BRITAIN MOVES TO PREVENT ANY BLOCKADE OF MERCHANT SHIPPING

Warships and Submarines Moved Towards Iberian Peninsula to Make Good Pledge that Britain Will Allow Neither Side in Spanish War to Interfere with Her Merchant Vessels—Government Takes More Serious View of Fascist Threats than Officials Care to Admit—French Adopt British Viewpoint on Neutrality—Leaves Cancelled for Mediterranean.

London, November 25.—With warships and submarines, Great Britain backed up an official pledge today she would not allow either side in the Spanish civil war to interfere with her merchant ships.

Just how close to the Spanish coast the submarine depot ship Cyclops and eight undersea craft would go from their Malta base was not definitely determined.

In the orders, however, informed quarters recognized the Government was taking a more serious view of Fascists' threats to blockade Barcelona than officials cared to admit.

The Admiralty, in a statement, described the naval movements in the Mediterranean as "in accordance with a programme arranged some weeks ago."

"Naval leaves have been temporarily stopped at Malta," the official declaration said, "owing to a gale which has made communications between ships and shore impossible. This is the normal routine of the Mediterranean station."

The Cyclops was to relieve the Woolwich, destroyer depot ship at Alicante. Naval circles declared it "unlikely" the submarines would go far or actually into Spanish waters.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT HAS ADOPTED BRITISH STAND

Paris, Nov. 25.—French warships in the western Mediterranean carried orders today to provide full protection for the nation's merchant marine on the high seas.

The Navy Ministry dispatched instructions putting into force the Government's decision to oppose any interference with French shipping by Spanish men-of-war outside territorial waters.

The Government declaration of policy, emulating Great Britain's, announced:

"Inside the three-mile limit French merchant ships will submit to the control of local authorities under the international law. But beyond that zone the French Government will permit no halting, visiting or seizure by either of two Spanish fleets, having recognized neither party as a belligerent."

Non-recognition of the opposing forces in the Spanish civil war by France and Britain was welcomed generally in the Paris press as a reaffirmation of neutrality.

The action was interpreted by some sources as a move to control the French press, an aftermath to the suicide of Interior Minister Roger Salengro because of attacks on his war record.

CHILD'S BRAVERY SPURRED RESCUERS TO NEW EFFORTS

Three-Year-Old Girl, Buried Under Debris for Two Days, Died Shortly After Being Rescued.

Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 25.—Bravery of a three-year-old girl, pulled from debris where she had been buried for two days, spurred rescuers today in efforts to reach nine others believed entombed by Sunday's landslide.

Lorraine Vanali died last night two hours after she was lifted from the mud-covered ruins of a shattered apartment house, the seventh known victim of the avalanche.

Lorraine related her suffering in child-like simplicity to the muck-covered workers who toiled four hours to release her from heavy timbers. They found her with one hand crushed under a heavy trunk.

"I can see lights now," her pitiful voice said as rescuers neared her. "I've been here a long time."

They fed her at the hospital. Two hours later she died.

Northern New England: Snow or rain on the coast and snow in the interior tonight probably ending Thursday morning; slightly warmer tonight. Colder Thursday.

GALLI-CURCI FILTERED IN "SECOND DEBUT" ATTEMPT

Sympathetic Critics Had Only Highest Praise for Famous Opera Singer's Courageous Attempt to Come Back Against Tremendous Odds.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—A voice once hailed as the greatest of the coloraturas sounded last night in Chicago's pink and gold opera house. A packed house listened in agonized suspense. Then the critics gave their verdict:

Galli-Curci, the magnificent, had filtered in her comeback—but there still was hope.

They had only words of praise for her courageous attempt to make a "second debut" against tremendous odds.

Listeners remembered that Mme. Galli-Curci was making her first professional appearance since an operation for goitre fifteen months ago. They said to each other: "She will get her chance in the third act. Then we shall see."

The third act—and the fourth—came and with them Mme. Galli-Curci regained confidence and some of her old-time vocal power.

But the critics could hear only a suggestion of the Galli-Curci of old.

King Pays Tribute To War Dead

It was a serious King Edward VIII who attended the recent annual Festival of Remembrance for British soldiers killed in the World War. As His Majesty sat with Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, left, Belgian ambassador, and Field Marshal Lord Milne during the programme, he revealed himself in an unusually solemn mood. The festival, in Royal Albert Hall, London, was climaxed with the release of more than a million poppy petals, one for each British subject killed in the war.

Thirty-Two Missing In Series Of U.S. Disasters

Rescuers toiled today to save thirty-two persons missing in widely scattered United States disasters which already had accounted for twenty-one deaths.

From Alaska to New Orleans, a ship fire, avalanche, chemical fumes and transportation mishaps took a heavy human toll.

A steel electric train ploughed into wooden elevated rail car in Chicago last night killing nine and injuring sixty-five. The elevated, laden with home-bound workers, was telescoped as it awaited a dispatcher's signal.

Fire raged in the hold of the S.S. Scantic of the Mooremack line in New Orleans, holding the fate of nine men. Hope was virtually abandoned for their rescue. Four were known injured. Frantic wives watched along the waterfront. Fire started in the refrigeration apparatus.

Fliers searched the ice laden Gulf of Alaska for a trace of a missing air liner with fourteen persons aboard. The ship was lost on a 500-mile flight from Cordova to Juneau. Recurring storms added to the peril.

Three-year-old Lorraine Vanali, entombed two days in debris from a Juneau, Alaska, avalanche, died soon after her rescue. Nine others were believed missing in the wreckage. Lorraine's death was the seventh.

Chemical fumes suffocated five men in the motorship Empire State of Buffalo at Brooklyn. Three others, overcome by the gas, were saved by policemen wearing gas masks.

FASCISTS VAINLY FIGHT TO FREE REBELS BESIEGED IN UNIVERSITY

Two Thousand Insurgents Marooned by Government Troops in Huge Hospital Clinico at University City, Madrid—Loyalists Charge Certain Foreign Embassies Are Bases for Phantom Nazi Cars which Dash About Madrid at Night Shooting Militiamen—Claim Fascists Suffering from Lack of Food and War-Weariness.

Madrid, Nov. 25.—Fascist shock troops fought a futile, all-morning battle today to rescue two thousand comrades, marooned by Government troops in the huge Hospital Clinico in University City.

An international brigade surrounding what once was one of Europe's finest hospitals held ground although a flank attack by the insurgents seemed for a time to be menacing the first houses of interior Madrid.

Thirty Fascist bombers and pursuit planes bombarded the University City defenders and long range guns dropped shells in the centre of Madrid.

Within the capital, the Government ordered families taking refuge in subway stations to evacuate because of the "awful" sanitary conditions.

At Cartagena, police semi-officially reported the discovery of a wide Nazi espionage and propaganda organization. It was at this point that the Government cruiser Miguel de Cervantes was disabled Sunday by explosions which the Government has laid, by pointed inference, to German submarines.

Reports said "interesting documents" had been discovered at the German consulate at Cartagena and sent to Valencia for Government inspection.

The newspaper Claridad meanwhile said militiamen who seized and closed the former German embassy here yesterday had found a large night signalling apparatus and a "veritable arsenal of guns and ammunition."

It added: "Phantom cars," used by subversive Fascists to dash about the city at night, shooting militiamen, were quartered at "certain embassies."

Six British Members of Parliament, who came to Madrid in the hope of viewing a Fascist bombardment, arrived early today from Valencia and visited General Jose Miaja, the defence chief.

Socialist lines about the Clinico held firm, as insurgent attackers hammered toward invasion of the capital.

Insurgent gunners began fresh bombardment of the city today with shells again falling into the central district. Fascist planes circled over Madrid but were reported not to have dropped any bombs.

The Government soldiers had practically surrounded the Fascists in the Hospital Clinico.

Insurgent commander Francisco Franco's forces were repulsed with heavy losses.

(He also declared groups of Government refugees reappeared from Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6.

MOSCOW ISSUES CALL FOR FORMATION OF A "BLOC OF PEACE"

Moscow, Nov. 25.—The Journal de Moscou, often regarded as the mouthpiece of the Soviet Foreign Office, today called openly for "formation of a bloc of peace."

The French-language newspaper, carrying further the recent Russian press suggestions for an international organization to oppose the "militaristic" tendencies of Germany, Japan and Italy, asserted:

"We are facing a bloc of three Fascist powers, united for the common purpose of opposing peace, undermining the League of Nations, resisting collective security and otherwise fighting any measures designed to protect the cause of peace."

"This bloc is a bloc for war."

SUBSTITUTE FOR SPERM OIL FOUND

Washington, Nov. 24.—Discovery of a vegetable oil similar to the expensive sperm oil of the whale, used in oiling watches and for other purposes, was reported today by scientists of the United States Agriculture Department.

The vegetable oil comes from the seed of a shrub known in its native habitat of Lower California, Arizona and Northern Mexico as the wild hazel nut, sheep nut, or goat nut.

REICH AND JAPAN CONCLUDE PACT DIRECTED AGAINST SOVIET RUSSIA

Agreement Announced in Berlin Calls for Mutual Interchange of Information Designed to Halt Spread of Communism—Treaty Charges Soviets with Seeking to Disrupt and Violate Existing States—London Official Circles Frankly Worried by Latest Threat to System of Collective Security—Agreement in Force for Period of Five Years.

Berlin, November 25.—Germany and Japan today signed an agreement directed against the Communist Internationale. The alliance was signed at the Foreign Office after the Government had announced it would publish an "official declaration" this afternoon.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Ambassador to Great Britain, considered Chancellor Hitler's personal adviser on foreign affairs, affixed his signature on behalf of the German Government.

Japan was represented by Japanese Ambassador Kintomo Mushakoji. Ambassadors of all foreign nations were summoned by sudden information for the ceremony.

The agreement consists of a preamble, three articles and a supplementary protocol under which both parties to the alliance agree to inform each other of all measures considered effective to halt the spread of Communism.

"The German Government and the Japanese Government," the preamble stated, "recognizing that the aim of the Communist Internationale known as the Komintern is directed at disrupting and violating existing states with all means at its command and convinced that to tolerate the Communist Internationale's interference with the international affairs of nations not only endangers their internal peace and social well-being, but threatens world peace at large, animated by a desire to work in common against Communist disruptive influences, have arrived at the following agreement:

"1.—The high contracting parties agree to mutually inform each other concerning the activities of the Communist Internationale, to consult with each other concerning measures to combat this activity, and to execute these measures in close co-operation with each other."

"2.—The two high contracting states will jointly invite third parties whose domestic peace is endangered by the disruptive activities of the Communist Internationale to embark upon measures for warding these off in accordance with the spirit of this agreement or to join in it."

"For this agreement both the German and Japanese texts are regarded as original versions. It becomes effective the day of signing and is in force for a period of five years."

"The supplementary agreement provided for constant co-operation between police officials of both nations in the exchange of information."

"It further included provisions for 'strict measures' against any persons engaged at home or abroad, directly or indirectly, in services for the Communist Internationale."

Finally, a permanent commission of representatives of both nations was created to make effective the co-operative international campaign against Communism.

Soviet Russia, contending the German-Japanese agreement was a "militarist pact," refused last Saturday to sign a new agreement allowing Japan to fish in Eastern Siberian waters.

The fishing arrangement, regarded as highly important to Japan because she gets the bulk of her fish from the waters, would have extended the rights for eight years.

The present agreement expires on December 31st.

LONDON VERY DISTURBED OVER LATEST AGREEMENT

London, Nov. 25.—The pact signed in Berlin today between Germany and Japan, directed against the Communist Internationale, created uneasiness in London.

German ambassador to Great Britain, saw Prime Minister Baldwin before he left for Berlin yesterday but it is stated he did not disclose terms of the pact. Although the fact that such a pact lay in the offing had been known for some time, details were not available.

The British, therefore, for the time being are withholding comment.

But there is some surprise expressed over the unusual procedure of an ambassador to a foreign country being called home to sign an agreement between great states when the Minister for Foreign Affairs was already there.

The News-Chronicle, which forecasted the pact this morning, describes it as "sinister." The paper adds it is essentially an attempt on the part of Japan and Germany to encircle Soviet Russia.

"To the prospects of European peace and the security of the British Empire this agreement is a serious menace," the News-Chronicle says. "It marks one more step in Germany's repudiation of the principle of collective security."

If Italy is to be reckoned as closely associated, "we in Britain can hardly feel easy about a pact between three nations, one of which is in striking distance of London, the second astride our communications and the third in a position to threaten Australia, New Zealand and India. The duty of the British Government remains what it has always been; to play its part in building up such a preponderance of strength in support of peace that no aggressor

CLAIMS ANCIENT MEN OF EUROPE AND CHINA WERE RELATED

Peiping, China, Nov. 25.—A scientist declared today the most ancient men of Europe and China were related.

Discovery of two adult skulls of hominid animals believed to be 500,000 years old led to the conclusion announced by Dr. Franz Weidenreich, director of the Peiping Research Laboratory.

The skulls of a man and a woman newly found show a definite link between the "Peking man" and Europe's Neanderthal or ancient cave man, Dr. Weidenreich said.

UNIONS READY TO TRANSPORT FOOD TO NORTH

Government Officials Declare Verbal Promise Received to "Man, Load and Discharge" Vessels Carrying Food to Alaska.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—United States officials had a verbal promise today from striking unions to man food ships for Alaska, acutely affected by the widespread longshoremen's and seamen's tie-up.

Hawaii, also cut off from normal supplies of mainland necessities, still was without a promise of aid.

New figures—in millions of dollars—were issued on the cost of the strike to United States Pacific Coast business.

Efforts to bring relief to Alaska temporarily sidetracked direct moves to end the walkout of more than 37,000 union workers who have tied up nearly 220 ships in coast ports in the twenty-seven days of the dispute.

Col. O. F. Ohlson, manager of the Government-owned Alaska Railroad, announced last night the joint strike policy committee had agreed verbally to "man, load and discharge" ships the railway chartered to move necessities to Alaska. Authority to charter the vessels was given by President Roosevelt.

"We will need five ships," Ohlson told newspapermen after a conference with the strike committee. "One, the S.S. Arctic of the Alaska Packing Co., has been obtained and probably will leave here for Seattle in two days."

The Research Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce said the strike completely stopped movement of cargoes valued at $3,000,000 daily, and had "frozen in its course" or impaired at least an extra cost movement of goods totaling more than $75,000,000 to date.

It declared scores of firms not directly connected with the strike had suffered big losses in delayed cargoes or enforced shutdowns because they could not ship goods.

A spokesman for one of the three employer groups, the Shipowners Association of the Pacific, operators of coastwise freighters, said there might be a negotiating meeting today with unions.

SELF INTEREST BASIS FOR ANY SAFETY DRIVE

Man Behind the Wheel Titled "Public Enemy Number One of Highway Carnage"—Proposals to Improve Highway Conditions Presented.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Self-preservation led to the formation of the Dominion Automobile Safety Council, T. Taggart Smyth, director of the Council and Montreal banker, told the National Safety Conference today.

The three-day conference, first of its kind held in Canada, was called to promote the interests of safety on streets and highways. It closes tomorrow.

During the past ten years, said Mr. Smyth, more than 1,200 persons have been killed annually and 1,600 maimed. "Self-preservation explains the why of the Council's birth, as we are interested in the work the Council has set out to do, namely, to make our public highways safe for ourselves and particularly for our women and children."

Others who addressed today's early session included Senator Emile Vinet, vice-president of the Belgian Senate, Clifford W. Ham, Chicago, executive director of the American Municipal Association, and W. M. Philpott, Toronto magazine editor.

Mr. Philpott characterized the man behind the wheel as "public enemy number one in terms of highway carnage." Every year, he said, the people of Canada pay out for automobile accidents the equivalent of our annual investment in new motor cars.

Mr. Smyth summed up the aims of the Council as follows:
Curbing the speed mania at all costs and the enforcement of the laws governing the slowing down on hills and at curves.

Reform of the system of granting drivers' licenses.
Obligatory periodical inspection of automobiles.

Obligatory carrying of lights by all vehicles using the highways after dark.

Further safeguarding of level crossings.
Simplification and co-ordination of traffic laws and road and drivers' signs.

Educational campaign through pulpits, platform, the radio, the press and the screen, urging respect for the laws of the road and observance of its courtesies.

Promotion of a system of recognition for careful drivers that would be Dominion-wide.

Compiling of statistics and other data; issuing safety literature and furnishing public libraries therewith.

Promotion of a "Dominion Safety Week."

FRENCH OFFICIALS KEEP SILENT ON DEVELOPMENTS

Paris, Nov. 25.—French officials declined to give any opinion today on the German-Japanese accord against Communism signed in Berlin as they began an immediate study of the text of the document.

Unofficial but well informed circles were particularly interested in the interpretation that might be given to the provision for collaboration in "measures of defence."

ITALIAN CIRCLES HAIL JAPAN-GERMAN ACCORD

Rome, Nov. 25.—Well informed circles said today Italy welcomed the German-Japanese accord against Communism, pointing out it expressed the broad vigilance against Communism which is one of Fascism's eternal slogans.

Although the accord was left open to other parties, these circles said, this does not necessarily point to Italy because she is already linked to Germany in an anti-Communist agreement.

DENIES BRITISH GOVERNMENT PLANS INTERVENTION

London, Nov. 25.—A categorical official denial was given today to reports that the Foreign Office had instructed Viscount Chilton, British ambassador at Moscow, to intervene with the Soviet Government in behalf of Emil I. Sticking, a German. Sticking has been sentenced to death at Novosibirsk for participating in a sabotage conspiracy.

CLAIMS CHURCH ADMITS MIXED WEDDING VALID

Pastoral Letter and Declaration of Leading Quebec Churchmen Used in Effort to Prove Marriage of Protestant and Roman Catholic by Minister Is Valid.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Pronouncements of the Roman Catholic Church have declared that mixed marriages performed by a Protestant minister must be accepted as valid, Warwick Chipman, K.C., appearing on behalf of a Protestant clergyman whose performance of a mixed marriage ceremony is under attack before Mr. Justice Faure in the Superior Court.

In mixed marriages annulled recently by Mr. Justice Faure, it has been testified by Catholic clerics that such ceremonies celebrated by Protestant clergymen are valid in canon law. Mr. Chipman pointed to a pastoral letter written by Archbishop Bruchesi in 1901 which declared a mixed marriage by a Protestant minister was valid and could not be broken by any power on earth. He also pointed to a deposition by Canon Gignac in Quebec City in 1925, in which the same sentiment was expressed before Mr. Justice Beaulieu of the Superior Court there during hearing of an annulment suit.

"It would be fantastic to suppose that the competence of a clergyman depends on some other religious organization with which he has nothing to do," suggested counsel. He stressed that if a priest could perform a mixed marriage, so could a Protestant clergyman.

After hearing an historical review of the powers of the clergy in performance of marriage in the French regime, and during and following the English conquest, Mr. Justice Surveylor took the matter under advisement.

The case at issue, judgement of which has the makings of a cause celebre is suit by one Laurier Rebecq, Catholic, to have his marriage to Wilhelmina Kirkwood, Protestant, annulled on the ground, among others, that the ceremony was performed by a Protestant minister, Rev. Roger Howard, and therefore the union is null and void in the eyes of the canon law of the Roman Catholic Church.

When the suit was instituted, the woman filed a defence (not generally done in such actions) and the minister, summoned as mise-en-cause, also filed proceedings taking issue with the plaintiff. The proceeding heard yesterday was an intricate one, in the hearing of the woman and officiating clergyman, asking for dismissal of the action on the ground that its allegation did not give rise to the right claimed.

Mr. Chipman recalled that in France, as well as this country before the conquest, only the cure could perform marriage ceremonies, of mixed couples as well as purely Catholic. Such power came from decrees of the kings of France. Up to the conquest, the Roman Catholic Church was the only established church in the province, but even after the conquest, it continued marrying Protestants.

For a certain time after the conquest, the Church of England became something of an established church. In a letter to Governor Murray, the King said he put the Province of Quebec under the Bishop of London. Later, the diocese of Quebec was formed by letters patent, and the province put under the jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Still later, the church became disestablished and the Archbishop of Canterbury went out of the picture.

Up to Confederation, and until 1871, jurisdiction of marriages in the provinces, marriage licences were issued in the name of the Governor-General and the prerogative seal, with the Governor acting as the ordinary of the Archbishop of Canterbury. With disestablishment, both Catholic and Protestant clergy could marry people of the Roman or Protestant faith, and there was, said counsel, no suggestion of restriction on the part of the minister in relation to the religion of the parties to be married.

Mr. Chipman declared there were three periods of history in relation with the issue. In the first, the Roman Catholic Church was the established church, and the cure as an officer of state had power to celebrate marriages no matter what the religion of the parties. In the second period, at the conquest, the Anglican rectory was the central figure. In the third, all religions continued to have the power.

The Council of Trent allowed mixed marriages to be performed by the cure, said counsel. The dispensation for the cure is the same as the licence for the rectory; both accomplish the same purpose.

If marriage performed by a Protestant clergyman is invalid because of some religious impediment of one of the parties, said Mr. Chipman, then a marriage performed by a cure, even after disestablishment, would be invalid; or, in other words, every mixed marriage by a Roman Catholic cure is valid.

In addition to the Council of Trent which allowed the cure to perform mixed marriages, said counsel, there was the Benedictine decree. This decree and subsequent canons, said counsel, have not changed the law of the land.

Article 127 of the Civil Code says, in dealing with qualities and conditions necessary for contracting marriage, that "the different impediments recognized according to the different religious persuasions as resulting from relationship or affinity or from other causes, remain subject to the rules hitherto followed in the different churches and religious communities."

Counsel submitted that the only impediments existing prior to the promulgation of the code.

DATE FOR EXECUTION OF KENNETH BROWN CHANGED TO ALLOW APPEAL

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Date for the execution of Kenneth Brown for the murder of Keith Baldwin, aged storekeeper of Baldwin's Mills, Que., was changed by the Court of Appeal today from December 18 to March 26 to permit counsel to make an appeal at the January term of the Court.

Counsel asked for an adjournment of the hearing of the appeal on the grounds there had been insufficient time to make a careful study of the evidence and other details of the case.

Lucien "Red" Morin, former convict and shoemaker, was sentenced to prison for his part in the crime in which the aged shopkeeper was beaten to death, and his store pilfered.

NO WORD GIVEN ON EXECUTION OF ENGINEERS

Novosibirsk, Western Siberia, Nov. 25.—The fate of a German engineer and eight Russians condemned to die for a sabotage conspiracy against the Kamov mine remained a mystery today.

The seventy-two hour period of grace extended by Russian law after imposition of the death sentence Sunday expired at noon today. No announcement of the execution had been made.

a mixed marriage," said Mr. Chipman, "so can other clergy, so long as he obtains dispensation or licence."

Counsel were given a fortnight by the court to file facts. While the inscription in law asks for dismissal of the action, Mr. Lamare indicated that if it is maintained, he expects to be allowed to proceed to hearing and proof on his other allegations.

EARLS AND DIRECTORS CAME FROM BEHIND TO WIN
The Earls and the Board of Directors rallied to record two-string decisions last evening after losing the first string against their respective opponents the Quebec Central and the Rand.

The Railroaders started off well against the Earls, winning the initial contest by ninety-five pins, but Jerry Mathieu and his mates found the range in the last two tilts to win by margins of 197 and 115 pins.

Mathieu topped both single and three-string columns for the evening with scores of 258 and 709.

The Directors dropped the opening fixture to the Rand quintette by a mere two pins and then improved as their rivals slumped. These two factors resulted in the Board romping away with the second and third encounters with 164 and 111 pins to spare.

The outcome of the two engagements failed to make any impression on the standing.

FASCISTS VAINLY FIGHT TO FREE REBELS BESIEGED IN UNIVERSITY

behind the hills around Badajoz and Toledo and attacked insurgent positions south of Talavera.)

INSURGENTS PREPARED TO USE "EXTREME MEASURES"

Talavera de la Reina, Spain, Nov. 25.—A new large-scale insurgent drive against Madrid was believed imminent today after insurgent troops had crushed a series of Government "feints" in the Madrid environs amid savage fighting.

Meanwhile a stern warning the insurgents are ready to resort to "extreme measures" if the Madrid defenders force them to do so was sounded by a high-ranking Fascist source.

"Everything is ready, only the bad weather is holding up our final effort," this source told the Havas correspondent. He asked that his name be not divulged.

"The capture of Madrid is not a military problem," he said. "However, a problem of conscience is involved for us. We do not wish to destroy Madrid, firstly, because we are Spaniards and secondly because the storming of one house after another entails a sacrifice of the precious blood of our soldiers. Therefore, we shall attempt to spare the capital by manoeuvring with mobile columns."

CLAIM WOMEN DEMANDING SURRENDER OF CAPITAL

Madrid, Nov. 24.—Socialist deserters told Fascist officers today the women of Madrid have demanded the surrender of the city.

Forty-three militiamen who arrived in the insurgent camp declared Socialist women attempted to stage a demonstration in the capital but were dispersed by Anarchists.

FOUND ARSENAL IN GERMAN CONSULATE AT CARTAGENA

Valencia, Spain, Nov. 24.—Government authorities today charged that a Nazi espionage organization and a veritable arsenal had been discovered in the German consulate at Cartagena.

The discovery was made when Madrid officials took possession of the consulate and the German College as a result of the recognition by Berlin of the insurgent regime.

Officials here indicated the German College would be converted into a barracks for Government troops and the consulate building will be used as an office for Madrid authorities in Cartagena.

The Hotelmen were masters of the situation during the first two strings and then "laid off" to save their higher-ranked opponents from a complete drubbing. The Milkmen took advantage of this "generosity," winning the final contest with sixty-six pins to spare.

The second-place Orange Crush entry moved a step closer to the top berth by annexing two strings from Kinkead's. This decision whittled the Milkmen's margin over their nearest rivals to two strings. E. A. Thomas helped the Tobacconists to victory in the second battle by rolling a high single-string total of 211.

Colin Smith, of Orange Crush, was credited with the week's best three-string aggregate, a score of 515, and a team mate, Earl Hallett, was the only other player to surpass the 500 mark, posting a score of 501.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Headaches, nervousness, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those toxic, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a laxative, but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. See.

This home mixture takes right hold of a severe cough. For real results, you'll say it's splendid. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Pine is a compound containing Norway Pine, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you perfectly.

No Happiness in the Home When the Mother Is Sick

The tired, worn out mother cannot make a happy home if she is sick and worried by the never ending household duties. She gets run down and becomes nervous and irritable, downhearted and discouraged, can't rest at night, and gets up in the morning as tired as when she went to bed.

Women suffering in this way will find in Milburn's H. & N. Pills a remedy with which to recuperate their health, build up the run down system, and bring back their bodily vigor.

Now Is The Time To Buy Your Christmas Gifts.

The time is at hand to conduct the search for suitable gifts to make the Christmas season joyous, and the admonition to shop early has unusual appropriateness. There are only twenty-five more shopping days before the "Day of Days," and it is important that buying should be spread as evenly as possible over the time available. It is a case of shopping early not only to avoid the rush, but, perhaps, to prevent its assuming proportions that would work hardships on customers, the merchants and the employees who must make extra exertion during the holiday season.

The advantages of early Christmas shopping are so numerous that it is hard to understand why so many allow themselves to become victims of a last-minute rush. The stock in the stores is fresh and in good condition instead of being shorn and damaged by continual handling. Assortments are varied and complete, rather than limited and fragmentary. Shopping may be done leisurely and in comfort in preference to crowding and haste.

Again, transportation facilities can be provided much more efficiently now than in three weeks' time. Today, the roads in every section of the Eastern Townships are open to Sherbrooke, and trains and busses have ample seating capacity for the many people from outside points who make their purchases in this metropolis. Compare this with conditions a few days preceding Christmas. Probably, except for a few of the main highways, the country roads will be clogged with snow, urban transport agencies will be taxed to maintain their schedules and trains will be crowded to capacity with home-coming holiday makers.

Substantial savings can also be accomplished by early shopping. Prices can be compared and qualities noted. Goods can be obtained for the particular purpose desired and not because it was "the only thing that the store had left."

Shopping early combines an intelligent self-interest with a holiday spirit toward those for whom the weeks before Christmas are the busiest in the year.

Drummondville's Young Hero.

News despatches from all corners of the Dominion frequently refer to the Royal Humane Society of Canada awarding medals of honor and certificates of recognition to heroes who jeopardize their lives to save a fellowman. Appropriate ceremonies are staged to pay special tribute to those citizens who risked their lives that another may live.

Fully deserving of more than ordinary recognition is a seventeen-year-old Drummondville boy, Giles Pelletier, who rescued four members of his family from the flames which razed the store and residence of his parents, Mayor and Mrs. Eugene Pelletier. The exultation which Drummondville citizens feel for this youthful hero is tempered by the tragic death of his eleven-year-old sister, but it is nerve-wracking to think of what the toll would have been only for the heroism of this lad.

The fifteen members of this well-known family were in the building when the disastrous blaze started. The majority were able to reach safety, but inside the burning structure were five others. Four times young Giles Pelletier rushed into the very shadows of terrible death and each time he returned with a brother or a sister. Thoughts of personal safety never entered his mind as he sought frantically to prevent the holocaust from taking a human toll.

Such heroism cannot go unrewarded. Steps should be taken to bring to the attention of the proper authorities this act of self-sacrifice which has few, if any, parallels in this district.

Uniform Traffic Rules.

One of the most important proposals placed before the National Safety Council now in session in Ottawa is that urging a uniform system of traffic regulation.

At the present time, as every motorist will attest, every municipality appears to have a traffic code of its own, especially in regard to traffic lights. The rule in some municipalities is that a red light is a positive stop to all vehicles. Others allow right turns on the red light. In other districts, the amber light shows alone to clear the path for pedestrians, and in still others the amber light is merely a warning of a change and the pedestrian is obliged to fend for himself.

It is not only the motorists travelling within Canada that would appreciate a uniform system. Tourists coming into the country would enjoy their journeys through our towns and cities much more than they do at present if they did not have to spend a large portion of their time inquiring about traffic rules and regulations.

Another thing that the authorities might consider is a little more leniency to visitors in regard to the breach of some distinctly local rule or ordinance concerning parking and one-way streets. Too often is the visit of some stranger in a town spoiled by the high-handed action of some over-zealous traffic officer over some by-law about which the visitor did not and could not know.

Peace-Time Tragedy.

In St. Chamas, a little town near Marseilles, France, a great powder factory blew up the other day, with a tremendous explosion that was heard twenty miles away.

More than one hundred people were killed or injured. Every family in the town had at least one member working in the factory, and long after the blast relatives still were wandering distractedly through the streets seeking loved ones.

It was a deeply tragic happening, but it seems a bit ironic, as well. For the explosives those people were producing doubtless were intended to cause far greater catastrophes in some future wartime.

And whereas France was stirred by the St. Chamas tragedy, the war deaths doubtless would be acknowledged by a shrug and a "c'est la guerre."

Editor's Note-Book.

A great home-building boom would be just about the best thing that could happen to us. It would mean a better life for vast numbers of people, and it would furnish our rising prosperity with the most solid kind of base.

Life apparently does not mean very much to some people judging from the manner in which some delivery and taxi-drivers endeavour to speed past every vehicle they see on the streets.

Wall Street brokers who were told Roosevelt would lose the election evidently put little stock in it.

Thirty Years Ago Today

The recently completed residence of Dr. and Mrs. Meagher at Windsor Mills was destroyed by fire. The prize-winners at a bazaar held by the St. Anne's Roman Catholic Church were Mrs. J. St. Pierre, Mr. T. J. Norris, Mr. S. T. Frézureau, Miss C. Langevin, Mrs. D. Labonte, Miss M. Garneau and Mr. W. Dolan.

The following were elected officers of the Granby Bible Society: Messrs. W. D. Bradford, J. W. West and W. D. Horner.

Among those taking part in a special service in St. Andrew's Church were: Mr. R. G. Stewart, the Misses Marion and Bessie Whyte and Mildred Haigh; Messrs. E. Armitage, J. H. Bryce, W. B. McCaw, A. Siler, Harry Armstrong, Stanley Bell and Roy Whyte.

Miss Etta Hale, of England, was visiting the Misses Hale in Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hoskins and Mr. Leon Laplante left Sutton on a visit to San Francisco.

Mr. William J. Ewing was named registrar of Richmond County to succeed his father, the late John Ewing.

What Editors Say

CALLS ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY A HOAX.
Chicago Tribune.

Several hundred speeches, thousands of books and a million pamphlets extolling the advantages of the St. Lawrence seaway as an outlet for the surplus farm products of the middle west must be recalled for correction, revision, or reprinting. Repeating an early error in calculation, this mass of misinformative material affirms that completion of the project would improve the position of the middle west grain farmers in the markets of the world to the extent of six cents per bushel. It is now being demonstrated that trade winds can reverse themselves and that the billion outlay of the American people will actually aid the foreign farmer to make further inroads in the middle west markets.

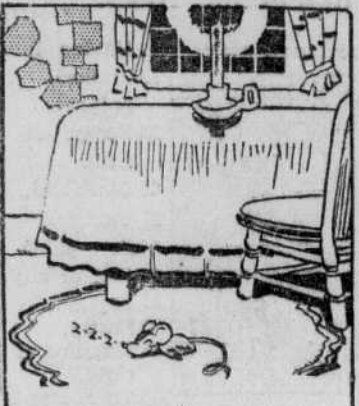

Hidden in these claims of seaway advocates is perhaps the greatest hoax ever perpetrated on the American public. Going back to times of world famine and shortage of vessels, it was discovered that grain exporters were once willing to pay ten cents per bushel for the transportation of wheat from Lake Superior to tide water. Working from this basis, expert propagandists were able to show that with a twenty-five foot channel available this cost would be reduced to four cents per bushel. Therefore, the American exporter must save six cents, much of which would accrue to the farmer. Wheat, although mostly Canadian, is still moving, but are the boats getting ten cents? A few inquiries will show that a rate of six cents is regarded as a bonanza; five cents a maximum, and four cents the summer average. Will the pamphleteers now explain how six cents can be saved from a four cent rate?

It is also being discovered that the facility will flow both ways. In times of grain shortage the advantage would be passed along to the foreign exporter, to reduce prices at Great Lakes ports, which influence theoretically extends back to the farmers. Grain is not the only commodity involved. Welsh coal is making steady headway in the Canadian household market to the disadvantage of Pennsylvania products. With cheaper transportation costs the day might well arrive when foreign fuels would be sold in Great Lakes ports in competition with products of mines in Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and the Virginias.

Our politicians erect tariff barriers against foreign products and then propose to spend a billion dollars to facilitate transportation that half of the protection is destroyed. The combination does not make sense.

THE FRENCH PRESS

GOVERNMENT ILL-ADVISED
Le Droit, Ottawa.

Last week two officials of the Postal Department left Ottawa to represent Canada at the postal congress of America and Spain which will be held at Panama early in December. The names of these two delegates have already been published. They are two English-Canadians. In spite of the representations made to the authorities, the Government did not see fit to modify its choice of delegates. It will therefore be one of the few occasions—if not the first—that Canada will be represented at an international meeting by a delegation including no French-Canadian. Actually the federal administration is directed by a group of English-speaking officials who are making a greater anti-national impression than the so-called separatists of the Province of Quebec. Advisers of the former administration, they remained councillors of the new government. Needless to say that this advice is very faulty the greater part of the time.

ENCOURAGING MESSAGE

La Presse, Montreal.

An encouraging message was left by Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of National Revenue, at the opening of Montreal's new National Revenue building, when he declared that at the rate Canada's export and import trade is increasing the Federal Government will soon be able to balance its budget and, as a consequence, reduce the tax burden, first suppressing those taxes that are hindering economic recovery. It is true that close relations exist between a country's commercial exchanges and the national revenue. Economists rightly described the depression as lack of commerce. Figures cited by Hon. Mr. Isley indicate clearly that as commercial activity increases the general situation improves. We should follow Mr. Isley's advice and help our federal authorities to better our public finances. Individuals, corporations and societies should limit their demands upon Ottawa instead of ceaselessly seeking new grounds for grants and subsidies. With decreasing expenditures and increasing resources, it will become possible to balance the budget. No one can pay up his old debts if he continues to spend more than he earns and the Government is in the same position.

Letters To The Editor

NOT A PRECEDENT IN SURGICAL HISTORY

To the Editor.

Sherbrooke Record,
Dear Sir:—Your paper of November 19th contained a news story headed "Removal of Scissors to Create Medical History." The last sentence quotes: "This case," Dr. Orman declared, "sets a precedent in surgical history."

This is not correct, for my aunt, Mrs. W. W. Crotch, of the Penas, Shoy, Place du Pey, Vence, Alpes Maritimes, France, was operated on eight years ago for the same cause, a pair of surgical forceps, six inches long, were discovered after X-ray treatment, and were in her stomach for the period of seven years. They were left in her abdomen when she was operated on at a hospital in England.

She contested the case, but after a lengthy lawsuit was informed that they, the forceps, had been there for a period longer than five years, and that the law could not do anything about the case, as she could not claim compensation after that length of time.

"The case was in most of the leading English newspapers of that time, and although I have no written proof at the present time, I can get it by sending my aunt."

Yours faithfully,
D. GORDON

EDIBLE SHOT FOR THE DUCKS

THAT GET AWAY

Washington, Nov. 25.—The Government offered edible bullets today to cut the death rate among ducks the hunters miss.

So many ducks, unhurt, have died from lead poisoning when they scooped up lead pellets in their search for food that Dr. E. J. Shillinger, of the Biological Survey, set out to solve the problem.

By combining magnesium with the lead, Dr. Shillinger produced a non-poisonous shot that will disintegrate in water or in a duck's gizzard.

URGES GREATER STUDY OF EINSTEIN THEORY
Princeton, N.J., Nov. 25.—Professor Henry DeWolf Smyth, chairman of the Department of Physics of Princeton University, says comprehension of the Einstein Theory of Relativity is "part of the equipment of any first-rate physicist."

Writing in the current issue of the Princeton Alumni Weekly, he sought to dispel the notion that only twelve men in the world understood the theory.

Smyth said the Einstein theory had practical applications and was "part of the warp and woof of modern physics."

QUANTITY PRICES FOR WEDDING RINGS
Hays, Kas., Nov. 25.—Isadore Windholz, a sharp bargainer, asked a jeweler the price of a wedding ring. Then, "how much for two?" Getting a discount, he went on "and three?" Perplexed, the jeweler made a nice reduction on the quantity.

Wedding music soon filled a church, and the brothers Windholz—Isadore, Wendelin and Anselm—marched down the aisle with their brides.

COUPLE GIVEN A SURPRISE PARTY AT KNOWLTON

Enjoyable Entertainment Featured Surprise Party Held at Home of Mrs. H. A. Blunt in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLaughlin.

Knowlton, Nov. 25.—A very enjoyable social evening was held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Blunt, the occasion being a farewell surprise party given by Mrs. Blunt in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLaughlin, who are leaving this place to reside in Sherbrooke.

The surprise was a complete success as the arrangements for the party had been very quietly organized by Mrs. Blunt, Mrs. W. K. Davis and Mrs. John Badger. Mrs. Blunt had invited Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin to her place for tea, and it was not until several of the guests had arrived that they realized that the party was being held in their honor.

An hour of social chat was enjoyed by all, and then Mrs. Frank Carr, presiding at the piano, played many old favorite hymns and everyone joined in an old-fashioned sing-song.

Some classical selections were rendered by Allan Blunt, Clarence Davis at the piano and Ernest Badger with the violin, played a variety of music, in which old-fashioned dance favorites were the most numerous.

Miss Julia Wheeler recited the following poem of her own composition entitled, "Neighbors":

When I was small I loved to hear
The tales the "old-folk" told
Of how each sturdy pioneer
Braved hardships, storm and cold
And came here in the wilderness
So many years ago,
Their household goods upon a sled
Behind the oxen slow.

They felled the forest, cleared the land,
And soon a log house stood
Between great stumps, before the door.
Soon played a lively brood,
With clothing scarce, and foodstuff too.

And many months to feed
'Twas weary toil—for rest or play
They'd little time indeed.
They "sped the plow," turned the wheel
And scythe and cradle swung
And rode the long, rough miles to mill.

The grist behind them slung,
But still if any trouble came,
In all the neighborhood,
To help, or comfort, feed or nurse
"The Neighbors" ready stood.

Those days are gone, and times are changed,
Old neighbors now are few,
But still we hear of kindly deeds
Just as we used to do.
The neighbors still are kindly folk
And so we wish to you—
Health, happiness and best of luck
All your life's journey through.

A humorous "habitant poem" was read by Gordon Badger, followed by a comical story excellently told by William Soles.

A presentation of a lovely floral offering was made to the guests-of-honor by Miss Joyce Blunt, at the same time that a silver collection was tendered them by C. H. Brown, who expressed the sentiments of the donors by recalling the very friendly and happy relations everyone had experienced with these old neighbors.

Mr. McLaughlin thanked his friends for their very pleasant surprise in an appropriate manner.

Mrs. Blunt, Mrs. Walter Knowlton and Mrs. Astley Williams supervised the making of the sandwiches and cutting the cakes, which were served by Miss Doris Tracey, Miss Joyce Blunt, Miss Joyce Knowlton, Miss Eileen Brown and Allan Blunt. William Badger presided over the serving of the coffee and cream.

A large cake had been made by Miss Doris Tracey and was artistically iced by Mrs. Walter Davis with the words, "To Our Guests."

After refreshments, Mrs. C. H. Brown played several old favorite songs, in which every one happily joined. Miss O. W. Brown gave some instrumental selections. The musical programme was closed by the appropriate selection, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," rendered by Allan Blunt.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. Maurice Williams and his mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. Knowlton and son, George, of Foster; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knowlton, the Misses Joyce and Janet Knowlton, Mrs. Hattie Allan, Mr. and Mrs. John Badger, Messrs. Gordon and Ernest Badger, of Bolton Pass; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Townsend and sons, of Sutton; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Cousins and daughter, Alice, Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Cousins, Mr. William Badger, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Brown, Miss Eileen Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Williams and Mr. Reginald Williams, of Bolton Glen.

They argued and bickered so much about the speed of their respective horses that the old Arab grew weary of the rivalry, and when he died he stipulated that all his gold go to whose horse lost the race to the nearest village.

Together they started each determined that the other should win. They walked their horses slowly and moved in circles and got no place. GAVE ADDRESS ON "CHROMIUM" AT ROTARY CLUB

Uses of Chromium Plating in Industry Described by Stewart Doak, of Lennoxville, at Regular Weekly Meeting of Rotarians Last Evening.

The outstanding properties of chromium were described by Stewart Doak, of the Union Screen Plate Company, Lennoxville, at the Rotary Club's regular weekly dinner held at the New Sherbrooke House last evening.

Chromium plating, the speaker said, although comparatively expensive, will outlast nickel, glass and hardened steel and is daily becoming more popular because of its endurance, finish, wear and corrosion resistance for industrial machines and products.

Briefly reviewing the history of chromium, the ore for which is found in New Caledonia and South Africa, Mr. Doak declared it was discovered about a hundred and forty years ago. "Chromium," he said, "is an elementary substance and was discovered by Vauquelin. In 1853 a British patent was obtained by Junot for a method of depositing chromium electrolytically. This represented the beginning of the research work that ended seventy years later in the commercially successful method of depositing chromium."

The speaker said that the melting point of chromium is 2,939 degrees F. "Its hardness when plated is 9.0, which is second to the diamond, which has a hardness of 10.0," the speaker said.

Mr. Doak was introduced by Henry Downs, Jr., and thanked at the close of his address by Lewis Rosenbloom.

The Club last night welcomed back a former member in the person of Rupert Elliott.

Rosaire Samson, vice-president, presided in the absence of President Karl Barrett.

MALLOY ASKS FOR SPEEDY TRIAL

Philippe Malloy, who wears a perpetual grin when he enters the local Court, appeared before Magistrate J. H. Lemay this morning and asked for a speedy trial on a charge of automobile theft.

Malloy was condemned at his preliminary hearing to stand trial before a jury in Court of King's Bench. However, he is impatient to be tried and today expressed his desire to be judged by the Magistrate.

The young man was a star witness for the Crown in the shooting affray at East Hereford six years ago that claimed the life of his brother, Rene and sent Albert Pierre St. Pierre to the gallows.

LAPLANTE GETS ONE YEAR JAIL FOR CAR THEFT

Lennoxville Young Man Who Surrendered to Local Police Because His Conscience Was Troubling Him Sentenced in Magistrate's Court this Morning.

A young man who surrendered to local police authorities for a three-year-old automobile theft because his conscience was troubling him was condemned to one year in the local jail by Judge J. H. Lemay in the Magistrate's Court this morning.

He was Jules Laplante, of Lennoxville, who walked into High Constable Louis A. Gaudreau's office early this week and confessed to stealing an automobile in Lennoxville on or about November 15th, 1933, driving the car to Granby and then abandoning it.

"My conscience has been bothering me," he explained to the police officer.

He is a tall, young man, this Laplante, and his listener, as the charge was read to him by Clerk of the Court Lemay this morning.

"I am guilty," he said.

Judge Lemay said he would impose the minimum sentence of one year in jail.

Laplante appeared about to say something, seemed undecided, felt the prison guard touch his sleeve and swung around and sat down on the prisoner's bench.

High Constable Gaudreau claims the young man, when he gave himself up, expressed a preference to two years in the penitentiary to one year in jail.

He may yet have his wish fulfilled.

Crown Prosecutor Antonio Drole stated to the Record this morning that charges of stealing gasoline may be lodged against Laplante.

MIDGET CLASS ORGANIZED AT Y.M.C.A.

The newly-organized "midget class" bids fair to become one of the most popular classes conducted at the local Y.M.C.A. It is composed of boys from eight to nine years of age who meet every Wednesday at 4:30 o'clock for swimming, on Saturday morning from nine to ten for gymnasium and from ten to ten-thirty for swimming.

W. J. "Bill" Peak, physical director, conducts the gymnasium programme, which consists of marching, corrective exercises, light apparatus work, competition games and relay races. In the swimming pool the boys are under the direction of Harry Grey. At present only six of this group are unable to swim and Mr. Grey states that it will not be long before every member of the class will know how to swim.

A plan to classify the members according to swimming ability is under way, and suitable awards will be presented when the boys reach the highest classification.

The following are members: D. Macdonald, R. Craig, P. McRae, A. Bruyom, E. Allison, J. Waldie, F. Ford, M. Sanders, G. Moe, J. Black, G. Skilton, R. Matthews, W. Matthews, A. Mentis, A. DuPerron, G. DuPerron, D. Martin, R. Olsen, L. Young, B. Wood, D. Lynn, M. Bernstein, R. Larrabee, G. Peabody, N. Weinstein, L. Parr, H. Drew, W. Reid, J. Colter, N. Bishop, J. Barlow, E. Fidler, S. Carr, and C. GOOD NEWS FOR ST. PETER'S W. A. MEMBERS

The fact that the deficit of $562.41 on the Diocesan apportionment for 1935 had been paid in full, and grateful acknowledgments for help sent to far distant missions, gladdened the hearts of the members of St. Peter's Women's Auxiliary at yesterday's largely attended meeting in the parish hall. Mrs. C. H. Bowen, the president, presided, the minutes were read by Mrs. J. Pashley and Mrs. S. A. Jones read several letters of outstanding interest to W. A. workers. These included communications from the Ven. Archbishop, C. Hedley Holmes, of the Diocese of Saskatchewan, Mrs. N. Matthews, of the Diocese of Qu'Appelle, Mrs. U. Little, of Athabasca, and Mrs. E. W. Smiley, of Prince Albert, Sask., all gratefully extending thanks for boxes of clothing and books. Mrs. Smiley also mentioned that last year they had made up 1,700 boxes at Christmas time for distribution to Sunday School children, each box containing some article of warm clothing in addition to the toys, books, or what notes the Christmas parcels contained. Most of these articles had been found in bales or boxes sent on by the W. A. in Eastern Canada. The Dorcas secretary, Mrs. W. Marchant, reported hearing from the Anglican Indian School at Moose Factory, Moonsonce, where the local branch regularly sends outfits of clothing for the pupils.

The announcement that All Saints' Hospital in Akivik, which was entirely destroyed by fire, would be again in operation by Christmas was heard with thankfulness, each branch of the W. A. having done its "bit" towards attaining its restoration. It was recorded with grateful satisfaction that the name of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth McSwiggan, of Sherbrooke, had been added to the Diocesan Memorial Book by the Sherbrooke Branch of the W. A. Prior to adjournment the members were reminded of the annual meeting on December third.

FIRST MEETING HELD BY LOCAL SPEAKING CLUB

Thirteen Members Attended First Regular Session of Newly-Organized Y. M. C. A. Public Speaking Club Last Evening Plans Made for Weekly Gatherings.

Thirteen was in no way an unlucky number for the Y.M.C.A. Public Speaking Club which held its first regular meeting in the Y.M.C.A. last evening with thirteen interested members present. B. N. Holtham, co-leader of the newly-formed society with H. E. Grundy, occupied the chair after W. H. Wolter, General Secretary of the Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A., who was responsible for the formation of the club, had expressed his satisfaction about the size of the meeting and had briefly outlined his reasons for organizing a group of this nature.

Francis Hoyer was appointed secretary for the evening during which a discussion centred about how the club would be conducted. Mr. Holtham pointed out several essentials in public speaking, reminding his listeners that one must have the desire and determination to speak and conquer fear. As subject matter, the joint club leader suggested the selection of a familiar subject for one's first attempt to address an audience.

"There are four types of preparation," Mr. Holtham continued. "An address can be written and read or it may be written and memorized, but neither of these systems is recommended. Speaking from a few head notes is good policy, while making an address without the use of any notes is the acme of success."

"Do not worry about gestures," the speaker concluded, "they will come as one gains experience. Be moderate with stories, poetry and quotations, using them only when you are certain they are appropriate. Watch the tone of your voice, do not speak too fast and, above all, do not drag out your words. As for the length of an address, be reasonably brief."

It was decided that meetings will be held every Tuesday. The chairman and secretary will be changed at each meeting and an address will be given by one of the club members, sufficient time being allotted for constructive criticism. Mr. Grundy will give a short outline of parliamentary procedure next Tuesday and Francis Hoyer will be the speaker.

Among those present at last evening's gathering were B. N. Holtham, R. J. Bell, D. MacDonald, W. Spangwick, F. Hoyer, A. Caygill, E. J. Marshall, J. Withall, R. Wheeler, F. Baldwin, D. Armitage, T. J. Bonner and W. H. Wolter.

SIZEABLE GAIN IN POPULATION OF SHERBROOKE

Increased from 29,512 in 1935 to 30,908—North Ward Ranks Third in Population but Heads List in Total Valuation.

The city's population is today placed at 30,908, an increase of 1,396 over the 1935 city census of 29,512 residents.

The West Ward with 9,134 residents has the largest population of any of the five wards. The East Ward comes next with 7,363 residents and the North Ward is third with 5,857, followed by the South Ward with 5,122 residents. The Centre or business Ward, with 3,432 residents, has the smallest population.

It is interesting to note that the North Ward, which is practically devoid of industries, has a property valuation of $6,911,200, the highest of the five wards. The West Ward, in which the majority of the larger industrial plants are located, holds second place in valuation with $5,920,130. The Centre Ward is third with $5,840,650, followed by the South and East Wards with valuations of $5,510,160 and $5,501,649, respectively.

MONTREAL FIRM DETERMINED TO ESTABLISH HERE

Montreal Clothing Firm Prepared to Move to Sherbrooke Despite Objections of Montreal Civic Officials and Clothing Workers' Union.

The local municipal front was not at all perturbed today by the fact that the Montreal civic authorities are all aflutter and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America quite excited because a Montreal firm has decided to move its plant from the metropolis to Sherbrooke. The union, it was learned, despatched telegrams to Hon. Oscar Drouin, acting Premier, to Hon. Joseph Bilodeau, Minister of Municipal Affairs, Trade and Commerce, and to Hon. William Tremblay, Minister of Labor, requesting them to use their offices to prevent the removal of the clothing manufacturing firm, S. Rubin, Limited, to Sherbrooke, which would cast about three hundred employees on the mercies of the city.

This action of the union is in the nature of a follow-up of the protest voiced on Monday last by Ald. Joseph Schubert, of the Montreal City Council, to Hon. William Tremblay, Provincial Minister of Labor.

Ald. Schubert protested at what he termed the "unfairness" and "injustice" of towns outside the metropolis being permitted to lure Montreal industries through tax commutation inducements.

It was stated at the City Hall this morning that the matter was being allowed to take its course. City representatives were in communication with Mr. Rubin this morning and were assured by him that he was still determined to come to Sherbrooke.

According to reports emanating from Montreal, Hon. Mr. Tremblay has summoned the management of the Rubin company for a conference to be held at the Montreal Government offices on Saturday morning at which the whole matter will be discussed.

Mr. Rubin visited Sherbrooke several days ago, when plans for the transfer of his business to this city were discussed.

The city, on its part, agreed to grant a commutation of taxes for a period of ten years to the company on seventy-five per cent. of its valuation, while the company agreed to employ Sherbrooke help.

Both parties appeared well satisfied with their deliberations and Mr. Rubin returned to Montreal to await the outcome of the referendum to be submitted to the Sherbrooke rate-payers on Thursday, December 10, authorizing the commutation of taxes.

Despite the strong objection which is being voiced in Montreal, there appears little to prevent the carrying out of present plans. From all indications the Rubin concern will be in operation in the Blue factory on King street west at an early date in the new year.

KEEPING FIT IMPROVES YOUR EFFICIENCY
London, Nov. 25.—A glance at his crowded social calendar today convinced seventy-seven year old Sir George Broadbridge, London's new Lord Mayor, he should enroll in a special course in physical training to keep fit.

"Any business man can double his efficiency by keeping one hundred per cent. fit," he said. "This year I expect to work harder as Lord Mayor than I ever did when I was struggling for success."

Just fifty years ago—when he was twenty-seven—George Broadbridge earned five shillings ($1.25) a week. Now he is one of the biggest tin financiers in London.

DEATHS REPORTED

FUNERAL OF MR. ALVA COREY AT PIERCE.

Piercetown, Nov. 25.—A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the school house here on Wednesday, November 11th, to pay a final tribute of respect to the memory of Mr. Alva Corey. Mr. Corey passed away on Sunday, November 8th, at the home of his grandson, Mr. Aubrey Laduke, Lowell, Mass.

The deceased, who had reached the age of eighty-eight years, six months and twenty-four days, had been seriously ill only two weeks, and had been confined to his bed for but four days. During his last illness he was tenderly cared for by his two daughters, Mrs. Ella Laduke and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, and his two grandsons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Laduke and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laduke. Mr. Corey was a member of the end, and passed peacefully away.

Large-attended services were held in Lowell on Tuesday, November 10th, Rev. Charles Barker, pastor of the Christian Advent Church, of which the deceased was an attendant, officiating. The remains were then removed to Piercetown, where the deceased had spent all but the last thirteen years of his life. The deceased and his wife, who was a daughter of the late Thomas Jones, lived for a number of years on a farm at Stanbury. After the death of his wife forty-three years ago, Mr. Corey worked for several years for Mr. Smith in a sawmill at Bedford.

At the funeral service here, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gardner and Messrs. A. Westcott and F. Fortin sang three favorite hymns of the deceased, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Eden, Home," and "I Am Going Home." The bearers were Messrs. Aubrey and Donald Laduke, Wilfred Corey, Clifford Jones, Rolf Jones and Alton Laduke. The casket was in the family lot beside his wife.

Among the many floral tributes which covered the casket were sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cote, of Ayer, Mass., and from the employees of Snag Proof, Beebe.

The deceased was the daughter of Marcel Martel and Adelaide Sybilie, of Stanstead. A kind and sympathetic neighbor and a devoted mother, Mrs. Robitaille lived a quiet and Christian life. She spent ten years in Rock Island and six years in Bedford prior to her death, which occurred after ten days of illness during which she was tenderly cared for by her daughters. Her husband, predeceased Mrs. Robitaille many years ago.

Social and Personal

Mr. Carlos C. Skinner, Magog street, returned home last night after spending a few days in Montreal.

The many friends of little Eleanor Duffy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duffy, of Gould, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she recently underwent an operation, will be pleased to hear that she is steadily improving.

That Miss Jessie Hargrave, of New York, who is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she recently underwent an operation, is progressing favorably, will be a great relief to hosts of friends who have anxiously awaited news of her condition.

Mr. A. C. Skinner entertained informally last evening at his residence on Portland avenue, the occasion being the anniversary of the host's and Mr. J. R. Sangster's birthdays. Cards were played during the evening and later a delectable buffet supper was served.

Mrs. Eric Lennon entertained the members of the Young Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Trinity United Church at her home on Frontenac street. Under the presidency of Mrs. James Hall, final arrangements were made for a Christmas sale and tea. During the pleasant social hour which followed the hostess served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Fry.

A pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Mr. Curtis McIntyre at his home on King street west on the occasion of his twenty-fifth birthday. The living room, where games were enjoyed during the evening, was gaily decorated with balloons and serpentine. Later delicious refreshments were served in the dining room, a lovely yellow linen cloth covering the pretty table, which was centered with a large birthday cake. Mrs. Curtis McIntyre was assisted in her pleasant hospitable duties by several of the lady guests.

The following is a list of the ladies who assisted at the Thrift Sale for the benefit of the Victorian Order of Nurses: Mrs. Andrew Sangster, Mrs. W. B. McCaw, Mrs. John Stein, Mrs. F. S. Rugg, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. Francis Hovey, Mrs. A. Mittleman, Mrs. H. Budning, Mrs. S. Marcus, Mrs. A. F. Mabbett, Mrs. A. Vallee, Mrs. J. S. Mooney, Mrs. M. L. Norcross, Mrs. S. Walsh, Mrs. Stewart Macdonald, Mrs. H. Barclay, Mrs. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Lewis Robinson, Mrs. G. D. Evans, Mrs. M. L. McFadden, Mrs. N. Whitman, Mrs. J. G. Ranshouan, Mrs. E. E. Goodenough, Mrs. R. G. Costley, Mrs. B. C. Howard, Jr., Mrs. S. Clark, Mrs. F. M. Wheatley, Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Monrad-Martinsson, Mrs. H. Ogilvie, Mrs. J. T. Mead, the Misses Margaret Robins, Amy Wells Gladys Mullins, J. Brunwell, C. Walley, M. Hovey, M. Baldwin, G. Dwane, W. McRoberts, K. Porteous and E. Hill.

Mrs. H. Cuthbert, president of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Church, received the many guests who patronized the Christmas sale in the parish hall yesterday afternoon. The hall presented a most attractive appearance with its graceful decorations of fragrant evergreen, while glistening tinsel and brilliant red effectively continued the lovely decorative scheme done in honor of the Christmas season. Mrs. Oscar Berry, who poured tea, was assisted by Mrs. A. Hargraves, the tea table being charmingly centered with chrysanthemums, while a jolly Santa Claus and a tiny tree continued the happy Christmas atmosphere which permeated the enjoyable and successful tea party.

The hostesses responsible for the delectable tea and refreshments were Mrs. P. Dungate, Mrs. R. Edgecombe and Mrs. H. Steward, who were assisted in serving by Mrs. J. Black, Mrs. M. Johnson, Mrs. T. Oak and Miss Edith Smith. Mrs. F. Stanford acted as treasurer. The proceeds from the Christmas tea, which was one of the most successful, ever sponsored by the Ladies' Guild, were largely augmented by the sale of fancy work in charge of Mrs. J. Halliday, Mrs. J. Hall and Mrs. D. Mandigo, handkerchiefs by Mrs. W. Hovey and home cooked food by Mrs. W. Clarke, Mrs. S. Farmer and Mrs. W. G. Flynn.

Mr. K. E. Barrett, Quebec street, returned home at noon today after spending a week visiting Montreal, Saint John, N.B., and other points.

HOPES OF SEALING BREACH WITH REBEL UNIONS RISE

Talk of Federation Support for Independent National Labor Party Concluded by A.F. of L. for this Year.

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 25.—Majority leaders of the American Federation of Labor all but decided to end for this year talk of Federation support for an Independent National Labor party.

The resolutions committee was expected to report unfavorably on proposals for sponsorships by the Federation of existing Farmer-Labor movements in several states and Labor party organization in others.

With a new plea for peace to be dispatched soon to the insurgent John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization, hopes of sealing the breach between the A. F. of L. and its suspended rebel unions were higher than in many days.

George Harrison, chairman of the committee appointed by the Federation to treat with Lewis' group, said an "official communication" would go to the United Mine Workers president within a few days urging a joint conference to discuss peace.

The A. F. of L. convention ratified Monday night the suspension two months ago of the mine workers and nine other unions by the Federation's executive council on "insurrection" charges.

The "marriage court" of Bury, Lancs, Eng., has had to register only one failure in three years to settle a matrimonial dispute.

MANY MATTERS BEFORE CIVIL COURT TODAY

Damage Action for $10,000 Damages Instituted, Settlement Reached in Street Railway Franchise Case, Suits Against Asbestos Council Members Dropped and Several Damage Claims Heard Today.

Institution of an action for $10,380 damages, long-awaited settlement of the city's legal controversy with the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company over the latter's transportation system franchise, abandonment of the actions in disqualification against the mayor and two councillors of the Asbestos Municipal Council, and hearing by Mr. Justice Charles D. White and Mr. Justice Hector Verret of damage actions resulting from automobile accidents featured unusual activity in the local Superior Court today.

The automobile fatality that claimed the life of Irene Turcotte, forty-six years old, of Westbury, injured his eleven-year-old son, Andrew, and resulted in a charge of manslaughter being lodged against Antonio Martineau, of East Angus, driver of the car in which the two Turcottes were passengers, is again before the courts in the form of an action for $10,380 instituted by Mrs. Irene Turcotte against Dame G. Laistro, mother of Antonio Martineau, for injuries suffered by the eleven-year-old boy. An action for $17,000 damages in connection with Turcotte's death is at present pending.

This fatality occurred last August on the highway between East Angus and Bishopville. Martineau, who did not possess a driver's license, is alleged to have been under the influence of liquor and operating his car in a careless manner. He struck the rail of a culvert bridge and lost control of the vehicle as it bounced for a distance of about fifty feet and crashed into a stout tree. Irene Turcotte succumbed in the Hotel Dieu Hospital the following day from a fractured skull. His son suffered a fractured jaw and injuries to his face and thigh. Martineau, held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury, is now awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter.

STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE CANCELLED

A legal battle that has been waged before the Courts for many years was settled yesterday afternoon when Mr. Justice Hector Verret confirmed a settlement out of court arrived at by the City of Sherbrooke and the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company in connection with the latter company's transportation system franchise.

By virtue of this settlement, the street railways franchise was cancelled, together with the city by-laws regarding the construction, operation and maintenance of a transportation system within the city limits.

The agreement, however, does not affect the rights and conditions stipulated and granted under the by-laws and contracts with reference to the sale of power by the defendant company.

The city will return $20,000 worth of defendant company bonds due 1940 which were deposited with the plaintiff as security, the whole without costs.

DISQUALIFICATION CASES SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Actions in disqualification against Mayor Philippe Roy and Councillors Boudreau and Fecteau of the Asbestos Municipal Council, instituted by Wilfrid Bruneau, have been settled out of court, the defendants retaining their seats on the Council, it was announced today.

Bruneau, it was stated, dropped proceedings in order to maintain peace and harmony in the Municipality of Asbestos.

Each party pays his own costs.

TWO ACTIONS RESULT FROM AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Two actions for damage arising out of an automobile collision at the corner of First avenue and Council street are being heard today.

In one of these Miss Gladys Courchesne, of this city, is suing Gerard Charest, of Warwick, and J. O. Rouillard, of this city, jointly, for the sum of $1,522 for severe injuries suffered in the collision.

Miss Courchesne was a passenger in a car belonging to Donat Gregoire, of Warwick, and driven by Gerard Charest, that came into collision with a vehicle belonging to J. O. Rouillard. She was precipitated through the windshield of Gregoire's car and severely injured about the face.

In the other suit, Donat Gregoire, owner of the car driven by Charest, is claiming $359.96 from Rouillard for damages to his vehicle.

SUIT FOR $430 DAMAGES

Hearing is scheduled to proceed today in the case of Dame Elizabeth Briggs, of Compton, against the Compagnie des Frais Funeraires for $430 damages for injuries suffered when the taxi driven by Carl Lunderborg, of Coaticook in which she was a passenger, collided with the defendant's vehicle operated by one Villeneuve.

Defendant claims that its car was stopped at the time of the accident and was struck by Lunderborg, who was unable to pilot his automobile out of the ruts on the highway.

peace.

The A. F. of L. convention ratified Monday night the suspension two months ago of the mine workers and nine other unions by the Federation's executive council on "insurrection" charges.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

SAFETY PLAY WINS GAMES

Refuses to Finesse for Possible Loss.
With K-J-10 of Trump Out Against Him, Declarer

By Wm. E. McKenney
Secretary, American Bridge League.

Bridge players have learned, by the slow process of trial and error, that certain combinations of cards call for plays differing slightly from the stereotyped handling of a suit.

For instance, it is almost automatic for a player holding ace-queen and a number of small cards in a suit to lead the suit from the opposite hand and finesse the queen, if the king has not been played. This play sometimes gains a trick, but there are many times when it will lose.

Thus, with a combination like A-Q-9-8-6 in one hand and 5-4-3 in the other, one trick in the suit must be lost, regardless of how the five cards are held in the opposing hands, because the king, jack, and ten are missing.

If there are enough entries in the hand with the small cards, the best play is not to finesse, but to lay down the ace, then enter dummy and lead a card toward the queen, depending on the subsequent play by the card played second hand.

It was knowledge of the added in his own hand. It was a marked singleton, and showed that South had at least two trumps; otherwise, he would not attempt to get a ruff with one of them.

East then laid down the ace of spades, and led a diamond to dummy. This was won with the ace, and a low spade was returned.

North played the ten. East played the eight, and South won with the king. Thereafter, North and South won two diamond tricks, and East made his contract as a result of his trump safety play.

Even if South had a singleton trump, whether it was the king or not, the play could not lose; but with the singleton or doubleton king, the safety play gains a trick.

A TWO-EDGED ATTACK MADE UPON MODERN SWING MUSIC

New York Psychologist Says "Swing Music Decidedly Makes Its Appeal to Immature and Debased Human Sensibilities."

New York, Nov. 25.—From Washington Square, where art springs eternal, came a two-edged attack today on what has come to be known as swing music.

A tune in swing time, said Prof. Philip James, chairman of the Department of Music in New York University, works considerable hardship on "our elder and more settled people who want to dance but cannot adjust their feet to the reckless abandon of swing tempo."

From Prof. Newman L. Hooping, psychologist in the University's School of Commerce: "swing music decidedly makes its appeal to the immature and debased human sensibilities."

Could Hardly Rise From Her Chair

Rheumatism Relieved by Kruschen

This woman was such a confirmed sufferer from rheumatism that she thought she would never get relief. But before she had finished one bottle of Kruschen her rheumatism was leaving her. Here is her letter:—

"I had rheumatism so badly that once I got into a chair I found great difficulty in rising again. A friend told me to try Kruschen. So, I bought a bottle of Kruschen. I had a foolish idea, as there seemed to me to be nothing that would relieve rheumatism. My friend gave me two doses to try. I took one dose on Monday and another on Tuesday, and by then my pain had moved to another part of my body. Well, that was a good start, so I bought a bottle and it gave me great joy to find my rheumatism disappearing, and now for a long time I have been free." (Miss A. B.)

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently due to deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. Kruschen Salts, by helping to stimulate the excretory organs to healthy, regular activity, enables them to expel this uric acid from the system.

LOCAL TEXTILE MEN TESTIFIED TO LONG HOURS

Camillien Labbe and Adolphe Marquis, of this City, Gave Evidence Yesterday at Turgeon Investigation into Textile Industry.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—Employees of Dominion Textiles from the Sherbrooke and Hochelaga, Que., plants gave evidence yesterday before the Turgeon Commission on wages paid by the company. Examined by Elie Beauregard, associate Commission counsel, they testified to working long hours for small pay.

Weavers in the Hochelaga mill were not paid for samples they made, two witnesses declared. It was disclosed, however, that after making these samples they were given the job of producing the material, provided the samples were "O. K."

Speeding up had taken place in the Sherbrooke plant since the Commission sat in that city early in spring, other witnesses said. They were required to tend more machines for the same pay. Others declared that while learning the job of doffing over a period of two and one-half months they had received no money at all.

Efforts by C. T. Ballantyne, company counsel, to ascertain why the employees had not been required to give their evidence in Sherbrooke when the Commission sat there were protested by Mr. Beauregard. Mr. Ballantyne was equally unsuccessful in his attempts to elicit the identity of the individual who had prompted the witnesses to come to Ottawa.

Camillien Labbe testified to working ten hours a day as a doffer. For the first two and a half months when he was learning the job he had been paid nothing. To C. T. Ballantyne, counsel for the company, Labbe said he had displaced nobody when he got the job. As soon as he learned how to doff he was put on the payroll.

Adolphe Marquis, twenty-one, began to learn spinning at the age of fourteen. He was now receiving seven dollars a week. He had not been paid while learning. Aristide Lafamme, twenty-two, a cleaner, received eighteen cents an hour for a ten hour day. His last pay was $20.50 for two weeks. He looked after ninety-six looms. Formerly there had been six cleaners in the weave-room; these had been reduced to four, and at present there were five. He complained of a speeding up in the work.

He had not given evidence in Sherbrooke, he told Mr. Ballantyne. A question from the company counsel as to why he had waited until the Commission came to Ottawa before he testified and who it was who had requested him to appear now as a witness was protested by Mr. Beauregard.

Yesterday was also devoted to comparison of Canadian and United States wage rates for textile mills. C. V. Fessenden, industrial engineer, reported average weekly wages in three New England plants for male and female weavers was $16.46, and $14.78 in three southern mills. The Canadian rate in six mills varied from $11.21 to $15.37. The United States figures were based on a thirty-seven and a half hour week; the Canadian on a week ranging from 32.2 to 46.3.

Average rate for spinners in northern states was $14.55, said Mr. Fessenden, and $12.08 in the south. In Canada the range was from $8.50 for a 28.8 hour week to $17.56 for a 49.2 hour week.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Miss Winifred Forsyth's troubles really began when a traffic light turned red in Harry Trechner's face.

FIND SPECIES OF ODD FISH OFF BARBADOS

Combination Between Frog and Bat Puzzles Fishermen and Naturalists of West Indian Island.

Bridgetown, Barbados, Nov. 25.—An odd species of fish, believed to have inhabited at one time a Barbados undersea cave is puzzling fishermen and naturalists of the West Indian Island.

A fisherman, recognized the peculiar characteristics of the five fish he caught in a fish pot, and took them to a taxidermist who stuffed them. With orange-colored breasts, the back parts a grayish-blue and the mouth a flaming scarlet, the unknown fishes were as attractive as they were unique.

An original interpretation of their origin has been put forward by Professor Abdi, of Plantations, Limited, and confirmed by Dr. Dilmars, of the Bronx Zoo, N.Y.

"The fish," said the professor, "has a very strong vertebral column, and the eyes are well protected. This suggests that it has been accustomed to great depths.

"You know there is an underground cave in Barbados, which no one has succeeded in following to the outlet. My opinion is these fish were at one time mammals in this cave. Everything about it makes me think my diagnosis is correct.

"The fish has two apertures for breathing in the back. Now an ordinary fish breathes through its gills. And then here is a hole in its belly by means of which it clings to rocks or other fixed objects. And then the wings. Fish do not have wings as a rule. The flying fish has fins, but here we see the relics of what must have been a bat's wings millions of years ago.

"By some process of evolution, which we cannot hope to fathom, there has been a combination between a frog and a bat in some deep underground cave.

"Water gradually filled the cave and the amphibian qualities of the frog made it adaptable to the new conditions. The bat-like characteristics are slowly disappearing and the elements of the fish creeping in, as we see by the tail."

Dr. Dilmars has stated the theory is plausible to him and he intends to submit a photo of this queer inhabitant of the sea to officials in charge of the fish department of the Bronx Zoo.

RANGERS TOOK TORONTO TEAM OVER HURDLES

Patrick's Youngsters Registered One-Sided Victory Over the Clancyless Maple Leafs Last Evening—Games in Montreal and Boston Ended in Deadlocks.

Lanky Lester Patrick can uncover that whitening silver thatch today and take a round of applause as a developer of hockey talent. Often compared unfavorably with Conny Smythe as a team builder, Patrick has demonstrated that for the moment at least he has outdistanced his Toronto rival.

Beating the Maple Leafs has become sort of a habit in the National League, but no one has done it quite so thoroughly as Patrick's New York Rangers did last night. They took Smythe's team by five to one and three of their goals were scored by youngsters Patrick has developed.

It is very doubtful though that Smythe is considering his rivalry with Patrick while he watched the Rangers ram home four goals in the first period against his Leafs. Beside him sat "King" Clancy, who had just announced his retirement from the game.

For five years Clancy had sparked-plugged the Leafs, had provided the drive that made them a fighting team that never could be counted as losers while there was a second to play. With his passing from the hockey scene Smythe's defence worries are really only starting.

He is bringing up Jack Howard from Syracuse, but no one expects the youngster to fill Clancy's place. Smythe announces he would pay $50,000 for the right man, but in the same breath adds there isn't anyone in sight worth it.

Toronto's defence failed to stand up to the youthful Rangers' attacks, but the defence were outstanding in other National League battles last night. At Boston the Bruins and the winless Chicago Hawks played a one-all tie—the fourth in seven games for Chicago—and at Montreal the Maroons and the Canadiens tied at two-all.

Phil Watson, Alex Shibikoff and Neil Colville were the youngsters who paid Patrick dividends on their training. Art Coulter and Ott Heller got the other New York counters. After the Ranger spurge in the first period the game was scoreless until the third frame when Colville scored his goal. "Pep" Kelly scored Toronto's lone tally halfway through that period. The victory placed the Rangers on even terms with the idle Detroit Red Wings at the top of the United States section.

Tommy Gorman probably thanked fate when his Maroons met the Canadiens. They have only won one game this season and a team in that spot cannot be snooty about the point it gives them.

The tie was enough to pull the Canadiens to within a point of the idle Americans at the top of the Canadian division. The Happy Hunters came from behind twice to win the split. After Baldy Northcott had scored in the first period, Pit Lepine evened it in the second chapter and Johnny Gagnon scored in the third frame to wipe out the advantage Gus Marker had given the Maroons late in the second stanza.

Chicago has been accused of playing defensive hockey this season but they went after a win last night and helped the Bruins provide the sort of wide open hockey Art Ross has advocated lately.

The only goals of the game came from Doc Romnes, who scored for Chicago in the second session, and Ray Gettiffe, who took Bill Cowley's pass to even it in the second episode.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS
Outstanding players in last night's National Hockey League games were:

Wilt Cude, Canadiens: His goal-tending was the feature of the Canadiens' two-all tie against the Montreal Maroons.

Doc Romnes, Chicago, and Ray Gettiffe, Boston: Scored a goal apiece as the Black Hawks and the Bruins fought to a one-all draw.

Ott Heller, Rangers: Scored a goal and assisted in another to help the Rangers defeat the Toronto Leafs by five to one.

Dave Kerr, Rangers: Did a fine job of backstopping against the Leafs although not called on to work hard.

CONACHER WILL CONTINUE WITH MONTREAL CLUB

"Big Train" of Canadian Sport Claims He Has Made No Definite Decision to Follow "King" Clancy into Retirement—Mentioned for Government Sports Post.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—The six-foot frame of Lionel Conacher is going to be an obstacle in the path of goal-seeking opponents of the Montreal Maroons for some time yet, it developed today.

The big time ice game still beckons the old National Hockey League warrior and last night, as he made ready to bodycheck a few Canadiens in their intra-city match, Conacher said he had made no definite decision to retire.

His statement followed reports that the "Big Train" of Canadian sport would quit hockey after tomorrow night's game against the New York Americans and follow bottle-scattered "King" Clancy, of the Toronto Maple Leafs, to the sidelines.

Even Tommy Gorman, the Maroons' manager, said Conacher would quit because "his business in Toronto takes up all his time." Conacher said he thought there must be a mix-up in the reports.

"What I told Gorman was that I was not going to let hockey interfere with whatever might crop up at any time," Conacher said.

"In any event I will do nothing that will leave the Maroons on the spot, so to speak," he said. "I'll stay until they have someone to replace me anyway and I have no definite plans about immediate retirement. I have not asked for my release."

Conacher, a luminary in all sports, has been mentioned several times in connection with a Government sports position, but he told newspapermen he was not seeking such a job "at the present time."

Conacher turned professional in 1925 when the complete Pittsburgh amateur team deserted the simon-pure ranks to enter the National League. He was sent to the Americans midway through the following season and stayed in New York until 1930 when he landed with the Maroons. Gorman, the astute Chicago mentor at that time, saw the possibilities in having Canada's greatest all-round athlete on his team and brought Conacher to the Hawks in 1931.

Gorman made no mistake for the big defender, who probably bears more scars than any other hockey player in the game with the possible exception of Ching Johnson, reached the peak of his usefulness that season and was named to an all-star defence post after helping his squad to a world title. Then he came to the Maroons with Gorman and again this noted pair won the Stanley Cup. A knee injury maimed him last winter, but he seemed in great form this year, although missing a couple of games after being injured in practice.

reached his total to eight points, one ahead of the idle Dave Schirmer, of the New York Americans. Bob Davidson, of Toronto, Howie Morcen, of Detroit, and Johnny Gagnon, all of the Canadiens, Art Chapman, of the Americans, Lynn Patrick, of the Rangers, and Jimmy Ward, of the Maroons, were tied for seventh place with five points each.

RETIREMENT OF CLANCY STUNS HOCKEY WORLD

General Regret Expressed by Team Mates and Opponents, Press and Fandom Over Withdrawal from Active Duty of Brilliant Toronto Defenceman.

New York, Nov. 25.—No more will "King" Clancy roar down the ice lanes, and it was admitted on all sides today that the world of hockey is the loser.

Amid general expressions of regret from team-mates and opponents, the press and fandom, the five-star defenceman of the Toronto Maple Leafs announced that he was hanging up his skates to make way for youth.

Only thirty-three years old, but a battle-scarred veteran of more than fifteen campaigns in the big time, the lion-hearted Ottawa announced yesterday that he was stepping to the sidelines while he was still at the top and his health was good.

He took the final curtain with an expression of thanks to those who for years have been saying a silent thanks for entertainment provided and unceasing effort to please. In his parting message he said:

"With all my heart I want to thank the hockey fans of every city in the National Hockey League, the newspapermen and others who gave my clubs and myself the grandest of support.

"If it had not been for this, neither myself nor the league would have survived five years, let alone fifteen. I had the good fortune to play with two fine clubs, Ottawa and Toronto, and I tried to give these clubs and the fans the best that was in me at all times."

A blistering shot from a face-off in the game between the Detroit Red Wings and the Leafs last Sunday night, which entered the Toronto cage, became known yesterday as the cause for one of the greatest figures in National League history to announce his withdrawal from active duty on the big-time ice ponds.

As a hockey world sat back stunned, Clancy brookly announced that he was through and vowed that he would never again take up his defence post unless his services were requested for a charity game.

Ebbie Goodfellow, another Ottawa boy, convinced the King he was rapidly slowing up last Sunday. There was a face-off in the Toronto end, and before Clancy could get to the puck, he was hit by a shot from the puck into the Toronto net.

"I am in good condition. I feel fine and I think I could play the rest of the season," said Clancy. "But that incident convinced me that I was not as fast as I used to be. It started me thinking, and to-day I made up my mind to retire while I was on top and my health was good."

Conny Smythe said the fighting spirit of Clancy, which time and again had revived flagging Maple Leaf spirits, could not be dispensed with.

Clancy will continue to travel with the team and help maintain its high morale," he said. "I hate to see him not back of the blue-line for us, but there was nothing I could do. He will remain with the Leafs for the balance of the season at least and, when not on the road, act as an ambassador of goodwill among the various hockey organizations, fans and newspapermen in Toronto."

CLANCY NAMES MOREZ AMONG GAME'S IMMORTALS
New York, Nov. 24.—An aging veteran looked back over the years a bit wistfully perhaps as he sat in a comfortable hotel chair as younger and eager hockey men chattered and bustled about.

Frank "King" Clancy, Toronto Maple Leaf defence star, who yesterday announced his retirement from active participation in a sport he has been a leading figure in for fifteen years, drifted back through the years to pronounce:

Howie Morenz, centre-ice veteran of the Montreal Canadiens, the greatest forward he ever attempted to stop. Morenz goes down in Clancy's book as the greatest centre of the last fifteen years.

Bill Cook, of the New York Rangers; Aurel Joliat, of the Canadiens; George Boucher, of Ottawa, now coaching Springfield of the International-American League, and Frank Nighbor, ex-Ottawa Senator, followed closely behind Morenz, in Clancy's estimation of the veterans who rank among the immortals of hockey.

"There is little doubt in my mind that Charlie Conacher stands out as a forward who will rank with Morenz, any member of the famous silver device and any player now on the horizon as a comer," Clancy said.

Ebbie Goodfellow, of Detroit, he thought was one of the greatest all-around players of today and Happy Day, of the Leafs; Eddie Shore, of Boston, and Lionel Conacher, of the Montreal Maroons, he named as the best, in his opinion, of the present day rearguards.

RUTH PARTICULAR ABOUT POSITION HE ACCEPTS
New York, Nov. 25.—Replying to published reports that he has been offered the management of the Albany Senators of the International League, "Babe" Ruth said yesterday that he is not interested "in any minor league managements."

Joe Cambria, manager of the Albany club, announced yesterday that he had offered the management of the Albany Senators of the International League, "Babe" Ruth said yesterday that he is not interested "in any minor league managements."

Al Marnaux, manager of the club during the 1935 season, was released by Cambria shortly after the season ended.

NO PLAYDOWNS FOR CANADIAN RUGBY HONORS

Regina Roughriders, Western Champions, Ready to Stow Away Gridiron Togs Unless Challenge for Exhibition Games with Eastern Teams Is Accepted.

Winnipeg Nov. 25.—With an east-west championship tilt definitely out, football warriors of the west were virtually ready today to call the 1936 season terminated.

Denied use of five ineligible players in an official game for the Canadian championship, the Regina Roughriders, western titlists, delayed final decision on their challenges to Eastern Canadian teams for an exhibition series.

Frank Emma, manager of the Winnipeg, last year's Dominion titlists who met defeat at the hands of Regina in the western playdowns, said the Manitobans would not step in to take the place of their conquerors in a Dominion championship match. Frank Hannibal, president of the club, said the idea was worth considering if Regina asked the Winnipeg club to defend the Grey Cup.

N. J. "Piffles" Taylor, president of the Regina club and also president of the Western Canada Rugby Football Union, said he did not think the Roughriders would object to the Winnipeg replacing the western titlists in an east-west duel, but he doubted if the Canadian Rugby Union would recognize such a match.

Taylor said the Toronto Argonauts were the only team to reply so far to challenges for exhibition games with the Roughriders. The Argos had said they could not take any definite action until after the eastern play-offs. Taylor added that if word was not received from other eastern teams by tonight then the whole matter would be dropped and the Roughriders would call it quits for the season.

But if proposals for a "Rose Bowl" game on January 7 at Pasadena, Calif., between two Canadian teams developed, the Roughriders would be interested, Taylor said. Tommy Allison, president of the Toronto Argonauts, said he was endeavoring to arrange a "Rose Bowl" game between two Canadian teams the day after the United States classic.

Regina's Roughriders were pushed out of the official east-west championship match by a four to two vote of the C.R.U. executive which refused suspension of the residence rule qualification clause and thus prevented five Regina players from taking part. The five are Coach Dean Griffing, Fred Ray, Fritz Langren, Louis Chumich and Jim Lander, former United States players.

Until the Regina Roughriders announce definite decision on the eastern exhibition tour or ask the Winnipeg club to carry on in the Canadian final, no action is expected to be taken here by the Winnipeg club. In any event, it was considered unlikely the 1936 champions would step in to the breach although a final decision would have to be made at a club meeting.

"LIGHORSE" HARRY COOPER PACING PRO GOLFER
Augusta, Ga., Nov. 25.—"Light-horse" Harry Cooper, of Chicago, is the lowest scorer and the largest money winner so far during 1936 among professional golfers of the United States.

Robert E. Harlow, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers' Association, stated today that with only Augusta and the Miami-Biltmore tournaments to go to determine the winner of the Harry E. Radix Cup for low score average, Cooper has an average of 71.7 strokes in seventy-four rounds of competitive golf.

Less than one-tenth of a point behind is Ralph Guldahl with an average of 71.78 for fifty-seven rounds. Cooper also has a narrow margin in the race for the largest money winner with a total of $6,537 since January 1. Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., is second with $6,501.

FOURTEEN MARKS CLAIMED BY CHICAGO SWIMMER
New York Nov. 24.—When the Amateur Athletic Union settles down in its annual job of rewriting the record books early next month, it will have 138 marks in track and field and swimming to pass on.

Fourteen of the marks before the Union are by Adolf Kiefer, Chicago's Olympic and world champion backstroke swimmer. The outstanding feat is the 57.8 seconds for the 100-metres (short course).

CHILEANS GAIN FIRST VICTORY AT ROYAL FAIR

Capt. Eduardo Yanez Rode Toqui to Victory in Military Touch-and-Out Stake Last Night After Chileans Had Made Disappointing Showing in Toronto Show.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—After a series of disappointing performances on previous nights, Chile scored its first victory at the Royal Winter Fair horse show last night when Capt. Eduardo Yanez rode Toqui to victory in the military "touch and out" stake.

Toqui registered the only clean performance of the event. Yanez gave the horse a brilliant ride and drew the most thunderous applause to greet any rider at the show to date. A general favorite because of his dashing style of handling, he has been dogged by ill luck all through the current series of competitions.

The United States gained second and third places with Fralach and Renso, both ridden by Lieut. J. O. Curtis. Blue Steel, ridden by Capt. R. G. Fanshawe, brought Great Britain fourth position and Canada's Lieut. Marshall Cleland was fifth on Roxana. The Irish Free State did not place a horse among the prize winners.

Well down the list of competitors, Toqui fully deserved victory. It cleared each of the single poles with amazing ease, whereas the majority of the other horses lost their chances there by knocking down filllets or crashing the barriers.

Fralach and Renso each cleared six jumps, as did Blue Steel and Roxana. Time was the determining factor in their placing.

The Irish jumpers showing was surprising in that they, with the British, had highlighted the show thus far. Red Hugh and Owen Roe, ridden by Capt. D. J. Corry and Capt. J. J. Lewis, cleared five hurdles apiece to lead the Free State representatives.

Toqui was the only one of the Chilean mounts to show up well, while the United States made the night's best all-around showing.

The international event followed upon one of the outstanding events of the horse show, the international challenge cup competition for hunters. For the third successive year the trophy was won by Cuban, ridden by Miss Margaret Eaton and owned by the Oriole Stables, Toronto. Boofire, entry of Isaac H. Clothier, Jr., Philadelphia, was second.

GREENS CAUSED KAYSER GIRLS' LEAGUE UPSET

Second-Place Blues Lost Three Strings as Greens Moved into Tie for Third Position in Standing—Closest Bowling of Season to Date Witnessed Last Evening.

The Greens stepped in last evening and prevented the Julius Kayser Girls' Bowling League programme from becoming another red, white and blue affair. The Reds and the Whites were victorious, but the Blues succumbed and by so doing suffered a severe setback in their pursuit of the pace-setting Whites.

The closest bowling of the season to date was witnessed last evening. Eleven of the twelve strings were decided by margins of from three to twenty-nine pins and of these five were won and lost by two to five-pin edges.

The encounter from which the leading Whites emerged with a two-string verdict over the Browns provided the keenest rivalry. The Whites captured the first two strings by two and five pins, respectively, while the Browns saved themselves from a whitewash by annexing the final tilt with fourteen pins to spare.

The Greens moved up into a third-place tie with the Browns by blanking the Blues, causing an upset as they routed the runners-up. The tabulations of the first two strings revealed that the Greens had captured both by margins of three pins in each. The last string was not so close, the Greens' pinfall total being seventy-one pins better than the Blues' aggregate.
