A. McMaster Leads Local Workers In Clothing Drive

Mayor R. P. Adams opened the meeting of the Westmount clothing collection campaign held recently in Victoria Hall. The meeting was attended by representatives of local churches and schools, the Westmount Women's Club, Westmount Rotary Club and a large number of interested citizens.

In his opening speech, the Mayor expressed his pleasure in the fact that Arthur W. McMaster was chairman of the local division, and said that Mr. McMaster's experience and interest in campaign affairs would be of undoubted value, in ensuring the complete success of the Westmount campaign.

"I feel very confident that the citizens of Westmount will play an outstanding part in this campaign" said his Worship and give generously to relieve the dire need of clothing in the devastated areas of Europe. The UNRRA will distribute all clothing collected, the Mayor added.

Lionel Brittle, executive director for the National Clothing Campaign in the Province of Quebec, and Herbert Holland, co-chairman for the island of Montreal, outlined the types of clothing needed, how to make collections through numerous depots and methods of sorting and packing that should be used. A National Film Board moving picture was shown depicting the distressing conditions in bombed-out areas. Those attending went away determined they would make every effort to make the Westmount clothing collection campaign a success.

Following the organization meeting, receiving depots were arranged to be in churches of all denominations, in all the Protestant schools, St. Leo's Academy, St. Paul's School, the Westmount post office at the corner of Greene and Western avenues, No. 2 Fire Station at the corner of Victoria avenue and The Boulevard, and Victoria Hall. For any citizens who are definitely unable to make deliveries to any of the above mentioned depots, arrangements will be made for pick-ups. Calls will be taken at the headquarters office in Westmount Library, phone WE. 4259 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Westmount Women's Club have undertaken to sort and pack parcels delivered to Victoria Hall. The Westmount Rotary Club will assist in packing supplies and collecting parcels.

Already, sufficient clothing has been collected to make deliveries to the central receiving depot at the D.I.L. plant, 425 River street, Verdun.

Civic By-Law Amendment Gets First Reading

The regular weekly City Council meeting was held in the City Hall, Monday evening with Mayor Adams in the chair.

All regular business was disposed off, with special attention being paid to the City By-law regarding fences and hedges.

The Council is amending this particular regulation, and a special provision is being made, so that all hedges and fences which are obstructing the view of drivers of motor vehicles, and thereby causing traffic hazards, are to be removed.

The amendment to this By-law was given a first reading.

Family Swimming Featured At Pool

Family Swimming is to be a feature at the Westmount "Y" this Fall and Winter. Commencing Saturday of this week, the pool will be open from 3.30-4.30. All boys and girls will have to be accompanied by at least one of their parents. This will be a fine opportunity for all the family to swim.

Air Line Traffic Manager Addresses Rotary

"Of Men and Wings" a sound film which featured the spectacular progress made in the field of Air Transportation during the past twenty-five years, was presented by Martin Foley, District Traffic Manager of United Air Lines, to Westmount Rotarians at the weekly dinner in Victoria Hall.

Commemorating the 25th anniversary of the first air service to fly coast to coast in North America, the route of United Air Lines, the film depicted the highlights of pioneer air mail days, the subsequent development of commercial airlines and the type of four-engined equipment which United now has on order for early delivery. Contemporary news events of the past 25 years, along with period music, was also featured.

In a brief introductory address Mr. Foley said, "The original coast-to-coast airway was laid out over an historic route—the route of the covered wagon, Pony Ex-

Victory Loan Organization Plans Completed

C. E. McKenna, Major W. Evans, and A. Bentley are once more the Joint Organizers of the ninth and last Victory Loan which opens this month. Mr. A. Bracewell and Miss E. L. Peebles are joint secretaries, and the headquarters of the organization is again located at Victoria Hall.

The first meeting of salesmen will take place at headquarters on Wednesday, the 17th of October, at 7.45 p.m. The staff organization is comprised of eleven teams of six men apiece, the great majority being veterans of the First and Second World Wars.

Due to the fact that the Ninth Victory Loan campaign comprises two Loans in one, as was recently stated by Mr. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance, the objective placed upon Unit 201 is much greater than that of the Eighth Victory Loan. Nevertheless, the Organizers feel that if every citizen realizes his responsibility in the forthcoming campaign, this objective will be met.

Movies

We have had some very good movies and what is more important well-behaved crowds. This week's showing will be a Double Feature—"Crazy Knights" and "Song Of The Range". Promises to be good with lots of laughs.

Friday Night Club

The first evening has come and gone, and the members who are shaping the Club's destiny will be out again totnight. The group responsible for this night's fun includes Betty Armstrong, Freda Livingston, Joan Fox, Richard Swan, David Wells and John Choyce. These people have planned a series of dances and games and a sing-song for the evening's entertainment.

Mothers' Club

The Executive of the Mothers' Club met and laid plans for the coming year. It was decided to hold their first meeting Wednesday, October 10th at 3.00 p.m. and to accept the invitation to visit the Verdun Y.M.C.A.'s Mothers' Club on Friday, October 19th.

This is a relatively new group in Westmount Y.M.C.A. and has all the earmarks of a very successful club. Certainly it is a very important one.

Noon Hour Club

A new club has sprung into being this year. Boys who eat lunch away from home need something to do during the noon hour. That is where we come in. This "Noon Hour Club" provides activity suitable to the fellows and to the time of day. Right now a fair group are taking advantage of the Club to work out on the gym and to have a shower and short swim. It is expected the club will grow as more and more hear of it.

Don Grant, one time Camp Counsellor at Toronto's westend Y.M.C.A. Summer Camp, is taking charge of the group.

Preps

Gym classes have begun again. Quite a number of Preps were out for the first class last Wednesday. This year's class aims to increase itself to having at least 100 active members. Everyone in the group will have to work towards that every step of the way.

Juniors

Juniors too, have begun their regular class periods. Of course, the Preps believe the Juniors cannot possibly reach their numbers on the gym floor, but the Juniors' answer is "We'll see". Anyway it's going to be a great year. Gerry Wright, a Hi-Y boy, will be giving the Juniors leadership on the gym — especially on the apparatus.

Junior Leaders' Corps

The first formal session of the Junior Leaders' Corps was held Thursday. This is a very worthwhile group and while it is too soon to say, we all feel it will do an excellent job in the building.

Swimming Club

The Westmount "Y" Swimming Club will open Friday, October 19th. This Club is strictly for advanced swimmers. Only those who have the Intermediate Stage 5 Swimming Card are eligible for admission. Speed, style, fancy swimming, life saving and diving will be the features of the Club. Make your application early for the number of entrants will be limited.

Learn To Swim

The Boys' Division now has a special Learn To Swim class. Bob Eden, a Hi-Y boy who has his Life Saving awards, will be giving special instruction to any of our boy members who are unable to swim. This class is strictly for non-swimmers and will be held every Monday from 4.00-5.00 p.m. This class will continue right through till next May.

Blind Boys' Class

The Blind Boys' Class will be opened again next Wednesday with Bob Eden, a Hi-Y boy, giving leadership to the group. This is a very interesting group.

Boys' Hi-Y

The Boys' Hi-Y sent three of its Executives, Wolfgang Seimers, President, John Bishop and Bill Milne, Vice-Presidents, to the Hi-Y Executive Conference held at Camp Perrot over the last week-end. These boys returned filled with ideas and enthusiasm for the coming season's activities in the Club. Due to the "Teachers' Convention" the Club will not meet again till next Thursday.

Two little boys were selling lemonade. A gentleman patronized both of them, then asked: "Why do you charge five cents for a glass and your friend here ten cents for the same amount? They both taste the same to me."

"They are the same, sir, but the puppy fell into my pail, so I charge only five cents for mine."

MENTIONED FOR GALLANTRY

Captain L. P. Chesney, son of the late J. D. Chesney, and of Mrs. Joseph Howart, 634 Murray Hill, was mentioned in dispatches for gallant and distinguished services. Captain Chesney enlisted in July 1941, and went overseas with the R.C.A.M.C. in February 1942, and served in India and Burma, where he was attached to the second Battalion, The Black Watch, R.H.R., India Command. He attended Roslyn School, Westmount High School and graduated in medicine from McGill in 1941.

Tennis Party Well Attended

Approximately 50 persons attended the "Tennis Party" held at Victoria Hall last Friday night. The affair, which marked the conclusion of the tennis activities on the municipal courts this year and included the presentation of prizes to winners of this season's tournaments, was voted the most enjoyable held yet.

After a series of games, the group was entertained by Joe Ratte, the one man show, who put on an act that included magic, fire eating, playing music with an automobile tube and a pump along with a few other bewildering antics. The Club Room in Victoria Hall, where the affair took place, was then vacated for a few minutes and when the crowd entered it again, the sole source of light in the room was a cleverly constructed imitation bonfire around which Billy Bushell, singer of cowboy songs who had been appearing with the rodeo at the Forum, was twanging on his guitar and giving forth with the songs of the range. During Billy Bushell's part of the entertainment, the crowd enjoyed a "corn roast" and then joined in with community singing. Dancing and refreshments brought the successful evening to a close.

E. J. Anderson, Superintendent of Parks, in the absence of Alderman Senecal, Commissioner of Parks, presented the prizes to the champions, Colin Maass, men's singles; Miss Flo Arama, ladies' singles; Mr. and Mrs. C. Manson, mixed doubles; Sid Quinton and Em Stack, men's doubles.

The programme was arranged by a group that included Mrs. A. D. Edwards, the Misses Flo Arama and Toby Getz, the Messrs. Dave Schwartz, Sid Quinton and Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick.

Study Group

The Talmud Class of Shaar Hashomayin will resume its sessions on Shabbos Bereishis, October 6th, at 3.15 p.m. in the Board Room. Rabbi L. Portnoy will again lead this group, in its study of the Tractate Babba Kamma.

Mr. Philip Levy announces that other groups are being planned and will be organized as soon as the occasion arises. Further details may be obtained from the office of the Educational Department of the Synagogue.

WESTMOUNT HIGHLIGHTS

Every once in a while it is the pleasure of your Westmount Highlighter to describe the evolution of a local artist. This past summer we were able to tell the story of Wright Balfour, the former newspaperman whose fiction will be appearing in the leading magazine of this continent before many more months have passed.

This week we'd like to tell you about a young and promising song writer. His name: Arthur Voronka.

Now Arthur, in case you didn't know, was the gent who supplied the lyrics for the songs sung in the Air Cadet skit of the Purple and White Revue '45. He wrote what are known in more sophisticated circles as parodies, substituting his own words (and very good words they were, too) for those of such song hits as "Don't Fence Me In."

And now this dark-complexioned, brown-eyed, 17-year-old grade 11 student of Westmount High has written a song —and also the music.

Arthur had one great difficulty to overcome. He is not familiar with the musical hieroglyphics musicians use when they are composing music. He had the words of his song, and he could hum the tune.

So he hummed away to Chuck Leger, Westmount musician of note who was a member of the famous Modernaires Orchestra that disbanded on May 5, 1944, and Chuck wrote down the notes and is working on an orchestration of the piece.

Art has titled his adventure into the song-writing business "Week-end Love." It's a sentimental ballad that we were privileged to hear sung by Mr. Voronka himself a couple of weeks ago. Permit us to assure one and all that the melody is well worth hearing.

And Arthur plans to give people a chance to hear it. At next Friday's weekly party at Westmount High the garden suburb's own song-writer hopes to have a full orchestra on hand to play the number and the remnants of the girls' quartet that warbled so pleasantly in the Purple and White Revue to sing it.

That should be quite an occasion.

But we know that you're anxious to learn the words of this ballard. Here they are:

Oh, I'm lookin' to a week-end of lovin',
A week-end of loving lovely you.
From the sky our dreams will come to meet us,
For we'll reminisce and they'll come true.
To the moon we'll rise and with each little star we'll roam.
The world of paradise will forever be our home.
Oh, I'm looking to this week-end of lovin',
A week-end that will never, never end.
All week long I'm without love.
So what else can I do
But wait in bitter agony
For a week-end of lovin' lovely you?

Something tells us that Arthur has kicked the metre around more than a little. But it still sounds good!

Skyliners Notes

The way the business end of any organisation is conducted is always a matter of great interest to your business minded reporter. So we probed the business set-up of the Skyliners Orchestra, who will begin their 1945-46 dance season with a soiree at Vic. Hall a week from tonight.

The Skyliners have a rather unusual arrangement. There are five shares. These are owned by four people, and of the four two control the band.

That means that the great majority of the orchestra's personnel (there are 12 altogether) get paid so much per performance, and the four shareholders split the profits. All decisions are made by general manager Jerry Miller, and one other character, who is in charge of the musical end of things.

The results seem to justify the somewhat peculiar set-up. The lads, headed by Westmount's own Gordie Fyfer (or should we say Pfeiffer?) are really good.

ITEMS

Ex-Pte. Eric Gregory Swain who will finish two weeks' work in the cable division of the Bell Telephone this Saturday, will begin some serious studying at Montreal West High today. Or there he'll find Glen Magee and Don Hawker, both former WHS 'ers, recently discharged from the Navy, who both claim that they were refused admission to Westmount High School. . . There's a Friday Night Party at Westmount High this week because of the five-day teachers' convention and Thanksgiving Day holiday. . . Johnny Holmes and his Orchestra will be playing at McGill's Freshman's Dance in Sir Arthur Currie gymnasium tonight, and tomorrow night the Holmes men have prepared a special Thanksgiving Day dance for Victoria Hall. . . George Murphy, Holmes bass strummer, who writes the goofy skits which are put on every Saturday night, really surpassed himself with last week's "Red Hot Riding Hood" production. . . It had the dancers in stitches. . . Young Lorraine Micketlow, whose renditions of several modern ballads in the Purple and White Revue '45, was very well received, has been singing with Ray Marks' Orchestra at the Palais D'Or the last couple of weeks.

LOCAL TALENT PROVIDES MUSIC

The Westmount Y.M.C.A. will begin a series of Saturday night dances in their gymnasium a week from tomorrow night. The affair which will be open to everyone will replace the Saturday night servicemen's parties that were popular throughout the war.

The Westmount Four, a quartet of young and talented musicians will supply the music for the weekly dances. The music-minded foursome consist of pianist Normie Hampton, who headed his own orchestra last year, Johnny Hooper on the drums, Bain MacArthur on the clarinet and saxophone and Gordie Pfeiffer on the bass fiddle. Pfeiffer also supplies the vocaling.

Appeal To Enrol During Junior Red Cross Week

This is Junior Red Cross Week and the call for present members to re-enrol and for new members to join is being sounded throughout the Province of Quebec.

While the war is over, the post-war program of the Junior Red Cross, both for war-ravaged Europe and right here, at home, will need many willing hands for its successful completion.

As Tom Earle, president of the Junior Red Cross High School Council of the Province of Quebec, said in a broadcast at the opening of the membership campaign: "The children of Europe and the Far East are looking to us for help."

He pointed out that literally millions of these unfortunates are homeless. Many have been forced to wander for from familiar scenes and have become dependent upon the charity of strangers, who have little to give them, having insufficient for themselves.

Norway and the Netherlands have made urgent appeals for articles of clothing, particularly layettes, and the needs they have voiced are common in other European countries. The Red Cross is making wool and designs available through its provincial headquarters and the juniors are out to find members and new members to do the work.

Wounded and sick soldiers, sailors and airmen from overseas are filling the hospitals, many of them with long, weary days of treatment and convalescence ahead of them. Red Cross juniors are making games, recreational equipment and comforts for them. Boys are needed to change simple carpentry patterns into special stools, games boards and other articles for those whose health has been shattered in helping to win the war.

On the "home front", every member of the Junior Red Cross is pledged to lead a healthy life and to improve health standards. Part of the Quebec program is directed along these lines.

Boys and girls attending school, from kindergarten to Grade 12 are eligible for membership and activities now in operation and thos tivities now in operation and those projected will ensure a useful place for every member or new recruit. Branches must be quickly organized and the work started and kept going on a "full power" basis.

The Red Cross Juniors of the province have a proud war-record, but, as Tom Earle pointed out in his radio talk, the need is just as great as ever.

Recent gifts made by the Junior Red Cross of Canada were $30,000 to buy milk and other foods for Polish refugee children in France and Germany and another $30,000 to buy layettes for the babies of Norway.

Red Cross juniors have no money of their own and are not allowed to campaign for funds. They raise money by means of penny miles, auctions, sales, dances, concerts, bazaars and weekly savings. Salvage is an important activity and Quebec juniors have collected over 1,000,000 pounds of waste paper since 1941.

There has been no lack of ingenuity and resourcefulness in planning local activities and this year, for the first time, the Junior Red Cross High School Council will discuss and plan work, at regular monthly meetings.

This body is composed of representatives of all the high schools in the Greater Montreal area, and has corresponding members in the intermediate and high schools, all through the province.

The Thanksgiving Services in Westmount Baptist Church will be conducted by Prof. R. J. McCracken, M.A., B.D., who is President of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. Prof. McCracken in the few years he has been in Canada has become known from coast to coast as one of the Dominion's greatest preachers.

He is a Scotsman who after receiving his training in Glasgow University established himself by his outstanding success as minister of one of the churches of that great city.

He is now giving leadership in a Convention wide Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom. His services are in very great demand and his appointment book is filled for many months ahead.

In order that members of the congregation as well as many other of Mr. McCracken's friends in Montreal may have an opportunity of meeting him personally a Social Hour has been arranged to follow the evening service. At this gathering he will give a brief address on the Crusade and thereafter light refreshments will be served. The people of the City are invited to these important services.

Formerly in command of the minesweeper H.M.C.S. Westmount Lt.-Cdr. Frank G. Hutchings, 4536 Oxford Avenue, has rejoined the Bell Telephone Company of Canada as development engineer.

Lt-Cdr. Hutchings served in H.M.S. Argus just after the last war and continued with the Royal Naval Reserve for ten years. Obtaining leave of absence from the telephone company in August, 1940, he served for over five years in corvettes and minesweepers engaged in the Battle of the Atlantic.

teau Frontenac, Quebec City, at which he was the guest of honour.

From 1927 to 1932, Mr. Hogg was Mayor of this city but has not confined his interest solely to Westmount. He is president of the Guaranteed Pure Milk Co. and includes among his many public interests service on the boards of the Montreal General Hospital, the House of Industry and Refuge, the Grace Dart Hospital, the Alexandra Hospital and on the executive committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Since its inception he has been actively associated with the National Dairy Council and the International Association and is honorary president of the former organization. At the luncheon telegrams and letters were read from business associates in all parts of Canada and the U. S. wishing Mr. Hogg many more years of service to the industry.

Beginning

Mr. Hogg started in the milk distributing business in Montreal as a farmer and distributor and recalls that his day's work 60 years ago in 1885 started at 3.30 a.m. when he had to milk is own cows before starting out on his delivery route. In 1901, with the late W. H. Treholme, he laid the foundation of the present Guaranteed Pure Milk Company, today one of the largest dairy products distributing firms in Canada with a plant on Aqueduct street and two sub-divisions in Montreal.

Air Line Traffic

press, first transcontinental railroad, first transcontinental highway, first telegraph system. For ten years, it was the only coast-to-coast air route.

On this route have been wrought many of the miracles of the airplane and air transportation. Today, as it was a quarter of a century ago, it is the most important and busiest long-distance single commercial airway in the world.

The first flight from coast to coast was flown in relays by four pilots and required 82 hours, 40 minutes. Today United flies the same route in 15 hours, 40 minutes and when postwar production permits United will use Douglas DC-6s on a schedule of nine and a half hours.

The original New York to San Francisco route was pioneered by the U.S. Post Office in 1920, but taken over and operated on contract by the predecessor air transport divisions of United in 1927. As of October 1st the company reported, it will have completed 71,000 coast-to-coast flights, transported 4,000,000 passengers, 120,000,000 pounds of mail and 44,000,000 pounds of express. Total miles flown between the Atlantitc and the Pacific in that time will be some 190,000,000."

Solar Club Instructed On Speaking

Taking for his subject "Public Speaking", which he described as amplified conversation, Professor A. Robert George, of McGill University, told members of The Solar Club of Montreal, assembled at the Homoeopathic Hospital on Thursday evening last, that the three most important things to bear in mind in speaking before the public are:—What you say—how you say it—and to whom it is said. The speaker went on to give amusing examples and sound advice on each of these points ant demonstrated quite clearly by his address how earnestness and sincerity can win the enthusiasm of an audience.

R. Mackay Davey, of the Montreal Junior Board of Trade, also addressed the meeting briefly on behalf of the Welfare Federation Campaign for funds. President A. Ross Grafton occupied the chair.

"Sweat Blood" Horses Prized In Old China

In the Chinese section of the Royal Ontario Museum there are many small figures of horses, brightly coloured and full of animation. Behind them there is a story which takes us back over 20 centuries. In 138 B.C. the Emperor of China sent an emissary, Chang Chi'en, to the northwest border of the country in search of a nomad tribe. He finally found it. Among other wonders, he reported to his Emperor that he had seen large and powerful horses that "sweat blood". When peaceful effort failed to obtain samples of these "Heavenly Horses", as the Chinese called them, an army was despatched to seize some. At great cost of soldiers' lives, some hundreds of these horses were brought back to China and bred. For centuries they were the delight and pride of Chinese officials who owned them. When an official died small portrait models in clay of his favorite steeds were put in the tomb with him.

The blood sweating was probably due to a disease common to horses in northern Preia even today. It is caused by a small parasitic roundworm which gets under the skin of a horse and causes small haemorrhages that colour thet foamy sweat of the animal when it is exercised. Apparently this disease does not materially weaken a horse.

Men's Choir Has Resumed Its Rehearsals

The Montreal Men's Choir has resumed rehearsals at the Westmount Y.M.C.A., in preparation for an active season in the course of which a number of public engagements will be fulfilled. John Robb, Mus. Bac., continues his work as conductor and it is anticipated that further encouraging progress will be made under his leadership during the coming winter.

Representative groups from the Choir membership recently visited the Town of Dorval Island and Dominion Douglas Church, on Sunday evenings, and selections from the choir repertoire were rendered on both occasions. The quality of tone was good and the singing well sustained, showing promise of excellent work in the new season withthe choir at full strength.

A few vacancies exist in each of the sections and experienced male singers are invited to submit application for membership. First and second tenors are particularly in demand, but baritones and bases will also be welcomed as it is espected that the numerical strength of the Choir will be increased this year.

1945-46 are as follows: A, J. Ellison, President; J. H. Butler, Vice-Pres.; G. Fred Gibb, Secretary; K. V. Keirstead, Treasurer; W. Hepplestone, Librarian; C. P. Nolan, Marshal; H. Goodman, Auditor; and H. C. Grayston, A. C. Lawrence, J. M. Young, E. J. Hills and E. O. Ferguson, Directors.

Inquiries may be addressed to G. Fred Gibb, Secretary, Montreal Men's Choir, 5890 Cote St. Antoine Rd., Montreal, Tel. DE. 9262.

RESPIRATION LECTURE GIVEN

Corporal J. S. McFadzen gave a lecture on "Pulmonary Respiration" at the regular weekly meeting of the St. John Ambulance Brigade held in Victoria Hall.

The speaker illustrated his talk with charts, which depicted the parts of the human body involved, and at the end of the lecture asked questions relating to the subject of his lecture.

Practical class work for the evening consisted of practising the various methods of administering artificial respiraton.

Members present were greatly pleased wth the visit of Dr. J. J. Day, Divisional Surgeon, and Corps Officer W.S. Mathews, to the meeting.

Any organization or group putting on an affair where the public will be gathered together is asked to get in touch with the Division's Headquarters at Victoria Hall, in order to obtain, free of charge the services of some members of the Brigade.

The men supplied will be in uniform, fully equipped and capable of handling first aid cases if the need arises. If possible, at least a full week's notice should be given in order to make the necessary arrangements at Division H.Q.

Challenge To All Scouts Issued By Commissioner

By REG GROOME.

G. Robley Mackay, Commissioner of Montreal, issued a challenge to all Scouts of the city to supply a destitute Scout Troop in Holland with uniforms. Certainly in a city the size of Montreal, he said, we should be able to get together the 17 uniforms they need so urgently, and a good number of these could very well come from Western Area. Following is the actual letter received by Mr. Mackay from a fellow Scouter in Holland.

Oss, August 20, 1945.

Dear Unknown Friend:

At first a salute from, for you, the still unknown Brother Boy Scouts of the Dutch Village of Oss. You will be astonished by receiving this letter from Holland but you will soon anticipate the reason.

Brother Boy Scouts, we Dutch Boys intend, after four years of oppression a time in which Scouting was forbidden by the cruel Germans, to start with the Great work of Baden Powell. Here in Oss we already have a new Troop but it is impossible for us to buy uniforms in our exhausted country.

One of our Allied friends, a soldier from your native country, advised us to ask these from Canadian Scout Troops. And so we come to you for uniforms. We hope that you don't think too badly of us for taking this liberty. Perhaps your Troop or several other Troops are able to help us.

Our new Troop consists of 3 leaders and 14 boys. Would it be possible for you to send us 17 complete uniforms? If you are unable to send us so many, then we will be very much satisfied with 3 uniforms for the Leaders. Of course we will pay for them, so will you write us now, please, how much money you need.

You see, we ask very much, but we don't know any other way to get uniforms. Trusting you are able to help us, and thanking you, we remain,

Your sincere friends and fellow Scouts, Chief Leader H. W. Th. Hopman, Leaders M. van Gulick and P. van Dyk.

The address of these men is now in the hands of Boy Scout Headquarters downtown where uniforms are being received. It would take a hard heart to resist such an appeal for practical help. It should be possible for our Scouts to outfit the complete Troop at Oss with uniforms, sending them a selection of sizes, and certainly not ask payment for them. In fact, we should be able to do far more than this and extend help to other Troops in gallant little Holland. We have already provided them with text books printed in the Dutch language. It will be fitting to add to this good turn the sending of a supply of uniforms. Our soldiers and the UNRRA have found that no assistance is required to get the Scouts active again in all the liberated countries. Leaders and boys are keen an "on the job" in continuing their interrupted training, all they need is the equipment which they cannot possibly secure within their own countries.

It is therefore urged that all Montreal Troops gather together articles of used uniforms, and equipment such as pouches, knives, etc. Some will be available from those who have outgrown last winter's outfit, some from boys who have just resigned from Scouting. Leaders outfits will be welcome, as indicated in the letter. Send all articles to Scout Headquarters, 1523 Bishop St., where they will be taken over by a committee of ladies for sorting, repairing and cleaning if necessary. A shipment for Holland will be prepared by October 15th. The Troop in Oss has been notified to expect this friendly help.

Don't let us down, because we can't let them down. Do it now, while it is still in your mind. This is the most urgent good turn we have ever been called upon to do, and we must make sure that it is done, and well done.

St. Leo's Defeat Montreal West

A hard-fighting St. Leo's Senior Football team chalked up an impressive 8-0 win over Montreal West in a regular league game, played at Westmount Park Tuesday afternoon. It was the westenders third straight loss.

Gerald Berry opened the scoring early in the second quarter, when he blocked a Montreal West kick deep in the losers' zone and fell on the pigskin behind the payoff stripe for a safety touch worth two points.

Another blocked kick, this one in the third quarter, gave St. Leo's possession of the ball on the Blue and Gold's 35-yard stripe. From there Jim McCarthy went over on an end run for the game's only major. McCarthy converted to complete the scoring.

Frankie Creaghan and Morey Barrie were also outstanding for the winners, while Walsh and Young were best for Montreal West.

St. Leo's will play host to Montreal High at Westmount Park next Thursday afternoon.

DAILY PRAISES WEEKLIES

There is a tendency with some people to worship bigness. The large organization, however, does not by virtue of size alone contribute most to the welfare of the community. That is true in many things, and not the least is it so with the written word, as has been shown often in the pages of Canada's weekly newspapers.

The weekly press serves its constituents in a manner which many dailies do not. Nor are the qualities of courage, of intelligence, of public service shown by the daily press superior to those of the weekly. On occasion large dailies have failed to expose wrongs which deserve the light of day, while the weeklies have not hesitated to do their duty. In addition, the weekly newspapers are, in many ways, closer to their readers, and so are able to serve them better.

On the whole, the weekly papers of Canada have done a most worthy job in the trying days of the war. They have given generously of their limited space; they have discussed with responsibility the actions of the various governments, and have not failed to be critical where criticism was warranted.

Because they are important institutions in community life, the announcement of the annual awards of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association is always of as great interest to their subscribers as to the newspaper profession. This year's awards again show that the vigor of the weekly newspapers has not been lost, and that for general interest, makeup and editorial opinion, in many cases, they hold their own with the metropolitan press.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

TRULY A WAR LOAN

Nowadays we are being jostled by problems of peace. Almost everything we read, all the utterances of public men, tends to emphasize the fact that the war is now history.

Yet, the Ninth Victory Loan which will be opened to the public on October 22, is definitely a war loan.

There exists no magic wand one can use to waft military forces from the scenes of battle to their normal home surroundings overnight. Unfortunately, long after the enemy cries surrender, the cost of war goes on. It is estimated, for example, that the country of Canada must raise a sum of about $25,000,000.00 during the present year to provide adequate medical attention and hospitalization for the men who are coming back wounded and sick. Last year, members of the House of Commons were told that at that time $750,000,000 would be needed to pay gratuities and take care of re-establishment credits to men returning from battle. One year having passed since then, the cost of that important undertaking has now reached about $9,000,000. In addition to all that, the Canadian people must meet the cost of bringing the troops home, the maintenance of our forces of occupation in Germany, pay of the men who are waiting demobilization goes on. Cheques to dependents keep going out until the soldier has his discharge paper.

There are heavy domestic expenditures, made heavier by the unprecedented demands of this period of reconstruction in the country, which are included in the total of the Ninth Victory Loan objective. But of this we can be sure. The major portion of the money which Canadians will provide for the purchase of bonds in October and November is needed to cover the cost of war.

SUPPORT CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Local residents will, we are sure, give sympathetic consideration to the appeal of the Federation of Catholic Charities, which is just now making its annual appeal for funds. A total of $225,000 is required. The reasons for the appeals of this and other charities are so well known that it is needless to repeat them here. These charities are doing the Lord's work—all of them. As much as they fall short of their objectives just that much will hardship and suffering fall harder on the less fortunate members of the community. They must not fail. Give your support generously.

ANOTHER CHALLENGER

An Attic Salt-Shaker

By W. Orton Tewson

"I AM GLAD the first First Lady we knew was Mrs. Coolidge; but I despair writing about her in a manner fitting," says Vera Bloom—daughter of Sol Bloom, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs (in her entertaining reminiscences, "There's No Place Like Washington"). "Somehow, somewhere in the world in each generation, one or two women appear who cast a warm spell over people's hearts. It doesn't seem to depend on beauty, or brilliance, or allure, though she may have them too. Barrie knew what such charm is: he has Maggie say wistfully in 'What Every Woman Knows,' 'If you have it, you don't need to have anything else, and if you don't have it, it doesn't much matter what else you have.'

"PERHAPS there are many women who have it, women just as obscure as Mrs. Coolidge would have been if destiny had left her a teacher of the deaf-and-dumb in a little New England town. I can only think of one other woman today who casts the same spell, and she is Queen Elizabeth of England. Has it, I wonder, anything to do with the fact that neither the Queen nor Mrs. Coolidge is typically 'modern'?

"MRS. COOLIDGE, of course, had to have enough charm for two, for the President had absolutely none of the geniality and good-humor that is usually part of the political temperament. He was probably the most undemonstrative man we've ever had in public life; but his way of showing his affection for his wife was by never letting her out of his sight when he could help it. They told us in Philadelphia that he even insisted on having her with him on the judges' stand at the Devon Horse Show. Respectful protests were ventured, for no woman ever set foot on that stand before or since. His response (unabridged) was, 'Come on, Grace.' "

IN MUSIC the late Lord (Arthur) Balfour took a great delight and was an enthusiastic lover of the old Masters, especially of Handel. Modern music had little charm, if any, for him.

"I remember how patiently he would sit through dinner at his favorite restaurant in Paris (during the 1919 Peace Conference) until most of the clients had left and the noise of jazz and jingle had ceased," recalls Sir Ian Malcolm (in his memoir of Balfour) "and would then ask the chef d'Orchestre (a very gifted young Polish violinist) to play him some 18th century French music."

THEN DURING the nine months Lord Balfour remained in Paris for the Peace Conference his house was the scene of many brilliant musical evenings.

"I remember one evening," says Sir Ian, "when Charles Mendl was going to sing, he inquired delicately whether anybody present objected to German songs. The Chief (Balfour) promptly replied:

"'I don't; I will take them as part of the Reparations that they owe us.'"

TALES OF MANY a smart Yankee in the old coaching days are told by George Francis Marlowe (in "Coaching Roads of Old New England: Their Inns and Taverns and Their Stories"). Here is one about a rascally landlord who got what was coming to him:

"This publican and sinner," relates Mr. Marlowe, "would call out 'Stage is ready' before the travelers had time to eat the meal they had ordered and paid for. One man paid no attention, calmly finishing his meal while the coach drove off, and calling for a bowl of bread and milk to finish off with.

"NOT A SPOON was to be found for him to eat it with. 'Do you think them passengers was going away without something for their money?' said he to the excited landlord. 'I could p'int out the man that took them spoons.' One of the stableboys was sent off on a fast horse, and soon a coachload of angry people were outside the tavern door again. 'Now,' said the landlord, 'you just p'int out the man that took them spoons.' 'Sartainly, Squire,' said he who had stayed behind, "You'll find 'em all in the big coffee pot,' whereupon he climbed aboard the coach, leaving the apoplectic landlord jumping up and down on his spoons."

THEN THERE IS one about Sock Moores, who was 'something of a town character.'" Mr. Marlowe telling it:

"Mr. Gibbon had a little store near Sock's house, and one day Sock came into the store with a large bottle and called for a quart of rum. It was one of those bottles which used to have the bottom driven up through the center. and Gibbon at once exclaimed, "Why Sock, this bottle won't hold a quart.' 'Well, now, Sam, 'twill. If it won't, I'll pay for it. If it will you shall make no charge.' When the bottle was filled, a gill or more was left in the measure. Sock took the bottle and, driving in the cork, turned it over and told Gibbon to pour the rest of the quart into the bottom. There was room and to spare, and Sock went off with the rum."

"At this stage of the struggle," asserts William M. Birks, national chairman of the National Clothing Collection, now in progress, "no one can protest that clothing for feeding little children, the sick and the homeless in war-devastated countries, is any less important than providing material for combat or planning for the economic future."

In Europe alone 125,000,000 war victims are in desperate need of clothing, shoes and blankets.

BRITISH WAR BRIDES ACORN CLUB FORMS NEW COMMITTEE

The large number of British war wives now arriving in Canada led to the forming of a new committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. W. Haslett, Belvedere Road, President of the Acorn Club. In extending a warm welcome to newcomers and providing them with all possible aid and facilities for adapting rapidly and happily to their new country, it was felt that it would be advisible to co-ordinate the efforts of all interested organizations.

The committee held its first meeting early in the summer when representatives of thirty organizations met and discussed plans for the future.

A temporary headquarters has been established at 4652 Sherbrooke St., (cross Lansdowne Avenue) where club facilities are available to war wives daily except Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Evening meetings are held every Thursday from 8 to 11 p.m.

YOUR EARLY BUNDLES SPELL JOY TO NEEDY BEFORE CHRISTMAS

The knowledge that the clothes which Canadians will be donating in the National Clothing Collection campaign from now till October 20, will be delivered in Europe before Christmas, will send a glow of happiness through the thousands of distressed people in the liberated countries, who today have insufficient clothing to keep their emaciated bodies warm enough to ward off disease.

William M. Birks, National Chairman of the campaign, stated today that more than a dozen main baling depots have been secured throughout the Dominion, and that it is planned to have most, if not all, of the clothing collected, baled and on its way to Europe before the middle of November.

The success of this plan will depend, to a large extent, on the speed with which Canadian families prepare their bundles or cartons of clothing.

The thought of combining comfort with Christmas cheer should stimulate the Canadian people to give even more generously than they had intended to, of the clothes and footwear that they can spare and that the distressed people in Europe can wear.

W.V.R.C. Send Cheque For $526 To Fund

The Women's Volunteer Reserve Corps recently forwarded a cheque for five hundred and twenty-six dollars to the Queen's Canadian Fund, to be used in aid of bombed out citizens in London. This money was raised by members and will make a grand total of seven hundred dollars raised for this cause in 1945.

A rally is being held on October 15th, at the headquarters, 3546 Park Avenue at 8 p.m. An invitation is extended to all members, past members and associates to be present at this meeting.

This organization is carrying on with post-war work, and members are available in groups or singly in time of need.

On October 5th and 6th they are assisting in the Navy League Tag Day, and are putting their shoulders to the wheel in the clothing drive. Voluntary Aid at the Homoeopathic Hospital is being continued, and girls are on duty several times a week at the A.N.A. House doing desk and canteen work, while others are assisting in clerical work at the various Armories.

Regular meetings will be arranged at the rally.

EFFECT OF COLOR OUTLINED IN TALK

The world is becoming increasingly color conscious and color hungry and the art of color styling is being revolutionized by science, Ruth D. Sunley told the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Montreal Children's Hospital at the Windsor Hotel on Wednesday.

Mrs. Sunley, of Public Relations, Canadian Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, pointed out the important part which color plays in the life of every person, and traced a broad outline of discoveries as to the effect of color on emotions, safety, working efficiency and therapy.

Basic in Color Styling knowledge is the fact that creams and yellows are "warm" colors, that blues and greens are "cool", that white is formal and black or purple depressing. Green is relaxing and friendly, red is stimulating and exciting. Light colors enlarge a room and dark colors make it look smaller. Cool colors make a room recede, and warm colors make it come towards one.

Of sick-room decoration, she said that "hospitals have gained much knowledge of the therapeutic value of color, some of which you can apply. The tradional pitiless all-white surroundings of the modern hospital have been changed to warm creams, yellows or coral and peach. Soft greys and greyed down versions of other colors have been found soothing and suggestive of sleep. Much use is made of the restful cheerful effect of soft green."

Statistics indicate that every 11th person now living may expect to die of cancer. Each year cancer causes the death of 15,000 Canadians.

Canada's Bounty Will Grace Our Peacetime Thanksgiving

This year when Canadians sit down to Thanksgiving dinner their hearts will be overflowing with thankfulness for the greatest of all blessings—Peace. The meal may be simple, but the celebrations will be special.

In this country, we are fortunate to have our chicken and turkey, our pumpkin pie and all the trimmings. The bird may be stuffed with a savoury dressing, and served with a rich giblet gravy and red currant jelly, roast potatoes, glazed carrots and broccoli or Brussels sprouts.

Today's recipes include desserts, a Hot Tomato Cocktail and the Glazed Carrots.

Hot Tomato Cocktail

2 cups tomato juice
1 slice onion
1-4 bay leaf
2 cloves
1 tablespoon sugar
1-8 teaspoon summer savoury
1 teaspoon vinegar
1-8 teaspoon celery salt

Combine all ingredients. Bring to boiling point then strain. Serve hot. Six servings.

Glazed Carrots

Cook small whole carrots or carrot sticks in small amount of boiling water until almost tender; drain. Dip carrots in melted fat, place in a greased baking dish. One or two slices of lemon may be added if desired. Sprinkle lightly with brown sugar and add one or two tablespoons of water. Bake 20 minutes in a moderately hot oven 375 degrees F., basting frequently.

Thanksgiving Pumpkin Pie

3 1-2 cups cooked, sieved pumpkin
1 cup brown sugar
3 egg yolks
1 1-2 teaspoons ginger
1-4 teaspoon cloves
1-2 teaspoon mace
1-2 teaspoon allspice
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
3 egg whites
2 baked 9 inch pie shells

Bake or steam pumpkin until tender, press through a sieve. Measure and mix with 3-4 cup brown sugar, beaten egg yolks, spices, salt and milk. Cook in the top of a double boiler until thickened, about 20 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff, beating in remaining 1-4 cup sugar and fold meringue quickly into the pumpkin mixture. Pour filling into the baked pie shells and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for 10 minutes. Cool and serve. Makes two 9-inch pies.

Grape Sponge

1 tablespoon gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup unsweetened grape juice
1-2 cup sugar (less if grape juice is sweetened)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Few grains of salt
2 egg whites

Soak gelatine in cold water. Heat grape juice and sugar to boiling point, add soaked gelatine and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add lemon juice. Chill until partially set. Add salt to egg whites, beat until stiff and fold into the gelatine mixture. Pour into an oiled mould or individual sherbet glasses and chill until set. Serve with custard sauce, made with egg yolks. Six servings.

The giant Irish deer had an antler spread of 12 feet. This animal became extinct in the 14th century.

HARVEST HAT

This spring one of the local milk-waggon horses made a sudden lunge at an Easter bonnet and ate it to the last violet. If you go wandering to the fair in a hat like the above, which is trimmed with corn tassels, beans, broccoli, peppers and tomatoes, better watch out for Dobbin!
The young lady, Miss Joan Norris, was "snapped" on her way to a combined Victory garden party and harvest festival.

Cut His Bread Far Too Often

A meek little man was haled into Old Street Court in London the other day. Magistrate Hopkin glared at him and demanded to know the charge.

The little man's accuser held out a loaf of bread.

"Well?" asked the mystified magistrate.

"It has three cuts across the top."

"A horrible crime," murmured Magistrate Hopkin.

The plantiff then explained that the loaf was proof of violation of a war-time labor conservation order forbidding bakers to make more than two cuts.

The little baker shed his meekness.

"Yes, I'm guilty," he said. "I slash my loaves three times. I do it to please my customers; a loaf breaks easier that way. If that's a crime, send me to the Tower. Maybe I deserve life."

The complainant replied that while three cuts each on a few loaves involved little labor, the same number of cuts on 100,000 loaves—the daily output of larger bakers—would mean lots of extra work. So, to save labor and keep competition even, the government had ordered two cuts.

Magistrate Hopkin fined the little baker $8. The complaint appeared petty, he said, but the enforcement of many such regulations added up a lot of manpower salvaged. Many Londoners, however, believe the magistrate sliced justice mighty thin.

THE TRAFFIC PROBLEM

During war-years the number of passengers requiring our services reached an all-time high record. Excessive crowds, war limitations, and streets choked with traffic, caused our passengers to suffer many inconveniences and forced transportation services to operate under many handicaps.

We are grateful to our passengers for their co-operation and understanding.

What's ahead?

Passenger demand still climbs. Traffic is more congested than ever due to the removal of gas rationing.

War-time practices by passengers and motorists, to "speed up" traffic, continue to be vitally necessary.

In order to help us to move our passengers as quickly as possible please continue

1. To have fares ready
2. To present transfers unfolded
3. To move well into cars and buses
4. To form queues at loading points
5. To avoid "rush hours" whenever possible

Press Women See Manufacture Of Rayon And Cotton Fabrics

Styling, line, cut, drape—all the actual technique of fashion itself, is always fashion news, but the story of the men and machines behind the making of fine Canadian fabrics does not bask in the limelight to the same extent. So when many of the local press girls were invited by the Bruck Silk Mills to see for themselves how the wheels turn and the bobbins fly in the factory in Cowansville, most of them accepted with alacrity, including your Examiner woman's editor. In perfect weather, we travelled to the mills on Thursday last in a bus, and saw the whole process of manufacture from fibre to finished bolt of goods.

Upon arrival we were lunched in the Recreation House provided by the Bruck Silk Mills for their one thousand employees.

Well fed and rested we set off for the factory to learn about the making of gabardines, suitings, draperies, sheers, Bruck crepes, bengalines and fabrics for sportswear, etc. From the outside one gets no hint of the hive of industry within, for the vine-covered buildings sit quietly in spacious lawns inset here and there with beds of flowers.

Well, it was a great experience. We blinked at thousands of cones and skeins and spindles and bobbins and whizzers and beamers and quillers. Information about acetone and viscose yarns, dyes, starches and oils, temperatures, warps and woofs and engraved rollers and screen printers, poured in at one ear and, alas, out the other! The gallant Mr. Philbin did his best, but you really need a master mind to understand the things that go on in a silk mill! But we loved the whole business, the whole colorful, intricate bewildering setup. We were speechless at the sight of 40,000 yards of rayon thread strung with precision in a fairy-like runner to make the warp. Girls were tending thousands of bobbins and the machines for putting a turn or twist in the fibres. In the division where the upholstery material and drapes are woven, beautiful patterns in rich, warm jewel-tones grew as shuttles shot at high speed across the warp. Around us the weaving machines, stuck all over with whirling wheels, did a sort of abandoned Highland fling with levers, bars, needles, cogs and teeth dancing and waving, while other components kept up a Walt Disneyish jitterbug effect.

Dress Fabrics

The company prides itself on the quality of its dress fabrics, in which it specializes, and endless inspections take place at various stages of manufacture. Every dye is pre-tested in the laboratory. Nothing is left to chance. Clear, vibrant colors emerge as a result of this care and skill—some of this season's beauties being temple jade, vineyard rose, romantic violet, china gold, pilot grey, Ch'ing Turg (a dashing near turquoise) Manchu fuchsia and Mexican olive, to mention only a few. Out of the great glass-enclosed dye baths the fabric is hustled to an ager, where the dyes are "set" or baked-in under heat for fast color. One huge machine, a Tower Ager (the latter meaning to age or season the color) can accommodate 18 yards of material in the air at once. And every time the experts can't think of anything else to do with the cloth they pop it into great tubs and wash it thoroughly!

We saw how the printing machines, with copper rollers on which the design is engraved, printed designs; and watched the procedure for screen printing whereby a greater number of colors can be imprinted upon the fine fabrics such as the best crepes and silk jersey dress goods, and on certain types of curtaining and floral luncheon cloths. So modern is the equipment that the company can, and does, print or dye one day and ship the next.

There is a cheerful first aid room for employees with a nurse in attendance and where the services of a doctor are available three times a week.

First Silk Mill

The piece goods manufactured in this high-ceilinged, airy factory go to Australia, New Zealand, the West Indies and many other far corners. It was the first silk mill in the Dominion, and that first yard of silk to be made in Canada still hangs over the desk of the president.

The Haunted House

By EDNA JAQUES

Remember when you were a kid and there was a haunted house on the next street?

Remember how you sort of ran past it if you were out after dark and how even in the daytime, the windows seemed to hold shadows and you shivered just looking at it?

Well — you're grown up now and you know there are no ghosts or haunted house. But are you sure?

If we let the people of Europe die — for a little timely aid in the way of clothing — there will be haunted hearts in every hole and corner of Canada.

Not only that, but we'll have a haunted world, where the ghosts of these people will haunt us as long as we live.

It could have been different. If we had Germany for a neighbour, the fate of 125 million Europeans might have been ours. Starvation, homes blown to atoms, all our clothing except what we stood up in stolen from us, our good, warm bedding sent back to Germany.

In thankfulness — for our esape — the minute you finish reading this little story, go up into your attics or into your clothes closets and dig out that unused suit. It still has good wear and warmth in it. Or that dress you loved "many pounds ago", as one woman put it.

Here are the things most urgently needed:

Suits, men's, women's, and children's. Odd coats, skirts, trousers, dresses, blouses, aprons. Overcoats, men's, women's and children's. Jackets in all sizes. Scarves and shawls. Footwear (fastened together in pairs).

Under the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund on behalf of UNRRA a clothing collection is being held in Canada from October 1st to 20th. The purpose of this is to secure serviceable used clothing for the needy and destitute people in the liberated areas of Europe and China.

Only such garments as can be spared from your wardrobe without replacement are asked for.

The whole-hearted co-operation of everyone in Canada is needed to make this drive a success. Next winter will be too late . . . the need is now!

Let's not talk about peace or love or any other hope until we hav met this mortal need. Deaths from exposure now outnumber deaths from starvations. Diseases make quick inroads when a body is cold.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

CONVENERS NAMED ORDER OF BLUE GOOSE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

At a recent executive meeting of the newly-formed women's auxiliary of the Honorable Order of the Blue Goose, International, Quebec Pond, held at the Engineers' Club, and presided over by the president, Mrs. R. A. Harries, conveners were appointed for the coming season and the aims of the organization outlined.

It is the intention of the group to assist in various patriotic and charitable works, such as the supplying of literature and cigarettes to St. Anne's Military Hospital.

Most Loyal Gander, W. H. Bell, addressed the gathering and stressed the value of a women's auxiliary to the Quebec Pond—how it should improve the spirit of the order and the relations among insurance men in every field.

An opening tea and general meeting will be held in the Queen's Hotel, Salon "A", on Thursday afternoon, October 18, at 3.00 o'clock, under the convenorship of Mrs. Paul Tremblay, with Mrs. E. H. Shea in charge of music arrangements.

Executive for the following year are: President, Mrs. R. A. Harries; first vice-president, Mrs. Edmund Foster; second vice-president, Mrs. B. Bertrand; recording secretary, Mrs. W. F. Linn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Chas. Wood; treasurer, Mrs. S. F. LeRiche.

Conveners: Mrs. E. J. Beauvais, Mrs. W. H. Bell, Mrs. Paul Tremblay, Mrs. E. H. Shea, Mrs. R. Lepage and Mrs. L. P. Nolin.

One of the most valuable books in the world is a copy of Milton's "Lycidae" with corrections in his own handwriting.

Daughters of Nile

Oasis Temple No. 46, Daughters of the Nile, will hold the regular monthly session on Monday, October 15 at 7.30 p.m. in Victoria Hall.

A rehearsal for officers will be held after the session.

WOULDN'T MISS WHEAT

Wheat, vitally important to us, means nothing to most of the people of the world. The European-American group, of the world's four "masses," is the only one to utilize wheat for food, and the other three would never miss it if it were taken from the earth. Millions of people have never even heard of it.

Parade of White Marble Horses

Astonished Parisians recently watched a procession of splendid marble horses slowly crossing the Place de la Concorde. Mounted on ball-bearing wheels and firmly held in a sturdy wooden cage which protected them from jolts, the famous Marly horses were on their way back to the entrance of the Champs Elysées.

Created by the 17th century sculptor G. Coustou, the horses first pranced at the entrance of the watering trough of the royal chateau of Marly near Paris. In 1795, they were moved to the heart of the city.

A few days before the liberation of Paris, the famous horses and the fine statuary of the Tuileries were buried in the gardens themselves to guard them from bombs and shells. These precautions were rewarded, for the pedestal of the Marly horses were scarred by machine-gun fire.

Because of the weight and fragility of these marble statues their restoration to their places is a delicate and slow operation. But already Fame is again sounding her trumpet at the entrance of the Gardens and the horses of Marly prance on the Champs Elysées.

THE CHALLENGE OF AN EMPTY PLATE*

* BEEF – 140,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on for Canada 225,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 85,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* PORK – 100,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 450,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 350,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* CANNED MEAT – 70,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 114,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 44,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can — and will — help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember — your butcher may have inexperienced help.

"A Royal Scandal" Tops In Sparkling Lubitsch Fun

...e famous "Lubitsch touch" ...cut loose again, and this ...t has delivered a walloping ...ge of top entertainment in ...oyal Scandal," which is now ...g at the Westmount United ...re, and which is the most ...ous hit yet from the screen's ...r of subtle, saucy comedy.

...th Tallulah Bankhead, ...es Coburn, Anne Baxter and ...am Eythe in starring roles, ...oyal Scandal" tells of some ...y goings-on in the Russian ...rial Palace during the reign ...norous, glamorous Catherine ...Great. While the titillating ...related here is not mentioned ...e history books, Catherine ...Great being Catherine the ..., the whole smacks of more ... mere keyhole scandal, and ...ice as delectable.

...e picture races at a mad ... merry pace through three wonderful days and three wonderfilled nights with the queen wh felt oh-so-alone on the throne and needed men around her all the time. Outside her regal presence, the men are busy as beavers plotting her overthrow.

What happens when a handsome and utterly loyal young lieutenant tries to warn her of the impending loss of her throne, and Catherine, more impressed by his virility than by his warning, promotes him to the rank of general only to have her patronage turn him into revolutionary rather than romantic channels, makes for saucily rich film fare, and the most delightfully delicious hit of the year.

Tallulah Bankhead plays Catherine the Great to a royal farethee-well. In her hands, what might have otherwise been han-died as merely a broad burlesque characterization emerges as a joyously conceived, exquisitely deft portrayal. In brief—Tallulah is terrific!

As the wily Chancellor, Charles Coburn proves once again the stuff of which Academy Award winners are made. This is his most unusual role, and his best.

Anne Baxter offers a wonderful surprise in her first glamorous role as the lady-in-waiting who unexpectedly finds herself in romantic competition with the queen, herself.

William Eythe definitely establishes star status as the young lieutenant who obeys the queen's every command — with pleasure.

The brilliant supporting cast of "A Royal Scandal" is headed by Vincent Price.

In addition to the "Lubitsch touch," the film sparkles with "Preminger polish," for it is Otto Preminger's direction that "A Royal Scandal" owes much of the quality that makes it a "must see" on every movie list.

Children's Stage Show

Mary Beetles will present a repeat performance of Snow White and the Dwarfs and other attractions at Snowdon Theatre next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, in aid of the Montreal Rotary Club Social Service Work.

The immortal story of Snow White and the Dwarfs with all its colourful humour and pathos will again warm the hearts of a Montreal audience when presented by a cast of those who live in the land of dreams and imagination—children.

The story is woven about Snow White the lovely little princess, who is portrayed by six-year-old Estelle Ross, and the wicked Queen, Shirley Grant, who deeply resents her budding beauty. The woodcutter, who refuses to carry out the Queen's command brought to him by Evalita, the scheming maid, played by Myrna Rapaport, is being portrayed by eleven-year-old Walter Warren who made himself known to Montreal audiences in the 7th Victory Loan Campaign. The children of the woodcutter are played by five-year-old Joyce Kogan and Marlene Axelrod. A triple part is being played by Rosalind Kirsch, who does the prologue, the voice of the mirror, and one of the dwarfs, the other six being played by Diana Adeles, Jane Walkington, Marilyn Lippens, Enid Kirsch, Reisha Harvey and Rhona Feldman.

The prince is being played by Ann Morrison, and the Jester by Suzanne Beck, six-year-old acrobatic dancer, and the four ladies-in-waiting by Hinda Cohen, Irma Ginsherman, Darien Timberley, and Edith Aberman.

The performance is directed by Ruth Whiting.

The Soloists will be Derek Shaw, Frances Husband, Constance Bronstein, Elsa Heyden, Elienne Charbonneau, Mary and Nancy Saunders.

Mary Iwasaki and Mrs. F. Floud will be at the piano.

GOLD IN THE SUN

Mrs. Charlotte Moore, of Princeton Observatory, has found traces of gold in the spectrum of the sun. It is, however, so scarce that it has hitherto eluded the observation of students, and it is only identified by very weak lines which appear, not as we should expect, among the yellow and orange lines, but in the ultra-violet sector, where only a photograph can find it. With this addition we have found in the sun traces of sixty-six of the ninety elements known to exist on the earth.

Judy Garland And Robert Walker In Grand New M-G-M. Success

When a lonely serviceman, on his first visit to New York City and possessing a precious 48-hour pass, meets a lovely young girl who takes him to her heart, the result is one of the most entrancing motion pictures of this or any other year.

We're speaking of "The Clock," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer romantic hit at the Monkland United Theatre, with Robert (Private Hargrove) Walker as the serviceman and Judy Garland as the girl.

Here is a tender, heart-warming picture, superbly acted and directed, which will score a hit with everyone who sees it. Truly, every second in it is a heart-beat as Judy and Bob meet in New York's vast Penn Station and begin a 48-hour romance like none you've ever seen.

The picture is full of beautiful moments as Judy and Bob go through their adventures, losing each other twice in the big city in the process. They have a heart-breakingly hilarious time trying to obtain a marriage license, and when they do, there are further deeply moving scenes as they scurry around to find someone who will perform the wedding ceremony.

Everyone connected with the picture deserves worlds of praise. The stars are at their best, and Keenan Wynn, James Gleason, Marshall Thompson and Ruth Brady all turn in outstanding supporting performances. Wynn, especially, has a scene which surely must be one of the funniest ever filmed.

Wonderfully directed by Vincente Minnelli, who made "Meet Me in St. Louis," from a sparkling script by Robert Nathan and Joseph Schrank, "The Clock" is a "must see' picture for everyone.

By the use of an acid secretion, termites are able to dissolve lime mortar.

Tomorrow night the T.N.T. All-Girl Revue appears at Delson. All of these performers are booked by Grattan D. Thompson of Hampstead who is entertainment committee chairman of the Mont War Services Co-Ordinating Co cil.

Skyliners Orchestra Plan Victoria Hall Dance

It will be dance time in the lower ballroom of Westmount's Victoria Hall next Friday evening when the Skyliners Orchestra will be holding their first dance of the 1945-46 dance season.

The Skyliners, a group of young and talented musicians who are more interested in the musical end of things than in the fees they receive for playing, were formed in September, 1943, and the nucleus of the band has been playing together ever since.

Gordie Pfeiffer, the McGill student who has adopted the sage name of "Fyfer" because his real monicker has been mispelled so many times, is the number one attraction of this experienced group of modern musicians. Handsome Gordon strums the bass fiddle and also gives out with some very well-received vocalising. His swoon-croon version of "Embrace Me" has made him famous in Montreal music circles.

Two other featured stars of the outfit are pianist Jerry Miller, who doubles as the band's general manager, and Bobby Pete, son of the owner of a Mansfield Avenue music store. Pete does a specialty on "Paradiddle Joe" that is reputed to be well worth seeing.

The Skyliners, who will be playing at West Hill High School's graduation dance on Friday, October 26, have been practising long and hard for this opening event, and expect to be in top form by the time nine p.m. Friday, October 12, 1945 rolls around.

Present indications are that a capacity crowd will be on hand when the band swings into "I Surrender Dear", its theme song, next Friday.

The Skyliners, incidentally, have a novel presentation of "Two O'clock Jump" which has won them applause and laughter everywhere they have played it.

Jerry Miller's band, as the Skyliners are known in some circles, has a new type of bandstand which has never yet been seen in Montreal, and probably nowhere in Canada.

General manager Miller describes them as "streamlined" but they defy description. Painted silver, the stands are joined together and present a pleasant change from the everyday run of bandstands.

Manager Miller wants to inform the general public that the Skyliners chief aim is to play the kind of music the audience wants, and to bring that about, requests are always more than welcome.

Through its newly established office in Australia, the National Film Board has arranged for photographers and cameramen to follow events in Japan for Canadians.

It's W.H.S. vs M.H.S. Tomorrow

DAVIES' DAREDEVILS EXPECT TOUGH BATTLE

Davies' Daredevils, as Westmount High's Senior A footballers are becoming known as throughout the length and breadth of this fair city, will be up against a tough proposition when they meet Glen Brown's Montreal High School outfit at Molson Stadium in the night-cap of a Senior A double bill that has Catholic High and D'Arcy McGee scheduled to meet in the opener. Westmount's game will start at 3.30.

The Purple and White, who should have run up much bigger than a 15-5 score against McGee last Saturday, have been considerably strengthened by the acquisition of snapback Pete Farrell, a tall and husky lad who was one of the bright spots of last Saturday's battle.

But Montreal, judging from the fight they put up against the powerful West Hill squad last week when they were downed 20-6 with the half time score being 9-6, will be a lot harder to beat than D'Arcy's woefully weak team.

It is likely that Tommy Manastersky, the Brown men's triple threat backfielder who has been out of action since the Blue and White's exhibition tilt with Malden High two weeks ago, will return to the gridiron wars tomorrow. If he does it will mean double trouble for the local hopefuls. Manastersky is a team in himself, and backed up by such stalwarts as George Valois, Norm Sauve, Lloyd Hughes and Don Henderson, Westmount's line, which played good football last Saturday, will have a hard time stopping him.

Other MHS'ers expected to see action in tomorrow's game include Bob MacGregor, Tom Jones, Ron Murray, Pete Robinson, Ted Sidney, Alex Todesco, Don Henderson John Shaney, Ron Dakers, D. Leduc, Sam Salvatore, Ross Baldwin, Russ Norman, Bill Morrow, Warren Gamble, Smitih, Andy Martin, Jim Britton, Don Cameron, John Logan and Gene Cooper.

Lew Davies has announced that he will field essentially the same team as defeated D'Arcy McGee last Saturday.

The Catholic High-D'Arcy McGee tilt is slated to begin at two o'clock.

ONE FOR WESTMOUNT

Paced by lanky, fleet-footed halfback Freddie Jones, who scored two of his team's three unconverted touchdowns, Westmount racked up their first win of this young 1945 grid campaign at Molson Stadium last Saturday when they downed D'Arcy McGee 15-5 in the opener of a double feature that saw West Hill overcome stubborn Montreal High resistance in the night-cap to win out 20-6.

Jones consistently streaked for big gains around the ends and through the sieve-like McGee line. Except for McGee's starry forward passing quarterback Tommy Barbeau, he was the best man on the field last Saturday.

Westmount displayed complete superiority over their opponents in every department except forward passing and, with a bit more exertion and a lot less sloppy play, could have run their score up to 30.

The Purple and White opened the scoring in the first quarter. After quarterback Chuck McCrae had made it first down on the McGee 23, Jones bucked for seven yards and on the next play swept around the right end for an 11-yard gain and from there, after Sandy Edmison, who played a swell game, and Chuck McCrae had advanced the pigskin to within three yards of the payoff stripe, Jones bucked his way over for five points.

The winners scored again in the second quarter when a Joe Eveleigh to Bob MacAllister heave was completed and stocky Robert was able to shake off some McGee tacklers and go over for a major.

In the third canto, Jones went over for his second five-pointer after putting himself within hailing distance of the McGee goal line with a 20-yard dash.

Then came McGee's major. Halfback Frank Horan intercepted an Eveleigh forward on his own 35 and raced the length of the field for the losers' only score.

Vital statistics: Westmount made 20 first downs, McGee 16; Westmount completed two passes, McGee 10.

Cyclones Defeat Lord's Tornados

The schedule of the Westmount Municipal Six-Man Rugby League opened on Tuesday at King George Park with a bantam game. In this contest George Gough's Cyclones defeated Richard Lord's Tornados 12-2. A midget game between Eagles and Tornados was postponed.

The bantam teams gave an early season display and the Cyclones won the game just as much on their opponent's errors as on their own good play. Bob Bunten was the star of the game for the winners, ringing up seven points via a touchdown and a touch-from fumble. John Lough got Cyclones' other major score while John Swaine accounted for the Tornados' two points when he nabbed John Ferrabee behind the Cyclones' line for a safety touch.

Cyclones picked up their first five points soon after the game started when Bob Bunten intercepted Keith Ham's forward pass and evaded the players on the Tornados to go over their goal-line after a 30-yard run. Tornados messed up the attempted convert.

The Cyclones went ahead 10-0 when John Lough performed a similar feat close to the halfway mark, but on this occasion he had but 10 yards to travel before crossing the line. Marty Kay missed the convert.

Bob Bunten picked up two more points in the second half when he pounced on a loose ball fumbled by Keith Ham behind the Tornados' line.

The Tornados' lone score came midway through the second half when Keith Ham booted a long one that got away from John Ferrabee and before it had stopped bouncing, it had rolled over the Cyclones' line and John Swaine got credit for the two pointer when he nabbed Ferrabee before he could manoeuver his way out.

The line up of the teams for the opening game was as follows:

CYCLONES: John Ferrabee, George Gough, Jaine Lough, John Lough, Marty Kay, Ronnie Raphael, Bob Bunten and Warren Almond.

TORNADOS: Jim Brow, Keith Ham, Charles Bailey, John Swaine, "Dougie" McDougal and Gilbert Young.

Only grades eight and nine will participate and the title will be fought for on a tournament basis. Intra-mural tabs will probably be issued to the winning teams.

W.J.H.S. SOCCER

Thirteen classes have entered teams in the Westmount Junior High inter-class soccer leagues. Each team plays each team in its league (which are organized according to grades) twice.

Games take place Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, weather permitting.

SHORTS ON SPORTS

By George Cochrane

Mr. Robert Grant, the pink-cheeked, fair-haired manager of Westmount High School's Senior A fotball squad, can read. Mr. Grant's favorite reading matter is the sports sections of various publications.

While perusing the sports pages of the Monitor, the sister publication of The Examiner and for which we also produce immortal prose, the slender manager of Westmount High's gridders came across one of our many predictions, namely, to wit, and ad nauseam, that West Hill would trounce Westmount in the season opener by at least two touchdowns.

* * *

On opening day West Hill trounced Westmount 30-5 and that night at Johnny Holmes' Victoria Hall Soiree, the pink-cheeked fellow approached us with gleaming eyes and a wrinkled forehead. "You should never have made such a prediction, you old meanie, you," said the fair-haired lad, his rich baritone voice giving emphasis to his words.

* * *

According to Mr. Grant, an excellent character and a superb manager, (or so he tells us), your shorts on sportster should never predict that Westmount will be beaten.

Overlooking the possibility that Robert might be a member of the betting fraternity and therefore anxious to have all pre-game stories as information-less as possible, we come to the conclusion that this member of the Air Cadet League of Canada is burning with such school spirit that he does not wish to have the word defeat associated with his school until such defeat has been actually suffered.

Which may all be very noble. But, nevertheless, with Mr. Grant's opinion we disagree. When a sportwriter is making a prediction we feel that it is his duty to give an honest opinion. And so, when we prophesied that West Hill would beat Westmount we were giving out with what we honestly thought would happen while, at the same time, hoping that our prediction would not be borne out.

* * *

Which brings us up to this week and tomorrow's game against Montreal High. A prediction: The Blue and White will defeat the Purple and White by two touchdowns.

And that's another prediction that we hope will never be borne out.

World's Series time again. Seems only a few short weeks ago that the Browns and Cardinals were battling it out for the title. Many fans are of the opinion that the Cardinals would make a better representative of the National League in the series than the Cubs, but most fans and writers seem satisfied that the Tigers are the class of the American League—at least in a short series.

Tigers won the flag on the last day of the season, in the last inning of the last game they played when Hank Greenberg's now-famous long hit with the bases full when for a homer, changing a one-run deficit into a 6 to 3 victory for the Tigers.

The Cubs cinched the National League bunting by defeating Pittsburgh last Saturday, 4 to 3, to bring the Windy City its first flag since 1938. Hank Borowy, who has perhaps been the most talked-about ball player in the game the past month or so, was the winning pitcher. The Cubs are banking on him strongly in the coming clash with Detroit.

Ace of Cub Staff

This is written before the start of the big series and by the time it appears in print we might be proven badly in error, but we are predicting that Borowy will give the Tigers plenty of stuff to look at and although they will no doubt look intently, we think they will see very little. Of all the Cubs' pitchers, he was the only one who consistently stopped the Cardinals. The Cards mauled the rest of the staff.

Borowy, traded to the Cubs in mid-season after he had compiled a 10-5 record for the Yankees, was called to the mound time and again by Manager Charlie Grimm to win an all-important game as the terrific stretch drive of the St. Louis team became a serious threat to the lead which the Cubs had held since July 8th.

Thirteen times since MacPhail let Borowy go in mid-season had big Hank stepped to the mound, eleven times he brought home the bacon. Three times he beat the Cardinals—three vitally important games for the Cubs—representing exactly one-half the games that the Cubs won from the Cards all season.

Hank Borowy is a graduate of the great Yankee farm system, stepping out of Fordham into a Newark uniform where he was one of the most effective pitchers in the International League before being called up to the Yanks. He quickly made good in the majors, winning fifteen and losing only four in 1942 and compiling the eighth best earned-run average in the league—2.53.

The following year his work was overshadowed by Spud Chandler's superb hurling and Ernie Bonham's steady winning, but he had a good 14 and 9 record and an earned run average of only 2.82.

In the two world's series in which he participated, he won one game, a 6 to 2 decision in 1943 over the Cards. In 1944 Borowy was McCarthy's ace with 17 wins and 12 losses and with an E.R.A. of but 2.63.

This year the blond Pole has tied a record for most wins in one season in two leagues, his 21 and 7 equalling the mark set by Iron-Man Joe McGinnity many years ago.

Borowy first came to the critical notice of Montreal fans when, after a fine season, he pitched an air-tight play-off game here in September 1941, only to be replaced in the sixth inning due to a blister on his pitching hand. Newark eventually won the game by a 4 to 3. That game set a new attendance record for Delorimier Stadium, 24,000 fans crowding into the local park.

When Borowy was traded last summer by MacPhail, the red-headed Scotsman was severely criticized for making the deal. Borowy's pitching since hasn't changed the opinion of many New York fans in the matter.

The English language is spoken by about 300,000,000 of the world's 2,000,000,000 people.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

by BOB LUNNY

Our 1945 football campaign finally got underway when our Senior B squad defied the weatherman to journey up to Rockland Park last Friday to engage Strathcona Academy in their initial tie. The locals bowed to the Outremont boys 20-6. Although Strathcona well deserved the victory, the score hardly was a fair indication of the play, as the St. Leo's squad held their more experienced and heavier opponents well in check until the last quarter, when on the hort end of a 10-6 score, quarterback Jimmy McCarthy threw caution to the wind, calling for a forward pass barrage in a futile gamble to win the game. Strathcona intercepted two of these passs, and went over for a major score on both occasions.

The Interscholastic League, which has been lagging behind badly in the promotional end of its activities the past few years, seems to worry very little as long as the interests of the larger schools are served. This year's interscholastic football schedule has fewer teams and few games than ever before, with the small schools, Like Daniel O'Connell and St. Leo's, putting up a terrific struggle to merely exist. Thanks to the untiring efforts of Jack Lang, director of physical education for the Montreal Protestant School Board, St. Leo's and Daniel O'Connell have been included in the schedule of the Protestant Senior B Football League. Mr. Lang is also the moving spirit behind the Senior A loop.

The injury jinx which has been hovering around both our football teams made its presence felt again last Friday, when Bob Mace, fleet-footed backfielder of the Senior B club, was forced to the sidelines with a head injury suffered soon after the opening whistle in our game against Strathcona Academy.

ODDS AND ENDS

Dave Manning, sparkplug of the Senior B backfield, who has been sidetracked with a knee injury, is expected to be back in the regular line-up for the all important game against Daniel O'Connell this Sunday afternoon at Loyola Campus. . . Brother Bernard, director of the school has introduced a smart looking St. Leo's pennant, and he is to be complimented on his choice design. . . Jack Shannon, Milton Orr, Bill Shannon and Terry Rogers, former academy athletic greats, are making a serious bid to grab a place on this year's McGill football club. All of them have been showing smart form in early practices, and stand a good chance of performing in the Intercollegiate Union this season. . . A straw vote taken among the students of the Academy who have seen both West Hill and Loyola seniors perform, gives the Collegians a slight edge as to the probable winner of this year's senior school football hon-

Local Soccerites Are Undefeated

Westmount Junior High School's soccer team boast of an undefeated record in the games they have played to date in the junior interscholastic soccer loop.

Led by right fullback Gordon Campbell, the Junior High men rubbed out Herbert Symonds 5-0 on Thursday, September 20. The locals accounted for all their scoring in the second half. Campbell scored two dandies from free kicks while Matfield booted the other tally.

Goalie Robin Upton kept his shutout record intact in the second game, played one week later, when substitute left outside Ian Doig scored late in the first half to give the locals a 1-0 win over a hapless Verdun aggregation.

Peace Centennial will grapple with W.J.H.S. on October 11 October 16 calls for a trip to Hill for the second Herber monds game. On the 22n down to Stelco soccer Charlevoix Street, to meet Ve William Dawson will visit mount on the 25th and the son's finale is at Jarry against Peace Centennial o ober 30.

Bert Taylor is the coach squad, which is generally c ered one of the best ever to e from Westmount High.

On the first team are: Bu Mike Tucker, Hofman, Haas, field, Pete Clarke, Allan G (captain), Ronnie Campbell, McDowell, Gordon Campbell.

Others who addressed the included Herbert C. Holland Jean Morin, co-chairman, licity explaining the nature drive, which will be held October 1 to 20, will appear ly in newspapers and on the it was announced.

President Harry Truman recently published that the Zionists have his entire su and that of the United State will endeavour to promote lishment of a Jewish Na Home in Palestine.

ors. . . With but 17 youngsters in the opening game of the Bantams, and an injury riddled Senior B aggregation to work with, coach Andy McGillis probably has the toughest coaching assignment of any coach in school football for 1945. . . With St. Leo's and Daniel O'Connell Senior B teams occupying the spotlight this Sunday afternoon at Loyola Campus, it is to be hoped that a large following of both schools will journey out to the west end campus to take a look at what promises to be one of the highlights of the inter-school Senior B football league. Starting time for this game is 3 p.m.

The vocal support from the school's student body at all games to date has been very disappointing, and it is hoped that this situation will be remedied in the near future, and that the boys carrying the old school colors will be given the vocal support they are entitled to. So come on gang let our motto be "One for all and all for one." Get out there and let us hear from you. Our athletes won't let their school down —but what about you?

"WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?"

In the attics, closets and trunks of Canadian homes are millions of pounds of serviceable used clothing, shoes and used blankets. In the war-devastated areas abroad there are millions of people who are suffering and dying because they lack such essential things.

National Clothing Collection offers an opportunity for you to show your patriotism as well as your humanity. By providing war sufferers with those things they most desperately need, you will enable them to re-establish themselves and help us in establishing the world peace which is to come.

There is a National Clothing Collection receiving depot in your neighborhood. See that your spare apparel is delivered there.

Nation's first flying preparatory school has been established at Rye Beach, N. Y. The school will concentrate on a six-year program, teaching aeronautical science to students from the seventh grade through high school.

Roslyn-King's To Open Elementary Schools' Season

The Westmount Protestant schools football league will swing into action a week from Thanksgiving Day when King's meet Roslyn in the curtain-riser of the 1945 campaign at King George Park.

This year the elementary schools have substituted minimum and maximum weights of 70 and 120 pounds for the 14-year-old maximum age limit that existed last year.

King's School, the defending champions, have been practicing hard at Westmount Park almost daily, under the tuition of George Gough, and expect to be in superb shape for their season debut. They are relying upon plunging half Charlie Morgan and "Pete the Greek" to do most of their carrying.

Roslyn has not been loafing, however. With George Cochrane as coach, the orange and brown clad team began drilling more than two weeks ago and have been holding practices at the rate of five a week ever since.

Roslyn met Bugs Macdonald's Atoms, a pick-up team of students from St. Leo's, Westmount Junior and Senior High students Wednesday, and came out on the wrong end of a 34-0 score. The Roslynites figure, however, that they gained valuable experience and now know what to expect when they begin league play. As it was, playing against a heavier and more experienced team, they came within five yards of scoring a touchdown.

Roslyn will be relying upon hefty Tommy Williamson, halfbacks Ray and Charlie Baillie and quarterback John Swaine for most of their scoring punch.

Queen's, coached by Robert Lord this year, are pretty much of a mystery team. They'll see action for the first time on Friday, October 19, when they meet Roslyn.

SCHEDULE

Monday, October 15: Roslyn vs King's.

Friday, October 19: Queen's vs Roslyn.

Monday, October 22: King's vs. Queen's.

Friday, October 26: Roslyn vs Queen's.

Monday, October 29: Queen's vs King's.

Friday, November 2: King's vs Roslyn.

Games will start at 4.00 p.m. or earlier. First-named team will supply the ball and yardsticks. Two points are awarded for a win, one for a tie.

"WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?"

What would you think if your newly-born son or daughter, sister or brother, had nothing more warming or comforting than paper clothing and paper bedding?

The newly-born in many war-devastated lands abroad have suffered—many have died—from this experience. Thousands more will suffer and die unless you contribute to the National Clothing Collection, the cast-off but still serviceable, infants' garments and layettes which now lie idle and forgotten in your attic or closet or in other storage places of your home.

The number of Canadian merchant seamen manning Canada's foreign-going merchant ships rose from 1,460 to 8,350 during the war. War took its toll of them, as indicated by the following casualty figures: 1,054 dead or missing, and 189 taken prisoner up to March 31, 1945.

"WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?"

"I cannot forget the sight I saw this morning," an American army officer stated in his report of conditions in Yugoslavia. "A long line, mostly women and children, dressed in clothes no one at home would even handle, burlap bags for dresses, old rags around their shoulders, old rags wrapped around their feet. One of the boys boasted a coat, but it had been patched in fifty places."

Through your contribution of serviceable used clothing, shoes and blankets to the National Clothing Collection, the sorry state of these war sufferers and others elsewhere can be corrected.

LONG FIRST JUMP

Lt.-Col. William R. Lovelace made a 40-200-foot parachute jump the first time he ever jumped. He was testing high altitude bail-out equipment, and his only mishap was a frozen hand. He made the jump June 24, 1942.

... BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

From Adam to Zybisco their names are listed on scrolls that have an honoured place on the walls of factories and offices across Canada. They are the men who have risked their all that we might know security again.

Many will never come back, and the debt we owe to them can never be repaid.

But there is a way we can repay some part of our debt to the many thousands who are returning to re-enter civilian life or to be treated for serious wounds.

The money we invest in Victory Bonds will help to provide for the rehabilitation of our service men and women... for the care of the disabled... for the costs of the army of occupation in Europe.

And... the money we invest will help to maintain our export trade, providing peacetime markets for the products of our factories and farms ... an assurance of the future prosperity of our country.

The 9th Victory Loan will be the only loan for one year. We will be able to invest twice as much without increasing our monthly outlay. But whether we buy on the payroll plan, through our banks, trust and loan companies, or for cash, it will be our duty and our privilege to increase our purchases to cover the full twelve-month period.
