COMPENSATION STATEMENTS OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE FISH AND FUR TRADES FOR THE YEAR ENDING JAN. 21, 1882, AND THE CORRESPONDING PERIOD OF 1881:

Table with 2 columns: Date (Jan. 1881, Jan. 1882) and Amount. Rows include Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Total, and Average daily circulation.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1882.

We believe the circulation of THE STAR exceeds the combined issue of all the other English newspapers published in the city of Montreal.

CANADIAN RESIDENTS OF BOSTON have formed a Society to work for the annexation of their native land to the United States.

On open Reichstag, yesterday, Bismarck repudiated the doctrine of Ministerial responsibility, and declared that the Sovereign of Germany not only reigned but ruled as well.

The New York World says that there is a tremendous excitement in Manitoba over the disallowance of the South Eastern Railway Bill, and that the whole Northwest is ripe for annexation.

OTTAWA takes the lead with a petition to the Lieutenant-Governor, praying against the sale or lease of the North Shore Railway, as a monopoly of the carrying trade would prove destructive to Eastern Ontario as well as to certain portions of the Province of Quebec.

The New York State Fish Commission announces that it will send to any parties in the United States or Canada, wishing to experiment in fish culture, from 300 to 500 eggs of the California Mountain Trout, on receipt of fifty cents to pay for the postage.

The City Passenger Railway Company have been brought to their senses by the persistent way in which the Street Locomotion Committee of the Council has gone about its business.

Stoves in Railway Carriages. The man who can invent a substitute for the coal stove in our railway carriages will do the country a service and make for himself a fortune.

THE SACRED HEART LOTTERY. Rev. Abbe Villeneuve's Connection Therewith.

THE SACRED HEART LOTTERY. An affidavit sworn to by the Rev. Fathers Lussier and Therien, has been sent as for publication setting out the following facts: That about the month of September, 1877, the above named gentlemen were instructed by Mr. Fabre to set up a lottery in connection with the Sacred Heart Monastery, and after having made the most minute investigation, they came to the conclusion that the proposed lottery was not a pious and honest device.

CIVIL ELECTORNS. The Butchers' Candidate. Rumors are afloat that Mr. Beaulieu hesitates in accepting candidature in the St. James ward.

The Farmer's Milk Case. His Honor Mr. Justice McTavish, in his judgment in favor of the defendant upon the writ of certiorari, set aside the verdict of the jury, and ordered a new trial.

The Bank of Commerce Failure. It is said that the Bank of Commerce are interested in the extent of fifty-five and sixty thousand dollars for the redemption of a mortgage made to the firm by its composition notes at the time of the last failure in 1879, and on all the real estate and furniture of the firm.

Canada is pre-eminently blessed with an extra supply of Scotchmen and their descendants in Governor-General, Premier, and a host of other officials, claim that nationality, whilst Scottish mechanics, lawyers, men of science and learning, officers, farmers, stockmen and skilled mechanics, represent their native land (perhaps we ought rather to say honor to it) by occupying the foremost ranks in their various callings throughout this wide Dominion, which they

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Debate on the Address Continued. Toronto, Jan. 24.—After routine, Mr. Hardy denied, as a matter of privilege, a statement to the effect that he had fabricated a report of an emigration agent's return made to the House. He had marked down the report, and he knew nothing of the Dominion report. The one he received was sent in manuscript.

Mr. Waters resumed the debate on the Address. He cited several authorities which went to show that the present tariff had done nothing to advance the welfare of the country.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION! Just Received, a Fresh Supply of BENGHER'S LIQUOR PEPETICUS!

THE GUILTEAU TRIAL. The usual Opening Speech—Mr. Porter's Arguments.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—In the Guiteau trial to-day, the prisoner said: "My sister has been doing some silly talk in Chicago. She means well, but she is a lawyer."

Mr. Porter said, feeling it imperatively necessary the case should be concluded as soon as possible, he would simply touch upon a few salient points of the evidence.

MINNIGREY.

BY J. FREDERICK SMITH.

CHAPTER XXII.—Continued. For some minutes after the relation of the above anecdote, the lawyer and his guest sat in silence, the thief-taker with an air of being surprised that the lawyer had ventured to mention the name of his society.

"Of course, Mr. Townshend," observed the lawyer, "in your experience, there have been cases in which the ends of justice have been furthered by extra-judicial proceedings."

"I have some reason to suspect that a valuable antique watch, belonging to a client of mine, have been disposed of by a fellow-reveller in the New Out, and known by the name 'Nibbling Ned.'"

Mr. Townshend nodded—as much as to say that he knew the individual. "What I want is not a record of the property—though that is a consideration—as—"

"Shall I finish it for you?" demanded the thief-taker, with a grin. "You want a pull on Nibbling Ned—by to-morrow you shall have one."

The terms were soon agreed; and with this understanding they parted.

CHAPTER XXIII. N'er he I followed by the o'er-awed. In that thrice-hallowed eve abroad.

Mr. Townshend was one of those active persons who, for the sake of a few dollars, would do anything. He was not a man of high social position, but he was a man of high energy.

It was about ten in the morning following the thief-taker's interview with Markland, when the former entered the office of the lawyer.

"You have kept your word," he said. "I always do, whether for good or evil," replied the lawyer, smiling.

"How did you procure them?" inquired the thief-taker, looking at the great gold watch in his case in company with a man who made the thief-taker's eyes.

"Easily enough," replied Townshend; "from your description of the articles, I had a shrewd suspicion that the watch was in the hands of the thief-taker."

"You had no positive information, then?" "None."

"Have you traced the possession of them?" "I have traced the possession of them," replied the thief-taker, "but I did not feel quite sure of the matter."

"The watch was in the hands of the thief-taker," replied the lawyer, "and I have traced the possession of them."

"I have traced the possession of them," replied the thief-taker, "but I did not feel quite sure of the matter."

"I have traced the possession of them," replied the lawyer, "and I have traced the possession of them."

"I have traced the possession of them," replied the thief-taker, "but I did not feel quite sure of the matter."

NATURAL HISTORY.

AN INTERESTING PARTIAL TO HUMAN GREAT TORTOISES.

In a volume entitled "Panama et Darien" M. Reclus describes his explorations in those regions. Colon, says M. Reclus, is built on a low plain, the level of the little bay of Manzanillo, which is formed of a small island of coral, in the hollows of which heaps of mud and water have accumulated.

A BREED AND GOLDMINE.—A certain restaurant in Boston, apparently to proclaim the unlimited resources of its cuisine, has in its shop a large tank, wherein glittering goldfish, small trout, and other aquatic life, are kept in a large tank.
