People of Havelock to Vote On School Question

Meeting to be Held Thursday to Discuss This Important Matter

Important Letter Received From Department of Education That All Should Read

The interest in the question of school facilities in the Havelock district is still very high and rapidly reaching a climax. It is proposed to hold a meeting on Thursday, October 24th to discuss the subject of building a two-room school at Havelock Corners and discuss other matters pertaining to the best method of giving the children an education. On the following Monday, October 28th, a vote will be taken on the matter when it will be up to the ratepayers to declare whether they are in favour or otherwise of the proposals to be put forward.

The Gleaner has been praised by a number of ratepayers in the Havelock area for the articles it has published on the matter and it decided to delve in further for particulars as to what was going on. A letter was written to the Director of Protestant Education for particulars on the subject and below we print the reply we have received.

It will be noted that we have caused some of the paragraphs to be printed in heavier type in order to bring out what we consider to be important points contained in the letter. We believe that if the people who are concerned about the Havelock School question will read this letter over carefully and take notice of the important paragraphs contained in it, they will gain a better understanding of what would be most suitable in their particular case. In the last paragraph of the letter the actual benefit for the children is given because of what the Gleaner is becoming increasingly urgent to give our boys and girls a good education of a more advanced character. The larger the school, the greater the opportunity of the children getting the type of education they require. This is something to consider and come to decide what they are going to do, they must take into consideration whether the plan being placed before them is going to give them what they actually want for their children. There is cry "Why let any Havelock boy go into Hemmingford school?" Another cry is going up that if a consolidation is formed, the taxes of the ratepayers will be raised to a considerable amount. The actual working of consolidation has shown that taxes are really less in proportion to the greater facilities gained. As one instance outside, fees for attending High School in another town, are saved and boarding expenses are saved. The children are not required to pay outsider fees and they are

Milk Producers Only Temporarily Satisfied

The milk producers of the district met in McDougall Hall, Ormstown, on Saturday evening to hear the directors' reports on the recent negotiations for settling the milk price. About one hundred dairymen were present. The settlement was outlined by Mr. John K. Dickson, while Mr. P. D. McArthur handled the subject for the French speaking members. The committee of the Provincial Cabinet ruled that the price of $3.45 per cwt. be raised to $3.55, with no additional increase in the price to consumers. The difference of 10 cents was to be taken from the margin originally allowed the distributor. There was considerable dissatisfaction that the original demand of $3.75 per cwt. was not obtained, but the directors explained that the agreement was only temporary, subject to revision, and that the matter was being closely watched. Should the consumer's demand not fall off to the extent estimated by the distributors, and should other factors now under review warrant a further upward revision, the directors would continue to press for their original price demand. Further discontent was voiced because the final price of $3.55 was not made retroactive to the 1st October when winter prices were fixed. This meant a loss of 10% per cwt. for the first half of October. The meeting was closed after unanimous resolutions were passed by the members, thanking the directors for their efforts and assuring them of their continued confidence.

Rotarians and Ladies Hear Travel Talk

Monday evening a rare treat was accorded the Rotarians and Rotary Anns in the Huntingdon Chateau when Miss Gladys Gowlland who has made seven trips around the world presented an illustrated talk titled "Dressing Around the World".

Miss Gowlland, for a number of years was employed in the Cruise Department of the Canadian Pacific Steamships as a hostess, press agent, etc. for the cruises of the "Empress of Britain" and other famous ships of the Company's fleet.

During the cruises Miss Gowlland read and met many prominent people as well as colorful and charming natives in the many countries visited.

In the field of radio she has truly had a world of wide experience, having given radio talks from stations as far away as New York, Melbourne and Durban.

100 or more beautifully colored slides made from pictures photographed by Miss Gowlland during the course of her world tours were screened. The talk was so presented by one who has not only widely travelled, but who actually took the pictures and had interviewed the people and seen the places screened made it all the more interesting. Following the illustrations Miss Gowlland entertained the little audience through showing some of the native dresses worn by natives of some of the far east countries. The beautifully woven pieces of textiles were found doubly interesting to some of the textile men present.

John Fisher, Well-known Radio Commentator, Speaks To Gathering at Howick

Gives Stirring Address on "Canada and the Changing Scene"

Howick was greatly honoured on Thursday evening, Oct. 17, by having as a guest, the well-known radio commentator, John Fisher, who addressed the community school.

Mr. Fisher is a lively individual with an inquiring mind and a friendly personality, who shuttles back and forth across Canada, into the U.S.A. and across oceans. It was rather a miracle having such a busy and prominent man to speak in our small town, but to any housewife who understands the laundry problems of a stationary husband, the real miracle would appear to be that he seems to have control over the situation.

Mr. Donald Black, M.P., introduced the speaker who briefly told some of the amusing trials and tribulations of a radio commentator. The speaker therefore launched into his subject—"Canada and the Changing Scene". His country is very dear to him and he had much to praise in both people and country. At the same time he tried to open our eyes to some glaring faults and gave some constructive criticism—old block house destroyed, etc. No cherishing of historical things.

He tres of continual speeches about there being no unity in Canada. It's a very cold, efficient type of unity, but it produced an air force, army and navy of which any country could be proud, especially a sparsely populated country as Canada. The Canadian people sent food and clothing to help the British war and fed. One-fifth of the requirements of the British were supplied by Canada, a country with a population about the same as New York State.

We never seem to talk out loud about ourselves, seem afraid to tell ourselves we are Canadians. It is a unique country in having two railroad lines right across Canada, an airline right across Canada, a radio system right across Canada, and a banking system right across Canada.

It's also unique for uniformity of speech. There are so many reasons why we should be proud of our background, but we hope we would never become puffed up with our own performance.

At this point we apparently placed Nationalism on top of the piano and moved across the platform to signify the hope that we would be past Nationalism. Who can tell how fast things will progress in the next 25 years? Think what has happened in our time. While in Ottawa last week we watched a parade that showed it raining in Three Rivers then Kingston. He could not believe it was true, so telephoned Kingston—the reply was no rain. Almost immediately a call came back that there was a heavy downpour of rain!

The world has grown so small we are now able to see it all. It is indeed with a profound sense of gratitude and appreciation that we here celebrate tonight an occasion unique in the long history of our beloved St. James' Church. Gratitude for all the manifold blessings which we have derived from our spiritual fathers, together ever since your coming to us three decades ago, and keenest appreciation for you and your loving efforts on our behalf, as leader and interpreter, as counsellor and instructor, as father and elder brother, as minister and friend, as mentor, and above all else we are eternally indebted to you because of the fact that for these past 30 years you have always proved yourself to be a true and affectionate father to all of us who have sought and are now seeking the elusive goal of ultimate truth. The story is told of the famous old philosopher-poet of China, Wang Wei, who lived alone for almost a century on the edge of a dense forest in his native land, that as he was about to pass on to a higher sphere of existence, a number of his followers came to him. "Master," they said, "You have spent a long life delving into the things of the Spirit, into the ultimate universal values. Now, we want you to tell us before you leave, what you consider the greatest value of life and living here below." Wang Wei hesitated for a moment, then said, "Typical Chinese modesty here, said, "Well, you see, it's just like this. I am an old man now. I never have been very clever. My thoughts have seldom travelled farther than my feet. I know only this forest and to it I return again and again. You ask me what I consider the greatest value of life here below. Well, for me it is simply this: listening to the song of a little child as it goes on down along the road after it has shown it the way." And now after centuries there is an increasing number of the world's wisest men who maintain that the old Chinese master was essentially correct, that the greatest value of living here on earth lies in the direction of showing others the way. If that be true, and I am convinced that it is, then you, our Rector, are indeed one of the most enlightened of men as your long faithful ministry here among us so eloquently proves. If for a moment each of us was to look back over the years and recall the numerous occasions during which you have with your gracious kindness and generosity of spirit assumed the role of a way-shower, there can be no possible doubt that your ministry has been a living testament in harmony with that immortal message of the Master Christ, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life." Each of us must remember joyous hours of intercommunion and fellowship together highlighted by the luminous friendliness and sincerity of your presence, and likewise, there is none of us who does not recall the darker hours of trial and bereavement which also have been illumined by the warmth of your indomitable faith and the light of your lively vision that showed us the Godward path out of the mid-night shadows into the beauty and serenity of a more soul-satisfying dawn. Then, too, we have always

Mr. Fisher thanked Mr. Fisher for his challenging and thought-provoking address. The meeting was opened to discussion and there was considerable. Mr. Welch expressed the opinion that the people of Howick were with Mr. Fisher in his views on Canada at which there was applause.

Mr. Munroe, President of the Community Schools in Quebec, was on the platform and spoke to the Howick group and thanked them for the invitation extended to the Ormstown group, many of whom were present.

The business meeting was followed by the National Anthem. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Orr and Wilbert Orr, played for a short period of dancing when lunch was served to all present. Everybody thoroughly enjoyed the social hour, including Mr. Fisher, who circulated freely among the crowd and spent part of the time entertaining the waiters in the kitchen.

Body Second Missing Man Found

Charles Mailloux Recovered From Lake Wednesday

The body of the second man who has been missing since bringing a yacht from Valleyfield to Port Lewis, was found near where the other body was recovered in the vicinity of Ste. Barbe, on Wednesday evening. The body was that of Charles Edouard Mailloux. The body of Ovide Viou was found on Friday, October 11th.

As far as is known no trace of the yacht has been found and there is no knowing just what happened to cause these two men to lose their lives.

A coroner's verdict of accidental death was returned in both cases.

The following is the letter referred to in the article on page 6.

Department of Education, Quebec, Office of the Director of Protestant Education, October 18th, 1946.

News Editor, The Huntingdon Gleaner, Inc., Huntingdon, Que.

Dear Sir: When I returned to my office recently I found your letter of October 8th together with clippings from the Huntingdon Gleaner concerning the Havelock School question.

The annual meeting and dinner of the Chateaugay Valley Jersey Club will be held at McDougall Hall, Ormstown, Que., on Wednesday, October 30th, at 7 p.m. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance at this event as there are many important matters to be discussed that will be of interest to the many Jersey breeders of the district. Although there were only a few Jerseys in this district a few years ago, it would appear now that there are approximately 1500 head. This is quite an appreciable number and shows that the Jersey breed is fast becoming important in the Chateaugay Valley.

This year it has been decided to hold the annual meeting of the Provincial Club at the Chateau, in Huntingdon, on Saturday, November 9th. This has only been arranged after considerable argument, the greatest opposition being that the attendance would be poor. The officers of the Club are therefore urging that all Jersey breeders in the district make it their business to plan to attend both these meetings with full numbers and prove that Huntingdon is a good meeting place and that all Jersey breeders are interested in their Club. A banquet will be held in connection with each meeting and there will be a reasonable charge. All those interested in the Jersey Breed are requested to make plans to attend both these meetings when they will learn much of benefit and have the opportunity of talking with other breeders.

John Fisher to Assist Ormstown Show Opening

Mr. John Fisher, who gives such interesting broadcasts over CBC as a roving reporter across Canada, addressed a meeting in Howick, on Thursday evening. Mr. Fisher was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Black. Mr. Fisher informed the Gleaner that he had promised Mr. Black to lend assistance at the official opening of the Ormstown Spring Show in June, 1947.

It is to be expected Mr. Fisher will also make use of Ormstown Exhibition data during some broadcasts previous to the 1947 show, which will be a good thing for the publicity.

First Royal National Ayrshire Sale a Success

Top Priced Animal Consigned by R. R. Ness & Sons Sells For $1400

A very successful sale of Ayrshire cattle took place at Oakville, Ont., on Saturday, October 19th, when the first Royal National Ayrshire Sale was held at that point. The sale was arranged and managed by Mr. Douglas Ness, of the firm of R. Ness & Sons, Howick, Que., and the sale was handled by L. E. Franklin, Auctioneer. The total sum realized from the 47 head offered at the sale was $16,350, or an average of $348.00 per head. Seventeen cows averaged $418.00, 10 heifers averaged $308.00. Nine animals consigned from the Province of Quebec averaged $354.00. The top priced animal of the sale was Syke Kate (Imp.), consigned by R. R. Ness & Sons, Howick, Que., which sold for $1400.00 to G. M. Brawley, Brooklyn, Ontario. Glen Campbell Bonnie, consigned by F. S. Biggs, Dundas, Ont., sold at $1075.00 to W. W. Wainwright, Ontario. This is the highest priced two-year-old Ayrshire sold in Canada this year. Burnside Morning Blossom, consigned by R. R. Ness & Sons, also went to Wynnyates Farm, at $975.00. This is the highest priced 3-year-old sold in Canada this year.

Thirty-nine head of these cattle went to Ontario breeders, five went to West Unity Woolen Mills, Ohio; one went to Mr. and Mrs. Fowler McCormick, Barrington, Ill., and two to A. L. Young, Brooks, Alberta.

It was a most successful sale throughout and for its premier, bids well for future annual sales.

Savings Bonds Selling Well In First Week

Entirely up to Person To Decide to Buy

The Savings Bond Campaign seems to be getting away to a good start in Huntingdon during the first week. While the campaign is only just getting underway in most plants on the payroll deduction basis, those in charge report that enthusiasm runs as high as for the Victory Bond Sales. It would seem that there is a desire to obtain this form of saving. Considering that there is no high pressure sales campaign and no door-to-door canvassing, the sales are very good indeed. Both banks report sales good and almost on a par with the Victory Bond Sales of war days. Messrs. Fawcett & Grant report $10,000 of sales for 25 subscriptions which is certainly as good as the first week of the Victory Bond Sales, these returns are still not complete.

There are no objectives to be aimed at in this campaign as it is entirely up to the individual to decide whether he will take the Savings Bonds or not. But it is very encouraging to note that the people of Huntingdon are taking such an interest in the campaign and are anxious to keep up their fine record for buying bonds.

11 People Escape Early Morning Fire

House and Contents Total Loss at Arnold's Corners

Last Thursday morning, a fire, presumably caused by overheated stovepipes completely destroyed the dwelling house of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goudreau, who live a short distance East of Arnold's Corners on the Ridge Road.

The fire which broke out about 4:00 a.m. was first noticed by one of the children who was sleeping upstairs and was awakened by a hot piece of burning material falling on the back of his hand. The father and mother, who were asleep downstairs, were awakened by cries from the children as the flames rapidly spread. The father rushed upstairs and one by one was able to rescue all the nine children, who with the exception of the baby 3 months old, were on the second story. All were forced out into the cold October morning with only scanty clothing and the dwelling became a total loss.

Besides their meagre household effects the family lost 800 lbs. of flour, beans, peas and other commodities stored for the winter. Goudreau himself is employed at Tremblay's Creamery Factory and with his wife and family have moved into another house on the New Road.

Chateaugay Day at Ormstown High School on Friday

Interesting Special Program and Features Have Been Arranged

Dean Sinclair Laird will be the guest speaker at the annual Chateaugay Day celebration at Ormstown High School, on Friday, October 25th, at 8 p.m. Dean Laird is well known throughout the Province of Quebec as a member of the School for Teachers at Macdonald College and has taken an active part in the educational progress of recent years. His subject will be "My Thirty Years in Education in the Province of Quebec." As a member of the Council of Education, a member of the Senate of McGill University, and Pension Commissioner for the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, Dean Laird has been intimately connected with educational movements in this province and his remarks should be of wide and timely interest.

Other features have been arranged for the Open Night, most interesting of which is the showing of the Warner Brothers' film IT HAPPENED IN SPRINGFIELD. This film has had wide circulation and has been favorably received in the United States and Canada. The story built around the citizenship program of the public school system in Springfield, Massachusetts. Another film entitled HABITANT ARTS AND CRAFTS will also be shown and the ALOUETTE Quartet will be heard in CHANTEES POPULAIRES.

The museum exhibit will again be assembled. This feature of the Chateaugay Day programs was discontinued two years ago, but it is hoped there will be a good display of articles connected with the early history of the Chateaugay Valley. Those having utensils, implements, weapons, books, clothing or other articles are asked to communicate with Mrs. Lindsay Gaudreau, Chairman of the Community Relations Committee of the Staff.

ORMSTOWN CANADIANS HAVE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Huntingdon, Wed., Oct. 23rd, 1946

Home and School Association

EDUCATION today is much more important in the lives of all than it was 50 or 100 years ago. In olden days, education was for the rich, the poorer people had to think of making a living and doing any kind of work for which they were fitted.

But still education is not perfect and it is still not wide enough in its scope for those of lesser means. Improvements are being made every year both in methods and the scope. It is now possible for all children to pass from the elementary school to the high school, which in most cases is the next step to college or university.

There has been much talk in Huntingdon of forming a Home and School Association, and in Commissioner Martin's address at the Opening Exercises at Huntingdon High School recently, he mentioned the fact that he would like to see such an organization formed here.

More than ever today it is necessary that we all know more about conditions throughout the entire world. That is our education must be of international scope rather than of national significance.

We trust therefore, that at some near future date a meeting will be called to form a Home and School Association for Huntingdon. If such an association is organized we would like to see it made representative of a complete cross section of Huntingdon School district in order that as wide an expression of views as possible may be given at the meetings.

Station Facilities

IN Huntingdon we have a Union Station, being a joint depot for the N.Y.C. and C.N.R. railway companies. Passengers, express, freight and all business for both companies is transacted at this depot and under one roof.

press office at the station which has a door opening from it to the waiting room and also a door from it to the station platform. Usually the door to the platform is kept closed and express and other things piled up against it, leaving the door from the waiting room as the only entrance.

Such a state of affairs could easily be the reason why parcels are lost or delayed in being delivered from this station, as has so many times happened. There was an incidence of where a parcel was to be sent to Valleyfield on the night train and did not arrive there on the night train or on the morning train.

It must be admitted that with the amount of business being done by the railways at this point that the station facilities are not what they ought to be. The staff is no doubt doing the best it can to keep things in order, but if facilities are not provided at the station so that incoming and outgoing express cannot be separated and has to be dumped in a heap, it is only natural that good service cannot be given.

Passengers should not be subjected to being moved around here and there while express is moved into the waiting room or moved out of it. In the winter time this is particularly miserable as the doors have to be left open while this work is done thus chilling off the whole room. The comfort of the passengers should be studied at all times, they are the customers of the railroad, like any other business the railroad must have customers in order to stay in business.

For the stranger coming into Huntingdon by train, this gives the most uninviting appearance of any place in town. The most drab and depressing scene that one may come upon. Backwoods stations can be found that are much more inviting.

The Consumer Pays

THE recent announcement made at the Council meeting the past week that the new company which is taking over the Kensington Dairies Ltd., intends to up the price of milk to 15 1/2 cents per quart, is not meeting with general approval. It is well known that the price of milk has always been higher in Montreal than in Huntingdon and the consumer can see no reason why Huntingdon should be placed on the same basis as Montreal.

The consumer argues why 15 1/2 cents per quart, does this mean that the person buying one quart will have to pay 16 cents? If he only has to pay 15, then there is a discrimination against the ones who buy two quarts as they would pay 31 cents for the two quarts while the single quart buyer would buy for 30 cents.

We are ready to admit that the price spread between the producer and the dairy is not great at the present rate i.e. 13 cents per quart. The producer under the new agreement will get $3.55 per hundred pounds, while the dairy will get approximately $4.81 per hundred pounds bottled and delivered to the consumer. The difference amounts to $1.26 for the dairy. This means that 37 quarts have to be bottled and delivered, the bottles have to be washed, some kind of conveyance has to be used, a delivery man has to be paid. It naturally requires a large volume of business to make it pay.

It is no wonder that the consumer is complaining, it is no wonder that the dairies are losing in sales by the cutting down of the quantities once ordered. But it is pointed out that the Dairy Commission has only authorized a three-cent increase and to raise the price to 15 1/2 cents would mean a 5 1/2 cent increase, which would be a discrimination against the consumer in this part of the Province.

FOOD CONDITIONS IN BRITAIN AND ON THE CONTINENT

Article II

Before going further into the proceedings of the Imperial Press Conference, I feel it may be desirable to deal with a question fired at me everywhere: "Are food conditions in England as bad as has been represented? Are the British people actually suffering from hunger and malnutrition?"

The question is one which, as a matter of fact, members of the Empire Press delegation are in a position to answer categorically. Certainly they did not experience any lack in the quantity or variety of food. Quite the contrary. But the Empire Press party were guests at big hotels and at official banquets and private dinner parties and at railway trains, which are said to serve the best meals in England.

On visiting friends outside of London, I was surprised to be offered a meal in abundance. But in both instances I learned the explanation lay in the fact that there were family farm connections; in one case 800 or 900 acres, in the other 1,600 acres, with three combines, including a Massey-Harris; and while the sale of farm products is controlled, no effort is made to interfere with feeding the family. The surprise at getting two eggs for breakfast was less marked than the astonishment with which one learned that farms of this size are common in England.

Conditions Facing the Ordinary Citizen

If, therefore, we were to judge solely by our own experience, our verdict would be that the "austerity," as it is called, was not very severe; but this probably would give a false impression. Enquiry indicates that even among the people dependent on rations, who were not fortunate enough to be the guests of the British Press at swell hotels, conditions varied greatly. The larger the number in the family, the better the ration worked out. Why, one or more members were employed in factories in which the noon meal was served at a nominal cost, the food problem at home was milder. Where the children were children conditions were improved; for the authorities are partial to the young generation, and are determined that they shall not suffer malnutrition because of the war.

The real difficulty lies with those adults who have to queue up for rations and live on them; particularly single persons living alone and doing their own cooking. Unless these latter can afford to go out for an occasional meal at a restaurant, their fare is exceedingly dull and unappetizing, though it may not actually involve hunger. Since such people are numbered by the million, if they do not really constitute the majority, the conclusion was that the food situation in Britain is still tense. This impression was emphasized by the fact that the Labour Government felt it imperative to ration bread—a move deeply resented by the housewives, and actively opposed by the Ministry of Supply as essential if the limited wheat and flour available was to be equitably distributed. A reduction in the soap ration was adding another headache for the housewife, and ready troubled by short supply of most domestic necessities. The lack of fruit (what there is so expensive as to be out of reach of the ordinary individual) is a war deprivation that everybody would soon be overcome. Fruit was an uncommon luxury even in the hotels.

Food Conditions on the Continent While on the subject of food, I may as well deal with the situation on the continent.

Here again, I cannot speak from experience—or rather our own experience—as guests of the British Armed Forces would give a totally false impression. At a tourist hotel in Cabourg, a seaside watering place in Normandy, we were treated to a real French seven-course dinner. We had no opportunity of learning how the general population of France is faring. In Brussels, at the famous Palace Hotel, the meals were quite up to pre-war standard, and abundance of vegetables in the crowded morning market seemed to indicate that the Belgian people suffer no lack. In Germany, the party were served food drawn from British Army rations, which included delicious white bread, something not obtainable in England. Quite properly, the authorities are seeking to limit the officers and men who have the unpleasant task of policing the former enemy's country are well fed.

From official sources we learned something as to the food situation in Germany. In the British zone, the rations are based on 1,020 calories for the general public, rising to 1,780 calories for heavy workers, 2,400 calories for very heavy workers and 3,000 for miners. The last is to encourage the production of coal, the shortage of which is seriously handicapping reconstruction. This ration compared with a minimum of 1,670 calories in limited quantities (though not in unlimited quantities) through the production of over 3,000 tons of coal. The ration includes 8 ounces of bread a day, 3 ounces of fats, 2 ounces of sugar and just over 3 ounces of meat a week. About half the population are on the minimum ration.

Rations Insufficient to Sustain Life Indefinitely

It was readily admitted by the officials that this ration is scarcely sufficient to sustain life in practice it is often found difficult to maintain even this standard, though there has never been a complete break down. What saves the situation to a large extent is that the authorities believe that most Germans manage to secure an additional 500 or 600 calories from unknown sources. We got the impression that the authorities did not trouble to enquire too closely into this. There is also considerable forging of ration cards. In the Russian zone, which includes the agricultural sections on which Germany nominally depended for the bulk of its food, the ration is 1,500 calories. In the American zone it is 1,280 calories, while in the French zone the minimum actually falls below the British standard.

The Germans we saw on the streets of Berlin (there were no crowds anywhere) appeared well fed and vigorous. But we were told that the people who are going down hill remain at home and are not visible. This is one of the problems. Up to ten years of age, the children are doing well, but boys and girls in their teens show lassitude from lack of proper nourishment. Infant mortality is high. Many babies, it was said, are allowed to die as soon as they are born. The women working in the streets, clearing up rubble, appeared emaciated and forlorn.

The officials hoped to be able to increase the rations after harvest. Four and a-half pounds of potatoes were to be added to the weekly ration after August 7. But while the fields looked well, we were told that examination revealed that the yield would be light, owing to long sustained deficiency in fertilizers. The number of cattle in the British zone was not much below normal. But pigs had dropped from seven or eight million to two million, and it was proposed to reduce them still further. Poultry was down to seven million from twenty million. Of horses, we were told there were "too many." Fishing was back to nearly a third of what it had been before the war, and about 3,000 tons a week were coming in from Norway.

Altogether it was gathered that the food situation in Western Germany was grim, and that the trouble arose chiefly from lack of co-operation on the part of the Russians, who control the agricultural districts from which the country formerly drew its food, whereas the British zone is largely industrial, made up of city populations which the adjacent farms cannot support. The British Government are spending at the rate of £70,000,000 ($300,000,000) in providing their former enemies with food, and are pinching their own people to save the Germans from starvation. But both Mr. Attlee and Mr. Bevin have declared that the burden on the British taxpayer cannot go on indefinitely. Failing a change of heart on the part of the Russians, the remedy would appear to lie in increasing the production of German industry to a point where export of manufactured goods will be sufficient to import food. But to bring this about there must be an increase in the production of coal.

SHOULD ENFORCE LAWS

Laws made by the people through their parliament should be enforced. If the law cannot be enforced, or it is considered wiser not to enforce it, then it should be struck from the statutes—if the people agree. There cannot be one interpretation of the law when the individual citizen is at fault, and another for powerful groups.

LETTER to the EDITOR

St. Chrysostome, P.Q. R.R. 2, October 21, 1946.

The Editor, The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc., Huntingdon, P.Q.

Dear Sir:

On Thursday evening, October 24th, the Protestant taxpayers are to hold a meeting in the Havelock Town Hall in the hope that it will be possible to obtain a clear picture of the existing conditions at the local school. Also to be discussed are the various courses which are open to our School Board in their attempt to solve the present problems. On the following Monday, the taxpayers will record their will by means of the secret ballot. The decision of the voters will plot the course which the Board will be compelled to follow. I need not stress the gravity and the importance of this vote.

I do not pertain to be any authority on matters of education, but Sir, I would appreciate it if through the columns of the Gleaner you would permit me to express my personal views on this particular question.

I have studied carefully the articles in the Gleaner, "Need for Improved School Facilities in Havelock"—September 11th, letters to the Editor—by Mr. T. A. Brisbin—September 25 and October 16th, and the editorial—"The Press and Its Place in the Community"—October 2nd. My first observation is that all four articles were written with nothing but the highest motives.

From the Gleaner's point of view, I realize that as a public servant you felt bound by duty to "fearlessly and regardless of personalities" to lay this whole question of the rural school before your readers. Possibly somewhat unfortunately for our personal pride we opened the door and you walked in—as a result, Havelock has become the spot for considerable publicity. In other words the attention of every reader of your paper has been focused upon our unfortunate position as regards our educational facilities. We do not condemn your justification in attacking the provincial educational system which tolerates the one room elementary school—but Sir, those of us who are taxpayers in this township would have appreciated it had you pointed out that your fight for educational reform was applicable not only to this township but to any and all communities in this province who are apparently satisfied with the elementary school systems.

From Mr. Brisbin's point of view I can readily see the motive which compelled him to submit his letters to you. In the first place he is the duly elected head of our School Board. I do know if the board authorized Mr. Brisbin to write to you on their behalf, but in any case it is quite apparent that Mr. Brisbin is quite justified in defending the price of his taxpayers. I must admit Sir, had any of us been in the same position we might have been moved by the same strong ideals.

Before dealing with the actual issue to be decided by the voters on Monday, I would like to clarify a misunderstanding which has apparently arisen. It has to do with so-called "rumour" which took a group of taxpayers to the Hemmingford School Board meeting on the night of September 3rd. I attended that meeting, but did not do so on the basis of a rumour. A neighbour told me that they had had a phone call from another neighbour who had had a phone call from another neighbour and so the chain went, but the message was that the Hemmingford Board had arranged to meet the Hemmingford Board to discuss the possibilities of consolidation. Also to be present at this meeting was a representative from the Department of Education. The taxpayers journeyed to Hemmingford in good faith. They did not go on the strength of a rumour. They went because they believed the voice which came over the telephone wire. They went to support their elected representatives in their efforts to obtain a favourable agreement with the Hemmingford Board. It has been suggested that the idea of a group of taxpayers going to Hemmingford without first consulting their local school commissioner, Mr. Wesley McComb, was an act of disrespect and discourtesy. Personally, and I am confident that I can say on behalf of all present at the meeting, far from displaying anything in the way of disrespect and discourtesy to Mr. McComb, we went to that meeting to assure him that we stood firmly behind him and would support his leadership on this question. This is quite understandable because the taxpayers of Russelltown have confidence in Mr. McComb and throughout Havelock he is known to be a man with progressive and broad ideals.

When you study the situation, you will easily see that the local commission is but a form of democracy. That is at regular intervals the nominate and later elected representatives who are charged with the administration of all local schools. Hence if over period of years we have neglected to take an active part in our educational problems—it is our fault that today we are forced to tolerate an educational system which was first established by the pioneers of this country and which has not advanced in the same proportion as the growth of the community. And when I make this statement, I am not referring necessarily to the schools in Havelock but to the educational system which was designed originally to give only the bare necessities to the child, that is an elementary knowledge of reading, writing, and arithmetic, but which cannot possibly meet present day requirements. If, Mr. Editor, we find that our community's educational facilities are in need of reform and are not in a satisfactory state, it is not the fault of Mr. Brisbin and the other gentlemen on the Havelock Board. Each of us, must be prepared to assume a share of this guilt. But on Monday next we must go to the poll and cast our ballots in such a way that there will be no doubt in anybody's mind, that a community will support any educational reform, no matter how radical it may seem to be. We are determined that the youth of this Township will have an opportunity of obtaining the very best training that is offered by the Department of Education. Those of us Sir, who are fortunate enough to be taxpayers in this township have a sense of pride and a sense of determination that the children of Havelock are not going to be handicapped on life's

SURGE

THE MODERN MILKING MACHINE

ONLY THE SURGE DOES WHAT OTHER MILKING MACHINES HAVE TO BE HELPED TO DO

A calf puts on TUG & PULL to stretch the udder and let the trapped milk get out. A good Hand Milker stretches the udder for the same reason.

The Surge milks with an automatic TUG & PULL and the increasing weight of the milk in the pail causes it to tug harder and harder as the cow milks out. This udder stretching tug and pull gets the trapped milk out of the udder and into the pail. You don't have to help a Surge milk your cows.

Ormsdown Study Club Hears Address by Dr. W. C. Hopper

Dr. W. C. Hopper of the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa, was the guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Ormsdown Study Club. He addressed the members of the club, Mr. John K. Dickson, Dr. Hopper took for his subject, "The United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization." He had been secretary of the Canadian delegation to the F.A.O. Conference at Copenhagen, and had a great store of interesting information for his hearers. He told of the origin and physical structure of the organization and its objectives, which are: 1. To feed the world. 2. To see that the food producers get an adequate return for their work. There are many obstacles to the achievement of these objectives. These obstacles are: 1. Technical difficulties. 2. Political difficulties. 3. Poverty. 4. Selfishness. 5. Trade barriers. 6. Apathy of governments. Hunger and war, the speaker said, seem to go hand in hand, therefore if its aims are finally accomplished, then the F.A.O. may have gone a long way toward the prevention of future wars - which was really its ultimate purpose. It will cost a great deal of money, he declared, but if you consider the cost of war, anything that will contribute to the elimination of war, will be well worth while.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. Donald McEwen. The next meeting will be held on Friday, Oct. 25th, when Chateaugay Day will be commemorated. The speaker on this occasion will be Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College. The following week, on Wednesday, Oct. 30th, Mr. Peters of the Montreal Gazette will speak, his topic being "Inside Germany." Much interest is also being shown in the courses on "Motor Mechanics" and Handicrafts, and these classes are well attended.

Beauharnois H. & S. Association Help European Children

At its March meeting the Beauharnois Home and School Association voted the sum of $25.00 to be used to assist in the alleviation of the suffering of the school children of war torn Europe. It was decided to use this money for the relief of some small village school where every child in the school could be helped by this one donation.

On the helpful advice of Mme Paul Del Perugia, Delegate in Canada of Ent'Aide because it was decided to send a box to the school children of Villers Bocage, a department of Calvados village which had suffered complete devastation during the earlier part of the allied campaign in Normandy.

The Beauharnois Home & School Association is asking its members to contribute one tin of canned goods at each of its regular meetings this year. Other things needed to complete these parcels will be supplied from Association Funds.

It is recommended by the Beauharnois Home & School Association that other Branches of the Home & School Association across Canada follow its example by adopting a school in Europe and try to bring a few extras into the lives of children so much more unfortunate than our own.

the nameless, little unremembered acts of kindness and of love, that "best portion of a good man's life" according to the poet, that you have humbly and lovingly performed daily, yes even hourly, since your coming to us, our hearts are indeed filled to overflowing with that profound gratitude that lies too deep for words, and we begin to comprehend a little the splendid magnitude of your spiritual achievement, and somehow we know that not only those of us who are here present visibly tonight but also those countless others, the quiet and the so called dead, who have been helped and sustained, inspired and comforted, enriched and ennobled in mind, soul and body by you, our beloved Rector, down through the years, join in a chorus of thanksgiving and abiding love, and from each and every heart rises the sincere prayer that you will long remain with us, well knowing that the glory of the face of the Father will continue to light your Godward way and that for you, now and forever, during this eternal moment, the day breaks and the shadows flee away.

Hi-Spots In Recreation

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd (tonight) children's movies will be started in the Huntingdon Academy Gymnasium. The show for this week will be Abbott & Costello in 'Pardon My Sarong' and there will be some short features too. The program will start at 7 p.m. sharp and doors will be closed after that time. So be sure to get there on time. The only entrance will be the Gymnasium fire escape door right next to the County Building. There is one restriction that must be adhered to and that is the age limit. Only those of sixteen years and under will be permitted and no children under eight years will be admitted.

Mr. George Ellis

We have received in our office this past week a souvenir copy of the Goderich Signal-Star, which has been published to commemorate the International Plowing Match held at Port Albert on October 15, 16, 17 and 18, 1946. This event was revived this year after a lapse of five years due to the war. It is important to Ontario agriculture and thus creates a vast amount of interest in this province wherever a plowing match is held. This particular event was said to have attracted well nigh on 100,000 people to Goderich, thus the Signal-Star had a fine advertising display throughout and took the opportunity of telling the story of Goderich and its surrounding territory.

INDUSTRIAL BOWLING LEAGUE

This league has started, and the schedule will carry the group all through the winter months. Upwards of twenty teams have entered and a very interesting time is ahead for all those on teams. Unfortunately many people who want to bowl will be left out, but if there are enough interested who would like to start another league, and if the bowling alley can handle another group there is no reason to believe that this can't be done.

INDUSTRIAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

An organization meeting of the Industrial Hockey league was held on Monday evening and many interesting items were gone over. At the moment there is no startling news to announce, but perhaps next week there will be more.

HUNTINGDON RECREATION ASSOCIATION

A short time ago as most of you know, a questionnaire appeared in the Gleaner with a view to finding out how much interest the citizens had in a recreation program. Actually it was rather an unfortunate time to start, as many people were away for the summer. However, now that the summer vacation season is over perhaps the following would interest you.

Frontier Branch Religious Education Council Hold Annual Convention

The eightieth annual convention of the Frontier Branch of the Religious Education Council of Quebec was held in Zion United Church, Dundee, on October 10th, under the chairmanship of Rev. R. W. Carr, Lacolle. The Convention was very well attended. The addresses and discussions centered around the theme "Foundation of Christian Teaching".

The worship periods were conducted by Rev. T. Duncan of Franklin Centre. Reports were given on the work of Religious Education carried on in the various through-the-week organizations and groups.

Rev. A. E. Hagar introduced the guest speaker, Rev. D. A. MacFarlane of First United Church, Rosemount, speaking on the subject, "God Our Father". The speaker said it is not enough to believe that there is a God, a personal knowledge and an assurance of God in our own lives. Behind all our Sunday School work is the teacher with a personal intimate knowledge of and fellowship with God, the Creator and sustainer, "the demonstrator as well as the designer of love".

Rev. M. W. Booth of Montreal, addressed the convention on the subject, "The Bible and the Child". He stressed the importance of presenting Biblical stories to the child in the form in which they would best understand them and offered many suggestions to Sunday School teachers in presenting religion to younger children. Some discussion followed and was continued under the direction of Mr. A. English of Ormstown. Representatives of various Sunday Schools told how they had been successful or otherwise in meeting the problems common to all Sunday School workers. Ideas were exchanged and all felt that they had profited from this part of the program.

The evening meeting opened with a sing-song led by Rev. T. Knowles, followed by a short worship conducted by Mr. Duncan. Rev. Mr. MacFarlane gave his second address on the fundamental beliefs of Christianity. His topic was "Christ the Saviour". It was a stirring and challenging message making a fitting climax to the convention.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. E. Hagar, Dundee; Vice-President, Rev. A. M. Rose, Chateaugay; Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Belbin, Hemmingford; Children's Work secretary, Mrs. Marion Reese, Athelstan; Girls' Work secretary, Miss Roberta Ruddock, Huntingdon; Boys' Work secretary, Rev. J. MacPherson, Howick; Young People's secretary, Rev. C. L. Taylor, Ormstown; Temperance secretary, Mrs. J. Levers, Athelstan; Leadership Training secretary, Rev. R. C. Belbin, Hemmingford.

The Champion Show

Was held in Douglasfield just outside of Fredericton, N.B. it was the final roundup of local shows and judging competitions held in the province during the summer. Complete classes of Holsteins and Jerseys conducted outside in the presence of a large crowd. As there were no other diversions attention was centered exclusively on the ring. Clayton Haviland, President, Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, acted as the Holstein and Jersey judge, while Elmo Ashton of Brome, the Jerseys.

Loud speaker equipment was provided for announcements and speeches. The cattle were well fitted and would do credit to any exhibition.

Presentations were made to the judges and Mrs. Haviland received from Hon. J. Walter Jones, Premier of Prince Edward Island, a beautiful bouquet of red roses, the gift of New Brunswick Holstein Breeders. W. L. Carr, Chief Inspector of Eastern Canada for Holsteins, spoke briefly on the subject of good seed stock and on behalf of Maple Leaf Milling Company, presented a handsome silver tray with glass inset to Mr. T. G. Hetherington, owner of the Senior Female Grand Champion, Shirley Fraser Saladin. This cow has been graded "Excellent" and Mr. Haviland considered her the nearest to true type Holstein on the grounds.

The Prime Minister, Hon. J. B. McNair, made the address of welcome and Hon. A. C. Taylor, Minister of Agriculture, said that these small shows were a sound practice as they encouraged attendance of the small breeders.

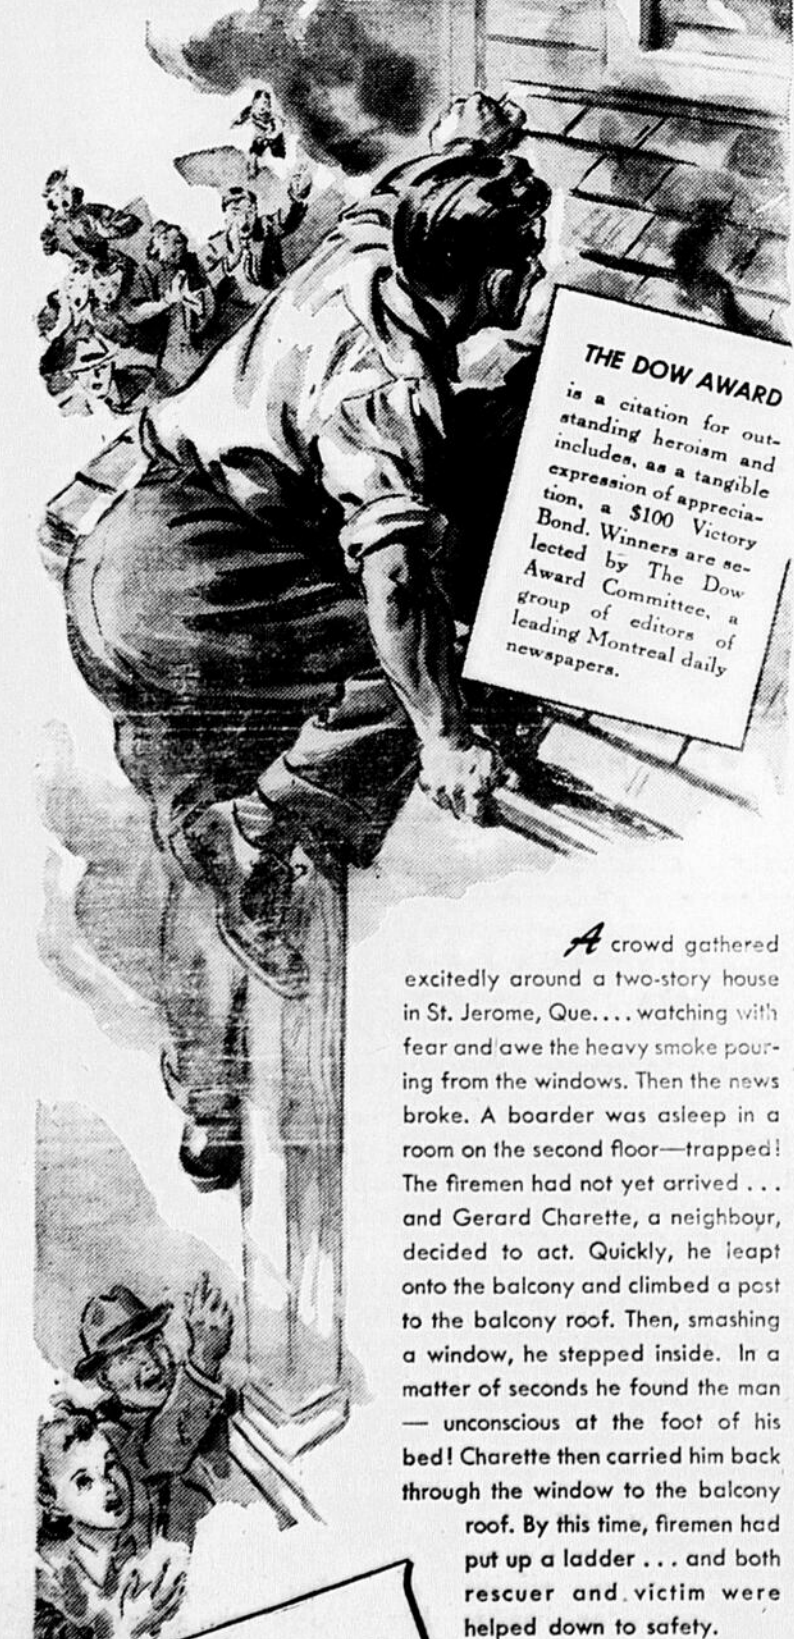

Unusual classes included one of 15 artificially bred calves, purebred and grade, products of a breeding unit housed in a stable on the grounds. Uniformity of quality in this exhibit impressed the spectators with the progress possible by scientific methods. The technician lives in a house nearby and a radius of twelve miles is served by the unit.

GERARD CHARETTE WINS Dow Award

The DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and expression of appreciation, as a tangible award, a $100 Victory Bond. Winners are selected by The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Montreal daily newspapers.

A crowd gathered excitedly around a two-story house in St. Jerome, Que... watching with fear and awe the heavy smoke pouring from the windows. Then the news broke. A boarder was asleep in a room on the second floor—trapped! The firemen had not yet arrived... and Gerard Charette, a neighbor, decided to act. Quickly, he leapt onto the balcony and climbed a post to the balcony roof. Then, smashing a window, he stepped inside. In a matter of seconds he found the man—unconscious at the foot of his bed! Charette then carried him back through the window to the balcony roof. By this time, firemen had put up a ladder... and both rescuer and victim were helped down to safety.

To Gerard Charette of St. Jerome, father of three children, we are proud to pay tribute through the presentation of The Dow Award.

People of Havelock...

At another farm, Moose Mountain, where we had been the day before, stood out in the far distance. Mrs. W. had four sons and four daughters with the youngest son only at home. Three boys had been in Armed Forces, one still in England. Two were settled in Toronto and all the girls are away. We were invited to an excellent dinner of beef, cabbage, potatoes, and blueberry pie, homemade brown and white bread and farm butter.

At Harry White's I walked back through a spruce wood and in a slash picked ripe raspberries on Sept. 6th.

Borden Kirkpatrick, near Wicklow, grows thirty acres of seed potatoes and is building a fine storage house of cement.

At James Fleming's I was conducted by two little girls on a tour of the pens where they have 250 foxes and 650 mink. The mink included the dark brown, mixed and white. In foxes they had Norwegian platinum blue, red, silver and white, with various mixtures.

Travelling along the "horse-back" or narrow ridge between valleys, we came to the El Lakes and Skiff Lake district. Sometimes, after about ten miles of woods there would be open fields with sunporches guarded the passes. The picturesque setting of the collection of farm buildings seen from a distance suggested old European castles in miniature.

Missionary to Heaven

A young lady transferred from a load of feed being hauled by team and not to the back seat of the car with me. We were on the way to her home a couple of miles distant. The road was under construction and very rough.

Miss Z. was preparing to leave the next week to attend Bible College in Toronto in preparation for a career as a missionary in China. "Well, my dear," I asked, "if you feel an urge to do good, why do you leave New Brunswick? During the week I had passed several schools that will remain closed due to lack of teachers."

She turned to me, her face glowing with inner zeal and said, "But here they have Christians and churches but I want to bring the Gospel to the heathen."

I had in my lap to read at intervals "My Life With the Enemy" by Phyllis Argall and recommended it to my visitor as throwing light on the position of missionaries in foreign lands. I told her I had met Miss Argall in Montreal just after her arrival on the "Gripsholm" from a prison term in Japan. This interested her as a friend of hers had returned on the same ship.

I fear my passenger was offended by my remarks, confirmed in this book, as to the doubtful value of foreign missions. I added that the outlook may not be altogether hopeless. In years to come when the grateful Chinese hear of an individual who has been instrumental in organizing and financing a Mission to send school teachers to New Brunswick.

We arrived at the farm in a remote spot. There was a small house covered by unpurified air and weather shingles. A spray machine at the door indicated potato cropping. The men were invited to look at a cow which was said to have been mated by a bear.

I was forced to speculate on the type of rural education, both secular and religious, that could inspire in young minds a sympathy for people who might as well be living in Mars as far as understanding their customs is concerned. An ambition to bring a culture inspired in the backwoods of Canada where bears devour the cows, to ancient China, requires a gift of imagination utterly lacking in humor.

Sunday we had tea at the home of Mr. E. A. Raymond, Agricultural Representative. "Ned Raymond," as he is called by everyone, seems to know all the farmers of Victoria and Carleton and most of York by their first names. He made our tour of highways and byways a pleasant excursion.

Industries Wanted

Woodstock is a large country town that needs a good hotel. A letter in the weekly paper deploring the lack of progress and opportunity for young people. "It is dead; held back by selfish interest of the well-to-do complacent older people." There are no taverns but a number of drug stores cater to the idle younger set. On a Sunday night between 7 and 9 they were crowded. This year a Park has been opened on an island where supervised sports are conducted. I do not know how successful the venture has been.

At the Electric Company's office they had only pictures of equipment on display. The manager said they couldn't get anything from wholesalers in St. John. I asked why they didn't make washing machines, frigidaires, irons, etc., when they possess coal, iron and power in the Maritimes. He replied that whenever an industry got started it was bought up or squeezed out by powerful combines in Ontario.

This appears to be one of the basic superstitions of the Maritimes, sometimes supported by facts. The electricity used in Woodstock is generated at Aroostook, N.B. by American interests, goes to Maine and is brought back to New Brunswick and sold for double the rate charged in the United States. Farmers told me they had to sign contracts at $2.50 a month minimum, to run for a period of 80 months, before installation.

The U.Y.P.U. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blair, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 8th. The president, Mrs. Milton Sharpe took charge of the meeting. The devotional period was led by Miss Jean Patneude. A demonstration on hand color was given by Rev. T. F. Duncan, followed by games and luncheon. Miss Jean Patneude on behalf of the Society, gave the vote of thanks to their host and hostess for the evening's hospitality.

Miss Helen Towns, of Oriskany Falls, N.Y., spent Wednesday with her cousin, Mrs. Ross Dunn and family. She also called on other relatives in this community.

The lady members of the U.Y.P.U. gave a miscellaneous shower for one of their members, Miss Doris Bentley evening in the basement, which was decorated in blue and rose for the occasion. When Miss Bennett arrived she was met at the door by two friends who showered her with confetti. The chair for the bride-to-be was placed before a prettily decorated and candle lit table loaded with gifts. Miss Bennett was assisted by the Misses Lyla Towns and Bernice Patneude in opening and passing around the many presents for a gift of over 800 items and neighbours to see, after which Miss Bennett expressed her thanks for the gifts and kindness shown her by her fellow members of the Society. Mrs. Oscar Trainer kindly helped to entertain the gathering at different intervals during the evening with music. Refreshments were served by the young ladies and the happy occasion was brought to a close by songs and best wishes to the bride-elect.

The W.M. Society met at the home of Mrs. Willard Dunn, on Wednesday afternoon, with the usual attendance present. The regular Thanksgiving program was followed and a number of Thanksgiving offerings received.

A large number of members of the W.M.S. attended by invitation, the special meeting of the W.M.S. at Herdman's, all who attended greatly enjoyed this meeting.

Miss Elizabeth Leahy, of Montreal spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Leahy.

F. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Ben. M. ing the proposed improvement of school facilities in Havelock. I appreciate deeply the interest of your newspaper in trying to improve educational conditions.

In reply to your letter I think it well to state a few general facts. You are aware of the fact that, for more than forty years, this Department has tried, with some measure of success, to provide better educational facilities for rural pupils than are available in the isolated one-room rural schools. This improvement has been brought about mainly through the consolidation of rural districts. Since 1905 fifty-nine consolidations have been effected, twenty-seven since 1930. Last year, 144 school buses were operated daily for the conveyance of 2,571 of the 5,866 pupils who were enrolled in the consolidated schools. Thirteen hundred and seventy-seven of these pupils were enrolled in Grades 1 to 7, and the balance who attend the fifty-nine consolidated schools reside in what were, prior to consolidation, 211 school districts, each served by a single school.

A study of the results of the consolidation of these 211 schools in the Province of Quebec has shown that the union of school districts has resulted in a saving of three-story buildings, has among other things, established a deeper confidence and brought first-class schools to the country pupils. The movement has tended to erase boundary lines and has best wishes to the bride-elect.

One of the greatest benefits has been the abandonment of poor, isolated buildings and the erection of modern, central schools with improved heating, lighting and ventilating systems, and furnished in many cases, with pianos, photographs and single desks as well as adequate apparatus, material supplies and libraries. Modern toilet and other sanitary facilities are a feature of the new Protestant Consolidated Schools in the Province of Quebec.

Consolidation has been the means of increasing teacher efficiency by giving fewer grades to a teacher, and thus permitting her to give more individual attention to a class than was possible in the rural elementary schools. Whereas pupils in rural schools usually receive instruction in the first seven grades only, the consolidated schools provide facilities for instruction in grades one to nine or ten in intermediate schools and to grades one to eleven or twelve in high schools.

Not only has consolidation of schools resulted in a larger enrolment but it has increased the percentage in daily attendance of this increased enrolment. It has also overcome, to a large extent, the tendency of pupils to leave school at the end of grade seven.

The movement to utilize schools has been instrumental in encouraging and inspiring many pupils in the elementary and intermediate grades to complete high school. It has made possible a better system of classification and has aroused enthusiasm and ambition in school work. Not only has it been a boon to thousands of pupils who have remained in school after having completed the elementary grades, but many college and university graduates who are now successful in many of our professions and in business owe their success in life to the consolidated school. Such consolidated schools have opened the way for many to the School for Teachers, the Schools of Agriculture and Household Science at Macdonald College.

For several years, Mr. W. H. Brady, Inspector of Schools, has discussed with this Department ways and means of improving the educational facilities for the Protestant School children of this Department met the Hemmingford School board in the Hemmingford Intermediate School and asked the commissioners whether they would agree to the annexation to their municipality of all or part of the school municipality of Havelock in the event that a majority of the electors of Havelock signify in a petition, addressed to this Department, their desire to join Hemmingford and send their children to the Hemmingford Consolidated School. The commissioners of Hemmingford unanimously agreed to accept the petition if and when it has been signed by a majority of the electors of Havelock. It was the opinion of Mr. Brady that as a result of geographical conditions in the municipality of Havelock, part of that municipality should be annexed to Franklin and part to Hemmingford.

Recently Mr. Brady met the Havelock school board and several ratepayers and discussed with them the proposed annexation of their municipality to Hemmingford and Franklin. The Havelock commissioners stated that they wish to discuss the whole question with the school commissioners of Hemmingford before any further action is taken. The Inspector recommended that part of Havelock be annexed to Hemmingford and the remainder to Franklin. The decision for amalgamation, otherwise, however, rests, of course, with the Boards and the ratepayers. This Department can only give information and advice.

If these annexations take place in accordance with the law, however, I may say now that the Department will accord a substantial grant for the purpose of extending the Hemmingford Consolidated School. The extension would consist of a combination gymnasium-playroom-assembly hall, three classrooms, a science laboratory and a domestic science room. The school would then be raised to high school status and would provide instruction in Grades I to XI inclusive. All pupils in the consolidated area would be required to attend facilities without payment of outside fees.

Yours truly,
W. P. PERCIVAL,
Director of Protestant Education

Obituary

THE LATE GEO. WALTER RUTHERFORD

The passing of George Walter Rutherford unexpectedly on Monday, Oct. 7th, takes from the Main Street business section of Woburn, Mass., an active representative and a very keen student of human nature. Mr. Rutherford had many friends and in his long service with the public he acquired a sympathetic understanding of the personal and family life of many in the city. He was a very quiet man, pleasant in his greeting and a philosopher of the old fashioned creed which preached helpfulness to the fellow man rather than success in sharp competitive practices.

Mr. Rutherford has been with the W. T. Burnes company for over 25 years and he has been on the Main Street during transition from the individual enterprise to mass merchandizing. He learned merchandizing probably in the old fashioned way, that of pleasing the customer and instilling the thoughts of pleasant relations in the minds of the purchaser.

Mr. Rutherford was born in Ormstown on Feb. 24th, 1877, the third son of the late Thomas and Maria Kee Rutherford. He came to Woburn in his early youth. He made his home in the farming section and was a sort of agriculturist himself. He grew up with the West side farmers and was one of the neighborhood. He knew agriculture and horticulture and could talk the language of the rugged market gardeners that developed the West Side. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and for the past 40 years served as secretary to No Surrender Lodge, Loyal Order of Orangemen.

Mr. Rutherford is survived by his wife and two daughters, Miss Bertha and Miss Mildred of this city, one brother Thomas Rutherford of Ellensburg Depot, N.Y., and one sister, Mrs. Warren Potter of Ogdensburg, N.Y., three half sisters, Miss Frances Rutherford of Ormstown, Mrs. George Inns and Mrs. Geraham Leach of Montreal, two half brothers, Archie of Ormstown and Oliver of Woburn, Mass.

The funeral service was held in the M.E. Church, Woburn, on Thursday, October 10th. Interment in Woodbrook Cemetery.

modern farm... for the price of a wilderness? AT the turn of the century many of today's finest farm properties were wilderness. Woodland, swamp, undergrowth and countless tons of plough-shattering rock barred the way to successful cultivation. Fifty years of toil and planning... years of ceaseless care and constant re-investment of earnings in property improvement have turned that wilderness to man's service... created the prosperous farms of 1946. HAVE THOSE PROPERTIES THE SAME VALUE TODAY AS IN 1896? The answer is as self-evident as the answer to another question we shall ask: ARE THE GAS AND ELECTRIC PROPERTIES OF MONTREAL LIGHT HEAT AND POWER CONSOLIDATED WORTH NO MORE NOW THAN THEY WERE FIFTY YEARS AGO? To each question, even elementary reasoning says: "Ridiculous! Today these properties are worth many times their original price". Not even elementary reasoning seems to have entered into the thinking of the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission in making its ridiculously low offer for M.L.H. & P. Cons. properties. ONLY A FAIR DEAL CAN WARD OFF A SEVERE BLOW TO THE GOOD BUSINESS REPUTATION OF THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC. THERE IS NO REASON WHY the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission cannot acquire the shares of Montreal Light Heat and Power Consolidated on a basis similar to that adopted by the British Labour Government in taking over the Bank of England, paying the same dividend and issuing bonds or stock to provide a fair purchase price to the shareholders. Covey Hill

In examining the photographs, taken by Mr. Athol Edwards of Boston, of farm homes and other buildings in this vicinity, one is apt to be struck by three thoughts, that the photographs have an artistic sense to choose just the angle by which to obtain the happiest results, that the importance of trees in the beautification of surroundings can hardly be overestimated, and that familiarity does "breed contempt" because one is surprised in looking over these pictures, to discover for the first time how many interesting views may be seen right here on the Hill. The collection includes pictures of the Union Church, Mr. L. A. Waddell's store, the Temperance Hall, and Robson United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Perry, of Winnipeg, reached here on Monday of the past week and have been visiting relatives, with trips to Montreal and St. Johns, Que. The text word for the month was "Harvest" and the roll call was responded to with a verse containing that word. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Robt. J. McKell, her theme being "Thanksgiving". Mrs. McKell took as her text, Philippians, 4th chapter and 6th verse. We are called to pause and take stock of our blessings and give thanks for them. Mrs. John Greig, Temperance and Christian Citizenship Secretary, read an interesting article on this subject. An encouraging Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Robt. Templeton. Mrs. Bruce Chisholm, who attended a recent Convention of the Religious Education Council of the United Church, Quebec, at the United Church, Dundee, spoke briefly in this connection, mentioning several of the speakers and other items of importance. Current Events—Mrs. R. Nees read from the Missionary Monthly, an interesting report of the Archives Committee by Mrs. J. H. Turnbull entitled "Of Days Gone By". This report brings to us a breath of the past. The small beginnings in the life of the Society and many of the ideas and purposes expressed then by the pioneer women are inherent and alive in organization and policy today. The 1946-47 study programme will direct the attention of W.M.S. Auxiliaries to India. Mrs. Robt. Templeton gave the introduction and first chapter of the New Study Book "India at the Threshold". India is at a great moment in her history—On the Threshold of a New Day. India is not far away—just 43 flying hours. It is part of the "one world" in which we all live. As world citizens we should know about India. The author of this Study Book, Dr. L. Winifred Bryce, has lived in India for thirty-two years. At present she and her husband are teaching in Indore Christians College in Central India.

The meeting closed with a prayer by the president.

Letter to The Editor...

journey because we are too shiftless to work-out a plan so that they may have the ordinary everyday opportunity of going to a high school.

Recently I listened to a principal of one of Canada's leading universities state, "If I had the task of revising the educational system in this province, there is no place, and I repeat, no place, would I place greater stress or importance than upon the training if the child in the elementary grades". Yet Sir, throughout this province we have districts which still support a system which was designed to give the child nothing more than the barest training in his three R's. I regret to admit that up till now Havelock has been in this group.

There may be some who claim that the fundamentals are taught as well in the elementary school as are taught in the larger unit. On this point it is interesting to note the comment which Inspector W. H. Brady made in his 1945-46 report to the Superintendent of Education

"As I have previously found by the use of standardized tests, the new tests prepared by Inspectors Barlett and Dickson in Reading showed that this subject is weaker in rural than in the urban schools. The arithmetic achievement tests compare more favourably."

I am not one of those who believe that the elementary school, such as the one now in operation at Covey Hill, can possibly offer a greater opportunity to the child than the high school of the type found at Huntingdon, Ormstown, Howick or Hemmingford. This may be a debatable subject, but I certainly have no desire to defend the justification of the elementary school.

We must admit that the growth, strength and endurance of our democratic form of government is dependent upon the development of the individual. The development of the individual depends upon, first, the home and second, the school. Home-training is the responsibility of our parents. On the other hand, school-training is the responsibility of the community. It is very easy to prove Mr. Editor that it is absolutely impossible, unreasonable, and absurd to ask any one teacher to teach all the subjects in all the grades of an elementary school and expect that teacher to devote the necessary time and thought to each individual child. By supporting and retaining the elementary school in a community the taxpayers are denying their children the training and development which duty and rightfully belongs to them. It follows that we must not fail in the effort to eliminate this elementary school system in this township.

Because of our democratic way in dealing with the community's education we are given the responsibility of working out and choosing our own standard. This is a sacred trust, Sir, which we cannot neglect or deal with lightly. In the case of our Roman Catholic neighbours the taxpayers are given leadership by their parish curé—I submit that duly and rightfully belongs to them. Catholic friends and that at the meeting on Thursday evening we may expect to see present all Protestant clergy, and if possible have them give what ever assistance they can to the Protestant taxpayers in their attempt to solve this problem. I am not suggesting that they should attend the meeting and tell the taxpayers what to do, but I do think that these religious leaders of our Protestant denominations should be present as an indication of their good faith and desire to help the community.

Another point of interest, Mr. Editor, is an examination of last year's report by the Superintendent of Education. In it you will note that the trend now is for the pupil to stay in school from one to three years longer than they previously did. You will find that in 1944-45 the greatest report in Grade VIII and XI (the high school grades excluding the Island of Montreal) the average enrolment was 3,794 which is an indication of the large number of pupils continuing their High School education. Although the enrolment increase was in Gr. 8 and 9, due to the cancellation of fees for resident pupils in these grades, the number of pupils in Gr. X and XI also increased substantially. On the other hand, there was a decrease of 1,483 in the number of pupils in the elementary school grades of the province.

In itself this report is a convincing argument why we should shake off the idea of maintaining the separate elementary school in this municipality. It is ridiculous to think that there is a possibility of us bulking a new school at Havelock Corners. If there are any who hold to this idea I am inclined to believe that they are of that group described by Mr. Brisbin in his first letter to the Gleaner as "those who carry trivial grievances, prejudices or jealousies (and) only hinder the Board adopting a more helpful and co-operative attitude."

In that same letter, Mr. Brisbin gave you the assurance, Mr. Editor, that "The Board has been and is considering every sound suggestion from the taxpayers of the Township and the Department of Education that would help give the children more favourable opportunities". I submit to you Mr. Editor whatever may have been said about our school commissioners, this is a very logical and wise course for the Board to follow.

Therefore Mr. Editor, in this letter I have outlined a few of my ideas on this matter. May I appeal to my neighbours to get out and vote on Monday next? I have complete confidence that they will cast their ballots in the only logical and reasonable way which lies ahead of them. They will vote Mr. Editor, in favour of union with a larger school unit.

In Dr. W. P. Percival's book, "Life in School" the following comment is made about the men who serve the community as school commissioners, "In their capacity as administrators of the local schools, School Board officials bear a direct relationship to every child attending school. By their decisions, they possess the possibility of stimulating the lives of children or of leaving them intellectually under-nourished and embittered. In addition, grave responsibilities for the physical, moral and social welfare of the young lies upon their shoulders, for they determine in greater or lesser degree, many sundry conditions under which pupils live during their hours in school. Their important decisions react upon pupils, parents and the community in general."

The responsibility of the school commissioner is not light. The decisions which he must make from time to time are of the utmost importance. Those of us who are not members of the Board must have patience with these gentlemen.

Sincerely yours,

LYMAN A. ROBERTS.

Athelstan

Mrs. William Dawson, Mrs. George Boyce, Betty Boyce, Forrest Dawson, and Russel Forgette represented the Sunshine men and at all times display an understanding attitude, a co-operative attitude, a constructive attitude to the decisions arrived at by our elected representatives. And it is in the light of this attitude, Mr. Editor, that I sincerely and honestly make this personal appeal to Mr. Brisbin, Chairman of the Havelock Board, and to the commissioners of that same Board. "We must cast aside all considerations of local pride, sectional and selfish personal interest. The time has come when we must think, and vote, and work for the future benefit of our Community."

Sincerely yours,

LYMAN A. ROBERTS.

Elmhurst Milk for Huntingdon!

"QUALITY GUARDED FROM THE FARM TO YOUR DOOR"

Commencing Friday, October 25th, the business carried on under the name of Kensington Dairies will be operated by Elmhurst Dairy Limited, Montreal, an old established firm in business since 1873.

Elmhurst Dairy Limited has an enviable reputation for supplying its customers with pasteurized milk of superior quality, as well as a complete line of other dairy products. It has invested many thousands of dollars to insure the maintenance of its milk standards, to "quality guard" the milk from the farm right through to delivery at your doorstep in the spic-and-span Elmhurst delivery service.

High Grade Milk Only From Inspected Farms

The farms, the herds and the producing equipment supplying milk to Elmhurst Dairy are rigidly inspected by Montreal City Health officers. The milk is further inspected upon its arrival at the Dairy. Selection of high grade milk is the first step in the quality-guarded process. In the modern Elmhurst Dairy, this milk is pasteurized by the most scientific methods. All operations in the plant are constantly under the watchful scrutiny of laboratory experts to assure the high quality and complete cleanliness of your family's milk supply.

Elmhurst Milk Gives Full Value

—value in health insurance and in peace of mind. Milk is nature's most nearly perfect food: it is still the most truly economical item on the household budget.

BANK SHORTENS FARMERS' HOURS

Low-Cost Loans Make Farming Easier

New labour-saving devices, new farm machinery and new appliances, designed to shorten working hours and lighten farm chores, are now appearing on the Canadian market. With them are coming such modern comforts and conveniences as inside plumbing, hot running water, washing machines and other devices to lighten the housewife burden.

Many of these improvements have already found their way to Canadian farms and homes. The Bank of Montreal has played an important part through its farm improvement loans in making this post-war equipment immediately available. If the problem of financing is preventing you from getting your share, a B of M loan at low interest rates may be the answer.

Kenneth Pope, manager of the Bank of Montreal, will be glad to review your plans with you. He will show you in a practical way what is meant when he says, "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour." (Adv.)
