Greek-Cypriot drive renews with mortars

NICOSIA (AP)—Greek-Cypriot forces renewed their drive for St. Hilarion Castle and the strategic Kyrenia Pass shortly after dawn today with mortar fire on Turkish positions.

After a night of sporadic firing, Greek national guardsmen lobbed three 60 millimetre mortar shells into gunposts near the 11th century castle.

The tempo appeared reduced from heavy fighting Monday. A United Nations spokesman said positions seemed unchanged overnight. Greek forward elements were reported within a quarter of a mile of the fortress.

A Turkish-Cypriot spokesman said the Turks held the castle and that the Greeks had been driven back. There was no confirmation of the latter claim.

The offensive opened before dawn Saturday with a surprise attack that overran Turkish positions. The Greek-Cypriots swept four miles forward toward the castle along the 2,500-foot-high crest of the Kyrenia range.

A UN spokesman said a number of mortar shells had hit the castle, but the extent of damage to the historic structure was not known.

Greek-Cypriot officers said the Turkish defenders rejected a surrender ultimatum relayed by Canadian UN troops.

US has the beefs

OTTAWA (CP)—In a switch from the usual situation, the United States will be registering most of the beefs when Canadian and U.S. cabinet members meet here this week to discuss points of economic friction between them.

Issues involving foreign investment, the auto industry, grain and magazines will be raised at the Wednesday-Thursday meeting of the joint cabinet committee on trade and economic affairs.

The committee, set up in 1953, had its last meeting in Washington. Most of its meetings, held about once a year, have featured Canada's problems in relations with its huge southern neighbor.

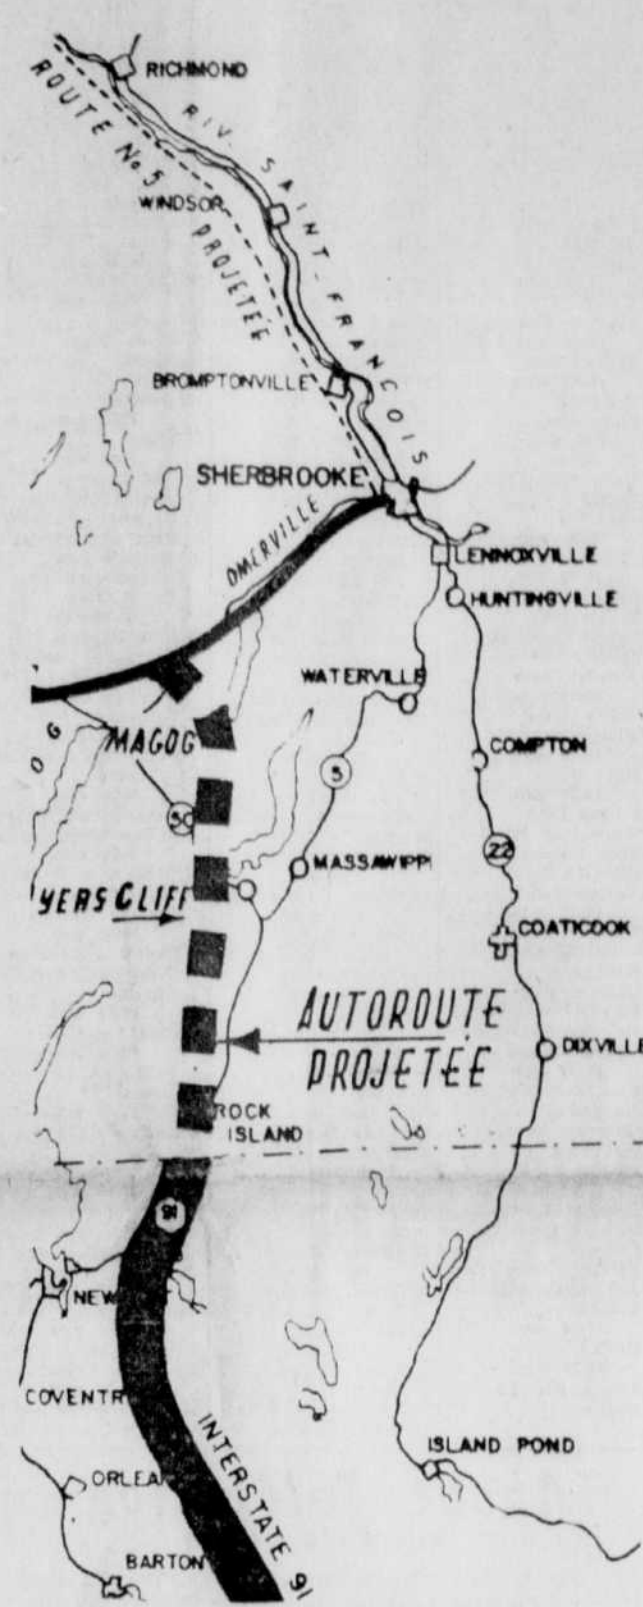

There will be five cabinet members from each country. External Affairs Minister Martin will head the Canadian group with Finance Minister Gordon, Trade Minister Sharp, Industry Minister Drury and Agriculture Minister Hays.

On the U.S. team are State Secretary Dean Rusk, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman and Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges.

Among 23 top U.S. officials will be Undersecretary of State George Ball, who in a speech Saturday mentioned some of the U.S. complaints that will be aired here this week.

There is no important friction over the major item on the agenda—a discussion of the "Kennedy round" of international tariff-cutting negotiations opening next week at Geneva under GATT, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Autoroute extension part of big ET plan

QUEBEC (Staff)—All roadbeds and about two miles of pavement will be completed within 1964 on the 20-mile extension to the Eastern Townships Autoroute, Roads Minister Pinarid said Monday.

Tenders will be called next fall for work on the extension, scheduled for completion in 1967 at a total cost of about $10,000,000.

The new autoroute to be built between Rock Island and Omerville is the "logical step" in serving traffic between the United States and Canada and vice versa, the roads minister, and Labor Minister Carrier Fortin, said in a joint statement yesterday.

It was also announced that the Roads Department is studying the possibility of building a modern highway between Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

The planned autoroute will link, when completed, the Sherbrooke-Montreal autoroute with U.S. Interstate highway No. 91, which terminates at Rock Island.

Tolls totalling $1.50 already have been set up for the part of the Autoroute now under construction. The extension is expected to involve additional tolls of 25 or 50 cents.

In their statement, it was pointed out that the construction of the linking highway was deemed necessary for two reasons, the continuity of standards and the volume of traffic.

The four-lane divided highway with minimum access will pass west of Lake Massawippi. It will intercept Route No. 5 at Rock Island, Route No. 50 at Ayer's Cliff, Bourque Boulevard at Omerville and finally merge with the Montreal-Sherbrooke autoroute. It will be 19.5 miles in length.

The Ministers told reporters that the route was chosen with natural obstacles, topography and ease of traffic circulation in mind.

The four-lanes of the super highway will be separated by a strip of land from 100 to 650 feet wide in order to "conserve the natural state of the area." The strip of land will be wooded giving motorists "a natural decor" and "camouflaging the road."

New Richmond mayor has four-point plan

RICHMOND (Special)—Lawyer George Savoie is the new mayor of Richmond. He was elected by acclamation Monday afternoon, replacing former Mayor Marcel Roy, QC who had announced his retirement from municipal office.

Two aldermen who are presently on the council and whose terms expired along with Mr. Roy's returned to the ranks and were also elected by acclamation. A third alderman, Raymond Lafrance, whose term expired, said he would not seek reelection. He was replaced by Lucien Cormier who had sat in council two years ago and now returns once more.

Aldermen John Harrington, Ward 1, Seat 2 and Armand Lampron, Ward 3, Seat 2, were returned to serve another two-year term. Cormier, who sat in council in 1960-'62 in Ward 3, takes over the post left by Lafrance in Ward 2.

Others sitting in council are Arnold Healy, Ward 1, Seat 1; Evangeliste Richard, Ward 2, Seat 1; Arthur Thibodeau, Ward 3, Seat 1.

The new administration will be sworn in at the next meeting of council May 4.

The new mayor was a special guest of the Richmond-Melbourne Board of Trade the same evening as his acclamation. The board met at the Bellevue Golf Club for its regular monthly supper-meeting. Introduced to the large gathering by board president Robert Simpson, Mayor Savoie expressed his thanks on his acclamation and said he would do his best for the town.

He cited the fine work done by former Mayor Marcel Roy and Alderman Lafrance who did much during their terms of office.

He proposed a vote of thanks to these two men as well as to those who were also returned to council. Mayor Savoie then noted his program for the next two years—four main projects or items that should be considered and will be taken up by his administration.

He cited industry as the main item to consider. He said that "we will strive to bring new industries to our town and to establish more firmly the existing ones"; municipal building—this is one subject that had been discussed several times; a building to house the many county government services such as a health unit, provincial police service, UIC and others; thirdly, he said, we should establish a "pare d'ecole" where grounds will be suitable for all children and this with the co-operation of both school boards; lastly, to make the approaches to the town suitable by improving sites, making them more attractive to tourists.

Urge more for schools

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons may not be primarily concerned with education under the constitution, but there's no doubt that it is primarily concerned with the subject under the Income Tax Act.

As the Commons inched its way Monday through the dull detail of a series of income tax amendments—attendance fell to 37 at one point—the thread of education weaved its way through all the discussions. It ranged from gentle observations to hammering criticisms.

Virtually all of it came from the Opposition benches; and virtually all who touched on the subject said the federal government is not making a big enough contribution to the cause of education.

There was no shortage of suggestions.

Jack Horner (PC—Acadia) suggested exemptions be given for vocational students who must buy tools or other equipment. Graduates should be allowed to write off the cost of their education.

In ET municipalities

Uniform sales tax implications not clear

Most municipal officials have reacted to the announcement Monday of a uniform six per cent sales tax in the province with a "wait and see" attitude. In those municipalities where a six per cent sales tax had not been in force, most officials said they were not certain of the implications. If, as it appeared, the tax meant an increase in municipal revenues, they said, then they approved of the move.

By DAVID WEBSTER (Record staff reporter)

Any increase in revenue will go to municipalities, the Quebec government has said. A telephone poll of 10 municipalities, yesterday, showed that more than half now levied a six per cent sales tax and would not benefit from the change. The others it would appear, would get some increase in revenue.

Most officials did not want to comment in detail before their councils had met and discussed the tax changes.

Previously the sales tax had varied from four to six per cent in the province. The provincial government collected two per cent and municipalities collected up to four per cent. The current budget specifies that all provincial municipalities will receive a sales tax revenue of four per cent.

The money will be collected and distributed by the province, the budget stated. A minimum of $2.50 would be received by the municipality for each resident, it said.

The municipalities of Magog, Asbestos, Coaticook, Richmond, Cowansville and Windsor were receiving four per cent previous to the budget, while Ayer's Cliff, Sutton, Knowlton and North Hatley received less than four per cent.

Ayer's Cliff secretary-treasurer

Leland Mosher said that the additional $2.50 per person that the tax raise is supposed to give to Ayer's Cliff doesn't mean too much, though it will be a help. Since the village has 700 residents the increase would amount to $1,500 per year. Whether the village gains or loses depends on whether government grants are kept up, he said.

Before the budget Ayer's Cliff received two per cent from the sales tax. Knowlton secretary Edward Plouffe said that before the budget, Knowlton levied a two per cent tax. If the government is going to calculate what the municipality is to receive on the basis of the number of residents there, he said, Knowlton will lose out, for many people from the surrounding district do their shopping here.

Sutton secretary Miss Hazel Bates and North Hatley mayor Charles Coleman both said that they lacked information on the tax specifications and could give little information until the councils had met. Both centres received a two per cent raise in tax revenue. Asbestos mayor J. M. Beaulieu said that there will probably be little change in Asbestos. "However, I am in favour of the change," he said, "for they say that the municipalities won't lose."

It is also a good thing he said, for it will keep people shopping in their own towns, rather than going to centres where the sales tax is lower. Asbestos levied a six per cent tax before the budget was presented.

Richmond secretary G. M. Alexander said that the six per cent tax has been in effect there for a number of years. "I don't see how it will change things and hope that it doesn't," he said.

Coaticook secretary Romuald Dumont and Windsor secretary Emile Langelier said that they didn't know at present what effect the tax change would have. The six per cent tax has been in effect before the budget.

Officials for the municipalities of Cowansville and Magog said that the budget would not make any difference to those centres since the six per cent tax was already in effect.

CITY OFFICIALS SAY PROVISIONS UNCERTAIN

City officials have not yet declared whether they are for or against Quebec's newly imposed system of collecting sales tax because as Mayor Armand Nadeau said "there are certain provisions in the new system which are not quite clear."

The Mayor said he is waiting to see the exact details in the official Canada Gazette before stating his opinion of the new sales tax.

He added, however that if the new system would mean the loss of revenues for Sherbrooke, the city would join other municipalities in protesting the changes. Montreal mayor Jean Drapeau has already declared his vehement opposition to the revised sales tax schemes.

Alderman Marcel Savard, chairman of the general administration commission, repeated the mayor's admission that certain sections of the new plan were not clear and were being studied.

When asked to enumerate those provisions not fathomed by city officials, Mr. Savard declined. He said he would have more to say in a few days.

Jeanson 'very satisfied'

Alderman J. M. Jeanson, chairman of the water works committee said last night he was "very satisfied" with the presentation of tenders for the proposed Lake Memphremagog - Sherbrooke pipeline which he said "could be realized."

He said that the tenders would now be studied and classified by city director of services Charlie Langlois.

The tenders were called in order to get a more accurate picture of the cost of the project, being considered for supplying Sherbrooke with pure drinking water.

A filtration plant is being studied as an alternate solution. Mr. Jeanson thanked the companies who took the trouble to submit bids and asked that interested organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce study the tenders. The report of Mr. Langlois would be made available to those interested he added.

Mayor Nadeau told council that the city wants "the people to know what are the proposals before the city."

After the mayor and Mr. Jeanson made their comments, Alderman Everett Nicol told council it must make itself clear that no definite choice had been made between the pipeline and the filtration plant.

Asbestos police report

Eighteen escorts were made by the patrol to the local banks with nine for funeral services, 79 patrols were made for general service, 23 traffic violation tickets were issued. Two persons were held for court appearance on charges. Seven summons were issued. Five persons requested overnight protection.

Six persons appeared in magistrate court, six in municipal court and three in Welfare court in Sherbrooke. Six persons were ordered to pay fines, four were given suspended sentences, four were sentenced to jail terms and one person had their motor vehicle licence suspended.

Three persons were apprehended for disturbing the peace. One person was accused of dangerous driving. Three motor vehicles were reported stolen and three persons resisted arrest, fourteen new names were entered in the files. Four investigations were made. One coroner's inquest was held. Four persons were fingerprinted and photographed. Nine letters of recommendation were issued. Five animals were destroyed, on the authority of the owners. Seven doors were found un-locked, by the night patrol. Two children were reported lost, and found. 13 identification cards were issued.

The fire department answered seven calls. Three were for chimney fires. Damage in all cases was slight. Snow removal costs for the current year amounted to $14,665 a considerable saving over the budgeted amount of $30,000. Cleaning of sidewalks cost $4,030 against a budget of $6,500.

Chief Adrien Larrivée was authorized to represent the town at the Chief of Police and Firemen's Association which will be held in Quebec City, June 8, 9 and 10. An amount of $15 was voted for registration fees.

Centennial arena planned

City decides to buy ETAA

City council decided last night — once again — to buy the land and properties of the ETAA in order to build a sports arena exhibition building which would be at the same time Sherbrooke's centennial project. Aldermen predicted that the cost of buying the ETAA's building and grounds would be $150,000. In addition the 1800 shares will be bought at $50 each.

The city's lawyer, Albert Rivard was asked to prepare a contract by-law which will be presented to council next Monday for approval. The arena would be used for sport attractions as well as an exhibition building for commerce, agriculture and industry. Mayor Armand Nadeau said last night he had always favoured a new arena for Sherbrooke, especially to promote hockey in the city. Mayor Nadeau told council that as the arena could be declared a centenary project, the city could receive grants totaling $200,000 from federal and provincial governments. The grants would come from the special fund set up to promote projects for Canada's 100th birthday in 1967. The city would first have to approve formally the purchase of the ETAA and arena plans before it can become eligible for the grants.

Evaluator's role is discussed at C of C

MAGOG—(Special)—Dominique Beaulieu, chief evaluator for the City of Magog and supervisor of public works, spoke at a mixed gathering Saturday evening at the Lantern Inn, sponsored by Magog's Chamber of Commerce.

"The main role of an evaluator is to use careful judgment and to at all times strive for fairness when evaluating property," Mr. Beaulieu said. Explaining some of the methods used to appraise the value of real estate, the speaker said it is necessary to take many facts into consideration when doing property evaluation.

the owner of the cottage. Hospital officials said he suffered from 90 degree burns. His remains have been taken to Worcester, Mass., for burial. In critical condition at the OCM Hospital are Mr. Rolnick's wife, Lena and her sister, Mrs. Sarah White. Both victims are suffering from severe burns.

A gas station attendant, Gilles Fautoux, who was fishing near the cottage at the time of the fire Sunday found the three people lying in the grass near their home with their clothes burning. He was attracted by their screams.

He rushed them in his car to hospital in Newport. Police said at the time the injured "for days" without being discovered had it not been for Fautoux.

The cottage, one of three on the site was reported to have been broken into last week. It is believed that whoever broke into the cottage tampered with the tank, allowing highly volatile propane fumes to fill the basement.

The caretaker said he had not touched the propane tanks which supply the cottage with fuel, light and refrigeration.

Tenders on the proposed Memphremagog-Sherbrooke pipeline project were opened last night in city hall and it was discovered that this plan, one of two suggested to bring pure drinking water to Sherbrooke homes, would cost $2,971,911, according to the tenders.

This figure was arrived at by adding the lowest bids for each section of the project, which would include the laying of the pipeline, the construction of a pumping station and installation of microfilters.

The tenders were called in order to determine more exactly the cost of such a pipeline; but no decision has been made as yet to accept the project. Also being considered is a new filtration plant.

Earlier last year, consulting engineer Jacques Lemieux had estimated for the city that the project to carry water from Lake Memphremagog to Sherbrooke would cost $2,934,911 without microfilters.

The estimated cost last night was favourably received by city alderman. Three Rivers has built a similar system for a daily 12 million gallons of water at a cost of $3,250,000. Lachine has built a pipeline supplying 16 million gallons of water each day at a cost of $3 million.

Sherbrooke's pipeline would supply a maximum of 18 million gallons daily for the estimated cost of $2,971,911.

This figure does not include the cost of purchasing rights of way for the pipeline, which will be in the neighbourhood of $80,000 according to a recent municipal study.

The tenders will now be studied by city director of services Charles Langlois. He will prepare a report on the plans. Tenders for the pipeline itself with accessories were as follows:

Canadian Iron Foundry $1,781,108, J. S. Mitchell ($2,192,049), Codere Ltee. ($2,192,049), and the Welland Tube Co. ($2,000,000).

The tender of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company was rejected because it was received 12 minutes after the deadline. The tender was not opened.

Tenders for laying the pipeline in two sections were as follows:

Newton Construction Ltd. $398,674 and $425,193, Leo Piquette Ltee and Rand Construction ($472,260 and $425,224), Fabi & Fils ($250,391 and $613,373) and Walsh Quebec Construction ($698,832).

The following tenders were received for the Lake Memphremagog pumping station: Dorilas Grenier Ltd. ($213,285), Eugene Marcoux Inc. ($215,000), Stanislas Groulx Inc. ($218,000), Clovis Masson Ltd. ($222,926), Vincent Froyes Ltd. ($223,253) and J. W. Roy Ltd. ($244,900).

Tenders for three pumps, each to have a capacity of 6 million gallons of water per day are as follows: (Prices are for each pump. Where there are two quotations they are for different pumps.)

Babcock and Wilcox ($11,747 and $8,550), Hydro Dynamics $11,496 and $8,600 and Worthington Canada Ltd. ($14,491).

Finally, one tender was received for the microfilters: Francis Henkin Ltd. ($64,000). Sherbrooke Machinery, however, quoted an estimate of $120,000 for the microfilters. This price is for all three, while the first tender is for each.

Is fined $100

In Sherbrooke Court of Sessions yesterday, Judge Benoit Turmel sentenced a Kingsbury man to a fine of $100 and costs, or three months in jail and suspended his driving permit for a period of six months for a second offence of driving while his faculties were impaired by alcohol.

Eric Booth, who pleaded to the charge had committed the same offence in 1958.

Beckett Rd. intersection is planned

A plan to build an intersection at the corner of Jacques Cartier and Beckett Streets was presented to city council last night.

The plan is part of the project to extend Jacques Cartier Street to route 5, the Brompton Road as outlined in the LaHaye plan, the master plan, the master planning study for improvements in Sherbrooke streets.

The intersection would include two access roads from Beckett Street leading on to Jacques Cartier Street so as to provide easy access for residents of Beckett Street.

Aldermen asked for more details concerning the proposed intersection, and city director of services Charles Langlois will furnish a report at next week's council meeting.

STILL PERKY — Having a chuckle in Vancouver this week were three people more than a century old and proud of it. Mrs. Annie Bigland, right, celebrated her 105th birthday. Egor Priskupa, 101, offered a recipe of hard working and no smoking. Mrs. Matilda Boynton, 106, smoked for 93 years and knocked off in 1962. (CP Wirephoto)

Public forum taking place in Vancouver next week over problems of bilingualism

VANCOUVER (CP)—A public forum on the intricacies of bilingualism and biculturalism attracted unexpected interest here Monday night, with scores of people from all walks of life competing for a chance to speak.

The royal commission on bilingualism has been warned privately that British Columbians are largely indifferent to the inquiry, but meeting chairman Neil Morrison practically had to beg the 300-strong attendance to adjourn after 2½ hours of lively talk.

No consensus developed in the frank exchange, but many speakers with a variety of ethnic backgrounds called for closer links between the English and French language groups and between Western and Eastern Canadians generally.

"I am appalled by the tremendous ignorance on both sides," commented French teacher Daniel Dorotich, a Yugoslav immigrant who spent 10 years in Quebec before moving to Vancouver.

"The greater barrier is prejudice, based on simple ignorance."

He said more interprovincial travel and cultural exchanges and improved east-west communications are needed to explode myths each language group has about the other.

Some western myths held that Quebec had an inferior culture and educational system. If the CBC French television and radio networks were extended to Vancouver, people would see how false these notions were.

SAYS MYTH RIDICULOUS

Francois Alix, a French immigrant and translator, said another "ridiculous" myth widespread outside Quebec holds that French-Canadians speak a corrupt patois that bears no relation to "Parisian French."

"There is just one French language," he said. "It's the same thing everywhere."

Edgar Baker started the meeting with the observation that Americans made the right decision when they decided that English would be the only official language of their country.

Angus MacDonald agreed. He said that because of the language barrier, some French-Canadians he had met in Quebec knew less about international affairs than "some tribesmen in Kenya."

Both were denounced by Lionel Kearns for making "stupid comments" that only encouraged Quebec residents to lose confidence in Confederation.

Andres Piatot called for French-language schools and broadcasting outlets to help B.C.'s 67,000 French-Canadians preserve their cultural heritage.

"I'm proud to be a French-Canadian and I'd like my children to be too," he said. "But it's very difficult to be a French-Canadian outside Quebec. We only ask for the same rights enjoyed by the English-speaking minority of Quebec."

WOMAN IS AMAZED

Mrs. Blair Neatby, the French-Canadian wife of a university history professor, said she is constantly amazed to find that British Columbians don't even know that there is a French-speaking community in their province.

She endorsed proposals for cultural exchanges with Quebec, but added amid applause: "We should start to get acquainted right here—it's much less expensive than bringing French-Canadians from Quebec."

A woman who declined to identify herself decried the fact

EAST FARNHAM — Mrs. Rufus Thompson was hostess for the United Church Women's Group at her home April 18. Mrs. Maurice Webb took the devotional period, assisted by the president, Mrs. Dorothy Harrowing.

The observer list was checked, the revised list to be sent to Cowansville, to be included in a general order. Bills for material were ordered settled.

June 3, was set as a tentative date for the annual lilac tea, to be held in the United Church hall.

Mrs. Harrowing mentioned the Presbytery U.C.W., would hold the annual meeting in Richmond this year, on May 4, and hoped a representation would be sent from the East Farnham group.

The address of the guest speaker, Mr. Howard, will be partly on the new christian education program, which is being started in September.

Mrs. Stewart Harrowing has been named delegate to attend the session at Five Oaks, Ont., from May 11-15, in preparation for advisor in the local new curriculum.

The May 16 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bernice Thomas, who will be hostess.

Why build a dam?

Dam-building beaver seeks wood

COWANVILLE — Why do beavers build dams? No one seems to know for certain.

Provincial Forestry engineer Michel Belanger said "since they belong to the rodent family, and possess an enormous pair of front teeth, it is only natural they seek a large supply of wood."

For this fourth of a series on forest animals and pests, Mr. Belanger said beavers thrive on bark of the birch, poplar and willow trees.

Yet no one knows why the beaver, and his relatives, will gang up and build a dam. It is known that the beaver chooses a running creek, fells trees, and keeps building a dam. His den is located within the dam, a few feet above the water level.

By TED BEAUDOIN (Record staff reporter)

With an air-hole above him, the beaver lives a sort of comfortable life in his den, exiting through an underwater tunnel when necessary. Speculation leads one to think that a beaver builds this dam for protection, as it is not ferocious, and almost all carnivorous forest animals are its natural enemies.

Man almost created its extinction, said Mr. Belanger, "when this land was just being colonized."

"It used to be found from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico. It was hunted in enormous quantities for its fur, and it almost became extinct."

Mr. Belanger said that governments, in the United States and Canada, established laws to protect this industrious animal. "I've recently heard they are increasing in number everywhere."

There aren't too many to be found in this region, he noted, but added there are some.

Technical data on the Castor Canadensis (Canadian Beaver) show that it ranges in length from 38 to 45 inches; varies in weight between 35 and 50 pounds; mates in February, giving birth to its young (four to six per litter) late in April or in early May.

The beaver, honored by the Canadian government on its nickel, is popularly known by its broad tail. At times, spreading to five inches wide at tail, and a good inch thick, this tail is used as a rudder when swimming, and as an alarm signal when struck on the water.

Workmen ready trees for spring planting

COWANVILLE — (Staff) — Workmen are busy helping prepare 50,000 young trees for replanting elsewhere in Brome, Missisquoi and parts of Sherbrooke Counties.

Provincial forestry engineer Michel Belanger said that the trees, the largest amount to be supplied by the Sweetsburg Nursery yet, should all be picked up, by the 100 or so persons who asked for them, shortly.

Delivery of another 100,000 from the Province's nursery in Berthierville, is expected this weekend. This will conclude this year's reforestation project.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

You hear a lot about the quality of British Cars.

Read what a British expert thinks about the quality of a Canadian car

Recently, famous British motoring journalist, Michael Kemp, put a Canadian-built Rambler Classic through a stiff "Family Test." Read what he enthusiastically reported about the Rambler Classic in the London Daily Sketch, February 15, 1964.

"By British standards it is large, powerful and bristling with one-up-manship from tip to tail . . . Top speed is more than 100 m.p.h.—cruising speed, with complete freedom from wind noise, more than 90 m.p.h. . . . A soft, typically American ride but with reassuring roadholding. Hard to fault."

Kemp's wife drove the Classic for 50 miles and made out a personal "score-card." Her marks, out of ten, were: "Looks, 8; Comfort, 9; Gimmicks, 9." Her comments: "Effortless motoring. Interior trim's fluorescent colouring is superb—a lesson to some British firms."

From an engineering neighbour, Kemp obtained this opinion: "A lusty, work-loving car."

In summary, Kemp wrote: "A highly tempting car in its price range . . ."

Coming from the traditionally reserved British, praise like that means a lot. Why don't you discover for yourself why Michael Kemp was so impressed with the Rambler Classic? Visit your nearby Rambler Dealer and put a Rambler Classic 6 or V8 through its paces. It's a jolly good car.

Sutton WA holds April meeting

SUTTON — Miss Nora Smythe opened her home on Mountain Street for the monthly meeting of the Grace Church Women's Auxiliary on April 15. Mrs. George Webb was co-hostess. Mrs. C. Hazard, secretary, read the correspondence, which included a letter from the Mansonville Anglican Church relative to the Deanery meeting, which will be held at Mansonville, May 20. There was also a thank-you note from Mrs. A. Brown. A recent generous donation by Miss M. Nish, was acknowledged.

United Thank Offering boxes were opened and contents aggregated $22.92. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

GENERAL NOTES

Again, as on the preceding night, the Sutton firemen were summoned shortly after 11 p.m. on April 16, to a fire, which again did not prove serious, at the home of Mr. J. Desjardis, where a defect had turned a gas stove and pipe red-hot. Prompt action by the firemen prevented an explosion. This was the fourth call answered by the volunteer fire brigade during the first five days of the week.

UCW unit holds busy session at Richmond

RICHMOND —The Melbourn Unit of the U.C.W., of Richmond-Melbourn United Church, held its April meeting in the ladies parlor on the 15th, opened with a hymn, with Mrs. W. Moreland at the piano. A short play was presented, with the following members taking part Mrs. H. Rick, Mrs. C. Spence, Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. W. Moreland. Eleven calls were reported made at the Wales Home and 18 locally.

It was decided to assist the Edith Unit with the auction sale in the fall. A card was signed by the members to send Mrs. A. Galbraith, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Plans were made for the May time tea and sale, to take place in the Richmond - Melbourn United Church hall May 13. An appeal for used javex bottles and cards for Mrs. Rodell, in Lennoxville, was made by Mrs. Rick, these may be left at her home.

Following adjournment a plant and slip sale took place, followed by the serving of refreshments by the hostesses, Mrs. A. Coddington, Mrs. P. Gagnon and Mrs. A. Wentworth.

UNIT III LENNOXVILLE U.C.W.

Unit III of the Lennoxville United Church Women, held their April meeting in the Upper Scott Hall, with the leader, Mrs. Albert E. Bartlette presiding.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. A. Richard Tolhurst, with Mrs. Philip Walton, accompanying at the piano.

Thirty-one members answered the roll call and reported 40 visits made to sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Fred Hicks gave a favorable financial report.

Mrs. Keith Lane dealt further with plans under discussion for a possible fall fund raising project.

The leader informed the members that Mrs. Keith R. Lane and Mrs. William J. Fuller had been named joint conveners for the annual Christmas Bazaar.

Notice was given of the Silver Tea on May 28.

The need for volunteers to ease the load carried by the visitation committee was shown by the lengthy list of sick and shut-ins which was read. Several offered to make calls on behalf of the U.C.W. this month.

This concluded the business and the Mizpah Benediction was repeated.

An interesting program prearranged by Mrs. Noble Smith followed.

Several musical numbers were given by Mrs. R. Hughes-Games, Mrs. H. L. McLeod and Mrs. William J. Fuller, with Mrs. Fred Fox as accompanist.

The members then joined in a game with Mrs. Kenneth J. McLeod in charge, while the former singing group donned costumes for a final number.

tools as capital cost items. George Nowlan, former Conservative finance minister, said the educational program goes much deeper than assisting students. There was also the acute problem of providing teachers and accommodation for future university students.

SAYS MONEY OFFERED

Earlier Monday, a former Social Credit member who switched to the Progressive Conservatives last week charged that he was offered campaign money by a Liberal official if he would join that party.

Gerard Girouard, Labelle, rose on a point of privilege to make his charge. He said that when he made his move to the Conservatives last week, Liberals inferred that his decision was due to political bargaining on his part.

He said Monday that he had a meeting with Liberal national director, Keith Davey who mentioned the advantages of joining the governing party—such as funds for the next election campaign.

Douglas Fisher (NDP—Port Arthur) asked Prime Minister Pearson whether he would consider moving a motion that the matter be referred to a Commons committee. Mr. Pearson said this would serve no useful purpose.

Despite all the wrangling that went on during the day, the sitting ended on a sugary note. The Commons was discussing the price of sugar. NDP Leader—Douglas had called for an adjournment-hour debate, saying that three Montreal refineries all had raised their prices by 30 cents a hundredweight earlier in the day.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Education Minister George Johnson Monday announced plans for expanding French - language instruction for French - speaking and English-speaking pupils in Manitoba's schools next September. Dr. Johnson said beginning this fall the experimental use of conversational French for English - speaking students in Grades 1 to 3 will be undertaken, and that French—a language program for students whose mother tongue is French—will be extended in Grades 2 and 3.

LONDON (Reuters) — Italian Premier Aldo Moro and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home agreed Monday from the viewpoint of the West, the situation in Southeast Asia is probably more dangerous than that anywhere else, a well-informed source reported. The two premiers met for two hours.

DAR ES SALAAM (Reuters) — The pilot of an East African Airways airliner carrying 22 passengers was killed at Kilwa, southern Tanganyika, Monday when a propeller broke away and smashed through the cabin window. The plane was coming in to land when the incident occurred.

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government plans to build a new headquarters in downtown Ottawa for the external affairs department before the 1967 centennial, Works Minister Deschatelets informed the Commons Monday. He gave no other details.

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal program to provide jobs and training for older workers produced more jobs than workers. Labor Minister MacEachen announced Monday 2,347 job openings were approved. But by the March 31 deadline only 1,811 workers had been put in approved jobs.

Second straight shutout, blank Colts 6-0 on six-hitter while Senators post win over Angels

Don Drysdale, the last healthy member of Los Angeles' big four, has given the Dodgers' beleaguered pitching staff its most impressive streak since putting together three consecutive shutouts.

Taking over where Phil Ortega left off Sunday, Drysdale pitched the Dodgers, second straight shutout Monday night, winning his first game in four starts by limiting Houston Colts to six hits in a 6-0 victory built on a three-homer salvo.

Only one other game was scheduled in either league. In that Washington Senators whipped Los Angeles Angels 6-2.

Drysdale's performance and home runs by Frank Howard, Ron Fairly and Willie Davis—the Dodgers had collected only eight homers in 12 previous games—topped off a heartening day for manager Walt Alston.

Possibly the most important piece of news came from Los Angeles, where Sandy Koufax has been undergoing treatment for a muscle strain in his left arm. Dr. Robert Kerlan reported Koufax might be given permission to throw on the sidelines this weekend.

STAFF DEPLETED

Besides Koufax, the Dodger staff has been depleted by injuries to Johnny Podres and relief specialist Ron Perranoski while the attack has lost the services of two-time batting champion Tommy Davis. Nevertheless, Alston said the Dodgers' poor start could not simply be traced to injuries.

"The injuries have hurt us," he said. "But the team was not playing up to par before anyone got hurt."

"What we've got to do is win as many as we can while we're crippled, then move when we get all the injured men back. There is nothing wrong with the morale of this team right now that a couple of good wins and some base hits won't cure."

Howard and Fairly took care of the base hits. Each hit a two-run homer and also collected two singles. Willie Davis added a solo homer and a fine running catch that preserved Drysdale's shutout.

Howard's homer was his sixth and his three hits lifted his batting average to .265. He is runner-up to Willie Mays in both homers and runs batted in in the National League. Mays has hit seven homers and driven in 18 runs to 11 for the Dodger slugger.

Two-run singles by Mike Brumley and Don Zimmer gave the Senators four runs in the fourth inning off Angels starter Ken McBride. Fred Valentine drove in the other two tallies, one with his first major league homer.

The victory went to Buster Narum, who went 6-13 in his first major league start as many as we can while we're crippled, then move when we score two runs and defeat the Indians 4-2.

AMES CAME CLOSE

Leon (Red) Ames, not Bob Feller, would have been the first pitcher ever to hurl a no-hitter in a season's opener had his New York Giant mates been able to score a run off Brooklyn's Irving (Kaiser) Wilhelm in 1909. Ames didn't give up a hit until Charlie Alperman singled with one out in the 10th. Brooklyn won 3-0 in 13 innings.

On May 2, 1917, Hippo Jim Vaughn of Chicago Cubs and Fred Toney of Cincinnati were locked up in a hitless game through nine innings. Larry Kopf of the Reds got the game's first hit with one out in the 10th and scored the only run a few moments later on an infield single by Jim Thorpe.

In 1934, Bobo Newsome of St. Louis Browns had a no-hitter with two out in the 10th when Roy Johnson singled to drive in the winning run for Cleveland. The Indians won 2-1.

Talking about hard luck, look what happened to Walter Johnson back in 1920. The immortal Washington right-hander hurled a no-hitter against Boston July 1. An error by the Senators' second baseman deprived him of a perfect game.

The culprit? Bucky Harris, the team manager.

No-hitters greatest feat hurler can accomplish but still some lose games, Ken Johnson latest

NEW YORK (AP) — A no-hitter is the greatest feat a pitcher can accomplish. So when one achieves this once-in-a-lifetime ambition, the odds are all in his favor of winning the game.

Yet 10 pitchers throttled the opposition through the regular season nine innings only to lose.

The latest hard-luck loser was Ken Johnson, an old acquaintance of fame misfortune. The 30-year-old right-hander's 1-0 defeat by Cincinnati Reds Thursday night was his 15th shutout defeat in a little more than two years with Houston Colts.

Harvey Haddix had worse luck than Johnson. The veteran left-hander pitched 12 perfect innings for Pittsburgh Pirates in 1959 only to lose 1-0 in 13 innings to Milwaukee Braves when an error and Joe Adcock's double with one out produced the lone run of the game.

Harry McIntyre of the 1906 Brooklyn Superbas pitched 10 hitless innings against Pittsburgh but lost in the 11th, 1-0, when Claude Ritcher singled in a run with two out. It was Pittsburgh's only hit.

On May 9, 1901, Earl Moore of Cleveland allowed Chicago two runs but no hits until Sam Mertes singled leading off the White Sox 10th. Chicago went on to score two runs and defeat the Indians 4-2.

Bullfighting pays top money, says Carlos Arruza, one of world's top bullfighters, has earned $2,000,000

TORONTO (CP) — Athletes whose thinking pertains mainly to money would do well to take up the art of bullfighting—if they are willing to take the chance of getting gored or killed.

That's the view of Carlos Arruza of Mexico, one of the world's top bullfighters until he turned in his red cape 10 years ago. Arruza, five feet, 11 inches tall, and 162 pounds, said in an interview here Monday that he made nearly $2,000,000 during his career.

He started in the business when he was 13.

Asked about the pay for bullfighters, he said: "It's a lot better than your professional athletes get for football, hockey or soccer but the chances of getting gored or killed are greater."

"hockey, soccer, baseball or football player always worries about getting a charley horse, in our sport the greatest worry is getting gored in the thigh."

During his career Arruza suffered 11 serious injuries. "I've been gored several times but thanks to good doctors I've been able to carry on."

THE PAY IS GOOD

Arruza said he received $10,000 for each performance in Mexico and as much as $25,000 for a performance in Spain. A performance lasts 20 minutes. "Sometimes I did as many as two performances a day either in Spain or Mexico."

Arruza, who says he is still a rich man although his agents, tax collectors and promoters most of his money, now owns two ranches, one of 4,000 acres and the other 2,000 acres, outside Mexico City.

Arruza compared bullfighting to wrestling in North America, but quickly added: "Perhaps we're not like wrestling in some respects. We can't fix the opposition, which is the bull."

In the last seven years of his career Arruza killed 2,136 bulls, each weighing 1,000 pounds. He has received more than 250 ears of the animals he killed—an award for an outstanding performance. He has also received a hoof and a tail from one of his victims, a rare award.

Arruza is touring Canada with Francisco Contreras, captain of the Mexico Davis Cup team, on behalf of the National Tourist Promotion Council of Mexico.

For these reasons, you are invited to apply for a Social Insurance Number, even if you are not a contributor to the unemployment insurance plan. Here's what you do:—

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYEE: Your employer will give you an application form for a Social Insurance Number. You can help most by completing it promptly and accurately and returning the form to your employer. He will send it to the nearest office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

IF YOU ARE UNEMPLOYED: If you are receiving unemployment insurance benefit you will complete an application form for a Social Insurance Number when you report to the U.I.C. in person or by mail.

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYER: If you are an employer registered with the Unemployment Insurance Commission—you will automatically receive application forms. You are asked to distribute them to your employees, have them completed and signed by each employee and returned promptly together, not individually, to the local office of the Commission.

If you are an employer who is not registered with the Unemployment Insurance Commission—please get in touch with your local Unemployment Insurance Commission office and inform them how many employees you have. The Unemployment Insurance Commission office will then send you application forms for each of your employees to complete.
