Graduation Banquet

Rev. Taylor's message to the graduating class at last night's banquet was that life is an entrustment. His sermon was the culmination of the annual banquet provided for the graduates by the school board and which precedes the graduation ball in the beautifully decorated High School Auditorium.

Bill Hodgins, School Board Chairman, chaired the banquet and opened with a plug for the teaching profession as a good one for graduates to consider. Miss Strutt then introduced the class with kind words of praise for their industry to which Lennis Zimmerling replied. Dr. S. E. McDowell, made a few remarks on his great expectations for this year's class. Gail Lett described the class as seen through the eyes of Shakespeare. David Ranger delivered the valedictory, a chair was presented by the class to Miss Strutt in appreciation for her struggles with them. Aurthur Dagg introduced the main speaker, Dorothy Elliott thanked him. Beverly Graham proposed a toast to the parents to which Melvin Beattie replied.

Outstanding were Gail's readings of Shakespearean quotes, Dorothy's kind expression of thanks to Mr. Taylor, and Dave's fine valedictory address.

Rabies Found In Shawville

The presence of Rabies has been reported to The Equity this week by Dr. Roly Armitage, Veterinarian. The rabid animal, a cow, was found on the Seventh Line farm of Lyle Cameron. The Doc suggests that Shawville dog owners should watch their pets carefully and all farmers in the district to watch all their animals for any unusual nervous behaviour, and report to him if there is any suspicion of disease. Cameron's sick cow wandered off the farm for a few days towards the end of the disease so the last symptoms were not noticed.

Rotary Annual Ladies' Night Honours Dr. And Mrs. Fokes

The annual Rotary banquet and ladies' night resolved itself into a farewell dinner for Dr. and Mrs. Alex Fokes last Monday night at Pontiac House, Shawville.

Rev. Fokes and his wife were head table and received, from Harland Rowat and Mrs. Asa Smart respectively, a desk set and flowers. The retiring grand old man of the United Church in Shawville was introduced eulogized by Mr. Rowat with stories of the early days in Rotary, here, when he and Fokes along with Judge Roland and Millar were charter members of the new club.

Harland told of Dr. Fokes' courage in adversity and how "he wasn't always right but he had his convictions". Dr. Fokes spoke briefly as well of the values of Rotary and particularly its work for the very youngest citizens of the community at the skating rink, on Hallowe'en nights and now with their latest project, a wading pool for toddlers.

On the subject of the wading pool, Hosmer Turner reported that fund raising in the form of an auction was progressing nicely and that many of the finest articles had not yet gone to the block so a further installment of the Rotary Auction will be held in about two weeks' time. Rotarians Turner, Hodgins, Dowe and Pettapiece will be glad to receive items for auction.

Another project reported upon was the projected strawberry festival on July 4 on president Dr. Wally Hodgins' front lawn.

During the program Monday night Mrs. McDowell favored the gathering with two songs, Larry Moore dashed in from a St. John's Ambulance meeting to propose a toast to the Rotary ladies, and Mrs. Mederic Lavoie very charmingly replied.

With Dr. & Mrs. Fokes, Dr. & Mrs. W. Hodgins, Mr. and Mrs. Harland Rowat and Mrs. Asa Smart, at the head table, was Rev. E. R. Taylor who addressed the group on the political situation in France.

Mr. Taylor had apparently read a great deal of commentary on the subject since his first public pronouncements on the subject and came forth Monday night with what one reporter termed "a really inspired and very effective" lecture.

Taylor touched on the history of France, likening DeGaulle to Napoleon and the present era to the Napoleonic one. DeGaulle, he felt was thwarting democracy in its progress. Taylor also covered the Algerian situation contrasting the outlook of the professional and the political soldiers and pointing up, the present clash between the groups in French Africa and in continental France. He also brought out the fact that France has been continually at colonial war since the end of World War.

Being the last meeting to be presided over by president Wally, he will be remembered for his work this very successful year in the history of the Shawville Rotary Club.

Shawville Tigers Unbeaten 9 Games

By B. Yemen

Shawville Tigers stretched their unbeaten string to nine games by battling to a pair of ties last Sunday in Quyon. Both games were bitterly contested, with violent arguments erupting several times.

Earl Powell pitched both games for Shawville, as did Gil Fraser on the Quyon mound. An infield single by Keith McCleary, scored Powell in the second inning with Tigers' only run of the opening game. Flyers tied the score in the third to complete the final tally — Shawville 1, Quyon 1.

Shawville trailed 4-1 in the last inning of the nightcap, but fought back gamely to tie the score. Powell led off with a single, stole second, went to third on a wild throw, and scored on Smith's pinch-hit single. With the 4-2 and the tying run at bat, Yemen cracked a Fraser fastball over the center field fence for a homerun. Tigers hung on grimly to gain

HOLIDAY NOTICE

The Pontiac Printshop, where this newspaper is published, will be on holiday the first two weeks of August. This means that there will be no paper during those two weeks. In a small plant, the size of this Printshop, this is the only means by which any holidays can be taken as it requires every member working full time to produce the paper. In larger plants it is possible to stagger vacations but as yet this is not possible here.

WISH FOR GRADUATES

Miss Clara Strutt's wish for the High School graduates this year is that they may be given the wisdom which will enable them always to choose the best and which will lead them to strive, not merely to make a living by getting, but to make a successful life by giving of themselves and their talents to bless humanity.

What more eloquent editorial than this could be published to mark graduation day for all students of Pontiac?

Letters to The Editor

Memories of Yarm School

Editor, The Equity,
Shawville.

Dear Sir:

Two weeks ago a news item from Yarm having reference to the anniversary wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Amm, of Quyon, brought back pleasant memories.

Not often do pupils have the honor of receiving a former school mate back to school as a teacher, but this happened twice in my school days at Yarm with Miss Margaret Sheppard and Miss Harriet Smith, both of Yarm district. It was easy when they were our teachers in later and different years to say Miss Sheppard and Miss Smith. Miss Sheppard married Wm. Francis McDowell and Miss Smith married Mr. Amm.

As a small boy I did not like school and only when old enough to do a man's work on the farm did I want to go to school. Usually my homework was not done and this had to be finished at the morning recess, so that recess meant no outdoors for me.

One bright day there came a strange man with a horse and buggy came to the school and while he was tying his steed to the shelter, the teacher saw him. We could not see through the high windows, but suddenly Miss Smith said "Elwyn, I will let you go this time, but tomorrow you must have that homework finished or no recess. Then a minute before 10.30 she said "This is a very nice day and the sun is shining, a nice morning to enjoy recess for all of you".

Then in came this well dressed man, whom we suspected to be a new school inspector, now known as a superintendent. When the recess was completed and school call a minute late the stranger left, giving us the impression that under a new system the inspector was taking his information from the teacher, which was to us all to the good as we never did appreciate inspectors visits.

It was not long until the second visit told us what was transpiring. Miss Smith was usually a pleasant teacher and ruled the school with kindness, but after these visits she was more pleasant, which we appreciated very much. This did not continue long until we learned that our beloved teacher was soon to join the benedicts, and did not finish the school term.

Miss Smith must have been a kind teacher because there is nothing in the records to say that she ever used the strap, the taws or the stick on me, which cannot be said about some other teachers at Yarm.

Every time I read of Mr. and Mrs. Amm it brings pleasant memories of my Yarm school days. Sixty-nine years ago there were 60 pupils attending at Yarm and now there is no school there, the few being taken by bus to Shawville.

Hospital Appreciation

Campbell's Bay, Que.

June 18, 1958

Mr. and Mrs. David Dickson, Editors of The Equity, Shawville, Quebec.

I would be grateful if you would allow me to express through The Equity an appreciation of The Pontiac Community Hospital.

I have visited sick people there frequently as a pastor, and have been shown every courtesy. But I write primarily as a man whose family has used the services of the Hospital twice in the past year. The efficiency, the physical amenities, and the food have been every bit as good as other much larger hospitals that we have had dealings with. The personal contact, the kindness, consideration, and good nature of the staff excel anything we have seen elsewhere.

I do hope that the people of Pontiac realize that they have right here in their own county a most excellent hospital.

Yours sincerely,
Wm. Higham

Hard To Understand

Wyman, Que.

The Editor of The Equity:

I find Mr. Taylor's idea of charity hard to understand, I will still practice the one St. Paul teaches. That pure and sincere love of God which makes us do His will in all things. This definition would take away the inclination to scandalize your neighbor either as nations or individuals instead of taking away your back bone as Mr. Taylor claims.

I'm sure not many agree that De Gaulle is a dictator. Mr. McMillan spoke of him as a friend and great general. Also Charlotte Whitton spoke very highly of him and expressed sympathy for a nation whose country was used as a battle ground. I don't think myself to be wholly charitable but I think I would be as well entitled to throw the first stone as Mr. Taylor and I would not have to go to France to find a target.

Now that Mr. Diefenbaker has invited De Gaulle to visit Canada, what will Mr. Taylor do?

I suppose he will practice the charity for which he found a definition in the dictionary.

Michael Jacobson should be in Canada where the police men don't get kicked in the streets. They don't stay on the streets they are more co-operative at times.

Mr. Taylor seemed quite proud of his anger surging in his heart at the sight of the French refugees fleeing from Hitler's fury. What an example of Christian Charity!

Respectfully,
Mrs. Harry Burton

At last night's Hospital Board meeting the Board approved the purchase of a safety lamp for the operating room, scheduled a further meeting Monday night to decide on the construction of the new Nurses' Residence, agreed to advertise for a Business Administrator and wrote a letter of appreciation to Dr. Fokes for his many years of unselfish assistance to the Pontiac Community Hospital.

Three Time Winner

Lucille Hodgins has for the third time won the cup in Highland Dancing Competition at the famous Maxville Fair.

Rennick Horses Both Winners

The horses to watch at Connaught from now on are the horses from right around home. Roland Rennick's Danny and Investment have both come first on the last two Monday's.

Red Young's Gingerbread came second in a photo finish this week. Eric Vadneau's Riddle Direct won his second start in 2.13 setting himself a new record two weeks ago. Pontiac Dairy's Miss Patsy Lee is doing well at the track and Nick Nack is also flying the Dairy colors. Bill Horner's April Showers lost a decision two weeks ago to come second to Belmont Arabia driven by Dr. Findley. These local horses are paying their backers well.

criticize the conduct and position of the Bank of Canada in the economy of our country, he said that a bank without a Credit issue was seemingly in an impossible position and he urged more study of our complex banking system commencing with the Bank of Canada.

I have been advocating Mr. Editor. That the Bank of Canada should be empowered to issue a National Dividend monthly to the Canadian people so that the present method of Income taxation for pensions at 70 could be eliminated and its costly collection method be discontinued. Our Ideal should be security at 50 so that the younger generation could more easily find jobs and work. Our people are commencing to realize that machinery is the great emancipator, that 90% of serviceable goods are produced by the machine and all the people should be drawing dividends in this machine age. It is important that we know more about our banks and the Credit system they are allowed to exercise.

Yours sincerely

Galloping Tea

(With apologies to D.H. in the Renfrew Advance)

Have you ever gone out on a galloping tea?
As a way to raise money it's quick as can be

Muriel takes a notion it's such a nice day
She picks up some girl friends and whisks them away

She has paint on both arms but cares not a whit,
She goes as she is, doesn't fix up a bit.

She drives in for Flora who cannot say no,
The shoes that she wears have a hole in the toe.

They next call for Gertie who can't comb her hair
Her arm's in a sling, and she can't reach up there.

Next pickup is Ina who has to dress John,
Her stockings are runny, she's no lipstick on.

Next stop is for Elma, she hasn't been told,
She's wearing a sweater at least twelve years old.

Down the road now for Olive who comes in a hurry
She has on no makeup her hair's in a flurry.

There's room for one more, so they go and get Lil,
She's nursing a boil and she feels she could yell.

We're going to visit our friend Mrs. Horner,
Here's hoping a shock such as this doesn't harm her.

And so we arrive in our tatters and tears,
And walk in on Mrs. Horner who's caught unawares.

There's a great deal of giggling, and laughing and talking,
And some of the girls tell stories quite shocking.

We all sign our name on Gertie's white cast.
At ten cents a person it counts up quite fast.

We pay for our tea, a quarter a head,
Muffins meant for the freezer are eaten instead.

It's time to start home from our galloping tea,
The husbands at home wonder where we can be.

We've aided the treasury of our W.A.
And like Maggie Muggins we've had quite a day.

Up Bristol Way

The vales and hills up Bristol way

When Autumn ushers in
The Maples red the poplar's gold,

The Many colors, rich and bold
That deck our Laurent ridges old

Are mysteries to men.

They reach away to right and left

O'er plain and wooded hill
Ablaze with all their glories rich

With vestments of the sunset which

An artist might make straight-way etch

And help a gallery fill.

Old hills and dales up Bristol way

Old rocks and vales likewise

Are maudlin in their autumn dress

And seem to make of earth a dress.

Of color for her last caress.

With bluest summer skies,
Old hills and dales up Bristol way

They fill with charm the soul
And make sweet music in their way

As insects on a summer day.

Need none to tell them how to play

Their ditties hoar and old.

In spring time too when lilac's bloom

And buttercups in dress of gold
Inspires expression in a poets soul.

and success. We must not hesitate, for if we do we are lost. Let us advance with the vigor of youth, sweeping all before us, proclaiming proudly, "Make way you older people, make way for the youth of Canada." Always possess that desire of youth for advancement, whether it be educational, spiritual or professional. Let us not become stagnant, but keep ever moving, opening new frontiers which will contribute to the betterment of this life.

But a note of sadness mars this entrance into life, and that is the loss of friends. For the past years we have relied on each other, sought comfort or advice from each other, but now no more will we find that source of encouragement which we came to rely on so heavily. We will miss the comfort of our closely knit group, but we must be willing to sacrifice this in order to spread this feeling and foster other such groups from the principles we have learned by working together.

We must never forget, in our eagerness to open the world's oyster, that there is no such thing as a self-made man. Each of us is stuff of the earth, compounded of the parents who bore us, the instructors who advised us, and the friends who bear us. All our lives we must remember that we are not alone or as John Donne so truly says: No man is an island, entire of its self;

Every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main, If a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as if a promontory were; as well as if a manner of thy friends, or of thyself were. Every man's death diminishes me, for I am involved with mankind; and therefore never seek to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee.

Let us go forth grade eleven, take our place and make our mark.

In Memoriam

BURTON—In loving memory of Harry Burton who passed away June 21st, 1957. They say time heals all sorrow, And helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved How much I miss you yet, God gave us strength to take it, And courage to bear the blow. But what it meant to lose you None will ever know. Some may think you are forgotten, When at times they see me smile, But I'll do they know the heart-ache That is hidden all the while. —Lovingly remembered by his Wife. o

EMMERSON—In memory of a dear husband and daddy who passed away six years ago today. Oh, happy hours we once enjoyed, How sweet their memory still But death has left a loneliness The world can never fill. —Wife, Elva and Raymond x

DEAN—In memory of Russell A. Dean who died June 26th, 1956. In a little country graveyard, Where the gentle breezes blow, Lies the one we love so dearly, That we lost two years ago. Wife and family. o

HORNER—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Louise Horner, who passed away June 22nd, 1952. Surrounded by friends I am lonesome, In the midst of my joys I'm blue, With a smile on my face I've a heartache Longing dear mother for you. Always remembered and sadly missed—Daughter and son-in-law, Goldie and Robert Moore

Dedication To Late W. Edward Haughton

By Rev. E. N. McCall

The memory of an active Christian W. Edward Haughton, Q. C., will be perpetuated on Sunday, June 22nd in St. Thomas' Church, Bristol. Mr. Haughton lived in Ottawa until his death last November and attended St. Matthias Church on Parkdale Avenue where he was closely associated twenty years ago with the erection of the new church building. Nor were his church activities limited to that congregation only. He served in a wider sphere on several committees of the Synod of the Diocese of Ottawa.

For a number of years he spent his vacations at his cottage at Bristol, and, believing in an ever-present God, continued there the practice of being present in the Lord's House on the Lord's Day. Sunday mornings would find him, his family and his guests in St. Thomas' the little white Church.

The congregation has placed on the altar as a memorial to him a pair of candlesticks, symbolizing Jesus Christ as the Light of the World. The Dedication will take place at Evening-song at 3.00 p.m. and the sermon will be delivered by Mr. Haughton's close friend and Minister, the Rev. Canon C. H. Roach M.A., Rector of Matthias Church, Ottawa.

Starks Corners W.I.

Wednesday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the Starks Corners Womens Institute was held in the church hall with a good attendance. The roll call was Publicity. The secretary read a letter from the Quebec office regarding additional short courses available. It was decided to write for more information on Home decorating, Mrs. Iverson Harris, Home economics convenor read a paper entitled Alternatives used in baking. Mrs. Neil Wilson brought the mystery parcel which netted $1.30. Mrs. Hubert Elliott brought the money cake. A card signed by all present was sent to Mrs. Lennis Dean in Hawkesbury Hospital.

A sing-song with Mrs. S. Storey at the piano brought the meeting to a close. Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Bert Stark and Mrs. Earl Fulford.

Microwave Test Run For Press

The CBC took a test run last Wednesday on their new microwave network which will be put into use July 1. The nicest part of the test run was that they used this opportunity to demonstrate the wonders of this new electronic skyway to members of the press across Canada.

Ten cities took part in the visual part of this special program, including Ottawa. The Equity representative was invited to join the thirty or so reporters at the CBOT station in Ottawa. In each of the ten cities, from Halifax and St. John in the East through Montreal, Quebec City, Toronto, Winnipeg and so forth to Vancouver, were gathered other groups of reporters. At Toronto were Mr. Ouimet and Mr. Eady of CBC and T. C. Tel. respectively, to answer the reporters' questions about the new trans-Canada TV connecting system.

On the screen we could see in turn the group of reporters in each city and eventually we even saw ourselves on the screen. Fortunately, because newspaper reporters do not make up the most attractive group of performers, the show was on a closed circuit meaning that nobody was subjected to it except those reporters present at the various studios.

In the studio it was very hot and as the program took well over an hour and a half to complete it got hotter and hotter as the extremely bright lights shone straight in the eyes of the people present.

The technicians had it organized so the cameras jumped from sea to shining sea in less than the twinkling of an eye and at one point they overdid themselves by splitting the screen four ways and showing telephone operators at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Halifax and Toronto all at the same time.

They started off with a long commentary by Bruce Marsh on the early history of broadcasting in Canada; replayed some of the various important speeches which made early radio history by the late King George, Winston Churchill, Franklin D. Roosevelt which were received on the old horn-type receivers.

Mr. Eady explained how the electronic highway works with its 4000 miles of stepping stones—towers about 30 miles apart and spur lines to boot. As these explanations were taking place in Toronto and we watched them on four monitor sets in Ottawa, small rehearsals and "dry runs" were taking place in our own studio with those reporters who were going to ask questions being lined up with the interviewer.

The camera men rode their cameras back and forth like silent ponies straining at the starting gate. Occasionally one would creep stealthily forward to glare boldly into the face of the principals on the program only to lurch back into place a minute later.

Beside The Equity reporter sat Frank (CFRA) Ryan who, we were interested to hear, had himself trained so many of the reporters and technicians involved in this epochal event that his chest swelled with justifiable pride. Pride or no pride though, Mr. Ryan was sweating as was every other suit coated man in the room. (The one woman present was comparatively comfortable in a light cotton dress.)

Placing the towers, Eady was saying, was one of the biggest problems—cable cars had to be built, mountain tops had to be blown off, helicopters had to whirlybird about with men and supplies—no small stuff this cost them around fifty million bucks. The set up now can handle at the same time two TV programs and more telephone calls than there are people who can afford cross country calls.

Linking the country in one great TV family means that shows from every center can be transmitted to every other center, coast to blinking coast. To demonstrate the sort of wonders that can now be transmitted little bits of various famous Canadian programs were shown including important coverages of such out door events as the blast at Ripple Rock and great sports events, drama, music, important persons, comics and so forth. At the end of this impressive cavalcade the silly humorous Mr. Ouimet said "we can offer all that with the best we can get from other countries" and transcontinental laughter resounded across the network as Wayne and Shuster darted across the TV screen.

The main point of the session was probably to impress upon Canadian through their newspapers the importance and usefulness of this achievement. It also brought the country's press together in a giant rendezvous suggesting all sorts of future uses of the facility. The whole "do" cost T.C. Tel about $3000, CBC at lot more. The press was appreciative.

Questions brought forth the following information from the officials concerned:

CBC has nothing to do with applications from private stations for use of the microwave network.

The network won't necessarily bring a greater proportion of Canadian shows to Canadian TV sets.

CBC covers 80% of Canada; is working for better coverage all the time; will be a long time getting to 100% coverage; it all involves money.

The new microwave network should mean that English Canada becomes more aware of French Canada; one French speaking reporter aptly dubbed it "rapprochement".

There can be no improvement in live sports coverage on account of microwave—there's no tie-in there at all.

Long distance phone dialling via microwave is a purely local matter.

French TV will go to the West and East coasts whenever demand is sufficient to make it practical.

The network has no direct effect on quality of programs—a different department is involved.

Color TV is further away now than it was thought to be a year ago. Acceptance has been disappointing in the States and Canada is waiting for the States on this.

Possibilities for outdoor news-coverage are infinite; CBC expects to step up these activities for the nationwide audience.

Commonwealth coverage is possible now but not likely soon—it too is a matter of lots of money.

Portable T V recorders are in the early offing.

Greatest problem in the network was deciding whether it could be afforded or not.

Suggestions for CBC should be sent to CBC Information Services, Toronto; they welcome them and have a whole department just to handle them.

Future transcontinental press conferences are possible—just a matter of paying for them at a cost of about $10,000 a half hour.

Neither CBC nor Trans-Canada Telephone Company exceeded their budgets in building the network.

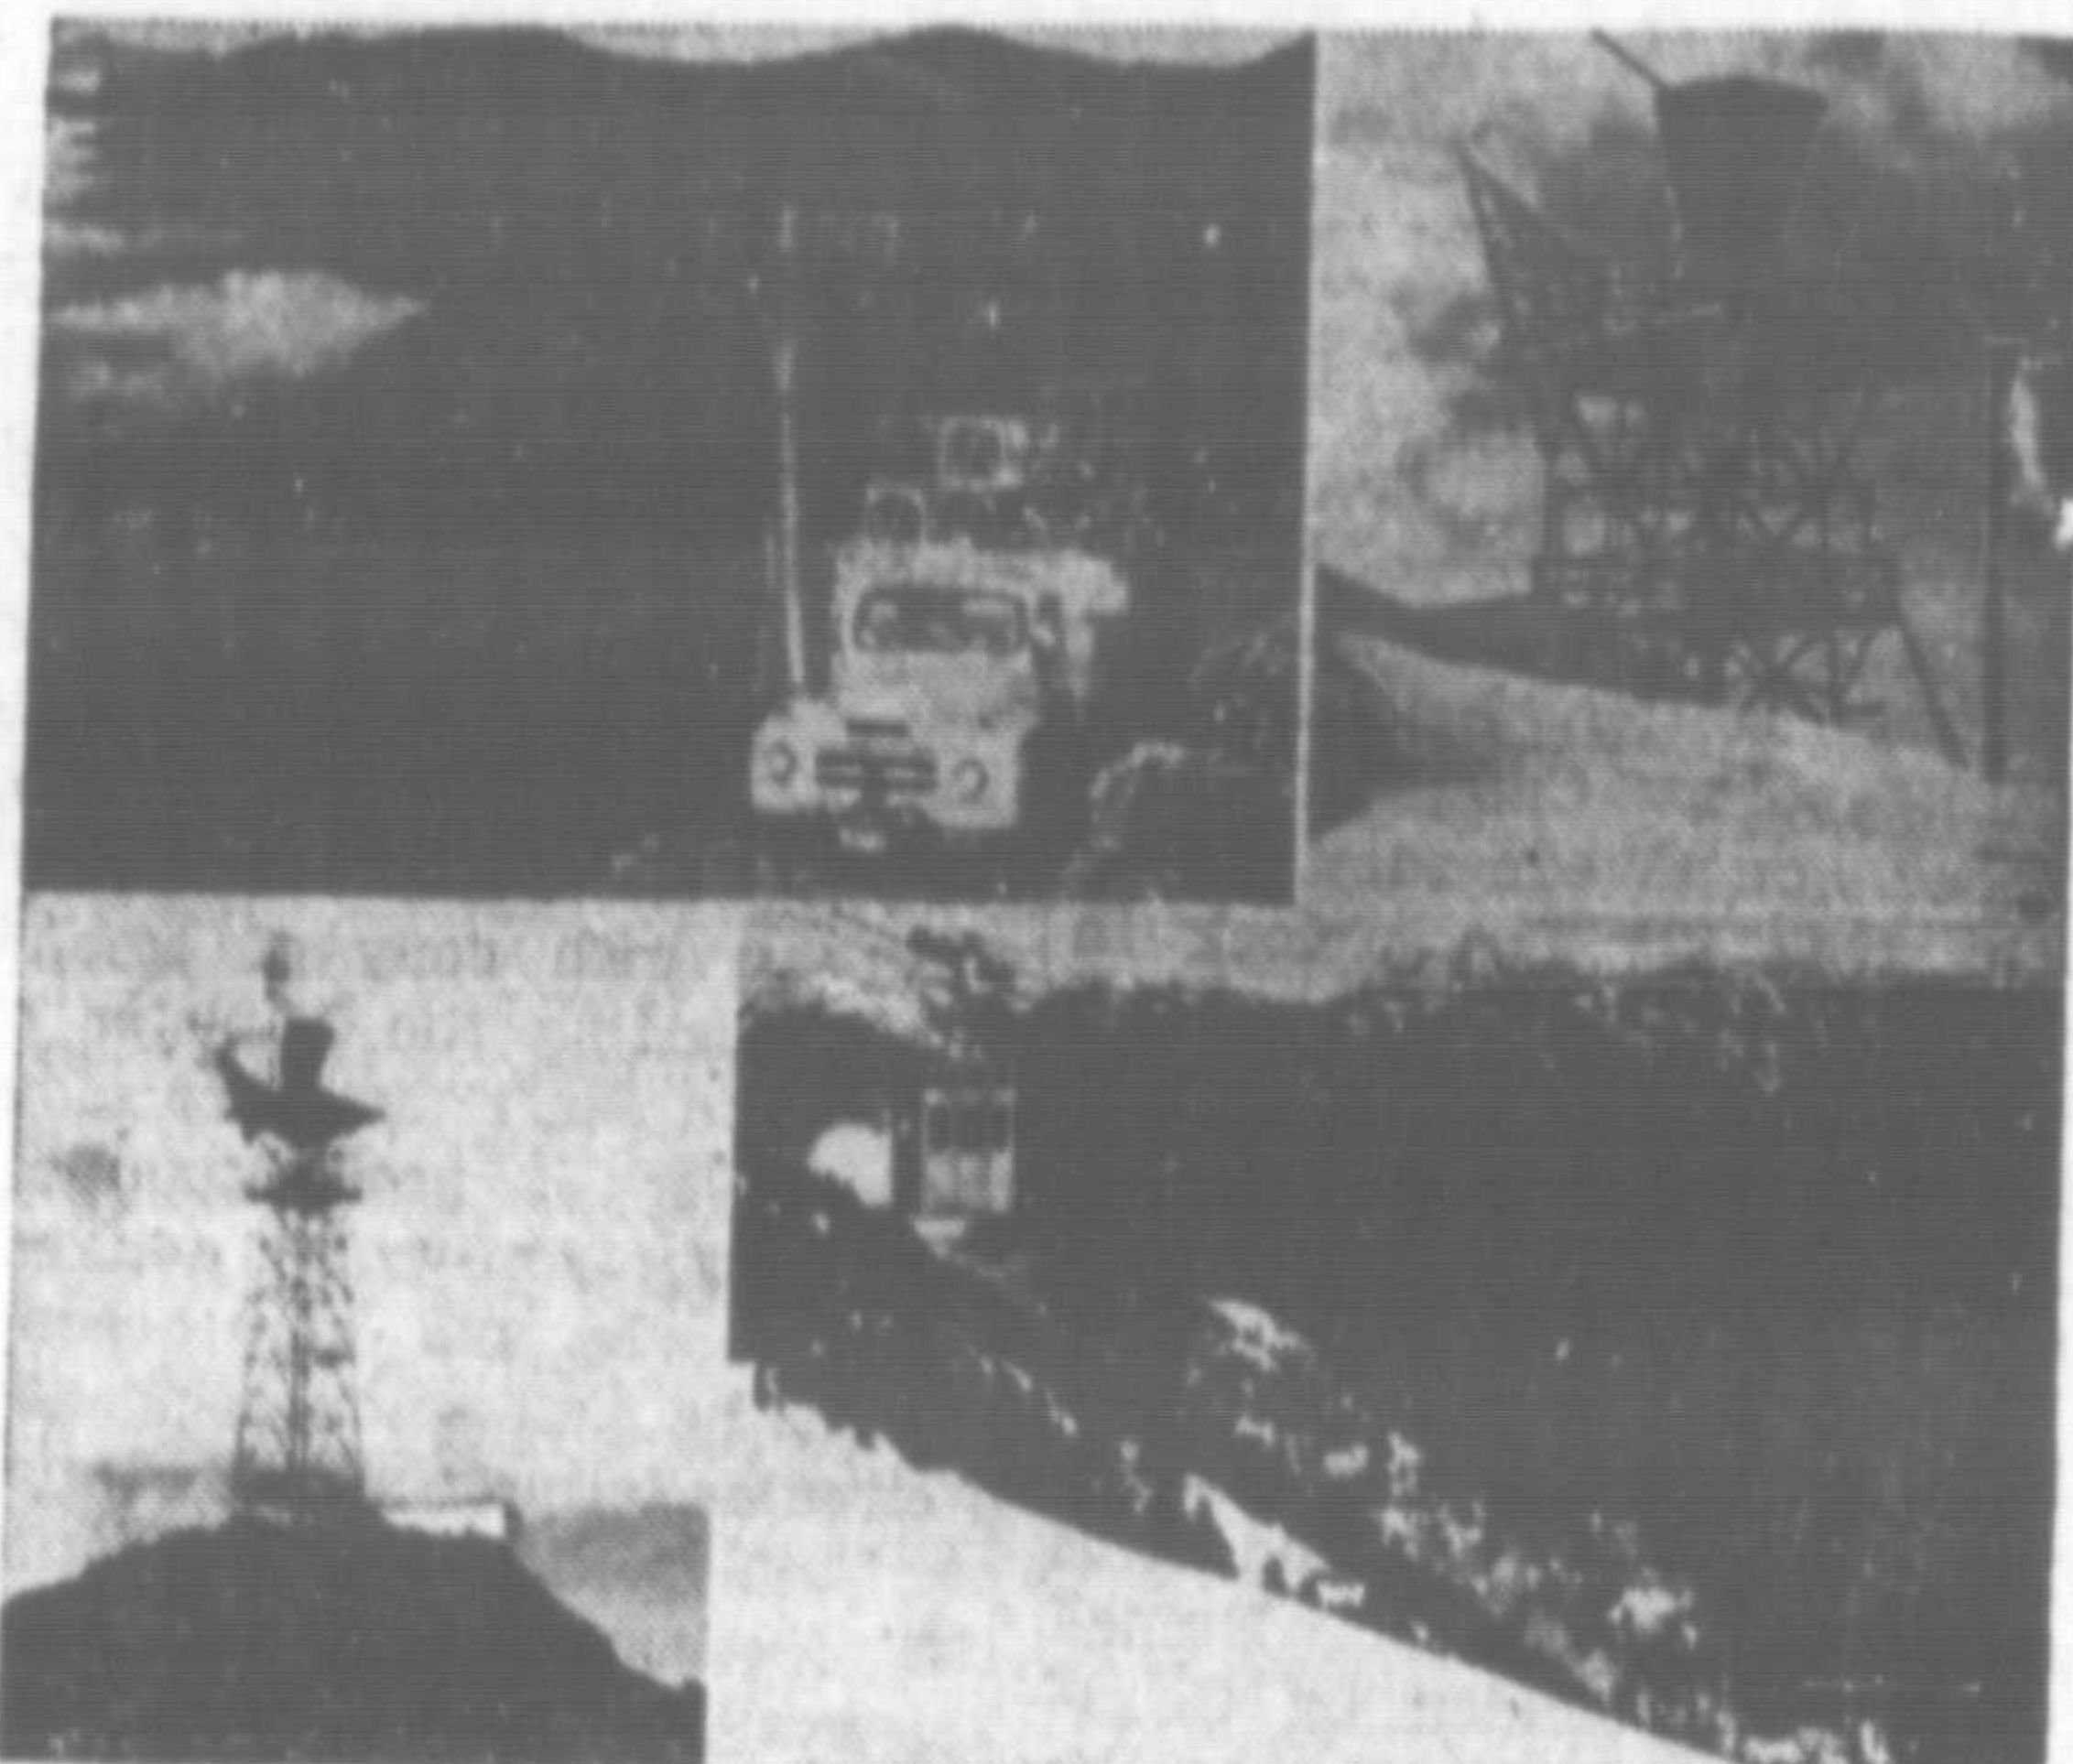

Two TV programs can go in opposite directions at the same time on the new network that is: Halifax can watch Vancouver and Vancouver can watch Halifax at the same time on two different channels.

French program will only be shown where they are wanted and understood but over the years this new network might well be the instrument which will make Toronto and points west know that French is actually a national language.

CBC doesn't exactly welcome competition but doesn't oppose it either. They say competition will increase costs and decrease revenues.

Operations of local CBC stations won't be changed, except in program schedules, by the new network.

To build mountain-top relay stations for the Trans-Canada Telephone System's microwave network to the West Coast, roads had to be cut through mountains, even above cloud level (upper left). At Hedley, B.C., a mountain top was blasted away to form a site (lower left). So high are many of the sites that buildings are often buried in snow (upper right). Access roads couldn't be built at two sites — and aerial tramways were constructed. The Dog Mountain tramway (lower right) is one of the biggest in the world — more than two miles, with a lift of 4,400 feet. The microwave goes into full operation July 1 for television and phone system relays.

About ten percent of cost of live programs is line charges on the network.

CBC hopes their sponsors will pay line charges on network programs, except in cases where new areas are being opened up at CBC expense.

After all these answers were given to the same number of questions, the lights went mercifully off, airconditioning went mercifully on and the other thirty suitcoated reporters went to a CBC reception at a country club while The Equity's cotton dressed reporter made a bee line for the cool green pastures of Pontiac.

Grade 8 Students Have Ottawa Trip

By Jennifer Dickson

About 70 grade eight pupils accompanied by Miss Shirley Horner, Mrs. Hayes and Mr. Jack Grant travelled to Ottawa on Monday, June 23rd for an experience they aren't likely to forget for many years to come. The group travelled in two busses. They visited the bakery of Morrison Lamothe where they were served a delicious dinner for the sum of 1.75 from each pupil. After dinner they went to see two museums and then went to visit the Mint which was right next door to one of the museums. Finally, after going to see the Canadian National Museum, they headed home. On the way home they stopped at a little restaurant to buy enough pop, and candy to keep them alive 'till they got home to Shawville. On arriving at Shawville they all agreed that they had had a wonderful day.

Young People's Baseball Game

By Jennifer Dickson

The young people of Rev. Votary's Holiness Movement church of Onslow had been inviting the Pentecostal young-people of Rev. Ellis assembly for a social gathering for a long time. So on Friday, the 20th of June the Shawville's congregated in front of the Pentecostal church. At about seven o'clock they set out in cars for Onslow. Despite some almost getting lost, they finally arrived safely. Soon they had an exciting softball game in full swing. At the end of the game, the score was very close. Onslow 42, Shawville 7. Then they joked, saying that, because Onslow had beaten Shawville they would have the privilege of feeding them. But nothing doing. After eating a delicious meal of hot-dogs and freshie the hat was passed to pay for the food. Tiredly but happily they climbed into cars and drove home, having had one of the best times of their lives.

FAVOUR

WHEN the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour . . . she is buying goods for which she will pay cash . . . purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store.

The grocer deals in groceries . . . the banker deals in credit. And, as the making of loans is the principal way by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And, like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods . . . that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit to you and to his institution.
