HUNS CONCEDE BRITISH VICTORY; SENATE FIGHT MAY BE REOPENED

CANADIANS ACTIVE IN SHARP BRITISH VICTORY ON YPRES-COMINES CANAL

International Trench Seized in Recent German Drive All Recaptured, and Salient Driven Into German Lines — Many Prisoners Taken — Huns Slaughtered in Counter-Attack.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur Street, London, March 3.—We have been having lively times, especially along the northern part of the line held by the Canadians. From news which reaches me, we took a large share in the surprise attack which gained Comines Bluff near the canal, and what remained of the "international trench." We also managed to drive a wedge and made a salient of a pestilential German work which the Huns used with considerable advantage for throwing bombs from minewerfers and trench mortars into several sections of our trenches.

On Wednesday night the dark, rainy weather considerably moderated and with dawn came a rather heavy mist, just right for a surprise party.

The international trench really had not bothered us much, for our howitzers had almost obliterated it, and during the day our continuous machine-gun fire kept the Huns inside their burrows.

We might never have attempted to re-take the dilapidated work but we thought the Germans were using it to drive mine galleries under our main trench parapets.

Bombers who went in first completely surprised the sentries who had taken special cover because of the violence of the bombardment. Right on the bombers' heels were specially chosen engineers who dived down the enemy saps and caught and killed all one working party, and cut the wires of mines which had already been laid. Attacking parties which were sent our further south, cut off the German patrol and managed to gain a new communication trench, which they blocked.

VON MACKENSON HELPS TO DIRECT VERDUN ATTACK

Special Star Cable by United Press.

LONDON, March 3.—Storms of artillery fire along the whole Verdun front and vicious infantry actions around Fort Douaumont have marked the renewal of the German offensive.

According to one unconfirmed report from Stockholm today, Field-Marshal von Mackensen, hero of the German Galician and Balkan campaigns; has joined the Crown Prince and is directing the Verdun operations.

The Teutons are using shells lavishly in a fierce cannonade. The French positions on Pepper Heights and westward across the Meuse are under terrific bombardment. Infantry fighting has begun southeast of Verdun, indicating a renewal of the attempt to ring the fortress from the south.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS.

At the same time the sudden thrust by the British on the Ypres front has attracted the attention of the military critics. After artillery preparation, British troops recaptured the 800 yards of "international trenches" along the Ypres-Comines canal, lost to the Teutons February 14, and took another small position.

The latest official despatch from Berlin reported heavy bombardment of the German positions around Ypres by the British. It is thought possible the British attack on this sector marks the beginning of a counter-offensive.

Berlin advices today admitted that the soggy Woëvre plain east and southeast of Verdun has proved a great hindrance in the movement of heavy guns, thus explaining the lull in the battle.

"But our troops are going forward again," said a delayed Berlin despatch. Practically all the Berlin correspondents whose despatches have reached London pay tribute to the work of the French gunners, though they claim superiority for their own artillery.

KRUPP FIRST TAKER OF HUN WAR LOAN.

BERLIN, via Sayville, March 3.—The Overseas News Agency announced that the first subscriptions to the fourth German war loan were made by the firm of Friedrich Krupp, which subscribed 40,000,000 marks; the Central Agricultural Loan Bank, 30,000,000 marks, and the Nassauische Savings Bank, 20,000,000 marks.

MARKET REACTS PROMPTLY TO SENATE ACTION

(Copyright, 1916, by the New York Evening Post Company.)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Apparently, the strength shown on the Stock Exchange in the early trading was in response to the news of the tabling in the Senate of the resolution warning Americans off ships threatened by Germany.

In so far as this recovery was based on belief that the Administraton's hand had been upheld in its control of foreign policy the later news, with its particulars of Parliamentary manoeuvres designed to rob the vote of any significance, checked the impulse towards a stronger market, and left the financial community's mind in some uncertainty and perhaps a good deal of disgust.

Whether because of belief that this could not be the end of the controversy between the capitol and the White House, or because of other considerations, the market remained reasonably firm, with some rather sharp individual advances in the last few minutes of trading.

Quotations at the opening were slightly higher than at yesterday's close, the advance being generally attributed to an over-extended short interest. After a few minutes of activity and firmness, however, dulness set in which continued until relieved, except for short-lived spurts in a few specialties.

EVELYN WILLING TO LOSE HER HARRY

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 3.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw failed to file an answer to Harry K. Thaw's petition for divorce today. The time limit of 3 o'clock this afternoon passed without any papers being filed in behalf of the actress.

The Special Master, John W. Thomas will now make his recommendation to the court that Thaw be granted the divorce.

BLOCKADE TROUBLES OF AMERICAN SHIPPERS WILL BE MINIMIZED

Special Star Cable by Wilbur S. Forrest, of the United Pres.

LONDON, March 3.—The British Government has adopted a new plan to eliminate many of the inconveniences now suffered by American shippers because of the blockade, the United Press was informed this afternoon by Lord Robert Cecil, new Minister of Blockade.

At the suggestion of the United States Consul-General, Mr. Skinner, Great Britain in the future will notify American shippers, before their goods leave American ports, whether they will be permitted to pass the British blockade.

Adoption of this plan is one of the first important results of the recent elevation of Lord Robert Cecil to a position in the British Cabinet.

The operation of the new plans, the Minister said, will be left to the British authorities in America, who will pass on the eligibility of shipments.

"There is no absolute guarantee of immunity under this plan," he said. The Government retains the right to seize goods if destined to the enemy, but we will give shippers information on which, from the business standpoint, they can rely."

Lord Robert said the Government was considering drawing up a new contraband list. Great Britain'ss answer to the American note on the blockade, he added, probably would go forward within a few days.

HINT SENATE FIGHT MAY BE RENEWED IF BREAK LOOMS

Although Wilson Supporters Regard Tabling of Gore Resolution as Complete Victory, Other Senators Call it a "No-Decision" Vote

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Whether the Senate, by tabling the Gore resolution, announced itself as against war, or whether in ratifying its support of the President it committed itself to anything in the executive program, up to war, was a question which Senators admitted this afternoon was in doubt.

"I don't know what the Senators think who voted down my resolution," said Senator Gore. "My object in introducing the substitute was to prevent a wrong construction being placed on the tabling of my original resolution. The Administration—the newspapers—everybody — proposed to interpret tabling the original resolution as a declaration that Congress should not interfere in diplomatic negotiations which lead to war. This interpretation would have been incorrect.

WAS MISCONSTRUED.

"My original resolution was offered to preserve peace. I thought its passage would do so. As the wrong construction was to be given generally to its tabling—a certain fate—I offered the substitute.

"In this I proposed that Congress should declare itself, clearly and without equivocation, on the proposition whether the United States should go to war with Germany if a submarine kills American citizens travelling on armed ships."

That today's vote was not final action by the Senate was strongly intimated by many Senators. It seemed certain that in case of a threatened break with Germany, Senators will again fight for Congressional action.

Widest variances of opinion regarding the Senate's vote existed among individual senators. Wilson leaders insisted that it was a sweeping administration victory. Others declare it was a "no decision" vote.

CALLED DECISIVE.

Explanating the Administration view, Senators James and Hughes asserted that the vote decisively recorded the Senate against either a warning resolution or Congressional interference with the President's diplomatic negotiations. Because the Gore resolution, even as amended by the substitute contained.

The original preamble opposing Americans travelling on armed ships, Senator James insisted that the tabling of the resolution settled that question, although the amendment injected an entirely new issue.

Other Senators denied this view, declaring the "whereas preambles deploring travel of Americans on armed vessels was not the real subject of the document finally killed.

CONTEND SENATE GAGGED.

Senator Jones contended that the Senate had been "gagged" and a vote prevented on the merits of the resolution.

"It will come up again," he declared.

"If the President is wrong," Senator Clarke asserted, "he ought to be stopped. We're not going around with a chip on our shoulder, nor are we going to war because of an academic question that even college professors are not agreed upon."

Gallinger attacked the "gag rule."

"We have reached no conclusion today," he said.

"I should have voted for the right of an American to travel on an armed ship," said Senator Borah, "but I would not vote for the gag rule."

White Star Ships to take on Guns at Gibraltar Port

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The White Star liner Canopic, which sailed today for Italian ports with three Americans in her first cabin, will take on armament when she arrives at Gibraltar, it was announced by the White Star line today. The armament will be removed when the ship again arrives at Gibraltar on her return trip, it was stated.

The notification that the Canopic would thus be armed was issued by the White Star line today from the British Admiralty, it was announced, and the order also includes the Cretic, plying between Boston and Mediterranean ports, and which was due at Gibraltar yesterday. The Cretic left Boston February 21.

The Canopic carried 102 passengers in all and 14,000 tons of miscellaneous cargo. Asked what action he would take if he met a submarine after the guns were mounted, Captain James, comander of the ship, replied that he would be governed "entirely by circumstances."

CALIFORNIA HELD.

The Cunard line officers here were notified today by a cablegram from the home office in Liverpool to stop the loading of the California and to cancel the passage of al persons who have booked on her.

The California was due to sail for Liverpool tomorrow evening. Forty cabin passengers and seventy-five third class passengers had made reservations. The cablegrams gave no reason for the order, but the understanding her is that the British Government intends to take over the California as a naval auxiliary.

French 'Planes, Shipped to Smyrna, Bomb Turk Works

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A news agency despatch fro Paris this afternoon says the following official communique was issued here today:

"A squadron of French aeroplanes at Saionika were taken on board transports and afterward bombarded the cantonments and defensive works of the Turks at Bournuba and Borderio, in the vicinity of Smyrna."

DYMAN HELD IN $100,000 BAIL

NEW YORK, March 3. — John Grant Lyman, whose alleged stock swindles are said to have netted him several hundreds of thousands of dollars, was held in $100,000 bail today by United States Judge Dayton.

Judge Dayton stated that in view of Lyman's previous "elusive tendencies," he thought the sum quite reasonable.

The specific charge against Lyman is that he swindled investors all over the country through the sale of imaginary oil lands on a partial payment system. He operated here under he name of John H. Putnam and the Assistant United States District Attorney, Mr. Stanton, told the court that Lyman is believed to have obtained $200,000 out of this particular phase of his activities.

GERMANS ADMIT THEY HAVE SUFFERED LOSS ON YPRES POSITIONS

British Victory Conceded in Official Statement from Berlin — Drive for Verdun is Begun Again—Battle Raging at Douaumont Village —Huns Severely Repulsed at Vaux.

Special Star Cable by Carles P. Stewart, of the United Press.

LONDON, March 3.—Renewing their offensive with heavy blows, the Germans are again driving toward Verdun, Berlin reports. German fliers have bombarded the city, and German infantry is attempting to cut off the French holding Pepper Heights to the north.

The French War Office admitted that the Teutons have reached Douaumont village, north-east of Douaumont Fort, after suffering "cruel losses," but declared the struggle for possession of the village is continuing.

Paris also claimed the repulse of attacks east of the village of Vaux, outside of Fort DeVaux, southeast of Fort Douaumont.

The Germans are bombarding French positions east and south-east of Verdun with the greatest intensity. The French are pouring steady sheets of fire across the Woevre plain, and German infantry has been unable to advance.

German guns suddenly became very active last night on the front west of the Meuse, Paris also reported. Near Malancourt and Haucourt, nine miles northwest of Verdun, the bombardment was particularly violent.

The German War Office admitted the loss of positions to the British around Ypres, but gave no indication as to the extent of the British operations.

"Close fighting developed south of the La Bassee canal in the region of Ypres, and the English now hold parts of a German bastion," reads the Berlin statement.

Two Zeppelins were wrecked in Belgium on February 21, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Amsterdam today.

"One of the Zeppelins, returning from the front, evidently was hit by enemy artillery," said the despatch. "It fell at Exhezce, damaging a house and injuring eighteen children.

"Another fell as Maisnault. The debris was loaded on a train bound for Cologne."

OFFICIAL FRENCH STATEMENT.

The text of the statement issued by the French War Office this afternoon reads as follows:

"In the region to the north of Verdun the bombardment and the attacks of the enemy were continued all last evening with redoubled violence. In the sector of the village of Douaumont, after several fruitless efforts which were repulsed with cruel losses on their part, the Germans were successful in penetrating to the village of Douaumont, where the fighting is continuing with ferocity.

"A little further to the east the village of Vaux was attacked at about the same hour. Assaults coming from the north and the northeast were broken by our curtain of fire and by the activity of our machine guns. The enemy was compelled to retire, leaving among the barbed wire entanglements a large number of dead bodies.

"In the Woevre district yesterday evening and last night the bombardment continued with great intensity. Checked, however, by our curtains of fire, the enemy found it impossible to come out.

"To the west of the river Meuse, in the regions of Malancourt and of Haucourt, the artillery of the enemy has been active.

"In Lorraine, in the region to the south of the forest of Parroy, a feeble attack on the part of the enemy was dispersed by infantry fire and the use of hand-grenades."

GERMANS CLAIM VICTORY.

By Canadian Press.

BERLIN, March 3, via London, 3:40 p.m.—It is claimed that German troops cleared the village of Douaumont and pushed their lines to the west and to the south of the village and of the armed fort yesterday, according to the official announcement issued today by the German Army Headquarters Staff.

The statement adds that more than 1,000 prisoners were taken and also that a number of heavy guns were captured.

HEAVIEST FIGHTING OF WAR.

Special Star Cable by William Philip Simms, of the United Press.

PARIS, March 3.—Renewal of the severe fighting around Verdun reported in official despatches today convinced French military experts that the present German offensive is the "real thing."

German dead are now strewn about the Verdun woods and hills until the fields, from a distance, seem to be covered with a strange grey-green growth. Not alone because the Teutons have suffered enormous losses, but for other reasons Paris critics do not believe the Verdun attack a feint.

French leaders certainly are not unmindful of the possibility of a sudden German thrust in the Champagne or nearer Paris along the Aisne. The massing of artillery and infantry around Verdun, however, leads the critics to expect heavy onslaughts against the French citadel from the east or the south.

The soft ground east of Verdun does not favor the great development of artillery to blaze the way by a deluge of shells. Consequently infantry must storm the heights with heavy sacrifices.

For this reason the heaviest German blow may fall south of the sectors where fighting is now going on.

The situation on the Verdun sector was described by a competent authority today as satisfactory, though no secret was made of the fact that it is still serious. It is considered certain the Germans have not launched such a vast undertaking with the intention of giving up after only a partial check.

Eye-witnesses all agree that the fighting around Verdun is much the heaviest of the war, not excepting even the Yser, the Ypres and the Champagne struggles.

PARIS CONFIDENT AND CALM.

Many times more shells were used by the Germans in preparing the advance than were utilized by the French in the Champagne offensive. The flower of the German army is participating in the Verdun struggle, and it is estimated here the number of German killed exceeds forty thousand.

French commanders are ready to receive the renewed German attacks in a way the enemy will never forget, it was stated today. But, despite heavy losses, the enemy must strike now with the maximum strength, it is held, or German prestige and the German army morale will suffer.

The Allies ask nothing better than this, French leaders asserted today. If the Germans should take Verdun, the war would only be prolonged, they said, while if the Kaiser fails, as they feel he must, then the die will have been for ever cast and Germany must realize that she is definitely beaten.

In the presence of such an immense possibility, Paris waits confident and calm.

President Poincare has returned from a visit to grand headquarters at the Verdun front. He met Gen. Joffre and other French commanders, complimenting the French troops in the name of the nation.

"CARMEN SYLVA," THE ROYAL POET OF ROUMANIA, DEAD

Dowager Queen Elizabeth, Famous for Literary and Humanitarian Work

AMSTERDAM, March 3, via London.—The Dowager Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, known all over the world by her literary name of "Carmen Sylva," died at Bucharest at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday morning, according to a despatch from the Roumanian capital. The funeral will take place on Sunday.

All Roumania is in mourning. The capital has been decked in black flags and arrangements for all public functions for two weeks have been cancelled.

The Dowager Queen was under the treatment of three doctors, and about three weeks ago returned to Bucharest from Curtea de Arges, in Wallachia, where King Charles, her husband, is buried. A week ago she fell ill, and inflammation of the lungs quickly developed. Yesterday morning there seemed to be a slight improvement, but soon the Queen became unconscious and died within a few hours.

King Ferdinand and Queen Marie spent much time with the Dowager Queen. Yesterday all the Ministers called at the Palace.

AN ACCOMPLISHED WOMAN.

"Carmen Sylva," the Poet-Queen, was one of the most original-minded women who have ever graced a throne. She had extraordinary intellectual gifts, and was renowned for her broad sympathies and charitable nature.

She was the daughter of Prince Hermann of Neuweid and Princess Marie of Nassau, and was born at Neuweid, Germany, on December 29, 1843. She first met Prince Charles of Roumania, later King Charles, in Berlin in 1861, and was married to him on November 15, 1869. His only child, a daughter, died in 1874, and this cast a deep shadow upon her life. Roumania became a kingdom in 1881, and on May 22 of that year the Princess was crowned Queen. King Charles died on October 11, 1914; the present King is his nephew.

In the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78, she devoted herself to the care of the wounded, and founded the Order of Elizabeth to reward meritorious service in such work. Throughout her life she devoted herself to humanitarian and charitable works, and she became beloved by the common people of Roumania, whose picturesque national dress she delighted to wear.

FINE LITERARY WORK.

"Carmen Sylva" wrote with ease in German, Roumanian, French and English. She delighted in poetry, folk lore, legends and ballads, and did great work in collecting the popular literature of Roumania. She was distinguished as a pianist, organist and singer, and also displayed much ability in painting and illuminating.

She wrote many beautiful and strikingly original poems, and also put into literary form many of the quaint old legends of the Roumanian peasantry. She also translated many French, German and English poems and tales into Roumanian. Translations from her original works have appeared in all the principal languages of Europe and in Armenian.

HER PUBLISHED WORKS.

Among the Queen's published works are: "Thoughts of a Queen," 18[illegible] "Edleen Vaughan," 1892; "Shadow Life's Dial," 1895; "A Real Queen's Life," Book," 1901; "Sweet Hours," 1904; and other volumes containing poems, novelettes, legends, folk tales and dramas. The "Thoughts of a Queen," published in French as "Les Pensees d'une Reine," was awarded the Botta Prize by the French Academy.

"CARMEN SYLVA," THE POET-QUEEN.

The Dowager Queen Elizabeth of Roumania—known everywhere by her pen-name of "Carmen Sylva," and beloved in Roumania for her charitable work—who died at Bucharest yesterday in her seventy-third year.

Casals Will Play on Anniversary of First Concert Here

Pablo Casals, of whom Fritz Kreisler says: "He is the greatest living artist who draws a bow," is coming to Montreal Sunday evening, March 26, at His Majesty's Theatre for a recital, which will be the third given here by this wonderful 'cellist.

The event will take on a special interest by the fact that it will be the anniversary of Casals' first appearance on a local concert platform. His first concert was held on March 26, last, before an audience that crowded the Windsor Hall to capacity, even to inconvenience.

STANLEY GARDNER TO GIVE RECITAL

Stanley Gardner, one of the younger pianists and identified with the progressive movement in music, will give a recital in the Y. M. C. A. hall on the evening of Monday, April 10. Mr. Gardner is known as a brilliant executant and an interpreter of distinctive attainments. His program will contain modern music by Debussy, Ravel, and Cyril Scott, "The Bears' Dance," by Bartok, and numbers by Liszt and older composers.

REED MILLER IN SONG RECITAL AT THE WINDSOR HALL

St. Paul's Church Choir Contribute Choral Selections

The concert in the Windsor Hall last night for the entertainment of soldiers returned from the front and their friends was in some respects a unique event.

It was the first occasion here on which wounded soldiers have appeared in a body at any public function, and it also marks the beginning of what, it is hoped, will prove to be a series of similar entertainments provided by church choirs of the city. The entire cost was defrayed by the members of St. Paul's Church.

Mr. F. H. Blair, the organist and choir-master, who organized the event, had provided an attractive programme which, while it included a number of selections calculated to appeal particularly to the soldiers, was also notable for a remarkably catholic range of songs sung by one of the most accomplished tenors Montreal has heard for a decade, Mr. Reed Miller, of New York.

The attendance tested the capacity of the Windsor Hall to the utmost. In fact, at one period of the entertainment a number of chairs collapsed.

Enthusiasm was the keynote, and the audience manifested in no uncertain manner their keen appreciation of the efforts of both choir and soloists.

* * *

I have, on several previous occasions, paid tribute to the excellence of Mr. Blair's training and the thoroughly efficient manner in which his choir sings choral selections. It is a pleasure to again emphasise the exceptionally intelligent manner in which the choir interprets such works as "The Dance," (Elgar), and Eaton Faning's "Moonlight," in which the sentiment of the composition is lucidly expressed, and the choir's mastery of light and shade is unique. Their attack is excellent, no section is overbalanced, and in phrasing and enunciation they will stand comparison with many experienced choirs I have heard.

In humorous works, such as McFarren's "You Stole My Love," and Lee-Williams' "Song of the Pedlar," their technical ability is clearly demonstrated.

* * *

Of Mr. Reed's work it can be said that it is informed by authority, masterly technique, enthusiasm, and impeccable artistry. He is the fortunate possessor of that rare voice—a pure lyric tenor of rich quality, round, open tone, devoid of any suggestion of throatiness. He employs it with sound judgment, knows his limitations, and has a wide range of voice and song.

He is a real Oratorio singer,—he understands the requirements of Oratorio music, and he gives to Haendelian phrases that suavity and perfection of melodic rhythm which their perfect interpretation demands.

Thus, his singing of "Comfort Ye" and "Every Valley" were models of Oratorio work. The superb "Deposuit Potentes," from Bach's great "Magnificat," was sung with dignity and sonorous tone. Again, in Haendel's rippling "Come and Trip It," there was the keen appreciation of rhythmic value and their significance revealed.

Three lyrics were rendered with a restraint and a refinement of tone that enhanced their charm. An interesting song was Lemare's "The Bells of Rheims." Written since the shelling of the great Cathedral, it gives expression, in noble terms, to the spirit that animates all France today.

Mention must be made of the duet from "La Forza del Destino," in which Mr. F. H. Rowe joined Mr. Miller, and which was authoritatively sung, both artists winning a liberal measure of applause.

* * *

It is a far cry from Oratorio and lyrics to such works as the couplet from Tschaikowsky's popular opera, "Eugene Oniegin," but Mr. Reed got all the subtle humor out of the couplet, and all its lilting charm, too. His singing of the magnificent "Salvator Rosa" of Gomes was, in its way, a masterpiece of dramatic interpretation confined within the limits of the concert platform.

Two of Easton's inimitable settings, "Hiawatha's Death-Song" and "My Bark Canoe," based on original Indian melodies, were delightfully sung, and Mr. Reed concluded his recital by three negro melodies of the type made familiar by the Jubilee Singers of long ago.

Mr. Blair acted as accompanist with his invariable sympathy and appreciation of what accompaniment means. Miss Elsie Aird's work as accompanist for the choir was quite adequate.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky,
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead, short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

JOHN McRAE.

This extraordinarily beautiful and appealing poem, which appeared anonymously in London Punch recently, was written by Dr. John McRae, formerly of the Royal Victoria Hospital here, and now with No. 1 Canadian General Hospital in France.

HERE and THERE.

A warning was sounded to Clevelanders by Police Chief W. S. Rowe today that with the advent of spring, crimes of personal violence will increase. He warns everybody to take precautions, especially weak willed persons and neuropaths. Bertillon experts here say the blood undergoes a chemical change in the spring, creating a turmoil in the physical system which reacts upon the mind.

A good deal of pessimism obtains among the apple growers of Ontario. They see ahead, given a good season, an usually large crop, with a correspondingly restricted market, to the export trade being cut down to a minimum. Even if the apples are accepted for shipment the delay in conveying the fruit from shipping station to place of consumption constitutes a serious impediment.

The oldest Woolen Manufacturer in the Blackstone Valley has just died at the advanced age of 87 years. This Mr. J. R. Scott a native of Uxbridge, and his life throughout, from the time he became an apprentice as a weaver, till he became a woolen magnate was one of unexampled activity and success.

DICKENS NIGHT

A Dicken's night has been arranged for this evening by students of the Wesleyan Theological College. The program will contain impersonations of Dickens' characters by H. C. Butler, and musical numbers. The proceeds will be given to the Montreal branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. The entertainment will be given at the college building, corner of Milton and University streets.

ORCHESTRA WAS HEARD BY LARGE HAPPY AUDIENCE

An exceptionally large audience heard the orchestral concert given last night in the Royal Victoria College by the McGill University Conservatorium of Music.

In the Jupiter Symphony of Mozart, the students were heard to particular advantage, Dr. H. C. Perrin having his forces always well in hand and getting wonderful results. The Allegro was played with fine precision, and the Finale showed the fruits of careful study and preparation. The Adagion was not quite so good, the melodic outlines not being as clearly defined as might have been the case, but the Minuet was delightful.

The Fantasie by de Beriot for violin was played with very pure tone and good expression by Miss Leslie Taylor, while the Allegro from the Concerto in A minor for pianoforte and orchestra, by Schumann, was well worked out by Miss Marjorie Brown, a pianist of great talent.

Songs by Miss Muriel Travers, taken from the works of Landon Ronald, Hahn and Lawrence Kellie, were much enjoyed, the singer's voice suiting these numbers to perfection.

Miss Nora Norman played Coleridge-Taylor's Valse for piano very well, as a musicianly interpreter; and E. Katz showed remarkable talent in Nardini's Concerto for violin, which he played with orchestra.

CREATORE'S BAND COMING FOR WEEK

Creatore and his famous Italian band will be heard again in Montreal, for an entire week at the Arena this spring. Such is the news conveyed in an announcement from Mr. Veitch, to the effect that he has booked this band for a month's tour of Canada to last during May, and will present the musicians at the Arena during the week of May 8.

In many respects the Creatore Band is unique among band organizations, and at present no other band is available on the continent of America which can approach it in the range and interest of its concert work.

HUNS RESUME VERDUN ONSLAUGHT; CANADIANS SHARE IN NEW VICTORY; TWO MORE ZEPPELINS HAVE FALLEN

VIGOROUS ATTACKS ON DOUAUMONT ARE AGAIN PRESSED BY THE HUNS

Repulsed Everywhere With Enormous Losses Save North-East of Fort Douaumont, Where They Reach Douaumont Village — Ferocious Battle Raging There—Two Zeppelins Gone.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

LONDON, March 3.—Two Zeppelins were wrecked in Belgium on February 21, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Amsterdam today.

"One of the Zeppelins, returning from the front, evidently was hit by enemy artillery," said the despatch. "It fell at Exhezce, damaging a house and injuring eighteen children.

"Another fell as Maisnault. The debris was loaded on a train bound for Cologne."

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, March 3.—The Germans have resumed their violent attacks to the north of Verdun.

The only point where they attained any success, according to this afternoon's official statement by the War Office, was in the Douaumont region.

Here they succeeded in reaching Douaumont village (northeast of Fort Douaumont), where heavy fighting is continuing. Other attacks in this vicinity were repulsed with heavy losses to the Germans.

Bombardments and attacks on the part of German troops continued all yesterday evening in the region to the north of Verdun. This fighting was conducted with redoubled violence.

Near Douaumont several fruitless endeavors on the part of the Germans were repulsed with cruel losses for them. Nevertheless the Germans succeeded in reaching the village of Douaumont, where the fighting continued with ferocity.

The village of Vaux also was attacked by tthe Germans, but these advances were checked by the French fire, and the Germans were compelled to retire, leaving a great number of dead.

The bombardment continued with great intensity yesterday evening and last night in the Woevre district but French forces held the Germans in check by their curtain of fire. The artillery of the Germans has been active in the vicinity of Malancourt and near Haucourt.

OFFICIAL FRENCH STATEMENT.

The text of the statement issued by the French War Office this afternoon reads as follows:

"In the region to the north of Verdun the bombardment and the attacks of the enemy were continued all last evening with redoubled violence. In the sector of the village of Douaumont, after several fruitless efforts which were repulsed with cruel losses on their part, the Germans were successful in penetrating to the village of Douaumont, where the fighting is continuing with ferocity.

"A little further to the east the village of Vaux was attacked at about the same hour. Assaults coming from the north and the northeast were broken by our curtain of fire and by the activity of our machine guns. The enemy was compelled to retire, leaving among our barbed wire entanglements a large number of dead bodies.

"In the Woevre district yesterday evening and last night the bombardment continued with great intensity. Checked, however, by our curtains of fire, the enemy found it impossible to come out.

"To the west of the river Meuse, in the regions of Malancourt and of Haucourt, the artillery of the enemy has been active.

"In Lorraine, in the region to the south of the forest of Parroy, a feeble attack on the part of the enemy was dispersed by infantry fire and the use of hand-grenades."

GERMANS CLAIM VICTORY.

By Canadian Press.

BERLIN, March 3, via London, 3:40 p.m.—It is claimed that German troops cleared the village of Douaumont and pushed their lines to the west and to the south of the village and of the armed fort yesterday, according to the official announcement issued today by the German Army Headquarters Staff.

The statement adds that more than 1,000 prisoners were taken and also that a number of heavy guns were captured.

HEAVIEST FIGHTING OF WAR.

Special Star Cable by William Philip Simms, of the United Press.

PARIS, March 3.—Renewal of the severe fighting around Verdun reported in official despatches today convinced French military experts that the present German offensive is the "real thing."

German dead are now strewn about the Verdun woods and hills until the fields, from a distance, seem to be covered with a strange grey-green growth. Not alone because the Teutons have suffered enormous losses, but for other reasons Paris critics do not believe the Verdun attack a feint.

French leaders certainly are not unmindful of the possibility of a sudden German thrust in the Champagne or nearer Paris along the Aisne. The massing of artillery and infantry around Verdun, however, leads the critics to expect heavy onslaughts against the French citadel from the east or the south.

The soft ground east of Verdun does not favor the great development of artillery to blaze the way by a deluge of shells. Consequently infantry must storm the heights with heavy sacrifices.

For this reason the heaviest German blow may fall south of the sectors where fighting is now going on.

The situation on the Verdun sector was described by a competent authority today as satisfactory, though no secret was made of the fact that it is still serious. It is considered certain the Germans have not launched such a vast undertaking with the intention of giving up after only a partial check.

Eye-witnesses all agree that the fighting around Verdun is much the heaviest of the war, not excepting even the Yser, the Ypres and the Champagne struggles.

PARIS CONFIDENT AND CALM.

Many times more shells were used by the Germans in preparing the advance than were utilized by the French in the Champagne offensive. The flower of the German army is participating in the Verdun struggle, and it is estimated here the number of German killed exceeds forty thousand.

French commanders are ready to receive the renewed German attacks in a way the enemy will never forget, it was stated today. But, despite heavy losses, the Kaiser must strike now with his maximum strength. If it is held, or German prestige and the German army morale will suffer.

The Allies ask nothing better than this, French leaders asserted today. If the Germans should take Verdun, the war would only be prolonged, they said, while if the Kaiser fails, as they feel he must, then the die will have been for ever cast and Germany must realize that she is definitely beaten.

In the presence of such an immense possibility, Paris waits confident and calm.

President Poincare has returned from a visit to grand headquarters at the Verdun front. He met Gen. Joffre and other French commanders, complimenting the French troops in the name of the nation.

FOR AND AGAINST THE PRESIDENT

The blind Senator Gore (on the right), who, though a Democrat, led the Senate opposition to President Wilson, which was defeated today. On the left is Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican Senator from Massachusetts, who supported the President.

SENATE STANDS BY PRESIDENT, TABLING SHIPS RESOLUTION

By Vote of 68 to 14 Gives Notice to World that America is United in Foreign Policy — House Sure to Follow Suit

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — The Senate today formally gave notice to the world that it stands behind President Wilson. By a vote of 68 to 14 the Senate voted down Senator Gore's resolution to warn Americans to keep off armed ships. Amid dramatic scenes unparalleled since the United States declared war against Spain, the Senate tabled the resolution as desired by the President.

It was just ten minutes and forty seconds from the time the fight on the resolution began until Vice-President Marshall announced the vote.

When Senator Stone's name was called, he tried to explain the absence of Senator Saulbury.

"I object to any remarks," shouted Senator Borah. "If this Senate is to be gagged, the whole Senate will be gagged."

There was a moment of uproar and then Senator Stone shouted loudly, "I vote Aye!"

Senator Gore voted "Aye," so as to ask a reconsideration.

CLINCHED WHOLE QUESTION.

By the single record roll call the Senate swept aside not only the Gore resolution, but all amendments and all substitutes. It clinched decisively the whole question in favor of the Administration. All resolutions were laid on the table.

Senator Gore's resolution, a substitute by Senator McCumber, a Republican, and an attempt by Senator Gore to strengthen his original proposal, all were defeated at one time on a roll call on a motion by Senator James, one of the administration whips, to table them.

The fight opened at 11:25 o'clock when Senator Stone called up the Gore resolution.

SUBSTITUTE KILLED.

Senator McCumber opened the fight unexpectedly by offering a resolution as a substitute for the Gore resolution. It declared that in view of the doubts as to the rules of submarine warfare, it was the duty of every American citizen to abstain from the right to travel on an armed merchantman, until the President and other countries should agree on the submarine question.

It was laid on the table.

Senator James then called up the Gore resolution, and demanded the ayes and nays on tabling it.

Senator Gore countered with an amendment to his resolution and asked to discuss it. He was fencing for a chance to open a debate.

His amendment stated that the sinking of an armed merchantman by a German submarine and the death of an American should be deemed a cause of war with Germany.

Senator James called again for the ayes and nays, but Senator Gallinger demanded the resolution and its amendments to be read again. This was done.

Senator Clark, of Arkansas raised the point of order that the resolution as amended, could not be considered today.

"I call for the roll call," said Senator Ashurst. Then the roll call began at 11:40.

HOW SENATORS LINED UP.

Ashurst, Bankhead, Beckham, Brandegee, Broussard, Burleigh, Chilton, Clark (Wyoming), Clarke (Arkansas), Colt, Culberson, Curtis, Dillingham, Dupont, Fletcher, Gore, Harding, Hardwick, Hitchcock, Hollis, Hughes, Husting, James, Johnson (Maine), Johnson (South Dakota), Kern, Lane, Lee, Lewis, Lodge, McLean, Martin, Martine, Myers, Nelson, Newlands, Oliver, Overman, Owen, Page, Phelan, Pittman, Poindexter, Pomerene, Ransdell, Reed, Shafroth, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith (Ariz.), Smith (Georgia), Smith, Maryland), Smith (Michigan), Smith (South Carolina), Sterling, Stone, Swanson, Thomas, Thompson, Tillman, Underwood, Vardaman, Wadsworth, Walsh, Warren, Weeks, and Williams.

The nays — Borah, Chamberlain, Clapp, Cummins, Fall, Gallinger, Gronna, Jones, La Folette, McCumber, Norris, O'Gorman, Sherman and Works.

JONES' RESOLVE WITHDRAWN.

The Administration leaders were ruthless in giving the death-blow to the opposition to the President.

After the vote on the Gore resolution, Senator Stone tried to call up that of Senator Jones, declaring that before sending an ultimatum to any foreign Power, the President should consult the Senate.

But Senator Jones defeated this plan by withdrawing it and said he would introduce it again.

The vote for the President, including as it did those of Senators Stone and Gore, was considered the result of Senator Gore's amendment.

Senators considered that this would practically amount to notice upon Germany that war would be declared by the United States upon the killing of a single American by a submarine attacking a merchantman without warning.

Senator Gore's surprising eleventh-hour move in offering what was practically a new resolution and an ultimatum to the Central Powers caused several Senators to change their votes. Even Senator Vardaman, who favored Senator Gore's original warning resolution, voted to kill the Gore substitute.

The amendment, that the killing of an American citizen by a German submarine would be a cause of war, was, according to the blind Senator's explanation later, an attempt to make the Administration express itself on that issue, which he claims is the real one.

Senator James, veteran of many convention frays, led the Administration's fight on the floor. He roared down opposition in forcing the final vote with its dragnet carrying all resolutions and substitutes on the question to their official death.

VICE-PRESIDENT HELPS.

Senator Stone, Vardaman, Smoot and Clarke, of Arkansas, vainly tried to explain their votes. Senator James ruthlessly interposed objections, his points of order being sustained by the Vice-President. The latter played no small part in the drama. His rulings were uniformly toward the prevention of debate.

Senator Borah, Republican, protested vigorously against "gagging" the Senate. When he was not allowed to explain his reasons for voting he prevented similar explanations by Senator Stone.

Senator Stone, shaking his hand and glaring at Senator Borah, defied the latter to shut him off.

"The Senator from Idaho nor any other Senator can prevent me from speaking," said Senator Stone.

"I will, and I am," Senator Borah shouted wildly across the aisle. His objection being sustained by the Vice-President, Senator Stone surrendered and voted against Senator Gore's substitute.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION.

Senators Chamberlain and O'Gorman were the only Democrats to vote against the administration. The other twelve anti-administration votes were all Republican.

The text of the Gore resolution follows:

"Whereas, a number of leading Powers of the world are now engaged in a war of unexampled proportions; and,

"Whereas, the United States is happily at peace with all of the belligerent nations; and

"Whereas, it is equally the desire and the interest of the American people to remain at peace with all nations; and,

"Whereas, the President has recently afforded fresh and signal proofs of the superiority of diplomacy to butchery as a method of settling international disputes; and,

"Whereas, the right of American citizens to travel on unarmed belligerent vessels has recently received renewed guarantees of respect and inviolability; and,

"Whereas, the right of American citizens to travel on armed belligerent vessels rather than upon unarmed vessels is essential neither to their safety, nor to the independence, dignity or security of the United States; and,

"Whereas, Congress alone has been vested with the power to declare war, which involves the obligations to prevent war by all proper means consistent with the honor and vital interest of the nation. Therefore be it

"Resolved, by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, that it is the sense of the Congress, vested as it is with the sole power to declare war, that all persons owing allegiance to the United States should in behalf of their own safety and the vital interest of the United States, forebear to exercise the right to travel as passengers upon any armed vessel of any belligerent Power, whether such vessel be armed for offensive or defensive purposes, and it is the further sense of the Congress that no passport should be issued or renewed by the Secretary of State, or by anyone acting under him, to be used by any person owing allegiance to the United States, for purpose of travel upon any such armed vessel of a belligerent Power."

PRESIDENT SATISFIED.

It was said at the White House that the result in the Senate was satisfactory and met the wishes of President Wilson. It was added that attention would now be concentrated on the situation in the House.

The House will consider some sort of warning resolution tomorrow morning between 10 o'clock and noon. At the request of Chairman Pou, of the Rules Committee, it was agreed today to recess tonight until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in order to give the resolution a chance to come up under unanimous consent.

Mr. Pou, acting chairman of the House Rules Committee, saw the President and told him a victory for his position was sure in the House. Mr. Pou declared that he still thought the Foreign Affairs Committee would be able to reach some kind of agreement to get the question on the floor.

He said the Rules Committee did not plan to move until it was plain that the Foreign Affairs Committee would not act.

CANADIANS ACTIVE IN SHARP BRITISH VICTORY ON YPRES-COMINES CANAL

International Trench Seized in Recent German Drive All Recaptured, and Salient Driven Into German Lines — Many Prisoners Taken — Huns Slaughtered in Counter-Attack.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur Street, London, March 3.—We have been having lively times, especially along the northern part of the line held by the Canadians. From news which reaches me, we took a large share in the surprise attack which gained Comines Bluff near the canal, and what remained of the "international trench." We also managed to drive a wedge and made a salient of a pestilential German work which the Huns used with considerable advantage for throwing bombs from minewerfers and trench mortars into several sections of our trenches.

On Wednesday night the dark, rainy weather considerably moderated and with dawn came a rather heavy mist, just right for a surprise party.

The international trench really had not bothered us much, for our howitzers had almost obliterated it, and during the day our continuous machine-gun fire kept the Huns inside their burrows.

We might never have attempted to re-take the dilapidated work but we thought the Germans were using it to drive mine galleries under our main trench parapets.

Bombers who went in first completely surprised the sentries who had taken special cover because of the violence of the bombardment. Right on the bombers' heels were specially chosen engineers who dived down the enemy saps and caught and killed all one working party, and cut the wires of mines which had already been laid. Attacking parties which were sent our further south, cut off the German patrol and managed to gain a new communication trench, which they blocked.

Our artillery, on telephoned instructions, lifted the range to the German second line, and prevented reinforcements coming up.

The British regiments who were on the left gathered in many prisoners who fell into the ambush that they had prepared, and it was broad daylight by the time the last of these were gathered in.

Through the listening saps later we heard that the Germans were piqued at the loss of the works, which they had so much overestimated and they launched a counter-attack which was almost suicidal.

Further down on the Canadian line we have had some stiff encounters between patrols, which generally came off to our advantage.

The Canadians have been so well trained now in this work that it is almost a mathematical impossibility for them to be caught in a trap. Some of the officers have been lent to other divisions for instructional purposes, and the love of adventure is so keen among the young subs from the Dominions that there is great competition as to who will temporarily take their places.

ROLAND HILL.

BRITISH OFFICIAL REPORT

The British official report of this action is as follows:—

"We recaptured the trenches at the bluff of the Ypres-Comines Canal, which were lost February 14, and also captured a small salient in the German lines.

"A counter-attack launched by the enemy some hours later was repulsed. German mine galleries in the captured trenchs were destroyed. We have taken 180 prisoners, including four officers.

HOW CANADIANS TOOK A TRENCH.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From Our London Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur Street, London, March 3. A non-commissioned officer in the Eighth Gordon Highlanders, in a letter home, gives a graphic description of how the Canadians came to support the Gordons in re-taking a trench. He says:—

"I don't know if we should have managed it but for the Canadians. They were simply splendid, and with their cries of 'Good old Gordons!' and 'There's nae place like Scotland!' ringing above the awful din, we re-took the trench.

"I have seen a lot, but that Canadian rush is the topnotch. Those Canadians, with a roar like the waves crashing on a rocky shore, dashed forward. They leaped clean over our heads. Things got lively with bayonets, clubbed rifles and anything.

"I saw a stalwart Canadian seize a Hun, lift him over his head, and fling him into the middle of their barbed wire.

"The scrap was short and sharp, the Canadians beating back the Huns.

"When the Canadians returned they were singing 'Oh, sing to me the auld Scottish songs.' They were nearly all of Scottish parentage.

"It is the happiest time of their lives to go into action either as advance or supports to the Highland regiment."

"CARMEN SYLVA," THE ROYAL POET OF ROUMANIA, DEAD

Dowager Queen Elizabeth, Famous for Literary and Humanitarian Work

AMSTERDAM, March 3, via London.—The Dowager Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, known all over the world by her literary name of "Carmen Sylva," died at Bucharest at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday morning, according to a despatch from the Roumanian capital. The funeral will take place on Sunday.

All Roumania is in mourning. The capital has been decked in black flags and arrangements for all public functions for two weeks have been cancelled.

The Dowager Queen was under the treatment of three doctors, and about three weeks ago returned to Bucharest from Curtea de Arges, in Wallachia, where King Charles, her husband, is buried. A week ago she fell ill, and inflammation of the lungs quickly developed. Yesterday morning there seemed to be a slight improvement, but soon the Queen became unconscious and died within a few hours.

King Ferdinand and Queen Marie spent much time with the Dowager Queen. Yesterday all the Ministers called at the Palace.

AN ACCOMPLISHED WOMAN.

"Carmen Sylva," the Poet-Queen, was one of the most original-minded women who have ever graced a throne. She had extraordinary intellectual gifts, and was renowned for her broad sympathies and charitable nature.

She was the daughter of Prince Hermann of Neuweid and Princess Marie of Nassau, and was born at Neuweid, Germany, on December 29, 1843. She first met Prince Charles of Roumania, later King Charles, in Berlin in 1861, and was married to him on November 15, 1869. Her only daughter, died in 1874, and cast a deep shadow upon her life. Roumania became a kingdom in 1881, and on May 22 of that year Princess was crowned Queen. King Charles died on October 11, 1914; the present King is his nephew.

In the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78, she devoted herself to the care of the wounded, and founded the Order of Elizabeth to reward meritorious service in such work. Throughout her life she devoted herself to humanitarian and charitable works, and she became beloved by the common people of Roumania, whose picturesque national dress she delighted to wear.

FINE LITERARY WORK.

"Carmen Sylva" wrote with ease in German, Roumanian, French and English. She delighted in poetry, folk lore, legends and ballads, and did great work in collecting the popular literature of Roumania. She was distinguished as a pianiste, organist and singer, and also displayed much ability in painting and illuminating.

She wrote many beautiful and strikingly original poems, and also put into literary form many of the quaint old legends of the Roumanian peasantry. She also translated many French, German and English poems and tales into Roumanian. Translations from her original works have appeared in all the principal languages of Europe and in Armenian.

HER PUBLISHED WORKS.

Among the Queen's published works are: "Thoughts of a Queen," 1890; "Edleen Vaughan," 1892; "Shadows on Life's Dial," 1895; "A Real Queen's Fairy Book," 1901; "Sweet Hours," 1904; and other volumes containing poems, novelettes, legends, folk tales and dramas. The "Thoughts of a Queen," published in French as "Les Pensees d'une Reine," was awarded the Botta Prize by the French Academy.

Casals Will Play on Anniversary of First Concert Here

Pablo Casals, of whom Fritz Kreisler says: "He is the greatest living artist who draws a bow," is coming to Montreal Sunday evening, March 26, at His Majesty's Theatre, for a recital, which will be the third given here by this wonderful 'cellist.

The event will take on a special interest by the fact that it will be the anniversary of Casals' first appearance as a local concert platform. His first concert was held on March 26, last, before an audience that crowded the Windsor Hall to capacity, even to inconvenience.

STANLEY GARDNER TO GIVE RECITAL

Stanley Gardner, one of the younger pianists and identified with the progressive movement in music, will give a recital in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on the evening of Monday, April 10. Mr. Gardner is known as a brilliant executant and an interpreter of distinctive attainments. His program will contain modern music by Debussy, Ravel, and Cyril Scott, "The Bees' Dance," by Bartok, and numbers by Liszt and older composers.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky,
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead; short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

JOHN McRAE.

REED MILLER IN SONG RECITAL AT THE WINDSOR HALL

St. Paul's Church Choir Contribute Choral Selections

The concert in the Windsor Hall last night for the entertainment of soldiers returned from the front and their friends was in some respects a unique event.

It was the first occasion here on which wounded soldiers have appeared in a body at any public function, and it also marks the beginning of what, it is hoped, will prove to be a series of similar entertainments provided by church choirs of the city. The entire cost was defrayed by the members of St. Paul's Church.

Mr. F. H. Blair, the organist and choir-master, who organized the event, had provided an attractive programme which, while it included a number of selections calculated to appeal particularly to the soldiers, was also notable for a remarkably catholic range of songs sung by one of the most accomplished tenors Montreal has heard for a decade, Mr. Reed Miller, of New York.

The attendance tested the capacity of the Windsor Hall to the utmost. In fact at one period of the entertainment a number of chairs collapsed.

Enthusiasm was the keynote, and the audience manifested in no uncertain manner their keen appreciation of the efforts of both choir and soloists.

I have, on several previous occasions, paid tribute to the excellence of Mr. Blair's training and the thoroughly efficient manner in which his choir sings choral selections. It is a pleasure to again emphasise the exceptionally intelligent manner in which the choir interprets such works as "The Dance," (Elgar), and Eaton Faning's "Moonlight," in which the sentiment of the composition is lucidly expressed, and the choir's mastery of light and shade is unique. Their attack is excellent, no section is overbalanced, and in phrasing and enunciation they will stand comparison with many experienced choirs I have heard.

In humorous works, such as McFarren's "You Stole My Love," and Lee-Williams' "Song of the Pedlar," their technical ability is clearly demonstrated.

* * *

Of Mr. Reed's work it can be said that it is informed by authority, masterly technique, enthusiasm, and impeccable artistry. He is the fortunate possessor of that rare voice—a pure lyric tenor of rich quality, round, open tone, devoid of any suggestion of throatiness. He employs it with sound judgment, knows his limitations, and has a wide range of voice and song.

He is a real Oratorio singer,—he understands the requirements of Oratorio music, and he gives to Haendelian phrases that suavity and perfection of melodic rhythm which their perfect interpretation demands.

Thus, his singing of "Comfort Ye" and "Every Valley" were models of Oratorio work. The superb "Deposuit Potentes," from Bach's great "Magnificat," was sung with dignity and sonorous tone. Again, in Haendel's rippling "Come and Trip It," there was the keen appreciation of rhythmic values and their significance revealed.

Three lyrics were rendered with a restraint and a refinement of tone that enhanced their charm. An interesting song was Lemare's "The Bells of Rheims." Written since the shelling of the great Cathedral, it gives expression, in noble terms, to the spirit that animates all France today.

Mention must be made of the duet from "La Forza del Destino," in which Mr. F. H. Rowe joined Mr. Miller, and which was authoritatively sung, both artists winning a liberal measure of applause.

* * *

It is a far cry from Oratorio and lyrics to such works as the couplet from Tschaikowsky's popular opera, "Eugene Onegin," but Mr. Reed got all the subtle humor out of the couplet, and all its lilting charm, too. His singing of the magnificent "Salvator Rosa" of Gomez was, in its way, a masterpiece of dramatic interpretation confined within the limits of the concert platform.

Two of Burton's inimitable settings, "Hiawatha's Death-Song" and "My Bark Canoe," based on original Indian melodies, were delightfully sung, and Mr. Reed concluded his recital by three negro melodies of the type made familiar by the Jubilee Singers of long ago.

Mr. Blair acted as accompanist with his invariable sympathy and appreciation of what accompaniment means. Miss Elsie Aird's work as accompanist for the choir was quite adequate.

HERE and THERE.

A warning was sounded to Clevelanders by Police Chief W. S. Rowe today that with the advent of spring, crimes of personal violence will increase. He warns everybody to take precautions, especially weak willed persons and neuropaths. Bertillon experts here say the blood undergoes a chemical change in the spring, creating a turmoil in the physical system which reacts upon the mind.

A good deal of pessimism obtains among the apple growers of Ontario. They see ahead, given a good season, an usually large crop, with a correspondingly restricted market, to the export trade being cut down to a minimum. Even if the apples are accepted for shipment the delay in conveying the fruit from shipping station to place of consumption constitutes a serious impediment.

The oldest Woolen Manufacturer in the Blackstone Valley has just died at the advanced age of 87 years. This Mr. J. R. Scott a native of Uxbridge, and his life throughout, from the time he became an apprentice as a weaver, till he became a woolen magnate was one of unexampled activity and success.

James Cardew, a name to conjure with in New York on account of the beautiful homes and public buildings erected by his skill in masonry and construction work, has just died in New York, from a complication of diseases. He came from Ireland sixty-seven years ago.

Mr. George Nell, the Scotland tenor, gave a concert in Toronto on February 29, to a large audience of English, Scotch and Irish mixed. His programme, sustained by a varied troupe of artists, was mostly vocal, in which the love lyrics of Burns largely figured.

The customs collections at the port of Toronto for February have just been published. It exceeds the February of 1915, by $700,000. The past three months previous to February of this year have all been record breakers.

DICKENS NIGHT

A Dicken's night has been arranged for this evening by students of the Wesleyan Theological College. The program will contain impersonations of Dickens' characters by H. C. Butler, and musical numbers. The proceeds will be given to the Montreal branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. The entertainment will be given at the college building, corner of Milton and University streets.

ORCHESTRA WAS HEARD BY LARGE HAPPY AUDIENCE

An exceptionally large audience heard the orchestral concert given last night in the Royal Victoria College by the McGill University Conservatorium of Music.

In the Jupiter Symphony of Mozart, the students were heard to particular advantage, Dr. H. C. Perrin having his forces always well in hand and getting wonderful results. The Allegro was played with fine precision, and the Finale showed the fruits of careful study and preparation. The Adagion was not quite so good, the melodic outlines not being as clearly defined as might have been the case, but the Minuet was delightful.

The Fantasie by de Beriot for violin was played with very pure tone and good expression by Miss Leslie Taylor, while the Allegro from the Concerto in A minor for pianoforte and orchestra, by Schumann, was well worked out by Miss Marjorie Brown, a pianist of great talent.

Songs by Miss Muriel Travers, taken from the works of Landon Ronald, Hahn and Lawrence Keille, were much enjoyed, the singer's voice suiting these numbers to perfection.

Miss Nora Norman played Coleridge-Taylor's Valse for piano very well, as a musicianly interpreter; and E. Katz showed remarkable talent in Nardini's Concerto for violin, which he played with orchestra.

CREATORE'S BAND COMING FOR WEEK

Creatore and his famous Italian band will be heard again in Montreal, for an entire week at the Arena this spring. Such is the news conveyed in an announcement from Mr. Veitch, to the effect that he has booked this band for a month's tour of Canada to last during May, and will present the musicians at the Arena during the week of May 8.

In many respects the Creatore Band is unique among band organizations, and at present no other band is available on the continent of America which can approach it in the range and interest of its concert work.

CLAIMS MONEY IS NOT WASTED IN THE KING'S BENCH COURT

Exception Taken to a Story in Yesterday's Star — Says Law is Administered the Same Here as in Other Provinces

Exception was made by Prosecuting-Attorney Walsh in the Court of King's Bench this morning to a story in yesterday's Star which told how one hundred of the one hundred and twenty people who were to appear before the Grand Jury, changed their option, and elected to be tried by a judge in the Court of Sessions rather than by a judge and jury.

It was pointed out that it cost the Government about $5,000 to summon the necessary witnesses, some coming from as far away as New York and Toronto, and it was claimed that the money was wasted, as the witnesses were not needed, by reason of the charges of option.

At the opening of the Court this morning, Mr. Walsh stated that even admitting that a certain amount of expense was involved in allowing a case to be deal with by the Grand Jury, and then allowing the accused to go before the Court of Sessions, the procedure saved the expense of having the case dealt with by judge and jury, perhaps for three or four days, at an expense of at least $160 a day.

He said nothing, however, about the money wasted in summoning witnesses for cases which never reach the Grand Jury, the accused changing their options just as soon as the court convenes; nor about the fact that equally as much money would be saved were the accused given one choice when being committed for trial, to choose either a judge in sessions or a judge and jury.

The incident arose when four against whom true bills had been found by the Grand Jury, made their option, and Mr. Walsh rose to state that "in the face of newspaper criticism," he would, as the law provides, give his consent to the change. He also drew the court's attention to the presence of Sheriff Lemieux, and stated that the latter would be ready to give the statistics which would show a saving not of $5,000, but of $20,000 or more, in allowing cases to be withdrawn from the Court of King's Bench. Sheriff Lemieux rose and bowed acquiescence to the statement.

Mr. Walsh stated that the same criminal code is in effect in all provinces of Canada, and that "it is applied in Quebec as in every other province."

He did not state, however, how it is that in Ontario there is no such wholesale changing from one court to another as was evidenced here yesterday.

Prosecuting Attorney Lafortune, while admitting that it was a pity that so many accused availed themselves of the option merely for the sake of causing delay, concurred with Mr. Walsh's views.

Mr. Justice Lavergne remarked that it had been the custom of the court to allow these options in every case, and added that "the court will continue to do so."

TOTAL STRENGTH OF 148TH PASSES THE 700 NUMBER

Recruiting Being Well Maintained in Popular Overseas Battalion

Recruiting for the 148th Overseas Battalion maintains about the usual average this week. Since the battalion started active recruiting on January 26, 400 men have been enlisted, averaging eighty men per week; and this average is being maintained steadily.

With the total strength of the battalion now over 700, it is felt that the remaining men will be fairly easily obtained—the men themselves doing a great deal of this recruiting; and when up to strength, the 148th will have a battalion composed of men of a calibre of which Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee may justly feel proud.

The second period of inoculation is being experienced by the battalion this week-end—the men being inoculated today and tomorrow. This prevents any marches, or drill being held; but the time is fully taken up with lectures. Each of the platoon commanders is detailed to lecture to his men on half a dozen subjects; thus the time just for drill, is well spent otherwise.

NEW RECRUITS.

Among the men who have been sworn in within the last few days are:

J. Jackson, of Valleyfield, who was two years with the Cumberland Volunteers.

A. Type, of Montreal, who was three years with the Royal Engineers. He has one brother with the 2nd Gloucester Regiment.

F. Harvey, Montreal, was twelve years with the 14th Hussars, four years of which he served in the South African campaign. He has four clasp on the Queen's and King's medals.

J. Dempore, St. Lambert, has two brothers, and four brothers-in-law at the front.

E. Dansereau, or Montreal, was five years with the United States Militia.

W. C. Turner, Montreal.
S. Earnshaw, Montreal.
A. Hislop, Montreal.
A. L. Descheres, Sutton.
A. H. Turner, Montreal.
W. H. Parr, Montreal.

OPEN DOOR FOR GOODS ADDRESSED TO COL. ALLISON

Evidence Given Before Public Accounts Committee Today

Special to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 3.— Importation through the port of Morrisburg, Ont., by Col. J. Wesley Allison and associates of large quantities of military supplies were probed again in the Public Accounts Committee today.

There was some interesting evidence, A. G. E. Drew, the Collector of Custom of Morrisburg, swearing that he had instructions from Ottawa to "open wide the gates" to anything from the States addressed to Col. Allison. He did not see all the goods, but he assumed they were for military purposes.

Mr. Drew, examined by F. B. Carvell, stated that there had been a few entries at Morrisburg of goods that came by express.

"It has been freely stated that very large supplies of military clothing, etc., came through Morrisburg," suggested Mr. Carvell.

"I know that large quantities or packages came over, but what they contained I do not know," said the witness.

"How did you come to let them in without duty?"

"I was instructed by the Department to let in free goods addressed to Col. Allison or Col. Morgan or other parties?"

"I exercised my judgment. There was Col. Allison, Col. Morgan, Capt. Sifton and Mr. Seaforth.

"Who was Seaforth?"

"He seemed to be the secretary for the whole outfit."

"Then the gates were wide open to Allison?"

"Yes, for anything of a military nature."

"Did you see if the goods were of a military nature?"—"No."

"Where did your instructions come from about letting in the goods?"

"From R. B. McDougald, of the Customs Department at Ottawa. He brought me a letter from his father, the commissioner. I read it and he took it back. My impression is that they wanted no record because there was some doubt about the right of the United States, as a neutral country, to export goods."

"When did this happen?"

"It was in September, 1914."

The goods, witness explained, came to Fort Waddington, N. Y., and he "imagined that they all went to Allison's Island, in the river, between Waddington and Morrisburg."

"How often did they come in?"

"Nearly every day. They came by scows, sometimes one, sometimes ten, sometimes forty packages."

"Under the agreement, could all the goods come in without examination?"

"Yes."

The witness said he understood the Collector at Waddington kicked, but he had no objection to the goods going to Allison's Island, which is on the American side.

"Was not all this done in the broad light of day?" asked W. H. Bennett.

"Yes, in the full glare, and they might as well have had a brass band as that man Morgan."

"Are the goods still coming in?"

"No, not for a long time."

"But the gate is still open?"

"Yes."

The secretary of the committee reported that Col. Allison and Miss Edwards had been summoned on February 25, but they could not be located. He understood they were out of the country.

Mr. Proulx suggested that the Sheriff of Dundas be asked to produce Mr. Allison.

"We have no authority over the Sheriff," observed Mr. Carvell. "But the Minister of Militia has stated that these honorary colonels were appointed so that he could have authority over them. It is up to him to produce Col. Allison."

No other witnesses were available today and the committee adjourned.

Sixteen cases were packed for shipment by the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. at the Southam Building, yesterday, one each for Lieut.-Col. Cantlie, the 24th Battalion, 22nd Battalion, 14th Battalion, General Mesnil, Mile. Pisson, and Ambulance St. Marthe, with one of tobacco to Capt. Kenneth Stewart, of the Army Corps troops; four to Mdme. Michaud and four to No. 1 Canadian Stationary Hospital.

FLAME-TRAPPED, POLICE HACK WAY FROM OPIUM DEN

Break Down Door and Grating When Chinese Set Fire During Raid

BARELY TIME TO LEAP FROM WINDOW

Denizen of Place Held on Charge of Setting Blaze

Special to The Montreal Star.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 3.— Trapped in a burning opium den in Shang Hai alley yesterday afternoon, two detectives of the city police department, Joe Ricci and Dan Sinclair, had to cut their way through the iron bars protecting a window and drop twenty feet to the pavement. Both suffered minor injuries.

Three Chinese are in hospital, one with his back broken, and the other suffering from suffocation.

Lewie, a denizen of the place, is held without bail at police headquarters charged with having set the fire.

Led by a detective inspector, Jackson, and a detective sergeant, Jewett, the police raided the premises, 16 Shang Hai alley. While Jackson and Jewett were endeavoring to enter by another door, Ricci and Sinclair got past two heavily barred spring doors and were attacking the inner door of the place. Just as this was about to yield the blaze broke out.

Trapped between the two heavy doors, the policemen apparently faced certain death. Sinclair, who is a man of tremendous strength, battered down the door with an axe, and the men stumbled into a smoke filled room, where seven Orientals were excitedly running about. Lewie, it is alleged, was pouring coal oil into the stove and the flames were shooting up to the ceiling.

The only means of escape was through the windows, but these were barred with iron gratings. Sinclair's axe cut through this obstacle and the officers dropped to the pavement. Sinclair sprained a knee and Ricci badly lacerated a wrist and sprained an ankle. The Chinese followed. Jackson and Jewett, after summoning the fire apparatus, rescued those who were overcome by smoke. One Chinese broke his back in jumping from the window. The property loss was not great.

C. B. GORDON HEAD OF PARK COMMISSION

An active programme on the part of the Metropolitan Park Commission is forecasted with the appointment of C. B. Gordon, president of the Dominion Textile Company, as chairman of the body.

The plans of the commission have not as yet been detailed, but it is understood that interesting results will follow a conference held by Mr. Gordon with Sir Lomer Gouin at Quebec this week.

Mr. Gordon succeeds the late Sir William Van Horne as chairman of the Metropolitan Park Commission.

TORONTO, March 3.— It is learned that the Government's Bill on the hydro development at Niagara Falls will provide for the ultimate expenditure of approximately $14,000,000, to be supplied as the work proceeds.

FOUR SOLDIER BROTHERS.

WITNESS SAYS HE SAW VARIN SHOOT M'CARTHY

Did Not See First Shot, and Thought it was Broken Glass—Bartender Tells Story of Fatal Quarrel when "Big Jeff" Suffered Wound Resulting in Death

"I heard, but did not see, the first shot fired; and I thought it was broken glass. I saw the accused fire the second shot at McCarthy, who was bleeding from the head."

Such was the chief evidence given by Arsene Dupuis, bartender of the Eastern Townships Hotel, before Judge Lafontaine this morning at enquete into the murder charge against Alphonse Varin, alias Joseph Racine, alias Joseph Raymond, who stands accused of the death of Edward J. McCarthy, alias "Big Jeff," alias "D. C. Ned," who was shot and fatally wounded in the hotel at the corner of Craig and St. Alexander streets on the night of November 9 last, and who died of his wounds in the General Hospital a few days later without revealing the name of his assailant.

Varin, who was arrested in Springfield, Mass., on Saturday, February 25, on a charge of vagrancy under the name of Joseph Raymond, and who, according to letters in the hands of Chief Charpentier from the Chief of Police at Springfield, admitted having shot McCarthy, appeared a different man to-when he appeared for formal arraignment on Tuesday last. This morning he wore a blue suit, a clean butterfly collar with a neat black tie. His eyes were sharp and alert and except for an occasional glance round the court, he gazed steadily at the several witnesses and showed no sign of nervousness.

THE EVIDENCE.

Dr. Wilfrid Derome, the morgue physician, told of the result of the autopsy performed by himself and Doctor MacTaggart on November 15, a week after McCarthy received his fatal wounds. He stated that death had been due to two bullet wounds from a thirty-eight calibre revolver. One wound, over the left eye, showed powder marks, the other on the left breast, and in the vicinity of the heart, had pierced the clothing, but no signs of powder could be found.

Arsene Dupuis, the bar-tender, told the court that he had seen Varin, the accused, often, but only knew McCarthy as "Jeff." He had seen slight quarrel between Varin and another man. He sold them four glasses of beer and a cigar. The first shot, he thought, was glass breaking, and at the second shot he swore that he saw Varin fire at McCarthy, who was bleeding from the head. After the second shot, he heard the voice of a coloured man, who was in the bar, say: "You had better drop, too, or you will be a dead man as well."

Witness then explained that after McCarthy had fallen to the floor, he removed him to the side-room of the hotel. Someone had telephoned for the ambulance and when the doctor arrived, witness was told that it looked like a case for the morgue and not for the hospital. Witness attended the inquest, and there recognized the body of McCarthy. He stated that there were only four or five people in the bar at the time of the shooting.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

Ernest Anderson, colored, declared that he was in the bar of the Eastern Townships Hotel on the night of November 9 taking a drink, between nine and ten o'clock. He did not know McCarthy. Varin had spoken to him some few minutes before the shooting took place and had asked him if he came from "down South." Witness stated that he told Varin he belonged to the West Indies. He heard two shots fired and so scared was he that he ran for the door, but others were there before him. At the door he turned and saw Varin with a revolver in his hand. A man was lying on the floor. He did not see the actual shooting as he had his back turned on the moment at the time.

Witness explained in answer to questions of the Court that he had lived here for eight years and expected to stay till he died. He was unmarried. The Court bound him over in his own personal bond of $400 to appear when called upon.

Henry McNamara, another who was in the bar on the night in question, remembered the shooting but could not say who did it. He saw the man lying on the floor and knew McCarthy by sight.

Paul Cardinal, an employe of the hotel, was in the office at the time of the shooting and had seen Varin in the bar during the evening.

The case was postponed until Thursday next when Varin will be committed to stand trial.

SEVERAL HURT IN TRAIN ACCIDENT NEAR KINGSTON

By Canadian Press.

KINGSTON, March 3.— The train on the Grand Trunk leaving out of Montreal, No. 13, was derailed near Kingston Mills, 12 miles from here about 2 o'clock this morning. Three coaches were thrown in to the ditch and eight passengers were injured, but only one seriously.

Mrs. Elizabeth Confrey of Montreal was on her way to Hamilton with her three children, one of the children suffered a fracture arm and Mrs. Confrey sustained serious cuts about the face and body. The other two children escaped unhurt.

Ellen Adams, of London, Ont., suffered a serious shaking up.

The Misses Josephine and Eva McCaffrey, sisters, 501 Cote street, Montreal, were badly shaken up. Miss Josephine McCaffrey was on her way to Battle Creek, Mich., to enter a sanitarium.

Samuel Frankel of Montreal, is also suffering from shock.

All the injured were brought here on a special train, and removed to the Hotel Dieu where they are doing well.

The following official statement was issued at Montreal this morning:

"At 3.25 this morning train No. 3, which left Montreal at 10.00 p.m. last night for the West was derailed about two miles west of Rideau resulting in the slight injury of two persons, a lady and a little girl. Cause of accident unknown. Passengers for the West were transferred to train made up at Kingston Junction, five miles west of Rideau."

TWO FIRES

Fire last night gutted the building at 360 St. Denis boulevard, next corner of Prince Albert and Somerville avenues, Westmount. The blaze will not interfere with delivery.

TALKS TO CHILDREN.

The third lecture under the auspices of the Natural History Society of Montreal will be given at 3 Crighton Brown in the lecture hall of the Young Men's Christian Association, Drummond street, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. "Birds' Nesting in Scotland" is the subject and bird lovers will have an opportunity of comparison with Canadian specimens.

MISSIONARY WAS GLAD TO RECEIVE PROVISIONS SENT

Officers Elected at Meeting This Morning—Reports Satisfactory

An interesting letter from a missionary at Fort Hudson was read at this morning's session of the thirtieth annual meeting of the Montreal Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the M. S. C. C., in Synod Hall, University street.

Thanking the Auxiliary for the clothes and provisions sent last year, the writer said: "You cannot think how glad we were to get your kind gift. We were out of food at the fort only an occasional fish being caught and no supplies till the next boat came in. After eating tinned salmon for three days we were so glad to get jam and marmalade and cocoa. I'm not complaining but if you could have seen the way those things were appreciated you would have been glad."

Previous to the noontide intercessions at which the Rev. Dr. Symonds spoke several reports were given and officers elected.

THE LITERATURE

The secretary-treasurer of the literature reported an increase in interest shown by the members in that department, the sale of pamphlets having increased by $20 over last year.

The following pledges will be presented to the meetings this year: $250 to the Lesser's salary at Onion Lake; $12 a month to the education of two Indian children in the North West of Canada. All the unpledged money will be reassumed. Two hundred and fifty will also be given towards the salary of the lady worker among the Jews in Montreal.

Mrs. Edward Lafleur announced that the annual thank-offering was $4636.36. Among the recommendations for distribution were missionary activities in Keewatin, Japan, the Yukon, India, etc.

"DORCAS" REPORT.

The "Dorcas" secretary-treasurer's report showed good work done in spite of pressing patriotic calls on the members' time and money. Seventy-two bales were sent out chiefly to the West which contained 6,439 articles of various kinds, including 1,546 new and 11,063 old garments, and $204 worth of groceries. The total value of new material used being $1,728.29.

To the North West $2,000 worth of articles were sent. In the foreign mission field $2,405.84 worth of articles were sent out in the bales. The expenses and total receipts were $461.45, and disbursements $410.33, leaving a balance of $51.11 in hand.

The report of the city branch secretary showed a large amount of Dorcas work done by the twenty-four branches and a total of $6,260.95 sent to missions. Following are the branches represented: Christ Church Cathedral Church of the Advent, All Saints' Church of the Ascension, St. Barnabas, at St. Lambert, Grace Dart Memorial, Cathedral evening, Diocesan Lodge, Society, St. George's Church, Grace Church, St. John the Evangelist, St. Luke's, St. Marks' at Longueuil, St. Martin's, St. Mathias', St. Paul's at Lachine, St. Phillip's at Montreal West, St. Stephen's at Lachine, St. Thomas' and Trinity.

Following are the officers elected for the Diocesan Board of Management: President, Mrs. Albert Holden, Vice-presidents, Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Wallace Stroud, recording secretary, Miss Ward, corresponding secretary, Miss Elverton Gomery, Dorcas secretary, Miss Alfrd Pennell, Girls' Branch secretary, Mrs. Ferrabee, secretary-treasurer, Junior Branches, Miss A. L. Jackson, "Little Helpers," secretary-treasurer, Miss M. Burgess, editor of "Leaflets," Miss Bancroft, treasurer, Mrs. Robert Hayard.

WOMAN SLAPPED FACE OF POMPOUS TALKER

It was on a crowded St. Catherine street car. A large, overdressed, pompous man of a too familiar type was regaling a friend and intention still all the other passengers, with his opinion of the war. He approved of it. He was making good money out of it and he didn't care how long it lasted.

At this point one lady's righteous indignation overcame her desire to avoid a scene. As the mother of three sons at the front, she told the pompous man exactly what she thought of him. Then she roundly slapped his face and got off the car. Everybody wanted to cheer every body but the man who was glad of the war. But he didn't stay long.

COMMERCE RAIDER LURKING OFF-SHORE AT NEWPORT NEWS

Captain of Liner Grayson Confident He Saw Lights of Enemy Vessels Signalling in Dark — More German Ships Seized by Portuguese — Germans' Latest Charge Against Merchantmen

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, March 3.— A report that a German raider or prize was lurking off Cape Henry, Va., waiting for a favorable chance to make a dash for Newport News or Norfolk, was brought here today by Captain Munkewitz, of the Hall-Insular liner Grayson arriving here from Porto Rico.

Captain Munkewitz said that early yesterday morning he was called on deck by the second officer, who reported a mysterious light to the east which he could not make out.

The light was moving eastward and Captain Munkewitz altered the course of his ship when a second light appeared closer to the port side and apparently moving westward. Both lights disappeared as suddenly as they had appeared.

On January 24, Captain Munkewitz said, when he was practically in the same position, he was summoned on deck by his first officer to observe several white lights to the east. These lights merely flashed into view and then vanished, and were succeeded by a flasher green light from a vessel which crossed the bows of the Grayson, exchanging signals with the ship "Ajax" in the Morse code.

It was a few days after this that the Appam took refuge in Hampton Roads.

Captain Munkewitz said very heavy weather and clouds prevailed off the Virginian coast, and that he was satisfied the vessels whose lights he had seen were trying to keep their movements secret.

He was convinced that the lights did not belong to British cruisers, as these patrol ships make no secret of their movements and are more anxious to investigate the ships they meet than avoid them.

STEAMERS ARE DELAYED

Postponement of the sailing dates of the American line steamships St. Louis and New York has left Americans who desire to cross the Atlantic, under the American flag with fewer opportunities than usual for the remainder of this week and next week.

The New York would ordinarily leave tomorrow on the return voyage and 100 tickets were sold and she is now announced that she will not be able to sail before Saturday, March 11. This is due to the necessity to repair damages suffered during the heavy weather of her last westward voyage.

The St. Louis also is undergoing repairs and is not expected to be in a condition to leave for Liverpool before March 18.

The other two steamships of the American lines, the Philadelphia and St. Paul arrived in Liverpool late last month and have not yet returned.

The Anchor Line steamship California is to leave here for Liverpool tomorrow and the French Line steamer Rochambeau is to sail on the same day for Bordeaux.

BERLIN, via Amsterdam, March 3. "Armed merchantmen are the snipers of the seas," declared Doctor Heckscher, Reichstag leader, "and the British Admiralty, by instructing merchantment to fire on submarines began franc-tireur warfare on the seas."

Doctor Heckscher, whose position in the Reichstag is similar to that held by Senator Stone as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, discussed the German-American controversy over armed merchantmen at some length today.

"If an officer and ten men in a hostile country saw a group of civilians across the street armed with two or three rifles, the officer couldn't wait until he had warned the civilians before ordering his soldiers to shoot," said Doctor Heckscher. "That is an example of franc-tireur, and the same principle applies on the seas to merchantmen who snipe at submarines.

"The submarine is a legal sea weapon, as Mr. Lansing himself has admitted, and the submarine that attempts to warn an armed merchantman puts itself in great danger, since it is easily damaged.

"It is said that the United States wants to settle the submarine question with Germany before taking up her trade relations with England, holding that questions affecting human lives should be first.

"Conceding this viewpoint, does America realize how many thousands of women and children in Germany and Poland lack nourishment today because America doesn't insist on the right to send milk and food to the German people? Isn't that a question of lives, too?

"Germany has waited for months for America to take steps against England's illegal blockade, but nothing has been accomplished. Now Germany, finding the English Admiralty instructions aboard the steamer Woodfield, must act herself. Germany's official declaration is but the legitimate counter-step any belligerent would take against an enemy."

BOMBAY, March 3. German ships interned at Mormugao, in the Portuguese colony of Goa, have been seized by the Portuguese authorities, decked out with Portuguese flags and their crews taken to an internment camp at Panjim, according to despatches received here today.

The Portuguese colony of Goa lies on the west coast of India, about 250 miles southeast of Bombay.

EARLY OPENING FOR NAVIGATION NOW PROPHESIED

Preparations are already under way for the opening of navigation in the River St. Lawrence. That navigation will be resumed weeks earlier than in previous years is considered certain by experts, who have studied the ice conditions and the effect of the present high level of the river in forcing an early break up.

At Sorel, where the river is frozen over, pilots and marine department officials state that the ice is laid in every different in consistency and texture from the ice which forms in January. Little effort will be required to break it up. The ice-breaker Lady Grey, now lying at Quebec, is due to leave in a few days for her first trip to Montreal.

One of the officials in charge of the river channel stated today that the abnormally high level of the river this year would ensure the moving out of ice twice as thick as the present coating, and that the subsequent drop in the river level would also have the effect of breaking up ice fields which would otherwise require the work of the ice-breaker.

GREAT BENEFITS.

That early opening of navigation will bring benefits to Montreal that are to be reckoned only in hundreds of thousands of dollars, was the opinion expressed by a shipping authority this morning, as the first fleet of vessels to come here is usually timed from the other side on reports of river conditions here. One extra voyage made to Montreal means two cargoes, one brought in and the other taken out and is often the deciding factor in keeping a ship on the St. Lawrence route for the rest of the summer. She is thus able to offset the higher insurance rate by her earnings.

April 15 is given as the probable date of ocean navigation between Montreal and the other side. In normal seasons the ice is not all out until the end of April.

ACTION ENTERED OVER COLLISION OF TWO STEAMERS

Actions arising over the collision between the Allan Line steamer Pretorian and the American Hawaiian steamer Kansan which occurred on September 15, 1915, were entered in the Admiralty Court this morning. The Allan Line claims $82,000 from the owners of the Kansan and the latter, in a counter suit, demand a similar amount from the owners of the Pretorian.

The mishap occurred, according to the Allan line, when the Pretorian was at a standstill off White Point light in the lower St. Lawrence. The Kansan, it is alleged, came along at an immoderate speed at 2:42 a.m., and rammed the Pretorian.

The owners of the Kansan, on the other hand claim that the Pretorian was at anchor in the channel, contrary to rules of navigation and prudence, when the Kansan, going at very low speed, ran into her.

The Kansan owners allege that the accident was wholly due to the fault of the Pretorian because she was not guarded by lights to warn an oncoming steamer and because she had no right to anchor at that particular spot.

SOLDIERS' COMFORTS.

LAST OFFENSIVE FROM GERMANS AT VERDUN IS HANOTAUX' ASSERTION

Proportion of Losses Five Germans to One Frenchman — Attack Desperate Gambler's Throw—Kaiser Ordered Final Supreme Massacre—Onslaught Begun Again by Huns.

LONDON, March 3.—A despatch to the London Times this morning says:—

"I understand that while a number of French guns have naturally fallen into the hands of the enemy during his advance, the number is considerably below the total of French captures in the Champagne fighting.

"It is estimated that in this first shock the proportion of losses in killed, wounded and prisoners is five Germans to one Frenchman."

Special Cable.

PARIS, March 3.—With their Verdun offensive the Germans are taking up their campaign against France just where they left off at the battle of the Marne.

Verdun is the apex of those eastern citadels which always shackled the German offensive through Belgium, and until that apex is smashed any attack towards the interior of France is exposed to being bitten off by our eastern jaws. Any attack on Paris is taken in the rear by our armies about those fortresses.

I do not know whether it is true that Gen. von Deimling told the 15th Corps that this was to be the last anti-French offensive, but true or untrue, the assertion expresses an exact verity.

Germany has arrived at that point where she is bound to make up her mind to use her remaining resources. I learn from the most reliable source that during the last visit of the King of Saxony to his troops the officers surrounded him and told him the war must be quickly finished and that the soldiers would be unable to undertake a new campaign.

The King of Saxony reported to the Kaiser the pressure which his own troops were bringing to bear upon him. The Confederate States were beginning to get restless. Therefore the Kaiser ordered an offensive on the French front.

SUPREME MASSACRE ORDERED.

It is noteworthy that the troops who made the greatest sacrifices at Verdun were Prussians, Pomeranian, Silesian and Rhenish soldiers fell by thousands. The Prussians are naturally the supreme champions of Prussian militarism.

Verdun has capital importance when regarded from the viewpoint of the whole situation. Every hour, every minute decides the result of this last, desperate gambler's throw. The Kaiser stands involved, not only before history, but before his own people. He continues to lead his people to butchery. To save himself he orders a supreme massacre.

But the hour has struck. Verdun brings no luck to the Prussian dynasty. To von Deimling's alleged assertion that this is the last offensive, I will add the statement recently made to me by one of our greatest leaders: "It is better so. Let them attack. We are ready for them."

HUN OFFENSIVE RESUMED.

German attacks of great violence, both artillery and infantry, have been resumed to the north of Verdun. The official statement issued by the French War Office last night says that furious infantry assaults have been repulsed by the French troops, "whose fire decimated the ranks of the enemy." The text of the statement follows:

"In Belgium destructive fires have been directed by our artillery against the German organization to the east of Streenstracte.

"Between the Somme and the Oise a German work was destroyed by our batteries in the region of Beuvraignes.

"In Champagne a German aeroplane shelled by our batteries in the vicinity of Suippes fell in flames within the enemy lines.

"In the Argonne we executed concentrated fires to the north of Harazee and on the Cheppy Wood.

"In the region to the north of Verdun and in the Woevre the activity of the enemy artillery, which had abated somewhat during the preceding day, was considerably increased during the course of the day along the entire front, and principally on Le Mort Homme, the Cote du Poivre, and in the region of Douaumont.

"At the last-named point the bombardment was followed by several attacks of infantry of extreme violence. This series of attacks was repulsed by our troops, whose fire decimated the enemy ranks.

FRENCH BATTERIES ACTIVE.

"Our batteries replied energetically everywhere to the bombardment and shelled the enemy's roads of communication.

"To the northeast of St. Mihiel our long-range guns bombarded the railway station at Vigneulles. According to our observers, two fires were started, several trains were hit and a locomotive was blown up.

"In Upper Alsace there has been great activity on the part of both artilleries on the sector of Seppois.

"Last night one of our bombing squadrons dropped forty-four shells of all calibres on the station at Chambley, which appeared to have suffered serious damage. Notwithstanding a lively cannonade, the aeroplanes returned in safety to our lines.

"Today our aeroplanes likewise dropped forty shells on the railway station at Bensdorff, and nine projectiles on the enemy establishments at Avricourt."

The Belgian official communication reads:

"Artillery duels have occurred chiefly in the northern parts of the front. There was fighting with bombs, in the direction of Steenstracte."

French Soldiers Are All Confident Of Final Victory

Accounts that reach Paris from Bar-le-Duc, Chalons and other junction points, to which most of the Verdun wounded have been taken, make it clear that the French soldiers have retained complete confidence, despite the extraordinary fury of the bombardment, which all agree far surpassed anything ever known before on this continent.

An auxiliary surgeon, who has just returned from Bar-le-Duc, says:

"It is a pity that a neutral observer is not able to compare our wounded with the German prisoners, taken after the Champagne bombardment. Even when unhurt, the latter were utterly dazed. The majority could not speak coherently, but just managed to babble words of terror or relief at their escape.

"Ours naturally feel the shock, but show it rather in excitement or fever than in lowered morale. Their eyes show that each is eager to describe his part in what all declare a victory. Fully two-thirds express regret at having to leave before we finished off the Boches. All are perfectly confident about the final outcome."

HUNS LOOK BEATEN.

"I spoke with one of a batch of German prisoners, all Prussians, young and well equipped. They had come from Serbia after six weeks' rest. They were very different from the confident group I saw after the Marne. They looked thoroughly beaten. One youth I interrogated talked French well. He said to me:

"'We were told that this was the last battle of the war; that the French were tired and had no cannon. So we were literally stupefied when your cannonade replied fully as effective as ours. My regiment attacked south of Beaumont. We lost quite half of our men in the first discharge of the French guns. The rest retired speedily. We in the front were glad to crawl to our trenches. We have escaped from hell.'

One youngster of the class of 1914, who has a broken arm, is quoted as giving this vivid account of the early fighting:

"They told us the Boches had 400,000 picked men and 2,000 guns. I can well believe it, but they have lost more than a third of the former at least.

"As for the cannonade, it was a regular deluge. Our trenches were demolished as if they had been deliberately turned upside down by a giant hand. After six hours of that there was nothing left to defend, so we retired to the support trenches near Anglomont. We had to crawl and, what with shell holes, corpses, and barbed wire, it was no trip in a sleeping car.

GERMAN ADVANCE DESCRIBED.

"Then the enemy began to advance. They looked like a big gray carpet being unrolled over the country. Our guns had the range exactly, but the gaps filled up as by magic.

"We opened fire at 200 yards. I guess there were few misses at that close distance, but we might as well have been firing peas. They never even hesitated.

"Then our mitrailleuses got going. That was different. Whole rows of the enemy toppled over like corn under the scythe. They stopped; then we charged with the bayonet. They died just like sheep, almost without resistance.

"I never believed the stories that the Boches were drugged before their attacks, but that lot were certainly queer, and the few prisoners we took neither spoke nor moved, but lay on the ground as if numbed.

"We held that same position for three days. The worst time was when the enemy tried a flame attack with jets of gasolene. Not wanting to be roasted, we charged, and that time we took no prisoners. Directly we reached them, it was finished. They could not fight, carrying all that ironmongery, so we stuck them like pigs.

"They tried gas, too, but the wind was not steady and the gas covered them as much as we. We looked like a carnival crowd, with those swine-snouted masks. Then my arm was hit, so I was forced to go."

ATTACKS ON DOUAUMONT.

An officer, wounded in a counter-attack yesterday morning, is also quoted by the surgeons as saying that the attacks on Douaumont village on Monday night were repeated eight times before the Germans finally abandoned the attempt to renew contact with the Brandenburgers in the fort, who are now reduced to about 2,000 men. He said the Germans had ceased to make serid mass assaults since Monday morning, the clearest proof of their unsupportable losses.

A French officer who took part in the recent night attacks says the Germans made no less than nine assaults on a village held by two French regiments. In describing these assaults, he said that the hand-to-hand fighting in the darkness was pierced only by occasional flashes of searchlights and rockets.

He added that the darkness caused many tragic mistakes and cited an instance of where one victim, a Prussian officer, was found with a bayonet thrust through the breast, inflicted by one of his own men.

The losses which the Prussian regiments suffered in the furious Verdun assaults necessitated a reconstitution by units and this is given as one reason for their comparative calm on the battlefield.

The question of munitions also must be considered. Despite the proximity of Metz the quantity of ammunition used is so great that the supply reaching the front is probably much less than the requirements.

SAPPERS' WEIRD EXPERIENCE.

The story of the three French sappers, who were buried alive for hours during the battle of Verdun and who finally dug their way out to safety, is told in detail by one of them who arrived in Paris on a hospital train this morning. He said:

"With my friends Bernard and Jean, I was posted in a trench at the edge of the Vauche woods. The enemy showed a disposition to attack and, according to orders, the three of us, with a charge of powder, fuses and tools, started down a mine gallery, to fill the mine chamber to lay the wires and to pack the gallery behind it.

"We did this without difficulty and were on our way back when a heavy explosion shook us. Had our mine gone off already? I hear stones falling,' said one of my comrades. We rushed forward. The gallery was full of gravel.

"We realized the horrible truth; we were walled up. An enemy shell had exploded above the gallery causing the roof to fall in.

"We examined the walls in feverish haste. 'We are done for!' said Jean. We were not!

"We were not afraid of death—it was all part of the game, but we did not like to die there in the darkness. 'How long can we stay here?' Jean asked again. 'There is plenty of air and the gallery is roomy, but there is nothing to eat,' I replied. 'Well, what's the good of a few hours more or less?' he said. 'Why wait?' I for one have already made up my mind.'

"He took out his revolver, but I stopped him, and said, 'Don't be a fool. Let us wait a while, we may hew our way out.'

"The first terror having passed over we began to discuss ways and means. Let us wait patiently for our mine to explode. If it make a big enough hole we can dig through into it,' I said.

COULD HEAR BATTLE.

"We sat down in silence and could hear all the sound of battle, for the earth is a good conductor of sound. We tried to distinguish the character of the various vibrations, so as not to miss the noise when our mine exploded.

"Finally we heard it and we rushed forward through a wave of hot air. Hope strengthened our arms and we plied our picks furiously, but our packing had been so well done that it took us two hours before we got into the empty mine chamber.

"I listened, but the sound of firing seemed so far off I judged there was a thick layer of earth between us and the outer world. Then drops fell on us. Were we going to be flooded?

"'So much the better,' said Jean, 'we shall die more quickly.'

"Something trickled down on my lips and I recognized the taste.

"It was blood and I realized that if blood was coming through we could not be far from the surface. With renewed hope we set to work again, but rather clumsily for we started a fall of earth which nearly buried us.

"We were all injured, Bernard's leg being broken, Jean's head cut, and my left arm broken. Despite our pain, we continued our efforts, and after a while we came on a number of dead bodies of Germans which had rolled to the bottom of the crater which the mine explosion had made.

"After an hour of digging and crawling among the corpses, we got out into the air. Both my comrades were so exhausted that they fainted. I watched over them, being sheltered from shells and bullets by the steep side of the crater. After eight hours' waiting, ambulance attendants found us, and by that time we had but little life left in us."

ONLY WAY TO TAKE VERDUN.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, March 2.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail quotes a staff officer as saying that "the only possibly way of taking Verdun is by an advance along the Meuse heights.

"The battle of the heights," the officer is quoted as saying, "was fought between February 20 and February 26, when the enemy was able to press forward on an ever-narrowing front to the line of Poivre Hill—Douaumont. There he met his first check and has not advanced further."

Despatches from Basle quote the Swiss newspapers as commenting that the slump on the Frankfort Bourse, following a week of great buoyancy, reflects the financial opinion of Germany regarding the situation at Verdun. The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs:

"The German newspapers have ceased to be jubilant over the campaign against Verdun. One paper of March 1, under the caption, 'The drama of Verdun,' was content to give optimistic extracts from the French papers.

The Frankfurter Zeitung also confines itself to replying to articles in the French and British press, thereby preparing its readers for failure. Practically all the German papers while declaring that the French are hiding their fear under optimistic reports, prints accounts from their own correspondents in neutral countries purporting to show "the excellent effect" of the German offensive. The latter papers ignore Verdun and turn their attention to conscription in Great Britain and the German war loan.

The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The reports reaching Berlin of great losses at Verdun, notwithstanding the attempts of the newspapers to be cheerful, have caused general dejection, especially among the women. On the night of February 29 ten thousand women marched through Unter den Linden crying 'bread' and 'peace!' The police dispersed the manifestants."

MAJOR MORAHT'S OPINION.

By Canadian Press.

BERLIN, via wireless to Sayville, March 3.—Major Moraht, military critic of the Berliner Tageblatt, commenting on the Verdun battle, says the defensive front of Verdun on the north and east has been reduced to about sixty square kilometres, which gives the Germans an excellent advantage for their concentric artillery fire and the employment of their troops.

The writer, according to the Overseas News Agency, pays tribute to the bravery of the French troops in coming to "iron grips" with the Germans, but says: "A race of military valor perishes before Verdun or drags itself crippled home."

"Summarizing the present situation on the western front around Verdun, correspondents at the front declare that between February 21 and March 1 a total of 170 square kilometres of terrain was gained by the Germans, this being four times as much as the French won in their entire offensive in the Champagne last fall," says the Overseas News Agency today. "The taking of this ground north and east of Verdun has shortened the German radius of action from the north to the southeast by several kilometres.

"The German tactics are to consistently evade the possibilities of great loss of human life and therefore to avoid direct storming and replace it by the constant collaboration of all arms. The consequence is that the entire advance consisted of a series of tidal waves, each of which during the past few days were productive of gains.

"The correspondents again emphasize the fact that all the gains were obtained with losses which were comparatively insignificant."

BRITISH LOST 69 SHIPS IN FEBRUARY

LONDON, March 3.—An official communication issued last night concerning marine losses says:

"British wrecks reported to the Board of Trade in February aggregated sixty-nine, involving a loss of 420 lives. Included in the wrecks were 42 steamships of a total tonnage of 56,856.

"Ten of these steamers were sunk by enemy warships, with a loss of thirty-six lives; five by mines, with a loss of 176 lives; one by a mine or submarine, with a loss of eight lives, and one by bombs from a Zeppelin, with a loss of thirteen lives.

"Of twenty-seven sailing ships lost, six were sunk by enemy warships."

TO BUY NO MORE REMOUNTS NOW

OTTAWA, March 3.—The Government does not intend purchasing any more horses for military purposes in Canada during the summer. This was stated in the House of Commons yesterday in reply to an Opposition question. There are 1,769 on hand in the various divisional areas.

MONTREAL MAY HAVE REFERENDUM IN SEPTEMBER

If Majority of City Council so Decides, is Decision

Special to The Montreal Star from a Staff Correspondent.

QUEBEC, March 3.—Amending the Montreal Bill before according it third reading, the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon decreed that, should the majority of the City Council so decide, the city clerk shall, on the first Monday in September, 1917, hold a referendum on Montreal's administration, the corporation supplying the funds.

The Council thus unanimously reversed the unanimous decision of its Private Bills Committee, which had struck from the Bill a less pretentious clause regarding a referendum.

It acted similarly when it killed the clause empowering the city to raise from one to two per cent the tax on premiums collected by fire insurance companies in Montreal.

In this connection the councillors agreed that those insuring, and not the companies would pay for the increase.

A third effort to secure special taxation privileges for certain proprietors of Bordeaux ward failed.

The Legislative Assembly resumed consideration of estimates for the Education Department, voted $665,400 in special and $177,000 in statutory appropriations, and then heard A. Sauve, Two Mountains, demand that the Government supervise operations of funeral expense associations.

He had, he said, many complaints that certain organizations had been badly financed, that some had failed just when capital had been collected, and that investors were often called on to pay $30 or $40 in extras when the time came to use the investments.

He thought the associations should be controlled by the Insurance Branch of the Treasury Department, for the protection of investors.

"I think some legislation should be introduced," admitted the Hon. Walter Mitchell, Provincial Treasurer, "though it is a question whether the Treasury Department should control the associations, as we are dealing here with private contracts."

The Hon. J. E. Tessier, Minister of Roads, told the House that nearly 148 miles of the Quebec-Montreal road are complete at a cost of $2,766,998, and that the route will be completed this year.

Bills amending the charter of Maisonneuve and annexing the Maisonneuve School Commission to Montreal passed the House, as did a measure by which the Government may prohibit any automobile carrying a red rear light, and by which an owner selling an automobile must remove the license marks.

First reading was given to a Bill to exempt practising civil engineers from jury service.

In the Legislative Council the Bill covering the revised Quebec Municipal Code was read a second time, as was Verdun's Bill.

At the beginning of the war Miss Tomitch enrolled as a volunteer in the Commitage Battalion, commanded by Major Tankositch, the Serbian officer named by Austria as responsible for the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince and his wife, and was with him during the awful Serbian retreat, when he was killed and the girl heroine herself seriously wounded. The girl is a good shot and an expert bomb and hand grenade thrower. At present she is with her company at Keitenlike, the French and Serbian camp, where the Serbian army is being reorganized.

INCENDIARY FIRE IN PROVIDENCE JOURNAL OFFICE

Newspaper Has Vigorously Fought German Activity in U. S.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., March 3.—A fire of uncertain origin, accompanied by a small explosion, caused damage of $2,000 in the office of the Providence Journal tonight. The blaze started in the office of the managing editor, among some newspaper files, and spread to another of the editorial rooms.

A statement given out by the Journal said the explosion, which occurred a few minutes after the fire started, filled the room with flames, which shot through the editor's room adjoining.

"The room in which the fire originated had been unoccupied for two hours," said the statement, "and there were no electric wires that could possibly have started the blaze.

NOT ACCIDENTAL.

"The prompt arrival of the fire department, and the use of chemical engines, checked the fire, which was subdued in half an hour. After investigation, the Police Department, tonight arrived at the conclusion that the fire could not have been of accidental origin."

The Providence Journal has been carrying on a vigorous campaign against German propaganda in this country, its articles being widely used in other papers. The Journal was particularly energetic in publishing articles dealing with the activity of the former German military and naval attaches at Washington, Captains von Papen and Boy-Ed, respectively, which activity finally caused the Washington Government to demand their recall by Germany.

Contract Moratorium For Army and Navy.

LONDON, March 3. — The Daily Express says today that the Government has definitely decided to recommend a moratorium for contractual obligations, such as rents and insurance, for all men serving in the army and navy.

The newspaper adds that the announcement in the form of a proposed law will be made in the House of Commons next week.

BRIG.-GENERAL C. A. ARMSTRONG ON WOUNDED LIST

Montreal Officer Sustains Fractured Leg in Train Collision

TWENTY-SECOND ARE SUFFERERS

Several Mentioned in Casualties Reported at Midnight

OTTAWA, March 3.—The name of a popular and efficient Montreal officer, Brig.-Gen. Charles J. Armstrong, Divisional Engineers, is included in the midnight casualty list of thirty-five names. Gen. Armstrong is suffering with a fracture of the leg, the result of a railway collision near Rouen.

He had a distinguished career in the South African war, being in several important actions, from Paardeberg to Pretoria, and receiving a wound in the former fight. For two years he was on the staff of the Imperial Military Railways, South Africa, returning to resume his profession of civil engineer in Montreal.

Before the war broke out, he was Montreal representative of the big contracting firm of Sir John Jackson, and resided at the Cavendish Apartments. Mrs. Armstrong is now in England.

The 22nd Battalion, Lieut.-Col. Candet, O.C., has evidently seen some sharp work. Pte. Alfred Bellefeuille, Three Rivers, has died of his wounds, and four other privates are reported wounded, three of them being from Montreal. Pte. Wm. Bailey, 42nd Battalion, another Montreader, was severely wounded, and Capt. C. E. Cooper Cole, of Toronto with the Army Medical Corps, was wounded. The full list follows:

GERMANS PROVED DELIBERATE LIARS BY BRITISH GOVT.

Full Text of Instructions to Merchantmen are Published

FORBIDDEN TO ATTACK SUBS

Armament to be Used Only for Purposes of Defence

LONDON, March 3.— The British Admiralty last night officially made public the Admiralty's orders to armed merchantmen, given Oct. 20, 1915. The orders say that the armament of such vessels must be used solely for resisting an attack on an armed vessel and for no other purpose.

As British submarines and aircraft are ordered not to approach merchantmen, the orders say, the approach to a British merchanman of a submarine is to be regarded as done with a hostile intention. The official statement reads as follows:

"'In view of the recent issue by the German Government of a memorandum on the treatment of armed merchant ships, the Admiralty has decided to make public the instructions actually governing the actions of British merchant vessels armed in self defence.

"Instructions dated 20th of October, 1915, re the status of armed merchant ships:

"(1) The right of the crew of a merchant vessel to forcibly resist visit and search and fight in self-defence is well recognized in International Law and expressly admitted by the German prize regulations in an addendum issued June, 1914, at a time when it was known that numerous merchant vessels were being armed for self-defence.

RULES FOR SELF-DEFENCE.

"(2) Armament is supplied solely for the purpose of resisting attack by an armed enemy vessel, and must not be used for any other purpose whatsoever.

"(3) An armed merchant vessel, therefore, must not in any circumstances interfere with or obstruct the free passage of other merchant vessels or fishing craft, whether these are friendly, neutral or hostile.

"(4) The status of a British armed merchant vessel cannot be changed upon the high seas.

"Rules to be observed in the exercise of right of self-defence:

"(1) The master or officer in command is responsible for opening and ceasing fire.

"(2) Participation in armed resistance must be confined to persons acting under the orders of the master or the officers in command.

"(3) Before opening fire the British colors must be hoisted.

"(4) Fire must not be opened or continued from a vessel which has stopped, hauled down her flag or otherwise indicated her intention to surrender.

"(5) The expression 'armament' includes not only cannon, but also rifles and machine-guns in cases where these have been supplied.

"(6) The ammunition used in rifles and machine-guns must conform to Article 23, Hague Convention IV, 1907, —that is, bullets must be cased in nickel or other hard substance and must not be split or cut in such a way as to cause them to expand or set up on striking a man. The use of explosive bullets is forbidden.

WHEN TO USE ARMAMENT.

"Circumstances under which armament should be employed:

"(1) The armament is supplied for the purpose of defence only. The object of the master should be to avoid action whenever possible.

"(2) Experience has shown that hostile submarines and air craft have frequently attacked merchant vessels without warning. It is important, therefore, that craft of this description should not be allowed to approach to short range, at which a torpedo or bomb launched without notice would almost certainly be effective. British and Allied submarines and aircraft have orders not to approach merchant vessels. Consequently, it may be presumed that any submarine or aircraft which deliberately approaches or pursues a merchant vessel does so with hostile intention. In such cases, fire may be opened in self-defence in order to prevent the hostile craft from closing to a range at which resistance to a sudden attack with bomb or torpedo would be impossible.

"(3) An armed merchant vessel, proceeding to render assistance to the crew of a vessel in distress must not seek action with any hostile craft, though if she herself is attacked while doing so fire may be opened in self-defence.

NO DISGUISE ALLOWED.

"(4) It should be remembered that the flag is no guide to nationality. German submarines and armed merchant vessels have frequently employed the British, Allied or neutral colors to approach undetected. Though, however, the use of disguise and false colors to escape capture is a legitimate ruse de gurre, its adoption by defensively armed merchant ships may easily lead to misconception. Such vessels, therefore, are forbidden to adopt any form of disguise which might cause them to be mistaken for neutral ships."

Admiralty comment:

"These instructions, which are those at present in force, are the latest issue. Successive issues have been made, not by reason of a change in policy—the policy throughout has remained unaltered—but by improvement in wording and greater clearness of expression to emphasize the purely defensive character of the armament of merchant vessels.

"It is because of the distorted interpretation given these instructions as a whole, and the very forced character of the interpretation given by the German Government to portions which they quote from an earlier issue of the instructions that the Admiralty felt it desirable, with a view to allaying neutral anxiety, to publish these in extenso."

EARL DERBY IS AGAINST FURTHER EASY EXEMPTIONS

LONDON, March 3.—Keen disappointment as to the results of recruiting under the voluntary scheme proposed by him was expressed in the House of Lords yesterday by the Earl of Derby, former chief of the recruiting service.

The Earl laid the chief blame for the failure to achieve the full results he had aimed at to the easy exemptions of single men, belonging especially to the starred trades—men required for work on necessities required by the Government—and agriculturists.

He made an emphatic plea to the Government to prevent bachelors of military age from evading military service by transferring themselves to specialized occupations, and declared that a strong effort was necessary to obtain a requisite number of fighting men, without whom the Empire might fall.

Agriculturists, the Earl of Derby said, were the principal class to avail themselves of exemption under the plea that they were indispensable for the production of foodstuffs, and that such exemption should be watched. Baron Harris, who has large farm interests, expressed the opinion that no single man was necessary on a farm.

TO REVISE RESERVED LIST.

No figures as to the result of the recruiting campaign were given, but it was announced that 140,000 married men had attested under the Earl of Derby's scheme since the beginning of the year. The Government promises to revise the list of reserved trades with a view to releasing more men for the army.

The suggestion that no single men under the ages of thirty-one should be allowed to plead for exemption from military service, even though employed in the starred trades, was emphasized by the former chief of the recruiting service, who said that he felt alarmed at the number of exemptions from this cause, and also regarding conscientious objectors.

In addition, he was concerned at the numbers of official exemptions. Lord Derby pleaded with the House and the Government to take the strongest possible action in this matter, which he regarded as vital to the country.

The large number of exemptions from military service granted by the local tribunals had given rise to a series of questions, to which Lord Derby replied with an expression of satisfaction at the tribunals' performance of their work. Most of the claims for exemption, he said, came from the agricultural districts, some of which had done extremely well regarding recruiting, while others had done very badly.

AGRICULTURISTS' APPEAL.

More than 90 per cent of the appeals were from agriculturists, and half of the men concerned were related to the farmers, therefore the necessity existed for watching agricultural exemptions. The chief question for consideration was the position of starred occupations, at the number of which he was very much alarmed. Continuing, Lord Derby said:

"The Government must be prepared to take strong measures if we are to get the number of men anticipated and necessary. Many men undoubtedly are entering the excepted trades in order to escape military service, and the Government must take steps to get the men out of those trades and to replace them by women or men returned from the front or unfit for military service."

A further suggestion from Lord Derby was that neither single nor married men belonging to a specially excepted trade should be allowed to plead unless they were working there before August, 1915. The speaker scathingly attacked Sir John A. Simon, ex-Secretary of State for Home Affairs, and those associated with him for their efforts to defeat the Military Service Act.

QUICK ACTION IS URGED.

Concluding the Earl of Derby said he remained in charge of the recruiting despite his appointment in connection with the air service. He appealed to the Government to act quickly and with a strong hand, saying it would find the country would support it in any effort to obtain the requisite number of fighting men and without which the Empire might fall.

The Earl of Selborne argued that there were single men engaged in agriculture who could not be spared owing to the vital necessity for adequate food supplies being produced in this country.

Baron Harris, who himself has large farm interests, contended in a directly opposite sense, saying that not one single men was necessary on any farm.

The Government reply was given by the Marquis of Lansdowne, who declared that it was the Government's intention carefully to revise the list of special occupations. All the suggestions would be taken into consideration by a conference of the department heads.

This statement brought the Earl of Derby to his feet again with this emphatic declaration: "Don't let us flatter ourselves that it is only the earlier groups who will disappoint; later groups will be the same.

"Don't let us think either that small proposals for a reduction in the number of reserved trades is likely to give us the men we wont. It must be done on a much bigger scale, and I hope the Government will decide to do it on a bigger scale."

WOULD INCREASE MANITOBA EXPRESS AND TROLLEY TAX

WINNIPEG, March 3.—The Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer, in the Legislature yesterday moved the second reading of a Bill to amend the Corporations' Taxation Act. It provices for increasing the taxes of express companies and street railways.

The taxation of express companies will be put on the same level as in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

There are only two street railway systems in Manitoba, that of the Winnipeg Electric Company and that of Brandon City. Only the former system is affected by the Bill at all considerably, the levy being based on mileage. Mr. Brown expects to raise about $10,000 this year from the Winnipeg system, and foreshadowed a heavier levy after the war.

A Bill providing for hydro-electric development in Manitoba by a private company was withdrawn by its sponsor, G. W. Prout. He said such a Bill would first have to be approved by the Public Utilities Commissioner.

Local option in taxation for municipalities is the principle of a Bill introduced by F. J. Dixon, who thinks many municipalities would like to exempt business and buildings from taxation.

TOBACCO REVENUE OF 160,000,000 MARKS EXPECTED

BERLIN, via London, March 3. The Government's Tobacco Bill published yesterday, is designed to raise about 160,000,000 marks new revenue. The new schedules show heavy increases in customs and excise taxes. The tariff on unworked leaves becomes 130 marks per metric hundredweight, and 65 per cent ad valorem, as compared with 85 marks and 40 per cent ad valorem.

The report accompanying the Bill estimates that a grade costing abroad 55 marks will pay a duty of nearly 166.

Excise is raised to a lesser degree proportionately, thereby increasing protection domestic from 50 to nearly 91 marks per metric hundredweight. The duty on chewing tobacco and snuff is doubled. Worked leaves will pay 280 marks specific duty, and 65 per cent ad valorem; cigarettes 1,500 marks per metric hundredweight.

Cigars will pay the same ad valorem duty as leaves. The internal revenue on cigarettes has been increased twenty per cent on the cheaper grades. The tax on cigars has been raised to 700 marks per metric hundredweight.

EXPECT INCREASE IN LOAN.

Arthur Gwynner, director of the Deutsch Bank, thinks the year's return to the Government from the new tax or war profits will probably be 500,000,000 marks.

Berlin companies which have issued annual reports during the month of February show large sums set aside to meet the tax on increased profits. Of fifty-three companies, thirty-four show reserves of at least 500,000 marks for this purpose.

The Berliner Tageblatt estimates that, on this basis of calculation, the tax on war profits will yield more than 325,000,000 marks. As companies have the right to invest the special reserve immediately in the war loan, it is expected that subscriptions of this character will increase materially the volume of the forthcoming loan.

BRITISH REGAIN TRENCHES TAKEN BY THE GERMANS

Ypres - Comines Position Again in Hands of our Men

SMALL SALIENT ALSO CAPTURED

Russian and Italian Armies are Fighting Continuously

LONDON, March 3.—The British official statement issued last night on the fighting in the western zone says:

"We recaptured the trenches at the bluff of the Ypres-Comines Canal, which were lost February 14, and also captured a small salient in the German lines.

"A counter-attack launched by the enemy some hours later was repulsed. German mine galleries in the captured trenches were destroyed. We have taken 180 prisoners, including four officers.

"There has been much artillery activity on both sides today, from Viersttaal to Boesinghe.

"The capture of 500 yards of British positions southeast of Ypres, after heavy artillery bombardments, was claimed in the German official statement of February 15, which added that a majority of the defenders of the British trenches were killed.

Stockholm despatch to the Morning Post says that, according to a message from Karlskrona, Sweden, a whole mine field of several hundred mines is drifting from the north, having presumably been set adrift by the ice and wind.

The message adds that explosions are occurring hourly and that navigation in the neighborhood of the Swedish Islands is perilous.

HUNS ATTACK AT DVINSK.

PETROGRAD, via London, March 3. The following official communication was issued yesterday:—

"Western (Russian) front—In the district of Lake Kanger the Germans have bombarded with naval guns the villages of Saprenesh and Biganuntzem. Numerous German aeroplanes have bombed the Riga sector, and there has been an aerial bombardment between Ikskull and Elsinhof on the Dvina River.

"In the vicinity of Dvinsk the Germans bombarded our lines near Illoukst, and the Poniewesh railway with shells weighing 150 pounds. The German heavy artillery has bombarded the Lake Sventen region.

"Our artillery has developed an efficacious fire against Novo Alexandrovsk and the Tourmont station.

"In Galicia, on the Middle Stripa front, the Germans twice attempted to approach our trenches, but on each occasion were repulsed by our fire.

"Caucasus front—In the direction of Erzingian (Turkish Armenia, to the southwest of Erzerum), the Turks continue their retreat. Here our cavalry has found four guns abandoned by the Turks. In the direction of Bitlis, the enemy continues his retreat under the pressure of our troops. We have occupied Kamalk and the Nekavans convent, seven miles northeast of Bitlis.

Moving southwestward toward the positions held by the British in Mesopotamia, the Russian conquerors of Kermanshah have arrived within forty miles of the Persian-Turkish border, according to delayed despatches received here today.

ITALIAN PATROLS ACTIVE.

ROME, via London, March 3.—The War Office communication issued yesterday says:

"A small enemy attack near Marter, in th Val Sugana, was repulsed. Our heavy artillery has successfully bombarded the Toblach railroad station.

"Along the entire Isonzo front the bad weather has continued with snowfalls in the high region, but our patrols have been particularly active in harassing the enemy in the trenches by their rifle fire and grenades.

"Our artillery has shelled important objectives, including the Santa Luna station and Tolmino. One of our batteries, having daringly attacked a favorable position, opened a surprise fire and effectively shelled enemy barracks and shelters behind Podgora Heights."

LONDON, March 3.—The naval prize fund derived from the sale of contraband goods seized by the British navy and condemned by prize courts now amount to more than $30,000,000. This fund will be distributed among all the men of the navy after the war.

APPAM DECISION SECRET PENDING COURT'S ACTION

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The State Department yesterday sent to Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, its decision in the case of the British liner Appam, which was captured by a German raider and brought into Hampton Road in charge of a prize crew.

Announcement of the contents will be withheld at the request of counsel for the German Government, pending a decision in the libel action brought by agents of the original British owners in the Federal courts at Norfolk.

Consequently, the court will be allowed to interpret the Prussian-American Treaty, which is claimed by Germany to provide that a German prize may remain in American waters indefinitely, with immunity from legal proceedings instituted by the original owners in an attempt to regain possession of the ship. In awaiting an interpretation of the treaty by the courts, the State Department is acting in accordance with precedent.

The communication to the Ambassador was in reply to a note sent by him to Secretary of State Lansing, protesting against the litigation, and asking that the court be informed that under the terms of the treaty such action was improper.

The case of the Appam is expected to come before the court in Norfolk today.

A Physician declares: 'It is impossible to take Hall's Wine without being benefited' (The original letter on file)

Hall's Wine never fails

We all get 'run-down' at some time or other: then is the time to remember Hall's Wine.

Hall's Wine restores Health and Strength and Vitality in every case of the following:—

Anæmia	Breakdown
Nerves	Depression
Debility	Weakness
Bronchitis	Neuralgia
Colds	La Grippe
Overstrain	Exhaustion

The first dose proves Hall's Wine is doing you good—and the good is sure and lasting.

Here are two letters out of thousands:

"One Bottle of Hall's Wine has done me more good than a month's treatment I was suffering from complete exhaustion."

"I was very weak, and my nerves were in a shocking state. I have been benefited from only half a bottle of Hall's Wine."
(Original letters on file)

Hall's Wine prepared from a prescription by a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Eng., recommended by upwards of a thousand British Doctors for over a quarter of a century—is now being introduced into Canada for the first time. You'll find it a splendid investment to give your druggist

$1.50 for extra large size bottle or 90c. for smaller size bottle of

Hall's Wine

The Great Tonic Restorative

Every genuine bottle of Hall's Wine bears the red Keystone trade-mark with the signature of Stephen Smith & Company across it.

TRIP ACROSS CONTINENT OFFERED LADY HOCKEY PLAYERS

WANDERERS HOPE TO WIN SATURDAY FROM CANADIENS

"Brownie" Baker Will be Here and Team is in Good Shape, but Sprague Cleghorn is Out of Hockey for the Season

Wanderers hope to win tomorrow night from Canadiens. It is what they call their dying chance.

The absence of Jack Laviolette will help them some. Brownie Baker will be on their own line-up.

They think that having lost several games lately, it is up to them to win some, and if they win tomorrow they figure out that Canadiens having some very hard games to play yet, may not be able to progress much beyond their present standing.

In fact with all their men in fairly good shape they fully expect a victory.

The only reason they have for regret just now, is that an examination yesterday into the condition of Sprague Cleghorn's foot showed that he will not be able to play hockey again this season, as it is utterly impossible for him to control his muscle.

NEW WAR TAX FOR RACE TRACKS

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, March 3. — Rumors are abroad that the Ontario Legislature's proposal for the increased revenue needed in war time includes the raising of the daily license fees for race courses from $50 to three times that amount. It is believed the idea of taking a percentage of gross receipts or a share of the mutuel investments, or a slice of the profits of the syndicate ring that prevails on the half-milers has been abandoned for the straight-out collection of $1,500 a day from all tracks alike. This would mean a revenue for the province of $126,000 annually, instead of $12,000 paid in past years. The clubs that come under the provisions of the Dominion tax on incorporated companies will pay both Federal and provincial duties.

GOLF LEGACY, SOMETHING NEW, BEQUEST OF LATE JAMES A. W. PRENTICE

NEW YORK, March 3. In years to come when golf clubs and their links grow to that stage of being regarded in the category of institutions, it may be that their permanency will in many instances be assured through legacies of one form or another. Probably the first approach to anything of this kind on record was brought to light recently as the result of the death in action of James A. W. Prentice, the amateur champion of South Africa.

The player in question is said to have bequeathed $300 to the South African Golf Union for the encouragement of the game among the youth of the subcontinent. Just what the association will do with the money it is of course impossible to say at present, though in all probability out of respect for the deceased a memorial trophy will be purchased in connection with an annual tournament for juniors.

In speaking of the incident last night, George Frotheringham, the professional, who when he came here last year held the open championship title of South Africa, said that he regarded Prentice as one of the best amateur golfers he had even seen. It was in 1912. Frotheringham thought that Prentice competed in the amateur championship of Great Britain making a capital showing.

Prentice fell at Hooge after he had been recommended for the D.S.O. He has been an enthusiastic exponent of the game since boyhood, and for two years was secretary of the Johannesburg Golf Club.

WHAT WILLARD AND MORAN ARE DOING EVERY DAY

By our own Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 3.—An array of sparring partners ranging from heavies garlore to little Kewpie Ertle were to box with Jess Willard today in his training show in preparation for the fight with Frank Moran. Bob Williams, one time "masked marvel" of the fight ring, was slated for a few rounds with the champion today. Willard peppered him plentifully yesterday but failed to unbuckle anything the fans had never seen before.

SARATOGA, N. Y., March 3. — Frank Moran spent his last day at his country training camp at Saratoga lake today entertaining a party of newspapermen and friends from New York. Saratoga air has kept the big fellow in splendid shape and he is now resting up until Monday when he will begin seventeen days of hard gym work at Pat Hawkins' roadhouse near New York.

His work today consisted of a two-hours' skate.

OTTAWA VERY CONFIDENT.

OTTAWA, March 2. The Ottawa Hockey Club held a meeting tonight to consider the request of the Portland club that they, if successful in capturing the N. H. A championship, should agree to play the world's series for the Stanley Cup on the artificial ice at Montreal. They decided that they would insist on the games being played in Ottawa or not at all.

THEATRE HOCKEY STARTS AT THE VIC. RINK TONIGHT

The first theatrical hockey match of the season will be played tonight at the Victoria Rink between the Orpheum and Gayety. The match will take place after the regular shows and is timed to commence at 11:30 p.m. Members of the "Midnight Maidens" playing at the Gayety Theatre and the vaudevillians at the Orpheum will attend and boost the teams of the respective theatres to victory. Both theatres have some good hockey players and a keen match is expected.

The teams will line up as follows:

Orpheum.		Gayety.
J. Trudelle	Goal	Dick Evans (treasurer)
Lapierre (Treasurer)	Point	Gus Caser
J. Pilon	Cover	Tom Conway (Manager)
Walter Crawford	Forward	Pilon
Billy Brady	Forwards	C. Crawford
E. Grady	Forward	Breamer

Orpheum spares — Ted Fowler, Charlie Hogan, E. Goodyear.

Harry Sterns is managing the Orpheum team.

Fred Crow of the Orpheum and Gayety Theatres will be judge of play.

JOHNNY HAYES AS A COACH.

NEW YORK, March 3. — Johnny Hayes, who won the Olympic Marathon in London, May soon be appointed to organize and coach track athletics at Westpoint, it was learned today. Hayes is being touted by two Jersey Congressmen.

JESS WILLARD IS IN FINE CONDITION FOR THE BIG FIGHT

These photographs taken of Jess Willard on the first day of his training for his ten-round contest with Frank Moran indicate that he is already in good condition and will easily be able to prepare himself by March 25, the date of the encounter. The larger photograph, in which the champion is leading his right hand, shows the outline of his stomach. It hangs over the belt slightly, but not as much as would be expected for a man who has been a year without training. He has very little to take off to harden the stomach for a bout, even a long bout. The smaller picture shows Willard boxing with Walter Monohan, his training partner. He was very lively.

REFEREES CHOSEN FOR TOMORROW'S TWO HOCKEY MATCHES

The referees chosen for the two hockey matches in the N. H. A. tomorrow night by President T. Emmett Quinn, are:

At Toronto: Cooper Smeaton and Charley Hoerner.

At Montreal: Johnny Brennan and Reg. Percival.

Special to The Montreal Star.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 3. — The Toronto Maple Leafs have secured a promising outfielder in Martin Becker, recently acquired from the Lewiston Club of the New England League. His previous record will no doubt land him in a regular berth with the Leafs. Becker was with the New York Giants towards the close of the National League season last year. He is strong man in all departments.

It is understood that the Brooklyn Dodgers were also angling for Becker's services, but the deal fell through. Becker bats from either side of his plate and does not find any difficulty in doing so.

MARLIN, Tex., March 3. — Jim Thorpe who caused John McGraw more disappointment than Merkle's mental muff, may yet retrieve the Manager's fading faith. Thorpe batted left handed and poled a home run McGraw is waiting for him to do it again.

MACON, Ga., — Bill Donovan's Yanks are bowling along. The smiling manager separated his flock, segregating the goats, and sent 'em through separate practice.

Philadelphia — Seven members of the Philly squad left here today for the training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. They sail from New York at 1 o'clock this afternoon and are due at Jacksonville Monday morning.

CHICAGO — Heine Zimmerman, star third baseman of the Cubs, is off the frivolous stuff and his business from now on "Business of grabbing the pennant", he said. Heinie reported yesterday, minus fancy duds and diamonds.

MINERAL WELLS, Tex — Joe Benz, White Sox hurler, today awaited an answer to his appeal to Southpaw Dave Danforth, of Palestine, to relieve his loneliness at the Sox training camp here, which is just across from a cemetery.

BOSTON, March 3.—No early roosts for real Hub fans tonight, for the Braves start on the first lap of their Miamiward journey on the half-past midnight train for New York, and following the custom many died-in-the-wool rooters will be there to wish them bon voyage.

NEW ORLEANS — A five inning game between the Indians and Pappooses was the schedule today. Barbare arrived today, leaving only Graney Evans (released) and Howard as absentees. The Mardi Gras has compelled the players to bunk three and four to a room.

TORONTO, March 3.—The Toronto Ball Club have signed up McQuillan, a semi-pro pitcher of Long Island, for a trial this spring.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Three-fingered Brown, giant killer and instructor extraordinary of recruit pitchers, reported to Manager Tinker of the Cubs today. Trainer Bill Doolan was another arrival.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3. — With Gandil at first, Turner at second, Chapman at short and Thomas at third, the Indians are developing a formidable infield. Six former White Sox are on the squad. The first exhibition game is scheduled with New Orleans Sunday.

BOSTON, March 3. — Nobody wants catchers Cady and Thomas of the Red Sox, at least not at the waiver price, and they will step down into the minors soon. With the addition of Sam Agnew, Carrigan feels the world's champions will be well fortified behind the plate.

Ottawa Wants Remaining Hockey Matches Advanced Three Days so as to Make Room for Stanley Cup Games in the East

Special to The Montreal Star.

OTTAWA, March 3.—If the Ottawa Hockey Club wins out in the National Association championship race this season the Stanley Cup series against Portland, Pacific Coast finalists, will take place in Ottawa, or not at all. This decision was reached at a meeting last night of the Ottawa directors.

Manager Slaughnessy received a telegram from Manager Savage, of the Portland team, enquiring as to the probability that extra games will be necessary to decide the winners.

After receiving a message from the Coast Secretary Rosenthal communicated with Trustee Foran, who suggested that in fairness to the Patricks, in order to facilitate the arrangements to come east, the Ottawa's should agree to play on Montreal ice, if ordered by the trustees, at whose discretion they should leave the ice question.

However at the Ottawas meeting last night to consider the question, culminated in a unanimous decision to send the following wire to the Portland Club today: Providing Ottawa Hockey Club wins the N. H. A. championship, we will play the world's series in Ottawa, under the same playing conditions and same financial arrangements which govern the series at the Coast last March. Under no condition will we play outside of Ottawa. Writing N. L. Bate, president."

The Portland Club was preparing to send its team east next week, but the refusal of the Ottawa's to play at Montreal may change their plans. It is understood that Manager Savage also sent wires to the Quebec, Wanderers and Canadiens clubs. Naturally, the westerners will pull for one of the Montreal clubs to win.

Secretary Martin Rosenthal made the suggestion that all games starting with those on March 8, be brought forward three days, thus playing the games on that date on March 6, and those on March 11 on March 8. This movement would save nearly a week in the schedule and would make way for a post season series should a tie occur. This suggestion will be forwarded to President Quinn.

NEW V.A.A.A. SECTION NOW FORMED

The first meeting of the Verdun A. A. A., Harrier Section, was held and officers were elected as follows: Hon. president, O. Woodall; president, W. Eveley; vice-president, A. Dubois; treasurer, G. Caine; secretary, H. Dubois. Committee—H. Chambers (chairman), C. Jamieson, A. Bryant, L. Ashton and T. Masters.

Trainer, C. Pullard. Assistant, L. Roddick.

This club has very promising material on which to depend for the coming season, and expect to turn out in full force for the Caledonia games.

They have a very well known crowd of runners, who are as follows: A. Jamieson, who has run all the big races for the past two years; and who has ten or fifteen medals; G. Caine, another good runner of promising abilities, and H. Dubois, raw at the game, but who can hold his own in any case. Others are T. Masters, L. Ashton, J. Reed, A. Bryant, B. Fuller, J. Reveridge, L. Evans, A. Fitzsimmons and S. Andrews.

They are giving a dance at Wood Hall, on April 7. Tickets are limited to 200, and may be had from O. Woodall, Wood Hall, Verdun avenue, Verdun, or from members.

ALLAN CUP HELD BY SOLDIERS NOW

Special to The Montreal Star.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 3.—Manitoba's Allan Cup defenders, as decided by last night's game at the Auditorium will be the 61st Battalion hockey team, champions of the Patriotic Hockey League. They defeated Victorias, champions of "B" series, in the sudden death play off match, 5 to 3, but Vics were ahead for the greater part of the game.

JACK JOHNSON CHASED.

LONDON, March 3. — Jack Johnson the negro pugilist, and his wife left London last night for Corunna, Spain. Johnson was ordered last week to leave England. It was stated at the time that he would sail for South America.

H. Nash, the Aston Villa forward, is in hospital with a fractured leg, sustained whilst playing in a Birmingham Suburban League match.

INDUSTRIAL CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP STILL UNSETTLED

With only one more scheduled game to play and only one point between the teams, matters look very complicated for next week.

Pauze and Gohier, who are still leading by one point, play again with Ford Motors, who beat them before 5 to 1, and if they repeat, Pauze and Gohier may loose their chance for championship as the second game is between Canada Bread, who are only one point behind the leaders, and Harrison Bread play together and a win for Canada Bread and a lost for Pauze and Gohier, give the former the title. The lost games will surely be the most contested of the season and are sure to bring forth a great display of hockey.

WAS A SURPRISE.

The loss of Pauze and Gohier to Harrison Bread came as a surprise to the supporters of both teams and complicated matters very much for next week. The lumberjacks were very unlucky and missed several chances of scoring. The game was undoubtedly one of the fastest played in the league this year and was noticeable for the absence of rough play despite the fast playing.

Pauze and Gohier kept the rubber very much around Harrison's nets during the first period and managed to score first on a lone rush by D. Gagnon. The bakers earned up just before half time. The second period which was curtailed on account of a late start, was also very fast and fascinating, the Lumberjacks managing to score first. C. McDonald doing the trick on a pass from Z. Rochon, the baker boys evening up again and it looked like a tie with only thirty seconds to play when the baker boys scored out of a scrimmage in front of Pauze and Gohier nets. It would be an injustice to make a special mention of any one player, as the whole teams played grand hockey and the followers of the clubs were all unanimous in saying that it was undoubtedly the best game played by the league this winter.

Manager Germain is still very confident and expects to maintain his lead by defeating Ford Motors next week, but he has a hard game ahead of him and must be very careful in his coaching. Score: Harrison Bread, 3; Pauze and Gohier, 2.

THE SECOND GAME.

The second game, which was between Ford Motors and Canada Bread, proved also to be a good game with a few stiff bodychecks to liven things a bit. As these two teams were tied for second position, the brand of play displayed was worth a lot to the spectator. The first period ended scoreless and the pace put up at the second period was next to professionalism. Canada Bread, after repeated attempts caught Webb napping and scored, St. Pierre scoring on a pass from Dupras. For a while Ford kept the play around Canada Bread nets and shot after shot was cleared by Germain. Finally Bredin of the baker boys managed to score, thus beating the Motors 2 to 0.

STANDING OF THE INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE.

	W.	L.	D.	P.
Pauze and Gohier	4	3	1	9
Canada Bread	2	2	4	8
*Harrison Bread	3	3	1	7
*Ford Motor	2	3	2	6

These two clubs have one extra game to play outside of the schedule game next Thursday.

BURLESQUE HOCKEY TAKING ITS TURN

Now that the regular hockey schedules are nearly played out, Burlesque Hockey is on the order of the day.

The doctors from the Western and the General Hospitals started the ball rolling with their match in the Arena, when they requisitioned an undertaker's waggon to carry the paraphernalia, and made use of a disappearing eighth man.

On Saturday at the Dixon Rink, the Hochelaga Ladies team will play a Hochelaga Boys team, the boys playing in skirts and using only one hand, although there will also be a regular game.

On Monday there will be a masquerade.

The following communication tells of another burlesque match.

From the Stanley Hockey Club:
Maisonneuve,
March 3rd, 1916.

To the Sporting Editor of The Montreal Daily Star.

Dear Sir,—We have arranged with Mr. Doran, of the Jubilee Rink, to play a burlesque game of hockey on Friday evening, March 10, and no doubt it will be the game of the season, the rules for this being that any player who has at any time played hockey, or can skate over well, will not be allowed to participate in the game. Seeing that nearly all the men composing the two teams have not had a pair of skates on for the last fifteen or twenty years, they certainly will burn up the ice with their speed. In the event of this occurring we were thinking of having a few of the East End firemen on hand. We were also thinking seriously of having the General Hospital send down the ambulance and a few doctors, so with doctors, firemen and a large force of police, we would be sure of protection. The North End Lady Stanleys have kindly consented to play the Maisonneuve Lady Stanleys on the same night.

Trusting you will give this your earnest attention.

We remain.

Unknown Lady:—The Waterloo Cup generally known as the Derby for greyhounds, was coursed over the flats of the Altcar Club at Liverpool, on Feb. 18, and won by E. Hulton's Hormonicon. H. Hardy's Hopsack was second. The winner received the Waterloo cup valued at $500 and a purse of $2,500 awarded by the Earl of Sefton.

RINGS FOR LACROSSE PLAYERS.

At a meeting of the executive of the Montreal Lacrosse Club it was decided to hold an entertainment for the members and players of the team of last season. The entertainment will be a smoker on March 9, at the Peel street club house, at which gold rings will be given to the members of the team.

A general meeting of the Nomads Football Club will be held in the North Branch Y.M.C.A., corner of Park avenue and St. Viateur streets, on April 7, 1916, at 8 p.m. sharp. All friends and football players cordially invited. Any soccer players who would like to join kindly send their names to the secretary, A. Peters, 3000 Mance street.

AMBITIOUS IDEA FOR LADY HOCKEY BARNSTORMING

Local Movie Men Said to be Willing to Invest From $5,000 to $10,000 to Send Two Teams Across the Continent

An ambitious project in connection with ladies' hockey was proposed to Len Porteous, manager of the Western team yesterday.

The proposers say that they are willing to invest from $5,000 to $10,000 in a ladies' hockey trip from Montreal to the Pacific Coast, moving pictures to play a prominent part in the barnstorming expedition.

The idea is to have moving pictures taken here in Montreal of the two teams that will go, and to have these exhibited for some days previous to the arrival of the teams in the towns where they will play.

The men at the back of the idea are prepared to provide a special car and to take chaperons along.

The trip and return would probably take about six weeks.

RECIPROCITY IN AUTO MATTERS

Sporting Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—In reading your page 3 notice a clipping referring to Ontario automobiles being permitted to enter Michigan free. In reply to the inquiry on the heading of the article I beg to say that the Province of Quebec reciprocates in the matter of licenses with any province, state or country in the world, which grants the registered owners of automobiles in this province a like exemption, for a period not exceeding ninety days. It was only a year or two ago that the Province of Ontario agreed to reciprocate with the other provinces of the Dominion, and a campaign has been under way for some time asking the Government to amend the motor law, so as to reciprocate with the other States the same as we do.

Yours very truly,
GEO. A. McNAMEE.
Secretary-Treasurer.

CALEDONIA CURLERS OUTPLAY OPPONENTS FOR TROPHY HONORS

Rink generalship and aggressive curling won the day for Caledonia cracks last night, when W. R. J. Hughes skipped his rink into possession of the Chateau Frontenac Trophy on Montreal ice. After losing 5 ends out of the first 6, and with St. Andrew's apparently settled down to a quiet disconcerting draw game, Hughes broke out of the single counts with a nerve-breaking count of 6. Two perfect pucking out shots of the Caledonia skip eliminated the St. Andrew's metal and let Vallance with an end wide open to a tee high draw. Vallance's last stone was narrow and wicked a guard.

Up to that time St. Andrew's had more than held Caledonia, while the best player on the ice was J. G. Stewart at third for Vallance. Stewart's length was perfect and he hardly missed a chance. He was a big factor, too, in the skipping of the rink. After another 6 count had been registered in as easy manner as the first the morale of the St. Andrew's team was broken. Vallance had played at first with fine restraint and control but in the succeeding ends he was heavy, and more than once gave his opponents the shot.

Caledonia continued to be dangerous every end and were distinctly stronger in the individual play of Hughes, who drew in or pucked out with equal precision. Harry Hutchison played about 90 per cent right through. The second count of 6 left the spectators asking, "how much will Caledonia win by?" In the concluding ends of the game the match interest was gone, but the curling of the leads and seconds did not deteriorate. J. A. Molsan, at lead for Vallance, was a shade better than the crack lead he was faced with. Fortier was steady as a rock from first to last.

W. E. Findlay presented the trophy to the winners on behalf of the Chateau Frontenac committee members, who were unable to be present. In addition to their courtesy in allowing the final to be played off in Montreal, the Chateau Frontenac donors also provided the edibles for the rinking parts.

On other local ice last night the club trophy season fast waned. There were 3 finals and 3 semi-finals disposed of all told.

GREAT LACROSSE PLAYER DEAD

Special to The Montreal Star.

OTTAWA, March 3.—Frank Bissonnette, known as one of Canada's greatest lacrosse players in the palmy days of the Capital Club, died here last night, following two weeks' illness with typhoid pneumonia. Bissonnette, who was employed in the North-West Mounted Police Department, came to Ottawa from Kingston in 1888. For many years he played on the Capital team, when they held the championship of the world.

AMATEURS UP TO PROFESSIONALS IN FISTIC WORK

Spriggins, a Montreal player, scored the goal that allowed the Lachine club to retain the Ross Cup. In the third session, with less than five minutes to go, Norton worked his way to the Montreal end, and after being skated into the corner by Read, whipped the puck out to centre in hopes that some of his team might get a chance shot. Spriggins made an effort to get the puck but barely touched it, altering its course and it slipped into the nets unseen by Lukeman.

This goal gave Lachine a lead of 2 to 1 in the game and tied up the score for the two games, which under the rules allowed Lachine to retain the trophy.

The play for the first two periods was almost free of rough tactics, although it warmed up in the final session, and included the usual fistic encounter between players. The bout was staged by Arnold and Tannahill, but was of short duration as they were quickly separated by the officials. The game was witnessed by a fair sized crowd, and was a clever exhibition of hockey.

There was little to choose between the teams. The players started at a fast clip and maintained the pace to the finish. In the opening session Montreal started on the offensive, and only the back checking of the Lachine forwards held down the score. After the expiration of the first ten minutes Montreal played on the defensive, and Lachine on the offensive. They carried the play to the Montreal end, only to be stopped on reaching the outside defence, and forced to shoot from long range.

On changing over for the second period there was no let up to the pace, and Montreal broke into the scoring column shortly after the commencement of the play. Read carried the play up the ice and passed over to Arnold, who shot and followed in to tally the first and only goal scored by the Winged Wheelers. Shortly after the face-off at centre the play was carried in behind the Montreal nets, and Tannahill passed out the puck, offering an opportunity to O'Grady to shoot. He lobbed one in, and the score on the game was tied, while Montreal still maintained their single goal margin on the round. For the remaining time in the period both teams failed to score.

On hanging over for the third period Montreal again assumed the ofensive, but were unable to score. They dropped back on the defensive and allowed Lachine to carry the play to them. In this way the Winged Wheelers held their opponents out for over fifteen minutes. Norton broke through, and although he was skated into the corner he took chances and whipped the puck out in front of the nets which spelled defeat for Montreal, as it glided into the nets after touching Spriggins' stick.

CECIL HART RESIGNS.

Cecil Hart, who has been one of the trustees of the Art Ross trophy since it was donated, stated last night that he had resigned owing to the fact that Harry Bell was allowed to play with Montreal by the other trustee after he had already played in one series with the Stars against St Nicholas, of New York. Bell played with the Stars a year ago and this season jumped to the Montreal team after playing the cup series.

More Records Go at the Pittsburg Skating Meeting

Special to the Montreal Star.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 3.—Anton O'Sickey, of Cleveland, won the International Indoor Skating Championship meet which closed here Wednesday. Carl Fisher, of Milwaukee, was a close second, while Ben O'Sickey, brother of the winner, took third honors. Harry Cody, United States and Canada outdoor champion, who hails from Toronto, was fourth. A bad spill and alleged jockeying by the O'Sickey brothers practically put him out of the fight for the honors.

Ben O'Sickey in the half-mile event, shattered the world's indoor record. He skated the half in 1.15 3-8, three seconds faster than the record made by Joe Hoering at Cleveland. Anton O'Sickey and Harry Cody pressed the Cleviand youth to such an extent that he had to shatter the record to win. Summary:

One half-mile — Ben O'Sickey, Cleveland; Anton O'Sickey, Cleveland; Harry Cody, Toronto. Time, 1.15 3-5.

One and a half miles—Carl Fisher, Milwaukee; Anton O'Sickey, Cleveland; Harry Cody, Toronto. Time, 4.18 1-5.

Three mile championship — Carl Fisher, Milwaukee; Anton O'Sickey, Cleveland; Ben O'Sickey, Cleveland. Time, 9.19 3-5.

DOINGS OF THE SOCCER WORLD.

Shamrocks have, through Billy Chambers' efforts, signed on Tommy Saye and Jimmy McIlroy.

C. P. R. have to date secured six men, with promises of nearly all the old hands. A new man named Cameron, who played last season in Quebec with the Ross Rifle Club, is supposed to be quite a capture.

Josh Wilson is certainly a soccer fan, and possibly the only man that can put a quart into a pint pot, for not content with being secretary of the P.Q.F.A., he joins the executive of Grand Trunks, and now offers himself as candidate for the secretaryship of the First Division. All of which being translated means that Josh is going some, and for practical service he can go too.

Andy Yuile turned up once again for the supposed annual meeting of the First Division, repeating Monday's trip, which fruitless journey's will get on Andy's nerves.

MR. F. W. RINDER, chairman of the Aston Villa F.C., has communicated with the West Bromwich Albion, Birmingham, and Wolverhampton Wanderers' clubs, suggesting a series of twelve matches between the four clubs on behalf of local charities. The dates suggested are the five Saturdays in April and Easter Monday.

K. C. SWIMMING POOL OFFICIALLY OPEN MARCH 18

The Knights of Columbus' swimming pool at their club house, 354 Sherbrooke street east, will be opened March 18. The Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, who have granted the request for a sanction to hold an open night on March 18, have also arranged a program. There will be fifteen events in all, including the heats and finals of the different races.

Invitations have been issued to all recognized swimming clubs in the city to send entries for the open night, and competitors are assured from the M.A.A., M.S.C., Laurentian, All-Year-Round and O'Connell Swimming Clubs. The following is an outline of the program:

40 yards, open to members of the Knights of Columbus.

40 yards, for boys affiliated with schools of the Montreal Swimming Association.

120 yards, open to members of recognized amateur clubs.

Relay race, four to a team, each swimming two lengths, open to schools affiliated with Montreal School Swimming Association.

80 yards, open to members of the Knights of Columbus.

Life-saving demonstration, Royal Life Saving Society methods.

220 yards, open to members of recognized amateur clubs.

Diving exhibition.

Relay race, four to a team, two lengths each, open to teams from recognized amateur clubs.

BASKETBALL NOTES

The Westmount Y. M. C. A. Junior Basketballers defeated North Branch Y. M. C. A. 26 to 22 on the former's floor last night, in a Provincial League match, while the intermediate fixture went to the North Enders by default, through Westmount being unable to muster a team. The teams in the junior fixture were as follows:

Westmount Y. M. C. A. (26)—Crankshaw, and Schale, forwards; Darcey, centre; McLean and Lawrence, defence.

North Branch (22)—Allan and Carmichael, forwards, McCoo, centre; Major and Hoult, defence.

Referee—R. Saunders, Central Y. M. C. A.

Both the intermediate and junior Central Y.M.C.A. basketballers were victorious over the Railroad Y. M. C. A. team at the Drummond street gymnasium last night.

The result of the intermediate match leaves the North Branch and Central teams practically on even terms.

The outcome of the junior fixture practically gives the championship to the Central Branch quintette. Dick Saunders and H. Beecher were the most effective scorers for the winning intermediate team.

Basketball Tourney.

A meeting of the Central Y.M.C.A. basketball executive, comprising W. Finlay, secretary; R. Sanders, J. Craig and F. Leurgans, was held last night, when it was decided to hold the annual tourney from March 29 to April 1 inclusive. Entry forms have been mailed to all local clubs, while teams from Ottawa and Macdonald College are also expected.

Wants World's Skating Champion to Turn Pro. to Meet McLean

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, March 3.— President Julian T. Fitzgerald of Western Skating Association is planning to send Gobby McLean of Chicago to Norway to race against Oscar Mathieson, the world's amateur speed champion, if the Norweigan is willing to turn professional. If Mathieson decided to remain an amateur Harry Cody (Toronto), Anton O'Sicky (Cleveland), or Lot Roe (Toronto), may be sent abroad to meet him. Mathieson has held the championship for four successive years, and also held the title in 1908 and 1909.

THE Northern Command C.C.A.'s 7-mile race at Morpeth attracted 248 runners, representing twenty-two teams. Lance-Corp. Hatton (Sherwood Foresters) was again successful in 40 mins. 6 secs. Pte. Bethel (Denbigh Hussars) being second. The lowest team score was 520 points, compiled by the 37th Northumberland Fusiliers.

STECHER GIVES WRESTLING GAME NEW LEASE OF LIFE

CHICAGO, March 3. — Jack Herman, former manager of Zbyszko, and now a producer of moving pictures, pulled the sensation of the week in local sport circles, when as promoter of the Stecher-Freberg match he packed 7,000 persons into the Coliseum to witness a wrestling match. The game was considered hopelessly buried here as a result of a long session of hippodrome stuff that had blackened the bouts.

Herman came out with the announcement that he had placed his entire bank roll, which is supposed to be of pretty hefty proportions, behind an effort to restore square wrestling in Chicago, and explained the method by which he expects to guarantee the fans against disappointment.

STECHER AGAINST STALLING.

"Stecher has put new life into the mat industry by refusing absolutely to 'do business' with an opponent," said Jack. "He will not allow any wrestler to 'stay' with him longer than he is entitled to.

"In the old days the better wrestler usually won, but undoubtedly there was a good deal of stalling for the purpose of giving the crowd a run for its money. It was the theory that the fans wanted long-drawn-out affairs, instead of quick and decisive finishes.

"Stecher put an end to that dream. To all overtures he invariably told his opponents: 'You throw me as quickly as you can, and that's all you've got to do. You can bet your life I'll make you hit the mat just as soon as I can.'

QUICK FINISHES POPULAR.

"So Stecher's reputation as a quick worker went all over the country, and now wherever he appears he packs the house. The fans expect him to dispose of an opponent in record-breaking time, and he makes good. They are not disappointed by a quick finish. Instead, they demand it.

"The attendance at the Coliseum Wednesday night proves that square wrestling will pay. I won't touch any other kind. I expect to put on several bouts within the next few months, and every ticket I sell will carry a coupon calling for the return of the money if there is any complaint. I'll run square wrestling if it breaks me."

Herman expressed doubt that Gotch and Stecher actually have been matched for Labor Day in Nebraska.

"I'm in the field for that match myself," he said, "and I think I have a chance to land it. As a matter of fact, I am ready to put up $40,000 right now, but I don't know what the ultimate price will be.

STECHER MAY NEED TIME.

"A match between Stecher and Gotch is inevitable, and many men well posted on wrestling believe Stecher will conquer the champion. Beyond a doubt Stecher physically is the greatest wrestler of his time. Mentally he may not be ripe for a championship affair. Stage fright and lack of experience might beat him.

"Stecher needs several matches before he gets up against Gotch. I want to use him here, but it is difficult to find opponents for him. Aberg was considered, but declined to meet Stecher, except at Graeco-Roman, and Joe will not wrestle anything but catch-as-catch-can."

WAR TOLL OF SPORT

CAPT. V. J. WOODWARD.

Capt. Vivian J. Woodward, Middlesex Regiment, 17th Battalion, who has ben wounded in France, is one of the most famous Association footballers the game has known, and the best amateur centre forward since G. O. Smith. When war broke out Capt. Woodward, together with Frank Buckley, another international, enlisted in the Footballers' Battalion, and quickly got his commission. An architect by profession he came to Tottenham Hotspur from the Clacton Club many years ago, and at once established a great reputation. On some twenty occasions he has represented his county. He became a member of the Chelsea team a few seasons ago. It is said that Capt. Woodward has been so severely wounded that it is unlikely he will play football again.

LIEUT. J. A. LOVELL DEAD.

Second Lieut. J. A. Lovell, the honorary secretary of the Hockey Association, has been killed in action in France. Lieut. Lovell, who attained international honors for England at full back, was only 29 years of age, and the popular captain of the Tulse Hill Club. He was also a lawn tennis player of considerable ability and a frequent competitor in the metropolitan tournaments. It is a sad coincidence that his death follows upon that of Captain Philip Collin, whom he succeded as secretary of the Hockey Association. A memorial service for Lieut. Lovell was held at Trinity Church, Tulse Hill, on February 12.

THE snooker match, at Birmingham, between H. W. Stevenson and A. Cope, the best of 75 games, was won by Stevenson by 38 to 37.

$3,225 FOR COLT AT GARDEN SALE EXCEEDS THAT OF LAST YEAR BY $25

Class From Walnut Hall — Largest Attendance in History of New York Midwinter Auctions is Recorded—Lively Bidding

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—The general result of the Midwinter Sale's opening day at Madison Square Garden far surpassed the expectations of the sale management, consignors and a large number of horsemen and breeders who were present. A yearling at $3,225 was the highest price for the day and exceeded the record of last year for a youngster of that age by $25.

Ten yearlings by the stallion San Francisco and from Walnut Hall Farm averaged $1,61.50 per head, while the total number from that farm—thirty-two yearlings and one two year old—sold at an average of $406.25, which caused a genuine surprise to horsemen and fully demonstrated the fact that there is a great demand for highly bred youngsters well engaged in colt stakes and good for racing in the much-increased number of juvenile races.

Next in importance to the Walnut Hall Farm consignment was that from the lot sold by Gen. C. C. Watts, all the get of the noted stallion Gen. Watts (3) 2.06 3-4. A total of twenty-one head were sold for an average of $342, including sixteen yearlings which averaged close to $250 per head.

The first high price for a Walnut Hall Farm yearling was $2,025, which was knocked down to Walter Cox after a spirited bidding, the choice being Sandorra which visitors at Lexington have placed as first choice of the whole consignment, but whose judgment proved wrong after Al Thomas had paraded Truxton, a colt also by San Francisco, over the track.

At a bid of $1,000, the price was quickly carried to $2,500, when the contest narrowed down between A. H. Cosden of this city, who paid the record yearling price last year, and Walter Cox, who was the only one of the six judges to name this the best of the lot, as published in last Sunday's Morning Telegraph.

To Cox's $25 bids Mr. Cosden added an even $75 up to $2,200, and the former's next $25 got the prize. Cox also bought Salinas, by San Francisco, paying $1,025 at his regular $52 additions, as Auctioneer Bain positively refused to accept $10 bids.

The fourth yearling selling over the $1,000 mark was Hippodrome, a lively stepping bay colt by Moko, and tracing back to the famous "silk family" through his dam, the buyer being the noted Lexington colt trainer, James Snell.

$1,000 FOR A TWO-YEAR-OLD.

The Axworthy two-year-old filly, Mistle Thrush, out of the Red Wilkes mare, Mentua Maker, dam of ten in the list, was bought by Herman Grossman of this city for $1,000. The first four offering from the Watts consignment averaged close to $750, including Mahomet Watts, 2.08 1-4, a bay stallion seven years old; the racing stallion Twinkling Dan (4), 2.06 1-4; the five-year-old filly Miss Watts, and the three-year-old colt Oscar Watts.

The two highest-priced yearlings from this consignment averaged $525 each, while all the other youngsters brought all they were considered worth, judged by appearance, conformation and general action and showing over the track.

Fancy Equestrian Carnival to be Held at Riding Academy

The annual fancy dress carnival of the pupils and members will be held this evening at the Academy on Hillside Avenue. The program has been arranged for this function and equals those of previous years, which have always been most attractive. The programme will include Musical Ride in fancy costume, Military Manoeuvres by the 17th Duke of Yorks on horseback and hurdle jumping by some of our best local jumpers. Prizes will be given for the best costumes worn by ladies and gentlemen as well as for the best comic costume, also, for the jumping classes. The prizes will consist of silver cups first and second prize. The program so arranged, should be a very interesting evening's entertainment.

A SUM of £10 was voted to the British Red Cross Society at the annual meeting of the Essex County Bowling Association.

MONTREAL SKI CLUB ANNUAL JUMPS SATURDAY

The Montreal Ski Club will hold their thirteenth annual ski jumping competition tomorrow at the Cote des Neiges hill. The events will start at 2.30 o'clock.

Out of town entries are assured, as word has been received from the Ottawa Ski Club and Dartmouth College that teams will be sent from these cities. Mr. Lindholm, of Sweden, has also entered, while the local club will be represented by Alex. Olsen, Frank McKinnon, Isthy, Denman, Adolf Olsen, Green, Lockeberg, Scott and Elliott, as will as several others.

The Class "B" event includes an intercollegiate competition between Dartmouth College and the McGill division of the Montreal Ski Club, and this promises to add further interest to the meet. This will be the first public meeting over the large jump, and the executive of the club believe that a new record will be made for distance. One of the past presidents of the club has offered a cup for a jump of 100 feet or over to be made by a Canadian jumper, and it is thought that several of the local members have a chance to win the silverware.

The grounds are reached by taking a Guy street car and transferring at the head of the hill, the jumps being opposite Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

"NUTTY" CURRAN, the Plymouth heavyweight boxer, is home on leave for a week or so, looking all the better for his hard work with the fleet. At the present time he would be capable of putting up a good fight with any of the big fellows.

Montagnards of Quebec Will Play La Casquette Here

The Montagnards, of the Quebec City League, will play here on the night of March 8, at the Jubilee Rink, against La Casquettes, in the first match of the best two out of three, for a handsome cup, given by Harry Fontaine, a well-known sportsman and hotelkeeper of the Ancient City.

Manager Lucien Riopel, of the La Casquettes, played the Montagnards an exhibition some weeks ago in Quebec, and was beaten by four goals to three. La Casquette scored just as the gong sounded, but the count was not allowed by the Quebec official. In order to settle which club is the strongest, Mr. Fontaine offered to give a handsome trophy for a series of the best two out of three, so this coming game will be the first one.

Manager Riopel will have his strongest team for these series, and is confident of acding another handsome trophy to the North Enders' club-rooms. The second match will be played in Quebec next week.

The Montagnards are running a large excursion to Montreal for this match, and will have any amount of support.

Arrangements have been made for a match to be played before the Montagnard-La Casquette fixture, between two of the ladies teams.

Manager Riopel expects that Miss Lapensee, the crack Cornwall player, will be on one of the teams.

LITTLE STORIES for Bedtime
By T. W. Burgess

PETER RABBIT HAS SPRING THOUGHTS.

(Copyright, 1916, by T. W. Burgess.)

Winsome Bluebird's on the way;
He is due most any day.

It was Old Mother West Wind's children, the Merry Little Breezes, that sang this softly as they danced over the Green Meadows and around the Old Briar Patch. Peter Rabbit pricked up his long ears.

"How do you know? Who told you so?" he demanded.

"Nobody told us so; we just FEEL it, Peter," cried the Merry Little Breezes and kept on singing as they danced.

"Huh!" said Peter. "Feeling isn't KNOWING. Perhaps Winsome is on his way, and perhaps he isn't. I hope she is, for that would mean Mistress Spring is on her way, too, and she can't get here too soon to suit me. But I would feel a lot more sure of it if I could see some signs."

"Use your eyes, Peter! Use your eyes! There are flowers in bloom already, for we've seen them. What better sign that Mistress Spring is coming do you want?" chanted the Merry Little Breezes.

Peter jumped a foot off the ground. "Say," he cried, "are you crazy? Look at this snow all over the Green Meadows! Do you expect me to believe any such story as that?"

"We don't care whether you believe it or not, it is so," cried the Merry Little Breezes, dancing around Peter and throwing snow in his face.

Welcome Robin's on the wing;
Very soon you'll hear him sing.

With this the Merry Little Breezes danced away across the Green Meadows toward the Green Forest, leaving Peter to stare after them as if quite sure that they really were as crazy as they seemed.

"Of course it isn't true," muttered Peter. "The very idea of saying that they had seen flowers in bloom when the ground is still frozen and there is snow everywhere! I don't believe a word of it."

Nevertheless Peter couldn't get it out of his head that the Merry Little Breezes had seen something that he hadn't. Thoughts of the glad springtime began to chase each other through his funny little head. Two or three times he found himself listening for the soft voice of Winsome Bluebird. One after another his friends and neighbors who had been sleeping all winter popped into his head, and he wondered when each would wake up, and if he would be the first to greet them. There were Striped Chipmunk and Johnny Chuck and Bobby Coon and Unc' Billy Possum and Old Mr. Toad and Grandfather Frog and Spotty the Turtle and Digger the Badger and Mr. Blacksnake and his cousins and Buster Bear. Which one would be the first to rub the sleepy-sand out of his eyes and come out to see what had happened during the long months he had been asleep. Just thinking about them and of the joy and happiness which sweet Mistress Spring would bring with her gave Peter a funny feeling which little by little he recognized as the very feeling that the Merry Little Breezes had spoken of—the feeling that Mistress Spring really and truly WAS on her way.

"Huh!" exclaimed Peter just as he had before, and shook himself. But he couldn't shake off that feeling. Then he remembered what the Merry Little Breezes had said about signs and about using his eyes. "Huh!" said he again. "I guess if there was anything to see I'd see it! There's nothing the matter with my eyes, and I haven't seen any signs of spring yet. Flowers in bloom! The very idea!"

WHAT GIRLS MAY DO
BY JESSIE ROBERTS

MANY WOMEN ARE EDITORS.

"Dear Miss Roberts — I have graduated from college after paying special attention to English literature, rhetoric, composition, modern literature, and allied subjects, intending to take some position in a publishing house.

"I would like to ask you if you advise a woman to go into magazine work, the working end, not the writing. Do women get first class positions on magazines and can you by dint of hard work fulfil a real ambition? If it is a good line of endeavor what steps should I take to get started? please sign "College Woman."

Women stand exactly as good a chance as men to get an editorial position on our magazines. There are a great many women holding such positions, as well as many more who are assistant editors under men. The work is interesting and well paid, and those who are in it love it. Your training is good technically, but it is the practical end of the thing that you must work for now, and for that you will have to be willing to take a subordinate place in any office where a chance is offered you.

There seems to be rather a tendency to give editorial positions to college women, but many such women prejudice their chances by refusing to realize that they must begin just as close to the bottom as though college did not lie behind. Probably you will be able to get a place as a reader under the head reader, with filling work to do, at a small salary. Once in, the rest depends upon yourself. You should aim to get a place as assistant on the actual work of the magazine, think up good ideas for improving various departments, or starting new ones. Show that you have it in you to help forward the magazine, and that your heart is in the work as well as your head.

Make yourself noticed, and you will soon find you are advancing. But you must have more than mere knowledge of good literature to do that.

Ans.—The invention of the telegraph has been a subject of much controversy. It was made possible by the work of Henry in the United States. Wheatstone in Great Britain. Ampere in France. (3) For his playing of the violin.

She was unconscious for a while, then felt him, and turned toward him. They looked and smiled, and cherie. If some great artists would play that little scene as they did it there, the great world would cry, Behold! we have at last seen the perfect Romeo and Juliet!

"He was the janitor's assistant at first, but now I think he has been made janitor, for I do not see the other man, and my Romeo now wears the cap of high office. You see how earnestly they talk today? Somehow I have the idea that very soon I shall see her brushing her own rugs on the roof, and I hope they do not go away.

"I hope so, too, for I want to see madame's villagers again," said Mrs. Happy Homemaker.

DEFINITIONS.

"Man," God's strength.
"Woman," God's tenderness.
"Child," God's beauty.
"Tact," the mind's prime minister.
"A True Marriage," an agreement between earth and heaven.
"Education," the mental house swept and dusted.
"Music," the unlocking of a door in heaven.
"Sorrow," a road that leads to life.
"Solitude," the teacher of fools and the companion of wise men.
"Character," the soul directing the body.
"Gladness," the looking glass of the heart.
"Hate," the devil's laugh.
"Love," God's essence.

Only two words to describe "Love," but I somehow think they fit well.

I think your correspondence page is ever so nice and interesting.

"BROWNY BIRD."

Ed. note—Thank you.

SPANISH INQUISITION.

(1) Do you know of any substance which will make the hands white where the following precautions are observed: keeping hands out of water sufficiently drying them well after washing protecting them from cold and putting skin food on them before retiring.

(2) What is meant by "The Spanish Inquisition?"

(3) What are the names and addresses of some of your fashionable clothing department stores from which one may order by catalogue.

BETTY.

Ans.—(1) You seem to be doing everything necessary. Try sleeping with loose kid gloves on the hands, and don't wear tight waist-bands or arm-holes or tight clothing of any kind.

(2) The Spanish Inquisition began in 1478 and was abolished in 1820. It was an ecclesiastical tribunal whose duties were to suppress heresy.

(3) Study the advertising columns of The Star or send me a stamped, addressed envelope, repeating your question. I cannot give business addresses in this column.

K. OF K.

Will you kindly publish as soon as possible the biography of Lord Kitchener, also a short account of the work he is doing and has done in the present war.

M. ROSE YOUNG.

Ans.—Born Crother House, Ballylong ford, Co. Kerry, June 24, 1850, son of the late Lt.-Col. H. H. Kitchener of Cossington, Leicestershire, and Miss Chevalier of Aspall Hall, Suffolk. Educated at Royal Military Academy, Woolwich. Entered Royal Engineers 1871; Major-General, 1896; made Lieut.-Colonel for his work in the Nile Expedition, 1884-85; given C. B. and clasp for engagement at Toski on the Soudan frontier in 1889; Adjutant-General Egyptian army, 1888-92; Commanded Dongola Expeditionary Force, 1896, (promoted Major-General, K. C. B., 1st class Osmanieh British medal, Khedive's medal with two clasps) commanded Khartoum Expedition 1898, (thanks of Parliament, raised to peerage, given grant of £30,000, G. C. B., two clasps to Khedive's medal; Chief of Staff of Forces in South Africa, 1899-1900; Commander-in-Chief, 1900-1902 promoted Lieut.-General and General, received Viscountcy, grant of £50,000, thanks of Parliament; Commander-in-Chief, India, 1902-9. In 1914 was created first Earl of Khartoum and of Broome. Since 1914 has been Secretary-of-State for War.

OLGA.

The reason why I have not answered your question is because you may buy the song you wish in any music store.

WHY NO KISSING?

What is your reason for always saying that kissing is not right in every answer you give young girls. You always say "No" to the kiss question. Soon by your no, kissing will be no more. You cannot answer the question I put to you. Why no kissing? I can answer it—a few may; but you always say, "Let no man kiss you." If a girl really loves a man, I don't see why kissing is a sin. Why do women kiss one another? Don't try and put "No" again, or you will soon have kissing off the list.

MRS. MALSON.

Ans.:—You misunderstand me. I do not say that kissing is always wrong, but I do say that promiscuous and "easy" kissing cheapens a girl, and that she should reserve her kisses for the man she intends to marry. This idea that a girl should let a man kiss her good night because he has brought her home from the rink or a dance, is so ridiculous and so wrong that I am trying to combat it in this column. As to why women kiss each other, well that's "one of the things no fellow can find out."

FLAGS AND INFANTS.

(1) What is the meaning and significance of the Canadian flag? The coat-of-arms on the flag?

(2) What is the meaning and significance of the German flag?

(3) Where can I get literature on infant mortality in Montreal?

MRS. C. M. H., New York.

Ans.:—(1) Canada has the same flag as the Mother Country. Canada's nautical marine flag has the Canadian coat of arms in the fly. The device is the armorial bearings of the Dominion and the wreath is of maple, our special emblem being the maple leaf.

(2) The German navy flag bears an "iron cross" of the Teutonic Order and dates from the close of the 12th century. For five centuries black and white have been the Hohenzollern colors. The mercantile marine flag is a tricolor of black, white and red, and is emblematic of the joining of the Hohenzollern black and white with the red and white of the Hanseatic league. This flag came into being when the North German Confederacy was established (November 25, 1867), at the close of the Austro-Prussian War.

The German Imperial Standard has the iron cross with its white border displayed on a yellow field, diapered over in each of the four quarters with three black eagles and a crown. In the centre of the cross is a shield bearing the arms of Prussia, surmounted by a crown, and surrounded by a collar of the Order of the Black Eagle. In the four arms of the crown is the legend "Gott mit uns, 1870." (The eagle is one of the German national emblems).

(3) Write Doctor Boucher, Medical Health Officer, Montreal, for statistics.

DISLIKES HER TEACHER.

Would you please tell me if a girl of fifteen is too young to wear skirts and blouses, being very small.

(2) If a girl's parents can compel her to stay at school against her wishes, as she cannot get along with her teacher, knowing they despise one another.

(3) Would you advise me to have a private teacher to come to my house, as I do not want to neglect my education.

(4) Is it improper for a girl of fifteen, being a very good swimmer to wear a one-piece bathing suit. Some people are shocked; others say I am quite sensible.

LITTLE ONE.

Ans.:—(1) Probably 'one-piece" dresses or "middy" blouses and skirts would look better.

(2) They certainly can compel her to stay at school. You should make up your mind to like your teacher, or, at any rate to learn all you can from her. It is very foolish for a young girl like you to get the idea that you "despise" your teacher. Be thankful you have the opportunity for education.

(3) That is for your parents to decide.

(4) I would not wear it at a "mixed bathing" place, but it would be all right if you were swimming at some place where there are only girls.

TRAVELLING SUIT.

1. I have a brother gone with the 22nd Regiment from whom I have not had any answers to my letters for over six months. Is there an address where I could send his letters and they would be forwarded to him, as I think he may have changed company?

2. Please let me know if you think the enclosed sample would be suitable for a travelling suit if trimmed with black silk military braid. I am getting married in July and I would prefer a blue serge, but I have these goods on hand. Perhaps it will be too old.

GERTRUDE P.

Ans.—1. Write to Adjutant-general. Department Militia, Ottawa, giving your brother's name, rank, number, regiment and contingent, and asking if the Militia Department has any news of him.

2. I should prefer it trimmed with self-colored braid or not trimmed at all. I think the black braid on that shade would be old, but otherwise the color is very good and fashionable. If you wanted a note of color about it, wear a flesh-pink blouse with it, and have a bunch of pretty French flowers in pink and mauve on your hat.

LANGUAGE OF CARDS.

Luckiest—Clubs, for happiness.

Hearts—Joy, liberality, good temper.

Diamonds — Quarrels, delay and trouble.

Spades—Sorrow sickness and reverses.

Asking no or yes questions. Shuffle the pack and deal until you come to an ace. If a red ace it means yes, if black ace, no.

Telling fortunes—Shuffle pack and deal twelve cards at random, face up.

Diamonds: Ace, ring, letter or parcel; King, danger from a fair married man; Queen, fair woman who will bring danger; Jack, misfortune from fair young bachelor; ten, travels and money; nine—pleasures and happiness; eight—package coming; seven—riches; six—early marriage, gifts of money; five—pleasant news, children; four—children; three — unexpected news, domestic troubles; two—visit from friend.

Hearts: Ace, letter with news; King, red-headed man; Queen, red-headed woman; Jack, red-headed young man; ten—proposal of marriage; nine—profits; eight—enjoyment; seven—a friend; six—pleasant friends; five—society; four—you will sleep in strange bed; three—journey to a country; two—meeting with a traveler.

Clubs: Ace, good news or money; King, Queen and Jack, brown-haired man, woman or young man; ten—long journey on water; nine—troubles; eight—disappointment; seven—a little money coming; six—gastronomic pleasures; five—deceitful friends; four—gossips; three — several times married; 2—a disappointment.

Spades: Ace, journey; King, Queen and Jack, very dark man, woman or young man; ten—trouble and sickness; nine—news of death; eight—coming sickness; seven—unexpected discomfort; six — quarrels; five — death; four—sickness; three—travel and trouble; two—a removal, a coffin.

FOR "GERTRUDE."

"Fluffy Ethel" wishes me to extend her most sincere gratitude to Gertrude for kindly supplying the name of the author of "Machree."

ECONOMY CORNER

WHIPPED CREAM DESSERTS.

Please give me some good recipes of "Trifles," or any nice desserts that are made up with whipped cream.

"POKEE P."

Ans.—There are really almost innumerable recipes for desserts made with whipped cream. Here are a few which may be useful to you:

Charlotte Russe—1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, 1-4 cup cold water, 1-3 cup scalded cream, 1-3 cup powdered sugar, whip from 3 1-2 cups thin cream, 1 1-2 teaspoons vanilla, 6 lady fingers. Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve in scalded cream, strain into a bowl and add sugar and vanilla. Set bowl in pan of ice-water and stir constantly until it begins to thicken, then fold in whip from cream, adding one-third at a time. Should gelatine mixture become too thick, melt over hot water and again cool before adding whip. Trim ends and sides of lady fingers, place around inside of mould, crust side out, one-half inch apart. Turn in mixture and chill.

Orange Trifle—1-2 box gelatine, 1-2 cup cold water, 1-2 cup boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup orange juice, grated rind 1 orange, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, whip from 3 1-2 cups cream. Make same as Charlotte Russe, and mould; or make orange jelly, color with fruit red, and cover bottom of mould one-half inch deep; chill, and when firm fill with orange trifle mixture. Cool remaining jelly in shallow pan, cut in cubes, and garnish base of mould.

Ginger Cream—1-4 box gelatine, 1-4 cup cold water, 1 cup milk, yolks 2 eggs, 1 1-4 cup sugar, few grains salt, 1 tablespoon wine, 1-2 tablespoon brandy, 2 tablespoons ginger syrup, 1 1-4 cup Canton ginger cut in pieces, whip from 2 1-2 cups cream. Soak gelatine, and add to custard made af milk, eggs, sugar and salt. Strain, chill in pan of ice-water, add flavoring, and when it begins to thicken, fold in whip from cream.

Strawberry Sponge—1-3 box gelatine, 1-3 cup cold water, 1-3 cup boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup strawberry juice, whites 3 eggs, whip from 1 cups cream. Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve in boiling water, strain, and add sugar, lemon juice and strawberry juice. Chill in pan of ice-water; when quite thick, beat with wire whisk until frothing, then add whites of eggs beaten stiff, and fold in cream. Put in mould and chill.

Pineapple Bavarian Cream—1-4 box gelatine, 1-2 cup cold water, 1 can grated pineapple, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, whip from 3 cups cream. Soak gelatine in cold water. Heat pineapple, add sugar, lemon juice and soaked gelatine; chill in pan of ice-water, stirring constantly; when it begins to thicken, fold in whip from cream, mould, and chill.

Maple Cream Pudding—Yolks of 3 eggs, 1 cup maple syrup, 1-2 box gelatine, 1 pint cream. Beat yolks, heat syrup in double boiler; soak gelatine in 1-2 cup cold water. Add yolks to syrup, then add gelatine. Jelly a little, whip cream, add to jelly, mould and chill.

Today's Household Affairs

By Mary Lee.

"I have been spending the day in town with my dear old friend, Mme. Secour," said Mrs. Happy-Homemaker, "and do you know if I lived there I believe I should fall a victim to the universal mania for plunging into prints and write a romance of the roofs.

"Madame's windows overlook a sea of roofs, and you have no idea of the number of interesting things which happen up there. Madame says quaintly: 'This is my village away up here on top of this big city, and these are my village friends. I watch them and gossip with myself about them, and grow to know and love them, though they never suspect me! And then she told me about them.

"There was her 'dear young man' first. He was hanging out the washing, and hanging each piece up with that awkward, interested care which made any woman watching him long to go and do it for him.

"'They came when they were just married,' said madame, 'and I suspect they hadn't much to begin on, and haven't much now except love, and courage, and la petite cherub. You see, those tiny garments? Well, she made them last summer, sitting during the long, hot afternoons in the shadow of the big chimney. He would come home about 5 o'clock and would sit for an hour with her reading or talking to her, and sometimes just looking at her with an expression on his young face. Oh! so beautiful!

"Then came days when I did not see them, and I was so anxious; but finally one warm October day they all came up, and such happiness! These cold days he must have persuaded her to do her washing on Saturday, so that he could hang it out when he came home, for though she is as strong and beautifully healthy as a young Diana, he is so careful of her.

"Now come over here and I will show you another pretty sight, Madame led me to the other window.

"'See that girl and boy down there? I saw the first meeting. She is some one's maid, and had brought the rugs up to sweep them one day. She was working away sweeping, her lithe young body to the little tune she was humming when he came out on the roof. He stopped and watched her.

A SMART SUIT WITH NEW LINES

By MAY MANTON.

8929 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Short Coat, 34 to 42 Bust.

8926 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Four-Piece Skirt, 24 to 34 waist.

Here is a suit which shows all the special characteristics of the latest models. The coat flares over the hips. The skirt is gracefully wide and the side-fronts and side-backs are cut in sections and curved lines to give essentially pretty and becoming lines.

For the medium size the coat will require 2⅞ yards of material 36 inches wide, 2½ yards 44, or 2 yards 54, with ⅛ of a yard of satin for the collar. For the skirt will be needed, 5½ yards of material 36 inches wide, 4 yards 44 or 3¼ yards 54. The width at the lower edge is 3 yards and 12 inches.

The pattern of the coat 8929 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 and the skirt 8926 in sizes from 24 to 34 waist measure. They will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of 15 cents.

DAILY STAR PATTERN COUPON

The price of each pattern is 15c. City readers must call at The Star Branch Offices at Union Avenue, above St. Catherine street, for patterns. Out-of-town readers will be served by mail. Orders are filled from our factory in New York, and take a week or ten days, for which reason should allow.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it shows that your condition is weakened—remember that. You should not trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness.

Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from injurious drugs. No advanced prices.

CANNOT FIND ANY TRACE OF SOLDIER

No trace has been found of Raoul Chartrand, a seventeen-year-old soldier who enlisted in the 163rd French-Canadian Battalion, and who was last seen in a house of evil repute, alleged to have been kept by Theodore Paquin, at 546 Sherbrooke street east. Paquin is claimed by the police to have spirited away young Chartrand and will not tell the authorities where he is to be found, but freely that "he will turn up."

Paquin appeared before Judge Saint-Cyr yesterday charged with the theft of Chartrand's uniform and also with a statutary offence and was committed to stand trial before Judge Curran in the Court of Sessions.

Thomas Lapierre charged with attempting to murder Fortunat Desilets in his restaurant at 574 East Ste. Catherine street on Monday afternoon last by discharging a revolver in his face, appeared before Judge Lafontaine yesterday and was remanded until Wednesday. Application for bail is being considered.

CITIZEN WINS IN CASE OVER SEWER

Mr. Justice Demers yesterday dealt with the first of a long series of suits arising from the construction of the Riviere St. Pierre sewer, residents of the vicinity, complaining of the flooding of their cellars with refuse, having sued the city and the contractors on the ground that the work had been negligently done.

The plaintiff, Philomene Bouchard, owns a house at 559 St. Emilie street. The city gave a contract to Haney, Quinlan and Robertson to cover in a sewer known as the St. Pierre River. Mrs. Bouchard claimed that the contractors dumped earth and refuse in front of her property with the result that the cellar was flooded with putrid water for a long time. She claimed $500 damages. The court after hearing the parties held that the work was carelessly done condemned the defendants to pay $50 and costs.

Advertisers' Guarantee

AS TO

CIRCULATION OF THE STAR

The circulation of The Daily Star every day last week exceeded

98,000

In all contracts for advertising, advertisers have the right to demand guarantees, and may embody the following figures as minimums. Excess over these figures to be treated as overweight not charged for:

Monday	94,800
Tuesday	94,800
Wednesday	94,800
Thursday	94,800
Friday	94,800
Saturday	95,000
Daily Star last week (average) over)	98,000
Weekly Star last week	136,500
One issue of Daily and Weekly Star, over	234,500
Circulation of The Star last week, Daily and Weekly, over	725,000

In addition to the above figures, there is a large excess circulation, bona fide, and which has run from 70,000 to 350,000 a week. This is all included in the overweight in the guarantee to advertisers.

VERDUN AGAIN — THE GREEKS AND ALBANIA—PRUSSIA AND THE RUSSIAN POLES.

THE fighting at Verdun has been renewed. The essentially unstable character of the situation there made this inevitable—as we pointed out yesterday—though the fighting might have been resumed merely to cover a German retreat, and not to clear the way for an attempted German advance.. The latter course has been chosen, however; and the French are again proving their steadfast courage and almost uncanny skill as defensive fighters.

THE FRENCH FIRM.

German reports make it clear that the enemy fully realize the enormous difficulty of the task they have taken on themselves, and are distinctly disappointed at the comparative failure of the first "tidal wave." They boast of the square kilometres which it inundated; but they admit that none of the positions included in this area are of dominating importance. Even Douaumont was found to be no more than a heap of ruins which became for a time the prison of a beleaguered band of Brandenburgers.

Today's Berlin communique claims the capture of the village of Douaumont and the pushing of their lines west and south of the fort. This seems to imply bringing support to the Brandenburgers. The French tell us, however, that the fight for the village still rages; and they ought to know best whether they still dispute the German advance. Moreover, they have beaten back other heavy attacks and are gallantly holding the ridges that really defend Verdun.

The thrust in from the Woevre seems to have been hopeless from the beginning. The condition of spring-soaked plain over which the Germans had to drag their guns, rendered this inevitable. All that was probably intended was to distract French attention from the north and west. But the French are fighting on familiar ground, whose peculiarities they know to the last dry knoll and spongy meadow; and we may feel assured that they will take the fullest advantage of every local feature.

A BRITISH SUCCESS.

The British have come forward in timely fashion and re-captured that portion of their trenches near the Ypres-Comines Canal that they lost nearly three weeks ago, picking up a German salient, too, for good measure. They secured some prisoners in the foray, and have doubtless driven the Germans to think twice before denuding this section of their 'front" for troops to squander at Verdun. The fact that the entire Franco-British line has been largely quiescent all through this Verdun hurricane, would seem to indicate that the Allied command think it best not to permit the Germans to sting them into a premature offensive. They could have vigorously attacked elsewhere while the Germans were concentrating on Verdun. But they refrained. This was undoubtedly not accidental. It was coolly calculated. And "there was a reason." So far as time goes, at all events, they propose to keep the initiative on their own side in their own hands.

THE GREEKS DISTRUST THE BULGARS.

The blinding glare of the Verdun battle has largely hidden other fields from our eyes for an exciting fortnight. But "fighting as usual" has been in progress in these less spectacular fields, nevertheless. The situation in Albania approaches a crisis. The Bulgars are clearly operating in the southern section, working in from Monastir; and they are about as welcome here to the Greeks as a typhus epidemic would be. Greek troops have occupied strategic points in those sections of Albania they claim for their own, ever since Italy went to Avlona; and there have already been several clashes between Bulgar and Greek soldiers in this district. Sofia has been quick with her apologies in each case, acting, no doubt, under orders from Berlin; but Athens is becoming growingly suspicious.

It is probably not by accident that King Constantine gives out at this moment a pro-Ally interview to the London "Chronicle." In it, he laughs at the multitudinous false reports attributing all sorts of pro-German sentiments to himself; emphasizes how well he and General Sarrail got on, and looks forward hopefully to a better understanding with the Allies. If the Greek King desired to give a straight and strong hint to the Kaiser to pull his Bulgar Allies out of Greek Albania, he would have been very likely to take precisely this way of doing it.

The Greeks still know perfectly well that a Bulgar victory will be a most dangerous thing for Hellenic aspirations—that the Bulgars and the Turks are their real and hereditary enemies—that if they could join the Entente, and if this new Greco-Entente Alliance could win over the German-Bulgar-Turk union, Greece would then have her best and only chance to realise her age-long hopes of complete Hellenic union. Therefore their self-interest compels them to be pro-Ally—as the King says. And it is always possible that the Bulgar menace may at any time become so threatening that they will decide to risk all on a final 'throw" and dare the fate of Serbia, rather than submit to piecemeal dissection by the enemies they hate most. Should such a spirit develop in Hellas, the Allies will do well to send at once to its help whatever troops may be necessary to guarantee Greece against "Belgiuming."

THE PRESIDENT'S PLUCK.

President Wilson has found courage to pay. It always pays. Nothing defeats a policy of "scuttle" like dragging it out into the open where a high-spirited people, such as the American, can get squarely at it. It should ever be remembered that Congress is a collection of super-politicians; and that all politicians—those we have at Ottawa as well as any others—are always skeptical of the power of noble impulses and always prone to depend upon "human devices." This forward Wilson policy, which threatens the "pork barrel" in a year when Congress must go back for re-election, looks like a combination of blasphemy and high treason and "plumb foolishness" to the professional politician. But when the President demands that he stand up before the American people and profess his creed, and propose to submit tamely to the murder of American citizens by any military machine on earth, we see a change of heart.

PRUSSIA, RUSSIA AND THE POLES.

This discussion in the Prussian Diet of what the Germans would like to do in certain Russian Provinces after the war, is most suggestive of German intention. They have long talked openly of giving back the parts of France they now hold, and of restoring Belgium; but here they are talking just as openly of keeping three Baltic Provinces of Russia. This betrays the German mind in precipitating this war. It was Russia they had in view. Russia was to be conquered, despoiled and driven out of the Balkans. The Allies cannot, of course, dream of even considering peace until the last German jack-boot has been lifted from Russian soil, and until Russian influence in the Balkans is fully restored.

As for the Polish question, no clearer light could be cast on the real interests of that nation of genius and charm than flashed luridly from this Prussian Diet debate. The Polish delegates—protesting against the tyranny of Hindenberg in Warsaw, and asking guarantees for their rights in these Russian Provinces whose annexation was confidently assumed—were voted down by the Prussian majority. On the other hand, M. Sazonoff has just renewed the pledges of the Russian Government to grant the Poles autonomy after the war.

NOT MONTREAL'S FAULT.

THE hopeless muddle in which Montreal's financial affairs are today is not the result of the laggard growth of realty values. The gross assessed value of Montreal property has almost trebled since 1909, growing from three hundred and thirty millions to eight hundred and thirty-seven millions. A similar enormous growth has taken place in the city's revenue. In 1905 this was four and a quarter millions. By 1910 it had risen to six and a half millions, and last year it stood at twelve millions. In 1900 it was only three millions. In other words, the rulers of Montreal last year had three hundred per cent more to spend than had those in similar positions fifteen years ago.

Twelve million dollars is a lot of money to spend in one year, but it should not be forgotten that of this huge sum over two-third is ear-marked for the settlement of only two claims. Interest charges and salaries alone carry off eight and three-quarter millions at the very beginning, and Montreal must get on as best it can with the two and a quarter millions remaining.

The city has grown enormously and its revenues have kept equal pace, but they have been fatally cut into by frenzied financing with its consequent burden of interest charges and reckless salary expenditures.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

Germans Ever The Same

London Chronicle:—Froissart is among the authorities who show the consistency of German war manners from age to age. He is speaking of Edward III.'s preparations for war in 1359, "the greatest that had ever been seen in England." "News of this went through all countries, so that everywhere knights and squires and men-at-arms began to make great and costly provision of horses and harness, each as best he could according to his condition. And each made, as soon as he could, for Calais, to await the coming of the King of England. For each counted upon having great benefits from him, and upon winning so much Fooity in France that he would never be poor. And especially was it so with the Germans, who are greedier than other folk."

The World After The War

London Daily News:—We shall be where we were at the beginning of the war, so to speak, apart from the debt. The difficulty in this view, accepting the figures, seems to us to be that it does not allow sufficiently for the position of other countries. They most certainly will not be where they were. America will have been transformed from a debtor to a creditor country. There are at least strong indications that the Scandinavian countries will emerge as wealthy centres of capital. Neither Germany nor France nor Belgium will be as they were, whatever else may happen to them. It will be a new economic earth, and this country cannot hope to escape the shadow of the world-wide change. Assuredly there is no cause to despair; there is no evidence that the means will be denied the younger generation of Englishmen to build high indeed the future fortunes of their country. But they will have to be built. They will not build themselves.

A Sample of Teutonic Diplomacy

Philadelphia Public Ledger:—Austria makes a characteristic reply to the protest of the United States against the attack on the American steamship Petrolite. According to the summary given out at Washington, the contention is that the commander of the submarine thought the Petrolite was going to attack him, that he feared she was an enemy ship flying the American flag and that her skipper furnished the supplies "voluntarily." There is no occasion to comment at length upon the absurdity of all this. The significant point is the fresh revelation of the methods of Teutonic diplomacy. The Lusitania was attacked because she carried mythical guns, the Arabic because she was trying to ram with her stern a submarine her officers did not even see, and so on down the whole list of outrages. If the policy of frightfulness is resumed, it will make no difference whether a merchantman is armed or not; there will be guns visible to the imagination, if not to the eye. Entirely apart from questions of international law, that is a sufficient reason for refusing to recognize any distinction between armed and unarmed merchantmen. The only safe ground, in short, for the Administration to take is the ground it originally took—that the whole business is an offense against civilization which is not to be tolerated.

The Whirligig of Time

Times of India:—If any English publicist were to awake today, after a ten years' sleep, and study the news, he could not believe that he was really conscious. For he would read that the King-Emperor's vicegerent in India has sent a cordial message to the Tsar of all the Russia's on New Year's day, and had received a gracious message in response. To look back on the half century of antagonism, either direct or veiled, between Great Britain and Russia is to digest the most pregnant lesson in foreign policy. In the history of States there is no more remarkable evidence of the blindness that can afflict both diplomatists and soldiers than the curious astigmatism that placed British policy athwart that of Russia. We are not speaking so much of the Crimean War, because it is an arguable proposition that in its broad results that was one of the most completely successful wars ever fought. Nor to the policy pursued by Disraeli in 1878, for he had to deal with the international situation as it then existed, and on the whole we believe that he faced it with penetrating insight. We have in mind the foolish, irritating, ineffective opposition which Great Britain offered to every movement of Russia in Asia. From our own experience we had learnt the great lesson that when a superior civilisation finds itself neighbor to an inferior and inefficient state organisation, it must go forward.

The German Code

Westminster Gazette:—There is a passage in the notorious German war-book which covers all these practices, a passage which Professor Morgan, in his translation of that manual, rightly denounces as casuistry of the worst kind: "Bribery of the enemy's subjects with the object of obtaining military advantages, acceptance of offers of treachery, reception of deserters, utilisation of the discontented elements of the population, support of pretenders and the like are permissible, indeed international law is in no way opposed to the exploitation of the crimes of third parties (assassination, incendiarism, robbery and the like) to the prejudice of the enemy. . . . The ugly and inherently immoral aspect of such methods cannot affect the recognition of their lawfulness. The necessary aim of war gives the belligerent the right and imposes upon him, according to circumstances, the duty not to let slip the important, it may be the decisive, advantages to be gained by such means." It would, unquestionably, be difficult to find anything in the written code of international law which definitely rules out the firing of the Canadian Parliament House by a private incendiary, or, for that matter, the murder of Sir Robert Borden or Sir Wilfrid Laurier by a private assassin. But if international law is silent on these subjects, it is simply because normal mankind has never contemplated their possibility. No one till now has ever dreamt that it could be necessary to frame a code specifically forbidding all conceivable atrocities.

SCOTLAND YET!

The S.S. Clan MacTavish she wasna built tae fecht;
Tae pit the matter plainly, her airmament was licht.
But eh! the lads aboord her wha laid her single gun
They asked nae better farin' than battle wi' the Hun.

A peaceful, lumpin' freighter tae ony careless eye,
All innocent an' smilin' the raidin' craft cam' by.
The Clan MacTavish smelt her and kenned her through it a';
She spent nae time in speerin' but opened up the ba'.

Doon cam the raider's deck-hoose, doon cam the raider's rail;
She spat a muckle broadside o' roarin' iron hail.
The Clan MacTavish shuddered tae feel her gapin side,
But cheerfu' an' undaunted, her saucy gun replied.

Compared wi' sic a conflict, for a' the Book affirms,
Young David and Goliath were met on equal terms.
An' soon the Clan was blazin', but still her aim was true,
And, till she sank, aye firin', her bonny banner flew.

They talk o' their Revenges, an' Grenville he was fine,
Aye, fit tae be a skipper o' ony Scottish line;
But not the grandest vessel that focht in days of old
Can beat the Clan MacTavish when a' the tale is told!

A VACATION.

Casey's wife was at the hospital, where she had undergone a very serious operation a few days before.

Mrs. Kelly called to inquire as to Mrs Casey's condition.

"Is she restin' quietly?" Mrs. Kelly asked.

"No; but I am," said Casey.

Twice as the horse 'bus slowly wended its way up the steep hill the door at the rear opened and slammed. At first those inside paid little heed, but the third time they demanded to know why they should be disturbed in this fashion.

"Whist!" cautioned the driver. "Don't spake so loud. He'll oevrhear us."

"Who?"

"The hoss. Spake low. Shure Oi'm dessvin' the crayture. Every toime he 'ears th' doors close he thinks wan o' yes is gettin' down ter walk up th' hill, an' that sort o' raises 'is sperrits."

SAFE BET.

She—If fashion makes our dresses any shorter I don't know what we'll do.

He—I do: you'll wear them.

In Liverpool there is a man famous for his calmness on every occasion. One day he strolled leisurely into the office of a friend.

"I've just had a chat with your wife," he began.

"Why, I didn't know she was in town."

"Oh, she wasn't in town," replied the other. "I called at your house."

"I didn't know she was receiving today," said the husband, with some surprise. "I thought she had a headache."

"She didn't mention it to me," said the calm man. "There was quite a crowd at the house."

"A crowd!" echoed the husband.

"Yes," went on the calm man. "They came with the fire engine."

"The fire engine!" gasped the husband.

"Oh, it's all right," went on the calm man. "It's all out now. It wasn't much of a fire, but I thought you'd like to know of it."

TROUBLE IS THEIR MEAT.

"I never knew a man yet who wanted to listen to other people's troubles."

"Then I guess you've never known any lawyers."

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

"Rome, March 3.—Pope Leo XIII. celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth yesterday and the eighth anniversary of his coronation which falls tomorrow, by an address to members of the Sacred College. In this, His Holiness eulogized the union existing among the cardinals, and urged concord among Catholics."—From The Montreal Star, March 3, 1886.

The Late Pope Leo XIII.

The Roman Catholic faith made great progress during the reign of the late Pope Leo XIII., whose popularity was widespread among nations. Visited in person by the late King Edward, His Holiness maintained the friendliest relations with English-speaking people, the United States also coming in for a large share of his attention. It was in his reign that John Henry Newman was elevated to the Cardinalate as well as Archbishop Gibbons of Baltimore.

His Holiness was a tireless worker, and though often in delicate health astonished those about him by his unceasing activity. In his last illness, those in attendance could never say enough of his patience and thoughtfulness for the doctors and others who ministered to him.

Civilization owes much to him for his stand on the labor and social questions, his encyclicals setting forth with profound erudition the Christian principles bearing between capital and labor and giving a vigorous impulse to the social movement along Christian lines.

The ecclesiastical sciences found in him a generous patron. In 1883 he opened the Vatican Archives, on which occasion he published a splendid encyclical on the importance of historical studies. He was constant in his vigilance and his pontificate was one of the most brilliant in the history of his church.

His Holiness died in 1903.

RECORDS WANTED.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—I think readers of The Star generally would like the records, i.e., a statement covering the public acts of the various candidates for municipal offices, statements that can be verified. I suppose it is a weakness to admit it, but I cannot recall more than a few incidents in the careers of those men whose names have been mentioned as the possible candidates, although I have lived in the city half a century, and I read the newspapers every day. I have probably paid too little attention to civic matters. There must be many like myself, and I really think you would be doing the voters a substantial service if you would accede to this request.

It is conceded that everybody reads The Star, or, to put it in a different way, I don't know anyone who doesn't read it—but they don't always agree with your views. A good many think you are wrong on the question of protection, although they approved of your anti-reciprocity campaign. They were with you on the Navy question, and a good many were against you on on the question of the water tax. Now, Mr. Editor, you can do the citizens a good turn by publishing the public records of candidates and leaving us to judge of their merits independently of your own views, which can be made known otherwise if you wish. One often hear remarks like these: "Martin is clownish," "Lapointe is a cheese-parer," "Macdonald is a vote swapper and an auto-bus promoter." Give us a succinct, straightforward statement, a statement that you are willing should be scrutinized and verified. We will then have something worth while, and we can judge for ourselves.

Yours,

ENGLISH VOTER.

(It will take some time to search the records, and to procure attested statements, to fully accede to our correspondent's request, but we will do so the earliest possible moment.—Ed. Star.)

"AN AMERICAN IN CANADA."

The following letter recently appeared in the New York Evening Post, under the caption, "An American in Canada." It was written by Richard D. Harlan, the son of the late Mr. Justice Harlan, of the United States Superior Court. It is as follows:

To the Editor:

Sir: Permit me, as an American citizen sojourning in Canada, to give a faint expression of the joy and pride with which the President's letter to Senator Stone has filled me.

When I read the accounts, in Wednesday's and Thursday's papers, of the "blue funk" that seemed to have seized so many members of the House and Senate, it looked as if Count Bernstorff and the Kaiser had gotten the American Congress "on the run"; and that — for fear lest our maintenance of the rights of American citizens might possibly drag our country into the war — our representatives in Congress might be stampeded, in the very midst of the war, into what would therefore be an unneutral amendment of international law in regard to the right of merchantmen to carry arms for the purpose of defence (with the corresponding right of freely entering a neutral port), and also into a cowardly surrender of the immemmorial rights of American citizens upon the high seas.

The proposed bills, warning Americans that if they travelled upon merchantment armed for defence they would therefore forfeit all claim to the protection of their own Government struck me as one of the most pusillanimous propositions ever presented to the Congress of our free and enlightened republic.

As already indicated, I am sojourning in a country where the phrase "Vivis Britannicus sum" means that, wherever in the world the humblest British subject goes upon lawful and peaceful errands, he may confidently count upon the Empire to protect him; but when I read in Wednesday's and Thursday's papers that some such bill as the above would be passed by a vote of two or three to one (unless the President could bring himself to swallow what was the essential and underlying point in all of our notes to Germany in regard to the Lusitania murders), I will confess that, on Thursday of this week, it looked as if a citizen of my country sojourning in a foreign land could not make a similar boast and proudly say, within the hearing of foreigners, "I am an American citizen," without seeing upon the faces about him an ironical and even contemptuous lift of the eyebrow, suggesting the suspicion, if not the conviction, that the boasted "land of the free and the home of the brave" was, after all, a nation of money-grubbing cowards. And I was ready to exclaim, "Shades of George Washington, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, Robert E. Lee, and Stonewall Jackson, how low has my country fallen in the scale of nations!"

Such was my mood when I picked up Friday morning's paper and read President Wilson's superb letter to Senator Stone. The day before, I had been ashamed to look my Canadian friends in the face. But to-day, I can hold up my head, because the President of my country has announced to the world that, while he is a lover of peace (as all right-thinking men are), he is not in favor of a peace that is bought by an unneutral abandonment of the principles of international law and by an ignoble surrender of American rights.

"Safety first" would be a cheap John and pusillanimous slogan for our great Republic. Its guiding principle in the present crisis should be "American rights, first, and the maintenance of international law"—instead of avoiding war at the price of the surrender of those rights and the abandonment of international law.

In the stand taken in his letter to Senator Stone, I believe that, irrespective of party, the rank and file of the American people are at the President's back. The private citizen is not worrying over a re-election to a seat in Congress. He has no fear of the German-American vote. And to the average American citizen, there is one thing that would be far worse than war, and that is the loss of national self-respect and national honor.

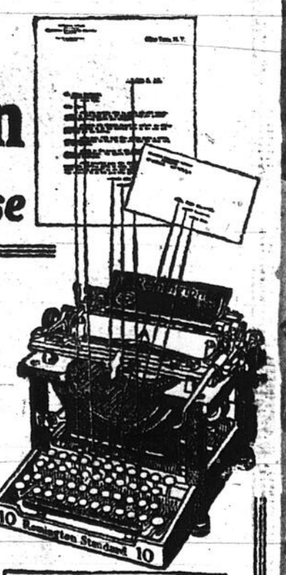
On the Remington and Nowhere Else



Here are two facts about the Remington which every typewriter buyer should know:

1. The Remington Column Selector adds 25 per cent. to the letter writing speed of the typist. This is not a claim or an estimate. It is a definite fact—proved and established by any number of comparative tests.

2. The Column Selector is a Remington feature exclusively. No other machine has it—or anything like it.

Adds 25 per cent. to the speed
Adds nothing to the price

Oh, yes, other machines have devices which look like it, with the five keys, etc. It is easy for a salesman, who knows the supreme merit of this Remington feature, to call them "column selector" keys. But there is no other device on any other typewriter which can do what the Remington Column Selector does.

The Remington Column Selector is the only feature on any typewriter which permits instantaneous setting of the carriage at any desired point on the line.

It is the only feature which provides this setting by either forward or backward movement.

It is the only feature which provides true "express service" with no stop-to-stop movement in reaching any writing point.

And these are the features which make the 25 per cent. speed gain.

Let us show you the real and only Column Selector—on the Model 10 Remington.

Private Pat Riel, Son of the Rebel, is Sharpshooter

South Africa supplies the most wonderful example of old enemies fighting in defence of the Empire, but Canada also provides some stray instances. Pte. Patrick Riel is a descendant of Louis Riel, and when he enlisted in the 90th Winnipeg Rifles at the outbreak of the war, and was told by one of his officers that his regiment had done battle against his cousin Louis at Fish Creek and Batoche, he showed, writes Sir Max Aitken in his new book, only a mild interest in this trick of time. Before the war Riel earned his daily bacon and tobacco as a foreman of lumber jacks on the Kaministiquia River.

Now he is one of the picked sharpshooters of the regiment. This chosen band number four, and, after the Red Indian way, they record their victims by notches on the butt of their rifles. The most deadly sniper has 36 notches to his tally, and the others have at least got into double figures. They use special rifles, remodelled to suit their peculiar and particular needs, and mounted with a telescope sight, and each man goes about his grim task in his own way without hurt or hindrance from his officers.

SCOUT EXHIBIT

An exhibition of scout craft will be given at the High School, this evening, by officers and scouts of the Fourteenth Montreal Troop. The entertainment will consist of troop exercises, patrol work, a camp scene, lantern views, and an address by H. A. Lordly, provincial secretary. The Rev. Dr. Symonds will be the chairman.

The Montreal Daily Star is printed and published at 162, 164, 167 and 169 St. James street, Montreal, by The Montreal Star Publishing Company, Limited, Montreal. E. R. Whitrod, Secretary-Treasurer.

ALMY'S CORDIALLY INVITE YOUR INSPECTION OF THE NEW SPRING GOODS

ALMY'S — MONTREAL'S LIMITED LARGEST STORE

Just Arrived

I am going to tell you today of something that will no doubt suggest to you the warm breezes of Summer, and call to mind the familiar features of the ice man—namely refrigerators.

It may seem early, I agree, but an inspection of the fine selection of over fifty samples which have just come in makes me so enthusiastic on the subject, and this is such a convenient time to select your favorite make, especially as a very small deposit will hold it till you need it, that I feel you ought to know.

There are refrigerators and refrigerators, you know, some which won't refrig and others which keep the butter, the meat, and the milk as cool as an Arctic Winter. It needs a careful examination to discover the difference—it's all in the composition inside. I insisted on being shown the whole works before agreeing to tell you about them.

I'm satisfied they're the real thing and I'm sure you will be. Our daylight kitchenware section on the fourth floor is really inviting, anyway. It reminds one of home every time from the very sight of the things one needs.

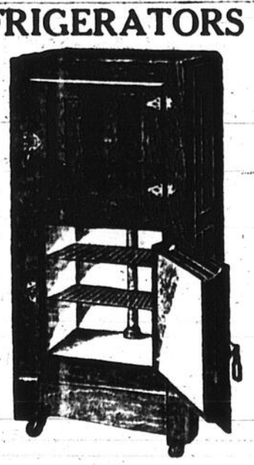
POTENT FACTS ABOUT REFRIGERATORS



In selecting a refrigerator one has in the end to get down to solid facts. A little extra varnish on the article itself, or even a little extra gloss on the description, will often deceive one into buying a refrigerator only to find it worthless from lack of main essentials. All is not gold that glitters, and while every one of our selection of over 50 sample refrigerators is beautifully finished, that is not their main talking point. The insulation or composition packed between the outer and inner cases to make the interior impervious to heat, and the perfected arrangement for the circulation of cold dry air are the points which make Almy refrigerators so much more worth while.

Our 1916 Refrigerators have just arrived, over 50 samples. We emphasize that NOW is the time to buy, as you have your choice of the best, and a small deposit will hold any one for you. Prices range from $6.98 to $48.50, and, remember, every one is made of solid oak, rounded corners, steel wire shelves, and removable drain pipe so that you may clean it easily. MAJ. GEN. HUGHES DEFENDS COLONEL ALLISON WARMLY

Declares His Assistance and Advice Saved Fifty Millions

GIVES FIGURES FOR RECRUITING

No Political Favors Shown In War Contracts He Says

Special to The Montreal Star from our own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 3—Consideration of the military estimates in the House of Commons yesterday brought from Major-General Sir Sam Hughes a review of the situation. Sir Sam strongly defended Col. Wesley Allison, who advised him in many of his war purchases. He declared that assistance and advice given by Col. Wesley Allison had saved for Great Britain and Canada upwards of fifty millions of dollars on war purchases. Col. Wesley Allison, Sir Sam said, had made no commission on purchases for Canada. He had got nothing but criticism.

All Canadians at the front except part of the first division, Sir Sam said, were armed with the Ross rifle, and he added, "The Ross rifle is such a splendid success that the Canadian soldier has to sleep on it, or the British soldier would steal it from him."

GREAT RECRUITING RESULTS.

There were cheers from both sides of the House when Sir Sam was able to announce that 263,114 men had been enlisted in the Dominion, or a total, inclusive of officers of 275,000. By districts the figures of enlistments were:

No. 1 district, including Western Ontario—22,560.
No. 2 district (Toronto)—60,360.
No. 3 district (Eastern Ontario)—27,856.
Total for Ontario—110,776.
No. 4 district (Montreal)—22,926.
No. 5 district (Quebec)—5,212.
Total for Province of Quebec—28,138.
No. 6 district, including Maritime Provinces—24,198.
No. 10 district (Manitoba and Saskatchewan—50,710.
No. 11 district (British Columbia)—24,368.
No. 13 district (Alberta)—24,424.

NO POLITICAL FAVORS.

Sir Sam was emphatic that no political favor had been shown in making appointments or awarding contracts, but, when the House was in supply, the Opposition became critical on this point. There was a general change of that patronage was shown in different centres in the Dominion, and Frank Carvell was inclined to be cynical over Col. Allison.

"If Col. Allison can do so much," he said, "we don't need any Budget. The Minister of Finance has only to call him in to settle all his difficulties."

W. Martin, of Regina, declared there had been a "riot of patronage" in war purchases, and asked the Government to clean up the "mess in Regina."

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, British suffragette leader, sat on the floor of the House just to the right of the Speaker's chair in the afternoon. A smile went round as she was conducted to her seat. It was only two days ago that the first "votes for women" resolution was discussed and lost.

CANADA ROSE TO SITUATION.

Sir Sam Hughes, in opening, referred to a speech which he had heard Gen. Joffre deliver, a speech in which the French Commander-in-Chief urged the desirability of union between the French and British people not only in fighting but in finance. Gen. Joffre also suggested then that Canada might do something along the same lines.

When war broke out, Canada rose to the situation. Men were trained and sent across the sea. The shell industry was started and little by little the people had gained confidence in themselves. The total number of contracts which the Department of Militia made up to February 15 was 15,000 and an aggregate expenditure by the department up to the time purchasing was handed over to the War Purchases Commission was $114,000,000.

There was practically no patronage list. Contracts were let irrespective of political predilections. Possibly mistakes were made, but they were few. Waste was reduced to a minimum. When it was found that exorbitant charges had been made, steps were taken to secure the return of the money over-charged.

COL. ALLISON DEFENDED.

Sir Sam described how he had been associated with Col. J. Wesley Allison for 25 or 30 years, and emphasized the assistance and advice he had received from Col. Wesley Allison. Col. Wesley Allison, he said, had received no commission on purchases for Canada, but had saved upwards of $50,000,000 to Great Britain and Canada on purchases of trinitro-toluol, picric acid, copper, brass, zinc, and ammunition of various kinds.

In the purchase of motor trucks, Col. Wesley Allison, Sir Sam said, had saved the country hundreds of thousands of dollars. Again, Col. Allison succeeded in bringing down the cost of the raw material for time fuses saving $1,600,000 to the British Government in that one deal alone.

GREAT SHUFFLING OF CANDIDATES STILL GOING ON

Ald. Turcot Announces He Will Remain in the Aldermanic Field—Some Wards Have Trouble Picking Men—Latest Developments

With the real start of the civic election campaign billed for next week, the air is filled with rumors of new candidates and the announcements that many who came forward yesterday have retired from the field today.

From Quebec today comes the official announcement that Ald. Turcot, M.L.A., of Laurier Ward, will not run for the Board of Control, but will content himself with again entering the aldermanic lists.

The Hon. James McShane, who, as The Star announced some days ago, is thinking of again standing for civic honors, has stated that he will announce in a few days his decision as to whether he will run for the Board of Control. Mr. McShane is a former Mayor of Montreal.

In many of the wards the campaign for the City Council is on in earnest and in others there has been much excitement in choosing candidates. In choosing a gladiator, St. Jean Baptiste Ward, where a meeting was held last night for the purpose of choosing a gladiator, St. Jean Baptiste Market was the meeting place.

STORMY MEETING.

The meeting was somewhat stormy, and although the names of Victor Levesque and Achille Latreille were mentioned, no nominations were made. A nominating committee of ten, five from Duvernay and five from St. Jean Baptiste, was appointed. Ex-Ald. Proulx is also in the running in St. Jean Baptiste.

A number of aldermanic candidates are following the lead of Mayor Martin in announcing that they will spend no money on their campaigns. One of these is Ald. Chartrand, of Hochelaga Ward, and another Ald. Rochon, who has definitely announced that he will oppose Ald. Dugald McDonald in the new Notre Dame de Grace division, which includes also Mount Royal and Cote des Neiges. Against Ald. Chartrand will be Dr. Lafortune, and Messrs. Guerin and Coulombe.

IN OTHER DISTRICTS.

Ald. Thos. O'Connell will open his campaign in St. Ann's Ward tomorrow night at a meeting in St. Ann's School. Ex-Ald. Dan Gallery is making preparations to give Ald. O'Connell a hard run.

The candidature of Daniel Kochenburger was endorsed at a meeting of the Independent Labor Club of Bordeaux-Ahuntsic last night. Mr. Kochenburger is opposing Ald. Menard.

In Papineau Ward two candidates have appeared in the field, J. A. Bouvier and M. Lamarre.

J. N. Dupuis was elected president of the Citizens' Association at a meeting of the board of directors of that body held yesterday afternoon. The other officers are: First vice-president, Maxwell Goldstein, K.C.; second vice-president, J. E. Fournier; honorary treasurer, James Morgan; honorary secretary, Arthur Gagne, K.C.

No action was taken by the association in regard to nominating or endorsing candidates. The advisory committee, which is to assist the board of directors in this work, is not yet complete, although the list is said to contain 125 names.

While referring to the Ross Rifle, the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux interrupted to ask if it were true that the Ross Rifle works were to be moved from Quebec to Lindsay.

"No," Sir Sam replied.

Continuing, Sir Sam said that Canadian troops armed by a Canadian weapon had held at St. Julien as no other troops had ever done before in the history of the world. "The Ross Rifle," Sir Sam added, "is such a splendid success that the Canadian soldier has to sleep on it or the British soldier would steal it from him." (Laughter).

In regard to promptions, Sir Sam assured the House, the first consideration would be for the boys in the firing line. The total number of soldiers enrolled in Canada, exclusive of officers was 263,114, inclusive of officers 275,000. He then gave the details gated above.

There was a patronage list in the Department of Militia before the war broke out, Sir Sam said, but since then the patronage list had received no consideration. Sir Sam declared that he had not allowed patronage or politics to influence him in giving contracts or making appointments.

MR. CAVELL'S CRITICISM.

In the evening, Frank Cavell criticized Sir Sam's defence of Col. Wesley Allison. When Sir Sam spoke of buying revolvers through Col. Wesley Allison for $18.50, had he not heard that two men had sworn that they had purchased the same revolver retail in Ottawa for $15.05.

"Is there a man," he demanded, "who does not believe that the Colt's Revolver Company gave a commission to someone . . The Minister says the Col. Allison is a saint and that he is all right. All that we have is a set of suspicious circumstances."

Sir Sam had distributed glory all round, Mr. Cavell went on. As to the Ross rifle, while not wishing to criticize the Canadian arm, Mr. Cavell cited the opinion of four men from the front who declared that for sniping they preferred the Ross; for ordinary trench work, they would have the Lee Enfield every time.

Further Opposition criticism followed, the general charge being that of "patronage."

PATRONAGE CHARGE ANSWERED.

"The patronage system as it was carried out before the general elections of 1911 is not carried out by the present administration." This reply, which the Hon. F. E. Blondin, Secretary of State made to E. M. Macdonald at question time, is a sequel to Sir George Foster's attack on patronage.

"I wish," Sir George said, "that I might speak from the heart out and make an agreement in this country between both parties that hereafter patronage shall not be applied by political parties in the construction of our public works."

Referring to this statement, Mr. Macdonald asked what the Government intended to do in the matter.

"Whenever," Mr. Blondin replied, "in any department there is occasion to make comparatively small and incidental purchases, in respect of which the usual practice of securing same by advertising for tenders would be disproportionately expensive and hence impracticable, the names of reliable persons or firms from whom the same may be conveniently procured, having regard to the place where such supplies are needed, must necessarily be obtained; but the patronage system as it was practised before the general elections of 1911 is not carried out by the present administration.

"The tender system is rigidly adhered to by all departments except in cases where it would mean waste of money. The purchase of all supplies for war purchases is under the War Purchasing Commission, which calls for tenders in every case where it is practicable."

In regard to the Public Works Department, the official statement is as follows: "Public works are constructed by tender and contract except in occasional urgent cases where for reasons of public interest it is deemed advisable under the authority of the Governor in Council to proceed otherwise.

"It is not deemed wise to depart from this sound principle of public policy. When any new public works may be hereafter started, the Government will not use nor introduce the system of patronage, but will continue the system of tender and contracts. Consequently the suggested agreement is not necessary so far as they are concerned; although they would welcome the adherence of the Opposition to the same policy."

Sir Sam Hughes informed Mr. Proulx that Beckles Wilson, biographer of Lord Strathcona, had been appointed assistant to Sir Max Aitken, General Representative for Canada, at the Front. Mr. Wilson has the honorary rank of major.

B.C. EXPENSES CUT BY FOUR MILLION

VICTORIA, B. C., March 3.—The public accounts brought down at the opening session of the Legislature by Premier Bowser showed a reduction of nearly four million dollars in Provincial expenses during the fiscal year ended last March. A much larger cut is expected, the Premier said, in the year ending this month.

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" for children and they love it.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the undigested food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious laxative, and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

BUDGET TAX TO DATE FROM 14TH DECEMBER, 1914

Special to The Montreal Star by Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 3.—Amendments to the Budget resolutions were submitted to the House of Commons yesterday. The first amendment deals with the application of the busines tax in regard to time. They originally provided for the levying of the tax on three annual accounting periods, dating from the outbreak of war, August 4, 1914.

The amendments provide for the levying of the tax on three annual accounting periods dating from December 31, 1914.

The Hon. G. P. Graham—"You will get more money that way."

Sir Thomas White—"I a glad to hear my hon. friend say that, and I am disposed to think he is right." (Laughter.)

Sir Thomas then dealt with the question of capitalization. He emphasized the difficulty of a company's reserves. In one case, a company had carried on its business properly and built up a true reserve; in another case, after the distribution of profits to shareholders, nothing might have been written for depreciation of plant and the balance carried to profit and loss reserve.

Such a reserve was more or less of a bookkeeping reserve.

HOW RESERVE IS DEFINED.

"I have reached the conclusion," Sir Thomas added, "that the true principle was that there should be allowed as capital, regarded as capital, the annual unimpaired reserve of a company. It seems to me that that is a sound way to deal with it.

"It means that a man who had conducted his business soundly, and has written off the proper amounts from year to year for plant, will be allowed his reserve as part of his capital.

"On the other hand, if it is found that the reserve, so-called, is not a proper reserve, then it will be allowed to the extent to which it is a true reserve."

Sir Thomas then laid before the House his proposed definition of capital stock to meet the case of "water."

"This," he said, "provides that the amount paid up on the capital stock shall be the amount paid up in cash; that is to say if it is paid up in cash, no question will arise. But where stock was issued before January 1, 1915, for any consideration other than cash, the fair value of such stock on such date shall be deemed to be the amount paid up on such stock, and where stock has been issued since January 1 for any consideration other than cash, the fair value of the stock at the date of this issue shall be deemed to be the amount paid up on such stock."

In other words, in a case where stock had been issued other than against cash, regard would be had to the value of the assets real and personal moveable and immovable, and the liabilities of the company on the date on which value be determined.

A BASIS FOR CALCULATIONS.

"How would you determine what is gold and what is water?" Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked.

"Let me give an illustration," Sir Thomas replied. "Supposing you have an industrial company of which the stock is watered to a considerable extent. That company has certain earnings today and some of its stock has been issued for considerations other than cash.

"If we could determine the value of the assets of that company on January 1, 1915, you would have a reasonably fair idea of the value of the stock, of the true capital of that company."

Sir Thomas pointed out the difficulty of dealing with the whole question of capitalization.

SWIFT CURRENT Sask., March 3.—Mrs. Ed. Hellman, aged 50, of Port Reeve, north of here, shot and killed John Scott, aged 30, a wealthy bachelor farmer, and then killed herself. No cause has been discovered. Scott formerly lived in Kemptville, Ont.

ROYAL PROBE OF BRIBERY CHARGES IN SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA, Sask., March 3.—A Royal Commission, composed of two Supreme Court Judges of Saskatchewan, will be appointed by the Government immediately to investigate the charge of bribery of legislators in connection with Liquor Bills.

This Commission has been decided upon as the result of the report of a select committee which investigated J. E. Bradshaw's charges of bribery. The report was brought down late yesterday afternoon by Mr. Sutherland. Acting Premier Calder and the Attorney-General, Mr. Turgeon, asked the House to concur with the report.

It is likely that the House will prorogue on Saturday or Monday, as the legislative business is almost cleaned up. Another select committee is investigating other charges made by Mr. Bradshaw and they are expected to conclude their inquiry on Saturday. These charges refer to alleged irregularities in road work payments.

Mr. Sutherland's committee agreed that Messrs. Shephard (Speaker), Totzke (Liberal Whip), Nolin and Lochead, all members of the House, who were implicated in the charges, should be exonerated from the charge of bribery. At the time this report was being presented two other members of the House and an ex-member were being committed for trial in the police court. These were H. E. Pierce, M.L.A. for Wadena; S. Simpson, M.L.A., Battleford, and G. Ens (Inspector of Public Buildings). They were committed for trial and admitted to bail.

Landlords and Proprietors

The reason so many landlords and proprietors have "bad-luck" with their tenants is often because they accept the first applicant that comes along. By persistent advertising in the MONTREAL DAILY STAR'S "To Let" columns, they can have their pick of tenants and are less likely to be disappointed.

IS YOUR PROPERTY TO RENT?

LISTING IT IN THE MONTREAL DAILY STAR'S TO LET COLUMNS INSURES GOOD TENANTS.

Star Want Ads VS. The Window Sign

If a man offered a lift in his car would you refuse and deliberately set out to walk a few miles to your home? Would you deliberately overlook Star Want Ads and undertake to sell property, rent rooms, obtain help, etc., by the round about, tiresome, ineffective method of our forefathers—THE WINDOW SIGN? Would you?

Star Want Ads Bring Satisfactory and Quick Results.

THE WESTCOTTS ARE DISCHARGED BY BOSTON JUDGE

Alleged to Have Obtained Merchandise Here by False Pretences

Special to The Montreal Star.

BOSTON, Mass., Mar. 3.—J. M. Westcott and his wife, who have been in the custody of Federal authorities in this city, charged with being fugitives from justice from Montreal, (where they are wanted, charged with obtaining merchandise valued at $1,000 from Montreal merchants under false pretences) were discharged yesterday by United States Commissioner Hayes. The commissioner based his finding on the ground that the evidence was insufficient to show probable cause they were guilty.

Westcott walked into the Federal building on February 14 and gave himself up, thus ending a hunt which had been carried on since the arrest of his wife. The couple were arraigned on complaint of the British consul, charging them with obtaining $1,000 worth of merchandise from Montreal houses between December 1 and 25, 1915. Both admitted their identity, but denied their guilt, declaring that the Government was acting as a collection agency. The British consul charged that they secured a quantity of clothing from Montreal firms for which Mrs. Westcott gave cheques. These cheques were refused by the banks.

Mr. and Mrs. Westcott have been living in the Brighton district of Boston.

The story of the Wescott's alleged activities in Montreal was published in The Star several weeks ago.

HEAVY SENTENCE FOR DUTY NEGLECT

WINDSOR, Ont., March 3.—Pte. George Garvey, of the 21st Essex Fusiliers, has been sentenced to six months in jail with hard labor, and at the end of that time will be dishonorably discharged from the service as the result of being asleep while on guard duty at the Windsor Armory.

For leaving his post while on similar duty, Pte. H. A. Opie, of the same corps, will serve three months. The sentences have been imposed by a court-martial, which recently investigated the cases.

SCHOOL BOARDS WOULD BE BETTER FOR WOMEN'S AID

Trades and Labor Council Also Declares for Free Speech

Unanimous support to the movement to allow women to serve on school boards in the Province of Quebec was given by the Trades and Labor Council, meeting last night. The proposal was endorsed by the president, J. T. Foster, Controller Ainey, Delegate Glassman and others.

M. W. Biggs, editor of the Labor World, a new publication which will shortly appear as the official organ of organized labor, was presented to the meeting and was admitted to the right to sit in council. He asked for loyal support for his journal.

It was announced that a meeting would be held on Sunday night next to protest against the sentence of imprisonment for fifteen months pronounced against Jack Read in one of the western provinces. President Foster explained that the case was similar to that of Wilfrid Gribble, who was given two months for making "Your King and Country Bleed You" out of "Your King and Country Need You" at a meeting in St. John, N.B. Mr. Read had been arrested for quoting from "Forward" a Glasgow paper, which was suppressed for attacking Mr. Lloyd-George. The specific incident did not matter, said the president, but only the principle of free speech.

The council reiterated its stand on the temperance question, declaring for a campaign of education, and asking for a secret ballot at elections on the subject of prohibition. Speakers declared that wherever prohibition had been tried it had proved a failure, more harmful than otherwise to the cause of temperance.

W. SMITH, HALIFAX, DIED INTESTATE, LEAVING MILLION

HALIFAX, March 3.—It is understood that the late Wiley Smith, of this city, whose funeral took place yesterday, left no will. He was one of the leading business men of Halifax and his estate will probably amount to nearly one million dollars.

Mr. Smith was the third largest shareholder in the Royal Bank of Canada and held the largest number of shares in the Acadia Sugar Refinery, and the wholesale grocery house, in which he had the controlling interest, carries on as large a business as any other in this city. It is chiefly in these three institutions that his estate is invested.

There being no will administration will be taken out in the Probate Court. The Nova Scotia statute on distribution of estates under these circumstances provides that the widow shall have half the realty and personality.

Mr. Smith had no children surviving, so that the remaining half of the estate will be divided among the next of kin, who are two nephews, L. Mortimer Smith, of Halifax, and E. J. Young, of Shelburne. The Nova Scotia Government will receive in succession duties about seventy-five thousand dollars from his estate.

MARKETS FIRM ON CONGRESS VOTE--CANADA'S GOLD OUTPUT

BETTER TONE DEVELOPED ABOUT NOON

After another languishing session the local market showed some improvement after the noon hour and as this was coincident with the receipt of the news of the defeat of the Gore resolution at Washington by a large majority it was taken to indicate that this was the chief factor in the better tone which also developed in Wall Street.

The success of the Gore resolution would have been accepted by Germany as an indication that the American people had no confidence in President Wilson's handling of the submarine question and would have greatly complicated the position of the United States in reference thereto. Its defeat now clears the way for the President's determination to stand by international law, as against piracy, but does not remove the menace of further complications with Germany.

In the meantime the stock markets construed the action of the representatives at Washington as a step in the right direction and the removal of a complication which caused considerable unsettlement.

Up to the noon hour the local list was extremely dull with mainly fractional price changes. The steel group was the most active and it was not until near the noon close that the list benefited. Steel of Canada rose a point at noon to 40½, after a slow session at 39⅞ to 39½. Scotia was unchanged at 94 and Iron at 43¼ to 43½.

The promise of the Minister of Finance to so arrange the war tax that the impost would not bear so heavily on mining companies had a beneficial effect on Smelters which rose two points to 149. Before the tax announcement it was up to 163 and has since been down to 147.

Hollinger also benefited being 26.25 bid and 26.50 asked. On the tax news it broke from around 30 to 25.25.

Bridge closed at noon at 205½ bid with sales at 205. Detroit was 85½ to 86. Cement 45½ and the war loan was strong and active at 97⅛ to 98.

C. P. R. was very dull in New York selling at 164 compared with 164⅜ at the close yesterday.

Short Notes of Interest

Crown Reserve sent out a carload of high grade ore this week, valued at $75,000. All of the ore came from the Crown Reserve workings.

It is reported that work on the Ophir Mine will be discontinued, at least for the present. A diamond drilling contract was let a few days ago, the drill being set at the 200-foot level to determine the distance to the contact. The latter was found to be 525. The drill has now been removed and the mine let go.

The demand for American steel, according to one of the best trade authorities, is more pronounced than it has been at any time within the last twelve months.

John D. Ryan, president of Anaconda, says: "The price of copper now is as high as the large producers care to have it go. It is their desire that the market remain on a stable basis."

Freight congestion in eastern U. S. terminals will be taken up by the Interstate Commerce Commission with representatives of all interests concerned at a public hearing here March 6 and 7.

Bank of England yesterday shipped £350,000 in sovereigns to Spain and £25,000 to Uruguay, earmarked £500,000 for India, and released £200,000 for miscellaneous purposes.

Toronto brokers have been advised that they will be charged 4½ per cent interest on the debit balances carried through February with New York correspondents. When war broke out the interest rate was immediately made 8 per cent, and it continued there to the end of October.

Germany's new tobacco tax will increase here revenue about 150,000,000 marks.

Lackawanna Steel in year ended Dec. 31 earned 6.93 per cent on stock against deficit previous year.

Critical point in bituminous wage conference expected today; agreement or open break imminent.

Tobacco Products Corporation bought and took possession on Wednesday of the Schinasi Brothers, for $3,300,000, which was paid in cash.

It is understood that war orders booked by Du Pont had an aggregate of $[illegible],000,000. A goodly portion of this enormous business was filled last year.

Estimated Minneapolis millers have bought 5,000,000 bushels of May wheat in the last week. This would represent sales of 1,000,000 barrels of flour.

Increase of $1,000,000 in Philadelphia port due to heavy shipment of Cuban sugar.

The Senate by a vote of 58 to 14 killed Gore resolution warning Americans to keep off armed merchant vessels.

Announced £500,000 Imperial Japanese Government 4½ per cent sterling loan have been purchased for cancellation.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN MOBILIZATION PLAN

Special to The Montreal Star.

LONDON, March 3. — Prices moved irregularly in the American department today. With the majority of changes in a downward direction. U. S. Steel yielded ⅜.

Canadian Pacific was strong and 1⅛ higher. Atchison and Southern Pacific declined slightly. Erie was ¼ higher.

Consols are quoted at 57⅜. British War Loan, old, 87⅜ and British 4½'s 96⅞.

Money and discount rates continued easy. The banks, it is reported, are refusing to grant loans on American securities and are refering borrowers to the American committee in order to assist the mobilization scheme.

The stock market passed a dull session. Prices were inclined to droop from lack of support except in Japanese bonds, Russian issues and Oil shares which were steady. American securities were hesitating pending the clearing of the political situation.

GRAND TRUNK INCREASE

Increase in Grand Trunk earnings for the week ended February 29, is the largest for some months, the advance being $275,912. Total earnings for the week were $1,174,099.

Financial Personals

Capt. Philip Lydig has retired from the New York stock brokerage firm of Jenks, Gwynne & Co. F. D. Lown is a new member of the firm.

Louis S. Colwell, resident partner of Jenks, Gwynne & Co., is expected down town next week after his recent operation.

CAN. CEMENT WILL PAY ITS SHARE CHEERFULLY

Frank P. Jones, general manager of the Canada Cement Company, which is one of the large corporations to be materially affected by the amendment of Sir Thomas White's war tax bill, does not view the situation of the Cement Company with any alarm.

"This money has to be provided: the concerns best able to pay should be made pay," said Mr. Jones, "and the Canada Cement Company is ready and willing to do their share."

Mr. Jones added that he was at a loss to account for all the commotion which had been raised over this new impost. "For my part," he said, "I do not think it is heavy enough. There is nothing ruinous in allowing a profit of 7 per cent, and then taking 25 per cent of the surplus after that as a tax."

"In my opinion any man who has any objection to this should pick up his gun and march off to France, and allow these men already in France to enjoy financial profits on that basis."

Asked if he had made any estimate as to what this new amendment would mean to the Cement Company financially, during the past year, Mr. Jones declared that he had no idea what the annual tax placed upon the Company would be, but whatever it was it would be cheerfully paid."

"Some people have the idea," he added, "that our common stock is all water, but we will show them one of these days."

FEBRUARY FIRE LOSSES

The Monetary Times' estimate of Canada's fire loss during February amounted to $3,275,600, compared with January loss of $1,643,217 and $1,619,556 for the corresponding period of last year. The following is the estimate for the February losses:

Fires exceeding $10,000	$2,695,000
Small fires	159,870
Estimated for unreported fires	420,720
	$3,275,600

Dividends

N. Y. — Allis-Chalmers has declared the regular quarterly preferred of 1½ per cent.

Toronto. — Western Canada Flour, Regular 2 per cent for the quarter ending February 29, payable March 15.

N. Y. — The Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company of New Jersey, the operating company, has declared a quarterly dividend of $2.50 per share. This compares with $2 declared three months ago, and $1.50 six months ago.

Press Opinions on N.Y. Situation

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, March 3. — Herald — Almost the only news in which Wall Street showed any interest yesterday was that emanating from Washington, and that was unsatisfactory and confusing. A flurry of Wednesday, when traders sold stock liberally in the forenoon and, seeing no liquidation, bought them back in the afternoon, was succeeded by a dull and featureless session of the stock exchange.

World — While Wall Street was inclined to be less pessimistic yesterday, it had special attacks of nerves and the market, though somewhat firmer than on Wednesday, was still unsettled. There is a growing suspicion that many reports from Washington are colored to aid stock manipulation.

Press. — In a dull and listless stock market in which transactions represented wholly the operations of the professional element, prices moved slightly higher in the greater part of the session, with, however, reactions in the late dealings which left a long list of unimportant irregular changes at the close.

Times — The precise course events will take at Washington remained undisclosed during business hours yesterday. The market turned dull again and by a relatively narrow and uncertain price movement.

Tribune—Traders, encouraged by the cessation of liquidation and the resistance to selling pressure of the afternoon before, made some attempt to advance prices around the opening.

American — Advances of copper company dividends failed to move the list and barely held the coppers steady. Pool operators were evident in several quarters notably in American Locomotive and Industrial Alcohol.

Sun — There was a normal request yesterday in the stock market to the liquidating activities of late, culminating in the first half of the present week with indications that a fairly stable balance had been struck between the level of quoted values and the business conditions bearing upon them.

DISPOSED TO BE CAUTIOUS IN WALL ST.

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, March 3. — Traders watched Washington and the stock market showed their uncertainty today by opening irregular.

United States Steel was up ¼. Baldwin Loco off ½. American Loco. up ⅛ and Coppers were irregular.

Trading was largely professional during the first hour with the market fairly strong.

Gains ranging from material fractions to a full point marked the opening trading with a few offsetting features, mainly in rails and war issues.

Speculation was moderate and cautious, however, there being plainly a further disposition to await the outcome of developments in Washington.

Commission houses reported a cessation of out of town liquidation, but public interest on the buying side continued, negligible. Prices yielded before the end of the half hour, with especial weakness in Baldwin Locomotive and allied issues.

A spirited rise in oils, American Locomotive and some other active industrials succeeded the decline in Baldwin and prices recovered to or above yesterday's finals. Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company rose 3½ each and American Locomotive gained almost 3 points.

Some specialties displayed greater weakness, however. General Motors losing 10 and Consolidated Gas and Electric of Baltimore declining 5⅛.

Trading became very apathetic later, the first hour's turnover being the smalest of recent days and showing increased dullness with the aproach of the mid-session. Bonds were steady.

SALES OF MUNIICPAL BONDS IN FEBRUARY

The municipal bond states in Canada for February, as compiled by The Monetary Times, amounted to $2,488,351, compared with $2,971,185 for January and $3,047,011 for the corresponding period of last year. There were also $86,500 sold to United States houses during February.

Comparing the record of February, 1915, with that of the month just ended, the bond sales are as follows:—

	1916.	1915.
United States	86,500	6,471,000
	$2,574,851	$9,518,011

The following are the particulars of the sales by provinces:—

British Columbia	$1,003,161
Ontario	771,198
Saskatchewan	473,942
Quebec	100,000
New Brunswick	60,000
Manitoba	45,000
Alberta	35,050
	$2,488,351

The municipal bond sales in Canada during January and February during the past five years, bond record, were as follows:

	1914.	1915.	1916.
Jan.	$4,953,137	$1,784,947	$2,971,185
Feb.	5,995,336	3,047,011	2,488,351

PEMBROKE DEBENTURES

TORONTO, March 3. — The disposition of Canadian municipalities to economize is so pronounced that very few new municipal issues are appearing and as a result prices are mounting up. An issue of $80,000 debentures of the county of Pembroke was yesterday awarded to A. E. Ames and Co. There were a number of bidders.

TORONTO RY. EARNINGS

Toronto Street Railway receipts last month amounted to $470,764, of which the city received $70,614. For February last year the receipts were $440,313, of which the city received $66,047. The receipts increased by $30,451 and the city's shares by $4,567.

Financial Men in the Public Eye

Topics of the Street

The Minister of Finance has announced the changes in the war tax bill designed to meet the cases where on the one hand the tax would not reach effectively and on the other where it would bear too heavily.

As the broad general principle of the measure met with the acceptance of those to be taxed this step in the direction of removing anomalies or inequalities will doubtless be received with the same spirit as was manifested when the budget was presented.

Recent efforts have been so highly unsatisfactory that market quidnuncs have practically ceased in their attempts to diagnose the market.

Market is superfluous, they now admit.

An important preliminary to the acceptance in Canada of further munitions orders is the ability to finance them, and the Street was keenly interested in the conference at Ottawa yesterday between Sir Thomas White and leading bankers in that connection.

Nothing much in the way of home news counts at present as a market factor to stimulate trading, but under ordinarily satisfactory conditions this news would have a bullish influence on the munitions stocks and will not be lost sight of when the present obstacles to a more active market are brushed aside.

The local continues to slumber peacefully but the awakening will come: perhaps quicker than some imagine.

The endorsement by Congress of the President's policy with regard to armed-for-defence merchant vessels, which is counted on today, is after all only a side line of the controversy at Washington which has tended to keep the stock markets in a very unsettled state.

After that the wrangling with Germany will proceed but with a more united front on the part of the American people as represented by their executive.

With a complication removed the main issue remains to hold interest in the markets in check.

Never were the stock markets perched on the horn of a sharper dilemma. Trade news suggests a strong and rising market: diplomatic and international relations all cry: Lie still.

It is a strange coincidence that while an item was being prepared in The Star office about the seventh week stage of the West Indian tour of Royal Bank officers Washington was attempting to manufacture something in the nature of a trade scare out of the trip, and it was suggested that "the bankers were trying to keep their mission secret."

This will prove amusing reading to Canadians. Every year some of the directors or officials make a tour, largely of an educative character, as the Royal Bank has made a specialty of the development of the West Indian and Central and South American field. This year the party is a little larger and the itinerary a little more extended than usual.

There is no mystery about the Royal Bank's policy in that field. It is always looking out sharply for opportunities to extend its business. With a string of branches throughout the West Indies, it has gone as far south as Georgetown, British Guiana.

American bankers have during the past year adopted vigorous measures to extend their banking facilities to South America in the interests of American trade, and the Royal Bank is equally anxious to develop trade channels which will be of mutual advantage to the bank and the Dominion.

These circumstances have been so prominently written in the trade and commerce histories of the two countries that there cannot possibly be any mystery. The Royal Bank has been in the field for a long time, and has displayed marked enterprise in its development.

The suggestion that it was planned to head off American competition is therefore ridiculous.

Opinions from Wall Street

Laidlaw and Co. — Wall Street as a whole believes that an endorsement of the president's attitude will lead to concessions on the part of Germany and to a continuance of peace.

Post and Flagg — We are not likely to see much material improvement until Washington quiets down again and gets back to business.

Shearson, Hammill & Co.—In the absence of liquidating pressure and with no news of any further complications, market showed a stronger tone.

E. & C. Randolph—The big interests and the public seem inclined to wait for a clearer view of our difficulties, but if they should decide that the danger of the rupture with Germany is past a sharp rally could be expected.

L. & N. January gross increase, $911,712; net increase, $820,48. From July 1 gross increase, $3,335,676; net increase, $4,031,571.

HOLLINGER'S PRODUCTION IS COMPARED

The relative importance of Ontario, and more particularly of the Porcupine district, in the Dominion gold production is shown by figures contained in the recent Ontario Bureau of Mines figures for 1916, and the preliminary returns for the whole of Canada.

The grand total gold production in 1915, as reported in the Ottawa returns for the whole Dominion, is placed at $18,936,000, while Ontario produced $8,501,391, as compared with $5,529,767 in 1914.

Of the Ontario total the Porcupine district is credited with $7,381,162, while the adjoining district of Kirkland Lake, presented in the producing column by Tough Oakes mines, makes a grand total for Northern Ontario of $7,982,325.

Thus it will be seen that the Porcupine district has to its credit the production of a very large percentage of the entire gold mined in the province of Ontario.

Coming down to the production of individual properties the returns show that the Hollinger ranks first and foremost with a production of $3,237,032, while the Acme, which is under the same control, is credited with $1,031,940, a total for the two of $4,268,972, or 50 per cent of the total.

Other Porcupine mines which figure to a smaller extent are: Dome, $1,521,974; McIntyre, $745,291; Porcupine Crown, $599,733, and Vipond, $245,190, a total of $3,112,189, and a combined total for all Porcupine of $7,381,162.

It is not difficult to discern how heavily the war tax would have weighed on the Hollinger group, and how the conservatively capitalized and financed companies would bear the brunt of the burden, while the others escaped with a comparatively small contribution.

It is also shown that Ontario produced 44.8 per cent of all the gold accounted for in the Dominion in 1915, and Hollinger and Acme contributed 22.5 per cent of the whole, or more than half of the Ontario production.

DEVELOPING OVERSEAS TRADE FOR CANADA

Special to The Montreal Star.

BROCKVILLE, March 3.—That Canada is not asleep as regards development of its new overseas opportunities is evidenced by the statement made here today by an official of the James Smart Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of all kinds of hardware, and one of the oldest manufacturing firms in that line of business in Canada.

The Smart Company has its headquarters here, and is one of the subsidiary companies of the Canada Foundries & Forgings Company, Limited, of which William M. Weir, of Montreal, is the president.

The official in question stated that the firm had received a large order from South Africa for mining hammers, and an unusually large order from New Zealand for cast iron hardware articles, orders for these coming from many sections of that enterprising part of the British Empire.

It was also announced that special plans are well under way to develop the hardware trade with Russia, which is regarded as presenting a splendid field for Canadian business relations. A representative of the company will leave for that country next month, with a full line of samples of products of the company's plant.

It was also stated that while other companies are experiencing a good deal of difficulty in obtaining raw material, the Smart Company is fortunate enough to have a sufficient supply on hand, including pig iron, to last them the balance of the year.

Lally Mine to Resume Operations Shortly

The Directors of the Lally Gold Mines, have been in correspondence with J. Craig Watson, mining engineer, late of the Hollinger, with a view to his management of the mine in Turnbull. He has accepted their terms and is now taking steps to open up the property, by calling for tenders to sink to the 200 ft. level and crosscut to meet the vein on that level already struck on the 100-foot level. The management intend to make a very vigorous campaign on their property this year.

The development work was interrupted in August by the running out of supplies which could not be replaced until winter made transportation possible.

American Smelting & Refining Company has advanced price of lead to 6.40 cents.

EXPORT BUYING MAY WHEAT CAUSED RISE

From the Winnipeg Office of James Carruthers & Co.

Winnipeg, March 3.—A renewal of export buying this morning was the cause of an advance of 1⅛c to 1⅜c per bushel in the Winnipeg May option. All exporters report a good demand and practically all their last night offers to the United Kingdom were accepted.

The market seems to have overcome the panicky feeling that has prevailed the past week and is in good shape to respond to foreign buying. Manitoba wheat for nearby shipment is commanding a big premium and the quantity available is not large.

Oats, 146; last year, 85. Barley, 21; last year, 5. Flax, 13; last year, 11.

Local Refined Sugar Prices Advanced

As a result of increased strength showing in the local refined sugar market, an advance of 10c per hundred pounds was made for all grades. Reports from New York stated that a good deal of new business has been done in refined sugar for home consumption, along with an increased inquiry for exports.

In the raw sugar market the feeling is very firm, with a tendency for higher prices shortly.

This increase in price makes extra granulated sugar now $6.80 per 100-lb. bag.

CHEESE EXPORTS

The exports of cheese from Portland, Me., and St. John, N.B., arriving at destinations for the week ended March 2, were:

Notes on 'Change

A private wire from Chicago to Shearson, Hammill & Co., said:

The strength in Liverpool this morning is based on their fear of difficulty in stuff reaching them, due to submarine activities. This situation, while bullish on their wheat, is the reverse on ours. Probably this will not be analyzed by the general trading public and some response to these foreign cables may be anticipated in our market, although they really should have the reverse action. However, the market has been heavily liquidated and there seems to be a better underlying strength exhibited than for some time. Consider the scalping proposition best, but would wait for extreme breaks and pick up July wheat.

Broomhalls weekly Argentine shipments: Wheat, 2,864,000 bushels, last year 5,193,000; corn, 404,000; last year, 1,242,000; oats, 690,000; last year, 1,670,000. Visible supply in chief ports: Wheat, 8,096,000; last year, 6,992,000; corn, 3,519,000; last year, 3,715,000.

Federal bank monthly says there is a large amount of wheat held on the farms northwest which, because of the present poor condition of roads and poor conditions for marketing, will probably remain off the market until the spring. It will figure in important manner in railroad tonnage eventually, says a report from Minneapolis.

MODERATE DROP AFTER EARLY GAINS

CHICAGO, March 3. — Higher prices at Liverpool gave strength today to the wheat market here. The bulls seemed to be encouraged also by the prospect that the submarine issue in Congress will be sidetracked. There were signs, too, that exporters and millers were not overlooking advantageous opportunities to purchase.

Opening quotations, which ranged from 1-4 to 1 1-8c higher, with May at 111 1-2 to 112 and July at 109 1-3 to 109 7-8, were followed by a slight further gain and then a moderate set back.

A majority of the traders and commision houses are bearish on all grains, especially on corn and oats. They argue that with congestion on all western roads and reduced outside interests, corn and oats should be sold on all bulges. A number of the big professionals are pressing the short side at every opportunity. It is the belief of trade that Washington and crop news are to govern the market for the present. With fears of reduced shipping from submarine activity and a lightening of speculation generally, disposition is to work on the short side on all upturns.

Range of grain prices up to noon:

OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK IN WHOLESALE TRADE

There is a very optimistic feeling in our wholesale trade districts; country orders are coming in satisfactorily. During the week, dry goods houses report more activity in spring orders for woolen and cotton goods, as prices are tending upwards.

In the grocery trade prices in all lines of imported merchandise are higher, with limited stocks on hand and further supplies very difficult to obtain. Refined sugars advanced 10c per 100 lbs., on all grades. The flour market is dull; the recent declines in value have not increased the sales in the local market or the foreign demand, although the exports which just arrived at their destination during the past week were the heaviest on record for some time past, the figures aggregating over one hundred thousand sacks.

The egg market was somewhat firmer during the week, due to the cold weather, but this condition of the market is only temporary. There is very little doing in the butter trade; cheese is moving freely for export, but most of it is of American manufacture, the supplies of Canadian cheese being pretty well cleaned up. The cattle markets have ruled firm under light supplies, the light receipts of hogs bringing higher prices from the buyers. Potatoes have been more plentiful, but prices are still high. The scarcity of poultry and the high prices ruling have curtailed the demand. Most of the beans offering on this market come from the Michigan district in the United States, and are bringing very high prices.

The retail trade has been fairly good. Remittances are keeping up well, while city collections show a slight improvement.

NOT FORCING MEN TO GIVE PER CENT TO GENERAL FUND

Special to The Montreal Star.

LONDON, Ont., March 3.—An order from Montreal that 1 per cent of every Grand Trunk railwayman's pay is to be deducted every month for the Patriotic Fund, is causing serious trouble, and if enforced may result in a strike, as a large number of employes declare they will not pay. The names of all those objecting are to be sent to Montreal.

REPORT DENIED BY OFFICE HERE

In a statement issued to The Star yesterday from the office of vice-president Kelley, it was denied that any idea of compulsion was contained in the suggestion that employes of the company should contribute one per cent. of their wages to the Patriotic Fund.

"That rate of contribution was suggested only in order to standardize Grand Trunk contributions," The Star was told, "In cases where, as in London, certain municipalities arrange for contribution by means of taxation, there is no idea upon the company's part that its men should be compelled to contribute twice, as suggested by the despatch.

BOUGHT MOTORS.

"In Toronto Grand Trunk employes combined and raised sufficient money to buy motor ambulances. Their contributions came to considerably more than one per cent. And there certainly never was any idea that they should contribute through their payrolls also.

"As to the names of the objectors being sent to Montreal, we have no information whatever. It should be generally understood that all sums contributed by Grand Trunk employes are entirely voluntary."

Mining Men Will Protest to Minister

Special to The Montreal Star.

OTTAWA, March 3. — Yesterday at the meeting of the Canadian Mining Institute a deputation consisting of the president, A. A. Cole, and members of the council with six additional members, representing mining interests, not having representation on the board, was chosen to wait on the Finance Minister, with reference to the proposed new taxation and its influence on the mining industry.

BRITISH AIRMAN DESCRIBES FIGHT WITH HUN FOKKER

Special Star Cable by United Press.

LONDON, March 3.—How a German "Fokker" fighting plane shot down by a British airman, came tumbling down from a height of 7,000 feet, was described in a letter from the British pilot to his friend.

The Fokker plunged through the roof of a British dug-out, wounding four soldiers.

The British pilot, with an observer, had ascended 10,000 feet. Coming from the German front and several hundred feet below him, he saw one of the Fokkers pursuing and rapidly overhauling a British biplane, fleeting back to the British lines.

"Down we went, almost vertically," said the airman. "The Fokker had caught up with the Britisher and was emptying its gun at fifty yards. We wound up our dive twenty yards behind the German, who didn't see us until we opened fire.

"Twenty rounds failed to hit him in a vital spot, but he quit the chase and turned his attention to us. The beggar began describing circuits around us, firing all the time, while we did a sort of inner circle.

"Suddenly he decided he had enough and started for home. After him we went, diving lustily. We were getting so low we expected the German 'archies' to begin any moment. Then we got him. A lucky shot found its billet and the Fokker pilot was no more.

"First he turned over, wheels up; then he looped, then several cartwheels, a nose dive, more loops and several turns on to and off his back, sideways, until he struck.

"The nose went head-first through the top of the dugout, built of heavy logs, and with three feet of earth on top. The pilot and mechanician were torn to pieces."

HUMAN ELEMENT MUST COUNT IN VERDUN STRUGGLE

Returned French Major Gives Graphic Details of Fighting

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, March 3.—A special Paris cable to the New York Times, says:

"This afternoon's communique was read in the officers' ward of a Paris hospital where I was visiting an artillery major brought in last night from the Verdun front.

"Apropos of the communique he gave the following interview, outlining the different phases of the battle and describing the fighting in which he participated.

"'That looks as if they were beaten at Verdun, anyway. They may try elsewhere, but even Germany's need for a striking success cannot make Verdun worth the lives of another quarter of a million of soldiers, and they must sacrifice that number more if they attempt to take the fortress from the southeast.

"'To give you an idea of what the Woevre mud is like, I drove a light car a month ago to a village about a mile from the cliff east of Douaumont.

"'The road was frightful. Before we had gone half-way the car was bogged to the axles; so we walked, and the car was pulled out later by a team of horses. Imagine guns and ammunition waggons in such a quagmire.

MORAL EFFECT OF LOSSES.

"'You must take into account also the moral effect of their losses. Even German discipline cannot stand slaughter on such a scale. We reckon their total losses at 175,000 in seven days' fighting, with fully 100,000 killed. There never was a battle with such a high proportion of killed.

"So there must be a reaction. I do not expect another German move on a big scale for some time. Never mind what the military critics say. They forget the human equation, but you cannot leave it out, even in the case of Germans.

"It all depends on how they hide their defeat from their own people. If they do that, they may produce another spasm before we finally smash them.

"Otherwise they might easily blow up from within, if once their masses realized what a disaster this failure really meant.

"Don't you make any mistake about that. No one who knows the magnitude of their effort can fail to appreciate the meaning of its failure. We expected a big stroke but when it came it utterly surpassed anticipation.

THREE CRITICAL POINTS.

"There were three critical points in the battle as I see it. The first was at the end of the opening phase, that of fighting in the outer positions, from the 22nd to dawn on the 25th, when we had to withdraw without losing cohesion or giving them a chance to rush us and break our line. There have been some fine retreats in this war from von Kluck's at the Marne to Sarrail's in Serbia; but when history is written that retirement before Verdun will rank with the best of them.

"The second crisis of the battle was their success at Douaumont. Of course as a fort, there was not much left after the bombardment, but the position was immensely valuable. I have not seen the fort lately, but a few months ago it was just a series of armored tunnels."

"The central enciente where I understand the remnant of the Brandenburgers are holding out, was quite small, just containing a central turret, armed only with mitrailleuses or small revolver cannon and a heavy armored observation post. I would have given ten years of my life to see our counter-attack that re-won the position.

"It was the same corps—'The Iron Division' we called them—the famous 'Troupes de Choc,' who won the battle of Champagne.

METHODS ARE COMPARED.

"The Douaumont struggle, which was the crux of the whole battle, really illustrates the French and German war methods, contrasted, at their best.

"The Germans took the position in a typical brutal, dogmatically scientific fashion, by searching artillery preparation, applied to the utmost degree, followed by massed assaults pressed home with complete disregard of sacrifices.

"Our charge was a triumph of the human factor, a victory of the legandary 'furie Francaise,' worthy of Napoleon's Guardsmen. No troops in the world could have resisted it.

"The last critical moment was late the same night and early Sunday morning, when the Germans made desperate attempts to recover Douaumont by attacks, first from Louvemont along the road leading up to Bras village on the plateau, and second, by a later and less determined stab at the turning of Douaumont from the south by an advance across the plateau near Vaux.

"We could concentrate nearly all the forts on the latter effort, which was weakened by the Germans having to climb a narrow ravine and debouch on a narrow front, affording us an easy mark, but the Bras fighting was quite a different affair and might have been very serious, if not actually critical.

"As the Germans advanced they were sheltered in the ravine from our guns on the plateau to their left and by the Poivre and Talou spurs from our batteries across the river, but it was the latter on Charny heights that finally smashed them when they reached charging distance.

"I saw that myself. It was as if the plateau edge had been mined. The explosions were so continuous that the whole section was covered with a cloud of smoke through which one saw flashes.

FRENCH GUNS INIMITABLE.

"On came the lines of men in which huge rents were being torn, but which always seemed to fill up again, and over everything was a shower of earth, trees, and limbs of bodies flung into the air continually. They actually managed to advance some distance; then our mitrailleuses joined in, and they simply lay down in rows.

"The Germans may talk of their howitzers but our artillery is inimitable. The gunners literally fire to an inch. At Verdun it was especially well organized. The commander is a wonder.

"You know '938'? He showed the Germans what French artillery meant at the first battle of Verdun in 1914, [illegible] he smashed a whole Bavarian division with three batteries of 'Seventy-Fives.'

"He gets there because he insists on seeing everything himself—never leaves things to chance or to others. It is no exaggeration to say that he planned every round at Verdun.

"He is a little, slim, nervous chap with a short, square, grey beard and brown complexion. He has the habit of appearing at unexpected moments, and woe betide any wretched local commander who has not got everything just as it should be.

"His men like him—and there are plenty of others, that will win this war for France. You know if Frenchmen are properly led they can go far. That's a truism as old as Napoleon.

"The end of the war may be nearer now than most persons imagine. Anyway, as regards Verdun, there is no longer cause for anxiety. We have had time to bring up supplies and reinforcements, and the more the fighting is prolonged, the less chance the Germans have.

"Then, perhaps, when they abandon the attack dispirited, we may have something to say which the enemy may not find so easy to answer."

SENATE FIGHTS TO DRAW: HOUSE HOLDS OUT AGAINST VOTE

Storm Over President's Policy on Armed Ships Breaks in Senate—Senator Gore Hints President Wants War—Senator Stone Denies It—Bitter Two-Hour Fight.

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — President Wilson yesterday authorized a statement denying any utterance which might be interpreted as indicating he was not unfavorable to war with Germany.

The statement follows:

"When the attention of the White House was called to certain statements in Senator Gore's speech this afternoon, the President authorized an unqualified denial of any utterance to which any such meaning could be attached."

Special to The Montreal Star by Bond P. Geddes, of the United Press.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — The storm over the President's demand for a show down in the matter of his negotiations with Germany broke in the debate yesterday.

The Senate responded to the President's demand for consideration of the Gore warning resolution, with nearly two hours of tempestuous debate. At an early morning session tomorrow the final vote may be taken.

Floods of pent-up oratory were loosed in the Senate. Senators Stone, Lodge and Williams demanded that the President be given the vote he asked.

Possibility of hostilities with Germany were openly discussed.

Senator Gore repeated what he characterized as a report that President Wilson had told certain Congress leaders that war between the United States and Germany "might not be ungrateful and might result in advancing civilization by bringing about the end of the European war by midsummer."

Senator Stone denied the President had ever intimated that war with the Teutonic allies would be desirable.

Senator Stone charged opposing Democrats with "nagging and defying the President." Senator Lodge called upon the Senate to show the country that Congress stood behind the President and not behind Germany.

The President also took up the matter of Republican support, inviting the House Republican leader, Mr. Mann, to confer with him late this afternoon.

Stirring scenes, unparalleled since Spanish war days, were brought on by the Senate debate. Every senator was in his seat. Galleries were jammed. Nearly 100 House members came over and stood about the chamber. The day of turmoil made it practically certain that the Senate would sustain the President, but the greatest doubt still prevailed regarding the House's action.

HOUSE OBDURATE.

While the Senate was breaking into stormy debate, the House remained obdurate against considering the McLemore resolution as desired by the President. A meeting of the Foreign Affairs Committee was called this afternoon, with final action possible then.

The President delivered an ultimatum during the day to Congressional leaders that he would insist upon a record vote and let it be known that he will.

CHARGE RENEWED.

Throughout the afternoon the charge was renewed in the Senate corridors that the President had determined to go to war with Germany. The charge created a sensation.

"I have heard three Senators say within the last ten minutes that they know Gore spoke the truth," said Senator Jones at one time.

Senator Gore himself pointed out that Sen. Stone had denied the statement with reservations. In its phraseology, he said, the Stone answer to his question had evaded a direct denial.

Who the three Senators were who had said they knew the Gore statement of the President's position to be correct, Sen Jones refused to say.

"The President made no such statement as quoted by the Senator from Oklahoma," said Sen Stone on the floor.

"Whatever the President said is something I do not care to repeat. When I go to the White House and hold a conference with the President, what he says to me is sacred. I have not repeated conversations I have had with the President. I have stated impressions that conversations I have had with him made upon my mind, and I stated them in substance in a letter I wrote to the President, which has been published."

Senator Williams, of Mississippi, vehemently defended the stand of the President, saying, in part:—

"He has said, 'I'm tired,' and picked up the gauntlet, to find out of the patriotism of Congress is behind him or not—'if I am not in authority then kill me as a negotiator.'

"Bring on your Gore resolution or any other resolution and table them. Let's see whether senators stand against the President on a principle of international law five hundred years old."

"The international law is plain," continued Senator Williams, "and Germany wishes to change it and make us a party to the crime. For us to recognize Germany's claim would be an unneutral act. The only danger of war is in the effort to prevent the President from carrying on negotiations. It is your action and yours alone that induced the last position taken by Germany."

Denouncing all American sympathizers with European belligerents Senator Gore answered: "I believe the holders of a half billion of the Allies' bonds would like to have us insure their cause," he said. "Our whole welfare should not be placed in the hands of any one madcap American who might ship on an armed merchantman.

"It is a right that is a survival of piracy, but civilization abrogates brutal rights. Slavery was once a legal right. Every madcap American citizen has a legal right to risk his own life and engulf his nation in bloodshed. Every American has a right to be protected against becoming involved in this butchery.

"My only contention is that pending this struggle the legal rights should be withdrawn. We ought to say, as we would to a son or a daughter, 'don't you go on an armed ship.'

"If an American is killed what consolation to his family is war?"

"Your resolution doesn't withdraw the right of any American to travel, does it?" asked Sen. Clapp.

"No, it urges Americans not to exercise it," answered Sen. Gore. "It just warns them if they exercise that right we'll withdraw our protection," exclaimed Sen. Lodge.

Senator Gore asked since when the Secretary of State had been given power to deny to any American an inalienable right, if it was a right. He denied Congress was exceeding its powers in warning Americans.

Senator James said he distinguished between Americans "gallivanting arounding sight-seeing," and business travellers.

"There is no distinction in right," Senator Gore retorted. "The State Department has no right to inquire a traveller's reasons. Are there no Americans or neutral ships immune from attack?

"If on a belligerent ship they sail to their death and lead the Republic to war, would it be a misfortune or an act of tyranny to have denied them passports?

"My resolution is based on the report that the President was determined to go to war if necessary and that certain senators believed the entrance of the United States into war would be a blessing—an almost incredible report, but there was every circumstance of truth.

GLAD IF REPORT IS UNTRUE.

"If such a thing be even conceivable, I do not feel I could withhold my service to avert war.'

Sen. Gore said he would accept a denial from Sen. Stone that the Administration thought war might not be undesirable.

"The President never stated to me that he believed or entertained the thought that war between the United States and the Central Powers would be desirable or result in good to the United States," said Senator Stone.

"Why did you not ask the President as to the truth of this report?" Senator Gore asked.

"I had no invitation to see him, nor had I any reason to believe he would tell me if I asked him. If the report is untrue, of course, everyone is glad."

The Chamber was crowded during the debate. All Senators were present, and there were at least 100 visitors from the Lower House standing. Senator Borah asked Sen. Gore if the resolution passed and 100 Americans were killed by a submarine, would the President refuse to take action.

Sen. Gore replied that that passage of his resolution would prevent just such a slaughter, by refusal of passports to Americans. He insisted that his resolution is of the same principle as the ruling of the State Department, refusing to issue passports to Americans who wished to visit warring countries.

"In one case," answered Sen. Olliver, "the State Department acts under its constitutional power; in the other, Congress is leaving its proper province."

Sen. Lodge paralleled the present and the past Mexican situations.

"The criticism of the Administration for failure to protect Americans in Mexico, despite warnings to them, continues," he said. "The attitude of the President in his letter to Senator Stone is he one I have always upheld. He has a right to a vote, and to know if Congress is behind him, or whether Congress takes the view that the opposing power is taking."

"There are times," said Senator Williams, following Senator Lodge, "when there are irrepressible conflicts. The time has now come when we must settle this question of America.

"The President has been brought to this situation by Senators who have represented the pleas of foreign capitals. Shal I exclaim, 'America first', or shall I sing 'Deutschland Uber Alles?'" Senator Williams insinuated that "foolish politicians" were responsible for the President's difficulties.

"Americans without frills, embroideries or hyphens have a right to live here and be heard," he declared, ironically, pleading for Americanism in the present dispute.

"Foreign relations are the work of the President. The chief magistrate of the United States has been nagged and prodded, aye, dared, to surrender the initiative in foreign relations to Congress.

"'Very well,' he say, 'You have made my enemies believe I am weak, that my people are disunited. Now, I want a show-down.'

"And I believe it will be a show-up," said Sen. Williams.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. McAdoo, and the Postmaster-General, Mr. Burleson, who have been carrying on a careful canvass of the situation at the Capitol, conferred with the President shortly after noon. They gave the President the latest report on existing condition.

Rep. Lloyd, speaking for a portion of the Missouri delegation in Congress, conferred with the President during the morning on the question of possible "adjustment" of the difficulty at the Capitol. He indicated, however, that a majority of his delegation would support the President on a resolution which would clearly leave international negotiations in the hands of the President.

The State Department said today that "all negotiations of any kind whatever with Germany" have been held up pending action by Congress on the armed merchantmen question and pending the arrival of the appendices to the German submarine decree.

M. MOUNET-SULLY FAMOUS TRAGEDIAN OF FRANCE, DEAD

Dean of the Comedie Francais Played Many Celebrated Roles

PARIS, March 3.—Jean Mounet-Sully, the celebrated French tragedian and Dean of the Comedie Francaise, is dead at the age of seventy-five. He was born at Bergerac, in Dordogne, on February 27, 1841. At the age of twenty-one, he entered the Conservatoire in Paris, and when he graduated he took the first prize for tragedy. He made his debut at the Odeon in Paris in 1868, but attracted little attention. The Franco-German war of 1870-71 interrupted his career, and so fond did he become of army life that he almost decided to abandon the stage.

HOW HE WON FAME.

His great opportunity came, however, in 1872, when he was called upon to play the part of Oreste, the "Andromaque" of Racine, at the Comedie Francaise. His vigorous and splendid acting, together with his fine presence and voice, made a tremendous impression and his success was complete. He was elected as "Societaire" in 1874.

MANY FAMOUS ROLES.

M. Mounet-Sully remained with the Comedie Francaise and achieved success in a wonderful variety of tragic and romantic parts. His most famous impersonation was that of Oedipus in "L'Oedipe Roi," a French version of Jules Lacroix of Sophocles' old Greek drama. Other famous parts were Achille in Racine's "Iphigenie et Audide," Hippolyte in "Phedre," Hamlet, the title roles in Victor Hugo's "Mernani" and "Ruy Blas," and King Francis in "Le Roie S'Amuse."

M. Mounet-Sully also wrote a drama, "La Buveuse de Larmes," and in 1906 collaborated with M. Pierre Barbier in writing "La Vieillesse de Don Juan," in verse. In 1889 he was made a Knight of the Legion of Honor.

SERIOUS RIOTING IN MADRID OVER A STRIKE BY BAKERS

Numerous Arrests and Several Wounded in Clashes with the Police—Business Suspended and all Stores Closed

By Canadian Press.

MADRID, March 1, via Paris, March 2.—Disturbances over the food situation, which began with a strike of the Madrid bakers, have developed into a general strike, in consequence of which all retail business has been suspended while rioting of a serious nature has developed.

There have been numerous arrests of rioters, and several were wounded in combats with the police.

The strike began with the bakers, because of the high price of flour and quickly extended into other branches of trade, finally resulting in a general stoppage of work, the suspension of business and the closing of all the stores.

The demonstrations resulted in struggles with gendarmes who were endeavoring to break up the crowds. In the suburbs the police were unable to suppress the disorders and the situation in these districts is grave.

The failure of the municipal authorities to maintain order caused the mayor of Madrid to resign.

A Madrid despatch received last night reported strikes and disturbances in most of the provinces of Spain as a result of the increased cost of food, a general strike having been proclaimed in Valencia and serious rioting having taken place there.

THIRTEEN TRUE BILLS RETURNED FOR KING'S BENCH

Thirteen true bills were returned yesterday by the grand jury of the Court of King's Bench, which has been in session since Wednesday morning. Two of the accused immediately made optiono, and decided to go before a judge in the Court of sessions, rather than face judge and jury. They are A. Wilson, accused of burglary, and Isaac Rosensweig, accused of conspiracy to defraud. The jury have not yet thrown out a single case.

A true bill was returned against Leslie C. Kastner, accused of altering the books of the Sterling Bank, and against A. Charbonneau, charged with attempting to murder Angelina Pelletier. Another indicted for the attempted murder of a woman is V. Vilandre, of Berthier County.

The others against whom true bills were returned are J. B. St. Pierre, Courville, theft as servant; Vasyl charged with false pretences; J. H. Boyeshun, assault; C. H. Kindestin, theft of moneey for which he was accountable; N. Sylvestre, burglary; C. E. Beaulieu, theft and false statement; P. G. Crethan, robbery, and Maria Daoust, perjury.

LONGEST AND SHORTEST DAYS.

Q. — Your recent note about the longest and shortest days was very interesting. Could you oblige me by telling the actual length of the longest and shortest days, at some different points in Canada, if possible. — J. R. McD., Montreal.

A. — The following figures give the time between sunrise and sunset on the longest day, June 21, and the shortest day, December 21, — summer solstice and winter solstice—at different points in Canada; figures indicating hours and minutes: Montreal, longest 15-42, shortest, 8-42; Ottawa, longest, 15-62, shortest, 8-56; Quebec, longest, 15-54, shortest, 8-32; Halifax, longest, 15-36, shortest, 8-44; Winnipeg, longest, 16-22, shortest, 8-6; Edmonton, longest, 17-4, shortest 7-26; Regina, longest, 16-28, shortest 7-58; Vancouver, longest, 16-16, shortest 8-12; Cobalt, longest 15-59, shortest, 8-26; Fort William, longest 16-8; shortest, 8-18; Prince Albert, longest, 17-0; shortest, 7-30; fort Vermillan, longest, 18-20, shortest, 6-19; Prince Rupert, longest, 17-14, shortest, 77-18; Dawson, longest, 21-5, shortest, 4-9.

THE ARMENIANS.

Q. — Of what race are the Armenians? Are they a good people, or are they of little account, like so many other peoples of that part of the world?

A. — The Armenians are of the Aryan race and of pure Caucasian blood. They have behind them a long history of heroism and martyrdom. They have an ancient civilization and a beautiful literature. Their business talent and energy are proverbal. "Of all those who dwell in Western Asia they stand first," says Lord Bryce. Lamartine calls them "the Swiss of the East." Dulaurier compares them to the Dutch. Dr. James L. Barton says: "They are the Anglo-Saxons of Turkey." He adds: "I know the Armenians to be, by inheritance, religious industrious and faithful. They are not inferior in mental ability to any race on earth." The Turkish Government has been carrying on a systematic extermination of the Armenians, accompanied with unspeakable cruelties. Multitudes have perished most of whom could have saved their lives if they would have renounced Christianity.

WHAT IS A NATION?

Q. — What is the definition of a nation? Must the people of a nation live under one form of Government in a given geographical area? Is a people of the same language, customs, etc., necessarily a nation? Are the Jews in their existing state a nation? — "Moses."

A. — Funk and Wagnall's New Standard Dictionary of the English Language defines the word nation thus: "A people or community associated together and organized under one civil government and ordinarily dwelling together in a distinct territory of its own, an organized body politic; a state. An aggregation of people of common origin, traditions, and language; a linguistic stock." While the Jews, in their present state, can not be called a nation under the first definition, under the second they have a perfect right to be so called.

DISCOVERY OF NORTH POLE.

Q. — Opinions seem to be at variance as to who discovered the North Pole. Kindly settle this question. What was the date of discovery? — A. W. B., Montreal.

A. — The United States Government in 1911 raised Robert E. Peary from the rank of Commander to that of Rear-Admiral as a reward for his success in discovering the North Pole. Dr. Cook claimed to have discovered the Pole, but the evidence he produced of having accomplished this has not been accepted by scientists in any part of the world. Peary reached the Pole on April 6, 1909.

NEUTRALITY OF BELGIUM

Q. — What nations signed the treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium? —J. W. B., Westmount.

A. — By the Treaty of London, November 15, 1831, the neutrality of Belgium was guaranteed by Austria, Russia, Great Britain and Prussia. A further treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium was signed in London April 19, 1839, between Prussia, Austria, Great Britain, France, Russia, and the Netherlands. Belgian neutrality was ratified by the powers in 1870.

"HEATHER ALE."

Q. — Will you kindly inform me who is the author of the poem entitled "Heather Ale," and in what volume I can find it? — A Scottish Reader.

A. —n The poem "Heather Ale: A Galloway Legend," was written by Robert Louis Stevenson. It is printed in full in Stedman's "Victorian Anthology," and also in the volume of "Stevenson's Complete Poems," published by Charles Scribner's Sons.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Q. — Are both of the following ways of abbreviations correct — Jany., Feby., Octr. Decr. — Jan., Feb., Oct., Dec., used in stating the time of death on a tombstone? — M. M. Montreal West.

A. — The first are contractions; the second, abbreviations. Both are correct, the latter being more commonly used in this country.

ANTI-LIQUOR LEAGUE MEETING ON MARCH 9

The Anti-Liquor League of the Province of Quebec will hold its first annual meeting in the lecture hall of St. James Methodist Church on Thursday, March 9. The programme will include the business meeting, conference and election of officers commencing at 2 p.m.; the anniversary tea at 6 p.m., and a public platform meeting at 8 o'clock.

The league has secured for speakers F. B. Carvell, of Woodstock, Member for Carleton County, N.B., and Omer St. Amour, of Ste. Agathe des Monts. Mr. Carvell is a strong supporter of the temperance cause. Mr. St. Amour is the moving spirit in the temperance council of his district.

DR. DON CLEVELAND JOINS MEDICAL CORPS

Dr. Don Cleveland, of the Royal Victoria Hospital, has been granted a commission in the Royal Army Medical Corps, and will leave shortly for London to be appointed to one of the medical units.

Since his graduation from McGill, Dr. Cleveland spent some time in New York City, where he did postgraduate work at the Presbyterian hospital, and in the Royal Victoria hospital, where he has been on the resident staff for the past year as senor house-physician.

Dr. Cleveland intends eventually to practise in British Columbia, being a native of Victoria, and a former student of the High School there.

There are 7,300,000 men in Prussia earning less than £21 per year.

NEW JUDGE PAYS VISIT TO COURTS

Joseph Victor Allard, K.C., of Berthierville, the new Superior Court judge for the district of Montreal, paid his initial visit to the Court House yesterday. He paid his respects to Acting Chief Justice Archibald, after which he called upon each of the judges in person. By both members of the Bench and Bar he was given a warm welcome.

It is not known when Mr. Justice Allard will be sworn in. The Acting Chief Justice stated this morning that his commission, in all probability, would not be ready for a week, yet, and that the swearing-in ceremony could not take place until the commission was obtainable.

Justice Allard stated that it was his intention forthwith to take up residence in the city, where he will henceforth be engaged on his new duties.

VETERAN DIVA IS DEAD IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 3.—Mme. Marie Diro Marion, 64 years old, a former opera singer, died at her home here last night. Physicians said acute pleurisy caused her death.

Mme. Marion had lived in Chicago for more than a quarter of a century. Nearly thirty years ago she was a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York.

CAN SEIZE GOODS OF SOLDIER AT FRONT

Judge Dorion in the Circuit Court yesterday maintained a seizure effected on the goods of a soldier on active service. It was argued that the seizure could not be upheld because, according to the British Army Act, a soldier on active service is exempt from such proceedings, except under very formal and express conditions as to notification, etc. His Lordship did not deal with this point, but held that the act of a landlord in guaranteeing himself against loss caused by a former soldier-tenant was justified.

Mr. Justice Guerin, sitting in Review, upheld the suit of Miss Hanna Flaherty, who claimed a share of an expropriation award made in favor of her tion that a tramways line be contended that a strip of land along Sherbrooke street, Notre Dame de Grace, figuring in the expropriation, had been donated by Henry Mills, in consideration that a tramway's line be constructed and that the Tramways Company assume the expense of widening the street, grading it and removing the fences, etc. Both courts found that these conditions were not fulfilled, and that thus the donation was void and plaintiff had a right to her share in the proceeds of the expropriation.

CASE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

The Foundation Company of Canada, which claimed $51,123.35 from the Lyall Construction Company, has had the case settled out of court. The basis of suit was extra work done on the sinking of foundations for the Customs examining warehouse, McGill street. The Foundation Company alleged that it had been necessary to reconstruct one of the foundation piers, by the pneumatic system, because the pier sunk by the Lyall Company had proven insufficient to carry the load placed upon it; and also to enlarge another of the piers, this enlargement being necessitated by a modification of the plans. The claim also covered payments alleged due on the original contract. The Lyall Company admitted the contract, but attacked the accuracy of items of the account. When the case was called, however, the parties announced that they had settled their differences, and Mr. Justice Lafontaine accordingly handed down judgment.

RAILWAYS GIVE FIGURES ON COST OF WAGE INCREASE

The demands being made by organizations of railway train service employes on western railways for a 25 per cent increase in wages, affects Canadian as well as United States railways, and the lines concerned say the increase would cost them $100,000,000 a year.

The executive committee of the Association of Western Railways has issued a statement which is, in part, as follows:

"The average yearly compensation of all engineers on the railroads of the United States in 1914 was $1,771; of all conductors, $1,533; of all firemen, $1,037; of all trainmen, $1,023. These employes number 369,000.

"To give the increase asked would average over $300 a year for each man.

"To give the same rate of increase to all railway employes would add over $330,000,000 a year to the payrolls of the roads. That is nearly equal to all the net railway dividends paid in 1914, and more than those paid in 1913.

"One-third of the railway stock paid no dividends in 1914.

"The railway engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen constitute about 18 per cent of the total railway employes and now receive 28 per cent of the total wages paid.

CONDUCTORS.

1,964 conductors (6.7 per cent) earned less than $1,000 a year.
1,082 conductors (6.8 per cent) earned from $1,000 to $1,100 a year.
1,895 conductors (12 per cent) earned from $1,100 to $1,200 a year.
2,706 conductors (17.1 per cent) earned from $1,200 to $1,300 a year.
2,743 conductors (17.4 per cent) earned from $1,300 to $1,400 a year.
2,391 conductors (14.7 per cent) earned from $1,400 to $1,500 a year.
1,482 conductors (9.3 per cent) earned from $1,500 to $1,600 a year.
946 conductors (5.9 per cent) earned from $1,600 to $1,700 a year.
646 conductors (4.1 per cent) earned from $1,700 to $1,800 a year.
892 conductors (5.6 per cent) earned over $1,800 a year.

OTHER TRAINMEN.

5,446 other trainmen (18.9 per cent) earned from $1,000 to $1,100.
3,394 other trainmen (11.8 per cent) earned from $1,100 to $1,200.
1,745 other trainmen (6 per cent) earned from $1,200 to $1,300.
576 other trainmen (2 per cent) earned from $1,300 to $1,400.
140 other trainmen (.49 per cent) earned from $1,400 to $1,500.
13 other trainmen (.04 per cent) earned from $1,500 to $1,600.
1 other trainman earned $1,798.

THE FUNERAL took place at East Sheen Cemetery, of Mr. Herbert Parson, the well-known commission agent.

W. A. PRESIDENT AGAIN RETURNED BY THE MEMBERS

The election of two more life members, Miss Aimee Renaud and Mrs. Wooley was announced by Mrs. Albert Holden, who presided at yesterday's session of thhe thirtieth annual meeting of the Montreal Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada.

Reports of the corresponding secretary, diocesan treasurer and out of town reports were read and a short address was given by the Rev. W. W. Craig, at the noontide intercessions. One hundred and twenty membership cards were sent out by the corresponding secretary, Mrs Gomery last year. She mentioned that the board meetings arranged at the branches were most successful.

Mrs. Albert Holden, the president, having entered into her twenty-fifth year of work, a record unequalled by any other missionary president in Canada,—had offered to resign, but protests came in from the branches all over the Dominion and she agreed to continue her work.

A new group, under Miss Stranaman, had been formed in Montreal to work for the Jews. The treasurer's report showed a successful year.

MANY SAILING TO THE ORIENT

The resumption of sailings by the Canadian Pacific to the Orient is resulting in a flow of passengers from the United States. The "Empress of Japan" will carry from Vancouver on March 4, a large number of representative Americans including the Hon. WIFE MURDERER PAYS PENALTY

OSSINING, N.Y., March 3.—Walter Watson, wife murderer of Brooklyn, was executed here early today.

Watson killed his wife, from whom he was separated, on March 22 last, attacking her with a carving knife.

PROHIBITION DEBATE.

"Resolved: that prohibition is desirable," will be the subject for debate by the Newfoundland Society Debating Club tonight in the Y. M. C. A., Drummond street, at 8:15 o'clock. The affirmative will be taken by Lieut. Lawton and R. Gardner and the negative by Leo. Summers and H. R. Davis.

TAX ON CANADIAN OFFICER LIMITED TO HIS ARMY PAY

By Canadian Associated Press

LONDON, March 3. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, replying in the House of Commons yesterday regarding the imposition of a tax upon the pay of Canadian officers, stated the instructions given by the Board of Inland Revenue are that any income tax assessment on a person who has come from overseas to join the naval or military forces should be restricted to his pay from the United Kingdom, and any income derived from other sources in the Dominions should neither be charged for income tax nor included in the calculation of his total income.

Splendid Work is Being Done in Basketry

We didn't know how we were going to accommodate all who wanted to learn, but we've done it, and there's room for more. And, listen, it's not only the ladies who are doing crepe rope basketry. Boys and men are taking up the art also, and doing very well indeed.

Some are making portable lamps and shades, others working on domes, baskets, candlesticks, trays and all sorts of things.

Party favors also. I saw a beautiful rose centre piece that was just finished, and a set of pale pink candle shades, trimmed with little pink rosebuds.

The lessons are quite free. Come and see what others are accomplishing. You will be interested.

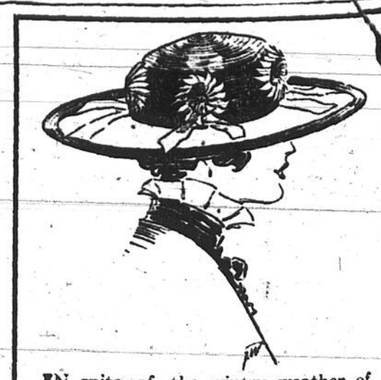
SUITS—FIRST FLOOR UP.



IN spite of the wintry weather of the last few days, Spring is here—in Goodwin's.

Every day sees some fresh indication of the trend of Spring fashions. It's like watching a rosebush getting ready to bloom, the buds appearing and gradually growing and opening leaf by leaf until the perfect flowers are flinging their fragrance abroad with every passing breeze.

The New Hats are veritable gardens of flowers and fruit. Delightful, if unusual colors and materials are combined. Leather flowers are very new for Spring wear, so is barred ribbon.

The cocquard of France, that the Midinettes of Paris are making both to be worn and to send to the soldiers at the front, are featured on some of the new chapeaux.

A New Georgette Model
(ILLUSTRATED ABOVE)

The suggestion has been taken from a Georgette model that we felt you would like—it's a most becoming sailor of the tailored type in either fine Milan taegal or lisere. The inset of the upper brim is covered with Cheruit crepe, and the crown is trimmed with motifs of Picot edged ribbon to match.

Now, this is a charming Paris hat, a copy of a select model, at a Goodwin price, for it's worth $15.00, but it is going to be sold at..... $8.98

The New Maline Hat Ruche

Triple pleated, waterproof Maline, seven inches deep, just ready to put on your hat. It's one of the best ideas that have been shown for a long time.
