SHOT THROUGH THE BRAIN.

A SAD ENDING OF A MISSPENT LIFE.

EMBEZZLER LEPAILLEUR'S BODY LIES IN THE MORGUE.

A CHABOILLEZ SQUARE SALOON THE SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY.

Police Again at Fault—A Stranger Whose Whereabouts Remain a Mystery.

ELTERING in a pool of blood in a little back room of a Chaboillez Square saloon last evening lay the body of a young man whose suicide was the ending of a sad, misspent life.

The old square was crowded with people passing along to their homes, the bar of the hotel kept by Crevier on the corner of Inspector was doing a big business, when suddenly a pistol shot rang out from the rear of the building.

To those passing along Inspector Street it was evident that the shot came from a back room of the hotel; the window was open and immediately a throng of excited people battled for supremacy in an endeavor to get a glimpse of what was going on.

Hotel Keeper Crevier, followed by dozens of men, rushed from the bar to the rear, and there, in a small room, lay the dead body of young C. A. Lepailleur, the son of the late Bailiff J. A. Lepailleur.

The boy—he was only twenty-three—had disgraced his family, had been under arrest for embezzlement. His father fell dead through his misdeeds after he had saved his son from the penitentiary, and the climax to the sad story came when the young man deliberately placed a revolver to his head, fired and fell to the ground a corpse.

One of the first on the scene of the tragedy was a Herald representative. The excitement was such that pen can scarce describe it. Many thought that murder had been done and though this is quite possible the circumstances all point to suicide. To the people, however, who were present and who soon learned that a man had entered the saloon with Lepailleur, had drank with him and then had disappeared, perhaps after the shot was fired, there was no excuse for the apathy shown by the police authorities. Not an effort was made to find that stranger. This worked up the excitement and for hours crowds stood and discussed the shooting.

THE SUICIDE AN EMBEZZLER.

In his schooldays Lepailleur was exceedingly bright and after his education was completed he got a position as one of the tellers in the City and District Savings Bank. Here he was well liked and trusted. But prosperity was too much for him. Dissolute companions, whiskey and billiards, soon got him into debt and he resolved on a desperate scheme. Forging a note for $250 he handed it to a companion, who waited till Lepailleur reached the bank; then he presented the cheque and got the money. The two met afterwards and were soon on the way to Chicago. They were traced immediately and Lepailleur was brought back for punishment.

Nearly five hundred dollars was needed to pay the expenses of the arrest and the amount of the forged cheque, but if this could be raised, Lepailleur might be saved from the jail. His father took compassion and every cent he owned went to save the boy. The law lost its prey and the prisoner went free.

IT KILLED THE FATHER.

Scarce three months had passed ere it was seen that the son's disgrace was telling upon the father. Gradually the old man failed as he fretted over his troubles and on the evening of Nov. 2, of last year he complained of his health, fearing that the end was near. The following day he knelt in prayer in his home, 170 Sanguinet Street, and as he rose to his feet he staggered. With the words "God save my son," he fell to the ground and was dead.

This somewhat straightened young Lepailleur and shortly afterwards he left for Texas. The story of his crime followed him and he lost his situation, soon returning to Montreal. Here he again found enjoyment in drink and bad companions.

On Friday last he said to a friend: "If you had a revolver to give me I would shoot myself now, in front of you." His companions, however, never thought that he meant what he said, but evidently he did.

The deceased had many good qualities and had friends whose warning, had he accepted it, would have saved him. Among these may be mentioned the fencing school of Professor Comte. On March 29th, 1890, Le Monde Illustre published a picture of the Professor and his pupils, one of them being the unfortunate suicide of last night.

THE PROPRIETOR'S STORY.

At twenty minutes to six o'clock last evening two men entered the saloon and restaurant occupied by Mr. Crevier at No. 2 Chaboillez Square. According to Mr. L. G. Crevier's statement, both men appeared to be perfectly sober. One of these was the deceased; the other is described as being of more than medium height, thin in appearance and dressed in a gray suit. The men called for drinks and turned into a private room to the left of the entrance. Mr. Crevier states that the men were served and that he paid no more attention to them until the sound of a shot cracking through the building turned the usually well ordered establishment into a scene of chaos.

The proprietor rushed from behind the bar, dazed at first by the report, and when he collected himself, he turned to the rear of the building where there was another room for restaurant purposes. On attempting to open the door, he found an obstruction, which turned out to be the body of the unfortunate Lapailleur. The victim of the rash act was perfectly dead when found. A gaping wound in his right temple, an inch above and a little to the front of his right ear indicated where the fatal ball had entered.

Among those who followed Crevier was Joseph Langlois, contractor, of Ontario Street. Mr. Langlois states that the unfortunate man was quite dead when he entered. The floor of the little room was saturated with blood and the table furniture was scattered about. There was not a trace of Lepailleur's friend. Neither then, nor since the entrance of the two men, was anything seen of the man in the gray suit.

WAS IT MURDER?

When the corpse was discovered Crevier immediately called in the policeman on that beat. The officer promptly telephoned for the Notre Dame Hospital ambulance and the body was at once removed. On enquiry at the hospital the Herald representatives were told that the man was dead and had been taken to the Morgue. At this place the body was found. In the meantime every trace of a possible crime had been destroyed, owing to the number of hands through which the body had passed and the admittance of the public to the scene of the affair.

At the Morgue where the body was ultimately taken it was found that Lepailleur had been instantly killed by a single shot from a 32 calibre revolver. The body presented the appearance of a well dressed man of heavy build, clad in a neat dark suit, with a summer shirt and turned down collar. From cards found in his pocket, the identity of the deceased was learned.

In addition to the ghastly wound in the right side of the head the deceased's left eye was badly blackened. This may have been the result of the shot.

IDENTIFIED THE DECEASED.

Among those who appeared at the Morgue to identify the body was Albert Plante, of 1447 Ontario Street. He stated that he met Lepailleur on St. Lawrence Street on Tuesday night. The deceased appeared to be in good spirits and had not been drinking. Adolphe Larin, livery stable keeper, of Lagauchetiere Street, also identified the body. He stated that Lepailleur had hired a carriage from him some days ago, and through that business transaction he was able to identify him.

THE INQUEST.

An inquest will be held to-day, but the facts are so straight that it is hardly considered necessary. It would, however, be interesting if the police could find out who the stranger was.

GATHERING AT LONDON.

Quadrennial Methodist Conference Commences To-day.

London, Ont., Sept. 5.—The delegates to Quadrennial Methodist Conference, which opens in the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, commenced to arrive in the city to-day. Dr. Carman Belleville, the general superintendent, was early on hand, and among the other arrivals were Rev. Mr. Cassidy, Japan; Mr. H. Sath, a representative of the Japanese Government at the World's Fair, and who remained over to be present at the conference; Rev. J. J. Holmes, Clinton; Judge Deacon, Pembroke; Dr. Alexander Sutherland, Toronto; Rev. Isaac Tovelle, president Niagara Conference, and Rev. John Whitfield, Dundas.

The Superannuation Committee met yesterday in Wesley building, Richmond St., Toronto, with Rev. Dr. Carman, in the chair. The report of Rev. Dr. Griffin shows the fund to be in a very healthy condition. The revenue amounted to $90,114, which is a considerable increase over last year. The invested funds exceed $206,000 being an increase of $3,500 on the investments of 1893. At the close of the present financial year, 204 ministers, 151 widows of ministers, and 82 orphans, were receiving support from the funds.

There will doubtless be some discussion over the editorship of the Christian Guardian. It will be remembered that at the last conference an attempt was made to oust Rev. Dr. Dewart, happily without success.

DENY AUTHORIZATION.

Who Appealed to Mr. Gladstone on Behalf of The Irish Fund?

Dublin, Sept. 5.—The Freeman's Journal says that the origin of the circular appealing for contributions to the Irish fund has been traced to the London Committee of the Irish National League. The Committee, however, deny that they authorized the sending of the appeal to Mr. Gladstone, or any other English Minister or member of Parliamsnt.

NORTHWEST FIRES.

SETTLERS BURNED TO DEATH IN THE RAINY RIVER DISTRICT.

MUCH DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY ON THE CANADIAN SIDE.

An Extensive Tract of Country One Mass of Flames.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—A dispatch from Rat Portage this afternoon, says that Rainy River on both sides for the whole length, excepting ten miles at the mouth, is one huge mass of flames. The American woods, where there are but few settlers, are all burning, and at Borwick the fires were so fierce that they jumped across the river, as well as at other places, setting the Canadian woods afire. The Canadian side is well settled, and settlers are losing heavily.

On Saturday Mrs. Gamsby and five children living on Grassy River were burned, excepting one boy who took refuge in a well. A daughter of eighteen years had her head and feet burned off. The father, who was some distance away, escaped with his eyes and face badly burned. Geo. Watt's buildings were burned and the family saved with great difficulty. All settlers back from Rainy River has been burned out, losing everything. Mrs. Wm. Bartley, of Fort Francis, is dead, and Arthur Wright, a settler of Rainy River, was found on Sunday dead in bed.

A CABINET MEETING.

The Montreal Collectorship Said To Have Been Discussed.

[Special to the Herald.]

Ottawa, Sept. 5—There was a meeting of the Cabinet this afternoon, Sir John Thompson and Mackenzie Bowell having returned from Toronto this morning. It is rumored to-night that the question of the Collectorship of Customs at Montreal was discussed, and that the appointment of R. S. White, M.P., to the position will be shortly announced.

CROPS ARE MOVING.

Estimate to be Two Million Bushels Better than Last Year.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Crops in Manitoba are beginning to move. Prices vary from 42c to 40c per bushel. This is equal to 56c at Fort William, or a shade higher than Duluth wheat. The general feeling of farmers is to thresh and sell at once, and deliveries will be quite large during the next ten days, and will keep on increasing to November 1st. The conditions of the crop could not be better. The quality is equal to, if not better than last year. The yield is considered by conservative dealers to be about 2,000,000 bushels more than the crop of 1893. The oat crop is also a very large one, larger than in any previous year.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Case of Peter Bissette.

Coroner McMahon held an inquest at the Morgue yesterday afternoon into the circumstances attending the death of an ex-farmer named Peter Bissette, of Sutton, Ont., who fell into the docks from the Steamship Oregon on Saturday and was drowned.

The evidence showed that the deceased was seventy seven years of age and had been in failing health for some time past. He was returning home to Scotland in company with his nephew, William Bissette, of Corstophine, Scotland. They went on board the Oregon on Saturday night at about eight o'clock and at about nine o'clock deceased complained of feeling cramps in his legs. He went on deck and immediately afterwards a report was spread that there was a man overboard. Bissette was then missed, and although a search was made for him he could not be found, but the body was afterwards recovered in the river at Vercheres, and identified by the nephew of the deceased.

The jury, after hearing the evidence of Dr. Wyatt Johnson, William Bissette, Sydney Phillips, in the employ of the Dominion Line, and Constable Barber, returned a verdict of "Accidental Death."

Entertainer Entertained.

After his performance last evening, Herrmann was entertained to a supper at the residence of J. M. Fortier, Sherbrooke Street. A large number of the friends of the famous magician were present, and a most enjoyable time was had.

Fire Department Blamed.

The inquest on the lamented fireman, St. George, was held at his late residence, Grand Trunk Street, last evening. The verdict was accidental death, attaching blame to the Fire Department. The funeral takes place to-morrow morning.

PERSONAL.

Dr. W. F. Hamilton and Dr. G. H. Mathewson, of this city, have decided to go to Europe by R. M. S. Labrador, of the Dominion Line, Sept. 15.

The four daughters of S. Nordheimer, Miiss Nordheimer, Miss A., Miss Errol, and Miss Edith, of Toronto, have taken passage to Europe on R.M.S. Sarnia of the Dominion Line.

Mrs. Adami, mother of Prof. Adami, of McGill, accompanied also by Miss Adami and Miss L. Adami, his two sisters, who have been sojourning here a couple of months, return to England by R.M.S. Labrador of the Dominion Line, sailing Sept. 15.

BREVITIES.

The Monde announces that several Federal Ministers, including Mr. Ouimet, will leave September 15th for a tour of the Northwest and that they will be gone about four weeks.

The report of the Medical Superintendent of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane for the week ending Sept. 1, shows 223 patients, five admitted, four discharged cured, two discharged on trial, two deaths. The visiting governors for week commencing 10th inst. are Messrs. Geo. A. Greene, R. Hy. Holland, W. B. Lindsay, Hugh Paton.

South Huron Reformers.

Brucefield, Ont., Sept. 5.—South Huron Reformers again nominated John McMillan, M.P., as the candidate for the Federal House. The nominee made a speech and resolutions endorsing Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat, also one deploring the loss sustained in the death of Hon. C. F. Fraser.

NEWS FROM QUEBEC.

The Pointe au Pic Fire—Governor General's Ball.

[Special to the Herald.]

Quebec, Sept. 5—Thirty-seven houses in all were destroyed by the recent fire at Pointe au Pic, Murray Bay, and the damage will amount nearly to $55,000, while the insurances hardly reach $20,000. The first report concerning the disaster necessarily contained some inaccurate details, and the news that the two extensive stores of Mr. Wm. Warren had been destroyed was premature. The store of Mrs. Joseph Bouchard was the only one burnt down. There was no insurance on the latter. Most of the insurances are on the Guardian and Phœnix Companies.

The old and historic Ursuline Monastery of Quebec was yesterday thrown open to the public for the second time in the space of two hundred and fifty years and thousands of people, among them being many strangers, availed themselves of the opportunity to see the interior of the famous institution and have a look on objects and souvenirs which date from the French regime.

It is stated that a soldier of the Levis camp, who was seriously injured in a row between people of Saint Joseph de Levis and meddlesome volunteers, is like to die of his wounds, at the hospital. General Herbert expressed his regrets to the Mayor of Bienville over the disturbance, and hereafter the soldiers will be confined into the camp.

The Paymaster of one of the British men-of-war in port is said to have left without leave for unknown parts. Search is being made by the detectives. The missing man was seen for the last time yesterday at Sillery, where he engaged a carter.

The journalists of this city were received by Admiral Sir John Hopkins on board H. M. S. Blake this morning, and courteously invited by French Admiral Maigret to visit the flagship Naiade to-morrow morning.

Bishop Dunn goes to Europe by the Allan liner Laurentian, and returns on October 25th.

The grand ball given at the Citadel to-night by Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Aberdeen, was one of the most brilliant events in the social annals of Quebec. The attendance was very large, comprising officers of the flagships in port and of the Levis Camp, and the elite of the city.

PILOTS COMPLAINTS.

The Committee's Report—Temporary Scheme of Relief.

At a meeting of the Harbor Commissioners' Committee on Pilots, Beacons and Buoys, held yesterday afternoon, the petition recently received from the tour-de-role pilots, and the application for a pension to Pilot Damase Cayen, who has become unable to pilot owing to a stroke of paralysis on the 20th ultimo, were considered, when the following report was drawn up for submission to the Commissioners at their next meeting:

"The committee report that they have forwarded to the Committee of Pilots for their consideration the accompanying letter, and recommend that the matter be allowed to remain pending a reply.

"Meantime for the purpose of giving immediate relief for the balance of this year that the Dominion Coal Company be respectfully requested to consider the selection of one or more pilots in addition to those already arranged for on their steamers, under the existing regulations.

"The committee also recommend that a pension at the rate of $150 per annum be granted to Pilot Damase Cayen. Andrew Allan, chairman; Victor Hudon, Richard White."

The letter to the pilots is as follows:

"The Committee of Pilots, Beacons and Buoys have had under consideration the representations made by Mr. Arcand on behalf of the tour-de-role pilots, Mr. Auger, as representing the selected pilots, and yourselves speaking for the whole body.

"The Committee of the Harbor Commissioners would be glad before making any specific recommendation to the Board if you would kindly intimate on behalf of the pilots your views of the following proposals, which, if agreeable to the pilots, would be recommended by this Committee to the Harbor Commissioners for adoption:

"1. Would it be satisfactory to the body of pilots to pass a resolution authorizing the employment of pilots holding branches between Montreal and Quebec by colliers or other vessels trading with the Lower Provinces, at a fixed salary as might be agreed between the pilot and the ship's agent, such men of course to be taken off the tour-de-role and lightening it to that extent, i. e. the pilots so engaged would be engaged as regular officers of the ship and would take charge of the vessels as pilots between Montreal and Quebec, remaining, however, under the jurisdiction of the Board and being required to pay poundage on earnings and being entitled to superannuation.

"2. The abolition of the tour-de-role entirely and giving to every pilot the right to arrange with the ship owners upon such terms as they desired for the pilotage between the two points, the present tariff being of course regarded as a maximum of charges that might be collected.

"In the opinion of the Committee, if the suggestions made at the late conference were adopted it would lead to the acceptance of the second of these propositions, but it is such a radical one that they hesitate about recommending its adoption without having a clear authoritative statement from the pilots that it would meet their views.

"The first proposition might be adopted at once and would probably take a couple of names off the tour-de-role, and to that extent give a better opportunity for all the pilots to make some money."

AMUSEMENTS.

Beginning to-night Mme. Herrmann will for the first time in Montreal present her famous Butterfly dance in addition to those she is now giving. This is by request of many of Mme. Herrmann's Montreal friends who saw her in New York, where the dance created a regular furore. The Professor was greeted by another large house last evening, and was as entertaining as ever.

Steamer Favorite Floated.

Collingwood, Ont., Sept. 5. — The stranded steamer Favorite floated to-day and arrived here this afternoon. She was not much damaged.

Annexation of Necker Island.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Evening Telegram's special cable from London says: "The annexation of Necker Island by Hawaii has created no little surprise in colonial circles as the Island was suggested at the Intercolonial conference held recently at Ottawa as a station for the proposed Pacific cable. It is understood that the Imperial Government is about to treat with the Hawaiian's for a transfer of the Island.

ON CONTRACT WORK

THE LABOR CONGRESS WANTS A GOVERNMENT STIPULATION.

FOR UNION SCALE OR CURRENT WAGES IN PUBLIC WORKS.

Fault Found With a Provincial Factory Inspector—Government Heelers Not Wanted.

[Special to the Herald.]

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The first order of business taken up at the Trades and Labor Congress to-day was communications. Mr. Lepine, M.P., Montreal, was present.

A communication asking the Congress to send delegates to the Deep Water Convention to be held in Toronto, was referred to a Special Committee.

The question of a Saturday half holiday asked by the Bricklayers Union was also referred to a special committee.

A resolution asking for a clause in Government contracts to compel the contractors paying the highest scale of wages was referred to a standing committee.

Delegate O'Donoghue moved and delegate A. W. W. Holmes seconded the following resolution: Resolved that the expenditure of any public money, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of assisting, bonusing, encouraging or decoying emigrants of either or both the classes mentioned adult or juvenile from abroad to Canada is unnecessary and unjustiable under such circumstances.

Be it resolved further, That as a consequence of the existence of such a condition of the labor market in the Dominion of Canada, the existing unjust and misleading system of Dominion immigration, as well as like expenditure on the part of all the provinces except British Columbia, should be abolished and only those possessed of financial wealth should be encouraged to the country;

Be it resolved still further, That it Parliamentary Committee of this Congress to prepare and present to the Hon. the Minister of Interior and Immigration of Canada and the several emigration bureaus of the Provinces a duly certified copy of this resolution, and that they press upon their attention the great importance of this subject to workingmen; also that a certified copy of the same be forwarded to His Excellency the Governor-General, for such action as to him may seem most desirable.

It was referred to a standing committee. Delegate Darlington, of Montreal, moved a resolution that inasmuch as the trades and labor congress had found it impossible to secure any changes required from any of the political parties that the several labor organizations of the Dominion unite in the forming of a distinctive labor party with the hope of securing some of the changes which the working men so much require. The resolution was seconded by Delegate Metcalfe, of Montreal.

Delegate Darlington, speaking on his resolution, said that last session of Parliament the Dominion Government only passed three bills of interest to the workingmen out of the 140 bills which were entirely antagonistic to labor. He insisted on the labor party being independent so as to force some of the political parties doing something for the cause of labor. He said that many members of Congress had become connected with that body as a stepping stone to political offices.

Delegate Jobin, of Quebec, asked for names, but Delegate Darlington said that he made no charge against any person. The discussion was ruled out of order until the committee reported.

The Committee on Standing Orders referred back the resolution relating to Government contracts. The resolution is as follows: Moved by R. M. Draper, seconded by T. A. Smith, "That in the opinion of this Congress it is expedient on all Government contracts (Dominion or Provincial), and in the best interests of the laboring classes as a whole, to insert in every Government contract for any public work made and entered into hereafter, a clause requiring the contractor to pay the working-men engaged upon such work the Union scale, or at least the current rate of wages paid in the locality where such work is being done, at, and during the time such contract is being carried on; That it is necessary owing to the rapid introduction of labor saving machinery which tends to reduce the demand for labor to an enormous extent that a clause be inserted in every Government contract fixing the hours of labor at eight hours per day, this to be the maximum not to be exceeded."

Delegate Darlington moved an amendment to the resolution that all Government contract work be abolished and that the hours of labor on Government work be eight hours per day or less.

Delegate O'Donoghue moved that the words "Pending the abolition of the existing contract system" be inserted after the word Congress in the first line of the main resolution.

The resolution as thus amended was adopted.

The resolution relating to immigration was then taken up, and after a short discussion was adopted.

The next resolution was as follows: "Moved by Frank Hetherell and seconded by R. Driscoll, "That this Congress call the attention of the Provincial Government to the neglect of duty on the part of the Factory Inspector in respect to saw mills in Ottawa and neighborhood and request the Government to insist on the said officer doing his duty."

Delegate MacDonald, of Ottawa, said that the Inspector had been repeatedly memorialized to do his duty, but he failed to do so.

The resolution after some discussion was adopted.

Delegate Darlington moved and Delegate S. Metcalfe seconded a resolution to the effect that no person who is in the employ of the Federal or Local Governments of this country shall be eligible to admission to the Congress as a delegate. There were party heelers, he believed, in Congress. He refused to give names. The president decided that the resolution required notice of motion. The resolution was therefore dropped but it will come up again to-morrow. The Congress then adjourned till the afternoon.

The Trades and Labor Congress at the afternoon session condemned the Quebec law, known as the Masters and Servants' Act, a resolution being passed to this effect.

A resolution was also passed asking the Quebec Legislature to prohibit over time in shoe manufactories, except by special permission of factory inspectors.

Another resolution was passed asking the Government to protect union labels. The Quebec Government was also asked to facilitate and render less expensive the incorporation of benefit and labor unions.

The Congress also decided to take into consideration a protest from the French typos of Montreal against the granting of subventions to certain religious institutions of Montreal, which make a disloyal competition against the printing business. These places were also exempted from taxation. The matter will come up to-morrow.

Wm. Houston, M.A., principal of the school of pedagogy, delivered an address to the delegates on the question of education from a labor standpoint.

QUEBEC LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE.

The Quebec Legislative Committee presented the following report:

Your Committee beg leave to report that immediately upon the printing of the reports of the proceedings of the last Congress, copies thereof were forwarded to the Provincial Ministers and representatives in the local Legislature, and upon the opening of the session a letter was addressed by the Secretary of your Committee to the Hon. the Provincial Premier asking for an interview.

We regret to have to state that this request was refused. Washington is not the only place where the representatives of the people refuse to grant to the people whom they represent a hearing. This unfortunate and regretable episode was, later on during the session, remedied by an invitation to the representatives of the Congress to appear before a special committee to whom was referred the amendments to the Quebec Factory Act.

Your Committee was well represented at the said meeting, and in the evening was assisted by the Quebec Trades and Labor Council. Still they, after a meeting lasting from 8 p.m. until after midnight, did not succeed in obtaining one single modification or amendment that might be remotely considered as of direct benefit to the workers in shop or factory.

Your Committee also desire to state that in justice to the other Provinces of the Dominion, it should be publicly known that in the Province of Quebec there is neither factory inspection nor enforced regulations concerning these establishments.

These facts were made plainly and painfully apparent in one instance where a prosecution was entered against a mill owner re a defective boiler, the rottenness of the Act allowing the said prosecution to fall through.

Your Committee also desire to state that in the cases of amendments to the city charters of both the cities of Quebec and Montreal they aided all in their power the representatives of the Trades Councils of both cities, and, although obtained after all but a negative result, they nevertheless hope that in the near future the workingmen in the Province of Quebec will obtain all the respectful attention and consideration to which they are justly entitled.

MONEY MEN MISSING.

Conservatives Not Eager to Subscribe for Election Purposes.

The Conservatives of Montreal District were to have met Tuesday afternoon to raise money for election purposes, principally to be used in connection with the revision of the lists. Only two people turned up, so they adjourned the meeting.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting was again called for 2.30, at the Government Buildings, St. Gabriel Street. The attendance was not very large, in fact did not exceed a score of persons.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Frs. Benoit, president of the Conservative Association.

Hon. Mr. Ouimet was the principal speaker. He spoke of the benefit of protection, and assured his hearers that the Conservative party would stand by that principle whatever the difficulties might be to get all to agree on matters of detail. He also spoke of the school question, and owing to his well-known habit of beginning sentences which he does not finish, he did not make his meaning very precise. Those who heard him, however, received the impression that he was in favor of going as far as the constitution will allow to satisfy the Catholics of Montreal. The Government had not presented a remedial law, because it was not sure that it would be constitutional. The matter was still before the courts. The Order-in-Council adopted by the Government in the meanwhile gave satisfaction to the Catholic clergy. Sir John Thompson was working earnestly to assist the Catholics of Manitoba, and the representatives of Quebec in the Cabinet would stand by him and urge him on. Speeches were also made by Senator Drummond and Hon. J. J. Curran. Several members of Parliament present announced that the revision of the lists was progressing favorably.

The Association then proceeded to elect its officers with the following result: Honorary presidents, Senators Tasse and Drummond; active president, F. Benoit; treasurers, D. Rolland and Richard White; secretaries, Messrs. Lassalle and Atwater.

Sir Donald Smith, Hon. Mr. Ouimet, Dr. S. Lachapelle, M.P.; Girouard, M.P.; Wm. Clendinneng, A. Lamarche, D. Masson and O. Cardinal were appointed a committee, whose principal business will be to fry the fat out of our infant industries. They went to work immediately, but adjourned without accomplishing much.

STATIONARY ENGINEERS.

Their Fifth Annual Convention Opened in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 4.—The Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers gathered in fifth annual convention at Shaftsbury Hall this morning, with president G. Hunt, of Montreal, in the chair. Ald. Burns received the delegates on behalf of the City Council, welcomed them heartily and invited them to a drive to-morrow with lunch afterwards as the guests of the city. The invitation was accepted.

President Hunt delivered his annual address which was of a deservedly congratulatory nature. Four lodges had been added in the year. The district deputies had all worked hard. The association was growing and was an educational feature amongst the engineers. There was a worthy desire evinced to make the meetings more enjoyable. Strict examination of candidates for membership was enjoined on all the lodges.

Secretary York's report showed a large increase in the membership of the association and an appreciable increase in the assets, whilst Treasurer Black's report shows there was a balance on hand of about $300. There were fourteen branches in the Dominion. The rest of the day was devoted to reading and discussing papers.

Club Letellier.

That picnic was again discussed at the Letellier Club last night. A motion was introduced to censure the Patre for its course, but it was proposed in amendment by J. Alfred Pelland, seconded by Abila Bourbonnais, M.P.P., that the Club Letellier desires to express its thanks to the editor and proprietor of the Patrie for the services which they have rendered it, and also to the organizers of the demonstration of August 17th last at Park Royal, who were animated by the best intentions. The amendment was carried by 20 to 19. Messrs. J. I. Tarte, M.P., and A. G. Bourbonnais, M.P.P., were elected members of the Club.

SWALLOWED UP

THE MINING TOWN OF SCOTCH VALLEY, PA., ENGULFED.

MINE CAVED IN AND THE TOWN WENT WITH IT.

PROBABLY HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE AMONG RESIDENTS.

Particulars of the Dreadful Disaster are as yet Meagre.

Lofty, Pa., Sept. 5.—The little mining town of Scotch Valley, in Lackawanna County, near this place, was swallowed up to-night in one of the most complete mine cave-ins ever known in this region. The scene of the disaster is on the eastern slope of Mount Lookout, the score of houses composing the hamlet being at the mouth of the shaft of Mount Lookout colliery. The details are as yet fragmentary. It is known, however, that the ouses on either side of the principal streets of the hamlet are completely swallowed up in the gaping sink-hole, and nothing can be seen of the other buildings of the town except the roof gables and chimneys.

It is impossible to estimate accurately the number of fatalities. Rescuing parties are now exerting every means to release the occupants of the engulfed dwellings. One of the buried houses has taken fire. The cave-in was caused by the giving way of the timber supports in workings of the Mount Lookout colliery which have not been in operation for about two years and had been neglected in consequence.

About five o'clock this afternoon the inhabitants of the hamlets were startled by the rumbling, thunder-like reports which warned them of the falling of tons of rock and debris into the deserted caverns of the abandoned mine, many feet beneath them. Report was followed by report and accompanied by other tremors, and then the village sank out of sight in the gaping cavity.

Meanwhile, some fifty miners were imprisoned in the colliery. They had been at work in a new portion of the mine, and their usual means of exit was completely wiped out by the cave-in. They started up through a tunnel which had been used as an air shaft, but which leads to the surface through a series of steep slopes. Members of the rescuing party on the surface, failing to cut a passage through the mass of debris which blocked the main entrance, descended the air passage and penetrated the slope were the imprisoned miners were struggling upward. The men were carried to the surface, where a great crowd of excited, panic-stricken people were waiting them. Up to nine o'clock to-night all the persons who could be found have been taken from the ruins, although the full roll of those to be accounted for cannot be prepared until to-morrow.

The C.M.B.A. Grand Council Decides Against Them.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 5—At the C.M.B.A. Grand Council session this morning, Archbishop O'Brien and Bishop Sweeney paid the Convention a visit, and both were warmly welcomed. They made speeches endorsing and wishing all success to the Order.

The entire afternoon was taken up in discussing amendments to the constitution and by-laws, and when adjournment for tea was had, not quite one-half of the printed amendments had been considered. Two hours were consumed in discussing the proposal from Toronto to use signs and passwords. It was rejected and a committee is to be appointed by the incoming president to consult with the archbishops and bishops of Canada and report at the next convention, two years hence.

This afternoon a committee of sixteen manufacturers and merchants on invitation visited the Board of Trade rooms. The visitors were introduced by their chairman, Mr. Cragg, of Halifax, and President Hatheway and Mayor Robertson, and delivered speeches. The delegation represented from Halifax clear to the Pacific Coast.

It was a few minutes after midnight when the evening session of the C. M. B. A. Grand Council closed. Nearly the whole night was consumed in debating amendments to the constitution and by-laws. All the laws proposed by the Halifax branch were rejected.

A resolution was passed giving branches power to establish and control within themselves sick benefit funds. A number of Ontario and Quebec delegates are to visit Halifax before returning home.

It is expected the convention will close to-morrow night or Friday evening.

'MID SPORTING MEN

GOSSIP FROM MANY FIELDS OF EVENTS PAST OR TO COME.

Two Teams of Old-time Shamrocks who Will Show What They Know About the Game—Saturday's Championship Matches —Britannia Football Club Commences Work Again.

Talk about your Capital-Shamrock games!

There's going to be a lacrosse match a week from to-day which should startle the sporting world, and the whole crowd will be Shamrocks.

Fancy the chance for "proceedin's" when the whole of both teams are Shamrocks!

For weeks back there has been talk among the old heads of what they used to do when they played lacrosse so the younger members of the prospective champion club became weary and asked these famous ones to come out and show what they could do. The match has been arranged for next Thursday and the following will be the teams:

COMMITTEE.		DIRECTORS.
T. P. Crowe	Goal	J. B. I. Flynn
M. Ryan	Point	W. J. McKenna
R. S. Kelly	Cover Point	T. Butler
M. J. Polan	Defence Field	D. Gallery
R. J. Cooke	"	E. Halley
J. T. Scanlan	"	F. Loye
E. Mansfield	Centre	Peter Lynam
J. H. McNally	Home Field	John T. Lyons
W. H. Dunn	"	Albert Demers
Denis Tansey	"	P. McKeown
G. A. Carpenter	Outside Home	F. O'Reilly
Joseph McCay	Inside Home	J. P. Clarke
C. Neville	Umpires	Thos. Moore
Thos. Wall	Time-keepers	P. H. Bartley

Referee—Wm. Stafford.

The directors were obliged to invite some of the past officers of the association such as Messrs. Lyons, Lynam, Loye and Demers as well as Mr. J. B. I. Flynn, who was the goal tender for the Shamrock team of 1867.

It is believed in some quarters that the veterans would have faced one another earlier in the season but for the fear that outside clubs might catch on to their style and thereby be enabled to win the championship. As it is both sides will go in prepared to win or die, every player being determined to win for himself a place in that Valhalla to which all good athletes doubtless go when they are dead.

President T. P. Crowe, of the Shamrocks.

Many years ago when the world was very young, or to be more precise, about seventeen years since, Timothy Patrick Crowe was one of the most active members of the Celtic Football and Lacrosse Club. It may have been that the deeds performed by the Celtics formed no small part of the sporting literature of that day, but, unfortunately, to this generation the record of the club is unknown. Get Mr. Crowe aside and if he be in a reminiscent mood he will tell you how, when he played lacrosse with the Celtics, lacrosse was lacrosse with a big L. Yes, he will admit the game is fairly well played now, but you should have seen the Celtics play on Fletcher's Field the day that they won the championship of the northeast corner of St. Lawrence Ward. Mr. Crowe is now on the retired list, but he is one of the most enthusiastic lacrosse men in Montreal. Were it not so, how could he be president of the Shamrock Lacrosse Club, of the club which has held the world's championship some thirteen times since the game was established in 1866? President Crowe has been a member of the Shamrocks for twelve years but it was only in 1889 that he began to take an active part in the Council of the Club. He was then elected Vice-President, and was one of those who brought out the young team which has presevered in the face of defeat, and has now placed itself at the top of the list. In the Shamrock Bazaar of 1892, be which was obtained a larger portion of the funds necessary for the purchase of the new grounds, he was treasurer. In 1890 he became a committeeman, but he did not take office again until 1893, when he was elected to the directorate of the Shamrock A.A.A. In addition to the presidency to which he was elevated last year. Mr. Crowe is also president of the Senior League, having been elected to that position at the annual meeting this spring. He is a young man and is deservedly popular with his club. Though of a quiet and unobtrusive manner it is generally observed that in deliberations in which he takes part, he has a happy faculty of generally having his own way.

PRESIDENT CROWE, OF THE SHAMROCKS.

Shamrock Team for Toronto.

The Shamrock Executive meet last evening and chose the following team for the match in Toronto on Saturday: Stinson, Dwyer, Moore, Murray, O'Brien, Hinton, Kelly, Neville, McVey, Danaher, Wall, Tucker and Capt. Polan. The team is the same as that which met the Capitals, except that Tansey, whose back was injured, has been replaced by McVey. Tansey will accompany the team, however, to give young Mr. McConaghy a chance to recover from his remarkable hallucination.

It was decided that the team will remain over in Toronto for Sunday, and will go to Brampton to play the Excelsiors of that town on Monday. The Excelsiors are foemen worthy of the Shamrocks, having held the Provincial championship of the C.L.A. for some time, and having an unbroken record of wins this season.

It was found impossible to accept Quebec's invitation to go there on the 15th instant.

Double Event on the Beaver Grounds.

There will be a double event on the Beaver Grounds on Saturday afternoon, when the Mechanics play their last game with the Beavers, and the Hibernians meet the Mechanics' second twelve.

Since the Nationals have beaten the White Stars, they are anxious to tackle the Beavers. A game will likely be arranged for next Saturday week.

The Montreal-Capital Match.

Saturday's match on the M.A.A.A. grounds, between Montreal and the Capitals, of Ottawa, should be one of the games of the season. The two clubs are tied for second place, and should the Montreal team win and the Shamrocks chance to have an off day in Toronto, the boys of the winged wheel will have a chance to tie the Shamrocks for the leadership. Both teams are in fine condition, the Montrealers being particularly fit. The champions will of course be minus Quinn whose collar bone was broken and this will be a decided weakening for their defence.

RUGBY.

The Brits Go to Work To-morrow.

At 6 o'clock to-morrow morning the Britannia Football Club will commence a season which promises to be the most successful in its history.

The semi-annual meeting was held last night in the room which the M.A.A.A. has been in the habit of kindly placing at the Brits' disposal. The president, Mr. A. McA. Murphy, occupied the chair and about thirty members were in attendance. No less than twenty-five applications for membership were made and approved. The resignation of the club Captain, Mr. Grace was accepted. Mr. Grace is about to enter a course of study at McGill, but he will play with the old club. The vacant captaincy will be filled by the committee.

The first practice will be held on the Shamrock grounds at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning. The grounds have been already secured for three mornings a week, and the committee has decided to apply for them for the whole six mornings in the week, so long as the season lasts.

The Brits are unusually strong in men this season. The back division which was woefully weak last year will be strengthened by the addition of Mr. V. Barry, the old time crack, who has been living in the west for several years, but who has kept himself in first-class football condition. The forward end also will be stronger than it has been for years. Things look very bright for the Brits at last.

THE FAIR AT BEDFORD.

BIG CROWDS AND GOOD EXHIBITS MAKE IT A SUCCESS.

The Prizes Awarded for Live Stock and Farm Products.

(Special to The Herald)

Bedford, Que., Sept. 5. — Nearly three thousand people passed through the gate of the fair ground yesterday and an equal number to-day to take part in the annual exhibition of the Missisquoi County Agricultural Society.

The people who attend a county fair may be divided into two classes; those who come to see the exhibits and those who come to see one another. The latter class are in a majority. Those who came to see exhibits found considerable worthy of attention and that fairly represented the merits of old Missisquoi as a farming country and as a manufacturing centre as well. The stock, of course, was the backbone of the fair, and the breeds of cattle were represented by worthy specimens. The increasing exhibit of thoroughbred horned stock is noticeable at every fair in the Townships, and no doubt the agriculturalists find in that a subject for congratulation.

Missisquoi always was a horse country, where American buyers were always sure of finding just what they wanted for the driving market. During a number of years the McKinley tariff shut them out from their best market, and carriage horses dropped in price. They are still cheap, but already the trade is picking up and the display of horseflesh at the fair shows there are many good steppers left here yet. In heavy draft horses, such as delight the hearts of the Scotch farmers of Huntingdon, the exhibit was poor.

The cheese industry is one that had advanced rapidly in the Eastern counties during the last two years. Since winning the Dominion gold medal and World's Fair prizes, Township cheese-makers hold their heads rather high.

Missisquoi factories have a good exhibit at Bedford. The display is twice as large as it was a few years ago and of a far higher quality.

The butter has always been good—so the farmers' wives claim—and both dairy and factory make engaged the attention of experts. They pronounced it excellent.

In the ladies' department there was a noticeable falling off in the number of exhibits, perhaps not in quality. Here were pictures and tapistry, crazy quilts that were not crazy. And so on through a wide and varied collection of those beautiful but somewhat mysterious articles called fancy work.

There was also present just as there has been for years, and as all hope there may be for years to come, a large collection of farmers' pretty daughters and their beaux. Without them the best county fair in the world would be insipid indeed.

The following are the officers of the Society under whose supervision the present fair is being held:

President, Charles Weber, Notre Dame des Anges; Vice-President, John G. Gibson, Cowansville; Secretary-Treasurer, George Sulley, Bedford; Directors, Asa Rykert, Dunham; C. A. RIGHTED AT LAST.

CHAPTER XXI.

"Keep it until Sir Laurence and his wife come back to Estmere Court," I said.

"If I keep it for that, I'd better give it away to my niece, Polly, who is going to be married next month and hankers after it like."

"Don't do anything of the kind, Mrs. Payne. Lay it by in lavender until I find out all the vile plot and show Sir Laurence his frightful mistake."

"You're joking, sir," said Mrs. Payne.

"I was never further from joking. I have come two hundred miles to see you solely for this reason, and to-morrow I want you to go back with me."

She saw I was speaking in earnest. No doubt she had been wondering why I had made my appearance at Estmere Court.

"I would go two hundred or two thousand miles, if it would do her ladyship any good. Oh, what a sweet young woman she was! My heart aches as I think of her."

"Very well. You be ready to start to-morrow as soon as possible. I can't tell you all, but I believe I shall trace out the whole of Captain Chesham's villany. Your husband won't mind you're leaving him," I added, remembering there was such a person as Mr. Payne.

"Not he, sir. John, my man, I'm going on a journey to-morrow with this gentleman. I shall be back—when shall I be back, sir?"

"In two days, at the outside three."

"All right, my lass," said John. "If you says you be right in going, why, right you be."

So the matter was settled.

As Estmere Court was a long way from any decent hotel accommodation, I was obliged to accept Mrs. Payne's kind offer of finding me a bed for the night. I did not like the idea of making use of Sir Laurence Estmere's house; but, after all, the worthy housekeeper and her husband were certainly in a position which would permit them to ask a friend to stay with them, so I calmed my conscience by looking upon myself as their guest, and in no way taking hospitality from their absentee master.

When I, at last, grew tired of the company of Valentine's ancestors, I went out of doors, and accompanied by Mr. Payne, or, as I should rather call him, Mrs. Payne's husband, walked round the neglected gardens, and heard a great deal about the past glories of the Estmeres and their present possessions. My informant reckoned that the estates were worth at least twenty thousand a year, and had heard that an immense sum of money had been saved during all the years which Sir Laurence had spent in wandering abroad. The agent and the London lawyer managed everything. They might know where the master was, but no one else ever heard a word from him. It would be a good day for the whole countryside when he threw Estmere Court open once more. Several rich people wanted to rent it, but, so far as John Payne understood, Sir Laurence was too proud to let his house, although he did not care to live in it himself. He had never even let the Dower House. Since Lady Estmere left it, it had been occupied only by a caretaker.

The next morning Mrs. Payne and I started on our journey. John borrowed a light cart, and drove us to the nearest railway station. The parting between the husband and wife was very affecting—she might have been going to Australia, instead of to Somersetshire. Indeed, in spite of my promise to see that she lacked nothing, he insisted upon his wife encumbering herself with edibles enough to have lasted, with proper management, to the equator. No doubt he thought I was rather young to be trusted with such a precious possession as his buxom wife; for he gave his "lass" as he called her, many cautions as to taking care of herself, and being on the lookout for pickpockets. Although she received his warnings with a certain air of condescension, it was easy to see she was somewhat appalled by the immensity of the journey before her. This is not to be wondered at, as I believe, until now she had never crossed the border of her native county.

The train cut short adieus and warnings, and sped us away to the south. We reached Sudbury late at night. It could not have timed it better. I was able to take Mrs. Payne to my house without observation by the neighbors. I had ordered a room to be kept in readiness for an expected visitor, and other creature-comforts prepared, so that Mrs. Payne was able to retire to rest, not feeling so bad as she expected to feel after such a journey.

We breakfasted together the next morning, and then adjourned to my study. My guest had not yet asked me what I required of her. She was a good soul, quite content to do what she was asked to do without seeking for an object. I placed her in my chair in front of the window.

"Have you eye-sight, Mrs. Payne?" I asked.

"Sharp as needles, sir; ne'er a member of my family ever wore glasses until after sixty."

"Well, you're a long way off sixty. I want you to look at the opposite house and when you see a lady come out or look out of the window, try if you can recall her face."

"Have I seen her before, sir?"

"I can't tell, I want to know that. You haven't seen her for many years—more than twenty, certainly."

"Twenty years plays tricks with faces and with memories, sir," said Mrs. Payne, with a sigh.

"I shouldn't think you had changed much. Country air preserves good looks, you know."

Mrs. Payne laughed; no women is too old to like a compliment. She fixed her eyes on the house opposite and waited Mrs. Merton's appearance. By and by she seemed to grow tired of watching and glanced round my room and frowned.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"The dust, sir; I can't abide dust. That servant of yours is an idle hussy, I'll be bound."

(To be continued.)

Better be Safe Than Sorry.

At the Hotel Brunswick in New York, now managed by Mr. George W. Swett, late of the Windsor, Montreal, there is in force the most perfect system of protection against fire to be found in any hotel in that city. Stay at the Brunswick and feel the confidence that constant watchfulness and the most improved fire extinguishing appliances must give.

The scrofulous taint which may have been in your blood for years, may be thoroughly expelled by giving Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

SOME HAPPY SPEECHES.

The Gazette's report of the banquet to Vice-Admiral Sir John Hopkins on Tuesday night, in Quebec, contains food for reflection. The report was headed, "Some Happy Speeches."

Lieutenant-Governor Chapleau's "happy speech" was a perfervid protestation of the loyalty of the French-Canadian population to Great Britain. He said they preferred the British flag to any other, and went so far as to express his regret that the French admiral who is now in Quebec was not present to hear him say so. He spoke as if he imagined that French Canadian loyalty to the British Crown had been called in question.

The Vice-Admiral seemed to think that the Lieutenant-Governor did protest too much, and there was gentle rebuke in his remark that the six ships under his command had not come up the St. Lawrence to test the loyalty of the Canadians, but because of it. The Admiral, of course, knows that good wine needs no bush; that the loyalty of the British subject does not often stand in need of vindication.

Then "General Herbert made a capital speech in reply to the toast of his health." The General seems to have devoted his attention particularly to the Canadian press, to which he referred as a "well of English undefiled." The Canadian press may be able to return that compliment after the General has made some improvement in the manner of his contributions to Canadian Blue Book literature. In the meantime, he would be troubled with a little less bitterness of spirit if, when he would think of the criticism to which the press has submitted him, he would make some attempt to place himself in touch with that Canadian sentiment which the Canadian press generally represents with considerable accuracy. The press is not a bad thing if it is used aright. Nothing puts a man on better terms with it than to make open confession of that consciousness of its influence which every man of intelligence experiences. With all his faults, General Herbert is a man of intelligence, and now that he has shown himself to have been smarting under his recent castigation by the press, he needs wear the mask no longer. He has acknowledged that it has had power to reach him through his icy reserve. All that he has to do now is to admit that it is apt to know what the Canadian people, whose salt he eats, think of his attitude towards them, and he will be all right.

These "happy speeches" are often productive of much good.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS.

The ease with which Labour Day succeeded in getting a place amongst the statutory holidays would seem to indicate that it is less difficult to add to than to take from the number of peremptory offdays. To Labour Day, with all that it implies, there can be no reasonable objection. It is the right of every order or fraternity to set aside a day for reunion, recreation, and enjoyment, and for the purpose of demonstrating to the rest of the world the significance attaching to its existence. That an organization should have succeeded in making its annual outing day a fete d'obligation is a circumstance that goes to show its power; perhaps we should say its physical rather than its moral power. The influence of a large number of votes marshalled behind a demand is more than members of Parliament can seriously resist. If the Federal Legislature had been assailed with only the reasons for Labor Day being made obligatory, their power of resistance would have proven much greater and more effective, and we should probably have had to wait a long time for this advent of labour's celebration in the character of a public holiday.

But in respect merely of the public holiday we should be content to allow that what is is best. There are enough days and to spare within the year for the purpose, a quite deserving purpose, of allowing labor, in so far as it may be a class and an interest, to assert itself, to show its numerical force, to place itself conspicuously before the world as one of the greatest of social elements, if not, indeed, to convince itself and all others that if it is not king it may assuredly aspire to rule. It is only as to the time of the year selected for the offday that we should venture to suggest that the matter might have been more wisely settled. The winter season and the consequent suspension of many, and contraction of most branches of labor afford unfortunately too many holidays, or at any rate, too many days of enforced abstinence from labor, and the consequent enforced absence of pay. In this country it would seem to be the part of thrift, of rational economy, of wisdom generally, that every lawful day during the entire season, from the going away of winter until its return again should be thankfully accepted and carefully husbanded as being worth to the wage-earner a certain sum of money which he cannot afford to surrender as a holiday tribute. The loss of a day is often an injury done by the wage-earner to his employer as well as to himself. At this time of the year especially, when the season for outdoor work is nearing a close, when the weather is likely soon to be more or less broken by fall rains, and when the employer of labour finds it necessary to hurry up in order that he may complete his contracts and meet obligations otherwise, the cessation of work and the losing of a day of fine weather is provoking and injurious. That is a condition of things that puts an employer of labour very much out with his employees, and reasonably so. It can be regarded as nothing more than the reasonable expression of human nature, should that employer in the winter season turn away from appeals for employment which are palpably too often appeals for assistance. The part of wisdom clearly would be to consolidate the holidays; and, if Labour Day must be observed during the labour season, let the others be taken at the time of the year when with too many there is nothing else to do.

THE INCOME TAX.

As was to be expected, the opponents of the income tax are not having it all their own way in the United States. A shrewd man is not so much afraid of an income tax which he can see, and of which he knows the exact extent, as of an insidious tariff tax which reduces his income to an extent which he cannot determine. He is open to the conviction that the direct tax is not only less demoralizing in its influence upon his personal fortunes and the well-being of the community, but less outrageous in its amount than the insidious tax which he pays under a protective tariff. It has been observed that ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed, who has been firing in Maine the first guns of the Congressional campaign, has had nothing to say about the income tax, which the Republican party will make one of the main grounds of its attack upon the Democrats. This recalls the fact that during the discussion of this feature of the Tariff Bill one of the United States Senators from Maine was reported as being of the opinion that this form of tax was popular in that State, and that if the measure were to be submitted to the voters of Maine as a separate and distinct issue, it would command a majority of the votes. It is not improbable that in many other sections of the country and notably in the South the income tax will be found to be less unpopular than the Republicans profess to believe.

UNDOUBTEDLY AN ACCIDENTAL OMISSION.

In the addresses to the faithful delivered at the Conservative meeting yesterday afternoon it was odd that neither Hon. Mr. Ouimet nor Hon. J. J. Curran dwelt upon the necessity of the party clearing its skirts of the Curran bridge scandal by the vigorous prosecution of those responsible for it. As both Mr. Ouimet and Mr. Curran are known to be frantically urging the placing of the chief perpetrator of the frauds in jail, this was doubtless an accidental omission, due to their perturbation at the discovery that the party funds were not as flush as of yore. But it is curious that Senator Drummond, who was also present, and who has also decided views on this subject, did not jog their memories.

It is not hard to believe the report that Mr. St. Louis's friends "are making a great effort to persuade the Government to allow the trial, which has been decided upon, to take place in Montreal, where Mr. St. Louis is well known, instead of in Ottawa, as was the case with Messrs. Connolly and McGreevy." At Winnipeg the other night Mr. Laurier referred to a circumstance which might be considered good ground for the anxiety of Mr. St. Louis' friends. The prosecution of Messrs. McGreevy and Connolly was conducted within Sir Oliver Mowat's province. The same learned and upright judge might hear the case against St. Louis. The same fearless and indefatigable counsel might press it. Yes, the air of Ottawa might not be good for the big labour contractor's health.

Mr. Mackenzie Bowell has been expressing through a Toronto paper his sympathy with Mr. Huddart in the obstacles which the Allans and the owners of other lines plying between Liverpool and American ports have thrown in the way of his fast Atlantic scheme. Just why the Canadian Government should have thrown over the pioneers of the Canadian steamship industry and rushed to the championship of an Australian who offers no better service than any of the Canadian companies could give for the same money may never be known. But its action casts a peculiar reflection upon its vaunted loyalty.

The death of Samuel J. Kirkwood, of Iowa, the other day reduced to two the number of the surviving war Governors of the United States. These two are Gov. Sprague, of Rhode Island, and Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania. There still live others who were Chief Executives of Northern States during the war, but, as the Boston Herald says, "they never achieved the distinction that belongs to the best of war Governors." The late Governor Kirkwood earned this honor by placing in the field fifty regiments of infantry and cavalry. Throughout the war no draft was ordered in Iowa. Kirkwood was three times Governor of Iowa, twice a Senator, and served as Secretary of the Interior under President Garfield.

Speaking of the procession in Washington on Labor Day, the New York Herald says that "no flags but Old Glory were permitted in the parade." The workingmen of Montreal could afford to profit by this example. The Canadian ensign, which is the Union Jack with the Canadian coat-of-arms in the fly, was carried in the procession here, but it was outnumbered by flags of other nations.

While Mr. Laurier is dumbfounded in the West by queries as to his opinion on "better terms," the Government has Cardwell on its hands. What is to become of this distressful country anyway?

TWO SIDES OF A DISTURBING QUESTION.

COMMON SENSE.

An idea has got abroad that the Pullman Car Company as a manufacturing concern is "affected with a public interest" so that if the Pullman Car Company makes a dividend of 8 per cent. per annum from the earnings of its sleeping cars, it ought to pay higher wages to the workmen in its car building shops than other workmen receive in other car building shops. Still another popular fallacy is that if the Pullman Company owns and lets houses to its workmen, the rents ought to be reduced whenever the wages are reduced. It is an easy inference from the latter proposition (and Gov. Altgeld was prompt to draw it) that if a strike occurs for any reason, the collection of rent ought to cease until the occupants of the houses resume work. All these queer notions took their start in the idea promulgated by Debs that it was incumbent on the Pullman Company to submit to arbitration the question whether it should raise wages to the scale of 1893 or not.

In the course of the examination of witnesses at Chicago recently, Mr. Pullman took occasion to deny flatly all of these propositions. Instead of palliating and apologizing and extenuating, he "took the bull by the horns." If he had not done so, the other side would either have pushed him over the precipice completely or would have turned the whole controversy into a question of details, as, for instance, whether the rents of the houses were fair or not, whether the company could have paid higher wages than it did pay, or whether it should draw from its reserve fund in order to build cars at less than cost. Arguments upon these points would have been endless, and would have furnished a year's supply of ammunition to Altgeld. Mr. Pullman took safe ground, and the only safe ground, when he smote all these anarchistic conceptions in the face as fast as they came up. Of course he will be subjected to a great deal of ignorant as well as malicious criticism, because a great many well meaning people can see only one thing at a time. They can see a great rich company on the one hand paying 8 per cent. dividends, and on the other a large number of men with families out of work and suffering perhaps for the necessaries of life. What they do not see is the fact that the Pullman Company must, in the long run, build cars at a profit (or at least without loss) or eventually go down with the employees in one common ruin. The question how much loss it can safely incur in any given period must necessarily be left to the judgment of those who are charged with the responsibility for its affairs, and not to a mayor and board of aldermen or any popular assemblage.—N.Y. Evening Post.

VERY COMMON NONSENSE.

The evidence of Vice-President Wickes is not likely to gain public sympathy for the Pullman Company. "We go into the market for our men just as we do for our materials," said he; "it is all regulated by the laws of supply and demand." In other words, the Pullman Company was quite ready to make big profits by paying starvation wages, if the state of the labor market enabled them to do so. The leading principles of the Company seemed to have been to keep wages down as much as they could in good times and to force them lower when times were bad. The men got no increase of wages when profits were high unless they could force it out of the Company, but when prices dropped a cut in wages followed as a matter of course. It is now an old saw that a corporation has no soul, but it might at least recognize the fact that its employees have souls, and are not merely so many "hands." It is a remarkable fact that the Pullman Company, one of the greatest organizations of capital in the world, denied its work-people the right to organize, and would not recognize them as members of a Union. When they had a grievance, it would only deal with them as individuals. When it was a question of the rate of wages, they descended to the level of "materials" and lost their individuality altogether. All through the Pullman Company seemed to have dealt with its work-people on the principle "Heads—I win; tails—you lose."—Montreal Gazette.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Amalgamation of Gas Companies Not Wanted.

To the Editor of the Herald:

Sir,—I have read the letter of a West End gas consumer. in your issue of the 4th inst., in which we find a good deal of the old company and their pound of flesh, coal oil chastisement, and other dramatic expressions. Now I am one of those moderate minded individuals, who think that the city of Montreal is just as well able to keep two gas companies going to-day, as it was to keep one twenty years ago when the population was about half what it is now, and gas, for working and heating purposes, was almost unknown.

Although I have promised to take gas from the new company, I intend to do so only during good behavior, as I detest coal oil, and have not implicit faith in any composition of which it forms a part. Also I do not believe that Mr. Coates is an angel from heaven, but I understand he comes from the Antipodes, and has piled up a few millions through supplying gas to the benighted Australians. I am told he is now hovering over the city of Ottawa, and the intelligent people there, who will sit up late studying political economy, have to pay Mr. Coates one dollar sixty per thousand for the privilege. Let us then buy the best gas for the cheapest price we can, no matter who supplies it. In conclusion, should West End Consumer be genuine, we have probobly heard the last of him on the subject, but if it be the pen-name of a director, we shall probably hear from him again under another soubriquet.

"INCANDESCENT."

Montreal, 4th Sept., 1894.

A GENUINE FIGHT.

John Kernell's Experience With the Sioux City Athletic Club.

John Kernell, the comedian, now playing in "McFadden's Elopement" at the Theatre Royal, vouches for the bona fides of at least one prize fight in these degenerate days. It occurred a few months ago when he was playing at Sioux City. Manager Peabody, of the Peavy Grand Opera House, remarked one night that the Sioux City Athletic Club would have a set-to in the Grand Palace Theatre of Covington, and suggested that they should go. This was agreed to and the party crossed the river on a ricketty pontoon bridge and entered the town amidst darkness which could be carved with a knife. It appears that when the Sioux City Club has a fight on all the street lights go out. The Grand Palace Theatre turned out to be something of a barn with no windows. A burly man swaggered to the front, and announcing himself to be the President of the Sioux City Athletic Club, spoke as follows: "This is the Cleveland Kid and this fellow here he's an unknown. These two mugs is goin' to fight. De purse $100; see! We're goin' to give you a good show for your money, because it's dead on the square, knock out fight to a finish. We don't have any fakes, we don't, see! Anybody that don't get his money's worth in this here fight can have his money back, see! And I am de pres'dent of de Sionx City Athletic Club. See!" This speech was delivered with such emphasis that there could be no doubt of its genuineness. Mr. Kernell decided to take a front seat, and was rewarded with a genuine "knock out fight to the finish."

LOST UP NORTH

FATE OF THE EXCURSION STEAMER MIRANDA.

STRUCK A ROCK ON GREENLAND'S WEST COAST.

THOUGH PATCHED UP SHE FOUNDERED TWO WEEKS LATER.

THE EXCURSIONISTS RESCUED BY A FISHING SCHOONER.

Passengers Lose All Their Scientific Instruments—Provisions Ran Out.

North Sydney, C. B., Sept. 5.—The schooner Rigel, of Gloucester, Mass., Captain G. W. Dixon' arrived here to-day, having on board the crew and passengers of the steamer Miranda, which left New York July 7, with Dr. F. A. Cook's Arctic excursion. All the party are well.

On August 9th the Miranda struck a rock near Sukkertoppen, west Greenland, and was abandoned in a sinking condition, August 23rd., in Davis Strait, latitude about 61 degrees 15 minutes; longitude 58 degrees, 40 minutes. The particulars of the expedition and its disastrous termination are as follows:

After repairing the damage sustained by the iceberg collision of July 17th, the Miranda left St. John's, N. F., on July 29th, and proceeded directly to Greenland. Much ice and fog were unexpectedly encountered off Cape Farewell. At one time the vessel came near being nipped in the floes, the rising of a fog disclosing ice all around. Considerable apprehension was felt by the officers and visions of the fate of the Jeannette and Proteus expeditions arose among the passengers, as the iron-built Miranda was totally unfit to cope with the terrors of Arctic navigation. But fortunately a thin place in the floes was found and the ship driven through.

The south-west coast of Greenland was so blocked with ice that no landing could be made until August 7th, when the expedition reached Sukkertoppen, in latitude 65 degrees, 45 minutes. Leaving this port on the morning of the 9th, for Disco, the vessel had proceeded about seven miles at full speed when she struck with tremendous force on a hidden reef. Everything loose went flying forward. The steward, Joseph Farrell, was struck by a trunk and slightly injured. A party at breakfast found themselves piled up with dishes and viands at the end of the cabin. Three times the high waves lifted the ship and let her down with a crash that shook her from end to end.

When she floated off great excitement prevailed, as the vessel was soon seen to be settling. The boats were swung off and everything made ready to abandon the steamer. It was found, however, that the main injury was beneath the ballast tanks, which filled so rapidly that the pumps could not control the inflow. But the water-tight bulkhead protected the other compartments, and Eskimo pilots having at length come off in their kayaki, the steamer was gotten safely into harbor.

As it was considered unsafe to proceed further with the damaged vessel, the situation of so large a body of excursionists on this inhospitable coast was not encouraging, especially when it was found that the Danish steamer which regularly visits the settlement had been stove in by ice and could not arrive this year. It began to look as if the expedition might have to winter in Greenland, and short rations were served in anticipation of such a catastrophe.

It was learned, however, through the Danish Governor, that several American fishing schooners were on the halibut banks near Holsteinborg, 120 miles north. To secure one of these vessels, Dr. Cook, with Messrs. Rogers, Porter and Dunning and four Eskimos, started for the banks in an open boat. After a stormy voyage lasting ten days they found the Rigel, and brought her to the assistance of the people on the disabled steamship and the passengers were transferred to the Rigel.

The Miranda then took the Rigel in tow, and left Sukkertoppen August 21, intending to proceed directly to St. John's, N. F. All went well for two days, but a heavy sea the second night weakened the top of the ballast tank on which an enormous hydrostatic pressure was exerted, and it gave way at 12.30 a.m., August 23. Three blasts of the whistle gave warning to the Rigel to stand by. The night was cold, dark and foggy and the vessels bounded like balls on the billows.

On board the Miranda all was confusion. The firemen leaving the boiler room without orders, cut loose the best lifeboat, which was immediately dashed to pieces against the ship's side and were only kept in submission at the point of the captain's revolver. The carpenters tried in vain to stop the leak with blankets and mattresses, and at daylight, as water was invading the coal bunkers and a storm was threatening, the steamer was abandoned. The crew were taken up by the schooner.

It was fortunate that the passengers were already on the Rigel, as a transfer could hardly have been effected under the trying conditions without loss of life. Nothing except the sailors' bags was saved from the Miranda. The passengers lose all their baggage except the clothing worn when they went on board the relief vessel at Sukkertoppen. Many of them lost extensive scientific instruments and hunting equipments.

All the botanical, geological and ethnological collections, and all the photographs, probably the finest ever taken in Greenland, went down with the Miranda. Professor Diche, of Kansas University, lost a fine lot of Labrador and Greenland birds. Prof. Wright, of Toberlin College, was able to make interesting studies of the glaciers near Sukkertoppen, but otherwise the expedition was a failure from the scientific standpoint as it was also from that of the sportsmen.

The journey home was without other incidents than adverse winds, the inconvenience of close quarters and insufficient provisions. Only ten days' supply for forty men having been placed on the Rigel and the addition of the Miranda's crew made ninety-one persons on board this little craft of one hundred and seven tons. The passengers slept in the hold on the top of the salt fish. Gulls and other sea birds constituted the only fresh meat of the party for the past ten days.

Too great credit cannot be given to Captain Dixon and the crew of the Rigel for their efforts in behalf of those whom they had rescued. The party will have a banquet at South Sydney before dispersing, at which time a handsome testimonial will be presented to Captain Dixon. The lost steamship Miranda was built in 1884 for the St. John and New York trade. She is famous as the vessel which lost the celebrated Larry timber raft off Long Island Sound. For two years she has been running to Central America and the West Indies. She is said to have been insured for $90,000.

JAPS ARE FRIGHTENED.

They Are Leaving Shanghai as Fast as They Can.

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—The recent surrender to the Taotti, outside the settlement limits, by the American consulate of two Japanese, who were recently arrested, accused of being spies, and who had been under the protection of the United States, has created a panic among the Japanese, in this country. The latter believed themselves to be safe under the protection of the United States., and their alarm is increased in view of the report that their two countrymen now in the hands of the Taotti are to be immediately executed. The Chinese authorities when the prisoners were surrendered, pledged themselves not to torture the captives, but to give them a fair trial. All the Japanese in this city, about 700, are making preparations to leave China at the earliest moment possible.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

Date of the Brown Trial—Jockey Guerin Not Guilty.

At the opening of the Queen's Bench yesterday, Mr. Peers Davidson, counsel for Mrs. Brown in the celebrated case against her husband, Andrew Brown, son of a New York millionnaire, who was fined by Judge Dugas $50 and costs, or three months in default, for neglecting to provide for his wife, asked the Court if it could fix a day for the appeal, made by J. N. Greenshields, Q.C., on behalf of the defendant, as several witnesses had to be brought from New York.

The Judge said he could not name a day, as he would have to go through the list of cases. All appeals would be heard after these had been dispensed with. That was the usual order of the Court. Should the list last until September 30th then the Court would adjourn until October 8 or 9, to admit of all the judges sitting in the Court of Appeals.

The trial of Thomas Guerin, the jockey accused of breaking into Mr. Dickson's restaurant at Bel-Air, was then continued. The defence attempted to prove an alibi through the evidence of one Chas. Kerr, farmer, living at Dorval, who deposed that the accused slept in his house the night of the supposed robbery. He went to bed at 9 o'clock and did not go out until 5 o'clock the next morning, when he went to the course to exercise a horse that he was going to ride that day.

After four hours deliberation the jury returned into court with a verdict of not guilty against Thomas Guerin, the jockey accused of robbing Mr. Dickson's restaurant at Bel-Air.

The trial of Edward Higgins, charged with picking the pocket of Madame Laberte on St. Lawrence Main Street, occupied the time of the court up to five o'clock, when the court adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

BRIDE, 16; GROOM, 95.

December and April Wed at Orangeville.

[Special to the Herald.]

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The marriage is announced of John Kidd, of Orangeville, aged 95, and Miss Robbins, of Toronto Junction, aged 16. Two years ago Kidd in anticipation of his death spent $8,000 for a vault in a cemetery and for other conveniences even to the selection of a coffin. He is said to be worth $30,000.

AN UNFORTUNATE MAN.

Came to Canada From Liverpool and Fared Badly.

(Special to The Herald)

St. Johns, Que., Sept. 5.—C. J. Henderson, an Englishman, employed up to January last as book-keeper by the firm of Jas. Anderson &Co., iron merchants, Liverpool, has had an experience it would be well for many others of his countrymen to note before leaving their homes and situations in the old country to come to this side of the Atlantic. In January last Mr. Henderson gave up his situation in Liverpool, worth £150 per year, to come to Montreal to accept a supposed position as book-keeper for a salary of $1,000 per year. On reaching that city he was informed by the manager of the firm from which he expected employment that on account of the depression of business in the States, which was then spreading over Canada, they could not give him the expected position. Henderson searched Montreal for employment, and on his money giving out took to tramping, and after tramping the country somewhat was taken in by a St. Johns family, and secured a job as hod carrier at the Standard Drain Pipe Company's works. About a month ago that firm reduced their force by 40, Henderson being one of the unfortunates. He is now employed on a canal boat. His pluck, however, is commendable, and an honest man willing to turn his hand to anything will surely succeed sometime, though he is putting in hard pan now, and would doubtless be glad were he back in his Liverpool situation.

Huddart and His Woes.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Last night's Telegram has an interview with Hon. Mackenzie Bowell on the Huddart scheme. Mr. Bowell said he had just received letters from Mr. Huddart. "He said the prospects are bright," said Mr. Bowell. "The subscription list has not been opened yet. Mr. Huddart is now making preparations for it. He did not go into any details, but said he was meeting with encouragement and success."

"Will the letters of the Messrs. Allan hurt his chances?"

"Certainly, they will make it harder for him. Capital is always wary. Not only will he be opposed by the Messrs. Allan, but he has to contend against the concealed opposition of every one of the lines plying between Liverpool and American ports.

THREE JUDGES PROPOSED.

The Police Investigation May be Conducted by Messrs. Doherty, Davidson, and Dugas.

Police circles are stirred to-day by many rumors, some of them doubtless caused by the Herald's announcement of changes.

The investigation is likely to be ordered perhaps within a week. Just who will be asked to conduct it is still unknown, but there is a feeling that three judges should be appointed, These three gentlemen are proposed:

JUDGE DAVIDSON, Protestant.
JUDGE DOHERTY, Irish Catholic.
JUDGE DUGAS, French Canadian.

That they would be most satisfactory is generally admitted, the only question being as to whether the three busy judges would have the time required to go thoroughly into all branches of the Police Department, from the Committee down.

KNOWS HE'S CRAZY.

Acting-Mayor Renault's Curious Visitor.

A peculiar case of insanity was brought to the notice of Acting Mayor Renault yesterday. The patient was at one time a celebrity in the district of Montreal. His name is Anthine Peton and he is now 55 years of age. In the seventies Mr. Peton had a retail dry goods store on St. Catherine Street, East, and he startled the people of the East End by his excentric and profuse advertising. He failed finally and has since been in the business as a clerk.

Yesterday he came himself to the City Hall with all the documents needed to secure his own incarceration in the Longue Point Asylum. Among the papers was a certificate from Dr. Bouchard stating that the patient has already been in the asylum three or four times during the past five years. The present attack has been on for over a month. The patient is inclined to commit suicide or to set fire to the stores where he is employed. He is continually ponders over his business misfortunes. Sometimes he takes liquor to calm his nerves and it only makes him worse. He has lucid intervals when he realizes his condition prrfectly. He said this morning to Ald. Renault: "I would rather go to the asylum than to the penitentiary. You must save me from myself."

Ald. Renault signed the papers and Mr. Peton left the City Hall with them apparently contented.

CANADIAN DUTY ON LUMBER.

Belief in the United States that it Will be Repealed.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Post says: "No reply has been received from the telegrams sent through the State Department inquiring officially what the Canadian duty on lumber was, but it is believed that the Governor-in-Council will avail himself of his privilege of repealing Canadian duties on American lumber, thus allowing Canadian lumber to enter the United States free."

DID NOT CONDEMN THE SCHOOLS.

The Report of Such Action by Sanitary Inspector Dore Incorrect.

The report in several of the Montreal papers, including the Herald, that Sanitary Inspector Dore had condemned three Catholic schools and the Protestant school on Sherbrooke Street for non-compliance with the civic sanitary regulations, was not correct.

Mr. Dore writes the Herald that he has not visited these schools for three months and does not intend to until they are in active use; and consequently he has not condemned them.

A QUESTION OF JURISDICTION.

Can the Deputy Recorder Render Judgment When the Recorder is Present.

J. F. Dubreuil, Q.C., Tuesday afternoon caused quite a stir among the legal fraternity assembled in the Recorder's Court to hear Deputy Recorder Bourgoin render judgment in the Dooley milk case, and the case of the Queen against Villeneuve, a saloon-kesper.

The Deputy Recorder had dismissed the case against Dooley and was about to render his decision in the Villeneuve case when he was interrupted by Mr. Dubreuil, who put in a certiorari against the Deputy Recorder rendering any judgment.

"What is your objection?" asked Deputy Bourgoin.

"My objection is this," said Mr. Dubreuil. "According to the Civic Charter, as amended in 1889, you have only jurisdiction so long as the Recorder is absent. The Recorder is here now; therefore, I claim that your judgment, if you grant one, is ultra vires."

The Deputy Recorder, however, rendered his judgment all the same, condemning the counsel's clients to a fine of $50. The issue of the certiorari will be witched with interest.

Charged With Vagrancy.

Judge Desnoyers had before him yesterday the seven young men charged by special constable Suthergill with being vagrants and frequenters of St. Lawrence Main Street to the annoyance of the general public. The Judge took the case of John Read alias Geo. Labelle as a test one. For the defence, witnesses were called who swore Labelle had worked for them, and one swore that he was working for him at the time of the arrest. The case was taken en delibere, judgment to be rendered on Friday next.

Marriages Yesterday.

At St. Martin's Church yesterday afternoon Miss Bessie Trussell, Pine Avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur E. Norris, of Henry Birks and Co. Rev. Geo. O. Toop officiated.

At the parish Church, Longueuil, yesterday morning, Mr. Alex. Thurber was married to Miss M. R. Larocque. Rev. Father Tasse officiated and there were many friends and relatives present from both Montreal and Chambly.

Miss Maggie T. Foley, youngest daughter of Mr. James Foley, of the Montreal Waterworks, was yesterday morning married in St. Gabriel Parish Church to Mr. Edward M. Carlin, son of the late Mr. Dennis Carlin. Rev. Father O'Meara officiated.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had the coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

Movement of War Ships.

Quebec, Sept. 5.—The Blake sails tomorrow for Halifax; the Tourmaline remains here until the 17th inst.

Tourists wishing to visit the Saguenay will find the most delightful way to do so by taking the train leaving Quebec at 8.30 a.m. for Lake St. John and Chicoutimi, connecting there with the commodious Saguenay steamers, thus seeing that wonderful river by daylight, and making a round trip unsurpassed for scenic grandeur.

M. A. A. A. REPRESENTATIVES.

The Men Who Will go to New York For the Fall Games.

The midsummer trial competitions, held by the M.A.A.A. to decide which members should be sent to New York this fall as representatives of the local association, took place Tuesday afternoon.

The results were very close. In the 440 yards race J. Tees made an even fifty seconds from the ten yard mark. Waldron scored 50 3-5 from scratch. W. J. Smith did the 100 yards in 10 3-5 seconds. A. W. Gifford has been doing his half mile regularly inside of two minutes. Carr will be unable to go on account of an injured leg.

POINT ST. CHARLES NEWS.

The Fire Brigade were kept busy at the Pointe Tuesday, what with false alarms and a very real fire, and the residents were correspondingly excited. The fire broke out in the stable and sheds belonging to John Swan, 41 Paris Street. In the stable there was a valuable horse, which was saved with some difficulty by neighbors. Before the brigade arrived friendly hands tried to extinguish the blaze, and save as much property as possible. The flames at one time looked threatening, and it seemed as if some of the adjoining sheds would go also, and perhaps the dwelling-house. The strenuous efforts of the firemen, however, confined it, and it was quickly under control. The loss will amount to between $200 and $300. The cause of the fire is not known. The excitement caused by the blaze had hardly died out when a false alarm from box 167 brought the reels out again. There were a couple more false alarms after midnight.

Deep sorrow is expressed at the terrible death of Fireman St. George, who resided on Grand Trunk Street, and his wife and family have the sincere sympathy of everyone. The men of No. 9 Station speak feelingly of the dead fireman, and the flag floats over the station at half-mast. St. George worked for a number of years in G. and J. Esplin's factory, and his former fellow-workmen will send a wreath to be laid on his coffin.

The men in the Grand Trunk workshops are all discussing a rumor which was floating around with regard to the future manner of paying the men. At present the men are paid on the works, receiving their money in a small tin-numbered box. According to the rumor they are to be paid by cheque in future; one statement being that the cheques will be cashed at the Bank of Montreal and anothrr that the G. T. R. cashier at the Cattle Yards will disburse the money. The officials disclaim any knowledge of the intended change, which, if made, will mean a deal of trouble to the men.

There was a lot of stir among the local Salvationists Tuesday, as the "wedding party" came out from the city, and assisted at the meeting in the hall, corner of Wellington and Bourgeois Streets. Captain and Mrs. Lawter, the newly married couple, Mrs. Booth, and other members of the city force were out, and the meeting was an interesting one.

Wm. Darlington, the popular labor leader, has left for Ottawa to attend the Labor Congress there.

BREVITIES.

The annual exhibition of the Montreal Horticultural Society will be held in the Victoria Rink from the 11th to the 15th of this month.

The number of interments last week was 110, of which 96 were in the Cote des Neiges Cemetery and 17 in the Mount Royal Cemetery.

Detective Flynn, of the G.T.R., arrested one Alex. Marino at Longueuil Tuesday on a charge of stealing articles from the cars at that place, valued at $70. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded.

The big incinerator chimney on the Gregory Farm is now very nearly completed. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Dore, who is supervising the work, ascended to the top and stood on a wall only one foot thick at a height of 168 feet. After measuring and examining the work thoroughly he reports that it is exceptionally well done. The cap will be put on Saturday.

Mr. J. M. M. Duff, Chairman of the Fresh Air Fund, in his letter accepting Magician Herrmann's offer to donate to that charity 50 percent. of his receipts on Saturday night, says: "We consider ours is the most catholic of all the charities, because we make no difference between Roman Catholics and Protestants, nor between French speaking and English speaking families. All are treated alike and made heartily welcome."

PERSONAL.

A. T. Drummond and wife have been visiting friends in Kingston.

Mr. R. D. McGibbon and his son have returned from their European trip.

Chief Benoit has just returned from his holidays, which were spent in Old Orchard, Boston and Holyoke.

Mrs. J. B. Drewry, who has been visiting in Montreal for the past ten days, returned to Toronto this morning.

Joseph Brunette, M. D., has returned from Mountain View, N. Y., where he has been spending his holidays.

Mr. Benjamin E. Brown, Business Manager of the New Haven Register, and G. E. Osborn, also of New Haven, are in the city.

Hon. Mr. Mercier is not quite so well as he was yesterday; his condition is a little weaker, though he passed a good night.

A Plebiscite for the Territories.

Regina, Sept. 5.—The Northwest Legislative Assembly has adopted the following resolution:

Whereas this House has no information from which the views of the country in regard to the traffic of intoxicating liquors can be ascertained;

And, whereas, such views could only be obtained by a plebiscite taken for that special purpose;

Therefore, be it resolved that in the opinion of the House it is not desirable that any legislation should be passed for the suppression of the traffic in intoxicating liquors pending the expression of the views of the country on the subject.

Sir Adolphe's Home-Coming Delayed.

News was received in Montreal yesterday from England that Sir A. P. Caron has been invited to take part in the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the new Post Office in Liverpool. The Canadian Postmaster General has accepted the invitation and will necessarily be delayed in his return home.

YOUNG, BUT TOUGH.

Joseph Fraser, Who Shot Watchman Emery.

Joseph Fraser, who was arrested yesterday at Alexandria, and has since confessed his complicity in many crimes, including attempted murder, is not much more than a boy. He appears to have been brought up on wild Western literature, for in a notebook found in his possession, appears the following draft of a blood-curdling oath:

"The oath of the midnight riders or—I swear by God and the devil and all I hold dear never to leave a comrade when in danger, never to tell a secret. I further pledge my soul and body to obey all orders of the chief at all times of danger and never to kill only in self-defence. I here further pledge my life to help my mates when in need of help."

"Now I swear before God and living man that my bowels may be torn out before I break my oath."

In this notebook were pasted the newspaper accounts of the shooting of Watchman Emery, which Fraser has since confessed having done.

Fraser, who is about eighteen years of age, comes from the vicinity of Alexandria. He has worked in the Windsor as a dishwasher and in Lang's factory as a box-maker.

Fraser was brought before Judge Desnoyers yesterday. He was as cool as a cucumber, and pleaded guilty to stealing the bicycles from Lunn's store on St. Antoine Street, also to breaking into two stores at Alexandria, but alleged that the Canada Atlantic Railway tickets had been given him to dispose of. When asked by the Judge if he shot Emery, the accused admitted he had done so, but pleaded that it was a pure accident, but how it occurred he could not tell. He was remanded until the 14th.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Cyrille Bourassa, contractor, has assigned at the instance of E. Bourassa, master carter. Liabilities, $4,000.

Conductor Barnes Honored.

Mr. T. H. Barnes, the popular C. P. R. suburban train conductor, has just been presented with an illuminated address and a handsome gold locket. Montrealers all along the St. Anne's district speak in the warmest words of praise of Mr. Barnes' treatment of passengers.

Have Not Been Vaccinated.

The Sanitary Police has just completed the census of all persons, old and young, who have not yet been vaccinated. The additions have not yet been made, but there are still several thousand persons in the city who have not submitted their arm to the point. A lot of 200 points of vaccine has just been received from the vaccine farm at Quebec, which has been re-opened for the season.

Did it When Drunk.

Detectives Trempe and Arcand arrested at an early hour yesterday one Adelard Bertrand on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy from one Alphonse Desjardins. The accused, when brought before Judge Desnoyers, pleaded that he had got drunk, during which he had attempted to sell the rig to a man at St. Henri. He did not know what he was doing at the time. He was remanded for sentence.

Charged With Gambling.

Henri Dubois, saloonkeeper, and Ephraim Larocque, saloonkeeper, the two men charged with running gambling tables at the Butcher's picnic, were up before Judge Desnoyers yesterday. They pleaded not guilty and were remanded for enquete on Tuesday morning next.

They had, however, to furnish bail in $400 each personal, and two sureties of $200 each. The sureties were Theo. Lauctot, saloon-keeper, and C. Vallee, saloon-keeper.

Defrauding the Revenue.

Dominion Inspector Sweetman, of the Post Office, who has been down here for the past week looking into the affairs of the Montreal office, paid a visit yesterday to Judge Desnoyers, when he swore out an information charging one Joseph Corneil Senecal, a clerk in the employ of Messrs. Jasmin and Vallierre, manufacturers' agents, 1869 Notre Dame Street, with sending a letter enclosed in a sample package, contrary to the law. The case will come up this morning.

Tug Grounded at Iroquois.

Iroquois, Sept. 5.—The Montreal Transportation Company's tug Walker is on ground on the shoal in swift water just out from the lock here. Last night about midnight as she was leaving the head of the Galops Canal with a tow of six barges, the current proved to strong for her and she lost her tow of barges. They went went over the Galops Rapids all right, and after drifting all night anchored safely just below Point Iroquois and near the lock. In the early morning the tug came down for them, and while attempting to draw them out from their anchorage, herself grounded on the shoal. The Company's steamers Jessie Hall and Active have both been here as well as Capt. Murphy's Alert, and all day unsuccessful efforts have been made to get her off.

Shipping Notes.

Hong Kong, Sept. 5.—Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship Empress of India left here noon Wednesday, Sept. 5, with clean bill of health. Plague declared finished.

The Boyd-Somerville Case.

Beauharnois, Sept. 4.—The preliminary investigation into the charges against Boyd and Somerville closed yesterday and Magistrate Loupret took the matter en delibere. Judgment will be given Friday afternoon at 2 p.m.

HERALD MAR NE RECORD.

PORT OF MONTREAL.

Another steamer aground was the talk of the harbor yesterday. The facts are told in another column.

Lake Winnipeg.

Steamship Lake Winnipeg, of the Beaver Line, Captain Herrimann, was docked at her usual wharf early yesterday morning.

She sailed from Liverpool Aug. 24th and encountered head winds nearly all the way. A detention of 16 hours by fog and ice at Belle Isle was reported. A lot of well-pleased passengers were landed both at Quebec and here. Captain Herrimann is looking well and still continues in public favor.

Steamship Hamilton.

The favorite Bristol cargo steamer Hamilton cleared away at daylight. Capt. Skrimshire had a heavy care, in one of the heaviest live stock and general cargoes ever taken out of port. It comprised 1,575 sheep, 310 cattle, and amongst the general goods, 20,000 boxes of cheese.

Notes.

The depth of water in the channel yesterday was 27 feet 5 inches; by Sorel gauge, 28 feet 5 inches; at Lotbiniere, 24 feet 2 inches low water, 30 feet high water. The water is thus noticeably low and it may have something to do with the Mereddio going aground.

Yesterday afternoon the secretary of the Harbor Commissioners received a letter from aide-de-camp of the French Admiral in charge of the fleet at Quebec. He asked for a chart of the river, so that it is quite likely the French frigates will come here. Mr. Robertson sent the charts by express last evening.

Capt. Forbear, formerly in charge of R. & O. steamer Cultivateur, has been changed to the Island Queen.

The Allan steamship Pomeranian went out of port at daylight with a fine general cargo for Glasgow.

The Dominion Line SS. Toronto from Montreal August 23rd, with a shipment of 318 cattle and 832 sheep, arrived at Avonmouth Dock Wednesday September 5th, and landed her live stock in good condition with the exception of one sheep.

Thousands of men and women are yearly cured by us who suffered so from back trouble that they could not stoop to even raise a pin off the floor without the most excruciating pain and misery. Again it would "catch" them in lifting or working so as to often lay them up for days and weeks. Excesses and indiscretion are frequent causes of this, though generally it is Lumbago or Rheumatism or the forerunner of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, &c. Nine out of every ten men and women suffering from this lameness and weakness of the back neglect it, and what is the consequence?—untold misery and with many poverty from paying continuous doctors' bills and medicines. To these sufferers we offer a positive remedy in DR. SANDEN ELECTRIC BELT, which silently but surely furnishes nature's own remedy without drugging, and cures when all other remedies fail.

We have many thousands of similar testimonials.

DR. A. T. SANDEN: Dear Sir—Kindly accept my most hearty thanks for advising me to try your electric belt, as it has given me wonderful relief. I was suffering from heart trouble, indigestion, nervousness, and inactive circulation of the blood. Had doctored for over two years, during which time I had several doctors, but they like every other remedy proved useless. And at the time I received your belt I was unable to sit up all day, but I had not worn it two days when I began to improve, and now I feel like a different person altogether.

If I can be of any use to you in regard to writing to any afflicted persons in Canada I will gladly do so free of charge. As we Canadians consider a testimonial from a Canadian worth much more than an American testimonial, it may be to your advantage to send this letter to some afflicted Canadian. You may also put this on your list of testimonials if you feel disposed to do so.

I remain, very gratefully, D. B. MARTIN, Clanbrassil, P. O., Haldimand Co., Ontario, Can.

FINANCIAL.

Wednesday, Sept. 5.

There was a little more life to the local stock market to-day, and values had a firmer tendency. Gas to-day advanced to 164 bid, with none offering under 165½. No sales were made however. Street Railway was the centre of what activity there was, selling at 154½ for old stock and 149¾ for new. A few shares of Cable realised 141¾c, about the same as last week's values, and Richelieu sold down to 81¾c. The only other business was a small block of Duluth p.f.d. at 14, and three Bank of Montreal at ¼ decline from yesterday's close. Money is easy and in plentiful supply, but the demand has again fallen off considerably.

To-day's highest, lowest and closing prices and total sales of actual stocks and net changes from yesterday's closing price for actual sales in the local market were as follows:

Sales.		High.	Low.	Close.	Chge.
10	Cable	141¾	141¾	141¾
25	Duluth, pfd	14	14	14
145	Street Railway	154¾	154	154
300	St. R'y (new)	149¾	149¼	149½
40	Richelieu	82	81¾	81¾
3	Bank of Montreal	220¾	220¾	220¾	— ¼

— Declined. Total shares sold, 523.

Meredith and O'Brien's market letter says:

Our market to-day showed little improvement over yesterday's as far as prices are concerned. There was a little more business, but it was confined chiefly to Street Railway, and the orders were nearly all filled before the noon call. Richelieu sold off somewhat, on a natural reaction. The pace in this stock has been a little too fast, and now that some has been let out on the "street," we may probably see it fluctuate within reasonable limits. Gas is firmer, but without transactions, on a rumor that local disputes between the two Companies are likely to be settled on an amicable basis. Whether this is true or not, the stock should be cheap at these prices. A dividend is due shortly, and we hardly think it is likely to be less than five percent. for the half year.

LONDON STOCK MARKETS.

The market for American securities is dull and unchanged, except for St. Paul, which is ¼ lower. A few buying orders have been placed with New York foreign houses.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Messrs. L. J. Forget and Co. have received the following by direct private wire from New York:

The sentiment continues bullish, and as bull pools seem to think that the atmosphere is sufficiently clear to lift prices, we think it will do to play the long side of the market. We favor buying Southern securities and look for higher prices in many of the lower priced bonds. The recent good buying in Reading Junior securities leads us to believe that the reorganization plan soon to be announced will have a strong backing.

The market as a whole was generally strong to-day in spite of the limited buying demand. This fact, however, had its effect in the afternoon hours, when the traders pressed stocks for sale to a certain extent and small bull holders took to realizing. Even then, the effect was not marked and prices generally reflected a more confident sentiment on the part of the Street. London was on the whole a seller, but this had no influence and foreign exchange continues weak on the slackest kind of enquiry. It is, however, premature to expect that the flow of gold will set in this way, unless European buying of our stocks assumes a more decided character. Increases in railroad earnings seem to be in order.

Sugar has been a weak feature. It was advanced at the opening, but fell off under heavy sales and continued unsteady into the p.m. There is as yet no certainty about when the dividend will be declared, or what the insiders will do when that time really comes.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

Messrs. Meredith and O'Brien's gossip by private wire from New York contained the following:

Mr. Thomson, Vice President of the Penna. R. R., sees a decided improvement in traffic and hopes it will last.

The Reading reorganization is going on nicely. The back coupons on the fours will yield a little. No plan is expected for two weeks.

Senator Gorman says efforts will be made at the next session of Congress to secure action on free sugar, coal and iron, but he thinks the bills have no chance.

Texas Pacific increase fourth week, $26,932; month, $71,770. Norfolk & Western increase, $43,333; month, $100,796.

S. V. White is the chief factor in present speculation, bulling St. Paul and W. U. We think profits ought to be taken the first hour, as we expect a lower closing.

Boston special: One of the largest wool houses in Boston predicts that the next two years will witness the largest business in wool ever recorded.

Dispatches from Chicago say that the reduction in Eastbound rates on live hogs and meats, taking effect yesterday, will lead to other reductions. This rate affects Kansas City and St. Louis business and makes a discrimination which will lead to reductions by Southern routes to the seaboard. Some fears are expressed that the lines which have gained business by cutting and which will lose it by the open reduction will complicate the situation by further cuts.

We understand that a part of the new Reading plan is that holders of the floating debt extend their loans on the present security for twenty years, provided that income bondholders take four million of the present collateral trust bonds at par, the money to be used in paying off receivers certificates. The general mortgage bondholders shall agree to sell coupons for five years to a syndicate, the proceeds to be used by the company if necessary. The stock is to pay a small assessment. It is said that the plan may be announced next week.

Philadelphia special: Nearly all the Reading's floating debt has been shifted about lately and 90 per cent. of it is now held by institutions connected with the Olcott Earl Committee, the holders have part of the $10 million collateral trust issue as security the bonds being hypothecated at between sixty and seventy. Pennsylvania officials say the freight movement continues surprisingly heavy with no immediate danger of a falling off. The business over the Pan Handle road is larger than it has been for five or six years.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

Money in the local market is quoted at 4 to 4½ per cent., on call, and discounts on mercantile paper 6½ to 7 per cent.

Money in the open market, London, was quoted to-day at ½ to 9-16 per cent.

The Bank of England rate of discount is 2 per cent.

Consols in London opened at 102¼ closing at 102¼ for money, and opened at 102¼, closing at 102¼ for the account.

In New York call loans were quoted at one per cent.

French rentes sold at 104 frs. 45 at the opening and 104 fr. 45 at the close.

French Exchange in London opened at 25.17 and closed at 25.17.

L. J. Forget and Co.'s special London cable said: Grand Trunk, first preference, opened and closed at 43⅜; second preference opened and closed at 29½. Canadian Pacific opened at 68⅜ and closed at 68⅜.

London, September 1.—Gold to-day is quoted at Buenos Ayres, 244; Madrid, 22.25; Lisbon, 30.25; St. Petersburg, 50; Athens, 77; Rome, 110; Vienna, 103.

The Commercial Cable Company has declared its usual quarterly dividend of one and three quarters per cent., payable on the first of October. The transfer books will be closed at 2.30 p.m. on the 20th of September and reopened on the morning of October 2nd.

Wednesday, Sept. 5.

There is no pronounced increase in the volume of American wheat coming forward at present, while a slight improvement is noted in Manitoba wheat. The clearance sheets from Chicago to-day mentioned 36,000 bushels of wheat via Buffalo, and there was 21,133 bushels received through the canal to-day consigned to order. Advices from the English markets are less encouraging. Freight rates from Montreal are quite firm, and now that the usual fall activity in shipping circles has commenced, it is probable that rates will advance. Very low figures are being accepted from New York and Boston, particularly the latter port.

Deliveries of new wheat in Manitoba are commencing in earnest. Over 3,500 bushels were delivered to Deloraine elevators on Tuesday, also other lots too numerous to mention.

Wheat in Chicago, according to Meredith and O'Brien's report opened this morning quiet. Outside news was not of an important character to-day and the local trade were inclined to adjust their open contracts to the apparent conditions of the longer futures. It appears that the feeding of wheat to hogs and cattle is more general than has been reckoned upon by those who keep tab upon crop distribution. It therefore follows that there must be a liberal holding of immature live animals requiring to be fattened. The result was that there was a tendency to cover short sales of wheat and corn and to realize upon purchases of packing house product. This accounts for the relatively firm feeling in grain and the set back in prices of provisions. It was reckoned that at the present selling price of hogs feeders could afford to pay 101¾ for wheat and 63c to 64c for corn. In consequence, therefore of this abnormal lack of relation between the price of hog feed and manufactured pork, there was a marked disposition to buy wheat and sell provisions. The storage question also presents some probable conditions of annoyance to short sellers so that on the whole we regard provisions to be a moderately good sale and in grain we consider wheat the safest purchase at present.

The shipments of wheat from Eastern European, Australian, and South American ports the last week were 2,480,000, against 3,520,000 bushels the previous week, and 2,800,000 bushels same week a year ago. These shipments compared with those of India of 140,000, and 3,420,000 bushels from the United States, both coasts, aggregate 6,040,000 bushels, against Beerbohm's revised estimated weekly requirements of 6,800,000 bushels, or a deficit of 760,000 bushels.

The estimated receipts in Chicago to-morrow are: Wheat, 340 cars; oats, 206 cars; hogs, 23,000.

The receipts in Chicago in cars to-day were:—Wheat, 402 cars; contract, 261 cars; corn, 566; contract, 529; oats, 411; contract, 305; hogs, 26,000.

Wheat puts in Chicago for next week are 54½c, and calls 59½c.

Bradstreets' estimates of the wheat changes are as follows: East Rockies increased 3,973,000 bush.; Pacific Coast increased 101,000 bush.; Europe and afloat, Europe decreased 1,712,000 bush. No Australian report.

The tip is that the Government report on corn will be 58 p.c.—very bullish.

Beerbohm's cable report to-day said: Cargoes off coast, wheat quiet, but steady. Corn, nothing offering. On passage and for shipment, wheat quiet. Corn quiet. English and foreign wheat quiet. American and Danubian corn very firm. French country markets unchanged. Weather in England unchanged. Liverpool spot, opening, wheat firm, inactive; American firmly held.

The following table gives the movement of grain and flour at given points:

	Receipts.	Shipments.
Chicago—wheat	239,000	24,000
corn	252,000	86,000
oats	338,000	305,000

New York—Wheat	65,350	224,671
Corn	11,325	16,300
Oats	158,400	1,175
Flour brls.	16,102	1,536
Flour sacks	3,751	14,316
Duluth—wheat	285,000	301,000

The receipts of grain and flour in Montreal to-day are given as follows:

	G.T.R.	C.P.R.	Canal.	Total
Wheat, bush	....	....	74,216	74,216
Peas, bush	1,000	....	....	1,000
Oats, bush	3,697	....	....	3,697
Flour, brls	300	....	....	300

Grain.—Activity in business is almost exclusively confined to peas and oats. Advices from the West note a number of enquiries from the States for barley, but prices between the two markets are out of proportion, and no important business has resulted. Locally, peas are wanted, and the limited arrivals are considered very good property by the holders. Business has been done at 73c afloat per 66 lbs. Oats although a little more plentiful than peas are firmly held at 33c to 34c. In the West there is said to be some enquiry, with sales at 26c to 27c, according to location. There is no business doing in corn and values are purely nominal:

Wheat, No. 1 hard	72c to 73c
Wheat, No. 2 hard	67c to 69c
Corn, duty paid	65c to 67c
Peas, per 66 lbs afloat	70c to 71c
Oats, per 34 lbs, store new	31½c to 33c
Rye, No. 2	52½c to 53c
Barley, feed	45c to 46c
Barley, malting	50½c to 52c

Flour.—Millers still report a liberal demand for Manitoba flour, both from local and foreign sources. For export no business resulted, but other orders were filled. Enquiries from Newfoundland and Halifax were quite liberal. There is a moderate demand for straight rollers and low grades of Ontario flour, but prices show no improvement.

Spring patents	3.45 to 3.50
Straight rollers	2.95 to 3.10
Extra	2.50 to 2.70
Superfine	2.35 to 2.45
Fine	0.00 to 2.25
Strong bakers', Man.	0.00 to 3.30
Strong bakers' M. best brands	3.35 to 3.40

Meal—Prices in spite of the low price of oats are steady, and there is a fair business passing at the outside. Supplies remain light.

Granulated and rolled, per brl	$4.40 to $4.50
Granulated and rolled, per bag	2.20 to 2.25
Standard, per brl	4.00 to 4.10
Standard, per bag	1.90 to 2.00

Feed—The demand for bran and shorts shows no signs of weakening. Sales of the former have been made at $16 to $16.25, while shorts have been selling right along at $18. Cattle shippers enquire for mouille in a small way.

Bran	$15 00 to $15 50
Shorts	16 00 to 18 50
Mouille	20 00 to 21 00

PRODUCE AND PROVISIONS.

The receipts of produce and provisions in Montreal to-day are given as follows:

	G.T.R.	C.P.R.	Canal	T'tl.
Butter, pkgs	627	....	....	627
Cheese, bxs	7,036	....	1,935	9,021
Eggs, cases	154	....	102	256

Cheese—Apparently the temper of the market has varied but little, in fact actual spot business is about too insignificant to allow of any radical change without the support from the country. There are really no important lines of cheese for sale on the market, and what little business there was, was in small quantities, which shippers required to fill up some consignment. There is no let up to the hot pace in the country, and buyers are going at it with no lack of vim, which clearly demonstrates the general confidence expressed in the future of prices. It is daily becoming more difficult to buy in the country, and as a dealer expressed it to-day: "We will soon be under great obligations to factorymen for letting us have their cheese." Apart from those noted yesterday, we have heard of no new contracts, but it is generally thought that none of the September and October cheese of the desirable factories can be got under 10¾c, while 10¼c is asked for August.

The public cable went up another notch to-day to 50 shillings, and private cables quote one shilling better.

Finest Ontario, colored	10½ to 10⅝
Finest Ontario, white	10½ to 10⅝
Finest, Townships	10½ to 10⅝
Quebec, finest	10½ to 10¼

Following is from the Utica, N. Y. Herald:—There was a strong effort made to put up the price of cheese last week, and the top quotation was advanced first to 10c, then to 10¼c, then to 10⅜c. The receipts also were very moderate, so that with fairly good sales there would have been no difficulty in disposing of them all, without causing any diminution of price. But the advance in values had the same effect it does in the stock market; it brought out a lot of stock that was only bought to hold for a rise, and with this extra amount put on the market it was impossible to maintain the advance. On Friday ¼c of the ⅝c that had been added to quotations during the week was dropped off, as it was found that the pace was rather too fast to be kept up. The re-selling of cheese from one buyer to another is of no advantage to the market, and the purchases of exports were altogether too small to warrant the prices asked. The only thing that would really help the market was to have a big bunch of stock taken by foreign trade, but that was hopeless in the present attitude of exporters. There were only two alternatives, either to put more cheese into cold storage and still further increase the heavy accumulation, or to lower the price to a point where exporters could be induced to look at it. The latter course was prudently followed, and as it brought the stock proportionately lower than it can be bought in Canada, it gave the advantage to our goods.

Woodstock, Ont., September 5.—3,250 boxes offered, mostly first half August. Sales 600 boxes first half August at 10½c. Next market September 12.

Butter—If there is any improvement in the market it is very slight and not sufficient to offset the downward tendency of prices. One or two enquiries have been received from the Pacific Coast, principally for creamery, and while a few sales may have resulted, deliveries have been small. Finest creamery is nominally quoted at 18¾ to 19½c, and finest dairy at 16c to 17c.

Finest creamery	19c to 19½
Townships, dairy	16½c to 17
Western	14½c to 16

Eggs—Most of the stock coming forward at present is of an undesirable quality, really fresh boiling stock keeping very scarce. Sales of guaranteed stock have been made at 11c and over, while dealers find it difficult to get over 9c o held.

Pork—Lard—Conditions which point to an improvement in the demand for pork are more pronounced, and holders are not inclined to let their limited holdings go at anything under outside prices.

Canada sh't cut mess, per brl	18.50 to 20.00
West. mess pork, new, per brl.	18.00 to 18.50
Beef, extra mess, per brl	00.00 to 10.00
Beef, plate, per tierce	00.00 to 14.50
Hams, city cured, per lb	0.09½ to 0.11¼
Bacon, per lb	0.10 to 0.12½
Lard, pure Canadian, per lb	0.08½ to 0.09¼
Lard, com. refined, per lb	0.07½ to 0.08

WILL TAKE CANADIAN OATS.

DEALERS SAY THAT THE NEW AMERICAN TARIFF WILL INVITE A DEMAND.

Canadian oats have received very little attention from Americans during the past four years, but the consensus of opinion among the trade is that the new duty of 20 per cent. will ultimately lead to the introduction of the Canadian product into the States in more liberal quantities. Last year our exports of oats were only valued at $23,635, while in 1892 they were valued at $55,654, and $8,710 in 1891. At present, prices in the two markets are almost out of proportion, but negotiations are in progress, and business no doubt will result before long. For light feeding, oats will no doubt take the place of corn in New York and elsewhere. While the latter is scarce, so that to a large extent dealers are justified in looking for an improvement in prices.

Mr. James Carruthers spoke encouragingly of the prospects for business with the States. He said: "I know of several instances where negotiations are pending, and some of the leading firms are sending samples of Canadian oats both to New York and Buffalo. I think that before long business will result." Other dealers substantiated Mr. Carruthers' views on the subject.

GRAIN IN MANITOBA.

The Winnipeg Commercial says:—The beginning of the movement in new wheat has stirred up more interest in the situation in Manitoba markets. At some country points deliveries of new wheat were quite heavy this week, but the most of the grain was going into store in country elevators, as the buyers were not on the market. Most of the shippers will have buyers on the market on Monday. Prices offered in Manitoba country markets to farmers range about 40 to 42c per bushel, average freight rates. The wheat now coming in is from threshing direct from shock, for which the weather has been favorable. The sample is good. Prices were easier again this week, in sympathy with lower markets elsewhere. We quote No. 1 hard at 53 to 59c. per bushel, delivered afloat Fort William and new wheat about 57c. Stocks in shore at Fort William on August 25 were 789,761 bushels. Receipts for the week were 107,786 and shipments 248,228 bushels. A year ago stocks were 1,231,000 bushels, being a decrease of 118,899 for that week. The reduction in terminal elevator rates to 3¢c per bushel for handling, (including storage for twenty days,) and 1¢c for 30 days subsequent storage, is a not unexpected feature of the week.

In the country stacking and threshing have made good progress, under excellent weather conditions, and the marketings show a splendid sample of hard wheat. The western board of grain examiners meets on September 11 in Winnipeg. As the crop is very similar in condition to last year, the work of fixing the standards for grading the crop should be comparatively easy.

AMERICAN DAIRY MARKETS.

Fulton, Sept. 4.—Two thousand one hundred and sixty-five boxes of cheese were offered from 23 factories. It sold at 9¾c. One hundred and sixteen tubs of factory butter sold at 22½c.

Canton, Sept. 4.—There was the usual offering of cheese to-day, all of which was reported sold at 10 3-16c. One lot of butter, consisting of about 40 tubs, fresh make, was sold on private terms, supposed to be about 23c.

Lowville, Sept. 4.—R. J. Richardson & Co. have made purchases of cheese at from 9 to 10½ cents per pound.

WEEKLY MARKET SPECIALS

Wednesday, Sept. 5.

The cooler weather and the settlement of the Tariff difficulties has had a stimulating effect on business generally. Wholesale merchants report an increase of interest on the part of country buyers, and a fairly active season is looked for. Collections show a decided improvement, and merchants generally are well pleased at the way in which paper was met on the "fourth." A possible exception is in Dry Goods, certain houses stating that there is yet plenty of room for further improvement. Groceries have been fairly active during the week.

GROCERIES.

Sugar—The local market still continues strong, with a good demand. There has been no further advance in price, however, this week, though one would not now come unexpected. Present quotations are as follows: Granulated, 4¼c; yellow, 3¾c to 3⅞c according to quality.

Tea—Activity and strength still characterize the local tea market, and advances in prices are expected. Prices have already been advanced in China and Japan. There is an animated enquiry for Japans at 14c to 20c with holders in some cases asking more. Black and Greens are firm but at the moment very quiet.

Rice—No advance has been noted in prices as yet. During the past week a steady business has been done on the basis of the following values: Japan standard, $3 95; standard B., $3.45; English style, $3.30; crystal Japan, $4.25; Patnas, $4.25 to $4.75; Carolina, 6¼c to 7¼c.

Coffee—The market is very dull, and there is little good coffee on the market. Prices are firm, Maracaibo selling at 20c to 21c.

Dried fruit—Arrivals of new Valencia raisins are daily expected. Large orders have already been booked, with a large part of the business at 6c to 7c. One firm has sold their entire consignment to wholesalers at 6c. Californias are neglected, and quotations are unchanged. Influenced by a probable shortage in the crop, currants are firmer, with sales at 3c in barrels, and 3½c in half barrels.

Canned Goods.—The fact that the Government has refused to extend the fishing season, has caused a firm feeling in red salmon, as the pack will be small. Sales have been made on spot at $1.25. Cohoes are in good demand. The Packers' Association have not as yet placed any figures on canned apples or tomatoes.

HARDWARE AND METALS.

A steady business has been done in the local market at firm prices. It is said that American travellers are again in the city taking orders for pig iron free in Montreal at lower prices than Scotch pig iron can be laid down at. S. W. Royce and Co., Manchester, say in their British Market Report:

"There has been a marked improvement in the course of the metal markets during the whole of the current month. Prices of pig iron have advanced steadily at both Glasgow and Middlesborough, the total advance during the month being some 1s 3d to 1s 6d per ton. A large amount of business has been transacted in this week, and considerable quantities of iron have been drawn from public stores at Middlesbrough. The tone of the market is quite strong, and it is quite expected that the improvement will be continued. There also an improvement in the manufactured iron trade in the Midlands, and prices there have an upward tendency. Copper has improved steadily, and closes easier at an advance of about £2 per ton. Tin also has advanced strongly, and is about £5 per ton dearer, but is now casing somewhat. Spelter has only fluctuated slightly. Lead has advanced steadily, and closes about 12s 6d per ton dearer during the month, with a further upward tendency."

We quote local values as follows:

Summerlee Pig Iron	$20.00 to 20.50
Eglinton	18.50 to 19.00
Carnbroe	18.50 to 19.00
Siemens No. 1	17.50 to 18.00
Langloan	18.50 to 00.00
Ferrona, No. 1	17.50 to 18.00
Wrought Scrap No. 1	15.00 to 16.00
Bar Iron	1.70 to 0.00
Tinplates, Cokes	2.90 to 3.00
I. C. Charcoal	3.25 to 3.75
Canada Plates	2.10 to 2.20
Terne Plates	5.75 to 6.05
Galvanized Iron, 28 guage	.04½ to .00
Galvanized Iron, 26 guage	.04 to .00
Galvanized Iron, 24 guage	.3¾ to .05
Orford Copper	.10 to .15
Ingot Tin	.18 to .2?
Lead	2.75 to 3.05
Spelter	4.00 to 4.20

DRY GOODS.

A satisfactory week's business has been done by wholesale houses in fall and winter goods. The millinery openings which were held during the week attracted a large number of country buyers, who took the opportunity, in a good many cases of visiting the dry goods houses, and completing their fall stocks. Retail houses report a good week's business, trade having been stimulated by the return of families to the city from the country and the re-opening of the schools, necessitating the replenishing of wardrobes. Collections have been fairly good, but there is said to be still room for improvement.

PETROLEUM.

Prices remain firm with a higher tendency in the face of an increased demand consequent upon the return of longer evenings. We quote locally as follows: Refined, f.o.b. Petrolea, bulk, 6½c to 6¾c; refined, f.o.b. Petrolea, barrels, 9½c; crude, f.o.b. Petrolea, bulk, 99c; crude, f.o.b. Petrolea, barrels, $1.10; refined, Montreal, carloads, 11c; Canadian benzine, f.o.b. Petrolea, cars, 10¾c; Canadian benzine, f.o.b. Montreal cars, 12¼c to 12¾c; American oil, car lots, at sheds, 15½c to 16c.

NAVAL STORES.

There is no particular improvement to note in business during the past week. Prices are steady and unchanged. We quote as follows: Turpentine, 47c to 49c; rosin, $2.40 to $4.50; coal tar, standard barrels, $3.50; pine pitch, $2.50; pine tar, $3.50 to $3.75; cotton waste, colored, 6c to 6¾c; cotton, white, 8c to 10c; oakum, 5½c to 7½c; cotton oakum, 10c to 12½c.

LEATHER.

One or two boot and shoe manufacturers are buying quite liberally, but others as a rule are doing very little. There is a little better demand for black leather, to the neglect of colored varieties. We quote: No. 1 manufacturers' sole, 17½c to 19c; No. 2 do., 16c to 17½c; inferior, 15c to 16c; J

INDIANS ARE UGLY.

DISTURBING NEWS COMES FROM BATTLEFORD.

MOUNTED POLICE DETACHMENT ORDERED TO JACKFISH LAKE.

All the Women at That Point Removed to One House.

[Special to the Herald.]

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Globe has a Battleford special dated Aug. 29th, which says:

"We are threatened with an Indian uprising. On Saturday a settler named Day brought word that the Indians around Jackfish Lake had risen and had seized all the guns and ammunition and horses belonging to settlers in that neighborhood. It is said Gabriel Dumont is there, and is inciting the Indians to make trouble."

That story, however, is not sustained by any evidence and may have no foundation in fact. Thirty of the mounted police went out there late on Saturday night and nothing has been heard as to their movements since their departure. Much anxiety is felt.

The Indians are non-treaty Indians and belong to the Sotos. All the white women have been removed to one large house, which is in itself a sign of danger. Six of the young Indians in the Industrial School ran away two days ago and are supposed to have joined their brethern who are threatening trouble.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—A special despatch from Battleford states that an uprising among Indians is apprehended in the Fish Lake district. It appears that some trouble did take place between a storekeeper named Dey and the Indians, and that the latter left for Battleford and reported the matter to the police.

On enquiry at the Indian Department relative to the reported uprising it was stated that their advices show that "nothing of at all a serious nature had occurred nor is anticipated." "Apparently," the official said, "some Indians tried a game of bluff on a settler who was cutting hay upon some land to which they set up a claim and tried to levy blackmail, but did not resort to violence, and by the time the police went out, had decamped." It seems that the Indians demanded all the powder and ammunition Dey had in his place, and upon his refusal they threatened violence. The result was that he left the settlement, leaving all his goods behind.

COUNTING THE DEAD

SAD TASK OF THE SURVIVORS OF THE FOREST FIRES.

MANY LEAVING THE DISTRICT TO BEGIN LIFE OVER AGAIN.

A Brave Telegraph Operator Who Saved Many Lives and Lost His Own.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 5.—A Pine City, Minn., special to the Pioneer Press says: The death role at Sandstone has probably reached its limit and presents the awful total of sixty-seven. This is not an estimate nor a guess, but an accurate account of the bodies interred. Not all were from the little village, a few having been brought in from the immediate vicinity. There are here immense quarries, employing in a busy time a considerable number of men, when actively operated. For some time work has been light, but recently an attempt has been made to increase the output and a large number of men has been called in for the labor that was offered. For this reason it is impossible to get an accurate estimate of the population of the place, but a fair figure is probably 350.

In one well four persons died a death that must have been a mixture of drowning, suffocating and burning. To-day the well was utilized as a grave and nine other bodies were placed in it and all covered with earth. Rescuing parties have been organized in Pine City and are scouring the country around.

J. P. Jackson, Secretary of the Associated Charities of St. Paul, arrived today to represent the citizens of that city. Mr. Shannon, of Duluth, from the Relief Committee appointed by Governor Nelson, was among the arrivals. H. H. Hart, and Bishop Gilbert, carried on the work of registration of refugees, adding fifty to the list of seventy made last night and representing in all probability four hundred people. They ask only for transportation and enough money to carry them to their friends. This includes the class that had no real property interests in Hinckley and whose property, personal or real, has been entirely destroyed. It is simply a question of beginning life over, and they prefer to move elsewhere than at the point associated with such terrible memories. Assistant Manager Miller, of the Duluth Road, is here and is rendering the local committee every assistance in his power in the matter of transportation.

The work at the Hinckley cemetery today progressed rapidly. It met with one peculiarly sad interruption yesterday. T. E. Webster, the Mayor of Hinckley, thought he recognized his wife in the horrid heap of dead. During his temporary absence the body which he hoped to claim for a more formal and sacred burial was thrown into a pit and covered up. When he learned of it to-day he was half crazed with sorrow. A portion of the trench where some men remembered to have placed the body was dug up, but either the body was not the one uncovered or the handling it had received had destroyed the scanty marks of identification, and Webster was forced to admit that the shapeless corpse was probably not that of his wife, and the loose sand was again thrown into the pit.

AN AVENUE OF DEATH.

There is a prospect now that the number of dead, which have been or will be brought into Hinckley and which have hitherto been estimated at about two hundred, will pass that figure. The number of bodies not accounted for reaches about that total and it is probable that the number may reach 250. There is one point where an indefinite number of bodies may be found. It is west of the Duluth bridge across the Grindstone and at the northwest edge of the town where there was a mill pond of considerable depth and probably four hundred feet wide. On the bank stood the plant of the Brennan Lumber Company and its yards, with about half a million feet of sawed lumber. A considerable number of persons were seen making their way to the water of the pond down the paths between the piles of burning lumber. There is absolutely no basis for an accurate approximation of how many there were. One thing is certain, no one who went into it ever came back to give an account of himself or his companions. To the intense heat of the burning lumber and the suffocating volume of smoke which it alone furnished, was added that which went up from the sawdust and edgings through which the fire ran to the very water's edge. The water was deep and those who were there probably chose death by drowning to suffocation or burning. The pond is as yet unapproachable. The sawdust bank is still full of fire and as treacherous as quicksand. The smoke is so dense that not even a sight of the pond can be had from a point near the place where the bodies are supposed to be, and it may be some days before an attempt at recovery can be made.

From Brook Park, as the station on the Eastern line at Pokegama Lake has recently been christened, and the mills southeast of Hinckley come reports that the fatalities there were more than had been supposed. J. D. Markham, of Rush City, who owned the town site, knows that there were 113 settlers at or near that point. Yesterday's reports show 28 of the number to be dead. To-day rumor has increased it to between fifty and sixty.

THE HINCKLEY HORROR.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 5.—Buried at Hinckley and vicinity, 225; at Sandstone 67; at Pokegama, 25; at Miller, 12; estimate of dead not found, 50; total, 379.

The Hinckley horror is dawning in its awful magnitude. There are now lying in the desolate cemetery, under a shallow covering of sand, or in rough boxes, which take the place of caskets, 216 bodies.

Four trenches in all have been opened, separated by about four feet. Commencing on the south in the north trench are 45 unboxed corpses. In trench No. 2 are 20 boxes, many containing from two to five bodies. This trench is not yet closed. In the third are 27 boxes like the others. The fourth trench is not yet in use, but there are piled up 19 boxes, which will be put in to-morrow.

Do you have headache, dizziness, drowsiness, loss of appetite and other symptoms of billiousness? Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure you.

Good News for School Children.

Our juvenile friends will doubtless avail themselves of the opportunity which is offered them at "Clarke's Bazaar," 70 Beaver Hall Hill, by securing some of the rare bargains which this popular establishment is now offering in slates, pencils, scribbling books, copy books, ink, foolscap, etc., and as we have seen the bargains we can confidently predict an enormous rush during the next few days. We strongly advise all to patronize the firm, feeling certain that they will be well served and honestly dealt with.

LAURIER AT REGINA.

Another Warm Reception for the Liberal Chief.

Winnipeg, Sept. 5.—Hon. Mr. Laurier and party arrived at Regina at eight o'clock this morning. At 10 o'clock a large crowd gathered at the station with the town band, most of the prominent citizens, including Mayor Martin and the town council and members of the Legislative Assembly being present. When Mr. Laurier stepped on the platform he was enthusiastically received and the town clerk read an address of welcome.. Mr. Laurier made a happy non-political reply.

Col. Herchmer has placed the Northwest Mounted Police conveyances at the disposal of the members of the party who were driven to points of interest. A public meeting was held this afternoon which was attended by the people of Regina and a large number who had driven in from the surrounding districts. Mr. Laurier and party go west from Regina to-night.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

HOWARTH, JENNIE AND KELLY GO TO A HIGHER COURT.

Jennie Admitted to Bail, the Others Go to Jail.

Sweetsburg, Que., Sept. 5.—The preliminary investigation in the case held upon W. W. Smith was resumed this morning before Justices Boright and Shufelt.

Smith continued his examination and identified the lead pipe exhibited in the case as the weapon with which he was assaulted. He also identified the hat produced as being the one which Kelly lost in the scuffle.

In his cross-examination, he swore that he believed that it was the intention of Kelly to murder him and based his belief upon the violence of the blows which Kelly inflicted upon him.

Chas. A. Dyer, veterinary surgeon, of Sutton, swore that he saw Kelly and the person Howarth together on Labeau's track in Sutton. Howarth told the witness that Kelly was a horse buyer from Boston and that Howarth had driven Kelly from Abercorn to Sutton.

Daniel L. Smith swore that he had seen Kelly a number of times in Sutton shortly before Smith was assaulted and saw him for the last time on the evening of the assault about seven p.m.

Sweetsburg, Que., Sept. 5.—The preliminary examination in the assault case against Smith was continued this afternoon. Dr. McDonald, of Sutton, was examined, and testified as to the character of the wounds Smith received. He said that they were wounds of a serious character, and having been inflicted on the head, might have caused death.

Silas H. Carpenter, the detective who deserves so much credit for the manner with which he worked at the case, was also examined and narrated the different events which led up to the apprehension of Kelly, which resulted in his returning to this Province.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution. The Court was then addressed by H. T. Duffy for the prosecution, and E. Racicot on behalf of the prisoner Howarth. Mr. Justice Boright, in a very lucid and clear judgment, stated that the Court had no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that the prisoner ought to be committed upon the charge of wounding with intent to murder, and the prisoner was accordingly committed to stand his trial at the next term of the Court of Queen's Bench. Mr. Racicot applied for bail for Howarth but his application was resisted by Mr. Duffy, on the grounds of the seriousness of the charge, and the fact that the prisoner was a foreigner without any property in this country. Bail was refused to Howarth, consequently he remains in jail.

The charge against M. L. Jennie was then proceeded with, the same evidence applying to his case. He was also bound over to stand his trial on the same charge as that of Howarth's. Being a resident of this country he was admitted to bail, which he furnished, and was released.

The charge against Kelly was then proceeded with and upon similar evidence as that given against Howarth he likewise was committed to stand his trial for assault with intent to murder. Being unable to give bail he was remanded to jail.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING

The Annual Meeting of The American Public Health Association—Subscription Committee.

The annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, comprising delegates from all parts of North America, to the number of several hundred, will be held in Montreal, on the 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th of this month. The meeting will be of great public interest and valuable papers, having reference to the safety and well being of communities, as well as of individuals, will be read and discussed. The expenditure connected with the meeting, it is estimated, will be in the neighborhood of $5,000, of this sum, the Ottawa and Quebec Governments together have contributed $1,800 leaving $3,200 to be derived from private sources. For the purpose of raising this sum the following Committee has been named: Messrs. Dr. Hingston (Chairman); R. B. Angus, Dr. R. Craik, L. J. Forget, C. P. Hebert, Hon. J. R. Thibadeau, Wolferstan Thomas, r. Elzear Pelletier (Secretary).

As the time is short the Committee trusts the citizens will aid it in raising this amount, and relieve it of the necessity of resorting to a canvass. Subscriptions will be gladly received by any member of the Committee.

DUTCH CAPTURE HOLLAND.

Republicans Swept the State of Vermont Yesterday.

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 5.—The Republican State ticket has been elected by 25,000 majority, a gain of 12,000 over the majority of 1890, and of 7,000 over the majority of 1892. The ticket elected is as follows: Governor, U. E. Woodbury; Lieut.-Governor, Z. M. Mansur; Treasurer, A. F. Field; Secretary of State, C. W. Brownell; Auditor, E. D. Hall.

Powers, (Rep.) has been elected to Congress.

In Burlington C. P. Smith, (Rep.) was elected Representative by a majority of 262. Col. Woodbury's majority in Burlington was 691, making a change of about 800 votes since 1892, when Col. Smalley, the Democratic candidate for governor, received a majority of 66.

The Populist vote was insignificant.

Vessel Aground.

At an early hour yesterday the steamship Mereddio ran aground above Ile Ronde, and is still there. She is chartered for the summer by Kingman, Brown and Co., and is heavily laden with coal. The accident happened when she was coming up, and was probably due to the fog. The vessel is about 1,700 tons, and is in command of Capt. Laycock. Kingman, Brown and Co. promptly sent lighters to the ship, and the coal is fast being removed. It is expected that no damage was done to the ship, as where she is aground is thought to be mud bottom. The pilot in charge of the Merreddio was L. Belisle. He claims that a tow of barges, led by steamer Hudson interfered with their ship, so that she sheered off towards St. Helen's Island, and thus went aground. Chairman Bulmer, of the Harbor Board, visited the stranded steamer yesterday at 12 o'clock, and instructions were given the engineer to get the exact location. Mr. Bulmer says that it an investigation is necessary there will be one at once.

BAD FOR R. WHITE.

HIS NOMINEE BEATEN IN THE CARDWELL CONVENTION.

WILLOUGHBY, WHO WAS CHOSEN, CANNOT RUN.

Cardwell will Not be Opened, and White May Lose the Collectorship.

[Special to the Herald.]

Toronto, August 5.—The result of yesterday's Conservative convention in Cardwell was disastrous to the ambitions of Mr. R. S. White, M.P. Mr. White had been promised the Collectorship of Customs at Montreal if he could find a candidate that could carry the constituency.

Mr. White and his friends picked on Dick Allen, who is a Conservative patron, and worked vigorously for him. Willoughby, a Toronto barrister, who has long had aspirations towards representing Cardwell at Ottawa, also made a fight for the honor, and came out on top in the convention, defeating Allen by nine votes. White, who was present at the convention was very visibly annoyed at the result.

The party managers do not think that Willoughby could carry the set. He would be oppose by both Patron and McCarthyite candidates. It is not now regarded as at all likely that Cardwell will be opened and White's chances of appointment to the Collectorship are greatly lessened.

ROBIDOUX CLERK CASE.

Some Lively Discussions and a Further Postponement.

Sharp upon the stroke of two o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. John Lowe entered Justice Sicotte's office, and resumed the tedious business of calling out the entries of sales of Street Railway stock from the books of the Stock Exchange to Stenographer St. Martin. A few minutes later Messrs. Robidoux, St. Jean, and Clerk entered, and almost immediately a wrangle commenced which lasted off and on until three o'clock.

Mr. St. Jean opened the ball by asking who was going to pay the stenographer for taking down all this part of Mr. Lowe's evidence. He was willing to pay for his own examination of the witness, but he would not pay for all this cross-examination by Mr. Robidoux.

Mr. Robidoux would not do so either. He would only pay for his own witnesses. Then he turned on the reporters and said they were always ready to say that he delayed the case. Said he to Mr. St. Jean: "They will only report what is in favor of your client, but I dare them to do it again. They will say to-morrow that I am delaying the case."

Mr. St. Jean: "They will be quite right to do that." He further recalled that Mr. Robidoux had refused to pay for Mr. Lowe's statement, which had taken four nights to make out.

Mr. Robidoux declared warmly that he would not allow himself to be imposed upon by Mr. Lowe. The defense was afraid to go on, and it was on their side all the delay was.

Justice Sicotte remarked that it was very difficult to bring the parties to an agreement, but he would do the best he could, and that was to have the Crown stenographer there this afternoon.

It was agreed after a prolonged argument that Mr. St. Martin should write his notes of the case up to the present, and that each side should pay half the costs.

Mr. Robidoux several times asserted that the press was being subsidized by Mr. St. Jean in the case, to which the latter replied that if the press were living on what he paid them they would soon starve.

Mr. Lowe and Mr. Robidoux also had some hot words, Mr. Lowe resenting what he considered a sneer on the part of Mr. Robidoux.
