RELEASE MANY WITNESSES IN CHURCH FIRES

Detectives Now Doubt Incendiary Attempts in Two Montreal Church Fires — Investigation Continued.

Montreal, April 6. — Police now believe that the slight fire which was observed at the St. James Basilica last Sunday morning was not set by incendiary hands. In the case of St. Jacques le Mineur Church which was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, detectives stated yesterday that they were unable to say whether or not the fire was of incendiary origin. None of the ten witnesses held by the detectives were released yesterday afternoon.

No definite indication that the fire which destroyed the St. Jacques le Mineur Church on the morning of March 26 and the St. James Basilica last Sunday morning was not set by incendiary hands. In the case of St. Jacques le Mineur Church which was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, detectives stated yesterday that they were unable to say whether or not the fire was of incendiary origin. None of the ten witnesses held by the detectives were released yesterday afternoon.

The inquiry was opened before Fire Commissioner David R. Walsh on March 29 when very little evidence was given which might throw light on the disastrous fire. The parish priest and the vicar were both heard and the inquiry was postponed until yesterday. Detectives of the arson squad investigated several clues which they gathered and questioned and requested the ten persons held at detective headquarters.

Yesterday afternoon, however, Commissioner Walsh announced that it was decided not to hear any witnesses as the police were not prepared to conclude the case. He then announced that the inquiry will be postponed sine die.

EARLY TRADE PACT WITH UNITED STATES POSSIBLE

Ottawa, April 6.—Events of the past few days have strengthened the belief here that a reciprocal trade agreement between Canada and the United States is in the making. No official confirmation of this report is available, but it is not the custom of the Government to make any disclosures while such projects are pending.

Hon. Percy C. Black, Minister of Highways in the National Government, on his return from Ottawa to Halifax, announced in the Legislature of that province, with respect to the lumber industry, that the Government had "other measures under consideration expected to be of great benefit to the industry in this province."

Observers here interpret this statement as an indication that the Nova Scotia minister referred to the possibility of restoration to Canada of a share of the United States lumber market, for many years the great outlet for the products of Canadian forests.

In his message to Congress on April 3rd, President Roosevelt stated he had in mind the negotiation of reciprocal trade agreements. These agreements, he said, would be requested soon, and the object would be "to break through trade barriers and establish foreign markets for farm and industrial products."

The fact that Mr. W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington, spent the greater part of March in Ottawa in close consultation with officers of the Department of External Affairs adds weight to the rumors.

In the House of Commons some days ago, speaking of requests that certain commodities, including lumber, be included among those to be assisted by the export stabilization fund proposed in the budget, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett observed that there were other means of assisting these industries.

In the meantime, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, continues to receive countless representations from all parts of Canada asking that this commodity or that be assisted by the fund, with lumber one of the chief subjects of inquiry.

Recent developments in the relations between the United Kingdom and Russia give rise to the hope in Canadian lumber circles that should a break occur a great deal of the lumber purchases now made by the British consumer in the Soviet Republic will be diverted to Canada.

A certain well-known bishop tells many amusing stories of his work among the Indians. On one occasion he was visiting a tribe and it was arranged that after dinner he and one of the chiefs were to go for a long ride.

"Will it be safe for me to leave my baggage here?" asked the bishop before they started.

"Yes," was the reply of the chief. "There is not a white man within 40 miles."

LARGE AREA OF UNITED STATES RESTORES BEER

Nineteen States and District of Columbia Legalize Sale of Beer at 12.01 a.m. Local Time Tomorrow.

A large part of the United States goes off the near beer standard at 12.01 a.m. local time, tomorrow.

In nineteen states and the District of Columbia sale of beer containing 3.2 per cent. alcohol by weight or four per cent. by volume, becomes legal at that time.

Brewers in some of these states plan to deliver beer as soon as it becomes legal. Others, ruling out jubilee parties at midnight, say beer will not be delivered much before breakfast time.

The nineteen states in which beer becomes legal at 12.01 a.m. are Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Washington and Wisconsin.

Six other states have set specific later dates for the law of the beer. They are Louisiana, April 13th; Vermont, May 1st; North Carolina, May 1st; Wyoming, May 18th; West Virginia, June 9th; and North Dakota, July 1st. Still others have proposals pending to legalize beer.

The regulations vary as to where and how beer can be sold. The price is expected to vary in different places of sale. One price quoted frequently in New York was $1.00 wholesale for a case of twenty-four bottles.

CELEBRATIONS PLANNED
New York, April 6.—Four hundred thousand barrels and 150,000 cases of bottled beer stand waiting in the breweries of New York for six o'clock tomorrow morning.

Then and then only, according to the announcement of Jacob Ruppert, president of the United States Brewers' Association, will the brewers' big trucks begin to rumble toward tap rooms and grocery stores bearing the amber fluid of which New Yorkers have legally been deprived for fourteen years.

But in other states—scattered across the continent, as the clock strikes midnight through the time zones, the beer will be delivered in many a throat-long accustomed to water or "needled" or home brew will again feel the cold sparkle of brewery beer. The fluid of questionable intoxicating quality will be legally sold at one minute past midnight in nineteen states wherein 10.—If any such advances were made, what were the dates and numbers of orders in council authorizing said advances, and the amount covered by each such order in council?

Milwaukee, St. Louis and some other cities of renowned brew, will not follow New York's austere example—at least the example desired by Mr. Ruppert and the brewers' association. There sales will begin on the clock with bands and whistles. Chicago, according to reports today, plans a quiet Friday morning, the sort of thing the Brewers' Association wants for the honor of the brew and the effect upon public opinion of "whoopie."

It seemed doubtful at the afternoon when on in New York whether the wishes of the brewers would be observed.

Reservations in restaurants, hotels and night clubs were reported equal to those for a New Year's eve celebration.

The police in the big city were no making any special arrangements to control the situation, but in Philadelphia the entire force will be on duty to "handle traffic and pedestrians."

HAD PLOTTED OVERTHROW OF MACHADO GOVERNMENT

Story of Scheme to Buy Up Arms in U. S. for Uprising in Cuba Related in Court Trial.

Richmond, Va., April 6.—A story of a plot to buy up arms in the United States for use in overthrowing the Machado Government of Cuba was told in the United States district court yesterday by Antonio Serrano, who was sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary on charges of cashing forged money orders.

Asserting he did not know the money orders were forged, the defendant told the court they were sent to him by his confederates in Cuba. He said he had been deputized by certain prominent Cubans in Florida, whom he was ordered by name, to travel around and obtain money for the purchase of guns and bullets.

Post Office Inspector J. W. Cole, who investigated his story, said he could find no evidence the man's conditions were authentic. He said Cubans in Florida denied hiring him for any such purpose.

COMMON COLD IS GREATEST ENEMY OF GOOD HEARING

New York, April 6.—Avoid the common cold if you wish to escape becoming hard of hearing.

This message for good ears, coupled with one to the ten million Americans already impaired in hearing that good health measures may salvage some of their losses, was delivered to the medical society of the state of New York yesterday by Wendell C. Phillips, of New York city. Dr. Phillips, former president of the American Medical Association, said that "in the United States at least ten million are victims of some impairment of hearing."

"The greatest single enemy of good hearing in all probability, is the common cold," he said. "Otolologists are agreed that colds when accompanied by infections of the nasal sinuses are among the basic causes of chronic progressive deafness."

The over-tired person who gets little exercise, who lives in badly ventilated rooms, who wears clothing too heavy for the weather, who catches hasty meals, who gormandizes or is under-nourished—he is the person who catches cold easily."

TO OPEN PROBE INTO DISASTER OF DIRIGIBLE

United States Navy Will Seek Full Facts of Akron's Tragic Plunge into Atlantic at Court of Inquiry at Lakehurst, N.J., Next Monday.

Washington, April 6.—The United States navy will seek the full facts of the Akron's tragic plunge into the Atlantic at a court of inquiry opening at Lakehurst, New Jersey, next Monday.

Preparations for this exhaustive investigation, the results of which probably go far toward determining the future lighter-than-air craft policy of United States—went forward today as the three survivors of the tragedy worked on a formal written report for Secretary Swanson.

The three—Lieutenant Commander Herbert V. Wiley and Richard E. Deal and Moody E. Erwin, enlisted men—gave their stories verbally to Swanson and Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, at the navy department yesterday afternoon.

Later Pratt ordered the court of inquiry to be convened and directed the search for any possible survivors still drifting on the ocean be continued until "there can be no trace of hope." Dragging operations to bring up any wreckage that may throw light on the cause of the disaster also were ordered.

President Roosevelt who termed the Akron's fate a "national disaster" planned to talk with the survivors today. Deal and Erwin spent the night at the naval hospital for treatment for slight injuries while Wiley stayed at the home of a friend.

MARCHING UNEMPLOYED TURNED BACK BY TEAR GAS

Eleven of Demonstrators En Route to State Capital at Springfield Arrested After a Fight With Police.

Ottawa, Ill., April 6. — Eleven hundred unemployment relief demonstrators enroute to the state capital at Springfield were turned back today by tear gas. Most of them were from Chicago.

Eleven of the demonstrators, including Karl Lockner, of Chicago, chairman of the unemployed council, were arrested after a fight in a quagmire of mud on a tourist camping ground where they had spent the night.

The police said some of the unemployed attempted to fight back with clubs and rocks, but none was injured seriously.

They were started back toward their homes at Chicago and Rockford in small groups. Sheriffs in all counties along the way agreed to supervise their return, and convoys of highway policemen accompanied the groups.

CANCER RESEARCH RESULTS TOLD TO MEDICAL SOCIETY

Some Apparent Cures Reported After Exposing 112 Patients in Specially Equipped X-Ray Room.

New York, April 6.—The results of exposing 112 human beings to continuous X-rays, which filled a whole room like sunshine and irradiated their entire bodies night and day, were reported to the Medical Society of the State of New York today.

Certain forms of cancer were benefited, some apparently put on the road to cure. Other types of cancer were not helped.

The report was made by Lloyd F. Craver, M.D., of New York City. The treatment was given in a special room in Memorial Hospital. Since the experiment started two years ago 118 persons with cancer have been in that room under X-rays for twelve days or more.

Of the 118 there are forty-four still alive and improved. All of these living belonged to the one class of patients, numbering ninety-four, with "radiosensitive" types of cancer. Radiosensitive means that the cancer cells die more rapidly than normal, healthy cells under X-rays and radium.

HEAVY FINE PROVIDED FOR UNITED STATES HOARDERS

Possession of More Than a Hundred Dollars in Gold or Gold Certificates Illegal Under Latest Proclamation.

Washington, April 6.—President Franklin Roosevelt reached out for the persistent gold hoarders yesterday with a formal order providing penalties after May 1.

In the same drastic decree he put the United States gold supply under federal license, providing a controlled relaxation in the present embargo for legitimate and foreign transactions.

Virtually all persons holding more than $100 in gold or gold certificates were directed by the President to turn their supply over to the Federal Reserve System or face a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine or 10 years' imprisonment, or both. The President acted after a conference with William Woodin, Secretary of the Treasury, and Director Douglas of the Budget.

He was represented as stated at the expression of confidence by the public in returning $1,200,000,000 in currency to the banks in the last few weeks, but as equally determined to get at those who are still hoarding.

More than $600,000,000 of the money returned to the banks was in the form of gold and gold certificates. However, on April 3rd there were still outstanding $1,303,989,359 in gold certificates.

Apparently convinced that some of the gold hoarders were waiting for the Government to issue a formal order, the President acted. By his order, Mr. Roosevelt obtained absolute command of the gold supply.

HAIR CLARIFICATION OF CANADIAN TAX PROPOSALS

London Financial Journal Expects Market for Canadian Stocks to Regain Respect of Investors Following Ottawa Statement.

London, April 6.—The Financial Times said today "most of the remaining doubt" regarding the proposed new Canadian tax on dividend payments of Canadian dollar bonds held outside the Dominion had been dispelled and that the "market for Canadian stocks may be expected to regain the respect of investors."

The newspaper said a cable read by Sir Archibald Campbell, chairman of the Stock Exchange committee to brokers and dealers, yesterday led them to believe it might be taken as certain that "although the extra tax may be imposed upon certain securities which depend for their income upon annual earnings of Canadian companies, it will not apply in any way to Canadian government, provincial, municipal and other such stocks."

VIOLENT CONVULSION OF CARBON MOUNTAIN TODAY

Belched Forth Great Quantities of Sea Shells and Other Evidence of Marine Life.

Durango, Colo., April 6.—Carbon Mountain had another convulsion today and belched forth great quantities of sea shells and other evidences of marine life. The convulsion was described as the most violent since the mountain started disintegrating several months ago.

Dr. W. Boyd Calkins, Durango science teacher, said the earth bore quantities of sea shells and other evidences of marine life. The convulsion was described as the most violent since the mountain started disintegrating several months ago.

The fire broke out in the W. R. Trafford and Son building, from some undetermined cause. With a bucket brigade constituting the town's fire-fighting equipment, the flames soon spread to adjoining buildings on each side of the street.

JAP INVASION APPROACHING TREATY PORT

Japanese and Manchukuan Troops Reported to Be Advancing on Coast City from Shihmenhai, Which Japs Recently Seized.

Shanghai, China, April 6.—The Japanese "limited objective" invasion of North China proper today was approaching the important treaty port of Chinwangtao, ten miles southwest of here.

Japanese reports said the Japanese and Manchukuan troops were advancing on the coast city from Shihmenhai, which the Japanese seized April 1. A Manchukuan force occupied Haikangchen, north of Chinwangtao, early today.

REPORT FIGHTING LESSENING TODAY

Tientsin, China, April 6.—Various reports from the northeast section of North China said Sino-Japanese fighting in that area was lessening today and that the Chinese garrison was remaining at Chinwangtao.

Japanese planes were reconnoitering westward to the Luan River.

Chinese commanders at Luanchow said Japanese planes had dropped communications demanding evacuation of the entire area between the Luan River and the Great Wall of China.

This undisputed Chinese territory is roughly a triangle with a fifty-mile front along the coast. The river and wall form two sides meeting about eighty miles inland.

PERMIT CANADIAN VESSEL TO CONTINUE ON HER WAY

United States District Court Ruled Seizure of Pronto in 1932 by Patrol Boat Was Illegal.

Boston, April 6.—The Canadian schooner Pronto was on her way to Canadian ports today with her original cargo of 800 cases of liquor after having been detained here for fourteen months.

The $50,000 cargo was re-loaded yesterday when she sailed from here, a free vessel. The United States District Court ruled the seizure of the craft in 1932 by a patrol boat was illegal, inasmuch as she was shown to be proceeding at a speed of nine knots and was 11½ miles from shore. Under such conditions the Pronto came under the provisions of regulation that a vessel with contraband is immune when an hour's steaming from shore.

Captain Arlington Conrad, of Yarmouth, N.S., master of the Pronto at the time she was seized, took the vessel out last night. The patrol boat Agassiz kept in contact with the Canadian schooner until she reached Canadian waters.

DECREASE IN CANADA'S PRODUCTION OF APPLES

Ottawa, April 6.—There were 2,789,477 barrels of commercial apples produced in Canada in 1932, with a value of $5,518,519, according to a report issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This compares with a production of 3,793,052 barrels valued at $8,632,014 in 1931. The average value per barrel in 1932 was $1.98 as compared with $2.28 in 1931.

BIRTHDAY OF AGED DUNHAM LADY HONORED

Large Number Gather to Celebrate Ninetieth Birthday of Mrs. Charles Baker—Dunham and Vicinity General Notes.

Dunham, April 6.—About forty guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Charles Baker on March 25 to help celebrate her ninetieth birthday, to offer congratulations at having reached such an advanced age and to extend hearty good wishes for many more. She was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Miss Carrie Baker and Mrs. Thomas Knowlton. Mrs. Valerian Wyck, another daughter, was prevented by illness from being present.

The profusion of beautiful flowers gave a spring-like note to the whole house.

Mrs. Arthur Selby poured tea. Mrs. Fred Cassidy and Mrs. Murray Rutter served refreshments. Mrs. Frederick Millet a niece came from Concord, Mass., to be present on this great occasion other out of town guests were: Mr. George Ford, a nephew, and Mrs. Ford; Mrs. Arthur Rutter; Mrs. Cassidy and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rutter, of Cowansville.

Before the guests departed Rev. Hubert Coffin made a few remarks on the wonderful memory of Mrs. Baker recalling names of the various clergymen who have ministered to the spiritual needs of the people.

Some of whom are still living, others having passed on. The lady is still mentally keen and interested in the welfare of her friends and all surroundings, but unable through failing sight to go out much. She is always bright and cheerful and ready to visit with any friends who may "drop in." One can learn a great deal of the early history of Dunham from such a visit.

It is the earnest wish of a large circle of friends that Mrs. Baker may live to round the century mile post.

NOT THOMAS' FAULT
Thomas Bell, mail carrier on the Frelighsburg rural route, who has not missed a trip, rain or storm, for over twenty years, is not to blame for recent irregular deliveries in the Bedford district. He is helping to trace the cause of the occasional non-arrival of the Frelighsburg and Stanbridge parcels, and whatever he starts he finishes.

REACTION.

Myrtle J. Po.

The earth goes circling on through space.
The sun glows evermore.
The silver stars blink forth at night.
As they have done before;
Each Spring the grass comes up as green,
The flowers radiant show
Their tender faces, and the warm
Unlocks the brooklet's flow.
Each Winter's followed by a Spring.
And so 'tis true of Fate,
Depression is the mud that makes
Good Fortune's blossom great.
So just around the corner,
When things would darkest prove,
Comes Spring, the great restorer,
With sun, and flower, and love.

WORKING INJURY TO THE CREDIT OF CANADA.

The question of the credit of Canada will become an urgent one in this year of 1933, when many sums borrowed on the high tide of Victory loans will fall due, and will have to be converted and re-borrowed. Tax-free bonds will be converted into taxable bonds, and the buyers will want to know what's what about the gradual ascension to confiscating levels of taxes. The inquisition is to be added to the torture of high taxes.

The refusal of the Government to deal strongly with its recurrent losses in administration is an admission of fear and weakness. That sort of attitude does not lead to public confidence nor to financial stability.

Borrowing or re-borrowing three-quarters of a billion dollars for the 1933-1934 bonds, which fall due, will require a clear conscience and a full trust in the ability of the executive who seek the loan. It has been declared in the London, England, Financial Times that the British financiers do not approve the settlement of the railway question on a basis of political expediency.

This hurts our credit in England, where we had hoped to relieve the financial tension in Canada by and through a British loan.

With an actual deficit of $136,000,000 on the cost of government in Canada for one year, where are the standards of stability to be looked for, when we still carry the hotels, steamships and railways of the C.N.R. An addition of the above millions to the national debt surely calls for a drastic revision of all government expenditures.

We want a Business Man who can say "No" and "Do This," and it shall be done.

Instead of that we have despatches from Ottawa which can only be construed as threats against the people who bought and paid for government bonds when the government was paying for money. These threats include one that the payment of income taxes will be traced back for many years on bearer bonds.

When a government borrows money and promises to pay interest thereon at five per cent., it becomes a question of common decency as to whether they have the right to subtract from the interest. It cannot be done in private business, and surely a government does not wish to take the position of being above the common law of right.

To do a creditable thing, to issue threats, does but impair the credit of the nation.

Newspapers which annually publish threats and warnings about the payment or non-payment of license fees or taxes are not guarding the rights of their readers.

WITH GOLDING AT BAT.

Commenting upon the record of the present administration, W. H. Golding, newly-elected member for South Huron, and a Liberal, said: "In regard to our financial position this government can only boast of the loans they had put over," after over two years in power. The man from South Huron surely made a three-base hit first time up in major company. This was his gentle response to the campaign speech of the Hon. H. H. Stevens, who spoke against him in the bye-election when "Mr. Stevens told of the success of the loans secured . . . which indicated the faith the people had in the integrity of the Prime Minister and his government." Well, no one doubts their integrity, honesty or probity, but what Canada calls for now is ruthless courage in correcting the faults of their thoughtless predecessors. They have been timid instead of fearless in righting wrong principles.

THEY HAVE EARNED DISTINCTION.

From Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island many of the young men have gone West to build up Canada, and wherever they go they usually leave their impress. Professionally, the graduates from the Maritime colleges have always taken a high place. We have known of lawyers and judges and business builders in Vancouver and Victoria who have attained to premier positions, and we can, therefore join with the Editor of the Truro News in his recital of the coincidence that in the House of Commons the two financial gladiators were both born in the same town. The News says of the Hon. E. N. Rhodes and the Hon. J. L. Ralston:

"Both were born in the town of Amherst, within a few years of each other. Mr. Rhodes is the senior by slightly more than three years. Both attended the same church, and the same school, both went into law, and both into political life, both have served as members of the Dominion Government, both been sworn in as members of the Privy Council and to-day they both stand, chosen from the best in Canada, as the financial experts of their respective parties. To be sure, their paths have on occasion been divergent but at all times since youth, honorable and notable."

So that the Halifax Herald complacently observes that the key positions at Ottawa are held by natives of the Maritimes and we can only regret that from this "province within a province," with an area as great as that of Nova Scotia, our budding statesmen have been ignored through political expediency.

We laid the blame on the ex-Premier, but the present Premier now carries his share. For much they had left undone, and always they have been unfair to the Eastern Townships.

ASK FOR SUGAR TAX RECANTATION.

Complaint is made of the profiteering dealers in sugar who made small fortunes through being "tipped off" to the oncoming tariff of $40 a ton. There will be much heard of this "leak," and the less explanation there is offered the worse will it be for the Government. Little blame can be attached to the wise ones, or to those who had friends within the circle of divination, for business is war. And there is content in the thought that the price was only advanced $2 a bag, when, in the long run, this tax will ultimately send the retail cost up by two and one-half to three cents a pound. No business house can finance on a price which just simply adds to the par tax. There must be profit on investment which all sound business calls for.

We are presently enjoying tax on tax, a specific tax and a sales tax, and on top of that there must be profit on cost.

Helpless and suffering from premature old age, the present administration glooms about the absolute necessity for taxation.

But we hold them guilty of giving more thought to increased taxation than they do to a reduction of taxation.

Conceive the addition of a million a year for a Radio Commission and an imposition of $2 a year on every radio in the land.

Instead of rest and respiration we are being gassed by added expenses and another commitment to the sad years of railway deficits.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Some people have even developed permanent curls in their lips from trying to express their tribulation of those who framed the new railway tribunal just to flim-flam the people. Artful Artie came a cropper once before because his wheels were not on a parallel line with the rail of public opinion. His train of thought seldom collides with public opinion.

An optimist is a man who thinks when times are good again the government will use their revenues to reduce their debts. They will not, unless we can teach them rampant habits of thrift and economy.

Going down to defeat on the greasy pole of New Zealand butter was but a foretaste of a government getting stuck in sugar taffy. The bureaucratic mind, cloistered in the corridors at Ottawa, soon loses its power to sense cause and effect in public reaction.

One correspondent from Bedford wants to know how a bachelor can make a maiden speech in the House of Commons when he knows so little about them.

The young man who followed a talented predecessor in this field of endeavour wrote to his house: "I find business in a state of chaos, but you know I can get an order out of chaos. That's me."

RECORDINGS

By Ted Bullock.

"The crux of all our distress just now is the inflexibility of our own minds. We refuse to change our ideas."

"We hew away frantically at the substance of the universe, trying to shape cosmic law to a semblance of our whims and notions. It is our minds that must be shaped to fit the changing world."

"We venerate age instead of youth. We venerate the past instead of trying to understand the present and prepare for the future."

"It is this attitude that freezes our minds up solid, that makes wrong-thinking the almost universal habit."

"Our adherence to dead theory and false notions extends throughout the whole commercial, political, social and economic structure. Men are still sound. But the systems devised by men, the fruits of men's minds, are all wrong."

This is not the utterance of a Bolshevik, it is an extract from an editorial in a recent issue of one of Canada's daily newspapers, quoting Lincoln Steffens.

Canada's biggest men, men who have scored successes under the system of private business, recognize the civilization cannot last unless some radical change is made in the workings of the economic systems of all countries.

No sane, cautious person suggests that our Canadian basis of government ought to be overturned; but every clear-thinking individual knows that the applications of our basic system have often been wrong.

There is nothing more terrifying to mankind than a new idea. Humans will go to incredible lengths to combat change. The stupidity of the Bourbons in France in the latter part of the Eighteenth Century was no worse than the reactionism of Canada's great middle class today.

It is neither our labouring classes nor our leaders who are holding Canada back from a new era. It is the small property owner—the farmer, the merchant, the clerk, the professional, the manufacturer—the very man whose existence is threatened unless some change is made.

If our parliaments are showing themselves pathetically incompetent to cope with present conditions, it is because the membership of those parliaments is chosen from among the people who have taken little rewards, little livings out of the present system without understanding its functions.

Blindly, headily, they will go down with the ship rather than patch the leaks in the hull, mend the steering gear, or clear off the barnacles.

For it is easier, it demands less intellectual effort, to ride with the eyes shut into disaster than to look ahead and to act in time to ward off that disaster.

Men should read, digest, think fearlessly about the news of the day, considering it a serial history of the time we live in, carefully remembering the old news, quelling it into the new, viewing it not as a succession of detached pictures but as the marching past of events in which they have a part.

Make no mistake about it:

The class which is threatened with extinction today is the middle class.

If there are two or three more years of the kind of thing we are getting now, there will be only two sorts of humans left—tremendously wealthy money-baron on the one hand, quarrelling among themselves, and, on the other hand, millions of paupers, their serfs.

The unemployed can do nothing to correct conditions. Their only weapon is revolution. And revolution, for obvious reasons, is a physical impossibility in a huge, thinly-populated country like Canada. Even if it were possible, a resort to force when reason is needed would be foolish and outrageous.

The very wealthy cannot be counted on to throw away what they have to save us.

Help can come only from ourselves. Aye, "The crux of all our distress is the inflexibility of our own minds."

PREDICT TERRIBLE THINGS WHEN 'REDS' REGAIN POWER

Present Violence in Germany Will Be "Repaid a Hundred, Yes, a Thousand-Fold."

Vienna, April 6.—The Socialist official organ Arbeiter Zeitung published a letter today declaring the violence of Adolf Hitler's Nationalist revolution in Germany will seem child's play when the Socialists "swing back into power" in that country.

The letter writer whose name was withheld, predicted the present violence will be "repaid a hundred, yes, a thousand fold." He concluded: "Some day our time will come again. Some day we will again unfurl our red flags and then, tremble, you Fascist assassins, there will be bloody revenge and repayment for the dead fallen in this fight for freedom."

PRESS COMMENT

PERHAPS THE ACTUAL C.N.R. WEEKLY LOSS WILL BE KNOWN SOMETIME

Sault Ste. Marie Star.

Premier Bennett's proposal to ask the people at the next election to vote on the retention or disposal of the C.N.R. shows the trend of opinion at Ottawa. It seems apparent that the country is not so sure as Ottawa is about the desirability of government control of the railway.

Reviewing the history of the C.N.R. back to the days of boom railway construction in the west a generation ago Mr. Bennett emphasized that the road to date had piled up a debt of $1,300,000,000 dollars to investors and $1,000,000,000 to the Federal Treasury—the people. The total of $2,300,000,000 did not include the intercolonial expenditure of the interest waived by the treasury.

"When you give a mere bald outline of it," he continued "you ask yourself how Canadians ever thought it possible to create the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and the Canadian Northern to supplement the already existing C.P.R."

It has been said that the government and the commission looked not on the human, but just on the financial side of the problem, Mr. Bennett observed. Was it realized that the C.N.R. imposed a burden of one million dollars a week on the taxpayer? Was it realized that the entire revenue of Canada in the year Sir John A. Macdonald died was not as large as the annual deficit which the taxpayer must pay for the C.N.R.?

"The railway employees are only employees as long as the system continues to operate," he remarked. "And unless a very great improvement is made in conditions the whole system cannot continue to operate. Everyone knows that."

"If you cure, the operation must be radical," declared the Premier, again pounding his fist on his desk. "This is a surgical operation and it must be a radical operation. To make it effective and successful we must eliminate every political consideration that would interfere with the success of the operation."

Mr. Bennett's figures of the C.N.R. losses presumably do not agree with outside estimates. Mr. Bennett gave out figures at Winnipeg covering seven years from 1925 to 1931 and meant an average loss of $1,200,000 a week. But Sanford Evans' statistical organization at Winnipeg says the losses were $912,000,000 in nine years or over $102,811 a week. Which means practically $2,000,000 a week.

NEW TAXES DIVERGE MILLIONS FROM BUSINESS.

Monetary Times.

New taxes imposed by the budget brought down by Honorable Edgar N. Rhodes last week are regarded by the "Ottawa Journal" apparently as an evil, but a necessary evil, which everybody must be prepared to meet and should meet without any great amount of grumbling.

This is in line with the argument that has been advanced before to the effect that there were two ways of balancing the budget, one by borrowing more money and one by raising taxes. The Monetary Times has pointed out before that a third method, namely, by reducing expenditures, has not proved popular with governments. It might, however, be the soundest of all.

In reviewing the budget last week, it was pointed out that Mr. Rhodes hoped to raise approximately $700,000,000 by additional taxation during the new fiscal year. With many of the new imposts calculated to stifle the very source from which they are likely to be derived, it cannot be denied that there may be difficulty in increasing revenue by the desired amount. On the other hand, if it should be raised, it must be realized that it will mean $700,000,000 being diverted into the government coffers from trade and industry and in times like these, the loss of $700,000,000 to trade and industry is likely to be felt.

OTHERS THERE ARE WHO REPENT BUT DO NOT RECENT.

Toronto Telegram.

"There's a limit to taxation," says the Toronto Telegram. The fact that high taxation usually deflates its own purpose has been again demonstrated by the experience of the United States government with a three-cent postal rate. A year's trial not only failed to bring in more revenue than the two-cent stamp had yielded but actually resulted in a decrease by some millions of dollars. The post office department estimated that continuation for another year would bring a loss of $100,000,000 in receipts. Beginning on July 1 next the old rate of two cents is to be restored with one-cent postage for local letters.

Penny postage has its fervent advocates in Canada and the experience of the United States lends support to their contention that the three-cent stamp, while putting an added burden on business, fails to justify, itself from the standpoint of government revenue. . . . In the fiscal year of 1928-29 Canada post office revenue of $40,611,934 yielded a surplus of $7,125,964, while the last completed figures show a deficit of $6,000,000 with receipts still on the down grade. The depression is no doubt partly accountable, but it cannot be overlooked that the three-cent rate did not halt the decline and may have greatly accentuated it.

The situation with regard to postal revenue has its application in wider fields. It emphasizes anew the fact that there is a limit to the amount of taxation that can be exacted from the people for the maintenance of government services. When the limit is reached the only course that can be followed is to bring expenditures into line with tax-paying ability.

Letters to The Editor

IT'S THE COST HE OBJECTS TO TO THE EDITOR.

Sir:—I do not know in what branch of farming your correspondent, Mr. H. S. Rose, specializes in, but it must be quite technical, if he cannot secure all the information he requires from the Central Experimental Farms. I have always been able to get advice from them on any subject connected with my farm, and I still think that when that is supplemented with the sixty thousand dollars' worth yearly for which we pay the Lennoxville farm, with one or two farm journals, and perhaps best of all what one can get from some of his successful and experienced neighbors, we should be able to worry along without the help of the field men in the employ of the Government. Perhaps their methods can best be realized by describing a meeting recently held by them in a village not far from Hatley. I did not attend the meeting, but have been assured by several reputable citizens that there were seven salaried Government men in attendance. These seven men opened the meeting by rendering that old and well known hymn entitled "We Are Very Glad to Be Here This Evening," after which the prizes won by the youngsters in the calf club were distributed. The rest of the evening was spent in giving advice on raising calves to the handful of farmers in attendance.

It seems that the Government, after a great deal of experimenting and a tremendous amount of co-ordinating, has discovered that it is possible to give advice on raising calves to the handful of farmers in attendance. They even claim the little critters like it. And now they propose to spare no expense in introducing this method among the farmers. Yes, it is wonderful how much the Government is doing for the poor ignorant farmers, but if he wants a license tag to tie on the old farm flivver this spring it will cost twice as much as though he lived in Ontario. It is hard to say what a meeting like this would cost the taxpayer, but if we estimate the average salary of the men at seven dollars per day, and add maintenance of their cars and other expenses it would likely exceed a hundred dollars. Was it worth it? To each of three taxpayers who were present I put the question: "What was the impression you received there worth to you?" The first answered "Nothing." The second said, "It didn't amount to a row of pins." The third used the immortal words of Mackenzie King, "Not one five cent piece."

The $2,811 paid in salaries to help the maple sugar industry must have provided jobs for quite a lot of lame ducks who can no doubt be depended on to come to the aid of the party on election day; but I have yet to learn that their activities have ever aided the producers of maple sugar for either good or evil, except on one occasion.

When the Hawley-Smoot tariff was being debated in Washington it was stated that the Vermonters could not compete with us because we were being helped by our Government. That was one of their excuses for raising the tariff to 9c per pound, thus shutting us out of our principal market.

That is about what usually happens when the Government interferes with business. Jefferson's remark still holds true that "the business of the government is to govern."

In closing, I should like to say that I have no personal feeling against any of the Government men. As far as I know they are all earnest, obliging and cautious. It is not the men I object to but the expense and the excess taxation.

Yours truly,
E. L. VAUGHAN,
Compton Station.

TRAINING SERVICE PLANS FOR EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

In order to ensure greater ease and efficacy of administration, Hon. Adelard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture, has divided the farming counties of the province into twenty regions, an agronomist being appointed over each section to head technical services in that particular area.

The appointments in the Eastern Townships are as follows:

For Wolfe, Arthabaska and Megantic, J. E. Lemire, of Victoriaville; for Compton, Richmond, Sherbrooke and Stanstead, W. G. MacDuggall, of Sherbrooke, with L. E. Boutin as deputy agronomist; for Bromfield and Bagot, L. Therrien, of Waterloo; and for Drummond, this region also including East and West Nicolet and Yamaska, Eugene Boivin, of Pierreville, with L. B. Marsot, as deputy agronomist.

SENTENCED TO THREE MONTHS IN JAIL

Police officers found Olivia Lafrance sitting on the edge of the sidewalk on St. Edward street.

He was tired. At his side, according to the story told by the police today, rested a five gallon jug of wine.

The wine, incidentally, was the reason for the police. It had been stolen from the cellar of Louis Eichenberg's residence on Magog street. Olivia Lafrance had gone to Eichenberg's, in the words of the police authorities, "to arrange for work. And the work carried him into the cellar, and then out of the cellar with a five gallon jug of wine."

"Maybe," said the officers of the law when they found the exhausted Lafrance sitting on the curb, "maybe we should carry the wine."

So they all got in a police car together. Lafrance included, and rode to the police station on Marquette street.

Lafrance appeared before Recorder Forest on a technical charge of vagrancy this morning.

He was sentenced to a fine of $50 and costs or three months in jail.

SPECIAL PASSION WEEK SERVICE

The first of the special Passion Week services of St. Andrew's was held yesterday afternoon in the church hall, under the auspices of the Sherbrooke and District Ministerial Association.

Rev. R. M. Simmons, the special preacher, took for his subject "Jesus and the Cross," during which he reviewed the personality of Jesus and the significance of the cross.

The music was led by R. Watson, organist of Plymouth Church, and the Baptist Church choir.

INFORMAL TEA ENJOYED BY MEMBERS OF ST. ANDREW'S LADIES AID

Members of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church met yesterday afternoon in the church hall. Mrs. H. R. Ross occupied the chair, and following the routine business, most satisfactory reports were presented on the sale of last concert given recently under the auspices of the Aid.

At the close of the meeting afternoon tea was served informally by the members. Spring flowers centered the tea table, at which Mrs. M. E. Houlahan, president, Mrs. W. Duncan and Mrs. H. Fowles assisted in serving.

BUSY SESSION HELD BY THE MOTHER'S AUXILIARY

A largely attended meeting of the Seventh Troop Boy Scout Mother's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. George Singleton, King street, west. The president, Mrs. R. S. Giff, occupied the chair, and several items of business were brought up for discussion, including a rummage sale and card party to be held in the near future.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting, with Miss Alice Singleton assisting. The members will be entertained at their next meeting by Mrs. J. Daniels at her home on Drummond road.

ALDERMAN MORIN DECLINES TO STAND FOR RE-ELECTION

Alderman J. C. Morin has definitely announced his decision not to stand for re-election as West Ward alderman, thus leaving the municipal field open to C. E. Jobin, another West Ward resident, who several weeks ago announced his candidacy for the position.

West Ward Morin has represented the West Ward at the City Hall for the past three years.

With Alderman Morin's retirement from the West Ward, acclamations are foreseen for Tuesday next, nomination day, in the North and West wards. Ald. Ross has been selected by the North Ward rate-payers as successor to Alderman Dr. Bradley, who has declined another term.

There is to be a vacancy in the Center Ward, which is also expected to add a new representative to the aldermanic body.

BE READY TO GET THE "SALADA" DOLLAR

The "Salada man" is in the city, distributing dollar prizes to housekeepers who use this famous Ceylon tea, which was first introduced into Canada by the late Hon. Peter C. Lafrance, Canada's High Commissioner at London. "I find that in 95 per cent. of the homes I call at they know all about our story and our prize-giving."

The young man who introduces himself is Douglas Williams, and when the happy housekeeper shows him a pound packet of Salada he simply hands over the money with a smile.

"The compliments of the Salada Tea, madam, and I'm so glad to give you this dollar."

The following homes were visited by Mr. Williams on Wednesday, and each one received a packet and received one dollar:

Mrs. L. Rodriguez, 125 Marquette; Miss C. Bell, 63 Belvidere North; Mrs. A. H. Cross, 110 Frontenac; Mrs. W. Vachon, 13 Goodhue; R. Choyer, 108-A King West; Mrs. J. A. Vallée, 30-A Gillespie; J. A. Robert, 22 Ball; W. G. Johnston, 29 Wellington South; J. O. Gauthier, 56 Laurier; Mrs. R. Bown, Main street, Lennoxville; A. Coupal, 13-A Council; P. Turgeon, 156 Murray; P. McDonough, 14 Morkill; E. A. Bernard, 186 King West; Wm. Sharpe, 6 Murray; S. Gauthier, Church street, Lennoxville; Mrs. A. McConnell, 12 Galt; R. Loveland, 103 Lincoln; W. Nutt, 77 Montreal; J. M. Corbell, Main street Lennoxville.

"I'm not sticking to the middle of the city. I stroll about everywhere," said Douglas.

POLICEMEN GO IN FOR ART

Police officers and firemen at Marquette street headquarters have suddenly discovered the beauty of art.

It took, not a travelling salesman, but a travelling artist to awaken their souls to the incomparable beauties of the setting sun, to the grandeur of lofty pines, to the restful quietude of calm, blue waters.

It happened yesterday—and is continuing today—when police officials discovered Joe Casey, who had applied the previous night for protection and had been given the privacy of a police cell, sitting on the floor busy with brushes and paints.

"This," said a surprised but admiring policeman, "must be an artist."

They asked Casey what he was doing. "I," he said, "am painting the setting of the sun." This they discovered for themselves a few minutes later.

And when they did, they made Casey comfortable by establishing him in a large room at the rear of the station and let him work. But one by one the firemen and policemen-at-leisure gathered about him and watched him in his work.

They bought his paintings. They urged him to paint some more. They prepared pieces of beaver-board, pieces of canvas and continued to buy Casey's paintings. Casey made $1.75. Then he went for a walk.

But he returned to the police station last night, and this morning he was at work again.

He is about twenty years old. He comes, originally, from Nova Scotia. He does not know where he is going. But he is not worrying.

Artists cannot afford to worry.

REV. W. H. CHEVERTON ADDRESSING LADIES' GUILD

Yesterday's meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church was largely attended. The president, Mrs. J. Nelson, presided, and during the session final plans were made for the Easter sale.

Rev. W. H. Cheverton addressed the meeting, giving much information in regard to the Restoration Fund, and reasons why every church man and woman should assist in the restoration of the church.

At the close of the meeting the hostess, Mrs. H. Daniel, served afternoon tea, assisted by Mrs. B. Thorne and Mrs. Farmer.

HENRY W. WELSH ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ST. GEORGE'S CLUB

A very satisfactory financial report on the operation of the organization for the past year was submitted to a largely attended annual meeting of the members of St. George's Club last evening.

The retiring president, Col. M. W. McNulty, was in the chair, and after the receipt of reports and the transaction of routine business, the election of officers was proceeded with, when Henry W. Welsh was elected president for the ensuing year by acclamation.

C. A. French was named honorary president, succeeding F. W. S. Webster, while John P. Wells, K.C., a retiring director, was elected vice-president to replace the newly elected president. The following directors, whose term of office expired and who are not eligible for re-election for one year, H. A. Sampson, F. C. Baker, P. C. St. George, P. Wells and Dr. W. W. Lynch, were replaced by H. G. Evans, J. G. Kersey, Fred Spafford, Claude Spafford and G. S. Thomson.

The remaining members of the board are W. McNulty, E. E. Spafford, H. W. McNulty, J. G. Kersey and H. A. Hyndman. The honorary secretary-treasurer, T. S. Somers, was again selected to carry on the duties he has so well performed in the past.

ANOTHER OF SHERBROOKE'S SONS HONORED

Friends of Lawrence E. Collins, of Detroit, son of Richard P. Collins, and the late Mrs. Bridget Tuite Collins, Drummond road, will be pleased to hear that he has been signally honored by the Delta Phi Epsilon, national professional foreign trade fraternity. Mr. Collins was recently presented with the Honor Key of the fraternity at a dinner given him by the Detroit Chapter. The Key was awarded to Mr. Collins as the national convention held in Los Angeles, Calif., and the award is especially significant because although the Key was created in 1929, Mr. Collins was the first member recommended to receive the same, and is one of only four men so honored. The other gentlemen that have received Keys are Dr. William C. Cubertson, United States Ambassador to Chile; Dr. Rufus B. von Kleinsmid, president of the University of California; and H. W. Cutler, president of the Advertising Company which bears his name.

The keys were awarded for outstanding service to the fraternity, and for accomplishment in the fields of foreign service or foreign trade.

LIQUOR TRIAL IS ADJOURNED FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Magistrate's Court Awaiting Certificates of Analysis from Montreal Before Rendering Judgment in Arunah Byron Matter — L'Heureux Given Thirty Days in Jail.

"What is done with the liquor seized by the Quebec Liquor Commission officers?" was the significant question Judge J. H. Lemay asked Fulgence Phaneuf, chemist of Montreal, during the trial of Arunah L. Byron, of Stanhope. "Is it placed back in circulation through the Commission stores?"

"No, Your Honor," was Phaneuf's reply as he explained what procedure was adopted following the seizure of illicit spirits. Little quantities were stored in a warehouse while large amounts were turned over to the Federal authorities to be used, if satisfactory, as rubbing alcohol and other useful products.

The question came shortly before the case was again adjourned after counsel for both parties had submitted their arguments. The postponement was asked by the defence in order that it could produce certificates of chemical analysis made on two samples which had been sent to Montreal by the accused.

Byron's story, corroborated by several relatives, was that he had bought a bottle of liquor at the Coaticook Commission store, had diluted it with water and distributed it among his family.

The three small flasks he kept himself had been seized by the inspectors, but there still remained some in the quantity he had given his son-in-law, George Barnes. Byron bought another bottle of alcohol from the Commission, similar to the one which, according to the defence, had started the present trouble. He removed a sample from both Barnes' bottle and the amount he had purchased, and sent them both to Montreal for certification. He made of the two certificates before judgment is rendered.

In his evidence, Phaneuf, the chemist, had stated that the sample he had analyzed was good alcohol, and the only basis he had for the assertion that it was not Commission alcohol was because it tasted and smelled different.

Gus Duhaute, former Coaticook policeman, was the defence's first witness yesterday afternoon. He alleged that when Byron came to Coaticook he visited the Duhaute home and the witness accompanied him to the Commission. Although he was unable to swear that Byron had diluted the last bottle with water, Duhaute declared that this method was a favorite practice with the accused.

James Byron, a son of the accused, explained that his father had emptied the contents of the bottle.

he had purchased at the Liquor Commission into a pail and had mixed it with a double quantity of water. He distributed the mixture to his family, and when the officers came showed them the paper envelope which had wrapped the Commission bottle. The inspectors had said that if the liquor was legal the samples would be returned, but if it is otherwise "you will hear from us." Similar evidence was tendered by George Barnes and Treffe Lapointe, two sons-in-law.

"He is just trying to get you nervous," Charles Cabana, counsel for Byron, advised Mrs. James Byron as a barrage of questions were hurled at her by the prosecution, Cesaire Gervais, Mrs. Byron, nevertheless, did not need the admonition and refused to allow the lawyer's cross-examination to rattle her. Her cross-examination revolved about the new "famous" bottle purchased at Coaticook. The witness related several characteristics which she had noticed on the glass container and even remembered what kind of cork was on the bottle. Her evidence in the main corroborated the version given by her previously by defence witnesses.

The case was then adjourned until next week for judgment.

"If the value of the article the prisoner is accused of stealing was the only factor to have any bearing on the sentence, he would be light," Judge Lemay told Victor L'Heureux, of Sherbrooke, when he appeared for sentence after being found guilty of the theft of a compressor worth fifty cents. "However, a principle is involved, appropriating an object from an employer with the intention of converting it to one's own use. In consideration for your wife, who is ill, and your children, I will sentence you to thirty days in jail starting from the date of your arrest."

Antonio Drolet, L'Heureux's lawyer, declared that justice would be served if his client was sentenced to the time he had already spent behind the bars, eight days. The circumstances of the case, Mr. Drolet remarked, were extenuating. The Court had averred that ven-

MANY FINED FOR WEARING IMPROPER BATHING ATTIRE

Miami Beach, Fla., April 6.—Thirty-seven men arrested by police yesterday for improper bathing attire were fined $3 each in the municipal court. Several elected to serve the optional one-day jail sentence rather than pay the fine. Police announced eighty-six arrests had been made since the latest drive opened last Thursday. The authorities hold that persons who appear on the beach without tops to their bathing suits are improperly clad.

DECREASE IN BULLION AND COIN IMPORTS

Totalled $46,331 in February, of which $43,857 Came from United States and $1,600 from Great Britain.

Ottawa, April 6.—Imports of coin and bullion during the month of February totalled $46,331, of which $43,857 came from the United States and $1,600 from Great Britain, says a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The export of Canadian coin and bullion was $4,033,049, and of foreign coin and bullion, $31,643. The export to the United States in February totalled $4,060,996. During the twelve months ending February the imports of coin and bullion amounted to $1,024,062 compared with $1,908,040 in the previous twelve months. The exports in these two periods totalled $58,142,056 as against $60,909,428. Foreign gold coin exported accounted for $4,724,856 in the twelve months ending February as compared with $17,638,767 in the twelve months ending February, before, practically all of it going to the United States. ANOTHER INCREASE SHOWN IN BRITISH GOLD RESERVE

Bank of England Reports Holding of Precious Metals Within Four Million Pounds of Record High Figure.

London, April 6.—The Bank of England continues to accumulate gold, although at a less spectacular rate than heretofore. For the past week the return of gold brings the total holdings to within 4,000,000 of the high record of $176,000,000, established on September 12, 1928. This movement represents the conversion of foreign currencies held by the Treasury exchange fund into gold in the course of its operations to prevent wide fluctuations in sterling. So far as is known, there has been no change in the Government's views concerning the return to the gold standard, but its policy in this direction may be decided by the coming world economic conference. It is possible therefore that the American crisis may be the means of putting Britain on the gold standard once more. Such a step would be rendered all the easier by the present rapid accumulation of gold which, although easily explained by other circumstances, may now have become part of a deliberate policy prepared for the resumption of gold payments.

MODERN WAY OF CATCHING FISH IS DESCRIBED

No Rod, Line, Hook, Net or Bait Needed if You Feed Fish a Handful of Mountain Weed.

Toronto, April 6. — Put away your rod, line, hook, net and bait and catch yourself some fish. All you have to do is sprinkle some mountain weed, get the fish drunk and... But here's the newest fish story and its vouchered for by Rev. Paul Crath, Canadian Presbyterian missionary to the Polish Ukraine. In the foothill streams of the Carpathians young Ukrainians fish for rainbow trout using no hook, rod, line, bait or net. Where a little brook swirls in and out of a deep pool they build a rough stone dam, deflecting the stream's course so the pool is untroubled. A handful of mountain weed— it is also found in Canada—is rubbed between two stones and sprinkled into the pool. Then things happen. The fish dash madly around in circles. They stagger and wobble. Finally they pass out completely and roll over on their backs. The fish dash madly around in circles. They stagger and wobble. Finally they pass out completely and roll over on their backs. MINISTER IS ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Verdict Clears Rev. G. Lemuel Conway, of Muncie, Ind., of One of Two Criminal Charges Against Him.

Muncie, Ind., April 6.—Rev. G. Lemuel Conway, suspended pastor of the Madison Street Methodist Episcopal Church here, was acquitted by a circuit court jury of a charge of attempting to assault Miss Helen Huffman, eight-year-old Sunday school teacher, during an automobile ride last December. The verdict clears the fifty-one-year old minister of one of two criminal charges brought against him. He still faces a charge of assault and battery contained in indictment which alleges he knocked Willard Aurand, choir master at the church, over the Chancel rail at Sunday evening services last January. Aurand denied he was active in pressing the Huffman girl's charges against the minister. Mr. Conway was suspended from his pastorate for a year by a church jury a few weeks ago, which convicted him of imprudent ministerial conduct.

WILL FLY TO ANTARCTIC FOR GEOGRAPHICAL DATA

Sir Hubert Wilkins Discloses a Few Details of Lincoln Ellsworth's Proposed Expedition Next Summer.

New York, April 6.—Sir Hubert Wilkins disclosed some details of Lincoln Ellsworth's proposed expedition to the Antarctic next summer in an address yesterday at a luncheon of the Western University Club. The main objective will be a 2,000 mile round-trip non-stop flight over the Antarctic continent to obtain geological and geographical data. A 150-foot ship, which will carry the party, is to leave Norway about August 1st, sail from New Zealand about November 1st and reach the base in the Bay of Whales around the middle of December. The Ellsworth expedition has recently been making test flights in Manitoba. The expedition will consist of only fifteen men. Ellsworth will be navigator on the flight, with Bernt Balchen as pilot.

FIRE CHIEF ARRESTED FOR RINGING IN FALSE ALARMS

Carl Thomas, Dravosburg, Pa., Officer, Gives Novel Excuse on Drunk and Disorderly Charge.

Pittsburg, April 6.—A fireman, of all people, turning in a false alarm—and chief at that, Carl Thomas, chief of suburban Dravosburg's fire department, admitted the act last night at a hearing before Magistrate Charles J. Carlson. "What's the idea?" demanded the burgess. "I thought it would be a swell night for a fire-drill," the chief explained. "I figured the negotiation of the Dravosburg mill would be a dandy test, so I sent in an alarm for the municipal airport. Then the police chief arrested me. That's all there is to it." The fire chief, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10.

MEN'S OWN AT ROCK ISLAND HELD MEETING

Interesting Debate Staged—General Notes from Rock Island and Derby Line.

Rock Island, April 6. — The monthly meeting of the Men's Own was held in the social rooms of the South United Church. About one hundred men sat down to a generous supper, while several more came in later to enjoy the entertainment, which was furnished by members of the Stanstead College staff. After a sing-song, which was entered into heartily by the men, Professor A. H. Martin played two piano selections, and Mr. D. Hackett contributed a song. The debate, "Resolved that the world is going to the dogs," was then staged, Principal E. C. Amerson, Mr. J. D. McFadyen and Mr. L. McGilton took the affirmative side and Professor A. H. Martin, Mr. A. P. Scott and Mr. J. Wittell the negative side. A popular vote was taken at the close, the negative side leading with seventeen votes. Dr. G. Ellery Read, of Sherbrooke, who was for some time pastor of the church, was present, and contributed a kindly word of greeting. Rev. H. A. Carson presided.

ACTION PLANNED AGAINST BOOTLEG MINE ACTIVITIES

Operation of Smaller Pits Threatens Lives of Many in Larger Nova Scotia Coal Pits.

Glace Bay, N.S., April 6.—Investigation into the deaths of miners who were killed by an explosion in a "bootleg" coal mine last week has disclosed that these outlaw pits constitute a serious menace to the lives of hundreds of miners working in the big collieries. Bootleg pit operators have broken through into No. 5 colliery at Reserve and into No. 24 at Caledonia mines at Glace Bay. Danger of an explosion in one of the small pits igniting gas in the larger colliery is apparent, mining officials state, and it is understood that steps will be taken to have these smaller mines permanently closed. Their operation is against the law.

MORE SQUARE YARDS OF CLEANING

... in a package of Old Dutch than in anything else you can buy, because Old Dutch is the only cleanser made of pure "seismotite," scientifically recognized as the safest, most efficient and most economical cleaning material. Safest because it doesn't scratch; it is free from harsh, sandy grit found in ordinary cleansers. Most efficient and economical because its flaky, flat-shaped particles cover more surface, go further and do more actual cleaning per penny of cost. Old Dutch costs less to use because it cleans more square yards of surface, cleans quicker, doesn't clog drains, is odorless and removes odors. And it does so many more cleaning tasks perfectly that it is the only cleanser you need in your home.

Coaticook, April 6.—Rev. A. E. Legge, M.A., B.Paed., gave an address on the book entitled "Quo Vadis," with lantern slides illustrating many of the events mentioned in the book. There was an even larger attendance than the previous week, practically every available seat being occupied. The slides showed the persecution of the early Christians during the time of the Emperor Nero in Rome.

Games were played by the young girls and an enjoyable afternoon spent. Tea was served at five o'clock. The table being tastefully arranged in yellow with yellow candles on the birthday cake gracing the center. Individual yellow baskets of nuts and candy made from crepe paper added to the appearance of the table. For place cards the girls each had to solve a jigsaw puzzle which, when correctly arranged, showed the number of their place at the table.

The executive committee of Coaticook's Centenary celebration held their first meeting in the council chamber at the Town Hall. President William Wallace occupied the chair and a good attendance was present. Routine business was taken up and plans discussed. It was decided to hold regular executive meetings on the last Friday of each month and the secretary was authorized to approach the Town Council with a view to obtaining the use of a room in the town building for these meetings.

The firemen were called out for two blazes recently. The first was at Willie Paquette's blacksmith and repair shop on Main street east. The blaze was first noticed by a young girl living in the tenement on the opposite side of the road. She at once put in the alarm and the firemen responded promptly. But before they were able to extinguish the fire it had caused much damage to tools, wood-working machinery and had destroyed a lot of valuable belting. A hole was also burned in the roof. A damage of several hundred dollars was caused. The other fire occurred in what was the old Moyle skating rink building on Baldwin street. This building had only recently been moved from the road and set back near the railway right-of-way. The lockers and partitions had been taken out and an up-to-date hen-house constructed. The fire gutted the building, leaving simply a skeleton framework. Mr. Samuel Moyle lost a number of valuable fowl.

The "FORT" Tire is the highest standard in tires. A new standard—entirely beyond comparison. In its construction there is no single element which might restrict perfection—only the determination of its builders to create a tire worthy in dependability and appearance of the finest cars of today.

You will gladly pay a trifle more for the DUNLOP "FORT" Tire than for any other tire—not alone for the satisfaction there is in ownership of fine things—but because "FORT" dependability gives you confidence and freedom from the haunting fear of possible tire failure at today's terrific pace.

Now made in Canada in a limited number of sizes, the "FORT" is the leader of a complete line of DUNLOP Tires which offer you unsurpassed value in every price range.

How Many Times a Day
do your feet
strike the ground?

The constant wear your shoes receive will show very quickly in footwear of inferior manufacture. Only the strongest leathers can stand up without losing their shape and their resiliency, unless you sit down all the time.

Quality in footwear is the first consideration.

You know better than to expect something for nothing. Your common sense tells you that material made to last costs less in the long run than material thrown together to sell.

Wiggett Shoe Shop

has been selling quality footwear in Sherbrooke for forty-seven years.

You will never find factory seconds or bankrupt stock on our shelves. We buy only the best products of the best manufacturers, direct from the plant. We know what we are getting, and when you buy from us you know what you are getting. Good shoes are cheap at any price; cheap shoes are dear at any price; and the buying public knows it. You will pay no less anywhere for comparable quality, appearance, comfort and fit.

PREMIER TELLS OF CONNECTION IN POWER DEAL

Premier Henry Admits Ownership of Ontario Power Service Corporation, But Declares Circumstances Made Sale Impossible.

Toronto, Ont., April 6.—Awaiting second reading of Premier George S. Henry's bill to validate the Abitibi Canyon Power project agreements, the Ontario Legislature today considered quietly all phases of the Premier's explanation of the transaction yesterday.

For Mr. Henry threw his cards on the table. He ended rumors which spread from one end of the province to the other, and declared flatly he held $25,000 worth of Ontario Power Service Corporation bonds which the province, through the Hydro Electric Power Commission, had taken over. He still had the bonds, he told the House. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Government Senate leader and a member of the Ontario Hydro Commission, himself had held $3,000 of the bonds and had sold them.

But no other member of the cabinet or of the Hydro Commission had the bonds, Mr. Henry said. He tabled a copy of the list of bondholders, and scrutiny revealed companies of which Mr. Meighen is a director have held a total of $213,000 worth of the bonds.

The Premier had no apologies to make. He had bought the bonds in 1929 when he was Minister of Highways. Later, he became Premier and through that office learned confidentially of financial difficulties through which the Ontario Power Service Corporation was passing. "It would have been manifestly improper for me to sell the bonds to a purchaser who had not the same information," he declared.

"I had the bonds; what should I do with them? Could I refuse on behalf of the Government to have anything to do with this great, important question which might ultimately be of tremendous benefit to the province? I could not. I was elected to serve the people and any personal consideration had to be pushed aside, and was pushed aside."

I am perfectly willing to leave my record and good name to the judgment of the people of Ontario when the time comes."

Chicago School Officials and Teachers: Place Little Importance on Student Strike Which Affected Five High Schools Yesterday.

Chicago, April 6.—The city's strike of school boys and girls was nothing more than a slight touch of the spring fever, officials believe.

They said they expected no recurrence of a student strike that effected five high schools yesterday, and which was characterized by the "strikers" as a protest in behalf of their teachers, whose salaries have long been overdue. Some of the strikers themselves described the movement as nothing more than a premature outburst of the spring practice of playing "hookey."

Approximately 14,000 pupils walked out of five schools. At Crane Junior College two agitators were expelled for activities in fomenting the strike there.

FISHING CREW SCATTERED BY SUDDEN SQUALL

Eleven Members of Salmon Trolling Fleet Perished as Storm Capsized Frail Boats and Hurlled Crews into Water.

Hoquiam, Wash., April 6.—Wreckage of numerous small fishing boats scattered along the beach today marked the path of a sudden spring squall which took the lives of at least eleven fishermen on the treacherous Grays Harbor bar.

The storm struck with savage fury late yesterday afternoon into the midst of the salmon trolling fleet as it was putting to sea.

Watchers saw seven of the little craft capsized, hurling their crews into the water.

About fifty of the fleet, made up of one hundred boats in all, made their way across the bar successfully, while the others turned back to Westport, their base.

Bodies of two men were washed ashore although neither was immediately identified.

Fishermen whose boats had survived the stormy waters told of having seen others of the fleet capsized and their crews tossed into the turbulent waters. Rescue work was nearly impossible, they said.

The fleet had put to sea under favorable weather conditions but by the time the bar was reached the waters, which are frequently navigated by large ships with difficulty, were being churned by the sudden squall.

Philanthropy: "Aw, I wasn't playin' for keeps. Take it back."

RUSSIAN GOODS EMBARGO AGAIN BEFORE HOUSE

Unless Dispute Occasioned by Arrest of British Officers by Soviets Is Settled Soon, British Ambassador Will Not Return to Russia.

London, April 6.—The House of Commons today resumed discussion of the Government's bill empowering it to declare an embargo on imports of Russian goods with the prospect the measure might be modified to cover only the crisis occasioned by the arrest in Moscow of six British electrical engineers on charges of plotting against the state.

Third reading of the bill, which will become effective April 18, was expected by tonight.

George Lansbury, Labor Parliamentary leader, obtained from the Government last night a promise that it would consider sympathetically the suggestion that the provisions of the bill be applied only in the case of the engineers and not as a regular basis of future Anglo-Russian trade relations.

Meanwhile it was revealed that unless the dispute between the two countries regarding charges of espionage and sabotage laid against the engineers is settled soon, Sir Edmond Ovey, British Ambassador, will not return to Moscow.

The bill was given second reading last night by a vote of 347 to 48. Opposition Liberals abstained from voting.

Maybe they are called finishing schools because a finisher is concerned only in making a nice show.

DILLON HAILED AS A PERFECT HOCKEY PLAYER

Youthful Winger Picked by Lester Patrick as the Greatest Hockey Player in the Next Few Years—Ken Doraty Occupies Hero Role Among the Maple Leafs.

New York, April 6.—Three years ago Lester Patrick pointed to one of his latest recruits, Cecil Dillon, and remarked "there is the perfect hockey player." Today the New York Rangers' silver-haired mentor maintains "he is going to be the greatest player in hockey." In the light of Patrick's experience as a player and coach, Dillon has a strong assignment to fill, but his performances this winter in the Stanley Cup play-offs reveal that he is a stylish performer of high calibre and becoming qualified for the niche Patrick has carved for him.

The twenty-four year old black-haired youngster learned his hockey with the famous Owen Sound Greys. Patrick discovered him in Toronto five years ago, and he developed for two years with the Ranger farm team at Springfield. During the present play-off campaign, Dillon has tied the championship goal and total point record established by a team-mate, Frankie Boucher. To date he has registered seven goals and furnished two assists. During the past few days he has been the idol of Gotham's hockey-crazed fans.

"This hero stuff has not spoiled him a bit," said Patrick. "He always was a natural player and I could do was to develop his knowledge of inside hockey. It's the same, you see, in this game as it is in baseball or any other sport. The difference between the minor league player and the major leaguer often is from the neck up.

"All Dillon needed was finish and he has been a perfect pupil. He knows now exactly what to do. Three times in this year's play-offs alone he's done the most spectacular of hockey's scoring plays—stealing a puck down deep in the enemy's defence, sweeping in on the goalie alone, feinting him out of position, then beating him cleanly for the goal.

"Like a big league pitcher he has learned to mix his stuff. He is coming along like a house afire. He is going to be the greatest player in hockey because his best years are still ahead of him."

With the cheers of thousands of loyal supporters echoing in their ears, the Rangers left New York last night en route to Toronto to continue the Stanley Cup final play-off. The Gothamites won the opening game of the best-of-five series Tuesday night from a band of Leafs who had established a modern hockey endurance record the night before against the Boston Bruins. The remaining games, starting Saturday night, will be played in the Canadian city because a circus has occupied Madison Square Garden.

And while Dillon is the toast of New York's sporting world, Ken Doraty is the Toronto hero. The light winger broke the Bruins' hearts with a tally after more than one hundred minutes' overtime. Midway through the National Hockey League season, Conny Smythe announced that a deal was pending whereby Doraty would be sent to the Leafs' farm camp at Syracuse in exchange for Bill Downie. Doraty was considered too small to stand the major league pace.

Early Tuesday morning, with fans as exhausted as players, Doraty showed he could stand the pace in much better fashion than a score of the biggest and generally considered the toughest men in hockey.

SASKATOON NETMINDER SETS PLAY-OFF RECORD

Saskatoon, April 6.—When Conney Wood, sensational netminder of the Saskatoon Quakers, blanked Trail by two to nothing in the western hockey final of the Allan Cup play-offs at Vancouver last night, it marked the four hundredth minute that the "Hub City" goalie had not allowed a tally in the Allan Cup play-offs, which is somewhat of a record itself.

In twelve play-off games to date, Wood has only had six goals scored against him. His shutout record against Edmonton Superiors with a three to nothing score, held Fort William to a scoreless tie after one hundred and fifty minutes of hockey and then shut them out in the deciding game after seventy minutes of play. His two shutouts against Trail completed the record, and it is doubtful if this record has ever been surpassed in Canadian amateur playdowns.

SUSPECT ANOTHER MURDER BY FILIPINO SECRET SECT

California Officials Today Investigating Disappearance of Second Woman.

Marcel, Calif., April 6.—California officials today investigated the possibility of a second "ritual" murder by a Filipino secret society. Indictment Monday of ten men and women at Martinez, on charges of burying alive Mrs. Celine Navarro, aged twenty-six, because of alleged unfaithfulness to her husband, resulted in an investigation of the disappearance here of another woman.

Catalina Rodez, aged eighteen, American wife of Fructos Rodez, Filipino ranch worker, disappeared from her home in Corte early in May, 1932.

Gerald—Do you believe in heresy?
Janice—Sure, that's how I got my money.

SASKATOON IN SENIOR FINAL WITH MONCTON

Quakers Blank Trail Smoke Eaters by Two to Nothing in Western Canada Allan Cup Final—Hawks Face Strong Assignment Against Sensational Saskatoon Goalie.

Vancouver, April 6.—The time-worn old emblem of the top-notch in Canada's amateur hockey, the Allan Cup, was destined today for a 1933 resting place either farther east or farther west than it has ever been before. It will go to Saskatoon, but once a title winner, or to New Brunswick, virgin country for the championship in Canada's most-played outdoor game.

The Moncton Hawks, who arrived here only today after the long journey that ever carried a hockey team into the Dominion final, found their match-up against the Saskatoon Quakers in the best-of-three battle for the senior laurels. The youthful crew from northern Saskatchewan won the western title last night by scoring against Trail Smoke Eaters, perennial British Columbia champions, the only two goals in the two-game western final.

When the trans-continental Hawks go into the series opener on Saturday night, they will be up against the youngest senior hockey team to make a showing in Canada this season. And they will face Conney Wood, a netminder who has not been scored on in four hundred minutes of bitter playdown battle. A pair of subs, Jim Dewey and Bert Scharfe, came through for Conney last night to do the scoring.

Entering last night's game on even terms with the Smoke Eaters, British Columbia titlists and perennial challengers of western hockey supremacy, the Quakers took the lead in the second period when Dewey banged the disc into a wide open net. It came two minutes before the end of the period. Again in the third the Trail defence was caught flat-footed, Scharfe making a steal from a scramble to dash down the ice and score the final tally. It was Scharfe's rebound that gave Dewey his scoring chance the period before.

The Smoke Eaters forced the play most of the way, but most of their attacks were turned aside by the sturdy Quaker defence and the rest collapsed against the pads of goalie Wood. Only six goals have been scored against him during the Quakers' play-off progress.

FEARS ALLAYED, ALTHOUGH BOAT IS STILL MISSING

Arrival of Schooner Unreported for Many Hours After Annual St. Petersburg-Havana Race Raises Hopes that Second Craft Is Not Lost at Sea.

Havana, April 6.—One yacht still was missing today many long hours after most of the fleet which sailed in the annual St. Petersburg-Havana race had finished but fears that it had been lost at sea were allayed by the arrival of another which had gone unreported through most of yesterday afternoon and evening.

Irondequoit, a sixty-one-foot yawl owned by G. A. Talbot of Tampa, was the missing craft. It had not been seen since a sixty-mile gale struck the fleet off the western end of the Florida Keys, damaging most of the boats and forcing two to put in at Key West. Cynosure, thirty-six-footer sailed by "Gidge" Gandy of St. Petersburg, also was the object of a search last night but the little yawl finally came into the harbor shortly and reported that the only trouble had been with head winds which delayed its progress along the 224-mile course.

Eight of the eleven starters crossed the finish line from early morning to late afternoon yesterday but only five came under sail. The others had been damaged by the high winds and were forced to use auxiliary power, disqualifying them so far as the race was concerned. Victory in the Class "A" and unlimited divisions went to Houston Wall's speedy forty-five-footer, Algonquin, built in Shelburne, N.S., by W. J. Rout. Class "B" honors were won by Gamecock, owned by William B. Allen of Louisville, Ky., through its time allowance of six hours and six minutes.

BASKETBALL VICTIMS OF AIR-PLANE CRASH BURIED TODAY

Winnipeg, April 6.—Two survivors of the plane crash in Kansas last week which wrecked Winnipeg's Toller from their bid for a second successive Canadian basketball title were among the mourners today at the funeral of "Mike" Shea, Jr., nimble forward star. The body of Joe Dadds, Shea's front line sidekick, was taken to Carleton Place, Ont., for a public funeral service yesterday.

Hugh Penwarden and Lauder Phillips, members of the Toller team who survived the fatal crash, arrived today from Sedesha, Kansas, and went directly to St. Mary's Cathedral for the Shea funeral. Members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, hundreds of friends and sports followers packed the church for the Requiem Mass, after which the body was interred at St. Mary's Cemetery.

SMYTHE THINKS RANGER SERIES WILL GO LIMIT

Toronto Manager Predicts Torrid Series With Clancy and Primeau Ready for Battle—"Three Straight" Is Lester Patrick's Cry.

Toronto, April 6.—Back on home soil to finish the series, the Toronto Maple Leafs started a three-day strength-building campaign today as they awaited the second game of the Stanley Cup final series against New York Rangers. The Leafs dropped the only game they will play away from home by five to one on Tuesday night at New York.

The Leafs got lazy in a big way today as Conny Smythe and Dick Irvin promoted a programme they hope will have the champions in first class condition for the second of the five-game series on Saturday night. It was the first day of real rest for the team since they played the Boston Bruins on Monday and on into Tuesday morning, winning by one to nothing in 104-46 minutes' overtime to qualify for the final.

It has been train rides and a battle with the Rangers since the marathon with the Bruins. Today the Leafs loafed about Thorncliffe Park, looking over the Smythe racing stable, and at noon took a brief skating workout at the Maple Leaf Gardens. Then a long rubdown.

With his team in readiness by Saturday to battle the Rangers on even terms, Smythe predicted a torrid series that he thought might go the full five games. "King" Clancy, who took a terrific beating in the Boston series and then absorbed more punishment at New York, is expected to be ready for the call. Joe Primeau also will be in action Saturday.

The Rangers arrived here this afternoon, confident they will finish the series as quickly as Toronto did a year ago.

"Three straight" is the Lester Patrick cry. In the 1932 finals the Leafs drubbed the Blue Shirts three times in a row to win the Stanley Cup.

METCALFE LOST IN FINAL BOUT LAST EVENING

After Making His Way Through Semi-Final in 108-Pound Class of Provincial Amateur Tourney, Young Sherbrooke Boxer Flattered Before B. White, of Montreal.

Montreal, April 6.—After putting up a creditable performance to reach the final in the 108-pound class, Jack Metcalfe, of Sherbrooke, met defeat in the provincial amateur boxing tournament here last night.

Metcalfe vanquished E. Petrin, of Montreal, in the semi-final by a decision. He lost out, however, to B. White, of Montreal, in the final test. White and Metcalfe were cautious during the first two rounds of their three-round go, but they opened up in the last round and White earned the victory by a score of 10-8.

Tony Mancini, of Montreal, in taking the provincial welterweight crown, met an old foe in Louis Nickilo, also of Montreal. The latter was eliminated by Mancini last year in the Olympic trials at Toronto. Mancini and Nickilo have met many times and each boy held four wins apiece. However, Mancini clearly outpointed Nickilo this time.

Ottawa, April 6.—The index number of wholesale prices on the base of 1926 equals 100 rose from 63.6 in February to 64.4 in March, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Ninety-one quotations were higher, 57 lower and 354 remained unchanged. Vegetable products moved up from 50.8 to 52.1, animals and their products rose from 55.8 to 58.2, fibres, ash the series as quickly as Toronto did a year ago.

NEW JURISPRUDENCE RE LEGAL FEES IS CREATED

Justice Wilson Declares Loser of Criminal Case May Be Ordered to Pay Legal Fees of Winner.

Montreal, April 6.—New jurisprudence in the Province of Quebec regards the question as to whether or not lawyers are entitled to legal fees in criminal cases, which legal fees are to be paid by the losing party, was established by Mr. Justice Charles A. Wilson sitting in the Court of King's Bench, Appeal Side, when, in virtue of Article 576 of the Canadian Criminal Code, he held that every superior court of criminal jurisdiction may at any time make rules of court not inconsistent with any statute of Canada, and which apply, in part, to amongst other things, the questions of bail and costs.

His judgment consequently awarded Ben Bernstein, K.C., and Louis H. Rohrlack, attorneys, legal fees and court costs amounting to $139, taxing the City of Montreal—appellants in a case before the Court of King's Bench, Appeal Side—for that amount.

The deceased had been in failing health for some time, but attended to his duties on his farm until a week before his passing away.

His death, which resulted from la grippe complicating in pneumonia, was a profound shock to his family, relatives and friends. The deceased, "Herb," as he was fondly called, was the youngest of three children of Alfred Rogers and Susan Ermina Williams. ASKS FURTHER LIMITATION OF STEAM VESSELS

Head of Maritime Fishermen's Union Declares Recent Reduction in Steam Trawler Licenses Only One Step to Aid Industry.

Halifax, April 6.—Action of the Federal Government in reducing the number of trawler licenses is a step in the right direction but a very short one, in the opinion of Alfred Hanlon, president of the United Maritime Fishermen.

"The recent ruling of the Government at Ottawa, whereby steam trawler licenses have been limited to four, representing a reduction of the present operating fleet by one-third, is, in my opinion, but a short step towards the solving of one of the greatest economic problems with which we are faced and is likely to prove entirely inadequate insofar as serving the purpose for which it was designed is concerned," said Mr. Hanlon in an official statement yesterday.

"It is an indication, however, that the government is fully aware of the need for greater protection and encouragement for Atlantic shore fishermen and that it is giving serious thought to their case."

"It must be remembered that for only short periods during each year all of the six licenses trawlers operated. As a matter of fact the normal average number in operation would not exceed four, if indeed that many, consequently the decision of the government to license only four does not, in my opinion, greatly affect the situation which has prevailed and therefore will not react to the extent of giving shore fishermen an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to supply the fresh fish markets, the control of which still remains pretty much in the hands of the trawler operators."

"It has been pointed out that the government of Canada has created a precedent in the matter of restricting trawler operations. Why couldn't it? It is not most reassuring that as a nation we are inclined to lead rather than to follow, and that our government is not prone to overlook the needs of the people because it might necessitate legislation differing from that of other countries with respect to the same."

ASBESTOS BREECHES GIVEN UNITED STATES TREASURER

Colorado Democrat Makes Unusual Gift to William H. Woodin, "Holder of the Hottest Seat in Washington."

Denver, Colo., April 6.—Up until today there had been some question as to whether Secretary William Woodin, of the United States Treasury, actually received a pair of asbestos breeches as a gift. But doubt has been swept aside by G. M. Fiechter, Denver Democrat, who is responsible for the following story:

When former Secretary of Treasury Ogden L. Mills accompanied President Hoover to California recently, the train stopped at Cheyenne, Wyo. There Mills told newspapermen the pants story, but verification was hard to get.

It seems that when Goodin stepped into the Treasury office, Mills warned him he was "taking over the hottest seat in Washington."

Mills advised him to obtain a pair of asbestos breeches. A few days after Secretary Woodin had been in office, he met Mills, Fiechter said, and told him "You were right about those asbestos breeches. I need 'em."

Fiechter said he supplied the best asbestos pants, fashioned after a pattern popularly known as "shorts," were stitched by Fiechter. They were dispatched to Secretary Woodin with a letter which said in part:

"I have taken the liberty to send you by parcel post the required protection. I sincerely wish you a perfect fit."

industry carried on under conditions which are often entirely different?"

"While the exponents of the steam trawlers voice the opinion that the recent action of the government will tend to discourage the investment of foreign capital in Canadian Atlantic fisheries, it will in reality encourage such investments by the ultimate removal and entire elimination of the present monopolistic control which the concentrated operation of steam trawlers has made possible."

OHIO SENDS ORDERS TO CANADIAN BREWERIES

Windsor, Ont., April 6.—Breweries in this district today report receipt of numerous orders from Ohio points for 3.2 beer to be shipped as soon as the sale of the beverage is made legal in the United States.

DRASTIC PLAN OF INFLATION IS SUGGESTED

Continued Suspension of Specie Payments and Guarantee of Bank Deposits Needed to Restore Prosperity, Declares Committee.

New York, April 6.—A five-point inflation plan, which its exponents believe would "restart industry and give rapidly increasing employment," was outlined last night by "The Committee for the Nation to Restore Prosperity."

The programme is signed by five members of the "directing committee," and also by one hundred prominent United States business leaders, industrialists and economists. It advises the Federal Government:

"Recognize that bank deposits constitute the nation's important medium of exchange. Therefore, the reopening of the maximum number of banks must be expedited and deposits unfrozen as rapidly as possible by a very broad and liberal use of the power granted the administration by recent emergency legislation. In the opinion of the committee, the government would be justified in expanding currency to protect the depositors of banks which have not yet reopened. The government should guarantee the deposits of all banks which have been reopened and which have been declared sound."

"Continue the embargo on gold export and suspension of specie payments. Before the United States returns to the gold standard, conferences should be held with Great Britain with the aim of making arrangements for these two countries to return to the gold basis simultaneously and on a basis that will give each country the price level it desires."

Brewers here said it was easily possible to make this brew by mixing near beer with the present product, but no orders have been definitely looked because of the cost of new labels and other special expenses.

TOM MIX GIVES AN INSIDE VIEW INTO HIS HOME LIFE

Remark by Gigolo in His Home Started Fracas Which Resulted in His Former Wife Shooting Him in the Arm, Popular Screen Actor Tells Court.

Los Angeles, April 6.—The assertion he was shot in the arm in 1924 by his wife, the present Mrs. Victoria Forde de Olazabal, was made in court here by Tom Mix, screen actor.

Mix was testifying in his own behalf in his wife's attempt to collect five $10,000 promissory notes. She now is the wife of the Argentine Consul in San Francisco.

Records showed that at the time of the shooting Mix reported he had accidentally wounded himself. "It was in March, 1924," he testified. "Mrs. Mix had been down to the harbor with some friends, looking at a boat. I went home, and there were some people there. One of the gigolos picked up a photograph of me jumping from a window to a girder. He said, 'Mrs. Mix, if I were you I'd have my husband's head examined. I didn't like the remark and I threw him out.'"

"Mrs. Mix began to throw things at me. I just turned them aside. She threw a silver tray. I saw something at me, and the first thing I knew she had the gun."

WIDE VARIETY IS OFFERED IN SPRING FROCKS

Hats, Gloves and Shoes Also Have a Special "Touch" in Keeping With Dame Fashion's Latest Creations.

Paris, April 6.—The frocks which are part of the new Easter ensemble offer the widest variety of color, cut and fabric shown in many seasons.

Cotton and linen are in the front ranks of fabric fashions in new wavy weaves which closely resemble wool, while softly pebbled crepes, stripes, checks, floral prints, polka dots and soft, lightweight, pliable wools are offered in colors galore.

In designs the frocks also are widely varied, although most of them are based on a rather straight silhouette having a normal waistline and a hem seven to ten inches from the ground. Their diversity lies in sleeves which vary from shoulder capes to full length, necklines which may be high, draped or scarfed and belts which may be wide or narrow.

Hats are as varied as the dresses. African fezes of knitted wool, straw or crepe, "High-top" toques which rise six inches above the forehead, and flower covered turbans are among the models.

Gloves appear in such unusual fabrics as cotton piques, linen and silk crepe to match the frock. Bags retain the envelope design in antelope, kid or ribbed leathers. Shoes appear in the same leathers in beige, grey, navy blue or brown.

Eight new chapters were reported formed, two in Vancouver and one each in Saint John, N.B., North Bay, Ont., Fredericton, N.B., Winnipeg, Man., Wainwright, Alta., and Montreal.

STRESS NEED OF ANIMALS IN MEDICAL LABORATORIES

Toronto Professor Says that Without Animals in Laboratory the Situation in Medicine Would Be "So Ghastly We Need Not Even Contemplate It."

New York, April 6.—Medical research would be sorely hampered without the use of guinea pigs and other animals in laboratories, Dr. Charles H. Best, insulin pioneer from the University of Toronto, told the annual meeting of the New York State Medical Society yesterday.

In a brief reference to the insulin treatment which he introduced with Dr. F. G. Banting, a decade ago, Dr. Best estimated that more than 1,000,000 diabetic persons are now being kept alive by its use.

HAS BEEN ASLEEP TWELVE DAYS UNDER ANAESTHETIC

Case of Phoenix, Ariz., Man May Be Classed as One of Rarest in Medical History.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 6.—Twelve days ago Arthur M. Jones sat in a dentist's chair and inhaled deeply of an anaesthetic. Two teeth were extracted.

Today, more than 270 hours later, Jones still was unconscious, a patient in a Phoenix hospital. "Unchanged," was the hospital's description of his condition.

His case, physicians said, may be classed as one of the rarest in medical history. In one person in every so many millions they explained, the brain cells governing consciousness have a peculiar texture, or condition, which makes them strangely susceptible to the power of anaesthetic — so much so that the mildest type produces a deep sleep from which it is extremely difficult to rouse the patient. Medical authorities were unwilling to predict the probable outcome of his case.

Jones is president of a Phoenix firm of stock brokers.

He sent out a message saying the ship was in "good" condition, that the passengers aboard were sleeping soundly and that the only difficulty in sight was the need of more water before he proceeded on his journey.

The vessel listed slightly to the portside, but observers said this was probably due to her position on the reef and not to any damage

GROUNDUP SHIP REFUSED OFFER OF ASSISTANCE

Havana-Bound Passengers On Board Spanish Steamer Marques de Comillas Patiently Await Higher Water for Ship to Clear Itself.

Miami, Fla., April 6.—The Spanish steamer Marques de Comillas, grounded since Tuesday on a reef at Cagysfort lighthouse, forty miles south of here, made an unsuccessful attempt to clear herself during high tide early today, but still refused aid when she failed.

Coast guard cutters and a privately-owned tug stood by while the Marques churned the water with her twin screws in an effort to get free of the coral. The master of the vessel refused aid and announced he had decided to wait a few hours before another effort to float free with his 104 Havana-bound passengers.

He sent out a message saying the ship was in "good" condition, that the passengers aboard were sleeping soundly and that the only difficulty in sight was the need of more water before he proceeded on his journey.

The vessel listed slightly to the portside, but observers said this was probably due to her position on the reef and not to any damage

Great Future for Theological Education in Canada Predicted at First Annual Meeting of United Church Board of Christian Education.

Toronto, April 6.—A great future for theological education in Canada and also for the study of religion as an arts subject in the universities was predicted here by Dr. J. W. Graham at the first annual meeting of the Board of Christian Education of the United Church of Canada. He suggested a school of post-graduate studies in divinity should be formed co-operatively by Canadian churches.

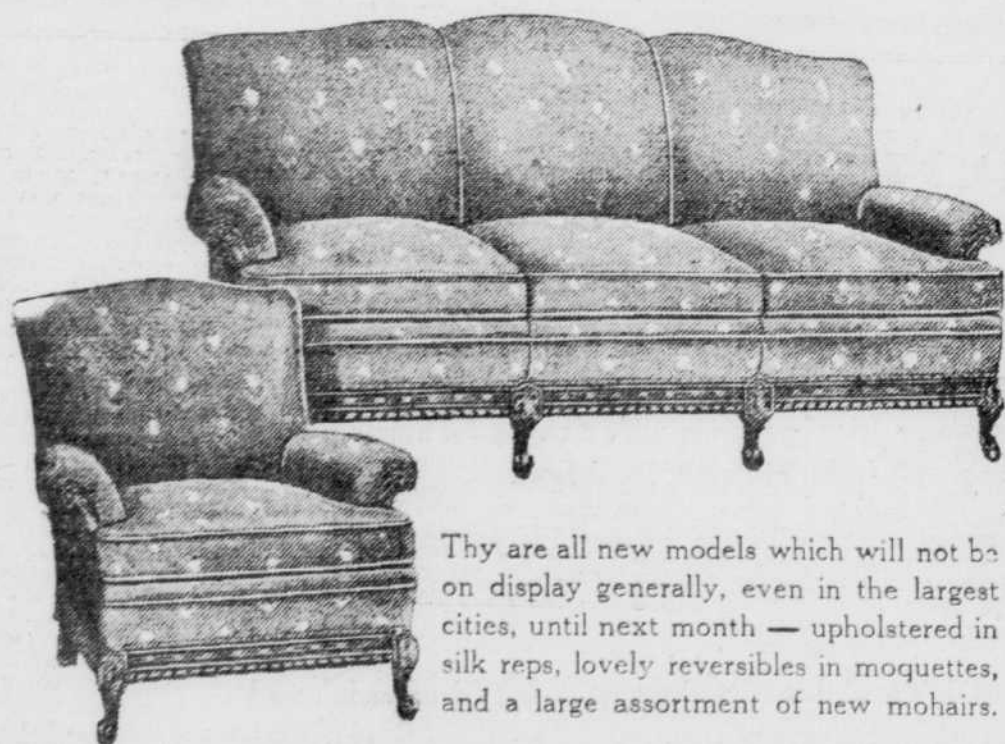

The board has been formed by merging the former Board of Education, of which Dr. Graham was secretary, and the Board of Religious Education. The former had charge of colleges and ministerial training, while the Board of Religious Education directed Sunday schools and young people's work.

Dr. T. Albert Moore, moderator of the United Church of Canada, extended greetings to the members, while from his sick bed, the chairman, Chancellor M. W. Wallace, of University College, Toronto, sent a brief word of encouragement.

President George J. Trueman, of Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., was elected chairman for the present session.

to the ship. Coastguard aeroplanes flew over the ship yesterday and planned similar flights later to check on her safety.
