THURSDAY AT THE EXHIBITION.

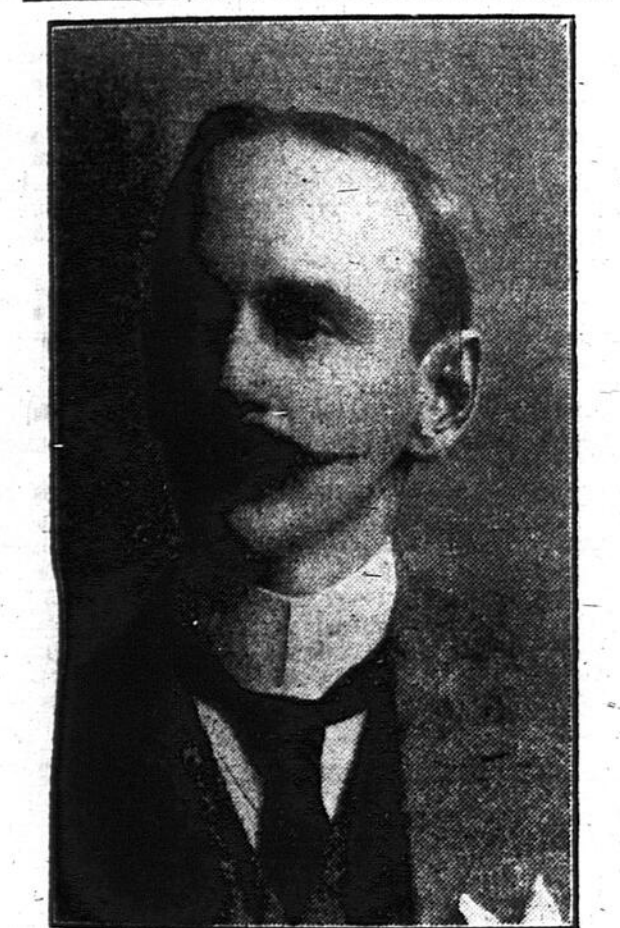

"American Visitors" Day Lacks Sunshine But the Crowds Come Just the Same.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND HERE WEDNESDAY.

This is designated as "American Visitors" day at the Sherbrooke Fair, and thousands of our American cousins are here to attend Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition.

The weather is not of the right sort, but the elements are not sufficient to induce the thousands to forego their annual excursion to the great Sherbrooke Fair. Some there are whom inclement weather frightens and as a consequence the attendance yesterday and today is somewhat below the big days of last year.

DIRECTOR W. MORRIS, Chairman of the Agricultural, Horticultural and Dairy Committees of the E. T. Exhibition.

DIRECTOR J. F. LEARNED, of the E.T.A.A.

The total being about 5,000 for the afternoon, and 3,000 in the evening. When the number of free admissions to attendants and exhibitors are considered, about 2500 may be added to the general admission.

THE SPECIALTY PERFORMANCE.

The specialty programme, this year, as first presented in its entirety, yesterday afternoon, contains several very interesting features.

One of the leading features of the programme was the acting of Mlle. Maude De Loma, who is a finished artist in her line. Four graceful, supple, and absolute mastery of every muscle, the fine, handsome young woman can scarcely have her equal.

The interest taken at present in everything Japanese, contributed not a little to the close attention given to the troupe of Jap. acrobats, who did everything possible in the way of balancing, tight rope walking, etc. To see a rather slender young man balance a ladder on his feet, while at the top three others are performing all sorts of difficult feats, must be seen to be believed. Their distinctive features, narrow eyes, mat of black hair, and the curious figured cotton tunics gave a foreign flavor, which appealed to the spectators.

Everyone loves dogs and horses, and to many the best feature of the afternoon was the really marvellous Pony and Dog Circus of Prof. Roché.

The three pretty ponies with shining satin skins, and the five handsome dogs, displayed an intelligence nearly akin to human, and made one feel that Kipling, Seton-Thompson and Roberts are not so far wrong when they attribute thought and feeling to the brute creation. The highly-trained creatures, who through their acts, with apparently great enjoyment, stimulated by the rounds of applause.

The three Camera Sisters, acrobats and equilibristes, went through a number of wonderful feats, one of which deserves description. The eldest, and presumably the strongest of the trio, ascended a ladder of stairs, with one of her sisters standing on her head, while the other forms the top of the pyramid, in reversed position.

The Sarrano family gave an artistic and thrilling exhibition, turning somersaults, backward and forward, in mid air, on a wonderful arrangement of trapeze poles and pulleys; and White and Lamart, the nimble acrobats, are funny in "The Tuck Bill-board Fence."

The day was crowned by a perfect balloon ascension, the daring aeronaut detaching himself from the balloon at a dizzy height, and gently descending to the ground.

The fine music was furnished by the Lewistown, Me., Band, the Harmony, and for the performance, by the North Hatley and Waterville Bands.

The evening performance was, as usual, a grand success. The afternoon specialties were repeated with some new features of very special interest.

The 53rd Regiment's exhibition of Physical drill took immensely with the large crowd which filled the immense Grand Stand. The movements were executed with precision and reflected great credit upon the men of the 53rd.

Mlle. Rialto, dazzling fire and mirror dancer, furnished an interesting feature of the evening performance.

The display of fireworks, culminating in the grand scenic piece, "The Battle of Trafalgar."

WEDNESDAY'S RACES.

The track was very heavy yesterday afternoon with the result that the time was slow. Several of the horses entered were drawn, as the owners did not deem it wise to start them under the conditions which prevailed. In the 2.35 pace five heats were run, and it was a drive home all the way between Banner Boy and Annie D. in the last three heats. The 2.30 trot went in three straight, Oleander never having been challenged. The open flat race of one mile had four starters. Red Monk, who has never been beaten in this course went down yesterday before faster company, coming in at the end of the procession. Miron led all the way. Hilo, belonging to W. J. Hunt, and well ridden by O. Maguire followed closely behind.

FAIR CONTINUED ON SATURDAY.

The directors at a meeting, this morning, decided to continue the Fair over Saturday. The entire platform specialty performance and the Open and 2.28 class races will take place. This decision is due to the inclement weather. There will be no reserved seats on the Grand Stand, admissions to the grounds and stand being the same as during the other days of the Fair. With fine weather, Saturday will be one of the best days of the week to visit the Fair.

STRACHAN'S GLIT EDGE PREMIUMS.

Premium Parlor, 93 Marquette street will be open every day and evening during this week. Wrappers exchanged. Large assortment of new premiums, and all given free with Glit Edge Soap wrappers.

THE EMPIRE TOBACCO CO.

The manufacturers of the famous Bobs tobacco have made a big hit with their tobacco fair exhibit at the Fair. It is a center of attraction. Both yesterday and to-day there were crowds before the booth viewing with interest this illustration of tobacco farming. The preparation of this exhibit and that of L. A. Codere, further, in the centre of the building, has involved great expense, and are of great interest to visitors. Many Townships' farmers yesterday and to-day sought detailed information of the Bobs representatives regarding tobacco growing. They express their intention to introduce it as a branch of their farming.

SWEET CAPORAL.

Sweet Caporal is creating quite a stir about town this week. The magnificent brass mounted wagon, drawn by a fine span of horses, with the handsome and gentlemanly driver, and the fire bell gong, is certainly the sensation of the hour at Sherbrooke Fair and in Sherbrooke city. The little Sweet Caporal is on the firing line this week as usual.

MUSIC AT THE FAIR.

A center of interest for all lovers of music, and fine musical instruments, continues to be the exhibit made by Messrs. H. C. Wilson & Sons. Up to ten o'clock, to-day, it is understood, Messrs. Wilson had sold four of the special high grade pianos and five organs. The indications are that the whole exhibit will be sold before the Fair closes. Music is being rendered each day on the various instruments, and the exhibit is thus not only artistic, but exceedingly entertaining as well. H. C. Wilson & Sons' music parlors, on Wellington street, have, also, received many visitors this week. Here are to be found another and more numerous array of the finest musical instruments of the day, Heintzmann & Co., Mason & Risch, Wilson and Berlin are the familiar names of the high grade pianos handled by this firm, and each name is a guarantee of excellence.

SHERBROOKE DAIRY COMPANY.

No farmer who owns a herd of cows in the counties surrounding Sherbrooke should be without seeing the exhibit of the Sherbrooke Dairy Company. It is located in the main building at the entrance opposite the Hospital booth, and is easily recognized by a display of various sizes of Empire separators inside a corral of cream shipping cases. The exhibit is profusely decorated with green and gold, the company's colors, and a bit of British red.

One of the signs of the times in the dairying industry is the evolution which is going on in the creamery business. In the early days of creamery butter manufacture the cream from scattered herds was gathered by a collector who drove out with tank or cans and a measuring pail. Upon the invention of the centrifugal cream separator, however, this was followed by the drawing of the whole milk to a central skimming plant. Sweeter cream and an improved quality of butter resulted, but the expense of drawing a 100 lbs. of milk to the separator and returning 90 lbs. of skim-milk to the farm for the sake of leaving 10 lbs. of cream at the factory proved to be excessive. It was also found that the mixed skim-milk, usually containing some condensed steam, reached the farms in a condition that largely precluded the possibility of using it profitably for the feeding of young stock. With the improvement of centrifugal machines, however, and the consequent extensive use of cream separators upon the farms, these older methods are being superseded by the hand separator system.

The improvement in the young stock, the saving of time, reduction in the cost of hauling, increased profits and general satisfaction which the selling of the cream affords is too well recognized to need further comment, but it may be pointed out that to secure the best results the farmer should be provided with a separator that will enable him without inconvenience to furnish regularly a supply of rich, clean, flavored cream. Some separators are not well adapted for use on the farms, because they are not easy to operate and are hard to take care of. An ideal machine should put all the butter-fat and little of the skim-milk into the cream pail, be light running, easy to wash thoroughly, and so simple that it will keep right on for years with little or no cost for repairs. The Sherbrooke Dairy Company in offering the Empire to the farmers of the Townships are confident that it, more than any other separator, fills these requirements. Its use in this province for the last ten years has proven that it does good work and gives no trouble. And here at the exhibition as the Quebec, Vermont, or New Hampshire visitor recognizes his faithful empire, there is a glad smile and a hearty endorsement.

The Sherbrooke Dairy Co. both furnish the separator and an all-year-round market for the cream. Their system differs widely from that usually employed by factories and has been found to have many advantages. Each producer sells his cream to the company on a basis of its butter fat value at a price previously offered; a simple business transaction such as occurs when he disposes of other kinds of produce. On the first day of each month patrons are notified regarding the price offered per lb. of butter fat delivered to the creamery or any railway station during the first half of the month. Each can of cream is sealed and weighed by the express agent at the point of shipment. On arrival at creamery it is re-weighed and tested and the number of lbs. of butter-fat credited to the shipper's account. A detailed statement together with a cheque for the amount due is sent out in time to reach its destination on the 16th of each month. This statement shows the date of each shipment, the weights of cream, a grading as to sweetness and flavor, the test and number of pounds of butter-fat in each lot, and its total value.

The shipper is offered a price for his cream, over and above all expenses, before he parts with it. He continues shipments at his pleasure, receives prompt details and regular payments. Messrs. J. E. Crealy and R. B. Bissalton, of the Dairy Co., are in attendance at the exhibit, and will take pleasure in explaining the merits of the Empire and the profits to be made from its products.

CHALLENGE FOR AMERICA CUP.

BELIEVED SIR ERNEST COCHRANE WILL TRY AND LIFT IT.

London, Sept. 7.—The Times' Dublin correspondent telegraphs that Sir Ernest Cochrane declined yesterday to confirm or deny the report that he proposes to challenge for the America Cup. The correspondent says it is understood, however, that the report is well-founded.

THE GUESTS OF THE DIRECTORS.

Lieutenant-Governor And Ministers Entertained At Dinner.

EXPRESS THEIR APPRECIATION OF THE SPLENDID EXHIBITION—HIS HONOR PRAISES SHERBROOKE.

Sir Louis Jette, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec, was entertained at dinner last evening by the directors of the E. T. A. A. in the board room. Among the other invited guests were Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Provincial Treasurer; Hon. A. Tessier, Minister of Agriculture; Dr. P. Pelletier, M.L.A. Sherbrooke; Messrs. P. S. G. Mackenzie, M.L.A.; Richmond; George R. Smith, Megantic; M. Marchionni, M.L.A.; Nicolet; P. A. Bissalton, Stanstead; M. Blanchard, A.D.C. to the Lieut-Governor; A. G. Couillard, Secretary of the Minister of Agriculture; the Mayor and City Councilors, Dr. Bachand, coroner; R. H. Pope, L. E. Panneton, K.C.; R. G. Lomas, L. S. Channell (Record); L. A. Belanger (Progres de l'Est), etc. Mr. Alex. Ames, President of the Association, presided, and had on his right Sir Louis Jette, Hon. A. Tessier and Mayor Leonard, and on his left Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Mr. J. B. Keating, British Vice-Consul, Portland, Me., and Mr. Justice Hutchinson.

Full justice having been done to the good things provided, Mr. Alex. Ames proposed the toast of the King, which was duly honored.

The next toast was that of the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Louis Jette, and which was proposed by the chairman. The Association was very pleased to have His Honor with them, so that he could see what they were doing for the advancement of agriculture. He trusted that this would not be his last visit to Canada's Great Eastern Exhibition.

HIS HONOR PLEASURED WITH SHERBROOKE AND THE FAIR.

Sir Louis Jette, on rising to reply, was received with applause. "I am very much pleased with the reception which you have given me," he said. "I thank you very much for your kindness to me during my visit. You have a magnificent exhibition. I was also very much surprised to see so thriving and beautiful a city. I had never had the opportunity of seeing it before until to-day. The city has a prosperous air about it. The properties are well kept and also the grounds surrounding them. I will certainly retain most agreeable impressions of my visit to Sherbrooke, and the kindness of the people and gentlemen I have met. I hope at some future occasion to come back to Sherbrooke and meet you all again."

The "Parliament of Canada" was responded to by Dr. P. Pelletier, M.L.A., who made a very neat speech, fitting to his subject.

C. H. R. Fries proposed the toast of the Premier of the Province and Ministers of the Province. After referring to the honor conferred upon the Association by the visit of the Premier and his ministers, and the fact that the Premier had to leave owing to pressing duties, he spoke of the fact that it was a great many years since they had been honored with a visit from a Lieutenant-Governor. The Association was now 21 years of age, and the directors felt that they were getting along in years, and he thought that during their lifetime they had been doing good work in the interests of the agricultural community. Speaking of the unfavorable weather which they had experienced, he expressed the hope that the Government would come to their assistance in a financial way. The members of the ministry, who had been with them would see that they were doing their duty and that the money received from the Government and city of Sherbrooke was spent wisely. The directors had put their money into the Association and had devoted their energies to make it a success, without deriving any financial benefit. They worked in the interests of the city of Sherbrooke and the agricultural community. I repeated the names of Hon. J. C. McCorkill and Hon. A. Tessier with the toast.

PROVINCIAL TREASURER SPEAKS.

Hon. J. C. McCorkill, Provincial Treasurer, in reply said that he regretted the fact that Premier Gouin had to leave. He knew that he was in the heart of the Association, and the fact that the Association suffered from bad weather, he believed that it was due to the fact that in past years they always had a minister without portfolio as a visitor, and this year they had not. He would see that on another occasion they had such a representative furnished. (A voice—Dr. Pelletier will do.) He wished to say that he was most heartily in sympathy with the Association. The reason he believed they success attended their efforts was the fact that the directors marched in step, and worked harmoniously together. The Association certainly deserved all the Government assistance which they could give. He favored very much the idea of making the Sherbrooke exhibition the Provincial exhibition. The Government spent $25,000 every year in grants to fairs and county shows, but if Sherbrooke received the share it ought to of this amount Toronto itself would not excel the exhibition given by the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association. A very important question for both the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario to consider was whether they were not

REFUSES TO RESIGN.

SHERIFF DAWSON DEMANDS AN INVESTIGATION.

Kingston, Sept. 7.—Mr. Thos. Dawson, Sheriff of Frontenac for eight years, has been requested by the Whitney Government to send in his resignation. The reason given for this request is the allegation that he has been mixed up in political affairs. Sheriff Dawson has declined to comply with the request made of him, and demands an investigation into the charges of partisanship. Mr. Dawson is a Roman Catholic. He denies having had anything to do with politics since his appointment, beyond acting as returning officer in several Frontenac elections. Dr. J. W. Edwards is the man who coverts the Sheriff's position, in fact, he has been recommended for it by the Frontenac Conservative Association.

MADE UP AS SHERBROOKE FAIR SPECIAL.

Farnham, Sept. 7.—(Special)—The special train which left here yesterday morning for the Sherbrooke Exhibition was composed of nine conductors' vans and one combination baggage car and smoker. The scarcity of passenger coaches was the excuse for such poor accommodation to the Exhibition, but people returning from a fatiguing day's sight-seeing at a fair and being obliged to stand for possibly several hours in a conductor's van will not be in the mood to find excuses for the railway company's want of proper accommodation.

A resolution was passed authorizing the secretary to petition the Provincial Government for a grant of money to reconstruct and tank the road leading to the station according to the report of the civil engineers who recently visited Compton for that purpose.

Leaf-Governor of Saskatchewan.

The new Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan, Hon. A. E. Forget, though a native of Quebec, has had a long experience in that portion of Canada which he will continue to serve.

He was born at Macville, Que., November 12, 1847, and was called to the Bar in 1871. For some years he served as Secretary of the Council of the Bar of Montreal. In 1875 he was appointed Secretary of the Half-Breed Commission in Manitoba, and in 1885 was one of the commissioners for the settlement of half-breed claims in the Northwest Territories. When in 1876 a separate government was organized for the Northwest Territories Mr. Forget was appointed Clerk of the Council and Secretary to the Lieutenant-Governor, which capacity he accompanied Hon. David Laird, then Lieutenant-Governor to the seat of Government, which was then at Battleford. Later he became Clerk of the Assembly at Regina, and was appointed Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs for Manitoba and the Northwest Territories on August 3, 1888. Mr. Forget's subsequent work included an appointment to the Council of Public Instruction for the Northwest Territories in 1893 and to the office of Indian Commissioner two years later. He was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories October 4, 1898, and reappointed on March 30, 1904.

The Red River Cart.

Never within the memory of man had the waters of the North Saskatchewan been so low. So, at least, I was informed by an old resident at Edmonton who had found his way up here in the seventies, crossing some 800 miles of the plains from Fort Garry, as Winnipeg was then called, in what was known as a Red River cart—a rude vehicle, made entirely of wood, without springs or nails or bolts or iron of any sort. I never met a settler who pioneered in a craft of this kind without feeling a respectful admiration, such as one entertains for a veteran who links the present with the prehistoric. The carts no longer figure on the scene. There are no museums in this region, and I doubt whether anyone has preserved a specimen. If there is one to be had, the trustees of the British Museum might do worse than acquire it. The suggestion is not so far-reaching as it may seem, for the "prairie schooner," or Red River cart, symbolizes the revelation to the world of the existence of this vast granary, and the trials and hardships of the generation of courageous and hopeful men who demonstrated that this seeming wilderness was the largest and richest in the world—H. Whates, in The London Standard.

JIM JEFFRIES INVITED TO RE-FREEE BRITTON NELSON CONTEST.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Manager Coffroth, of the Colma Club, has not yet received a response from James J. Jeffries regarding the proposition of the champion, acting as referee in the Britt-Nelson fight next Saturday. Crowds of visitors attended the Britt and Nelson training camps, and the favored ones are permitted to see the pugilists at work.

Britt is doing the lightest kind of exercise. He is a few pounds overweight, and will keep himself at that point until a day or two before the match.

He makes weight easily and considers himself in good condition. Satisfactory reports came also from Nelson's training quarters.

The ladies of Sherbrooke in charge looked well after the needs of the patrons. The worthy institution will again receive a considerable sum as a result of the work of the Ladies' Hospital Committee in this connection, and the generous contribution of friends of the hospital.

A partnership has been formed between Drs. Worthington and Byers as appears by card in another column.

Dr. Worthington's reputation throughout the townships is well known. Dr. Byers, in the short time he has resided in Sherbrooke, has already made a most favorable impression in his practice. He, like Dr. Worthington, is an honor graduate of McGill, was House Physician at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal for a year, and studied abroad taking courses at Munich and Edinburgh.

Mrs. D. Ansell, of Bowen Ave., East Sherbrooke, is to-day celebrating her 83rd birthday. Mrs. Ansell, whose maiden name was Sarah Brown, was one of a family of seventeen children, and was born in Stoke, England. Seventy years ago she came to Sherbrooke when the population of Littleton was a mere hamlet, with no streets, and but a few scattered houses. To-day the venerable lady has her surviving children, Mrs. W. J. London, Mrs. Harkness and Mr. F. T. Ansell, with her, together with many friends and neighbors, who joined in sincere wishes for a cloudless sunset in the evening of life, and many more happy years.

AT THE THEATRE.

Clement Theatre was again crowded to the doors, last night, when Sherlock Holmes was well presented. Mr. Elwin appearing in the title role.

To-night the title of the play is "Why Women Hate."

The specialties continue to be pleasing features of the entertainment.

The act of Mr. Davis, the magician, is a novel one for Sherbrooke and very clever, and mystifying. His slight of hand tricks are remarkable.

LEFEBVRE-LACHANCE.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning at St. Michael's Cathedral, when Miss Hermine Lefebvre was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Lachance.

At the peak of the wedding march the bride entered the Church, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. F. Lefebvre, while the groom gave away by his father, Mr. James Lachance.

The bride looked very pretty in a travelling suit of blue, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white flowers.

After the married couple left the Church they returned to the home of the bride where a bountiful dejeuner was served.

The bride received many beautiful presents from both friends and relations, by whom she was highly esteemed.

The bride and groom left by the Grand Trunk for Montreal amid a shower of rice and the congratulations of many friends. When they return they will reside in Sherbrooke.

PLOT DISCOVERED IN AMERICA.

Revolutionists Seeking Intervention Of Powers.

AMERICAN ARMENIAN COMMITTEE SENDING MONEY.

Athens, Greece, Sept. 7.—The recent discovery of a depot of arms, explosives, bombs and infernal machines plot on the part of the Armenian revolutionaries to compel the intervention of the powers to stop Turkish oppression in Armenia by starting a series of outrages. A number of Armenians have been arrested, and the authorities say that evidence was found on them showing that they received large sums of money from the Armenian committee in America. It is also stated that the inquiry has established the connection of a number of Bulgarians and young Turks with the plot.

GERMANY PREPARING.

OFFICERS AT METZ WARN SOLDIERS OF IMMINENCE OF WAR.

Paris, Sept. 7.—The Patrie prints interesting information from its correspondent at Metz. German military preparations which there is too much reason to believe have substantial foundation in fact. The correspondent describes how the officers at Metz spontaneously instructed the soldiers of the imminence of war, and how the surveillance on the frontier was doubled in the neighborhood of military works and forts. He says that inaccessible public roads in the whole frontier zone, which suffered from a recent rain, were promptly repaired at great cost, contrary to the usual lax rule. Where material is being warehoused at Vioncourt and Metz, groups of staff officers have arrived at all frontier localities.

TWO BURNED IN COTE ST. PAUL FIRE.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—(Special)—Fire, this morning, in a block of cheaply constructed tenement houses, at Cote St. Paul, a suburb, west of the city, resulted in the cremation of two children, whose names are as yet unknown.

THE GUESTS OF THE DIRECTORS.

encouraging too many county fairs. He thought it would be of more material benefit if these fairs were concentrated to a greater extent than they are to-day. The exhibition of live stock at the fair which they had been visiting was certainly a most creditable one, and spoke volumes for the vast territory which they covered. They had his sympathy and best support for the coming year.

HON. A. TESSIER SURPRISED AT EXTENT OF EXHIBITION.

Hon. A. Tessier, Minister of Agriculture, said the exhibition of live stock and agriculture was a revelation to him. The success of their exhibition showed that the directors had been working shoulder to shoulder. He congratulated them on the success of their efforts. His predecessor had given the Association a grant of $12,000 divided over four years, but they were deserving of more than that. Without making any definite promises, as Mr. McCorkill held the purse strings, he thought the Government would be able to do better in the future. (Applause.)

The toast of the "Judiciary" was proposed by Director N. T. Dussault.

Mr. Justice Hutchinson replied briefly.

Director L. A. Bayley proposed the toast of "The City of Sherbrooke."

His Worship Mayor Leonard made a very suitable reply.

Councillor Farwell and Councillor McManamy also spoke briefly.

Mr. G. R. Smith proposed the toast of the American visitors, and also replied to the same.

Mr. J. B. Keating, British Vice-Consul, Portland, Me., also spoke in this connection.

Mr. Wm. Morris, in proposing the toast of the Press, also referred to the stand which their distinguished guest, Sir Louis Jette, had taken in the Alaskan boundary question, when he claimed certain rights for Canada against the claims of the Americans. The people of Canada realized in that action that Sir Louis Jette was a man of strong character and had the interests of the great Dominion at heart.

Mr. L. S. Channell, of the Record, responded to the toast.

Mr. R. H. Pope was called upon to say a few words and referred to the changes that had taken place since he joined the Board. He concluded by proposing the toast of the President and Directors of the E. T. Association.

Mr. Alex. Ames, President, replied. He had been connected with the Association for 19 years, 18 of which he had been on the executive board, and during that time had witnessed the ups-and-downs of the Association. They had started small, but with each shoulder to the wheel they had brought the Association to what it was to-day. The city of Sherbrooke had come to their assistance last year by guaranteeing their bonds to the extent of $15,000, which had relieved the directors of their personal note with the bank. He believed when they called upon the Government that they would receive such assistance as would relieve them of their present straightened circumstances.

"The Ladies" was proposed by P. S. G. Mackenzie, M.L.A., and responded to by Major Shephard.

The singing of "God Save the King" brought the gathering to a close.

MANY SPEND NIGHT IN COOLER.

SHERBROOKE BEVERAGES DO NOT AGREE WITH MAINE FOLK.

The receipts this morning at the police court were away ahead of the corresponding day last year. There were no less than seventeen persons who spent the night in the cooler. The charges were all "drunk and incapable, and unable to take care of themselves." When they faced the bar of the police court they were all very penitent and the presiding magistrate, taking into consideration that it was fair work, let the majority off with the minimum fine of $1 or eight days. With one or two exceptions the law breakers were from the prohibition State of Maine.

THE WHALE SMASHED BOAT.

DROWNED THE JAPANESE WHO SHOT AT HIM.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 7.—A whale at which a Japanese fired with a Winchester while out fishing on the Gulf of Georgia, revenged himself by knocking the boat out of the water and drowning his assailant. Just before the close of the sockeye season last week the steamer Robert D. Dunsmuir came across a fishing boat floating bottom up in the gulf. A half-dead Japanese was clinging to her keel, but as he knew little or no English it was impossible to learn just what had happened, and it was taken for granted that the boat had been capsized by a gust of wind. As the boats are always in charge of two men, search was made for the other without success. The survivor was landed at Nanaimo, where he was taken care of by his own countrymen, through whom it was learned that his companion had fired a rifle at a whale which rose some distance from the boat. The whale had promptly sounded and had come up again immediately under the boat, knocking both men into the water. The other was never seen to come up again.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

Government ownership and administration of the telephone has been urged as a remedy for certain imaginary grievances against the telephone service in Canada, which have been the stock-in-trade of certain professional agitators for some time.

European countries where the telephone is operated as a Government monopoly have been pointed to as examples which should be followed by the Dominion Government. We have already reviewed at length the results in Great Britain of triple administration by Government, Municipalities and Company. We shall now review the conditions which prevail in several countries of Europe under exclusive Government control.

In France the Government owns and operates both local exchanges and long distance lines. The method adopted by the Government to obtain funds for Telephone development will be considered peculiar by most people in this country and would not meet with the approval of many Canadian municipalities.

The funds required by the Government to buy out the Company which originally exploited the business were borrowed from the Savings Bank Department. These moneys do not appear in the State's balance sheet for the telephone service and no interest or sinking fund is provided for, nor is deduction made for rent of offices and other expenses inevitable to very commercial enterprise. In addition to this the subscriber has to buy his own Telephone of a pattern approved by the Government and has to pay for a portion of the line and the cost of installation.

For extending the service into various provincial towns the method of financing was still more unique. The municipality advanced to the State the sums required for all the new installations and also for working and maintaining them, the loan to be repaid to the Municipality without interest by instalments taken from the receipts. The State did not bind itself with regard to the dates at which this peculiar repayment should take place. In this manner the general taxpayer has to bear the cost of the telephone service whether he is a subscriber or not.

The rates charged to subscribers for exchange service are: Paris, $80.00 per annum; Lyons, $60.00, and in the smaller towns, $40.00 and $30.00. There is no difference in the charges between office and residence service.

In our next Talk we shall review the general results in France of Government administration of this service.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA.

CANADA.

See the maple leaf is waving while the beaver by the stream Is fashioning its compound where sunny ripples gleam; Open wide thy golden portals, let thy hand a welcome give To those who need a hearthstone—a better chance to live.

As in history I gather all the weaving Time has laid, Its features grow the sharper with the hardship man has made, For the Jacobs and the Esaus touch the hidden springs indeed, That cause the people's rancor, and make the nations bleed.

Now an era opens gladly, on oppression's broken sway, And hearts are turning ever where Freedom's treasures lay; Far away from old traditions and the hatreds born of wrong Fair Canada, thy beauty turns weeping into song.

Thy dome is in freely offered, that the world may freely come, For Freedom is a birthright—and not a gift for some— Hither, workers who have harrowed whilst others reaped the grain, With courage in their manhood, and labor not in vain.

Like a beacon light on headland, lo, thy star is shining bright, To guide the crushed and weary from their constant hopeless fight, To the fairer skies that westward cover happiness and peace, Where are the homes of plenty, where blessings never cease.

So thy Princes must be princely, and thy Government secure, And hold the scales of Justice with even hand and pure, Not tempted by the power they wield, To wield it for their gain, But for the honor of our land, bearing honors without stain.

Still upholding duty wisely as the highway of the State, While selfishness and greed stand neglected at the gate; Where lucre is the crucial test, the earnest of men's deeds, How wretched thou, my country, when poisoned by its seeds, —E. Sears in The St. John Telegraph.

OUR GRANDMOTHERS.

Herbs They Gathered in August In Ye Olden Time.

August was the month when our very good and very healthy and very long lived grandmothers used to go forth to the stubble fields the swamps and the woods and pastures and collect various samples and approved herbs and having dried them in the shade stored them away to be brought out and used in sickness. It is hard to make a complete list—there are so many of them. Of the herbs used for "driving diseases," the commonest and most approved was pennyroyal which grows in open and bare spaces among old fields, and which can be discovered by its smell as well as by its pungent taste and its small blue blossoms. Near the brook one can find spearmint in nearly every country town, and in many places there is peppermint as well. Camphor is harder to discover, though it has escaped from cultivation, and grows wild about many old homes. Goldthread roots are dug from dry cradle-pools and dried for cancer and sore throat. The broad leaves of burdock are dried and put away for making foot plasters for such as have bad colds. Thoroughwort is culled from swamps and dried, to be steeped later on and given to those who have had coughs.

Lobelia, which is found among open pastures, and which may be distinguished by its fat seedpods, and its tobacco-like taste, is put by for making poultices and for bathing of swollen limbs. Wintergreen, which shows its thick and shiny leaves among evergreen woods, is collected to be steeped for cold and cancer. Our old friend, smartweed, is pulled from the backyard and saved for putting in hot water when one has his feet soaked. The blossoms of Mayweed are taken as a substitute for saffron, and for raising rude blisters on affected limbs or chests. The leaves of the checkerberry and of the Labrador bush are added to the collection for the making of warming and soothing teas. Great fat cherries are picked and placed in bottles with new rum, and kept on hand in case a member of the family has the stomach ache.

And nearly all these useful and approved remedies are found in best condition during the month of August.

HUMMING BIRDS.

William Lovell Finley's Interesting Description of Their Hatching.

At first the little capsules of humming birds' eggs had a wonderfully delicate flash that of pink, writes W. L. Finley in The Country Calendar. Then, one morning, I stood over the nest like Thomas of old. Some on had replaced the eggs with two tiny black bugs!

It might have been a miracle. There was a tiny knob on the end of each little bug that looked as if it might be the beginning of a bill. Each little creature resembled a black bean more than a bird, for each possessed a light streak of brown down the middle of the back. They couldn't be beans, for they were pulsing with life in a lumpy sort of way. I went frequently to look at them. In a few days the little nestlings began to fork out all over with tiny black horns, until they would have looked like prickly pears had they been the right color! At the next stage each tiny horn began to blossom out into a spray of brown down, the yellow at one end grew into a bill, the black skin cracked a trifle and showed two eyes. It was hard to see just how these black bugs could turn to birds, but day after day the miracle worked till I really saw two young humming birds.

When I first crawled in among the bushes close to the nest the little mother darted at me and poised a foot from my nose, as if to stare me out of countenance. She looked all over from head to foot twice, then she seemed convinced that I was harmless. She winked and sat on the nest-edge. The hantlings opened wide their hungry mouths. She spread her tail like a flicker, and braced herself against the nest-side. She craned her neck, and drew her dagger-like bill straight up above the nest. She plunged it down the baby's throat to the hilt, and started a series of gestures that seemed fashioned to puncture him to the toes. Then she stabbed the other baby until it made me shudder. It looked like the murder of the infants. But they were not mangled and bloody; they were getting a square meal after the usual humming-bird method of regurgitation. They ran out their slender tongues to lick the honey from their lips. How they liked it! Then she settled down and ruffled up her breast feathers to let her babies cuddle close to her naked bosom. Occasionally she reached under to caress them with whisperings of mother-love.

Plenty of Public Libraries.

Dr. May, inspector of public libraries for Ontario, has returned from an inspection tour through Northern Ontario. He reports the libraries in that part of the Province as in good condition, and a number of new ones have been established recently.

There are about 500 public libraries in Ontario, of which 146 are free. The Provincial Government makes an annual grant to every public library equal to the amount provided by the municipality or other corporation for the purchase of literature. "But the amount granted to any library for one year is limited to $250."

Dr. May states that last year the Library Boards spent about three times as much on their libraries as was given in grants by the Government, very many of the towns and cities expending much more than the limit of $250.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRUIT

As a Medicine.

Fruit has been used as a medicine for thousands of years. Every one knows its value as a laxative. The pure juice of apples acts on the kidneys and makes more urinary excretion than any other remedy in the world—but the patient must take half a pint three or four times a day. Apple juice is most curative in kidney disease. The juice of four large oranges taken before each meal and on retiring at night has more curative action on the skin than any remedy ever discovered. Orange juice clears and beautifies the complexion. Again, fruit acts on the bowels and makes them move—acts on the liver and makes more bile flow, which is the natural purgative of the body—and thus cures constipation. An Ottawa physician after years of labor has discovered a process of combining and concentrating the juices of apples, oranges, prunes and figs—and by forcing into the united juices one more atom of bitter from the orange peels, a new fruit is obtained which has all the valuable medicinal qualities of fresh ripe fruit and in a more marked degree. The new and stronger fruit is condensed into powder, made into tablets, with the addition of tonics, and sold under the name of "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets." It has been proven in hundreds of cases that "Fruit-a-tives" are a positive cure for constipation, biliousness, headaches, kidney and liver diseases and all blood impurities. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit, concentrated and made stronger than ordinary fruit. For sale at Druggists Soc. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED, Ottawa.

MR. C. C. KNIGHT,
Manager Eastern Townships Branch.

Undoubtedly one of the objects of interest to visitors is the Sun Life Assurance Company's Building. It is situated in the very centre of our picturesque city and very handsomely finished. The vestibule is considered one of the finest on the continent, seventeen different kinds of marbles from as many counties being used in its make up.

All the Governmental returns show this Company, The Sun Life of Canada, to be the "Canadian Leader." And no company has a better pleased list of policy holders than it. Letters like the following speak volumes:

From Mr. S. R. PENDLETON, of St. John, N. B., who was so well pleased with the result of his matured Semi-Endowment Policy with the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, that he intends taking another policy—this, as Mr. Pendleton says in his letter below, "is probably the strongest proof of confidence that I can offer";

"Twenty years ago to-day, I took out a policy in the Company which you represent, for $1,000. The policy was on the Semi-Endowment plan, and guaranteed at the end of twenty years to return me $5,000 in cash, together with whatever profits might be apportioned by the Company. I was led to believe these profits would be about $300.00, making $800.00 cash returned. You can imagine my satisfaction when I find that the profits amounted to $335.40, and that promptly on the day it is due I am receiving a cheque for $835.40, besides having had my life assured for twenty years, free of charge. This certainly speaks very highly for the management of the Sun Life of Canada, and I will naturally recommend my friends who might be considering assurance, to do their business with that Company. Furthermore I intend taking an additional policy myself which is probably the strongest proof of confidence that I can offer."

Mr. M. White, of Brockville, Ont., appreciates the promptness and good showing of his policy with the Sun Life of Canada which recently matured. He writes as follows:

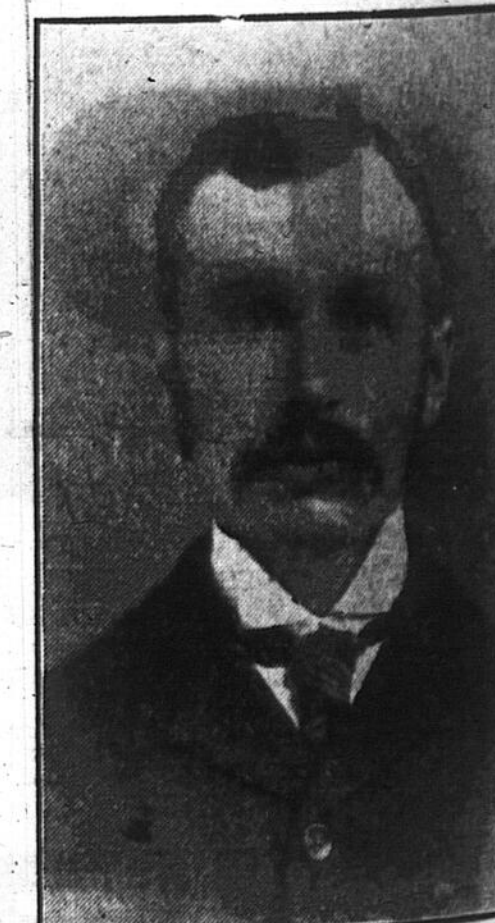

"I beg herewith to acknowledge cheque for $975.80 handed me to-day, in settlement of my semi-endowment policy with the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. The Company's promptness in paying this the very day of maturity I appreciate very much.

"The policy guaranteed $500; the profits, therefore, amounted to $475.80. This result is very satisfactory. It makes a good showing when compared with my policy maturing this month in a leading American company."

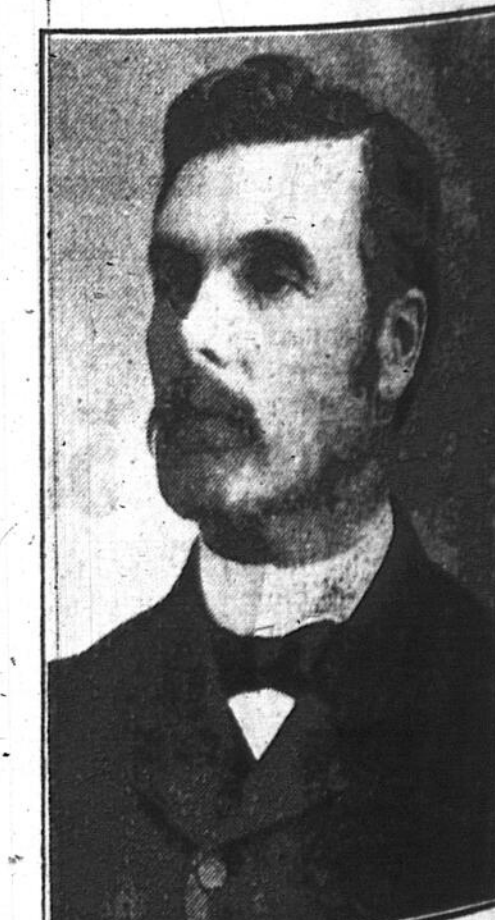

The Eastern Townships Branch of the Company is under the direction of Mr. C. C. Knight, who with the assistance of an able corps of agents have succeeded in making "The Sun" a household word in this vicinity.

In the Province of Quebec the Company will write as much business this year as all the other Canadian companies put together—showing emphatically that our people appreciate their home company.

We give above a few figures from the Company's record of 1904.

SKY-SCRAPER BUILDING.

Description of Piers, Pillars and Other Foundation Work to Support New Traders' Bank at Toronto.

The natural foundation on which Toronto is built is the best known on this continent, consequently the excavation for the Traders' Bank building at Yonge and Colborne streets has been the simplest mathematical proposition possible, says The Toronto News.

New York, built on a springy island, has no end of trouble with getting foundations for its skyscrapers. There it is necessary to bore clear down to the solid rocks, sometimes at millions of dollars' expense before a solid bottom is reached. Chicago, built on a marsh, is in a similar predicament. Big buildings there are built up on steel foundations which thrust themselves far down into the tricky subsoil on which the business part of Chicago trembles like a big lump of jelly. The steel foundations, unable to find rock in that prairie bottom, literally float like huge barges.

The subsoil of Toronto is remarkably firm, and its engineering problems comparatively simple. The chief difficulty is in springs of water—which often percolate through the clay. Sometimes an old well is encountered fifty feet deep, requiring either to be bridged or filled up. Sometimes the bed of an ancient creek full of trickling water-courses is discovered. In making the excavation for the Alexandra Palace, for instance, the workmen found the bed of Garrison creek, which necessitated making a much deeper pit than was at first intended.

In finding a base for the Traders' Bank building a spring was discovered which kept the workmen digging down and down trying to get beneath it.

"And if we had stopped at fifteen feet," said Mr. H. S. Baker, the architect, "we should never have found that spring unless it had been discovered in the subsequent settling of the walls."

Twenty feet down goes the excavation for the Traders' Bank, with the blue clay intended as a bottom for the heaviest building, according to ground-conditions in Canada. Ten feet are to be used for building up the steel and cement piers, which, when all built in, will occupy at the base nearly all the ground area. They will rise taperingly to the base of the thirty-six steel pillars, the huge legs on which this skyscraper will stand. These pillars, with their accompanying girders, will make the real frame of the building. The walls will be merely curtains, and may be started ten storeys up if necessary. In order to overcome the springiness of the subsoil it was found necessary to decrease the load of the pillars according to area by making the base of the piers larger. The maximum pressure as at present figured is 5,000 pounds to the square foot. Some of the 36 pillars in the building sustain a weight of more than a million pounds each. One carries 1,380,000 pounds. The average is not less than 800,000 pounds to the pillar, making an approximate total weight on the pillars of 28,800,000 pounds, or 14,400 tons.

With the solid foundation of steel and cement this huge mass is expected to stand without settling half an inch anywhere. The walls will begin to rise just as soon as the foundations are laid. Each storey, as it is built, with its fire-proof ceiling, will be waterproof, so that the floor above will act as a roof beneath which the men can work all winter. The intention is to build a storey a week after the work is really begun. The ten feet above the foundations will be used as an underground story. The lower ten feet will be fully occupied by the piers. The topmost point of the building will be 200 feet above the sidewalk.

WHAT A MARKER SAYS.

Rifle Shooting Is Expensive—Cost At An O. R. A. Meet.

The man who comes to the Ontario Rifle Association's annual meeting at Long Branch from anywhere outside of Toronto is as a rule a man that can shoot. A few of them are combining pleasure with the outing, but as a rule shooting is an expensive sport and the competitor wants to make his expenses. The average marksman does well if he does cover expenses.

A marker stands in the pit in the shelter trench facing the target. The target trench is about 8 feet high. The targets stand on the platform where the marker stands is 8 feet. He has that much protection.

"I'm a marker," said one of them, "I stand in the trench steady in front of my target gazing upwards at the face of the target to see where a shot strikes. I can usually tell by the sound of the bullet. If a shot has struck the target I step forward and pull the target down and after locating the shot I raise the signal showing the value of the shot. If it's a bullseye I paste on the target the previous shot recorded there and insert the spotting disc which has a wire hook in the new bullet hole, and then raise the target and pull down the signal disc showing the competitor where his last shot struck."

"In the event of a challenge the man in charge of the telephone receives the challenge at once goes to the target challenged, having it lowered and inspects it with the marker. Then the telephone man sends the reply. It takes about three minutes."

"If they really hit the target often there would not be so many challenges," said the marker.

Tenders Wanted

Tenders are requested for the necessary excavation and building of foundation walls for new METHODIST CHURCH, at WINDSOR MILLS. Plans and specifications may be seen at Chapman's Fruit Store.

Sealed tenders will be received up to Monday, September 18th, at six p.m., addressed to:

REV. G. W. FISHER, Chairman Building Committee Windsor Mills, Que.

If a marksman competed in every match his entrance fees would amount to about $10. For a man domiciled on the ranges the tent dues are $1 for the four days, and he has to provide his own meals. The extra series matches, which start early every day, fit the men who stay on the ranges, demand an entrance fee of 35c for every duck at each range, highest score only to count in the competition, but they can buy as many tickets as they like. The extra series ranges at the 200, 500, 600 and 800 yards and the prizes are cash, which helps along expenses.

Senator Wark's Piety.

In his private life, as in the public eye, Senator Wark was simple and unaffected. His view of life was well illustrated in a letter he wrote for the young readers of The Globe on the occasion of his 100th birthday, which he concluded as follows:—"I now ask my young readers to open their Bibles at the 25th chapter of Matthew and read from the 31st verse to the end, and learn that, whether life is long or short, the important point is to be prepared for its end."

effort is being put forth by the Granby Fruit Growers' Association to make their exhibition this year a greater success than it has ever before. Mr. John Irving, the energetic President, and his board of directors have been giving special attention to every detail of the exhibition, and the prospects are good for the largest exhibits and attendance that has ever been seen here.

The Association has just completed the erection of two large permanent buildings which were opened last night by a grand promenade concert, attended by almost the entire village. Excellent music was furnished by the band and the Council adjourned in order to permit of the Mayor and Councillors attending the opening. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the village and a most enjoyable time was spent by all.

WALDRON-DEMPESEY.

Cootick, Sept. 7.—(Special).—The fourth wedding of the week to be celebrated in Cootick took place in the Methodist parsonage at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Rev. C. S. Deeprose officiating. The contracting parties were Mr. Judson, Horace Waldron and Miss Annie Elizabeth Dempesey, of East Clifton. Mr. Robert Dempesey and Miss Maria Dempesey, brother and sister of the bride, acted as best man and bridesmaid respectively. They left on the Scot for Sherbrooke to take in the fair, after which they will return to their home in East Clifton.

COATCOOK ODDFELLOWS.

Cootick, Sept. 7.—(Special).—The new lodge room of the I.O.O.F.—which is being erected on Main street, is almost completed and will be one of the finest of its kind in the Province of Quebec. The carpenters and painters have just about finished, and soon the house furnishers will add the carpets and furniture. The public opening will take place in the near future.

DE MAREY-TIBBETS.

Cootick, Sept. 7.—(Special).—Mr. Lee Chester De Marey and Miss Amy Floss Tibbets, both of Cootick, were married yesterday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of the bride's parents. Owing to the enforced absence of the Rev. J. J. Williams, the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. S. Deeprose. Mr. Henry I. De Marey, brother of the groom, acted as best man, while the bride was supported by Miss Lila Akhurst. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers and the ceremony took place under a beautiful arch of the same. A large number of beautiful and useful presents were displayed, showing the great esteem in which the young couple is held.

DEATH OF MRS. BEARD, OF GRANBY.

Granby, Sept. 7.—(Special).—After a long sickness, borne with Christian fortitude, Mrs. John Beard passed away yesterday morning at an advanced age.

BASEBALL AT COWANSVILLE.

Cowansville, Sept. 7.—(Special).—The baseball games between the local teams and the Stars of Montreal, amateur champions of the city, split even, the locals winning the first game by a score of 10-7, and losing the last game in the ninth innings, so that the score for Stars was 7-10 to our 6. Both were hotly contested, and pitched by Willie McCabe for the locals until almost the finish when Irving McCabe took his place.

COWANSVILLE COUNCIL.

Cowansville, Sept. 7.—(Special).—The Village Council met on Tuesday being Labor Day. Merely routine business was transacted, a few bills were passed, etc., and not two persons outside the Council and Secretary-Treasurer were present. This exemplifies that our people do not take sufficient interest in the management of their public and municipal affairs. A few nights ago the Council room was crowded to suffocation on account of a little expected trouble, but generally no one is willing to interfere in the Village affairs.

Mayor McQuillen was in the chair and Councillors Smythe, Draper and Short were present.

DEATH OF MR. PHILIP LAMBKIN, OF RICEBURG.

Stanbridge East, Sept. 7.—(Special).—Mr. Philip Lambkin, an old and prominent resident of Riceburg, passed away last Monday night after an illness of several weeks. The news of Mr. Lambkin's death, though not unexpected, was received in the village with sincere regret. The deceased gentleman was held in the highest esteem and was much respected for the good principles and honesty of purpose which characterized his entire business and social career. He was faithfully attended during his last illness by his daughter, Mrs. Rufus England. The late Mr. Lambkin is survived by his wife, one son, Mr. E. L. Lambkin, of Kansas City, and one daughter, Mrs. England, wife of Rufus England, Esq., ex-M.P.P., Knowlton. The funeral takes place on Thursday afternoon, the 7th inst., at Riceburg.

Stanstead, Sept. 7.—(Special).—A peculiar accident occurred at the farm of Mr. E. W. Morrill, last evening. The flooring of the cow stable gave way and the entire herd of a dozen animals went down together into the cellar beneath, a distance of some eight feet. Strange to say, none of them were injured.

Arrested As a Rebel and Was Convicted of High Treason and Sentenced to Be Hanged—Sentence Was Changed to Banishment and Loss of All His Property—Passing of a Historic Figure.

The death of Charles Ferdinand Durand in Toronto on Wednesday, August 16, 1905, at the ripe age of 94 years, reminds The Globe that early in the rebellion of 1837, while on his way home from a business trip to Toronto, Mr. Durand was arrested at Streetsville as being an active friend of the rebellion. He was escorted back to Toronto to be confined, under Capt. McGrath. This arrest Mr. Durand declared to be the result of the malignity of personal enemies. Mr. Durand's description of his hardships as a prisoner, told in his book of "Reminiscences," on which this biography is based, is most graphic. He also gives an interesting sketch of scenes in Toronto when Mackenzie's men arrived. From a temporary imprisonment in the northwest wing of the old Parliament buildings, he was removed to the prison, then on Toronto street, opposite the Deputy Receiver-General's office, where, in company with fifty others, he spent his first Christmas after his marriage. Among his fellow-prisoners was the late Dr. James Morrison of the Legislature; Mr. James Leslie, a close friend of Mackenzie; Mr. Cathcart, whose monument is conspicuous in the Necropolis; Mr. John Doel, father of Rev. John Doel and William H. Doel; Dr. Hunter, father of Dr. James Hunter of Stouffville; and Joseph Gould, late member of the House of Commons. In two rooms of small dimensions these political prisoners cooked their meals, received provisions from their wives and friends on the outside, and read news from home cunningly concealed in puddings and poultry. Bishop Strachan and Rev. John Roaf, grandfather of Messrs. James R. and William Roaf of Toronto, were frequent visitors at the prison. Mr. Durand's wife, at that time only seventeen years old, was terrified by "these lawless upholders of the law," who surrounded and plundered his home in Hamilton and put her under arrest for some time while on her way to Toronto to be near her husband. In addition to this enforced separation from his wife he fell a victim to the jail fever and lay among smallpox victims, where his wife, notwithstanding the danger, came to visit him. Her brother also visited him and contracted the smallpox.

Mr. Durand was the following year brought before a jury presided over by Sir John Beverley Robinson and Mr. Justice C. A. Hagerman, convicted of high treason, and sentenced to be hanged. The Patriot of May 15th, 1838, contains a complete account of this trial. The prisoner was charged with consulting and conspiring with divers unknown persons for the overthrow of the Government, also for the purpose of procuring arms. Through his extreme Radical views expressed in the journals of the day he was held to be inciting people to join in revolt. One witness deposed that a letter written to William Lyon Mackenzie under the name of John Hampton was the prisoner's handwriting disguised. A stage driver testified that on the 6th December of the preceding year, while driving the mail from Toronto to Cooks-ville, Mackenzie had stopped the coach, in which was Mr. Durand, among others, and ordered them out. He affirmed that the prisoner had jumped out and welcomed Mackenzie with great cordiality, shaking him by the hand, and that in answer to Mackenzie's questions Mr. Durand had given him information concerning the movements of the rebels in Toronto. He had been allowed to go on his way, while the remaining passengers were detained and their baggage inspected. A Dutchman named Shafer contributed what is spoken of as "perjured testimony," in which Mr. Durand was accused of having done certain pique duty for the rebels and of having been of assistance to Mackenzie in various ways.

In his defence Mr. Durand affirmed that any letters that he had written to Mackenzie were of a business nature connected with The Constitution newspaper, of which he was an agent. Regarding the stage coach incident in his reminiscences, he says: "We went quietly along Queen street, all wooded then, and through the woods of the afterpart of the road until we came to the hotel called the Peace Inn. Then suddenly there came out Mr. Mackenzie and two armed men; one was Capt. Adam Graham and the other a man named Alvies. I did not know the stage passengers; one was a woman, one a Dutchman, and the third a gentleman named Whiting, as I afterwards learned. I merely saluted Mackenzie and shook hands with him; I had known him a long time, and was an agent for his newspaper in Hamilton. The guards left us before we came to the inn. We were told to get out, and the mail man to give up his mail, by Mackenzie. We all got out. Any acquaintance would have done this. He probably asked me (which I can't recollect) why the Government party were doing in Toronto, but if so, I would have truly replied I could not tell. I saw, as I have said, no one on Tuesday, in fact, knew no one in the city and could give no information to him."

Mr. Durand further protested that although in many respects in sympathy with the rebels, who in his estimation, were merely endeavoring to break up the Family Compact, with its attendant wrongs and oppressions, still he had thought their action ill-advised, and had never countenanced, by word or deed, their arraignment, in response to a petition to the Lieutenant-Governor, his sentence was changed to banishment and the loss of all his property.

After a six years' residence in Chicago, he received a pardon, and, returning to Canada, opened a law office in Toronto in 1844, next door to where Webb's Restaurant now is. There he secured an extensive law practice, and in his spare moment contributed to The Examiner and The Globe.

In 1851 Mr. Durand founded The Sons of Temperance, a newspaper, and by his great industry, traveling in a buggy through both Upper and Lower Canada, his paper soon enjoyed a substantial circulation in both Provinces. His wife, who, it seems, never quite recovered from the shock of the Mackenzie rebellion, died in 1855, leaving six children, all girls. In 1870 Mr. Durand, by virtue of his articles on the Division Courts in the Law Journal, nal, and his legal experience, was appointed by the Sheriff of Macdonald's Government to inspect all legal offices below the Queen's Bench throughout Ontario. At this time, writes Mr. Durand, the clerks of the various courts were careless in discharge of their duties, and supervision was required, not only over them, but over several judges. "An extensive series of letters in The Leader on the public affairs of the country appeared over his name up to 1875. They dealt for the most part with the Confederation movement and criticisms on George Brown's policy. Mr. Durand had given up the active practice of law many years before his death, but up to the last evinced a great interest in public affairs, and as late as 1898 discussed the absorbing Manitoba school question in the columns of The Orange Sentinel and The Winnipeg Tribune.

The deceased had often described himself politically as a non-partisan Liberal. In his book of reminiscences, which extend up to 1900, he has discussed with much vigor the various political crises from the war of 1812 up to the present time. He centres his energy upon the incidents of the rebellion of 1837, from which he suffered so much, and denounces Allan MacNab with no small vigor. Marshall S. Bidwell was particularly admired by Mr. Durand, also Robert Baldwin. Of politicians generally, Mr. Durand had his private opinions, which he usually expressed philosophically.

Mr. Durand was extremely patriotic, and in his love for Canadian scenery he would not admit that there were any natural beauties which his native land did not possess. Of forest lore and bird life he had a naturalist's knowledge, and in his work reverts constantly to the pioneer surroundings of
