SUEZ CONFERENCE IN BARGAINING STAGE

Anxious Moments On Cyprus

Greek Cypriots Halt Terrorism On Island

NICOSIA, Cyprus — (AP) — British authorities today began a period of hopeful waiting to see whether the Greek Cypriot extremists fulfill their suddenly announced halt in violence on this strategic Mediterranean island.

Leaflets circulated by rebels Thursday night proclaimed a "suspension of operations" of the underground's campaign of violence over the issue of union with Greece.

Many observers here feel that a cease-fire—if genuine—could provide a face-saving opportunity for new negotiations towards a Cyprus settlement. Such a situation might allow the return of Archbishop Makarios, spiritual leader of the Greek Cypriots, from exile.

Governor Sir John Harding and Prime Minister Eden's government have repeatedly stated if Makarios were to denounce violence on Cyprus publicly a "new situation" would be created.

There has been no immediate indication whether Harding intends to call off his relentless pursuit of rebel leaders. A guarded British statement Thursday night said a "new and hopeful situation" would be created if violence ceased.

The "cease-fire" leaflet was signed by "The leader Digenis," generally accepted to be 58-year-old George Grivas, former Greek army colonel. The leaflet said that, in order to give Makarios a chance to settle the Cyprus issue, "I order from today suspension of operations of branch forces under me."

The leaflet said the rebel command stood ready to suspend violence to "forestall new bloodshed" and allow both sides to get together.

Since the extremists launched their campaign in April, 1955, more than 150 persons have been killed. Of these, 51, were British servicemen and civilians. Most of the others were Greek Cypriots.

MEXICO CITY (Reuters)—Mexico's interior ministry has suspended showings of the French movie "Rififi" following a series of robberies carried out in the manner depicted in the picture. French movie producers have protested. The film had run for 31 weeks when it was banned.

VIENNA — (Reuters)—Prof. P. Prospero of the Florence, Italy, children's clinic told a bee-keepers congress here Thursday that the queen bee's "gelée royale" might play a major role in treating infants. The jelly, a substance developed by queen bees for the nourishment of the larvae, had given "excellent results" when he used it to treat 42 children in his clinic, including premature births, undernourished babies and babies suffering from various ailments.

HONG KONG — (AP) — Scientists, artists and university professors and students joined an army of laborers today in a desperate effort to hold back flood waters menacing Manchuria's big industrial city of Harbin. The muddy yellow waters of the Sungari River, swollen by typhoon rains, rose Thursday to a record level. Peiping radio said only superhuman effort has prevented the collapse of big sections of the dykes protecting the city of 700,000.

MANILA — (AP) — Twelve persons were killed and at least 27 injured when a bus skidded into a 10-foot ditch near Manila today. Most of the passengers were university students.

TAIPEI, Formosa — (Reuters) — Brig-Gen. Benjamin Davis, commander of the United States 13th Air Task Force, warned Thursday that advanced-type Chinese Communist jet planes may soon appear in the Formosa strait. Davis, in a press interview here, said the U.S. will continue to furnish the Chinese Nationalists with modern equipment.

SYDNEY, Australia — (Reuters) — R. A. Gibson, president of the Australian Primary Producers Union, Thursday said Australia may have to seek markets other than Britain for its butter, as large overseas imports of butter into Britain caused prices to decline.

Stevenson Gets Nomination Leaves Choice Of V.-P. Nominee To Convention

By GEORGE KITCHEN

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Democrats, confident and ready to challenge the Republicans with Adlai E. Stevenson as their presidential nominee, prepared today to select a vice-presidential candidate to complete their ticket for the Nov. 6 United States election.

Stevenson surged to a clear-cut first-ballot nomination victory Thursday night and promptly broke with old-line political tradition by telling the Democratic national convention that it, and not he, would make the decision on the vice-presidential candidacy.

The 56-year-old Governor of Illinois, with a shrewd piece of political generalship, thus challenged the Republicans to open up their vice-presidential nomination when they meet in San Francisco beginning next week.

Stevenson piled up an impressive total of 905½ delegate votes on the first ballot to crush decisively the presidential aspirations of Governor Averell Harriman of New York, his only formidable opponent.

Harriman drew 210 ballots. The remaining 256½ were scattered among a group of southern "favorite son" candidates.

Speculation swirled around the names of a group of vice-presidential possibilities.

Leading the group of a dozen or so of possible vice-presidential timber is Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, a presidential hopeful who withdrew from the race for the party nomination a month ago and threw his support behind Stevenson in what many took as a bid for the second place on the Democratic ticket.

Also high on the list are Senator Hubert Humphrey of Wisconsin, who has been actively campaigning for the vice-presidential nomination throughout the convention, and Senator John Ken-

Raft L'Egare II 200 Miles From Brest, France

BREST, France — (Reuters) — Coast guards here today reported that the raft L'Egare II, which set out from Halifax May 24 to drift across the Atlantic, is some 200 miles west of here.

A signal from the raft which started with four men on board was relayed by a French trawler Thursday to coast guards. It said "All well on board." The raft's position was given as 48.08 degrees north, 101.15 west.

ADLAI STEVENSON Shifted Weight To Convention

Nixon Controversy To Dominate Convention Which Starts Monday

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Richard Nixon, vice-president of the United States, was due to arrive today at Republican national convention headquarters in the midst of continued predictions that he will be renominated by acclamation next week.

To Adlai Stevenson's dramatic gesture in Chicago Thursday night of throwing the Democratic choice of a vice-presidential candidate open to the convention there, Republican chairman Leonard

"It doesn't make any difference... they aren't in a situation such as we are where we have such a splendid team in Washington who have the record to prove they deserve to be renominated again."

The convention opens Monday, nomination of both presidential and vice-presidential candidates is scheduled for Wednesday.

High Republican figures have predicted again and again that Nixon, as well as President Eisenhower will be renominated on first ballots.

Harold E. Stassen, promoting Massachusetts' Governor Christian Herter to replace Nixon, had the rug pulled from under him again Thursday. Herter said that if his name were placed in nomination he would ask the president to withdraw it. He is committed to nominating Nixon.

Hall predicted meanwhile that Stevenson will "go down to the same devastating defeat that he experienced in 1952."

nedly of Massachusetts, 39-year-old Roman Catholic who was selected to nominate Stevenson for the presidential slot.

Southerners are talking up the prospects of Senator Lyndon Johnson, popular Texan who is Democratic leader in the Senate.

For the scholarly Stevenson, it will be his second try for the presidency. He captured the nomination in 1952, when former president Truman retired, but lost out to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, in the general election in November.

It was obvious almost from the start of this convention that the nomination was Stevenson's for the taking. He needed 686½ votes to win.

Stevenson, noted for his wit, was deadly serious as he strode into the convention hall to thank the delegates and stress the growing importance of the vice-presidency—an obvious dig at a Republican party about to renominate a recovered heart patient, Eisenhower, and continue with Nixon in the vice-presidential slot.

"The responsibility of the presidency has grown so great that the nation's attention has become focussed as never before on the office of the vice-presidency. The choice of that office has become almost as important as the choice of the presidency," he told delegates.

Stevenson's appearance last night was only preliminary to his formal acceptance speech tonight. It will be preceded by speeches, by Truman and the vice-presidential nominee.

points up more than ever the split between the Democratic party faction on the civil rights issue."

The vice-presidential issue is regarded as the key one at the Republican convention, since Eisenhower is not opposed for nomination. Should the president if re-elected not be able to complete his term, the vice-president would take over the office.

Eisenhower's heart attack last year and his abdominal operation in June this year have been cited by Democratic opponents as reasons why he should not run.

Republican platform drafters plan to suggest these planks to the convention:

Taxation — General tax relief, including relief to small business, contingent on a balanced budget.

Foreign policy — Endorsement of the Eisenhower foreign policy, guaranteeing the integrity of Israel but without promising arms, and a specific mention of Red China which presumably would oppose her seating in the United Nations.

Soviet Stand Awaited As Smooth Procedure Surprises Delegates

LONDON — (AP) — Off to a swift and outwardly friendly start, the Suez Canal conference moved today into the bargaining stage.

Today's session was expected to bring counter-proposals from Russia and India to a Western plan for an international board to run the canal.

An indication of the Soviet stand was seen in a Moscow radio broadcast which declared that the conference delegates "can make headway if they start making arrangements for an international conference."

Russia has supported Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal Company and demanded a much-expanded conference to include all Arab states and Communist countries.

The 22-country London parley "can of course be of definite value," Moscow radio said, but only if it led to a "truly international conference or some other international procedure to examine the matter of free navigation on the Suez Canal."

The western Proposals, presented at Thursday's opening session, would make Egypt a member of an International Canal Board and link the agency to the United Nations.

Egypt refused to attend the conference called by Britain, France and the United States after President Nasser announced July 26 that his government was nationalizing the canal company, operators of the 103-mile waterway. But a Nasser emissary, Wing. Cmdr. Ali Sabry, flew here from Cairo to be on the conference scene.

Sabry told reporters Egypt insists on her "sole right of control for the canal and its economy," but "maybe some good could come from the London talks."

Britain and France have taken a strong stand against Egypt's claim to sole control over the vital waterway through which much of Western Europe's oil is transported from the Middle East. Britain and France believe Nasser cannot be trusted, and will discriminate against their commerce to further his campaign to supplant Western influence in the Middle East.

State Secretary Dulles gave the American position that Egypt's nationalization action has grievously assaulted world confidence.

The Western call for an international board was part of a four-point plan outlined by Dulles. The plan also said (1) Egypt should get an equitable return from canal operations, (2) fair compensation should be paid the stockholders of Suez Canal Co., for loss of rights and holdings, and (3) any differences over compensation to be settled by arbitration through the World Court.

The speed and ease with which the delegates whipped through the opening procedural stage of the talks amazed even the delegates. An afternoon session adjourned early because no more speakers were ready to present their views.

Much of the work of trying to compromise conflicting viewpoints is expected to be done at social meetings or in the corridors and smaller chambers of ornate Lancaster House, the conference site.

Wednesday Assistant Director Plante sent the committee a written denial that he had admitted to a newspaper man that special treatment by police had been given the unnamed judge. Following this denial, Mr. Croteau asked for a report on the case.

Canada's Newest Atomic Warship

Assiniboine Commissioned At Sorel

SOREL, Que. — (AP) — HMCS Assiniboine, Canada's newest atomic warship, was being prepared today for her final sea trials after being formally turned over to the navy.

The grey-hulled, 2,600-ton destroyer escort was handed over to the navy Tuesday in a dual ceremony which saw the anti-submarine craft christened and commissioned at Marine Industries, Ltd., here.

The Assiniboine, packed with the latest radar and electronic equipment, leaves Saturday for Halifax for rigid sea trials. She recently completed a preliminary trial run in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where her captain, Cmdr. Eric Philip Earnshaw, 36, of Kingston, Ont., said she "behaved as expected."

Prior to the commissioning of the 366-foot long warship, the Assiniboine was christened by Mrs. Lionel Chevrier, wife of the president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

Maritime Conference Announced

GENEVA, Switzerland — (Reuters) — A 21-nation maritime conference, sponsored by the International Labor Organization, will take place in London from Sept. 19 to Oct. 2, it was disclosed Thursday night.

The conference, which Canada will attend, will look into ways and means of improving future inquiries into sea disasters, such as the recent collision between the liners Andrea Doria and Stockholm off the United States coast.

Most important item on the agenda will be the consideration of a report on who has the right, under international and national law, to suspend or withdraw certificates of competency of ship officers who have been involved in maritime accidents.

A draft resolution to be considered by the conference provides that "authorities of the state which has issued a competency certificate are alone competent to suspend or withdraw it."

This would mean that if the resolution is adopted, a country in whose territorial waters a collision occurred would have no right to impose disciplinary action against any officers involved.

The resolution is aimed at ending the present double jurisdiction whereby officers are subjected not only to control of the state issuing certificates of competency but also that of the maritime state in whose waters an accident occurs.

Turn Down Report On Drunk Judge

MONTREAL — (AP) — Montreal's executive committee Thursday turned down a request for a full report from police on the alleged release last November of a judge arrested for drunken driving.

A motion asking for the report was placed before the committee by one of its members, Lucien Croteau. Earlier Mr. Croteau had planned to ask for the dismissal of Pacific "Pax" Plante, assistant police director, following newspaper reports of the case.

Wednesday Assistant Director Plante sent the committee a written denial that he had admitted to a newspaper man that special treatment by police had been given the unnamed judge. Following this denial, Mr. Croteau asked for a report on the case.

Electrical Yardstick

MEASURING THE SPARK-GAP for magnitude of voltage passing between these huge metal globes is one of many forms of electrical research carried on by the Electrical Industry. The results will have a decided effect on new and improved uses for electricity in an Electronics Age—an age symbolized by a record-breaking increase in the production of electricity in the last seven years.

This insatiable demand for increased electric power for expanding use in industry and in homes has sparked the building of great electric power plants all over the world. Still greater ones are on the planning boards. And conversion of nuclear energy into electric power is in its first stage.

Great quantities of electrical insulations are needed for protection of personnel and property for such projects now and in the future. That's where J-M people contribute. They have developed electrical panel boards, base materials for switchboards, controller plates, switch bases, electrical conduit ducts, and many forms of electrical tapes and highly purified asbestos electrical insulations used throughout the electrical industry.

The Electrical Industry is only one of the major fields which the J-M team of research scientists, production people and sales representatives serve continuously. Their contributions help these industries make our standard of living safer, more efficient, modern and enjoyable.

Welcome To The "Hebdos"

Sherbrooke today is playing host to a group of men and women who are playing an important part in moulding the opinions of the people of this country — the publishers of the French-language newspapers of this country who are more conveniently known as the "hebdos," the term covering both the individuals and the weeklies they publish.

Being in closer and more direct contact with the vast majority of his readers, the weekly editor is in a better position to appreciate the views and needs of the people he serves than is the large-city daily and his views often express much more accurately those of his readers.

The weekly newspaper depends for its very existence upon service to the community and the fact that 97 French-language weeklies will be represented at the convention opening today is ample assurance that this idea of community service still thrives in the hearts of many Canadians.

Hi-Jinx At Conventions

The concern displayed by a number of foreign writers covering the United States political conventions at the midway atmosphere accompanying these supposedly important gatherings can be understood easily. Certainly a parade of chorus girls in support of one aspirant, a wild west rodeo in favor of another and all other manner of hi-jinx can do little to impress the observer with the fact that the delegates are there for the express purpose of selecting a man who might be called upon to provide the world with leadership in the critical days ahead and to prepare a platform upon which the strongest nation in the democratic world will be governed for the next four years.

It is accepted readily that delegates to any convention are entitled to a degree of relaxation and entertainment, the nature of this varying with the type of gathering concerned. But even the most dazzling berobed of fraternal orders at their national conclaves generally put first things first and dispose of the serious business of the gathering before indulging in the wilder escapades.

But at a United States political convention, the floor show aspect dominates the entire proceedings, leaving the average observer with the belief that most of the delegates are escapees from the booby hatch.

Just why this carnival atmosphere has been created is difficult to fathom, but it could be possible that the inner circle which supposedly controls such a gathering desires to keep the ordinary Joe busy while they pull the strings.

Voice Of Primitive Past

The little girl stood in the middle of a suburban street, wearing cotton shorts, a pair of oversized men's shoes, and nothing else.

She seemed to be aged about eight, but her open mouth and oddly blank face told of a mind that had never grown.

She waddled along like a duck in the big shoes, playing all alone on a summer night and (in some dim and secret way) enjoying herself.

Suddenly the quiet was fractured by a group of boys who came yelling around the corner on bicycles and rolled toward the girl at high speed.

As they approached, their separate cries emerged from the general clamor. They were shouting insults.

"Ah, what's the matter? Ain't you got any clothes?"

"You're dopey. You're crazy in the head."

"Out of the way, stoopid. Watch out, crazy kid."

The flock of cyclists divided in two and streamed by the girl on both sides, some of the boys brushing her as they passed, and turning back in the saddle to shout more abuse.

The girl had come to a halt. Swaying a little in those absurd shoes, she gazed after the boys. She did not utter a sound, but a look of pain and bewilderment contorted her lost face.

The boys swept out of sight around another corner, still howling insults with that terrible, savage cruelty that children vent on people who are weak or different.

Some of the malice may have come from the remarks of parents about that little girl down the street who wasn't quite right in the head.

Mostly, however, it derived from the primitive past of the human race. It was part of the brutal machinery for cancelling out the unfit, hidden by Christian civilization but emerging, naked and ugly, from the mouths of untaught children.

As the harsh clamour of those boys rang across the gardens, it seemed to open in the mind a dark pit full of nameless, crawling, prehistoric things.

And then the noise faded away, to be succeeded by the faint whine of radios and television sets and the plink-plonk of lawn sprinklers. And the little girl in the big boots resumed her shuffle down the street.

"So You're the New Guys..."

LONG SUIT IS NO-TRUMP PERIL

When an opponent has led a long suit against your no-trump contract, you usually try to knock out that opponent's entries quickly. If you can make him use up his high cards before he has established his long suit, he will be unable to regain the lead after he has established that suit.

In today's hand, declarer won the first trick with dummy's queen of spades and immediately led a heart, forcing out West's ace. Incidentally, West could have given declarer trouble by refusing the ace of hearts. South might have continued on the assumption that East held the ace of hearts.

When West continued with another spade, declarer won in

U. S. DEMOCRACY IN ACTION

(Windsor Star)
 Convention of the Democratic Party in Chicago illustrates United States democracy in action. Though such conventions don't conform in many respects to the democratic processes in Canada, or other democratic countries, they have much to commend them.

Party conventions in the United States are surrounded by much fanfare and glitter, possibly too much for such serious business. But, despite this, they are examples of a free people freely choosing the candidates for whom they wish to vote in free elections.

dummy with the ace and led a low club. It was important to lead clubs first from the dummy in the hope that East would play low and allow his partner's high club to be knocked out first.

East should have put up the king of clubs immediately in order to return a spade while his partner still had the ace of clubs. When East actually played low, South played the queen of clubs and forced out West's ace. Now West could establish his spades but could never regain the lead to cash them. South had no further trouble with his game contract.

NORTHEAST AIRLINE'S VICTORY

(Newport Daily Express)
 Northeast Airline's victory in winning the right to fly a commercial route between New York and Florida no doubt means much to New England and could mean something to Newport. Northeast's flights into Newport last year and this means that Newport cannot be ignored in Northeast's future service to New England. We shall soon know whether this season's business warrants the continued summer air service to Newport or not.

Air service from New England to Florida appears to be vastly bettered by allowing Northeast to operate through routes to Florida. It no doubt means better aircraft by Northeast, fewer delays and changes and strengthens Northeast's position among air lines of the nation. The Florida service by Northeast will definitely start this winter, say the line's officials.

It has been a long, hard fight to win this right from the Civil Aeronautics Board. The Board's investigator surveyed the situation and advised giving a new New York-Florida route to another air line. Then New England awoke to the situation, realizing that Northeast as a short-haul line needed expansion to cope with other lines.

Air organizations in New England, governors, senators and representatives, boards of trade, newspapers and other sources of influence got busy. They protested giving the right to fly the lush New York-Florida route to a company which had no vital interest in New England as did Northeast. The unity of effort in the demand for Northeast won the day. The CAB overruled its investigator and voted Northeast the right to operate the coveted route.

Northeast has shown a steady growth and a consistently safe record. It has made effort to serve outlying New England areas such as Newport. It has some 1200 employees and 18 aircraft. It is understood the company has several new and larger ships on order and gives every promise of serving New England better in the future.

This enlarged service by Northeast could have its influence in giving Newport and the large area it serves, including a substantial corner of Quebec Province, more service. At any rate it seems likely to place Newport in a better position to expect continued summer service, and perhaps future winter service as well.

BYGONE DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO
 From the Record of Tues., Aug. 17th., 1926.

The Polish minister to Moscow denies reports appearing in many European newspapers that a state of civil war is now existing in Russia.

The outlook for a general disarmament treaty does not appear too bright, the military experts of the preparatory commission meeting at Geneva failing to reach an agreement on even the preliminary principles.

The officials in charge of the annual Compton County fair being held at Cookshire are: A. E. Bridgette, W. M. Hill, Fred Hodge, Lt.-Col. T. O. Farnsworth, A. W. Pratt and W. J. Edwards.

The Coaticook Town Council has prepared a by-law calling for the borrowing of $15,000 to finance a programme of street paving and sidewalk construction.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
 From the Record of Monday, Aug. 17th., 1936.

Quebec electors are selecting a new legislative assembly today and the Opposition following their near-victory in voting a year ago are confident that they will overthrow the Liberal government now in power, headed by Premier Adelard Godbout.

The French government, hopeful of achieving a neutrality agreement among the major powers in respect to the Spanish Civil War, is studying the German Conditional acceptance of the plan which calls for certain reservations. Spanish government officials are preparing to quit Madrid by air as the siege of the capital is intensified.

The new Japanese budget calls for the record expenditure of $223,300,000 on naval armaments as compared with $159,480,000 in the previous year. Japan refuses to renew the naval limitation agreement which ends this year.

TEN YEARS AGO
 From the Record of Saturday, Aug. 17th., 1946.

The Paris Peace Conference today voted 15 to six in favor of inviting Austria to present her views on the pending treaty with Italy, and Canada put in a strong bid to support the invitation of the former Axis satellite.

Haganah's clandestine radio station, the Voice of Israel, today started broadcasting an appeal at five minute intervals in the Haifa area, urging young Jews to leave their homes and join the demonstration in the centre of the town. The demonstration is in protestation of the deportation of over 1,000 Jews who have no permits to enter Palestine.

Pouring rain, falling at the end of yesterday afternoon's grandstand performance at the Richmond Fair sent a record-breaking second-day crowd of 5,000 persons to cover. It by no means dampened the enthusiasm, more than half remaining to witness the evening performance moved over to the Coliseum.

AFTER SUBSIDIZED EXPORTS — WHAT?
 (St. Thomas Times-Journal)
 Seldom if ever in the history of international trade has there been so flagrant a disregard for fair play and for treaty obligations as that manifest by the United States in its efforts to dump its price-supported accumulation of cotton in the form of subsidized cotton exports.

If such outrageous disregard for the trading interests and economic wellbeing of other countries were to be merely a temporary state of affairs based on some emergency situation, the indignation which U. S. action has evoked might be less violent, although it would be nonetheless justified. Unfortunately, however, so long as U. S. agricultural production is based on a system of high support prices, both surpluses and dumping practices promise to be chronic.

Mexico has warned that drastic measures will be invoked in the face of the threat to that country's exports of U. S. dumping of cotton textiles. British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden has expressed great concern regarding the consequences of the policies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Canadian Government has informed Washington that this country's anti-dumping laws will be invoked.

Unfortunately, experience shows that Washington seldom responds, in trade matters, to mere exhortations and expressions of concern. What is needed is for the Canadian Government and the governments of other countries adversely affected by U. S. dumping policies to undertake a full-dress reappraisal of their trade policies with respect to the United States, and to translate that reappraisal into positive action which will make itself felt in Washington.

CHURCH OR JAIL

(Cape Breton Post)
 A youth caught in the act of stealing from a poor box in a church, was given by a Connecticut judge the choice of going to the same church every Sunday for a year, or going to jail for 30 days. It is an unusual judgment, but let not an editorial question the workings of the judicial mind. It is pertinent merely to say that the inference that attending church is a form of penance will be questioned by some church-goers who attend church joyfully, grateful for the privilege and the opportunity. Even so, some element of justice, if only poetic in nature, may be seen in a criminal having to put in an appearance regularly and publicly at the scene of his offence. How much good the experience will do him might depend on the degree of charity shown toward him by the other church-goers.

Navy Plane Ran Wild Over Calif.

PALMDALE, Calif. — (AP) — A pilotless navy drone plane ran wild over Southern California Thursday, hotly chased by rocket-firing air force fighters, and before the craft crashed authorities had on their hands:

Nearly a dozen fires, apparently caused by rockets; a "major" blaze whose cause was unknown; three desert communities peppered with rockets.

At least one exploded on a street here.

The major blaze occurred on both sides of U.S. highway 6, the route leading northeast from Los Angeles, in an area of oil wells and storage tanks.

The drone, radio-controlled from the ground, took off from the Port Mugu naval missile test station on the coast west of here. Control was lost immediately after the wheels went up and the F-6F Hellcat of Second World War vintage was on its way.

Two fighters quickly pursued and discharged rockets in an effort to shoot it down.

The rockets missed, and the plane finally crashed — out of gas — on the desert 11 miles east. The drone, which took off on a "routine mission," had a final fling in crashing. It knocked down power lines as it fell.

Cards Of Thanks

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to all my relatives and friends far and near, who visited me at the Sherbrooke Hospital and since my return home. I also wish to thank Dr. J. A. MacLeod, and any other doctors who attended me at the Hospital, also Dr. Lowry of Sawyerville for his faithful service, and the nurses and nurses' aides and interns on the second floor, for all their kindness and attention, and to my roommates for the many friendly visits we had together. Thanks to all for remembering me with flowers, cards, gifts, reading material, etc., which helped to pass away the time, also to the many telephone inquirers for their interest. A special thanks to Wilhelmina Rebekah Lodge No. 23, Sawyerville, for the lovely box of fruit, juice, etc., and to Miss Muriel French for her nice box of fruit. To each and everyone, please accept my heartfelt appreciation. FRED A. BELLAM, East Clifton, Que.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to Dr. Ellis, the nurses and ward-aides at the Sherbrooke Hospital, the friends and neighbours who sent cards and gifts and all those who have been so kind and generous during Harold's long hospitalization. GEORGE & RUTH CLAPP.

Cookshire Fair Opens Three-Day Stand This Sunday

Special Attention Paid Jr. Activities, Big Grandstand Show

COOKSHIRE—The fourth county fair of the district opens here Sunday with the annual Compton County Agricultural Society three-day exhibition.

COOKSHIRE SHOW — Mickey O'Malley and His Flying Saucers will be part of the big grandstand show to be presented at Cookshire Fair Aug. 19, 20 and 21. Mickey will enact his comedy novelty routine and will also do the English version master of ceremonies in the Show, entitled Television Stars '56.

Special attention is being extended this year to the junior work and two full days are to be devoted to junior activities.

Starting early Monday morning, rain or shine, the Sawyerville Calf Club will hold its annual fair. In the afternoon, judging competition will take place, open to all boys and girls under 21. Then in the evening, the annual Calf Club banquet will be held in the dining hall, with prizes for that day's competition being given out.

Tuesday will also be dedicated to the Calf Club work, when exhibiting and judging will be performed by the Lennoxville, Sawyerville and Bury clubs.

A large attendance is expected for the junior events which have been greatly encouraged during the past few years by the Compton County Agricultural Society. Its purposes have been to encourage boys' and girls' club work throughout the district and to improve educational value of the fair as well as to develop better farmers and breeders. Its success throughout the county has been marked in the past few years and has produced a large membership of outstanding junior farmers.

In other departments of the fair, judging is expected to get underway Saturday, the day previous to fair opening, when cooking, sewing and flowers will be completed.

Monday, judges will set to work on the dairy cattle, sheep, horses, poultry and swine and Tuesday on purebred beef cattle and completion of other classes.

Entries for this year's fair

TO APPEAR AT COOKSHIRE — The Hot-Rod Hobo, appearing with the Television Stars of 1956, will be at the Cookshire Fair for three days next week. Eddie Frisco and His Comedy Car, considered one of the best acts of its kind in show business today, has appeared on several major TV circus shows.

have picked up considerably after a slow start, according to Walter Hodgeman, fair secretary, and Don MacMillan, district agronomer, in charge of junior exhibits, who predict a successful fair.

Industrial and farm machinery exhibits are expected to be at an all-time high, with many local firms showing for the first time.

An outstanding show, the Gus Sun Vaudeville Agency of Detroit, will perform all three days in front of the grandstand. The show, rated one of the best to tour the district fairs, will be presented Sunday evening, Monday afternoon and evening and Tuesday afternoon.

It will consist of several acts, including the Brownie Silverlake Trio, Mickey O'Malley and His Flying Saucers, the Hot-Rod Hobo and his comedy car act, Josephine's pet dogs and many others.

As in the past, horse racing will form an important part of the program and several heats are scheduled to be run off each afternoon. In the running will be many local horses, as well as old favorites coming from a distance.

Engaged for the three days is the fun-filled March Midway Shows, who will make a quick trip from Richmond Fair, closing Saturday night. With the help of ten or 15 local volunteers, the show expects to be set up by noon Sunday.

Also in attendance each day will be the Canaan, Vt., High School band which entertained the crowd at last year's fair.

A complete fair program, with judges for various departments is listed below:

Saturday, two o'clock, judging of sewing by Miss Norma Knowles, cooking, Mrs. D. Waters, and flowers, L. Mathon. Sunday: No judging. Grandstand attractions at two and eight.

Monday: Nine o'clock, Sawyerville Calf Club Fair, W. G. Macdougall judging in Ayrshires and Jerseys, J. A. Lambert, Holsteins, R. G. Conner, swine, V. Pelchat, field crops and vegetables, W. S. Richardson. One o'clock, junior judging competition, Don MacMillan, sheep, W. G. Macdougall, poultry, Jules Brosseau, dairy products, Napoleon Gagnon. Two o'clock, grandstand and show, halter class horses, H. R. Ross; 2:30, horse and calf parades; 3:30 cattle parade; eight o'clock, grandstand.

Tuesday, nine o'clock, judging in Aberdeen Angus and Herefords, R. Macdonald, Shorthorns, R. McKinven; 9:30 inter-club calf competition, D. Robertson, horses, harness class, H. R. Ross; 1:30 horse judging continued; two o'clock, grandstand and horse and calf club parade; three o'clock, cattle parade.

Lowry Family Represented At Every Cookshire Fair

Pioneer Compton Family, Lowrys Long Associated With Development Of Fair

COOKSHIRE — The Compton County Fair just wouldn't be a fair without the Lowry family, who have been exhibiting since the day it began. Scattered throughout Compton County are Lowry farmers, all descendants of a pioneer family settling there many years ago. And in different ways, the various Lowry families have been steadfast competitors at the fair to this day. One top-ranking exhibitor is Clayton Lowry, whose registered Jersey herd has always made a fine showing at the exhibition.

Clayton is a youthful-looking man who cares for 149 acres of the old Greenview Farm high in the hills of Eaton. Now renamed Lowrydale, the farm is the original Lowry property where his pioneer grandfather cut the first tree to build his log cabin directly in front of today's farmhouse.

Many stories were handed down to Clayton about the settlers' first days in and around Eaton. Hardship and toil were common to the first Lowries who thought nothing of lugging food by oxen several miles from Eaton Corner in days before the horse.

What is now the Lowry farm resembles little the original establishment and grandfather would be truly amazed to see progress of the first 100 years.

Clayton's modern barn houses 42 registered Jerseys which he has been raising for 45 years. There are 17 milkers and milk is sent daily to the Carnation Plant in Sherbrooke.

This year as in past he will take about a dozen head to the fair, hoping to continue his success of coming home with a lot of prizes, including many firsts. However, Clayton modestly admitted that Jersey competition was falling off at Cook-shire and he had little trouble capturing top prizes.

Among his prize-winners have been a grand champion Jersey cow, bred and raised at Lowrydale and a five year old bull, Brampton B. P. Brendeau, who always takes top honors at Cookshire and was among the best at Sherbrooke Fair.

Lowrydale Sporting Sue, a six-year-old which they also bred, has been the top milk giver of the herd. Clayton never keeps records, but is quite certain she would be capable of making some of her own. In the years the cow has been shown at the fair, she has come back with several firsts.

Prize-winning for the Lowries is not only confined to father, for the younger members always manage to get their share too. Active members of the Calf Club, they, too, return home with laurels, making any trip to the fair one worthwhile for this part of the Lowry descendants.

Mrs. Frank Hurd Wins Variety Of Prizes At Cookshire

Mrs. Frank Hurd, Cookshire, Chief Fancy Work Winner, To Seek Cooking Honors

COOKSHIRE—Mrs. Frank Hurd, a life-long resident of Cookshire is truly a "Jane of all trades". She knows how to cook, to sew, to knit and to do fancy work and on top of all that, she loves to paper.

Mrs. Hurd, who is Chairman of the Ladies' Committee at the Cookshire Fair, has entered the exhibition for 15 years now, just because she loves competition. But after seeing the work she's done and the prizes she's won, it appears she not only likes competition, but usually manages to carry off most of the honors.

Mrs. Hurd is a friendly lady who, lives in a house ever bustling with activity. Always cooking or sewing something on the side she spends a great deal of time working on hobbies which include papering walls and collecting salt and pepper shakers.

FANCY WORK EXHIBITOR — Mrs. Frank Hurd, Chairman of the Ladies' Committee at the Cookshire Fair, works on part of her exhibit in the fancy-work department of Cookshire Fair, to be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. A top-rate exhibitor for 15 years, Mrs. Hurd has managed to carry off most of the prizes in this department as well as several cooking honors.

Her salt and pepper shaker collection is a pride and joy. In it she has 176 different pairs, some coming from as far away as Vancouver and Halifax and the southern United States. It includes such novelties as a jiggling policeman, a pair of fawns, an engine turntable and the garden gate and wishing well.

But Mrs. Hurd's real success lies with her fancywork at which she's busy from Christmas to fall every year preparing her large exhibit at the fair.

Last year she won 22 firsts out of a possible 28 classes in the fancy work and it included everything from appliqued pillow cases to woven huck towel hand bags.

She plans to enter as many classes this year.

A good many months have been spent in preparation. She has completed a masterfully finished cut-work luncheon cloth with matching serviettes, cross stitched pillow slips, embroidered luncheon cloths, tray cloths, place mats and pillow slips, as well as appliqued, cut-work and embroidered towels and pillow slips.

All articles exhibited are usually sold long before fair time, for Mrs. Hurd's success has spread all over the district. The only things she

BISHOPTON—

The Ladies' Aid met in the Sunday School room of the United Church. Several letters of thanks were read and $5 was voted to the Bible Society. A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a blanket and a pair of sheets to Miss Thelma Gilbert, a popular bride-to-be of the month. It was decided to hold a food sale Friday afternoon, August 24 in the Sunday School. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Olive Ainsworth, Mrs. Oren Campbell, Mrs. Ralph Gilbert and Mrs. M. A. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Willard spent a week in Richmond with Mr. and Mrs. Bradfield and family. While there, they also visited Mr. Willard's aunt, Mrs. E. Blodgett in the Wales Home.

Mrs. Harvey MacRae, of Scotstown, has returned home after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith. Other recent guests included Mrs. Everett and son, Mr. Kenneth Everett, of California, Mrs. Cullen and Miss Rita Kilroy, Lowell, Mass., and Mrs. Inez Morrison, of Gould.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harrison were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Boucher, of Rock Island, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Soutier and Miss Elaine Soutier, of Stanstead, Mrs. H. Downes, of Granby, Conn., Mrs. Scott Allison, Lennoxville and Mrs. Jack McKenzie and Betty Lou, of Abbotsford. Visitors at the same home were Mr. Eugene Bishop, Hamilton, Ont., Mr. C. A. Stokes, Alan Stokes and Bobby Prangley, of Bury.

keeps for herself are several pairs of hand-knit socks, which always go to lucky nephews at Christmas.

Mrs. Hurd started out as a small fancy work exhibitor at the fair many years ago. Since then she has entered the cooking class as well. Although she doesn't enter every cooking class, Mrs. Hurd admitted that as well as eyeing fancy work prizes, this year she was also going to try for the Sherbrooke Daily Record cooking prize.

And, judging from her reputation as a cook it probably wouldn't be hard for her to get that too.

Fair President Keeps Interest High In Horse Entries

Col. Wells Bishop Plans Heavy Entry Of Horses At Annual Cookshire Fair

COOKSHIRE — There's little doubt about the fact that horses are no longer the popular entry at a district fair. In fact, some horse competition has become so small that several county exhibitions have cut out the class entirely. However, this is not the case with Cookshire Fair, being held here this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and with a few new exhibitors entered, the horse competition is expected to be keener than ever.

In the dying day of the horse, it's interesting indeed to see one person whose horses will not disappear from competition, especially at the Compton County Fair. Col. Wells Bishop, proprietor of a sprawling 1,040 acre farm at North River, a few miles from Sawyerville is just that man.

Col. Bishop, who has been one of the hard workers of the fair for several years, is serving his first term as President. And with all the executive duties to perform he is having a busy time these days readying his horses for the event.

He has been farming the huge North River Farm, near the Compton County Fish and Game Club, since 1948, soon after he returned from the services, where he had spent several months in a Japanese prison camp.

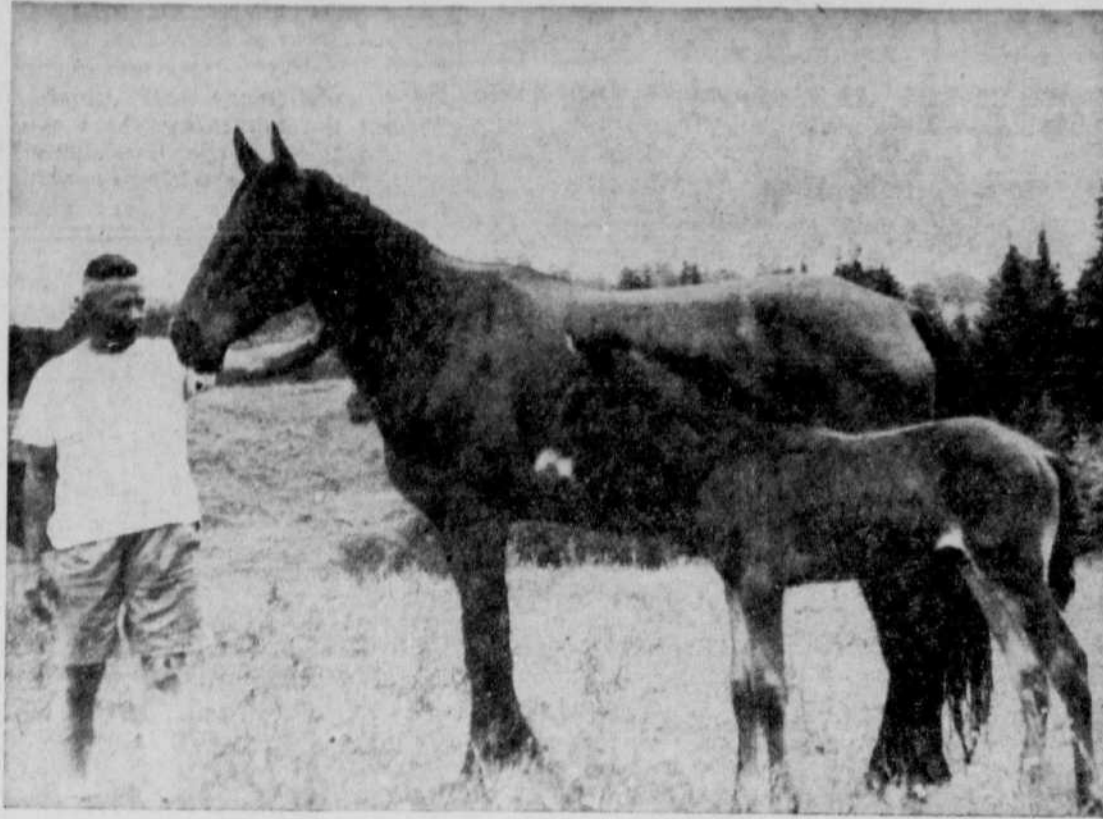

Col. Bishop has been raising horses for a good many years. Settling strictly for the Standard Bred, he has come up with several champions each year. His specialty now is riding and driving class, but in past years he has bred and raised some of the finest race horses of the district.

North River Farm has made a name for itself throughout the county for its race and show horses, which have always turned in top performances. Among the prize horses is Worthy Hanover, a registered trotting stallion and Falla Gratton, a trotting mare.

This year, Col. Bishop expects to enter eight or ten halter classes and the saddle mare. His young colts will also be shown with the hope that they might duplicate honors won last year with the standard bred colts. Col. Bishop also won the gentleman's driving class as well as several other prizes.

Six years ago, North River Farms started raising registered Herefords and now have a good-sized herd of 54 head. These will also go to the fair, and while Col. Bishop claims the horses are always the best part of his exhibit, the cattle have done equally as well in the past and have turned out to be one of the finest Hereford herds of the district.

With the eight head ready to go to the fair will be a two-year-old top rated bull,

WESTERN TRIUMPH, North River Farms' herd sire will be entered in the Hereford class at Cookshire Fair this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The property of Col. Wells Bishop, Fair President, the prize bull is part of his 54-head herd, eight of which will be taken to the fair. (Photo by Gerry Lemay) for which Col. Bishop has high hopes. Herd sire, Western Triumph, is a champion in his own right and in all probability will help add to the long list of prizes to be copped by the North River Farms this year.

Jerry Magee Upsets Canadian Open Champion Doug Sanders In Close Duel

Birdies 17th To Edge Out Decision; Moe Norman Also Wins Along With Americans Butler And John Smiles

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. — (CP) — Courageous Jerry Magee of Toronto, captain of Ontario's champion Willingdon Cup team, scored a major upset here Thursday as eliminated Canadian Open champion Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., in the quarter-finals of the Canadian amateur golf tournament.

The 22-year-old Toronto car salesman birdied the 17th hole to go one up, then stood off a great desperation bid by Sanders on the 18th to win the match and enter today's semi-finals.

Magee had threatened to withdraw earlier in the day because of a painfully damaged right hand.

"I wasn't even going to play Smith this morning," he said after his win. "But the doctor taped it up and it felt better so I gave it a try."

Magee whipped Al Smith of Buffalo, N.Y., 7 and 6 in the third round.

"I'm sure glad I didn't go home," Magee laughed as he accepted congratulations from Moe Norman, the defending champion from Kitchener, Ont.

Norman had no trouble in the quarter-finals — He whipped Bob Fleming of Victoria, B.C., 3 and 2 — but he was forced to the 20th hole in the third round before setting down Ed Meister of Willoughby, Ohio.

Two Americans also qualified for the semi-finals. Rambling John Miles of Mamaronock, N.Y., defeated Doug Bajus of Winnipeg 4 and 2 in the third round, then outlasted the golfing dentist Dr. Ted Leczyk of Newington, Conn., to win on the 19th hole.

New England amateur champion Art Butler of Portsmouth, N.H., started the day with a 3 and 2 decision over Bill Morland of North Bay, Ont.

In his quarter-final match, Butler ran away with a 6 and 5 victory over Winnipeg's George Knudson, the 1955 Canadian junior champion and a member of the Manitoba Willingdon Cup team this year.

Butler faces Magee, and Norman matches strokes with Miles in the 36-hole semi-finals here today. The survivors will play 36 holes for the championship Saturday.

After the ailing Magee had taken a three-hole lead over the first six, Sanders rallied to capture the 7th, 8th and 9th and stay at the back nine all even.

Magee got one back on the 10th when Sanders three-putted. On the 12th Sanders cupped a 4-foot birdie putt to square the match.

Sanders went one up on the 14th after Magee drove into the deep rough and conceded. The turning point came on the par-three, 210-yard 15th. Magee putted in a 15-footer from just off the edge of the green for a birdie-two. Sanders drove into a trap and chipped out short.

They halved the 16th in par, and Magee, slicing slightly because of his injury, rolled his 17th-hole drive onto the 18th fairway.

He made a tremendous recovery, driving 180 yards to four feet from the pin. His putt was good for a birdie three. Sanders missed a 15-foot birdie putt and Magee had his lead.

Their second shots were both into the sand at the elevated 18th green.

Magee, chipped the ball two feet from home. Sanders' chip shot was eight feet past the pin. His putt rolled to the cup, hung on the edge for what seemed to be a full half-minute, then dropped. But Magee made no mistake as he holed out to preserve his winning edge.

It was the second time Magee had defeated the Miami Beach insurance salesman. Sanders bowed to Toronto's best in the second round of the U. S. national amateur at Richmond, Va., in 1955.

"This was my best golf of the week," Magee said. "I'm a little tired right now, but you can't help but feel good after defeating the Canadian Open champion."

The Norman-Meister match in the third round was the first stiffest test Norman had all week. Leading by only one hole after 15, Norman three-putted the 16th green and lost his advantage.

Meister holed an eight-foot putt on the 17th green to stay in contention. Both parred the tough 18th and the 19th.

Marlene Stewart And Rae Milligan Win Way Into Semi-Finals With Two Americans For Ladies' Open Crown

WINNIPEG, —(CP)— A Canadian-American final was assured at the end of the third-round matches Thursday in the Canadian women's open golf championship at Lniakwa Country Club.

Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., and Pat Lesser of Seattle posted victories in the eights to move into one semi-final set while defending champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., and Rae Milligan of Jasper, Alta., gained berths in the other.

Two of the matches went to the 18th green before a winner was declared, with Miss Bell winning one up over Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., and Miss Lesser turning aside a determined Betty Stanhope of Edmonton, Canadian junior champion, two up, Miss Stewart sided with Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md., on the 16th green with a 3 and 2 triumph, while Miss Milligan scored a fairly easy 4 and 3 win over Virginia Denney of Lake Forest, Ill.

Today's semi-final will be over

Royals Edge Bears 8-7 To Win Crown

Ray Dorey's Royals edged out the Bears 8-7 last night to win the championship of the P.O.N.Y. League in the third and deciding game.

The Bears had moved into an early lead in the third when they shoved across six runs for a 6-2 advantage and seemed well on their way to cop the decision. In the fifth the Royals managed to get two runs but the Bears tallied one in the lower half of the frame.

In the sixth the Royals bunched three hits coupled with a costly error by Stromach to cross the plate four times an ensure themselves of the victory.

Robert Coates drove home the winning run with his sixth inning triple. Pete Welsh tripled in the third for the Bears while Gary Moore homered for the Royals in the first frame.

Nugent struckout twelve and gave up only eight hits while the losers collected seven off the offerings of Robinson and Coates. The Royals committed three errors while the winners were charged with two. Gary Moore was the best for the champions with three-for-four.

Germany Enters Team In Tuna Tournament

WEDGEPORT, N. S. — (CP) — Count Rule von Bismarck, a great grandson of Germany's history-making chancellor, Prince Otto von Bismarck, will captain the German team in the 13th International Tuna Cup match here Sept. 12-14.

The team will be one of three new ones in this year's competition. Peru and Portugal will also compete for the first time.

Other teams, two more than last year, are: Argentina, the British Commonwealth, Cuba, Mexico, the U. S. and Venezuela.

Germany's team will probably be the smallest at the match. A team may consist of not less than and not more than seven men. Three boats are assigned to each team and since only one angler can be fighting a fish in any boat, the three-man team has as good a chance as the others if the tuna the striking well.

18 holes while the final Saturday will be a 36-hole affair.

All winners were shooting close to par golf Thursday when their matches wound up. They were again aided by sunny weather and mid-70 temperatures that have continued since the three-day Canadian women's close championship started a week ago.

Mrs. Glick, four down to Miss Stewart after seven holes, cut the margin to two at the turn as she won the eighth and ninth. They split the next four holes, with Marlene winning the 10th and 12th and Mrs. Glick the 11th and 13th. After halving the next two, Miss Stewart, hitting hard and straight, scored a game-deciding birdie-four on the 501-yard 16th.

Although hitting shorter than usual on her wood, Miss Milligan, runner-up last week to Miss Stewart in the close, had little difficulty with Miss Denney.

Alouettes Wallop Blue Bombers 34-7 For Third Win Of Season; "The Rifle" Was In Good Form

MONTREAL — (CP) — Montreal Alouettes turned on the power in the second and third quarters for all their scoring Thursday, in defeating Winnipeg Blue Bombers 34-7, the third win by the Montrealers over western teams in pre-season exhibition football.

The Bombers, who lost to Hamilton Tiger-Cats Tuesday, held Alouettes scoreless in the opening quarter but marches of 100 yards and 85 yards in the second quarter shot the Als in front.

With Sam Eteverry in pitching form and his campering backfield ready to help, Als rolled up three more touchdowns in the third quarter before Eteverry called it a day.

From here on the Montreal second stringers—both along the line and in the backfield—were given plenty of work.

Eagle Day, the Bombers' new quarterback from Mississippi, was the standout for the westerners and he matched his good passing performance with a 23-yard touchdown sprint in the fourth quarter.

Montreal's five touchdowns were spread among Red Q'Quinn, Bob James, Pat Abbruzzi, Bob Pascal and George Brancato.

United States Players Cop Two Of Three Open Juvenile Crowns; John Bassett Upset By Moglen

OTTAWA — (CP) — United States players took two of three open juvenile crowns decided on the third last day of the eighth annual Canadian junior tennis championships Thursday.

The men's doubles final, which pitted Rod Laver, Brisbane, Australia, and Gerald Dubie, Hamtramck, Mich., against Wayne Peacock, Wauwatosa, Wis., and Joe Epkins, Pekin, Ill., was postponed by rain. Two other matches also were delayed.

Champions were crowned in the juvenile girls singles and doubles and juvenile boys doubles, leaving five finals to be completed today.

A Canada-United States boys competition will be held on Saturday, featuring the best in the New England states against the top Canadian boys in the current championships.

Carrie Heldman of Hamtramck, Mich., captured the juvenile girls singles title with an easy 6-0, 6-1 victory over Helen Doucet of Liverpool, N. S.

Miss Heldman and her sister Julie were upset 6-4, 10-8 by the Winnipeg pair of Marie Stubbs and Nancy O'Brien in the juvenile doubles final.

Louis Leprohon, winner of the closed juvenile boys singles, reached the open final with a 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Ottawa's Melville Bower.

In the junior men's singles, Laver, Lloyd Moglen, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Ray Senkowski, Hamtramck, Mich., and Neil Drury, St. Louis, Mo., battle it out today in the semi-finals, with the winners meeting in the finals.

Lloyd Moglen defeated the top-seeded Canadian John Bassett of Toronto 6-3, 6-4.

Capt. H. J. Orphen-Smellie, a member of the senior British rifle team who has competed in a number of international matches, pumped 30 consecutive bullets into the black, firing 10 rounds from each of the 200-, 500- and 600-yard ranges.

A northeast wind and a hot sun beat down on the Connaught rifle ranges near Ottawa as the British team bested the efforts of some 300 other marksmen.

Jones' seven-hitter, in which he walked only two, skidded Cincinnati three percentage points behind Brooklyn and left both three games behind first-place Milwaukee.

In the American League, Willard Nixon, a Georgian who has made a career of knocking off the damn Yankees, kept New York hitless for seven innings and wound up with a two-hit victory as the Boston Red Sox dumped the league leaders on Jackie Jensen's two-run homer.

Second-place Cleveland, now 9 1/2 games back, defeated Detroit 5-4 while the Chicago White Sox stayed 2 1/2 games behind third-place Boston with a 6-5 decision over Kansas City. Baltimore and Washington were not scheduled.

Solly Drake socked a pair of RBI doubles for the Cubs, his second breaking a 2-all tie in a two-run seventh off Brooks Lawrence, who was tagged for 12 hits in losing his sixth against 16 victories. Dee Fondy homered for the Cubs while rookie Frank Robinson, who fanned four times, hit his 27th for the Redlegs.

Yogi Berra's eighth-inning single broke up Nixon's no-hitter and also ended a string of 9 2/3 hitless innings run up by the

Bungalows by Burro

The United Nations estimates that 150 million families in underdeveloped areas lack adequate housing.

One answer is a frameless, build-it-yourself house designed by Canadians of Canadian aluminum. It needs no foundation; is non-corrosive and verminproof; is so lightweight that it is packed in cartons easily carried by plane, jeep or even burro.

The Colombian government has ordered 3,200 of them to help relieve the shortage of rural housing in that South American country. So it's not surprising, with aluminum travelling so far and doing so much, that Alcan is again increasing its smelting capacity in both Quebec and British Columbia.

21 SAVE STROKES

By CRAIG WOOD

When a golfer starts into his long irons—the two, particularly—it seems topped shots crop up more than any place else.

The reasons are simple. As a rule, he plays the two iron too much off the left foot. The straight face of the club causes him to worry about getting the ball into the air, so he tries to pick it up with his body.

This can be corrected if Mr. Average Golfer uses instruction properly. The two iron should be played from a spot just ahead of the center line between the feet.

Mr. Average Golfer has to have confidence in the club. Don't worry about it picking up the ball into the air, so he tries to pick it up with his body. It is an excellent club for distances of from 175 to 200 yards.

You use less of a pivot than with woods, so taking the club back as far as a wood is not good for the average player.

He should have a firm grip and take the ball before the divot.

Irons are used for getting the ball on the green, back on the fairway or in good position for the next shot. A complete set is numbered through nine. The numbers signify the pitch, loft or angle of each club. The one drives the ball very low, consequently sends it a great distance, while the nine lofts the ball sharply.

The respective results are produced only when all the clubs are used in exactly the same manner. (NEA.)

Tom Dublinski May Be Lost To Argos For Season

TORONTO — Quarterback Tom Dublinski, Canada's highest paid football player, may be lost to Toronto Argonauts for most of the Big Four season and possibly for all of it.

The knee injury he suffered in Argos' exhibition game against British Columbia Lions in Vancouver Monday night is more serious than first admitted by club officials. Coach Bill Swiacki has clamped a veil of secrecy around the exact nature of the injury, reported to be a torn outside ligament of the right knee. Unconfirmed reports Thursday said that the league's leading passer in 1955 might not be ready for at least the first six games of this season.

Dublinski, who signed a two-year no-cut contract in 1955 at $17,500 a season, was unable to walk unassisted when the team arrived back from Vancouver.

Furgol, Burke Lead Milwaukee Open Golf Event

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Ed Furgol and Jackie Burke cracked the Tripoli course record with seven-under-par 63s Thursday to take the first round lead in the $35,000 Milwaukee Open golf tournament.

Besides Furgol and Burke, 42 other pros and two amateurs under-par 63s Thursday to take the first round lead in the $35,000 Milwaukee Open golf tournament.

One stroke back of the leaders with course-record equalling 64s were Jim Turnesa, 1952 PGA champion from Spring Valley, N.Y., and Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif.

Two behind was Babe Lichardus of Hillside, N.J., with a 65. Al Balding of Toronto and Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, had 66s.

Cliff Lumsden Completes Juan de Fuca Swim

First Person Ever To Swim From Canada To United States; Makes Crossing In 11 Hrs. And 35 Mins.

VICTORIA — (CP) — Toronto's powerful Cliff Lumsden today became the first person ever to swim mighty Juan de Fuca strait from Canada to the United States.

Lumsden covered the 18.3 miles from Victoria to Green Point, five miles east of Port Angeles, Wash., in 11 hours and 35 minutes. It was his first try.

Lumsden's attack on the strait came with very little prior notice. Apparently the almost perfect weather, conditions which prevailed brought a sudden decision to make the effort.

The strait had been beaten only once before — from the other direction — by Bert Thomas of Tacoma, Wash., who finished on July 8, 1955 in 11 hours and 17 minutes.

The 210-pound Lumsden, who appeared to weaken about three miles from his goal, drew on some reserve well of power for the last few hundred yards and sprinted through the water to the rocky beach. He touched shore at 1:34 a.m. PDT (5:34 a.m. ADT).

Far from exhausted, he then turned and swam a few feet back to the coaching vessel where a hot bath and solid food awaited him.

The marathon ace's endurance throughout the swim was almost unbelievable and had radio broadcasters and newspaper men reaching for adjectives to describe the effort.

The 25-year-old Lumsden stood to make no financial gain when he set out on the swim.

Lumsden, five times winner of the Canadian National exhibition's Lake Ontario swim and winner of the 26-mile Atlantic City marathon this year, was never in trouble during the swim which began at Horseshoe Bay before 2 p.m. PDT (6 p.m. ADT) Thursday.

Weather and water conditions were ideal and the water, which warmed to 55 degrees for a while, stayed a flat calm the full time.

Lumsden, like Marilyn Bell, who failed last week in her first bid to swim the strait, is a protégé of Gus Ryder, coach at Toronto's Lakeshore Swimming Club.

Lumsden started his swim, the 64th attempt on the strait, with a racing 60-64 stroke.

Navigator Capt. Elice Cavin, who plotted Marilyn Bell's course last week, said Lumsden was right on schedule.

The three-hour mark saw him about 6 1/2 miles out, cutting easily through 53-degree water. Ryder had ordered his stroke down to 58 by this time.

Miss Bell, for whom Lumsden acted as a pacer last week, returned the favor. She was in and out of the water several times from 11:30 p.m. on.

Lumsden was only about three miles from the Washington shore when fatigue appeared to set in. His stroke slowed to about 54 and became ragged.

Drops Proposed Women's Swim Across Ontario

NIAGARA - ON - THE - LAKE, Ont. — Shipbuilder Lloyd Shepherd said Thursday he has dropped plans for a proposed $15,000 women's race across Lake Ontario this year. He announced the swim only Wednesday.

Such a race, he said, would interfere with a $27,000 marathon winding up on the Toronto waterfront scheduled for Aug. 27. "If I go ahead with my swim," he said, "they may have no women in their race. We'll shelve our race till mid-July, 1957."

$27,000 Lake Ontario Swim To Be Limited To Ten Starters, States Bill Harwood; Bill Connor In

TORONTO — (AP) — A projected $27,000 Lake Ontario marathon swim late this month will be restricted to 10 top-notch swimmers considered capable of completing the 32-mile course, William Harwood, swim committee chairman said Thursday.

Mr. Harwood told a press conference the restricted entry list might cause disappointments but that it is necessary for safety reasons.

While the participant, to be selected on past performance, are not to be announced until Aug. 23, deadline for entries, it is believed Brenda Fisher, who swam the lake this week, Tom Park, Greta Anderson, Winnie Roach and Billy Connor will be among them. More than 30 applications have been received.

The chairman said the swim, starting from Niagara-on-the-Lake Aug. 27, 28 or 29, will not go unless the RCMP share in supervision but, he said, the police have assured him of support.

Bedford Prepares For 127th Annual Fair Opening

Several New Attractions Ready For Monday Opening Of 3-Day Fair

BEDFORD — The 127th annual Bedford Fair, sponsored by the Missisquoi County Agricultural Society opens here Monday with several new attractions planned for this year's three-day event.

Entries for this exhibition, one of the oldest in the Townships have been coming in well, and Alfred Rousseau, secretary-treasurer expects an all-round good fair. With stock competition and horticultural entries about average, the Women's department entries are heavier than for some time.

Something new has been added to the fair this year. In the place of a grandstand show, there will be square dance competitions in front of the grandstand both Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. This program, bringing a bit of the old fair spirit back into the exhibition, will be divided into many interesting classes to make up an entertaining program.

Running between the square dances each afternoon will be the popular horse races, with several district horses helping to make up a large schedule of heats.

To be repeated again this year will be an opening night wrestling program, when three exciting bouts will be held in the arena, starting at eight o'clock sharp. On tap for the event will be Yvon Robert, Edouard Carpentier, M. Hito, Larry Moquin, Joe (Killer) Christie, and Frank Valois.

Opening day will also be Children's Day, when scores of youngsters are expected to take advantage of the free admission and reduced rates on the midway. Engaged for the three days this year is Green's Midway and Shows, which with many added attractions should provide fun galore for everyone.

Tuesday will be Calf Club Day when the younger farmers and breeders take over for their own program. The event will be attended by clubs from Cowansville, St. Armand and St. Philippe, who are scheduled to arrive early morning. Judging competition will start at eleven o'clock, showmanship at one and the heifer classes at three.

In the Junior Department, special prizes are also being offered again this year by the Bedford Farm Forum to boys and girls that are non members of official calf clubs. Open to all children between the ages of eight and 15, class judging will be held at five o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Later Tuesday night, the cattle parade will be held in the arena, with a repeat stock parade scheduled for Wednesday afternoon in front of the grandstand.

There will also be maple products and vegetables.

An ardent exhibitor since the day he began, Mr. Soule admitted they tried to enter as many classes as possible, even if it was just for the fun of it.

The judging program is as follows: Monday, one o'clock: horses, grade cattle, beef cattle, Jersey, Guernseys, Canadian cattle, sheep and swine, crops, vegetables and flowers, handi-crafts, canning, cooking, etc., horticultural society exhibits, and Boys' Calf Club.

Tuesday, nine o'clock: Holsteins and Ayrshires — dry classes, 4H clubs; two o'clock, Holsteins and Ayrshires, cows in milk and group classes.

Soule Family Captures Large Share Of Prizes

BEDFORD — When Mystisdale Farms enters Bedford Fair each year, the whole Soule family gets in the act. And invariably, everyone of them returns home with his share of prize-money.

This year will be no different for R. F. Soule and sons, Winston and Stanley, who have dedicated several weeks to preparing for the annual event, held Aug. 20, 21 and 22.

Mr. Soule, who has lived at Mystisdale for 40 years, has been a director of the Missisquoi County Agricultural Society for many years, and a member of the society for 50 years. A successful farmer who has never missed a year at Bedford Fair, Mr. Soule thinks exhibiting has many advantages apart from the prize-money.

Prime prize-getters for the Soules for several years now have been their registered Holstein herd. Starting out with a bull 35 or 40 years ago, Mystisdale went into Holstein breeding extensively about 20 years ago. They expect to take 18 or 20 head to the fair this year.

Always top prize winners of the Soule farm have been several of their registered and grade calves, some of which will be exhibited this year. One of these is Mamie, a four-month old heifer, to show in the under six month class. Interesting feature of this animal is that it was sired by Brown's Master Artist, one of the products of artificial insemination.

Apart from cattle to be shown at Bedford will go two six-year old sows and a litter of ten. These are the property of Winston Soule who has been raising pigs for 15 years. He now has about 35.

In past years his two sows have placed first and second at the fair and are expected to do equally as well this year. During the summer the two have given birth to a total of 34 pigs, including a seven week old litter and a three week old litter.

Along with pigs and cattle, Mystisdale expects to exhibit many farm products. First among these will be the apples with which the Soules have managed to carry off several firsts in past years.

Bedford Flower Prizes Usually Split By Neighbors

Two Bedford Ladies Share Major Awards

BEDFORD — A little friendly competition never hurt anyone, even if it's between neighbors. And two Bedford ladies should know, for they have been running neck and neck for honors at the Bedford Fair for the past four years.

The ladies in question are Mrs. Mildred Short and Mrs. John Cook, two annual exhibitors in the horticultural department at the fair. Whether it's their green thumbs or the nature of the Academy Street land matters little to these ladies, except for the fact that with this combination, they've managed to carry off all the flower prizes at the fair.

The more veteran fairgoer of the two is Mrs. Short, who's been active in the horticultural society ever since it started and recalls days when flower showing at the fair meant an open exhibit of your gardens. Although she has always shown an active interest in the fair and has been attending annually, it was just four years ago that she started exhibiting flowers. And from the first, she's been most successful.

Like many others, Mrs. Short has suffered a poor gardening year. With the fair so early and the season so late, she isn't too certain whether to enter cut flowers. But her large house plant collection will be on display for sure.

Besides flowers, Mrs. Short has also entered garden vegetables and fancy work. This week's weather will make a difference about the vegetable

FLOWER COMPETITORS — Mrs. Mildred Short and Mrs. John Cook, Bedford neighbors, are annual competitors for the flower prizes at Bedford Fair. Both ladies have been exhibiting for only four years, but between the two, they have managed to walk off with all the flower honors. House plants and collections will be their main exhibits this year. Mrs. Short, a former officer in the Horticultural Society, is shown in the top photo, taken in her large garden. While Mrs. Cook, is shown in the lower photo tending some of her collection. (Photos by Gerry Lemay) showing for this year, but already a few things are ready for the fancy work exhibit.

"I can't do everything. And since I'd rather be outside and don't really relish cooking, I'll just stick to flowers."

Next door neighbor, Irene Cook is much like Mrs. Short in many ways. Exhibiting at the annual fair is quite new to her for she has been doing it for only four years, but like her neighbor, has come home with a lot of prizes.

Her specialty as well is a magnificent collection of house plants. A whole section of Mrs. Cook's living room is devoted to her collection of African violets and cactus plants, of which she has innumerable varieties. The violet collection has been going for five years while Mrs. Cook started collecting cactus 20 years ago.

A busy housewife and mother of three boys, ranging in ages from two to ten years old, Mrs. Cook admits that keeping up her collection has always meant a lot of work for her, but it's her hobby and pleasure.

Last year, her collection, cut flowers and ferns brought her several first prizes and although the exhibit won't be so extensive this year, she will probably do just as well.
