His Excellency Mgr. Langlois Officiates at Opening of Extension to St. Joseph's

Impressive Ceremony Carried Out at New School on Sunday Afternoon

There was quite a large attendance at the official opening and blessing of the extension of St. Joseph's School, Huntingdon, on Sunday afternoon. The extension has been completed for several months and has been occupied during this time due to pressure on the available accommodation. While waiting for His Excellency Mgr. Langlois, the gathering was entertained by the Huntingdon Citizens' Band playing several appropriate numbers. The recreation room and classrooms were beautifully decorated with flowers donated by Mayor Leo Cappiello. His Excellency Mgr. Langlois arrived at the school at 2:30 p.m., accompanied by priests from many other parishes. He proceeded to carry out the ceremony of blessing the school and the classrooms. St. Joseph's Choir sang a few religious songs, followed by the Magnificat, the gathering then adjourned to the Parochial Hall for a further part of the program. Miss A. M. Billette accompanied on the piano while the gathering

No Coronation Celebration Arranged For Huntingdon

Huntingdon Legion Finds Lack of Co-operation For Plans

As far as a suitable celebration of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II is concerned in Huntingdon, on June 2nd, to date there is no likelihood of one. While towns both large and small all across this country have planned celebrations in keeping with this great historical event, lack of co-operation here seems to have prevented plans from being carried out. The Huntingdon Branch of the Canadian Legion had in mind a celebration of some kind which would take in a parade and floats and possibly evening entertainment to round out the day. The officials contacted the Board of Trade and the various mills in town, but there was no co-operation. The mills have decided to work on this nationally proclaimed holiday and for which the Town Council has issued a proclamation for the day to be observed as a holiday. This fact alone has made any celebration impossible as a number of Legion members are employed at the mills and also a great number of other citizens. The spirit of patriotism seems to be lacking, complains Legion members and though votes were taken in some of the mills, the decision

Elizabeth II Seventh Queen in English History

Elizabeth II comes to the throne every inch a Queen. From childhood she has been brought up according to the strict tenets of British Royalty. Ever since her father came to the throne it was evident that one day she would be Queen. She has been drilled and schooled for the task. Britain, for some deep psychological reason, has reached its peaks of greatness under women monarchs. The first Elizabeth's reign produced Shakespeare, Sir Francis Drake, great poets, statesmen and soldiers. Under Victoria the most powerful empire in world history grew up. Britain, watching Elizabeth assume more and more responsibilities during her father's illness, had no doubt she had inherited his great sense of duty. Elizabeth is acutely conscious of her Royal heritage, even to the extent of a touch of imperiousness in her character. Since her children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, were born, however, she has shown more and more how human she is behind the facade of Royalty. Only her official duties have prevented her from spending more time with them. The vast obligations of Royalty have compelled her

St. John Ambulance Course in Ormstown Sponsored by W.I.

On Tuesday evening, May 19, in the board room of the Barrie Memorial Hospital, the final examination took place. The class was conducted by Dr. Merrill Stalker and Miss Mary Bryson, R.N., assisted by Dr. Brown and Dr. Sutherland, and Miss Ascal. Dr. J. A. Davidson was the examiner. Previous to the serving of bountiful refreshments and the social hour, Mrs. Frank Martin, President of the Ormstown W.I., congratulated the members of the class on their having participated in this most beneficial course. She drew attention to the motto of the W.I.—For Home and Country—and pointed out how suitably that coincided with the work of the St. John Ambulance students. After congratulating the directors of the course for their untiring efforts on behalf of the 35 students and members of the Ormstown W.I., Mrs. Martin also expressed a note of thanks to the members of the Board of Governors for the use of the Board Room, Dr. Davidson and Dr. Merrill Stalker replied, and urged the students to continue in this work and to make good use of the knowledge gained.

Cat Joins Sparrow Against Reds

NATURAL ENEMIES—if you go by names—have united against the Communists in Korea. Pictured in a life buoy is Scruppy, meowing mascot of H.M.S. Sparrow, British frigate. A proven sailor and very popular with his shipmates, Scruppy came through patrols in winter's icy winds and rough seas like an old hand. A British fleet joined the U. S. Navy in the very first days of the Korean conflict and British ships have been there ever since.

Letter to the Editor

Athelstan, Que. May 25, 1953

Sirs,

In common with all right thinking citizens of Huntingdon and neighboring communities this writer was shocked and disgusted to learn that three business places in town had been granted the liquor license. In these days when the Government is clamping down on drunken drivers, when so many dreadful things are happening because people are under the influence of drink one wonders just why it is made easier for people to obtain the foul stuff. Certainly the Government derives a big revenue from the liquor trade, but when said revenue is used to keep up hospitals, asylums and jails to look after the victims of the liquor business, where is the profit. Not to mention broken homes and tortured souls. How anyone who manufactures, advertises or sells liquor can ever have a moment's peace of conscience is a mystery. It was interesting to read the report of Rev. Knowles' address to the W.C.T.U. Convention. The editorial in last week's Gleaner, "We Agree With Cardinal Leger" also made good reading but one wonders just how inconsistent people can be. One judges from the editorial that the Gleaner is against liquor and yet in the same issue are advertisements for liquor. It is hard for young people to take a stand on this question, when they see so many so called "respectable" people indulging in the drink habit. Now that the liquor can be ordered with the family groceries, doubtless many home freezers will be well supplied and right handy for young folks. What will be the result? Wake up parents before it is too late.

Operation Initial

There are so many groups today that are known only by the initials of their title that it is quite easy to become confused, but there is one set of letters that should always be remembered since it is concerned with the health of all peoples of the earth—including ourselves. This is WHO—standing for World Health Organization—an organization with more than 80 member nations which is striving to wipe out killer diseases that take thousands of lives annually in various parts of the world. Although we in Canada are no longer victims of bubonic plague, typhus, smallpox or cholera, people in other countries are. Now that we are just over the horizon by air from many of these lands, we are only hours away from epidemics. Of course, we have our quarantine service to protect us but we will be much safer when our neighbors a few hours away are also safe. By sending help to lands stricken by epidemic diseases, WHO is working towards that end.

Anglican Vicar in Devon Draws Up Set Of 10 'Commandments' For Parishioners

ELLACOMBE, England—Rev. Ernest Robinson, Anglican vicar of this tiny Devon town, has drawn up a set of 10 "commandments" for his parishioners.

The rules, printed in his parish magazine, include:

"Thou shalt follow the sidesmen on to the seat pointed out to thee, and go on to the farthest end thereof, not making thyself a seat-hog or endangering the corns of thy feet by having latecomers squeeze by thee.

"Thou shalt harken diligently unto the words of thy minister and not divert thy attention by planning thy dinner, devising a way which thou mayest swat thy business rival, and especially not distort thy countenance and give forth sonorous sounds by falling into a deep sleep.

"Thou shalt not nervously stare at your wrist watch during the service, giving the impression that thy mind is upon thy dinner, early afternoon golf or cinema or the charabanc (bus) trip into the country.

"Thou shalt not interrupt the benediction by putting on thy gloves and coat before the close of the service that thou mayest be able to make a quick getaway before the vicar hath any time to speak to thee."

Our Queen's Coronation

THIS issue of The Huntingdon Gleaner is dedicated to the coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, which will take place on Tuesday, June 2nd, less than one week away. On that day throughout the British Commonwealth of nations there will be much celebration while the big event takes place in London, England. The crowning of a Royal Sovereign only takes place at long intervals, in the ordinary course of events, usually following the death of the previously reigning monarch. It is just over 52 years since Queen Victoria died and there have been six sovereigns — Victoria, Her son Edward VII, his son George V, his son Edward VIII, his brother George VI, his daughter Elizabeth. Queen Elizabeth II is the seventh reigning Queen in the long British history.

Even though Queen Elizabeth will only be officially crowned on June 2nd, it might be said she has been performing the duties of a reigning monarch for several years. Due to her father's, His Late Majesty King George VI, illness, she was called upon to officiate in his stead on many occasions. Her recent trip to Canada might almost be said to be one of these duties, even though she was then a Princess. She had left her father only when he was sufficiently recovered and the trip had been postponed on account of his illness. This was because she had to take over his duties while he was ill.

The whole of the British Commonwealth of Nations is looking forward to an era of greater achievement and perhaps prosperity, during the reign of this second Queen Elizabeth. It seems that during the reigns of Queens there has always been a period of greater achievement as history will reveal. The first Queen Elizabeth was responsible for the era in which she reigned being known in history as the Elizabethan Era. It brought forth many famous men among whom were: Sir Francis Drake and Sir Walter Raleigh. Victoria was noted for the length of her reign and the many accomplishments during that time. With Elizabeth II, what can we look for? She is young and may reign for many years like Victoria, like her father she has a homely atmosphere that makes her dear to the common people.

The event of Queen Elizabeth's coronation will be one in which everyone will be interested and the future that follows will be closely watched. We hope it will bring peace to the world and better world relations — Long Live The Queen.

Ormstown Exhibition Next Week

ONCE winter fades out and spring rolls around, it is not long before that great show Ormstown Exhibition is a must on the list of attractions. So it is that on Wednesday evening, June 3rd, the opening night of this exhibition will take place at Ormstown.

According to Secretary-Manager Carlyle Dickson, entries in all departments are larger than previous years. There is an excellent entry in all classes of the Horse Show and this is a stellar attraction of the exhibition.

We were pleased to learn that more work had been done on the parking lot on the grounds and we feel sure this improvement will add much to the facilities available for the larger number of cars brought into the grounds each year. Good and ample parking space means much to any Fair. Each year the improvements made about the grounds and buildings means greater comfort for patrons and exhibitors.

Apparently the wet weather of the past weeks has not dampened the ardour of the exhibitors and it is hoped that fine weather will prevail for the period before and during the exhibition. This will not only assist farmers in their belated seeding operations, but assure a good attendance at the exhibition. Attendance is what counts in the success of the exhibition and to help this several new attractions have been added this year. For the most part, the important features of the exhibition can be seen under cover and this means much to patrons in case of inclement weather.

Next week Ormstown will be invaded from all directions and the citizens will welcome the invasion, for all will be visitors or exhibitors at the annual Fair. The village will take on a very busy aspect for the four days of the exhibition and everyone will do his best to make it a pleasant time for all. The officials of the show have prepared an excellent menu of attractions at the Fair itself and there is no reason for anyone to be disappointed. Plan now to attend at least one day and if possible be there on all four.

The Band - An Excellent Gesture

THE Huntingdon Citizens' Band had a very busy afternoon on Sunday, first they played at the opening of St. Joseph's School and then proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Goodfellow, Atholston Road.

Mrs. Goodfellow, (Sadie) has been on the sick list for some months and is confined more or less to her home. She had never heard the band play. Don Moore, bandmaster, decided to take his band to her residence and here they set up on the lawn and played five selections especially for Sadie. She thoroughly enjoyed the concert and no doubt it did much to cheer her up. The part that struck us was the thought behind this gesture, it is truly a citizens' band when the players will give their time in an effort to provide a person with a chance to hear the band as other people do and take it right to their home. Those who know Sadie also know that she enjoys music and loves fun, she is cheerful at all times. Therefore one can imagine what she felt when the band through this gesture brought her the benefit of hearing them play. Not being able to visit around as she would like to, she has the same opportunity to hear the players.

Yes, it is truly a nice gesture and all the players are to be congratulated together with their bandmaster for their thoughtfulness and kindness to one who is in need of such.

It is with deep regret that we have to announce that since the above was written Mrs. E. B. Goodfellow (Sadie) has passed away. She died early Tuesday morning after a lengthy illness.

Conference of National Heads

IT has been announced that there will be a conference of the National Heads of Great Britain, France and the U.S.A. in Bermuda in June. The idea behind the move is to seek a means to ending the troubles that are besetting the world and if possible to find a way of meeting with Russia. The world is weary of hearing of the possible truce in Korea. New hope is developed and quickly dashed to ground when talks are resumed. New areas are being forced to defend themselves against aggression and peace seems ever further away.

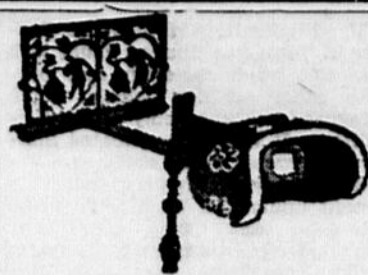

Sir Winston Churchill is the prime mover for the conference and although President Eisenhower has agreed, there are those in the U.S. who are not in favour. Sir Winston would also like to meet the Russians and try by conference to iron out the matters affecting the peace of the world.

Soviet Russia does not apparently approve of the Bermuda meeting, seeming to believe that Russia should be invited to this as one of the powers. It seems to us however, that Sir Winston wants this meeting among the western powers first in order to discuss a possible approach to Russia to get the Korean truce settled and also a treaty for Austria. This would be in line with Eisenhower's policy and with which to certain extent the Russians are in agreement. Naturally then, these officials would not want Russia in at this time. Russia warns that such a meeting may bring repercussions and not turn out the way that may be expected.

Nevertheless, we believe that more perhaps can come of frank discussion at this time than perhaps by other means. Actually whether such discussion can secure a peace, we are not prepared to say. At least under present circumstances there is need to clear the air for all concerned, Great Britain, France and the U.S. It would seem that President Eisenhower is apt to be quite blunt in what he says and this does not always do in diplomatic circles. The conference at Bermuda may change his Driving along the road between the Hotel and Mr. Moriarty's, he met John Furey driving a single rig. Furey, seeing that the man could not control his horses, drove as closely to the sidewalk as he could as to give him all the room possible for passing, but Myre being so close that his wagon locked wheels with Furey's, breaking the front wheel of Mr. Furey's carriage which was a new one. Furey demanded that Myre pay for the damage, but Myre refused. Furey pulled him out of the buggy and in the struggle Myre's jaw was cut open. Myre was taken to Dr. Fulton's, who found that the lower jaw was split from side to side and several teeth knocked out. The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA, (CP) — Parliament Hill's political pot has been pushed to the back of the stove to simmer quietly while the capital lapses into its post-session slump.
Prime Minister St. Laurent left for England and the Coronation to be held June 2. Opposition leader George Drew, Progressive Conservative party chief, left earlier as a member of the official coronation delegation.
A series of cabinet decisions were announced just before Prime Minister St. Laurent departed, and the top news was appointment of four new members of the Senate, filling a small part of the record total of 23 vacancies in the upper house.
Mr. St. Laurent declined comment on anything of a political nature as he boarded his train with Mrs. St. Laurent and their daughter, Mrs. Frank Lafferty of Montreal.
Questioned by reporters about possible cabinet shifts, he indicated that anything of that nature must await his return from overseas. He said nothing of a possible election date but observers held to their opinion it will be in August, with the date announced by the Prime Minister on his return in mid-June after a nine-day Common Wealth Prime Minister's conference following the coronation.
New Senators
Of the four new Senators, two are women. Mrs. Marianna Beauchamp Jodoin, 71, of Montreal and Mrs. Muriel McQueen Ferguson, 54 of Fredericton, both widows, will occupy Quebec and New Brunswick vacancies in the Senate.
Premier Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island, 75, and Allan L. Woodrow, 67, Toronto business consultant and retired banker, were named to occupy P.E.I. and Ontario vacancies, respectively. At Charlottetown, Health Minister Alex Matheson succeeds Premier Jones.
Mr. Woodrow has been honorary treasurer of the National Liberal Federation since 1947 and was its acting president for a period following the death of Senator J. Gordon Fogo.
Mrs. Jodoin is Quebec president of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada and has been prominent in charitable and religious activities in Montreal. Mrs. Ferguson is a lawyer and former enforcement counsel for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, has been regional welfare administrator at the federal health department at Fredericton.
Mrs. Ferguson will hold 75 seats in the 102-member Senate at the next parliament unless the prime minister makes further appointments. The Progressive Conservatives are represented by eight Senators.
Trade Talks
While Mr. St. Laurent said he considered the Coronation the prime object of his trip, he will also be busy at the conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers from June 2-9.
He said he was taking no specific proposals to the conference, but that Canada can help in expanding world trade. The world situation would be reviewed, he said, "with no doubt some special questions of concern to the Commonwealth."
There would be a general review of trade developments since "and to some extent because of the last previous meeting of Commonwealth leaders."
With the announcement following his departure that Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, President Eisenhower of the United States and France's premier will meet in Bermuda following the conference, it was also seen likely that Mr. St. Laurent will present Canada's views on relations among the western powers.
Grain Forecasts
Government experts took a look at seeding conditions across the grainlands of the west. From what they found, it looked as if prairie farmers are gunning for another bumper wheat crop this year to match last year's record 688,000,000-bushel wheat output.

The Bureau of Statistics reported farmers are planning to sow 25,891,400 acres to wheat, just a shade under last year's 25,985,000 acres. But rain and snow set them back in their seeding. Up until April 30, they had planted only a small fraction of total planned acreage.

Manitoba had only 21 per cent of its total intended acreage sown, compared with 68 per cent last year. Saskatchewan reported only four per cent and Alberta less than one per cent—well behind last year's timetable.

Officials here indicated the market looks good for all grains with the possible exception of oats. The Bureau estimated that the acreage in oats this year will be down slightly from last year, but that there will be increases in both barley and rye.

Canada's livestock industry, just recovering from the effects of last year's foot-and-mouth disease in cattle, got another headache last week. A fast-spreading outbreak of hog cholera hit southwestern Ontario and the Federal agriculture department promptly slapped a quarantine over the whole area—banning movement of all hogs from the district in an attempt to prevent the cholera from spreading.

The quarantine covered 29 southwestern Ontario counties and the district of Muskoka, fencing in some 1,500,000 hogs—more than one-quarter of all the hogs in Canada.

A federal veterinarian said the cholera outbreak is "the most widespread the province has ever experienced." At that time, teams of veterinarians had slaughtered hogs in nine infected farms in seven counties. Farmers were being paid compensation and were to report all hog sickness in order to help eradicate the disease.

The infection was traced back to community sales barns, and these were closed to be whitewashed and disinfected.
Some economic dislocation in the hog industry was expected. But officials emphasized there are a lot of slaughter houses in the quarantine area. Hogs could be taken to these for slaughter, and the dressed and cured meat of healthy animals could be sold in the normal way.

He's changing the nation's landscape

You may see the result of what he is doing in the city's changing skyline — or in the new look of Main Street in a mellow old town.

Where many a vacant lot once stood, he helps fill it with a fine new school. Where you used to see a building that was an eyesore you may now see a new apartment house, store or post office that he played a role in providing.

Thanks in part to him, many houses rise here and there, or row on row, in community after community. New black ribbons of asphalt tie town to town. Somewhere, a new bridge is built. New industrial plants, too, are sometimes the by-products of his helping hand. Perhaps one of them has provided you with a job. Who is he?

He represents all the millions of life insurance policyholders in Canada. And it's money from their premiums, which life insurance companies invest for them, that makes possible such improvements as these throughout the nation.

THE TRAVEL TREND this summer will be Coronation-wards for many. This housewife may not be one of those to see London's dramatic celebrations, but she's about to follow the trend in home decoration by giving her walls the dramatic interest of new deep tones — Royal Red, Windsor Blue or any other of the nine special "Coronation Colours" now obtainable in C-I-L's washable, rubber-base paint, "Speed-Easy Satin".

"FIRST AID FOR APPLES" or "a tonic for tomatoes" could describe the work carried out in C-I-L's new soil-testing laboratory at Montreal as a free service to farmers. For sick plants and poor yields are usually the result of a deficiency of one or more essential plant foods in the soil. Chief soil chemist, Jean Leclerc, points out that soils can vary greatly even in one locality, says Chambly County, Quebec has some 30 types.

What's Your Hurry?

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Watching day by day the maple leaves unfolding from the buds, it is not long before that great show Ormstown Exhibition is a must on the list of attractions. So it is that on Wednesday evening, June 3rd, the opening night of this exhibition will take place at Ormstown.

What's Your Hurry? The Communist Party has achieved domination in Russia by revolution — a sudden and violent change of government. The success of that coup led them to believe they could extend their dominion and hasten the Marxian millennium by the prescribed "World Revolution." Stalin's method was one of guile and intimidation, backed by massive military might ready to strike at a suitable moment. But he was afraid of the atomic bomb, and he died of hypertension waiting for the suitable moment. With Stalin good and dead, the new Soviet government is to have been relieved of their tension, for the time being. It is to be hoped that they will enjoy a long period of relaxation and reflection, in which they might listen and hear the still, small voice of Nature saying, "What's your hurry?" We can all listen and learn from the slow processes of Nature in the recreation of life and beauty that is going on around us at this spring-time. Revolutionists never created anything but enmity, hatred and chaos.

Valleyfield
VALLEYFIELD — Mr. George "Pappy" Smith, manager of the Valleyfield Chiefs was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Chateau Salsberry, Tuesday, May 19th, under the presidency of Mr. Maurice Peron.
Mr. Smith, who has held this new position in Valleyfield for some weeks introduced his players to the Rotarians and their guests. He stated that Valleyfield had a right to be proud of the team presently representing our city in this baseball circuit.
The fact that there are only three Americans on our team this season proves that this sport has many capable Canadian players.
The speaker was introduced by Mr. Romuald Theoret and thanked by Mr. Eimmons McDonald.
Five young ladies who are candidates for the Queen of the 1953 Regatta being held in July were presented at this meeting namely: Miss Lauranne Landry, Miss Denise Laniel, Miss Irene Lamothe, Miss Lise Blais, Miss José Wallot. Among the invited guests were Mr. Francis Proulx, Mr. Medard LeDuc, Mr. J. A. Dolbe, Mr. J. Root and others.

Too Much Control Ends Freedom Duplessis Reply to Firemen's Plea

QUEBEC — (CP) — Premier Duplessis said on Thursday, too much government control eventually could lead to the elimination of freedom.

"I don't know whether the suggestion for the pension fund should be followed up. It is not a good principle for the Government to control too many things, because it could eventually lead to loss of freedom and I am in favor of complete freedom."

Mr. Duplessis said that the Provincial Insurance Bureau could look into the whole question and propose some solution which would safeguard the autonomy of municipalities. It was a complicated matter that would need study.

TEPA has been used so far upon 17 humans with melanomas, Dr. Farber said. It temporarily knocked out the cancers in five. The other 12 were persons in whom the cancers already had spread to internal organs.

Giving Child A Chance

Of all child deaths between the ages of one and nine years, more than 40 per cent are caused by accidents. Many of these accidents injure or kill children in or around the home. Burns, scalds, poisoning or falls may occur unless great care is taken to remedy dangerous situations. Electrical equipment, the contents of the medicine cabinet, knives, matches or boiling water, all have their attractions for small hands; upper windows or balcony rails have their fascinations. Only by keeping dangerous articles out of reach of youngsters and unsafe places blocked against small climbers, can little children be protected against their own natural curiosity.

Sub Will Cruise Under Arctic Ice

The time is approaching when it probably will be possible for a submarine to cruise under Arctic ice across the top of the world from Alaska to Russia. This suggests an adventure worthy of Jules Verne. It is for such a submarine would have to have an automatic engine, enabling it to remain submerged for many days. It would be a weird, fascinating, romantic journey. Unfortunately there seems to be no reason to make such a trip except for war. The United States is now building an atomic submarine, and a report has just reached Washington on the USS Redfish, which has cruised farther under the Arctic ice than man ever has before.

Miss Florence Reynolds, Information and Educational Officer of the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), Washington, speaker at the opening day luncheon of the National Farm Radio Forum Conference being held at the General Brock Hotel, Niagara Falls, May 21-22, 1953.

It was her opinion National Farm Radio Forum had contributed a great deal toward making Canadian farmers so well informed. She felt that this section of the public were now in a good position to assist in solving the world's greatest single problem. The problem is food surpluses in the Western world while hunger and starvation still exist elsewhere.

"This is the month of two great Agricultural anniversaries," stated Miss Reynolds. "Twenty years ago the idea of FAO was born in the mind of Sir John Boyd-Orr. He and several leading nutritionists pledged themselves to the task of attempting to bring the governments of the world together in an effort to find a plan which would take surplus foods into those sections of the world where they were so badly needed. Ten years ago this month, at Hot Springs, Virginia, Sir John Boyd-Orr (now Lord Boyd-Orr), saw this plan come nearer to completion, for at Hot Springs, FAO came into being."

New Discovery Halts Fatal Black Cancer For A Time

CHICAGO. — Discovery of the first drug stopping the speedy and almost-always fatal black cancer, melanoma, was announced recently. It works only for a time. But it has banished this dread cancer in one human for at least a year, and has helped a few others.

Until now there has not been any drug or treatment, except surgery at the very earliest signs, which has had the slightest effect upon melanoma. This dark cancerous growth always starts somewhere on the skin, then spreads with distressing rapidity into the body.

The drug is nicknamed TEPA, an abbreviation for triethylene-phosphoramide. It is a relative of a drug which improves the appearance of textiles. "Cousins" of this

She was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Scriver at Brousseau Station and attended the Water Folies at Lachine—an enjoyable experience. She returned home on Saturday with her aunt and uncle, who spent the week-end at the Taylor home.

some inducement offered the children to collect the caterpillars. Sunday dinner guests at the Taylor home included Mr. and Mrs. Smallman and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McNicol and two girls, all of Dundee. The Powerscourt Women's Association met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gordon McClatchie with an attendance of 16 members and guests. During the work period a quilt was tied. In the absence of the President, Mrs. W. McHardy conducted the meeting and the Scripture was read by Mr. McLeod. After the meeting refreshments were provided by the hostess served. Proceeds of meeting, $5.35. Mrs. Koski has received word from her daughter Jean that she

Trends of Lamps And Lighting

Today in Transition would be an appropriate name for a representative showing of the season's new lamps.

Modern no longer means what it used to be. In lamps, it has become softened by encroachments of traditional styling. "Modern" numbers presented during the last half year incorporated provincial roosters, brass keys or milk glass fonts. Traditional units substituted black metal urns for decorated glass, sleek black candelabra arms for ornate bronze.

Contrast of materials proved to be a popular media in both style groups. Black and brass were extensively combined with each other and with such widely varying materials as rattan, wood, ceramics, and alabaster.

Pure decoration came into its own in the form of amber bangles, prisms, clear glass flowers and vinyl cord. Imagine a stark black iron frame supporting tier-on-tier of glittering prisms and you have an idea both of the way decoration is going and of the new affinity between modern and traditional styles.

Brass managed to nudge out its arch rival, black iron, in the all-metal bracket. Forms remained simple—tapered columns, geometric shapes—or opened up in airy arrangements. Copper and pewter appeared in small but significant quantities.

Texture provided chief decorative interest in ceramic and glass lamps. Consequently, the market was provided with a healthy collection of new numbers for the housewife to correlate with her textured floor coverings, draperies and upholstery fabrics. The Oriental theme popped up as a source of decoration inspiration in other quarters.

Devil Eggs—And Bake In Mushroom Sauce

FOR lunch on a May day, spread the sunny atmosphere at your table. How? With peppy deviled eggs, baked in a sauce of cream of mushroom soup.

This is a luncheon dish you can practically fix while you prepare breakfast. That is, you can cook the eggs then. And later, devil the yolks with zippy seasonings. Some tips on the eggs will help to give you a head start. A crisp salad of greens, radishes and cucumber accompanies the eggs nicely. Last course, rubarb betty with cream.

Eggs baked in a mushroom sauce, with a generous sprinkling of cheese, have real melt-in-your-mouth appeal. A crisp salad of greens, radishes and cucumber accompanies the eggs nicely. Last course, rubarb betty with cream.

Reduce, Sip Bouillon or Consommé: If you're trying to lose weight, keep canned bouillon or consommé on hand for a nutritious snack. To prepare as a hot beverage, mix with an equal amount of water; heat. Serve with a wedge of lemon if you like. One cup of either beverage equals about 30 or 40 calories; and it contributes protein. Doctors often include these as "free foods" or low calorie diets.

Robson

ROBSON — The W.M.S. assisted by the C.G.I.T. had charge of the afternoon service in Wesley Knox Church during the absence of Rev. W. Holmes. Miss Barbara Warner, taking charge, assisted in the devotional part by Miss Alice Hadley and Miss Betty Miller. Miss Bessie French was the speaker. She is a W.M.S. worker at Colamba House and she told in a very interesting way of her experiences in Mission work across Canada and among the Indians in the North West and in the mining town of Glace Bay, N.S.

Rev. Mr. Conrad of Huntingdon will be the speaker next Sunday. Mr. Gerald Houle is under the Doctor's care, suffering from pneumonia. Glad to hear he is on the way to recovery.

Mr. Fernie Beattie spent the week-end at his home. Glad to know Mr. Beattie is much improved.

STUDENT WINS DEGREE DESPITE HANDICAP

Among those who will be presented for degrees at the convocation will be a student, Gordon Leonard McGillon, from Stanstead College, Stanstead, Que., who has pursued his studies under a great handicap. Nearly blind, he has worked with such persistence and brilliance that he will be awarded a BA degree, with second class honors in history. The faculty of arts and science named a special invigilator for him in the final examinations. Mr. McGillon, writing very large script, a few lines to the page, from memory, could not read his own writing. The invigilator read his words back to him and made changes as suggested.

Gordon was a nephew of the late Mrs. Fernie Beattie and is well known here. All offer congratulations to Gordon. Mr. Antony Lukacs also passed his McGill Examinations and obtained his Bachelor of Commerce Degree. Congratulations.

Careful Washing Keeps Angora Wool Beautiful

Frequent, careful washing is good for angora as it restores the original fluffiness. But you must be sure to follow proper washing instructions. Before you begin, test any ornaments for washability. Take a damp, soapy cloth and wipe off one of the sequins or other ornaments. If the color finish stays put, you can safely wash a beret or other article.

Use thick, lukewarm soapsuds and gently squeeze them through the fabric. Support the beret with both hands while washing to maintain the shape. Rinse in lukewarm water. If the beret still seems soiled, simply wash it over again just as carefully rather than rub the fabric. Rinse at least twice in a Turkish towel. When it comes to drying, you want to restore the original size

Mayor Cappiello gave the address of welcome and a resume of the financial standing. He emphasized that the grant given in less than three years to the two Catholic Schools amounted to approximately $244,500. He concluded his remarks by saying that in the future there will be a Household Science Course given.

Mr. Poisy then called upon Rev. Canon Pigeon to address the gathering. He thanked all the people who had made it possible by contributions or other means to make these two schools. He also brought to the attention that at the last Blessing, the late Mr. J. G. Rennie had participated at the ceremony. He will never be forgotten by us.

The Choir of St. Joseph's School directed by Brother Gagnon sang two songs namely "Va Petit Mousse" and "How Do You Do." Rev. Father Charlebois, Provincial of Les Clercs St. Viateur and Mr. François Cloutier inspector of this district each gave an address, followed by Notre Dame Choir singing two songs in English and in French. Addresses were given by Mr. Moise Caron representing Mr. Omer Desaulniers and Mr. Donald Black M.P. Chateauguy-Huntingdon-Laprairie, who stated that if the taxes were increased no better investment could be made.

Mr. Poisy, Master of Ceremonies, then asked His Excellency, Mr. Alfred Langlois to address the audience. He very capably gave a short introduction in English and then followed with a very interesting address in French, after which delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Dupuis, assisted by the Ladies of Ste. HOMEMADE BREAD makers get more satisfaction out of baking bread and rolls than almost anything else in the baking line. Flour, of course is the main ingredient used in both bread and rolls. There are two common types of Canadian wheat. One from spring wheat is a hard flour with considerable gluten in it which is needed for bread and rolls because it gives a tough, elastic dough.

Isn't it funny how things change? In our grandmother's day, home-bakers made their own bread. Then bakeries came into being and in almost every town, no matter how small, the local baker took the load off the homemaker.

Without yeast, homemade bread is not possible. As a bread making ingredient, it is of prime importance. Yeast has been known since the most ancient times. Back again to our grandmother's time—the green blossoms of the hop vines that grew in the backyard were gathered and dried for making yeast.

Bright Invitation Helps Give Party Good Beginning

Anticipation of a party sometimes is almost as much fun as the party itself for most children. You can help your children stir up anticipation and excitement over their parties by coaching them to make their invitations as gay and original as they expect the party itself to be.

It's not difficult. All you need is a little imagination, some ingenuity, coloured inks and some coloured paper or cards.

Here are some ideas from Jerlyn Madison, writing consultant, for children's party invitations sure to arouse interest and enthusiasm. Get away from conventional white paper and black or blue ink. Try coloured papers and inks of contrasting colours.

For seasonal or special holiday parties, write invitations in keeping with the season or holiday. For Easter party invitations, use yellow or pink paper with a contrasting ink.

Sometimes a card is more suitable and effective than writing paper. Cards with the invitations written on brightly coloured paper pasted over the message usually found inside would be original and attractive.

If the party is exclusively for your child's schoolmates, use paper and ink in the school colours. Both written and printed inks are now available in all the basic colours.

The teen-age host or hostess can stimulate interest in the party by sending invitations in French, Spanish or German whatever language is being studied at school and following them a day or two later with English translations.

Another ingenious invitation is the note-telephone call technique. This merely requires sending a note to prospective guests, advising them they'll receive a telephone call. At the moment supplies are held up because it is illegal to issue a drug to a layman other than on a prescription.

Giaco Laboratories, one of the major producers of penicillin in this country (United Kingdom), are preparing to make the drug available to the feed industry, and this will be done without endangering supplies for medical purposes.

According to the Farming News report, it is thought possible that when penicillin is added to the Health of Youngsters Is Up to Parents

Saving children from accidental injury and death, from the preventable diseases, from tooth decay, and providing newborn infants with a good start in life is as much in the hands of parents as in those of doctors and nurses.

Again, in the matter of immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw, which is offered free by municipal and provincial health centres, Dr. Cochrane found it hard to understand why some parents "still refuse to utilize this most important method of maintaining good health."

It is hoped in the very near future that there will be an immunizing vaccine for poliomyelitis," he added. "Each year large numbers of children are crippled with this disease and some die. With this new vaccine it is hoped that poliomyelitis will be prevented."

Dr. Cochrane did not see Gamma Globulin (the factor in the blood which contains the antibodies or protective substance against infection) as the answer to poliomyelitis on any large scale — "because of its cost, availability, and lack of prolonged effect." It is, however, a great step forward to lessening the possibility of developing poliomyelitis, measles, mumps, etc., after one has been in contact with the disease.

The paediatrician reported on a recent study of several hundred mothers in Scotland during their first pregnancy. It was found there that mothers in the low income group tended to be small in stature, to have an abnormal pelvis, to have a poor personal knowledge of proper hygiene, and that they ran a greater risk of premature labour and of losing their baby.

"Much of this could be explained on the basis of poor nutrition and improper diet in the growing years, as well as poor education," commented Dr. Cochrane. "This could also apply to our own country."

Powerscourt Mr. Fred Platt and Miss Katherine Marryatt of Toronto, Ontario spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Platt and other friends.

Four Percenters

Several recent reports from John Powell, Publicist, Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, indicate that quite a few of the present top Holstein producers are now in the "Four Per Cent" butterfat production class, some of them well into that class. Likewise with high type or conformation ratings.

One of the cows concerned is Moorebell Rag Apple Victoria, owned by Mrs. B. M. Hallward, North Hatley, Que. That cow has qualified for a Certificate of Superior Production with a record of 1,014 lbs. F. from 22,313 lbs. M., average test 4.54%, in 365 days, 2-average day milkings, at 7 years of age. Previous R.O.P. records made by Victoria were: 11,798 lbs. M., 513 lbs. F., at 3 years of age; 20,023 lbs. M., 879 lbs. F., at 4 years; 19,689 lbs. M., 903 lbs. F., at 5 years.

She has also been classified as "Very Good" in Selective Registration. Another instance is a member of the Holstein herd of J. T. Brown, Newcastle, Ont. That cow (name not given) recently completed a 365 day Record of Performance test, as an 8-year-old, of 17,628 lbs. M., containing 823 lbs. F., average test 4.67% butterfat. She thus has a six lactation lifetime record of 100,468 lbs. M., containing 4,610 lbs. F., average test 4.59% butterfat, thus qualifying for a Red Seal Certificate of Long-time Production presented by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

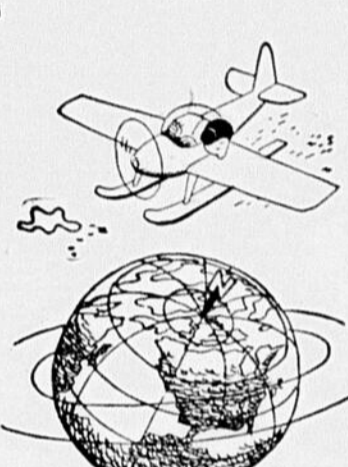

As a 5-year-old she produced 19,591 lbs. M., 876 lbs. F., and as a 7-year-old 20,856 lbs. M., 954 lbs. F.

She has also been classified "Very Good" in Selective Registration, while she was reserve grand champion at Peterboro' in 1950 and reserve grand champion at the Durham County Black and White Day in 1951.

Another high producer has been classified "Excellent," the highest attainable rating for a Holstein. Owned by E. M. Riseborough, Woodbridge, Ont., that cow, Belle Rag Apple Segis, now has to her credit a total of 149,824 lbs. M., 5,818 lbs. F., average test 3.88%, all of the 8 lactation records comprising that total having been made on twice-a-day milkings.

Penicillin for Livestock The following interesting item is from a recent issue of the Farming News (of Scotland): "Amending legislation, which when it becomes law, will enable penicillin to be supplied to the animal feed industry, is now being considered by Parliament (United Kingdom). At the moment supplies are held up because it is illegal to issue a drug to a layman other than on a prescription."

Aluminum's lightness - with strength has made it the basic material of the aircraft industry. And because aluminum is only 1/3 to 1/2 as heavy as other base metals, a pound of it goes a lot further. Which is one more reason why so many manufacturers of so many products have turned to aluminum to help keep their prices down. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

ALUMINUM has a habit of turning up almost everywhere. But "farthest north" was reached recently, when a U.S. Air Force pilot set down his aircraft at the geographic North Pole — on a pair of aluminum skis.

weeks earlier than would be possible under normal present-day farm conditions, and his food bill should show a reduction. For his chicks the thimbleful of penicillin required will cost him a few shillings or so per ton of food, but his return should be birds showing a 10-15 per cent weight increase. For the turkey farmer's increased expenditure the return should be heavier and fatter birds and a much reduced mortality.

Cluaron Fancy Maid, owned by J. G. Wilson, Lacombe, Que., topped the 3 year old class, Honour Roll, with 12,017 lbs. M., 531 lbs. F., 4.42%.

Red Plans To Hit Europe By 1955 Outlined By Czech Army Officer

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—A former Czech Army officer, trained in Soviet military strategy, has informed the House of Representatives Committee of purporting Russian plans to launch war in Europe "before 1955."

The Russian decision to "take over Western Europe," the committee was told, is predicated on Soviet suspicion that Britain is preparing "a definite attack to destroy the Soviet Union" in 1955.

The testimony, given in a secret committee session May 13 and 14, was made public Saturday in an unusual volume entitled, "Soviet Schedule For War, 1955."

The year, 1955, is the same year which former President Truman and his top advisers listed as the period of the greatest danger of attack from Russia.

President Eisenhower has scoffed at this idea, disclaiming any faith in what he called magical formulas. He said he did not believe anyone could predict when, if ever, an attack would start a global war.

Bukarr told the committee the Soviet target date for war was disclosed to him as one of 3,000 officers in training at a Russian military school for conquest at Moscow between 1945 and 1947.

Editor's Note—The views expressed in the above news dispatch are more or less the same as pointed out in an editorial in this newspaper of May 13th issue—Those Russians Again.

strict regulations for the horse-meat trade. Horses could not be slaughtered or processed by plants handling other types of animals, and horse meat could only be sold at retail by shops handling horse meat exclusively, clearly labeled as horse meat. Hence the nickname, "pony market".

Now, caught on the one hand by falling prices of the more familiar Canadian table meats and on the other hand by a shrinking supply of good horse meat, pony markets seem to be on their way out even faster than they came in—another evidence of the ability of postwar Canada to drive prices down by the magic of production teams with free competition.

Dirty Dick, the Fat Cat, Gets Fed on Sundays Too

From the London New Statesman Hundreds of people who arrive at Charing Cross underground between 7.30 and 9.30 in the morning are familiar with "Dirty Dick". He is an extremely dirty white spotted cat. He is also very fat and more ugly than any cat with whom I have ever been on stroking terms.

He usually sits on a small wall edging the Villiers Street side of the Embankment Gardens, and receives parcels of food and kindly words from sentimental Londoners.

First he is fed by the stout and where night revellers eat their final snacks; then he is presented with bits of food by early morning workers who put their offerings a little higher up the street; finally, when the clerical and typist army arrives, admirers add more bits of breakfast in paper bags.

Wandering out for a morning newspaper, I have often watched this process, but it was not until last week that it occurred to me to ask how Dirty Dick managed at the week-ends. I learned it from a stout and friendly old dame who sells flowers across the road.

She had a neat little parcel with a Lyons label when we called on her on Saturday evening. No, she said, that wasn't her bit of supper, but 11 penny-worth of fish, which a lady who fed Dirty Dick every morning during the week, bought and left with her to give him before she went home on Saturday nights.

Much interest, she said, centred round Dirty Dick. She watched a man who left food every morning, and there was a girl, too. She thought they had become acquainted as a result of their joint interest in Dirty Dick. The man was apt to loiter a little before putting down his bag, and the girl was also careful to time her arrival.

The flower-lady scented romance. She herself had grown fond of Dirty Dick, and then she added: "Do you hear that blackbird? I have been listening to him for the past three years. He sings louder than the traffic, louder than the trains at Charing Cross, even louder than the band on a Summer evening; the only thing I'd never forgive Dirty Dick would be if he hurt that blackbird."

And there are people who walk through Charing Cross as if it were no more than a collection of houses and streets!

Glass in Your Home

A careful study of the many uses of glass in your home will prove well worthwhile. It is one of the few products which offers both structural and decorative values, yet possessing transparency and translucency.

There are several major types of glass and glass products each designed for specific uses.

We are all familiar with window glass. However, with the trend towards much larger windows than formerly, more plate glass is being used. Wherever there is a large area to be glazed, plate glass is always preferable, because it possesses greater strength and visibility. Structural glass is a form of opaque glass available in a variety of colors. It is an ideal material for kitchen and bathroom use, does not fade, craze or stain. It can be kept clean with a minimum of effort. Structural glass can also be used for fireplace surrounds, window sills and shelving. Mirrors have always been an important item in the home. Up until recently though, few homes had the large structural type mirrors. Mantel and large wall mirrors can well be included in your plans for your individual home. One of the more recent glass products for home use, is the double-glazed insulating window.

It combines the advantages of a standard window plus a storm window. Although insulating windows require a wider sash than ordinary windows, they are available in standard sizes and with factory made sash. When planning your home, you will discover many applications for glass. Built in niches can be lined with structural glass and glass shelves used. Corrugated glass is ideal for partitions and semi-partitions. For the modern home with its extensive structural and decorative use of glass there are many complementary glass accessories. Furniture tops of plate glass not only add beauty but help protect it from damage.

Orchardists Bring Sprayers to Fight Fire at Rockburn

About 7:30 Thursday morning, the fire was started in the range of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan's home. Mrs. Sloan stepped outside and little Miss Heather Currie next door, saw the East roof was on fire. The grandmother, Mrs. Walker, called Mrs. Sloan. The roof had been ignited by sparks from the chimney. The alarm was given and men gathered promptly to attempt to save the home. Electric power ceased but a hand pump constantly used provided much water and Messrs. Glen Waller and Floyd Stevenson being called, immediately brought a large sprayer with tank full of water. Ladders and hose had been taken to the scene of the fire and the fight began with little promise of success as the red flames were rising from the whole East side of the roof and the fire had worked down under the roof and into a sidewall before help could arrive, but with well planned and hard labour and constant streams of water thrown in through openings made in the roof, gradually the flames were brought under control. The workers feel that fire extinguishers were a great aid and also the insulation helped greatly in apparently checking the flames, but it was two hours at least before it was wise to cease the efforts to save the home. The contents of the house had been removed with small damage but the chamber ceilings were badly damaged in places by both fire and water, and the roof destroyed. Mr. A. English im-

Hog Cholera Now in Eight Counties in Ontario

OTTAWA.—Hog cholera has been confirmed on one more premises in Ontario, the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa reported. So far there has been no secondary outbreak in the current hog cholera situation. That is, all confirmed cases of the disease have been traced back to the sales barns where the swine originally infected were purchased. There has been no farm-to-farm spread to date.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache is often caused by lazy kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest or tired-out and heavy-headed feeling may soon follow. That's the time to take Doid's Kidney Pills. Doid's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Get Doid's Kidney Pills now. 51 eliminate visitors to livestock premises. The great danger, they state, is in the delay by farmers in reporting sickness in hogs. The disease can be controlled if infection is reported promptly. In the current outbreak, it was 27 days between the time when the hogs eventually confirmed as hog cholera cases were purchased at a sales barn and the time when federal veterinarians were advised that the hogs were sick.

The Health of Animals officers urge that all hog traffic be kept to a minimum to limit exposure. Only the hogs going to slaughter should be moved, they say. Careful and gradual investigation of more than 1,000 lots of hogs from the sales barn where the original infected lot was purchased has confirmed infected swine on 13 premises in eight counties. Since the last (May 21) announcement from the Department, one case was confirmed near Beamsville in Lincoln county, two near Stratford in Perth county and one near Guelph in Wellington county. Perth and Wellington were involved before, as were Simcoe, Huron, Waterloo, Wentworth, and Halton counties.

So far, nearly 600 hogs have died or been destroyed in this outbreak. The Ministerial order issued May 21st halted all movement of hogs out of an area including 29 counties and the District of Muskoka. The area under quarantine includes all of Ontario south and west of, and including the counties of Northumberland, Peterborough and Haliburton and the District of Muskoka. This allows movement of hogs to the Toronto processing plants.

It is expected that several sales barns in the area may become involved, but so far the Health of Animals Division veterinarians are checking every one of the hogs that passed through the sales barn where the animals diagnosed with hog cholera on May 15 were sold. This means they will have to check more than 6,350 hogs from this barn alone.

HUNTINGDON WINS LOCAL BASE BALL OPENER DOWNS FORT COVINGTON 22 TO 6

A large crowd was on hand at Cluff's Field, on Sunday afternoon, to witness the opening game of the local Baseball Season. The Huntingdon Boys showing a lot of power in their bats and with some fine pitching after a bad first inning from young Duke Coulombe, came from behind and went on to beat Fort Covington by a 22 to 6 count. Excepting for two home runs, a single and a walk in the first inning, young Coulombe pitched a fine game striking out twelve and walking two men. Norm Hannah's fine handling of young Coulombe was a big asset to the Huntingdon team individual stars at bats were Bill Bernhardt with two home runs, Walt McCallum with 2 single, a double and home run; Rene Senecal with a home run and two singles. Roger Cyr picked up three hits; Jon Proudfoot and Hannah each connected twice; Rene Senecal led the runs batted in parade with a total of 5 and Bill Bernhardt's two home runs accounted for 4.

For Fort Covington the Chatland brothers supplied the power—F. Chatland with two home runs and Ken, with one home run and two other hits accounted for five of the six runs scored by the Fort. The Huntingdon team expects to journey to Chateaugay, N.Y., this Saturday to play a league contest postponed from an earlier date. Sunday they travel to North Lawrence.

Chemical Thinning Of Apples

OTTAWA.—It has long been recognized that when a heavy set of fruit occurs in commercial apple orchards, thinning is necessary in order to produce a high quality product and to maintain satisfactory tree performance, report D. S. Blair and S. H. Nelson, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ont. The costly and laborious practice of hand thinning has been largely replaced by the use of chemicals. Since these chemicals are applied at or shortly after the blossom stage, not only are the remaining apples larger at harvest time, but also there is less chance of the tree reverting to biennial bearing.

When thinning is necessary two types of chemicals can be used, namely, the N.A. (naphthaleneacetic acid preparations) and D.N.'s (dinitro compounds). The N.A. sprays are best suited for varieties such as McIntosh, Delicious and Northern Spy, which only set an excessive crop when pollinating conditions are ideal. This group of chemicals is not applied until the calyx stage, or up to two weeks later, thus the grower is better able to ascertain the need for thinning.

The other group of chemicals that has given fairly constant and satisfactory results, especially on heavy setting varieties such as Melba and Wealthy, is the D.N.'s. Since this group thins by their caustic action on the pollen, proper timing is essential. Once the pollination processes have commenced the chemical is ineffective; therefore, the spray should be applied in the full bloom stage, after sufficient suitable weather for the centre or "king" blossom to have been pollinated.

These sprays can be applied by any sprayer that has adequate power to assure good coverage. However, the results with 2X and 4X concentrations have been somewhat erratic and more experience with these stronger concentrations is necessary before they can be safely used.

Because chemical thinning is influenced by weather and by growing conditions, it is impossible to lay down hard and fast recommendations to fit all conditions. Each grower must proceed on a trial basis until he has made a study of his own set of conditions, using manufacturer's directions. Further information is available through the Ontario Spray Service, Guelph, Ontario, or the Horticultural Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ontario.
