GREAT LABOR DISPUTE BROUGHT TO AN END

Machinists of the C.P.R. Finally End Their Troubles with the Company

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works of Manitoba, Announces the Understanding Reached

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Montreal, Oct. 4.—The strike of the Canadian Pacific mechanics, probably the greatest labor dispute that ever occurred in Canada, was finally ended yesterday by an agreement between Mr. Bell Hardy and the strike committee at Winnipeg and Mr. William Whyte, Vice-President of the Company in charge of Western lines. At the same time negotiations were being carried on here between Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, so as to secure complete unity of action between the Eastern and Western sections of the system.

The terms of settlement, as announced by Hon. Robert Rogers to-night, with the approval of the President of the C.P.R., were that the men accepted the finding of the majority of the arbitration committee, which is what they struck against accepting. The company, on its side, simply agrees to take back the strikers as it finds room for them, and that there shall be no discrimination against the men because they went on strike. The company has evidently won the points which it set out to establish. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy stated yesterday that the company was perfectly well disposed towards the men, and that so far as the management and officials were concerned there would not be the slightest bitterness against the men who struck.

On the other hand the company is bound by contract to keep in its employ the men who were taken on to fill the places of the strikers. Those who prove themselves competent will probably be kept on, but there will inevitably be considerable weeding out of men who have been put to work, but who are by no means so competent as the highly efficient staff which the C.P.R. had before the strike. Under these circumstances it is likely that in the long run a large percentage of the strikers will be taken back. Apparently they have lost their seniority and pension standing by going on strike, so that the ultimate loss to the union men through the strike will be very serious.

At the strike headquarters at the Grand Union Hotel to-night an anxious group of the leading union men were gathered in the room of James Sommerville awaiting word from Winnipeg that the strike had been called off. They knew that negotiations were pending and had been awaiting word of the conclusion of the strike all day. When Hon. Mr. Rogers' announcement was given there, however, it was the first definite information that the trouble had come to an end.

The news of the terms, or rather the unconditional surrender arranged by their committee at Winnipeg, was received with anything but pleasure, and there was some talk amongst the officials of the union that the men might refuse to accept such a settlement. It is, however, very unlikely that there will be any serious dissension from the work of the committee, as most of the men have for some time been weary of the strike, and they will be glad to get back to work as soon as they can.

The settlement of the strike is largely due to the activity of Hon. Robert Rogers, and Hon. Colin Campbell. For some time past they have been trying to secure a rapprochement between the company and the men and two weeks ago they so far succeeded that Bell Hardy, chairman of the strike committee, was called to Winnipeg to enter into negotiations with Vice-President Wm. Whyte.

A practical agreement was reached at Winnipeg over a week ago, but this only covered the Western lines, over which Mr. Whyte's jurisdiction extends. The strike committee therefore refused to make any agreement which did not include the Eastern men who went on strike in sympathy with them.

When matters reached this point Hon. Mr. Rogers agreed to come to Montreal and conduct the negotiations at this end. He reached Montreal on Wednesday of last week, and since that time has been in constant negotiations with Sir Thos. Shaughnessy and at the same time was kept in close telegraphic touch with the situation at Winnipeg.

The strike committee some time ago wired to accept the finding of the arbitration committee, but they tried to hold out for more definite assurances as to their immediate return to work. This, however, the company could not give, owing to the large number of men that had been taken on to replace the strikers, and eventually the strike committee agreed to accept the conditions offered by the company in this regard. Once this was done the way to a definite agreement for the cessation of hostilities was easy, and last night Hon. Mr. Rogers received the following telegram from Mr. Colin Campbell at Winnipeg:—"Strike happily settled. Clause C of the agreement reads as follows:—The company to use all reasonable means to find employment and to prevent discrimination against the men who have been on strike."

"COLIN CAMPBELL"

Discussing the settlement to-night, Hon. Mr. Rogers stated that he had been here for the past few days expressly for the purpose of facilitating such a settlement. "I have done my best to end this unhappy dispute," said Mr. Rogers, "and I am exceedingly glad to be able to state that the matter has been happily ended. The story is too long to tell you in detail," proceeded Mr. Rogers, "but I can assure you that Hon. Mr. Campbell's message to me shows that his last wire heralds the end of the dispute. Through our negotiations I found Sir Thomas Shaughnessy very considerate in all dealings. He never evinced the slightest ill feeling towards the men on account of the strike and was at all times anxious to do everything possible to facilitate an adjustment of the dispute. The return of the strikers to work will be taken in charge by the superintendents at the various points, and there will not be the slightest discrimination against them on account of the strike."

Mr. James Sommerville, who is in charge of the local strike situation during the absence of Chairman Bell Hardy, when told of Hon. Mr. Rogers' announcement, merely stated that he had not yet heard from Winnipeg, but that he had been expecting news of the end of the strike every minute. While not surprised at the conclusion of the agreement, however, he was evidently disappointed at the terms, and his disappointment was echoed by most of the committeemen in his room.

The strike which has just come to an end was probably the greatest and most far reaching dispute that has ever occurred in Canada. It affected nearly eight thousand men, according to the statements of the strike leaders, and extended from St. John to Vancouver as well as to many points in the United States. It lasted exactly two months, having started on August 5th, and during that time the men lost about $125,000 a week in wages, while the cost to the company in general inconvenience and securing new men, many hundreds of whom were brought from England at the company's expense, must have been very considerable. In all probability the loss to the country, through direct loss of wages, expenses to the company and disruption of business, will not be less than $2,000,000.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS

It has been decided, as an interim arrangement, that candidates scoring the highest percentages at these examinations may be eligible for the third division of the Inside Service until such time as the new rules and regulations of the commission shall have been approved.

CONSERVATIVE CHIEF'S ROUSING RECEPTION

Mr. Borden Closed Two Weeks Hard Work with Monster Meetings at St. Catharines and Niagara Falls.

St. Catharines, Ont., October 3.—Mr. Borden finished an extremely heavy week's campaigning to-day by two rousing meetings in the Niagara peninsula; at St. Catharines in the afternoon and at Niagara Falls in the evening. At both places very large gatherings greeted him with the warmest enthusiasm. At St. Catharines the opera house was entirely too small to hold the numbers who tried to gain admission, and a large overflow meeting was addressed in the Masonic Hall nearby.

When Mr. Borden rose to speak, he was greeted by a tremendous ovation. With waving of hats and flags the people rose to their feet and cheered again and again. This warmth and enthusiasm was displayed throughout the whole afternoon. The county of Lincoln is strongly Conservative and the present fight of W. L. Woodruff against the sitting member, E. A. Lancaster, is looked on even by his friends as a forlorn hope.

The speakers this afternoon were: Messrs. Borden, the Hon. W. J. Hanna, Hugh Clarke, M.P., E. A. Lancaster, M.P., F. H. Lawlor, M.P., for Haldimand; and E. D. Smith, M.P., P.

Mr. D. Allan, president of the County Association, introduced the chief speaker of the day, remarked that the argument was used against Mr. Borden that he was too straight to be a politician. "I say it is time for straight men to be in politics. There is need for them."

Mr. Borden is a preface to his address, recalled the fact that his first public meeting as leader of the Conservative Party was held in St. Catharines. He immediately plunged into a criticism of the Laurier administration leading up to the argument that, when the leaders of a party broke its pledges, to its supporters and to the country, the members of the party were absolved from their allegiance. The rank and file of the Liberal party had sent delegates to Ottawa in 1893 to draw up the platform on which Laurier had been returned to power. Every article of that policy had been outraged. No attempt had been made to carry out but two of them.

ALL AUTO RECORDS WERE SHATTERED

In the Twenty-Four Hour Race at Brighton Beach—One Dead, Five Injured.

New York, Oct. 3.—Amid the most intense excitement, George Robertson, driving Simplex car No. 6, flashed across the finish line at the Brighton Beach race track to-night the winner of the second international 24-hour automobile race of the Motor Racing Association. Harry Cole, driving a 50 horse-power Lozier machine, was second, and Montague Roberts, at the wheel of a 72 horse-power Thomas, was third. Six cars finished, all of them being American. The foreign cars, two French and two Italian, were put out of the contest by accidents, as were three American cars. The final score was:—

No. 6, Simplex, Robertson-Lescault, 1,177 miles.
No. 2, Lozier, Cole-Mulford, 1,125 miles.
No. 8, Thomas, Roberts-Winter, 1,115 miles.
No. 11, Allen-Kingston, Lahwell-Paparday, 907 miles.
No. 9, Cleveland, Chevrolet-Miller, 632 miles.
No. 4, Stearns, Laureth-Marquis, 515 miles.
The best previous record was 1,107 miles.
One dead and five injured, half a dozen costly racing autos smashed into worthless masses, speed records for a circular track shattered: this is the record in brief of the great race.

QUEBECER BROWNED IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Oct. 3.—The body of a man who had been missing since last Sunday was found yesterday morning. He was missing from a barge on which he was working, and a diver was sent down to make sure whether he was drowned or not. He was found near where the Ionian is moored. His name was Marcell, and his home was in Quebec.

ACCUSED NEGRO'S STORY OF LIFE

Has Been Roaming Most of His Days in Various Quebec Towns.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 3.—Frank Roghmond, the negro, who is accused of the murder of Mrs. William Peak, at her Downie house Wednesday afternoon, talked quite freely about himself and his past life, most of which has been spent in various Quebec towns.

He was born in Little Carlisle and commenced a roving career early in life. For eight years he was engaged in various lines of railroad work, such as linesman, switchman, brakeman, etc. Asked if he had ever been in a wreck he said, "just once, when a few cars jumped the track in a northern Quebec town, but I escaped with few bruises."

Roghmond repeated his statement that he has only one brother alive, living at Three Rivers, Quebec, and that his father and mother are dead. "I have been wandering around for some time," he said.

When asked if he had a trade, "My trade is railroad work, and when I get tired roaming I go back to work." Roghmond's whole bearing and manner of speech almost give the lie to the assertion that he is a degenerate. He talks sanely, conveying the thought that he is rather an intelligent negro, with a fair education. His sloping forehead, drooping jaw, and general facial expression, however, might show criminal tendencies.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 4.—It is not unlikely that Frank Roghmond, the prisoner accused of the murder of Mrs. Peak, will be removed from the jail and taken to Sebringville, a distance of five miles, for the inquest on Monday night. As the attendance of the prisoner is necessary it is thought that the inquest will adjourn to Stratford some night next week. The reason for this is that the officials do not care to take any chances in driving the prisoner along the country roads through the section where the crime was committed.

RUSSIAN STUDENT TROUBLES

St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—The crisis brought about by the threatened strike of the students of St. Petersburg University was dealt with at a special meeting of the cabinet last night. M. Schwartz, the Minister of Education, outlined the questions at issue and said that he fully approved the decision of the faculty to close the university as a measure calculated to prevent conflicts between the conservative and radical factions of the students to-day. The intervention of the police and the closing of important universities has created a bad impression in political circles, but it is hoped that the Duma will be able to bring about a compromise.

TUBERCULOSIS CONFERENCE

Washington, Oct. 3.—A signal victory was to-day won by the opponents of the theory advanced by Dr. Robert Koch, the eminent German scientist, minimizing the danger of human infection from bovine tuberculosis bacilli, when the sixth triennial international congress on tuberculosis just before final adjournment, placed itself squarely on record in opposition to the views of the German savant. The congress by unanimous vote adopted a resolution recognizing the "possibility" of human infection from bovine tuberculosis bacilli. Whether or not Dr. Koch has receded from his position by silently acquiescing in the adoption of the resolution is not known. A pleasant scene in the closing of the congress was the appearance of President Roosevelt. The President, in an address, spoke of the rapid strides made in recent years in combatting disease, stating that it was not so very many years ago since the attitude of man toward such a disease as that of consumption was one of helplessness and resignation. He referred to the United States government's work in rendering healthful the Panama canal zone and continued, "You have come here to conduct war—what is on the whole the most terrible scourge of the people throughout the world. The chance successfully to conduct that war arose when the greatest experts in the medical world turned their trained intelligence to the task. It remains for them to find out just what can be done. The task then will be for the representatives of the governments to give all possible effects to this conclusion of the scientific men." The next meeting of the congress will be held at Rome, Italy.

"Just a Little Bit Added to What You've Got"

IN the words of the popular song "Every Little Bit Added To What You've Got Makes Just a Little Bit More." In actual practice it amounts to a good deal more if the process of adding is kept up for any length of time. Take for example a Customer's Deposit Account. You invest a certain sum and receive interest at the rate of FIVE PER CENT., compounded half-yearly. It is a well-known fact that any sum of money will double itself in twenty years at five per cent simple interest. It is very evident, then, that when the interest is compounded half-yearly it will double itself very much more quickly. Open a Customer's Deposit Account TO-DAY! Keep on adding a little to what you've got and you'll find that, before long, you'll have a good deal more than you expected.

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 5, 1908.

QUEBEC CENTRE.

The Opposition has been singularly fortunate in inducing Mr. Hubert Cimon to come forward as its standard bearer in Quebec Centre. He is able, energetic and popular; respected and esteemed by all who know him, and may be relied upon not only to understand and appreciate the needs of the constituency, but also to advance them to the best of his ability. We have called him the Opposition candidate, rather than the Conservative, because in this campaign it is not so much a question between the two great parties as one between honesty and dishonesty and extravagance; the Opposition therefore comprises in its ranks, both Conservatives and Liberals who are alike weary of the continued corruption and extravagance of the government, and recognize the fact that it must be speedily put an end to before it utterly wrecks the country. The campaign is therefore one of principle, and not of party, and the difference between the two opposing forces is that while the leader of the one will tolerate only those who will implicitly obey their orders, and transform themselves into automatic voting machines, the leader of the other seeks intelligent and independent men, men who possess a conscience of their own, and have the courage to follow its dictates. Such a man is the candidate in Quebec West, Mr. William Price, and such is the candidate in Quebec Centre, Mr. Hubert Cimon. Both these gentlemen come forward as supporters of what is honest and right first, and of the Conservative policy afterwards, and only so far as it commends itself to their own individual judgment. These are the kind of men to whom the nation can securely confide itself, and they are the men also to whom the constituencies they represent can most confidently look for active co-operation and assistance. They are free and untrammelled, and not under the obligation to subordinate the interests of their constituencies to partisan exigencies; they are therefore the best kind of representative. We are certain that if Mr. Cimon should be elected he will not disappoint the legitimate expectations of his constituencies, but will work energetically in their behalf, and we hope, for the good of Quebec Centre, that he will be placed at the head of the poll by a large majority when it is closed in the afternoon of October 26th.

INCIPIENT INSANITY.

"Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad," and they seem to entertain some such sinister intention towards the Laurier Government, some of whose members appear to have already reached the stage of mental confusion. To say nothing of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's extraordinary efforts in the natural and historic lines during his Ontario tour, and his cynical profession of political faith that "no-body," not even excepting himself, "could be half as honest as Mr. Borden's talks," or of Hon. Mr. Brodeur's impulsive blurring out of his opinion that of the Government were saved from defeat it would only be by the skin of its teeth, and not that unless its supporters behaved themselves, and were as good and loving as a Sunday-school class when in school, we find Hon. Mr. Fielding going about the country proclaiming that he does not know how much he is spending, and meeting the charge of extravagance with unique defences. He is apparently under the impression that the annual expenditure is a hundred millions, whereas it is now nearer a hundred and fifty, and urges that such an outlay is appropriate to "a hundred million dollar country." It is rather a low estimate of the actual worth of the Dominion, but that is fortunate, for if Mr. Fielding had placed a more correct value on it we should probably be counting the annual expenditure by billions instead of millions by this time. He went further in his speech at Galt, Ont., on October 1st, in behalf of the Liberal candidate in South Waterloo. He referred to the Conserbative scandal as "little tattle." The scandals were small in comparison with the "great things" done by the government. The expenditure was a hundred million dollars and to spend it required a large army of men. Here and there would be room for the criticism of the conduct of these men. The government, however, were ready to recognize the importance of these things, which were important, but not enough so to brush aside the splendid record of the government. The men involved were Conservative officials."

Such is a summary of Hon. Mr. Fielding's remarks as contained in a despatch from Galt to the Ottawa Citizen, and we gather from it that the honorable gentleman's mental faculties were in much the same disordered state as they were when he advocated the secession of Nova Scotia from the Dominion and the tearing down of the Dominion flag, though his present hallucinations do not take the form of violent mania. He starts out with saying that the Conservative scandal talk was "little tattle"; then he confesses by implication that it was well founded, but small in comparison with the great things done by the government—meaning thereby, we suppose, its great expenditure, for it has done nothing else beyond "assisting nature" as Mr. Sam Weller remarked. Next he said that this little tattle, and comparatively small offences were important, and that the government was ready to recognize them as such, but they ought not to be allowed to brush aside the splendid record of the government, the expenditure, to wit, and finally, he concluded by saying that whatever sins were committed had been done by "Conservative officials"; Conservative officials of a twelve year old Liberal government! Surely such a jumbled mass of contradictions and absurdities is a sign of the approach of that madness which the gods send to those of whom they are weary, and whom they intend for the benefit of humanity to destroy.

But the game was in the statement that "the expenditure was a hundred million dollars, and TO SPEND IT REQUIRED A LARGE ARMY OF MEN." That throws Hon. Mr. Brodeur, and his untimely revelation of the precarious condition of the government entirely into the shade. It is the explanation of the origin of graft; and the secret of the complacency with the government tolerates and encourages it. The government is taking so much from the people that it is really at its wits' end how to get rid of it, and needs the assistance of "a large army of men." Hence the grafters; and the middlemen; and the extravagant outlays on the Arctic and Montcalm; and the Grande Vallée pier built for the accommodation and at the request of the member of Parliament, who owned a lumber property on the Gaspé coast; and the Disraeli wharf, which is not a wharf at all, but simply a bridge over a creek that has only water in it during the freshets; and a whole lot more subjects for "little tattle," which are, singly, small in comparison with the hundred million dollars that must be got rid of at any cost, otherwise Mr. Fielding would have still bigger surpluses with which to further increase the national debt. It is really too bad! Here are the people pressing on the government more money than it can legitimately expend, and forcing it to enlist the assistance of a large army of grafters, election workers, etc. If the government is not virtuous, and it appears to have some doubts on the subject itself, it is not its fault but that of the people who will insist on overwhelming it with money. The people should take pity on it and remove it from so demoralizing a burden as the spending of the public money.

FOR THE BLIND.

For the further enlightenment of the Kingston Whig, which professes to believe that the Laurier Government has spent no public funds except upon works that were in the general interest, it is worth while making reference to certain business which the minister of public works has been responsible for in the way of wharf building.

At the dream city of St. Joseph, on the shores of Lake Huron, the minister, determined to build a wharf. That there was no public demand for wharf accommodation at this point is proven by the fact that the Reform newspaper of the district declared that a place "needs a harbor as badly as a goose requires side pockets, and any such expenditure is just so much money thrown away." Add to this the opposition of the Liberal member, who begged that the business be stopped until the matter was investigated, and it can easily be understood how little need there really was for the wharf. But the work was rushed ahead, and a job that was estimated to cost $5,000 has up to date cost the people of Canada nearly $16,000. As further proof of the foolishness of this particular work, it may be mentioned that the net receipts of the post office in the village, supposed to be served by this accommodation for marine interests, were in 1905 the magnificent

SHALL THIS GO ON?

Election frauds actively encouraged. The West Huron election, 1899, and the Brockville election, 1899, were brought before the Election and Privileges Committee of the House of Commons, where it was proved beyond any reasonable possibility of doubt, by the poll-books and ballots, that frauds had been committed. The first named case came up in the House where Mr. R. L. Borden moved for an investigation. Sir Wilfrid Laurier personally interposed and asked his party to defeat this motion, which was done; at the same time the Premier, in order to give a decent color to his action and hood-wink the people into believing that he was sincere, promised that the matter would be thoroughly investigated by a Royal Commission. Nothing was ever done.

Encouraged thus in high places the Liberal "Machine" now became very well known, got very busy and perpetrated election frauds with impunity in all elections. A few of the best known cases and the dirtiest are: St. James, Montreal—Two culprits sent to jail.

Frontenac—Trick ballot boxes. Hastings—Trick ballot boxes. West Elgin—A carnival of election crime.

The "Minnie M." scandal. The "Thin Red Line." Disqualification of voters in Nova Scotia by a Government official who was fined $200.

North Grey—Ballot switching and spoiling. St. Antoine, Montreal—Conspirators arrested.

Halifax, where the election protested in December, 1904, has not yet been allowed to go down to trial, and two Liberals have sat through the entire life of last Parliament by means of appealing technical points of law from court to court.

The "London Conspiracy" case is in part a culmination of these wrongdoings.

Degrading appointments to the Civil Service: Joseph Nixon, appropriated Government money, re-appointed to office at $800 a year.

Philip Wagner, defrauded immigrants, $1,200 yearly.

W. J. Doherty, a defaulting postmaster, $1,070 yearly.

J. B. Jackson, procurer of false evidence, $3,000 yearly.

sum of $16,14. But the expenditure was not altogether without result. The man for whom the work was done assisted with work and money in the memorable London election of 1905.

Grand Vallée pier is a second instance of wharf building by the Laurier government. It is simply a private wharf on the Gaspé coast built at the request and for the accommodation of a member of Parliament who owned a lumber property in that district. The pier cost the people of Canada $57,498, and after it was constructed the lumberman member of Parliament was able to sell the property at a handsome profit. It serves no public purpose.

The third instance, and the most amusing of the lot, is that of the wharf at Disraeli, Wolfe county, Quebec. It is called a wharf, but is really a bridge over a creek, which, except during freshet times, is dry. Even if there were shipping it could not reach this bridge wharf because of a low railway bridge on the one side and a highway bridge on the other. The condemning of this old highway bridge explains the building of the government wharf, which is really one-half of a new highway bridge, the municipality building the other half. It costs the municipality $2,875 to build 400 feet of this bridge, while the government paid $7,250 for its portion—310 feet. It is needless to say that the government has no business spending public money upon the building of ordinary highway bridges for municipalities, and that is all this wharf is.

And if the Whig is anxious for further information as to these three wharf transactions, let it look up Hansard, 1906, pages 3428-2501. In the light of this additional evidence, will the Kingston paper still maintain that the government has spent no public funds except in the general interests of the public?—Hamilton Spectator.

LUMBER IMPORTING NATIONS.

According to estimates compiled by Dr. Ernest Friedrich of the German Commercial High School, at Leipzig, the total lumber importations of the countries of the world that depend altogether or in part on outside forest resources equal in value $255,600,000.

Although its own supply is diminishing the United States heads the list of exporting states with 20 per cent. of the total amount. Austria-Hungary furnishes 19 per cent., Sweden 18 per cent., Russia 16 per cent., Canada 18 per cent., Finland 10 per cent., while Norway and Roumania contribute a small quantity.

Only four per cent. of the surface of Great Britain carries forest growth and during 1906 that country imported lumber to the value of $135,561,750. Although Germany has 26 per cent. of its territory covered by forests it imported in 1906 lumber valued at $61,285,000. Other countries that depend

STEAMER INISHOWEN HEAD.

After the steamer Lord Strathcona had broken a 15 inch Manila hawser, in endeavoring to haul the steamer Inishowen Head off the mud at Union Cove, it was decided to discharge the entire cargo of the vessel into the lighters, and to float her off when the tides begin to make, which will occur on Wednesday evening next.

The Inishowen Head is making no water and apparently has suffered no damage. The work of discharging cargo is progressing steadily under the direction of Messrs. Michael Kenny and William Boisvert, stevedores.

Already nine hundred tons of iron have been taken out of the steamer. Yesterday a large number of people went up to Union Cove to view the stranded vessel. There was little to repay them for their trouble, as she looked more like a steamer lying quietly at anchor than ashore, as she is standing perfectly upright.

RICHEST WOMAN IN CANADA DEAD

Widow of Late Robert Dunsmuir,
Who Was Suing Son for an Estate, Passes Away.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Jean Oliver Dunsmuir, widow of the late Robert Dunsmuir, discoverer of the Wellington coal mines on Vancouver Island, died this morning. Mrs. Dunsmuir, who was the richest woman in Canada, was eighty years of age.

Mrs. Dunsmuir, at the time of her death, was engaged in a law suit, brought against her son, Lieutenant-Governor Dunsmuir, asking for an accounting of the estate, valued at about $15,000,000, left her by her husband's will, which, it is claimed, was managed by the Lieutenant-Governor until he and his brother, the late Alexander Dunsmuir, purchased it for $400,000, a few years previous. The statement of claim filed in the suit being that the deal was put through upon misrepresentation.

Mrs. Dunsmuir came to British Columbia about sixty years ago, with her husband, from Scotland, he being engaged as a coal miner for Hudson's Bay Company. They lived at Port Rupert, near the north end of Vancouver Island, where the Hudson's Bay Company had a post, and worked a coal mine, long since abandoned. Afterwards they went to Nanaimo, and it was the discoverer of coal by the late Robert Dunsmuir at Wellington which founded the fortune of the family.

The present litigation promised to be long-drawn-out, and whether it will be carried on by the daughters, who sided with their mother, is not known.

Mrs. Dunsmuir is survived by Jas. Dunsmuir, Lieutenant-Governor of this province; Mrs. Henry Croft, of this city; Mrs. Burroughs, living in England; Lady Musgrave, wife of Sir Richard Musgrave, who resides in the Old Country; Mrs. Calthorpe, wife of Capt. Calthorpe, R.N.; and Mrs. Chapman. Four members of her family predeceased her, Mrs. John Bryden, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Haughton and Alexander.

CHOLERA IN RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—The cholera epidemic is being kept well in hand, considering the hold it had on the city before proper measures to prevent its spreading were taken. In the twenty-four hours from noon Saturday until noon today the new cases numbered 136, with deaths 62.

STORM AT MANILA

Manila, Oct. 5.—The United States Atlantic battleship fleet has safely outridden a hurricane which swept Manila Bay for twelve hours and did much damage ashore. The storm broke over the bay suddenly Sunday noon. It was impossible to hoist the cutters and launches belonging to the fleet and the little crafts were sent scurrying inside the breakwater into the Paris River, where they remained all night. The storm quickly increased in intensity and the torrential rains shut in the ships. At 8 o'clock Sunday night the storm had reached its height and it then gradually tapered down until at midnight it was comparatively calm, although heavy seas swung across the harbor. During the storm all the battleships had steam up ready for any emergency. Rear Admiral Sperry finally ordered the flagship Connecticut and the Kansas, Minnesota, Vermont, Virginia and Ohio under way and the six vessels steamed down close to Cavite, where they anchored. At times the wind blew at the rate of 100 miles an hour. All communication with the shore was cut off. It was impossible during the height of the storm to see the warships through the haze of rain and spray. On shore several carriages were overturned by the wind, trees were blown down, electric wires were prostrated and several buildings were unroofed. Among the buildings unroofed was the depot of the commissary.

FIVE-MILE RECORD WAS LOWERED

Annual Sports of Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada in Mon-
tré, Oct. 3.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—Athletes of the first order were in competition on the M. A. A. A. grounds in Westmount this afternoon, the occasion being the running off of the annual field and track sports of the Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada. America's foremost men, many of whom were members of the prominent team that represented the United States at the Olympic games in London this summer, were there in goodly numbers. The New York Athletic Club was represented by such noted men as H. L. Trube, the mile runner; S. P. Gilles, the weight and shot-putting man; H. J. Grummett and J. P. Mahoney, the jumpers; E. Erick and H. Giesing, the 880-yards runs; McGrath and Sherman, in the shot-putting and hammer events; and G. B. Ford, H. L. Hillman, J. J. McEntee and Sedley in the 440-yards run. Ralph Rose did not compete.

The Irish-Americans, who had intended having a strong team present, were short three of their cranks—Sheridan, Ellor and Flanagan. These athletes are all policemen, and at the last moment were refused leave of absence. From the west came T. Bator, of Winnipeg, while all the expert men of the local clubs of the Federation participated.

A rather slim crowd was present this afternoon, considering that these were Canadian championship games. The weather was anything but pleasant, a raw and cold wind that chilled to the bones blowing across the grounds. Such conditions kept away the enthusiasts in big numbers, but the competitors suffered hardly at all.

The summary is:

100 yards run—First, Ist. W. F. Keating, I.A.A.C.; 2nd, J. P. Pelletier, National A.A.A. Time, 11 sec. 2nd heat, Ist. C. G. Ekman, Acorn A.C.; 2nd, F. L. Lukeman, M.A.A.A. 10-15 sec.

THEO. HAMEL'S CLOSING LETTER

New York, Oct. 3.—With the crops out of danger, colder weather stimulating general trade, October settlements adjusted without a ripple in money market, and increased confidence regarding election outcome the market this week has recorded a notable forward movement. Total sales to Friday's close were 2,116,708 shares, against 5,232,948 the previous week. The largest single day's business was not as large as the smallest of the week before, and there was a great deal of jockeying before the real upward movement began. London took forty thousand shares on balance, making over 100,000 shares during the past four weeks. Bond sales were $12,519,500, against $17,382,000 the week before, but the volume of bond trading on Friday, if it had been equalled by other days, would have brought the total to more than that of the week previous. Exports of wheat, copper and cotton were $24,627,443, as compared with $16,332,000 the week before, the improvement being chiefly due to very heavy shipments of cotton. Bank clearings were well below 1907, but for September the total is 5 per cent. above the same week last year. The demand for various luxuries showed improvement, some car orders were arranged and railroad business showed steady betterment. German and French trade is increasing a significant indication of the world-wide trend of business activity. August net earnings of railroads showed numerous advances over 907. Practical completion of "Prisco" financing was a legitimate bull argument, some industrial dividends were maintained, Paper Prof. reduced its payment on basis. The government crop report next Thursday may show corn better than previously thought. American Copper agencies are loading up with the metal in anticipation of election of Mr. Taft. HEADACHES ARE DANGER SIGNALS

They Tell Us Plainly That Something Is Wrong Inside.

There are tablets and powders that will stop a headache promptly—but removing a danger signal does not take away the danger.

In nearly every case a headache of whatever kind—is a symptom of poisoned blood, due to Bowels, Kidneys and Skin failing to thoroughly remove the indigestible food and waste, worn-out tissue from the body. Then digestion is poor, causing sick headaches, or uric acid is formed and deposited on the nerves, causing neuralgia.

Not only the danger signal, but the danger itself as well, is quickly removed by "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" are tablets made of the combined juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes, containing all their medicinal properties, concentrated and intensified. They cause the liver to secrete more bile, which moves the bowels freely and regularly, and cures the most obstinate cases of Constipation. They stir up kidneys and skin to throw off all the urea, or dead tissue, which has been poisoning the system. They sweeten the stomach, improve digestion and tone up the whole body. The headaches disappear—because the source is removed. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size, 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ST. BRIDGET'S ASYLUM BAZAAR.

The St. Bridget's Bazaar opens this Monday evening and promises to be more than usually interesting to all concerned. It will be held in St. Patrick's Hall, the famed hall, where old and young of the congregation assembled in past days. Fairs were held there, concerts were given, men of letters, men of science, artists, orators were proud to be heard, in St. Patrick's Catholic and Literary Institute. Hall with appreciative and admiring audiences to applaud them. Their descendants are continuing the good works and St. Bridget's will not suffer by the fact that there is no vast building to enclose the treasures of needlework, fruits from foreign climes, delicious cakes, candies and confectionery, flowers of rare fragrance and beauty that Mesdames Mahoney, Doherty, Collican, Wherry, Bolger, M. Shaw, J. Timmons, McKenna, Hackett, Arkinson, F. J. Lennon, Foley, Leonard, Bever, J. E. Boisvert, Carbury, Romeril, Reddy, Slattery, Walsh, R. Timmons, Michael Power, J. Sheridan, have earnestly and energetically collected.

A table held by members of St. Agnes Club, is expected most attractive. The Misses O'Dwyer, president; M. Burke, J. Carroll and A. Charlton, preside over it. No doubt the different socialities in connection with St. Patrick's will show their gratitude to the many charming maidens who form a host of eager workers for the poor and needy of our Grande Allee Irish Home. The Sisters of Charity (who guard the old people and orphans) have decorated the hall to be used as a concert room, the hall in which the daughters of St. Agnes have their pleasant social meetings, the hall which so strongly attracts the lively members of the Young Men's Sodality. The lower part of the building will be devoted to gastronomic and "menu" preparations. All should go to this "feast of reason and flow of soul." A "elite" who enjoy human voices and "elite" who enjoy human voices and living pictures. Such a combination of delight ferns, bon-bons and solid reflection will greet cordially welcomed visitors that they will return again and again; fresh recreation will be awaiting them at all times.

Miss Mahoney has organized an entertainment for this evening's opening of the annual fair. Miss May Fleming, Mr. Doyle, Miss Stella Mahoney and Mr. Fitzgibbon, who helped to execute a fine programme at the Diamond Harbor concert for St. Bridget's aid, will be heard again. There is promised a fine vocal quartette in which the Misses Mahoney, Messrs. Shields and Timmons will take part. Mr. James McManamy will contribute a recitation.

Everyone will wish good luck and great success to St. Bridget's bazaar of 1908.

fied and Race Given to Hamilton Race Track, Ont., Oct. 3.—The attendance to-day was the largest ever seen at the Hamilton track, two special trains being required to handle the crowd from Toronto. Red Gauntlet, the favorite, finished first, but was disqualified for interference. The three starters ran on even terms till the stretch, when Garner on Red Gauntlet crossed over twice and fouled the other two. HOW HE APOLOGIZED.

President Roosevelt related that he was in a village church where the service was conducted by a colored minister. During a forcible sermon on theft, the preacher said:

"I see before me twelve chicken thieves, including William Saunders." William Saunders was naturally incensed at this, and threatened the preacher with personal violence. The preacher with personal violence. The preacher with personal violence. The preacher with personal violence.

While these important baseball questions still remain to be settled, the closing events of the warm weather sporting season are claiming their share of interest and the gridiron stars are clamouring for increased attention.

The tennis feature of the week will be the tournament for the inter-collegiate championships which commences Monday at the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia.

At Philadelphia Saturday sixteen high power cars will start in a 200 mile road race in Fairmont Park.

In the Closing Events of the Outdoor Athletic Season—Baseball,
Tennis and Auto.

New York, Oct. 4.—With the close of play for the season only two days away in the American League and three in the National League, the outcome of the race in each league still hangs in the balance to be decided by the games yet to be played. Never have the finishes in the two big baseball organizations been so close and exciting and never has the interest in the game throughout the country been kept at such intense pitch to so late a date. The contest narrowed down several weeks ago to three clubs in the National League and four in the American. St. Louis was eliminated from the American League fight not long ago, but Detroit, last year's championship team, Cleveland and Chicago were left to fight it out for final honors. These clubs remain contestants for the flag in the games to be played Monday and Tuesday, with Detroit still holding the advantage as a result of its six point lead over Cleveland in second place, and nine over Chicago in third. In all probability it will take the last day's games to decide which shall be the ultimate winner and the contender against either the Chicago or the New York National League team for world's championship laurels.

The National League battle is all but decided. To-day's game in Chicago put Pittsburgh out of the final reckoning, and left Chicago assured of more than an even chance with New York for the landing of the flag in the senior organization, it being impossible for New York to do more than tie the Chicago team. It would do that by winning all three games, it is scheduled to play with Boston, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Which two teams will line up for the world's championship fight may not be decided until the last of the present week or possibly the first of the week following. Monday's meeting of the National League directors, which will pass on the protested game of the New York-Chicago series of September 23rd, may have an important bearing on the settlement of a question, which has the baseball fraternity of the nation by the ears at present, and the decision, which involving unfortunately intricate questions of baseball law as well as the actual merits of teams in the field, will be awaited with feverish anticipation among the excited enthusiasts throughout the length and breadth of the land.

While these important baseball questions still remain to be settled, the closing events of the warm weather sporting season are claiming their share of interest and the gridiron stars are clamouring for increased attention.

The tennis feature of the week will be the tournament for the inter-collegiate championships which commences Monday at the Merion Cricket Club, Philadelphia.

SOME QUEER TRADES.

"Smellers" and Professional Best Man Are Found in London.

Few people are aware of the existence of some novel occupations out of which many an enterprising man is making a lucrative living. One of the queerest of these, given in a recent London directory, is that of the expert "smeller." Scent-makers need someone with a very delicate sense of smell to aid them in blending the ingredients of perfumes in proper proportions. Queen Alexandra's favorite perfume—violets—costs £10 per ounce bottle, and in order that it may be correctly blended before it is passed for Her Majesty's use, it has to run the gauntlet of five professional "smellers" from £5 to £6 weekly, and they are insured against cold and the loss of their sense of smell. Contractors for the lighting of street, large public buildings, and pleasure grounds, often employ "smellers" to trace escapes of gas, ls. being the sum paid for every leakage reported.

Another occupation which is distinctly prominent on the register of Mr. Chesterton's Club of "Queer Trades" is that of acting as "best man" at weddings. He is in great demand during this season of the year, and on account of this he is classed with the minister, and his fee is not fixed. Sometimes he secures as much as £5 at a single wedding, besides a handsome present from the brides-groom. But in the majority of cases he is not nearly so fortunate, and his usual fee may be classed at about £2 2s. At this rate he makes more than enough to yield him a fair income. He must be suave, adroit, nimble-witted and patient. He never gets rattled, never allows the groom to commit any glaring error, and keeps a watchful eye upon the bride and her maids to see that everything passes off in proper style. Then his engagement extends to entertaining the guests at the luncheon or party afterwards, he must be able to sing and dance, be conversant with the latest of card games, and reply to many of the speeches on behalf of his clients.

THE TRIMMINGS.

When woman gets the ballot Will she also get the right To gather round the ringside And watch the sluggers fight? And will the gentle creatures Take in the baseball game, Sit with us on the bleachers And understand the same?

Will she go out to meetings To boost a candidate For some important office And come in mighty late? Will she election evenings Remain downtown until Another county's heard from With three to hear from still?

Will she come home at midnight From pressing office cares And softly, stocking footed, Attempt to slip upstairs, And, if she wakes her husband, Start up a family row, Or will she just act normal The same as she does now?

LOCAL CABINET CHANGES LIKELY

Report that Matter was Discussed at Meeting of Provincial Ministry on Saturday.

There was a meeting of the Provincial Cabinet on Saturday morning at the Parliament buildings, the ministers present being the Premier, Sir Lomer Gouin, and Hon. Messrs. Turgeon, Taschereau, Roy and Kaine. It is understood that some very important matters were discussed at the meeting, though nothing in regard to them could be learned from any member of the Ministry on Saturday.

It is even rumored that pending Cabinet changes was one of the topics under consideration, but it is expected that a definite statement may be made upon the subject to-day.

Meanwhile it may be again stated that Hon. Mr. Turgeon may shortly retire from the local administration.

BROKE HIS KNEE CAP.

Between midnight and one o'clock yesterday morning a young Englishman named Wilson fell on St. John street, opposite Willis' drug store, and broke his knee cap. He was conveyed in the ambulance to the Jeffery Hale's Hospital.

VICTIM BROUGHT TO HOSPITAL. Alphonse Bouvier, of Capua, was the victim of a shooting accident in the woods in the vicinity of his home some weeks ago, was brought to this city yesterday and was conveyed to the Hotel Dieu for treatment.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Madame Caron, of St. Germain street, St. Sauveur, was taken suddenly ill about one o'clock on Saturday morning. Medical aid was at once summoned, but despite all that could be done, she passed away shortly afterward. The Coroner was notified, but decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

ONE OF TWENTY-TWO.

There are twenty-two good points which prove the superiority of Herring Hall-Marvin Sales over all others; one is, they insure protection from injury in falling while in a heated condition. The Canadian Fairbanks Co., Ltd., are the selling agents, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, St. John, Vancouver, and Calgary.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

On Saturday evening a number of students were passing along St. John street when one of their number was attacked by a brindle bull terrier and thrown to the ground. The dog, besides tearing the young man's trousers, bit him on the right leg, two stitches having to be put in by Dr. D'Aiguault.

CONSULT DR. CLAYGONE.

The relief afforded suffering humanity daily by Dr. Claygone, the well-known chiropodist, is gaining for that gentleman a most enviable reputation. Dr. Claygone is now fully established at No. 22 St. John street, where he may be consulted at any hour. Those suffering from foot ailments would do well to seek Dr. Claygone's services, if they would have permanent relief from their discomforts.

LAI'D TO REST.

The funeral of Mrs. James Coughlin took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence to St. Patrick's Church and was very largely attended. The principal mourners were the deceased's husband, Mr. James Coughlin and four sons, her brother ex-Alt. D. Griffin and three sons and Mr. J. Allen, ex-in-law. Rev. Father Barrett officiated at the Libera, assisted by Rev. Father Delaney and Lawlor, as deacon and sub-deacon, and at the conclusion of the service the remains were interred in St. Patrick's Cemetery, where they were followed by a large number of friends and relatives.

AT BENNETT'S THIS WEEK.

The weekly change at Bennett's commencing to-day's matinee is another high class bill of excellence, comprising a little of everything, pertaining to the variety stage. Each and every act is a new one to this city. The Les Silvas, a European importation comes highly recommended. It is of Portuguese origin and is the only act of its kind in vaudeville. Jacob's Dogs are another importation, and will endeavor to show some brand new stunts in the art of animal training. It is entirely away from the ordinary run of dog numbers, and some sensational acrobatic work is promised by these intelligent canines. Miss Dora Pelletier, the musical comedy comedienne, will present her impersonations of famous stage celebrities, while Mr. Fred Bowman, the dress suit comedian, will introduce some clever character singing. Two hilarious farce comedies, The Doing of Dr. Lauder, by Conn Downey and Willard, and Turning the Tables, by Miss Lizzie Evans and Jefferson Lloyd, furnish forty minutes of solid laughter, in addition to what famous quartette of fun producers, The Arlington Four, Manager Alois has inaugurated a campaign for the ladies. He has on exhibition in the window of Z. Paquet Co., two beautiful imported ladies hats, which will be given away at the matinee Wednesday and Friday, October 7th and 9th. Should the lucky one not like the style or shape of the hat, Manager Alois has made arrangements with the above firm to exchange it for any shape or style desired. Millinery matinees are liable to become a fad at Bennett's.

AUTOMOBILE KILLED A YOUNG GIRL

Shocking Accident in St. Sauveur Yesterday Afternoon—Victim on Way to Visit Dead Aunt.

The first fatal automobile accident to take place in this city, occurred yesterday afternoon, the victim being a young girl named Eva Gagnon, 17 years of age, daughter of Jules Gagnon, express driver, who resides at No. 80 Richardson street. The young girl had been attending a service in St. Roch's Church, and was on her way to the Sacred Heart Hospital, in St. Sauveur, to view the remains of her aunt, who had died in that institution on Saturday. The girl had been promother. She rode out to the hospital in a street car, and as she was disembarking at the corner of St. Bernard street with a companion, she perceived an automobile coming along. The car was driven by a son of Mr. Cyrille Robitaille, the owner of the car. When Miss Gagnon saw the automobile she stopped, and the driver of the machine, which was running at a speed of about six miles an hour, also slowed up to allow her to pass.

It appears that the young girl remained standing, and Mr. Robitaille, who was accompanied by a few companions, proceeded on his way, when the unfortunate girl started to cross the street in front of the automobile, which struck her falling her body. The machine was immediately stopped, and the victim, who was unconscious, was carried into the residence of Dr. Ephrem Bedard, where she died shortly afterwards. It appears that no blame is to be attributed to the chauffeur, who did everything possible to prevent an accident.

The remains of the young girl were conveyed to her father's residence, where an inquest will be held by Dr. Bedard, Deputy Coroner, to-day.

POLICE COURT.

A man for selling liquor without a license was fined $50 and costs in the Police Court on Saturday.

RECORDER'S COURT.

On Saturday there were nine prisoners, charged with drunkenness, before the Recorder. Two were discharged, two were fined $1 and costs or eight days each; four $5 and costs or fifteen days; and one $2 and costs or 8 days.

AMBULANCE CALLS.

There were two calls for the ambulance Saturday and Saturday night to transfer patients to Jeffery Hale's Hospital, in the afternoon to remove a seafaring man from the Basin, and at midnight there was a hurry up call to remove a citizen to that institution.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING.

A harvest thanksgiving service was held at St. Mary's church, Montmorency Falls, yesterday morning. The service, which was a very hearty one, was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wilmet, who also preached an appropriate sermon. The church was prettily decorated and harvest hymns were sung by a special choir.

OBITUARY.

It is with deep regret that we have to chronicle the death of Mrs. J. J. Kavanagh, of Gaspé, who passed away Saturday evening after a long illness. Deceased was well known and highly esteemed for her many sterling qualities, and will be greatly mourned by her large circle of friends and acquaintances. The late Mrs. Kavanagh was the mother of Mrs. Dr. Maguire, New Carlisle, Mrs. C. B. K. Carpenter, Gaspé, also a sister of Mrs. W. Cullen, this city. To the bereaved family we extend our sincere sympathies.

MULLOY EN ROUTE TO OXFORD.

Trooper Mulloy, who lost his eyesight in the Boer war, was a passenger on the Kensington, of the Dominion line, which passed through to sea on Saturday night from Montreal. The trooper is on the way to Oxford to complete his studies, and will remain there for two or three years. Since losing his eyesight Mulloy has developed extraordinary aptitudes in his other senses. His cabin is on the lower deck of the Kensington, but after being taken to his quarters by a steward, he was able to make his way to and from the upper deck to his room with the utmost freedom. Mulloy is in the best of health, and is looking forward to his stay in Oxford.

AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN OPENED

Supporters of Mr. Wm. Price Ready for the Fray and Confident of Victory.

The Conservative campaign in Quebec West is assuming aggressive form, and, judging by the activity of Mr. William Price's workers, there will be no constituency in the country better organized than Quebec West.

The Conservative leaders of districts 7, 8 and 9, Cote-Sac, Champlain street, and Cap-Bleu, assembled at the Central Committee on Saturday evening. The three districts were well represented and much earnest discussion resulted. Meetings will be held in the different localities during the week, when officers will be elected and committee rooms located.

Mr. Price's committee room in the upper banlieu of Notre-Dame was opened on Saturday evening, and during the evening many electors of the locality attended.

To-morrow (Tuesday) evening there will be a general meeting of the electors of the constituency at the Central committee room, when the candidate, Mr. Wm. Price, and other speakers will address the gathering.

WILL MR. BRODEUR DENY THIS EVIDENCE?

Solemn Declaration Made by One Who Heard His Now Famous Statement of the Political Situation.

Several newspapers in this Province recently stated that Hon. Mr. Brodeur, at a political meeting held in the County of Soulanges, gave expression to the assertion that if the Conservative party elected more than ten supporters in this Province, the Liberals ran a good chance of losing power. This statement was denied by the Minister of Marine, but Le Nationaliste, which published the report, came out with the following affidavit on Saturday last:—

"I, the undersigned, journalist, doth solemnly declare:—
1. I am the author of the report, part of which appeared in Le Nationaliste on Sunday, 27th September last (1908), under the heading 'Mr. Brodeur makes some interesting declarations'; I wrote this report conscientiously and impartially in the exercise of my duties, having been present at the deliberations of that convention.
2. The declarations attributed to Mr. Brodeur are substantially those that he made.
3. The following words, 'Our adversaries must not win more than ten seats in this Province, otherwise we run the greatest risk of being defeated,' are textually the words used by the Minister.
4. And I make this solemn declaration, believing it to be conscientiously true and believing that it has the same effect as if made under oath."

COURT OF APPEALS.
The following judgments were rendered by the Court of Appeals, now sitting in this city, on Saturday last:—
The King v. Asbestos Co., appellant, and the Corporation of the Township of Thetford South, respondent. Appeal dismissed with costs; Judges Cimon and Gagne dissenting.

Weithen, appellant, and the Chicoutimi Pulp Company, respondent. This was an appeal from a judgment rendered by Judge McCorkill, in the Superior Court of this district dismissing Weithen's action with costs. The Court of Appeals modified the Superior Court judgment and condemned the Chicoutimi Pulp Co. to pay plaintiff $2,434 with costs of both courts. In this case, six claims were put in by the plaintiff, one of which was admitted to be well founded. Judge Lavergne and Cimon dissented from this judgment.

Sir Charles Ross, appellant, vs. The West Kootenay Pulp & Lumber Company, respondent. The respondents sued Sir Charles Ross for $2,449, and Judge Lemieux sitting in the Superior Court condemned the defendant to pay that amount, with costs. Sir Charles Ross appealed from that judgment, but the Court of Appeals unanimously confirmed the judgment of the Superior Court.

The presiding judges were Justices Lavergne, Tremblay, Cross, Cimon and Gagne.

CHANGE OF PROGRAMME AT THE NICKEL.

Much of the success that has attended the performances at the Nickel Theatre is due to the fact that the class of entertainment in vogue at this cozy and well-managed theatre appeals to the taste of its numerous patrons. The selection of films shown are all of the very highest grade, while the entertaining Humana artists supply an added interest by their clever and finished work behind the screen. The popularity of this company is bounding higher every week, as is evidenced by the increased size of the audiences who gather to witness the different performances, which is the best criterion of a public's satisfaction. A change of programme of both talking and moving pictures takes place to-day and some splendid subjects are on the bill, that are bound to meet with an enthusiastic reception. Among the leading pictures are "Kidnapped for Hate" and "Wanted, a Maid," both of which will be used for talking purposes. The former is a story of an Italian vendetta, and is of a highly sensational nature, the different scenes being cleverly brought out. Other pictures are "The Walls of Sing Sing," which portrays an interesting story of prison life in this famous place of detention; "Married and Forsaken," "Hide and Seek," "Prospective Heir," and "The Powerful Tenor," complete a well-balanced bill.

QUEBEC GOLFERS BEAT BEACONSFIELD

Interesting Match on the Cove Field
Links on Saturday Afternoon.

There was an interesting golf match on the Cove Field links on Saturday afternoon, when the Quebec Club players defeated the representatives of the Beaconsfield Club by a score of 34 to 6. The weather was clear and fine, the sun shining brightly for the greater part of the day, though the late couples found it rather chilly by the time they got through.

Prior to the match the visitors were entertained by the local club at the Garrison Club, a very enjoyable time being spent.

RAILWAY MEN PLAY BASEBALL.

On Saturday, the baseball game, which ended in a draw at the outing of the C. N. Q. & L. St. J. on the 19th Sept., was played off on the Esplanade, resulting in a well-merited victory for the mechanical department under the captaincy of Mr. O. Crockett. The office staff put up a very good game, and out of consideration for their remarkable good showing, the mechanical department boys gave them each a pair of gold cuff links. Seldom has Quebec witnessed a better game, and it is doubtful if professional players could have done so well. The Canadian Northern and Lake St. John are evidently up-to-date.

WELL-KNOWN ATHLETE DEAD.

Harry Loughed, the well-known lacrosse player, died on Saturday, and the news of his passing away will be received with deep regret by a wide circle of friends. Though he had been ill for a long time, his death came at the last somewhat unexpectedly. Loughed's fame as a lacrosse player was widespread and as a goal-keeper he had few equals. He did great service for the Quebec Club and on several occasions materially assisted it in winning the highest honors. He also played during his career with the Sherbrooke and other clubs.

PITTSBURG NOW OUT OF THE RACE

While New York Has to Win All Its Three Games From Boston
to Tie Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Pittsburg was today eliminated from the National League pennant race when Chicago scored a 5 to 2 victory before a crowd declared to have been the largest that ever paid to see a game of baseball in the world. It is said there were 30,247 paid admissions. To-day's game was the final one of the season for Chicago and Pittsburg, while New York has three more to play, all with Boston. If one of these games is not played by reason of the weather, or for other cause, or if Boston wins one, the pennant will go to Chicago for the third successive year. By winning all three New York will exactly equal Chicago's percentage of 641. To-night Chicago leads the league with 641; Pittsburg is second with 636, and New York, which did not play to-day, is third with 633. The story of the victory is a simple one. Chicago garnered twelve hits off Willis and Cannizz, while Brown allowed Pittsburg but seven. The contest was cleanly waged throughout. The umpire's decisions were questioned only once, and this in orderly fashion despite the intense suppressed excitement under which the players worked. The constitution of the National League provides that a series of three games shall be played to decide a tie race for the pennant, but leaves the place where it shall be played for the board of directors to decide. The board will meet in Cincinnati to-morrow to take action on the game in dispute, which was decided a tie between New York and Chicago, and it is said it may take time by the forelock at this meeting and settle on a place for the deciding series to be played in the event of New York's winning the remaining games with Boston. HOW THEY FARED SATURDAY.

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—Pittsburg took a firmer grip on first place in the National League pennant race by defeating St. Louis to-day in the final game of the league season here. The score was 3 to 2. Wagner's batting and fielding, and a brilliant catch by Abbatichio of a line drive off Bryne's bat were factors in the result. For two innings the game was even. Singles by Abbatichio, Wilson and Maddox, with a sacrifice by Storke, made which in, scored only one run for Pittsburg in the second and St. Louis promptly tied the score in the same inning on Knothy's single and Ludwig's lucky triple. The visitors jumped into the lead in earnest in the next inning when two runs were scored on hits by Leitch, Clarke and Wagner. Thereafter both pitchers settled to their tasks and only one more tally was counted, Shaw's double and Murray's single scoring the former. Sensational feeling by Wagner kept St. Louis from counting in the sixth and seventh innings and a quick play by Knothy of Clark's grounder retired Pittsburg runless in the ninth. Score:—

THE AMERICAN FIGHT.

Cleveland, Oct. 3.—Chicago defeated Cleveland in the last game of the season here to-day 3 to 2. Cleveland outbatted Chicago but many of the hits were infield tips which failed to score the men on bases. With the bases filled in the seventh Walsh relieved Smith and retired the side without a run. Both teams scored in the eighth. Chicago got two runs on Davis' single, Sullivan's infield hit, two stolen bases and Tannehill's single to right. Lajoie's double and Bemis' single counted for one run for Cleveland. Chicago scored another in the sixth on a hit and Parent's pop double to right. Cleveland scored in the eighth on Stovall's low throw to the plate. The crowd was the largest on record here 20,277. Opening Games of
THE RUGBY SEASON

Montreal Defeated in Ottawa, while Tigers Badly Trim the Argos.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—The most beautiful weather imaginable favored Montreal's opening game of the Rugby season. Ottawa's usual football enthusiasm was displayed by the large crowd which was present on the college oval. The sun did not harm either side, and there was no wind. The original referees decided upon did not come forward, and Messrs Robbins and Hayes, both of Hamilton, acted instead. Chausser Elliott accompanied the Montreal team on crutches. The Montreal team, with three or four exceptions, was almost a new one. The back division is very light, but their forwards, wings and scrummage make up for that, and the average is about 170 pounds. Babe Reynolds did not turn up, and Coolicon took his place. The following are the teams:—

NEW YORK, OCT. 3.—

The new pitchers of the New York team did well to-day, and the Washingtons could do very little against either Warhop or Wilson when they needed hits. Score:—

First game:—

Washington..... 000100000..... 1 9 3
New York..... 02000000x..... 2 6 0
Batteries:—Johnson, Withrup and Street; Warhop and Kleinow. Umpires, Warner and Hurst.

Second game:—

New York..... 001200004..... 7 7 2
Batteries:—Johnson and Street; Wilson and Kleinow. Umpire, Hurst.

SUNDAY'S AMERICAN GAMES.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Chicago defeated Detroit 3 to 1 in the opening game of the final series here to-day which makes it possible for the locals to win the American League pennant. To do this Chicago must win the remaining games from Detroit, while Cleveland must lose one game to St. Louis. By reason of the Cleveland-St. Louis tie to-day these teams still have three games to play. By winning all of them Cleveland would get the pennant provided Detroit loses another game to Chicago. By taking one of the remaining two games from Chicago Detroit will win in the event that Cleveland drops one to St. Louis. The outcome of to-day's game therefore makes the finish of the American League race narrower and more exciting than ever. Score:—

MONTREAL HUNT CLUB RACES.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—Lovely autumn weather with bright sunshine and a touch of cold in the air greeted those who attended the second day's meeting of the Montreal Hunt Club. The crowd exceeded expectations, fully 2,500 people attending this popular fixture. There were five races carded and each was keenly contested. Summary:—

First race (6 furlongs)—1st, Fair Havana; 2nd, Blue Coat; 3rd, Onat. Mida and Suras also ran.

Fourth race (steplechase, 2 1/2 miles)—1st, Essex; 2nd, Fairchase; 3rd, Fig MacCool.

Fifth race (farmer's half-bred)—1st, Tommy; 2nd, Rose; 3rd, Baby Bunt.

MUNRO THE WINNER.

The putting of the sixteen and twenty-eight pound shot, which had to be postponed at the Quebec District Harrier meet a week ago Saturday, took place on Saturday afternoon last. There were but two contestants, Munro, of the Y.M.C.A., and Gosselin, of the Z.A.A. Munro, was the winner of both events.

The manufacturer

better product than if he at-

far better ammunition for

KING PETER OF SERBIA
ON TOTTERRING THRONE

Confronted With Necessity of Desperate Measures in Order to Retain Sovereignty.

CRISIS IS IMMINENT

KING PETER
BEIGRADE, 11.
AFFAIRS in Serbia
are rapidly
approaching a crisis.
King Peter is confronted with the necessity for a coup d'état as the only means of retaining his throne.
The alternative is abdication.

Although the king has always
endeavored to up-
hold the constitution, his repeated
efforts to form a
new government
have ended in failure. His advisers are already urging him
to abolish the constitution and proclaim
a dictatorship as the only way of saving
the country from anarchy.

Five distinct attempts have been made to form a cabinet. One person after another has declined, and King Peter's desire to govern as a constitutional monarch has received but little sympathy.

Since the beginning of the parliamentary crisis the troops of the Belgrade gar-
dons have been kept constantly in readiness for emergencies. The strain is telling on the men. Some days ago, when King Peter went to the cathedral to hear Mass in honor of his birthday, the hivernmen who lined the streets between the palace and the cathedral could be seen doing their horses from fatigue while awaiting the monarch's return.

Function is Curtailed.
The birthday reception at the palace in the afternoon was ludicrously curtailed.
King Peter, looking weary and forlorn,
without premier, ministers, or parliamentary dignitaries, received the good wishes of the diplomatic corps, and, com-paining of the heat, then hastened to his apartments.

The king shows the effects of the great strain to which he has been subjected since the beginning of the parliamentary crisis.

The general unrest in Belgrade has been augmented by the discovery that Austrian officers in disguise have been photographing all the principal forts in Belgrade, especially the fortifications in Belgrade.

One of these officers had in his possession a secret detailed map of the lines of communication which was supposed to
be kept only at the headquarters of the Serbian General Staff.

Nevertheless, the possibility of Austria
ending troops into Serbia in the event
if the government being overthrown is
not sufficient force the people to help
King Peter's efforts to prevent a crisis.

King Peter's Career.
King Peter I. of Serbia, was elected to the throne just five days after the terrible assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga in the palace at Belgrade
in June 10, 1903.

He is the head of the family of Karageorgevitch, which once ruled in Serbia, but was driven out of the country
by the Obrenovitchs in 1868.

The newly-elected king arrived in Belgrade on June 24, 1903, and was enthusiastically received by the people. The Russian and Austrian ministers were the only members of the diplomatic corps
who attended.

His coronation took place on September 16 of the following year. Great Britain being still unrepresented. It was not till 1906 that a British minister again took up his residence in Belgrade.

Throughout King Peter's reign political crises have been continually recurring,
owing to the struggle between the royalists and those who were opposed to the assassination.

The king is now in his sixty-fourth year.

SPENT SEVEN WEEKS
ON DESERT ISLAND

Nails Used for Fishhooks by Modern Crusoes and Knives
for Knives.

BIRDS LETTER CARRIERS

QUEENSTOWN, N. Z.
Particulars reached Queenstown yesterday from Lyttelton, N. Z., of the landing of Captain Noel and twenty-one of the crew of the lost French bark President Felix Faure, a vessel of 263 tons, who were rescued by the British warship Pegusus from Antipodes Island, south of New Zealand, where they had lived for seven weeks, enduring great privations
after the loss of their vessel.

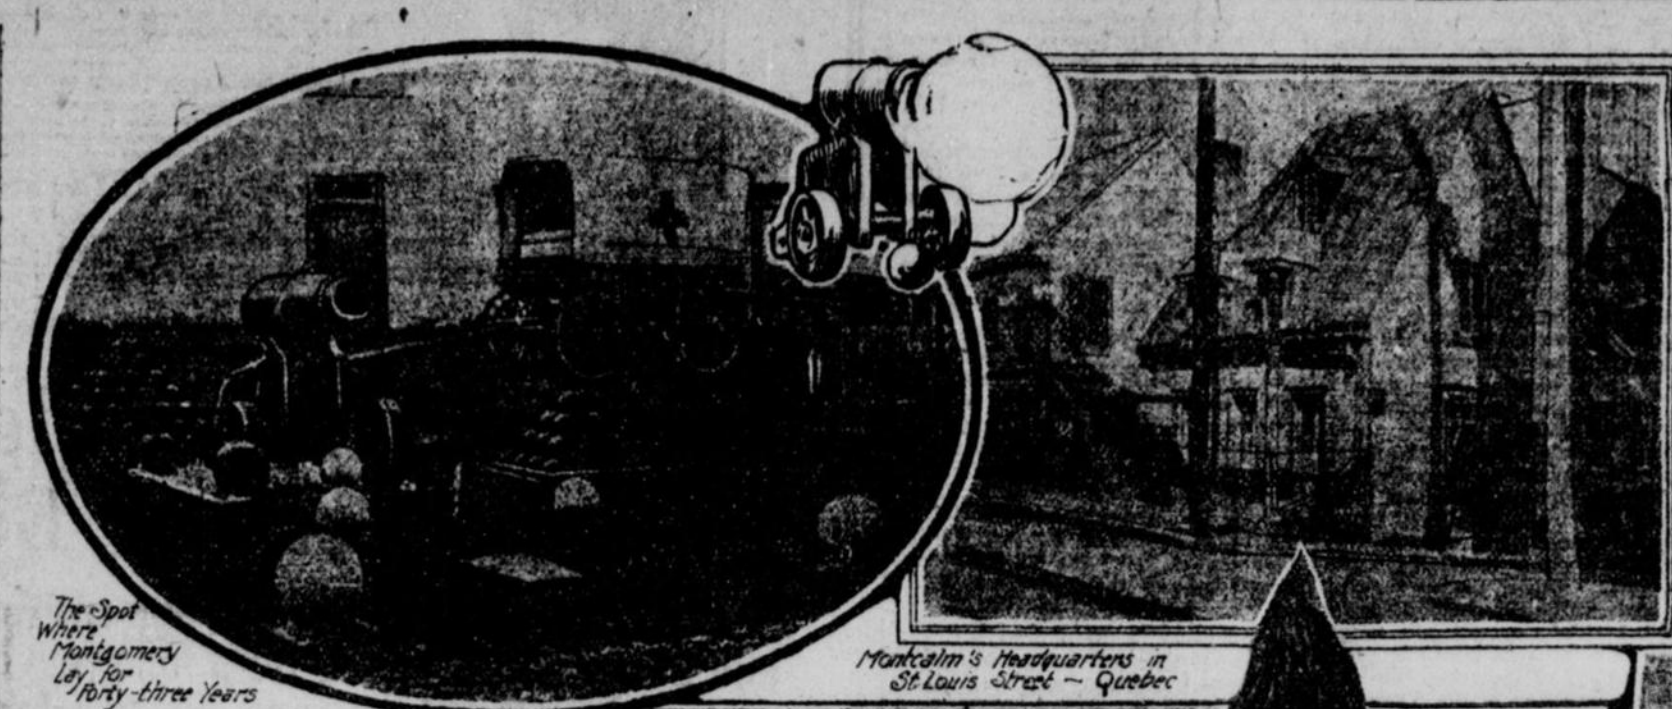

Relating the story of their adventures,
Captain Noel stated that they were bound from Poinblout, New Caledonia, to Havre, and during terrible weather the ship was driven on the rocks south of Antipodes Island, which rise from 800 to 3000 feet out of the sea. The crew of twenty-two had to scramble into a boat
to save their lives and effected a landing
on the island, where they had on.

Happy for the shipwrecked mariners,
the New Zealand government keeps a quantity of provisions on the island, to be used in case of emergency, and the castaways were able to live on them.
The supply, however, was becoming exhausted as week succeeded week and no prospect of rescue seemed likely. The rations had to be reduced to such an extent that the men became ravenous for food, and gave up all hope for rescue.

Out of the wreckage washed ashore
nails were obtained, and these were made into fishhooks to catch fish. Blades of knives were fashioned into needles,
hair combs were made from bush thorns,
and, altogether, the men led a regular Crusoe life.

On several occasions messages written in pencil were fastened to the neck of an albatross, recounting the loss of their
ship and their sad plight, and the birds
were sent off in the hope that they might be captured, and thus secure assistance
for the castaways.

One of these messages was being written in which the men said all hope was abandoned, when the Pegusus was sighted
and took off the crew, who were then
almost mad with hunger.

BATTLE OF FLOWERS
ENDS IN A TRAGEDY

Carriage Horses, Frightened by Showers of Confetti, Dash
Wildly Into Crowd.

DEATH IN THEIR WAKE

PRAGUE, 11.
One person was killed, sixteen were seriously injured and at least sixty were slightly injured by runaway horses at a battle of flowers held in connection with the Prague Exhibition yesterday.

The battle of flowers attracted thousands of persons to the exhibition ground,
and when it began the avenues were lined by dense crowds. Among the many lavishly decorated carriages, the four-in-hand driven by Baron Georgievich and drawn by a team of Russian thoroughbreds was expected to be the winner.

The horses, however, took fright at the showers of confetti and bolts. They left the carriage and dashed among the dense crowds. Many persons in the front row were knocked over and trampled on,
and long rows of chairs containing women were overturned.

Finally the carriage capsize, throwing out and injuring all the occupants. One of the horses broke away and continued
its career through the crowds, injuring many more of the spectators and six policemen who tried to stop it.

Mme. Henriette Slavinsky, once a leading actress at the Bohemian National Theater, was struck on the head by the hoof of one of the horses and killed.
Many other persons were taken to the hospitals in ambulances.

One of these officers had in his possession a secret detailed map of the lines of
communication which was supposed to
be kept only at the headquarters of the
Serbian General Staff.

Nevertheless, the possibility of Austria
ending troops into Serbia in the event
if the government being overthrown is
not sufficient force the people to help

HISTORIC PAGEANT
ARRANGED BY WOMAN

Henry VIII and His Courtiers to Hold High Revel at Serlby
Hall.

LADY GALWAY'S IDEA

LONDON, 11.
Bluff King Hal and his courtiers will hold high revel in the beautiful grounds
of Serlby Hall (Notts) this month, and it is safe to say that none of the pageants
presented of late will excel this one in interest or beauty.

It is being arranged and planned by Lady Galway in aid of the Bedford Hospital, in which she takes a deep interest,
and which was practically founded by
the Dowager Viscountess Galway.

All the chief parts will be played by prominent people. Colonel Whitaker, of Salworth Hall, will be Henry VIII,
while the part of Anne Boleyn will be taken by Countess Fitzwilliam.

Viscountess Galway will be the Lady Isabella de Serlby, Lady Evelyn James
will be Jane Seymour and Viscount Galway the duke of Norfolk. The other characters will be represented by Lady Knappesborough, Lady Kathleen Pilkington, the Hon. Mrs. Sanders, the Hon.
Miss Meyers Thompson, Lord R. Nevill,
the Hon. R. James and Captain Rankin.

The plot turns about a visit of Henry
VIII, who has been hunting in Sherwood
Forest, to Cardinal Wolsey at the Palace of Soreby with intent to hunt in the great chase.

From the terraces of the beautiful east
garden, the spectators will see the approach on the left of the king and his
train from the forest, half a mile away,
whence they will descend, with a fanfare
of trumpets, to the stage.

This will be at the upper end of the garden, and to add to its dignity and historic interest the old chapel of Serlby, destroyed by Cromwell's vandals, is to be reconstructed as part of the scenery.

One hundred and ten houses, mostly made of wood, were burned down, and over 800 villagers have lost all their possessions and are homeless. Only the church and the Hotel Oberly escaped.

Death of General Wolfe - From the Celebrated Painting by BENJAMIN WEST

QUEBEC'S TERCENTENNIAL ENDS WITH PAGEANT UPON FAMOUS BATTLEFIELD

The celebration of the founding of Quebec, three centuries ago, concluded on Saturday with a magnificent pageant on the Plains of Abraham. Just 300 years ago
in July, 1609—Quebec was founded by an adventurous Frenchman, Samuel de Champlain. Events, however, proved that the fate of the Dominion of Canada was to pass to Anglo-Saxon hands, the French Canadians continuing to live in amity with the British down to the present day. So effective has been this amity that it was a "Wolfe-Montcalm" celebration which took place at Quebec, and the waters of the St. Lawrence bore the friendly fleets of both nations.

Three centuries ago is Quebec, Canada's oldest city,
writes a correspondent three centuries that epitomize the history of the New France of which it was the capital and the Plains was fought is carried into streets and covered by the New Britain across the sea of which it is the historic heart. The rocky parapet on which Samuel de Champlain stood in the long-ago days localizes the one;
the battlefield on Father Abraham's plains visualizes the other.

Canada has hitherto been neglectful of the famous battlefield. A considerable section over which the Battle of the Plains was fought is carried into streets and covered with suburban houses. An unsightly and an unpicturesque observatory further impinge on the arena, and within a year or two an ugly factory has been erected on ground more precious than any other similar piece of earth in Canada. Sordid, indeed, is the condition of the background, with disfiguring buildings and rickety fences

further marring the aspect of this "nest of an imperial race."

All that suggests to the eye the tale of daring-do
there witnessed 140 years ago is embodied in the modest shaft marking the spot near where Wolfe fell, with its eloquently simple inscription of "Here died Wolfe victorious"—he who in the language of Pitt had with a handful of men added an empire to English rule, and while a hero's fame does not rest on neglect or care of the spot
where he made his final sacrifice, yet his memory deserves that much of respect.

And no less so in commemoration of the equally brave part played by the vanquished soldier of France, for the same battlefield proved to be the death place of Montcalm
as well as of Wolfe. Richard Montgomery, whose long resting place is shown in the illustration, was born at Swords, near Fethrin, County Dublin. After serving as ensign, lieutenant and captain of the Seventeenth Foot,
in which latter capacity he reached Canada, he eventually sold out of the army, settled on a handsome estate on the Island with a young wife, then reluctantly consented to become a brigadier general in the American army, finally failing in an unsuccessful attempt to capture Quebec.

The picture, "Death of General Wolfe," also included in the illustration is by the great American painter, Benjamin West, who was second president of the Royal Academy.

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA
TO TAKE A HOLIDAY

Former Papal Secretary to Leave
Rome for First Time in 25 Years.

ROME, 11.
Cardinal Rampolla, who is about to celebrate his sixty-fifth birthday, and who
since 1882, when Leo XIII appointed him
papal secretary of state, has never taken
a holiday, has at the urgent entreaties of his doctors decided to journey to Switzerland for the fresh air. He will spend most of the time at the celebrated Benedictine abbey at Einsiedeln.

After Pope Leo's death and his own discomfiture at the conclusion of the vote of the Emperor Francis Joseph to his nomination for the papacy, Cardinal Rampolla withdrew almost entirely into private life. In order to leave Plux X
a free hand, the great cardinal absented
himself altogether from the meetings of many Roman congregations of which he had been the foremost adviser, but out of deference to the pope's express request
he politely consented to attend the gatherings of the congregation of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs on occasions
when his holiness presided in person.

In that congregation Cardinal Rampolla
held the leadership of the opposition party among the cardinals to Plux X's reversal of Pope Leo's policy toward France. During the five years of this present pontificate, Cardinal Rampolla's
marvelous activity has, however, nowise
abated. Not only is his residence the center of perpetual pilgrimage, but he himself is often sought after by the world's great men visiting Rome, when they will not undertake the tedious formalities of procuring an audience of the pope.

The cardinal retires to bed at 10 o'clock,
and rises at 8. He devotes the greater part of the day to historical research
work in the Vatican library, where a special room is reserved for him. He remarks his enforced Swiss holiday because it will confer the greatest of honors on the critical biography of Pope Leo XIII
on which he has been engaged for eighteen months past.

"They want to bundle me out of Italy,"
he remarked, smilingly, to a friend the other day. "I, who always found the sweetest rest in a change of work! For over a quarter of a century I have never traveled in a railway carriage nor stirred from the Eternal City excepting on the summer holidays. They wanted me to go away when my illustrious master died,
and the authorities tried to entice me by
the offer of gratuitous travel in a re-servé saloon in my native Sicily, but here I am, and you may infer that I am not eager to shift my tabernacle. All these years, either within the palace of the Vatican or in this modest Villa St.
Marta, I have toiled daily and sleep nightly beneath the shade of St. Peter's glorious dome, and under its shadows rather than elsewhere I find would finish my life work."

FAT BABIES HAVE
NO CHANCE AT SHOW

LONDON, 11.—The fat baby is at a discount. He is no longer the admiration of his fond mother and the envy of other babies' mothers.

At the Edmonton Baby Show yesterday afternoon the medical officer of health, Dr. Lawrence, refused to have the babies weighed. The fat, pasty baby had not a chance.

The Edmonton church schools were the scene of the conflict. A row of carriages was drawn up outside the door, but they were baby carriages—perambulators, mail-coaches and even a small wheelbarrow. Inside the hall a mighty roar greeted the casual visitor. It was not the babies crying—they were in the best of spirits—but the mothers generally discussing the merits of their respective treasures.

One mother, the proudest woman in the room, sat in state on a large chair,
with beautiful triplet girls on her knees.
Several lots of twins were to be seen,
and a pretty little couple dressed in pink
would certainly have won the prize for the best complexion if one had been offered.

Each baby was labeled with its mother's name and address, the date of its birth, and the food it had been brought up on.

Dr. Lawrence, who organized the show,
considers these exhibitions to be one of the most radical remedies for high infant mortality.

The babies to be prize-winners must
have "well-developed and straight bones,
a bright color and a general appearance
of health." Excessively fat and flabby babies have not a chance in competing.

PATHETIC SCENES AT
PRINCESS' WEDDING

Mother Entreats Daughter, Even
at the Altar, to Give Up Lover.

ALL APPEALS USELESS

VIENNA, 11.

The recent wedding of Princess Amelie
of Ruessenberg and ex-Lieutenant Gustav Kocman (now a chauffeur), at Castle
Hradek, in Bohemia, was, notwithstanding the first reports, an unusually dramatic and painful ceremony.

It appears that the princess' family did not abandon their opposition to the marriage, but constantly urged her to break off the match. The bride's mother made a last frantic appeal at the altar, and then, when Princess Amelie resolutely refused to stop the ceremony, fell fainting
on the floor of the chapel.

According to the accounts, the bride has been publicly today, the bride's family
were determined to prevent the marriage
at all costs, and the relatives assembled
for that purpose at Hradek Castle, owned by Prince Khevenhuller, a cousin of Princess Amelie.

Admitted by the Back Way.
When ex-Lieutenant Kocman's marriage was only admitted to the castle by the back door, and immediately conducted
into a room where his prospective mother-in-law, the dowager princess, Princesessa Khevenhuller, awaited him.

She made an impassioned appeal to him
to yield to the wishes of the family, and give up his daughter, and then, when Princess Amelie, the bride's brother, was transferring the bride to the carriage, she insisted on the marriage being performed
without further delay.

The party then proceeded to the little chapel. While the bride and bridegroom were kneeling in front of the altar, the dowager princess, unable to restrain her
emotion, made the last frantic appeal.
Princess Amelie only shook her head and grasped the hand of her husband.

Falls in a Faint.
The dowager princess then fell to the floor in a dead faint. The official witnesses of the ceremony, Ritter von Guttenberg and Count Schick, urged Princess Amelie to give up, and not be the cause
of her mother's death.

Princess Amelie showed extraordinary
firmness during the painful incident, and
at her desire the ceremony was concluded
as rapidly as possible.

The newly married couple, who looked radiantly happy, drove away from the castle soon afterward. The princess, who is a devoted Catholic, was intentionally
told her husband in front of the crowd
which assembled at the castle gates.

MIDNIGHT VIGIL
OF LOVING-GIRL

LONDON, 11.—A young woman
described at midnight at Barnet yesterday as a terrible case, as ever a girl
had to undergo.

Her name is Alice Hancock, and the inquest was being held on her sweetheart,
Arthur Campbell Gillet, a chemist of New Barnet, who poisoned himself with oxalic acid.

He threatened to commit suicide one evening last week, she said. She begged him not to, and all night long she waited with him in his room, pleading with him for his life.

Every moment while it thundered and poured with rain she watched each
movement of his hands, and at length persuaded him, by a stratagem, to give up the phial of oxalic acid he had hidden
in his pocket.

Then she made him promise never again
to try to commit suicide.

He broke his word, however, and that night he "was found dead" in his father's garden with a cup of poison by his side.

7,000,000 Sunday School Scholars

LONDON, 11.—According to figures
compiled by the Sunday School Union
there are 7,000,000 Sunday school scholars
in the United Kingdom. There are 70,000
teachers and 4,000 Sunday schools.

CELTIC DRESS BARRED IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS

Attired in Celtic dress, a visitor was recently escorted through the House of Lords by Mr. Hamilton, M. P., who subsequently received a message from Black Rod (Sir Henry Stephenson) to the effect that he did not think it proper to introduce a stranger in such a garb. The question was probably raised in the House next session. Above are Mr. Hamilton and his visitor.

FRENCH MARRIAGES INCREASE

Lessening of Cost of Legal Formalities Has Good Result.

PARIS, 11.—Marriages in France
last year numbered 114,000, a figure not attained since 1873-4, when many of the marriages delayed by the Franco-Prussian war took place.

This sudden growth in the number is explained by the figures as due to a relaxing of the legal formalities required before a marriage certificate could be issued and consequently lessening the cost.

NEXT WAR WILL BE
BIG ORGY OF BLOOD

German Expert Draws Terrible
Picture of a Great European Conflict.

THE LOSSES APPALLING

BERLIN, 11.
General Blume, a high military expert,
recently presented a remarkable report
to the German general staff on the probable cost of a modern European war
which is now published in an official
bulletin issued by the general staff.

General Blume points out the great changes that have taken place since the Franco-Prussian war, thirty-eight years ago, when the total German forces were 1,350,000 men.

Germany will be able to put 4,750,000
of troops in the field in the next war.
Other powers have armies of corresponding dimensions.

A war fought against another European power would cost Germany in hard cash
at least $1,500,000,000 per annum as long as it lasted. The indirect loss through financial depression, financial stagnation
and the paralysis of industry would be far greater.

You shake down the ashes —not the coal—in the "Hecla" Furnace

There are four grate bars in the "Hecla" Each one can be shaken separately.

You don't have to shake the whole fire to get out the ashes around the edges of the firepot. You don't shake down a lot of good coal with the ashes.

You don't have to use a poker at all.

The "Hecla" Triangular Bar Grate allows you to shake just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coal.

Naturally, one grate is easier to shake, than four, all geared together. That is why people find the HECLA "no trouble at all."

From John—a patented "Hecla" feature—keep the house free of smoke and dirt.

Write for free copy of our new catalogue which describes the HECLA and its many features.

KING'S MESSENGERS

An Office of Responsibility — The Knights of the Silver Greyhound. (London Globe.)

It is scarcely saying too much to assert that to the great majority of their countrymen king's messengers are somewhat nebulous officials, a haziness possibly denoted by the comprehensiveness of the word "messenger" and its varied conventional significance. It may seem an obvious truism, but not altogether needless, that not every functionary who carries royal messages is a king's messenger. The office, indeed, is one of decided status as befits its responsibility, and it is with infinite thankfulness that we know it is not open to public competition. The "Knights of the Silver Greyhound," as some one has poetically styled them, are limited in number—which has been recently still more reduced—are gentlemen of social position, often retired service officers, and are nominated by the Foreign Secretary, subject to a qualifying examination. By the strict letter of the regulations they are supposed to wear uniform while on service—dark blue frock coat, gold edged waistcoat buttoned high, trousers with a scarlet cord down the seams, gilt buttons with crown, garter, royal cypher and greyhound pendant, peaked cap, black braided with gilt cord in front—but the regulations are practically dormant. What they do always wear, however, is the badge of silver gilt, a royal crown and silver greyhound pendant, worn—or supposed to be—on a dark blue ribbon round the neck. Practically the personalities of the king's messengers are perfectly familiar to all the officials on the routes they travel, and only on very exceptional occasions is it necessary to produce their badge. As a matter of fact, moreover, the identity of the king's messenger is unmistakably assured by the service "bags" of stout canvas which accompany him, one of which, containing smaller "crossed" bags of various sizes, never leaves his personal custody, and others, "uncrossed," are allowed to go as ordinary baggage.

In ordinary times the journeys of king's messengers are matters of routine, and they can generally calculate safely enough on the intervening periods of leisure, though there is a tradition that once one luckless individual was despatched in such hot haste to a far distant capital that he had no time to change the dress clothes in which he was attired when the mandate arrived. And in this connection another venerable story may be told of the messenger who, believing himself to be last on the list for the "route," betook himself, in blissful anticipation of a few days' rest, to a foreign watering place. Scarcely had he arrived when he received a Foreign Office telegram to this bewildering effect: "You are fast and dirty. Return at once." On his presenting himself at headquarters he discovered that the message sent was: "You are first on duty."

Of recent years the king's messenger has been largely in evidence in fiction, and, not unnaturally, his shrewdness, heroism and hairbreadth adventures provide material for a capital story. Sometimes it is true, capacious objects may insinuate that the heroes bear much the same relation to the real officials as poor Ouida's famous guardsmen have to actual officers of the Household Cavalry—but the story is none the less interesting for that. The actual annals of the king's messenger service, however, supply plenty of thrilling situations. Once, when it was important that a despatch should be in the hands of our Foreign Office before the information it contained reached the representative of another power, a queen's messenger crossed the Channel in a small lugger on a night when the weather was so bad that the packet would not start. Almost more sensational—and nearly tragic—was the experience of Captain Robbins during the Franco-German war of 1870. He was instructed to deliver despatches to the King of Prussia, whose headquarters were then at Versailles, and was nearing his destination, when he fell into the hands of some franc-tireurs, who insisted he was a German and must therefore be shot. It was in vain he produced his badge and his passport; he was a spy, they declared, and Germans, whether spies or not, met with short shrift at the hands of franc-tireurs. The keeper of the inn where he was taken managed on various pretexts to dissuade them from immediate execution; they grudgingly gave him till the following morning, but, thinking better of their clemency, wanted to shoot him before dawn, and the innkeeper with difficulty induced them to wait till it was light. But before then Captain Robbins had availed himself of a convenient window and made his escape.

The aphorism in true enough which tells us that duty has its victims in peace as in war, and those who can speak with authority will cite many a case among king's messengers of worth lives prematurely, shortened by selfless, exacting devotion to duty, though improved conditions of travelling happily enables one to class such occurrences with "old unhappy far off things."

A HISTORIC REGIMENT.

Sixth Fusiliers of London Have Long Record of Service.

The last parade of the City of London Militia (the 6th Royal Fusiliers) took place at Brompton Camp, Dorset, a short time ago. They had always been employed on the side of law and order from the days of Queen Elizabeth, and, indeed, far earlier though under different designations. They are now going to join the Regular Forces and will ever be mindful that they bore a name which would never fade into forgetfulness. The record of the 6th Royal Fusiliers, who have been transformed as a complete unit from the old Militia to the new Special Reserve, dates back to A.D. 886, when King Alfred the Great was assisted by the troops sent by the City of London in defeating the Danish invaders. The regiment and its various predecessors have gone through stirring scenes, having been employed in the earliest Scottish wars, the Wars of the Barons, and every insurrection in the south of England since 1800. It was in 1889 that Queen Elizabeth married a regular City Militia, and thenceforward the regiment, and a continuous record. At that time the Queen ordered the Lord Mayor of London to find and pay for 10,000 men, which he did. Queen Elizabeth constantly called on the city for troops, and it is on record that on one Sunday evening the Lord Mayor received the royal command to parade 1,000 men; this he accomplished by closing the church doors in the city during service and finding the required number of men among the congregations. In 1649 the City Trained Bands, the forebears of the 6th Royal Fusiliers, fought against the Scots, and at the commencement of the Civil War protected King Charles I. In a few days, however, the same men were used for guarding the members of the House of Commons on their way to and from Whitehall. Thenceforth they fought under Oliver Cromwell and greatly distinguished themselves in every action. In 1662 the Trained Bands were especially exempted from the control of the crown, and came under the orders of a newly-appointed Court Lieutenant of the City of London, which still exists, makes grants for the upkeep of the regiment, and is owner of the barracks. In 1795 the City Trained Bands were organized in two regiments, the 1st and the 2nd, and were allowed privileges which are still strictly guarded. One of these is to march through the city with colors flying, bands playing, and bayonets fixed. In 1820 the two regiments were united in one, called the Royal London Militia, the present title of the 6th Battalion. The strength of the regiment is 656.

MALACCA WILD CATS.

In the forest of Malacca and other islands in the Indian Ocean, may still be found the animal known as a wild cat. The upper parts of it are generally of a clear yellow color, with black spots, the lower parts are white with black spots also. On the back the spots lengthen, almost into lines, or rings, black on yellow. The average length of this animal, excluding the tail, is almost two feet; the tail averages nine inches. Its height, when standing erect, is about twelve inches at the shoulders, and fifteen inches at the hindquarters. Its temper is mild and gentle; it plays almost like a domestic cat, or rather kitten, chasing its tail, and amusing itself with anything that it can roll with its paw.

DID NOT WANT HIM.

At a recent trial in Scotland an elderly spinster was called to the witness box to be examined. "What is your age, madam?" inquired the counsel. "Sir," answered the witness, "I am an unmarried woman, and dinna think it right to answer that question." The judge interposed and told her she should answer. "Oh, weel, then," she said reluctantly. "I am fifty." "Not more than fifty?" questioned the counsel sternly. "Weel, dinna fash yerseel," she replied. "I am sixty." The inquisitive lawyer still further asked if she had any hopes of getting married, to which Miss Jane replied: "Weel, sir, I wunna tell a lee; I hanna lost hope yet," scornfully adding, "but I wudna marry you, for I am sick and tired o' your palavery already."

The Stomach Does Not Cause Dyspepsia

Neither Will It Cure It Because The Lack of Gastric Juices Prohibit Relief.

The stomach is a strong, powerful organ, which is composed of muscles of great strength. It is filled during digestion with gastric juices which, pressing the food, dissolve it and separate the nourishment from the waste matter. If, however, these gastric juices are lacking, the stomach is not capable of digesting its food because it has not the tools with which to work successfully.

The gastric juices when in a perfect state do away with all foul odors, fermentation and decay, reduce the food to a disintegrated mass and the stomach then presses it into the intestines where another form of digestion takes place. Then the intestines take from this mass of food all that is nourishing and give it to the blood. The waste matter is thrown from the system.

If instead of nourishment the intestines receive impure deposits combined with a poisonous and imperfect gastric juice, it can be readily seen that they must turn such imperfect nourishment into the blood. The blood then being unable to give each part of the body that which it requires, becomes impoverished and disease is spread broadcast.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets corrects such a condition at once. If the gastric juices are lacking and imperfect these tablets do their work just the same. They build up the elements in the juices which are lacking and remove those elements which cause disturbance.

Meat, grains, fluids, vegetables and delicacies, in fact, each portion of a large meal have been placed in a glass vial and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have digested them to a perfect fluid just as a healthy stomach would do.

A large complex hearty meal holds no terrors for a dyspeptic if Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used. Abnormal eating, late dinners, rich foods cause ill effects to the stomach, but when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used one may eat when and what one will without danger of dyspepsia or discomfort.

Forty thousand physicians endorse and prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and every druggist carries them in stock, price 50c. Send us your name and address and we will send you at once by mail a sample package free. Address, F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.
New York, Oct. 3.—The stock market today continued to feel the stimulant of speculation in Union Pacific by the favorable showing of August net earnings by that road. Union Pacific continued to lead the market and to exercise a dominant sympathetic effect on the whole list. The close sympathy shown by Reading, St. Paul and the same stocks which led the summer rise in prices, gave the impression that the same powerful money forces which co-operated to further that advance were once more active to the same end. The bank statement revealed how heavy has been the drain on the cash item this week, the reduction in cash holdings running to over $10,000,000 on the average showing and to over $11,000,000 in the comparison of actual condition on Friday night. Bonds firm. Total sales, par value, $2,158,000.

POINTERS FROM POLITICAL FIELD

Stop the leaks in the public chest.

Let honest men handle the funds of the country for the good of the people.

Mr. Alexander Haggart, K.C., law partner of the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, K.C., will be nominated to run in Winnipeg in the Conservative interest.

According to the Liberal organs it seems there never was a Canada before Laurier went into power and there will be no Canada after he goes out. Too bad, isn't it?

There is evidence to show, said Mr. Borden, that at least $10,000,000 of the public money was deliberately mispent every year under the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Unless Mr. Graham can pull through, and this is doubtful, Liberals now admit that the Conservatives will carry every seat on the front between Toronto and Montreal. In several ridings no Grits are in the field.

The breakdown at Ottawa has carried consternation to the Grits of Ontario. They must indeed be far driven when they force both of their nominees at Ottawa off the ticket. Nominating Sir Wilfrid Laurier is almost political blackmail. The Dominion Government can make or break thousands of people in Ottawa.

A gentleman recently arrived from Scotland, but engaged in large industrial enterprises in Toronto, said last night that he had been through the Niagara Falls district and that the defeat of Mr. W. M. German, the present Liberal M.P., was a certainty. He said that Mr. German privately admitted this.

At a big Conservative meeting in the West Side, St. John, N.B., Friday night, John Ward, a prominent life-long Liberal, publicly denounced the Liberals for allowing middlemen to make two-thirds of the money spent on Negrotown Point breakwater. Mr. Ward told of his own experience of getting $400 for work for which $1,400 was paid. He also accused middlemen of diverting goods purchased with public money to their own use. Mr. Ward was formerly a prominent Liberal worker.

Mr. George Taylor, the parliamentary whip of his party, thinks the Conservatives will have a majority of 21 in the next House of Commons, and he only calculates on this province providing fifteen towards the result. He might have increased the number if he knew what some Quebec Liberals are doing and saying. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier was sure that he could carry fifty seats in Quebec he would cut out some of the villages he is being announced to speak in.—Montreal Gazette.

Frontenac is another county in which the Libs are going to renege. When nomination day is over it will probably be found that there are half a dozen seats in this province where no straight Liberal candidate will be between two Conservatives. Dr. J. W. Edwards secured the convention over Melzar Avery, the sitting member. Melzar Avery insists on running too. It is a local quarrel but the Tories philosophize that they will have the seat whichever wins.

The Cornwall Standard says of the Laurier meeting in its town: "The Liberal rally at the Auditorium on Wednesday night while not exactly a frost, was very far from being the enthusiastic demonstration that its promoters expected. There was a distinct coldness in the demeanor of the majority of the audience, and it appeared to have a depressing effect on the Premier, who in the first part of his speech failed signally to evoke any encouraging sign of sympathy from his hearers. Towards the end of his address he seemed to pull himself together and displayed a semblance of his old-time fire; but the response was not inspiring."

Hon. T. Chase Casgrain has definitely announced that he will be unable to accept the Conservative nomination in Bagot, which was offered him recently. His personal affairs will not allow him to devote all the time which he would like to give to politics.

The Liberal executive of South Toronto have decided in view of the fact that the Independent Labor party has placed a candidate in the field in opposition to the Conservative candidate, not to place a candidate in the field.

The date of the election in Kootenay Riding for the Federal House has been further postponed from November 3rd to November 12th, nomination being fixed for October 19th as all over Canada. This was announced by returning officer John Keen, who declared the voters' list, not being ready, polling day cannot be fixed.

Sir Richard Cartwright will speak in Toronto on October 8th, and on that occasion will discuss all political issues of the day. He is stated to be in fine health. Sir Richard will address other meetings in Ontario, but the programme has not yet been mapped out.

The Liberal convention at Brockville on Saturday to-day was largely attended. It was a foregone conclusion that Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, would receive the nomination without any opposition. Mr. Graham in his address accepted the nomination.

Saturday afternoon Melzar Avery, ex-M.P., announced definitely that he would run on an independent Conservative ticket in Kingston against Dr. Edwards, Conservative, who was selected by a close vote at the convention.

Mr. Borden has given out the following statement: "The despatch from Galt published in the Edmonton Bulletin that Mr. Hanna is repatriate from platform to platform that Old Country immigrants are riff-raff of British

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicine—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulae are printed under each as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate woman and child. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better remedy than any other for curing and preserving the stomach and bowels. Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membrane. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be resorted to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs which, if neglected or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

Isles fit only for jails and asylums, is absolutely false and without foundation. What Mr. Hanna said in my presence, and I was present on every platform from which he has spoken, was that he welcomed desirable white immigrants of any nationality, but he objected to the bonused immigration of persons who are physically, morally and mentally unfit. He insisted that immigration should be brought in under more careful supervision, and that pains should be taken to sift out the undesirable class. He said that the negligence of the Dominion Government in this respect had imposed upon the people of Ontario a financial burden in connection with her public institutions.

"(Signed) R. L. BORDEN."

The Montreal Herald alleges almost day by day that a Liberal victory on the 26th October is assured and now it oracularly announces that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have a larger majority than he obtained at the last election. This must be gratifying to the Premier for he has placed on record, on the pages of the Herald, what his opinion of newspaper statements is. "For my part," said he on the floor of Parliament, "while I read the newspapers very regularly, if I see anything affirmed in them I am disposed to believe that the contrary is the truth."—Herald, 1896, page 1769. He has repeated the statement in the House on other occasions.

COUNTY OF MONTMORENCY.
A meeting of the electors of this county was held yesterday after mass, and was largely attended. Mr. George Parent, ex-M.P., and Mr. Gobeil, independent candidate, and the Hon. L. A. Taschereau addressed the electors. Mr. L. Letourneau, M.P.P., and Mr. M. A. Lemieux, advocate, were also present, but did not address the electors.

COUNTY OF QUEBEC.
The Liberals will select a candidate this afternoon at Charlesbourg in opposition to Mr. Lorenzo Robitaille, the retiring member, and the result of the convention is anxiously awaited as several candidates are in the field, including Messrs. Fergus Murphy, K.C., A. Corrivert, K.C., L. E. A. Pion, of Le Soleil editorial staff, and Dr. McKay. As all the above have their supporters, it is expected that a lively time is in store at the convention.

COUNTY OF PORTNEUF.
The campaign in this county was inaugurated yesterday at St. Bazile after mass and at Pont Rouge after vespers, both candidates being present and both meetings being very largely attended. At the morning meeting, Mr. Delisle, the Liberal candidate and the retiring member of the county, first addressed the meeting, being followed by Mr. Stafford, the Conservative candidate, and Sir Lomer Gouin closing the meeting in support of Mr. Delisle.

At Pont Rouge, Mr. Stafford opened the meeting and was followed by Sir Lomer Gouin and Mr. Delisle, the Conservative Candidate being allowed ten minutes to reply, and during this short time completely upset the arguments of his opponents. Both these parishes are Liberal strong-holds, but Mr. Stafford was well received at both meetings and at Pont Rouge the electors objected to Mr. A. Couillard, who was there in the Liberal candidate's interests, taking part in the discussion.

NEW JUSTICE OF PEACE.
His Honor the Lieutenant Governor has been pleased by order in council, to associate to the commission of the peace for the:

District of Rimouski.—Mr. Alphonse Pineret, lumber merchant, of Saint Anaclet, county of Rimouski.

District of Quebec.—Mr. Abraham Turgeon, of Beaumont, county of Bellechasse, Octave Langevin, farmer, of Sainte Bridgette, of Laval, county of Montmorency, Michel A. Caudonnet, physician, Eugene Audet, merchant, and Philippe Potvin, farmer, of Saint Jean Deschallons.

"NERVILINE" THE BEST RUB FOR ATHLETES AND WORKERS
A bottle of Nerviline in a pint of water makes the best rub-down. It's wonderful how soothing Nerviline is to over-strained or tender muscles—laming and strain is relieved at once. Pleasant to use, has an agreeable odor and makes it impossible to catch cold after you use it. Nerviline is the acme of perfection, and athletic leaders say there is not a pain, ache or bruise it won't cure. Not a liniment on earth with Nerviline's penetrating and pain-subduing power; try it.
