U.S. SEEKS EARLY RELEASE OF GROUP

World News In Brief

Montreal — (CP) — Georgetown University of Washington, D.C., defeated Montreal's Loyola College Friday night in a debate on the motion that the actions of Senator McCarthy are not deplorable. The Georgetown team attacked the motion.

Nairobi, Kenya — (Reuters) — A Mau Mau "captain," Nyaga Njagi, who wore three officers bars on his black leather jacket, was one of four terrorists sentenced to death in Kenya Friday for illegal possession of ammunition and consorting with armed persons. Eight others, all under 18, were convicted and sentenced to be detained indefinitely.

Bishop Auckland, England — (Reuters) — A curvaceous 18-year-old girl who was thrown out of school for posing before news photographers in a scanty swimsuit was told Friday she can resume her studies next term. Pretty Isabel Jackson designed the swimsuit herself and exhibited its lines for newspaper photographers. School officials took one scandalized look at the pictures and suspended her for "bad taste."

Montreal — (CP) — Canadian Pacific Railway spokesmen said Friday work on a new diesel servicing shop, equipped with the most modern facilities, has begun at the railway's Cote St. Luc yards in Montreal. The shop, to be completed next summer, will contain a wheelturning machine to repair worn flanges and wheel threads on diesel locomotives.

San Francisco — (AP) — Vice-President Richard Nixon was sued for $150,000 damages Friday by a man who allegedly heckled the vice-president while he was making a pre-election speech in San Mateo county. The suit was filed by James Heavey, 33, who charged assault and battery.

Palermo, Sicily — (Reuters) — The 2,300 inhabitants of Grist Friday abandoned the town after enduring a week of weird "hiccup" earth tremors. Families, carrying valuables and pets, trekked to the nearby townships of Montelepre and Partinico, where they were billeted with the local inhabitants.

South Koreans Challenge Moscow To Permit Unity

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
United Nations, N.Y. — (AP) — Y. T. Pyun, premier and foreign minister of the Republic of Korea, called on Moscow Friday to let Red-ruled North Korea join South Korea in a unified democratic country as proof of the sincerity of Communist appeals for coexistence.

Speaking in an interview here about the continuing deadlock between North and South Korea, Pyun said his government on the basis of experience could expect no co-operation from the Communists toward a solution. Pyun referred to recent public statements by Soviet Premier Malenkov and other Red leaders about a necessity for coexistence between the Communist and non-Communist world.

"If they want to substantiate their talk of coexistence, they could easily do it by letting the Korean nation achieve unification in a democratic way. If they would go that far, their propaganda for coexistence would not sound hollow."

"By letting North Korea go this time, they would win a world of good will from other parts of the world. It is where the Communists should start first to prove what they say about coexistence."

Pyun has come from Seoul for the debate in the UN assembly's political committee on the Kore-

India Will Embark On Atom Power

By PETER JACKSON
New Delhi — (Reuters) — India has announced that it will have two plants in operation by next May to process thorium and uranium, as part of a program to use atomic energy in industrial development.

H. J. Bhabha, secretary of the department of atomic energy, gave details of the program Friday at the opening session of a two-day conference of scientists discussing the peaceful application of nuclear power.

The conference, attended by 50 scientists and industrialists from throughout the world, was presided over by Prime Minister Nehru.

In an address, Nehru stressed that atomic energy must be a government monopoly because "it is too dangerous a thing for a private agency to develop."

Bhabha told the conference that India's atomic program will be based on thorium. The nation possesses the world's biggest supply of this mineral, 100,000 tons of it in easily extractable form as well as several thousand tons of uranium, he added.

India's thorium is mined in the monazite sands of Travancore-Cochin state. The radioactive mineral is used in conjunction with uranium in the manufacture of atomic energy.

Bhabha announced that the government has decided to erect a fertilizer plant in Bhakra Nangal, in East Punjab, which also will produce heavy water free of cost as a moderator for an atomic reactor.

India's first atomic reactor is expected to be built at Trombay, near Bombay, within two years, he added.

Bhabha said one possibility still in the future is atomic power by fusion, instead of by fission, developed in the same manner as the hydrogen bomb's energy.

"When we have achieved ability to produce atomic power by fusion, the power problem of the world will have been solved forever," he said.

The hydrogen bomb at present is uncontrolled, Nehru said, but he added:

"There can be little doubt that the next stage will be to control it so that you get enormous quantities of energy placed at the disposal of humanity."

He said that if the whole world were developed to the same pitch as the United States, the world's power resources in coal and oil will last only another 35 years. But potential reserves for production of atomic energy would last for 800 years.

The UN allies in Korea, instead, are reported planning to put in a resolution merely noting the Geneva conference and awaiting developments.

Pyun said South Korea could not accept any supervisory set-up for an election in all of Korea which would be directed by a commission of "so-called neutrals, Asian or European," and Communists.

Pyun said he would like to see the present armistice commission, made up of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Switzerland and Korea. He said it is stultified by Communist tactics.

Plans to Rally World Opinion Against Red China Outrage.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington — AP — The United States government has decided to press a vigorous campaign for release of 13 Americans imprisoned in Communist China by rallying international opinion in the free world against the Red "outrage."

A demand for the prompt release of the 11 military men and two civilians was delivered to Red China's diplomatic representative in London Friday by the British foreign office at the request of the U. S. state department.

Washington officials said the same angry note was being delivered also to the Peiping regime through the British diplomatic representative in that Communist capital.

And at United Nations headquarters in New York, the chief U. S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, handed a copy of the protest to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold with a request that it be circulated to all 60 member powers.

The U. S. note flatly accused the Chinese Communists of violating the Korean armistice agreement by holding the 13, and indirectly warned them that there is a limit to American patience.

It also made a preliminary demand for "punishment of the Chinese Communist officials responsible" and for compensation for the "wrong" done the 13.

Authorities today said they are studying all avenues of following up the initial demand, apparently in the belief that even the Chinese Reds, isolated as they are from the western world, cannot ignore the mounting pressure of public opinion.

The Chinese Reds announced Tuesday that the 13, captured during the Korean war, had been given sentences ranging from four years to life on spy charges.

A demand for "drastic steps" came from Seaborn P. Collins, American Legion national commander, who said the men probably would be freed if Britain threatened Red China with an economic boycott. He also suggested an American military blockade of the Chinese mainland. "I don't care much what the consequences would be," he said.

Pope Again Takes Turn For Worse

Vatican City — (AP) — Pope Pius has suffered a recurrence of hiccups and taken a turn for the worse, reliable Vatican sources said today.

A complete rest has been ordered for the head of the Roman Catholic Church. General audiences will be cancelled and the Pope will not even attend the spiritual exercises held in preparation for the Christmas season. These begin Sunday and will continue till Dec. 4.

The Pope has been nauseated in addition to the hiccuping, these sources said.

The Pontiff was to be brought from his summer home at Castel Gandolfo later today as originally planned, but cancelled his scheduled afternoon visit to the basilica of Santa Maria in Trastevere.

He had been scheduled to pray there in front of the Miraculous Madonna of Divine Love, which had been brought from the sanctuary on the occasion of the Marian Year.

His physicians had warned the Pope lately that the strenuous schedule of audiences, appearances and church duties on which he has insisted were weakening him.

He has had periodic attacks of hiccups in the past. At times they have so weakened the 78-year-old Pontiff that indirect feeding has been necessary.

Hamilton — (CP) — Santa Claus came early to the Murray family Friday night.

Christmas gifts for the family hidden in the basement by Mrs. Eleanor Murray were put out by mistake with salvage by her husband, William. The man who had picked them up returned them Friday night.

Sheppard Jurors See Blood Trail

Cleveland — (AP) — Where will the trail of blood spots through the house of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard lead the jury trying him for the murder of his wife? For two days the jury has been following that trail of more than 80 spots scattered through the suburban Bay Village house where Marilyn Sheppard, 31, died last July 4, her head punctured by a furious beating with a weapon police said they never found.

The jurors will take up the trail again Monday—perhaps for another two days—and will hear at least one other expert witness for the state, in addition to detective Henry Dombrowski who was on the stand all day Friday.

Miss Mary Cowan, 47, a laboratory technologist in the coroner's office for nearly 15 years, is scheduled to lead the way along the blood trail when Dombrowski steps down as guide.

So far Dombrowski has established that only one of the more than 80 spots was human blood. That was a spot no bigger than the head of a tack—a spot cut out of the third step from the bottom of the basement steps at the Sheppard home.

Ten Sailors Feared Lost In UK Storm

London — (AP) — Ten seamen were feared lost in wrecked ships and hundreds of others fought for their lives today in hurricane-force winds that tossed vessels like corks in churning waters from the Irish sea to the coast of Holland. S O S signals crackled out and rescue work was underway.

A United States Air Force helicopter from a base at Ramsgate, England, snatched one man off the lightspeed South Goodwin, up-ended and half sunk on the treacherous Goodwin sands in the English channel. Seven other seamen were trapped inside and believed dead. The helicopter landed the survivor and flew back to the ship with an oxyacetylene torch and diving equipment.

Importance Of Churchill Statement Problematical

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The question now arises whether Sir Winston Churchill has done himself more good by citing another case of his famous presence or more harm by emphasizing at this time his long-standing suspicions of Russia.

Churchill has revealed that the reason he asked General Eisenhower in 1945 to take good care of surrendered German arms was because he feared they might be needed to rearm the Germans against the Russians.

He feared the Red armies, despite all agreements, might continue advancing into Europe after the German surrender. He urged Field Marshal Montgomery to hurry into Denmark to prevent its occupation by the eastern Allies, and mentioned the German rearmament idea to him, but not to Eisenhower.

He injected this touch of history into a speech Tuesday night, Thursday The Times of London took him sharply to task for doing so.

"What on earth made him say it?" asked The Times. "It will not help to convince the Russians that the Western powers are straightforward in their declaration of peace today, nor, by

Expert Hits Freight Rate Differences

Ottawa — (AP) — A United States transportation expert Friday urged the elimination of long- and short-haul discrimination from the Canadian freight rate structure.

The recommendation was made by Dr. Ralph L. Dewey, professor of economics at the Ohio State University, Columbus, O., to a royal commission investigating railway agreed charge contracts. Agreed charges are special low contract rates given by the railways in return for a guaranteed percentage of a shipper's business.

"A rate structure which compels a shipper to pay more on a given commodity for a shorter than a longer haul over the same route in the same direction is economically unsound and morally wrong," Dr. Dewey said.

Dr. Dewey, a witness for the province of Alberta, said long- and short-haul discrimination favors shippers at intermediate points. It also was questionable whether the railways gained additional net income in the long run from the practice.

The U. S. prohibited long- and short-haul discrimination in 1922 and railway fears that they would suffer heavy financial losses did not materialize. U. S. railroads had continued to move a substantial volume of traffic to the distant points and had enjoyed the advantages of economic growth in the intermediate areas.

Dr. Dewey supported Alberta's bid for legislation to compel the railways to apply the so-called 1-1-3 rule to agreed charges.

Under the rule, enacted in 1951, prairie points, particularly in Alberta, were not to be charged more than one-third above the depressed transcontinental rates to the west coast, compelled by water competition. However, the province objects that it is not receiving full benefit because the rule does not have to be applied to agreed charges.

Now his ear is again attuned to the great issues of peace and war. There are many indications that Churchill, sometimes criticized for lack of interest in domestic affairs, is absorbed above all things in contemplation of the horrors of the hydrogen bomb.

Some think he may have succeeded in impressing on President Eisenhower his own vision of the bomb's potentialities, thus influencing the president to be more receptive than some of his followers to Britain's emphasis on peaceful coexistence with the Communist powers.

And so Churchill remains at the helm, completing his 55th year in public life unmoved by frequent rumors that he will resign today, tomorrow or next week.

On the eve of his anniversary, here are a few of the early tributes:

The Economist, an independent weekly magazine: "The man who in the last 20 years of his life has done more than any other man to save an entire civilization."

Sir Beverley Baxter, Canadian-born Conservative MP, writing in a weekly magazine: "Churchill is an Elizabethan held from the 16th century in the womb of time to invigorate the tired pulses of the 20th century."

Clerk Held For Attack In Toronto

Toronto — (AP) — Police are holding John Trenton, 25-year-old stockbroker's clerk, on a charge of attempted rape involving an attractive 24-year-old school teacher from suburban Leaside. They also questioned him about other recent attacks on women.

However, detectives said Friday after preliminary investigation they have all but ruled out any link between him and the mysterious strangler of two immigrant women.

They decided against putting him in a lineup to be viewed by women who claim to have been attacked or followed on dark streets this fall. Archie McKeith, chief inspector of detectives, said there were apparently no witnesses to the two stranglings and the women involved in the other attacks did not get a good look at their assailant.

However, Trenton underwent questioning by a four-man homicide squad investigating the strangulation deaths of Mrs. Marie Lipowczyk Sept. 25 and of Mrs. Olga Zacharko 24 days later and attacks this week on Mrs. Marta Ounapu and Veronica McGovern, 24, this week.

In the strangling cases, $7,000 in reward money still is unclaimed. Trenton was accused in connection with an attack on Mary Harvey on a driveway outside her MacNaughton road home early Friday.

Another Big Debt Slash In Alberta

Edmonton. — (AP) — An $8,000,000 reduction in the provincial debt and an increase of some $30,000,000 in the cash and investments surplus was reported Friday by the Alberta government.

A six-months interim financial report, issued by provincial auditor C. K. Huckvale, also reveals an increase of $11,923,420 in income account receipts of $32,180 at Sept. 30.

The boost was mostly due to total six-months receipts of $20,302,273 from petroleum and natural gas lease sales—an increase of $8,920,985 from the corresponding 1953 period.

The funded provincial debt, represented by debentures and treasury bills outstanding, was $88,934,211 for the first six months of the current fiscal year, against $92,031,654 a year ago.

Total cash and investments surplus in $114,896,537 comprises cash totalling $13,339,190, compared with $4,374,561 at Sept. 30, 1953, and a $21,359,000 increase to $101,557,347 in the book value of investments.

French Say Vietminh Move Arms

Saigon, Viet Nam. — (AP) — An official French source said Friday the Vietminh is moving war material across the border from China in violation of the Geneva armistice agreement.

But this person, who cannot be identified by name, said there is nothing to indicate the forces of Ho Chi Minh have formed three new divisions, two of them armored.

According to this individual, French intelligence sources have an itemized list of 105 cannon and other artillery pieces which have been smuggled across the boundary separating China from Northern Viet Nam, an area now in the hands of the Vietminh under terms of the Geneva armistice agreement.

The French have not made a formal complaint to the International Armistice Control Commission because the evidence is of a nature which could not be produced publicly.

Chairman M. J. Desai of India said in a press conference at tended by his Canadian and Polish colleagues here last week there have been no violations of the Geneva agreement banning importation of new arms into the country.

London — (Reuters) — Troopers wearing full-dress cavalry uniforms and carrying bared swords and lances formed a guard of honor for the Queen when she attended a ball here Friday night to mark the centenary of the Crimean battle of Balaklava. The Queen, accompanied by the Duke of Edinburgh and the Queen Mother, inspected the guard before leading the dancing with a Hussars colonel.

Increased Federal Aid To Cut Grade Crossings Seen

Ottawa. — (AP) — Canadian mayors anticipate federal government action to alleviate unemployment, possibly through a public works program.

The view was taken Friday by the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities following presentation of its annual brief to the government.

The brief, read behind closed doors to Prime Minister St. Laurent and members of his cabinet, stressed the "abnormal" rate of unemployment in some areas and recommended publicly-financed projects to ease the situation.

The brief, which was issued to the press along with the text of 14 resolutions presented to the government, also asked for a federal unemployment assistance program and further exemptions from payment of the 10-per-cent sales tax on municipal purchases.

Mayor Don Mackay of Calgary, president of the Federation, said Prime Minister St. Laurent let it be understood that the government feels a public works program to relieve unemployment would not hurt the private construction business.

Mr. Mackay, at 40 the youngest president of the federation, said his body hopes the government will decide the time now has arrived for a large-scale program.

The place to start on such a program, he said in an interview after the meeting, was on removal of level crossings. The federation submitted a resolution which urged government adoption of recommendations made by the Board of Transport Commissioners following a country-wide study of level-crossing problems.

Elsewhere, it was learned that the government plans to propose to the coming session of Parliament that contributions toward the cost of level-crossing works be stepped up sharply.

On the topic of further exemptions from payment of the federal sales tax, Mr. Mackay said Mr. St. Laurent indicated that possibly some way could be found to help municipalities suffering undue hardships.

This was taken to mean that some municipal purchases for certain specific purposes might be exempt from the federal tax.

The federation's brief pointed to the municipalities' tight financial resources and said the government must assume responsibility for setting up an unemployment assistance program to help those unemployed who have exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits or are not eligible for benefits.

The Federation submitted that unemployment insurance is not a measure designed to give relief when unemployment reaches any lengthy period. At the same time, it urged widening the scope of the insurance plan.

Mythical countries go hand in hand with swashbuckling, romantic adventure films. The latest mythical land to appear on the screen is Sidona, a dukedom located, presumably, somewhere in medieval Italy. Sidona is the location for the story of "Crossed Swords," a scene from which is seen here. Errol Flynn and voluptuous Gina Lollobrigida co-star in the United Artists release, which starts Sunday at the Granada Theatre.

he had had a letter from Mrs. Hunt. Yes, and Mrs. Hunt asked him please, please not to have any more adventures with anything hard to say. And so would the Huffen please be a helpful Huffen? Would he please help to see that there was no adventure about anything hard to say? Especially, would he help to see that Old MacDonald did not bring an adventure about a something hard to say?

"That I will, I will," said the Huffen with a happy, helpful Huffen smile. He was going to be helpful Huffen, he was. Yes sir, and yes indeed. He was going to see that Old MacDonald did not bring any adventure about anything hard to say.

The Huffen met Old MacDonald at the door. Old MacDonald had his fishing pole in his hand and opened his mouth to say a "Happy day!" —which is the forest way of saying "Hello!" —but Helpful Huffen stopped him.

Helpful Huffen held up his hand, and said: "Old MacDonald, I am Helpful Huffen, I am, and don't you bring an adventurer about anything with words too hard to say." "Huh?" asked Old MacDonald.

And the Huffen said: "Don't you bring an adventure about a whoosit floositing, or a whatisit whatisit, or anything like that."

"Well sir," said Old MacDonald, "what I really brought is—"

"Stop!" cried the Huffen. "Not a word, Mister Old MacDonald, about a copperosity degasuating, or anything like that."

"I want to go fishing!" shouted Old MacDonald. "I want you and Daddy Ringtail to go fishing with me, and fishing is all I want."

And so then and there Mister Helpful Huffen decided to be Mister Fisherman Huffen, I am happy to say. Happy day!

Las Vegas — (NEA) — "And everybody said, 'What can she do dry?'"

Fanny Brice once flipped it about Esther Williams:

"Wet she's a star. Dry she isn't."

But all doubts about Esther's talents have been erased forever, following her dry-land stardom on the stage of the Sahara Hotel here with hubby Ben Gage in another lavish show presented by Bill Miller.

The Million Dollar Mermaid from Hollywood sings, dances, clowns and kids herself for 40 minutes without benefit of even a glass of water and it's one of the year's best night-club acts. Eight cities during a seven-week tour already have acclaimed Esther's dry-docking of herself to prove Fanny was wrong, and now it's nearby Hollywood's turn to come, look and be convinced.

Esther in a bathing suit, behind an ingenious water curtain, is the only concession to her "Can't I Do Anything But Swim?" career in movies, but it's a dry Esther shining in a series of song-and-dance numbers.

There's a cavalcade of scenes from her movies, including the memorable "Baby It's Cold Outside" number, a duet with hubby Ben titled "Don't," with Lou Busch's music, and lyrics based on the problems of being married to a movie mermaid; a square dance number, and the show-stopper, "Hurtin' Mambó" with Esther, Jerry Rush and Hal Bell.

Sample Ben Gage chatter about married life with Esther:

"We waded down the aisle at our wedding. Every time I squeeze her, she squirts."

MGM's always filled up the swimming pool every time Esther was slated to make another movie. But Bill Miller's idea of presenting her as a song-and-dance gal, suggested two years ago in Florida when she was working in "Easy to Love," should cut down on the studio's water bill. After all these years, Esther can, if she wants to, hang up the bathing suits for good. But that's not the idea. Now that she's clicked with hubby Ben beside her, they'll team up for a big aquacade scheduled to tour the U.S., England and Canada in 1956.

Down The Street, at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn, Miss Energy-bounce Betty Hutton still insists she isn't kidding about shutting off the power house for good.

Repeating her reasons— "I want to be with my children"— "I'm 33 and I've been in show business for 30 years and I've had it," Betty told me:

"I'm not rich. I'm not poor. I can't afford to live like a movie star but I'll be happy."

Why won't she change her retirement plans if a fabulous offer comes along? She says: "I wouldn't accept 'Gone With the Wind' if it was offered to me. I'm not a ham."

There's another husband, Alan Livingston, in Betty's future, but she insists "The marriage has nothing to do with my quitting show business."

But Glamorous Granny fabulous Marlene Dietrich—will be back next year, already booked for her third engagement at the Sahara in '55. Displaying just about all the Dietrich charms in a filmy gown while dishing up a husky-voiced singing, she's been a top attraction here for three weeks.

I caught up with her in the Casino after her last show where she was stopping traffic in a skintight, white leather outfit with a turtle-neck sweater top. She's returning to New York, where there will be TV talks, "but I'd hate to tie myself down to 39 shows a year." Another movie for Marlene?

"I doubt it—the creative talent is gone—the star makers are gone."

There's even showmanship in the men's room at the Sahara, operated by a genial Negro named Till Toms. A big sign posted by Toms reads: "We can supply you with the following: "Electric or safety razors, electric vibrators, ice packs, combs, soap packets, towels, hair tonics, hand creams, toilet water, all headache tablets and powders, first-aid kit, mouth wash, eye wash. No-Doze tablets.

Uncle Toms' place typifies the Las Vegas flair.

were accompanied by Mr. Jos Fisher, of Montreal. Mrs. R. E. Allen returned home with them after spending a few days in Granby with Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Allen and family.

Mrs. Margaret Sory and Mr. Fred Mills have returned to their home in Bramtree, Mass., after having spent three weeks here, the guests of their sister, Mrs. C. D. Johnson and Mr. Johnson.

Waterloo Club To Provide Milk For Children

Waterloo, Nov. 27 — A very beautiful as well as educational film entitled, "Man with a Thousand Hands," was presented at the weekly Kiwanis meeting on Tuesday night at the Legion hall. This film supplied through the courtesy of International Harvester, showed the tremendous work being done on the Kitimat project in British Columbia.

Past President Butch Bouchard brought in a report on needy families in town and it was decided to furnish milk to five families where it was felt insufficient milk was being provided the children. It was also decided to provide milk to thirty-seven children in the schools, whose names were provided the club.

At the same time, Kiwanian Butch reported that four children needed their eyes tested and possibly glasses, and it was decided to go ahead with this project as well.

After working for eleven months on the milk distribution project, it was finally decided to go ahead with this, and that the periodical reports from the Sanitation Unit in Granby are satisfactory. However, the club will maintain strict adherence to this regulation and demand regular milk inspection in town.

Christmas anti-T.B. Seals were distributed amongst the members for the annual sale. Plans are also underway for the club to entertain the inmates of the Bondville home for children at the regular Christmas meeting, when a full evening's entertainment will be provided.

Next meeting will be Father and Son night.

I.O.O.F. DISTRICT MEETING

The initiatory degree was exemplified by the Waterloo degree team. Grand Lodge officers present included Bro. Lawrence Parker, G.M.; Philip Walton, G. Patriarch; Loran Bail, G. Warden; John Cruickshank, G. Marshal; John Dever, G. Secretary; George Hayward, G. Representative; Roy Walker and Joseph Balstone, Past Grand Representatives; Harry Norman, G. By WARREN SPAFFORD

IS IT JUSTICE??? — Announcement came two days ago that the Laurentide Dairies Ltd. was fined $250 in Three Rivers after pleading guilty to a federal charge of contravening the Food and Drugs act... They were charged with using vegetable oils in the manufacture of evaporated milk instead of butterfat as stipulated by the law... We carried an item in this column on November 13 that federal authorities were checking the products of this company and that a reported 35,000 cases of milk products had been seized. According to the announcement this week $150,000 worth of goods have been seized... Officials said the evaporated milk will be disposed of in some export market and none will be allowed on the Canadian market... The maximum penalty under the Food and Drugs Act for this offense is $200 but if the adulteration is wilful the penalty is doubled... There could be no doubt that in this case the adulteration was wilful, but the fine was not doubled... Considering the value of the amount of products seized we do not think it unfair to ask why the fine was not at least doubled???

One local wholesale grocery outfit who bought a carload of the milk products was lucky that they were able to stop payment on a cheque at the time the seizures were made... The substitution of vegetable oils for butterfat is something which a farmer cannot help but deplore as it cuts down his sale of cream and milk, besides cutting down the expenditures of a Company which uses the substitutes.

A SUGGESTION — The naming of Pierre DesMarais as head of the Executive Committee in Montreal this week means the end of an era... J. O. Asselin, who has headed the committee since it was formed 14 years ago, was not re-elected to the post nor to the committee itself... The City of Sherbrooke has been studying for the past few months the very controversial subject of City Manager and it is expected that the by-law instituting such a post will be passed in the near future... Sherbrooke could not have a better start than with a man who has had 14 years in Municipal Government.

NEW VENTURE — This Wednesday for the first time Meteor Records went on the market... They are produced by two Sherbrooke men, Pierre Legare and Russell Marois, who have their head office in the city... The main idea of the recording company is to produce top American hits in French... They are trying to engage as much Canadian talent as possible to do their records... The company plans to have their products on sale throughout Canada, the New England States and the French speaking countries in Europe.

THE OLD DAYS — We enjoyed reading a piece of the Sherbrooke Weekly Examiner brought in by Charlie Pearson a couple of weeks ago... The half page or so that we received was dated May 11, 1883 and was found when a house was demolished recently on the Duplessis Farm... It also contained a dime which we as yet have not seen because the man who found the relic apparently kept it... At the top of the page there is a drawing of an elderly woman over which is inscribed "Woman can sympathize with Woman"... In those days they probably realized that only a woman could do such a thing... That generation must have thought a woman pretty important because the other half of the inscription reads "Health of woman is the hope of the race."

ODDS AND ENDS — This week's announcement, by Hon. J. S. Bourque, that a $15,000,000 mental hospital will be built at Sioke this spring should be good news for the unemployment problem in Sherbrooke... The construction will entail the hiring of some 1,000 men for two years and the staffing and maintenance of the institution will require another 800 or 900 people... We have been constantly puzzled by a sticker on a car bearing license plate 235-974 which is frequently parked outside the William Street Armoury... It advertises a heavy-weight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gilchrist in Shelby, Montana, last July... To us it presents quite a problem as Dempsey has not fought for many years...

Could it be that the reason for the slow appearance of the new Lennoxville fire truck at a blaze in Lennoxville this week was a dead battery caused by someone leaving the truck's switch on???

A newcomer to our city, Ray Jordan, was appointed supervisor of radio station CKTS this week... The station also has another experienced announcer in the person of Jerry Cowan.

TREES START MOVING — Christmas trees for Canadian and American homes have started moving out of the Eastern Townships and other sections of Eastern Canada and the above scene, showing truckers loading trees for transport to the nearest railroad, can be duplicated many times over as approximately twelve million Canadian trees find their way to American markets.

Shipments Underway Over Twelve Million Canadian Trees To Decorate U.S. Homes At Christmas

By CAROL WITTY

Canadians might not be so smug about their costly Canadian dollars if they knew that the high price of their dollar has taken a considerable bite out of the twenty million dollar a year Christmas tree export business this season.

Each fall hundreds of U.S. buyers come up to Canada to look over and order trees for the approaching season. This year, however, many of them stopped off at Maine and other New England states to order their trees because they could not afford Canadian trees at the present rate of exchange.

However the dent in business isn't enough to worry about and it is estimated that at least twelve million Canadian trees will be bringing a bit of Christmas cheer to American homes this season and some buyers in the Sherbrooke district have orders for trees as far south as Cuba and Mexico.

Quebec province alone will be shipping approximately 500 railway cars loaded with trees, each car holding 2000 trees which means that our forests will be losing over one million trees a year. At this rate it would be no wonder if Quebec forests were completely wiped out in a few years but an extensive reforestation program is being carried on by the government and no cutting is allowed on government property. Privately owned woodlots are reforested each year, but according to one U.S. buyer in Sherbrooke, E. C. Harris, of South Carolina, the reforestation program is not quick enough that a consistent number of trees is cut each year.

According to Mr. Harris if a cutter brings in 500 trees one year he will probably only find about 250 the next year ready for cutting.

Mr. Harris who is one of about 30 buyers in this district, is contracted by one of the largest grocery store concerns in Florida and other parts of the Eastern States, to buy Christmas trees. This week he has been loading 10 cars with trees from Cookshire and Birchton, 25 carloads from Baie St. Paul and Murray Bay regions, and several other cars near Magog. He has already received contracts for next year and is planning an extensive operation in this district again and along the Gaspé Coast.

He says his southern customers, especially like Quebec trees as this province has the right type of weather to make them big and bushy. The trees this year are in very good condition, as a result of the wet weather everyone has been complaining about. Both spruce and balsam are cut here, the former being sent to the southern states since they last better in natural heat. In the northern states however, where the climate is colder and houses are artificially heated, the harder balsam fir is more popular.

Quebec isn't the only province that goes in for Christmas tree industry. Reports from our next door neighbor, New Brunswick, show that another million trees will be shipped to the states from that province. Most of these trees however will be going to the northern states as New Brunswick is only allowed to cut balsam this year by government order as a result of exploitation in the spruce forests by some cutters.

Together with Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, Quebec and New Brunswick supply the entire eastern seaboard and points as far west as Chicago with Christmas trees, Ontario, whose forests are loaded with Scotch Pine, looks after the central and mid-western states, while the Douglas Fir from British Columbia will decorate the homes in California and Texas.

Looking at the whole project, it's quite obvious that many of our southern neighbors just couldn't have a proper Christmas without us. This funny old habit of having gaily decorated greenery in our homes at Christmas time has become a world wide custom and luckily for us it brings millions of dollars into Canada each year.

Development Of Eskimo Culture Is Reviewed At Women's Canadian Club

Last night in the Mayfair Room of the New Sherbrooke Hotel, Douglas Wilkinson, a writer-director in the National Film Board, was the guest speaker at the Women's Canadian Club meeting, his topic being, "Work and Play Among the Eskimos."

Mr. Wilkinson has spent several years working with the Eskimo especially when filming such movies as "Exercise Musk Ox," "Land of the Long Day" and "Angotee," and his address was extremely interesting, giving first-hand information of the land of the Arctic.

Mr. Wilkinson, who himself was adopted by an Eskimo family and lived right along in their tents and igloos, has recently been given a government appointment to go back among the people, to work among them and improve their conditions. In his address, he stressed that the Eskimo had many problems indeed, some of which had a great bearing on their future.

He stated that although the white man could give them good help, a lot of what we had already done for the Arctic people was not good and had destroyed much of their old culture and contentment. The mixture of modern white ideas with the old Eskimo culture was not a good one, and it had made many problems for the dark-skinned men. They used to live a simple existence, which meant living from day to day, the only ambition being to have a full

Textile Plant At Danville Is Razed By Flames

Danville, Nov. 27.—Damage so far unestimated was caused when fire breaking out shortly before nine o'clock last evening completely destroyed the Morin Textile Mills plant located in the centre of this Richmond County town.

The fire broke out in that section of the plant where the employees were studying the operation of some new machinery for the manufacture of nylon goods that had just been installed by the owner, Francois Morin, and spread rapidly through the old building which was occupied for many years by the G. D. Goodhue Company, at one time Danville's principal industry.

The alarm was immediately answered by the local fire department under Chief J. Bonnevillie, but the flames were so far advanced when first noticed that it was found necessary to summon help from Asbestos, the appeal being answered by the entire Asbestos department under Chief Albert Bell.

With the manufacturing plant itself appearing doomed to destruction.

Thanks To Public Support, Injured Child Able To Start Life Anew

There is one little girl in Sherbrooke who now needs no more convincing that there are the right kind of people in this town, and it is only because generous Sherbrooke citizens opened their hearts and their pocket-books to three-year-old Suzanne Cote.

You will all remember, we are sure, how we wrote a story on Suzanne Cote and her family, trying to interest the right people into helping out where their aid was really needed. Not long after that, money started pouring in to our office and we set up a Suzanne Cote fund.

Shortly after that, the local Rotary Club announced that it had looked into her case, had found it a worthy one and, in conjunction with their Crippled Children's work, had taken over the expense of her delicate operation. Since everyone had given so generously before the Rotary took over, and money still continued rolling in, we decided to see just how much the Record could raise through your donations, to help toward the great expense.

Now, just a little over three weeks after we heard about the case, we have a very pleasant announcement to make. Suzanne was taken last Monday into the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. Tuesday, she spent eight hours on the operating table and now she is practically a new child. Her parents, who were able to accompany her to Montreal only because we had raised enough money for the trip, returned home yesterday.

When they got back, Mrs. Cote notified the Record to give us the details, and you couldn't find a more grateful or happier woman anywhere. Doesn't that make you people who gave your money to us, and to the Rotary Club feel happy though?

As we said once before, life isn't always a bed of roses, and even the little bit we may do to contribute in any way to make a person a bit happier, is something that should rightfully give us a warm feeling inside, one that we should always remember.

Suzanne won't be home for quite awhile—perhaps within the next month. When she does get home, we all know how happy that child will be. Perhaps she is too young now, but some day she will realize what you have done for her. And in years to come, when she grows up and probably raises a family just as her parents have done, she will know then how much it meant to her parents, and to herself, to have something like this happen to them. Then she will also know that she has no one to thank but the people of Sherbrooke and the Rotary Club—the right kind of people, we always knew existed here in Sherbrooke.

C.C.O. Recital By Glen Lyman At St. Peter's

An organ recital by the young Canadian organist, Glen Lyman, will be sponsored by the Sherbrooke Centre of the Canadian College of Organists.

Miss Lyman is a pupil of Kenneth Meek, who is well known in Sherbrooke both as a former recitalist for the C.C.O. and as an examiner in music for McGill University. She is a graduate of the McGill University Conservatorium of Music and is organist of Fairmount St. Giles United Church, Montreal. Her programme will consist of works by J. S. Bach, Jan Sweelinck, Cesar Franck, Marcel Dupre and Jehan Alain.

The recital will take place in St. Peter's Church, Dufferin Ave. Further details will be announced in this paper.

CPR Enginehouse And Locomotive Burn At Sutton

Sutton, Nov. 27 — Damage in excess of $10,000 was caused early this morning when fire swept through the two-stall engine house of the Canadian Pacific Railway here and badly damaged one locomotive and slightly singed one day coach.

The fire was first noticed at 4:18 a.m. by members of an engine crew staying at the bunkhouse nearby and the call was turned in to the Sutton fire department from the station. Fifteen volunteer firemen under the direction of Chief Jack Sheppard answered the call and managed to extinguish the blaze after about an hour's work.

The locomotive used on the Sutton - Drummondville mixed train was seriously damaged but because of a fire wall between the two stalls of the enginehouse, the locomotive of the Montreal-Sutton local could be removed before much damage was caused.

During the process of switching the engines and the parked day coaches, one locomotive and a coach became derailed, further adding to the excitement and confusion. This coach caught fire but the flames were extinguished before any substantial headway had been made.

Searchers Fail To Find New Lucky-$$

It seems as though the month of November will not be that record month of winners we had hoped for. There are only two more days left in which to claim the Lucky Bucks, so November seems headed as runner-up only.

Perhaps we could give you a few hints as to the whereabouts of a couple of them. Monday, November 15, we spent a Lucky Dollar at the Nanking Cafe, on King Street West and the next day S/N 9421050 was left at Asti's Restaurant.

One of the other Lucky Bucks has been spent in each of these three places; one in Ansell's Drugstore; last Saturday's in the Rexall Pharmacy, Magog; and one in Clarke's Drugstore, Lennoxville. By the way, that is the first Lucky Dollar we have spent in Lennoxville. We sort of overlooked that place because of its proximity to Sherbrooke, but now we feel it only fair to give you people a chance too.

Today's Lucky Dollar is going to be spent in Sherbrooke, but apart from those few we told you about, there are several of them planted around in different districts of the E. T., so don't any of you give up hope of finding them.

Winnipeg—Mrs. Annie Prince Smith, 79, a daughter of one of the Fathers of Confederation, died Friday at her Winnipeg home after a long illness.

Annie Prince Galt was the youngest child in a family of 13. She was born in Montreal in 1875, a daughter of Sir Alexander T. Galt, who as a member of Sir John A. Macdonald's cabinet was first Canadian Minister of Finance and first Member of Parliament for Sherbrooke.

In 1901 she married Dr. William Harvey Smith in Montreal. Her husband, who died in 1940, was president of both the Canadian and British medical associations.

Pleads Guilty To Reckless Driving Count

Fernand Gilbert, of Asbestos, yesterday pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of reckless driving in Court of Queen's Bench before Mr. Justice William Mitchell. Gilbert was previously sent for trial at the fall assizes on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Via-Chartrand of Asbestos on February 27 last, in an automobile accident.

The charge was reduced yesterday upon the request of Gilbert's attorney, Edmund Barnard, and it was agreed to by the Crown Prosecutor, Roland Dugre.

He was fined $50 and costs of the preliminary hearing on the manslaughter charge plus a three-month suspension of his driver's permit.

Closely Matched

If any two politicians in the world are matched evenly they would seem to be Alfred Reid, Liberal, and Ernest Ettinger, Conservative, of the Nova Scotian constituency of Hants East. And their blue-nosed voters must be men and women who are truly hard to budge.

In the 1953 provincial election Mr. Reid was named the winner — by one vote. Then, the Nova Scotian Supreme Court declared the Hants East result void because of electoral irregularities.

The same two men ran in the provincial by-election recently. The result this time: 2,260 votes to 2,260 votes — a tie. A recount has been ordered.

Probably both Alfred Reid and Ernest Ettinger have been kicking themselves a good deal this year and last, but especially since the recent voting. Mr. Reid may remember the time that he responded to a barber's salutation in an absent-minded way. He knew the barber's influence but his car may have developed carburetor trouble that morning. And Mr. Ettinger may be recalling the time when he missed a bridge party attended by two or three on his slim list of "doubtfuls." Also, one or the other candidates may feel that if he had put his hand into his pocket to relieve the "temporary embarrassment" of on acquaintance just three days before the polls opened he might have come out the winner.

If the two men are spared to battle it out a third time it might be worth while for Nova Scotian newspapers to furnish progress reports during the epic contest.

A Little Strength To Spare

Two hundred men and women stood in line for hours in the cold at Woolwich, England, over the week-end. They were not queuing for a soccer match; they were not waiting to catch a glimpse of Royalty. They were there because "nobody ever visited" Johnny Masterson, age three, who was in hospital and had been abandoned by his father and mother.

Only a hundred were able to see Johnny on Sunday. At the close of the day the youngster's bed was piled high with toys and candy and fruit.

A Saturday newspaper edition had run the story of lonely Johnny. The queue was the Woolwich response. It was a wonderful day for the small boy being treated for skin trouble. Next morning he asked: "Will my mummies and daddies come to see me again today?"

Most of those who stood in the cold, modern Magi bearing gifts, were humble folk whose hearts had been touched. They may have wondered for a moment or so why they were there. They probably chaffed one another, talked of the latest sports' results, swapped tips for the races, had a word for "Winnie" and congratulated themselves that rationing was a thing of the past. English-like, they probably avoided sentiment, said little about Johnny. Some may even have felt a little ridiculous.

Yet the story of Johnny's need had brought them out. Each member of the line-up had some imagination and sympathy and a little strength to spare. For only those with strength can show kindness; the weak cannot afford the luxury.

His Wife Knows Him

Robert Bates is considered a tough convict. He escaped the other day when a member of a group working outside the walls of a British Columbia penitentiary. He holed-up in a house in Burnaby, Vancouver suburb, and used a knife to intimidate a man who surprised him there. He told his man, a former air force officer, that he intended to get to Winnipeg to "finish off" his wife. The basis of his grudge: his wife, he had heard, had put their five-year old son in a home.

From which it might be thought that the outlook for the wife of Robert Bates is not a pleasant one. But what does Mrs. Bates, interviewed in Winnipeg, say? "Bob do that? Don't be silly. Bob wouldn't do that sort of thing. If he walked in this room now he'd be afraid of me. I wouldn't be afraid of him." As she spoke, her five-year-old boy, not in a "home" at all, was sitting beside her.

Mrs. Bates, like many another wife, probably knows her man. She knows that Bob likes to do a bit of bragging; thinks the tough role suits him. But she has his measure.

There have been many Bob Bates. One was a particularly violent pugilist, the terror of his associates. His wife was a slim woman, standing about five feet and weighing a hundred pounds. This Bob was known for his rages but he never sounded off at home. One long look from his diminutive mate and the smouldering fighter became a lamb.

Term Has Many Meanings

What Is This We Call "Coexistence?"

By BRUCE BOSSAT

The term "coexistence" is being tossed around pretty freely right now. That might be all right if there was agreement on what it means, but there doesn't seem to be.

As used by men and nations in many different places, coexistence has meanings that grade from white through shades of gray to black.

To all, it appears to mean an absence of shooting war. The differences arise over what men imagine will happen or is happening while this condition of nonviolence persists.

To the Soviet leaders in the Kremlin, coexistence clearly does not mean a state of happy comradeship with the free nations. It spells opportunity for conquest by nonmilitary devices, for spreading its power through use of all the economic and political wiles it can apply. It is war without guns.

In the free world, some men see coexistence as amounting to actual surrender to Communist domination, or at the very least as weak-kneed appeasement. The logic of this view is that sooner or later Communists and free men must clash in war, since to do nothing is to lose.

At the other end of the scale, there are those who look upon coexistence as practically synonymous with a glorious peace founded on real understanding between East and West. These men seem willing to take Russian declarations of peaceful purposes at full value.

The people who fall in the gray zones between the extremes are neither as pessimistic as the one nor as hopeful as the other.

They believe that, short of war, there is no way Communists can be brushed off this planet. In consequence, they believe that some way of living with them must be found. When they say that they do not mean living in friendship with them, or giving in to them, they mean simply existing side by side.

They have no illusions about the Kremlin purposes. They know Russia is an armed camp, and that when it is not shooting it is practicing warfare on every other imaginable front.

Thus they believe we free peoples must be equipped at all times to defend ourselves, and must develop political and economic programs that will keep the vulnerable but still free sectors of the globe out of Communist hands.

By this definition of coexistence, free men are not to be sitting ducks, waiting to be surrounded by hostile animals moving ever closer. They are men alert to their peril, strong enough to meet it, aggressive enough politically and economically to help lessen the danger in the world's soft spots.

Somewhere in this middle realm lies the policy Secretary of State Dulles and his Western diplomatic collaborators are trying to lay down. They are searching for a path that can permit free men to live without guns beneath their pillows, in nightly fear of the Communist trespasser. They think it can be had without war.

Recently the eloquent Winston Churchill voiced this hope: "We might even find ourselves, in a few years, moving along a broad causeway of peace and plenty, instead of roaming around on the rim of hell."

SAYS BUILDINGS SHABBY

Moncton, N.B. — Executive of the New Brunswick council of labor called for a "substantial increase" in public building throughout the province. It claimed many of the public buildings are in a "run-down, shabby condition."

MOTELS FOR AGED

Hamilton — Hamilton is considering motel-type accommodation for elderly persons. Officials say that one-storey structures containing a number of suites would be suitable for those able to attend to their own needs.

GOLDEN EAGLE

King, Ont. — An unidentified hunter shot a rare golden eagle in this area near Toronto. Game warden George Armitage said the bird, turned over to him by a farmer who found it in the field, had a wing span of six feet.

Summerside, P.E.I.

— Twelve tons of Irish moss left here this year for Bloomfield, England. This was the second shipment of the edible seaweed harvested on P.E.I. shores to leave for overseas.

Bridgeville, N.S. — Farmers say an unusually large number of raccoons here this year have been taking toll of hens and wild game birds. Allister MacDonald reported killing 33 of the coons so far this year.

COURTESY BY PUSH BUTTON

Christian Science Monitor
An automobile expert says he has noticed increasing courtesy among drivers lately, and attributes it in part to the fact that automobiles are becoming easier and easier to drive. What with automatic gear shifts, power steering, power brakes, electric eyes that lower the beam of headlights as another car approaches, the driver has more time and attention which he can devote to courtesy.

That is nice. The day may not be too far off when politeness will come as standard equipment for the higher-priced cars.

And among the "extra accessories" available on de luxe models we may see, or rather hear, the self-playing "Apologizer to Pedestrians" for the driver who stops his car over the white lines at street crossings, forcing pedestrians to make a detour. Another gadget which some wives would like to see is the "Automatic Yawn Coverer" for husbands who never take their hands off the wheel.

The "Never-Fail Hat Raiser," operated by an electric eye capable of recognizing the driver's acquaintances within tipping distance, is assured of a market of some sort. So is the "Electronic Transmuter of Sentiments," into the mouthpiece of which the irate driver can pour his opinion of policemen, pedestrians, other drivers, and all such nuisances, and have it come out in phrases appropriate to the moment.

With all this equipment it is expected that the driver of tomorrow will be as courteous at the wheel as when he happens to be afoot.

A WOMAN'S SCREAM

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal) — Women frequently have been referred to as "defenceless" by writers who should know better. Anyone who has ever heard a member of the so-called "weaker sex" utter a full-throated shriek or a scream will testify to the contrary. It is a soul-shattering experience. If the shrieks or screams are maintained, even for a short period, they are sufficient to rout either man or beast.

ONE-EYED SHEEP KILLER

Sudbury Star
— A wolf pack led by a three-legged, one-eyed giant leader (which no one claims to have seen) is reported to have killed some 300 sheep and lambs since June in the New Liskeard farming area. Wolves get blamed for a lot of killing that they don't do. They get blamed for much killing that is done by bears, for instance. Bears will kill sheep, fawns and young moose calves.

And the presence of dogs running through the bush and over farmlands, attacking domestic animals, has been proved in past years by a few well-placed bullets.

Most informed northerners would have to be shown the corpus delicti of a three-legged, one-eyed giant wolf pack leader to be convinced that unseen animal was not dreamed-up for the benefit of Southern Ontario readers who like their fiction to have an appearance of the hinterland's savage fight for survival.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

TOURNEY BRIDGE IS VERY DIFFICULT

Many readers have asked how tournament bridge differs from ordinary rubber bridge. This is a good time to explain one of the differences, since the national championships are just about to begin in Atlanta this weekend.

One important difference is that you play a hand as safely as possible in rubber bridge, giving up some of your chance for overtricks in order to make sure of the contract.

In a tournament, in most hands, you have to play for all possible tricks, even if this risks the contract for the sake of extra tricks. The difference is illustrated in the hand shown today.

West opens the seven of spades, East plays the ten, and South wins with the jack. South counts one spade, four clubs, and one heart. He therefore must develop the diamonds to make his contract.

At rubber bridge, South would do his best to develop the diamonds without allowing East to gain the lead. For this reason, he would cash the ace and king of diamonds instead of finessing. This play would drop the queen of diamonds, and South would then proceed to make the first 11 tricks.

Mind you, South wouldn't be expecting to drop the doubleton queen of diamonds. If the queen didn't happen to drop, he would lead a third diamond in the hope that West had it; for another spade lead from the West hand would not threaten the contract.

The only point is that South can afford to lose a trick to West and cannot afford to lose it to East. He therefore does whatever he can to keep East out.

In a tournament, South would try to avoid the loss of a diamond trick altogether. No declarer can afford to refuse the diamond finesse and thereby take the chance that he will wind up with one trick less than anybody else who plays the hand.

So every tournament player would win the first trick with her jack of spades and lead the ten of diamonds for a finesse. The finesse would lose, and back would come a spade to defeat the contract.

In this case, every tournament player would make only eight tricks, and every fine rubber bridge player would make 11 tricks. Quite a difference.

CARD SENSE

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been: West North East South 1 Dmd. Double 1 Spade ♣ You, South, hold: Spades ♣ 9-4, Hearts ♣ J-7-3, Diamonds ♣ 8-5, Clubs ♣ J-9-4-3. What do you do?

A—Bid two hearts. With seven points in high cards and two biddable suits you can well afford to bid freely in response to the takeout double.

You prefer to show the four-card major rather than the five-card minor suit because the chance for game at a major is so much better. Your partner probably has better support for the majors than for clubs anyway.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades ♣ 9-4, Hearts ♣ J-7-3, Diamonds ♣ 8-5, Clubs ♣ J-9-4-3. What do you do?

Wanted: Gossiping Christmas

By Rev. B. S. Murray, M.A.

Do you enjoy discussing religious topics? I hope so. With the long fall and winter evenings when the family is more or less at home, periods devoted to musing on the deep things of life can be inspiring, profitable and challenging.

More than this, this type of discussion has become a "must." So back to the family goes the challenge to inaugurate a crusade devoted to thinking without confusion clearly and expressing these views concisely. College and university heads are alarmed at the lack of this, knowing that nothing but disaster awaits our Canadian way of life. Even the Communists are wiser in this respect for their young people are thoroughly schooled in the tenets of their system and are able to intelligently discuss them.

Wake up, Canadians! The Church of God needs intelligent, enthusiastic members who, aware of her great history and marvelous potent power, will daily manifest Christ in their lives. Further, she expects you to be able to speak from time to time a private word to another individual about your faith in Christ and the power of the Gospel. Briefly then, you are called to be a spiritual conversationalist! A gossiping Christian!

Now don't let that word "gossip" frighten you. Once it bore the honored function of publishing the good news of the Gospel. "Go gossip the Gospel," said the Master. Paul did. So did those people of strong convictions and deep concern, the early Christians, all of whom were but inspired amateurs, yet wherever they went they spoke a good word for Christ so effectively that the foundations of the Roman world accordingly shook.

If we could get people to gossip the Gospel as they do the bad things, the kingdom wouldn't be very far off! Here is a challenge directed especially for you! Tomorrow is Advent Sunday when the Church of God, basing her calendar on the Son of God—the Sun of Righteousness—beginning another year, with shrill trumpet notes announcing the two comings of Jesus Christ as (a) Saviour and (b) Judge. And it is of Christ as Judge that I am thinking principally just now.

Tell it out, O Church of the Advent, that Christ must be Lord of all and not until "all" confess His Lordship will He come again in power and great glory. So you and I are committed to share Him with others now! This is the King's business and demand haste. Here then is the motive and true character of the church's missionary work. And do thou keep on preaching, O Church of the Living Christ, that the Lord is coming and that in this second coming of Christ the Divine purpose will be completely established and universally acknowledged. Naturally every thinking Christian feels a sense of awe of that great day of final revelation of God's will and the verity of that judgment which awaits mankind but Jesus we know and He will be a worthy Judge eternal! In Him we trust!

Each Is Responsible
Many unfortunately who profess and call themselves Christians have permitted their faith to become so clouded that they are in the grip of crooked thinking, psychological tension and impotent religious living. To all such the church bids them recover forth with their lost sense of sonship with God and thereby make Advent, 1954, fraught with rich blessing. There is no denying the fact that this is a moral universe with a moral code—the ten commandments—written by the finger of God for our guidance.

Each then is responsible for his actions never daring to forget the final judgment with its condemnation or approval. Does not Holy Writ declare that "after death cometh judgment"? And the two creeds anticipate Christ's coming in great glory to judge both the quick and the dead Whose kingdom shall have no end? So we are committed to this great teaching and must accordingly incorporate it into daily living.

When? How? Etc.
In so doing there are many unanswered questions. Whilst we do know that Christ has promised to come again, we do not know when. Only God the Father knows that (Mark 13, 32). The New Testament does give us a memorable picture of the great tribunal of the Last Day, the great Day of the Lord when the judgment will be set and the books opened. Then cometh the verdict "whereby spiritual and moral realities are revealed, shams and disguises are stripped off and evil is separated from good." (Matt. 25:31-46).

Finally, my brethren, rejoice! Rejoice in hope for this judgment here and hereafter lies with the son of Man, the Saviour of the world. This world is accordingly less of a court of law than a Father's house for not only is His judgment tempered with mercy but if we would accept it, here and now, with its opportunities of repentance and encouragement in righteousness, we, too, may look forward with faith and hope to the coming of the Day of the Lord and prove ourselves ready to stand before Him.

In the meantime
All through the composition of this religious chat I have been aware of a similar sermon the late Canon A. P. Shaford of Montreal, preached years ago. "He yet speaketh," and so I am going to let him finish this sermon. "Jesus is always coming," declared this prince of Canadian preachers. "In every crisis of history, in every advancement of truth and justice, in every enlargement of human interest, in every development of a spiritual order. He has come again! He comes to individuals in each experience that draws them closer to reality; He comes to families where love is enthroned; to communities where justice is established; to nations where righteousness is sovereign.

"With the blessed hope that Jesus will come again, let us, in the meantime expect an increasing fulfillment of our hopes and labor for the extension of His kingdom. We can hasten His advent by living according to the two-fold law—to love God with all our hearts and our neighbor as ourselves."

Isn't this an apt and exciting topic for discussion by gossiping Christians?

BISHOP'S BULLETIN BOARD

CBC AT BISHOP'S: The demand for tickets to the CBC broadcast, "Citizens Forum" held at Bishop's Thursday night, far exceeded the supply. Only about one hundred were available, and those who did attend the broadcast were treated to some "off-the-air" comments by the panel of experts, particularly the chairman, Walter O'Hearn of the Montreal Star. Students who asked questions of the panel on the subject "Federal Scholarships; do we need them, as we get them?" said that Mr. O'Hearn put most of them at ease as soon as they stood up to ask their questions by his assured, affable manner. Dr. Jeffris, head of the department of Education, also provided some off-the-air laughs by referring to Prof. Gray's system of having students who wanted to ask questions on the air write them down, so that they would be ready to ask them. Dr. Jeffris asked to test the microphone on his side of the room prior to the broadcast. Dr. Jeffris elucidated "I'm one of Professor Gray's trained seals."

MAJOR SPORTS: Intercollegiate basketball will put in a brief appearance this afternoon at the Memorial Gymnasium when Bishop's takes on CMR from St. John's in a regular Ottawa-St. Lawrence Valley Conference tilt. It will be the Galtors second conference contest of the season, and their last before next January. They lost last Saturday by a close 35-30 score to the Macdonald College Aggies, and hope to be able to tuck a win under their belts before settling down to the grind of Christmas examinations.

On the hockey scene, things are not running so smoothly. The prospective team, under the eye of coach Lynn MacDougall has been practising since Nov. 16 at the Sherbrooke Arena, but there doesn't seem to be much possibility of any games, exhibition or otherwise before exam time. The Purple and White hockey squad was supposed to play on Thursday night against the Sherbrooke Juniors in the newly-formed Sherbrooke Junior B league, but the intermediate game between Sherbrooke and Magog the same night forced a postponement. It is hoped to arrange a few games for next week. First intercollegiate games is not until January 15, when the Galtors will travel to Ottawa to take on the Carleton College Ravens in their own bailiwick. In a lighter vein, the team is running into assistant manager difficulties. Original assistant found the going too tough. After a lapse of several days, Bob Haslett decided he would take on the job. He was promptly nicknamed "Valve," after the tradition here at Bishop's which started five years ago when the manager was called "Wheel," since then successive managers have been dubbed "Hub," "Spoke," "Rim," and now "Valve."

BOB BURT - MVP: At the annual Football Dance held last week-end at the New Sherbrooke Hotel in honor of this year's championship squad, fullback Bob Burt, a resident of Lennoxville, was named the Most Valuable Player on the squad this year, and received the MVP award in presentation ceremonies at the dance. Bob, a freshman at Bishop's, and a former Athletics' player, was a top notch two-way player for the Purple and White squad this year, and tied with team mate Warren Lynch and an R.M.C. player for top scoring honors in the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Valley Conference B section. He scored a total of 15 points on three touchdowns; the most important was undoubtedly the one he scored late in the last quarter against College Militaire Royale on the university gridiron. It was Bishop's sole major of the game, and enabled them to pull the tilt out of the fire after trailing 2-0 until Bob's score, and register a close 6-2 victory. After that game, a big four-pointer, it was comparatively easy sailing to the league championship.

CAMPUS CAPERS: There's not much snow on the ground, but skiing enthusiasts are not going to wait for the snow to get busy on their favorite sport. Men's ski meeting was held Friday night. Columbia University's bicentennial exhibit, "Man's Right to Knowledge, and the Free Use Thereof" now on display in the university library... exhibit includes 25 aluminum panels graphically illustrating the theme, together with an illustrated brochure with commentary written by the American poet and writer Mark Van Doren. Exhibit will be on display until December 7. Tenth anniversary issue of the Bishop's bi-monthly news-sheet, "The Campus" came out yesterday in a big twelve-page spread. Usual size is eight modest pages. Fertilizer scattered over the usually green grass of the inner quadrangle is not doing much to cheer up the dreary atmosphere of November weather and impending Christmas exams. Clubs and societies: Another busy week was registered on all fronts. Music Club held last meeting of the year on Monday as members listened to Spanish dance music, on a program prepared by Janice Fairbairn. Economics Club Wednesday heard A. F. Bissonnet, trade commissioner from Pakistan, and a former undergraduate of Bishop's, in a fascinating talk. References to high salary and interesting living conditions around the world converted many students into prospective trade com-

Richmond, Nov. 27. — The annual Regimental Ball sponsored by the 7/11 Hussars (16th Armoured Regiment) R.C.A.C., recently held in Richmond, proved to be a gala affair in which everyone enjoyed themselves fully. The ball was under the patronage of Brig. J. Bibeau, D.S.O., E.D., A.D.C., assisted by Lt.-Col. E. E. Denison, E.D.

The dance began with the playing of Viennese waltzes by Les Beaulieu and his orchestra, of Sherbrooke, in the ballroom, decorated with the regimental colors and flags. DEVELOPMENT OF

Eskimo boy, from a while before he was born up to the time when he had married and had his own son. From the clear pictures of his delivery, through the years of his play with sleds, dogs, and other children, through the days of his hunts with his father and his first lessons in building igloos, until his 18th year when he took as his wife a neighboring Eskimo girl, who had become betrothed to him at his birth, this film left very few questions in the minds of the audience concerning life in an Eskimo igloo, through winter and summer.

This film was written and directed by Mr. Wilkinson and it was filmed in the Chesterfield area, on the west coast of Hudson Bay. The second movie was shot in Pond Inlet beginning in April, 1951. To make this movie, which was of a group of Eskimos, in contrast with the first, it took five or six months of travelling around with them to get real life shots.

There are two types of Eskimo — the Cariboo Culture, who are the Eskimo living in the tundra, living on cariboo meat and often suffering starvation when the herds have not come around; and the Eskimo who live near the coast — the Sea Culture. The second type of dark-skinned is the one concerned with in the movie, "Land of the Long Day."

This was among the Tununermut Eskimo, a type who live on Northern Baffin Island. This film showed how the people lived from what they were able to take from the water. It showed them killing the whales and seals, and it showed what an important part the sea played in the lives of the Eskimo on Baffin Island. It was their highway in both winter and summer, being their dangerous moat in spring when the ice which is never completely absent from the lakes, is at its most beautiful, yet most dangerous stage.

There is usually no limit to the food one can get from the sea, but he has to be an expert to be able to obtain it. The Eskimo is just this and it is quite clear to see that no white man, without several years of experience and practise, could do the sly and expert tasks performed by the Eskimo as a part of his everyday life.

At the close of his two films, Mr. Wilkinson gave a few summing-up remarks, telling the audience how very important the welfare of the Eskimo was to us and what we might do to be able to help them. He was introduced at the beginning of the evening by Mrs. A. Preston and thanked by Miss Mary Milford.

Seated at the head table were: Mrs. A. Hogg, assistant secretary, Mrs. A. Preston, Mr. Wilkinson, Mrs. J. A. Donald, president, Miss Mary Milford, Mrs. Douglas Wilkinson and Mrs. Robert Neil.

We thank Thee, O our Father,

For the faith that keeps us patient,
Looking at the things unseen,
For the hope of that glad meeting
Far from mortal grief and pain.

In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," the following passage will be read from the Bible (Isaiah 5:20): "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!"

But, he said, "We do know that the future will be the sum total of all the present... and it is vitally important that you and I, and all of us should be exceedingly careful that our contribution to the whole may be on the side of what is sound, good and worthwhile."

He continued, "Everything we do, everything we say becomes a part of the character of those to whom we say it, or in whose presence we do it. Everything we do helps to shape the history of our day, and the destiny of the world."

HOW to get a Friendly Loan at NIAGARA FINANCE

Drop in to see your friendly Niagara Loan advisor. He'll make it easy for you to get the Friendly Loan that suits you best. Here are important facts for you about Niagara Loans.

Who can get a Niagara Friendly Loan?—Anyone with a reputation for honesty and the ability to repay.

How much can be borrowed from Niagara?—Up to $1500; sometimes, more.

How quickly can I get money?—Sometimes in 20 minutes; within 24 hours for most loans.

How long can I take to repay?—In the table below, there are just a few of many plans. They will give you some idea of time periods allowed for different amounts... from 4 to 24 months. And for all people who have uneven income during the year, such as farmers and schoolteachers, special payment schedules may be arranged on loans above $500.

Are all loan charges the same?—Up to $500 generally, yes; but remember, at Niagara, you get life insurance at no extra cost.

Above $500, the larger the amount and the longer the time—the lower the rate. Compare... often you'll "buy" more money at less cost at Niagara.

Is Life Insurance on loans worthwhile?—Yes, here is a real family peace-of-mind feature. At no extra cost to you, loans of $1500 or less, are life-insured. Be sure you get this protection when you borrow.

Does a friend have to "back" my loan?—No, seldom do borrowers prefer an endorsed loan. And bankable security, of course is not needed.

How many ways of borrowing are there?—You can use any of these four Niagara Loan plans. 1. On cars, trucks, etc.; only owner signs. 2. Husband-and-wife, on furnishings. 3. On business equipment. 4. On farm stock and equipment.

Can I have a private interview?—Yes, your interview at Niagara will be private, courteous, and friendly.

Why do people borrow money?—A few reasons are: to consolidate a group of small debts; to reduce large payments for car and truck repairs; to meet emergencies; to repair or modernize homes; to enlarge a business; for seed, stock, fertilizer for farms; and to take advantage of low prices, when cash is paid.

Do many people borrow?—Yes, in Canada, 1 family in 4 borrow each year.

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES:

- ACROSS:
1. DICTION, defined: "wording and phrasing," is obviously a good answer. Many good works of FICTION embody slang which is, in a sense, the improper use of words.
 7. FIAT is preferred. The clue says "suggests something to be done" — clearly the future tense. A FIAT is "to command to do something"; that is, it has not already been done. A FEAT may well suggest something already done, not "to be done".
 15. WIFE is better. A good LIFE is WHAT a man achieves, rather than something that HELPS him to achieve. A good WIFE can HELP him.
 17. A KISS is sometimes a consolation. Actually it is not in the being MISSED that the consolation lies but in the KNOWLEDGE THAT HE IS THOUGHT enough of to be MISSED.
 19. DUET is preferred. It suits the clue word "likes" better. A DUET being always for entertainment is more apt to the idea of liking it or not liking it. A DIET is often for medical purposes whether liked or not.
 22. She will avoid HASTE wherever possible. EXCESSIVE WASTE. A certain amount of WASTE (of food) is inevitable in every kitchen — steam, ends, etc. — and there's no reason why she should avoid it.
 25. A nice TOY for a LITTLE girl. A nice BOY would be more to the point for a BIG girl!
 26. In aeronautics — air navigation — the strength of the WIND is always important. Some aircraft do not HAVE WINGS.
- DOWN:
1. SOFT is best because the clue says "describes" SOFA. Is a seat, it does not "describe" a seat.
 2. READ is preferred since it is not the ROAD itself that may be tiring; it is the travelling on it.
 3. WISE is preferred. If your advice is always good you will ALREADY STAND high in their estimation, not RISE. They may well esteem you as being WISE, of course.
 5. Painting a figure, the POSE is vital. Painting a face, the NOSE may be relatively unimportant, he may be after an EFFECT rather than a likeness. ROSE, etc., is not favored.
 8. TIBED, yes, he doesn't need to be TIMED to know when he has run badly.
 16. FLESHY refers to the MAN, and FLASHY to his clothes, etc.
 17. DEAR is preferred. Since Time the great hearer across memories you may, after some years, think but rarely of a DEAD friend.
 21. LEAN is best. A very MEAN man is unlikely to have any REAL friends.

LEN O'DONNELL'S Sport Shots and Pot Shots

THE ZERO HOUR APPROACHES

THE LARGEST television and radio audience in the history of Canadian sport will sit in on today's Grey Cup game in Toronto. With NBC and CBC telecasting the game over 90 coast-to-coast stations, up to 50,000,000 will see the game. Another 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 will listen to the CBC's national broadcast over a 75-station network.

Nine of Canada's 22 TV stations will carry live telecasts and 70 NBC stations will carry the first Grey Cup showing into the United States. Varsity Stadium, scene of the spectacle, will no doubt be bursting at the seams with another sellout of 27,000. So all-in-all it really earns the name of Canada's top sporting event.

As for the game itself, everyone has their own opinion. We think that the Als will take it but it will be a hard battle as we figure that the Eskies will have something under wraps or they wouldn't be in the Grey Cup final. Of course the weather will play a big part in the outcome of the game.

The weather forecast is for rain or snow and naturally if so the experts figure it may mean a big difference in Alouettes' plans. They figure that the Eskies will be better under these conditions. Joe Krol states that the Als show a weakness on pass defense and if the Eskies exploit it the right way they will cause plenty of trouble for the Walker squad.

He also claims that the Eskies possess one of the best passing defenses in the country. So it looks as though The Rifle will have a tough job finding holes to throw the ball but we still think he will manage. The Als will have their trouble in stopping the famous China Clipper, Normie Kwong. It seems that he is in a class by himself and the experts say that the Als have never met anyone just like him.

Anyway we still think that the Als will bring the old muck back to Montreal providing the weather holds up. If not, anything could happen and most likely will. So boys, when you hand out those bets don't under-estimate the Eskies and watch out for the odds. May the best team win.

THE GREY CUP executive is taking no chances and have named six officials for the game. Hap Shoultice of Ottawa has been named as head man, and in our opinion if his work is no better than last Saturday in Montreal he will be in for a busy afternoon.

Three will come from the West, with the others from the East. So everything will be divided. Three umpires will work instead of the usual two in the past. It looks as though there will be almost as many officials on the field as players. We only hope that they will keep out of the way of the players and not ruin the game.

THE OFFICIAL OPENING of the Massawippi Valley Hockey League will take place tomorrow afternoon at the Arena when Sherbrooke will be hosts to Brompton in the curtain raiser. It is slated to commence at 2:30.

The teams have been hard at work for the past week or so and will be ready to do battle in good shape. If the brand of hockey which has been dished up in the exhibition games is any indication then the penalty time-keeper will be the busiest man in the Arena.

It is hard to understand why a group of fellows will try to slice each other apart, especially when there is nothing at stake, as has been the case. With the opening of the schedule things will definitely be different. The team which plays hockey and stays away from the penalty bench will win and if things don't improve then some of the players can expect a few suspensions. So coaches, take heed and instruct your players accordingly.

BISHOP'S UNIVERSITY eagles open their season this afternoon when they will be hosts to College Militaire Royale de St. Johns at 2:15 in the College gym. The local squad dropped their first start last week-end against Macdonald College and will now be out to make up for it this afternoon.

THE Y'S MEN'S CLUB of Sherbrooke will be celebrating their 30th anniversary a week from today with a dinner and dance at the New Sherbrooke Hotel commencing at 7:00.

The Y's Men's are the sponsors of the Eastern Townships interschool track meet held annually at the Parade Grounds on May 24 and have already staged eleven with the twelfth coming up next year. This is quite an event and children of the various schools throughout the Townships look forward to it.

One of the main works of the club is the operation of a camp out at Shore Acres. This plan originated back several years ago and with Carl Skinner as chairman, an extensive campaign for funds commenced and within a short time the money was raised and the land was purchased.

On each week-end the members used to shoulder their axes and picks and the clearing process was carried on. The main cabin was erected in 1929 and all members had a share in the work. Several of the city's leading citizens today were former members of the club and no doubt like ourself have some very good souvenirs of the past days out at the lake. The club has come a long way since it was founded in 1923 and should go a long way further.

The late Rev. W. P. McVie, known as Mac to all who frequented the Y in those days, was the main organizer behind the movement. He was largely responsible for the operation of the club and it was through his hard work that it flourished. Several members of today's Rotary Club got their start with the Y's Men's under Mac. In the list of past presidents you will find some of the city's top business men today and this is why everyone is interested in helping the club along.

To President Mac Bradshaw we sincerely hope that the club will continue to carry on for many years to come and we wish it the best and this can't be realized if everyone remembers the club's motto, "To acknowledge the duty that accompanies every right."

JIMMY LARENTE, who does the teaming for Lucien Dugre's gold and blue stable of Sherbrooke, walked off with the driving championship in the fall meet at Saratoga Raceway at Saratoga Springs, N.Y. Nice going, Jimmy, keep up the good work.

MANAGER ODIE FORTIER of the Sherbrooke Indians left yesterday morning to attend the Minor Baseball meeting at Houston, Texas, and will represent the Cleveland Indians at the gathering. At the same time he will celebrate his birthday which falls on tomorrow. So Odie, congratulations, and bring home good news from the meeting.

The first meeting of the special committee was held this week and plans for the charter of the club were studied. It is expected that the bid to the government will be sent this coming week and then everything will be in order to collect the money for the shares.

THE FINALS for the Home Week bonspiel being staged at the local curling club will take place this afternoon, while in the evening the weekly mixed event will take place.

The Granby bonspiel is the next on the agenda commencing on Monday and ending next Saturday. So curlers, who have entered the event, we wish you good luck, and bring home the prizes.

Mustangs And Varsity Tangle For College Football Championship Today; Western Favored To Win

London, Ont. — Canada's two top college football teams will decide the intercollegiate championship in Little Stadium today.

University of Toronto Blues and Western Mustangs have dominated the college league since the end of the war. Varsity's pay-off pass attack will be pitted against Western's powerful runners.

The Mustangs have captured seven college championships since the war ended and Varsity two. Neither Queen's nor McGill have clicked although the Gaels finished on top of the league this year.

In a post-season playoff, Queen's lost a heartbreaker 20-18 last Saturday at Toronto when Western grabbed a loose ball in Queen's end zone on the final play.

Varsity will be fighting a long-standing jinx. Western has not been beaten in Little Stadium by the Blues since 1936. Varsity earned four ties in that time—one of them three weeks ago when they made a sensational second half recovery to gain a 12-12 tie.

Both Teams Geared For Thrilling Event

Unheard Of Odds At 5-1 Given On Alouettes In Today's Grey Cup Game; Gamblers Throw Weather To Winds

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto — (CP) — Neither chilly pronouncements by the weather man or the breezy confidence of westerners in an upset failed Friday to shake the money-changers' conviction that Montreal Alouettes will wallop Edmonton Eskimos.

The autumn fever that annually seizes Toronto on Grey Cup eve rose in direct ratio to the weatherman's gloom forecast — snow maybe rain, and right at game time, 1 p.m. EST today.

The betting fraternity scanned the statistics sheets and players' records and threw the weather forecasts away.

Reported odds reached the almost fantastic figure, for a Canadian championship football game, of 5 to 1 on Alouettes. It's doubtful if much money from even wild-eyed Montreal fans was supplied at that quotation.

Most-talked odds in hotel lobbies, where hundreds of fans milled about, made Alouettes 3½-to-1 favorites or, for equal money put up, a 13-point spread in their favor. Some bets were reported at 12 points.

Edmontonians say, who can work magic off the split-T so slickly the Als will think the ball has disappeared up his sleeve.

Faloney passes far less than Etcheverry and his passes are shorter. With the Eskies relying heavily on ground plays, Faloney is the artistic ball wizard in getting them away on fake plays.

For his ball-toters, Faloney has an outstanding trio of Jackie Parker, Rollie Miles and Normie Kwong. On them Edmonton will count heavily for consistent yardage by rushing.

Light Workout

The Edmonton team arrived Thursday night and worked out in a light drill Friday on what was announced as "a small college field." They are housed at an inn a few miles east of the city.

About the time the players were finishing breakfast, the first contingent of Edmonton supporters arrived at Union station, 200 strong.

The western fans sported their green and gold colors and paraded into the lobby of their hotel. They whooped it up in a snake dance and broke into song. One was a parody that proclaimed "Alouettes are all wet."

The Alouette team arrived Friday night from Montreal, and the secrecy that has marked their workouts all week surrounded the departure and arrival.

No Pestering

In Toronto every precaution was taken to see that there would be no pestering of the arriving Als. A route was laid out for station to their hotel across the street and enter the level beneath the lobby.

Arrangements was made for elevators to carry the players directly to their floor, taken over entirely for the team. The floor number was not known, but Alouettes officials said it would be well guarded by a police detachment.

Colorful Parade Assembled For Annual Grey Cup Classic; Radio and TV To Carry Final Minutes

Toronto — CP — A colorful collection of cuties, bands, convertibles and floats—the annual Grey Cup parade—kicked off at 10 a.m. this morning from near Union Station.

The lusty paraders, with western hats, ribbons and pennants, and including Miss Grey Cup, will march the city hall where Mayor Leslie Saunders will extend civic greetings.

Following the fun downtown, the parade moves on to Varsity Stadium.

Radio broadcasters will describe the whole parade and television cameras will catch the final few minutes as it enters the stadium 45 minutes before game time at 1 p.m. EST.

Edmonton Eskimo fans, who arrived in Toronto today on Grey Cup special train, will spearhead the parade. Riding in miniature trains and wearing their traditional badge—ten gallon hats—they will distribute thousands of eskimo pies, lapel buttons and hatband tabs along the route.

Squads of cheerleaders and shapely drum majorettes will lead the cavalcade of convertibles, 40 floats and 15 bands.

Two hundred more merry-making western football fans arrived yesterday by special Canadian Pacific Railway train for today's Grey Cup final and immediately set Toronto on its ear with their frolicking.

Shouting, singing pep songs and puffing away at noise-makers, they trooped through Union station to the Royal York Hotel across the street, taking over the main lobby.

The hotel was prepared for them. All furniture had been cleared from the lobby Thursday night.

Under discussion also was how we could interest another team to enter the league, thus making it into a four team league. If there are any Young People's groups or industries interested would you please get in touch with any of the three representatives or with the Y.W.C.A. Office.

All teams are fortunate in having excellent and interested coaches. The Sherbrooke Hospital has for Raymond Larrabee, MacKinnon Memorial, Don Wood-

Sherbrooke Hosts To Brompton Tomorrow

Alouettes' Prexy Wants Changes In Grey Cup Locale

Toronto. — (CP) — The weatherman's forecast for Grey Cup day today:

Wind: southeast, 20 miles an hour, gradually swinging through northeast and north to northwest.

Weather: Cloudy with wet snow, possibly mixed with rain.

Temperature: High 30s.

Fred Turnbull, chief forecaster in Ontario, said Friday the question is whether it will snow or rain. "With a forecast temperature of 38 either is possible with the odds slightly favoring snow."

Mayor Levesque To Face Puck In Curtain-Raiser Of Massawippi Loop; Three Cars To Be Drawn At Fixture

Roger Roberge and his Sherbrooke Intermediates will make their initial start tomorrow afternoon in the Massawippi Valley Hockey League at the Arena when they will be hosts to Brompton in the curtain raiser.

His Worship Mayor Emile Levesque will face the puck at 2:30 and will be accompanied by Hon. J. S. Bourque, Minister of Forests, Mines and Hydraulic Resources, Maurice Gingues, M.P., Mac Wilson, president of the league, and Downing Bourassa, president of the Sherbrooke team.

Maurice Gingues will present a new trophy to President Wilson for league competition to replace the old one which has been lifted out of circulation. The three cars which are being raffled by the St. Francis Sports Committee will also be drawn during the game.

Children will be admitted free at the northern entrance of the Arena and this has been made possible through the generosity of the Optimist, Elks and Riche-lieu clubs, the Sherbrooke Firemen's AAA, Knights of Columbus and the Sherbrooke Racing Club. Each of the above have purchased one hundred tickets in order to allow the children to see the game.

Coach Roberge will choose his lineup from Labbe and Doyon, both goalies, while the others will come from L. Denault, G. Lindley, J. Dumas, F. Poulin, Fern Desrochers, B. Morin, C. Papineau, C. Gingues, L. Page, Dave Hayden, Guy Dussault, Bob Bedard, R. Beaudoin, R. Hise, George Beaulieu and Jacques Dussault.

The tilt should be keenly contested and a good crowd is expected to be on hand to witness it. Both clubs have been practicing hard for the opener and the locals with several of last year's team on hand plus some of the top juniors from last year should be able to give a good account of themselves.

General admission for all league games will be 50 cents while the boxes and promenades will be 75 cents. These will be reserved for the season and anyone interested can obtain tickets at the Arena now.

Coach Roberge will choose his lineup from Labbe and Doyon, both goalies, while the others will come from L. Denault, G. Lindley, J. Dumas, F. Poulin, Fern Desrochers, B. Morin, C. Papineau, C. Crippled Giants On Short End Of Betting In Battle With Cleveland For Eastern Title And Playoff Spot

New York — (CP) — A lot depends on a refugee from Saskatchewan as New York Giants, the National Football League's Cinderella team, take the field Sunday to prove midnight hasn't tolled yet on their bid for the NFL's eastern division crown and a berth in the league final.

Opposing the Giants are Cleveland Browns, hardy perennials in the title chase, who lead them by a half-game and whipped them 24-14 earlier this season at Cleveland. And the bigger question mark in the Giant roster is Herbie Johnson, the seaback who came to them this year from Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Canada Football Union.

Johnson has performed solidly all season as an understudy for Frank Gifford, the ace offensive left half. He graduates to a starting assignment Sunday as a result of an injury to Gifford and will be carrying the brunt of the Giant running attack.

The Browns, who have won six games against two losses as compared to New York's 6-3 record, will be virtually home free if they win this one.

Philadelphia Eagles are heavily favored in a home game against the lowly Washington Redskins Sunday while Los Angeles Rams visit Chicago Bears, San Francisco 49ers meet Baltimore Colts and Chicago Cardinals are at Pittsburgh.

No Cadillac No Tickets, Sells For Ready Cash

Kitchener, Ont. — CP — The man who inserted an advertisement in the Kitchener-Waterloo Record offering two Grey Cup tickets in exchange for a used, 1954 Cadillac, didn't get the Cadillac.

All he got was money.

Fred Allore, a teacher at St. Jerome's high school, said he inserted the ad as a joke because he didn't like the position of the seats. An unidentified Edmonton supporter answered but the reply included neither cash or car.

Fred sold the tickets elsewhere.

Two Major League Veterans Will Coach Kansas City

Kansas City, Mo. — (AP) — Two major league veterans, George Susce and Oscar Melillo, Friday were named to the coaching staff of Kansas City Athletics.

Selection was by manager Lou Boudreau and announced by Parke Carroll, business manager.

Susce, a catcher who spent 22 years in the majors, will be Boudreau's bullpen coach. Melillo, a former infielder, probably will be on the coaching lines.

Susce has been with Boudreau for the last 10 years, coaching at Cleveland and later in Boston when Boudreau took the Red Sox managerial job. Melillo was with Boudreau for five years in Cleveland and for one season in Boston. He scouted for Red Sox last season.

Large Boulders Block Drainage System In Field

Vancouver CP — Empire Stadium, a mud-bath during the last games of the football season, has gone under the surgeon's knife.

Two trenches were cut along the line of non-functioning drains so that soil expert Dr. Charles Rowles could take a look at the system.

His findings: Two large boulders in the middle of the drainage system.

Officials of the Pacific National Exhibition, operators of the stadium, declined comment on the finding but the boulders of the field denied the boulders had anything to do with the faulty drainage.

Harry Charlesworth, vice-president of Marwell Construction Co., said Thursday night "it is common practice to find boulders in a drainage system and detour around them."

He said his firm would await the report of a special committee investigating the problem before fixing blame. The report is expected within two weeks.

Yankees Complete Deal With Orioles

Cleveland — (AP) — To complete a deal with Baltimore, New York Yankees will send third baseman Kal Segrist, pitcher Bill Miller and second baseman Don Leppert to the Orioles, the Cleveland News says. It says these players will complete the transaction in which the Yankees acquired Bob Turley, Don Larsen and Billy Hunter.

Segrist, who played for Toronto to Maple Leafs of the International League in 1953, batted .291, hit 15 homers and batted in 90 runs at Kansas City last year. Leppert, at the Yankee farm in Birmingham, hit .313 and batted in 78 runs.

Miller is a southpaw who started last season with the Yankees, was optioned to Toronto and later was placed on the disabled list.

ton, and the Residence Brendan Larrabee. With these coaches helping the girls the players are all looking forward to the opening of the league.

Pascual Perez Decisions Shirai

Tokyo — (AP) — Pascual Perez, a tiny terrier from Argentina, bashed world Flyweight champion Yoshio Shirai of Japan into dazed submission Friday night and became the first man from the land of the pampas ever to wear a world boxing crown.

The little bull-necked battler, with a whirlwind finish, took boxing's smallest title from the Japanese in a vigorous 15-round out-door bout in 55-degree weather. Perez was outweighed 11½ to 107½ and had a five-inch disadvantage in reach. But he packed the stamina and power.

Perez floored Shirai with a vicious left uppercut in the 12th and battered him around the ring at will in the last four rounds to overcome a substantial early-point lead set up by the heavier, rangier Shirai.

UNANIMOUS DECISION

The decision was unanimous. U.S. Army Major Jack Sullivan, referee, scored it 146-139 under Japan's point system. Judge Bill Pacheco of Hawaii had it 143-139. Judge Kuniharu Hayashi of Japan had it 146-134, all for Perez. The Associated Press had it 143-140 for Perez.

The Japanese won his title in 1952 from Dado Marino of Honolulu. He defended it against Marino in a return bout and against Terry Allen of England, and Tanny Campo and Leo Espinosa of the Philippines.

Perez has never been beaten in 24 professional fights. He fought a non-title draw with Shirai in Argentina last July.

Brome Memorial Hockey League Will Open Tomorrow In Granby; Waterloo Hosts To Magog Aces At 8:30

Waterloo. — (Special to the Record) — Tomorrow evening at the Granby Arena, the Waterloo Maroons will again open a season of hockey by meeting the Magog Aces. Operating in the Brome-Missisquoi-Shefford Hockey League, the Maroons, last year's champions, are showing another strong contending team.

While playing "B" hockey, it now appears as though the Aces and Granby Messier are packing strong teams, and as yet little is known about the fourth team from St. Vincent de Paul.

Rollie Morrisseau, playing coach of the Maroons, released the names of those signed and several familiar faces will again be in the lineup. Abe Norris, the district's best goalie, will be attending to the net chores again this year. Abe has been a perennial favourite with Waterloo supporters as well as other surrounding cities for many years, and his signing again this year is a big load of the minds of the Waterloo executive.

Another signer of course is Abe's twin brother, Al, body-basher on the blue line. He needs no introduction in the Eastern Townships, and many hockey players who have run up against this solid defenceman, will realize that he is still a top player in any league.

Other members of the 1954-55 edition of the Maroons will be Giles Cadorette, a youngster from Granby, Joey Moore, another Waterloo favorite, and Morrisseau, who will line up on the blue line, making a tough foursome, along with Norris, Moore and Cadorette. The forwards will be Joe Fausse, Cubby Smith, Real Dufresne and Raymond Beaulieu from last year's team, while others lining up this year with the Maroons will be Gerald Cote and Claude Papineau from Granby and Gilles Bedard from Bedford.

Morrisseau is still shopping for another two players before tomorrow's opener, and to be sure, the Maroons will have another contending team. Armand Lemay, manager of the team, while Alden Perkins is heading the group as president with Roger McKergow as vice president and Jimmy Cody is treasurer while Mrs. Armand Lemay will be secretary.

The 47-year-old golfer said a protest statement was sent to the PGA Friday. So far the PGA has refused comment.

The row flared into the open Thursday night at the association's annual dinner after Cotton said he had been voted off the PGA committee. He had been a member since 1934 and was PGA captain in 1934 and 1948.

Cotton hinted at a split between the PGA and tournament playing golfers.

The dispute could wreck next year's Ryder Cup works. The match is scheduled for the Thunderbird Ranch and Country Club course at Palm Springs, Calif., next Nov. 5-6.

But a revolt by the professionals could mean that Britain would be unable to raise a sufficiently strong team for the trip.
