LABRADOR SEIZURES.

EXCITEMENT OVER A. L. HOWARD'S EXTRAORDINARY ACTIONS.

SAYS HE IS A CANADIAN OFFICIAL WITH ALL KINDS OF POWER.

People Think He is Mad—He Has a Steamer with an Armed Crew to do His Bidding.

(Special cable to the Herald.)

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 5.—News of an extraordinary character has been received from Larbrador. The mail steamer brings letters, showing that A. L. Howard, claiming to belong to the Canadian Secret Service, also a preventive officer, is seizing all vessels in Canadian waters without coasting clearances.

He says he has the full authority of the Canadian Government to make the seizures. He further states that all vessels must have clearances and go to Esquimaux Point, a port of entry 300 miles away, to have them prepared.

Howard is in reality a lobster packer, employing fully a hundred men along the coast, but has a schooner steam launch, manned with 25 armed men, doing his bidding. He dresses in plain clothes. He has threatened several people with a revolver, uses the vilest profanity, and has terrorized the whole coast. People think him insane.

At Bradore he seized Penny's schooner Canford and Soper's Telegram, took their register papers, tied their vessels at the wharf, and sent his steam launch in search of cruiser Constance to tow them to Quebec, where he threatens to sell the vessels and cargoes at auction.

He also seized the Nova Scotian vessel Foaming Billow, belonging to Halifax. He says the Nova Scotians are more to blame than Newfoundlanders, and declares that he gets two-thirds of all the seizure moneys.

Howard tried to seize the steamer Baracoa, loading a cargo of fish at Bonne Esperance for the Mediterranean. She barely escaped. He threatens to seize the Whiteby premises at Bonne Esperance, although Whiteby is a Canadian fishery warden, as well as the premises of Bradford at Blanc Sablon, and Penny at Bradore. The mail steamer Virginia Lake has also been threatened with seizure on her next trip.

The captain of the Canadian cruiser, La Canadienne, has visited the coast frequently, to whom the fishermen have paid the usual fees and complied with all the regulations. Howard says he is not fit for the position. The matter is causing the wildest excitement here.

ARMENIAN REFORMS.

Turkish Officials at Last Take Steps in that Direction.

Constantinople, Sept. 5.—The Grand Vizier has dismissed a number of officials of Moosh who have been found guilty of extorting taxes and of treating Armenians with ruthless severity. At Bitlis a body of gendarmes attacked a band of Kurds who had been committing depredations in the Moosh districts. The Kurds sustained serious losses and were driven out from the possession of property of Armenians which they had seized.

IRVING'S REPERTOIRE.

John E. Warner, general agent for Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, arrived in town yesterday morning to make arrangements for the Irving week at the Academy, but was recalled to New York by telegram in the afternoon to meet Mr. Irving and Miss Terry, who, with some fifteen members of their company, will arrive there on Saturday by the American SS. New York. The full company, 110 strong, will be in Montreal by Thursday of next week, and the week's engagement will begin on the following Monday. The repertoire will be:

Monday, Sept. 16th, and Tuesday — "Faust."

Wednesday and Thursday — "King Arthur."

Friday and Saturday Matinee —"Merchant of Venice."

Saturday night — "Waterloo" and "The Bells."

The company is the largest ever brought to America, comprising 110 members, as against 90 last time.

Expropriation Troubles.

Many aldermen are none too well pleased at the manner in which the City Attorneys are proceeding in the matter of the annual expropriations. "As you pointed out some time ago," said Ald. Smith to a Herald reporter yesterday, "almost all the proprietors who have applied to be expropriated have not observed the law which directs them to send a statement of the value which they put upon their property, along with their request to be expropriated. If the City Attorney had called the attention of the court to this fact and had them withdrawn from the case, it would have given us all the time we need to have the law amended when the Legislature meets. The proprietors can not compel the city to go on until they have complied with the law. A city by-law does not override an Act of the Legislature."

Street Railway Profits.

"The Montreal Street Railway will take in this year not less than $1,100,000," said a gentleman who is in a position to know whereof he speaks. "It is by far the largest receipts in the history of the company. The number of people using the cars is increasing every week. Receipts in one day have reached as much as $4,500. The company has about 1,800 employes, and its expenses are about $2,000 a day. But you see that the profits at the present rate may reach $400,000.

"The best paying lines are the St. Denis Street and the Windsor and St. Lawrence. Cars on these lines carry as many as 650 passengers in one day. In fact, at certain hours it would be impossible to prevent crowding."

Captain Becker Dead.

St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 5.—Captain David Becker, who was seriously burned while trying to make his escape from the burning steamer Saint Magnus at Port Dalhousie, this morning, died from his injuries about 1.30 this afternoon at the hospital here.

PROVED A FIASCO.

SAD END OF A CONSERVATIVE PICNIC AT NEWINGTON.

CORNWALL CONSERVATINE FEUD BREAKS OUT AFRESH.

Dr. Montague Failed Dismally as a Conciliator—Mr. Pringle's Friends Assert Their Rights.

Cornwall, Ont., Sept. 5.—The political picnic held at Newington to-day proved a great fiasco. It was to have been held in the interests of Dr. Bergin, M.P., and it was announced that Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. W. H. Montague and Hon. John Haggart, along with R. R. McLennan, G. H. McDonell, H. Ross and Dr. Bergin, M.P., would be present and deliver addresses.

Previous to the picnic the annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative party was held, and a request was made on behalf of R. A. Pringle, chosen some time since as the Conservative candidate for the Commons, that a committee in his interest be allowed to attend the meeting to endeavor to settle differences that existed. Mr. Pringle was informed that he was not considered a Conservative, and that neither he nor his friends were wanted, and would not be admitted. Only Hon. Dr. Montague and Dr. Bergin of the speakers promised turned up, but Hon. A. W. Ross, M.P., came with them. A disturbance arose as to who should be chairman of the meeting, the name of A. F. Mulhern, of Cornwall, being put to the meeting and carried by a large majority, while John McLaughlin, of Avonmore, claimed the position as his by right.

An address was presented to Dr. Montague, who endeavored to quiet the opposing interests, but without success, and as there was no prospect of settlement he wished the meeting "good afternoon," and took his departure, along with Dr. Bergin and Mr. Ross. This brought the meeting to a sudden termination, the entire proceedings not taking more than half an hour. The demoralization of the once powerful Conservative party in Cornwall and Stormont is complete..

Dr. Bergin, the sitting member, has been effectually turned down, but will probably run anyway, while Mr. Pringle is also bound to stay in the field. The proceedings of to-day are anything but creditable, but are nothing more than exist in all circles of the Tory party.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Hon. Dr. Montague and A. W. Ross, M.P., returned to the city to-night from Newington, in Stormont County, where they were attending a Conservative meeting, held principally in the interests of Dr. Bergin, M.P., who has been cast aside by the Tory convention of the riding, and the nomination given to Mr. Pringle, of Cornwall. The members of the Government are trying to get Mr. Pringle out of the field and force the Doctor upon the people. It is feared that the Doctor will run, although he was defeated in the convention by a good majority, thereby destroying all chances of saving the constituency to the Government. The friends of Dr. Bergin have apparently been able to convince the Government that if Dr. Bergin is not selected as their candidate, all the Catholic vote will go in opposition to Mr. Pringle. They also say, although there is no truth in the story, that the Liberal Catholics of the riding are supporting the Doctor, to-day's meeting convinced Dr. Montague that he had no easy task on hand to make the party take any other candidate than the one they have already chosen by ballot. The riding may safely be counted upon to return a Liberal when the general election comes round.

Rustem Pasha Denies.

London, Sept. 5.—Rustem Pasha, Turkish ambassador to Great Britain, denies the authenticity of the despatch purporting to have been sent by him to the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, in which was given an account of an alleged interview between him and Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, regarding the proposal of control by an international commission over Armenian affairs. Rustem Pasha says that no such dispatch has been written by him.

MR. HOLMES, AUTHOR,

TELLS ABOUT THE MOVEMENTS OF MR. HOLMES, MURDERER.

His Visit to Toronto With the Pietzels Described to His Own Satisfaction.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer of Pietzel and his three children, Minnie Williams and many others, since he has been in prison has written a book, the purpose of which seems to be largely blackmail. With the money thus realized Holmes expects to engage eminent legal talent to save his neck, if possible, from the gallows. The opening chapters of this remarkable work are not very exciting. Following are some of the more interesting extracts from the advance sheets just published:

Holmes starts off in a sickening sentimental style: "Come with me, if you will, to a tiny, quiet New England village, nestling among the picturesquely rugged hills of New Hampshire. This little hamlet has for a century been known as Gilmanton Academy, so called in honor of an institution of learning of that name, founded over a hundred years ago by a few self-denying and God-fearing men. Here, in the year 1861, I, Herman N. Mudgett, the author of these pages, was born."

After reciting his first temptation and downfall into sin, Holmes relates how Pietzel came to him: "In 1888, being in need of some carpenters, there came to me, in answer to an advertisement for the same, a man who at first I thought to be a farmer from the western plains. He told me, however, that he was a carpenter and that his name was Benjamin F. Pietzel. From that time until his death, which occurred September 2, 1894, he was continually in my employ, working as a carpenter and builder, as an inventor, perfecting and patenting several articles of value; as a real estate dealer and as a wholesale lumber merchant, buying and shipping lumber from the south and west to Chicago and St. Louis, where I sold the same products.

"On October 10 I left Indianapolis for Chicago, the two Pietzel children, Alice and Nellie, accompanying me, the boy Howard, being left in Hatch's charge at an Indianapolis hotel. About 11 a.m. Thursday, October 25, at Toronto, Hatch received a letter from Miss Williams, stating that she was ready to return and would meet the girls at Niagara Falls at 1.30 to 2 p.m. They ate lunch with me, and no one who heard Mrs. Pietzel's recent statements tha tshe knew of their being in or near a large store where she was making some purchases, at about 4 p.m., will doubt the truthfulness of it, and it could only have been upon this day, for while there I asked her if she could prepare to leave Toronto that evening. This she will remember, and moreover, I could not have asked her this at an earlier date, for I had not known until that morning that Miss Williams was ready to return to London.

"From 4.30 p.m. until 6 p.m. I was busily engaged in the business portion of the city gathering together and paying for several articles I had previously bought, making settlements at at least two stores where their books will show that such payments were made just before business ended for the day, which was at 6 p.m. After this I ate dinner at the Palmer House, then went to Mrs. Pietzel's hotel and accompanied her to the depot, returning to my hotel at 8 p.m. I did not go out of this hotel until next morning, at which time (about 8 a.m.) I took a train for Prescott, where I registered at the Imperial Hotel at 4.30 p.m. During the preceding 24 hours my wife had been with me constantly, save the short time I had been engaged in collecting my parcels, as heretofore stated, and in aiding Mrs. Pietzel to take the train.

"Mr. Reeves, who seems to be a credible witness at the Toronto inquest, if he has been correctly reported, states that he saw the children at one p.m. Thursday; that the next morning the spade was returned to him, and still later the keys were given to him. Upon two occasions in conversation Mr. Reeves has stated that the returning of the spade occurred before working hours, presumably before 7 or 7.30 Friday morning, at which time I had not left my hotel, and that the keys were not returned until next day, I being hundreds of miles away at Ogdensburg, N.Y., at the time.

"At or about Prescott I had thought it was wise to get Mrs. Pietzel a quiet temporary home, where she could become rested from her long journey. I wished also for a rest myself, and I felt safe from disturbance from detectives.

"During most of my stay in this region I was at the Windsor Hotel at Ogdensburg. While there I hired a house for Mrs. Pietzel, but it being in so quiet a neighborhood, and so many inquiries were made regarding the prospective tenant, after consulting with her it was thought best not to take the chances of staying there.

"Knowing that at this season of the year at Burlington, Vt., many furnished room houses were to be found, and it being also a most beautiful city, I went there and hired a completely furnished house for her, where I thought she could rest, while I went to my old home in New Hampshire and to New York. I, meantime, was boarding at the Burlington Hotel. After a few days of pleasant short trips in and about Burlington, I decided to go to New Hampshire. I had delayed this trip somewhat, owing to Hatch having gone to Montreal—at least, as he claimed—upon some business, and finally, not wishing to postpone my departure, I went to the depot prepared for my journey. I wrote and handed the operator a telegram for Hatch, asking him to stay in Burlington upon his arrival until I returned. I had hardly left the window of the telegraph office when I saw Hatch and took up my telegram before it had been sent. I had but a short time to talk to him before my train came into the depot, but hastily finished the arrangements previously made for organizing the company in New York, and appointed a place of meeting there upon my arrival.

"He, at this time, wished to borrow $500 of me to use until I should reach New York. I had with me only about $1,000, nearly all of which I wished to use while in New Hampshire. Therefore, I could not loan it to him. Upon telling him so, he asked me to send it to him upon my return to Burlington, if I found I was not going to New York at once. This meeting was the last I had with Hatch, nor have I heard of him, or from him, save one letter in Boston a few days before my arrest. I reached Fenton, N.H., late the same afternoon.

"On November 18, 1894, I was arrested in Boston, and have since remained in solitary confinement. Every effort has been made by the authorities to prevent my being taken to Toronto at once. I have offered to waive all extradition processes, and later to return voluntarily to Philadelphia, and also to defray all cost for myself and officers accompanying me. I am not only willing, but anxious to go, and at once."

MORE TAXATION!

THE CITY'S REVENUE LARGELY EATEN UP BY FIXED CHARGES.

The Departments Cannot be Reduced Without Impairing Their Efficiency.

There was a meeting of the Finance Committee at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Alderman Farrell presided, and there were present Ald. Wilson-Smith, McBride, Hurtubise and Savignac. Other aldermen not members of the committee were present, amongst whom were Ald, Stevenson, Leclerc, Beausoleil, Marsolais, Reneault and Nolan. The Mayor also attended for a short time.

Ald. McBride moved a vote of condolence with Ald. Hurteau on account of the death of Mrs. Hurteau, and also on account of his continued state of ill-health.

Mr. Robb, the City Treasurer, then presented the following report:

"That the amount appropriated to the several committees at the beginning of the year has been found insufficient to maintain the departments to its close, and that, as the total amount legally available was then appropriated, your committee has no funds at its disposal for their augmentation.

"It is clear that the revenue is not sufficient to maintain the departments as at present constituted, and that one of two things must be done, namely, either their curtailment to a point which would be fully provided for by the revenue as at present existing, or the imposition of additional taxation. As it is essential that each department should know, before the commencement of each civic year, just what amount would be at its disposal, it is of the utmost importance that this should be decided, and that the appropriations of 1896 be prepared before the close of the current year.

"As, however, the amount required for interest and the other fixed charges, absorb so great a proportion, it is difficult to see how the various departments could be reduced to a point which would be covered by the present revenue without seriously crippling the efficiency of the service.

"In the meantime your committee desires to be instructed by the Council as to the course to be pursued in the present emergency."

At this point the Mayor, who had entered, and who heard the complaints that there is a lack of money in the civic treasury, broke in and complained that there are more men employed in the various departments than is necessary. He instanced the incinerator, where there are twelve men too many employed, and this prevents effective service as well as depletes the revenue. He wondered why provender was not bought for the horses of the Health Committee by the Supply Officer of the Fire Department; this would effect a saving of about $5,000 at least. He complained that the Health Committee would not brook interference, and he stated that a saving might be effected in all departments.

Mr. Robb then told His Worship that that such saving would be well and good, but it would not be adequate to help the city through its present crisis, because the fixed charges are too high. There would have to be a great change in the departments, something radical, or there would have to be money levied in some manner.

The Mayor then made the remark, illustrating his words, that the clothing of the police were made even before the contracts were awarded, and the highest tenderer always captured the contract.

Alderman Smith noticed that the expenditure is always increasing above the revenue, and notwithstanding this the aldermen had seen fit to reduce the water rates. He favored sending the resolution or report of the City Treasurer to the Council. It contained two resolutions in fact: One to recognize, and the other to impose a special tax.

Ald. Stevenson objected to its being sent without suggestions from the committee as to the manner of raising the money; he feared that the report would be referred back by Council for the necessary suggestions. The Colonel then took exception to the Mayor's remarks. He said that all aldermen should not be classed alike; but then he feared that all would be called boodlers and robbers without exception, as the Mayor had done. He challenged anyone to show that his department had ever exceeded its appropriations, and it was maintained at one-third the cost of fire departments of other cities of the same size as Montreal. He wanted the aldermen to abolish the custom of awarding contracts for clothes, as he believed that the men could clothe themselves better for $100 a year each, and this alone would effect a saving for the city; the scheme was practised beneficially in the majority of American cities.

Ald. Smith complimented the Fire Department on its efficiency, and the little comparative cost that it occasioned the city. He then asked Mr. Robb to make some suggestions in regard to the manner by which money could be levied.

The Mayor immediately asked if money could be levied by a special tax this year.

Mr. Roy, the City Attorney, stated that money could be levied by special tax on all property within the year, but only in case of urgency on the part of the city; if the latter had not good reasons to show the urgency of its needs, the special tax would be illegal.

"Money could be taken from the Reserve Fund," said Mr. Roy, for "unforeseen affairs; that is why the Reserve Fund was created.".

"But the Reserve Fund has already been demolished," said Mr. Robb.

Mr. Roy then shrugged his shoulders.

Continuing, he said, that he would like the committee to give reasons for imposing a special tax. It would be very easy for them to do so; but the legality of such a course would be another matter.

The Mayor said that it would be impossible to prevent the Health, Fire and Road Departments from continuing their work; it is absolutely necessary that they continue.

In answer to Ald. Farrell, Mr. Roy said that he was unaware that money had ever been levied before by special tax. In any case if money were raised by a special tax, on water for instance, it could not be applied to the Road Department. If money were to be raised, it would be necessary to specify for what purpose. Alderman Smith then stated that the Finance Committee would assume no responsibility in the matter; the entire Council would have to bear it, and therefore the report should be sent to Council. It was thereupon unanimously resolved that Mr. Robb's report be sent to Council for the latter to take action upon it.

Mr. Robb then announced that he had appointed Mr. Casavant cashier of the city to fill the place of Mr. McDonnough. This appointment was confirmed. This will not necessitate a new appointment in the treasurer's office.

Alderman Stevenson then commented upon the fact that there are too many employes in and around the City Hall, especially in the Finance Department. Alderman Smith concurred in this, but the matter dropped. Alderman Smith then moved that the city attorneys be instructed to take such proceedings as might be deemed necessary to carry into effect the resolution of Council for a delay in the matter of the expropriations until the law on the subject would be amended; and to prepare amendments, in conjunction with the City Clerk, so that they might be sent to the Legislature, and thus free the city from undertakings that it has not means to carry into effect.

Alderman Smith said that a means might be stopped to prevent these expropriations, which would prove ruinous to the city.

The City Attorney then showed what the people might do if the present law was not changed. Residents of St. Antoine Street, which it was not the intention of the city to widen, immediately, could compass their ends very easily. They could individually ask that their properties, which are situated on the homologated line, to be taken over by the city. Thus the city would have to expropriate all these proprietors, and the street would be widened. The same thing would occur on every street. This state of affairs is due to the existing law, which compels the city not only to take over vacant lands, as formerly, but also buildings.

Ald. Smith's resolution was sent to the City Attorney for suggestions.

The subject of entertaining the officers of the visiting warships was referred to Council.

The question of distributing the city's insurance amongst all the companies that are willing to take it without cost to the city for transfer of the policies, was left to Mr. Robb, Ald. Savignac and McBride.

Other minor matters were then considered, and the committee rose.

AMUSEMENTS.

Herrmann, the Napoleon of Necromancers, will undoubtedly pack the Academy of Music at the opening of the season next Monday, and, from all reports, it will be well deserved, as Herrmann is understood to present this season the most brilliant entertainment he has ever offered to the public. Herrmann's present organization is a very elaborate one, as he carries a special leader of the orchestra, an electrician, carpenters and mechanics, who, under the direction of the magician, are incessantly contriving new surprises, special scenery and an entire calcium lighting plant, so theatre-goers can look forward to a veritable spectacular production. In the "Artist's Dream" gorgeous electrical effects and surprises are introduced, and in it the magician appears in the character of Mephisto and Madame Herrmann in the role of a handsome young artist, who, having painted the picture of his ideal, is overjoyed at it coming to life miraculously before his very eyes. In this beautiful idyl songs and dances, together with accompanying music, are introduced, making it the most highly embellished act Herrmann has ever contrived. Herrmann, having purchased the Lillie Langtry Pullmann car, will henceforth live on board.

"THE WHITE RAT."

"The White Rat," R. N. Stephens' new drama of night life in Darkest New York, which comes next week to the Royal, contains incidents that recall certain adventures of Sherlock Holmes. A crime is fastened on the wrong man by a peculiar set of circumstances, and equally remarkable circumstances enable the man to find out who the guilty person is and to prove this person's guilt. The whereabouts of a woman who has been lured to a place and is detained by force, are traced in a highly novel way. It is not so much in the kind of detective work done in "The White Rat" that it resembles a Sherlock Holmes story, it is in the nocturnal surroundings, the queer places visited, the panorama of night life in a great city, the strange antecedents of some of the characters, the rapid progress of the action.

ANSWER TO THE POPE.

Archbishop of Canterbury Issues a Pastoral Letter.

London, Sept. 5.—The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued a long pastoral letter dealing with the Pope's recent letter to the English people and the recent appearance in the Church of England of certain foreign usages and forms of devotion. The Archbishop recognizes the desire for re-union as a characteristic of our times, and admits that divisions among Christians are the chief obstacles to the progress of the Gospel. He accepts the many expressions of anxiety for delivery from these divisions as a sign of God's purpose, but protests "against the introduction of modern Roman innovations in the ritual and doctrine." He contends that "the suggested re-union only means forgetting our own Church," and exhorts clergymen and churchmen as a first duty "to preserve purity of faith and practice."

ROYAL PAUPERS.

Proposition to Apply the Pauper Alien Law to Them.

Cardiff, Sept. 5.—At the session of the Trades Union Congress to-day the Parliamentary Committee was instructed to urge upon Parliament the passage of a bill, declaring for the principle of payment of salaries to members of the House of Commons.

Mr. Sexton, a delegate from Liverpool, in seconding a motion for the adoption of a resolution in favor of the prohibition of the landing of pauper aliens, said that he wished to include within the scope of the resolution royal paupers who arrived without visible means of subsistence, but who soon found them. These, Mr. Sexton said, were the men who controlled the empire, while the poor British taxpayers had no rights at all.

Mixing of Wheat.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The grain section of the Board of Trade met this afternoon to consider the communication from the Inland Revenue Department, re the mixing of scoured wheat with No. 1 Manitoba hard. The Controller asks the board to appoint a committee to deal with the matter, so that a satisfactory order may be handed out before the standards boards meet. The local grain men object strongly to having scoured wheat mixed with sound grain, and have sent memorials to the Government protesting against the practice time and again. It is expected that a committee will be appointed to go to Ottawa.

Missing Ship Lord Downshire.

London, Sept. 5.—Eighty guineas percentage is now asked by Lloyds to insure the British ship Lord Downshire, which, as reported in last night's despatch, sailed from Calcutta Buena, May 4, for Hamburg, and has not yet arrived. Lloyds' rate on this vessel has steadily advanced for the past three weeks until it has reached the figure named. The belief grows that the Lord Downshire is the vessel which was in collision with the British ship Prince Oscar on the night of July 17, when both vessels were sunk.

Curry Fined $500.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 5.—"Gil" Curry, who drove Joe Patchen in yesterday's match race with John R. Gentry at Belmont Park, has been fined $500 by the judges for alleged improper driving in the race. There is considerable doubt as to whether the fine can be collected, as Curry claims that the contract with the Belmont Driving Club simply called for a speed exhibition on the part of the two horses. Instead of a $4,000 purse McHenry and Curry were to be given a certain percentage of the gate receipts, and the amount they did receive, it is said, was $450 each. To-night Curry and McHenry, who drove Gentry, left for the west. There were two events on the card for decision to-day, the last of the meeting, the 2.20 trot and the 2.20 pace. In the former Brunhilde went out and won the first heat, but after that there was nothing in the field that could touch Miss McGregor, and she took the next three heats and the race. Bumps won the pacing race right off the reel.

2.20 trot, purse $2,000—Miss McGregor won second, third and fourth heats and race. Time—2.14 3-4, 2.15 1-2, 2.16 3-4. Brunhilde won first heat. Time—2.15 1-4, Chance, Roseline, Hilda S., and Lady M. also started.

2.20 pacing, purse $2,000—Bumps won first three heats and race. Time—2.13, 2.14 1-4, 2.16. Ebeto, Clara C., Comet, John Sprague, Gene D. and Albert Darling also started.

Jim Corbett the Pacer.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 5.—At Highland Park to-day the track was a trifle heavy and nothing phenomenal was accomplished in speed. Jim Corbett came in second in each of the three heats of the 2.20 pacing events. It was suspected that Stanley did not drive him to win in the third heat, and it was declared "no heat," and will be paced again.

THE WHEEL.

A Select Bicycle Reception.

"Say, fellers! here comes a fat one; let's soak 'im."

"Swipe his hat—Pull 'im over,"

These war cries and many others came the juvenile department of a large crowd which had assembled in the middle of Bleury Street opposite Jurors last evening, and they were directed towards a section of the bicycle parade which was passing.

Just why these particular youngsters should take it into their little skulls to become hostile to a lot of harmless bicyclists is beyond comprehension, but they were nevertheless, and for a time the proceedings were very interesting—for the onlookers.

By the time half the parade had passed the crowd had surged into the street, considerately leaving an irregular lane for the wheelmen to pass. Then the crowd thought they would have some fun. Many of the riders probably never met with such a warm reception from complete strangers. Their arms were affectionally pulled, and if convenient, a young person would gently yank their coats. The result of this kind of treatment is generally a fall, and many fell.

If the law had a representative wrestling with the crowd his work was hard to discover.

Apart from the foregoing unpleasantry the Y.M.C.A. parade was a great success. There were about 200 "bikes" out, not a few were ridden by the fair sex. Several wheels "built for two" were also out. Nearly all of the city clubs were represented, and quite a number of unattached riders took advantage of the occasion.

Ferdinand Shobel Will Probably Lose Flesh.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 5.—At 2.37 p.m. today Ferdinand Shobel, the long distance French champion, commenced his one thousand mile ride against time on the quarter-mile board track on Toronto Island. He had made an open challenge for a thousand mile race which had been accepted by Seavey, of Boston, and Weinig, of Buffalo, but neither of these men showed up when the race began. Shobel started alone unpaced and will attempt to beat Grimm's twenty-four hour record of 452 miles and other records up to one thousand miles. He is in splendid condition and will go the first twenty-four hours without dismounting. He started off easily. His time at ten miles was 30.52 2-5 and in the first hour he rode 21 5-8 miles. For fifty miles his time was 2.35.54 and for 100 miles 5. 12.30 2-5. These are unpaced records.

CRICKET.

The Oxford-Cambridge Men in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The Oxford and Cambridge cricketers, who scored a victory over the Americans at Staten Island, arrived in the city this morning. The English players were met by a number of Toronto men, who escorted them to the Queen's Hotel, where they registered. After luncheon the visitors went to Rosedale and put in a couple of hours' practice.

The English team is composed of V. T. Hill, H. A. Arkwright, N. F. Druce, W. Mortimer, F. A. Phillips, J. C. Hartley, W. F. Milligan, C. E. Wilson, W. W. Lowe, C. D. Robinson and R. A. Studd. Mr. E. Mitchell is captain. They will commence a match with the Canadian cricketers who administered a defeat to the American players on the grounds at Rosedale to-morrow.

ATHLETICS.

Yale Men Start Work.

HE bustle and activity about the track and club house at Travers' Island, New York, were increased yesterday by the arrival and first day's work of the Yale track team in preparation for the games with Cambridge, which will be held at Manhattan field October 5. Mike Murphy, the Yale trainer, and Capt. L. P. Sheldon will have charge of the men.

All the candidates reported yesterday and went through their regular day's work. They will remain there until the international games, on September 21, when they will return to New Haven in time for the opening of the university and finish training on their own grounds.

For the 100 and 300 yard dashes there are W. M. Richards, D. C. Byers, R. V. Burnet, C. Gillette and F. E. Wade; quarter-mile, Wade and Richards; half-mile, P. W. Crane and W. H. Wadhams; J. E. Morgan is the only candidate for the mile; E. H. Cady, G. B. Hatch and E. C. Perkins, hurdles; Capt. Sheldon and J. Thompson, high jump; R. Mitchell and Capt. Sheldon, broad jump; putting shot, W. O. Hickok, A. Brown; throwing hammer, W. O. Hickok and H. P. Cross.

The English Teams Have Arrived.

New York, Sept. 5.—On the Aurania, of the Cunard Line, from Liverpool and Queenstown, were two athletic teams, who have come to contest for international honors with the teams of Yale College and the New York Athletic Club. They are from the London Athletic Club and Cambridge University. In the former team are Bradley, Downer, Fitzherbert, Horan, Jordan, Johnson, Lewin, Lutyens, Mendelsen, Oakley Robinson, Shaw and Watson. The Cambridge team consists of Davenport, Fitzherbert, Fletcher, Horan, Lewin, Lutyens, Mendelsen, Pilkington and Watson. All are in the best of health, and although the Aurania experienced strong westerly winds and gales during the first four days of the passage, the members of the team suffered no ill effects. The following athletes were expected, but their names are not on the passenger list: Wilkins, Hemming, Gomer and Wilding.

GOLF.

The Canadian Champion Third.

Queen's Royal, Niagara, Ont., Sept. 5.—The international golf tournament opened on the Niagara links to-day under the best possible weather conditions. The play on the open handicap began at 10.30. There were twenty-six entries, including many crack players of the United States and Canada. The winner turned up in George S. Willetts, of Chicago, who received the handicap limit, eighteen strokes. Playing against Arthur Coffey, of New York, he made the Fort George links in 49, and the Fort Missassagua links in the same score, being a total of 98, or a net score, with his eighteen strokes deducted, of 80, which is better by five than the course could be covered at scratch. Mr. Willetts played an exceptionally fine game, and his excellent driving over the long holes told heavily in his favor. His splendid score surprised the cracks, the first of whom was Charles P. MacDonald, also of Chicago, who was second, with a score at scratch of 87. He made the Missassagua in 42, the lowest score in which the course has yet been covered. T. M. Harley, of Kingston, the Canadian champion, was third, also at scratch, with 92 strokes.

ROWING and SAILING.

Hanlan Going to Texas.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Ned Hanlan has received an invitation to row at the big regatta down at Austin, Texas, November 4, 5, 6, and 7. The secretary of the regatta states that they are endeavoring to get some English oarsmen to come to this country and row. Hanlan said that he intended to go down and take a hand in the events. "Henry Peterson and I will row in the double-scull events," said the ex-champion, "and I may also row in professional four."

There is a purse of $1,000 in the single scull, $1,000 in the double, and $1,500 in the four-oared race.

YACHTING.

Dunraven Becomes Communicative.

New York, Sept. 5.—Lord Dunraven, when asked if he was satisfied with the condition of the Valkyrie, said:

"No, I am not at all," he replied, "but I hope to be when she leaves here."

Surmising that changes had been found necessary which would make further trial spins desirable, I suggested it was a pity that he would not have another week after dry-docking before the races.

"Oh, no, I don't think so," His Lordship replied.

"Then you are satisfied with the tuning up she has had?"

"Yes, quite so."

"The work in dry-dock, then, will be principally dressing her up and improving her appearance?"

"Yes."

His Lordship's dissatisfaction, therefore appeared to be confined to the yacht's appearance. He said he preferred white, and that she had always been white, but he didn't know whether they could make the change successfully now.

Mr. Glennie interrupted here to say that it didn't matter much how she was painted, so long as she sailed fast. If painted white with green polka dots would make her faster, they would paint her that way.

Lord Dunraven was surprised at the cable report that betting in London was 3 to 1 on the Defender, and asked how the betting was here. He was told that odds varied greatly, and many thought even money was the proper thing, believing that it was largely a matter of betting on wind, with the Defender picked for a blow and the Valkyrie for light air.

Mr. Glennie said he didn't take any stock in the cable report. Lord Dunraven, when asked what he thought about it, replied:

"Well, with 3 to 1 on the other side, and even money here, I should say it was a pretty good thing for somebody."

Asked if he had seen Defender in drydock, Lord Dunraven said he had, and thought she was a beautifully moulded boat, and very scientifically built. It was suggested that her fin keel did not add to her appearance, but His Lordship reiterated: "Oh, she has beautiful lines. She's clean cut, and well made," and Mr. Glennie echoed the opinion.

Few Odds of 3 to 1 Offered.

New York, Sept. 5.—The impression seems to have obtained prevalence in London that the American odds on the Defender are 3 to 1. At that odds Englishmen would be willing to lay almost any size wager, and would be perfectly justified in so doing. But, no such odds are offered even by ultra-patriotic Americans, while those who have seen both yachts and are able to judge of their relative qualities estimate that 2 to 1 would be too much to offer against such a promising craft as the Valkyrie. A few bets have been made at those odds, it is true, but as the day of the race approaches, the general disposition is to make the odds 3 to 2 or 5 to 4.

How the Races Will be Reported.

New York, Sept. 5.—Saturday's international yacht race will be the occasion for an innovation in the means of transmitting news of the progress of the contest between the champion boats of England and America, which will mark a long step forward in the business of reporting aquatic sporting events. Up to this time the accurate and speedy reporting of such an event as a yacht race has been attended with great difficulty. Now, however, the public of both the old and the new world are to have prompt and accurate information of the progress of the yacht races between Defender and Valkyrie III. through the enterprise of the Commercial Cable Company. This company's steamer Mackay-Bennett will lay a sub-marine cable to the scene of the yacht races. The end of the cable will be on board and specially connected with England and France through the company's main ocean cable, landing at Coney Island. The Postal Telegraph Company will also have an office on board the Mackay-Bennett, and will forward telegrams to all points in the United States and Canada.

THE HUNT.

An Unlucky Chase.

A field of 23 horsemen, one of the largest cub hunting fields seen for some time, greeted the hounds at Cote St. Paul Bridge yesterday morning, but, owing to the hot weather, the scent was poor, and the day's sport was not what could be desired. The hounds got on the line of a fox in Pehniston's coverts, but were unable to own it for any length of time, and the result was disappointment to those who had turned out. An unfortunate incident of the day was a crushing fall over timber received by Mr. Painchaud, resulting in the breaking of his collar-bone.

QUOITS.

Montreal vs. Dominion.

At a special meeting of the Montreal Quoiting League, the secretary read a letter from E. A. Cardinal, vice-president of the National Quoiting Club, generously offering the use of their grounds for the draw match between the Montreal and Dominion Quoiting Clubs. On motion the letter was unanimously received. The league then decided that the draw match be played on Saturday, the 14th inst., commencing at 2.30 p.m., on the National club grounds, Seigneurs Street, a little above St. James Street.

Quoit Challenge.

Mr. F. X. Durocher, of the Dominion Quoiting Club, has issued a challenge to Mr. George Storey, of the Riverside Club, to play him a match of 61 points, Mr. Storey to have 10 points handicap. Mr. Storey will acept the challenge, and will meet Mr .Durocher next Saturday evening to make final arrangements.

THE RING.

The Fight is a Different Matter.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—The western roads that would not make a rate for the Atlanta Exposition lower than seventy-five per cent. of the regular round trip rate have made a rate of one fare for the round trip to the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Dallas. This rate will apply from Kansas City, Peoria, Chicago and St. Joseph, Mo., from October 15 to October 31, inclusive. The final return limits of the tickets is November 30.

Levigne and Young Griffo Matched.

New York, Sept. 5.—Jim Kennedy, match-maker of the New Empire Club, of Maspeth, L.I., has succeeded in matching Kid Lavigne, of Saginaw, Mich., against Alf. Griffiths, better known as "Young Griffo," of Australia. The men are matched to fight twenty rounds at 133 pounds, before the Empire Club, on September 25.

BASEBALL.

Granites and St. Albans.

In all probability St. Hyacinthe will be the scene of another good ball game. The St. Alban's team are booked to play the granites there on Sunday next.

LACROSSE.

Caps Will be Short Quinn and Patterson.

(Special to the Herald.)

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—Quinn will be off the Capital team on Saturday. He has not turned out to practice, and so the executive have decided not to play him. Patterson will also be off. Whether or not George Carson and Carleton will play will be definitely decided to-morrow night. If they do not Hyde and Templeton, of the Young Capitals, will take their places. Sparrow and Griffith will replace Quinn and Patterson.

Harry Brophy is acceptable to the Capitals for referee.

What the Shamrocks are Doing.

The Shamrocks had their final practice last evening prior to their tussle with the Caps. on Saturday. The team will be picked to-night. The executive are still on the go, and besides arranging for the Victoria Rifles band to be on deck, they have found time to cater to the tastes of the yachting cranks. The progress of the Valkyrie-Defender race will be bulletined on the grounds.

The N.A.L.A. Intermediate Champion ship.

The result of the N.A.L.A. intermediate championship is still a question of doubt. So far the Montreal Juniors have managed to maintain the lead, but with the Quebecs and Crescent-Gabriels showing good form it woul dinvolve pure guess work to pick the winner. The standing of the teams at present is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	To Play.
Montreal Jrs.	3	1	1
Crescent-Gabriels	1	1	3
Quebecs	3	2	1
Sherbrookes	1	4	1

The Montreal Juniors and Crescent-Gabriels have a draw match to play off.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

The Boston Amateur Baseball Club is practically stranded in London.

Yale boating men held a meeting the other day to discuss the question of arranging a contest with either Oxford or Cambridge on the water.

Jim Corbett expected to begin training yesterday for the big fight. He was unable to do so because his left knee, which was injured recently by a fall from a bicycle, was considerably swollen. His physician, Dr. Hamilton Griffin, advised the champion to rest for a week or ten days. Corbett will therefore have to do nearly all his work in Texas.

CHEESE INSPECTION.

Brockville Men Dislike the Idea of Mr. Jodery's Appointment.

(Special to the Herald.)

Brockville, Sept. 5.—If the Government has appointed a Montreal inspector, and it looks very much as though the appointment had been made, they have ignored the boards of the country in the matter, and for this reason there was the usual breeze at yesterday's meeting.

Mr. Wilson brought the matter up, and Mr. Hodgson, a prominent Montreal buyer, and a member of the Montreal Butter and Cheese Association, who was present, said he believed the appointment was made or pending, but without the request of the Montreal association. He thought F. E. Jodery would be the man.

Mr. Derbyshire did not believe the Government would be foolish enough to make the appointment without consulting the boards, especially with an election coming on. Anyway, he did not believe Jodery would be the man, as he was not competent for the position.

Mr. Murphy, however, raised the fears again in this direction by reading the following certificate given to a well-known house, in the matter of an inspection:

"To Dominion of Canada, Department of Agriculture Dairying Service, 61 William Street, Montreal:

"This is to certify that I have this day examined a lot of —— boxes of cheese, marked ——, said to be the product of —— factory, said to have been sold by ——, to ——, and warranted of good merchantable quality at Montreal. I certify that the lot of cheese as described above is of good merchantable quality. (Sgd.)

"F. E. JODERY,
"Inspector."

"Particulars of quality—appearance, cracked surface; flavor good, body and texture dry and high cooked; color good; boxes good."

"Cracked surface, dry and high cooked, and yet good merchantable cheese," said Mr. Murphy, and the cheesemen roared.

There was a discussion, in which the Government came in for general censure, and President Redmond expressed the opinion that a man who had been mixed up in the trade in Montreal would not give satisfaction generally.

Messrs. Derbyshire and Murphy and other members who attended the Toronto fair, were authorized to represent the board at the meeting of the dairymen there next week.

To Dock at Halifax.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 5.—The idea of attempting to dock the battle ship Indiana in the United States, preliminary to her speed trial, has been abandoned, and Mr. Cramp is now about to arrange for docking the ship at Halifax.

TRADE IN CANADA.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Review of the Past Week's Business.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly statement of trade in Canada says:

The millinery openings in Montreal have been the busiest feature of the week, and general satisfaction is expressed with the attendance of buyers and the amount of business done. The largest proportion of visitors has been from the districts within easy radius, but a very fair number of strangers have come in on special excursions from western points, and the dry goods warehouses show a good deal more business than a week ago. The fourth was a pretty heavy day for retail payments in the dry goods trade, and while returns from outside points are not all in, the indications are that a good average proportion of payments has been met. Further advices from Eastern Townships and Ottawa Valley points confirm previous very favorable reports regarding the crops. The improvement in trade which was anticipated has been partially realized.

Toronto merchants report business as fairly satisfactory this week. The millinery openings have attracted a large number of country merchants, and the Industrial Exhibition is also a drawing card. Sales of millinery are ahead of last year, and in other lines the volume of trade has increased. Stocks of general merchandise are said to be smaller than usual at country points, and prices are likely to be maintained in consequence. The advance in raw cotton tends to tone up the market for cotton goods, and woollens are also firm for the same reason. Small manufacturers are doing well as a rule, and the firmness of iron acts as a stimulus to the metal trade. There is a better feeling with regard to city property, with a larger number of transfers. Money continues easy, the supply being plentiful. Securities of nearly all kinds are very firm. In bank stocks the advance during the week is more pronounced in Imperial and Molsons. The wheat markets continue weak. Threshing returns are more favorable than had been anticipated, and the British markets are heavy, with few buying orders from there. Manitoba No. 1 hard has declined 6c to 8c, and is now selling at 78c to 80c, Toronto freights.

The failures for the week are 38, same week of last year 47.

RECORD OF NOTORIETY.

Deputy Warden Fitzsimmons Removed to Stony Mountain.

(Special to the Herald.)

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—James Fitzsimmons, deputy warden of New Westminster penitentiary, has assisted to make political history in Canada. His case has been one of agitation for years in British Columbia, and now that he is to be removed to Stony Mountain Penitentiary, Manitoba, another agitation is apt to arise in that province.

The history of New Westminster Penitentiary for years has been one of scandals. Food products were carried away from it, material of other kinds disappeared, no departmental account was given of the product of the farm, coffins were made in the penitentiary for charitable institutions outside, and Justice McCreight kept his horse at the penitentiary and swore he paid Fitzsimmons for the same. Fitzsimmons, who was supported by Inspector Moylan ,was virtually warden, and officers took their instructions from him and not from the warden.

Departmental enquiries resulted in no good, but when Justice Drake was appointed a Royal Commission to enquire into the whole matter, Fitzsimmons was dismissed by Sir John Thompson. His friends agitated in his behalf, and Fitzsimmons came to Ottawa himself. The result was that Fitzsimmons was reinstated by Sir C. H. Tupper. British Columbia members and Senators carried the fight into Parliament. Sir C. H. Tupper did not feel like backing down, but gave Fitzsimmons two months' leave of absence, with the assurance to members that he would not be reinstated.

Fitzsimmons not being dismissed, still kept his quarters in the penitentiary. Delegations protested to Premier Bowell when out there against this. The Premier promised to have him removed. Sir C. H .Tupper has now sent Fitzsimmons to Stony Mountain Penitentiary as deputy warden. If no protest is made from Manitobans he will be allowed to remain there.

The English Horse Market.

Joseph Hoare, a prominent horse dealer, and owner of fine repositories in London, Eng., at Stanhope Yard, Gloucester Gate, N.W., was at the Windsor last evening. Mr. Hoare visits Canada each year, and considering that he handles over 2,000 Canadian horses each year, his opinions are of interest. The past London season ,he said, wa s one of the finest for trade. He was fond of Canadian stock, as they usually held preference in the Mother Land. Most of the horses shipped were bred in Ontario, and were fine specimens. The chances for electric cars in the Old Land were small. In short, he did not think there were any possibilities for anything else but the horse car system in London, Eng., for years to come. Mr. Hoare will travel west as far as Chicago.

THE ANARCHIST FAILED.

In His Attempt to Blow up De Rothschild's Paris Bank.

Paris, Sept. 5.—DeRothschild's banking house in this city was the scene to-day of another Nihilistic attempt. At 3.20 o'clock a man entered the bank from the Rue Lafitte. In the vestibule, a detective, who was on guard there, saw the stranger trying to light the fuse of a bomb which he carried, with a cigarette. The ashes on the cigarette prevented the ready ignition of the fuse, and the man, seeing that he was observed, threw the bomb upon the carpeted floor. The weapon did not explode, and the man was arrested. When he was taken to the police office he boldly avowed himself an Anarchist.

The culprit was miserably dressed, and a razor and brush were found upon him, so it is supposed he is a barber's assistant. He refused to give any pretext for the attempted outrage. His family lived a long time at Montmartre, where active enquiries are proceeding. Upon being further examined, he said the bomb was composed of chloride of potassium and blasting powder, and contained no projectile. His act, he said, was a protest against the proceedings of the bankers. He had travelled through France, never remaining long in the same place, in order not to awaken suspicion. He professes a contempt for work since everyone lives at the expense of society. The news of the outrage spread rapidly through Paris, and many fear that it portends a renewal of an active Anarchist campaign.

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book store recently, and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request, and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies, in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the ills and "weaknesses" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use. Send for a free pamphlet, or remit 10 cents in stamps for Book (168 pages) on "Woman and Her Diseases." Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure permanently constipation, sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and kindred ailments.

DEMERS ARRAIGNED

PLEADS NOT GUILTY—TRIAL SET FOR MONDAY.

Labelle's Counsel Asks That the Money be Identified—Joseph Champagne Guilty.

Napoleon Demers, charged with the murder of his wife, was arraigned in the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday. He pleaded not guilty, and his trial was fixed for Monday.

In the matter of the Queen versus Labelle and Alice Beach, James Craukshaw, their counsel, asked that proof be given that the six ten dollar bills and a number of coins found on Labelle are the property of the complainant.

Some discussion ensued, and His Honor said that to facilitate matters and not occupy too much of the attention of the court he would take the matter en delibere.

Patrick Flanagan, charged with theft, came up for his trial. Mr. E. Guerin, counsel for the prisoner, asked that, in view of the fact that some of the witnesses are at sea, the case be allowed to stand until three weeks from next Friday. This delay was granted by the judge.

The case of Joseph Champagne, charged with burglary, was next taken up. A jury was empanelled, and after listening to the evidence, which was conclusive, returned a verdict of guilty.

The court rose at one o'clock for lunch.

The whole time of the afternoon was taken up with the hearing of the case of Joseph Larochelle, charged with indecent assault upon a seven-year-old girl named Marie Lefevbre. The case will be concluded to-day.

Visiting Public Institutions.

The grand jury of the Court of Queen's Bench paid a visit yesterday afternoon to the St. Jean de Dieu Insane Asylum at Longue Pointe, and were entirely satisfied with it.

The Grand Jury of this term of the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday commenced the annual visits to the provincial institutions, jails and asylums. The Montreal jail was the first place visited. Everything was found scrupulously clean and in good order.

The hospital or infirmary was visited. Here ex-Detective Flynn and the man Haynes, accused of arson, were sitting together looking out of the window. They did not move from that position while the jury remained in the room.

Gauthier, the murderer, is another occupant of the hospital, and the foreman spoke to him, but he did not reply.

In the murderers' cell Shortis, the Valleyfield murderer, paced too and fro, smoking a cigarette. He took not the slightest notice of the jurymen.

The female jail was visited and found in quite as excellent a condition as the other.

ROBBED HIS FATHER.

Serious Charges Against a Quebec Merchant's Son.

Quebec, Sept. 5.—A sensation has been created of late in Quebec by the arrest of a young man for the theft of a valuable quantity of leather from his father's factory. It appears that the young man has been carrying on a systematic robbery about the house for years. Recently, however, a quantity of leather, worth about $3,000, was missed from the store, and the robbery was traced to the manufacturer's son. Detectives have discovered several hundred dollars' worth of the stolen leather in the warehouse of a neighboring leather firm. Some more arrests will take place shortly.

CECIL RHODES NOT DEAD.

The Cape Colony's Premier Alive and in Good Health.

London, Sept. 5.—The agent-general of Cape Colony has received a cablegram setting at rest the rumors of the death of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, the Premier of Cape Colony. The cablegram says that Mr. Rhodes is in good health and attending to his business as usual. Mail advices, however, represent him as being in ill-health, but these are, of course, of much earlier date than the telegraphic advices.

PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

London, Sept. 5.—The House of Commons, in response to a summons in the usual form, appeared in the House of Lords to-day, where the royal assent to the acts passed during the session was announced. A decree was then read proroguing Parliament until November 18.

Charged With Robbing His Father.

Magistrate Lafontaine presided in the Police Court yesterday. The first prisoner brought up was a young man named Denis Laporte, charged with robbing his father, Narcisse Laporte, of $400. When arrested he had only $330 on his person. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to await the appearance of his father.

"Money scarce? Not enough money in the country?" shouted Mr. Goldrox.

"That is just the point!" observed Silverton.

"Well, ef they hain't enough money in the country, how can I git sich a pile o' gold to lock up in bank? Hey?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE SEIZED SHIPS.

Excited Newfoundlanders Denounce the Canadians.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 5.—The Government has received advices that the seizures of vessels in Canadian Labrador waters are due to breaches of the customs rules. One vessel was taken for possessing a wrong clearance. It is not known yet what was the cause in the other cases. The press comments strongly on the proceedings. Public opinion is against the Canadians. This is inflamed by the accusations of piracy against the fishermen of that region recently made by Canadian newspapers, which are declared here to be totally without foundation.

The steamer with details and with members of crews of seized vessels is due to-morrow and is anxiously awaited.

The Government has opened Twillingate district to provide an assembly seat for Colonial Secretary Bond, the present incumbent having been appointed a magistrate.

FEARS ENTERTAINED.

A Belfast Ship Supposed to Have Been Lost.

London, Sept. 5.—The Evening Standard yesterday said there is anxiety at Belfast for the safety of the ship Lord Downshire, which left Iquique last May, since which time nothing has been heard of the vessel. There were thirty-two persons aboard the Lord Downshire. It is feared that this may have been the ship which was sunk in the collision with the British ship Prince Oscar on the night of July 13, about 500 miles southeast of Cape Stroque. All of the crew of the ship with which the Prince Oscar was in collision are supposed to have been drowned, as were also four of the crew of the Prince Oscar, which sank soon after the collision.

AN ALARMING INCREASE.

The Prevalence of Female Complaints Found to Result Largely From the Kidneys.

Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 2.—Doctors are beginning to turn their attention more exclusively to the causes of the great increase of what are known as female complaints during the past ten years, and to the remedies for the same. Many cases have been investigated, and among others that of Mrs. Reany, of Ashland, Wis., who was cured of this form of trouble by the use of a kidney medicine known as Dodd's Kidney Pills, which originated in Canada, but has now become widely known and used throughout the Western States. This and other similar cases go to show that these troubles are largely due to the kidneys, and that the above mentioned remedy is likely to have a great effect in lessening the number of victims to this form of complaint.

A Grocer's Waggon

May cost more horseflesh than it is worth. What constitutes a load? Weight,—draught,—labor. Many grocers load their horses with mere waggon. Some grocers' waggons weigh 1,000 pounds, while one of our 500-pound Latimer Waggons would draw just as much groceries. This means that a Latimer Express Waggon and 500 pounds of groceries would be just as easy to draw as an empty express waggon of the usual sort. Our Waggons have the best kind of material in them—strength—not weight. A chain is just as strong as its weakest link, and the Latimer Waggons are like the Deacon's "One Hoss Shay,"—each part is just as strong as the other—well balanced, you know. Season's partially over; but you'll need a spick and span delivery when your customers return from the country. You can save money on it now. Our 500-pound $80 waggon, capable of drawing a 1,500-pound load, we'll sell for $60. The $100 kind for $80, and our $125 waggon for $100. Give your horse a chance,—he needs it.

THE MONTREAL HERALD CO.

PROVINCIAL COLONIZATION.

Canada has so great an area to colonize that the older provinces seem to have lost sight of themselves. Older Canada has gone to the extreme of self-sacrifice. Whether this is the part of wisdom or not is a point upon which authorities will likely differ.

The peopling of Manitoba has not been altogether, not even in greater part, the result of any measure or succession of measures of public policy. It has been the outgrowth of individual enterprise. The young farmers of Ontario and Quebec viewed the land and saw that it was good, and they went in and possessed themselves of it. The flower of the population of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories has had its origin and development in that way, and from that source.

What was thus the gain of the new province was in no small measure the loss of the old. The draining away of the young and vigorous was of itself a serious matter; and that loss was supplemented by the capital in money and money's worth which they carried with them. The loss thus suffered by the older provinces cannot appear in the annual balance sheet submitted to the Legislature, but it has had its effect in contributing to the decreased value of farm property, increased competition in the grain market, and the lowering of the value of all staple farm products. The general effect produced in this way, aided by the burdens of a protective tariff, is that the formerly thrifty and independent farmer of old Canada is upon an average a poorer man than he was twenty years ago. And if we override the average line and deal with those who are not to be classed as poor, it can be clearly demonstrated that they have prospered less freely than they otherwise would have done, and that if they are wealthy or well-to-do they are so because of exceptional conditions and in spite of years of adverse circumstances.

Perhaps all this could not be helped, excepting the tariff delusion. The movement towards the Northwest, and all that it implied, was the natural and even admirable outcome of the irrepressible energy and daring of the young Canadian, every one in his way. But it may be worth while now in full review of the past to consider whether in the face of the temptations of the new land it may not be found that there are equally meritorious inducements in the old.

At any rate it is clearly public policy in its best development that the older provinces should now give their attention to self-improvement. One would think that the older Canada had exhausted its merits and that it had now nothing to offer by way of inducement to colonists. The colonist cars that are to be seen by the score at our principal railway points convey the impression that anywhere but here must be the colonists' resort. The immigration efforts being made, insignificant as the results are, notwithstanding the volume which must have been contributed by Mr. Daly's "vigorous immigration policy," are all directed to Manitoba and the Territories. Would it not be a good idea to vary the direction of colonizing effort at any rate on the part of our older provinces? Modesty on the part of self-assertion would be well suppressed. Ontario and Quebec have room yet for the happy homes of millions. Those homes would be near the home market, nearer the foreign market for exportation and importation; and since the cost of production and the cost of transportation are every year becoming the more serious items, and their reduction the more important to the farmer in view of the competition which he now meets in the markets of the world, the time would seem opportune for the further colonizing and developing of the older provinces.

SINCERE MEN WANTED.

As the days pass, each throwing a new light on the events of the last session at Ottawa, the cowardice of the Ministers in the Manitoba school question, and their entire want of honor and sincerity becomes more and more evident. Under the pretense of replying to the Herald Mr. Joncas, M.P., lately made the statement that Sir Adolphe Caron and Mr. Ouimet would never have re-entered the Cabinet had not several of their colleagues signed a pledge which has not yet been made public to support the French-Canadian Ministers. This leads the Moniteur de Levis, Mr. Angers' organ to say:

"The question is to know whether Messrs. Caron and Ouimet were the recipients of propositions more or less shady, more or less honorable, and of such a nature that the authors did not dare to make them to Mr. Angers. These pledges of certain Ministers, which have been carefully concealed, are worthless. They cannot be compared to a promise loyally and publicly made. They have, moreover, a specially odious stamp, they partake of the character of an ambush and smell of treachery. Those were certainly right who paid homage to the character of Mr. Angers by restraining themselves from suggesting such childish bargains to him. But no one can fail to see another side to the question. Is not the fact that an arrangement which was proposed to two Ministers and concealed from the third, a proof that there has been treachery, either against Mr. Angers, if the proposition was considered honest, or against Messrs. Caron and Ouimet if the arrangement was not considered worthy of being submitted to Mr. Angers?"

That is the question from Mr. Angers' point of view. But for those who desire above all things that peace, harmony and mutual confidence should be maintained in this country, there is another and even more serious aspect to it.

It will be impossible to meet the views of everybody in the settlement of the Manitoba school difficulty. There must ever be differences of opinion. It is therefore highly important that all the people should be convinced at least that the men who will take action in the matter were sincere, and that they have honestly endeavored to comply with the law and with the dictates of justice. The prestige of sincerity, of courage, and of honor will be essential to secure the general acceptance of any measure which may be brought forward.

What prestige can the men have who resort to the tricks so vigorously denounced by the friends of Mr. Angers? How can they, after years of delay, equivocation and tergiversation, come forward and tell the people that their only ambition has been to render justice and to maintain the Constitution?

The Conservative Ministers have destroyed all confidence in their sincerity by their cheap trading, and any course that they may adopt will be considered by one section of the community as a mere attempt to pander to the prejudices of the other section, and as such it will arouse resistance and a dangerous agitation.

The Manitoba school question, like all questions of right and justice, must be settled by honest men, by men who can go among every group of our population and command the same degree of confidence. Prominent among these men stands the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier.

THE OPENING OF STREETS.

The city of Detroit is having troubles of its own over expropriations for opening new streets. As a remedy one of the aldermen of the City of the Straits proposes to levy the cost of these expropriations by special taxation laid over the whole city.

There is a very much more simple and effective remedy embodied in the common law of this province. Under this law, no man can sell a parcel of land without giving an adequate road to reach it. Land speculators, or any other person, can not expect to sell building lots unless they have a street frontage.

The City Council's sole duty is to regulate the width and grade of these streets, which are opened to give value to the property.

That the city should have been made to pay large sums of money for the opening of such streets as Wilton, Cedar, Pantaleon, Darling and Cuvillier is only one of the many proofs that municipal affairs have been administered without any regard to law, economy and justice.

THAT PROVINCIAL DEFICIT.

Since the Herald announced that the deficit in the provincial finances would this year exceed three hundred thousand dollars, Conservative newspapers have attempted in various way to discredit the statement. The latest of these denials comes from l'Evenement, the editor of which is in daily communion with the provincial Ministers. And this is how it reads t

"A Quebec despatch to the Herald of Montreal, says that this year the public accounts will show a deficit of $320,000 This statement may not be exact."

It does not take many such denials to make a confession.

Col. Denison, police magistrate, of Toronto, to defendant—"You say you are an American, sir. This country is for respectable people. Twenty-four hours to get back again, and don't let me catch you over here again."

Judge King, of Buffalo, to Canadian—"Dog-on it, why don't you Canucks stay at home? Twenty-four hours to skedaddle across or one year at hard labor. Only decent people are tolerated here."—Buffalo News.

Whether a man knows a jibboom from a balloon topsail or a sheet anchor from a port watch, he must assume an active interest in yachting for the next two weeks or be content to be distinctly "out of it." It has been noted that the men who talk the most about yachts during the cup races, and definitely assert that one boat or the other is bound to win for reasons that they explain, are as a rule not yachting men at all. They own yachting caps that they proudly wear up in the Catskills, where they spend their vacations, and occasionally they put them on for a trip to Coney Island. It is when the cup races are on that they glory most in these yachting caps. They go down on the excursion steamers, and, if luck is with them, they don't get seasick.

The young Duke of Marlborough made a creditable beginning in moving the address in the House of Lords in what every one will hope may be an illustrious political career. He is under twenty-four and looks younger than he is. He is the ninth duke of the line, and is an hereditary Prince of the Holy Roman Empire. He was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge, is a lieutenant of the Oxfordshire Yoemanry, and keeps himself free from the follies of the town. His mother is the Marchioness of Blandford, and he owes a good deal to the lady who became Lillian, Duchess of Marlborough. She spent large sums on the estates for his benefit, and it will be recollected that it was the young Duke who escorted her to the altar on the occasion of her recent marriage to Lord William Beresford.

The Hamburg-American Packet Company has just ordered the construction of an ocean behemoth of 20,000 tons capacity. This vessel is intended for freight service especially, but she will be provided with accommodations for 200 cabin and 1,500 steerage passengers. This is but another illustration of the fact that we are now living in an age of big things. The Great Eastern was regarded as too large for profitable use, but if she could have been provided with modern machinery she would undoubtedly have proved a much more profitable investment than her owners found her to be. Whether or not her dimensions will be outstripped is, of course, a matter entirely of conjecture. Naval architects are not agreed as to the capacity of ocean steamers that is most profitable, and it remains for investigation and experience to settle all questions as to the relative size and profit of the steamship of the future.

Capt. Sumner, of the U. S. cruiser Columbia, only did what many another usually cautious and vigilant man has done before him, when he took another's word for something that he ought to have seen to himself. The dock master at Southampton assured him that the dock was in the proper condition for the reception of the cruiser, and that the keel blocks and other supports for the bottom were sufficient and rightly placed. Unfortunately for the ship, and still more so for Capt. Sumner, the dock master misled him, for it turned out that the keel blocks were all wrong, and the ship was severely strained. Capt. Sumner has a most creditable record of 40 years in the navy, with hardly a demerit against him, and it is cause for universal regret that this serious lapse should occur to mar it. Why such men do such things is one of the unsolved mysteries. They contradict the habits of a lifetime, and are unexplainable by ordinary hypothesis. The court-martial will undoubtedly find Sumner guilty of neglect, and some sort of a punishment will be visited upon him.

A New York policeman who entered a New York resort and made a bet on a horse race, subsequently laying a charge of keeping a gambling resort against the owner of the place, now finds himself charged with inciting to crime. In holding him for the grand jury Justice Tighe said:

"The law does not recognize the police department, nor does it give the members any special privileges. A crime is a crime, and that is all there is about it, and it is a crime to induce another to commit a felony. This officer admitted that he had done so, and there was nothing for me to do but to hold him. If a policeman should give a man a pistol and tell him to shoot another person in order to get evidence of a murder, that would be a crime, would it not? Well, this case is just on the same line.

"The intent of the law is not to increase crime, but to prevent it. This is no way to collect evidence, and long ago General Jourdan, while police commissioner, gave the force to understand this. It is not right, I tell you, to send out men to tempt others to commit crime. There are other ways to enforce the law, and if the lawbreakers are shrewd and hard to catch there should be a legitimate way to circumvent them."—Exchange.

CONDUIT PIPE BROKE.

Toronto's Water Supply Badly Contaminated.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—The conduit pipe across the bay went all to pieces this morning and the citizens of Toronto will have nothing now but diluted sewage, drawn from the middle of the bay and delivered through the city mains, for months to come. The pipe is in much worse condition than when it rose in the winter of 1892. It began to come to the surface in Blockhouse Bay about 8 o'clock this morning, and from that hour till half-past nine it kept rising in sections. At the hour stated two hundred feet of pipe rose to the surface directly opposite Hanlans Point, where the water is very low and particularly foul. The cause of the accident is not yet determined, but it is supposed to have been due to air getting into the pipe in consequence of the low water. The water is only about half pressure all over the city, and the health officer has notified the public of the necessity of boiling all water intended for domestic use. The opinion largely prevails that this will necessitate prompt and radical action being taken in improving the waterworks system.

INSURANCE SWINDLER.

Dr. Fraker Lodged in the Topeka Jail.

Topeka, Kansas, Sept. 4.—Dr. George W. Fraker, the famous insurance swindler, arrived here in charge of officers last night and was immediately put in jail. A curious throng met the party at the depot. He expressed himself as thoroughly glad to be near his old home again. Charges will be preferred against him to-day.

To a reporter that met the train in Iowa the doctor talked freely of his case.

His answers to questions, however, were given in an absent-minded way. He said he would have returned after his trip to Chicago, but he found himself in disgrace, the story of his disappearance having been published in the newspapers.

A Common Sense Suggestion.

For protection from the cold, nothing can equal a layer of Fibre Chamois through the coat, vest, cape or wrap of any kind. This interlining, made by an intricate process, furnishes a durable stiffness, and, at the same time its quality of being thoroughly impregnable to cold or damp air and wind makes it add more warmth to a garment than anything else could give. Its light weight is another feature which makes it specially suitable for children's clothing, where anything burdensome is objectionable. No better preventative can be found for the miserable between seasons cold so common to young and old, than the use of Fibre Chamois in clothing.

SCHOOL OF PEDAGOGY.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 5.—At a special meeting of the Board of Education, held on Sept. 3, the proposition of the Minister of Education for the transfer of the school of pedagogy from Toronto to Hamilton was agreed to. A site has been chosen on the Central School grounds for the erection of a new collegiate institute, in which the school of pedagogy will be accommodated, and the City Council will be asked for the necessary funds to go on with the work.

HIS EVERY STEP GUARDED.

Nihilists Plotting to Assassinate the Czar.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent at St. Petersburg confirms the statement recently published that in consequence of the activity of the Nihilists it has been found necessary to guard the Czar's every step as completely as the movements of his father, Alexander III., were guarded by the police at the most perilous periods of his reign. The Czarina, whose accouchement is expected in October, is suffering from extreme nervousness in consequence of the danger threatening the Czar.

Testimonial of Mr. Frappier, of Berard & Major, carriage makers, 1947 St. Catherine Street, city: I have used Polynice Oil on two different occasions. The first when I was suffering from rheumatism, which confined me to my room; the second time because I suffered from dyspepsia. Three applications of Polynice Oil, within twelve days, completely cured me. I am now perfectly well, and everyone can be the same by using Polynice Oil, for which I cannot find too much praise.

SISTER EDITH.

It was bitterly cold. The train for the north was crowded, and after trying in vain to find a seat in a second class carriage, Paula Morrison at last appealed to the guard, who showed her into a first class compartment.

On the seat opposite was an old gentleman, deep in the columns of a paper. Presently it was thrown aside and a letter withdrawn from a bundle in his pocket.

Bah! he thought, as he scanned the pages; the boy wishes to marry some beggarly governess, but I won't have it. I'll make him understand directly I get home that I will stand no nonsense of that kind.

"She is of as gentle birth as we."

Oh, I dare say. And so Edith said when she wanted to persuade us that that scamp Shortbridge was the best match she could make. Poor little woman, my father was a bit hard on her. I always regret I could not trace her after his death. I should have liked to have done something for the daughter, too.

"I wonder if that lawyer fellow really did all he could to trace them. I think I will put the investigation into Sharpe & Turnover's hands, and see if they cannot find a clew.

They sailed for South Africa in the autumn of 1875, soon after the girl was born. And that is about all I know.

At Grantham the old gentleman settled himself for a doze.

"Pretty girl that opposite," he thought to himself. "Sweet, plaintive face, looks as if she had known some trouble." Then he fell asleep, but awoke a few minutes later with a start.

He had been dreaming about his favorite sister Edith. They were again boy and girl together, and he had been on the visit to his grandfather, when the old gentleman had given him a spade guinea, "to be divided with his sister" on his return home.

Foolishly taking the words literally, he had with his fret-saw divided the coin; a good scolding from his father had brought the incident to a close.

And Sir Richard Culmore awoke from his dream of the long forgotten episode to see half a spade guinea dangling in front of his eyes.

The girl opposite to him was standing at the window, which was wide open, and the cold air rushing in brought in with it tiny flakes of snow.

Sir Richard realized that the sudden stopping of the train was probably what had aroused him. No station seemed to be near.

"Something wrong I fear," he said to the young lady.

Just then a guard passed and informed them that an engine had been sent back to Grantham to fetch the snow plough, as the drifts made it impossible to proceed. There was no danger, but a couple of hours must elapse before assistance could reach them.

"Humph," growled Sir Richard as he drew up the glass again. Well it might be worse. I hope there is no one at the other end of your journey who will be anxious about you," he said politely, "for it is impossible to telegraph from here."

"No no one," said Paula, with a little choke, which might be a sob or a sigh. I am on my way to a lady who does not yet know me; I am to be her companion, and the engagement has been made by correspondence. I dare say she will have sent to me at Ardath, but they will expect the train to be late on such a day."

"That is my station," said Sir Richard. "Is it possible that I am talking to Miss Morrison, who is coming to be my wife's companion?"

"Yes; and I suppose you are Sir Richard Culmore?"

He nodded. The half guinea which had been before his eyes when he awoke, and which he had thought was only part of his dream, again showed under Miss Morrison's jacket as it hung from her little silver watch chain.

"I am going to begin our acquaintance by asking you a very strange question," he said. "Will you tell me where you got that half spade guinea?"

"It was my mother's," said Paula, and her eyes clouded with unshed tears. "I found it among her trinkets when she died. I do not know its history, except that her brother, whom she loved dearly, gave it to her."

"Would you care to hear its history?" asked Sir Richard, his breath coming a little quicker with the excitement of his discovery. "I am the brother who gave her that half coin. See, here is the other portion."

He took his niece's hand in his, and Paula knew that the long struggle against poverty, which she had fought since her parents' death, was over.

Then Paula had to tell of the happy home she dimly remembered at the Cape, and of her father's death, then of her mother's troubles, and of the journey back to England under an assumed name, so that knowledge of their poverty might not reach the ears of those who had cast her off.

She did not tell Sir Richard of the romance which had brightened her life at Southsea; how the love of Clement Devereux, who was stationed with his regiment at Portsmouth, had crept into her life, and it was a surprise indeed to Paula when the train at last came into Ardath that Clement should greet Sir Richard as step-father, and to Sir Richard that in this newly-found niece he should find his son's betrothed wife.—London Evening News.

RECIPES.

Liver Rolls.—Take one pound of calves' liver and cut into thin slices. Cover with boiling water and let stand five minutes; take it out of the water and wipe dry. Cut one-fourth pound of bacon into thin slices and again into pieces about two inches long and one inch wide. Put one piece of bacon on a slice of the liver, then roll it up and tie tightly with twine, and so continue, making one roll of each piece of liver. Dredge these thickly with flour. Put the remainder of the bacon in a frying pan, and try out all the fat. Brown the rolls in this fat, and then put them in a stew pan. Add one tablespoonful of flour to the fat remaining in the frying pan, mix and add one pint of water or stock; stew constantly until it boils, and pour it over the rolls; add one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one tablespoonful of salt, one small onion, one bay leaf and a sprig of parsley. Cover and let simmer gently one hour. When done dish the rolls, remove the strings. Strain sauce over and around them.

Haricot of Mutton.—Put a tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan, and when very hot fry two pounds of thin chops, brown on both sides; take them up and add the flour to the butter remaining in the pan; mix and add one-half pint of stock or water; stir constantly until it boils. Then put the chops back, add two onions cut in slices, salt and pepper, a stalk of celery cut into small pieces, and a tablespoonful of mushroom catsup. Stand over a slow fire to simmer for three-quarters of an hour. Cut one carrot and a turnip into slices, then into fancy shapes with a vegetable cutter; cover them with boiling water; boil ten minutes; drain and add them, with the bay leaf, to the meat, and allow them to simmer with the meat the full time it is cooking; when done add one tablespoonful of sherry, if you use it, and serve very hot. Garnish dish with parsley.

Chicken a la Marengo.—Clean and cut up a young chicken as for fricassee. Put two tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a frying pan and place over a good fire; when hot put in the chicken, and turn and cook until every piece is nicely browned, then add a sprig of parsley, a bay leaf, one slice of onion a half-teaspoonful of salt, a quarter-teaspoon of black pepper, and five mushrooms chopped fine. Stand over a moderate fire and cook slowly until tender, about three-quarters of an hour. Dish and serve with cream sauce.

Apple Charlotte.—Pare and stew six large apples until tender, then press them through a colander and add the sugar. Cover one-half box of gelatine with cold water and soak a half-hour, then add it to the hot apples; stir until dissolved. Now pour this into a tin basin, stand the basin a pan of ice water, and stir continually until the mixture begins to thicken, then add quickly and carefully a pint of whipped cream. Turn in a fancy pudding mould and stand in a cool place to harden. This will serve eight persons.

REAL ESTATE OWNERS

Adopt a Number of Motions for Clearing the Civic Atmosphere.

A meeting of the Real Estate Owner's Association was held last night in the Monument National, Mr. Joel Leduc presiding.

It was moved by Mr. A. N. Foster, seconded by Mr. A. Levesque, that the expropriations for the year 1895 be suspended, and be only effected in so far as the city will not be called upon to contribute one-half of the cost.

Mr. Foster said that the plan would stop all expropriations, as people would not want their properties taken if the city were not obliged to pay half the cost.

It was moved also by Mr. L. Michon, seconded by Mr. F. X. Bessette, that a committee, composed of Messrs. Nolan de Lisle, J. Barry, J. Kane and O. Hart, be formed to organize and raise funds for the coming elections so as to prevent certain aldermen from being re-elected. This motion, as well as the preceding, was carried.

Mr. F. X. Bessette, seconded by Mr. L. Michon, moved that the editors of the city newspapers be asked to co-operate with the association and to form publice opinion so that the administration of municipal affairs may be thereby ameliorated. This motion also carried. Messrs. N. deLisle, F. X. Bessette and O. Hart were appointed a committee, with power to add to their number, to interview the editors.

It was also moved by Mr. A. Carmel, seconded by Mr. J. Kane, that a demand be made upon the City Council to form a committee, which would confer with the Real Estate Owner's Association in regard to amendments to the city charter, and thus facilitate the work to be done before the Legislature at the next session. This was carried.

Mr. Lucien Huot moved, seconded by Mr. Major, that the City Council allow two accountants to be appointed to examine the books of the city and to see if the accounts are correct, said accountants to be paid by the citizens. This motion was carried unanimously.

The meeting then rose.

Drowned in a Cistern.

Burford, Ont., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Whitman, an aged and well-known lady living at Mt. Vernon, was drowned in a water cistern at her residence this morning. It is supposed that she went to get water and the pump not working she attempted to raise the water with the bucket, and losing her balance fell in. When she was found about 15 minutes afterwards life was extinct.

Broke His Neck.

Stayner, Ont., Sept. 5.—A sad accident happened on the farm of Thos. Capill yesterday, through which his son Patrick lost his life. He was driving a load of hay, when he slipped and fell from the top, breaking his neck.

STANLEY'S MISSION

THE GREAT AFRICAN EXPLORER COMING TO CANADA.

He is Credited With Promoting a Big Emigration Scheme.

London, Sept. 5.—Henry M. Stanley sailed in the steamship Majestic yesterday for New York.

The World representative called at Mr. Stanley's London residence to ascertain the object of his trip, but found that, in anticipation of all such enquiries, Mr. Stanley had left instructions that he had no communication to make.

The World representative thereupon despatched a note to Mr. Stanley, requesting an interview, and received the following reply:

"I have decided objections to being interviewed. I have nothing to say or do that concerns the public. I am simply going over to Canada and British Columbia for my health and to see what may be seen in the new land.

Mrs. Stanley, who is in Switzerland, does not accompany her husband, whose tour will extend two months.

When the news of Stanley's voyage reached the lobby of the House of Commons it was surmised immediately that he was in all probability concerned in behalf of the King of the Belgians, to whom he recently paid a visit at Ostend, in the promotion of a big emigration project to Canada.

The Queen's Hotel.

A meeting of the creditors of the Queen's Hotel Co. was held yesterday in the long room of the Mechanics' Institute. Those present were: Messrs. J. H. Hutchinson, president; R. Reid, vice-president; D. Kueen, director, and F. W. Radford, secretary.

The financial condition of the hotel under new management for the past eight months was considered thoroughly satisfactory. However, the creditors had no proposition to offer, other than the sale of the house, already advertised. It was the general opinion that if the house was permitted to run for a reasonable period, under present management, all obligations would be met. The directors will meet at 3 p.m. to-day.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner McMahon held an inquest yesterday afternoon at the morgue on the body of the little girl Rosa Beteau, killed by a G.T.R. engine yesterday morning at Point St. Charles. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, imputing blame to no one.

Coroner McMahon held an inquest last evening at the Royal Victoria Hospital on the body of a young man named John Graham. The deceased was admitted a patient on the 13th of August last and on the 23rd of the same month he accidentally fell down the elevator shaft and received serious injuries to his head, from which he died yesterday morning. The jury found that deceased came to his death accidentally, but blamed the orderly, though not criminally, for having neglected to close the elevator door.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FINANCIAL.

Thursday, Sept. 5.

The stock exchange decided to hold only one session to-day. This was on account of the members having been invited to a reception at Dorval given by Mr. G. W. Hamilton, vice-president of the exchange, in his capacity of commodore of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, assisted by Mrs. Hamilton.

During the forenoon business was fairly brisk, the feature being an advance in Gas stock to 208¾, as compared with 207 at the close yesterday. Pacific, too, was a quarter to a half point higher, while Montreal Street Railway and Toronto Railway were steady, the latter being fractionally lower than yesterday. There was no particular change to report in the balance of the list. The first sale of Wabash preferred noted in many months occurred this morning, 25 shares changing hands at 25. This sale was doubtless induced by the publication of the Wabash annual report, which has been summarized in a previous issue of the Herald. In bank stocks there was very little doing, while in bonds a sale of $3,000 Colored Cotton was made at 99¾. Money is very easy, and we hear of some round lots being borrowed this morning at 4 per cent., some of the banks, however, are still charging 4½ per cent. money on call.

The highest, lowest and closing prices, total sales and net changes from yesterday's closing prices for actual sales in the local market were as follows:

MORNING BOARD.

ALTON CLERK'S SEAT SOLD.

During this morning's session of the local stock exchange the sale of the seat of the late Alton F. Clerk, which was postponed from last Friday on account of his tragic death, took place. The price realized was $3,300, the purchaser being Mr. A. T. Paterson, of the firm of MacDougall Bros.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

J. S. Bache & Co., New York, wire their local manager, C. D. Monk, as follows:

Make St. Louis South Western, fourth week August, decrease $8,900.

Erie for June 30 quarter shows a deficit of $62,624, against a deficit of $318,910 in 1894 and a surplus of $312,333 in 1893, same periods.

We have good authority for stating that the Standard Oil people have been largest sellers of St. Paul from 73 up and that some thousands of shares will be delivered bearing the names of officials of that corporation.

The meeting to act on the American Sugar Co.'s divident will be held to-morrow if a quorum can be secured. The regular dividend will be declared.

The market has been sold by traders on the appearance of realizing and on reports that the gold exports on Saturday will be $2,000,000. This is about what the gold exporting houses expect will go.

$50,000 gold has been withdrawn from the sub-treasury for shipment to Canada.

Pacific Mail for July, net increase $3,871; for three months ending July 31, net decrease, $4,039; reserve fund for extraordinary repairs to steamers, $31,500; balance, $179,725; equals on stock, .898 per cent.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Evening Post's financial article says: Realizing sales were rather heavier to-day in several quarters. The London houses figured as specially active sellers at the start; yet, curiously enough, the early foreign quotations gave littl eprofit on arbitrage account and the London market for "Americans" was not at all demoralized. Taking the market as a whole, the course of prices was very much confused. European specialties, including the Anthracite and Granger stocks, went lower. In coal shares the decline was sharp, though the reaction in the bonds for these properties was comparatively slight. Exactly what this meant was by no means clear. No news regarding the coal trade situation was produced, except some information which was a week or more out of date. The inference would naturally be that yesterday's advance in the coal stocks was at least premature. In the latter trading there was some not unnatural selling by the smaller professional holders of securities, as a result of the unexplained early weakness, closing was generally weak, though a few stocks showed net advances for the day. There was an almost complete absence to-day of noteworthy financial news. The foreign bank statements showed heavy transfers of gold this week from Paris to London; no doubt the beginning of a second chapter in the Chinese indemnity episode. To-day's treasury balances, covering actual results of Tuesday, showed the gold reserve below $100,000,000. To-morrow's returns, however, will show it higher.

THE LONDON SITUATION.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Evening Post's special London cablegram says: The coin and bullion in the Bank of England increased only £373,000 this week, although £712,000 was received from abroad for balance, details being £551,000 in bars and United States coin; £211,000 from Australia and the rest from Paris. On the other hand, £50,000 was taken out for the Cape. A fresh outburst of speculation in the mining market has diverted attention from Americans, and business in them has slackened. The tone, however, is still good, with Reading issues in special request. The Pacific stocks remain dull. The German expert sent out to report on the West Australia gold fields is said to have made a glowing report on the Hannans district, and great excitement has been aroused in consequence.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

TICKER GOSSIP FROM R. MEREDITH.

Plenty of excuses are offered for the speculative plunges in the low-priced stocks. Firstly, many commission houses which do not dare conscientiously to advise the purchase of the high priced issues say in substance to their customers: If you must buy, take something that has not gone up 20 per cent., and that has a small distance to fall, and a large opportunity to rise if unprecedented prosperity is to be enjoyed. Pacific Mail booms because Mr. Huntington is known to have discussed the question of declaring a dividend with some of his directors, and because the relations with the Panama Railroad are believed to be capable of early settlement whenever all personal interests are placated. Confident predictions of an advance in Flint and Pere Marquette are made because it is known the Monros and Toledo Railroad project will be pushed through, effecting an alliance with Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo. Denver and Rio Grande is strong for the reason that the great gold production of Colorado is making up for the depression in silver production. The great activity in the railroad bond market of late has also taken a speculative direction, the heaviest purchases being made of comparatively low-priced bonds which ought to reap the benefit of the sentiment by chea money. Even the conservative and experienced brokers who shake their heads significantly when present prices are discussed admit that Wall Street often presents the spectacle of rampant speculations, oblivious to conditions or an ominous signs of the future.

Thursday, Sept. 5.

J. S. Bache & Co.'s Chicago letter said:

Wheat opened unchanged to 1-4c lower, broke to 59 1-4c for December, rallied irregularly 1 1-2c per bushel, and closed 5-8c higher than yesterday at the outside figure of the day. The movement of the new crop shows that winter wheat sections are drawing heavily on the Northwest for current supplies, and that the only heavy arrivals are at the milling points, whence the largest shipments of flour are made. The Cincinnati Price Current reported farmers' deliveries light in Central states, no indications of important increase, and interior millers absorbing about everything offered. Cables, following break of yesterday, were lower, but the firmer tone in domestic markets proved to be the controlling influence of the day, and the market at the close gave indications of a further rally.

Corn made a new low record on the old and new crops, but recovered, closed about unchanged from last night's values. Th eimpression is gaining ground that May, 1896, corn is not far from bottom figures for the present.

Provisions were firmer owing to light receipts.

Hogs—Higher prices were received for them, and moderate purchases of October product by the leading city packers.

The estimated receipts for to-morrow in Chicago by cars are as follows: Wheat 80, corn 450, oats 225; hogs 12,000 head.

To-day's receipts by cars in Chicago were: Wheat 78, contract 29; corn 342, contract 199; oats 162, contract 350; hogs 14,000 head.

Liverpool, Sept. 5, 4.15 p.m.—Wheat—Spot dull; demand poor; No. 2 red winter, 4s 11d; No. 2 red spring, 5s 1 1-2d; No. 1 hard Manitoba, 5s 2 1-2d; No. 1 California, 5s; futures opened quiet with near and distant positions 3-4d lower; closed easy, with near and distant positions 1 1-4d lower; business about equally distributed; September and October, 4s 11d; November, 4s 11 1-2d; December, 5s; January, 5s 1-2d; February, 5s 1 1-4d. Corn—Spot dull; American mixed, new, 3s 7d; futures opened quiet, with near positons 1d lower, and distant positions 1 1-4d lower; closed quiet, with near positions 1 1-4d lower and distant positions 1d lower; business about equally distributed; September, 3s 6 1-4d; October, 3s 5 3-4d; November, 3s 6d; December, 3s 6 1-4d; January, 3s 4 1-2d; February, 3s 3 1-4d. Flour—Firm; demand fair; freely supplied; St. Louis fancy winter, 7s. Peas—Canadian, 4s 11d.

Chicago special: The Thoman crop report, published in the Prairie Farmer, shows condition of corn 90 against a condition last year of 65. The yield will be light in some districts but heavy in others, and it is safe to assume a final product exceeding any previous crop by 100 million bushels or more. Condition of all wheat shows some improvement. Thrashing so far as done points to a crop about 25 million bushels larger than was expected earlier in the season. Condition of oats practically unchanged, standing 81.6.

According to the Chicago Trade Bulletin, interior grain shippers and Chicago receivers of grain are endeavoring to adopt an independent system for weighing grain at public and private elevators at Chicago. Considerable grain is now being consigned to Chicago with the understanding that it must be weighed by the weighmaster of the Chicago Board of Trade, and the Receivers' and Shippers' Association request shippers to consign their grain under such instructions. Most of the elevator proprietors are understood to agree to an independent weighing, but the main dispute now is understood to be the payment of the expenses incurred. If a satisfactory arrangement can be reached, the responsibility for weights will be removed from interior shppers, receivers and warehousemen.

Indian exports of wheat last week were 392,000 bush., making 12,289,000 bush. since April 1, 1895, against 7,148,000 bush. the preceding year, increase 5,132,000 bush.

PRODUCE AND PROVISIONS.

Cheese—The public cable to-day states that the quotation is unchanged at 37s 6d, which is a decline of 6d on Tuesday's quotation. A private cable received by a prominent local firm says that the English market is extremely dull and quiet, and business cannot be transacted at our quotations. The trade on spot exhibits no marked change, and certainly no improvement is at present manifesting itself, and it is difficult to say what position the market is going to take up. A sale of 5,000 boxes Allan Grove combination first half of August make has taken place on private terms. A sale of 3,500 boxes of this make was reported at 7 1-2c, but this was erroneous, as the price paid has been kept strictly private. For finest Ontario makes 7 1-2c is about the quotation, and from 7 1-4c to 7 3-8c is quoted for Quebec, while Townships is quoted at 7 3-8c.

The London Grocer of August 24 has the following significant report upon the Great Chester Cheese Fair: "The Fair on Wednesday was one of the largest and also the most disastrous to farmers ever held in Chester. The pitch was at least thirty tons more than at the corresponding fair last year, being estimated at 85 to 90 tons. There was a moderate attendance of buyers, but several of the leading buyers from Manchester firms were absent. Upon making some inquiry as to the cause of their absence, we were told that they preferred keeping away rather than run any risk of being tempted to buy. The Fair opened at the usual time, and for some minutes there was little or no sign of any business being done. The finest lots just now attracted some little attention, and found purchasers at prices from 45s to 50s. Two lots in the Fair made over the latter quotation. Medium met a slow sale at prices from 37s to 44s, common from 30s to 36s, while many lots had to be cleared or left unsold at prices down to 20s. One factor claimed the credit of beating the record, having bought five lots of cheese, and the highest price he had given was 25s per cwt. Reports of corresponding fairs in previous years: 1894 pitch 60 tons, prices 33s to 55s—one lot, 62s; 1893, pitch 70 tons, prices 38s to 61s; 1892 pitch 70 tons, prices 42s to 66s; 1890 I note the pitch was 75 to 80 tons, while the prices were 38s to 68s 6d per cwt. The above reports clearly show that the Chesire cheese trade is approaching a crisis, and that, unless something can be done to increase the consumption among the working classes, dairy farming, so far as a profitable industry is concerned, will soon be played out."

Brockville, Sept. 5.—No sales on the board, as the salesmen would not accept 7 1-4c for white or colored. The offering was 2,617 white and 1,336 colored.

Chesterville, Ont., Sept. 5.—At the Chesterville Cheese Board to-night 977 boxes cheese were offered; 607 were colored, balance white; 7 1-8 c was offered; nosales.

Liverpool, Sept. 5.—Cheese—Dull, demand poor. Finest American white, new, 37s; finest American, colored, 38s. Butter—Finest United States, 70s; good, 60s.

Kingston, Sept. 5.—At a meeting of the cheese board here to-day, offerings were 14,011 boxes; 7 3-8c were bid. No sales.

Butter—The demand for butter still remains dull, and 17 1-2 is about the price that creamery is now fetching, although in some instances it is being quoted at 17 1-2c. Other kinds are featureless and unchanged, Townships being quoted at 14c to 14 1-2c, while western is quoted at 12c to 13 1-2c.

Eggs—We hear of no improvement in the egg market locally, candled stocks fetching 11 1-2c for lots and 12 1-2c for single cases, while common sorts are quoted at 9 1-2c to 10c. A fair jobbing business continues to be reported.

Provisions—A fair business is still being done in provisions, and prices generally are well maintained, as follows:

Canada short cut mess, per brl	$17.00 to $17.50
Canada short cut clear	15.50 to 16.00
Beef, extra mess, per brl	00.00 to 00.00

HEARD ON 'CHANGE.

"We are doing a little," said a prominent grain exporter, "but, taken as a whole, business is very dull. We look for an improvement, however, from now until the close of navigation."

Some degree of interest was excited by a discussion among a small group of millers and grainmen as to the merits of old and new flour. The general consensus of opinion was included in the expression of one authority, who said: "New flour is not nearly so good as old for making bread. It will be all right in a month or so, but the wheat should be kept for that length of time, at least, before being ground."

B. Hugman & Sons, 1792 Notre Dame Street.

The following gentlemen were introduced on 'Change to-day: James Stephenson, London, by E. McLennan; Wm. Barrett, Walkerton, by F. C. A. McIndoe; and P. Blake, Detroit, by Hon. James McShane.

A meeting of the Shoe and Leather Association was called for this afternoon. The business was private, and said to be chiefly routine.

The Cincinnati Price Curent crop report gave very little news to-day. It said: "Nothing notably new in the crop situation. Wheat deliveries very light in central regions, and no positive indication of important increase. Interior millers are absorbing most of the offerings. The corn crop in various sections is believed to be somewhat benefited by recent rains, but important improvement is problematical."

The news from Chicago to-day was a little more bullish than usual. The advance that was noted in wheat was said to be on buying of wheat by shorts.

A late despatch from Walker, of Chicago, to a local broker said: "The wheat market is certainly finding better support to-day than at any time within a month past."

The Winnipeg Commercial makes the following correction: "We stated in our market report last week that no new wheat had been offered in the Winnipeg market. This was a mistake. We learn since that one small load was brought in on Friday, August 23, by A. S. Friesen, a Mennonite farmer from Steinbach. It was taken to the Hudson Bay Co.'s mill, where it was purchased. The sample was a splendid No. 1 hard. The Hudson's Bay mill has, therefore, the honor of receiving the first wheat offered in the local market."

U. S. CROP REPORT.

The official U. S. crop report is as follows: The week has been generally favorable for maturing and securing crops and for plowing and seeding.

Late corn has experienced a general improvement in the principal corn States and is maturing rapidly. In portions of South Dakota and Wisconsin, however, the frost of Saturday caused some injury. In Minnesota the crop is reported to have escaped injury from frost. In Iowa the greater part of the crop is ready for cutting, which will soon be general elsewhere.

Cotton picking is now quite general over the southern portion of the cotton region, and will commence in the northern portion next week. Complaints of rust and shedding continue from Georgia and Alabama, and the condition of the crop in Arkansas is less favorable than previously reported. Cotton has improved in North Carolina, and late cotton has been improved in Texas by recent rains, which, however, have been unfavorable for the early crop. In Tennessee cotton is suffering from drought.

Much tobacco has been cut and housed under favorable weather conditions during the week. In Maryland and Virginia tobacco has suffered much from drought.

Frosts were general on Saturday and Sunday from Montana eastward to Michigan.

LIVE STOCK.

Thursday, Sept. 5.

The Point St. Charles cattle market made an exceedingly bad showing to-day, and many animals remaining unsold when when the market closed. The glut is more, however, on account of lack of space for the exports than from other causes. It, of course, throws a quantity of cattle into the butcher market that would otherwise cross the water. Export cattle ran from 3 1-4c to 3 3-4c; best butchers' stock, 2 5-8c to 3 1-4. Inferior could hardly sell at any price, but a few lots sold from 2c to 2 1-4c. Sheep were slow selling at 3 1-2c. Lambs, glutted, selling at from 3c to 3 1-2c. Several inferior quality sold at $1.25 each, and the best only brought $3.75 in the scale.

At the East End Abbatoir to-day there was a fairly good supply of cattle, but the demand was dull. Prices were practically unchanged from Monday, Manitoba cattle realizing 4c per lb., while butchers' cattle was fetching 3 3-4c. Some good stock sold at 3 1-4c to 3 5-8c in dry cows, and young cattle at from 2 1-2c to 3c. There was a good supply of calves, and good lambs were fetching fairly remunerative prices.

"Mr. Munro, of Gilchrist & Munro, live stock shipping agents, Montreal, arrived in Winnipeg on Monday with a train load of yearling and two-year-old steers. The animals were purchased in Ontario and will be taken to the Cochrane ranch in Alberta, where they will be fitted for market.

"Mr. Howey, of Burchill & Howey, Brandon, has gone west to make up another train load of cattle for export. This firm is exporting cattle from the interior ranges of British Columbia, the first train load having passed through Winnipeg last week."—Commercial.

WHEAT IN MANITOBA.

According to the Winnipeg Commercial a little new wheat is marketing at some Manitoba points in the Red River Valley mostly and is all going into store, there being no purchases. The new crop shows a good sample. Samples from the Gretna region have a dark, bleached appearance, and from points west of Brandon some samples damaged by frost have been shown. There are about 1,000,000 bushels of old Manitoba wheat held at our lake ports and west, and millers are well supplied, so they are not anxious buyers of new wheat. Prices are normal. In Ontario new wheat is selling in country markets at 60c to 65c. New wheat in Manitoba, based on export values, is worth not more than 50c per bushel on track at country points, average freight rates, for No. 1 hard. There is no buying, however, to establish prices. Last year a few cars were moving the third week in August. Freight rates, Duluth to Buffalo, early September shipment, are quoted at 3¼c per bushel for wheat. One car of new wheat was graded at Winnipeg this week, No. 1 hard, from Gretna. It was the same we reported last week as having been loaded at Gretna, for shipment by the Lake of the Woods Milling Co.

WHERE MEN ARE RUINED

"Skin" Gambler Crawford's Dive

VISITED BY THE HERALD.

Sherbrooke Street Has the Honor of Its Presence.

A CROOKED GAMBLER'S CAREER.

Thousands Won and Lost—"Money" the Pass Word—Roulette the Great Game—Who is the Man with the White Hat?

Henry Brassard, trader, is, according to the Montreal Street Directory, the man who occupies residence No. 526 Sherbrooke Street. In reality Brassard has nothing whatever to do with the house, beyond perhaps being a paid servant of the real occupant.

The proprietor of the place is none other than Charles C. Crawford, better knows as "Long Charlie," the "skin" gambler and faro dealer of Montreal and Toronto.

The house is situated on the corner of St. Dominique and Sherbrooke Streets, Montreal's pet residential thoroughfare, and right opposite to it is the convent of the Good Shepherd.

Within its walls for the past five or six months there have been scenes of the wildest description that the gamblers of Montreal have ever known.

Within its walls men have been ruined, and only a few nights ago a well known merchant went to his home financially wrecked, heartbroken and on the verge of suicide.

Within its walls the man who is in charge admitted that they had cleared about $3,900 last week.

Within its walls at an early hour on Sunday morning, while the people were passing its doors on the way to mass, a disgraceful row took place, the result of a high and strong game played at the roulette wheel.

Within its walls but a few nights ago the devotees of the roulette, faro and poker table sat and laughed themselves sore at the reports in the newspapers to the effect that the Attorney-General's representative in Montreal had said the city was now free from gambling.

It is not Maloney this time.

To the authorities it would appear that Maloney was the sole proprietor and manager of every poker, faro, crap and roulette wheel that Montreal ever knew. To the authorities Maloney appeared to be the only man who could possibly be responsible for any gambling in Montreal. It was Maloney did this, Maloney did that, until Maloney's places were closed up and the field left clear to "Long Charlie" Crawford and those citizens who have an understanding with him. Ever since Maloney's practically public gaming-house at 22 St. Lawrence Street was closed up two years ago gambling of a private nature has been going on until scores of men have been ruined and Crawford and his allies have become comparatively rich. Maloney is not responsible for the ruin of a young banker not far from Montreal; Maloney is not responsible for the training of a young man who went into Crawford's den an innocent youth and came out of it three or four days ago a hardened gambler.

INSIDE THE HOUSE.

It is extremely difficult to get into this house unless you have the one password—money.

The clique of 50 or 60 men who are known, and whose names the Herald representative took good care to secure before writing a line about the den, are not at all particular about admitting new men into the fold, providing there is some reason for belief that he will not "squeal" and that he has a fat roll of money in his inside pocket. The game generally opens about half-past 9 or 10 o'clock at night.

When the Herald representative got a peep at it it was shortly after 11 o'clock. One of Montreal's prominent merchants sat in an easy chair, evidently disappointed that someone had not arrived. Then he arose and went to the telephone.—Oh, yes, they have a telephone. This prince of Montreal gambling houses is nothing if not up to date. The telephone is right there and in the name of Chas. C. Crawford, No. 7262.

Calling up one club after another (and the best clubs in the city, too) the gentleman referred to said "hello, is that you? You know who's talking, don't you? Well, I'm here. Yes, Sherbrooke Street. Well now I can't stay after four o'clock, so come up as soon as you can. Are you going to bring 'His Nibbs' with you? All right, hurry up."

By twelve o'clock, or very shortly after, there was a collection of from 15 to 20 men. In the back parlor, a very handsomely fitted up room, is the roulette wheel. The chips are $1 each. You can buy five, ten, twenty, fifty dollars' worth—whatever you have a mind to. The average purchase is $50. In the front parlor are handsome poker tables and chiffonieres—upon the latter choice wines, spirits and cigars. If a man is in hard luck he orders a bottle of wine and buys another $25 worth of chips. The chances are that he has several other bottles of wine, but he seldom has anythings left with which to buy more chips, and as the wine is not directly charged for he drinks heavily. Of course, occasionally men, and well-known men, too, win big sums of money in this Sherbrooke Street gaming house. It is not three weeks ago since a man carried $2,600 in winnings out of it.

Who has to pay such sums as that?

The man who has a couple of hundred dollars in his pocket and who is determined to pay a visit to Crawford's gambling den would act wisely if he ewre to go to the entrance, stick the bills under the door, ring the beel, tell Mr. Crawford the money was there, and then go home at 11 o'clock and save the curtain lecture that would have been his portion had he arrived home at 5 o'clock in the morning, after gradually dwindling his money away on the roulette wheel.

CRAWFORD'S HISTORY.

Charles C. Crawford is probably the oldest and best known gambler in Canada. He is in the neighborhood of 60 years of age, but occasionally looks somewhat older than this. He stands fully six feet high, and would, but for his thin pallid face, be a good-looking man. He is a dyspeptic, and this trouble with his stomach often means trouble for his friends, for he has a temper that is as hard to understand and regulate as that of a spoiled baby. He came to Montreal about 25 years ago, after being driven out of Toronto. Immediately on his arrival here he resumed his gambling practices, and during his residence in Montreal he has conducted at least a score of dives on the following streets: St. Denis, three on Craig Street, two on St. James Street, Sanguinet, St. Urbain, University, and lastly the one which for audacity and open defiance of the police beats all his previous efforts.

When he was running his University Street dive he had a partner in the person of a real estate man, who was putting up large sums of money. Finally one day Crawford sent for his partner and told him that a man came in the previous night and played the game with him (Crawford) and beat him out of the $8,000 which he (the real estate man) had put into the concern. "Who was the man," demanded the victim. "He was just a man with a white hat," replied Crawford, and beyond that would give no satisfaction. Other partners have lost money through "the man with the white hat."

DID THE AUTHORITIES KNOW?

So openly had this place been conducted; so prominent were its visitors; so high was its game; so great were the losses sustained there that the authorities whose duty it was to close it must have known of its existence. If the proprietors of the den are inclined to dispute what has just been written, let them say so and perhaps they could be afterwards convinced by the publication of the names of the two score or more frequenters whom the Herald have seen entering and leaving the place.

Nothing that is too bad can be said of it. The facts are as just written. It is not Maloney this time, it is "Long Charlie" Crawford, and it now remains to be seen what action will be taken.

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Amendments to the Constitution Adopted at London.

London, Ont., Sept. 5.—In the hour and a half at the disposal of the Trades and Labor Congress this morning it was decided that the election of officers be held to-morrow morning, and the following amendments to the constitution were adopted: The name of this organization shall be the Canadian Federation of Labor; its objects shall be to unite all the labor organizations of the Dominion so as to secure the repeal of existing laws, the enactment of new laws or amendments to the existing statutes in the interest of wage earners; to formulate and discuss all subjects pertinent to the cause of labor, and to further by every honorable means the welfare of the working classes. It shall form organizations in localities where none at present exist, connecting either local unions or assemblies of the Knights of Labor, but in no case shall any body of workingmen belonging to any trade or calling at present having an international or national union be granted a charter. In the event of the formation of an international or national union of the trade or calling so chartered, it will be the duty of the proper officers of the congress to see that the said union becomes a member of said international or national union. Unions so organized by this congress shall be known as "Federal Labor Unions," and shall hold regular meetings at least once a month for the purpose of strengthening and advancing the labor movement. The fee for charter shall be $5. The congress shall be composed of delegates duly elected and accredited from trade councils, central labor unions, trades unions, federal unions and district and local assemblies of the Knights of Labor and the executive of the Patrons of Industry in the Dominion of Canada.

This last clause was under discussion when carriages arrived to take the delegates for a drive about the city. Delegate St. Pierre, of Ottawa, provoked a spirited debate by moving an amendment to include the Socialist Labor party and Industrial Brotherhood. Some remarks which Mr. St. Pierre made reflecting upon the Patrons of Industry were quite sharply dealt with by several of the delegates, who displayed a warm feeling for the Patrons.

SHERBROOKE FAIR.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS DEPART WELL PLEASED WITH THEIR TRIP.

Another day of Good Horse Racing—The Driver of A.B. Ruled Off.

(Special to the Herald.)

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 5.—Sherbrooke may have played in hard luck this summer, but certainly everything has been wonderfully propitious for the fair. The grand stand was radiant with beauty and resplendent with costumes.

Premier Taillon, Hons. Speaker Leblanc and Nantel left for home this morning delighted with their visit. The Premier was so well pleased that he promised to increase the Government grant next year. Mr. Stevenson and his party were also very much pleased, and took away with them many pointers which they intend to use at their fair.

The banquet last night was a success. The attendance to-day is in excess of the same date last year.

The trotting races were again the great attraction. The track was in excellent condition. The driver of A .B. was ruled off for violation of the rules. The most exciting race of the day took place almost at the close. It was in the fourth heat of the 2.33 class. A. B., whose driver had been replaced by Mr. H. Ball, was awarded the heat after one of the hottest contested races ever witnessed on these grounds.

A WORK OF ART.

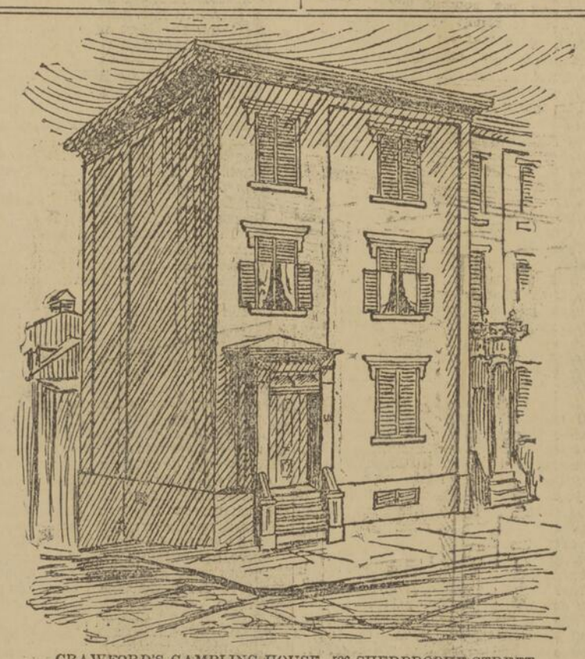

One of the finest exhibits on the grounds and one which is daily admired by great crowds is a tableau of a great master representing Joan of Arc tied to a stake to be burned alive.

The tableau, considerable in its dimensions, is a veritable work of art valued at $22,500. The subject of this painting is the execution of that heroine who shines with the nimbus of liberatrix of France and martyr and whom the church one day will place on her altars.

Admiration augments in face of the fact that the heroine who saved her country from the sceptre of an enemy is betrayed by her own, falls into the power of one who sells her to the English, but these latter not wishing to take upon themselves the odious responsibility of an assassination leave her to a tribunal of inquisition, who, after declaring her apostate, schismatic and heretic, abandon her to the executioner to be burned alive. It is this last act in the life of a heroine and a saint which the artist shows us.

The tableau 11 ft. x 13 ft. represents the large space of the old market at Rouen, the burning pile and the stake to which the martyr is tied, the people, the judges, the dignitaries of the church on special elevations, Bishop Cauchon and his assistant, Joan's confessor, etc. It is a most realistic scene which the artist puts before the eyes with a grandeur of conception, a unit of perfection and beauty incomparable.

The tableau will be on exhibition on the Montreal Exhibition grounds from Sept. 12 to 21.

CRAWFORD'S GAMBLING HOUSE, 526 SHERBROOKE STREET.

ART IN PHOTOGRAPHY.

Of the exhibits in the upper portion of the main building, which section is devoted to the display of works of art, the most noteworthy, and the exhibit which attracts the attention of all visitors, is that of W. B. Finley, now recognized as the leading photographer of Sherbrooke, and the Eastern Townships, for that matter. Mr. Finley opened not quite a year ago his studio here with the newest apparatus and with the determination to do the best class of work or none at all. Instead of adhering to the old plan followed by photographers generally, especially in small cities, Mr. Finley makes only high grade photographs, charges a proper price for them and gets it—which is the best evidence that such work is in demand and appreciated. The old-fashioned glass finished photographs, now practically a thing of the past, are not turned out from this studio. The dull finished Aristo Platino and Platinum papers are the only ones used. The use of these papers not only gives a handsomer finish to photographs, but permits of a perfection of detail which is impossible to obtain by the old method.

Mr. Finley's experience is but another evidence that anything properly done will meet with the success to which it is entitled. In the short time in which he has been in business here Mr. Finley has acquired the trade of all who appreciate the artistic. He is ably assisted in his work by Mr. W. O. Breckon.

THE MOFFATT STOVE EXHIBIT.

In addition to having one of the finest exhibits in the main building, the Moffatt Stove Co., Ltd., of Weston, Ont., near Toronto, are giving away the handsomest stove and range catalogue ever printed. The illustrations are all in half tone, hence are exact reproductions of their products. The stoves and ranges made by this company, both for heating and cooking purposes, are not only scientifically constructed, but are the handsomest stoves and ranges made in Canada. All the stoves are known as the "Pearl."

WHAT IS SAID OF THE FRONTENACS.

Visitors to the main building fully endorse the sentiments expressed below. The exhibits of Frontenac buggies and sleighs, shown by the Kingston Vehicle Company of Kingston, Ont., is acknowledged by everyone to be the finest ever seen here, and the company's sales in this section will unquestionably increase as a result.

Montrealers will have an opportunity of seeing the now famous Frontenac buggies and sleighs, as they will be exhibited there during the coming Montreal Exposition, as well as a line of high-class bicycles which the Kingston Vehicle Company also manufactures.
