Rotary Told About "Health And What To Do About It"

"Unfortunately it is a reflection of the times that a special day or a special week is set aside to emphasize such an important subject as health," declared Dr. R. P. Vivian, director of the Department of Health and Social Medicine at McGill University and former minister of health of the Province of Ontario, who addressed the Rotary Club of Westmount on the occasion of National Health Week. "Health is not something which can be obtained merely by the payment of money. It is something which can be acquired only through the effort of people themselves."

"Health is a complex unity dependent upon heredity and environment, achieved and maintained by positive effort, exercised mainly by the individual himself," he declared. "The term implies an optimum of physical and mental strength, freedom from disease and the maintenance of the assets of well-being for as long a period of time as is consistent with the duration of life."

There is much the individual can do to promote and maintain good health, he went on. However, individuals must also act together for their own benefit and for the benefit of the yet unborn, whose inheritance will be greatly influenced by those now living. Therefore the individual's health must be considered before he is born, and this may be accomplished by pre-natal care. Added to this responsibility of the parents is the responsibility for the care of the infant and child to the age of adulthood, when it can look after itself.

But the parents need the aid of others, in supervision of normal growth and development, to assist in education, to provide ways and means of protection against disease and to be able to undertake the correction of such difficulties that might occur.

Health, therefore, is not only a complex subject, but it also requires a complexity of services to aid in its acquisition, maintenance and improvement. This can only be done by co-ordination of the services required on behalf of the individual, services which have evolved in answer to the expressed need and desire of the people themselves, said Dr. Vivian. Therefore, we have developed disease prevention and control, and many other medical and public health aids. However, much has yet to be done to fill in the present gaps, e.g., by extension of health insurance plans and re-organization of medical services for greater proficiency.

With the steadily improving situation, opportunities can be afforded the individual, to act for his own benefit, but much depends upon his knowledge of matters of health and the steps he takes to do for himself those things only he can do. This resolves itself into a matter of public education, as exemplified in National Health Week. It is the obligation of all to learn the facts, and to make use of them.

Stamp Club Hears Harold B. Weldon On Flight Covers

Members and friends of the Westmount Stamp Club, last evening, at Victoria Hall, heard an address by Harold B. Weldon on the subject "Famous Fliers and Famous Flights".

Mr. Weldon, whose hobbies are philately and photography, with the aid of lantern slides, gave an interesting talk on flight "covers"—mail markings or stamps on misives carried on almost all famous airplane flights. Due to their scarcity these covers become very valuable.

In his address, Mr. Weldon gave interesting details about the background and highlights of famous flights by the following famous flyers: J. A. D. McCurdy, Sir Frederick Bowhill, Air Vice Marshal Sir Robert Leckie, Captain Brian Peck, Sir Allan Cobham, Captain H. C. Dickens, Captain T. W. A. Scott, Antonio de St. Exupery and Wing Commander Gibson, V.C.

In reporting this meeting, John Yaxley, president of the Westmount Stamp Club, stated that the club desires to publicly acknowledge the great aid and co-operation that it has received from the Westmount Parks Department, under whose auspices it operates.

The next regular meeting will be held in Victoria Hall, on Thursday—junior members, 7.15 p.m.; senior members, 8.15 p.m.

Westmount Post Office Business Up

"Business" at the Westmount Post Office in 1947 increased approximately 20 percent over 1946, stated Postmaster John J. Lucey.

The 1947 statistics can be broken down as follows:

Stamps sold to the value of $108,449.17.

Number of registered letters mailed—18,774.

Number of insured parcels mailed—11,876.

Registered article deliveries—362,403.

Unemployment insurance stamps sold—$118,188.76.

Number of parcel post articles handled estimated at approximately 300,000.

There are only five clerks at the wickets to handle the increasing volume of mail going through the Westmount Post Office, and 29 mail carriers serve the community, declared Mr. Lucey, who added that the residents of Westmount have proved to be very cooperative in their dealings with their post office staff.

Parking Regulations For Wood Avenue Change

By a recommendation passed at last week's meeting of the Municipal Council of Westmount, the regulation in force with reference to parking on the west side of Wood avenue from St. Catherine street to Sherbrooke street was cancelled. By present regulation, no vehicle may be parked for a period exceeding 60 minutes on the west side of Wood avenue between Sherbrooke and St. Catherine streets.

GEORGE W. SPINNEY

A. Enslew Breeds Prize Winning Canary

A canary owned by A. Enslew, of 1218 Greene Avenue, was judged grand champion at the annual contest of the Canadian Roller Canary Club which was recently held in Toronto.

Mr. Enslew won the grand championship with one bird which attained the highest total score in four out of five shows held in Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal. This included judging in all classes: novice, amateur young birds and champion.

Mr. Enslew who works for the City of Westmount, states that he got into the hobby of canary breeding when he bought a canary for his family, which turned out to be a female. Thereupon he went out and bought a good male singer. Since he had acquired a pair of canaries, he decided to try raising birds.

About that time, he said, the City of Westmount cut working hours per day by one hour, and City Manager Jarman suggested that the extra hour thus gained be used to develop a hobby.

"I said to myself, that's just what I'm going to do, and started in," declared Mr. Enslew.

He said that he has found canary raising to be a most interesting hobby, and that it pays for itself, since money paid out for food and supplies is replaced by proceeds gained by the sale of canaries.

At the present time, he has about 60 canaries at his home.

Alderman Senecal Named To Represent Westmount

The Municipal Council of the City of Westmount, at the meeting held Monday evening, adopted the recommendation that "Alderman J. Senecal be authorized to attend the meetings of the Montreal Metropolitan Commission, and that he act as the City of Westmount's representative to the said commission in the event of Mayor Adams being unable to attend."

SEVEN ACCIDENTS

Police records indicate that seven traffic accidents occurred in Westmount within the past week, in one of which five automobiles were involved. No injuries were reported.

Impressive Tribute Paid Late Geo. W. Spinney

Business, government and educational leaders of Canada, former associates and many members of the general public assembled at St. Andrew's United Church on Wednesday afternoon to accord Canada's and their own final tribute to George Wilbur Spinney, of 1 Braeside Place, Westmount, president of the Bank of Montreal, who died at the Royal Victoria Hospital, after a lengthy illness, on Sunday, in his 59th year.

A native of Yarmouth, N.S., Mr. Spinney received his education and embarked on his career as a drug store clerk in that town. Some months later, he entered the service of the Yarmouth branch of the Bank of Montreal. He gained experience through service in various capacities in numerous branches of the institution, including offices at Edmunston, N.B., Quebec, Hamilton and Montreal, where he was to remain.

In 1915, Mr. Spinney was transferred from the accountant's department in a Montreal branch to the head office to become secretary to Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, general manager, where his superior ability had an opportunity to make itself evident.

In 1922 he was appointed assistant to the general manager, and in 1928 he became assistant general manager with supervision over Quebec, Maritime and Newfoundland branches as well as supervision over the securities department.

Made Bank President

In 1936 he was promoted to the position of joint general manager and in 1942 he became the bank's chief executive.

A member of the executive committee of the Children's Memorial Hospital, Montreal, Mr. Spinney also served as governor of the Royal Victoria Hospital and McGill University. Chairman of the First Victory Loan in 1941, he became chairman of the National War Finance Committee in the same year, and remained head of the committee until pressure of responsibilities forced him to retire from that position in 1943.

At that time, Hon. J. L. Ilsley, then Minister of Finance, said the Total Number In High Schools Less This Year

Statistics from a recent survey show a decrease in the total number of students enrolled at West Hill, Westmount Junior, Senior and Montreal West High Schools.

Officials of the schools pointed out, however, that this is understandable as new students of High School age were born during the depression years, when the birth-rate dropped, causing a decrease in the number of eligible students for the high schools now.

There are only a few additional projects or extra-curricular activities being sponsored, the survey revealed.

Westmount Jr. High

Activities at Westmount Junior High School remain very much the same as last year. This school has a 35 piece band, a Garde seven choir consisting of some 40 girls, and a mixed choir totalling 120 students.

Singing being taught to both Boys and Girls in Eight and Ninth grades is possibly the only new feature for most schools do not attempt this, due to the physical handicap of changing voices.

The Educational Guidance Programme is still going well, this being its seventh year in operation.

Westmount Sr. High

The Westmount Senior High School reports a drop of almost half in its grade twelve classes.

Home and School officials are experimenting with the idea of serving hot soup to students who stay at the school during lunch-time to work at some of the extra-curricular activities provided.

Various groups are being continued from last year, with the dramatic club hard at work in the production of "Every Family Has One", to be staged at the Westmount Junior High School auditorium on the evenings of Feb. 18th, 19th, and 20th.

King's H & S Assoc'n Holds Military Whist

Last Friday evening, a Military Whist was held in the gymnasium of King's School by the Home and School Association. Local Westmount firms donated many prizes for the affair which were distributed as door prizes, and there were also table prizes and a raffle. Mrs. A. Chesmer and Mrs. W. T. Leadbetter were co-conveners for the Whist and Mrs. R. Pickford was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. E. M. Roberts was table convener. There was a large attendance at the whist and a most enjoyable evening was had by all.

2 BIG HITS AT THE MONKLAND THEATRE

Barbara Stanwyck and David Niven in a dramatic scene "The Other Love," at the Monkland Theatre, released through United Artists. Also on the same program, Mark Hellinger's "Brute Force," starring Burt Lancaster and Hume Cronyn. These two big features, together with news and cartoon, make for a splendid program starting Saturday until Tuesday.

West End Community Orchestra To Provide Music For "Mikado"

Music lovers who attend the forthcoming presentation of the Lyric Operatic Society in its production of that most popular of all Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas, "The Mikado", will enjoy orchestrations by a group of talented musicians who, while amateurs in designation, are well qualified to interpret musical scores as written by the original composer.

Organized last spring, under the direction of Harry Norris, director of the Lyric Operatic Society, Inc., the West End Amateur Community Orchestra plans to provide at least one programme of symphonic music each season, as well as to provide from amongst its members an orchestra to play for the performances of the Montreal Lyric and West Operatic Societies.

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday evening in the West Hill High School auditorium and a very high standard of efficiency has been attained. Incidentally, Director Harry Norris announces that he will welcome enquiries from interested amateur musicians.

Dean H. F. Hall Will Address Alpha Omega

It has been announced by President Ross Canavan of the St. Andrew's United Church Alpha Omega Society that the club has secured as guest speaker for the meeting on Sunday, Dean Hall of Sir George Williams College.

Dean Hall has chosen to speak to the group with his well known friend "Oscar", a model of a human being, half of which is exposed, the other half covered. In the course of his interesting address, the Dean will explain human anatomy, and this interesting subject, presented in the Dean's excellent style, is sure to be of interest to the large audience that is expected to be on hand.

A cordial invitation is extended by President Canavan to all members and friends of the group to attend this meeting.

success of the committee's action in each of the four war loans "has, in large measure, been due to Mr. Spinney's very great abilities."

Honoured by King

"In recognition of his services as chairman of the National War Finance Committee," Mr. Spinney was created a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George in the King's Birthday List of 1943. He was also honoured with an honorary doctorate of laws by Acadia University in Wolfville, N.S., in 1942.

Directorates he held included, Canadian Industries Ltd., Royal Trust Company, Steel Company of Canada, Sun Life Assurance Company, Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., Montreal, London and General Investors, Ltd., and International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., and he was a member of the Canadian advisory board of Royal Exchange Assurance of London.

A son, Wilbur R. Spinney, died from injuries received on active service as a sub-lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy in June, 1945.

Quiet and unobtrusive throughout his life, Mr. Spinney desired that his funeral be simple and brief. Rev. D. M. Grant, of St. Andrew's Church, in which Mr. Spinney worshipped and once served as a member of the board, conducted the simple, but moving service. Interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Rotary Event To Highlight April Conference

Sir Ernest MacMillan will direct the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir in a recital under auspices of the Rotary Club of Montreal, and in conjunction with the Tri-District Conference of Rotary International, at the Forum on Sunday evening, April 25th.

The Rotary Club of Montreal is making attendance available to the general public and the proceeds will be devoted to the Club's activities among crippled children, for youth work and for aid to Veterans, especially those in hospitals. The event is timed during the Tri-District Conference when representative Rotarians of 125 clubs from three Rotary Districts, numbering upwards of 2,000, will be in Montreal.

Sir Ernest has prepared a programme of a capella music designed to appeal to all. The Toronto Mendelssohn Choir consists of over two hundred voices and has built an enviable international reputation for itself during the past years. The singers are thoroughly accomplished in all phases of choral work, including volume control, steadiness and the production of variously coloured tonal quality.

The programme is to include such numbers as "Judge Me O God", from Mendelssohn; Byrd's "Lullaby"; "Jesu, Joy and Treasure", from Bach and "The Blue Bird" by Villi Stanford. A colourful group of folk songs is also being arranged, including English, French-Canadian, Russian, Scottish and Australian. Variety will be lent the programme by the pianist, Neil Chotem, who is well-known to Montrealers.

Thief Arrested, Guilty, Faces Other Charges

As a result of a telephone call to the Westmount Police Department, Ivan Doucette, 23, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., was arrested on January 29th and charged with breaking and entering premises at 3606 The Boulevard.

As a result of investigation, it was found that the accused, who pleaded guilty before Recorder C. A. Hale last Friday, was wanted by police in Truro, N.S., and St. John, N.B.

The police of these cities were notified, and they sent representatives to Westmount to interview the prisoner. He admitted burglaries in those cities, and thought he would be able to recover some of the stolen property, which consisted mostly of jewellery.

Therefore, his sentence was postponed sine die in Westmount, and on Monday he was turned over to the representative from St. John, to be escorted to that city where he will appear on burglary charges.

In connection with National Health Week, the following notice has been sent to the parents of all pupils of King's School.

"Dear Parent:
 Have you ever thought what might be the consequence of sending your child to school when he has a cold? Many children who suffer from asthma or chronic bronchitis are susceptible to pneumonia. Your child may pass his cold on to one of these and the result may be severe illness or even death.

So, Mothers, won't you PLEASE keep your child at home when he has a cold, a cough, or "just sniffles" and help us in our efforts for a healthy and happy Community?"

FROM MACKENZIE KING TO MARILYN

WHEN he visited his native city of Kitchener, Ontario, last summer, Prime Minister Mackenzie King made the acquaintance of the Kilbasco family who live at "Woodside" the house in which Mr. King was born. Little Marilyn Kilbasco, aged 5, gave Mr. King some flowers, listened as the P.M. reminisced on his childhood, asked him many questions about when he was a child, and had her picture taken with him.

At Christmas, the Prime Minister had a card and note from Marilyn in which she wrote that her daddy had died since Mr. King's visit. Mr. King's reply, which was made public by the Kilbascos last week, reveals a side of the Prime Minister's character that few people, outside of his personal friends, know about. The letter will no doubt be treasured by Marilyn for the balance of her life.

"My dear Marilyn," Mr. King wrote, "nothing in many years has touched my heart more deeply than the word that came in your letter of a day or two ago. I am indeed pained to know that your dear father has been taken away and so suddenly and unexpectedly. I think I know just how sad you must feel, also your mother and your brothers and sisters, and I feel for you all more deeply than my words can begin to express."

"You must try, notwithstanding your great loss, to make Christmas day at 'Woodside' just as bright and cheerful as you can. You may be sure that God did not send into the world the Little Child born on that day many centuries ago, let us see from his life what God himself was like as a Father, without God having a very loving heart."

"While we cannot see God we have the story of the life of the little Christmas child to let us know what He is like."

"So I am perfectly sure that your dear father, while taken away from you, has been taken to Heaven where God himself is, and that, though you cannot see your father, he can see you, and that his spirit will be watching over you and your mother and your brothers and sisters at all times."

"When I was a little boy at 'Woodside' I found all this very difficult to comprehend. But as I have grown older I have come to believe it more strongly every year, and I might say almost every day."

"So don't think of your father as gone — when you say your prayers ask him as well as God to watch over you, and to continue to care for you and your mother and all the family, and you will see by and by how, in some remarkable way, your prayers will have been answered."

"Your Christmas card is a lovely one and I thank you warmly for it. I am sure you selected that particular card because the little picture looked like 'Woodside' in the winter time, and because the red roses and lighted candles looked so bright and cheerful and just the thing for Christmas. . . .

"I am sending you, with this letter, as a little Christmas gift from me to you a real photograph of you and me taken on the day of my visit to Kitchener. I had it framed and took it with me to France and Belgium, and Holland and England and always had it on my desk. . . . I have had this one framed for you in a frame like the one I have. It will help you to remember the happy time we had at Woodside and I hope will add to your happiness this Christmas season and always."

"It brings with it lots of love from me to you. Your very true friend."

HELP SAVE EUROPE'S CHILDREN

BOYS and girls in war-torn countries in Europe and Asia are today turning their eyes toward Canada as the opening day nears for the Canadian Appeal for Children, an appeal in which Canadians are being asked to contribute $10 million to assist children whose lives have been blighted by war. The Appeal will start on Feb. 9 and on that day similar drives will get under way simultaneously in 26 other countries in the world as the "have" nations come to the assistance of the "have not's".

Backed by organized labor and industry in Canada and supported by charitable and service clubs — as well as women's organizations, church groups, farmers' co-operatives and cultural societies — the Canadian Appeal for Children seeks to breathe life and knowledge into the existence of the children who have survived man's most determined efforts to kill them.

C. F. Fraser, chairman of the campaign operating committee of the Canadian Appeal for Children, has described the appeal as the most challenging of any appeals ever organized in Canada.

"Canada will reap credit — or shame — depending on the success of the Appeal," Mr. Fraser said. "More than 400 million children in Europe and Asia are slowly dying from hunger and freezing from the cold. Their need is urgent. Canadians may have a role in reclaiming half of the children in the world who occupy one-third of the world's area."

Food is high on the list of products which will be purchased in Canada and shipped overseas to feed the hungry children. Next comes clothing; then medical supplies. Nor is the Appeal being limited to the needs of the bodies.

"It may be truly said that the peace of the world during the next generation depends in large measure on the success of the Canadian Appeal for Children." Mr. Fraser said. "Children who are hungry and cold and diseased to not make happy citizens. Their bodily needs must be met. But unless they are taught to think for themselves, the threat of war remains an ugly shadow. To avoid war, its causes must be destroyed. Happy, intelligent people who have been trained to live with and respect each other are poor candidates for a war machine. We might well be saving Canadian boys and girls of tomorrow by saving the boys and girls of Europe and Asia today."

St. Matthias Cub Pack commenced the new year's activities on January 9th under their new Cubmaster, G. W. Foote, who is replacing Cyril H. Maggs, who first organized the Pack and remained as Cubmaster for the past seventeen years. The Cubs are making good progress in badge work and the following badges were presented recently:—Christopher Carr, Collector; Peter Kilburn, Collector and Sean Mack, Collector and Artist. The Pack is starting a floorball schedule which will run through February and March. All 2nd star Cubs who complete the required number of games are eligible for the Team Player Badge.

With the Annual Patrol Leaders' Banquet being held at the R. M.R. Armoury near the Glen, Westmount Scouts and Scouters will not have far to go. . . . Dr. Cyril James, Principal of McGill University, will be the Guest Speaker. . . . This year, for the first time since before the war, Scouters and Junior Leaders from out-of-town will be invited to attend. . . . Seating restrictions, as in the hotels, will not be a problem in the armory.

Grey Brother (Arthur Armstrong), sixer of the Grey Six, led the opening Grand Howl at Trinity Pack Monday evening, when the meeting was started earlier than usual, at 6.30 p.m., the hall having to be cleared by 7.30 p.m. Instruction period followed immediately after some very interesting games, and several tests were passed. Homecraft Badge was presented to Norman Bedford (Blue Smoke), ToyMaker Badge to Richard Howard and Collector Badge to Bob Turnbull. Jimmy Shaw was invested with his first star. Akela announced that there would be a hockey practice Tuesday at 5 p.m., and that the Pack lost to Mackay Institute 8-1 last Wednesday. Incidentally, Trinity are prepared to accept the St. Saviour's challenge. . . . just call Akela Bedford at DE.5737 to make arrangements. There will be no handicrafts this week, but paper collection as usual Saturday. The Blue Six won the competition for the evening and the Honour Penant was presented to Sixer Norman Bedford.

He will visit Saint John and Moncton, N. B., Charlottetown, P. E. I., and Halifax, N.S. Mr. Dodds will be accompanied by Lt. Col. G. E. so many people to the woods by his lectures and essays he was sure St. Peter would let him slip by.

He called his cabin "Pigeon Roost in the Woods", no matter where he camped. He dared to be himself, asked, why everybody should be of one pattern. People are delightful only in so far as they differ. He dressed in rustic clothes, said what he thought, and was called "queer", but was liked very much by all who knew him and by those who read his magazine.

He did not have any church connections, yet his many friends among the clergy hailed him as a deeply religious man. A well known author said: "He is a rare personality in a world that destroys personality."

He used often the slogan "Make the world safe for intelligence!" and thought that those six words sum up more completely all that the words "civilization" and "progress" stand for. He wrote: "The battle against ignorance, intolerance, stupidity and meanness is never won. We must fight forever to gain an inch and fight harder to hold it. Let us gird up our loins, consecrate ourselves anew and press forward, even though we know we go to defeat. Success is not the only worthwhile thing in this world. Failure may be noble. Success may be ignoble. It all depends. Allons!"

Of war he wrote: "If war would destroy only the unfit from off the earth we might find some toleration for it. There will never be an end to wars and rumors of war until the causes and provocators and beneficiaries of war are sent out in the first mobilization. If this can be done just once there will never be another war."

He often quoted Voltaire and refers to him as one who gave great assistance in the fight to abolish human torture in France. He often quoted his best known, noble and immortal principle, "I disagree with everything you say, and I will defend to the death your right to say it."

He was a student under Doctor David Starr Jordan, noted naturalist, and greatest ichthyologist since Louis Agassiz, great Swiss naturalist of Boston. After the death of Agassiz he knew more about fish than any living man. Once he was asked to identify and classify a large collection of fish for the biological laboratories of one of the larger universities of the U.S.A. He went to the laboratory, took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves, called for two stenographers and as fast as his assistants handed him specimens out of the tanks, he called off the genus, species, and habitat of every specimen there. Among the collection were two fish he had never seen — very rare fish from the Nile Valley. He identified them instantly because of his marvelous knowledge and prodigious memory.

I would like to pay a tribute to Dr. Jordan whose autobiography "The Days Of My Life" (2 volumes) I reviewed many years ago — one of the most fascinating autobiographies I ever read. He liked my review and we corresponded mostly about fundamental economics for a number of years. About twenty-five years ago Mrs. Ross and I spent a pleasant day with him and his brilliant wife at their home at Palo Alto, California, while we were on an unforgettable trip to the principal cities of California and the red wood district, and Oregon, Washington State and then home through Victoria, Vancouver, and the prairie provinces and speaking at a number of places on the way. Dr. Jordan was then president emeritus of Leland Stanford University, at Palo Alto. He died when eighty-five. He was the author of many standard text books on zoology and a really great man.

Following are a few of Bruce Calvert's "short waves".

You can slide down. But you must climb up. Watch your step. Honest doubt is the beginning of all wisdom.

"Knowledge is power". Yes, but power uncontrolled is dangerous.

Everything that is, is but the outflowing, or expression of the intelligence that lies within. Manifestations may be of infinite varieties and forms. Intelligence is but one. All life is one. At heart all humanity is one, with common origins and common destinies.

If you would have friends — be one.

Give freely of your best. The milk of human kindness turns sour if it stands.

Is education, knowledge, worth all it costs? The ignoramus at least has peace of mind.

Heard music is sweet. But sweeter far is that unheard inner harmony of the soul.

Out of much thought may come the wisdom we need to set our house in order and relieve the misery that is crushing the world.

BOOK REVIEW By H. S. Ross

"THIRTY YEARS ON THE OPEN ROAD WITH BRUCE CALVERT"

With an Introduction by Benjamin De Casseres

Pages, 280 — Price $2.00

—Publisher—

Greenberg - New York City

All Orders should be sent to Mr. Calvert's widow (a writer of inspiring poetry) addressed to Mrs. Bruce Calvert, Box 98, Mountain View, N.J.

Here we are given thirty years of his wandering amid sunshine, storm and cloud along the open road of life. There is wit and humor, wisdom and foolishness, joy and grief, success and failure, religion, philosophy, economics, and the humanities that touch the average human in a long life.

Hereafter I shall refer to Mr.

Calvert as he.

He was the author of The Federal Constitution And The Duties Of American Citizenship; Socialism And Progress; Science And Health; Rational Education; Calvert's Synthetic Shorthand And World Analysis, etc. And Publisher of "The Open Road", Founded in 1908. This volume epitomizes the personal views on world events and human problems and the reactions to nature and people of an unusual man who led an unusual life. The volume was completed shortly before the author's death on May 31, 1940, from essays which appeared in his monthly The Open Road (which I read for many years) founded by him in Indiana, in 1908, and continuing at Mountain View, New Jersey, until 1940. The Open Road — not everybody's magazine — was read by the cognoscenti from Terra del Fuego to Nome; from Cape Town to Hammerfest; from the Golden Gate to Yokohama. Ever and always it stood for the open mind and for hospitality to new ideals.

He was born in Clear Springs, Indiana, June 7, 1866. He followed a varied career as teacher, business executive and advertising writer. But he always longed for outdoor life. A love of nature and especially of birds drew him to green places. When he could no longer endure the city, he took to the woods to get acquainted with himself. Here in his retreat, for years, he typified plain living and high thinking. On occasion he left the woods for the lecture platform to tell of his philosophy and give readings from Walt Whitman's works, whom, it is said, he interpreted as few could. He often said, chuckling, that he had sent

Christian Science

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Romans 8:9 "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:—

"Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb; and he healed him, inasmuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the Kingdom of God is come unto you." (Matthew 12: 22, 28.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "There are evil beliefs, often called evil spirits; but these evils are not Spirit, for there is no evil in Spirit. Jesus cast out evil spirits or false beliefs. He said: 'My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.' He never described disease, so far as can be learned from the Gospels, but he healed disease. His purpose in healing was not alone

Dr. Mary Winspear To Speak Of Pre-Adolescent Problems

The child between the ages of seven and 12 has not attracted as much attention from child study groups as has his adolescent brother or his pre-school age sister, according to Dr. Mary Winspear, principal of Weston School, who will speak to mothers of junior members tomorrow morning at the Montreal Y.W.C.A.

Dr. Winspear will emphasize the special problems of these preadolescent years in an address entitled The New Look at the Child in the Home, which is part of the week-long series of events marking National Health Week.

During these years, which have been somewhat neglected in studies of child development, youngsters begin to manifest the growth of self discipline and the growing independence that often breaks out in a rash of 'teen age troubles to the bafflement of parents and teachers.

Considering the child as a developing organism from his baby days through his school career, it is not possible to isolate a certain age range from the rest of his experience, Dr. Winspear said. But it is possible and of great importance to perfect a harmonious relationship between the child and his home environment and between the child and his school environment. When the parent, teacher and child are working as a team, the youngster derives the greatest benefit from whatever advantages present themselves. This develops an emotional stability that will stand him in good stead during the stormy period of adolescence.

The Saturday meeting is scheduled for 10:15, after the young members have finished their classes. A special program of movies has been arranged for them as well.

Health Week activities include a number of special speakers and events around the theme of The New Look at Health. All of them take place at the Dorchester street Y.W.C.A., a Red Feather service of Welfare Federation.

St. Matthias W. A. Report On Work, Elect Mrs. Pope

The annual meeting of St. Matthias Women's Association, under the presidency of Mrs. H. B. Hope, was held on the 29th January. The treasurer reported the sum of $2,191 was raised during the year and that a credit balance of $277 was carried forward.

The annual reports show that all groups have maintained a high record of work done. The Red Cross Group completed 1,247 articles during the year, consisting of medical supplies and clothing for the needy in Europe. Many surgical dressings were made and 13 food parcels packed and sent to England.

Layettes Made

The Social Service made and distributed 29 layettes and helped several elderly people by small monthly donations.

The Women's Auxiliary met all requests for clothing, including two emergency calls for replacements of supplies lost when the "S. S. Nascopie" was wrecked.

The Chancel Guild Fund now stands at $2,905 and it is hoped to start work on the new Guild room in the near future.

Notice was given that, under the sponsorship of the Anglican Church, a missionary exhibition entitled "Cavalcade of Christendom" is to be held from the 25th of May to the 4th of June in the grounds and buildings of Christ Church Cathedral.

HOME EDUCATION

Establishing Good Habits

HELEN GREGG GREEN

Like most parents, my father and mother often admonished me, "Have a place for things." I thought this advice was fine in theory, but I am embarrassed to say that until the last few years I did not put it into general practice. However, I have learned my lesson!

Recently I discovered that the cupboards where our canned goods are kept were locked — they have automatic locks — and that the keys were nowhere to be found. I searched for them an entire evening, while several urgent matters to which I had planned to attend were obliged to wait. My husband and I considered breaking the locks, but finally, at his suggestion, the screws from one were removed. There were the keys — inside the cupboard!

Now I have special places for our keys, for business papers, and for all other things of importance. But had I formed such a helpful plan early in life, how many wasted hours of futile searching might have been avoided!

We shall find that the children will some day be really grateful to us if we help them to form habits of orderliness while they are very young, particularly the habit of having definite places for definite things — not one, or two, or three places for the same thing, but one special place. Of course, like any other habit, this one can be developed only by unbroken practice. Its establishment requires watchful, firm, but gentle patience on the part of the adult. Let us consider some other beneficial habit, the formation of which is often ignored.

Is it not a good plan to explain to children that it is poor taste to talk a great deal about oneself, one's possessions, and one's family? It is of real value to have formed the habit of listening to and being interested in what others have to say — and, when bringing up a new topic for social conversation, choosing only from subjects of mutual interest.

I had as my guests a short time ago two charming children. We had been chatting together and then I had excused myself for a moment. As I was returning, I heard Virginia say to the younger sister, "Connie keep your eyes on Aunt Helen while she is talking." These girls' parents have delightful personalities; they are always so interested in their friends. An evening with them passes all too quickly. It is plain they are encouraging the gracious art of listening in their young daughters.

Very close to this habit, in a child's mind, is that of thoughtfulness for those they know. We should not do things for our children because, as one mother often said, "It's easier to do it myself than to get my daughter started!" It may be simpler for the parents, but it is not fair to the youngsters. For instance, parents should insist that a child who is old enough to write his own thank-you notes do so. I have never forgotten my feeling of disappointment after giving a young cousin a handsome graduation gift. The mother wrote to thank me — though her daughter was now a college graduate!

On the other hand, I have in my sewing basket a clever gadget for a thimble which an eight-year-old girl gave me as a token of appreciation. Then, recently, my husband and I entertained a cousin and her fine fourteen-year-old son, Don. Each guest brought a small box of candy — attractively wrapped; and the mother was wearing roses that Don had bought her with money earned from his paper route.

"I would much rather he had saved the money," the mother confided to me, "but I think his learning to do thoughtful, kind acts is a valuable lesson, so I am always plainly thrilled when he comes home bringing small gifts."

How Is Your Hair Condition?

Elizabeth Arden Salon

Last week through the mail, like many of you I received a cordial invitation to visit the Elizabeth Arden Salon, at Robert Simpson's. Now I know that many of you took advantage of this opportunity, but, those who for some reason or other were not able to attend, may be interested to learn what I did. Miss Gibson, the Arden consultant, looking as charming as ever, with her hair meticulously combed, and her skin all glowing as any well cared for skin will be when Elizabeth Arden preparations are used. Here is what she had to say, "Gerry, if only I can make the ladies of Montreal appreciate how essential it is for them to come in at this time of the year and have our hair stylist examine the condition of their hair, so that when they are ready to have their next permanent, the hair and scalp will be in the best receptive condition." When asked what is done to the hair, she simply replied, "Treatments: Some may only need one treatment, while others may need more. If a person's hair and scalp is not in the proper condition to receive a perm, then even our wonderful Elizabeth Arden permanent cannot produce the results that it will if the hair is in a healthy condition," I then inquired about the price of these treatments, and when you reflect that a few treatments will prolong the life of a perm, they certainly are worth having. They are priced from $2.50 to $3.50 and when taken in a series, you save the price of one treatment.

The Man Who Wore Gloves Before Have You Seen The C.S.L. Gift Shop?

Rondeau's Medicine!

SEEING IS BELIEVING, and certainly after what I witnessed at Dr. G. Martin Rondeau's office this week, I not only believe, but am dumbfounded by the healing qualities of this magic "cure all", RONDEAU'S MEDICINE can accomplish for so many stricken people. After meeting Mr. J. R. Falconer, I can now appreciate the intense enthusiasm and faith that Dr. Rondeau has in this old Indian Herbal remedy. During the "Blitz" in London, 1940, Mr. Falconer removed an incendiary bomb which exploded, with the result that his hands, face and legs were severely burned and later there developed a form of magnesium poisoning. Since 1940, until Dec. 1947, this man spent most of his time in and out of hospitals, receiving temporary relief, only to have the same old condition slowly reappear. Last summer he was pronounced incurable by several specialists, both here and in England. Prior to December 1947 he had to wear gloves and slippers continually, but when he shook hands with me this week, I can assure you of the strength and the sense of excitement conveyed by that hand clasp, for his hands were completely cured, his face clean shaven, and for a small spot on his ankle his legs were also completely cured. AND to think all this had been accomplished after only one month of RONDEAU'S MEDICINE. This medicine may be procured at ANTIBITOL CO. LTD., 4211 St. Catherine St. W., Montreal 6. Phone WE. 2002, and it will be delivered. All out-of-town C.O.D. Mail orders will be filled. 40 oz. bottle retails for $9.00, tax included.

The Success Of Perseverance

"A Policeman's Lot Is Not A 'Appy One," as the Gilbert and Sullivan ditty runs, and such also must be the feeling of the bride when first starting to cook, but the first few months will be rewarded by "The Success of Perseverance" if, she has been fortunate in starting in the culinary art THE SUPER HEALTH WAY. MOST people do not realize that vegetables and fruits contain such a high percentage of moisture. Asparagus, for instance, consists of 94% water; string beans, 89%; cabbage, 91%; onions, 87%; spinach, 92% and even potatoes, which we always consider as "starchy", have as much as 78%; apples have 84%; peaches, 89%. This explains why it is not at all necessary to cook these foods in water as is commonly done, because they contain sufficient moisture, provided by nature for this function of cookery, if "SUPER HEALTH" utensils are used, and thus is retained their greatest food value, color and flavour as well. If they are boiled in much water the valuable mineral salts are dissolved out and wasted, the flavour is lessened and often they become coarse and lose their shape. The bride who wants to prove to friend husband what an economical help-mate she is, should have a Super Health Combination Unit, supplied with two lids. A whole dinner can be cooked on one burner, thus saving GAS. Start first with the roast in the bottom section, later place the vegetables in the top section, which is divided into three compartments. This arrangement also means a saving in dishwashing.

A Little White Elephant

I feel like this little white elephant bursting out with chatter. They say that elephants never forget, and never will I forget a very pleasant evening last week at a friend's house. He is a radio-phonograph enthusiast, who had just received a new ADMIRAL combination radio-phonograph, and his selection was the glorious new 8-tube long and short wave console. What a musical evening we had. First through our magic carpet we harkened to the strains of the Berlin Symphony, then crossed to London, back to Brazil and the musical journey was perfect in reception. The next treat was to listen to recordings made by our friend himself. One was of the wife's telephone conversation with a friend about hats . . . this was a riot. The next was The Royal Wedding, taken from the broadcast received by his ADMIRAL, then the world series, etc. The high fidelity reproduction by these records was a revelation to me, due to the ADMIRAL'S MIRACLE TONE ARM, the only combination radio to have this modern invention. This is the type of musical instrument that discriminating music lovers are crying for. It has a smooth table top, and has the radio and phonograph compartments in the front, with doors to close so as to complete the graceful proportions. You will be enchanted with the fine craftsmanship on this console, and you have your choice of walnut at $369.95 or mahogany for $379.95.

Vocational Guidance Director Speaks At St. Mary's Clinic

"Placement Follow-up and Research in Vocational Guidance", the sixth in a series of lectures, was delivered on Tuesday afternoon in the Board Room of St. Mary's Hospital to the St. Mary's Hospital Child Guidance Clinic Maternity and Nursery Committee, by Professor Louis Chatel, Psychologist at the clinic, and Professor at the Pedagogical Institute.

In choosing a vocation or in seeking a position, the individual with the help of the counselor, should take into consideration, his physical condition, educational achievement, intelligence, special abilities, and interests in relation to the corresponding requirements of the occupation and of the opportunities it offers, the speaker stated.

Bold And Daring

Shown in London, where the austerity program obviously includes a shortage of materials, is Paul de Lange's backless and practically bosomless evening dress. Of vivid purple, petunia and lime wool crepe, it's to be worn with long, matching gloves, a few feathers in the hair and a self-conscious look.

Assistance in securing a position should be attended, whenever appropriate, with advice about supplementary study and possible advancement. Adequate training should be offered in the technique of applying for a position. This should include the letter of application, the employment interview, and practice in filling out application forms.

Adequate records should be kept of each person who uses the placement service, of employers requisitions, of the results of visits to firms, and of all information which accumulates concerning occupational conditions.

Follow Up

Counselors in schools, colleges, and public employment offices should keep in touch with students for several years after they have left school or college. In this way further choices and adjustments may be made with a minimum of waste and inconvenience to the individual, said Professor Chatel. Current information about occupational conditions should be available in the employment office and in the school placement department. Curriculum changes and trade training courses can be influenced by the experience and needs of former students.

Research

Research is an important part of an educational and vocational guidance program, according to the lecturer. It should serve as a way of providing additional data regarding educational opportunities and the occupational world and as a means of (1) improving instruments used for studying the individual, (2) showing the relation between the vocational success and happiness of the individual and the measurements or other factors which led him to choose the type of occupation in which he is engaged, (3) evaluating those personal qualities and characteristic of students which lead to failure, and (4) evaluating guidance techniques that are being used.

Professor Chatel concluded his lecture with an analysis of related activities which can develop the vocational motive.

DOMINION CROWN IS HER GOAL

MWHS SMASH WHS TITLE HOPES

Down Locals 3-1 Tuesday

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Westmount High's Senior A pucksters bade a sad adieu to their championship hopes at the House of Selke on Tuesday afternoon. Cause of all the gloom in this usually cheerful suburb was a battling Montreal West crew of ice warriors who outplayed an obviously over-confident, and sluggish Purple and White team to the tune of 3-1.

This was a hard-hitting, close-checking affair and in these departments the Blue and Gold evinced a definite superiority over the local larrigans.

MWHS Open Scoring

Montreal West opened the scoring after ten minutes and 20 seconds of close battling when Gord Newhook took a pass from Cliff Farrington outside the Westmount blue line, streaked down the left boards, and drove a knee-high angle shot into the left-hand corner of the cage.

The score stayed that way until the 1:05 mark of the middle session when Johnny Waterston, who played a smashing, two-way game on the Westmount defence, rifled a pass that travelled a foot above the ice surface, to Mike Tucker, who was parked just outside the Montreal West crease. Tucker battled the rubber into the twine to knot the count at 1-apiece.

Paterson Gets Winner

Paterson notched the winner for the west enders after two minutes and 20 seconds of play in the final canto when he scored from a scramble on a pass from Farrington.

The Westmounters staged a determined attack after that but they were weakened by successive penalties to Paul Reaper, for tripping, and George McLanders, for cross-checking.

The Montreal Westers sewed up the game at the 7:56 mark when Lamb broke away after a Westmount ganging attack, fired, picked up his own rebound and swept the rubber biscuit into the cords. With Price off for tripping in the last minute of play, the Purple and White were pressing hard when the final siren sounded the death knell to Westmount's 1948 title aspirations.

THE LINEUPS

Junior Hoopsters Chalk Up Two More Triumphs

Canadian Converters' Juniors scored their 6th and 7th straight M.B.L. victories by outscoring McGill 69-41 and W.M.H.A. 36-34 in a nip and tuck battle to clinch first place in the "A" Section of Junior Basketball play.

Gordon MacLeod led his team to victory, posting 24 points, followed by Sterling McLeod with 13, in a free scoring affair played on the McGill Gym. Mitch Garfinkle was top point getter for the collegians with 13. The winners led 28-25 at half time, but really went to town in the 2nd canto, outscoring the homesters 41-16. Jim Henderson and Wenty Young played outstanding on guard for the Converters, with Keith Wray also turning in a useful effort, while Don McGregor played standout ball for the college boys.

The return match against Y.M.H.A. on the Mount Royal Avenue floor was a real hum dinger, with the lead changing hands at least a half dozen times. Jack Dudley and Gordon MacLeod were tops for the Converter outfit, each contributing 12 points. Hollinger and Tanzer were the main threats for the "Y" with 8 and 7 tallies respectively.

From the outset, the homesters were out to show they really meant business, racking up an early 4-1 lead. This half featured some very close checking, in fact so close that each squa was only able to tally 12 points each. However the visiting Converters managed to edge the Blues 24-22 in the final canto to walk off with a tight 36-34 victory. Fouls were numerous, with the Converters' drawing 25 to the opposition's 31. However, the "Y" squad managed to sink 15 to the visitors' total of 10 out of 31 tried. Weakness in this department almost cost the locals the victory and only their margin on field goals pulled them through, sinking 13 to their opponents' 9.

Scoring Summary

Converters' (69) — S. McLeod (13), Binmore (7), G. MacLeod (24), Wray, Dudley (4), Field (7), Greenbaum (2), Young (2), Henderson (1), Silver (9).

McGill (41) — Garfinkle (13), Baker (5), Segall (7), Godel (3), McGregor (8), Klein (1), Fox, Fraser (2), Zunder (2).

Converters' (36) — S. McLeod (4), Binmore, G. MacLeod (12), Wray, Dudley (12), Field (2), Greenbaum (4), Young, Henderson (2), Silver.

Y. M. C. A. (34) — Ladenheim, Frost (7), Hollinger (8), Kurtz, Blank (1), Tanzar (6), Zipkin (3), Share (3), Garbuz (6).

Ski Club Films Draw Big Crowd

The Westmount Ski Club last Thursday held a successful showing of the three most recent sound and coloured films of skiing and mountain climbing in the Rockies, produced and directed by Luigi Foeger, well known ski professional.

This showing was for the benefit of the Olympic Ski Committee. The Club was very satisfied with the splendid attendance and the wonderful reception with which the enthusiastic audience greeted the films.

The Olympic Ski Committee have received donations resulting from this showing and have expressed their deep appreciation. The Westmount Ski Club has held one successful ski tour in the Laurentian zone and is planning another for February 15.

St. Leo's Sports Parade Active

St. Leo's Academy's eight hockey teams have already participated in close to a hundred hockey games and this accomplished with the season just a little past the half way mark, chances are exceedingly good for establishing a new record for hockey activity in the school. The weatherman should rate an assist for this imposing record as he has favored the outdoor rinks with near perfect ice conditions.

The Academy's fast stepping Senior B hockey squad are still unbeaten in their league and unless victimized by overconfidence are going to be mighty hard to knock off their throne as city Senior B hockey champions, a lofty position they have held for the past two years and are determined to make it three straight City Hockey titles. Coach Andy McGillis, is nevertheless not counting his 1948 championship chickens before they are hatched, and is well aware that there is always old man upset lurking in the background.

The slow skating Junior squad are having plenty of trouble breaking into the win column with any consistency and in some of their games, their performance closely resembled a race between the hare and tortoise. Lack of athletic ambition is the main stumbling block for the coach to improve this team, as a number of the boys have shown little or no effort to improve their skating.

In the Westmount Q. A. H. A. League, St. Leo's entry is in first place and are out to regain the bantam laurels they lost last year after serving three years as kingpins of Westmount Bantam Q.A.H.A.

The Blues are out in front in the school's four team Pee Wee Hockey Loop. This half pint circuit has been enjoying a very successful season and when the schedule closes this weekend it will show every club to have played fifteen games. Playoffs with all four teams participating will get underway next week.

A Midget B Club is again in operation but not in any league, finding it more to their advantage to engage in exhibition games.

Y.M.C.A. Briefs

The Westmount Y.M.C.A. Physical Committee, at its monthly meeting this week, will lay final plans for the creation of a Physical Committee and a Physical Council. The Committee will consist of a group of older members whose main responsibility will be physical policy and general planning. The Council will consist of a representative from each physical activity in our program.

We are happy to welcome several new members into our Business Men's Club. Harry Mack, an old-timer, is back, while Herman DuBrule and Gaston Brodeur are two new members. Handball starts at five with the Gym Class going on at 5:45 p.m.

Miss Dakin welcomed six new members into her morning Ladies' Gym Class in January, among them Mrs. Hamer, Mrs. VanVliet and Mrs. Dakin. The ladies play badminton following their gym class and have an enjoyable hour of play.

Mr. Bert Light is always on hand Monday and Friday for Men's Boxing. Following a general workout some take boxing with Bert, while Dave Hunt, of the Senior Leaders' Corps, has started a tumbling group.

The Senior Leaders welcomed Bob Ritchie as a new member to their corps last week. This brings the strength of our Senior Leaders' Corps up to nine.

Art Henderson started his series of lectures on anatomy and philosophy last week, much to the intense interest of all members. Art will continue with these lectures for ten weeks.

The Westmount Intermediate M.B.L. team will meet Palaetre Nationale boys at McGill Gym, next Wednesday, at 8 p.m. George Presho has put away his shoes to take over the coaching job with the Intermediates.

All Westmount boys' Basketball teams are still actively participating in the Inter-Y Basketball League without having once defaulted a game. Both the Midgets and Bantams play N.D.G.

THIS week, while the Westmount Juveniles will meet International "Y" next Monday, at 7:30 p.m., in the Montreal High School. Westmount, International and Rosemount, are only three "Y" teams left in the League and have arranged exhibition games for February till the play-offs start.

Ross Bannerman, coach for the boys' Basketball teams, deserves much credit for the fine playing spirit of the boys' teams this year.

One of our most active groups is the Employed Boys Judo Class, under the direction of Fred Okimura. Three new boys joined the group during January, bringing the registration up to 14. Fred has high praise for his boys in this group, and hopes to have them ready for an exhibition this Spring.

The Boys' Swimming Club were happy to welcome three new members to its group during January, bringing registration in the club up to 16. A boy must have at least his 4th Intermediate level swimming card for senior boys or his 3rd card for Junior boys in order to become a member of the Club. Club members practice every Friday evening and we are hopeful that we will yet be able to give North Branch Y a closer run for first place in the Inter Y swimming meet this month.

John Cooper and Don LeClair, members of the Westmount "Y" Senior Leaders' Corps, are contacting interested gymnasts at the other Branches in the City with view to promoting an Inter Y Gymnastic Competition this month — the tentative date is the last Thursday in February. We would appreciate physical directors and interested gymnasts with whom the boys have not yet been in contact to call them at the Westmount "Y" and assist in the arranging of this meeting.

New Office Boy: "I have added these figures up eight times, Sir."
Employer: "That's very good and thorough."
Office Boy: "And here are the eight results."

Dramatic Hit-Musical Comedy In Tech. At Van Horne Sat.

Darryl F. Zanuck presents version of the dramatic Ben Ames Williams best-seller, opening Saturday at the Van Horne Theatre

STARTS SATURDAY AT THE VAN HORNE!

Gene Tierney and Cornel Wilde in a dramatic scene from "Leave Her To Heaven," Ben Ames Williams' best-seller, which has been brought to the screen in lavish Technicolor. The picture is scheduled to open Saturday until Tuesday at the new deluxe Van Horne Theatre.

with Gene Tierney, Cornel Wilde and Jeanne Crain in starring roles.

The picture tells the story of a young wife, played by Gene Tierney, who is obsessed with the desire to monopolize her husband's (Cornel Wilde's) every attention and affection, and who will stop at nothing, even murder, to be loved as completely as she, herself, loves. When Jeanne Crain unwittingly finds herself the object of Wilde's attentions, the subtly psychopathic young wife brings the drama to what is being called one of the most tense and exciting climaxes of the screen year.

"Leave Her To Heaven," which was produced by William A. Bacher and directed by John M. Stahl, features an outstanding supporting cast headed by Vincent Price and including Mary Philips, Ray Collins, Gene Lockhart, Reed Hadley, Darryl Hickman and Chill Wills.

Second Feature

The added feature is the delightful carefree musical-comedy, "The Time, The Place And The Girl," with luminaries from the musical and entertainment fields, starring Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Janis Paige and Martha Vickers which is currently at the Strand Theatre.

The fast-paced humorous story deals with Steve Ross (Dennis Morgan) a nightclub singer, and Jeff Howard (Jack Carson) orchestra leader, whose plans to open a nightclub are temporarily thwarted by neighbor Ladislaus Cassell's (S. Z. Sakall's) manager. Their one chance of opening is a direct appeal to Maestro Cassel which they arrange through a trumped-up "chance" meeting of his beautiful granddaughter, Vicki (Martha Vickers).

"June And The Paycock" MRT's Next Production

"Juno and the Paycock," the next production of the Montreal Repertory Theatre, opens at MRT Playhouse for a nine days run on 26th February. This play was written by Sean O'Casey of the Abbey Theatre, which came into existence in 1904. It gained prestige through the production of plays about Irish people, written by Irish playwrights. Amongst the writers who contributed to its early success are W. B. Yeats, Lady Gregory, J. M. Synge, Padraic Colum and A. E. Lennox Robinson, who will be seen in Montreal towards the end of February, and Sean O'Casey who became associated with the Abbey later.

Sean O'Casey came from very humble parentage. He did not have a fine education, but studied the works of Shakespeare and the Bible. These works were in part responsible for his mastery of the English language, and many successful plays have been credited to his name.

MRT offers Sean O'Casey's "Juno and the Paycock", which ranks with the finer works in modern drama, as a timely presentation, following as it does on the heels of the Gate Theatre's productions. The Gate showed drama taken form another side of Irish life than that shown by the Abbey. "Juno and the Paycock" is a play typical of the Abbey repertoire.

Jean de Savoye is directing this play for MRT. Mrs. de Savoye was in charge of MRT's production of Uncle Harry, last season. Last fall, Mrs. de Savoye directed Street Scene for the Canadian Art Theatre. MRT has assembled a cast of Irish players, who have gained a reputation for this type of production in other groups specializing in Irish plays.

"The Perils Of Pauline" And "Cynthia" At The Avenue

The reel and real life, loves and thrills of Pearl White, who dared a thousand deaths to make the movies famous and herself the first queen of the screen, have been thrillingly re-enacted in "The Perils of Pauline." Filmed in dazzling Technicolor befitting such a colorful character, the film stars Betty Hutton and John Lund, and starts Saturday until Tuesday at the Avenue Theatre!

Fearless, peerless Pearl White, the greatest of the cliff-hangers, became a national heroine in the lusty days when Hollywood was just a lemon grove and the movies were too young to talk. Scorning the use of a double, Pearl won the hearts of millions of Americans by tingling their spines as she courageously faced on-rushing locomotives, the spinning teeth of buzz-saws, burning at the stake and, always, that fate-worse-than-death in the form of the sneering, mustachioed villain. Her fans unflinchingly returned "next week to find out what happens to our heroine."

STARTS SATURDAY AT THE AVENUE!

Betty Hutton and John Lund co-star in the Technicolor musical about the early days of movies when Pearl White was queen of the thrillers, "The Perils of Pauline." This film will be shown at the Avenue Theatre starting Saturday until Tuesday.

All these escapades, so harrowing that they could only be taken in weekly portions in the old days, are shown in their making in "The Perils of Pauline." But they are only one phase of the film that also features the off-screen adventures and romances of the serial queen, which were every bit as exciting as anything she did before the cameras.

Binding the various entertaining aspects of the film together is the heart-stirring story of Pearl's one great love. John Lund, the sensational find of "To Each His Own," plays the man for whom Pearl would willingly trade all her fame and wealth. Only after he becomes almost as successful as Pearl in the theatre, and after the accident that ends her fabulous career, does his pride permit him to declare his love for the woman who has waited years for him.

Skies", heads the supporting cast of the picture in another of his comedy characterizations. Also appearing in important roles are William Demarest, Constance Collier and Frank Faylen.

Added Feature

Pretty starlet Elizabeth Taylor plays the teen-age heroine of "Cynthia", the entertaining added attraction. The story of a small-town family and an adolescent girl's first love affair. Prevented from enjoying the normal pleasures of an average girl because of her parents' strict supervision, Cynthia nevertheless slips out to keep a forbidden date with her high school hero, Ricky (James Lydon).

When she is given an opportunity to sing the leading role in the annual school operetta, Fred (Gene Lockhart), her uncle and the family doctor, forbids Cynthia to participate on the grounds of her supposed ill health. Cynthia rebels and when her mother (Mary Astor) takes her side, a quarrel is precipitated between mother and dad (George Murphy), who has sacrificed a medical career to support his family as a store clerk.

In the end, however, Elizabeth's rebellion proves contagious. Murphy also rebels against the tyranny of his penny-pinching employer it back again (with a raise in salary!), while Elizabeth, refusing to take any more pills and injections from Uncle Fred, wins Ricky back from a rival high school girl by showing a new spirit.

"Golden Earrings" — "Murder In Reverse" At Westmount

The welcome mat is out at the Westmount Theatre for Marlene Dietrich who returns to her countless fans in Paramount's daring, unconventional "Golden Earrings". Miss Dietrich is co-starred with Ray Milland, as happy a choice of teammates as Hollywood ever made. The two complement each other brilliantly and provide thoroughly delightful entertainment.

The talented Marlene has been away from films too long. While her time entertaining G.T.'s the world over was certainly well spent, her exciting contribution to moviedom was sorely missed. The role she chose to mark her return is perfectly suited to demonstrate that she is a superb actress. As Lydia, the gypsy who falls in love with a man from another world—a highborn English officer, Miss Dietrich gives a tempestuous, lusty performance. She woos him frankly and unrestrainedly, exactly as one imagines a gypsy would, and the scenes between them provide enjoyable, exciting movie fun.

Milland does a wonderful job as the conventional Englishman who must disguise himself as a gypsy to elude his Nazi pursuers. He finds it easier to elude them than Lydia. But Lydia is quite a woman. No danger is too great for her to share with the man she loves and they have many a narrow escape before Milland can make a break for freedom.

The stars are supported by Murvyn Vye, Bruce Lester, Reinhold Schunzel, Dennis Hoey and author-commentator Quentin Reynolds, who appears as himself. Vye makes his movie debut in "Golden Earrings." He was recruited from the stage where he had top singing roles in "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." His excellent baritone voice is heard in the film, singing with Miss Dietrich, who also sings alone. There is plenty of gypsy music in the picture, and an excellent title tune.

Added Feature

A desperate fight between two men in love with the same woman atop a crane overlooking the Limehouse waterfront district of London, is one of the many dramatic highspots of "Murder in Reverse", excellent added feature.

The two men are Tom Masterick and Fred Smith. Smith has run away with Masterick's wife and the wronged husband seeks vengeance! After the fight, his adversary disappears. The police believe he has murdered his rival. Although Masterick knows he is innocent of the crime of which they accuse him, he cannot convince the authorities—and he is sent to prison. Disillusioned in love, embittered by the cruel blow fate has dealt him, Masterick becomes a man with one dominating motivation—a desire to prove his innocence. His attempts to exonerate himself, after his release from prison, result in a series of exciting adventures, culminating in a dramatic climax that is one of the screen surprises of the year. Inasmuch as the element of surprise is one of the essential dramatic characteristics of "Murder in Reverse", patrons are being asked not to divulge this unusual ending to their friends.

Finger-printing for identification has been used in the Orient for two thousand years.

Beginning Saturday the Seville Theatre will present the Technicolor drama, "Desert Fury," with co-stars Lizbeth Scott, John Hodiak and Burt Lancaster and a supporting cast headed by Mary Astor and Wendell Corey.

The Hal Wallis production tells a modern story in a setting as old as time itself — America's desert. Against this colorful, ever-changing, ever-inspiring background is laid the tale of a notorious mother, a headstrong daughter and the gambler-killer who came between them.

Lizbeth Scott, sultry blonde beauty, plays the daughter. In defiance of her mother, who not only runs her own gambling establishment, but the town as well, Lizbeth becomes involved with gambler Hodiak. He is a brooding unhappy man who cannot keep away from the desert town where his wife met death in an automobile accident. With Hodiak as his constant companion is Corey a strange cold fellow who does everything he can to keep Lizbeth and Hodiak apart.

Also violently opposed to the girl's interest in Hodiak is Burt Lancaster, state highway patrolman, who suspects the two men of more than gambling and who is himself in love with Lizbeth.

Tempers and emotions reach crescendo proportions when Lizbeth learns her mother's bitterness toward Hodiak stems from their romance of long ago and when events point to the murder—and not the accidental death — of Hodiak's wife.

Mary Astor portrays the mother. Corey, recruited from Broadway where he scored a hit in the stage success, "Dream Girl," is said to give a performance that marks him for future film greatness. Lancaster, who recently scored a sensation in "The Killers," is this time on the side of the law.

Warner Bros. has assembled one of its strongest casts for "Deep Valley" which is the second attraction at this theatre. Sharing stellar honors are Ida Lupino, Dane

Public Interest In "Mikado" High

At a meeting of the Community Council's Finance Committee held Tuesday evening at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Reg. Uden, it was announced by Oliver Retallack, head of the committee, that promises exceeded all expectations, with demand continuing brisk.

The "Mikado" is scheduled to open on Thursday, February 12th in Victoria Hall, Westmount, and will continue on Friday evening, February 13, and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 16, 17 and 18.

Arthur Schwartz's and Leo Robins' melodic tunes are sung by Morgan, Carson, Martha Vickers and Janis Paige. They are also rendered by Carmen Cavallaro, the poet of the keyboard, and danced to by Chandra Kaly and his unusual troupe of dancers and the popular tap dancers, The Condos Brothers. All of the musical numbers were created and staged by LeRoy Prinz. The film was directed by David Butler and the supporting cast features, Alan Hale, Angela Greene and Donald Woods.

Public Speaking — the ability to express yourself on your feet, to use your hands, head and feet to put your point across — is one of the latest activities to be added to the program of the Young Adults' Section. Every Tuesday evening, at 8.15 p.m., under the direction of Mr. William Hardie, a group of young people receive advice on how to put their ideas across and then receive the practice. The prospective teacher, the young business man, the aspiring club committee member, will all find help in the Public Speaking Club.

"The Stringed Choir" was shown at the last meeting of the Music Appreciation Club on Thursday evening, at 8.15 p.m. This visual as well as auditory method of appreciating music is only one of the many ways that Ray Johnson, noted radio musical artist, has planned a twelve-week course. New members will be cordially welcome at next Thursday's meeting — 8.15 p.m. is the hour.

Photographers — your problems of a darkroom are solved. Join the Y.M.C.A. and make use of the excellent facilities provided for the "shutter-bug" and the salon artist. Enjoy the thrill that comes when you see your own work gradually appearing before your eyes. Jack Allen, a keen photographer, is willing to swap ideas and pass on his knowledge to other members. Come out on Wednesday evenings and start this fascinating hobby.

Badminton enthusiasts will find plenty of play with the members of the Badminton Club on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Monday and Friday evenings are spent in the Y Gymnasium from 8.30 to 10.30 p.m., and Wednesday evenings are contested in the Westmount Junior High School. Experts and novices are welcome — competition and instruction are provided — come out on Monday evening.

West of the Allamo, a 'Western' starring Johnny Mac Brown, is this week's movie at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Movies are shown each Saturday, at 1.30 p.m. Boys and girls, resident of the Westmount vicinity, are invited to attend.

The last chapter of Dick Tracy — G Man — will be shown this Saturday morning, at 9.00 a.m., to "Y" members.

The Friday Nite Club at the last executive meeting, officially adopted the name 'Teenagers'. The Club was faced with a problem as the dances are now being held on Saturday evenings. This evening the Club will hold a regular dance, while on Saturday, February 14th, a special Valentine Dance to the music of Randy Whinfeld and his mixed band, will be held.

A joint meeting of the Triangles and the Y Employed Boys' Association will be well attended this evening.

Mr. Arnott, formerly with the Smithsonian Institute as an explorer and archaeologist, will give an address on his experiences in travelling up the Amazon River, some thousand miles by canoe.

The Junior Bean Feed planned to take place last Wednesday will be held this Wednesday, February 11th, at 4 p.m.

Teenagers, 15 to 18 years of age, are invited to use the Y.M.C.A. Photography Room facilities open each evening save Wednesday. Instruction is given Friday evenings. This year Westmount Boys and Girls Hobby Show Committee is off to a fine start preparing for the Show to be held March 31st to April 3rd.

JOTTINGS
Liberals throughout the country would do well to read The Standard's "What Do You Think?" feature last week-end. Six Canadians were asked who they thought should replace Prime Minister King as leader of the Liberal Party. Three of the people queried came out in favour of Westmount's representative in the House of Commons, the Hon. Douglas Abbott. Two named Justice Minister St. Laurent. The sixth, a female elevator operator, thought that a member of the C.C.F. party would be the best choice. . . . Certainly it seems rather strange to this scribe to have Mackenzie King replaced by a man only seven years his junior. . . . But then I wouldn't know about such things.

The Westmount High Old Boys' Association board of directors met again last night at the Junior High. This year's banquet will be held at the Mount Royal Hotel on the evening of Friday, March 19. The second annual School vs Old Boys hockey tilt will be held at the Forum that afternoon. . . . The directors are out to enliven this year's get-together as much as possible. They plan to put the accent on fun — with just a few grains of serious sentiment thrown in for good measure. . . . It should be a gala affair.

Bernard Dube, the former Gazette reporter and Monitor columnist who suffered a severe spinal injury in California last summer while on a cross-country hitchhiking tour with Mel James, has taken the mishap in stride. Now out at the Ste. Anne's Military Hospital, where it is feared he will have to remain for a while yet, Bernie has resumed his "Youth to Youth" column in The Monitor. His many pals are helping to gather the material.

Fred Coburn, ex-WHS'er now studying forestry at the University of New Brunswick, celebrated (in restrained fashion, we trust) his 22nd birthday on Tuesday of this week. . . . And while on the subject of natal days, Elmer Ferguson, sports ed of The Herald, turned 63 yesterday; Vic Morris, former editor of The Examiner, who's now scribbling sports for Canadian Press, celebrates his today; and tomorrow is Charles Dickens; and next Tuesday, is Founder's Day at Macdonald College.

Art Voronka reported one of the bright spots in the Canadian Art Theatre's production of "The Adventures of Huck Finn." Arturo sure loves the smell of grease paint. . . . Tom Earle, the publicity man from Chesterfield avenue, now the possessor of a neat, green Austin. . . . Roy Howard has left the Hi-News to go into publicity work. Wise boy. . . . Charles Cook hitting the books hard out at Bishop's College. He hopes to get his B.A. next year, take a year of education and then become a teacher. . . . Well, everybody to his taste I always say.

Nature sort of evens things up; weight making fat people puff and puffing making them wait.

PUTTERS' SOCIAL CLUB
The regular weekly meeting of the club will be held in Victoria Hall on Monday at 8 p.m. Entertainment for the evening will include Shuffleboard, and Darts tournaments, and other games. The members are invited to turn out and try their skill.

At last Monday's meeting, a fine showing of colored movies was enjoyed by the members, after which refreshments were served.

BOYS' HOME MEETING AT WEREDALE HOUSE
The 77th annual meeting of the Corporation of the Boys' Home of Montreal will be held at Weredale House, Weredale Park, Westmount, on Tuesday, at 8.15 p.m. Business to be discussed will include reception of reports.

RATS NEVER TAKE VACATIONS
Rats never take vacations. They may raise six or more litters per year with from 6 to 22 in each litter. Ignoring the death rate, the offspring and descendants from one pair of rats could exceed 350,000,000 in three years.
