Cooking eggs and dairy butter showed the largest declines, though cheese, flour, bread, creamery butter and lard were also lower. The principal advances occurred in potatoes and beef, while evaporated apples and granulated sugar showed smaller advances.

APPROVAL BY MANAGEMENT OF MANDATES

Mandatory Powers Have Fully Protected Rights of Native Populations.

(Associated Press Despatch)

GENEVA, Aug. 9.—General approval of the administration of the mandates given by the League of Nations was accorded yesterday by the permanent mandates commission at the public session, closing its three weeks' hearing on the reports submitted by the mandatory powers.

The commission found that the mandatory powers have fully protected the rights of the native populations. As outlined, the measures taken by the mandatory powers against the abuse of alcohol in the mandatory was considered satisfactory, but the commission decided to recommend to the Council of the League an act pertaining to the importation of alcohol into the African territory under British mandate.

The commission held that the spirit, if not the letter, of the mandates, would be violated if the natives were recruited for the army. It was intended they should be utilized only for defense and the maintenance of order in Togo and French Kamerun.

M. Beau, who represents France on the commission, could not dictate to a mandatory regarding complaints that competition between different organizations had become inconvenient as the mandates accord religious freedom as long as order is maintained.

Removes Hairy Growths Without Pain or Bother

It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growths, for with a little delatone handy you can keep the skin entirely free from these beauty destroyers. To remove hair, make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To guard against disappointment, be careful to get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.

Mrs. Fannie Judson, widely known and highly esteemed resident of 228 Albert St., Windsor, Ont., recently said:

"There is nothing better I can say for Tanlac than that I am still enjoying the splendid health it brought me four years ago. At that time I had been suffering from a complication of troubles for five years and was right on the verge of a complete breakdown. I had fallen off to a mere skeleton of my former self and was too weak and nervous even to hold a writing pen. I could sleep little and suffered from indigestion."

"I used five bottles of Tanlac and gained five pounds for every bottle and am now enjoying as fine health as most any school girl."

SUMMER COMPLAINT CRAMPS and DIARRHOEA

There is no other kind of disease that comes on so quickly and with so little warning as an attack of bowel trouble.

One may retire at night, in the best of health, and before morning be awakened by terrific cramps and pains in the stomach followed by diarrhoea, dysentery, summer complaint or bowel trouble in one form or another.

At this season of the year, when bowel troubles are so prevalent, we would advise the precaution of always having on hand a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so that you will be ready for any and all emergencies. You will find that a few doses of this valuable remedy, taken promptly, will be the means of preventing a great deal of unnecessary suffering, and many a time save life.

Mrs. W. H. Judd, 174 Catherine St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "Last summer I had a very bad attack of summer complaint, cramps and diarrhoea. I tried many different remedies, but they did not seem to help me. I heard of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I decided I would try it. I only took a few doses, and in a short time I was better."

Price 50c a bottle; put up by The T. M. L. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BANK MESSENGERS ARE PROTECTED.

During the past few days the messengers from the various banks in the city have been going to and from the clearing house under guard as a protective measure against any attempted hold-up. This course was adopted following the sensational hold-up which occurred in Toronto a short time ago, in which two messengers were shot and a large sum of money stolen. A policeman now accompanies the messengers from the branches to the clearing house and back on their trip each morning. This safeguard was adopted by the police department in response to a request from the banks for protection.

COLLECTION OF CLIPPINGS IS INTERESTING

Records Gathered by Late Mayor of Barnston Include Accounts of Sinking of Titanic and Death of McKinley.

An interesting record of some great events and famous men of the past thirty years is contained in a book of newspaper clippings gathered by the late Mr. Calixte A. Dupuis, one time mayor of Barnston. Here, in this volume, the reader finds the names of persons, who in their day were outstanding and powerful figures. Accounts of tragic events of the utmost importance, which are seldom mentioned or thought of now, are also noticed and the whole collection is bound to impress those who read it, because the great changes wrought by time are shown and the transiency of the human race and its petty affairs is once again demonstrated. The volume is not large but it contains a great deal of information, especially interesting to those who follow the life of Eastern Canada.

Turning to the first page, accounts of the sinking of the mighty Titanic are found and the reader cannot but be astounded at the horror of this sea tragedy, one of the greatest the world has ever experienced. Striking an iceberg on April 24th, 1912, the huge vessel, thought to be unsinkable, plunged to the bottom of the Atlantic, carrying with it to their doom over sixteen hundred passengers. Many Canadians were among the lost and the various reports contain accounts of great heroism in the face of certain death.

Another section is devoted to the death of President McKinley, on September 15th, 1901, after he had been shot by an assassin. This chief executive was succeeded by Theodore Roosevelt, who became so famous during his period of power.

The rapid advancement in the science of wireless is also noticed. For an account of the first transatlantic wireless message is found in this collection of extracts. The announcement of the remarkable achievement was made on December 16th, 1901, by Marconi himself, the energetic scientist who has done so much in advancing and developing that branch in which he has always been so vitally interested.

Various other accounts include the report of the death of Sir John Thompson, Premier of Canada in 1894, shortly after being sworn in as an Imperial Privy Councillor; the farewell of the Prince of Wales at Quebec in July 1905; the death of Mercer and the funeral on November 1, 1895; and the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught in 1911. The clippings are from such papers as the Family Herald and Weekly Star; Edition Hebdomadaire and the Montreal Star.

The collection, although containing nothing of great antiquity, even today is worth the effort which was expended, and its value will increase as the years pass by and the pages turn yellow with age. The book was loaned to the Record through the kindness of Mr. C. O. Palmer.

first of the harvesters' excursions, which started from Montreal for the West yesterday.

From the depot of the Canadian National Railways around 135 men boarded the trains, while it is reported that at the Canadian Pacific station the total of departures was in the vicinity of 300. All trains leaving here for Montreal yesterday carried their share of the excursionists.

It is stated that over 8,000 were taken on the first excursion which left Montreal yesterday. These were carried on ten trains which left at intervals during the day. Five trains left the Bonaventure station and five left the Windsor station, all bound for the western grain fields.

FARMERS HOLD FIELD DAY AT LENNOXVILLE

Funeral of Miss Mary L. Burrage
The funeral of the late Miss Mary Livingstone Burrage, who died after a lingering illness at her home on Main Street on July 31st was held on the following Thursday afternoon. Prayers were said at the house, and the service at St. George's Church was conducted by Rev. O. Lewis, of Sherbrooke, in the absence of Rev. Canon Wright, pastor of the church. Appropriate hymns were sung by the choir and at the conclusion of the service, the mortal remains of this faithful member and worker of the church were borne for the last time from its sacred precincts.

The office of bearers was borne by Messrs. W. H. Abbott, A. T. Spied and W. J. H. McKindsey. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers bearing mute testimony of the esteem and affection of many friends.

The chief mourners were a brother, Mr. William Burrage, of St. Armand, Mayor William Morris, and Mr. Aylmer Morris, of Sherbrooke, cousins, and Mr. Mappin, of Richmond. Internment took place in Malvern Cemetery.

The late Miss Burrage was the eldest daughter of the late Rev. H. G. Burrage, for forty-six years incumbent of St. James' Church, Hatley. In the adjoining rectory Miss Burrage was born and spent the early years of her life and in this community, many former friends learned with deep regret the announcement of the death. Upon the death of her parents, Miss Burrage came to Lennoxville to reside with her uncle and aunt, the late Lt.-Col. Morris and Miss Morris in the family home, "Ballinooker."

Here she remained for over forty years of her life, the remainder being spent in her home on Main Street, where she passed away. She leaves, in addition to those present at the funeral, one sister, Mrs. F. D. Walsh, Richmond, to mourn her loss.

Miss Burrage was an active member of St. George's Church and of the Guild, giving freely of her time, means and strength to the support of both. Her gentle courtesy and kindly presence will be much missed in the town where she has long been a familiar and welcome figure. The sympathy of the community is extended to those who mourn her loss.

Small Boy Badly Injured.
Ashley, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bradley met with a serious accident yesterday. In attempting to climb a tree the boy slipped and fell to the ground, breaking his arm in two places. At the elbow the bone protruded through the flesh, the arm being also broken near the wrist, constituting an exceptionally severe fracture. Medical help was soon at hand, everything possible being done to alleviate the child's sufferings.

General Notes.
Among those who left for the western harvest fields yesterday were Mr. G. Beaulieu and Master Carl and Mr. A. Maskrey.

way has had in seasons, will be presented by the Klark Stock Company at His Majesty's Theatre during the remainder of this week. It is a continuous avalanche of wholesome, irresistible fun; constructed from an ingenious starting point.

Everything would have been all right, if Mabel hadn't refused to return Garry's gift after his wedding to another girl. It was a harmless gift, yet Garry feared what might happen if his jealous wife learned he had presented such a garment to another girl.

It has been a long time since so funny a play as "Up in Mabel's Room" has been written.

NEW SIGNS ON ENTRANCE TO MAIN CITY ROADS

Thanks largely to the energy of Secretary John McConnell, of the Sherbrooke Automobile Club, tourists coming to and from the city will have an opportunity of appreciating the value which local residents place upon their spasmodic visits.

Three large sign boards, attractive and bearing appropriate wording, have been placed along the principal roads leading to the city of Sherbrooke, one on the Derby Line highway, one on the Montreal highway and one on the Richmond road. On driving towards the city tourists are faced with the following welcome: "Sherbrooke—We are glad to see you come." This welcome is portrayed as coming from a smiling business man, while on the rear of the board, noticeable when leaving the city, is the sign: "We hate to see you go."

only the business man has lost his smile and expresses sincere regret. The signs are worded both in French and in English, and the city has undertaken to provide the electric lights for use above the boards. This will result in three splendid landmarks, original, well conceived and just as well executed.

FARMERS HOLD FIELD DAY AT LENNOXVILLE

Ninth Annual Field Day to Be Held under Auspices of Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

In discussing the proposed "Farmers' field day" to be held at the Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, next week, Mr. J. A. McClary, Superintendent, observed:—

"It gives us pleasure to announce that we have decided to hold our ninth annual Farmers' Field Day at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm this year on Wednesday, August 15th."

"We feel that it is our privilege and duty, after being favored with such a large attendance and so much interest shown at our various Farmers' Day gatherings held in the past, to hold another one this year. We surely appreciate the co-operation and assistance that has been given us in the past at these gatherings by the farmers and their families and only hope that the same good feeling and co-operation still exists."

"We wish to extend to every farmer and his family in the Eastern Townships a most hearty invitation to join us on this day and endeavor to make this one of the largest gatherings of the kind ever held in this district. We also wish to extend a special invitation to the boys and girls to attend in as large numbers as possible as they will be the men and women of tomorrow. There never was a time in the history of our country that it is more necessary to do everything possible to retain our boys and girls on the land."

"The forenoon will be spent in inspecting live stock, poultry, farm crops, horticulture and other lines of work being carried on. Talks will be given in the afternoon by the best agriculturists of the day on different farm subjects, both in French and English."

"We anticipate having the hearty co-operation of the Women's Institute Organization of this district join with us in helping to make this day an educational as well as a social success."

"These organizations have been doing much in this district towards making our farm homes more attractive and pleasant, and, at the

MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT HAD FATAL RESULT

T. Hald Passed Away at Sherbrooke Hospital as a Result of Accident Outside Lennoxville.

H. Hald, of Willoughby, Vt., who crashed into the fence just outside the Comstock bridge, while travelling on a motorcycle a few days ago, succumbed to his injuries and passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital last night, as a result of concussion of the brain. The deceased was not a stranger to Sherbrooke and vicinity, having frequently made trips to this city. It appears on coming to the bridge Hald was faced with the choice of smashing into an oncoming car or going into the railing. He chose the latter course and, together with his passenger, Miss Pearl Stevens, of Boston, went over the embankment with disastrous results.

On being transferred to the Sherbrooke Hospital it was found Hald was suffering from a concussion and he was placed under the care of Dr. Henry. In spite of every precaution he passed away, while Miss Stevens is progressing very favorably and is expected to leave the hospital within a few days.

The body was transferred to Lord's Undertaking Parlor following an inquest held by Deputy Coroner Leonidas Bachand, in which a verdict of "accidental death" was returned. The body was subsequently transferred, by Boston and Maine last evening to Orleans, Vt., where the funeral will take place.

The late Mr. Hald, a bachelor, thirty-three years of age, is very well known around Orleans, Vt., and was held in very high esteem in business and social circles.

Funeral of Mrs. John W. Downes.

The death of Mrs. John W. Downes occurred at her home here on August 2, 1923, as announced in a previous issue.

Mrs. Downes was previous to her marriage, Phoebe Malvine Hooker, eldest daughter of the late William Hooker and Mary Bishop, and was born on November 2, 1848.

The early years of her life were spent in this place. She then left for St. Johnsbury, Vt., and later spent about two years in Nashua, N.H., and was married while there to Mr. John W. Downes, of Brookbury, Que., on October 26, 1872, and after their marriage they resided in the same place for about two years, coming to Brookbury in November, 1874, where they bought the old Downes' home farm, and where Mrs. Downes lived for forty-seven years. Mr. Downes also lived there until his death in July, 1918. In June, 1921, Mrs. Downes sold the farm to Mr. Douglas Saunders, whose farm joined hers, and that summer had a house built in this place, where she moved in December.

She had been in failing health for several years, but was only obliged to give up her household duties for about six weeks before her death.

Prayers were read at the house at 2 o'clock on August 8 by the Rev. T. F. Duncan, and the funeral was held at the Methodist Church at 2:30 o'clock, the bearers being Messrs. J. R. McFadden, M. C. Bishop, George S. and R. C. Rolfe.

Interment was made by the side of her late husband in the Brookbury Methodist Cemetery.

She is survived by one daughter and two grandchildren, Mrs. Harry Downes, Mr. Harvey Downes and Miss Mabel Downes, of East Dade.

THROWERS OF FILTH.

Scarcely a month before President Harding crossed over into "the undiscovered country from whose bourn no traveller returns," he was the central figure at a great Fourth of July celebration in Portland, Oregon. It was a remarkable day in many ways, but the outstanding feature of the programme was the participation by British Marines and these representatives of His Majesty's forces, through a special dispensation, were able to carry arms in the parade. This was the first instance of British naval men marching in a parade on Independence Day on American soil, and throughout the whole programme a true spirit of international tolerance, the one cure for world troubles, was in evidence.

The next day the incident was warmly commented upon by many of the saner daily publications, and those, who have the ability to read the signs of the times aright, realized that the British participation at Portland was a fine, concrete example of Anglo-Saxon friendship. But now, in an addition of August 4th, the Gaelic-American, a New York paper, has started muck throwing. This journal, which by the way is devoted to insidious and despicable anti-British propaganda, views with alarm the Portland happening and condemns the late President in no uncertain terms. Underneath a picture of the British Marines marching in the parade, the paper in question prints some utterly ludicrous and insane statements. The following are typical of the whole tone of the article:

"Despatches intimated that there had been an objection to the equipment of the detachment landed but that there had been a compromise, and that the men should only carry 'side arms,' which in British naval technical language signifies bayonets and cutlasses. As our readers will see, this was untrue, and the men were fully armed in every sense of the word.

"And then, we ask our readers to fix their mind's eyes on the attitude of the illegally present and insolently intrusive fully armed British group as they swept past the President of the United States, as depicted in the reproduction of the scene. As they look into it can they not see the British officer leading, flourishing his sword in defiance at the Declaration of Independence, while his men in their onward march trampled on the Constitution and on the law that forbade their presence on our soil?

"Then let them reflect on the imbecility of the platitudinous babble with which the Chief Executive of the Nation greeted the Foreign Invaders, and on the insulting suppression of the National Anthem, 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' out of deference to the Old Enemy's uniform. Surely the Americanism of all who participated without protest in that tragedy cannot have been above the half of one per cent. This is among the things to be remembered in November next year.

Such statements contain the very essence of intolerance and among certain classes of the easily led, they are bringing hate against the Empire and are dividing the Republic against itself. The writer of the article in the Gaelic-American is committing the worst of follies and should not be permitted to set words upon paper. He states that 'there had been a compromise and that the men should only carry 'side arms.' Judging by the Canadian despatches this was not so, for the report from Portland read: 'Special arrangements enabled the British to carry their arms.' This New York publication has long ago lost its soul, for it has utterly debased itself by continued efforts to stir up strife.

The body of the dead President will be committed to its last resting place tomorrow and will forever pass from the sight of human eyes. There are, however, certain British Marines who will always remember him kindly. The Navy of the Empire will never forget the occurrence, and the British people, as a whole, will always feel more friendly towards the States because of the Portland incident. Mr. Harding at this time performed a gracious act and it is a profound pity that such muck, as printed in the Gaelic-American, is being thrown over the body of the Chief Executive, who will be long remembered after his editorial enemies have passed away into the limbo of the forgotten past.

BRITAIN AND SHIPBUILDING.

During the past the shipbuilding industry has been one of the foremost of all industrial activities in Great Britain. With the coming of war, however, the economic world was turned topsy-turvy. International trade received a sad blow and the jar was passed on and gave the shipbuilding industry a nasty knock. The workers in the "Tight Little Island," in spite of disturbances, have been able to keep pace with the times and although production of tonnage has been very uncertain, nevertheless, the British shipwrights still lead the way for the rest of the world. The editorial column of the Quebec Telegraph comments on the situation as follows: "The shipbuilding returns of Lloyd's Register for the past quarter show a decrease of about 154,000 tons as compared with those for the previous quarter in the tonnage under construction in Great Britain and Ireland. At the end of June the tonnage being built was 1,337,769 tons, being less than those for twelve months ago by 572,000 tons. Considered superficially these statistics might be considered depressing. 'Unsupported by comparisons,' says a contemporary, they might be construed as an indication that mastery of the seas was slipping from the Motherland. But there is no cause for alarm. The total merchant tonnage under construction in other countries is 1,206,096 tons, but this includes about 132,000 tons on which work has been suspended, leaving about 1,074,000 tons actually under construction. The latter figure is less by 146,000 tons than at the end of March, 1923. The figures for the leading countries abroad are given as follows: 'Germany and Danzig, 352,000 tons; France, 170,866 tons; Italy, 141,453 tons; United States, 133,660, and Holland, 99,721. When it is considered that, of a total tonnage of 570,412 launched in the world during the quarter just ended, the contribution of Britain and Ireland was 239,378, the outstanding leadership of the British Empire must be apparent. Swirled around in the vortex of world politics, hampered and retarded and interfered with at every turn, in her attempts to get back to normalcy and an honorable peace footing, the dogged determination of the Motherland is standing her in good stead."

NEIGHBOR CANADA.
(Milwaukee Sentinel.)

Many look forward to the severance of Canada from Great Britain, now that Canada wants to have an envoy of her own at Washington. But even if Canada should drift away from England, this does not necessarily mean that she would apply for admission to the United States. The tenacity of smaller nations, who would rather be small than lose their identity, has often been demonstrated. We have a friendly and peaceful neighbor, and this is as much as we can wish for.

OUR NEIGHBORS BEREAVED.
(Toronto Globe.)

News of the sudden death of Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, late Thursday night, will come as a shock, not only to the people of his own nation, but also to the citizens of the young British Dominion who live beside them as blood relatives and good neighbors. The sorrow of the Republic will meet sympathetic response in Canada.

The public service of the dead Chief Executive was comparatively short, and free from the spectacular. But he impressed himself on the public as a man of caution, of sanity, of good judgment and of sound character. He held to a generous degree the confidence of his fellow-citizens and the respect of those of other nations.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.
(Christian Science Monitor.)

The continued decline in commodity prices is the subject of widespread attention at present. There is no doubt that this is mostly responsible for the pessimism among business men and a slight lull in commercial activity. Until early spring the general trend of commodity prices was upward. Cash wheat in the Chicago market sold as high as $1.38 a bushel in February. It has steadily declined since then to 97 1/2 cents a bushel, the lowest price in a decade. Cotton sold as high as 31 cents a pound in March. It recently sold around 22 cents. Flour, rubber, pig iron, steel, wool, sugar, crude oil, gasoline, and various other commodities are selling well under the high prices of the year. Some of them reached new low levels for the year during the last week.

ARMS AND THE GIRL.
(Chicago Evening Post.)

A New York banker recently entered the lists against the sleeveless gown, in his institution. Already there are ominous rumblings which may shake it to the very bottom of the underground safety vault. The king of finance may find his crown toppling when he thus seeks to invade the inalienable rights of his stenographers to keep up with the style. The banker's theory is good. The sleeveless gown is no cooler than the flimsy material which creeps down somewhere near the elbow. In spite of the saving of material, it costs no less; being in style it really costs more than its predecessor. It is not needed for the advantages of comfort, economy and cleanliness which enabled the short skirt to survive rather sharp criticism. It lacks the chic appearance of bobbed hair, the latter characteristic applying to those who do not wear it hanging straight down a la Indian. Seen in an office, the sleeveless gown raises a passing wonder whether the wearer had time to go home after a ball on the preceding night or after a breakfast at the one-arm had come directly to work.

The child's welfare contest was the next topic for discussion. Not much progress was made owing to no reply having been received from the directors of the Compton Agricultural Society No. 2 as to whether they would enlarge the building owned and operated for many years by the W.C.T.U. A committee was appointed to make necessary arrangements: Mrs. G. W. Beard (convener), Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. R. A. Scott, Mrs. Wm. Taylor and Mrs. Bowman.

The Wings of the Morning

A Great Story of Adventure and Romance

BY LOUIS TRACY.

At last, on a command from the chief, the Dyaks scattered in various directions. Some turned towards Europa Point, but the majority went to the east along Turtle Beach or by way of the lagoon. Prospect Park was deserted. They were scouring the sections of the island in full force.

The quiet watcher on the ledge took no needless risks. Though it was impossible to believe any stratagem had been planned for his special benefit an accident might betray him. With the utmost circumspection he rose on all fours and with comprehensive glance examined trees, plateau, and both strips of beach for signs of a lurking foe. He need have no fear. Of all places in the island the Dyaks least imagined that their quarry had lain all night within earshot of their encampment. At this hour, when the day had finally conquered the night, and the placid sea offered a turquoise path to the infinite, the scene was restful, gently bewitching. He knew that, away there to the north, P. and O. steamers, Messageries Maritimes, and North German Lloyd liners were steadily churning the blue depths en route to Japan or the Straits Settlements. They carried hundreds of European passengers, men and women, even little children, who were far removed from the knowledge that tragedies such as this Dyak horror lay almost in their path. People in London were just going to the theatre. He recalled the familiar jingle of the hansoms scampering along Piccadilly, the more stately pace of the private carriages crossing the Park. Was it possible that in the world of today—the world of telegraphs and express trains, of the newspaper and the motor car—two inoffensive human beings could be done to death so shamefully and openly as would be the fate of Iris and himself if they fell into the hands of these savages? It was inconceivable, intolerable! But it was true!

And then, by an odd trick of memory, his mind reverted, not to the Yorkshire man or he learnt to love as a boy, but to a little French inland town where he once passed a summer holiday intent on improving his knowledge of the language. Interior France is even more remote, more secluded, more provincial, than agricultural England. There no breath of the outer world intrudes. All is laborious, circumspect, a trifle poverty-stricken, but beautified by an Arcadian simplicity. Yet one memorable day, when walking by the banks of a river, he came upon three men dragging from out a pool the water-soaked body of a young girl into whose fair forehead the blunt knob often seen on the back of an old-fashioned axe had been driven with cruel force. So, even in that tiny old-world hamlet, murder and lust could stalk hand in hand.

He shuddered. Why did such a hateful vision trouble him? Resolutely banning the raven-winged specter, he slid back down the ledge and gently awakened Iris. She sat up instantly and gazed at him with wondering eyes. Fearful lest she should forget her surroundings, he placed a warning finger on his lips. "Oh," she said in a whisper, "are they still here?" He told her what had happened, and suggested that they should have something to eat while the coast was clear beneath. She needed no second bidding, for the long vigil of the previous night had made her very hungry, and the two breakfasted right royally on biscuits, cold fowl, ham and good water.

In this, the inner section of their refuge, they could be seen only by a bird or by a man standing on the distant rocky shelf that formed the southern extremity of the opposite cliff, and the sailor kept a close lookout in that direction. Iris was about to throw the remains of the feast into an empty oil-tin provided for refuse when Jenks restrained her. "No," he said, smilingly. "Scraps should be the first course next time. We must not waste an atom of food."

"How thoughtless of me!" she exclaimed. "Please tell me you think they will go away today." But the sailor flung himself flat on the ledge and grasped a Lee-Metford.

"Be still, on your life," he said. "Squeeze into your corner. There is a Dyak on the opposite cliff." True enough, a man had climbed to that unhappily placed rocky table, and was shouting something to a confederate on the cliff over their heads. As yet he had not seen them, nor even noticed the place where they were concealed. The sailor imagined from the Dyak's gesture, that he was communicating the uselessness of further search on the western part of the island.

When the conversation ceased, he hoped the loud-voiced savage would descend. But no! The scout looked into the valley, at the well, the house, the cave. Still he did not see the ledge. At that unlucky moment three birds, driven from the trees on the crest by the passage of the Dyaks, flew down the face of the cliff and began a circling quest for some safe perch on which to alight.

Full, fresh fruity taste

Now you can make perfect-keeping, delicious jams and jellies with only one minute of boiling.

No fruit juice is boiled away, therefore Certo-made jams and jellies taste better—they cost less and keep perfectly. None of that long-cooked sugar tang that makes old-fashioned jams and jellies so strong.

Certo is pectin, the jellying element of fruit. Complete booklet of Recipes with every bottle.

If your grocer does not have Certo send his name and 40c and we will mail you a bottle. Write for revised Certo booklet of 73 recipes.

THINK TARIFF RATES SHOULD BE INCREASED

Claim Canada Should Endeavor to Increase Export Trade by Making Preferential Tariff Arrangements.

MONTREAL, August 9.—Active steps are being taken by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to impress upon their members throughout the Dominion, and Canadians generally, the necessity for a well balanced and stable protectionist fiscal policy for Canada.

The tariff views of the Association, as embodied at the annual convention held at Toronto last June have been set forth in poster form. The views amount to a conviction that the Canadian customs tariff should be immediately and substantially increased on finished products, and that when higher rates of duty have been put into effect Canada should endeavor to increase her export trade by making preferential tariff arrangements based on the principle of bargaining, with other countries, particularly countries of the British Empire.

Copies of the resolution passed at the convention, printed in placard form, have been mailed to each of the five thousand members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association throughout Canada, to be hung up and displayed in members' offices. A French translation has been prepared for the Province of Quebec.

DUPONT STRONG FEATURE ON WALL STREET 'CHANGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. (Wall Street Noon).—Temporary strength was shown by the equipments on announcement that American Locomotive had been placed on a six per cent annual basis, that stock advancing 1 1/2 and Baldwin 1 1/2. The response elsewhere, however, was slight and before noon prices again had worked down to the low figures of the first half hour. Dupont was one of the few strong spots, advancing four points. Burns Brothers A. dropped three points to a new low level for the year.

Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

BEARS HAD ADVANTAGE ON CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET

(Associated Press Despatch)
CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Bears had a little advantage in the wheat market today during the early dealings. Hedging sales were in evidence and the demand from buyers was only of a scattered character. Accumulating stocks and absence of an adequate export outlet appeared to act as a drag on the market.

The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2 cent lower with September at 87 1/2 to 88 cents and December at $1.01 1/4 to $1.01 1/2 was followed by a slight rally and which, however, failed to hold.

Corn and oats were easier with wheat. After opening a shade to 1/4 cent off, with September at 76 1/2 to 76 3/4 cents, the corn market continued to sag.

Oats started unchanged to 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, with September at 35 1/2 to 35 3/4 cents and later showed something of a setback.

Provisions were steady in line with the hog market.

PRICES HEAVY ON BOURSE

(Associated Press Despatch.)
PARIS, Aug. 9.—Prices were heavy on the Bourse today. Three per cent rentes 56 francs 60 centimes. The United States dollar was quoted at 17 francs 48 centimes.

MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Wall Street Journal will say today:—

Steel and Tube of America to redeem stock. August 21st date set for redemption.

Willya Overland net June quarter $5,202,918 compares with 2,729,468 for first three months. Half year's earnings $7,942,336.

United Alloy Steel earnings larger. Six months net after preferred 2.32 on share common.

Outlook for zinc industry encouraging.

Wall Street Journal—Wall Street's reverence for the memory of President Harding found expression not only in complete suspension of trading for 45 minutes but also in a mood of restraint throughout the business day. Transactions were without their usual significance as an aid to economic thought.

New York Herald—The selling was more or less general and if any individual stocks or groups came in for greater pressure than others it was due entirely to a technical condition affecting those stocks.

Journal of Commerce—Throughout the major part of the day the optimism which has made itself felt since the beginning of the week was still in evidence, based the same general factors as before.

TRADING FAIRLY ACTIVE ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—Trading was fairly active and prices weak at the opening of the local stock market this morning.

Brazilian was the most active issue during the first half hour and suffered a loss of 1/2 to 4 1/2. Power was up 1/2 to 1 1/2, and Detroit came out with an overnight loss of 1/2 to 3/4. Abitibi was up 1/2 to 59 1/2, and Spanish River common was off 1/2 to 86 1/2, while the preferred was unchanged at 97. Cement registered a gain of 1/2 to 80 1/2 on the first board lot sale.

PROSPECTING TURNBULL TOWNSHIP PROPERTY

Very Satisfactory Results Following Work of Turnbull Mines Co.

Preliminary work is being carried on these days at the property of the Turnbull Mines Company of Porcupine Limited, in the Township of Turnbull, about 15 miles from Timmins. The work is under the supervision of Mr. John W. Evans, of Montreal, managing director of the company. Instead of following the usual plan of attempting actual mining work from the good showings already secured, Mr. Evans is having the whole property, comprising five claims, thoroughly prospected. Two old-time prospectors, skilled and experienced, are conducting the work, and the results to date seem to justify the plan. The whole property is being thoroughly gone over and tested. This prospecting will likely be followed by diamond drilling and the later sinking of a shaft on the big vein uncovered. The formation generally speaking turns out to be of the regular Dome and Hollinger type, the body of porphyry-schist being in contact with greenstone. Forty-seven rich samples were secured last week from three feet on the property. Free gold is of very frequent occurrence. The work so far indicates the probability of large ore bodies of high grade ore.

In the meantime the W. H. Crowe & Co., of Canada, Ltd., of Montreal, are meeting with fine success in underwriting 800,000 shares of treasury stock to provide the necessary finances to develop the property on an extended scale.

For full particulars write to W. H. Crowe & Co., of Canada, Ltd., Room 27 and 28, Metropole Bldg., Sherbrooke, or 4 Hospital St. Montreal.

HOMERS BEAT BOTH GIANTS AND YANKEES

Ainsmith's Drive Won Game for Cards, While Williams' Clout Gave Browns Victory.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Both the league leaders were defeated by homers yesterday, the Yankees in New York and the Giants in St. Louis.

The Giants' death knell was rung in the eighth inning when Ainsmith slipped up to the plate, leaned heavily on a hot one from Bentley, and stroled around the bases while the New York team chased the ball. The Cards won 4 to 3.

The bitter pill which the Yankees swallowed was hit high and far by Ken Williams, of the Browns, his twenty-first circuit of the season. The score was the same as in the other game, St. Louis winning 4 to 3.

In Pittsburgh, Vance pitched the Robins to a 9 to 2 victory in the opening game of a double-header and the Pirates captured the second 5 to 2. Vance only allowed five hits in the first contest and copped his ninth consecutive game. Carey made two runs in the second half, one of them a homer.

The Cubs trimmed the Phillies, 4 to 2, in Chicago taking the two winning runs in the seventh and eighth innings, one of them a non-stop affair by Friborg. The Phillies two runs both came in the first inning.

In Philadelphia, the White Sox defeated the Athletics 5 to 3, in an easy victory, knocking Harris around the box for seven hits in his two and two-thirds innings, and then taking five more safe walks off Heimach. Galloway was the star of the game, with a double, a single and a fine fine handed shortstop fly back of second.

Boston and Detroit broke even in a doubleheader, the first going to the Tigers 4 to 0, and the second to the home team 3 to 2, on a home run by Burns. There were sixteen hits in the second game but most of the runners were left to pine away on the bags.

Other games were not scheduled.

BASEBALL

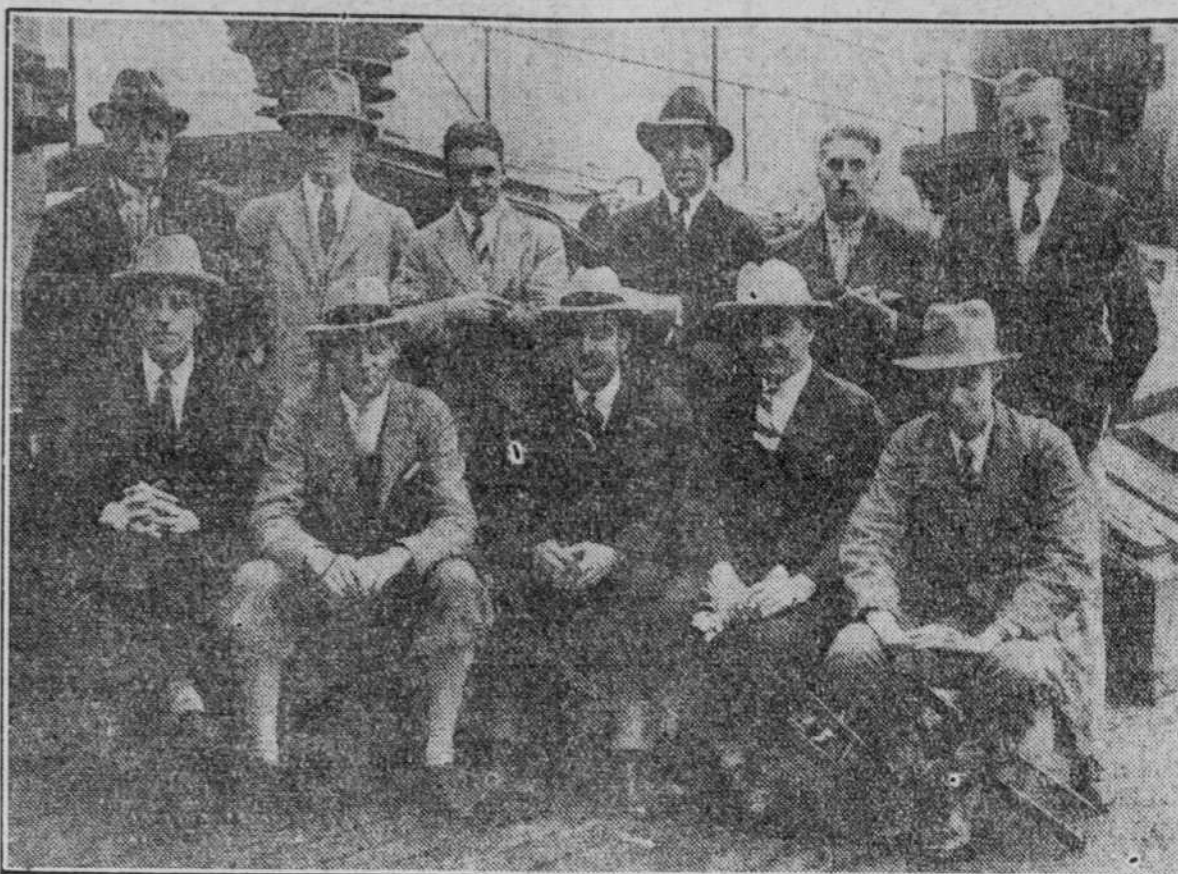

ATTRACTIONS THIS WEEK-END AT THE BALL PARK
A double header is booked for Saturday, when Island Pond will play Richmond in the first game, starting at two p.m. The winners of this game will play Sherbrooke, at four p.m. The boys from the railroad towns are both anxious to settle the argument as to who has the better team, and a good ball game is looked for. Both teams are anxious to try out the locals, and the second game has been arranged.

On Sunday, the Boston Colored Tigers will play Sherbrooke at 3.30 and as this team, which has appeared here before, has a big following, one of the largest crowds of the season is expected.

ST. JOHNS VS. FARNHAM.
The second game of the series between Farnham and St. Johns will be played at the race track grounds, Farnham, on Sunday August 12th. The intense rivalry between these teams promises to attract a large crowd.

AYER'S CLIFF AT WAY'S MILLS
Ayer's Cliff will provide the attraction at Way's Mills on Friday afternoon when the feature baseball game of the season will be played on the grounds of Mr. F. Chesley. These two rival teams put up some good games each year and Way's Mills are looking for a victory on their home grounds.

PREPARE FOR OPENING OF NEW SOCCER SEASON

Big Improvement Anticipated on Last Year's Diminished Attractions, with Exception of Scotland.

(Associated Press Despatch.)
LONDON, August 9.—Although the echo of Wembley's two hundred thousand voices seems hardly to have died away in the ears, another week will see the curtain rung up on a new soccer season. The Scottish clubs will open their programme on the fifteenth of the month, while ten days later the English leaguers will be battling for points with all their fresh run vigor. Football fans are already absorbed in speculation over their favorites' chances, and are eagerly anticipating the kick-off whistle, opening up what promises to be a most interesting season.

With the exception of Scotland, where the outlook is anything but bright, due to continued industrial depression and consequent scarcity of money, the prospects are mostly good, and big improvement is anticipated on last season's diminished attractions.

It is a serious fact that many of those clubs who had to report a decrease in gate receipts during the summer are increasing their ground accommodation. This is particularly notable of Tottenham, Hotsprings, Charlton, Athletic, Clapton Orient, Crystal Palace and other metropolitan teams.

The promotion of the popular Westham to the top of the class great enhances interest in the forthcoming season in the first division programme, especially in the Metropolitan area.

Notte County accompany Westham, thus restoring to lace town to its old time glory when, as of yore, it will own two first rank teams.

Stoke and Oldham, the clubs ousted from the first league, will seek their fortunes anew in the ranks of the second division where other new names including the vigorous Lancasterians from the northern section of the third division and Bristol City who emerge into the limelight from the comparative obscurity of the southern section.

The northern section has been increased to twenty-two clubs by the election of Doncaster Rovers and New Brighton, Stalybridge Celtic having dropped out owing to lack of support. The only change in the southern section is the advent of Boscombe, the popular Bournemouth side.

Over the border the coming season is regarded as a searching test of football's popularity. In one or two camps there is distinct dread and economy, in some cases retrenchment, will be the keynote struck by several managements. New departures in Scottish Association football are the formation of a third division, which has been created only after a strenuous fight and to which even now many of the club officials are hostile, and the return of the famous Queen's Park to the ranks of league competition. Queen's Park together with Clydebank, displace the relegated clubs Albion Rovers and Alloa.

COATICOOK WON FROM COOKSHIRE

COOKSHIRE, Aug. 9.—Playing at Coaticook tennis courts, the Coaticook players came near taking away the honors but were finally obliged to concede the odd point in seven.

The singles were divided, but the Coaticook players took two out of three men's doubles. In the majority of instances, the doubles were conspicuous for close games and three sets were often found necessary. The scores were as follows:

Singles
Stevens, Coaticook, won from Gittens, Cookshire, 6-0, 6-1.

Goff, Cookshire, won from Turcotte, Coaticook, 6-1, 6-4.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIPS
Definite arrangements have been made for the holding of the City of Sherbrooke championships during the course of the coming week and the event promises to be the largest ever undertaken locally. A temporary committee has been appointed to take care of arrangements and is composed of Miss B. Gilman, Miss A. Walsh, Messrs. T. Walsh, S. E. Reid, T. Bonner and A. W. Reid. Application blanks will be available today and all entries must be received by eight o'clock Monday morning in order to allow the draw to be completed and the games to be published.

Through the courtesy of the different clubs, the games will be staged at St. Francis, Woodlands and Fairbanks courts and handsome trophies are being offered by prominent citizens.

Last season men's singles and doubles were the only events and trophies were offered by Messrs. Lacombe Fils Lee, and Messrs. J. H. Walsh and E. W. Tobin. The singles championship is held by A. W. Reid and the doubles championship by the Bartlett Brothers.

This year arrangements are being made to cater to all tennis players in the city and the events will include men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles and doubles, mixed doubles, junior singles for boys and girls. The fact that the games will be spread over the course of a full week will enable all players to participate without interfering with other arrangements. Entries should be made as early as possible.

HERMITAGE WON TENNIS GAMES AT WOODLAND

Visitors Took Four Out of Five Events—Many Games Went Three Sets.

In a splendid series of matches, played at the Woodlands tennis courts yesterday, the Hermitage Club won four out of five events. The games were watched, with interest, by a large number of spectators and in many instances three sets were necessary.

In the opening singles, Miss C. Lyall, of Hermitage, had little difficulty in winning from Miss A. Walsh, of Woodlands, in straight sets, although the games were marked by some splendid rallies. In the mixed doubles, Miss E. Hawkins and N. Baldwin won the opening set against Miss H. Lyall and D. Walsh, of Hermitage, but the visitors rallied strongly and took the next two sets by substantial margins.

In the other set of mixed doubles, the Hermitage was again victorious in two out of three sets. Miss K. Walsh and Mr. Williams defeated the Woodlands representatives Miss M. Trudeau and R. E. Richardson.

Some very interesting tennis was seen in the latter part of the tournament when the clubs divided honors in two games of gentlemen's singles. Each game went three sets and was marked by frequent rallies. The game between Hepburn, of Hermitage, and St. Pierre, of Woodlands, was finished in semi-darkness after three long sets had been played, Hepburn excelling in net play and St. Pierre at placing. Hermitage won this match. In the other game D. Walsh, of Hermitage, fought each step of the way against the steady playing of B. Bartlett, of Woodlands. Bartlett won the first and third sets.

A game of gentlemen's doubles was not played owing to darkness. After the games refreshments were served in the club rooms and arrangements were made to play another tournament on Wednesday, the 15th, on which occasion the Woodlands players will be the guests of the Hermitage Club.

The results of the matches follows:
Miss Lyall defeated Miss A. Walsh, 6-1, 6-0.
Miss H. Lyall and D. Walsh defeated Miss E. Hawkins and N. Baldwin, 5-7, 6-1, 6-1.

Miss K. Walsh and Mr. Williams defeated Miss Trudeau and R. E. Richardson, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2.

Mr. E. St. Pierre was defeated by Mr. Hepburn, 3-6, 7-5, 8-6.

Mr. E. Bartlett defeated D. Walsh, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

A NEW DIABETES SERUM HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

Controversy as to its Value and Also as to Distribution of Credit for Invention.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The discovery of a new diabetes serum called "intarvin," hailed by some as greater than Dr. F. G. Banting's insulin, has started a controversy here, both as to its value and as to the distribution of credit for its invention.

Twenty physicians, it is stated, are now using intarvin, and nearly all of them are said to have commented favorably on it.

On the other hand, one well-known specialist in the treatment of diabetes is of the opinion that the new serum would have slight value in comparison with the Toronto doctor's discovery.

Dr. Max Kahn is said by Beth Israel Hospital authorities to have produced intarvin with the assistance of Dr. H. O. Nolan, an English surgeon, and Dr. Ralph H. McKee, professor of chemical engineering at Columbus University.

While Dr. Kahn's experiments were made fairly recently, it is stated that the files of the Journal of Biological Chemistry show that Dr. A. I. Ringer contributed a paper in February, 1913, advancing in detail the theory that an artificial fat would be of great value in the treatment of diabetes. The fat mentioned by Dr. Ringer is similar to that comprising intarvin.

According to Dr. Ringer, intarvin is chemically identical with the substance he produced ten years ago, and is equally worthless because of its nauseating effects, which, he affirmed, are exactly the same as those resulting from his serum a decade ago.

Man Arrested by Toronto Police Has Been Let Out on $15,000 Bail.

(Associated Press Despatch.)
TORONTO, Aug. 9.—Failure to establish identification of Willie S. Morton, suspected in the Toronto bank messenger robbery of two weeks ago, resulted yesterday in the crown accepting bail of fifteen thousand dollars, pending a preliminary hearing on a charge of robbing W. S. Duck, of $12,255, the property of the Sterling Bank. The bond was furnished by Gordon Morton, of Windsor, a brother of the accused, and accepted by Magistrate Cohen. The Morton brothers, left for Windsor last night.

Although a score or more eye-witnesses of the robbery, including bank messengers, have seen Morton, nor has been able to identify him clearly as a member of the robber band.
