CAUGHNAWAGA LEGION BRANCH MAKES PRESENTATION TO BEAUHARNOIS BRANCH

During the Canadian Legion District Meeting held at the Legion Hall of the Huntingdon Branch on Fairview Road, Sunday, a presentation was made. The above photo shows the presentation of a cheque for $200 made by the Caughnawaga Branch to the Beauharnois Branch as an assistance to the latter's building fund. The cheque was received by District Commander Hains on behalf of the Beauharnois Branch, as no representative of that branch was present. President Michael Lefebvre, of the Mohawk Branch, Caughnawaga, is seen making the presentation. Reading from left to right, those in the photo are: M. White, 2nd vice-president, Mohawk Branch; Michael Lefebvre, president, Mohawk Branch; B. K. Hains, District Commander, who received cheque on behalf of Beauharnois Branch; J. Horne, 1st vice-president, Mohawk Branch; Ernie Jacobs, treasurer, Mohawk Branch.

Canadian Legion District Meeting Held In Huntingdon, Sunday

The regular monthly meeting of District No. 13, Quebec Provincial Command was held at the Legion Hall, Huntingdon, on Sunday afternoon, November 22. Incidentally, District No. 13 is comprised of Beauharnois, Chateauguay, Howick, Huntingdon, Mohawk (of Caughnawaga), Ormstown and Valleyfield.

The meeting was opened by J. Alton Warden, President of Huntingdon Branch No. 81 and following the opening ceremonies, the chairmanship was assumed by Bruce K. Hains, of Valleyfield Branch, as District Commander. Also in support of the Chairman were Deputy District Commander Clare A. Tucker of Chateauguay Branch, with H. H. Ponting as District Command Secretary.

Mr. Sam Butts of Valleyfield, well-known, former Valleyfield Branch Secretary and District Commander was appointed Chairman of a Committee which will endeavour to formulate a series of Curling Bonspiels, first on a friendly basis as between the Branches next on a District Command level and finally in competition in the Quebec Command Bonspiel. Several other Inter-Branch activities were discussed.

However the highlight of the meeting was the announcement that Mohawk Branch of Caughnawaga had previously intimated that it would make a donation to Beauharnois Branch in assistance toward the building fund of the latter Branch. Probably due to inclement, uncertain condition of the weather Beauharnois Branch was not represented at the meeting. However, it was decided that the cheque, in an amount of $200.00 be handed over to District Commander Hains on behalf of Beauharnois Branch, which was done by President Mike Lefebvre of Mohawk Branch.

District Commander Hains intimated that it would appear that the Veterans in the Verdun Protestant Hospital were more or less in the "forgotten class", insofar as receiving the comforts, gifts, etc., which are made periodically to the Queen Mary and Ste. Anne de Bellevue Hospitals. He therefore suggested that the Branches comprising District No. 13 give consideration to creating a fund from which appropriate Xmas gifts be purchased for these Veterans. It was therefore unanimously voted that each Branch would donate an amount of $5.00, with the District Commander looking after the necessary arrangements in that respect.

Massena Shopping Mall Discussed By Officials

MASSENA, N.Y. — Will the village of Massena be turning a portion of its downtown district into a shopping mall?

It was recently learned that a group of the town's civic leaders were seriously considering advocating a plan to take up Main street from East Orvis street to Andrews and Phillips streets and turning it into a mall, complete with trees, benches, lawns and the like.

Among those in favor of the plan, at least as a matter for consideration, were Mayor Thomas S. Bushnell and Trustee Carman Bradshaw. One businessman, who was in favor of the plan but did not wish to be quoted, stated he felt such a plan might serve to bring hundreds of thousands of dollars into the downtown area each year.

A plan of this nature would required much co-operation and would present many problems.

The co-operation of the state authorities would be required as Main street belongs to the state of New York as part of the highway system. Local businessmen and taxpayers would also have to give full co-operation in the matter.

Many Problems

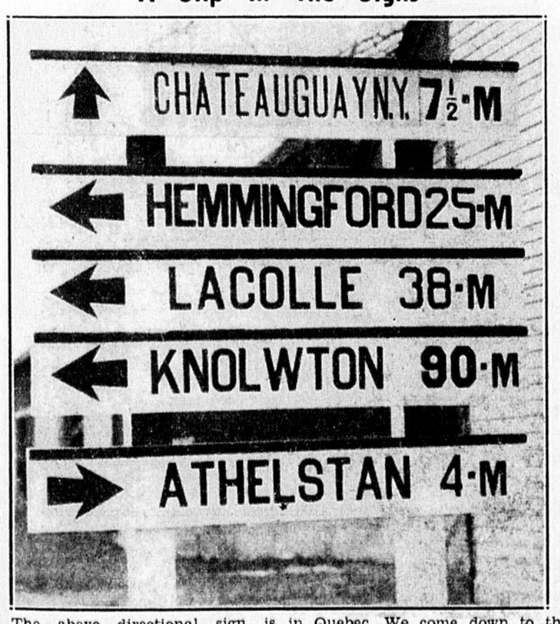

Among the many problems which would have to be worked out in detail, if such a project were undertaken, are the rerouting of traffic around the mall. This would require that streets near such an area would have to be widened to handle the traffic which would normally flow through the mall area. The parking problem, too, would have to be worked out.

The village might have to consider starting its own greenhouses to keep plants and shrubs during the winter and for starting flowers for use in the summer.

Mayor Bushnell said the idea had been tried out in several U.S. communities, most recently in Long Island, and was said to be working out quite well.

A Slip In The Signs

The above directional sign is placed at Herdman on Route 52 and it is plain to see that someone erred when they lettered the names of towns. In the first one the spelling is incorrect—Chateaugay, N.Y. is spelled without the U in the last syllable. The method of spelling used is for the town and county in Quebec. We come down to the fourth town's name and it also is badly twisted—this should be Knowlton. Strange though it may be, many local residents questioned as to whether they notice these mistakes admitted that they had not.

Salvation Army Campaign Is Completed

The Salvation Army campaign for funds has now been completed and a total amount of $2,186.05 has been collected for this area. The minimum objective was $2,000, so that there is an over subscription of the objective which makes the committee quite pleased with the general response of the public.

Much Work Done At Covey Hill Union Cemetery This Year

To a number of residents of this area and also those of many other parts. It will be gratifying to learn of the progress of work undertaken slightly over a year ago in the Covey Hill Union Cemetery. It will be remembered by many that this was one of the most rugged bits of land to be found in use for this purpose. We would not question the reason or wisdom of our forebears in their selection. But rejoice in the fact that through the co-operation and willingness to donate and work on the part of those interested, the number of which is indeed small, this cemetery has been transformed into lovely gradual slopes and with fall seeding is now covered with a heavy growth of grass. A fitting and lasting tribute to those who lie beneath its sod.

There remains a considerable amount of work including an entirely new fence which is planned for the spring, that part next the highway will be of reinforced concrete posts. The trustees take this opportunity to express their sincere thanks and gratitude to all who have donated to the improvement fund and to those who gave their time and work and especially those who supplied tractors and shovels for levelling. And to Mr. Alister Somerville, M.P.P., for the generous supply of fill, without which the work could not have been finished for some time. To any who would care to donate or help in any way toward the care and maintenance it would be very acceptable. The names of those who have donated appear below:

$50.00. — Mrs. Ernest Sample, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Perry;

$26.00. — W. A. Churchill;

$18.00. — Athole Edwards;

$15.00. — Mrs. Thomas Greenway;

$12.00. — Mrs. Della Smith;

$10.00. — W. B. Stewart, Mrs. E. M. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. John Barr, Robert Day, Mrs. S. M. Simpson, Mrs. Eric Greer, Oswald Mannagh Sr;

$5.00. — Lloyd Waddell, Miss Annie Waddell, Mrs. Essie Smith and Mary, Mrs. Wm. Ball, Mrs. Kathleen Hiltunin, Mrs. Bruce Moir, Duncan McArthur, John and Libbie Waddell, Miss Glenna Brisbin, Wm. Brisbin, Mrs. Margaret Jones.

Total. — $566.00.

T. Brisbin donated the concrete posts.

It's all right to speak straight from the shoulder, providing it originates higher up.

Boys' Club Has Good Attendance Opening Night

The Rotary Boys' Club was officially opened on Wednesday evening. 94 boys were present. The Club is open to accept membership from boys, ages 9 to 12 years of age. A small membership fee will be charged each boy. Mayor Paul Lefebvre and Rotary, President N. Bourgon made short addresses. Rotarian Fred Anderson who is chairman of the Boys' Club committee, introduced Mr. Maurice Nicholson, of Tougas & Nicholson, Coca-Cola distributors, Valleyfield, who provided the boys with an entertaining evening in magic. Mr. Nicholson treated the boys to a bottle of coke as a gift from Tougas & Nicholson. On Thursday evening the boys were present for their first evening of playing games. A number of the Rotarians were also present. On both Wednesday and Thursday evenings a number of boys present were either younger or older than 9 to 12 years of age, but this matter will be corrected. It is expected the club will have around 40 to 50 boys as members. With time and experience it is quite possible the age limits of boys open to membership will be extended, or perhaps have the club open on other nights if found advisable. In the meantime the Rotary Club will operate the Club each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7 p.m. to 8.45 p.m. and a group of the Rotarians will be prsent each evening. Reports indicate the boys had a grand time and wanted to come back again on Friday evening.

Local Ayrshires At Royal

New School At Ste. Barbe Built On Modern Lines

The new school which was officially opened last week in the village of Ste. Barbe, contains three classrooms and a large auditorium. It is an extension of the school which was built on the opposite side of the road which was built several years ago. There was not sufficient land space on that site, but the new school has been so built that it can be extended if the need arises through the years.

It is of modern construction and built under contract by Messrs W. Daoust and J. Brunette, with a number of subcontractors. George Lecompte of Valleyfield did the electrical work and Laberge and Lalonde of Huntingdon did the plumbing work. The whole is nicely finished, with the classrooms painted in pastel shades and the hall floor finished in terrazzo. The building is heated by oil-fired furnace and hot water. It is complimented with the usual washroom facilities and such.

A ceremony was held at the school on Sunday, November 14th, at which were present the following: Bishop J. Alfred Langlois, his Secretary, Father Corriveau; H. Alister D. Somerville, M.P.P. for Huntingdon County and Mrs. Somerville; Philippe Faubert, School Inspector, representing the Dept. of Education; Mgr. David; Fr. Anatole Pilon, Parish Priest; Pierre Dionne, Architect; Wilfrid Daoust, Contractor; Fabien Vallee, Chairman of the School Board; Albert DeRepentigny, Mayor of Ste. Barbe.

Jean Denis Girouard was Master of Ceremonies for the occasion and those who addressed the gathering were: Fabien Vallee, Philippe Faubert, H. A. D. Somerville, Fr. Anatole Pilon, Bishop J. A. Langlois.

The program consisted of Blessing the School; Blessing the Classrooms and Blessing the structure.

Following the program, the gathering was invited to partake of refreshments provided by the school board and served in cafeteria style.

Robberies At Howick, Huntingdon This Week In New Outbreak

We have been free for quite some time from break-ins, etc., but another wave has started up this week with reports from Howick and Huntingdon.

During the night of Monday-Tuesday, McCoy's Store in Huntingdon was broken into and a sum of $15.00 stolen. The culprits gained entrance through a cellar window. It is reported that Mr. McCoy noticed three suspicious characters in his store during the day and it is believed that these may have had something to do with it.

The Post Office and the Town Hall at Howick were both broken into the same night and considerable damage was done in both these places. In the Post Office the thieves broke open the safe and took a quantity of stamps and money orders of an undetermined value. Damage was done to the safe and to the doors and some windows.

The Town Hall was also entered and the vault in the basement was forced with considerable damage done to it. Here the thieves got away with about $800. in cash.

Provincial police are working on these cases and special police from Montreal have made examination and investigation. It is believed that all the robberies are connected to same culprits.

Glenelm

GLENELM — The Kensington W. A. and W.M.S. meeting was held in Kensington Hall last Tuesday evening. As the weather was rather unpleasant, a great number of members were absent. The meeting opened by the president calling on Rev. Beal to lead in prayer. The business was discussed and a bale of clothing was packed, valued at $165.00, which has been sent to Montreal. The meeting ended with repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. Refreshments were served by the ladies and collection amounted to $5.

Both Sides Announce Terms In The India-China Border Dispute

Prime Minister Nehru last week rejected a proposal by Premier Chou En-lai that the two leaders meet to discuss the India-China border dispute. He also said Chou's suggestion that both sides withdraw their troops 12½ miles from their present frontier positions was impractical.

Later, however, the Indian leader announced his conditions for an end to the border tension: All Chinese and Indian troops should withdraw from Ladakh, a province of Kashmir; the Indians to withdraw behind the boundary that China claims, and the Chinese to pull back to behind the frontier that India claims.

If this worked, then the time might be right for a meeting with Chou, he said.

At the weekend, Peking newspapers described India's views as "one-sided." The New China News Agency said Indian newspapers "hope that China and India will settle the border dispute through negotiations, but in the meantime, they hold that India's one-sided views on the Sino-India border should become the basis for negotiations."

In New Delhi, the independent Times of India said Nehru's latest proposals "contain every possibility of a constructive and permanent settlement should Peking accept this opportunity of vacating its aggression with undue loss of prestige."

Adenauer's Visit

No one cheered when Chancellor Adenauer arrived in London last Tuesday, and the general reception for the West German leader from Londoners was on the chilly side.

But when Adenauer left on Thursday night the atmosphere had changed. A crowd of 300 at Victoria Station gave a full-throated rendition of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The change was also apparent in diplomatic quarters. There was a conviction that Anglo-German relations had improved greatly. In talks with Prime Minister Macmillan, Adenauer conceded that a summit conference would have to discuss the future of Berlin. For his part, Macmillan agreed to devote special attention to disarmament problems.

Highway Problem

The Queen, expecting her third child early next year, celebrated her 12th wedding anniversary last Friday with a drive along Britain's newest motorway which has been dubbed both a "dream highway" and a "death trap."

The Queen's chauffeur was her husband, Prince Philip, in his sleek green Lagonda which can easily do 100 miles an hour. The Prince took it easy, never topping 50 miles an hour.

The couple took the new six-lane, no-speed-limit highway linking London and Birmingham on their way to Luton, 30 miles from London, to spend the weekend with wealthy race horse owner Sir Harold Wernher and his wife, Lady Zia.

Numerous accidents, several of them causing fatalities, have marred the super-highway since it opened earlier this month. The royal couple decided on the spur of the moment to use the route, and no special arrangements were made for the drive.

Winter Employment

Prospects for a better winter than last have been given a boost by the federal government's monthly job survey.

The picture at mid-October, it says, was noticeably brighter than a year earlier. The survey estimated that as of Oct. 17 there were 237,000 persons without jobs and seeking work, 24,000 more than at Sept. 17, but 76,000 fewer than at the same point in 1958.

Interest Rates

Don't expect interest rates to come down for a long time. That was the word from James E. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, in a speech at Montreal last week.

Under prosperous conditions in a free society, he said, there will always be a shortage of capital for all the profitable investments that are available.

"Should not this be a matter for satisfaction rather than complaint?" he asked. It was inevitable that the demand for capital would press on the supply of new savings for years to come.

As if to underline his remarks, the Bank of Canada interest rate inched up to 5.16 per cent last Thursday from 5.13 the previous week.

Mine-Mill Vote

Don Gillis was returned as president of the Sudbury, Ont., local of the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (Ind.) in a vital election last week.

"A smack in the eye for the Reds," was the way Gillis described the vote of 7,221 to 5,963 that kept him in office.

His opponent was Nels Thibault, who resigned as president of the mine-mill union's national body to try to knock out Gillis in the key area. The national union was tossed out of the old Canadian Congress of Labor in 1949 because of Communist domination.

Mayors Welcome

Prime Minister Diefenbaker made the announcement to reporters after a meeting at Ottawa with the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Munici-

BAGS 4-YR.-OLD BUCK WEIGHING 235 POUNDS

Roland and Alfred Goyette started out about 6 a.m. on Monday, November 16th and drove from their home out east of Hemmingford, where they started hunting for deer. Between 12 and 1 o'clock Alfred called to his brother that a deer was coming. Roland shot it and it dropped after about 85 feet. You will see the result in the above photograph—a buck about 4 year old and weighing approximately 235 pounds.

Birthplace Of Adelaide Hunter Hoodless

Most of us have made the acquaintance of Adelaide Hunter Hoodless. We may know the story of the founding of the Women's Institute, when Erland Lee of Stoney Creek invited her to speak to the women of the Farmers' Institute in Saltfleet Township, or perhaps, from time to time, we may have stood befor the painting of a beautiful, serene, adult woman in Macdonald Hall at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, or its copy hanging in the Dominion Archives, Ottawa.

Through the columns of the Brantford Expositor, Mrs. Kay Tew Marshall has given us an intimatestory of Adelaide Hunter and her childhood home, near St. George, Ontario. From it we learn that Adelaide Hunter, Addie as she was know, was the youngest of thirteen children born to Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter. Mr. Hunter died four months before the birth of his youngest child.

Their home still stands after 115 years. It is constructed of clapboard with the architecture typical of many Ontario homes of that period. The front has the usual centre door with an arched window over it. From the front hall there is a lovely old oak stair case leading to the upper part of the house, where we find the large "girls' room" and a smaller on for "the boys". Downstairs, to the left, we see the parlour with its ornate baseboards and beyond that was the spare room. On the other side of the front hall is the living-dining room, formerly two rooms which now have an archway cut between. Behind this is the kitchen and back of that a small pantry, its shelves ceiling high. We can just imagine them laden with food stuffs of all kinds to appease the appetites of this large family of children.

The house was heated with stoves, as the numerous pipeholes show. You will be surprised to hear that the only fireplace in the house is a large stone one in the cellar. With the exception of some changes in doorways, the house is almost exactly as it was when the Hunters lived there, even the old pine floors are intact.

It was here that Addie Hunter was born and romped about, skipped across the road to the barn, down to the spring in the willows, and walked the mile and a quarter to school.

Later she lived with a married sister, Mrs. Seth Charlton, in Coinsville near Brantford. It is from that home that she married John Hoodless, a successful Hamilton businessman. There were four children listed in the Hoodless Family Bible, including John Harold, who died at the age of 18 months from drinking impure milk. Mrs. Hoodless felt responsible and resolved to save other mothers the anguish she had suffered, by placing homemaking knowledge within reach of all women.

To this end, Mrs. Hoodless became the promoter of domestic science in schools. Due to her persuasion, Sir Wm. Macdonald, the tobacco magnate, established Schools of Household Science at Macdonald Institute, OAC, Guelph, and Macdonald College (McGill University), Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que. To help mothers who were beyond school attendance, she envisioned courses in the domestic arts in their own communities. This was the Women's Institute, an organization which fanned out from Stoney Creek, through Ontario, across Canada, down into the United States, across to Great Britain and then around the world.

Mrs. Hoodless was the author of a book on domestic science, published in 1898. This little red book was far ahead of its time with its calorie charts, chemical analysis, and emphasis on sanitation and the importance of meat, fruit and fresh vegetables in the diet. Recipes show that herbs and spices made interesting additions to the food of that day.

The Federated Women's Institutes of Canada has now purchased the birthplace of the founder of the organization. It is planned to furnish the home as nearly as possible in the style of that time of a hundred years ago. There is no doubt that W.I. members and interested friends in Brant County will be glad to cooperate in making this possible. Their interest was shown by the crowd who attended the ceremony when the Ontario Historic Sites and Monuments Board unveiled a plaque in June, marking it as an historic site.

Already many WI members from Canada and other parts of the world have journeyed to the cairn erected by the Brant County Women's Institutes to commemorate the birthplace. How much more interesting will be the Adelaide Hunter Hoodless Museum, where one can imagine they see the domestic circle where the seeds for the enrichment of rural homes around the world were nurtured —the vision of a woman born in this humble farm home 100 years ago.

Little Known Facts

The results of a survey of a cross-section of 29,000 persons who have lived to 95 and beyond were tabulated and charted by Gallup Poll headquarters. The report says that there is a significant pattern in their lives. What the oldsters have practiced as a group is simple moderation in almost everything. They have avoided tension, are complacent, serene, unruffled and self-possessed. They have been happy people most of their lives, content with their families, with their social status, with their jobs and incomes.

Rabbits literally walk on air during the wintertime. During the fall months they grow tough, springy hairs between their toes. By late November they have enough to keep them off the ground a fraction of an inch on a hair-and-air mat which protects them from walking "barefoot" on snow and ice.

Money for 92 nations is printed at the headquarters of Thomas De La Rue & Co. in Leeds, in northern England. De La Rue is one of the biggest commercial printers of paper money in the world, producing some 20 million bank notes every week. Among the company's defenses against forgery are its inks, mixed according to secret formulas, and its presses, which print with perfect accuracy 2500 sheets of bank notes an hour.

Lovers of classical music are not the only beneficiaries of the spurting business of recorded music. Among a small but dedicated group of hi-fi addicts, hours may be spent listening to the recorded progress of a violent thunderstorm, an onrushing locomotive, even the dripping of water into a rain barrel. There are even records which allow the listener to "co-star" with famed actors, by reading dialogue during pauses on the record.

palities, at which the mayors renewed their proposal for a federal provincial - municipal conference on re-allocation of revenues among the various levels of government.

The Prime Minister said the matter of the municipalities' bid for a better tax deal will have to be determined in drawing up the agenda for the meeting, probably to be held in late July. He made clear that presence of the municipalities at the conference will be acceptable only if the provincial governments approve.

Teatime Topics

Women who conscientiously plan well-rounded meals may go astray when they actually prepare the food. And vegetables are the most - often sinned against. Food values are lost through improper, over - long cooking.

To prepare properly, cook in a small amount of rapidly boiling water, say experts of the Ontario home economics service. Cover tightly, then reduce the heat and cook until just done. For the best flavor, some of the "bite" should be retained.

Attractive color, crisp texture, good flavor and nutritive value is the result of using the minimum amount of water, a tightly-covered pan and the short cooking period.

If You Need Police Assistance

In order to try and give improved service to the public, the Provincial Police have asked The Gleaner to publish telephone numbers which may be called when in need. For the Huntingdon Detachment the number is COrvette 4-5054; for the Valleyfield Detachment the number is FRontenac 3-2222. If no answer can be obtained at either of these two numbers, then call ZEnith 50,000, there is no toll charge for this latter number. This system will be in effect from December 1st. It is suggested that readers cut this notice out and paste it in their telephone book in order to have it in case of necessity. Call your nearest office first.

House in Town Lost in Fire

Sixteen firemen answered a call to a fire at the double tenement house owned by Albert Scott, on Saumier Lane near West Street, at 5.20 p.m. on November 19th. Mrs. Arthur Varin who noticed the fire put in the alarm, as the occupants of the house were not at home at the time. Consequently when the firemen arrived the fire had a good hold on the building and there was not much that could be done to save it and its contents. Concentration was made mostly on preventing the fire from spreading to other houses. It is believed that the fire started in the kitchen and that it was due to defective electrical wiring. It was a total loss. The firemen fought the fire for about two hours before bringing it under control and declaring it safe.

The skys remained overcast, but the temperature remained fairly high for this time of year.

H.C.H. Ladies Auxiliary

A General Meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Huntingdon County Hospital was held in the Parochial Hall, on Monday evening, November 23rd, with a good attendance. Mrs. B. Sauvé, president, conducted the routine business and received reports. The Auxiliary is most grateful for the fine effort of the members in Dundee in holding a card party which resulted in a very substantial contribution to the Auxiliary's treasury.

Two rooms in the Maternity Ward have been painted and drapery material has been purchased. Comfortable chairs will be provided to add to the attractive appearance of these rooms. Prices were quoted on humidifiers and the Service Committee will have charge of the purchase. Suggested items needed in the hospital were more overbed tables, stools, another pair of crib sides for beds, chest of drawers and a "Croupette".

A Tea and Food Sale will be held on December 4th. Plans are under way and tickets were distributed to the members for advance sale. Anyone having knitting for the Treasure Chest is asked to bring it in before the day of the sale.

Volunteers are still needed to serve on the "Shoppe On Wheels" and Mrs. Goodall would be glad to hear from anyone wishing to help in this way.

Editorial Notes

Let's Give The Matter Some Thought

WE all know that considerable work has been done on Route 52 from Huntingdon to Herdman. This has greatly improved this highway and travel along it is much smoother, faster and less hazardous. This route is practically completed as far as the edge of town.

There has been much conjecture as to where this highway would enter town or if it would be taken to a point that would be on the outskirts of town. It was mentioned at one time that it would turn and pass either through, or past the Fair Grounds. This now seems out. It was first, a long time ago, suggested that this road be brought out into town opposite Bouchette Street, this being considered the logical and best entrance on account of space and a wide street. Latest rumors, not confirmed, is that the route will continue along Henderson Street to a point near the Lord Athelstan Estate and then pass through a portion of this and over a new bridge somewhere between the present bridge and the Shell gas station.

Favor still seems to follow the plan of coming out opposite Bouchette Street. It has been said, however, that cost of doing this would be quite high at this time. It has been pointed out to us that the cost need not be too high and it may still be even less than some other proposals. A suggestion made was that the present route be turned to come across some farm land and then straight towards Bouchette Street. There would likely be some expropriation to be made, but it is considered there would be less than other suggested routes. It was still further pointed out that this is the proper location for a new bridge which would have a far greater effect upon the town than if placed in any other location. Such a route would also open up a new residential section which is needed for future town planning. Chateauguay Street would take on a much improved appearance with the bridge crossing the river at this point and especially if it is of a modern structure. The part of town at this point is a natural circus lending itself to cross traffic and yet which would not cause too much trouble to control. It is quite possible that extra parking space could be obtained near the approaches to the bridge and thus solve another problem.

However, it is important that our Town Council and civic minded bodies give some study to this matter before it is too late. We want to improve our town and to help it to grow, we cannot do this unless we take interest in what is happening, or about to happen. Proper representation to our Member, Mr. Somerville, should get some consideration of our wishes. This must be done through the right officials and channels. The Town Council is one body which should be vitally interested in this project, the business men of the town are others who could well show an interest. This route has greater possibilities for the future than any other route that has been proposed. If a meeting could be called and this matter explained and studied, it would quickly be seen that it holds such potentialities.

If rumor is right, then work on this part of the project of Route 52, will likely start in the spring of 1960. Therefore, in view of the short time left, immediate action is required in order that the feelings of the citizens of Huntingdon may be presented before it is too late. This could be the start toward improvement in our town that has been needed for several years past. It could help to prove that we are up and coming and wide awake to our needs. Henderson Street does not lend itself to the route of a main highway and never will. This is a residential street that would be quickly marred as the needs of a modern highway were brought to bear upon it. Property would lose value very quickly as frontages would most likely have to be expropriated. There would be no need of this if the route was brought into town by the suggestion that has been made and has been standing for some time. The first suggestion would have to be changed on account of other developments that have occurred since it was made. However, it is still possible to bring 52 in by this route, by making the turn towards town at a further distance than was first thought of. The possibilities that this presents are of far greater value for the future than to bring the bridge and highway out at the east side of town. All these possibilities should be explored, and explored now before it is too late. Just stop and try to picture in your mind what this would mean as an improvement and then look at the potentialities for the future. If you do and get the right picture, we believe that action will be started at once to try and make it an accomplished fact.

A Shopping Street With No Cars

WE seem to be harping upon Town Improvement, but we believe it is necessary for the benefit of everyone. Improvement never hurts any town, or any business or any household residence — in fact in the end it enhances the values. Therefore if there are ideas which present for improvement, we believe they should be passed along.

Shopping centres seemed to have taken on a terrific hold of the public fancy. Wherever they spring up, they seem to attract the people and this means a loss somewhere to somebody. It is not every place that can have a shopping centre and businessmen in some of the smaller areas are turning to other means of attracting the customers away from the shopping centres. The latest trend is a "Shopping Mall".

In case you do not know what a Shopping Mall is, we will try to give you a brief outline. It consists of a length of the main shopping area being blocked off and no vehicular traffic is allowed anywhere in the area. The street is then divided into garden plots with flowers, there are swings and such for children, seats among the grass and flowers for the weary to rest. The people stroll through the area doing their shopping at the stores or just viewing the scenery. It provides a recreation and an attraction which makes shopping a pleasure instead of a task. One does not have to worry about traffic for none is allowed.

These Shopping Malls are now being tried out in a number of places in the States and reports say they are doing a good job with business places picking up a lot of their previously lost trade.

It has come to our attention that a not too far away town, Massena, N.Y., is seriously considering turning a portion of its downtown district into a shopping mall. The town's civic leaders plan to take up Main Street from East Orvis Street to Andrews and Phillips Streets and turning it into a mall, complete with trees, benches, lawns and the like.

A number of the leaders in Massena are in favor of the plan and they feel that it might serve to bring hundreds of thousands of dollars into the downtown area each year. They realize that there are many problems to be considered and that traffic will have to be re-routed, but they feel it will be well worthwhile.

It is not beyond the realms of possibility that Huntingdon could do something along this line if enough interest and energy was put into such a plan. It is such plans as this worked out in a co-operative effort which tend to improve business and provide greater attraction to shoppers. Some may say that such a plan is too revolutionary, but it is this type of thing which tends to attract. We see evidences of how people are attracted all around us every day. Today's modern world calls for many things which would have been considered absolutely ridiculous ten to twenty years ago. They might even be considered ridiculous today, but if they work, there must be a reason. Apparently the shopping mall is working and several centres are trying them on a trial basis before making them permanent. It is a case of we will try it and see.

In any event, it is an idea presented whether use of it is made or not.

Safe Driving Week

NOW that winter has set in, we can be prepared for hazardous travel and we must now govern ourselves accordingly. One thing that should be done immediately is to drive with less speed. We cannot expect to travel as fast during the winter months as we have been doing during the summer.

While highways may look bare and inviting, there is a degree of ice on the roads which make them quite slippery. Here and there are patches of ice and a car travelling at high speed can hit one of these spots and go out of control. By lowering the speed, a better chance is given of keeping the car under control and thus avoiding accidents. This is only one of the many hazards which can cause accidents during the winter driving period.

The week of December 1st to December 7th — just a few days away — has been declared "Safe Driving Week". During this week drivers of automobiles are urged to take extra precautions to avoid accidents. The ratio of deaths in traffic for Canada is 215 per month during the first six months of the year and 307 per month in the last half. That means than 3,132 persons are killed in traffic accidents alone each year. In 1958, the total was 3,134 — what will it be in 1959?

This may not seem very much when the total population is considered, but need it be that high, if due care is taken by all drivers of automobiles. Look at the number that have occurred in our small community even this present year to date. Hardly a month has passed by without a traffic casualty. Driving habits are not confined to our own community, they must be continued wherever we may be driving. All must be safety conscious at all times and in all places. Care and caution should be watchwords for our driving at all times. It is better to give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt than to drive on expecting him to do what you think he should do. When you see a fellow motorist in difficulties, don't add to them by crowding in on him. A driver wants to get into or out of a parking space, give him a chance to accomplish this. Don't sound your horn and drive up to him or past him which may be the cause of accident. It is common courtesy to give the other fellow a chance. There are many little ways that this can be practiced and every motorist is aware of them, but not all motorists are courteous. There are a great many who crowd the other fellow and tend to make him nervous and confused. The few seconds it takes to give another motorist a chance may save an accident happening — have you ever thought of it in this way? It is sometimes the simple things which may mean so much in the end. Our time is never so valuable that some of it cannot be spent in precautionary measures which may be the means of avoiding accidents. If by doing so a life may be saved, then any time lost is well spent and you will never regret it. On the other hand, if your carelessness results in a life being lost, you may regret it for the rest of yours.

Let us all think of accident prevention during safe driving week, and keep thinking about it in all the other weeks — in fact, let us never forget about it. Perhaps in this way the accident toll will be decreased. YOU, the Driver, must practice SAFE DRIVING.

The Week at Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec Legislature opened its annual session this week. It will probably be the last Session before a general provincial election which, it is believed, will be held next year.

Two top pieces of legislation mentioned in the Speech from the Throne were given first reading.

Sweeping changes in the Quebec Labor Relations Acts were proposed and proposals that the provincial government guarantee loans floated by universities for expansion programs were put forward.

Under the draft labor measure, membership of the Quebec Labor Relations Board would be increased to eight from five. Labor would recommend three representatives and management as many. The Provincial Cabinet would in effect make the appointments and fix salaries. It would name the Board's chairman and vice-chairman.

Instead of a fixed fine for an offence the government now proposes to make offences punishable by daily fines of from $100. to $1,000 for each day the violation lasts. An amendment to the Labor Relations Act stipulates that the onus of proof in a case involving an illegally-dismissed employee would lie with the employer. He would have to prove the employee was not fired for union activities.

The Legislative Assembly gave first reading to a government bill designed to make it possible for Quebec's universities to spread over many years the cost of projected capital expansion programs.

The government would guarantee repayment of loans floated by the universities and of the interest on the bond issues.

It would also set up a sinking fund to meet the cost of possible commitments. The provincial cabinet would decide what proportion of loans in each instance it might repay out of this sinking fund.

It now appears certain Ottawa and Quebec have found a way that is mutually acceptable out of the impasse over federal aid to universities.

Finance Minister Fleming said here this week that the disagreement is a cause of friction and the federal government is determined to resolve the whole issue.

The deadlock is over the refusal of Quebec universities to accept federal aid on the grounds it is an encroachment on provincial rights in matters of education.

Mr. Fleming spoke in French to students of Laval University's Faculty of Commerce shortly after he met privately with Premier Paul Sauve who suggested a settlement formula to federal authorities a month ago in Ottawa.

"Our talk was very useful in clarifying the details of the proposal we are studying", said Mr. Fleming. "It was held in an atmosphere of harmony and good will".

But sources in Ottawa and here say a solution has definitely been reached and will be made public in a few weeks.

Mr. Fleming was in town to speak to the students and to delegates attending the Canadian Tax Foundation Conference.

He told the conference if Canadians want to combat inflation they should not ask the Federal government to make new expenditures where unnecessary.

At the conference A. K. Eaton, Ottawa fiscal consultant, said tax on capital gains in Canada would be more trouble to collect than it would be worth. Capital gains are untaxed in Canada and the levy is not necessary to fair taxation, he said.

Lawrence H. Seltzer, Professor of Economics at Detroit's Wayne University, said the United States tax gives rise to problems but brings taxation closer to the ideal of fairness.

Canadian tax experts sought means to clear the corporate tax field of procedures they feel are slowing Canada's growth.

In a closed panel discussion American and Canadian practices were compared by delegates and experts from both governments and private business.

Montreal lawer, H. Heward Stikeman, said after the meeting, that American corporations have "almost complete freedom" in such things as mergers. But Canadian corporation taxes make some mergers too costly, he said. By eliminating the lure of expansion plus increased profits these taxes slowed development of the economy.

B.O.P. Reports

Nowadays, neither Ayrshires nor Holsteins from the Howick-Ormstown - Huntingdon area figure largely in the monthly Record of Performance reports issued by the Ayrshire and Holstein Associations. It is true that in the case of the Ayrshires only records scoring 120% or more of the B.C.A. (Breed Class Average) are published; in the case of the Holsteins only records scoring 130% or more. Nevertheless, it is unfortunately true that only a small percentage of the Ayrshire and Holstein herds in this area are under the Record of Performance test plan.

However, while the percentage of R.O.P. tested herds in this area falls below that of a considerable number of similar livestock areas, there are several herds here which are continuously under the R.O.P., to their betterment. Several of these herds figure in the list recently issued by Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada, including the following. Incidentally all on twice-daily milkings and on a 305 day basis:

The Marbrae herd of R. B. MacFarlane, Howick, figures with Marbrae Pride which, at 9 years of age, produced 13,571 lbs. M., 523 lbs. F. — B.C.A. 165 M., 151 F. Also with Marbrae Queen of Hearts, a junior 4 year old with 10,379 lbs. M., 453 lbs. F., at 4.22% — B.C.A. 135 M., 138 F.

The Rockford herd of R. W. McFarlane, Howick, figures with 2 senior 2 year old heifers; Rockford Francis with 9,563 lbs. M., 377 lbs. F. — B.C.A. 129 M., 123 F.; Rockford Lucy with 8,617 lbs. M., 361 lbs F., 4.19% — B.C.A. 121 M. 122 F.

The Balquhidder herd of Archie Roy, Howick, figures with Balquhidder Royal Baby, a senior 4 year old daughter of the noted Cherry Bank Royal Bomber, with 11,037 lbs. M., 472 lbs. F., 4.28% —B.C.A. 129 M., 134 F.

The Burnside herd of R. R. Ness & Sons, Howick, figures with the well-known first and championship winner Burnside Appreciation which, at 6 years of age, produced 12,594 lbs. M., 518 lbs. F., 4.11% — B.C.A. 143 M., 146 F. Also Burnside Rosalie which, at 5 years, produced 11,153 lbs. M., 469 lbs. F., 4.21% — B.C.A. 127 M., 132 F.

The Clear Brook herd of Allan H. Wilson, Franklin Centre, figures with 3 listees, two of them in the mature class — 5 to 9 years — as follows: Clear Brook Wonder (6 years), 12,978 lbs. M., 476 lbs. F. — B.C.A. 148 M., 134 F.; Clear Brook Primrose (7 years) 12,779 lbs. M., 451 lbs. F. — B.C.A. 146 M., 127 F. Also Cedar Brook Rosy O'Grady, a junior 3 year old, with 9,245 lbs. M., 378 lbs. F., 4.09% — B.C.A. 125 M., 123 F.

The Alderwood herd of J. G. Wilson, St. Valentin, figures with 5 head. Two of them are in the mature class 5 to 9 years of age: Minstead Grace (8 years), former well-known Royal Champion, with 11,279 lbs. M., 430 lbs. F. — B.C.A. 131 M., 124 F.; Darland Countess Grove Queen (Imp.) (7 years) with 11,923 lbs M., 438 lbs. F. — B.C.A. 129 M., 123 F.

In the junior 4 year old class Alderwood has Alderwood Red Rose with 9,997 lbs. M., 433 lbs. F., 4.33% — B.C.A. 124 M., 131 F. Two daughters of the well-known champion Alderwood Supreme figure in the senior 2 year old class: Alderwood Supreme Bess with 9,137 lbs. M., 422 lbs. F., 4.62% — B.C.A. 124 M., 137 F.; Alderwood Supreme Luna with 9,806 lbs. M., 410 lbs. F., 418% — B.C.A. 133 M., 134 F.

The Week At Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian television industry has been warned to beware of rigged quiz shows.

"No station or network shall broadcast any contest or program purporting to be a contest, the results of which are known in advance of, or are known to have been determined in advance of, such contest or program", said the Board of Broadcast Governors.

The regulation was one of several contained in an announcement by the board covering TV programming in Canada. Another salient stipulation was that programming be 55 per cent Canadian content, though the industry was given until April 1, 1962, to attain this objective.

The board relaxed its original proposals to ban morning telecasting except for educational and children's programs and special events. Stations will be free to operate between 6 a.m. and 12 noon. But stations now operating in the morning and wishing to extend this service, or stations planning to enter the morning field for the first time, must submit their programming plans to the board.

After-Thought

The board, obviously concerned about the U.S. quiz show scandals which boiled over while it was holding public hearings here earlier this month, added the ban on rigged quiz shows as an after-thought.

Dr. Andrew Stewart, BBG chairman, told a press conference that while the BBG had no evidence and had received no complaints about the kind of "flagrant deception" uncovered in the U.S., it will keep its eyes open.

The board's decision to give broadcasters nearly 2½ years to make their programming 55-per-cent Canadian was a concession to the industry. No minimum was set for the present, but stations will have to attain a 45-per-cent Canadian content by April 1, 1961.

Commons' Assistants

Fourteen Progressive Conservative MP's were named parliamentary secretaries to cabinet ministries by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Appointed parliamentary secretary to the prime minister was a Quebec member, Paul Martineau (Pontiac - Temiscamingue). There is a statutory limit of 16 such assistants and one had been appointed previously, leaving one still to be named. The appointment probably will go to health and welfare, which still is without a parliamentary secretary.

The post of parliamentary secretary — or parliamentary assistant as it was known until the last session — pays $4,000 in addition to the member's $10,000 indemnity. Traditionally, it has been regarded as a stepping stone to the cabinet.

Grain to Poland

The Polish legation here announced a $17,000,000 deal for sending Canadian grain to Poland, involving 3,700,000 bushels of wheat and 7,000,000 bushels of barley. The deal, similar to one concluded earlier this year, brings total grain sales to Poland in 1959 to more than $30,000,000. Poland will make a 10-per-cent down payment, with the rest in equal instalments in 24, 30 and 36 months.

Quebec Universities

Ottawa and Quebec have found a way that is mutually acceptable out of the impasse over federal grants to universities, apparently without disturbing federal - provincial tax agreements.

It may be some time before the special formula is written into law, but what has been agreed upon apparently is something like this:

The Quebec government has decided to impose a new tax, probably on corporation income, that will yield between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 a year for statutory grants to Quebec universities. This new tax is mentioned as a one-per-cent levy.

The federal government has agreed because Quebec universities refuse federal aid, to make the new Quebec university tax deductible from federal tax payments by Quebec taxpayers.

It is presumed in Quebec that the provincial administration will propose turning over revenue from the new tax to a committee of Quebec institutions of higher learning for distribution.

At Quebec, government observers say the agreement does not disturb the terms of the 1957 federal - provincial tax agreements in which the share of the provinces was set at 13 per cent of the federal tax on personal income, nine per cent of corporation income tax and 50 per cent of federal levy on inheritances. All provinces but Quebec leased to the federal government their rights to levy direct taxes in return for the stipulated share and grants.

The National Conference of Canadian Universities now holds in trust for Quebec universities $17,500,000 in grants refused since 1956. Another $8,000,000 will be added to this by the end of the school year.

Prepare For Attack

The country's top survival expert told a civil defence conference at Arnprior, Ont., that Canada must be prepared for "the worst", even though Russia is not likely to start a general war.

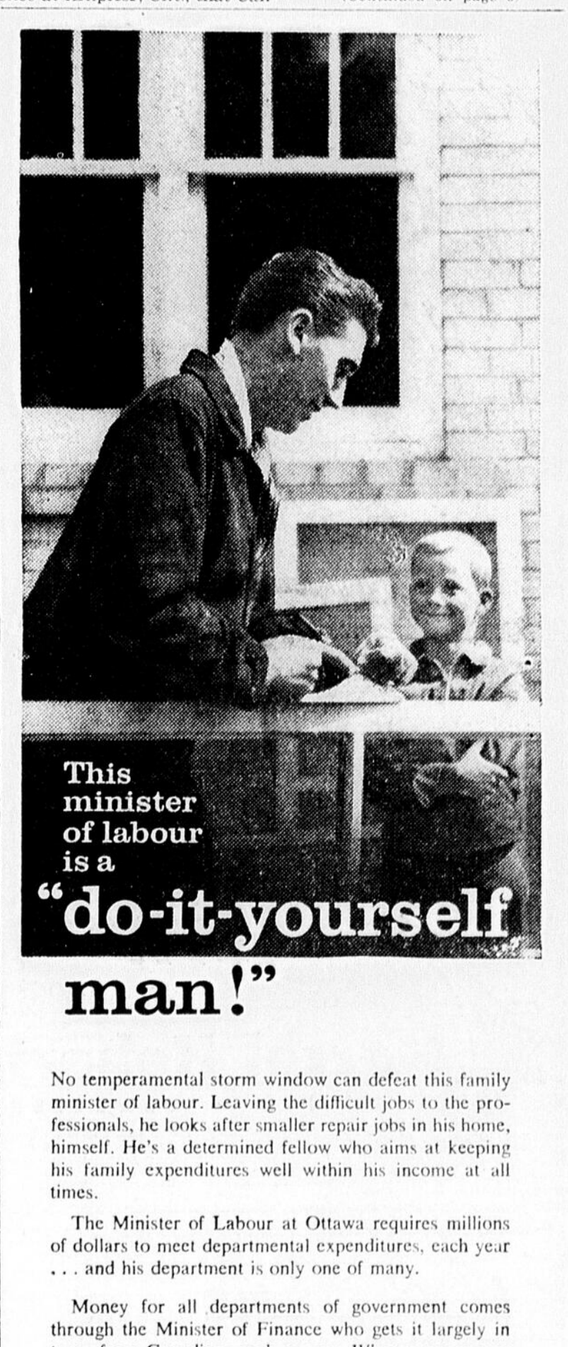

There is always the "possibility of circumstances", said Maj.-Gen. Arthur A. Wrinch, under which the U.S.S.R. might deliberately start a conflict.

He pleaded for an appreciation by the public of the Soviet's capabilities. If only 10 per cent of the lowest estimated number of Red bombers were able to penetrate continental defences and drop atomic bombs the devastation would be great and widespread.

J. F. Wallace, assistant to the director of the federal Emergency Measures Organization, said miniatures of the central government are being set up in the provinces. These would assume the federal government's duties in the event nuclear attack isolated a province from Ottawa.

Six regional officers of the emergency organization already are at work setting up the government nuclei and four others — for Alberta, Saskatchewan, Newfoundland and Prince Ed-

No temperamental storm window can defeat this family minister of labour. Leaving the difficult jobs to the professionals, he looks after smaller repair jobs in his home, himself. He's a determined fellow who aims at keeping his family expenditures well within his income at all times.

The Minister of Labour at Ottawa requires millions of dollars to meet departmental expenditures, each year . . . and his department is only one of many.

Money for all departments of government comes through the Minister of Finance who gets it largely in taxes from Canadians such as you. When more money is spent than is collected in taxes, government must borrow from you . . . or else create new money. The creation of new money is one factor that leads to inflation . . . which means your dollar buys less and less.

The government has been spending more than you have been paying in taxes. To narrow the gap between income and expenditures, new taxes have been imposed.

The next step should be to reduce expenditures, or at least hold the line. Undertaking new commitments — adding new welfare or other services — will only make it that much more difficult to pay our way. Tell your M.P. at Ottawa that since you are trying to save, you expect government to do the same.

You also help when you save more by means of life insurance, savings deposits, and the purchase of government bonds. Your savings help to create a SOUND dollar; and this, in turn, helps to create job security for you and more jobs for other Canadians.

Third on the All-Time high list of lifetime producers, also the first and for a long time highest "Gold Seal" hundred thousand pound producer, is the late Springburn Lovely Pet, bred by Gilbert Macmillan, Huntingdon, and owned by Bois de la Roche Farm, Senneville, Que. In her lifetime she produced 156,215 lbs. M., 6,452 lbs. F., 4.19% in 3,644 milking days.

Figuring in the All-Time production leader cow families — dam and daughter combinations — are two daughters of Terrace Bank Bettina, bred by J. Earle Ness & Sons, Howick, Que., and subsequently owned by Bowaters Pulp and Paper Mills, Corner Brook, Newfoundland. The two daughters, both bred in the Bowaters Herd, which figure in the top ten leaders of their respective classes are: Hammonds Class Tina 3rd, with a senior 3 year old record of 15,403 lbs. M., 674 lbs. F., 4.38%; Hammonds Class Tina with a junior 3 year old record of 12,402 lbs. M., 583 lbs. F., 4.70%.

Included in the "Gold Seal" Cow Families list are Bois de la Roche Marie, long an outstanding member of the Cherry Bank herd of P. D. McArthur & Son, Howick, and two of her daughters which were bred by Cherry Bank Farms. The daughters being Cherry Bank Royal Marietta with 100,644 lbs. M., 4,219 lbs. F., 4.19%, in 10 lactations or 3,079 milking days; Cherry Bank Royal Marina with 107,487 lbs. M., 4,166 lbs. F., in 10 lactations or 2,988 milking days. Both daughters were also classified "Excellent" for conformation.

The "Bonnie Buttercup" family of Cherry Bank naturally figures in any such list, in this instance there are two daughters of Cherry Bank Bonnie Buttercup, one of the ancestresses of that great family originated by P. D. McArthur & Son. The daughters figuring in the list, both of them type classified "Excellent", are: — Cherry Bank Bonnie Buttercup 6th, with 109,154 lbs. M., 4,131 lbs. F., in 11 lactations; Cherry Bank Bonnie Buttercup 7th, with 104,078 lbs. M., 3,987 lbs. F., in 11 lactations.

The great Burnside Blossom Andrietta, winner of over 40 championships, figures with two of her daughters, all bred and owned by R. R. Ness & Sons, Burnside Farms, Howick, Que. An "Approved Dam" herself, Blossom Andrietta also has to her credit four "Approved" daughters all of which were type classified "Excellent". Burnside Blossom Andrietta, herself, produced 100,307 lbs. M., 4,365 lbs. F., 4.34%, in 10 lactations; the records of her two daughters, both of them type classified "Excellent" being as follows: Burnside Barr Andrietta — 140,821 lbs. M., 5,396 lbs. F., in 15 lactations; Burnside Barr Blossom — 114,384 lbs. M., 4,494 lbs. F., in 13 lactations.

Incidentally Burnside Andrietta Again, "Excellent", another daughter of Burnside Blossom Andrietta figures in the Royal Winter Fair Produce of Dam winners, with 4 R.O.P. tested daughters to her credit.

Another Burnside family is represented by Burnside Lucky Darling 3rd, with 123,850 lbs. M., 4,910 lbs. F., in 11 lactations, and her daughter Burnside Lucky Darling 5th with 115,665 lbs. M., 4,866 lbs. F., in 13 lactations.

London Dairy Show

Scottish Farm Magazines which came to hand a few days ago indicate that, as heretofore, the London Dairy Show was decidedly a battle of the breeds, with the British Friesians (Holsteins) and the Ayrshires winning the two most coveted championship trophies.

The entrants must first undergo the Milking Trials in which points are given for weight of milk, butterfat and solids not fat (S.N.F.). For instance, Bordeaux Mavis 21st, the highest scoring Friesian cow, likewise the highest scorer of any breed, produced a total of 101.4 lbs. milk which tested as follows: 1st milking — 5.14% B.F., 9.30% S.N.F.; 2nd milking — 5.49% B.F., 8.99% S.N.F.; 3rd milking — 4.90% B.F., 9.36% S.N.F. Her total score was 243.92 points. In all instances a remarable performance, although much higher than that of the other Friesian contestants.

The Ayrshire leading cow, Snowshill Marietta, produced 95.8 lbs. milk, which with her B.F. and S.N.F. averages gave her a total score of 206.68 points, the next highest score to that of the Friesian. Incidentally while her milk yield was highest in the Ayrshire section her B.F. and S.N.F. percentages were below the averages of her breed compatriots.

The Ayrshire milk production leader, Snowshill Marietta was only placed second, with 102 points, in the Ayrshire conformation class. The leader in that class was Dunrod Princess Fair 31st, but since she was unplaced in the milking trials she was not a logical contender for the Supreme Individual (all breeds) championship. On the other hand, the Friesian milking champion, Bordeaux Mavis 21st, was unplaced on Inspection in her own breed and only tenth in the Inter-Breed conformation competition. However, in both instances their milk performance gave them a decided advantage, and so it was that while she was second on conformation to a Dairy Shorthorn cow, Snowshill Marietta finally won the Supreme Individual Championship (British Dairy Farmers' Association Trophy) for the Ayrshire breed. Bordeaux Mavis 21st was reserve for the British Friesian breed.

Incidentally the Dairy Shorthorn cow, Waveney Veracity 2nd, which stood first on conformation lost the final placing because she had a milk production score of only 153.88 points.

The coveted Bledisloe Challenge Trophy went to the British Friesian team of 6 cows, with a total of 757.75 points on milk production, and 470 points for conformation, a total of 1,227.75 points. The Ayrshire team was reserve with 709.25 points for milk, 450 points for conformation, a total of 1,159 points.

The other contestants were: Dairy Shorthorns with a total score of 1,054.35 points; Jerseys 993.88 points; Guernseys 938.04 points; Red Polls 925.51 points.

However, another Ayrshire team won the Coronation Cup for a group of six cows on Inspection. Dairy Shorthorns stood second, with Jerseys third and Holsteins fourth.

Immigration Down

In the first nine months of the yaer, 85,355 immigrants were admitted to Canada, 14,776 fewer than in the same period in 1958. Arrivals from the British Isles declined by 6,557 to 16,063, attributed by immigration officials to improved living conditions there. Estimated total immigration for the whole year is about 105,000, against 124,851 in 1958.

Maple Leaf Grange

A very interesting program was given at the Grange meeting on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17th, when Stanley Liversidge of Huntingdon gave a very informative talk on his work with the children and youth of the community. Active in Cub and Scout work, also in swimming lessons and playgrounds, his latest work is his Junior Choir of 11 boys and girls.

The choir sang several selections, some of them unaccompanied, also a piano solo by Allison Liversidge was enjoyed.

The parents of the children of the choir were guests of the Grange also. Sis. May Goodfellow as Lecturer welcomed the gathering and Allan Hunter thanked Mr. Liversidge for his evening's entertainment.

The thanks of the Grange go out to Bro. C. Pease, who presented a Masterpiece to the Grange created from the Neighbor Night Symbol of 3 years ago.

The meeting enjoyed a letter from Sis. Kay Williams telling in an amusing manner of their trip. They were in Missouri when the letter was mailed.

On Dec. 1st, Mrs. W. L. Carr will address the meeting and she will speak of Work with Retarded Children.

On Dec. 3rd Pomona meets at Bangor, N.Y. Sessions at 1.30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Sis. May Goodfellow will have charge of the program, assisted by talent from Malone and Westville. An exchange of 50 cent gifts will be made during the evening.

Dec. 15, Grange meeting cancelled, but on Dec. 11th the annual Christmas party for all Grange members, and their families will be held. The usual exchange of gifts marked for child, lady or gentleman will add to the Christmas festivities. The adult gifts should be the value of 50 cents.

New Erin

NEW ERIN. — On Saturday evening a party was held by Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rankin for about fifty relatives and friends, the guest of honor being their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Dryer of Casper, Wyoming. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. David Johnston and family of Dixie, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hanly and Linda of Lachute, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and family of Vaudreuil, Que.

One thing can be said for today's dollar. It has plenty of byeing power.

Howick

St. Andrew's Concert In Howick

HOWICK — The Georgetown and Riverfield Choirs presented their annual St. Andrew's concert before a capacity audience of some four hundred in Howick High School Auditorium on Saturday, Nov. 14th. After the singing of "O Canada" pipers Munro Wilson and Kenneth Ireland marched in to the skirl of "Scotland the Brave". The choir of twenty-eight voices sang with confidence and poise and gave fine renderings of new Scottish songs — the Ladies' Choir singing "In Praise of Isla" and "Mairi's Wedding". The songs of the soloists, all male, were well received by the large audience, and John MacFarlane's songs — "She's the Lass For Me" and "They Go Wild, Simply Wild Over Me" had their usual hearty response.

The group from The Royal Scottish Country Dance Society, in full Highland Dress, danced several Scottish Country Dances with fine spirit and extremely graceful deportment.

A one-act play, the story of an extremely slow-motion fiancé, and how he was made to set the date, was expertly and humourously performed by Agnes Brown, Jean Goodall, Jean McArthur, Muriel Cairncross, Merle Tannahill, and Ken Roy — the audience loved it. Mrs. Wallace Logan was at the piano throughout the programme, and with the choir and soloists, pipers, dancers, and an excellent one-act play, the audience voiced the opinion that the standard of this annual concert had not only been maintained but excelled.

At the intermission, the girls of the "Akita" group of C.G.I.T. under the leadership of Mrs. Clifford Craig and Mrs. Thomas Nugent sold candy for the benefit of C.G.I.T. and C.O.C., and the result of their efforts reached the fine total of $36.00.

At this annual concert the desire is always to start on time, and finish at not too late an hour, as more and more each year are coming from long distances to attend. With this in mind the programme was timed to close at 10.15 p.m. and at precisely that time the choir sang their usual closing number — the 23rd Psalm to the tune "Crimond", after which the audience rose to sing "God Save the Queen".

The annual meeting of the Georgetown Ladies' Aid Society was held on Nov. 16th at the home of Mrs. Mervyn Craig. After the usual business the treasurer reported that, including the balance from last year the amount of $1,311.00 had been raised by mite boxes in the spring, the catering to three weddings and in place of the fall supper a canvass had been made. A donation was given to the Board of Managers, the "shutins" remembered at Christmas and in May a visit was made to St. Anne's Military Hospital when treats of home-made candy, cookies and cigarettes were given to over 100 patients.

President, Mrs. Robert McFarlane.
1st Vice, Mrs. Arthur Kerr.
2nd Vice, Mrs. James Cullen.
3rd Vice, Miss Laura Robertson.
Secretary, Mrs. Robert McCaig.
Treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Glasgow.
Tea Convenor, Mrs. Mervyn Craig.

Mrs. Robert Ferguson of Sprakers, N.Y., spent a few days with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Peddie.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buchanan spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Allen at Powerscourt.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ness, Dr. W. Watson, Mr. Archie Roy, Mr. Mitchel Ness and Alan, Mr. Bruce Ness, Mr. Russell Logan, Mr. Ken. Roy, Mr. Bobby Tennant and Mr. Allister McArthur were among those attending the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Miss Isobel Anderson of Powerscourt, visited friends in the community on Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson spent a few days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Craig at Lakeside, Que.

The November meeting of the United Church W.M.S. met in the church on Tuesday, Nov. 17th, at the usual hour.

Regret was expressed that Mrs. Eric Smith had resigned as leader of C.G.I.T. The nominating committee reported that Mrs. John Logan had been named the new leader.

Miss Gwen Luttie on furlough will soon return to Japan. Miss Watson asked members to send Xmas parcels to Protestant Verdun Hospital. Mrs. Arnold McKell reported that 11 S.S. pupils were studying the temperance course.

Mrs. Harold Hope sang a solo entitled, "He Understands".

Mrs. Robt. Templeton took the study chapter on Angola, Africa. Angola has a coast line of 1000 miles and has many good harbours. The main religion is Catholic, but there are about 3 million Protestants, calling themselves the Church of Christ. Some beautiful coloured slides on Angola were shown at the close of her talk by Mrs. Templeton, assisted by Mrs. Melville Brown.

The November meeting of the Georgetown W.M.S. was held on Tuesday, Nov. 17th, at the home of Mrs. W. Logan.

Mrs. A. Kerr, the treasurer, reported $580.00 sent in to W.M.S. headquarters to date.

Mrs. Robt. MacFarlane, using Africa as the study theme, showed maps of Africa and read a very interesting article about David Livingstone and his pioneer work in the African mission fields.

A very pleasant item on the programme took place when Mrs. W. Logan, on behalf of the Georgetown W.M.S., presented Mrs. Wm. Brown with an Honorary Life Membership in appreciation of her unfailing support to all branches of the work and her ever willing response to its many demands on her time and strength.

At the close of the meeting tea was served.

The Howick United Church Evening Auxiliary met on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17th at the home of Mrs. Archie Peddie.

A film strip of Angola was shown with accompanying recorded narration. A recording of Angola natives singing in Portuguese was played, and the group was asked to sing "From Every Stormy Wind That Blows" along with them.

Mrs. Donald Roy gave a reading on the opening of a Bible House in East Africa.

It was agreed to continue with winter meetings and that the Fertile Creek group would make out the 1960 programs.

Mrs. J. J. Peddie, Mrs. Archie Peddie, and Mrs. Whiteford McKell were named to the nominating committee.

The Secretary was asked to write a "Thank You" note to Mrs. Robert B. Ness for her faithful work with the Junior congregation, and to Richard Turner and Donald Elvidge for running the movie projector.

A lovely lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

During the evening two large quilts were tied, and a crib quilt was quilted.

Members were asked to bring used clothing to the next meeting on Dec. 8th.

1 Buy your stamps now and avoid the Christmas rush. 2 and 5 cent stamps are available in handy dollar packages for your convenience.

2 Check your mailing list for correct postal addresses. When mailing to Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec, be sure to include the Postal Zone Number.

3 Tie your out-of-town mail and local mail in separate bundles. Attach the labels that the Post Office supplies. This speeds delivery. Be sure to put your return address on the envelopes.

4 Parcels should be wrapped well and tied with strong cord. Print the address. And put your return address outside and inside the parcel. Have parcels weighed at your neighbourhood Post Office

5 Mail early. Nothing is so disappointing as Christmas mail that arrives too late. A Post Office leaflet will be delivered to your home giving suggested mailing dates.

To Pay Girls Less Common Practice

Working girls can help spread the idea of equal pay for equal work by greater trade union activity, the labour department's women's bureau says.

In a summary of the bureau's findings on the question of equal pay for women for doing work comparable with that done by men, the Labor Gazette says two other courses are open to women in their fight for equal pay.

One is that they take suitable vocational training and the other that they make use of equal-pay legislation in force in seven provinces for labor matters under provincial jurisdiction and of similar federal legislation on fields under federal jurisdiction.

The practice of paying women less than men for doing the same work is widespread, despite the impetus given by the Second World War towards equality, the bureau says.

The significant reason is the law of supply and demand—usually there are enough women or more than enough available for any particular type of employment at any particular time.

Vocational training would improve the bargaining position of women and open up to them greater fields of endeavour, but women have been inclined to be apathetic toward making use of such training.

The financial need to get work quickly without waiting for training, a lingering antipathy to women in fields in which men have predominated and the likelihood that marriage will cut short their employment are given as reasons for this apathy.

Doctors Changing Ideas About Fever Treatment

Next time you run a high temperature, the best treatment may be to let it run its course.

Medical science is changing many long-held concepts about fever, the Reader's Digest reports. Among them: the idea that fever should be brought down by drugs, bed rest, "sweating it out" and "starving it out."

Autor J. D. Ratcliff notes that fever actually helps the body fight disease by prodding it to create germ-killing antibodies and white blood cells. At some temperatures, it can even cook bacteria to death.

It is important to remember that fever is not a disease but a symptom, says Ratcliff. As such it can help doctors follow the course of an illness. That is why many physicians now question the wisdom of reducing common fevers with drugs such as aspirin.

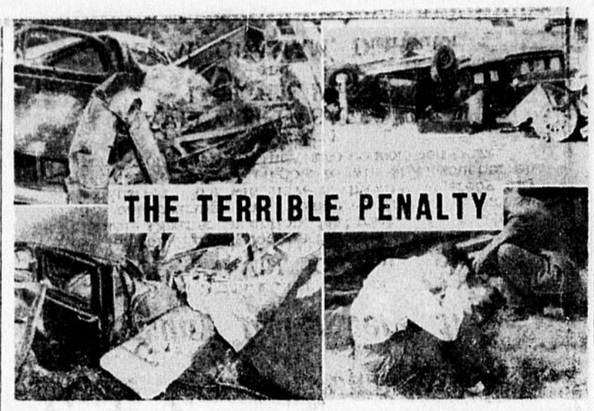

Says Dr. Alan K. Done of Stanford University: "Anti-fever therapy is often employed more for the benefit of parents than the child. It is doubtful whether body temperatures in the range of 104° are harmful, even if prolonged for a few days."

The old practice of "starving a fever" is also out. Today's rule: a diet high in vitamins and proteins, with all the liquid the patient can take.

Also scrapped is the concept of "sweating out" the fever by piling heavy blankets on the patient. A comfortably cool room is now prescribed.

Even bed rest is no longer the hard and fast rule it once was. One physician, Dr. John P. Gibson, studied the records of more than 1000 feverish youngsters. He found that those who were allowed to be up and around the house improved just as quickly as those who were confined to bed. His conclusion: In ordinary illnesses, children many play quietly and rest as they desire.

"Normal" temperature is generally considered 98.6° Fahrenheit. But don't worry if yours is a point higher or lower. Many doctors feel there should be a "zone" of normal temperature from 97.2° to 99.5°, because body heat varies daily from an early morning low to a high point in late afternoon.

In an effort to cut down on the number of accidents which involve citizens in the area served by this newspaper, the Gleaner will keep a list of the violent type before its readers as a constant reminder. Listed below are those accidents which appeared in the issues of the Gleaner for the date shown and which involved victims in death or severe injuries. The number listed does not cover all the accidents which have occurred, only those resulting as mentioned above. All have to do with traffic accidents. This is the list so far for this year — 1959.

New Parole Laws Seen As Helpful To Reform Work

HALIFAX, (CP) — Prisoners and ex-convicts in Nova Scotia are in for a new deal. A recent change in legislation has dissolved the old remission service and resulted in a board with ultimate authority to grant parole.

The new legislation will enable more offenders to return to normal life. The remissions branch of the department of justice has had overall authority in these matters and under the Ticket-of-Leave Act has been able to release any inmate from any institution in Canada, except those awaiting execution. The authority to recommend pardons, however, has been used sparingly.

Probation as a method of treatment of the adult offender is relatively new in Canada. Under the constitution the provisions of all court services is a provincial responsibility and the provinces differ widely in their points of view and in their readiness to adopt probation.

Enlarge Program

Lloyd R. Shaw, president of the John Howard Society of Nova Scotia said here recently that the 500-member "after-care" group was revamping its program, to extend the area of its responsibilities in crime prevention, penal reform and the rehabilitation of discharged prisoners.

The society operates with the support of the justice department and the provincial attorney-general. It advises the parole service on prison inmates who are suitable for parole, and helps in their rehabilitation.

Under the system more than 90 per cent of Nova Soctia's parolees are successfully returned to useful living. Last year nearly 1,000 persons were aided either in prison or following their release.

The parole work in particular saves many tax dollars in view of the $2,000 it costs to keep a person in prison for a year.

The John Howard Society has been in operation in Nova Scotia for nine years, an outgrowth of the original Canadian group formed in Vancouver in 1931.

Since 1946 a chain of societies has been organized across Canada for the after-care of prisoners needing assistance during their second chance.

The societies have federal support, and most of them have provincial support. A variety of other services are also rendered to courts and other agencies in the community.

Until recently in Nova Scotia the membership was mostly lawyers and people involved in social welfare and the courts, but membership now is extended to the public.

A society office in Sydney works in conjunction with the Halifax head office. The current program is basically geared to salvage the usefulness of offenders awaiting trial, in prison or discharge, to prevent criminal relapse through intelligent treatment and to promote correctional research.

The society also promotes improvement of correction institutions and programs and encourages better public under standing of the complex social problems of crime and punishment.

Tons Of Garbage Have Cities Fuming But Hole In Ground May Hold Solution

Faced with the ever-increasing problem of getting rid of tons of garbage, many comunities are fuming—in more ways than one.

But many of them have discovered a way to turn their refuse into beautiful parks, and save money at the same time.

An article in a current magazine describes the sow's ear-into-silk-purse method, known as "sanitary refill." Under the system, large areas are gouged out with a bulldozer. Garbage is then used to fill in the hole. The area is covered with topsoil, levelled, and useful land has been created out of a little imagination, and a lot of rubbish.

But what about current garbage? Landfill just goes on continually. Dumping is confined to a small "working bank". There refuse is immediately smoothed and packed by the bulldozer, and topped by dirt at the end of each day. As soon as a sizable portion of land is filled, it is covered with a two-foot layer of topsoil and planted with grass, trees, and shrubbery. Land is carefully contoured during the filling operation.

The new method not only turns bad land into good, but it can do its work right in town without being offensive. This saves transportation and labor expenses incurred when refuse is hauled to a dump in the outskirts. Landfill can also be used where there is any sort of low-lying land or a scar in the ground.

But some communities, such as Cobourg, Ont., are hard to convince. When the landfill method was proposed there, the public reaction was so strong that land outside the town had to be found before it could be used.

Mashed Potatoes

Brian Mercer, an English engineer, was inspired to a new invention while helping his wife in the kitchen of their Lancashire nome. He was putting potatoes through a ricer when he noticed the neat streams produced. It occurred to him that they could be intertwined, so he notched the metal edge of a ruler to guide the movements of the potatoes. The result was a mashed potato netting. Mr. Mercer realized the same principle could be applied to plastic and developed the metnod in England.

The material is being introduced in Canada. As a fine flexible mesh it's expected to appear as hair-nets and crinolines. Rigid open mesh looks like fencing.

The Canadian manufacturer says potential uses include packaging where netting or mesh serves as a container or decorative wrap, novelties, buckram, belts, luggage, handbags, fencing material, room dividers, filters, coasters, radio grills, lamp shades, pan scrubbers, playpens, and garden chair upholstery.
