EXTREME HEAT WAVE CLAIMS MANY VICTIMS

Caillaux Partially Surrendered To Socialists' Attack

French Cabinet Crisis Held Off For The Present

Attacks Launched by Socialists on Programme of French Finance Minister Proved Successful—Crisis, Apparently Threatened Early in Day, Seemed Postponed Later When Caillaux Partially Surrendered to Socialists' Attacks—Minister Agreed to Attempt to Balance Budget and to "Rehabilitate" French Finances Simultaneously.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, June 5.—The cabinet crisis, apparently threatened earlier today, seemed postponed later when Finance Minister Caillaux partially surrendered to the Socialists' attacks upon his financial programme.

The attacks were conducted by former Finance Minister Louis Loucheur, and by Socialist leaders at a "peace conference," with the Government and the Left Bloc of the Chamber called by Premier Painlevé to harmonize opposition to the Caillaux financial programme.

At first the attitude of M. Loucheur and the Socialists seemed irreconcilable with that of M. Caillaux. The impasse was maintained during the greater part of a three-hour discussion, but finally when M. Loucheur took the floor the Finance Minister weakened somewhat and compromised.

M. Caillaux insisted that the balancing of the budget came first, while M. Loucheur and the Socialists maintained that financial reforms must precede a budget equilibrium. M. Caillaux, however, "emphatically rejected the Socialists' demand for a capital levy."

One of M. Caillaux's main arguments was that the best way to secure a satisfactory settlement of France's debt to the United States would be for France to balance her budget, and even to make her receipts exceed expenditures.

M. Caillaux, after hearing the arguments of M. Loucheur, agreed to attempt to balance the budget and to "rehabilitate" French finances simultaneously. This "rehabilitation" although described in general terms, was taken to mean the inauguration of various measures leading to the refunding of the internal debt and the stabilization of the franc.

BIG OFFENSIVE IS LAUNCHED BY RIFFIANS

Attack Was Conducted With Greatest Fierceness that the Tribesmen Have Yet Displayed.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, June 5.—The Riffian tribesmen have launched the strongest and best organized offensive since their invasion of French Morocco with a drive against Tananout, in the middle of the front.

Official reports say Abd-El-Krim's men temporarily gained some ground, crossing the Ouergha River at several points, but were repelled by the French.

The latter in a series of counter attacks re-occupied some of the posts north of the stream, which were abandoned during the voluntary evacuation of that zone last week.

The Riffian offensive was conducted with the greatest fierceness the tribesmen have yet shown. Abd-El-Krim used Riffian regulars, his best shock troops, in the attacks, but the French declare they were mowed down by machine gun fire and that their losses were extremely heavy.

The Riffians used no artillery but their forces were larger than in any previous operation of the campaign.

W. D. MITCHELL APPOINTED U.S. SOLICITOR-GENERAL

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Wm. D. Mitchell, of St. Paul, was appointed today as Solicitor-General of the United States.

Mr. Mitchell succeeds James M. Beck, whose resignation was announced several weeks ago.

THE WEATHER

MOSTLY FAIR AND VERY WARM

Pressure distribution has changed very little since yesterday. The barometer is high on the south Atlantic coast and low over the western half of the continent. Heavy rains have been fairly general in Saskatchewan and scattered showers have occurred in Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario and Eastern Nova Scotia. The weather continues very warm from the Great Lakes eastward and cool in the Western Provinces.

Forecast: Southwest winds, mostly fair and very warm today and Saturday. Probably local thunder showers.

Hon. P. J. Paradis, M.P.P., chief Liberal organizer in the district of Quebec, who will likely be appointed to fill the vacancy left in the Senate by the death of Senator Godbout.

SOVIET MONEY BEHIND RIOTS IN SHANGHAI

Trouble Spread Considerably Overnight—Estimated that 150,000 Men Are on Strike.

(Associated Press Despatch)

SHANGHAI, June 5.—The strikes and rioting here extended considerably over night, and the number of those abstaining from work today was estimated at 150,000.

The strikers are reverting to old time Chinese methods, threatening the lives of the families of those workers remaining loyal to foreign employers.

The secretary of the Shanghai Municipal Council says that during a raid on the strike leaders' premises the police secured valuable evidence that Bolshevik money and activities are behind the present disturbances.

POLICE JOIN STRIKERS

(Associated Press Despatch)
SHANGHAI, June 5.—The anti-foreign campaign continued to spread with increasing rapidity today. The entire Chinese police force will be out tomorrow. One-eighth of the force has quit already. Stores in the French concession heretofore unaffected by the disturbances, which started last Saturday, were closing today.

MAY MEAN GENERAL ELECTION THIS FALL

(Associated Press Despatch)
OTTAWA, June 5.—Belief was voiced here yesterday that the coming election in Nova Scotia and that to be held this year in New Brunswick would, if they returned Liberal Governments, mean a general Dominion election this fall.

Considered Payment Of Advances From Out Of Disablement Fund To Veterans' Society Justified Under General Clause Of Trust

Deputy Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Tells Of Loans Made to Dominion Veterans' Alliance—G.W.V.A. Secretary-Treasurer Testified as to Proceeds Received From Sale of Poppies During Past Three Years.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, June 5.—Testimony by E. H. Scammell, assistant Deputy Minister of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment and trustee of the Disablement Fund, featured last night's sitting of the special committee of the Senate appointed to call for an accounting of certain canteen funds, advances from the Disablement Fund and disposal of proceeds from the sale of poppies. Mr. Scammell considered the payment of advances out of the Disablement Fund to the Great War Veterans Association and the Dominion Veterans Alliance, totalling $20,000, justified under the "general clause" of the trust.

After the failure of the canteen fund bill to become law last year, stated Mr. Scammell, C. Grant MacNeill, of the Dominion Command of the G.W.V.A., had approached Hon. Dr. Boland, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, for the purpose of obtaining further loans. Mr. Scammell had discussed the matter with the minister, and in view of the fact that various other veteran organizations had been requesting assistance, it was deemed advisable to make further loans to the Dominion Veterans Alliance, rather than to the G.W.V.A. Two loans of five thousand dollars each were made in the form of cheques payable to the Dominion Veterans Alliance.

Questioned by General Griesbach, Mr. Scammell considered that the Dominion Veterans Alliance had the right to make any allocation of the money it chose and utilize the G.W.V.A. to carry on adjustment bureau work, for which purpose the money had been loaned. The fact that the money actually went to the G.W.V.A. rather than to the Dominion Veterans Alliance was a matter, in his opinion, between these organizations.

C. Grant MacNeill, secretary-treasurer, Dominion Command, of the G.W.V.A., testified as to the proceeds received from the sale of poppies in 1922, 1923 and 1924.

General Griesbach questioned further in regard to payments under the head of "publicity and propaganda" to J. E. March. He desired to know what services Mr. March had rendered, for which he had received sixty dollars per month, and subsequently payment at the rate of eighty dollars.

"Mr. March prepared special articles for publication in the Veteran," replied Mr. MacNeill.

TWO BROTHERS ARE GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Charles and Francis Aiken Held in Connection With Death of Farmer at Roxton, Que.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, June 5.—Charles and Francis Aiken, youthful Americans, were this morning found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in the Court of King's Bench, in which tribunal they have been standing trial during the past several days for the fatal shooting of George Benton, a farmer, of Roxton, Que., on May 7, 1924.

The juryman had been locked up all night. In his charge to them yesterday afternoon, Mr. Justice Wilson said that he thought "murder" or "acquittal" was the only possible verdict.

The two brothers will be sentenced at the end of the present term. George Benton was found lying in a roadway near his home by another farmer, who had previously encountered the two accused headed for Benton's home, one of them carrying a gun. This same farmer had later heard a shot and had again met the lads leaving the district. Several minutes later he had found Benton in the road, shot.

The wounded man was removed to a hospital in Plattsburg, where he died a few days after the shooting.

The Aiken brothers were placed under arrest in the United States city and charged with the crime. They were extradited to Canada and for several months prior to their trial were lodged here in Bordeaux Jail.

A REPRIEVE HAS BEEN GRANTED GERALD CHAPMAN

Reprieve from June 25 to December 3 Issued by Governor on Application of State's Attorney Alcorn.

(Associated Press Despatch)

HARTFORD, Conn., June 5.—A reprieve for Gerald Chapman from June 25 to December 3 was issued yesterday by State Governor Trumbull, on the application of State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn. Chapman was convicted at the March term of the Superior Court of the murder of Policeman Skelly in New Britain, and after a sensational trial was sentenced by Judge Jennings to be hanged at the state prison on June 25.

A Series Of Bomb Plots To Assassinate King Alfonso Discovered—Return Of The Sovereign To Madrid Has Been Postponed

One Bomb Was Discovered on Tracks Traversed by Royal Train on Way to Barcelona—Two Other Plots Are Reported, One to Blow Up Entrance to Hall Where Alfonso Presided at a Meeting Last Sunday and the Other to Kill Him During Return Journey to Capital.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BARCELONA, Spain, June 5.—A series of bomb plots to kill King Alfonso has been revealed, and the sovereign's return to Madrid is being postponed.

One bomb was discovered on the tracks traversed by the Royal train on the way to this city. Two other plots are reported, one to blow up the entrance to the hall where Alfonso presided at a meeting last Sunday, and the other to kill him during the return journey to the capital.

The bomb found on the rails has been placed in a museum here, and the King took time from his scheduled programme to view it. It is of considerable size and had been placed so that, for the vigilance of guards, it would have been exploded by the impact of the Royal train.

The attempt at the meeting hall also was frustrated by discovery of the plot shortly before His Majesty appeared. The delay in returning to Madrid is said to have been because of the third plot.

The King's reception here has been extremely quiet, and there have been few decorations in his honor.

Barcelona, the principal city of Catalonia, has been the centre of the Catalan movement for independence from Spain. It was also the seat of the military revolt under General Primo de Rivera, which in September, 1923, overthrew the cabinet and established the military directory now ruling the country.

FOURTEEN PERSONS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

PERPIGNAN, France, June 5. Fourteen persons have been arrested in Barcelona in connection with the bomb plots against King Alfonso, according to travellers arriving over the frontier, who say news of the plots is being suppressed in the Spanish newspapers.

Those arrested were young students and functionaries.

BOMB FOUND IN BARCELONA CATHEDRAL

LONDON, June 5.—A despatch to the Evening News from a point on the Franco-Spanish border says it is reported that a bomb was found in the Barcelona Cathedral just before Alfonso attended mass there.

The despatch says four priests were arrested.

The despatch also reported that a bomb exploded outside a Barcelona hotel the day after a ball there in honor of King Alfonso.

BILL WILL PLACE WOMEN ON SAME LEVEL AS MEN IN APPLICATIONS FOR DIVORCE; BIBLE WAS QUOTED

Third Reading Given to Bill Equalizing Grounds Upon Which Men and Women Can Secure Divorce in the Three Prairie Provinces—The Bill to Provide Loan of Five Million Dollars to Quebec Harbor Commission Was Reported from Committee and Now Stands for Third Reading.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Ont., June 5th.—Estimates of the Department of Public Works will be taken up in the House of Commons today. Yesterday in the Commons third reading was given the bill equalizing grounds upon which men and women can secure divorce in the three prairie provinces. The bill to provide a loan of five million dollars to the Quebec Harbor Commission was reported from committee and now stands for third reading.

In the Senate yesterday there was a debate upon population and the migration of Canadians to the United States.

REARRIVING BAN LOST

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, June 5.—The bill to place women on the same footing as men where an application for divorce is concerned came up for third reading in the House of Commons yesterday. The bill is sponsored by Capt. J. T. Shaw, Independent member for West Calgary.

Thomas Vien (Liberal, Lethbridge) at the outset moved that the bill be sent back to committee with authority for the addition of the following clause:

"In no case where divorce is granted by an act of Parliament or by a decision of any court in Canada or elsewhere, shall either of the divorced parties in Canada have the right to marry again."

He moved this qualification to the bill, Col. Vien said, with the full knowledge that it would be unpalatable to many people in the House of Commons and in the country generally. He realized that he would be called a bigot; that it would be said that he was "trying to impose upon others a religious belief they did not share," but he hoped to convince the House that he was merely acting as his conscience dictated. If he had his way, he would stamp out divorce altogether. It was because this bill was the first one on the statute books dealing directly with divorce that he opposed it. Since it had passed several stages of the House, and might become law, he felt it his duty to try to insert a clause against re-marriage. Such a clause would have the effect of greatly reducing the number of applications for divorce. It would remove the reason why most divorces were being sought.

COFFIN OF KING ETHELBERT IS DISCOVERED

Coffin Made of Stone and Contained Bones of King of West Saxons.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, June 5.—While engaged in excavation work in connection with the restoration of Sherborne Abbey, workmen discovered the coffin of King Ethelbert, who died in 865 and was buried in the abbey in 866. The coffin was made of stone and contained the bones of the King of the West Saxons.

Ethelbert or Aethelberht, King of the West Saxons, succeeded to the sub-kingdom of Kent during the life time of his father, Aethelwulf, and retained it until the death of his elder brother, Aethelbald, in 860, when he became sole King of Wessex and Kent, the younger brothers Aethelred and Alfred renouncing their claims. He ruled these kingdoms for five years. His reign was marked by two serious attacks on the part of the Danes, who destroyed Winchester in 860, while in 865 they ravaged Kent.

Mr. Vien also referred to an announcement by the General Synod of the Church of England in October, 1921, which, he stated, favored "an indissoluble union for better or for worse of one man and one woman."

Mr. Vien quoted the statements of St. Paul in his Epistles to the (Continued on Page 9.)

Strongly Opposed To Adoption By Canada Of Gold Standard At The Present Time

Sir John Aird Also Voiced an Earnest Protest Against Any Repeal of Finance Act, Which He Declared Was One of Best Pieces of Legislation on Statute Books.

(Associated Press Despatch)

AMHLTON, Ont., June 5.—In a speech which aimed to present in simple form several of the questions of the day of mutual interest to bankers and manufacturers, Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, at the Canadian Manufacturers' Association banquet last night, came out quite frankly in opposition to adoption by Canada of the gold standard at the present time. It would necessitate the establishment in New York of a large credit, he declared, which would cost the country a substantial sum so long as the credit had to be maintained. Great Britain, since the declaration for a gold basis, was steadily buying gold, and this was costly. Canada could well afford to await the outcome of Great Britain's venture.

Sir John Aird also voiced an earnest protest against any repeal of the Finance Act, which came into operation within forty-eight hours of the beginning of the war and which between 1914 and 1924 had brought in over fifteen million dollars to the treasury without one dollar's cost to the country. There were some politicians who wished to have it rescinded, but he appealed to his hearers to fight vigorously against such a policy.

It was, in his opinion, one of the best pieces of legislation on the statute books. Declaring that Canada was long on legislation, education and taxation, but short on production and population, Sir John ended his speech with a plea that something practical should be done to develop the potential wealth of the country and increase its population.

Bright, cheery, livable—what an atmosphere of tasteful comfort Congoleum Gold-Seal Art-Rugs bring into the home! How well they set off any and every type of furniture—what glorious hours for leisure and recreation they afford!

For only light mopping is required to clean Congoleum Rugs—a few seconds' effortless work, which removes all trace of dust, tracked-in mud and spilled things and leaves their seamless, waterproof surface just like new.

No trouble to install

It is easy to make selections of Congoleum Gold-Seal Art-Rugs. Designs and color-combinations range from richest Oriental to a simple tile pattern—styles for every purpose, types for every taste. It is no trouble to lay Congoleum Rugs for they lie flat without fastening and the corners never curl.

Congoleum By-the-Yard

The same trouble-saving, serviceable material as the rugs, for use to cover the entire floor. Many beautiful patterns without borders; made in roll form, two yards wide.

"It's guaranteed pure—and purity means value in soap—" says Mrs. Experience, to housewives interested in saving.

"Of course, you know right away that I refer to Sunlight—because Sunlight is the only laundry bar soap made in Canada that is guaranteed pure. A $5,000 Guarantee of Purity goes with every bar; and according to the makers, this Guarantee has never once been challenged during the whole lifetime of Sunlight Soap.

"It's perfectly obvious, too, that when every particle of a soap is pure cleansing material—and not loaded with useless adulterants and hardening materials—then that soap has more cleansing power and does more work with less labour. A little of it goes a long way. In short, it's really economical.

"That's why I always use and recommend Sunlight for the laundry, dishes and general housework. Sunlight keeps my hands soft and comfortable, too!" Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto, make it.

BOYS' CAMP ARRANGEMENTS.

Considerable interest is being evidenced in the Y.M.C.A. boys' camp for 1925, and it would appear as if most successful on record. It is expected that the junior camp will open on June 27th, and the senior camp on July 11th. All thinking of going should register immediately, thus giving the committee in charge all the help that is possible in making arrangements.

TWO CASES SETTLED IN RECORDER'S COURT

Recorder Forest this morning dealt with the only two cases on the roll, and after the hearing imposed the usual sentence in each case. The two accused were John Bonnalie, of Brompton, who had been arrested last night on Marquette Street charged with being intoxicated and insulting ladies, and was consequently given a fine of $10, and costs; and William David, of this city, who was arrested on Wellington Street south as a result of being intoxicated. A fine of three dollars and costs was handed down in this case.

OLD POLICE HEADQUARTERS HAVE DISAPPEARED

All that remains of the building which has housed the police and fire departments for a great many years past is a mass of bricks and piles of wooden beams, as a result of demolishing operations which were started several weeks ago. As soon as the police and fire departments entered the new headquarters at the corner of Marquette and Belvidere Streets, work was begun of demolishing the old building. This work has progressed very fast, and now has been practically completed, although there remains much to be done in the way of picking up the bricks and removing them to the new headquarters, where they are to be used again in buildings which are to be erected here.

THE HOME OF THE ULTIMATE PEACE

If perfect peace can be attained in this world — and there are those who believe it can — it is to be found only in an environment which is free from the imperfections which disturb the mind or jar upon the senses. There must be no ugliness to offend the eye; no clamorous noise; no commotion; no restless-ness in the things about one. There must be beauty and either a harmonious blending of soothing sounds or else quietness; if there is any odor it must be pleasing one; if there is any activity it must be the normal movement of natural things — the stirring of a leaf, the babbling of a brook, the flight of a bird.

Such things contribute towards, if they do not constitute a perfect environment. Travellers say that the nearest possible approach to this perfection is to be found in the Rocky Mountains and for the benefit of those "seekers of peace" the Canadian Pacific Railway has erected a number of appropriate resorts in those places which are regarded as the loveliest. There is Banff Springs Hotel, in the heart of Rocky Mountain National Park; Chateau Lake Louise, facing an exquisite Alpine lake; at Emerald Lake, a charming chalet in the midst of the picturesque scenery of Yoho National Park; and, lastly, Glacier House, in the Selkirk, a splendid centre for climbing and glacier exploring. On the far-famed Pacific Coast, too, they have established two first-class hotels, one at Vancouver and the other, the Empress Hotel, at Victoria, B.C. Any Canadian Pacific Railway agent, or J. A. Metivier, C.P.A., C.P.R., 91 Wellington Street North, will be pleased to supply beautifully illustrated descriptive booklets to any desiring additional information.

MANSONVILLE NURSE WINS RECOGNITION

From time to time various interesting facts are brought to light which go to show the efficiency and success attained by nurses, particularly from the Eastern Townships, who enter the Sherbrooke Hospital for training.

The latest such incident worthy of note is the graduation of Miss Flora Alleen George, of Mansonville, from the school for graduate nurses, McGill University, she receiving McGill's certificate for "Teaching and Supervision in Schools of Nursing." Miss George also carried off first class honors in nine different subjects.

Miss George graduated from the Sherbrooke Hospital at the head of her class in 1922; filling with credit the position of night supervisor of the hospital for a term of Government Experimental Station Shows Minimum Temperature Yesterday of 58 and Today 50—Cool Breeze Last Night Relieved Situation.

With the thermometer resting at seventy-seven today instead of eighty-five as yesterday, the people of Sherbrooke are enjoying a little cooler weather, although electric fans in the offices and parlors on the streets are by no means uncommon.

Reports from the Lennoxville Experimental Station show that the minimum temperature registered today was fifty, while yesterday the minimum was placed at fifty-eight. The maximum at noon, when the last observation was made, showed the mercury to be standing opposite the seventy-seven mark, while about the same time yesterday the mercury had crept up to eighty-five.

Following the excessive heat of yesterday, local residents were somewhat relieved during the evening by a fair sized breeze, which was gratefully appreciated by all. The clouds showed signs of rain, but these showers, which, also, no doubt would have been welcomed, did not materialize.

After the offices had closed for the day many citizens did not waste much time in motoring out to Little Lake in an effort to find a cool spot. Reports state that it was even difficult to get cooled off even at this popular resort.

one year, and leaving on October 31st, 1923.

Miss George was awarded the scholarship of the Association of Registered Nurses for Quebec Province, later entering the School for Graduate Nurses at McGill University, from which she graduated with the above mentioned honors. Friends congratulate Miss George on her fine achievement, and doubly so because she is an Eastern Townships girl.

BOY RETURNS HOME AFTER THREE DAYS ROAMING

After a three days search on the part of parents and police, and a three days roaming among the hills and valleys of Ascot on the part of a boy, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. George Grondin, Larocque St., was located yesterday and again brought within the fold of his family.

According to the boy's story he did not want to go to school, and could not help answering the call of nature to enjoy the day in the sunshine among the freshly blossomed flowers instead of in a closed and stuffy school room. Consequently he decided to take a roam and soon found himself in Ascot. After the novelty of his adventure gradually wore off, he decided to return to his parents. He was noticed on the city streets before he had time to reach his home. His parents were immediately notified of his presence, and he was shortly located.

MAN SENTENCED FOR ASSAULTING BAILIFF

George Provencal, of Manchester, N.H., who was ordered on Monday by Judge J. H. Lemay to stand trial before the Court of King's Bench when found guilty at the preliminary hearing of assaulting L. A. Gaudreau, bailiff of the Superior Court, who had been ordered to seize Provencal's car, appeared before Judge Lemay this morning, and asked for a speedy trial, pleading guilty. He was sentenced to a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs or one month in jail.

In rendering judgment the judge remarked that he was being a little more lenient in this case owing to the circumstances of the accused, than he would otherwise have been. He remarked that it is considered to be a very serious charge for anyone to interfere with an officer of the law while he is performing his official duties.

AUTO SMASHES THROUGH STORE WINDOW

An accident which fortunately had no serious results occurred about two o'clock yesterday afternoon when an auto driven by Mrs. McLean, of Lennoxville, and bearing license plate 30262, while going along Wellington St. left the road and smashed through a plate glass window in the temporary store of A. C. Skinner.

According to information received the auto was being driven along Wellington street towards the north, and was travelling along the street car track. When the driver attempted to turn onto the side of the road, the rear right wheel caught in the tracks and left the body of the car. The car then rushed onto the sidewalk and through the store window before it could be stopped.

Fortunately there happened to be no passers-by on the sidewalk at the time, otherwise serious results might have occurred. No serious damage was done to the goods in the window, it is understood, apart from the breaking of several watch crystals.

LENNOXVILLE

Eightieth Birthday Celebrated
On Tuesday, June 2, a very happy event took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Johnston, Church Street, the occasion being the celebration of Mrs. Johnston's eightieth birthday. While expecting the arrival of her youngest daughter and her family from North Bay, Mrs. Johnston was surprised in having with her also all her children and grandchildren. A bountiful supper had been provided, to which the jolly company did full justice, while enjoying still more the happiness of reunion.

There were present, besides the guest of honor, Miss Margaret Dadds, Lennoxville; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnston, and Mrs. H. I. McFadden and Miss Irene McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Johnston and Malcolm Jr., all of Ayer's Cliff; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Young and baby Joyce, of North Bay, Ont., and Mr. W. M. Steele, of Sherbrooke, Mrs. Johnston's nephew.

After supper Mrs. Johnston was persuaded to take her place in a beautiful new padded leather rocking chair, which was presented to her by the company mentioned above. During the evening several of the relatives from Sherbrooke called to congratulate Mrs. Johnston and to wish her many more equally happy birthdays.

Ladies Aid Meets
The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church was held yesterday afternoon in Douglas Hall, with a fair attendance. The usual routine business was carried out and plans made for a food sale and afternoon tea on June 19. The hostesses, Mrs. Wark, Mrs. Lipsey, Mrs. Woodside and Mrs. McLeod, served supper to the members and several guests who came in after the business meeting.

At the weekly meeting of the Guild of St. George's Church, arrangements were made for the annual sale, to be held next Tuesday. The sale has become an event of each June and is much anticipated as one of the enjoyable social events of the season.

MERCURY VERY HIGH AGAIN

the metropolitan districts. Six were killed and three were injured, the heat being indirectly blamable, for the accidents.

This brought the tally for the duration of the heat wave so far to twelve killed, five in the city itself.

The mercury reached 93 degrees here by three o'clock. This was the high mark for the season.

Reports indicated that the only cool spots in the United States were in the far west. In some parts of the south it was cooler than in New York in the early morning hours. It was 76 in Pensacola and Jacksonville, Fla., at 8 o'clock while in this city at that hour the thermometer registered 78.

Beyond the Mississippi, electric and windstorms came with the heat, took heavy toll of life and caused large property damage. The highest temperature recorded in the morning hours was 82 at Key West, Fla., and the lowest 36 at Boise, Idaho.

While Washington was sweltering today with the official thermometer at 99 degrees, a water famine was threatened. Citizens have been warned against using a cooling hose or trying to wet their lawns down to dissipate the heat of the sun.

Summer weather was very much the order of the day in the metropolitan area. Few felt hats remain on the streets. Girls went to work in sheerest dress. Men blossomed in palm beaches. Hot restaurants suffered neglect and the noon day throngs mobbed the soda counters. Ice cream and ice water were everybody's call.

But although the west side had its share of misery from oppressive temperatures, it was on the crowded east side that heat showed itself the monster it can be. People wilted on the pavements like grass in July.

Threadbare old beggars tottered, hand on stick, to the shade of the nearest doorway and fell exhausted. Sweltering workers pushed on doggedly, whole families rung out on fire escapes, the breathing holes of the tenements, like so much family wash.

The usually noisy flocks of children were reduced to a handful of sticky urchins, who sat about despondently on curbs. Alley cats nosed gauntly among crates and boxes in the recesses of buildings, white-faced babies gasped and squalled. Dragged mothers unclothed infants down to the minimum of decency.

Bedding was stacked on the fire escapes. Tenement populations were glued to the checkerboard of windows like flocks of flies to a screen.

Relief for the youngsters came from the fire department when Chief Kenlon ordered the six hundred bath sprinklers turned on throughout the city. Sun baked and inert gamins soon were converted into bands of gleeful, dripping demons who danced through the chilly spray and defied the hovering heat.

Many schools were dismissed early. In Newark the heat was so intense the school session was cut two hours.

Outgoing trains were full of folk seeking relief in the country. New York's great summer migration to beach and wood and lake began in earnest. The less fortunate prepared to spend the night in the city parks and on the sands of Coney. During the day park benches were at a premium and those unable to find a seat threw themselves panting on the ground in the shadow of trees or hedges.

FIVE DEATHS IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Chicago, in the grip of an almost unprecedented early summer heat wave, sweltered again yesterday. Starting from a comparatively mild 74 degrees at 6 a.m., the mercury climbed rapidly until noon, when 90 was registered. At one p.m. the reading was 91 degrees, and at 5 p.m. it reached 95. The 95 mark equals the highest mark ever reached on any June 4th in the fifty-five year history of the local weather bureau. Once before, in 1911, the same figure was registered.

Suffering was most acute in the crowded sections of the near west, north and south sides of the city. Women and children flocked to the lake front, where the temperature was not quite so high.

Chicago added five names to the death list, due to the torrid temperatures.

CRIES OF "LONG LIVE THE SOVIETS" SAW FRENCH MINISTER WITHDRAW

PARIS, June 5.—Cries of "Long live the Soviets," it leaked out today, culminated in the retirement of Anatole de Monzie, Minister of Education, from the ceremony inaugurating the Soviet exhibit at the International Exposition of Decorative Arts.

M. de Monzie told Leonid Krassin, the Soviet Ambassador, that "in the very interest of Franco-Russian relations" he could not continue to participate in a ceremony the character of which had thus been transformed from artistic to political. After bidding farewell in his own name to Madame Krassin, the representative of the French Government quickly retired from the exposition, accompanied by his suite.

Social and Personal

Mrs. J. A. Waite, of Montreal, is a visitor in town the guest of friends.

Mrs. C. P. Buckland, Magog Street, left yesterday for Richmond, where she will assist in the concert being given there this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Foss, Laurier Avenue, left the city yesterday to visit friends in St. Johns, Que., and Montreal. They will be absent for a week or ten days.

Mr. Henry Hall, Boys' Work Secretary of the Montreal Central Y.M.C.A., is at present at Estes Park, Colorado, representing Montreal at the great International Conference. During his absence, Mrs. Hall is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hall, London street.

The last meeting of the season was held by the C.G.I.T. of Plymouth Church last evening. Among other business matters it was decided to pay the expenses of three girls at Camp Knowlton this summer. Plans were also completed for the holding of a picnic tomorrow afternoon.

A general meeting of the Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary was held on Monday at St. Peter's Church Hall. The president, Mrs. David Wilson, presided, and after the minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed, the treasurer submitted a statement (to date) of expenditures for hospital supplies, which amounted to over $1,700, including next payment towards the portable X-Ray referred to at a previous meeting. It was the unanimous desire of the meeting that the portable X-Ray be given as a memorial to the late Mrs. T. J. Tuck, a former president of the Association, who served in office for over twenty years. Arrangements were made to open the Hospital Cafeteria again Exhibition week. The city canvassers kindly consented to act again, and it is hoped that the out-of-town districts will also do their part in helping to replenish the treasury, which at present is very low. An appreciative vote of thanks was accorded to the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's and the Congregational Churches, also the Walter Blue Company for work done. It was decided to adjourn until August 15th, when all reports from the canvassers and out-of-town districts will be called in.

MARRIAGES

PEARSON-RYLAND.

A wedding of much local interest was solemnized on Saturday, May 30, by Rev. Dean Matheson at St. John's Protestant Cathedral, Winnipeg, when Miss Nora Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryland, was united in marriage to Mr. Sydney Lawrence Pearson, son of Mr. W. J. Pearson, of Waterloo, Que.

The bride chose for the occasion a smart model of rose-du-bois canon, with side godets of matching lace. Her hat was of straw and georgette in rose-du-bois and pastel tones. Matching shoes and hose and a brown fox fur completed her costume. She carried a large sheaf of ophelia roses and valley lilies, tied with honeydew tulle. Both bride and groom were unattended.

After a family luncheon at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. W. H. Ryland, Cathedral avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson left for a motor trip throughout Minnesota and Illinois.

SENSATIONAL CASE HEARD AT ISLAND POND

ISLAND POND, Vt., June 5.—Unique proceedings took place here at the inquest held in the offices of State Attorney Oliver H. Cameron on June 3rd, of an almost unbelievable story of wholesale thievery and burglary which has seldom if ever been rivaled in New England's history.

Looting of stores of every description in this town and of the freight sheds of the Grand Trunk railroad, between Portland, Me., and Montreal—has been going on for 25 years, according to testimony given and involves fully 100 persons.

The court proceedings were unique. While Superior Court Justice Roy Beattie of Malbone was holding inquest in one of the state attorney's office, Municipal Justice Kyle Brown of Luenburg was holding a criminal session of court in the other. Evidence brought out at the inquest was taken across the office to the other court and there introduced as evidence against the defendants.

The proceedings were only the start of a much wider prosecution. Nightfall, however, saw six defendants sentenced, while a seventh pleaded guilty, but sentence was deferred. Elmer Farmer was sent to state prison for from five to six years, Nason Anderson received a sentence of from 2½ to four years in the house of correction and Ralph Moulthrop, Bernard Giroux, Francis LeFevre and Alton Lougee were sent to the industrial school. Lyman McWain pleaded guilty, but sentence was put over.

Investigation of the looting has been going on for some time. Edwin C. Brown, superintendent of the Wood Detective Agency of Boston, has been here for three weeks collecting evidence under direction of State Atty. Cameron and in co-operation with the High Sheriff.

Don't neglect to read the Classified Advertisements in this issue.

Mrs. J. J. McGovern, of Montreal, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith, Montreal Street, for a few days, returned home today.

The Women's Association of Plymouth Church met in the church hall last evening with the president, Mrs. A. M. Sangster, in the chair. Plans were outlined for the summer's activities in connection with the Association. It being the occasion of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of one of the members, Mrs. W. Southgate, she was presented with a silver sandwich dish and salt and pepper shakers, also a bouquet of flowers. The hostesses at the tea hour, when delicious refreshments were served, were Mrs. Henry Ranshousan and Mrs. Alex Ross, while Mrs. Salter poured tea. The small tables were decorated with narcissus and double buttercups.

Guests registered at the New Sherbrooke House include Mr. M. C. Brubaker, of Kitchener, Ont.; Mr. F. W. Hall, of Toronto; Mr. H. L. Deveau, of Farnham; Mr. G. E. Harding, of Boston, Mass.; Mr. E. Mendelsloh, of Kitchener, Ont.; Miss Josephine Morrison and Miss Mildred Henderson, of Boston, Mass.; Mr. P. R. Welshaw, of Randolph, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Caron, of Three Rivers; Mr. P. H. Cote, of Arthabaska; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ayars, of Maplewood, N.J.; Mr. F. D. Cadmus and Miss Elizabeth Cadmus, of Staten Island, N.Y.; Mr. Edgar T. Capet, of Knowlton; Mrs. P. S. Peters and Mrs. R. L. Eltinge, of New York City; Mr. J. R. Lindsay, of Toronto, Ont.; Mrs. S. T. Fregean, Miss Annie Gilmore and Mrs. E. G. Bethel, of Rock Island; the Misses Ethel M. Cummings and Louise Smith, of Coaticook.

FIVE MILLION FOR ROADS IN THIS PROVINCE

Tenders for Loan Will Be Considered Today by Cabinet—Meeting Held Yesterday.

QUEBEC, June 5.—At a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday it was announced that the tenders for the five million dollar loan for the prosecution of the road work in the province would be received today. The decision to float such a loan was made some time ago, and today it is expected that tenders will all be in hand.

The five million dollars, or the major portion of it, will be devoted to the construction of new roads, the maintenance of highways, and general work connected with the department.

The report of the commission appointed to study and report on the classification and salary scale of the Civil Servants of the province was also taken up by the Cabinet, though no official declaration was made.

It was announced that the contract for the new bridge over the Montmorency River would be awarded today. Ten tenders have been submitted to the Government.

No official date was set for the leasing by auction of some four to five thousand square miles of timber limits in the Lake St. John region, but the general opinion seemed to prevail that the fourteenth of July would be the date finally decided upon.

There was expectation held that the nomination and election date would be set by the Cabinet for the filling of the vacancy in the Legislature caused by the death of Mr. John Hays, member for Argenteuil, but it was learned that this was left in abeyance.

CANADA AS INTERPRETER.

In speaking of Canada as the interpreter between the two great branches of the English-speaking people, Sir Robert Falconer in his lectures in Great Britain is not stating for consideration any new doctrine. He is simply explaining and elaborating an old thought in a manner that will undoubtedly attract attention and possibly go a long way in counteracting some of the adverse criticism which has been levelled at this Dominion of late in Britain.

Sir Robert takes a broad view of the Canadian migration to the United States. He points out that the movement started years back, having ebbed and flowed for nearly a century, at the same time explaining that if the United States recovers from the cycles of business depression, migration from this country will continue at these periods and the movement will be reversed at the turn of business the other way. He also points out that these migrating Canadians become agents of good will, for they all retain affections for Canada and are not slow to interpret Canadian life and customs to their newly found American friends. Consequently, today the average American has a fair understanding of things Canadian.

The remarks made by Sir Robert have already aroused some favorable comment in the United States press. The Chicago Tribune points out that many would welcome a war between Britain and United States. Some of these people who perhaps are thinking of the possible war profits, prophesy that trade rivalry will make such a war inevitable. The Tribune says that it does not put much stock in such talk, the chief reason for its conclusion being Canada. Another reason is Australia. These two countries, together with United States, it adds, have an identity of interest and outlook on the Pacific which should serve to keep the peace. Therefore, the Tribune is thankful for Canada in the role of interpreter.

Sir Robert's statement that visitors from Britain going to the United States by way of Canada undergo in this country "a process of Americanization," is repeated by the New York Times. Likening this country to a fence, the Times says "If the fence between the two countries were removed there would be a loss of something very unique and precious in world relationships and in national neighboring. This country is fortunate to have such a neighborly neighbor and interpreter."

The Times recalls how other eminent men have tried to interpret the Americans to the people of Britain. John Bright used to quote an acquaintance as saying "The Americans are a remarkable people they talk a great deal of nonsense, but they act wisely." Goldwin Smith wrote that Canadians and Americans "are pretty much of a piece" and "hardly anything remains" to separate them but the political and fiscal line. Quite apparently the Times favors Sir Robert Falconer's method of interpretation.

EDUCATION IN CANADA.

High tribute is paid to the great progress being made in education in Canada by the Christian Science Monitor, which says:

"Canadians have abundant justification for pride in the material accomplishments of their capable and energetic Dominion. Considering the vast area of the country, the comparatively sparse population spread over it, the necessity of this small number of inhabitants spending a great part of their thought and energy on opening up, planting and developing a new land, and the time and attention that must be given to the peculiar problems of frontiers that run across and through almost all parts of the huge domain, the achievements of the people of Canada in finance, industry, trade (their exports and imports to and from the United States showing the Dominion to be one of the best customers of the great republic at the south with more than ten times the population of Canada) stand out as one of the wonders of the modern world."

"There are reasons for still higher gratification on the part of both Canadians and their admirers in evidence that, along with material development and success, the less tangible but more valuable things of life have not been neglected, but rather have been attended to with marked results. The achievements of Canadians in literature, art and poetry have been notable. What the Dominion is doing in regard to education gives striking proof of its upward march toward the character building of its people. A survey of Canadian education in the last year of record, 1923, recently published, furnishes surprising figures in this direction."

"It shows that about one person in every four in the Dominion goes to school. In 1923 the pupils in scholastic institutions numbered 2,194,200 out of an estimated population of 9,082,840. With the great impetus toward education evidenced both in the United States and Canada in the last few years, this proportion of pupils to population has without doubt increased largely. Of the more than 2,000,000 pupils recorded in 1923 there were 1,928,000 in ordinary day schools under state control, 81,000 in state vocational classes, 60,000 in colleges and universities, 100,000 in private schools, 14,000 in Indian schools, 9,600 in teacher training institutions, and 1,600 in schools for the blind and deaf. A marked increase in attendance at secondary schools and in enrollment of pupils above fourteen years of age is noted. A steady increase of students at colleges and universities is recorded."

"The problem of illiteracy is faced with vigor and with proofs of success. In 1911 the census revealed that the number of illiterates in Canada was considerable. The 1923 report showed that the total was rapidly decreasing even among immigrants from countries where educational standards were much lower than those of the Dominion. 'The rate of progress in the case of the younger groups,' the report says, 'ought to mean that the utter extinction of illiteracy in Canada is in sight.' Towards this end schooling is compulsory in every province except Quebec. Even there, where the English-speaking population is relatively small, 630,705 pupils are enrolled in all scholastic institutions. English is included in the curricula of most of the French Canadian schools."

"The expenditure devoted to publicly controlled schools in 1923 was $1,722,209. This class of education cost $28.17 per pupil in Prince Edward Island, $30.42 in Nova Scotia, $33.96 in New Brunswick. The cost mounted steadily in other provinces, reaching $80.40 in British Columbia.

"These figures prove that they are doing splendid things in Canada besides felling forests, opening mines, breaking new lands under the plow and raising huge crops, and that they are building for a noble future."

PRESS COMMENT

CONSTITUTIONAL PROGRESS.

(Toronto Globe)

Those who feel discontent at the progress of Canada toward a better defined national status may find comfort in a study of the actual steps taken during the past two or three generations. The advances made since the granting of responsible government have been most marked. A paper by Professor George M. Wrong on "The Evolution of the Foreign Relations of Canada," published in The Canadian Historical Review, cites the chief events making for this evolution, each a distinct advance on the preceding. Prof. Wrong observes, as was also pointed out by Mr. John W. Daffoe in The Winnipeg Free Press not long ago, that the American Revolution, far from advancing popular government in the remaining British American colonies, acted for a time in the contrary direction. The revolution "served as a warning that Colonial liberty might encourage the dangerous demagogue, who, they believed, was responsible for the revolutionary movement."

CANADIAN RAILWAY ECONOMY.

(Christian Science Monitor)

Especially since it has been demonstrated that Canadian railways can be operated with as great economy under public ownership, and as efficiently, it is doubtful whether any political party would come out openly in favor of amalgamation under private ownership. When several lines were taken over because they had failed under private ownership, the Canadian people had no very pronounced views on the question of nationalization. They had heard much of political patronage on the Government railway in the Maritime Provinces, the Intercolonial. The possibility of political patronage would still deter many from supporting a merger which would practically eliminate private railway ownership in Canada—even though the estimated saving of $100,000,000 annually would be very attractive to Canadian taxpayers.

In the meanwhile, the administrative heads of the national and privately owned railways are considering some measures to eliminate waste and duplication without amalgamation. The duplicate stations, freight yards, ticket offices and much other competitive machinery will continue, but an agreement to desist from running competitive trains, where one train would adequately serve the community, and similar co-operative steps may soon be undertaken in the interests of economy.

EDUCATING THE WORLD FOR PEACE.

(St. Paul Pioneer-Press)

Attorney General Sargent proposes a world-wide campaign of education against war, based on the last war's cost of 10,000,000 lives and $337,000,000,000 in money. He might support his thesis with a long list of evils equally serious. Some of the worst effects of the war were manifest after the fighting ceased. They are psychological as well as material—the breaking down or weakening of many previously accepted standards.

A temporary and unhealthy prosperity in the United States for some of the people led to habits of extravagance, fast living and vices of a kindred nature. Everything was unsettled in economics. But for the war, we would not have had such heretical experiments as price and wage-fixing by law, Government operation of railroads, Government adventures in business and banking, new kinds of taxation to favor one class against another, prohibition, a great increase in crimes of all sorts, a world-wide propaganda against working for a living and in favor of Government doles, and the wiping out of part of the savings of the thrifty by the depreciation of money.

The paper money debauch of all Europe, abandonment of the gold standard and present violent opposition to its restoration would have been unthinkable on the part of enlightened people if peace had been uninterrupted.

The world hates war more intensely than ever before, but the very fear of it is one of the reasons for present international suspicion. Education will help the cause of peace. Probably it will actually do more than any proposed formula.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CITY COUNCIL'S LATEST RESUEST

To the Editor, Sherbrooke Record.

Sir:—The inevitable has happened! The by-law for twenty thousand dollars has passed the City Council. This is outrageous. Of all gentlemen I have met in my short span of life I have yet to meet any with a stronger capacity and a keener sense of spending other people's money than those who at present sit in the Council; it is an easy matter to spend that which one did not work and toil for and one which the most simple are capable of. I do not exactly know what the Council thinks the citizens of Sherbrooke are, but by their actions one could fairly well judge.

The sooner our local council adopt a drastic policy of economy the better for them and the citizens.

Yesterday one of the garbage team drivers was laid off, leaving four men to cart away the refuse from our homes. Against this we look at the City Hall over-staffed by men and women alike who are desperate in trying to hide themselves in the dust of the toil which is not there for them to do. Years ago the City Office staff consisted of a small number of efficient men and women who knew their work and did it, and there were fewer errors in the city books and accounts contrasted with today. I am well aware that the city has grown since those times, but has it grown in proportion to the heavy staff? With this staff can one get efficient service? No a thousand times no. On Saturday last I was in the office to pay an account and was kept waiting so long that I finally walked out went down the street, finished my other business, and returned to the city office to do my business there. Inter-office conversation is so very important, and business is so slack that they have an ample amount of time on their hands to enjoy this form of amusement to the full.

Do I believe in organization? Most assuredly I do, but I do not believe in organization until you can hear the various parts of the machine knocking against each other in passing. I have diverted somewhat from my original statement, — that concerning the garbage driver, but if it takes this staff to look after the accounts of the city, should it not take a heavier staff to remove the refuse of the City? Four teams. They certainly are having their work cut out for them? How are our city fathers reconciling this to common sense sanitation?

Again notice the number of "Red Cars" floating quietly through our city. Could there not be a duty up in these? Is it absolutely necessary that each man have a separate car? As an observer one would think Sherbrooke to be the city of millionaires instead of a city of toiling people.

During the war in some paper I noticed a cartoon representing the building of an ancient shrine. Down in the dirt in the hollow were the slaves polishing and pulling the stones into place, while on the hill were men (?) stout with hot air and saying something to the beautiful site and finished product.

The city fathers of today might do well to buckle up their sleeves, put on their thinking caps, arise from their softly padded chairs and experience a day of "work by perspiration," relieve the unemployment of the City and let "fluffy ruffles" wait until the sun is shining brighter.

This letter long, and tedious, resolves itself to this. Our fair city is too poor (or stingy) to afford five garbage wagons — few enough anyone knows — yet it can afford twenty thousand dollars to complete an already over-paid building.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I am, Yours truly, RITZ.

EMBARGO OR BANKRUPTCY

To the Editor, Sherbrooke Record.

Sir:—In a recent letter I called attention to the fact that new construction in Canada's newsprint industry now impending involve a 65 per cent increase in the output of this commodity.

The pulpwood required to meet this expansion will exceed the total volume now exported.

Where is all this wood to come from?

Apart from the danger of exhaustion of our wood supply, the throwing of this large additional tonnage of paper upon an already over-stocked market must result in smashing the price below a point at which our mills can operate and remain solvent, unless a corrective can be devised.

Immediate prohibition of further exportation of raw pulpwood, in addition to providing wood for the new mills, would also serve to stabilize the paper market situation.

Canada must either do this or adopt the other alternative of discouraging the erection of new paper mills.

Which action will the government take?

Canada's solvency is bound up with that of the paper industry.

The Canadian people await an answer.

LINCOLN, DECADES AGO, FORESAW PRESENT "WHITE COLLAR" PROBLEM

By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift

These are the days when thousands of young women and young men are receiving their diplomas from universities, high schools and other institutions of learning.

It is an appropriate time to recall one of Lincoln's observations on education. In 1850, in a speech delivered in Milwaukee, Wis., he said: "Educated people must labor, otherwise education itself would become a positive and intolerable evil. No country can sustain in idleness more than a small percentage of its numbers. The great majority must labor at something productive. From these premises the problem springs: 'How can labor and education be most satisfactorily combined?'"

Conditions today mark well the wisdom of Lincoln's words. One of our most serious problems arises from the over-supply of so-called "white collar" labor. There are not enough young men who are willing to do overalls and get down to hard manual labor. There are too many who are willing to sacrifice personal income for the false advantage of holding a "gentleman's job."

It is not enough for our schools and colleges to send our young people forth into the world possessed of mere text book knowledge. It is of equal importance that they step into life's experiences with a deep appreciation of the honor and dignity of labor.

Not enough of our educational institutions are instilling this thought in their minds, although, happily, vocational training is making progress. From the beginning of the elementary grades to the very last day of school life, the student should be given a deep understanding of the significance of Lincoln's words: "Educated people must labor."

This is one of the most worthy accomplishments to be attained through the teaching of thrift in the schools. For an important fundamental of thrift is an appreciation of the value of labor.

TOWN COUNCIL AT RICHMOND HELD MEETING

Reported that Chlorine Plant is Installed and in Operation—Annual Inspection of St. Francis College Cadet Corps—Other News and Personals of Interest.

RICHMOND, Que., June 5.—The regular monthly meeting of the council of the town of Richmond was held in the council rooms on Monday evening, June 1, with a representative number of members present. It was reported that the chlorination plant that the corporation decided some time ago to erect is installed and in operation. The council was informed that Mr. Adams, contractor, is in town to discuss the remaking and repairing of the roads, especially those from the Quebec crossing to Pearson's corner. Chief Proulx has been sent by the council to attend the Chief Constables' convention, which will meet in Winnipeg.

The rest of the meeting was taken up with routine business and the passing of accounts.

Cadet Inspection.
The cadet corps of St. Francis College was inspected by Capt. Belanger, of Quebec, on Tuesday. The cadets lined up on the campus under the command of Lieut. P. Gray, and their skill in company drill, platoon drill, arm drill, semaphore and Morse and physical training was demonstrated and highly commended for efficiency. The shooting awards were then presented, consisting of four bronze medals. For highest individual score the medal given by the Strathcona Trust was won by Lorne Pease. In the British Empire shoots in this corps, Elwyn Mastine was first, receiving a large medal, with Ernest Bolter and Donald Rattray tied for second place, each receiving miniature medals.

General Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Green and Mrs. Hilton, of Sherbrooke, motored here on Sunday and visited friends. Mr. Gunter has purchased the Stewart farm at Bedard's Mills. Mr. G. G. Price has moved into the Campbellton residence, Melbourne.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Elgood and son, of Island Pond, Vt., spent the week-end with Mrs. Wm. Ross, College street.

Miss Minnie Damant and sister have returned from a few days' visit to Ottawa and Montreal. Miss Gladys Marchand, of Victoriaville, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chamberlain have moved into the Pope apartments, Aberdeen avenue. Rev. J. C. MacLeod and Mr. M. G. Crombie left on Tuesday for Toronto, where they will attend the annual meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Mrs. S. Stewart, Mrs. Pepler and Mrs. G. Hall spent Tuesday in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sims and Mrs. W. Rattray attended the closing of Macdonald College on Wednesday. Mrs. H. A. Clark, of Montreal, spent the week-end with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Duboyce were in Montreal recently. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Smillie have returned from Montreal, where they had been guests for a few days of their daughter, Mrs. S. Jennings.

Mr. Elmer MacLeod spent a few days at his home here recently. Mr. and Mrs. E. Stockwell, of Danville, spent Tuesday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Sims, of Windsor, Ont., are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. Sims before sailing for England, where they will spend some time.

Mrs. W. Duquet is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dionne, of South Durham. Mrs. Dionne, who met with a slight accident a few days ago, is improving. Mrs. P. Laroche has returned home from Cleveland, Ohio, where she was delegate at a convention held there.

Mrs. P. C. Duboyce was recently presented with a life membership in the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church in virtue of her long service in the society. Mr. Beaulieu, of the staff of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been transferred to Timmins, Ont.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. MacLeod were in Montreal on Friday attending convocation at Macdonald College.

College. Miss Edith McCourt has returned to her duties, having been indisposed for some time.

During the absence of Rev. Messrs. Craik and Stafford, united services on Sunday were held in the Congregational Church in the morning and the Methodist Church in the evening. Mr. Donald H. MacVicar, of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, officiating at both services.

Mrs. R. P. Stafford and children have returned from Lennoxville, where they had been visiting for the past few days.

Mr. H. A. Clark was in Sherbrooke on Saturday attending the funeral of his aunt, the late Mrs. MacKinnon. The remains were conveyed to Montreal, where interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. W. D. Clark and Mrs. Cassier, of Richmond, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Mr. Russel Martin, of Springfield, Mass., is in town for a few days.

BROOKBURY

The Ladies' Aid was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. L. H. Hooker on Wednesday, June 27, with an unusually large attendance. A parcel of goods had been received from the Dominion Textile Co., Montreal, and plans were made for cutting and making garments from same. Tea was served to twenty-seven members and visitors, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. F. J. Bennett. The proceeds from the meeting amounted to $2.60. Mrs. A. Rich, of East Dundas, has kindly offered to entertain the next Brookbury Ladies' Aid, which will be held at her home on Saturday, June 6.

The county convention of the W.C.T.U. will be held in Bury on June 11, instead of June 10, as previously reported.

Mr. W. E. Hooker and sons have commenced work on their barn to replace the one destroyed by fire last December. Mr. J. Worby has been in charge of the cement part.

The Rev. Mr. Spencer, of Scotstown, held services in the Advent Chapel on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of last week, and was greeted both evenings with good congregations. On Tuesday evening the theme was "We Have Found the Christ," and on Wednesday, "Lost and Found." The Rev. Mr. Spencer rendered special violin selections entitled "Take My Hand, Dear Father," and "The Chord in the Wilderness," all of which were much enjoyed.

Mr. S. A. Mead, of Coaticook, was recently here on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Johnson, and daughter Thelma, of Rock Island, spent the week-end with relatives at "Ernridge," making the trip by motor.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Leonard and Mrs. J. H. Leonard were Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of England.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS FARMER

HELPFUL HINTS TO FARMERS FOR BETTER CROPS

Smut Diseases of Grain Should Be Understood by Farmers in Order to Be Able to Combat Them.

The smut diseases of grain are of considerable economic importance and every farmer should know how to combat them for the sake of his own crops as well as those of his neighbors. The treatments which have been devised are comparatively simple and should find a place in the routine of every farm. The following is a list of the common smut diseases of grain crops, with the treatments for each; this is followed by a detailed description of the treatments:

Wheat:—Stinking Smut or Bunt: Thorough fanning of the seed grain will remove most of the smut balls. This should be followed by the formalin dip or sprinkle, which gives perfect control. Copper carbonate dust is giving good results and is easier of application, but it has not been tested sufficiently to warrant general recommendation.

Loose Smut: This disease cannot be controlled by seed disinfection because the fungus spores are not carried on the surface of the seed, infection being produced by a small part of the fungus carried within the grain. Hot water treatment is the only means of control.

Barley:—Covered Smut: Formalin dip or sprinkle. Loose Smut: This is similar to the loose smut of wheat and can only be controlled by the use of the hot water treatment.

Oats:—Smut: Use the dry formaldehyde treatment, or the formalin sprinkle. In the case of bullous oats, either of these treatments causes a serious loss in germination of the seeds, and copper carbonate dust should be employed.

Corn:—Smut: This disease is not transmitted in or on the seed grain, but is carried over in the soil from one year to the next and spreads in the field from infected to healthy plants, producing the smut "boils" on any part of the plant. A strict rotation, and as far as possible, the collection and burning of the "boils" are the only means of controlling its spread.

Treatments.
Formalin dip: Fill bags half full of grain. Add one pint of formalin (40 p.c., formaldehyde) to 40 gallons of water, immerse bags in the solution for ten minutes, moving them up and down so as to drive out the air bubbles. Remove the bags and allow to drain and then spread out the grain to dry. Be sure not to replace the grain in the bags used for the seed before treatment, but either new bags or ones that have been soaked in the solution and dried. The solution does not lose strength by use.

Formalin Sprinkle: Dilute one pint of formalin (40 p.c., formaldehyde) with 40 gallons of water. Pile the grain on a clean floor. Sprinkle the solution on the grain with a broom or sprinkling can. Mix well by shovelling over. When the grain is evenly wetted, pile it again and cover with clean bags for two hours, then spread it out to dry and put into clean bags. Forty gallons of solution is sufficient for 40 to 60 bushels of seed. If seed is done soon after the treatment, adjust the drill to allow a free flow of seed, or the stand will be too thin.

Dry Formalin Method: Dilute one part of formalin (40 p.c., formaldehyde) with one part of water and spray this solution on the grain, shovelling over at the same time. One quart of solution to 50 bushels of grain. Cover the pile with bags or blankets for five hours. The seed can then be sown without drying.

Copper Carbonate Dust: Two ounces of finely divided copper carbonate is used per bushel of seed. The seed and dust are put into a barrel and the open end covered by trying a piece of canvas or a sack over it. The barrel is then rolled around on the floor until the dust has been thoroughly distributed over the seed. This treatment can be done at any time prior to sowing.

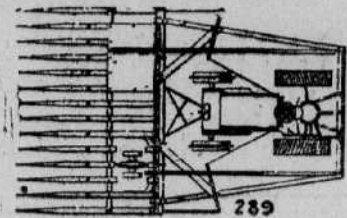

Hot Water Treatment: This is a difficult treatment unless there is live steam used in the dairy on the farm, or unless there is a cheese factory nearby, where the treatment could be done. The bags of grain are placed in water and live steam turned in until the temperature is raised to 127° F. Enough steam is then run in to maintain a temperature of 124° to 127° for ten minutes. The bags are then taken out and drained and the grain spread out to dry.

RECENT INVENTIONS OF INTEREST TO EASTERN TOWNSHIPS FARMERS

(By C. J. Lynde, Macdonald College, Que.)

MOTOR BUCK RAKE

The rake is designed to permit steering of the rake frame. The rake is connected to the main frame

CORN PLANTER

The box here has one compartment for seed and one for fertilizer. The axle passes through the fertilizer and has disks for agitating it. A sliding plate in the bottom is connected to a lever which is struck and moved by a cam on the ground wheel, allowing seed and fertilizer to drop at each turn of the wheel.

HAY STACKER

This device is strongly built on skids. In loading two cables are laid below the load. In unloading

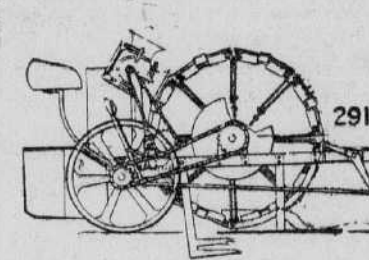

SWEEP RAKE
This rake is actuated with two pusher frames actuated by gears from the ground wheels. When a load has been pushed on to the stacker the gears of the pusher arms are engaged with the ground wheels. As the rake is backed up the pusher arms travel forward pushing the load on to the stacker.

SUGAR BEET HARVESTER

Two jaws in front of this harvester raise the leaves so they can be caught by the jaws of the rotary gripping wheel. These carry the beets back to the topping knives, where they are cut from the tops and fall to the receptacle at the rear. The tops are then caught by a revolving removing device and thrown out sideways.

HAY CURING DEVICE
The standard of this device has a hook on its lower end which engages a ring in the crossed supporting members. This allows the standard to be set upright even on sloping ground. On the standard four arms are hinged and supported by rods. On these the stack is built and air is allowed to freely circulate under it.

TOBACCO CROP HAS SHORT TIME FOR GROWTH

Importance of Artificial Fertilizers for Tobacco Crop Brought Out by Expert on Subject.

Mr. D. D. Digges, Dominion Experimental Station superintendent at Harrow, Ont., makes the following statement regarding successful tobacco growing:

"Tobacco is a crop with a comparatively short growing season, and an interrupted and fairly rapid growth is essential if the maximum yield and highest quality is to be obtained. For these reasons, the plant food supplied must be readily available and in forms known to have no injurious effect on the quality of the leaf. Since these conditions can be more nearly controlled in a commercial fertilizer than in any other type of plant food, commercial fertilizers are especially adapted to and valuable in the production of tobacco."

"The results of nine years' experiments with fertilizers of the Harrow Station and of co-operative fertilizer experiments conducted throughout Essex, Kent, Elgin and Norfolk Counties for the past two years, on both Burley and flue-cured tobacco, have proven that practically no crop grown in these sections gives larger returns for the judicious use of commercial fertilizers than does tobacco. The use of fertilizers in these experiments has practically always resulted in an increased yield and very frequently in an improvement in quality. During the past nine years the net profit from the use of fertilizers has ranged from $119.00 to $238.00 per acre on flue-cured tobacco and from $47.00 to $225.00 per acre on Burley."

"The results obtained on the Station, and co-operatively, strongly indicate that for flue-cured tobacco the best formula would consist of: 140 pounds of sulphate of ammonia per acre, 600 pounds of acid phosphate (16 per cent) per acre, 200 pounds of sulphate of potash per acre."

"The plant food contained in this mixture is approximately equivalent to the plant food contained in 1000 pounds of a ready-mixed fertilizer having an analysis of 8 per cent nitrogen, 10 per cent phosphoric acid, and 10 per cent potash. For Burley on fairly fertile soils the best formula would apparently be: 320 pounds of sulphate of ammonia per acre, 400 pounds of acid phosphate (16 per cent) per acre, 175 pounds of sulphate of potash per acre. The plant food contained in such a mixture is approximately equivalent to the plant food contained in 1000 pounds of a ready-mixed fertilizer having an analysis of 6.4 per cent nitrogen, 6.4 per cent phosphoric acid and 6.4 per cent potash.

Make Yourself Efficient!

YOU cannot be efficient when your whole digestive system is in rebellion. Dizziness and that dreadful sense of fullness up to the end of the tongue are signs of congestion. And the result—a headache that is felt in one or both eyes; a morose, petulant and garrulous temper, with the inevitable result that you cannot give to your work or your business the careful thought and judgment required.

You cannot afford to be in this condition. You owe it to yourself to use a Laxative that will relieve the cause—constipation.

ing, June 13th, the Junior Women's Auxiliary will have a sale of useful and fancy articles also home-made cooking and ice cream at the Parish Hall to begin at three o'clock.

On Tuesday evening the Senior Women's Auxiliary was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Hetherington, a good attendance of members being present, and was opened with prayer by the incumbent. The meeting was of more than usual interest as a diocesan life membership was presented to Mrs. Hunt by her two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Duley and Miss Florence Hunt. The presentation was made by Rev. A. E. E. Legge, B.A., and the gold W.A. badge was pinned on by Mrs. Legge. After the singing of the hymn "Take my Life and Let it be," played by Mrs. Legge, a very nice umbrella was given to Mrs. Legge from the members. The presentation was made by Miss Carrie Chapman with the following: Dear Mrs. Legge—We the members of the Senior Women's Auxiliary ask you to accept this little gift as a slight token of our love, and also our appreciation for the help and kindly interest you have ever taken in all of our undertakings to help the cause of missions in our parish, and our best wishes are extended to yourself, Mr. Legge and family for health, happiness and every success in your new home.

Mrs. Legge was completely taken by surprise, but replied in a few words and thanked her friends for remembering her and for their good wishes. Mrs. Legge then addressed meeting and spoke of the good work that has been accomplished by W. A. during the nearly four years he has been in charge of the parish. He also touched on the beauty of service for our Lord and Master, and referred to the honor that had been conferred upon Mrs. Hunt by the presentation of the life membership. The regular routine of business followed the presentations by the reading of the minutes and letters from Quebec one from Mrs. Sewell asking for a small increase over the amount sent last year for pledges. The Dominion Board are extending their work and have added to their responsibilities among the white settlers, the Indians and Eskimos, the women and children, the amount promised is ten thousand dollars and Quebec Diocese is asked for $435.00. Mrs. Sewell explained that if every member would give 25 cents more a year than they are already giving the amount could be met. The members decided to do their best to meet the amount required. A letter was also read from Miss Gibau, regarding the Doreas work and acknowledging the receipt of a cheque for $25.00 from Mrs. Sewell, from Mrs. Hunt's life membership, and which has been sent to Gordon School in response to an appeal for church furnishings. A report of the annual meeting was read by Mrs. Legge and was most interesting. The work of the evening was making pillow slips. It was decided to discontinue the meetings for the months of July and August. Mrs. Hetherington served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. A. W. Bishop and Miss Hunt.

CHAPTER VII.

He made a little wry grimace.
"Do you think I could?"
"Won't people talk?"

"What does it matter?"
They looked at one another for a moment, then Diana said:

"Would you—I mean, would you mind telling me—her name?"

Rolf flushed to the roots of his hair.

"You don't know her. You've never met. You're not likely ever to meet her."

"But I should be so interested—I should like to know."

He told her then, a touch of pride and defiance in his voice.

"She's what my people would call a 'nobody.' She works in a shop—quite an unpretentious shop too."

My mother was in a shop before father married her," Diana said.

"There's nothing to be ashamed of."

"Some people would think so."

"And her name?" Diana asked again.

She felt that it would kill her to know, and yet some wild jealousy of this unknown girl urged her on, some curious sense of pleasure in wounding herself to the death.

But Rolf would not tell her.

"We'll each keep our secret," he said rather formally.

"Very well."

There was a poignant silence, then Rolf said:

"You look tired. Let me take you back to the drawing-room. It must be late."

"Yes! There seemed nothing more to be said. She walked silently beside him, her heart in torment.

Only last night she had been in the seventh heaven of happiness. He had held her in his arms and kissed her good night, and now—it did not seem to matter to him at all that everything was at an end between them.

As they reached the drawing-room he spoke hurriedly.

"If there is ever anything I can do for you, Diana—"

She shook her head.

"Thank you. There won't be."

"If there is ever anything you want—"

Another little shake of the head. How could there be anything in the world she would ever want again, now that she had lost him? Diana had been spoiled; her father had always gratified her every wish, but this at last was something which all his money could not buy for her—Rolf's love!

How life had changed during the last few hours.

It seemed impossible that she had ever stood in Celeste's sitting-room and looked at her white-clad reflection with shy, happy eyes.

That dress would never be worn now; all her dreams were shattered.

They entered the drawing-room together, and a tall woman in a bright cerise-colored frock came up to them and wagged a huge feather fan in Diana's face.

"Naughty girl, where have you been hiding?" she demanded. "I have not had a glimpse of you all the evening. Rolf, can't you bear her out of your sight for a moment?"

"We've been talking business," Diana said with pale lips.

"Business!" Mrs. Claremont laughed incredulously. "And what business have you to talk about, pray?"

She slipped a hand through Diana's arm and drew her away.

"My dear, everyone is saying how radiantly happy you look," she said untruthfully. "Such a treat to see two people so devoted. Now when I was married I never pretended even to like poor Claremont! Ours was just a marriage of convenience, frankly."

Diana was driven to retort.

"Don't you think ours is too?"

Mrs. Claremont gasped. She and her greatest friend had been saying all the evening that it was perfectly obvious why Rolf Scott-James was marrying Diana, but she had not expected to hear it from Diana herself.

"My dear! what deliciously funny things you say," she said.

"Do I? I'm glad you're amused," Diana said.

She freed her arm from Mrs. Claremont's grasp and walked away. She had almost reached the end of her tether; a very little more would break her down, she knew.

She tried her best to avoid saying good-bye to Rolf, but in that again her father prevented her.

"Aren't you coming to say good-night to Rolf?" he called to her across the empty room. "Shy?"

He chuckled and pulled her towards him. "Nonsense, we're all young

Corinthians upon the sanctity of marriage. He read the pronouncement of the Presbyterian General Assembly of 1920, reaffirming its belief in the permanence of the marriage tie. Quotations were also made from the Christian Guardian and the Presbyterian Witness. If divorce was un-Christian, it was also immoral, he said. It was a violation of natural law, which required that there should be enduring union for the welfare of children. Divorce led to legalized race suicide.

Mr. Irvine (Labor, East Calgary) asked if Mr. Vien would invoke Divine authority for all other legislation, for instance, for the vote to the Quebec harbor of five million dollars. Mr. Vien retorted that it was ridiculous to make such a comparison.

Mr. McMaster's Views. A.R. McMaster (Liberal, Bromo) could not understand where Mr. Vien got Biblical support for his arguments unless it was in that utterance of St. Paul, "He who does not look after his own is worse than an infidel." Mr. McMaster said that it shocked his sense of Christian justice to hear a man oppose a measure which sought only to give equality of rights to women as well as men. He wondered if Mr. Vien really suggested that the women of Alberta should be subject to divorce because of infidelity and then when the women applied for freedom from their husbands on the same ground that the law should say to them: "You can't get freedom unless he has treated you rough and banged you about in addition." He declined to believe that the Minister of Justice would mete out such justice as that.

Mr. McMaster said that if divorce was immoral, the Fathers of Confederation were immoral, because they took on themselves the right to legislate for divorce. As for the Vien amendment, it struck no distinction between the guilty and innocent parties in an unhappy marriage. A woman whose husband had so misbehaved that divorce was inevitable, was condemned to struggle along for the rest of her life, the victim of another's sin.

In Most Countries Divorce Courts Exist.

Mr. McMaster did not think that Canada should be out of line with practically every nation in the world. In most countries divorce courts existed and were in existence in certain provinces in Canada. The bill before the House merely asked for "even-handed justice as between man and woman."

Hon. Charles Maclell (Liberal, Bonaventure) voiced his protest against divorce. It was a curse to every country, and a curse to the United States at the present time. Mr. Maclell read an article written some time ago in Hearst's magazine by Chief Justice Taft, of the United States, in which, in referring to the number of divorces in the States, he had stated that the increase was a "reflection upon the laws of the country." The divorce situation in the United States was a "warning to Canada."

J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg Centre) stated he was surprised to hear Mr. Vien base arguments against divorce upon a literal interpretation of the sermon on the Mount and Christian teaching. Mr. Vien had offered a number of Biblical quotations, but, stated Mr. Woodsworth, he would like to know what Mr. Vien's idea would be in respect to a literal interpretation of such passages as "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth." A number of similar quotations were read by Mr. Woodsworth from the Bible.

Raised Objection. L. H. Martell (Liberal, Hants) interjected that it was against the rules of the House to carry on a theological discussion. He objected to a member "holding a Bible in his hands, endeavoring to show us our sins and iniquities."

Mr. Woodsworth asked if our whole system of national defence and our courts were in accordance with the literal translation of the sermon on the Mount. He favored divorce and preferred to have conditions "open and above board," rather than to have "all sorts of clandestine arrangements."

All that was asked for in the bill was that women in the west should be placed in the same position as women in the east. This should not be denied. How could anyone in the east deny that right to the west. The bill also asked that women in the west should have the same rights as men in the west. This was only justice.

Sir Henry Drayton said that it was his intention later to move a resolution which would, in case of a divorce, make it impossible for the guilty to remarry, while the innocent could have that privilege. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, opposed divorce on principle, and could find any compromise acceptable. The women of the west had the same rights as the women of the east, in matters of divorce, before the Parliament of Canada.

"At much greater expense," interjected Mr. McMaster. "Let's have a Crow's Nest rate for divorces," said C. G. Power (Liberal, Quebec South).

The increase of divorce, Mr. Lapointe continued, was a tragedy. The Minister favored the amendment moved by Mr. Vien, because the right to remarry if taken away would be one effective remedy of the divorce problem. He would also support Sir Henry Drayton's proposal.

Miss Macphail (Progressive, Southeast Grey) spoke briefly, saying that everyone desired the preservation of the home, but it was a matter which lay almost entirely with men. She would support the bill, but oppose the amendment. When society had a single standard for men and women, the homes would be worthy of preservation.

Greater Expense. Mr. Shaw remarked that it had been stated that women could come to Parliament for divorce on an equal footing with men; but it should be remembered that women, in such cases, were usually without funds to go to the greater expense of securing a divorce by Parliament. He submitted that the amendment was an entirely new proposal, and not related to the question of equality as covered by the bill.

On division the Vien amendment was defeated 73 to 60. The House divided with no reference to party affiliation, three Conservatives and eight Progressives, voting for the amendment. With the Prime Minister nor the leader of the Opposition was in the House when the division was taken. When a vote of the main motion was called for, Sir Henry Drayton moved an other amendment, which would provide that when divorce was granted, the guilty party would not be given the right to remarry during the lifetime of the other spouse under pain of action for bigamy.

REGRETTABLE FALLING OFF IN CANADA'S POPULATION

(Associated Press Despatch.)

OTTAWA, June 5.—When the Senate met yesterday Hon. Mr. Beaubien drew the attention of the Government to "the regrettable falling off in the growth of population in Canada and the causes and consequences thereof, and the urgent necessity of remedying the same, and inquired what action, if any, the Government proposes to take."

He said the subject was one of paramount importance to Canada as the prosperity of the people of Canada and the greatness of the country were predicted on the growth of Canadian population. He drew attention to our peculiar condition as lying alongside the United States with a similarly of language and their immense population. From that country every day was poured into Canada their newspapers and magazines which showed the wonderful opportunities in that country.

Since Confederation our commercial centre had always been London, but today we are borrowing immense sums in New York. Our business interests are interwoven with that country. There is no doubt that many in Canada believe that the integrity of our country is seriously menaced by our contiguity to and relations with the United States. Last session the Prime Minister suggested annexation as one of the alternatives facing Canada, and this was probably the first time that such a possibility was ever mentioned in Parliament.

He then dealt with emigration from Canada to the United States. No two people seemed to agree on the number of citizens we were losing each year to that country, but he believed that no two foreigners could replace in Canada one Canadian. Even with all the officers of both countries on the frontier, many were leaving Canada every day for the United States. We have no statistics in Canada of the number going, but had to go to Washington to ascertain our loss. Our loss had been estimated last year at about 181,000 people. Statistics show that we were not retaining the people brought into Canada. American statistics show the tremendous loss of citizens to this country, but these only indicate the loss of native born, while there is probably equally as great a loss of those smuggled across the boundary. It is understood that in ten years we have lost two million people.

He asked why people go from Canada to the United States. The movement had become so serious that the whole of the clergy in Quebec were alarmed. The loss to the province of Quebec of French people could not be replaced because there was no immigration from France to Canada. If the French people wanted to fulfil their mission in Canada they had to keep their own people in Canada. He had written a number of letters to the parish priests throughout Quebec, asking them of the movement of people from their parishes. Senator Beaubien quoted many replies from the parish priests, which showed a loss of population in these parishes ranging from one

CLASH AT THE PRESBYTERIAN SESSION TODAY

Argument Arose on Final Report Presented to General Assembly by Union Committee.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

TORONTO, June 5.—Presbyterian Church Unionists and their non-concurring colleagues clashed this morning for the first time during the fifty-first General Assembly. It was on the final report of the Union committee, and on declaration of principles which the assembly was asked by the committee to adopt. Rev. Dr. S. Banks Nelson, of Hamilton, one of the prominent anti-unionists, suggested to the committee the addition of a table "showing the corporate strength of this corporate church which refuses to enter union."

Rev. Dr. George C. Pidgeon, moderator, who as chairman of the committee, had presented the report, replied that such a table was not possible at this time because all voting had not been done, nor all returns made.

"At any rate," said Mr. Pidgeon, "the only continuing Presbyterian Church is the Presbyterian Church in Canada going as such into the United Church."

There were great cheers. "My addenda," replied Dr. Nelson, "is intended to show that is not true, and figures prove it. (Cries of "No.") The mother church is not in this union wagon. This is the statement of a dream, not a fact."

Dr. Nelson asked that the debate be delayed while the resolutions were printed.

Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark, of Montreal, said they contained nothing new, and commissioners called for a vote, declaring they were wasting time.

Rev. W. G. Brown seconded Dr. Nelson's resolution amidst calls for a vote. Sentiment of the Assembly obviously was overwhelmingly for union.

Rev. Dr. R. B. Cochrane then called attention to the fact that the time of a new order of business had arrived, and the debate automatically went over to the afternoon. Deputations then were heard from the Baptist, Methodist and Anglican churches.

Resolutions presented to the Assembly, and which undoubtedly will be adopted, were called by Dr. Pidgeon "a reaffirmation of the identity of the church as it goes into union."

A DECREASE IN DRUG ADDICTS IS REPORTED

Drastic Laws and Enforcement of Regulations Has Lessened Illicit Traffic in Narcotics

(Associated Press Despatch.)

MONTREAL, June 5.—A decrease in the number of drug addicts was reported at the opening session here of the fortieth annual conference of State and Provincial health authorities, held at the University of Montreal. Dr. James A. Hayne, of Columbia, South Carolina, president, Dr. J. Amyot, Deputy Minister, Canadian Department of Health, represented the Federal Government.

Dr. F. D. Stricker, secretary of the Oregon State Board of Health, in his report for the drug addiction committee, said that there was sufficient evidence accumulated to show that the misuse of narcotics was declining.

The enactment of drastic laws and the enforcement of regulations had lessened the illicit traffic in narcotics. A real beginning had been made in international relations looking toward the control of the production and distribution of narcotic drugs. Although the Geneva Opium Conference failed to reach an agreement on international control, it was shown that active steps were being taken to reduce production of opium. Heroin had been practically eliminated.

CHAMBERLAIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO PHYSICIANS

Lord Dawson, King's Physician, Condemned the Speed of Modern Life.

(Associated Press Despatch.) LONDON, June 5.—Presiding at a dinner given by the Pilgrims in honor of the visiting Canadian and United States doctors last night, the Duke of Connaught voiced the nation's warm welcome to "all that is best in surgery and medicine in the United States."

The distinguished company included Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, who made the principal speech, Alanson B. Houghton, United States Ambassador, and leading British medical authorities.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech dwelt on the importance of the visit of the physicians, and he paid tribute to the self-sacrificing, invaluable services of the medical profession to humanity.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, declared he and his colleagues had been given a right royal welcome by their friends in England. He desired to take the opportunity of making some additions to the honorary membership of their association and he named the Duke of Connaught, Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Desborough as honorary members.

The Duke of Connaught expressed his extreme pleasure at becoming "a doctor across the water."

King George's physician, Lord Dawson, added his voice to the increasing chorus of medical men on both sides of the Atlantic who are condemning the speed of modern life, in his address yesterday afternoon before the final scientific session.

One of the big problems of the future, declared Lord Dawson, would be to prevent men, especially men of affairs, from overworking, with the result that their lives are done when they should be at the height of their intellectual powers.

SURVEY OF WORK CARRIED ON BY MISSION BOARD

Reviewed Effort of Presbyterian Church in Canada as Carried on in Outlying Places.

TORONTO, June 5.—A survey of the work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada as carried on in outlying places through the Home Mission Board was given the General Assembly last night by speakers from points as distant as Vancouver and Sydney. Rev. Dr. Pidgeon, the Moderator, in opening the meeting, turned over proceedings to Rev. W. H. Sedgewick, of Hamilton, convener of the Board.

Dr. Sedgewick said no department of the church was so vitally interested as the home mission and social depart in church union, which was founded, he inferred, on the necessities of the Christian good of Canada. He was confident that the national appeal they could make as the United Church would be responded to with a degree of legality unknown in past days.

Dr. Sedgewick then introduced Rev. Dr. R. W. Ross, of Halifax, who told of the work being done in the Maritimes, and gave something of the religious history of those provinces.

The last speaker was Rev. Dr. John Pringle, of Sydney, N.S., who described the dedication recently at Cornerbrook, Newfoundland, of what he said was the first church property to be deeded to the United Church in Canada.

FEW PRICE CHANGES ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, June 5.—Stock prices drifted within rather narrow and irregular limits at the opening of today's stock market. Speculative activity centred largely in the specialties, initial gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points being recorded by Brown Shoe, Dupont, Remington Typewriter and American Ice, the last named touching the highest price since 1922. Coppers were heavy on selling inspired by speculative disappointments over the delay in the expected increase in the price of the red metal.

The list received no attention during the early trading.

NEW BATTING LAURELS DOT MAJOR LEAGUES

Fifteen Home Runs Were Registered Yesterday—Thirty-eight Pitchers Were Called into Action During Day.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, June 5.—New batting laurels dot the major league today. Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal manager, is tied for the season's total home runs with Bob Meusel, of the Yankee, at fifteen.

Hitting carnivals were held on practically every big circuit diamond yesterday at the expense of thirty-eight pitchers, twenty-three of them in the National League. Fifteen home runs were made.

Five pitchers were used by the Browns in a fruitless effort to stave off an 11 to 10 defeat at Cleveland. Hendrick smashed a triple with three men on the sacks and two out in the ninth, giving the Indians a victory.

The Mackmen pounded three Boston twirlers for seventeen hits at Boston to win by 12 to 2, Harris holding the Red Sox to five scattered bingles.

The Yankees jinx cropped out again as the Senators triumphed by 8 to 3. Joe Judge, of Washington, making two homers which brought his total for 1925 to seven. "Babe" Ruth failed to break into the hit column.

In spite of Hornsby's homes, the Giants turned out an 11 to 10 victory in a game replete with loose pitching and heavy slugging at St. Louis. New York used four pitchers and the Cards three.

Four Philie boxmen were victims as Pittsburgh won by 16 to 3. Cuyler's assault for the Corsairs included a home run, triple, double and single.

The Reds ended their losing streak by slashing out eighteen hits in an eleven inning game and defeated the Braves by 7 to 6. Bancroft broke his thumb and will be out of the game for at least two weeks.

Brooklyn came out on the short end of a 11 to 9 score at Chicago. Fourteen hits went for extra bases, Grimm, Griffith and Friegau slammed homers for the Cubs while Fournier banged one for the Robins.

CHARITY CUP GAMES BILLED FOR TOMORROW

Three Games Will Be Staged—Officials Are Looking for Record Attendance.

The three football contests billed to take place tomorrow afternoon will constitute the preliminary round of the Sherbrooke Hospital Charity Cup schedule. As is usually the case, sport enthusiasts' minds are drifting towards the weather end of the issue, for although conditions today point to a first class day tomorrow, the weather man has lately put himself in a position where he cannot be relied upon from one day to the next. The officials are most anxious to have record attendances at all three games, and are earnestly hoping that the sporting element will turn out in full force to support tomorrow's contests, as the proceeds are going to a very worthy and deserving cause.

The cup in question was donated some eleven years ago by the sporting public of Sherbrooke to be known as the Sherbrooke Hospital Charity Cup and to be competed for annually. This cup has, since its first appearance, been the source of an average revenue of $100 per year to the hospital.

Of the three games scheduled for tomorrow, Lennoxville will be at home to Richmond, and a very keen battle is expected. These two teams have met twice so far this season in league fixtures, each winning on their own ground. Lennoxville will choose from the following players: Campbell, Billson, Twyman, Forbes, Wade, Dickens, Lacasse, Steer, Sefton, Spray, Nobes, Thorne, Stenchcombe and Lavoie.

The second game set for tomorrow will be between Beebe and Quebec Central. It is expected that this game will be interesting from the fact that the Railwaymen defeated Beebe only last week at the Parade Grounds. This game will be played on Beebe ground. The following players will line up for Q.C.R.: McGinty, Jarvis, Webb, Loach, Scott, Twyman, Milnes, Shand, Wooten, Allen, Emslie. The team will leave the head office at one o'clock sharp going by motor truck. It is understood that there will be plenty of room for supporters, who will be taken to and from Beebe at a nominal fee.

The third game will be between Elsecio who, as Thesco last year were the cupholders, and the strong East Angus combination. An interesting fact in this game is that these teams were last year's finalists.

The following will defend Elsecio's colors: Louzhead, B. Grime, Aston, J. Grimes, Davidson, Bryant, Pierce, Robertson, Wright, Fitzsimmons and Bennett.

ONE GAME IN JUNIOR E. T. LEAGUE POSTPONED
Owing to the Sherbrooke and district inter-school meet, which is scheduled to take place tomorrow afternoon, the soccer game billed for the same afternoon, when the Elsecio Juniors and the local High School were supposed to meet in a Junior Eastern Townships League fixture, has been postponed until the following Wednesday evening.

No change has been made in connection with the other Junior League fixture, and Beebe will play their first game at East Angus against the team from that place.

TWO LEADING HEAVYWEIGHTS MEET TONIGHT

Close Contest Is Looked for When Gibbons and Tunney Step into Ring.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, June 5.—Two of the leaders in the heavyweight ranks, who have been tugging at the mantle of Jack Dempsey, will square off tonight at the Polo Grounds in a fifteen round bout to a decision. They are Gene Tunney, of New York; and Tom Gibbons, of St. Paul, Clever boxers with punching power that has been sufficient to dispose of many a likely aspirant.

It will be a meeting of two veterans of the great war, two exponents of the same fighting style, and two clean cut warriors whose records place them on a footing so even that opinion is equally divided as to the outcome. A twenty-seven year old bachelor will fight a thirty-six year old western family man.

Two weeks from tonight a second pair of heavyweight contenders will be seen by a metropolitan audience. They will be Harry Wills, negro challenger, accepted as an outstanding opponent for Dempsey by the Boxing Board, and Charlie Weinert, of Newark, N.J., conqueror of Luis Firpo. Promoters meanwhile are working on additional elimination bouts, though Jack Dempsey has cabled from Paris his willingness to meet the winner of tonight's fight.

Long and careful training have brought Tunney and Gibbons to their best fighting weights, with an advantage of only a pound or two for Tunney.

Experts forecast a duel of body punching in the early rounds. Although the chances of a knockout are considered slim, Tunney is rated as having the best chances to put over a finishing blow, but on the other hand, Gibbons has greater experience and is considered the superior boxer.

The promoters of the fight have prohibited broadcasting from the grounds.

terminated two main bouts at the Dexter Stadium last night, Danny Kramer, of Philadelphia, receiving a decision over Joe Leopold, of Denver, Col., and Joe Glick, of Brooklyn, winning from Bobby Garcia, of the army. All four fighters are featherweights.

Kramer fell to the canvas groaning in the fourth round after having led his opponent on points in the first three rounds, while Glick retired in the seventh, claiming he had been struck low. The referee upheld the complaining boxer in both cases.

SPORTING NOTES

INTER-SCHOOL ATHLETIC MEET.
Splendid lists of entries have come in for the Inter-School athletic meet tomorrow from Sherbrooke High, Lennoxville High and Bishop's College School. St. Pat's have not been heard from yet but it is fully expected that representatives will be present from that institution.

For junior events the entries have come in from all the Protestant schools, but to date no entries have been received from the French city schools. However, it is hoped that registrations will be received from them.

LACROSSE

ENTHUSIASM PREVAILING
From the large number of players present at the practices, it is evident that more than the usual amount of interest is being shown in lacrosse circles this year. Not only is there a marked increase in the number of players, but numerous spectators interested in the game also attend the practices, and watch the teams round into shape.

Last evening several clubs held work-outs at the Parade Grounds, and the opinion was expressed by officials of the Association present that the majority of players are in excellent shape for so early in the season.

EAST SHERBROOKE CLUB WILL HOLD PRACTICE

The East Sherbrooke Lacrosse Club will hold a work-out this evening at the ball park, commencing at half past six o'clock. All players are urgently requested to put in an appearance.

JONES MEETS MACFARLANE IN U.S. PLAY-OFF

Tied for U.S. Golf Honors—Title Decided Today—Quinnet Third With 292 and Hagin Fourth With 293.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WORCESTER, Mass., June 5.—A tie at 291 for seventy-two holes necessitated an eighteen hole play-off today for the United States National Open Golf Championship between Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, peerless amateur, and Willie MacFarlane, Scotch born professional at the Oak Ridge Country Club, in the Westchester County Suburbs of New York City.

The title goes with better medal score for the round. MacFarlane and Jones outscored 92 rivals at the end of the allotted 72 holes—a battle fought in wilting heat for the great part of the time. The struggle was sensational and the tired crowd flocked to the home green as each noted exponent of the game came into view. First it was Johnny Farrell, Quaker Ridge professional, who was expected to lead at the end of Cyril Walker of Englewood, N.J., the champion, had been left in the lurch. MacDonald Smith, a great favorite, broke under the test, and Leo Diegel, after pushing his way into the foreground on the first day, stumbled in his last nine holes. The twelve top scorers were:

- Robert T. Jones, Atlanta, 147-144-291.
- Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., 141-150-291.
- Johnny Farrell, Mamaroneck, 145-147-292.
- Francis Quinnet, Auburndale, Mass., 143-149-292.
- Gene Sarazen, Jamaica, N. Y., 144-149-293.

Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Fla., 148-145-293.

Mike Brady, Mamaroneck, N. Y., 146-148-294.

Leo Diegel, Glen Oaks, N.Y., 141-155-296.

Al Espinosa, Chicago, 143-154-297.

Laurie Ayton, Chicago, 146-151-297.

Joe Tounsa, Elmsford, N. Y., 150-149-299.

Al Watrons, Grand Rapids, 151-149-300.

Among the veteran golfers, Jock Hutchison had 156-150-306; Joe Kirkwood, 154-161-315; Pat Doyle, of White Plains, 155-155-310; and Tommy Armour, of New York, 160-152-312.

the day. Then came the news that the indomitable Walter Hagen, conqueror of hundreds on the links, was moving toward the homeward stretch with deadly accuracy and would require only par figures to win.

With the Hagen threat the topic of discussion among the thousands gathered to witness the play, Jones came to the last hole, playing steadily and assured of a score to equal that of Farrell. Drive, chip and two putts took him down—a 291. But MacFarlane, who had led them all the previous day, played desperately. He needed a four at the last and he obtained it, with some nerve wracking play that made the throng gasp. His second lay forty feet from the pin on the second terrace of the green fully two feet higher than the pole. Two strokes would equal Jones, one would bring him untold fame. He took two.

Floglaze
The Finish that Endures

Painting Is a Paying Investment

The best investment for the protection of property is a good paint or varnish. Fire may never touch your buildings, but the destroying elements of the weather are constantly attacking exterior surfaces. Floors and interior surfaces are subject to wear. Paints and varnishes are the only effective means of giving protection against wear and the weather. Both have become a necessity in economical upkeep of property. Investment in their use pays in conserved property and improved appearance.

THE BEST PAINT PAYS BEST

Floglaze Paints and Enamels

25% Better Painting 25% Greater Paint Value

You can buy other paints at a lower price per gallon than FLOGLAZE, but you cannot obtain anything like FLOGLAZE paint value.

One trial of FLOGLAZE will soon prove this. FLOGLAZE finishes show no brush marks. Each one self-levels to a smooth enamel-like surface that does not gather or hold dirt. FLOGLAZE gives a denser and greater covering capacity by 25%. FLOGLAZE durability has proven beyond a doubt that it gives by far the lowest annual service cost per thousand square feet of any paint, no matter what its price per gallon may be.

There Is a Floglaze Line for Every Purpose

- Exterior Paint for inside and outside Painting.
- Porch and Veranda Paint for interior and exterior floors.
- Lac Shades for furniture, woodwork and floors.
- Home and Farm Shades—a general purpose enamel for all domestic surfaces.
- Auto Finishes and General Purpose Enamels
