France Takes Steps To Pacify Arabians; Self-Rule To Tunisia

PARIS—(Reuters)—France yesterday took vital steps aimed at soothing and stabilizing her vast North African territories, where Arab Nationalists are demanding an increased role in government.

1. She handed documents of self-rule to her protectorate of Tunisia, which only last year was racked by anti-French terrorism.
2. She dispatched a new resident-general to Morocco, another protectorate whose leaders were promised a new government last week after bloody riots and fighting 11 days ago.
3. She held a "war council" on how to crack down further on rebels in Algeria.

In an historic ceremony here, Premier Edgar Faure and Tunisian Prime Minister Tahar Ben Ammar handed each other documents which formally give Tunisia home rule.

Under the accords, Tunisians will progressively take over the internal administration during the next 10 years. France retains control of Tunisia's defence and foreign relations, and shares in supervising the protectorate's monetary and customs policy.

Ben Ammar said his government now has completed its mission of completing self-rule, and therefore will offer its resignation to the Bey of Tunis, Sidi Lamine, next week. He added that his ministers now want to discuss with French leaders a proposed $17,000,000 loan for developing the country's economy.

Meanwhile, Gen. Pierre Boyer de la Tour, Tunisian resident-general, arrived in Rabat to take over as new resident-general in Morocco and set in motion the formation of a new government within two weeks. He succeeds Gilbert Grandval, who was pulled out of office to appease conservative French ministers dissatisfied with his conciliatory tone with Arab Nationalists.

At least 2,000 Arabs and Frenchmen died in the Moroccan and Algerian uprisings on the week-end of Aug. 20. Since then, observers on the scenes say that mop-up operations by French forces have wiped out from 3,000 to 5,000 Arabs.

Algerian Nationalists have little hope of winning concessions like those given to Tunisia last year and to Moroccan leaders last week at the French Alpine resort of Aix-les-Bains. Unlike its neighbors, Algeria is legally part of Metropolitan France and could no more be granted self-government than Brittany or Provence.

After a summer of looking at women you come to the conclusion that a good many of them are like a poor photograph—undeveloped and overexposed.

World News In Brief

Cairo — (Reuters) — Ten Arabs were killed and 12 were injured in clashes at Khan Yunis in the Gaza border area during the night, an official Egyptian spokesman said today.

The spokesman described the victims as "Palestine Arab volunteers."

Detroit — (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers agreed on a new contract today six hours after a strike shut down Chrysler plants in the United States.

The agreement was patterned closely after the Ford and General Motors contracts reached in early June. The provisions included a Ford-GM type lay-off-pay plan which guarantees employees 60 to 65 per cent of regular take-home pay for up to 26 weeks of idleness.

Edmonton — (CP) — Alberta today celebrated its 50th anniversary. The theme was "50 golden years."

The celebration was to be touched off officially at 9 p.m. with the simultaneous lighting of bonfires in city, town and hamlet all over the province that has grown in 50 years from a population of 185,412 to more than 1,000,000.

Ottawa — (AP) — A 10-per-cent boost in western freight rates on grain moving to domestic markets has been given tentative approval in a move to balance up a disparity between rates in eastern and western Canada.

The board of transport commissioners, in a formal judgment yesterday, said it plans to authorize the increase for the railways next Jan. 1 but will not make a final order until after it holds hearings here late in November.

Juan Peron Retains The Presidency

Withdraws Resignation Offer; Strengthens Grip

Buenos Aires — (AP) — President Juan D. Peron tightened a firm new grip on Argentina today, warning grimly that opposition violence will be met by "action still more violent."

Peron told a well-organized demonstration of many thousands last night that he was withdrawing his offer to step down as president. Earlier in the day he had announced he would resign if it would guarantee "pacification" of the country.

Speaking before the wildly cheering throng in the Plaza del Mayo, Peron said it was clear his opponents "do not want the pacification we have offered them."

"We have to answer violence with greater violence . . . and when one of our people falls, five of them will fall."

In his speech Peron did not name his enemies, except for an occasional reference to "the oligarchs." He made no mention of the Roman Catholic Church, with which his government had been struggling since last November.

Dominating the 10-hour demonstration in the central square were Peron's General Confederation of Labor — the popular basis of his strength — and the men's and women's Peronista parties. The army which had saved Peron from the navy's unsuccessful June 16 revolt and kept him in office, was conspicuously absent from the vast crowd.

The first announcement that Peron had offered to resign was broadcast yesterday morning by Hugo Dipietro, secretary of the labor confederation. The announcement touched off a general strike by the labor group and a call for mass demonstrations.

The resignation offer was not submitted to congress — the normal procedure — nor was there any announcement of it from any government office.

There were no reports of major violence during or after the demonstrations. Near the city of Tucuman, however, a low-hanging electric cable sliced through a crowd of Peronistas riding on top of a train to a party rally. Seven were killed and 37 injured.

Ballast Train Kills Six

Laval-sur-le-Lac, Que. — (AP) — A slow-moving ballast train plowed into a car at a level crossing here last night, crushing six of the seven occupants to death as it dragged the car a quarter of a mile across a railway bridge.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. A. Chevrier, aged 46 and 40 respectively, of Charlemagne, Que.; Mrs. Armand Beausoleil, about 30, of Sudbury, and her three children.

Only the nine-year-old girl, Desneiges, was identified immediately. The other children were a boy and a girl, one about six years old and the other about seven.

Armand Beausoleil, 28-year-old driver of the car, was given little hope of survival by Sacred Heart Hospital authorities in nearby Cartierville following an emergency operation Wednesday night.

The blast ripped a hole in the wall of the criminal exhibits building.

A second bomb exploded in the phonograph library of the radio station, two miles outside Nicosia, causing considerable damage. But broadcasting was not interrupted. A news bulletin went on the air a few minutes later, reporting the blast and discovery of another unexploded bomb in a broadcasting studio.

Responsible Greek Cypriot leaders who back wholeheartedly the campaign for "enosis" union with Greece have nevertheless condemned terrorist tactics.

There were no casualties in either explosion. Security precautions were tightened yesterday at police headquarters and at the government-run broadcasting station.

Mental Escapee Ends 18-Month Crusoe Venture

Edmonton — (AP) — A man who lived like an animal but purchased survival with mechanical genius is reported to have been returned to a mental hospital from the thick woods he made his lair for 18 months.

He prowled by night in search of food and whatever he found he ate uncooked. In summer his bed was a mound of straw covered with tree limbs and burlap sacks and in winter he huddled without a fire in a small hole in a bank.

Yet without proper tools, and using castaway parts of tractors and old automobiles, he fashioned a grain mill to grind the wheat he picked up from the fields, and built himself a lathe, a rifle and a revolver.

The strange story of the man everyone thought was dead was reported yesterday by the Edmonton Journal, which said the escaped patient was captured last week and returned to the mental hospital at Ponoka, Alta.

His return, The Journal says, posed a new problem for police — the identity of a body found in a burned haystack shortly after the escape. In the belief the body was that of the escapee, the case was closed.

Cops Convicted In Morals Case

Montreal, (AP) — The Herald says two Montreal policemen accused in a morals case involving two teen-age girls have been convicted and fined in social welfare court.

Social welfare court cases are held in camera, with the press banned from the hearings. Judgments or convictions are not made known officially.

The newspaper says it learned the constables now await action, possibly dismissal, by the department's disciplinary board.

The warrants accused the constables of having committed "immoral acts" in the 15-day period preceding July 15 with two girls, one 17 and the other 14.

Israeli Planes Down Two Egyptian Jets; "Defensive" War On

JERUSALEM — (AP) — Fighting flared furiously along Palestine's Gaza front today. Israel said two of her jets downed two Egyptian fighters a few hours after she disclosed that her ground forces blew up an Egyptian military headquarters inside the battle-scarred coastal area.

An Israeli army spokesman said the Egyptian Vampire jets were patrolling over Israeli territory when the Israeli pilots engaged them. He said one Egyptian plane blew up in the air and the other crashed.

The spokesman said both Egyptian pilots were killed in the dogfight. He located it as three miles north of the northern boundary line of the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

It was the second reported air encounter between Egypt and Israel since the 1948 Palestine war. Two Israeli planes clashed briefly Monday with four Egyptian Vampires.

The Israeli foreign office described last night's ground raid against Egypt's Khan Yunis encampment as defence against "active warfare" by Egypt. A spokesman said armor and troops punched through the frontier lines to wipe out a base "Egyptian terrorists" were using to launch attacks against Israel. He added:

"After blowing up the headquarters building, our forces returned toward Israel. Our casualties were one killed and eight wounded."

Authorities in Cairo confirmed the attack, but gave no report of Egyptian casualties. They said the raid was preceded by an artillery bombardment of an Egyptian outpost and the village of Avassan, south of Gaza City. The attack on Khan Yunis, a Warning!

London — (CP) — Britain has delivered a new warning to Egypt and Israel about the dangers involved in continued fighting in the Gaza strip, a foreign office spokesman said today.

The warning, delivered orally by British envoys in Cairo and Tel Aviv, was the second one by Britain to the two states now involved in repeated retaliatory raids in the Gaza border territory.

The foreign office spokesman said:

"The view of Her Majesty's government is that policies of retaliation could lead only to further retaliation. We have also advised them of our support for the cease-fire proposals of Gen. Edson Burns, chief of staff of the United Nations supervision organization."

major rail centre, came after the Jews said they would not join Egypt in a United Nations-sponsored cease-fire unless the Egyptians shouldered blame for the last week's stepped-up violence along the Gaza frontier. At least 266 Israelis and 10 Egyptians have been reported killed since "last Thursday."

Egypt agreed to the cease-fire Tuesday night.

A spokesman for the UN truce chief, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada Wednesday described the situation as "very serious." He said Burns still hoped to achieve a cease-fire and was "in constant touch with UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, informing him of developments."

The Israeli foreign office statement said last night's raid was aimed at stopping an Egyptian "campaign of aggression" which had made the 1949 Palestine agreement "virtually inoperative . . . acts of aggression having assumed threatening proportions, Israel has no choice but to resort to self-defence."

The Gaza strip, held by Egypt since the Palestine war, is a six-by-30-mile coastal fringe between Israel's Negev desert and the Mediterranean. The UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees operates four camps in the area, housing an estimated 212,000 Arab refugees.

Seeking Western Murderer

Melville, Sask. — (AP) — The search continued in the west today for a gunman who wiped out five members of a district farm family with what one policeman has called "methodical madness."

The Petlock family home near Fenwood, 20 miles west of here, for 20 years an uneasy vault for their mile-square farm's cash returns, was ransacked thoroughly by the gunman before he fled, police said, but from outside the trim two-storey house there was no sign of disorder.

He locked the door and pulled the blind on the kitchen window to conceal the body of Michael Petlock, 34, which lay on the floor. After shooting Petlock's three children both girls, the oldest three he placed them under blankets in their own beds.

The bodies of Petlock's 21-year-old wife, Angeline, and his widowed mother, Mrs. Harry Petlock, 72, were covered with potato tops the two women had cut while working in their garden 50 feet from the house. Angeline was shot twice once from close range. Police believe the shootings took place Monday.

The bodies lay unnoticed on the farm until late Tuesday. When Michael's brother, 35-year-old John, was reported missing Tuesday, an RCMP constable looked around the farm, but found everything seemingly normal.

Later, two other constables did the same, and found nothing out of place until a playful barnyard dog led them to the women's bodies in the garden. Then the men forced their way into the house through a window.

Today, the mild-mannered John, married only last November, was being sought from coast to coast.

RCMP stress he is wanted merely for questioning. No warrant has been issued yet for his arrest.

Sing Of Discontent At Vancouver Probe

Vancouver — (CP) — A claim that the police union "fostered discontent" within the force and a lawyer's chanting of "Kiss me goodnight, Sergeant-Major," highlighted the session of the Tupper royal commission yesterday.

The commission has been sitting nearly two months, inquiring into all phases of police activity in Canada's third largest city — especially as pertaining to graft and corruption.

T. V. Norris, counsel for police Chief Walter Mulligan, cross-examining Const. Dan Brown, secretary of the city policemen's Federal Labor Union (TLC) Local 112, said:

"You men are coming here and crying — and it's all due to the fact your union is trying to run the administration of the police and telling these men they are ill-used."

During the last three days, 15 officers and former officers testified that they suffered ill-treatment at the hands of senior police officers, mainly Chief Mulligan. The chief is on requested leave for the duration of the hearing.

Mr. Norris suggested the union had led the men in their discontent and chanted the words to the song in which a private urged his sergeant-major to "bring me up a nice, hot cup of tea," and "kiss me goodnight."

"Isn't that the position you have got these unhappy men in to?" he asked. "They are thinking the chief and everyone else has to baby them along."

"I'm glad you acknowledge they are unhappy," Const. Brown replied.

Winnipeg Greets Touring Soviets Roughly

Winnipeg — (AP) — An angry mob of anti-Communists kicked, punched and spat on four men last night after demonstrating against Russia's touring farm experts with placards, pamphlets and shouted curses.

The four men were believed to be RCMP plainclothes men who walked out the front door of the Stevenson airport passenger terminal into the milling crowd while the Russians were taken to a downtown hotel by a side exit under police escort.

Twelve policemen were placed on round-the-clock guard duty in the lobby and at the entrance to the Fort Garry hotel.

The Russians had dinner sent to their rooms soon after arrival.

The mob, part of a crowd of some 300 persons who gathered outside the airport gates, swarmed around the men, apparently believing they were part of the Russian delegation.

A woman tried to crown one man with a wreath bearing the words "For brothers murdered by the Bolsheviks." He brushed it off and she tried to throw it over the head of another.

As the men got into the car, the mob shot fists against the car windows, smashing one.

Meanwhile, motorcycle police officers cleared the roads of all traffic as they escorted the Soviet visitors to their hotel.

As the airport gates were opened, the anti-Red demonstrators shouted "pig" and "bandits" at the motorcade, showering it with pamphlets describing the Russian delegates as enslavers of farmers and workers. The demonstrators carried placards saying Russia was a concentration camp.

The pamphlets were signed by various Ukrainian groups including the Winnipeg branches of the veterans of the insurgent army and Ukrainian-Canadian Friends of the Liberation of the Ukraine.

Vladimir Matskevich, Soviet delegation leader, tossed the pamphlets out of his car as fast as they came in.

The demonstration against the Russian visitors was far more expressive than the one that greeted them on their first arrival in Canada at Montreal last Thursday.

It contrasted with the warm welcome they received in South Saskatchewan where they spent four days touring the big wheat farms.

Federal officials conducting the 16-day tour had been concerned about reports that anti-Reds would stage an outburst at Winnipeg. For that reason they kept silent about the arrival time. But somehow it leaked out and the crowds were there.

RCMP plainclothes men and local police blocked off the crowd from the airport apron. When tour officials caught sight of the crowds on their arrival about 9:20 p.m. CDT, they decided against allowing the Russians to go through the terminal lobby. Taxis were ordered and brought to the apron. The RCMP gave orders the cabs were not to move without police escort.

Several reporters were allowed to enter the plane for a brief talk with Matskevich. He told them he had received a kind reception from Canadians and that he would give a press conference in Ottawa when the 16-day tour was over. The second week of the tour opened today.

SOUND THE ALARM

Daddie Doofer, Professor Zoo. fer and Doctor Toofer remembered all the other times Sammie Spooner had fooled them with one of his wild tales. So the harder Sammie tried to convince them he and Hammie had seen bear tracks at the old swimming hole on the Moofer farm, the harder they laughed and teased him.

Sammie was almost in tears. He yelled, "You just got to listen, Mister Doofer. Honest! I wouldn't fool YOU. Please hurry—before those bears just up and eat somebody. Then you'll be sorry. But don't say I didn't warn you. Don't say it!"

By that time Daddie, the Professor and the Doctor were just doubled up laughing. They almost choked on their crackers from the old cracker barrel. Sammie was greatly relieved when his stepfather Sheriff Gittum Hoofers came stumbling in the door. Gittum's eyes were blazing. His big moustache wagged with excitement. He wore his great 20-gallon Western hat and all his tin badges shined on his heaving chest. Gittum was in his glory. He got a little mixed up as usual.

"Sheriff-Fire Chief Gittum Hoofers's name," he yelled.

"What seems to be the trouble here? Where's the fire? Er-er, I'm the law."

When the Sheriff got all tangled up in his big bow with the feather arrow and aimed one of his water pistols at Professor Zoofer, Daddie Doofer grinned and said soothingly, "Get hold of yourself, Sheriff. Here, have a soda pop and cool off. Heat's got you too, eh—like Sammie here."

Sammie squeaked, "Pappy, they won't believe me. Tell 'em, Pappy. They think I'm just kidding. We saw 'em—the bear tracks—Hammie and me. We SAW 'em."

Gittum gave his old cronies what he believed to be a deadly, steely-eyed look. And in a voice he fancied to be of great authority he roared: "I'm deputizing ever' mother's son of you—man and boy. Take these water pistols filled with ice water and get going! No more stalling! This is an ORDER from the LAW."

"My son Sammie here says there's bears in them there woods, Sammie is a truthful honest young man. I'll take my bow and arrow and both my guns to the first sidewindin' varmint says he ain't Doofer, you git on that party line and sound the alarm. Git-a-go!"

Gobbeldygook In Britain

The Americans have a way of inventing words that express the right meaning although their derivations might provide something of a headache to a dictionary publisher. For instance, they have coined "gobbeldygook" to describe the puzzling circumlocutions of official language.

"Gobbeldygook" is general in government circles, whether in Canada, Great Britain or the United States. Here is a prize example relating to an amendment to the British Electric Authority's Superannuation Scheme, recently adopted:

"35A—A member of the scheme who is a whole-time member of a Board shall be eligible if he ceases to be a member of the Scheme through the vacation of his office of whole-time member of the Board for such benefits under the Scheme as those for which he would have been eligible on ceasing to be a member of the Scheme if he had been a person in the employment of the Board of whom he was a member, and where relevant if that Board had directly or indirectly determined such employment in similar circumstances to those in which his office of whole-time member became vacant."

If you can make head or tail of that, you ought to be able to win our big crossword prize.

Truman On Delinquency

Possibly the quality that made ex-President Harry Truman so popular and at the same time so unpopular, depending upon whether one agreed or disagreed with him, during his term of office was the manner in which he would express his views on any argument of the day. This habit of forthrightness apparently has remained with him since his relegation to the ranks of a private citizen, for in recent weeks he has been much in the news because of his attacks on President Eisenhower and his expression on other major issues.

Early this week he gave his opinions on the subject of juvenile delinquency and they are worthy of study, even if they may be regarded as old-fashioned in certain quarters.

Mr. Truman says the best cure for juvenile delinquency "is for mommas and poppas to stay at home and raise their families." He does not believe in baby-sitters or in sending young children to boarding schools "just because the parents are too lazy to look after them. Children nowadays have too many gadgets to fool with and not enough chores to do around the house."

This And That...

Golf, in the opinion of an American contemporary, is a game which was once a rich man's sport, but now has millions of poor players.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the customers in a restaurant are sometimes the best waiters.

The rare event of a gnu being born in a zoo at Sydney, Australia, is reported. That's really gnus.

The best that some parents can do is to hold themselves up to their children as a warning and not as an example.

Belfast is to be the hub of the rocket world — if the I.R.A. doesn't swipe the rockets.

A Losing Fight

British Group Seeks To Save Branch Lines

Canadian Press Staff Writer London — It's called the Society for the Reinvigoration of Unremunerative Branch Lines in the United Kingdom, and a merger is quick to add:

"We are essentially a serious organization and not a joke." This society—call it SRUBLUK—believes that the state-controlled British Transport Commission is an unsentimental ogre with a penchant for lopping off unprofitable railway branch lines.

But the Commission, obviously unhappy whenever a branch line is doomed to death, says pure economics is the reason; if a branch line isn't paying its own way, and there is no hope it ever will, then it simply must go.

Since 1948, more than 325 passenger stations out of a total of 6,500 have been shut down. And of the 19,000 road-miles of track in Britain, more than 2,000 miles have been sentenced to death, with only a few reprieves so far.

SRUBLUK protests the Commission's pay-or-shut-down policy as "defeatist...retrograde...deliberate." It claims that better service, smoother timetables, more aggressive advertising would turn poor rural lines into profitable concerns.

And it is fighting the battle of the branch lines every inch of the (rail)way. It has an office on London's Strand, two-color stationery, well-known personalities as officers, and an all-out drive for new members—particularly "those who feel they are prepared to work actively for the cause of the society."

President is Sir Arthur Elton, 49-year-old movie producer, writer and lover of trains.

John Betjeman, who extolls the virtues of tradition in his city and suburban column in The Spectator, is one of the vice-presidents. Another is Lord Kinross, also a writer whose works include a book called "The Century of the Common Peas."

All of them share SRUBLUK's idealism and warn that "within the next 15 years two-thirds of the stopping train services will have been withdrawn and most of the branch lines in the country will have been closed."

Some of Britain's nationalized railways—still preserving their quaint names like "the Delph Donkey" in Yorkshire or "the Woodstock Flyer"—ramp slowly through breathtaking, rolling countryside. Most Britain trains have individual compartments, each with a door opening directly onto the station. Toilets are universal—first come, male or female, first served.

SRUBLUK says that every branch line closed means more traffic on country roads and "a weakening of the rural economy with a speeding up of the drift to the towns from the country." This, says the Society with grim determination, must not be allowed to come about.

"Whether you use branch lines for business or pleasure—or even if you don't use them but see a need for them—we ask you to support us now and save a valuable national asset from decay. Time is short."

The Times, seeing some need for SRUBLUK to "check this massacre of innocents," says the duty still lies with the Transport Commission to do its best "in the general national interest not to disturb an area, however small."

Unsinkable Boat Claimed By British Marine Expert

London — The British, who have been playing around with boats for more than 2,000 years, have come up with a couple of new types.

One is claimed to be unsinkable, and the other goes sideways.

Marine Engineer Harold Gaskin has the unsinkable one under construction at Shoreham, Sussex, and plans to test the finished product by dumping it over Niagara Falls.

The side-winding one rests in the backyard of Cmdr. George Wheeler on the Isle of Wight. It employs the propulsion principle of water jets.

An eight h.p. pump shoots sea water from two stern outlets, or twin nozzles on each side.

Wheeler, 71, who has worked on the idea for four years, says his 20-foot launch is cheaper, faster and a lot less noisy than conventional propeller-driven craft. Larger boats using the principle could dispense with tugs in docking, he claims.

His boat — "it is not perfect but the idea works" — has touched eight knots in trials on the solent.

Gaskin has had an unsinkable lifeboat in mind for 40 years. He has built six, but found some fault in them all. Now two models of the present type have worked perfectly, he says.

This one, which should be finished in nine months, is of fibre glass with two 24 h.p. engines and capable of carrying 84 persons.

"Even if she ships a lot of water, the top deck will still be above sea level," he says. "The lifeboat will rise on her own buoyancy and the water will escape through one-way valves."

Gaskin plans to sail the lifeboat to North America on her own power. He'll drop her over Niagara falls to show she has what it takes. United States and Norwegian ship-builders have expressed interest, he says.

GOOD FINESSE TOPS BOARD

Today's hand, played by Arthur Miller, well-known Fort Worth expert, illustrates an interesting point of bidding and a good point in the play. Miller doubled the opening bid of one heart and then bid his spades, thus showing a hand that was much too strong for a mere overcall in spades.

North had only a smattering of strength, but it was enough for a raise after South had shown such a fine hand.

West opened the four of hearts, and East continued the suit until South ruffed the third round. It was now up to Miller to win nine of the remaining 10 tricks. A trump finesse was clearly called for.

First, however, declarer cashed the top clubs to get them out of the way. Next, he led a low diamond to dummy's ace. This enabled him to lead the queen of clubs and discard a low diamond.

The only problem at this stage was the trump finesse. Miller executed this properly by leading the nine of spades from the dummy. East couldn't afford to cover with the king, so dummy's nine held the trick. Now declarer could lead the queen of spades from the dummy to repeat the finesse.

East couldn't gain by playing the king, and dummy's queen therefore held again. Dummy was in position to lead another trump for a third finesse, allowing declarer to draw all of the trumps. Nothing else was needed to assure the contract.

Declarer would have lost a trump trick if he had led the queen of spades from the dummy to begin the play of the trumps. East would play low. If South tried to avoid this by dropping the 10 of trumps on dummy's queen, East would cover the nine of spades with his king to make sure of a trump trick.

BYGONE DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1925.

Sherbrooke is suffering from an epidemic of house-breaking, the absence of many of the occupants at the exhibition easing the task of the day-light robbers.

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Lennoxville Branch of the Bible Society were: W. W. Baker, Miss M. O. Vaudry, W. H. Abbott, and C. J. Lane.

Dr. Hugo Eckener of the Zeppelin Company, has announced that he will not co-operate with Raoul Amundsen in any future Polar expeditions, having learned that the Swedish explorer was strongly anti-German during the Great War.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Saturday, Sept. 1, 1945.

W. H. Bradley, president of the Sherbrooke Library, recommended in the annual report that new quarters be found for the library since present accommodations are inadequate and unworthy of a city this size.

Labor Minister Mitchell disclosed today that Canadians are changing jobs at a rapid rate as the country's economy reverts to a peacetime basis. Some 1,300,000 workers have been placed in jobs by the National Employment Service during the last three months, but there are still 154,000 unfilled jobs in the country.

France is expected to buy nearly $900,000,000 worth of goods from the United States and perhaps half that amount from Canada as a result of economic agreements reported to have been confirmed during Gen. de Gaulle's visit to the two countries.

Hearing Of Magog Negligence Charge Set For September 8

Found responsible for the death of a three and a half year-old Magog boy by a coroner's jury shortly before noon yesterday, Aurelian Nadeau, of Magog, appeared before Justice of the Peace Jean-Marie Giguere yesterday afternoon charged with criminal negligence. His preliminary hearing was postponed until next Tuesday. He was released on a $1,500 property bail.

Yesterday's inquest into the death of Yves Buisson, whose father Ferdinand Buisson is a personnel officer for a Magog textile company, was held in the council chamber at City Hall. Over 100 Magog citizens attended the two hour inquest presided over by Dr. Charron Cabana, of Magog.

Twelve witnesses were called and three people testified they could see Nadeau's car hurtling through the air while they stood behind an eight foot cedar hedge. The three, Claude Vignault, Roger Choquette and Raymond Brault, were all at the Dominion Textile Tennis Club, on Merry street south, the night of August 20. Each said they heard a terrible noise and looked up to see the red and cream Studebaker sailing in the air. They were all standing behind the cedar hedge which partitions the club off from Merry street.

All rushed across the street to the scene of the accident and one went to the rescue of Laurent Martin, a passenger in Nadeau's car. He was lying fifty feet from the spot where the car had overturned onto the lawn of George Girard, a neighbour of the Buissons, who also was one of the members of the coroner's jury. The other two men rushed to Nadeau's side. Neither knew that a child had been hit by the car. Little Yves Buisson was hit while playing on the sidewalk and Nadeau's car skidded to a standstill 82 feet after striking the child. The total distance travelled by the car, according to the testimony of Constable Roland Creteau, was 390 feet.

Other witnesses testified they saw the car travelling at fast speed.

A taxi-driver, Henri Paul Couture, said he was travelling in the opposite direction to Nadeau shortly before the accident and stated that the car was going so fast it made him jump. He estimated speed at between 85-90 miles per hour. Laurent Martin, the 24 year-old passenger, estimated the speed at between 65-70 miles per hour. At this statement, the father of the victim yelled from the back of the room, "that's a pretty rough estimate."

At the start of the inquest, Carrier Fortin, who was representing Martin, asked that one juror be excused as he had a direct interest in the outcome. He was referring to George Girard, who had a portion of his lawn torn up in the accident.

Mr. Fortin, stated, "I have even heard it said that Girard stated, he would see that that he was one of those on the coroner's jury."

Dr. Cabana overruled the objection saying that Girard was sworn in and was obliged to render a verdict according to the evidence presented.

Roland Dugre acted for the Crown while Detective Guy Dupont was in charge of the investigation for the Provincial Police.

Senator Howard Improves Rapidly

Senator C. B. Howard, who was injured in a fall prior to the opening ceremonies at the Sherbrooke Fair, at which he was to have officiated, told the Record this morning that he is feeling much better today and expects to go home tomorrow.

In a telephone interview the Senator said his injured leg was placed in a cast this morning and Dr. Gordon Loomis, the attending physician, feels the possibility of an operation is now quite remote.

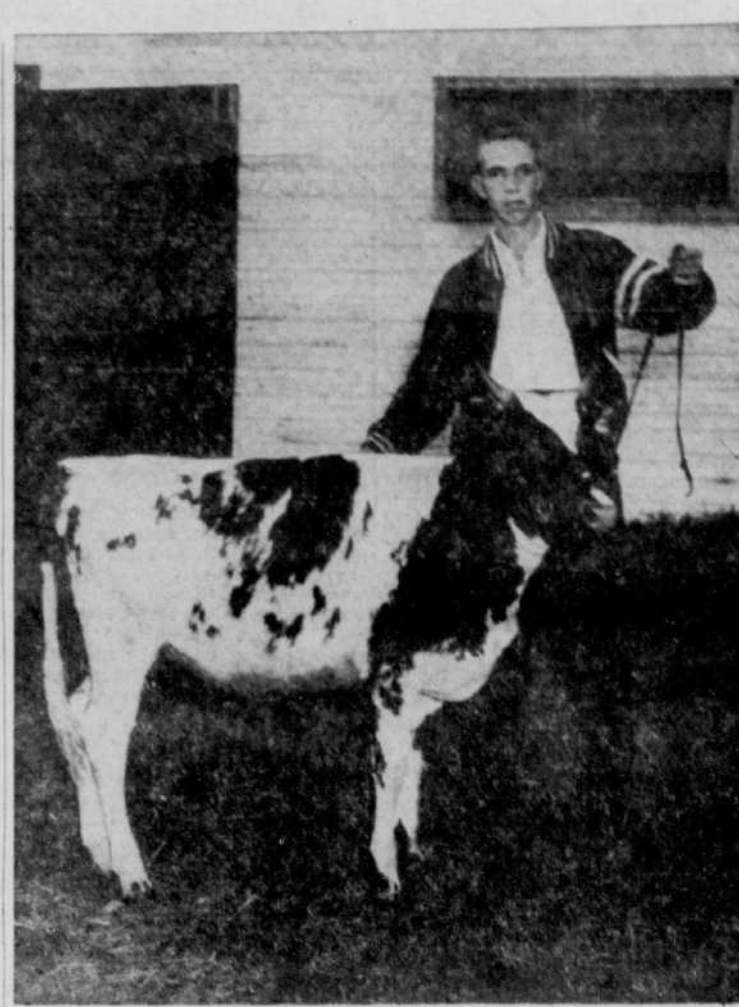

Senator Howard said he had experienced two painful days and nights, but was feeling remarkably well now. He expects to wear the cast on his right knee for at least three weeks.

SIX INJURED

At the start of the inquest, ture, of 195 Marquette St. A fourth accident case was admitted to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital at nine o'clock last night.

Nine-year-old Jacques St. Amant, of 30 Station St. Danville, was brought to hospital by his father, Gerard St. Amant, after the boy had fallen and broken his leg yesterday while playing at his home. His condition is not serious.

CALF CLUB WINNER Jack Ride, of Hatley, led the reserve junior champion registered Ayrshire cattle class at the Sherbrooke Fair. A member of the Hatley Calf Club, he had the grand champion calf of the club.

Dual Fines Imposed In Assault Case

Neal Smerdon of Capleton was ordered to pay a total of $75 in fines and costs on two counts by Judge Joseph Marier in Session Court this morning.

Smerdon appeared to change his plea of not guilty to one of guilty on a count of assaulting a police officer and a charge of dangerous driving. The judge ordered him to pay a fine of $50 on the dangerous driving count and $25 for assaulting Constable Grant Smith of the Lennoxville police with his fists. Smerdon's driving permit was revoked for three months.

It had been previously reported that Smith had been hit with a lead pipe or some other blunt instrument but apparently only fists had been used in the incident which occurred on Federal St., Sherbrooke several days ago.

Paul Gervais appeared for Smerdon.

Savers Of Homes Appeal For Help In Mercy Works

"Proceeds from tag days held every year during Fair Week, greatly aid in furthering our works of mercy," declared Rev. Mother Superior of the Little Sisters of the Assumption, who will again appeal to the generous public, on Friday and Saturday.

The Little Sisters of the Assumption are nursing sisters in homes of the workingman, specially trained to bring relief to the suffering poor without distinction of race, creed or color.

They operate centres on Fifteenth Ave., and Assumption St., where mothers bring their children for check-ups and medicine, and persons of all ages are treated for minor ailments and injuries. Several of the sisters are registered nurses and all are trained in First Aid.

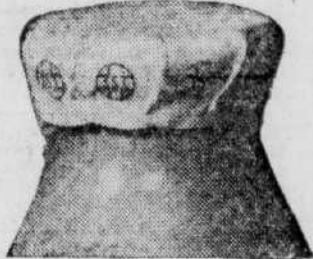

Women meet once a month in the conference room of the Gordon St. convent, where they are taught how to run a home and solve their common problems. The fathers meet in the evening, and occasional, instructive, and social evenings are arranged for all parents.

Their services are available only to those who cannot pay for help.

From the left are Vic Jobidon, a representative of General Mills (Canada) Ltd., which sponsored the contest, Miss Hebert, Mr. Pariseau, and Roland Filiault, a salesman for the company.

Crispy golden-brown croquettes deep fried in Jewel-

You've never had FISH so good!

JEWEL KEEPS FRIED FOODS SO DIGESTIBLE, TOO!

It's quick 'n easy to deep fry with Jewel. Economical too—use the Jewel fat again, and again.

Salmon Croquettes

Yield: 12 croquettes

JEWEL FOR FRYING
1 can (7 3/4 oz.) salmon
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
3 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon cayenne
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dip: 3/4 cup dried bread crumbs or cracker crumbs
1 egg, beaten

Combine all ingredients well. Shape into croquettes. Roll in fine crumbs, then in egg and again in crumbs. Heat Jewel slowly for frying in deep heavy saucepan to 375°F (cube of bread browns in 60 seconds). When you use pure, bland Jewel you can be sure your fried foods are really digestible. They're not greasy either, because you can cook them so quickly in Jewel. Make sure there's enough fat to cover croquettes completely. Remember, Jewel is homogenized and that means every spoonful is exactly right. Fry croquettes three at a time until golden brown, turning to brown all over. Notice how Jewel is completely odorless, keeps its color throughout the frying. Jewel won't take on any of the fish flavour either, so you can strain it, store it in the refrigerator and use it again to fry something else. Drain croquettes on absorbent paper. Serve piping hot. Frying temperature: 375°F. Frying Time: 2 to 3 minutes.

FRY IT RIGHT: FRY IT WITH JEWEL!

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, September 1st—Ever wanted to go abroad? Drive down to Mexico? Take a trip across Canada? These and other holiday plans... maybe ones you've been dreaming about for years... could really happen next year if you begin your planning now. Why not open a Sunshine Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL? Keep it separate from any other account, make regular savings payments into it, and almost before you know it—you'll be on your way! One of the surest ways I know of making vacation dreams come true is to run a B of M Sunshine Account—faithfully.

Can't Believe It!—Summer gone and school days crowding us! But—do remember what help GLIDE LIQUID STARCH can bring you—in making the youngsters' clothes look better, and wear longer. Glide adds to the whiteness of your washing—because of the blue in it. Makes your ironing much smoother—because there's wax in it. And you have all these advantages so easily. Just add water to Glide—hot or cold—that's all! Whether it's men's shirts—or table linens—fine curtains or house dresses, Glide makes the most wonderful difference! Buy it in the 32 oz. bottle—or the 64 oz. giant economy size. You'll like it!

Ask Your Doctor... to advise you which type of FARMER'S WIFE formula milk is the right one for your own baby. Maybe it's Whole Milk (No. 1) or Partly Skimmed Milk (No. 2) or Skimmed Milk (No. 3). You'll like the way Farmer's Wife tins are so easy to open—and Baby will thrive on the specially prepared milk—so full of protein and all the body-building elements. It was a group of pediatricians who requested Cow & Gate to create the Partly Skimmed Milk formula—because this is a low-fat, high-protein concentrated milk, with Vitamin D content increased. Ask about it today!

Impossible! ... It can't be September 1st already! That means pickling and preserving 'round the corner—with inevitable cuts and scratches—and with the youngsters back to school more rough and tumble at recess—and still more cuts and scratches! High time to lay in a good supply of ever-useful CURAD Plastic Bandages—ready for any emergency. Curad bandages have a wonderful, new "Stick-Quick" adhesive—and a new polyethylene facing that whisks off clean! They're made with an exclusive new medication... the germ-killer is right in the pad! Curad are completely waterproof—won't curl or fray. They're really tops!

Be Wise! Make a resolution to use ARRID, the creamy deodorant, just as regularly during Fall and Winter, as through the Summer! Personal daintiness is even more important in the weeks ahead when we move indoors. Arrid contains Perstop—the really effective, exclusive new ingredient that makes this such a safe deodorant... guaranteed not to dry out in the jar. You can be certain—sure of freshness for 1 to 3 days, with Arrid. It deodorizes instantly and saves your clothes from perspiration stains. More Canadians use Arrid than any other deodorant! Get a jar today—at only 53¢—to be sure!

A Baby's Puzzlement... over the first taste of solid food soon disappears into delight when you start him off with AYLMEY Strained Bartlett Pears. They're really ideal for that all-important change in food... for Aylmey Strained Bartlett Pears contain only fully-ripe pears—extra finely strained—with just a little sugar added. Baby will like the light, delicate flavor... and these early meals which can be so troublesome—will prove to be happy moments for you both! Do order some tins today—and start your baby on this enjoyment!

There Must Be A Reason... why there are so many families turning to INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE—and serving it all the time! That energetic little man, Mr. Chase, is always eager to give one reason—"My matchless brewing! We've got 100 years experience behind the secrets of Chase & Sanborn Brewing!"... Mr. Sanborn, the tall and gentle, protests with deep belief. "It's the top quality beans! Can't do anything more important than buy the best beans there are!"... Both their reasons add up to the fact that you'll get the richest, most satisfying cup of good coffee when you use this famous Instant—Thanks Mr. Chase and Mr. Sanborn!

Brome County's Big 4-Day Fair Opens This Saturday

Expect New Record For Show Entries In 99th Annual Fair

By HUGH DOHERTY

Brome Village — This sleepy little village, nestled among the hills near Brome Lake, will be bright and bustling for the opening of the 99th annual fair of the Brome County Agricultural Society at the fairgrounds here on Saturday.

One of the largest fairs in the Eastern Townships series of fall fairs and exhibitions, the Brome County show runs four days — Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The Brome County Horticultural Society, well-known throughout the Eastern Townships as one of the largest horticultural societies in the district, will hold their annual exhibition in conjunction with the fair.

Secretary-treasurer of the societies, George McClay, says that entries are well above last year's figures in all departments. He says that by opening day Saturday, he expects that a new record will be set for entries at the Brome Fair, and with good weather, indicates that large crowds are expected to attend the four-day exhibition.

A new feature of the fair this year will be a gala horse show to be held on the track in front of the grandstand Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Consisting of 15 classes, this show has attracted some of the best show horses in the Eastern Townships, adding lustre to the sterling reputation of this fair. Judge for the show will be Alexander Rochon of Montreal, while the ringmaster will be

George Rodgeron of Knowlton.

The T. Greene midway, with an exciting galaxy of midway rides and colorful concessions will be in full operation Saturday morning, and will continue until Tuesday evening.

A full card of harness racing has been planned for Saturday, Monday and Tuesday afternoons, when two races will be run off on the track each afternoon. Purse for each race will be $300. Grand parades of cattle and horses will be held on the track Sunday and Monday afternoon.

For added enjoyment, the Gastoni Stage Attractions troupe will give performances for the first three days of the fair. Well-known around the fair circuit, the troupe consists of such acts as the Three Skating Corbimis, Doris and her dog pals, the Great Al, juggling artist, and Pat Anthony's wild animal act.

The main building of the society will be jam-packed with an interesting display of industrial and commercial articles. Music for the duration of the fair will be provided by the Knowlton High School band under the direction of Prof. Harry Long.

Judging in all departments, including the Horticultural Department, is expected to get underway on Saturday, and will probably be completed by Monday evening. Judges for the various classes will be as follows: Swine, W. W. I. Nichol, Lennoxville; beef, J. P. McKeller, Dorion; Ayrshires, A. E. McArthur, Howick; Holstein, Prof. A. R. Ness, Macdonald College; poultry, Lucien Crevier, Howick; horses, Alexander Rochon, Montreal; Jerseys, Robert McKinven, Waterville; sheep, W. G. MacDougall, Sherbrooke; Canadians, A. Edoin, Bedford. The sound system will be provided free by the Imperial Tobacco Co., of Montreal.

Clayton Persons Is Perennial Winner In Sheep Class

Proves Small Exhibitors Can Still Compete Successfully At ET Fairs

Sweetsburg — Although the day of the small exhibitor is fast waning at the Eastern Townships fall fairs and exhibitions, one independent sheep breeder near here is still beating the monied crowd.

Clayton Persons, 35, is an Oxford Downs sheep breeder from way back, and now one of the best in the Eastern Townships, where Oxford Downs are a comparatively unknown breed. He started when he was about 18 years old, buying sheep on shares with Dr. W. Boyd of Cowansville. The doctor lent him ewes for breeding purposes, and let him keep one-half of all the lambs he raised. In this way, Persons built up his own flock, which now numbers about 27.

He's been showing at the Brome Fair for at least the past 15 years, the sheep-breeder estimates, building up his flock by buying good rams in Sherbrooke, Ontario and the surrounding vicinity. This year, he plans to take eight of his sheep to the Brome Fair, which opens Saturday, and continues Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

He says that sheep-raising is not particularly difficult, but it does pose its own special problems. The biggest problem, says Persons, comes around March and April, when the ewes give birth to new lambs. "Lambs are completely helpless when they are born," says Persons, "and we have to nurse them along with bottles and blankets."

"For some reason, the mothers are curiously dumb at this time, if they are lambing for the first time. They don't seem to know their own children," the sheep-breeder laughs, "and won't have anything to do with them." He has to resort to all sorts of tricks to get the mothers to "own" their young 'uns.

Since sheep identify things purely by smell, sometimes the breeder will dip the lamb in kerosene, or rub it against its mother. This establishes some sort of kinship, between the two, and things are usually alright after this. If this trick doesn't work, then Persons may try bringing the lamb up with a goat mother. "The goats make better mothers than the ewes," he claims.

Persons, who took over his 112 acre farm some four miles from here two years ago from his father, E. H. Persons, says that the Oxford Downs are superior wool bearers because of their large bodies. They bear fine wool as opposed to the coarse wool of the more popular Leicester sheep. "It sells for about 45 cents a pound," he says.

The sheep-breeder explains that his sheep this year are in better shape than last year because of the dry warm spell, followed by the recent rain. He's the only exhibitor at Brome in the Oxford class, and so sweeps the department. However, in competition for special prize with all other breeds at the fair, he takes a large share of the blue ribbons, demonstrating that his Oxford Downs are fine sheep indeed.

Irishman From Argentina To Show Jerseys At Brome

Newcomer Has High Hopes Of Taking Home Share Of Blue Ribbons From Brome Fair

Foster — A flame-headed Dublin-born Irishman, who lived 25 years in Argentina and speaks fluent Spanish, came to Canada three months ago, determined that when "in Rome," he would "do as the Romans do."

The 410-acre Meadowbank Farm, some three miles from here, is his "Rome" now, along with 80 head of a breed of cattle he's never had to deal with before — sleek Jerseys.

In the Argentine, where Godfrey Patten, his wife, and their three daughters lived until last June, Patten raised some 275 head of Holsteins on a spacious 1,000 acre farm there. There were no winters, and thus no barns in which cattle had to be housed. Although reluctant to go into the subject, Patten indicated that dairy cattle breeding methods in Argentina differed vastly from those in Canada.

He bought Meadowbank from the Eden family in July, and as he put it, "I have to raise Jerseys now because the Jerseys came with the farm." However, the herd is one of the best in Brome County, and Patten has no qualms about taking them to the Brome Fair this year, which starts Saturday, and continues Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. But he's never been to a regional fair before.

"In Argentina," he explains, "they have huge national and international fairs, much bigger than anything I've heard of in the Eastern Townships. They are held in such centres as Buenos Aires."

Patten says that he intends to make Meadowbank his permanent home, and though he would not comment on conditions in Argentina, said that he likes Canada very much. He's determined, too, to become a "Canadian" cattle breeder in every sense of the word. "I won't use Argentinian methods of breeding here," he says, "because I didn't come here to teach Canadians how to raise cattle. I came to learn their method of doing it, and that's what I'm beginning to learn."

Farm foreman, Victor Hadd, has been with the farm for three years, and is well-used to the ways of Canadian breeding, and Eastern Townships Fairs. He'll do all the showing at Brome, and wherever else the Meadowbank Jerseys will go.

Patten is looking forward eagerly to Canadian living. "I've never seen a Canadian winter before," he laughs, "but I think it's something to look forward to."

JERSEYS FOR ARGENTINIAN — Shown above is part of the Jersey herd of Godfrey Patten, a resident for the past 25 years of Argentina, where he raised Holsteins by methods which he terms vastly different from Canadian methods. Patten, who bought the Eden Farm, Meadowbank, near Foster last July, will be taking some of his prize Jerseys to the Brome Fair, which opens at Brome Saturday and continues Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. Nashua Wipes Out Kentucky Derby Defeat Beating Swaps

Scores 6 1/2-Length Triumph To Avenge His Only Loss; Earnings Jump To $689,700 For Nine Wins In Ten Starts

Chicago — (AP) — It took Nashua three months and 24 days to catch up with Swaps — then brutally beat him to avenge his Kentucky Derby loss.

The powerful, mahogany bay, pride of the east, met the California-bred Swaps under neutral conditions Wednesday at Washington Park and scored a brilliant 6 1/2-length triumph in one of the greatest match races ever run.

It was a thorough trouncing at 1 1/4 miles under equal weights of 126 pounds, the same as the Kentucky Derby when Swaps brushed off favored Nashua's midstretch challenge and swept to a 1 1/2-length victory.

The $100,000 winner-take-all showdown, first of its kind since Armed beat Assault and jockey Eddie Arcaro by eight lengths for the same jackpot at Belmont in 1947, undoubtedly cinched three-year-old honors and probably the "horse of the year" award for Nashua's handsome son, owned by William Woodward Jr., of New York.

This sweet revenge, accomplished under the sting of Arcaro's whip that spurred Nashua to a never-headed lead from the barrier, gave the colt his ninth victory in 10 starts this year.

Arcaro said he "hit Nashua so hard" he thought he "set his flank on fire." He added that Nashua "did everything I asked him to do, including take the lead."

Willie Shoemaker, the losing jockey, said that "Swaps tried, but just couldn't get there."

The $100,000 pot pushed Nashua's earnings to $689,700 as a sophomore. He collected $192, 865 in winning six out of eight starts to take juvenile honors last year. The total of $882,565 left him third behind Styrim and Citation on the all-time money list.

Nashua led at every pole after accelerating ahead under Arcaro and the whip. Swaps, who never had felt the sting of Willie Shoemaker's bat for desired speed, was bitten by it at the head of the stretch but Nashua gradually drew away. The closest Swaps got after the clubhouse turn was one-half length with six furlongs gone.

Nashua's winning time on a track termed as "good" was 2:04 1/5.

He went off at 6-5 and returned $4.40 to his screaming backers in a crowd of 35,262. There was pari-mutuel win betting only.

Swaps received 1-5 backing. The winning pool was $174,737, with $107,359 going on Swaps and $67,378 on Nashua.

Mary G. Herbert And Advocate To Clash In Main Feature; Post Time Advanced To 1:30; 9 Races On Tap

Mary G. Herbert, Adalard Dumas' top pacer, goes to the wire this afternoon in the main event on the nine-class racing card at Sherbrooke Fair. The little mare will be gunning for her tenth win of the season but will run into tough opposition. Post time has been advanced to 1:30.

The main feature will bring together five of the top pacers in these parts. Amedee Beaudoin will be out with Direct Harvester, Dr. Charles Taylor will also be on hand teaming Direct Song and both these horses can be considered as serious contenders for the major share of the purse.

Fabi's entry of Stewart's Sister is also in the class and Luc Hucksins will be at the reins. Advocate, who upset the Dumas mare last Sunday afternoon to win the major share of the money when he finished first and second, is one entry that will have to be watched. F. St. Denis will be handling the outsider and no doubt Mary G. Herbert and the rest of the field will have to give special consideration to the St. Gedeon horse.

On Sunday they toured the oval in 2:08 4/5 with Mary G. Herbert setting the pace and this afternoon another fast time is expected with the track in top shape. Besides the Handicap Pace seven other races are on the agenda.

The daily double paid the high of the card yesterday when the sum of $52.75 was collected. In the first quinella $13.75 went to the winners with $7.85 in the second. In the ninth race a dead heat was declared by the judges when Ramuntcho and Jennie Frisco A crossed the wire deadlocked. The pari-mutuels paid off on both horses making one quinella $14.00 and $3.65.

The list of today's starters follows:

Phillies Edge Indians 2-1, 3-2; Miners Here In Twinbill Tonight; "Merchants' Night" To Be Held

Sherbrooke Indians dropped two close decisions last night to the Phillies of Three Rivers, 2-1, 3-2. This evening the locals will be hosts to the Miners of Thetford in a doubleheader at the Municipal Stadium commencing at 6:30.

In the other games St. Johns, with the Provincial League pennant safely tucked away, pulled further away from Quebec as the Braves dropped two to Burlington. The Canadiens were upset by Thetford 6-3 while the A's posted 2-1 and 6-4 decisions. Merl Beatty and Dick Mitchener are selected for the hurling duties this evening.

Joe Reiken held the clubmates to eight hits as his club mates reached Dick Lenoue for 11 safeties. The miners opened with two runs, added two more in the fifth and one each in the sixth and eighth.

Dick Greco of Thetford Mines got his season's 22nd homer, in the first inning with one man aboard.

Quebec lost their first game as the Athletics scored two runs in the fifth inning and made them stand up for the win. Rudy Fortin was tagged for the loss while Hale pitched the distance for the Burlington Victory.

The Athletics came from behind for the win in the second game after trailing 3-1 for the first four innings. Starting pitcher Mike Munsinger, relieved in the ninth, was credited with the win. Wendell Doss was the loser.

Roman Semproch earned his fifth win against as many losses with a three-hit performance in the Phillies' 2-1 triumph over Sherbrooke. Four Indians errors helped the Trois-Rivieres cause. Low Aspiril, who gave up five hits, absorbed the loss. The second game saw Trois-Rivieres bring in two runs in the fifth inning and add the winning run in the eighth. Roger Amodio and Gerry Kolod were the winning and losing hurlers respectively. The Indians outthit the home crew 10-6 but couldn't bring their batters in.

New York — (P) — Soldier Joey Giambra's fine showing in his nontitle fight with middleweight champion Carl Bobo Olson has moved the former contender from Buffalo, N. Y., back into the middleweight picture.

The 24-year-old fighter was ranked as the fourth contender until he went into the army, but was dropped from the ratings while he was inactive. Now he has been restored to a No. 8 berth for his strong but losing effort against Olson last Friday night.

Several other shifts have been made in the middleweight division and other minor ones in other classes in the latest rankings released today by Ring magazine, the boxing monthly.

Quebec Junior League Disbands

Montreal — (P) — The Quebec Junior Hockey League, founded 67 years ago, decided Wednesday to cease operations.

The once powerful loop was left with only two teams — Montreal Canadiens and Quebec Frontenacs — when Trois-Rivieres decided recently to move into the professional Quebec Hockey League.

Quebec Frontenacs are expected to enter the Quebec City Junior League. Montreal Canadiens may play exhibition games until it is time to challenge for the Memorial Cup.

Jackson Stops Ezzard Charles

Cleveland — (P) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, pounding Ezzard Charles into helplessness in the 10th round, blasted the game ex-heavyweight champ from the comeback trail Wednesday night, winning his second unanimous decision from Charles in less than a month.

Jackson, who had danced around the smooth stylist Charles for nine rounds, absorbing his hardest blows, broke loose in the 10th. He blasted Charles from corner to corner, but the ex-champ stayed on his feet to the end.

On Aug. 3, in Syracuse, N.Y., the 24-year-old Jackson also tied Charles out and overcame the 34-year-old ex-champ's early lead.

Chances are you get a "helping" of aluminum as part of your daily diet. Most cities use aluminum sulphate to purify the water from lakes and rivers. Oshawa, for instance, has used it for this purpose for 35 years.

Usually, however, aluminum is associated with the outside of foods. In cooking utensils, cups and frozen food containers—in wrappings for cakes and candy and roasts and left-overs—in bottle tops and hoods—aluminum helps keep what we eat and drink fresh and pure and wholesome.
