

Move In Troops

Expect Trouble In Congo

By DAVID OANCIA Canadian Press Staff Writer

The firewalls are being put up in the heart of Africa in preparation for the June 30 independence of the Belgian Congo.

At least a few of the neighbors of the huge African territory feel the precautions are prudent because they fear the birth of the Congo republic will come with a bang.

Both Portugal and the territorial government in Northern Rhodesia are reported quietly moving troops into what they expect may become the troubled Congolese borderlands.

Portugal is worried that the nationalistic drive that is leading to Congolese self-government may spread like a bush fire to Angola, a colony of 4,000,000 on the continent's western shores. The Portuguese have shown no inclination to relinquish their hold on this region.

OTHER SOLDIERS Rhodesian troops have also been sent to the Congo's southern borders. Their task apparently is to cope with any disturbances that may spill over the frontier and to prevent any deterioration of the internal situation.

But the concern over this new nation's future spreads far beyond the limits of its territory.

There are many who are frankly sceptical that orderly federal rule can be achieved in the foreseeable future.

Authorities drew little comfort from recent events.

On Friday, the territory that becomes self-governing in two weeks still was without a government. No one party gained an over-all majority in the recent elections and attempts to form a broadly-based coalition have been fruitless.

Drives Tee Shot Into Everett Pond

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The eighth hole of Cherry Hills Golf Club isn't a water hole, but Wes Ellis Jr. managed to drive his tee shot into Everett Pond Friday.

Pond, a spectator watching the second round of the United States Open, happened to be there when Ellis' shot landed in his left hip pocket. The official ruling was that the ball could be removed and dropped without penalty. Ellis scored a par three.

Mass Riot Gathers Aid Quemoy—Ike

Denounces Chinese 'Tyranny'

TAIPEI (AP)—President Eisenhower today reaffirmed American determination to defend Quemoy against any Communist attack which seemed a prelude to invasion of Formosa.

Eisenhower personally assured Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of this only a few hours after Red Chinese guns raked Quemoy with a record breaking barrage of shells.

The U.S. leader earlier denounced Communist China as a brutal tyranny bent on enslaving hundreds of millions of mainland Chinese.

He pledged, before thousands of Nationalist Chinese hearing his visit to Formosa, that the United States would stand firm behind them in resisting any Red Chinese aggression.

"You may be assured that our continuing search for peaceful solutions to outstanding international problems does not reflect the slightest lessening of our determination to stand with you, and with all our free neighbors of the Pacific, against aggression."

As he spoke, the Chinese Communist gun that plastered the Nationalist offshore island of Quemoy Friday, were silent.

The record barrage against Quemoy killed seven persons and wounded 41 others.

Violent Thunderstorm Lashes E.T.

A barn was struck and destroyed by lightning in Upper Melbourne last night during violent thunderstorms that swept through most of the Eastern Townships.

The storm dropped hail in a few areas, and up to an inch of rain.

The Upper Melbourne barn, belonging to Fred Converse was hit about 7 p.m. In the subsequent fire, which spread to three adjoining silos, three calves and a quantity of automatic milking equipment were lost.

In Sherbrooke, drenching downpours backed up street sewers, causing flash flooding in low lying areas. On Wellington south of Aberdeen a stretch of the roadway was completely under water. Some Larabee Transport buses were re-routed at the height of the storm.

In Lennoxville there were several power failures and high winds ripped branches from trees.

Weather officials in Montreal described the storm as part of a "line of thundershowers" covering most of southwestern Quebec. They were expected to move off completely to the west today.

Call Eaton To US Strategists Seek Plan To End Arms Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. disarmament strategists today sought a plan for bridging part of the wide gap between the Western and Soviet proposals for ending the arms race.

Washington's intent was to find an area of common interest between the rival proposals and present this at Geneva in an effort to move away from the deadlock that has stymied the 10-nation disarmament conference.

The U.S. disarmament delegate, Frederick M. Eaton, was recalled from Geneva for consultations starting today and expected to continue into next week.

Secretary of State Christian Herter, due back from a vacation Sunday, was slated to take part in a strategy meeting Monday along with his disarmament advisers and representatives from interested agencies such as the Atomic Energy Commission, the defence department and the Central Intelligence Agency.

CO-ORDINATE PROPOSALS After he returns to Geneva next week, Eaton plans to coordinate the U.S. proposals with four Western allies before the plan is presented to the conference.

The allies were reported anxious to have a more forceful Western response than the turnaround given to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's revised disarmament offer.

Khrushchev, in a post summit announcement, called for doing away with atomic weapons delivery systems as a first disarmament step.

The West opposed Khrushchev's stipulation that all foreign bases be abolished at the same time. It questioned the practicality of achieving such a large amount of disarmament in one step and the effectiveness of the controls Khrushchev proposed.

The U.S. disarmament review reflected a feeling here that the Geneva talks, on the point of breakup following the summit collapse, now still have a course to run.

Demand Downfall Of Kishi

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese massing in the greatest demonstration in post-war history milled and snaked around Parliament tonight in a last ditch attempt to block this country's new military alliance with the United States.

Unofficial estimates put the total at 200,000. In addition to attacking the treaty, they demanded the downfall of Premier Nobusuke Kishi's pro-American government.

They poured into the centre of Tokyo by train, truck, street car, subway, bus on foot and by taxi to join a tremendous surge toward the white stone Parliament building.

Tension mounted as they zig-zagged through the streets waving giant red banners and chanting "Down with Kishi," "Crush the security pact."

POLICE READY Police were mobilized for action in the event of violence.

The demonstrators want Kishi to quit and dissolve Parliament before ratification of the pact automatically becomes final at a moment past midnight.

They sweated profusely under the hottest day of the year—81 degrees at mid-afternoon—as leaders whipped them up with constant reminders of Michiko Kamba. She is the 22-year-old university coed who was trampled to death last Wednesday as left-wing students battled police in the Diet grounds.

"Don't let her death be in vain," they shouted over their loud speaker cars.

Nearly 3,000 students and professors marched to the Parliament from Tokyo University after attending a funeral there for the girl, a student at the institution. Several thousand other students swarmed angrily to the building from memorial services at nearby Hibiyu Park.

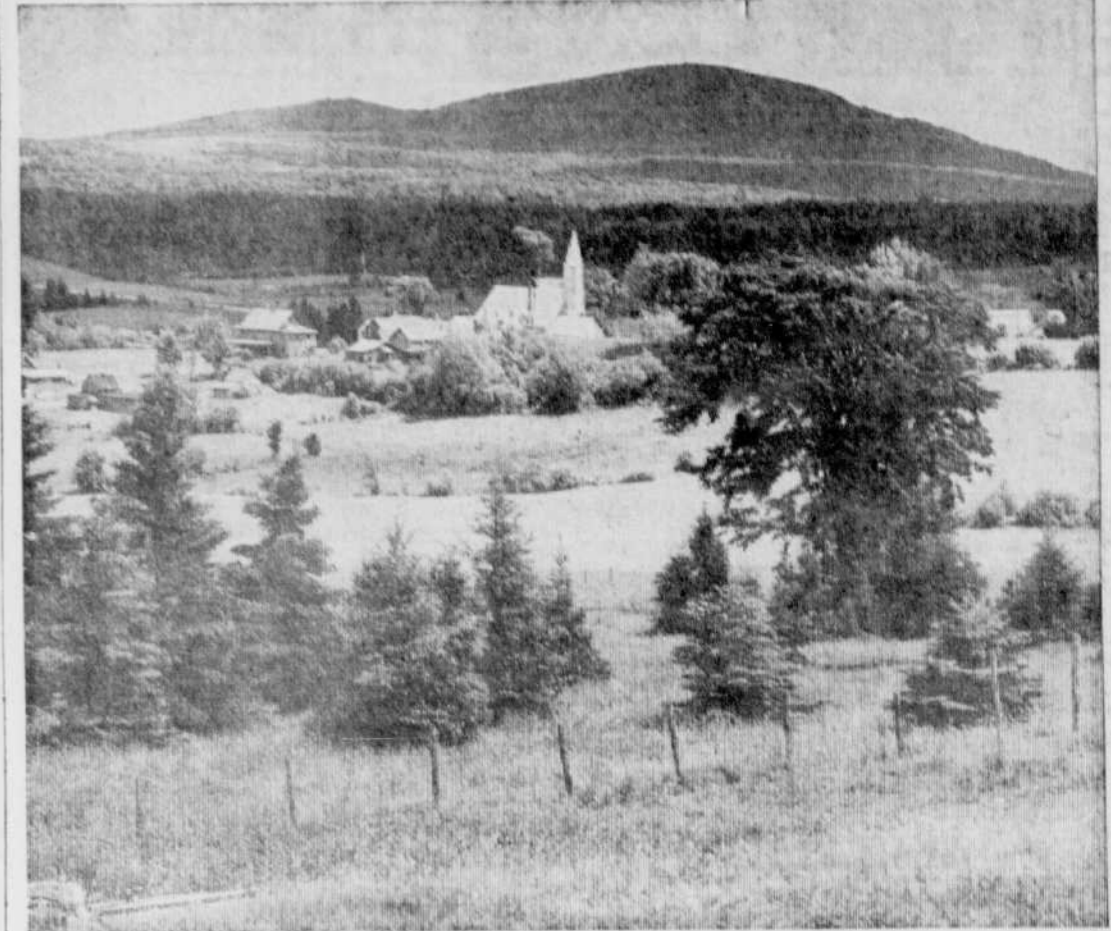

Police counted a total of 150,000 demonstrators in the area of the park and the Parliament at 3 p.m. Tokyo time.

To Rule On Divorce

OTTAWA (CP)—A ruling by Commons Speaker Roland Michener next week may set the course of Parliament's handling of divorce cases in the future.

Mr. Michener, a Rhodes scholar and Queen's Counsel, was presented with the neat legal question in the Commons just before its weekend adjournment Friday night, and reserved judgment.

Frank Howard (CCF—Skeena), a youthful trade unionist, proposed that the House end a divorce bill to the Supreme Court of Canada as a test case.

Lawyers in the Commons said it couldn't be done, but Mr. Howard read a section of the Supreme Court Act which appeared to say that it could be done.

RESERVES DECISION "The court or any two judges thereof shall examine and report upon any private bill or petition for a private bill presented to the Senate or House of Commons and referred to the court under any rules or orders made by the Senate or House of Commons," says section 56 of the Supreme Court Act.

Mr. Howard contended that a decision by the House to refer a bill to the Supreme Court constitutes an order of the House.

Mr. Michener, former provincial secretary of Ontario who studied law at the Inner Temple in London, and was called to the bar in 1923, said it was not a point of law on which he would

Has New Weapon For Church Bats

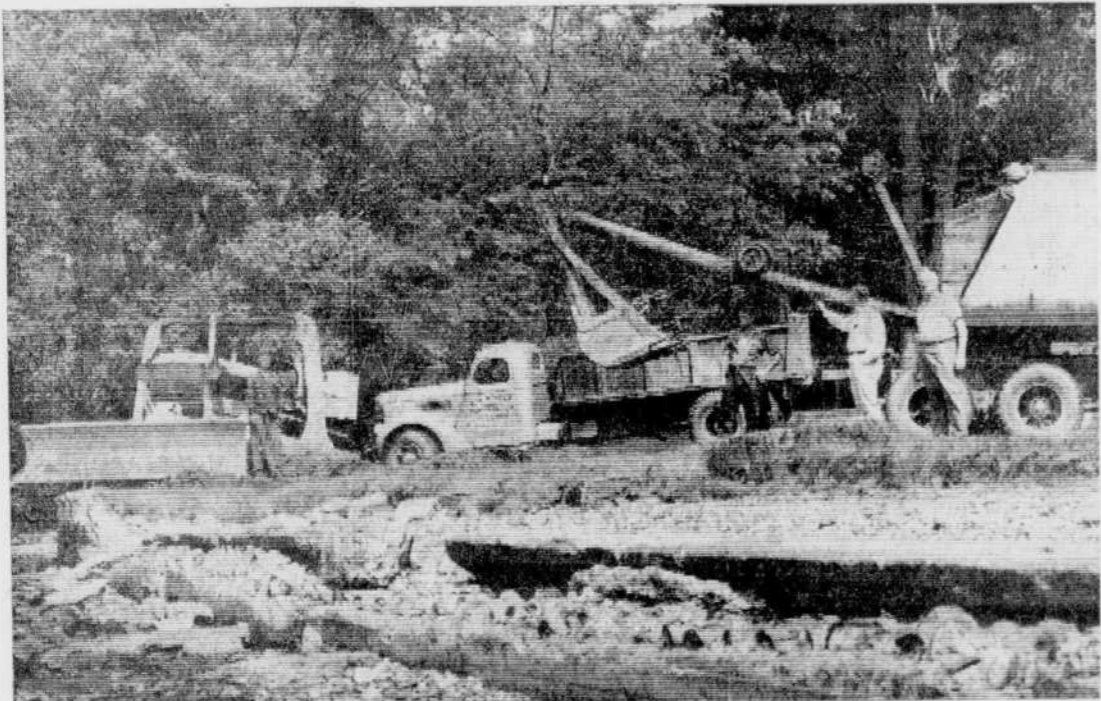

NORWICH, England (Reuters)—Country Minister F. A. Trengrove Friday brought in a new weapon in a battle against bats — his grandson's toy trumpet.

He thinks the noise resembles the hooting of an owl and will frighten away bats. Church cleaners have complained about the mess made by the bats.

The trumpet is the latest in a series of weapons used by Trengrove at his church at Field Dalling, near here. The previous one was a stuffed owl with its face smeared with phosphorescent paint.

Ike's Asian Tour Holds Spotlight

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN Canadian Press Staff Writer

THE WEEK: Eisenhower forced to cancel Japanese visit. Argentina and Israel quarrel over Eichmann. Woman-in-trunk is identified.

President Eisenhower showed no outward sign of misgiving when, last Sunday, he left by jet airliner for a 23,000-mile Far East tour that included Japan and was aimed at international understanding.

Riotous anti-government scenes in Japan did not convince the U.S. president's advisers that the Japanese stop was unwise although his press secretary, James Hagerty, had to be snatched by helicopter from amid a demonstration there the previous week.

Tokyo helicopter rental services apparently were able to glean a more accurate picture of the situation because they did a red-hot business with newspaper men planning to cover Eisenhower's arrival from above.

Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi finally bowed Thursday to the wild pressures of left-wing students and trade union demonstrators. He cancelled the visit of Eisenhower, who had been due to arrive Sunday.

Eisenhower and Kishi both blamed Communists for the action which was a stunning humiliation for the U.S. and possibly a mortal blow to the political life of Kishi, who was trying to push through the Japanese legislature a U.S.-Japanese mutual security treaty.

HAPPY CROWDS There was wild rejoicing in Tokyo among demonstrators whose leaders had bitterly opposed the security treaty, which in part would provide basis in Japan for U.S. land-air-sea forces without time limit.

On the other hand, Eisenhower received a tumultuous greeting by 2,000,000 people in tions committee of the House of Representatives, which was hell-bent on cutting $790,000,000 from the United States mutual security program.

FIGHT CONTINUES At the request of Argentina, the United Nations Security Council decided to meet Wednesday to take up the South American country's charge that Israeli agents violated its sovereignty by picking up Adolf Eichmann, who is accused of putting millions of Jews to death during the Second World War. The Nazi boss had been captured in Buenos Aires and now is in an Israeli jail.

Meanwhile, a pocket rebellion in Argentina didn't even get far enough to cause President Arturo Frondizi to cancel a European trip.

WOMAN IN TRUNK Police identified from fingerprints the body of a woman who was shipped in a trunk-express collect—from Toronto to Argentina, Nid.

She was Mrs. Marjorie E. Scott, 37, whose husband was believed to have committed suicide two years ago. The trunk was pried open in Argentina June 7 after lying there since May 16.

Cleveland, Ohio police are holding Leonard Eade, 35, a short order cook who has been charged with the murder.

About Television

by Cynthia Lowry

NEW YORK (AP) — The men with the toughest jobs in television are the ones who plan its news coverage. It is not exactly coincidental that the medium does its best reporting of events which can be anticipated and which go through on schedule. When events fail to follow their planned course, the situation is likely to get slightly hysterical. At the moment of writing, it looks as if the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan will increase TV's far eastern coverage — particularly its coverage by interpretation — rather than diminish it. For instance, NBC has tossed in a special news show in place of the regular western at 7:30 EDT Friday night and CBS had preempted Person to Person (10:30-11) for the same purpose. Both networks had planned special news shows covering the president's Philippines and Formosa visits during the weekend, and these will, of course, be edited to provide room for developments in the Japanese situation. CBS' Sunday Twentieth Century will rerun, on short notice, a two-part series about Japan's changing face this week and next. When situations suddenly change — as in the cancellation of the president's Tokyo visit — TV invariably finds itself in an awkward, inflexible position, really a radio with a picture of the announcer.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — That electronic doll, Emmy, puts her best foot forward Monday night — or so it is hoped.

The Academy of Television Arts and Sciences marks a dozen years in the awards business and is still searching for an entertaining and logical way of rewarding the best on the TV screens.

This year will see an about-face from previous Emmy awards events, when TV's stars and workers gather for evenings of somewhat forced gaiety in local night spots. The awards have been given at the Coconut Grove, the Moulin Rouge, Pan-Pacific Auditorium and other places that had little to do with television effort.

"We're trying to get the Emmies out of the night clubs and back to TV, where it belongs," explains Bob Finkel, who is staging the show for NBC.

NO STUDIO AUDIENCE
The aim of the 1959-60 awards is to make them seem as indigenous to TV as possible. The tone will be intimate, which is what the medium conveys. Shows will originate from studio 2 at NBC Burbank and the Ziegfeld Theatre. There will be no studio audience.

Also, no dais, no envelope openings, no presentations by stars with nothing to do but announce the winners.

Even the hosts — they're not called emcees — will be low pressure guys: Fred Astaire in Hollywood and Arthur Godfrey in New York.

The entertainers — don't call them presenters, please — will all do a turn, not just walk on and off. They will be: Chuck Connors, Jackie Cooper, Walter Cronkite, Bill Dana, Joe Flynn, Pat Harrington Jr., Mahalia Jackson, Don Knotts, Elaine May, Bob Newhart, Louis Nye, Dinah Shore and Lawrence Welk.

The audience will be nominees themselves, sitting in bleachers on stage.

LEEDS VILLAGE —

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Davidson and family, of Lennoxville, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Everette Reid and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Donaghy, and family and Miss Gienna Ross, of Theford Mines were guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ross during the week-end. Mr. Charles Ross, of Sherbrooke, was also a guest.

Mrs. R. E. Wark, with her niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Marlin, spent a few days here at her home. She is having her house painted.

Beaches Wonderful For Photos But Be Careful With The Camera

With the promise of real hot summer weather and another weekend coming up, many of us will head for lakes and summer cottages. The first thing we'll do upon arriving, probably will be to test the water, like the pretty miss above is doing.

Beaches are great places for human interest pictures. You find children running be the same for all shots at the beach.

Use 2/3 to 1 stop smaller than what is called for under bright sun. Remember to focus correctly, use a fast shutter speed and try for unusual angles to accentuate the action. Last, but not least, put on your lens shade, as there is lots of reflections bouncing up to interfere with your lens.

Most lenses today are coated — that's the blue cast you see on lenses. This actually is microscopic coating, which stops light from spreading as it goes through the lens, it gives you better negatives, consequently better prints with more sparkle. The shadows are not greyed in the negative.

Coated lenses show their salt when you shoot directly into the sun, high speed lenses such as F2.8 and up gain tremendously by this as they are more susceptible to lens flare when used at large openings.

A few important "DON'TS" while using your equipment around the beach:

Do not allow sand to come in contact with your camera, as it could mean the end of your shutter when not using the camera, never leave it lying on a blanket, which is on sand, as gusts of wind will possibly flop the corner of the blanket and a pound of sand over your equipment.

Keep the camera in its case and then when not in use, place it in a zippered

Police Chief Lists Precautions

Keep Crooks Out Of Your Home While Away On Summer Vacation

Maybe you've heard of or know someone who came home from summer vacation to find that their house had been looted of everything but the kitchen sink.

There are even cases on record of burglars hauling away truck loads of household furnishings and other valuables while the owner was absent for two or three weeks.

Much more common is the case of a householder returning to find that his home has been broken into and several portable and easily sold articles have been taken.

It could happen to you! Every summer, several homes in Sherbrooke are broken into and looted, usually because the owner has not taken a few simple precautions, according to Sherbrooke Police.

What are these precautions? Maybe you've heard them all before, but Police Chief Edouard Moreau says they will bear repeating.

Here are his suggestions:

By MALCOLM DAIGNEAULT
 (Record Staff Reporter)

If you're a resident of Sherbrooke, before you leave for a vacation trip, write a letter to Chief Moreau giving your address, length of time you'll be away, and the name and address of a person with whom the police can get in touch, if necessary.

Once in possession of this letter, police will endeavor to check your home periodically, and if there is a break-in, they will know about it shortly afterwards, making it easier to trace the thieves, or they may even catch the culprits in the act.

Stop all regular deliveries, such as milk, newspapers and mail. The latter may be picked up by a cooperative neighbor, if such an arrangement is possible, thereby preventing any mixup with the post office.

A neighbor's aid may also be enlisted in keeping a watch on your home while you're away. The police department does not hesitate to check out any suspicious happenings reported to them.

Last summer, police acting on just such a report, caught two thieves redhanded in the act of looting a local lawyer's home.

Above all, don't announce your departure in the local paper!

Chief Moreau has emphasized this last point and asks for full cooperation from the public in helping to lower the rate of summer crime.

Richmond Jaycees Head Named

RICHMOND (Special) — Andre Lupien was elected president of the Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce at the group's annual meeting held in the St. Jacob's Hotel Thursday night.

He defeated Guy Lefebvre, his opponent who ran against him in a brief campaign.

Previous to the meeting, a parade of members was held through the Richmond streets in a mock election campaign with posters on cars.

Heading the elections during the meeting were Wilfrid Lupien, Honorary President of the Jaycees; Claude Brouillette, past Regional President as secretary of nominations; Louis David Pare, newly elected Regional President of the Jaycees of Princeville with Marc St. Hilaire, also of Princeville, Regional vice-president. The guests acted as balloteers. Also a guest was Jean Mari Baril, regional vice-president of the Jaycees.

Others named to the executive for 1960-61 are: Guy Lefebvre, first vice-president; Rene Letourneau, second vice-president; Gilles Lefebvre, treasurer; Jerome Desmarais, secretary and Jean Paul Perreault as chief director. Directors named were Jacques Allard, Denis Girardin, Jean Guy Fleury and Jean Guy Bissonnette.

Following the elections, the honorary president congratulated the winners and hoped they would continue to keep the local group moving well.

Mr. Lupien, the new president, thanked the members and those who voted for him saying he would do his best for the group. Lefebvre also thanked the members as well as each of the newly elected members of the executive.

Harry Topping, past-president thanked the members for the cooperation given him during his term the past year.

Previous to the elections, the regular meeting was held. Reports were made and new business brought up. Among the latter, it was noted that the Provincial Junior Chamber of Commerce Congress is being held this weekend starting Friday at Hull, Quebec.

French Canada Patron Saint

St. Jean Baptiste Day Celebrations Planned

St. Jean Baptiste celebrations will be held in Sherbrooke this year June 23 and 24 to honor the patron saint of French Canada. The celebrations, which will be held under the supervision of the St. Jean Baptiste Society for the diocese of Sherbrooke, will begin Thursday evening in Jacques Cartier park.

Proceedings will get underway with a concert by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band at 8:30 to be followed by speeches at 9:30.

At ten p.m. there will be the traditional ceremonial fire and fireworks will close the evening.

The following day proceedings will begin at 9:30 in the morning with High Mass said by his Excellency Archbishop Georges Cabana in Sacre-Coeur de Beauvoir Church.

Departure time for the historic parade is two p.m. from Dufréne park. The parade will take the following route: along Galt West, Alexander, Aberdeen, Wellington, Frontenac, Dufferin, and on to Mitchell park.

The celebration will come to a close with a banquet in the hall of St. Michel Basilica.

Among the dignitaries taking part in the parade will be the provincial and municipal police, detachment of the local fire brigade, Sherbrooke Harmony Band, Asbestos Harmony Band, Sherbrooke Frontiersmen as well as representatives from organizations out of town.

Canadian Legion Circus Coming To East Angus

EAST ANGUS — A circus ismittie, said coming to town! Actual destination is here and the day is Monday.

Animals in action will be featured in 20 separate acts.

Acrobats will perform in breath-holding stunts and clowns complete with red noses will amble their way into the hearts of every person there.

For the second time in five years, the Canadian Legion, Branch 25, will sponsor a circus in Nicol Park in the heart of East Angus. There will be two showings of the Garden Brothers show from Toronto, one at 4:30 in the afternoon and another at eight in the evening.

Each year the Legion, consisting of 50 active members, sponsors one money-raising project to do something for the children of East Angus.

"This year we wish to have a community picnic and supply each child with ice cream and goodies, during July," Real Gagnon, chairman of the circus com-

VOTE CHARLES LEMIEUX

National Union independent candidate for Sherbrooke riding.

CHARLES LEMIEUX is in favor of an English speaking Trade School in Sherbrooke, and, if elected, he will urge the Government to build such a school in Sherbrooke.

CHARLES LEMIEUX is independent, and will represent each of you without any discrimination of political creed, religious creed or race.

CHARLES LEMIEUX has been frank with the people in the past. Be frank with him and vote for him.

CHARLES LEMIEUX is your Liberal candidate as well as your National Union candidate, because he will be your Liberal deputy under a Liberal Government or your National Union deputy under a National Union Government.

Do not gamble with Johnny Bourque, National Union candidate: he has lost his popularity and also the confidence of the people.

Do not gamble with the Liberal candidate L. P. Brousseau: after having tried for decades to be chosen as Liberal candidate, he has finally succeeded in being chosen by a handful of Liberal organizers. How can he be more competent now than he was in the past?

CHARLES LEMIEUX is for an increase in all SOCIAL SECURITY allowances.

CHARLES LEMIEUX is not a millionaire and does not intend to become a millionaire.

R. D. Rice Chairman

Local CNIB Board Has Annual Meeting

R. D. Rice was elected chairman of the Sherbrooke Co. Advisory Board C.N.I.B. Wednesday at the annual meeting of the board in the local offices of the C.N.I.B.

Mrs. J. Harry Blue was elected vice-president along with Mr. John L. Burns of Richmond. Mr. J. E. Roy was elected Treasurer and Miss Thelma J. Crawford Secretary.

The retiring chairman Mr. N. L. Amirault was elected honorary president with Mr. Alberic Julien and Mr. C. J. Bryant as honorary vice-presidents.

The board received reports from the Field Secretary Neil Tracy, from the Home Teacher Miss Dolores Dufresne which covered the activities of the local branch over the past year.

Miss Dufresne reported that 37 persons throughout the District receive instruction in braille, typing English language, card playing, leather work, knitting and handicraft of various sorts. These blind persons were located in towns of Sherbrooke, East Angus, Weedon, Asbestos, Waterville, Magog, Coaticook, and others. She also reported on the various handicraft exhibition, which were held in the District during the year.

Mr. Rice as treasurer read the financial statements for the year which shows a deficit in Sherbrooke Co. of some $6000. Mr. McClintock, Field Service Supervisor of Montreal explained that this deficit was due to several reasons including the change of campaign date from February to September, the new policy of County Board and County budget.

Mr. Rice remarked that the budget deficit would present a challenge for the new executive

Past Presidents Honored By CIRCO Association

Past Presidents of the CIRCO Long Service Association were honoured in a recent meeting at the Bellevue Club.

After dinner President Romeo Collins opened the meeting and welcomed the members, then named Past President George Parsons as chairman and master of ceremonies and as assistants Past President Bob Cote, Joe Cayer, Alphonse Lebrun, George Lothrop, and Henry Woollerton.

Past President George Lothrop read the minutes of the last general meeting. The chairman then requested one minute silence in memory of all members that had passed away during the year.

Post President Henry Woollerton read the Treasurer's report also report on Philanthropic Fund. There followed brief reports on Publicity by George Sutherland, on Welfare by Norman Bradley and Eddy Harmer and on membership by George Lane.

Five members were qualified by greater service to new Medallions and the Works Manager E. T. Harbert presented Medallions as follows: Bob Cote and F. Carr, 30 years service; A. Laflamme 35 years service; Stan O'dell 40 years service and Miss Helen MacGregor was presented with a gift of china. Mr. Harbert

SCOUTING AND CUBBING

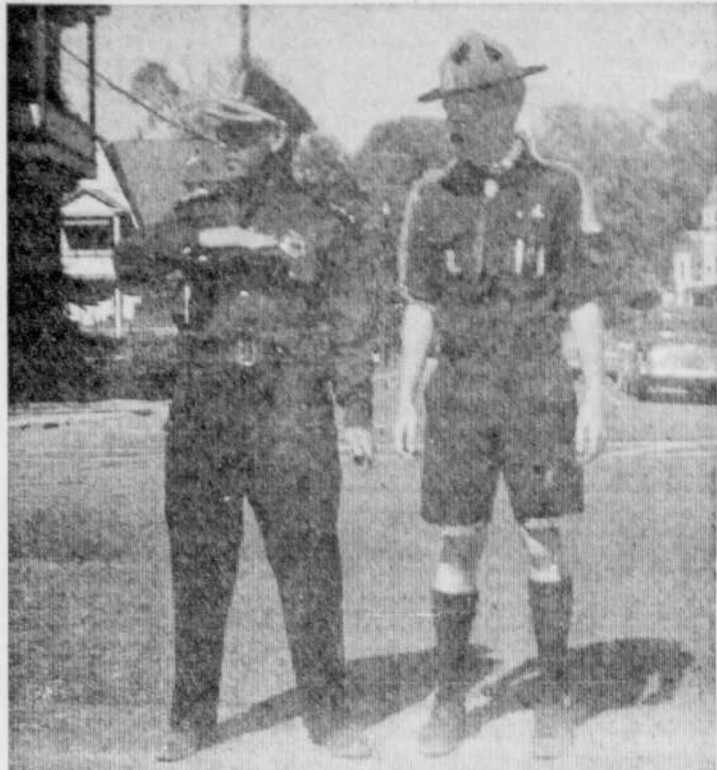

Three Lennoxville Boy Scouts from the 1st Lennoxville Troop followed instruction on traffic control last weekend as part of their First Class Badge tests.

Instruction, which took place at the Queen-Belvidere Streets intersection was given by Lennoxville police and fire chief, Eric Maddiss.

Last Saturday, the three scouts, PL. Alec McCubbin, Steve Wells and PL. Robert Ross were given instruction for about 20 minutes on traffic direction and manual control of traffic lights.

The last time the scouts were needed to assist police in traffic control was in 1954 when there was an explosion at Lennoxville Press.

Scouts McCubbin and Ross also passed their firemen's and safetyman's badge.

THIS IS THE WAY — Police and fire chief of Lennoxville, Eric Maddiss left, showing scout PL. Alec McCubbin, how to direct traffic when traffic lights are not functioning at a busy intersection.

DE GAULLE SPEAKS

French President de Gaulle gave his personal guarantee that rebellious Algeria will be completely free eventually to choose its own future. In a new policy statement on his promise of self-determination in the 5 1/2-year-old Algerian war, he said "everybody, yes everybody" will be able to take part in "discussions which will fix the conditions of the referendum, the electoral campaign and the control of the vote."

This seemed to be a concession to rebel leaders.

THE WEEK IN QUEBEC

Seventeen pulp and paper companies were fined a total of $240,000 in Montreal's court of Queen's Bench Wednesday for conspiracy to fix prices paid for pulpwood to farmers in Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick between 1947 and 1954.

Mr. Justice Harry Batshaw found the companies guilty in a 97-page judgment that ruled agreements among them had served to unduly limit competition.

The trial opened last Oct. 13 and ended April 11.

55 Students Take Part In Piano Recital

The annual piano recital by the pupils of Norah H. Leonard, B.A., F.M.C.M., took place Monday evening in the Synagogue Hall, Montreal Street, before a large and appreciative audience of parents and friends.

Fifty-five students took part in the program which included not only solo numbers, but several duets and even one trio by Brigitte, Yolande and Mimi Lesaulnier, which quite delighted the audience.

At the close of the program, Rev. R. A. Mitchell of Magog congratulated Miss Leonard and the pupils on their fine performance and noted the progress of the students from year to year. He then presented the reports and prizes.

Little Beryl Greer of Magog acting on behalf of the pupils, presented Miss Leonard with a gift, voicing the thanks and appreciation of the class.

Dawn Palmer and Marilyn Cooperman assisted Miss Leonard with the program and Malcolm Taylor and James Reynolds were in charge of technical assistance.

Taking part in the program were: Janice Peasley, Desmond McKeon, Mary Reynolds, Carole Clark, Judy Kandalafi, Linda Ladd, Sherrill Fletcher, Beryl Greer, Donald Lewis, Shirley Rublee, Hazel McHarg, Susan Henderson, Mimi Lesaulnier, Shirley, Kimmis, Ruth Jellicoe, Helen Rublee, David Carr, Louise Wright, Christine Komery, Mary Hurley.

"THE WINDS OF CHANGE ARE SWEEPING DOWN THE ST. LAWRENCE,"

SAID THE LONDON, ENGLAND, "TIMES" OF APRIL 21st, 1960.

Let Stanstead be a part of that change in electing George Vaillancourt on June 22nd.

Real pleasure has been mine to work with the Liberal Party in this campaign, to meet in Stanstead County, in Montreal, and elsewhere keen Liberal people, men and women, young and old, English and French speaking, who want our Quebec Province to take its rightful place in Canada.

As far as I have seen, and as an English-speaking organizer in Stanstead County with which I've been closely connected, the Liberal conduct in this election has been worthy of a great Party.

If I should be permitted to give one word of counsel in this Quebec election it would be THINK-THINK this one through.

Stanstead, Que., June 13, 1960.

ED. STRUTHERS, Mayor of Stanstead.

This message approved and paid for by the Liberal Organization of Stanstead County.

MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA
Insurance in force now exceeds three billion dollars

Dads who know the whole story get the life insurance with bigger returns

Wouldn't you like to be many hundreds of dollars ahead — when the need for family protection has passed and your life insurance turns into cash or retirement income? Your Mutual Life of Canada policy can bring you such bigger returns, returns far in excess of your actual premium payments.

The reason is the savings which arise from the big dividends you get from the Mutual. The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada has an outstanding dividend record. Yearly dividends are substantial and when left to accumulate at interest they provide a very attractive investment. The retirement value of a Mutual Life policy-plus-dividends is one of the most impressive values in Canadian life insurance today.

Why not get the story on how you, personally, can benefit. The Mutual Life of Canada representative in your community is at your service, or write to the Head Office, Waterloo, Ontario.

bag or a box.

At the ocean, watch out for salt water when it dries, salt crystals are left on the intricate mechanisms of the shutter. There is finer and more dangerous sand, too.

So, to sum up the don'ts, remember the greatest enemies of the camera are sand, water and heat.

Be careful where you leave your camera or store it, especially in your car, as glove compartments are virtual hot-boxes, along with rear window shelves. Color film, will probably go "hay-wire" under these conditions, so will your shutter; the lubricant dries out. Incidentally don't try oiling the shutter yourself. This oil is specially made — general fine oils used in the household collect dust and gum up the slow speeds. If you think your camera needs attention, always have it done by a reputable camera repair department.

Miss Faith Olson Feted At Shower In Bury

BURY — A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Tarrant, assisted by Mrs. Clair Gibson, when a popular bride-to-be of the month, Miss Faith Olson, was entertained at a pantry shower.

Upon her arrival the guest of honor was met by Mrs. Tarrant and presented with a corsage and seated under an umbrella canopy, decorated attractively with pink bows and roses. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Arthur Olson, her aunt, Mrs. Sidney Coates, and cousin, Miss Marilyn Pehlemann in opening a wide variety of beautiful and useful gifts.

Miss Olson graciously expressed her thanks and appreciation for the gifts and invited the donors to visit her in her new home and help her use them.

To add to the gaiety of the evening Miss Mildred Ellis exemplified her skill in foretelling the future.

Highlighting the sumptuous refreshments was a double-ring cake topped by a lacy, candy parasol, in blue and white.

A TRIBUTE TO DAD

Never a search for pity,
Never a sign of greed,
But head held high in proudness
Was his power to succeed.

Cheaper by the dozen
Is a famous saying
But times aren't always easy,
When for eleven you are paying.

Love and attention
They don't cost anything
But they mean a whole lot more
Than many other things.

He had enough to go around
Made sure that all were safe and sound
George, Vivian, Lenard, Claire,
Gerald, Ernest, Georgette,
Hector, Connie Robert and Juliette.

Dad has left us now you see,
To prepare a place for us to be,
But cherished memories never cease.
We loved him so,
May he rest in peace.

Mrs. Ronald Bazinet
Waterloo, Que.

"FATHER'S DAY"

I'd give all I own, if I could only say,
"Happy Father's Day to my dad today.
But three long years have passed since
My dad was called away,
And the only gift that I can give him,
Is to go to his grave and pray.

So, all of you who have a Dad,
Give him the very best today,
I know that's what I'd give my Dad,
If only he were here today.

	FARM IMPROVEMENTS $84,802.50	AID TO CO-OPERATIVES $7,100

REMEMBER 1956! THIS WAS A GREAT YEAR FOR COMPTON AS FAR AS LIBERAL PROMISES WERE CONCERNED! What was accomplished? Before you cast your ballot, THINK! Our present Liberal candidate was one of the chief organizers in Compton in 1956 He still has the same old promises, and, we expect, the same lack of sincerity.

At the end of two and a half years, CLAUDE GOSSELIN is just getting into his stride. He has accomplished so much; it is in YOUR interest to let him continue the job!

CLAUDE IS YOUNG!
CLAUDE IS ENERGETIC!

CLAUDE HAS THE INTERESTS OF HIS CONSTITUENCIES AT HEART!

Whether the creation reflects a supreme divine intelligence, or whether it merely manifests the qualities of matter, will be considered at the services in all the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the reading of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" Bible light on this subject will include the following from Nehemiah: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all things that are therein, and all things that are on the earth, and all things that are in the sea, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee." Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include: "The divine origin of Jesus gave him more than human power to expound the facts of creation, and demonstrate the one Mind which makes and governs man and the universe."

Social Scene

Miss Colleen Hargrove, a popular bride to be was the guest of honor at a surprise shower held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Patton on Fifth Avenue recently.

Upon her arrival, the bride elect was presented with a corsage of Pinks and English Daisies, and escorted to a chair decorated with white and blue streamers falling from a water-gate can overhead, giving a shower effect. She then opened her many useful gifts for which she expressed her thanks.

A couple of word games were enjoyed by all, the prizes being won by Mrs. Murray Graham and Miss Sandra Saanum.

Later, lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Bruce Patton, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Gerald Haseltine, and Miss Joan Lyon.

Among the out-of-town guests was the bride elect's mother, Mrs. Hargrove from Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peak, of Hannon, Ont., former residents of Sherbrooke, entertained relatives and friends at their home on Miles Road, on June 4 and 5 on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Supper in the garden was attended by thirty-five guests including their daughters, Mrs. Eric Hemming, of Port Elgin, Ont., and Mrs. William Hill, of Hannon, Ont., and their families, and relatives from St. Catharines, Guelph, Barrie and Hamilton, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Peak, who were married on June 7, 1920 in the Church of the Advent, Sherbrooke, were the recipients of many lovely gifts, also congratulatory cards from relatives and friends in Sherbrooke.

Miss Gwendolyn Norris and Miss Rosemary Smith, of the Sherbrooke Hospital Staff, have left by car for Halifax, N.S., where they will attend the Biennial Meeting of the Canadian Nurses Association.

Miss Clara Aitkenhead, Director of Nursing at the Sherbrooke Hospital, left by plane today for Halifax, N.S., where she will attend the 30th Biennial meeting of the Canadian Nurses Association. From there she will go on to Cavendish, P.E.I. where she will spend her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon P. Chesbro and daughter, Zoe-Ann, of Oakville, Ont., are holidaying with Mr. Chesbro's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chesbro, Belvedere St., North.

Mr. Harry Hunter, Queen St., Lennoxville, who has been seriously ill for some time, has entered the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The Misses Frances Whittle, Thelma Gratham, Bernice MacMillan and Barbara Blanchette, left by car yesterday for Halifax, N.S., where they will attend the 30th Biennial meeting of the Canadian Nurses Association.

L'ville Wing Garden Tea Has Record Attendance

A tall standard of beautiful summer flowers outside the door of the Douglas Hall, Lennoxville, beckoned the way to the annual Garden Tea and Sale held there on Thursday afternoon by the Lennoxville Wing of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary.

Through past experiences with the fitful moods of the weatherman, the ladies decided to bring the garden to the tea, and turned Douglas and Scott halls of the United Church into a picture of floral beauty with a profusion of summer flowers artistically arranged in the rooms.

Upon entering Douglas Hall, guests were received by Mrs. W. S. Aird, Mrs. Douglas Ross and Mrs. E. W. Gilbey, and then turned their attention to the well laden tables of home cooking, knitting and fancy articles which were for sale. Here we found Mrs. A. Varney and Mrs. W. L. Varney presiding over the table of fancy and knitted articles, and Mrs. I. W. Saunders and Mrs. J. R. Mooney dispensing with the delicious home cooking.

In Douglas Hall, where tables were arranged for the guests to enjoy a delicious tea, the tea table, which centred the room, was attractively arranged with a beautiful bouquet of summer flowers in a large silver bowl. Poursers during the afternoon were Mrs. Austin Scott, Mrs. W. J. Klineck, Mrs. Jan Pick and Miss Clara Aitkenhead.

Conveners of the tea and sale were Mrs. G. H. Moffat, Mrs. C. E. Parkin and Mrs. G. Brine. Ticket conveners were Mrs. P. T. Hanson and Mrs. E. B. Sims and the treasurer, Mrs. A. S. Mitchell acted as cashier at the door. Publicity was conveyed by Mrs. J. K. Rafal.

Waitresses were Mrs. W. L. Tompkins, Mrs. H. S. Horsfall, Mrs. E. B. Sims, Mrs. J. W. McCubbin, Mrs. H. I. McLeod, Mrs. Eric Lennox, Mrs. A. Dallaire, Mrs. R. S. Pearson, Mrs. J. Anido and Mrs. W. K. Balwin, Mrs. Greg O'Boyle, Mrs. L. J. Hewitt and Mrs. R. Lindsou.

Duties in the kitchen were conveyed by Mrs. J. S. Hamilton. She was assisted by Mrs. H. Nichol, Mrs. H. T. S. Saunders, Mrs. K. Lane, Mrs. C. Parkin, Mrs. J. K. Rafal, Mrs. E. P. Dolliver.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Royce Gale and the raffle was won by Mrs. J. K. Goodfellow of Coaticook.

Motherhood Honored In Russia

OTTAWA (CP)—Motherhood is regarded as heroic in the Soviet Union, says Amassap Aroutunian, Moscow's ambassador to Canada.

Addressing the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club, he outlined the various orders of maternal merit in his country.

A Soviet woman gets state recognition when she gives birth to her fifth child. No longer a mere mother, she is a "glorious mother" and receives a medal and ribbons.

When she gets to seven, she becomes a "most glorious mother" and receives another medal.

A woman with 10 children is acclaimed a "hero mother" and receives her medal from the president of the Supreme Soviet.

"Even in a society of equal rights it is wonderful to be a mother," he said.

Expectant mothers receive 114 days leave from their jobs with full pay. Citing the example of a Quebec woman who made the news when she gave birth to her 23rd child, he said jocularly: "In a case like that she would have leave all her life with full pay."

Besides getting maternal recognition, Dr. Aroutunian said women have equal pay and equal rights in all fields of endeavor. He spoke of the large number of women in engineering and remarked that his wife was the chief engineer in a ceramics plant before her marriage.

Definitive study of an eccentric

THE CASE OF SALVADOR DALI — Fleur Cowles — Little, Brown & Co. Ltd. publishers — 328 pp. — Fleur Cowles appeared several weeks ago on the CBC television program Live a Borrowed Life, and at that time she impersonated Salvador Dali, the extraordinary and notorious Spanish artist.

During the program, Miss Cowles mentioned that she had written a biography of Dali, but her reference to it was so light-hearted and casual that when a copy of her book came my way for review I was unprepared for such a weighty tome!

This must certainly be the definitive biography of Dali; it covers its subjects thoroughly from all angles, and it is full of footnotes, cross-reference and glossaries, and it is amply illustrated to boot.

Fleur Cowles writes very well indeed, and with such a controversial figure as Salvador Dali she manages triumphantly to maintain an air of impartiality and objectivity, no small achievement in itself.

This book will appeal to anyone with an interest in modern art; more specifically, an interest in one of the most eccentric exponents of Surrealism, Salvador Dali. As a study in psychology it makes fascinating reading, and what is more, it teaches as it entertains.

Great credit is due Miss Cowles for her comprehensive study of a thoroughly unsavory character. Infinite time and patience must have been expended in the com-

And that is the question each reader can answer independently and fervently for himself, after having read this outstanding saga of an artist, his temperament and times.

An attempt at bridging a reading gap

HER FIRST BALL—Short Stories selected by Hester Burton—144 pgs. . . $2.25—Oxford University Press. This book consists of a series of short stories compiled by Miss Burton to bridge the gap for younger readers who have grown out of children's books and have not yet found their way into general fiction.

Miss Burton claims that these are adult stories and yet, in her introduction to the book and in her explanatory notes which precede each story, I feel that she is definitely treating the reader as a child.

Although these selections have been written by writers who are still living or who have died fairly recently, the material itself is from the past century and would not seem to appeal to the casual modern reader.

However, I would recommend this book highly to the teenage reader who has or is developing a fondness for classical literature. SHIRLEY SIMPSON.

PRECIOUS VOLUME

LONDON (CP) — A record price of £23,000 was paid for "A Vocabulary and Conversation Book of 1890," printed by William Caxton. The money will go into a fund to provide a new singing school for Yorkshire's Ripon Cathedral.

Changed situation Canadians could be 'ignored'

LONDON (CP) — A Canadian lecturer says that Canada stands in danger of being "ignored" by Europe.

"It's a changed situation, and we have got to adjust ourselves to it," says Dr. George Elmore Reaman, director of adult education at Ontario's Waterloo University.

Dr. Reaman passed through London on his way home after a month's stay in Britain and Western Europe, mostly taken up with lectures in the West German cities of Berlin, Bonn, Munich and Stuttgart.

He returns to Canada with the strong impression that Europe has become so prosperous, and so absorbed in the European version of the affluent society, that it seldom turns its eyes toward Canada. This, he says, is in contrast to the way things were on his last visit to Europe in 1958.

IMMIGRANTS NEEDED

"We are in danger of being forgotten. We've got to make people realize that we do exist, and what we have to offer."

Canada needs to take stock of the changed situation, he suggests, because of the need for immigrants of European stock and because of trade developments. Pointing to the progress of the European Common Market he urges Canadian businessmen to show a greater willingness to take risks — "we can't always play the game safely."

Dr. Reaman, whose Swiss-German forebears settled in Ontario around 1800, visited Germany for the first time before the First World War and has made three trips since the Second World War. His lectures, on Germany's ethnic contribution to Canada, were delivered in the German language.

TAKE MORE INTEREST

In conversations with professors, diplomats and ordinary people, he found a serious interest in Democracy.

"I was very much reassured by what I found," he told a reporter. "If there is another war, it won't start from Germany. They have had enough of it."

He said he feels Canadians should take a greater interest in European affairs. In Germany, though people tended to look upon Canada as a country of the future rather than of immediate preoccupation, he had found a "very real understanding and knowledge" of Canadian affairs.

LOUIS SOBOL, the well-known Broadway columnist and raconteur gave us the following Martian story for our collection of Outer-Spacians:

A little green man from another planet found himself in a Las Vegas gambling casino, watching a man playing a slot machine. Suddenly the man hit the jackpot, there was a tremendous whirring sound, the little windows lit up with cherries, plums and bells spinning by. There was a click, a clang and a shower of quarters poured out all over the floor.

The little Martian approached the slot machine, patted it solicitously, and said . . . "Buddy, you got to do something about that cold!"

"Really?" said Carson. "Well, who's up front at the controls? The co-pilot?"
"Oh no. The man flying the plane is a plumber. We're filming one of those thinking man cigarette commercials!"

Jottings

By Gladys Taylor

Every writer has the experience of being asked how to become a writer. This question is asked by every age group, I have discovered, but apparently Robertson Davies (the MEET AN AUTHOR subject of today's JOTTINGS) gets this question most often from young people—no doubt would-be-reporters wanting a job on his newspaper.

In any case I thought Mr. Davies' comments on the subject so much to the point that I am taking the liberty of quoting from a letter I received from him recently.

He writes:
" . . . Quite a number of young people come to see me to ask about the job of being writers, and I am surprised to find that, as a general thing, they think that it is work that will provide them with a living as soon as they go into it. There are very few Canadian writers who are able to live entirely on what they get by their writing, and of those many have to make considerable sacrifices. It is a matter of personal taste, but I think that it is a good thing for a writer to have some other job which provides him with a part of his living, so that he is not, therefore, compelled to write hastily and insincerely in order to keep the pot boiling. . . . I agree with Mr. Davies' sentiments wholeheartedly. The only thing I might add to them is that instead of taking another job to "keep the pot boiling" most women writers, like myself, find themselves a capable husband and let HIM "Keep the pot boiling" while they write!

The Eichmann story has been in the news so much of late that I was interested to learn that PRENTICE-HALL is bringing out a book next year about the recently captured Nazi S.S. Colonel. British writer, Charles Wighton, author of HITLER'S SPIES AND SABOTEURS and PIN-STRIPE SABOTEUR is doing research on Adolf Eichmann now and will cover his January trial in Israel before writing the book.

MEET AN AUTHOR: W. Robertson Davies, B. Litt., LL.D., was born in Thames-

Robertson Davies

ville, Ontario in 1913, the son of the Hon. William R. Davies, (president of the WHIG-STANDARD in Kingston.) Mr. Davies has had so much published and been so successful in so many fields that it is difficult to compress all his accomplishments into one brief item. Once associated with the Old Vic Company as an actor, he is now Governor of the Stratford Shakespeare Festival and has written and directed many plays, one of them being FORTUNE, MY FOE which won the title of best Canadian Play in the 1949 Dominion Drama Festival. For two years he was

Some explanations of why Russians act as they do

BACK TO BOKHARA by Fitzroy Maclean 156 pages. . . CLARKE, IRWIN & COMPANY . . . $4.00. There seems to be a spate of books on Central Asia at the moment and if you have already read several of them it may spoil your enjoyment of BACK TO BOKHARA.

But if this is your first book, as it was mine, on this mysterious and legendary area, then I feel sure it will give you unqualified arm-chair travelling pleasure—as well as something to think about.

I had the good fortune to meet the author of this book, Sir Fitzroy Maclean, a few months ago when we both appeared as guests on a TV show in Toronto. Having met him I could possibly enjoy, more than the average reader of this book, his obvious dedication to the subject of good food and drink to say nothing of his interest in movie-making—in Toronto it was TV-making—which led to such a fascinating section of the book as his visit to a movie studio in Southern Russia.

I might add that knowing what a stalwart, energetic figure of a man Sir Fitzroy is, I wasn't surprised either that the little "spunitas" periodically played out while trying to guide him on all his sight-seeing!

I was quite prepared to find in this book, and happily I wasn't disappointed in this some logical and disarmingly simple explanations—when seen by the understanding eye of a man like the author—of why the Russians behave as they do. I also realized after reading it that I had long had a vague cardboard-flat conception of Russia while completely ignoring the depth—both mileage-wise and culturally—of this ancient land. I am grateful to Sir Fitzroy for adding depth to my picture.

BACK TO BOKHARA will be of a particular interest to those who read Fitzroy Maclean's earlier book EASTERN APPROACHES, because it describes the same places, seen twenty years later. But the author is not content just to recount the changes, physical and mental, which he saw in the country and people, in addition he has made some penetrating deductions and drawn some interesting conclusions. Personally I found everything Sir Fitzroy had to say in the book timely and fascinating but one conclusion, the most hopeful should I think be quoted for those not fortunate enough to read the book.

"My own view is that the best, if not the only hope of peace for humanity lies in the gradual evolution (in previous chapters he pointed out how this process is already taking place) of the Soviet regime into something easier to live with than what confronts us at present . . . the more say the Russian people have in their own affairs, and the happier and more prosperous they become, the less likely are they to allow themselves to become involved in war.

"For us the important thing, to my mind, is to hold our own in the cold war, for the next fifteen or twenty years, to hold it politically, economically and militarily. If we can do that and if the world during that period can avoid a lot war, it may well be that the worst of our troubles will be over." RECOMMENDED GLADYS TAYLOR.

Some slyly humorous satire by Leacock

"Arcadian Adventures With The Idle Rich" By Stephen B. Leacock; McClelland and Stewart; 157 pages; $1.00. This is the tenth volume of the new series of Canadian literary classic being printed in quality paperback form by McClelland and Stewart, Toronto.

The series is styled "New Canadian Library" and at present consists of twelve titles with six more soon to appear. Two other of Leacock's works are included in this series: "Literary Lapses" (No. 3) and "Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town" (No. 15).

It is a surprising fact that Leacock's writing career did not begin until he was 41. "Arcadian Adventure" was his fifth book in as many years, appearing in 1914.

Although less well known than a number of his other works, this collection of slyly humorous, satirical chapters is as delightfully amusing and revealing as any Leacock ever wrote. His gifts of parody were never displayed to better effect.

But don't look to Leacock for the portrayal of depths of character. His people are either cartoons or buffoons.

In one chapter, however, "The Arrested Philanthropy" he comes close to dipping beneath the surface foibles of mankind. In the book as a whole the author satirizes politics, church over-organization, finance and high society in the setting of a large city. Even the names of his characters are from the comic strips: Mr. Snoop, the sex-poet; Captain Cormorant of the U. S. navy; Judge Longestill, Mr. Ram Spudd, the spiritualist, and so on.

Leacock makes no pretence of depicting growth of character but rather contents himself with poking gay fun at some of our too-ponderously important institutions.

This book is good for scores of quiet chuckles. Its message will somehow afflict the over-comfortable while comforting the afflicted of this life, at least those who retain the ability to smile over certain ridiculous aspects of "the passing show."

Leacock's genius for perceiving the hilarious contrasts between the ideals and actual practices of humankind are here exercised with masterly skill and sympathetic understanding. Mr. Fyshe's speeches on civic politics in the chapter on "The Great Fight for Clean Government" are classics in parody. And how many of us will feel something in common with the enthusiastic Mr. Newberry "recalling the giants of public debate when he was a boy. He said he distinctly recalled a man whose name he did not recall, speaking on a question (he didn't quite remember what) either for or against, he wasn't sure, and it had thrilled him. He could never forget it. It stayed in his memory as if it was yesterday." In this compact, attractively printed and handsomely designed paperback edition, lovers of Leacock will find former delights vividly renewed in reading again "Arcadian Adventures."

PORTRAITS IN POVERTY — Toronto artist Luigi Bellini says it's difficult to make a living as a portrait painter in Canada because so many people are just as easily satisfied by a photograph. But he sticks to his chosen field, the family income supplemented by his wife's work in a bank. Born and trained in Italy, he came to Canada in 1956 and met his wife in Saint John, N.B. A $15,000,000 opera house Zero-hour entry takes top prize

A proposed design for a $15,000,000 Toronto Opera House has won the coveted $2,500 Pilkington Travelling Scholarship, top Canadian award in architectural design. Oddy, the winning design took so long in preparation it nearly didn't make the judging.

Winner Enn Kayari, 24-year-old graduating student of the University of Toronto School of Architecture, took his entry to the airport where he was told it probably wouldn't get on a plane to Winnipeg for judging at the 53rd annual assembly of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada.

"I waited at the airport till 2 a.m. to make sure it did get on," says Kayari.

Second and third prize winners were Miss Sarina Altman, of McGill University, her design a music centre for Montreal, and Julius Izen, of the University of Manitoba, for an orthodox synagogue. Second prize is $200, third prize $100. The first and second prize winners are both New Canadians. Mr. Kayari was born in Estonia and fled west with his family in 1944 when the Russians took over his country. He arrived in Canada in 1953.

His proposed opera house would be built opposite the new City Hall and would occupy an area from University to York street and from Queen to Adelaide streets. It would include a large tapered auditorium for grand opera to seat 1900 people and a smaller theatre for stage shows and chamber music, to seat 550 people.

Facing Queen street would be an open plaza with trees and gardens and, in the main building, looking onto this plaza, restaurants and cocktail bars. Along York street would be offices and stores for rent.

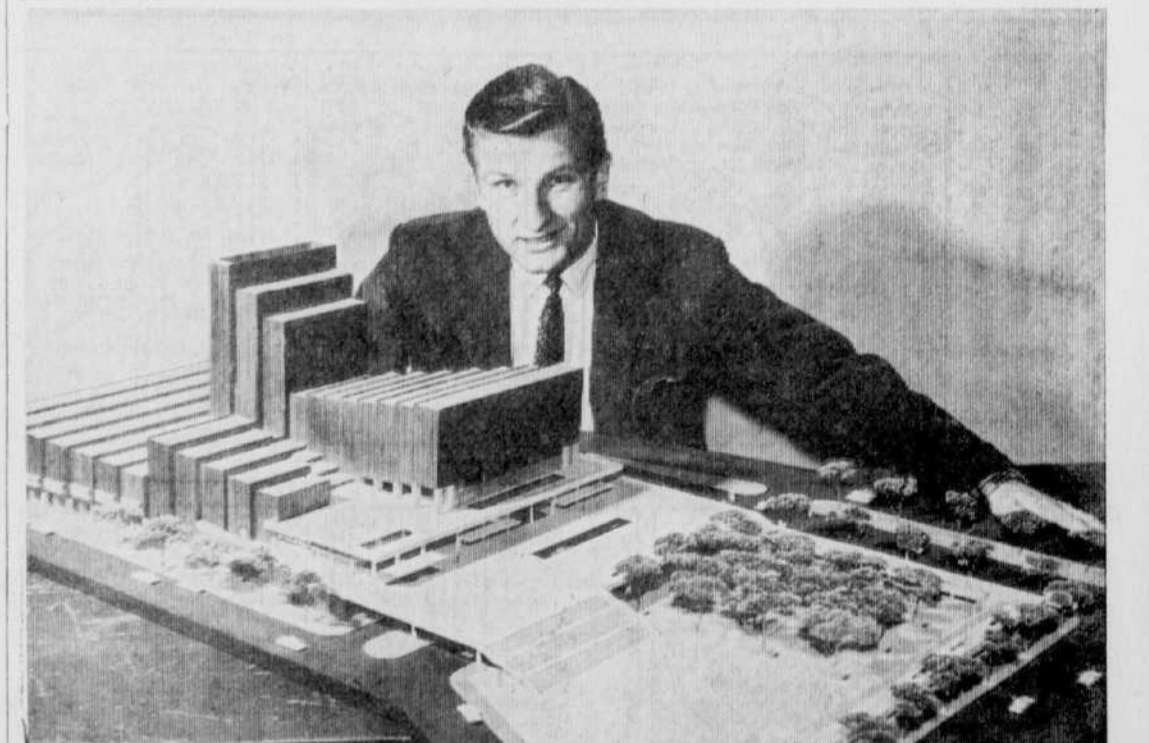

Miss Altman, second prize winner, is 25 year old. Her entry, said the judges, very nearly won. She was born in Romania, completed high school in Bucharest and emigrated to Israel in 1951. She served two years in the Israeli Army before entering the School of Architecture at Haifa. She came to Canada in 1957 and entered the fourth year of McGill's School of Architecture.

Mr. Izen, third prize winner, was born in Winnipeg and is 24 years old. His progress through university has been marked by a succession of prizes and scholarships. In his 5th year, for instance, he won the Manitoba Association of thesis grade was rated at 94.

The Doctor Says
BEWARE OF VEILING AILMENT BY TAKING PAIN KILLERS
By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.

It's usually a bad idea to take or prescribe a pain killer until you've discovered the cause of the pain.

Suppose your youngster has a bellyache. It's always a temptation to ease his distress as quickly as possible. You reach for paregoric or a codeine tablet left over from a previous illness.

This may mask the signs of an acute appendicitis from your doctor and cost the child its best chance for recovery.

Similarly overdosing with nitroglycerin for a supposedly angina may seriously complicate an attack of coronary thrombosis.

Sometimes, too, spontaneous relief of pain is deceptive. If it is accompanied by evidences of well-being, such as is experienced when a stone is passed or an obstruction is removed, celebrations are in order.

But if it's associated with worsening of a patient's condition, such as happens when the signal boxes of an internal organ are destroyed by a spreading infection, it's bad news indeed.

Despite his desire to diagnose first and treat later, your doctor may be forced to work backward and try to find out what's wrong by observing the effects of treatment.

If your pain can be relieved by application of an electric heating pad or an ice bag, by a freezing mist from an ethyl chloride spray, by injection of a "trigger point" with local anesthetic or by a few aspirin tablets, he'll feel pretty confident that your troubles are minor.

And if your pain is relieved by what's called a "specific" drug, like an antirheumatic or an anti-spasmodic if you're suffering from simple colic, he's won the daily double by picking both the winning diagnosis and the winning remedy.

Unfortunately for patient and physician, winning the daily double is the exception rather than the rule.

However, fortunately for all concerned, there are innumerable methods and means to relieve pain.

When the previously mentioned simpler remedies fail of their purpose, it may be necessary to give an injection of morphine or a morphine-like drug, administer a whiff of a general anesthetic like "laughing gas" or even chloroform, pull an infected tooth, release the pus from a boil, free a stone that's gotten stuck in a biliary or a urinary passage, remove a slipped disk or a fragment of bone or a tumor that's pressing on a nerve cable, or destroy a rolled up nerve end that's been producing agonizing distress in the "phantom limb" an amputee no longer possesses.

But whatever the pain and wherever it's located, it's the patient, who must provide the physician with a word picture of its characteristics and associations.

Without your verbal assistance, your doctor would be as helpless as if he were a veterinary and you, a dumb animal.

And without your estimate of the effects of treatment, he'd be as confused as you'd be if the phone company installed a receiver but failed to provide you with a directory.

Compton County Museum Society Holds Meeting

COOKSHIRE — There was a large number of members and a number of interested friends at the meeting of the Compton County Historical Museum Society, which was held in the Easton Town Hall on June 14. Island Brook, Maple Leaf, Randolph, Sayreville, North River, Birchton, Learned Plain, Bury, Canterbury, East Angus, Eaton and Cookshire were all represented.

The president, Leslie MacLeod, of East Angus, was in the chair, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. George Parsons. The treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Bishop, of East Angus, gave the financial report.

Since the previous meeting, the chimney on the museum has been repaired, and also some other necessary repairs made, bills for which were presented and ordered paid.

The painting of the building was discussed and the unanimous opinion was that the present finances would not permit the carrying out of this project.

It was decided to arrange a meeting of the committee to put the interior of the building in a condition to start receiving all the valuable relics which have been promised from all over the County. Canon Dunn suggested that a delegation of members attend the annual meeting of the Stanstead Historical Society, to gather what information they could from their custodian, and also from the custodian of the Knowlton Historical Society, as to the proper steps to follow in receiving the articles.

Present at the meeting was Mrs. Cora Austin, of Maple Leaf, who is 94 and a hearty welcome was tendered her by all present.

Border Club Holds Meeting At Stanstead

STANSTEAD — Misses Elsie and Jean McIntosh and Ruth Wing were co-hostesses for a delightful meeting of the Border Business and Professional Women's Club at the home of Miss McIntosh.

Mrs. B. Gilbert Feted At Shower In Tomifobia

TOMIFOBIA — Lussier's Hall was the scene of a pleasant event when relatives and friends of Mrs. Boyd Gilbert, the former Gladys Hatch, gathered to shower her with stork gifts.

Mrs. Gilbert had been invited to a shower for another friend and on arriving was taken by surprise. She was presented with an appropriate corsage of small bab articles by Mrs. Herman Sisco, and escorted to a chair where decorations were carried out in pink and yellow. The hall was further decorated with seasonal flowers.

Mrs. Gilbert was assisted in opening the prettily wrapped gifts by her elder sister, Mrs. Douglas Putney, and mother-in-law, Mrs. M. Gilbert. The gifts included a high chair, blankets, hand knits and many other useful refreshments, which included a pretty stork cake made and decorated in white and pink by Mrs. E. R. Embury.

Guests attended from Montreal, Rock Island, Stanstead, Graniteville, Beebe, Fitch Bay and Tomifobia.

CURRIER —

Mr. H. C. Bryant and Mrs. R. A. Patterson were visiting relatives in Beebe and Newport, N.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shuttleworth, of Barrie, Ont., were guests of their daughter, Mrs. C. J. Bryant, and Mr. Bryant. They were enroute to their new home in Nova Scotia.

VOTE BARRETTE AND SOUND FINANCE

The 15 members arrived around six o'clock to enjoy a half hour in the beautiful gardens, and later the brilliant sunset, overlooking Lake Memphremagog and the mountains, and the hostesses served a tasty chicken supper.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, and the Club Women's creed was read by Miss Florence Cavanagh. Correspondence was read and dealt with accordingly.

A sum of $10 was voted to the Frontier Swim Project. An invitation was read from Mrs. Victoria Plow inviting the club to her place in North Hatley in August, when Mrs. Jean Smith of the Montreal Club, the Border Club proxy at the Biennial conference in Winnipeg this summer, will be a guest speaker. The date will be published in August.

Dr. Henrietta Banting, of Rock Island and Toronto, will be the guest speaker at the Winnipeg Conference, and in September will be a guest of the Border Club at a dinner to take place in Newport.

After adjournment a social hour was enjoyed.

There will be no July meeting.

Twin Sisters Feted At Shower In Coaticook

COATICOOK — Mrs. George Sarrasin and Mrs. James Barron were joint hostesses at a delightful shower when they entertained at Mrs. Barron's home in honor of Miss Evelyn Davis, a June bride-elect, and her twin sister, Mrs. Lynn Bennett, of Montreal, whose marriage took place a few weeks ago.

About 30 friends and relatives greeted the guests of honor, each of whom was somewhat surprised, since she had been invited to a shower for her sister. They entered the living rooms to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" played by Mrs. Grover Kendrick, and each received a corsage made and presented by Mrs. Charles Akhurst.

Later in the evening Mrs. Bennett and Miss Davis were given similar table-lamps and magazine racks, and both expressed sincere thanks and appreciation to the hostesses and guests.

Refreshments were served by several of the brides' younger friends, Miss Jo-Ann Boisclair, Miss Leona Williams, Miss Margaret Grady and Miss Verian Barron.

I.O.D.E. Chapter Holds Meeting In Melbourne

MELBOURNE — The regular meeting of Udolphus Lord Aymer Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on Friday, June 10th in the Melbourne Town Hall with 19 members present.

The secretary was asked to send a letter to the Legion thanking them for the use of the hall for the winter.

Mrs. Somerville reported that Grade IX had had an enjoyable trip to Quebec.

The report from the Street Fair showed a substantial balance and the secretary was asked to write to the French Protestant Church thanking them for the use of their tables.

The correspondence consisted of a letter from Provincial Chapter and several thank-you notes for donations and remembrances. Mrs. Smith reported having sent 40 pairs socks and was instructed to order more wool for summer knitting. Mrs. McMorine reported having sent one basket of fruit.

It was decided to have an annual tag day and Mrs. MacNaughton asked for volunteers as taggers.

Mrs. MacNaughton announced the semi-annual meeting will be held in St. Johns in October, and that Udolphus Lord Aymer Chapter will be 40 years old on Dec. 1, 1960.

The treasurer's report was very gratifying, and all bills had been paid. Mrs. Delaney was voted $5.00 for use for the box to be sent to the Veterans.

Mrs. MacNaughton thanked the hostesses and asked Mrs. Morrill and Mrs. Gavin to be hostesses for September.

W.I. Holds Card Party In Hall At Lower Ireland

LOWER IRELAND — The Women's Institute of Inverness held a successful card party at Lower Ireland Anglican Church Hall.

A good crowd attended from Theford Mines, Inverness and surrounding district. A large choice of prizes was displayed on a table and each winner, according to the number of punches on their tally card as their name was called, went forward to choose a prize.

Robert Bullard was called first as he had a complete tally card for the number of games played. Mrs. Fred Cox was presented with the consolation prize for holding a zero tally card.

There were two door prizes, Douglas Robinson having the lucky number for the 1st prize, and Allan Little for the second prize. A blanket donated by the Cookshire Woollen Mills was auctioned and was purchased by Mrs. John Cruickshank.

Allan Little held the lucky ticket on a half gallon of maple syrup donated by Mrs. Fred Cox.

The proceeds of the evening amounted to around $80. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

A DATE OF DECISION

This may be the only piece of National Union election literature that is of your attention . . . if it is, then this is indeed a moment of decision.

Wednesday JUNE 22, you have a date that can have a highly important effect on your future as a citizen of Quebec.

Since 1944 — without a break — the National Union government of this province has put Quebec first in every field of endeavour. New records have been established in mining, education, health, social welfare, industry, power development, etc.

And there is a new look to the N.U. — a strong hand at the helm — Premier Antonio Barrette, a man of the people, leading on to even greater achievements.

JUNE 22 — you have a date of decision — a date to vote for the proven performance of the National Union, a date to make certain of still greater future attainments.

Stanstead Fish And Game Notes

By IVY HATCH
(Record Correspondent)
AYER'S CLIFF — All roads led to this village on Tuesday evening, for the annual banquet and social evening of the Stanstead County Fish and Game Club.

The banquet was held in the dining hall at the Fair grounds, where the women's societies of Beulah United Church served another of their fine family style home-cooked dinners.

Head table guests included: the guest speakers, Leon Lorrain, chairman of water pollution committee for the Province, from Sherbrooke, and Scott Rowden, Vermont State warden, r.m.s. Rowden and daughter, Susan, Derby; Pete Lang, West Shefen in parts of the Province. The speaker was introduced by Rene Paquette, a club director from Waterloo, and thanked by the club president, Winfield Hunter.

Scott Rowden, introduced and thanked by Philip Poaps, vice-president of the club, showed a film, Keeping America Beautiful, and showed how litterbugs can mar the beauty of the lovely countryside and show places.

Speaking briefly, he said that Vermont State, from fishing license revenue, is purchasing rights of way for access to lakes for anglers, but so far much money has been spent in cleaning up litter left by anglers, their families and friends.

Mr. Hunter welcomed the members and thanked all who had contributed to the success of the evening; the men and women of the church for the banquet, those who contributed prizes and others too numerous to mention.

POLLUTION PROBLEMS
A program was held in St. George's Parish Hall which was filled to capacity.

Mr. Lorrain spoke on water pollution problems and its menace to fishing. He said the two main sources are human and industrial pollution, that science has conquered water disease but not entirely pollution. He told of the plans of the Quebec Provincial government who will in the near future work with an all over authority to combat pollution and of the present comprehensive measures now being tak-

LEN O'DONNELL'S Sport Shots and Pot Shots

INGEMAR JOHANSSON AND FLYOD PATTERSON CLASH MONDAY

On Monday evening at the Polo Grounds, New York, three issues will be decided when Floyd Patterson attempts to regain the heavyweight championship from Ingemar Johansson in a scheduled 15-round bout.

First, it will be determined whether Patterson can prevent the Swatting Swede from again ramming his mighty right fist down his throat to repeat his third-round knockout of a year ago.

Second, it will be decided whether Patterson, the youngest man ever to win the title, can become the first to win it back, even if he eludes the potent Johansson punch that felled him seven times, before the referee intervened.

Third, it will be discovered whether a group of well intentioned, but inept, promoters can ram an unattractive match down the throats of the public.

The answers to all these questions will be answered Monday evening but we doubt very much if they will be in Patterson's favor. We pick the Big Swede to repeat and retain his world title. We won't go as far as naming the round but reading the stories out of the training camps we like Johansson.

A lot of the experts figure that Johansson will be over-confident but we doubt it. He has done a lot of hard training for the past six weeks and is all set. Patterson, on the other hand, has a lot to remember. He must keep strict watch for that right and this should bother him a little and keep him on the lookout.

Humbert Fugazy of Feature Sports, Inc., promoter of the return battle, figures that about 30,000 spectators will pay $800,000 to watch the show at the ball park. The seats are scaled from $100 down to $10 but the real money will come from theatre television and Telepromoter is hoping for $2,700,000 from that source.

Advance sales has already brought the sum of $500,000 and it is expected that another $500,000 will come from other rights. So all in all it should be a good proposition despite the experts, who predict it won't come anywhere near those figures. The complete figures will be available on Tuesday and it will be interesting to see how the "boys in the know" come out on their predictions.

The members of the Lennoxville Golf Club are having a special tournament of their own today. George Masse, local representative of Molson's Brewery, has kindly donated the prizes and if they are in keeping with the other Molson golfing events then there will be some beautiful ones at stake. The ladies will tee off at 4.30 and the men anytime during the day. The prizes will be presented in the evening at a special event.

We had the pleasure of attending the annual dinner of the Stanstead Fish and Game Club Tuesday evening at Ayer's Cliff. To President Win Hunter and his executive we would like to convey our thanks.

The meal was delicious and as for the pies, they were excellent as well as the service. The meeting was well attended and we are sure that everybody had a wonderful time. Thanks again President Win.

Boxing is certainly taking up quite a lot of space these days and with Jake Lamotta admitting he took a "dive" against Billy Fox in 1947 things don't look too rosy in the game.

Senate investigators are digging in and if they keep up we are sure lots of things will be discovered. They only scratched the surface and have yet to reach the "big boys" in the business and we doubt if they ever will.

The subcommittee's chief counsel, Rand Dixon, charges that boxing is "rotten from top to bottom" and needs federal regulation. This sounds very good but we wonder how they can go about it. New York police detective Frank Marrone, a specialist in boxing rackets, claims that racketeer Frankie Carbo is the undisputed overlord of professional boxing.

Carbo is now serving a two-year sentence for undercover activities in boxing and in the meantime he delegated his powers to Frank "Blinky" Palermo. We think the subcommittee has a big job on their hands and with all that kind of money involved we don't believe they will ever get the boys in charge. Just too much money and mobsters in the game, who are willing to act as front for the mobbed men.

It could go on and on for years as "money" has a way of talking and the "big boys" won't hesitate to throw it around for the proper protection. So where will it stop? A good question with the solution a long way off.

It seems that Stan "The Man" Musial, expected to wind up his illustrious career on the St. Louis Cardinals' bench, is willing to play for Pittsburgh Pirates. Musial liked the idea of winding up his career with a winner. He is a veteran of 19 major league campaigns all with the Cards.

General Manager Bing Devine stated that as far as he was concerned Musial, on and off the field, has been, is and always will be a Cardinal. He said that Redbird owner August A. Busch Jr., declared that Musial would never be traded and would never play for another ball club. So it looks as though "Stan The Man" will end his career with the Cards.

The Canadian Trotting Association and the Ontario Racing Commission are battling for powers of control at the old Woodbine track in Toronto. The Commission has issued a directive and a showdown must come before the scheduled opening in July.

It is so sweeping that the CTA has only one recourse and that is to place under suspension any owner, trainer or driver racing a horse at Woodbine until the courts clear the question. It will be interesting to see just how far the CTA will go against the Commission. We think they will suspend everybody who breaks the order, especially this year the way they have been going.

Natural GOLF No. 38 - One Piece By JIMMY DEMARET. The club, hands, wrists and arms begin the swing in the pitch shot as one piece. Perpetuating the feeling that the arms are close together, the left arm is straight as the wrists begin to cock, the right arm and elbow close to the side. The wrists have fully cocked as the backswing is finished. The left shoulder is almost directly under the chin. The right arm is close to the left side, the elbow remaining down. ANGLES NEARLY IDENTICAL. As indicated in the accompanying illustration, notice how the angles of the knees, hips and shoulders are nearly identical. NEXT: The hands unleash stored-up power.

Two Games Slated For Tomorrow Night In Junior League

Bromptonville Royals Visit Kist, Fuller Travels To Coaticook, Both Fixtures To Commence At 7:30 p.m.

Bromptonville Royals visit Kist and Coaticook Canadians host Fuller in two Junior Baseball League games scheduled for tomorrow evening at 7:30. The Royal-Kist fixture is to be contested at the Municipal Stadium while the Canadians-Fuller meeting is to be decided at the Coaticook Ball Park.

With the exception of Bromptonville, teams of the Marie-Louis Fortier loop have been battling neck and neck with the result that spectators have been treated to some excellent ball tilts. It is impossible to predict the outcome of most of the games now being played in the loop as the teams are surprisingly equal in all departments of play.

In the Brompton-Kist game, Kist is heavily favored to take the tilt on the basis that the Royals haven't won a game in four starts. Kist, on the other hand, have a 1,000 percentage and are on top of the league.

Kist has a good steady club this year and can handle anything the other squads have to offer. Although there are no exceptional standouts for the league-leaders, the whole team plays together and anyone can see the results from the loop's standings.

The Fuller-Coaticook game, on the other hand, is unpredictable and the result could go, either way. In the last meeting of the two clubs on Thursday night, the Canadians edged the hosting Fuller, nine some 6-4. However, this evening the visitors will be out looking for a win which would put them in a tie for second with the Indians and the Canucks.

All, in all, Sunday's fixtures present a well-balanced lineup which certainly shouldn't fail to please ball fans of the area. All spectators are welcome to attend the tilts and they both are slated to commence at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

Ted Williams Smashes 500th Homer As Sox Edge Indians 3-1, Orioles Maintain Lead, Down Detroit 3-1

Ted Williams hit his first major league home run 21 years ago when Wynn Hawkins was a toddler of three in East Palestine, Ohio.

The 41-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger belted his 500th Friday night. He got it off Hawkins, a right-handed rookie pitcher with Cleveland Indians.

The shot through the mist at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium put Williams, already in a class by himself among today's stars, with the elite of baseball's all-time sluggers - Babe Ruth, Jimmy Fox and Mel Ott, the only others to hit 500.

It was Williams' eighth homer of the season and cracked a third-inning tie for a 3-1 Boston victory that slipped Cleveland to third place in the American League race.

Baltimore Orioles retained a 1 1/2-game lead by beating Detroit Tigers 3-1. New York Yankees, alone in second place, defeated Chicago White Sox 4-2. Washington Senators beat Kansas City Athletics 3-1.

Williams' homer followed a single by Willie Tasby off Hawkins (4-4) and gave the last-place Red Sox their first decision over Cleveland in seven games this season.

Frank Sullivan (3-6), winning two in a row for the first time this season, sent the Indians to their third straight loss with a four-hitter. The big righthander walked two men and struck out 12, blanking the Indians, who have lost six of their last seven.

Souchak Breaks Two Records At Open, Only Needs Pair of 70's Today To Smash Hogan's 72-Hole Mark Of 276

DENVER (AP)—Cherry Hills, the course they said would play as easy as picking a plum, already has yielded two records to hungry Mike Souchak in the National Open golf tournament.

Souchak, a former Duke University football player, needs only a pair of 70s in today's final double round to break the 72-hole record of 276 set by Ben Hogan at the Riviera Country Club in Los Angeles in 1948.

Two marks, also set at Riviera, were smashed Friday. Souchak fired a four-under-par 67 to hit the halfway point in the championship with a 36-hole total of 135 for a three-stroke lead over runner-up Doug Sanders of Miami Beach.

The best previous 36-hole start was 138 set first by Sam Snead at Riviera in 1948 and later matched by Hogan at Dallas' Northwood Club in 1952, and by Dick Mayer and Billy Joe Patton at Inverness in Toledo in 1957.

A 36-hole total of 147 or better was needed to qualify for the last 36 holes. Never before had it taken less than 148 to get into the last two rounds.

Attendance record? In addition the record open attendance of 43,377 set at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N.Y., last year should fall today. A total of 28,610 attended the first two days.

The forecast was for more 90 degree weather. Sanders had a 68 Friday. He started the double round today at 1:38 with Dow Finsterwald, former champion Jack Fleck and Jerry Barber at 1:40, and defending champion Billy Casper and Sam Snead among five at 1:41.

Australian Bruce Crampton, LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS FIGHTS LAST NIGHT New York - Marcel Piguou, 159-15, France, stopped Edgardo Lousse, 160, Argentina, 7.

Large Field To Compete In First Tournament On O'Keefe Golf Circuit, Special Event For Golfing Huots

GRANBY - Gerry Huot, the pro at Granby-St. Paul Golf and Country Club, reports real enthusiasm among Quebec's professional and amateur golfers for the first Pro-amateur tournament of the "1960 O'Keefe Golf Circuit" slated for the Granby Club this weekend.

To date, the draw list for this tournament lists 47 professional golfers from all parts of the province as well as 151 amateurs. Total registration is estimated at 50 pros and 200 amateurs for a contest which offers a purse of $1000 for Pros and $500 in merchandise value for Amateurs.

There has also been much interest aroused by the special Huot family competition. There are 8 pros, and 7 amateurs in the Huot family, and they'll be competing for the "O'Keefe-Huot Trophy." For the top Huot Pro, there's a prize of $100, and for winning Amateur $100, merchandise prize.

The tournament opens today and the class "B" and "C" players will be playing while tomorrow the low handicap golfers and the professionals will be competing. The first threesome was listed for 8:30 with the last booked for 1:24. Post entries will go out after the field.

On Sunday the field will commence at 10:30 while the first professionals will commence at 12:06 and the last threesome will be at 2:32. Joe Leblanc, pro at the Country Club, will be playing at 1:12 with Guy Bissonnette and Jean-Paul Alary, of Drummondville and Beloeil Golf Clubs.

The tail that almost wags the dog in this promotion is the closed circuit corporation (Tele-Premier) that operates the supplementary rights such as theatre television, radio, and movies. There are 230 closed circuit outlets in 160 cities with 700,000 seats. If only half the seats are filled at prices ranging from $3 to $10, the closed circuit record of $1,400,000 set for the second Ray Robinson-Carmen Basilio match could be topped.

There will be no regular television except in a few scattered cities on a community antenna system. Despite the decisive ending of the first fight in which Johansson dropped Patterson seven times while stopping him in the third round, the champion was not an overwhelming favorite to do it again. The odds reportedly were 7 to 5 in Johansson's favor in man-to-man betting. Many thought the price would go up before ring time.

Law Hurls Pirates To 2-1 Win Over Dodgers, Braves Check St. Louis 3-2, San Francisco Downs Phillies 7-3

Left-hander Harvey Haddix finally gave Pittsburgh Pirates a third complete-game pitcher, but the big guys in Pirates run for the National League pennant still are Vern Law and Bob Friend.

The two right-handers have won half of the Bucs' 35 victories (while losing only five), and they've accounted for two in a four-game streak.

Law, backed by Bill Vardon's first home run of the season, became the first pitcher to win 10 games in the majors Friday night, cooling off Los Angeles Dodgers for a 2-1 victory. Pirates held a four-game lead atop the standings.

Second-place San Francisco, with manager Bill Rigney rumored on the way out, ended their losing string at four with a 7-3 victory over last place Philadelphia Phillies. Milwaukee Braves five games back in third, checked St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings. Cincinnati Reds lost their sixth in a row - their longest slump of the year - as Chicago's Cubs took a 6-4 decision.

Law, who has lost two, blanked the Dodgers on four hits until the ninth. Then he got Duke Snider to hit into a game-ending double play after Junior Gilliam had doubled and scored on Charlie Neal's single. Neal had half of the Dodgers' hits, extending his hit streak to 13 games.

Stan Williams gave up Vardon's clinching home run in the sixth, after the Pirates had collected half of their six hits - singles by Dick Croft, Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente - for a first-inning run.

Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda hit homers for the Giants and drove in five runs between them. Mays' triple and Cepeda's sacrifice fly got things started in a decisive three-run fourth against losing lefty Chris Short (3-2). Southpaw Mike McCormick (8-2), won't hit, losing a shutout on Frank Herrera's two-run homer in the seventh and then needing relief help in the ninth. Billy Loes saved it, retiring Tony Taylor on a pop-up and then fanning pinch-hitter Clay Dalrymple - getting both with the bases loaded.

LITTLE LEAGUE LOOP

By TED ANDERSON

Young Serge Choquette, Tiger hurler, put on a pitching show which was one of the best of the season so far when he pumped the White Sox 8-2 this past week. The Sox defeat will not do Choquette will be a tough man to face in any game.

Each team, outside of the Senators, have hit the win column. It seems strange that Bruce Smith can't get his boys clicking. Bruce generally gets them away to a good start maybe like the Tigers he is waiting until the big one comes along.

Notice in the batting averages that some of the players are sailing along at a great clip. La-Calle of Senators with eleven hits, R. Stewart, G. Pelletier and W. Gilbert are up in the top four each hitting a nice 667.

The youngsters who watched the T.V. show last Tuesday could not but notice the enthusiasm of the Mexican Little Leaguers. Imagine some of you boys walking seven miles carrying your own equipment to take part in a game. This is the spirit that is needed to make a team a great one, and as the young pitcher in the show said, "from the pitcher's box to home plate is the same in any land." The show was a good one and well enjoyed by all who viewed it.

At the last meeting of the league I understood that Ed Burrows and Al Stewart were chosen manager and coach respectively of this seasons All-Star team. This in our book is a wise choice as both of these gentlemen have a great knowledge of Little Leaguers and under their tutorage the team should make a good showing.

A word in passing to our groundskeeper at the Parade Grounds, this man, as in former years, is doing a great job and his work and interest is greatly appreciated by the Little League executive.

The three stars for the past week are Ricky Stewart, Serge Choquette and Johnny Beerworth.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

A protective wing of RAP fighter planes circled over the crowd of 50,000 as Mrs. Macdonald Buchanan's colt Owen Tudor won the wartime renewal of the Derby at Newmarket 19 years ago today. The classic was transferred from Epsom Downs Tudor, an outsider at 25 to 1, was given a driving finish by jockey Will Neveit.

Premier Barrette Deserves A Mandate

PREMIER BARRETTE is the inheritor of two separate traditions in Quebec politics. The first is that of the late Premier Duplessis, whose colleague he was for so long. The other, much shorter but still substantial, is that of the late Premier Sauve. Mr. Barrette, since his accession to the premiership, has done his best to preserve the best elements in them both. He has had a few months to do so. His achievement has been substantial, and it is our belief that the electors would do wisely to keep him in office after June 22.

The National Union party which he leads has been in power in Quebec, with only one interregnum, for 21 years. Mr. Barrette is therefore vulnerable to the cry that "It's time for a change." The National Union, moreover, is in some respects itself vulnerable, for no party remains long in office without committing substantial sins both of omission and commission. The instinct of an electorate often is—as the federal elections of 1957 and 1958 prove—to vote in its opposition. This argument, not without validity, is seriously weakened in the Quebec of 1960. If the National Union machine remains the same, its leadership does not. Not the voters but death itself wrought the change which elections more often provide.

After the death of Mr. Duplessis, Mr. Sauve brought to the politics of Quebec a changed atmosphere, a different attitude. In every essential the position of this province in the Canadian Confederation remained the same but Mr. Sauve summed up his policy in the simple phrase, "We must so often say 'No,' that it is important to find ways of saying 'Yes.'" When Mr. Barrette took over the reins of office after Mr. Sauve's tragic and unexpected stroke, he carried forward this policy and, in an unexampled session of the Legislature, carried important and long-awaited legislation into the statute books.

He did this with moderation and with wisdom. The mood of expectation engendered by Mr. Sauve was strengthened and it would be a pity if his present appeal for a mandate is not sustained at the polls.
