New Medicines.

The Greatest Success of the Age.

DISEASES of the Chest. Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime, manufactured by Grimault and Co., chemists, 7, rue de la Feuillade, Paris. This new medicine, delicious to the palate, is a sovereign remedy for coughs, colds, irritation of the lungs, and is also an excellent remedy in cases of consumption. Under its influence, the cough abates, nocturnal prespirations cease and the patient rapidly recovers health and flesh

ELIXIR of Pepsine, prepared by Grimault and Co., chemists, 7, rue de la Feuillade, Paris, according to the formula of Dr Corvisart, knight of the Legion of Honour, physician to H. M. the Emperor of the French. Pepsine is the gastric juice itself or rather the digestive principle purified, which digests food in the stomach. When from various causes the supply of the digestive fluid is too small, the inevitable consequences are bad digestion, gastritis, gastralgia, inflammation of the mucous coats of the stomach and bowels, heartburn, anæmia, loss of strength, and in females, general derangement. The Elixir of Pepsine, which is sanctioned by the approbation of the Paris Academy of Medicine, speedily cures all diseases, and prevents vomiting during pregnancy.

VEGETABLE Matico Injection and Capsules, prepared by Grimault and Co., apothecaries in Paris. This new remedy is prepared from the leaves of the Matico, a tree of Peru, for the prompt and infallible cure of gonorrhœa without fear of stricture of the urethra or inflammation of the bowels. The celebrated Dr. Ricord, of Paris, ceased to prescribe all other medicaments as soon as Matico was discovered. The injection is used at the commencement of the discharge; the Capsules in chronic and inveterate cases, which have resisted the preparations of copaiba, cubebs, and injections of a mealic basis.

NO more Cod Liver Oil. Syrup of Iodized Horse-Radish, of Grimault and Co., apothecaries chemists, 7, rue de la Feuillade, Paris. According to the certificates of the physicians of the Paris Hospitals detailed in the prospectus, and with the approbation of several Academies, this Syrup is employed with the greatest success in place of Cod Liver Oil, to which it is really superior. It cures diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, green sickness, muscular atony, and loss of appetite, it regenerates the constitution by purifying the blood, and is, in a word, the most powerful depurative known. It never fatigues the stomach and bowels like the iodide of potassium and the iodide of iron, and is administered with the greatest efficacy to young children subject to humours, or obstruction of the glands. Dr. Cazenave, of St. Louis hospital, Paris, recommends it particularly in cutaneous diseases conjointly with the pills which bear his name.

HO-PHATE of Iron De Leras, apothecary doctor of science, 7, rue de la Feuillade, Paris,—This new ferruginous medicine contains the elements of the bones and blood, and iron in a liquid state. From observations made in the Paris hospitals and detailed in the prospectus, it is superior to ferruginous pills, lactate of iron, iron reduced by hydrogen, pills and syrup of the iodide of iron, and cures rapidly, stomach complaints, painful digestion, poverty of the blood, loss of strength and appetite, and the diseases incident to females. It is the best adjunct to Cod-Liver Oil, and the best preserver in health in tropical climates. General Depot: of London, at Newbery and Sons, 45 St. Paul's Churchyard; in Calcutta, at Percy Douglas and Co.; and every good druggist of India.

No more Copaiba or Cubebs.
Capsules of Matico Vegetalis.
Also, liquid extract of Matico.

THESE elegant preparations effect rapid and extraordinary cures of recent and old and severe cases of disease. They are used in all the Hospitals of Paris by the celebrated Dr Ricord, and are found greatly superior to all preparations of Copaiba, Cubebs, &c., and mineral remedies. The liquid extract is used in recent cases, and the Capsules in the more chronic; and where all other medicines have failed, these preparations will always effect a cure.

QUEBEC, JAN. 10, 1865.

We have to record, this morning, the details of one of the most brutal, unprovoked and cold blooded cases of murder to be found in the criminal annals of the district, as elicited in the course of the inquest on the body of a boatman named Jean Julien—a very full report of which will be found in other columns. The investigation—which, by the way, was very properly adjourned until to-day, by the Coroner, in order to await any further developments which the vigilance of the police may, in the interval, bring to light—affords an insight into one of the most depraved and vicious phases of life in Quebec. For many years past, the lower order of fishing cabanes on the River St. Charles has become the resort of the most abandoned among the suburban or waterside population. A very natural result has ensued. Keepers of the more respectable class of establishments have, in many instances, been compelled to give up their cabanes because of the enmity of daring and outlawed rivals; and the sport of winter-fishing on the ice is almost impossible to be enjoyed except by those who are willing to incur the risk of half a dozen brawls, a regular siege of a whole night's duration, and perhaps the delivery of a quantity of liquor and provender to the ruffians without, by way of ransom. There is little doubt but that the deceased met his death at the hands of a number of the wicked and unscrupulous scoundrels frequenting some of these low dens. Many of them are notoriously the resort of bullies, prostitutes, thieves and receivers of stolen goods, who—finding themselves beyond the police limits—carry on their nefarious traffic free from even the fear of annoyance or interruption. The banks of the river in the more remote parts of St. Roch's Suburb and St. Sauveur are rendered unsafe, after nightfall, by these desperadoes, most of whom are daring and accomplished villains, and many of whom have qualified for their profession by a term or two in the Penitentiary or the House of Correction. Crimes innumerable are committed—burglaries, highway robberies, aggravated assaults and offences of a minor character—which never come to the ears of the authorities, simply because it is notorious that a feeling exists among the population of the outskirts of the adjoining suburb, that it would be not only useless but dangerous to attempt to denounce them to justice and follow the offenders into their amphibious retreats. Some amendment in the law is undoubtedly needed in this matter, in order to eradicate a great and growing evil. The municipal authorities of Quebec should be invested with full powers to license and control the fishing cabanes on the ice; and the Police ought to be placed in a position to be able to visit, to regulate and to enforce order in them. We hope this matter will not be overlooked by the municipal authorities at the approaching session of Parliament. The evil is one of considerable magnitude—it is a sort of social sore, which has already produced the most baneful results, but which will increase its infamous and bloody fruits if a prompt remedy be not applied.

The passport system, we perceive, is creating great dissatisfaction in the West. Somewhat to our surprise the Toronto Globe treats Mr. Seward to a piece of independent admonition, and goes the length of suggesting that Canada might retaliate with advantage to her revenue. From this doctrine we most emphatically dissent, both because we see no wisdom in a man's cutting off his own nose to be revenged of his face, and next for the reason that if Mr. Seward has done a foolish thing it would not argue an intellectual superiority in us to perpetrate the same folly. Our contemporary appears to be divided between two opinions as to the American Secretary's motive, for he insinuates that it is resorted to as a means of raising revenue; the finances of the States being at the lowest ebb, it is presumed that the smallest contributions will be most acceptable, come from what source they may. Such a supposition is in perfect keeping with the constitution of the American mind, and may have had its indirect influence in determining a resort to high fees; but it is more reasonable to suspect the true and original motive to have been a compound sentiment of revenge and coercion, intended in part as a punishment to Canada for her neutrality. Mr. Seward could no more be ignorant of the utter inutility of the passport expedient to prevent future raiding than the editor of the Globe or any other intelligent Canadian; but he foresaw that the system would be an impediment to an extensive intercourse of the more respectable class of citizens—who are at all times law-abiding—doing business internationally on either side; and it is doubtless the object, moreover, of his policy to prevent egress from the States to the utmost extent. He was thus gratifying his pique against Canada while he was accomplishing his purpose of restraint upon the migratory habits of the American people. The almighty dollar might come in as an after-consideration as well as hostile ingress from our borders. Mr. Fessenden, perhaps, would not be slow to suggest that a few thousand dollars could be made out of the speculation if the "ticket-of-leave" was put at a decent figure. It is hardly worth a second thought what the impelling motive may have been; we know that this obsolete practice has been adopted; we have the unquestionable fact lying at our door that the self styled "cradle-of-liberty,"—"the most progressive people on the earth," have resorted to a system of espionage and restriction of personal liberty that the most despotic and ultra conservative monarchies of the "Old World" have long since repudiated as incompatible with the spirit of the age, and a cumbrous and useless interference with social and commercial freedom. The difference of the cost of a passport of one dollar or of six is a matter wholly insignificant. To the pleasure traveller it will be voluntary; to the merchant it will hardly be an object, since if his business will not bear so small an additional cost it can certainly not be of sufficient importance to justify the journey which make a passport necessary. Upon the whole, then, it is not easy to see where the evil lies that is crying so loudly throughout the western press. If the Washington Government considered passports would afford their frontier protection against thieving raids and murderous violence then were the authorities fully justified in the adoption of the system. It matters not that Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Seward are in error; if they hold a conviction of its utility and propriety as against the Confederates resident in Canada, or as a retaliatory measure for what they—again, mistakingly if you will—consider our shortcomings in friendliness towards the Northern cause, then are we bound to admit the adoption of a passport system under any regulation and with any charge for fees perfectly justifiable and consistent with duties of their position.

The constitutional controversy in the Maritime Provinces, as revealed to us by the leading newspaper there, is full of instruction, though not at first first sight very intelligible to Canadian readers. We see that certain names are arrayed against other names, that editorial anger is flying about in a dense shower of sparks; that public meetings have been held for and against Union, and that one of the delegates at least, who had the honor to take part in the late memorable Conference at Quebec, has recanted his opinions, and gone back to the blind and fatal fold of isolation and estrangement. We see, also, that the struggle, so far as there is one, even in the least of the Colonies, is waged between intelligence and prejudice, between a generous advocacy of the general good of all the Colonies, and short-sighted appeals to local, special, and personal interests.

At this state of things no one who knows what stuff men are made of could be surprised. It was natural, it was inevitable, that isolation should have its defenders, and estrangement its partizans. It was so pleasant and habitual for small men to domineer on a small stage that no one could wonder if insignificance itself should make some stir before consenting to be snuffed out. The moth struggles with the candle, as is its nature, but the candle consumes it.

We have no intention, far from it, to be personally severe with those gentlemen of the Maritime Provinces who have selected for themselves the invidious character of opponents of Union. We are as little angry as surprised at the election they have made. But we think we have a right to say to them, in all sadness, that the day is not distant when the children who hear their names will blush for having had fathers who sought the dissevrance, and weakness, and disaster of these Provinces, rather than their union, and strength, and security.

What has been proposed (and not without some sacrifices), by the statesmen of Canada? A political union under certain arrangements. What is maintained by the malcontents of the Lower Provinces? Political separation without hope of arrangement. These are stripped of all disguises of detail,—the two broad propositions put forth clearly from Quebec in October last, and to one or other of them, every public man in British America must declare himself an adherent during the coming season of legislative activity in all the Colonies. It is not that we have a shadow of anxiety as to which cause must triumph that we remind the anti-Unionists of where they stand, and how they are regarded, and with whom hereafter they must consent to be classed. We are perfectly confident of the triumph of the Union cause in every Colony (except, perhaps, Prince Edward's Island); and we only utter these, our opinions, as a record of the feelings which one cannot but own are excited, on reading in the Maritime journals those humiliating displays of prejudice and claptrap with which the friends of Union have been interrupted in that part of the country.

Take, for example, the Prince Edward's Island anti-union movement. Mr. Palmer, its leader, may be consistent or inconsistent,—that is a minor matter. But Mr. Palmer professes to have done all he has done in the best interests of his beloved Island. Mr. Palmer is moved by patriotic impulses; he is the Island Curtius, who is prepared to fling himself into his own gulf, in the excess of his self-devotion. Yet see what a future this gentleman would prepare for his garden-island, should he succeed in his obstructive movements! The rest of British America in all human probability will go on with the good work; the Imperial Government has already pronounced in its favor; the Union may, as it can, take place without the Island, and then where will Mr. Palmer and his policy be? Does any one suppose for a moment that Great Britain will keep up a separate colonial system in North America for Prince Edward's Island or any other one Colony? If not then the Island will be compelled, at the thirteenth hour, without honor, and with a very poor grace, to ask for admission into that very system of Provinces from which Mr. Palmer and his abettors kept her back at the start, when she might have entered with credit, and without the imputation of indifference or hostility to the general good. This we put as a suppositious case, but it is just possible it might become hereafter a practical one? If an honorable, high-minded gentleman like Colonel Gray, and the other able and honorable men who accompanied him, and were parties to the plan of Union, should be left in the minority among their fellow-Colonists, let it not be, at all events, misunderstood in England or in Canada that there are gentlemen in Prince Edward's Island whose personal honor is beyond question, and whose patriotism extends wherever the Queen's flag flies on this continent.

To give a colorable pretext to the factious course which has been taken, in one or two localities, in the other Provinces, it is pretended that discussion has been stifled by the returned delegates. Than this no assertion could be more untrue. Who was it, in every instance, called the first public meeting to consider the merits of this question? Why, these very delegates. If the usual forms of order were neglected or violated by those who wished to be heard against Confederation in Halifax, or elsewhere, it is to be regretted; that any man, observing the usual decencies of life was not heard, at any proper time or place, is much to be regretted; but to affirm that the friends of Union have been afraid of discussion, in any one of the Provinces, is simply absurd. It is notorious that the declared object of every delegation, before the break-up at Quebec, was to invite public discussion, as preliminary to legislative deliberation, so soon as the official obligation of first communicating the results of the Conference to Her Majesty's Secretary for the Colonies could be complied with. This was the reason publicly assigned here at the time for avoiding any premature publicity of the proceedings of the Conference, and we know that subsequent events proved it to be the real reason. Discussion! why that is the very thing most to be desired by the friends of Union; and the very last thing the partisans of isolation and estrangement really desire to see brought about. Discussion! The Tilleys and Grays and Tuppers and McCullys afraid of discussion! The thing is simply ridiculous to those who know the men, and those who have come out against them.

For our part, here, on the eve of our Parliamentary session, we welcome fair discussion. We believe it will do all the good in the world to the cause of Confederation, and we know our Canadian delegates will be found just as ready, should occasion arise, to vindicate the good cause against every species of prejudice, localism or selfishness, as their colleagues in the Conference have shown themselves to be in the Maritime Provinces.

DEATH OF JEAN JULIEN.

INVESTIGATION BEFORE THE CORONER, YESTERDAY.

The case of Jean Julien, who was shot on Saturday night, at the door of a fishing cabane on the ice of the River St. Charles, near the Marine Hospital—as briefly announced in our yesterday's issue—resulted fatally in the course of the following night. Yesterday afternoon, Coroner Panet summoned a jury and proceeded to the residence of the deceased, 93 King street, St. Roch's, where the jurors were sworn, in presence of the body. The body appeared to be that of a middle-aged man, of the working classes, and it bore traces of the violent deed which had caused death. The occurrence appeared to have created considerable excitement in the neighborhood, and the street in front of the house was thronged with neighbors and friends. Drs. F. E. Roy, Larue and Chaperon, who were also present, were sworn to perform the post-mortem examination, after which the jurors retired to an adjoining house, No. 122½, where the evidence was proceeded with.

Mr. A. Matthieu acted as foreman of the jury.

The first witness was then called.

THEOPHILE JULIEN, sworn.—I am eighteen years of age, and am the son of the deceased Jean Julien. I am not aware that my father had any row or dispute with any person lately. On Saturday afternoon last, I was with my father in a cabane on the ice of the River St. Charles, near the Marine Hospital. This cabane belongs to Mr. Julien Samson, and I was keeper of it for the proprietor. About nine o'clock p.m. on Saturday I lay down in the cabane to have a sleep. The deceased and one Joseph Latouche were in when I lay down. They were then cutting up meat for fishing bait. They were waiting for the tide; and fishing would begin about one o'clock. I was awakened by the sound of pieces of ice being thrown against the cabane, about half-past twelve or one o'clock. I heard the voices of several persons outside; but I did not know what they were saying, nor could I make out what language they were speaking. I asked my father "what was that noise?" and the deceased said, "We're done for, my boy," (on est fini, mon garcon.) The door of the cabane was open; but I did not see any person in the door. It was moonlight at the time. My father went out, and I followed him out. He did not say anything else as he went out. I saw three men running away towards Dorchester Bridge. They appeared to me, all three, to be dressed in black. I found myself barefoot on the snow, and so I ran in again, to put on my boots. There was so much noise outside that I rushed out again, without putting on my boots. The first thing I saw, on going out the second time, was my father, stretched on the ice, at the north-east end of the cabane. Deceased was laying on his back, with his face upwards. He was bleeding from a wound at the right eye—I think it was the right eye. He was insensible. I did not see anything laying near the body. About two arpents from the cabane, in the direction of the bridge, I saw five persons together—three of whom were, I think, those whom I had seen the first time I came out. They all appeared to be dressed in black. I could hear them speaking, but could not hear what they were saying, nor could I make out whether they were speaking French or English. When I came out of the cabane the first time and returned, I only just went in and came out again. The three persons who were then running towards the bridge, were not running so quick as the other two. When I came out the second time these five persons were all together, and they all rushed off together. Nothing peculiar struck me in the dress of these people. I did not see any knife in the hand of any one of them: nor did I hear the discharge of any firearm. I did not see Joseph Latouche until after my father had been carried into the cabane. About 200 feet from our cabane is situated Amedee Lebrun's cabane. I called out to him to come and assist me, and he came at once. Lebrun and myself were carrying the deceased into the cabane when I saw Jean Metivier and two or three others, whom I do not know, with him, coming towards us. Mr. Metivier went away, accompanied by some other person, to get a dog which was examined, and deceased was carried to his house in King street. Deceased was dressed, at the time, in a pair of grey stuff trousers, a sleeved waistcoat of fustian, and a grey blouse. It took about half-an-hour to get a sleigh. A doctor was sent for at once by my mother.

Q. (By Mr. Boutin, a juror)—Were you not threatened if you told anything about this affair? A.—No, I was not threatened by anybody.

Q. (By Mr. Boutin)—Did you not hear any person speaking? Could you not make out what was being said? A.—No, I heard persons speaking; but could not make out what they were saying. I was awakened by hearing pieces of ice thrown against the cabane.

AMEDEE LEBRUN, sworn.—I work in a shipyard. I am nineteen years of age. I was in my own fishing cabane, and passed the night there. It is on the ice of the river St. Charles, about 200 feet from Mr. Julien Samson's cabane. A youth named Honoré Stephens, between seventeen and eighteen years of age, woke me up, and told me there was some noise at Mr. Samson's cabane. This was between half-past twelve and one o'clock in the night. There were six persons in my cabane;—two young men named Cote,—Honore Stephens, Joseph Asselin, Napoleon Vaillancourt—and myself. I went out of the cabane at once and Theophile Julien seeing me at the door, cried out, "Amedee, come and help me; they have killed papa." The five other persons whom I have named did not come out; they were afraid to come out. Honoré Stephens merely opened the door. I immediately went to help the Juliens, and I saw the deceased, Jean Julien, lying on his back, on the ice, near his own cabane, and Theophile Julien close by him, alone. A moment afterwards Mr. Metivier, Joseph Lebrun, and Mr. Rowan arrived and came to carried the deceased into the cabane. Deceased had a wound close to the right eye. He was not then bleeding much; but, as soon as he got into the cabane he lost a good deal of blood. The door of Julien Samson's cabane faces the south-west. The deceased was lying at the end of the cabane, to the north-east. While I was going to deceased's cabane I saw two persons running towards Dorchester Bridge. They were about thirty feet from my cabane and therefore 230 or 240 feet from deceased's. They were about 100 yards, or, say 30 paces from me. It was moonlight at the time. It was clear enough to recognize a person at thirty paces, if the face was seen. I did not recognize the two persons I have mentioned as running away. I could not pay any attention to them nor to their clothes. I did not hear them speaking. I did not see any others except these two.

Q.—(By Mr. Boutin.)—You did not see any person except these two?

WITNESS.—No; I did not.

The JUROR.—Rather curious, considering that it was moonlight. Do you swear that you were not told by any person not to give evidence?

The WITNESS.—No; I swear positively that no person said so. I found a stick stained with blood, on Sunday evening, close to deceased's cabin. This stick was broken in two.

A JUROR.—Did you hear any person say that it was intended for Mr. Samson?

The WITNESS.—No; I did not. I heard yesterday afternoon that this stick was picked up by a lad named Cantin, who lives in King street, near this house, and that he carried it home. I have been told that the stick was burned. I observed beside deceased's cabane, on the night in question—after I had accompanied deceased home—a log house—a little parcel of chips or shavings, made with a knife, and tied up with a tarred string. I carried it away with me. Next morning I observed three or four of these parcels or bundles, one of which appeared to have been set on fire. I brought them away and burned them.

JEAN BAPTISTE GOUDREAU, sworn.—About one o'clock on Sunday afternoon I went to Mr. Julien Samson's cabane. I saw blood at the north end of the cabane. I also saw a piece of wood with a cord or rope twisted around the middle of it. This cord appeared to have been used for the purpose of tying shavings or chips to it; and I saw the spot where the fire appeared to have consumed the chips. The timber of the cabane bore no marks of fire, but the piece of wood I have mentioned seemed to have been placed there for the purpose of setting fire to the cabane.

ONESIME LAPOINTE, sworn.—I am a sawyer, residing in Prince Edward street. I was in Metivier's cabane on Saturday night, where I was sleeping. It is about fifty feet or more from Samson's cabane. It is more—perhaps fifty or seventy-five paces; but I do not know the precise distance. I heard pieces of ice being thrown against Samson's cabane. I was asleep at the time and the noise wakened me. I just raised my head and lay down again. I slept until morning. I do not know anything else.

Q.—(By Mr Boutin.)—Did you not state to certain persons that you heard the report of a pistol, and some person crying out "Oh!" and the first shot was not enough; but the second will?

The WITNESS.—I never said I had heard this myself; but I heard others saying so.

To the Coroner, WITNESS said:—About half-past seven o'clock on Saturday night I was in deceased's cabane. Deceased was there with his son Theophile. Deceased said: "It appears that "they are coming to burn my cabane. If they come "to burn it I shall go out with my axe." He did not say who it was he expected would come to burn the cabane. Theophile Julien, his son, was in the cabane when deceased said this.

Q.—(By Mr. Boutin.)—Did you not in the course of the evening go to the "cabane du coin" as it is called, and repeat what deceased had said?

A.—No, I did not go there. I went to deceased's cabane to get a piece of candle.

A JUROR.—The "cabane du coin" is kept by George Leblond and others.

The WITNESS said—When I was going down to Samson's cabane, I met Mr. Edouard Bourassa and Mr. Etienne Allard. When I was coming back, I met again most them, and they asked me to give them a drink. This was when I was coming ashore to get a candle.

To A JUROR—I had no suspicion who the deceased meant when he said somebody was coming to burn the cabane. On Thursday or Friday last, I saw Edouard Bourassa in George Leblond's cabane. Bourassa said to me: "I went to Julien "Samson's cabin to ask for fish. He threatened to "give me a slap on the mouth; and he'll pay for it." George Dufresne was present at the time, a young man named Rancour, who is called "Menomme," and one Felix Picard. There were seven or eight of us. Julien's cabane is between Leblond's and Metivier's, about the same distance from both. Bourassa was speaking to me at the time, but he was speaking loud enough for the others to hear. They did not, however, make any remark. Bourassa was rather drunk at the time (etait pas mal chaud dans le temps.)

JOSEPH AUGER, sworn.—I am night-watchman at Baldwin's shipyard. I was at the shipyard on Saturday night. From ten o'clock to midnight I heard, during the whole time, terrible cries and yells, in the direction of the cabanes about five or six arpents off. I then went, about midnight, to Mr. Valin's watchman and told him I thought we were going to have a noisy night. I heard the following morning that a murder had been committed. I did not hear any report of firearms during the night. Next morning, towards eight o'clock, I went into Rancour's tavern. There were present at the time Johnny Dufresne, Etienne Allard, Pat O'Brien and others. Charles Rancour and his wife were also present. I asked for a drink, and was served by Madame Rancour. I spoke to those who were present. I said to Etienne Allard: "That poor Julien was fired at last night." Allard said "It was not a pistol shot; it was two blows of a stick he got." The others were speaking low, in twos and threes. I am certain that, from half-past ten o'clock to one o'clock, that no person passed under Dorchester Bridge.

JEAN METIVIER, sworn.—I am a caulker, residing in Prince Edward street. About a quarter to eleven p.m., on Saturday night, I went to my fishing cabane on the St. Charles. I did not hear any noise, nor did I meet any person, on going down. There were six persons in my cabane when I went down. Towards midnight, we began to prepare our lines, for fishing. Onesime Lapointe was then sent. He was laying down, and drunk. About half-past twelve or one o'clock, Honore Gosselin said: "They are throwing pieces of ice at the cabane; go and see what's up." I went outside the door, and in rear of Mr. Julien Samson's cabane I saw five persons. I think among these five the deceased and his son were there. I was then about forty-five paces from them. It was a fine moonlight night. These five persons I have mentioned were still throwing ice at Samson's cabane. I saw the flash and heard the report of a firearm discharged by one of the five. I could not make out the deceased's face. An instant after the first shot a second shot was fired by the same person; and I then saw deceased fall. I recognized him a moment after words, and I saw him laying on the ice. As soon as those shots were fired, three of the five persons ran off in the direction of Dorchester Bridge, making towards Paradis' booms. I did not recognize any of these persons. When the deceased fell, I went up to Samson's cabane. I found Lebrun had reached before me. Deceased was laying on his back; he was insensible and had a wound close to the right eye. We managed some time afterwards to procure a sleigh and deceased was brought home. Pat O'Brien and Johnny Dufresne were in Samson's cabane, when we came back to remove Julien. The person who fired at deceased was at a distance of twelve or fifteen paces from him. It was very cold that night. The report of the fire-arm was not very loud. The person who fired was a man of middle size; he was the tallest of the three. I did not hear them saying anything. They were all three dressed in black. Patrick O'Brien said in my presence—"They did wrong to do that." I did not hear anybody saying "finish him."

JOSEPH LAROCHE, sworn.—I am fourteen years of age, and I reside in St. Roch's. On Saturday night I was in Samson's cabane, with deceased and his son. I had been sleeping from half-past ten o'clock. Some time afterwards I was awakened, by hearing pieces of ice thrown against the cabane. I saw the deceased, Mr. Julien, looking out at the door, and saying to his son—"They are setting fire to the cabane." He asked his son for the axe, and took it. His son said "don't go out; you'll be killed." He however took his axe and went out. Theophile Julien, the deceased's son, went out at the door and seeing his father laying on his back called me. I went out and helped him to carry his father as far as the door. Thereupon, Amedee Lebrun arrived. I did not hear any report of a fire-arm. The noise of the pieces of ice which they were throwing against the cabane was such that it was impossible for us to hear each other speaking. I saw five men, dressed in black, who were going in the direction of the bridge. They were then behind Amedee Lebrun's cabane. Next morning, about six or half-past six, I saw little bundles of wood tied with a cord which appeared to have been attempted to be set on fire. They were beside the cabane—we saw two of them and burned one in the course of the night.

To answer to a juror, WITNESS said:—I had not been into any other cabane before deceased was wounded, on Saturday night. I saw Dufresne and O'Brien in the cabane afterwards. They said "It was a bad thing to kill a man that way." I was not told by any person not to give evidence here.

HONORE GOSSELIN, sworn.—I reside in St. Helen street, and am a caulker. I was in Mr. Metivier's cabane on Saturday night. I lay down at eleven o'clock. I had not heard any noise up to that hour. I was awakened by a noise towards one o'clock, and I told Metivier I thought they were throwing ice at his cabane. Metivier woke out and said they were throwing ice at Samson's cabane. I got up and went out. I arrived at Samson's cabane, immediately after Metivier, and I saw three persons running away, in the direction of the bridge. I was going to run after them, but Metivier stopped me, saying that the same thing might happen to myself. I did not recognize any of the three. I shouted after them, but they ran away very quick. They were dressed in black.

Witness, in reply to a juror, said that he went down to the "cabane du coin" but that they told him there were four girls inside and they would not let him in. The light was out. Witness saw O'Brien and Dufresne, afterwards, at Samson's cabane, and they said it was a bad deed.

FRANCIS A. H. LARUE, M. D., sworn.—I examined the body of Jean Julien. We did not find any trace of a wound, nor of a contusion on any part of the trunk nor the inferior extremities. On the posterior part of the left hand, on the centre of the back of the hand, we found a circular blue mark, about the size of a quarter-dollar. On inspecting this mark, we found the subjacent cellular tissue ecchymosed; no trace of strange bodies powder, nor burn on the hands. There was an old sore on the right forearm. These were the only lesions on any part of the body except the face. On the face there was froth escaping from the mouth; no apparent wound, nor ecchymosis on the interior of the left side of the face. The right eye was closed; both eyelids much swollen, so that the volume of this eye was about three times that of the left eye. Both eyelids were extremely blue At the bridge of the nose there was a little spot much marked with ecchymosis, and about the size of a five-cent piece. From this spot, going downwards, along the edge of the bridge of the nose, there was a little furrow perfo-rated. On removing the integuments of the nose, we found them infiltrated under the integuments, principally insensible and manifesting all the symptoms of compression of the brain. Ice applied to the head and stimulating injections were prescribed. I saw him again about one p.m. Breathing was still more labored; the face livid. The right eyelids much more swollen than in the forenoon. The injection not having had effect; finding the bladder full, I introduced the catheter and drew off about a quart of urine. I saw the deceased again about seven o'clock p.m., and found him in a still worse state, and again ordered an injection and found the dura mater excessively congested in all its parts. Having removed the dura mater, we found the membranes immediately touching the right hemisphere covered with a thin coating of blood, and here and there a few clots. The vessels were excessively congested. On the right side, and a little to the rear of this hemisphere, to a corresponding point a little above the ear, we found a circumscribed space of the cerebral substance, which was about two inches in one of its diameters by one inch and a half on the other, reduced to pulp. The membranes of the brain at this spot were torn. The cerebral substance of this right hemisphere was of the ordinary consistence, not at all congested. The membranes immediately touching the left hemisphere were little congested, when compared with the right. The cerebral substance of this left hemisphere was not at all congested. The right ventricle contained a little more serum than usual. After removing, by very thin slices, the upper half or thereabouts of the right hemisphere, we reached the level of the spot where a portion of the brain had been reduced to pulp, as already stated. From thence we traced an opposite furrow of cerebral substance reduced to greyish pulp mixed with blood, which furrow directed itself towards the orbit. In this furrow we found a few small fragments of bone which we preserved. Here and there, in this channel, a few dots of blood were found, apart from the liquid blood. In examining directly the cerebral substance of this hemisphere already removed we found a fragment of a ball, of irregular form, about the size of a small nut. It rear from the little wing of the sphenoid, we found a fracture of circular form, at which fracture the probe which we introduced through the wound on the inner side of the eye stopped. This fracture was in the direction of the furrow observed in the brain, and corresponded therewith. On the infra-orbital plate another comminuted fracture was found. The small particles of bone in this spot are still in the place where the ball in the wound left them. The cerebellum was examined. The membrane was congested—substance normal. The chest was also examined. The lungs were rather strongly congested. The rest was healthy. About two ounces of serous matter were in the pericardium. The two ventricles were empty. The right auricle was full. In other respects the heart was healthy. The liver was congested. The veni cava was full. The bladder about half full. All the other organs were healthy.—Add.—At the internal angle of the right eye, which we examined minutely, we found an opening of circular form, about two lines in diameter.) I am of opinion that the cause of death is due to the wound in the brain, by the passage of the ball which we found therein.

F. E. ROY, M. D., Surgeon of the Marine Hospital, sworn.—I saw the deceased yesterday morning about half-past nine o'clock. I found him lying on the right side. I observed a small quantity of blood flowing from a wound at the internal angle of the right eye. The pillow was stained and impregnated with blood. The wound was about two lines in extent. The right eye-lid was swollen, infiltrated, and had a livid appearance. It could be moved with difficulty. The eye appeared injected. I observed much heat in the head; the skin very warm; the pulse compressible, full, irregular, and slow—about fifty-two to the minute. Breathing was slow, labored, and stertorous. The pupil was dilated, and not sensitive to the light. The patient was comatose, wholly insensible and manifesting all the symptoms of compression of the brain. Ice applied to the head and stimulating injections were prescribed. I saw him again about one p.m. Breathing was still more labored; the face livid. The right eyelids much more swollen than in the forenoon. The injection not having had effect; finding the bladder full, I introduced the catheter and drew off about a quart of urine. Are You in Agony?

A WELL-SPRING OF HOPE

FOR ALL

CAN BE FOUND IN

Holloway's Pills

BY THE USE OF

Holloway's Ointment.

The history of these great Remedies is the most wonderful medical revelation that the world has ever known. It establishes the all-important fact that WHEREVER, and in WHATEVER SHAPE internal disease exists, the distrusting, searching and healing properties of the Pills are fully equal to its subjection and cure, and that, with the Ointment, they are

The Great Ambassadors of Health to all Mankind

This is not a history written by one man, or even derived from the experience of one nation. It consists of a combination of testimonials from the sick of every country—an UNIMPEACHABLE record, the like of which has never been adduced in favor of any discovery or invention since time began.

These Mighty Healers, World Known and World Tried, are a Boon to the Sick.

The want of a sterling medicinal to meet the disorders and casualties of the suffering portion of humanity, and one entirely free from mineral and other deleterious particles, was severely felt till this all powerful medicine was ushered into the world; HOLLOWAY'S INVALUABLE PILLS have become the HOUSEHOLD REMEDY of all nations. Their attribute is to PREVENT as well as to CURE; they attack the RADIX OR ROOT of the complaint, and thus, by removing the hidden cause of disease, re-invigorate and restore the drooping energies of the system, assisting nature in her task of VITAL AND FUNCTIONARY REFORMATION.

Disorders of the Stomach

Are the sources of the deadliest maladies. Their effect is to vitiate all the fluids of the body, and to send a poisoned stream through all the channels of circulation. Now, what is the operation of the Pills? They cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver (rendering sound or irritated stomach into a natural condition, and, acting through the secretive organs, PURIFY THE BLOOD ITSELF, change the state of the system from sickness to health, by expending a stimulating and wholesome effect upon all its parts and functions.

Woman in all her Difficulties

Is invited to test the regulating and restorative powers of this harmless but effective preparation. At the two epochs of life in which the female system undergoes the most important and critical changes the Pills will prove a positive safeguard against evil consequences exclusively subject.

They are also confidently recommended as a specific in every disorder to which females are exclusively subject.

Be it Understood,

That the above statements can at all times be verified by the written testimony (extending through a quarter of a century) of tens of thousands of unimpeachable witnesses.

Bilious Maladies, &c., &c

In whatever form disease attacks the liver, it is repelled and exterminated by this searching, painless, and irresistible curative. Bilious remittents, bilious purging, and all the ordinary disorders of the organ, indicated by pain in the right side and between the shoulders, yellowness of the whites of the eyes, weakness and debility, &c. are relieved and removed by the remedy, with a celerity which astonishes the sufferers and their friends. Let the sick, whom the faculty have abandoned, resort with confidence to the powerful antibilious agent, and a restoration to health and activity will be an enjoying result.

Dyspepsia, Diarrhœa, Weakness, &c.

The terrible bodily and mental pangs which characterise Dyspepsia are at once mitigated by the Pills. Diarrhœa, constipation head and physical prostration, nervous tremors, not flushes, miasms, affections of the kidneys, hemorrhoids or piles, and, in fact, all internal complaints, from whatever cause arising, give way before the salutary influence or this extraordinary remedy. As a specific for dyspepsia, and the disorders connected with it, or growing out of it, the Pills are always to be relied on when every other medicine and mode of treatment has utterly failed.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

Asthma,	Headaches,
Bowel Complaints,	Indigestion,
Coughs,	Influenza,
Colds,	Inflammation,
Chest Diseases,	Inward Weakness,
Costiveness,	Liver Complaints,
Dyspepsia,	Lowness of Spirits

Caution!

If the reader or this "notice" cannot get a box or Pills or Ointment from the drug store in his place, let him write to me, enclosing the amount, and I will mail a box free of expense. Many dealers will not keep my medicines on hand because they cannot make as much profit as on other persons' make.

None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discerned in the Water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and the civilized world, in boxes, at 25 cents, 63 cents and $1.40 each.

WEIGH FACTS.

DOCTOR RADWAY invites the attention of the intelligent reader to the facts here presented, showing the superiority of his PILLS as purgatives, over all other pills or purgative remedies in use.

THEIR GREAT COMBINATIONS

They are Aperient, Tonic, Laxative, Alterative, Stimulant, Counter Irritant, Sudorific.

AS EVACUANTS,

There are more certain and effectual than Seidlitz Powders, Pills of Aloes, or Croton and Harrowgate Pills, or elaborate and more soothing and healing than Senna, or Rhubarb or Tamarinds, or Castor Oil.

AS ALTERATIVES,

They exercise a more powerful influence over the liver and the secretions than calomel, mercury, blue pill, hepatic preparations in cases of Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Bilious Headache, &c. In the treatment of Fevers, either Bilious, Yellow, Typhoid, and other prevailing Fevers, they are superior to quinine. Their influence extends over the entire system, controlling, strengthening, and bracing up the relaxed and wasting energies, and regulating the secretions to their natural performance of duty, cleansing and purifying the blood, and purging from the system all diseased deposits and impure humors.

THE CAUSE OF PILES.

A large dose of the Drastic Pills will, by irritating the mucous membrane, produce a violent expulsion of the contents in the bowels, but in only the severest cases are suspended. In such cases, the stools will be found to be light-colored and watery, and attended with cramps griping pains, nausea, sickness. By the increased and natural action of the bowels, the secretions of the kidneys and pancreas are diminished, followed by affections of the kidneys, bladder, urethra, piles, tenesmus, general prostration, costiveness, and indigestion.

Why Radway's Pills Cure Small Pox

In Small Pox, Scarlet Fever, Erysipelas, Yellow Fever, and other exhausting fevers, purgation is highly essential. But to administer a dose of Drastic Pills, or irritation they would produce and the relaxation or depletion that would follow, would be likely to prove fatal. No physician in these cases would give RADWAY'S PILLS, they would always cure their patients in these diseases a mild soothing healing and gentle stimulating nature is required, which is secured by RADWAY'S PILLS.

Why Imperfect Pills Gripe.

The cause of griping, nausea, sickness, nauseous and deleterious matter is supplied by a deficiency of bile, in giving to their imperfect operation. If with the faeces, is diseased humors, left circulating in the system, were expelled by these pills, there would be but little pain or griping. It is the absence of the one and other humor which the imperfect pills fail to purge out of the system that occasions the pain. By examining the stools evacuated after severe griping they will be found thin and watery.

THE TRUE PILLS TO TAKE.

The only safe pills to take are Dr. Radway's, because they are the only pills that secure purgation without debility, and expel diseased humors from the system.

CASE OF DYSPEPSIA CURED.

For many years I have been afflicted with one of a most complicated, called Dyspepsia—my sufferings have been a constant succession of horrors. I have spent thousands of dollars with the hope of realizing a little comfort or tranquility. All medicines failed to relieve me, until I commenced to act upon the judicious advice you gave me on the 6th of April, 1858. And now, after using your Pills 7 feet like a new man. God bless you, and may this letter induce other suffering victims to the only ready, to try the same means.

Yours formerly,
W. CARPENTER.

Letter from Dr. Salmon Skinner.

New York, January, 1860.

Dr Radway & Co.:

I have, during the past four years, used your remedies, and have recommended them to others for Blood Complaints, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, but consider the Radway Ready Relief and Regulating Pills unequaled. The Regulating Pills are mild in their operations and thoroughly effective.

The first time should be large enough to purge, as four or five, and each successive dose be diminished in size, until reduced to one, and then repeated every day for a week or ten days. A permanent cure will surely follow.

Yours, &c.,
DR. S. SKINNER.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

By Royal Letters Patent, under the special sanction of Her Majesty's Government, and the Chiefs of the Faculté de France.

THERAPION:—or CURE OF CURES.

This successful and highly popular medicament as employed in the continental hospitals by Rostan Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed. Devoid of all taste, odour, and appearance of medicine, it can be left unperused anywhere and taken from time to time without exciting suspicion. Each package contains full instructions for every case.

THERAPION, No. 1, in three days only—removes gonorrhœa, gleet, and all discharges, effectually supersending injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this class it will be found astonishingly effectual, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION, No. 2, for syphilis, disease of the throat, nose, throat, threatened destruction of the nose and palate; impurity of blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth; and ruin of health. Under this medicine every vestige of disease rapidly disappears; and the skin assumes the pleasing softness of infancy.

THERAPION, No. 3, for relaxation, spermatorrhœa, and all the distressing consequences arising from early abuse, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated. To those who are prevented entering the marriage state by the consequences of early error, it will render essential aid by subduing all disqualifications; and restoring the lost tone to the system. Therapion may be procured at 11s. and 22s per package, through all medicine vendors, or in 55 packages for foreign shipment, direct from London only, by which 41 12s are saved; and 33 packages for the more inveterate cases, by which a still greater saving is effected. In ordering the above, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires.

HER MAJESTY'S HON. COMMISSIONERS have graciously permitted the government stamp bearing the word "Therapion" in white letters to be attached to each packet, thus insuring the public against fraudulent imitations, and securing to the proprietor the sole right of supply throughout her dominions; and any infringement of which they will prosecute with the utmost severity.

Thomas & Co., and a large package will be sent by return mail carefully secured from observation or accident.

PREMATURE DECAY OF THE SYSTEM and its perfect restoration, whether arising from youthful indiscretion or the excesses of adult life, infection, climate, &c. Observations on marriage, the prevention and removal of certain disqualifications Rules and numerous prescriptions for self-treatment. Sufferers who are prevented from matrimony by the consequences of improvidence, should read this work, as pointing out the sure way to restoration of health. The Cause & Cure of Premature Decline.

Sold by all the Agents for Dr. De Roos' Medicines, or sent post free, secure from observation, direct from the Author for 2s. 6d.

THE MEDICAL ADVISER, on the modern treatment of mental and physical incapacity, syphilis, stricture, &c., with unfailing rules and prescriptions for the speedy cure, by very simple means, of all the more common diseases and supposed incurable maladies of the sexual system. By Dr. W. De Roos, M. D., &c., of the Ecole de Medecine Paris. Graduate in Medicine, Surgery and Midwifery. Licentiate of the Royal Society of Apothecaries, &c.

Reviews and Notices.

"To be your own counsel or your own doctor, entails risks that have become proverbial to a degree that prevents much good resolution from taking any benefit or advantage when reasonably offered. Suspicion begets irresolution, and where there is no confidence good results seldom follow. Medical books are a desert for the family alone, and the public act wisely in refraining from their study. Drink deep or taste not the Pierian spring,' is good advice where the uninformed, listening to its own apprehensions, is oftener ready to imagine than use its cool judgment. There is one class of medical lore, however that stands in a position somewhat exceptional to our observation, and which treats on disorders and irregularities in which morality is effected. For this reason the patient to them suffers in secret, or pursues in ignorance, practices that daily bring him into a more hopeless condition for want of friendly advice. To such we recommend a perusal of the 'Medical Adviser' of Dr. De Roos, M.D., of London, an established Physician, graduate and licentiate of all the regular institutions of London and Paris, and who has made nervous disorders and their baneful origin his particular study. Assisted by such a practice in this branch of therapeutics, he qualifies him to be a safe and competent adviser."—County Chronicle May 7th, 1861.

"The MEDICAL ADVISER, by WALTER DE ROOS, M.D., for the class of diseases upon which it treats, is undoubtedly the best and most sound, practical book which has come under our notice. The author is a man of most enlarged experience."—Derby Telegraph, June 29th, 1861.

"To those who contemplate marriage its perusal is especially recommended."—Bell Mag. "The knowledge it imparts must come some time, and happy they who do not possess it too late."—Politician. "Cure is certain in every curable case, and few indeed are they which are not so."—Review. "It is calculated to effect a complete solution in the treatment of these complaints."—Med. Gaz. "Simple and inexpensive, every sufferer may cure himself speedily, privately, and at the least possible cost."—Scalpel.

From the practical observation of the treatment pursued in the most famous institutions of this country and the continent, for those diseases referred to in the above work, the Proprietor has had somewhat unusual facilities for acquiring that uniform success which has hitherto characterised his practice, in which the distressing consequences resulting from the injurious employment of mercury, capsivi, sarsaparilla, and similar dangerous medicines, are entirely obviated. Lasting benefit in these cases can only be reasonably expected at the hands of those who devote their chief attention to such diseases; and to such only can confidence be safely extended. Dr. De Roos refers with pride to the numbers he has been instrumental in restoring to health and happiness; whilst to all who need such aid he offers every assurance of speedy restoration.

FOREIGN RESIDENTS can be successfully treated by correspondence, on sending the detail of their case with a Bank note or Bill on a London house for £5 or £10, in order that a proportionate fee, to meet the exigencies of the case, may be sent out by next mail, thus avoiding the protracted suffering and unnecessary loss of valuable time, which must otherwise occur.

As these complaints, if neglected, become "chronic" or incurable, sufferers will do well before they waste valuable time in seeking aid from unfortunate and other absurdities professing to supersede medicine, to make fair trial of a remedy, which connected on authority, scientific principles, cannot fail, and may be carried about the person, or left upon the toilet table without exciting a suspicion of its nature. Price 11s. and four times the quantity at 33s., per bottle. The 45 packages containing twelve, its quantities, affording which a saving of £1 12s is effected, will be sent from 65, Hatton Place, only, on receipt of the amount per draft on a London house or otherwise.

Extracts from letters which can be seen by any one:—"I am happy to say that I am now quite well, thanks to you and your medicine of medicines."—D. P. St. Asaph. "I am happy to say that I shall not require more, thank God, and hope He will reward you for what you have done for me."—A. C. Hartlepool. "I say tongue could speak, or my pen could write to express my gratitude to you. I should feel happy but neither tongue nor pen of mine can do so."—E. A. Birmingham. "Without you I should have been in my grave, but now I am a happy man again."—F. F., Inverness. "I can never thank you sufficiently. I had I never read of the Gutta Vita, where or what I might have been now, I cannot tell."—W. G., West Petton.

PAINS IN THE BACK, GRAVEL, LUMBAGO, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS, BLADDER, &c. DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS are a most safe and speedy Remedy for the above dangerous complaints. Discharges and Diseases of the Urinary Organs generally, which too frequently harass the sufferer over the best years of life, and only in an agonizing death. They agree with the most delicate stomach and in three days effect a cure when capivi cubebs, &c., have utterly failed. In 20s. 4s 6d., 11s. and 22s. per box. The superiority of these celebrated medicines over everything of the kind is universally acknowledged, and the extraordinary demand for them without precedent.

Many there are, who from natural diffidence, or fear of discovery, would silently bear their affliction, rather than apply for aid to those from whom they may reasonably expect relief. With the above remedy the sufferer may, without the knowledge of a second person, cure himself speedily, privately, and at the least possible expense.

"I have taken your Pills and always derive great benefit from them."—W. W. H., Queen's College, Cambridge. "I have taken your Pills with the most happy result."—B. H., Cork. "Your Pills do me great good. I feel better this last twelve months than for years before."—F. G. Wareham, Ashford. "Your Pills did me more good than anything I have taken."—J. J. Dursley. "I have tried your Pills, and derived the greatest benefit therefrom."—V. G., Navy Hotel, St. Heller's.

CAUTION.—Sufferers should guard against the recommendation of useless imitations by unprincipled venders, who thereby obtain a larger profit. WISTAR'S BALSAM

—OF—

WILD CHERRY

HAS BEEN USED FOR HALF A CENTURY.

HALF A CENTURY.

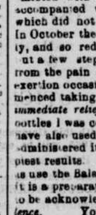
With the most astonishing success in curing

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of

The Throat, Lungs and Chest,

INCLUDING OVER

CONSUMPTION.



There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slight, developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and more to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of the "medical gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its curative tendency, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

Seasonable Festivities.

Whether attending, in solemn duty, to religious service, at the lecture, the concert, or at any social gathering, we find at this period that coughs and colds are very prevalent, unpleasant alike to those who suffer as well as to those who have aural demonstration of the fact. Many an impressive discourse, many a choice selection of music, has been marred by a din of coughing that seems at times contagious. To remedy this our readers should use and recommend Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, one of the best medicines in the world for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all throat and chest affections.—Montreal Transcript.

A Cure for Whooping Cough.

ST HYACINTHE C. E., Aug. 21, 1856.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & Co.

Gentlemen.—Several months since a little daughter of mine (ten years of age, was taken with Whooping Cough in a very aggravated form, and nothing we could do for her seemed in any way to relieve her suffering. We at length decided to try a bottle of your Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. In three hours after she had commenced using it, she was greatly relieved, and in less than three days was entirely cured and is now well. I have since recommended the Balsam to many of my neighbours, who have used it, and in no case have I known it fail of effecting a speedy cure.

You are at liberty to make any use of the above you think proper (if it shall induce any body to use your Balsam I shall be glad) or I have great confidence in it

Yours, P. GUITTE
Proprietor of the Courrier de St. Hyacinthe.

Certificate from L. J. Racine, Esq., of the Minerve.

MONTREAL, L. C. Oct. 20, 1858

S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston,—

Gentlemen:—Having experienced the most gratifying results from the use of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry am induced to express the great confidence which I have in its efficacy. For nine months I was most cruelly afflicted with a severe and obstinate cough accompanied with acute pain in the side which did not leave me, summer or winter. In October the symptoms increased alarmingly, and so reduced was I that I could walk but a few steps without resting to recover from the pain and fatigue which so slight an exertion occasioned. At this juncture I commenced taking the Balsam, from which I found immediate relief, and after having used four bottles I was completely restored to health. I have also used the Balsam in my family, and continued it to my children with the happiest results. I am sure that such Canadians as use the Balsam can but speak in its favor. It is a preparation which has only to be tried to be acknowledged as the remedy par excellence. Your obedient servant,

L. J. RACINE.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry

This sterling remedy appears to be working wonders. We have so long heard of its superior merit in diseases of the Throat and Lungs, that we doubt not the claim of being "the Great remedy." Many of our most respected citizens who appreciate its uncommon worth from personal use, have attested to the fact by their written testimonials. These are strong recommendations, and should certainly prompt all who suffer from pulmonary complaints in its various forms, to give it a trial.—Ottawa Citizen.

INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, LIVER COMPAINTS, PILES, WORMS, and all derangements of stomach or bowels.

The above preparations, of such unbounded reputation in New England, have the confidence of, and are used by, great numbers of Physicians, and at prices within reach of all are worthy the attention of invalids, who will find them a strict conformity to nature in medicine.

Without resorting to the common method of columns of advertising, I would ask confidence to test them, which will be sacred.
