Mr. W. L. Putney, lately of Smith's Mills, left yesterday for New Hampshire where he will work at carpentry during the summer.

All who are interested in the lake should read Randall Comfort's article "New Motorboats on Memphremagog" on the second page of this paper.

Congregational Church. Next Sunday evening the pastor will give the fourth of the nature studies. Subject, Men and Birds. Soloist, Miss Pierce.

Messrs. C. M. Libby of Portland, Me., J. M. Cady, H. B. Blossom and W. A. Wright of St. Johnsbury, also A. B. Day of Boston were in town Friday.

Deacon Charles N. Hill was the delegate from the church at Rock Island who accompanied Rev. J. G. Hindley to the ordination and installation exercises at the Congregational Church, Fitch Bay on Monday.

Derby Line cemetery is being beautified. Many new shrubs have been set out and the grounds are looking well. Caretaker Lysander H. Hopkins is able to look after the cemetery again after a long illness.

There is more or less sawdust being dumped into the Tomfobia, and we regret that ignorance of the law and thoughtlessness causes anyone to do the thing that is sure to retard the results of the effort to stock this stream with trout.

TOWN TOPICS.

Always turn to the right for autos when they come up behind you.

Remember to turn to the right when an auto wishes to pass from the rear.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin P. Ball are moving to-day to their summer home at Lake Park.

Mr. John Bushnell of Charlestown, N. H., arrived in town this morning for the day.

The Derby Line school was closed Victoria Day and will have a session on Saturday instead.

Mr. F. T. Caswell has purchased an Overland touring car, one of the best machines built in it's class.

Mr. T. Frank O'Rourke attended the meeting of the Knights of Columbus at St. Johnsbury yesterday.

If you are interested in a gasoline motor, marine or stationary, consult Charles W. Stevens, Rock Island.

Messrs. T. J. Norris, A. F. Gilmore and Victor Cordeau went Wednesday to St. Johnsbury by auto to attend the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. George T. Terrill has purchased a 45 barrel concrete mixer. The mixer and power plant is all one machine, and the mixer is largely automatic.

Now it is wheeling and the question of the purchase of a new buggy or surrey confronts you. Go over to Lee Farm and look over the spring stock of vehicles.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Baxter and masters Warren and Ellery of Montreal, were the guests of Mr. Baxter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John U. Baxter at the Derby Line hotel over Victoria Day.

Mr. William M. Pike is about to install an auxiliary to his water power plant to enable him to furnish the maximum efficiency throughout the year. It will probably be a gasoline engine.

If you think of buying an oil stove be sure and see the Blue Flame with the Day Light oven at Ralph J. Hunts. No more opening of the oven door to see if your bread or cake is browning, look through the oven door window.

The following salesmen were doing business in the villages yesterday: N. H. Edwards, Laconia, N. H., Oscar Proulx, Newport, W. B. Smally and H. M. Greene, Greenfield, Mass., R. D. Willard, W. H. Hopkins and A. M. Hook, Boston.

The Peerless Overall Co., are beginning to get plans for their new factory building, and expect to have it ready for occupancy this fall. A three-story, 40x75 structure is contemplated. It will be a fine modern manufacturing building.

Bank men in this Province get two holidays together this week—Victoria day, May 24th, and Ascension day, May 25th. Mr. A. C. McPhee of the E. T. Bank left Tuesday night for Cowansville, Mr. E. R. Lawrence for Montreal, Mr. Howard Visser for Coaticook.

Members of the Faculty, students and friends of Stanstead College to the number of 125 participated in an excursion through Lake Memphremagog yesterday. The party left by special train at 10 o'clock, embarking at Newport on the steamer "Anthemis" which had been chartered for the occasion.

A picnic at Owl's Head was one of the attractions and about twenty climbed the mountain. "A glorious time" was the unanimous verdict of the party!

Chauffeur Hiram H. Sheltus, with George Hall's car, took a party to St. Johnsbury yesterday to participate in the Knights of Columbus festivities which terminated with a big banquet at that place last night. The party left here at 10 a. m., arriving at St. Johnsbury at 12.25. The return began at about 3 a. m. to-day and in the darkness was necessarily slower. The party was composed of Messrs. T. J. Norris, A. J. Bissonnet, Albert Gilmore and Victor Cordeau.

The Tomfobia Baseball League consisting of four teams, M. Y. C.'s, Heathton, Beebees and Boy Scouts, have decided upon the following schedule: M. Y. C. and Heathton, at Derby Line, Boy Scouts and Beebees, at Beebe, June 24th; Boy Scouts and Heathton at Derby Line, Beebe and M. Y. C. at Beebe, July 1st; M. Y. C. and Boy Scouts at Derby Line, Beebe and Heathton at Beebe, July 8th; Boy Scouts and Beebees at Derby Line, M. Y. C. and Heathton at Heathton, July 15th; M. Y. C. and Beebees, at Derby Line, Heathton and Boy Scouts at Heathton, July 22nd; M. Y. C. and Boy Scouts at Derby Line, Heathton and Beebees at Heathton, July 29th. The league are to play for a trophy, a handsome silver cup, and everything points to a very interesting and successful series of games.

Mr. Charles Frost of Bellows Falls was a guest at Gen. F. G. Butterfield's yesterday.

Gen. F. G. Butterfield left to-day for Boston and will return at the end of the week.

The M. Y. C. ball team thrashed the machine shop team the fourth time Saturday. This is a snappy aggregation and play good ball. Their team work is quite remarkable for youngsters.

If you are looking for a bargain in an office desk and chair, examining table, 6 piece mission set, large hall piece, or a steel range, Dr. Cass will sell any of these articles at 50 per cent. discount if sold before Monday the 29th. Also bicycle tire runabout, covered buggy, 2 harnesses, robe and sleigh.

The Universalist Church is to be the meeting place of the G. A. R. on Sunday, when the pastor will preach the memorial sermon on the subject: "The Desire of Nations." The choir of the church will render special music. The Congregational Church will join in the service, withdrawing their morning service.

The Secretary of the Stanstead County Agricultural Society recently received word from the Provincial Minister of Agriculture that the agricultural merit competition will take place this year in the "second region," which includes Stanstead County. Members of the Society who drew prizes on farms last year are entitled to free entry. Blanks have been sent to all such. Entries must be made by June 1st, to F. J. Robinson, Secretary S. C. A. S., Ayer's Cliff, or direct to B. Michand, Secretary Department of Agriculture, Quebec.

Editor William H. Bishop, of Island Pond, editor for 30 years of the Essex County Herald, died at his home last Sunday morning about half after eight o'clock. The cause of his death was the aftermath of an operation for cancer, which was performed by the late Dr. James Bell, at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, about three months ago. The funeral was held, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. We shall have a more extended notice of this man, who died the dean of the state press and who enjoyed the esteem and friendship of all who knew him.

Rev. John Fowkes of Georgeville, was at Rock Island on business Monday. Although an active man at seventy-one, he has seen many years' service in the ministry and will be superannuated next month. After the June Conference he will sail for the OLD LAND to visit some of the haunts of his boyhood. Mr. Fowkes will be accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss May Fowkes, who is teaching Latin and French at the French Methodist Institute in Montreal. Miss Fowkes won distinction at MacDonald College, and, although but twenty years of age, is making her mark as a teacher—she is going to England for a well-earned rest.

A large quantity of fingerling trout were recently placed in the Tomfobia river by Gen. F. G. Butterfield. The young fish had scarcely begun to grow before the irrepresible small boy began to fish them out. Saturday some of these youthful fishers were overhauled with a number of the young fish in a pail. Naturally the man who goes to the trouble and expense of stocking a stream, with the ultimate object of making good fishing for everybody a few years hence, is discouraged by such procedure. Children should be forbidden to fish for these fingerlings, or with bait likely to be taken by them. If parents will do their duty the fish may yet be spared until they are really worth catching.

Winona A. Pomeroy, aged twelve years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Pomeroy, Stanstead, recently received a $200.00 check from the Massey-Harris Company, being the third prize awarded for original illustrated advertisements. The drawing presented by the youthful artist shows a prosperous farmer seated on a Massey-Harris Seeder with his crops all in, while on the other side of a fence his less fortunate neighbor is struggling along with antiquated methods. The accompanying crop scene and the words put in the mouths of the two farmers tell the story to the advantage of the advertiser. The letter accompanying the check is written in French. One paragraph, when translated reads as follows: "We beg of you to accept our most sincere congratulations upon the manner and method of your advertisement which we will have occasion to publish in a very few days."

The annual meeting of Crystal Lake Cemetery Association was held at Stanstead, Saturday, when a satisfactory statement of the Association's affairs was presented. The following trustees were elected: Rev. A. Lee Holmes, M. A., R. C. Parsons, A. N. Thompson, Dr. E. P. Ball and H. E. Channell, the latter succeeding Dr. C. W. Colby, all others being re-elected.

Rev. A. Lee Holmes was re-elected President Mr. E. A. Baldwin, Secretary-Treasurer. Committee on Lots, Messrs. Thompson and Channell; Committee on Grounds, Messrs. Parsons and Ball. The irregularity of the northern boundary is still an unsettled question. At the annual meeting in 1910 a special committee consisting of Rev. A. Lee Holmes, E. A. Baldwin and A. N. Thompson was appointed to deal with the subject, but the matter is still in abeyance. It will likely be considered at an adjourned meeting to be held some time during the summer. Last year there was hope of connecting with the International Water Company's system as it was then thought the Walsh springs would be brought in past the cemetery. Now there is talk of a well wind-mill and tank to supply water there. Two of the trustees, Rev. A. Lee Holmes and Mr. A. N. Thompson, were unable to attend the cemetery meeting owing to a meeting of the directors of the Water Company at the same time. The annual statement of the Cemetery Association appears on page three of this paper.

The Frontier base ball team commenced the season Saturday afternoon when they played the Sherbrooke team at the local field, and they played another Wednesday a. m. with the Bartons on the home diamond. At Saturday's game there was good attendance, but the just after breakfast games fall to draw the people, it has always been a difficult thing to get the fans out before afternoon. The average base-ball enthusiast likes a game best on a full stomach. The score Saturday was 6 to 1 against the home team, and Wednesday it was more emphatic, 12 to 3. The boys will get at the game soon; can't get going so early in the season. The team looks pretty good, Sir Ralph will get better control after more practice. Bassett is O. K. only for careless or faulty throwing to second, but that will soon be over, he is at home with the Willard. William Pike played first with old time vim and snap. Ted on second was up to snuff, and he touched them up with the basswood, great! The old farmer at short wound his long fingers about the sphere for keeps, but he couldn't swat it with his whiffetree shave off your whiskers Si, and try the pole yoke. I vum you must hit it, old man. Mr. Gagnon at third needs goose oil on his tendons, applied with a hot shovel for he must loosen up and get into the game. The out-fields are coming some. Give the team, as it lines up today a good coach and they will play ball. Let's not get our hammers out just yet give them support. Even a cow will give the best mess of milk to a friend.

The adjourned meeting of the prospective fire company was held Tuesday evening, but as there was only a very few present, it was again adjourned subject to the call of the secretary.

Miss Twining and Miss Ritchie, friends of Miss Laidlaw, from Montreal, have taken Mr. Sidney Stevens' cottage for the season. Mr. Stevens is still absent and does not seem to be gaining as rapidly as his many friends would wish.

Some of the best histrionic talent in the villages are soon to give an extremely funny play at the Haskell Opera House. The title is: "Way down in Maine." You'll need to use a toughening solution on your sides, in order to be ready for the laughing you'll have to do when it is put on.

OLD TIME PRINTER'S DEVIL.

M. K. Stone inked the "Journal" for Mr. Dickerson Nearly Sixty Years Ago.

Mr. M. K. Stone, now of Lineboro, was a caller at our sanctum Saturday. Mr. Stone claims the distinction of having been one of the first printer's devils in the JOURNAL office. He afterwards served in the Federal army throughout the Civil War, and later on entered the consular service of the United States, but these are mere incidents compared with inking the forms with a hand roller when Silas Horton Dickerson "pulled off" the paper on an old Washington hand press, away back in the early forties. It may not be known to all present residents that Stanstead was the birthplace of Eastern Townships journalism. The first paper was the British Colonist and Mr. Dickerson was the publisher. He was a man of strong character and marked ability, but he had to take much of his pay in cabbages, and did not always succeed in keeping out of jail. He had a terse way of writing the truth which called forth the wrath of a Superior Court judge to such an extent that the pioneer printer-journalist was now and again an involuntary visitor to the District jail. During these occasional interruptions, which sometimes lasted for many weeks, the Colonist slept, but the active mind of its publisher did not, and liberty usually brought a fresh outbreak. Mr. Dickerson was a conscientious man; he was, no doubt, moulding public opinion, but he got few of this earth's treasures and must have found his task rather irksome. In the end he buried the Colonist and afterwards entered the employ of the late L. R. Robinson, who launched the JOURNAL in 1845.

When Mr. Stone "rolled" the type for Mr. Dickerson the JOURNAL was printed in what is now known as the O'Rourke building, corner Main street and Maple Avenue. When a child Mr. Stone came here to live with his brother, Dimond Stone, who then made sash and doors in what is now known as the Allard shop. Early in the "fifties" the Stones went to the States. M. K. was then thirteen. Years afterwards he became Vice-Consul at Coaticook. In 1907 Mr. and Mrs. Stone left for the South, but a financial panic made that section less inviting than they had anticipated and they turned back to the Dominion, selecting for their home a small estate at Lineboro. Mr. Stone is not in robust health and finds out-door life a necessity.

C. A. K. MacPherson, owner of the Owl's Head property, plans to repair the long wharf, clean up the premises and rent the cottages there this season. A restaurant and lunch counter is to be conducted by Robert Weston of Georgeville.

New Motorboats on Memphremagog

A Tour of the Lake Reveals Many Striking Novelties.

By Randall Comfort, in Motorboat.

"Hold on there,—don't you dare start off in the Sagamore without me! Bring her up a little closer, quick! Now, then—one—two—three. Safe on board! And now where are we all going?"

"Lake Memphremagog invites us to inspect a few more of her many beauties, this glorious day," we reply. "That is, if we can straggle a march through this foliage of new motorboats gathered around the Georgeville wharf. All aboard! We're off! Owl's Head Mountain first stop!"

"Georgeville Bay will be your first and last stop if you back into the motor-boat Clyde belonging to the Spalding household," cried a voice on the pier. "Well you just exactly escaped. Neatly done, that!"

A touch of a valve, a rock of the flywheel, and our new Miss Simplicity motor, aglitter with saffron enamel and sparkling with polished brass, was off with a flash, and we were dashing over the ripples with the speed of the wind.

And the new boats,—and the many flags! On our starboard we sighted the trim motordory, El-Eff-Es, trailing the familiar stars and stripes; on our forequarter passed the Dot, flying the Union Jack; hard a port, from the masthead of the semi-speeder, Sage, waved the tricolor of France.

To leeward, our lookout reported the Caprice, with her 12-hp. Lockwood-Ash motor, while heading dauntlessly into the teeth of the wind was the perfectly-equipped motor-rowboat from the Fichtel Camp, driven by her 3-hp. Gray engine.

"The good ship Sagamore flies along a trifle faster than last year, eh?" observed our companion.

"Well a 6-hp. motor is a good deal more than a 2½ hp.," we replied, stealthily moving the timer a notch or so forward.

Our companion made a frantic grasp to save his hat from a watery grave, and received forewith an impromptu bath of hissing spray. But we were merciful,—we slowed down again.

From a shaded cove of the great Dunkeld estate darted out the 25-footer, Pixie, new to the lake last season, her powerful engines of the opposed type being cunningly concealed beneath the middle seat. The staunch Mac from Cedar Cliffs was seeking to beat the canopied Curlew from Edgewood Cottage, while approaching us under full power was a speed boat named Mystery.

Leaving Georgeville and its armada of motor craft in our wake, another fast motor boat loomed up almost dead ahead. As she flashed past, driven by her 8-hp. double-cylinder Gray motor, we read the name Ilys on the bow, and gazed at the owner's pet dog Nemo, perched high at the stern.

All waved a hearty salute, for we recognized the Doctor, the loyal friend to all in distress, whose splendid new motorboat is so fleet that everybody declares that he is able to be at his patient's bedside, be it ever so far, even before the telephone bell has stopped ringing.

continued. "The doctor came unexpectedly to Georgeville one windy day last week," explained our passenger, "when a furious Canadian hurricane was raging, and not a boat of any kind was to be seen. Looking at the whitecaps, he exclaimed: 'I've missed the steamer and I want to cross the lake right away. Where'll I get a motorboat?'"

"Why didn't you tell him to take the Sagamore?" we inquired.

"I did—I told him to use it as his own. I knew you'd be willing—"

"I'd let him have anything I've got in the world!" I hastened to state.

"I guess he knew that anyway. 'Can you run the engine?' I asked him. 'I can run any engine going, and I don't mind this gale any more than if it were a few little ripples. Where are the keys?'"

"And did he go in this boat?"

"Just then the owner of the Cygnét appeared on the spot, and that reliable 25-footer took the doctor across in almost less time than it takes to tell it, waves or no waves. For when the doctor answers an emergency call it requires more than the fury of the elements to check his progress."

Meanwhile the Sagamore was speeding past the white lighthouse on Molson's Island, close to the picturesque Fernhill grounds, with their grand ancestral mansion, their towering rows of hedges and their grassy bowling green so exactly laid out with a spirit-level.

From the shelter of a quaint boat-house two dainty new craft came to greet us, the 25-footer Onaway with a shining three-cylinder St. Lawrence engine, and the trim motor canoe Amo with reliable Erd motor.

As for the Fernhill estate itself, a visit convinced us that a recent guest was exactly correct when we heard him tell the owner: "You need never die,—you have paradise right here around you."

A few more turns of our propeller and Owl's Head Mountain, the crowning glory of Lake Memphremagog, rose boldly above us. Cruising our necks upward, we saw Pel-ree-pow-hal Lodge, gracing the crest of a tall cliff; and in another minute the fine new 25-footer, Peter Pan II, swung around Pawnee Rock into her home.

Forty-seven stairs, we once found, were needed to reach this ideal lodge,—but what a view! Indeed so lost in rapture were we at the panorama of Memphremagog's 30 miles, spread beneath us, that we entirely failed to notice that some one had secretly stolen up to a gigantic cannon right at our elbow and had touched it off. The mighty roar that followed shook the very ground at our feet, and as the smoke cleared away we saw the Lady of the Lake, laden with her human freight, sweep majestically past, her great paddle wheels churning the dark water into a long wake of white foam.

Springing to the whistle-cord of the Lady, Captain Bullock instantly blew an answering salute that awakened the echoes of the distant hills.

"The Lady is the largest motorboat on these waters," explained some one, "and her's is a most unique history. Way back in 1867 she was built, through the means of none other than Sir Hugh Allan, founder of the now famous Allan line of steamers. Her hull, of solid iron, was constructed in Glasgow, Scotland, and Sir Hugh brought her over here in sections in one of his own steamships."

"You don't say so! But now we must positively tear ourselves away and descend to the common level once more. Why, if here isn't Jerry. Bet he wants to go to Newport with us! Jump in, Jerry, jump in."

"I've got a first rate story to tell you fellows," Jerry instantly began, as he lolled back among the luxurious cushions of the fast-moving Sagamore.

"All right, fire away—as long as it isn't a fish story. But wait a minute, let's whistle a salute to the steamer Anthemis as she—"

"That isn't the Anthemis—it's the steam-launch Ytoco, and she's taking a party to the Davis cottage at Knowlton's Landing."

"That's so, that's so. Well, we'll give Captain Holbrook a double salute. You see, the clear air this morning acts just like a magnifying glass."

"As long as it doesn't make us see double, it's all right. But now for Jerry's story."

"It's about Old John, the Truthful Fisherman of Owl's Head; used to live in an old hut right close to the lake, just behind that big boulder we're passing now—see it? An old Union veteran he was, and whenever he'd go to draw his pension he'd be back the next day with a strong breath and nothing in his pockets. Awful fond of fishing he was, and one day Old John turned up missing. Everybody thought he must have fallen overboard from his skiff, so we all started to fish for him."

"Find him? Why, of course we did! All we had to do was to tie a whiskey flask to the end of our line, 'stead of a hook, and in three seconds Old John came splashing to the surface, clutching at the bottle with both hands!"

"That reminds me of my fish story," I began, but at this juncture the ruder took things into its own hands and, as if by instinct, steered us into the hospitable haven of the Hawklohe cottage.

And so, cozily ensconced in those delightfully comfortable rocking-chairs, with that glorious view before us, we felt as if we had not lived in vain.

A little later the Artist Camper grew restive, and wanted to see our new motor. So we went aboard the Sagamore. Just as our new guest was lost in examining our new plaything, we started the engine to show him, with the reverse lever at the center notch, and then, furtively, we slowly threw in the Roper safety propeller, and when at last he looked up it was to find that we had been speeding towards Newport for quite a long time!

"Here—here—here!" he exclaimed, "I'm not going to Newport to-day!"

"But you are going. Sit still and take your medicine. See those wild ducks over there?"

"O for my gun!" broke in Jerry.

"And look at those graceful loons; hear their melancholy cry. There they go diving deep below the surface."

For from Owl's Head south towards the international boundary line is the most wildly picturesque part of the whole lake, a region of mountain and tarn, of hill and valley. Long-legged herons flew proudly over our heads, gulls hovered on all sides, while as a finishing touch to the loquacious we spied a glorious American eagle soaring on high and straining every muscle to reach his lofty nest near a precipitous line of cliffs.

"I passed Sir Hugh Allan's grandsons out in their Vesper yesterday," remarked the Artist Camper, recovering from his gloom. "They'd just bought a new tow-line."

"And we took lunch with General Leselle, U. S. A., whose charming log cabin is just below Georgeville," we remarked as we screwed down our grease cups. "And what do you suppose he told us? He said that, in addition to having been at one time Commandant at West Point, he had traveled in every state and territory of the whole Union, save Alaska, and never had he seen such an exquisite sheet of water as Lake Memphremagog."

Now we were just crossing the boundary; there was the white stone marking the exact spot. Now we were leaving King George's dominions, and now we were in the United States once more.

"There once was a man who built his house right on the line, half in Vermont and half in Canada,"—it was the irrepressible Jerry who spoke. "Carried on a thriving trade in rum, so he did. When the American inspectors 'd come, he'd just roll his whiskey barrels over into the Canadian side of his place, and when he saw the Canadian officers a-coming, back the casks'd go into old Vermont!"

"At last, one time they were too much for him. The inspectors of both sides met at his shack at the same time and caught him just as pretty as anything. He just had to surrender gentle and meek like and pay the penalty right then and there."

Unaffected by these stirring tales, the Sagamore was flying merrily along, with only one object in view—to reach the Memphremagog Yacht Club House in good season for luncheon.

"Fast as we spin along," mused the Artist Camper, as we approached Newport, "there's one craft over there that we can't overtake. That's the new Stewart motor boat, the F. M. S., a 25-foot speed boat with a three-cylinder 25-h. p. Ferro motor. Why, she—"

"Wasn't that a glorious race between her and last year's champion, the Bella," said Jerry. "You remember, it was the day the Memphremagog Yacht Club made its cruise to Georgeville. It wasn't exactly a race, because if they'd let the Stewart boat out, it would have been a regular walk-over. Thirty-three minutes for going twice over a 5-mile course isn't so bad is it? But just wait until they hear from the Dirie and her brand new 25-h. p. Standard motor, and see what happens then. But here we are at Newport. Say, I'm awful hungry."

Substantially indeed is the lakeside home of the Memphremagog Yacht Club, with its two hundred and fifty members and its roll-call of ninety motorboats. Imagine a splendid building over 60 feet square, equipped with commodious assembly hall, complete kitchen and a broad, wire-enclosed veranda, commanding a 15-mile view of lake and mountain. On the lower floors rowboats and canoes are housed while separate large stalls are provided for the motorboats belonging to members who desire that privilege.

Just now however, the cuisine seemed to interest us more than anything else, and after a most tempting repast was served, we proceeded to inspect the cruiser Sultana, one of the latest additions to the fleet.

"Visit our club-house any warm evening. Our members and their friends seem drawn here as if by magic, to enjoy the cool breezes on this broad balcony," remarked a member. "The very latest is our plan to acquire a plot of ground on the lake shore opposite the entrance to Fitch Bay some 12 miles down the lake, which would serve as a rendezvous for members and their motorboats and a place of gathering for cruises and regattas."

This little story is written with the idea of giving the stranger an idea of life on Lake Memphremagog, of the pleasures that this fine body of water offers to motorboat owners. The scenery is magnificent, the water is deep and clean, and above all, the motorboat enthusiasts that one meets upon the lake are of the right sort.

SMITH'S MILLS
Mrs. Charles Lane, who has been visiting her son, has returned to St. Johnsbury, where she expects to remain this summer.

Mr. Henry Smith was called to Orleans on Saturday by the illness of his son Henry.

Mr. Henry Longeway is better and able to be at his work again.

Nathan Beerworth is on the sick list.

Quite a number of strangers were in the place over Sunday visiting at Mr. Bachelor's.

Miss Lena Minor of Magog called on Mrs. Geo. Longeway Monday, before leaving for Worcester and other points to visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. Wallace Brevoort is on the sick list.

Mrs. Bert Miller, who has been sick so long, is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lane and daughter of Mack's Mills, were in the place on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, our new station agent, and wife have moved and are nearly settled in their new home bought of Mr. Parker. Mr. Parker and family have moved to Virginia.

Mr. Geo. Aldrich and family are moving to Magog, where he has employment.

Messrs. Mert and John Smith are moving to Cassville this week.

The weather is very hot and dry and rain is needed for vegetation.

DRY GOODS

AT THE

BUSY STORE

We have just placed on our shelves and in our South Window the largest and finest line of Dry Goods in the history of this store. For nearly a quarter of a century we have been selling general merchandise to this section of the Townships and our neighbors in the States. For all of that long time, with the exception of last year, we have run a set of books. We find the cash and ready pay system so much more satisfactory that we will continue it. With this system we are growing, therefore we had the courage to stock heavily in the things that appeal particularly to woman kind, and we want all to come in and see our stock of Dry Goods, consisting of

Scotch Ginghams, The real imported article for 15 cents. A line of 12½ cent Ginghams for 10 cents. A beautiful assortment of colors in CHAMBRAY, PERCALES to please the most critical taste. We have a catchy suiting in an

Amoy Stripe at 15 cents in choice colorings: Old Rose Cardinal, Blue, Tan, Cream and Black, 24 inches wide. Another fine conceit in a 24 inch fabric for a full dress, that will make up very chick, making a decidedly natty outfit for a young lady:

Daisy Silk Dot at 25 cents in all the popular shades: Cardinal, Old Rose, Jasper, Azure, Razeda, Black and White.

We have a beautiful Silk Finished Poplin at 25c. It is a beautiful dress fabric, and we have it in the best colors: Goebelin Blue, Champagne, Cardinal and White.

We have a good Pongee in Blue and White at 25c. Our line of Shepherd Plaids runs from 15 to 25 and 48 cents. These values are safe and reliable.

Linens from 15 to 25 cents, and a large assortment of Piques, Muslins and Voiles.

We have an Enormous Stock of Domestic We nearly forgot to mention the fact that we have an interesting line of RIPPLETTE. See this fabric, sure.

We have a very Cleverly Selected line of Gentlemen's and Ladies' Furnishings. This is the going away time of the year; from now on we visit our friends and go on our vacations, and a Trunk, Bag or Suit Case is liable to be one of our needs. Our North Window reveals what we have in these goods, and you ought to see us for the same.

"CHAMPION"

The noted general purpose Stallion of the township of Stanstead, weight 1500 lbs., stands 16 hands 2 in high, color dark bay; sired by Captain Junior, he by Captain, a French coach; dam a full blood Morgan mare formerly owned by Mr. A. B. Corlis of Stanstead, Que. This stallion has good confirmation, strong made, flat bony legs; stylish nice actor; an extra good roadster. There are several of his colts in the vicinity of Stanstead for which offers of $175, and $200, have been refused. He ticks nicely with the common run of mares and his colts are large and of uniform size, the kind that always sell for good prices. He is not a trotting bred stallion, but one of the kind that the farmer should use, and his colts have only to be seen to be appreciated.

TERMS—$5.00 to warrant; all mares at owner's risk; if disposed of before foaling will be considered in foal.

Good pasturage for mares from a distance.

HUGH T. ELDER,
Beebe, Que.

HONEST JACK

This handsome stallion—foaled June, 1906—was sired by Cheiflain, weight 1,500 lbs., who has sired as many good colts as any other horse in Stanstead County and won first prizes at the County Fair several years in succession. Cheiflain was sired by Captain, who was imported from France in 1891, and has sired some of the best heavy draft stallions in the Province of Quebec.

HONEST JACK is a beautiful dark brown in color, with black points, stands nearly 16 hands, and weighs 1,300 in good condition. A splendid general purpose horse, an excellent worker as well as a good roadster; kind and intelligent, perfectly safe to handle. His colts are proving exceptionally good. Farmers wishing to breed general purpose horses are invited to see this stallion before making a choice.

HONEST JACK will make the season of 1911 at the stable of the undersigned, in Casville or will answer telephone or postal calls within reasonable distance when convenient.

TERMS—To warrant $5.00, all mares disposed of before foaling will be considered in foal, and service must be paid for before sale. All casualties to mare or colt at owner's risk.

DAVID WATSON.

BROWN BIRD

This handsome roadster stallion will remain at the owner's stable, Rock Island, until June 7th, after which he will be in the United States until Sept. 1st. Those desiring to use him should not delay. Brown Bird's colts are proving exceptionally good.

HENRY ALLARD, Proprietor.

HENRY C.

(YOUNG CHEIFTAIN)
This handsome general purpose stallion will be at Hotel stable, Smith's Mills, Tuesday and Friday afternoon, balance of the time at owner's stable, Magoon's Point. All mares at owner's risk. Terms $5.00 to warrant.

EDWARD ERYOU, Proprietor.

VERMONT ITEMS.

The trustees of the agricultural high school met at Randolph Thursday Gov. J. A. Mead and the full board being present. They went over the plans for the school and selected the location where the new buildings will be erected. They passed the entire day in going over the plans for the school.

R. W. McOuen, of Vergennes, president of the Vermont Press Club, announces that the annual summer meeting of the club will be held at the Hotel Vermont, Burlington, early in June, the exact date not having been set. There will be a banquet and eight-day seeing trips. The speakers will be Cy Warman, press agent of the Grand Trunk railway, and Robert Lincoln O'Brien, editor of the Boston Herald.

At the annual meeting of the E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., St. Johnsbury, H. N. Turner, who has been active manager of the company's affairs for over 22 years, requested that, because of unimpaired health and advancing years, he be relieved of the active duties of management, and it was voted that this be done, J. C. Clark, who has been with the company for about 18 years, having been its treasurer all of this time, was chosen to succeed Mr. Turner.

That Vermont Club the Green Mountain boys at Yale College have organized has the right ring in its by-laws. Its purpose is to encourage boys to go back to the old home state after graduation with their re-enforcement of a superior education and help give the commonwealth the help she deserves from her competent sons. A little more of this same spirit in Vermont's own territory, as well as at Yale, would work wonders in a little while. Show the boys at home the advantages of staying there.

The Commissioner of weights and measures is finding everybody's yard stick short and scales out of balance. Will anybody get any more or less when the average is reached? It is only one man in a thousand that will wilfully cheat in weight or measure, but it is an excellent thing to have things right.

Mrs. Florence M. Dodge, of Lunenburg, who in Essex county court at Guildhall Monday, May 15th, was sentenced to serve from four to six years in the state prison for the murder of William Heath, was received as a housekeeper at the prison Tuesday and thus began the service of her term. She will not be obliged to wear prison garb, as the women are allowed to wear wrappers of any good, serviceable material, not necessarily alike for all, and Sundays may attire themselves in shirt waist and skirt.

A portion of North Main st., in Barre is to be paved with granite blocks at a cost of about $9,000.

BRESETT CORNER.

Mr. H. W. Bresett was in Sherbrooke on business Saturday.
Mr. Fred Bennett has gone to Johnson, N. H., to work for the summer.
Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mathews are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Henry Wilson, in Ascot, before leaving for their home in Chesterville, Ont.
Mr. Ray Bennett and his brother, Mr. Chas. Herrin, of Huntingville, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bennett.
Mr. R. W. Mathews and Mrs. P. H. Wilson were in Waterville on Tuesday.

Mr. L. N. Taylor of North Hatley, is constructing a 30 foot mahogany runabout for a Montreal physician, which will be used on Magog Lake. It will be equipped with an 18 horse power Fairbanks-Morse engine and it is a beauty.

Mrs. Edwin Woodward of Hatley, was calling on her friend and schoolmate, Mr. J. W. McConnell, Thursday.
Mr. Leo Bresett was in East Hatley on Friday.

The Bresett Corner school opened on Monday, May 22nd, with Miss Leah Bresett as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Bennett visited their son Ray in Huntingville on Friday.

The annual meeting of the Hatley Township W. C. T. U. will be held in the Universalist Church at North Hatley on Wednesday, May 31st, at 10.30 a. m. Refreshments will be served in the dining room. A good program is expected. Everybody welcome.

Mr. Edward Pope of Hatley visited his mother, Mrs. C. A. Searles, at Beebe, on Wednesday.

Mr. Arthur Jones is suffering from sunstroke and is attended by Dr. Edgar.

GRIFFIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius R. McShane, who have spent the winter in Pasadena, Cal., have returned and are at present the guests of Mrs. McShane's mother, Mrs. George Soutier, at "Broadview."

Mr. and Mrs. George Young of Derby, Vt., spent Sunday with friends here.

The usual Church of England service will be held here Sunday, May 28th, at 3.00 p. m., Rev. C. E. Hardley-Wilnot, M. A., preacher. All are welcome.

AYER'S CLIFF.

The W. C. T. Unions of the township of Hatley will be entertained in convention by the North Hatley Union on Wednesday, May 31st. Let all interested come together for a pleasant and helpful day. The County Convention will be held at Ayer's Cliff, early in June. Date and particulars will be given next week.

Thursday, May 25th being one of the holidays the Guild was entertained instead on Tuesday by Mrs. Will Hurd, in large numbers.

The Busy Bees and their friends spent Friday evening very pleasantly with the Misses Florence and Hazel Bowen.

The Congregational Ladies Aid will be entertained on Tuesday, May 30th, by Mrs. J. F. MacCoy and Mrs. Irving MacCoy at the home of the latter. Everybody cordially invited.

Col. and Mrs. B. E. Morrill of Stanstead, were guests at H. N. Wheeler's on Monday.

Mrs. Wesley Cass is reported quite ill this week. Her cousin, Miss Edna Cass, is caring for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortez Thompson of Casville, visited at J. F. MacCoy's recently.

Mrs. F. Pierce is so much improved from her long and severe illness as to be able to sit up a short time each day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Colby enjoyed lettuce and radishes from their own garden on Sunday, May 21st, and their green peas are up from 10 to 12 inches high. Mr. Colby is a very successful gardener and seems to enjoy it all the more for having spent the greater part of his life in a crowded city.

Miss Sadie MacCoy returned home from Boston on Friday, where she has just completed a course in stenography and office work at Burdette's Business College of that city. She brings a diploma and letter of recommendation from the head of that institution as well as certificate entitling her to an office position for her lifetime. Miss MacCoy has many friends here who congratulate her on her success and wish her well.

MASSAWIPPI.

The excessive heat of the past few days has tested the endurance of all. 90 in the shade in May is unusual. Rain seems threatening now however and is needed to save the situation, which was becoming very serious.

Mr. H. Bean has been home from Orleans, Vt., for a few days. When he returns he will become assistant station agent with Mr. F. Wheeler.

Mrs. Stiles and Miss M. Stiles of Boston, are guests of Mrs. Frank Eaton this week.

Mr. H. Harvey has finished his work in Sherbrooke and is now at home.

Miss Sadie Swallow of Sherbrooke is a guest at Mr. M. Harvey's.

Mr. B. Harvey was 83 years of age on Monday and seems quite young and sprightly yet. Mr. J. B. LeBaron, of Hatley is a match for him however. He passed his 94th birthday Sunday, May 14, and was driving over this way alone a few days ago.

Mr. W. Stevenson was at North Hatley Tuesday in connection with the road work.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson of Cookshire, are spending a month at "Edgebrook." Her sister arrived from Bulwer on Monday to visit them.

VICTORIA DAY RACES

The annual Victoria day races at Stanstead came off yesterday according to schedule. The weather was not inviting in the early part of the day and this feature doubtless kept many away. But the slight rain which began Tuesday night, continuing occasionally in the early part of yesterday was scarcely enough to lay the dust and the track, naturally sandy, was rather soft.

There were four horses in the green race, five in the named race and three in the free-for-all, with the following result:

GREEN RACE—HALF MILE HEATS
A. L. Hill, 1-1-1
Harry Wilkes, W. Rediker, 2-2-2
Ace of Hearts, A. Whalley, 3-3-3
Brown Mare, F. A. Baldwin, 4-4-4
Time 1:23, 1:23, 1:20.

NAMED RACE—HALF MILE HEATS
Blackbird, L. H. Buckins, 1-1-1
Lady Swift, A. Blair, 2-2-2
Lida, Dr. Eastman, 3-3-3
Time 1:17, 1:16, 1:17.

FREE-FOR-ALL—HALF MILE HEATS
Merry Girl, W. H. Rediker, 1-1-1
Dan Patch, Jr., N. Eastman, 2-2-2
Maggie D. R. C. Drew, 3-3-3
Time 1:12, 1:12, 1:11.

RUNNING RACE
Bill, P. Clary, 1-0-1
Maxie, G. Fafion, 2-1-2
Buckskin, A. Langevin, 3-0-0

The greatest excitement was furnished by the running race. Clary's jockey was W. H. Adams, from Burlington, Vt., who has been employed at Rock Island driving the past eight weeks. His saddle was but loosely attached. Leaning over in an effort to "steal the pole" at the first turn in the second heat the saddle rolled, and the rider went off catching the horse's mane in an effort to re-mount, Adams hurled himself right over the beast, swinging beneath its shoulders and throwing it. "Bill" had scarcely struck the ground when "Buckskin" tripped over him and Langevin got a bad throw. He was carried off too badly injured for further participation in the race. "Chic" Daniels rode "Buckskin" in the first heat, and the horse was withdrawn after mishap in the second.

Excursion to Western Canada May 30th.

The Grand Trunk Railway have arranged for a special excursion under the patronage of Mr. L. H. Maillet, Publicity Commissioner for the Province of Alberta, from Montreal to points in the Province of Alberta. Through Pullman tourist cars and through Grand Trunk Pacific colonist sleepers will be run from Montreal to Winnipeg Edmonton and intermediate points. The tourist sleepers are the best built by the Pullman Company being finished in flexible Japanese rattan, and besides being very comfortable are nice and cool to ride in; there are separate toilet rooms, each having plate glass mirrors, ice drinking water marble wash basins, towels, combs brushes, etc., and the bedding consists of linen, blankets, pillows and hair mattresses. There are also detachable folding tables for writing and luncheon. The rates for accommodation in these tourist cars will be $4.25 lower berth, $3.40 upper berth, to Winnipeg; $6.65 lower berth, $5.33 upper berth, to Edmonton.

The Grand Trunk Pacific colonist sleepers are brand new cars just out of the shops, and are the very largest in all respects. They are finished in leather, have upper and lower berths, each section is entire separate the same as in first class sleeping cars. There is no charge for accommodation in these cars, but the passengers must provide their own bedding. During the day time if it is desired the seats can be so arranged to make a very comfortable couch. These cars also have separate toilet rooms, and are supplied with ice drinking water, soap towels, etc., also detachable folding tables for writing and luncheon. The cars are equipped with cooking ranges and fuel, also ice boxes which will be furnished enroute, and passengers can carry their own provisions and do their own cooking, besides it will be possible at any time to heat milk or make tea or coffee.

On this date, May 30th, cheap Home seekers' round trip rates will be in effect to all points in Western Canada, and intending passengers may obtain full particulars from their nearest railway agent, or by writing to Mr. L. H. Maillet, 35 St. Antoine Street, Montreal, or to Mr. J. Quinlan, District Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk Railway Montreal.

HATLEY.

The annual convention of the Sunday School Union of the Province of Quebec, Hatley District, was held in the Methodist Church, on Thursday afternoon and evening, May 18th. Those who failed to attend these sessions, missed a rare and delightful treat. The afternoon meeting was opened by the President, Rev. R. Goudie, with a short service of prayer and praise. This was followed by excellent and well prepared papers upon "Singing in the Sabbath School," "How to Retain our Senior Pupils," "How to Interest the Parents," by Misses Goudie, Gage, and Mrs. C. H. Smith. Rev. Mr. Moore, of Ayer's Cliff, then gave "A Bible Message to the Convention." Rev. M. Capel, of Montreal, who had been delayed on the way, arrived at this juncture, and gave an address to the children, which was also enjoyed by the older folks, as well. At 5.30 a delicious tea was served by the ladies in the church hall. The evening session was opened with devotional exercises by Mr. J. F. Woodman. The statistical report was then given by the District President, Rev. Robert Goudie, who afterwards, introduced the Rev. R. McCord, of Massawippi. An able address upon "Training for Service," was then listened to. At the close the choir lent a little variety, by rendering an anthem. A duet, by Misses Gage and Knights, was also very pleasing. A short discussion and a few items of business then took place. Rev. Robert Goudie was elected President for the ensuing year, with Dr. Adams, of Magog, and W. E. Hunt, of Boynton, Vice-President. After the collection, Rev. Mr. Capel spoke upon "Principles in Teaching," and closely held the attention of the audience. The meeting was brought to a close by the benediction.

Shortly after one o'clock on Friday, May 19th, the village was startled by the alarm of fire, which had broken out in the saw-mill. Fortunately the wind was from the south-west and took the flames away from the grist-mill, butter factory and other buildings. Telephone messages quickly brought help from different directions which did good service, by keeping the fire from doing a greater damage to the surrounding piles of lumber. The machinery, as well as some lumber was a total loss. A meeting of the directors of the Hatley Dairy Light and Power Co., was held on Saturday evening to consider the rebuilding of the mill.

Rev. Robert Goudie and his sister, Miss Goudie, were in Sherbrooke on Saturday. A letter recently received from Mr. Ashley M. LeBaron, states that he has greatly enjoyed a trip down the Saskatchewan river.

Mrs. Wm. Hodges is recovering from a painful attack of neuritis in her arm and shoulder. Miss Nora Hodges is also convalescent from measles.

GRANITEVILLE.

Mrs. James Brodie leaves this week Wednesday for a visit to her son in Iberville, and on Friday she sails from Montreal on the Victorian for Scotland, her former home. Her many friends here wish her a safe and pleasant voyage.

Mr. Chas. Keniston, from Greenfield, Mass., is visiting his parents here.

Mrs. M. Morse returned home from Sandwich, N. H., on Saturday. Her father accompanied her.

Monday was the warmest day of the season so far, the thermometer registering 96 degrees in the shade here.

Mrs. Mary Hall of Bedford, Que., visited at the home of Mrs. Fred. Hall last week.

Mr. William Wright, who formerly lived here but for the past few years has been away, was calling on old friends recently.

Miss Tillie Guerin, from Beebe, spent the week-end at the home of her brother, Mr. A. L. Guerin.

Rev. Mr. Brundage from Knowlton, Que., is at Cedarville at present repairing his cottage.

Excursion To Western Canada, June 13th, 1911.

The Grand Trunk Railway have arranged for a special excursion under the patronage of Mr. Amedo Cleroux, Immigration Agent for the Province of Saskatchewan from Montreal to points in Saskatchewan. In connection with this excursion through colonist sleepers will leave Montreal 9.45 a. m. June 13th, to run through to Winnipeg, Vonda, Duke Lake, Prince Albert and other points in the west without change. The accommodation in these cars is very comfortable, there are upper and lower berths accommodating two people, but passengers must provide their own bedding. The cars are upholstered in leather. There are regular cooking ranges in the cars provided with fuel, and passengers have the free use of same, and will be able to do their own cooking, make tea, coffee, heat milk, etc., and there is no charge at all for accommodation in these cars.

On this date, June 13th, Housekeepers' cheap excursion rates will be in effect, and persons intending to travel may obtain full particulars from their nearest railway agent, or by writing to Mr. Amedo Cleroux, Riendieu Hotel, Montreal, or Mr. J. Quinlan, District Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk Railway, Montreal?

NORTH HATLEY.

Grass is looking fine, foliage and flowers are more advanced than last year on Victoria Day.

Mr. George Woodward has newly painted his dwelling house.

The Independent and the Canadian local branches of Foresters will meet next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and from there, escorted by the Turcut Brass Band, march to the Universalist Church where divine services will be held at 2.30 p. m. Rev. E. E. Marggraf will give the sermon; subject, The Labor Question. Members of courts from neighboring towns are asked to keep the fact of this annual church-parade in mind and make an especial effort to be present.

A meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 to complete all plans for the entertainment of the town of Hatley W. C. T. U., which is to hold its annual session in the Universalist Church, Wednesday, May 31st. In view of the splendid gains of the temperance cause in our province the past year a large and enthusiastic meeting is anticipated. The session begins at 9.30 a. m., and continues throughout the day and evening. A fine programme has been prepared and full meetings are expected.

Bro. Thomas Bennett, the Bible man and his new lecture are to be at the Universalist Church, Thursday, June 8th. This is the annual Hatley meeting. The British and Foreign Bible Society and the Canadian Auxiliary are doing an immense work; come and hear about it.

Tuesday and Wednesday, June 27th and 28th, are the dates of the 106th annual session of the Northern Association of Universalist Churches of Northern Vermont and the Province of Quebec. This association meets at the Universalist Church here this year. Programmes are not yet out, but intimations received by your correspondent indicate important things ahead.

The Leslie A. Taylor prize buttons for attendance continuously at Sunday School, are now in possession of the officers of the Universalist Church and awards will be given for faithful attendance after next Sunday. We have seen these buttons, made by the David Cook House of Elgin, Ill., and they are fine and certain to please the children. The buttons correspond to the different ages and grades in the Sunday School and are of five different patterns. The most beautiful and valuable among them are those known as the Victors, and after 18 months regular attendance are the permanent property of the child.

Late Solon LeBaron.

Minneapolis (Kansas) Messenger.
Solon LeBaron was born in North Hatley, Canada, Nov. 5, 1841, and died at his home in Ada, April 28, 1911. Mr. LeBaron was married to Julia Precourt in 1865, and moved from Canada shortly after. He came to Ottawa county in 1877 and settled on a homestead in Henry township, where he resided until he came to Ada in 1896. There remain to mourn his loss his widow and six children, two sons and four daughters.

Rev. George S. Smith of Delphos preached the funeral sermon. The services were held at the Baptist church in Ada last Saturday at three o'clock. Burial was made in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. LeBaron had a wide circle of acquaintances, who will sorely miss him. All the children were at his bedside at the end, with the exception of Mrs. Nora Eymann.

The floral offerings at the funeral were beautiful. One especially fine tribute was a large bunch of chrysanthemums from the Sons and Daughters of Justice.

Glendale (Kansas) Correspondence.

Many from this district attended the funeral of Mr. LeBaron in Ada, Saturday. In an early day, Mr. and Mrs. LeBaron settled in this district and passed through the many trials and deprivations which fall to the lot of pioneers. They were ever present in the school house, Sunday schools and were among the few who made the Sunday school union a permanent organization. There was never a case of sickness or death that they were not there as soon as they knew of it and only a few corpses for miles around were not cared for, night and day, free of charge, by Solon LeBaron. He will be missed by his old neighbors and comrade pioneers.

Ghosts in Stanstead County

Whether or not you believe in ghosts—let us assure you that they can be seen right here in Stanstead County.

And you don't have to wait until midnight, when the moon's behind a cloud, to observe them, either.

They appear in broad daylight. They are the ghosts of lost opportunities. And they confront the unprogressive farmer with the profitable chances he missed and missed by not being up-to-date in his methods—in the proper money-making equipment of his farm.

The farmer's best step in getting in to the live line, is to secure the right fence.

And the right fence is the American—first, last, and all the time.

If you want a fence of strong, simple construction—a fence with the proper "spring"—a fence that will give the longest, best service, see the American, in many styles and weights.

Miss Ida Carr of Newport, accompanied by Mr. H. O. Thorsen, spent Sunday at her home here.
Miss May Adams of Newport has been spending a few days in town to attend the dedication of the memorial window to the memory of her grandfather, Rev. L. P. Adams.
Mr. W. R. Howie of Beebe, was in town recently with his auto, the guest of his uncle, T. B. Rider.
Mrs. Brown of Beebe, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. James Brevoort, on Sunday.
Mr. J. M. MacKendrick of Brigham, Que., is in town, the guest of his friend, Rev. E. Wilson Carr.
The social at T. B. Rider's on Thursday evening was a success. A large crowd was there to do justice to the delicious supper which was served by the Ladies Guild of St. Matthias church. During the evening Mrs. F.
H. Rider and Mr. R. W. Carr each favored the company with a solo, which was much enjoyed. Other vocal and instrumental music helped to make the evening a pleasant one.
Among those present from out of town were: Mrs. Routledge, Miss Mary Sanford, Rev. W. H. Cassap and
Dr. Wm. Keyes of Georgeville.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Miller of Rich-ford, Vt., were the week-end guests of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs.

brooke, is in town the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Bailey.
Editor J. C. Holland of the JOURNAL and Mr. A. C. McPhee of the E. T.
Bank, Rock Island, were in town on Sunday, the guests of Mr. B. H. Rider.
The "Y" society was invited to Georgeville by its secretary, Miss Allice McGowan, on Friday evening and most hospitably entertained by her at her spacious home, "Gowanbank Hall." Twenty-four members were present and a most interesting meeting was enjoyed. Considerable business was discussed, one important item was the proposed fountain to be erected this summer. A splendid program was given by the members of the club, among them being a piano duet, also a solo by R. W. Carr. Then the topic for the evening, Moderate Drinking, was discussed by Miss Mc-Gowan and Mr. George Rediker, Jr.
The efforts of both speakers were much appreciated. Miss Ethel Minor gave a very fine piano solo. The speakers chosen for the next meeting were Miss Kathleen Carr and Mr. J.
Christie Gustin. Subject, "Intoxicating Drinks and the Home." The society was invited by Miss Carr to her home June 2nd. After the close of the meeting delicious ice cream and cake was served and much enjoyed.
The entire evening was pronounced to be a most enjoyable one.

GEORGEVILLE.
Mr. John Bly narrowly escaped from severe injury, owing to a runaway accident on Monday of this week. While going down Austin hill toward "Beechwood" with a team of horses and a heavy load, the horses became unmanageable and Mr. Bly was unable to control them on the steep grade.
He was thrown from the load and one wheel passed over his body. We are happy to say however that Mr. Bly's injuries are not serious and congratulate him on his fortunate escape.
Mrs. Wm. McGowan arrived home this week from an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. Heath, at Mt.
Kisco, N. Y.
Mr. G. F. Greenwood arrived last Saturday at "Tanglewood," where he will spend the summer. Mr. Greenwood has lately returned from a trip to Mexico.
J. E. Davidson has completed his boathouse and pier, and it adds much to the appearance of the bay.
Mrs. Comfort, Miss Randall, and Mr. E. Comfort of New York City, are installed at "Ellabank" as usual for the season.
The steamer "Anthemis" looks very trim this year with her new awning.
She is now making regular trips under the capable direction of Captain

The "Anthemis" ran a special trip on Wednesday, the 24th, for the pupils and faculty of Stanstead College, who took that opportunity of enjoying the holiday on our beautiful lake.
Many new motor craft are daily putting in an appearance, making this part of the lake look lively again.
Some of our young people attended the euchre party and dance given by the Curling Club at Magog last Friday evening and enjoyed a happy evening and the usual courteous and hospitable treatment accorded visitors to Magog.
Dr. Wm. M. Keyes has been ap-

REV. L. P. ADAMS
Founder and for 44 years Pastor of the Fitch Bay Congregational Church.

It is not often that the quiet little village of Fitch Bay is the scene of such ministerial activity as has been the case these past two days, the occasion being the ordination and installation to the ministry of the Congregational church of E. Wilson Carr, who graduated with honors this year
from the Congregational College, Montreal. Among those present were:
Prof. W. H. Warriner of the College;
Reverends Hugh Pedley, Montreal;
G. Ellery Reed, Sherbrooke; J. G.
Hindley, Rock Island; Churchill
Moore, Ayer's Cliff; I. W. Pierce, Waterville; J. J. Hutchinson, Lyndon-ville, Vt., and local clergy—with J.
M. MacKendrick, a college friend of Mr. Carr's.
The ordination of R. Wilson Carr took place in the Congregational church, Monday night. There was a large attendance, and the Congregational churches in the district were well represented. The moderator of the Quebec Association, Rev. C. Moore of Ayer's Cliff, took the chair at 8 o'clock. The scribe, Rev. I. W. Pierce, of Waterville, read the minutes of the council, convened in the afternoon pursuant to letters missive to examine the candidate, and if deemed expedient to proceed to ordain him to the ministry and to install him to the pastorate. The candidate having answered the questions satisfactorily, the council proceeded to the ordination. We were privileged in having the genial and popular Rev. Hugh Pedley, B. A.,
of Montreal to preach the sermon,
which he did in his usual and forceful manner, enabling the work and opportunity of the country pastor. At the conclusion of his sermon, Rev. J.
J. Hutchinson of Lyndonville, Vt., offered the ordaining prayer and the Rev. Prof. Warriner delivered the charge to the candidate, in which he urged the newly ordained minister to give himself to a thorough ministry.
A pleasant feature in the service was the reading of a letter by Prof. Warriner, embodying greetings from Rev.
Dr. Burford Hooke of the College
Missionary Society, a friend of Mr.
Carr's. The Rev. G. Ellery Reed, addressed the people and anticipated that they would be in full sympathy with the minister and cooperate with him in any new methods or plans by which he would seek to lead them.
The Rev. J. G. Hindley, M. A., B. D.,
of Rock Island, in one of his bright,
happy and characteristic speeches,

extended the right hand of fellowship and handed the new minister a certificate of ordination signed by all the members of the council. During the service a beautiful solo, "My Task," was very sympathetically rendered by Mrs. F. H. Rider and the choir also sang the anthem, "The Lord is My Light." The congregation was dismissed with the benediction by the newly ordained minister. The service was one that will long live in the memory of those present, and is a happy augury for the future of the church.
This place is saddened by the death of a much respected resident, Mrs. H.
A. Doloff, who died at her home at "The Pines" early Sunday morning at the age of 85 years. The service was held on Tuesday at 11 o'clock, Rev.
Mr. Smith officiating. An extended notice will appear in next week's issue.
Memorial Window Dedicated.
An interesting gathering took place
Tuesday afternoon in the Congregational Church on the occasion of the unveiling and dedicating of a memorial window placed in the church to the memory of Rev. L. P. Adams, the founder and for 34 years pastor of the church. The chair was occupied by the newly ordained minister, Rev. R.
W. Carr, and he was accompanied on the platform by two former pastors, Rev. G. Ellery Reed, now of Sherbrooke, and Rev. J. J. Hutchinson of Lyndonville, Vt., also Rev. Churchill
Moore of Ayer's Cliff. A short biographical sketch of Rev. Mr. Adams was given by Rev. C. Moore, after which, in behalf of the subscribers and friends, Rev. J. J. Hutchinson, in a neat speech, presented the window which was accepted in a graceful way, on behalf of the church, by Rev. R.
W. Carr. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Reed of Sherbrooke, who chose for his text, Heb.
11-8, "He went out not knowing Whither He Went." A solo by Mrs.
J. J. Hutchinson and an anthem by the choir, "Somewhere 'Tis Always Morning," helped to brighten the proceedings and to make the meeting a memorable one.
Among those in town Tuesday afternoon to attend the dedication service were: Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Adams, of Derby, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred
Brown, Brown's Hill; Dr. Wm. Keyes, Georgeville; Mrs. Churchill Moore,
Mrs. Leon Clough and Mrs. Berry,
Ayer's Cliff.

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion is better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOURQUE, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

Short Sermons FOR A Sunday Half-Hour

LOVE CONQUERS ALL.

BY H. C. DAVIS, B. A.

Text: "Let brotherly love continue."—Hebrews 13:1.

John Rance was a Sunday-school teacher. Entrusted to his care was a small class of eight boys, whose ages averaged about twelve and a half years. The scholars were sharp and intelligent, but, in consequence of their exuberant spirits, were occasionally difficult to manage. Their teacher, however, was deeply in earnest, and though he was conscious of a lack of training, he had the great gifts of perseverance and patience. He was a delicate man, and found his work somewhat exacting at times. Sometimes he had a presentiment of an early death, so he did his utmost in Christian service. He frequently remembered the solemn words of our Saviour: "I must work the works of Him that sent Me, while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work."

One memorable Sunday afternoon in the summer of 188—his boys were unusually restless. The day was very hot, and this added to the difficulty of teaching, as well as to that of attentive listening. John Rance had had a busy week in his office, and was far from well. His failure to interest the boys in the lesson grieved him sorely. From weakness and weariness tears came to his eyes as he reproved one of the scholars; and then, not able to refrain himself any longer, he betrayed his emotion in a sob. The boys sat dumbfounded and unhappy. They had never realized until that moment how deeply their teacher cared for them.

"Boys," said the teacher, "I wish I could teach you better than I do. Try to bear with me. I care for you more than I can express in words, and it nearly breaks my heart when you seem indifferent."

The boys sat still, moved but shy, and unwilling to give way to their emotion.

"Boys," said the teacher, "I want you to give your hearts to the Lord Jesus Christ. I am sometimes so unwell that I am afraid I shall not be able to go on teaching you. If there is one thing I desire on this earth more than another, it is to see each one of you on the Lord's side. Every night before I go to bed I mention the name of each one of you in prayer to God, and I ask Him to bless you, and help you to give Him your hearts and lives. I am quite sure you will some day. I wish you would do it now."

The boys were still silent, and seeing his opportunity, John Rance said: "I want to ask you to do three things. First, read some portion of the Bible daily; second, pray to God every day; third, give your heart to God. Will you promise me?"

Just then the school-bell rang for the close of lessons. The boys rose from their seats, but they all said, "Yes," as they left the small classroom for the large school hall, and some of them had lumps in their throats.

When the concluding hymn had been sung, and the benediction pronounced, the teacher shook hands with each boy, and with a "God bless you!" said "Good afternoon!"

Not far from the school was a foot-path across some fields, known as "The Three Fields." The boys made for this path. When they were in the second field the eldest of the eight, one to whom the rest looked as a leader, suddenly said: "Let us stop a moment, I never saw Mr. Rance so much in earnest as this afternoon. Let us all be true to what he asked us to promise."

The boys agreed. Taking each other by the hand, and forming a complete circle, they said aloud, "We will all try to grow up as good as Mr. Rance."

Then they separated to their respective homes for tea, and not one father or mother guessed the vow they had taken. Not even Mr. Rance knew it.

That night each boy read a portion of Scripture, and prayed, not only for himself, but for his teacher, too.

Within two years from that Sunday afternoon all the boys yielded their lives to their Saviour. Tears of joy filled the eyes of the teacher as the eighth told him of his conversion, and holy words came to his lips. "Now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, O Lord!"

The teacher has gone, but his influence remains. His prayers for his eight scholars are answered. They are all living to-day, and are all working for God. The writer is one of them. Two are preachers of the Gospel.

"The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

The Heavenly Principle. We have only to be patient, to pray, and to do his will according to our present light and strength, and the growth of the soul will go on. The plant grows in the mist and under clouds as truly as under sunshine, so does the heavenly principle within.—W. E. Channing.

God is the first object of our love; its next office is to bear the defects of others. And we should begin the practice of this amidst our own household.—John Wesley.

THE SEA ROBBERS.

Flight of the Ship Radjah at Lord North Island.

"Becalmed five days within hail of a fleet of sea robbers and without so much as a weapon except one pistol on board was the plight of the full rigged ship Radjah, on which I was first mate some years back," said Henry Wallorf, now first officer of the German steamship Lichtenfels, as he watched the bamboo being discharged from his vessel. "We had left Cardiff, England, for Hong Kong, with coal, by way of Cape Horn and the Southern Pacific. Both the captain and I had heard many tales of the sea robbers of Lord North Island who came to sailing vessels and steamers as traders, but who are the bloodthirstiest sea pirates that ever climbed aboard a ship."

It was high noon on New Year's Day, thirteen years ago, when the Radjah was in south latitude five degrees east longitude 138. We were then due east of the Philippines and slightly north by west of the Caroline group. We were scudding along under a fair breeze when I noticed a vessel bearing down on us. I called to the captain that I did not like the looks of the boat and suggested sea robbers. The skipper, who had the gout and whose avoirdupois did not permit him making rapid headway in any direction, looked troubled. As I looked again within ten minutes of the time when I had noticed the first craft there were thirteen boats apparently making for us.

"I talked to the crew, twenty in all, most of whom were for going below and barricading themselves. I told them that we hadn't any weapons except my pistol aboard ship and that every man might have to fight it out. I told them that if any one balked at fighting the sea robbers I would shoot him on the spot."

SIGHTING THE SEA ROBBERS.

Then I ordered the men to gather the largest lumps of coal they could get out of the hold and to place a good supply of the lumps all along the rail and at the bow and the stern of the Radjah. I intended that we would repel boarders with the coal if that was the only thing we could do, and I determined that we would fight the black pirates off to the last ditch.

"Through the glasses we counted at least twenty dark skinned bandits in each boat, and I knew we were in for it if they ever got to us. Luckily we were to windward of the crew of cutthroats and we were hoping that we could maintain the distance between them and ourselves when suddenly the breeze died out and we were becalmed. The calm came just as we lost sight of the nearest of the pirate boats, and as darkness set in we found that the sea robbers apparently had also been becalmed."

"For five mortal days and nights we stayed there, not moving an inch. The sea robbers, fortunately, did not know of our plight, since they could not see us so they did not paddle our way, in which case they would have had us completely at their mercy."

With the captain in a state of collapse and the crew on the verge of a crazy, senseless mutiny, I had a hard time maintaining discipline on board the Radjah. The vigil ended on the night of the fifth day, when a breeze sprung up and by morning we had put many miles between us and Lord North Island.

"I left the Radjah on our return to Europe and got married. Two months after I left her in the fall of the same year, the ship turned turtle during a gale two days out from Cardiff on another voyage to Hong Kong and all but two of her crew, two sailors, were lost."

Spanish Superstitions.

You must not count the stars lest you come to have as many wrinkles in the face as stars in the firmament.

If one rocks an empty cradle the next babe that lies in will die before it learns to talk.

Just as often as you mention the devil in life just so often will he appear to you at the hour of death.

Do not slam the door nor shut a window roughly, nor kick a stone out of your path, for in the door, in the window and in the stone may be a suffering soul doing penance.

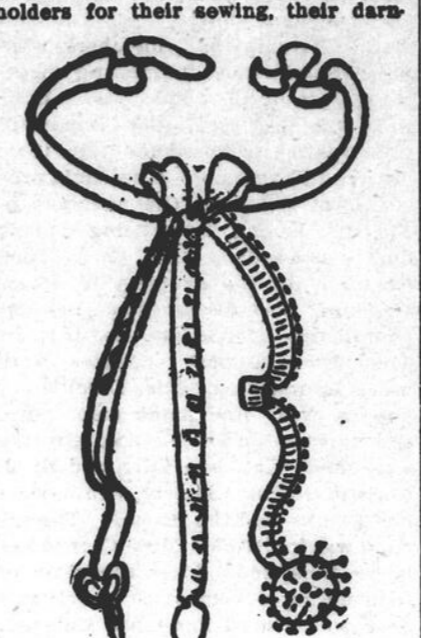

The Difference.

"Make a noise like a dollar and all the world will give you the glad hand," says a modern philosopher. Then, after you get the glad hand, you will make a noise like thirty cents.

Of Interest to Women

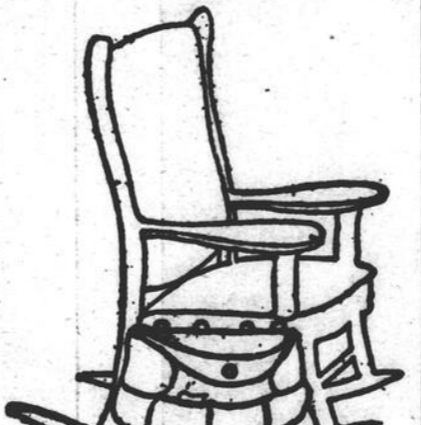

Novel Sewing Receptacles Which the Traveler, the Invalid and the Woman with Limited Space Always Welcome for Their Darning and Embroidery.

The traveler, the invalid and the woman with limited space welcome always any new ideas in the way of holders for their sewing, their darning or their embroidery. A few such novel ideas are, therefore, given here.

If you do much fancy work on porches or while calling, use the ribbon sewing case shown here. It has a ribbon band which fastens around the waist with hook and eye, and three ribbon hangers (the number can, of course, be increased with your needs).

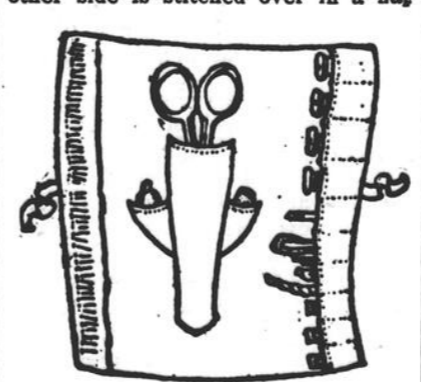

The first is folded over and stitched into pockets, in each of which there is a spool of cotton or a roll of silk. A pair of scissors is attached at the end. The second is painted as a measuring tape, and has an emery at the bottom. The third is lined with canton flannel and piped with narrow ribbon, and holds a row of pins. At the end is a cushion for needles. Even the loops at the top may be utilized for such things as pockets for the thimble, buttons, etc.

The invalid will appreciate a large workbag attached to the rungs of her rocking chair. It is made as shown, of dark denim or bright cretonne or chintz, with a row of small pockets at the bottom, a larger buttoned one above, and a wide bag forming the backing. Each pocket is edged with tape, and the whole is fastened to the chair by means of brass rings and tape.

A neat and compact traveling case is the one shown here. One side of the silk square is sewed down with canton flannel, in which pins are stuck. In the middle are a large pocket for the scissors and smaller ones for emery and thimble. The other side is stitched over in a flap which is subdivided into receptacles for packages of needles, twists of silk, spools of cotton, tape measure, bodkin, buttons, lingerie ribbons, etc. The case is rolled and tied with a ribbon bow, the whole square having first been piped with the same ribbon.

A little cardboard box case will take up only a corner of your dressing table, and yet it will hold all your sewing materials. It consists of four flat boxes the same size (old candy boxes will do) enclosed in a pasted shell of cardboard and tied fast with a wide satin ribbon. To the side of each box are fastened two buttons, which serve as handles. Thus you have really a tiny chest of drawers at your disposal.—New York Press.

This Old Gentleman Cured of Rheumatism

By One Box of GIN PILLS
YARMOUTH, N.S.
"I have been bothered with Rheumatism for the past year and have taken a good many different kinds of medicine and found no relief for it.
One day a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS, and after taking one box of them, I felt like a new man, I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know how thankful I am for the relief they gave me, and would advise all sufferers from Rheumatism to try GIN PILLS."

WM. CONRY,
Don't bother with liniments and so-called "blood purifiers". They won't help your kidneys—and Rheumatism is caused by weak, strained or irritated kidneys. The only possible way to cure Rheumatism is to cure the kidneys. GIN PILLS will do this as nothing else will.
Take GIN PILLS NOW and be free from Rheumatism this winter. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50—and money promptly refunded if you are not satisfied.
Order from us if your dealer does not handle GIN PILLS. Sample box sent free on request. National Drug and Chemical Co., Dept. Q. Toronto, 57

DAIRY AND CREAMERY

CARE OF MANURE.

One Farmer Who Has Put a Manure Bin in Cow Stable.

Not being blessed with a very fertile soil, we have learned by experience the value of fertility, writes an Ohio Farmer in Agricultural Epitome. We have constructed a new cow stable in one end of our barn. As shown by sketch we use the swinging stanchion, and by the way our partitions between stalls are of heavy woven wire fencing, which admits Cow Stall and Manure Bin more light. We like them very much. Our gutter behind the cows is of cement. On the outside adjoining the barn we have a measure bin. It is 8x16 feet in size. The floor and the sides to a height of two feet are also of concrete. Above this, boards are used, except a space in the middle, which is left open for convenience in loading. This could be closed with doors if desired. We keep our horses in box stalls and haul the manure from them direct to the field. By the liberal use of bedding and absorbents we hope to make more and better manure.

For a Sucking Cow. The following description is given of a device to prevent a cow from sucking herself:

Secure two lengths of small cord, also six pieces of round, light wood about 12 inches long and 1 1/4 inches in diameter, bore 1/4 inch holes at each end of sticks, then having tied a knot at one end of the rope, thread on the sticks. Knit the cord on either side of the sticks, then throw the same across the cow's neck (having regulated the knots and sticks to suit the small of the neck and also the shoulder), and the end of the cords around the first knot. The accompanying illustration shows the result. This device prevents the cow from reaching her flanks.

Pasteurizing Milk.
To pasteurize milk or cream is simply to heat the same to about 160 degrees, then rapidly cool the liquid. By this process the lactic germs or germs which cause milk to sour are destroyed, but the germs which cause milk to become putrid are not destroyed. Experts claim the danger is that dirty milk may be pasteurized, hence the operation may be dangerous, or at least disappointing, from the reason that one cannot tell just when putrefaction may take place. The latter cannot be detected until it reaches an advanced age, as pasteurized milk or cream may never grow sour, yet may contain germs fraught with danger. Many physicians also claim that pasteurization reduces the digestibility of the milk or cream.—Agricultural Southwest.

Convenient Light for the Barn.
Many fires may be avoided when chilly days require the use of a lantern in the barn by having some such device as here shown to keep the lantern in place. This affair requires two small pulleys and a rope. The rope is run through the pulleys, the lantern attached to one end and then pulled up to a convenient height, the loose end of the rope being fastened to a cleat on the wall. If this device is arranged in about the center of the barn much better light will be given than if the lantern were carried around from place to place.—Cor. of Farm and Home.

Stretching Butter.
The Kansas Board of Health discovered a scheme for making three pounds of butter from one pound, and a firm charging $25 for the secret. A pound of ordinary butter is mixed with a quart of milk and certain proportions of salt and soda until it swells to three pounds and can be sold at a high profit. Warning has been sent out to butter makers and others not to purchase the formula or sell the product. Some time ago the board found an emulsion being sold, which put into a pound of butter would cause it to absorb an equal weight of water. The sale of this emulsion was stopped.

The equipments for success with poultry are rustic and lots of close attention.

DIRT NOT DISEASE CAUSE.

Health Expert Says the Breath of the Sick is Harmless.

Boston, Mass.—Dr. Charles Chapin, Health Commissioner of Rhode Island, in a lecture here made the statement that medical science had disproved the commonly accepted notion that disease had its origin in filth, and created a sensation by saying that disease germs will not live outside the body, are not carried through the air and are not found in the breath of the sick.

"Disease germs may be carried in food and by insects, but they play a small part in infectious diseases here in New England," said Dr. Chapin. "We constantly carry the germs of tuberculosis, pneumonia, scarlet fever, diphtheria, influenza, mumps, whooping cough and typhoid fever in our mouth or nose, or both. "What surer way or more excellent plan of transmitting these diseases than by kissing, a thing unnecessary and often meaningless. The kissing of young women, of girls, of babies and the kiss of the so-called friend are sure to transmit saliva and the germs that it harbors. Then there are the pencil and the common drinking cup as fertile causes of the spread of disease by contact."

Only Fairly Mature at 50.

Chicago, Ill.—The Anti Forty-five Year Age Limit League, Educational and Social, received a charter from the Secretary of State. The founders, William P. Black and Edward C. Cecil, say they tried to make the name self-explanatory. They are "anti" anything which even intimates that fifty is more than a fairly mature age. "We hope," said Mr. Cecil, "to nip in the bud this idea that men are in any way incapacitated at such a trivial age as forty-five. You know the imaginations of people are wonderful things, and if you just tell them often enough that a man's no good after he reaches forty-five they'll get to believe it pretty soon."

RUM DENIED, THEN NARCOTICS.

Physician Says an Enormous Amount of Narcotics is Used.

Boston, Mass.—To shut off rum increases the use of the drugs is the opinion of Dr. Richard C. Cabot, a leading Boston physician. He says an enormous amount of narcotics is used in the United States and that in view of the possibility of curing the victims every precaution should be taken toward that end.

Although he does not say it is actually increasing, Dr. Cabot, believes that among the causes for the prevalence of such habits, are the ease with which drugs are to be obtained illegally and the freedom with which they are prescribed by some physicians.

VANDALS IN PETRIFIED FOREST.

Slow Up Redwood Trunks and Sell Them in the East.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Under orders from Washington, D. C., G. W. Helm, chief of the field division of the United States Land Office, left Los Angeles for the petrified forest national reserve in Northern Arizona, to investigate reports that vandals with dynamite have been destroying some of the finest specimens.

Using the explosive to break up the petrified trunks of the giant redwood trees, which once grew in Arizona, the miscreants have done great damage. Several large shipments of the petrified wood were made to cities where they are valuable as souvenirs. The reserve contains 60,776 acres.

WOMAN TO DIRECT MINT.

Miss Kelly in Full Charge While Superiors Are Away.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary MacVeagh approved an order which placed a woman in direct charge of all the mints and assay offices in the United States for short intervals at various times during the year.

The woman is Miss Margaret V. Kelly of the Mint Bureau, one of the three highest paid women in the Government service. George E. Roberts, director of the mint, is obliged to be absent from the Treasury much of his time, and R. E. Preston, the mint examiner, is also away much. In such cases Miss Kelly acts as director of the mint with full powers.

Indian Slays His Son.

M'Alister, Okla.—Douglas Jones was killed at his brother's home, ten miles north of here, and his father, Willie Jones, was charged with murder. The accused was a Choctaw Indian and a former Sheriff. The Joneses were gambling and drinking when a fight occurred. Douglas Jones held his father to keep him from striking another man. Jones said: "I got my gun and kill you." He made good his threat, shooting his son through the body.

Paris, France.—The bodies of a well-dressed man and woman, were found in the river near Brunoy, a charming little country town just outside Paris. The man had been kept under water by the weight of money which he carried. In one of his pockets he had $95 and in another $115, all in silver and copper coins.

Temperance Opics

MORAL STATUS OF DRINKING.

In temperance work a clearer definition of the exact moral status of the drinking of alcoholic liquors needs to be established and maintained. The fundamental question is: Is alcohol a poison or is it not?

There is really no difference among intelligent people as to the injurious results upon persons and upon society of drinking alcoholic liquors to excess, and the right of the State to control and to punish it. The liquor dealers themselves in self-protection are moving for the prevention of drunkenness. The real question of the future in temperance work will be: Is the use of alcoholic liquors in moderation hurtful or harmless?

If alcohol may be used in moderate quantities without harm to the person or to others there can be no law maintained to prevent such use, and the position of those who oppose total abstinence and prohibition as sumptuary laws and infringement of personal liberty is correct. On the other hand, if alcohol is a poison, and the use of it, except in very small quantities, for medicinal purposes, is harmful to the user and makes him a less innocent and useful member of society than he otherwise might have been, the drinking of alcoholic liquors ought to be absolutely forbidden; and the State has a right to prohibit it, as well as the common and unrestrained use of other poisons.

The temperance cause has suffered greatly in the past from confusion on this point, and a great amount of argument is being wasted to-day for want of a clear issue at this point. Prohibition is stigmatized as the attempt to restrain intemperance by intemperance; and so it is, if alcohol as a beverage is not in its nature hurtful. But if alcohol is a poison the only right thing to do is to absolutely prohibit its use as a beverage. Any other attitude of the State toward it is immoral.

For ourselves, after careful examination of all we have been able to get at, we are satisfied that alcohol is in its nature a poison, and that even in moderate quantities, its use is harmful, and that it is the duty of every person who has a regard for personal health and strength and mental clearness and vigor, to totally abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages, and that it is the duty of the State to prohibit and to prevent their use by every means in its power.—The Watchman.

The Lords and Saloon Property.

According to a parliamentary return recently published it would appear that some prominent members of the "House of Lords" are interested in "public-house" property in England. The following is a list of peers with the number of these establishments which, according to this document, each owns:

| | |
|------------------------|-----|
| Lord Salisbury | 11 |
| Lord Dunraven | 11 |
| Lord Derby | 72 |
| Duke of Bedford | 50 |
| Duke of Devonshire | 47 |
| Lord Hartington | 6 |
| Duke of Rutland | 37 |
| Duke of Northumberland | 36 |
| Lord Dudley | 33 |
| Lord Cowper | 22 |
| Total | 325 |

Our readers can judge as to the reception any movement looking to the overthrow of the liquor traffic is likely to meet with in the "upper" house of the British Parliament.

Crime and the Saloon.

There is nothing that gives those who are working for the temperance cause more heart to go on with the work than the returns that are coming in, showing the decrease of crime that has been effected in places where the saloons have been abolished. Take, for instance, these figures furnished by the clerk of the court of McDowell County, N. C. They contrast the crimes committed and brought before the five superior courts sitting previous to the introduction of no saloons with those brought before the five immediately succeeding courts with saloons.

In the saloon period the registry of crimes was murder 17, conspiracies 7, other crimes 74. In the succeeding no-saloon period the list reads: murders 3, conspiracy none, other crimes 34. A cause which can bring about such a lessening of shame and degradation as that is well worth working for.

Shakespeare's Directions Defined.

"The actors for whom Shakespeare wrote" does not mean, as it would at present, the world of English-speaking actors; it means the company of which Shakespeare was a member. His work was done, not as a modern dramatist, for any company which heaven and Frohman may please to call together, but for a small united band of men of whom he was one, with whom he lived in close intimacy.—Atlantic.

Youth, the plastic morning of life, is the time when we must do our effective work in character-building. If it is neglected then, or postponed, it will be well-nigh impossible to mold a perfect character.—Success

LATE JAMES LAWRENCE.

Stanstead has lost one more of its promising sons in the person of Mr. James Lawrence, whose death was briefly referred to in last week's JOURNAL. Deceased was born May 3, 1882, and went to Montreal with his parents when a lad of twelve or thirteen years. He was a young man of rare social and personal qualities and leaves a host of friends by whom his untimely death is deeply mourned.

Although most of his life was spent in his native land, he gave of his best to the neighboring Republic. He had seen three years' service in the U. S. Army, being a Sergeant in Company B, First Michigan Infantry, with whom he went to the Philippines. At the home of the regiment in Sault Ste. Marie, as well as in the Philippines, he won the first position as a sharpshooter, and was held in the highest esteem by both officers and men. After an absence of two years and six months he returned to America, completing the remainder of his three years' service in the garrison at Vancouver, Washington.

His trip from New York to Manila lasted three months, the fleet visiting Gibraltar, Malta, Port Said, etc., en route. The return trip included a visit to some of the principal ports of China and Japan. While he found much of interest in these foreign lands, he returned with impaired health. He suffered from heart trouble and finally fell a prey to pneumonia while on a business trip to the Canadian Northwest. Later on he was taken to Minneapolis for treatment. From the first his condition was exceedingly critical, but he refused to give up, and put up a brave fight for life. His fatal enemy was a weak heart, which required the most powerful stimulants, and in the end failed to respond to these.

His death occurred at the Lawrence Sanatorium in Minneapolis, May 10th, and the funeral was held in Westmount (Montreal) the 17th. In the party which accompanied the remains to Stanstead for interment last Thursday were: His father, Mr. A. J. Lawrence, Mrs. Lawrence, her son and daughter, Mr. R. S. Higgins and Miss Ethel Higgins, Miss Hortense Lawrence, Westmount, Miss Maud M. Mills, Toronto, fiancée of the deceased, and Mr. E. E. Lawrence, of Cowansville, an uncle of the deceased. An uncle, Col. F. D. Burns of Boston, arrived at Stanstead Sunday night and after making arrangements for the burial, left Tuesday for Montreal to attend the funeral.

THE INTERNATIONAL UNION.

The International W. C. T. U. of Stanstead and Derby Line held its annual meeting May 10th, in the vestry of the Congregational Church, Rock Island. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Frederick Taylor, Derby Line; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Elsie McIntosh, Stanstead; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Harris Bryant, Derby Line; corresponding and recording secretary, Mrs. H. M. Hovey, Rock Island; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Lunt, Derby Line. Superintendents: Mrs. Trueman, S. T. Ins. and Narcotics; Mrs. McIntosh and Miss Colby, flower mission; Mrs. Hill, press.

After the business meeting a pleasant social hour was enjoyed and delicate refreshments were served.

Although many adverse circumstances have prevented much work, which we would gladly have accomplished, yet we chronicle a year not wholly without results.

Our first work was the entertainment of the Stanstead County W. C. T. U. in June, 1910. $25.00 was donated to the "Village Improvement Society;" poor and needy families were assisted in various ways; help given in tacking quilts for Stanstead College; many sick and afflicted ones were remembered and cheered with gifts of beautiful flowers.

Although no particularly aggressive temperance work has been undertaken we have endeavored at all times to uphold and practice the principles of our organization, "total abstinence for the individual, total prohibition for the State."

The International Cornet Band Dedicates Their New Stand.

The Village of Derby Line, at their annual meeting appropriated $100.00 for the band, and it was decided to use it for a stand at Derby Line. The stand built, has a wooden base, circular in form, 16 feet in diameter and 42 inches in height. The periphery of the circle is made up of a frieze and base divided by styles into panels of lattice work. The casings are all finished natural and the lattice work is painted a dark green. There is an iron pipe railing 24 inches high and nine 8 1/2 foot upright pipes with fixtures for lighting the stand. The woodwork was done by Hockings & Drew, the iron work by Ralph J. Hunt and the electric wiring by Lyman Hill.

The band gave the initial concert on Friday evening to a very complimentary audience. At least a thousand people were present, and the program was a fine one. The boys played the best we have heard them, and everybody was more than pleased. Now let Rock Island build a stand.

Miss Mary E. Wark Gives Pianoforte Recital.

Friday evening May 19th, a very choice and pleasing program was rendered at Pierce Hall by Miss Mary E. Wark, assisted by Miss Ida L. Pierce. The pianoforte numbers were taken from Joachim Raff, Robert Schumann, Beethoven and Mendelssohn and were well calculated to display brilliant technique and musical insight.

Miss Wark's ability to memorize was finely shown in the three difficult numbers she gave without notes, these were: Schumann's Novellette Op. 21, No. 1; Beethoven's Sonata Op. 13, (1st movement) and Mendelssohn's Capriccio Brilliant, Op. 22.

Both Miss Wark and Miss Benjamin, graduates this year from the E. T. C. M., are excellent examples of good work accomplished and high ideals in view. The motto of the College has a living meaning to earnest students.

Miss Pierce sang an aria from "Hérodiade," "Il est doux, il est bon" and for an encore a delightfully sweet bird song whose refrain was: "I love you."

The flowers presented Miss Wark and Miss Pierce were very beautiful and, as usual, each pianoforte number from the debutante received floral recognition.

The graceful ushers were: Miss House, Miss Mills, Miss Benjamin.

LIBBYTOWN.

Mr. and Miss Chamberlain and Miss E. Bean spent Sunday at the latter's home.

Mrs. Cohoon and Miss Cohoon of Albert Mines, were at Mr. H. Slack's over Sunday.

Every one is busy with spring's work, but we need rain very badly.

Methodists in Stanstead District.

Stanstead District Methodist, at a meeting in Magog last week, passed the following resolution: "While not agreeing with every item of the proposed basis of Church union, we place ourselves on record as being in healthy sympathy with organic union." Rev. A. Lee Holmes asked Conference, through the district meeting, for a superannuation relation which will relieve him from work in connection with Stanstead College. The request was made on account of impaired health, and an appreciative and sympathetic resolution was passed. Mr. Holmes has been actively engaged in the ministry or connected with the College practically all of the time for something like forty years. New appointments were discussed, a committee consisting of Rev. A. H. Visser and Rev. R. Goudie being named to consider the advisability of one at Ayer's Cliff. Another committee, consisting of Rev. W. S. Jamieson, Principal Trueman and the Superintendents of Barnston, Compton and Hatley circuits, was appointed to consider an economical readjustment of the fields including the Georgeville mission. Cassville is attached to the Hatley circuit, Smith's Mills to Georgeville, necessitating, in each case, a long drive. Both places might be easily reached from Stanstead, and the College may be called upon to serve them. The following laymen were elected to attend Conference in Montreal, which takes place the last of May: Principal Trueman, Messrs. D. W. Davis, James F. Telford, Dr. Shurtleff, Messrs. O. T. Shurtleff, H. M. Akin, A. E. Smith, B. D. Young, J. H. Ball, J. H. Holland, Wm. Fowler, George Curtis.

MCCONNELL.

Farmers are busy getting the seed into the ground while the dry weather lasts, but it is very trying to work in the hot sun with the mercury in the nineties in the shade. Sunday it was 96, and rain is much needed.

Mr. Oris Brown was taken violently ill on Monday of last week, but through the skillful treatment of Dr. Brown, he is on the road to recovery.

Mr. M. Clement took his little boy of nine or ten years to the hospital last week to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Slack from Ayer's Cliff was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. Brown.

Mrs. J. S. Humphrey of Magog, was the guest of Mrs. Farnell at Glen Brook Farm last Friday.

Mr. H. Rowell returned to his home in Swamscott, Mass., last week.

EAST BOLTON.

Recent arrivals and departures include: Miss Margaret Patterson home from Crystal Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reeves, Mr. George Spaulding and Miss Ethel Jackson, all of Montreal, at John Patterson's; Messrs. J. Campbell, A. Flemming and Miss Campbell, of Magog, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bowen of Currier, at Wm. Patterson's; Mrs. Blake of Sutton, at A. L. Scott's; Nurse Culver of Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stone of Currier, at A. L. Bryants; Miss Myrtle Peasey of Channell, at B. J. Wadleighs.

Miss Charstina Randall of Magog, was at her home here over Sunday.

Mrs. Susan Randall, who has spent the winter in Boston, has returned.

Mrs. Bettington is spending a few days at Mr. Ridge's, Magog.

Miss Maggie Stone, of Channell, is at Mrs. Juby's.

The M. E. Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Ezra Ball on Thursday.

Mr. Carl Juby is suffering with another attack of appendicitis.

Miss Hazel Channell, who has had a relapse, is improving.

BALDWIN'S MILLS.

The death of Mr. Charles H. Lyons took place at his home Friday morning May 12th, at 5.30 after a long illness. He had been confined to the house since last November, and was a patient sufferer with asthma. Mr. Lyons was born in Stanstead, Nov. 13th, 1851, and was therefore sixty years and six months of age. He has lived the most of his life in Barnston. He is survived by his widow, four sons and four daughters. The funeral service was held Sunday, May 14th, at the Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Bradshaw officiating. The funeral was largely attended, Mr. Lyons having many friends. The chief mourners were his widow; four sons, Alexander, Jedson, Clarence and Harry; four daughters, (Hattie) Mrs. John Bushau, (Bessie) Mrs. Joseph Perkins, (Persis) Mrs. Roy Morrison, and Miss Leona. The bearers were his four nephews: Frederick, Eugene, Carlton and Harry Perkins.

The interment took place at Caswellboro, where he now rests in peace.

Clark's Soups for Children.

Every mother knows that soup and bread is often all that a child will take for a meal. Physicians say that nothing could be better if the soup has nourishing qualities such as Clark's Oatmeal Brand Concentrated Soups have. Get a 10 cent tin from your grocer. Wm. Clark, Mr., Montreal.

ABOUT OUR NEIGHBORS.

Dr. Keyes of Georgeville, has been appointed public vaccinator for the County of Stanstead.

Bedford had a bad fire on the 12th inst., starting in Mrs. C. M. Walker's barn the flames spreading to adjoining buildings and left seven families homeless.

Last week fire destroyed between three and four thousand feet of pulpwood belonging to B. O. Howard of Sherbrooke. The wood was piled at the Plant Siding on the Tring-Megantic branch of the Quebec Central Railway.

Methodists of the Quebec District, in session of Cookshire last week, declared unanimously in favor of the basis laid down for Church Union. It was decided to call for a revision of Clause 5 relating to Church property vested in separate trustees.

Death came suddenly to J. Everett, Lennoxville, on the 18th inst. While not exactly well, he had been attending to his work as usual on Thursday. After supper he sat down in a chair and expired almost immediately. His death was attributed to heart failure.

Something of a sensation was caused at Magog last Thursday by the finding of the body of an unknown man in the river at the cotton mill dam. The corpse may have come from the lake. It was beyond identification, but was that of man about 40 years of age, 5 ft, 8 in. high and rather stout. He wore a long coat and overalls.

The old Presbyterian Church at Lake Megantic will soon become the home of Fidelity Lodge, A. F. & A. M. The building which was bought by the Lodge some time ago, has been moved to its new foundation adjoining the Model School property. Twelve feet is being added to the length of the building and the roof is to be raised six feet to accommodate a second floor.

CRYSTAL LAKE.

Mr. Fred Ketcham from Orleans, Vt., spent the week-end at his home here.

Miss Ethel Minor was a recent guest of Mrs. F. H. Rider at Fitch Bay.

Miss Lena Minor is visiting relatives in Worcester and Boston, Mass., for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Walls, Oliver, were recent guests at J. R. Wells'.

Miss Margaret Patterson has returned to her home at East Bolton, after spending a week with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Benj. Minor went to St. Johnsbury, Vt., where she will spend the summer with her husband.

Mr. Wilbur Harris was a guest at Mr. Edward Minor's Sunday.
