FATAL ACCIDENT AT HIGHWATER.

George Tisdale Meets Death While Turning Out For An Auto.

WAS PROBABLY OLDEST CITIZEN IN POTTON AND WAS SUCCESSFUL FARMER.

Highwater, June 25.—(Special)—An accident occurred here yesterday, which resulted in the death of one of the oldest, if not the oldest, resident of Potton, in the person of Mr. Geo. Tisdale.

It would appear that Mr. Tisdale had driven to North Troy, Vt., and was on the return journey and when on the highway between that place and Highwater, near the boundary line, he met an automobile driven by Mr. Kelly, of Richford, Vt., who was accompanied by another man. Mr. Tisdale attempted to turn out where a tree had fallen across the highway, and which had been cut close to the ditch. The wheel caught in a projecting branch, with the result that Mr. Tisdale was thrown out of his wagon and he fell on to the tree and received an ugly wound on the head.

Assistance was immediately rendered him by the occupants of the auto, and while one remained with him the other drove the machine with all haste to Troy for medical assistance, but none could be found there, and a return was made to Mansonville, where the services of Dr. Hamilton secured. On the doctor arriving at the scene of the accident he found that Mr. Tisdale was dead.

Mr. Tisdale, had he lived until October, would have been 90 years of age. He was a man of sterling character, and loved and respected by all. He leaves a wife, whose maiden name was Sarah Elkins, and one son, John, who is a successful farmer in Potton, besides a host of other relatives.

PROPOSED SALE OF WESTBURY POWER

Chambre de Commerce Advises Council Not to Sell.

A RESOLUTION WAS PASSED TO THIS EFFECT AND WILL BE FORWARDED TO COUNCIL.

At a recent meeting of La Chambre de Commerce, a very interesting discussion took place on the sale of the Westbury power.

The effect of such sale, on the city, was thoroughly discussed and it was decided that it would not be wise for the council to sell.

A resolution was prepared and unanimously carried, to the effect that the Chambre de Commerce recommended that the city still keep the Westbury Power.

It is understood that the resolution has embodied in it all the reasons why the city should not sell.

The resolution will likely be presented to the council at the next regular meeting.

FARNHAM CAMP BROKE YESTERDAY.

Men of Various Corps Left for Their Respective Headquarters.

OFFICERS SAY CAMP WAS MOST ORDERLY — MERCHANTS PLEASED WITH RETURNS.

Farnham, June 25.—(Special)—The various corps comprising the Eastern Townships Camp, entrained yesterday for their respective headquarters. It was not expected that the men would get away so early in the day, as it is generally the afternoon before a move is made in this direction.

The horses and camp equipment were got on board without much trouble or accident, and the men seemed to be glad that they were on the way home again.

The Army Service Corps did not go out until to-day.

Thursday was pay day at the camp and the Eastern Townships Bank had a branch established there for the benefit of the men in the way of cashing cheques.

It is estimated that fully two thousand people from Farnham and the surrounding district visited the camp on Thursday, many having relatives and friends there.

The first squadron to leave the ground was the R.C.D. for St. Johns, Que., which they did on Thursday evening, having been detailed for other duties.

The camp grounds now present a very deserted appearance.

The officers at headquarters report that the camp could not have been more orderly. Not only was the order maintained in camp but also in the town of Farnham.

The merchants are very well pleased with the amount of business that they have transacted during the period of the camp.

The fact that the officers are in mourning for the late King is the reason they did not hold any public entertainment this year.

Col. Gordon, the commandant of the camp, remained in town until Thursday evening, and Major Stewart will remain until the last of the corps have left.

The squadron of the R.C.D.'s were a fine body of men. They had fine horses. The men were detailed to the different squadrons for instructional purposes, and were very popular with the men with whom they came in contact.

KICKED ON HEAD BY HORSE.

Farnham, June 25. — (Special) — While loading cars at the station, yesterday, one of the C.P.R. employees was kicked by a horse on the head. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Slack.

MEN ARE WELL PLEASED.

Windsor Mills, June 25.—(Special)—"C" Squadron of the 11th Hussars returned to Windsor Mills, last evening, under the command of Capt. Forest, with Lt. Martin and Sub-Lt. J. McCabe. The men speak very highly of their time in camp. They were on the attacking force in the great sham battle on Thursday and escaped the storm which broke over the defenders of the convoy. There was only one case in the hospital from the squadron and that was Trooper Beldon who was kicked by a horse and confined in the hospital tent for four days. The men are most enthusiastic over the way in which they were treated by their officers, while Sergt.-Major M. Smith, from his South African experience, was not only an efficient officer in his position, but also one of the most popular in camp.

BRIDGE COMPANY APPEALS.

Quebec, June 25.—The Phoenix Bridge Company has appealed to the Court of King's Bench from the verdict recently rendered by a jury by which they were condemned to pay a victim of the Quebec bridge accident named Haley $20,000.

JUDGMENT AGAINST DEBTOR'S SURETIES.

Case Arose Out of Failure of Waterloo Hotel Man to Comply With Law.

INJUNCTION AGAINST VILLAGE OF COWANSVILLE STANDS.

Sweetsburg, June 25.—(Special) — Judge Lynch was here yesterday and rendered, amongst others, the following judgments:

McMANAMY VS. HAYES.

This is likely the upshot of a long and hardly-fought battle about the property and person of William J. Glascott, formerly proprietor of the Canada Hotel in Waterloo. Shortly after the sale of his establishment to the present popular owner, Mr. Nadeau, Glascott went away from this Province, with part of the proceeds of the transaction, some $5,000, leaving behind him many much aggrieved creditors. As he happened to show up in Waterloo in the first days of February, 1909, he was immediately apprehended under capias, and locked up in the common jail at the instance of Messrs. D. McManamy & Co., and Messrs. W. R. Webster & Co., both wholesale traders of Sherbrooke. Thence started a sequel of legal incidents which all turned down against the unfortunate debtor. He first obtained his temporary release by giving security that he would surrender himself up into the hands of the Sheriff upon being so required by an order from the Judge, and that he would make a judicial abandonment of his property within 30 days after the rendering of the judgment maintaining the capias, which, in the mean time, he petitioned to have declared null and set aside. His sureties in this connection were Messrs. Fred V. Hayes and William T. Roberts, both of West Shefford, the present defendants. Such maintenance of the capias was granted, and Glascott then made up his mind to abandon his property. Unhappily, his Bilan did not prove satisfactory to the Sherbrooke firms who united and successfully contested it, the insolvent debtor being condemned to six months' imprisonment for false and fraudulent statement. This last blow seemed to break Glascott's heart, and he ran away in parts unknown, leaving alone his sureties with huge liabilities to confront themselves. The present contestation was joined on rather technical issues. Let it be sufficient to say that after a conscientious sifting of all of the articles of the capias law by learned counsels, the Court entirely upheld the pretentions of the plaintiff and defendants are condemned to pay the whole of Glascott's debt towards D. McManamy & Co., Inc., together with all the costs of the different judgments in the matter to date.

BENOIT VS. ST. ARMAND WEST.

This action was to set aside resolutions of the Council of St. Armand West, ordering, at the request of one, Jourdanais, supported by a score of petitioners, the opening of a road from Hancock Hill, so-called, to the Highgate road, into the State of Vermont. The plaintiff, whose meadows and pasture are to be cut through by the new proposed road, objects to such works being made, on the ground that they will not be in the public interest, said Jourdanais and one neighbor being the only ones, he claims, to be benefited by it to go into the States; and because the new road as intended to be built will follow the International line on a distance of some acres, which fact, as one of the witnesses heard remarked, will give the smugglers of the neighborhood, if any, a nice opportunity of infringing the laws, if they want to take advantage of the situation. Moreover, Mr. Benoit claimed that the requirements of the Municipal Code had not been complied with in the matter. The Court, however, did not view things in the same light, and the action was dismissed.

TO AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS.

Who Can Make the Best Photo of Attractive Eastern Townships Scene?

DAILY RECORD ANNOUNCES A COMPETITION TO DEMONSTRATE NATURAL BEAUTY OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.

The Daily Record has often contended that the natural beauty of the Eastern Townships is unexcelled anywhere in Canada.

Amateur photographers of the Eastern Townships, will you assist us in demonstrating this fact.

The Record to-day announces a photographic competition, for amateur photographers of the Eastern Townships.

The competition is now open and photos must reach the Record not later than the 20th day of August.

The subjects must be found in the Eastern Townships. Lake, river, mountain, glade, woodland, cultivated field, the flower garden, rural landscapes and the attractive village square offer countless scenes of great beauty.

The photos should be sent addressed "Photo Competition," Daily Record, and should be accompanied by the name and address of the competitor, and endorsed by the title of the picture. They should not be mounted.

As stated above, the purpose of the competition is to demonstrate the unexcelled natural beauty of the Eastern Townships. It is anticipated that the collection may be placed on exhibition during the fall fairs, a pictorial demonstration for the many visitors who will be here.

Competent judges will be secured to decide as to the winners of the competition.

The winning photos will be published in the Record later on, probably in the Christmas number, when on fine quality paper best results can be obtained.

The first prize will be a No. 2 Folding Pocket Brownie Camera, value, $5.

Mr. W. H. Griffith, of this city, druggist and camera merchant, has kindly offered to donate the second and third prizes which will be: second prize, 2a Brownie Camera, value, $3; 3rd prize, Brownie Camera, value, $2.

Should any of the winners prefer to take their prizes in camera supplies to the same value, they may do so.

The competition is to be strictly among amateurs and the photos must not be larger than 4 x 5, or 3¼ x 5½.

The Record will be pleased to answer any further inquiries relative to the competition.

LIGHTNING DOES DAMAGE AT DUNHAM.

SEVERAL BARNS WERE STRUCK BUT WERE NOT SET ON FIRE.

Dunham, June 25.—(Special)— The electrical storm of Wednesday evening, the 22nd inst., did a great deal of damage to one end of Councillor George A. Doherty's barn. The thunder bolt rent a large hole in the ground after having wrecked one end of the building.

This is the second time lightning has struck in the same point. Five years ago when the barn, standing on the same foundation, was full of hay, lightning struck the building and burned it to the ground with practically all its contents.

The storm of Wednesday evening also struck the barn of School Commissioner Sherman A. Sweet, but your correspondent is informed that it did not do as much damage there as at Councillor Doherty's.

At East Dunham the lightning struck the barn of Mr. Ernest G. Curley. This farm is being carried on by Mr. Homer Yeats. A mare and her colt were in the barn and were not killed. The building was not burned. The northwest corner of the barn was quite badly shattered, but the northeast corner of the barn was literally torn to pieces. The corner post was knocked into slivers, and it was very fortunate that no human beings were near by, as the chances of escape would have been slight.

Rev. Mr. Sanderson, has left for his new parish at Lacolle, Que., where he takes up work in his new field.

LOCAL UNITS HOME FROM CAMP.

22nd Field Battery Arrived Here at 2.30 Yesterday.

THEY MARCHED TO THE PARADE GROUNDS WHERE FIVE ROUNDS WERE FIRED.

The first unit to return to Sherbrooke from the Farnham Camp was the 22nd Field Battery.

This detachment arrived here about 2.30 yesterday afternoon. After the guns and horses had been unloaded the Battery marched down Marquette, Grove and Aberdeen Sts., striking Wellington St. at the Chateau Frontenac. They paraded Wellington street and then marched to the Parade Grounds where five rounds were fired.

The Battery is in first-class condition after two weeks of hard work.

CAPT. R. H. FLETCHER, O.C. 22nd FIELD BATTERY.

Capt. R. H. Fletcher is in command. The Lieutenants are H. B. Miller, J. H. Atkinson and K. Kennedy.

OTHER DETACHMENTS ARRIVE.

The other units consisting of the 7th Hussars and "E" Squadron of the 11th Hussars, arrived yesterday afternoon.

The Army Service Corps emained on the grounds, fixing up the camp, but are expected home this evening.

The men are all bronzed by continued exposure in the sun, and on the whole are well pleased with their stay at Farnham.

PROHIBITION BY-LAW IS MAINTAINED.

Action to Set Aside Vote Was Maintained.

PROHIBITION IS NOW PERMANENT THING IN MEGANTIC.

Lake Megantic, June 25. —(Special)—Judgment was rendered by Mr. Justice Pelletier at St. Joseph of Beauce, in the Superior Court, maintaining the by-law of prohibition, passed at Lake Megantic last 29th of March, and dismissing the action taken by a prominent citizen of Megantic, representing the liquor interests. This action now settles all doubt of the prohibition by-law being thrown out, as has been rumored in town for some time past. Prohibition is now a permanent thing in Megantic.

BEEBE.

Arrivals and departures include: Rev. Mr. Kearney, for his home in Danville, Friday morning; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Drew, of Ayer's Cliff, and Mrs. D. L. Marshall, their daughter, from Boston, Mass, at the camp meeting; Mr. McIver, of Lancaster, N. H., at Mr. D. F. Davis', for the week.

The ladies of the Methodist Congregation are making preparations for a very enjoyable evening, at the strawberry festival on the Church lawn, next Tuesday evening. A musical programme will be rendered, and the Rev. Dr. Flagg, of Newport, will give an address.

ANOTHER TRADE DISPUTE.

Montreal, June 25.—Yet another wage dispute affecting the railways has centered upon Montreal, when Vice-President Campbell, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, representing the International Order in Canada arrived here yesterday from Toronto to reopen the old differences between the Grand Trunk telegraphers and the company as to their rate of pay. This is, of course, following upon the heels of the railway telegraphers of the Canadian Pacific, who a few days ago secured an all round advance of $5 a month apiece.

SAYS COOK AT CAMP CHANGED PROVISIONS FOR WHISKEY.

A trooper of a certain squadron of the Eastern Townships Cavalry Brigade, who has returned from Farnham camp, sends in the following complaint:

"I can swear that what I am writing is true. The man who cooked for us at camp at Farnham, to my knowledge, changed 25 lbs cheese for 1 bottle of whiskey, and 2 bags of bread for whiskey, 12 cabbages for whiskey and 2 bags of potatoes. For three days we had hardly any bread. A man in my tent who had a little money bought his bread, I had no money, so had to go without it."

HORSE HAD TO BE KILLED.

Brome, June 25. — (Special)—A lightning storm accompanied by torrents of rain visited this section on Wednesday night. The rain did much good, as our crops were thirsting for water. The lightning, however, did some damage. Mr. B. J. Miller had one of his horses receive such a severe shock in the pasture that the beast had to be shot. The loss, however, was covered by insurance.

PLEASED WITH NEW BUILDING.

Sawyerville, June 25.—(Special)—Mr. R. H. Gooley, Government inspector of public buildings, was in town on Wednesday last looking over the new hall which is being built by the Odd Fellows. Mr. Gooley expressed himself as highly pleased with the building, the frame of which is now all up and covered in. Mr. Gooley found the material all good and the work well done, and the supports about fifty per cent. stronger than the regulations require. He also advised about how to build the fire escape and where to have the fire extinguishers, and some other useful information.

PRESENTATION TO TEACHER.

South Bolton, June 25.—(Special)—A pleasant afternoon was spent at the closing exercises of the school here, which has been taught most successfully by Miss Pibus. Recitations, dialogues and singing made up a pleasing programme, after which prizes of nicely bound books were presented by Miss Pibus to each pupil. The scholars presented Miss Pibus with a purse of money as a proof of their love for her, and the parents and friends could not let the occasion pass without showing their appreciation of the good work done in the school, so they also made a presentation. Miss Pibus very feelingly replied to the address by Mrs. Burbank in making the presentation. Ice cream and cakes, fruits and candies were served to all. The parents were all unanimous in wishing Miss Pibus to teach another year. Pictures being taken of all in different groups, the company dispersed, thus ending a very pleasant afternoon.

LONG PRICE FOR COLT.

Coaticook, June 25. —(Special)—Mr. B. S. Ingham sold a very fine colt on Friday last to a gentleman from Leeds. The colt was a little less than three years old and the get of the big Clydesdale horse, Clan McIver. The price was $300.00. Mr. Ingham had the misfortune of losing a fine two year old colt by the same sire for which he had refused $250.

THERE WAS SOME EXCITEMENT.

Asbestos, June 25. — (Special) — Quite an excitement occurred during the blasting operations here. One of the electric wires was severed by a rock, and immediately the fallen wires were surrounded by a band of juveniles, and as about 50,000 volts were passing over the wire at the time fears were entertained for their safety.

SUCCESSFUL PUPIL.

Coaticook, June 25. —(Special)—Miss Katherine G. Dupuis, daughter of Alderman Dupuis, is home from Stanstead, where she was in attendance at the convent during the year. She was very successful in the various studies which she pursued. Among the trophies which she won was a gold medal given by Mr. Jas. Gilmour, of Rock Island for the highest standing in the subject "Christian Doctrine."

WILL HAVE TO SIGN CONTRACT.

Coaticook, June 25. —(Special)—The Corporation is commencing the distribution of its electric light by-law, and with each copy of the by-law is left a circular stating that after July 1st, all users of light will be required to sign a contract with the corporation based on this by-law, and advising users that the service cannot be continued to those who refuse to make such contract. The notice is signed by Superintendent Davis, who says that considering the fact that the rates under the by-law are lower than those of most other places in the Dominion there need be no hesitation on the part of users to make the contract.

GOT QUITE A SHOCK.

Coaticook, June 25. —(Special)—Dr. McCurdy was surprised when he went to read his meter just recently for the first time. It was a new meter, just put in by the Corporation. It was largely through the doctor's efforts that the meter system was finally adopted by the council. His faith in meters was for a time shaken a little, however, when he saw that according to the one installed at his house he must pay for 999 kilowatts. The tariff is low in Coaticook but even with the tariff this number of kilowatts would likely cost him some $25. He had in mind that he had used about a single kilowatt which would cost him about 7½ cents. The explanation given by the electrical superintendent made the matter very simple. The man who had put in the meter did not connect it properly and it was running backwards instead of forwards. Instead of registering one kilowatt it went back one kilowatt from the thousand and registered 999.

DROWNED WHILE SHOOTING RAPIDS.

Montreal, June 25. —(Special)—While out boating and attempting to run the St. Eustache rapids, near Montreal, Ernest Gibbons, a young Montrealer, was drowned, while a companion had a narrow escape from the same fate. The party with two young ladies, who are summering at St. Rose, went boating yesterday afternoon, when the young men suggested a trip down the rapids. The young ladies objected and were put ashore. The two boys carried the boat to the head of the rapids and started down the stream, but hit a rock, capsizing the boat. Gibbons quickly disappeared, but his companion was rescued.

WILL CARRY OUT RELIGIOUS PROGRAMME.

Madrid, June 25.—At the conclusion of the Cabinet meeting yesterday Premier Canalejas announced that the Government's religious program would be carried out. He said that the protest of the Vatican against the Imperial decree of June 11 would be ignored and that the decisions of the Government already announced would stand.

MR. W. J. BRYAN RETURNING.

London, June 25.—William Jennings Bryan, following the mood he has adopted since his arrival here, slipped quietly away from London, and under an assumed name journeyed to Bristol, where he got aboard the steamer Royal George, of the new Canadian line, and sailed for Montreal with Mrs. Bryan.

POSTMASTER GOES TO JAIL.

Concord, N.H., June 25.—Arthur W. Charles, recently postmaster at North Conway, this state, pleaded guilty in the United States Court here to the embezzlement of Government funds. Judge Edgar Aldrich imposed a sentence of three years in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., and a fine of $4,916, the amount of his embezzlement. Petitions for leniency, very generally signed by residents of North Conway and vicinity, were received by the court in connection with the case.

THE VETO CONFERENCE.

London, June 25.—It is hoped that the veto conference will be finished before the end of July. Augustine Birrell, who is a member of the conference, speaking at Bristol last night, made some attempt to placate the stalwarts of the Liberal party, as far as the strict reticence surrounding the negotiations permitted. He said the conference was not between popes and plenipotentiaries, not between those who could bind or loose, nor between those who could sign, seal, or deliver; therefore, there was no need to get agitated. The notion that anyone would meet at a round table to try and discover a compromise was ridiculous. The object was to discover an agreement, to find out how far it extended and how far it would carry them. They must not forget that in the event of disagreement their position would revert to its former state.

THREE KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Albany, N.Y., June 25.—Three employees were killed and another seriously injured in a powder mill explosion at Valley Falls, Rennselaer County, a few minutes before noon yesterday.

COMING TO GRIPS.

Montreal, June 25.— A critical stage has been reached in the negotiations between the Canadian Pacific trainmen and the company regarding the demand of the former for increases in wage schedules. What practically amount to ultimatums have been issued by either side, and unless one or the other recede from their present position there is an indication that they will come to grips within a very short time.

FRAUD AT PRINTING BUREAU.

Ottawa, June 25.—For alleged complicity in extensive frauds at the Government Printing Bureau, which have been discovered through the personal investigations of Hon. Chas. Murphy, Secretary of State, F. S. Gouldthrite, who for 20 years has been superintendent of stationery at the bureau, is wanted by the Dominion police. He has not been in the city for several days, and is believed to be out of the country. Albert Harwood, accountant, has been dismissed, also four minor employees, and several others suspended.

Last Thursday afternoon, Dr. Smith was called to render medical aid to a young man in Canterbury, who was accidentally injured in the woods. The young man was working for Contractor Beauchemin, cutting pulpwood on Mr. Watts' limits, which are situated on the Canterbury road near where the road for Gould station branches off. It seems that he was felling a tree and the tree in falling slipped backward off stump, and caught his foot injuring it seriously. The injured man was carried into camp and a doctor was immediately sent for. At first it was thought his leg was broken but on examination the doctor found that there were no bones broken.

CLARENCE J. McCUAIG, Montreal, President ..... Vice-President Black Lake Consolidated Asbestos Company. Director Ottawa Light, Heat & Power Company.
WM. FARWELL, Sherbrooke ..... President of the Eastern Townships Bank.
S. H. EWING, Montreal ..... President Montreal Cotton Company. Vice-President Molsons Bank.
R. T. HOPPER, Montreal ..... Director Amalgamated Asbestos Corporation. President Dominion Marble Company.
W. H. BROUSE, Toronto ..... Brouse, Mitchell & Co. Vice-President Cobalt Hydraulic Power Company. Director Canadian Niagara Power Company.
FRANK THOMPSON, Montreal, Secretary - Treasurer..... Frank Thompson & Company.

Security and Earning Power

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines, upon all street railway extensions, present and future, and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings for the first year after the work is completed should be as follows:—

Street Railway
Gross Revenue	$68,250
Operating Costs	40,950
Net Revenue		$27,300
Power Department
Gross Revenue	$52,000
Operating Costs	13,000
Net Revenue		$39,000
Rentals		3,000
Total		69,300
Bond Interest		35,000
Surplus		34,300

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $31,222, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power, there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

Business for Traction System and Market for Total Production of Power

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that, including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in its having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important railway and industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian Terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well known concerns as the Jenckes Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply a large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbanks Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company, the Silver Spring Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-year franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of 20 years the municipality has the right to purchase the street railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the city of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended street railway, but also to leave 2,600 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic, and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

OUTLOOK FOR CITY

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits.

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments the growth and development of the city and its surrounding districts.

MILTIMORE VS. COWANSVILLE.

The readers of the Record will remember that a temporary injunction had been obtained against the Council of the Village of Cowansville to prevent the emission and printing of debentures in payment of a certain loan in connection with the insolvent Woodburn Sons. Ltd. affair. The Council petitioned to have that temporary writ of injunction set aside, but the Court did not grant their request, holding that things have to be maintained in the statu quo in order that both parties should have a fair case. Debentures once emitted and approved by the Lieutenant-Governor having to be paid, the judgment that might be obtained by plaintiff on his contestation of the validity of the by-law ordering the loan in question, would be of no effect whatever if the Council was permitted to go on with the issuing of these debentures. The chief suit will be disposed of later on in the fall.

MRS. E. KINGSLEY, DIXVILLE.

TEACHERS FOR BROME SCHOOLS.

AVERAGE ATTENDANCE AT VARIOUS SCHOOLS IS VERY SMALL.

Brome, June 25.—(Special)—At a meeting of the School Commissioners of this municipality Mr. J. M. Pettes presided, the full board being present. A few bills were passed and other preliminaries attended to before the engagement of teachers. Messrs. Mark Tibbitts, Wm. St. Martin and the manager, Mr. Albert Clarkson were appointed as a committee to make all necessary repairs on school house No. 12, said work to be completed by August 10th next.

The following are the teachers engaged for the several schools:

District
No. 1—Mrs. L. S. Mooney.
No. 2—Mrs. O. J. Soles.
No. 3—Miss E. Buck.
No. 4—None engaged, left open.
No. 6—None engaged, left open.
No. 7—Miss Florence Green.
No. 8—Miss Addie Dunn.
No. 9—Miss Lizzie Pibus.
No. 10—Miss Grace Miller.
No. 11—No application.
No. 12—Miss Ethel Ball.
No. 13—Left open.
No. 15—Miss Annie Pickle.
No. 16—Mrs. B. R. Sweet.
No. 17—No application.
No. 18—Miss Jessie Curley.
No. 19—Miss Kathrine Owans.
No. 26—Miss Eva Frizzle.

The secretary was instructed to write to MacDonald College for four teachers to fill the schools not provided for.

A rather serious state of affairs appears in connection with the school attendances. There are upon the rolls of the various schools 328 pupils, while the average attendance is but 199. The education of each scholar on the roll costs over $20 per year. Compulsory education would seem to be the only means to overcome this difficulty.

STANBURY.

Arrivals and departures: Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilder, of Sheldon, Vt; Mrs. W. Crothers, and Miss Colleen Anderson, of Stanbridge East, at Mr. M. J. Beattie's on Tuesday; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Russell, to Stanbridge Station, Sunday, at Mr. C. C. Hitchcock's; Mr. Geo. Pendlebury, from Montreal.

Letters to the Editor

RAIN AND GRASSHOPPERS.

Editor of Record:

Sir,—In a recent issue of the Record a letter appeared headed "Rain killed grasshoppers." If the officials at the Experimental Farm think (as they say) that farmers have no reason to grumble on account of the rain and wet weather, they might be interested to know that some of our farmers are not through sowing their seed as yet, and some of what they did sow and up about three or four inches has already turned white from the effects of the continuous rains.

So, if we loose the hoppers, we lose the grain, too. We cannot help it yet we grumble; so would they.

Yours truly,
A WOMAN FARMER.
Keith, Que., June 22, 1910.

CRITIC IS CRITICIZED.

Editor of Record,

Dear Sir:—In reply to the letter written by Mr. T. J. Parkes on June 6th in which he states that "while driving from Cookshire through Eaton township the roads were all right, but when he struck the Ascot line he found nothing but mud puddles, ruts, ridges, fish-ponds, etc." If this refers to the Eaton Road, as many might be led to believe, I wish to say that such was not the case on that date, as there had been no work done in that section except what had been done with the King Drag and the removal of stones from the ditches thereby widening the road. Work with the road machine began on the 8th of June 1910, at said Eaton line and continued the following day, widening the road and cleaning out ditches. No doubt the road on those days and for several days after was not in first-class state as we all know that the heavy rains during the time of operating rendered it impossible to level or put the road in proper condition.

Every possible effort was used so that no one would be at any great inconvenience and the road was wide enough to allow two teams to drive abreast, one on either side of the crown the greater part of the way, where it was impossible to level it.

So far as good roads are concerned I know that Ascot is putting forth every effort to keep up with the times in improving the roads, and if your correspondent would stop and consider he would see that Ascot has more to contend with than any other of the surrounding municipalities.

Firstly:—Because Sherbrooke is the capital of the Eastern Townships and the people of the other towns have all to pass through Ascot to get to the city of Sherbrooke.

Secondly:—Ascot is a sporting ground for the people of Sherbrooke.

Thirdly:—There are many small properties in Ascot consisting of swampy lands from which we derive very little tax.

Therefore, when we take all this into consideration, Mr. Editor, I think your readers will bear me out in saying that your correspondent was rather hasty in his public criticism, and that it is an injustice to condemn any piece of work before it is completed, and especially under such unfavorable circumstances as have prevailed this season. Were he other than he is one might almost think he had been "wandering" from the right path when he made his discoveries for other 'practical' men, several clergymen included, have extended congratulations to me on the wonderful improvements that have been made on the Eaton road during the last few years.

Yours very respectfully,
J. S. MARLIN

DAILY NEWS FROM TOWNSHIPS.

day afternoon. Dr. Ricard and eight others were crossing the St. Lawrence in a gasoline launch, when the engine exploded, precipitating them all into the water. The others succeeded in getting ashore, but as Dr. Ricard could not swim, he drowned before assistance could arrive. He leaves a wife (nee Nettie Garceau), and two small children, who have the sympathy of their friends in the Three Villages, in their sad bereavement.

Word was received later that the body had been recovered, and that the funeral would take place at St. Etienne.

MOUNTAIN FOR A GIFT.

Rutland, Vermont, June 25.—An entire mountain of a thousand acres, and having an altitude of 3,900 feet, was the birthday gift Mortimer R. Proctor, son of ex-Governor Fletcher D. Proctor, of Vermont, received from his father on reaching his majority. The deed conveying the big track is on parchment, engrossed in Roman style like a college diploma by an expert penman.

The mountain is Pico Peak, the fourth highest in the Green Mountains, and is heavily timbered.

C. P. R. AGENT'S WIFE BADLY SCALDED.

North Troy, Vt., June 25.—(Special)—Mrs. Cartwright, wife of J. H. Cartwright, the C.P.R. agent at this place, got badly scalded on Wednesday evening while serving supper at her home. In some unaccountable manner the teapot was upset, turning the contents onto Mrs. Cartwright, who was in such pain from the scalding that she fainted, and it was some time before Dr. White and her immediate friends brought her to consciousness, after first stripping the hot soaked corsage that had burned deep into her flesh.

C.P.R. BRIDGEMAN INJURED.

Adamsville, June 25.—(Special)—Mr. Joan Oliver, a bridgeman in foreman R. Lewis' gang, got a fall on Thursday afternoon which injured his left arm quite badly, the elbow being badly strained but not broken. A doctor was called to fix up Mr. Oliver, and he left for his home at Glen Sutton the same evening. In his fall his head was bruised by striking the frame of a grindstone. He will be laid up some days at the least.

CAUGHT A FAWN.

Sutton, June 25. — (Suecial) — Messrs. Elison B. Greeley, while taking a walk through the fields skirting the woods in company with Mr. G. E. Clark, came across a young fawn that had either been disowned by its mother, or the mother had been shot. The little fellow was about one week old, and showed no fear of the men, allowing them to fondle him at will. Messrs. Greeley and Clark left the fawn several hours, thinking its mother might claim him, but when there was no sign of that, and the fawn showing signs of hunger, Mr. Greeley took the little fellow home and has cared for it since. The fawn is a perfect beauty and will follow the members of the family about the house, and seems to be lonesome when none of them are in sight. His body is covered with bright reddist spots about the size of a silver quarter. Scores of people have visited Mr. Greeley's to see the fawn, which is now growing rapidly, and all pronounce it a beauty.

MARRIAGES.

BUCKLAND—CADMAN.

Waterville, June 25. — (Special) — Mr. Roy Buckland, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Buckland, of this place, was married to Miss Elizabeth Cadman of Montreal, on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckland arrived here Thursday noon, where they will reside. A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Thursday evening.

McALLISTER—LUCKMAN.

Waterville, June 25. — (Special) — The marriage of Mr. Chas. McAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. McAllister, to Miss Gertrude Luckman, of this place, was solemnized at the Congregational Church, Thursday evening. Rev. Mr. Read, of Sherbrooke, officiated. The church was prettily trimmed with quantities of flowers. Miss Alice Edgcombe was maid of honor, while Miss Alice McAllister acted as bridesmaid. Mr. Lawrence McAllister supported the groom. The Wedding March was played by Miss Gladys Swanson.

After the ceremony, the bridal party amid showers of rice, drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Drew where a reception was held, later leaving for Boston and other points on their wedding tour.

BAGLEY—HARDY.

Bury, June 25. — (Special)— The home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hardy, of Groveton, N.H., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 15th, at 10 o'clock a.m., when their eldest daughter, Rena, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry I. Bagley, of Bury, Que., the Rev. Mr. Wilkison, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiating.

The bride looked really charming in a pure white silk gown, carrying a bouquet of maiden hair fern and bridal roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lilla Hardy, and the groom was supported by Mr. C. Hardy. After partaking of a sumptuous dinner the happy couple left for Bury, amid showers of rice and confetti, where a reception awaited them at the home of Mr. Isaac Bagley, father of the groom, and where about 30 near relatives had assembled to congratulate them and wish them all happiness through life. The bride was the recipient of many nice, useful presents.

After a short stay with friends here they intend to return to Groveton, N.H., where they will make their future home.

The outlook is most encouraging for full political suffrage for women, in England, Canada and the United States.

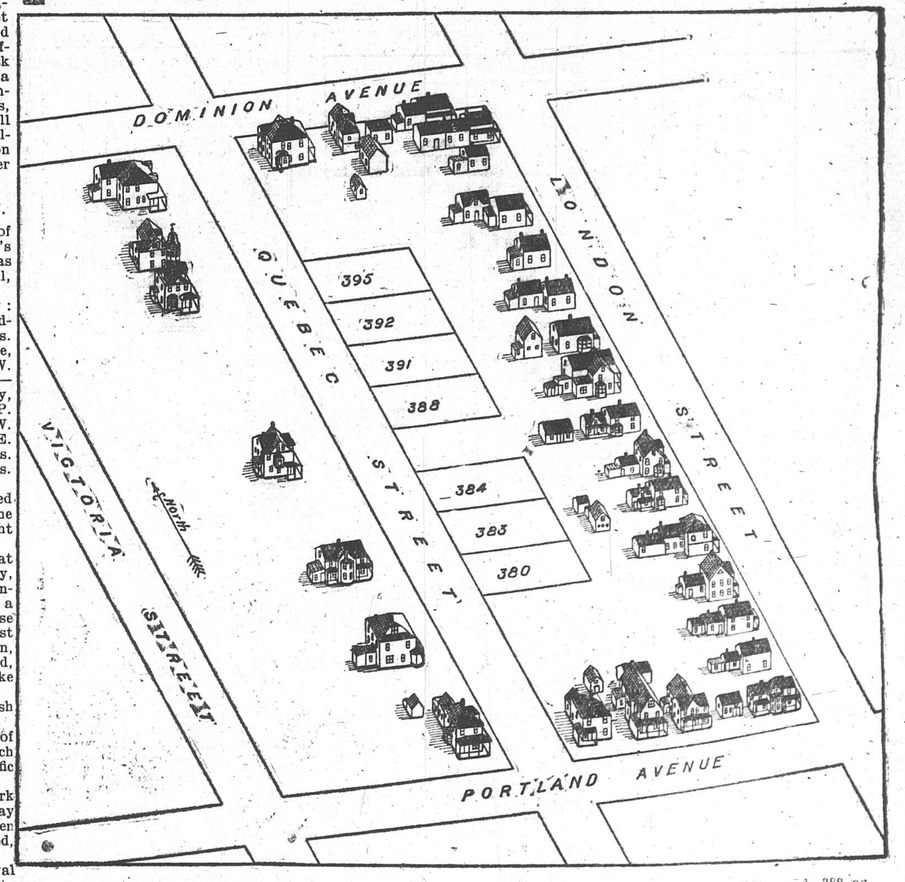
BUILDING LOTS ON QUEBEC STREET

You still have an opportunity to purchase a Building Lot on Quebec Street—between Portland and Dominion Avenues—admitted to be the best residential portion of the City of Sherbrooke.



We are now offering for immediate sale, the four remaining lots—Nos. 395, 392, 391 and 388 as shown by the above plan. They are directly opposite the beautiful residences of F. E. Godbout, Dr. Allen, N. B. Pritchard, Dr. Bloomfield, and within a stone's throw of J.P. Wells, F. B. Wilson, J. M. Jenckes, R. A. E. Aitken, John Armstrong and E. W. Gilman. Mr. Neil Dinning has already commenced building operations on the lot adjoining the ones we are offering for sale. The size of the lots are 66 x 130—exceptionally large—and we are prepared to quote a low price for immediate sale. We predict a rapid rise in land values for that quarter of the city in a very little while.

MR. ALBERT FARWELL WRITES FROM SHANGHAI.

Mr. Albert Farwell, who has reached Shanghai, China, on his second journey around the world, in his last letter says:

"I have been spending several days on a trip beyond Canton, on the West River and its branches, which gave me a chance to see something of the village life in China and much of the great and interesting river traffic.

"Canton, with its labyrinth of narrow streets and its swarming Chinese population, was particularly interesting, and the Portuguese possessions on the charming little peninsula of Macao, across from Hongkong, was a strange mixture of Latin and Oriental life. At Macao I saw a most fantastic and elaborate Chinese funeral procession.

"The time in Pekin, with its wonderful buildings and continuous panorama of odd street scenes, was most interesting, as was also the trip out to the Great Wall, where one sees the immense caravans coming down from the Mongolian plains with supplies for the capital, and to visit the tombs of the Ming kings."

DEATH OF REV. SISTER BERNADETTE.

The sad death occurred on Tuesday at the Monastery of the Precious Blood, Dufferin avenue, of Rev. Sister Bernadette, born Marie Azilda Berard, of Sherbrooke. Deceased, who was in her 31st year, was the first sister to make her religious profession at the monastery in Sherbrooke some twelve years ago. She was the daughter of the late Mr. J. Berard, a well known resident of the city, and she leaves her aged mother, her sister, Mrs. Moise Guilbault, a brother and many other relatives and connections to mourn her loss. Rev. Sister Bernadette was a "tourriere" (not cloistered nun), and was endowed with a sweet and gentle disposition and sincere piety, which enabled her to bear the intense suffering and mortal weariness of the disease from which she suffered, not only without a murmur, but with cheerfulness.

Her submission to the will of God was absolute, and after two years' lingering illness her death was that of a saint, conscious to the last, calm and happy.

The funeral took place on Thursday morning in the little chapel of the monastery, the solemn requiem mass being chanted by the Rev. A. O. Gagnon, Superior of St. Charles Seminary. The music, which was entirely Gregorian, was beautifully rendered by the choir of the monastery. Among the clergy who assisted were Mgr. Tanguay, Rev. J. H. Roy, Rev. E. Vincent, Rev. D.Biron, and Rev. P. J. A. Lefebvre, who sang the first mass and acted as manager of ceremonies.

The bearers were Mr. M. Guilbault, brother-in-law of deceased; her two nephews, the Messrs. Guilbault, and her brother; and Mrs. Berard, Mrs. Guilbault and many other members of the family were present, quite filling the chapel.

The various other religious communities of the city, including the Grey Nuns, the Little Sisters of the Holy Family, and the Congregation Notre Dame, of which deceased was a former pupil, were all represented.

The interment took place in the lot of the institution at St. Michael's Cemetery, East Sherbrooke.

ASBESTOS.

Mr. Frank Wilson, who is employed here, is ill at his home in Kingsey. His place is being filled by Mr. W. Meredith.

Mrs. Wm. Church, left on Tuesday, for Leeds, to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Kinghorn.

Mr. and Mrs C. Shoemaker and little son, Roger, accompanied Mrs. Vivian and daughter, on the return trip to Houghton, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker will be absent a number of weeks.

Mr. G. J. Boisvert has returned from a business trip to Montreal, Quebec, and other points.

Miss Elsie McKeage has so far recovered as to go to her sister's, Mrs. Mathews, in Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lafrance and two children took in the recent excursion to Berlin, N. H., returning on Tuesday.

Mrs. Pearson, Sr. and little granddaughter, have gone to Portland, for a few weeks' holiday.

FROM WINE CELLAR TO CRYPT.

(Week End.)

The historic vault under the Capuchin church in Vienna, which contains the remains of nearly all the members of the imperial family which have died within the last two hundred years has been enlarged by the inclusion of the monastery's wine cellar. Two new vaults have thus been added. The walls are lined with white marble. The smaller ones now contain the coffins of the nearer relatives of the emperor. Here also the last resting place of the present emperor will be.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS.

PRICES AT THE SHERBROOKE MARKET.

LARGE ATTENDANCE OF PURCHASERS AND SELLERS THIS MORNING.

On every fine Saturday the need of more market accommodation is seen. On every wet day the need is "felt" as many have to remain outside.

This morning the attendance was somewhat larger than usual, caused, no doubt, by the fact that last Saturday the rain kept many away.

The past week has been an excellent one for vegetation. The heat and rain caused a material benefit and the farmers are more optimistic.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

DEMAND GOOD FOR EGGS.

Montreal, June 25.—There has been no further change to note in the egg market, supplies coming in are still liberal. The demand has been good but the quality is showing the effects of the warm weather. Western shippers are freely offering their surplus supplies on this market. Sales of straight receipts have been made this week on the basis of 18c. While selects are commanding 21c in round lots. There has been some eggs come into the market from the Lower Provinces which are offering at 17c; there are also some second grades the quality of which is said to be very inferior, these eggs are selling, 13c. per dozen.

HONEY MARKET QUIET.

Montreal, June 25.—The market for honey remains quiet, there being no improvement in the demand. We quote: Clover white honey, 14c to 15c; dark grades, 11½c to 12½c; white extracted, 10½c to 11c; buckwheat, 7c to 7½c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS SLOW.

Montreal, June 25.—Business in maple syrup is rather slow, as buyers in most cases are fairly well supplied, but as the offerings are not large, prices rule steady at 6c per lb. in wood, and at 6½c in tins. In maple sugar the feeling is steady at 10c to 11c per lb.

POTATOES IN FAIR DEMAND.

Montreal, June 25.—There is a fairly good enquiry for car lots of potatoes, of which the offerings are small and prices firm at 40c to 45c. per bag.

BEAN MARKET QUIET.

Montreal, June 25.—The market for beans is quiet, but firm at $1.95 to $2.00 per bushel for 3-pound pickers in a jobbing way.

DAIRY PRODUCE.

BUTTER MARKET EASY AT A FURTHER DECLINE.

Montreal, June 25.—The continued liberal receipts of butter have caused an easier feeling and helped to increase the accumulations in store here. The enquiry from the Northwest and the Coast seems to have fallen off for the time being whilst more enquiry has been experienced from the other side, and sales have been made for export account, a portion ...of which is said to have gone into cold storage for further shipment. As regards actual business, sales of round lots of choice Eastern Townships were made at 22½c early in the week, but subsequent sales were reported at 22¼c, which some holders refused to accept, and we quote 22¼c. to 22½c. as a fair range for finest Eastern Townships. Sales of seconds have been made at 21½c to 22c. It is said that what business has been done on English account is hardly a fair criterion of values, as it was based on a future market. A small shipment of 250 boxes of creamery was made to Manchester last week, this being the first shipment of the new make to the English market.

A BETTER FEELING FOR CHEESE.

Montreal, June 25.—There is evidently a better feeling, due to increased cable enquiries, and some heavy purchases have been made recently, a portion of which it is said, was made to cover short sales of June cheese referred to by us some time since as being contracted by houses on the other ntide. Sales of 10,000 to 12,000 boxes here were reported to us this week at 11c to 11¼c. for Western, and Eastern at 10¾c to 11c, as to quality. Advices from the West state that the cheese in the hands of factorymen have been sold up close, and that the flush of the season's production is about over. Other advices are to the effect that the flush will not be over until the first week of July. By the covering of short contracts earlier than usual however, a well posted shipper thinks the flush has about attained its highest point, and that from this out, a gradual falling off in supplies may be looked for. Time will soon tell.

HAY AND STRAW.

PRICE FOR HAY STEADY.

Montreal, June 25.—There has been an easier feeling in the hay market during the past week, but prices show no further decline. No. 1 hay is scarce, but the trade will not pay more than $14.00 to $14.50 per ton. The lower grades are plentiful; receipts are increasing as farmers are making a clean up of their barns to make room for the new crop. No. 2 is worth $12.50 to $13.00 per ton. There has been a very good demand for export, and some fair-sized lots have been shipped to the United Kingdom. Freight space is more plentiful.

BALED STRAW DULL.

Montreal, June 25.—The market for baled straw is over supplied, trade being dull and quiet. Receipts being 525 bales. A small sample lot was exported this week to the United Kingdom. Quotations are unchanged but are purely nominal at $5.50 to $6.00 per ton on track.

PROVISION MARKET

JOBBING TRADE WAS FAIR.

Montreal, June 24.—The market for live hogs was easier on account of more liberal supplies, and sales of selected stock at the Montreal Stock Yards market were made at $9.75, and at the Canadian Pacific mixed lots sold at $9 to $9.50 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. The demand for dressed stock in a jobbing way was fair and prices were unchanged, with sales of abattoir freshkilled at $13.25 to $13.50 per 100 lbs. A good sale continues to be done in all lines of cured meats at firm prices.

THE GRAIN TRADE.

MARKET HAS BEEN GENERALLY QUIET.

Montreal, June 25.

CORN—The market is quiet. No. 2 yellow being quoted at 64c, and 63c for No. 3 yellow. There is some old well cured No. 2 yellow corn here of 1908 crop, which is quoted at 66c. in store.

PEAS—The market is quiet. No. 2 for May afloat being quoted at 79c to 80c and boiling peas $1.10 to $1.15.

OATS—The market is steady at 37c for No. 2 C. W. in store, and 36c for No. 3 C. W., Local No. 2, 35c., No. 3, 35c., No. 4, 34c.

BARLEY — Manitoba barley is steady at 44c to 45c for No. 4, and 48c for No. 3.

BUCKWHEAT—The market is quiet and steady at 54c. in store, last sales being made at that figure in store.

MALT—The market is quiet with sales last reported at 80c to 82½c. Deliveries have been made on contract at 85c to 87½c.

TROTTING PARK FOR COATICOOK.

LEADING HORSEMEN WILL BUILD A FIRST CLASS TRACK.

Coaticook, June 25. —(Special)— Coaticook is to have a new trotting park. For the last quarter of a century all races, exhibitions, etc., have been held on what is known as Meadow Park, bordering on the Coaticook River. Previous to this there was a race track in the vicinity of the Corporation Grove in the opposite end of the town. This in its day was considered an excellent track and the only reason for not continuing it was that it is some distance from the middle part of the town. After all these years it is to be resurrected. The leading horsemen of the town have got together and have put the track in excellent condition and in the not distant future it is likely to be fenced in and utilized for trotting purposes generally. It will also be used for ball playing and other sports. Considering the men who are behind the enterprise it is safe to say that the track will not only be made a good one but that it will be a popular resort for horsemen.

Eastern Townships Settlements Furnished Upwards of 250 Men.

Final Call Came in 1814 Shortly Before the Close of the War,

REPULSE OF ENEMY NEAR LACOLLE.

Force of Over 3000 Defeated By 500 Canadians—Concluding Military Correspodence of Major Jesse Pennoyer.

(Ninth article in Jesse Pennoyer Series.)

The last year of the War of 1812-1814 opened quietly along the border. On the 5th of January, Major Pennoyer, in the natural course of his military duty, issued the following order to his officers :

"Compton, 5th January, 1814.

"Captain ———

"It being the opinion of many as well as myself, that it would be proper and useful for the officers of the 5th Battalion to have a general meeting, in order to consult each other on the expediency of obtaining arms, as well as on other interesting matters, I have therefore to desire that you will, together with your Subaltern Officers, meet at the house of Mr. B. Stone in Ascot, on Monday, the 24th inst., at ten o'clock in the morning. In the meantime, I remain, J. P., Major, etc."

THIRD CALL FOR MEN.

Six days later, however, he issued another and more important circular. The Adjutant-General had sent out orders for twenty more men from the Battalion to be sent to join the Frontier Light Infantry at "Odeltown, or River a la Cole." This point was called La Colle Mill in 1835, and is now known as Lacolle. Evidently the Frontier Light Infantry had been ordered south from Laprairie to the point nearer the border, and was in need of reinforcements. The Townships had responded twice before to the call for men, and now a third call was made upon them. In fact, the Frontier Light Infantry was formed of the men from the Townships' Militia, and was commanded by Lt.-Col. Ritter.

MAJOR PENNOYER'S LETTER TO HIS CAPTAINS.

On the 11th of January Major Pennoyer's captains received the following order :

"Compton, 11 Jan., 1814.

"Captain ———

"Having received orders from the Adjutant-General of Militia to order out or cause to be drawn by ballot twenty men between the ages of 18 and 30, to march without delay to River a la Cole or Odeltown to join the Two Companies of Frontier Lt. Infantry, under the command of Major-Lt. Ritter. In order to effect which you are hereby commanded to assemble your company at the house of ——— on ——— the —— day of the present month, precisely at 12 o'clock, then and there to proceed or ballot for ——— men, being the quota of your company, which men after being so ordered or ballotted, are to be and appear at the house of Mr. B. Stone's in Ascot on Wednesday, the 2nd of February next, where they will be received and marched to join the two said companies of Frontier Light Infantry.

"I remain, etc.,

"J. P., Major, etc.

"P.S.—The men will take with them a sufficiency of provision to serve them during the march.

MAJOR PENNOYER'S LETTER TO COMMANDANT AT ST. JOHNS.

On the 22nd of February, Major Pennoyer was able to send on nine men to St. Johns, and forwarded a letter to the Commandant Officer by them.

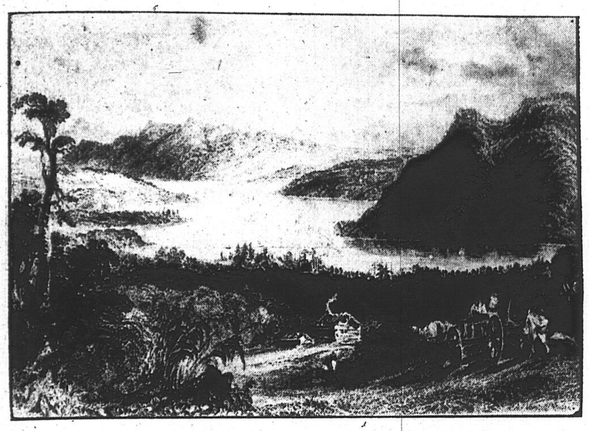
"Compton, Feb. 22nd, 1814.

"Col. Williams,

"Commanding Officer, St. Johns.

"Sir,—In conformity with orders, which I lately received from Louis Ritter, Esquire, Major Commanding the Frontier Lt. Infantry, which orders were dated LaCole, 15th January, 1814, I send forward nine men whose names are mentioned in the enclosed list, which men I hope may on examination answer the intended purpose. At the same time I hope you will pardon me when I observe that I am extremely mortified in not having it in my power at this time to send forward the full complement of men, concerning which I have used my best endeavors and shall not fail to exert myself towards procuring and forwarding the remainder. I send these men under the care of Sergt. Hudson who proposes to remain in the service, and I expect will also take with him one other man. Should they all go on and pass examination and answer the order the number will be eleven, and in such case I must humby request that a receipt of the men may be forwarded to me as soon as may be convenient.

"In justice to Sergt. Hudson I beg leave to observe that he has not only been very active and zealous by encouraging the men to go forward manfully but has willingly taken charge of them to conduct them on to St. Johns, for which I hope he may be rewarded agreeable to his merits and service."



Lake Massawippi, reproduction of an old sketch made about 1835.

TOWNSHIPS HAD FURNISHED SOME 250 MEN.

On the 2nd of March Major Pennoyer was able to send on one extra man from the township of Melbourne from Captain David Miller's Company, but the Battalion quota was still short, some nine men. The population of the entire Eastern Townships was, at that time, probably about the present population of the city of Sherbrooke, and the settlers were scattered over a wide extent of country. Already about 240 men must have been sent to form the Frontier Light Infantry and the settlements could ill spare these. Along with these special orders went those connected with regular development of the militia, and on March 24th, an order was sent for distribution of firearms.

"You are hereby requested to order your company to assemble on Monday, the 28th inst., precisely at ten o'clock in the forenoon, when and where the arms, etc., which have been received will be distributed agreeable to His Excellency's order. You will cause your Sergeant to give particular orders to each and every man who has any sort of firearms to bring them forward in order that they may be received. At the same time your Sergeants will do well to remind each Militia man they are under orders to hold themselves in readiness to march at the shortest notice."

TOWNSHIPS' SOLDIERS AT THE BATTLE OF LACOLLE.

On the 30th of March, General Wilkinson with 3,000 men entered Lower Canada on the western shore of Lake Champlain, but after an unsuccessful attack upon LaCole, retired into the States. La Cole was defended by only some 500 men, and as we learn from Major Pennoyer's letter that Lt.-Col. Ritter with the Frontier Lt. Infantry had been ordered from Laprairie to La Cole about the first of the year, there is every reason to believe that the Frontier Light Infantry formed part of the defending party.

DIFFICULTY IN SECURING RECRUITS.

No news of this attack, nor word from St. Johns, had apparently been received by Major Pennoyer on the 4th of June, for on that date he addressed a letter to Col. Ritter stating that no word had been received from either Col. Ritter or the Commanding Officer at St. Johns, as to whether the men sent on had reached them, although they had left for St. Johns and La Cole on the 22nd of February. On the 13th of July, however, he sends out word to his delinquint captains that he has been commanded by the Governor-in-Chief to make up his quota of men, being nine deficient. On the 11th of August he forwards two young men, with the following letter to Col. Ritter :

"Compton, Aug. 11th, 1814.

"To the Commanding Officer of the Frontier Light Infantry :

"Sir,—The bearer hereof, Trueman Bonney, together with Daniel Richardson, are young men ballotted for to serve in the Frontier Light Infantry who I have ordered to go on and hope they will so conduct themselves as to give full satisfaction. They are both young men of good family and respectable character. Trueman Bonney is from Captain Steel's Company. Capt. Steele has therefore, agreeable to orders drafted or ballotted several young men, some of whom cleared themselves by being infirm. Others, it is supposed, have left the country and gone to the United States. Daniel Richardson is from Capt. Fuller's Company, the circumstances of which are exactly similar to those of Capt. Steel's company. The other companies of this Battalion who are deficient are as follows :

Captain Hyatt, of Ascot, one man.
Hibbard of Hereford, one man.
Hubbard of Orford, one man.
Bishop of Dudswell, one man.
Miller of Melbourne, two men.

The circumstances concerning which as far as I can learn are as follows:—Capt. Hyatt drafted a man who has absconded ; Hubbard of Orford, had but one man who would answer the description of the order. Capt. Hubbard ordered him out and he absconded. Also, Capt. Hibbard's company of Hereford live immediately on the line and are in a great degree under the control of the enemy. Captains Bishop of Dudswell, and Miller of Melbourne, have not made their reports in answer to my last orders, I have therefore yet to learn the ressons of their delinquency."

MAJOR PENNOYER'S LAST MILITARY ORDER.

This is the last letter of Major Pennoyer's concerning the drafting of men. The war was drawing to a close and no more men were called for. Had Major Pennoyer preserved a list of those who were sent on from his battalion, for active service it would have proved very interesting to this generation.

One slight, but noteworthy influence is noted in Major Pennoyer's signature. At the beginning of the war he designated Sir John Johnson's militia as the R. E. M., or Royal Eastern Militia. After some months this was abbreviated to E. M., or Eastern Militia, and at the war's close, this had been again changed, evidently advisedly, to T. M., or Townships' Militia.

On the 21st of September the last military order preserved by Major Pennoyer, was issued and read as follows :

"(Circular.)

"To Captain ———

"Sir,—You are hereby commanded to assemble and bring your company on to the parade at Mr. B. Stone's, on Saturday, the 15th day of October next at 12 o'clock for the purpose of being mustered, exercised, etc. All persons between the ages of 16 and 50 years who may be able to attend you will cause to come forward and to bring with them their arms, accoutrements and ammunition as well as arms, etc., belonging to themselves, as those belonging to the Government, and each officer to bring with him his commission.

"I remain, Sir, Your humble servant,

"J. Pennoyer,
"Major Com. 5th Batt. T.M.
"Compton, Sept. 21st, 1814.

SERVICES RENDERED BY TOWNSHIPS' MILITIA TO THE BRITISH CAUSE.

With this article is concluded the publication of the regular military letters of Major Jesse Pennoyer. In a later article the important points of this correspondence will be reviewed in their relation to the general historical events of the War of 1812-14, in Lower Canada. This correspondence considered in connection with previously published records of the war suggest important conclusions relative to the services rendered the British cause by Eastern Townships' soldiers in this war. Other important documents have come to hand, which will add further and important information to that already published.

In the next Jesse Pennoyer article his correspondence relative to the establishment of the hemp industry in the Eastern Townships will be dealt with.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF BATTALION.

During this last year Major Pennoyer was able to do considerable towards improving his Battalion. In March he had written the Adjutant-General respecting the officering of his Battalion. "I have found inconveniences and difficulties attending the militia duty," wrote he, "arising from the great deficiency of Officers in the Battalion. I therefore wished to have each company complete as to the complement of officers.

"You will be pleased to observe that at present many of the companies have but one Commissioned Officer. That in the organization of each company it might be expected that even in case such officer should be a subaltern—that if no reasonable objection could be offered against it—that each Lieutenant or Ensign should be promoted to the command of the same company which he before commanded in his subaltern capacity — which circumstance exactly applies to the Two Companies of Compton, the one Company of Ascot, and but one commissioned officer to the very large company of Eaton, which last company it is contemplated to divide into Two Companies. But one Commissioned Officer belonging to Orford Company. None at present in Hereford, and only a Captain of Brompton, and some others having only Two Commissioned Officers. In order that you may have a fair view of the state of the Battalion, I have made out a particular statement of each company with respect to officers, which I herein enclose and hope it may so explain the business that His Excellency the Governor-in-Chief, may not find any vacancies.

"As far as I have been able to inform myself concerning the gent named in the enclosed list and for whom I have solicited Commissions, their characters stand fair. They are at present either Commissioned or Non-Commissioned Officers in the Battalion and it is from their zeal, activity and attachment to the Government that I most humbly recommend them. Should any one of them prove untrue when seriously brought to trial I should not only be unhappy but extremely mortified. Every circumstance is most humbly submitted to His Excellency's great wisdom and goodness by Sir, your most obedient and humble servant,

"J. P., Major, etc."

Even previous to this request for more commissioned officers, Major Pennoyer had asked for 18 or 20 copies of the Improved Exercise Book for use among the companies, and during the year had also received a consignment of firearms. The Battalion towards the close of 1814, had progressed towards better equipment and drill. The subsequent history of the several battalions formed in the Townships during those early years, is not known.

MOE'S RIVER.

A handkerchief shower was given in honor of Miss Sadie McLeod on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Henry Tyler, previous to her departure for her home in Montreal. Round games were enjoyed by the younger people on the lawn, while the elder ones enjoyed music in the spacious lighted house. Refreshments were served at midnight after which Mr. L. Demary made a few remarks regarding Miss McLeod's successful teaching in the school here for the past year and a half. And then quite unexpectedly a white hoop laden with fifty dainty handkerchiefs was dropped over the head of the guest of honor. Miss McLeod was also presented with a beautiful Bible and a lovely lace collar as a slight token of affection from her pupils. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Draper, Rev. J. Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Demary, Miss M. McKinnon, Mrs. W. P. Young, Mrs. Lyman Brown, Mrs. R. W. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. THE ONLOOKER COMMENTS.

1878--1910.

During the last ten years most notable progress has been made in many branches of industry in Central Quebec, but in none more than that of asbestos mining. From the Canadian serpentine ridge, marking its course from the Vermont boundary in the township of Potton, through the Potton, Danville, Black Lake, Thetford, East Broughton and Beauce asbestos districts, is taken 90 per cent. of the world's annual output of asbestos. None of the mines in these districts have been operated more than three and a half decades. Several of them are comparatively new. A few are of very recent discovery. As a comparison of progressive values it may be noted that scrub lots in the principal asbestos district, purchased for two or three hundred dollars a few years ago, are now selling for fifty thousand dollars.

For the first three quarters of the nineteenth century Canadian asbestos was an undeveloped, and practically undiscovered, mineral treasure. Iron, copper and gold, had all been more or less successfully prospected and mined in Quebec Province before any effort was made to profit by the riches of the serpentine belt. The report of the Geological survey for 1847-8 referred to the presence of asbestos in the magnesian belt in Bolton, but no interest was manifested in this discovery, as the outcroppings did not appear notable and the actual value of the mineral was not then realized. Not until about 1877-8 was any effort at working asbestos mines attempted. At that period large veins were discovered at Thetford Mines by either Mr. Robert Ward or a French-Canadian named Fecteau, both of whom claimed to have been the first to locate deposits of the mineral in the Thetford district. Only a passing ripple of interest was occasioned by this find, although much land in the vicinity was purchased and mining operations commenced.

The product of asbestos mining in 1878 amounted to only fifty tons, and there was a difficulty in selling that small amount at remunerative prices. The value of asbestos imports into the United States, in the year 1880, was less than $10,000. In 1889 the output of the several mining companies then in operation, about thirteen in number, was 6,014 tons. From 1889 to 1902 there was a slow annual increase to 22,000 tons. In 1908, twenty years after the first mining operations, it was estimated that the asbestos belt produced some 65,000 tons of asbestos, besides 25,000 tons of asbestic.

Italy, the United States and Russia have asbestos mines, but their united product is small. The United States in 1883-4 averaged an annual output of some 1,000 tons. In 1885 this had decreased to 200 tons. In 1907 only some 650 tons were mined. Several of the Russian Ural properties, representing 80 per cent. of the annual Russian production, are owned by a German syndicate.

Tradition or History?

A writer in a metropolitan newspaper, referring to Rogers' raid upon the Abenakis, or St. Francis Indians, states that "It has been said that one band of pursuers was ambushed by the rangers at a place near the site of the present city of Sherbrooke, and defeated with heavy loss. However, Rogers makes no mention of such a fight, and it is not likely he would omit to relate so notable a victory."

The statement that a battle took place between Rogers and the pursuing Indians near the present site of Sherbrooke is based on the account given by a chief of the tribe, one of the survivors, to Major Jesse Pennoyer. The story was corroborated by a son of one of Rogers' men, and by the descendants of one of the recovered captives. Recent discoveries show that Major Pennoyer was a man of scrupulous exactness as to details, careful in recording incidents, a man whose position as government land surveyor naturally inclined him to mathematical precision. While on a professional tour of survey in the townships Mr. Pennoyer was accompanied by this surviving chief, who related the incidents of Rogers' raid in 1759. The account was published in Mrs. Day's history of the Eastern Townships, and was seen but discredited by Parkman. But there is sufficient evidence to prove the account as of certain historical accuracy. Undoubtedly the story was preserved by Major Pennoyer with strict adherence to the details given him by the relater.

One could scarcely expect the Indian's narrative to be as particular as that of Major Rogers, but there is such a similarity in the general outline of the two accounts that it is impossible to believe that the story told by the Chief St. Francis to Major Pennoyer lacked genuineness. Neither Major Pennoyer nor the Indian could have read or have heard of Major Rogers' account. The Indian related the story of the raid as he remembered it, from his side of the opposing bands, and opposing parties seldom give the story of an encounter with exact correspondence in detail.

Major Rogers reported that he killed "at least two hundred Indians," took twenty women and children prisoners, and re-took five English captives, and retreated southward up the St. Francis. Chief St. Francis in his independent narrative gave the number of killed as two hundred, "some few taken prisoners, and a number of English captives re-taken; when Rogers, with his party, prisoners and rescued captives, made a hasty retreat up the St. Francis River." The Indian gave the date of the attack as Oct. 5th, 1759, and this must have been the exact, or nearly the exact date, as Rogers started on his expedition in September and was upwards of a month on the journey. The Indian being more familiar with this section of the country was more particular in reference to places and to the actual movements of the Indians, but in general outline the two descriptions corroborate each other.

Major Rogers, however, did not refer to a combat in the vicinity of Sherbrooke, which was minutely described by the Indian. Yet there is very good reason to give credence to the story. Major Rogers stated that there were presumably over five hundred French and Indians ready to pursue his party, and did actually follow and kill several of his band. As Rogers had only one hundred and fifty men, he must have had some decisive skirmish with the enemy to have forced them to desist from a pursuit which was altogether in their favor. Rogers referred to two attacks which resulted in losses for the rangers, and these skirmishes must have taken place in the vicinity of Sherbrooke. As he had no way of knowing the casualties resulting to his Indian enemy, he naturally made no reference to any but his own losses. The Indian related that, losing many killed and wounded, the Indians in pursuit turned back. And the fact that individual bands were able to pursue their journey unmolested from the eastern borders of Lake Memphremagog to the mouth of the Amonoosuc, proves that some definite repulse must have been given to the band of five hundred revengeful Indians and French.

The similarity of the two independent narratives is evidence that the Indian was not inventing an idle tale. Circumstances surrounding the retreat of Rogers brings one to the natural conclusion that there must have been a decisive skirmish at some point east of Lake Memphremagog and along the St. Francis river. The Indian was one of the pursuing party and it is not likely he was inspired to accurate relation of many details only as a framework for a fictitious story of his own defeat! There is more reason to consider the story of the meeting at Sherbrooke as historical, than to dismiss it as traditional.

Notes.

The dogs in the rural districts continue to play havoc with the sheep, and by their depredations cause discouragement to the sheep raiser. The dog question is becoming a critical one, and a general feeling prevails that owners of dogs, in both town and country, should be held personally responsible for the vagaries of their canine pets.

A number of organizations, religious and fraternal, have been giving serious attention to the question of "mixed marriages." For many generations young people have been warned ta beware of matrimony with any outside their Protestant, or Catholic, faith, as the case may be. Yet such marriages continue to take place in considerable numbers. Cupid is an irreligious little god who persists in putting hearts before creeds, and to attempt to direct the arrows from his bow is a rather large undertaking.

Although the late spring with its unseasonable frosts threatened to seriously delay the growth of farm crops and garden vegetables, the weather of the last two weeks has done much to counteract the harm done in May and the early part of June. During the last few years the weathes man has provided cold weather well up into June, and extended the heat of summer into the heart of autumn. It may be that the seasons are readjusting themselves to a new schedule.

The Sherbrooke Council has decided that the Magog river bridge pier must be rebuilt. However the contractor may regard the decision of the aldermen, the public will undoubtedly prefer using a bridge whose safety in unquestioned. Precaution is a wise quality to exercise in the erection of bridges and buildings, and the many accidents that occur through some slight oversight should prove a continual and effectual warning of the need of employing extraordinary accident-preventive measures in all construction work.

The lion of the hour in the United States continues to be Theodore Roosevelt. The mighty hunter has come home after sensational African and European tours to a worshipping nation of fellow citizens, who are anxiously awaiting some sensational remark or action on the part of their former p?esident. There is something of the "big Indian chief" in the persooality of Mr. Roosevelt, and the public appreciates him not only for what he actua,ly does, but also for the entertainment he affords them.

The United Wireless Telegraph Company, which is said to have taken one million dollars from the farmers of the Canadian West, and which has been raided by the Post Office inspectors of the U. S., at their New York offices, has been offering shares worth 2 cents for $10 and reaping a money harvest. Their actual assets were only $400,000, on which they issued two million shares at $10 per. 28,000 people are said to be losing shareholders.

CLOSING EXERCISES AT ST. PATRICK'S CONVENT.

Richmond, June 24—(Special)—The closing exercises and distribution of prizes at St. Patrick's Convent took place Wednesday evening. The auditorium, which was nicely decorated for the occasion, was crowded by the parents and friends of the pupils. Quite a number from a distance were present. Rev. Father Quinn and Rev. Father Couture were present. The programme, which consisted of choruses, recitations, etc., were well rendered by the pupils. Miss Gladys Hudon gave a very interesting and able address. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet by little Miss R. Emond, after which the evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

BRITAIN'S MONARCHY COSTS LESS THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER FIRST CLASS POWER.

King George Will Likely Receive an Annual Income of $2,350,000—Czar of Russia Gets $10,000,000 and the Kaiser $4,500,000—British Monarchs Give Largely to Charity.

One of the very first duties that will devolve upon the House of Commons, when it re-assembles next month, will be the appointment of a Select Committee to take into consideration the question of King George's civil list, and to report thereon to Parliament, which, as the Government of the day is always represented by a considerable majority on such a committee, will then proceed to fix his Majesty's income in accordance with its recommendations. Mr. Lloyd George, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, will, in accordance with precedent, be chairman of this committee, and the names of its members, some twenty-one in number, will be agreed on beforehand by the whips of the respective parties, though of course it is open to the House, as a whole, when the motion for the appointment of the committee is brought forward to accept or reject the proposed members en bloc, or to vote on each member individually. The Select Committee of 1901, which settled King Edward's civil list, was composed of thirteen Unionists—the Unionist party being at that time in power—and eight Liberals. No Independent Labor party was then in existence, and consequently there was no Labor representative on the committee, while the Irish Nationalists refused, though invited, to be represented thereon, on the ground that they would not identify themselves with the financial arrangements for the upkeep of a Monarchy whose authority over Ireland they disputed in toto. It may be taken as certain that the Labor party will have a representative on the committee which will be appointed next month, while it is possible, in view of the less hostile attitude which the Nationalists are adopting towards the Royal family today, that they, too, may allow one of their number to serve on it. As has been pointed out, it is practically inevitable, from its constitution, that the recommendations of the committee, or a majority of it, must be adopted by the whole House, when its report is presented to it. But it is interesting to note that, in one important respect, the procedure adopted with reference to a civil list committee differs from that which obtains with other select committees. For, though the usual record of divisions is kept, yet this is not published with the committee's report as is the case with all other select committees.

The amount agreed upon by the committee of 1901, and subsequently adopted by the House of Commons, as being suitable for the maintenance of the State, and dignity of the Crown, was $2,350,000, made up as follows :

Their Majesties' Privy Purse	$550,000
Expenses Royal Household..	965,000
Salaries Royal Household...	629,000
Royal Bounty	66,000
Works	100,000
Unappropriated Moneys.	40,000
Total	$2,350,000

It may be mentioned that, in addition, provision was made for payment by the State to Queen Alexandra of an annuity of $350,000 during her widowhood, while on each of King Edward's three daughters, Prince Louise, Duchess of Fife, Princess Victoria, and Queen Maud of Norway, an annual sum of $30,000 was settled for the life of each. Queen Victoria's three surviving children, the Duke of Connaught, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyle, and Princess Henry of Battenberg, also receive State annuities, under settlements made in her reign. It should be noticed that the sum decided on for King Edward's civil list was very largely in excess of that voted to his august mother, whose civil list totalled $1,925,000. But, as was mentioned at the time his civil list was fixed, Queen Victoria had, for over thirty years—in fact, ever since the Prince Consort's death—lived, to a great extent, in a state of semi-seclusion, and so had not the many calls on her for travelling, entertainments and the like, to which a monarch who kept up—as the British people undeniably like to see kept up—a greater amount of state, must respond. And it was known, too, that before the great bereavement of the Prince Consort's death caused her withdrawal from society, Queen Victoria herself had found some difficulty in making her allowance from the State meet her expenses. In fact, those who are in a position to know openly assert that, large as the late King's income from the State seems, it was insufficient, apart from his private resources, to meet all the expenses imposed on him by his position. The extent of those private resources is not, of course, fully known. But he is believed to have inherited much property under Queen Victoria's will, though, as the wills of British sovereigns do not require probate, and so are not made known to the public, this must be largely a matter of conjecture, and it is certain that, in her latter years under the judicious advice of Lord Cross, she made some marvelously paying investments, and was popularily reported to be immensely wealthy. His rent-roll from his private estate at Sandringham must have been a large one. And, in addition, he enjoyed, as will King George, the revenues of the Dukedom of Lancaster, which is the property of British monarchs, and the revenues of which amount to something like $300,000 annually.

CHEAPEST FIRST CLASS MONARCHY.

It is probable that, substantially, the same amount will be decided on for his present Majesty's civil list as was allocated to his father. A few of Mr. Asquith's "left wing" supporters will, no doubt, strive to get the amount reduced. But it is a foregone conclusion that the general sense, both of the House of Commons and of the country, will be against them. For one thing, we make a good bargain with our monarchs. For, since the accession of William IV., in return for the allowance granted them by the State, each of our Sovereigns on ascending the throne has placed the "Crown lands" the annual revenues of which, as a matter of fact, exceed the amount of the allowance, unreservedly at the disposal of the State. These "Crown lands" are, in law, the property of the British Sovereign, and on the respective accessions of both Queen Victoria, and his late majesty, this fact was acknowledged and referred to in Parliament by responsible Ministers. And for another thing, public opinion is pretty decidedly against anything like parsimony in the dealings of the country with its King. Not merely do our monarchs deserve better of their country than do the rulers of other lands deserve of theirs, but our Monarchy actually costs far less for its upkeep than does the monarchy of any other great Empire.

The Czar of Russia draws from his country the comfortable competence of $10,000,000, or more than four times as much as our Sovereign. The German Emperor receives an income of $4,500,000—nearly twice as much as did King Edward—being $3,850,000 from the Kingdom of Prussia and $650,000 from the rest of the German Empire. The Emperor of Austria and the King of Italy draw the annual sums of $3,900,000, and $3,070,000 from the coffers of their respective States—both sums largely in excess of our King's income, while even the King of a second-class power, such as Spain, enjoys a revenue of $1,900,000.

But, while it is improbable that King George's civil list will be less than his father's, it is unlikely that it will exceed it. For, though he has not such large private resources, yet he has fewer establishments to maintain. Not only did the upkeep of Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle devolve upon King Edward, but, in addition, he maintained establishments both at Balmoral Castle and at Sandringham House. And, although it is probable that Balmoral has been bequeathed by King Edward to his son, who has always displayed a fondness for that Highland home, yet Sandringham House, in accordance with provision made by his late Majesty some years ago, will belong to the Queen-Mother for her life, and consequently she will be responsible for its up-keep. And, after all, the allowance of $2,350,000, which the King will, in all probability, be voted, is a far from insignificant sum for any man to receive annually, though no doubt our British Monarchs must seem almost poverty-stricken to multi-millionaires such as Rockefeller and Carnegie, and among their own subjects there are many whose incomes largely exceed the Sovereign's.

THE DUKE OF CORNWALL'S REVENUES.

When the consideration of King Edward's civil list was before the Select Committee of 1901, it was considered advisable to defer the question of settlements on his present Majesty's children, on account of their extreme youth at that time. There is every likelihood, however, that on this occasion, the question of such settlements will come within the purview of the committee, which will be nominated next month. The King's eldest son, Prince Edward, now Duke of Cornwall, is now entitled, in his own right, to the revenues of his duchy, which amount to something like $450,000 per annum. This income will be allowed to accumulate until the Duke of Cornwall attains the age of 21, so that by that ti[illegible] have a snug sum of about $3,000,000 at his disposal. The estate of the Duchy of Cornwall lies mainly in the County of Cornwall, but by no means exclusively so, as some part of it is situate in Somersetshire, and some part in the South of London, in which latter area King George, while Duke of Cornwall, showed much practical zeal as a housing reformer, transforming many of the squalid slums, which disfigured his property there into decent streets with comfortable and sanitary houses. By virtue of a charter of Edward III.'s reign the Duke of Cornwall appoints the sheriff of that county, has his own council, and no bill especially affecting the County of Cornwall may be introduced into either House of Parliament without his previous assent. These powers, so far as the present Duke personally is concerned, will remain in abeyance until he retains his majority. The Duke of Cornwall, on his father's accession, inherits several other titles as well, namely Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Baron Renfrew, Lord of the Isles, and Great Stewart of Scotland, but no revenues appertain to any of these dignities. His Majesty's younger children are entitled to no income, except such as Parliament may grant them.

"I HONESTLY BELIEVE 'FRUIT-A-TIVES'

The Greatest Cure For Rheumatism In The World"

KNOWLTON, QUE., Oct. 12th, 1909.

"For many years, I suffered from severe Rheumatism, and the attacks were very distressing and prevented me from doing my ordinary work. I tried many remedies and physicians' treatments, but nothing seemed to do me much good, and I was becoming very anxious for fear I would become a permanent cripple from the disease.

I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this medicine has entirely cured me and I honestly believe it is the greatest Rheumatism cure in the world."

E. E. MILLS.

Such a statement could not be bought from a man like Mr. Mills. He thinks too much of his good name, to sell it or sign it to an untruth. Mr. Mills tried "Fruit-a-tives" after all other treatment failed—and "Fruit-a-tives" cured him of Rheumatism. In the goodness of his heart, he wrote the above letter in order that sufferers in all parts of Canada would know that there is one remedy that actually does cure Rheumatism. This testimonial was entirely unsolicited on our part. We did not know that Mr Mills was taking "Fruit-a-tives" until we received the above letter.

It is a case like Mr. Mills' that proves the marvellous powers of "Fruit-a-tives" in arresting and curing disease. It may be stated, without fear of contradiction, that "Fruit-a-tives" will positively cure Rheumatism when properly used.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices and is the greatest Rheumatism cure known to modern science.

CORN FLAKES

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES OF CANADA; QUEBEC, ONTARIO, MANITOBA AND NOVA SCOTIA.

PRINCIPAL F. C. HARRISON, Macdonald College.

(Second of Series of National Articles to Appear in the Record.)

Up to the middle of last century, the now very apparent fact that in order to achieve success in agriculture one must first of all obtain a certain amount of technical knowledge, seemed to have been entirely neglected. The result was that in 1874 although there was in existence a number of schools for instruction among the recipients was the present President of the College.

In addition to several short courses, which vary in length from a fortnight to three months, in the various departments, there are two long courses — one lasting two years and the other four. The two year course, which includes animal husbandry, horticulture, agronomy and many other subjects, leads to an associate Diploma, and is designed to meet the requirements of those who intend to take up agriculture as a means of livelihood. The four years course leads to the degree of Bachelor of the Science of Agriculture and allows the specialization in chemistry physics, biology, bacteriology, dairying and agriculture. Many boys who take the long course return to the farm, some few, however, become teachers, investigators and assistants in agriculture as well as agricultural editors and journalists.

In additional to its educational activity the College has given a great and needed impetus to agriculture in general; an impetus the magnitude of which can be estimated by the large number of bulletins issued by the institutes. The now well known Farmers' Institutes, Women's Institutes, Dairy and Poultry Associations, nearly all owe their existence to the Ontario Agricultural College; while the Etomological Society and Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Associations are deeply indebted to the same source.

The result of the formation of these societies has been astonishing, for instead of regarding the college as something quite without their sphere of interest, Ontario farmers have come to be proud of their institution.

Up to 1904 the Guelph College, as it is familiarly called, was restricted entirely to the education of men; but in that year, a women's department was inaugurated. The courses in this branch of the College have been designed to give, by means of many lessons and as much individual practice work, a good foundation in the different branches of ordinary household work; such as cookery, sewing and laundry; and above all, an endeavour is made to awaken an interest in the wider question of sound in law, theology, engineering and other arts and sciences; yet there was not a single institution at which a young man could learn even the rudiments of scientific agriculture.

Between 1840 and 1850, however, thoughtful persons began to realize the state of affairs, with the result that in addition to the publication of several text-books on agriculture a committee of Ontario farmers was appointed to select a site for an agricultural college.

In 1874 the Ontario Agricultural College was established. The functions of the institution were stated to be twofold; in the first place it was to educate young men in the science and art of agriculture, and secondly, it was to carry out the experiments in the interests of agriculture, and publish accounts of the results obtained. The College is situated on the outskirts of the City of Guelph, amidst pleasant scenery and healthful surroundings— the precursor of its kind in Canada.

For thirteen years its usefulness was greatly impaired by the foolish wranglings and petty squabbles of political parties, but since the year 1887, when it was affiliated with the University of Toronto, its wonderful success has more than fulfilled the hopes and wishes of the provincial legislature.

The first agricultural degrees were granted in 1890, and curiously enough bodies, wholesome dwellings and real homes.

For twenty years there was only one Agricultural College in the whole of Canada, but in 1893 the Province of Nova Scotia established one near Truro. Short courses are offered in horticulture and live stock, special care being given to fruit culture, in view of the local interest in fruit farming. Through the broad-minded policy of the local Government any student who has completed two years studies at Truro may travel to Macdonald College or the Ontario Agricultural College at its expense, to complete their course, and obtain a degree in Agriculture.

In 1902 the Provincial Legislature of Manitoba appointed a commission to enquire as to the advisability of establishing an institution where young farmers might study the science of agriculture, and receive such an education as would fit them to perform the highest functions of citizenship. The commission found the necessity for an Agricultural College to be great, and the desire of the agricultural classes for its establishment undoubted—and in 1903 an act was passed calling for its establishment. The site selected was close to Winnipeg, on the south bank of the Assiniboine river, here a number of buildings were erected, and the College was formally opened in 1906, by the Lieutenant-Governor of the province.

The courses given are similar to those at Guelph, great emphasis is placed on the two year course, as it is framed for young men who earnestly desire to improve their knowledge of agriculture, and intend to be directly identified with farming at the conclusion of their course. Some of the peculiar requirements of the western provinces are catered for, as evidenced by the provision of short courses in steam and gasoline engineering for threshermen and farmers.

In 1907, Sir William Macdonald, who has always shown the deepest interest in everything that tends to increase the prosperity of Canadian agriculture, established a magnificent College at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, 20 miles west of Montreal, on the banks of the Ottawa river. This institution differs from those already established in that it is composed of three schools; one for the teaching of agriculture, another for instruction in domestic science, and a third for the training of public school teachers. The benefits accruing from the combination of the schools of domestic science and agriculture are obvious, and the idea of the addition of a school for teachers is that, as many teachers will be required by the rural schools, an early sympathy for agriculture is useful, and will enable them to bring the needed stimulation of technical knowledge to the farmers' children, who will thus be attracted to rural occupations.

After spending a sum of five million dollars on the buildings, equipment, and endownment of Macdonald College, Sir William presented the institution to McGill University, of which it now forms an important part. Some of the advantages which Macdonald College hopes to assist in providing for Canada are, an increase of productiveness, with improvement of products in the field and, in the industries of the farm and town, greater comfort and enjoyment in the home, a better taught school for the children and a nobler sense of the responsibilities of life.

The courses offered are of necessity very similar to those of the institutions already mentioned. Short courses are provided in live stock, cereal husbandry, horticulture and poultry farming; while longer ones embracing such subjects as dairying, animal husbandry, poultry farming and horticulture lead in two years to an Associate Diploma, and in four years to a degree in agriculture. The object of the domestic science courses is to fit girls for the duties of home-making, while the school for teachers gives a thorough training to teachers by instruction and training in practice schools and in such subjects as manual training, nature study and household science.

In the few years that have elapsed since the establishment of Macdonald College, two more agricultural institutions have been founded; one in the Province of Alberta and one in that of Saskatchewan. Both of these are departments of the new Provincial Universities, and as yet are only in the stage of construction.

Thus we see that whereas thirty six years ago there was not a single institution in Canada offering a course in the science of agriculture; to-day there are six, but when we consider that the population of the Dominion amounts to nearly seven millions of people, and further, when we bear in mind that in spite of the fact that Canada is wealthy in mineral products and may rise to great heights in the world of business and commerce; yet for some time agriculture is bound to be the basis and foundation of her prosperity. When we remember this, we shall begin to realize that there is still much work to be done by the present colleges and as much by the colleges to come.

EXTERMINATION OF WITCH GRASS.

A Brome Correspondent writes: "Noticing an article in a recent issue of the Record, re the extermination of witch grass, would say that three successive crops of fodder corn will completely exterpate the worst case of witch grass. Plow in the spring, but not until you are ready to plant; disk throughly both length and crossways of the field, but do not use manure, as it has a tendency to stimulate the growth of the grass. Put in your corn with fertilizer, the more the better, for the stronger your crop of corn is the more effectual the cure. Cultivate your crop frequently, using a hiller if need be. Keep the grass buried and smothered, the shade of the crop will do the rest. The corn alone will be a very profitable crop. The second year you will have very little witch grass to contend with if your corn crop was good. The third year you will have practically none. The writer took the first prize in the town, two years in succession, on his crop of fodder corn, while he was thus destroying a crop of witch grass. The judges when viewing the crops described it as a dense forest.

Your Choice of Three Styles of Roofing

WE make three styles of Brantford Roofing, because it is not reasonable to expect one style to meet all roofing requirements. So we ask you to send for samples. Choose the style you decide exactly meets the requirements of your particular job. Then you are sure of satisfaction.

Brantford Roofing

BRANTFORD ASPHALT Roofing has a silicia finish. It is our biggest seller.

Brantford RUBBER is a smooth surface roofing, but contains no "India Rubber."

Both ASPHALT and RUBBER are made in three thicknesses.

Brantford CRYSTAL is made in heavy weight only. It has a mineral surface of rock crystals. It requires no painting.

The pure wool felt, which is the foundation of these three styles, is made to our own specifications. It costs 33 1-3 per cent. more than ordinary felt.

The Asphalt we use for the saturation is 99 per cent. pure. So called "Trinidad" Asphalt is only about 45 per cent. pure.

UP-TO-DATE POINTERS REGARDING FASHIONS.

YOUNG GIRL'S FROCK.

This is a charming design for a frock of blue and white wash material. The simple straight lines would be becoming to a slender, girlish figure. The frock is cut in semi-princess lines, very scant with a scarcely perceptible curve at the waist and the elliptical shoulder line. The yoke and undersleeves are of white linen, embroidered in dark blue tone of the dress stripes—of this also is the belt. The kimona sleeves, the blouse front and either side of the center gore on the skirt are cut out in wedge shape and laced with blue silk cord.

SEPARATE BODICE.

A dainty separate blouse of chiffon cloth is presented here. The frilled bodice is laid in tucks on the shoulder, which merge in an unbroken line into those which form the sleeve. Medallions of fine lace are joined by lacing of silk cord. Above this vest is a yoke of the chiffon cloth, finely tucked, and the neck is outlined by a band of lace insertion. The lower portion of the sleeve is of tucks and lace, and the girdle is of liberty caught under the left arm with a novelty buckle of passementerie.

FOR THE BRIDE.

An exquisite bridal gown is sketched above. It is of white satin, veiled in white chiffon. The surplice bodice of chiffon folds over a vest of real lace, the short kimono sleeves being bordered with a narrow band of satin; below these are sleeves of lace bordered with silver. The girdle is of silver tissue. The chiffon of the skirt is gathered into a shaped band of satin, thus forming a tunic which falls over an underskirt lace-bordered and circled by a row of silver roses. The veil is of old lace and hows the new mob-cap arrangement with its wreath of orange flowers. The Dutch neck and elbow sleeves are also modern features.

FROCK OF FOULARD.

The accompanying illustration shows a pretty foulard frock in radium blue electric foulard, with black and white spots. The yoke of lace, outlined by a heavy cord of the material, continues in a point nearly to the elbow, where it is met by a cuff of lace, headed by a band of black velvet. Into the yoke the bodice and sleeve are shirred in one continuous line. The belt or girdle is of the foulard and black velvet, with an embroidered buckle in front. The skirt is simple, but smart, with its plain band of foulard, piped with black, which holds the skirt at the knee.

FOR AFTERNOONS.

Of dark green mousseline de soie over a foundation of dark blue silk is this smart afternoon frock. The bodice and sleeves are cut in one; the former slightly gathered into the neck the latter finely tucked on the upper side and bordered with bands of soutache and blue taffeta embroidered in green. The trimming was used to decorate the lower portion of the bodice and the button of the tunic. Pointed tabs of the silk, covered with chiffon and decorated with green soutache, trim bodice and tunic. The underskirt is of the blue taffeta.

HAT OF LEGHORN.

Highly popular is the single rose for hat trimming this season. Of course, when used in this solitary fashion it must be of the finest quality and most artistically placed. This hat of leghorn has a wide pliable brim and high crown. Flat motifs of cream lace are applied on crown and brim, having centers of pale liberty. On the right, weighing the brim far down over the face, is the single rose mentioned above—in this case a delicate shaded pink, giving the most beautiful touch to the color scheme of the whole.

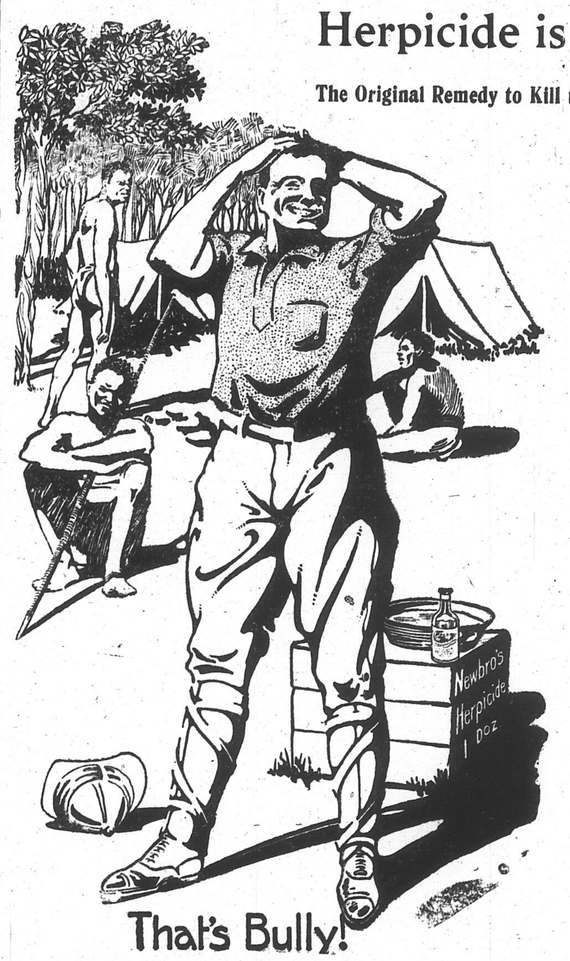
NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Others Imitate But None Equal

Since the world was new there have been imitators. Great men and remarkable achievements are all imitated to a greater or less extent. An attempt at imitation is always a compliment—a tribute to the greatness of the man or the worthiness of the thing imitated.

Herpicide is a Scientific Achievement

The Original Remedy to Kill the Dandruff Germ and Up To Date the Only one that Does it



That's Bully!

Others have tried to imitate it, but without success. It stands alone, the peer of all hair preparations. Used as directed, Herpicide removes the dead scarfskin, which is so unsightly and annoying, checks further accumulation by killing the Dandruff Germ, stops falling hair and brings both scalp and hair back to normal health. Unless completely atrophied, the follicles take on new life, manifested by a strong, vigorous growth of hair.

Completely Bald For Eight Years

Pontiac, Illinois.
I was almost completely bald for the last eight years and tried every remedy advertised without benefit. Herpicide immediately removed the itching and feverish sensation. I now have a fine silky growth of hair started which is growing every day. There was no sign of a hair before.
J. R. JOHNSON,
Care of Reformatory.
