CITIZENS' MEETING ENDORSES WESTBURY POWER PLAN

Plans Are Advanced For Canada's Diamond Jubilee Celebration

Five Power Reply To The Chinese; Waits On U. S.

France and Britain are in accord upon principles of reply—Details Being Worked Out—Terms Are Not Known—Washington Has Matter Under Consideration.

MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN DECLARED IN SHANGHAI NATIVE CITY

Many Executions Take Place—Revolutionary Conditions—Noted Hunter of the "Reds" Is Sent to Nanking—British Soldier Stabbed—Chinese Minister Protests Against Foreign Gunboats.

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, April 22.—France and Great Britain are in complete accord upon the principles of the five power reply to be made to Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, regarding the anti-foreign outrages at Nanking.

Foreign Minister Briand made this clear today after a counsel of ministers. He added, however, that there were several details to be arranged.

The impression prevails in official circles, that an agreement of the powers in Peking on the joint reply to Chen is awaiting information as to what the United States are going to do.

The diplomats in Peking are arranging all the details of the reply, the terms of which thus far are not known here, either officially or unofficially. It is supposed the reply will be handed over as soon as Washington is heard from.

Martial Law in Native City of Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, April 22.—Martial law was declared in the native city of Shanghai today because of agitation by radical nationalists. Chinese police patrolled the streets and suspicious Chinese were searched.

Six radical leaders were executed in the native city of Shanghai today, but their names were withheld. Headquarters of the Shanghai district of the Kuomintang (Cantonese political party), announced the creation of a special office to hear complaints of "corrupt practices by the gentry and other miscreants." Hearings are to be held each Saturday to adjust infringements of rights arising out of the revolutionary conditions.

At a secret meeting of the moderates, it was voted to send Chow Lu, described as former councillor of the late Sun Yat Sen (first president of the Chinese republic) and a "noted hunter of Reds" to Nanking to direct the extermination of radicals. It is at Nanking that the moderate faction of the Kuomintang, led by General Chiang Kai shek, set up a new government several days ago, breaking away from the radical leaders of the party at Hankow.

Objects to Presence of Foreign Gunboats

HANKOW, April 22.—Eugene Chen, foreign minister of the Cantonese government, has protested against the presence of foreign gunboats in the Yangtze river off Hankow. He has also notified the consular officials that the Nationalist government cannot be responsible for foreign property in Hankow unless foreigners resume business.

Chen asked the foreign business interests to meet him in connection with re-opening their establishments, but they demurred, saying that business was absolutely impossible under present conditions.

A British sailor was stabbed twice when he and a companion were attacked by a mob of coolies today while taking a mekeha ride.

EAGLE LOST WAY AND ENTERED HOUSE

(Associated Press Despatch) HOOKE, B.C., April 22.—Crashing through a bedroom window of a hotel here in a high wind, a large bald-headed eagle smashed a mirror and other breakable furnishings before it escaped, according to the owners, who estimate the damage at $50.

CHARGES IN B.C. LEGISLATURE TO BE SIFTED

Government Says They Will Be Sifted to the Bottom—Commission at Work.

(Associated Press Despatch) VICTORIA, B.C., April 22.—Every allegation made in the Legislature against the government through an affidavit of Frank Carlow, of Victoria, will be sifted to the bottom, Mr. Justice Morrison announced definitely yesterday when he opened his royal commission on the Carlow charges.

The clearest ruling from the Royal Commissioner followed a vigorous attempt by Conservative members of the Legislature through their counsel, George H. Cowan, K.C., to show that the government had issued to Mr. Justice Morrison a restrictive commission under which real investigation would be impossible. To this H. A. MacLean, K.C., commission counsel, retorted that the commission would cover all the allegations sponsored in the Legislature by H. D. Twigg, of Victoria.

Following this argument the commissioner started work immediately with Carlow on the stand as the first witness. His evidence was largely a repetition of the affidavit which was presented to the Legislature by Mr. Twigg and which alleged, in brief, that Liberal organization work here was financed by commissions on government liquor purchases.

Local bankers assert that the banking structure is fundamentally sound and no alarm is called for. They accuse politicians at Tokio of making a mountain out of a mole in connection with the affairs of the Bank of Taiwan.

The political crisis which resulted from the Bank's suspension, they say, created uneasiness, causing a run on the banks. Under the circumstances, however, the local bankers declare that a moratorium may solve the crisis.

(Associated Press Despatch) SAKA, Japan, April 22.—All banks in Osaka, Kobe and Kyoto were closed today, following upon persistent runs yesterday. Business generally was paralyzed.

Local bankers assert that the banking structure is fundamentally sound and no alarm is called for. They accuse politicians at Tokio of making a mountain out of a mole in connection with the affairs of the Bank of Taiwan.

21 Day Moratorium

TOIKO, April 22.—A twenty-one day moratorium was decided upon by the privy council this afternoon, because of the financial crisis. The cabinet announced that a special five day session of the Diet had been called to begin May 3rd to discuss the financial situation.

Since the beginning of the financial depression in mid-March, it is estimated that thirty banks suspended operations. Six of them were large institutions including the Bank of Taiwan, Limited. The total (about $450,000,000) but accurate deposits affected are reported in the neighborhood of 900,000,000 yen. The suspension of payments and the loss of the suspensions have not been learned owing to the reticence

AUSTRALIA WILL FLOAT A NEW LOAN

$20,655,000 to Provide for the Requirements of the Various States.

(MELBOURNE, Australia, April 22.—The Commonwealth treasurer yesterday announced that the Australian government will float an internal 4,250,000 pound ($20,655,000) 5 1-4 per cent loan to provide for the final requirements of the current fiscal year.

The loan will carry with it the usual sinking fund arrangements. The new bonds will be issued at par and will mature in six, eleven or 16 years, according to the option of the purchaser. Holders of the 644,000 pounds six per cent loan maturing on May 31, 1927, will be invited to convert their holdings into the new loan on the same terms. It is however distinctly stated that none of the funds raised through the new issue will be used to pay off the maturing loan, as special funds have already been set aside for that purpose.

Denies Fighting on Frontier of Rumania

Moscow Report Says Story False and from Rumanian Sources.

MOSCOW, April 22.—A spokesman for the Soviet Commissariat of War declared yesterday there was no confirmation of a report through Bucharest, the Rumanian capital of fighting between Russian and Rumanian frontier guards. The report, he added, appeared to have been inspired by the Rumanian press which in the last several weeks had published similar stories.

He characterized as "pure inventions" other reports, saying trouble had arisen from a Ukrainian separatist movement entailing the refusal of Soviet military contingents to respond to the call for service.

Higher temperatures also were reported in the inter-mountain and Pacific coast states where fruit was damaged by frost.

Much Cotton Land Flooded

Thousands of acres of cotton, potatoes and small grain were destroyed by floods. State and country organizations are supervising relief to upwards of 7,000 homeless in the southwest.

Hickman, Ky., where thousands of refugees were being cared for as the result of breaks in levees above them and across the river at New Madrid, Mo., today was barely able to hold the coursing current in its bed. Hickman lies at a bend of the river, and the dyke there is called upon to withstand the deluge and turn it westward.

A break at Hickman would mean disaster for the Reelfoot sections of Tennessee. Hundreds of workmen are battling to hold the levee.

The Mississippi delta region struggled against long odds as waters spread over 3,000 square miles. Thousands have been forced to flee from their homes; they are marooned, hungry, cold and destitute.

Federal Troops to Aid Mississippi's governor has requested federal troops to aid in rescue and relief work.

Suffering among the refugees was increasing with bitter weather adding to the horror of mud and disease. Epidemics of mumps, measles and whooping cough were spreading with little medical aid available.

Greenville, Mass., threatened by a break in Staps Landing, several miles above it, was apparently fighting a losing battle against the torrent sweeping down through eight counties, workmen have been ordered off the city levee and engineers declared that the city will be flooded to a depth of several feet at least, some time today.

Thousands In Peril In Mississippi Valley; Troops Are Called

200,000 People in Danger Extreme Zone—Improved Weather Conditions May Help Flood Conditions But Add to Suffering.

COTTON CROP SUFFERS

Thousands of Acres Flooded—70,000 Homeless in Southwest—Water Spreads Over 3,000 Square Miles in Delta Region—Special Trains Convey Populace to Safety Zone.

(Associated Press Despatch) MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 22.—The greatest disaster to the lower Mississippi Valley in more than a hundred years was growing more grave today with almost hourly reports of further widespread death, desolation and destruction caused by the furious tide of the Mississippi and its tributaries.

The number of known dead has been placed at twenty-eight and belief was that the toll will grow much greater.

Property damage was estimated high into the millions, and more than a hundred thousand were homeless and suffering from want of food, clothing and shelter.

The most serious conditions continued to centre around practically the entire state of Arkansas, particularly the St. Francis Valley and the Mississippi delta.

Swollen streams in Kansas and western Missouri receded today under clearing skies to permit speeding of food and supplies to hundreds left homeless.

A cold wave that swept out of the Rocky Mountains states yesterday to add to the suffering and threaten fruit and grain, apparently had passed over the southwest this morning. The mercury stood in the upper thirties or lower forties in Kansas and Oklahoma this morning after dropping to the freezing point.

Unconfirmed reports from Knoxville, Ark., said that eighteen refugees were drowned there when a boat was drawn through the crevasse rent in the levee at that point. Pettyville, Ark., was literally wiped from the map when the flood tore buildings from their foundations and swept them away. At Little Rock hundreds of families were in danger and relief work was being pressed forward.

Memphis in Flood Area

Memphis had converted a large fairgrounds into a refugee camp. Governors of Mississippi Valley states and mayors of town affected have issued urgent appeals for aid in caring for the victims.

With the southwest part of the city under water, Beardstown, Ill., on the Illinois river, is continuing business as usual while its citizens board up offices and sand bag stores in anticipation of a twenty-five foot crest. The stage there last night was 23.3. Boats were ferrying passengers to second stories in the flooded area.

STE. SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., April 22.—Unless his party is elected to power on May 16, Arthur Sauve, leader of the provincial opposition will step out and leave the post to some one else he declared at a meeting held here last night.

Speaking before electors of his own county of two mountains, Mr. Sauve declared:

"This is the last election in which I will appear as leader of the opposition. If the majority of electors of this province do not give me their confidence and the power to accomplish the reforms which I offer to the people, I shall not continue to occupy the position which I have filled since 1916 and which I had then temporarily accepted."

"I shall have done my share of service and sacrifice for my province, and I shall continue to represent my county and to serve, in the best possible manner, the interests of my electors."

SEEDING AHEAD OF NORMAL

QUEBEC, QUE., April 22.—Seeding in the province of Quebec generally is fifteen days ahead of normal on account of the unusually fine and warm weather. Rain today is expected to supply the needed moisture for which the soil has been primed.

the open where they were targets for the chilling blasts.

Fort Smith, cut off from the use of wire communication to the east, last night, was believed to be suffering from increasingly dangerous situation. Scores of smaller towns and cities in that section of the state also were cut off and from which many reports of suffering were heard.

The towns of Lillbourn and New Madrid in southeast Missouri were virtually abandoned today as the residents fled before the raging waters of the Mississippi.

Several hundred inhabitants left the stricken area aboard a special train late yesterday. Others previously had been taken to places of safety. Lillbourn, with a population of 1,000, is three miles west of New Madrid, the first to suffer when the levee broke before the torrent.

Nearly all New Madrid county is covered by water and large sections of Dunklin and Pemiscot counties are flooded.

Across the Mississippi where the Arkansas tributaries are piling great heaps of water onto the levees in the Mississippi delta there are probably 200,000 people awaiting with alarm the ever-increasing danger.

A relief train bearing eighteen boats and eighteen men to operate them was speeding southward from St. Louis toward Arkansas. The boats were to be launched, it was planned, when the train had been stopped by the high waters.

Unconfirmed reports from Knoxville, Ark., said that eighteen refugees were drowned there when a boat was drawn through the crevasse rent in the levee at that point. Pettyville, Ark., was literally wiped from the map when the flood tore buildings from their foundations and swept them away. At Little Rock hundreds of families were in danger and relief work was being pressed forward.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO ESCAPED TRAIN TRAGEDY

Archbishop Makes Statement—Story of Survivors—Wounded Perish in Train Fire.

(Associated Press Despatch) MEXICO CITY, April 22.—Archbishop Ruiz Flores stated last night that if Catholic priests participated in the Guadalajara train attack last Tuesday, the Catholic Church was ignorant of it and had no connection with it.

STORY OF SURVIVORS

(Associated Press Despatch) MEXICO CITY, April 22.—Survivors of Tuesday night's train tragedy in Jalisco State, arrived in Mexico City today, estimated the total dead at about 100, of whom 46 were members of the soldier guard and from 50 to 60 were passengers. From five to seven Americans were on the train but none was injured. The survivors, who reached the capital on a relief train, said the bandits or rebels who derailed the engine then attacked the train shouting, "Long live Christ, the King."

"They robbed the express coach of 200,000 pesos, but did not lock the passengers in the burning coaches, as stated in previous reports. After robbing the passengers, they ordered them to leave the coaches, which were then set afire."

Some of the passengers and soldiers however, were so severely wounded as to be unable to move. These were left within the coaches and were burned to death. Three wounded soldiers survived of the military escort. These three saved their lives by discarding their insignia and passing as civilians.

The attackers poured a heavy rifle fire through the coaches immediately after the derailment of the train, which was bound from Guadalajara to Mexico City. The soldiers returned fire from the windows and platforms of the coaches until overcome. The bullets of the attackers are said to have caused the majority of the deaths among the passengers.

The charge that a Roman Catholic priest directed the attack against the train was made by Patricio Villalobos, of Tepic, a passenger, who was among the wounded brought to Mexico City. This priest, he charged, boarded the train after the military escort had been silenced, ordering his men to kill all passengers suspected of being soldiers.

Villalobos had one leg shattered. He escaped death in the fire through the assistance of a woman and Sergeant Isidoro Arduaga, one of the three survivors of the military escort.

Sergeant Arduaga with soldiers fought from the military car until his comrades were killed. Then unable to prevent the rebels from entering the car, he dropped to the floor shamming death.

Reference was also made by the chairman of the electric department to the satisfaction which the city's manufacturers expressed at the power furnished by the city, adding that, in his opinion, the manufacturers were the wage earners of the city and consequently their opinion was of considerable importance.

Ald. Newton said that he did not want the ratepayers to have an idea that if Westbury was developed that it would immediately begin to give revenue. It would require a period of up-building, as was the case at Weedon.

Weedon Plant

Commenting upon the financial standing of the Weedon plant, the speaker pointed out that the total revenue of this plant for a period of ten years from January 1, 1917, until January 1st, 1927, was $895,448.18, while the total expenses for the same period amounted to $556,909.81, leaving a total profit for the ten years of $338,538.37.

Financial Standing of Department

Ald. Newton gave figures regarding the financial standing of the gas and electric department for the year ending December 31, 1926. In this connection he pointed out that the 1926 bonds outstanding was $1,465,012; other liabilities, $36,746.18; bonds retired, $24,990; book value less depreciation, $2,502,234.09; depreciation reserve, $363,341.62; total net revenue electric, $360,477.67; and operating expenses, electric, $100,454.40.

Says More Power Necessary

Ald. Newton made reference to the study which had been given by the City Council to the Westbury proposition, saying that they were thoroughly convinced that the additional power development was necessary to the city. Referring to the Westbury site, he remarked that years ago when the city first purchased at Westbury they failed to secure the rights of the river bed, which still remained the property of the government. The City of Sherbrooke had, however, been very fortunate, he said, in being able to

PUBLIC MEETING TO DISCUSS WESTBURY DEVELOPMENT NOT LARGELY ATTENDED

Alderman Newton Explains Proposition, Submits Figures, and Urges Support of By-Law.

POSSIBLE FLOOD DAMAGE

Quebec Central Interest in the Matter—Meeting Concluded With Adoption of Resolution Endorsing Proposal—Comment on Small Attendance at So Important Meeting.

About forty interested citizens availed themselves of the opportunity of meeting Alderman Newton, chairman of the city gas and electric department at the City Hall, last evening, to study and discuss the proposed power developments at the Westbury Power Basin involving an expenditure of $500,000 which is to be submitted to the ratepayers in the form of a by-law on Wednesday next.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor J. K. Edwards and among those present were a number of members of the City Council.

After calling the meeting to order and making a few introductory remarks, the Mayor asked Alderman Newton to explain the situation regarding the city's power proposition and to explain to the public the reason why it was found necessary to develop more power at Westbury.

Making use of many figures and reports regarding the city's electric department, Alderman Newton gave a comprehensive explanation of the situation.

Growth of Electrical Demand

During his remarks, Ald. Newton compared conditions as far as the electric department is concerned with a few years past and at the present time. Only a few years ago, people, he said, used small candle-power lights in their homes, and one light burning in one room of the house at a time was the custom. Today every household is equipped with electrical appliances of all kinds, such as toasters, heaters and stoves, and the one light in a room has been replaced by several lights to a room, while lights are left burning in all parts of the house. This called for additional power and the increased demand had to be met.

Reference was also made by the chairman of the electric department to the satisfaction which the city's manufacturers expressed at the power furnished by the city, adding that, in his opinion, the manufacturers were the wage earners of the city and consequently their opinion was of considerable importance.

Ald. Newton said that he did not want the ratepayers to have an idea that if Westbury was developed that it would immediately begin to give revenue. It would require a period of up-building, as was the case at Weedon.

Says More Power Necessary

Ald. Newton made reference to the study which had been given by the City Council to the Westbury proposition, saying that they were thoroughly convinced that the additional power development was necessary to the city. Referring to the Westbury site, he remarked that years ago when the city first purchased at Westbury they failed to secure the rights of the river bed, which still remained the property of the government. The City of Sherbrooke had, however, been very fortunate, he said, in being able to secure rights of the river bed from the government without having to submit to a public auction. He also reminded his hearers that very favorable reports had been prepared in connection with Westbury by Mr. Arthur Surveyer, Montreal engineer, the city engineer and other engineers.

Suggested Making Delay

After Ald. Newton had concluded his instructive talk, Mr. A. W. Reid addressed the gathering, referring to the report which had been made by Mr. Surveyer, stating that he understood Mr. Surveyer had made his report from government figures and not from actual survey of the land at Westbury, and asked if it would not be advisable to postpone the passing of this by-law for a couple of weeks or even a month in order that the action of the land in the springtime might be carefully studied. Such procedure, the speaker said, might prevent future flood trouble, when the city might be called upon to pay heavy damages for land flooding or for damage to the Quebec Central Railway line.

This suggestion brought a storm of protest from Ald. Lorange who arose to address the meeting, saying that if the previous speaker was representing any certain company to come forth and say so openly. The Council had carefully studied the Westbury matter, he said, and he objected to the stand taken by any citizen in coming at such a late hour to challenge their decisions.

Mr. Reid replied to Ald. Lorange stating that he represented no company but was at the meeting as an interested citizen. A public meeting had been called by the Mayor to study and discuss the Westbury matter and he therefore felt that as this meeting was the first opportunity which had been afforded the citizens, that he was quite in order asking any questions in this connection.

The Mayor, as chairman of the meeting, said that the meeting had been called expressly for the purpose of securing the opinion of the citizens and that inquiries and suggestions were in order.

Explained Stand of the Quebec Central

Mr. Roy, attorney for the Quebec Central Railway, was also present at the meeting, and as a result of mention being made of a possibility of flood damage being done at some time to the Quebec Central lines, briefly explained the stand which his company takes on the matter. The Quebec Central Railway, he said, was in sympathy with the development of the city, but it must protect itself at all costs. This meant that if the Quebec Central line suffered damage for which the city was responsible, it would be expected that the city would bear the consequences and pay for the damage.

This stand, Ald. Newton said, was a very just one and one which the Quebec Central Railway was perfectly justified in demanding.

We Cannot Stand Still; Must Have More Power

The city cannot stand still, but must have more power, ex-Alderman A. C. Skinner said, in commenting upon the by-law. He expressed himself as being thoroughly in accord with the proposition and thought that it was in the interests of the city. Mr. Skinner asked if the by-law was passed by the ratepayers would the work at Westbury be done by contract or day labor. Ald. Newton replied saying that he personally favored contract work.

Meeting Passed Resolution

After the matter had been fully discussed to the satisfaction of all present, a motion was made by Mr. E. A. Bernard, ex-president of the Board of Trade, seconded by Mr. D. O. E. Denault, stating that the meeting was thoroughly in accord with the proposed by-law. This motion would have been unanimous but for one vote. In seconding this motion Mr. Denault referred to the small number of citizens present when such an important matter was up for discussion.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES HELD AT AYER'S CLIFF

Special Programme of Sacred Music Put On During Evening Service—Happenings and Personalities of Interest.

AYER'S CLIFF, Que., April, 22.—On Sunday morning the Easter service in the United Church was most inspiring and helpful. The offering of potted plants and cut flowers made the church interior bright and beautiful. The celebration of the Holy Communion followed the morning service.

The order of service in the United Church Sunday evening was entirely of a musical nature as follows: Instrumental duet, organ and cornet, Mrs. W. H. Rexford and Mr. F. Wyman; anthem, "Sing Ye Hosannas," (Ashford) the choir; quartet, "The Garden of Gethsemane," (Palmer), Messrs. M. W. Johnston, W. H. Thomas, I. G. C. Thomas, H. I. McFadden; solo, "He Was Despised," (Hendel), Mrs. N. Thomas; solo, "The Resurrection and the Life," (Shackley), Rev. W. H. Thomas; anthem, "Awake Up My Glory," (Barnby), the choir; duet, "Come Unto Me," (Parks) Mrs. M. W. Johnston and Mrs. Churchill Moore; quartet, "Resurrection Morn," Messrs. Johnston, Thomas, Thomas, and McFadden; cornet solo, "More Love to Thee," Mr. F. Wyman; anthem, "O For a Closer Walk," (Foster) the choir; with Easter hymns, Scripture readings and prayers interspersed.

Easter service in St. George's Church was held at seven o'clock in the evening. The service was placed upon the altar by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bailey. The church beautified with potted plants. Special Easter music was provided by the choir.

Rev. Francis F. Waldron conducted service of the Holy Communion and song in the Advent Christian Church on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mrs. J. E. Bailey entertained the members and friends of St. George's Guild on Thursday afternoon, April 14. A large attendance welcomed the proceeds of the tea to $17.50. Mrs. B. G. Morrill poured tea, while Mrs. G. G. Fish, Mrs. E. H. Chadsey and Mrs. S. E. Bangs assisted the hostess in serving.

A large number of relatives and friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. John Hurd on Wednesday, April 13. The Misses Bailey, of Waterville, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bailey.

Miss Dorothy Ansell recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, of Prescott, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Norman Elliott and son Bruce, of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. A. E. Chadsey visited her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Rudd, of North Hatley, on Wednesday, April 13.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICES AT LENNOXVILLE UNITED CHURCH

Splendid congregations greeted the Easter Day at the United Church, Lennoxville. A record number joined in the communion of the Lord's Supper. The musical appointments were of a high order and the organist, Mrs. Leonard Brodie was in the best of form. The Easter anthems were sung with fine expression and volume by a large choir. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston, of Ayer's Cliff, old members of the choir, rendered valuable assistance. Mrs. J. G. Tremblay sang an Easter solo, "Hosanna," which gave plenty of scope to her full contralto voice. In the evening service, Mrs. J. K. Edwards, of Sherbrooke, sang her fine soprano voice being particularly at home on the higher notes. The Easter hymns helped to make the day one of joy and praise.

FUNERAL OF MR. ROBERT I. SUITOR HELD

The late Robert James Sutor was born at St. Catherine's, Que., on August 6th, 1872. When eleven years of age he moved with the family to Leeds, County of Inverness. In the year 1897 the deceased was married to Margaret Wareing. There were three sons, Ernest William, Roy Lyster and Oliver John, all living near or on the home farm. Eight years back, the family moved to a farm near Huntingville at a time when there was a considerable exodus of English speaking people from the farms around Leeds.

Mr. Sutor was a good man, a fine neighbor, a splendid worker, but much sickness in the family and his own illness of the past three years made real success difficult. The funeral was held from the home at Huntingville on Good Friday, (March 18th). The service was

BUSY SESSION AT LOCAL COURT THIS MORNING

Six Judgments Rendered by Judge J. H. Lemay in Magistrate's Court — Five Liquor Cases from Hereford on Roll.

Hereford was well represented in the local Magistrate's Court this morning when five men from that section of the province appeared before Judge J. H. Lemay on a charge of breaking the Canada Temperance Act, which is in force in Compton County. Each pleaded guilty, four receiving $100 fines and costs, while the remaining man received a fine of $50 and costs.

Those receiving a fine of $100 and costs were Joseph Couture, Henri Lamarche, Abraham Guay and Alphonse Boivin, while Pierre Couture was given a fine of $50 and costs.

J. O. alias Midas Renaud, of Megantic, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by High Constable P. Lanctot and Deputy High Constable J. H. Genest, came up before Judge Lemay on a charge of selling liquor without a permit. The case was postponed until May 20.

Joseph Miller, of Massawippi pleaded guilty to a charge of interfering with an officer, who was carrying out his duty, and was ordered to pay the costs of the case and sign a bond of $100 to keep the peace for a year.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB

Last night the guest and speaker at the Y's Men's Club was Mr. G. S. Sampson, the campaign manager for the Y.M.C.A. financial drive. Mr. Sampson in his address pointed out the high standing that Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A. has in the movement and made an appeal for the heartiest support by every member of the club. The secretary also had a short message of encouragement for the members present and the prospects for the campaign are exceptionally bright.

PLAY WELL PRESENTED BY LOCAL TALENT

The play, "Strictly Business," given last evening in the Cambridge School Assembly Hall, under the auspices of the Ladies' Circle of Trinity United Church, was much enjoyed by the large audience present.

The story of the play hinged on the many perplexities of church work, a relation between the Ladies' Aid and the pastor's family, and provided many funny situations and practical views partly hidden in humor.

The first act was a home scene, in which the pastor, his wife and little daughter conversed on various matters relative to the church and parish to which they had just come.

A street scene in the second act was well presented by Mrs. R. I. Dean as a spinster, and Mrs. J. Thomas as a widow, who indulged in heated discussion regarding the new pastor and his family. The third act was a Ladies' Aid meeting,

MOTION WAS ADJOURNED IN THE METZ CASE

Crown Prosecutor Forest Will Not Present His Motion to Have Evidence of Theodore Valle Taken Down in Writing Until Tuesday Next.

Upon a request by the attorney for the Crown, the motion which was to have been made this morning in the case of the King versus James Metz was adjourned until Tuesday next.

In this motion the Crown was to ask the court to grant permission to have an ante-mortem statement made by Theodore Valle, one of the chief witnesses in the murder trial of James Metz. Valle, it will be recalled, was in the home of the late Edouard Valliere, on New Year's morning when Valliere and Helene Dubois were fatally shot, while Valle was very seriously injured.

Owing to the fact that the next session of the Court of King's Bench will not be held until next November, the Crown is asking the court to have the evidence taken down in writing, so that in the event of his death it could be used as evidence at the hearing in November.

LENNOXVILLE

COUNCIL ADOPTED DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

At a recent meeting of the Town Council a resolution was passed adopting daylight saving time. The resolution reads that the summer time will go into effect from Sunday, May 1st, but whether from Sunday morning or Sunday night the churches will doubtless make their own interpretation.

General Notes

The soloist at St. Georges Church at the morning service on Sunday will be Mrs. Mackay, of Sherbrooke. In view of the fact that so many residents in Lennoxville will be in the flower of the growing of flowers on account of the efforts of the Dahlia Club to beautify the town, it would be helpful if parents of growing children would assist by restraining them in the matter of their choice of flowers. A lot of small flowers of little feet can do an enormous amount of damage in a short time, particularly at present when the ground is soft. A little care now like the proverbial "stitch in time" might avert more serious trouble later on.

Stanstead College Notes

Easter holidays are over and the students are now bending to the last lap of the year's course. Wednesday was an ideal opening day and it found a very large percentage in their places. The college grounds are taking on their usual summer attractiveness. The tennis courts have been receiving special attention and are now all ready for action.

Of the teachers who remained at the college during the holiday, Mr. and Mrs. Mackay, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. and Mrs. McFadyen to Boston. The latter attended the Eastern Commercial Teachers' Association convention held at the Hotel Statler in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. McMullan, of Quebec City, are spending their Easter holidays at their summer cottage at Lake Park.

Of this, of course, providing excellent comedy, but ending in an appropriate way.

Mrs. C. Hersey took the part of the president of the Aid; Miss Clara Hyndman that of the secretary, and others taking part were Mr. Rhys Lloyd, as the pastor; Mrs. M. T. Wiggitt, as his wife; little Kathleen Hall as their daughter; Mr. Corcoran took the comedy roll of an Irish woman; Miss Jean Morrison, Mrs. Miller Hall, Mrs. E. D. Bradshaw, Mrs. George Phelps; Mrs. R. H. the Misses Kate Sangster and Doris Green completed the cast. All the actors portrayed their roles in a capable way, and the attractive way in which the play was presented reflected credit upon the committee in charge. Mrs. Gordon Dunbar, Mrs. George Hall and Mrs. Walter Combs.

During the evening's programme Mr. Louis Steele contributed violin solos, and candy was sold, this adding to the proceeds which were most gratifying, the hall being well filled with an appreciative audience.

Y.M.C.A. FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN

The campaign manager, Mr. G. S. Sampson, has just received a communication from Mr. Guy Toombs, of Montreal, that Mr. Dent Harrison, who has done splendid work in Montreal in connection with Y.M.C.A. campaigns, will visit Sherbrooke on Monday evening, April 26th, addressing a supper meeting of workers in the Y.M.C.A. at 6.15. Besides the workers there will be friends of the Association who have the interest of the work at heart, and it is expected that the campaign will get off to a good start.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

2ND SHERBROOKE TROOP

The "novelty" meeting held by the 2nd troop last evening was a decided success, and the innovation was considered an excellent one by everyone present. Instead of the usual horseshoe being formed at the commencement of the meeting, the troop formed into a circle, and an Indian "war dance" was carried out with all appropriate ritual.

Tenderfoot O'Boyle officiated at the flag break, replacing troop leader Waller, and the latter named leader pronounced the opening prayer. The general and special inspections usually carried out by the officers were in the hands of the patrol leaders who inspected each other's Patrols for competition points. "Fair play" was notable in this, as although it was in their power to reduce the competition standing of their rivals, the patrol leaders carried out the examination most impartially.

The "buddy system" was brought into play for the class work period, and although it is difficult how effective this proved to be, it was certainly a departure from the usual procedure. A scout chose a chum to work with and they endeavored to instruct each other in the various badges, etc.

The "novelty game" period under A.S.M. Lynn Trussler was extremely popular, and the different "novel" games were undertaken with great zest. An "officers' patrol" was entered in the contest and won a lot of fun. The result of this patrol was given the name of "skunk" in view of the fact that it usually finished up far behind their youthful and agile opponents.

The feature of the evening came at the council fire, when A.S.M. J. Blake, and A.C.M. Clarence Blake related some of their experiences during their recent long journey around the South eastern states. This was indeed most interesting, with the remarks of both speakers centering particularly upon the scouting incidents which came their way. A new sidelight was thrown upon the type of American scout and their activities, etc., and undoubtedly the boys of the 2nd Troop will have a much wider and more intimate knowledge of their American brothers since listening to the talks delivered last evening. Some interesting souvenirs were shown around to the boys, and some Florida oranges distributed, which were much enjoyed. Mr. Harold Rooke then followed with a splendidly delivered recitation, which received much applause.

Announcements made by Scoutmaster Giovetti included reference to the registration fees, troop fees, good turns, the Trussler shield competition, the next meeting of the Court of Honor, attendance competition, Hugh Paton ambulance trophy competition, the annual summer camp, and the contemplated rally of E. T. Scouts and Cubs for Victoria Day. The sugaring off hike planned to take place on Saturday has been postponed. Owing to the illness of Patrol leader Jay Thissen it was also decided that the troop basketball team would not be able to play their scheduled game at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday evening. The standing of the Patrol competition is as follows: Beavers, (P. L. Marianne) first with 422 points; Lynx, (P. L. Edwin Brownlow) second with 322 points; Eagles, (P. L. Jay Thissen) third with 274 points, and Wild Geese, (P. L. Arnold Price) bringing up the rear with 252 points.

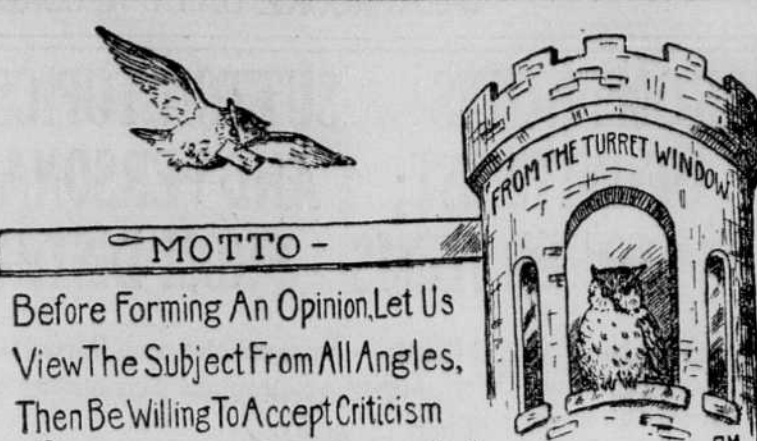

A brief meeting of the Court of Honor was held subsequent to the usual session, and current business matters disposed of. It was decided that the patrols be reorganized at the meeting next week. Scoutmaster Giovetti announced that he had a plan which he thought would prove very suitable to put into effect in this connection. The meeting was brought to a close with the usual exercises. The next meeting of the 2nd pack of wolf cubs will take place on Tuesday evening commencing at 7.15 o'clock, and as Bagheera the panther, (A.C.M. Blake) will be upon the council rock for a yarn it is expected that there will be a full turn-out of members. Ahead of the old wolf (Cubmaster Price) states that an unusual programme has been arranged.

TODAY'S QUOTATION: "EVERY WAR IS A NATIONAL CALAMITY, WHETHER VICTORIOUS OR NOT."—VON MOLTKE.

Today's Inquiries
Dear L.B.O.—Please give me a few facts to show the growth of peace and the idea of arbitration as a way to settle difficulties in the world. Was the first peace conference at The Hague instituted by Queen Wilhelmina? Can you give me the date of this?

The Turret Window is a welcome addition to the Record.

Yours truly,
B. A. F.

Reply:—The idea of arbitration is not a new one, but during the past half century greater moves have been made. It was at the invitation of Czar Nicholas II that the Disarmament Conference was held at The Hague in the summer of 1899. The Convention was signed on July 29, 1899, by France, Russia, United States and thirteen other powers. Early in 1901 the Court of Arbitration at The Hague was established.

Prior to that numerous arbitration and conciliation acts were passed in Great Britain, New Zealand, etc. The New Zealand Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act was passed in 1894. On May 31, 1902, peace was declared in South Africa and terms of treaty signed by British and Boer representatives. In 1904 the New Panama Treaty was signed (November 19).

On January 7, 1918, President Wilson delivered his famous Peace Address before Congress; on November 11 of the same year the Armistice was signed. January 10, 1920, League of Nations assembled at Geneva; January, 1925, Inter-Allied Financial Conference was opened; in May of same year International Arms Conference was held; September 10, 1926, Germany was received into the League of Nations.

The above facts and dates are the chief events of wide interest relative to the working out of a world peace plan, which appears at times to be a most warlike one. Conferences and arbitration meetings are being held throughout the world, and let us all hope that they will bring the right results.

L.B.O. thanks B.A.F. for the kind words about the Turret Window. It is still in its infancy, but with the help and interest of readers it will grow.

Dear Little Owl!—Why do the ladies go around clutching the left-side-front of their coats? It makes 'em look as though they were trying to hide their nakedness. Maybe they are. Or maybe they have appendicitis on the wrong side. But they remind me of myself coming out of the bathroom in the morning holding onto my bathrobe. (Didn't think we had bathrooms out in the country, eh?) Well, my advice is—put a button on and you'll feel safer.

COUNTRY RUBE.

Answer:—These caustic remarks bring us from grave to gay matters—though C.R. may think the problem of the one-button coat a tragedy. Yes, C.R., it is rather an odd habit—that clutching of the left-side-front, but to be candid, L.B.O. doesn't think the ladies look more ridiculous than the men who go about town with both hands dug deep in pants pockets and coats a mass of wrinkles down the back. Of course the latter present a more jaunty appearance, any they're often interested to know that some of the new spring coats have two buttons, but as to improvement of matters—wink and learn.

Window Notes

The spring breeze whispered to L.B.O. that the objectionable fence that hides one of Sherbrooke's pretty river views is to be removed. Whispers do not always come true but let's hope this one does.

The fact that Forest Protection

Week is April 24-30, does not mean that every precaution should not be taken now and everywhere. The country has never been more susceptible to fire, and because of this very one should remember that it is much easier to start than to put out a fire.

CLOSING OF ART CLASSES LAST EVENING

Large Gathering in City Hall, When Prizes Were Awarded to Students in the Classes Conducted Under Direction of the Council of Arts and Manufactures.

The closing of the Free Drawing and Industrial Classes, also the Solfeggio Classes for the season of 1926-27 took place last evening in the City Hall, when a large gathering, representative of the Council of Arts and Manufactures, teachers, pupils and interested citizens of Sherbrooke were present.

Mr. J. W. Gregoire, local member of the Council, presided, and extended a cordial welcome to all. Those occupying the platform besides the presiding officer, were Mr. Cleophas Blouin, of Lewis, vice-president of the Council and now acting president, owing to the death of the president, the late Mr. Thomas Gauthier; Mr. J. P. L. Beaubien, secretary of the Council; Fathers Simard and Codere from St. Charles Seminary; Mr. J. W. McKee; P. Dubuc, N. F. McKee; the teachers of the various departments in the Sherbrooke school, and several ladies among them Mrs. Edwards, wife of the Mayor of Sherbrooke, Mrs. O. P. Duford and Madame Sagala, teacher of the Free-Hand Drawing classes.

Among those who made addresses were Mr. Gregoire, President Blouin who emphasized the importance of advancement and encouragement in the work; Father Simard who extended congratulations; Mr. McKee, who gave practical advice in saying that the students must take time to do their work well, and also reminding them that "we must either go forward or backward."

Between the addresses and the awarding of prizes the students of the Solfeggio class sang a selection from Romeo and Juliet, under the direction of Mr. Leonidas Bachand. The singing, in both male and female voices showed that good progress had been made during the winter, and that the work reflects credit upon the teachers and pupils.

Mr. Gregoire presented the prizes to the students.

Marks of Progress.

The number of students attending the 1926-27 classes in Sherbrooke was 438, and compares favorably with other cities. The total attendance in the province this year was 5483, compared to 5027 for the year before, thus making an increased attendance of 456. The Social and Personal

Mrs. W. A. Morehouse returned home today from Montreal, where she spent Easter with her son and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolff Moore Street, returned to Montreal yesterday, accompanied by Mr. Ralph Mosher, of Boston, Mass.

Mrs. F. F. McGill left yesterday to accompany her father, Mr. Benjamin Cross, of South Durham, to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Doud, of South Durham, brought their little son, Gordon, to the Sherbrooke Hospital last night, where he underwent a serious operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Doud is staying in town the guest of Mrs. F. McGill.

The regular meeting of the W. A. of Plymouth United Church was held yesterday afternoon in the church hall. Various items of business came before the meeting during which final arrangements were made for the May Musical, an annual event which will take place on Friday, May 6th. It was also decided to hold a rummage sale at the market on May 27th. A social half-hour followed during which tea was served.

The "Cafe-Chantant" given last evening in the Elks Hall, under the auspices of the Duke of Wellington Chapter, L.O.E., proved a success in every detail. The hall looked most inviting with table arranged along both sides, the decorations being candles and flowers alternately, and the national colors were used effectively throughout the hall. An excellent dance programme was provided by the orchestra, and the evening's amusements were greatly enjoyed by all present. The Chapter and the entertainment committee especially are very grateful to the Order of Elks for the assistance willingly given. The evening proved so enjoyable that the Chapter anticipate having another such event in the near future.

The many friends of Miss Hazel Sisco, of this city, will be pleased to hear that she is making good progress towards recovery after her operation on Wednesday last at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mr. Fenwick Parker, who has been a patient at the Sherbrooke Hospital for some time past, was removed yesterday afternoon to his home on Portland Avenue. Latest reports state that his condition is still very serious.

The card party and tea given yesterday afternoon in the tea room of the Saint-Jean Ltd. store was under the auspices of the French ladies interested in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital. There was a good attendance, and the proceeds from the dance and also the sales commission for the day were very gratifying.

The Belvidere Women's Institute held its April meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Parkin with a good attendance of members, and the president, Mrs. A. Ellis, in the chair. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted and at the conclusion of business routine, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Adanac Bridge Club gave a surprise party last evening to Mrs. Arthur Price, Woodward Avenue, it being the occasion of her birthday. The members of the club called in the early evening, and though their visit was unexpected they were most welcome. Bridge was played and the prizes were won by Miss Irene Hutchinson and Mrs. A. H. Bartlett. During the evening Mrs. Price was presented with a gift from the club, with accompanying good wishes for many happy returns of the day.

The card party, food sale and tea given yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the 53rd Chapter, L.O.E., at the home of the regent, Mrs. A. E. Wiggitt, Fulton Avenue, was a decided success. The visitors were received by Mrs. Wiggitt and Mrs. G. Waller, and ten tables were in charge of Mrs. A. H. Wiggitt, Mrs. W. McCaw, Mrs. G. Dunbar, Mrs. C. P. Buckland, Mrs. E. FIVE YEAR OLD BOY INJURED AT FARNHAM

(Special to the Record) FARNHAM, Que., April, 22. — The five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Salim Habib, of this place, was critically, if not fatally injured last evening at about 7.30 o'clock when he fell from a veranda three storeys high landing on the cement sidewalk below.

According to accounts of bystanders who saw the child fall, it appears that the little tot was playing alone on the veranda and had climbed upon a chair to look down into the street below. Suddenly the boy lost his balance and fell head first, striking the side of his head with a terrific impact. He was carried to his home nearby and Doctors Boisseau and Demers were hurriedly summoned. An examination by the medical men showed that the child was suffering from a fracture of the jaw and left leg and it was feared that the skull was also fractured. The boy was taken to the St. Joseph Hospital, Montreal, this morning in an attempt to save his life.

School of the Richmond and Melbourne United Church, Mr. H. A. Jones, a superintendent of the school, has arranged for the various classes on each of these lessons in turn, prizes being awarded to the essayists. This method is proving helpful and instructive, and is creating much interest.

Modern Women's Hygiene

Ends worries of old ways
Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

SHEER gowns and gay frocks, business and social exactitudes under the most trying of hygienic handicaps are a comfort women of today enjoy.

This because old hygienic ways are being widely supplanted by a new way called Kotex.

Kotex discards as easily as tissue. Thus laundry, no embarrassment of disposal.

It's 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads." Thus you wear lightest frocks; dance, motor, go for hours without a moment's doubt.

Deodorizes, too; thus ending all fear of offense. 8 in 10 better class women now employ this way. Doctors advise it. Nurses widely urge it. Obtain at any store without embarrassment simply by saying "KOTEX."

Try today and you'll never again risk the uncertainty of old ways. Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

QUEBEC CENTRAL'S ENTRY INTO UPPER TOWN.

On June first of last year, the Quebec Central Railway took over the operation of the Boston and Maine line from Sherbrooke to Newport, being a part of the road resigned by the Boston and Maine to the Canadian Pacific.

Another railway change, it appears, is now about to be consummated, when all Quebec Central trains will run into the C. P. R. instead of the C. N. R. station in Sherbrooke. This is a natural outcome of the close affiliation of these roads and has been anticipated for some years. It is believed to involve a considerable financial advantage for the two lines, through improved facilities for the transfer of passengers and express from one to the other.

The change will very greatly increase the volume of incoming passengers at the upper town station and correspondingly decrease those at the lower town depot.

This is not without interest to business concerns in the two sections of the city. The opening of a station at Newington will be of convenience to those across the river.

Is not the time approaching when the street railway will find it advantageous to improve its service to the C. P. R. station. At present the Fairmount line runs to a dead end. A return loop via the station might offer a solution, though provision for this was not made in the construction of the new overhead bridge.

The passing years bring many changes. The Quebec Central's entry into the upper town station will be a local event of considerable importance in 1927.

OPTIMISM IN THE WEST.

The westerners are always optimistic. They see good in the blanket of snow that has just fallen upon the wheat fields. It saturates the soil with moisture and is a guarantee against drought during the first half of the season.

Conditions in the West have an important bearing upon the prosperity of all Canada. The East hopes with the West for a bountiful 1927 crop in the prairies.

THE MILK EMBARGO

The future of the dairy industry is receiving serious consideration as a result of the action of the United States, both in the enactment of the Lenroot bill and the subsequent embargo order.

Reference was made to the situation in this column yesterday. The Ottawa Journal deals with the matter at some length, the Ottawa Valley coming within the restricted zone as well as the Eastern Townships.

The Ottawa paper says in part: Exporting of raw rather than manufactured material is a risky business, subject as it is to the whims of Washington officials and politicians. The Canadian farmer finds himself with his market gone for the time being at least. He is between the devil and the deep sea. He is at a loss to know what to do with his milk. If he starts in again to build factories and creameries the expense involved will be considerable. And such a course would hardly be justified with the possibility of having the embargo lifted, not remote by any means. To find a market in Canadian cities at this season of the year is simply out of the question, with all the principal centres finding it difficult to keep surpluses from accumulating. With milk a perishable product, it will easily be seen that the burden carried by the farmer is not only costly but a problem hard to solve. Probably if it were any other season than spring the American Government would not be so keen on exacting a penalty, unjustified to this extent, that in the greater part of the area under ban the milk produced is as good in quality as can be obtained in any part of the two countries affected. During March, April and May milk production is always heavy, the supply for the city trade always exceeding the demand. Secretary of Agriculture, W. M. Jardine, knowing this is playing safe with the city consumer, who is not going to be made suffer as a result of his action, while, on the other hand, the longer he can keep the embargo on the more pleased will be the American farmer because it safeguards his interests at a time when most needed.

This would seem to be just the sort of "get together" problem that Hon. Vincent Massey could exert his genius on. If he can solve it he will provide definite proof of the importance and value of his new office.

THE PHILOSOPHER.

Die when I may, I want it said of me by those who knew me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower where I thought a flower would grow.—Abraham Lincoln.

MICE

(By Dr. Frank Crane)

Out from a late region near Bakersfield armies of mice began to invade the surrounding country.

All the resources of the inhabitants were summoned to contend with them.

They came not in hundreds but in millions. People dug trenches and filled them with poison grain. Many of the mice died, but their brothers kept right on.

The United States government has been appealed to for aid.

This calls attention to our greatest menace from the lower world.

Man is always in combat with the little folk from microbes to mice and to maintain his place upon the earth. It would seem as though human beings had enough trouble fighting the insects and other small creatures without fighting each other.

Yearly the crops in various districts are menaced by pests of one kind or another and human ingenuity is taxed to the utmost to contend with them. It is a well accepted theory that most of the diseases incident to humanity arise from microscopic organisms and scientists are constantly on the watch for other organisms to combat them.

The study of the entomology of the mouse world and micro organisms is not a useless and ornamental study alone, but has very practical bearings.

Respect the bugologist. Mice along with mosquitoes and flies are natural enemies of mankind. They must be kept in check or they will destroy the human race.

Of course mice and other "such small deer" should not be tortured, but any plan to exterminate them mercifully and quickly should be encouraged.

Nature "red in tooth and claw" makes them the prey of birds and other animals. Somehow nature preserves the balance in her realm.

Any species of small animals if left alone would speedily overrun the earth. The shade it allowed to breed and hatch without limitation would soon fill up the ocean. Their multiplicity is only kept down because they are the prey of other creatures.

Swat the fly, kill the mosquito and exterminate the mice.

This should be the programme of men if they wish to retain their position on the earth. It is a mere matter of self defense. Unless we destroy these small creatures they will destroy us.—Cpt. 1927.

PRESS COMMENT

ANGLO-AMERICAN CO-OPERATION.

(London Daily Chronicle)
Until the English-speaking peoples realize their community of interest and ideals they cannot collectively pull their whole weight, which, when exercised, would make them irresistible as an instrument of peace.

USES OF WEALTH.

(Owen Sound Sun-Times)
It is one of the tragedies of the world that those who know so much about spending money have so little of it to spend, while those who have much to spend know so little about spending it. The only comparable tragedy is that when poor people do achieve wealth they almost invariably lose the gift for knowing how to use it.

LEARNING WHAT YOU WANT TO KNOW.

(Christian Science Monitor)
In the past, education has been popularly thought of as teaching people what they ought to know. Thus the idea of teaching them what they want to know strikes one as so novel as to make one pause to think. Yet such is the idea underlying the system being sponsored by the National Community Foundation, in its programme just announced for popular education and cultural advancement in town and country communities. Thus one reads that the aim of the foundation is to "bring to popular education, both for adults and children, a new point of view," the methods used being based upon the endeavor, not merely to impart information, or to provide entertainment, but to develop intellectual curiosity and cultural appetite, and to encourage and direct the impulse for self-expression—as the announcement in question itself explains.

As a matter of fact, this very trend above described actually underlies the new ideal of education. The encyclopedic intellect is coming to be looked upon with growing disfavor, unless, that is, it is associated with the most profound wisdom along the line of its direct utilization. The value of enthusiasm in arousing latent capacity is being seen today more clearly than ever before, and the darkening effect of filling the thought with countless abstract and unrelated facts is being realized with equal force. Moreover, while the importance of a basic training in certain fundamentals must never be overlooked, the enlarging effect of training along the line of individual characteristics and tendencies can never be exaggerated. Such a course represents the difference between swimming with and against the stream. Education, properly conceived, stands for the unfurling of understanding and the training of judgment.

It must not be forgotten, however, in this new educational project that an important feature unquestionably will revolve around the selection of subjects. Though fully entitled to choose what they want to learn, those taking advantage of this new system must see to it that they choose rightly. One of the strong points of the old method has been that the subjects presented have had behind them the weight of world experience. Learning what one wants to know must not be allowed to blind prospective students to the good in what is available today.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FARNHAM FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.

Sir:—Will you grant me space in your valuable paper to tell of an occurrence which happened in Farnham the other day. A fire was started in the grass of a vacant lot by some children, and the lady of the house towards which it was heading, telephoned the fire department, and was told from some source to go to the corner and send in alarm as they could not come for the underwriters to look into and have some different method used to cover a telephone call of the fire department. They have had two or three serious fires here, one resulting in loss of life and you would think it about time they learned a lesson.

Yours respectfully,
H. C. CAMPBELL,
Farnham, Que.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE MR. G. L. MASTEN

For many years Principal of Coaticook Academy

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.

Sir:—Recently I received a clipping from a Toronto Daily, containing an interesting article in connection with one of New York's present noted authors, Dr. B. D. Norwood, a Canadian, formerly of London, Ont. Dr. Norwood relates an incident in connection with his school life, which I am sure will be read with interest by many throughout the Townships.

Not until he was fifteen did Bob attend school and then his father enrolled him in Coaticook Academy. Dr. Norwood tells the following story:—

"Mr. Masten, the principal at one time in teaching botany, asked the pupils to bring him flowers to analyze. So each boy and girl dutifully gathered a specimen and laid it on their teacher's table. Young Norwood, freckle-faced and mischievous, had just finished a banana for lunch, so the idea came to him to put the skin on the table with the floral specimens and await results. Mr. Masten, in a leisurely way, took up the flowers in turn and beginning with "This grows from the root of—" explained each of them. At last he came to the untidy banana skin. But instead of accepting it as a bit of fun, Masten remarked in a severe voice "This grows from the root of impertinence."

"That was the last I ever tried a joke of the kind," declared Dr. Norwood, who, however, has the happiest memories of his school days in Coaticook and a great regard for Mr. Masten, who, he says, took in hand the crude boy he then was and shaped his life.

Dr. Norwood, now pastor of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, New York, is only one of many who today place high value on the years spent in Coaticook Academy under the instruction and influence of the late Mr. Masten.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the valuable space in your paper, I am,

RE-MESSRS. FREEMAN AND ARBERY'S LETTERS.

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.

Sir:—In Mr. Arbery's letter of March 2nd, he stated that Mr. Reed's letter was misleading, and I am decidedly of opinion that he did not approve of him, saying anything like that, for I am certain that there was nothing misleading in it. I agree with what Mr. Reed said, and I am sure his letter had more information in it than Mr. Arbery's chiefly recorded letter. It is to be used in defending himself. Mr. Reed's letter does not give me the least impression that he wished to "fire the last shot" or that he had "run short of ammunition," he merely said that, "as the public in general, which record he had thought that the matter was not worthy of further argument."

"Concerning the gravel question mentioned by my friend Mr. Freeman, I obtained a little information from the North Hatley council, which shows me that on February 7th, J. B. Reed, councillor and John McVernon, superintendent of roads, were appointed to purchase gravel and take charge of the work of hiring teams and hauling for a certain piece of road leading from Minton to North Hatley. On February 22nd, the thirteen teams hired went on a strike for more pay, when it has been clearly proven since that any good team can earn $6 per ten hour day at this job which is all the men in charge thought best to pay, and furthermore the corporation has a standing offer to supply all the gravel they require at the price offered the strikers."

The North Hatley council no doubt knew, without the advice of Mr. Freeman, who to elect to carry out their work so that the money of the ratepayers would not be wasted.

Thanking the editor for this space, I remain,
Yours truly,
A YOUNG FARMER.

CROWDS HEAR CANADIAN
PREACHER IN NEW YORK

Dr. "Bob" Norwood, Formerly of London
Is One of the Most Popular
Ministers

MOST Canadians when on a visit to New York include in their program a Sunday service at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church on Fifth street. For its rector, one of New York's most noted preachers, is a Canadian.

Dr. Norwood, who was born in the land of Evangeline, spent his boyhood in the Magalloway islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Not until he was fifteen did he attend school, and then his father enrolled him in Coaticook Academy, Quebec. Dr. Norwood tells this story of those days:

Mr. Marsten, the principal, who taught the botany class, had asked the students to bring him flowers to analyse. So each boy and girl dutifully gathered a specimen and laid it on their teacher's table. Young Norwood, freckle-faced and mischievous, had just finished a banana for lunch, so the idea came to him to put the skin on the table with the floral specimens and await results. Mr. Marsten in a leisurely way took up the flowers in turn, and beginning with "This grows from the root of—" explained each of them. At last he came to the untidy banana skin. But instead of accepting it as a bit of fun, he remarked in a severe voice, "This grows from the root of impertinence." "This was the last time I ever tried a joke of the kind," declared Dr. Norwood, who, however, has the happiest memories of his school days in Coaticook, and a great respect for Mr. Marsten, who, he says, took in hand the crude boy he then was and shaped him.

On November 25th last, the Thanksgiving Day of the United States, Dr. Norwood preached a sermon that was taken down by a stenographer and published. As he never knows just what he is going to say when preaching, this is the only way his powerful sermons can be preserved. As he puts it, "I'm a wire, and when I've tuned in things come through me."

On this occasion, before a fashionable congregation that packed St. Bartholomew's to the doors, he referred to a fellow Canadian, in part, as follows:

"Last week I wanted to kneel before one of the greatest souls I have ever met on this planet, Jack Holland, who lives in London, Ont. Jack was my first patient when I accepted the rectorship of Crony Memorial church some fifteen years ago. . . . I found a young rebel, a strong young man railing against fate, bawling out against the unthinkableness of a force that would confine him in his early years to a bed through such racking suffering. . . . Gradually the light came into his soul, and then a miracle of God happened. In that city the centre of spiritual force is a young man, who is dead from his feet up to his chin. Sight has now gone from him. But oh, the joyousness of his spirit, the manifestation of his victory. I thought of him as worthy of being numbered among the highest ones, who have learned how to be happy by coming through great tribulation."

When Dr. Norwood left his charge in London, Ont., it was to accept the rectorship of an influential Philadelphia church, the Overbrook Memorial. During his regime the edifice had to be enlarged, and still it continued to be crowded at every service.

When St. Bartholomew's church decided to give up their location in the business section of New York and build a splendid edifice in the residential part, they looked about for a rector who would be a powerful preacher and capable executive to assume charge of the cathedral-like building they erected. Their choice fell on Dr. Norwood, who had made such a splendid success of his Philadelphia charge. Since then it is the usual thing to see crowds of people waiting to get in, and those who want seats well to the front must arrive there early.

Dr. Norwood, whose wife is a Nova Scotian, has two daughters. He is the author of several volumes of poetry, and is an entertaining lecturer. He regards Dr. Chas. G. D. Roberts as his literary godfather, for it was while attending King's College, Windsor, N.S., where the older man was a professor, that he learned to appreciate English literature.

Wonderfully young looking, with almost boyish high spirits, Dr. Norwood is known to his intimates as "Bob." Although for some years he has made his home in the United States, he never forgets Canada.

If the theatrical producers had only elevated the drama half as much as they have the prices in the last few years the public would be satisfied.—The Los Angeles Daily Times.

Silence is the Secret of Success Asserts Baker

GEORGE FISHER BAKER has just attained the age of 87, but he still is one of the dominant giants of Wall Street. The total of his wealth has been variously put at $100,000,000 and at $200,000,000.

He is best known, perhaps, for his silence. This naturally prevents him from being a popular figure. Outside of financial circles few people have heard of him. He has not been advertised nor popularized like Henry Ford. The interviews he has given to the newspapers in his eighty-seven years can be counted upon the fingers of one hand. Charles McD. Puckette, writing in the New York Times Magazine, points out that in a newspaper morgue file the clippings about another banker, a member of the J. P. Morgan firm, who certainly cannot be accused of seeking publicity, fill six large envelopes, while those about Mr. Baker are in a scant two envelopes, each less than one inch thick. And the former has more than 30 years to go to reach Mr. Baker's age.

The one interview that is remembered about him, given four years ago, was, as a matter of fact, on the value of silence. To a reporter who had persisted in sending a request for an interview to Mr. Baker's Tuxedo home was finally sent the reply that Mr. Baker had not granted an interview in 60 years, and would rather support him for life than talk to him for one minute. The letter, however, had a "punch" at the end of it. "Come to the bank to-morrow," it concluded.

The interview was as follows: "Everything is all right. The country is on the road to prosperity, perhaps the greatest prosperity that any country ever attained. But I shouldn't be talking about it. Business men of America should reduce their talk at least two-thirds. Everyone should reduce his talk. There is rarely a reason good enough for anybody to talk. Silence uses up much less energy."

"I don't talk, because silence is the secret of success. There, I've broken my record."

Mr. Baker is chairman of the board of the First National Bank. This is the bank in which Mr. Baker began his career as a teller when it was founded in 1863, and of which he became president in 1877. It has stuck to its knitting and he to his. In 1901 the First National, still operating with a capital of $500,000, with which it had weathered the panic of 1873, declared a stock dividend of 1,900 per cent. That action astonished the country. Even after that the surplus stood at $11,651,724, equivalent to 2,100 per cent on the original capital.

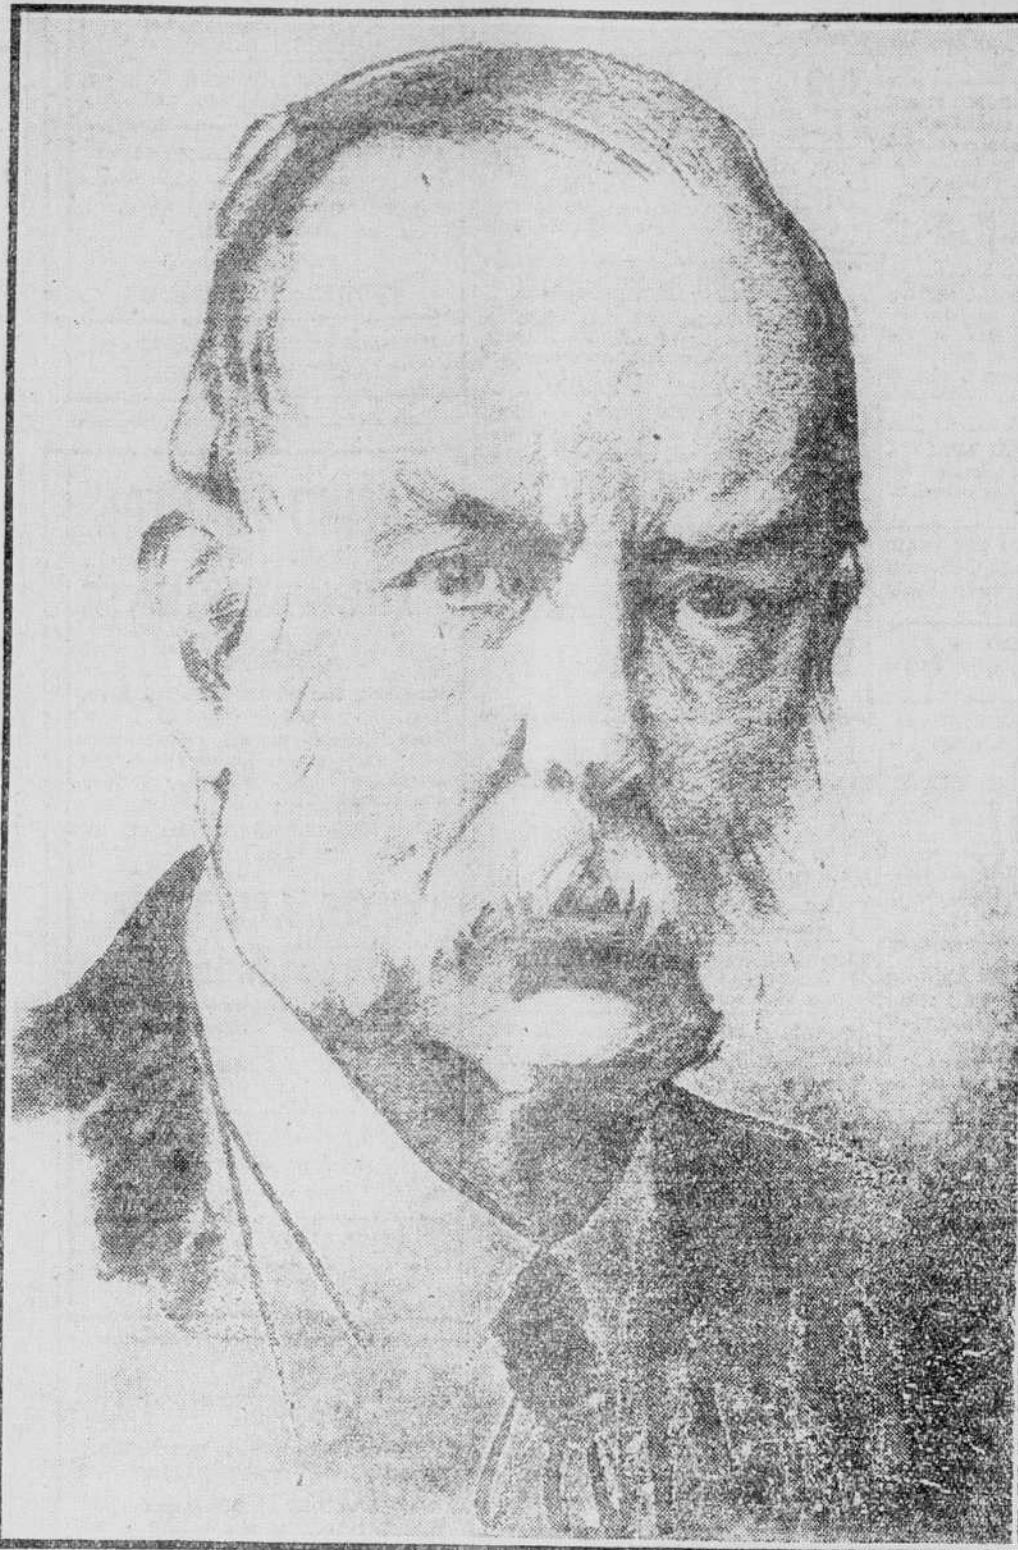

Interests are Multifarious

IT is a matter of record that Mr. Baker is the largest, or one of the largest, stockholders in such companies as United States Steel, Pullman, Atchafalpa, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Lackawanna, Southern, Jersey Central, American Telephone and Telegraph and a host of other companies.

Mr. Baker bought into many of these properties when they were down at the heel. He foresaw the inherent values in them if they were prudently managed. They probably numbered more than fifty.

One of the stories of Mr. Baker, which, unlike many others, has some basis of fact, is that he began a special account for his son, depositing in it all his $20 fees for directors' meetings; and the accumulation, plus Mr. Baker's management, brought this fund up to more than $100,000 when his son reached his majority.

The main amazing fact about Mr. Baker's leadership is that, like John Brown's body, it goes marching on. Other leaders come and go. He alone survives the captains of the march of railroad and industrial wealth. John D. Rockefeller remains, but he has divested himself of his command; and besides that, Mr. Rockefeller was always primarily identified with only one industry. Whereas Mr. Baker and his great friend, John P. Morgan, were generalissimos over many diverse industries.

The evidence is everywhere that Mr. Baker is still at the helm. Within recent months two important committees have been named, one to make plans for a merger of the Northwestern railroads, one to reconstitute the financial structure of the Pullman Company. Mr. Baker's name heads both committees. Of course, no one thinks that this means that Mr. Baker will have to take home work at nights. It is simply evidence, if that were needed, that the leadership of Mr. Baker is an active, present fact.

Took Up Golf at 70

THE friendly association of Mr. Baker and the elder Morgan has no parallel in import in American financial history. Mr. Baker defined that association: "I acknowledge right off that I have an interest in the same things with Mr. Morgan, but we do not have them jointly. We are absolutely free and clear; I can sell mine and he can sell his."

That was a correct statement, but the friendship of those two men was deep, their reliance upon each other great. A few months after they had come through the panic of 1907 Mr. Morgan sailed abroad in ill-health. Mr. Baker called at the library to say goodbye. Mr. Morgan left a group of men and put his hands on Mr. Baker's shoulder, saying: "If anything happens to me I want you to know that my association with you has been one of the most satisfactory parts of my life. I have had many pleasant things in my life, but none more pleasant than this. I want you to remember it always."

stadium last spring she won second place in javelin and baseball throwing, the javelin distance being seventy-six feet ten inches and the baseball one hundred and seventy-eight feet. At the class meet last fall she scored a total of thirteen points, just two points behind first place.

For the past two years she has taken part in the Canadian Pacific Railway tournaments in Quebec, being the only woman ski jumper there. She hopes to graduate in May and teach in the west.

NOT A CENT IN THE HOUSE
BUT GAVE AWAY PICTURE

Cezanne Gave Away Famous Painting of "Bathers" on His Way to Sell It

FROM Ambroise Vollard, the French writer, who had it from Renoir, comes a tale of Cezanne which reveals that artist's characteristic way of meeting a domestic issue. In the early days, when achievement had not yet begun to go far toward filling the larder, Renoir met Cezanne, carrying a canvas. One of its corners was dragging dismally on the ground.

"There's not a cent left in the house," Cezanne deplored. "I'm going to try to sell this canvas."

The picture was the now famous "Bathers," a part of the Caillebotte collection. Shortly thereafter Renoir met his friend again. Cezanne was radiant.

"I'm so happy!" he cried. "I've had great success with my picture. It has been taken by someone who really likes it!"

"What luck!" thought Renoir. "He's found a buyer."

But, relates Renoir (in Vollard's book about him), "the buyer was Cabaner, a poor devil of a musician, who had all he could do to earn four or five francs a day. Cezanne had met him in the street, and Cabaner went into such ecstasies over the canvas that the painter made him a present of it."

QUEEN OF SHEBA GIVES
PREMIER BAD MOMENT

Hon. H. Greenfield Met Queen of Beauty
Who Had High Opinion of Herself

It takes a man as big as Herbert Greenfield to recount a story in which the joke was so distinctly on him!

The Hon. Herbert Greenfield, one of the most prosperous and "knowledgeable" farmers of the northwest, and ex-premier of Alberta, is once more in the public eye, having recently been appointed to the newly-created post of commissioner of immigration for the province of Alberta.

Following upon a three-months' broad and comprehensive survey of the agricultural resources of the province, the Hon. Herbert is now working out a plan for a thoroughly satisfactory selection of desirable settlers from Great Britain, and their best possible settlement, upon their arrival in Alberta. He is about to sail for England to look over the situation there, and to consult with the British government with regard to immigration and colonization.

Mr. Greenfield is a huge, and, withal, handsome man of most dignified demeanor, and a nice sense of humor, as evidenced by his telling a story, hitherto unpublished, of the days of his premiership.

Each year, the pioneers of the province hold an Old Timers' banquet and ball in the huge Palliser Hotel in Calgary. Old Timers, numbering up to a thousand or more, come from all over the province to this great jamboree. They are accompanied by their wives, their sons, and their daughters; to say nothing of "their sisters, and their cousins, and their aunts." All Calgary joins in the demonstration, and everything is carried out in real old-timer style, from the buffalo meat served at the banquet to the costumes, which suggest a glorified Rodeo. The oldest of the pioneers appears in the chaps, spurs, and sombrero of the cowboy!

Upon the occasion with reference to which Mr. Greenfield tells his story, there seemed to be even more pretty girls present than ever before, and when it was suggested that it was time for the premier to open the ball, according to precedent, with the prettiest girl at the party, the Hon. Herbert stood up on the marble steps above the rotunda, a puzzled man, trying, vainly, to pick up the most pulchritudinous maiden out of the throng.

Then he saw her—a stunning thing with a mass of red curls beneath a rakish sombrero. She was clad in leather cow girl costume, with short-fringed leather skirt and bright-beaded coat. Her pliant face was alive with the excitement of the occasion.

"Yes, she was some girl!" said Mr. Greenfield, with a grin, when he told me the story.

So Premier Greenfield descended the steps, made his way through the throng, and approached the young lady, with the purpose of bestowing upon her, the honor of opening the ball with the province's big boss.

With the gentle courtesy becoming to a great man, the premier smiling told the girl: "The dancing is about to begin. May I have the pleasure of the first dance?" and paused for her acceptance. (To be colored, no doubt, by an almost overwhelming embarrassment in realizing the great honor which was being done her!). But—

Miss Redhead stiffened. She cast a withering glance upon this nervous, uninitiated male. "I'm not that kind of a girl!" was written all over her indignant young face. And then: "And who the—-are you?" demanded with quiet dignity, the unspoiled daughter of the great open spaces.

The premier wilted. In a shamed and husky voice, he explained apologetically: "I—I—I'm Mr. Greenfield."

She replied: "It's a cute name, but what of it?" And her tone was quiet but severe.

The embarrassed man hastily elucidated: "I'm the—the—I happen to be the premier of the province—"

Then the maiden actually smiled. "And I'm the Queen of Sheba—" she began. Then, suddenly, she became conscious of the speechless horror upon the faces of the people about her. For a moment, she surveyed the premier thoughtfully; then, unabashed, she spoke to the embarrassed gentleman, and said coolly: "Oh, I say, how stupid of me! Why sure! Premier Greenfield, no less! That's jake! Let's go!"

And she melted into his arms, and the ball was opened, as arranged, by the premier and the prettiest girl.

Author of "Three Men in a Boat" Is
First Author to Receive Freedom of City

HAVE you got as good a philosophy of life as Jerome K. Jerome to carry you along? Mr. Jerome K. Jerome, the famous novelist and playwright who wrote "Three Men in a Boat" and the play "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," is the first literary man to have conferred upon him the freedom of his city.

Last week the people of Walsall, his native borough, did him this honor. In one of the many speeches at the function Councillor Parry, the ex-mayor, aptly summed up the spirit of the occasion when he said:

"It is when I turn to almost the last page in his last book that I find the real man. The humorist and the playwright become the prophet and the preacher; he says:

"The battle of life is a battle not for, but against, self. By wrestling with it, we strengthen our souls."

"It is not our duty that will drag us down, but our want of will to fight against them."

"The joy of labor, the joy of giving, are the wages of God."

"That a man shall so spend his life that when he leaves it he shall be fitted for the service of God, that surely is the explanation of our life and death."

"This then is the man Walsall delights to honor."

We take from the Walsall Observer, which gives a full report of the proceedings, the following passages from Mr. Jerome's speech in acknowledging the presentation. The novelist said:

"Many of my literary friends are knights and baronets, and one of them, they tell me, will soon be made a lord; while others have received degrees of honor from the hands of noble chancellors of universities and heads of royal societies."

"But I am the only literary man who has received his honor from the people. This Freedom of the City (or the Borough)—it is the people's knighthood. I take it you have conferred upon me the Knighthood of Walsall, and I shall always be proud of my spurs."

A character study of Marshal Foch by a youthful Canadian artist, Cecil Thomson.

DIFFICULTY IN GETTING JURY FOR U.S. TRIAL

U.S. Senator Thinks Canadian System Is Superior to That of States—Snyder-Gray Trial.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 22.—The slow process of selection of a jury in the case of the state versus Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray for the murder of Albert Snyder is being watched with interest by State Senator Caleb H. Baumes, head of New York State's Crime Commission.

While the number of Jurymen selected in the case slowly grew to seven yesterday amidst continual objecting by lawyers for both sides, Senator Baumes expressed a preference for the Canadian system of picking juries.

He has made several trips to the Dominion to study the functioning of Canadian courts and next month he will leave with a similar purpose to visit Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and Quebec.

He likes the Canadian system of juries and is hopeful that some of the best ideas may be copied in this state.

"The judge in the Canadian courts is all-powerful," the Senator explained.

"There is no flapping about the selection of jurors. The judge asks the talesman whether he is 'indifferent as to the Crown and the Defendant' and if the man answers in the affirmative he is selected as a juror. That's all there is to it."

"In this country, if a talesman has read the newspaper that seems to be counted as a fact against him, in Canada the courts do not want jurors who do not read the newspapers. If the talesman did not read the papers that fact would probably count against him."

The selection of a jury is often a matter of a half hour only, and I venture to say that the jury is just as intelligent as ours."

U. S. INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL SALE

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 22.—The control of the United States Industrial Alcohol Company passed to interests affiliated with the Air Reduction Company at the annual stockholders' meeting yesterday, and six new directors, all reported to be sponsored by Percy A. Rockefeller, were elected. Rockefeller is a large stockholder in both the Air Reduction Company and the Industrial Alcohol Company.

No change in management is contemplated, it was announced.

COLOR LINE IN N.A.A.U.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 22.—The National Amateur Athletic Union track and field championships were without site today because of fear that racial trouble might creep into the games.

The outdoor classic of the cinder paths, originally awarded to New Orleans, cannot be held there, the southern sponsors of the contests decided yesterday, unless negroes are forbidden the right to compete against white athletes.

The amateur union, firm in its stand that no man shall be barred from the annual games because of race or creed, will call the championship committee together at once to award the championships to another city.

DRIVES TAXI AS MAN FOR SIX YEARS

While her husband was in a soldiers' hospital, Grace Kenney, of Los Angeles, masqueraded as a man and drove a taxi for six years, supporting her little daughter. She says men have it easier than girls in the workaday world. She also took boxing lessons from a professional pugilist. Above she is pictured in both her costumes.

ALFRED LEDUC, OF MONTREAL, FOR CABINET

Premier Taschereau Makes Announcement—New Minister to Run in Montreal-St. Henri.

QUEBEC, April 22.—Official announcement was made by Premier Taschereau this morning that Alfred Leduc, a prominent business man of Montreal, would be taken into the provincial cabinet without portfolio. At the same time the Premier announced that Mr. Leduc would be the Liberal candidate in Montreal-St. Henri.

DUCHESS FINDS AUSTRALIAN TRIP STRENUOUS

Cancels Engagements and Will Take a Rest—Week-End Visit Abandoned.

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 22.—That the Duchess of York is feeling the strain of the tour to Australia with its innumerable ceremonies, is evident from an official statement today that on the advice of medical attendants she has cancelled her private week-end visit to an estate at Ercil Doune, near Melbourne.

It was stated, however, that there was no reason to be concerned over the health of the Duchess, but it was felt that some rest was necessary.

PREPARING FOR SEASON OF SPORTS

Much interest has been shown during the last few weeks and the young people are anxious to get out with the implements of their favorite sport, whether it be lacrosse, baseball or cricket.

Three clubs have already made application for the use of the Exhibition Ball Park, which has been practically idle for two years, since the Sherbrooke Ball Club ceased to operate. These clubs are the juniors, namely, Sherbrooke Lacrosse Club, St. Roch Baseball Club and Notre Dame Baseball Club, and it is the intention of the E.T.A.A. to endeavor to prepare a schedule so as to give each of these clubs an equal opportunity to use the grounds for both matches and practices.

ABERCORN

Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Turner and Gerald and Miss Betty Turner, of Scottstown, were Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Willey.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sheltus and Mr. Kenneth Sheltus, of Bedford, Miss Esther England, Messrs. Gordon and Arthur England, of Sutton, and Miss M. Mary Hastings were guests at Mr. Loftus Smith's on Saturday.

Mr. John Cummings returned home from Bondville on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Loftus Smith went to Phillipsburg on Monday, accompanied by Miss M. Mary Hastings, who remained there.

Mr. and Mrs. Miner, of Glen Sutton, were visiting at Mr. M. D. Lathrop's on Easter Sunday.

The March meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Cynthia Allen. The president presided. As Mrs. Allen, evangelistic superintendent, was not present, Mrs. Hawley read an article from the "Findings" and led in prayer. Several items of business were discussed. Some papers were read on "How a Title and Why." The next meeting is the annual, and will be held with Mrs. B. Damon on May 5. Mrs. Allen served a delicious lunch, assisted by Miss Frances Hawley.

STATE CONTROL OF CAPITAL AND LABOR IN ITALY

Fascist Charter of Labor Has Been Promulgated—Mussolini Outlines Plan.

(Associated Press Despatch)
ROME, April 22.—The Fascist "charter of labor" embodying the fundamental principles of the Fascist-Syndicalist state which is based primarily upon the theory of replacing class struggle by fruitful co-operation between capital and labor under direct state control, was promulgated last night by Premier Mussolini at a special meeting of the Fascist grand council.

The underlying idea of the "charter of labor" is the state's undisputed right directly to control all forces of production, acting as the guardian both of capital and labor, establishing equality of rights and duties between them, compelling them to carry out their tasks for the common good, punishing infractions and maintaining peace between them at any cost.

RESTRICTIONS ON INCOMING CANADIANS

Those Who Live in Canada and Work in States, if of Foreign Birth, Will Be Checked Up.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—United States immigration authorities will be notified shortly that after June 1 residents of Canada born outside the Dominion who cross the border daily to work in the United States must conform to the immigration laws of the country.

It is hoped, too, that confederation plaques can be provided for every school in Canada, which will improve on the rising generation that "Canada is ours and we are Canada's."

Provision is also being made for the issue of historic sketches of Canada's progress, copies of which will be placed in the hands of school teachers through the provincial governments. Another suggestion made was that of offering prizes for the best editorial articles on confederation and also for the most catchy and taking slogan for use in connection with the celebration.

Word has been received that the Canadian Club of New York is raising subscriptions for the purpose of erecting a suitable memorial on Parliament Hill indicative of their continued love for their native land.

The Department of National Defence has assured the committee of its complete co-operation in providing music, troops and parades, and even airplanes.

LIVELY SCENES AT ONTARIO LABOR MEET

Clause of Hamilton Resolution Re Separation from Empire Also Endorsed.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TORONTO, April 22.—The district trade and labor council last night adopted the report of the Ontario branch of the Canadian labor party which met at Hamilton last week, including the clause respecting "separation" of Canada from the Empire.

Delegate Johnson of the Street Railwaymen's Union, said that such a sentiment would never be endorsed by him, while delegate MacDonald, who attended the Hamilton Conference, declared that "separation" had reference to what he termed the tendency of governments to shelter themselves behind the British North America Act restrictions in turning down requests for social legislation.

James Simpson vigorously and vehemently defended Agnes Macphail, M.P., from her "oppressors" in connection with her expressed views on Britain's wars in China.

CAT AS FOSTER MOTHER TO FOX

(Associated Press Despatch)

SASKATOON, Sask., April 22.—A tabby cat, borrowed from a neighboring farm, is rearing a young fox at Fox Ranch, 7 miles from Saskatoon. When the old fox became too nervous, her owner took away her litter of two and placed it under the tabby's care in the ranch house. One of the pups was injured and died. The other, after eight days in the care of his new mother, is doing well.

WHEN CANADA CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Executive Committee at Ottawa Drawing Up Programme—"Canada Is Ours and We Are Canada's," Slogan.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, Ont., April 22.—Judging by reports read before a meeting of the executive committee of the jubilee celebration yesterday, preparations for the holding of this great event are proceeding apace throughout the whole of the Dominion, and the provincial governments and other bodies are taking hold with vigor.

A number of matters of importance were discussed. J. E. McPherson, Montreal, was present and tentatively discussed what was proposed to be done in the broadcasting of the programme, including the Carrillon chiming.

There was further discussion regarding the distribution through the various government departments and local authorities of the handsome bronze medals, two million of which are being struck at the Royal Mint and one of which is hoped will reach every child in the Dominion who partakes in the celebration.

It is hoped that the significance of this historical emblem will induce the younger generation in even the most outlying portions of the Dominion of Canada to see to it that some sort of a celebration is held in their locality. In addition to these medals there will be other medals for competition in the universities, colleges, high schools and other schools. There will be competition for a new issue of silver coins. It is hoped, too, that confederation plaques can be provided for every school in Canada, which will improve on the rising generation that "Canada is ours and we are Canada's."

Provision is also being made for the issue of historic sketches of Canada's progress, copies of which will be placed in the hands of school teachers through the provincial governments. Another suggestion made was that of offering prizes for the best editorial articles on confederation and also for the most catchy and taking slogan for use in connection with the celebration.

Word has been received that the Canadian Club of New York is raising subscriptions for the purpose of erecting a suitable memorial on Parliament Hill indicative of their continued love for their native land.

The Department of National Defence has assured the committee of its complete co-operation in providing music, troops and parades, and even airplanes.

QUEBEC POWER SCORES THREE POINT ADVANCE

Brazilian Moves Forward to 133 3-4—Lake of Woods Off—Confused Price Movements in New York.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Que., April 22.—A three point advance by Quebec Power to 266 and an equal loss by Lake of the Woods at 145 were the chief features of the early trading on the local stock exchange this morning. Trading on the whole was only fairly active. Brazilian led the market and after opening at 133 5-8, off 1-8, moved forward to 133 3-4, unchanged from last night's close. Dominion Bridge at night trading, sold up 1 1-2 point to 150 1-2. Shawinigan, the only other issue traded in to any extent was unchanged at 87.

CONFUSED PRICE MOVEMENTS

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 22.—(Wall Street)—Confused price movements again characterized the opening of today's stock market. Failure of the directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank to follow the lead of the Bank of England in reducing the rediscount rate did not dampen bullish enthusiasm. International Nickel opened two points higher and General Motors, National Lead and Gulf States Steel showed initial gains of a point or two. Electric Refrigeration opened a point lower in reflection of the omission of the dividend.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Wall St. Journal—Powerful stimulus to the forward movement in the main body of stock was afforded yesterday in the action of the Bank of England in reducing its rate to 4 1-2 p.c. from 5 p.c. previously in effect.

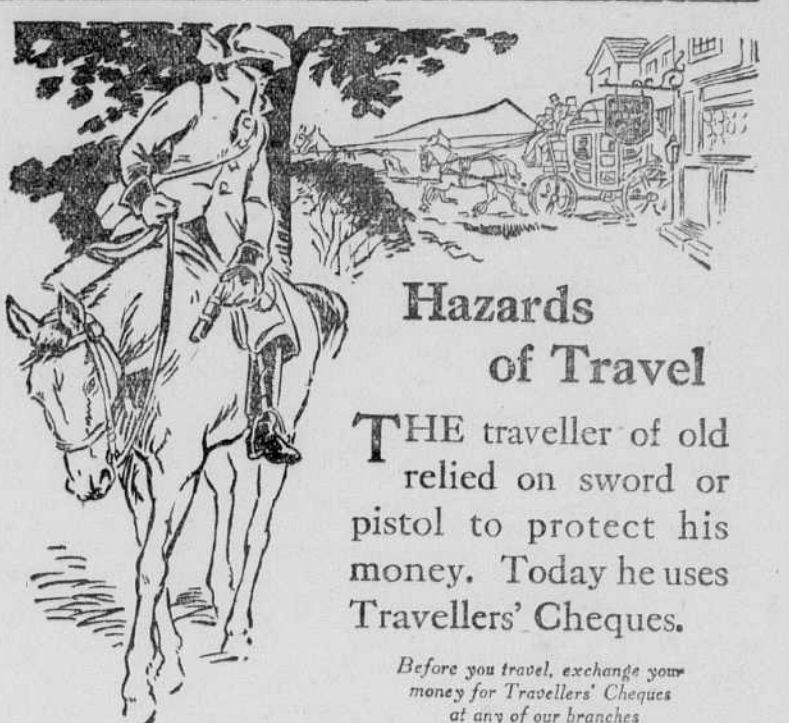

Journal of Commerce—Sentiment was helped by the statement made by treasury officials indicating that business conditions throughout the country are promising and decreasing forecasts of a pessimistic character.

POULTRY CONGRESS PLANS AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, April 22.—The British National Committee of the World's Poultry Congress yesterday notified congress headquarters in Ottawa that the live bird exhibit from Great Britain will consist of seventy-five trunks of poultry, exclusive of the Royal displays. His Majesty the King's exhibit will be bome pigeons, while H.R.H. the Prince of Wales will show buff rocks or utility white wyandottes. In addition there will be live rabbit exhibits of the fur-bearing varieties. The educational exhibit will include some interesting documents from the Poultry Company, one of the old-time London guilds. The poultry industry in Great Britain will be shown in films.

BRAVES BEAT
BROOKLYN IN LIVELY GAME

Pittsburgh and Yanks Also Move
Up a Notch as Result of Yesterday's Games.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, April 22.—Baseball that hooked, dipped and whistled down from pitching peaks on several major league diamonds had veterans and rookies alike fumbling in bat bags today for sticks with "hits in 'em."

The Brooklyn Dodgers were most concerned for Bob Smith, reformed infielder of the Boston Braves, broke his right hand stuff every where but against their bats yesterday in shutting out the Robins by 3 to 0. In many ways, Bob's brilliant hurling performance was the best of the youthful season. He allowed Brooklyn two hits, the first a slow infield roller in the seventh and the second a clean single in the eighth. Two passes did not damage when three of five men to reach first base were snuffed out in double play.

Bob wasn't alone in his glory, however. Two other National League hurlers turned in four-hit performances while one did the trick in the American circuit.

Ray Kremer, who already had won two games for the Pittsburgh Pirates gave Cincinnati a quartette of safe blows and to make the victory doubly certain clicked a home run over the left field wall with a man on in the third. That was all he had to do to get a 2 to 0 decision.

Then Alex Ferguson, patient visitor for years among American League club, right-handed the stubborn Philadelphia Quakers into a 4 to 2 win over the Giants.

Boston fans, hopeful for better days to come, gave Manager Bill Carrigan an automobile before the Red Sox opened the home season against Washington. The tradition among boxers—that if you enter the ring with a garland around your neck you'll come out of it on somebody else's back—held good and Bill's Sox "took on the chin" 7 to 4. Murray and Braxton, Senator youngsters, doled out four hits, to apiece. Tobin hit a homer in the sixth with the bases loaded.

The Yanks posted notice that four-hit performances will be rare against them this summer by losing the Philadelphia Athletics again by 10 to 6. Sammy Gray and Ed. Rummel took most of the punishment. Waite Hoyt saw a finger beak from the Yankee dugout in the fifth inning when all the "A's" runs were in.

Moore, a rookie, finished nicely, allowing but one hit.

St. Louis-Detroit and Chicago-Cleveland games were rained out in the American series and Chicago found it too cold to play the St. Louis Cardinals.

ROCHESTER
OWNERSHIP

Purchased by Hapgood and a Civic Group of Rochester.

(Associated Press Despatch)
ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 22.—Sale of the Rochester baseball club of the International League to George E. Stallings, Walter E. Hapgood and a "civic group" of seven, whose identity has not been disclosed, was completed yesterday. Hapgood announced that he made to William C. Daley, real estate operator, the final payment according to contract and had received approximately 17,000 shares of common stock, thus giving the group control of the club. The sale price was not made public.

A tentative lease on the old ball park in Bay Street also passed into the possession of the group, he held pending the time when Daley may obtain full title to the plot. It is expected that the club's new stadium and grounds in Norton Street may be completed before the season ends, possibly by late in August, and that the club then will move to that location.

Present plans provide for the retention of Stallings as president and manager and of Hapgood as secretary and business manager.

A'S MOST IMPRESSIVE, SAYS EVANS—COBB, WHEAT, COLLINS AND BOLEY TRANSFORMED THE MACKS INTO GREAT CLUB

BY Billy Evans
FORT MYERS, Fla., April 22.—Connie Mack thinks this is going to be an Athletic year. I am strongly inclined to agree with him.

For two years Connie has had the same feeling. Each year at some crucial spot in the race, however, the club has faltered and spoiled his pennant dreams.

Connie Mack is not given to boasting. On the contrary, he prefers action to words. Therefore, it occasioned much surprise in the spring of 1925 and 1926 which he broadcast pennant predictions.

This spring Connie isn't doing much talking. However it is easy to see that he is more than satisfied with his ball club.

"It is as good a team as I ever managed," says Connie, "and you will agree that I have been at the head of several pretty good ones."

Of all the ball clubs that I have looked at in the south, the Athletics at this writing are by far the most impressive. The club doesn't appear to have a single weakness.

Rival American League teams will find the Mackmen have a strong defense, a good running attack, a highly efficient pitching staff, plenty of reserve power and oodles of gray matter.

Possibly some of the veteran stars are a bit lame and halt, but should any of them falter, one or more capable youngsters await the opportunity to fill the breach.

Four players, three of them veteran stars, have transformed the Athletics from a very good ball club into a great one. I have in mind Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Zach Wheat and Joe Boley.

Whatever the club lacked last season, these four players have supplied.

Cobb will put fire into the club, keep it "pepped" up and whether in the game or on the bench, looms as a constant threat.

Collins at second will give the infield stability, smart direction, and prove invaluable to the young infielders with wise advice.

Zach Wheat will give it an added punch at the bat, an asset that will also be supplied by Cobb and Collins.

Joe Boley should prove a brilliant performer at shortstop, where consistency is most necessary to team success. Boley may never lead the league at bat but what a lot of runs he is going to cut off in the field.

Add four players of the known value of Cobb, Collins, Wheat and Boley to a very good ball club and by all the rules of arithmetic, you get a great one as the result.

That is largely the story of the Philadelphia Athletics. It is a team that has been a pennant contender for two years, plus the addition of four stars of outstanding caliber.

There is no smarter man in baseball than Connie Mack. For two years his players have fallen down on his predictions but he is not discouraged. He frankly tells you that he believes this is an Athletic year.

Just a modest way of saying his club will win the pennant.

TRAINING FOR HIS COMEBACK

Plans for Contest With Tunney Are Taking Shape.

(Associated Press Despatch)
LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 22.—Jack Dempsey has started ring work at his "Come Back" camp in the San Rafael Mountains north of here for a return fight with Gene Tunney which he hopes will bring back the heavyweight title he dropped to the big marine. Yesterday he weighed in at 200 pounds.

Dempsey said that a return bout with Tunney probably late this summer for a side bet of from $5,000 to $60,000 would be his idea of settling the heavyweight championship question.

"I don't need a doctor to tell me I'm feeling better than I ever felt before. I'm confident that I can come back—better than ever," he said.

"For the first time I have gotten out from under the strain that must wear down a champion. Now all I have to do is fight. Tunney can do the worrying. If I meet Tunney again I will regain the heavyweight championship. If the fight world thinks I should take on some warming-up fights, I'm willing to do it."

Gus Wilson, Dempsey's manager, will leave for New York Saturday on business in connection with Tex Rickard's plans for Dempsey's next fight.
