WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1959

TWENTY-FOUR PAGES

A CLEAN SWEEP SWEEPS CLEAN: This is a busy season in Westmount for chimney sweeps, who are usually to be found poking around local chimneys at the request of the fire department and in accordance with a city by-law, which requires that all residents have their chimneys swept once a year. The official licensed sweep for Westmount is Roger Paquette, whose family has been in the chimney sweeping business for over 100 years. Here one of Paquette's two employees tackles the job from the top.

Queen approves new RMR liaison

Her Majesty the Queen has approved of the alliance of the Royal Montreal Regiment and the Prince of Wales' Own Regiment of Yorkshire, a spokesman for the RMR, which has its headquarters on St. Catherine street in Westmount, has announced.

This new affiliation is in fact the extension of a close bond which has existed for many years between the Prince of Wales' Own West Yorkshire Regiment and the Royal Montreal Regiment, it was pointed out.

The West Yorkshire Regiment first came into being in 1685 as "Hales Regiment" after Sir Edward Hales who raised the companies. In 1694 it took seniority in the army list as the 14th Regiment of Foot and was later called the Prince of Wales' Own West Yorkshire Regiment. Over the years, the 14th built its famous history and record with service in many parts of the world, including Canada.

Among the battle honors which appeared on the Colors of the West Yorkshire Regiment were Namur 1695, Quebec 1759, Waterloo 1815, Sebastopol, Afghanistan 1879-80 and Somme 1916-18.

The 14th Battalion CEF was formed in 1914 and later became the Royal Montreal Regiment. In 1921, the 14th Battalion was allied with the 14th Regiment of Foot. This association between the old and the new was maintained carefully for many years and proved of great benefit to the younger member of the family.

In 1958 it was learned that the West Yorkshire Regiment was to be amalgamated with the East Yorkshire Regiment and the combined regiments would therefore be known as The Prince of Wales' Own Regiment of Yorkshire, and that the 14th Regiment of Foot would no longer exist. This meant the end of the alliance between the two regiments.

Now, with the gracious permission of Her Majesty the Queen, the alliance between the RMR and the successors to the traditions and honors of the old 14th Regiment of Foot which will be perpetuated.

"This is a matter of great pride to all ranks of the Royal Montreal Regiment," the spokesman stated. He added that "members of the regiment who have had occasion to visit England from time to time have always been made to feel at home when visiting their affiliated regiment."

Big snow responsible for $31,274 deficit city manager reports

A big jump in snow removal costs and increases of lesser amounts in almost every department of the city have added up to a deficit for Westmount for the year 1958, it has been announced by Tom Hughes, city manager.

The deficit is $31,274.

Factors in keeping the deficit to this mark have been an increase in revenue over the budgeted amount; and careful house-keeping in all departments.

Of interest particularly is an increase in expenditure of $75,000 in the police department.

Mr. Hughes, in his report, explained that reduced working hours and increased staff in both the police and fire departments of the city brought salaries and clothing costs for police and firemen to $270,366 and $269,367 respectively.

Increased salaries in both departments, he said, bring the men up to the rates paid in Montreal. Wage boosts ran from $377 to $600 annually.

During the year covered by the report the Westmount detective force was increased and the men placed on a fixed hours arrangement with provision for overtime pay. A number of detectives with long service were promoted to the rank of sergeant-detective.

The tax rate of 19½ mills produced a revenue for the twelve-month period of $1,583,333 and transferred to interest and sinking funds.

Sinking funds are being maintained on a sound basis, secretary-treasurer reported; and the total of $1,295,478 makes provision for all dated but unsold debentures. As a matter of fact the sinking fund surplus over actuarial requirements is shown at $238,153.

Departmental expenditures for the period are $2,322,983 compared with $1,947,248 a year ago.

Mr. Hughes stated in referring to the snow removal cost jump, that while $275,000 had been budgeted for the item, the actual cost had been over $400,000. Total snowfall was 135 inches while in '57 it was only 50 inches.

The budget bylaw provided for an estimated revenue of $2,698,790. The actual revenue for general purposes, including sinking fund, amounted to $2,852,809, an increase of $154,079 over the original budget estimate. The principal items of increase were business and sales taxes, accumulated refund from the Quebec Hydro Electric Commission, interest on taxes and investments, supervision on capital expenditures, and federal grant in lieu of taxes.

The city's annual report shows a total revenue of $3,413,983, with total expenditure of $3,445,257. Revenue in 1957 amounted to $3,175,424 and expenditures were $3,005,699, leaving a surplus of $169,725.

The Study Corporation motion to go before Council Monday

At a meeting of the Westmount City Council Monday evening, the Council was advised by the Chairman of the General Committee of Council that "after careful study of the representations made for and against the occupation of no. 1, Braeside Place by The Study Corporation, the General Committee would place a motion before Council at the next meeting, recommending that the special permit applied for be granted subject to conformance with by-laws 555 entitled 'by-law to establish building zones' and 577 'concerning building and building construction'.

The next meeting is scheduled to take place at 8 p.m. Monday evening. It is open to citizens of Westmount.

Last Monday's meeting, which commenced at 8 p.m., was adjourned at 8.25 p.m. for one and a half hours to allow the General Committee of the Council to discuss the question and decide on the motion which it will subsequently place before Council. During this period also, the General Manager's report for the month of March was presented, and a date (Thursday, May 21) for presentation of annual hockey awards decided upon.

Upon returning to the Council chamber at a few minutes past 10 p.m., the chairman of the General Committee advised the Council of the motion it would make in favor of The Study Corporation at the next meeting. Adjournment followed.

LIGHTER SIDE

Among the items of regular business that turned up before the temporary adjournment was one which had its lighter side.

A motion was put forward and seconded to the effect that the firm of Riddell, Stead, Graham, and Hutchison be re-appointed auditors for the City at the same fee as in 1958—$4,500.

"I'm glad to see there's something that hasn't gone up in price," remarked Mayor J. S. Cushing as the motion was passed amid general laughter.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

April 25 to May 2

Warm days with some haze or mist in the south, and risk of occasional thunderstorms this week with sudden temperature changes. Bright with occasional snow flurries in the north and east; fog for some places. Temperature range 25-65°F with 55 sunny hours.

Sunny and warming into the middle of the week with morning frosts, then wet mists or drizzle, even hail. Cold gusty winds with flurries for the north country and the Gulf. Pleasant in the mountains. More tornadoes for the southern and mid-west States; windstorms around the Great Lakes, then the southern counties. Heavy rains with hail and risk of floods for the Maritimes, then Newfoundland.

Hobby Show date set Spring Revue planned

By MAURICE MARIASINE

The Unity Boys' Club Annual Hobby Show Exhibition will take place at the Unity Boys' Club on Friday, May 22. A variety of articles produced in the Hobby Workshops during the past program season will be displayed. These will include: woodwork, fretwork, art work, scrap books, plaster craft, creative crafts, embroidery, shell craft and sewing.

In conjunction with the Hobby Show, the Unity Boys' Club Talent Parade will present a two-hour Variety Revue entitled Talents of '59.' The entire cast will be composed of the Variety Show which has been selected to perform at the International Rotary Assembly at Lake Placid, New York on June 3.

Unity's precision dancing group "The Unity Cuties" will open the Show — the "Cuties" are: Joan Barnaby, Linda Hotton, Adele Prevost, Sherril Muir, Ellen Rowland, Cheryl Dargavel, Carolyn Scanlan, Patsy Prevost.

Other show-stoppers include: the famous Charleston Group, who recently took top honors on Canadian Talents televised over WCAX in Burlington, Vermont; they are: Cecilia Orsini, Pat Mumford, Erlana Fraser and Pat Collins; headliners on the same TV program, were: the 12-year old sensational ventriloquist, Carolyn and Sandy, Little Bobby, his trumpet and his dancing feet; and little Miss Judy Matthews.

The Show also includes such well-known artists as: Evelyn Desjardins and her Accordion, Billy Walker, Kenneth MacWhirter, Gerald Hebert, Lily Parks, Maxine Godfrey and Frances Gould, Evelyn Anthony, Wee Willie Starkey, Yodeler Georgie Luker, Maureen Renne, Audrey Jay, pianist Fred Johnson and drummer Billy Smith.

On Friday, May 8, the Talent Parade will provide entertainment for the patients of the Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital.

Also in conjunction with the Hobby Show and Variety Show, the Club's Ladies Auxiliary Group will hold their annual food sale. The annual sale has had extremely good success in the past and the ladies are looking forward to another banner sale.

Funds derived from the projects that are instituted by the Ladies Auxiliary are used to purchase equipment and materials for the benefit of the many youngsters who use the Unity Boys' Club. Finalization plans for the food sale was made at a meeting held last Monday evening under the chairmanship of auxiliary president Mrs. S. Simmons.

TRACK AND FIELD

Preliminary training for the Annual Track and Field Meet which takes place in June, will be conducted every Tuesday evening from 6.30 p.m. under the direction of Bill Semper. All boys and girls who plan to enter the Meet are asked to report to Bill in the gym next Tuesday.

HOUSE LEAGUE

In games played to-date in the Unity Spring Basketball House League, Hawks are leading the League with two wins and no losses. They defeated Lakers (45-25); and Knicks (47-36). Tied for second place are the Knicks and Celtics with one win and one loss. Knicks defeated Celtics (78-54); and Celtics defeated Lakers (61-55). The Lakers are in last place.

The teams are as follows: Hawks: John McDonough, Rodney Wilson, Larry Dallas, Keith Gavin and Eugene Tabb.

Lakers: Teddy Thiesmeyer, Bobby Carter, Wayne Dallas, Douglas Wright, Robert McDonough, Billy Hotton, John O'Driscoll.

Celtics: James Crouch, Earl Tabb, Brian Sullivan, Paul Genereux, Richard Simmons and Michael Crouch.

W. R. WONHAM

A funeral was held Monday at St. Matthias Church for W. R. (Bob) Wonham, 28 Thornhill avenue, who died Friday at the age of 59, following a short illness.

Mr. Wonham was senior account executive with Vickers and Benson Ltd. Prior to his joining this company, he was a practising engineer. A native Montreale, he attended Lower Canada College and McGill University.

Veteran of two World Wars, Mr. Wonham had served as a wireless operator with the Canadian Naval Service, and in 1939 held the post of adjutant of the First Survey Regiment. During World War II he served overseas as a staff captain with Canadian reinforcement units.

He was later promoted to the rank of major, and awarded the ED for 20 years of military service.

Fond of portrait painting as a hobby, Mr. Wonham a member of the St. James's Club and the University Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret E. Murray; a son Murray, now studying at Cambridge; and a daughter, Jane.

W. P. MACDOUGALL

A private funeral was held Saturday for William Percival MacDougall, 4300 Western avenue, past president and chairman of the board of Belding-Corticelli Ltd., who died Friday in his 79th year.

The son of Duncan Livingstone MacDougall and Margaret B. Patterson, Mr. MacDougall was born and educated in Montreal. A member of the Belding-Corticelli firm for 59 years, he started out as a junior clerk in the Montreal head office, rising to the position of president, and chairman of the board, 1940 to 1955.

He was successively manager of the Toronto office, general sales manager, assistant manager, and general manager of the company. He was appointed vice-president and managing director in 1939, continuing as a director after his retirement as chief officer of the firm in 1955.

A former president of the Silk Association of Canada, he was a member of the Royal Montreal Golf Club, the Kanawaki Golf Club, the St. James's Club, the National Club, the Rosedale Golf Club, and the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, all three of Toronto; the Mount Stephen Club, the Seignior Club, and the Rotary Club.

He was the husband of the former Mary Evelyn Donalds, who survives him.

MRS. A. R. HOWELL

Mrs. A. R. Howell, one of the oldest living women graduates of McGill University at the time of her death, and a resident of Westmount for many years, died Saturday at the age of 88. A funeral service was held Tuesday at Christ Church Cathedral.

Mrs. Howell, the former Georgina Louise Smith, was a native of Montreal, and attended McGill University.

She graduated in 1891, a year after the University commenced awarding degrees to women. In 1910, after her marriage to the late Archibald Rennie Howell she moved with her husband to Victoria avenue, where she remained until shortly after his death in 1941.

Mrs. Howell retained a lifelong interest in McGill University, and neth Annable, Richard Cessford, Donald Laviolette and Vic Carter.

The Big Ten scoring parade is as follows: Richard Simmons, 51; John McDonough, 34; Brian Sullivan, 25; Rodney Wilson, 21; Ronald Otto, 21; Ken Annable, 20; Richard Cessford, 19; Bobby Carter, 19; Paul Genereux, 17; Billy Hotton, 15.

during World War 1 was president of the Alumnae Society. She was an active church worker and a former president of the Women's Guild of Christ Church Cathedral, as well as a past vice-president of the YWCA in Montreal.

She is survived by a son, Dr. Rennie Howell of Edmonton; a daughter, Mrs. Munto Brown of Westmount; a sister, Miss Norah Smith and a brother, Napier Smith, both of Montreal.

MISS H. V. RALSTON

A funeral service was held yesterday at the Church of the Messiah for Hazel Vivian Ralston, 4701 The Boulevard, who died Tuesday in her 61st year.

Active in community work in Montreal for many years, Miss Ralston was vice-president of the Child Health Association and a past-president of the Iverley Community Center. She was in addition a member of the Board of Management of the Church of the Messiah.

She was the daughter of the late William A. Ralston, a Montreal insurance broker.

Miss Ralston is survived by her step-mother, Mrs. William A. Ralston of Montreal.

RMR sets Ypres memorial parade

The Royal Montreal Regiment, Lt.-Col. T. J. Kennedy, OD, Commanding Officer, will hold its Annual Church Parade on Sunday, April 26, at St. Matthias Church, Westmount. The service will be conducted by Captain, The Reverend Kenneth B. Keefe, Regimental Chaplain. In addition to the Regiment, No. 14 Branch (RMR) of the Canadian Legion and the Lower Canada College Cadet Corps will take part in the service.

The Annual Church Parade of the Regiment has been held on the last Sunday in April for many years in memory of those of the Regiment who gave their lives in the Battle of Ypres which took place in late April and early May of 1915.

The parade will start from the Regimental Armory at 2:15 p.m. on St. Catherine street west at The Glen and proceed along St. Catherine to Metcalfe avenue, then north on Metcalfe to St. Matthias Church.

The church service will commence at 2.45 p.m. Following the conclusion of the service at approximately 3.30 p.m., the parade will reform outside the church and proceed south on Metcalfe to Sherbrooke street, along Sherbrooke to Melville avenue, down Melville to St. Catherine and to the Armory.

2 year sentence given to burglar

A man accused of breaking and entering a Westmount apartment April 6 was sentenced to two years imprisonment Tuesday.

Jean-Paul Huneault, 22, of 1550 Cartier street pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering an apartment at 225 Melville avenue.

Westmount holdup squad detectives and members of the force were also instrumental in the arrest of four men who three weeks ago stole $13,000 in cash and jewellery from 654 Murray Hill avenue. They were arrested over the weekend after attempting to hold up Angelino Melichino, whom they shot in the leg, in his store at 119 Pine avenue.

Sgt. Detectives Lauzon and Jones, of the Westmount Police Force, while investigating the first robbery recovered a number of the articles which has been deposited in Montreal sewers by the escaping thieves.

Closed circuit TV outmoding today's equipment—Campbell

Westmount Rotarians saw themselves on television Wednesday afternoon when Dave Campbell of Campbell's Melody House told the gathering about closed circuit television and its uses today.

"There is a new industry in Canada that is growing so fast that instruction and equipment acceptable today is outmoded tomorrow," said Campbell.

"Closed circuit television embraces industrial, medical, educational, military, pay and community antenna TV. It is used in areas where it is too dangerous, difficult, expensive, inconvenient, inaccessible, tiring, far, hot, cold, high, low and small to obtain direct channels of television," he continued.

Campbell demonstrated closed circuit TV to the audience. In the first demonstration, a camera had been placed near the fishpond of the Westmount Conservatory which enabled the audience to view the passers-by and their activities.

The second camera was directed at the audience, and through a television receiver in the same room the club members could watch all their movements and actions. "Corporations," said Campbell, "can hold conferences and introduce new products to all representatives across the country without the expense of bringing them to one location."

"In industry, the observation of gauges and meters found in many different locations can be read by one operator."

He said that closed circuit TV used in medicine can enable hundreds of medical students, instead of just a few, to watch, in color, the operations performed by surgeons.

"The military," he added, "uses closed circuit TV to inform commanders of actual battle field conditions through hand carried cameras and portable transmitters."

Mr. Campbell concluded that many new uses are being discovered every day and that the future looks very bright for closed circuit television.

3 building permits issued for March

During March, 1959, 3 building permits, all taxable, were issued with an estimated value of $54,000. 5 construction jobs were completed and 49 projects are still under construction. 4 plumbing permits with an estimated value of $1,900, were issued. 16 plumbing inspections, 2 water tests and 1 gas test were made.

Two women hurt in car collision

Two women were injured Saturday in a collision between two cars which occurred at the intersection of Lansdowne and Westmount avenues at 7:48 p.m.

Injured was Miss Carolyn Klaehn, 22, 4930 Walkley avenue, driver of one of the cars, and her passenger, Mrs. Crawford Lauer, 526 Lansdowne avenue, who received a head cut and a fractured foot bone. Miss Klaehn fractured several ribs and sustained face lacerations.

She told police that she was proceeding south on Lansdowne avenue, and after having stopped for the sign at Westmount avenue, was struck as she crossed the intersection. "I did not see the auto," she stated.

The driver of the other car, Allan V. Dunbar, 41, of 3844 Draper avenue, stated that he was proceeding west on Westmount avenue when an auto proceeding south on Lansdowne entered the intersection.

Saucy Westmounters perform Hollandaise

Seventy-one young singers, dancers and actors of Westmount Junior High School whipped up a frothy musical confection, "Saucy Hollandaise", for Westmounters April 16 and 17, which played to capacity audiences during its two-night run.

"Our biggest worry was that all the ticket holders would turn up," said producer-director R. Veysey, who before the performances was concerned about being oversold.

A mammoth make-up job—71 faces, many requiring beards—was undertaken by a comparatively small number of students under the direction of Miss B. Jepsen and D. Peacock. Costumes were entirely original for this performance, and were made by wardrobe mistresses Mrs. Y. Thomas and Mrs. R. Stuart, with the help of the occasional sewing class at the school.

Principal characters of the English pantomime-style operetta were Stephen Gilbert as Joe; James Marchant as Hans; Peter Mendell as the Prince; Barbara Hellings as Meena; Barry Stevens as Dr. Quick; Sandy Tilley as the King; Anne Louise Cote as the Queen; Cynthia Rill as the Princess.

Accompaniment for the singers and dancers was provided by an all-student orchestra under the direction of Mrs. S. Thomson, with pianist Miss Vera Jamieson. Orchestra members were Jack Wise, 14, Dorothy Fieldman, 14, and Joanne Ruddy, 14, first violins; Sherrill Dectar, 14, Susan Copeland, 14, and Carolyn Nichols, 15, second violins; Robert Kennedy, 13, cello; Herby Aronoff, 14, bass viol; Harvey Friedman, 14, and Sheila Bloom, 14, violas. Young cellist Kennedy reported that the orchestra had been in rehearsal for a month prior to opening night.

F. Buckingham, a staff member of the school, was in charge of lighting, and shared honors as set director with Mrs. J. Sargent. Music was under the supervision of R. MacDonald; choreography, Miss J. Thompson; programs G. Woodward; and tickets, C. Reynolds.

Members of the chorus were as follows:

Dutch children: Gordon Crelin-sten, John Adams, John Deitcher, Robert Bourne, Boelo Riemeyer, John Kittridge, Grier Cundill, John Kotrly, Wendy Mellor, Alice Home, Joyce Johansson, Cynthia Duff, Madeline Atherton, Vera Margulis, Dawn Johansson, Judy Shapiro.

WE SAY

Deficit slight but costs rise

GENERAL Manager
Thomas Hughes, in financial report for 1958, has revealed Westmount to be in a fine financial position.

Though there was a sizeable increase in expenditure due mainly to the increase in snow removal charges, the deficit was held to $31,274.

The snow removal increase, of course, runs through financial reports of all municipal administrations in the local area for 1958.

It did snow more than had been anticipated.

Westmount had budgeted $275,000 for snow removal, and the bill ran to $400,000.

No one can blame Mr. Hughes, any more than they can blame Eric Neal for predicting the big fall.

Fortunately revenues were also above anticipations, and this — plus a little judicious pruning and planning here and there — has enabled the city to maintain its excellent financial showing.

More $$ go out for police here

WESTMOUNT spent $75,000 more for its police department in 1958 than in the previous twelve months, but, as is carefully pointed out in the city's financial report for the period, they got more for their money.

In this day of muggings, smash-and-grab artists, second-storey specialists and bogus door-to-door slicksters few can find fault with bolstering the gendarmerie.

The $75,000 has been translated into additions to the force, promotions, pay increases, reduced working hours — all of which adds up to happier, healthier, and consequently more efficient officers and men in the department.

This is a good thing, and sets an example at which the City of Montreal might well take a good close look.

YOU SAY

To see Britannia from his armchair

Sir:

From my home on the Upper Level, with the use of a pair of field-glasses, I can obtain a very excellent view of ships in the St. Lawrence. Some years ago I was the first I believe, on a summer Sunday afternoon, to see the Rapids Prince as she was grounded on the rocks in the Lachine Rapids.

I am looking forward to the opportunity, in June, to see the Royal yacht Britannia in this way as she sails up to enter the Seaway, in which, I believe, will be her first cruise in fresh water.

I am writing to point out to others who may have a similar opportunity that if the weather is clear the Britannia will be visible from Westmount mountain, a sight I, for one, certainly never expected to be able to enjoy from my own comfortable armchair.

Sincerely,
Old Salt.

Asks no surprise about swim-pool

Sir:

I read in last week's Examiner a reference to the possibility that an outdoor swimming pool may be built in Westmount.

If the city council has any idea of going ahead with such a plan I feel it is their duty to let the people of the city know about it well in advance, and not have it thrown at them at the last moment like the skating rink. That was the reason for the unpleasantness that developed over the site.

Personally, I feel that such a move might be somewhat premature. Most of Westmount's residents go away a good part of the summer and then again, the season in which an open-air pool could be used is short in this climate.

Incidentally, I notice in the press that the Verdun swimming pool, which is well patronized, lost several thousand dollars last year.

The Stanton Street situation:

Commission approves plans in principle for apartment opposite No. 1 fire station

The question of an apartment on Stanton avenue opposite Westmount Fire Station No. 1 is in the news again with the submission of plans by Stanton Arms Ltd., to the City's architectural commission.

Assistant city manager Norman Dawe was not able to supply any details of the plans, (as they are still in the hands of the commission), beyond the fact that while they had been approved in principle, by the commission, further changes to bring them in line with city by-laws were required.

The issue of whether there should or should not be an apartment on Stanton avenue was a dead one he said, the zoning for this particular area having been altered in 1956 to allow "an apartment on the site which would not detract from the neighborhood."

At a public meeting of the Council March 19, 1958, the motion was first read. Subsequent meetings were held March 22 and 23, after notices were placed in the Montreal newspapers, which no one attended, although several other amendments were being processed at the same time. When the Stanton avenue amendment was finally passed on April 3, 1956, there was still no reaction from the public.

The first protest came in June, 1958, after The Stanton Arms Ltd. submitted plans to the architectural commission.

The Council heard a delegation of those protesting the apartment, Dawe stated, but as the proposal by the Stanton Arms Ltd. was within the by-laws of the City, nothing could be done.

Nothing was done eventually by The Stanton Arms Ltd., who after gaining final approval of the proposed apartment from the architectural commission did not apply for a building permit.

Now, almost one year later, plans have again been submitted by the same concern, but whether any apartment will definitely be built, no one as yet will say.

Some restrictions that a would-be apartment builder is up against: the building must not exceed six stories (accounting for the slope of land on the site, such a building would not be higher than the present residences on Thornhill avenue, Dawe stated); tenants must be prepared to live across from a fire station, and understand that no cars may be parked on Stanton avenue as it would hamper the work of the fire department; parking provision must be made within the building for each tenant; the ratio of ground to building is fixed to that suitable landscaping is possible.

Blood drive on Thursday

Mayor J. C. Cushing will be the first official donor to the Westmount-St. Antoine Young Progressive-Conservative Blood Drive to take place Thursday at Victoria Hall, 3 p.m. to 10 p.m., a spokesman announced yesterday.

Also on hand to give blood will be MP A. Ross Webster, and Bob Gillias of CFCF, who will donate and be interviewed by fellow announcer Pat Marini, 3.15 p.m. to 3.45 p.m.

With the added inducement of prizes, and special corsages for the first five ladies to give blood, the YPC's hope to gather a minimum of 300 pints.

"We have been advised by the Red Cross that there is a great shortage of blood at present," stated Gerry McRae, publicity chairman for the drive.

Students predict Berlin stagnation

Westmount High School Current Events Club panelists agreed Wednesday that the Berlin crisis will stagnate rather than become a third world war.

However, they were not confident that the forthcoming conferences among the major powers on the question would entirely solve the situation.

The discussion centred around the Berlin question, the events leading up to it, and its possible consequences. Speaking on the Russian attitude was David Shapiro; Kenny Wolfe spoke on the French attitude, Anne Purves on the American, and Lan Ray-side on the English. Moderator Bruce Costom spoke on the crisis as a whole.

Many of the 85 club members present asked questions and contributed actively to the discussion.

12 chicken pox cases reported

The incidence of communicable disease was quite low. Only 18 cases were reported, 12 of them chicken pox. The total communicable disease cases to March 31 was 84, compared with 288 in a similar period last year.

The crude birth rate for the month was 2.4, and the crude death rate 5.6.

Four doctors' and 4 nurses' clinics were held at the child health clinic with a total attendance of 437. Immunizations, including Salk vaccine, totalled 250.

No medical examinations were carried out in the schools. Twenty-nine defects previously reported were corrected. In the school health service, the nurses made 11 classroom inspections, 151 individual inspections, gave 145 treatments, excluded 20 students and re-admitted 17. Four hundred and four audiometric tests were carried out.

One hundred and one persons were seen in the department for pre-employment examination, occupational and non-occupational treatment, injuries or sickness.

Power report

Maximum power demand in Westmount for March was 12,600 KW—a drop of 1,650 KW from February. Energy consumption of 5,498,000 KWH was 52,000 higher than in February. This is 6½% higher than the consumption a year ago. Net earnings amounted to $72,698—an increase over March 1958 of $2,260. Net expenses for March amounted to $66,793—an increase of $1,823 over March 1958. Indicated surplus for the three months to date is $36,543.

Elm disease toehold quashed by sprayers

Precautions in Westmount against the possible onslaught of Dutch Elm disease began Wednesday with the spraying of the 46 elm trees on Westmount avenue between Roslyn avenue and The Boulevard.

During 1958 eight trees (six on City property and two on private) were affected, assistant general manager N. T. Dawe reported, while during the past 10 years, incidence of Dutch Elm disease in Westmount has averaged three trees a year.

Westmount has 1,100 public and several hundred private elms.

Dawe pointed out that the spraying of elm trees on public thoroughfares and close to residences presents many problems, most of which can be solved by elementary precautions on the part of the sprayers and the public.

"This is an experimental program," he stated "and the City requests the co-operation of all citizens in the area during the spraying operation. It would be well to keep the windows of your residence closed and your car in the garage or at least off the street or driveway close to the tree being sprayed. Children should be instructed not to get close to the spraying operation."

"If by any chance some of the spray is deposited on an automobile, washing and simonizing will remove it. Washing with a good detergent will remove the spray from fabrics. Where substantial amounts of spray are deposited on ornamental trees, shrubs or plants, a thorough flushing with a garden hose is a good precaution."

"The spray operators carry, as part of their equipment, plastic covers which are used to cover objects when deemed necessary. Some traffic diversion may be required. The spraying methods used will be properly supervised and should be harmless provided the elementary precautions stated above are observed."

IN WESTMOUNT by Valentina Rahr

ROSE GOLDBLATT, Elm avenue, has been elected a member of the executive committee of Les Grands Ballets Canadiens. The performances presented last week by this troupe at the Comédie Canadienne were composed of three revivals and three new creations. "Sea Gallows" was especially commissioned from Eric Hyrst the lead dancer of the troupe. It is a violent story taking place in the Maritimes with music by Michel Perrault.

"Premiere Classique", with scintillating costumes displays the wide resources of classic dance, and is based on rarely played music by Tchaikovsky. "Farces", one of Ludmilla Chiriaeff's own ballets, is a gem containing an expert bit of comedy. She has personally created several ballets for CBC-TV. Les Grands Ballets Canadiens under Ludmilla Chiriaeff has been signed to undertake a tour of the United States, including an appearance at the Dance Festival at Jacob's Pillow—the only Canadian company aside from the National Ballet to tour in that country.

Goodridge Roberts, Grosvenor avenue, is represented at the art show currently being held at The Stable—a show place situated at the rear of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts. The new show which is now on display contains many paintings never shown to the Montreal public. The show is called JAMM—Junior Associates of the Montreal Museum—and the exhibits are valued at $100,000.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Goddard, Burton avenue, and Diane Scott, Columbia avenue, attended the Chinese Dinner last Thursday given in honor of Mrs. Angus de Mille Cameron, Grosvenor avenue, at the Jade Restaurant in Chinatown.

Tobie Steinhouse, Springfield avenue, will have an exhibition of her paintings in Gallery XII, at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, from April 25 to May 10.

More than 250 students and teachers combined their time and efforts to produce the first opera in 12 years at Westmount Junior High School, Academy road, last Thursday and Friday nights: "Saucy Hollandaise" had a cast of 71. Since last October Mr. Veysey, and R. J. Macdonald, the directors, and many teachers contributed to this program. Lead roles were: Stephen Gilbert, James Marchand, Peter Mendell, Barbara Hellings, Barry Stevens, Sandy Tilly, Anne Louis Cote, Cynthia Rill.

Harry Gordon of Gordon & Son Inc., Greene avenue, has returned from a nine-week trip overseas, where he visited the British Isles, Europe, and North Africa.

Mrs. Jean Crombie, Westmount Park Apartments, St. Catherine street west, is one of the nine teachers visiting all districts of Montreal giving lessons to blind housewives. Mrs. Crombie is well known to Montrealeers as she travels around accompanied by her German Shepherd seeing eye dog, Ginger. On the question of employment for blind people she finds: "X-ray work is a comparatively new field for the sightless. They develop plates, and since this is done in complete darkness, they do well." six sightless people are working in the X-ray Department of the Royal Victoria Hospital. Another field that is gradually opening to the sightless is physiotherapy. The Combined Appeal for the Blind closes April 28.

Young musicians don new uniforms

The 50 members of the Westmount High School Band modelled new uniforms—trim purple blazers and white skirts or trousers with white shoes—for the first time in public Tuesday evening, when they gave a spring concert for the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association.

Money for the uniforms came from a concert the band gave in the fall, sponsored by the Association.

Morley Calvert, conductor and musical director of the band wore a white suit and white shoes as his uniform.

Members of the band, who are drawn from Westmount Senior and Junior High Schools are as follows:

Equipment crew busy in March

Fifty-eight pieces of automotive equipment were repaired or bad parts replaced by the equipment maintenance department of Westmount during March.

Ninety-eight welding jobs were completed, and both paint and carpenter shops were extremely busy with a multitude of small jobs.

Loyola announces new scholarships

Six new scholarships with a total value of over $7,000 were announced today by the Very Rev. Gerald F. Lahey, S. J. rector of Loyola College.

Three full scholarships have been offered at a one year level, these in the $1,400 to $1,600 range, and three full scholarships in the two-year level valued at between $1,050 and $1,200. The scholarships are open to any student, and are in addition to the 25 scholarships now existing at Loyola.

The college, founded in 1896, offers degree courses in Arts, Science and Commerce as well as pre-engineering and extension courses.

A big development program, scheduled for completion in 1970, is now underway at the college. First step in the program is a new $2,000,000 Science Building and the renovation of existing laboratories into additional space for the Arts and Commerce faculties. Future plans for a new faculty building, a new library and a men's residence.

Road costs high in early March

Maintenance of winter roads occupied the attention of the Road Department in the early part of March. Snow fell on six days. There were two major snow storms and three minor storms. The total snow fall amounted to 18.4", slightly below the 85-year average.

There was a sharp reduction in the need to spread roughing material and chemicals on the roadways during the month. 40,300 cubic yards of snow were disposed of at the melting pond and dumps; approximately half this amount was blown back off the sidewalks. It was necessary for the work force to work four nights and one Saturday.

The expenditure on the maintenance of winter roads amounted to $46,500. The expenditure for the year to April 4 was $253,000, out of an appropriation of $273,625.

Thirty-four tons of cold-mix asphalt and 24 tons of hot-mix asphalt were used in patching roadways. A temporary surface was laid on the roadway of Clarke avenue where the water main burst in January.

Sociologist warns parents not to fail their children

By VALENTINA RAHR
"Each time we fail a child of today, we fail an adult of tomorrow," was the warning given by Miss Silvia Freddi, sociology professor at McGill University and Sir George Williams College, to parents of the King's School Home and School Association recently.

"Never fail to communicate with children — listening is more important than talking; mental health depends on communication," she advised. "Listen to and answer the questions of your children, no matter how tired you may be at the end of the day."

"The family is the factory that turns out socialized human beings. The family provides first and continual contact with the outside world; it lays the structure of personality of the child, and is the basic core of his character," Miss Freddi further commented. "Children born into society must learn how to be human — humanity must be taught. The family today is responsible for this kind of teaching."

A hundred years ago life was much simpler, she pointed out. On this continent most families lived a pioneer kind of life, were self-sufficient economically, and made their own soap, food and boots. Each member was useful and performed a definite function. The family was large in number, and provided for the younger members, as well as the older relatives who could no longer provide for themselves. Education and recreation came wholly from within the family, who lived in a large house.

"The average North American family today is made up of the parents and perhaps two or five children," she noted. "It is no longer considered respectable to have a large family. They usually live in a small house or apartment. The father works as the breadwinner. The child on the farm in former years could see his father's function as the provider for the family. The child of today generally has no understanding of the work of his father."

"The older relatives live alone; education is provided in schools; recreation is outside the home in most cases; members of the family are separated and in time of crises they go to agencies for help. These agencies provide trained personnel who can give advice from preparation for marriage to how to live on a budget, and other problems. What's left as the function of the family appears to be only to raise the child and provide for him until he is old enough to take his own place in society."

TEACH HUMANITY

The role of parents today is more important than in the past, Miss Freddi emphasized. The process of becoming human has to be learned and to be taught. When the family is reduced in numbers they are thrown on their own resources. The child's emotional stability depends on his parents, and in a very large proportion directly dependent on the mental health of its mother.

Research at McGill has shown that when the mother is healthy the child is healthy, she stated. The pattern is very often repeated to show that when the mother is neurotic, the child reflects the same neurosis. The mother being the first and lasting contact with the child, has more effect on him the father is neurotic. One is the product of the family one is born into, she felt. Attitudes of the parents will be closely reflected. The kind of mates and parents our children will become is determined by the models of his own parents.

1,158 court cases heard during March

In the month of March 1,158 cases were heard, 1,152 appearing in the Municipal Court, 2 in the Social Welfare Court, and 4 in the Criminal Court in Montreal.

A breakdown of the 1,158 cases shows that 1,093 were Court tickets, 50 arrests, and 15 arrests on summonses.

There were 1,029 convictions, one dismissal, and 643 cases carried forward into April. This is a further reduction in the number of cases carried forward.

Caution tickets were issued to 631 persons during the month for traffic infractions. Fourteen speeding cases were dealt with (non-Radar). Breaking and entering cases totalled 14, of which 5 were cleared. Other crimes totalled 34, 11 of which were cleared.

West Montreal Air Cadets celebrate Air Cadet Week

Members of No. 1 (West Montreal) air cadet squadron joined 25,500 cadets throughout Canada in celebrating the opening of Air Cadet Week on Sunday.

Purpose of the Week is to publicize the role of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets, and to raise funds for the Air Cadet League of Canada, said John H. Barnes, former CO of the West Montreal squadron, and an ex-Westmounter.

No. 1 squadron draws its cadets mainly from Westmount, N.D.G. and Montreal West. Present CO is Flt. Lt. I. S. MacDonald, Cote St Luc road. The cadets meet once a week at Westmount Junior High School, where permanent offices for the squadron are located, and where squadron adjutant, W. A. Nickels, 4980 Connaught avenue, has his headquarters.

Barnes pointed out that there are two phases of air cadet organization: the air force side which takes care of supplies — uniforms, etc. — and training programs; and the Air Cadet League of Canada, a non-profit civilian organization composed of leading business and professional men, which is the organizing and sponsoring body of the cadet squadrons. Both these phases of the air cadets are organized on federal, provincial and local levels.

The West Montreal squadron was formed in 1940, shortly after the outbreak of war, with one of the founding members, Westmounter Peter Illsley as first commanding officer. At that time it was No. 1 (Westmount) squadron, but as the organization expanded, it was renamed.

EFFICIENCY TROPHY

Among the squadron's proudest possessions is a three-foot high trophy consisting of a half propeller on a base. This is "The AOC Efficiency Award for Annual Competition Among Air Cadets", which the No. 1 squadron won in 1958 over squadrons throughout Canada. This marks the second time No. 1 squadron has been awarded the trophy; the first was in 1953.

At present there are 130 boys in the squadron, between the ages of 14 and 18, all in high school.

"There is nothing compulsory about remaining in the air force," Barnes said. "Some do join the air force after high school, or enter the reserve. On the other hand some drop out before the end of high school."

There are individual awards offered to the cadets as well as those on a group basis. This year squadron officials will select three boys for flying scholarship training; make nominations for exchange visits to the U.K., the Continent and the U.S.; and designate deserving cadets for special training at Camp Borden as senior leaders and drill instructors.

Easter affects Victoria Hall March rentals

The various rooms in Victoria Hall were used 99 times in the month of March, 32 of the occupations were at standard rental, 51 were tenants and 16 were City of Westmount. The Public Address system was used on 8 occasions. The Easter season falling in March this year had a serious effect on the rentals.

Revenue for the month amounted to $1,824.

Worship

By

The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

Worship is a universal thing, but the English language is the only one which uses this kind of word to describe it. The word goes right back to the Anglo-Saxon roots of the language; it is simply worth-ship; it is either the condition of worth or the expression of worth. It is my way of expressing God's worth. I consider God as the Person of highest worth in the universe and I try to express that fact in a fitting way. In the Service of Marriage the bridegroom used to bestow a ring on the bride, with the words: "With this ring I thee wed; with my body I thee worship." The word "honor" does not really express the same thing. A man may honor a dozen people, but there is only one human being to whom he can give his worship, and that is his wife. But outside of human relationships there is one Person to whom we assign the highest conceivable worth, and that is God.

Why should we assign such worth to Him? Simply because of what He is and what He has done for us. The savage has an idea of a Divine Being residing in a strange stone or a tree or a waterfall or in any of the wonderful works of nature, the sun and the moon, the wind, the lightning, and he makes a myth to explain why he worships that thing.

On the other hand, the men who live within the Biblical tradition are able to give a character to the God whom they worship because they are perfectly sure that he has spoken with them and acted upon them. What He has said and done is so wonderful that they stand in awe of Him. He is so utterly beyond what they see in their fellow-humans that they are bound to ascribe to Him the highest conceivable worth, and they seek ways to express that worth. Without that sense of awe there is no real worship.

The Bible, however, tells us something more about God: He is one who can be approached not only with awe, but with understanding. In some strange way the God whom we worship has made us like Himself. So the Psalmist can speak of singing praises with understanding. It is true that we are separated from God by our sins, but never completely separated. There is still the sense of need in us that makes us desire God — even unconsciously — and the sense of likeness which makes us able to recognize God, when the barrier of sin has been broken down.
And if that barrier is truly broken then we are more deeply in awe not only of the power but of the love of God, and as His worth deepens in our souls, our souls are poured out in deeper worship.

Westmount Baptist

To many people the distinctive thing about Baptists is water immersion; as important as this is, the Baptist distinctive is Believer's Baptism. Who is a fit and proper candidate to receive Baptism, the child or the adult; does belief play an essential part in Church membership?
These are some of the questions discussed in a sermon on "Our Baptist Distinctive" by the Minister, the Rev. E. J. Bailey.

At night the subject will be "Discipleship," the content of the Christian life in daily living.

St. Andrew's United Church

"Not Good if Detached" is the theme of the sermon in St.
Andrew's Church, Westmount.
The Minister, Rev. (Dr.) D. M.
Grant will conduct the Service.
At the evening worship (7:30 p.m.) Dr. Grant will be assisted by Rev. David C. Searfoss, who will preach on the theme,
"Maintaining the Glow."

Mr. Eric Adams and St. Andrew's Choir will provide appropriate musical selections for both services.
The Church School meets on Sunday morning, the Seniors and Intermediate at ten o'clock, while all other departments, Nursery and Juniors, meet at eleven o'clock.

On Monday at 8:00 p.m. the Evening Group of the Women's Association will meet at the Church. On Tuesday afternoon the Women's Association will hold its regular meeting at 2:00 p.m.

BAHA'I WORLD FAITH Teachings on UNITY

Rabbi Stern on Passover

Rabbi Dr. Harry J. Stern, speaking to the congregation of the Temple Emanu-el, West-mount, made the following commentary on Passover:

The exodus from Egypt was one of man's noblest hours.
Never before in human history had resistance against human servitude been made until Moses at the direction of God, faced Pharaoh with the ultimatum
"let my people go."

Throughout many parts of the world in our own day slavery in many forms still persist. The dignity of man is being trampled by the boots of dictators and the God given ability of man to love is being supplanted by hatred in the minds of those whose stomachs are empty and whose eyes have seen destruction.

Passover challenges us ever to continue to war against slavery in whatever form it is to be found. All of us need to free ourselves from the shackles of prejudice, selfishness and isolationism.

Freedom is indivisible and the Jew through his Passover observance is called upon to re-dedicate himself and work for the ultimate redemption of the entire human family.

Temple Emanu-El

Final Day of Passover Services: Wednesday Morning, April 29 at 10:30 o'clock. In conjunction with this worship the annual Spring Yizkor or Memorial Service will be held. Names of those who have departed since last Passover will be called. Dr. Stern will officiate.

Sabbath Services: Friday Evening, May 1 at 8:15 o'clock. Dr.
Stern will speak on "The Wisdom Of Our Fathers." (In recognition of the Reading of Pirke Aboth).
Saturday morning, May 2 at 11:30 o'clock, sermonette "Set a Fixed Time for the Study of The Torah" based on Pirke Aboth.

Bar Mitzvah: Brace Everest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everest, 4825 Wilson avenue will be called to the Reading of the Torah this Friday Evening and Saturday Morning in observance of his Bar Mitzvah.

They Participated in The Annual Youth Service: Friday Evening April 24, the worship was in charge of the Temple Youth Society. The sermon was given by Steve Roth, President of Temple Youth. The ritual was read by Jennifer Carrick and Michael Bordo; the Torah by Arlene Bellam; Torah Assistants were:
Charles Hyman, Marlene Albright; Haftarah—Howard Schwartz; Sabbath lights were blessed by Barbara Lisser and Marilyn Soloway. The Oneg Shabbat was in charge of the Executive under the chairmanship of Carole Packer; Ushers were: Peter Roston, Tom Paskal, Norman Stein, Gordon Schwartz, Allan Moscovitch.

Sisterhood And Brotherhood
Joint Dinner and Program: Wednesday Evening, May 13, 6:45 o'clock, Temple Community House. A musical comedy "G.G." written especially for this occasion by Dean Kerner will be presented with members of Sisterhood and Brotherhood participating. The annual election of Officers for both societies will take place this evening. Reservations for the dinner are to be made with Temple Office, Wellington 7-3575. Committee in charge:
Mrs. David H. Lisser, Irvin Gertsman, Abe Izenberg, Mrs. Louis J.
Cohen, Alex Carsley, Bernard
Isaacs, Harry Engels.

Christian Group to Attend
Worship: This Friday Evening, a group of young people from Norwood United Church will attend our Sabbath Eve worship.

Don't strengthen parish by robbing the missions Archdeacon Naylor urges Charity doesn't begin at home, Archdeacon R. K. Naylor of Trinity Memorial Church indicated strongly Tuesday at the opening session of the 100th sitting of the Anglican Synod.

He administered a sharp rap at Anglican churches that strengthen their own positions at the expense of helping people outside their own parishes.

He referred to such parishes as "selfish, self-centered."

With some 275 clergy and laymen — representing 100 parishes — in attendance, the debate was sparked by Rev. H. J. A. Reynolds of Stanbridge East who said that he believed young parishes should not worry about funds for missionary purposes until they had first put themselves on a firm financial footing.

Some way will always be found, Archdeacon Naylor said, amid clapping and foot-pounding.

"Let us not meet the need by robbing for five or ten years someone who is depending on us" he added.

Dominion Douglas will hear Smith

The Session of Dominion-Douglas Church, Westmount, has announced that on its Anniversary Sunday, April 26, Dr. Douglas Smith will be the special preacher at both services.

It will be recalled that Dr. Douglas Smith of Robertson United Church, Edmonton, has accepted the call of the congregation to replace its present minister, Dr. A. Lloyd Smith, upon his imminent retirement, and this provides an opportunity for the congregation to become better acquainted with its new minister.

The morning sermon will be on the subject "Man's Need of Christ" and the evening sermon on "Biographies of Jesus."

There will be a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith in Leslie Hall after the evening service.

Christian Science

The ever-present light of the Christ, Truth, will be stressed at the service in the Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Probation after Death" is the Golden Text from Isaiah: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined."

The power of this light is also emphasized in explanatory selections to be read from the denominational text-book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

STAMPS GALORE

— by —

Wayne L. Bungay

For the first time in philatelic history the United States and Canada will each issue a stamp having the same basic design.

The red, white, and blue stamps will be released on June 26 when the St. Lawrence Seaway and its power projects will be officially opened.

Both stamps will be printed in red and blue on white paper, thereby utilizing the national colors for both countries. All lettering is in red. The stamps will feature two interlocking links superimposed on a map of the Great Lakes, with the St. Lawrence leading from them towards the sea. Within the left link is a maple leaf, Canada's emblem. The link at right contains a bald eagle, the U.S. emblem. The country's title will be indicated along the base of the horizontally arranged stamp while along the top will be written "St. Lawrence Seaway" the Canadian stamp will also carry the French equivalent, "Voie Maritime de St-Laurent." The other addition on the Canadian stamp will be "postes" — the French equivalent for "postage."

The design was developed through collaboration by three New York and two Canadian artists, William H. Buckley, Arnold J. Copeland and Ervine Metzel, artist members of American Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's stamp advisory committee; and A. L. Pollock of Toronto and Gerald Trotter of Ottawa.

Mr. Summerfield released both designs on Saturday April 18 at Washington, while Mr. Hamilton released them on Friday April 17. Mr. Hamilton said that the seaway symbolizes American and Canadian dedication to "peaceful advancement of all mankind." He added: "At a time when international trade is so vital to the people of the Free World, our joint stamp issue salutes the opening of a link in a vastly improved channel for such trade and a powerful source of hydro-electric energy for both nations."

Mr. Summerfield said that this joint issuance is one more instance of the increasingly close relationship between our two nations. The Seaway is a monument to the efforts of the sovereign nations and an outstanding example of international co-operation and goodwill. These beautiful stamps worthily commemorate this great development which will mean so much to world trade and peace.

Canada will place 40,000,000 stamps on the market for her population of 17,284,000 while the United States will release 120,000,000 for her population of 171,790,000.

The bilingual Canadian five cent stamp will have its "day of issue" cancellation in Ottawa; the four cent U.S. stamp's first-day sale will be at Massena, N.Y., site of the American St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation.

The Royal visit to Canada will be marked with a new five cent stamp on June 18 portraying Queen Elizabeth II.

The design is from the painting by Pietro Annigoni, in which she is portrayed in robes of the Order of the Garter.

The portrait by Annigoni — an Italian — was commissioned in 1954 by the Worshipful Company of Fishmongers and now hangs in the Fishmongers' Hall near London Bridge.

Like the four vacationland stamps of 1957 the dates are incorrect because they refer only to when they were engraved.

Shaar Hashomayim

B'Nai Mitzvah: — Kenneth Keith Myers son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Myers, and Mark Joab Poznansky son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Poznansky will this Sabbath morning be called to the Reading of the Torah in celebration of their B'Nai Mitzvah.

Evening Seminar: The Evening Seminar conducted by Mr. Benjamin Herson on Wednesday evening concluded its semester on Wednesday, April 8 in the Library. The program of studies comprised for the first semester, modern essays on Judaism, papers delivered by the students on religious issues based on "Tradition and Change" and the writings of modern Jewish thinkers.

The second semester was devoted to an examination of excerpts from rabbinic sources and the Haggadah.

A congenial social hour followed in the annex of the Chapel. Appreciation is expressed to Mr. Wm. Aronoff, Mrs. M. Packer and Mr. I. Cohen for arrangements.

Kinus in Rochester: Fourteen L. T. F.'s under the guidance of Mr. Abe Rosen, Advisor and L. T. F. Instructor, spent a weekend in Temple Beth El, Rochester N.Y., as a delegation to the Regional L. T. F. Kinus, 5719.

The L. T. F.'s have returned with renewed zest and dedication for the ideals of L. T. F.—Jewish learning; the Hebrew language, the life of Mitzvot and Jewish leadership.

Rev. E. McIlwain called to post in Beaconsfield

The Rev. Eric McIlwain, B.A., BD, assistant minister of Dominion-Douglas United Church for the past seven years, has accepted a call to become minister of the Beaconsfield United Church.

Mr. McIlwain is a graduate of the University of Toronto in Arts and Theology and he ministered to congregations in Manitoba and Ontario before coming to Montreal.

For the past three years Mr. McIlwain has been chairman of the Life and Lent Services Committee. He is chairman of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference Committee on French work and convener of the similar committee on French MREWLYU D F tee in the Montreal Presbytery. He is president of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children and a member of the Board of the Marriage Counseling Center.

Mr. McIlwain is a past-president of the Westmount Ministerial Association and an executive member of the Christian Reunion Movement.

Welcome words at meal-time!

Usually a phone call or two among the neighbours rounds them up.

How many cold meals and frayed tempers and moments of uneasiness have you been spared because your telephone was handy?... How many "man-hunts" when small ones have wandered off?

The telephone helps make a neighbourly community—helps us all to live more securely, to get more things done, more easily.

Yes, your telephone is a wonderfully low-cost, wonderfully efficient servant.

United Thank Offering will be held April 30

The last meeting of the season of the Montreal Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada will take place Thursday, April 30, at 9.30 a.m. in Anglican House.

The revised by-laws for women's branches will be presented for adoption by Miss Esther Kerry, chairman of the constitution committee.

Hostesses at the noon-hour will be St. Aidan's Branch.

The annual presentation of the United Thank Offering will be made at 2 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral. Rev. Stanley H. Irving, rector of St. Aidan's Church, Ville Emard, will conduct the service and preach. This fund is one of the principal sources of revenue and is used for the training, support and retirement of WA missionaries. If the staff of workers is to be maintained and increased, it is manifest that this fund must be continued and strengthened.

Lauzier-Lane

The marriage of Janet Mildred, daughter of Mr. Thomas A. Lane and of the late Mrs. Lane, to Mr. Jean Charles Henri Lauzier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lauzier, took place on Saturday morning at St. Malachy's Church, the Rev. John T. Britt, officiating. Mr. Gerald Boisseau sang during the service, and Easter lilies arranged with greenery were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, was in a gown of brocade satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, and a full skirt. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a prayer book covered with Easter lilies.

Mrs. James Graham, as matron of honor for her sister, and Miss Shirley Cassidy, as bridesmaid, wore frocks of pale blue silk organza, with bandeaux to match and carried Colonial bouquets of pink, blue and white carnations.

Little Miss Paula Carson, as flower-girl for her cousin, wore a bouffant frock of pink organza, with a bandeau of the same shade and carried a small basket of pink and blue carnations.

Mr. David Lafontaine acted as best man for Mr. Lauzier, and the ushers were Mr. Gerald Paquette, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mr. Michael Lane, the bride's brother.

Mrs. James Carson, aunt of the bride, was in a gown of Dior blue crepe. She wore a pink hat and had a spray of carnations pinned to her handbag.

Mrs. Lauzier, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in Dior blue crepe, and wore a navy blue hat and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

The reception was held at the Mount Royal Hotel.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Lauzier left for New York and Daytona Beach, Florida, the bride travelling in a suit of gold wool, and wearing a white hat and black accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. James Graham, of Kingston, Ont.; Mr. Thomas R. Lane, Miss Theresa Niven, of Ottawa; and Mrs. E. Allaine, of Ste Anne de la Rochelle, Que.

African Violet Show to take place May 1

Mrs. Lew Davies, first president of the African Violet Society of Greater Montreal, when it was formed in 1948, will officially open the Tenth Annual Show on Friday, May 1.

This year the display will be held in Wesley United Church Hall, in Notre Dame de Grace. It will be open to the public from 3 p.m. until 9 p.m. on Friday, May 1, and from 10 a.m. until 8.30 p.m. on Saturday, May 2. Admission is free.

The African Violet Society, which started out as an offshoot of the West End Horticultural Society, held its first show in 1950, in Tudor Hall of Jas. A. Ogilvy's Ltd. Club members still recall the visit of Lady Alexander to the Show on that occasion.

Varieties of African Violets have changed a great deal in

THE WOMEN'S COMMITTEES of the Place des Arts campaign for $3,500,000 to finance Montreal's long-wanted Concert Hall are going all-out in a Women's Division drive to raise $250,000 of the aggregate objective. Hard at work on plans and prospects which cover some 3,000 special names, vice-chairman Mrs. Samuel Bronfman, OBE, is seen here conferring with Mrs. Gerald G. Ryan, chairman of the Women's Division, while vice-chairmen Mme Jean Raymond and Mrs. J. Cecil McDougall, all of Westmount, look on. A mammoth Montreal Forum rally, slated for April 30, and featuring the Montreal Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Wilfrid Pelletier, will officially get the drive underway. —Bier Photo

the last ten years. New pinks and whites are now available in both singles and doubles. Brilliant reddish shades and sparkling bicolors have been produced from cross-pollination.

A search for new names has resulted in such unusual ones as Pink Petticoats, Dixie Moonbeam, Pink Popcorn and Fancy Pants. Each year brings forth some new oddities. Interest in growing African Violets is increasing each year, and the one-time problems of culture are gradually being overcome, one by one. Mrs. W. L. Hardy, well-known African Violet grower, of Ste. Genevieve, has a greenhouse literally overflowing with plants of hundreds of brilliant shades.

Keen competition is expected this year in the thirty classes of African Violets in both single and double blooms. Six trophies are being awarded, three of them for the first time this year. Exhibitors will also vie for honors in arranging table decorations using African Violets, and in novel plantings.

Also on display will be an exhibit of orchids by the Eastern Orchid Society of Canada. Many unusual and rare varieties of this exotic flower will be on view to the public.

Mrs. Raginsky designed the award, to be given to Hadassah "sales-ladies" who sell the most tickets to the giant Hadassah Bazaar being held at the Show Mart May 13 and 14. The charm is a miniature map of Israel, with its four main cities, Haifa, Tel Aviv, Ellat and Jerusalem, marked with sapphire, emerald, ruby and diamond. Each stone represents a specific number of tickets sold. The Bazaar will feature two days of fabulous bargains in clothing, furniture, bric-a-brac and jewelry, plus a cooking contest and a dozen side attractions.

Westies lose; Mt. Royal, Barbs win

Westmount failed in their bid to be the first Montreal rugby team to win on American soil this Spring dropping a close 9-6 decision against M.I.T. in Boston on the weekend.

The Westies down 9-0 at the half came back with two touchdowns in the second stanza but couldn't close the gap completely.

In local action, Town of Mount Royal won their second straight of the season beating the Wanderers 10-3 as Maurice Mason and Des Matago counted TDs.

In Ottawa, the Barbarians trampled the Bytown Beavers 18-3.

In Boston, M.I.T. scored all their points on three penalty goals by Ken Jones.

The Westies who were slow in the first part of the game warmed to their task in the second stanza.

First, Geoff Jackson took advantage of a miscalculation to score and then Mike Ellis who had returned to the field with six stitches in a cut over the eye went over in the last minute for another major tally.

The Barbs scored on touchdowns by Freddie Foster, Denis Gustard and Mike Allan.

Gordie Burnett booted three converts and the scoring was rounded out by a drop goal from Dick Hyde.

Gerry Langlois making his debut for the Barbs played an outstanding game setting up Foster's TD.

Loyola Alumna to host 111 students

The 8th annual Loyola College Alumni recognition dinner will take place Friday, April 24, at Ruby Foo's starting at 6.30.

Don McNaughton, dinner chairman, announced that 111 college students will be honored at the dinner. The Father John Brayley trophy was won by Carl Olson, who has contributed the most in the field of athletics during his final year.

The CSR trophy will be given to the student who has contributed the most to the college in non-athletics in his final year and the winner is Tony Parr.

Although the Maple Leafs have been in and out of last place all season long, attendance at the Gardens actually shows a slight increase.

At the annual meeting of the PQLTA a new board of directors were elected. Front row, l. to r.: Guy Dorval, Mount Royal Tennis club, first vice-president; Jack Davies, N.D.G. Localites elected again to Quebec swimming body

Three major swimming meets are scheduled for indoor action. The YMCA championships will be staged at McGill on May 2. Toronto Etobicoke will visit McGill for a clash with Montreal all-stars on May 16.

And, most important of all, the Provincial indoor championships will be staged at a site to be announced later this week, May 23.

All dates were announced by Ken Murray, re-elected president of the Quebec Section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association Saturday.

Murray pointed out that all meets from here on are of particular importance to the competitors since a Quebec team will be selected in a few months to compete in the Canadian championships at Brantford in late July. These latter championships will also serve as Pan-American Games trials.

Committees have been set up to arrange the forthcoming meets especially the indoor provincials.

It was announced the section had completed a most successful season with all trophies competed for, no meets cancelled and of course, a most successful Empire Games trials staged last spring.

Elected to Murray's slate for the coming year are vice-presidents Harold Conklin, Ray Priestley and Jacques Langevin; secretaries, Mrs. P. Healy and Margaret Gorman; registrar, Bill Allan, and treasurer, Iz Corber. Elected to executive committee were Mrs. Lazare, Mrs. Ruth, Lucy Williams, Ross Firth, Syd Kastner, Jacques Montmigny, Doug Davidson and Ian MacDonald.

A white elephant is not white, but generally a pale yellowish-gray with pink spots.

Kenrick, Thistle club prexy; Clifford vice

N. E. Kenrick was elected president of Thistle Curling Club for the 1959-60 season at the annual meeting. Retiring president is E. K. McDougall, QC.

Jack Clifford was elected vice-president.

Directors elected were: J. M. MacAvity, Gordon McNaught, H. S. van Patter, W. F. Wansbrough, and E. W. Young. F. A. Coffey is honorary secretary and P. W. Hollingsworth honorary treasurer.

In his annual report, Mr. McDougall pointed out that the closing season was one of the club's most successful and that an outstanding season was expected next year.

and Dave Kelleher, pee wee Cubs

Coach Andy McGillis is expected to invite St. Paul's Academy girls to participate with St. Leo's boys in a mixed double teams tournament around the end of May. This should be good news to Billy McNally, Allan Keith and George Spare. The bantam Orioles held their initial softball practice and seem to have the material to make a fair bid to defend their Westmount bantam softball title. Newcomer Maurice Cusson

RMR downed 9-7 in 1st playoff

Gaston Proulx fanned 10 and got some timely hitting from his mates as Fusiliers beat Royal Montreal Regiment 9-7 in the first game of the best of three finals for the Military Fastball championship at Fusiliers' Armoury.

Catcher Guy Vandellac with four for four and Paul Collette, three hits in four tries, were the leaders in an assault of 13 hits against two 'Royals' hurlers.

For the loser starter Marv Bergson also struck out ten, but the Fusiliers ganged up for their runs. Dick Byford relieved along the route. Don Redhill slapped four for five and Jim Pratte had four for four almost to monopolize the RMR attack of 12 safe knocks.

Second game of the series will be played at the Royal Montreal Armoury in Westmount Friday night.

Governor General gets many souvenirs at visit to Temple Emanu-El Sanctuary

By JANE BARTLETT

Several Hebrew books, including a Bible printed in Israel, were among the souvenirs presented to His Excellency, Governor General Vincent Massey during his visit Tuesday to the reconstruction of the Temple Emanu-El sanctuary.

Members of the Temple Emanu-El congregation and representatives of various Temple groups gathered at the synagogue to greet the Governor General, who arrived at 12 p.m. sharp in an unmarked grey limousine.

Among the young people presented to His Excellency were Robert Prinsky, 707 Grosvenor avenue, David Sankoff, 464 Dufferin road, and Carol Freeman, 4922 Lacombe avenue, all representing the school of post-graduate religious studies; Steve Roth, 5 Bellevue avenue, president of the Youth Group; Joan Albright, 4893 Dornal avenue, president of the Junior Congregation; and Fred Simon, 4895 Mira road, vice-president of the Temple High School.

WARTIME HERO

An unexpected presentation was made after the Governor General and his party had viewed the actual construction work, when His Excellency was introduced to Angelo Halikas, assistant superintendent of the Temple for the past 18 months. Halikas, a Greek immigrant, and a member of the Greek orthodox church, sheltered a Jewish family in Greece for two months during World War II at great danger to himself and his own family, Rabbi Stern stated.

"My son fought in Greece with the British Army," recalled Massey, who smiled as he shook the man's hand warmly. "I'm glad you arrived in Canada safely."

During the formal presentations, the Governor-General renewed an old acquaintance with Mrs. I. Roston, oldest living member of the Temple Emanu-El Sisterhood.

Highlights of the tour were models of the interior and exterior of the new sanctuary set up in the Rabbi's study, which were viewed with interest by His Excellency; and a "seder" table, set up for the Passover feast Wednesday in one of the Temple classrooms.

PASSOVER RITES

Rabbi Stern explained the various customs connected with the seder table, including the hiding of the afikomen, a special piece of passover matzoh, for the children of the family to find. "This helps keep them awake through the long ceremony," said Rabbi Stern, "as the child who finds the afikomen is given a prize."

A hagadah (a book containing the Passover story), and a sample of matzoh (unleavened bread) was then presented to the Governor-General and his official hostess, Mrs. Lionel Massey.

Shortly afterward Rabbi Stern gave His Excellency a Hebrew bible printed in the State of Israel.

The last stop of the tour was in the auditorium of the Temple, which is currently being used in lieu of a sanctuary. The Governor-General viewed scrolls (torahs) of ancient origin, one of which had been rescued from the Nazis in Essen, Germany, by a Christian.

The Governor-General listened with interest while Rabbi Stern told him of how some ancient scrolls were used to make lampshades by the Nazis.

The Governor-General's party included his secretary, Lionel Massey, Mrs. Lionel Massey, and ADC's Capt. G. Morin, and Brig. A. Nesbitt.

His Excellency, who attended the final concert of the Montreal Symphony Tuesday evening, returned to Ottawa early yesterday morning.

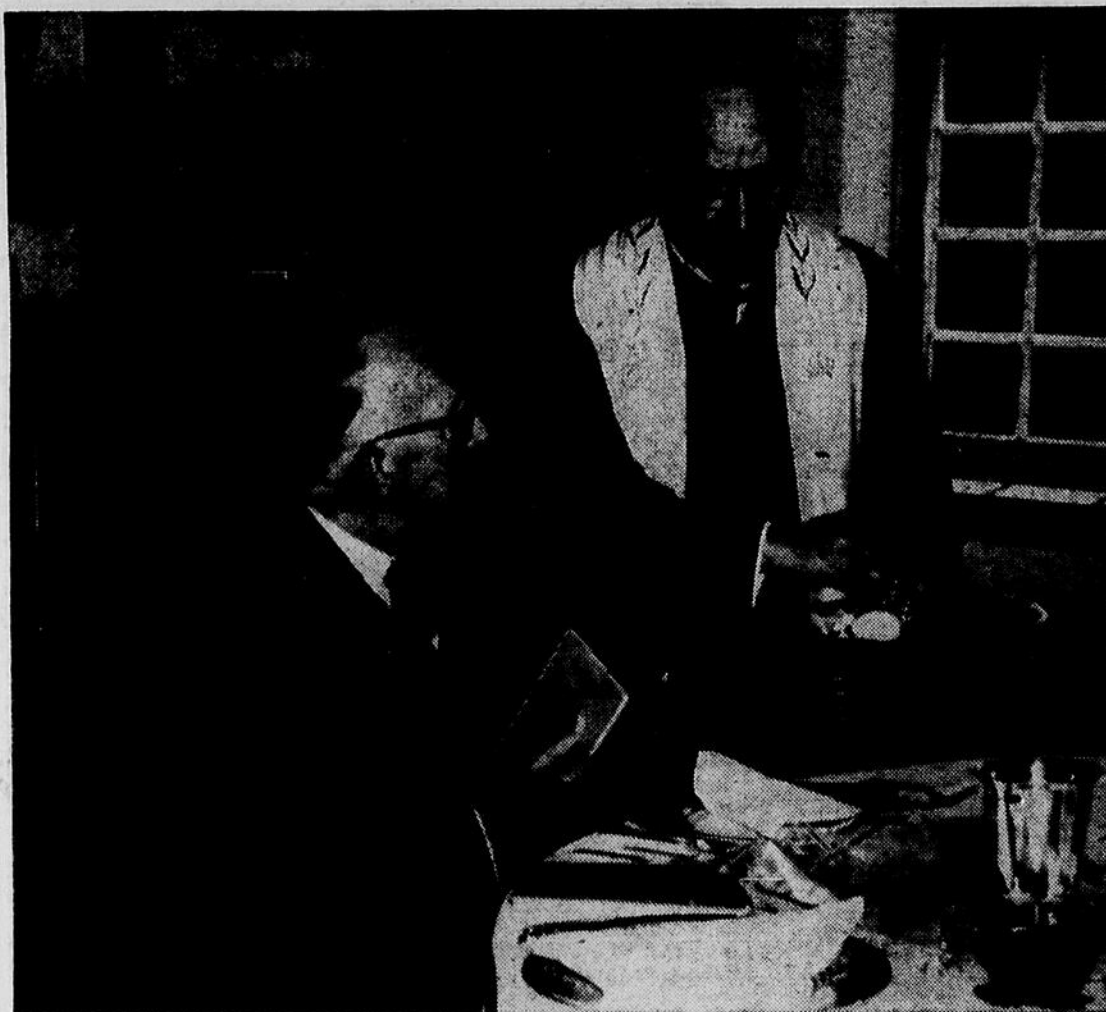

D. S. Penton to get McGill degree

D. S. Penton, of 3834 Melrose avenue, headmaster of Lower Canada College, will be one of five men to receive honorary degrees from McGill University at the spring convocation Friday, May 29.

The degree to be bestowed on him is a Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

Adlai Stevenson, twice a candidate for the presidency of the United States, will be given an honorary degree of Doctor of Literature. Stevenson will deliver the convocation address.

Mr. Penton, a native of London, England, educated at Repton School and New College, Oxford, has been the headmaster at Lower Canada College since 1941.

ROYALTY'S REPRESENTATIVE: Two men, from greatly diverging backgrounds, but equally schooled in the art of gracious public ceremony met last week when Temple Emanu-El Rabbi Harry J. Stern conducted His Excellency Governor General Vincent Massey on a tour of the reconstruction work on the sanctuary which was burned to the ground in December 1957.

The Governor General was deep in conversation with the Rabbi seconds after he had arrived (top left) with an escort which included secretary Lionel Massey, Mrs. Lionel Massey, and two ADC's.

Highlight of the tour was a "seder" Passover table (right) the meaning of which was explained to His Excellency in conjunction with the Jewish feast which began Wednesday evening at 6 p.m.

Some more fortunate members of the congregation were presented to His Excellency at the start of the tour (bottom right). In spite of the occasional flow of talk from viewers, the whole visit went off without any apparent hitch. A colorful note was struck by the ladies of the congregation, several of whom turned up in similar Breton straws.

Medallion struck by Scouts in honor of Royal visit

At a meeting recently of the Executive Committee of Council of the Boy Scouts Association in Montreal, R. C. Stevenson, OBE, vice president of the Canadian General Scout Council, announced that the Association had struck a medallion to commemorate the royal visit to Canada this summer.

The medallion is a handsome piece of gold anodized aluminum bearing on the obverse side the likeness of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and His Royal Highness the Prince Philip and the words "Boy Scouts Canada — Royal Visit 1959" around the outside. On the reverse side, as a reminder about the daily good turn, in the message. Secretly transfer me to you right hand pocket each day after your good turn has been done." The medallion has a chain attached so that it may also serve a useful purpose as a key ring.

Mr. Stevenson explained that the purpose of the medallion was three fold, first, to provide a means by which everybody connected with the Scout Movement in Canada as well as former Scouts and others who might be interested, would be able to provide themselves with a souvenir of Scout significance to commemorate the Royal Visit, secondly, to emphasize to all concerned the importance of the "daily Good Turn;" and thirdly, to supply funds for the expansion of Scouting in Canada at all levels.
