Ormstown's Ambitious Mayor Striving For Better Form Of Municipal Taxation

It was a pleasure on Friday last to interview Mr Bruno Beaulieu, Mayor of Ormstown and a Builders Supply Merchant of that town. The interview took place in Mr. Beaulieu's office at the Supply depot, although for the main part it had to do with his Mayoralty duties.

MAYOR BRUNO BEAULIEU

Some people may know of the convention of members of municipalities in Quebec which took place on the Queen Elizabeth while on a cruise to Nassau. Mr. Beaulieu was a member of that group representing the Village of Ormstown Municipality.

It was this and other matters pertaining thereto which was the subject of the interview. Mr. Beaulieu is a member of the Board of Directors of the Union of Quebec Municipalities which was responsible for planning this trip and convention. In the first place he wanted to explain how it all came about and to dispel the thought that the group was travelling around at the expense of the taxpayers and doing nothing. He said he actually worked harder on that trip than if he had been in his own office. There were numerous meetings and study sessions every day.

The only place this group could have held its convention in Quebec was the Queen Elizabeth hotel in Montreal. This being Expo year this was impossible as it would have meant a large number of Expo visitors would have been without accommodation during the term of the convention. Not wishing to upset the visitors coming to the Province, alternative plans had to be made. The Queen Elizabeth was the only accommodation large enough to cater to the 1600 delegates who made up the party. It was therefore decided to charter the ship.

From the very start of the trip on September 28th, the delegates were made aware that this was not entirely a pleasure cruise and much work was accomplished every day. There were between 800 and 900 actual municipal officials, while the reaminder was made up of the wives of the officials and some other invited friends. It was felt too, that this would be one way of keeping all the delegates together and that they would not be wandering off somewhere.

Many matters were discussed and acted upon, but perhaps the most important had to do with taxation. The municipalities feel they should have more freedom with regard to their own taxation and to raise their own funds. In this avenue it was felt that the property tax should be left entirely to the municipalities and that the school tax should be eliminated from the municipal taxpayer. That school tax should not be a charge against property. A resolution was passed along these lines and will later be presented in a brief to the Provincial Government. The Union of Quebec Municipalities wants a reorganization of the taxing arrangements that they may be more equally divided among those who have to pay. This is believed could be brought about between the Provincial Government and the Federal Government when they are discussing tax agreements.

The Government is to be asked to form a permanent fiscal committee to take up the matter of emergency and special problems of the two bodies and to recommend improvement in the system of taxation.

During the convention study groups were formed on all the various proposals, and resolutions were made as to the outcome. It was also proposed that a Government policy be brought forward to govern strikes of municipal employees and those of public utilities, to prevent these from occurring.

Mr. Beaulieu is certain that much good will come from the findings of this convention. It was a unique way of holding it and he believes it was responsible for the amount of work which was completed. He feels quite deeply on the matter of municipal taxation believing that the present system actually works a hardship on the taxpayer. In his view the property is being taxed for many things it should not be. Fire services, garbage, collection, sidewalks, streets, water and so forth, he believes are a legitimate charge against a property because they are services received by the property. School taxes he feels should not be made a charge on property as this is not a service to the property, but to the individual whether he be poor or rich. Some people are paying taxes on small properties which are beyond what should be paid.

In answering a question as to where the revenue would come from to pay for school upkeep and education, Mr. Beaulieu said he thought the Government should provide this out of the Sales Tax or some other form of revenue.

Discussion Held On Mutual Aid In Fire Fighting Here

On Wednesday evening, October 4th, Hinchinbrooke Volunteer Fire Brigade were hosts to a number of Fire Departments in this area, and others from across the border at a meeting in the Town Hall at Herdman, where the setting up of Mutual Aid among the various departments in this area was discussed.

Those attending were, Huntingdon, Ormstown, Franklin Centre and Hemmingford, and from across the border Chateaugay, Burke, Constable and Trout River.

Mr. E. Cappiello, Fire Chief at Fort Covington, and Deputy Co-Ordinator and Training Instructor in New York State, gave a clear and comprehensive ouline of how this can be accomplished, from the setting up of adminstration, central control etc., how the control center operates, its method of dispatching units close to a fire where help is required, and at the same time provide adequate protection to the area from which equipment has been drawn, by moving in other equipment to cover it while they are away.

At this point Mr. Cappiello turned the meeting over to Mr. Bill Hadley, County Fire Co-Ordinator, who in his opening remarks said that the man selected for such a position as his, would not have to be familiar with all aspects of Mutual Aid, that he should do as he did, find a good Deputy, and also a good deputy to be in charge of communications.

He then went on to explain how to proceed, the many things that had to be done to achieve a smooth running organization, that it was something that would take years of working one with the other, and that the benefits of their experience across the border was ours for the asking.

The permissions of the councils of the various departments (after each department had discussed it among themselves and then decided they would like to be a part of a Mutual Aid program) must be obtained before the Fire Chiefs and others tackle the job. This is really something big in regard to fire fighting, and that some time in the future, we could be tied in with those across the border.

One must bear in mind, that one of the outstanding advanages of Mutual Aid is, that you may have just one pumper, or just a tanker, but the fire is of such proportions that you must have more equipment, your call for help will be answered, and you will have six or more pumpers there in a short time.

What saved Athelstan recently? just that. We did not have mutual aid, but we did have good friends. Now let us good friends on this side of the border band ourselves (as they have done over there) into an organization that will give us the utmost protection

Stars of Notre Dame Well Received At Expo Saturday

It was before a crowd of approximately 4,000 assembled at La Place des Nations at Expo that the Stars of Notre-Dame performed on Saturday. Many photographers took pictures of the group while the spectators applauded them on many occasions.

One person present said that the Stars, majorettes and drummers, gave their best performance to date. Those ressponsible for the group are very proud of their work.

The girls, 37 majorettes and 8 drummers, were accompanied by five chaperones and their instructor Gary Thompson. Thanks are expressed to Ricky Watson for the use of his tape recorder. After performing at Expo (with a 45 minutes delay) the group went to Molson Stadium where they gave another routine specially prepared for the occasion. The spectators though not too numerous, (due to the Alouettes recent losses) seemed to appreciate the girls' performance.

Keep up the good work girls, we are proud of you.

CANADIAN LEGION L.A. HAS MONTH OF ACTIVITY

A General Meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch No. 81, was held in the Legion Hall on October 5th., Mrs. Paul Valdemar, president, in the chair. Mrs. Arnold Burgess was welcomed and installed as a new member this evening.

A letter of thanks was read from Branch No. 81 for a $200 donation from the Auxiliary. In September the ladies catered to a buffet banquet for the Legion Golf Tournament, which was held on September 16th and on September 30th catered to a wedding banquet. Mrs. Frank Napier, converner of the Refreshment Committee, thanked all those who donated and who helped in any way to make these two efforts a success.

On September 9th Mrs. Valdemar attended the Huntingdon High School opening night and presented the two $5 bursaries given by the Auxiliary to the student who obtains the highest marks in mathematics. These were presented to Randy Rennie, Grade 7B and Bonnie Arnold, Grade 7A.

The bursaries for the English Catholic and the French Catholic students who obtained the highest mark in mathematics will be presented in the near future when the names of the students are obtained.

Highway Accident Claims Life Of Young Huntingdon Businessman

The Late Peter Charles Stephen

Before midnight on Saturday, the tragic news of the untimely death of Peter Stephen, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Stephen of Huntingdon, fell on shocked and disbelieving ears.

Peter, 23 years old, had left Huntingdon at 4:30 the same morning and had driven to Syracuse, N.Y. where his friend Miss Beverly Trainer of Chateaugay, N.Y. was in residence at the University of Syracuse. In the afternoon, the two young people drove around Syracuse for a considerable time, becoming acquainted with the city and surrounding area. Following an evening dinner, Miss Trainer returned to residence and Peter started the trip to his parents' Chateaugay, N.Y. home. About 40 miles from Syracuse, near Pulaski on U.S. Route 81, the car left the road and struck a tree.

New York State Troopers who investigated the accident, which occurred about 10:30 p.m., report there were no brake marks from the point where the car left the highway to the tree, some fifty feet distant, indicating the driver fell asleep. Death, caused by a neck injury, was instantaneous. The car, a 1965 Falcon, was demolished.

A 1962 graduate of Huntingdon High School, Peter spent three summers at Laval University in Quebec City, taking the six-week summer course in French. For several seasons he was an active member of the Valleyfield Toastmasters' Club and on more than one occasion gave addresses in his chosen language. In the years that he was associated with his parents in the family store, Braithwaite Bros., he became respected by a wide clientele of both languages and by fellow-businessmen.

In school, extra curricular activities included track and photography. He deeply appreciated good music and was an avid reader. Among the many friends who will miss him most are good chess players, both young and old.

The deceased was in repose at the Kelly Funeral Home until two o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the funeral was held in the Huntingdon United Church. His pastor, Reverend Henry Lowenberger, conducted the service assisted by Reverend George McMichen of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and Reverend Gayle Ruoff of the Chateaugay, N.Y. Methodist Church. The many floral tributes and large attendance at the service indicated the high esteem in which Peter was held. Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, Garth; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stephen; also by uncles and aunts.

Mr. Larry Spaulding of the

PENSIONS TO RISE NEXT YEAR

The federal old-age pension will rise $1.50 to $76.50 a month, next year under the automatic cost-of-living increase.

Government calculations have placed the cost-of-living increase in the year ended June, 1967 at two per cent, and this increase is the maximum permitted under the federal formula which hinges principal pensions to cost of living increases.

The two-per-cent increase goes into effect at the beginning of 1968. It will also apply to the federal old age supplement and to those who receive retirement payments under the national contributory pension plan.

The maximum old-age supplement will rise to $30.60 a month from $30, the pensioner receiving both the $75 flat figure and the full supplement will have his monthly income raised to $107.10.

Monthly pension ceiling under the national contributory pension plan rises to $106.25 from $104.17, up $24.96 for a full year. But the full retirement pension doesn't come into effect until 1976.

The increases in 1968 will mark the first application of the formula hinging pensions to the cost of living.

A NEW STORE OPENED IN ORMSTOWN

Above is the New Crest store at Ormstown, the windows are nicely displayed with the goods that are to be found within. Lower photos show interior views of the store. The shelves are full of all kinds of different merchandise and everything is well displayed and prices legibly marked.

In the latter days of the past week a new store opened in Ormstown that promises not only to serve the Ormstown community but an area for some miles around it. The store is known as The Crest Store and is being operated by Donald Hooker and Bill Greig, Jr., who are well known to the people of the Chateauguay Valley.

These two gentlemen are out to give the patrons good service on a varied line of goods at the lowest possible prices. The store carries almost every type of hardware, appliances, furniture, paint, houseware, tools, toys and many other items. During the opening days a special sale was conducted and customers received prizes and so forth. A large number of the populace visited the store during this sale period and became purchasers of the various items offered for sale. Both men and women can find pleasure in going around the aisles and seeing the many articles that are offered. All the items are day to day requirements for the home, the workshop, the farm and so on. Ten chances to one you will find what you are looking for at this store.

It is a serve yourself system if you want it that way, or you can have a clerk wait on and help you with your purchases. Meantime you are free to browse around at your leisure while you select the items you want. The store is spacious and well lighted so you can see everything on display. It may be said too that the prices are well in line and some of the appliances have excellent prices. Of course special prices were maintained for the opening, but they may be repeated for other special occasions.

It would seem that this store will be an asset that Ormstown can be proud of.

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT MAY OPERATE LOTTERIES

The Quebec Provincial Government may soon be operating lotteries if certain measures being proposed by the Federal Government at Ottawa are put into effect. This matter had been mooted on numerous occasions as a means to obtaining increased revenue for the Province other than from taxation.

The Federal Government will move this Fall to amend the criminal code and clear the way for a Provincial Government Lottery in Quebec.

Changes in the laws covering lotteries will be included in an omnibus bill covering a wide range of criminal code amendments to be introduced by Justice Minister Pierre Trudeau in the near future.

The amendments are included on the list of priority items for passage this Fall and are expected to receive early consideration by Parliament.

Mr. Trudeau confirmed recently that lotteries would be one of the areas affected, but he did not spell out details of the changes.

It is understood that the amendments will definitely liberalize the laws governing lotteries, at least to the extent of allowing the establishment of Provincial Government sweekpstakes where they are desired. These would be similar to those now in existence in two U.S. states.

QUEBEC HAS LAW ON BOOKS

The Quebec Government has been trying to persuade Ottawa for several years to legalize lotteries, or at least give the provinces the option to act on their own.

Quebec actually has a law on the statute books, passed during the Duplessis era, setting up a Provincial lottery. However, the law has never become operative because the Criminal code outlaws any such contests.

The Province made repeated submisssions to Federal-Provincial conferences, especially during the time Mr. Lesage was in power, asking that the law be a amended, but no action was forthcoming.

The report of the Belanger Royal Commission on taxation, made public in 1966, concluded that lotteries are vastly over-rated as a method for raising public revenue.

The Commission said that a provincial lottery in Quebec would probably produce about $10,000,000 a year in income.

Since then, the Quebec government has shown less enthusiasm for the idea.

Mr. Trudeau agreed with the view that the amount of money raised by lotteries would be relatively small, and said it is "not a very progressively way to tax people."

But he said he has "no moral objection" to lotteries, and that since some people already gamble in this way it might be just as well to keep the money in Canada rather than have it go abroad.

"I don't feel strongly one way or the other on this and precisely for that reason I don't think the Criminal Code should conceive of this as a very great crime," he said.

When asked if the Government intends to liberalize the laws, he replied: "I think this can only move in one direction."

'Twinning' Says Ormstown's Mayor Can Lead To Greater Canadian Entity

Mayor Beaulieu, Ormstown's energetic Mayor who has the interests of the public at heart and who is keen on making the people of Canada aware of each other, has still another pet scheme he is working on.

He believes that with all this talk of separatism that a friendly atmosphere and spirit of understanding will do much to keep Canada together. To this end he has become a promoter of "Twinning" — that is twinning a town or city in Quebec with another in a different part of Canada.

In this area we are all very much aware of the work that has been done in "Twinning" MacGregor in Manitoba with the Village of Ormstown here. Delegations from the two municipalities have visited each other and special programmes have been sponsored to greet them. Just this past weekend a special celebration has been held at MacGregor entiled "Ormstown Shared at McGregor". This was carried out through those who have already been to Ormstown telling of their experiences. It has also brought about a greater degree of friendliness among the citizens of MacGregor itself. Mr. Beaulieu says that "Twinning" can make a greater friendship between all Canadians and especially those taking part in the "Twinning".

In further response to his promotion of "Twinning", Mr. Beaulieu left Dorval on Tuesday for Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, for another official twinning ceremony there. At Dorval he joined with a delegation from St. Jerome, which is twinned with Moose Jaw. A special program will be carried out in the Saskatchewan city in the south western part of Saskatchewan when the two cities become twins under the Centennial project of the Union of Quebec Municipalities twinning program.

Mr. Beaulieu is of the opinion that with the proper amount of publicity given these twinning ceremonies across Canada, they could be the means of keeping Canada together. He is hopeful of greater publicity in order that people throughout the country will understand the meaning behind this Twinning movement. Under present conditions such friendship is needed and the people in other parts of Canada should take this opportunity of learning about the people of Quebec. He feels that lack of understanding has a lot to do with the talk of separatism. If all people understood each other better he believes they all would come to respect the other person's feelings and customs which would lead to a greater friendship for all.

Mr. Beaulieu is a member of the Centennial Committee of the Union of Quebec Municipalities and a staunch promoter of "Twinning". The Centennial Committe has made a grant toward the expenses of this policy of Twinning and hopes to make it a permanent thing.

A lot of Mr. Beaulieu's time has been given to this venture and he believes that it is for a good cause, so he does not mind and willingly does it. If it achieves the purpose of what he is aiming for, he says this will be ample reward.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

The Editor,
Huntingdon Gleaner
Dear Sir:

I would like to comment on and clarify, some of the points raised by Mrs. Frame in her address on Ireland to the Ormstown W.I. as reported in The Gleaner of the 11th inst.

I presume that it must have been quite some time since Mrs. Frame left Ireland, as the country she depicts is not quite the same as the one I left in 1966 when I emigrated to Canada. The impression given by her description is that of a country out of tune with the 20th century and which is far behind in modernization. The contrary is true.

Within the last decade many aspects of Irish life have changed. In both N. Ireland and Eire, a programme of rural electrification has been carried out and all who wish to, can benefit from this at reasonable cost. Many people have taken advantage of generous government grants to renovate their homes and erect modern buildings. As well, there is a tendency for those who do not own farms or who possess small farms, to move to the cities and towns where all modern conveniences are even more easily obtainable.

Eire and N. Ireland are both endeavouring with some success, to combat the chronic problem of unemployment. Many foreign firms including Canadian, have been attracted by government aid and concessions and the availability of skilled and unskilled labour, to set up plants in the country. As a result cities and towns are expanding and the emigration trend has been slowed down. Both governments, mindful of the need for modernization have outlined plans for new cities and towns. Motorway networks, an integral part of the overall plan are already under construction.

In the cities, the American type supermarket has already appeared and there are also a few in the larger towns. Multistorey buildings are going up often at the expense of structures which were an attractive part of the area concerned. e.g. in Dublin fine old Georgian buildings are being torn down in the name of "progress'. In Belfast, the picturesque markets area of Smithfield is to be demolished. Concern is being expressed that Ireland may lose some of its unique charm in the wake of development. Last year the Tourist industry netted Eire $240,000,000.

Much emphasis is placed on education in Ireland. There are two universities in the South and one in the North. An ultra modern university is being constructed at present on the Northern coast. There is a splendid system of primary, secondary, intermediate and technical schools. The Grammar school provides the foundation for University education. In N. Ireland all education is free to those who lack the means to defray the cost, providing they have the ability to undertake the course desired. Secondary education is free in Eire.

Wages are much lower than in Canada but many factors must be taken into consideration in connection with this differential. The cost of living is lower, e.g. one can rent a new house for as little as $10. weekly. In N. Ireland medicare has been in operation for over twenty years. Some people may not live very luxuriously but there are no cases of extreme hardship.

There has been heartening evidence in recent years that old animosities between the peoples of the country are gradually dying out. The two governments have co-operated in projects of mutual interest with beneficial results to all. The last serious incidents of actual violence occurred around 1956, and the small groups of extremists are incurring the disapproval of the vast majority.

Eire has played its part in World peace-keeping with the ranks of the United Nations. Now both North and South are gearing their economies for entry into the European Common Market. When they do, Ireland should become a closely knit entity.

When the mists of celtic myth are swept away, Ireland stands revealed in my opinion, as a capable small nation with the ability, determination and farsightedness to take its place with any other in this exciting 20th century.

Monday, Oct. 16th., 1967.
The Editor,
Huntingdon Gleaner.
Dear Sir:

In reply to the letter which you received from Mrs. Robert Groleau, I wish to make it known that all possible steps were taken to have Thanksgiving declared a holiday. Due to the fact that we were notified Wednesday noon, it was rather late to try to change the November 6th holiday to Thanksgiving. Nonetheless the following steps were taken. Mr. K. Burkhardt contacted Mr. Marleau who was in Quebec but when a call was put through to Quebec the following answer was received. "Thanksgiving is a Canadian Holiday not a Quebec Holiday." Secondly a meeting was held between the local school board and executive members of both the French and English P.T.A.'s. At this meeting we were informed that had we known sooner other measures might have been taken in order to procure a holiday.

As a final step, Mr. Ken. Fraser our local M.P. was contacted and he also informed us that at such a late date it was imppossible for him to do anything.

Duplicate copies of the letter which appeared in the October 11th edition of the Gleaner were sent to the following, Valleyfield Regional School Board, Letters to the Editor, Montreal Star, Mr. Bruce Taylor's column Montreal Star, St. Lawrence Sun, (Chateauguay - Valleyfield) La Presse (Montreal). With each of the copies was sent a letter of explanation.

Perhaps our reactions will awaken the authorities and Thanksgiving in 1968 will be a day of Thanksgiving for all Canadians.

Mrs. P. McCallum.

when we need it.

Mr. Robert Sora, Deputy in charge of communications gave a talk on the setting up of same.

Mr. Cappiello then brought the meeting to a close by stating that there would be fire courses open to those who wish to take them.

Fire Chief Don. Racine thanked those who had given of their time this evening to come here, and said as far as Hinchinbrooke was concerned they were all for it, with their council's consent.

TAX RATE AGAIN SET AT 18 MILLS

At a special meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council held last week, the business before it was setting the current tax rate. It was decided to again levy a rate of 18 mills $18.00 per thousand of valuation for the year 1967.

March of Dimes Contributions

Athelstan

Ladies Aid Meets

ATHELSTAN — The Ladies Aid met in the Church basement on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The ladies completed a quilt. Mrs. Hampson opened the meeting with a meditation on Thanksgiving and hymn 691 was sung. The devotions were also in keeping with the Thanksgiving season.

Minutes were read and the roll call was responded to by twelve members. Mrs. French reported a bill for wool had been paid also that the quilt the ladies had on hand had been sold.

The Secretary was asked to write Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Elder a note of thanks for a generous donation received.

Under new business the Ladies Aid was asked if they would make a Miss Canada Rose Centennial Quilt. After some discussion they accepted to do so.

Again we will cater to the Legion banquet on November 11th., the executive was appointed to make plans and contact the ladies for the necessary things required. As our November meeting falls on the week of the banquet, it was decided to meet on November the 14th instead of the 9th.

The Lord's Prayer closed the meeting and a social hour was enjoyed.

Birthday:

Clay Foers just recentiy had a birthday, and of course he had a party, at which were the following: — Mrs. Thomas Legault and Curtis, Mrs. Wilfred Legault, Pauline and Gail, Mrs. Bruce Cairncross, Lynn, Joy, and Jimmy, Mrs. Gerald French, Kevin and Johnnie, Mrs. Lester Silver and Sharon, Mrs. James Steele and Mrs. Francis Patterson.

Mrs. Muriel Foers spent Thursday at Expo, as chaperon for five Grave 2 pupils, the children really enjoyed the day.

LEARNING BY SEEING

On October 4th, the two Grade 6 classes from Huntingdon Academy took separate field trips: one went to Upper Canada Village and the other to Ile-aux-Noix on the Richelieu River. The purpose of such trips is to give the pupils a practical lesson in geography and in history.

The following account is a story written by one of the boys who accompanied his class on the excursion to Ile-aux-Noix:—

Huntingdon Academy Students Visit Ile-aux-Noix.

Why were we the only visitors to this beautiful island on that lovely October day? The Federal government started to rebuild it in 1921. Today it is a beautiful island with a ferry running to the mainland and back. The stone fort stands overlooking the Richelieu with no men to guard it. There is no advertising of this historical site in any magazine.

On October 4th, 1967, Mrs. Wallace's grade 6 went to Ile-au-Noix on a field trip. At 9 a.m. twenty-seven enthusiastic students piled into the school bus which soon carried them along the winding road through the beautiful countryside toward St. Paul. As we drove through Franklin we could see the apple factory and the lovely red apples hanging from the trees. In the background there was a blur of colour from the maple leaves. Soon the blue water of the Richelieu appeared before us. At this point we left the bus and boarded the ferry for a short ride to the island.

After we disembarked from the boat we climbed a hill to the fort. At the entrance there was a massive archway. The gateway opens upon a spacious square on three sides of which are arranged the various buildings of the fort: officers quarters, guard-house, canteen, barracks, a powder magazine and ordnance stores. The square, with its buildings, is surrounded by a steep rampart of earth which rises abruptly from the water of a moat sixty feet wide and ten feet deep, running like a girdle around the whole structure.

The first building we visited was the officers' quarters which housed the museum. Here was a collection of historic relics which included British cannon, a flail, an oxen yoke, a chaff screen, cannon balls, and old pottery. The students were keenly intrested in souvenirs from World War I. One item that interested me was a propeller from a German plane which had been shot down.

Ater lunch we went to the men's barracks which was the largest building, and was still under construction. This building contained quarters for married officers. From there we went to the magazine which was old and dusty. Adjacent to the museum was the jail. It had six separate cells with iron doors and no windows. There was a sundial in the middle of the square. It was fun to try and tell the time on it.

At 2.30 p.m. we started home in the bus and arrived at Huntingdon Academy at 3 p.m. I liked it so well that I am going back with my family. In my opinion this is a most interesting way to study history.

UPPER CANADA VILLAGE

Wednesday, October 4th, at approximately 9 a.m., the students of Mrs. Rutherford's Grade, boarded a bus which left Huntingdon Academy destined for Upper Canada Village. If you were to ask any one of us in that bus we would say that we really enjoyed the trip. When we arrived at Upper Canada Village, we split into groups, each group chaperoned. Then, as we went through the gate, we stepped into the past. As we walked down the so-called Mill Street, we saw that we were in a village of the late 1700's or the early 1800's. The village consisted of a tavern, two churches, several different houses, a school-house, and several museums. For industries, they had a cheese factory, a sawmill and a woollen mill. The woollen mills they had then were certainly primitive compared with the ones nowadays!

Some of the things that I found the most interesting were the Crysler General Store and the Crysler Hall, the schoolmaster's house and the Glengarry School, also the Loyalist Farm House and the cabinet-maker's shop, the latter being run by an old cabinet-maker from France. He looked quaint with his sideburns and long bristly beard.

The Crysler Store fascinated me. The old crocks and barrels along with the antiquated coffee grinder had a unique air. Then we went on the Crysler Hall, which is a museum now. It displayed weapons, fashions and tools used in the past, as well as old relics such as letters.

How would you like to be a schoolmaster and have five or six boys boarding with you? The schoolmaster's house shows how it is done. We saw everything from aged books to paddleboards there.

I wonder how we would make out if we were dropped in a wilderness full of trees and had to make a home with nothing but a crude axe for a tool? The Loyalists started a nation that way. We saw how they did it when we visited the Loyalist Farm House. If I went back in a time machine, I don't think I would be able to do very much in the way of making a home!

If you've ever been to Upper Canada Village you know how interesting the Museum of Agriculture and Vehicles is. Old-fashioned farm machinery and transportation was what we viewed here. This was how our ancestors worked and travelled. Canoes, penny-farthing bicycles, bathtubs and sausage stuffers are not part of our life to-day.

We watched hostesses dressed in eighteenth century garb demonstrating the crafts of spinning and weaving at the McDiarmid House and the Ross-Boffin House.

How different from our modern textile machines today!

Much as I admire our bravehearted ancestors I am glad I live in 1967.

We arrived home at 3.10 p.m. convinced that the best history lesson is when you actually see what is going on.

Powerscourt

For the past five weeks Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Willock of Temple City, Los Angeles, Cal. (formerly of Montreal) have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Koski. During the period they made several trips to Expo and visited friends in Montreal and Ontario. They left on Thursday morning on their return trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Ross and Linda spent Sunday in Montreal visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milliard.

Mrs. E. M. Wood represented Powerscourt U.C.W. at the Fall Focus meeting held in Montreal West United Church on Thursday.

Supper guests on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. George Atcheson were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Atcheson, who celebrated their 42nd Wedding Anniversary.

Mrs. Michael Clarke of Toronto was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke.

BOOST FOR YOUR TIRES — A new kind of tire which may extend tread life by up to 75% over existing top lines is exciting the industry, according to W. I. Dack in the Financial Post in a special report from Akron, Ohio. Industry observers believe it has the inside track as the "big five" producers move toward a decision on fall production programs. There's one snag, The Financial Post writer points out considerably more materials and labor cost will go into the new tire, called the belted bias-ply. This will mean increased costs to the motorist of 30% - 40%. Another important decision for producers, The Financial Post says, has been what tire fibre to use. A fast-growing contender is polyester.

Academy Pupils Visit Expo

On Thursday, October 12th, a large group of students from Huntingdon Academy visited Expo.

Last school term the Commision decided to send all pupils from the secondary and elementary grades, with the exception of Grade One. The cost of the admission tickets and of transportation was born by the School.

The student body was divided into groups, the first visit being on May 8th, on June 2nd, and on June 7th, another June 8th and the last on June 14th. The trip on October 12th comprised all Grade 2 pupils, who it was felt by teachers were too young when they were in Grade 1 to send on an all day excursion of this nature, and all other students in the school who had been unable to attend last term.

As in the past, chaperones voluntereed to supervise the children for the day. Great credit is due these people, for without their help this kind of undertaking would not be possible. They were Mrs. W. R. Tannahill, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Robert Baker, Mrs. F. Thurston, Mrs. Calvin Carr, Mrs. George Blankers, Mrs. Winston Macfarlane, Mrs. D. McCoy, Mrs. Muriel Foers, Mrs. Warren Goodfellow, Mrs. Beaudin, Mrs. S. Hogg, Mrs. R. Ruddock and Miss A. MacIntosh.

The pupils divided into their respective groups upon arrival at Expo. Among the pavilions visited were those of Canada, Ontario, the United States, Maine, Telephone, Man in the Polar Regions, Russia, Britain, to mention only a few. Though the day was cold the children had a very good time, and arrived home tired, hungry but most excited ever their visit to Man and His World.

TAKE EXPO WITH YOU — What to buy the posh Expo Club interior? An electric railway? A theatre? Or a few acres of used carpeting? Frank Kaplan writes in the Financial Post that millions of dollars worth of buildings, art, equipment and decor will be coming up for sale at Expo — despite Mayor Jean Drapeau's plan to turn part of it into a permanent exhibition. (The Drapeau plan would involve 40 pavilions out of Expo's 80-plus. Total investment in Expo has been estimated at $750 million.) The Financial Post writer says that some businessmen already have started to sniff out good buys, but the whole matter of asset disposal still remains up in the air There's no master plan — not even a pattern. It's every buyer for himself right now. The Financial Post offers two points of advice to would-be inheritors of Expo assets: make your acquisitions legally, Expo is watching ... and don't bid sight unseen. That merchandise may not be what it used to be. Everything at Expo has been well-used by the millions of visitors.

Visit To St. Paul's Herdman By Canon Stanley Andrews

St. Paul's Church Herdman was thoughtfully supplied with vegetables fruit, grain and bread for Harvest Thanksgiving Service on Sunday afternoon last.

Canon Stanley Andrews, (Rector of St. Matthew's Church Hampstead, Monreal) as special preacher, expressed his keen appreciation for his visit to this Country Congregation, which he used to visit with his friends, the late Canon Hatcher and the late Ivan Heath back in 1942. He still appreciates the care and friendliness of the people. He said that he still likes the oil lamps, ready to be used!

Of his visit to this part of the Country — he said, "It 'bucked him up' to have a day in this part of the Country after his busy life in the city." Even the radiant Autumn colours are hardly realized there, but could not be missed here.

The Rector expressed his appreciation to those who had thoughtfully supplied the fruits of the Harvest for the Church and also to Canon Andrews for his visit and address. It reminded them of their ministry in another Church, somewhat like St. Paul's in which they had ministered in Pontiac County.

General Meeting of C.V.A.R.C. To Be Held November 7th

Following is a report of an Executive Meeting, held Tuesday, October 10th., at Huntingdon Academy, of the Chateauguay Valley Association for Retarded Children.

Four of the children were hosted at the two-week summer camp this year.

Nine students from Athelstan, Nitro, Elgin, Ormstown and Huntingdon are so far enrolled in this year's Gay Valley School, with another eight children being considered.

The annual general meeting will be held at 8 P.M. at the Huntingdon Academy on Tuesday, November 7th., when it is hoped that all members, parents and interested persons from the general public will attend.

Rotary Club Regular Meeting

Huntingdon Rotarians met for their regular weekly luncheon meeting at The Chateau at noon on Monday President Mac Brockman advised the members that the visit of District Governor Jack Hayes had been postponed until December 11th. Rotarian Jos. Lampron of the Valleyfield Club was in attendance. Mrs. Anne Cameron, President of Br. 81 of the Royal Canadian Legion and President of Huntingdon County Civic Centre has been invited to attend the next regular meeting when a cheque representing the proceeds of the recent Rotary-sponsored auction sale will be presented.

On motion of Rotarian Francois Cleyn, seconded by Rotarian Alister Somerville, authorization was approved to purchase two new wheelchairs with leg rests.

A special vote of thanks is tendered on behalf of Huntingdon Rotarians to Mr. Romain Menard who generously placed his new building on Henderson St., at the disposal of the Rotarians for the recent auction sale.

Rotarian R. L. Dick Tinker gave a brief report with regard to proceeds from the auction sale and Rotary treasurer George Thompson gave an interim report on the Club's finances to date.

Hemmingford

Mrs. George Winterbottom, Chazey, N.Y., spent Thursday with her friends, Mrs. Russell Williams.

Miss Arline Kilgour of Shawville, spen the past weekend at Hemmingford, the guest of Miss Dora Upton.

Presentations

Miss Dora Upton, accompanied by Miss Arline Kilgour, visiting teachers with the Department of Education, on Friday, October 13.h., attended a Reunion of members of the Department, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tetrault, in Pointe Claire, honouring four of its retired members, Mrs. Grace McCabe, Regional Technical Advisor and Librarian, Mr. G. Rockwell, Mr. W. Steeves, both Regional Technical Advisors, and Miss Dora Upton. A beautiful orchid corsage was presented to each of the ladies, white the men wore a white carnation boutonnière.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served after which Mr. Harold Young expressed the sentiments of the group present in his usual humorous manner. Following this, Dr. Howard Billings, former Associate Deputy Minister, now retired made presentations to, and gave a brief biography of, each of the honoured guests. Mrs. McCabe was presented with a bracelet and choice agate piece; to Miss Upton a beautiful Wittnauer gold wrist watch. Mr. Rockwell received fishing equipment, while Mr. Steeves became the proud owner of a transistor radio, all symbolizing the high esteem in which these people were held.

Editorial Notes..

Accidents – What Can We Do About Them?

It seems to us that so far this year there have been too many car accidents involving citizens of our area. They have occurred either within the territory or elsewhere. Not only have our citizens been involved in these accidents, but a number of them have lost their lives. Of the injuries, some have been of a serious nature while others have been less severe.

We have received a letter from a resident of St. Anicet who enclosed a number of clippings both of accidents, and to do with accidents. The Dorion school bus incident is contained in one of the clippings and reports that the same hazard exists today, despite the tragedy of the time — about one year ago. The trouble here of course is the railway crossing. Suggestions have been made for a bypass road over the tracks. Various excuses have been made why the work has not been started and so time goes on with the hazard remaining. It seems to us that a program for the steady removal of all railway crossings from highways should be implemented. This could be done in three ways — 1. take the tracks up over the roads; 2. take the road up over the tracks; 3. take the road under the tracks. Where rail lines have been discontinued, pull up the tracks and eliminate the crossings altogether. This sort of danger would then be removed.

The writer of the letter suggests that more teeth should be put into the laws which govern various facets of traffic regulation and so forth. That is, stiffer penalties and fines should be imposed when offenders are brought into court. It is also suggested that more police patrol the highways and crack down on offenders. In an article on "Why Accidents Happen", one paragraph gives the following: "Reports show that 62 per cent of the drivers involved in a fatal accident were violating a traffic law." Then — "In 1961, there were 800 railroad crossing accidents in rural areas; 425 in urban areas. Greatest killer: driver slowly being lulled into security by familiar pattern of no train. Death rate is high because: drivers can't see train smoke as they once could; trains are faster; schedules of trains aren't as frequent; increased car speeds and air-conditioning keep car windows closed, while heaters and radios screen sound of whistle. Grades and rolling terrain offer increased danger in the country. Every parent should make certain school bus drivers know they must always stop at railway crossings."

We have often said in this column that for the most part it is the driver who has to take the blame in an accident. It is something he has done, or not done, which caused the accident. Some people say it was a mechanical defect on the car. Who is responsible for this? Should the driver not inspect his car from time to time and if he knows there is a defect, he should lose no time in having it remedied. This, therefore, is no excuse. The car will only do as the driver decides. If it is going fast, breaking speed limits, it is because the driver so wishes it. If the car rounds a corner, or curve, too fast, and goes out of control, the driver is to blame, not the car. He is supposed to be experienced enough to know when to slacken his speed in the interests of safety. Like the mechanical man in the Wizard of OZ, a car doesn't have a brain. It is a piece of machinery entirely controlled by the person in the driver's seat.

Today, there are too many youngsters driving high powered cars on our roads. They delight in speed and in showing off. They lack responsibility to handle the high powered machine to safety standards. They may have fast reflexes, but they lack good judgment. They have insufficient knowledge of the machine they are handling. To them it is something to show their friends how fast it will go and how well they think they handle it.

Added to this is an even greater menace and that is that many of these young people call in at hotels and imbibe alcoholic drinks and then attempt to drive home in the early hours of the morning. Our friend from St. Anicet feels that here again more police checking should be done and more investigation should be made. This is especially so when an accident is involved. Perferably it is felt that a check should be made of the hotels and taverns much more often to see who is in them and what they are doing.

Our letei writer also suggests that more attention should be paid to all intersections to see that unobstructed views in all directions can be obtained. This applies to country roads especially, where brush is allowed to grow up at corners. Attention is also called to people on bicycles not carrying the proper lights. School buses which have stopped to load or unload passengers are still ignored by a number of drivers, who just pass on. The Ste. Barbe intersection with Highway No. 3 comes in for criticism also, especially when cars are coming from the Valleyfield direction and going into Ste. Barbe. There is a danger here of cars coming from Highway No. 3 and going in the direction of Valleyfield being involved in collision with cars travelling from Valleyfield and going to Ste. Barbe. Several accidents have occurred here. It would seem that a warning light might be the best at this point and a slow down signal. The trees along some of the roads and highways are also dealt with. In some cases such trees should be removed in the interests of safety. They are too near the highway and this is especsially so when on a curve or at the bottom of a hill. Icy or slippery roads could cause a car to swerve into the trees and an accident could happen, which would be avoidable if the tree was not there. The writer belives that such hazards should be examined by the Road Dept. and removed in the interests of traffic safety and the possible saving of lives.

Driver education in our schools is gradually becoming part of the regular school curriculum. In some places where they already have this, it is reported there is a decided reduction in the number of accidents involving young drivers. As it appears that we shall have young drivers, perhaps it would be better to make driving and so forth a part of the regular education of today. We also believe that the law should be more strict in the case of serious and fatal accidents. If the driver of a car in such an acident has escaped, then his license should be cancelled for some time to come if he is found to be to blame for causing the accident. Any infractions of the law which show negligence, such as speeding and reckless driving, should be dealt with in the same way. Only in this manner will we be able to control the number of accidents. In the case of young drinking drivers, full investigation right back to the source of supply should be instituted so that others indirectly involved will be made to feel more responsible.

Separatism Still Complex

The two major political parties in Quebec are now trying to make themselves clear on the matter of separatism. There are of course radicals in each of the parties and there are those of more rational thinking.

We have had a couple of statements from Premier Johnson on what his party really stands for and what he will do if he continues in office. Both of these statements tend away from any separatist plan. However he still maintains that some changes will have to be made to allow greater control over the affairs of the Province.

The past week the Quebec Liberals have been meeting in convention and two propositions were placed before the gathering. René Levesque wants a separate state of Quebec but remaining within the Confederation. Eric Kierans wants the overthrow of all forms of separatism.

The Federal Government is making a close study of the agreements reached between the Province of Quebec and France. It is believed that some or all of these agreements violate the rights of the Federal jurisdiction and require consultation with the French Government to rectify them.

One group has announced that 85% of the population of the Province of Quebec is against separatism.

The question of the rights of French-speaking people living outside the Province of Quebec in other parts of Canada, does not seem to be greatly affected by the separatist movement. It seems they have taken up the Canadian way of life wherever they reside and are happy as they are. They have their own freedoms for religion, speech and so forth and they can follow their own culture as they wish in their homes and among their friends. Apparently they are satisfied with their life as it is. Many of them have good positions, comfortable homes and other necessities of the modern world. In any event they are not suffering want or privation to any greater extent than other citizens of Canada.

It is time that our various governments and political parties took the rational view and denounced separatism for what it is and what it could be. For the Province of Quebec to become an identity of its own could only end in failure, despite any help that might be obtained from France. There are so many factors which have to be considered before even attempting a separation. The general feeling among those who would seek some form of separatism is that in some way Quebec must remain in the Confederation. How this would be possible is something which defies us at the moment. It seems quite clear that these people know that without the mothering arms of Canada, Quebec could not survive a fact that is gradually reaching the governing officials who are beginning to realize that a halt must be called of the trend toward separatism. But more has to be done. These officials must realize too that as Canadians they have to so legislate that Canada prospers and does not fall in pieces by the wayside; that individualism cannot override collectivism. What is done in Canada must be done together and not separately.

The subject of separatism is being brought to a head, the peak has not yet been reached. A lot can happen in the days to come before we all settle down and take a calmer view of things.

SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

NOW FOR A SNOOZE

You think you're tired? I've been home for three days from my second trip to Expo, and I'm still whimpering with fatigue.

Any Expo trip is a backbreaker, but when you are sheperding a gaggle of teen agers, it's gruelling You wind up a three-day trip with blistered feet, hollow eyes and the stunning realization that you are really, at last, over the hill.

Picture your faithful correspondent lurching out of bed at 6 a.m., to catch the bus at seven. Repulsive, isn't it? But you should have seen the same body some 21 hours later, after a nine-hour bus trip, hours of trudging the asphalt of Expo, and more hours of getting the kiddies to bed. And to sleep. Some of those "kiddies" are 20 years old.

It was past the repulsive state by then, and was merely pitiable. We averaged 19 hours a day in action, five in bed.

It wasn't all that bad, though. It seldom is. As usual, 97 percent of the kids came through with flying colors. We didn't lose a single body, and they were punctual at the buses, which floored me completely.

It was the other three percent, of course, who made the jaunt somewhat less than a picnic. One bird on my bus got into the booze, barfed all over the back seat and floor of the bus. He did it so quietly that we didn't find out about it until morning.

He was torn into small strips and given the job of cleaning out all the buses. He was a lamb for the rest of the trip.

Three little guys in Grade 9 went to the Tunisian restaurant for a meal. It cost them $21. They gleefully admitted as how the carafe of wine they had with dinner might have put the price up a bit.

What surprised me was the calibre of the culprits. On my bus I had a pretty tough crew. Mostly Grade 12 tech boys. I had along my rhinoceros-hide whip, my brass knuckles, sandbag and the special revolver which shoots tranquillizer darts. Didn't need anything. They were angels.

Real trouble-makers were the so-called "leaders" of the school. Whether it was sheer giddiness from exhaustion, or a desire to show off, I don't know. But, I told one of them in my most ferocious manner, they were acting like old maids who have had their first martini.

We got the 75 boys "settled down" in one huge dormitory about 1.30 a.m. the first night. At three I was awakened. Nipped out and caught two seniors sneaking in the back door.

Pointed a trembing (with rage) forefinger at one and said, "Kelly. Do you want a one-way ticket home tomorrow, with a phone call preceding it?"

"Nossir."

"Well, that's what you're going to get, and that goes for anybody else who even peeps like a little bird."

Miracle. They went off to sleep. It wasn't exactly visions of sugar-plums dancing in their heads. It was visions of enraged parents and an irate principal.

Second night, boys were bushed and it was the girls who goofed around half the night, giggling, singing and talking. My own daughter was right in the thick of it, and looked like a ghost at breakfast.

But it was a good trip, all in all. A kink here and there, to be ironed out. We learned a lot. One thing: keep them starved. Stop for food, and it doesn't matter whether they're on their last legs. You'd swear Gabriel had just blown the trumpet. They come to life with a vengeance and yack, sing and horse about as though they'd been given speed pills.

About Expo. It's losing its gloss. With the season nearing its end, the staff is growing steadily more surly and sloppy. Can't blame them. The excitement has worn off, the big show is losing its momentum, and most of them are bored silly with their jobs.

Found my son, anyway. Appropriately enough, he's working in a building where they have monkey cages. We spent a happy half-hour watching the monkeys. As usual, he was broke. As usual, I was took.

By FRANK NAPIER

Deeply Impressed

Says an item in "By The Way", in a recent issue of Farming News (of Scotland):

"I have suddenly developed a warm feeling of sympathy for any stock kept on slatted floors.

"At the Thornber Poultry Farm Fair, the audience sat on a new type of chair; the seats made of 2 inch wide slats, set from side to side with about 1 inch of space between.

"I rose, cautiously, my rump heavily barred and with an acute consciousness for the previous two hours of a strong, very chilly up-through draught.

"Forewarned, from now on I carry a light-weight foam cushion to all public meetings — just in case.'

Calf Raising

Perhaps not practical over here, but the following may be of passing interest.

A recent issue of The Scottish Farmer carries a report regarding a calf rearing scheme which has been adopted in the Speyside area of Northern Scotland. (The Spey is one of the largest North of Scotland rivers and from its Inverness-shire place of origin it traverses Morayshire (Elgin) and Banffshire on its way to the Moray Firth, an inlet of the North Sea.)

The article headed "Breeder-Feeder Calf Link", reads in part: "A unique link between upland calf breeders (that is on so-called hill grazing farms) on Speyside and low ground cereal farmers in Morayshire with empty cattle courts was initiated at a Grantown meeting. A dozen breeders started a voluntary scheme which they hope will help to avoid last year's situation when many 'second' calves sold below production cost.

"Rearers will retain ownership of their calves. After Granton calf sales each rearer will send two or three stots (steers) of 3½ - 4 cwt (a cwt = 112 lbs.) to Hamish White's Cattle courts at Cassieford, Forres (Morayshire): a ration will be fed to secure a daily liveweight gain of 1¼ lb. from mid-October to mid-April, when a special sale will be held at Elgin or Forres.

In Memoriam

DONNELLY—In loving memory of our dear grandmother, Dora Bell, who departed this life October 22, 1960.

"No one hears the door
that opens
When they pass beyond
the call.
Soft as the dropping petals
on a rose
One by one our loved ones
fall.
But the memory of each loved one
Like the fragrance of a rose
God sends to linger with us,
Till our own life's door
shall close."

Always remembered by Granddaughter Mae, Paul
and children

RENNIE — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Johnny, who passed away October 21, 1962.

"We often speak of days gone by
When we were all together,
A shadow o'er our lives
has cast,
Our loved one's gone forever."

Sadly missed and aiways remembered by Mommy, brothers, Bruce,
Steven and Frankie

In Memoriam

HEBERT — In loving memory of a dear son and brother Roger (Pappy) who died accidentally October 21, 1962.

"Please God, forgive a silent
tear.
A constant wish that he was here.
You have taken others,
yes I know,
But he was our son,
we loved him so.
We often sit and think of him,
The things he used to say
and do,
And wonder why he had to die,
Without a chance to say goodbye.
So dear God please take this message,
To our Pappy up above,
Tell Him that we miss him,
And give him all our love.
Loved and sadly missed by
Mamma, Papa, brother and sisters.

HEBERT — In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle Roger (Pappy) who died accidentally October 21, 1962.

"Five sad and lonely years
have passed,
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock we received that morning
No one can tell.
God gave use the strength
to meet it,
And the courage to bear
the blow.
But what it meant to lose
you, Pappy,
No one will ever know.
It's lonely here without you.
We miss you more each day,
For life is not so dear to us
Since you were called away.
Loved and sadly missed by

Roof Raising Bee At Franklin Centre Church Of The Nazarene

Top photo shows John Forget, one of the church trustees, guiding a 900 pound laminated beam into place. The beams were raised by ten men who contrived a method to lift them. The building has been constructed to this point entirely by volunteer labour. It will be used as a sanctuary for worship. The old school house adjoining, which is now used for worship services, will be remodelled for Sunday School facilities including a nursery. The lower photo is of six laymen as they spike cedar decking on roof beams, and nail shingles in place to complete roof of new church. The men shown working here are Colvin Watt, John Forget, Norman Stevenson, Brian Smith, Keith Dickenson, and Wesley Johnson. Also working on the roof-raising project were Gordon Brooks, Nelson Middlemiss, Sterling Stevenson, and the pastor, Rev. Harley Bye. The new unit has a full basement which is designed to be used for youth activities and social gatherings.

Obituary

Mr. A. R. Santoire

It was with deep regret that we learned of the passing of Mr. A. R. Santoire, of St Chrysostome, on September 27, 1967 at the Hotel-Dieu Hospital in Montreal after 7 years of illness.

Born in 1887, Mr. Santoire studied at Mont-Saint-Louis College. In 1912, he was married to Hélène Laberge. Mr. Santoire operated a general store in St-Chrysostome for over fifty years. Since 1952, Mr. Santoire has not worked due to ill health, but still took a keen interest in the local activities as well as in his friends and customers.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, a brother Me Roméo Santoire, a sister-in-law Madeleine Parrot, a cousin, Rose Alba Santoire of Howick, sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbrod Laberge, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Laberge of Sherbrooke, Dr. and Mrs. G. G. Laberge of Montreal, Miss Alice Laberge and Mrs. Violette R. Beaudin of Valleyfield, many nephews and nieces.

The funeral was held from the Lionel Demers funeral parlor to the Parochial Church Saturday at 3 p.m. Fathers Claude and Fernand Laberge of Sherbrooke, his nephews officiated at the ceremony. He was buried in the family plot.

Sympathy is extended to all members of the family.

Ormstown Scouts To Hold Sale Of Light Bulbs

The Scouts of Ormstown are holding a sale of Light Bulbs on Saturday, October 21st, to gather funds for their activities. Citizens of Ormstown are asked to patronize the Scouts when they call to offer these light bulbs. It is an article that is constantly needed and oftentimes we are out of a bulb just when one cannot be obtained. Get some from the Scouts and have them on hand for emergencies.

Women Of The Moose Active In Valleyfield

On October 1st., The Women of the Loyal Order of the Moose, Chapter 1560, Valleyfield, initiated many new members. This initiation was presided over by Mrs. Albina Menard, Regent, also by her co-workers Mrs. Laura Debray, junior regent; Reina Leger, grad. Regent; Therese Derepentigny, Chaplain; Muriel Plante, recorder; Jeannine Durocher, tres.; and her nine Chairmen.

It was very colorful to see, as all the women who took part in the initiation, wore long dresses.

We also had women of the Massena Chapter who gave us a demonstration of their drill band under the direction of Mrs. Budway of Massena, N.Y.

"Thanks a lot girls we certainly appreciated it". The men of the lodge were invited to see the drill band and they certainly thought it was wonderful.

A splendid supper was served followed by a dance with the Blue Birds orchestra. Every body had a wonderful time and all were pleased with the day they had spent.

On October 28th, we will be having a Masquerade Dance everybody is invited, so please come.

ORMSTOWN BANK MANAGER JACK TAYLOR'S MOTHER HAS PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Mabel Taylor, widow of John Henry Taylor, died at the Brockville General hospital, Tuesday morning, October 10, at the age of 89. She had been in hospital for the past 14 months and in poor health for the past two years.

She had resided with her daughter, Miss Kitty Taylor, at 43 King Street west, and was born in Chesterfield, England, September 12, 1878, a daughter of the late Joseph Savage and his wife, the former Mary Broomhead.

Mrs. Taylor came to Canada with her husband 59 years ago living in Montreal for 19 years. She had resided in Brockville for the past 40 years. Her husband, a public accountant, predeceased her on June 14, 1955.

She was a member of St. Peter's Anglican church and in former years, when her health permitted, had been active in church work. She was also a former valued member of the General Brock chapter of the IODE.

Well known and highly regarded, she leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn her passing.

She is survived by three daughters and one son, Miss Catherine (Kitty) Taylor of Brockville, Mrs. Mary Johnson of Montreal and Mrs. Paul Morrier (Gladys), Reg.N., of Ste-Agathe, and Jack Taylor of Ormstown, as well as four grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral service was held Thursday afternoon, October 12th, at St. Peter's Anglican church. Interment followed in the family plot in Oakland cemetery.

Brockville, Ont.

"Breeders will provisionally pay at the rate of 19s. 6d. (nineteen shilling and sixpence) per month to the feeder, subject to costings.

"Breeders will pay an entry fee of £1 as a form of group insurance against calf loss, for initial veterinary inspection and any treatment, and to cover the small administration cost."

(By the way, Speyside has long been noted for its Salmon fishing, likewise for its Distilleries from whence come many popular brands of Scotch Whisky. It is therefore also a great barley growing district).

Brighter Future

No, this is not intended to be in anyways a "down-grading" of other than Ayrshire cattle. Just for the information (and perhaps encouragement) of the Ayrshire cattlemen in this area, about what their compatriots in the homeland of their breed are thinking or doing.

Quoting an article in the September 29, 1967 issue of Farming News (of Scotland), which is headed: "Brighter Future for Ayrshires Forecast."

"An increasing number of Ayrshires in the national dairy herd was forecast by Mr. R. L. Forrest, president of the Ayrshire Cattle Society at the demonstration of the B. & M. Sunley Ayrshire herd at Ashton, Northants. And, he said, his conjectures were supported by the recent 'fantastic' swing back to Ayrshire inseminations in Scotland.

"There were several reasons for the swing, said Mr. Forrest. One was the national dairy outlook which indicated that producers' price for milk could be diluted considerably. Part or all of any loss could be expected to be made good by the higher quality premiums gained by Ayrshire milk.

"Another was the fall in the price of bull calves. That meant 'we are coming back to consider the efficiency of the dairy cow herself — a point which perhaps we should never have left. We with Ayrshires are well placed to provide efficient dairy cows', he said.

"A recent controlled feeding trial at the East of Scotland College of Agriculture has shown that Ayrshire cows weighing 9¼ cwt. (say 1,036 lbs.) had given more than Friesians weighing 12¼ cwt (say 1,372 lbs.) That seems to show that extra weight of cow is not maintained on fresh air. It needs quite an amount of feed.

"A third reason for the swing was the capital economy of the Ayrshire. She will eat less all along the line and when we come to the cow we have a lower capital investment. In these days of capital difficulties, it must be worthwhile to keep down capital involved in a dairy unit and to get the best return from it:" (end of quote).

It was also interesting to note that, according to Farming News, the demonstration on the Sunley herd was unique on being on a herd which has been deliberately reduced in size rather than increased. Ten years ago 150 cows were milked in the three sheds with a total dairy staff of seven. Silage and more concentrates were the basic feeds and the bills were high.

"Now 80 cows are milked in one double cowshed by two men. One man looks after the young stock and a fourth acts as relief, although all work out on the farm. All heifers are reared for the herd which is within sight of a 1000-gallon average of 4 per cent butterfat and third and fourth calves are now sold out. Last year certain stock brought in £2,742.

"The changes also meant that 206 acres of the 540 acre farm are now ploughed. A 100 acres of wheat are sold and 80 acres of barley and 20 of oats are fed during the winter with a bought-in protein concentrate. Six acres of kale are fed before Christmas.

"Vet bills for illnesses have been practically nil in the last 18 months. Seed bills are next to nothing as well. Moreover, the farm now runs 250 (Scottish) half-bred ewes which produce early lambs by a Suffork ram. The sheep and heifers follow the cows around a paddock-grazing system in which moderate amounts of fertilizer are used."

Chiropody for Cattle

(From The Scottish Farmer). "Chiropody for cattle is the occupation of David Denny, Obney Croft, Bankfoot, Perthshire (Scotland). Care of hoofs is an important part of a cattle-beast's health and Mr. Denny's skilled services are in growing demand throughout a wide area of Scotland.

"This week, for instance, he is off on his fifth or sixth trip to Dumfries. In Angus he has been as far north as Montrose, and the Land Rover (car or jeep) and the fully equipped 'surgery' trailer with which he responds to calls are well-known throughout Perthshire and Fifeshire."

EDMUND REID AND THE CBC

Edmund (ED!) Reid recently joined Pat Paterson as Cohost of Trans Canada Matinee, heard Monday to Friday on the National hook-up, C.B.C. (2.30 p.m. - 4.00 p.m.).

For many years he and his two brothers spent much of their spare time at "The Old Mill House" with their parents, the Reids of Dewittville. The and one half acres next the latter had acquired the one Mill at Dewittville, originally part of the property owned by the McArthur family.

After graduation from McGill Edmund worked for nine years with the Crawley Film Company in Ottawa and became a producer. He then joined the C.B.C. and gained experience in radio and T.V. work. After a round-the-world trip on his own during which he spent some time in the near-east he became a free-lancer with the C.B.C. and had many interesting assignments on several programs. In announcing the crisp young philosophy and new look of "Matinee", a longtime favourite radio programme, "C.B.C. Times" observed "Ed and Pat are two of the best professionals in the business, with a nice, clean style free of banalities."

Part of Crossroads To Be Open Oct. 28

The Crossroads at Moira, one of the best known restaurants in the East, will informally open one of its dining areas on Saturday, October 28th.

The delay was caused by delivery complications on refrigeration equipment.

The Fountain Room will open along with the Café de la Paix Lounge, on the 28th.

The complete dining complex featuring the new Parisian room will formally open on Nov. 4th.

The Bowling Center and Coffee Shop that was completely destroyed by fire will open about November 20th.

The new dining areas have been completely redecorated and will be one of the most modern in the East.

The motel escaped damage and is open for business.

ON POLLUTION OF LAKE ST. FRANCIS

The following which has been translated from a French version which appeared in "Letters to the Editor" in La Presse, the past week gives a further impression of the pollution of Lake St. Francis. As was pointed out in these columns a month or so ago, it is time something was done about this pollution of our lakes and rivers. Words have had their fling — now how about some action after the letter has been read.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I recently read an article written by a newspaperman who came back to our country after a five year absence. In his article he described the bad condition in which he has found the St. Lawrence River when he came back; from its mouth to Cornwall, via Montreal and lake St. Francis.

I am a proprietor of a summer camp located on that lake, which is a widening of the St. Lawrence a few miles from Montreal and I agree entirely with him to say that we must get rid of the thousands of dead fish, which are killed, sometimes jagged by the turbines of the hydro water plant at Cornwall. Those dead fish follow the current to float on the lake waters and pollute them. Something must be done also to solve the problem of the tons of sea-weeds which spoil our beaches and shores.

Eight years ago the water around our property was clear while now according to the Provincial health department which we have consulted, the same water has become a health hazard. What is the use of building a summer residence on the shore of Lake St. Francis and to spend a small fortune to beautify the grounds? A neighboring property valued at $40,000 was sold recently for $22,000. You may think it is a nice amount. Yes, but what a loss for the one who sold. The reason for it? Dead fish and tons of seaweeds.

What to do in such a case? We can not go on strike nor sell a property which is unsalable, so what? We must bear it as advised by all the authorities who have been consulted? But could not those authorities, municipal, provincial and federal take their responsibilities and see to it that Cornwall does what is necessary to prevent the dead fish and the tons of garbage from their industries and their town from coming down on the waves and reaching our banks where they rot and become a public danger? Could they not also see to it that the federal government rid us of the surplus of weeds brought by the seaway?

There is much talk about protecting our natural resources here in Quebec. What are we waiting for in a case like this one? That the waters of beautiful lake St. Francis are completely polluted? And then say that it is the neighbour's fault. Why not start complaining now and see to it that the problem is solved before it is too late?

Let us hope that the apathy of our government be replaced very soon by a will "to get to the bottom of things" and to see that the necessary steps are taken to preserve for La Belle Province one of its greatest resources, that is one of the most beautiful tourist centres of the province.

A summer resident.

Lacolle

LACOLLE — Mesdames A. Hannah, D. Edward, D. Robinson and E. Robinson, attended a bridal shower, given in honour of Miss Geraldine De Moss at the home of Mrs. G Curry, Pointe Claire, on Tuesday evening.

Those attending the Edward De Moss wedding from Lacolle on Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Edward, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hannah, Mr. and Mrs. Art. Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. Don Robinson. The wedding took place at Ile Perrot.

Miss Rosmond Gill and Mr. Paul Gendell of Claremont, N.H., spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Boyse and attended Expo.

Lt. Col. Rodney and Mrs. Davenport and family of Pettawawa, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. David VanVliet.

Mrs. Donald Hebb and Stephanie of Montreal, spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. C. Hewson the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson and Miss L. E. Keddy visited relatives in Ormstown, on Sunday.

Interesting Guest

An interesting guest for the past week at the Sherwood Boyse home, has been Miss Hazel Astbury of Australia. Miss Astbury, who is a doctor's daughter and a dental technician by profession, left home in 1965. She landed in Vancouver, bought a very fine horse and has riden over 4,000 miles since. She crossed the Prairie Provinces to Winnipeg. Then to Minnesota, U.S.A. and spent the winter there. In May she started for Expo. She is very slight, only weighing 90 lbs., and is thirty-five years old. She now plans her return journey.

"What Is Done With God's Share"

Canon Stanley Andrews was special preacher at the Harvest Thanksgiving Service in St. John's Church last Sunday morning. He asked this question "What is done with God's share of the Harvest?" The whole of the Harvest is His. Yet He needs none of it and man cannot survive without it. Yet He asks people to give at least a tenth of Income to show that all is His. The tenth or more is to be used to help others in His Church or in the world.

In the congregation were many friends whom he made in 1942, when he was a Military Chaplain here. There were others present who knew him from elsewhere and attended this special Service.

The Church was strikingly supplied with the colourful vegetables, fruit and bread symbolizing the Harvest, for which the Service is held as an act of Thanksgiving.

Flowers were placed on the altar, by Mrs. Bessie Heath to the Glory of God and in loving memory of the late Ivan Heath, who was a close friend of Canon Andrews.

The Rev. A. M. Reid of Dewittville assisted the Rector, the Rev. P. R. Stote in the conduct of the service. He expressed his appreciation to all who supplied the fruit, vegetables and bread to the church for this special Service and expressed welcome and appreciation to Canon Andrews for his visit.

Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

On Saturday, Sept. 23rd, an "At Home" was held in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Graham's 50th wedding anniversary, at the home of their son, Mervyn, at the Gore.

During the afternoon and evening more than 160 relatives, neighbours, and friends called on the "bride and groom" of 50 years ago and signed the Golden Guest Book.

The tea table was centred by a beautifully decorated three tiered wedding cake and gold candles. The living room was prettily decorated with gold streamers, a large golden 50 and flowers.

Willie and Eva had been married on Sept. 19, 1917 at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, of the Gore.

It was interesting to note that there were three groups of four generations all present at the same time on Saturday evening.

Friends from a distance who attended the celebration were from Princeton, New Jersey, Ottawa, Knapsag, Sask, Chateaugay, Burke and Malone, N.Y. and Chateauguay, Que.

Howick

HOWICK — A wedding reception party in honour of Archie and Nancy Brown was held in Robidoux Dance Hall, on Saturday evening, October 14th. On arrival, Nancy was presented with a corsage, Archie a boutonnière. A large attendance of friends, neighbours and relatives expressed their good wishes to Archie and Nancy following the Grand March.

The gathering enjoyed dancing to the Music of the Meltones and a friend Mrs. Bart Gilles of Cornwall, entertained by singing favourite songs.

Following lunch Harold Brown called on Clarence Kerr who extended the good wishes of the gathering and Whiteford McKell presented them with a gift of money, to which Archie expressed thanks on behalf of Nancy and himself. Relatives present from a distance were Archie and Patsy Nugent of Kinnear's Mills.

Auxiliary Meeting

The Georgetown Evening Auxiliary met on Thursday evening, October 12th., at the home of Mrs. Robert Barr. 17 members answered the roll call. Mrs. Ross Elliot opened the meeting, Mrs. J. Tillotson led the prayer, Mrs. Murray McCartney had the Scripture reading. Mrs. Norman Simms read the minutes of the last meeting. It was decided to send in $25.00 toward the allocation. The meeting closed repeating the Lord's prayer. Lunch was served by the hostess and the lunch committee, Mrs. McCartney and Mrs. Tillotson.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Struck, Preston, Ont., spent the weekend at his aunt's home, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leblanc.

Laymen assisted with the service at Howick United Church on Sunday morning. Kenneth Younie read the Scripture Lesson, Donald Templeton gave the Children's Story. The minister, Rev. John S. Anderson preached a powerful sermon on the subject, "Ambassadors For Christ".

"If we as Christians do not have something positive to offer to the world we had better stop calling ourselves Christians and let the Church dwindle into complete sentility as it most assuredly will.

But if we, like Paul, have entered into this new creation if we have experienced the power of God in the person of Jesus Christ, if we know the saving, reconciling power of that Man of Galilee to enter our lives and to give them purpose, direction and meaning, to change them from fragmented, broken things into a glorious unity, where life is rich, exciting and abundant — then we have a message the world is longing to hear."

Mrs. Melville Brown, Mrs. Robert B. Tolhurst, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Math McKell and Mrs. John S. Anderson attended the Fall Rally of U.C.W. in Montreal on Thursday of last week.

R. Bruce Ness, Champion plowman of a few years back, enjoyed the 54th International Plowing Match, held at Barrie, Ont., where he met many friends and was a guest at the home of his daughter and her family — the Warnicas.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunn of Los Angeles and Miss Elsie Younie of Montreal, visited with Mr. and Mrs. James D. Lang over the week-end.

Aubrey-Riverfield

AUBREY - RIVERFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gruer and Jenifer of Lindsay, Ont., were Thanksgiving week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gruer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Green, David, Tommy and Scott of Brampton, Ont., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gruer.

Miss Elsie Gruer and Mrs. Gertie Grey, who were week-end guests of Mrs. Gertrude Craig were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Gruer when they entertained at a family gathering on Thanksgiving Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tanner and Loraine and Linda Thevaites of Toronto spent Thanksgiving week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Goundrey and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. McComb, Dewittville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Milne, Cynthia, Heather and Alexander spent Thanksgiving week-end in Fredericton, N.B.

Miss Cathie Gruer, who is attending Bishop's University spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gruer and acted as bridesmaid for her cousin, Miss Nancy Ness whose marriage to Mr. Ross Peddie took place in Georgetown Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jackson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Craig enjoyed a trip recently through New York State and called on Mr. John Black at Tupper Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Martin and two girls from Calgary spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Craig.

Miss Gail Allen has just returned home from an enjoyable two-week's holiday in Norfolk, Virginia.

Mrs. Hazel Lambton and her daughter, Beverley and Miss Esther Smith of Montreal were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allen.

W. I. Meeting

Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. met at the home of Mrs. George Kees on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 5.

Following the opening Ode and Collect the President Mrs. Math McKell welcomed two guests Mrs. Lang and Mrs. McComb.

Sixteen members answered the Roll Call by naming different ways in which wheat comes to our table.

A special collection was taken for Coupon 390.

It was decided to give prizes to Grades VI and VII this year to the pupils who made the greatest improvement.

Another life member will be made during the Centennial year.

Citizenship Convener, Mrs. Easton, spoke of the new postal rate on first class mail, and also made some comments on the bus strike in Montreal.

Education, Mrs. Everett Orr, read an article about making a front line attack to recognize child problems. She also spoke of the opening of the new Chateauguay Valley Regional School on Sept. 18. and showed pictures of the arrival of the buses, etc.

Welfare and Health, Mrs. Walsh warned about using too many antibiotics. Many doctors are misusing them and some people are allergic to them.

Publicity, Mrs. Johansson, spoke about bogus advertising. People read about wonderful cures and prescribe for themselves which can be very dangerous.

Home Economics, Mrs. Osborne Orr named many uses for Aluminum foil — protecting little trees and roses, silverware, brown sugar, cheese, toasted sandwiches, to prevent burning things on a hot plate, etc. She also spoke of a spray to be used on food when storing which can be eaten along with the food.

Mrs. Math McKell had the 3rd study of the provinces and gave a most interesting talk on Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Melbourne Stacey read a lovely poem about Autumn.

Mrs. Robert Templeton then introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. J. D. Lang, who gave some very informative hints on planting bulbs and caring for many kinds of plants, shrubs and flowers. Mrs. Melbourne Stacey, convener of Agriculture, thanked Mrs. Lang for her helpful suggestions and hoped we would all have better gardens next year.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem. UNICEF cards were ordered and a mystery parcel donated by Mrs. Walsh was won by Mrs. Wolodarsky.

Delicious refreshments were enjoyed served by Mrs. Kees, Mrs. Everett Orr and Mrs. Melbourne Stacey.

Silver Wedding

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary party in honour of Edgar and Joyce McKell was held in Robidoux Dance Hall, on Friday evening, Oct. 6th.

A large attendance of friends, neighbours and relatives enjoyed dancing to music by the Meltones.

On arrival they were greeted by their family and Joyce was presented with a corsage and Edgar a boutonnière.

Following the lunch period, Whiteford McKell, as Master of Ceremonies, expressed congratulations and best wishes. He called on the following to speak, Eldon Orr, Thyra Tolhurst who presented the couple on behalf of Edgar's family with a silver teapot, creamer and sugar bowl. Donald McKell who presented them on behalf of Joyce's family with a silver tray; and Kenneth Sutton on behalf of the gathering with a gift of money.

Both Edgar and Joyce replied expressing thanks to those who organized the party, to all who came to help celebrate their anniversary and for the gifts.

The bridal table was centered with a wedding cake made by Marna Brown and decorated by Laura Brown.

Those at the head table were Whiteford and Jennie McKell, Maude Cunningham, bridesmaid, her husband Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McKell.

Those of the immediate family who were not present were Luella and Willis Anderson of Hamilton and Dorothy and Derek Munnery of Waldwick, New Jersey.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

On Saturday evening about one hundred neighbours, relatives and friends gathered in Riverfield Curling Club to celebrate Olive and Wallace Craig's 25th Wedding Anniversary.

Little Joyce Craig presented a corsage of rose buds and carnations to her mother and a boutonnière to her father. Mrs. Margaret Angell played the Wedding March as they entered.

After everyone had expressed their congratulations seven games of Euchre were enjoyed, the winners being Mrs. John Bustard and Mr. Meryl McFarlane. The consolation went to Mrs. Stewart Carmichael and Mr. Wilburn Anderson.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with baskets of dahlias from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robertson.

8he head table was centered with a beautiful anniversary cake and candles and seated around it were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robertson, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Carmichael. Mr. Stewart Carmichael extended best wishes from the gathering and then called on Rev. Brown, Mervyn Craig, Donald McKell, Burton Reddick and Richard Tanner to say a few words.

Kenneth Roy and Leslie Orr then presented their uncle and aunt on behalf of all the friends with a well filled envelope.

Olive and Wallace each thanked everyone for the pleasant evening and all their kindness.

Following the singing of "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" all departed wishing Olive and Wallace many more years of happiness.

Pennies For UNICEF At Hallowe'en

As for the past several years, the children of Ormstown will go out on Hallowe'en with their collection cans for UNICEF. They will ask for Hallowe'en gifts by way of "Pennies for UNICEF". It has become a popular way of collecting funds for the needy children of the world on an occasion which is typically a children's night. It also teaches the children to share in gifts with other less unfortunate children to share in gifts with other less fortunate children throughout the world.

Hallowe'en is considered a time for treats and usually the people are quite generous in handing out the treats. The children come home well loaded down with apples, oranges, nuts and candies of all kinds. The people are asked to extend their generosity a little farther by putting some small change into the UNICEF cans which the children will have with them.

Ormstown has always contributed well to this fund and it is hoped the people will do so again this year.

Powerscourt

FLUORIDATION FOR THE TOWN OF CHATEAUGUAY

After over a year's debate and study, the council of the Town of Chateauguay last week voted unanimously in favour of the fluoridation of the Town's supply of drinking water.

In the course of the past year, the opinions of all Chateauguay doctors and dentists have been sought. All have replied that they favour fluoridation for Chateauguay. One reservation was expressed, namely that there might be a relatively minor unfavourable but temporary effect on the aged section of the population.

The motion was proposed by Alderman Bill Sottiaux and seconded by Alderman Phil Bonneau. All votes cast were in favour of the motion.

A By-Law will be introduced in the near future for a relatively minor expansion in water supply, and tenders will be called for a contract which will include the supply of fluoride in total municipal water supply, including the water sold under contract to the Towns of Chateauguay Centre and Chateauguay Heights.

Estimated cost of the installation of fluoridation equipment is $6,000, and the annual operating cost has been estimated at 15 cents per head of population, or approximately $7,000 per annum for the area served by the Town's water supply.

The cost of fluoridation will be borne by the community at large, as part of the General Budget.

Fluoridation, wherever it has been introduced in Western countries, has invariably been accompanied by widespread and, frequently, emotional and illogical debate. Leading world health authorities, including those in Britain and the United States, have spoken in favour. The Provincial Health Department is known to have urged fluoridation on all communities.

STRIKES REMEMBERED

Surely there must be some people, like myself, in Montreal today, who remember the 1926 General Strike in Britain?

As a visitor from Britain, and one who loves Montreal, it is distressing to think of the truly fabulous Expo: nearing its end with this ignominious transportation strike taking place; it does, too, produce a feeling of anger, as it must in most Montrealers.

At the risk of holding up Britain to Canadians, let me point out first what took place in Britain in 1926. All forms of transport were non-existent, as well as newspapers, postal services, handling of food, etc., for three weeks. It was essential that something drastic be done. Volunteers in non-essential work and most students were recruited and organized to deal with the situation; young and some old drove buses, protected only by wire netting over glass, with one policeman (possibly two in "hot" areas) at the side of the driver.

It is not time that Montreal set up some such organization? Anyone who can drive — a real driver — could soon handle a bus after short practice to master such differences between car and bus as size, for example. Similarly it should be possible for some people to be able to drive the Metro trains.

Let us see some organized volunteers soon, who can show the strikers that they are not invaluable.

COME TO THE FAIR

THE END IS NEAR AND LINE-UPS GROW AT LABYRINTH

By Russ Faughnan

With all the publicity, the great Labyrinth was strangely disappointing. With an air of desperation, we stuck it out for two hours and finally got to see the big show. For some reason, the wait did not seem as long as the ten minute job for Cuba.

Everyone was in a festive mood, going off for coffee and pizza, sharing candy and smokes with neighbours in the line, it all went quite fast. It must have been the anticipation but something sure took the edge off, once inside. The slow walks down meaningless corridors, the elevator ride, another wait, seated at last, for the first film, were all a prelude to disappointment.

The presentation is unique in that you are looking at a film in front of you and on the floor, at the same time. The attempt is to show a double perspective, it doesn't quite come off. Actually, it's quite good but the one thought prevails that there is nothing here that could not have been done to a larger audience without the big line-up. Let's face it, the maze idea fails utterly. Or, maybe as the wife noted, it's the thing to see first, then the rest of the fair would look better. All in all, well worth seeing. Just don't expect to have the old brain enlarged in 45 minutes.

With only ten days to go, it's time to take a day off or even that afternoon you've been promising yourself. The week-ends are murder and so are the mornings. It thins out about one o'clock and again about five. In any event, you better make your mind up, it's now or never.

ST. ANDREW'S NOTES

Guest Preacher at last Sunday's morning service was Mr. Cecil Roberts, Executive Secretary of the Canadian Gideon Society. Meetings of the Eastern Ontario and Quebec Branches of the Gideons were held at Maplewood Presbyterian Church last week-end. The Gideons of Canada are part of an international association of Christian commercial, business and professional men whose aim is to distribute the Holy Scriptures, principally in hotels throughout the country.

Next Sunday, October 22nd. will be observed as Laymen's Sunday, when the morning service will be conducted entirely by laymen of the congregation. The theme chosen for Laymen's Services this year is "Christ's Ambassadors", based on the passage in Second Corinthians, Chapter 5, 16-21.

It is generally recognized that there are too few qualified leaders to work with youth groups in our community, in our churches, in sports and in other areas. To help overcome this deficiency, to make more effective the programmes and activities of existing groups and perhaps in time to initiate new interest groups in cooperation with the young people themselves, the Y.M.C.A. is offering a plan for leadership development. A good deal of thought and research has already gone into this project. Presently, a leadership development weekend to take place at a retreat centre from the evening of Friday, November 3rd to Sunday afternoon, November 5th.

Those who are interested may obtain more information from Mr. Terry Forth, 637-2511 or Mr. Tony Cornford, 691-2135.

The Sunshine Gospel Singers will be conducting a community sing-along at the new George P. Vanier Cultural Centre on Maple Street from 8-10 p.m. on Monday, October 30th.

United Church Women Unit No. 3 meet in the Church parlour on Mondays at 8.15 p.m.

NOVICE CAR RALLY

Cyclone Car Club sponsored by Finch Mercury Sales Ltd., Chateauguay, is holding a novice car rally on October 21, 1967. This rally is especially planned for those who know nothing about rallying and want to learn. The rally will start from H.S. Billings Regional High School. The cost is $2.50 per car, all entrants are asked to register between 1 and 1:30 p.m. The first car will leave at 2:01 sharp. For further information contact Larry Fountain 691-9475.

Chateauguay Y.M.C.A. News

Your YMCA has, for some time past, been meeting closely with other local groups to find a means of providing opportunities for adults working with or interested in working with youth to gain a greater insight into the problems of programming with youth today. This Community Leadership Development Project aims to provide opportunities to increase skills and understanding in the areas of communication, decision making, and how groups work, and to develop greater understanding of the major problems facing youth today in our community through examination of current research data and face-to-face dialogue between youth and adults.

Discussions with group leaders and interested individuals in the Chateauguay area have helped to identify specific needs and objectives for this project. The first stage in what is hoped will be an ongoing program, will be a weekend seminar, November 4th and 5th., in a residential setting out of town. At this seminar the processes of group functioning, communication, and decision making will be examined together with the problems teenagers encounter in our present day society. A forward look will also be taken at ways of developing more effective means of working with youth.

It is proposed to follow up this seminar with evening group discussion sessions to explore further the issues evolving from the seminar. Use of speakers, films and panel discussions will also be made at these sessions. At a later stage we hope to see face to face dialogue sessions between youth and adults culminating in a second seminar with both youth and adults participating.

The community response to the Y's first two programs has been immediate, Registration for the Junior Judo course has been extremely heavy and only limited space remains in the adult Judo and Photography courses. It is not too late to take part in either of these rewarding programs but we urge you to hurry as registrations will close very shortly. Call 637-2511 for further information.

ST. GEORGE'S NOTES

Archdeacon Barry Valentine was guest Celebrant and Preacher last Sunday. The sermon was "Highlights of General Synod."

A Lay School of Theology will be beginning soon, which has as its goal an informed and intellectually alert Laity. If anyone wishes more information please contact Mr. Burgess at the Parish Office.

RAMBLERS DEFEAT MONTREAL BEARS

In their final encounter in the Quebec Senior Football Conference schedule, Chateauguay Ramblers last Sunday defeated Montreal North Bears by 20 points to 13.

Ramblers had already clinched the Conference title, and are scheduled to play the second place team, the Bears, in a sudden-death game for entry to the Eastern semi-finals in Montreal in the first week of November.

Ramblers have won every game played this season, and are firm favourites to win the playoff.

Touchdowns by Russ Martin, (2) and Emile Klacko for Ramblers were partially countered by major scores for Bears by half-back Fred Forsythe and Phil Cockburn.

Rambler Milton Green was taken to La Salle General Hospital with a possible fractured rib and a certainly sprained ankle. Late reports are that his appearance in the regular schedule next Sunday is very doubtful.

Ramblers complete the regular schedule when they meet Hawkesbury Hawks in a four-point game. A previous Hawks - Ramblers game was postponed because of an unployable pitch, and the Conference executive has ruled that this final game which count for the four points from two games.

SEIGNIORY PARK HOME OWNERS TO BID FOR POOL

The Annual General Meeting of the Seigniory Park Home Owners Association will be held tonight in the Seigniory Park Country Club.

Slated for discussion will be a plan for the Home Owners to purchase from the Club the swimming pool and related facilities, excluding the clubhouse itself. The proposal is for outright purchase, with operation of the pool an Association responsibility. It has been estimated that, depending on the number of individual homeowners willing to subscribe, that the annual cost per family membership could be cut in half.

As presently constituted, the Association is not legally empowered to own property or enter into substantial contracts. This is not an insurmountable difficulty, as the way is open, and funds are available, for seeking a charter from the Provincial Government.

Several local organizations, over the past few years, have acquired and operated swimming pools on their own resources. If Seigniory Park decides to enter the field, this would be the most ambitious undertaking to date. The Seigniory Park pool is one of the few Olympic-sized pools in Eastern Canada, and has been the site of Provincial Championship meetings for several years.

Attendance at the pool — as in most similar enterprises — has been adversely affected by Expo in 67, but a return to normal would confidently be expected for 1968 and subsequent years.

Are You Afraid

by Russ Faughnan

My son was asking about the transportation strike. He had heard the reports about some drivers back at work on Friday night and then heard that these same men did not show up on Saturday.

"Why?" he wanted to know. If some drivers wanted to work, why couldn't they? Didn't they need the money? Didn't they like the work? Did they not want people to go to Expo? Hard questions to answer when the news was that the brave drivers who tried to end this stupid and deliberate strike, were being subjected to extreme intimidation. Phone calls came in the dead of night to warn of dire reprisals against the drivers and their families. It worked, no buses ran on Saturday.

I tried to explain that these men might be hurt if they attempted to take the buses out. But then my son asked, are they afraid?" I told him yes they are and I don't blame them. "Well," said the youngster, "would you be afraid if you were a driver?" Now there is a question. There was no time for the lengthy thought it deserved. And so I replied, "No, not if they threatened me. I would welcome the chance to defy the bullies.' I explained that most of the drivers probably felt the same way. But; the whole picture changes when the threat is against a family. Who can be brave when his wife or children might have to pay. For we all know that the family can easily be made to pay. There is no protection from these goons. We all know they are capable of anything.. and everything. And what can stop them.

The Unions are in control. Complete control. They first took over the workers. With the strike power they took over the Companies. Then, by ignoring signed contracts, agreements and injunctions, they took over the law. Now, they are about to take over the people. The Unions have become an absolute power. As always, absolute power corrupts absolutely. There are no means too evil, no method too harmful to be used to achieve the aims of the Union. Not the aims of the worker, just the Union. If you didn't believe it before, this past week-end has proved it. Some mo-

FIVE YEARS AGO

It is hard to believe, but five years ago we were congratulating the Fred Smiths of Seigniory Drive on the birth of their son Robin. (To switch to 1967 for a moment, Robin had some of his friends in for his birthday party last weekend. Happy birthday, Robin). ... a new beer tavern was opened near the Rustik on St. Jean Baptiste, and Letter commented on how ridiculous it was for a community of 20,000 people to have its nearest liquor outlet in Beauharnois, 13 miles away ... Letter congratulated Mayor Joseph Laberge on his kept promise of providing overhead lights for the main road of Seigniory Park, but rather rudely requested His Worship to do something about the lack of adequate safety measures at the junction of St. Francis with Routes 3 and 4 — that is, or that was, we wanted traffic lights at the intersection ... nominations were called for the election of the first permanent slate of office-bearers for the Home Owners Association.

CURRENT EVENTS

In the absence of Ernie Schenkelberger, Bobby Moore and I played the final of the Heights Tennis Club Men's Singles last Saturday afternoon. Bobby was never in any serious trouble, and won handily 6-2, 6-3. It drizzled throughout, and the turnout for this major sporting event was less than anticipated. (To be quite quite truthful, the audience was composed of wife Jane and son Fergus Bruce). Bobby has won the Heights Singles several times in recent years, but for me it was the first appearance in the final since 1953.

Mother-in-law and I, both being of rather ancient vintage, have been swapping reminiscences of the General Strike in Britain in 1926, when university students, under police protection, drove buses to keep essential public services going. Well, how about that?

Provincial Transport bus-drivers were making noises about holding so-called study sessions in support of their M.T.C. brethren. At the moment of writing this column, this potential development had faded into the background in view of the dramatic on-again, off-again performances last weekend. And so we slip one stage deeper into anarchy — and make no mistake, our way of life these days can be described no other way than anarchic.

The McLennan Travelling Library was due to make its farewell appearance in Seigniory Park and Chateauguay yesterday, Tuesday. Much as we all regret the passing of the McLennan, let us be grateful for the inestimable benefits we have enjoyed for nearly five years. The late Mrs. Ellen Blahuta played a large part in bringing the McLennan to Chateauguay.

The annual Home Owners Association meeting was scheduled to be held sometime this week, and I hope to have more details from outgoing President Warren Hart in time for this issue.

Congratulations to Linda Smith, who celebrates her fifth birthday this week.

The fresh-egg advertisement in The Gleaner these last few weeks was inserted by former Heights man and Gleaner employee Mr. Phil Howells. Phil has gone into the fresh-egg business full-time and already sells some 200 dozen in Chateauguay alone. (The number is 692-9330).

Late word from Home Owners President Warren Hart is that the annual election meeting will be held tonight Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Clubhouse. In the regrettable absence of John McKay, now in Ottawa, I am scheduled to conduct the election part of the meeting. I just hope I can do it half as well as John always did.

How about forming a militia to protect those M.T.C. drivers with guts enough to defy anarchy by obeying an injunction to keep the buses running?

ABOUT INDIAN SUMMER

One of the nicer things that happens every year is Indian summer.

A short period of especially fair weather and mild days, it comes in late October or early November when the leaves are turning color and falling from the trees. It has no definite date to begin or end. "The mild, pleasant, weather of Indian summer follows the autumn's first period of cold, wintry days," says World Book Encyclopedia. "The days

Maplewood Presbyterian Church Notes

This past weekend Maplewood Church was host to the Eastern Ontario and Quebec District Fall Rally of the Gideons Society. Members of the Gideons presented the message at both morning services. Mr. William McLeod who is Field Secretary for Eastern Canada spoke at 11 A.M. and a presented a picture of the work of the Gideons. A point to remember is that the Gideons represent an aim of the Church and assist the Church in spreading the 'Good News'. The Gideons are not merely another sect.

The Church School Bible examination will be written on Sunday afternoon November 5th. This year the study is based on the life of Joseph. The Church School Association are also sponsoring an Art competition and the winning drawing will be used on a cover for the New Year's Rally Bulletin.

This past Sunday was World Literature Sunday and the need to spread Christian Literature is urgent particularly if we are to offset the literature propaganda as issued by the religion of Communism. The Bible Society, The Gideons and Church Missionary work are effective avenues to spread our literature, let us support them all in our work.

HOTEL COMPLETELY GUTTED BY FIRE SUNDAY NIGHT

During the night of last Sunday a fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a hotel in Ste. Philomene.

According to Police Chief Tremblay of Ste. Philomene, the fire apparently started around 3 a.m. and by the time fire equipment arrived on the scene, the fire was well advanced. Firemen confined their efforts to save the adjoining home by hosing down the walls.

No one was inside the hotel and no injuries to any of the firemen involved.

The building contained about 20 rooms and a hall, and is burned right down to the cement foundation.

Cause of the fire is being investigated by Ste. Philomene's Fire Chief Gerard Amyot. The men and equipment left the scene at 10.05 a.m.

EDUCATION IN THE VALLEY

No. 111-14

1. Adult Education

Registration for adult evening classes, which are scheduled to commence at the Howard S. Billings Regional High School on Monday evening November 6, was held at the school on Wednesday evening October 11. We are sure that there are many other interested candidates who did not appear at that time. We had set the closing date to receive registrations at 5 p.m. October 18. This is extended to the same time on October 26. If you are interested in adult evening classes in any subject or if you know of anyone else who may be interested, please call for registration forms at the Regional Board office at 75 St. Jean Baptiste Blvd., tel.: 691-1440.

2. A progress report on the Chateauguay Valley Reg. High School

While the school has now been in operation since September 18, there are still many finishing jobs to be completed by the contractor. We regret the delay that this has caused in affording you an opportunity to visit the school. Present plans are for an official school opening for the public to visit the premises sometime around the middle of November. Please watch this column for an announcement of the date.

3. Howard S. Billings Regional High School

Final plans and specifications for this buliding extension have now been in Quebec for the consideration of the Department of Education for several weeks. We hope to be in a position to call for tenders in the near future.

R. D. Mosher,
Director General.

THE PRO SHOP

The Great Experiment has started and the surprises start early. Chicago loses three straight in spite of Hull's flurry of goals and Boston knocks off the mighty Canadians in spite of a big start by Jean Beliveau. Justice prevails as the two Canadian teams head the league in points, joined as predicted by California who seem to be the class of the Western division. In fact, it does our heart good to see Charlie Hodge doing so well. Make no mistake, old Charlie could pull his team through the season, making the best showing against the super-stars like Glen Hall.

For Montreal, it was expected that Vachon would make a poor start. He held off for a few days and then ran into Phil Esposito. Vachon will have a few nights like that for the first few months but look to the speedy youngster to become the next goaling star of the league. He has the hands and the brains to become great.

They say Canadians didn't suffer in the draft. They could afford to lose Roberts, Balon and Rochefort. But they can not afford the loss of Talbot. A quick look at their record in power plays — against — will show how much Talbot meant to the team. The defenceman who can play forward, effectively, is worth his weight in playoff gold. Talbot will be missed.

In spite of the Boston loss, this should be Canadians' year. Beliveau will have to do better than twelve goals. Tremblay and Provost can not be as bad as last year. Cournoyer, on a regular line, will burn up the league. A potential forty goal man, or more. But mark this down, Canadians will have to play hockey. They can't afford to tighten up, they must play as a team. In other words, they need a leader. A fighter and a policeman. A man like Boom Boom Geoffrion who can pull a team together when things go wrong. Maybe one of the new kids will take over.

Speaking of the Boomer, that was a rather shabby trick to give his number to Tremblay "to change his luck." It seems like a needless slight to use the number five so soon. Especially for such a reason and to an older member of the team. If it had to use it, why not to a promising rookie? It's something Frank Selke Senior would never have done it. There are still many of us who remember Geoffrion's giant contribution to hockey and the Canadians. Too bad the present management forgets so soon.

The football picture gets duller and duller. It becomes more evident that Carol Williams cannot do the job. He is making more yards than the rest of the team put together, running backwards. We

Laprairie Liberals Founding Meeting

The founding meeting of the Liberal Association of Canada (Quebec) for the new electoral division of Laprairie took place in the Parish Hall of Christ — Roi Church, Laprairie recently.

The meeting was chaired by Mr. Leo Scharry of the Central Office of the Liberal Association, and the guest speakers were the Honourable Jean-Pierre Côté, Postmaster General, M.P. for Longueuil and Mr. Ian Watson, M.P., for Chateauguay - Huntingdon - Laprairie.

Mr. Paul Fiset of Lemoyne was elected President and Mr. Etienne Lajoie of Laprairie was elected Treasurer.

Nominated and elected Vice-Presidents of the new association were Mr. Pierre Dulude of Laprairie, Mr. Fernand of Côte Ste. Catherine, Mr. Claude Tessier of Greenfield Park, Mr. Jean Charles Barrette of St. Constant, Mr. Ernest Graveline of Ville Lemoyne, Mr. Jean Gadoua of Brossard, Mrs. Laurette Papineau of Preville and Mrs. Josée Marsil of St. Lambert.

The Honourable Jean-Pierre Coté made a moving plea for national unity.

Mr. Watson stressed the need for Quebec Federal members to do a better job of explaining what the Federal Government is doing for the man in the street. The strengthening of national unity was the most imporant task of every Quebec M.P. He urged the expansion of the Youth exchange programme and exchange of visits of municipal councils and called for more emphasis on the common ownership by all Canadians of the enormous national resources of the Canadian North.

FLUORIDATION HERE NEXT YEAR

By Fergus Horsburgh

Town of Chateauguay will in all probability have fluoride added to its water supply by early next year. At least that is the unanimous proposal of the Town Council. Fluoridation, in case anyone does not know, is the addition of fluoride to drinking water in strickly controlled amounts, in order to reduce decay and hence cavities in teeth.

This writer would like to go on record as being 100%, 200% if that were possible, in favour of this move. And before some people jump to their feet and shout that they do not want anyone tampering with their water, as some misguided and uninformed persons have done in other municipalities on former occasions, just consider those factors and consider them well, for it is YOUR money and YOUR children's welfare which is involved.

1. The amount of fluoride added to the water is less in any given quantity than the amount of chlorine and other chemicals added in order to make the water safe to drink.

2. If you do not want the "Council tampering with one water supply "and if you claim it removes your rights as a Citizen, as some have done, consider this for a moment. If you feel it is wrong to add fluoride, then by logic you must also consider it wrong to add chlorine to make the water drinkable. So would you care to drink your water straight from the St. Lawrence River today?

3. Every doctor and dentist in Chateauguay has been asked for his opinion and every one is in favour of fluoridation.

4. In towns tested over a period of two years, it was found that decay was reduced in children's teeth (it is usually too late for this to have much effect on an adult's teeth) by about 30%. And it is a continuing build-up — the longer you fluoridate the water, the greater the percentage reduction of decay.

5. And the cost to Chateauguay? $6,000. initially to install the necessary equipment, which sum will be paid out of the general fund; thereafter the cost will be, wait for it, 15 cents, yes cents per year per person.

Now how many families pay so little in dental bills that a cost of 15c per person per year to reduce your children's footh decay by about 30% after two years, would not represent a saving in money, quite aside from the health benefit to the children concerned?

Everyone wants a Town Council they can be proud of — we can certainly be proud of ours if they instigate fluoridation. It has been a success every where it has been tried, it is safe, effective and cheap.

Chateauguay News Notes

Gleaner correspondent Russ Faughnan last week was featured in a Montreal Star column. Bruce Taylor recorded Russ's story about the only submarine ever to be captured, and its present location in an American museum.

Mr. George Kennedy, M.P.P., was featured last week in a television interview in connection with the Liberal Party caucus in Quebec City.

Seigniory Park Home Owners Association is reported ready to make a bid for the swimming pool facilities of the Seigniory Park Country Club.

Town of Chateauguay Council has voted in favour of fluoridation of water supplies. See details elsewhere in this issue.

The newly-formed Laprairie Liberal Association held its founding meeting last week. See details elsewhere in this issue.

The annual election meeting of the Seigniory Park Home Owners Association is held tonight in the Seigniory Park Clubhouse.

For those readers who read only these News Notes, we would like to draw your attention to the article "Education in the Valley" in this issue. Adult Education is discussed in the first paragraph. To register for evening classes see the article for more details.

Vandals had quite a night last Sunday on McLeod Avenue in the Town. Stop signs, street names damaged badly, and posts uprooted. A flagpole at a private residence on McLeod was also badly damaged and cannot be used.

Nominations for Centre Mayor and three Aldermen are to be held in the near future. Please see public notice in this issue.

Centre Council will have no meetings for the remainder of this month.

The Town is installing sewer lines just off St. Francis Blvd. near Elmridge. The water is already in, but sewers will be required when the builders go ahead with their plans for duplexes all along St. Francis from Maple to Lafayette. Incidentally we hear that the delay in building the duplexes is lack of loan money for the development.

A street near the new Post Office has been re-named to "Botrel" from its original two names of Beaulieu and Beaumont.

Town of Chateauguay have received a letter from Provincial authorities stating that they have accepted the proposal for traffic lights at the corner of Dunver and Highway 4. However, don't expect to see the work start soon, because the letter stated that the project would commence "as soon as necessary funds are available." So beware to those who must cross the highway at that point — nimble is the word.

The two bus shelters are now installed — one at Dunver the other at St. Francis and being put to good use these last few rainy mornings.

Town Police report seven minor traffic accidents in the past week — otherwise all else is quiet.

Centre Police report all quiet also.

Over thirty trees were planted at Vetville during the past week. The trees — all maples — are part of a Centennial Project by the directors of the Vetville Corp. All are about 8 feet high and should give the grounds a park-like atmosphere when fully grown.

About Indian

become noticeably warmer, but the nights remain chilly. Throughout Indian summer, the sun shines dimly and softly. The sky turns a rich blue and always appears gentle and hazy near the horizon. The air remains smoky and still, with almost no wind. An Indian-summer moon often has a soft yellow or orange hue. Indian summer lasts from a week to 10 days, and sometimes for two weeks. Then winter begins."

The American Indians enjoyed Indian summer and looked forward to it. They considered it the special gift of a god.

The origin of the name of Indian summer is uncertain. One story says that American settlers named the period after the American Indians, who told the settlers that this period would come. Another story says the name evolved because this period of good weather gave warlike Indians another chance to make more attacks on the settlers.

Other parts of the world also have a short period of fine weather similar to Indian summer. World Book says, Europeans generally call it Old Wives' Summer or St. Martin's Summer.

Memorandum from McLeod

Route Boy:
Peter MacLean
246 McLeod Ave. 692-9669

I had a letter in the mail this past week from a long-time reader of The Gleaner, Mrs. Dulcie Donaldson of Chateauguay Heights. Mrs. Donaldson has been entertaining guests from all over Canada and the States during this past summer. Three families from Ontario: Mr. and Mrs. Harris and two sons from Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Smith, three sons and daughter from Toronto; Mrs. D. Holmes and two daughters and son from Belleville. From California, a sister-in-law whom Mrs. Donaldson hadn't seen for almost 40 years — the last time in England. Also from California Mr. and Mrs. B. Smith. From England Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Locker and their niece.

This past Thanksgiving, Mrs. Donaldson's eldest son George and his wife. Also a nephew and niece recently arrived here from England and have taken up residence in Toronto.

This Centennial year coincides with Mrs. Donaldson's arrival here in Canada 35 years ago and the 25th year she has resided here in Chateauguay.

Last week I didn't get a chance to go to Expo. My group was sponsoring a Rummage Sale and we were all quite involved — but I did manage a one day visit to Ottawa on Tuesday the 10th. It was a lovely day and I saw some of Ontario's fall display of color.

Welcome to Chateauguay to Mrs. Houldsworth, Sr. of Owen Sound, Ontario, who is on another visit here with son Ron and daughter-in-law Marion of Lang St.

Also entertaining out of town visitors recently were the Mitchells of Circle Road, Colonia, and the Berrys of Hillsdale Drive.

The Altar Guild acknowledges a donation from Mrs. Dulcie Donaldson.

The "Nearly New Rummage Sale" held last Friday the 13th at the shopping Centre, was an outstanding success. To all those who donated clothing and household articles, most sincere thanks.

Concerning the announcement (in last week's issue of The Gleaner) of the visitation, we would like to correct the statement that all homes in the Parish would be visited. Please note that approximately half of the parishioner's homes will be visited. It is expected that the majority of calls will be made Sunday, Nov. 5th with the balance being completed by the end of the week.

WHATEVER YOU Have, Spend Less

Such was Dr. Samuel Johnson's advice two hundred years ago. And far from being outdated, the notion of thrift is as much here and now as the hippies.

A great many sayings, some as old as the Bible, stress the wisdom of thrift. "A penny saved is a penny got", wrote Henry Fielding, Dr. Johnson's contemporary. A century later, the famous French novelist Alexandre Dumas Sr. remarked that "thrift is the wealth of the poor and the wisdom of the rich". And, of course, we have all been told at some time or other: "Take care of the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves", or "The first milestone on the road to $1,000,000 is 1 c.

The peace of mind created by thrift is most easy to acquire through the purchase of Canada Savings Bonds under the convenient payroll deduction plan.

Of course, it may be argued that the money thus put aside is not spent, hence slows down the wheels of business. This, however, does not hold water, for there just would be no business at all without savings. Even if we "buy now" we have to save to "pay later". No savings, no spending. It is as simple as that. And no spending, no business. This also is pretty obvious. Finally, no business, no jobs. But it all starts with saving money.

Let's face it, Samuel Johnson knew whereof he spake, as his friend Boswell would have been likely to put it.

Accounting Attracts Young Canadians

Young Canadians are preparing themselves in great numbers to conquer the computer. Close to 4500 students are working towards a Certified General Accountant's degree, according to provincial registrars. This compares with 3590 students enrolled last year, an increase of over 25 per cent.

Of the larger provinces, Alberta had the greatest increase with 29 per cent. Ontario was next with 24.8; closely followed by Quebec with 20 per cent. The course is available in French and English.

A striking feature of the course is its attraction as a post-graduate course for university people. "This year in Ontario we had 179 university graduates enrol," reports Ontario Registrar H. H. Perry, C.G.A., "compared with 69 last year."

still feel that dropping Bork was a big mistake. He was the only man capable of moving the team with any degree of consistency. Sure it was tough inside the thirty yard line but this can be improved with experience. The present team is hopeless. Given all the time in the world, they couldn't even gain experience.

We really goofed in the World Series. We picked the winner but thought it would be over in four or five games. One thing for sure, we had the talent totaled up properly but certainly underestimated the "heart" of those Boston Red Sox. This was a great example of desire. And of what can happen in a short series. It made for a great show, almost enough to convert one into a baseball fan: Almost.

Perspective...

rons actually phoned radio stations to state that the men who returned to work were wrong. They should obey the Union it was claimed. Even if the cause was wrong, the worker should follow the Union, not the Company or what they believed was right. It was Union first and foremost, even over the law.

In the face of such a sick pholisophy my son asks if I am afraid. Of course I am. And you should be. Because separatism can not do one half the harm to a group of people as can a complete disregard for law or even human values.

"Of course I'm afraid, son, we are getting close to the end of the road. And it looks like a dead end."

Hemmingford News

HEMMINGFORD CUBS 'GOING-UP' CEREMONY.

At the Parish Hall in Hemmingford on Friday evening, September 29th, there were gathered Scout-Master J.J. Laberge, his Assitants Gerard Laberge and L.M. Brousseau, Akela Mrs. Bruce Wallace and her Assistants, members of the Group Committee, Mr. Alister Somerville, Mayor of the Village, a large number of parents and, of course, the members of the Scout Troop and the Cub Pack. It was a very important occasion. Eleven members of the Cub Pack were "Going-up' to the Scout Troop. Using the new ceremony Ian Armour, Stephen Barr, Mark Paré, Denis Genier, Creighton Hooper, Bruce Curry, Gordon Orr, Donald Blair, Billy MacGregor, Douglas Campbell and Sylvain Malenfant said Goodbye to their old pals and were welcomed by their new friends into the Scout Troop.

Then another interesting presentation took place. During this past summer Mrs. Guynan, a member of the Hemmingford Women's Institute, conducted a most successful swimming class at Lake Hermas under the auspices of the Women's Institute. At the close of the season Mrs. Guynan, who is a qualified instructor, held the official tests for the Green and Bronze Badges for the Scouts and Cubs who had taken part in the swimming classes. On Friday evening these Badges were presented to the boys who successfully passed the tests. The Cubs who were presented with their Green Badges were Douglas Campbell, Donald Blair, Ian Armour, Stephen Barr, Mario Fortin, Drew Somerville, Bertrand Giroux, David Shier, John Holmes, Raymond Pelletier, George Ross and Kip Petch. Bronze Badges were presented to the following Cubs, John Holmes, Kip Petch, Donald Blair, Stephen Barr and Bruce Curry.

Scouts winning their Green Badges were Jim Holmes, Michael Tobin, Kenny Simpson, and those presented with their Bronze Badge were Jim Holmes, Michael Tobin, Kenny Simpson and Ian Blair.

After the Badges had been presented it was the turn of the boys to make some presentations. Scouts made speeches and then presented Mrs. Guynan and Mrs. Charles Petch, Jr. with bouquets of flowers. Then the Cubs presented Mrs. Guynan with a delightful gift in appreciation of all her work.

Mr. Brousseau brought his slide projector and showed slides of the Camporee held this spring at the Dunn Memorial Park, Powerscourt, then showed slides of the Cuboree held at the same place when the Hemmingford Pack were costumed to represent British Columbia. Slides of the Hemmingford Centennial Parade were shown and there were some good ones of the float entered by the Cubs.

Games followed and then a substantial lunch, prepared by the ladies present to which everyone did full justice.

HEMMINGFORD CERCLE DE FERMIERES

The monthly meeting of the Hemmingford Cercle de Fermières was held in the Parish Hall, on Wednesday evening, October 11th, presided over by Mrs. C. Priest, President. There was a good attendance and two new members were introduced, Mrs. Gerard Laberge and Mrs. J.J. Laberge.

The programme centered around a discussion of forthcoming activities. It was decided to hold the annual card party during November as usual but members felt a special activity should be held to mark Centennial Year. It was finally decided to hold an 'Old-Time Soirée' with members and anyone who cared to dress in period costume. It was pointed out that a large number of people in the community had worn period costume for the July parade and no doubt would like to wear it again. This will take pace in the hall of St. Romain's School (the former Catholic High School), there will be an orchestra and square dances and old-time tunes will be the order of the day. It is hoped some local talent amongst the old-timers will be heard. There will be a charge of $1 each to help defray expenses and it will take place on the last Saturday in October, the 28th. (the closing day of Expo). It is hoped as many as possible will attend.

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

The monthly meeting of the Hemmingford Township Council was held in the Town Hall on Monday, October 2nd. Mayor Florian Dauphinais presided, Councillors Raymond Lavallée, Hervé Duquette, W. J. Brown, B. Barr, D. Hadley and L. Gagné were present.

Mr. Frank Deery and Mr. J.P. Gagné, members of the Hemmingford Scout Group Committee, attended the meeting to ask that council consider making a donation to the Group Committee Funds for this area. It was agreed that a donation of $100 be made.

Mr. Gaetan Fortin was present to discuss the ploughing of the roads this Winter. In view of the increase in the number of school buses on the road, the earlier departure of the Regional buses and the more urgent need of having all the roads cleared in good time, Mr. Fortin informed Council that snow fences must, this year, be erected at the various points in the municipality where the worst snowdrifts have been encountered. Council agreed that snow fences should be erected and were given approximate lengths, costs of fence and pickets and cost of erection. The matter is being given further consideration. The cost of snow removal this year will be $350 per mile.

Mr. Maurice Lacasse and Mr. René Hebert were present to discuss with council the sanding of the roads this winter. The quantities of sand, calcium and salt needed, the loading, mixing and storing and the cost of spreading were thoroughly explored and the prices agreed upon. The necessity of having all the roads in the municipality in as safe a condition as possible as early as possible, in view of the additional school buses, was again stressed and it was decided that both Mr. Lacasse and Mr. Hebert would be on the roads with their trucks when necessary. The cost of sanding the roads this year will be $4. per hour. Council expressed their appreciation to Mr. Lacasse for his work in maintaining the roads last winter.

It was agreed that Hydro-Quebec be instructed to install a light at the corner of Covey Hill Road and Frontier Road.

The Secretary reported that a large number of the 'NO TRESPASSING' signs had been purchased, there are still some available, the cost — 5c each.

The following bills were approved for payment:— Rent $42.50; Albert Dubois (for care of the Dump) $25; Secretary's salary, stamps and exchange $197.88.

HEMMINGFORD VILLAGE COUNCIL

The monthly meeting of the Hemmingford Village Council was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, October 3rd. Mayor Alister Somerville presided. Present were Councillors Edwin Keddy, André Germain, René Poissant and Roger Tobin. Absent were Councillors B. Wallace and Ross McNaughton.

Mr. Frank Deery and Mr. Fraser Matheson were present to request financial assistance from the Council toward the continuation of the work of the Scout movement in Hemmingford. A donation of $100 was agreed upon by Council.

Chief Harry Warner asked Council to consider an adjustment of the time for the sounding of the siren. He had received a number of requests that it be sounded, for the winter months anyway, earlier than 9 p.m. It was agreed that the new time should be 6 p.m.

Mr. Gerald Laberge asked Council to consider the making of sidewalks on Bouchard Street and also the placing of another manhole to drain the surface water. Council agreed to consider this request.

Mr. Roger Bouchard requested that the Fire Hydrant on Bouchard St. be moved a few feet on to the south boundary of his lot. This was taken under consideration.

The tender for snow removal, submitted by Mr. Gaetan Fortin, was tabled for consideration.

A deputation of teenagers from the village asked Council for permission to hold a dance in the basement hall of the Town Hall. After hearing details of their arrangements and that adult chaperones would be present, Council agreed to their request on condition that the hall would be cleaned afterwards and that there would be orderly behaviour both inside and outside the hall.

It was resolved that Council purchase the land in the village formerly owned by the Canadian National Railway.

After some discussion concerning the business tax it was resolved that this tax must be paid and that the dissenting persons should be billed for the amount due and for the arrears.

The Mayor read a letter from the Mayor of Plattsburg in which he complimented the Hemmingford Fire Brigade on their fine equipment and smart appearance. He was particularly appreciative of their participation in the Plattsburg Parade and hoped it would be an annual affair. The Secretary was instructed to pass the letter on to Chief Harry Warner and the men of the Brigade.

The Mayor referred to a resolution passed by Council at the time of the visit of a delegation from the members of the Hemmingford Women's Institute when it was decided to have white lines drawn and the words 'STOP' and 'SLOW' printed on the appropriate corners of the cross roads of Rte. 52 and Frontier Street in the village. Arrangements had been made to have this done by a local contractor but owing to pressure of work it had not yet been done. In the meantime he had received specifications and cost of a small machine which is widely used in the States for this work. After some discussion, during which it was pointed out that the machine would do the work very quickly and efficiently and could be used to mark the road crossings, outside the schools, used by the children, Council decided to purchase the machine.

A letter was read from the Hemmingford Chamber of Commerce informing Council that they had written the Departemnt of Transport asking that permission be given the C.N. Railway to deposit Express Goods directly at the warehouse of their local agent namely David Simpson, instead of, as at present, depositing them at the station warehouse from whence Mr. Simpson must truck them back to his warehouse. Council signified their approval of this action.

The two Councillors serving on the Fire Department committee were asked to meet with the two Councillors of the Municipal Council and the Fire Chief to discuss the purchase of a Partner K. 12 saw.

The Mayor informed Council that Margaret Street had been widened by 2 feet each side and had been black-topped. The work had been previously estimated to cost $7,200, but upon his making representations to the Department of Roads they had completed the work at no cost to the village.

It was resolved that the Secretary-Treasurer attend the Convention of Secretary-Treasurers to be held in Montreal this coming week. The Secretary informed Council that he would pay his own expenses.

The following bills were authorized for payment:— K. Johnson $40, D. Hughes $40, David Simpson $3, Havelock Fair Board $20, G. Baskin $13, Choisy Laboratories $91.52, Bell Telephone $27.33, Regional Construction $3.50, G. Nadeau $4.50, J.R. Priest Inc. $49.02, Hydro Quebec $359, G. Stanford $4, J. Johnson $45, D. Hughes $40, F. Poissant $95.50, D. Hughes $13, H. Warner, Fire Dept. Supplies $7.25, G. Stanford $4, W. Smith $14.28, Auditors $300, Choisy Laboratories $283.64, H. Warner, Fire Dept. Supplies $176.98, McKough's Super Market $2.54, H. Giroux $49, Hydro Quebec $390.28.

The Secretary informed Council that the bills presented covered a period of two months. Owing to the lack of a quorum at the September meeting it had not been possible to obtain authorization for the payment of the previous month's bills.

IN HOSPITAL

Sorry to learn that one of our neighbours on Covey Hill Road is again in hospital with a broken leg. Mrs. Grosser, Sr. last year slipped in the barn and fell, cracking her knee-cap; a few weeks ago, late one evening, she slipped in her room and broke the thigh bone of the leg previously injured. She has been hospitalized at the Barrie for the past four weeks and her stay there has been made much happier by the cards and letters she has received from her friends and neighbours.

One of the students in Grade 7 at Hemmingford School Lynn Burton has had an unfortunate beginning for her new school year. On Friday while skipping in the school yard she slipped on a muddy patch and broke her leg. She was taken in to the Children's Hospital in Montreal by Mr. McKay, the Principal, and there it was found that the break was a circular one which necessitated a cast from thigh to foot. Lynn is at home now but will return to Hospital in a few weeks when it is hoped the break will have healed sufficiently to permit of a walking cast — and a return to school. Lynn was one of the top students in Grade 6 at Langlois Academy last year and is very anxious not to miss any of the work of this so-important Grade 7. From all your friends Lynn, best wishes for a speedy recovery, we will be happy to see you back.

On Monday October 2nd., Mrs. Albert S. Barnes, Barrington, went for a walk when a German Shepherd dog attacked her, biting her on the leg and breaking a blood vessel. She was taken immediately to Dr. Paul Belanger's office.

Miss Maria Brown is visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Perry in N.D.G., Montreal.

Mrs. N. F. Orr has returned from visiting friends in Swanton, Vt.

Mrs. M. Carmichael who has been visiting her son and family Rev. Oliver Carmichael returned to Gaspe on Monday.

Mrs. Norman King and Mrs. Erickson Hornitor, from California, called on Mr. and Mrs P. C. Pederson, who reside in what was the Methodish Parsonage. Mrs. King's father a one time was minister here in M. E. Church, Rev. Mr Hughes. She purchased five copies of the Anniversary History from 1823-1963 Hemmingford, Que.

Elgin

On Saturday evening, friends and neighbours of Mrs. Leo Coffey and daughter Maureen gathered at the home of Messrs. Clifford and Roy Hamilton for a surprise farewell party. The hostesses were two close friends and neighbors Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Robt. Crawford.

As Mrs. Coffey has recently sold her farm home and was up for the last week-end, her niece, husband and children, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dubord, Lynn and Wayne, drove out to help move her possessions back to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan of Huntingdon entertained them all at dinner, and then Noreen Dubord very cleverly found a reason to return to the house for a forgotten article and hence to the scene of the party. Madeline and Maureen were really surprised to find their neighbors awaiting them at the Hamilton home, singing "For They are Jolly Good Fellows".

Norma Crawford presented them with a large, prettily wrapped box containing lovely cups and saucers from those invited, most of whom were present. Margaret Wilson made a short speech, to which Madeline and Maureen fittingly replied.

After passing the gifts around for everyone to see, the

Double your money with Canada Savings Bonds

The new True way to bank

Here it is! Everything you need for your combination of True Chequing and True Savings accounts in a neat complimentary wallet. Including personalized cheques.

This new True way keeps your True Chequing account separate from True Savings. You leave enough in a True Chequing Account to pay your bills. You put the rest into 4½% True Savings. (If you already have a 3% Savings Account, you can convert it to True Savings.)

See how this simplifies your money planning. Come in and ask about the new True way to bank — and get your new True-blue wallet free.

Bank of Montreal
Canada's First Bank

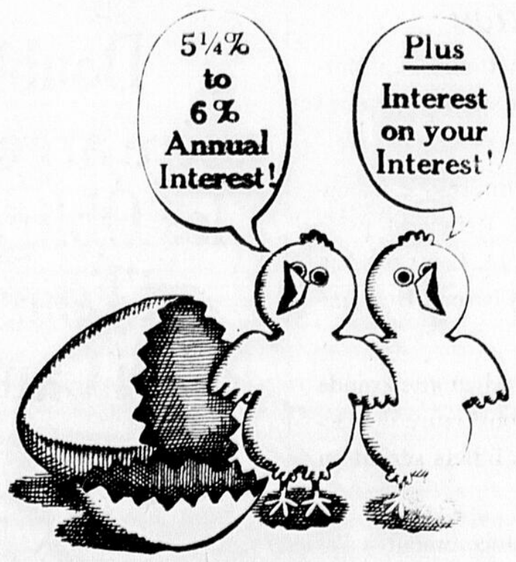

One of the great things about Canada is Canada Savings Bonds, and this year's Series is the most exciting yet. Interest starts at 5¼% a year—the highest starting rate ever on a Canada Savings Bond—and goes right up to 6%. Over the 13 years to maturity the true average annual yield is 5.48%

Best of all, Canada Savings Bonds have a wonderful compound interest feature which pays you interest on your interest. Take full advantage of it and you will double your money.

As always, Canada Savings Bonds are instant cash. They may be cashed at any time for their full face value plus accrued interest. They are easy to buy for cash or on instalments. They fit all savings budgets—from $50 up.

And, for the first time ever, Canada's most popular personal investment may be purchased by businesses, churches, charities, clubs, and other organizations. Another first: the limit per holder for this Series has been increased to $50,000.

Backed by all the resources of Canada, Canada Savings Bonds are a great way to save. Buy yours today and double your money.

PROPAGATION DE LA FOI

Aujourd'hui dimanche de la Propagation de la Foi, les Catholiques du monde sont invités à accentuer la solidarité humaine sur la Terre des Hommes, Terre de Dieu.

La Propagation de la Foi, au service des pauvres, sauf de rares exceptions, les pays de mission correspondent aux pays pauvres. Le monde est ainsi divisé: 500 millions de personnes dans les pays riches: 1½ milliard dans les pays sous-développés.

En nous invitant à accentuer la solidarité humaine sur la Terre des Hommes, la Propagation de la Foi nous invite au partage des biens et au partage de la foi pour le rassemblement du peuple de Dieu.

Partagr les biens, c'est participer intimement à l'action humanitaire du missionnaire en faveur des affamés, des analphabètes, des malades, des victimes des guerres et des fléaux. Partager la foi, c'est aider le missionnaire, par la prière et l'aumône, à annoncer le Christ et à bâtir l'Eglise, pour le rassemblement du Peuple de Dieu.

A l'occasion de la Semaine de la Propagation de la Foi, continuons notre oeuvre de solidarité humaine sur la Terre des Hommes.

A la convention de l'Union des Municipalités

Notre représentant rencontrait vendredi dernier M. Bruno Beaulieu, maire d'Ormstown pour une entrevue se rapportant à la récente convention des maires des municipalités de la province de Québec qui a eu lieu sur le paquebot Queen Elizabeth, en route vers Nassau. M. Beaulieu faisait partie du groupe représentant le village d'Ormstown.

M. Beaulieu est membre du bureau des directeurs de l'Union des Municipalités du Québec responsable de cette convention. En premier lieu, il veut dissiper l'idée que ceux qui ont pris part au voyage se sont offerts une partie de plaisir aux frais des contribuables. Il dit qu'il a travaillé plus fort qu'il ne l'aurait fait dans son bureau. Il y eut plusieurs assemblées et sessions d'étude chaque jour.

Le seul endroit où la convention aurait pu avoir lieu est le Reine Elizabeth à Montréal. A cause de l'Expo les responsables n'ont pas voulu priver les visiteurs de leurs accomodations et ont dû faire d'autres arrangements. Le nombre des délégués étant de 1600, il fut décidé de réserver le paquebot. A compter du début du voyage, le 28 septembre, les délégués ont pu se rendre compte qu'il ne s'agissait pas d'un voyage de plaisir et beaucoup de travail fut accompli chaque jour. Il y avait entre 800 et 900 délégués municipaux, les autres passagers étant les épouses des maires et autres invités. On a cru qu'il serait plus facile de réunir les délégués qui ne pouvaient manquer les assemblées.

Plusieurs sujets furent discutés mais le plus important fut sans contredit celui des taxes. Les municipalités sont d'avis qu'elles devraient avoir plus de liberté au sujet des taxes et des moyens de se procurer des fonds. On est d'avis que les taxes sur la propriété devraient rester à la municipalité et que la taxe scolaire devrait être éliminée. La taxe scolaire ne devrait pas reposer entièrement sur les propriétaires. Une résolution à cet effet a été adoptée et sera présentée dans un mémoire au gouvernement provincial. L'Union des Municipalités désire la réorganisation des arrangements de la taxe pour qu'elle soit divisée plus également entre ceux qui doivent la payer. On croit que les gouvernements provincial et fédéral devraient en tenir compte lors des discussions et études à ce sujet.

On demandera au gouvernement de former un comité permanent de la fiscalité pour s'occuper de l'urgence et des problèmes spéciaux ainsi que pour recommander une amélioration du système de taxation.

Au cours de la convention des groupes furent formés pour étudier les diverses propositions et des résolutions furent adoptées. Il fut proposé que le gouvernement légifère sur les grèves d'employés municipaux et des services publics pour les prévenir.

M. Beaulieu s'est dit certain que les résultats de la convention seront appréciables. Il insiste sur le sujet des taxes; selon lui les propriétaires sont taxés pour bien des choses qui ne sont pas à leur avantage. La taxe scolaire ne devrait pas reposer sur les propriétaires seulement puisque tous les citoyens bénéficient de l'éducation. Il y a bien des petits propriétaires qui sont surtaxés.

Notre representant lui ayant demandé d'où proviendrait le revenu pour l'entretien des écoles et pour l'éducation en général, M. Beaulieu s'est dit d'avis que le gouvernement devrait le fournir à même la taxe de vente ou autre source.

Pensions augmentées

Les personnes recevant la pension de vieillesse verront leurs chèques majorés à compter du début de 1968. L'augmentation sera de 2%; elle s'applique aussi à la pension de retraite. Cette décision a été prise par suite de la hausse du coût de la vie.

Toujours hospitalisé

Aux dernieres nouvelles, nous apprenons que Jacques Soucisse est toujours hospitalisé à Montréal et qu'aucun changement ne s'est produit dans son état. Les médecins sont confiants que son jeune âge et sa force physique lui permettront de remonter la pente. C'est ce que nous lui souhaitons de tout coeur.

Une autre mort accidentelle

Avant miniut samedi la tragique nouvelle de la mort accidentelle de Peter Stephen, fils aîné de M. et Mme Douglas E. Stephen de Huntingdon, nous était communiquée.

Peter 23 ans, avait quitté Huntingdon à 4:30 a.m. pour se rendre à Syracuse rendre visite à une amie, Mlle Beverly Trainer de Chateaugay, N.Y. qui étudie à l'université de l'endroit. Au cours de l'après-midi, le jeune couple avait visité la ville et la région. Après le souper, Peter reconduisit son amie et était sur le chemin du retour quand se produisit l'accident fatal. Ceci se produisait à 40 milles de Syracuse, près de Pulaski, sur la Route 81; il appert que l'auto a quitté la route pour aller frapper un arbre.

Les policiers de l'Etat de New York qui ont fait les constatations ont rapporté que l'accident s'est produit vers 10:30 p.m.; il n'y avait aucune trace de freins à l'endroit où l'auto a quitté la route, soit environ 50 pieds de l'arbre sur lequel s'est arrêté l'auto, ce qui semble indiquer que le conducteur s'était endormi. La mort causée par une fracture du cou, fut instantanée. L'auto, une Falcon 1965 fut démolie.

Peter avait gradué du Huntingdon High School en 1962; il avait étudié pendant trois étés à l'Université Laval, prenant des cours de français. Pendant plusieurs saisons il fut membre actif du club Toastmasters de Valleyfield et en plus d'une occasion avait prononcé des causeries dans notre langue. Pendant les années qu'il a passées dans le commerce familial, il s'était fait de nombreux amis parmi les clients et hommes d'affaires tant français, qu'anglais.

A l'école, il s'intéressait à la photographie et aux activités sportives. Il appréciait vivement la bonne musique et la lecture. Parmi ceux qui le manqueront se trouvent de nombreux joueurs d'échec, jeunes et vieux.

La dépouille mortelle fut exposée au Salon Kelly jusqu'à 2 heures mardi après-midi; le service funèbre fut célébré à l'église United. Son pasteur, le Rév. Henry Lowenberger officiait, assisté du Rév. G. McMichen de l'église Présbytérienne et du Rév. Gayle Ruoff de l'église Méthodiste de Chateaugay, N.Y.

Les nombreux tributs floraux et l'assistance nombreuse à la cérémonie indiquent l'estime dont jouissait le jeune homme. Il laisse dans le deuil, ses parents, un frère, Garth; ses grands-parents M. et Mme Alfred Stephen; aussi ses oncles et tantes. L'inhumation eut lieu au cimetière protestant.

La Boîte à chansons

Vous êtes cordialement invités à vous rendre à la Boîte à Chansons (étage supérieur de l'aréna) jeudi soir pour quelques parties de bingo. Vous pourrez par la même occasion vous rendre compte de ce qui a été accompli à date par les jeunes qui ont vraiment des talents de décorateurs. En venant les encourager par votre présence vous leur permettrez de continuer à aménager un coin bien à eux où ils pourront se récréer sous la surveillance d'adultes.

A l'Expo

Les élèves du Cours Secondaire de l'Ecole Notre-Dame se rendaient à l'Expo lundi pour une deuxième visite en groupe. Les étudiants ont fort goûté cette journée et sont reconnaissants à la Commission Scolaire pour leur avoir donné l'occasion de se rendre encore une fois sur la Terre des Hommes.

Athelstan Salsh & Door and Grist Mill reprend ses activités

M. Donald Racine nous apprend que son commerce est de nouveau en opération. Il invite ses clients à lui rendre visite pour tous leurs besoins de moulées. Il peut également remplir toutes les commandes de bois de construction. Nous lui souhaitons tout le succès possible.

Ecole St-Joseph à l'Expo '67

Vendredi le 13 octobre, les professeurs et la direction du Cours Primaire Français avaient organisé, pour les élèves de 4e à la 7e, une visite à l'Expo '67. Plus de 280 élèves ont pu profiter de cette journée grâce aux 56 moniteurs qui ont bien voulu prêter leurs services pour la journée en s'occupant d'un groupe de jeunes. Tous les élèves sont revenus enchantés de leur voyage quoique un peu fatigués.

La direction de l'Ecole St-Joseph désire remercier publiquement les professeurs et les parents qui ont offert leurs services pour la journée, comme moniteurs, et aussi la Commission Scolaire qui a rendu possible, ce voyage.

Communiqué de l'évêché

Mgr Hozael Aganier, Vicaire Général du diocèse de Valleyfield, partiicipera à une session théologique de trois mois (15 octobre — 25 janvier) organisée au Centre St-Dominique près de Lyon.

A l'origine de l'élaboration de ce stage annuel de trois mois, il y a ce besoin urgent, ressenti par bon nombre de prêtres et de religieux, de comprendre les questions actuelles qui se posent à l'Eglise. Pour beaucoup, en effet, il y a une inquiétude véritable et parfois une angoisse, à sentir des points doctrinaux, considérés jusqu'alors comme fondamentaux, apparemment remis en question (valeur des Evangiles, de la Tradition de l'Eglise, etc.)

Il est nécessaire d'aider tous les chrétiens, et spécialement ceux qui ont des responsabilités propres dans l'Eglise, non pas à faire leur "synthèse doctrinale" (ce serait trop prétentieux), mais à entendre les questions posées par le monde d'aujourd'hui et à pouvoir les situer.

Nul doute que cette session théologique sera profitable à l'ensemble du diocèse.

Décès de M. A. R. Santoire de St-Chrysostôme

Nous avons appris avec regret le décès de M. A.R. Santoire survenu le 27 septembre à l'Hôtel-Dieu de Montréal après une longue maladie.

Né le 14 mai 1887, M. Santoire avait terminé ses études au Mont Saint-Louis. Marié à Hélène Laberge en 1912, M. Santoire a toujours été marchand général à St-Chrysostôme. Lui survivent, son épouse, un frère Me Roméo Santoire, greffier de Montréal une belle-soeur Madeleine Parrot, une cousine Rose-Alba Santoire de Howick, ses beaux-frères et belles-soeurs: M. et Mme Wilbrod Laberge, Dr et Mme A.L. Laberge de Sherbrooke, Dr et Mme G.G. Laberge de Montréal, Mlle Alice Laberge et Mme Violette Beaudin de Valleyfield; plusieurs neveux et nièces dont deux prêtres, les abbés Claude et Fernand Laberge de Sherbrooke qui co-célébraient au service funèbre.

Les funérailles ont eu lieu samedi le 30 septembre. Le convoi funèbre précédé d'un landau de fleurs partit du salon funéraire Lionel Demers pour se rendre à l'église paroissiale où le service a été célébré à 3 heures. L'inhumation eut lieu au cimetière local.

Nous offrons nos condoléances à la famille en deuil.

Ormstown

4000 PERSONNES APPLAUDISSENT NOS ETOILES

C'est devant une foule d'environ 4,000 personnes que les étoiles de Notre-Dame ont démontré leurs talents à la Place des Nations de l'Expo samedi dernier. De nombreux protographes amateurs les ont prises sur le vif tandis que les spectateurs enthousiastes les applaudissaient à plusieurs reprises.

Selon une personne présente, les majorettes et le corps de tambours qui les accompagnait ont donné leur meilleure performance à date. Les responsables du groupe sont très fiers de chacune.

Les 45 jeunes filles qui formaient le groupe, dont huit jouent du tambour, étaient accompagnées de cinq chaperons ainsi que de l'instructeur Gary Thompson. Les responsables remercient Ricky Watson pour l'usage de son enregistreuse. Après la représentation qui avait été retardée de près de 45 minutes, le groupe se rendit en hâte au stade Molson où les majorettes ont donné leur numéro à la demie de la partie. L'assistance était plutôt minime (les Alouettes n'ayant vraiment pas de chance cette année) mais les personnes présentes ont applaudi nos jeunes qui avaient préparé un numéro spécial pour l'occasion.

Cercle des Fermières

Mardi soir, le 10 octobre avait lieu l'assemblée mensuelle du Cercle de Fermières de Huntingdon. Plusieurs membres étaient présentes.

Quelques jeunes responsables de la Boite à chansons sont venus expliquer le but de cette organisation et demander de l'aide. Un don de $25. leur fut accordé. M. l'abbé Wallot remercia les Fermières de leur geste généreux.

Mme Conrad Ringuette fut réélue présidente et Mme Gaston Taillefer bibliothécaire.

Dimanche le 22 octobre il y aura un voyage à l'Expo par autobus. Les membres intéressées devront s'adresser à Mme Armand Léger.

Pour faire suite, Mme Jules Caza nous donna la lecture du rapport financier et une rétrospective de l'année dont un cours de couture prochainement.

La soirée se termina par un délicieux goûter.

evening was spent in visiting until lunch time. The hostesses assisted by a few young friends of Maureen's, served assorted filled rolls and squares, coffee and tea.

After refreshments, Noreen Dubord played a few old favorites on the piano and accompanied Margaret when she sang "How Great Thou Art" and "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep Thee".

Everyone then departed, expressing the hope that Madeline and Maureen might some day, in the not too distant future, return to live among us once again.

Mrs. D. Watson, Dorothy Gail, James and Miss Marsha Hooker, all of Lexington, Mass., spent the week-end visiting at the Crawford and Hooker homes and also with Mrs. John Wilson of Huntingdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hooker, Marsha and Jim Watson attended an anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bryson on Saturday evening.

The service at Kensington Church was held on October 15th., with a fair attendance. Miss Gilberte Demers played the organ and Rev. H. Lowenberger conducted the service. Mrs. Ernest Salter recruited a choir of nine in short order and everyone present enjoyed the worship service held in the one hundred and five year old church on such a beautiful, autumn day.

Mrs. Jessie Campbell and Munro Campbell, have moved to their new home at 37 Colville St.

David G. Wiltshire of Toronto spent a long Thanksgiving holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCaig.

Mrs. McCaig's sister, Mrs. William Wiltshire arrived in Montreal on Tuesday evening, one of a group of 6 teachers and 60 students from Toronto schools. They were billeted in Montreal and returned home from Expo on Thursday night.

Miss Ann Johnstone of Toronto was a Thanksgiving guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. A. Johnstone.

Donald Harrison of Brockville, Ont., called on relatives in Howick. While on his way to and from Bury, Que., to visit his parents. Hugh Cameron accompanied him.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Reddick, Donnie, Kenny and Karen of Ottawa, were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and Mrs. Hiram Reddick.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Anderson, Billy and Dougie and Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson were guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lyall, Beaurepaire.

Mrs. Pearl Baxter, Montreal, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and also spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McIntyre, Allans Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mabon of Killarney, Man., and Mr. and Mrs. David Maxwell of Neelin, Man., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton of Ormstown, were guests on Friday of last week of Miss Flora Currie.

Rev. William Hudson McKellar, Ont., was a visitor in the district on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Andrew Turner Jr., is a patient at the Barrie Memorial Hospital following a appendectomy.

Mrs. Clifford Gallie received a bad hand burn one day last week which is being treated at the hospital. Best wishes for a speedy recovery to all those who are ill.

About 20 ladies enjoyed a lovely party at Mrs. Eddie Elliot's home, Ormstown, on Thursday evening of last week, when she entertained members of the Staff and their wives, and other friends at Howick Elementary School.

The party had been planned as a surprise for two of the guests and they were surprised. Mrs. Floyd Gruer presented Mrs. Murray Templeton, ex-staff member with pretty knitted gift. Mrs. Waldie presented Mrs. Gerald Cavanagh with a Corningware coffee percolator as a wedding gift.

A delicious dessert was served followed by several rounds of court whist.

Hazel Bradley spent a week with her son Donald and his family at Beaconsfield.

Services of Thanksgiving were observed at the local churches on Sunday, October 8th., when large congregations were present.

The Rev. William M. Brown was busier than usual that week-end. He conducted a funeral service, a wedding service, two communion services and a joint Thanksgiving service held at Georgetown Church on Sunday evening. He was present also at the wedding reception and trousseau tea and at a 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hanger of Cleveland, Ohio, were guests for several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barrington. They attended Expo twice and loved it.

Guests from a distance at the Ness-Peddie wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William Ness, Aurora, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. A. Ness, St. Johns; Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, Scarborough, Ont.; F. Lt. Donald Ness, Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gruer, Lindsay, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Green, Brampton, Ont.; Miss Betty Douglas, Spencer, Mass, and Miss Barbara Ness, Toronto.

The Hi C group met at the United Church for their opening meeting late in September. On October 6th., they held a dance which was attended by more than 100 young people from this and neighbouring communities. The chaperones were Douglas Templeton and Marjorie, Kenneth Younie and Mary. A group called "The Edge" supplied the music with Chris Ness on the organ and vocalizing, David Champ, Vocal, David Whyte and Malcolm Peddie, semi-lead and semi-rythm guitar, Tommy Aldridge, Ormstown, drums. This was a most enjoyable event.

The Hi-C met again on October 13th., for their annual meeting. New officers elected were President Lynn McFarlane, Vice-Pres. Iona Robertson, Sec. Campbell Gruer, Treas. Andy Tolhurst.

The main discussion concerned a church service the group will conduct at a later date. The Rev. John Anderson and Mrs. Kenneth Younie were present. All young people in the community from Grades VIII to XI are welcome to become members and meetings will be held on the 2nd Friday of each month.

The United Church ladies are busy preparing for their Turkey Supper on the 21st Saturday night.

Ste-Agnes

STE. AGNES — Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Quenneville, spent a pleasant Thanksgiving week-end with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Lefebvre in St. Jean.

Mrs. Hervé Allen, a patient in the Hôtel Dieu Hospital, Valleyfield, was allowed to spend the past week-end at her home here.

Mr. Mario Quesnel, who is attending the University of Sherbrooke, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Quesnel.

On Thanksgiving week-end, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Latour travelled by plane to Seven Islands, where they enjoyed a visit with their son, Constable Léon Latour of the R.C.M.P.

Mr. and Mrs. Latour, who reached their desination in approximately two hours time, found Seven Islands to be a modern and efficient city, and thoroughly enjoyed their brief stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGibcon of Lorraine, visited last week-end at the home of Mr. Gregor Leslie.

On Sunday, Mrs. Mary Davidson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Keith McPherson and family and Mr. W. C. McPherson to Ottawa, where they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fleming and boys.

On Wednesday evening, Miss Rosena Stark of Worcester, Mass. and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore of Huntingdon visited with Mrs. Mary Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Elder.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Martin, Heather, Carole and baby Donald of Fitzroy Harbour, Ont., were Thursday callers at the Elder home. They also called on other friends in the community.

On Thanksgiving Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Keith McPherson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Myatt and family of Malone, N.Y. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown and family of Howick.

In Hospital

The very best wishes for a speedy recovery to Miss Wendy Sutton, who is a patient in the Children's Hospital, Montreal, having been admitted on Thursday evening.

Her host of friends trust that she will soon be able to return home, and so resume her normal daily routine, Ste. Agnes just doesn't seem the same without Wendy on her familiar bicycle. So hurry back — we miss you!

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hamilton and Mr. Matt Cruickshank of Cornwall, Ont.; also Mr. Glen Cruickshank of Sarnia, Ont. were Thanksgiving day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Platt.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Platt were Mr. and Mrs. John Alloe of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Alloe who are former tennants of the Platt's house were on their way to Expo.

Miss Molly Green and Mr. Howard Dyke of Norwood, N.Y. were also guests at the same home on Sunday.

Mrs. Ida Millar of Brushton, N.Y. spent several days of last week with Joe and Hazel. She is leaving this Sunday, October 22nd for Bradenton, Fla.

Rockburn

ROCKBURN — The October meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. Trainer and Miss Cain on Thursday evening, October 12th., with fourteen members and one visitor present. Mrs. Bert Rennie conducted the meeting which opened with hymn. "We plough the fields and scatter", after which Mrs. E. Lindsay read the Scripture lesson, followed with prayer by Mrs. T. Norman. In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. T. Norman was appointed protem.

It was decided we purchase a dozen Presbyterian hymn books for use at our L.A.S. meetings, also a cord of dry hard wood be purchased for use in the Presbyterian Hall.

The roll call was answered by repeating a Bible verse — The meeting closed with the hymn, "It is well with my Soul", and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. During the social hour which followed, dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Glad to report Mr. Walter Welburn, who is a patient in the Huntingdon County Hospital, is improving daily.

The regular monthly meeting of Rennie's U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Steele, on Thursday evening, October 12th., with ten members present. After repeating the U.C.W. Purpose, Mrs. Bruce Maither led Devotions by reading Psalm 100 and an interesting reading on, "Our Thanksgiving", closing with prayer. The President led the business meeting, minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. The Treasurer reported $55.04 cleared at the George Leggatt Sale, $163.36 cleared at Havelock Fair Booth. It was decided to buy a coffee maker immediately. Secretary read an interesting letter from Mrs. Dale Stover, the President read "Foam for Fall" from he U.C.W. News Bulletin.

There is no set allocation for next year. The study book for the coming year is, "Panorama of the Bible". All reports are to be in by January 5th. The regional meeting is to be held in Huntingdon, November 8th.

Meeting closed with the Mizpah after which refreshments were served by the hostess.

BELL LINES

by Laurent Bouchard, your telephone manager

Names make news as they say and if that's the case, one of the newest items of the year is on its way to area residents. It's your new telephone directory, of course. Although the cover is new and fresh looking, it is really the new and changed listings that are most important to you. I find that it is always a good idea to double check my personal list of frequently called numbers against the new directory listings. We have a handy new Personal Directory to help you make and keep a list of those numbers you call most frequently. It has room for more than a hundred addresses and numbers; a section that lists Area Codes in Canada and the United States; a section with a four-year calendar. Plus a section that doesn't list anything at all. You can use it to keep track of birthdays, anniversaries and special events. What's more it is free. Just call our Business Office and we'll send you one. It's a handy little book to have around.

In Southern Africa telephone repairmen have a really gigantic problem. Not hunters, but elephants. The animals have discovered that telephone poles are marvelous back-scratchers and they are causing static by rubbing against the wires. Itchy elephants are a problem we don't have, of course. However, we do consider any problem with your telephone service a big one. That's why we try to prevent trouble before it starts — our underground cable is kept under pressure so that we will be warned of any damage or break, we keep a close eye on our overhead cable, and we ask you to please take care when hunting this fall.

How much can you say in a three-minute phone call? A lot. Slow talkers can get in about 450 words, while people who talk fast can whiz through about 750 words. Many important ideas can be expressed in three minutes. Just consider: Lincoln needed only 267 words for the Gettysburg Address and Shakespeare used just 363 for Hamlet's famous soliloquy "To be or not to be". So when you have something to say to someone far away, do try Long Distance — a real bargain. Especially if your calls are within Ontario and Quebec and you call any evening after 8 o'clock or anytime Sunday.

What's in a name? If you have somebody living at your house whose last name is different from yours, why not have an extra listing in the telephone directory? Individual listings make folks easy to locate. The cost is surprisingly low and the listing makes it so convenient for everyone.
