

Terrorist Activity Increases

SAIGON, Viet Nam (Reuters) A battle is being waged in the swamps and forests of South Viet Nam against guerrilla bands of Communists, bandits and religious fanatics.

Government sources say that many of the terrorist bodies are either under the control of the Communists or have been intimidated by them.

The Communists, they say, represent guerrillas who stayed behind in the south when Indo-China was divided between Communist North Viet Nam and non-Communist South Viet Nam at the end of the Indochina war in 1954.

The terrorists have stepped up their activities in the last six months, assassinating village officials and attacking small and isolated police and army posts.

The battle by government forces against the hit-and-run terrorists is being fought in six areas of the country where geography and weather conditions make it hard for the government troops to isolate and round up the terrorists.

RED STRONGHOLD

One of the regions is the Cao Mau Peninsula, the southernmost tip of the country jutting out into the South China Sea. The land criss-crossed by canals and covered by leech-infested forest has long been a Communist stronghold.

Another terrorist-infested region is the desolate reed-covered Plaine des Jones which stretches north of the Mekong River into Cambodia. It is believed to harbor some 300 Communists.

One of the most difficult areas for fighting the terrorists is Ben Tre, a series of fertile islands in the mouth of the Mekong which are also an old Communist stronghold.

Because bridges are few and the province consists entirely of islands the battle against terrorists is extremely difficult.

RELIGIOUS SECT

The other regions concerned are the Chao Doc region, close to the Cambodian border and south of the Mekong, and the Tay Ninh and Duong Minh Chao regions, a wide belt of forest north of Saigon from the Cambodian border almost to the country's east coast.

The Hoa Hao religious sect controlled much of the Chao Doc region until they were overthrown by President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1956 and their leader, Ba Cut, was guillotined. Their remnants now operate in small bands and it is difficult to estimate their total numbers.

The government now is building a road through the almost impenetrable jungle northeast of Saigon to attack the terrorists.

U.S. Senate

U-2 Role Queried

WASHINGTON (AP)—The role of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as a cover for United States espionage flights over Russia was being studied today by a Senate committee.

The Senate foreign relations committee summoned Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the body known as NASA, in the continuing inquiry into the U-2 spy plane incident a month ago.

Dryden faced questioning about two statements concerning the "weather mission" issued by NASA after the U-2 had been brought down over Soviet Russia two weeks before the collapse of the Paris summit meeting.

Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, refused to tell the committee Tuesday the nature of the information the U-2 sought on that flight.

Senator Albert Gore (Dem., Tenn.) pressed Dulles to say what was so important about the mission as to justify its so close to the summit meeting.

WITHHELD TESTIMONY

Dulles refused to release his testimony for publication even in censored form. The committee meetings are closed to the press but some of the testimony has been released.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) said Dulles had no part in the decision of President Eisenhower to accept full responsibility for the flight, a decision Fulbright said he was convinced was "unwise." Fulbright said he previously had the impression that Dulles had offered to accept this responsibility.

The chairman said the decision apparently was made by the state department and the White House, and not by the CIA.

Fulbright said Dryden was to be questioned about NASA's role and about the conflicting statements put out by NASA after the incident.

The hearings are expected to end Thursday, and presumably the committee will put out a report at some time in the future.

SEEKS SECOND SUMMIT

Anti-Combine Proviso Comes Under Attack

OTTAWA (CP)—A vision of the road to hell, paved with the good intentions of Justice Minister Fulton to act fairly in combines cases, was called up in the Commons Tuesday night.

Alexis Caron (L-Hull) used the saying he attributed to Christ that the road to hell is paved with good intentions to illustrate his view of the predicament Mr. Fulton will be placed in by one of the changes the minister proposes to make in anti-combines legislation.

Both Mr. Caron and opposition leader Pearson attacked the provision which would give the justice minister discretion either to launch a criminal prosecution against a combine or seek a court order prohibiting continuation of a combine.

Mr. Pearson said that present combines laws provide only for a criminal prosecution with a fine or imprisonment, or both, on conviction. Adding an alternative course would involve undesirable discrimination, remove the risk of criminal action and punishment, and induce formation of combines, mergers and monopolies.

DIFFICULTY POSITION

Mr. Caron said he wasn't suggesting Mr. Fulton would use his discretionary powers differently between friends and foes of the Progressive Conservative government but "just the same I'd like him to be removed as far as possible from the temptation."

He would not like to see Mr. Fulton subjected to pressure from politicians, party supporters and special interests, placing him in a difficult position in exercising his powers despite all his good intentions and honest principles.

Criticism of the discretionary powers was only one feature of the opposition attack on the bill, up for second reading—approval in principle. No government supporter raised a voice in defence of the measure, under attack for the second straight day.

Critics have centred largely on provisions regarding resale price maintenance and certain types of industry co-operation that would be placed beyond combines prosecution.

NEW KOREAN GOVERNMENT IN DIFFICULTY

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The spectre of counter-revolution haunts the new government of South Korea.

So far there is no actual evidence of an organized plot to overthrow Acting President Huh Chung, but there are strange stirrings. They probably were partly responsible for ex-president Syngman Rhee's sudden flight to Honolulu last Sunday.

In the talk of counter-revolution, elements most commonly mentioned are:

Rhee's now-discredited Liberal party; ex-premier Lee Bum Suk's fascist-like "blue shirt" movement, now resurgent and renamed the National Independence League; a new reputedly leftist group called the Young Guardians of the Republic; some wealthy Conservatives and perhaps some military figures.

KEY TO SITUATION

The key to the situation is the provisional government's investigation into the rigging of the March 15 presidential election which triggered the April students' revolt that toppled Rhee.

So far the investigation has jailed nine members of Rhee's last 11-man cabinet, a minister from a previous cabinet, two former presidents of the Korean Reconstruction Bank, one Bank of Korea governor and a vice-governor, two former national police, the 13 members of the election planning committee, two former provincial governors, a former mayor of Seoul and Rhee's personal bodyguard.

The investigation also prompted the resignation of Lt. Gen. Song Yo-chan, the army chief of staff, who took responsibility for the army's part in the fraudulent voting. Two other high military commanders also have resigned.

Nikita Fights For Political Life

BONN (NEA)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is reported to be fighting for his political life. According to West German intelligence, which accurately predicted the Summit's debacle, the Soviet Premier is challenged by a "junta" of Party Presidium members and high ranking Red Army officers.

Though the army by itself cannot effect political changes in the Soviet dictatorship, its power is irresistible when it works closely with the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

A powerful opposition group within the Presidium headed by Mikhail Suslov and a group of army officers whose spokesman is Marshal Ivan S. Konev is said to be after Khrushchev's scalp. They blame his policies for the deterioration of Communist strength in Western Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

In the background are Marshal Georgi Zhukov and former Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov. Though both were purged by Khrushchev they still have powerful friends in the Party and army.

West German experts ventured no prediction on the outcome of the fight.

One of them told Newspaper

TO SALVAGE MARCO POLO WRECK

FREDERICTON (CP)—The New Brunswick travel bureau said in a statement Tuesday the navy will conduct diving operations off Cavendish Beach, P.E.I. this summer to salvage parts of the famous Marco Polo sailing vessel grounded there in 1883.

By special waiver of a Canadian Shipping Act provision, salvaged parts of the ship may be retained by New Brunswick officials and placed on display in the New Brunswick Museum, the government information agency said.

Rear-Admiral H. F. Pullen of Halifax, Flag Officer Atlantic Coast said in correspondence with Defence Minister Peakes and the travel bureau that the undersea search will provide "excellent training" for an operational diving team.

The shipping act provides that wrecks found in Canada must be delivered to the receiver of wrecks.

UN ELECTION PROMISE

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Antonio Barrette Tuesday night promised the people of Gaspé Peninsula that his Union Nationale government will assure the economic stability of the area.

In Valleyfield, Que., Liberal leader Jean Lesage charged the Union Nationale with disregarding economic instability.

Mr. Barrette, speaking in New Richmond, 300 miles northeast of Quebec City, said his government wants to establish industries in Gaspé as it has in the rest of Quebec. For access it would supply paved roads.

He said all the main highways have been paved since the Union Nationale took over the government in 1944 and now the secondary roads will be paved.

Mr. Lesage said 20 per cent of the Valleyfield work force was out of work and the Union Nationale government was washing its hands of its responsibility.

MANY UNEMPLOYED

Quebec had the largest number of jobless of any Canadian province.

The government should set up an economic council which would seek to develop industries in Quebec and attract capital to Quebec industry, he said.

It was inconceivable that Quebec, with its vast natural resources, does not process these raw materials into finished products. Heavy industries had to be established and industry diversified.

"It's not socialism to want to see the processing of our resources within the province," said Mr. Lesage. As a short-term employment measure, he proposed a large-scale public works program.

OTTAWA SHOWS CONCERN OVER TARIFF LIST OMISSIONS

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canadian authorities are concerned over the omission of what they consider fairly essential items from a long list of products on which the United States says it is prepared to negotiate tariff reductions next fall.

The tariff bargaining, to begin at Geneva in September under the 35-country General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, is expected to be one of the biggest and perhaps most important since GATT went into effect 12 years ago.

The last major round of bargaining was in 1956. The most important development since then is the creation of Europe's six-country Common Market. The U.S. will open negotiations with these countries and then bargain with 17 others, including Canada, starting next January.

More than 2,200 individual products appear in the list of items on which the U.S. government is ready to exchange tariff cuts. The U.S. has made clear it won't grant any concessions not appearing in the list or a supplemental list that may be published later.

Canadian officials said the list does not include such important items as aluminum, copper and canned salmon. They question whether the GATT conference will be of much help to Canada if the U.S. is not prepared to bargain on these items.

TWO CATS BECOME BEERHOUNDS

BEACONSFIELD, England (AP)—Two cats were found Tuesday in a curious condition—dead drunk—near a smashed crate of bottled beer which fell from a passing truck.

However, he added that a decision on when to return the evacuees may be made today. "The men feel they have the fire pretty well under control and that it will burn itself out," a spokesman said earlier. "They hope it will die down gradually, with help from the rain and with more fire-fighting equipment that has arrived."

Light fire-fighting equipment—mostly small pumps—was still being flown into Gagnon Tuesday night to give the force of 2,000 men more muscle.

No injuries have been reported yet as a result of the fire but a construction employee was killed Tuesday when struck by lightning during a 15-minute storm.

Stresses Essential Cooperation Between West And Russia

PARIS (CP)—President de Gaulle has extended an indirect invitation to Russia to resume summit talks with the West in Paris next year.

This was the interpretation of diplomatic sources here on a televised speech by the French president Tuesday night, his first public pronouncement since the collapse of the summit conference two weeks ago.

De Gaulle stressed that co-operation between the West and Russia is as essential as ever. He believed "systematic methods of diplomacy" were better than public exchanges of "tumultuous" speeches or passionate debates in the United Nations.

Three conditions were necessary to ward off the "monstrous peril" of a nuclear war. These were better East-West relations, a categorical measure of controlled disarmament and the beginning of organized co-operation between East and West in the service of humanity, both in aiding under-developed lands and in major research to better conditions for all mankind.

NEEDS INTERIM DEFENCE

De Gaulle said that until effective disarmament measures are taken France must be able to defend herself.

"France must have her nuclear armament since others have theirs. . . . Her destiny, while being associated with her allies, must remain in her own hands."

De Gaulle said the flight of the American U-2 spy plane over Russia shortly before the summit conference "was assuredly and to say the least ill-timed."

But, he added, the incident was not a good enough reason for Russia to break off the summit talks.

The western foreign affairs chiefs were expected to conduct a private post-mortem on the summit conference collapse and scan the future for what the Communists might do over the next few months.

They are here for sessions of the SEATO council of ministers, which includes also the prime ministers of Australia, and New Zealand and the foreign ministers of the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

Both Lloyd and Herter were to address the council before the delegates got down to concrete details in their four-day session.

KHRUSHCHEV BLAMED

Speakers were said to have agreed Tuesday in blaming Premier Khrushchev for the summit blowup. They spoke about the danger of a red Chinese push now in places under SEATO's defence umbrella, such as the tiny kingdom of Laos in south-east Asia.

The delegates were reported in accord too that the Communist threat must not be fought by defence alone, but also through measures to improve the lives of the impoverished millions who make up most of Asia's population.

Among the Big Three, the feeling is said to prevail that now, in the wake of the summit fiasco, is no time to start considering a future get-together by the East-West chiefs of state.

Gagnon Mop-Up Underway

GAGNON, Que. (CP)—A giant force of fire-fighters, armed with new equipment and aided by rain, were to begin mopping-up operations today to wipe out the forest fires which have menaced this northeastern Quebec mining community since Sunday.

In Montreal, a spokesman for the Quebec Carter Mining Company said the 353 women and children airlifted from Gagnon Monday will not be returned until the fire has been completely controlled.

However, he added that a decision on when to return the evacuees may be made today. "The men feel they have the fire pretty well under control and that it will burn itself out," a spokesman said earlier. "They hope it will die down gradually, with help from the rain and with more fire-fighting equipment that has arrived."

Attempt To Oust Kishi

TOKYO (AP)—Socialist party members decided today to resign from the lower house of the Japanese parliament in a desperate last-ditch move to oust Premier Nobusuke Kishi and block ratification of the United States-Japan security treaty.

Socialist executives tonight began gathering the resignations of the party's 125 members of the lower house—nearly 30 per cent of the house membership.

Legally, the Socialists' resignations would have no effect on parliament. Kishi's Liberal-Democrats, with 280 seats in the 467-member House, have more than enough strength to maintain a quorum and keep the body in session.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want to see a movie being made? Visitors to Hollywood will be able to achieve that off-handy wish when the industry finally erects its movie museum.

Plans are under way to build the museum on a 4 1/2-acre site opposite Hollywood Bowl.

Heading the industry's effort is producer Sol Lesser, who at 70 admits to having retired three times.

"Did you know 4,500,000 people come to southern California every year?" he inquired.

"Do you know what most of them want to do? See a movie set. But nearly all of them go away disappointed."

When the museum is built we will be able to show visitors movies in actual production."

A LIVE AFFAIR

Lesser emphasized that the museum will be a live affair. Among the proposed features:

1. A movie stage with glassed-in gallery. Arrangements are being made for each feature made in Hollywood to film a few scenes on the stage. "Our only hurdle is that some stars might not want to work before spectators, but we hope to overcome that."
2. A TV stage where actual shows can be observed.
3. A library and graduate school for serious students of the film craft. "This should help fill the vital need for new talent in our business."
4. An exhibit hall of famed props and costumes, plus a wax-works. "But it wouldn't be a static thing. We might have wax figures of a famous scene, then have a movie of the scene shown beside it."
5. A collection of every significant film ever made.
6. A theatre where students could view programs of films, such as the history of comedy from Mack Sennett to today.

Montreal And Ottawa Conference

A Year Of Expansion Reflected By Reports

Increased activity and general expansion during the past year were reported in committee statements presented yesterday to delegates of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the United Church of Canada.

In its third day today the 36th annual meeting of the Conference will continue until tomorrow afternoon at Trinity Church.

Last night Dr. R. S. Hosking,

REV. DR. GEORGE DEWEY
 Conference President

Leadership Training Said Vital

Leadership training is the most pressing and most rewarding of the obvious needs in the work of Christian Education, Field Secretary Rev. George G. Connolly of the Christian Education Committee told conference members yesterday.

"The complaints of our youth being 'biblically illiterate,' the 'drop-off' between Sunday School and attendance at Church services, and similar criticisms, stem largely from poorly trained teachers failing to challenge the loyalty and commitment of youth," Rev. Connolly said.

He suggested that local church Christian Education committees should examine the situation existing in their own congregations.

"Where Scouts are being sponsored locally," he said, "see that Christian Education is included as part of the program."

He recommended that where no boys' work exists, TYRO groups might be started for junior boys and Sigma-C groups for intermediate boys.

Rev. Connolly asked members to give their endorsement and support to the Five Oaks Christian Workers Center at Paris, Ont., a training center for lay workers.

He suggested that churches include the sending of leaders to Five Oaks in their budgets.

Fourteen-day leadership courses are held in January, February, March and August, and a one-month course in July.

of Toronto chairman of the Commission on Christian Marriage and Divorce addressed the Conference.

The Lennoxville United Church Choir was present for the worship service.

For the first time in the history of the United Church of Canada, the Missionary and Maintenance Committee has budgeted expenditures in excess of the previous year's receipts, totalling $250,000 last year it was reported.

The Montreal Presbytery last year gave the highest donation to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, in relation to local expenditures, of any of the five presbyteries represented in the Montreal and Ottawa Conference. The donation was 18.44 per cent of total local expenses.

The average donations of the other four Presbyteries under the Montreal-Ottawa Conference were as follows:

Quebec-Sherbrooke 11.96 per cent, Dundas-Grenville, 14.59 per cent, Glengarry, 12.72 per cent and Ottawa, 17.09 per cent.

Of the congregations in the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery, Scotstown donations were highest, 28.79 per cent, Minton, 23.08 per cent, Richmond-Melbourne, 21.28 per cent and Danville-Ashesnes, 21.00 per cent were next on the list.

A substantial increase of 46,000 copies in the circulation of the United Church paper, "The Observer," was reported by publications committee convener, Rev. A. B. Lovelace of the Lennoxville United Church.

A notable increase of funds was reported by the Home Missions Board.

Whereas the total amount received by the Missionary and Maintenance Fund in 1940 was $1,461,609, appropriations for this year for the Home Missions Board alone will reach $1,855,000.

In this evening address Dr. Hosking outlined the Christian view of marriage, sex and parenthood, relating these views to the high rate of divorces.

"When you think of the changes within the function of the family and the fears and anxieties outside the family, the wonder is that more families do not break up," Dr. Hosking said.

A Toronto Court Judge for 14 years and General Secretary of the YMCA of Canada for 20 years, Dr. Hosking pointed out that the provinces of Quebec and Newfoundland have no divorce courts.

In 1958 there were 130,523 Canadian marriages, 6,211 of which ended in divorce, for a divorce and marriage ratio of 1 to 21.

The figure quoted for U.S.A. is one in four, the speaker said.

Dr. Hosking quoted students of marriage as predicting that a high rate of marriage will be maintained as long as we live in an affluent society but at the same time divorce rates will probably increase.

Technique Of Speaking

Plenty Of Reading, Short Words Help To Make Good Public Talk

A public speaker must first be an avid reader, Rev. Morrison Kelly, professor at Emmanuel College, Toronto, told members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night.

His subject, How to Make a Speech, pointed out the approach and the technique to follow in writing and delivery.

When your text or theme has been determined, put down all your own ideas first, he said. They will bear conviction because they are yours. But unless you read widely you will have no ideas to put down, he added. Always know beyond your subject. Then find out what others have to say — your research on the subject. Once the facts are collected, let it rest a bit.

In compiling the speech, know the end before you begin, Prof. Kelly advised. The object determines the movement and a speech, like a dream, has a series of climaxes.

Keep in mind it is a speech and not a written literary exercise, and choose your words accordingly, keeping them short, terse and minus superfluous adjectives.

Keep the introduction short and relevant and get a good sentence to conclude with, he said, and don't take too long to get to it.

Prof. Kelly pointed out a few of the pitfalls to be avoided in the matter of delivery, one of which was the jingling of coins in the pocket. Hands seem to be a real bugbear to the layman, he said.

But the professor emphasized that good public speaking comes out of the actual response of the audience and a receptive, interested group can draw the best from a speaker.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. Bill Williams and thanked by Don Watson.

Prior to the opening of the meeting tribute was paid to the late Dave Salls, third president of the Rotary Club and an active member for over 40 years, by President Lyman Tomkins, and members observed a minute's silence.

Early Start, Early Finish

Plan To Beat The Heat Of June Starts At Lennoxville High

Today, a plan to help Lennoxville High School pupils and teachers beat the heat of June, proposed by Principal J. Ed. Ward Perry began.

With temperatures ranging from 85 to 90 degrees, depending on the classroom, studying and examinations are made more difficult. Mr. Perry's plan calls for school to be dismissed during the hottest part of the day.

This will necessitate the starting of classes at 8.30 a.m., and the shortening of the noon recess to one hour. By so doing, classes can be dismissed at 2.45 p.m., thus avoiding much of the intense heat and discomfort.

Disadvantages, according to Mr. Perry, would be that bus pupils will have to leave home about 20 minutes earlier and town pupils will have a shorter time for lunch.

For the few who cannot possibly get back in time, allowances will have to be made, said Mr. Perry. He has decided to try this plan for one week beginning today. If it meets with the approval of parents the rest of the month will be scheduled in the same manner.

Again with the approval of parents, the plan might be applied during the month of September.

IODE Offers 30 Bursaries In 1961

Mrs. Arthur R. Jewitt, of Lennoxville, Que., National War Memorial Secretary, I.O.D.E. announced yesterday that 30 war memorial bursaries will be offered in 1961.

She was speaking at the I.O.D.E. Silver Jubilee meeting in Toronto, which ends today.

Mrs. Jewitt said that the $1,600 bursaries will be provided at $400 for four years provided the holder passes the examination each year.

Four overseas scholarships of $2,000 each also will be offered. Mrs. Jewitt said 392 bursaries and 221 scholarships have been awarded from the first and second war memorials since 1920.

Miss Hope Glass, a charter member of the Baden-Powell chapter formed in 1900, is among the delegates at the National meeting.

At a banquet Tuesday night, the six living past presidents of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire were head-table guests. All were from Toronto.

The hand concert and ice cream social scheduled to take place tonight on the Lawrence School grounds, has been postponed to tomorrow night at 8 p.m., due to inclement weather.

$910,000 Works Law

By-Law Referendum Voting On Today; Results Tomorrow

For the first time in three years, Sherbrooke's 7,261 property owners today will exercise their right to vote on a municipal matter — a $910,000 permanent works loan by-law.

Representing a total evaluation of $85,136,011 the 7,261 property owners have had 24 polling stations open to them since 9 a.m. Polls will close at 7 p.m.

The last time a referendum was held in the city was three years ago to decide on the construction of the Webster three-story parking lot.

Seven property owners registered their vote at a provisional poll at City Hall yesterday. The poll was opened for those who would be unable to register their vote today.

Compilation of votes will take place tonight. Results will be officially made known tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the office of the city clerk.

The referendum on the by-law was forced by 71 Sherbrooke property owners who registered their opposition to it at a public meeting held at City Hall May 12.

Only 50 signatures were needed to force the referendum.

The by-law can be defeated in two ways. Should there be less than 10 per cent (726) of property owners voting, the by-law will be defeated. If more than 10 per cent of the property owners vote the by-law can be defeated by a majority vote.

The largest number of votes is expected from the West Ward where there are 2,328 property owners compared with 2,220 in the North Ward, 2,266 in the East Ward, 178 in the Center Ward and 269 in the South Ward.

Case Of Speaker Who Wasn't There Solved By Letter

The case of the guest speaker who wasn't there has been solved.

At a Kiwanis Club meeting held May 24th, Mayor Horace Boivin was to talk on Citizenship.

He wasn't there.

Why not? In a letter of explanation, he stated that he had been in Chicago until the 19th, and had mailed a letter to the Kiwanis Club on the 20th, advising them that it would be impossible for him to be in Sherbrooke on the 24th.

Club secretary Les Memory was out of town the day of the meeting and said that it was quite possible that the letter had arrived and not been opened since he did not pick up his mail until later.

Girl Guide Business Meeting

MAGOG — Girl Guide Association commissioners, guides and local association members of the Champlain area, which includes the Southern Eastern Townships will hold a business meeting in St. Luke's Church Hall here Thursday, June 2.

The program will commence at 11 a.m. with luncheon being served by the Magog local association at 1 p.m.

State Thoroughway

Derby Line Owners Vote On Interchange

DERBY LINE, Vt. — (Special) — At a meeting of ratepayers held here last night, 54 persons voted in favor of the proposed state thoroughway interchange to be one-half mile south of Derby Line Village below Kelley's farm on Route 5, and 12 favored having the interchange on Caswell Ave.

This vote was taken by written ballot at the meeting held in the Village Hall with Moderator C. R. MacLean presiding.

The meeting was held to comply with a petition signed by ratepayers favoring Kelley's location.

Byron Herrick, Town of Derby Selectman, said that the picture is not yet entirely clear to the State Highway engineers, but the district chief is retiring today and the new engineer will be coming into office shortly. He said that Derby Line Village is certainly not in a position to pay a heavy tax.

Another question raised was whether the state can force ratepayers to give up their property. Mr. Rexford said it could, but that the State Highway Board is ready to listen and give consideration to the Derby Line people.

It was noted that the highway will be four lanes from coast to coast with approximately 200 miles in the State of Vermont and interchanges approximately every 17 miles in Vermont State.

Another point brought out was that with interchange south of Kelley's there will be no cost to Derby Line ratepayers. There are no definite plans as yet by the Vermont State Highway Board as to where the interchange will be. Results of last night's voting will be taken by village trustees to the Board and all possibilities investigated.

Shortage Of Ministers

The Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the United Church of Canada meeting here this week, the first time in 29 years, was told yesterday that although membership in the area under the jurisdiction of the Conference has risen since last year, the number of ministers has gone down.

A statistical report shows that total membership has increased almost 4,000 since last year, but that the number of ministers in the Conference has decreased by eight.

This does not necessarily mean there is a serious shortage in the Conference, but Protestant church leaders throughout Canada, and of a number of denominations, have been pointing out for some time now that generally speaking, there are not as many ministers as are required in this country.

Yet, as in the Montreal-Ottawa Conference, membership has been rising for most denominations.

Clearly, the problem does not seem to be one of lack of interest in churches, and church matters. More people than ever before are becoming more religious-conscious; a trend that is rightly described as a most beneficial one.

The ministry, of course, is not like engineering, or medicine, or architecture. There is a sacred calling involved which has, in its ideal sense, no relation to working conditions.

More than one church leader, however, has questioned the too-common assumption that ministers need not live as comfortably as other people. Tiny salaries, they say, cannot be justified on the basis of a calling.

If this is a contributing factor to the shortage of ministers — and there are good reasons to believe it is one — then it is incumbent on those who receive the benefits of a minister's calling to see to it that adequate support is made available.

Another contributing factor has also been suggested and that concerns churches' concern for young people. The Anglican Bishop of Westminster, B.C., in a forceful speech to the Anglican General Synod last year, told delegates flatly that the Anglican Church, and through it, the ministry, was not attracting the interest and loyalty of its young people. He urged more concern for the needs and tastes of the younger generation.

This is, in a sense, a call for the Churches, regardless of their denomination, to keep up with the times without in any way shedding their spiritual traditions and values. This may well be another important solution to the problem of a shortage of ministers.

These are all considerations which are surely being weighed at the Conference meeting here. But in a larger sphere, they are considerations which all churches must weigh, and which must lead to solutions if the leadership on which all faith is built is not to decay.

A Worthy Citizen Passes

The passing of David Johnson Salls closes the career of a man who for many years played an important part in the business and community life of Sherbrooke.

In addition to his business interests, as a director of the Sherbrooke Trust Company and the St. Lawrence Corporation, Mr. Salls devoted much time and effort to such organizations as The Sherbrooke Hospital, Rotary International, the Wales Home and Stanstead College, and in sporting organizations including the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club, the Sherbrooke Country Club and the Sherbrooke Curling Club.

To those groups in which he took an interest, he was an ardent supporter and would devote much of his time to their advancement.

These associations in particular and citizens in general will feel deep regret at his death.

A Voice From The Grave

Boris Pasternak gave the world a story of characters living in the Soviet Union who were not happily absorbed in the life of Communism.

And for doing this, in his novel Dr. Zhivago, he was awarded the 1958 Nobel prize for literature.

But while the award won him acclaim and popularity abroad it brought him censure at home. And the world was duly informed that Russia's noted poet and author had renounced his prize and the honor that went with it.

Not so, proclaims a voice from the grave.

When Pasternak, mortally ill of a heart condition, lung cancer and other ailments, died Monday night at 70, a Swedish newsman felt free to tell a story he had held back for two years.

The reporter, Gustav Svenson, formerly assigned to the Moscow staff of the Associated Press interviewed Pasternak at the height of the Nobel Prize controversy.

And he said Pasternak had told him that he had never renounced the prize. He asked Svenson as a Swede to explain his position to the Swedish Academy.

What's more, Svenson reported yesterday, Pasternak felt that the award had actually saved his life.

Once Dr. Zhivago had been published abroad he was in real danger. . . "The Nobel prize was a tremendous help. To me it meant the support of the world. This saved me from the worst. They could no longer treat me the way they would have wanted to. They could not get rid of me."

A BRIDGE AT MOSTU IN SOUTHWESTERN YUGOSLAVIA.

More To Yugoslavia Than Leader, Mountains And Plum Brandy

Marshal Tito Becomes An Elder Statesman

An appearance of increasing political freedom is one of the impressions a visitor gets of Yugoslavia. In this story, Alan Harvey, London bureau chief of The Canadian Press, who toured the country, tells of political conditions in the one-party Communist dictatorship.

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
BELGRADE (CP)—Yugoslavs complain that visitors view their country solely in cold-war terms. "All you know about is Marshal Tito, mountains and plum brandy," said a student. "And all you want to know is how Tito stands with Russia."

The reproach may have point. Perhaps the West too quickly assumes that the fire has gone out of Titoism. A Communist all his life, hounded in pre-war Yugoslavia by security forces and escaping occasionally on fake Canadian passports, the doughty partisan fighter may have a sentimental feeling about The Soviet Union that some of his colleagues lack. But his independence has been proved the hard way.

Tito turned 68 on May 25. Though still vigorous, he suffers from lumbago and appears to be becoming something of an elder statesman, a symbol commanding universal admiration and respect. A big man in every way, however tough, he is widely regarded as one of the towering figures of his generation.

Oddly, stories circulate about his origins. Twice I was told in all seriousness that he is really from Russia or Poland. Croats claim his dialect simply isn't right. The truth, however, is almost certainly that he was born, just as his biographers say, in the Croat peasant village of Kumrovec. Some say Tito quietly encourages the myth of his "strangeness" to enhance the mystery that surrounds him.

When Tito goes, efforts to cultivate the Soviet Union may be slightly less strenuous. The mass of the people appear to have little real enthusiasm for Communism as an ideology. Nothing, however, alters the basic fact of political life—force of seven countries bordering Yugoslavia are Communist.

Tito's successor may be either Edvard Kardelj, Slovene school-teacher and dazzlingly versatile theoretician, regarded by some as the spirit of Yugoslavia, or journeyman-tailor Aleksandar Rankovic, the man who gets things done. Being a Serb may give Rankovic a slight edge.

Communism in Yugoslavia is hard to appraise, and may be partly a matter of semantics. Certainly it is hard to recognize as a blood brother of Stalinism, as repeated Russian attacks on Yugoslav "revisionism" indicate. It is experimental, evolving and dependent on a great range of factors. Much about it can be interpreted as relatively tame, but the iron fist still lurks, perhaps, beneath the velvet glove.

Officials use the term "direct democracy," placing great stress on the decentralization of authority achieved in the last few years. The showpiece of the Yugoslav experiment is a system designed to let workers run their own enterprise. Here the crucial question is the old one of to what extent powers of recommendation partake of powers of decision.

To the outsider, the regime may seem comparatively benign. The secret police have melted out of sight. One exuberant official told me: "I haven't counted ours lately, but I think we have fewer than you have."

Flaws in the Socialist Utopia? Of course. The country is stuck with a single-party system, Tito is a dictator and there is no real freedom of speech. Political power remains a Communist monopoly. People grumble about domestic affairs but nobody openly attacks the "system," and it is doubtless difficult for bureaucratic despotism to alter overnight. But most people agree that things are changing for the better.

Despite all the talk of Socialism, hard-core Communists cling to power. In explanation, supporters say this diverse country with its varying backgrounds, traditions and stages of development needs firm direction. They don't want a plethora of parties, as in individualist France.

Opinions vary on the strength of support for the regime. A naturalized American and solid free-enterpriser, back in Yugoslavia on a visit to his birthplace, said trusted friends gave this breakdown:

Among over-50s, perhaps 30 per cent support the government; of those between 30 and 50, about 60 per cent; and 80 per cent among youth.

In talks with dozens of people, some lasting hours, I found only two outspokenly critical. They argued that Communists get job preferences and other privileges. Some agreed, but thought this natural.

Idealism appeared high among youth; students spoke with seeming sincerity of fellow feeling among classes, down to the man who sweeps the streets. There was no sign of racial prejudice.

A non-party man, whose family formerly owned a yacht and villa, said it was only in visiting all of Yugoslavia, and observing the progress in backward Macedonia and Montenegro, that he came to feel enthusiastic about the leadership.

Perhaps revolution had to come. A number seem to feel that things are better than they were before the war.

"I tell you this from the heart," said a French-speaking professor, tapping his chest. "We look around and we see the schools and the hospitals, and we don't have to ask questions. We know that things are better."

Endless discussion rages round the position of Milovan Djilas, only prominent figure still in prison. Held 21 months in solitary confinement, he is locked up with common criminals because he dared to write articles about a "new class" in Yugoslavia concerned mainly with mistresses, mink coats and money.

A widespread feeling is that Djilas had something, and that his writings, which developed into a general indictment of totalitarianism, served to check abuses. How can a political dialogue take place, it is asked, if a dissenter is promptly clapped into jail? Replying, some party members say he would be released tomorrow if he would just write a letter of apology to Tito, his old wartime buddy.

Djilas, a brave and stubborn Montenegrin, is a man of considerable personal magnetism, a febrile, off-beat intellectual who dresses raffishly, writes involved political essays in an ingeniously convoluted style and has even tried his hand at lyric poetry. It is hard not to feel sympathy for him.

Under a tough skin, the Slavs are sensitive. Just as they chafe under questions about Djilas, so they feel increasingly lonely in foreign affairs. Tucked away from the world's gaze in their Balkan cubbyhole, they view with suspicion any trend to big-power diplomacy.

Seeking solace, they turn to uncommitted nations. In recent years they have given more than $100,000,000 in loans and credits to India, Indonesia, Ceylon, Ethiopia, Sudan, the United Arab Republic.

"We are trying to find a way between East and West," they explain earnestly, disclaiming allegiance to any bloc. The theme song is Nesavisnost (Independence).

Assessing Yugoslavia, much depends on the yardstick. If you come from the East, it may look like paradise. "I feel the same way about Belgrade as you do about Paris," a visiting Bulgarian told his host.

Some even feel that Yugoslavia is a model of what the east European satellites could be, if Russia permitted—lively, enjoying rising standards, free temporarily from the suffocating excesses of all-out Communism.

People have a wary, pinch-me-I'm-dreaming conviction that a light looms at the end of a dark tunnel. Looking ahead, they see this lovely land as a possible halfway house between East and West, between militant Communism and what they regard as unbridled capitalism.

"We stand at the crossroads of history," said a Yugoslav journalist resoundingly, "between a monolithic Russia and a Western world that views anything Russian with automatic suspicion."

Western observers concede only that Yugoslavia may well be a proving ground for the claim that Communism, like capitalism, can change for the better.

FALSE-CARDING CAN BE ART

There is a lot more to false-carding than merely dropping a high card on the table and retaining a low card in your hand. If you don't think so, look at this defensive gem played at New York's Cavendish Club by one of the many great players there.

The play started out with dummy's ace of clubs winning the opening trick with East playing the nine spot. The deuce of clubs was promptly played and ruffed, with East producing the king. Dummy was entered with the nine of spades and a third club ruffed. This time East played the seven spot.

Declarer took his ace of hearts and proceeded to run off all his trumps. His first two discards from dummy were two diamonds and the third and last discard the one remaining club. West simply discarded hearts while East's last discard was the five of diamonds.

Declarer went into a five minute huddle. Where were the eight and five of clubs? You can see them in the East hand but South couldn't. Finally, he decided that East had started with four diamonds and that his discard of the 5 of diamonds had been made because he was left with nothing except those four diamonds. South led a diamond to dummy's ace and West made his queen.

Of course, South might have gone wrong against ordinary discarding, but East's play had

SEEMING IS BELIEVING
(Halifax Chronicle Herald)

The director of the Geological Survey of Canada, Dr. J. M. Harrison, has advised a member of Parliament not to rely on a divining rod to show him where he should spend $2,000 in digging a well on his Alberta farm.

"There is no scientific basis for the use of willow wands," he told the MP at a recent Commons committee. "Objective tests have failed to show any significance to their deviations."

That may be so. But many country folk who have seen the rod bend to where water has been subsequently found are going to need a lot more than this word of an expert to change their minds.

HAPPY LANGUAGE

(Windsor Star)

French has always been regarded as the language of diplomacy, although for recent Soviet diplomatic exchanges some more down-to-the-gutter language would seem more suitable.

The niceties of French are illustrated in a recent statement on horse racing, issued by an organization whose name is the "Societe D'Encouragement" and whose function is that of the more prosaic North American racing commission.

Even a novice at French can understand the meaning of the two words. Nothing is said as to who this society encourages — the better, the stable owner, possibly the racehorses themselves. But by its very name it encourages anyone who believes in the proposition that language can still be pleasant as well as utilitarian.

NEEDED AT HOME

BAGHDAD (AP)—Iraq has appealed to its students abroad to return home when they're finished with their studies. In a radio broadcast Education Minister Ismail Arif asked students "not to be duped or lured by shiny superficial appearances in countries you are living in. Your return is a national necessity and duty."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I take this privilege to say a few words on the political picture.

On the 22nd of June one and all are called to mark their ballots for the best man that can be had to represent them in the Legislative Assembly.

Whatever you have to say, say it now!
I proclaim that this Province and this Dominion are greatly lacking in unity. The ministers of Labor are not coordinated in labor policies. The ministers of Labor are not united to find sufficient jobs for the unemployed.

Many young men of this province and this Dominion are in jail because there were no funds to advertise labor demands. And yet today all radios, all televisions and all columns of newsprint are wide open to display the offers of politicians for your votes.

KHRUSHCHEV

Kremlin's policies or diplomacy, the break-up of the Summit included, is based on what is known in Red doubletalk as an amalgam, or a series of complex events frequently unrelated to each other.

There is no doubt, for instance, that Khrushchev incurred the resentment and enmity of the Red army by his decision to demobilize some 250,000 officers.

His policies of international relaxation and "peaceful co-existence" were causing dangerous rumblings in the Warsaw Pact countries that might have been a prelude to new revolts in the East European satellites.

The fact that Khrushchev praised France's Premier de Gaulle and by implication approved his Algerian policy, worked to the disadvantage of the French Communist Party.

In this connection it is interesting to note another about-face of Khrushchev. When he visited Paris on a state visit in March the Soviet Premier practically refused to acknowledge the existence of Maurice Thorez, France's Communist chief who is known as an unregenerated Stalinist.

However, after the break-up of the Summit Conference Khrushchev demonstratively invited Thorez to the Soviet embassy in Paris and was closeted with him for more than two hours.

Added significance is now also attached to an article that appeared in the journal, Problems of Peace and Socialism, several months ago.

The journal, which is printed in Prague, is the mouthpiece of the "phantom" Communist International revived under Suslov's tutelage in August, 1958.

The article was by Liu Shao-chi, "President" of Red China, and it conflicted sharply with Khrushchev's views on world communism. When Stalin was alive, Shao-chi's statement would have amounted to heresy punishable by death.

Red China's spokesman wrote among other things that the Chinese revolution owes its success to the Chinese Communist Party alone and not to Soviet Russia. He even said that it is the Chinese and not the Russian revolution that "exercises an enormous attractive force for other Communists and is an example to all the peoples in the backward countries who have experienced the yoke of communism."

Marshal Tito was read out of the Cominform in 1948 for similar suggestions that Yugoslavia's revolution was made without Soviet help.

Khrushchev's fate — whether he wins or loses — is likely to be decided by the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party when it meets in Moscow in July. In Pravda of May 22, an article by the novelist V. Kotchetov, who is the outstanding Stalinist spokesman among the Soviet literati, speaks of the "wreckage of the whole foreign policy" of President Eisenhower. But the article hints strongly that this represents also the "wreckage" of Khrushchev's foreign policy. 5-26-60

Election Day Alcohol Out Says Judge

Hotel owners have no right to serve alcoholic beverages to customers on municipal election days after the polls close at 6 p.m.

This was the verdict of Court of Sessions Judge Joseph Marier who imposed a $150 fine and court costs on each of the two owners of a Scotstown hotel.

In his verdict, Judge Marier said that article 296 of the Criminal Code states that the sale of alcoholic beverages any time during election day is forbidden, "and election day is a 24-hour period from 12 midnight to 12 midnight."

The charge arose out of a decision last February 17 by Yvon Dumolin and Philippe Boulanger, co-owners of the Scotstown hotel to open their hotel to customers after the polls closed.

Old Vienna's Upkeep Becomes A Headache

VIENNA (Reuters)—The preservation of "old Vienna" is creating a headache for municipal and state authorities responsible for the upkeep of cultural monuments.

Since the end of the occupation five years ago, Austria has enjoyed greatly increased prosperity and much of the gaiety of old Vienna has returned. But this very prosperity now has become a serious threat to the exterior aspect of the former imperial capital, essentially a baroque city, in spirit as well as architecturally.

Most of the gaps left by houses destroyed by bombing in 1945 already have been closed. Although one or two skyscrapers have been built, Viennese in general are not in favor of the erection of these steel and glass towers in the inner city.

BEDFORD — A large and appreciative audience was present at the demonstration of children's work, put on by the Staverton School of Dancing, in the High School gymnasium, to mark the close of the year's work. This performance marked the completion of the third year of ballet classes. Angelus.

Bruce Kirwin presented the prizes. The scholarship went to Louise Couture, and the prize for the student making the greatest improvement during the year was won by Jill McCaw. Mayor Levesque's prize will be competed for next year. Mr. Kirwin on behalf of students and parents expressed appreciation to Miss Chamberlain for the excellent showing of the pupils, and stressed the great opportunity afforded the students through Miss Chamberlain and Miss Grey, Miss Grey and Mrs. Alex MacArthur for their work during the year. Miss Grey expressed her thanks and appreciation to the following members of the High School staff for their assistance with the arrangements for the evening, Miss Joan Northrup, R. Johnson, and Edward Forcha, and to Mrs. Malcolm McCaw, Mrs. Bruce Kirwin and Mrs. Kenneth Best.

Burke Emery Trains Hard For Fight At Sherbrooke Arena Next Week Gale Kerwin Also On Program

Burke Emery, training hard for his fight here Thursday, June 9th with tough Hank Mercer, has been showing tremendous punching power and knocking over sparring partners with left hooks and hard rights.

Emery displayed his new-found power with a sensational seventh round knockout over Gordy Baldwin here earlier this month when he won the Canadian light-heavyweight championship.

Hank Mercer, who faces Emery in a rematch of their scorching bout of a year and a half ago has won seven straight fights, five by knockouts. Mercer believes he can upset Emery and gain revenge for the close decision that he dropped to the Sherbrooke fighter. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

In the ten-round co-main event, Canadian welterweight champion, Gale Kervin of Ottawa faces Pete Juan Martinez of Mexico.

Kervin's last bout was a televised scrap with Jay Fuller that ended in a draw. His opponent for his Sherbrooke debut, Martinez, is a speedy, shifty fighter who would like nothing better than to score a win over Kervin as this would shoot him into the top brackets of the welterweight division.

M.V.I.B. League Opened Current Season Saturday

Action got underway last weekend in the Massawippi Valley Intermediate Baseball League when Magog swamped Beebe 11-2 in a tilt played in Magog Saturday afternoon. The Sunday game between Ayer's Cliff and Magog was called after four innings of play due to rain.

The Ayer's Cliff-Magog tilt, in which Ayer's Cliff was leading 13-11, is to be completed at the next meeting of the two clubs.

Tonight, Ayer's Cliff travels to Waterloo for a tilt while Saturday afternoon, Ayer's Cliff plays at Beebe. Two games are slated for Sunday, June 5, with Bolton travelling to Magog while Beebe hosts Waterloo.

Hitting—Jerry Kindall, Chicago Cubs, drove in three runs with a pair of doubles in 9-1 victory over San Francisco Giants.

LANDS A BEAUT — Jean-Paul Boudrias of the East Branch Pond Fish and Game Club is seen holding a dore he landed over the weekend at the club. It measures 24 inches and has a girth of 11½ in. and tipped the scales at four pounds, six ounces. (Photo by Studio Boudrias)

Canadian Amateur Ski Association To Hold Annual Meeting In Magog, Several Important Items On Agenda

MAGOG — The Canadian Amateur ski association will meet in Magog June 4 and 5 to hold their annual convention. Over sixty delegates, representing Provinces, are expected and will be received by the Mount Orford Ski Club, the City of Magog and the Provincial Government.

The Canadian Amateur Ski Association (C.A.S.A.) is a National Association dealing with all ski matters in Canada. The Association is divided into three divisions, Western Division, Central Division and the Eastern Division.

The Eastern Division, which is more commonly known as the Quebec Division, is the largest. Jacques Audette, newly elected president of the Eastern Division, will be present at the convention to receive the delegates and will be assisted by Pierre Alain, secretary-treasurer of Division. Grant Boyd, Raymond Houle and Dave Midgley will also be on hand to represent Quebec.

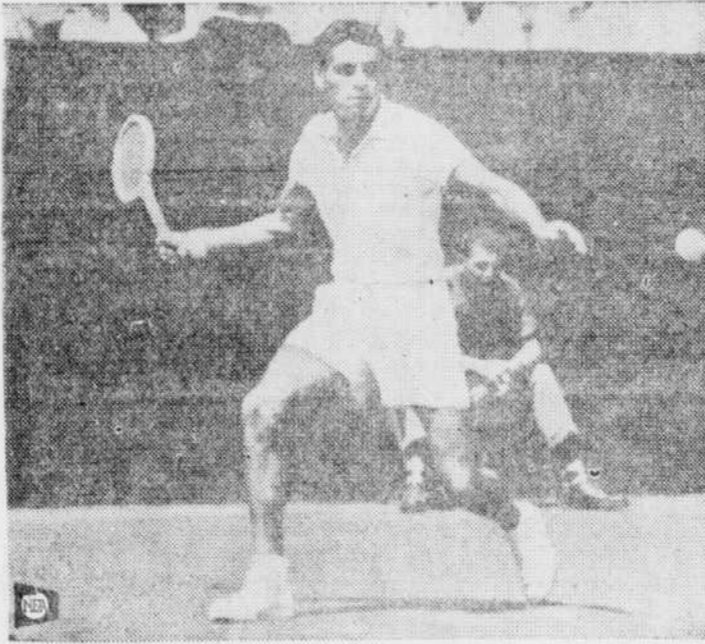

It is expected that many items will be on the agenda and ready for discussion, items such as the selection of the place for the site of the next Canadian Senior and Junior Ski Championships. International meets which the Association will participate in, construction and organization of a Junior Training Camp, request of a federal loan to be given as a fund for Canadian representatives to the Olympics and also the report of the Canadian Ski Patrol System.

The Quebec Division has problems of its own to discuss such as permission to compete in International events. It was moved that the Division ask the Canadian Amateur Ski Association to inform the Federal International Skiing (F.I.S.) that there is a ruling in Canada which prohibits any Canadian skier from entering in any International Competition without permission from the Canadian Amateur Ski Association authorities.

Among the directors and officials at the Convention will be, W. Guzzell, Port Arthur, Ont., president of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, Joe Faucher, first Vice-President of the Quebec Division, Raymond Fortier, president of the Eastern Townships Zone, Ellis Hazen, Finance Committee, P. Dennis, Fort William, Miss Patricia Rourage-Brantford, Ont., Ted Powell, Sudbury, Ont., and many others.

Pancho Gonzales' POWER TENNIS

Pancho Gonzales' backcourt game

Most women and many veteran men use a backcourt game almost entirely.

I don't recommend this, but good baseline play is certainly half of tennis. There's nothing prettier than a smoothly executed ground stroke.

Don't overpower the ball at the start. Simply hit it in the center of the racket and strive to keep it in bounds on every shot. Practice this on a handball court by aiming at one spot time after time.

Play the ball a bent arm and racket's length from the body, keeping an eye on the ball at all times. Swing easy and follow through, which should bring the racket over your left shoulder. If possible, get planted before hitting.

After the shot, return to your base position and stay on the balls of your feet. Be ready.

In returning service from the baseline, don't use a half stroke. Swing through the ball.

Going back for a lob, lengthen the grip on the racket. The extra inches will help you in reach and power.

It's important, for good ground stroking, to get adjusted to different surfaces on which tennis is played. For instance, on wood, the long, deeply stroked backhand is out. You've got to shorten up.

The highest bounce is on clay, followed by cement, then grass.

Bell Telephone Wins 8-4 Over Sainthill-Levine

Bell Telephone downed Sainthill-Levine 8-4 last night in a Commercial Softball League game played at Dufresne Park. The Sainthill-Levine squad suffered a major setback in the second inning when their star pitcher Therriault twisted an ankle, and will be out of action the remainder of the season.

The tilt was a close one throughout with the Bell Telephone club leading by only one point until the seventh inning. However, at that time, due to some excellent hitting, the Bell Telephoners pulled ahead to win 8-4.

Starring for the Bell Telephone squad in the hitting department was centerfielder Ronald McCone while shortstop Harvey excelled in the field preventing numerous Sainthill-Levine scoring plays.

For Sainthill-Levine Brown was the outstanding slugger as he belted a home run and several good singles while on the defensive Marcel Marceau started.

Winning hurler in the game was Boland while the loser was Rene Pepin. The Bell club had 11 hits with the Sainthill-Levine squad walloping nine.

Rathmann Wins $110,000 From Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Rathmann received a record $110,000 Tuesday night for his victory Monday in the 44th 500-mile auto race.

The previous record had been $106,850, won last year by Roger Ward, who fought a hub-to-hub duel with Rathmann until slowed in the last 10 miles by a failing tire.

The total purse, also a record, was $367,850, compared with last year's previous high of $338,100.

In addition to the big cheque of which car owners Kenny Rich and Paul Lacey of Dallas will receive 50 to 60 per cent, Rathmann received the expensive pace car and a long list of special prizes.

Ward's decision to break off his blistering duel with Rathmann in Monday's race cost him about $25,000.

CO-WINNERS

Ward received $48,025.

Rathmann and Ward wore out their tires in a see-saw battle through the last half of the race. Rathmann's right rear was almost as bad.

"For my money," said toastmaster and former race driver Freddy Agabashian, "they were co-winners."

Today the crews began moving cars and equipment to Milwaukee for a 100-mile race Sunday.

Fern Vincent Hurls Three-Hitter, Retires 15 And Belts Homer To Help His Cause, One Game Tonight

Bobby Morin's Indians, sponsored by the Rotary Club in the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Little League, made sure they are not going to be left at the post this season as they chalked up a convincing 4-1 win over the Red Sox at the Parade Grounds last night.

Last year the Indians went eight games without a victory. This evening the Senators are at home to the Yankees and they will be looking for their first win while the Yanks have one victory under their belts and hope to add another.

Young Fern Vincent hurling for the Indians kept the Red Sox batters to a single in the first four innings while his mates gave him a two-run lead to work on. Indians got their runs in the second and third innings. Vincent hitting a home run in the third with St. Cyr and Poiver helping with singles.

McLeod clicked for a single in the fourth for the Sox but no damage was done as Vincent retired the next three men by the strike out route. Top of the fifth the Sox got their single tally on an error charged to shortstop St. Cyr. A pair of singles, by McLeod and Bigbe, sent in the run. Indians with two more runs in their half of the fifth ran out winners on the long end of a 4-1 count.

Vincent came up with 15 strikeouts in his win and these coupled with his home run was the outstanding feature of the game. Also showing up well for the Indians were their entire infield. Red Sox played well but need batting practice. Young McLeod stood out at shortstop. Dorey, Vincent and Poiver.

Long-Hitting Joanne Gunderson Rips Par Apart With 7 And 5 Win To Move Into British Quarter-Finals

HARLECH, Wales (CP) — Joanne Gunderson of the United States, shaping up as the long-hitting successor to the late, legendary Babe Zaharias, ripped the Royal St. David's course to shreds today in winning her quarter-final match against the Vicomtesse de St. Saver, 7 and 5, in the British women's amateur golf championships.

The blonde better from Kirkland, Wash., headed the field of eight women golfers in today's quarter-finals. Besides the French vicomtesse, who won the title 10 years ago, three other American girls, two Britons and an Irish lass survived the early rounds.

The semi-finals will be played this afternoon.

The betting is that Miss Gunderson and Barbara McIntire, the reigning U.S. women's champion, will fight out the final 36 holes Thursday.

Once in Arizona she hit a 315-yard drive which is still talked about. Frank Moran, veteran golf correspondent of Scotland's national newspaper The Scotsman, says of her:

"I'm sure this girl from Washington is just as long as the Babe. Surely she's the longest-hitting girl golfer in the world today."

TOUGH OPPONENT
But first Miss Gunderson had to meet the 38-year-old Vicomtesse de St. Saver in the quarter-finals. The French player

Orioles' Baby Birds Are Playing Havoc With American League

Kiddie Pitching Corps Rolling Along In High Gear, Edge Yanks For Fifth Win In Last Six; Indians Are Stopped

You can call them the Baby Birds or the Kiddie Corps, but what those Baltimore Oriole pitchers are doing to the rest of the American League these days is plain murder.

Steve Barber, Chuck Estrada, Jack Fisher, Milt Pappas and Jerry Walker are barely old enough to vote, but have accounted for 16 of the league-leading Orioles' 25 victories.

Walker, the last to become a winner, nailed his first decision with a 3-2 victory over New York Yankees Tuesday night. The 21-year-old righthander had a no-hitter for six innings, then gave way for ninth-inning relief by Barber, also 21.

TWO-GAME LEAD
It was the fifth victory in six games for the Orioles and gave them a two-game edge over the second-place Cleveland Indians. Chicago White Sox shook their slump and beat the Indians 6-4.

Kansas City Athletics edged Detroit Tigers 2-1 behind the three-hit pitching of Dick Hall. Boston Red Sox defeated Washington Senators 5-1.

The Orioles beat left-hander Whitey Ford (2-3) for the first time in four decisions. The clinching run came off reliever Ryne Duren, however, in the eighth inning on three walks and a sacrifice fly by Clint Courtney.

The Yankees finished with four hits, all off Walker. He struck out seven men, fanning six of the first nine batters, and faced only 19 through six frames.

MANTLE DOUBLES
The Yankees broke through on Mickey Mantle's leadoff double and a single by Roger Maris in the seventh. Walker left after giving up his fourth walk, to Mantle, leading off the ninth. An error sent Mantle to third and he scored as Yogi Berra hit into a doubleplay for the third time in the game.

The White Sox broke their losing string at four games and reclaimed third place from New York, 3½ games behind Baltimore. A two-run homer by Gene Freese tied things 2-2 in the fourth off loser Gary Bell (5-3) and Al Smith's solo homer triggered a winning, three-run sixth. Billy Pierce (4-2) was the winner, with 2 1-3 innings of shut-out relief by Russ Kemmerer. Jim Piersall homered for the Indians.

WIN ON THREE HITS
Kansas City swept the three-game series with Detroit for a five-game streak although managing only three hits. Southpaw Pete Burnside (2-1) was the losing pitcher, giving up two hits in his seven innings. Andy Carey homered for the Athletics' first run, in the sixth, and they got the winner in the seventh on a walk, a sacrifice and a pair of infield outs.

Hall had a two-hit shutout until Sandy Amoros hit a pinch home run in the eighth. It was Hall's first three-hitter in the majors.

Boston manager Billy Jurges received a vote of confidence from club owner Tom Yawkey a few minutes before game time and the Red Sox clipped in with their fourth victory in 18 games, winning two in a row for the first time in that span. Tom Brewer (4-4) won it with a four-hitter and a squeeze bunt that beat Bill Fischer (0-2) in the second inning.

Chicago Cubs Knock Giants Out Of First Place, Beat Antonelli While Pirates Edge Redlegs In 13-Innings

Chicago Cubs are making a dreary spot of San Francisco Giants' home, sweet home. The Giants won 14 of their first 19 games at spanking new Candlestick Park. But this week the Cubs moved in and have taken two of three games. The Cubs knocked out three of the Giants' top pitchers and left the San Francisco team 1½ games behind the National League leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

After jarring the Giants out of a share of the lead with a split in a Monday doubleheader, the Cubs won 9-1 Tuesday night over southpaw Johnny Antonelli. The Pirates, meanwhile, defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in 11 innings at Pittsburgh.

Last-place Philadelphia cut loose for six runs in the eighth inning and whipped Milwaukee 12-7. Los Angeles rapped St. Louis 8-3.

KINDALL KINDLES CUBS
The Cubs, responsible for three of the Giants' seven defeats at spacious Candlestick, got this one on a pair of doubles by rookie second baseman Jerry Kindall, good for three runs, and homers by Ernie Banks and Bob Will. Banks socked his 10th in the first inning off Antonelli, now 3-2. Banks also had a triple and

No. 27 - Middle Irons

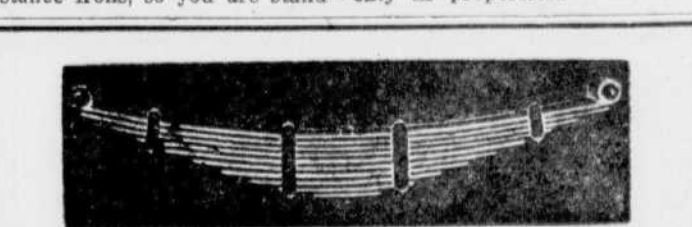

By JIMMY DEMARET

The accompanying illustration shows you the stance for middle-iron shots.

The ball is addressed so that an extension of the center guide line would pass at a point almost equidistant between the heels, as indicated by the arrow. The left foot is taken slightly back from a point on the intended line of flight, so that the entire stance is a bit more open than it is for fairway wood shots or drives.

This is the stance, then, for shots involving the five, six and seven irons. Two, three and four-iron shots should be played at a point midway between the illustrated position for middle irons and the suggested position for fairway woods.

As pointed out in my Golf-to-Music Lessons album, the size of the swing for middle irons is less than that put in use in the hitting of woods or distance irons, so the feet can be closer together. Middle irons are short-shafted clubs than woods or distance irons, so you are standing closer to the ball.

First and foremost, you are taking aim, putting yourself in position to make certain that if your swing is sound, the ball will go where you want it to go.

NEXT: The essentials of a fundamentally-sound stance vary only in proportion.

Tom Yawkey Of Boston Is Fed Up With Treatment His Team Getting From Sport Writers, May Move Club

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey is so fed up with the treatment his team is getting from local sports writers he has dropped a hint he may move the team from Boston.

But multi-millionaire Yawkey, in one of his rare press conferences, said he will go along with Billy Jurges as manager of the seventh place team. And he later qualified his remarks about moving the club.

Yawkey dropped several hints he may move the team if the writers don't quit riding the club. He chided the reporters gently at first, then not so gently.

"How many of you guys think you're qualified to manage a ball club?" he demanded. "There were no volunteers. VEILED THREAT" He expressed a belief in the freedom of the press, then added: "Sometimes it goes beyond the bounds of human dignity and reason. I don't put up with it. I don't have to. Just remember I've got the last word. I always have the last word. I've got an

Vees Edge Leafs 3-2 To Move Into Fourth Position

If anyone could slow down the first-place Toronto Maple Leafs the onrushing Richmond Vees could—and did.

The Vees, winners of five straight, beat the Leafs 3-2 Tuesday night in the only International League game played. Rain erased Columbus at Montreal, Miami at Buffalo and Havana at Rochester. The victory moved the Vees into fourth spot with a 21-21 record.

John Jaciuk's single drove in Ray Bellino with the winner in the eighth inning to hand Ron Negray his first loss in six decisions.

Field Reduced To Seven At Yonkers International

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The field in the $80,000 International Pace Thursday at Yonkers Raceway was reduced to seven Tuesday by the scratching of Fettle, the Australian stallion, because of a slightly strained check ligament.

Fettle was rated 15-1 in the morning line. He was the lesser of the Anzac entry. He was eclipsed by caduceus the New Zealand wonder horse who many trainers and drivers expect to win over Bye Bye Byrd and Widower Creed. Bye Bye Byrd (the favorite) will move from the No. 8 post position to No. 7 as a result of Fettle's scratch.

Ronald Hayes of Beza, New South Wales, trainer - driver of Fettle and son of the horses owner said he expects his handsome stallion to start in the second and third races of the series June 9 and June 23.

Andy Heberton Signs For Sixth NHL Season

VICTORIA (CP) — Andy Heberton Monday announced he has signed for his sixth National Hockey League season with New York Rangers.

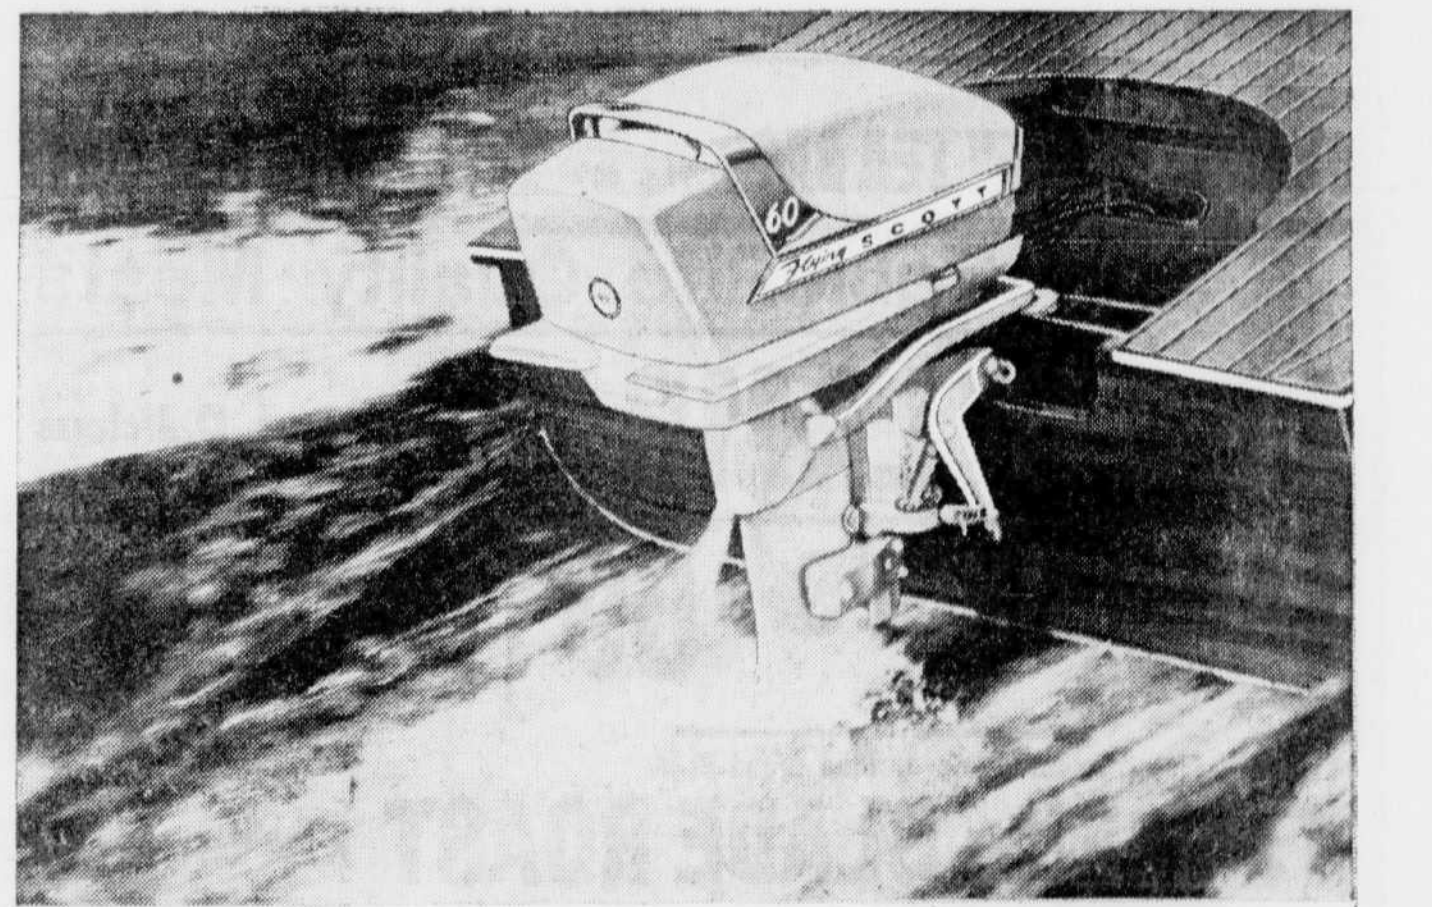

The stocky forward, who scored 19 goals last season after firing 33 during the 1958-59 campaign, said he is "very pleased" with the terms of the new contract.

Heberton, winner of the NHL's Lady Byng memorial trophy three years ago, is visiting relatives here.

He was signed by New York General Manager Muzz Patrick, here to visit his father, Lester Patrick, 76, seriously ill in hospital for the last 10 days.

BMP Hospital Started In Hotel Building

Women's Auxiliary Marks 43 Years Of Service

By RUBY G. MOORE
(Record Correspondent)

On May 22 1912 the first baby was born in the District of Bedford General Hospital at Sweetsburg. This baby was Malcolm B. Cady of Cowansville, and his mother Mrs. Clement Cady became a member of the Hospital's Auxiliary when it was formed in 1917.

The early life of the present Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital was an interesting one. On August 8, 1910 the "American House" hotel was purchased by a Board of Trustees for use as a hospital, and was opened the following year.

In 1931 it became known as the Brome-Missisquoi Perkins Hospital. Since the will of the late Edward C. Perkins of Montreal made provision for the construction, administration and endowment of a hospital for the County of Brome.

In 1936 the official capacity of the hospital was 15 beds, one cot, six bassinets.

Rates were as follows: private room $4.00 per day; semi-private $3.50, ward $2.50.

Officers of the hospital that year were president R. D. Wells, J.P., Vice-Pres. Ernest Fleury, N.P., Sec. Treas. Hon. R. F. Stockwell. A Board of Governors representing the two counties composes the governing body.

NEW BUILDING

In 1954 a completely new hospital building was opened with a capacity of over 80 beds, and a nursery accommodating 20 infants.

In 1917 the ladies of Sweetsburg and Cowansville decided that their Hospital needed help to improve its facilities, and thus the Women's Auxiliary was formed to co-operate with the Governors. It has been in active operation ever since.

In those early days the Auxiliary was the very backbone of the hospital. When new equipment was needed, or additions, or coal, the Auxiliary pitched in and got what was needed.

Mrs. W. F. Vilas was the first president, and Mrs. Fred Hayes the Secretary. There were others too, women such as Mrs. Ed. Goyette who was president for nine years, Mrs. F. X. A. Giroux, Mrs. J. J. Barker.

The story of how they helped is an interesting one.

Their huge Garden Party held each year up until the early '40's supplied part of the answer. The large lawn in front of the Court House with its beautiful shady trees provided the ideal setting. Mr. J. McCabe, warden of the local jail brought the prisoners over each year and they erected the booths and tents that were used at the party.

A platform was built, and an orchestra played dance music. One year the members bought a Ford car at wholesale price, sold tickets on it, and made the handsome sum of $1,492.

TAG WEEK

In 1949 the W. A. conducted its Tag-Week at Bedford and Brome Falls, in 1950 this plan was discontinued and $392 was raised by canvassing on streets and in homes as is now done. A sewing-machine was purchased for the use of the Auxiliary members who then did the sewing and mending for the Hospital.

Here are just a few of the articles purchased by the W. A. in the early days:

X-ray machine $2,481; obstetrical table $165; gas machine, $220; fracture bed $200; coal $2,113; paint, paper, building supplies and labor, $972; linoleum $400; mattresses $800; ether and suction machine $280; dry sterilizer and incubator, $103; building of ironing room $799; laundry outfit $725; refrigerators $860; blankets $200; plumbing $171; hospital beds $245; window screens and doors $99; crushed rock for drive $41; dishes, furniture, rugs $300; electrocardiograph $735.

In 1951 the W. A. under the presidency of Mrs. J. Beaudry started a fund called the "New Hospital Equipment Fund" and $650 was put into this fund that year, there were 27 members of the Auxiliary at that time.

In 1953 the W. A. presented an engraved gold watch to Mrs. E. Wright who had been a faithful member of the W. A. for 17 years while Supt. of the Hospital, and had given so much of her time to the W. A.

In October 1954 when the new Hospital was opened, the Auxiliary furnished a 4-bed public ward at the cost of $1,350, and since that time they have bought over $20,000 worth of other equipment needed at the hospital, have re-decorated the nurse's living-room in the staff-house, bought television sets for the staff houses, and done many other things to make their hospital one of the best equipped in our district.

A gift shop and cart for the patients rooms accounts for about 40 per cent of the funds raised by the auxiliary. Second largest fund-raising event is the Tag-Week. Last year $2,665 was raised in this way.

The Memorial Fund was established by the W. A. a few years ago, and the custom is growing in the district to send a donation to this Fund on occasion of a bereavement, rather than flowers. Money from this fund is used to purchase equipment.

Mrs. Clement Cady and Mrs. J. J. Barker, charter and Life Members of the Women's Auxiliary.

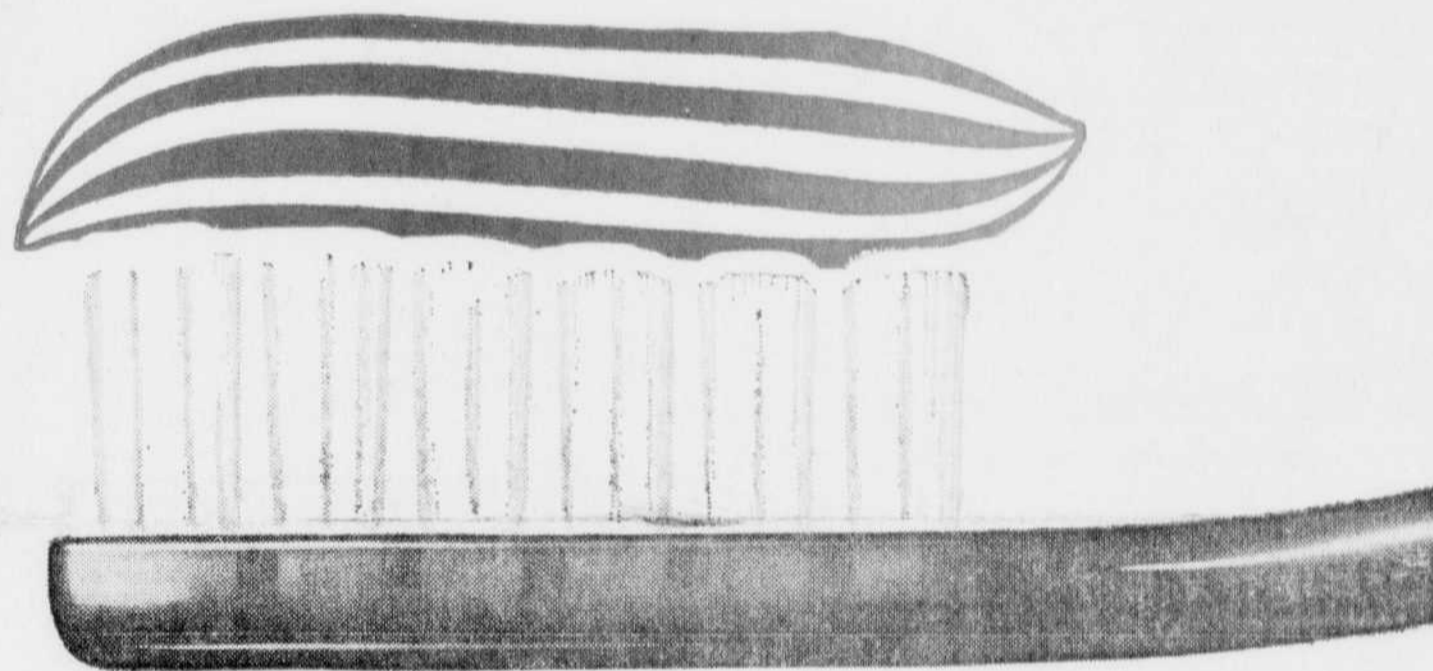

MRS. J. O. Senay left with the Supt. Miss. Decker, R. N. presenting equipment to L. S. Lee, representing the Board of Governors. Mrs. Senay is a Past President of the W. A.

The American House, owned by G. T. Batchelder in Sweetsburg, became the first hospital. This view was taken in 1881.

New STRIPE

gives you the benefits of toothpaste plus mouthwash

This is the remarkable story of new Stripe toothpaste, that gives you the benefits of toothpaste plus mouthwash.

Ever since scientists discovered that germs cause tooth decay and bad breath, they have been trying to develop a protective toothpaste. They know that ordinary toothpaste is not an effective germ-killer. It does wash some of the germs away. But those left behind soon multiply into millions.

The answer: hexachlorophene

The answer was discovered in an effective germ-killer called hexachlorophene. During World War II, surgeons found hexachlorophene far more effective than traditional methods of cleansing their hands before operations, yet so gentle it could be used with complete safety. They also learned that hexachlorophene clings to the skin, keeping germs away between washings.

Now in a toothpaste

Now Lever Brothers' scientists have developed a way to put hexachlorophene to work in a toothpaste—an effective new red-and-white toothpaste called Stripe. Rigorous testing shows that Stripe with hexachlorophene—

- kills tooth decay germs better than any plain white toothpaste.
- kills bad breath germs too, giving you mouthwash protection.

In this way, Stripe gives you the benefits of toothpaste plus mouthwash.

Clings to mouth surfaces

Moreover, Stripe's hexachlorophene clings to the surfaces inside your mouth for hours.

It keeps fighting germs between brushings... for hour after hour... as clearly proved in clinical tests.

And Stripe's hexachlorophene penetrates between the teeth... where tooth decay and bad breath often start... and where your brush can't reach.

Stripe is 100% sugar-free, and completely safe for children of all ages. In fact, children are so fascinated by the way Stripe comes out of the tube in red and white stripes that they brush longer and more often than ever before.

Remember, the exclusive red stripes identify Lever Brothers' hexachlorophene toothpaste. Get Stripe for your family today.

When you see these red stripes— you know you are getting germ-killing HEXACHLOROPHENE

The performance and quality of Stripe toothpaste are unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Limited.

Hair Stylist Says

Women Should Adapt Hair Styles To Meet Their Needs, Appearance

TORONTO, (CP) — North American women could learn a thing or two about hair styling from their sisters in Paris and London, says Monsieur Norbert.

Director of hair styling for an international chain of beauty salons, (Elizabeth Arden) M. Norbert says that as a result of the jet age, the latest trends in hair are available almost anywhere soon after fashions are created.

But too many women in North America made the mistake of demanding the newest styles intact instead of following the Paris

By EDNA BLAKELY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

and London example of adapting them to meet their particular needs and appearance.

North American men prefer their women with long hair, he says. This wasn't the case in Paris where he had fought for years against the "male" feeling.

BLACK SHEEP

M. Norbert, who lists the Duchess of Windsor among his clients, was in Toronto as a coiffure consultant.

His full name is Norbert Caillaud but he dropped his surname when he became a hair stylist. He says he's the black sheep of a family in which all other male members became army officers.

Expounding his theories on hair, he says that when he chooses a style he considers his customer's size and general figure, how old she looks ("though I don't ask for her passport"), her social position and facial bone structure.

"There are no ugly women on earth. Only women who do not know themselves. There is always a way of making a lady look younger and smarter."

For example, women who were no longer youthful in appearance should wear short hair.

INFERIORITY COMPLEX

Women with oval faces were lucky. They could wear any style. Hair and makeup should always tend to give the face an oval appearance.

M. Norbert says he deplores the habit of American hairdressers in asking women how they want their hair done. The women had given the hair dressers an inferiority complex.

"They try to impose their own will because they think they know better than anyone else. That's like going to the doctor and telling him what kind of pills to give you."

Mr. Norbert had a few other tips: Don't ask your friends for advice on hair style; see a specialist. Don't copy the styles of film stars; they may not suit you. When you get up in the morning, brush your hair back

CAC Eases Consumer Problems

Canadian Association of Consumers, which claims as one of its objectives the provision of a two way voice between supplier and consumer, recently took a look at some of the problems currently facing business today.

With an eye on the important Quebec textile industry, the Provincial English Branch of CAC recorded its pleasure at the action of Montreal and Toronto clothing manufacturers in seeking markets in Britain immediately following removal of dollar import restrictions. "Since many of the problems of textile and clothing manufacturers are due to the relatively small Canadian market, we sincerely hope their example will be followed by other manufacturers and that they and the textile industry in general will profit by this action," said the motion.

Dealing with the problems of the farmer, Mrs. J. Ossington, agricultural chairman, pointed out the problem of surplus produced in the Canadian high cost area. Mrs. Ossington expressed the belief that producer, distributor and consumer must share the problem of meeting the demand for quality, grading and packaging, at prices satisfactory to all, and that the Quebec Agricultural Marketing Board (where CAC is the accredited consumer voice) would contribute to reasonable solutions.

Irene Kon, advertising consultant, as guest speaker to the meeting, stated that advertising was not only a potent force in molding society but also a reflection of society itself. The rapidly expanding market for consumer goods had drawn into advertising, as into all fields of business, people with insufficient training. Six to seven million dollars a year spent in Canada on advertising as opposed to four hundred and ten million for education pointed to the need for a better-informed populace.

Deplored advertising which assumes customer stupidity or exploits gullibility or vulgarity, Miss Kon pointed out the service done by good advertising in informing the public and creating mass markets. Consumers are not stupid, no business man should assume they are, nor can they long be misled by undesirable sales promotion. Public protection lies in better education, said Miss Kon.

Beauty Tips

A clean powder puff is one of your most important beauty accessories. When you wash your puff, just squeeze the suds through it gently, rinse by swishing through clear warm water. Grasp the edges and shake the dripping water out, and lay on towel in the sun to dry.

and close to the scalp, then pull or comb it into place; this gives a more natural effect. Above all, think of yourself as an individual when you choose a hair style.

Life of Divorcee Just Not As Glamorous as Painted

An Italian professor who has returned to his own country after a visit to ours has a few hints for us on how we could cut our divorce rate.

In cases where the wife files for a divorce, the professor suggests that the wife should be compelled to give up her husband's name and return to the status of "Miss."

He also recommends that a wife's alimony not exceed the salary she earned before marriage. And if she never held a job before marriage, he thinks she ought to be returned to her father who should share in her support.

"An American divorcee keeps most of the pleasures of marital status without having its responsibilities," says the tough-minded professor.

His recommendations sound a little drastic, don't they? And wouldn't we women fight to keep our "rights" if anyone took his ideas seriously?

Actually the American divorcee isn't as well off as a visitor, getting his ideas from the divorcees he meets at cocktail parties, on shipboard, or otherwise leading the life of Mrs. Riley (ex, that is) might suppose.

Though the divorcee can keep her husband's name, nobody thinks of her as a wife. She loses that status the day the divorce is final and even her good friends begin to think of her as an extra woman who is a social problem.

If she is good-looking and has a way with men, women who still have their husbands and intend to keep them, close light the social circle in which she once moved.

The "Mrs." before her name is just a signal to other women to keep an eye on her.

As for a divorcee's alimony, unless her husband is well-to-do, she is lucky if she gets as much as she earned before marriage. The divorcee living on fat alimony payments exists — but she isn't typical.

And poor old papa, likely as not, is helping to support his divorced daughter and her children — not because he is required to, but be-

I.O.D.E. Delegates Told To Encourage Love Of Country

TORONTO (CP) — Delegates at the 60th annual IODE meeting here were told today to encourage patriotism among young Canadians to insure good citizenship.

Mrs. R. Douglas Jennings, national immigration and citizenship convener, said the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire would be mistaken if it believed the only goal of citizenship work is to help the integration of immigrants into the national community.

"Flag-waving is in fact a healthy sign; one must profess one's faith in one's country, as such as one's faith in God," she told delegates.

She described a good Canadian as one who loves Canada fervently.

She told delegates that immigration had dropped 15 per cent in 1959 from the previous year. IMMIGRANTS NEEDED

"It is equally perturbing that among the immigrants that came last year, only 21,158 were from the British Isles and France," she said. "Canada is just not getting the number of people she needs."

Mrs. A. W. Linington of Toronto, Services at Home and Abroad secretary, said the $116,895 spent for overseas work represented approximately 25 per cent of the total IODE service work.

Monday night, delegates agreed to build a second community hall in the Arctic. The first, at Frobisher Bay on Baffin Island, will be opened in August. The new hall, recommended by Mrs. R. C. Latimer of Toronto in her report as chairman of the Canadian Eskimo fund, is to be built at Tuktoyaktuk in the Northwest Territories, 110 miles east of the Yukon border.

Mrs. Latimer told delegates the people at Tuktoyaktuk have little money and a place for recreation is of the utmost importance.

Mrs. Latimer said the federal government will pay 45 per cent of the cost of $16,349. A balance of $7,122, oversubscribed from the Frobisher fund, will be applied and leaves a balance of $1,870 to be raised.

Educational Secretary Mrs. D. W. McGibbon of Toronto said the education program has grown from $200 the first year to nearly $300,000 in 1959.

Life Membership Given At Meeting Of Brome-Shefford W. A. Deanery

WATERLOO — The 31st annual meeting of the Brome-Shefford Women's Auxiliary Deanery held in Foster on May 25, was exceptionally well-attended by members from St. Luke's W.A. A highlight of the day was the presentation of a Life Membership by her fellow members and friends to Mrs. A. F. Robinson, of Waterloo, a faithful worker in this society for many years.

Approximately 125 attended the Communion Service in the Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church. Rev. T. J. W. Leggett, incumbent, officiated, assisted by Rev. G. L. Norris, of Waterloo and Rev. J. H. M. Brett, of Sutton, Mrs. A. V. Beale, being the organist.

Following the service, a cold luncheon was served to the ladies by the Foster W.A. and the West Shefford W.A. with the Foster ladies in charge. The tables were attractively centered with large bowls of wild violets and pine.

The afternoon session was opened by Mr. Leggett, and the welcome given by Mrs. Robert Price, Mrs. S. F. Jones, of Montreal, vice-president of the W.A., extended greetings. Minutes were read and reports from executive officers heard. Mrs. R. Foster of Montreal gave a concise, forceful speech on the church's mission. She emphasized the objective of the W.A. was to unite the women and girls of the church.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was Rev. John Hall, of Valleyfield, who had recently been a missionary for two years in Rupert House, on James Bay. Mr. Hall was an outstanding speaker, who contributed to making the meeting a most interesting and enjoyable one. The speaker held his audience with his stories of the family's experiences from the day they landed in the north, with their two little boys and two dogs, among the Cree Indians.

Some instances were most amusing and some were most surprising, as for example, Mr. Hall's first day at attempting to open a school, when 88 children showed up for a school-room fitted to hold 28. The government assists tremendously in this work, a stipulation being that English is taught, not Indian. The religious services could be in Cree.

The Indians are essentially religious, when they have been taught, and work among them is rewarding. The main difficulty for a missionary to combat is the loneliness. This is where the home missionary societies can help, stressed Mr. Hall.

The meeting closed with the Foster ladies serving tea. Specimens of embroidery work from Pakistan and Eskimo handicraft were displayed and orders taken.

The Doctor Says
—BEWARE OF 'STRONG, etc.'
By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN M. D.
One of the most frequent of home accidents is the burn.
The toddler who reaches up and topples the boiling contents of a soup pot over outstretched arm and body . . . the singed eyebrows and hair and the scalded face from a fat fire . . . hand burns from flames, short circuits, steam and chemicals . . . body burns from clothing ignited by pocket matches or a log or grass fire . . . scalp burns from hair dryers and countless other penalties for carelessness and thoughtlessness.
Almost as many different ways of treating burns exist as there are ways of getting burned.
Smear them with lard or butter. Powder them with bicarbonate of soda. Paint them with gentian violet. Protect them under a film produced by a solution or ointment of tannic or picric acid.
Eliminate the element of pain by liberal use of a local anesthetic. Prevent infection by addition of an antiseptic, disinfectant or antibiotic.
Bandage them snugly to avert the dangers of contamination, drying or further injury.
Or combine any two or three so as not to offend advocates of any special method.
One by one, most of the "strongarm" methods of treatment have had to be abandoned. Many of the drugs produced reactions that were almost as discomforting as the original burn.
Infections flourished under films, scabs and snug bandages. Local applications of germ killers murdered few bugs and often sensitized the host which then reacted unfavorably to later use of the product when the need was greater.

And the scars, resulting from applications of tannic acid preparations and splints, sometimes produced serious permanent disabilities, especially of the hands.
Here are some suggestions for guidance in the domestic management of burns:
If the burn involves several fingers, the hand or hands, scalp, face, chest, back, abdomen, genital area, more than one extremity or more than half of a single extremity, arrange for immediate transportation to your doctor's office or hospital.
If the burned area is pearly white, or charred and dry, and is insensitive to pinprick (third degree), hurry to your doctor or his hospital even if the area involved is less extensive than indicated in the previous paragraph.
Except for application of a light protective dressing of a towel soaked in cool water, do not treat or handle the burned area before or during the trip to the doctor's office or hospital.
Until professional care can be obtained, urge the victim to drink large quantities of salted water (one level teaspoonful to a pint) and sweetened beverages (tea, drink, orange juice, honey).
If the burn is not extensive and does not involve any of the vital areas indicated previously, bathe it in cool water or treat it with soaks of cool water.
Do not apply any drug or chemical of any kind. Between baths or soaks, expose it to warm or cool air.
Do not apply bandages or dressings, except for protection during sleep.
To prevent sticking, avoid the burned area with any non-medicated grease (lard, butter, oil, cold cream, mineral oil, vaseline).
Unless pain is excessive, urge active movement of the burned part to prevent the formation of constricting scars.
And finally, do not continue home treatment if there are signs of remote difficulty. Absorption of toxins from the burned area may produce shock, stomach ulcers and disturbances of the glands of internal secretion.

scrapbooks. They gave short talks to explain each of the achievements.

The boys demonstrated rolls, vaulting a fence, chinning, throwing a rope, and how to tie their tie.

Den 2 had a very good display of the Village of Derby Line. This was done on a 5 by 4 foot sand table showing the public phone, fire station, post office, gas stations, and other important buildings, including each cub's home.

The following boys received their wolf badges: Richard Curtis, Dean Aldrich, Frank Rumery, Stephen Cross, Robert Oviatt, Arthur Jacobs.

Receiving Bob Cat pins were Conrad Fortin, Daniel Blais and Michael Blais.

The meeting closed with the Living Circle. All boys are looking forward to going to Eden on June 20. The parents had a short meeting and Den 2 served refreshments of cookies and drinks.

On May 12, the Cub Scouts of Dens 1, 2, and 3 of Derby Line held their meeting at the Village hall. There were about twenty parents and friends present.
The meeting was opened by Den 1. Artie Jacobs was in charge of the Flag service, at which time the Pledge of Allegiance was said and explained as follows: Allegiance - being true to the country, Republic - the way our people rule themselves. Nation - our country. Indivisible - our country cannot be broken into more than one country. Liberty - for all, letting everybody in America be free. Justice for all - being fair to everybody.
Den 2 sang a song of welcome. As Den 1 had completed their wolf achievements each boy had his exhibits on display. These included maps of Derby Line, games collections and

DERBY LINE
On May 12, the Cub Scouts of Dens 1, 2, and 3 of Derby Line held their meeting at the Village hall. There were about twenty parents and friends present.
The meeting was opened by Den 1. Nation - our country. Indivisible - our country cannot be broken into more than one country. Liberty - for all, letting everybody in America be free. Justice for all - being fair to everybody.

Newly Renovated Durham IGA Store Now Open In North Ward

16th Year Of Service

Last week, Henri Proulx announced the Grand Opening of his newly renovated store on Durham street. This conveniently located grocery store, in the centre of the heavily populated North Ward, was established in 1945 and has served the population of that area continuously for the past 15 years. In the interests of providing better service to his customers, Mr. Proulx recently enlarged his store and in addition has acquired the franchise to operate as an IGA Supermarket.

The greatly enlarged space of the new Durham IGA store provides ample room for leisurely, enjoyable shopping and the greatly extended shelves permit a much greater selection of groceries from which to choose. In addition to this greater variety of items, shoppers can also benefit from the many weekly specials which will be found on display.
