HITLER PLANS DRIVE ON YUGOSLAVIA

Agitation On Danzig Veils Sudden Drive

British Press Believes that Yugoslavia Will Be Next Centre of European Crisis with Reports of Italo-German Massing of Troops on Border—British Foreign Minister and Polish Ambassador Talk.

London, Aug. 10.—(P)—Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax conferred on Danzig today with Count Edward Raczynski, Polish Ambassador, who has just returned from a conference at Warsaw with Foreign Minister Joseph Beck.

Lord Halifax was expected to leave for his Yorkshire residence later in the day to resume his vacation after spending two days in London discussing international problems.

The Foreign Secretary received a first-hand report on the negotiations with Soviet Russia from William Strang, Foreign Office expert, who arrived here from Moscow on Tuesday. Lord Halifax also received Herbert von Dirksen, the German Ambassador, at Whitehall last night.

No official explanation was forthcoming on this meeting. One report current in political circles said the conference was connected with charges of German propaganda in Great Britain by the organization which calls itself "The Link." Another report said the meeting was linked with the situation in Danzig and that Lord Halifax protested against German press claims that Britain is supporting a movement for return of the Free City to the Reich.

The New York Herald Tribune expressed fear today that Chancellor Hitler might be using Danzig to camouflage plans for a sudden drive on Yugoslavia.

"Reports from the Yugoslav frontier arouse fears that this country will be the centre of the next European crisis," the newspaper said. "It may be that Danzig is being used by Germany as a blind to cover a 'lightning attack' in another direction."

Although Yugoslav official quarters have no information it is reliably reported that the Italians in Albania and the Germans in the region of the Slovene borders are moving and massing troops and materials in a highly suggestive manner.

"Leading political and military circles in Belgrade fear that the axis powers will soon bring pressure to bear on Yugoslavia to assure that her 'neutrality' in case of war will be of a highly beneficial type which will give Germany great economic and strategic advantage."

YUGOSLAVIA READY FOR FASCIST DRIVE

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 10.—(P)—German and Italian demands for use of Yugoslav territory in wartime were reported authoritatively today by a source who was issued to speed up fortifications on the German frontier.

Unveiling Monument As Memorial To Work Of Pioneer Hospital Brothers

Louisburg, N.S., Aug. 10.—(P)—Within the crumbling walls of what once was one of France's proudest colonial fortresses a monument is to be unveiled today.

The monument is on the site of the Hospital de Roy, which in the eighteenth century stood within the "great fortress" here. It has been erected to the memory of the "Brother Hospitaliers of St. John of God" who were in charge of the hospital.

A branch of this ancient religious order still exists in Montreal and another in Quebec. Three representatives of the latter branch, Brothers Aubert, Richard and Andrew, are in Louisburg to attend today's ceremony.

Fourteen members of the Order died in Louisburg between 1716 and 1768. In the latter year, when the English under Wolfe were storming Louisburg, the brothers set fire to the hospital.

Earlier, when Louisburg was earning a reputation as the Dunkirk of America, the hospital was operated with efficiency unusual in those times. It was a large two-story building designed to accommodate both military and civil patients.

There were four main wards, with a capacity of 104 beds, besides a

URGES IMMEDIATE BAN ON SHIPMENTS TO JAPANESE ARMIES

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—Senator Lewis Schwellenbach, (Democrat, Washington), a member of the United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee, urged the State Department today to take immediate steps to halt the flow of American war materials to Japan.

In a letter to State Secretary Cordell Hull, Schwellenbach said this could be accomplished either by invoking an old war-time statute empowering the President to ban the export of any war materials in violation of law or by obtaining voluntary agreements of shippers to halt such exports.

Ottawa, August 10.—Mayors of the Province of Quebec, headed by Premier Maurice Duplessis, went into conference with the Government today in an attempt to settle long-standing and increasing difficulties relating to the administration of relief in that province.

This was Mr. Duplessis' second visit to Ottawa since he became Premier of Quebec in 1938.

With him were half a dozen members of the Provincial Ministry and about a score of Legislative Assembly members also attended.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King presided over the conference. With him were the members of the Government and a number of officials of the Department of Labor whose duties are concerned with unemployment relief.

FRANCO GIVES SUNER POST ON SPANISH BOARD

Brother-in-Law of Spanish Prime Minister Named President of Political Board of Falangists, Only Political Party.

Burgos, Aug. 10.—(P)—General Franco has placed his brother-in-law, Ramon Serrano Suner, in the presidency of the political board of the Falangists, and has assured him of a place in the Spanish Cabinet.

The assignment was made under decree yesterday reorganizing the Government and the Falange, Spain's only legal political party. Serrano will have a direct voice in the Cabinet as the Falangist representative.

Whether he will retain his present post as Minister of Interior and Propaganda or get another in the Cabinet reorganization was not disclosed.

In another reorganization step, it was announced that Franco would be aided by at least three generals in a new Cabinet. These military men would lead the new Army, Air and Navy ministries, formerly combined in one.

Safe And Sane Flying To Govern Awarding Of Coveted Trophies

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—(P)—A workmanlike job of safe and sane flying rather than the spine-tingling skill at aerobatics will win that coveted crown of Canada's amateur pilots, the John Webster Trophy. Dates for the 1939 competition were announced today by the Canadian Flying Clubs Association together with the usual conditions under which the handsome trophy will be awarded.

Light plane motors will thrum more busily than usual over a score of airports for the next month as pilots of twenty odd flying clubs across the Dominion practise for the exacting Webster tests beginning September 9.

Central Canada elimination trials will be held at the airport of the St. Catharines Flying Club, St. Catharines, Ont., September 9. Western trials will be held the same date at the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Aero Club field at Edmonton. Maritime Provinces trials will be held at the Moncton Flying Club field at Moncton, N.B., on September 4.

Participation in the Dominion finals at Toronto Flying Club September 16 will be open only to those who have previously qualified in the regional trials. Competition is open to any British subject who has not been engaged as a professional pilot for five years prior to the competition.

ARMY AND NAVY JOIN INDUSTRY FOR DEFENCES

Six Leading Industrialists and Economists in United States Named to New Advisory War Resources Board.

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—Industry teamed with the United States army and navy today in a revision of plans to mobilize the country's resources quickly in the event of war.

Six industrial leaders, economists and businessmen headed by Edward Steettinius, chairman of United States Steel, agreed to serve on a new War Resources Board.

Given only advisory functions in peacetime, the group in an emergency would be clothed automatically with broad powers as an executive agency of the Government known as the War Resources Administration.

The new board, announced jointly by Louis Johnson and Charles Edison as acting War and Navy secretaries, respectively, will:

1—Advise the existing Army and Navy Munitions Board on "policies pertaining to the mobilization of the economic resources of the country in the event of a war emergency."

2—Review and advise the plans already being prepared by the Munitions agency.

Under these plans, some 10,000 industrial plants already have been assigned tentatively such tasks as making of war shells and gas masks in event of war.

WOULD INVESTIGATE CAUSES OF CRISIS

Cutknife, Sask., Aug. 10.—(P)—The Canadian Legion should appoint a commission of seven members to visit Europe to investigate causes of the present international crisis, the present international crisis, suggested yesterday in addressing a Legion meeting here.

Unknown Disturbance Upsets Entire Routine Of Montreal Police Force

Montreal, Aug. 10.—(P)—What the Police Department would like to know today is what happened on Duiluth street last night.

So would three thousand neighborhood residents, a reporter and a photographer who, with thirty constables, four police patrol cars and the "Black Maria," gathered in a five-block stretch over some sort of an argument, but nobody knows what the argument was.

It all started when the high-pitched voices of youngsters were raised in argument about 10 p.m. and things were complicated with the street in darkness because of electric wires short-circuited during an early-morning storm. Anyway, someone called the police.

The police radio announcer ordered a squad car to investigate the argument. Ten minutes later it had

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Webster, Shediac, N.B., donated the trophy in 1932, a year after John Webster, their son, was killed when his plane crashed at the Montreal Light Aerodrome Club. Transport Minister Howe has appointed a committee of trustees comprising J. A. Wilson, Controller of Civil Aviation, Flight-Lieut. D. A. R. Bradshaw of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and J. J. Green of the Ottawa Flying Club.

G. E. McGregor of Ottawa won last year's competition, but has since moved to Toronto, where he is attached to Squadron No. 110 of the Auxiliary Active Air Force.

The tests for the trophy are stiff. Competitors fly with a judge in the passenger's cockpit, and they have to take each judge for a similar ride. Possible is 250 marks, 100 for general flying, including take-offs, landings, turns, smoothness and approaches. There are fifty marks for making forced landings at the bid of the judge, with special attention to selection of a field to land in and the skill of approach. The remaining 100 marks are scored for air pilotage or navigation. Pilots are given maps with a pin-point to indicate their objective. They must plot their course, fly it, and, on their return to the airport, turn in a log of the course flown with necessary corrections for drift and deviation.

HIGHWAY WILL GUARD RIGHTS OF ALBERTANS

Chairman of Highway Commission Declares Alberta Will Be Remembered in British Columbia-Alaska Highway.

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—(P)—There is "not the slightest reason to suppose that the interests of the people of Alberta would be neglected in the selection of a route for an international highway to Alaska, Hon. Charles Stewart, Chairman of the British Columbia-Yukon-Alaska Highway Commission, said in a statement issued today.

The statement was intended to clarify the scope of the Canadian Commission's investigation, in view of public statements and newspaper comment regarding Alberta's interest in the proposed highway and the practicability of an alternative route through that Province.

Mr. Stewart emphasized that the Commission is authorized explicitly to inquire into the practicability of a highway to connect the United States with Alaska through British Columbia and the Yukon. It is to report on all the facts as to alternative routes, together with their relationship to existing communities, mineral and other resources and the probability of tourist traffic.

The Commission is also to estimate the probable cost of the route. "It is not, however, the duty of the Commission to decide which route is to be adopted, or, indeed, if any route is to be adopted. And it is not the responsibility of the Commission to say in what way the highway, if built, is to be financed."

"Where is the situation? At the present time provincial highways run north through British Columbia from the American border to Prince George and Hazelton, on the Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways. These highways would form what might be called the groundwork of the proposed trunk road to Alaska. They would have to be improved, and extended north through the province to the Yukon and Alaska, following one of several possible routes roughly speaking."

DANZIG LEADER CONVINCED OF EASY CONQUEST

Paris Paper Reports Albert Forster Is Certain Britain and France Will Yield to German Pressure.

Paris, August 10.—(P)—Havas—L'Excelsior (Independent) today published an interview with Albert Forster in which the Nazi Party leader for Danzig indicated belief that Great Britain and France will yield to German pressure and permit the Free City's early return to the Reich without war.

The newspaper's Danzig correspondent talked with Forster after he returned to the Free City yesterday from a conference at Berchtesgaden with Chancellor Hitler.

Forster said that "our reunion with the Reich must take place, and with the shortest possible delay."

The correspondent asked when Forster expected this to materialize.

"Soon," Forster replied. "Very soon. Very soon. Poland has to make out that it can't live without Danzig. What a lie."

"A single fact exists—Danzig, a German property, must return to the Mother Country."

Fascist Powers Study German Demands For Disputed Danzig

Italian and German Foreign Ministers to Meet Shortly to Discuss "Question of Common Policy of the Allied (Axis) Countries"—German Arms Industry Made Sounding Board for New Preparedness Call.

Berlin, Aug. 10.—(P)—Italian and German Foreign Ministers, Count Ciano and Joachim von Ribbentrop, will meet soon at Salzburg, Germany, it was announced today, "to consider the question of common policy of the allied (axis) countries."

It had been reported that representatives of the axis powers would meet for personal consultation of a plan of Chancellor Hitler for settlement of the Danzig-Poland question. Von Ribbentrop has a summer home at Salzburg.

(In Rome, Italian circles said Germany's claim to the Free City of Danzig would be primary subject of discussion.)

The announcement came as the German arms industry was made the sounding board for a new preparedness call.

General Walther von Brauchitsch, Army Chief of Staff and a member of Hitler's secret Cabinet council, chose one of Germany's giant armament factories, the Rheinmetall works at Dusseldorf, for an appeal intended to help steel the nation for any eventuality.

Great significance was attached to the symbolic staging of the address and the intention to emphasize the close co-operation of all military and civil strength in the interests of national defence.

Dusseldorf lies near the heart of Germany's war industry, the Krupp works. In all the arms plants work was ordered halted for a half-hour so employees could listen to a broadcast of von Brauchitsch's speech.

Sources close to the Foreign Office said the "demonstration is directed not only to armament workers but also to the German people in order to strengthen their determination to increase German defence preparations to the utmost."

Although Premier Mussolini was known to be in constant touch with Hitler on international developments, competent sources said Il Duce might come to Germany for a personal consultation or, more likely, he might send his son-in-law, Foreign Minister Count Ciano.

The purpose of such a visit, these sources said, would be to discuss a plan Hitler was said to be developing for solution of the Danzig and other issues outstanding between Germany and Poland.

SHOWDOWN SOUGHT BY THEATRE UNION

Atlantic City, Aug. 10.—(P)—With all the fanfare of a world movie premiere, flying squadrons of Hollywood and Broadway stars came here today for a showdown in the most bitter jurisdictional dispute in the history of American theatrical unions.

Led by Ralph Morgan, President of the Screen Actors Guild, they threatened a strike that might darken every theatre in the country unless the American Federation of Labor's Executive Council rejects an attempt by the Stagehands' Union to take in a block of dissident entertainers headed by Sophie Tucker.

TREASURE HUNT ENCOURAGED BY SINGLE INGOT

Finding of Silver Bar Valued at $7.50 Causes Renewed Activity by Members of Italian Expedition.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 10.—(P)—A two-year-old Italian expedition which has cost $100,000 returned to sea today confident it was near recovery of the "treasure" aboard the sunken steamship Merida.

Divers blasted rusted doors from the Merida's baggage room yesterday—but found it bare. The excited crew of the salvage ship Falco had hoped to find $250,000 in silver bullion stored in the compartments.

The expedition found encouragement, however, in the discovery of a single silver ingot, valued at $7.50, on the ocean floor beside the wreckage and divers planned to dig deep into the sand at this spot today.

Bridgewater, N.S., Aug. 10.—(P)—Funeral services for Mrs. E. H. Armstrong, wife of former Premier Armstrong of Nova Scotia, will be held today. She died Tuesday. Interment will be at Yarmouth, N.S.

SHOWDOWN SOUGHT BY THEATRE UNION

Atlantic City, Aug. 10.—(P)—With all the fanfare of a world movie premiere, flying squadrons of Hollywood and Broadway stars came here today for a showdown in the most bitter jurisdictional dispute in the history of American theatrical unions.

Led by Ralph Morgan, President of the Screen Actors Guild, they threatened a strike that might darken every theatre in the country unless the American Federation of Labor's Executive Council rejects an attempt by the Stagehands' Union to take in a block of dissident entertainers headed by Sophie Tucker.

Shanghai, Aug. 10.—(P)—The Japanese army spokesman said today that efforts of the Peiping Provisional Government to take over British-operated anthracite mines in Honan Province could not be described as seizure of the mines because they were owned by Chinese interests.

(In London Brig-General Charles Woodroffe, chairman of the Pekin Syndicate, said the mines were the Syndicate's property. He has asked the British Foreign Office to protest to Tokyo.)

The army spokesman said that some years ago Chinese directors of the mines bought equipment in England, giving a mortgage. He declared that when Chinese owners fled after the outbreak of Sino-Japanese hostilities Britons took over the mines without judicial procedure. The Provisional Government therefore considered British exploitation of the mines illegal, he said.

Meanwhile widespread raids by the Chinese air force, which is gradually being rebuilt, were reported by Chinese sources.

Twelve planes were said to have bombed a Japanese airfield outside Nanking July 27. Another squadron was said to have bombed Japanese bases on Hainan Island, off the South China coast, a few days ago.

Chinese also reported victory over Japanese forces in Northern Hupeh Province, driving the invaders back toward Hankow.

The Chinese dollar, depressed during the last two months, reached a record low today, dropping by a half-cent to the equivalent of seven United States cents. Today's decline was attributed to speculation and efforts of Chinese to obtain foreign exchange. Bankers predicted a further depreciation.

CHINESE EMBARRASS BRITISH SPOKESMEN

Tokyo, Aug. 10.—(P)—Close to two hundred Chinese demonstrated today before the British Embassy, already harassed by increasing Japanese demands for resumption of conferences on Anglo-Japanese differences in China.

The Chinese demonstrations, more orderly than demonstrations by Japanese which preceded it during the past month, ended when a delegation delivered a petition to the embassy. Content of the document, written in Chinese, was not known at once.

France and the United States, meanwhile, were reported to have declared to Japan their interest in economic problems arising out of the war in China, adding a new complication to the already stalemated Anglo-Japanese conference.

It was believed by observers that the question of including other powers in consideration of issues between Great Britain and Japan had been discussed.

European Tension At High Pitch As Danzig Leader Prepares Statement

Danzig, Aug. 10.—(P)—Danzig was keyed to a high pitch today as Nazis awaited District Leader Albert Forster's word from Chancellor Hitler at a mass meeting planned as a "great protest demonstration" against Polish claims to Danzig.

Forster was to speak about 8 p.m. Speculation on what message Forster would deliver ran along three lines, but no one besides Hitler and Forster could say what was right.

The most conservative and generally accepted view was that the district leader, with Hitler's backing, would confine himself to rejecting in most positive terms any claims of Poland to Danzig and the demand for part of the Polish press for annexing East Prussia.

An editorial in the Polish newspaper Czas which Nazis interpreted as a threat to shell Danzig if the Free City continued to seek reunion with Germany was especially singled out in the advance publicity on Forster's speech.

A more radical view was that Forster would attempt to create a fait accompli by announcing that Danzig had established a customs and monetary union with Germany, severing her economic connection with Poland.

The most extreme view was that he would proclaim political union with Germany. This would be such a challenge, holders of this view said, that Poland either would have to confess she had been bluffing or carry out the threat to shoot.

In the latter case, they said, Poland would stand before the world as an aggressor.

FORMER SUITOR BELIEVED TO BE SLAYER OF MINISTERS DAUGHTER

Camden, N.J., Aug. 10.—(P)—A former suitor of auburn-haired Wanda Dworecki who once roomed in her home was sought in four states today as the slayer of the seventeen-year-old minister's daughter.

"We know who the man is," Chief Detective Lawrence Doran announced but he refused to divulge the suspect's name.

The girl's body was found two days ago in a weed patch bordering a dirt road where choked with a grip that broke lovers apart. She had been her breast bone. The murderer also beat her. A rose corsage adorned her gain-soaked black coat.

Waters Of Little Lake Give Up Body Of Local Young Man

Gordon Taylor's Remains Discovered on Shore Near Scout Camp—Drowned July 22 After Plunge from Sailboat—Body Washed Ashore by Waves Resulting from High Wind—Accidental Death Verdict Returned at Inquest.

With the discovery late yesterday afternoon of the body of Gordon Taylor on the shores of Little Lake, another chapter was written in a tragic story which began on the afternoon of July 22 when the twenty-four-year-old local youth, in company with two friends, went sailing on the waters of the lake.

Taylor's body was found on the shore near the Boy Scout camp by two Scouts. It had been washed ashore by the high waves which stormed across the lake yesterday afternoon in a high wind.

A verdict of accidental death was returned at the inquest into the tragedy conducted last evening by Maurice Delorme, of Sherbrooke, coroner for the St. Francis District. The inquest was held on the shores of Little Lake. Only two witnesses were summoned, Fraser Armstrong and William Cohoon, on the boat with Taylor when he plunged into the lake for a swim.

According to testimony given, the three young men had gone sailing in the boat which Fraser Armstrong had acquired but a short time before. When opposite Shore Acres Taylor dived into the water from the almost motionless craft, expecting to be able to regain it without difficulty.

While he was in the water a light wind caught the sails of the craft and sent it scudding across the lake. When he found himself some distance from the sailboat Taylor became panicky and shouted for help. In response to the appeal Billy Cohoon plunged into the water and swam to Taylor's side, while Armstrong endeavored to swing the craft in the direction of the pair in the water. Cohoon managed to keep Taylor afloat for some time, but had to release him when the victim's struggles carried him under.

Douglas Kerr and Wilfred Davey, on the shore, heard Armstrong shout for assistance and rushed to the

MISHAP BASIS OF SUPERIOR COURT ACTION

Mrs. William Comeau Suing Canadian National Railways for $6,150 Damages as Aftermath to Level Crossing Collision.

Claiming that negligence on the part of the employees of the Canadian National Railways was the contributing cause of a level crossing accident in which her husband lost his life last April, Mrs. William Comeau filed suit for $6,150 damages today, against the railway company.

On April 16 the car in which William Comeau was driving began to cross the railway tracks at Richmond when the locomotive of a passenger train going in the direction of Sherbrooke struck it and hurled it some distance along the right-of-way. Comeau was almost instantly killed.

Basis of Mrs. Comeau's claim for damages is the allegation that the railway employees were at fault in not observing the ordinary rules of safety and in not giving the signals required by law at all crossings.

The plaintiff contends, also, that her husband was in good health and could have continued working for at least ten more years at an average wage of $600 a year. As the victim was the sole support of his wife and a minor child, plaintiff adds, the Canadian National Company is responsible for compensation amounting to $6,000.

In addition to the amount asked for wages Mrs. Comeau claims $150 for funeral expenses bringing the total demanded in the action to $6,150. Plea of the defendant railway company has not yet been filed.

struggling pair in a motorboat. They were just in time to rescue Cohoon.

Dragging operations for the youth's body were carried on over the week-end on which the tragedy occurred and then abandoned at the request of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Taylor, of Cookshire.

Funeral services for Gordon Taylor will be held tomorrow afternoon in St. Peter's Church, Cookshire. Employed in the office of the Manganese Steel Castings Company, he had been a resident of this city for the past five years. He was prominently identified with many social activities here and was extremely popular with the younger element of the city. He was secretary of the Y's Men's Club, a member of the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club and the Y.M.C.A. Speaking Club and had been an officer of the Sherbrooke Winter Club.

Gordon Taylor was well-known as an athlete, particularly as a distance runner. On July 1, three weeks before his death, he captured first prize in the mile run at Bury during the Dominion Day celebrations there.

He was secretary of the Eastern Townships division of the Quebec branch A.A.U. of C., a member of the Sherbrooke Canoe Club and the Y.M.C.A. basketball squad and was a leader of organization of amateur sporting activities here.

In addition to his parents, he leaves a sister, Miss Edith Taylor, of Cookshire.

"Wales Home Gives Us Courage To Believe World Has Yet A Heart"

Richmond, August 10.—When Horace P. Wales, with foresight and a philanthropic spirit, founded the Wales Home for Protestant Old People in 1920, he began an institution which today is a beacon to the Eastern Townships. Rev. J. R. Graham, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Sherbrooke, said here yesterday in an address given at the annual reception of the home.

"The Wales Home gives us courage to believe that the world has yet a heart," Rev. Mr. Graham added, mentioning in this connection the generosity of Miss Helen Norton, of Cookville, and Harry A. Norton, of Ayer's Cliff, who some months ago announced that they would jointly erect and equip an addition to the home to be known as the Norton Memorial.

A belief that there is need for a greater expression of co-operation and unity in the world today was expressed by Rev. Mr. Graham. Conditions would be vastly improved if people had faith and courage in their endeavors, he believed.

"Humanity is dying for want of a spirit based on brotherhood," the minister observed. He pointed out, however, the power of everyone to bring cheer into the life of some person or persons and urged his listeners to give more thought to the elderly.

At the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Graham's address vocal selections were given by Mrs. Wright Gibson and William B. Watson, of Sherbrooke, with Wright Gibson at the piano. Each soloist was received with enthusiastic applause and each was forced to sing a number of encores. Prior to the musical programme prayer was offered by the Rev. I. M. Lidstone, rector of St. George's Church, Granby.

Following the programme refreshments were served under the supervision of Miss Lucy Shaw, matron of the Wales Home.

H. E. Bieber, of Richmond, president of the institution, presided and thanks to the artists heard in the musical selections was expressed by M. T. J. McKee. Other members of the executive present were Roberts Mitchell, of Granby, first vice-president, Dr. C. F. Manning, of Richmond, secretary, P. C. Duboye, of Richmond, and D. J. Salls, of Sherbrooke. Among the many guests from the surrounding district who attended the reception were J. K. Flaherty and W. E. Paton, both of Sherbrooke.

Carnation Company Will Use Milk From Thousand District Dairymen

Visioning a profitable future for the dairy industry in the Province of Quebec, A. C. Osterhuis, director of dairy extension for the Carnation Milk Company, proclaimed before a gathering of over three hundred district farmers in the Arena last night that within a year the plant of the Carnation company now under construction here would be using the milk of a thousand dairymen.

In many sections of Quebec a natural dairy country exists. Mr. Osterhuis said, and in the Eastern Townships particularly splendid grass conditions are found. Good grass is essential to the success of the dairy industry, he pointed out. Observing that production is dependent on construction, the milk company official said enough evaporated milk is already used in Quebec to take as much as one large plant can produce. Milk has four possible markets, butter, cheese, evaporated milk and city milk, he said, adding that the price of milk paid by butter manufacturers has been kept low because comparatively little organization is required in the manufacture of this product.

Because of constant variations in the market it would be impossible to forecast what price would be paid the farmers for their milk in October, when the new plant begins operations, Mr. Osterhuis said. The price will be above that paid for milk used in butter and cheese manufacture and will have a tendency to improve the market, he believed.

According to the policy of the company no contracts are entered into with dairymen to supply a stipulated amount of milk. Rather, the plant will take any amount of milk from any type of herd. All the milk will be tested at the plant and payment made monthly on a butter fat basis.

Milk will be needed daily during the summer months, Mr. Osterhuis explained. The problem of delivery during the winter will be tackled when the time comes, he added. Wherever possible, farmers will be hired to haul the milk to the plant, but it will be necessary for the dairymen to erect roadside stands where the milk can be picked up with a minimum of trouble and loss of time. Farmers should use tin pails for milking, he advised, and keep the milk cool until delivery by placing the cans in an adequate amount of water. Cans, of a standard size, may be obtained from the company at cost price. The cans will be washed at the plant. If a can of milk is sour on delivery it will be returned, the official said.

Speaking briefly, Mayor Marcus Armitage congratulated the United Farmers, sponsors of the meeting, for the large turnout and declared that the entire district was enthusiastic over the coming here of the new plant.

RENEW OPTIONS ON PROPERTIES FOR AIR FIELD

Engineers of Department of Transport Today Began Surveying Site for Contemplated Flying Field.

Options on several properties near Sherbrooke which are being considered as likely locations for an airport were renewed by the city this morning as two engineers of the Department of Transport began surveying one of the sites.

Several months ago when the airport project was being studied by the City Council it was thought advisable to take options on different farm lands but as interest in the plan apparently dropped these were allowed to expire. Visit of the two Government officials to Sherbrooke convinced the Aldermen something definite is at last being done and today three-month options were again taken out.

In the event the flying field project is brought to a satisfactory conclusion the city will agree to buy the necessary land providing the Ottawa Government pays cost of levelling the ground and constructing hangars. It is understood, too, that maintenance expenses will be borne by the Department of Transport unless the field is leased to a private concern.

Municipal authorities were reluctant to state what properties are being considered for the airport but declared yesterday they were "in the vicinity of the city." Near level field of sufficient length for the airport is at Collins Farm, about a mile and a half from the city limits on the Drummond Road.

West Bolton Will Represent E.T. In Judging Competition

Earl Martin and W. B. Durrell, Chalking Up 685 Points Out of Possible 750, Will Take Part in Provincial Contest to Determine Quebec's Representative at Toronto Exhibition

The importance of youth organizations as an aid to the development and education of young farmers was stressed yesterday afternoon at the Junior Farmers' Field Day held at the Lennoxville Experimental Station, when Earl Martin and W. B. Durrell, of West Bolton, won the right to represent Eastern Townships in the provincial judging competition to be held at the Sherbrooke Fair.

Martin and Durrell, who obtained 685 points out of a possible 750 in competition with 75 other young farmers of the district, will match their judging ability against youthful agriculturalists from the four corners of the Province in the contest which will determine the team to represent Quebec in the Dominion championship competition at the Toronto Exhibition in the fall.

The team of Leo Croteau and Gerard Roy, of Tingwick, with a total of 676 points, captured the District of Victoriaville championship and will also take part in the Provincial contest here.

The young farmers from the Eastern Townships and Victoriaville District arrived at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm yesterday morning and after the registration formalities began the judging of Ayrshire, Holstein and Jersey cattle. Following luncheon, the youths were given oral examinations relating to problems in the cultivation and breeding of cattle.

The young breeders were welcomed

ed by Emile Lemire, agriculturalist for the District of Victoriaville.

The part played by the Junior Calf Clubs and youth organizations in helping improve the lot of the farmer were outlined by Rev. Father Godbout, of Lennoxville, who declared the clergy would always support movements of the type sponsored by the Federal and Provincial agriculturalists.

Stephane Boly, Joint Chief of Production Services, Ministry of Agriculture, Ottawa, paid his first official visit to this district in his capacity as head of Boys' Work in the Dominion, and commented on the progress made in the Eastern Townships since the Calf Club movement was first organized by him some seven years ago.

"I have just returned from a month's stay in the Prairie Provinces," Mr. Boly said, "and must say I was struck by the different outlook and opportunities provided the Western farmer as compared with what Quebec has to offer. You may consider yourselves fortunate to be born in a fertile district where the season's crop is not confined to one commodity."

Urging the youths to take advantage of the advice and efforts of the district agriculturalists and more experienced farmers, Mr. Boly stressed the need of education as a means of assuring the future well-being of the country.

NEW BID FOR PEACE IN CHINA

The old game of bluff which plays an important part in Far Eastern diplomacy is again in full operation in the Sino-Japanese war with the Nipponese seeking to ease the path for their hard-pressed forces by affecting a division in the Chinese ranks. The latest move is the announcement of a sweeping peace proposal, ostensibly approved by the Japanese command, which includes a promise for the eventual withdrawal of Japanese troops on certain conditions, the scheme being advanced by Wang Ching-Wei, former Premier of China who is now acting in concert with Japanese leaders.

Speaking from the Japanese-held City of Canton, Wang told his fellow-Cantonese and Chinese in general of peace assurances he received from General Rikichi Ando, Japanese commander-in-Chief in South China. The plan provided that if Chinese leaders would declare publicly for peace and oppose Communism, an armistice could be arranged immediately and furthermore that the Japanese army was prepared to take steps to restore to China the functions of maintaining order, establishing garrisons and administering civil and economic authority in areas now occupied by the Japanese, "thus naturally resulting in the unanimously-desired withdrawal of Japanese troops."

While this looks like a very sweet pill, closer study of conditions would indicate that it is a sugar-coating for a tablet of extreme bitterness. Wang, who presented it on behalf of the Japanese, is far from being in the good graces of the Chinese people, and ever since his flight from Chungking last December, is considered a traitor by the Chinese Government. His action in attacking the popular Nationalist leader, General Chiang Kai-Shek, during his address is unlikely to improve his popularity with the Chinese, so that it is probable if the Japanese are sincere in their desire to establish a real peace, they will have to seek some other channel for negotiations.

GERMANY'S COAL SHORTAGE

Once again the acute economic position of the Reich threatens to interfere with its extensive military programme, the latest trouble appearing in the coal-mining industry. According to Paul Walther, who was last Saturday named to head a new bureau to intensify coal production, Germany needs coal so badly that she may have to exempt miners from military and labor service.

Of course, the gentleman would make it appear that the crisis was only temporary, an accompanying statement claiming that the measure would apply only for the next few months or years, as in the long run miners could not be freed from doing military and labor service. He estimated the thirty-month period required by these services is at present costing the mines about thirty thousand workers, which he believes would largely offset the present importation of ten per cent of the demand.

On other fronts, the Nazi administration seeks to impress upon the German people the strong economic position of the country despite the known shortage of many essential commodities, the latest example of this being a rather startling declaration by Field Marshal Herman Goering that high quality iron deposits so extensive that they can be worked for the next century had been located in Germany. To Germany, generally considered poor in iron deposits, a find of this nature would be regarded as of great importance, providing a material aid to its rearmament.

But in reality the declaration is rather vague and has features which materially reduce its importance. The Economics Minister fails to state the location of the great find and also refuses to give many other important details which are considered essential when weighing any loudly boasted mineral find.

ANOTHER INDIAN PROPOSAL

A new angle to the much-discussed plan for the ultimate provision of self-government for India is contained in the proposals of Sir Sikander Hyat Khan, Premier of the Punjab, who plans Dominion status for the country within twenty years. This provides an alternative to the British Government's federation scheme which is now under consideration by the Indian princes, a number of whom are suspicious of it.

The Punjab Premier's plan is an attempt to solve Indian political and communal problems by meeting as far as possible various criticisms of the federation scheme as embodied in the Government of India Act. It groups the provinces and states into seven zones, each consisting of one or more Provinces and contiguous states.

Each zone would have a regional Legislature consisting of representatives of its Provinces and states.

Representatives of all the regional legislatures would collectively constitute a unicameral Federal Legislature having the same number of members and the same proportional representation as under the existing act.

Unlike the Indian Office scheme, Sir Sikander's plan provides for direct association of Indians with defence policy and foreign relations from the outset.

It is claimed the scheme meets the objections of the princes to federation and that it does not involve the relinquishment of the federal part of the Government of India Act, since the proposal can be dovetailed into it practically without alteration.

THE UNITED STATES ELECTIONS

While the Republicans enter the coming United States elections with the appearance of everything to gain and little to lose insofar as the Senate situation is concerned, a closer examination of the crazy-quilt picture indicates that things are not as rosy for the Opposition as they would appear on the surface.

Favorable to the cause of the Opposition is that the Democrats will have more than three times as many seats at stake as will the Republicans. Of the thirty-three places to be filled, twenty-four are now held by Democrats, seven by Republicans, one by a Farmer-Labor member and one by a Progressive.

As an offsetting factor, however, the Democrats already are counting as safe the elections in a half-dozen states—Florida, Arizona, Mississippi, Virginia, Texas and Tennessee.

If the Republicans kept every place they now have and won all the elections except those in traditionally Democratic states, they still would add only twenty seats to their present total of twenty-three. That would leave the Democrats and minor parties with a total of fifty-three, or a majority of the ninety-six senators.

Thus, if a Republican president were elected next year, he could not hope to have party control of the Senate.

Things are different in the Lower House, however, where all members retire every two years.

The price of dressed hogs at Sherbrooke has reached a near record price of twelve cents a pound, as compared with a long-term average of eight to nine cents.

The municipal census just completed places the number of summer residents in the community at 867.

Representatives of the Emberton Lumber Company have approached the Scottsboro Council with proposals for the establishment of an electric light service in the community.

Reports continue to pour in from various Eastern Townships points supporting the contention of Sherbrooke citizens that a mysterious airship passed over the district recently during the night.

Following an extended suspension of service owing to low water, electric light service has been restored to a considerable section of the Town of Coaticook, restoration of street lights being included.

Directors of the Brome Fair have authorized the extension and improvement of several buildings.

NOBODY REALLY WANTS WAR

(Le Jour, of Montreal)

No sane man on earth believes that war is desirable. And no sound industry wants to be wholly dependent upon war orders. I venture to say that the Canadian firms which are expanding today on the strength of purchases of military materials being made by Great Britain and other nations are giving a great deal of thought and applying more than a little scientific research and sales effort to finding more normal outlets for their products once this terrible war scare in Europe dies down.

Civilization cannot hope to survive long if our industrial and commercial life is doomed to revolve around a centre of gravity based on production for purposes of destruction. Men of wealth, who have more to lose than anybody else if our present system collapses, will never deliberately create a set of conditions which can result only in chaos.

Business, after all, is now the most orderly, the most disciplined and the most clear-sighted of all human activities; perhaps that is why it has so many enemies among the adventurers and mystics of the human race. Business will not knowingly expand in channels which can lead only to its own undoing. Our outstanding industrialists and traders have sons and daughters, just as you and I have. They will not deliberately condemn their children to death in the unthinkable shambles the next war will be.

MUTUAL INTERESTS

(Le Soleil, of Quebec)

Unless one is blind, the absolute necessity of a close association between Canada and the United States is apparent. To most far-sighted of our statesmen foresaw it. Circumstances have permitted the Governments of President Roosevelt and Mr. Mackenzie King to put it into action. From this time onward, in the interests of peace and commerce, the democracies of the North American continent should regulate their progress by one another.

Facing this happy evolution, ignorant and sentimental prejudices are overcome. And wisdom commands those most interested to adopt the natural solution of a political problem. Saluting the American flag (the American was at Quebec) is simply a formality regulated by an international code of etiquette which the British cannons on the old Canadian fortress of Quebec recognize.

They salute a naval power which has promised to make the Canadian flag respected over the immense expanse of its territorial waters. This engagement equally imposes one on the Canadian nation to protect to the best of its ability the northern regions of a continent which belongs without dispute to two young peoples, imbued with the same ideals of democracy.

THE GERMANS

(Hilare Belloc)

The Germans show their defects always to the same radical defect; they are immature. It is this which gives them the charm and also the exasperating quality of children. Thus they are not cruel but they have blind fits of rage and they get specially angry with people who are too much for them. They have no chance intellectually against the Jew, and their "reaction," as the Americans call it, is therefore to lash out at the Jew; and like children, they must always be holding somebody's hand and be guided and led about. I have heard a man who knows them well and intimately through long residence with them and with a good acquaintance of them and their idioms, compare them to putty. Anyone who gets hold of them can mould them as he will, that was the change of the Prussian military caste; when they broke down it was the chance of the Jew; now it is the chance of the little clique, not very sane and wholly ignorant, who rely upon the natural tribal patriotism of the millions for the moment in their hands.

HAVE A SMILE

"Marriage," was the subject of the lecture, and the speaker got very poetic about it.

"Marriage should be one long harmony," he exclaimed, "like a piece of beautiful music played by a first class orchestra."

"Not an orchestra," interrupted a tired-looking man at the back of the hall, "but a band where 'brass' needs to predominate."

A new governor was paying his first visit to a Gold Coast town. Two banners greeted him. The first read: "Welcome to our new Governor." The second was: "God bless His Administration."

On another occasion, when the King and Queen, then Duke and Duchess of York, visited Mauritius, they expressed regret that they couldn't stay more than three days in the island. A local paper printed "stay" as "stand."

Three men were discussing the size of some vegetables they had seen.

The first remarked: "My brother grew a potato that was so large that he had to build a special cupboard to put it in."

The second declared he had seen a vegetable marrow big enough to make a cradle.

The third remarked: "I can outdo that, for I once saw two policemen asleep on one beat. How's that for growing?"

"No one can beat an Englishman when it comes to painting the sea," says an art critic. Nor the town, for that matter.

PRESS COMMENTS

THE SELF-BETRAYAL OF EUROPE

(The Fortnightly)

If Japan, as a result of circumstances at the moment impossible to realize, were to find herself, after 1939, completely cut off from all sources of scientific progress and invention from which she has abundantly drawn in Europe and America for the last seventy years, what would be her future? Has the gift of genius of invention, which has been for so many centuries the undisputed monopoly of the white race, been assimilated by Japan so as to represent a sort of intellectual autonomy? For example, would the Japanese have ended by inventing aeroplanes, of which they knew nothing at the beginning of this century, had we Europeans not supplied them with gradually perfected models? The white race is its own greatest enemy. At the present time, the Pan-Germanist conception of European unity is a sort of administered dominion, exploited, marshalled and ransomed, like Bohemia, by the Master Race. As long as this disastrous folly prevails in the German mind, nothing can stop the self-betrayal of an Europe divided against herself which is rapidly preparing her own downfall.

BRITONS BEGIN TO BOIL

(Galt Reporter)

In recent years, Britain has been subjected to a great deal of annoyance by other nations that seem to be exceedingly jealous of British power and prestige. All this has been borne with characteristic patience and forbearance. If Britain were to act as her tormentors have done, we would have been into disastrous war long ere this. The question is, however, how long it is going to be possible to restrain the British people from demanding retaliatory action? It is easy to perceive that the British are beginning to "boil" at repeated affronts from quarters whose insolence has been tolerated far beyond the limits of reason.

WOULD END IMPERIALISM

(London Daily Herald)

World peace is at stake. It can only be saved if Britain and other "satisfied" Powers are willing to renounce the old-fashioned, selfish type of Imperialism. Those colonial territories which are not yet ready for self-government must be administered under international supervision. It would be the job of the supervision to ensure first, that the claims the colonial peoples themselves were given paramount consideration and, secondly, that no great Power got a private advantage out of administering colonies. Every nation should have equal trading rights in the colonial areas. That should be Britain's offer. Germany, Italy and Japan, the three great "dissatisfied" Powers, should be told that—if and only if they renounce force and set aside their arms—that offer is open to them. There is no doubt that most people in Britain favor a peace plan of this kind. It is only in the more reactionary circles of the Conservative Party that there remains any sympathy for the greedy Imperialism of the old type. The Government must be prepared to ignore attack from these circles and make plain to the world Britain's good faith in its wish for peace.

What Britain and France cannot and will not submit to is that they should be "blackmailed and threatened by egotistic dictators." It was fitting that a week of solemn and explicit warnings to the Fuehrer should have ended with warnings from the organization which in Britain is closest to the mass of the people. That warning could have been driven home in a way which even Berlin's wishful thinking could hardly have mistaken if the Prime Minister had taken the opportunity to state in blunt language that Lord Halifax's warning of last week applies to any act aimed at altering the status of Danzig. The choice between peace and war may hang on such bluntness.

NEEDED: A GOOD BUMP ON THE NOSE

(Rotarian Magazine)

A successful businessman, who is also a university trustee, widely read, cultured, thoughtful, and a good judge of human nature, was discussing a certain young man. "I have known him," he said, "since he was five years old. He has a fine mind, and in school he has used it to advantage, at least to the extent of getting good grades. He was home last week from college; he is taking graduate work for a Ph.D. degree in English. He is twenty-three years old, and the thing that impressed me most about him was his complete unconcern about earning his living. He is satisfied that somehow, in due time, it will be arranged, by somebody—somebody else. Things have been arranged for him by others ever since he was born."

An increasing number of people, including some educators who have their feet squarely on the ground, believe that the case of this young man is far too typical today. They say it represents the severest indictment of the present so-called higher education.

Employment officials assembling not long ago at a regional gathering of personnel associations brought out the fact that a principal reason why jobs often are not given to youngsters just out of college is because their attitude toward work is such a curious one. They expect to be given fairly large salaries and congenial work, yet they have been on the receiving end of things. They have been fed, clothed, and cared for, and have not had to turn a hand to help their families or themselves. To many of them it is a shock to learn that as adults they are expected to stand up and fight and give value for what they get. Increasing numbers of employers, these personnel officials declared, prefer to wait for a year or two before they hire these fresh products of the colleges—"at least until they have had their noses bumped a bit."

Probably some of the fault lies with the home, and urban living. Cash allowances are given to city children, many of whom never do a lick of work to earn the money. Probably part of the fault lies with school and college teachers; too many of them turn their faces to theories about life, rather than to the actualities of living. There is some good evidence, said Dr. Henry C. Link, discussing what he called "the vice of education" in his provocative book The Return to Religion, "that the prolongation of formal education results in a deterioration of personality."

The "gimmie" attitude is the negation of the service ideal. True education, whether in home or in school, insists that a primary quality of adulthood is ability to take care of oneself; which means to give, more than it means to get. The youngsters will be swarming in and out of the house for another month yet. Perhaps this is exactly the felicitous season subtly to suggest to the young bloods some of the things they will be expected to give—if you can do it in between their tennis matches and beach picnics.

LABOR'S FINELY CONCEIVED APPEAL

(London News-Chronicle)

If Herr Hitler can be persuaded in time of the absolute certainty of major war if he attempts any rash act at Danzig, there is still hope for the peace of Europe. For no one will invoke war in Europe except Herr Hitler himself. As the National Council of Labor put it in its timely and finely-conceived week-end appeal to the German people, "no one wishes to make war upon Germany." War threatens the German people not from outside,

PORTRAIT OF A FAMOUS CHIN

BY WM. E. McKENNEY
Secretary, American Contract Bridge League

STRONG SIDE SUIT IS BEST OPENER IF DEFENDER HOLDS FOUR TRUMPS

I suppose it is inherent in people to make the same mistake over and over again. When holding four trumps, many players will open their short suit, hoping to get in two or three ruffs. That is the wrong line of attack. The correct thing to do is to wear the declarer down to your size.

In today's hand, East has four trumps and a good, solid side suit. Therefore, he should not open his partner's suit, but should lead the king of diamonds.

North of course will ruff the third diamond and will lead a spade. Here again East must be careful not to win the trump trick until the third round, thus exhausting dummy's trumps.

Now the ten of diamonds can be led, and you can see the declarer's predicament. If he does trump, he will have one trump less than East.

This is simple defense, but one repeatedly overlooked by the average player.

A well known cricketer is very fond of quoting proverbs. Especially that one about a bat in the hand being worth two in the belfry.

$200 REALIZED FROM WATERLOO GARDEN PARTY

Successful Event Held Under Auspices of St. Luke's Parochial W.A. in Spite of Inclement Weather.

Waterloo, Aug. 10.—Notwithstanding the many difficulties occasioned by inclement weather conditions the garden party sponsored by St. Luke's Parochial Women's Association was considered a success. In order to cope with the weather, the event was staged in the Town Hall where supper was served on the front porch and inside the hall. A bevy of young ladies in attractive uniforms, under the convener'ship of Mrs. Candlish, served refreshments. An attractive table of home cooked edibles in charge of Mrs. Bridge, Mrs. L. Keith Allen, Mrs. F. H. Stone, Mrs. S. R. Taylor and Mrs. MacIntosh occupied a prominent place in the hall as well as a well patronized fish pond operated by Mrs. H. Shanks and Mrs. Percy Borlough. Following the supper, a sale of various articles, donated by members of the congregation, was in charge of Mr. S. J. Bloomberg and a considerable sum was realized from this booth.

As the weather cleared the large number in attendance wended their way to the church grounds where various amusements were provided for their entertainment. The splendid music provided by the Waterloo Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. George Young contributed greatly to the pleasure of every one.

The creditable sum of two hundred dollars was realized from the event.

MARIAN MARTIN

Pattern 9059

No matter what summer gaily you're booked for—the movies, a party, a bridge afternoon—you'll need this Marian Martin frock. Pattern 9059 is a provocative combination of dashing style and cherubic innocence. There's dash in the 8-gored skirt... in the wide ribbon or self-material sash... in the puffed, gathered sleeves. There's an age-of-innocence look in the round neck... in the "bib" yoke... in the lace trimming. You might make the lace collar and sleeve-bands of contrast, such as dainty eyelet batiste, or have the entire softly bloused bodice in lace.

Pattern 9059 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 4½ yards 39 inch fabric and 1½ yards ruffling.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

Send your order to Sherbrooke Record, Pattern Department, Sherbrooke, Quebec.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b).

The modern radio is not obvious—rather it is a gracefully designed piece of furniture which serves some other purpose as well.

You may select the wood and the period which harmonize best with the other furniture in the room. You find lovely models camouflaged as pedestal, drum or end tables, dainty consoles or graceful lowboys.

Even if you are not yet ready to discard your old radio for one of the newer types, it is quite simple and inexpensive to have it blocked in a built-in wall cabinet or bookcase and painted to match the woodwork.

DEATHS REPORTED

THOMAS E. GILMAN, GRANBY. Granby, Aug. 10.—Thomas E. Gilman, formerly of Waterloo, died at Granby on July 26, 1939, at the age of eighty-three. His wife, the late Adelaide Gertrude Watson, predeceased him on August 11, 1921.

Mr. Gilman leaves to mourn his loss, three daughters, Mrs. Floyd A. Morin, of Waterloo, Mrs. Harry Scofield of Port Dover, Ont., and C. D. Porter, of Granby, also eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Interment was at Waterloo, Rev. H. Parson officiating at the grave.

MRS. ANGUS F. MACKENZIE, MILAN. Milan, Aug. 10.—The death on July 14 of Isabella Mackenzie, widow of the late Angus F. Mackenzie in her eighty-first year, brought to a close another long and useful life.

Deceased was born in Lingwick on August 2, 1858, the daughter of Malcolm Mackay and his wife, Annie MacIver. On October 17, 1906, her marriage to Angus F. Mackenzie took place and she became a real mother to his four small motherless children. Mr. Mackenzie predeceased her in December, 1931.

She leaves to mourn her death her step-daughter, Mrs. Mackenzie, a graduate nurse, of Springfield, Mass.; three stepsons, Major Harry N. Mackenzie, of Forgan, Sask., Dannie Mackenzie, of Boston, Mass., and Frederick M. Mackenzie, of Montreal; three daughters-in-law; four grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Kate Coby, of Concord, N.H.; a brother, John Murdoch Mackay, of Milan, and several nieces and nephews.

Four years ago Mrs. Mackenzie suffered a bad fall and her health had not been good since that time. She bore her suffering with great Christian fortitude, and was affectionately cared for by her son, Fred, and his wife and her brother, John, assisted at the last by her daughter, Florence.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved in the loss of a devoted mother, sister and aunt.

Following prayers at the residence the cortege proceeded to Bethany Church on Monday afternoon, July 10th, where the service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. M. Gillies in the presence of a large number of former neighbors, old friends and relatives from Sherbrooke, Canterbury, Megantic, Marsboro and Springfield.

Rev. Mr. Gillies preached an impressive sermon and paid tribute to the exemplary character of the deceased. The twenty-third Psalm was sung in Gaelic by A. W. Murray and John E. MacDonald. Hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Unto the Hills" and "The Old Rugged Cross," by the choir, with Mrs. K. D. Murray presiding at the organ. Interment was in the Dell Cemetery by the side of her husband.

Bearers were A. D. Nicholson, Malcolm Ross, Ewen MacLeod, D. J. Macdonald, N. A. McDonald and N. M. MacLeod. The floral offerings were from many beautiful and numerous and bore testimony to the deep esteem in which the deceased was held.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mackenzie, of Boston, Mass.; Miss Florence Mackenzie, of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mackay and daughter, Katherine and Donald Mackay, of Lisbon, N.H.; Mrs. Martin Campbell, of Portland, Maine, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Day, of Groveton, N.H.

Summer Complaint

Few people, especially children, escape an attack of summer complaint during the hot weather.
Summer complaint begins with a profuse diarrhoea very often accompanied by vomiting and purging. The matter excreted from the stomach has a bilious appearance, and that from the bowels watery, whitish, ill-smelling, or even odorless.
When the children show any sign of looseness of the bowels the mother should administer a few doses of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry so as to bring quick relief.
This medicine has been on the market for the past 24 years. Refuse substitutes. They may be dangerous.
Get "Dr. Fowler's" and feel safe.

SERVICES WERE WELL ATTENDED AT INVERNESS

Old-Time Service Held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday Repeated at Adderley in Afternoon.

Inverness, Aug. 10.—An old time service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Inverness, on Sunday morning, August 6, and repeated in Adderley in the afternoon, very large congregations attending both services.

The congregation sat during the singing of three psalms and one paraphrase, led by Mrs. William Kinnear, assisted by William Cruikshank, Charles McGilvery and Murdo McKinnon, standing during the prayers. The collections were received in old wooden boxes with long handles used about fifty years ago.

The sermon preached by the present minister of the church, Rev. William Reynolds, was eloquent and delivered in old style. He took as his text the first verse of psalm twenty-three, "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want," speaking of former experiences as a child in the north of Ireland, when no instrument was played or hymns sung in the church. The old communion set which came from Scotland about one hundred years ago has been in a glazed mahogany case and placed in the choir room of the church.

FIVE VISITORS AT MISSION IN THREE YEARS

Woman Stationed at Northern Mission Post Missed Two of Five Persons to Visit Community in Period.

Edmonton, Aug. 10.—Mrs. H. R. Rokeby-Thomas said that five visitors to the Anglican mission on Cambridge Bay, Victoria Island, entered their names in her guest book during the three years she just finished spending there, but that she missed two of them because she was away at the time.

Mrs. Thomas, who left Guelph, Ont., three years ago for Coppermine, N.W.T., to be married, said there is only one other white woman at Cambridge Bay, Mrs. Milne, wife of the Hudson's Bay Company factor.

Her first visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Washburn from Yale University. WHERE "MINORITY PROBLEM" STRAINS ROME-BERLIN AXIS

Citizens of North Tyrol, which is in Germany, can look from this refuge house atop the Glocker-Alps straight into Italy—where some 200,000 fellow-Tyrolese face expulsion by Italy. Their plight spotlights the Rome-Berlin allies' own "minority problem," with Tyrolese on the German side openly flaunting Nazi prohibitions against demonstrations of sympathy for the Italian-Tyrolese.
