Romans Had Modern System Of Heating, Rotarians Told

The science and technicalities involving heat for home, office or factory, were stressed by Harry Houston, who gave a classification talk to his fellow members of the Westmount Rotary Club, Wednesday.

Mr. Houston, a partner in the plumbing and heating business with his father, outlined the scientific composition of heat, claiming that it can neither be created or destroyed at any time.

He pointed out that heat is produced by friction, chemical change and electricity, and that it may be transferred from one body to another by three distinct methods.

Outlining these methods, Mr. Houston said that when heat from a body of higher is placed in a body of lower temperature, the method is called conduction. He said that suits are pressed in this manner, whereas heat from the sun is called radiation. The third mode of heat is known as convection and is possible with fluids where the lower area when heated expands and forces its way to the top with the colder fluid being forced to the bottom.

The speaker, who was introduced by Donald Ross, said there were two main ways of heating a home, the indirect and direct methods. Briefly he termed the indirect method as one where cold air is passed from a room through a heating chamber and returned as heated air by means of duct work.

"The direct method is usually operated without any provision for ventilation," Mr. Houston said. In going into detail about the various systems used to heat the average home, the speaker said that while radiant heating by circulating warm air through shallow ducts under the floor is considered more expensive, it was used by the Romans 2000 years ago.

He pointed out that heating by electricity in Canada is practically unknown, but many experiments in this type of heating are taking place in California at the present time. A specially designed type of wallpaper is needed for this type of heating, Mr. Houston said, "and then it would be possible to plug

Mayor Cameron To Attend Meet Canadian Mayors

Mayor J. S. Cameron, of Westmount, together with Alderman Reginald Dean, and City Attorney, J. W. Weldon, K.C., will attend the thirteenth annual conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, to be held in Saskatoon from August 21 to 24.

The Montreal office of the Federation announces that preparations for the conference are well advanced, and that matters of urgent municipal importance are on the agenda.

Outstanding among these is the role of municipalities in civil defence, which is growing in importance with the tense international situation.

It is imperative, therefore, that the mayors of Canada confer on this matter with a minimum of delay. Otherwise separate and individual action by municipalities, may lead to confusion and un-coordinated effort.

For this reason alone, the Saskatoon meeting of the Federation is of timely and paramount importance.

Mayor George C. MacLean, of St. Boniface, Man., president of the Federation, said that both Gen. F. F. Worthington, national co-ordinator of civil defence, and Brig. R. E. A. Morton, who directed the fight against the Manitoba flood disaster, will be in attendance, and that plans will be mapped out at the meeting for the setting up of a co-ordinated civil defence plan, for the guidance of all municipalities.

Mayor MacLean expressed the hope and conviction that agreement will be reached between the railway employees and companies before the strike deadline, and for this reason plans will not be changed for the meeting.

In the meantime, the Defence Department at Ottawa has announced that the department is preparing a series of pamphlets of vital interest to millions of Canadians.

They will be made public within the next month or two, and will have the purpose of telling the people, what to fear and what not to fear, in what military people call "A-B-C warfare," that is, attack by atomic, bacteriological and chemical weapons.

They will also tell what it is proposed to do to provide defence against them.

Unity Boys Club Unofficially Opened Monday

The reality of the Westmount Rotary Club's Unity Boys' Club was realized Monday morning, when the first registrations were made for members.

Rotary Club president Frank Kenwood announced that 35 boys and girls signed the membership card application on Monday, and pointed out that a minor program was being run on Tuesday afternoon for the new members.

"It is not of course in full operation yet," Mr. Kenwood said at the luncheon meeting Wednesday, "but we are now open on a small scale and will continue to grow."

Mr. Kenwood also announced that it is the directors' intention to have one of the luncheon meetings in the early weeks of September held at the Unity Boys' Club. He did not state when the official opening would take place, at which time it is hoped that the Rotary International President, Arthur Legieux of Quebec City will officiate, but said that the executive director of the club, Alan Moss, is carrying out a preliminary program immediately.

Several Rotary Club members have also joined in the work by taking posts as chairmen for the various committees.

Unity Club Finished Tools, Books Needed

The Westmount Rotary Club is appealing for donations of handcraft tools, power tools, equipment for woodwork and leathercraft, and library books to help equip the Unity Boys' Clubhouse, on Greene avenue, just below Dorchester street, Westmount.

One of the most modern clubhouses of its kind in Canada, the project was sponsored by the Westmount Rotary Club, with the assistance of other citizens interested in boys' work.

Included among the club's facilities are a gymnasium, library, snack bar, club and games rooms. A special department has been provided for handcraft work to be conducted under the supervision of an expert. Administrative offices are also provided in the new building.

The Rotary Club of Westmount, proposes to open the clubhouse in the fall, and all that is needed now that the structure is practically completed, is the equipment now being sought. A minimum of basic moveable equipment has already been provided from what remained from the building fund, and it is hoped that donations from private individuals, firms, and hobbyists, who have spare equipment, will enable this de-

Man Hit by Vehicle Backing From Garage

Adelard Dubois, 67, of 1672A Panet street, suffered abrasions on both knees when he was allegedly struck by an automobile, which the driver, Paul Emile Olivier, of 549 Beaudoin street was backing out of a garage.

Olivier claimed that he did not see the man but heard a thump at the back of the car. He took the man, who also claimed he never saw the car, to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital where he was treated before being allowed to return home.

W. J. Neale, New Organist At Westm't Baptist Church

W. J. Neale, assumed the post of organist and choirmaster at Westmount Baptist Church. Mr. Neale took over his new duties on Sunday.

Previously he had held a similar position at Queen Mary Road, United Church, Hampstead.

New Regulations For Taxi Drivers Suggested Here

Westmounters are wondering whether the City Council will take steps to implement a resolution passed by the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, advocating that taxi-drivers carry identification cards, with their pictures, addresses and fingerprints.

Some Westmount residents would go further, and insist that the system in vogue in New York, where a picture of the taxi-driver with his name showing must be affixed above the dash board.

In passing the resolution the Labor Council noted that there had been many holdups by taxi drivers in recent weeks, and they asked that no one with a criminal record should be granted a license.

The resolution is addressed to Mayor Camilien Houde.

Hit by Tramcar - Taken to Hospital

K. C. Winans, 58, 317 Metcalfe avenue, Westmount, was taken to St. Luke Hospital on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. suffering from a fractured wrist after being hit by a tramcar at the intersection of St. Lawrence boulevard and Craig street.

Mr. Winans was later transferred to the Royal Victoria Hospital, and is said to be progressing favorably.

Baha'i Group Formed In Westmount Recently

Members of the Baha'i World Faith who have been residing in Westmount, held their first group meeting recently.

Activities for the coming year will include a number of discussion groups referring to the international situation and world peace. Baha'is believe that a world conscience amongst people of all religions is needed in order to achieve harmony with each other.

Westmounters Will Pay More For Taxi Rides

The new initial 35-cent drop on taxi fares, an increase of 10 cents, is now in force in Westmount, as well as in the entire Montreal metropolitan district.

Municipalities affected are: Montreal, Westmount, Outremont, Verdun, Ville St. Pierre, Ville LaSalle, Lachine, Hampstead, Montreal North, Ville St. Michel, Pointe-aux-Trembles, Montreal West and Montreal East.

Copy of the Quebec Transportation and Communication Board's approval of the new rates was received Wednesday by Adrien Allard, administrator of the Taxi Co-ordination Bureau. The ordinance bears

J. B. Larkin Dies - Was Prominent Paper Executive

John Breen Larkin, died at his home, 4250 Sherbrooke street, Westmount, on Thursday, after an illness of two months. He was 63 years of age.

Mr. Larkin was president of Federal Paper Company Ltd., and vice-president of Kilgour's Ltd.

Son of the late Thomas Larkin, manager of the Gazette's job printing department for many years, he was born and lived for most of his life in Montreal.

Mr. Larkin entered the paper industry as a salesman, at an early age, and spent his life marketing paper. He was associated the signature of Gerard Lemay, chairman and his colleagues.

Certain difficulties are expected for a few days, and perhaps longer, as it will take some time to change all taxi-meters.

Official notices will also have to be published by the municipalities in local newspapers, notifying the public that taxi-operators may collect an additional 10-cent fare.

It will be recalled, that Westmount City Council recently approved an amendment to the Taxi By-Law which was submitted to the Quebec Transportation and Communication Board, whereby the Board was petitioned to grant the increase in fare. At the time, it was explained that this action was being taken so as to fall in line with Montreal, which had submitted a similar amendment.

with the Howard Smith Paper Company for many years.

He was a life member of the Montreal Kiwanis Club, and a past president of the Dominion Commercial Travellers Association.

Long an active golfer, he was a member of the Islesmere Golf and Country Club.

Mr. Larkin is survived by his widow, the former Margaret O'Sullivan; two brothers, and two sisters.

The funeral service was held on Saturday, in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount. Interment took place in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

CULTURE CORNER

Did William Shakespeare really write "Hamlet," "King Lear," "Macbeth" and the other immortal dramas which English anthologies attribute to him? Yes, is the answer you'll get from the majority.

But there is still in existence an extremely vocal minority who claim that it is impossible for a man like Shakespeare to give birth to the most memorable series of plays the English language has ever known.

The Shakespeare discreditors belong to an international group known as the Baconians. Their mission in life is to convince others that the man who wrote "The Merchant of Venice" and the other Shakespearean plays was Sir Francis Bacon who, according to Pope, "was the greatest genius that England or perhaps any other country ever produced."

The Baconians and your Pillar compiler got together during the past week when I came across a pamphlet by a gentleman named Walter Ellis entitled "The Shakespeare Myth." Shakespeare, according to Mr. Ellis, was little more than a stumblebum. He sets forth his claims in a style that one expects to find more often in a Communist propaganda pamphlet than in a serious literary treatise. The first paragraph of the work should give you the general idea:

Ben Jonson, Elizabethan dramatist, and Edmund Spenser the poet, were both enshrined in Westminster Abbey. William Shakespeare, their contemporary, was not so honored. Why? Because at the time of his death in 1616 — caused by a surfeit of drinking — no one associated his name in any way with the Shakespeare Plays. There is no record that he laid claim to the authorship of the stupendous works during his lifetime by so much as a word, and in his will, which provided for the minutest item of his worldly goods, there was no mention of any MSS., plays, poems, copyrights or books, not one scrap of printed paper; no more trace of the plays at the end of his life than at the beginning."

From there friend Ellis, in the same hysterical type of prose, goes on to build up what might appear to be a pretty convincing case for the Baconians. But it is a case supported solely by circumstantial evidence, by coincidence, by a below-the-belt form of invective.

Ellis even delves into numerology to prove (he thinks) that the plays are dotted with Bacon's signature. 'Tis all very flimsy.

This is most certainly an interesting little pamphlet to while away the minutes on a street car ride — but it isn't likely to do much to change the views of anyone with an ounce of reasoning ability encased in his skull.

The Baconian theory is currently in disrepute with the greybeards of the universities. Books like this one of Ellis's aren't likely to change the picture.

James Gourlay Gray, died at his home, 1 Rosemount avenue, Westmount, on Friday in his 78th year.

He was engaged in the engraving business, from 1913 on, and in 1920 became a partner in Eaton Co., Engravers, Sag Harbour, N.Y.

On his return to Montreal, he founded the Gourlay Engraving Company.

He was well known as an athlete in his younger days, and played on one of the early Montreal basketball teams. The Grand Trunk Boating Club made him a life member.

Keenly interested in art, music, and literature, he was a member of the Art Association, a life member and past president of the St. James Literary Society, and a governor of the Montreal General Hospital.

Besides his wife, the former Wilhelmina B. Allan, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret G. Alexander; a grandson, James Alexander; and a sister, Miss Jean R. Gray, all of this city; also a sister-in-law Mrs. P. A. Paterson.

Minister, says their emergence will be part of "a program for the progressive implementation" of a board plan for civil defence in Canada.

Another step will be the start next month of the training of key civilians at an A-B-C warfare school, at Camp Borden, Ont.

As the conference of mayors will take place this month, prior to the Federal-Provincial meet in the fall, it is presumed, that the plan approved at Saskatoon will have a bearing on the proposed Federal civil defence organization.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Camp Westmount Carries on Through August

Camp Westmount, the Westmount Y.M.C.A. City camp for boys 9 to 15 years old, will carry on its daily program until the end of August. The weekly activity includes outdoor sports, swimming, swimming instruction, picnics, industrial trips, camping trips, and many other activities.

Yesterday morning 10 boys left the Westmount Y.M.C.A. for a two-day trip to Kamp Kanawana, the Y.M.C.A. boys' camp in the Laurentians. These boys, under the leadership of Bill Johnstone and Bob Kirkwood, will remain at Kanawana until Saturday afternoon, when they will return to the City. For many of these boys it will be their first camping experience, and it is sure to be a trip which will be long remembered.

Family Night

On Friday evening, August 4, the boys of Camp Westmount were hosts to their families at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. The program included a volleyball game, swimming display, and family swim. Following the swim a short assembly was held, during which several of the boys spoke on various trips and experiences they had had during the summer camp program. Awards were given out and prizes for the penny circus were also awarded. J. G. Atkinson, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of Westmount Y.M.C.A. was in the chair. The evening closed with refreshments prepared by the boys.

Among the highlights of last week was the trip to the Wax Museum, held on Friday evening, August 4, and the tour of the Westmount Police Department and Fire Department, held on Monday, August 7. On Wednesday, August 9, the boys were the guests of the Southwestern Y.M.C.A. in Verdun at their Penny Carnival.

H.M.S. Glasgow Is Open to Public on Sunday Afternoon

Westmount parents with sailor minded boys are reminded that The Royal Navy Cruiser, H.M.S. Glasgow, now at Laurier Pier, will be open for inspection by the public, from 2.15 until 5 p.m. on Sunday, according to an official announcement by the officer commanding.

The Glasgow, flagship of the British West Indies fleet, arrived in Montreal on Sunday night.

This will be the last opportunity this season for the general public to get a close-up look at a modern cruiser.

Noseprinting For Dogs Now Approved By Ottawa

Westmount dog lovers will be interested to learn that the Agriculture Department in Ottawa has bowed to the demands of dog fanciers, and has agreed to the noseprinting of thoroughbred canines.

The new system of identification will be given a two-year trial. Proprietors of prize dogs had protested against the present method of tattooing animals for registration, claiming it often affected Fido's health.

Thus the department has approved noseprinting as an alternate system of identification, and authorized the Canadian National Livestock Records Branch to accept noseprints on an equal basis with tattooing. After two years it will be decided whether noseprinting will become a permanent method of identification.

The S.P.C.A. think that noseprinting might be a good idea, although they doubt whether the dogs might like having their noses pushed into an ink pad and then on paper.

A local veterinarian said that each dog's nose differs, as do fingerprints of human beings. He was not very enthusiastic about the new system, as he thought the method impracticable, as special courses would have to be taken by persons noseprinting the dogs.

He thought the present system of tattooing pedigree numbers on the ears isn't the best method in the world, but it is the best there is at the moment, he said.

The two year trial period will no doubt prove to all parties interested, the merits or demerits of the noseprinting system, and in the meantime, many dogs will have to undergo the ordeal of having their noses smeared on an inky pad, whether they like it or not.

Sir Robert Peel introduced the policeman, as we now know him, in the year 1829. "Sir Robert Peel's men" became "Bobbies" or "Peelers," in popular parlance. (Parlance means "conversation" or "talk".)

Westm't Rotary Members Are Good Ambassadors

Westmount Rotary members have been doing a lot of visiting, and, we have no doubt, doing a good job of advertising Westmount, being the best kind of ambassadors.

Alex Williamson visited Stratford-on-Avon, England, July 17, Willesden East, a London suburb, July 18, and another English club, at St. Marylebone, on July 20.

Mike Tansey visited Quebec City Rotary Club on August 1, with Jack Burrows, at Brownsburg, on July 27.

Bud Close and Russ Kennington paid Montreal Rotary a visit on July 25. Jack Miller travelled to Kenora, Ont., on July 24. Don Ross carried greetings to Huntingdon

July 17 and 24. President Frank Kenwood, visited Mimico, Ont., July 26.

J. A. "Jim" de Lalanne, has been elected an Honorary Member of Westmount Rotary.

District Governor Ralph Wiber, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., will make an official visit to Westmount Rotary, on Wednesday, August 30.

Members are requested to keep this date open.

Weredale Camp Day, is announced as being held on August 17.

This camp for the Weredale House boys, was a project of Westmount Rotary, before The Unity Boys' Club was undertaken. The annual visit to the camp is something no member should miss.

REALLY ROUGHING IT

Holiday time takes many city-dwellers to remote places where "roughing it" often includes using unpasteurized milk. This is one form of getting back to nature that should be avoided, as raw milk may be a breeding place for swarms of germs and bacteria. You can pasteurize milk yourself by a safe, simple process. Find out about it today.

Shawbridge Boy Is Hurt While Escaping

In trying to elude a Westmount Police officer, an escapee of Shawbridge Farm School was injured when he ran into the side of an automobile on St. Antoine street.

The accident occurred Friday afternoon when the 16-year-old Westmount youngster saw a police officer and ran across the street into the path of an automobile driven by J. H. Ross, of 1971 Tansley street.

The boy was turned over to the Verdun Detective Department following his release from the hospital as he is on charge for breaking and entering premises in that community.

COST OF LIVING UP

But Don't Blame The Merchants

As is usual in periods of inflation, some demands are being heard for re-imposition of price control. Coupled with these demands is denunciation of retailers who are supposed to be profiting greatly from the rising cost of living.

There is no doubt that, if there had been real evidence to prove a charge of profiteering against Canadian retailers, and thus to saddle them with responsibility for the rising cost of living, the Government would have brought it forward long ago, to distract attention from its own guilt. As a matter of fact, such evidence as is available seems to clear retailers from all blame.

Since the food index of retail prices has risen higher than the general cost-of-living index, it is to be supposed that if there were retail profiteering, it would be found in the food business. Now, if the latest annual statements of two of the largest Canadian chains of food stores are examined, it is found that one made a net profit of $1,861,222 on gross sales of $86,968,676, while the other had net profits of $1,479,517 on gross sales of $64,247,186.

In each case the proportion of profit to sales was a little more than two per cent, and the most rabid demagogue would find it hard to support by such figures a charge of profiteering.

A strange circumstance about food prices is that farmers who sell their products directly to consumers, either on markets or by door-to-door peddling, find it necessary to charge almost the same prices as are current in retail stores, although they are no expense for lighting, heat, clerks' wages or the hundreds of other items that go to make up retail overhead. Yet farmers, almost by definition, are the most honest class in the country, and no one would willingly accuse them of the sin of profiteering.

AN ATTRACTIVE IDEA

But The Taxpayers Might Object

In a letter to the editor of the London Free Press, a correspondent who signs himself "G.M.W." comes forward with a suggestion for providing social security for everybody. Briefly, his argument is that, as all undeveloped natural wealth, such as gold, copper and oil, belongs to the people and needs only capital and labor to develop it, the Government should provide the capital and hire the labor, while all citizens would receive the dividends in the form of social security payments.

G.M.W. shows that he is one step in advance of many of the advocates of unlimited and indiscriminate social security in that he realizes that the benefits he desires to share must be a charge on present or future production. If he would take the further step of giving some thought to how natural resources are developed, he might see for himself the impracticability of his suggestion.

He would see first of all that, when he speaks of the Government as the source of funds for bringing new mines and oil wells into being, he is really suggesting that the taxpayers be forced to provide capital for highly speculative ventures. Now there are plenty of taxpayers willing to take risks as individuals, on the implicit understanding that if the venture in which they put their money is successful they will benefit as individuals in proportion to the risk they take. The most plausible promoter would find it hard to sell them stock on the basis that if it turned out to be good, someone else would collect the profits.

For a time the Government, relying on the stupendous indifference of the average citizen in matters of public finance, might get away with speculating with the taxpayers' money. After all, it has been gambling in wheat for several years. But too many unproductive mines and dry oil wells would bring some awkward questions from alert members of the Opposition and eventually from the voters.

Christian Science

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Lamentations 3:24 "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in Him."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

"And as Jesus passed by, He saw a man which was blind from his birth. And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner. He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see." (John 9: 1, 7, 24 and 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation. Sight, hearing, all of the spiritual senses of man, are eternal. They cannot be lost. If it were possible for the real senses of man to be injured, Soul could reproduce them in all their perfection; but they cannot be disturbed nor destroyed, since they exist in immortal Mind, not in matter." (Pages 210, 486 and 488).

You're pretty much all right with your friends when you are willing to admit you're all wrong when you are.

WESTMOUNT PARK-EMMANUEL CHURCH, WESTMOUNT

(Cor. Western and Lansdowne)

Minister-in-charge — REV. G. K. WARD, B.A.

Westmount Baptist

The ministry at the Westmount Baptist Church will be conducted on Sunday by one of her own sons, Rev. J. Gordon Jones, O.B.E., D.D., Ph.D., Minister of the First Baptist Church, Calgary, and formerly of the James St. Baptist Church, Hamilton.

As his title indicates, Dr. Jones rendered conspicuous service as a senior chaplain to the forces overseas during World War II. By others than Baptists he will be remembered as a son of the late Alderman Arthur Jones of Westmount. His topics, chosen for treatment at Sunday's services are, "No Cross - No Christianity", in the morning and "The Greeks had a word for it", in the evening.

Summer-time worship is being well maintained, not only on the Lord's Day but on Wednesday evenings as well, this week's mid-week fellowship being ably conducted by a group of the young people.

Dr. John B. McLaurin, the justly popular, India-born General Secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board is announced to preach on the two remaining Sundays of this month.

The minute hand of Big Ben, the great clock at Westminster, jumps six inches every time it moves. There are four minute hands (one on each face of the square tower); each hand is fourteen feet long.

Good Autumn Berry Crop Means Bad British Winter

Country dwellers in Great Britain rely on Nature's signs as a means of forecasting the weather, and one of their most prevalent beliefs is that a plentiful crop of autumn red berries means a severe winter.

Now Mr. Leonard Cooper, a Cambridge scientist, and Mr. J. R. Clementson, Director of the Bureau of Scientific Research at Cambridge, are preparing to test this theory. They want information from experts in the Home Counties on years when big crops of autumn berries were noticed and the kind of winter that followed.

Some scientists regard country weather lore as misleading and have proved many proverbs to be false.

However, there is no doubt that certain plants and most animals, are far more sensitive to weather changes than human beings, and all countrymen know this. Cattle cluster near the hedge and bees will not leave the hive when rain is due, while connected with the firm of Debbage and Hewitson, adjusters.

He served for years on the Westmount City Council, was a member of the Westmount Lodge, A.F. and A. M., Royal Albert Chapter, and Scottish Rite.

Mr. Robertson is survived by two brothers; G. Leslie, of Cedar Park, and Percy G., of Montreal West; three sisters, Mabel G., Ethel C., and Mildred H., all of Westmount; and by a number of nephews and nieces.

dogs become restless before a storm.

One naturalist relied on his pet toad, which he maintained was better than any barometer. If the toad sat on the shady side of the garden it would be warm and dry; if it sat on the sunny side a spell of cold weather was expected, while if the toad took shelter beneath a window ledge it was a sure sign of rain.

Minister Picks Up New Church Members On His Milk Route

The Rev. Kenneth J. Grandy, 38, pastor of the Spencerville, O., Nazarene church, has an unusual combination of work. He is a town's minister and milkman.

As a milkman Grandy starts work at 5.30 a.m. and makes about 200 stops by noon. He delivers about 300 quarts of milk daily — except Sunday, when he preaches in the morning and evening in the church. His week-day afternoons and evenings he gives to his pastoral work and to study.

"I find the combination works out very well", the minister says. "Nearly every member of my Sunday school is on my milk route. I have also been able to gain some new members while I am on the milk run." His church has just given him a three year call.

The minister is married and has three children, two in high school. He entered the ministry in 1940.

Chilling Damp Duds Helps Prevents Mildew

Mildewing need not be a wet weather nuisance for sprinkled clothes. Just wrap in a plastic bag or rubber sheet and plunk them in the refrigerator until ironing.

By leaving in this "cold storage" for several hours, the moisture becomes evenly distributed, too, and they are easier to iron. When the heat of the iron strikes the chilled fabric, a light steam is created which smooths wrinkles more quickly.

Direct From Hollywood

Star's Name-Changing Might Prove Successful

... By Jack Hirshberg

HOLLYWOOD, August 10 — There's a so-called Japanese screen star visting Hollywood named Shirley Yamaguchi — only she was born in China, a fact her press agent neglected to tell me. I once knew a Ming Toy Rabinovitch who was born in Outremont, but this is pure digression. Anyhow, on the theory anyone named Shirley Yamaguchi merited a look, I wandered over to her hotel yesterday for a chat.

Like many Hollywood stars, Miss Yamaguchi admitted she had changed her name. It really isn't Yamaguchi. It's Yoshiko. Which to me seems akin to a man named Hessespeffer changing his tag to Sessenwein.

Miss Yamaguchi weighs 98 and has egg-size eyes and a figure which meets international specifications for desert island comradeship. She speaks English fairly well, but the lady either is woefully uninitiated in our colloquialisms or she just knows how to get her name in print.

In any event, Shirley seemed puzzled when I asked if she had a boy friend.

"A boy friend? What is a boy friend?" she inquired.

"A boy friend is a sweetheart", explained a news hawk pal of mine. "A steady beau, a fiance."

"Oh," said Shirley slowly. "Well, then I guess I do not have a boy friend. In my country a boy friend and a sweetheart are not the same."

We let the subject drop right there. After all, this is a clean, independent paper dedicated to the home, etc.

Shirley says the main result of current democratizing processes in Japan is the rise in popularity of the kiss. In the days of the Mikado and Cho Cho San smooching was verboten.

"I kissed for the first time in my last movie made in Tokyo," she told me. "It was very interesting. I decided to come to America to study the best technique."

I was about to offer my teaching services, but a nod from Miss Yamaguchi's press agent silenced me.

When I left — after several cups of suki and a spot of yaki plus vodka, I had the impression Miss Yamaguchi would be not at all averse to staying in the land of the orange blossom rather than returning to Nippon. However, she's a bit too late, since Hollywood isn't making movies with Japanese villainesses any more. The war is over.

On second thought, perhaps she does have a future here. Maybe she could play a North Korean or even a South Korean. Looks like the bull market in Oriental types may soon be upon us again.

Better Quality Dairy Products From Proper Care

Best quality dairy products come only from high quality milk. High quality milk comes only from proper treatment of the dairy herd and care of the milk utensils

Feeding and management of the dairy cow with emphasis on sanitation are essentials in maintaining healthy animals. Well lighted and ventilated barns with a constant supply of clean water are of prime importance. Controlling flies through regular spraying prevents one source of contamination. The best quality milk is obtained through the use of well-tinned or stainless steel utensils, free from crevices and easy to clean.

A dairy cleaner (powder) and brush give the best results in cleaning as they cut the dirt and milk film. It is preferable to use a sterilizing solution on the utensils before milking, but if this is not done they should be scalded after washing and left inverted in the sun to dry. Utensils should be protected from dirt and insects.

An important step in keeping the cows clean is to clip the udders and hind quarters. Just before milking wipe the udder of each cow with a clean cloth dipped in a chemical sterilizing solution. At the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, a separate cloth is used for each cow and it has been found that this reduces the bacterial count and spread of disease.

To maintain flavour and keeping quality, milk should be cooled to 50 degrees, or even lower. This can be done by immersing the cans in cold water, cooled by ice or by a cooling unit.

Separate eggs. Drop egg yolks in boiling salted water, reduce heat. Cook until hard. Spread 1 tablespoon of catsup or chili sauce on each slice of toast. Press egg yolks through a sieve, arrange on the toast slices, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Beat egg whites until very stiff, spread over yolks on toast, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Bake in a hot oven 400 degrees F., until brown, about 5 minutes. Yield: six servings.

Low-Cost Proteins Available for Budgeteers

ONE-DISH SUPPER combines kidney beans, corn and eggs in an individual dish. It's a good way to get proteins at low cost.

The high cost of meat makes home makers seek equally good but less costly protein in other foods. Eggs get top rating for their protein. Dried beans contain protein, too, even though it is not a complete protein like that of eggs. But when combined with eggs, beans boost the nutrition very little cost.

Try this one-dish luncheon or supper:

Frijoles with Eggs (4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1/2 cup finely diced onion, 1 small clove garlic minced, 1 1/2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, No. 2 can kidney beans, 1 1/2 cups cooked corn, or 12-cup can whole kernel corn, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon curry powder, 1 bouillon cube, 1 large green pepper, 4 eggs.

Melt fat over moderate heat in frying pan. Add onion and garlic and cook about five minutes, stirring frequently. Add kitchen bouquet and stir in. Add kidney beans and corn.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper and curry powder. Add bouillon cube. Heat thoroughly, making sure bouillon cube is dissolved. Pour into individual baking dishes.

Cut green pepper into four 1/4-inch slices. Arrange green pepper slices to form cup in center of each casserole. Break an egg carefully into each green pepper ring.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until egg white is set about 25 minutes. Serve immediately.

Here's a good sandwich spread that packs a nutrition wallop at low cost:

Pork and Bean Sandwich Spread

One pound can pork and beans, 3 tablespoons sweet relish, 2 tablespoons salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Mash the beans. Add relish and salad dressing; mix thoroughly. Spread between slices of toast or bread. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Mint Mallows

Here's a honey of a dessert for you, that is both pretty and delicious . . . minted marshmallows.

Cut a couple of dozen marshmallows into quarters, add them to one cup of milk in the top of a double boiler, and cook until melted. Let cool, and then turn into freezing tray and freeze to a mush. Add five drops of oil of peppermint, and a very little green vegetable coloring to two cups of heavy cream and whip until thick.

Turn the frozen marshmallow mixture into a bowl, beat, and fold in the cream. Return to tray and freeze until firm, without stirring. Serve with hot chocolate.

Put paper muffin cups into medium-size muffin pans and fill each cup 3/4 full. Makes 13 or 14 medium-sized cupcakes. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Top with quick coconut orange frosting.

Quick Coconut Orange Frosting
Three tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 cup coconut, 1 tablespoon grated orange peel, 1/2 cup finely chopped orange pulp.

Melt butter; add brown sugar, coconut and orange peel. Blend in finely chopped orange (made by peeling a California orange and then chopping it into small pieces).

Spread the mixture over cakes that have already been cooked. Place under broiler as far from heat as possible. Broil a few seconds or until topping bubbles and coconut starts to brown.

Blueberry Time Brings Desserts Fit for Family Fancy Feasting

Serve the blues — hot or cold — they hit the spot. We're talking about blueberries, of course.

After a heavy meal, large, cultivated berries "as is" or with coconut, ice cream, or a smooth custard sauce make a wonderful dessert. For a cold supper, a more substantial dessert like blueberry dumplings is tops, or blueberry muffins will enliven the simplest menu.

Anyhow, it's blueberry time, so enjoy this delicious fresh fruit while you may.

Coconut Blueberries

Spiced Blueberry Muffins

Scouting Around

with REG. GROOME

Well, the fourth period of Camp Tamaracouta is now under way, it is undoubtedly the smallest period in terms of members that observer can recall in the dozen or so years that we have attended. There are only sixty-three Scouts and Scouters in camp, exclusive of course, of the camp staff, which brings the total up close to ninety figure. However, it must not be thought that this low number by any means an indication that the camp is "slipping", or anything along that line.

Indeed, your reporter thinks Tamaracouta today is better than before! It is a chain of unfortunate events which today sees only a few campers in the fourth period. The events, which we refer to as unfortunate, are only unfortunate inasmuch as, due to the illness of several Scoutmasters to attend camp with their Troops, to various reasons, the Troops were compelled to cancel their attendance at camp this summer. They had planned to attend the fourth and final period, they do not alternate period to fall on. It is unfortunate, then, for the Scoutmaster, who would like to see his Troop receive weeks summer camp training, for the boys, who are missing out on two weeks excellent fun experience.

However, we have no doubt that next year these Troops will make up for their missing camp this year, and that the camp will show the largest attendance in its history, providing world circumstances do not change or deteriorate in the meantime. Those who have been to camp thus far this summer all agree, we are sure, that Tamaracouta has never operated more smoothly than it has this summer . . . and hearty congratulations should go to Field Commissioner Leslie C. Houldsworth, the Factor, for his excellent work . . . and also to his staff, who have given him one hundred per cent co-operation.

A number of local Scouts and Scouters are in camp for this fourth and final period of the 1950 season, and included among them are — Wesley Troop: Scouter J. C. Britton; Scouts Peter Worden, Dennis Worden, Roger Tonkin, Keith Oliver, Robert Murphy, Douglas Henderson, Bruce Henderson, Malcolm Ford, Terry Copp, David Copp, Jean Clermont and David Britton.

In Cumberland House, the camp-site run by staff men for Scouts whose Troops are not in camp, are: Robert Dendy of Royal St. Lawrence Sea Scouts; John Yorston of Cartierville; Roger Defoe of Lower Canada College; Richard Dendy and Clarke Leverette of Willingdon; Douglas de Savoye and John Knuble of St. Matthew's; E. Idziak of Holy Trinity; Gerald Shalinsky of Shaar Hashomayim and Tony Wilson of St. Columba. Two other lads, Pierre Clement of Willingdon and Gordon Chalmers of St. Columba returned home Monday of this week after spending the weekend in camp. Also on the visiting list last weekend was Jim Thompson, brother of Tom Thompson of the staff, and ex of St. Matthias' Troop.

We might note here also that John Knuble, Richard Dendy and Tony Wilson, all mentioned above, have been serving as junior members of the Cumberland House staff for the second, third and fourth periods. Scouter Eugene Gordon of Shaar Hashomayim was on Cumberland House staff for the third period. All of them have done and are doing an excellent job.

The annual visit of the Montreal District Scout Council to Tamaracouta took place yesterday, when a number of Council members, together with members of the Headquarters staff, journeyed to camp for the latter part of the afternoon, ate supper with the boys in the mess hall, and stayed to see the evening program.

The Silver Arrowhead Training Course for Patrol Leaders starts this Saturday at camp, under the able supervision and direction of Executive Commissioner Stanley Richardson, of Oshawa. Mr. Richardson will be remembered as former Factor of the camp. The Silver Arrowhead is the outdoor part of the training course taken by patrol leaders, who must first have completed the Bronze Arrowhead Training Course in the city during the fall, winter or spring. The course at Tamaracouta will conclude one week from this Saturday.

AT THE SEVILLE ART THEATRE

Arthur Rubinstein, who plays the difficult compositions of Schuman, Brahms and Liszt in the film "Song of Love," now appearing at the Seville Art Theatre.

PLAYS VICTIM

Lyle Talbot, featured as a heavy in several Sam Katzman productions for Columbia, latest of which is "Fury of the Congo," will return for Katzman's current film, "Revenue Agent." This time he will play the murder victim. Douglas Kennedy and Jean Willes head the cast with Lew Landers directing.

"Song of Love" At The Seville Art Theatre Now

The dramatic struggles of one of the world's great composers is the theme of the film currently being shown at the Seville Art Theatre. The film, "Song of Love," tells the story of the lives and music of Robert and Clara Schumann, with Katherine Hepburn and Paul Henreid in the leading roles.

"Song of Love" records the poverty, worry and frustration that beset the married life of the Schumanns, and the madness which conquers Robert Schumann and finally destroys him. Robert Walker is excellent as Johannes Brahms, close friend of the Schumanns who has always been in love with Clara Schumann, and who begs her to marry him following the death of her husband. Franz Liszt is portrayed by Henry Daniell, and Leo Carroll takes the part of Professor Weick, Clara's father.

The music in "Song of Love" includes many of the most beloved compositions of Schumann, Brahms and Liszt. A feature of the film is the absence of both orchestral underscoring and incidental music. This was done in order not to detract from the great music by the three composers played in the film. All the piano music heard in "Song of Love" was recorded by Artur Rubenstein.

Grid Team Signed For "The Hero"

A full team of professional football players is being used in Columbia's "The Hero," which Sidney Buchman Enterprises is producing, with John Derek starred. Among the players working in the football sequences, are Jerry Cowhig, Chicago Cardinals; Donald Doll, Detroit Lions; Donald Garlin, Forty-Niners; Steve Pritko, Green Bay Packers; Vern Lillywhite, Forty-Niners; Eddie Saenz, Washington Redskins; and Don Paul, Jack Findley, Jack Zilly and Freddie Naumetz of Los Angeles Rams.

Additions to Cast Of "Prairie Roundup"

Columbia yesterday announced Frank Fenton, Paul Campbell and Don Harvey, all familiar figures in Western films, for the roles of the principal heavies in "Prairie Roundup," latest Charles Starrett-Smiley Burnette co-starrer. At the same time the studio set Forrest Taylor, Lane Chandler, John Carson Baxter for top featured roles. Fred Sears is directing and Colbert Clark producing.

STARTING SATURDAY AT THE MONKLAND

The above scene is taken from the picture "Sahara," which stars Humphrey Bogart, Bruce Bennett and J. Carrol Naish. This excellent war drama starts Saturday at the Monkland Theatre.

Over 1,000 Extras For "The Hero"

More than 10,000 extras will be used in the 20 football sequences of Columbia's "The Hero," in which John Derek is starring for Sidney Buchman Enterprises. Most of them will be used at different times, and will be of both adult and high school ages. They will fill parts of the rooting sections at such dissimilar fields as Pomona College stadium, the Los Angeles Coliseum, and the Rose Bowl. Derek, who has been in rigorous training for these games, will be seen in all of the gridiron sequences.

Jan Sterling Gets Role in "Stranger"

Jan Sterling, Hollywood's newest blonde charmer, yesterday was given a step forward toward stardom when she was assigned an important role in Paramount's "A Relative Stranger", with a top cast which also includes Lund, Gene Tierney, Miriam Hopkins and Thelma Ritter.

The Paramount actress, who made her mark on the stage, appears as Lund's secretary in Miss Tierney's romantic rival in this romantic comedy.

Miss Sterling is also set for an important role in the Billy Wilder production of "Ace In The Hole" scheduled for production at Paramount this summer.

Westmount Yard Still Has Chance in Softball Finals

The Westmount Yard Department kept their winning ways intact Monday night with a 11-7 win over the Kenwood Shamrocks. The Yards, with the idea in mind that they have nothing to lose and much to gain played "take a chance" ball, which has won them two straight games and gives them a mathematical chance to reach the playoffs.

Again it was Raymond Paradis who provided the hitting power collecting a triple, double, and two singles in as many times at bat. Roger Guilmette gave up 11 scattered hits, and collected 2 hits himself off pitchers Ralph Booth and Con. Forey. Con Forey hit a home run and a triple for Kenwoods, while Ralph Booth and Douglas McDonald had 2 singles apiece.

The pitching performance of the week was turned in on Monday night by Western Taxi's Frank Healey. Frank limited the Bombers to 3 hits and posted 11 strikeouts, for a shutout game. Western Hitters brought in 12 runs with every man on the lineup getting at least one hit. The two power boys, Beauchamp and Loiseau had 4 hits of Brian Bromby and William Bromby. Warren Prudhomme pushed out three hits while Thomas DiSensi and Con. Forey followed with two apiece, one of Forey's a home run. Albert Locke was the losing pitcher.

The seventh place Bombers gave the first place Police and Fire team a surprise in the other game played Tuesday night when they walloped them 21-7. The protection men had one of their unusual nights off, whereas the Bombers team was hot. Mike Barnard pitched good ball; he had to keep the heavy hitting Police and Fire to 11 scattered hits. Donald MacDonald helped his cause with a 5 for 5 night, while Greenbaum and Bourassa had three each. The losers also aided their own downfall by committing 8 errors. William Black, Leslie Wood and Frank Keys touched Barnard for two hits each.

In the other game played Monday night, the Ryps took a nip-and-tuck seven inning game away from the Girard Auto Plymouth boys by a 13-11 count. Both pitchers, Locke for the Ryps and Groombridge for the Plymouths gave up an equal amount of hits, the spacing of them meaning the difference in runs. Albert Gross and John Reble slapped out three hits for the winners, one of Reble's being a home run which accounted for three runs. Jack Kennedy, the newly acquired Plymouth player found Locke's pitching quite favourable, collecting 4 hits in 4 tries. Stuart Knott pounded out a home run for the losers with none on.

The results of Tuesday nights games gave the league standing a new look when Western Taxi moved up into third spot. They defeated the Avenue Stars 7-1. Frank Healey, after pitching three hits shutout ball the previous night came right back to limit the Stars to 6 hits and have 11 strikeouts. Stuart McCowan spoiled his shutout with a home run in the third inning. For the winners, Evam Alivisatas and Frank Healey got 4 of the Taxi men's seven hits. Tony Luciano pitched good ball in his losing effort.

The Kenwood Shamrocks kept the last playoff position under their wing with a 13-6 win over the Ryps. Con. Forey limited the Ryps to 9 scattered hits, two of them being home runs off the bats

Westmount Soccer Club Hold On To League Lead

Westmount soccer club consolidated its position on top of the local League Wednesday night by defeating Engineering at West-mt Athletic Grounds by 3 to 1.

Mo Cockburn put Westmount in the lead at the 25 minute mark when he drove a free kick just outside the penalty area into the top corner.

Ten minutes later Ronnie Rajotte crashed through the centre, headed Malcie Moon at back and palnted the ball in the net, the latter having no chance of saving.

After five minutes play in the second period Johnnie Cameron scored on a cross from Willie Menary on the right wing. Cameron picked up the loose ball to tip into goal during a melee in the goal area.

Gaelic Football Be Featured Westmount

Friday evening, August 11th, 8 p.m., the Montreal Gaelic Athletic Association is again sponsoring another Irish sport called Gaelic Football at the Westmount Athletic Grounds.

A way of interest the following are a few items of information for reference to this game which has been taken from Menke Encyclopedia of Sports.

In 1884, the men of Tipperary defeated those of Waterford — 34 to a goal — near Carrick-on-Suir. It was like a world war — without any implements. The fierce struggle ended in a scoreless tie, one of the contestants kicked the ball out of the neighborhood. The players had calmed down and they decided that the game should be bettered if there were standard rules.

and Maurice Davin, of Carrick-on-Suir, were the first spectators at the combat. Very important citizens in the community, agreed that something should be done to save the Irish game for posterity. So with Michael O'Sack, of Clare, and some of the Davins drew up a set of standardized rules, which they called the Gaelic Athletic Association, at a big meeting in the Hotel, in Thurles, Ireland, on August 1, 1884. Since then it has been the ruling body for the game. There are 15 men to a side in

Despite the 3-1 score Engineering had almost an even share in mid-field play but just couldn't get past the Westmount defence.

Blue Bonnets Lead Juniors
 Blue Bonnets Juniors almost clinched the junior league title Wednesday night by handing Ukraine Juniors a 4-0 shutout, at Fletcher's Field.

Bonnets Juniors have played 11 games and have 19 points out of a possible 22 with three more league games remaining.

Scorers were: Stan Derwitz 2, George Cioban 1 and A. McCullough 1.

Gaelic football. The performers are not permitted to throw, but can dribble, as in basketball, kick along the ground, punt or punch. Inasmuch as each side is eager to advance toward the rival goal line, there is bristling action during every minute of play, split into two halves of 30 minutes each.

One point is scored for kicking, or punching, the ball over the cross bars, while three are tallied if the ball is punched or kicked into the net. When a team is close to the enemy goal posts, the action becomes hurricanic, with the advancing side using every trick to score, with the defenders calling upon all they have to roll back the assault, gain possession of the ball, and start an inspired advance of their own.

"Atterburians" Return In Ye Olde Melodrama

A few years ago, the "Atterburians" as they were familiarly called, broke all Canadian records, having giving over 1400 performances of all the old time melodramas, which took place at the old Corona Barn.

Montrealers went overboard and took heartily to this type of entertainment, and the well known Atterbury Company created for themselves, a record, never before attained in show business, playing for ten years.

It is with pride, that the management of the Astor Theatre Cafe, opposite Eatons, present ye olde melodrama once again with the John Atterbury players, and the patrons are promise the full fun and flavor of the "gay nineties".

Many of the original company are still together, including that charming yet tearful heroine. Violet Walters, Dorothy Davis the well known character woman and Edmund Berkeley, the handsome hero. Adelaide Cook, the popular songstress of the Gay Nineties also returns with the company.

New members of the cast include, Richard Kronald, as the dark dyed villain, Glaria Wolfe, Bonar Stuart, Bernard McMurray and Arthur Voronka.

The John Atterbury Company opens with "The Drunkard" on Thursday night, August 17th, and will appear nightly at ten o'clock. The Astor Theatre Cafe invite its patrons to come and relax in their new gay ninety theatre club, opposite Eatons, and assist the heroine who invariably is done wrong by, and help see that the villain gets his due.
