Vol. LI. No. 227. MONTREAL, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1910. PRICE ONE CENT.

MUCH LIGHT ON THESE STREETS

Mr. Parent Outlines Thoroughfares Which Will Likely Have Larger Lamps

HOW THE CITY SAVES.

New Contract Will Cut Cost of Lighting the City Hall in Half.

Mr. Parent, lighting suyerintendent, has prepared a report in which he mentions the streets upon which he thinks should be installed the large 6 3-10 ampere lamps which are to cost the city $72.80 per annum. There will in all be only some 500 of these, he says, as the 4 ampere lamps, which will cost but $63.15, will give double the light of those at present in use, and will be quite sufficient for the majority of streets. But certain thoroughfares on which there is heavy traffic, Mr. Parent believes should be as bright as possible, so he recommends that one of the large lamps be ordered erected at each corner on St. Catherine, St. Lawrence, Windsor, St. James, as far west as Guy, Notre Dame, St. Denis, Papineau, Delorimier, Craig and Bleury streets, also on Beaver Hall Hill, Dorchester street west and Sherbrooke street, Mr. Parent thinks might well have the large lamps, as these are continually used for driving, and are the streets that every visitor to the city sees.

An instance of the saving which the new contract will mean to the city was given by Mr. Parent when discussing the situation. He was signing accounts for the illumination of the public buildings, and suddenly remarked: 'Now I'll just show you how these accounts compare with those we will have to pay under the new agreement. Here's one for lighting the City Hall from August 4th to September 6th of this year. We pay 15 cents per kilowatt hour, with a 33 1-3 percent reduction. Our account reads: Due, $423.30, less for discount, $141.10, net, $282.20. Now, by the new contract, we pay all over the city five cents a kilowatt hour, with no reduction. For the power we have used this month we would pay at this new rate $141.10, which is, as you can see, would mean a saving of $141.10.

'But,' Mr. Parent continued, 'all our old contracts are not as good as the one relating to lighting the City Hall. Here's an account for a police station, for instance. For the power used there we pay 15 cents per kilowatt hour, with a discount of only 5 percent. Our bill for the month is $13.50, and with the percentage deducted, $11.53. Now, paying for the power at the new rate of five cents per kilowatt hour, the city would owe the company only $4.59, a saving of more than half.'

MINISTER IS ILL

Tariff Negotiations May be Delayed Through Poor Health of Mr. Fielding

Ottawa, September 29.—Mr. W. S. Fielding, the Minister of Finance, arrived in Ottawa this morning. He was accompanied from Montreal by Mrs. Fielding and Miss Ethel Fielding, and was met at the station by another daughter, Miss Florence Fielding. Mr. Fielding was wearing an eye patch over his left eye and looked somewhat drawn and fatigued. He was driven directly to the family residence on Metcalfe street.

It is stated by close personal friends of Mr. Fielding that there is no real cause for alarm and that there is every reason to hope that he will shortly be restored to his usual health.

Mr. Fielding, it is stated, has been suffering from pains in his head for some time. A London specialist advised him to take a rest, and when he returned to Canada he went direct to his summer home at Chester, N.S. Mr. Fielding was on the point of leaving for Ottawa last week when he had a slight touch of facial paralysis. He remained over in Nova Scotia for a few days and came as far as Montreal yesterday.

Mr. Fielding was in good spirits this morning and expects for himself a quick recovery. Whether or not he will be compelled to take a rest is not yet known, but if he does, it is safe to assume that the tariff negotiations will have to be postponed for a time.

LOCKOUT SEEMS LIKELY

No Concessions to be Made English Cotton Mill Operatives

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 29.—The Federation of Master Cotton Spinners decided yesterday that they could make no further concesions to the operatives, and that the lockout of 150,000 men on October 1 must become effective unless the employees yielded.

The whole trouble originated in a local strike at the Fern Mill at Oldham.

The employers balked at the operatives' stipulation that the mill should not be re-opened until the decision of the arbitrator was given. The position is now at a deadlock.

WORLD'S SERIES DATES

Baseball Honors May be Decided by Games Starting October 15.

Cleveland, O., September 29.—The world's series between the Cubs and the Athletics may start on October 15, according to an announcement made by Secretary Robert McRoy, of the American League. That is, however, if President Murphy, of the Cubs, will wind up his season with St. Louis on October 13, as he stated yesterday in Chicago was possible. Otherwise the series will not start until October 17. A meeting of the national commission will probably be held Monday, when this matter will be settled.

McRoy announced the full line-up of the team as follows:

Ainsmith and Street, of Washington, catchers: Stahl, Boston, first base; Elberfeld, Washington, second base; McBride, Washington, short stop; Lord, Chicago, third base; Speaker, Boston; Milan, Washington and Cobb, Detroit, outfielders, and Johnson, Washington; White and Walsh, Chicago, pitchers. All of these players have now been signed up but Walsh and Cobb, and these are expected to be signed to-morrow. No Cleveland or New York players were selected, as those two teams will participate in post-season games.

The all-star team will be led by Manager McAleer, of Washington. The object of the series is to give the Athletics all the necessary practice during the week interval between the closing of the American League season and the start of the world's series.

The proceeds will be split even, between both teams, and all players will share alike.

DEATH OF ONLY SON

Mr Orton Gilmour, Clerk With the Canadian Express Company, Mourned by Many

Mr. Orton E.S.Gilmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Gilmour, died at the residence of his parents, 780 St. Denis street, on Tuesday, at the age of thirty-three years. He was the only son, and his parents will have the sympathy of a large circle of acquaintances in their bereavement.

The late Mr. Gilmour was born at South Georgetown, Chateauguay county, on September 26th, 1877, and was educated under the care of his father, who has held the position of head teacher in some of the leading model schools and academies of this province. In 1897 he graduated from the academy grade of the Gault Institute at Valleyfield which was inaugurated under the principalship of his father in 1835.

For some twelve years Mr. Gilmour had been a valued and trustworthy clerk in the audit office of the Canadian Express Company, and experienced such good health that he never lost a whole day during the entire period of his service with the company. He was a great reader, and spent a large portion of his leisure time in the Fraser Institute library, so that his fund of information was a source of surprise amongst his fellow clerks, by whom he was highly esteemed. His popularity has been manifested by the hearty sympathy extended towards his sorrowing parents who mourn the loss of an only and exemplary son.

The deceased was unmarried. He was addicted to none of the ordinary questionable habits of the youth of the day, and the only recreation he cared for was a game of lacrosse or hockey. His sorrowing friends deeply mourn his loss, and his late employers will find it hard to replace him. When he knew that he could not recover he was quite resigned, his only regret being for those who were left behind.. The last paper he read was the 'Witness,' whose columns he had been familiar with from childhood. He beloged to the third geeration of 'Witness' readers.'

EULOGIZES THE HAGUE.

The Hague, Sept. 20.—Prof. Yammasch, in presiding at the United States-Venezuela arbitration case, eulogized the impartiality of the so-called national members of the tribunal displayed in the North Atlantic fisheries case. They succeeded in subjecting their predilections of interests and national prejudices to their judicial consciences, and refrained from exercising their right to express in the verdict their disagreement on those points wherein their country could not be successful compatibly with the precepts of justice.

ATTACKED JOURNALISTS

Berlin Police Charged With Unnecessary Brutality in Street Riots

Toronto, Sept. 29.—A 'Globe' depatch from Berlin says:—

The 'Globe' correspondent here, together with other English colleagues, were sabred and badly beaten by the police in the heat of the Berlin riot last night.

Reuter's agent was slashed on both hands, the middle finger of the right hand being laid bare to the bone. He bled profusely. I was twice struck across the back of the head with the flats of the sabres. My eyeglasses were struck from my nose, and I was knocked from the seat of a taxi-cab to the floor.

The cab was returning at 10.30 p.m. from the riot region. We stopped in the brilliantly lighted Turmustrasse to watch the police with drawn sabres drive apparently inoffensive persons across the park on the side of the street. Suddenly a man in plain clothes shouted to six policemen who were swinging their sabres, 'At these fellows in the auto; hack at them.'

We made an attempt to identify ourselves by crying in chorus, 'We are newspaper men,' and raised our police passes in proof of the assertion. It was of no avail. The men were on us instantly, raining slash after slash and blow after blow upon our heads, arms, and shoulders. Our chaffeur, who had received several blows across his steering arm, grasped the situation rapidly, and raced us away before the policemen could deal u any further damage.

CAN COMPANY CUT TREES

Ald. Boyd Urges City to Prevent This if Possible

Appearing before the Board of Control this morning, Ald. Boyd asked that the City Attorney's look into the case, now before the Court, in which three workmen on the Saraguay Electric and Water Company are charged with cutting down some large shade trees.

The company, Ald. Boyd, explained, claim their charter gives them the right to cut down any obstruction. This he thought a question which might well be argued. He doubted if the company's charter over-rode the common law, which makes the destruction of such trees a criminal offence.

The Controllers agreed with Mr. Boyd, and advised the attornies to study the question.

BRITISH BOWLER PLEASED.

Appreciates Reception by Canadians, and Also the Way of Doing Business.

Mr. J. A. Smith, of the Burnhead Bowling Club, of Larbert, Scotland, who played such an important part in the recent tour of the British bowlers on their recent visit to Canada, is registered at the Queen's Hotel.

The greater part of the visiting British bowlers have returned via New York, but Mr. Smith has just returned from a friendly visit to St. John's and Halifax. While there he was the recipient of a beautifully engraved signet ring from friends.

Mr. Smith is very emphatic in his appreciation of the manner in which the visiting bowlers were treated, and of his own personal reception.

As his business interests are very large and varied in the old land, and extend into the various colonies, his visit has been a combination of social and business success.

RECOMMEND SETTLEMENTS.

Other recommendations are: Mrs. Annie Ashton, $300 for injuries sustained from a fall on a sidewalk; A. T. Bamford, $254 for injuries sustained in the same way, and Dominico di Carlow, $200 for a dog destroyed by the police.

DIOCESAN COLLEGE

Convocation Opened Today With Several Important Addresses.

CHURCH UNION DISCUSSED.

President Says, Looking to Rome He Sees no Reunion There.

Convocation of the Diocesan Theological College to-day was preceded yesterday by a 'quiet day' conducted by the Right Rev. J. Fielding Sweeney, D.D., Lord Bishop of Toronto. His Lordship gave a series of addresses on the duty of the clergy, likening them to ambassadors. 'An ambassador,' he said, 'was brought up in a political circle in order that when he went forth into the world he would know the will of his king and be able to express it knowingly and boldly. So must the clergy be prepared to serve with willingness, lovingness, and whole-heartedness, and be ever ready to speak the truth instantly and boldly, serving their king with a thorough patriotism. Many clergy of the diocese availed themselves of this opportunity to take part in a 'quiet day' under the inspiring influence of His Lordship.

This morning the president, the Rev. J. J. Willis, B.A., B.D., delivered his annual address, devoting himself largely to the higher criticism.

'One of our serious parochial duties,' he said, 'is the procuring of duly qualified Sunday-school teachers, and it weighs heavily upon the minds of our theological professors, for when the average seminarian comes to hear lectures (particularly on Biblical criticism and interpretation), the seeds of unbalanced criticism and erroneous interpretation have already been sown and have brought forth the fruit of prejudice, which handicaps both teacher and taught.

'We are now emerging from the darkness of the middle ages. All our crude interpretations of the Holy Writ, and the Catholic faith come from that darkness, but now, with the aid of trained theologians and scientific students, we are getting back to the light and the truth of apostolic days.

'We are called upon to speak of the infinite truth with finite words. That is our limitations. Was it not also the limitations of the Son of Man? Those who first heard His message based their systematic theology on their understanding. As time went on men lost the appreciation of the shades of meaning of words, and so brought in new ideas. What a debt of gratitude we owe to men like Dalman and Deissmann, who, from the dust piles, the waste paper baskets of Egypt, are recovering for us the meaning of many words used by Christ.'

He believed in the higher criticism. 'It is a dark age, a poor faith,' he said, 'that will chafe at criticism, for in reverent criticism men found the Christ and discover the unreasonableness and narrowness of those who search the Scriptures, but conduct their studies independently of the gift of God's Holy Spirit.'

Speaking of Church union, he said that the proposed reunion of Canadian Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists was a wise and logical movement. 'But it is only a federation,' he continued. 'A Canadian experiment which will result in another church, the naming of which will give rise to considerable discussion. The movement is purely Protestant; it has no Catholic ideals, and therefore I cannot think of the Canadian movement that it will bring about the desire of our hearts.'

He looked to Rome, but he could see no signs of reunion there; neither could he see it with the Eastern Church. He still believed that the Church of England was destined to be the centre of unity.

Dr. Willis concluded with a strong appeal for more candidates for the ministry.

After this meeting was concluded the Rev. H. S. Boyle, M.A., D.D., delivered an important address on 'Some lectures from the first and second centuries.' A discussion led by the Rev. Professor Howard followed.

Dr. Boyle's subject was the growth of the ministry. He gave a hasty survey of the writings of the post apostolic period. From these he inferred that the growth of the ministry was a development. In Rome its growth was slow, as it was likewise in Corinth and Alexandria. Dr. Boyle discussed thoroughly the writings of Ignatius, Clement of Rome, Irenaeus, and Clement of Alexandria. In effect he upheld the statement of the Anglican ordinal that since the earliest times there have been these orders of ministers in Christ's Church, bishops, priests and deacons.

The Rev. Professor Howard, in opening the discussion, upheld Dr. Boyle's position, quoting all the modern authorities on the subject.

This afternoon the Rev. Jas. E. Fee, M.A., will give an address on the Scotch reformation, while the Rev. Dr. H. Symonds will speak on the World Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh this year.

At 5.15 the Rev. H. T. S. Boyle, M.A., B.D., will deliver the sermon required for the degree of D.D. before the Archbishop of Ottawa and the Bishop of Montreal.

This evening at 8.30 the special convocation will take place, when His Grace the Archbishop of Ottawa will admit the Rev. H. S. Boyle to the degree of Doctor of Divinity, and the convocation address will be delivered by His Grace the Bishop of Toronto.

MONASTERY AT SHERBROOKE.

Sherbrooke, Sept. 29.—A deal has just been concluded by which the Redemptorist Fathers of St. Anne, Que., have purchased thirty-five acres of land on Ontario street, reaching to the city limits, for the purpose of erecting a large church and monastery. The price paid for the property was seven thousand dollars.

WOULD ENLARGE PARK.

Ald. Letourneau has requested the Board of Control to recommend the enlargement of George-Ettiene-Cartier Park, and yesterday the Controllers paid a visit to this. But from what Dr. Lachapelle says this morning it appears they are not convinced that money is as badly needed to enlarge this park, which now has an area of 66,816 square feet, as for expropriations in other parks of the city.

TIMBER RESOURCES.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—After investigating the timber resources of British Columbia for the past four months, Prof. Ross, forest engineer of the faculty of forestry in Toronto University, believes the estimate is exaggerated. This is the last big block of timber on the continent, but its growth is slow.

LONDON'S NEW LORD MAYOR

Sir Thomas Vesey Strong Returned Today Without Opposition.

STRONG TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE.

He Will Take Prominent Part in Coronation Ceremonies and Entertainments.

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Thomas Vesey Strong was to-day elected Lord Mayor of London without opposition. Sir Thomas is a pronounced temperance advocate and enjoys the distinction of being the first teetotaller chosen as chief magistrate of the metropolis. He was born in 1857 and in 1900 married Lillie, the eldest daughter of the late James Hortnoll. Sir Thomas was educated privately. In business he has been successful as the head of a paper firm. He was knighted while occupying the office of sheriff of the city of London. He is director of the United Kingdom Temperance and General Provident Institution and a commander of the order of Isabella the Catholic of Spain and of the order of Our Lady of Villa Vicesa of Portugal. The Mayor will figure prominently in the entertainments and ceremonies connected with the coronation of King George.

READY FOR RECIPROCITY

United States Has Concluded Arrangements For Negotiations

Washington, Sept. 29.—The Department of State, under President Taft's direction, has made all preparations to act as soon as word is received from Ottawa indicating the intentions of the Dominion Government concerning the proposed reciprocity negotiations. With the return of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the various cabinet ministers to the Canadian Capital, and with the recent arbitration at The Hague, eliminating the Newfoundland fisheries dispute from all controversy, the ways have been cleared for negotiations for commercial agreements between Canada and Newfoundland respectively on one side and the United States on the other. Mr. Knox, the United States Secretary of State, four months ago advised the Ottawa Government, through the British embassy, of the readiness of the United States to negotiate in accord with the understanding reached when Canada was granted minimum tariff rates, and in turn conceded to the United States intermediate tariff rates.

BROOKINS LONG FLIGHT

Aviator Left Chicago on Trip to Springfield.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Walter Brookins started from here at 9.16 a.m. in a Wright biplane for Springfield, 187 miles away, in an attempt to break the sustained flight record of the country.

Brookins passed over Kensington, thirteen miles from Chicago, at 9.36, and at 9.45 sped over the suburb of Harvey, nineteen miles distant. He was flying about two thousand feet high, and at a speed of fifty miles an hour. The roads and fields were dotted everywhere with people witnessing their first aeroplane flight.

Brookins will try to alight in the centre of the race track, directly in front of the grandstand, at the state fair at Springfield.

Wilbur Wright, tutor of Brookins, who watched the preliminaries, is to follow his pupil on the train, which was crowded with newspaper men and others.

The race against distance is under the direction of the Chicago 'Record-Herald,' which offers a prize of $10,000 for a continuous flight to the state fair.

The village of Monee, 31 miles from here, was passed at 10.10. The aviator was flying at about 40 miles an hour. The special train was 18 miles behind him.

The biplane winged over Peotone, forty miles distant, 10.22, and over Manteno, five miles further, at 10.34. It was averaging about 33 miles an hour.

When Brookins passed Otto, sixty miles from Chicago, at 11 a.m. the aeroplane was flying at a height of about 2,000 feet.

Brookins stopped at Gilman for oil. The stop precludes the making of a record for sustained flight, as Gilman is but 81 miles from the centre of Chicago, and 75 miles from Washington Park, the actual starting point of the flight.

SHOULD WATCH AS WELL.

Carter Was Praying When Accident Occurred.

Ismalie Latour, a carter, 499 Champlain street, was allowed to go this morning when the coroner's jury, investigating the death of Louis Lagne, 45 Archambault lane, brought in a verdict of accidental death.

Latour in his evidence stated that he was driving slowly down Delorimier avenue on his way home. He was seated on the cart and was saying his prayers, as was his custom. At Ontario street he turned in to pass a car, but was so absorbed in his devotions that he did not notice Logue. Contrary to report, when the man was knocked down, he stopped, ran into a store and telephoned for the ambulance. He stayed by the victim until the aid arrived.

Other witnesses corroborated Latour's story of his speed, stating that he was not travelling more than four miles an hour when the accident occurred.

WANT TOWER ON MOUNTAIN.

Controllers Asked to Allow One to Be Used by Geodetic Service.

Mr. C. A. Beggar, of the Department of the Interior, appeared before the Controllers this morning asking permissoin to construct a tower 40 x 16 feet in size on Mount Royal. This, he said, is needed for one year by the Geodetic Service of Canada.

The request was referred to the legal department.

DIVIDEND ON THE AMALGAMATED ASBESTOS DUE

But Payment Postponed for the Present---Brisk Trading ---Power Lower.

Although no shares of the stock were sold on the market this morning—buyers and sellers being too far apart in their ideas—the 'Street' was perhaps more concerned about Amalgamated Asbestos than any other issue, because of the uncertainty as to the dividend on the preferred. The meeting at which this matter was expected to be decided was, however, postponed without any definite action being taken, and although it is not certain that the dividend will be passed altogether for the present quarter, it is practically certain that it will be postponed for a few weeks at least.

The trouble seems to be that stocks have accumulated unduly at the works: that outlays for extensions and improvements have been heavy, and, of course, the stock is, at present, carrying a heavy load of water. Canada, however, has such vast expanding powers and asbestos is so growing in industrial use, that, it may be safely predicted, the water will all be squeezed out in time and the industry become a very profitable one.

In the meantime the dividends on the preferred may have to wait awhile, and the dividends on the common to be postponed more indefinitely in the future than the sanguine anticipated. As the preferred stock is cumulative, the dividends will have to be paid up at some time, as were the Dominion Steel preferred dividends this summer, and at the present price the stock looks very attractive for a long pull, that is for those who can purchase it outright and put it away in their strong boxes for awhile.

In April last preferred sold as high as 94 1-2, as against 60 asked and 50 bid this morning, while common changed hands as high as 28 1-2 in April, compared with 8 1-2 bid this morning. The latter should be a tempting price to those who can afford to keep it.

Power ran off again this morning on obvious manipulation, as those who are in the game are said to have worked it down so as to be able to manoeuvre another 10 point rise or so. The range was 151 3-4, 148, with the last sale made at 149. Quebec was active at 44, 45, the last sale being the highest. Steel was active and firm around 62-62 7-8; Crown Reserve was active and firm. Pacific was higher, and large blocks of Quebec and Iron bonds sold.

The Montreal Clearing House for week ended to-day has issued another splendid increase in local bank clearings, as follows:

Total for week ending Sept. 29, 1910.	$45,352,528
Corresponding week, 1909.	36,578,421
Corresponding week, 1908.	30,799,906

CONSOLS SAME MARKET DULL

London, Sept. 29.—Consols were unchanged to-day at 80 1-16 for money and account. American stocks were rather heavy with small changes.

LA ROSE ABLE TO PAY DIVIDEND INCREASE NOW

Mr. D. Lorne McGibbon is in the city to-day. It is needles to say that he is very enthusiastic as regards the favorable position in which the La Rose properties at Cobalt are in to-day.

Mr. McGibbon.

In discussing the La Rose situation with the 'Witness,' Mr. McGibbon remarked that the annual report of the mine was now in the hands of the printers and that it would be sent out in about two weeks' time.

He expected that it would prove a pleasant surprise to the shareholders, as full details will be given about the development and progress of the mines.

'Then an increase in La Rose dividend is likely?' Mr. McGibbon was asked.

'I think when the shareholders read the report they will find that we are in a position to increase it if we decide later on to do so,' was the answer.

Bank of England Rate Advanced to 4 P.C. ---Reasons Are Given

London, Sept. 29.—As had been anticipated, the Bank of England raised its discount rate to 4 percent to-day.

The advance was due chiefly to the large outflow of gold to Egypt and Turkey, the prospective Indian demand and the fact that the weekly arrivals are being steadily absorbed by the Continent.

The recent advance in the German bank rate, and yesterday's smart rise in market discounts, hastened the bank's decision.

PURCHASE OF TORONTO ST. TO BE DISCUSSED

Mayor Geary and Controllers to Meet Mr. Mackenzie.--- Some Inside News

Toronto, Sept. 29.—There may, or may not be, the slightest connection between the fact that the civic authorities of Toronto intend to approach the Toronto Railway Company with an offer to buy the road, as has been suggested from time to time during the past year, and the willingness of the Toronto Street people to sell.

Mr. Mackenzie

Mayor Geary and the Controllers have got deep enough into this subject to decide that they will request a conference with Mr. William Mackenzie. Usually when a prospective purchaser waits on the owner, he is prepared to make an offer. It is hard to believe that when the city representatives get face to face with the man that built up the Toronto system from nothing to what it is to-day, that they will have anything definite enough to state that action might result from it.

The Mayor, the 'Witness' understands, does not relish the job of waiting on Mr. Mackenzie and talking business with him. He is not used to that kind of dealings, and the reason the city wants to buy the system is because it doesn't think Mr. Mackenzie is giving a good enough service.

The 'Witness' has been informed by a party close to Mr. Mackenzie that the latter would just as soon sell as not,—for a price. It is stated that Mr. Mackenzie has got about all he wants out of the system, and that if the city can make terms that will be acceptable, the deal might go through. Naturally if Toronto acquired the sytem, it would have to be managed. The manager, R. J. Fleming, draws $20,000 a year for his services, and there are few people here who believe that Toronto would pay Mr. Fleming $20,000 salary to continue at his post.

A few months ago a Toronto lawyer approached Mayor Geary representing a syndicate that offered to build the 40 miles of track extension that Mr. Mackenzie has refused to lay down. The identity of the syndicate, which would have run a line in competition with the Mackenzie system, was a secret till a day or so ago when it came out that Mr. E. H. Keating was the engineer retained by the syndicate. Possibly the only comment that needs to be made at this point is that Mr. Keating has been a Mackenzie-Mann engineer for many years. If we jump at the conclusion that this was Mr. Mackenzie trying to compete against himself, then we may also presume that the head of the Toronto Railway Company has no thought just now of letting go this Street Railway gold mine.

It was suggested the other day that Mr. Mackenzie might suddenly merge the Toronto Railway Company with the Electric Development Company, and add to the group the Toronto Electric Light Company, but this seems improbable as the franchise of the Street Railway system has only eleven years yet to run.

At the present time Toronto receives from the street car system $700,000 per year cash return and next year its share will be about $800,000. The city, besides this, receives about $50,000 a year more in the way of mileage rental at the rate of $500 per mile for single and $1600 per mile for double tracks. This total sum of $750,000 represents the interest on from $14,000,000 to $15,000,000, and there are a lot of people who think that is good enough to receive without attempting to run a system on public ownership lines.

Stocks in London

London, Sept. 29.—American stocks in London showed trifling changes in a very inactive market. Advance in the bank rate had been expected, and the general market merely became dull without important movement.

Consols were heavy at 80. London was more concerned about the outward movement of gold disclosed in the bank return than anything else. Foreign houses had light orders both ways.

CONVERTERS IS CLEAR OF DEBT, ---MAKING MONEY

Mr. John P. Black, president of the Canadian Converters, stated to the 'Witness,' this morning, that business with company is exceptionally good, much in excess of previous years.

'I may tell you,' he said, 'that one of the factories which has been losing money since it came into the combine, is now working on a splendid paying basis.'

'It is unnecessary to say that all the other factories are making money this season. We have been able to write off all indebtedness accumulated previous to passing the dividend, and now we have a surplus, all the factories have plenty of orders ahead.'

'Then you are likely to resume dividend payments?' Mr. Black was asked.

'I cannot answer that just now, but remember what I said we have paid our indebtedness, and the company is making money.'

It will be of interest to shareholders to know that since Converters passed the dividend, the president and directors have not received one cent for their services in so ably and energetically pulling the company through a hard and depressing period.

Select Stocks That Have Not Advanced Says, Mr. McCuaig

Intending purchasers, in the opinion of Mr. Colin McCuaig, would now do well to select stocks that have not shared too liberally in the recent rise.

Present conditions are not unfavorable, he says, to standard stocks that have remained at about the same level for the past few weeks.

New York, Sept. 29.—A sharp break occurred at noon to-day in some of the mining stock dealt in on the local curb. Rawhide is offered at 9 cents, Jumbo Extension at 53 cents, and Elf Central at 38 cents, and other American issues proportionately low. Canadian Cobalts were an exception.

$10,000,000 WILL BE CAPITAL OF NEW PAPER CO.

If the ideas of a party of capitalists, who are behind the Canada Paper and Pulp Company, which recently was granted a Federal charter can be carried on to fruition, a giant plant for the manufacture of paper, pulp and carbide will be erected on the Saguenay river, near Lake St. John, on the line of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway in this province.

Mr. Wm. Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway, and likewise president of the Quebec and Lake St. John, who is interested in the new company, seems optimistic as to the outlook.

'I am interested in the dream largely because I always like to see natural resources developed,' said Mr. Mackenzie, to the 'Witness,' 'but I also am concerned because this particular development happens to be close to our line of road. However, the industry exists now only in the sense of what appears to be in it for the future.'

The proposed new company is capitalized at $10,000,000.

Death of Millionaire Grain Operator

Chicago, Sept. 29.— Mr. George W. Patten, the millionaire grain operator, who died last night of tuberculosis at the home of his brother, Mr. James A. Patten, of Evanston, left a fortune estimated at $5,000,000, the greater part of which, it is said, will be left to public charities, including a large donation for the furtherance of the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

AMONG THE MEMBERS -ON- CHANGE

Mr. William Smith, of New York, who was introduced on 'Change this morning by Mr. McLagan, expressed satisfaction at the evident business passing through Montreal and at the trade relations with New York.

Mr. J. Cartallero, of Mexico, was introduced on 'Change this morning. He stated that the time was now opportune for better trade relations with Mexico. Capitalists there, he said, were well satisfied with the Montreal business.

Among the members introduced on 'Change this morning were the following, Mr. Wm. Smith, of New York, by Mr. P. W. McLagan; Mr. J. Cartallero, of Mexico, by Mr. A. E. Cook, and Capt. R. Jefferson, of Glasgow, by Mr. R. W. Reford.

It was stated by grain dealers on 'Change this morning that a large quantity of export wheat is being shipped by way of Buffalo owing to the lake freight rates to Montreal being so high. Unless the lake and ocean rates are reduced it looks as if an unusually large percentage of grain would be shipped by way of Buffalo, as the rates from Fort William to that point are only 1c to 1 1-8c, while to Montreal as much as 5c is being asked.

THE TRAPPER WAS TRAPPED

Court Hears How and Why J. B. Woods Was Arrested In Conspiracy Case

INTERESTING EVIDENCE.

Private Detective Tells How the Bargain Was Made to Buy Woods Off.

J. B. Woods and Thomas Ashton, alias O'Sullivan, appeared before Judge Lect this morning, charged by Mr. L. A. Wilson with conspiracy. The character of the conspiracy was described as wilfully attempting to obstruct or defeat the course of justice by accepting a bribe or other corrupt consideration to abstain from giving evidence in certain cases supposed to have been made against hotel and saloon keepers for selling liquor on Sunday.

Mr. L. A. Wilson, of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, was the first witness. He merely admitted being the plaintiff in the case, and persisted in his charge.

Mr. St. Mars, High Constable, deposed that he made the arrest of Woods, and he produced a number of documents found on the accused when he was searched. Among the papers were particulars regarding actions purporting to be taken by L. H. Boisseau, collector of revenue, against Raymond and Weldon, hotelkeepers.

Mr. E. R. Carrington, of the Thiel Detective Agency, told the court that on authority of a search warrant he had visited Woods's room, at 70 Anderson street.

Mr. John H. Roberts, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, being called, gave evidence as to Woods having been introduced to him by a highly respectable citizen. Woods was represented as a man who would be capable of securing evidence in liquor cases, and Mr. Roberts was urged to employ him. The man who introduced Woods promised to furnish two assistants to work with him. These men failed to appear, but witness was out of the city at the time, so Woods reported by letter to him that he had employed his own witnesses. Their names were given as Fox and Ashton, and Woods said they lived in Lancaster. Witness had never seen Fox, and met 'Ashton' for the first time on Sept. 20. Witness had never had an opportunity to check Woods's work. On Sept. 21 'Ashton' disappeared, and in the evning witness, accompanied by Woods, went to Lancaster, Ont., to find both Ashton and Fox. Neither could be found and no one there knew either of them. Woods was paid three dollars a day and expenses, and his assistants were allowed five dollars each on three Sundays on which they were supposed to be making cases. Woods got all the money that was paid for these services. Witnes did not know anything about Woods's bad record when he engaged him. He only found out that he was an ex-convict some ten days later. Then the man who introduced Woods to him said he believed Woods could be relied on, and urged Mr. Roberts to give him a chance to make good. He had decided that Woods might be allowed to direct the investigation, but he must not do the actual work nor appear as a witness in any cases.

The next witness was an employee of the Thiel Detective Agency named Grant. Witness was employed to shadow Woods, and soon found an opportunity to 'cultivate' his acquaintance. He gave his name to Woods as Joseph Wright, and under that name met Woods, Ashton and Fox. He invited Woods to take dinner with him at the St. Lawrence Hall one day, when Woods asked him if he knew anything about the Dominion Alliance. 'Wright' pretended he did not, and on getting confident, Woods stated that he was in the employ of the Alliance, but would like to get out of the job if he could get something from the liquor people for dropping the cases. Wright asked him how much he wanted, and Woods said $500 for himself and $100 each for two assistants. Wright said he had some influence an dthought he could arrange the matter and agreed to meet Woods later. At a later meeting in a Chinese restaurant on Craig street, near St. Lawrence, Wright met the three men and the agreement was made with Woods nad Fox. It was signed, but the signatures were torn off when no money was forthcoming. Later a meeting took place in the Windsor Hotel, Wright and the three men being in room 220, and a witness from the Thiel Agency being in room 222 to hear what was said. All the conversation was about the money for disappearing when the cases were to come before the Court, but no money was paid over.

Messrs. Perron and Murphy acted for the prosecution and the accused were not defended. The judge committed the men for trial and fixed October 4th for voluntary statement.

ACCIDENT TO MR. CUSHING

Well Known Notary Fell Down Steps Fracturing His Skull.

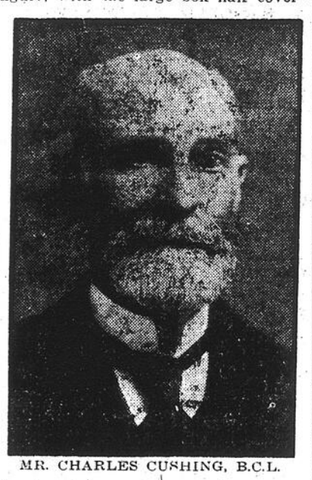

AN OPERATION PERFORMED.

Was Carrying Box Upstairs When He Slipped and It Fell on Him.

Mr. Charles Cushing, B.C.L., J.P., fell down the basement steps at his home at 555 Mount Pleasant avenue, Westmount early this morning, and was very seriously injured. He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where it mas found that his skull was fractured. At noon it was decided that an operation would be necessary. The operation was performed, and as far as is known was successful. Every hope is held out for his recovery.

Mr. Cushing was carrying a large packing case up from the basement, about seven o'clock this morning. He had only mounted two or three steps when it is believed the box, which was of unwieldy proportions and quite heavy, struck some obstruction and threw him backwards. As he fell the box struck him, crushing his head to the cement floor.

A moment later assistance came. The housekeeper, who had heard the noise of the fall, can running down the steps. She found the prostrate figure, with the large box half covering it. Lifting the case, a glance told her the serious nature of the accident and she at once gave the alarm. A telephone call was at once sent for medical assistance. The physician who was summoned gave what little relief was possible, and ordered the ambulance summoned. The Royal Victoria Hospital responded to the call, and Mr. Cushing was conveyed there.

At noon preparations were made for an operation, and the members of the family were summoned—Mrs. Cushing, the six sons, R. H. MacCauley, who is living on Overdale avenue; Dougal, Charlie, Arthur, Jeffrey and Eric, all at home, and the one daughter, Edith.

Mr. Cushing is one of Montreal's well-known men. He is a member of the firm of Cushing & Barron, notaries, of 112 St. James street. He has been a force in every movement or business with which he has identified himself, and his many friends in all phases of the city's life will be shocked and saddened by the news of the accident. Mr. Cushing has been singularly active in church work, as a member of Calvary Congregational Church. In the Y. M. C. A. he is known as a most active and energetic worker. He is past the sixty mark, yet his friends feel that his activity in athletics in his earlier life will stand him in good stead now. Mr. Cushing is a director of the Sun Life Insurance Company.

DEMOCRATS' MEETING

Convention to Choose New York Candidate Opened.

Rochester, N.Y., Sept. 29.—A big bare rectangular room, with a deep gallery on three sides and a platform on the other, for the next two days will hold the destinies of the democratic party in the state of New York. Four hundred and fifty delegates, three from each assembly district, gathered here this afternoon, to perfect an organization preliminary to nominating candidates to run against the ticket named yesterday by the republicans at Saratoga.

The doors remained closed till 11.55, When they swung back the crowd that rushed in filled the big galleries in a few minutes.

William R. Hearst's secretary in New York called Charles Murphy, of Tammany, on the telephone yesterday, and informed him that Mr. Hearst would support for Governor either Justice James W. Gerard, of New York, or Martin H. Glynn, of Albany, with the preference for Gerard.

LECTURE ON AVIATION

The problem of constructing an air machine, which would move independently of the wind from place to place safely and quickly, with passengers or freight, as desired by the pilot or aeronaut was dealt with in a lecture on aviation delivered by Professor Charles McKergow of McGill University at a public session of the Royal Society of Canada held last evening in the Normal School, Ottawa.

Dealing with the future of the aeroplane and the airship or dirigible, the speaker said:

'It seems unlikely that the aeroplane will ever be used for carrying freight or passengers as water ships or railways, but for sport, and war they will, I think, fill a large place. In war they will be used in a similar way to torpedo boats, a fleet of them attacking a battleship or fortress. It might happen that one or two would be wrecked, but it is extremely unlikely that they all would be. The speed of aeroplanes will probably not be greater than from 50 to 60 miles an hour, this being about the highest speed necessary to overcome any reasonable wind resistance, and all that the engines, as at present constructed can give with good economy.

'The dirigible balloon or airship as it is called, seems destined to be the type which will enter the field of passenger and urgent mail transportation. Zeppelin in his machine carried four and a half tons for 900 miles in 36 hours. As more becomes known of the air lanes, and advantage is taken of these currents, it does not seem improbable that some trips will be made from Europe to America in 48 to 56 hours.

TROUBLE OVER PAVEMENT

Can City do Work for Which Contract Has Been Given?

The city has now served the Notarial Protest upon the Warner-Quinlan Paving Company, and that concern has been made aware that the authorities are not a isfied with the speed which it has exhibited in fulfilling its contracts to pave Mackay and Prince Artur streets, and De uth avenue. This morning, for a time, it seemed that the city would take over part of the work itself, but Controller Dupis objected fearing the action too hasty.

In reply to the protest the company stated it would be able to complete the work by November 1. But that it could do this Mr. Barlow, city surveyor, expressed some doubt. He told the Controllers that rain may interfere greatly at this time of year, and the calculation made by the company of the amount of pavement to to be laid daily was too small.

'Why did the compnay tear up Prince Artur street before they were prepared to begin the work of paving it?' asked Dr. Lachapelle.

'I think they would have been able to proceed with this had their machinery not have broken,' answered Mr. Barlow. 'But I doubt if the company can finish the work this year. If you like I'll take over two of the streets for which they have the contract.

'All right 'said Dr. Lachapel'e.

'I don't know' said Mr. Dupis, 'we might get into trouble legally.

'Would I be justified to pay wages for work which has been aportioned to others?' queried City Comptroller Pelletier.

The questions seemed to require study, and the whole subject was referred to the legal department.

'RAPIDS PRINCE' ARRIVES.

The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company's new steamer 'Rapids Prince' arrived at Montreal last evening about 5 o'clock. A party of directors of the company went as far as Lachine to meet her on her voyage down, and came through the rapids on board.

The new steamer made a most successful debut, and proved herself well suited to the task of shooting the rapids. Although she is smaller than either the 'Rapids King' or 'Queen,' she is capable of a higher speed, making at least 17 miles an hour. There is space for 1,500 passengers, and a feature of the boat is the arrangement by which those who travel by her will be enabled to view the scenery in wet as in fine weather, the whole of the cabin on the upper deck being closed in with plate glass windows.

The 'Rapids Prince' will, later, proceed to Sorel, where she will winter, as the season is too far advanced to allow of her making any trips with passengers this year.

LIEUT.-GOVERNORSHIP

Rumors That Sir Alphonse Pelletier Will Resign Through Ill-Health

Quebec, Sept 29.—A rumor is being freely circulated today that Lieut. Governor Sir C. A. P. Pelletier, who has been in ill health for some time will resign, and that he will be succeeded by Mr. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

SIR HENRY PELLATT.

Rumor That He was Transferred to 'Empress of Britain' in Mid-ocean.

A report was last night received at Toronto that Sir Henry Pellatt, who left Liverpool on Saturday, with the Queen's Own Regiment, on the 'Canada,' had been transferred in mid-ocean to the 'Empress of Britain,' in order to return to his son, who is ill with typhoid in London. Nothing is known by officials either of the White Star-Dominion or Canadian Pacific of the rumored transfer, but it is certain that on Tuesday night the two vessels passed one another, and if Sir Henry wished to return home there would have been little to hinder him doing so on the 'Empress.' The 'Empress of Britain' will arrive at Liverpool about 4 p.m. to-morrow, and the 'Canada' is due at Quebec on Saturday.

Major and Mrs. Constantine, from Maple Creek, arrived on Saturday at Stanbridge East to visit Miss Constantine, the Major's sister.

The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She was daintily dressed in white silk mull, with a tulle veil fastened with a wreath of white heather, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations. Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. A. C. Waggoner, Toronto, aunt of the groom. During the afternoon a number of congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams were received. A reception was held at the bride's home, 3310 St. Hubert street, where about fifty guests assembled. Telegrams of congratulation were received from friends at a distance. The wedding presents were many, and included some from the groom's mother and family in Scotland. A beautiful gift to the bride was from the Chapman-Dart Co., and a handsome clock was given to the groom from the firm with whom he has been for some time.

After a short wedding trip in the Laurentians Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will take up house at 180 Querbes street, Outremont.

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday at 1032 Dorchester street west, when Miss Alyson Louise May, daughter of Mr. John Morris, became the bride of Mr. Hugh J. Heasley. The Rev. Dr. Mowatt performed the marriage service in the drawing-room, which was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, asters and palms. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory duchess satin veiled in ninon de soie with trimmings of Irish lace. Her long tulle veil was arrranged with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. Miss Rosamond Morris, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, was gowned in pale yellow silk crepe over messaline, with garniture of lace and gold bugles. She wore a large black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The groomsman was Mr. A. Soden English. Mrs. Walter Sadler, sister of the bride, who received the guests, wore a gown of pale rose charmeuse over taffeta trimmed with net embroidered in rose and smoked pearl ornaments, and carried Killarney roses. Immediately after the reception which followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Heasley left on their honeymoon trip, the bride travelling in a comet blue cloth costume with Paisley blouse veiled in lace and black and gold hat trimmed with shaded pink roses. On their return they will reside at 288 Mackay street.

107,874 KILLED AND INJURED annually on RAILROADS In United States Alone.

Official statistics show that the number of persons killed or injured annually in United States averages to the appalling total of 107,874. This means an average of over 28 people killed and 267 persons injured every day in the year. In summing up it is a terrible record of calamity; it seems that two trains clash together on an average every hour and fourteen minutes. The Interstate Commerce Commission, of Washington, D.C., further reports that there are an average of over 500 railroad wrecks in the United States every month, and that the number is increasing yearly. These figures apply to United States alone, the total number of wrecks throughout the world multiply these figures many times. The daily press is filled with stories of railroad wrecks caused by inadequate signalling devices.

THE AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC TORCHES AND SIGNALS.

They are simple in construction, work automatically and perform the same service out on the line that a man can. They enable a train despatcher to stop instantly any or all trains running over the entire line. All railroad men who have seen demonstrations admit that they are the best signalling devices in existence.

The Railroad Companies have been looking for such devices for years, and they are bound to be taken up rapidly by all the leading Companies throughout the world.

The Automatic Electric Torch and Signal Company is capitalized at $3,000,000, par value of shares $5, fully paid and non-assessable.

The Canadian rites and control of the System have been secured by a Montreal syndicate underwriting a block of the Treasury shares, a limited amount of which is now offered to the public at prices that will be made known on application.

Those who desire to participate in the vast profits that must accrue to the holders of these shares are invited to call and see the devices in operation at Room 24, Bank of Ottawa Building, and thus determine for themselves if the above claims are justified.

CHAMBRE DE COMMERCE.

Question of Reciprocity With the United States Referred to Committee.

Yesterday's meeting of the Chambre de Commerce was specially devoted to the referring of a number of important questions to the different standing committees.

In the absence of the president, Mr. O. S. Perrault, the vice-president, Mr. F. C. Lariviere, presided.

Pursuant to the representations of Mr. Gourley, of Toronto, concerning the proposed Georgian Bay Canal and the deepening of the Welland Canal, the question was referred to the special committee on transportation.

The committee on transportation was also given charge of the problem of direct connections in Montreal with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

The question of future commercial relations with the United States and whether reciprocity should be favored by the Chambre de Commerce was referred to the committee on manufacturing industries.

A letter was received from the Civic Improvement Commission asking for suggestions on the work of the city improvement, which was referred to the committee on civic affairs.

The council was in receipt of a communication from the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education, asking their co-operation, and to indicate what witnesses they would bring before the commission in January next. This was referred to the committee on industrial affairs.

The congratulations of the Chambre de Commerce were extended to the Hon. J. D. Rolland on his appointment to succeed the late F. X. St. Charles as president of the Bank d'Hochelaga.

Mention was made of the receipt of the report of the second annual meeting of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the Province of Quebec from Mr. Isaie Prefontaine, president of the federation.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1910.

It is repugnant to the conscience of each member of the Catholic School Board of St. Henri that Dr. Cousineau shall medically inspect their schools, not because Dr. Cousineau is not a good doctor and a good man—the board expressly admits that he is both—but because Dr. Laberge, the head of the city health department, with which Dr. Cousineau is connected, is accused of being, or of having been, a Freemason and a freethinker. This in some respects is going a little further in interference with liberty of thought, and attempted coercion of it, than in mediaeval times. Galileo was made to recant, or go through a form of recantation, because he said that the world moved, and after having to proclaim kneeling before a great assembly of ecclesiastics and others that he detested and abjured the truth he had maintained, he was sentenced to the dungeons of the Inquisition for an indefinite time, his 'Dialogo' was prohibited and his system condemned as contrary to the Bible. All the same the world was moving then, and what is interesting, it is moving to-day. Galileo was himself the offender against Rome in his case, and the punishment fell on him; but the Catholic School Board of St. Henri is seeking to punish Dr. Cousineau, not for anything he has done personally, but because Dr. Laberge is chief of the department under which he serves. The purpose, of course, is too apparent to make any pretence about, and so is its origin. The intention is to force Dr. Laberge out of the city's service because of his supposed theological opinions.

Because it says that the appointment of Mgr. Gauthier, an Irishman, as Archbishop of Ottawa, is an insult to the French race, and because Bishop Fallon, of London, is alleged to be anti-French—the 'Devoir' advises its compatriots to withdraw their money from the English banks and place it in the French-Canadian banks. The next time Rome makes an assault on the French language, or is accused of making one, Mr. Bourassa's paper will bid his readers refuse to sell anything in their shops to any one who does not ask for it in French. His said compatriots have more sense. When they put their money in French-Canadian banks, it is because they think it is to their advantage to do so, not because Monseigneur Gauthier, at Ottawa, is regarded by Mr. Bourassa as an Irishman. Our advice to them and all others would be to place their money where they think it will be safest, irrespective of language. Those who had their money in the St. Stephen's or the Ontario Bank would be glad to have had it in the Hochelaga Bank; on the other hand, those who were caught in the Banque du Peuple or the St. John's Bank would be glad to have had it in some sound English one. In the meantime, there is every opportunity for our French-Canadian citizens to join in the work, as leaders, in the development of our vast resources and enterprises. More and more they are doing so in the banking, industrial, and general business world. The more the better; we are not carrying on two countries, but one. Mr. Bourassa doubtless thinks he can give the word of command to the French-Canadian population generally, but the truth is, as the Vancouver 'Province' remarks, 'It is only to the dilletante element of 'his race, either fresh from college, and 'therefore without practical experi-'ence of life, or beset with false politi-'cal conceptions engendered by much 'interchange of literary effusions,' that Mr. Bourassa appeals. With the hare-headed, practical French-Canadians, such as those who rise above their fellows by good sense and practical wisdom, Mr. Bourassa has no influence whatever. He has too often shown himself to be impracticable to command their respect; never more so than in commanding them to segregate their money from the English because of his quarrel with the Roman Catholic authorities.

The introduction into the legislation of the United States, and as a consequence, into ours, of distinctions of rich and poor before the law may be a convenience to exclusionist officials, but it is altogether out of keeping with our institutions. Why should a person who comes to Canada first class go to the United States free, and one who pays second class fare have to be fined four dollars for entering that sacred enclosure? This is only one of the distinctions that are made by the immigration laws of both countries solely on the basis of financial condition. 'Respectable' people—that was the word of a past generation to distinguish between the employing and employed classes—respectable people can take such distinctions peacefully when they incommode only persons of what they look upon as of a different social rank. It is different with them, however, when the respectable people themselves come under the working of a law made for the humble. Thus it seems to have been done at Cape Vincent with a highly respectable couple returning from Canada via New York. It is known that a number of our slower steamships take passengers at second class rates under plea of having no first class. These Yorkshire people, having come out in this way—a very sensible way, and quite as respectable as any—were, on crossing into the United States, taxed four dollars each as mere immigrants. Hence great indignation! But why? Why should first class travellers, whether travelling as first class or labelled as second, have any different treatment at the hands of either government from those who accept the discomforts of the steerage? How long does one need to be in America before he gets to be 'born equal'? The whole distinction has grown out of the unchristian and inhospitable practice of forbidding the country to those who need its conditions the most.

The machinery of life grows complex in so many ways that it is hard to keep track of its many inventions. A new Domestic Relations Court was instituted in New York on September 1, and according to the 'Tribune' it has already had more work thrust upon it than it can care for. In the first two weeks of its existence, it issued more than two hundred and fifty summonses for delinquent husbands who failed to provide for their families; and, in addition to this, many family jars have been quietly mended outside of the court room. The jurisdiction of the court is at present limited to cases of abandonment or failure to support where the deserted ones are liable to become public charges; but it is expected that it will be extended to reach all kinds of matrimonial tangles and help straighten them out. In the meanwhile, we read that the assistant clerk of the court and the probation officer, the latter fittingly a woman, are doing all in their power to 'induce the 'dove of peace to spread its wings 'over disturbed households,' and to induce as many persons as possible to patch up their family quarrels without taking them into court. All this is good work. The machinery in question seems to fill a want in the present crude and, in some respects, deplorable stage of our civilization.

Now that the holidays are over for the most part, the London 'Lancet' advances the opinion that they are not always a blessing, and that certainly many people do not derive the benefit from them which they might reasonably expect. That is because the holiday, as too often taken, is no holiday at all, at least it is not a 'rest.' We hear indeed of holiday-makers coming home actually ill from strain. That is because, as the 'Lancet' says, the man who has been chained to his desk eleven months in the year, and has taken no more exercise than will suffice to carry him to his office and up and down stairs, suddenly, on his holiday, goes in strenuously for walking, boating, cycling, mountain-climbing, and what not, and keeps it up for many hours daily. When a man makes such a sudden change in his life, and adds to, rather than decreases, the wear of worn nerves, he need scarcely wonder that he does not come back refreshed. One of the essential points to remember in going for a holiday is, advises the 'Lancet,' that all change should be gradual, as the body must have time to adapt itself to changed conditions. That is only common-sense, although so many do not exercise it. Another common fault in holiday-making, which is productive of much after fatigue, is, we are told, travelling too far, as protracted sitting in railway carriages is actually mischievous in many conditions. Besides long journeys generally mean great expense, and 'anxiety as to 'money interferes with the advantages 'of many holidays. The man who is 'tormented with the necessity for strict 'economy while he has placed himself 'in an environment where that economy cannot be practiced, and where a 'certain mild recklessness will make 'life alone tolerable, is not extracting 'value from leaving off work—he is 'only exchanging one set of worries for 'another.' And the woods, as it were, have been full of those who make this very exchange, sometimes to their extreme chagrin and never with any more than surface equanimity.

DEFEAT OF STAND-PAT.

The Republican party throughout the United States seems to have realized that its only hope is in Roosevelt and reform. The domination of the ex-president in the counsels of the party in the Empire State is not due to love for him. His growing egotism having now become incurable, and the joke of the world, has made men shy of owning allegiance to him, and his spite towards those who cross his course has made him numberless and bitter enemies within the ranks of his party. What is really his strength is the general conviction that what is now boasting itself as the Old Guard has well nigh wrecked the party, and will certainly do so unless dethroned. The war cry of 'Old Guard' was perhaps not altogether fortunate. It implied condonation of all the party's past and present support of, and dependence upon, the moneyed interests, giving and buttressing privilege in return for the financial largesse, which, in the creed of all practical politicians, is the real winner of elections. The term Old Guard means standing-pat on the ultra protectionist tariff which was so unblushingly substituted for the reduction of duties which the country had so universally demanded and which Mr. Taft had so emphatically promised. In the mind of the electorate, moreover, Old Guard is exactly synonymous with the party machine, a title which those it belongs to would fain bury, as all that is meant by party machine has come to be cordially hated by all who are not of it. Moreover, an Old Guard is liable to be thought of as a diminishing group of battered and superannuated pensioners claiming glory for remote and sometimes mythical prowess. At all events, such is the picture the Old Guard of New York presents after the rout it has suffered at the hands of the rough rider, who now dominates the party in the Empire State and throughout the Union. Stand-patism, which means giving exclusive consideration to financial interests, may now be accounted dead and buried. The contest of the day is between moderate protection and none. There can be no doubt as to which would carry the day if the people could trust it. The common sense of the country is not in favor of revolutionary change, but the people have had such experience of the reduction of the tariff by its friends that there is no saying what they might do if there should come before them a well-balanced Democratic candidate such as the late Mr. Johnson, of Minnesota, would have been.

GOOD NIGHT.

[Translated for the 'Witness' from the German of Uhland.]

'Love!
'Good Night!'
To the Weary, Heaven's delight!
A Holy Hush, the twilight ends;
Silent lie the busy hands,
Till God sends the Morrow's light.
Love!
"Good Night."

'Seek Repose!
Let the tired eye-lids close,
Dark the street and all forlorn,
Drowsy blows the Watchman's horn,
Hear the Night's imperious call
"Rest!"
To all.'

'Sweet thy Slumber!
Angels guard thee without number.
To him who from his love is far,
May a dream, like falling Star,
Bring his Dear One's lips to his
Ec
Static bliss!'

'Love!
"Good Night."
Till aurora's blush is bright,
Till To-morrow's flashing Morning,
Brings To-morrow's tares with dawning,
Sleep without the faintest fear,
He "who slumbers not" is near.
Love!
"Good Night,
Good Night!"'

CANADIAN CABLES.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London Sept. 29.—It is hoped that King George will attend next years Henley regatta.

London, Sept. 29.—Cambridge Hospital at Aldershot reports no change in Captain George's condition, but he is no worse. Lieut. George is improving, and Lieut. Muntz is convalescing.

CANADA'S ACTION IS APPRECIATED.

Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 29. — Sir Wilfrid Laurier's determination to make mail steamers call at New Zealand after next August is much appreciated by the commercial circles here.

ADVANCE LIST OF TEACHERS.

London, Sept. 29.—The Board of Education have arranged to co-operate with the educational authorities in Western Canada with a view to sending in advance a list of teachers intending to emigrate to the Dominion.

IMPERIAL TEMPERANCE.

London, Sept. 29.—During the visit of the overseas premiers in 1911 an Imperial temperance conference is to be held. Its purpose will be to consider the relationship of temperance reform to Imperial progress and efficiency.

WOULD CAUSE DISSATISFACTION.

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Neville Lubbock has expressed the opinion that the historical portion of the West Indies commission report on the relations which existed during the past few years between the West Indies and Canada was biassed in favor of Canada. The West Indies would not be prepared to accept altogether the statements regarding these matters, since they glossed over the fact that for the past eighteen months the preference had been of no advantage whatever to the West Indies. The recommendation seemed reasonable enough, except re steamship communication, which seemed to have in contemplation communication with the West Indies and England via Canada. Great dissatisfaction would be sure to be felt if direct communication with England was ended.

MONROE DOCTRINE AND DREADNOUGHTS.

Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 29.—Dr. Bell, an American physician visiting here, states that the idea is firmly held in the United States that Germany is building 'Dreadnoughts' with a view to making the Monroe doctrine ineffectual. Germany's objective is Brazil, and has no designs on the British dominions.

FISCAL UNITY OF THE EMPIRE.

London, Sept. 29.—It is stated that the tariff reformers regard the report of the West Indies Trade Commission with increasing satisfaction. The more it is studied, they say, the more it strengthens the case for an Imperial preference. Tariff reformers believe it inconceivable that after such an inquiry the Government, if in office at the time of the next Imperial Conference, can continue hostile to the fiscal unity of the Empire.

PUBLIC WORSHIP BETTER IN CANADA.

London, Sept. 29.— At to-day's Church Congress at Cambridge, the Rev. Canon Welch, vicar of Wakefield, said a larger proportion of the population of Canada, especially of men, attended public worship than was the case in England. This condition of things, he said, was due to the work of the various religious bodies of whom, with the exception of the Roman Catholics, who were mostly French, were Methodists, the largest, and the Presbyterians second in numbers, and perhaps equal in influence. In the work of the Lord's Day Alliance many Anglicans worked heartily with others, and most important of all was the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which should be understood as not being undenominational but interdenominational.

In a discussion on theological studies, Dr. Lloyd, of Toronto, said the problem before Canada was one of leadership. He appealed to the universities to send professors in young men who would form the real centres of influence for the purpose of uplifting the ideals of Canadians. Unless this was done Canada, instead of grasping the keys of the future, might become a democracy doomed.

BRITISH NEWS

ENGLAND.

Great Britain heads the list of postal savings with ten million depositors, who have at their credit £143,800,000, while France has four million depositors with £46,000,000. Russia has £20,000,000 with 1,500,000 depositors, and Japan has £8,000,000 divided among 1,200,000 persons.

It is officially announced that the King has been pleased to approve of the appointment of Mr. Frank Watson Dyson, F.R.S., astronomer royal for Scotland, to the position of astronomer royal in succession to Sir William Christie, K.C.B., F.R.S., who will be retiring on October 1.

The long-standing contract for the printing of the 'London Gazette,' held by Messrs. Harrison & Son, printers in ordinary to His Majesty, has been given to another firm. Messrs. Harrison & Son have been in close connection with the production of the 'London Gazette' for a hundred and sixty years past, for in 1748 the journal bore the imprint of 'Thomas Harrison in Warwick lane.'

The King, Lord Knollys informs a correspondent, cannot comply with a suggestion that the new home saving banks' scheme should receive special Royal patronage by having one of the money-boxes issued to each of the Royal children, but he regards the post-office scheme for inducing people to save money as an excellent one.

Exasperated by the issue of a summons for non-payment of poor-rate, a Batley firm of woollen manufacturers sent to the assistant overseer a trap-load of money, consisting of nearly £150 in gold, £200 in silver, and £6 15s in copper. The collector declined to receive the money in this form, and described the action as 'demonish.'

The total of £110,700,000, received last year by British railways, represents a sum of £4,754 per mile of line open for traffic. The receipts from passenger traffic fell off in 1909 by about £500,000, but this decrease was counterbalanced by an increase of about £600,000 in receipts from goods traffic, and the total gross receipts from traffic were approximately the same in 1909 as in the previous year. The average dividend on ordinary capital was 3.15 percent.

In a religious publication the Rev. H. M. Nield, of the Easterbrook Brotherhood, Bradford, tells a story of a church-going census in Bradford. In one row of ten houses he found no man who attended a place of worship; in a terrace of twenty-eight houses he found one; a row of thirty-three houses furnished two; in a row of twenty-two houses he found two; and the last row of twenty-four did not contain one; the net result being that in a hundred and seventeen houses subjected to personal visitation only five men were found who went to either church or chapel.

Under the auspicious guidance of the Poetry Society, a poetical tour through England and Scotland has been arranged. The tour is to be undertaken by a specially-selected concert recital party, to develop the society's organization and work by stimulating the formation of local branches. The company will include three reciters of verse, 'a well-known vocalist,' who will sing poetry set to music, and a dancer, who will illustrate the earliest form of poetical movement.

According to Mr. Sigmund Stein, the British farmer can make a profit of £6 10s per acre from the growing of sugar beet. But to do this he must grow it on a large scale. Mr. Stein, during the last twenty years, by 4,000 experiments in practically every county of England, Scotland, and Ireland, has demonstrated the suitability of the soil and climate for beet-growing. He says the average results showed a yield of 39 tons 5 cwt. per acre, the average of sugar contents being 17.65 per cent. in the roots and 19.15 per cent. in the juice.

The late Earl Amherst was one of the few Englishmen who ever penetrated a Turkish harem. The incident occurred during the Crimean War, when a brother officer and he—both were in the Coldstream Guards—determined to make the adventure. They succeeded, but were not allowed to leave until severely chastised by their captors. The fortunate fact that England and Turkey were then allied against Russia, and that had they been killed grave international difficulties would have arisen, was a powerful protection for the two young officers.

Under the command of Mrs. St. Clair Stobart a nursing corps encamped near Swanage, consisting of thirty-five ladies, is being trained for service in war time as a link between clearing hospitals near the scene of action and the larger stationary hospitals at the base. Clad in divided skirts and Norfolk jackets of blue-grey material, and wearing helmets, the ladies live in military fashion. They are astir at 6 a.m., and undertake military drill in addition to attending lectures on nursing, physiology, and kindred subjects. A camp-guard of eight of the members of the corps is on sentry duty each night. The lecturing staff includes Dr. Lilian Hamilton, who was for some years medical attendant to the Ameer of Afghanistan.

SCOTLAND.

There is a proposal on foot to get up a presentation to Neil MacLeod, the Skye bard, on the occasion of his retiring from active life. He is the most outstanding of modern Gaelic bards, his poetic works having passed through four editions. The bard was born in Glendale, Isle of Skye, in 1843.

The Flodden Memorial, placed on Piper's Hill, Branxton, a commanding position near the centre of the battlefield, on a site of 16 square yards of ground presented by Mr. John C. Collingwood, consists of a Celtic monolith cross of grey Aberdeenshire granite, standing 12 feet 6 inches out of a rustic base 6 feet high, made of rough hewn granite blocks, having an inscription on a polished block on the north side:—'Flodden, 1513. To the brave of both nations.' The site is surrounded by granite posts, standing 3 feet 6 inches out of the ground, and connected by double bars of 2 1-2 inches galvanized iron.

As a memento of the fact that it is fifty years since he commenced work in Forest Mill, Selkirk, Mr. Alex. F. Roberts, of Fairnalee, Selkirkshire, has made a gift to the five or six hundred workers of George Roberts & Company (Limited), woollen manufacturers, of which firm he is a director. Each adult male worker has received £1 per year for the number of years he has been with the firm, while each adult female worker has received 10s. per year for every year she has been with the firm. There is a number of workers who have been with the firm for more than forty years, and they have thus received more than £46 each. A large number have been with the firm between thirty and forty years.

Instruction in agriculture is being given to crofters by the Aberdeen and North of Scotland School of Agriculture. The peculiar character of agriculture as practiced by the crofters has necessitated special schemes of instruction to suit their needs. To this end the College scheme includes the training of Gaelic-speaking men and women who have a personal knowledge of crofting. The instruction provided in the crofting districts is less technical than that given in better-farmed districts. The work consists largely of practical demonstrations and personal visits to the people on the croft. About 400 crofts have been selected to demonstrate the effect of improved methods of cultivation, cropping, and management of the croft. This year's scheme includes 1,000 plots distributed over the 400 crofts. Special lectures are arranged to explain the purpose of the demonstration plots, their treatment, and the results. The care and management of stock is also dealt with partly by lectures. It is proposed to form classes in agriculture in one or two centres in Skye and the Uists. It is the duty of the College instructors in connection with this scheme to make systematic visits to crofts (1) to acquire a first-hand knowledge of local conditions of crofting; (2) to advise crofters in any matters of difficulty in the cultivation and management of their stocks and crofts; and (3) to give practical instruction at the croft on improved methods generally.

IRELAND.

At a public meeting in Belfast and convened by the Trades Council, a resolution was passed calling upon the Irish Secretary to direct an inquiry into alleged sweating in the linen and cognate trades.

Ireland, according to the latest official statistics, is becoming more sober. The number of cases of drunkenness in 1909 was less than the number in 1908 by 5,519, and if the figures for drunkenness in 1909 are compared with the average number of such cases in the ten years 1899-1908, it appears that a decrease amounting to 16,358 occurred.

Mr. Bruce Joy's statue of Lord Kelvin for Belfast is now almost finished. It represents the great scientist with a design of his gyroscope in one hand and a model of his famous compass at his side. The figure is of bronze, and is ten feet high. Mr. Bruce Joy is one of the few sculptors who had sittings from King Edward.

The Irish Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction has issued a report on the state of the crops in Ireland. The report says:—'For six weeks since the middle of July, except with a very occasional day, a period of abnormally wet weather has been experienced. Occurring as it has at a most critical stage for all crops, the wet weather has considerably marred the promise of what on all sides was considered at July to be a very abundant season, and unless favorable weather occurs during September, much loss to farmers is certain to result.'

AMBASSADOR REMAINS.

Public Feeling is Better in Columbia—Venezuelan Dispute.

Bogota, Colombia, Sept. 29.—The Venezuelan minister, who was said to have received a notice of recall recently, has now received word to remain here pending further instructions. The delicate situation which arose is believed to have been due to the refusal of the Colombian Government to rectify the frontier in accordance with the Spanish award. Venezuela is said to be anxious to obtain the San Faustino territory in Colombia adjoining the Maracaibo region of Venezuela. This Colombia refuses to cede.

Public feeling over the dispute is rather bitter, and the local press calls upon the government to withdraw its legation at Caracas immediately.

WAS BURNED TO DEATH.

St. Louis, September 29.—Kneeling in the midst of a bonfire which she had made of pages of religious books and magazines and saturated with coal oil by her own hands, Mamie McCarthy, 18 years old, slowly burned to death in the rear of her home yesterday, while she prayed. The girl's action was not a sudden inspiration. She had apparently awaited until an unguarded moment to destroy herself. The Bible, magazines and papers with which she made the bonfire were taken from a table in the living room where she had been sewing.

WOUNDED BY KNIFE

Mrs. Israel Bombe Stabbed in Five Places But Not Fatally.

ASSAILANT ARRESTED.

Alexandre Seravanno Caught After Long Chase and Held for the Crime.

Mrs. Israel Bombe was assaulted and wounded in her home at No. 10 Chenier street yesterday afternoon, and Alexander Seravanuo, an Italian, 23 years of age, is under arrest charged with the offence. He gave his address as 27 Carrier street.

Dr. Poulin, of 2905 St. Lawrence Boulevard, who was called to dress the woman's wounds, said that while painful, they were not very dangerous.

Mrs. Bombe told the police that Seravanuo called at her house and asked to see her daughter, a young woman of twenty years. The daughter was not at home, but Mrs. Bombe, knowing the man was an acquaintance of the young woman, invited him into the house. He then demanded money of her, and when she told him she did not have any for him, he picked up a table knife and attacked her with it. She rushed screaming into the street with blood flowing from several wounds. Passers-by gave chase to the fleeing man, and he was overtaken and captured at the corner of Fairmount avenue and St. Lawrence Boulevard by Sergeant Martin, of the Laurier avenue station. At the station the prisoner was turned over to Lieut. Corbett, who had been called to the house where the trouble occurred, and who was also in pursuit of the fugitive.

The woman has a cut on the back of the neck three inches long; another across the left ear and jaw, and other cuts in the left hand, the most serious being between the thumb and the first finger.

Seravanno did not deny having stabbed Mrs. Bombe, but said she had stolen $30 from him, after they had been drinking together, while he thought he was sleeping, and that when she refused to return him his money, he attacked her.

Servanno was arraigned in the Police Court this morning, charged with woundisg, and pleaded not guilt. He was remanded for a week for enquete.

CANADA'S BOUNDLESS RESOURCES.

A party of agricultural editors who recently made a trip through Western Canada, were so impressed with what they saw that they are writing columns of favorable articles in connection with the resources of that part of the country.

The 'American Agriculturist' of New York, under date September 3, 1910, has the following to say:—

Great is Canada West; great are the actualities of that vast stretch of prairie provinces in grain production, and great the possibilities in animal husbandry. Well may the United States look with wholesome respect upon the rapid development of that new country which is in only the beginning of its realization of strength and innate forcefulness, in production in manufacturing, in commerce.

Well may the farmers of our own country note the taking form of a competition in grain growing, right now, that is of no mean proportions. Yet there is nothing new in all this, if one goes back in history but a scant half dozen years. Then, no cereal production worth considering; now a hundred million bushels of wheat a year, and this capable of untold expansion—for scarcely five percent of Western Canada is yet under the plough. These are the impelling thoughts occasioned by an editorial journey in August, covering some 3,000 miles over the three great railway systems of Canada. These are stretching their long fingers of steel throughout Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta.

The high lights are many. Space forbids, at the moment, touching but a few, and these the merest mention. The crops are not as large as last year, owing to some unexpected drouth, yet generous, in wheat, oats, barley and flax. Railway extension is rapid, and of the best possible character, looking toward a further vigorous campaign of developing the land. Homesteads, the free gift of the Dominion Government, are now very largely exhausted, unless one goes back in the country many miles from a railway. Canadians want lower tariff on farm machinery. Incoming settlers include thousands of our own best men from Wisconsin and Iowa westward. The recent report of large numbers of dissatisfied American farmers leaving Canada and returning to 'the States' is a canard, according to United States Consul Jones, stationed at Winnipeg. On the contrary, the many erstwhile Americans met by 'American Agriculturist's' editorial representatives were enthusiastic boosters of their new home.

These are absolute facts. It is just as well for our people to know them. Western Canada is rapidly developing along the very best of lines. The pity is, that these two grand countries should be forever politically divided by the 49th parallel of latitude. One lesson for our own farmers is to practice better agriculture and get more bushels of wheat from an acre; and in some of the states in our own north-west to further develop the live stock end of farming. Great is Canada; great, also, is Uncle Sam.

BOUGHT AMERICAN HOUNDS.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Ten couples of foxhounds of the Chevy Chase Club's pack have been sold to a Canadian hunting club. This is said to be the first time a Canadian hunting club has recognized the merits of the American hounds, the purchases of the Canadians hitherto having been made in England.

Work in Port of Naples Suspended Through Epidemic.

Naples, Sept. 29.—The work of the port has been suspended practically in consequence of the cholera epidemic in the poorer quarters of the city. All the foreign steamship lines refuse to take on either passengers or freight.

BERLIN DISTURBANCES

Order Has Been Restored After Second Night's Rioting.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Fighting between the police and strikers in the Moabit quarter was resumed early yesterday morning. The police had cleared the fighting section late at night, but trouble broke out afresh in Restoker street. There were no lights burning at the time and 4,000 police swept through the quarter in darkness. Many revolver shots were fired from the windows by strikers or their sympathizers. The police returned the fire and a regular fusillade followed.

Over 100 policemen were injured during the fighting. The militia has been ordered out in force to patrol the disturbed quarters.

Forty rioters have been attended in various hospitals, while hundreds suffered minor injuries.

Early this morning the strike district was deserted except for the foot and mounted police. There is no probability of further disturbance. The general opinion is that the disorders are now practically over. All the occupants of the Moabit district were ordered to remain indoors.

Instances of the severity of the police in handling the mob are countless. In one case a boy of sixteen years, who had no part in the trouble, but was returning to his home from confirmation, became mixed up in a crowd of rioters and one of his arms was almost chopped off by a blow from a sword. Parts of some sidewalks were covered with pools of blood. The slightest remonstrance meant being cut down.

The damage done in the strike district is roughly estimated at $150,000.

THE CORRECT ANSWER.

('Literary Digest.')

The late Professor Sophocles, of Harvard, was a short but finely built man, with bushy, snow-white hair and beard, olive complexion, and piercing black eyes, and looked like some venerable Arab sheik. Reserved and shy in manner, he was yet full of genial humor. Once, in the class-room, he asked a student, 'What was done with the bodies of the Greeks who were killed at Marathon?' 'They were buried, sir.' 'Next!' 'Why, they—they were burned.' 'Next!' 'I—I don't know, professor.' 'Right. Nobody knows!'

AN ANACHRONISM.

When some celebrated pictures of Adam and Eve were seen on exhibition, Mr. McNab was taken to see them. 'I think no great things of the painter,' said the gardener; 'why, man! tempting Adam wi' 'a pippin of a variety that wasna known until about twenty years ago!'—'Argonaut.'

A WAKEFUL NIGHT.

A rather imaginative Washington lady decided she had insomnia. She couldn't sleep, she said. One morning she was more than usually depressed.

'What's the matter, dear?' asked the husband. 'Another sleepless night?'

'Worse than that, oh, much worse than that!' she replied gloomily. 'I did manage to drop off to sleep, and I dreamed all the time I was asleep that I was awake.'—Philadelphia 'Saturday Evening Post.'

We do not deprecate a certain cheery chattiness of style in our journalists, but we think that the writer in a weekly paper who alludes to the king of Spain as 'his regal nibs' errs possibly on the side of excessive chumminess.—London 'Globe.'

STRENGTHENING THE LINE.

McGill Men Getting Out—Saturday's Game Will Try Them Out.

The relief which the McGill Science Faculty has given to the students who were held up by the Prerequisite rule, has caused considerable glee among the student body, as several old football stars will reappear on the line up. Notable among these is Bus Matheson, who held down the inside wing position last year. Bus was one of the mainstays of the wing line, and his reappearance will mean much to McGill. Mike Turnbull, the strong left scrimmage, will also be back, and will complete and strengthen the left half of the line.

Goodeve, Gillmor, Matheson and Turnbull are surely a combination which would make any wing line in Canada hustle. The right side will probably have Bignell outside; Digby middle, and Allan Johnson inside. Cockfield and Gartshore and Seath also look good. Andy Davies is being tried out as right scrim, while Eric Irwin, of last year's seconds, will in all probability, get the centre scrim job.

Graham Ross, who put up such a good game at centre half last year, was out for the first time in his old position, while Price, Murray and Brydonjack are on hand for the latter places. Sclater has not as yet been out, but the locals hope to see him in uniform soon.

A signal practice was held in the gymnasium on Tuesday, and several good plays were tried.

The collegians are getting ready for the M.A.A. game, and though they cannot expect to be in as good trim as later in the season, they know that the weak points will come out on Saturday, and they will have some idea where they are.

MAY GET A 'PRO.'

Better Cricket Next Year, Say M. A. A. A. Men.

Although the position of the M.A.A.A. cricket club has been a lowly one in the league this season, the members are determined to improve matters for next year, and in order to keep things in order, the members have decided to meet once a month socially and to hold the annual meeting in November instead of next spring. There was a suggestion at the club's meeting yesterday of engaging the services of a professional.

GOLF AT OUTREMONT.

The second of a series of professional golf matches, for a purse donated by Dr. Birkett, was played at the Outremont links on Tuesday. Charlie Murray (Dixie) and Jimmy Black (Beaconsfield) met Albert Murray (Outremont) and Arthur Woodward (Ranelagh). Murray and Black were 3 up on the morning's play and eventually won the match by 2 on the 36 holes. The third game of the series will be contested at the Dixie links to-morrow, and the fourth and concluding game on the grounds of the Ranelagh Club next Tuesday.

LONGBOAT BEAT THREE.

Wiarton, Ont., Sept. 28.—At the Fall Fair to-day Tom Longboat defeated three of the fastest men in Bruce County. The distance was three miles, and Tom's opponents took turn about in half mile laps. Cheers greeted the Indian when he fairly flew down the homestretch, making up fifty yards in the last lap, and winning easily by 25 yards. Longboat proved a great attraction, and the gate receipts eclipsed anything in the history of the fair.

BACK TO OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Charlie O'Neil, who captained the Ottawa University team last year in the Intercollegiate Football Union, turned out with the Ottawas to-day and was tried at left half, the position that Eddie Gerard has been filling. The latter is a pressman, and has been experiencing difficulty getting off to practice. He may, in fact, be forced to drop out, in which event O'Neil will be kept at left half. Dowling, who was counted on for one of the wing positions, has gone to attend Queen's University.

MANY CLAIMANTS FOR ESTATE

Six Millions Will be Disposed of by Court.

New York, Sept. 29.—One hundred and twenty-five claimants have put in appearances before Referee James L. Bishop in the suit brought by William Rasquin, jr., and Alfred H. Renshaw, as executors of the will of Lady Lily Warren Beresford, who was when she died the widow of Lord William Beresford, a brother of Lord Charles Beresford.

She had been prior to her marriage to him the widow of the Duke of Marlborough, and before her marriage to him the widow of Louis C. Hammersley, who died in this city in 1883.

Lady William was for some years before her death the sole surviving trustee of the estate of Mr. Hammersley. The suit is brought by her executors against the New York Life Insurance & Trust Company, as substituted trustee of the trust created by Mr. Hammersley's will, and it is the chief defendant. The other defendants are all those claiming to have any interest in his estate, which is now estimated at more than $6,000,000.

SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS.

Lord's Day Alliance Expect Provincial Government to Act.

'If the moving picture shows do not close on Sunday we expect that the Provincial authorities will take action against the proprietors. And if one case against them is not enough, they can be prosecuted for each show they give throughout the days. As the fine can be placed anywhere from $40 to $100, it will scarcely be profitable for the places to open their doors.'

This was the answer of the Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, when seen by a 'Witness' reporter last night regarding what would follow the decision of the Court of Appeals that the Provincial Sunday law is valid.

'We expected that this would be the result,' said Dr. Moore, 'and we believe that there should be no further difficulty. We expect that the proprietors of these shows will accept this verdict.'

'Will this decision in any way affect the sale of confectionery, cigars and papers in the province?'

'In my opinion the Provincial authorities could take action against the stores, not that the act is declared valid.'

'Will the Lord's Day Alliance ask them to do so?'

'That I cannot answer. There will be a meeting of the executive of the Quebec Alliance in the near future, at which this will be decided.

The Rev. Geo. W. Mingie, provincial secretary, when seen by the 'Witness,' gave the following history of the cases:

The first cases against these shows were taken about three years ago, when actions were begun under civic by-law No. 103, passed in September, 1876, which forbids the keeping open in the city on Sunday any theatres, circus or menageries or other places of amusement, where performances of athlete, rope dancers, minstrels, velocipedes or other like games are held. At the time this by-law was passed moving picture shows did not exist, otherwise they would probably have been included. Consequently it was held they were not theatres, though similar and did not come under the by-law.

Later actions were taken under the Quebec Sunday law of 1907, which says that no person shall on Sunday, for gain, do or cause to be done any industrial work or pursue any business or calling, or give or organize theatrical performances. Judgment was rendered against the picture shows as doing a business. They appealed on the ground that they did not do a business in the technical sense as covered by the law 'negoce,' the word in the French being somewhat equivalent to the English word trade, and a trade consists in giving and receiving something, and in the case of the moving picture shows you paid your money and did not receive any tangible return. However, on appeal before the King's Bench Judge Cross maintained that they did come within the definition of business and a couple of hundred actions were entered against them in which the fines varied from $40 to $100.

On the 31st of August last a writ of prohibition was taken by them to prevent the magistrates from trying and the officers from summoning on the ground that Quebec had no right to pass Sunday laws, they being in their essence criminal legislation, and so wholly within the jurisdiction of thee Federal Parliament and that the law invoked against them was ultra vires. This was heard in the Superior Court, and after some delays Judge Pagnuelo on the 15th of January, 1910, dismissed the writ and upheld the validity of the Provincial law. An appeal was then entered in the Court of Appeals, which was argued on the 22nd of March. Judgment has now been rendered.

The judgment is viewed with satisfaction, as the Alliance is determined to find out what law is in force in this province, and to have the judgment of the people as expressed by both the civic, Provincial and Dominion laws upheld. In some cases the Alliance has had to persistently fight for 5 years or more, but in the end have won, and we are determined, even though it take ten years to maintain the will of the people as expressed in their laws and to protect the workers from the slavery of a seven days' toil.

ROYAL COMMISSIONER'S TOUR.

Technical Education Board Holds Brockville Session.

Brockville, Sept. 29.—Yesterday afternoon four members of the Dominion Commission on industrial training and technical education arrived here from Ottawa. The party is composed of the chairman, Prof. J. W. Robertson, who has general supervision; David Forsythe, who looks after secondary education and equipment of high schools; James Simpson, representing the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, who looks into conditions of laboring men relative to working hours, wages, ventilation, recreation, etc., and Thomas Bengough, the secretary. Two other members of the commission, the Rev. Dr. Geo. Bryce and Mr. John N. Armstrong, were unavoidably detained. Mr. Armstrong is in Montreal conferring with Premier Murray, of Nova Scotia, who is en route to Chicago. The visitors were met by Mayor A. M. Patterson; President W. C. MacLaren, of the Board of Trade; members of the town council and representatives of the school boards. The members of the commission were taken for trips of inspection through local manufacturing establishments. Last evening a session was held in the council chamber, where much evidence favorable to technical education was taken.

G. N. W. OFFICERS ELECTED

P. Dwight; vice-president, Adam Brown; vice-president and general manager, I. McMichael. Other directors: H. N. Baird, Jas. Hedley, J. K. Kerr, W. C. Matthews, Toronto; Col. R. C. Clowry, J. B. Van Every, New York; secretary-treasurer, Geo. D. Perry; auditor, A. C. McConnell; assistant general manager, S. B. McMichael.

CRIED DAY AND NIGHT.

Mrs. R. E. Sanford, Inverary, Ont., writes: — "My baby was sickly for over a week with bowel and stomach trouble and cried night and day. Nothing I did helped her in the least till I began giving her Baby's Own Tablets. They helped baby right away and now she is a big healthy child with fine rosy cheeks. The Tablets are certainly a wonderful medicine and I recommend them to all my friends who have children in the house."

What Baby's Own Tablets have done for Mrs. Sanford's baby they have done for thousands of other little ones, simply because they go to the root of so many childhood ailments—that is, they drive all impurities from the stomach and leave it sweet and healthy. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

VELUTINA TAILORED DRESS.

The one piece tailored dress from Paquin is of velutina in the new Wilhelmina blue shade, with trimmings of black moire and dull grey satin, and with embroidered designs in self color. The broad collar of sailor shape is square across the back and so shaped as to form draped bretelles. The sash is of moire, with long ends, heavily weighted.

SOME NEW YORK NAMES.

The Smith tribe is thriving as usual in the new directory of Manhattan and the Bronx. The 3,361 Smiths, not to count the Smits, Smithes, Smyths, Smythes, Smithys, Smithers, Smithleins, Smithens, Smithlines, Smithsons and Smitmans, leave even the prolific Murphy and Brown battalions far in the rear. There are twenty-one widows named Mrs. Catherine Smith. The Browns are less than half the Smiths, with 1,590, while the Jones number only 857.

Many will be surprised to learn that there are only fourteen Persons in this museum of curiosities. Still more confusing is the presence of 31 Childs, 59 Childses, 2 Men, 6 Mans, 168 Manns and 2 Peopleses.

There are four Schoolhouses in the city. There is a high man and a Low contingent to the number of 73.

There are three Books and three Bookbinders; also 11 Hacks.

There are only 3 Boyes to the 12 Yards and 3 Bases. One Runn is credited to the town and 17 Balls with 9 Batts.

Beans to the number of 13, 22 Dills, 1 Pickle and 11 Frankfurters. There is only one Cantine to the single Troop. Out of them there are 33 Beers, 2 Dark, 24 Light, and many Roots. There are 80 Glasses and only one Schooner. Eight Beveridges are set down, besides 16 Seltzers, 10 Schnapps and 21 Weins. Two Drinkers, two Boozers, 1 Drink-wine and 1 Drinkwater are among us. Four persons, at least, are Sober. To the one Home there are several hundred Bells.

The directory records the presence of 132 Cranes, 8 Bears, 23 Beavers, 23 Hogs, 1 Rabbit and innumerable Wolfs. Also 4 Mules, Hoggs, Goats, 9 Ratts, 1 Catt and a Cow.

There are Woods and three Forests, 15 Robins, 5 Ravens, 2 Thrushes and 3 Larks.

There are 3 Dubs in the city and 20 Smarts, besides 30 Quicks, 1 Lightbody and 10 Lightfoots. Fifty call themselves Ketcham and 25 Ketchum. One man samed Slow and 3 Sticks reside here.

Two Woods, 20 Cottons, 1 Knitt, 1 Twine, 4 Twists and 1 Twitchings. 3 Suiters and Suits are also among us, as well as 4 Suns, 25 Moons, 5 Mercurios, 1 Venus, 6 Mars, 3 Jupiters, 4 Wains, 5 Stars and 74 Starrs.

A Cheer, 11 Merrys, 19 Joys, 1 Care, 1 Cark, and 3 Dulls, swell the list.

Other New-oYrkers bear the names of Grim, Ham, Prettyman, Rank, Rott; Selling, Buyer; Cantaloupe, Combs; Fatt, Leans, Spare, Plump; Spear, Sword; Good, Better, Best; Bad, Worst, Rich and Poor; Shade and Sunshine; Milk and Honey.—New York 'Sun.'

ELEVATING DRUDGERY.

With every appliance and convenience, cooking, like all other domestic work, when done not merely as an amusement occasionally because you feel disposed for it, but regularly and ordinarily, is monotonous and ever-recurring. It is idle to profess otherwise. In a notice of the prospectus of a domestic science school, it is said, for instance, that one of the first lessons learned is that housecraft is not menial work! No woman considers it menial to take care of rare china or to arrange flowers. . . . Therefore (many people think that two disconnected statements become a logical argument if merely linked by that magic word 'therefore') 'if she carry out the more ordinary part, such as knives, with the same care and scientific method, she will discover the the cleaning of boots, stoves, and charm that is attached to housework, and her mind will be disabused of the erroneous idea that such work is unsuitable for an educated woman.' This is an excellent example of the futility of talk trying to oppose harsh facts. Of course cleaning the mud off boots and the stains off knives would be waste of an education; it is mere grimy, hard, manual work, requiring muscle, not science, and devoid of any sort of 'charm.' Nevertheless, it is possible to elevate even such drudgery to one's mind, when it must be done, by remembering that it all serves to a noble and worthy end. As Burns said for the husband, so may the wife feel doubly about her tasks—

To make a happy fireside clime
For weans and wife—
That's the true pathos and sublime
O' human life!

CO-OPERATION SUCCEEDS.

Calgary, Sept. 29.—The 'ready-made' farmers of Irricana colony, near Strathmore, are building a co-operative store, which will be ready in a few days. The colony has gone in for co-operative work on every line, and has found it very successful.

Six miles south of Bantry a well was sunk to a depth of 385 feet, and quite a large flow of natural gas was struck, sufficient to supply fuel, light and power necessary to a small village.

FISHERIES NEGOTIATIONS.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 2.—Hoping to reach an agreement previously through negotiations between themselves, the British and American Governments, it is announced, have arranged to postpone until spring at least the organization of the subsidiary tribunal provided for under The Hague fisheries award. The two Governments hope to effect the same result through negotiations, thereby avoiding the expense which the proposed tribunal would involve.

THE 'WITNESS' DAILY PATTERN.

The home dressmaker should keep a little catalogue scrap book of the daily pattern cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

LADIES' YOKE WAIST.

This simple waist may be made quite effective if care is used in selecting the materials. The round yoke has the body gathered to it, and at each side of the yoke at the shoulder a Gibson tuck is brought down into a peplum which takes away all the fulness over the hips. The waist may be made on a lining if desired, a pattern being provided. The sleeves are puffs gathered into a band just below the elbow; below this an under sleeve of contrasting goods may be worn. Silk, satin, lawn or batiste may be used for this waist, with all-over lace or tucking for the lower sleeve and the yoke and sleeve bands may be hand-embroidered, or trimmed with soutache braid. The pattern (5137) is cut in sizes 32 to 42 inches bust. To make the waist in medium size will require 4 yards of material 27 inches wide, 2 3-4 yards 36 inches wide, or 2 3-8 yards 44 inches wide, with 3-4 yard of tucking 18 inches wide.

UNUSUAL WIRELESS CASE.

Operator Charged With Preventing Transmission of Message.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 29.—Ernest E. Goodwin, an operator in the employ of the Continental Wireless Telegraph Company, was in city court yesterday, charged with violation of the penal code. It is alleged that he wilfully prevented the transmission of a message from the steamer 'Western States,' on September 21st, when she was disabled on Lake Erie, off Long Point. The operator on the 'Western States' tried for several hours to communicate with the Buffalo and Erie stations. As soon as he began a message asking for assistance it is said the opposition company for which Goodwin worked would interfere, and, having a more powerful plant, would smother his waves. The maximum penalty for the offence is four years' imprisonment. It is the first arrest in the Great Lakes for alleged violation of this section of the code.

The case was adjourned.

MAGISTRATE CURED OF PILES & ECZEMA

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam Buk's favour is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says:—

"I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of Eczema on my ankle which had been there for over 20 years. Sometimes also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had applied various ointments and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike everything else I had tried, proved highly satisfactory and cured the ailment.

"I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take comfort in helping my brother men, and if the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by Piles or Skin Diseases I know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk cures ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, ring-worm, festering or running sores, bad leg, varicose ulcers, salt rheum, prairie itch, cuts, burns, bruises, baby's sores, etc. Purely herbal, 50c box, druggists and stores. Refuse imitations.

WIDOW GOT DAMAGES.

The Court of Appeal yesterday morning reversed the judgment of the Superior Court which dismissed the action in a case of Theberge et al vs. the Corporation of St. Hubert. This was an action for $15,000 damages by the widow and children of one Ostigny who was killed by falling from his waggon while under the influence of liquor. Their Lordships in Appeal held that the fact of the man being under the influence of liquor did not relieve the municipality from responsibility for the bad condition of the road, but on account of the contributory negligence of deceased, they reduced the claim to $1,000.

INVESTIGATING IMMIGRATION

Italian Government Sent Commissioner to Inquire Into Grievances

THE LUMBER CAMPS.

Commander Rossi Taking Back Reports From All Over Canada.

There has just left Montreal for New York Commander E. Rossi, High Commissioner of Emigration of the Italian Government. His departure marks the ending of one of the most thorough inspections of Canada which has yet taken place, an inspection not made from the view-point of an ordinary traveller, but made with the intention of finding out exactly what condition his countrymen are living in and working under in the Dominion.

There are between 70,000 and 80,000 Italians employed in Canada, the majority of them at unskilled labor. They form the bulk of the army which every spring departs for the railroad camps, and returns at the first sign of winter either to one of the larger cities or even to their own sunny Italy, and stories from them had reached the ears of the authorities in their native land which warranted the Italian Government making a thorough investigation. Commander Rossi therefore came over to Canada at the beginning of the spring, and he and his assistants scattered through the country. The High Commissioner himself went west, one went out into the Cobalt district, leaving the towns and railway a hundred miles behind; another went east as far as New Brunswick. Wherever large numbers of Italians lived or work, one or thee other of the commissioners went and investigated, gathering data upon which to make their reports. The reports have now been sent to Rome, where they will be gathered together and published for the benefit of intending emigrants.

On the whole, it is satisfactory to know they are not of a nature to do Canada any harm. Cause for complaint was found in abundance, but was brought to the proper authorigood results. In the railway construction camps it was found that the men often had to sleep eighteen and twenty in small tents or shanties. These were frequently in a bad state of repair, affording but poor protection to the men whose homes they were. In other camps, though, the men were well paid, a large amount of their earnings had to go in the purchase of food. The catering arrangements were rented out by the contractors, and the difficulty of getting supplies, and the fact that there was no possible competition, often led to the men being charged almost extortionate prices. Both these complaints have been considerably modified since the commissioners made their reports. As one of them remarked to a 'Witness' reporter, 'Canada wants laborers, and it would be foolish of the contractors who employ them to do anything which would give us ground to legitimately interfere with their source of supply. So far as the laborers are concerned, it is thought that the visit of the commissioners will prove to have done a considerable amount of good.

These gentlemen are also taking back with them a very good idea of Canada's possibilities for agriculturists, and it is their intention to prepare matter which will indicate to Italians with a little capital the opportunities this country holds out for them. That, however, is a side issue, for no European country is desirous of losing its citizens, but when applications are made to the Italian Emigration Department in the future for advice, it will be given by men who have been here, and they will always suggest the idea of intending emigrants having sufficient money to engage in agricultural pursuits.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Not Due to Cold, Wet Weather The Trouble is Rooted in the Blood.

Many people believe that the twinges and tortures of rheumatism are due to cold, damp, or wet weather, and treat themselves by rubbing with liniments and lotions. This is a serious mistake, and one which allows the disease to progress to such an extent that it is often impossible to get it out of the system. Rheumatism comes from poisonous acid in the blood, and it must be cured through the blood. All the liniments, and rubbing, and so called electrical treatment in the world will not cure rheumatism. This is a medical truth which every sufferer from this excruciating trouble should know. Rheumatism can only be cured by driving the poisonous acid out of the blood, and enriching and purifying it. There is no medicine will do this so speedily and surely as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make the new, rich, red blood, which drives out the poisonous acid, upbuilds the system, and makes the sufferer well and strong. It is because they do this that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured thousands of cases of rheumatism after all other treatment had failed. As proof we give the case of Mrs. F. X. Boisseau, St. Jerome, Que., who says: "Almost two years ago I was a terrible sufferer from rheumatism. The trouble first located in my right leg, rendering all work impossible, and walking excessively difficult. I tried to cure myself by means of all sorts of liniments and lotions, but without avail. The trouble was constantly growing worse, and the pain more and more unbearable. Finally the disease spread to my other leg, and I was all but helpless, and I was completely discouraged, thinking I would be a sufferer for the rest of my life. At this time I read an advertisement in our home paper of this trouble being cured by Dr. Williams 'Pink Pills and I decided to try them. I first got four boxes of the Pills, and after using them for several weeks I could see that the painful rheumatism was gradually disappearing. I continued taking the Pills however, until I had used about a dozen boxes, when every symptom of the trouble had disappeared, and I could walk as freely as ever I did, and do my housework without the least trouble. I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to every rheumatic sufferer."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

JEWELS RECOVERED.

KEEPS HIS SEAT.

Mr. Clement Robillard, M.P.P., Gets Judgment in His Favor.

The contestation of the election of Mr. Clement Robillard, M.P.P., for St. James division, which caused quite a stir in political circles, some months ago, is now a thing of the past, and in virtue of a judgment just rendered by the Court of Review, the east end representative keeps his seat in the legislature.

After the petitioner in the case, Mr. Austate Lachapelle, had filed his bill of particulars Mr. Robillard's counsel made a motion to have said particulars set aside as being incomplete and insufficient. That motion was granted by Mr. Justice Lafontaine.

Thereupon the petitioner through his counsel, filed a declaration to the effect that, owing to the judgment setting aside his bill of particulars, he was not in a position to establish the allegations of his petition contesting the election.

Acting upon that declaration, the Court of Review, composed of Justices De Louinier, Charbouneau and Lafontaine, has now rendered a formal judgment dismissing the petition, with costs.

COURT OF APPEAL ADJOURNS.

After the rendering of judgments, yesterday, the Court of Appeal adjourned to October 28, when a number of cases heard will be adjudicated upon.

IRISH LEAGUE ENTHUSIASTIC

Convention at Buffalo Pledged $151,000 to Nationalist Party

MANY SUBSCRIPTIONS DOUBLED

M. J. Ryan Was Re-elected President Amidst Enthusiastic Scenes.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 29.—The fifth biennial national convention of the United Irish League closed last evening amid a remarkable scene of devotion to the motherland and fealty to the leaders of the Irish Nationalist movement, who have attended the gathering. A recommendation by the committee on ways and means that a hundred thousand dollars be subscribed to the work of the Irish parliamentary party for the next two years was raised to a hundred and fifty thousand dollars by the committee on resolutions. The latter report was unanimously adopted, and within half an hour a total of $151,000 had been paid in or pledged. While the secretary was recording the amounts given, several delegates in their enthusiasm doubled and tripled their original subscriptions.

The demonstration by the 850 delegates was renewed when Michael J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, accepted a re-election as president of the league. He had withheld his consent until the last moment, and when it was finally given he received an ovation. John O'Callaghan, of Boston, national secretary, and Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, of Boston, national treasurer, were also re-elected by unanimous vote.

The following vice-presidents were elected: William Temple Emmett, of New York; Charles F. Cooke, of Chicago; Patrick Martin, of Baltimore; John Fitzpatrick, of New Orleans, and Hugh McCafferty, of Philadelphia.

Mr. John E. Redmond paid a tribute to Mr. Ryan, the president, and renewed his declaration that self-government for the Irish race was never nearer than it is to-day.

THE SKY-MAN

SUMMARY OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

This stirring story of invention and adventure opens in the solitude of the Arctic Circle, and Philip Cayley, a young American army officer, is at first the only human being on the scene. The disgrace following a false charge brought against him by his greatest friend, Perry Hunter, has driven him into solitude in disgust at humanity. During his four years of life alone in the north he has mastered the secret of flying, and it is while aloft that he catches his first sight of human beings since more, and at the same time witnesses a deliberate murder. The murderer and his companions disappear. Cayley waiting until midnight descends cautiously on the hitherto unknown spot where he had discovered the men, and visiting first the ship, which is anchored to an ice floe, startles a young girl who is alone there. After they have convinced each other that they are not dreaming she tells Cayley that her name is Jeanne Fielding, and that she is at present waiting for word of her father lost years ago whose records or remains are being sought by a party from the yacht. Cayley, in turn, explains his presence, and after promising to make a search on his own account, flies away, having told her nothing of the murder he had witnessed. He leaves behind him by accident, however, the instrument he had picked up on the scene of the murder. The murderer himself, a giant named Roscoe, was one of the survivors of the 'Walrus' wreck of four years ago. The crew of eleven had been welcomed to this shore by Captain Fielding and two other survivors of the previous wreck, but for the sake of a deposit of gold known of by them, Roscoe had one day murdered all three and assumed undisputed command of the 'Walrus' men. On the approach of the yacht he had forced them to desert their huts and go into hiding. To Planck alone, the former captain of the whaler, he explains his ruse to entrap the search party now on hand in Fog Lake, and after so drawing away from the yacht the inevitable relief party, take the vessel and steam away with the gold they had collected. On board the yacht, Jeanne tells her guardian, Mr. Fanshaw, and his son Tom, of Cayley, and Tom tells her the story of Cayley's disgrace. News is just brought of the murder of Perry Hunter, who had been of the party, and it is discovered that the arrow with which Hunter was killed fits the instrument Cayley had left behind. When he returns he is angrily accused of the murder of the man who, he discovers to his horror, was his old chum. Jeanne's assertion of Cayley's innocence angers Tom Fanshaw, and after Cayley has flown away, determined to return to solitude, and the relief party have left the yacht, Jeanne attempts to 'make it up' with Tom, only to have him passionately declare his love. In her distress at this she leaves him and rows ashore, not knowing, on account of fog, that in her absence, the yacht has been attacked by Roscoe and his party. Entering one of the abandoned huts she finds the secret spring box containing her father's records and reads them, oblivious of everything else, while Roscoe finding the box is not aboard the yacht, returns to fetch it.

With an oath, he cast the idea away from him. They had lied, that was all. When he got back to the ship he would have them flogged, both of them. That would teach them, and the others, too, perhaps, that he was not to be trifled with.

He beached his boat, scrambled ashore and set out walking doggedly along in the direction of the hut. The fog was still all but impenetrable, even to his practised vision, but he knew the shore like the palm of his hand, and he trudged on without a pause, until he was within ten paces, perhaps, of his destination.

But there he faltered and stopped, turned about, under an irresistible impulse of fear, and would have fled had not sheer necessity compelled him to stop again. There was a light, a diffused yellow glow, faint but unmistakable, shining out of the windows of the hut.

He knew he could not go back to the 'Aurora' without that box; it was necessary both to his future safety and his present command of the situation. His one hold upon those sullen followers of his depended upon his being impervious alike to terror and to defeat. If he were to go back now without accomplishing his purpose, it would only be a question of days before they murdered him. They all hated him, enough for that, he knew.

Yet, even under that necessity, it was three or four minutes before, at the command of his burly will, he began creeping forward on hands and knees toward the lighted window of the hut.

And when he reached a point where he could command its interior, his knees slipped out from under him and he lay prone upon the icy beach, his face buried in his outstretched arms. For those two sailors had told the truth.

Presently he drew himself up and squatted back on his haunches, staring. Human or not, the figure there in the hut seemed unaware of his presence. It was staring at the expiring flame of the candle in profound abstraction. When it stirred, as presently it did, it was with a natural, human motion. And then the candle went out.

In the few seconds of silence which followed, his terror returned upon him with full force. But it went away as suddenly as it had come, and with its recession there surged up in him a wave of brutish anger. It was no ghost that sat in contemplation over the contents of that box, for it was moving now, with human footsteps,—faltering, uncertain footsteps, at that. And when it appeared, just visible and no more, outside the doorway, it called aloud in a human voice—a woman's voice.

At the sound of it, he drew himself up, towering, before her, and, so, became visible to her,—a monstrous, blurred, uncertain shape.

And she cried out; this time in terror. Then, before he could spring upon her and kill her with his hands, as his brutish instinct of rage urged him to do, he started back suddenly, and himself cried out!

For a faint circle of light, waving, wandering, unearthly, was shining straight down upon both of them through the fog,—out of the sky itself.

Looking up, he saw overhead a single, great luminous eye, and in the reflection of its own light upon the ice, very faintly, the fabric of outstretched wings.

Then from up there, overhead, he heard a voice, — a quiet voice, 'I'm here,' it said. 'Don't be afraid.'

Blindly, Roscoe flung up his hands, whirled around and fell; scrambled to his feet again and fled, like a man hag-ridden, down the shore.

As he did so, he heard a ragged volley of shots from the direction of the 'Aurora.' This sound of plain human fighting, which he understand and did not fear, helped restore to equilibrium his mind, which a moment before had been tottering to absolute destruction. Once he could get back to his boat and feel the oars under his hands again—once he found himself pulling out toward the yacht, no matter how desperate the odds awaiting him there might be against him, he would, he felt, be himself once more.

He ran on and on down the beach. He had not passed his boat, he knew; but he finally realized that he had passed the place where he had brought the boat ashore.

CHAPTER IX.

WAITING FOR DAWN.

Cayley wheeled so that he headed up into the wind and dropped, facing the girl and with his back to her retreating assailant. He had to drop almost vertically in order to avoid being blown out into the sea after he struck the ice. Even as it was, he went slithering down the glassy slope toward the water, and only managed to check his impetus by throwing himself flat on his face and clutching at a hummock which chanced to offer him a precarious hold. He had come down 'all adrift' as sailors say, and his monstrous wings, powerless for flight but instinct with flapping perversity, cost him a momentary struggle while he was getting them bundled into controllable shape.

All the while he half expected an attack from the man whom his sudden appearance had just put to flight. Whether the man came back or not, would depend on how badly Cayley's portentious intervention had frightened him, but if he came back before the sky-man had got clear of his wings, he would find an antagonist as helpless as the girl herself. Cayley, before he dropped, had weighed it as an even chance that this very thing would happen.

And if it did not, the odds were still rather against his coming out of the manoeuvre undamaged. Alighting upon an unknown surface at night, in a dense fog and in the teeth of a number seven gale, was not an act which a sane sense of self-preservation would approve of.

But, thanks as much to luck as to skill, he presently found himself upon his feet uninjured. He at once set out, making what haste he could, across the ice toward where he had last seen the girl, shouting up the gale to her at the same time, to know if she were safe. He heard no answer, but presently made her out, dimly, only a pace or two away. His first act then, even before speaking, was to take out his pocket electric bullseye and turn it full upon her.

'It's just to make sure you're not hurt—that I really got down here in time,' he apologized. 'I wish I might have saved you the terror, but it wasn't until you cried out that I knew—'

'I'm not hurt,' she assured him. 'I'm a little dazed, that's all. No, not with fright, with wonder. I hardly had time to be frightened. But I thought you'd gone this morning, that you had abandoned us just as you said you would. And yet, when I cried out just now, for help, it was you that I called to. . . . And then you came, out of the sky, just as I was sure you would. For I was certain, with the same certainty one has in dreams. Now, that it's over, I find myself wondering again if you are real. I'm not hurt at all.'

Before he could find anything to say in answer, they heard another shot, muffled in the fog, from the direction of the 'Aurora,' and in prompt reply to it, another volley.

'Wasn't there firing before?' she asked. 'Can any one be attacking the yacht? There is no one there but Tom, you know, and he's disabled.—Can't we—can't I, get out there any way? The boat I came ashore in is right here.'

Without making her any answer, he carried the unwieldy bundle his wings made into the hut and left it there, then returned to her and offered her his hand.

'We'll go down and look for your boat,' he said.

Along the water's edge they searched, aided by the little beam from his bullseye, the sound of intermittent firing from the yacht urging haste all the while. But it did not take long to force the conviction upon them that the boat was gone. Blown adrift, most likely, was Cayley's explanation.

He felt her trembling. Whether with cold or dread, he did not know, but he took her arm and steadied her with the pressure of his own.

'Come back to the hut,' he said. 'The situation isn't as bad as you think. I'll tell you when we get to shelter where we can talk.'

She turned obediently, and breasted the icy slope with him. Neither spoke again until they were safe in the lee of the hut. Then he said:

'I don't think Fanshaw is alone there on the yacht. The relief party and the first party from the 'Aurora' got together some time this afternoon and started back toward the shore. They should be aboard the yacht by now, though when the fog fell it put an end to my activities. The 'Walrus' people have undoubtedly attacked them, but they shouldn't have any trouble in beating them off. They out-number them and they are better armed; in fact, so far as I know, the 'Walrus' people aren't armed at all. They knew—your people I mean—that the yacht was likely to be attacked. I told them so myself, and then their pretended guide confessed.'

'How did you know about the 'Walrus'?' she asked curiously.

'The Portuguese was one of them; he had guided your first party down into a little valley of perpetual fog, under orders to abandon them there. When he saw me sailing about overhead—through the fog, you know—he broke down and confessed—and then—well, he made a clean breast of it. He knew nothing of the details of his leader's plans; but the mere fact that he had been delegated to guide the party into a place from which it was to be expected they could never get out, was conclusive as to his intentions at least.'

"BED-TIME STORIES"

BESS HAS A COAST DOWN HILL.

(Florence Saunders.)

When passing by a school the other day I heard the boys and girls laughing and chattering as they ran out of the building ready for fun and play.

Some were going down to the river to skate, some were snow-balling, others were hurrying to get their sleds for coasting on the hill.

As I was walking near Johnnie and Bess, I heard them talking about the ice and snow, upon which they had just had a lesson.

'Look at those lovely little stars,' said Bessie, as she took some snow flakes on her mitten. 'I did not know before that they were so pretty; and just think, there are hundreds of different patterns, and so fine. O, my! How can God make them? Isn't it wonderful? And just think, Johnnie, how many millions, and millions and billions of them there must be all over the ground and trees. And teacher said the snow was covering up the grass and flower roots and seeds, like a blanket, to keep them warm, so they won't freeze during the winter. I love the snow. It makes the trees and bushes so beautiful.'

'I like the ice best,' said Johnnie, 'for it lasts longer, and men can cut and keep it for summer, when the snow is all gone, and teacher said the snow on top of the mountains melts and runs down in streams of water, and they run into the river; and so in winter that snow is turned into ice, you see.'

'Well,' replied Bessie, 'she said, too, that the air always has some water in it in some form; and when I see my breath on a cold day it is the moisture from it that is freezing. I like to look at the clouds and think they are made of water and some of it will come down as rain or snow.'

'Come, let's go and get our sleds,' said Johnnie, starting to run.

They disappeared for a while and I listened to some other children talking of their morning lesson. One of them said, 'I'd like to see the crystals teacher told us the ice and snow are made of. They are rhomboid in form, and it is their formation that makes the ice expand or grow larger. Yesterday I put a pan full of water out in the yard, and it froze solid and swelled up in the middle and was an inch higher than the pan of water was. And she said water always had some heat in it, but when it is frozen the heat is gone. Come, let's go to the river and see if the ice will swell and crack.'

Another boy was saying, 'I'd like to see a rock pushed out of the ground by the earth freezing around it, and I'd like to see those big glaciers up north. I didn't know there are so many wonderful things to learn about the earth and sky. I wonder what keeps the stars up so high, and why they don't come down to the earth as the rain and snow do. I'm going to ask teacher sometime. I've never thought about it before; and what makes it so awfully cold in winter? I'd like to know about these things.'

Soon Johnnie and Bess appeared. His hands were in his pockets. Pulling them out, he said, 'Now which will you have, Bess?'

She chose the left hand and drew a bright red apple, while he kept the doughnut. Then he took her to the top of the hill and soon they were gliding over the beautiful white snow which was giving them so much pleasure.—'Northwest Christian Advocate.'

WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURE?

September 29.

Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us.

The love of Christ, which passeth knowledge.—Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.—Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.—Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.—Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any. Even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.—For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Christ . . . suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps.

Ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.—We ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

SHORE FISHING IS POOR.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 29.—That the shore fisheries of Newfoundland will be away below the usual catch is the statement of Mr. H. P. Robinson, of the Robinson Export Company, of Boston, who passed through the city last night from St. Pierre Miquelon. He said that the deep sea or trawl fishing would be fairly good, but the shore fisheries were practically a failure. In one case a fisherman had returned with three quintals of fish, the result of a season's fishing. While there would be some suffering resulting from this condition of things, he believed that generally the fishing folk could stand it.

PAVERS BEING HURRIED.

Controllers Advising Them That Work Must be Completed Before Winter.

Yesterday the Board of Control, accompanied by Ald. L. A. Lapointe, made a tour of inspection of Ste. Cunegonde and St. Henri wards, paying especial attention to the paving work, for now that the summer is over it is essential that all the work be pushed to completion as soon as possible. Several contractors who have been executing the work assigned them in a somewhat dilatory manner have been ordered to proceed more rapidly, and it is expected all the pavements started in the spring will be completed before the snow flies.

CARDINALATE VACANCIES.

Consistory in November is Considered Likely.

Rome, Sept. 29.—It is considered certain at the Vatican that the Pope will hold a consistory about the middle of November. There are many vacancies in the cardinalate, and those most likely to receive the red hat are believed to be Monsignor Bislet, papal major domo; Monsignor Lugari, of the Holy Office; Monsignor Guisineti, secretary of the consistory of congregation; Monsignor Bello, patriarch of Libson; Monsignor Granite di Belmonte, papal nuncio at Vienna; Monsignor Amiette, archbishop of Paris; Father Corniser, general of the Dominicans, and Father Ehrle, librarian of the Vatican.

SNEAK THIEVES AT WORK.

House robbers are at work again in the north end of the city, along the lines employed last year when forty or fifty homes in St. Louis, now Laurier ward, were entered by the use of false keys, and other common means known to the housebreaking fraternity. The home of Mr. A. Monty, at 667 Sanguinet street, was entered yesterday afternoon between two and five o'clock, when a gold watch, chain and locket, and some other articles of jewellery, and clothing were stolen. The gas meter also was broken open, but contained a very small sum. The thieves left no clue, having evidently used false keys in making their entry to the house.

KING HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

His Majesty Forced to Dodge Airship.

Milan, Sept. 29.—King Victor Emmanuel and his cousin, the Count of Turin, had a narrow escape from a serious accident yesterday while inspecting the aeroplanes at the aerodrome here. Simoon, an aviator, failed to observe that the King and the Count were walking directly in front of him, and started his machine. It swept toward them at full speed. There were loud cries from the alarmed spectators and a warning call to lie down. The Sovereign and the Count threw themselves to the ground and the machine just cleared.

The Hon. George Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, and the Hon. W. S. Fielding held a conference in the city yesterday.

REVENUE ON THE INCREASE

Water and Business Taxes Both Show Growing Proportions.

On August 1 the business taxes and water rates for the current year began coming in at the City Hall, and while great sums have not been received as yet, the indications are that the revenue from these sources will be considerably ahead of those accruing last year.

This year's water tax to date amounts to $445,574.79, while for the same period last year it was $414,312.92.

The business tax so far received this year amounts to $420,531.67, which is a substantial increase over that of last year, when only $376,192.22 accrued.

Another sum which will be at the disposal of the city this year is $1,000,000, which is outstanding on last year's land tax. Of this amount $700,000 have already been collected.

EPIDEMIC IN NAPLES

Fifteen New Cases and Nine Deaths from Cholera Report.

Rome, Sept. 29.—The official report issued last night states that during the past twenty-four hours fifteen new cases of Asiatic cholera have appeared in the city of Naples, with nine deaths, four new cases, and one death in the Province of Naples, outside the city, and three new cases and one death in the Province of Bari. These do not include the so-called cases of gastro-enteritis.

A despatch from Naples says that two strangers seeking lodging in a poor quarter yesterday aroused the suspicion of the residents, who cried out that they were spreading the cholera. The strangers were attacked by the mob, when they attempted to give candy to some children, with cries of 'Death to the poisoners,' and were severely injured before the police could come to their rescue.

Mr. Stephen O'Brien, secretary to the chief engineer and also of the Ottawa Improvement Commission, is promoted, and will take charge of the parliamentary estimates, Mr. Steckel retaining, for a while, supervision of the geodetic levelling. Mr. R. W. Dillon, assistant to Mr. Steckel in the parliamentary estimates branch, is promoted to the post of assistant secretary of the department, succeeding Mr. R. Desrochers, promoted to be secretary on the death of Mr. Tessier.

H. L. STIMSON IS NOMINATED

NEW YORK GOVERNORSHIP.

Entire Slate Arranged by Republicans Adopted With Only Two Contests.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The Republican state convention last evening nominated Henry L. Stimson, of New York, as its candidate for Governor. The nomination of Mr. Stimson was one more victory for Mr. Roosevelt, who personally led the fight for the nomination of his candidate.

The rest of the state ticket follows: For lieutenant-governor, E. Schoeneck, Syracuse; for secretary of state, Samuel S. Koenig, New York (re-nominated); for state comptroller, Jas. Thompson, Valley Falls, Rensselaer county; for state treasurer, Thos. F. Fennell, Elmira; for state engineer, Frank M. Williams, Oneida (re-nominated); for attorney-general, Edward R. O'Malley, Buffalo (re-nominated); for associate judge of the Court of Appeals, Irving G. Vann, Syracuse (re-nominated).

The vote for governor stood: Henry L. Stimson, 684; Wm. S. Bennett, 242; Thomas B. Dunn, 38; James B. McEwan, 28; scattering, 23.

The slate as made up this morning by Mr. Roosevelt, Senator Root and their advisers went through without a hitch. Except for governor and comptroller, there were no contests. Representative Bennett, who conducted the only open campaign for the nomination for governor, kept up the fight to the end, and his persistency and his strength with the New York delegation threatened to break the slate.

NO ALLIANCE WITH W. H. HEARST.

Mr. Bennett's persistent campaign for the nomination for governor led to a second conference after the slate had been agreed upon yesterday. The convention was adjourned in the middle of the afternoon, and for three hours the leaders canvassed the field once more in the idea that they might decide upon an up-state man who would receive the united vote of the New York delegation. Mr. Roosevelt asked Mr. Bennett to withdraw, but the congressman refused to do so.

Mr. Roosvelt and Senator Root decided to stand by the slate, and Mr. Roosevelt agreed to make the nominating speech. The meeting broke up and shortly after six o'clock Mr. Roosevelt started back for the convention hall.

Kingsbury Foster nominated Bennett and after the nomination had been seconded, Mr. Roosevelt went to the platform to make his last speech of the covention. He began by saying that he held Mr. Lennett in high regard, but believed Mr. Stimson to be the proper nominee. In reference to reports that he had been in communication with Wm. H. Hearst since he came to Saratoga, and that he and Mr. Hearst had formed an alliance for the coming campaign, Mr. Roosevelt issued this statement:

'I have not communicated with Mr. Hearst or anyone else outside the convention, and the candidates we have considered here have been discussed purely on their own merits and without reference to Mr. Hearst or anyone lese.'

Mr. Griscom said that he confidently expected that the party would win at the polls in November. He said:

'We have in Mr. Stimson a man of the highest order. He is a man whom we can compare without shame with Governor Hughes and other successful governors.'

HE PROSECUTED THE MONOPOLIES.

New York, Sept. 29.—Henry Lewis Stimson, Republican nominee for Governor, first gained prominence as United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, a post to which he was appointed by Mr. Roosevelt in January, 1906. In his three years and two months in office, Mr. Stimson prosecuted the South so-called Sugar Trust, and the New York Central Railway for rebating, and secured the imposition of fines against them aggregating nearly $400,000. He appeared personally before the United States Supreme Court and argued the appeals taken by the New York Central, winning every appeal.

The proceedings to compel the late E. H. Harriman to answer questions put to him by the Interstate Commerce Commission was also won by Mr. Stimson, and his next court victory was against the American Sugar Refining Company for fraud in weighing imported sugar. This case resulted in the government recovering more than $2,000,000 in duties from the trust.

Mr. Stimson was born in New York city, September 27th, 1867, and graduated, September 27th, 1867, and graduthe law course at Harvard Law School. In 1890 he came to New York city, and after being admitted to the Bar, entered the law office of Root & Clark, of which Elihu Root was then senior partner. Mr. Stimson married in 1893 Miss Mabel Wellington White, daughter of Charles Atwood White, a prominent lawyer of New Haven, Conn.

MR. TAFT SENDS MESSAGE.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 29.— Mr. Taft last night telegraphed Henry L. Stimson:

'It gives me the greatest pleasure to hear that you have been chosen as the Republican candidate for governor of New York State. I sincerely hope and believe that you will be elected. You certainly will be elected if the people of New York wish to have as their governor a citizen of the utmost civic courage and disinterested patriotism, a lawyer of eminent ability and a man of the highest character.'

BRAKESMAN'S BRAVERY.

Gave His Life in Preventing Collision.

Swift Current, Sept. 29.—A brakeman named James Cairns, of Medicine Hat, was killed under his freight train at that point. He gave his life to save a passenger train from colliding with the rear end of a freight which was about to foul the main line. As he turned the angle cock to set the air brakes he fell beneath the car and was crushed to death.

LABORER GOT DAMAGES.

Mr. Justice Archer rendered judgment yesterday in the case of C. Legault vs. D. G. Loomis & Sons. This was a claim under the Compensation Act by a laborer who was injured in the construction of the Jacobs building, at the corner of St. Catherine and St. Alexander streets. The court found the injuries to be permanent and granted the plaintiff an annuity of $140, plus a sum of $145 for the period extending from the time of the accident to the present date.

PAID $2,500 FOR VOTE

Senator Declares He Received Money for Supporting Senator Lorimer

Chicago, Sept. 29.—State Senator D. W. Holstlaw, of Iuka, Illinois, one of the fifty-three Democrats who helped to elect William Lorimer United States senator, took the witness stand yesterday before the Lorimer investigating committee, and testified that after he had voted for Lorimer he received $2,500, and that he 'supposed the money was paid because of his vote.'

Senator Holstlaw, who until recently was a banker in his home town, and had some prominence in the Baptist denomination, was the second witness to be heard by the committee and the second legislator to tell the committee that money was paid of a vote for the junior senator from Illinois. Senator Holstlaw told his story to the Sangamon County Grand Jury at Springfield some time ago, but never testified in a public hearing.

'The night before the election of Senator Lorimer,' said Senator Holstlaw, 'I met State Senator John Broderick outside the Saint Nicholas Hotel in Springfield, and he said to me: "They are going to elect Lorimer to-morrow." I replied: "Yes, I think so, and I am going to vote for him." He replied: "Well, there is $2,500 in it for you." That was all there was said. I intended to vote for Lorimer anyway, and had made up my mind three or four days before that, and I did not know there was a thing in it for me.'

'Were you offered anything?' was asked, and the witness replied:

'He did not offer me anything, and simply said, "There was $2,500 in it for me".'

'Did you get the $2,500?'

'Yes; I went to Chicago about June 16, 1909, to Senator Broderick's office, and he gave me $2,500, which he counted out of an envelope. He only said, "Here is the money." I said nothing to him beyond greeting him when I met him.'

McGILL RIFLE CLUB.

Starting With Good Prospect of a Successful Season.

The McGill Rifle Club are once more becoming active and are making plans for an elaborate season. No time is being lost in getting down to work, the first shoot being scheduled for Saturday next. As last year all the practices will be at the government ranges at Pointe aux Trembles. Weekly matches will be held, and one large championship shoot. A government subsidy has been granted the club, and thus a large number of money prizes are available. There is also a silver trophy for the individual college champion. The Birkett Trophy is for inter-year competition, and there are four small miniatures for the various members of the winning team. As last year there will be an Intercollegiate Rifle meet. Each university shoots on their own ranges under the supervision of a D. R. A. representative. The team making the highest scores gets a silver trophy and the individual members get medals. The ranges will be King's, and D. R. A. rules will govern. Toronto was the lucky college last year. McGill, however, have a large number of the old men, and should make a creditable showing.

TRAPPERS DROWNED.

Only One Occupant of Boat Escaped When it Upset.

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 29.—W. M. Coleman, of Renfrew, and Albert Dixon, of Saskatoon, are reported drowned in Gull Lake, 150 miles north of Sioux Lookout, on the G.T.P., on Saturday. The sole survivor of the drowning was Nick Ellwood, who clung eight hours to an upturned canoe and then walked sixty miles without food to report the fatality to Sioux Lookout.

The three men were going to Cat Lake trapping for the winter. Ellwood decided to turn back and go home east, as he thought the experience would be too arduous in the cold weather. When the party was on Gull Lake, adjoining Cat Lake, en route to the Hudson Bay post to get a substitute for Ellwood to join the party the boat capsized, and after a long struggle to cling to the boat, Coleman and Dixon let go and sank, never rising again. Ellwood managed to cling to the boat till it drifted ashore, eight hours later. Then he walked sixty miles back to Sioux Lookout in three days and reported the case to Dominion Constable Hubert and Provincial Constable White.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Protest Against Taxation of Corporations Doing Business Outside Province.

At the meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade Council yesterday, a further protest was registered against the action of the provincial government in imposing taxes on corporations doing business outside the limits of their own province. It was in April that this was first taken up, but although the board has worked in co-operation with other boards throughout the Dominion nothing further has been done. The matter was referred to the provincial legislation committee.

THERE ARE THUGS ABOUT.

Highway robbers were at work on Youville street, corner of St. Peter, at 2.15 o'clock this morning. A man on the way to the Allan line 'Virginian,' which sailed at daybreak, was attacked by thre thugs, who stole two rings from him, but overlooked the wallet containing his cash, which was in an inside vest pocket. His mouth was cut by a blow from the fist of one of the men. The robbers were frightened away by a watchman on the wharf. The man who was assaulted said he had not time to wait to take action against the highwaymen, even if they were caught.

HOTEL ON FIRE.

Lumkin's Hotel, scene of many festive celebrations, was nearly destroyed by fire yesterday. Some one left a lighted pipe in a coat pocket. The men from the Cote des Neiges station were called, and they succeeded in saving the place.

CATHOLIC SAILORS' CLUB.

Last night a fine concert was given to the sailors and the friends of St. Patrick's Society, under whose auspices the evening's entertainment was held. Mr. H. J. Kavanagh, K.C., the president of the society, took the chair, while the programme was under the direction of Dr. Walter Kennedy and Prof. P. J. Shea. The chancel boys choir of St. Patrick's Church sang several numbers. Miss Ella Kenehan and Miss M. Clerk were well appreciated for their songs, as also was Mr. Alex. Hamilton for the 'Bandoliers,' and Mr. James McMullen for his coon songs. 'The moon hath raised its lamp on high' was sung by Messrs. Fisher and Griffin, and was loudly encored. The talent from the ships was of the best. Mr. J. White, of the 'Laurentic,' sang, and Mr. J. T. Owens, of the same ship, recited. Frank Hardcastle danced himself as usual into favor, and Master [illegible] SS. 'Virginian,' and Edward [illegible] SS. 'Royal George,' provided much merriment. Next week's concert will be given by St. Mary's Court of Foresters.

THE DOCTOR,' (by Sir Luke Fildes).

One of the great modern masterpieces that has captured all hearts. It has often been called 'the most human picture ever painted.' It tells its own story of childish helplessness, parental grief and professional solicitude. This picture was purchased by public subscription and is now in the Tate Gallery, London, the property of the British people.

To get this picture, worth in any art store $2.50, cut picture coupons from the 'Daily Witness.'

III.—'THE LAST CHANGE,' (by Heywood Hardy).

A realistic picture of the good old coaching days in England, when travel was more picturesque, if more leisurely than it is now. There is something about a coaching trip that makes the blood stir and secures the sport as a pastime when no longer practical as a serious mode of travel. Mr. Hardy has, with a master hand, caught the spirit of action and adventure as well as the charm of rural life of bygone days, and has given it all to us as a permanent possession.

To get this picture, worth in any art store $2.50, cut picture coupons from the 'Daily Witness'

Either of the splendid pictures roughly illustrated on this page may be obtained at the 'Witness' Office for coupons cut from the 'Witness' on six consecutive days, and the nominal sum of Ten Cents to cover cost of handling. If sent by mail add five cents for each picture to cover postage and tubing.

TO TAX POWER FROM CANADA

United States Interests in 'Water Power Trust' Are Active.

LEGISLATION TO BE SOUGHT.

Claimed That Canadian Power Cannot be Imported Beyond Niagara District.

Detriot, Sept. 29.—A Washington special says:—The General Electric Company and the other elements of the so-called Water Power Trust, which has gained control of most of the water power of Michigan, is seeking the aid of the Administration to prevent the invasion of Detroit and Michigan by water power transmitted from Niagara by the Canadians.

The War Department has been called upon for an opinion as to the meaning of the legislation regarding Niagara, under which Buffalo is permitted to import and use power generated from the Canadian side of Niagara Falls. The contention is that the law was meant to allow the importation of Canadian power only in the immediate neighborhood of Niagara, and that Detroit and other far away places were not intended to have the benefit of the law.

But it is so unlikely that the War Department authorities will take this view of the legislation that it is now said a bill has been prepared for introduction at the short session of Congress this coming winter to place a prohibitive duty on electric power. This bill, it is alleged, will have the support of all of the friends of the General Electric in Congress, who will try to force its passage on the ground that it is meant only to give protection to an established American industry.

A duty on power would, of course, put a stop to the importation of Canadian electricity either at Detroit or at any point where a similar invasion may be planned.

CORNWALL ALWAYS READY.

Will Compete for Gold Championship Lacrosse Trophy.

Cornwall, Sept. 29.—Cornwall will compete for the gold championship lacrosse trophy. It is not therefore surprising that a Cornwall team should be a contender for the handsome gold cup which Mr. D. D. Mann has put up as a championship trophy of the amateur clubs of Canada. The local challengers are the Internationals of Cornwall, the only club of the Interprovincial Intermediate League that has not tasted defeat this year. The Internationals sent in their challenge early in the week, and on Wednesday afternoon were notified that they were selected to face the redoubtable Vancouver team in Toronto on Saturday, Oct. 1. The locals have a strong line-up, although they will have to play without Sommerville and Donihee, who have graduated into the senior professional team, and are therefore ineligible. There are ten clubs in the Interprovincial Intermediate League, of which the Internationals are the leaders, and four of these clubs belong to the town of Cornwall. The citizens are responding liberally to the appeal for cash to finance the trip to Toronto.

LARGE LICENSE REVENUE.

Increasing Tax Has Not Decreased the Number of Pedlers.

Present indications are that the city's revenue from licenses will this year run well over the $300,000 mark, which is about $40,000 more than ever before. Up to date $281,219.50 have been received from this source, which is $44,870.50 more than was paid in last year in the same time. It is in fact more than accrued from license fees all last year, the total sum then received being $261,789.

The increase, it seems, is not brought about by the $500 tax recently imposed upon moving picture theatres, for few proprietors have paid this. But the change of the pedlers' license from $50 to $100 has brought a big increase. Last year there were over 260 pedlers in the city. It was thought doubling the tax would decrease the number of pedlers. But this has not been found the case. Already more pedlers have taken out licenses than last year.

PHILLIPS SQUARE.

SEND THEM TO JAIL.

Not long ago the Washington health authorities seized in the city of New York a consignment, consisting of millions of ice-cream cones, manufactured in the city but in transit to Texas and other states of the South. They seized them because the cones, which are sold as edible, were manufactured partly out of sawdust and partly out of paper scraps. What was done with this particular consignment of cones we do not know but in a similar case the government returned the wares to the manufacturers with a warning not to sell them in this country. The reward the manufacturers should have received must occur to everybody. Send them to jail.

About a month ago the federal authorities found that pies were being manufactured in great quantities in Pennsylvania out of glucose and masticated fibre, colored with a fruit extract. They got after the manufacturers after large shipments had gone into the New England States for the summer trade. The making of these pies was prohibited, but why not send the men who made them to jail?

Jellies and preserves are adulterated with glucose; foreign cream cheeses are made of American skimmed milk; flavoring extracts are tinted with coal tar dyes; candy is sold to children made brilliant and tempting by an admixture of meltallic silver; nut shells and fruit pits are put into the pepper grinder to increase bulk and weight; tomato cans supposed to weigh two pounds, weigh a pound and a half. Are we to go on being cheated forever in this manner, to go on buying poison for food, or to put a stop to it? If we like it, of course, we can have it. If we do not, there is one and only one real remedy—send the criminals who do such things to jail.

A very large milk company in New York, it is said, regularly passes all its milk through a separator, and then adds to it just enough cream to bring it up to the state standard, not in any altruistic endeavor to save the baby or its mother from getting milk too rich, or to earn enough to make its employees all specially comfortable, but just to pile up the money. And after crowding out competition, or buying it out, this company charges nine cents a quart for what is practically skimmilk. Should not the law protect the public against such imposition and punish the perpetrators of it?

And what does the farmer think of the conduct of the company that perhaps pays him ten cents a quart for cream and then sends around notices to its customers that cream will in future be fourteen cents the half pint; fifty-six cents a quart for cream, showing a profit of over four hundred percent, to the company that has succeeded in cornering the market; is that legitimate trading, or is it highway robbery?

Then how about the ice companies that Mr. Driscoll, the commissioner of weights and measures, has caught selling ice to the poor and those of moderate means in the city from a steel yard attached to the back of their waggon, registering from five to ten percent short, while in another part of their waggon they carry a separate and correct steel yard from which they sell to the saloons, which reweigh their ice after purchase? What is done to these people who are so robbing the poor to pile up millions for themselves? Why, their steel yards are confiscated—which amounts to a fine of about one day's proceeds of the fraud. Why should not men who rob the poor by giving short weight be sent to jail?

Then we have been having investigation after investigation, revealing no end of political bribery and corruption, such as the Forest Reserve investigation in New York, the Allds investigation, the Federal investigation into the disposal of Indian lands, the investigation by a jury in Illinois of the sale of votes for United States senatorship.

In all of these direct corruption has been shown to the satisfaction of the public generally, yet nobody goes to jail who has enough money to keep out of it, with the splendid exception of the Pittsburg bankers and aldermen.

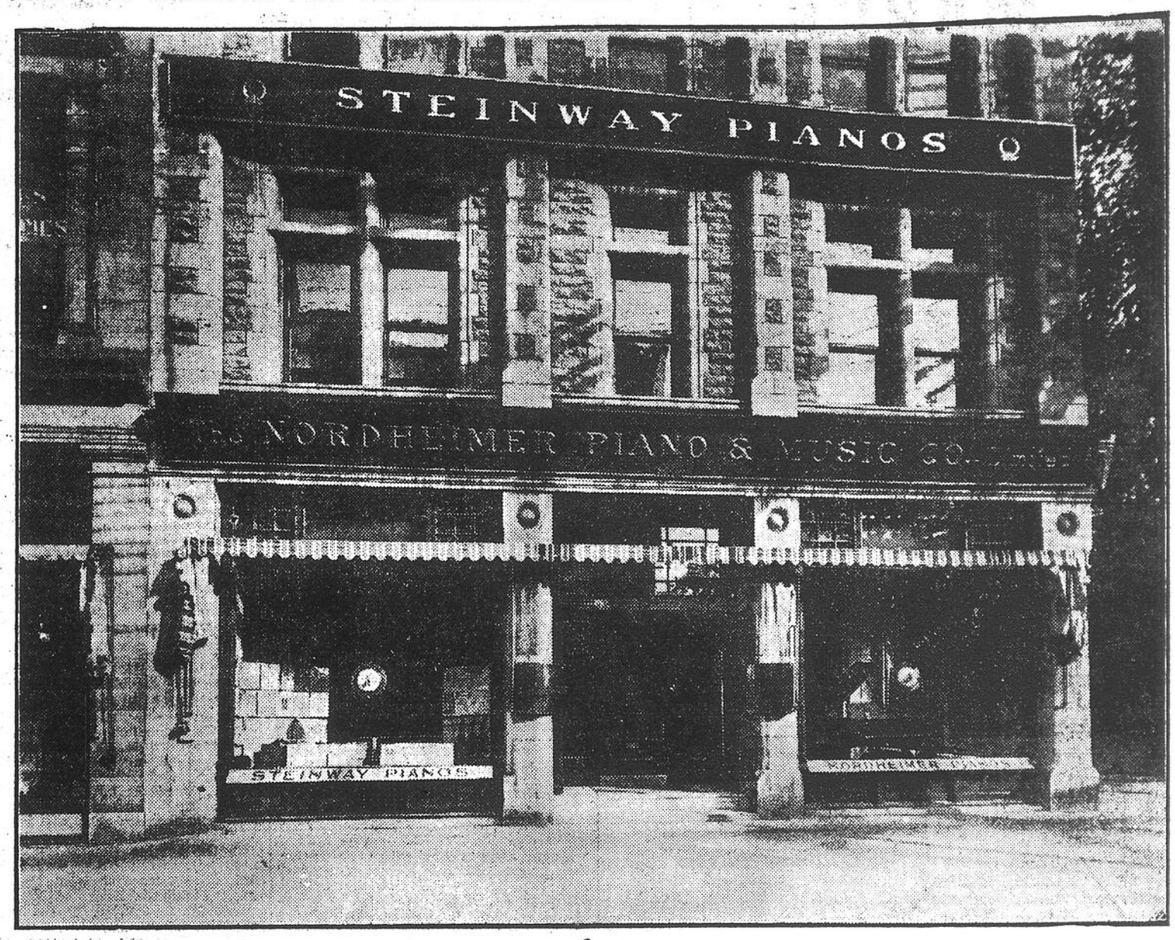

The people will not always stand being cheated in all directions, especially in matters pertaining to their food. Better send a few 'malefactors of great wealth' to jail than have an upheaval.

There should be laws that would consign persons who do such things to jail. Is it not a very much greater crime for rich men to rob the poor than for a poor man to rob the rich; and is not extortion a form of robbery? And is robbery any less wicked if the robber is able to keep within the letter of the law, or to escape conviction? The poor man is sent to jail for robbery; why not send the rich robbers to jail?—New York 'Witness.'

ADVICE TO STUDENTS

'Dont be Slipshod in Your Speech', Adjures the Rev. Henry Haigh

WESLEYAN COLLEGE OPENS.

Most Important Characteristics of a Good Minister—Honesty, Alertness, Sympathy.

And oh, young men, don't be slipshod about your speech. I'm not here to criticise Canada much, but one thing that I am inclined to complain of is the tendency to treat the Great English language with a little disrespect. You are coining new words, but the new words are not always musical, and not always expressive.'

The Rev. Henry Haigh, Fraternal Delegate from the British Wesleyan Conference to the General Canadian Conference in Victoria gave this advice to the divinity students assembled yesterday at the formal opening of the Wesleyan Theological college, held in the James Ferrier hall. Besides the students, there were many outside members of the public present. The Rev. Mr. Haigh's address was informal and unprepared, but had nevertheless an eloquent flow, and was rich in thought and good sound advice to the students at the beginning of a career in the ministry.

The Rev. Dr. Young, Principal of the college, explained in his opening remarks that there were eleven Methodist colleges in the Dominion. Of them all the one in Montreal was a little closer the Wesleyan traditions than any other, although no denominational divisions were recognized. Victoria University in Toronto was born out of American Methodism, and the Methodist-Episcopal movement. The college in Montreal had from the very first looked eastward to the British Wesleyan body for its support. It was no shame to have looked to the east, for the world owed everything good under heaven to the east. This was the opening of the 37th, session of the Montreal Wesleyan College, the speaker said, and during those years he looked into the faces of 488 students. They had gone out everywhere in the world, and now new men were starting with more inspiring influences than ever before.'

'So long as a man can receive new ideas, he is not exactly old,' said the Rev. Mr. Haigh. 'During the last two months they have been pouring in on me. I have been dreaming new dreams, seeing new visions, and now I am feeling younger than ever before. The west has done that, but the west cannot do without the east. The Orient is the birthplace of religion, and the home of the greatest philosophy.'

In the course of some advice to the students he said: 'The divinity student must be a student of humanity. The most human people in the world should be students of Divinity, and if the humanity is not as strong within them as the divinity, they will soon be undesirable if not impossible as ministers in the cause of Christ.

Obedience to the discipline of the college, he said, was one of the most important requirements. It was at the bottom a test of character. There were always those students who realized that the discipline was framed for all but geniuses, and that they being geniuses were allowed eccentricity. But these same geniuses were the men who were first crushed in the battle of life.

The three most important characteristics of a good minister were honesty, alertness and sympathy. Unless the heart was full of the message to be delivered, the message would be a tyranny and a degradation. 'A minister who is honest,' said the speaker, 'makes Christ's interests supreme, and learns as time goes by to care very little for reputation. I know how fascinating is the hunt through the great jungle of language for lurking felicities of speech, that sometimes win commendation. I know the temptation, but such comment is not the sort an honest minister of Christ can desire or ought to allow himself to seek.

'Of all the men in the world, the preacher has got to have his eyes wide open. The most hopeless man among preachers is he who has the fatal gift of fluency and uses it in the pulpit. Write your sermons, and be your own severest critic, until you get a wife who is a severer one. Don't rest on your manuscripts.'

To be sympathetic is one of the most gracious and helpful qualities in any minister. A fragrant sympathy will carry any man as far as it is possible to go in the ministry.

CENTENARY APPROVED

Royal Society Endorses International Peace Celebration —Officers Elected

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—At the Royal Society meeting yesterday the report of the Ontario Historical Society was presented during the meeting. The society, whose headquarters is in Toronto, reported that it had devoted much attention to the recovery and restoration of visible evidence of the history of early days in Ontario, including Queenston Heights, Fort George, Fort York and other places. The celebration proposed for 1915 to mark a hundred years of peace was also referred to, and commended. The Rev. Dr. Bryce also made some remarks in this latter connection. Other reports presented were those of the Huron Institute, Elgin Historical Society, British Columbia Academy of Science, Geographic Society, Ottawa Field Naturalists Association, Natural History Society of Montreal, Women's Historical Society of Ottawa, Nova Scotia Institute of Science, Nova Scotia Historical Society, Nova Scotia Botanical Society, Entomological Society of Ontario, Numismatical Society of Montreal, Manitoba Historical Society.

The officers of the Royal Society for next year were elected as follows:—President, Prof. Ramsay Wright of Toronto University; Vice-President, Dr. W. F. King, Ottawa; Secretary, Dr. W. D. Lesuer, Ottawa; Treasurer, Mr. L. M. Lamb, Ottawa.

N. T. R. VALUATING FEES.

Government in Court Declares it is Not Liable.

Ottawa, Sept., 29. — Mr. Justice Cassels sat yesterday, to hear argument on points of law in the cases of Johnston vs. the King and Couse vs. the King. In these cases the suppliants, by their petitions of right, allege that they were employed by the commissioners of the National Transcontinental Railway to inspect and make a valuation of the lands which the National Transcontinental Railway would cross in the city of St. Boniface. They further allege that they entered upon the employment in question and reported the result of their inspection and valuation to the commissioners, but that their services have not been paid for by the commissioners, who refuse to pay amounts claimed by them.

In the Johnston case the amount claimed is $10,880, and in the Couse case the sum claimed is $11,800.

The Crown, by its defence, denies liability and alleges that whatever claim the suppliants may have would be against the commissioners. C. J. R. Bethune, for the Crown, moved to have the actions dismissed on the points of law raised by the defences. Travers Lewis, K. C., contra. Judgment reserved.

TO EMPLOY 15,000 WORKMEN.

Sir Robert Perks Discusses Georgian Bay Canal Project.

Ottawa, Spet. 29.—Sir Robert Perks, who has been spending six weeks in Canada in connection with the new drydock at Quebec, and the Georgia Bay Canal, left Ottawa yesterday for New York, and sails on October 1 for England. The canal from the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence, will, he said when started give employment for eight or ten year's directly or indirectly, to 15,000 skilled and unskilled workmen. The ultimate effect of this waterway, opening up as it would the Great Inland seas of Canada for the first time to the ocean going ships of the world, could hardly be exaggerated.

C. P. R. APPOINTMENT.

It was announced yesterday at the C. P. R. head office, that Mr. C. Murphy, had been appointed General Superintendent of Transportation for Eastern Lines with office in Montreal. The circular became effective yesterday, the day it was issued.

Mr. Murphy's new appointment is the revival of an office that dates back to the times of Mr. Thomas Tait and Mr. C. W. Spencer, and which was subsequently merged in the general managership which has been held by Mr. Leonard. It is understood that Mr. Lenoard's frequent and prolonged illness has necessitated his being relieved of the transportation services which will in future be under Mr. Murphy's direction.

CRITICISES TARIFF.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 29.—That portion of the Republican platform as adopted by the resolution committee which was made public to-day praises Senator La Follette and the Wisconsin progressives and declares that the Payne-Aldrich tariff law does not fulfil the party's pledges.

The present tariff board, the platform declares, is not adequate and the railway law should be amended to allow a physical valuation of all roads.

TAINT OF FREEMASONRY

Association With Dr. Laberge Enough to Antagonize St. Henry School

RESOLUTION TO MAYOR.

Board Has No Objection to Dr. Cousineau, But Objects to His Freemason Overseer

Mayor Guerin has taken no action with regard to the letter of protest sent to him by the Catholic School Board of St. Henri, refusing to allow Dr. Cousineau, of the health department, to inspect their scholars because the head of the department, Dr. Laberge, is a Freemason..

Acording to the copy of resolution sent by the board to Mayor Guerin, it was resolved upon the date mentioned:

'That the Catholic School Commissioners of St. Henri refuse in future to allow Dr. J. A. Cousineau to make a medical inspection of schools of which it has control for the following reasons:

'Beacause Dr. Cousineau, appointed to do the medical inspection for St. Henri Ward, is under the control of the Montreal Board of Health, of which Dr. Louis Laberge, the head, is an avowed Freemason of the French rite, according to the Grand Orient of France;

'Because one of the admitted objects of French Freemasonry is to instruct individuals according to the light of science and of reason only, without regard to Christian revelation and the teachings of the Catholic faith;

'Because it is repugnant to the consciences of each member of the commission to have the medical inspection of schools entrusted to their care carried out under the jurisdiction and dependence of a man openly professing such a doctrine.'

'The members of this commission desire, however, to express their confidence in Dr. Cousineau, whom they recognize as a perfectly competent man, a good Christian and a good citizen, against whom they have no reproach to make.'

The resolution is signed by Cure Decarie, president of the commission.

PRISONER DIED OF POISON.

Ottawan Had Been Taken Into Custody at Bay City, Mich.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 29. — Alex. Crowe, of Ottawa, died last night from the effects of a quantity of paris green taken on Saturday.

The police received information from a woman in Saginaw, with whom Crowe was infatuated, but had had trouble with, to the effect that Roberts, the man who had escaped from the London, Ont., jail, was arrested for another robbery at Bad Axe and had made this escape, was living there under the name of Crowe. Crowe was promptly arrested and lodged in jail, where he remained for forty-eight hours.

His mother and sister arrived here just before he died, but he was unable to recognize them.

TOO YOUNG BY HALF HOUR.

Consequently Student Cannot Enter Normal School.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—A Cornwall girl wants to attend the Ottawa Normal school this fall, but finds that she is under age by just half an hour. The Ontario Education Department has been asked to overlook the half hour and permit the young woman to attend the Normal, despite the fact that she is thirty minutes too young. The Education Department has the application under advisement, but the youth of the young lady is not nearly so insurmountable an obstacle as the fact that the Ottawa school has its full complement of students.

PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER CARS.

Will Be Placed in Operation in Quebec Shortly.

Quebec, Sept. 29.—The new pay-as-you-enter cars of the Quebec Railway, Light & Power Company will be placed in operation on the Postoffice and Maple avenue route, known as the belt line, on Saturday next. This type of car has now been adopted in many of the leading cities on the continent, and there is no reason to doubt that they will prove as popular in Quebec.

OTTAWA WELCOMES LUKEMAN

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Ottawa has welcomed Frank Lukeman with open arms and already there is talk of a public subscription to send him to the New Orleans meet in the O. A. A. C. colors.

He has emphatically denied the story that he had issued a challenge to Bobby Kerr. 'Kerr beat me fairly and squarely,' he said, 'and I have no intention of challenging him to another race this season. I may be able to beat him in two years, but at present he is about the finest runner on the continent.'

FIREMAN ACQUITTED.

The seven firemen and three stewards of the 'Royal George,' who were arrested on Monday for stealing gin on the boat, were allowed to go by Judge Leet yesterday, and the policemen who made the arrests were reprimanded by the Court for not procuring warrants before making the arrests. At the same time the Court decided that there was not enough evidence of a theft having been committed to convict the accused.

The afternoon results were amongst other things a triumph for the Hon. J. R. Stratton, of Peterborough, and for George Pepper, of Toronto, the proprietor of the Peterborough 'Examiner' winning the event for hackney mares in harness, and also that for pairs in harness, while Geo. Pepper took firsts in the ladies' saddle horses and the qualified hunters. Mr. Stratton was not astonished at his success. He quitee anticipated it, so he told the 'Witness' man as he sat in one of the boxes talking to Senator Beith, of Bowmanville, the latter a noted breeder and exhibitor of hackneys for close on thirty years. Mr. Stratton left for Peterborough last night, regretting that he was unable to stay to see how his further entries fared. It might be a close thing between Mr. Stratton and Mr. Hugh Sutherland as to who owns the best horses in Canada.

In the combination saddle and harness entry first place was taken by Mr. Chas. Meredith with Lutie Magnus. Penniston Bros., of Verdun, secured the first prize for the best pair of light draught horses; in the heavy draught horses to lorries competition the Dominion Transport Company occupid premier place; and J. I. Lussier, of St. Henry, was successful with his three-year-old, suitable to become a harness horse.

The boxholders were present in the afternoon in considerable numbers, the programme being especially attractive to ladies, chiefly from the judging of the event for eleven ladies' saddle horses. Owing to the considerable equality of merit shown the judges had a lot to do, and the end of the afternoon programme was not reached until half an hour after schedule time. The various decisions were constantly applauded, which was testimony to the correctness of the judging in the eyes of the spectators.

The hackney mares in harness event brought out a spirited half-dozen in very smart vehicles to compete for the silver medal given by the Canadian Hackney Horse Society. George Pepper drove the winner for the Hon. Mr. Stratton, and himself took second with his own mare. Mr. H. V. Meredith was placed third with Tissington Glitter, and Mr. Stratton fourth with Lady of Navarre.

Best pair light draught horses, any breed. Weight of team not to exceed 2,800 lbs. Certificate of weight from public weigher to accompany entry shown in harness to dray, express, or farm waggon. Horses to be owned and in use by exhibitors at time of entry.

Only one pair put in an appearance Prince, b.g., 15.3, 6 years, and Jack ch. S., 15.3 1-2, 5 years, exhibited by Penniston Brothers, Verdun, and they took the first prize.

Combination saddle and harness horses, 15.2 and under, to be shown to an appropriate vehicle, and judged as a horse best suited for harness purposes. The horses to be unharnessed in ring and shown and judged under saddle. The horses best suited for both these purposes to be awarded the prizes.

All those entered turned into the ring, epic and span as new pins, bot in harness and under saddle. Result:

First prize—Lutie Magnus, b.m., 15.2, 6 years. Exhibited by Mr. Charles Meredith, Montreal.

Second prize—Sultane, ch.m., 15.2 aged. Exhibited by King Edward Park stables, Boucherville.

Third prize—Cluna, ch.m., 14.3, aged Exhibited by Miss Heneker, St. Anne de Bellevue.

For the best heavy draught mare or gelding, any breed, weighing 1,600 lbs. or over. To be shown to a single lorrie. Certificate of weight from public weigher to accompany entry. Horses to be owned and in use by exhibitors at time of entry.

This was an extremely interesting feature, with splendid animals, and all new lorries. A minute and long-continued inspection was necessary. Result:

IN THE EVENING.

The attendance last night at the Horse Show was considerably increased in the parts open to general admission. Thirty-two of the events on the programme have now been pulled off, which is only one-third of those set down to be decided, the full number on the list totalling exactly 100.

Everything in the equine line that could possibly advantageously add to the horse breeding is considered, and the interest increases with each day, or rather with each of the three daily programmes. The entries last night were big, the class first-rate, and the whole scene a very animated one. From ten o'clock upward, both sides of Wood avenue were lined with automobiles, carriages, and cabs awaiting their owners.

Five firsts went to Montreal exhibitors, two to Toronto, one to Peterborough.

The Military Cup, open to officers of 5th and 6th military districts in drill order, was won by Lieut. C. E. Shirley, of Montreal, Lieut. J. Reid Hyde, Montreal, being second.

Evans, with Rob Roy, ridden by Mr. Lucas, being second; Miss Eadie, Montreal, third with Wistful, ridden by J. C. Wray; and W. T. Rodden for Westmount, highly commended with Billy, ridden by Mr. Guy Knight.

The King Edward Park stables, after long deliberation on the part of the judges, secured the event open to pairs not under 15.2, shown to a victoria, Mortimer B. Davis being second; and A. Hamilton Gault third.

The bakers' delivery contest showed A. and L. Strachan the winners of all three first prizes.

For best cabman's turnout ,Alex. McGarr won first and third with J. J. McManus second.

Alex. McGarr had five out of the six entries in his name, and the audience—being on the side of the weaker—cheered considerably when J. J. Mcmanus was put second.

Hunter's event for those not entered in classes 67 to 72, was secured by George Pepper, Toronto, who also took second and third prizes and the highly commended, thus sweeping the board.

For saddle horses over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2, Crow and Murray, Toronto, won first; Mrs. Charles Meredith, Montreal, being second with Lutie Magnus, a winner during the afternoon; and H. A. Lovett, K.C., Montreal, third, with Faucette Lassie, owned by E. A. Robert, Montreal, was highly commended.

MORALITY IN CANADA

Rev. Canon Welch, Vicar of Wakefield Praises Conditions Here

London, Sept. 29.—At the Church Congress, Cambridge, Canon E. A. Welch, vicar of Wakefield, and formerly of St. James Cathedral, Toronto, in the course of a discussion on Christian unity, and speaking from the Canadian viewpoint, testified to the co-operation for moral and social reform among the religious denominations of Canada, as a consequence of which the general morality at least in some respects, was better than in England. He referred to the unbusinesslike which sometimes characterized the relations between the Church and non-conformity here. It rarely happened in the case of a Canadian Methodist or Baptist that a substantial increase in the bank balance gave birth to convictions of the truly apostolic character of the Anglican Church. Intemperance in Canada was almost a negligible factor; there was no divorce court there, and the Lord's Day was observed far better than in England.

DE LESSEPS WILL COMPETE.

Many Aeroplanists Booked for the New York Aviation Meet.

New York, Sept. 28.—When the International Aviation meet is held at Belmont Park, from October 22nd to 30th, the world's champion aviators will compete for honors. Amongst those who have already signified their intention of being present are Count de Lesseps, Emile Aubrun, Leon Morane, M. Simon, Hubert Latham, M. Thomas and Alfred le Blanc. The greatest interest will be in the speed contest, for which Le Blanc is having a new Bleriot machine made with a 100 horse power motor.

ATHLETE'S SUICIDE.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 28.—Despondent because his wife refused to give her suit for divorce and return to him, James ('Doc') Payne, former trainer of the Cleveland Baseball Club, and a well-known wrestler, pugilist and athlete, went to her home to-day, and in the presence of Mrs. Payne and her mother, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple.
