VARIETY SHOW

The Unity Boys' Club Talent Parade presented a Variety Show for the Old People's Home last Tuesday evening.

GAMES' ROOMS

Increased tempo has been noted in both the senior and junior games' rooms, due, primarily, to the addition of some new games, and the inauguration of monthly tournaments.

The Brownie Club under the direction of Noel Ryan meets every Monday evening at 7 o'clock with an opportunity for boys and girls to learn the fundamentals of photography — taking pictures, the development and enlargement.

WOODCRAFT

Louis Thomas is in charge of this very popular activity. Considered one of the main attractions in the handicraft department with a large attendance at each session, the classes are held on Wednesday evening and Saturday morning and afternoon.

EMBROIDERY

Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Warrant have been taking this class for several years and the attendance continues to be excellent every Wednesday afternoon. The embroidery class will have some lovely articles on exhibition at the Annual Hobby Show.

New-type flying club is formed in Montreal

By LARRY McINNIS

A NOVEL IDEA: A new flying club will soon make its appearance at Cartierville, making its headquarters at Laurentide Aviation for the present. The Pelican Flying Club has received its charter of incorporation from Quebec, and the charter members have great plans for the future. Dave Harris is the first president. Some other members: Bill Miller, Maurice Weiner, Rubin Rosen, Ed Kostiner, M. Baranoff, Maurice Schweisberg. The name of the ninth member and director, has not been officially released yet, but when it is a lot of people will be quite surprised! The group is gathering Jan. 17 at 5271 Western (Edwards Productions building) for their first general meeting. The club is novel for Montreal in that it does not plan to operate in the strict flying school sense — no ab initio flying lessons will be given, although members will later have a full-time flying instructor who can give such instruction as is necessary to up-grade licences and give other endorsements, such as instrument ratings and so on. WHAT IT IS: The club will be a non-profit organization, designed to promote recreational flying. The charter members got together with the idea that flying was too commercial around here, and cost of aircraft ownership a little too high for the average person. The club will work on the basis of an aircraft being purchased for every five members, and the cost of operation (basic cost, overhead, insurance, maintenance and depreciation, etc.) will be divided into the hours flown. If they find a profit accruing, the hourly rates will be lowered correspondingly. For example, a person who flies 100 hours per year (the national average for privately owned aircraft is 250 hours) the cost will work out to roughly $7.50 per hour, or less than half the going rate at other clubs.

MORE DETAILS: Ed Kostiner advises that the group is already dickering for a Cessna 170 and will add another aircraft to the line at a later date. The president, Dave Harris, owns his own Seabee, but felt that membership in the group would still be to his advantage. The club plans a fly-in Jan. 22 to Ottawa, which will include a tour of the National Museum. Kostiner says their 170 will not be on the line then, so they will rent aircraft.

FUTURE PLANS: Eventually the club hopes to grow to the point where they can build their own clubhouse, complete with hangar and bar. That will take some time. Membership in the group costs $500 for one share initially, plus $25 a year membership fees. If at any time the member resigns, his share will be sold to an incoming member. There is an associate membership offered at $25, but it does not entitle the associate to fly any of the aircraft. Oh, yes! Kostiner advises, too, that the club is non-sectarian and anyone interested in joining is invited to the first general meeting. In fact, everyone interested is invited, period!

THE OTHER CLUBS: Plans for the Montreal Flying Club's fly-in at Lake Placid are just about tied up, and the event will take place early in February. A maximum turnout is expected, thanks to the promotions of Ed Gates and the new social committee, so aircraft reservations should be made early. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Don Chapman, plus a host of MFC regulars, celebrated 'Sheila's' birthday (she wouldn't say which one) Friday night at the club. The party co-incided with Sheila's return to the Bahamas. She spent three months with the Chapmans, patiently waiting for her first glimpse of snow. Although she got homesick for the Islands, she said she'd like to return to Canada, but in the summertime. Incidentally, her last name, believe it or not, is Sands. Being a pretty redhead, and a regular visitor to the club, she will be missed by many. . . . and they say Lennie's birthday cake was good!

National Canadian Bank profits show increase

The 86th annual general meeting of National Canadian Bank was held, in Montreal, on Tuesday.

The president of the Bank, Ulric Roberge, paid a tribute to his predecessor, Charles St-Pierre, who has retired after 58 years in the service of this institution.

Mr. Roberge remarked that, at the beginning of 1960, predictions were often heard that the prosperity which had been enjoyed during the past decade could only increase during the next one. Unfortunately, the trend of business disappointed the hopes which had been raised by such optimistic forecasts. However, when one takes as a yardstick, not the year 1959 which was a period of recovery, but the average of the past five years, one finds that business on the whole has been as active in 1960 as in several recent years, particularly in some important sectors, such as mining, forestry and the building industry.

Louis Hébert, general manager, read the directors' report for the financial year ended Nov. 30, 1960. Profits amount to $6,919,910, a gain of $1,427,200 over the previous year. Net profits total $3,069,164, compared with $2,635,714. Earnings per share were $3.07, against $3.02 in 1959.

The following shareholders were elected members of the board of directors: Pierre Beauchemin, Wilbrod Bherer, QC, Hon. F. Philippe Brais, QC, Maurice Chartré, CA, Aristide Cousineau, George A. Daly, Roger DeSerres, Auguste Desilets, QC, Hon. J. M. Dessureault, Georges T. Donohue, Hon. Wilfrid Gagnon, A. J. Major, Henri Ouimet, J. Alexandre Prud'homme, QC, Hon. Jean Raymond, and Mr. Roberge.

This week in Westmount

By VALENTINA RAHR

Finals for eight competitors in the public speaking contest at Westmount Senior High School will be held Friday afternoon, at 2:30 p.m. Judges are Mrs. R. G. Gilbride, Dr. H. MacLean and Mrs. R. Dyke. This yearly event is sponsored by the Westmount High Alumnus Association.

Mrs. Elaine Denman attended an art class last Thursday afternoon on Academy road, and on leaving the studio walked to her car parked near the skating rink and put her most recent work (a drawing attached to a board) on the roof of her car while she unlocked the car door. Then, completely forgetting about the picture, Mrs. Denman drove off along Western avenue, Sherbrooke, Clamemont to Cote St. Antoine road, and home. Needless to say the picture was gone when she remembered to look for it. If anyone has found it and does not know whom to return it to, please telephone RE. 7-3582.

Many Westmount High students are making plans to go along with the Montreal Junior Symphony Orchestra on a grand tour of Western Europe early next summer. The orchestra, consisting of 75 members, has long drawn on West End high schools for its talent, students ranging from 10 to 20 years of age. The group, setting out on its second visit to Europe, will be chaperoned and will play in Denmark, Germany, Holland, Sweden and Luxembourg. Shipboard concerts on the S.S. Arkadia, will also be given.

A campaign for funds to sponsor the tour will be held from January 15 to January 31. The trip depends entirely on the generosity of Montrealers.

'Any pool may be our last pool'

WMA agrees on size, location

Annexation debate urged

More important matters than the construction and location of a swimming pool, should be discussed by the WMA, according to J. Richer, of the Traffic and Circulation committee.

One of these, he suggested, is the possible annexation or amalgamation of Westmount by Montreal.

Mr. Richer recommended a special meeting of WMA to discuss the matter, and declared there are two sides to the question.

A study should be made, he said, regarding the services Westmount should strive to keep and which to relinquish in case of an annexation or amalgamation.

The question arose at the WMA meeting on Tuesday on the difference between annexation and amalgamation.

It was stated by an executive of the WMA that annexation would mean municipalities would be ab-

Propose site near rink

By MIRIAM ARMSTRONG

"East side, west side, all around the rink," might have been the theme of Tuesday night's WMA meeting held at Victoria Hall when the proposed swimming pool came up for discussion; but a resolution was passed recommending to City Council the construction of an outdoor pool in Westmount.

The executive could not agree on the exact location, but opinion was divided at the meeting, some favoring the east side of the rink, others suggesting the west side as more suitable.

Though the west side of the rink was recommended in the "Coristine Report," it was described by one WMA member as unsuitable.

"It's not attractive to think of lying out in the sun on Lansdowne avenue, so let's build it east of the apartments," he said.

"The traffic is pretty heavy on Western, too," commented another.

Search pressed for bank bandit

Westmount Police are continuing their search for a man, described about 35 years old, who held up and robbed a teller in the Sherbrooke-Greene branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia late Tuesday morning, grabbed some $3,900 in cash, and successfully evaded a police patrol car which pursued him through service alleys parallel to Sherbrooke.

The robbery marks the third bank holdup in Westmount in a 10-year period; the last one occurred in early 1960 in a bank at the corner of Sherbrooke and Grosvenor.

According to police, the holdup-man, described as "well-dressed," entered the bank about 11 a.m. Tuesday. He was armed with an automatic revolver of undetermined calibre.

Police said he approached the wicket manned by teller Paul Stokes-Rees and slipped a note under the wicket window.

Rees handed over $3,900, but the alarm was sounded while the bandit was still in the bank.

The nearest patrol car, three blocks away at the time, raced to the scene, but the holdup-man was tearing away in his car. Police chased him through several service alleys, but lost him.

The getaway car was later found abandoned on Wood avenue.

About three depositors were reported in the bank at the time.

Following last year's holdup at Sherbrooke and Grosvenor, Westmount banks got together with the City of Westmount in an effort to set up a special protection system.

The nature of the system was not made public, and Westmount Police sources did not disclose if the plan was in operation at the time of the holdup.

Annexation bid should be studied

NOW that the first shock waves, with their inevitably tumultuous reactions from the suburbs, have been dissipated, the Drapeau-Saulnier Montreal administration's announced intention to seek "annexation" appears unshaken.

Though softening the bald original statement of intent by subsequent explanations, including a protestation that they wouldn't take over the entire Island all at once, and that it might be called "amalgamation" instead of annexation — the attitude and intent is unchanged.

The official Montreal view is that other municipalities on the Island reap benefits from their contiguity to Montreal without sharing commensurate responsibilities and expenses, and that this should cease.

The outcries from the suburbs have had little noticeable effect on Montreal City Hall. The protests are understood, but change nothing. Annexation must come, says this administration, and we must press on with it.

Suburban mayors and councillors are expressing confidence that the provincial government will not let this happen, and that the suburbs will have much to say about it even if Montreal did acquire powers to annex.

It would be well for Montreal's corporate neighbors to stop protesting for a moment, and consider the situation without emotion.

First, they should concede steadfastness of purpose and seriousness of intent to Mr. Drapeau, Mr. Saulnier and their followers. This sort of determination has a way of winning over noisy, emotional protests.

Next, they should study

A tribute to Gov.-Gen. Vanier

Sir: In this year of 1961 I want to pay tribute to and express my admiration for a distinguished and noble Canadian — he is none other than Major-General Georges P. Vanier, Governor-General of this great and foremost of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

As a soldier and a diplomat he conferred distinction upon his modest self and the nation. He has occupied posts of honour and won coveted awards; but he remains the humble citizen, thinking only in terms of how he can best serve the land and people he loves and for which he has made many sacrifices.

As a representative of Her Gracious Majesty, he and his beautiful consort bear themselves with a dignity that is both regal and democratic. Georges Vanier upholds, in the highest degree, the splendid reputation of his predecessors who were called to this exalted office.

WHAT has become of aromavision, the invention which was to add to the delights of TV by fitting each screen with a gadget guaranteed to exude exquisite smells?

A demonstration at Whitsdale was a complete failure. "A smell of burning rubber during a talk on Latvian music of the fourteenth century seemed to be irrelevant," said Mr. Cyprian Weft. Opinions are divided as to whether one dominant stink should be relayed during an entire programme or the reek should change with each item on the programme. Aromavision sets for cars should exude only diesel fumes to remind the driver that he is driving a car and must not relax too much.

dispassionately the reasoning and the facts. They may find that Messrs Drapeau and Saulnier have a point here, another point there.

It well may be that the cherished autonomy of the suburbs may depend on rational behavior, study and even positive action to eliminate Montreal's grounds, if they do exist.

'Wives and hunting lodges' 'Remember - no personal expenses unless they increase the income!'

By Miriam Armstrong

Would you go to work in a $1.98 dress?" the Income Tax official asked me.

"Well-uh-no," I replied, wondering where the tax expert thought I could find a $1.98 dress. Perhaps his wife knows, I thought.

With a quick, shrewd glance he appraised by clothing, and said, "You'd pay about $15 for a dress, wouldn't you?"

"Oh yes!" I agreed smugly content that the $8.95 number I was wearing had apparently fooled him.

"Well, we don't care what you pay, but if it doesn't add to your income, it's a personal expense and can't be deducted from income tax," he said. "If you want to buy expensive clothes and live in a $50,000 home, it's all right, but don't charge it to the government."

The padded expense account

The frank discussion of expenses came about as I queried the official in his Dorchester street office regarding expense accounts and their alleged "padding" said to be rampant in the States. But overstuffing expense accounts is not common practice in Canada according to officials.

Everything has to be proved to the satisfaction of the Income Tax Department," he added. "Expenses have to be laid out to earn income, and personal expenses are thrown out."

Most companies know some padding exists in expense accounts, said an executive of a West End firm, but it is tolerated. Nevertheless, "padders" shouldn't expect the government to overlook the fact that "the wife" went along to the last convention, if her tab for the trip was included in the good old expense sheet.

A wife at a convention may contribute to her husband's social or psychological well-being, but that's all!

A wife at a convention does not contribute to income earned, rules the Income Tax Department, so her expenses are not deductible. Convention attendance is reported falling off, as the little woman refuses to be left behind and hubby just can't afford to foot the bill for two. (Two really can't eat as cheaply as one!)

The crib sheet

"Expenses can't be lumped into an account; some types are permissible, others are not," remarked one official.

If you have a car and charge up your travelling expenses to the "crib sheet," as it is jokingly referred to in some circles, only that portion related to legitimate business enterprise will be allowed, and the Income Tax Department knows what that portion is.

If they don't know, they can find out with a little judicious probing. Dorchester street offices are chock full of brain-trust men who know just how, where and when to probe.

"It's our secret who or when we investigate," said another official. "There are reasonable and unreasonable expenses — there's a limit," he added.

"We throw it out," reiterated our expert, "unless it is an expense laid out to earn income."

Fringe benefits

In the States, it is reported, some firms have bought hunting lodges as fringe benefits for employees and have written off the cost to deductible expenses. The State Department is looking very carefully into the matter. Legal minds are discussing the question of "hunting lodges" here, too, informed sources say.

But at present, so-called "hunting lodge" expenses are charged in Canada to the person who benefits from them and are not deductible.

Business expenses are said to have reached "scandalous proportions" in the States, and one American expert believes the government could collect millions of dollars if it "wrings all the water out of expense accounts."

Key men may have to justify their deductions in more detail as the US investigation gains momentum.

A West Ender, now employed by a lumber firm, but formerly a junior executive with an advertising agency said, "Expense accounts are definitely abused. Who wants to stay in a hotel room out of town? You're definitely going to go out on the town, and the more you can charge, the better. It's nothing for a two-day stint out of town to cost $20 or $30, but if you come back with $150 tab, you're in trouble."

A salesman commented, "If you're in a hotel at $3.50 a day, and you're allowed $6 for a day's meals, you're likely to charge a meal but eat a hamburger. You can fix it up with hotel management and keep the extra cash. Some salesmen will charge for entertainment or booze, but they won't buy any, if they can get the customer without it."

A matter of prestige

But where the key executive is concerned, the eating problem doesn't exist. It's a matter of prestige.

For instance, as the official on Dorchester pointed out, an important executive would not be seen eating at a cheap hamburger stand, in case another executive should happen along and say, "Oh, there's so-and-so eating at Joe Blow's! We-ell!"

Our official was late for lunch so I couldn't detain him any longer, and as we rose down in the elevator, he commented, "Don't slant the story, just remember no personal expenses unless they increase the income."

"Don't worry," I said, as we stepped out of the lift, "but about that $1.98 dress—"

Too late! Our tax expert had gone to enjoy his lunch — not deductible.

I SAY!

Another thing that often goes without saying is the human tongue.

Here's a good deed of Dr. Rondeau's that should keep him even for quite a few days. Recently, a young boy developed a severe toothache during the late afternoon. His grandmother contacted several people but everyone was too busy to see him. By 11 o'clock that night, the pain was so severe that his father phoned Dr. Rondeau and asked if something could be done to give the boy some relief. Dr. Rondeau had just returned from a trip and had gone to bed tired out, but he told the gentleman to come to his home and he would give him some medication that might help. This the father did but by 3 a.m. the boy was suffering so, that Dr. Rondeau was called once more and this time he said to bring the boy there. So, in the early hours of the morning, the tooth was extracted much to the relief of all concerned.

Sometime in the early spring construction will commence on a new apartment building adjacent to the "4300" on Western avenue. The building will be owned by the same Westmount resident who owns the "4300" and will extend right to Clarke avenue. It will be in the modern cruciform design with the entrance on Western and will consist of 160 to 170 apartments with much the same layout as the ones in the present building. All apartments will be fully air-conditioned and some of them will be leased on a co-operative plan. Custom-built suites will also be available.

The Westmount High School Alumnae Association is holding a sale sometime in March to raise money for their Scholarship Fund. The event will be under the guiding hand of the president, Mrs. C. E. Swift.

The new building to be erected near Grosvenor and Sherbrooke will have a basement garage for the use of the tenants but what will the shoppers do who have been in the habit of using the parking lot that will disappear?

Juliette has done it again! With successful shops catering to ladies who seek exclusive dresses and millinery, she has now added a third. This one is the new Mlle. Juliette Shoppe, located in the premises formerly occupied by the Hazeldine Shoppe on Sherbrooke street near Juliette's main store. The other branch, which was established a few years ago, is in the shopping centre of Lucerne road, Town of Mount Royal.

Nearly every business man in Westmount knows Pat. Perhaps they don't know Pat's last name but they DO know Pat the window washer. For Pat has been washing windows of the stores and offices in Westmount for over thirty years. Pat can be seen plying his trade in any weather, at any time of the year. In the last few years, he's given up the high ones but he still makes a good job of the ones near the ground. Trying to get Pat to talk about himself is like pulling wisdom teeth but the other day he admitted that he has three grown-up children and five grandchildren. When asked if he was going to Florida for the rest of the winter, he replied that if he ever went anywhere south it would be to California. Why California? Because his eldest son was a professor of science in a California university! Can you imagine how many windows Pat must have washed to put that boy through college? Pat doesn't know how many either but he'll be on the job as usual

Skits highlight of Roslyn meet

The Roslyn Home and School Association will present two Skits at their general meeting on Tuesday, January 17 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Parents drawn from the association will act out problems on the stage. This first, "Junior and His Homework," will bring parents face to face with a most persistent problem. The second, "When do You Step In," will pose a question that all parents must answer.

At the close of the evening, Principal Arthur Wilkinson will moderate a discussion period.

Association president, Bona R Hodgson disclosed the program although new for Roslyn, has proven successful elsewhere. However, "it does require the participation of parents in discussion. We look forward to a very educational and entertaining evening. It will give parents a chance to think the problems out and then present their thoughts in discussion," he concluded.

next Tuesday serving his customers around Victoria and Sherbrooke.

Our Malcolm Gregory is having one of his rare sales at his oriental rug and broadloom emporium on St. Catherine street. There are a few choice gift items left over from Christmas that it might be worth your while to take a look at, too.

Westmount approves Metro closing hours

New uniform store closing hours have finally come to Westmount.

At a meeting of the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation late last week, a municipal representation unanimously approved a special by-law designed to implement uniform closing hours.

The by-law provides that all commercial establishments under the Corporation's jurisdiction will be permitted to remain open until 9.30 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays all year 'round.

Between December 9 and 31, the by-law continues, stores will be allowed to remain open until 9.30 p.m. each day of the workday week including Saturday.

Mayor J. C. Cushing, representing Westmount at the meeting, approved the Corporation by-law "without reservation."

The mayor explained the hours approved by Metro are "much the same as we presently have in Westmount."

Asked if he anticipated any difficulty in enforcing the closing hours, Mayor Cushing replied, "Little or no trouble was experienced in the past, and what opposition there was was negligible."

Localite produces, directs McGill play, 'Flying Carpet'

The "Flying Carpet," a McGill production which combines the talents of the best international acts in the Montreal area, will open in Moyses Hall in the Arts Building on Wednesday, Jan. 18 and continue until Sat. Jan. 21. (Its basic format will be a gay, colorful revue of songs, dances and other extravagantly costumed acts from nations around the world. The cast, well over 100 is one of the largest and most varied one could imagine in one evening's entertainment. Their talents ranging from Canadian folk singing to the intricacies of the Bavarian "Schulplattler" dance. Many well known names in McGill theatrical circles will take part in the production.

To illuminate the vast cultural richness to be found in the native art of countries around the globe. The show is expected to be an important influence in creating a more cosmopolitan attitude in Montreal and an enthusiastic response is thus anticipated from all segments of the population.

"With the renewed interest in the international movement both at McGill and in the city," said Ian Harris, the producer, "we have no doubt that the Flying Carpet will be an unusually spectacular and rewarding show this year."

"The show, he added, plays an important part in the Montreal theatrical scene because more than any other production it reflects the cosmopolitan nature of this city."

The proceeds of the Flying Carpet will once again go to the International House Committee which is sponsoring the show. International House is a proposed residence and clubhouse that would be composed of both Canadian and foreign students in about equal numbers. It would serve to foster understanding between the future leaders of nations. The Flying Carpet was originally an idea of this committee, which was formed in 1952. Its first presentation consisted of two bewildered tourists traveling the world over, and enjoying the music and dancing of many lands, largely under the guidance of Peter Hall, it was so successful that it was moved from the Union Ballroom to Moyses Hall, where it has been ever since.

Three Westmounters, two of them graduates of Westmount High School, hold key positions in the 1961 edition of the Flying Carpet. Ian Harris, 631 Murray Hill avenue, of three years Red and White Revue experience, and this year in charge of set construction is producing and directing the show; Pat Schindler, 598 Grosvenor avenue has been appointed business manager, and Alan Willis, 563 Grosvenor avenue, holds the position of publicity director.

Tickets, at the price of $1.50, are now on sale at the McGill Union Box Office, and may also be purchased at the door of Moyses Hall before the performance. For reservations, call Av. 8-2244.

ON THE AIR

CKVL - FM

THIS WEEK IN MUSIC:

The noontime organ recitals at Notre Dame Church continue, sponsored by the Quebec Organ Concerts, and Mariette Leitreille will play on Thursday, 12.40 p.m. The first in a series of seven recitals devoted to the complete sonatas of Beethoven will be given by Wilhelm Kempff at Plateau Hall, Thursday, 8.30 p.m. The second recital in the series will take place on Saturday.

The McGill Jazz Society presents a concert next Saturday, January 14th, at Moyses Hall, 8.30 p.m. The J. R. Monterose - René Thomas Quartet features Monterose on guitar and Thomas on tenor sax - both men having played and recorded with other great combos, here and in the United States as well.

The Royal Ballet appears in the Forum with performances of the Sleeping Beauty (complete) on Monday, Swan Lake (complete) on Tuesday, and a mixed program on Wednesday.

ON THE AIR:

Selections from two quartets and two operas are featured on 'New Classical Releases' Wed. 10 p.m., and this is followed by 'Masterworks from France' at 11 p.m., bringing you works by Rameau and Debussy, performed by French pianist Claude Helffer. Giordano's 'Andrea Chenier' will be heard in its entirety Thurs. 9 p.m. with Renata Tebaldi and is followed at 11 p.m. by 'Israel Concert Hall', with works performed by the world famous Israel Philharmonia led by illustrious conductors.

An all Mozart concert may be heard on the 'Salzburg Festival' Friday, 10 p.m., when Willy Boskovsky performs the Violin Concerto in G, K-216, with the Vienna Philharmonic under Carl Schuricht, who will also perform the 'Prague' and 'Jupiter' Symphonies. 'Music for the Connoisseur' is heard Sat. 10 p.m. (following 'Evening Symphony') and this week we shall hear Beethoven's musical drama 'Egmont'.

Sunday's 'Tonight at the Opera', 9 p.m., will be devoted to a full-length performance of Wagner's 'Götterdämmerung', with Kirsten Flagstad and the Oslo Philharmonic. Violinist Henryk Szeryng is soloist in Mozart's Concerto in D, K-271A on 'International Concert Hall' Mon. 10 p.m., and the program also includes works by Smetana and Malipiero. For an evening of pure listening pleasure tune in Tues. night to 'Israel Concert Hall', 9 p.m., followed by 'Sonatas' at 9.30 and the 'Montreux 1960 Festival' at 10 p.m., with the Paris National Orchestra conducted by Eugene Jochum and solo pianist Geza Anda, in works by Haydn (Symphony No. 91), Bartok (Concerto No. 3) and Beethoven (Fifth Symphony).

NEW RECORDS:

Ravel - Quartet in F/Debussy - Quartet No. 1 in G, Op. 10/
The Juilliard Quartet/Victor - LM 2413 (Mono) LSC 2413 (Stereo).

The Paganini Quartet recorded these same two works for Kapp some time ago, as well as some other ensembles. The pairing is a logical one, since both works have a lot in common, and the Juilliard group turns in a tight and sensitive performance, well recorded by Victor.

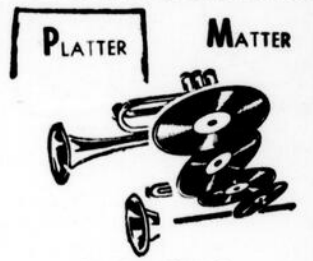

Mozart—Don Giovanni (complete opera) / Soloists (see below), Chorus of Vienna State Opera and Vienna Philharmonic - Erich Leinsdorf / Victor PM-6410 (4 - 12") (Mono)

Mozart's immortal comic opera comes to life in this magnificent production, bringing together some of the finest voices in opera today. Cesare Siepi has the title role, while Donna Anna is sung by Birgit Nilsson. Donna Elvira is sung by Leontyne Price, Don Ottavio by Cesare Valletti, and Leporello, the Don's servant, is given an absolutely terrific portrayal by the very able basso-buffo Fernando Corena. The opera is presented for the very first time in its entirety with no cuts or alterations of any kind. This alone speaks in favour of this album. Add to this a top-notch engineering job and how can you lose?

Richard Strauss - Ariadne Auf Naxos (complete opera) /
Soloists (see below) and Vienna Philharmonic - Erich Leinsdorf / Victor LD 6152 (3 - 12") (Mono).

The story of this opera is based upon the Greek mythological tale of Ariadne, Princess of Crete, who falls in love with Theseus, a captive, and gives him a ball of thread. Theseus is thus able, after killing the man-eating minotaur, to find his way out of the labyrinth and escape with Ariadne, whom he eventually abandons on the Isle of Naxos. After a long and unhappy sojourn on Naxos, the young god Bacchus arrives and it is love at first sight.

The all-star cast for this recording is headed by Leonie Rysanek as Ariadne, Jan Peerce as Bacchus, and Roberta Peters as the flirtatious Zerbinetta. The beautiful album includes a handsomely illustrated libretto and program notes, and is extremely well recorded.

By BOB KEEN

Epic: Hits From The Hills. The Merrill Staton Choir. LN 3703. A dozen favorites from one of the best choral groups in the business under expert Merrill Staton. Both male and mixed voices alternate in superb arrangements of 'Somebody Else Is Taking My Place', 'Have You Ever Been Lonely', 'Wagon Wheels', 'Rain', 'In The Chapel In The Moonlight', 'The Glory of Love', 'Indiana', 'The Old Spinning Wheel', etc.

Columbia: A brace of interesting 'anniversary' discs featuring the baton of Leonard Bernstein conducting the New York Philharmonic. On ML 5385 we hear the Symphony No. 4 in G Major of Gustav Mahler commemorating the 100th anniversary of the composer's birth and the 50th anniversary of his first season as music director of the New York Philharmonic, this of course being a direct tie-in with Mr. Bernstein. The work is indeed a pleasant one, jaunty and gay particularly in the first two movements, with a beautiful slow third, and the finale with vocalist Reri Grist in the child's plaintive poem of Paradise.

ML 5575 Copland: Billy The Kid and Rodeo with the same orchestra and conductor celebrates this living composer's 60th birthday and is a far different atmosphere. Here the wild and woolly West gets a rare symphonic portrayal in music written for modern ballet. 'Rodeo' is in four sections, Buckaroo Holiday, Corral Nocturne, Honky Tonk Interlude and Saturday Night Waltz, and Hoe-Down, which gives you a pretty good idea of the various moods and tempi; while 'Billy The Kid' in one suite, although containing much of the liveliness of the West, follows a more dramatic vein in portraying the adventures of the famous gunman. Performance is excellent.

Surprising census

By FRANCES GOLTMAN

A couple of years ago we took a census of children taking private music lessons in over 20 schools and in these columns disclosed the amazing results. Many claim that more youngsters are studying than formerly since there are many school bands and school orchestras in prevalence today.

The students may take an orchestral instrument (mostly in the school curriculum) learn some basic principles then practise selected pieces to make a showing at a festival or school closing. To learn any instrument requires several years... even a golfer—tennis player—skater—swimmer or ballet dancer needs several years practise before he becomes a good average performer.

If he wishes to be proficient it takes more practise and a longer period. Therefore, those who start music lessons and stop after a few months, or one or two seasons, do not know very much of their subject. Some learn faster than others in all arts, sports and academic courses.

Once again I have taken a census of various classes in over 20 schools (elementary and high schools, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish) and readers can draw their own conclusions.

Beside each school is the grade, number of students in the class, followed by how many are taking private music lessons on any instrument in brackets. Royalvale, grade 4, 36 (6); Westminster, grade 4, 31 (15); Iona, grade 3, 31 (1); Coronation, grade 2, 33 (1); Grade 5, 38 (2); Bannantyne, grade 6, 32 (4); Sir Arthur Currie, grade 4, 35 (7); Jewish People's School, grade 7, 30 (10); Roslyn, grade 4, 34 (6); Summerlea, grade 2, 23 (3); Hampstead, grade 7, 20 (7); Willingdon, grade 4, 25 3, 32 (3); Grade 1, 31 (2); grade 6, 23 (2); Herbert Symonds, grade 3, 42 (3); Grade 1, 31 (2); grade 4, 34 (2); grade 5, 25 (4); grade 6, 29 (1); grade 6, 30 (2); grade 7, 35 (2); Shaar Zion, grade 5,

Light

by

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.
Rector, Trinity Memorial ChurchIf the Incarnation sheds light on the world of things, it sheds still more light on Human Nature, the world of men. The Ancient World man was simply an animal and his status depended completely on his environment. If he was wealthy and belonged to the right race he was worthy of honor. If he was poor and belonged to the wrong race he was not worthy of honor; in fact, he was of no account whatsoever, and might be exploited like any other animal.The dominant social fact of that world was slavery. A man might become a slave for any one of a number of reasons. He might suffer the loss of his goods through some disaster and might be compelled to sell himself and his family into slavery merely to get food and shelter to stay alive. Or his city might be captured by an enemy and the whole population might be sold into slavery. As a slave he was as much his master's property as were his cattle. It was to the honor of the Jewish race that slavery was uncommon amongst them, and if a Hebrew became the slave of his fellow Hebrew he could only be kept in that condition by his own wish.Slavery was a deterrent to the well being of the Ancient World.
True, it set free a certain number of people from manual labor andgave them time to develop art and philosophy and citizenship, but it prevented the application of science to everyday life. It was cheaper to keep slaves than to invent machines.Then came the Incarnation, and a little Child was born in an obscure corner of a pagan, slave-owning Empire, where provincials had little more privilege than slaves. There was little difference at the time between the slave and the member of a subject race. The Child grew but He ended His Life on the Cross, just as a slave might.
It was only when His disciples began to apply His teachings to life that the different attitude to man as such began to appear. The Gospel made converts both among the wealthy and the poor, the free and the slave, the Roman and the Jew, with the result that in some strange way they were all brothers.
Neither Jesus nor His disciples had any theory about slavery. They did not start a campaign to free the slaves; they simply said to the wealthy slave owners who accepted Christianity "These slaves of yours are your brothers in Christ."It is not an easy thing to enslave one's own brother. It was a very short time before the logic of the situation forced the Christians without any campaign to set free their slaves, and even to buy and free the Christian slaves of pagan owners.We do not suffer from slavery today but we do suffer from great inequalities of status which sometimes are as serious as slavery. A man aged 50 loses his job through no fault of his own. In a slow labor market he cannot get a job. Do Christian employers or Christian labor men rush to his assistance?
Up to a point they do. A great deal of relief work goes on; but in spite of it there is a great deal of hardship because our sense of citizenship does not quite carry us to the sense of brotherliness in which every man in need is a brother to the wandering Teacher who had not where to lay His Head.Christianity has done much to change our attitude to our fellow-men; but the Light is often obscured by our selfishness, and we do not carry the teaching as far as we should. The teaching, the example, the Light is there but we are free to ignore it if we love darkness rather than light.Shaar Hashomayim

 PEOPLE and PLACES

Adelard Ratelle, publisher of the smart little French-Canadian newspaper Le Sommet which covers most of the Laurentian section, kicked the Carnaval d'Hiver scheduled for Ste. Agathe, January 20 to February 20, off to a flying start after months of preparation... There's a release on the subject elsewhere in these papers worth reading...

Mayor Jean Drapeau (without the two imported gendarme-type stalwarts) and an assortment of councillors paid a visit to the Chatel Boise in Ste. Adele last week for a sleigh ride and dinner...

Owner George Bourret equipped his staff with bright red shirts and suitable sashes for the occasion... Later he presented the special foliage to the help, which prompted one of the wise boys to remark that nobody "lost their shirts on the deal"...

Real estate man George Brown dining at the Green Mountain Inn's Whip in Stowe, Vermont, last week looked as fit as when he played hockey... Some guys just don't get older...

Eddie Spakowski, Max Huber's coin-collecting barman at Maxlyn's in the same town, has a deal going that should net him some of the folding stuff, if he can stand the strain... If he can't Cuba gets his business!

Willie Barrows, the ski school instructor at Jeffersonville, Vermont, tells us his parking lot is loaded with Montrealers...

Allow us to give you a driving tip: If you're heading for that area in the winter, take route 104 after leaving St. Alban's Vermont. If Stowe is your destination, turn off at Jeffersonville to route 15 and Morrisville to Stowe on 100... Gee, that's clear!

Maurice Paquin, the Mont Blanc ski tow man at St. Faustin has his equipment in first class shape... Did you know that this is one of the largest and best in the Laurentians? Guy Dufour at Le Montagnard Hotel in the same spot, running special all-expense ski weeks, as are the Cotes at Le Petit Chateau, St. Jovite Station, to this T-Bar location... And, you don't have to bring your bank manager with you!

Dorothy Kilgallen, who is syndicated in another Montreal paper, hasn't been well lately and missed her television show... Get well soon dear, dear Dottie! (Hope she doesn't miss the big all star program her friend Frank Sinatra is promoting for the Kennedy campaign funds in Washington... Horrors, of course not!)

Just before knocking off for this week, we'd like to mention there is plenty of snow everywhere, so go skiing!

If you don't enjoy the sport, go anyway. It's fun!
 See you.

LAURENTIAN WINTER CARNIVAL

Ste. Agathe des Monts — Anyone visiting the Laurentian centre of Ste. Agathe des Months January 20 to Feb. 14 will think they were stepping back into a New France scene of the 17th century. Habitants, descendants of the old 'coureurs de bois', wearing the colorful costumes of their forefathers — bright red 'tuques' and 'ceitures flechées' — along with gaily colored plaid shirts and makinaw pants, may be seen standing on the corners of 'rue Principale' smoking long clay pipes, talking, discussing the problems of the day or gathering at the scene of the beautiful mammoth ice palace constructed on the frozen shores of Lac des Sables.

The Laurentian Winter Sports Carnival, which takes place from January 20 to February 14 in Ste. Agathe des Months promises to be the most colorful spectacle of winter sports events and attraction on the North American Continent.

Among the feature attractions of the Mardi-Gras - amid - the - snows, will be the crowning of the Laurentian Carnival Queen which takes place Saturday night January 28 — a ceremony that culminates in a torchlight parade through the streets to the beautiful illuminated Ice Palace where a huge bonfire will light up the countryside and a magnificent display of fireworks will unfold their multicolored patterns against the Laurentian sky.

Also scheduled the same day will be a parade of pageant floats representing 10 Laurentian towns and villages, plus ski events, ice hockey, sulky and skijoring races on the frozen surface of Lac des Sables. Snow-shoe and toboggan

Lost 22 Pounds With Naran Plan

"I would like to say that I have found the Naran Plan very satisfactory. I have lost 22 pounds gradually and certainly feel much better. I certainly recommend the Naran Plan to anyone wishing to reduce the easy way."

MRS. C. MURPHY
Toronto, Ont.

Safe reducing is gradual, your system should not be subjected to the shock of "crash" diets. The Naran Plan can help anyone wishing to lose weight in a safe, gradual manner. Almost all cases of excess weight are due to over-eating. The Naran Plan is the easy way to reduce while still eating three meals a day. Begin today — go to your druggist and ask for the Naran Plan. It is sold on a money back guarantee.

A Reminder

"Let me be a little kinder; let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me; let me praise a little more;

Let me be when I am weary, just a little bit more cheery;
Let me serve a little better those that I am striving for.
Let me be a little braver when temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little harder to be all that I should be.
Let me be a little meeker with the brother that is weaker;
Let me think more of my neighbor and a little less of ME."

Propose site . . .

B. Russell, a member of the Swimming Pool Committee, objected to the removal of a playground on the east side if a pool were built there. He said the west side would be better if the bank could be built up a little.

Mr. M. Usher suggested the section east of the present rink at Western and Park Place be used as a site, condemning west side as "too public."

"We cannot be specific and detailed," said president Geoffrey Merrill, Jr., but Mr. Russell said he could not agree with generalities, and that the location of a pool should be pinpointed.

"Let's go out on a limb!" said Mr. Russell.

The proposed dimensions of the pool came under fire, as some members felt 75' x 50' was too small, and others felt the comparative cost of outdoor and indoor pools should influence their thinking.

Mrs. A. Hodgson commented, "Swimming is as important as skiing or skating. Why should not Westmount at this point produce an indoor pool? The City should look into a plan to enclose an outdoor pool."

It was the opinion of Mr. R. Tees of the Recreation Committee, Westmount can afford both an indoor and an outdoor pool, and he felt there would undoubtedly be a clamor for an indoor pool if the proposed outdoor one was successful.

"Let's go for the kind of pool we want, now," said one man, "because we haven't got a future — we will be a part of Metropolitan Montreal."

"Yes," said Mrs. Peterson, "any pool may be our last pool, so let's make it larger than 75 x 50 feet."

The ultimate result of the discussion was the passing of a resolution that the WMA recommend to City Council the construction of an outdoor pool 75 x 50 feet or larger, in a location in close proximity to the artificial rink, and that it be so designed that it might be a) enlarged, and/or b) enclosed.

"Should we discuss the when as well as the what and where of the pool," somebody asked.

"I think the Westmount Examiner can keep the issue alive," remarked another astute observer.

Cam Grout hangs up swim trunks for medical books

Cameron Grout, of Westmount, one of Canada's top amateur swimmers will do his swimming for pleasure and not in the competitive field. The young athlete, who swam for MAAA and McGill, and has decided to quit racing so that he can concentrate on his medical studies. Grout has 20 swim records behind him and was recently named on Canada's team to compete in Chicago next month, but has decided to bow out. He will pass up a chance at the British Empire Games in Perth, Australia next year.

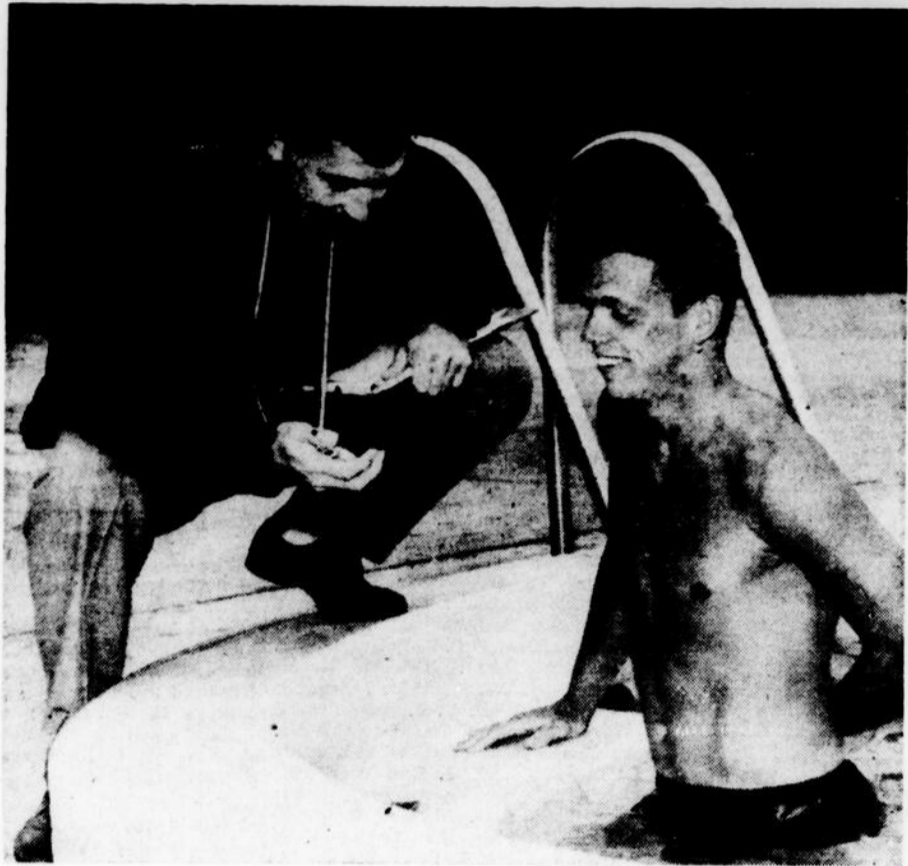

Loyola edges out 1-0 win over Lachine

Loyola had a tough time with Lachine High School, whom they edged 1-0 in a senior school hockey game, Tuesday. For Lachine, they are still seeking their first win and to score their first goal of the season.

Grout has been a standout in Canadian swim ranks for several years. His first international plunge came in the 1958 B. E. Games in Wales where he placed fourth in the 100 yards free style; took silver medal honors as a member of the 440-yard medley relay team and a bronze medal for the 880-freestyle relay swim. In the short sprint John Devitt who won the gold medal at Rome last year, was only one-tenth of a second ahead of Grout.

The Montrealer won medal honors in the Pan-American Games at Chicago in 1959 and was a member of Canada's relay team which placed fourth at Rome last summer.

Westmount wins, loses

Westmount High edged Verdun High 3-2 at Verdun auditorium in the opening game of the senior hockey section, Greater Montreal Interscholastic Athletic Association.

In their second meeting within five days, Verdun reversed the tables and won 3-2, in a game played Monday afternoon at Westmount Arena.

Terry Bradbury's shot put Verdun ahead 1-0 early in the first half. Dave Fox, on an assist by Pete Christie saw the teams tied 1-1.

Verdun came back strong in two more goals before the first half ended. Dave Martin and Al Scott scored. Skippy Kerner scored the second Westmount goal.

The game was a close affair with the result in doubt right down to the final whistle. Westies displayed more finish than Verdun despite the fact they were outshot by a wide margin.

Skippy Kerner opened the scoring early in the first half and Doug. Banks put the Westmount team ahead 2-0.

In the early part of the second half, Verdun set the pace and tied the score with only 10 minutes gone on goals by Dave Martin and Stan Zatylny.

At the 12 minute mark with Verdun still pressing, and the puck inside the Westmount zone, Dave Fox snared a pass from Verdun's Alan Scott intended for defense and shot the puck to the top righthand corner for the winning goal.
