HUMILIATED WOMAN
Would not attend Social Functions because of her Hair.

There are many women in this world, handsome in features, perfect in form, graceful of movement, and brilliant of mind, who keep in the background just because they have thin, colorless and lustreless hair.

In Paris they understand things about the hair that we do not know in this country. It was a Parisian, Dr. Sangerbond, who discovered that thin hair and dandruff are caused by a microbe.

It is Parisian Sage that proves Dr. Sangerbond's theory to be correct, for it is rigidly guaranteed to kill the dandruff germ and cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is a delightfully pleasant hair dressing and invigorator; it is not sticky or greasy. It should be used freely in Spring and Summer as it keeps the scalp clean and cool and free from odors.

Parisian Sage comes in large 50-cent bottles and is for sale by F. T. Ansell and leading druggists everywhere on the money-back plan. "The Girl with the Auburn Hair" is on every package. Made in Canada by The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont.

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT.

Owing to an oversight no mention was made yesterday in the report of the exhibits at the Sherbrooke Exhibition of the Children's Department, which is this year very interesting. The work done by children under 12 years of age, also by those under ten is somewhat surprising when one considers that handsewing for many years has almost been numbered among the lost arts, and the needle was superseded by the wonderful sewing machine. That the girls of to-day are being taught to sew, knit, crochet, embroidery, and also the useful if homely art of darning, is amply demonstrated by the dainty display in this section at the Fair. There are also specimens of outline work, drawing, etc., with postcard albums tastefully arranged, and other evidences that the education of the young people of the Townships is not confined to "book learning," but is extended to manual work.

CHANNELL CHEMICAL CO.

The Channel Chemical Co. of Chicago and Toronto have this year a very interesting demonstration and display of the famous O-Cedar polishing mop and O-Cedar Polish. The O-Cedar Mop is famous for its ability to absorb dust and polish all painted, polished or stained wood work and floors. The mop is rings shaped and padded in such manner that the user can get under extremely low furniture and around the supports or legs without marking or scratching, in other words this mop makes it easy to clean and polish those hard to get at places. The famous O-Cedar Polish is a varnish food for cleaning and polishing autos, pianos and all high grade polished wood work, white enamel and lacquered brass. Do not fail to see this important demonstration, all goods manufactured and guaranteed by the Channel Chemical Co. Ltd., of Toronto. O-Cedar mops and polish can be obtained of J. S. Mitchell & Co., and L. A. Bayley, Sherbrooke.

KNOWN BY THE COMPANY WE KEEP.

(From Windsor, Ont., Record.)

The new press the installation of which the Record announces today, is the second of the kind to come to Canada. The first was erected in the Vancouver Advertiser office about a year ago and is giving excellent service. The third will be installed next month in that city now being made famous by Harry Thaw, Sherbrooke, Quebec, in the Record of that city.

INTERESTING BELTING EXHIBIT.

The Dominion Belting Co., of Hamilton, is showing a fine display of belting most suitable for agricultural requirements, such as threshing machines, gasoline engines and farm machinery generally. For a number of years this company has made thousands of belts used for threshing in the North West, and they have a factory equipped with the latest machinery for the manufacture of the celebrated "Maple Leaf" Brand of Stretched Duck Belting. It is far cheaper than other makes, and being waterproof is good for both inside and outdoor work. The belting is made of extra heavy cotton duck specially treated and lock stitched with extra heavy cotton twine. These stitches hold the belt together and will not come out. Being waterproof it can be used in damp or dry places equally well and will grip the pulley in wet weather. A representative is on hand at the exhibition to explain the points of interest in connection with Maple Leaf Belting. The Montreal offices of the company are located in the Duluth Building, 50 Notre Dame St., West.

GRAND TRUNK EXHIBIT.

The Grand Trunk exhibit is a fine display of photo view process pictures of scenery along the line of that road and the Grand Trunk Pacific. The views illustrate the road from East to West, commencing with farming, harvesting, hunting and fishing scenes in order, taking in views of farm work and grain fields on the Western prairie land and ending with forest and orchard scenes in British Columbia and a view of Prince Rupert Harbor. Among the most striking of the views is one of the beautiful Lake Steamer Huronic, those of the Muskoka Lake District; a hunter's camp at Tamajami; forest scene near Prince Rupert, Highland Inn, Algonquin Park, and a train drawn by one of the huge electric engines emerging from St. Clair Tunnel.

In the centre of the exhibit is a large map of the United States and Canada, showing the line of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific.

The exhibit is very tastefully decorated with samples of grain taken from farms along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

GRIMM MFG. CO.

The Grimm Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Montreal, have an exhibit of sugar utensils in the Machinery Hall that is attracting much attention among the sugar makers of Southern Quebec. This well known firm manufactures twenty-two different styles of evaporators and are in a position to supply the smallest maker of maple product, to those with a sugar orchard with thousands of trees. A most attractive display of maple product is also shown as being the goods that won the thirty-one prize offered last spring in the five awarded dollar contest by the Grimm Manufacturing Co. A view of this display will satisfy the most critical, that only good goods can be made by the Grimm Evaporators.

PENMAN'S LIMITED.

This exhibit is made up of sweaters, hosiery and underwear from their different mills located at Paris, Brantford, Coatook, St. Hyacinthe, Thorold, Port Dover and Almonte.

Visitors to the Exhibition should not fail to take a careful look at their exhibit. The line of sweaters and silk hosiery shown is deserving of the careful examination of all visitors at the fair. The head office of the company is situated at Paris and the wide range of grades, colors and patterns of sweaters, underwear and hosiery made by the Penman's Limited will suit the tastes of all. A visit to our booth will suffice to show the range of goods made, which can be purchased from your dealers. The Pen Angle trade mark which is very conspicuous in the back ground is tastefully arranged and the whole effect is such as to give the visitor an idea of what Penman's Ltd. are doing to educate the public to wearers of the Pen Angle line of hosiery, underwear and sweaters.

A Kitchen Stove, a Hot Air Furnace and a Hot Water Furnace all combined in a

'BELANGER' STEEL RANGE

SPECIALLY BUILT FOR OUR CLIMATE

There is no better or more practical stove for the heating of the house, as well as the cooking, than the "Belanger" Range.

Our 45 years' experience in the needs of households of this Province guided us when we created this model for both heating of the house and cooking.

This range has the largest firebox, and has flues that are of sufficient size to assure a good draught and the perfect combustion of the fuel so as to give maximum heat.

THE FIREBOX measures 10 1/2 in. wide by 11 in. high and 23 in. long at all points; it is a firebox expressly made for burning wood.

THE NEW GRATE has a sliding plate completely closing it at bottom, permitting to keep an all-night fire and to save fuel.

THE OVEN, interlined with asbestos, is made of perforated steel, and by its double draught causes the heat to be absolutely dry and to cook all meats and pastries without moving them about.

THE HEAT REGULATOR, at back of oven, permits to heat any particular room, no matter how distant.

By means of a serpentine coil placed in the firebox, a sufficient quantity of water can be heated to give a good circulation in 400 to 500 feet of 1-inch iron piping, which is sufficient to heat an entire upper floor.

The high closet is larger than usual, having an opening of 36 in. wide by 7 in. high.

RESULTS

STANDING CROP COMPETITION

Stanstead County

Our attention has been drawn to a remarkable feature in the "standing crop" contest in this county, and that is, the fact that the greater share of the prize winners in the Townships of Hatley, Stanstead, Barnston and St. Catherine PURCHASED THEIR SEEDS FROM US LAST SPRING.

In Hatley Township 80 per cent. of the prize winners purchased their seeds from us. In Stanstead Township 70 per cent. of the prize winners purchased their seeds from us. In Barnston Township 43 per cent. of the prize winners purchased their seeds from us. In St. Catherine de Hatley 85 per cent. of the prize winners purchased their seeds from us.

When you pause to think that considerable territory in each of these townships is miles away from our place of business, you would judge that either we have a reputation for handling the best seeds, or that we deserve such a reputation.

REMEMBER our motto, as published in Seed Catalogue last spring: "What's a few cents in the spring, when it means $$$$ in the fall?"

Bear us in mind next spring when you are buying your Agricultural Seeds, and send for our 1914 Seed Catalogue.

BUDGET OF NEWS FROM HATLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Wootton, who traveled in the same car with Harry K. Thaw, from Andover, Mass., on Monday, August 18th, are residents of this place and not of North Hatley, as erroneously printed in the Record of August 28th.

Mr. Thos. Robertson, of "Cross-hill Farm," received a painful injury a few days since. While engaged in piling wood and in the act of stooping, a stick which had in some way become loosened, fell from the top of the back tier and struck him upon the head. Had it not been that Mr. Robertson was wearing a thick heavy cap at the time, he would doubtless, have fared worse, as it was a cut some two or three inches in length resulted from the blow which bled profusely and has since caused considerable soreness and discomfort.

The people in this community were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Jason Alexander which occurred a few days ago, at the home of his son, near Coaticook. Mr. Alexander was well known and highly respected here. For many years he owned and occupied a farm only a short distance south of this village, and since his removal has occasionally spent a few weeks here with old friends.

Mr. Michael Mullins, who recently passed away in Sherbrooke, was another old and esteemed resident of Hatley. His home for many years was the farm now the property of Mr. Taylor Little. Mr. Mullins married Celina, elder daughter of the late Thomas Little, one of the pioneers of Hatley, and who was also among the most wealthy men of the town. Here Mr. Mullins' family was born, and here Mrs. Mullins passed to her rest. After the death of his wife, Mr. Mullins gave up farming and went to Coaticook where he lived until his removal to Sherbrooke some few years ago.

While Miss Whitcomb, of "The Butternuts" was removing a screen a Cliftondale, Mass., at Mrs. Amy Pearce's last week; Miss Flora Paul to her school at Mansionville on Monday; Miss Madge Manson, of Waterbury, in town on Monday; Mrs. Ben Plumbly, of Boston, a few weeks at her cottage here; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Worthen and Mrs. Berry and Mr. A. G. Clough at Magog on Sunday to attend camp meeting; Mr. Jerry Flanders, of Boston, and Miss Glenn Pope, of Hatley, in town on Tuesday; Mrs. G. E. Loring and Mrs. Colby at Baldwin's Mills on Wednesday; Mrs. Perkins, of Newport, at Mr. W. E. Hurd's; Mr. Herbert Chamberlain to Boston, Mass., on Wednesday; Mr. Burton and Mr. Brewer, of Beebe, at Mrs. S. Boynton's; Mrs. A. Reed at Stanstead on Monday.

Miss Gertrude E. Flaherty, who successfully passed her Licentiate examination with the Dominion College of Music last June, will resume teaching music on Saturday, Sept. 6th, at Mrs. A. E. Hurd's.

LAKE NEWS.

Minota Cottage: Mr. and Mrs. Hargrave and family returned to Sherbrooke on Monday.
The Maples: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hall returned to Barnston on Saturday; Miss Whitchee, of Barnston, here on Friday.
La Gaitie: Mr. and Mrs. Lois Audet, of Sherbrooke, spending the week.
Auto Kamp: Mrs. Flaherty and family, Mr. E. Chadsey, of Windsor Mills, to their homes on Monday.
Mrs. E. Chadsey, Miss M. Frappied, Mrs. A. Hurd and sons spending two weeks.
Kennebunk Lodge: Mr. C. A. Kenney, of Coaticook, spending Tuesday.

few days since, the window suddenly slipped and fell, bringing its full weight upon the middle finger of her left hand. Speech was useless and a sleepless night followed. Although a minor injury it has been sufficiently painful to cause no little suffering and inconvenience.

Mr. Samuel Wadleigh, of Burlington, Iowa, has been spending a few days with his friend of former years, Mr. J. B. LeBaron. Mr. Wadleigh, who was a cousin of the late Mrs. LeBaron, is a son of the late Luke Wadleigh, who many years ago owned and occupied a valuable farm, lying upon the Waterville road and for long it was known as the old Wadleigh place. At one time during the '70's this farm was owned by the late Horace Eaton who came into Canada from across the border and who will be remembered by many as a successful farmer and who was also well known in this part of the country as a drover, dealing largely in cattle at one time. In this line of business Mr. Eaton was associated with the late Meade Blake and the late Cyrus Whitcomb, all of whose names are now only a memory. The farm has since passed into the hands of successive owners and at the present time is the property of Mr. Imrie, late of Scotland. Mr. Wadleigh is also a cousin of Mr. Thos. Rowell, of Sherbrooke, his mother having been Phoebe Rowell, a sister of the late Nathan Rowell, who for many years was one of Hatley's most highly esteemed citizens.

Mr. C. C. Poole, of this place, who for the past three weeks has been caring for his brother, Mr. H. G. Poole, during his serious illness, makes the remarkable statement that although he is now in his 74th year, he has never yet known a day's illness.

The beautiful bouquets that Mrs. Adams often brings to her friends in the village are worthy of note and are the admiration and envy of those who have less skill or knack in flower culture. Mrs. Adams' collection of asters is very choice, some of the varieties being close rivals of the more aristocratic members of the family—the "mums," while the different shades of color from dark to dim are most pleasing and delightful to the eye. The Adam farm is also known as the home where small fruits are brought to a high state of cultivation, a specialty being made of the raspberry and blackberry, which are alike large and luscious.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Prior, of Iowa have been spending a part of their honeymoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. Foote. It is 18 years since Messrs. Prior and Foote came from England together and this is their first meeting in that length of time.

One of the fine old trees from which "Butternut" Cottage the home of Mr. Avery Ives, takes its name, measures 14 feet in circumference. Another smaller tree in the same row has produced three or four large masses of fungi, that have developed with their usual rapidity. Few objects in nature exhibit more gorgeous coloring than the fungoid growth, and these, which are of the larger, fleshy forms, have presented an endless variety of graduated tints, from a delicate salmon pink to white and yellow. Some varieties exhibit a wonderful change, the white or yellowish hue turning instantly to a vivid blue.

The exterior of several of the village dwellings has been improved this summer by fresh coats of paint. Mr. C. S. Sweeney has been in charge of the work and has lately been engaged upon the pretty cottage recently erected by Mr. A. E. Gage and which will soon be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Banfield Kent, of Kingscroft.

Miss Whitcomb, of "The Butternuts," received a few days ago an unusually pretty souvenir from Drake's Island, Well's Beach, Me., in the form of a U.S. mail bag, 2 in. x 3 1/2 in. in size, duly strapped and fastened, bearing on one side the words, U.S. mail, Kennebunk, Me. A tag was attached to the bag, with the directions and stamp on one side and on the other, "Here's your mail, assort it your-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor Record.

It is rumored that Mr. F. J. Griffith, our most efficient, hardworking and painstaking secretary-treasurer, has sent in his resignation to the City Council. Whether such is true the writer does not know. If it is true, there must be some very good reason on Mr. Griffith's part for so doing.

I trust, and I feel certain I am voicing the opinions of the great majority of the citizens of this city, in stating that we want fair play handed out to Mr. Griffith by the Council in this matter. His esteemed father held the position of secretary-treasurer for a period of thirty-three years. Mr. F. J. Griffith has himself been in the city's employ for thirty-one years—sixty-four years of good value received services by father and son in the city's welfare. There is no reason for me to dilate on the qualifications of the present secretary-treasurer. They are well known to us all. He has always been efficient, faithful, conscientious, painstaking, hardworking, giving up his best years of life in the city's employ and without the salary that in another position of equal arduousness and responsibility he would command. Early and late, without a break, Mr. Griffith has been right on his job, often doing two men's work for days together. Possessed of a most retentive memory he is able to turn up to the right place, and just what is wanted, answer any question about the city he may be required to. His knowledge of the by-laws, procedure of meetings, etc., is of great value and assistance. Go into the city office any time of the day and ask for any information of any clerk. The reply invariably is "Go to Mr. Griffith," or "Mr. Griffith can tell you." And Mr.

OLD BOYS REUNION AT KNOWLTON

Were Guests of Sir Melbourne Tait at the Lakeview House

A VERY ENJOYABLE TIME WAS ENJOYED BY THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT.

Knowlton, Sept. 3.—(Special)—The annual re-union of the Old Boys was held at the Lakeview on Labor Day, when Sir Melbourne Tait acted as host. Dinner was served at the Lakeview after which the party repaired to "Landsdowne" the residence of Mr. Justice Lynch, where photos were taken by J. H. Russell. A very enjoyable time was spent by all present, who included, Hon. Mr. Hackett of Stanstead; Mr. R. S. White, collector of customs, Montreal; Rev. W. H. Stevens, Mr. S. G. Foster, K. C., Mr. Justice Lynch, Mr. W. L. Marler, Mr. D. A. Manson, of Mansonville; Sir Melbourne Tait, H. S. Foster, Dr. R. T. MacDonald of Sutton. Judge Foster joined the party after dinner and was photographed with the Old Boys.

Griffith always is on hand with the goods, able to hand out and deliver, quietly and good naturedly, with a pleasant word and kindness to all. Many a time he has piloted the Council through shoals and quicksands and kept them in the straight path. I have yet to find any citizen who has a complaint against our secretary. It is well to let well enough alone.
Yours,
AN EX-MAYOR.

This firm is the largest manufacturer of Dairy utensils in the world. They have also on exhibition a 3 H. P. Petrol gasoline engine which is on account of its smooth running, noiseless and automatic action attracting the attention of all interested in such machinery, being a perfect engine in every respect. R. A. Lister & Co., are putting out the market in connection with this engine, an automatic electric lighting installation for the private home, hotels, etc., also the Premier Separator Co.'s machines are represented in connection with N. A. Lister's exhibit.

Geo. Long & Son, Sherbrooke, Que. are pioneers of building and house finish and good sound, rough and finished present business in 1857 and through the experience gained during these years are in a position to furnish the public with artistic finish and good sound, rough and planned lumber.

Store and office fixtures are a specialty and samples of "Silent Salesmen" can be seen at their exhibit in the main building.

Another prominent feature of the exhibit is the display of leaded glass, and attention is especially called to the tasteful booth in which their exhibit is shown, being constructed entirely of "Excellio Building Board."

Don't fail to make enquiries regarding Long's windows without putty.

Quotations on all material and stock gladly furnished.

HOSPITAL COUNTER.

The Hospital lunch counter in the main building at the Sherbrooke Exhibition grounds, has already experienced two successful days, and with good weather the receipts should show a large increase at the end of the week. Under the competent management of the Ladies' Committee, substantial appetizing meals are served. The object in view, that of assisting the Sherbrooke General Hospital, is a most worthy one and should appeal not only to our own citizens but to those from neighboring towns, who have profited either directly or indirectly by the establishment of this fine institution which should receive loyal and steady support.

THE MIDWAY

The midway contains many first class shows and attractions and the usual number of fakes and catch penny devices.

One of the best of the shows is the performance of L. B. Walker's Diving and Swimming girls, introducing the Malay, Swan, Rocking Chair, Seal, back and falling Statue and armless dives, the Australian and Wallahalla splashes, different swimming strokes and somersault turns. Miss May Laughlin is the recognized trick, fancy and acrobatic diver of the world and the management offers $100 to anyone producing her equal. Miss Irene Le Marr is the world's champion high shallow water diver, she dives from a height of 60 feet into 43 feet of water, Princess Iona, the quarter blooded Indian girl performs some good fancy diving and swimming feats. Snooks and Buster provide the comedy part of the entertainment.

Another good show is Colonel Ferriar's Wild Animal Exhibition. It is seldom that a finer troupe of lions is seen. Madlle Flora and Herbertino enter the cage and go through some daring movements with the king of beasts family. Some leopards under the direction of Captain Ricardo indulge in bicycle riding, etc.

Oklahoma Bill's Wild West Show is worth seeing. It includes exhibitions of roping, racing, the attack on the mail coach, a crack lady shot, an educated horse and an unrideable mule.

Another interesting attraction is a tame moose, 14 months old. It is claimed that this is the only moose in captivity which can be harnessed. He is let loose every morning to get his own feed. He is fed on all kinds of boughs with 2 dozen bananas and 2 gallons of water daily, with some bread occasionally. By the side of the moose is a Canadian Red Deer 3½ months old who is still suckling. Both were captured without snares or traps. A moose's head is shown with horns 42 inches from tip to tip.

The Living Wonder Show, presents the tattooed phenomenon, whose body is covered with beautiful designs executed in all parts of the world. Electro, the human dynamo lights a lamp with her foot and a bunch of keys, etc. She has survived the death chair test in Dayton, Ohio. Mazzetti is a unique example of physical dislocation and contraction. The Bear Girl and her mother are peculiar freaks of nature, and the other features are the ossified man and the "vounrest and tallest giant."

"Motordrome" is as described, "a

21 KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Nearly Fifty Injured in Collision on New Haven Line

MAJORITY OF THE PASSENGERS WERE RETURNING FROM HOLIDAY.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 3.—Twenty-one persons were killed and nearly fifty injured, many of them may die, in a rear-end collision shortly before seven o'clock yesterday morning, on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway, six miles north of here.

The first section of the White Mountain Express, bound for New York, speeding along at 40 miles an hour in a thick fog, rushed by a danger signal, it is said, and crashed into the second section of the Bar Harbor express, standing one hundred feet beyond the block signal.

It was the third serious wreck which the New Haven has suffered within the year, and inaugurated the first day of the regime of Howard Elliott, the newly elected head of the road. Mr. Elliott, returning from his summer home in New Hampshire to assume his duties, passed over the scene of the wreck on an earlier train less than an hour before.

dare devil, death defying feat." Two men whirl round the boards on motor cycles at a slant of 60 to 70 degrees. They give several turns including the Zig zag; this show should not be missed.

Captain Sorehos' Deep Sea Divers is a very good show. In the "Follies of the World" some very graceful poses are seen and in the Crystal Maze with its 34 mirrors one can easily get lost. Amongst the others are the "up and down" show, Tiny Mite, Nina Searles' Vaudeville Girls; Katzen Jammer Castle, Hamburgs' Big Athletic Show; Lady Wrestlers' Trained Animal Expositions. The Lady in White, Snaker, Crazy houses, etc.

The elephants, the living mermaid, the 3 headed wonder, the big wheel, the roundabouts, the African and face caged dodgers, several palmists, innumerable fortune tellers, shooting ranges, throwing games, glass blowers, photo tents, refreshments stands, etc., etc., are all doing a large business and the Midway is a crowded thoroughfare from morning till night.

THAW SET FREE BY COURT JUDGMENT

The said common jail of this district, and whether the said Harry K. Thaw wishes to exercise and enjoy his personal liberty or not, he is hereby liberated and discharged from his present detention in the said jail, and is hereby restored to the liberty he enjoyed previous to his said arrest and detention.

N. K. LAFAMME ARRIVES HERE TO-DAY.

The announcement from the Thaw camp, last night, that N. K. Lafamme, K.C., of Montreal, would arrive in the city to-day to assist in the defence of the young millionaire, has caused a mild sensation. It is also learned that Mr. Lafamme has been in frequent consultation with Thaw's counsel ever since the case started, although his name has been kept out of all reports.

It is understood that Thaw's attorneys realize that his biggest fight will be with the Canadian immigration authorities, and that for the past two weeks Mr. Lafamme has been engaged studying the provisions of the Act, and is now prepared to take up the fight on Thaw's behalf.

THAW HAS SENT FOR HIS MOTHER.

The announcement that Mrs. Annie Copley Thaw, mother of Harry Kendall Thaw, is now on her way to Sherbrooke, will set at rest all rumors to the effect that Thaw has been deserted by his family. Yesterday Harry's mother, a wire asking her to come to Sherbrooke if she were able to do so, and to make an effort to reach here before Mr. Justice Hutchinson handed down his judgment in the Boudreau petition case.

Those who are familiar with the Thaw case from June, 1906, to the present time, cannot help but feel for the prisoner's aged mother. Through the various stages of his trials she has never given up hope, and at this time, although feeble and ill, is on her way from Pittsburgh to see her boy.

The Cleveland Press in an editorial last week advocated the return of Thaw to his home in the State of Pennsylvania; in other words, that he be permitted to pass through Canada to some port from which he could reach Pennsylvania.

A writer to this paper, commending the editorial, says: "It seems to me that the stimulus to pursue of that poor victim of wealth arises more from a desire for vengeance and a hope of personal profit than from any sense of justice or the upholding of the 'mighty arm of the law' on the part of the active participants."

"Far be it from me to sanction murder, even though the victim be a debaucher who deserved no better fate than that which overtook Stanford White. Human life must be held more sacred than that, but when a country like ours can forget the sins in high places—the daily crushing out of life and liberty in our factories, our shops, and other places of employment, the surrendering of the health and virtue of the mothers of the next generation to the god of greed—when, I say, our country can forget all these things and yet rise up in a body and demand that a poor human delinquent like Harry Thaw be returned to further expiate a crime for which he already has paid dearly and let the name of Thaw be consigned to oblivion in the public mind as soon as possible."

"Give Harry Thaw back to the tender, loving mother who has stood by him as only a mother could do, and let the name of Thaw be consigned to oblivion in the public mind as soon as possible."

BUTTER AND EGGS BY POST

TRANSPORTATION OF FARM PRODUCTS TO BE CONSIDERED BY P. O. OFFICIALS.

Ottawa, September 3.—The extension of the parcels post system so as to provide a means of direct transportation of farm produce between producer and consumer will be considered by officials of the Post Office Department who are planning the system. The handling of such articles as eggs, poultry, butter, etc., by parcel post has been done with success in South Africa and the system is being investigated in Australia.

It is considered in Australia, according to a report received by the Trade and Commerce Department, that the farmer would benefit by receiving higher prices for his produce while the consumer would also be able to obtain his supplies at less cost through the elimination of the distributor's profit.

ARGUMENT ON BOUDREAU PETITION

Extracts From Pleas of Several Attorneys

FOR AND AGAINST GRANTING PETITION OF BOUDREAU IN THAW CASE.

The argument before Mr. Justice Hutchinson, on the habeas corpus petition of Officer Boudreau, of Coaticook, occupied two and a half hours. A summary of this argument will be of interest.

MR. S. W. JACOBS, K.C.

The argument on behalf of the petitioner was begun by S. W. Jacobs, K.C., of Montreal. At the request of the Court he first dealt with the question as to whether or not Thaw had been legally arrested. Taking the original charge and reading it to the Court, he pointed out that the charge on which Thaw was held was not an offence against the laws of Canada. As this fact was established by the document itself the Counsel for the petitioner did not deem it necessary to go further into the matter.

Mr. Jacobs then directed his attention to the second important question, and that was as to Boudreau's rights to take out a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Thaw. In the first place Boudreau knew that he had committed an illegal act in arresting Thaw, and had an interest in having him liberated from jail. The lawyers representing the petitioner had Thaw's interests at heart, and wanted him released from jail where he was wrongfully confined. As evidence of the fact that Boudreau was justified in asking that Thaw be liberated in order to relieve himself as far as possible from damages, Mr. Jacobs referred to the Notarial document sworn to by Thaw in which he released Boudreau from all responsibility for damages, either past, present or future.

In the estimation of Mr. Jacobs this was evidence that the danger of being sued for damages, though it did not exist now, did exist before the petition was sworn to. The meaning of the word, "behalf" was then gone into by Mr. Jacobs, and the authorities quoted by him he tried to point out that Boudreau was acting on behalf of Thaw in petitioning for a writ of habeas corpus to release Thaw from jail.

The Counsel for petitioner then dealt with the question as to whether or not a third party had the right to take out a writ of habeas corpus. He referred to the case of a Hottentot who was held in slavery, and the Secretary of the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society took out a habeas corpus proceedings, which were granted by the Court. Mr. Jacobs argued that in the case cited the petitioner had an interest, and although a third party had the right to take out proceedings on behalf of the person detained.

J. NICOL, K.C.

Mr. Nicol followed Mr. Jacobs, and contended that in the present hearing no question of fact should be put before the Court. If, when the petition was placed before the Judge, His Lordship had any reason to doubt the reasonableness or legality of the proceedings, and the attorneys for the imprisoned man had asked for a rule of Nisi, the facts of the case could then have been threshed out. The moment His Lordship issued the writ it became a question between himself and the keeper of the jail. The Court, in his opinion, could not take into consideration anything that might transpire in the future.

Mr. Nicol then cited the case of a slave who had gotten herself into jail to escape from her master. The master took out a writ of habeas corpus, and the Courts liberated her. In this case the person detained did not want to be liberated. In closing his argument Mr. Nicol contended that the only question now before the Court was to decide whether or not Thaw was being illegally kept in jail.

HECTOR VERRITT, K.C.

Mr. Verritt was the last speaker on behalf of the prosecution. He once again drew the attention of the Court to the fact that by issuing a notarial document withdrawing all rights which he might otherwise have for damages against Boudreau, Thaw and his Counsel has substantiated the claim of the prosecution that petitioner had an interest in his move.

DR. W. L. SHURTLEFF, K.C., FOR DEFENCE.

At the outset Dr. Shurtleff admitted that the Attorney-General had a right to free Thaw from jail, but contended that the right was not by habeas corpus proceedings. In his opinion the Attorney-General had no more right than Boudreau to take out a habeas corpus writ on behalf of Thaw. To liberate Thaw from jail it is not necessary that the writ of habeas corpus be maintained. Other ways are available, and this being the case the Attorney-General should follow the proper course rather than try and use the habeas corpus for a purpose it was never intended the interest was adverse to the person confined. He also argued that it was not legal, as Thaw had not given him the right to petition. Boudreau in his petition stated that he had an interest, and that was what Thaw might prosecute him for false arrest. According to Dr. Shurtleff, this was an interest for himself, and for. In ordinary procedure Thaw would be liberated on October 1st. Should the Attorney-General desire to interfere before the term of King's Bench he could file nolle prosequere proceedings, and Thaw would be liberated.

Not only must the Court find out as to whether Thaw was unjustly confined, but it must go further and see if Boudreau, in the reasons disclosed in the petition, was justified in asking for the writ. Dr. Shurtleff contended that Boudreau's interest, as set forth in his petition, was an adverse interest, and according to the spirit of habeas corpus proceedings a writ could not be maintained where not for Thaw. Boudreau simply comes to the court and says he has arrested a man illegally and to protect himself, not the man in jail, he asks the court to help him avoid the penalty of his own illegal action.

C. D. WHITE, K.C.

Mr. White confined his remarks to the legal features of the case. Referring to section 95, under which the petition is made, Mr. White said that this only had reference to cases where, before the practice of granting bail was in use, a man could gain his liberty under a writ of habeas corpus. In the act itself there was absolutely no provision made for a third person to come in and ask for a writ of habeas corpus unless that person had an affidavit from the party in jail proving to the satisfaction of the court that the person in jail was so situated he could not give this affidavit. In the present case the petitioner and his attorneys produced no affidavit to show that they were acting on behalf of Thaw, and, furthermore, the defence had produced a sworn statement saying that Thaw had never authorized Boudreau to take action in his behalf.

Quoting from a case in English court records, Mr. White referred to the remarks of Judge Jarvis, who said, after reading a petition for a writ of habeas corpus taken by a third person in behalf of Captain Childs: "For anything that appears in this record Captain Childs may be quite willing to stay where he is, so I can't maintain the writ."

Mr. White then referred to the cases alluded to by the attorneys for the petitioner, especially the one relating to the Hottentot. Mr. White contended that it was apparent that the unfortunate being in question, who was held in captivity against her will, desired her liberty and was willing to have the habeas corpus proceedings taken on her behalf.

During his remarks Mr. White took occasion to refer to the intervention of the Attorney-General in this case. He admitted his right to intervene, but thought that a much wiser course for him to pursue would be to use the regular means at his disposal for liberating Thaw, and not make an unfair and unheard of use of the habeas corpus.

Mr. White cited a large number of cases which he claimed were identical to the one now before the court, and drew His Lordship's attention to the fact that in every case the petitioner, if a third party, had to have an affidavit from the party on whose behalf the writ was asked for.

H. R. FRASER, K.C.

Following Mr. White, Colonel Fraser reviewed the function of the habeas corpus. It was absurd for the prosecution to contend that inasmuch as an ex-parte writ had been issued before His Lordship, when the defence was not heard, the prisoner or person most vitally interested would be prevented from discussing the matter.

Mr. Fraser also took exception to the action of the Attorney-General in asking Mr. Justice Hutchinson to liberate Thaw on this writ of habeas corpus if possible. In the opinion of Thaw's attorney the Attorney-General should use the proper means at his disposal, and have Thaw liberated according to law. It was a great mistake to try and have the habeas corpus proceedings distorted to secure Thaw's release when the law made proper provisions for such a move.

The writ of habeas corpus was given to enable a man kept in jail illegally to get out, and not to be used by a third person for his own interests and not that of the man in jail.

MR. W. H. McKEOWN.

Mr. McKeown closed the argument as far as the defence was concerned. The case had gained international importance, and the decision handed down in the present habeas corpus petition would have a far-reaching effect. Never before had the habeas corpus provision been resorted to for a similar purpose, and if it were to be maintained it would revolutionize the entire habeas corpus jurisprudence. It would be better justice for all concerned to adhere to the old British traditions and preserve the habeas corpus for the purpose for which it was intended.

The pretention on the part of Boudreau that he was acting on the part of Thaw was merely a subterfuge. He has no interest in common with Thaw and has no right to take habeas corpus proceedings for him. Mr. McKeown also stated that in his opinion even the Attorney-General himself could not take out a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Thaw.

The entire proceedings were termed fraudulent as far as Thaw was concerned, and for the petitioner and his lawyers to pretend that they were acting for Thaw is nothing but the rankest kind of hypocrisy. The proceedings, according to the petitioner's own statements, were not bona-fide, and Mr. McKeown contended that proceedings which are male-fide cannot be brought up before any court. The situation will right itself and Thaw has certain rights which cannot be denied him. One of these rights was that he was entitled to certain delays, and would take the full advantage of them afforded by the law.

SEVEN KILLED IN DUBLIN DISASTER

Forty Persons Buried in Ruins of Tenement House in Dublin

HOUSES WERE OCCUPIED BY FIFTEEN FAMILIES WHEN THEY FELL ONTO STREET.

Dublin, September 3.—Two tenement houses in Church Street, Dublin, collapsed last evening at a quarter to nine and up to an early hour this morning seven bodies had been taken from the ruins, which, despite the efforts of the firemen, were still blazing furiously at one o'clock.

The two tenements, containing jointly sixteen rooms and occupied by fifteen families, collapsed when the thoroughfare was crowded and the walls, falling across the street, buried under the bricks and mortar three little children who were standing on the opposite side of the street.

There is nothing to indicate that there was any warning and many of the passersby had barely time to clear out of the danger zone, their attention to the impending disaster being called by persons on the opposite side of the street.

Paris, Sept. 3.—(Special)—M. Pegoud, aviator, who successfully turned a somersault in the air with an aeroplane, writing to the Matin says: "My experiments are not finished. I want soon to show that it is possible for an aeroplane to turn over head first, then tail first, and then sideways, without disaster. If my experiments demonstrate, as I am convinced they will, that security may be attained in an aeroplane, I will be satisfied."
