World News In Brief

Istanbul, June 3.—(P)—Special planes were pressed into service today to transport food, equipment and medical supplies to the eastern Turkish province of Mus, where 255 persons were reported killed and 145 injured by an earthquake which heavily damaged several villages Friday.

The village of Varto, northwest of Lake Van, apparently was hardest hit, but the quake extended into Erzurum Province further north. Damage to communications facilities delayed a full report on casualties and damage.

London, June 3.—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee called today for "the fullest flow of information between peoples of all nations" because "the true interest of the ordinary people of the world has ever been hampered by letting the truth be known."

Nearly 100 newspaper executives, attending the First Empire Press Conference since 1935, heard Mr. Attlee re-emphasize the paramount importance of freedom of the press—a freedom which belongs not to the press but to the public whose agents in this matter the newspapers are."

Liverpool, June 3.—(Reuters)—Two United States air mechanics who will undertake a 9,000-mile voyage from Liverpool to California in a 37-ton yacht, the Gannet, are waiting at this British port for clear weather. They expect to sail Tuesday.

The men are 40-year-old Richard W. McKinley, of Glendale, Calif., and Walter Kleneski, of Hollywood. They intend to complete the entire crossing in two months without putting into port. This will involve a 2,600-mile stretch across the Atlantic when they will be out of sight of land.

London, June 3.—(Reuters)—Moscow radio said last night that "the attitude of the Soviet Union toward Iran is one of such friendship as has seldom been found in all history between a great state and a comparatively small one."

It added: "As far as the Azerbaijan problem is concerned, that is a matter of Iranian internal politics only."

The broadcast said that "despite the profits derived from exploitation, working conditions in the British oil concessions (in Iran) are worse than in any other. The British authorities forbid trade union organizations on their properties, and all democratic parties and organizations. Today as before, the administration of the Anglo-Iranian oil company openly declared itself against democracy in Iran."

Naples, June 3.—(P)—Deep sea divers today joined a search for the bodies of 22 missing persons aboard a United States army transport plane which plunged into the sea near here Saturday while en route to the United States from India with 38 returning United States military personnel.

Report On Franco Spain Is Expected To Be Toned Down

New York, June 3.—(P)—Evidence increased today that efforts would be made in the United Nations Security Council to modify some of the conclusions of a sub-committee report recommending steps for an eventual worldwide diplomatic break with Franco Spain.

The spokesman for one delegation, who did not want to be identified, went so far as to predict that the sub-committee's report would not be approved without some modifications. He declined to say what changes he expected.

The report, circulated Saturday after the sub-committee completed a month's investigation of Poland's charges that the Franco regime threatens world peace, will come before the council for action Thursday.

The main recommendation was that the Spanish case be referred to the General Assembly with a request the assembly call for a universal break with Franco if he still is in power in September.

This proposal has the support of five members of the council—France, China, Australia, Poland and Brazil—and possibly others. In view of the previous positions taken by Great Britain, the United States and Russia, however, it would not be surprising if one or more of the Big Three suggested modifications.

Both the United States and Britain have consistently opposed a break with Franco, while Russia has advocated action against Franco but has been against any

C.S.U. Threatens To Call Out Sympathy Strike On Atlantic, Pacific Coasts

Seven Additional Vessels Added to Number Tied Up by Strike During Week-End—Struggle Between Ship-Owners and Union Over Demand for Eight-Hour Day Continues With Grim Intensity at Ports and Canals.

By The Canadian Press

It was a war of words over the week-end in the Canadian Seamen's Union strike against lake shipping for an eight-hour day. But while there were no fresh reports of violence Sunday, the struggle continued with grim intensity at the ports and canals. Both the ship-owners and the union had various successes to report.

The C.S.U. held a mass meeting at Cornwall attended by some 1,000 persons. J. D. (Pat) Sullivan, president of the union, said that the question of the ship-owners employing strike-breakers "to provoke bloody battles" such as the Cornwall clash Friday night will be raised in the House of Commons early this week. Six alleged strike-breakers were still in Cornwall hospital.

One speaker at the Cornwall meeting, H. C. Meade, Atlantic vice-president of the union, declared that any further strike-breaking tactics would result in a sympathy strike by seamen on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. "They aren't going to wait much longer," he said.

The union also reported that at a mass meeting at Windsor, Ont., members of local 200 of the United Automobile Workers Union (C.I.O.) voted $1,000 to the seamen's strike fund with another $1,000 to come June 14 if the strike is not settled by then.

The union claimed a total of seven additional vessels added to the number tied up by the strike during the week-end. These included the algarin, whose crew partly walked off and partly was taken off peacefully, by pickets at Sarnia; the Simcoe at Port William, the Lethbridge at Port Colborne, the Haggerty at the Sault and the Keyport and Barrie at Cornwall. The seventh, the Keyville, was tied up late Friday night at Port Colborne.

But at least five ships sailed with non-union crews over the week-end. Among them were two clearing the lakehead, the Key stone and the Emperor; The Canada Steamships Lines' passenger ship St. Lawrence cleared Montreal for Quebec. The Noronic, which had been held up in the Welland Canal several days, docked at Detroit on Sunday.

A new angle was injected into the dispute when Capt. N. M. Mc Masters, president of the National Maritime Federation, at Montreal, wired federal authorities that if the rival C.S.U. continues to prevent N.M.F. members from manning ships, then his union would retaliate.

In his telegram to the government, Capt. Mc Masters charged that members of his union "have been operating peacefully for years at highest wages and labor standards" but are being "thrown off ships" from Montreal to the lakehead.

The N.M.F. said that if its members are going to be thrown off ships then "we must take action in any way we feel necessary."

All was quiet along the Montreal waterfront, but the C.S.U. charged that the Department of Veterans Affairs was sending men to the inland shipowners' newly opened employment offices there for

U.S. Miners Return Today To Coal Pits

Steel Industry To Raise Production Gradually—Anthracite Diggers Still Continue With Walkout.

Pittsburgh, June 3.—(P)—The United States 400,000 bituminous miners returned to the soft coal pits today, 64 days after they laid down their picks and shovels and the back-to-work movement promised normality again for fuel-starved industries and railroads.

The paralyzed steel industry immediately lifted its production rate in the Pittsburgh area to 85 per cent of capacity for this week, although the magazine Steel estimated it would take "six to seven" weeks for resumption of normal output.

United States Steel Corporation, hardest hit of the steel firms, ordered a gradual recall of its 41,000 workers laid off by the soft coal walkout, but a company spokesman said it would take several weeks to get all employees back on their jobs.

Some bituminous diggers went back to the pits Friday and Saturday. United Mine Workers (A.F.L.) leaders toured the coal fields during the week-end explaining terms of the new contract that includes a welfare fund and an 18 1/2-cent hourly wage boost. Few mines today were slated to remain closed.

The soft coal strike began April 1 and continued unbroken save for a 12-day truce ordered by U.M.W. Chief John L. Lewis. A third of the miners disregarded the truce. Even as the soft coal miners returned to the pits, some 75,000 Pennsylvania anthracite diggers continued idle in a "no contract, no work" dispute. The shutdown began last Friday at midnight when the old agreement expired.

West Virginia's 104,000 miners led the back-to-work movement, with Pennsylvania's 100,000 men right behind. Only in Iowa, where operators of nine mines refused to open until coal prices are hiked, was there idleness.

Says Russia Sought Data On Uranium

Igor Gouzenko Continues Evidence at Trial of Fred Rose on Conspiracy Charge.

By M. N. NEGRU

Canadian Press Staff Writer
Montreal, June 3.—Igor Gouzenko former cipher clerk in the Russian Embassy at Ottawa, testified today at the conspiracy trial of Fred Rose that Russia at the end of July, 1945, sought detailed information concerning "progress of Uranium."

On the witness stand for the fourth day, Gouzenko said the request was made in a telegram to "Grant," identified as Col. Zolotov, former Russian military attaché in Canada, from "the director." Witness said "the director" was the cover name for the "chief of the 1st Intelligence Headquarters, in Moscow."

The telegram was allegedly taken from the Russian Embassy by Gouzenko last September.

P.C. Party Offers Canadians Sure, Safe Road—Sabourin

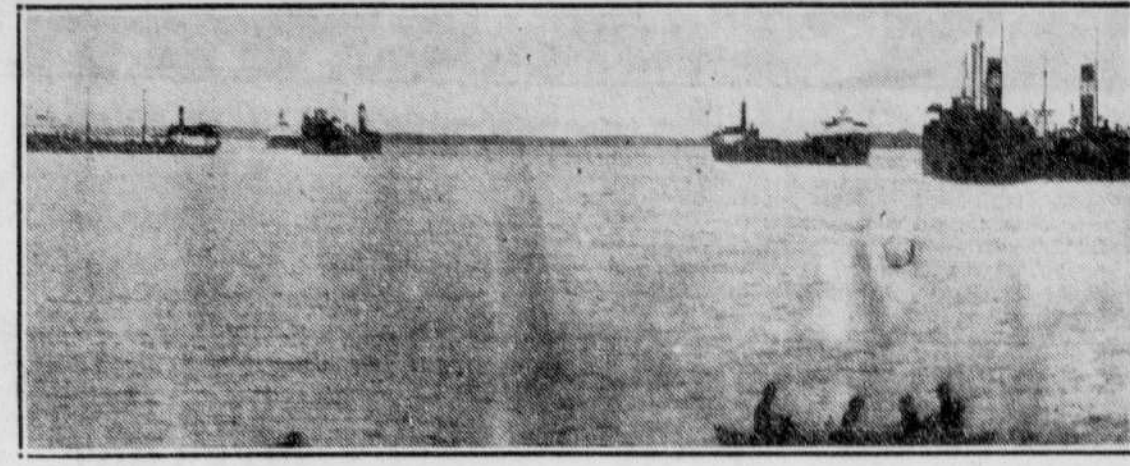

Montreal, June 3.—In his first province-wide broadcast since his recent appointment as leader of the Progressive Conservative Party for the Province of Quebec, Ivan Sabourin, K.C. of St. Johns, Que., said last night in a prepared address that his party offered Canadians a straight, sure and secure road, one that is destined to save Confederation.

His talk—delivered in French—was broadcast by transcription over several privately-owned stations in the Province.

He said that Canada is at a crossroads today, and the citizens must realize that under the Liberal Party they face socialism and even perhaps Communism.

The population of Quebec sought a program that will have true Canadian unity as its highlight. He added that in his opinion the question of protesting the rights of Quebec as well as its institutions was also essential.

Strike At Cornwall

Striking seamen, who have been successful in immobilizing some 27 ships in the vicinity of the Cornwall locks, are using rowboats to patrol the shore near the anchorage point of 17 westbound ships, just below Cornwall locks. The top photo shows seven of the strike-bound ships while a rowboat full of strikers is on patrol. Despite the rain, members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (bottom photo) seem very cheerful as they leave shore to take up watch to prevent "scabs" from boarding ships.

Expect Settlement Tonight 9 Fatalities In Thetford Mines Strike Are Reported On Week-End

Thetford Mines, Que., June 3.—Some 700 employees of the Johnson Mining Company in this Magantic County town and at nearby Black Lake, who walked out last January, claimed upon renewal of the agreement that it represented more workers than the C.C.L. and asked official recognition.

Liguori Pepin, Federal Labor Conciliator, arrived here during the week-end and conferred with representatives of the company and of the Catholic Syndicate. A settlement was expected tonight.

Tim Buck Predicts Third World War

Toronto, June 3.—The second national convention of the Labor-Progressive Party was told Saturday night by Tim Buck that "we want 10,000 new members this year—we want a mass Marxist party, a party of Communists."

In an address to about 300 delegates representing the nine provinces, Buck, the national leader, criticized Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Premier Duggan of Ontario and Premier Duplessis of Quebec, and attacked President Truman as "openly imperialist."

Mr. Buck asserted that "a third world war is in preparation with Canada as the base and scene of operations." He declared that the army exercise Muskox, recently concluded in Canada's far north, and United States naval manoeuvres alike were "preparatory to a drive for world domination" by the capitalist states.

U.S. Maritime Crisis Is Now International

C.I.O. Leaders Appeal to Workers in Other Lands for Help in Their Shipping Strike Scheduled for June 15.

Washington, June 3.—(P)—The United States maritime labor crisis took on an international aspect today.

C.I.O. leaders, losing another critical blast at President Truman, appealed simultaneously to workers in other lands for help in their shipping strike scheduled for June 15.

In this atmosphere, wage and hour negotiations moved slowly along at the labor department. C.I.O. unions and ship operators prepared to meet again today.

Communists Given Set-Back As French Votes Recorded

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, June 3.—(P)—French Communists received their second setback within a month today as returns from yesterday's election for a new constituent assembly showed that the middle-of-the-road Mouvement Republicain Populaire had become the country's strongest political party.

Socialists took an even sharper defeat than the Communists, as the political pendulum swung away from the left, continuing the trend noted in the May 5 referendum when a Communist-Socialist constitution was rejected.

Although returns still had not been received from the colonies, which hold 60 odd seats, the M.R.P. was assured of at least 10 more seats than it held in the last assembly and at least one more seat than the Communists previously held, the Ministry of the Interior said.

Complete but unofficial returns from France and Corsica, as announced by the ministry, showed: M.R.P. 166 seats, compared with 157 in the last assembly.

Communists 145, compared with 159.

Socialists 115, compared with 146. Republican Liberals 59, compared with 64. Republican Rally (Radical-Socialist) 43, compared with 60. Judging from returns in the last two elections, the general trend will not be affected by returns from the colonies.

Japanese War Chiefs Given 10-Day Delay

Defence Motion to Dismiss Charges Against 26 Defendants Rejected by International Tribunal.

Tokyo, June 3.—(P)—The international trials of Japan's accused war-makers opened today with the tribunal blocking their last-minute efforts to escape prosecution—but the 26 prisoners were allowed ten days more in which to prepare their defence.

The court, meeting in a glare of floodlights on the War Ministry building in which many of the defendants are accused of plotting Japan's plunge into war, will be reconvened at 8:30 p.m. E.D.T. today to hear the prosecution's opening statement.

Chief Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan will deliver a 15,000-word condemnation of ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and the other Japanese leaders accused of starting the Second Great War in the Pacific. The presentation probably will last five hours.

The ten black-robed Allied justices may also announce at that time their decision on two other defence motions heard in today's long session: Whether to dismiss the cases against two additional defendants absent because of illness, and whether to accept as facts certain historic events around which part of the prosecution's case is to be built.

Capt. Beverly M. Coleman, of Washington, D.C., chief of the American defence section, told the tribunal Japanese and newly-arrived American counsel needed two weeks to three months to prepare adequately for the trial. The prosecution, the defence noted, has had six months "and hundreds of assistants, investigators and experts."

The court dismissed quickly the defence motion to dismiss charges against the defendants. Chief Justice Sir William Webb of Australia's Queensland Supreme Court brushed aside a prosecution reply with the comment, "We do not require to hear from you, Mr. Chief Prosecutor," and immediately announced the rejection of the motion.

It evidently was the last chance of the prisoners to escape trial, court officials observed; the court earlier had rejected defence challenges of the tribunal's jurisdiction and of the legal scope of the indictments.

Defence Counsel Maj. Ben Blakeney of Oklahoma City, also was cut short by the Chief Justice when he urged the court to give reasons in its findings of facts throughout the cases.

A decision will be announced "later," the Chief Justice said, on a plea to drop charges against the former Foreign Minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, and Propaganda leader Shumei Okawa, absent today because of physical and mental illness, respectively.

The court also reserved decision on the prosecution proposal that certain historic events and documents be accepted as facts without detailed proof. Ichiro Kiyose, No. 1 Japanese defence lawyer, attacked the proposal vigorously and said many such "facts" set up by the prosecution were erroneous. Kiyose denied, for instance, that Manchukuo was established March 9, 1931, as the prosecution stated.

Most of the prisoners, guarded by military police, followed the arguments with interest.

McGILL GRADS HELD REUNION ON SATURDAY

"My Twenty-five Years at McGill" was the topic of a reminiscence address by Professor A. H. S. Gilson, chairman of the department of mathematics, McGill University, and vice-principal of Dawson College, at the banquet meeting of the McGill Graduates Society of St. Francis Valley held Saturday night at the New Sherbrooke.

President F. Gordon LeBaron presided. The speaker was introduced by Walter Sutherland and thanked by Lawrence Cooper.

The group of graduates with their friends played golf at the Sherbrooke Country Club in the afternoon and attended a dance at the New Sherbrooke following the banquet.

Professor Gilson, who is a graduate of Cambridge University, served in the Royal Navy in World War I. During World War II he was officer commanding No. 1 Central Navigation School, Riverview, with the rank of wing commander.

Professor Gilson stressed the necessity for the humanities in contemporary life, "the point being that we have to turn out not only scientists now, but human beings who can cope with contemporary problems and the relations of human beings with each other."

He spoke of the excellence of veterans as students. McGill University, he declared, has never had such a small percentage of failures since its facilities were first opened to returned servicemen. He felt that the residential quality of life at Dawson College was a "considerable factor" in the matter.

Among those attending were Eric A. Leslie, vice-president and controller, C.P.R., and Mrs. Leslie; F. G. Ferrabee, vice-president, Canadian Ingersoll-Rand and vice-president of the Graduates Society; S. Boyd Miller, regional vice-president of the Graduates Society, and D. Lorne Gales, field secretary of the Graduates Society.

of the Communists, Socialists and M.R.P.

Political observers said that the factors which had an 11th-hour influence on the campaign in France, will a battleground between the ideologies of Communism and Democracy were:

1. The fact that the recent Foreign Ministers Conference here ended in sharp disagreement between Russia and the west.
2. The United States loan to France, negotiated by Socialist Party Leader Leon Blum.
3. An open break between Communist and Socialist parties within the last month.
4. A radio address by Pope Pius Saturday in which the Pontiff said that the election, like the one held in Italy yesterday, offered a choice between the "Christian way of life" as opposed to the "materialistic state."

Among successful candidates to the new assembly were Maurice Thorez, Secretary-General of the French Communist Party; Edouard Daladier, pre-war Premier; former Premier Edouard Herriot, Radical-Socialist leader; Pierre Mendes-France, financial expert; former Premier Paul Reynaud; and Michel Clemenceau, son of the First Great War leader.

AMOUNT FIXED FOR PUBLICITY SAID ALARMING

Ottawa, June 3.—Amounts set aside in estimates for publicity purposes for the Department of Health and Welfare drew the fire of Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., (Prov. Cons., Vancouver-Burnaby), on Friday, who declared that an increase of $154,000 over last year was "alarming, when we should be doing everything we can to curtail expenditures." Col. Merritt pointed out that $570,530 was listed for publicity out of a total of $5,500,000.

He asked the minister to explain what degree of efficiency he thought was obtained from these grants for publicity and if he did not think he would get more value in relation to the health of the Canadian people if the funds were spent in other ways.

Mr. Claxton, in reply, pointed out that enough was now known about disease to wipe out most of the killing power of most diseases from which men suffered except cancer and arthritis.

"But tuberculosis and a great many other diseases could be wiped out completely with the knowledge we have. The difference between what we do and what we know is due just to the failure of public opinion to back up the demands of health authorities and others for adequate assistance and adequate support. We must bring home to the people the fact that they can secure adequate help and assistance if they go to the doctor, take his advice and follow it soon enough. That is true also of the killer cancer."

"So that I would say that today the greatest single failure of public health authorities is a lack of education and a lack of information. If we are to do anything in this field to bring what we know we can do up so as to match what we should do, that gap must be bridged by public information."

He thought that the amount spent for health publicity by the government would be a good deal less than half that sought for the advertising of particular commodities by half-a-dozen or more Canadian industries.

"We believe," he said, "that these expenditures pay dividends just as industrialists believe their expenditures pay."

Mr. Claxton pointed to the education campaign with regard to tuberculosis which had produced the result that in 40 years three-fourths of the former killing power of tuberculosis had been eradicated in Canada.

"I believe we can do the same thing with other diseases and conditions, taking them one after another," he said, "and that also in the fields of nutrition and positive health and preventive medicine we can achieve still more."

He thought the amount for publicity and public education not too large "having regard to the fact that some of these things must be dealt on a nation-wide basis if they are to have any effect."

W. G. Blair, (Prov. Cons. Lanark), thought that public health research work had been neglected in Canada. Little research had been carried out by the Dominion and very little by the provinces.

Noted Journalist Passes In Quebec

Montreal, June 3.—Charles Lintern Sibley, until his retirement two years ago president and editor of the Montreal Herald, died suddenly yesterday at the home of friends at Lac Superior, Que. He was in his early seventies.

A native of England, where he began his newspaper career with the Western Daily Mail, Mr. Sibley came to Canada at the turn of the century. He was connected with the old Montreal Witness, the Montreal Star, then joined the Herald in 1903. He became a well-known speaker, wrote for many magazines and had a reputation as a strong editorial writer.

Survivors include his widow, the former Beatrice Lily Rudbeck, of Montreal, and two daughters.

THIEVES REAP LITTLE LOOT IN THREE TRIES

An organized band of petty thieves, said to be operating in Sherbrooke, are believed responsible for breaking and entering several premises on Drummond St., Saturday night.

At 183 on that thoroughfare, a door was forced open leading to the store of Adrien Boutin and $30 in cigarettes were stolen while a sum of money in the cash register was untouched.

This robbery occurred at approximately 10:15 o'clock at night and near the same hour an apartment at 193, the same street, was forced open and canary and cage purloined. The bird, still alive, and the cage were later recovered in a lane behind Lincoln Street and returned to the owner Charles Bisson.

Entry was forced to a second apartment home of V. Morin, at the above address but nothing was reported stolen. During the evening a resident of an apartment in the upper stories of the building heard a rending noise but did not investigate. The time was set at approximately 10:15 o'clock. Police are investigating.

or decisions because of fear of "the all-powerful Russia." He urged that they stop talking of Russia's power and begin talking of the strength of Canada, the United States and Britain.

Mr. O'Konski called Poland "the key of the future of the world," and said, "if the English-speaking nations of the world allow her to be sold down the river to Communism, then the freedom of the world has failed. It's all right to get along with the Russians, but we don't have to give them everything. There is no difference in Hitler trying to take all of Europe than there is in letting Stalin take it all, and there is no reason to believe he will stop just there."

He claimed the Yalta agreement terms were broken when Poland was denied a free election after the war, and when Stalin appointed his own government in that country, headed by a president who had been a Soviet citizen since 1921.

This government, he stated, now was opening UNRRA supplies for its own use and to help jam Communism down the throats of the Polish people.

Drew Claims Reds Menace World Peace

Toronto, June 3.—Premier Drew, in an address to more than 2,000 members of the Canadian Polish Congress yesterday, demanded that Canada be freed of Communist influences and urged that the combined strength of Canada, the United States and Britain be used to preserve the peace and to free Poland and the smaller countries of Europe from what he termed "poison being spread from Moscow."

Premier Drew and Alvin O'Konski, United States Congressman of Wisconsin, were speaking at a joint celebration in Massey Hall commemorating the anniversary of the third of May constitution and the 20th anniversary of the birth of Kosciuszko, Polish patriot.

Premier Drew warned everything that led to war in 1939 was being repeated now, but pointed out that the free people of the world are determined to stand by now as they were then.

Too many people, he declared, were afraid to make any suggestion strike-breaking jobs.

The question of strike-breakers also flared at the lakehead. Mayor Garfield Anderson of Fort William, heard a delegation of seamen and then wired to Ralph Misener, a director of the Sarnia and Colonial Steamship Company at Winnipeg, that these men were not aware when they were hired at Winnipeg that they were to replace strike lake crews. The men apparently refused to take jobs assigned them and Mayor Anderson suggested their transportation should be paid back to Winnipeg.

Gingues Confident Veterans' Housing Problem To Be Solved By Veterans' Committee Today

The veterans' housing question which was first brought up in Sherbrooke early last week and has since assumed national proportions, is due for discussion by the Veterans' Committee of the House of Commons today.

The question of whether the veterans or the government should bear the additional cost of veterans' homes presently being built under the Veterans' Land Act which has been incurred by the rising cost of lumber and building materials, will be the main issue at stake.

There have been no local developments since a meeting of Sherbrooke and district ex-servicemen forwarded a telegram of protest to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, and Maurice Gingues, Member of Parliament for Sherbrooke, on Thursday night.

However, Mr. Gingues, who was in Sherbrooke over the week-end, told a Record reporter he was convinced that the committee meeting at Ottawa today would "arrive at a solution satisfactory to all concerned" and that he would not attempt to intervene further in the matter "until a full report has been tabled in the House by the committee."

He denied a report that in a telegram forwarded to J. A. Bourgeois, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, on Saturday, he had promised to meet local vets, but he stated that he did confer with Mr. Bourgeois.

It was the opinion of Mr. Gingues that the veterans, "at this stage," should not be forced to absorb any proportion of the loss brought about by increased construction costs, but he declined any further comment because, "this problem is steadily becoming Dominion-wide and involves a great many important issues which would guide the government's future course on such eventualities."

According to officials in charge of the local housing for veterans, only two of the thirty homes, which were ready for occupancy June 1st, have been occupied by ex-servicemen and their families. It was stated at Department of Veterans' Affairs that the remainder had not been accepted as yet, but that this situation was in no way connected to any of the problems which have arisen during the past week.

However, there is a considerable number of veterans who have already made their $600 deposit on a home, many of whom are wary of signing the government contract which has been revised to oblige the veterans to pay any amount in excess of the original $6,000 for their homes as set down in the last Order in Council.

APPEAL DRIVE OVER MARK IN RURAL PARISH

Success has met the efforts of Anglican Advance Appeal canvassers in the parish of Waterville, North Hatley and Eustis, with the objective of $900 cleared by a margin of $481.25 with all returns not yet in.

Of the total of $1,381.25 raised to date, North Hatley, with an objective of $550, contributed $882.75, Waterville, with an objective of $350, gave $428.50, and Eustis, asked for $40, contributed $70.

Organizers of the Appeal in this district, announcing these results today, voiced thanks to the canvassers for their efforts, and to the parishioners for their generosity.

COMMENCEMENT SERVICE HELD AT STANSTEAD

Stanstead, June 3.—Centenary United Church was filled to capacity yesterday morning, with many from out-of-town joining the regular congregation to attend a special service in connection with the commencement exercises of Stanstead College.

"The Land of the Heart" was the topic of a stirring sermon delivered by Rev. Lynn Harold Hough, A.B., B.D., Th.D., Litt. D., D.D., LL.D., J.U.D., of Madison, N.J., the special speaker for the occasion. The four other clergymen assisting in the service were Rev. E. C. Amaron, M.A., B.D., principal of the College, Rev. C. M. Stewart, B.A., B.D., of Centenary Church, Rev. H. A. Carson, B.A., D.D., of Stanstead South Church, and Rev. A. B. Lovelace, B.A., B.D., of Beebe.

Adding much to the atmosphere of the service was the beautiful music provided by the College orchestra, under the direction of Miss Muriel Heath, and an augmented choir with Miss Ethel M. Nesbitt, Mus. Bac., as musical director and Mrs. A. Harlowe Martin at the organ.

Mozart's "Quoniam" (Mass in G), by organ, piano and orchestra was heard as a prelude prior to the call to worship given by Principal Amaron. The processional hymn was "All Glory, Laud and Honor," and the congregation remained standing for the responsive reading led by Rev. Mr. Lovelace. Following the Gloria the choir sang the anthem, "Kyrie," from Farmer's Mass in B flat. Rev. Mr. Carson gave the Scripture reading.

Miss Jean Scarth was heard in the solo, "Lord, Thou Has Been Our Dwelling Place," (Phillips), and Rev. Mr. Stewart's prayer was preceded by the choral chant, "The Lord Is In His Holy Temple."

During the offering the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" was performed by organ, piano and orchestra, following which choir and congregation sang the Doxology. Rev. Dr. Hough's sermon was followed by another anthem, "Gloria," from Farmer's Mass in B flat, and then the hymn, "Unto the Hills," was sung.

The singing of the Canadian and American National Anthems was followed by the Benediction, pronounced by Rev. Dr. Hough, and Stark's "Festival March," was played as a postlude by Mrs. Martin.

Rev. Dr. Hough also preached Sunday night at a special College service in Stanstead South Church.

Safety Certificates Given 69 Workers At Pulp, Paper Mill

Sixty-nine certificates of safety, attesting that the recipients had sustained no loss-of-time accidents on their respective machines for a period of five years, were given to employees of the Brompton Pulp and Paper Corporation, Ltd., at a safety rally held in St. Praxed Church Hall, Bromptonville, last night.

Additionally, 138 cards, indicating that workers had attained a similar record in operating their equipment over a 12-month period, were awarded.

Safety is not a one-sided affair. F. Clifford, personnel manager, told the gathering, "Management has a moral responsibility to look after its human assets probably even more than its capital or machinery assets. But the worker also has an obligation. An obligation to keep himself in shape in order to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, to care for his wife and children and to contribute to the betterment of the community in which he lives." This he can accomplish only by taking every precaution to prevent accidents to himself or others.

The company is making an intensive effort to step-up the safety record of the plant which at present, Mr. Clifford admitted, did not compare any too favorably with other similar plants. "It is not our intention to establish negligence on the part of the employees nor to fix blame on foremen," the personnel head continued, "it is the duty of every individual to preach safety, to practise safety and to think safety in his everyday work."

A six-point set of safety rules has been established in the Brompton plant, the speaker stated, and these regulations must be adhered to, he said. They are: reduction in the number of accidents, in industrial disease, in absenteeism, in number of transfers, in wastage and machine inefficiency and an increase in machine and workman efficiency.

LAST MEETING OF SEASON AT LENNOXVILLE

The Women's Auxiliary of St. George's Church held their regular meeting in the parish hall with a good attendance. The meeting opened with an Ascensiontide hymn and prayers.

The treasurer reported a good financial standing and was authorized to send the half-yearly pledges. A special donation was sent to the China and India Relief Fund, and a gift from Rev. B. Watson in memory of his wife, a former member, to the Panerlung Hospital in the far north.

Miss E. Stevens, Dorcas secretary, reported all bills paid, in connection with the outfit sent, and a small balance on hand. Mrs. J. Morrison and Mrs. M. Converse were named delegates to the annual meeting to be held in Richmond on June 11 and 12.

Mrs. L. V. Parent stated that anyone having extra meat coupons which they wished to turn over for extra shipment overseas, might leave them with Mrs. J. Morrison or Mrs. Lee M. Watson. Mrs. Parent also gave a good report on the young people's festival held here recently and commented on the splendid work done by the girls.

This being the closing meeting for the summer months, as president she wished the members a happy holiday.

Rev. A. Jones pronounced the benediction and slides were shown on the study book, "More Than Conquerors," after which the hostesses, Miss Stevens and Mrs. Hartley, served tea.

NORTH HATLEY CHURCH MARKS ANNIVERSARY

North Hatley, June 3.—The forty-fourth anniversary of the North Hatley Baptist Church was observed on Sunday and Monday, May 26, 27.

At the Sunday evening service in the church, the guest preacher was Mr. George Adam, of Montreal, past president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. Mr. Adam spoke on Christian Graces. The Rev. H. E. Secord, of Sherbrooke, conducted the services and a duet was sung by Mrs. Clifford Wright and Miss Jean Mouloud, of Sherbrooke, accompanied by Mrs. Glen Bennett, organist.

On Monday evening, an anniversary supper was held at the community hall under the sponsorship of the North Hatley Ladies' Aid. Following the supper hour there was an informal song service and Mr. Adam gave an inspired address on the theme: The Origin of the Church.

TWO HURT IN ACCIDENT
Claire and Lydia McCutcheon, 14 and 12 years of age respectively, were rushed to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital late last night where doctors are now awaiting result of X-ray examinations to determine how seriously they are injured.

Details of the accident are lacking but the youngsters were said to have been injured while riding a single bicycle near their home at Coaticook. Neither of them is said to be seriously hurt.

About the only notable feature of the month of May from a meteorological point of view was the amount of rain that fell, according to data released today by the Dominion Experimental Station at Lennoxville.

Much to the disgust of the farmers of the Eastern Townships, 3.67 inches of rain tumbled from the skies during last month. While not approaching the total of 6.69 inches which set a 32-year record in May of 1945, the last month's fall of 3.67 inches was well above the average monthly rainfall of 2.94 inches.

In all other respects, figures for last month's weather performance are practically normal. The average temperature for the month was 51.69 degrees, which will not occasion any surprise when compared to the 32-year average for May of 51.76 degrees, and the figure of 49.76 for May, 1945. Highest temperature for the month, 82, was recorded on May 25, seven degrees under the all-time high of 89, recorded in 1932. It got down to 20, however, on May 4, only one above the record low, 19, also recorded in 1932.

Sunshine for the month totalled 184 hours, as against an average of 200.8 hours. There was a marked increase in sunshine over last year, when only 114 hours were recorded. The brightest May on record was in 1934, when 205.6 hours of sunshine were experienced. Last year's mark represented the least sunshine on record.

Office Workers Permitted To Enter Paton Plant, But Mill Still Picketed By Strikers

Office workers of the strike-able plant by the walk-out (which is claimed to be illegal) of the employees.

No further developments have taken place in regard to the seventeen arrests made last week on intimidation charges. The accused are at present at liberty on bail.

Director of Police Edouard Morneau told the Record this morning that he had no further instruction in the matter except to keep the picketers moving.

However further developments in connection with the interim injunction are expected at any time.

Despite the issuance of an interim injunction last week by Mr. Justice Dalmia Landry of Superior Court, ordering picketers to desist from their activities until such time as a damage action against the strikers union was settled, this morning some 30 to 35 women and men were parading slowly before the factory gates. Police evidently had not orders to make arrests but were merely keeping the crowd on the move.

Court officials declared that, to date, no protests against the injunction proceedings had been filed by strikers. In addition to the name of the Association of Workers of the Paton Mills a number of the officers were specifically mentioned in the petition for the injunction and in the damage action for $5,000, instituted by the company, in which it is claimed that irreparable damage has been done.

THE RCAF HAS OPENINGS FOR

AIRFRAME MECHANICS

THE JOB: Trim fighters and great bombers and transports require constant care of wings and fuselage. That is the task of the airframe mechanics and those in the allied trades: carpenters, fabric workers and metal-worker-welders. Service or civilian experience in the trades can mean immediate higher "grouping" and hence higher pay. Previous trade experience is not essential, and valuable training is provided through special courses. Applicants should normally possess junior matriculation or its technical-school equivalent, but civilian qualifications and experience are considered in the case of certain trades. If they have no previous service experience, applicants must be over 18 and under 26.

THE PAY: Basic pay plus living allowances for non-commissioned ranks runs from $95 monthly for Aircraftman Class 2 to $188 for Warrant Officer Class One; extra pay for trade proficiency and increased pay after three years in any rank; marriage allowance of $20 a month; free uniform clothing and medical and dental service.

THE PENSION: A lifetime income on discharge after 20 years' or more service; pensions or gratuities in the event of prior discharge on medical grounds, and pensions or gratuities to widows or children in the event of death while on service.

VETERANS' PREFERENCE: As among applicants, war veterans applying for reappointment will receive preference, and if accepted will be reappointed to the ranks they held at the time of their discharge, or to the nearest ranks which establishment permits; and their prior service will be a factor in promotion and pension.

TERMS OF SERVICE: Accepted applicants enter Interim Force, which terminates on or before September 30, 1947; good conduct, satisfactory medical category and trade proficiency will enable airmen to enlist in Regular Air Force for five years and re-engage thereafter for further five-year terms.

WHERE TO APPLY: Application should be made to No. 1 Air Command, RCAF, Trenton, Ont.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS

The actual emergence of the moderate Mouvement Republicain Populaire as the leading group in the new French Constituent Assembly designed to draw up a new constitution for the French Republic as the result of yesterday's voting is in line with the forecasts made following the recent rejection of the Communist prepared constitution. The vote is the second clear-cut setback for the Communists within the past month and is apparently a sign that for the time being at least the traditional conservatism of the French people is re-asserting itself and that the Communist movement has passed the high-water mark and that its tide is receding.

The result of this election will have important bearings elsewhere than in France, for the creation of a moderate government in that country may well form the basis of the establishment of a strong democratic movement in Western Europe, embracing Holland and Belgium where the moderates have already shown their strength in parliamentary voting.

Many observers have seen in the French vote a definite indication of the future trend of events West of Berlin. Had the Communists scored an impressive victory, some believe that they would have sought to put their imprint on all the adjoining nations and perhaps have used France as a stepping stone for an assault upon Spain. With a defeat in France, Russia may turn its attention elsewhere and perhaps seek to further strengthen its hold on the Balkans, realizing that the time is not ripe for the spread of its philosophy in the west.

A moderate French Government may also adopt a more conciliatory tone towards Spain where the present United Nations policy is believed strengthening rather than undermining the Franco regime.

QUEER PSYCHOLOGY

The almost universal approval which has greeted the $1,370,000,000 loan by the United States to France provides a sharp contrast to the continued quibbling in Congress over the larger loan of $3,750,000,000 to Great Britain. Yet the purposes of both loans are almost identical in their basic principles — the restoration of the economy of the two countries so that they might resume their normal places as major trading powers.

It is difficult to understand the psychology of those who are so actively opposing the British credit while hailing the advances proposed for France. True the loan should help the restoration of France and if that country can return to the ranks of active traders, the economic position of the world will be substantially improved. But sound reason would indicate that there can be no hope for any really material improvement in the general position of French industry and commerce unless Great Britain is placed in a position to play her part in the restoration. Over the centuries the economic interests of the two countries have been closely intertwined. For the most part their commerce is complementary. Britain produces articles badly needed by the French, while the natural exports of France are items generally unobtainable in the British Isles unless imported. Thus, with Britain restored to a position where she can exchange goods freely with her neighbor across the channel, French recovery will be speeded.

United States speakers are loud in proclaiming that the French loan is regarded as good business—a statement to which no one can reasonably take exception. But it is inconceivable that they hope to realize any major results without extending corresponding aid to the greatest of all trading nations.

THE JAP MENACE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Although much has been said and written about the real dangers of the Nazis establishing a totalitarian state in South America in which they can prepare the foundations for their next campaign of world conquest, little has been heard of an equally dangerous movement, the Japanese infiltration into the social, political and economic life of many of these countries.

In the years between the two Great Wars, some South American nations, the chief of which was Brazil, saw in the desire of Japan to get rid of some of its surplus population an excellent opportunity of filling up their empty acres, with the result that a large-scale immigration movement was arranged. But with typical Japanese psychology, these newcomers, did not let themselves be absorbed into the life of the country where they settled. Rather they established themselves in separate communities where they could maintain Japanese customs and traditions and at the same time conduct propaganda campaigns throughout the countryside designed to convince the other residents of the beauties of the Japanese ways of life.

That they have become more fanatical as their country faced defeat in its world-domination policy is indicated by the evidence uncovered by the Brazilian police, which showed that the country was covered with a net-work of Japanese secret societies, all with the object of convincing the world that Japan did not meet with defeat and that in reality the British and Americans were forced to accept ignoble surrender terms.

Inconceivable as it may seem, these secret societies, mostly dominated by former senior Japanese officers, have made much headway in the Japanese-settled areas and the Brazilian officials are plagued by a series of murders and assaults, apparently carried out by sect members against outsiders who seek to place the true facts before the people. It is on these secret societies that the Japanese are pinning their hopes for a new movement which may accomplish in the future what the Japanese Imperial Government was unable to do in the past.

HOW THE ROYAL NAVY PAID

The brilliant work of the Royal Navy and its allied forces in maintaining the vital life-lines essential to the continued resistance of the British people of Nazi oppression and to the later invasions of North Africa and Continental Europe has been often told and the stories have indicated that the results were only achieved at the tremendous cost of life and equipment. But it remained to Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, to reveal the full extent of the losses in his recent address which accompanied the submission of the naval estimates to the British House of Commons.

In the whole course of the war nearly 51,000 officers and men of the Royal Navy, excluding the navies of the Dominions and the Royal Marines, were killed or missing, which number exceeds by 20,000 the number killed in the First Great War.

The losses of warships and craft, including requisitioned ships in naval service, that is ships of all sizes and sorts, from the beginning to August 31, 1945, amounted to 3,282. These figures included three battleships and two battlecruisers, or one third of the capital ship strength at the outbreak of the war, five fleet carriers, 23 cruisers, 134 destroyers and 77 submarines. This provides a grim example and a grim warning, if such a warning should be needed, of the terrible cost of modern warfare.

To a degree the material losses were offset by German ships seized at the signing of the armistice. In North-West Germany, Norway and Denmark, 2,493 German war vessels fell into Allied hands, of which 1,962—including 203 U-boats—were operational or capable of repair within a short time, and 501 were damaged, scuttled in shallow waters or still under construction. In addition, a total of 996 commissioned U-boats, German, Italian and Japanese, were destroyed by the Allies, an average of nearly one every two days throughout six years of war.

Certainly the report of the Admiralty chief is ample proof that during the Second Great War, the Royal Navy lived up to the highest traditions established over the centuries, traditions which have been handed on to the Royal Canadian Navy and other fleets which reached their fruition during those trying days.

MONEY WELL SPENT

The decision of the Dominion Government to renew the grants to the local fair associations, cut off as an economy measure in the early years of the war, will be welcomed by residents across the Dominion who fully appreciate the great work which is being carried on by these organizations. The suspension of the grants was a serious blow to each of the fair groups, but many of them managed to struggle along and provide their annual show. Others, however, were forced to suspend operations.

Those who were able to continue operations will find their future path made easier by the resumption of these grants, while others face the possibility of renewing their annual events.

The county fairs have played an important part in the improvement of agriculture in Canada for more than a century and any expenditure made to permit them to maintain operations is money well spent. Certainly with the millions of dollars the government is handing out in various quarters, the comparatively modest expenditure on providing these grants cannot be objected to.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The strangers shall fade away, and be afraid of their close places.—Psalms 18:45.

Shame arises from the fear of men, conscience from the fear of God.—Samuel Johnson.

"Don't You Read The Papers, Son?"

Above is published one of a series of editorial cartoons stressing the need for food in starving Europe. As Canadian and United States tables are piled high with ample food of all kinds, men and women in France, Holland, Belgium, Norway and Greece—men and women who for five years fought day and night under the most dangerous conditions to help our cause—are literally starving. They must be helped now. Food is the best way to show our gratitude, it is our best insurance against another war. Food is the most practical demonstration of democracy that this continent can give to a Europe not only starving for freedom, but just starving—period. EDITOR.

Mr. Justice A. M. Lebel, of the Supreme Court of Ontario, sentenced

a veteran to 15 years' imprisonment on a serious charge and the warning he sounded was especially addressed to those who are inclined to expect leniency from the courts because they are ex-servicemen.

Said His Lordship: "When you entered the armed forces you took an oath to defend your life, if need be, our way of life. This court is protecting that way of life by sending you to jail, for nothing is more sacred to our way of life than the womanhood of this country."

Veterans rightly expect preference in the matter of employment,

LONGEVITY ON PARLIAMENT

Montreal Gazette

The fact that Mr. Mackenzie

King in June will pass even the long record in office of Sir John

A. Macdonald serves to remind Canadians that their prime minister is no longer young. But it should also remind them of the fact that being Prime Minister of Canada seems to prolong the life rather than to abridge it. Canadian prime ministers have a custom of dying full of years.

The record shows that Canada has had eleven prime ministers since Confederation. It is true that some held office only for brief periods. Yet all were men who had been subjected through many years to the strains of public life. It appears that, with only a single exception, all Canadian prime ministers have died over the age of seventy. The single exception is Sir John Thompson, who, at the age of 50, dropped dead in Windsor

Castle a few minutes after having been made a Privy Councillor.

The comparatively early end of Sir John Thompson seems to emphasize the longevity of his predecessors and successors. For of the other seven prime ministers who are now dead, four died in their seventies, one in his eighties, and two in their nineties. Two former prime ministers are living

—both in their seventies.

Even eminent medical authorities, who have shaken dubious heads over the life expectancy of prime ministers, have themselves lived to be surprised, if not abashed. Sir William Osler once pronounced Sir Charles Tupper to be a very sick man. Some twenty years later, while attending a ceremony at the Cathedral at Antwerp, someone tapped him on the shoulder. On turning around, he saw Sir

Charles, who smiled sweetly and said, "Not dead yet!" That was in 1901, when Sir Charles was 80. He lived to die in 1915, when in his 95th year.

If the record of Canadian prime ministers is placed beside that of the presidents of the United States, the comparison is definitely favorable to Canada. Since the Civil War (a period approximately equal to that of the Dominion of Canada) the average age of the presidents has been only 62.4 years.

There is contrast in another particular. For three presidents have lost their lives through assassination, whereas no Canadian prime minister has yet had the opportunity to fall a blessed martyr.

There must be some explanation for the longevity of those who head

Canada's governmental system.

Perhaps it is the pure air on Parliament Hill. Or perhaps it is the essential tranquillity of the Canadian political scene.

offered inferior substitutes at outrageous prices.

Canada's cost-of-living index is higher than at any time during the war—more than 50 per cent higher than the 1935-36 average. But that is only part of the story. The index does not take into account the deterioration of quality nor the lower volume of production. Statisticians no longer pretend that their figures can measure those factors.

All that the country knows is that its manufacturing is not prospering. Prosperity is not achieved by dropping the standards of quality and raising prices. The test of prosperity is maximum production of better goods at lower prices.

Controls which impede maximum production will have to be abolished before progress can be made.

Men's clothing is a good example.

It is scarce because government regulations make it more profitable for manufacturers to use their textiles for women's clothes.

The cure for inflation, black markets and unemployment is sustained all-out production. Restrictions which interfere with that should be dropped because they endanger reconversion and recovery.

This includes the controls that tend to induce deterioration, to force goods out of production, to raise prices, to encourage subterfuge and to put a damper on initiative.

Not all controls come within these categories. Figures issued last week, for instance, show the contrast between today's reasonable prices for such staples as butter, eggs, sugar, bread and milk and the extortionate prices charged after the last war.

Officials who have their hands on the throttle of Canada economy can adjust their de-control program by a sensible comparison of present conditions with pre-war practice.

Let them examine the list of commodities which were produced before the war. What did they cost to produce then, and what profit margin was sufficient? Can the same manufacturers produce a similar article today and make a profit within today's price ceiling?

If the manufacturer isn't making that article now, why not? Is the price too low? Is there a shortage of manpower or raw materials? If so, what can be done to release the nation's full industrial potential?

Presentation To Bride-To-Be At Meeting Of Ayer's Cliff Y.W.A.

Ayer's Cliff, June 3.—Mrs. H. Nelson Pierce and Miss Phyllis Little were joint hostesses for the Young Women's Association at the Ayer's Cliff, when eighteen members and three visitors were present.

The president, Mrs. R. G. McHarg, was in the chair and opened the meeting with prayer after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. S. J. Astbury. The treasurer, Mrs. S. I. Baldwin, gave the financial report, which was most satisfactory.

The pleasant feature of the evening was when Mrs. Sanderson, on behalf of the Association in a very delightful speech presented Miss Little, a bride-to-be, with a set of pyrex mixing bowls in various colors, and expressed the wish for her happiness in the future. Miss Little was taken completely by surprise, but was not long in rising to the occasion and voiced her sincere thanks, and invited them to visit her in her own home.

A very appropriate poem called "Tale," was read by Mrs. Martha Gibson and was heartily applauded by those present.

Other plans were made for the future activities including the play which is being presented by Beebe players.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Pierce and Miss Little assisted by Mrs. Merrill, and a delightful evening was spent.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Emma Stevenson was feted at the home of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. N. Claude Whitcomb, with whom she has spent the winter, when she was the guest of honor at a birthday party on May 23, which was delightfully arranged for her. The guests were all relatives.

A pleasant social evening was spent and Mrs. Whitcomb was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Miss Alice Whitcomb, of Magog, and Miss Charlotte Whitcomb, of Massawippi, while Mrs. Harold S. Bean, of Beebe, presided over the attractive table, covered with a beautiful drawn-work linen cloth and was centered with daffodils and narcissus, and lighted by green and white tapers in silver holders.

All joined in wishing Miss Stevenson "many happy returns," and Miss Alice Whitcomb presented her with many gifts in remembrance of the day, voicing the wish for years of health and happiness ahead.

Miss Stevenson feelingly expressed her sincere appreciation for the party in her honor and also for the gifts and good wishes.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

ROSS-WALLACE

The marriage of Wilma Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Wallace, of Lennoxville, to Mr. Warren George Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas G. Ross, of Sherbrooke, took place at the Lennoxville United Church on Saturday, June 1, at three o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. N. D. McLeod officiating. The church was decorated with standards of white lilac, with the guest pews marked by bows of white tulle. Miss Betty MacKenzie was at the organ for the wedding marches and played a soft accompaniment during the ceremony. She accompanied Miss Thelma Crawford, soloist, who sang Love's Coronation during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a floor-length gown of white organza with ivory embroidery over white silk made on princess lines having a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands.

Her full-length veil of embroidered tulle illusion was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of pink Rapture roses, lilies-of-the-valley and forget-me-nots. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. George Johann, Jr., of Compton, as maid of honor, was in a fitted floor-length dress of pink georgette having a full skirt with lace insets. She wore a small flower-tipped headband and carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and forget-me-nots.

Mr. Alfred Ross, of Montreal, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Walter Mutchler, Jr., of Sherbrooke, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. Russell Wallace, of Stanstead, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Wallace, mother of the bride, was in a street-length dress of turquoise cut chiffon, with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Ross, mother of the groom, wore a street-length dress of printed silk jersey with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The reception following the ceremony was held at 133 Quebec Street, in Sherbrooke, where stands of white lilac and spring flowers were used as decoration in the reception room. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by pink roses, forget-me-nots and lilies-of-the-valley in low bowls.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Ross left on a motor trip to nearby points, the bride travelling in a turquoise linen dress with black applique trim under a black three-quarter length top and black plastic accessories and corsage of pink carnations. On their return they will take up residence in Sherbrooke.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Witty and son, Ronald, of Newtonville, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. George Witty and daughter, Carol, of Windsor Mills; Mr. Alfred Ross, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Patrick of St. Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, of St. Lawrence; Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Wallace, Mr. Russell Wallace and Miss Alma Wallace, of Stanstead; Mr. George Johann, of Coaticook; Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Beattie, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. E. Beattie, of Inverness; Mr. and Mrs. E. Stevenson, Miss June Stevenson and Mr. Dawson Stevenson, of South Ham; and Mr. R. Bell, of Drummondville.

MARBLETON

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Guild was held at the home of Mrs. H. G. Weston with Mrs. Leeman Mackay as hostess. There were ten members, nine visitors and two children present. The president being absent through illness, the vice-president, Miss Lucy Weston, presided. Prayers were read by Rev. J. W. Harrison and all outstanding business transacted. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in making quilt blocks. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Mackay and Miss Lucy Weston. The next meeting will be held at the Church Hall with Mrs. Perry Rolfe as hostess.

Miss Florence Thorneley was a holiday guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. Leonard and Miss Myrna Hughes, in Bishopston.

Week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Elliott included Miss J. Soles, of Bromo, and the Messrs. Arnold and Keith Elliott, of Bedford.

Miss Marion Lowell spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lowell, in Waterville.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bishop and three children, Beverly, Joyce and George, of Sherbrooke, were tea guests of Mr. Bishop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bishop, on Victoria Day.

Dr. and Mrs. Elliott visited friends in Sawyerville on day.

Miss Bell Stevenson, of Lennoxville, is a guest of Mrs. F. C. Weston.

What might be a serious fire started at the Dominion Lime Plant on Saturday. A call was put in for the fire equipment here and the fire was quickly extinguished.

Mr. Aleck Stewart, who has been seriously ill for a few weeks was able to return from the Sherbrooke Hospital and is convalescing at his home at Lime Ridge.

The many friends here of Sgt. Phyllis Porter were pleased to learn of her arrival from overseas at her new home in Lennoxville.

Hostesses at the social hour following the closing meeting of the Schubert Music Club at the MacKinnon Memorial this evening will be Mrs. Cesar Gervais, Mrs. O. Leveque, Mrs. H. S. Armstrong, Miss Kathleen Leonard and Mr. Francis Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Porter, of Bishopston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rita Grace, to Mr. Oral B. Downes, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Downes, of Bury, Que., the marriage to take place the latter part of June.

The Belvidere Choral Group, under the direction of Miss L. F. Flett and Miss Patricia Lawrence, presented a half-hour radio program here Saturday night, were guests at the Magog House over the week-end, and returned to Quebec City yesterday.

Among the guests at the Magog House over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. W. Willard, Mr. Francois Durocher, Mr. Stanley Harding and Mr. and Mrs. C. Coullombe, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fairbanks, of Fairfax, Vt., Sgt. and Mrs. J. G. Wilson, of Penit, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. A. Orette, of St. Malo.

Guests attending the Pin Up Dance held at the Sherbrooke Country Club on Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Branch were received by Mrs. A. W. Kerridge, president, and Mrs. K. C. F. Mills, house convener. Mrs. Kerridge wore a graceful white heavy crepe dinner dress having a V-neck, and Mrs. Mills was in a grey silk jersey dinner dress. The dance was the first of the season.

Mrs. A. W. Kerridge presided at the tea table centred with spring flowers at the season's first tea at the Sherbrooke Country Club held Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' Branch. Hostesses were Miss Nancy Hume, Miss Elizabeth Bryant and Miss Margaret Kinkaid, and they were assisted in serving by Mrs. John Blue and Mrs. Bruce Bishop.

INEXPENSIVE TOY

Wondering what to give that tot? Make this huggable bunny that's 15 inches tall, with all its four legs movable! It's durable, inexpensive.

This large soft bunny is so safe for any child to play with. And what fun to make! Pattern 7469 has pattern pieces and directions.

Send twenty cents in coins for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to Sherbrooke Daily Record, Household Arts Department, Sherbrooke, Que. Print plainly name, address, pattern number.

Members of the mission—Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, Lord Patrick Lawrence, secretary of state for India and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the Admiralty—were sent by Prime Minister Attlee to confer with Indian leaders on steps leading to full self-government for India.

The Pakistan issue has divided India's most powerful parties, the Indian National Congress Party, favoring political unity for India, and the Moslem League, which advocates a separate Moslem state. Comments from Indian political leaders follow:

Maulana Kalam Azad, president of the Congress Party: "I am fully satisfied with the progress made and the spirit and atmosphere in which the talks are progressing. The present atmosphere of distrust between the Moslem League and the Congress is temporary. When India receives her freedom, Moslems and Hindus will be compelled to have confidence in each other."

Mohammed Ali Jinnah, president of the Moslem League: "Federation would be dominated, as Hindus, Congress is dominated by Hindus. So far as Moslem India is concerned, the conception of a United India is impossible. If any attempt is made to force a decision against the wishes of Moslems, Moslem India will resist it by all means and at all costs."

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Congress Party leader: "Congress is not going to agree to the (Moslem) League demand for Pakistan under any circumstances, even if the British Government agrees to it."

Tara Singh, leader of the Sikhs: "If the Pakistan theory is accepted, the Sikhs will insist on creation of a separate Sikh state."

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, Liberal leader, favored immediate establishment of an interim government which would discuss the question of Pakistan.

Meat Supply In U.S. To Be Lower In '47

Expected to Fall Billion Pounds Below This Year's Inadequate Output, Says
Agriculture Department.

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—The United States 1947 supply of meats may fall 1,000,000,000 pounds below this year's inadequate output as a result of feed grain shortages and recent increases in culling prices of livestock feeds.

This forecast was made today by the Agriculture Department in a report which estimated that Americans, if they could, would buy an average of 15 to 20 pounds more meat this year than will be available.

In other reports on the food situation, the department said sales of butter at black market prices increased this month despite a modest spring season increase in production, and that large meat packers continue to be outbid on the bulk of beef cattle reaching principal markets.

In the case of butter, the department estimated May production will be 30 per cent below a year ago and 50 per cent below May, 1941. It said a principal cause of this decline has been the restriction of a more profitable market for cream.

Black market slaughter and sale of meats apparently are continuing despite a government slaughter-control program designed to halt these illegal operations.

The department estimated that this year's production of meat will be about 22,000,000,000 lbs., or about 2,000,000,000 less than the record output of 1944.

KNOWLTON

Honoring the graduating class of Knowlton High School, a dance was held in the auditorium of the new High School and was attended by well over four hundred guests. The hall had been artistically decorated by the teachers and pupils using the school colors, purple and white, as the background with flowers and ferns completing the decorations. On the reception line were Principal William E. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. L.M. Knowlton and Miss Lorna McClay. Music for the evening was furnished by Doug. Whitehead's Orchestra, of Granby. Conveyers of the various committees were as follows: Refreshments, Miss Winifred White; decorating, Miss Dora Hanna; housing, Mr. William E. Marshall.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society took place at "Broad Acres," the home of Mrs. G. M. Ransom, and was well attended. The president, Mrs. G. M. Ransom, was in the chair, and the theme for the meeting was "The Christian Home." A general business meeting followed the devotional program, when the minutes were read and approved. A box of relief articles was packed under the convener'ship of Mrs. Ian W. Crandall. Following an interesting meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments with Mrs. N. M. Harris pouring tea.

A special "Mother's Day" service was held at the United Church with the pastor, Rev. R. A. Mitchell, in charge. During the service, the junior choir, while singing the hymn, "Happy the Home When God is There," distributed carnations to each mother present.

On Saturday afternoon the Boy Scout Troop and its scoutmaster, Mr. Norman M. Crandall, enjoyed a trip by bicycle through Bolton Pass.

Messrs. Douglas Pope, Ross Anderson and Ray Pibus, of Montreal, were guests over the weekend of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pibus.

The Doctor Says

DEATH HOVERS OVER PREMATURE INFANTS

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Only five per cent of live births are those of premature infants, but 50 per cent of the deaths in the first month of life occur in this group. The saving of premature infants has been a most important factor in the reduction of infant mortality. A premature infant quickly develops into a normal child.

Dr. O'Brien.

A premature infant is one who weighs 5 1/2 pounds or less at birth. The smaller infants are less likely to survive; only 15 per cent of those who weigh less than 3 1/2 lbs. at birth live, while 85 per cent of those who weigh over 3 1/2 lbs. survive.

The incomplete development of the body in a baby born prematurely is the most important difficulty to overcome. He has little or no protection against infections, especially those of the respiratory tract. He finds it difficult, if not impossible, to control his body temperature. His swallowing mechanism is imperfectly developed, and he has a tendency to choke on food which goes down the wrong way. In addition, his fragile tissues may cause injury during birth.

Puny-Looking Babies

Premature infants look puny. The head is round, the ears hug the sides of the head, the nails are imperfectly developed, and the cry is feeble. They seem to be in a deep sleep most of the time, and are aroused with difficulty when fed.

At birth, the premature infant is wrapped in blankets. The head is kept lower than the feet, to drain fluids from the nose and mouth. An excess of mucus, if present, is aspirated with a syringe. If respiration is feeble, inhalations of oxygen are given.

The greatest problem in caring for a premature infant at home is keeping him from being infected and exposed to chilling and infection. The greasy skin-covering is not disturbed by bathing, and the baby is kept in an incubator. Care should be exercised, in transporting him to a hospital, to prevent him from being chilled. Cities with well-organized premature-care provide special ambulances for the infants.

Incubators Are Essential

A supply of incubators should be on hand in all centres, so they may be sent at once to the place where the premature infant is born. The incubator is kept at 85 degrees Fahrenheit, in order to hold the infant's rectal temperature just above 96 degrees.

Premature infants are fed very carefully, with small quantities of food. If they are not strong enough to nurse, a special feeder is used. Extra vitamins are added, and, as they develop, the food intake is stepped up as rapidly as possible.

Many hospitals report a reduction of premature death rates, after special-care programs were established, from nearly 75 per cent to less than 15 per cent. Every community should be interested in this subject. It offers a great life-saving opportunity.

Question: I have been troubled with hives for several years. Could they be caused by using food prepared in aluminum utensils?

Answer: No. Hives are not caused by eating food cooked in aluminum ware, not unless you are allergic to the food. Hives can be caused by shellfish, strawberries, cheese, nuts, eggs, wheat, pork, chocolate, alcoholic beverages, quinine, ipecac, salicylates, barbiturates, aspirin, iodine, bromides, phenolphthalein, morphine, opium, epinephrine, phenacetin, horse serum, exposure to heat, cold, sun, insect bites, etc.

75 YEARS Strong 1871-1946

Out of the earth came forth RICHES

SEVENTY-FIVE years ago when Confederation Life Association was founded, only the hardest pressed for gold and silver... men peered to endure privation and hardship to find that wealth. Few among them foresaw Canada's mining industry as we know it today. Gold, silver, copper, coal and iron were early goals. Nickel, aluminum, magnesium, pitchblende and uranium were undreamed of.

Canadian mining prospectors came of the same sturdy pioneer stock as their more conservative brethren who envisioned the need for an institution that would provide life insurance protection for dependents and for old age. The founders of Confederation Life Association were men of this character—they, too, were pioneers. Confederation Life representatives were among the first to carry the benefits of life insurance to the mining communities of Canada, and as changing conditions called for new types of policies, Confederation Life was kept abreast of the times and was one of the first Canadian life insurance companies to offer a complete Group Insurance Service to mining companies and their employees, many of whom now carry all their Group Insurance with this Association.

HINTS on the Care of Cats

Cats seem to have been endowed by nature with sound constitutions and an ability to stay well and take good care of themselves.

Perhaps for that very reason the care and health, or treatment, of cats, is not generally as well understood or studied as that of dogs.

A cat should be fed twice a day—morning and night. Cooked green vegetables are highly desirable and liver, fish, raw meat and soaked dog biscuits are useful additions to the table diet.

For general diet the domestic cat can manage very well on ordinary table scraps, and there should always be on the kitchen floor a saucer of fresh milk or clean cold water.

Independent Puss ?.. A curled-up cat, an arm-chair and a fireside speak to all men of home. The cat is the homiest of pets and yet it has retained more of its independent nature than has man's other home companion, the dog.

Cats need more understanding than dogs. Actually, Pussy should be called self-reliant rather than independent; cats are capable hunters and know how to take care of themselves. They are philosophical and brave, but not rash. They do not look for trouble but handle it well when it comes their way.

Understand your cat, think for her, feed her regularly, be good to her, and you will have a pet that will return all of the love and kindness you can bestow.

Machinery To Ration Bread In UK Set Up

Herbert Morrison Gloomy Over Food Situation and Says Threat of Famine "Is No Passing Crisis."

London, June 3.—(U)—Bread-rationing machinery is being set up in Britain and the decision whether to ration bread will be made in a few weeks, Food Minister John Strachey told the House of Commons in a debate on Britain's food situation yesterday.

Winston Churchill, Conservative leader, had charged the Labor Government with shortsightedness in its food policies and said failure of Soviet-occupied Germany to provide food to the rest of the Reich had contributed to the British food problem.

Mr. Strachey said he did not expect that voluntary plans for economizing on bread would prove satisfactory. Therefore rationing machinery had been set up "to give security for our daily bread."

Bread was not rationed in Britain during the war.

Mr. Strachey said the situation with regard to fats might be even worse in the long run than the cereals situation and "we shall use every endeavor to see we receive our largest possible share in importation of these vital commodities."

Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, who conferred recently in Washington on world famine conditions, spoke gloomily of the food situation, which he likened to the black days of Dunkerque "when all the news was bad."

The threat of famine is no passing crisis—it is a continuing peril which will hang over us at the very least until the harvest of 1947 reaches the consumer."

Hollywood Highlights

By Bob Thomas

Hollywood, June 3.—(AP)—Joan Harrison's formula for success as a woman producer is simple—instead of being a "yes man" she is a "no woman."

In this town where subservient underlings are the rule, the pretty little English girl is like a fresh breeze. While serving as Alfred Hitchcock's assistant, she stood up to the portly mystery master and gave sage counsel on many of his early hits. Her method of becoming a producer illustrates her penchant for speaking her mind.

One day her agent brought her several books which Universal was considering asking her to write as screen plays. After tossing them aside as poor possibilities, she told the studio bosses that only one interested her. But if she did it for them, there would have to be plenty of her own changes.

The next thing she knew, she was producing as well as writing "Phantom Lady." And it turned out to be a tough, entertaining picture.

Her presence on sound stages filled with masculine workers has made her job a little more difficult than ordinary. "I have to convince the men that I'm not a woman, just a producer," she says.

In order to assure business-like production she uses this psychology: When the film starts shooting, she appears on the set in a simple, tailored business suit—strictly business. But, if there is any difficulty in co-operation of the crew she switches to her most feminine attire. It works too.

Outside of a few minor changes, the boys now treat her like one of the gang. When carpenters bang their thumbs instead of nails, they yell "Nuts!" instead of more potent exclamations. But outside of that, there have been few changes.

Campbell Loans

are Life Insured ... $20 to $1000

INSURED LOANS

Here's the better, safer way to get ready cash. For your protection, Campbell Loans include Life Insurance to cover the unpaid loan balance. In case of death your family is thus relieved of all obligation for your loan. The complete balance is automatically paid off by the insurance company. Campbell Finance Corporation is the only loan company to provide this valuable protection. And there is NO EXTRA COST for this outstanding feature.

REDUCED RATES

Campbell loan costs are now at the lowest level in our history. Only a few examples are given here, of how practical it is to borrow at Campbell Finance. For details on any amount from $20 to $1000 phone or visit our nearest office. Remember, Life Insurance protection is included in all quotations. It costs you nothing extra. Private interview rooms are always available to allow the greatest freedom for discussion.

LONGER TERMS

For your greater convenience, Campbell Finance allow repayment terms up to 20 and 24 months... On loans $300 and up 20 months are allowed, and 24 months for loans $501 and up. This means that you can repay your loan in nominal monthly amounts on a soundly planned basis. With the high level of taxes and increased cost of living, longer Campbell terms are most helpful in systematic debt reduction. From our many repayment plans a qualified Campbell expert can help you to choose just the right one to fit your special needs.

3 LOAN PLANS

Campbell Finance provides a wider choice for borrowers with three different types of loans. Married couples can borrow money quickly without endorser. Loans on your signature only (up to $100) are fast and simple to get. Also loans of other kinds require no endorser. From our three kinds of loans you can easily select a plan that will fill every requirement. Of all the people in Canada who borrow from licensed lenders, 1 out of every 4 uses Campbell Finance—specialists in personal loans for over 18 years.

SHERBROOKE WINS 13-INNING THRILLER BY 5-4 COUNT

In Sporting Vein

By Allan Bryce

So many of the old friends are still in circulation and it has been well to shake hands with them and find out what's cooking.

There are many new people to get to know.

And there are so many that you don't see any more. Men whom you remember as husky, ambitious fellows who were glad to put on the uniform and go into battle in defence of all they held dear.

They are gone, it is true, but their spirits still live, and in so many hearts they will always hold a place.

War is like that. It uproots everything that for so long has seemed immovable. It causes heartaches. It saddens and ages all who live under its dark shadow. May we hope that we have seen the last of all wars. Surely the thousands of Canadian boys who paid the supreme sacrifice cry out for those who came home again to see that the men of tomorrow do not have to take up arms one more.

So many of the boys who were active figures on football grids, iron, softball diamonds, basketball courts and tennis courts six years ago have other things on their minds now that they have come home from the wars.

They don't lose sleep these days worrying about batting averages or left-handed pitching. Now, their big aim in life is to keep Johnny in shoes, to pry a place to hang their hat out of Wartime Housing, or to rustle up some furniture.

You still see them glancing over the sport pages, it's true, but they are family men now, and the wives who waited for them here, or who came over from Europe to join them are keeping their husbands pretty close to the family hearth.

Still, quite a number of the lads have stepped right back into the sports picture. You'll see them out on the Parade Grounds playing softball with the old enthusiasm, or banging that annoying little white pill around the golf course. A lot of them are spending time and money to help get the younger generation started in an athletic way.

And it is right that they should maintain the tradition in sport. It is impossible to place too much emphasis on athletics of a competitive nature, and one of the reasons why Canadians, English, Scotch, Irish, Australian, South African and New Zealand boys were able to put an end to Hitler's gang of thugs was because they had been brought up in a sports-conscious atmosphere.

The stamina, the agility of mind and body that played such a part in the mobile warfare were derived in large measure from sports. No less important was the teamwork displayed by the allied armies, something that came naturally to boys who had been members of athletic teams.

One of the things that will ensure the continuance of a virile, healthy Canadian race is athletics. There can be no over-emphasis on sport. The more money spent to develop sport in Canadian schools, the more support and encouragement lent by government organizations and community and welfare groups, the greater the dividends that will be derived in national health.

So don't ever let there be a lag in sport interest. Encourage the youngsters. Go to school games. Start the boys off in their early years and then try and measure the gain.

It seems good to get back to the local sporting scene. And it appears there will be plenty to talk about in this department, which will be shoved on the sport page three times a week to fill space and allow this operator to give vent to any steam he may be able to work up from time to time.

When news is scarce we can always talk about the baseball team. But the management insists there will be a new deal for baseball, that the Canadians will start going places in the Border League. We'll remind them of that promise every now and then should the need arise.

Then, too, with the Junior Chamber of Commerce stepping into the hockey picture, we'll be able to keep the good old sport of puck-chasing in the public eye with a bit of news now and again on how Gilles Desroches and his associates are progressing with their ambitious and deserving scheme.

So, with a hello to all the old friends, and a special greeting to the Tribune sports desk, we'll call it a day.

Come Wednesday, and we should be around to see you again.

President's Team Victorious In Lennoxville Golf Club's Opener

An 18-7 victory was scored Saturday afternoon in the president's forces as the traditional president vs. vice-president match was played to open officially the Lennoxville Golf Club season.

MEGANTIC AND SHERBROOKE IN WINNING FORM

In yesterday's four-game program in the Sherbrooke District Intermediate Baseball League, Sherbrooke, Windsor Mills, Coaticook and Megantic registered victories. Two games were closely contested, two more of the one-sided variety.

Notre Dame of Sherbrooke scored their third straight win, downing Theford Mines 4-2 on the latter team's home diamond. Char-est and Proteau pitched for Sherbrooke, holding Theford to four hits, while their mates mauled the offerings of Matteau for nine base knocks.

Coaticook edged out Bromptonville 8-7, with Windsor Mills turning on the power to rout Scotts-town 18-3.

Megantic's 11-4 conquest of Richmond was their third straight win, also, as they kept pace with the Sherbrooke nine.

Beginning in the first inning Megantic took advantage of loose fielding by the Richmond keystone combination to go into the lead. Richmond's three run rally in the fourth to bring the score to 5-3 died out when Pelletier left the tying runs on second and third.

Leading hitters were Roy, Duchesneau and Parr of Megantic, with three each, the latter scoring four times. Fielding star was A. Boulanger, of Megantic, who repeatedly robbed Richmond hitters in centre field.

R. Cliche, who started on the mound for the home team, pitched four innings, giving up three hits and one base on balls and hitting one batter while collecting five strikeouts. Giroux, pitching the last five innings, gave up two hits and two bases on balls for the final Richmond run.

G. Gregoire, starting pitcher for the visitors, was given poor support by the second-base combination and retired at the end of the sixth after yielding ten hits and one base on balls, which, coupled with close infield work, gave the home team 11 runs.

Hume, replacing Gregoire in the seventh, held the home team scoreless, giving up one infield single and a Texas League while whiffing four batters.

Three New Players Hit Hard As Locals Drop Two Over Week-End

A semblance of a silver lining appeared on the local baseball horizon over the week-end in spite of the fact that Sherbrooke dropped two out of three Border League games here, bowing 13-2 to Granby Saturday night and 7-3 to Kingston Sunday afternoon, before eking out a 5-4 victory in thirteen innings in yesterday's nightcap.

Sherbrooke's three new players, first baseman Joe Thompson, shortstop Manny McIntyre and right fielder Bert Salomon put on a week-end hitting display that gladdened the hearts of the paying customers, and must have made "Pappy" Smith rub his eyes and wonder what was the matter out there.

Thompson, who almost single-handedly beat the Ponies yesterday afternoon by driving in three of Sherbrooke's five runs, including the winner in the thirteenth, hit the ball at a 500 clip in the three week-end games, getting two doubles and five singles in fourteen appearances at the platter.

Popular McIntyre was a .400 week-end swatsman, getting five singles and a double in fifteen trips to the plate, while Salomon produced five singles in fourteen appearances for a mark of .357.

Apart from that, there was nothing to wave flags about as the Red Sox made mincemeat of the pitching of McCarthy and Terry Saturday night, piling on sixteen hits, including a towering home run by Murray to win going away. Sherbrooke got only four hits. Thompson, Salomon and McIntyre did the hitting.

In yesterday's opening game, Sherbrooke quitted Kingston thirteen to seven, and perhaps with a bit of luck and better bunting of those bingles would have won. "Chief" St. Denis was hardluck on the mound for Sherbrooke, and deserved to win.

The second game gave the 2,000 fans—biggest crowd of the season—something to cheer about, however. Karpuk, Kingston pitcher who went all the thirteen innings, and "Pappy" Smith pitched nice ball for the first five innings, allowing only one hit and shutting out their rivals.

Then, in the sixth, the Ponies cantered for four runs, and Sherbrooke's "loyal" supporters wouldn't have given a plug nickel for our chances at that point in the scheduled seven-inning game.

In the last of the sixth, however, the locals got three markers. McIntyre and Salomon hit successive singles, Thompson then bringing McIntyre home with a ringing double. Salomon scored a minute later on Bellamy's infield out, and Doyle singled Thompson across the payoff platter.

Thompson was the boy again in the seventh, singling to bring home Dussault, who had walked, with the tying tally. Then in the thirteenth, with two away, Thompson singled one away out into centre field, scoring "Moose" Zande with the winner.

Smith, Tribotte and Zande toiled for Sherbrooke, the "Moose" getting credit for the win. Karpuk went all the way for the Ponies.

Tonight the Canadians receive Pittsburgh Crawfords in an exhibition tilt, resuming league play against the Ponies here tomorrow night.

TRIPLE CROWN CAPTURED BY TEXAS TERROR

New York, June 3.—(AP)—They're tabbing Assault "The Mint" around these parts today, because the clubfoot comet from the wide open spaces in a spot where he can have a bank roll of more than $500,000 by early autumn.

The chocolate champ zoomed up to $320,770 Saturday when he galloped home in the Belmont Stakes to become the seventh winner of the triple crown in United States turf history. This moved him up to 11th on racing's all-time money-winning list and the way he did it indicated he might even be challenging Whirlaway, who heads the parade with $561,181, before the year is out.

Saturday's scramble, in which the Texas Terror ran his best race—climbing at the start and coming on to win from 10 lengths back—was worth $77,400. In getting to the paying teller's window first he proved Lord Boswell and Hampden, who've been chasing him all spring, are going to need new valves and considerably higher octane gas if they ever hope to catch him. They were fifth and fourth respectively, in Saturday's 1 1/2 miles.

In front of the lanky sizzler from the Lone Star state are half a dozen races between now and September with a gross value of some $275,000.
