S.N.C. Dances Indicate Rise In Popularity

Miss Mary Kerwin, treasurer for Saturday Nite Club executive produced facts and figures at last Monday's meeting indicating an increase in popularity for the S.N.C. Dances with our young people. Nearly one hundred young folk from the 'Y' senior division expressed delight with the sweet and rhythmic tunes of John Pepper and his new musical ensemble. The committee expects this week's dance to be bigger than ever.

Following the meeting, Miss Lillian Goode announced final plans for the Winter Semi-Formal being held December 14th. Tickets will be available from all committee members. Miss Ruth Garland and John Pitblado are covering the publicity, Misses Mary and Ruth Kervin will be in charge of refreshments.

Westmounters Hear Lecture On Dog Training

A demonstration of proper ways of training a dog was given Monday night by Miss Blanche Saunders of New York, author of the book "Training You to Train Your Dog," and one of the leading dog trainers of the United States.

Sponsored by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the lecture was given at Victoria Hall, Westmount, and attracted approximately 700 interested citizens, mostly from Westmount.

Two films were shown on dog training, both photographed by Miss Louise Branch, who assisted in the night's demonstration. Also present was Champion Carillon Jester, a two-year-old poodle, who was introduced as an example of a dog with advanced training.

Basic Obedience Training of which Miss Saunders is one of the leading teachers, comprises 14 steps, including heeling and sitting, coming when called, lying down, staying upon command, dropping in the distance and jumping. The system was officially accepted by the American Kennel Club in 1936.

Rotarians Hear American Consul

Westmount Rotarians were given a very clear picture of life in Singapore and the Malay States by Charles C. Thompson, American Consul, at their regular Wednesday luncheon in Victoria Hall.

Mr. Thompson, who was attached to the American Embassy in Singapore, succeeded in leaving only three days before the city fell to the Japs, gave the Rotarians an interesting description of pre-war life in that city, including some humorous happenings arising from the very different way of life in that part of the world.

The Rotarians were very fortunate in securing Mr. Thompson as guest speaker for he has been assigned to Calcutta, India, and will be leaving Montreal shortly.

VISCOUNT ALEXANDER

Who is shown wearing the Canadian Legion beret and blazer with which he was presented during sessions of the Dominion Council of the Canadian Legion of which the Governor-General is Grand Patron. The presentation was made by Major-General C. B. Price, Dominion President, 64 Forden Crescent, Westmount. The dark blue blazer is embroidered in gold thread with the Legion's crest.

Business Association Celebrates Anniversary

The Business Association of Westmount held their Eighth Birthday Anniversary Celebration of the founding of the Association in Victoria Hall on Wednesday evening. President Don Ross introduced the distinguished guests at the head table and made a few introductory remarks. His Worship Mayor Adams spoke briefly, followed by C. S. Madill, President of the Westmount Municipal Association, both of whom congratulated the Business Association on the work they have done for Westmount Businesses.

Mayor Adams drew the lucky numbers for the door prizes presented by the members of the Association.

W. Boyd Robson introduced the guest speaker, Douglas Walkington of the Chemical Research Division of Canadian Industries Limited, who gave an interesting and instructive address on the peace-time uses for many of the important discoveries which research chemists and scientists made during the war years. Mr. Walkington illustrated his subject with many of the actual articles which will be marketed in the not too distant future.

Following the address, those

Tuberculosis As It Applies To Westm't

(This is the second in a series of articles written by Les Morrow, in conjunction with Dr. J. J. Day, of the Westmount Health Department, to bring before the people of Westmount, the truth about Tuberculosis in Westmount, and the responsibility that every citizen has to himself or herself and the community in the prevention and cure of this disease.)

In last week's article it was pointed out that Tuberculosis, striking at all economic levels here in Westmount bringing with it financial, and family ills, makes it a problem, to which each Westmounter should give his or her personal attention.

The natural question is, therefore, "What can and should be done about Tuberculosis?"

Before medical authorities can successfully treat any disease it is necessary to have some way of recognizing the disease. In the case of T.B. we are fortunate in having an easy simple way of finding it, which is by means of Chest X-Ray. In fact, it is the only way of finding Minimal Tuberculosis (first stages of the disease). It has been found that Chest X-Ray will show the disease from 6 months to one year before the patient will recognize any symptoms.

This is the stage at which the disease should be caught, for if T.B. is found in this period, recovery is sure and if any time is lost from work it is held to a minimum.

In recognition of this fact that X-Ray will detect and through that, eliminate the disease, the Westmount Health Department has established an X-Ray clinic in Victoria Hall, which is open from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. every Friday. This location and time, it is felt, put the service within reach of everyone in the community. The procedure is very simple and takes only a few minutes as it consists solely of having an X-Ray taken. In order that the time required for each patient may be cut to a minimum and thus avoid any waiting, the Health Department suggests that residents call and make an appointment. There is a charge of $2.00 for those who can afford it.

Thus through its Health Department, Westmount has made available to its residents X-Ray facilities, so that there is no reason why every person in the city cannot avail themselves of this opportunity, and be sure that they are free from the dread T.B.

The sooner this disease is discovered the simpler and surer the cure. With the means of detection so simple for a disease so dread, there is no excuse for any individual taking a chance on having contracted the disease, when, by using a few minutes of his or her time, he may be positive that he is free from T.B. in even its earliest stages.

Next week's article will deal with Chest X-Ray procedure.

Fire Chief Warns Against Christmas Fire Hazards

It may be a little early to go into a discussion on Christmas trees and Christmas decorations, but so many people have been injured by fires caused by improper light connections, lighted candles, and inflammable decorations, that Westmount Fire Chief Cobb has issued a special warning to residents to take care in planning and putting up their Christmas trimmings.

First of all, the Christmas tree itself is a fire hazard and once ignited will burn fiercely, so that ash-trays and lighted candles should not be placed near the tree. Further Chief Cobb warns, do not place the tree near the fire-place.

Special care should be taken* also when installing Christmas tree lights, to see that there are no flaws, or worn parts on the wire and that there are no faulty connections.

As a hint how to keep your tree greener and make it last longer without shedding its needles, and at the same time reduce the fire hazard, Chief Cobb recommends placing the base of the tree in a bucket of water.

When putting up any decorations which will burn, such as paper bells, etc., care should be exercised to see that they are placed high enough so there is no danger of them being ignited by a lighted cigarette or candle.

When Christmas is over, Chief Cobb continues, do not store wrapping paper, Christmas trees, etc., in the basement as this presents an additional fire hazard. Do not try to burn your tree in stove, furnace or fireplace, because the Fire Chief points out, this constitutes one of Westmount's biggest hazards, since it overheats pipes and flues and results, in many cases, in heat damage if not in a fire.

A few additional precautions, suggested by the Chief, now that fall is here, are examine smoke pipes for holes, and have them repaired; check your basement for any rubbish, paper, etc., that is stored near the furnace; and have partitions in the basement protected with fire-proof material.

In an endeavour to reduce fire loss, the Westmount Fire Department will co-operate in reducing fire hazard around any home in the City, if the resident will call the department, Chief Cobb concluded.

Hon. A. Godbout Gives Address To Liberals

At the third regular meeting of the Westmount Young Liberals' Association, the leader of the Liberal party in Quebec, and leader of the opposition at Quebec, the Hon. Adelard Godbout addressed a large group of young liberals.

Discussing the true meaning of Liberalism; he quoted the first great leader of the Canadian Liberal Party, Sir Wilfrid Laurier: "The principle of Liberalism is inherent in the very essence of our nature, in that desire for happiness from which we are all born into the world, which pursues us throughout life, and which is never completely gratified on this side of the grave. Our souls are immortal, but our means limited. We constantly strive toward an ideal which we can never attain. We dream of the good, but we never realize the best. We only reach the goal we have set for ourselves, to discover new horizons opening up, which we had not before even suspected. We rush on toward them, and these horizons, explored in their turn, reveal to us others which lead us on ever further and further."

"Liberalism" he continued, "saved Canada from disaster in 1939. Only Liberalism can save Canada from stagnation after the war, and keep our country on the road of progress and happiness."

The former Quebec Premier added that the Liberals in Quebec have always been in the forefront for educational reform and expansion, noting that it was the Liberal government of which he was head that had introduced compulsory education in this province.

The Hon. D. C. Abbott also addressed the young men for a few minutes, and said that while the Liberal party was as interested as any party in preserving provincial rights, he felt that in certain forms of taxation, there should be a certain amount of centralization to avoid duplication. This, he felt, would in no way infringe upon provincial autonomy.

Mr. George Marler, who added a few words at the end of the meeting, charged the Union Nationale as using the provincial autonomy red herring as a subterfuge to "cloak its own inefficiencies" and in the mistaken belief that the separate political divisions of the country can be run like watertight compartments.

Senator A. K. Hugesen was also at the meeting, and Bill Macdonald, president of the organization, presided, and introduced the speakers.

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

Thirty-five Cubs were present for the weekly meeting of Trinity Pack Monday week last with Sixer Eddie Smith of the Brown Six leading the Grand Howl. Inspection, games and a 2nd star Message test followed, with those qualified passing the test and the remainder getting in some much needed practice. During Instruction, the following tests were passed: Compass, Milton Dorman; National Anthem, Arthur Chesmer; Cleaning Boots, Michael McLearn; Folding Clothes, Milton Dorman, Maitland Hannaford, Carlton Moody and Bob Turnbull; Message, Maitland Hannaford, Carlton Moody, Bob Turnbull and Bob Mantelow; Skipping, Ronnie Anderson and Dick Christensen.

Dennis Heathcote, Sixer of the Red Six, was presented with Swimmer Badge and Baloo announced the Green Six were winning the monthly competition thus far. Lord's Prayer and the Grand Howl closed the meeting. Akela Darrel Bedford, Baloo Kay Mitchell, Sixers Eddie Smith, Mike McLearn and Charles Anrum, all visited Montreal West Pack last Friday night, having a wonderful time.

V. O. West Honoured

V. O. West, Honorary District Commissioner for Western Area, a post which he held for five years, and now Commissioner of Training for Montreal, was honoured for his lengthy service to the Movement at a special meeting held in Western Area Scout Headquarters Tuesday evening. Many notable Scout officials were present for the occasion, when a lovely gift for his home was presented to Mr. West on behalf of all those in the area for his untiring efforts while he was Commissioner.

Rovering Revival

Now that the war is over, and the demands of the Armed Forces are no longer affecting the future of fellows of Rover age, it is felt that the time has come to round out the Scouting program so that Rovering should again become the objective of each Scout Group. For the older boys, the Senior Scout activities fill a very definite need, but they are not acceptable to those of 17½ years and over. It is felt that Rovering is most certainly the answer to the problem of finding a suitable outlet for their interests.

With this thought in mind, a temporary committee has been formed from amongst the members of pre-war crews, under the chairmanship of Allan B. Strong, who is well known to all former Rovers. So that you, too, may have a share in getting Rovering off to a good start, a Smoker and Reunion has been arranged, to be held in Boy Scout Headquarters, 1523 Bishop Street, on Wednesday, the 11th of December, 1946, at 8 p.m.

This Smoker will serve a double purpose, not only will it be a "Welcome Home" to those who served in the Forces, but on this evening, it is hoped to form two committees, one to work on a Rover program to be submitted later to the powers-that-be, and another to promote the social side of Rovering in our community. Come along and enjoy the evening, renew old friendships and make new ones; and after talking over the times you used to have, we can make plans to put Rovering where it belongs, right up in front, where Scouting is concerned in this District.

Should you know of anyone interested, either in your Group or former Rovers who are not on the lists, please bring them along to help make the "Smoker" an evening to be remembered for a long time to come.

Registration

Headquarters announce a new policy, which is at present in effect all through North America, except the Province of Quebec. In future, all Scouts, Cubs, Sea Scouts, Senior Scouts and Rover Scouts must be registered with Headquarters. The charge will be 50c for Scouts, Sea Scouts, Senior Scouts and Rover Scouts and 25c for Wolf Cubs. Scouters do not pay unless they are also Rover Scouts. A registration card will be issued to every person so registered, thus giving you some sort of identification.

Major-General Spry, Chief Executive Commissioner for Canada, told the Scouters' Club of Montreal Wednesday week last that soon a Scout would have to have Bushman's Thong to qualify for King's Scout Badge.

Roslyn News

By Douglas Turner and Donald Wilkie

Health: The school nurse and our Gym teacher, Miss Spencer, have been examining the pupils for good posture. The children whose condition is not up to par were given exercises to do at home.

Reports: Most of the classes are having exams for their reports now. The reports will come out at the end of the month or the beginning of the next month. We all hope that the results are good.

Arithmetic Exams: A man has been coming in and giving us Arithmetic tests just to see how good we are. For most people they are not exactly hard nor easy. We think that he comes from the School Board but we are not quite sure.

On Friday morning in Room 19, about 10.30, the class was startled by a loud noise like an air raid siren. It was a brown cocker spaniel. It had been in the classroom all morning unnoticed. It was very startling to hear it yawn.

Basketball: On Tuesday, Nov. 19, the Iroquois played the Dog-

Ribs. Torrey scored the first basket making it 2-0 for the Dog-Ribs. Acer on the Iroquois tried for a penalty shot but missed. Greenwood also on the Iroquois had tried a shot but missed Thompson on the Dog-Ribs had a chance to get a point but failed. Torrey also on the Dog-Ribs tried to get a point but the ball rolled around the edge of the basket and fell off. About five minutes late he scored making it 4-0 for the Dog-Ribs. Thompson got 1 point for the Dog-Ribs. The final score was 6-0 for the Dog-Ribs.

In the Thursday game Mohawks beat Iroquois 18-3. The scorers were Southward, Drummond and Baillie for Mohawks, and Acer and Grimson for Iroquois.

We are pleased to note that the boards for the hockey rink are being erected in the school yard.

Sale of Red Cross calendars starts today. Two thousand have been received and it is expected that all will be sold.

RIGHT ANSWER

Director George Marshall got a big laugh out of the retort of an extra for whom he demonstrated just how he wanted a bit of business played in Paramount's "Perils of Pauline." "Mister, if I could act like that I'd hire me an agent," the extra said.

Westmount Highlights

Wright Balfour takes over for the ever-indolent George Cochrane this week. Wright used to work with George down at The Herald before he transferred to British United Press. He's now free lancing.

George Cochrane asked me to do another column for him, so here it is:

The other day I got hold of one of the history books used by the pupils of Roslyn School. I think this book represented their first curricular taste of Canadian history. I think, that, through this book, they were receiving their first impressions of the country in which they were going to spend their lives. It was something that was going to form their opinion of their country and of themselves as a group. I don't remember the title of the book, but I do remember some of my impressions of its contents.

To condense my impressions, it will be necessary to say only that the contents seemed nothing short of horrible.

To illustrate: They had a reproduction of a photograph of Montreal which, according to the caption, was supposed to show Montreal as the city today. As God's my witness, it showed Mount Royal rearing its head above as beautiful a collection of trees as I have ever seen. There were, of course, a few small buildings showing here and there through the greenery, but the general impression of this metropolis was that the district would be a fine place in which to do a bit of deer hunting.

I thumbed through the whole book and found that, according to the illustrations, Canada was a place devoted to trapping, camping out, log rolling, cutting through certain wildernesses, converting Indians and taming buffalo.

Why can't you high school people form a group dedicated to the purpose of passing judgment upon the quality of material used in the books of the junior grades? If you made yourselves strong enough and make your voice heard clearly enough, you could root out all the ancient plates which those school book publishers have had lying around their composing rooms for the past century.

I can see no reason why publishing houses should be allowed to get away with such gross negligence in its duties towards the youth of the country.

There is no reason why you high school people shouldn't have a voice in the selection of pictorial material intended for your own school books.

Just to give you an idea how awful the book was, I'll tell you how my cat reacted to it. I showed the book. He set aside his volume of Don Marquis, which he was perusing, took one look at the history book, let out a horrible scream, clumbed partway up the wall and fell in a dead faint. He is now recuperating in the Westmount Animal Hospital.

So much for the subversive history books. But don't forget about my cat.

You all know that George Cochrane is quite a wit. On the day of the Santa Claus parade, we were standing on the curb watching the cold people on the floats. Just as Santa Claus went by on his sleigh, the sun began to grow pale and dim as the moon cut off a sizeable portion of its light. George unfastened his eyes from Santa Claus, unhooked his teeth from his briar pipe and gazed up at the eclipse. "Look," he said, "I'll bet Brock Chisholm arranged that."

I was amused to see reports in the local press about some kind of argument between the University of Brit. Columbia and some prairie institute of learning. It seems that the cow country college said the U.B.C. gals were atrocious-looking and the U.B.C. gals were trying to prove otherwise, or something. I then got to thinking about the situation in the high schools of the country. I would be willing

Use Closing Days Of 'Y' Campaign To Advantage Canvassers Urged

With only a few days left in which to complete their canvass and reach their objective, canvassers in the Y.M.C.A. annual maintenance campaign for $140,000 were today urged to still greater efforts by H. M. Mawhinney, general campaign chairman. The closing dinner of the campaign will be held on Monday.

"In districts such as Notre Dame de Grace, Verdun, and Westmount, where 'Y' branch facilities have existed for a great many years, the work of the association is pretty well known and your job as canvassers in such territories becomes primarily one of making sure that the campaign is called to the attention of everyone and everyone is given the opportunity to contribute," Mr. Mawhinney said. "There is other work carried on by these and other branches," he added, "with which the public is not so familiar, however."

"I refer to the work which is undertaken by the 'Y' in suburban areas where no association facilities exist and where there is scant opportunity for organized recreation for youth. There are the districts of Point St. Charles, Montreal East, Maisonneuve, Hochelaga, Pointe aux Trembles, and others, where the Y.M.C.A. co-operates with the churches, the schools, or with private citizens in providing a wholesome outlet for youthful energy.

"The work in territories such as this has increased this year and that is one reason why we must all be sure that this campaign doesn't fall one cent below its objective.

Other "Y"'s

"I wonder how many of the people upon whom you call know about the Gra-Y and the C-Y. These are the organizations which by their very names indicate the work being done in co-operation with grade schools and churches. Schools and church halls provide the meeting places. Teachers and ministers lend their active assistance, and the 'Y' provides the leadership and guidance. To me this is one of the most thrilling and dramatic phases of all Y.M.C.A. work, and it is the phase about which the public knows least."

The final report luncheon of the campaign will be held on Friday by which time it is hoped the meeting of the objective will be in sight. At a report luncheon earlier this week, T. Denton Lewis, hon. treasurer of the "Y" heard workers report receipt of $83,718 or 59 per cent of the $140,000 objective. At that stage the Southwestern and Northwestern divisions, representing Verdun and Notre Dame de Grace were running almost neck and neck with 80 and 78 per cent of their respective objectives. Westmount was lagging with 41 per cent but reports indicated that the major results of the campaign in this division would be received tomorrow.

In some divisions the campaign has reached right down to those who participate in "Y" activities and benefit from its facilities. Modest, but highly valued subscriptions have been received from boys' groups who have taken this means of expressing what the Y.M.C.A. means to them.

H-S Associations Voting On Issue Annual Convention

A letter asking for reactions to the proposed annual Home and School convention went out last week from the Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations to every Home and School group in the province. Voting on the issue will take place at the federation council meeting called for December 3, at 8:30 p.m. in Herbert Symonds School.

First of the four questions contained in the letter asks: "Are you in favor of an annual convention?" Second question queries the group's reaction to an annual convention plus a series of council meetings as held under the present set-up, while the third question asks:

Convention Vote

"Are you in favor of groups of associations organizing into regional councils?" Final question is: "If the annual convention idea is adopted, do you think there should be any change in the present council set-up while regional councils are being organized?"

At the December 3 meeting, representatives of Home and School groups throughout the province will vote on a resolution prepared by J. A. B. McLeish, of Valleyfield, calling for an annual convention plus one mandatory council meeting to be held in conjunction with the convention.

United Nations Society Last Meeting Of Year

The United Nations Society in Canada, Westmount Branch, are holding an afternoon meeting of great importance, in the Westmount Y.M.C.A., at 3 p.m. today.

The agenda for the meeting covers, Talks, Plans, Discussions, and Music, and will be the last gathering until January.

Members and friends are cordially invited. Tea will be served.

PALLADIUM STRIPE

The combining of gold and palladium in diagonal, vertical or horizontal stripes has been developed in a new product called "Palladium Stripe." This product is expected to have a wide application in the jewelry field especially for tie clasps, vanity cases and cigarette cases.

Red Cross Blood Supply Service Will Be Free To All Canadians

As we all know, the Red Cross blood-donor service was an important part of the war-time activities which earned world-wide praise for the Canadian Red Cross Society. It assured the steady flow of blood from Canada to our wounded fighting men overseas and it inspired the admiration of authorities even in enemy countries, where the Canadian Red Cross penetrated to bring aid and comfort to prisoners of war. Thousands of lives were saved abroad by blood cheerfully given and processed here in Canada.

Today, the Red Cross in Canada is convinced that a blood supply service to save civilian lives here at home is an essential part of the Society's peace-time activities. These activities already include a dozen different humanitarian functions in Canada.

The planning of this new Canada-wide blood service to be maintained by the Red Cross has taken time. And it will require still more time before the blood bank is in full operation from coast to coast. That is true of all aspects of the tremendous task of reorganizing the work of the Red Cross to fit the needs of peace rather than war.

Already there has been established in Toronto a central base for the Society's civilian blood bank in Canada. Within a few weeks a provincial base will be established in British Columbia. From this beginning there will be created bases in the other provinces and experts will be at work from Halifax to Vancouver, making sure that nobody who needs blood fails to get it—absolutely free. Thousands of lives will be saved and the reduction in human suffering will be incalculable.

The Red Cross has been conducting negotiations with the respective Provincial Governments, who will collaborate and provide the premises on which the blood bank will carry on its highly technical work. All other expenses will be borne by the Canadian Red Cross Society itself. That means the paying of highly-skilled professional experts, the purchase and maintenance of technical equipment and the operation of a supply line to hospitals—large and small. The hospitals will pay nothing and the patients who need the blood will pay nothing.

This new humanitarian enterprise in Canada will cost the Canadian Red Cross Society one million dollars at the start. And it will cost the Red Cross one million dollars every year to keep the blood bank going. But it will mean that no more will suffering hospital patients have to worry about the expense of replacing the blood that was necessary to save their lives.

A project of so vast a nature needed not only planning, it needed behind it an organization of thoroughly neutral character—free from the ties of politics or racial or religious considerations. Precisely, such an organization is the Canadian Red Cross—a unit in the vast humanitarian organization which alone in war-time is able to be not only international but world-wide to rise above the chaos of strife and hatred between races and nations.

THE UNORGANIZED CONSUMER IN THE LABOUR DISPUTES

Mass picketing, plant sieges, and home-menacing don't fizz on the people who fix finally the wages of steel workers and owners. These most important people were not present in the meetings of the negotiators. They couldn't be asked to sit in because no one knows definitely who they are, where they live, or how much they will pay.

Despite the fact that these people determine the fate of all of us, no one knew enough about them to speak for them, to say what they would accept or reject. No one knows just when they will make themselves heard; but they will be heard. When they have made up their own minds they will settle with the workers and owners in steel, rubber, transportation, lumber and every other industry. They won't care whether the employees like it, the employers like it, we like it, or who likes it.

Who are these all-powerful people? They are the unorganized consumers. They have no cohesion, no visibility, no privileges, and only one important economic right, the right to do without. It is a right beyond the reach of dictators and firing squads. It is the final arbiter in every labor dispute, under every form of government and in every economy. It is protected by all the principles of freedom and progress. It survives; it governs; it ought to be taken into account in the first instances, not only in the final disasters.

"IT WRITES UNDER WATER"

Most adults already have one or more fountain pens in good working order, many of them with a "lifetime guarantee" under which the manufacturer promises to repair the pen at any time he is paid for doing so. They also have two or three others that have been discarded but could be put into shape at small expense.

The layman would say that the pen market was well saturated, but not the advertising man. He dreams up the super-pens (several of them) that will write for years without being filled, that will write without being shaken, that will write under water. Immediately they are bought in thousands, not by those who have no pens, but by the men who own several and use them only for signing letters and cheques.

A lot of fun has been poked at the ability of the new pens to write under water, and it is true that the prophets of the Gadget Age should simultaneously have produced water proof stationery. Yet the advertising men should be respected for their effort to cope with the established truth that inspiration visits us when we are unprepared to receive it.

Advertising copywriters are now going to be equipped to shoot inspiration on the wing. One pictures them in their morning showers (if they have been fortunate enough to find showers and soap) grimly gripping their super-pens in their teeth and scribbling down the great thoughts, as they come, on the tile and the shower curtains.

The picture is not overdrawn, for only in some such circumstances could an advertising man have dreamed up the new hydra-headed electric razors or the safety razor that one winds up before using.

WHITE COLLAR, 1870

The "white collar" man has come a long way since the days of his grandfather, as witness the following instructions to employees issued by a store proprietor in 1870, says the Wall Street Journal.

"Store will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m., except on Saturday, when it closes at 9 p.m. Employees will sweep floors, dust furniture, shelves and show cases; remember 'Cleanliness is next to Godliness.' Trim wicks, fill lamps, clean chimneys. Make your pens carefully (you may whittle the quills to suit your individual taste). Open windows for fresh air. Each clerk shall bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business.

"Any employe who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, gets shaved at the barber shop, or frequents pool halls or public dance halls; will give his employer every reason to suspicion his integrity, worthy intentions and all around honesty.

"Each employe is expected to pay his tithing to the church, that is 10 per cent. of his annual income; no matter what your income might be, you should not contribute less than $25 per year to the church. Each employe will attend sacrament meeting and adequate time will be given to attend Fast meeting on Thursday. Also you are expected to attend your Sunday School.

"Men employes will be given one evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings each week if they go regularly to church and attend to church duties. After an employe has spent his thirteen hours of labor in the store, he should then spend his leisure time in reading good books."

which the auld clay biggen in which the poet was born looked as if it had wandered away from a field on the hillside and had no right there at all, and didn't like it anyway.

The Burns Monument, enclosed in a garden of flowers (sixpence admission) did not impress me. I had expected to see a statue of the poet. The whole thing struck me as artificial and commercialized. The old Brig o' Doon down in the valley seemed to have been cut off, and looked deserted and forlorn—sadly musing, may be, on the days that are no more. Somehow, I felt sorry for it, as I did for the clay biggen, which seemed to be suffering from an inferiority complex amid such classy surroundings. Viewed from the open grounds at the rear, however, the white fronted cottage, with its heavy thatch, had a rural dignity about it, in keeping with the poet who first saw the dimmed light of day beneath its roof.

Adjacent to the cottage there is a very fine Burns Museum, containing numerous manuscripts, relics, various portraits and several busts of the poet. The Nasmith portrait seems to me to be too dandified and idealized. The drawing by Skirving appeals to me as the most lifelike and characteristic. I was particularly interested in a plaster-cast of the poet's skull, and I studied it from the point of view of the phrenologist. The "bump" of ideality or sense of beauty was pronounced, as also was that of veneration in a slightly lesser degree. Logic and analogy were

In recognition of distinguished services in the Northwest Europe campaign, the Belgian government has made awards to more than 200 Canadian officers and soldiers.

The liberty of the people consists in being governed by laws which they have made for themselves under whatever form it be of government. The liberty of a private man, is being master of his own time and actions, as far as may consist with the laws of God and of his country.—Abraham Cowley (1618-1667)

The present diplomatic game between Britain and the Soviet Union reminds one rather of a party of tough card-players in some part of England. "I'm finished," said one, flinging down strong. The back of the head, where the amorous instincts are supposed to be indicated, seemed to be almost abnormal. Burns had a round, not a long head, like many of the Scots. We know that he was not "long-headed," as the saying goes, in business. He had the head of an intellectual and sensitive person. In short, he was a born poet, and he couldn't help it. Of course, it may be that I was looking for these phrenological indications in studying the skull, but they were there, nevertheless.

his hand in disgust, "the game ain't straight?" "Whot yer mean—not straight?" demanded another fiercely. "I mean it's crooked," snarled the first, "you ain't playing the 'and I dealt yer!"

Scientists say there is a possibility of moon to earth radio. A radio transmitting set weighing less than 100 pounds could be placed in an earth-to-moon rocket. This transmitter would have the power to send signals 240,000 miles from the moon to the earth via ultrashort waves.

How amazingly clever our scientists are, and yet they have not been able to find the weaknesses in our faulty economic systems and suggest a real solution of our economic ills. Why not concentrate on economics and put the frills they delight in later.

Manitoba brides and grooms must take V.D. tests. Compulsory pre-marital blood testing for syphilis commenced October 1, and this test for traces of venereal disease must take place before a marriage license can be issued. The test must be far enough in advance that time may be ample for the health department to return a report of the result of the tests. Should the tests be only one day over the 30-day limit another test must be made. The results of the tests will be told to the couples concerned in strictest confidence. Any medical doctor may make the blood tests, preferably the family doctor or one known by the couple involved.

WEEKLY REVIEW

Visit To The Burns Country

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Leaving the dirty-grey stone buildings of Glasgow behind, we passed through the outskirts of the city, with their green, rolling golf links, neat and substantial modern bungalows and villas with flowery front gardens, and launched at once on the highway headed for the Burns Country. The sight of those undulating farm lands, with the white cottages, the hawthorn hedges in full bloom, little rough-stone brigs striding the streams, and all dotted over with quietly grazing cows and sheep, gave me the impression of riding through the old, colored nursery rhyme picture books that I used to revel in as a boy.

There were low hills and woodlands in the distance as we approached Kilmarnock. Passing down the main street of that town, I caught a glimpse of the Tam o'shanter Inn, then out again into the open country. It was indeed a pastoral poet's country, and I began to feel the presence of Robert Burns.

Ye banks and braes, and streams around
The castle o' Montgomery,
Green be your waters and fair
Your waters never drumlie.
Your flowers,

I was rather disillusioned at my first sight of Ayre. I had imagined it to be a much smaller town, and I found it what we in Canada would call a considerable little city and a busy seaport. I was hungry and was directed to the Berkeley Hotel. During the meal I got into conversation with a young man who told me he was both a farmer and a slater—that is a roofer. His name was Campbell and he had dark hair and refined features. He was steeped in the poems of Burns and I was amazed at his wide knowledge of English literature, yet he had little school education. Strangely enough, I met a similar young Ayreshire man on the train next day who was an enthusiastic student of poetry, and he was also a slater.

While I was waiting for the bus to take me to Burns' birthplace, a boy passed me whistling "Ye banks and braes o' bonnie Doon." Evidently the spirit of Burns still lives in the hearts of the Ayreshire people. I was disappointed with Burns' birthplace, for I had expected it to be an old-time village with mud street. Instead I found a clean and trim little hamlet with modern houses, in the midst of

SMART SERVICE FOR SMART PEOPLE

Westmount Baptist

Communion will be observed at 12 noon in Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday. New members will be welcomed.

The title of the morning sermon will be "Awake or Drowsy or Asleep?" This will be based on the word of Jesus—"Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I come that I may wake him."

In the evening the minister will continue the series of addresses based upon the pictures presented by Karl Steele during the "Christ for Montreal" Campaign.

Westmount Church School meets each Sunday morning at 10 a.m. Substantial progress is being made in the work of a finely graded school, in which both children and adults are showing the keenest interest.

Dominion-Douglas

On Sunday Dr. A. Lloyd Smith will preach at the morning service on "What is the Meaning of 'Born Again'?" At 7.30 p.m. Rev. R. Graham Barr will speak on "The Conquest of Fear."

Church School will meet at 3 p.m. for a missionary program, and at 8.45 p.m. the Y.P.U. will meet in Friendship Parlour for an interesting program.

On Wednesday at 2 p.m. there will be the Preparatory Service and reception of new members. The young people's activities for the week include the usual meetings of Cubs on Monday night, Scouts on Tuesday, Guides on Wednesday night, and Brownies on Saturday morning.

Two important events will be held next week. On Tuesday the Handicraft Guild will present a musicale and sale of handicrafts. The artists will be: Lois Goodwin, pianist; Margaret Gilmour, mezzo-soprano, and Mrs. Victor Knowles, accompanist.

The second of these events is the meeting of the Couples' Club on Thursday evening, December 12th, when Prof. Forrest La Violette of the Dept. of Sociology at McGill will speak on "Child Care and the Crisis of Cultural Continuity."

Calvary Church

The Guest Preacher at both services of worship in Calvary United Church on Sunday will be Rev. J. Arthur Steed, M.A., B.D., Minister of Carmen United Church, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Steed, who was formerly engaged in Missionary Service in Angola, West Central Africa, is a graduate of McGill University and of the Congregational Theological College, Montreal.

Dr. R. W. Jones, Pastor of Calvary, will be in Western Ontario carrying out duties in connection with the office of the Moderator, preaching at Wingham in a broadcast service that will be received and re-broadcast through loud speakers to every congregation of The United Church in Huron Presbytery.

One of the important pieces of service in Calvary Congregation this coming week will be the Annual Bazaar and Sale of Work, conducted under the auspices of the Women's Association of the Church and Congregation in the re-decorating and re-furnishing of the Church Auditorium.

Dr. Jones will conduct the Services of Worship on Sunday, December 8th. The Communion of the Lord's Supper, with reception of new members will follow the preaching at the morning service.

St. Luke's United

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at both morning and evening services this Sunday in St. Luke's. The minister, Rev. Ralph E. Spencer, will conclude the morning series of sermons on the ten commandments when he will preach on "Covet Earnestly the Best Gifts."

The Young Adult Group will meet at the close of the evening service and will have as discussion leader, Capt. Max Ford. The Young People of St. Luke's will visit the families of the congregation during the week of December 1st to the 7th to present the claims of the United Church Observer. The official Observer representative is Sandy Glass who may be reached at WA 1859.

Twenty-one new members were received into church membership on Sunday last, six by profession of faith and fifteen by certificate.

Stanley Presbyterian

"A Covenant—a privilege or an obligation?" will be the sermon text of the Rev. J. D. Wilkie on Sunday at 11 a.m. in Stanley Church. The Sacrament of Baptism will be administered at the morning Service. At 7.30, Mr. Wilkie will preach on "Praying Hands."

The newly formed Stanley Junior Choir formed late in September, under the direction of Doris Killam, will sing Beethoven's "Creation's Hymn", and the "Brother James Air", at the evening service.

This Choir will combine with the Senior Church Choir to present a candle light Carol Service on December 18th., many carols will be sung, including carols from other countries.

Rev. Mr. Wilkie will open the Bazaar which the Women's Association are holding on Saturday of this week from 3 to 7 p.m. The Church Hall will be open on Friday afternoon and evening, and on Saturday morning for receiving further donations.

The Girl Guides meet on Monday evenings at 7.15, and the Scouts on Thursday evenings at 7.30.

Quiz Queen

Since her recent arrival in New York from Tucson, Ariz., 21-year-old Mrs. Zeena Steele has hit the jackpot on radio quiz shows and won about $1500 worth of merchandise, including a washing machine, diamond ring and three wrist watches. But she's still trying to find the answer to one question for herself and husband: "Where, of, where can we find an apartment?"

Winter Serenade Promises Holiday Gaiety And Music

A sparkling musical benefit show entitled "Winter Serenade" will be presented by the Young Ladies' Sodality of Ascension Parish on Monday, December 9, at Victoria Hall. The curtain will rise at 8.30 p.m.

A number of singers, including Miss Joan Melvin and Mr. Emmett Guilfoyle, will present favorite songs together with a chorus of over forty mixed voices.

Mavis Reynolds, Carol Melvin, Ann Cleather, John Sessenwein, David Shaughnessy and Robert Bulger have been cast in a short comedy skit entitled "The Proposal Seat."

Also featured will be dance routines by the Misses Irene Thoms, Frances Whelan and Mona Landy. Piano accompaniment for this musical production will be played by Miss Helen Losito. Stage settings are being designed by Miss Joanne Schoeler and Mr. Robert Boyd, and the entire production is under the direction of Rev. George F. Thoms. The proceeds from this show will go towards the Sodality's Christmas basket fund and other charitable undertakings.

The Women's Auxilliary of the Montreal Deaf Association are holding a sale of handwork tomorrow evening at their meeting hall, 1140 Drummond Street.

C. P. Legion 96 Bazaar Funds To Provide Comforts For Vets

The Ladies Auxilliary Canadian Pacific (Quebec 96) Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., held a meeting on Thursday evening in the club rooms. The president, Mrs. A. Lyle, was in the chair and welcomed Mrs. S. Sheriff, president; Mrs. A. Solomon, chairman; Mrs. L. Devost, first vice-president; Miss D. Roy, French corresponding secretary and Mrs. N. A. Richardson, a former president respectively of Provincial Command Ladies' Auxilliaries, who were guests at the meeting.

For Veterans

A most gratifying report was presented on the recent bazaar, which provided funds for substantial donations for the maintenance of games equipment at St. Anne's Hospital and a gift of bed-lamps and ear-phones to Queen Mary Hospital.

Poppy Sale

Mrs. Haddlesey's and Miss Wakeham's report on the Poppy Sale revealed outstanding success, well over $1,000 being realized. Thanks was extended to Mrs. Tanner for the supper prepared for the business girls.

Mrs. W. L. Payne reported on nominations and presented a slate of officers for 1947.

The social hour was enlivened by Mrs. W. F. Graham, of Beauty Counselors, who demonstrated the proper application of make-up, and Vickey of Hans Salon, who gave an exhibition of hair styling. The models were Mesdames M. Storrier, D. Bowes-Lyon, R. Greenfield, S. Fairchild and the Misses Storrier and Devan.

The climax of the evening was the presentation of corsages to the guests; and the reading of an address by Mrs. W. L. Payne and the presentation by Mrs. A. Legault of a jewelled pin and earrings to Mrs. S. Sheriff as a token of appreciation of her assistance to the auxilliary at all times and particularly as House-Mother during the operation of the Welcome Room in Windsor Station.

Refreshments were served and Mrs. Sheriff presided at the tea table which was attractively arranged with a lace cloth centred with mauve and gold chrysanthemums, with matching tapers in crystal holders.

Members were reminded that the next meeting will be held December 12.

Karen Bulow's HAND WEAVING

The Busy Bees

Karen Bulow is quickly, and rightly so, earning the title of "CANADA'S WEAVER." Miss Bulow came to Canada in 1929, and prior to this she had years of weaving experience, having had her own shop in Denmark. She never stops studying, always on the go to see and learn the newest. Such as her last trip to Denmark, Norway and Sweden this past summer to see the developments of handicraft in these countries. The result of all this intense study you can see at her studio at 1174 St. Catherine St. W. Today, many of the fine homes throughout Canada are displaying her unusual draperies, furniture coverings and her own distinctive rugs. This artist, however, is not content in keeping her knowledge of this ancient craft to herself. Her one ambition now, is to build up a school of weaving, where the students will have a solid foundation to work from. This is the only school in Montreal where the pupil has a new floor loom to work with. Miss Bulow has a day and night class which are held at her residence at 2015 Union Ave. Last week I visited this class. It was with considerable envy that I watched these "Busy Bees." This group was represented by ladies and gentlemen from all walks of life, young and old. Some are interested in it as a hobby, others, may some day be the future weavers of Canada. In progress on one of the looms was a luncheon set being woven in beautiful shades of blue and brown. Others had table cloths, others scarves, etc. One of the features of this course is that the students keep all samples made, and materials are included in the course. What could be finer than a Christmas gift of this kind to a young girl starting out on a career? It offers pleasant work of a creative nature. A visit to any of these classes would be welcomed by Miss Bulow just by phoning LA. 3365 for an appointment.

An Exclusive Story

Ladies, at one time or another, we all like to have an exclusive story. Today I have one. Miss Morton, that able and gracious manager of The C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke St. W., invited me to go behind the scenes and view some of the surprises she has in store for us. Sorry, this one I can't divulge yet, but keep your eyes glued to their windows and you will soon know what I mean. BUT, here is the story

I can pass on. The C.S.L. Gift Shop have some very exclusive Christmas candles. They are tall, white, nicely filled, and on the outside are beautiful red poinsettias. When the candle burns down an inch, these flowers will all light up. I know you will all want a pair, so don't wait 'till the last minute to buy them. I was also looking at some unusual jewel tone plates, with shattered glass centers. They come in ruby, sapphire, and amethyst. Then there are the anodized aluminum fluted ash trays, highly polished. The chief feature of these trays is that they will not burn through. If you have been disappointed in not procuring one of the silent butlers, more are expected in. These are very attractive and practical. Maybe you know some one who appreciates a unique type of cigarette box. This one is of teakwood, with engraved brass covered corners, very oriental looking. For the lady who likes her compact, lip stick and comb handy, nothing would be more pleasing, than the red or green leather cosmetic cases, with the gold metal compact, lip stick holder, and a small comb, all neatly in place. You will admire the Perrin's hand loomed scarves, with lucite clip. They come in a variety of beautiful colors. He also has woven some large purses with miniatures to match. Bridge fans, you can have hand hooked coasters with French Canadian scenes, encircled with the card insignia. Truly this is a gem in stores.

A Little Boy Named Bob

I am beginning to find myself acquiring a taste for very beautiful objets d'art. How could one be otherwise after visiting Beaumanoir, 1498 Sherbrooke St. W. Each week when I return to this shop and find an article gone that I have been raving about the week before, I think: There goes another one of my pets. But, like every thought in this world, some other one soon appears to replace it. In a corner was tucked away an old fashioned swing mirror for a dressing table. It was pale green with roses painted on it. Then there was a small pine cabinet, that could be used for holding liquor. On the door was carved the music clef and maybe this had a meaning. Wrought iron has a great attraction for me, and here was a candle holder with the old fashioned snuffer. The tray being large enough to be used as an ash tray. Woodland china is very attractive in a leaf shape or oyster shape dish. These could be used for fruit or sandwiches. Have you been looking for an attractive table decoration? Drop in and see the set of blue china peacocks. Placed on a reflector these would be fetching. Beaumanoir has also some very lovely lamps, quite different from what I have seen anywhere else. Have you a little boy named BOB? How important he would feel having the cup I saw today. It is a good he-

Wartime Activity Finally Over For RCASC Auxiliary

After almost seven years of hard work the Women's Auxiliary of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps are writing "Fiajs" to another chapter in war work.

During the seven years the Women's Auxiliary was in operation their main effort was concentrated on helping and entertaining the families of the R.C.A.S.C. serving abroad. During this period a monthly entertainment-with refreshment was provided for the next-of-kin. Over $9,000 was raised through various activities. More than $6,000 was expended on groceries, milk, wood and coal, Christmas baskets, etc. Approximately 11,444 articles of wearing apparel were distributed and 152 complete layettes were given out. Men of the R.C.A.S.C. Overseas were sent 1,500 knitted articles plus an estimated 690,000 cigarettes.

The hospital committee also deserves a word of praise, having visited over 5,000 patients, distributing fruit, games books and other comforts to hospitalized soldiers.

The coal fund was quite an asset in assisting needy families purchase their coal. About $7,000 was advanced and the Auxiliary is pleased to say practically the entire amount was refunded.

At the final business meeting held on Friday, it was moved that all remaining cast assets of the auxiliary be transferred, in trust, to a committee of five members with Mrs. A. O. Allan as chairman. This committee shall be known as "The Welfare and Hospital Visiting Committee" and will expend the money as needed for these two purposes.

On behalf of the retiring committee and the auxiliary's past president, Mrs. T. W. Newton, who has now moved to Toronto, the undermentioned members wish to thank all who have in any way assisted the auxiliary in carrying out its many and varied functions during the past seven years:— Acting President, Mrs. A. O. Allan; Recording Secty., Mrs. Dent Harrison; Corresponding Secty., Mrs. Lewis W. Crotty; Treasurer, Mrs. G. Knott.

Patriotic Verse Recital Planned By Mildred Low

At the recital of patriotic verse to be given by Miss Mildred Low at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Parish House, 1441 University Street, an account of a recent series of dramatic presentations in various centres will be given by Phoebe Erskine MacKellar. The introduction of Canadian poetry written by W. H. Drummond, Pauline Johnson, Anne Marriott and others into Canadian schools has been made popular by Mrs. MacKellar, who is convener of the drama group of the Montreal Branch, Canadian Authors' Association.

Miss Low, who is convener of the poetry group, C.A.A., has published many poems depicting the Canadian scene which she will recite.

A Christmas Carol, with the words by Mildred Low and music by C. P. Rice, will be sung by Barbara Scott, who will also render Mr. Rice's setting for "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

man size. Brown china with a cream border around the top, and the name BOB in cream in the middle. Too bad, there are none for the little girls. When you visit this shop, be sure and look over the French jewellery. They have some interesting enamel glamour pins, in the form of little French figures. You will find some exquisite individual china cups here, and tea sets also. The wooden wall consoles that you may see here are old French-Canadian pieces that Mr. Gouin has been collecting for years.

First Steps In Chivalry

MARY S. STOVER

Mrs. Wilson had been away longer than she had intended, and she sighed as she heard the shrill bossy tones of a girl with whom Myra seemed to be infatuated. "If that child Glenda, has been here long, the three were really something for Mother Wilson to deal with," she said to herself.

All the sounds came from upstairs and Glenda's words had not been distinguishable, but now came little Alice's voice. The usually gentle child fairly shouted in her indignant loyalty. "Stop!" she ordered. "You musn't talk to my grandma that way. I'll not let you."

Those clarion words touched the mother's heart. She was proud, too, for Alice was a timid little thing who could hardly be persuaded to stand up for her own rights. Such boldness toward the older child was indeed a triumph of love. "The darling," she murmured, "I must encourage that dear sense of loyalty in her and try to develop a like spirit in Myra."

More harmonious tunes from above showed that it was not necessary to hasten there, and Mrs. Wilson slipped quietly into the kitchen. With prayerful humility she reviewed many incidents of recent months. She and Grandma felt sincere respect and true affection for each other, but they did not always see eye to eye. Though

Stirring Drama By St. Matthew's Players

The St. Matthew's Players announce that they have chosen as their next production, "Death Takes a Holiday," by Walter Ferris. This play will take place in St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, on January 17th and 18th.

each intended always to express Christian good will and forbearance. Mrs. Wilson realized, as she thought about it, that in moments of tenseness failed to set her children an example of personal deference. This, she knew, could be done without making Mother Wilson too conscious of her additional years. It must be made plain that it was not age but experience to which they were all paying tribute. She was sure it was possible to help the children to appreciate this dear relative more and to feel a sense of responsibility to protect her from rudeness, even when it meant speaking out as sharply as little Alice had done that afternoon.

Sending Grandma and Daddy to a concert gave the mother a good chance to talk freely with the two girls at bedtime. She mentioned hearing what Alice had said, and commended it warmly. "I know that Grandma will always love to remember that incident, my dear. Grandma has taken care of you many, many times. She would do anything to protect either of you from harm. There are ways, too, by which you can care for and protect her. Daddy and I depend on you doing this."

Myra was twisting with excitement. "Mother," she began, "I went out to bring the scooter in when Glenda left. She said something mean about Grandma, and I just told her she needn't come to our house again! I don't want to play with her any more, if that's the sort of a girl she is."

"Don't go to her home then," said the mother quietly. "If you stop seeing so much of her now, it may make her think more about how all grandmothers should be treated. She has one too, you know."

Reports Presented At Meeting Of Westmount Women's Club

The Westmount Women's Club Inc., held its first business meeting of the season in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Friday, November 22nd, with the president, Mrs. C. B. Fortier, in the chair. The president announced that the Club scholarship had been awarded to Miss Elizabeth Beall.

Mrs. H. S. Jacques, Vice-President and liaison officer between the Club and the W.V.S., reported upon the allocation of the grant of $200. made last season, for the benefit of people in Great Britain. She stated that half this sum had been expended on parcels of food for thirty individuals whose names had been selected by the W.V.S. under the Lady Reading's Personal Parcel Scheme, and the other half had been donated to the Waifs and Strays Society (renamed The Children's Society) towards the support of a child who had lost both parents in the war and now living at one of the Society's Homes in England.

36 New Members

The membership secretary, Mrs. John T. Rowe reported the addition of thirty-six new members to date.

Miss Muriel Dennis, treasurer for the military hospital visiting, reported regular monthly visits made to Ste. Ann's Military Hospital. The following articles are distributed each month: 1500 cigarettes, 2 lbs tobacco, 4 cartons of gum, 6 boxes of matches, razor blades, lifesavers, chocolate bars, playing cards, fruit, magazines, cookies, bought and home-made candy and 4 trays of home-made cakes. Many of these articles came as donations from members of the visiting committee and Club members.

Reports were read by the following chairmen of committees: Mrs. D. L. Stewart, recording secretary; Miss Alice Mason, corresponding secretary; Miss Sarah Gardner, treasurer; Mrs. P. G. Delgado, courtesy; Mrs. A. McNiece, door and house; Mrs. Herbert C. Holland, hospitality and annual bridge; Mrs. C. H. Armstrong, welfare; Mrs. E. C. Riel, press and Mrs. John Applin, foster child.

Donations

The following donations were made:— Grace Dart Home Hospital, $25; Lady Readings Personal Food Parcel Scheme, $100; Westmount Y.M.C.A., $25 and the W.V.S. for Ste. Ann's Military Hospital Cheers, $50.

Bureau Designed To Aid Homemakers

A new organization inaugurated recently under the official title of The Home Service Bureau, by Audrey Lessard, promises to be of inestimable value to local homemakers. This handy service, which will be under the direction of Catherine Lessard, will provide the latest and smartest tips on all branches of homecraft.

Wide Scope of Program

The Bureau offers complete household guidance. Its courses will include information on the following: Plain and fancy cooking and recipes; well balanced meal planning; lunch box preparation; vitamin values and where to find them; how to lose or gain weight through diets; wine flavoring in cookery. There will be instruction on how to choose electric home appliances; washing and ironing; removal of stains; wedding menus; and short cuts to efficient home management.

The basic principles of good nutrition will be simply explained to brides; and more experienced cooks will appreciate the hints on how to cater for club, bridge or church suppers on the grand scale. Co-operation with the members receiving the service will be a feature, and Miss Lessard will always be interested to hear of new and helpful ideas, which she will pass on to sister members.

During the past two months 1,500 films turned over to the National Film Board by the Armed Services Film Pool have been distributed to film libraries across Canada.

Nice Girl... Nice Job

She's the girl who helps provide dependable telephone service. She's "the voice with a smile"—a key person in the daily life of her community. She's a Telephone Operator. She likes her pleasant, well paying job. As a beginner in Montreal she earned $20.00 for a five-day week. After eighteen months experience she got $23.00. Periodic increases ultimately raised her weekly earnings to $29.00. She earns even more money when she works on Sunday or holidays, or at certain hours of the day.

She recommends the job to other girls who might be interested, and suggests they call in at our Employment Centre, in the Beaver Hall Building.

There are vacancies at the present time in several of our West End offices.

Hot breads always intrigue people. If you have guests their eyes always brighten up when a plate of hot rolls, buns or biscuits is brought to the table. The family reacts the same way.

If you are a business woman you usually don't have time to make many kinds of bread or rolls often, but you probably can manage occasionally. Otherwise you'll have to resort to commercial mixes of biscuits and muffins, which are good, too, and can be varied by adding this and that to the mix.

Today's Menu
Cold Plate Creamed Potatoes
Banana Salad Hot Buttered Beets
Hot Biscuits Marmalade
Coffee

Raisin Buns
4 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
2 cups milk
2 tbsp. shortening
1 yeast cake
1/2 cup raisins
1 egg

Heat milk, melt shortening in hot milk, then cool to lukewarm. Soak yeast cake in a little of the warm milk and shortening. Beat egg slightly; add to first mixture. Mix flour, sugar and salt, pour in milk mixture and beat well. Add raisins. Put in greased muffin tins and let rise in warm place one hour. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 15 min. or until done.

Brilliant Plays By Noel Coward Chosen By Group

In "The Letters of Alexander Woollcott", compiled by his publisher after his death, the late Mr. Woollcott complimented highly the brilliance and genius of Noel Coward, particularly his series of short plays "To-night At 8.30". From these plays, the Westmount Women's Club has chosen: "Family Album", "We Were Dancing" and "Still Life" for their presentation at Victoria Hall on Wednesday and Thursday December 4th and 5th, at 8.30 p.m.

The amusing situation created at a country club dance when the single Karl and the married Louise dance with one another and grow sentimental over music in waltz time, forms the plot of "We Were Dancing". Margaret Pitt as Louise and Douglas Peterson as her puzzled husband are assisted by the following players: Elsie Poole, Peter Armstrong, Gordon Jones, Shirley Thomson, Stella McIntyre, Lois Landers and Dennis Ryan.

"Still Life", perhaps one of Mr. Coward's most interesting short plays has both humor and pathos in its story. Laura Jesson, having a cup of tea between trains in Milford Junction Station, meets Dr. Alec Harvey. The manner of their meeting and the subsequent results form the plot. D. Alec Harvey is played by Charles Lewis and Ena Gillespie portrays the part of Laura Jesson. Other players in this cast are: Margaret McKean, Walter Wakefield, Gordon Jones, Betty Sinclair, Gerald Tynan, Helen Cairns, Brendan Fahey, Stella McIntyre and Bobbie Rice.

Jean de Savoye, Chairman and Director of the Westmount Women's Club Drama Group, will direct the performances.

St. Stephen's Fair Conveners Named

- Novelties—Evening Branch of W.A., Miss E. McElnea.
- Miscellaneous — Senior Girls' W.A.
- Red Cross—Social Service, Miss D. Buchanan.
- White Elephant — Mrs. M. Le Mieux.

Afternoon tea will be served and coffee and doughnuts in the evening by Mrs. J. Troughton. The General convener, Mrs. M. C. Low.

Nova Scotian Author Will Be Speaker Maritime Women's Club

The Maritime Women's Club of Montreal, Inc. will hold a meeting in Tudor Hall, tomorrow at 8.30, when the speaker will be Mr. Thomas H. Raddall, author of Pride's Fancy.

Thomas H. Raddall was born in 1903 at the British Army School of Musketry, Hythe, England, where his father was an instructor. He came to Nova Scotia as a child, and with the exception of several years spent at sea as a wireless operator, has lived there ever since. Such widely separated personalities as the late John Buchan and Kenneth Roberts urged him to put the story of the Nova Scotia Yankees into writing, and the result was his first novel, "His Majesty's Yankees",

MARGARET PITT

Margaret Pitt, in private life Mrs. Norman Pitt, who will play the part of "Louise" in "We Were Dancing," one of the three short plays from "Tonight At 8.30," by Noel Coward, which is being presented at Victoria Hall on Wednesday and Thursday, December 4th and 5th, at 8.30 p.m., by the Drama Group of the Westmount Women's Club Inc.

Hints On Fashions

Lovely lingerie is a fitting foundation for this season's fine fashions. Illustrated is a slip styled in new lines that accent a smart slant. The fabric is white crepe with a new bodice and a net hem ruffle that takes a slanting line. Satin leaves are applied from the shoulder strap at one side only.

an immediate success. "Roger Sudden", Mr. Raddall's second book was selected by one of the book clubs.

The soloist on this occasion will be Mr. Rex Wilson, baritone. Members may bring guests.

Sodality Dance Successful Event

Approximately fifty couples were present at the fall social, sponsored by the Young Ladies' Sodality of Ascension Parish, which was held in the Green Room of Victoria Hall on Friday evening.

Miss Joyce Clarke, Prefect of the Sodality, and Miss June Farrell, general convener, welcomed the guests.

Prizes were presented to the winners of the "spot" dance and "elimination" dance, which were arranged by Miss Margaret Sharp, entertainment convener, and refreshments were served under the convenership of Miss Carol Melvin.

During the Civil War, Russellville was the Confederate capital of Kentucky.

"Seek Peace, Pursue It" Text At Consecration CP 96 Colors

The Ladies Auxilliary of the Canadian Pacific Branch 96 of the Canadian Legion had their Colours consecrated by the Legion Chaplain, the Venerable Archdeacon Gower-Rees at St. George's Church on Sunday evening.

The colour party comprised: Captain, Mrs. Carl Major; colour bearers, the Misses Audrey de Van and Thelma Gatenby; the escorts, the Misses Edith Storrier, Marjorie de Van, Myrtle Gatenby and Alison Huntly; and sergeant-at-arms, Miss Ethel Richardson.

Mrs. A. Lyle, President of the Auxilliary, asked the Chaplain to bless the Colours.

The Provincial Command was represented by the President, Mrs. S. Sheriff, Mrs. Dwyer, First Vice-President and Mrs. Stevens, recording secretary.

Officers and members of the auxilliary and their senior branch assembled in Windsor Station Concourse and paraded to the church.

The Last Post was sounded by Trumpeter J. Peppy, accompanied by drums.

The Venerable Archdeacon Gower-Rees delivered a most appropriate and inspiring sermon, taking as his text a portion of the 14th verse of Psalm 34. "Seek Peace, pursue it." Commending the ladies for their good works, he stated, "Love is a common language, everywhere understood" and added, "We only find ourselves, in serving others."

Olivia De Havilland Tops In Superb Film Drama

POPULAR NOVEL FILMED! Beverly Tyler and Tom Drake are co-starred with Charles Coburn in a film adaptation of A. J. Cronin's tender novel of youth, "The Green Years," which starts on Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre, playing for one week.

Young Audience Is Thrilled By Production Kings In Nomania

Victoria Hall was turned into a veritable fairyland on Saturday afternoon and the young audience found themselves in a land of enchantment as Percival Wilde's lovely phantasy, "Kings in Nomania", unfolded before their eyes. Presented by the Theatre for Young Folk, sponsored by the Canadian Art Theatre, it was obvious from the beginning of the performance to the end that the choice of this delightful Christmas play was a happy one.

Save for spontaneous bursts of laughter at the many hilarious episodes the young people were completely preoccupied with the whimsical story and the colorful characters they were seeing for the first time on the stage. Novel scenic effects, beautiful costumes, effective lighting, carols and music all contributed to making Saturday's presentation a unique one.

The difficult role of Stage Manager was cleverly played by Helen Pfeiffer, assisted by Natalie Friedman and Ilene Riddell as Stage Hands, who contributed no little to the success of the production. Gail Calder as Yancu, the Boot-black, is showing great versatility as a young actress. Pat Oggy, another young veteran of the C.A.T., interpreted the role of The King of Nomania with great success. Diana Hanly acquitted herself very well in two roles, that of Marfa and the Count Luz.

Others who gave outstanding performances include Bruce Raymond as the Gendarme, Louise Steiner as Osmi, Carolyn Chapleau as Borlo, Valerie Davies as Vavna, Maureen Lefcort as Tomi, Joan Blackman as Tiana and Reina Lee Aron as the Marquis.

Joy Thomson, the director, excelled in the role of Snigran, the miser . . . it is a pity that she does not appear more often in the plays which she directs. When questioned about this, Miss Thomson replied that "running a theatre school for children and adults, in addition to designing scenery and producing and directing shows, is quite sufficient without acting". When it comes to children's plays, in which she is very interested, she does sometimes weaken, particularly when it would be difficult for a student to fill the part. In fact, in Kings in Nomania, she plays two roles, the second being that of the gollowog, or master of ceremonies, an unusual and difficult interpretation.

Excellent performances were given also by Jean-Paul Blondin, Rusty Fleischman, Marina Kupitsky and Estelle Mendelsohn as mechanical dolls. Mention must be made of members of the 'gang' who all gave a good performance. They include Paula Aberson, Erica Cheny, Natalie Friedman, Vivian Harland, Audrey Ireland, Joan Joseph, Binnie Kanisberg, Byron Katz, Elain Nathanson, Gola Rosenberg, Yvonne Troker.

The aforementioned, except for Miss Thomson, are members either of the Children's Workshop or the School of Theatre Arts, both sponsored by the Canadian Art Theatre. Lighting was by William Springford and music by Moira Sheehy.

Kings in Nomania will be repeated at 2.30 p.m. on the following three Saturdays, November 30th, Dec. 7th and 14th. There will be four other productions later in the season, and enquiries regarding them may be made at Canadian Art Theatre, 5767 Monkland Avenue.

ANCHORED FAST IN WOOD

Increasing numbers of boat-builders are switching to Monel Anchorfast nails for wooden hull construction, replacing screws they formerly had been using. The Anchorfast nail is easy to use as it is driven the same as an ordinary nail, yet it has annular grooves that give it the holding power of a screw, and as the wood swells the nail becomes even more firmly embedded. Being corrosion-resistant, it can't rust or rot the wood.

Olivia De Havilland, whose film career has been studded with outstanding performances, certainly has her best role to date in "To Each His Own", which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night. Flanked by a sterling supporting cast headed by newcomer, John Lund, Miss De Havilland turns in a sure-fire characterization in this stirring, emotional drama.

"To Each His Own" is Jody's story, the story of her turbulent life as she lives the years from World War I to World War II. It is told in retrospect, beginning and ending in London during the blitz. But Jody's story is not, in any way, a war story, for what comes to pass could have happened at any time to this dreamy romanticist who wouldn't believe it was love unless it was right out of the blue.

Love, the kind of love Jody dreamed of, comes to her in the years of the first Great War, when she meets flying Captain Bart Cosgrove (John Lund), and, ecstatically, they live their lifetime together in the few hours he has left before going back to combat. Out of this short-lived romance, a son is born to Jody, and he becomes the breath of life for her when she learns that Bart has been killed in France.

Sacrificing her happiness for that of her son, she allows him to be taken by friends, rather than have him astracized by the world as a fatherless child. But, when she is at last in a position to claim him, the boy has no love for her, and she sends him back to his foster parents without revealing her identity. Jody decides to go to London to forget her heartbreak in hard work.

Mother and son meet again in London of World War II. He, like his father, is a flying officer, and is in London on leave. Through a series of intensely dramatic circumstances, he, at realizes that Jody is his mother.

Handsome and virile, John Lund stands out as a sure bet for stardom in his dual role of Jody's lover and son.

"Torrid Zone", With Sheridan, Cagney, O'Brien At Monkland

One of the fastest and funniest comedy-dramas to come out of Hollywood is "Torrid Zone". Triple-starred with Ann Sheridan, James Cagney and Pat O'Brien, this feature is playing a return engagement at the Monkland United Theatre, staying until Friday night, and rings the bell with every line of its swift-paced dialogue.

The star trio makes a dynamic combination. Whether Cagney is making love to Miss Sheridan, or fighting with O'Brien, he is indomitable. As for Miss Sheridan, she is exuberantly lovely whether she is cheating the natives at cards, singing in the cafe, brawling with O'Brien or trying to ensnare Cagney.

The story is laid somewhere in the banana belt. O'Brien, as head man for a big fruit company, is the big shot of Puerto Aguilar, and runs things pretty much to suit himself. Chief thorn in his somewhat tough side is James Cagney, as the ace plantation boss who refuses to be run. When the story opens, Cagney has just given notice that he is quitting and going back to the States. O'Brien has to swallow his pride and bribe him to stay, because he is badly needed. In a fit of temper over this situation, O'Brien goes into the Hotel Nationale Bar, and finds Ann Sheridan cheating the patrons at cards after wowing them with a torch song. He orders the chief of police to arrest her and send her back to the States.

But Miss Sheridan likes the tropics, and she also likes Cagney, of whom she has gotten a brief glimpse, so she escapes from the boat just before it sails and stows away on a fruit train that is taking Cagney back to his plantation job. Arriving there,

Ariadne Brings Best Of Dozen Operas To Montreal

Exceptional demand for seats for the New York City Opera Company's production of Richard Strauss's Ariadne, the Montreal Festivals announces, has led to the decisions to stage a second performance of the Viennese opera at His Majesty's Theatre. The second performance will be given on Thursday, December 4, the day following the Canadian premiere which has been sold out to capacity.

Ariadne, which proved to be the most successful of the twelve operas produced by the New York City Opera Company at the New York City Centre during its Fall season, was composed by Strauss between 1912 and 1916. It had been given twice before in the United States, once several years ago in Philadelphia and once in a student performance at the Juilliard School in New York. The present production, however, has been hailed by critics as the most representative one to date.

The initial performance of the present production of Ariadne, which took place last October 10, will be long remembered in its annals, the New York City Centre reports. Only one performance had been planned on an experimental basis. But the production proved to be the biggest operatic novelty in New York for many years. It led to an extension of the season and the scheduling of many more performances. Influential critics as well as the public hailed Ariadne, at "the most important event of the New York musical season."

Montreal will be the only city outside New York to see the opera which will be given here by the entire original cast of the City Centre operatic company. Laszlo Halasz will direct and the stage director will be Leopold Sachse who produced Ariadne many times for the composer and was responsible for the staging of the Italian premiere.

Minor Hockey Organizing Here

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By LANG DESJARDINS

Tomorrow evening in the Jacques Cartier Room, of the Berkeley Hotel, our Senior Footballers will bid an official farewell to the 1946 pigskin season with a supper to be followed by a party. This affair, organized by team members themselves, will be informal and private. In keeping with the team's record for the past season, it is only natural that the boys wish to mark the occasion of an enjoyable season with as little fanfare as possible.

Rev. Father Wilfred McDonagh, P.P., our esteemed pastor, and Brother Bernard, the school Director, have accepted the invitation from team captain Morris Strachan to honor us with their presence.

Mrs. Strachan, Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Guilfoyle and Mr. Leo McKenna, parents of the team executive, will be in attendance at the party.

SPORT SHORTS:

At this writing it looks like the two first lines on the Senior School Hockey Club, will be drawn from Moe Strachan, Jimmy McCarthy and Bob Caron as one unit and Bob Lunny, Mickey Bourassa and Albert Losito forming the other. Caron however may have to hustle as his condition to date in practice has been disappointing to his coach.

We hear that the Sports Committee of the Parents Association are seriously discussing the possibility of putting lights on the school rink. This indeed would be a progressive move and a boom to hockey in the school. At present, with standard time back in effect, there is very little daylight on weekdays to afford much opportunity to play hockey games on the rink.

Last week the Bantam Q.A.H.A. and Bantam Interscholastic teams assembled to elect their captains for the coming hockey campaign. Harold Wolfe was the popular choice of the Interscholastic group, and Ray Losito of the Q.A.H.A.

On Saturday, December 14, at Lachine Arena, our Interscholastic Bantams will play an exhibition game with Roy Ebers' West Hill Juniors.

D'Arcy McGee are expected to return back to Senior hockey after a lapse of a few years. It is not decided whether they will enter a team in the "A" or "B" group. At any rate it is nice to see them back in senior school hockey as the picture was not quite complete without them.

D'Arcy McGovern, former star athlete at the Academy, has come forward with a generous offer of a few trophies to put up for competition on the school's athletic program, but it is hardly likely that coach Andy McGillis will accept this spirited gesture, as he is of the opinion that too many trophies divide rather than unite the school spirit, and, as Andy puts it, "I wouldn't mind trading in some of our present trophies for some badly needed football equipment".

Winking, says a professor, enables you to see things more distinctly. Your error, for instance, if the pretty girls swings on you.

FEATURE IN ICE-CAPADES

Canadian capers are personified by these two lovely young French Canadian beauties from Montreal. They are the Benoit sisters, Denise (left) and Francine, featured performers in "Ice-Capades of 1947."

Always A Benoit With Ice Revue

If the management of "Ice Capades of 1947," which comes to the Forum on December 7th, wanted a living trade mark for their big skating extravaganza, one would come to mind readily. The Benoit sisters would be the ideal choice.

Benoits have been important factors in the success of "Ice Capades" ever since the first edition started on four seven years ago. At that time, Pierre Benoit of Quebec was an established skating star and he brought his sister, Denise, as his partner.

This sister and brother duo proved to be one of the favorite features of the early shows and great plans were in the making for future revues. Then Pierre was called into the service.

Denise, still only a teen-ager, was too talented to keep on the side lines while her brother was away at war, so a new partner, Elto Adair, was selected for her and the team worked smoothly. However, this partnership also was dissolved by Adair's call to the service.

John J. Harris, producer of the "Ice Capades," decided that there was little hope of keeping a partner for pretty Denise as long as Uncle Sam needed the boys in service. Then, it was Miss Benoit who offered a suggestion for a more permanent combination. She asked if her younger sister Francine, who was in the ballet, might audition with her. They were an immediate hit. Now, even with the war over and fine male skaters plentiful once more, the Benoit sisters can't be broken up because they are the fastest skating duo in the business—and the prettiest, too.

LEO GRAVELLE'S HISTORY
Leo Gravelle, of Montreal Canadiens, was born at Aylmer, Quebec, on June 10, 1925, stands 5 ft. 8½ inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. He starred last season for Montreal Royals in the Quebec Senior League and was a member of Toronto St. Michaels Memorial Cup winning team of 1944-45. Jimmy Thomson and Gus Morton, Toronto Maple Leafs youthful defence combination were teammates of Gravelle's on the St. Mikes Club.

Ten Teams Sure To Enter League

The juvenile, midget and bantam sections of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League held their organization meeting at Victoria Hall on Tuesday night. Although only ten teams signified definite intentions of operating this winter, at least seven other possibilities are mooted, so that the group will be as strong, numerically at least, as in other years.

Juvenile entries sure of competing this year are Richard Lord's Tornadoes, Hank Hensen's Panthers, and Jack Gatto's Argos. Hensen's Club, playing as a Unity outfit last year, won the juvenile title and will be back after the honours again this season. Although the club will be called the Panthers, as part of a new farm system in Westmount, it will still be sponsored by the Unity Boys' Club. Tornadoes were in the section last year but the Argos is a new aggregation. A possible fourth team headed by Cliff Gill, may also ice a squad before the next meeting.

The midget entries were not so numerous with but two definite "A" clubs and one "B" entry. The "A" teams are Dave Ross' Panthers and Richard Lord's Tornadoes, while Andy McGillis' St. Leo's squad is the only "B" team. It is hoped to line up one more "A" team and at least two more "B" clubs before the season starts.

Three bantam "A" and one bantam "B" clubs were at the meeting. Richard Lord's Tornadoes, Bob Gough's Panthers, and Andy McGillis' championship St. Leo's club are the "A" clubs. Dave McDougall's Skulls is the only "B" team so far.

As in the other brackets, more bantam teams are expected to come into the fold with the prospects of a four-club circuit in each division being quite good.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, December 10, at Victoria Hall, and this date will be the deadline for accepting teams. Any clubs wishing to enter these sections of the league who were not represented last night are asked to contact Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick immediately.

"You're starting just the way I did, Billy!"

Like Billy, Mr. Clark started in business delivering papers. He collected Fridays, settled with his publisher Saturdays and placed a portion of his profits in his savings account at the bank. That was 40 years ago. Mr. Clark has been using his bank regularly ever since.

Whether it was delivering papers, working week-ends at the corner store, or doing chores on the farm, you will always remember how proud you were of your first job, your first pay and your first bank book in your pocket. All were earned by your own initiative.

Today, as in the past, young people whose ambition is to get ahead, put their savings in the bank. It is the first step towards an association which can well be vital to business and personal life.

PUTTING

It will be "Movie Night" at the Westmount Putters Social Club next Monday night when this group meets at Victoria Hall. Chairman Win Stott has arranged a program of films to be shown before the members, and it is expected that a large number of the putters will take advantage of the program lined up.

The films will come from various sources with some being supplied by the C.P.R. The group was supplied with a somewhat similar program last spring and it was received very warmly so that it is expected that this Monday's menu will also be appreciated.

Last Monday's session was featured by refreshments which went along very well with the rest of the program carried out during the evening.

Hockey Inter Meeting Mon.

The intermediate section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League will hold another meeting this Monday night at the office in the greenhouse. Monday's get-together will get underway at eight o'clock.

At the organization meeting held two weeks ago, some four clubs were represented namely Advent, Royals, Junior Football Club and an unnamed group. It is quite possible that the Legion will be back with a squad but it is doubtful whether more than four clubs will make up the final alignment of teams.

This Monday has been set as the deadline for accepting teams so that any club wishing to enter

Interest In Fig. Skating

Keen interest is being shown in the figure skating program planned by the Westmount Parks Department this winter, and numerous inquiries are being made by the residents. It would seem that the rink behind the Conservatory in Westmount Park will be used extensively this season.

As mentioned before in this paper, Ken Willock, one of the top instructors in Montreal, has been engaged by the City of Westmount to give lessons on the rink each week-day afternoon and evening as well as on Saturday mornings. Willock has an impressive record in the teaching game and has developed some outstanding skaters. In addition to this he also appeared with ice shows throughout Canada and the United States.

TICKETS

Membership tickets for the rink will be available at the office in the greenhouse, just behind Victoria Hall, within the next couple of weeks. There will be junior and senior membership tickets and the prices will be scaled accordingly.

It is hoped to have the rink open as soon as possible, about mid-December is a probable date. Further information may be obtained by calling at the office in the greenhouse personally or by phoning DE. 9351.

the loop is asked to have at least one representative at this meeting.

Further information may be obtained from Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick, at DE 9351 or DE 6923.

Basketball Dance

A Basketball Dance will be held this Friday, November 29th, at the Westmount Y.M.C.A., at 8 p.m. The Midget Inter-'Y' basketball team, captained by Ronald George, will play an exhibition game against the Vendome Wanderers.

Dancing will commence at the end of the game, Alan Smith being master of ceremonies. A special program has been arranged for the occasion.

This dance is being held to equip the 'Y' team. Members and friends are invited to attend.

Roller Skating Party

A series of Saturday evening outings for the 'Teen-age members of the 'Y' commences this Saturday, Nov. 30th.

A Roller Skating Party will be the first in this series, meeting at the 'Y' at 8 p.m. The group will go to the Coliseum together and then return to the 'Y' for dancing and refreshments.

Other Saturday night trips planned include bowling, a Sleigh Ride, a Park Slide Night and A Skating Party.

Movies

This week's Saturday afternoon movie at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. is "The Sage Brush Family Trails West", starring thirteen year old cowboy actor, Bobby Clark. The serial "Young Eagles" will be shown on the same bill, Movie commences at 1.15 p.m.

Woodworking

Fellows under 14 years of age have a regular woodworking group, meeting right after the movies on Saturday afternoons. The group is now constructing doll's chairs for Christmas presents.

to state that the girl students of Westmount High are the best-looking group of young women in the entire Dominion of Canada. I challenge any other high school to prove my statement incorrect.

I have been reading a bit about ancient history lately and have become impressed with the influences of the travelling salesman on the civilization of Europe and the Near East. Most of us think of a travelling salesman as someone in a joke who visits a farm which boasts a good-looking daughter. But the travelling salesman has been an important and largely ignored factor in this history of the world.

Bronze implements were brought into Stone Age Europe by travelling salesmen from the Near East. These allowed the Europeans to make better tools and conveyances, and so boosted Europe towards civilization.

Egyptian travelling salesmen sailed across the Mediterranean to Crete and sold the Cretans pottery, gold and glass objects. These the Cretans learned to copy and improve upon until they became the centre of the industry and their salesmen spread their products throughout the known world. This was about four thousand years ago.

Salesmen from later Bronze Age Europe went down to Egypt and, showing amazing advancement, took orders for chariots which the Egyptians buried with their dead. The salesmen gave them a high pressure line about needing the vehicles if they were to get to the happy lands beyond death.

When the Greeks as such became established, the Cretes and Egyptians sold them works of art which they, in turn, copied and improved upon, the Hellenes were the centre of art and industry. Then the centre of art and industry.

B. M. Annual Report Tells Record-Breaking Deposits

Maintaining the modern trend in bank statements which it initiated a year ago, the Bank of Montreal today published its annual report covering financial transactions with more than 1,500,000 customers in the form of a well-illustrated and readily-understandable story of 1946 operations.

The story, told simply and clearly, is one of record-breaking figures, all-time high resources and an indication of the general prosperity of Canadians during the year. As the B of M puts it, the annual statement shows the "Human Facts Behind the Figures" in examples of individual transactions that make up the statistics of a record year of financial operation.

In many ways, this report of Canada's senior financial institution reflects conditions as they exist in Canada today. Deposits in the B of M, for instance, now stand at $1,736,000,000, the highest in its history and more than $100,000,000 above the figure of last year. While indicating that Canadians generally are better off financially than they have been for a number of years, the same increase provides reassuring proof that the citizens of the nation are themselves wisely safeguarding against runaway inflation through their personal financing.

Total assets, or "What the B of M has in resources to meet its obligations" now stand at $1,843,000,000—the largest assets figure in the 129-year history of the bank. Included with the figures contained under this heading are explanations, in simple language, of the various items of the B of M's balance sheet.

Two items contained in the total resources are of particular interest just now, since they indicate a trend away from wartime financing measures towards more standard financial arrangements of peacetime operation. For one thing, commercial and other loans have jumped from $220,264,000 up to $301,659,000 during the year; while, at the same time, holdings of bonds, debentures and stocks—other than government and other public securities—are shown at $56,022,000. This figure represents to some extent the extension of credit to industrial enterprises for reconversion from wartime to peacetime production, and for expansion of productive facilities in established fields. The bank's main investments are, of course, still in high-grade government bonds and other public securities which now stand at well over a billion dollars.

These figures clearly demonstrate the trend away from conditions which existed during the war when much of the financing of industrial projects was done through the use of government funds, and the swing towards normal conditions in which private business financing is done through the facilities of the chartered banks.

The statement shows that the greater proportion of all the bank's assets is in the form of "liquid resources"—cash and call loans, or securities which can be converted into cash quickly and easily. Total liquid resources of the B of M now stand at $1,506,188,000, as compared with $1,461,326,000 a year ago.

Illustrations accompanying the annual statement show how business firms, private citizens and governments use the many facilities of the bank not only to deposit their money for safekeeping, but to borrow for the financing of new enterprises, the repair and construction of homes, and for municipal and farm implements.

As might be expected, with the largely expanded operations of the bank during the past year, the profit figures are substantially above those of a year ago and it is understood that, in addition to the increased volume of business, a factor affecting profits is certain abnormal revenues accruing during the period under review.

The statement shows profits after taxes at $4,487,782, as compared with $2,934,681 last year. After payment of dividends to those who have invested their

Few Accidents Here Recently

The Westmount Police blotter shows that during the past seven days, the City has had one of its quietest weeks as far as accidents have been concerned. The only accident noted was a collision involving an auto and a street car which occurred Monday about 8.30 p.m. at the intersection of Redfern Avenue and Sherbrooke Street West.

Frank Lovell, driver of the automobile stated that he was proceeding west on Sherbrooke Street and stopped to let oncoming traffic pass, prior to making a left hand turn onto Redfern Avenue. There was no street car, he stated, at his rear just before he made his turn but suddenly he heard a street car bell ringing loudly and presuming there was something wrong he tried to get off the tracks but the rear of his auto was struck by the street car.

There was no one injured in the collision and only slight damage resulted.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

EVENING GROSBEEK

Nearly all our migratory birds still keep to the old ancestral flyways. Just occasionally there is an exception to this rule because: either the original route has been spoiled for them (it may be the cutting down of trees, or by a drought), or a new path holds some special attraction.

The Evening Grosbeak is one of the exceptions. Its home is in the coniferous forests far north of Lake Superior; but like the Pine Siskin it is irregular in its nesting sites as well as in its choice of a locality when on its holidays. It spends the summer at almost any point from the mountains of British Columbia to eastern Manitoba: in one place this year and another place next year. As autumn approaches it moves down towards settlements.

Once quite unknown in the east, it has now extended its course as far as New England, following the path laid out by the railways. As the tracks went down, towns sprang up beside them, and there were planted the quick-growing Manitoba maples. Because the Evening Grosbeak has a special "penchant" for this tree's seeds which hang on in great pale-golden clusters throughout the winter, it gradually took to coming farther and farther east.

And so we all have the chance of coming upon a flock of these beautiful birds at a season when most species have gone farther south. A band of ten or so may arrive near our settlements any time from November on until early spring, causing pleasure and excitement wherever they are seen because their visit is always unheralded. They may even take a little trip quite far south of their ordinary range if the inducement is strong enough. Plentiful seed crops lure them.

Actually a member of the large Sparrow family, the Evening Grosbeak most nearly resembles a Canary: being olive-brown, white, yellow and black in patches. But it is eight inches long, and, of course, has an extremely big bill. It owes its title of "Evening" to the soft, lullaby-like quality of its nesting song which, unfortunately, few have had the opportunity of hearing.

If you want to coax this bird to your vicinity the trick is to provide not only Manitoba maples, money in B of M shares, an amount of $1,067,782 was added to the balance in profit and loss account. This made a balance of $4,256,285, from which a transfer of $3,000,000 was made to the Reserve Fund which now stands at $42,000,000—a part of the shareholders' funds amounting to $79,256,285. This figure is made up of money subscribed by the shareholders who own the bank, and to some extent, of profits which from time to time—as this year—have been ploughed back into the business to strengthen the bank's position and to provide added protection for the depositors.

she finds some competition, Helen Vinson, as the beautiful and dissatisfied wife of another of the plantation bosses, is also interested in Cagney, in a large way. As for Jimmy himself, he is too much harrassed by the depredations made on the plantations by a group of guerilla bandits during his absence, to give much time to romance.

The cast is uniformly excellent. Supporting the three stars are Andy Devine, as Cagney's pal, Helen Vinson, who plays the

HUMAN FACTS BEHIND THE FIGURES

Merchants, businessmen and people in every sort of enterprise borrow a lot of money from the B of M. One of these was Mr. P. R. B., an expert baker, who, after service with the Forces, wanted to own a small wholesale bakery again. Lacking the ready cash, he came to the B of M, obtained a $500 loan, and is now running a profitable little business.

Thousands of business men—with big enterprises and little ones—use B of M loans to help them in their financing. The dollars they borrow oil the wheels of commerce and industry, facilitate production and create employment.

B of M Personal Loans helped no less than 157,020 people during the past year—people like Mr. A. L. T., who needed money to help him finish constructing his own home. He got three B of M Personal Loans, totalling more than $600, over a period of 18 months, and he has paid them off regularly in monthly instalments. Now his home is in fine shape and the loans are repaid. Interest cost of loans: $32.53.

Over 500 people from every walk of life come to the B of M every business day to borrow for personal needs.

BANKING is not the mysterious business some people are inclined to think it. In its fundamentals, it is no more complex than any other type of business.

The chief difference is that, instead of dealing in goods, your bank deals in money . . . money which belongs mainly to you and to the many other Canadians who deposit their funds with the bank.

At the B of M, for instance, well over a million people have placed on deposit close to one and three-quarter billion dollars.

This money doesn't stand idle . . . it works to earn its keep.

This is why, as you will see here, some of the dollars left at the B of M are lent to merchants, businessmen and manufacturers to assist them in their operations, while others are used to finance the needs of governments. Some enable farmers to improve their farms, buy machinery and market crops. Many others go out to help citizens in their day-to-day financing—in meeting emergencies and in taking advantage of opportunities.

The sum total of all these transactions makes interesting reading, not so much on account of the figures themselves, but because of the human stories behind them.

At the close of the B of M's business year, it seems a good thing for these dollars to show what they have been doing and for the Bank to report on the transactions which it has undertaken for its customers from coast to coast.

Farmers all across the Dominion use the B of M to finance their needs in buying seed, cattle and machinery—in marketing crops—and in improving their farms generally. This means more prosperous farming communities—and bigger agricultural production to meet the urgent needs of a hungry world.

Typical of these go-ahead farmers is Mr. R. B. L., who wanted to clear and break 50 acres on his farm. The job would cost $325, but his ready cash amounted to only $125. With the aid of a B of M farm improvement loan of $200, he completed the job and has considerably increased the production and profits from his farm.

To municipalities, school districts and governments, the B of M is constantly lending money for undertakings that benefit the whole community.

Take the case of an Ontario town, which—to pay for a new sewage system—was selling debentures amounting to $305,000. The Bank of Montreal bought 44% of the issue, a total of $134,000, which is now being used by the town to complete the undertaking.

Many municipalities use the B of M's facilities to finance community improvements and to handle their financial transactions generally.

If you are a B of M depositor, then it may be your money which assisted Mr. P. R. B. to buy his bakery—which helped Mr. A. L. T. finish constructing his home—which enabled Farmer R. B. L. to make his farm more profitable—and which helped finance the new sewage system for the Ontario town. That working money of yours is part of $1,700,000,000 which well over a million Canadians have deposited at 498 B of M branches from coast to coast. Each one of the 1,531,658 B of M deposit accounts is an expression of trust in Canada's first-established bank, which has been working with Canadians in every walk of life for 129 years.

"MY BANK"
TO A MILLION CANADIANS

Reporting

WHAT THE B of M HAS IN RESOURCES TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS:

CASH . . . The B of M has cash in its vaults and money on deposit with the Bank of Canada amounting to . . . . .	$ 192,687,153.28
MONEY in the form of notes of, cheques on, and deposits with other banks. . . . .	98,358,231.24
INVESTMENTS: The B of M has well over one billion dollars invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities, which have a ready market. Listed on the Bank's books at a figure not greater than their market value, they amount to . . . . .	1,099,728,432.17
The B of M has other bonds, debentures and stocks, representing to some extent the extension of credit to industrial enterprises for reconversion from wartime to peacetime production, and for expansion of productive facilities in established fields. Valued at no more than the market price, they amount to . . . . .	56,022,926.42
CALL LOANS: The B of M has call loans which are fully protected by quickly saleable securities. These loans amount to . . . . .	59,391,558.13
QUICKLY AVAILABLE RESOURCES: The resources listed above, all of which can quickly be turned into cash, cover 85.35% of all that the Bank owes to the public. These "quick assets" amount to . . . . .	$1,506,188,301.24
LOANS: During the year, many millions of dollars have been lent to business and industrial enterprises for production of every kind, including housing and construction—to farmers, fishermen, lumbermen and ranchers—to citizens in all walks of life, and to Provincial and Municipal Governments and School Districts. These loans now amount to . . . . .	301,659,974.44
BANK BUILDINGS: In hamlets, villages, towns and large cities from coast to coast the B of M serves its customers at 498 offices. The value of the buildings owned by the Bank, together with furniture and equipment, is shown on its books at . . . . .	10,575,688.13
OTHER ASSETS: These chiefly represent liabilities of customers for commitments made by the Bank on their behalf, covering foreign and domestic trade transactions, totalling $21,538,615.59.	25,561,623.59
TOTAL RESOURCES WHICH THE B of M HAS TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS . . . . .	$1,843,985,587.40

WHAT THE B of M OWES TO OTHERS:

DEPOSITS: While many business firms, manufacturers, merchants, farmers and people in every type of business have large deposits with the B of M, the bulk of the money on deposit with the Bank is the savings of more than a million private citizens. The total of all deposits is . . . . .	$1,736,212,708.35
BANK NOTES: B of M bills in circulation, which are payable on presentation, amount to . . . . .	5,512,707.50
OTHER LIABILITIES: Miscellaneous items, representing mainly commitments undertaken by the Bank on behalf of customers in their foreign and domestic trade transactions totalling $21,538,615.59. . . . .	23,003,885.74
TOTAL OF WHAT THE B of M OWES ITS DEPOSITORS AND OTHERS . . . . .	1,764,729,301.59
TO PAY ALL IT OWES, THE B of M HAS TOTAL RESOURCES, AS SHOWN ON THE LEFT SIDE OF THIS STATEMENT, AMOUNTING TO . . . . .	1,843,985,587.40
WHICH MEANS THAT THE B of M HAS RESOURCES, OVER AND ABOVE WHAT IT OWES, AMOUNTING TO . . . . .	$ 79,256,285.81
This figure of $79,256,285.81 is made up of money subscribed by the shareholders who own the Bank and, to some extent, of profits which have from time to time been ploughed back into the business to broaden the Bank's services.
PROFITS: After making provision for contingencies, for depreciation of Bank premises, furniture, and equipment, the B of M reports a profit (including an adjustment in United Kingdom Taxes 1938-46) for the twelve months ended October 31st, 1946 . . . . .	$ 10,263,782.91
Provision for Income and Excess Profits Taxes . . . . .	5,776,000.00
Leaving a net profit of . . . . .	4,487,782.91
Of this amount, shareholders (paid dividends at the rate of 80 cents a year, plus an extra distribution of 15 cents, for each $10-share of the Bank) received or will receive . . . . .	3,420,000.00
Thus, the net amount to be added to the balance of profits from previous years' operations is . . . . .	$ 1,067,782.91
Balance in the Profit and Loss Account at October 31st, 1945, amounted to . . . . .	3,188,502.90
	$ 4,256,285.81
Transferred to Reserve Fund, which now amounts to $42,000,000 and is included in the shareholders' funds of $79,256,285.81 mentioned above . . . . .	3,000,000.00
Leaving a balance in the Profit and Loss Account at October 31st, 1946, at . . . . .	$ 1,256,285.81
