THE AMENDED BILL

Chancellor Von Caprivi Presents the Measure.

It is the Old Army Bill With Freiherr Von Huene's Suggestion Incorporated—The Strength of the Army as Proposed Under the New Scheme Now Presented.

Berlin, July 7.—When the new Reichstag met to-day, nearly all the members were in their places and the galleries were crowded. Immediately after the formal opening of the House was concluded, Chancellor Von Caprivi ascended the tribune, and in a long speech, introduced the amended measure. He stated that the present form of the Bill represented the minimum that the Government would accept in men or money. The Government demands the lowest possible consistent with the safety of the empire.

FROM THE CAPITAL

An Important Appointment—Mr. Moffatt Was Focused Out.

[Special to The Herald.]
Ottawa, July 7.—Robert Vennings, of the Marine and Fisheries department, returned to-day from the Atlantic coast, where he was engaged on the commission appointed to look into the fishery operations there and on the great lakes, with a view of adopting uniform laws by Canada and the United States so as to better preserve the fisheries in the interests of both countries. He was recalled by the Government here owing to his appointment by the Imperial authorities to go to the Russian seal fisheries in Behring sea with a view to reporting on the condition of affairs there. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell informed The Herald to-day that he was not sure when Vennings would leave, as the arrangements had not yet been completed between the export governments.

REPLY OF RUSSIA.

How the Complaint of Canadian Sealers is Treated.

The Charges of Brutal Treatment to the Crews of the Seized Vessels Disposed of in a Manner Entirely Satisfactory to Themselves—Schooners Confiscated.

Ottawa, July 7.—The reply of the Russian Government to the protest of the Canadian sealers seized by Russian authorities, which was forwarded through the British Government, has been received. In regard to the charges of brutal treatment made against the naval officers by the crews of the seized sealers, a commission appointed for the purpose of enquiring into the officers, but lay the blame on the Russian civil authorities at Petropavlovsk, against whom, the commissioners say, the aggrieved parties seek redress in the ordinary course of the law.

Fort Dodge, Iowa, July 7.—Pomery, a town of nine hundred inhabitants, in Calhoun County, was practically destroyed last evening by a cyclone. Between fifty and one hundred persons were killed and nearly two hundred injured. Many of the injured will die. The utmost confusion followed the advent of the storm, and it was several hours before the condition of affairs was known. A relief train was sent out as soon as possible over the Illinois Central Railroad with physicians, tents and supplies.

ENTIRE FAMILIES DISAPPEAR.
Sioux City, Iowa, July 7.—A telegram from Fonda states that five entire families were blown away at Alla. D. T. Miller is known to have been killed. Mrs. Gordon was killed instantly by the wreck of her house, and nothing can be found of the family of seven. No trace can be found of Edward Sargeant and family of five. They are supposed to be dead. Sam Sherman, wife, and two children are missing. All were blown away and are thought to be dead. Trains arriving from the east on the Illinois Central Railroad came into Sioux City last night with all the glass in the cars broken. Trainsmen say they ran through a severe hail storm, but encountered no great wind.

MONEY IS EASIER.

The Period of Reasoning Has Arrived, Hence the Result.

New York, July 7.—President J. Edward Simmons, of the Fourth National bank, in an interview said to-day: "While I cannot say whether or not values are going to improve immediately, I can say that conditions are much better. The period of the panic has passed. Money is working easier. The stringency was largely due to temporary loss of reason on the part of everybody, and now the period of deliberation and common sense has arrived. Money ought to accumulate at this centre until the crop movement period arrives. The improvement is in financial circles. We have weathered the dangerous headland of July disbursements without any unexpected default on the part of our great corporations, or conspicuous failures among our mercantile houses. Nothing now stands in the way of steady improvement except some uncertainty with regard to financial legislation by Congress."

THE FRENCH OPERA.

The new venture in the opera line is promising well.

The new venture in the opera line is promising well. The announcement made in The Herald columns two weeks ago that the Theatre Francaise company, of Montreal, had taken the Empire Theatre and proposed to produce standard French operas has been most warmly received. The management has not been disappointed in the expectation that the English lovers of high-class music will support the venture. Of 214 seats reserved for the "galas soiree" evenings, 190 have already been secured by English-speaking residents. The troupe of Parisian artists, especially engaged for the season, will start from Paris on September 14th and leaving Liverpool by the Beaver line steamer "Lake Superior" will reach Montreal on September 24th. Special arrangements have been made with regard to prices. The same scale obtains as is the custom in Paris. On Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays regular prices of the season are not charged, and on Fridays students presenting their cards at the office, 1637 Notre Dame street, will receive tickets at half price. Saturday's prices will be at popular rates. The success of the season, which is now assured, is a brilliant success of high-class music is assured the opera-loving public of Montreal.

NEGLECTING HER CHILD.

Deputy High Constable Lambert arrested one Nellie Kearns, wife of William Kearns, on a warrant charging her with criminal neglect of her six months old child. Lambert also had a warrant for the husband, but he managed to get wind of the officers coming and slipped out of the back door. The case is a pitiful one. Both of the parents are addicted to drink and go on prolonged sprees, during which the infant is left to starve in their squalid apartment and when found by the officers was in a most emaciated condition, being almost dead. The mother was committed to jail as will be the father, when Lambert expects to get hold of them to-day is over.

The excursionists will leave the Bonaventure station in a special train at 6.15 a.m. on the morning of the 12th, and will be met at Prescott by the oranges and escorted, with bands playing and colors flying, to the hotel.

60,000,000 marks in a lump sum. Of this amount 61,000,000 was to have appeared in the budget for the financial year 1893-94. The annually recurring expenditure was fixed at 65,000,000 marks. When the new system should have been fully developed, Germany would have in time of war a trained army of 4,400,000 men, practically until 70,000 men, raised gradually to the full number demanded, should be added to the standing army. It was proposed that the sixty batteries of field artillery should have four instead of six guns each. The bill as thus amended had been rejected, the Reichstag dissolved and new elections called, and now the Government submitted to the new House a measure that in its details was practically the old Hense compromise bill.

MONTREAL, SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1893. A NEW ROAD TO JOURNALISM.

Journalism lived long in the unwholesome atmosphere of Bohemia. It was for generations the last resort for men who had been broken and beggared in other pursuits. For so much of life as remained to them they were ready to work for no less than a pittance than would suffice to keep the breath in their bodies. They took thought of nothing but the sale of so much manuscript as would bring them their daily food and drink, and, if the chronicles of the beginning and middle of the century may be believed, they were not too gravely concerned about the food.

But here is a worthy outlet for the generosity of the patrons of the Canadian universities. It would be peculiarly characteristic of the enterprise of old McGill, if, through the exalted patriotism of some one of her many benefactors, she should be the first of the Canadian universities to move in a matter in which the interest of the entire community is so closely wrapped up. The establishment of some system of encouragement to students who might be desirous of entering journalism the awarding of prizes upon some such lines as those which the New York Herald has laid down, or better still, the establishment of a course of lectures upon the manifold applications of the conscientious, the industrial and the successful journalist would be an enterprise in which the university might take the highest pride and which might work to the great good of Canadian journalism and of the Canadian people.

HUNT THE MURDERER DOWN. In spite of the old adage "that murder will out," cases in which the perpetrators of the crime are never brought to justice are by no means uncommon. Still in all, or nearly all such instances, the quest is not given up till every possible clue has been examined and sometimes years have been spent in the search. Besides all this, the incidents of the case are jotted down in the notebooks of many detectives and the reward offered is generally of sufficient magnitude to induce them to examine into any stray piece of evidence they may come across in the regular prosecution of their duties.

The Edy tragedy which so horrified the people of this province early last month seems already to have been allowed to drop into the category of mysterious crimes the further tracing of which interests no man. From the first, there seems to have been a number of circumstances favoring the escape, the criminal. First there was the absurd theory of suicide started, diverting the attention of the authorities on the spot from the search for the perpetrator and readily accepted by those as relieving them from much responsibility. As a correspondent of a local paper puts it "to make the suicide theory harmonize, Mr. Edy must first have killed his wife and daughter, put a bullet through his own brain, set fire to the house, and then have deliberately swallowed the revolver, as no trace of it could be found." As the post-mortem did not proceed to the length of ascertaining the contents of Mr. Edy's stomach there was some ground left for all this tissue of improbabilities. Unfortunately the suicide theory and the absence of any one in authority to direct the search, and the length of ascertaining the contents of Mr. Edy's stomach there was some ground left for all this tissue of improbabilities.

But The Herald says on the other hand, and with much truth of American journalism: "The old fashion of selecting men for newspaper work with small regard for their general education and their ability to write the English language correctly and in good taste is passing away. Inevitably, however, the number of college graduates employed by the leading newspapers of America has increased to such an extent as to be noticeable in the style and quality of news reports and other departments. The growing power of journalism and its relations to the formation of public opinion and the maintenance of good government in a republic are such that there is an imperative necessity for greater accuracy and broader culture in newspaper writers."

vice in business life. The systems pursued by several of the American universities have fostered specialism of another sort. They have made it possible for students in a limited time to complete thorough courses in those studies which have seemed most desirable. This system might be adopted to peculiar advantage in Canada. It has been the fashion among the graduates of the Canadian universities to devote themselves either to the church, to medicine, or to law. Few of them have embarked in mercantile ventures and the era of college trained newspapermen hardly be said to have fairly begun. Graduates of Toronto in respectable numbers have indeed joined the ranks of the journalists of Ontario but their influence has not yet been great enough to effect that improvement of which Canadian journalism undoubtedly stands in need. The Canadian universities have overworked the three professions without giving a proper breadth to the higher education of the Canadian people. Provisions for convenient instruction upon such a curriculum as the New York Herald lays down, courses in political science, English literature, and kindred subjects, might be made to the immense advantage of many men who desire something more than a public or high school education in preparation for a mercantile life. Such a course, in default of a more complete system for the training of newspaper men would be an admirable one for those who are ambitious to embark upon the agitated waters of journalism.

But here is a worthy outlet for the generosity of the patrons of the Canadian universities. It would be peculiarly characteristic of the enterprise of old McGill, if, through the exalted patriotism of some one of her many benefactors, she should be the first of the Canadian universities to move in a matter in which the interest of the entire community is so closely wrapped up. The establishment of some system of encouragement to students who might be desirous of entering journalism the awarding of prizes upon some such lines as those which the New York Herald has laid down, or better still, the establishment of a course of lectures upon the manifold applications of the conscientious, the industrial and the successful journalist would be an enterprise in which the university might take the highest pride and which might work to the great good of Canadian journalism and of the Canadian people.

this country, of this province, of this Dominion, spend a few paltry dollars to find it. At least an effort would tend to restore public confidence in law and protection." This appeal should have the endorsement of every lover of law and order. It is in the interest of every home, and though the cities generally have a pretty effectual system of police protection, and the active service of trained men for the detection of every crime occurring within their own boundaries, still citizens may be excused a creepy and uncomfortable feeling at the very idea that the perpetrator of such a tragedy as the Edy murders may be moving around quietly in their neighborhood probably meditating his next stroke of business.

FINDLAY, OHIO, has been going into the gas making business on its own account and the first year's balance sheet of the new department seems eminently satisfactory to them. The trustees show that during the year ending April 1, the net profits of the gas office were $56,000. This amount is exclusive of $5,500 on some technical account could not be included in this year's business. During the year $20,000 was also spent on new pipe lines and mains, thus adding that amount to the capital value. The account does not state whether the gas department had also paid interest on cost of plant and buildings, whether in fact the business had, so to call it, paid its own rent and taxes before counting profits. There needs however, no further demonstration at this time of day that the supply of gas, water, and electric lighting, and power in the hands of the city, when well administered are highly profitable.

AQUATICS.

A Gala Night at St. Lambert.

A very novel event took place at St. Lambert last night, in the shape of an illuminated parade of the boats of the club, each boat in line being beautifully rigged up with Chinese lanterns, torches, etc. Mr. T. A. Healy acting as marshal. Quite a number of members from the Longueuil and LaSalle boat clubs were present. The parade was started about 8.30 and rounded the bay opposite the club house, which lasted about an hour. There was an impromptu concert given on the club barge, enclosed off from shore. Chorus had been well arranged by Mr. Geo. Turton and Angus Orr, who conducted the singing, which was well rendered by the younger members of the club.

At about ten o'clock dancing was started in the club house till midnight, which brought an end to one of the most enjoyable affairs that has ever taken place in this place.

The Henley Regatta.

London, July 7.—This was the last day of the Henley regatta. In the final round for the Steward's cup of the Magdalene College Rowing Club boat the crew of the Thames Rowing Club by a length and a quarter.
For the grand challenge cup the crew of the Leander Rowing Club were pitted against the London Rowing Club crew. The Leanders had a slight lead at the start and before half the course had been traversed they had quite a stretch of water between themselves and their opponents. The London crew finished a length and three-quarters astern of the leaders.
G. E. Kennedy of the Kensington Rowing club, and F. B. Biddington, of the Thames Rowing club, were matched against each other in the final round for the diamond sculls. Kennedy showed himself the superior oarsman, and won the race as he expected.

Cornell vs. Pennsylvania.

Lake Minnetonka, Minn., July 7.—Everything is in readiness for the great struggle between Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania for aquatic supremacy on Lake Minnetonka, to-morrow evening. Thomas Hunter, of Philadelphia, will act with Referee West for Pennsylvania and George Schofield for Cornell, M. G. Mackey, Pennsylvania, and Commodore Hageman, Cornell, will hold watches. Cornell will have first choice of position and course. This is the first inter-collegiate event ever rowed on Lake Minnetonka, and the people of Minnesota and St. Paul are taking great interest in it. The Pennsylvanians are now the favorites. They will step into their shell a shade heavier than Cornell.

The St. Anne's Regatta.

The St. Anne's Boating Club will hold its annual regatta on Saturday, July 15. The program of races includes fifteen events, of which water polo and war canoe races form a part. Entries close on Wednesday, July 12, and should be addressed to L. N. Duval, hon.-sec'y, 240 St. Lawrence street.

A Trophy For Lachine.

Mr. McGuire, the well-known proprietor of the G. T. R. refreshment rooms at Lachine, has presented a handsome silver cup to the Lachine Boating and Canoeing Club, for competition at their annual regatta, as a single scull one mile trophy.
The cup, which is now being made by the Simpson, Hall, Miller Co., will be 21 inches high, mounted on an ebony base, and represents a thistle supported by three ears of wheat in the center of which stands a sculler in rowing costume. The design is a very handsome one.

The Sorel Regatta.

The second annual regatta of the Sorel Yacht club takes place this afternoon. The program comprises 15 events, and as the entries are numerous the races should be well contested.

BI CYCLING.

Racing at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., July 7.—The Ottawa Bicycle Club members were out in force to-night at the Metropolitan grounds preparing for the Queen City Road race. Harvey also won the go-as-you-please, covering 20 miles in 1 hour 1 minute and 21 seconds; Parr second, 1 hour 4 minutes, and Elgin third, 1 hour 8 minutes.

FONTAINE'S FACE CREAM.

THE SKIN.

Nearly every person is more or less neglectful of the skin. The skin is provided with many pores and glands. The sebaceous glands supply the skin with an oily substance to keep it soft and smooth; without this the skin becomes chapped, dry and scaly. In this country the face and hands are exposed to the winds which disturb the proper action of the sebaceous glands and rough chapped face and hands follow. What nature is unprepared to do FONTAINE'S FACE CREAM artificially supplies. This preparation will cure the very worst case of roughness or chapping of the skin on any part of the face or body. It only requires a few applications to give the greatest proof of its value. We have many testimonials from the best-known ladies of Montreal, and we recommend it to all wishing an effective and inexpensive luxury for the toilet table. For sale by all druggists.

ROCK ASPHALTE AND BITHULITHIC FLOORS

* THESE FLOORS have a decided advantage over Portland Cement, being more durable, thoroughly damp-proof and rat-proof. The usual cemented cellars is little protection, the cement concrete having from 10 to 20 per cent, of its bulk composed of water when it is laid; as it dries out, the space occupied by the water is gradually occupied by air until the entire concrete is porous and offers little resistance to the passage of air or gases. Impossible as it may seem, it is an easily demonstrated fact, that through the best of concrete when dry, air can be blown readily by the ordinary power of the lungs.

The Rock Asphalt and Bithulithic Flooring is strongly recommended for Floors of Cellars, Warehouses, Factories, Mills, Sugar Refineries, Stables, Laundries, Kitchens, also for Roofs, Sidewalks, Tennis Courts and Carriageways.

A PHYSICIAN'S STORY. Dr. Lewis Blundin's Statement Under Oath.

Afflicted With Paralysis for Twenty-five Years—Pronounced Incurable by the Foremost Physicians in America—A Case of World Wide Interest.

Many survivors of the late war left the ranks unscathed, but with broken constitutions; an instance in point is Dr. Lewis D. Blundin, a resident of Hallowell, Me., U.S.A. In relating his experiences and what he has suffered in consequence of the hardships he has encountered Dr. Blundin said:—

"I was born at Bridgewater, Penna., in 1841, and went through the war as private, sergeant and hospital steward in Company C, 28 Pennsylvania Volunteers. My service was active, and while in Georgia I had an attack of typhoid fever, which left me weak and ready victim for future disease. My kidneys were then affected, and this finally developed into spinal trouble, which lasted through my army services. In 1866 I was mustered out with an honorable discharge and entered the Jefferson Medical College as a student. In the time I graduated and removed to Manayunk, Pa. One day, after I had graduated, I was lying on a sofa at my home in Manayunk, when I felt a cold sensation in my lower limbs as though the blood had suddenly left them. When I tried to move them I was horrified at the discovery that I was paralyzed from my hips to my toes. The paralysis was complete and a pin or a pinch of the flesh caused no pain. I could not move my arms, called in Dr. William Todd, of Philadelphia. He made a careful and exhaustive examination of my case, sounding and testing, and finally announced that my trouble was caused by inflammation of the spinal cord, and that I would likely have another stroke of paralysis. He consulted Dr. L. W. Gross and Dr. Peacock, of Jefferson College, Philadelphia, with the same result. I called in Dr. Moorehouse, of Philadelphia, who said that no amount of medicine would ever prove of the slightest benefit to me.

FAVORS SUNDAY CLOSING. President Palmer Will Use Every Effort to Accomplish It.

Chicago, July 6.—President T. W. Palmer, of the World's Fair, stirred up the World's Fair National Commission yesterday on the Sunday question. He urged the adoption of the Hourly-Tuesday resolution, which has for its purpose the closing of the gates on Sundays. President Palmer said: "I want to see this resolution adopted. We have put cases in an attitude of antagonism to the Congress that created this body. We are in a false position. I am sick and tired of the petty evasion, that pretends that the opening of the gates was in accordance with law. You know, as I know, that the report of the Sunday closing has never been in the courts. The only valid decision hinges on the jurisdiction, and not on the repeal of the rule. No matter as to that, the opening of the gates was in violation of faith, was done without sanction of law and has injured the good name of the commission. If the motion to adopt the resolution is lost now, I give notice that I shall move a re-consideration and keep it up as long as the commission sustains me. The original rule stands and will stand unless a majority of the commission sees fit to repeal it."

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL STORM. Great Damage Done to Crops Throughout Pennsylvania.

Reading, Pa., July 6.—This city was visited by a hail storm yesterday afternoon which for its intensity and extent is not previous storms of the kind since 1896. The storm originated about three miles west of Reading and covered a width of about four miles. Grain, corn, clover, flowers, gardens, grapes and other fruits were stripped off like leaves and the vineyards of Mount Penn are completely ruined. South of Reading, especially along the Schuylkill valley, the destruction of crops was very great, and in some places out crops, not yet cut, have been levelled to the ground and many of the fields were flooded.

At Birdsboro, hail fell to the depth of three inches, and in some places was piled up to a depth of nearly a foot. The stones were the size of hickory nuts and fell so rapidly that pedestrians in this city were driven from the sidewalks. Street car horses became unmanageable from the pelting hail and the drivers were compelled to stop the cars and seek shelter because of the hail striking them on the hands. In the southern part of the city many cellars were flooded and in some instances the water rushed through the buildings, ruining carpets, etc. The storm was accompanied by lightning, and at Royersford, trains were delayed twenty minutes by the tracks being flooded. A passenger train got into the storm at Phoenixville, and remained in it until it was near Bottstown. The storm is described as terrific, and the hail pelting the roofs of the cars caused quite a panic among the passengers. The storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning.

It is believed that the damage in the Schuylkill Valley will reach many thousands of dollars. The glass of the hotels and houses in this city, and in the track of the storm, were shattered, and thousands of young plants were ruined.

FINANCIAL.

Friday, July 7th. A little better feeling pervaded the local stock market this morning, although business was dull on account of the continued stringency in money.

Money is still very tight, and call loans are still quoted nominally at 6 to 7 per cent. It is the opinion of some that money will not be any easier for some weeks to come.

COMMERCIAL. Friday, July 7th. The wheat market in Chicago had a promising look at the opening, and the market started at a good advance, with cables from the outside fairly stiff.

On the curb in Chicago at 1:30 p.m., September wheat at 69 1/2 puts, and call at 70 1/2.

Locally wheat is about as quiet as ever, and little or no business is reported. In the West the markets are fairly active, and wheat at Fort William and North Bay moves quite freely.

The demand for wheat has not improved, and on today's market 10,000 bush. No. 2 white offered at 41c, and 10,000 bush. No. 2 mixed offered at 40c, export rate with buyers at 39c.

Concerning crop Mr. Prime in the Post says: "Illinois is beginning to need rain, and the demand for wheat is not making much growth this week."

The receipts of wheat in Liverpool for the past three days were 366,000 cwt., including 377,000 cwt. American. Corn, wheat and flour are all quiet.

Canadian peas were quoted 3d up to 5d. Berthou's cable to-day said: Cargoes off coast, 50s; present and following month, 49s; present and following month, 48s.

GRAIN—The market keeps just about the same, and prices are unchanged. In peas the demand is improved a little and quite a number of sales were made.

On call to-day, there were offered 10,000 No. 2 puts at 72 1/2, with 72c bid, and 10,000 No. 2 barley at 45c store. We quote as follows:

Table with columns: Description, Bid, Ask. Includes No. 2 hard Manitoba wheat, No. 3 hard, etc.

FLOUR—There is no material change in the flour market, but the demand still holds up firmly well. The export demand, however, is nothing to speak of, and buyers on the other side seem to be waiting developments.

MEAL—The meal market rules about steady, but trade still continues quiet, the demand being slow and showing no improvement.

FEED—There is no special change to note in feed, and the market is unchanged. Bran and shorts sell very well and stocks remain low, consequently prices are steady.

There was nothing done on call to-day. The receipts of produce in Montreal to-day were as follows:

Table with columns: Description, Quantity. Includes Butter, Eggs, Creamery, etc.

Butter in New York, if anything, is a little steadier, under rather light arrivals. Western creamery is fairly held at 22c.

CHEESE—The cheese market continues quiet, and the general movement small. There is not a great deal of stock on the market, but it appears to be sufficiently ample to meet present requirements.

The Liverpool public cable to-day said: The stock of cheese in Liverpool is 42,000 boxes, against 63,000 last year; but, but, 500 packages, against 600 last year.

DEALERS are getting pretty well tired of getting the same old cables, and it looks as though from 43c bid to 44c, is about the best English people can do.

THE CONVENTION'S THIRD DAY.

tion and experience that we are each the steward of the other, and that the provisions for rich and poor in the same field, are gathered in the same barn and ground in the same mill. Water for king and subject gushes from the same fountain. The same is true of the moral and religious teachers and leaders. Provisions for the soul are as ample as provisions for the body.

Organizations among men should be as broad as the wants of humanity. There should be no distinction between class and class, rich and poor, but every individual should be eligible to its benefits and protection.

WHAT SHOULD WE DO? and what can we do toward rescuing our young men and women from the influence of the world and wickedness? What can we do to make them better men and women, and assist them in doing more and better work for the Master in the coming years of their lives?

First, all men and women, old and young, who have passed from death unto life, should consecrate themselves to the work of saving men and women, and should become more loyal to Christ and the church.

Secondly, Every man and woman should feel and act as a Christian steward, in a church and community, feeling it to be a part of his religious duty to try to relieve the distressed, to bury the Christian dead in the honors of war, to care for the widows in distress, and to educate the orphan, thus fulfilling the law of love, which is to "love one another."

Thirdly, Every man and woman should become messengers of peace and good will between man and man, family and family, church and nation, and God and man, thus "being the broad highway" of the Christian Endeavor association which cultivates the feeling of good will between denomination and denomination.

Fourthly, Every member of the Christian Endeavor association should become one of God's stewards, and hold in trust, his time and his talents.

the school house door. In the freedom of suffrage which prevails in all constitutional governments are involved not a few serious possibilities of danger. An ignorant citizen is like a reckless miner with an uncovered light on his floor. The fire damp is all about him. John Milton wrote in the days of the English Commonwealth: "There is a poor blind Samson in this land, whose strength is not in his locks, but in the strength of his conscience."

This blind Samson is ignorance. Wherefore our fathers wisely established the common school, that the people might be princes they should be taught to rule. This institution is fundamental to our welfare. Withered be the hand that shall be raised to destroy it! The result of committing the elective franchise to the ignorant and unworthy was seen in the city of Chicago a few years ago, when a body of Anarchists, followed in their efforts to possess themselves of the control of municipal affairs, gathered in the Haymarket and assailed the officers of the law with dynamite. Seven of them justly suffered the penalty of death; but the infamous cause destroyed them in their effort to possess themselves of the control of municipal affairs, gathered in the Haymarket and assailed the officers of the law with dynamite.

The young men of the Christian churches are present; to bear the full responsibility of the welfare of the state. If they flinch or waver, in the hour of trial the generations of the future will execrate them. They are to be the men of the future, and the coming of the Lord shall be hastened in his time. They are already being put to crucial tests. God is asking with respect to current questions of political ethics, whether they will be true or not.

He hath sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat. He is the great leader of the hosts of men before his judgment seat. Oh, that every soul, to answer him, be jubilant, my feet. This closed the proceedings at the tent and after the singing of a hymn the meeting dispersed.

EVENING AT THE HALL. A Resolution Passed Favoring the Sunday Closing of the World's Fair. Much enthusiasm marked last evening's session at the C. E. Hall. During a momentary lull in the praise service the Ohio delegates, who had previously been quietly massing in the rear of the hall, had deviously stretched a massive banner across the rear of the centre row of chairs, came up the aisles carrying forward the "motto" and singing lustily "This shall be our watchword, Cleveland '94." The immense banner soon caught up the wind and the air, and catching it up, sent up a tremendous chorus along with their Ohio brethren, amid the waving of handkerchiefs and little flags. The motto was then fixed up permanently in the front of the hall.

Song service continued a little longer, when Mr. Baer stepped forward and announced that Rev. Dr. Harper, who was to have presided at the closing of the fair, had introduced Rev. James L. Hill, D.D., of Meaford, Mass., as the chairman. A resolution, sustaining Mr. Palmer, of Chicago, in the position he had taken with respect to the closing of the fair, was adopted. The closing of the fair on Sundays, in future, was read by Mr. Baer, and carried by a standing vote, which seemed absolutely unanimous. The text telegraphed is as follows:

At this juncture Rev. Mr. Hill stated that he had attended all these annual gatherings, except one, and he believed this was the best convention he had ever attended. He then introduced Rev. J. W. A. Henry, of San Francisco, who proceeded to make a very elaborate appeal to all to read the Bible, giving as reasons why we should read the Bible, that it is the word of God, it is the believers' book; it was written for his instruction, correction and reproval. It is the Christian's Magna Charta. We are to search the scriptures because it is the word of God, and it contains the wisdom of the ages. Its simplicity is enchanting, its spirit is pure, its service is sacred and sublime. It has been the inspiration of most heroes in life and most blessed in its influence upon the minds of men. Jesus searched the Scriptures in three languages—Arabic, Greek and Hebrew. He gave us the key to the scriptures in the Gospels of Moses and he quoted in the Gospels from two hundred and twenty different books of the Bible, making in all 141 quotations in his sayings. He quotes the Old Testament 89 times in the Gospels. He quoted the New Testament in the Gospels. He quoted the Scriptures that he might learn of his own way and for guidance to glory. The speaker here read a very amusing English boy's composition on Moses, which showed how much he had read of the Scriptures and that millions of boys have. The speech closed with an earnest appeal for more careful and searching study of the Scriptures.

Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, of Boston, Mass., introduced a convention in place of the Holy Bible. Breckinridge, who had been detained through illness. At the close of the conference the delegates were instructed to catch the tunc in the hall of the last hymn and to carry it out in the city. How literally they carried out this instruction can be attested by thousands of citizens who heard them and by many who took a turn with them as the beautiful tunes were blown into offices and homes on the evening air.

AN UNPLEASANT INCIDENT. An Attack by the Rev. Mr. Karmakar on Roman Catholics. Speaking in the east yesterday morning Rev. Mr. Karmakar, of Bombay, India, in his address on the progress of Christianity in India, made some disparaging references to the Roman Catholic missions in that country, grouping Catholics with Buddhists and other non-Christian religions. The Rev. Mr. Karmakar severely denounced his language as insulting to the Roman Catholics of Montreal, who had extended so cordial a welcome to the Christian Endeavorers. Last night, after the meeting in the tent was over a few rowdies gathered on the Champ de Mars, and an attempt was made to draw a permit from the city through the streets. To hear the red mark was counted a misdemeanor. One of the grave errors of our time is the withdrawal of a considerable class from the exercise of citizenship. The right to vote involves a corresponding duty, which no true Endeavorer will regard with indifference.

ing in the tent. It must be understood that Mr. Karmakar is a Hindu and not a resident of this country or that of our neighbors. The officers of the society greatly regret the circumstances. Any one who witnesses our worthy Mayor and heard his tolerant remarks at the opening session will have no doubt regarding the sentiments entertained by this society regarding the Roman Catholic religion. The delegates are more than delighted at the cordial reception that has been tendered them by us, since their arrival. Never before have they been so handsomely entertained, and they deeply appreciate the expressions they have in a series of resolutions, which is hoped the French papers will copy.

Yours truly, On behalf of the committee, H. H. AMES, Chairman of Press Committee.

CONVENTION NOTES. Items Gathered at Yesterday's Sessions. The managers of the Queen's Hotel are giving a handsome souvenir badge, with a portrait of Her Majesty, to the delegates whose headquarters are in that hostelry. Opinion is divided as to the success of the convention. The manically inclined gentleman who has on exhibition on Craig street, a little west of the Drill Hall, "the largest living crocodile" and "the living hell, the dark secret" is of opinion that it is a dead failure. He was heard to express himself very forcibly to that effect yesterday, as he stood in the door of his cabinet and watched the crowds pass by.

President Clark says that none of the socialistic and laborer excursions are under the patronage of the society. The Endeavorers are here for work. Following is a list of the members of the international committee for the ensuing year: California—W. R. Guy, San Diego, Cal. Delaware—Rev. Geo. E. Thompson, Wilmington, Del. District of Columbia—Rev. T. S. Harlan, D. D., Washington, D. C. Florida—F. N. Curtis, Orlando, Florida. Georgia—Howard H. Hill, Rome, Ga. Illinois—C. Orvitt, 161 LaSalle street, Chicago. A gentleman carrying an American flag, decorated with a rooster, Mass., in gold letters was a feature on the street yesterday.

Streets cars crowded with Endeavorers singing Gospel hymns formed a musical band of Christian citizens. Under the remarks heard on the cars are anything but scriptural. Two sharp explosions, caused by the breaking of a cross wire on St. Catherine street, drove a crowd of Endeavorers off their seats at the depot yesterday morning. The damage was soon repaired. In recognition of the uniform courtesy and efficiency of Chairman Ames of the Press committee a "round robin" signed by the members of the Press attending the convention will be presented to him at its close.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS. Rev. D. M. Gordon of Halifax, Nova Scotia, is amongst the delegation. Mr. Gordon is well known in Montreal. He was for several years pastor of St. Andrew's church, Halifax, and then became minister of Knox Church, Winnipeg. At the riot rebellion in 1885 he went to the front as chaplain to the forces and won the admiration of the soldiers by his promptness to respond to the call to arms when the country was in danger. Dr. Leslie of Chicago is in the city. He is a Canadian by birth, London Ontario being his native place. He is about to go out to Central Africa, as a medical missionary. And by way of the healing of the body to reach the soul. A delegation from Bay City, Michigan, arrived Thursday evening by special C.P.R. car. The progress of this delegation was the subject of many conversations. A song from Detroit to Montreal. One thing strikes the observer and that is these Endeavorers are by no means inclined to hang their harps on the willows. Dr. Carson of the Central Presbyterian Church, St. Paul, Minn., is with the Minnesota delegation. He is a young man by birth and is probably one of the largest men in the Convention, standing almost 6 foot 4 in his socks, and built in proportion. It is told of the Dr. that landing from an ocean steamer at Greenwood, Scotland, he won the admiration of the ladies by his bearing, regarding the gangway, who shouted to the crowd, "Stand back! Here comes a man." Dr. Carson is a man every inch of him in body and in mind. In the Massachusetts delegation is Dr. Mabey Howe, Secretary of the Baptist Missionary Union. He has charge of the vast operations of the American Baptist Foreign Missions, with his headquarters at Boston. The Dr. is a man of great executive ability and an orator of the first order. Probably Montreal never held at one time so many men of varied attainments in the line of church work.

The delegates from Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Maryland, and the Virginia and Delaware country, about 500 in the party, speak in the highest terms of the trip to Montreal. Mr. Kane, the General Agent of the Delaware & Hudson route, personally conducted the party. They came via Saratoga, and on their way stayed over at Hotel Champlain, Point Bluff. Many of the delegates will take in this tour as a side trip before going home. Rev. Dr. Hindman, of Chicago, pastor of Normal Park, a live aggressive organization, is registered with the Chicago delegation. Dr. Hindman has held the important post of Moderator of the Presbytery of Chicago. He is a Missourian by birth, and the typical god ahead American pastor. Rev. E. A. Robinson of Wollaston, Quincy, Mass., a distinguished graduate of Harvard University, forms one of the Massachusetts delegation. He is a Congregational pastor, and an enthusiastic Endeavorer. One of the most promising aspects of this society is the fact that it attracts into its ranks men of high literary culture. Rev. Dr. Scott, pastor of Galveston, Texas is at the Convention. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico have been exchanged for the time being by the waters of the St. Lawrence by this whole souled Endeavorer. Dr. Scott is a Presbyterian Minister of the fifth generation, his ancestor was a prominent figure in the Revolutionary War. He is a native of Virginia, and a live active pastor. He will speak for the Presbyterian Church South, at the meeting Sabbath afternoon.

A TREAT FOR C. E. VISITORS. They Can Visit the Swimming Baths at the invitation of The Herald. Montreal possesses two of the finest swimming baths on the Continent. One is in the Turkish Bath Institution on St. Monica street, which is up town. This is a solid marble bath with fresh water running through it constantly. The other is the magnificent Laurentian Bath on Craig street, supplied from a fountain. Delegates should not fail to see these baths and take a plunge in their fresh cool waters. The Herald has made arrangements by which it can afford the delegates this pleasure without cost to themselves. Free tickets to these baths will be supplied to C. E. visitors upon application at The Herald booth in the Drill Hall, at the Herald Tent on the Champ de Mars, and at The Herald. The gentlemen will be given tickets to the Laurentian Bath, and the ladies to the Turkish Bath. This is a contribution by The Herald to the entertainment of our guests which will doubtless be appreciated.

It appears that the three sailors were engaged for the season by the Terrebonne, but on Wednesday they notified the Captain that they could not longer work for him, and consequently left the ship. Complaints were made and Detectives Trempe and Richard arrested the men and brought them back to Montreal. On the ground that they would return to work, sentence was suspended by his Honor yesterday. The penalty for this mutiny is from four weeks to three months' imprisonment.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has notified the Board of Trade that owing to the large accumulation of hay at Hochelaga the General Freight Agent has been compelled to instruct all agents to refuse acceptance of hay, which practically stops the movement of hay to the seaboard over their system. The railway authorities claim that the blockade is due to the delay of owners and consignees in unloading cars. Munroe Remanded. John Munroe, the pickpocket, who was run by Detective Hargrave on Wednesday afternoon and charged with vagrancy, is the same man arrested by Sergt. Prolix for picking pockets on board of the Santa Maria when the Spanish caravels lay in the harbor. He was brought up yesterday afternoon and remanded to jail, awaiting further evidence. Dead From a Fall. A farmer from Laprairie, named Herbert Moore, while riding on a load of hay at the corner of Rachel and Amherst streets about noon, yesterday, was thrown off and pitched on his head. When picked up, it was found that he was extinct. The General Hospital ambulance was telephoned for, and he was taken to the morgue of that institution. Coroner McMahon will hold an inquest to-morrow. Labrie Pleaded Guilty. Sergeant Hughes arrested on Thursday evening Albert Labrie, who had a few minutes before matched a gold pin from the breast, and a pocket book from the hands of Mrs. Brunette Morrison, while she was walking up St. Lawrence Main street. Labrie, after snatching the articles in question, ran away, but unfortunately for him he ran into the sergeant's arms, who took him off to the station in short order. Yesterday afternoon he pleaded guilty, and was remanded for sentence. During the Convention the beautiful pianos of Weber, Dicker, Vose, Hale, and our own will be sold at special bargains.
