Zoning change sought

Synagogue plans new building

City Council gave first reading Monday night to an amendment to its master zoning by-law to permit Congregation Shaar Hashomayim to construct a religious institution on Clarke avenue.

A public meeting of elector-proprietors of districts R3 and R4 will be held in City Hall on Friday October 9 at 9 a.m. to consider the changes.

Officials of the Congregation, contacted by The Examiner, refused to disclose any construction plans. Their present building is located at 450 Kensington avenue, at Cote St. Antoine.

61 protest valuations

Twenty-five "wronged" citizens appeared at City Hall Monday night to protest increases in their property valuations assessments on the 1964-65 valuation roll.

Most merely presented their estimation of the "legal facts" in support of their appeal, several complained that they could scarcely afford to pay the increased rates.

Many property owners based their appeals on the fact that neighbors in apparently similar houses received a lower rate.

Mayor Drury explained that each appeal would receive careful attention. Homologation of most of the roll is expected at the November meeting. Sixty-one appeals were submitted altogether — 28 of them by Westmount Centre.

Council appeals to Quebec

In other business, Council announced its intention to appeal to the Quebec Municipal Commission, declaring that Westmount intends to contest the recommendation of the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation that land valuations here be increased by 35%.

The MMC decreed this increase last month in its adjustment schedule for assessing MMC administration costs against Montreal. Westmount submits that the pro-

Cyclist killed

The 25-year old driver of a motorscooter was fatally injured Tuesday morning when his vehicle collided with a car at Sherbrooke and Roslyn.

Police identified the victim as David Taylor of 2005 Elmhurst avenue. He died of internal injuries a few hours after the accident in Montreal General Hospital.

Driver of the car, Basil Cornelius, 34, of 4660 Queen Mary road was not injured.

A NEW VISTA

Although work on Westmount Park is about a month behind schedule, major portions of it are complete and present a graceful late Summer vista, as shown above. Scene is the lower ornamental pond, looking north-east.

Park work hard hit by weather

City Hall officials have of late become confirmed weather-watchers — and frustrated ones at that. Since August 16 they have been waiting for at least a three day unbroken stretch of hot, dry weather, but nature hasn't cooperated.

They claim that without such an extended period of fine weather, work on Westmount Park must remain about a month behind schedule. Final grading operations and seeding cannot commence until the ground is bone-dry.

"We had many fine days this past month, but never three in a row," complained an official. "We'll have to pray for good September weather."

He pointed out that the current greenery, sprouting vigorously throughout the park, is wild grass which will be poisoned.

Work on the first phase of the renovation of the park was originally scheduled for completion by the end of July. Initial operations were slowed due to delays in delivering materials and difficulties encountered when the diggers uncovered part of the old watercourse that formerly ran down through the park and into the Glen.

Now completed are such operations as the installation of underground facilities to service the watercourses, building of the pond complexes with

Thieves hit 8 homes over long week-end

Thieves took no holiday in Westmount over the long week-end hitting a total of eight homes in three days.

Police nabbed a man and a woman in separate homes. Appearing today in Westmount Court on a breaking and entering charge is Langus Vezina, a resident of the Salvation Army Hostel, caught by police in the dining room of a home at 355 Grosvenor avenue.

Police later caught Miss Juliette Dubois, no fixed address, in a home at 435 Prince Albert. She was remanded for sentence in October and is also wanted in Montreal on several charges of breaking and entering.

In each case, householders on the floor above heard a noise downstairs and called police.

Five other homes were entered while owners were absent: 16 and 18 Willow avenues, 122 Aberdeen avenue, 225 Clarke avenue and 717 Upper Lansdowne.

Police said that television sets and general household valuables were taken in each case. No estimate of the loss is available.

'Suspected' Elm trees await Quebec report

Parks Department officials are anxiously awaiting the report of Laval University on the fate of over two dozen Elm trees currently enhancing local streets and parks.

The trees are suspected victims of Dutch Elm disease — a deadly fungus infection spread by a tiny beetle. There is no known cure — cutting down the trees is the only way to slow down the spread of the disease, Parks Department officials explain. And the individual affected trees are doomed anyway.

Bark samples from suspected trees were sent to Laval University about a month ago and a report is expected by next week.

A Parks Department official recently qualified his statement reported in The Examiner last month when he noted that the Dutch Elm disease situation was much worse than last year. "We don't yet know how many trees are affected," said the official. "What we meant is that we have been busier this year and have sent out more samples for testing."

Subway here well ahead of schedule

Subway construction in Westmount on Western avenue is a full ten months ahead of schedule and may well be completed before the end of November, engineers on the job told The Examiner this week.

Work begun last January and was scheduled for completion in the Fall of 1965. Crews, working under contract to the City of Montreal, blocked off Western from Atwater to Greene to construct the terminus for the east-west line with main subway platforms located astride the Westmount-Montreal border.

Completed to date is the main terminus section extending from Atwater to Wood avenue. Piledriving operations are now being finished on the remaining portion which will be used to store subway cars.

Officials explained that the rapid progress was a "combination of fortunate circumstances." "We had good co-operation all around and, of course, we were lucky not to run into any rock. The soil here is all dry silt."

General contractors on the job are MacNamara Co. Ltd. who have 28 men at work. Subcontractors and other workers bring the total to about 78.

It is not known if Western avenue will reopen when subway digging is completed. The Roads Department is still studying proposals to widen Western in the area of present construction.

Westmount does not participate directly in the building of the subway although local authorities say they have had frequent conferences with Montreal public works officials and subway director Gerard Gascon.

Quench that nostalgia, firemen ask

It won't be long before trees in this area begin to shed their leaves, according to Examiner weatherman Eric Neal. But the start of the annual "rakeathon" usually means trouble for the Westmount Fire Department.

They note that while the smell of burning leaves may be nostalgic to you, it is generally a "nuisance" to them. And if the blaze is within 50 feet of a building it's unlawful.

Fire Department officers also point out that even if the fire is built beyond the minimum limits, the smoke can be a nuisance to others.

The Department has reported scores of calls in recent years from residents who see the smoke of burning leaves and think a building is on fire.

The answer, according to local officers, to regard the burning of leaves this autumn in the same light as the advice about driving, drinking. Don't.

Westmount Captain to escort Royal Yacht during Fall visit

A Westmounter will lead the destroyer escort group which is to accompany Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth during the portions of her trip to Canada in October when she is aboard the Royal Yacht Britannia.

Commanding will be Captain J. P. T. Dawson of Westmount, leader of the First Canadian Escort Squadron.

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh are scheduled to arrive at RCAF Station Summerside, P.E.I., by BOAC aircraft on the early evening of October 5. The Royal Party will then proceed directly to Summerside Harbour to embark in the Royal Yacht, anchored off Summerside with its naval escorts. Her Majesty's Yacht and the Canadian warships will then sail for Charlottetown where they are scheduled to arrive during the morning of October 6.

The escort will consist of HMC ships Nipigon, St. Laurent, Yukon and Assiniboine. They are commanded by Commanders D. R. Saxon, of Saxon Hill, Sask., D. D. Lee, of Winnipeg, R. W. Cocks, of Victoria, B.C., and W. S. Blandy of Victoria and Halifax, respectively.

Rear-Admiral Jeffrey V. Brock of Halifax, Flag Officer Atlantic Coast, will embark in the Assiniboine on October 5 at Summerside, P.E.I., and will disembark at Quebec City on October 12, on completion of the escort duties.

The ships will accompany Her Majesty's Yacht on her visits to Summerside and Charlottetown, P.E.I. and to Quebec City.

Back to school for principals

Former Westmount High School Principal and local Education Officer R. Steeves and Westmount Park School Principal M. Craig were among the 15 who recently lead a searching type of study session as the first lesson for principals for the new school year. The theme for this year's workshop presented by the Headmasters' Association (Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal) was "The Induction of New Teachers."

Principals, supervisors and administrators heard and discussed a report which was based on the opinions and views expressed by 59 of the 480 teachers new to the employ of the PSBGM for the school year 1963-64.

The report was presented in a straight forward manner giving the reactions of the teachers without promoting the personal views of the six principals doing the interviewing.

Morning and afternoon sessions were conducted by W. Roberts, president of the Headmasters' Association, M. Craig, of Westmount Park School, H. Stutt, supervisor of guidance and special education, H. Young, department of education (Quebec), Miss P. Maybury, principal of Riverview School, Professor P. Horton, McGill University, J. Perrie, personnel director, and W. Perks, curriculum director. This portion of the workshop for principals took place at the Board's headquarters on Fielding avenue.

Later the educators clinic continued at the Aeroport Hilton Hotel with administrators from the Catholic School Commission, Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers and the local Teachers' Association representatives added to the aforementioned personnel.

Douglas Pope, deputy director, read a speech which was prepared by Robert Japp, director, who was unable to attend because of illness. Mr. Japp stated that the new teacher should be consistent, fair, courteous and firm in disciplining children.

W. T. MacSkimming, superintendent of Ottawa's Public Schools, followed with a detailed outline of the induction program used for new teachers in the Ottawa Public Schools.

The afternoon session included two short talks by Dr. H. S. Billings, associate deputy provincial minister of education and P. Millar, vice-chairman of the PSBGM, and a main address given by Mr. Steeves.

In referring to the induction of new teachers, Mr. Steeves described the responsibility of the Board for policy, the principals for guidance, the institute of education for teaching, the new teacher for effort, and the education officer to be the "glue" between. Mr. Steeves compared the educational team to a "chain with five links." It was stressed by Mr. Steeves that behind all this effort was the ultimate purpose, that is, the welfare of the pupils.

The Headmasters' Association Workshop Committee, sponsors of this have had one follow-up meeting. Mr. Roberts, president, states that "a good deal of work now lies ahead so that some tangible benefits will be forthcoming to help in the recruitment, orientation and retention of good teachers."

Route to west closes

Western avenue, between Decarie and Claremont, will be closed for a month, beginning today, it was announced yesterday by the Montreal Traffic Department.

Purpose of the closing is to permit repaving which, when finished, will mean a greatly widened section.

The same section was closed recently for a period of time to permit relocation of sewer pipes. New sidewalks have just been completed this week.

Bronfman lectures to commence Oct 5

Professor Gershom Scholem, professor of Jewish Mysticism of the Hebrew University in Israel, will be the first to lecture under the auspices of the Allan Bronfman Lectureship — a Foundation established by Allan Bronfman of Westmount for the purpose of bringing noted Jewish scholars to Montreal. These lectures will take place October 5 and 6 at the Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue in Westmount.

Professor Scholem's lecture theme on October 5 will be, "Some Aspects of Jewish Mysticism." The word "Mysticism" implies esoteric rites or doctrines. Professor Scholem has studied the aspects of Jewish Mysticism diligently and to such an extent that his lecture will undoubtedly clear away the indifference or aversion that has long been associated with this subject.

His topic on October 6 will be "Ideals of Jewish Piety."

This first series reflects the Foundation's desire that the invited lecturers bring to light Jewish learning and what it can contribute to the problems of mankind; and to also make the community at large more aware of the new work being done in the fields of Jewish scholarship. Professor Gershom Scholem was born in Berlin and educated at the Universities of Berlin, Jena, Bern and Munich. He has been on the staff of the Hebrew University in Israel since 1923. The author of several books, he has been a visiting Professor at the Jewish Institute of Religion in New York and Brown University in Providence, R.I. Since 1946 he has visited many parts of the world on behalf of the Hebrew University in search of Jewish Cultural Treasures.

Mr. Bronfman is widely known as an individual well-concerned with humanitarian causes. He is presently the Honorary President of the Jewish General Hospital of Montreal, Deputy Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and occupies other high offices in communal life. His career has encompassed welfare projects of world-wide dimensions.

3rd. Field Engineers

Local regiment aims to become bilingual

Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. Wolfe, CD, Commanding Officer of the 3rd Field Engineer Regiment (Militia), of Westmount announced that the new revised training season for his Regiment will commence on Wednesday, September 9, at 7.45 p.m.

At the same time he announced the new role of the Militia in general, which will immediately become noticeable, due to the revised training program issued by Headquarters Quebec Command, which will be implemented immediately.

This new program emphasizes the military role and aspect of the Militia at the expense of subjects related to National Survival, which will be greatly reduced.

This means a return to a more specialized training for the role and functions of an Engineer Regiment, in addition to a stricter basic military training for all ranks in specialized Corps, such as the Corps of Royal Canadian Engineers.

As a special addition to the regimental training syllabus, a course in French is added for all ranks, open to any member of the unit. Lt-Col Wolfe took this initiative in order to make his Regiment fully bilingual. The many French-speaking members of his Regiment also speak English.

Several weekend exercises are planned for the fall, comprising bridge building, Field Defences, Watermanship and Water Supply, Fieldcraft and Demolitions. During the past summer training the Regiment built a permanent 30-ton bridge for the Canadian Historical Railway Society at Delson, P.Q. providing access to the museum grounds.

Regiment
 seeks recruits

A special recruit training program will be launched in the beginning of October, and all those interested in joining the Unit to serve in the Militia, are requested to report to the Regiment between September 15 and October 15, at 3 Hillside avenue, Westmount, on Wednesday nights, between 8.00 p.m. and 10 p.m. A total of only 60 recruits will be accepted, who will receive their basic training during the coming season.

There are also vacancies for women between the ages of 18 to 45 years, to serve in the Regiment as members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Their training will commence at the same time as that of the male recruits, but in different subjects.

The 3rd Field Engineer Regiment is the only Engineer unit in Montreal and comprises members from all parts of Greater Montreal in both languages.

WE SAY A Moral responsibility

NOW is the time for all motorists to exercise extreme caution when driving through areas where children are heading back to school.

Westmount Police have warned motorists that they intend to strongly enforce laws regarding traffic speeds in school zones. They will have extra men on traffic duty, others are involved with teaching children to cross streets at intersections and so on.

But this is not enough. As the Quebec Highway Safety League points out: "The Safety of our children is the responsibility of adults."

The implication is that all adults — and especially motorists — have a moral responsibility in this connection.

Being legally right when an accident occurs and this is frequently the case, doesn't restore a young life or a crippled limb.

Responsibility should begin with the parents and extend to teachers and others. Children are carefree, or should be, but they can quickly learn the dangers of darting out into the street when properly taught.

Meanwhile, it is up to all of us to safeguard precious lives by keeping our wits sharpened when driving through school areas, near playgrounds or anywhere children might be found.

Gravel pits are not good playgrounds for children. If there is deep sand a youngster may start a slide and be suffocated. Other youngsters playing nearby might not realize what has happened to the child in time to obtain help. Young children should not be allowed to play near excavations or construction work.

YOU SAY Police radar is not enough

Sir: I think all too much emphasis is being placed on electronic gadgets in this and many other municipalities. The radar sets used by the Westmount force do have some effect, but not enough.

I assume that more speeders are being apprehended and that there is some reduction in average carspeed.

But there's a dark lining as well. The knowing motorist realizes that in each instance police have only one set of radar in use. If he has spotted one in action, he feels safe in assuming that from that point to the end of city limits he is safe — and can speed on his way.

Good, old-fashioned policemen cruising the streets in patrol cars or even standing on corners will slow more cars than all the gadgetry of modern science.

OLD-TIMER

Praises city for preparations

Sir: When the public works departments of most municipalities (especially Montreal) close streets for repairs, blocking rush hour traffic, motorists are usually left to fend for themselves as best they can.

No so in Westmount, at least in the case of Grosvenor avenue. Few were caught unawares. First came an announcement that the street would close. When workman actually began the job, numerous detour signs were erected, warning motorists in advance. Extra policemen were on duty to speed the flow.

Although I have lived in Boston, Toronto and Montreal I have never before seen such a thorough job of compensating for a blocked street.

MOTORIST

EDUCATION FOR ALL

Not too many years from now, many of us hope a university education will be available to every student who has the academic qualifications for entrance. And the same policy would apply to those with aptitudes for technological training. So for the future . . . we can expect more and more to be done to keep our young people at school until they are 20, 21 or older. — Dauphin (Man.) Herald and Press.

Montreal Association for Blind seeks help

Founded in 1908 to serve the English-speaking blind of the Province of Quebec, The Montreal Association for the Blind still provides for them, the only School for blind children, Home for the Aged Blind, sheltered workshop for blind men and women and the only Braille and "Talking Book" library situated in the Province.

In addition the Association carries on an active program of social service and home teaching by means of a trained staff of blind social workers and instructors. The Association's services are available to any blind person regardless of race, creed, or age.

With less than 3% of its revenues coming from government sources, the Association relies on voluntary subscriptions from private donors. It uses no canvassers, sells no magazines nor toilet articles. It makes its appeal for donations by mail only.

It is now asking the readers of the "News and Chronicle" to help this very necessary work by sending their donations direct to the Montreal Association for the Blind, 6980 Sherbrooke St. West, Montreal 28.

WINE AND DINE

Virtually every other community around us in northwestern Ontario has accepted the idea, partly, we suppose, because the availability of cocktails is regarded as something that is necessary if a community is to further its tourist trade. On this basis alone, since we are looking forward to an increase in the number of tourists coming to this community, it could be argued strongly that we should permit cocktail lounges and liquor with meals. — Aitkokan (Ont.) Westmount branch of B of M celebrates 60th anniversary Westmount branch of the Bank of Montreal will observe the 60th anniversary of its establishment next Tuesday, according to John S. England, the manager.

Mr. England said that the branch was opened on September 15, 1904, in the sandstone and brick building it still occupies at the corner of Greene and Destern avenues. The first manager of the office was G. A. E. F. Aylmer, who later became a baronet.

At the time the B of M opened here, Westmount had a population of only 9,500, and there was almost no industry.

TWELVE MANAGERS

During its 60 years here, the B of M has had twelve managers. Mr. Aylmer, the first manager, remained in charge until 1913, when he became manager of the important Peel street branch, in Montreal. He was succeeded by J. H. Pangman, who remained in charge for one year.

E. H. C. Smith became manager in 1914 and, three years later, he was succeeded by H. D. Carr. Subsequent managers were: J. D. Molson, 1926-31; T. Carlisle, 1931-36; A. A. Stewart, 1936-38; W. K. Newcomb, 1938-

41; J. Galt, 1941-45; A. D. Horne, 1945-48; and W. M. Jackson, 1948-52.

Mr. Jackson was succeeded in 1952 by the present manager, Mr. England. A resident of the district, he takes an active interest in civic activities.

FOUNDED IN 1817

Although it completes its 60th year next Tuesday, the Westmount B of M is only a "youngster" compared with the parent institution which was founded in 1817 by nine Montreal merchants and which has had an important role in the development of Canada ever since.

The B of M issued Canada's first native currency. It also founded the branch-banking system when it opened a second office at Quebec City, two weeks after its opening in Montreal. Branches followed at Kingston and York (now Toronto, and at other outposts and trading centres across the country.

Today, with more than 940 branches throughout the ten provinces, the B of M also has offices in the United States, Mexico, England, France, Germany and Japan, and at Canadian Army and RCAF bases in France and Germany.

In conjunction with the Bank of London and South America, the B of M in 1958 founded the Bank of London and Montreal Limited, now operating in Latin America and the Caribbean.

Effective October 1, Barclays Bank DCO, will acquire a one-third interest in BOLAM, to broaden and strengthen operations in the countries it serves.

ANOTHER GRAND VISIT

A big city has so many things to offer that is one of the reasons that I like going to one on a vacation. Many people prefer resting in the country — each to his taste. Ever since I can remember, one of my first destinations is to seek book and music shops to find things that are unavailable at home or are new and have not been imported yet.

Among the largest music publishers in the country, Mills Music, Inc. in New York City, occupies a complete floor in the Brill Building on Broadway. It has branches in nine European countries, three more in the United States and one in Toronto, Canada.

When I wended my way to this firm one morning, after looking up the address in the telephone book, I was surprised when I arrived to discover that the complete building is rented to members of the music trade. In a very central part of the metropolis, Jack Dempsey's famous restaurant is just part of the ground floor. Anyone who has been to New York knows this location near Times Square.

As the president, Jack Mills was out of town, the receptionist referred me to Louis Schwartz, the business manager of the firm, a tall, friendly man who asked my mission, when I told him I was from Montreal. Upon explaining that I teach the piano, do criticisms and write music columns in The Monitor and Montreal Gazette and always sought interesting data on vacations, he was interested and introduced me to two important members of Mills, Don Malin, the educational director, and Bernard Kalban, in charge of editorial, promotion and advertising.

These kindly men were both interesting and interested. Big people are very often easy to talk to and I felt relaxed, they seemed like folks that I had known a long time.

AUTOMATION A BOGEY

It is hard to avoid the conclusion that much of the current hullabaloo concerning the supposed terrors of advancing automation serves no useful purpose whatever. . . . Our achievements thus far surely entitle us to face a more highly automated future with confidence rather than alarm. — Quesnel (B.C.) Cariboo Observer.

Loyola graduate returns as teacher

Appointment of Rev. John E. O'Brien, SJ, to the Department of English at Loyola has been announced by Very Rev. P. G. Malone, SJ, president. Father O'Brien will conduct courses in communications and drama in the coming academic year.

A native of Montreal, Father O'Brien graduated in arts from Loyola in 1945. He entered the Jesuit Order the same year and was ordained to the priesthood in 1957. He has bachelor and licentiate degrees in Sacred Theology from Saint Mary's University and Regis College. During this time he also pursued graduate studies in educational philosophy at the University of Toronto.

This year Father O'Brien received his PhD in communications from the University of Southern California where he studied in the division of social sciences and communications as a Clune Fellow. During his studies at Southern California, he was National President of Alpha Epsilon Rho, the first Canadian to hold this office in the national honorary fraternity.

During studies in Europe, Father O'Brien examined operations of BBC and ITA in London, the Comité Français de Radio-Télévision in Paris, the Cine Club movement in Brussels and the Office Catholique international du Cinéma. His doctoral thesis on the development of a national radio system in Canada will be published shortly.

Research activities lag here C.M. Drury tells conference

Westmount Industry Minister C. M. Drury has urged Canadian Industry to greatly expand its research and development activities as rapidly as possible. In an address to the Conference on Canadian Industrial Research at Ottawa's Carleton University, sponsored by the Engineering Institute of Canada, Mr. Drury called for a major increase in research and development, in order to overcome this country's "technology lag."

"We must seek to double or even triple the level of developmental activity in Canadian industry as rapidly as possible" said Mr. Drury. "Obviously" he told the group "this cannot be accomplished overnight, but I would suggest a target annual growth rate of industrial research and development of the order of twenty to twenty-five percent sustained over a period of five years."

Mr. Drury stressed that Canada's most critical shortcomings lie in the application of science to the development of new or better products. He indicated that the Government is now exploring the possibility of extending direct financial assistance towards the promotion of civil development projects which would be in line with the practice of other advanced industrialized nations.

Mr. Drury suggested that such a program will provide challenging opportunities for our best scientists and engineers to contribute to the progress of the nation.

Behind Japan

The Minister drew a comparison between Japan and Canada pointing out that both countries had begun industrialization at about the same time and that each country has relied heavily upon imported technology in the past. He indicated that to match the performance of Japan's industry it would have been necessary for Canadian industry to exceed its current effort by 250 percent. To match Sweden we would have to increase our industrial research by four fold and to keep pace with the United States would require over six times our present expenditure.

Mr. Drury said that in order to sustain a rising standard of living for a growing population, Canada must expand the industrial sector of our economy "not only by investment, preferably Canadian" but by a radical upgrading of the inherent technological capability of our industry. "The achievement of technical superiority in our manufactured products seems the best way to ensure competitiveness and to develop new markets both at home and abroad."

He revealed that the Government's recent tax incentive scheme for research and development programs has already induced a ten percent rise in research effort within its first year of operation.

"Our shortcomings in industrial research and development activity may be a reflection of our dependence on imported technology due to the subsidiary character of our industry. In the past, Canadian industry has benefited tremendously from the skill and knowledge which have been acquired from our American and European partners and we certainly hope that this situation will continue where it is to our mutual advantage. However it must be appreciated that they also have an inherent disadvantage in relying too heavily on imported technology." In dealing with this subject Mr. Drury called for the creation of "an intellectual climate which will stimulate new ideas." "We must develop a business attitude which is responsive to technological progress and we must broaden and strengthen the creative capability of our industry." "This means more scientists in industry, better research facilities, many more engineers to apply results of scientific progress and the re-investment of a larger share of company earnings in research and development. We must also achieve a much closer link between the scientific activities of our government research establishments, our universities and our industry. Above all, we must abandon our 'follow-the-leader' or 'branch office' complex and begin to exercise our native talents and initiative, for it is not merely a matter of short-term profit or loss, but may ultimately become a question of our economic survival as a nation."

The SS Seven Seas — ocean going university

Sea going University to offer unique travel opportunity reports George Jost

A travel opportunity, which combines a liberal arts curriculum with the enrichment of world travel, is being offered to some 500 college-level students by the University of the Seven Seas. Sailing from New York on October 19, the University, aboard the m.v. SEVEN SEAS, will call at some 18 ports around the world. The Spring cruise will sail from San Diego on February 11, 1965. Information on both semester cruises is available through George Jost at 5050 de Sorel.

The itinerary for the upcoming Fall semester cruise will emphasize exciting Mediterranean and Southeast Asian ports. These are: Lisbon, Barcelona, Naples, Piræus, Beirut, Alexandria, Port Said, Suez, Bombay, Colombo, Singapore, Bangkok, Saigon, Hong Kong, Keelung, Yokohama, and Honolulu. The first cruise ends when the ship arrives at San Diego in February, 1965.

At each of the ports visited, students will be assigned interesting tours and excursions in their area of concentration involving conferences and interviews with leaders in government, business, education, religion and the arts. In addition, students will be briefed on local political, cultural, economic and technological affairs by guest lecturers from each of the countries visited.

A new feature of the U7S is the recently instituted "Adult World Cultural Seminar" which is open to any interested adults who are over 30 years of age. This new program has been designed to include adults in the unique educational opportunities of the U7S with special courses particularly tailored to adult needs and interests.

The m.v. SEVEN SEAS, for which Holland-America Line is the general agent, is especially equipped for its role as a floating campus and university. Besides actual classroom facilities, the 482-foot ship is equipped with swimming pool and other full recreational facilities, pianos and other musical instruments, darkrooms and projectors, and a hospital with full medical staff. There will be a full schedule of social activities aboard the ship including dances, sports, little theater groups and concerts.

VISITORS ALWAYS WELCOMED

TWO MINUTES

WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO 35, ILLINOIS

The Chicago newspapers carried an account the other day of a large church, burned to the ground, at a loss of about half a million dollars. Our sympathy goes out to the pastor and congregation who, at best, will have to carry on for a time under makeshift arrangements.

But the account reminded me of the story of another church on fire. The crowds had gathered to see the fire engines pour water on the burning building, when one man spotted a friend in the crowd. "Hi Bob!" he shouted. "This is the first time I've seen you at church." "Well," responded the other. "This is the first time I've seen a church on fire."

We write this as a special appeal to true, born-again Christians. Isn't it true that if believers were more "on fire" for Christ, more completely sold out to Him those who are now disinterested would be more apt to become interested and come to know Him as their Savior? We soon lose interest or become discouraged and quit. This is why the Apostle Paul, that tireless ambassador for Christ wrote:

"Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord" (1 Cor. 15:58).

This, we repeat, is his exhortation only to believers, for God will not accept our money or our good works, until we have first accepted from Him "the gift of God," which is "eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23).

Accept that gift; trust the Christ who died for your sins and He'll give you plenty to do—the most rewarding service any man can possibly render.

Vermont touts fall foliage

The breathtaking beauty of autumn in Vermont awaits visitors to the Green Mountain State during the next few weeks.

Autumn is the particular season when the state's forest-clad mountains perform their annual foliage spectacle. The state's famed maple trees wear cloaks of crimson, orange and gold, blending with the multi-hues of beeches, elms and the rich-green fir trees.

All sections of Vermont are treated with the foliage show, letting visitors and residents, too, choose between distant panoramas or nearby trees with leaf-covered branches bowing over sun-dappled country lanes.

Fall in Vermont is a time when the evening air is crisp and the mornings sparkle in fresh, early sunshine. It's also harvest season, corn stocks and the round of home-cooked community suppers and bazaars delightfully discovered in many small towns.

Color photography is at its best with unlimited subjects ranging from stone walls and covered bridges to white-steepled villages, all set against the colorful foliage backgrounds.

Vermont's foliage season usually begins in higher elevations, continuing for a spectacular four-weeks or more across lower elevations and into the valleys along wandering streams. Because of the interest, even for overnight or weekend tours, advance arrangements for lodging are suggested.

For a free Autumn in Vermont vacation kit, write, Development Dept., Desk 9, Montpelier, Vermont 05602.

Communion set for evening service

"Expendable Christians" will be the subject of the morning sermon by the Minister, the Rev. Harold J. Balsdon, at Westmount Baptist Church. Communion will be celebrated at the evening service, which is at 7:30, and the Minister will preach on the topic, "Mind Your Own Business."

The Assistant Minister-elect, the Rev. Allen E. Hallett, recently graduated from Acadia University, commences his ministry today. His ministry will be particularly in the field of Christian Education.

Church School re-opens on Sunday with classes for all ages, the Senior and Adult classes meeting at 10 a.m. and the other classes at 11 a.m.

The mid-week meeting of the church is on Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. for Prayer, Praise, and Bible Study.

The CGIT meets on Friday at 7 p.m. and the BYPU on Friday at 7:45 p.m.

A lie, turned topsy-turvy, can be prinked and tinselled out, decked in plumage new and fine, till none knows its old carcass. — Henrik Ibsen

Even a mild intake of carbon monoxide can have bad effects, if caught out in a heavy rain-storm in the car, turn off your engine if you are parking. If you must keep driving there is usually one side of the car which is not receiving heavy torrents of water so leave as much of that window open as possible, with a narrow opening in some other window to create a cross draft. Even a small intake of the fumes may make you unfit to drive, so don't fail to keep a window open, in good or bad weather.

Why is she asking for a dollar more at every door?

Because Montreal is growing - and putting greater and greater demands on Red Feather Agencies.

Because the last few Red Feather campaigns have fallen short of their objectives.

Because this is a year of crisis!

Today we're almost half a million dollars in the red. Budgets have been cut to the bone. Every dollar is put to work where it will do the most good. But a dollar doesn't go as far as it used to.

And unless Red Feather gets greater financial support this year than ever before, Montrealers in need of help will go without. That's why your Red Feather canvasser is asking you to add at least an extra dollar to your contribution this year. Can you? And will you - to help the old, the lost, the sick and the helpless Montrealers, who can't quite stand alone?

About twenty-five oil paintings are on view in the Lobby of the Cinema Ville Marie until September 13, by West End artist Lois Ditchburn.

Painting in a freer and looser style than ever before, she has managed to show in "Yamaska River" and "Dark Woods" and "Autumn", vast improvement and experience in use of colors. "Sutton Mills" is another of the landscapes that deserves attention. Scenes of the Eastern Townships, Laurentians, Montreal, and spots in the U.S.A. make up the show.

Lois Ditchburn studied art at St. Paul's Academy, and Marguerite Bourgeois College. Courses followed at the YWCA and McGill University School of Art. She studied privately with Eric Wesselow, and other Canadian artists. Her work has been exhibited in several group exhibitions.

WMA meeting 'quiet'

The executive committee of the Westmount Municipal Association met Tuesday night for the first time since June but discussed only "very routine matters" president R. L. Hunter told The Examiner. "We received the usual crack-pot letters and complaints about low-flying aircraft, etc., he said. "It was a very quick and quiet meeting."

Neither of the two controversial topics which have absorbed the association so much in recent months — annexation and the refurbishing of Westmount Park — came up for discussion, Mr. Hunter said.

Next executive meeting will be held October 13.

Betty Speirs marks 45th year in artistic career

Betty Speirs of the well known Speirs-Miller Studios in Westmount, is now celebrating the 45th year in business.

Known and respected by two generations, especially in handling children with love and patience, two of whom became well known Hollywood Stars, with their singing, dancing, and acting ability.

In an interview, questioned as to her future plans, Betty said her husband Peter also enjoyed teaching as much as herself, and both would feel lost without this interest, and they will continue with a limited number of pupils at the Westmount Y, on Sherbrooke street.

The Charm Course they enjoy teaching particularly, they affirmed, as teenagers as well as adults they found benefitted so much in later years with not just beauty, speech, and posture, but positive thinking, a necessity for this day and age, and consequently could bring more happiness to themselves and others.

A Tots and Teens fashion show is now being planned for the end of October, in Victoria Hall, Westmount, the aim to develop confidence in pupils for the future.

Betty Speirs was one of the Monitor's first customers, and we have followed her career with interest, and offer our heartiest congratulations and good wishes to the husband and wife team of Speirs-Miller.

Prepare now for colorful spring

By Millicent Hickmore

As the summer draws to a close, home gardeners will be busily pulling out the annuals, cutting down perennials, and generally preparing for next spring. If you are planning to have a bright colorful spring showing, before planting your annuals, bulbs should be planted at least two or three weeks before the first heavy frost.

Whether bulbs bloom early or late in the spring has no bearing on when they should be planted in the fall. Nature takes care of bringing the flowers into bloom on schedule, giving up to 12 full weeks of blossoms in the spring.

Fertilizing with bone meal is recommended, especially when the bulbs are to remain undisturbed in the same area for several years.

Leaves of the bulbs should be cut in the spring only when they are dry and brown. That is all there is to it. Nature does the rest of the gardening during the long winter months and you will be rewarded with a maze of color next spring.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Marilynne Sinclair, as maid of honor for her sister, Miss Elizabeth Gilday, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Wilson Rodger, and Miss Beverly Wood, as attendants, were in frocks of pale blue silk corded, having fitted bodices, with slight empire waistlines and A-line skirts. They wore matching headdresses and carried bouquets of white shasta daisies.

Mr. John Armstrong acted as best man for Mr. Gilday, and the ushers were Mr. Jack Miller, Mr. Rufus Gilday, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Roland Pootmans.

Mrs. Sinclair, mother of the bride, wore a gown of pale blue lace over silk, with a matching jacket, a pale-blue hat, and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Gilday, the bridegroom's mother, was in a gown of jade green chiffon, having a matching jacket. She wore a hat of similar material and had a corsage spray of pink Sweetheart roses, pinned to her handbag.

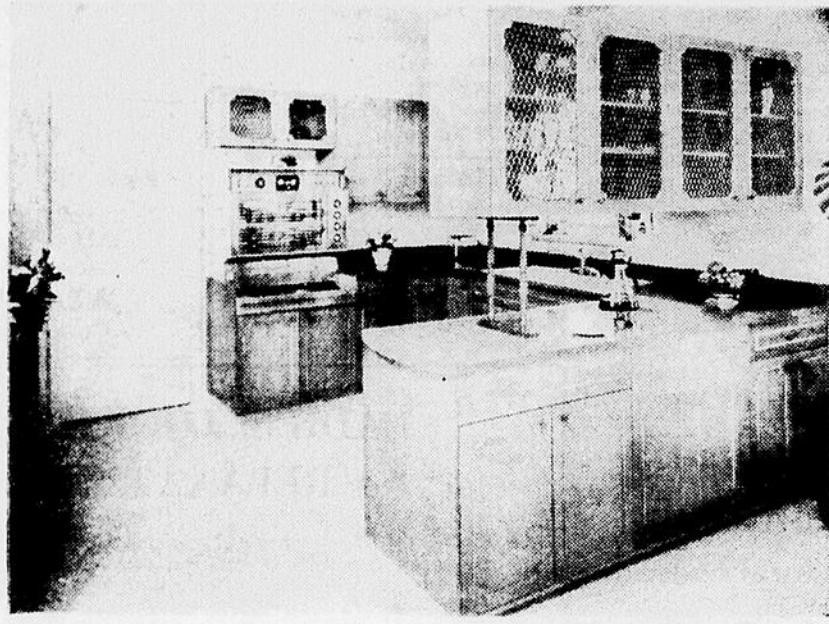

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Durbary Room of the Skyline Hotel. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gilday left for Virginia, the bride travelling in a suit of Sahara gold linen and wearing a taupe hat and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

IS COUNTRY MUSIC REALLY BETTER?

No-Not really.

It just seems that way.

The words make a little more sense than in most current songs.

Most of the country stuff isn't quite so jarring as the modern pop tunes. But it's not really that much different. A little more pleasant, that's all.

Some people love it, some just hate it.

One of the latter sent us back his "I Like CFOX" button the other day. We were delighted to get it. There is quite a demand for our CFOX buttons right now.

told me many details but also gave me a number of publications that I shall review in future columns. Also, both gentlemen know a number of Montrealers that I know and asked me to give regards. One whom I phoned, Hugh Joseph, retired Director of RCA Victor, Artists and Répertoire, told me he just read last week in the New York Times that the Mills Music, Inc. had been sold for five million dollars.

This firm, which has a tremendous stockroom on the premises, bought B. F. Wood Co. Inc. some years ago. Every musician and music teacher uses numbers from these fine editions.

The growth of Mills in the popular music and standard classic has been gradual, they celebrated the 40th Anniversary in 1959 having started in 1919. Today, their representation of famous composers, reads like a Who's Who of notables in present day music circles.

Their catalogue includes works of such classical composers as Ernst von Dohnanyi, Darius Milhaud, Ernest Toch, Giacomo Puccini, Malcolm Arnold, Frederick Delius, Edwin Franko Goldman, Percy Grainger, Alec Rowley, R. Vaughan-Williams, Carlos Chavez, Leroy Anderson, Ernest Bloch, Erich Wolfgang Korngold, Georges Auric (whom Mayor Drapeau is contacting in Paris with regard to opera on his present trip to European centres with Dr. Wilfrid Pelletier) Rudolf Ganz, Alexander Gretchaninoff, Michael Aaron (one of the contemporary educationalists, whose books and pieces I use and recommend for elementary students) Sir Edward Elgar and countless others.

Among the popular composers (the company began in this line but branched into classical as well) are Irving Fine, Roy Harris, Jimmy McHugh, Harold Arlen, Dorothy Fields, Gus Edwards, Fats Waller, Victor Young, Harold J. Rome, Bert Kalmar, Hoagy Carmichael, Duke Ellington (The Mills Co. discovered the Duke's potentialities when he was playing in an off-Broadway basement with a six-piece band and recognized his talent), and many other noted composers and arrangers. This firm with more than four decades in the music business, publishing works of popular, standard and educational music, is one of the leading independent houses in the world.

Many thanks to those who telephoned to say they enjoyed last week's column about Orpheus music store. F.G.

Next week: The return (School and Music).

SAYING OF THE WEEK: Interest makes some people blind, and others quick-sighted. —FRANCIS BEAUMONT 1584-1616.

LET'S EAT WELL

A couple of years ago our family drove to El Paso from Winnipeg. We were impressed with the way food improved the further South we went. In North Dakota it was poor; South Dakota, indifferent; but when we reached Oklahoma we began to say unum-umm-good with all the fervor of the advertising writers.

Canadian food is improving steadily. Licensed dining rooms have to be given much of the credit. They set the pace and even the little greasy-spoons must improve to survive.

To me there is something almost sacrilegious about a poor meal. To ruin perfectly good eggs or turnips, or serve them sloppily, is outrageous. Watching a careless restaurant cook dump beautiful eggs into a rancid oil is enough to prompt homicide. When a succulent Western steak is treated that way, riots ought to break out in the streets.

Canada has vegetables unmatched for flavor. A potato fresh from Canadian earth has a rich, satisfying taste you'll seldom find in the South. Our tomatoes, too, have more tomato flavor than others. Our soil is fertile and all the necessary minerals and other elements contribute to our abundance. We ought to serve meals so good that tourists come here just to eat. Instead southerners often take meat and vegetables inferior to ours, and yet serve them so tastily they make us envious.

At LCC

Staff expanded to meet increase

By PETER MATHON

"V-A-C-A-T-I-O-N, Vacation-time" is over for most students in the Montreal area and Lower Canada College scholars are no exception.

The 1964-65 school year, in which LCC pupils will not only reach for honors in the academic curriculum, but will also have a fulfilling physical training program, started on Wednesday, September 9.

After the usual hectic back-to-school activities during the first few days has been cleaned up, the many clubs; Stamp, Coin, Quintillian, Math, just to mention a few, will go into their regular operation.

The six house teams, Beverage, Claxton, Drummond, French, Russell and Woods, which are named after Old Boys who were war heroes in World Wars I and II, will start practising in the near future.

Due to the many new students coming to LCC the staff has been expanded. The new members are as follows:

T. E. Gartshore has come back from a leave of absence with the Dept. of National Defence during which he taught at an RCAF base in Northern France.

J. R. Clark, a graduate of Rugby and Oxford and Head of the Dragon School, Oxford, will be with us for one year to teach Senior English.

G. Kelly, BEd., will be taking Junior School physical education and games.

Mrs. E. Beeton, BA, BLs, will be the first full time librarian the school has had.

Mr. Champroux from the University of Montreal will teach conversational French in the Junior School.

In addition to new staff members, there will be 75 new students attending the Junior School, mostly in grades 3, 5 and 7 and there will be about 35 entering the Senior school, mostly into grade 12.

We would like to extend our warmest welcome to the new masters at LCC and of course, to all new boys coming to LCC. To both we wish a happy and profitable stay.

Local YMCA prepares revamped Fall program

PHYSICAL ACTIVITIES
Youngsters are assigned to gym and swim classes in several ways. Children are divided into gym classes by age and sometimes by size and friendships; and attend swim instruction classes by swimming ability and recreational swims by age. Exceptions to these groupings are made in consultation with the Youth Secretary and the Physical Director.

POOL
Swimming instruction classes place major emphasis on beginners swimming then progresses into a graded card instruction program which will ultimately develop a youngster for an advanced program which would include diving, speed-swimming, Life Saving, Scuba, and various Instructor and Examiner Courses.

GYM
This is a physical education program designed to develop and improve a youngsters physical fitness, co-ordination, good health habits and to learn and practice the fundamental skills of certain individual and team sports. This program is being designed to complement the physical education program of local schools and some community youth organizations.

"VALUE-EDUCATION PROGRAM"
Many boys and girls do not actively participate in organized sports activities, sometimes because they are not really interested in sports. However, almost every youngster likes to be with a "small group" of friends, doing things that are of interest to all in the groups. The 'Y' provides leadership to groups of this type. Groups may meet at the 'Y' building, in a home, or where it is convenient to the group members. The purposes or goals will vary from group to group, and from individual to individual.

But basically the 'Y' is interested in "helping youth find a place for themselves, through practising some of the skills such as, cooperation, what responsibility means, how to make wise decisions, etc., and to still have fun."

If anyone is interested in obtaining additional information about these groups and how to form one, please contact the Youth Secretary at the Westmount YMCA.

OUTING CLUB
This is a Saturday afternoon program for boys and girls under 13 years of age (YMCA members and guests) (children under 8 years must be accompanied by older brother or sister). Activities vary weekly — trips, tours, hikes, parties, movies, etc., and are planned by the leaders and the children.

CRAFT PROGRAM
Registration starts Sept. 18th. There will be two types of craft programs available to boys and girls 8 years and up.

One will consist of specific classes in ceramics, mosaics, leather-work, creative art and crafts, knitting, etc. These classes will be eight weeks long. Registration is limited and the extra "program fee" will vary with the activity.

There will also be a less-formal craft program on Saturday morning for boys and girls. This program will be planned from the interests of the youngsters who register. "Program fee" will be $2.00 for each eight (8) week period.

SPECIAL ACTIVITIES
In addition to the programs listed in the schedule, there are special activities for boys and girls 15 years of age and over. These are:

For BOYS — weightlifting, life saving, skin and scuba diving.
For GIRLS: life saving, skin and scuba diving.

Permission must be obtained from the Physical Director in order to attend these activities.

GUESTS
Members are encouraged to bring as many non-YMCA members as they wish, to participate in activities as a "guest." However, an individual may come as a guest only three times during the program year.

Guests may attend gym classes during the week and on Saturday and the recreational swims during the week or on Saturday. However, a "guest" may not come to swimming instruction classes, or any other "closed group" program.

Sunday, Sept. 13, Race No. 1 of the Fall Series will be sailed; this race is open to all classes having two or more starters, the series consisting of three races, the third and final event to be sailed Sun., Oct. 11.

At Baie d'Urfé Yacht Club, the annual two race series for the Founders' Trophy takes place Sept. 12, with the combined times for the two races deciding the winner.
