Segregation Trial Convicts 7; Clinton Tension Running High

CLINTON, Tenn. — (AP) — A heavy feeling broods over Clinton today, like the atmosphere before an electric storm.

There is some bitterness, some shock and some satisfaction over the verdict in the "Clinton trial" in nearby Knoxville Tuesday. But mostly, there is uncertainty.

"The Ku Klux are organized," said Ova D. Abston, who runs a cider mill near the pleasant little mountain town.

"They're not going to stop now. They mean business. Make no mistake about it."

The town appears quiet. The Southland Cafe, a hang-out for those convicted of conspiracy and criminal contempt in the trial, was deserted.

Last fall, a dozen Negro students were enrolled in Clinton High School with some 800 whites. It was the first state-supported school in Tennessee to mix the races, following the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that segregation is unconstitutional.

At first, everything went smoothly. A Negro girl was elected chairman of her classroom.

Then violence flared. A young Baptist minister, Rev. Paul Turner, was badly beaten after he escorted six Negro students past segregationists to the school.

Out of that came the "Clinton trial."

Six men and a woman stood convicted today of criminal contempt for violating a federal court order against any interference with the desegregation of the high school.

They were William Brakebill, service station operator; Lawrence Brantley, unemployed; Alonzo Bullock, carpenter and itinerant preacher; Clyde Cook, farmer; W. H. Till, machinist; and Mrs. Mary Nell Currier, housewife—and John Kasper, a northern segregationist organizer.

FOUR INNOCENT
Kasper, 27, came into Clinton from Washington two days before the Negroes started to school late last August. The government charged that he was the "hub of the conspiracy" organized to force them out.

Four other Clinton persons on trial were found innocent.

The jurors who returned the verdict were 10 men and two women, all of them white Tennesseans.

But this is east Tennessee. It is not the deep south. Unlike the rest of the state, it sent men northward during the Civil War to fight on the Union side.

"There won't be any convictions by juries in segregation cases down south," said William Shaw, assistant attorney-general of Louisiana, a member of the defence battery in the trial.

Kasper said his conviction will not change his plans.

"I am going to Nashville when the schools open there and they try to integrate them," he said.

Defence lawyers, announcing that they will ask for a new trial, were preparing briefs which must be submitted in 20 days.

Three Vs. Two, Some Singh-Song!
BIRMINGHAM, Eng.—(Reuters)—Three Mr. Singhs were sentenced Tuesday to two-year jail terms for wounding a fourth Mr. Singh and inflicting bodily harm on a fifth Mr. Singh during a street fight.

Punjab Singh, 40, Dharm Singh, 28, and Langal Singh, 30, were jailed.

Darshan Singh and Pritam Singh were the men they injured.

103rd Birthday
TORONTO — (AP) — Mrs. Hance A. Ivor of nearby Erindale marked her 103rd birthday Tuesday listening to her son Roy, 78, read messages from friends and relatives. Mr. Ivor said that until three years ago his mother enjoyed reading, listening to good music and doing housework. She has been afflicted with arthritis for the last three years.

COST OF LIVING HIGHER
He also said the cost of living is about 12 per cent higher than in the Maritimes, "the burden of taxation is approximately 25 per cent greater per capita" and "35 per cent of the homes are overcrowded compared with 19.3 in the Maritimes."

Newfoundland's infant death rate was higher and although vast strides had been made in recent years, the tuberculosis death rate was about 2½ times above the mainland average.

Oman Rebels Refuse Cease-Fire Offers

BAHREIN, Persian Gulf — (Reuters) — RAF planes today launched offensive sorties against rebel tribesmen in the Arabian Peninsula sultanate of Muscat and Oman.

An RAF spokesman in Bahrain, a major British base, gave no details of the sorties nor would he identify the targets except to say they were within a 50-mile radius of Nizwa.

But it was understood the RAF gave a demonstration of the accuracy of its destructive powers by picking out particular buildings in villages and towns.

Nizwa is the regional capital of Oman. It was captured last week by rebel tribesmen led by Ghalib Ben Ali, the imam or religious leader of Oman. He fled Nizwa in December, 1955, after a fight with the British-protected sultan, Said Bin Taimur. The sultan claimed the imam was attempting to set up an independent state in violation of an agreement between the two leaders.

The sultanate of Muscat and Oman is a poor country of desert and mountains on the south-east tip of the Arabian Peninsula. Oil prospectors are surveying the area but no oil is currently being produced. The sultanate has from 550,000 to 830,000 persons, mostly of Arabic stock, but with Asian and African mixtures in the port cities.

CAIRO. — (Reuters) — A spokesman for the rebelling imam of Oman said today the imam's forces twice clashed with British troops and forced them to withdraw into Muscat with the loss of three vehicles.

He claimed the pro-British sultan of Muscat had subsequently asked for a cease-fire but the imam had refused, demanding the sultan's abdication, and the withdrawal of British forces and oil-prospecting teams.

The RAF planes took off from Sharjah, British base on the Trucial coast, about 200 miles north of Nizwa.

British troops moved up from Bahrain to Sharjah but no large-scale use of British troops is foreseen. However, Britain probably will provide minor reinforcements of the sultan's land troops.

ASKS FOR HELP
The pro-British sultan asked Britain's help in quashing the rebellion.

The RAF planes took off from Sharjah, British base on the Trucial coast, about 200 miles north of Nizwa.

British troops moved up from Bahrain to Sharjah but no large-scale use of British troops is foreseen. However, Britain probably will provide minor reinforcements of the sultan's land troops.

EMERSON'S LIST
Emerson said he had never noticed such expense account items "but if we had we probably would have asked about them."

McClellan didn't go into how such things would have appeared on hotel bills.

Klenert told reporters he can't recall ever buying a milk stool for anyone. As for a golfer's lamp, he said he never heard of such a thing although he plays golf.

Before Emerson took the stand, the committee devoted some more attention to a 1953 UJW committee report absolving Valente and Klenert of any misuse of union money in their buying expensive houses in the Washington suburbs.

It has been brought out that $57,000 of union money was used toward the purchase of two houses costing a total of $95,000.

Joseph Jacobs, a Atlanta, lawyer for the union, testified he and others who wrote the 1953 report knew the $57,000 had been used to buy the houses. But Jacobs said, as Klenert has testified, this was a device for concealing the money from possible disident factions within the union. He said the money was repaid.

ALUMINUM STRIKE END IN SIGHT
QUEBEC — Discussion on Labor Minister Barrette's settlement formula for a long aluminum strike resumed today.

Hopes of settlement "in two or three days" were expressed Tuesday by Mr. Barrette as the Aluminum Company of Canada and the National Metal Trades Federation (COCL) asked clarification on parts of the 10-point formula.

About 6,500 workers struck May 17 at the Arvida, Que., smelter on issues of wages and a master contract covering 11,500 workers in nine Quebec plants.

The union asked 30 cents an hour at once, plus 7½ cents by Jan. 1, and the company, rejecting the master contract demand, offered 47½ cents an hour spread over three years.

Mr. Barrette's formula, which did not specifically mention the contract demand, recommended that wage inequalities in Quebec's aluminum industry be eliminated by Aug. 1, 1959.

He also recommended wage increases totalling at least 45 cents an hour over three years and establishment of a new job classification system after study by both parties.

WEDLER NEVER IN CLEVELAND
CLEVELAND — (AP) — Two men who helped send Dr. Sam Sheppard to Ohio Penitentiary for the bloodguilt of his wife were back from Florida today with a 26th name to add to their list of fake confessions to the three-year-old murder.

The two are Dr. Samuel R. Gerber, Cuyahoga County's coroner, and James E. McArthur, who headed Cleveland detectives' investigation of the July 4, 1954 crime.

The name added to their list was that of Donald Joseph Wedler, 23, a petty criminal and narcotics addict who was jailed in Deland, Fla., as a fugitive from a road camp where he was doing time for robbery.

Last Tuesday Wedler told Sheriff Rodney Thurby of Volusia County, Fla., that he had hanged a woman to death with a piece of pipe near Cleveland in July, 1954.

After questioning Wedler for three hours and 45 minutes Tuesday, Gerber concluded:

"He's a liar."
"And McArthur said: 'He's never even been in Cleveland.'"

He also has a mounting list of creditors.

Sudden Death — Spectators examine the shattered wreckage after a slow-moving Southern Railway freight train smashed into an auto at Clifty Crossing near Somerset, Ky., killing eight teenagers, including three members of one family. Officials said the car had apparently stalled on the tracks.

Bus Owners Ask Protection As Violence Flares In UK Strike

LONDON — (Reuters) — Bus owners today asked for greater protection — the use of the armed forces if necessary — in their battle to keep buses running in the face of violence by striking drivers.

The Association of Transport Operators in Northern England, not directly involved in the four-day-long strike of 100,000 bus drivers and transportation workers, said, "Greater protection must be given against the present hooliganism."

Strikers in many instances have halted buses owned by companies not involved in the labor dispute.

These incidents of strike violence were reported:

Pickets stopped a school bus at Standbach. One protesting girl was told by a picket, "If you don't keep your mouth shut, I'll knock your teeth down your throat."

MINERS FIGHT
Miners battled bus workers when the miners' bus was halted in South Wales.

Nurses and private motorists giving lifts to stranded workers were threatened by strikers.

Some union leaders have denounced the use of threats and violence but some newspaper editorials said too many of the leaders remained silent or were hesitant about their denunciations.

The Association of Transport Operators in Northern England, which asked the government for greater protection, represents operators of 26,000 buses not involved in the strike. It said only 28,000 of the country's 75,000 buses were involved in the dispute. But these cover one half of the routes of England, Wales and Scotland. The strikers seek a weekly pay raise of £1 in order to bring their pay closer to the London scale.

The first move to end the strike, which began last Saturday, opened today when the industrial disputes tribunal started an investigation into the dispute.

SECOND STRIKE
But union representatives, after making a token appearance at the peace talks, walked out in a body. They said the only possible solution of the dispute was to give the men the money they demanded.

The strike of fruit and vegetable handlers in London's huge wholesale markets also produced violence today.

Strikers and non-strikers fought in Covent Garden, the market district adjoining London's theatre district.

Bottles were thrown and a truck was set afire. Bags of fruit and vegetables were slashed, with the contents dumped in the streets.

The strike of 3,500 persons revolves around a new working system proposed by the employers and rejected by the food handlers.

Because of the Covent Garden strikes, ships bringing fruit to London were diverted to other ports.

Merciless Killer Hunt On In N.M.
HOBBS, N.M. — (AP) — A merciless killer, whose pre-dawn rain of bullets shot down a truck driver and two young divorcees on isolated desert roads Tuesday, was sought today in a state-wide roadblock net.

The killer may have later tried to abduct a third woman.

Officers called the killer "a madman." He pumped at least five bullets into the body of truck driver J. D. Cantrell, 27, of Carlsbad, N.M.

He then drove the two women, Mrs. Barbara Edwards Lemmons and Mrs. Dorothy Fern Gibson, both 23, of Hobbs, about 29 miles from where Cantrell's body was discovered and left them lying dead. Six empty .22 calibre shells were found near the bodies.

In the afternoon, a sleepy-eyed man in his 30s tried to kidnap the postmistress of Tinnie, a village 158 miles northwest of the scene of the slayings.

Virginia Guest, 40, routed her would-be abductor with a shot from her .38 calibre pistol after he started for his car, where he said he had "something which would make her" accompany him.

Stagecoach Crack-Up
LONDON — (Reuters) — A 107-year-old stagecoach collided with two cars on its way to take part in the International Horse Show. The four horses drawing the coach bolted after a shaft broke, but were recaptured by one of the passengers.

9th AEC Blast Exploded

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — The ninth shot of the Atomic Energy Commission's current test series exploded in a brilliant, blue-purple flash at 4:50 PDT here today.

The blast sent a great cloud of dust rolling across the desert, past trenches where 700 military observers crouched some 3,000 yards away. The dust and accompanying shock wave also struck hard at News Nob, where reporters and 31 foreign civilian defence observers watched.

For long seconds after the shock wave blasted past the observers it could be heard rumbling in the mountains behind the AEC's Yucca Flat test centre.

Two bright spots of orange flame flared briefly as the indoglass subsided. Then the familiar mushroom cloud mounted — into the clear, pre-dawn sky.

In 50 seconds—the time observers estimated it took the shock wave to jar News Nob, 13 miles away—the dirty, purplish-looking cloud mounted to an estimated 20,000 feet.

The device was detonated atop a 500-foot tower. Its size was estimated as being roughly equivalent to the power of 10,000 tons of TNT.

Radioactivity Higher Than Safe Near Test Site
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The state health department today reported spot checks disclosed "radioactivity higher than the safe limit for continuous ingestion" in runoff water from Sierra Mountain snow in three northern counties of California.

The radioactivity is nothing to get alarmed about, said Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

Dr. Merrill said the "continuous ingestion" phrase meant "some danger might be involved if a person were to drink the runoff waters over a period of months."

He said a followup check will be made when the current series of atomic tests in Nevada is completed.

TIMMINS, Ont. — Thieves stole $2,000 Tuesday after forcing a safe in a garage in Val Gagne, 32 miles east of here, but failed in a bid to open another safe containing $10,000. They caused damage estimated at $5,000 as they smashed furniture and spread files and bills about the floor.

MONTREAL — The Stavros exhibition of French paintings worth $1,500,000 was officially opened Tuesday night with plainclothes policemen quietly standing in the background to foil any robber attempts. The show includes paintings by Picasso, Matisse, Rouault, Gauguin and other French artists and is being shown at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts under the auspices of the Montreal Festivals Society.

Magog Drowning Death Is Ruled As Accidental

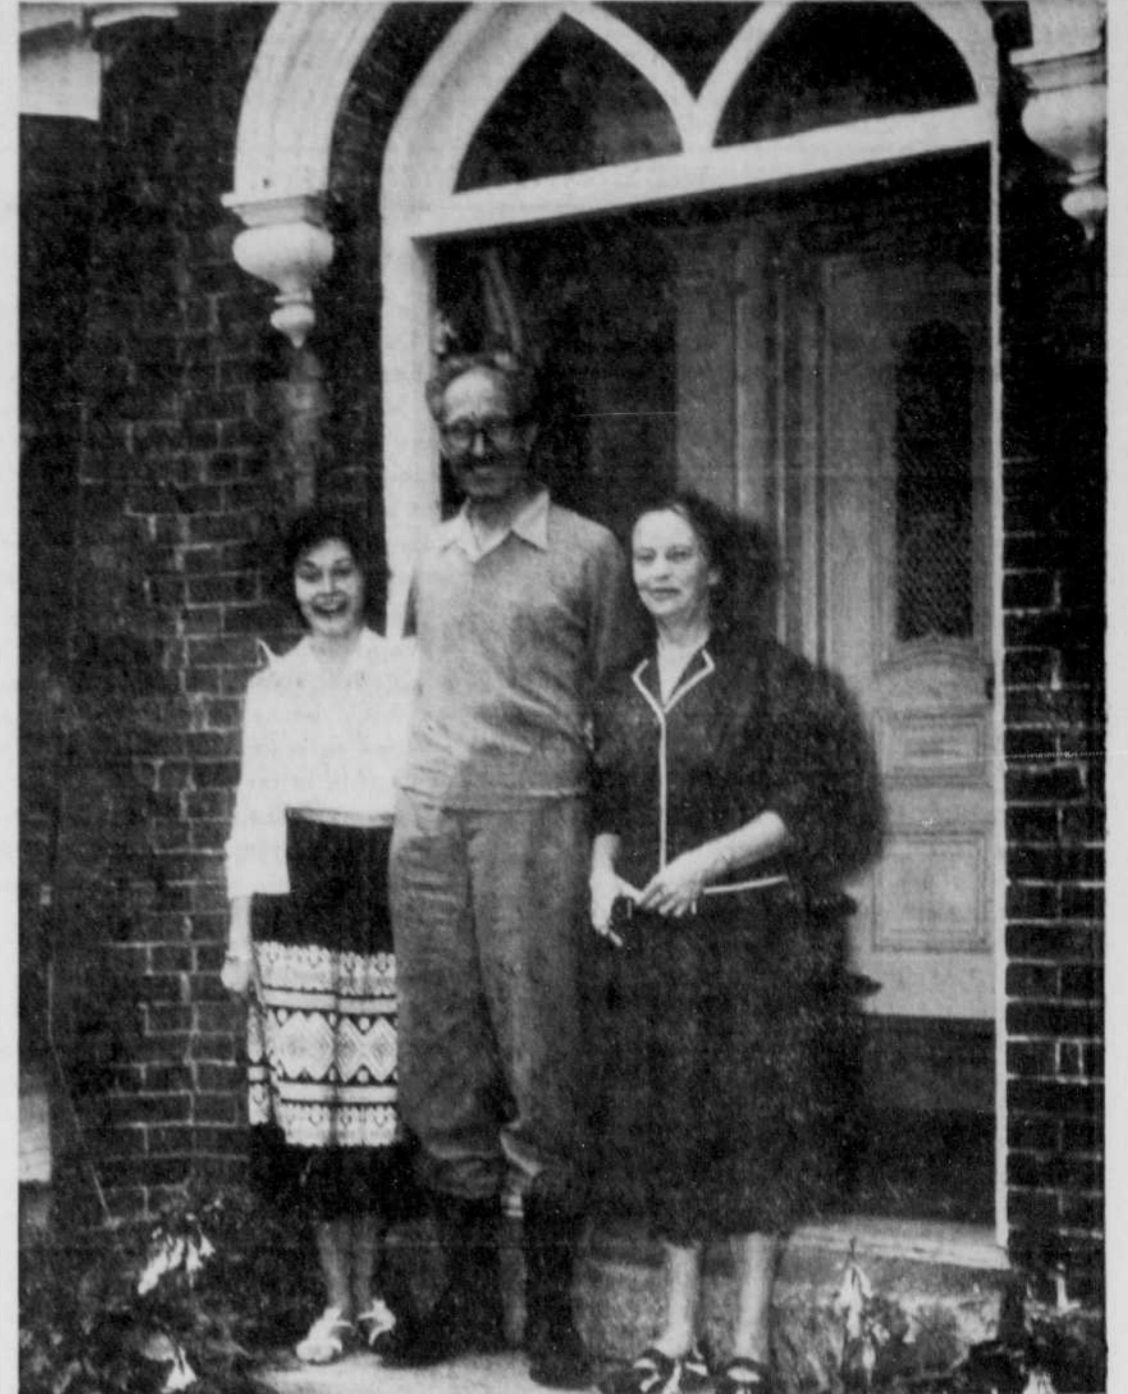

The death of Lucien Godbout, of Magog, who drowned in Lake Memphremagog Monday was judged accidental by a coroner's jury yesterday afternoon.

During the inquest it was revealed by the dead man's wife that he frequently suffered from stomach disorders and it is believed that this may have contributed to Godbout's death.

Wallace Martin, who discovered the body off the federal government wharf, said he immediately notified police when he saw the man's head bobbing up and down in the water.

In his testimony, Chief Telephone Lavoie said "Constable Parent and myself went to the scene immediately. Helped by Constable Belanger we pulled the body from the water. I noticed that his hat, a gray felt one, was attached to his belt." Further he remarked that the identity of the man was established from various articles found on his person.

A doctor's report said the man's stomach trouble could have caused the drowning.

Great Rotary Convention Described To Local Club

The 40th Convention of Rotary International — where 9,702 people were brought together through their interest in the simple principle "Service Above Self" — was described yesterday to Sherbrooke Rotarians by local Rotarian, and Canadian Director of Rotary International, Douglas Stevenson.

Mr. Stevenson attended the convention, held in Lucerne, Switzerland, last month. "It is hard to put into words," Mr. Stevenson said, "the awe-inspiring feeling that the convention generated."

Quoting from a convention message by Paolo Lang, retiring president of Rotary Mr. Stevenson said: "President Paolo developed the theme that Rotarians have a unique opportunity to work for international understanding. It can do more than just inspire international understanding; the spirit of Rotary is not exclusive, and if it is widely shared, it can bring about comprehension, and then understanding on a world-wide basis."

Mr. Stevenson said that the purpose of the annual convention was three-fold. It is the only legislative body in Rotary that considers proposed legislation and amendments to the constitution. However, only conventions held in even-numbered years give consideration to legislation, so the 1957 convention did not.

It elects officers for the coming year.

It brings Rotarians from all over the world together in a spirit of inquiry and friendship.

Mr. Stevenson said one of the highlights of the convention was an address by Miss Helen Keller, "an almost unbelievable experience." Miss Keller has been blind, deaf and dumb since birth. She communicated to her audience through an interpreter.

Other events included a panel presentation on the subject "Rotary Looks To You," inter-friendship meetings, vocational craft assemblies, and many inspirational addresses.

Mr. Stevenson said that he was especially impressed by entertainment put on by the people of Lucerne for the convention. Two separate evenings, he said, were devoted to pantomime presentations of Swiss folklore and history. Another entertainment item consisted of a spectacular fireworks display on the lake.

The speaker concluded by reading the text of a telegram sent to the convention by President of the United States, Dwight Eisenhower. It read: "Your convention is visible evidence of the oneness of mankind, and the interdependence of man's needs and desires. You are adding strength to a common effort for peace and friendship among all."

Mr. Stevenson was introduced by Bart Holtham, and thanked by J. H. Wark.

Seated at the head table were: Emile Levesque, Albert Munster, Bart Holtham, Cliff Bryant, J. H. Wark, Gerry McManamy, Hawley Griffith and Lewis Rosenbloom.

Deportation Of Sherbrooke Pair Expected Today

ST. ALBANS, Vt. — Two Sherbrooke youths are being held for deportation hearings here by U. S. immigration who say they crossed the border illegally.

The two, Fernand Poulin and Marcel Fortier, both 20, were picked up Saturday night after they crossed the border at Highgate, Vt.

Each had a hunting knife, and three professional throwing knives, one official said, which they said they planned to use for sport, fishing and hunting.

Police said Fortier was deported to Canada from the U. S. last year for illegal entry when he was apprehended in Florida.

One official said the men were given an immigration hearing yesterday afternoon, and will be deported today.

Police quoted them as saying they were on their way to Connecticut to look for work when they were arrested.

Former Resident Returns For Brief Visit To Richmond Home

BY WARREN SPAFFORD

RICHMOND — An international civil servant, together with his wife and daughter, has returned to a familiar environment after an absence of three years — but only for a vacation in his century-old home.

Tall, (6'5"), bespectacled, scholarly-looking J. Ignatieff has been living with his family in Rome for three years where he is in charge of the soil and fertilizer division with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations — an organization devoted to the raising of nutrition levels and living standards; securing improvements in production and distribution of food and agricultural products; bettering conditions of country dwellers and by these means contribute to the expanding world economy.

He has just returned from Central America, touring such countries as Mexico, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay and Costa Rica, where he conducted a meeting with government officials of various countries. Subject of the gathering was to increase per-acre yield by better management and methods; increase rotation and the use of fertilizer.

Mr. Ignatieff, with his family, will return to Rome, permanent headquarters of FAO since 1951, where he will conduct a meeting of representatives of rice-growing countries.

LONG E. T. CONNECTION

We used the expression, familiar "environment" above and with reason. Jim Ignatieff has been connected with the Eastern Townships for the past 30 years.

Born in Russia, he migrated to England in 1919 with his parents and family and then came to Canada a few years later. His parents bought a farm in Upper Melbourne, across the river from where he now has a residence. Thirty years ago he recalled, Evan Robinson, originator of the Richmond Jerseys, owned the farm and he worked for him. The farm is now owned by the Carson family, but the house is still owned by Mr. Ignatieff. Robinson later moved to Pincher Creek, Alta., where he recently won a master farmers award.

Mr. Ignatieff later moved to Alberta where he was employed as an associate professor at the University of Alberta. He joined the Calgary Highlanders and was discharged at the end of the war with the rank of Major.

Then Mr. Ignatieff started out on a career which has taken him to every continent with the exception of Australia.

JOINS FAO

In 1945 he joined the Food and Agriculture Organization, one of the 10 formally constituted specialized agencies of the United Nations. He was the first Canadian to be recruited.

From 1945 to 1951 the headquarters of this organization was in Washington, D.C. but in 1951, by a majority vote, it was decided to move the headquarters to Rome.

In 1947 Mr. Ignatieff bought his present residence, Beechmore, together with an adjoining farm, from Senator Jacob Nicol. He later sold the farm to Garth Carson, but kept the house, a splendid structure, built more than 100 years ago by George Pierce.

The house, on the right side of the highway entering Richmond from Windsor Mills, has only changed hands three times since it was first built.

Some of the original furniture built on the premises by the late George Pierce, remains and Mr. Ignatieff points out that Mr. Pierce, an engineer of considerable wealth, had all brick used in the construction of the house made on the premises. The original owner's sister, Anne, died in 1932 at the age of 102 and the estate was bought by Senator Nicol.

REMARKABLE FAMILY

Besides Jim Ignatieff, there are three brothers all in public service, and a fourth, now deceased, was the warden of Hart

Bourque Boulevard

The Sherbrooke City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution that the new Sherbrooke-Magog highway, the first section of which was opened last weekend, be named Bourque Boulevard in honor of Hon. J. S. Bourque, Provincial Minister of Lands, Forests, and Hydraulic Resources.

There is merit in these resolutions. Johnny Bourque is a man, who, in over 20 years as a member of the provincial legislature for Sherbrooke County, most of the time as a cabinet minister, has given unsparingly of his time and talent in promoting the development of Quebec.

Eastern Townshippers and residents of Sherbrooke County in particular have much for which to thank Mr. Bourque. He has always remained a true native of this area, however pressing, and however arduous his duties have been in more widespread spheres.

The giving of names to streets, highways, and other places is often done in a historical spirit, and it is right that we should honor those who have contributed so much to the development of Canada in the past.

But it is right also that we should recognize deserving men in their lifetimes. And there are few more deserving than Johnny Bourque.

New Complications For Miss Universe

Promoters of the Miss Universe and Miss U.S.A. contests, their ears decidedly red over the complications arising from the 1957 event, have decided that it will take more than a pair of big blue eyes and a symmetrical form to enter next year's event. They are going to demand a birth certificate and other personal records.

But, perhaps, this will not be enough to prevent further embarrassment in future Miss Universe competitions, as the ambitious promoters have taken in an awful lot of territory. Not content with naming their favorite Miss World, they crown her Miss Universe.

With the rapid increase in the speed of jet-propelled planes and with space-ships not ruled out as a scientific possibility, one might forecast some winner of a similar contest on another planet arriving on the scene with a demand that she be entitled to enter the event — and perhaps bringing with her a group of Martians, or perhaps Lunatics, to see that she obtains the justice to which they feel she is entitled.

Accustomed, possibly, to a simpler life on a planet where things are what they seem and not what a group of promoters want them to be, these visitors may take objection to some of the decisions handed down by the supposed judges, with a fine opportunity arising for an inter-planetary war.

This And That

A local citizen has solved the problem of how to use Sherbrooke's pedestrian crossings without getting killed — he crosses where they aren't.

Lord Patrick Beresford, current favorite of Princess Margaret, has been sent on a military assignment to Cyprus. Apparently, a cat may look at the queen, but a suitor cannot look at our princess.

Author Evelyn Waugh, guest of honor at a literary luncheon in London, put down his two-foot-long horn-shaped hearing aid, and refused to listen to the guest speaker. He said he didn't like the speaker. The speaker, Malcolm Muggeridge, editor of Punch, said that he didn't like Waugh either. London newspapers agreed that it was one of the best literary luncheons in years.

This year's Miss Universe contest will probably go down in history as an overwhelming victory for beauty over brains (the judges' brains, we mean).

A man who claimed he was lonely talked steadily on a pay telephone for 24 hours in Springfield, Illinois. It's not too hard to figure out why he's always alone.

Press Comment

AT CANADA'S EXPENSE (Toronto Telegram) Approval of the Agricultural Trade and Assistance Act for another year has been given in the U.S. House of Representatives and this measure has been broadened to extend the American policy of dumping farm surpluses outside the United States. It will no doubt become law in the near future. This act embodies the U.S. policy to which Canada's Prime Minister Diefenbaker has taken exception, as a measure to "gobble up" world markets for wheat and other commodities.

The new feature of the Act is a provision to permit barter deals with European satellites of Soviet Russia, though not with Russia itself nor Communist China. It opens the way for the U.S. to make available $95,000,000 worth of surplus foods and materials to Poland, a country with which Canada has recently entered a contract to sell wheat. The terms suggest that the United States may seek to cut into Canada's wheat trade in eastern Europe. They justify a protest in strong terms from Canada.

In the renewed Act, the U.S. Congress proposes to permit sale of $4,000,000,000 worth of surplus stocks for foreign currencies. This is basically a method of doing business by interest-free loans on a scale that no other country could hope to duplicate. From Canada's point of view, the U.S. policy may be expected to multiply the injury already inflicted upon this country's overseas wheat sales.

In the first place, potential wheat customers are unlikely to buy Canadian wheat if they see a chance, by waiting, of obtaining U.S. wheat at special, reduced terms. In the second, U.S. policy diminishes the field of fair competition for Canada and other countries in selling wheat and other commodities abroad. As long as Canada's wheat remains unsold as a result of U.S. giveaway policies, Canadians, in effect, as the Montreal Gazette has pointed out, are subsidizing the domestic agricultural policy of the United States.

Canadian protests may have little influence upon the domestic policy in the United States, especially where farm interests are concerned. But it should be obvious to the U.S. Congress that it cannot ignore neighbors and allies in one narrow field of policy without doing immense damage to Canadian-American relations on the broad range of world politics.

Fiction With A Philosophy

(This is another in a series of excerpts from 1957 high school year books published throughout the Eastern Townships.)

THE LONELY ROAD BY WINONA TICHERURST, GR X

It was just another one of those autumn nights when the frost settled on the ground, that the air grew cold and the evening was silenced. There were no stars in the sky, nor was there any moon. The world seemed deserted.

An old, withered-up man walked along the hardened road with the steady "clump clump" of his heavy boots. His destination was yet four miles away and it was while he was marching on that he heard music. The sweet tones drew closer and they were so soothing to the old man's ears. He stopped to listen; the music continued but was getting fainter by the second. Soon it ceased. The man walked on and as the wind rustled the fallen leaves, he remembered the tune he had just heard.

It was fifty years ago, on that same road that he had heard the pipe. Only, then it was his first trip on the road and he had been frightened. It seemed as if someone were watching him as he walked. It seemed that behind every tree there stood a man. Each man held out a gift of protection, another held out the gift of sweet and happy, and so the gifts continued.

He looked back on those days and realized that he had experienced the happiness of all those gifts. He remembered that he had had plenty of protection, sweet days, peace of mind and soul, and above all, he had prospered — not financially — but physically, mentally and spiritually.

Soon, he reached his home, and sitting down in his favorite rocking chair, he took out his pipe and began to smoke. The smoke curling up from his pipe seemed to speak to him. Then he realized that it wasn't the smoke but the music he had heard. He interpreted the music and it told him that his days were drawing to a close; it was time for him to retire and wait until he entered the land from whence the music had come. He realized that he would never again walk that road of life which had for so many years led him to peace and happiness. (Retrospect, P. E. H. S., Magog)

NEVER YOU

By Martha MacIntosh, Gr. X

I look down; it seems far. Is it really? Perhaps it just seems that way. I'm looking down from a window. The ground is white below, and there's a little sprouting pine tree, young and tender to face the cold. My eyes rest upon it, wondering.

Farther on there's another tree, an elm, tall but bent, naked and stripped of its summer beauty. It's an old tree; some of its boughs have been cut off, leaving it to appear ugly and unfinished. The front walk just passes it. This makes me think: How many times have I passed by the tree in my childhood? How many more times will I?

From my window, I can see far; over the green, icicle-hung roof tops and brown chimneys; over clumps of trees and patches of snowy lake. The bridge, dusty and muddy where the cars pass over it, is beautiful underneath where the water has not frozen, but has become crystal clear with the cold of winter. Beyond the bridge and beyond the lake there are mountains. Round, rolling mountains, blue-grey and lovely against dulling, winter sky.

It grows darker as I write, and I begin to wonder: Can the tall tree, the elm I love so, see over the mountains, beyond what I can see? I look upward to its highest branch. I look down at its lowest and still further down so that I must press my nose against the pane, to the little, sprouting pine. It must be envious of the wondrous view of the old tree; wish it were tall and stately so - as we wish for growth and adulthood, all it holds for us, all we dream of.

Twenty years have come and gone — passed forever. Do you remember the old bent elm? It was cut down last month, a dark February day. It lived and grew, but could not keep its youth. It creaked and swayed in the wind, moaned in a storm, and at last, had to be destroyed. Only an ugly stump remains. The old elm has seen the last of the mountains, blue-grey, lovely mountains. But of what the little pine tree, you ask. Well, it isn't little anymore, nor sprouting. It's tall and straight, no longer envious of the things it cannot possess. It sees over the green roof tops and brown chimneys, over clumps of trees; over the bridge, and yes, beyond the rolling mountains. No, our pine tree is no longer envious. It has its full growth, and is yet young, strong.

But you — cherish childhood while it is still with you; cherish adolescence while it is yet yours; and until you are old and worn, wrinkled and grey, cling to youth. Age can change so much in you, everything, but don't let it change your heart; don't let it steal your youth. Youth is a ruler of the earth. Don't lose it in adulthood. You need it — the world needs it.

As did the elm
So will the pine tree do,
But you — don't let it happen,
Never you!

THAT COFFEE BREAK

(New York Herald Tribune)

In this statistically minded area count is even kept of how many cups of coffee the nation drinks. Figures announced by the Pan American Coffee Bureau put the 1956 total at 125 billion—an all-time record.

This, it would seem, is quite a bit of coffee—almost enough for a fair-sized ocean. Undoubtedly that flourishing institution known as the coffee-break has had a good deal to do with the establishment of the new record.

More than 70 percent of the nation's office and factory employees are allowed at least one coffee-break a day, the bureau says, and it goes without saying that a good many others sneak in a container or two when the boss isn't looking.

DUPLICATE PAYS ON SOLID PLAY

Here is another duplicate hand. South's opening spade bid is correct. He has 16 high card points but his distribution definitely makes the suit opening preferable to one no-trump.

West's overall is reasonable although many players do not overall at the two level on a five card suit. North's two diamond bid is automatic and South is entirely correct in his two no-trump rebid.

As a matter of fact, a few unfortunate South players bid three diamonds and the hand played right there.

North's raise to three-no-trump is also automatic and the bidding should go exactly the same way in rubber bridge.

The correct defense against three no-trump illustrates the difference between rubber bridge and match point play.

THAT, MEN, IS A BEEF STEW!

(Ottawa Journal)

One should begin the building of a beef stew in a calm, philosophical state of mind. Too many cooks today go at things too hurriedly. We are not at all opposed to modern foods that can be prepared quickly; they have a needed place, and our food manufacturers deserve bouquets for all they are doing to take drudgery from cooking and to reduce kitchen time for the busy housewife. But there comes a time in the affairs of men which taken at flood, leads on to fame and fortune. Any man or woman who learns to make a top-flight beef stew will find fame climbing the steps.

If you would like a basic recipe with which to begin individual experimentation, here is the countryman's. Use two and a half pounds lean beef in one-half inch cubes. Seal the meat well in its own fat in a large spider. Bring a quart of water to a boil in a kettle. Dissolve four beef cubes in two cups of boiling water and add this to the quart of water. Put the seared meat in the kettle.

Add one large bay leaf, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-fourth teaspoon oregano, one-fourth teaspoon parsley flakes, one-eighth teaspoon chili powder, one medium sized pepper cut fine, one medium onion cut fine.

Simmer this mixture for two full hours, and then add six medium potatoes cut in small cubes and five average carrots cut in small cubes. Simmer one hour or more. During the last 20 minutes, stir in three-fourths cup of flour made into a paste. That, gentle readers, is a beef stew. And it is better the second day than the first.

LINK WITH HISTORY

(Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

To Nova Scotians who cherish this province's historic link with the swashbuckling era of the privateer, the role of its harbors in days when Britain was struggling for supremacy of the seas and royal estates in virgin land, preservation of the sites which keep these memories alive is vital.

Because of this, it will be a red letter day for all Nova Scotia when the home of Simeon Perkins, storied soldier and defender of this province, is officially opened as a tourist shrine at Liverpool.

His modest home on Liverpool's Main Street has been restored to its original state, fitted out with furnishings of the period and copies of his diary which recorded the happenings of a struggling settlement.

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH (D), and Opening lead. Includes card symbols and numbers.

West should open the jack of clubs in either game and South should win the trick, lead his jack of diamonds, overtake with dummy's king and play a spade to his king.

In rubber bridge West should win the trick, lay down his king of hearts and clear the club suit. South will now make five no-trump but should East happen to hold either the spade queen or the guarded diamond queen South would have been set.

In duplicate West should take both his high hearts and hold the hand to four. A little thought should show him that South was romancing with his jack of diamonds lead and that West had better get his tricks in before the rubber falls on him.

A lot of this back-slapping is just a coverup for lack of self-confidence and for sheer laziness. If everybody goes by his first name, it is easy to imagine that distinctions of age, accomplishment, birth (yes, we said birth. A lot of graceful characteristics may come with birth), and those distinctions and superiorities which vary so much from man to man, do not exist.

At any rate, in the case of the elected head of our government, we prefer his full name or title.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD SIMPSON, photographed following their wedding which took place in Stanstead South Church on Friday, July 12. The bride is the former Miss Ruby Valentine Laberee, daughter of Mrs. Adelaide Laberee, of Rock Island, and the late Mr. Arthur Laberee. (Photo by Harry W. Richardson, Newport, Vt.)

Marriage SIMPSON — LABEREE

ROCK ISLAND — The marriage of Miss Ruby Valentine Laberee, daughter of Mrs. Adelaide Laberee and the late Mr. Arthur Laberee, to Mr. Edward Simpson, Sr., took place on Friday, July 12 at seven o'clock, in Stanstead South Church, Rev. E. Geoffrey Tenneson, officiating.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Gordon Laberee, sister-in-law of the bride. Baskets of blue delphiniums adorned the church, and the guest pews were marked with white satin and silver ribbon bows.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Byron Ellis, wore a dress of heaven blue nylon lace over taffeta. The bodice was finished with a V neckline and short sleeves, while the flared skirt was inset with panels of accordion-pleated nylon net. She wore a white nylon lace hat and carried a nosegay of red sweetheart roses. Her only ornament was a rhinestone and pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Bernard Laberee, as matron-of-honor for her sister-in-law, was in a frock of daffodil yellow cotton. The bodice was styled with a square neckline and short puffed sleeves, and the skirt was gathered. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a nosegay of toning sweet peas.

Mr. Bernard Laberee was best man for the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Edward Simpson, Jr., and Mr. Wayne Simpson, sons of the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Laberee, was in a frock of blue printed silk crepe, with which she wore a white straw hat and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Fayne Hovey, sister of the groom, chose a dress of printed sheer, over which she wore a navy blue bengaline coat. Her accessories were navy blue.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall, decorated with summer flowers for the occasion. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Bernard Laberee and decorated by the bride in white, with pink and silver, and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink tapers in silver holders and bowls of pink roses completed the arrangement. The refreshments were under the charge of the Comrades of the Ladies Auxiliary of Stanstead Frontier Branch No. 5 of the Canadian Legion, of which the bride is second vice-president.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson left on their wedding trip to Pittsfield, Mass. For travelling the bride chose a jacket frock of Dresden blue silk dæron, and white accessories. Upon their return, they will reside at 3 Tilton Ave., Rock Island.

Out-of-town guests came from St. Therese, Montreal, Newport, Derby Line, Beebe, and Stanstead.

Day Too Short For S. A. Nurse

OTTAWA—(C)—Salvation Army Maj. Mabel Croll says there aren't enough hours in each day to do all the things she would like to accomplish.

Nevertheless, the newly-appointed superintendent of Ottawa's Grace Maternity Hospital says nothing beats nursing as a career.

Native of Winnipeg, and superintendent of the Grace Hospital at Calgary for the last three years, Maj. Croll, at the Ottawa hospital succeeds Brig. Ida Ellis, who retired after 35 years in the Salvation Army.

LONG SERVICE
Maj. Croll has chalked up 27 years of nursing service in the Salvation Army since she was graduated from the Windsor, Ont., Grace Hospital. She has served in Montreal, Vancouver and St. John's Nfld., as well as Calgary.

The grey-haired hospital superintendent told a reporter that her job boils down to one word—responsibility.

Women's Groups ASCOT W.I.

The regular monthly meeting of Ascot W.I. was held recently in the Assembly Room at the Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, with the president, Mrs. Dawson Savage, in the chair.

A motion was carried to donate $5 to the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Welfare and Health convener, Mrs. A. Hatcher, asked for workers to go to the Cancer dressings station on July 25th. Mrs. W. Blodgett, Mrs. J. Campbell, Mrs. D. Savage, and Mrs. G. Arguin volunteered.

Mrs. Donald McElrea reported on the successful garden party held at her home recently and thanked the members for their help on that day and before-hand. The president then thanked Mrs. McElrea for opening her home for the occasion.

Letters of thanks for cheer baskets and cards were read by the secretary, Mrs. S. Coates.

Mrs. McCurdy, convener of agriculture, asked that all entries for the Begonia Contest be brought to the August meeting.

The convener of citizenship, Mrs. Norman Bowers, commented on the appointment of a woman to the new cabinet, as Secretary of State.

Home Economics convener, Mrs. W. Pearson, drew attention to the hand-made quilt on display, which had won second prize of $100 in a contest. The quilt is the property of Mrs. Dilon, sister of one of the members. Mention was also made of Lennoxville W.I. winning first prize in the Tweedsmuir Hope chest competition.

Members are requested to bring their donations for the Fair booth to the August meeting.

Attention was drawn to August 14 as the date for the County meeting, which will be held at Milby. There will be a contest of home-made doughnuts or a party apron.

An interesting report on the annual provincial convention, held at Macdonald College, was given by the official delegate, Miss M. Hurley.

As highlights of the convention, she mentioned the fashion show, the addresses on "Safe Driving," "Retarded Children," and "The Future of Farming," and the skit by Fordyce W.I., 1897-1957. She also spoke of the display of handicrafts and the Tweedsmuir Hope chest contest.

Mrs. Norman Bowers reported on the bus trip to Macdonald College for a day to attend the convention, and said that the members who went found the day's activities interesting and enjoyable.

Following the business session, there was a shower for Miss Audrey McElrea, an August bride-to-be, who received many useful gifts, for which she kindly thanked her friends.

A flower-arrangement contest was held, with Mrs. D. McElrea and Mrs. Hogge as judges. First prize was won by Mrs. W. S. Richardson, and second by Mrs. Earl Fearon.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. T. Pearson, Mrs. J. A. Ste. Marie, Mrs. Norman Bowers, and Mrs. C. Mills.

Our Oldest Known Foods Fruits, Vegetables

With Salad Week starting July 25 to August 3rd, the housewife's attention is drawn to the varieties of fresh fruits and vegetables found on our markets today.

Most of the more than 100 fruits and vegetables we know and use in this country today, appeared on the tables of the ancient centuries before the Christian era. Many of them are among the oldest food plants cultivated by man.

During the 20 years that it took to build the gigantic Cheops pyramid at Gizeh, Egypt in the 5th century B. C., the workers consumed about $2 million worth of onions, garlic and radishes. In the Bible, we find the exiled Israelites complaining to Moses that they sorely missed the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions and garlic which were part of their diets in Egypt.

SEEDS 5000 YEARS OLD
Seeds of the primitive green pea have been found in lake mud of areas inhabited by the Swiss lake dwellers of the Bronze Age, some 5,000 years ago. Cherry pits have been discovered in prehistoric caves.

Apricots, bananas, cabbage, grapes, peaches and dates are all believed to have been well known 4,000 years ago. Coconuts were an Asiatic delicacy at least 1,000 years before Christ and grapefruit, lettuce and plums were common by the first century A. D. Historians believe man was budding and grafting apples 2,000 years ago and oranges were mentioned in Chinese writings of 2200 B. C.

FEW ARE NATIVE
Few of the popular fruits and vegetables of today are native to the North American continent. The early settlers learned of corn, pumpkins and squash from the Indians and soon found such delicious fruits as strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, plums, cranberries and blueberries. Varieties of grapes were also discovered here, but those that we normally eat today are of European origin. Aside from these, however, the heritage of our fruits and vegetables is found across the seas.

NEW MODELS
But, ancient as is the lineage of our fruits and vegetables, today's models are a cry from the types that existed centuries ago.

These "new model" fruits and vegetables are not the product of chance but of extraordinarily complex and lengthy procedures by plant breeders. These scientists are able to so manipulate plant genes (the elements in sex cells by which hereditary characters are transmitted) that strong points of one plant are bred into a related plant. Each new variety developed is tested in many ways before being offered for production.

Braves And Dodgers Seem To Have Edge With Pitching In National; Mickey Mantle Clouts For Cycle

Pitching, the asset that made Milwaukee and Brooklyn heavy pennant favorites in springtime guessing, has begun to give the Braves and Dodgers the edge on the pack in that simmering National League race.

At the moment, anyway. The way this scrap is going, today's "facts" usually wind up as tomorrow's fancies.

Since the All-Star game break, the Braves have belted back into the lead by winning 10 of 14, and their pitchers have delivered six complete games in the rally. The Dodgers, winning 11 of 13 in that same span, have had only two complete games for their staff, but have the depth to provide a winning bullpen.

Pitching was the highlight again Tuesday night. Bob Buhl trimmed Philadelphia's failing Phils 1-0 on a two-hitter to retain the Braves' one-game lead over Brooklyn, while Johnny Podres fired his fifth shutout of the season for an 8-3 record. He walked only one Cardinal and fanned three.

Bob Skinner, who hit two home runs, got the Pirates started in the three-run 15th with a single, moving up on an error by losing reliever Brooks Lawrence and scoring the winning run on Dick Groat's single. Law gave up all nine Redleg hits before Bob Purkey came on to mop up. The Pirates had 17 hits, but twice blew one-run leads—when George Crowe's 23rd homer made it 2-2 in the ninth, and again when Jerry Lynch matched Skinner's 13thinning home run.

Drott, a 21-year-old right-hander, just missed the season strike-out high of 15 he set against Milwaukee, but walked only one for his ninth victory and third shut-out. Ray Manzant lost it in his first start.

Mantle regaining the American League batting lead .367 to .360 for Boston's Ted Williams and runs-batted-in lead 69, hit a three-run triple to win for the Yankees in a five-run seventh. He also hit a 465-foot homer, his 26th. Williams has 27. Art Ditmar won in relief for a 7-1 record while Jack Harshman lost his fifth in relief.

Frank Sullivan shut out the A's for a 9-6 record. Virgil Trucks lost it. Billy Hoelt, one of last season's 20-game winners, made it 3-5 for 1957 with his second decision over the Birds, but needed Harry Byrd's help for the final out. Doubles by Bill Tuttle and Charlie Maxwell secured the clincher in the third off Billy O'Dell.

The Dodgers managed only three hits, all off Sam Jones, who left after eight innings. Singles by Gil Hodges and Rube Walker and two walks got the run across in the second inning.

Commissioner Bell Tells Congress That Pro Football Needs Player Draft Clause If It Is To Survive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League told Congress today pro football needs both a player draft and a reserve clause to survive.

Bell said in testimony prepared for the House anti-trust subcommittee that without these and other "equalizing" practices "the highly competitive and colorful sport that we know today would come to an end."

He contended the Supreme Court's decision holding pro football subject to anti-trust laws "jeopardizes the continued existence" of the game.

Bell, a former player and coach, was the initial witness as the subcommittee delved into football as part of its investigation of the legal status of pro sports enterprises.

The Supreme Court's football ruling last winter touched off the inquiry. While declaring football open to anti-trust regulation, the court left unchanged previous decisions exempting baseball.

Now the subcommittee headed by Rep. Celler (D-NY) wants to determine whether all professional team sports should be treated alike by legislation—either within or without the anti-monopoly statutes.

Celler's group already has heard from baseball witnesses and plans later to look into basketball and hockey.

Financially, Bell said today, pro football is a "small operation... primarily an avocation."

Roch Labbe Hurls No-Hit, No-Run As Indians Wallop Yankees; White Sox Upset League-Leading Athletics 5-0

Two games were played in the Little League last night. At the Parade Grounds the White Sox shut-out the Athletics 5-0 and at Lennoxville the Indians romped to a 20-0 win over the Yankees.

At Lennoxville Roch Labbe, the Indians hurler, came up with a no-hit no-run game the first in the league this season. Tonight the Athletics meet the Red Sox at the Parade Grounds.

Roch Labbe, in his no-hitter, gave only four bases on balls and had 10 strikeouts. Yankees did not help their own cause as they committed no less than 5 errors in the game. Labbe, with three hits, Labreque four, and Bouchard with three were the Indians' stars. Yankees have played better than they did in this game. Webb, Morrison and Campaigne were the umpires.

Two errors by M. Roy and R. Dore paved the way for the White Sox two runs in the opening inning of their game with the A's. In the top of the second another costly error, by G. Gingues, followed by a single from La. chance tallied one more run for the Sox.

Athletics got their chance to break into the scoring column in the last of the second but

Brazil's Armando Vieira Risks His Reputation As Prophet Again To Predict Victory Over Israel Cup Squad

MONTREAL (AP)—Brazil's Armando Vieira risked his reputation as a prophet today by casually commenting that his Brazilian Davis Cup team can beat Israel this weekend.

Last weekend, in a first-round North American zone tie against Canada, the Brazilian playing captain had said he wouldn't be surprised if Brazil won it—if young Carlos Fernandez beat Canada's top-ranked Bob Bedard; if Fernandez beat Don Fontana in straight sets and if he and Fernandez won the doubles.

Vieira, 32-year-old veteran of four Brazilian Davis Cup teams, watched the three Israeli players practice fiercely Tuesday in their first warm-up on the grass courts of Mount Royal Tennis Club, where the second-round tie is to be played.

"They were hitting pretty good," he said. "They are nice players but we can take them." Although he would not commit himself to naming his two singles players before the draw Thursday, speculation is that Vieira will name himself and the 19-year-old Fernandez again as

Promoter Emil Lence Says Monday's Fight Between Patterson-Jackson Could Draw As Much As $400,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Emil Lence, new independent fight promoter, says he has $104,000 in advance sales and predicts a gate of between $300,000 and $400,000 for Monday's heavyweight title match at the Polo Grounds between champion Floyd Patterson and Tommy Hurricane Jackson, the No. 1 contender.

Lence, a dress manufacturer in-normal times, is putting in 19-hour days as he combines the dizzy whirl of promoting a major boxing match with his regular business.

"People are calling all the time, wires keep coming in and I must talk to at least 10 newspaper men each day," said Lence in one of his more quiet moments. "I promoted boxing for years at the Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn but it never was like this. That used to take maybe an hour a day."

"Now I'm on the phone all the time, having my picture taken for magazines and trying to nail down all the details. Not that I'm complaining, understand. It's all wonderful. I hope it keeps up."

Lence started his promotion with a neat little nest egg of $175,000 for the radio-television rights from the National Broadcasting Company. That took care of Patterson's guarantee. The champ has an option of 40 per cent of the gate and Jackson gets 20 per cent.

Lence says the profits—he doesn't mention the possibility of a loss—will go to help subsidize boxing in the small clubs. He hopes to run two or three clubs in the New York area as "feeders" to his Eastern Parkway Arena in Brooklyn which he expects to re-open Labor Day.

Lence said he had a rematch contract with Patterson and Jackson if Jackson should score an upset. The site also would be the Polo Grounds, Sept. 17.

Patterson was found in "excellent physical condition" Tuesday at his Greenwood Lake, N. Y. camp when examined by Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State athletic commission. Dr. Schiff said the right hand that Patterson broke against Jackson in June, 1956, is in excellent condition. He said Floyd was "very phlegmatic."

Red Wings Get Wilson, Kennedy, Bassen And Bill Preston In Return As Well As Cash In Big Transfer

Detroit (AP)—Controversial Ted Lindsay, who scored 700 points in 13 brilliant National Hockey League seasons with Detroit Red Wings, has been traded along with all-star goalie Glenn Hall to the last-place Chicago Black Hawks.

The Red Wings got in exchange four players—Johnny Wilson, Forbes Kennedy, Hank Bassen and Bill Preston—and what Detroit officials called "a considerable sum of cash."

The Red Wings had made no secret of their efforts to dispose of the 31-year-old Lindsay, the highest scoring left winger in league history and a key player on eight title-winning teams.

The most penalized player in Detroit hockey history, Lindsay and general manager Jack Adams haven't seen eye-to-eye over the last couple of seasons. A Red Wings standstill since 1944, the brash little forward was stripped of the team captaincy last season and frequently had been publicly criticized by the general manager for his outside business interests.

But Adams said: "All these wild rumors of personal differences between Lindsay and myself are without foundation. My job is to afford the hockey fans of Detroit and Michigan with the best possible team, and considering Wilson's youthfully proven experience and Kennedy's promise, I would be unfaithful to those fans if I hadn't done what I feel is best for the team."

Lindsay, a first-team all star choice eight seasons scored 85 points—second only to teammate Gordie Howe—last season. One of the smaller yet fiercest competitors in the NHL, Lindsay ranks as the fourth highest goal scorer of all times with 321 goals.

He called a press conference for today, explaining "There are some things I would like to say... nothing startling and nothing derogatory. I just feel that after 13 years in Detroit, I'd like to say a few things."

Lindsay, who broke in with the Red Wings when he was only 19, had insisted all along as the consecutive scoreless innings to 21. Havana pecked away at Toronto starter Johnny Schmitz for single runs in the first, fifth and seventh innings. Schmitz, who allowed five Cuban hits before being relieved by Jack Crimian in the eighth, went down to his fifth loss.

Montreal, led by Jim Williams and Bob Wilson, blasted four Miami pitchers for 16 hits. The Royals scored all their runs in the first four innings. Williams had three singles and Wilson drove in two runs. Montreal pitcher Jackie Collum contributed to his own cause with three singles and two RBIs. Frank Herrera and Ben Tompkins hit home runs for the Marlins.

Another fine pitching performance, by Havana's Vicente Amor, prevented the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs from picking up much ground on Buffalo. Amor hurled his second consecutive shutout to give the Sugar Kings a 3-0 triumph.

Montreal Royals emerged from a long batting slump to hammer Miami Marlins 11-7. The game between Rochester Red Wings and Richmond Virginians was postponed because of rain.

Naranjo was within three outs of pitching a no-hitter in the seven-inning opener. Lou Ortiz, leading off the Bisons' seventh, lined a single off the glove of Jet third baseman Johnny Lipon for the only hit. The victory was Naranjo's seventh in 15 decisions and his first victory since he beat Buffalo June 15. He struck out nine, walked five and didn't allow a ball to be hit out of the infield prior to Ortiz' single. Ken Toothman's two-run homer led a seven-hit Jet attack.

Douglas had a string of 19 consecutive scoreless innings stopped when Bill Stewart's double chased home an unearned run in the ninth inning of the nightcap. The Jets got to Buffalo starter Karl Drews in the seventh for four runs on two-run homers by John Powers and Russ Sullivan. Douglas struck out 11 Bisons.

Amor 11-10 gave up two Toronto hits and ran his string of Twenty-two clubs—six Canadian and 16 American—have posted entries. Total manpower is expected to approach 600.

The weatherman promises sunny skies, light winds and 80-degree temperatures for the regatta—the 52nd held in the old Welland Canal at this community three miles north of St. Catharines.

Topping the entry lists is Buffalo West Side Rowing Club, competing in 34 events. The New York Athletic Club has 32 entries, the Detroit Boat Club 23.

The host St. Catharines Rowing Club leads Canadian entry lists with 28—one more than Hamilton Leander.

Other clubs represented are Toronto Argonauts, Wyandotte, Mich. Boat Club and the Chicago Lincoln Boat Club.
