ARCTIC REPORT UNDER DISCUSSION

Dr. A. A. Stockton Says Liberal Majority Refused Proper Investigation.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

Mr. Macpherson Defends Report, but Mr. Bergeron Thinks More Could Have Been Shown.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Ottawa, June 28. Immediately after the opening of the House this forenoon Mr. A. K. MacLean, Liberal, of Lunenburg, moved the adoption of the report of the committee that enquired into the fitting out of the steamer Arctic, which went to the Hudson's Bay in 1904 to establish in that region posts of the Mounted Police and assert the sovereignty of Canada over the island and shores of those waters.

Mr. A. A. Stockton, Conservative, St. John, N.B., then took the floor and presented the reasons why the Opposition could not concur in the report of the investigation committee.

The accounts, he said, showed that the supplies put on board the Arctic for the trip cost $18,000. She was fitted out for a three years' trip, but was away only one year. The first question that arose was this: How much of the supplies were brought back, and how much were now on hand? Much of the supplies so returned were stored at Sorel, Que. The Opposition members wanted an expert sent to Sorel to check the goods and ascertain what quantity was there. The Liberal majority of the committee refused to send an expert to obtain exact information respecting the quantity and value of supplies in store. That double prices were paid for some of the supplies was clearly established. For instance pemmican was purchased at an exorbitant price and when the Opposition asked that a manufacturer of that article be called to give testimony as to the price, the Liberal majority refused to call such a witness. He cited another case of overcharge. It was that of tobacco for which twice its market value was paid.

Mr Stockton complained of the refusal of the Liberal majority of the committee to allow material witnesses to be called. Light was shut out and, therefore, he could not concur in the report of the majority of the committee. The investigation degenerated into a process of Government whitewashing.

DEFENDS MAJORITY REPORT.

Mr. MacPherson, Liberal, of Vancouver, followed in defence of the majority report. It had been asked why the Arctic returned after one year to Quebec, when she set out for a three years' voyage. It was because the windlass used in raising the anchor was broken and the same had to be renewed at Quebec. Mr. MacPherson denied that the committee had refused to hear or call material witnesses. The desire was to probe every charge to the bottom.

Mr. MacPherson claimed that the wild charges made by the Op. ition in the House respecting the stories of the Arctic had all fallen to the ground. He defended the carrying of the quantity of wines, liquors and tobacco that the Arctic sailed with, and he appealed to Dr. Sproule as a medical man to dispute the need of those things.

Dr. Sproule — "I will say that the quantity was absurdly large."

The high price for tobacco so much talked about, said Mr. MacPherson, amounted only to about $300. His conclusion was that it was established that the charges were without foundation.

WITNESSES NOT FREE.

Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, Conservative of Beauharnois, followed. He held that the fitting out of the Arctic was done in an illegal manner, because the supplies were purchased without tenders being called. They were bought right and left and the Prime Minister got frightened and investigated somewhat secretly by sending Col. White to Quebec to find out what was going on. The investigation demanded by the Opposition had been narrowed by the motion of the Prime Minister, which his majority carried through the House.

The committee was in the hands of the Liberals and most of the witnesses were employes of the Government or men who expected jobs from the Government and often such witnesses were told not to give the information desired by the Opposition.

Mr. Bergeron continued that the prices for much of the supplies were excessive. When the Conservatives were in power, he said, they granted full investigation into all charges made by their opponents, but in the case of the Arctic the Liberal Government narrowed the enquiry by every means possible. The Liberal Government was not fond of investigation as their whole record showed. What would have been shown if the enquiry had been wider; if they could have enquired into the dance and receptions on board the Arctic and the boarding all winter of 150 Eskimos, what a story would have been revealed? No doubt the Eskimos were sitting on the shores of the Hudson's Bay longing for the return of the Arctic and its liberal crew.

Mr Bergeron had not finished when the House rose at one o'clock.

ENGLISH EXAMPLE IS RECIPROCATED

"If you will leave Canada forever and go back to your home in Wales on the first ship to sail from Montreal I will suspend sentence."

Thus spoke Police Magistrate McMahon in the Westmount Police Court to-day in the case of Mrs. Whisley, who had been convicted of stealing jewelry and trinkets from her mistress, Mrs. Shorey, Grosvenor ave.

The woman, who is prepossessing, left her husband and family in Great Britain three months ago. At the conclusion of the magistrate's remarks she found herself very much embarrassed. After a moment's hesitation she looked around, and before the magistrate had time to say another word a young man in court stepped forward and said the passage would be paid.

It was then agreed that Mrs Whisley would be placed on board a ship to-morrow by a Westmount police officer and she is never to return to this country.

The watch and all the missing articles have been returned to their owners.

NOTED MEDICAL MAN PASSES AWAY

Dr. Robert Craik, Former Dean of the McGill Medical Faculty, Died To-day.

LEADER IN HIS PROFESSION.

Took a Keen Interest in College and Hospital Work—Noble Work in Cholera Epidemic.

Dr. Robert Craik, LL.D., the well-known physician and surgeon, who has been in ill health for a number of weeks, passed to his final rest at 3 a.m. to-day.

The doctor was one of the oldest medical men of the city, and during the course of a long and successful career ranked among the highest of those in his profession. His heart was always in his work, and he took a special interest in the progress of McGill University, before the faculty of which, as far back as 1851, he delivered an inaugural dissertation on "The nature of morbid poisons and the diseases to which they give rise."

The late Robert Craik, M.D., LL.D.

Upon the death of Dr. R. P. Howard, in 1889, Dr. Craik succeeded him as Dean of the Medical Faculty of McGill College, and this position he held during the course of eleven years. He instituted many reforms and improvements; was instrumental in having the medical course lengthened, and many new subjects were introduced. Through his efforts the buildings were enlarged, and commodious laboratories added for state medicine, pathology, histology, physiology and pharmacology.

The opening in the autumn of 1901 of the new buildings given by members of the family of Lord Strathcona was the fitting close of a most successful, progressive and eventful administration. Dr. Craik's last public act as Dean was to read an address at that royal function, giving a short history of the faculty, before His Royal Highness, the Duke of York, now Prince of Wales, declared the new buildings open.

After leaving the faculty the doctor's interest still remained active, and his appointment as one of the Governors of the royal institution, enabled him to influence in no slight degree the conduct of the working of the faculty.

The Doctor had the universal respect of his fellow professors in the college, and of the medical men, not only in Canada, but wherever he was known, and his death is looked upon as a great loss to the profession of which he was such an ornament, and upon which he shed so much lustre.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

In the death of Dr. Craik, former Dean of the Medical Faculty of McGill, the medical profession has lost one of its greatest men, and the city an energetic, good citizen. Dr. Craik was a many sided man, of wonderful tact and devoted to his profession. He took a great pride in the success of the graduates of McGill, and was ever ready with his advice and encouragement to help a youngster in the profession through serious cases.

He was a native of Montreal, and was born the 22nd of April, 1829. He received his youthful education from the late John Bruce, well known to the older generation as a sound scholar and first-class teacher. Having a great taste for chemistry and medicine, he began a course of studies at McGill and graduated with high honors in 1854, receiving his degree of M.D. and also being appointed house surgeon at the General Hospital. This was a trying and eventful period for the young doctor. The apothecary and himself comprised the whole medical indoor staff at the time, when a cholera epidemic took hold of the city, and was one of the most serious on record. The medical men of the city worked heroically and many fell victims to their zeal. At the hospital most of the sufferers were poor immigrants, who were conveyed from the ship to the hospital door and left there. Dr. Craik and his apothecary had to carry them to their beds. They could get no help, as everyone was afraid of the dread disease.

When the victims died the young surgeon and his apothecary had to remove and coffin them, as the panic had seized orderlies and assistants, and there was no keeping them to work. It was hard, trying work for so young a man, his responsibilities, however, he knew, and he stuck to his post, like the brave physician he was, to the end. As soon as the panic subsided, he set to work and soon reorganized the staff on a better and more enduring basis, which was continued down to this day. Owing to the precautions he took during the epidemic, not a single volunteer helper, who went to his aid contracted the disease.

APPOINTED TO McGILL.

In 1856 he was appointed demonstrator of anatomy to McGill, which office he held to 1861, when he became professor of clinical surgery and devoted himself to private practice, in which he was most successful, building up a large and profitable clientele. In 1867, on the retirement of the late Dr. Sutherland, he was transferred to the chair of chemistry, which he held until 1871, when he retired from further hard

MAYOR EKERS AND LORD'S DAY BILL

His Worship in Full Accord with the Public Meeting of Protest.

WILL SAY SO IN A LETTER.

Cannot Attend Meeting but Expresses His Sympathy with Object—No Tolerance in Bill.

His Worship Mayor Ekers, while in his chambers at the City Hall to-day, came out strongly against the proposed Lord's Day bill.

The matter was brought up by the Mayor receiving a letter from the organizers of the demonstration, that is to meet on the Champ de Mars to-morrow night to protest against the passing of the bill.

The Mayor said: "I shall not be able to attend the demonstration, but I shall send a letter to the meeting stating that I am in full accord with the sentiment of those who have called the meeting. After considering the bill I feel convinced that it is not one that is suitable to the people of this province. It would be a constant source of discord and irritation. It would be one of the most difficult measures in the world to enforce.

"So far as Montreal is concerned it is now a large and important city, and it cannot have Sunday legislation that would be suitable only for a village. I cannot believe that the bill will pass the Legislature. It is so foreign to the wishes of the people of this province that it can never meet with favor. In all such measures as these there ought to be a lot of give and take. There does not need to be much of the "give" in the bill. Tolerance is the only principle that will enable the people of this province to live in harmony. This tolerance is not to be found in the bill in question."

Continuing, His Worship said that he had received a telegram from a leading citizen in Winnipeg asking if the people had another chance to vote on Sunday cars if they would vote in the affirmative. In reply, he dictated the following telegram:

"Sunday street cars have proven a convenience which our people will never be without.

"(Signed) EKERS."

OPENS THE EYES OF THE CZAR

Mutiny of Famous Regiment of Guards Excites the Autocrat's Fears.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—The campaign which the oppositional elements in parliament, are waging to compel Emperor Nicholas to dismiss the Goremykin cabinet and accept principle of responsible ministry promises soon to be crowned with success. But the Emperor and the court are being frightened into surrender less by the violent attacks made on the government in the lower House, than the alarming spread of revolutionary disaffection among the troops. When the Probrejensky regiment, "His Majesty's Own" pronounced its solidarity with parliament and its agrarian programme in the big camp of the guard regiments at Krasnoe-Selo, less than a dozen miles from Peterhof, the Emperor's eyes opened and the court began realizing that there was only a step from that to declaring allegiance to parliament as against the government.

It transpired to-day that all three battalions of the Probrejensky regimen joined in the resolutions, but when they were surrounded by grenadiers, lancers, sharpshooters and a brigade of artillery, two of the battalions weakened. The other, however, faced the music, was disarmed and last night, with six officers, was set under escort to Medvid, province of Novgorod, where the Japanese prisoners were confined, to undergo trial by court martial.

Explosion Near Amherstburg.

Amherstburg, Ont., June 28.—Twenty tons of dynamite exploded on Dynamite Island, where the American Government is doing some work on the Detroit River. Many plate glass windows in stores and residences were shattered. A rowboat in the stream was blown to pieces and the occupants Harry Rogers and Theodore Perry, of Detroit, were picked up from some wreckage almost exhausted and the physicians fear they will collapse entirely.

Compete with Auctioneers.

Ottawa, June 28.—City auctioneers are protesting against bailiffs being allowed to make sale of goods at auction on seizures under distress, without paying an auctioneer's license.

Assembly at Chateauqua.

Chataugua, N. Y., June 28.—The 33rd annual Chataugua Assembly opened to-day with an attendance larger than usual.

WIFE OF ASSASSIN WILL NOT TESTIFY

District Attorneys Will Endeavor to Force Her to Give Evidence.

THAW DECLARED TO BE SANE.

Mrs. Thaw Visited Her Husband in the Tombs—He Left Her Last April.

New York, June 28.—The coroner's inquest and the meeting of the grand jury to-day, both formally to name the murderer of Stanford White, divided public interest with the developments of yesterday, when an insanity commission declared Harry K. Thaw sane, and Mrs. Thaw visited her husband in his cell in the Tombs prison.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of the assassin, White's attentions to whom caused his death.

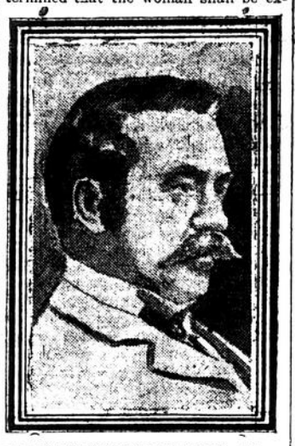
The decision was reached that Mrs. Harry K. Thaw will refuse to testify before the grand jury and that she will plead that she should not be made to give any evidence that might be damaging to her husband. Mrs. Thaw asked permission of her husband's counsel to attend the coroner's inquest to-day and sit by her husband's side, but her request was denied by the attorney.

Assistant District Attorneys Nott and Garvan, it was said to-day, are determined that the woman shall be examined before the grand jury, where she can be put under oath and where it is expected to learn from her enough to establish the motive which actuated Thaw in killing Stanford White. Mr. Nott says that Mrs. Thaw cannot claim the privilege of refusing to answer questions just because she is the wife of a man accused of crime and that this privilege is extended only to what are known as confidential communications between husband and wife. If she refuses to answer other questions she can be committed for contempt of court.

As the proceedings in the grand jury room are secret no announcement of the testimony in to-day's examination is expected. Only witnesses sufficient to establish the fact of a crime, and who committed it, will be called, the district attorney's office not wishing to disclose its whole hand either at the inquest or grand jury inquiry.

Thaw refused to answer all questions put to him by the insanity commission yesterday. Mrs. Thaw visited her husband in the Tombs and he received her affectionately.

It was learned to-day that Thaw left his wife in April last and sailed to Europe. His sister, the Countess of Yarmouth, prevailed on him to return to his wife.



THE NEW YORK TRAGEDY.—Stanford White, who was murdered by Harry K. Thaw.

INFANT DEATH RATE NOT SURPRISING

Judge Sicotte Comments on Milk Supply in Imposing Sentence on Two Milkmen.

Two milkmen of the city were fined in the Recorder's Court to-day for not having their milk up to the standard.

Henry Hein, 3035 St. Hubert street, will have to pay $25 or go to gaol for two months, and James Hogan, 475 Gaspe street, will have to pay $40 or go to gaol for two months. This is not Hogan's first offence and he received the maximum penalty.

In giving judgment, Judge Sicotte said that, considering the quality of milk which was being distributed in some portions of the city, he was not surprised that the death rate among children was so large.

The chief officials in the Recorder's office commented favorably to a Star representative on the heaviness of the fine imposed on John Hogan. They added that at this time of year when cream is so much in demand on account of the heat, there are many unscrupulous milkmen who skim the milk which they sell as the pure article. They stated that in order to put a stop to such practices people should complain to the authorities whenever they notice that the milk which they receive daily is not of a good quality.

WOULD PROHIBIT CARRYING KNIVES

Judge Choquet Urges Amendment to Law when Sentencing Italian for Stabbing.

Michelo Ciricello was sentenced by Judge Choquet at this morning's session of the Police Court to one year hard labor for aggravated assault. He was arrested on June 8th for having assaulted Mr. Joseph Giguere with a knife, whom he inflicted a serious wound in the head. Another gentleman who went to the assistance of Mr. Giguere received a cut on the hand.

In rendering his judgment, Judge Choquet said that the Italians were too fond of using their knives and that any who came before him on this charge would receive a stiff sentence. He also stated that it would be a good thing if the city forbade these men carrying knives as the law now forbids the carrying of revolvers without a permit.

GOLFERS ON SCENE OF CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Entry List For the Ottawa Contest is Expected to be the Largest Ever Registered for a Canadian Championship Tournament.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—Secretary J. A. Jackson, of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, announces that the Amateur Championship, which opens here next week, will have the largest entry list in the history of the event. Prospective competitors are fast sending in their entries and from what can be ascertained from club secretaries, eighty will start out in the qualifying round.

Tuesday morning Mr. Jackson approximated the list as follows:

Ottawa G. C., 15; Royal Montreal, 12; Lambton G. C., 12; Toronto G. C., 10; Victoria G. C., Montreal, 11; Hamilton G. C., 6; Rosedale G. C., Toronto, 2; London G. C., 3; Westmount G. C., 2; Beaconsfield G. C., Montreal, 1; Outremont G. C., 4; Quebec G. C., 6.

The qualifying round will be eighteen holes under medal play, the best sixteen returns to be drawn for match play in the first round of the championship. The first round will be played Tuesday afternoon, the second Wednesday morning; semi-finals, Wednesday afternoon, and the finals, which will be thirty-six holes, on Thursday.

The meeting opens on Saturday with the inter-Provincial match for the association cup. This trophy has not been at stake since 1903, when it was played for at Toronto and won by Ontario. Ten men a side will be chosen and the match decided on the point system, one for the first nine holes, one for the second and two for the match. The annual handicap, 36 holes, under medal play takes place on Monday. In connection with the handicap, the team match will take place. Any team can be represented by four players, the lowest aggregate scratch score securing the prize.

Five clubs have entered teams, as follows:

Toronto University—A. E. Austin, D. C. Dick, G. Southam, Douglas Stewart.

Lambton Golf Club—George S. Lyon, F. R. Martin, H. J. Martin, R. S. Strath.

Royal Montreal—J. Percy Taylor, R. McDougall, G. McDougall, T. Hutchison.

Toronto—S. T. Blackwood, D. Laird, R. C. H. Cassels, M. C. Cameron.

Ottawa Golf Club—H. H. Hansard, A. Levison Gower, A. Z. Palmer, R. Gormley.

Players are already arriving on the scene of action. Reith, the crack Beaconsfield player, who held the championship of Western Scotland for two years, has been going over the course in low figures and is considered by golfers here to be superior to Champion George Lyon. Other players from afar who are taking advantage of an early acquaintance of the green are:—A. Wilson, jr., Royal Montreal; Walker, Westmount; Gordon Southam, Hamilton; Dick, Lambton; A. Austin, jr., Lambton; Garneau, Quebec. George Lyon will arrive to-morrow morning and commence practice immediately.

The course is in grand shape, with the exception of the greens. Every effort has been made to overcome the ravages of a sultry summer and unpropitious conditions for grass growing. Visiting players who have been accustomed to large fast greens will find the improved tiny greens now in evidence very disconcerting. It is probably the man who puts firmly and can play his short iron shots well will win more matches than the player who counts entirely on his driving and putting. The course through the green is excellent, and good lies can always be obtained if one keeps on the line.

Slight alterations have been made in the length of some of the holes for the championship and additional pot bunkers have been erected about the greens of the second and third holes, and one or two of the unguarded greens coming home. The latest measurements follow: 1st, St. Andrews, 480 yards; 2nd, Tall Timbers, 175 yards; 3rd, Woodside, 375 yards; 4th, Laurentian, 420 yards; 5th, Out of Sight, 350 yards; 6th, Sandy, 170 yards; 7th, Peninsula, 330 yards; 8th, Plateau, 290 yards; 9th, Halfway, 410 yards; 10th, Spring, 320 yards; 11th, Witch, 165 yards; 12th, Bide-a-Wee, 150 yards; 13th, Thirteenth, 395 yards; 14th, Orchard, 460 yards; 15th, Westward Ho, 510 yards; 16th, Mound, 480 yards; 17th, Hill Drive, 350 yards; 18th, Home, 540 yards. The total length being 6310 yards, the longest course in Canada. Bogey allows 40 out and 42 home.

It is expected there will be a large entry for the open championships, which commences Friday morning. This event will be thirty-six holes under medal play, open to amateurs and professionals. The following will be on hand to compete:

Barret, Lambton; Cummings, Toronto; Black, Outremont; Robertson, Victoria; Hendrie, Westmount; Murray, Royal Montreal; Sargent and McWatt, Ottawa.

In point of class Ottawa can hardly boast of such men as Lyon, Taylor or FritzMartin. Still in Messrs. Levison-Gower, Hansard and Palmer local followers of the game hope to pick a champion. All are good consistent players, Mr. Levison-Gower being particularly strong in all departments of the game. Knowledge of the local course might also prove of advantage to our players. Besides the above mentioned there are the following, who carry very low handicaps in the club: Messrs. Allen, Ross, Mackarell, Holbrook, S. MacDougall, Jackson, Broderick, Perley, W. Southam, H. Southam, Grant, Simpson, Swarbreck and Gormley.

A corps of workmen are now putting the finishing touches on the course for the opening day.

SPORTS OF VARIOUS TRADES.

OFFICIALS SELECTED CANNOT ACT NOW

Mr. William Bramley Out of Town—Blanchard, Bob Taylor and Clarrie McKerrow Suggested.

No officials have yet been agreed upon for Saturday's game at the Shamrock grounds between the champions and Capitals. Mr. William Bramley, of the Montreal club, will be absent from town at the week-end, and therefore cannot act. He had been agreed upon by both clubs, but owing to this unforeseen circumstance will not handle the game. Shamrocks last night sent the following names to the Capital club as their selection, from which to choose a referee for the game: E. Blanchard, Nationals; Bob Taylor and Clarrie Mackerrow, Montreal. It is probable that one of these names will be agreed to by the Ottawa club. Any one of them is quite competent to handle a match, and the selection of any one of this trio would ensure a clean game, which is most desirable at all times.

No selection of players has yet been made for the Shamrock team. There is a likelihood that the same twelve men who last Saturday defeated Nationals will form the Shamrock line-up against Capitals, but no definite choice will be made until immediately previous to the game. Hoobin has been at work and shows renewed strength, and practically no trace remains of his mishap, but it may be decided to save him the hard work of the Capital game and keep him in reserve until Monday, Dominion Day, when Shamrocks will meet Souris in the first contest of the series for the Minto Cup.

CLARKSON IS NEW PITCHER THE ROYALS HAVE IN VIEW

Mr. McCafferty, the business manager of the Montreal Baseball Club, has officially announced that he expected a new pitcher. When asked for details, the direct representative of Mr. Farrell shuts up like a clam, however, looks mysterious and smiles.

He has admitted, however, that the man he has in mind is a crackerjack.

From the whispers, snared here and there, around baseball headquarters, it seems pretty certain that the man in view is Clarkson.

Walter Clarkson, the baseball pitcher, comes from the famous family of Clarksons, John Clarkson and Arthur Clarkson having been his older brothers and his predecessors on the diamond. With such illustrious examples, with special and personal training of mighty baseball men like John Clarkson, who was very proud of his younger brother, to urge him on, it was little wonder that he excelled as a pitcher. While still a youngster, and with his brother at Boston, he was looked upon as a "prodigy." When he entered Harvard University he made most phenominal college records ever known. To this day he holds the palm as "greatest college pitcher on record." He came to New York direct from Harvard, and joined the American League team here in this city just two years ago. Since he remained at Harvard long enough to complete his course at the university. Great things were expected of him during the remainder of the season of 1904, but he really lacked experience as a professional, and while he did not fail, on the other hand he did not come up to the extravagant expectations and predictions made of him by friends of a wonderful baseball future from the very start. He started in again with the New York Americans in the spring of 1905, but he did not do much better, and the management finally decided to "farm" him out to the Jersey City team of the Eastern League. He instantly came to the front and became the wonder of Eastern League. His record was so remarkable as a pitcher that perhaps for the time he was with the Eastern League so unprecedented, that the management of the New York Americans concluded that it would never do to allow him to hide his talents with the minor Eastern League. Consequently they brought him back to the American League and when the New York Americans started south, they took young Clarkson with them. In the south and after the return of the New York Americans north, and the opening of the regular baseball season, he pitched a number of phenominal games, but either because of his lack of seasoning as a professional, or because of his slight build as an athlete, only weighing about 150 or 160, he could hardly be depended upon at all times. Nevertheless, he is continually pitching crackerjack games, even when pitted against the best of the best. It is hard to classify his standing as a pitcher in the American League itself, since his lack of experience, his lack of weight, and possibly run of hard luck, has counted against him at times when matched against "big fellows," but it is probable that, take him all in all, his equal has never been seen for work among the minor leagues, and inasmuch as he is young yet, he says there are plenty of opportunities to take on weight, and may yet distance his world-famous brothers. At any rate he is not only good, though at times an erratic pitcher, but he is a good batter and a clever fielder and he ought to be worth his weight in gold even at the present time for any of the minor clubs.

PERCY BARRETT HAS GOOD CHANCE

Open U.S. Golf Championship at Chicago on Thursday and Friday.

Chicago, June 28.—The twelfth annual open championship of the United States Golf Association will be held to-day and Friday at the Onwentsia links. All or nearly all the men who played in the Western championship at Homewood and others from Eastern and Western clubs will contest. The only Canadian entry is Percy F. Barrett of the Lambton Golf and Country Club, Toronto.

Willie Anderson, the only man who has won the title more than once—and he has won it four times—is a favorite for the event, as Onwentsia is now his home links, and he has been afforded abundant opportunities for practice all spring. He has made a 70 on the course, besides numerous scores between that and 75.

Barrett is conceded to have a good chance on the golf he displayed last year and the year before in the open and his form in the winter tour with the English professionals. Barrett has been well up in both competitions in which he has competed. The championship record for the past two years:

Preparatory to the opening of the championships at Lake Forest, many of the entries practiced. Percy Barrett, of Toronto, negotiated the 18 holes in 73, and George Cummings, of the same city, in 79.

ROCHESTER WON THIS GAME BY FOUR TO ONE

Some Changes Made in the Royal Team Yesterday, and They Did Not Improve the Work Done by the Players Who Made Many Errors.

Failure to locate Case's benders at the right moment kept Bannon's men from scoring more than one tally in yesterday's game. As it was, that one tally was due to Clancy's error in failing to hold Moran's throw of Hartman's single.

With two out in the first, Burril landed on one of Pappalau's offerings for two bags, and reached home on Clancy's single. In the second Carisch's single with a steal and an error by George Bannon contributed another score to the enemy.

In the third, Burril cracked out another two bagger and got to third on Wallace's out. When he was chased back to third by Dillon, he twisted his ankle so badly that he had to be replaced by Walters who brought in a tally. In the fifth, a single by O'Brien, who replaced Burril at third, a wide throw to second by Dillon, and Jimmie Banno's heave ten feet over Hartman's head ended the scoring for the game.

MONTREAL CANOE MEN GOING WEST

Grand Trunk War Canoe and Paddlers in Dominion Day Regatta.

Toronto, June 28.—The Grand Trunk Boat Club, of Montreal, will send their war canoe and several paddlers up to the Dominion Day regatta. There will be twenty-five, all told, in the party. They will arrive here next Saturday from Montreal. The Grand Trunks are Canada's greatest paddlers—that is the eastern opinion and expect to show the people up here a thing or two.

The Z.A.A.A. second team will play any baseball team, ages ranging from 16 to 18 years; challenges to be sent to I. Mitnick, captain of Z.A.A.A. second team, 194 St. Charles Borromee street.

C.P.R. WON YESTERDAY.

The C.P.R. Scored Four Goals Against Y.M.C.A. in Intermediate Match.

The C.P.R. Intermediates only managed to score four goals against the Y.M.C.A. yesterday at Mascotte Park, although they had the best of the game throughout. Their centre forward, McKendrick, played a splendid game, but the visitors' goalkeeper was ready for his shots, and saved in grand style. Only one goal was scored in the first half, the other three being put through, as darkness was approaching.

British Tennis Games.

Wimbledon, Eng., June 28.—In the fourth round of the singles in the lawn tennis championship games here, Raymond D. Little (American), beat T. D. Steward in three straight sets. He took the first set easily, but the second was a close tussle. The scores were 6—0, 8—6, 6—4.

In the doubles championship, second round, Collins and Little (Americans), beat Simond and Taylor 6—2, 7—5, 6—2.

ASTHMA

We Prove our Faith in Clarke's Kola Compound by Sending Sample Treatment Free.

We have unshaken confidence in Clarke's Kola Compound. We know of the apparently hopeless cases it has cured. We see thousands of bright, happy, robust people, who owe their release from suffering, to Clarke's Kola Compound. We have seen Clarke's Kola Compound overcome the prejudices of the medical profession. It is now used in the leading hospitals and sanitoriums. Won't you let us send you a free sample bottle?

"For ten years, my wife suffered with Asthma. For months, she could sleep only sitting up in a chair, and physicians constantly attended her, but she became no better. Four bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound have completely cured her, and for more than a year she has been entirely free of sickness."

CAPITALS EXPECT VICTORY.

Several Changes Have Been Made, but They are Confident.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—There is a quiet confidence in the Capital camp that Shamrocks will suffer defeat when the two teams collide in Montreal next Saturday. The fine showing the Senators made against Tecumsehs when the team was not at full strength, makes the belief firm here that Caps can turn the trick on the redoubtable Irishmen. Gaul will fill his regular position on the home. He has been out of the game for a couple of weeks with a split finger received in practice from a blow accidentally delivered by Ralph. Last night Gaul practiced, having the injured finger incased in a silver stall. He will replace Hogan on the home. In all likelihood Butterworth will be dropped and Brennan sent out to second defence. Butterworth is a fine fielder, and distinguished himself in the Tecumseh game; but it is feared his light weight will not prove as effective against Shamrock's heavy home as Brennan's powerful frame and aggressive play. With Gaul and Brennan in line, Capitals are unquestionably as strong as any team in the N. L. U. While both players and executive anticipate a hard game, both are very sanguine over Capitals' chances. It is a very important game for both teams, one on which might hinge the fate of the Minto Cup.

A large delegation will accompany the team to Montreal Saturday morning.

PERCY QUINN SUGGESTED.

Nationals Will Take Him as Referee in Toronto.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 28.—The Nationals have notified the Tecumseh management that they will accept Percy Quinn as referee for Saturday's match at the Island. Mr. Quinn has not yet decided whether or not, but the chances are he will act. The Indians had another good work-out yesterday afternoon and are in the best of shape for a hard game. The team will be strengthened by Stewart on Saturday.

SHAKE UP IN TORONTOS.

It is Said that this May be the Case in Monday's Match.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 28—There is some talk of a shake up in the Torontos for their big match on Dominion day against the Montrealers. Neither Lowe nor Swain appeared in the last match against the Nationals, and the problem that presents itself is how best to work these men to advantage. Lowe without doubt will figure in the home division. Swain is not so easily placed. He has been going very fast all week, rounding into something like his old time form, and rumor has it that he may be played at centre. MacKenzie would then take his former position on the defence, where he is likely to do better work than farther afield.

TECUMSEH'S BUSY SEASON.

[illegible] The Montreal Star.

[illegible] Ont., June 28.—This is the [illegible] for the Tecumseh Lacrosse [illegible] Indians play Nationals at [illegible] on Saturday, Cornwall at [illegible] on July 2, Torontos on July 7, [illegible] the Independent St. Catharines on July 14. They will also play the Capitals on July 12, that is unless the N. L. U. decides otherwise. Five games in fourteen days is rather a big undertaking, but Manager Querrie is confident the strain will not injure his men.

PRESIDENT FORAN WILL CHECK FOULS

He May Call Union Meeting in Order that Rough Play May be Stopped.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—"Something must be done to check rough play in the N. L. U.," said President Wm. Foran. "It is terrible the way those young men go into a game and batter one another. I had thought when I addressed the club managements early in the season regarding the heavy penalties meted out in the National-Cornwall game, some steps would have been taken to eradicate deliberate fouls and unnecessary roughness, but it appears my instructions were not heeded. I am seriously thinking of calling a meeting of the union to take decisive action in the matter."

"What steps would you take in the way of punishing a player for foul tactics?"

"There is but one method, that being to make an example of the players who is prone to commit fouls. I will say in defence of lacrosse that the worst damage is not inflicted from a deliberate foul on the field. Most players who have been seriously injured came about it through pure accident. But still the dirty tactics are still there and they must be rubbed out."

When questioned about taking any action regarding the non-continuance of the Capital-Tecumseh game last Saturday, Mr. Foran said he could not do anything on hearsay and newspaper report. He said undoubtedly there was a breach of the rules in not continuing the game till one or the other side dropped in the deciding goal, but he was powerless to take any action till he received Referee Desse Brown's report on the game. This report has not yet come to hand.

WHAT ARGOS ARE DOING.

They Developed Pace Yesterday, and Observers Think Cup Leaves.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Henley, Eng., June 28.—Despite adverse winds the crew of the Argonaut Boat Club of Toronto developed pace yesterday, rowing several spurts with 38 strokes to the minute. It is the growing opinion of expert observers that at last the grand Challenge cup is likely to leave England. The Canadians continue to make a splendid impression. At the evening practice there was much less wind than in the morning. The Argonauts cleared the island in 49 seconds and did the full course in 7.28. Third Trinity cleared the island in 51 seconds and did the full course in 7.36.

ARGOS OUT AGAIN TO-DAY.

Had a Practice This Morning and Showed Speed.

The Argonauts had several sprints this morning and in a go with the leather, the four showed themselves very speedy. All the other eights were out but nothing was attempted, owing to a very strong wind.

JACK O'BRIEN BUSY.

Expects to Meet and Beat Two Big Men in July.

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, N.Y., June 28.—Phila. Jack O'Brien, who claims the heavyweight championship, has just completed arrangements to engage in two six-round battles next month, which, he believes, will increase his bank account several hundred dollars. His first encounter will be with big Sam Berger, California's heavyweight, whom he will meet before the National A. C. July 16. Two weeks later O'Brien will take on Al. Kaufmann, another big fighter from the coast, the contest to be brought off in open air at one of the baseball parks in Philadelphia. After these battles O'Brien will take a rest until September, when he expects to start for Australia.

Y.M.C.A. AT VALLEYFIELD.

Y.M.C.A. Has Picked Players for Saturday's Match.

The following will represent the club at Valleyfield on Saturday. The train leaves Windsor station at 2 p.m.:—Freeman, Sykes, Hardeman, Robinson, McGannett, Kinloch (captain), Hunter, Jamieson, Pratley, W. Steedman, R. Steedman, Harrison.

All members should attend the practice this evening.

There are Thousands of Run-down Women.

Are You One of Them?

There are thousands of women here, there and everywhere, who are suffering from a run-down condition.

The tendency is, to let matters go, till serious illness or some chronic female weakness results.

Isn't this a foolish thing to do?

Don't do it. Get well. Be your old self again.

Do you ask, how? Do as Miss Clark and Mrs. Thomas did when they got run-down. They took Health Tablets.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets Make Healthy Women.

I was suffering from a run-down condition. My doctor gave me some brown tablets. I improved so much in two weeks that I congratulated my physician. He then told me I had been taking Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets.—Flora Clark, Island Pond, Vt.

The benefit secured from one box of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets has been so great that I am satisfied one box more will effect what you claim for them, and make me again a healthy woman.—Mrs. Jennie Thomas, Dixville, Que.

Notice, too, that there was no waiting for results. Improvement began at once. And it always does. The 72 tablets in 50c box will start you on the road to health.

YESTERDAY'S HORSE RACES AND RESULTS

Highland Park Starter Had to Decline Appointment to Brighton Beach in Same Capacity.

Windsor Race Track, Ont., June 28.—The tenth day meeting of the Highland Park Club at Windsor was again favored with a fast track and perfect racing weather. The attendance was very large and a programme of six well filled races, with the exception of the third event, which only had four starters, but of the highest class. Richard Dwyer, recently appointed at Brighton Beach as starter for the summer meeting, has declined that much-sought appointment. Mr. Dwyer is under contract with the Highland Park Club. He expected to secure Jake Hotman to fill his position here, the latter, however, has decided to remain at Cincinnati as the Latonia meeting will be extended.

The results:

First race, 7 furlongs—Lutie Luc won, Vestry Man second, Performa third. Time, 1.28 4-5.

Second race, 6 furlongs, selling—Rubaiyat won, Lady Henrietta second, Gov. Orman, third. Time, 1.14 4-5.

Third race, one mile and a sixteenth—Hans Wagner won, Bon Mot second, St. Tammany third. Time, 1.47 3-5.

Fourth race, 5 furlongs, selling—Elksino won, Louisanne second, Miss Martha. Time, 1.02.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs, handicap—Aureceiver won, Shine On second, Petit Duc third. Time 1.13 4-5.

Sixth race, 1 1-4 mile, selling—Lemon Girl won, Scalplock second, Attila third. Time, 2.08 1-5.

AT SHEEPSHEAD.

New York, June 28.—Perverse, at the prohibitive price of 3 to 10, easily won the Mermaid stakes at Sheepshead Bay yesterday. Sahara was the pacemaker for nearly a mile, when the favorite took command and won by two lengths. Sahara was second, 2 1-2 lengths before Lotowanna.

Angler, a 15 to 1 shot, in winning the last race, 1 1-2 miles, equalled the track record of 2.33 2-5. Summary:—

First, selling, 5 1-3 furlongs futurity course.—Monfort, won; Frank Lord, second; Blackmate third. Time, 1.07.

Second, mile.—Glorifier, won; Heaslip, second; Singleshot, third. Time, 1.39 4-5.

Third race, 5 1-2 furlongs, futurity course.—Ethon, won; Misgivings, second; Belcast, third. Time, 1.06 4-5.

Fourth race, the Mermaid stakes, 1 1-2 miles.—Perverse, won; Sahara second; Lotowanna third. Time, 1.54.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs, main course.—Ironsides, won; Ben Ban, second; Confederate, third. Time 1.14.

Sixth race, selling, 1 1-2 miles on turf.—Angler, won; Glen Echo, second; Huntingdon, third. Time 2.33 2-5.

AT KENILWORTH.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 28.—Favorites and long shots divided the card at Kenilworth Park yesterday. Weather clear, track fast. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs.—Hannibel bay, won; Prospero, second; Galilthea, third. Time, 1.13 4-5.

Second race, 5 1-2 furlongs.—Workmaid, won; Town Topics, second; Grace Kimball, third. Time 1.07 4-5.

Third race, 5 1-2 furlongs.—Pythia, won; Money Musk, second; Alenion, third. Time, 1.06 3-5.

Fourth race, 4 1-2 furlongs.—Laura A., won; Deore, second; Temaceo, third. Time, 55 3-5.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs.—Satchel, won; F. E. Shaw, second; Anita Lady, third. Time 2.15 4-5.

Sixth race, 1 mile.—Australina, won; Delmore, second; Nonsense, third. Time 1.41.

ROADS UNSUITED TO HEAVY TRAFFIC

Section Devoted to Wholesale District Needs More Attention.

MANY ARE FULL OF HOLES.

Others are Very Dirty, with Collections of Dust and Dirt—Travellers Get Bad Impression.

An important wholesale section of the city is that bounded by McGill street on the east, Common street on the south, Inspector street on the west, and Notre Dame street on the north. The streets in that section are very extensively used by heavily laden teams and naturally the traffic requirements call for much attention from the Road Department.

From an inspection conducted by representatives of The Star, it is evident, however, that but few of the roadways in that section are given the attention required for the general welfare. The results of the inspections are given herewith.

WELLINGTON STREET.

Wellington street is probably one of the streets which gets the heaviest traffic in Montreal. Steamers come to the canal and unload their merchandise into the heavy drays of the different cartage companies, and in every case the load passes over or along Wellington street. In some places the street is in very bad shape. Electric cars run along this thoroughfare by a single track with an occasional switch by which another car can pass. Between the car tracks the holes are very numerous and in some places are nearly four inches below the top of the car tracks.

Taking on each side of the car track where the vehicles pass, the road is full of holes, and water remains in them nearly all the time. The crossings are broken and in many places where the other streets cross Wellington, the stones are twisted and knocked all out of place. It was noticed yesterday that new car rails have been put along the side of the road. Probably when these rails are being put down the road will be improved.

WILLIAM STREET.

Taking into consideration the heavy traffic which passes along William street in one day, the street is in a very good condition. Starting from McGill street to Nazareth the road is made of granite blocks. In some places these stones have sunk a little lower than the others and water remains in these holes, having no way to drain off. The street is kept fairly clean and is swept occasionally during the day with a street sweeping machine. From Nazareth to Inspector street the road is made of cedar blocks. These have given good service by their appearance, and should be torn up and replaced by the granite blocks. There are holes galore in this section, for a whole block.

A few repairs to crossings would make a great improvement, as some of them have been broken under the weight of heavy loads.

ST. MAURICE STREET.

Montreal certainly has dirty streets and St. Maurice street is one of them, in fact, one of the worst. The street is nothing but a mass of holes and the only place where it is in a fair condition is at the corner of St. Henry, where there is about twenty-five feet of good road. On each side of the street near the sidewalk nothing else than holes are seen. These are filled with water when it rains and with dust and sand in dry weather. Some of the holes measure about four feet long by three feet wide. But the worst place is certainly at the corner of Inspector, where it meets Notre Dame. The pavement of Notre Dame is at least six inches below the level of St. Maurice street.

COMMON STREET.

Common street, which runs from Place Royal to Colborne street, from which place the R. & O. steamers arrive and depart, is in a frightful state. At one time the street from the Custom House to the James Williamson Warehousing establishment, was formed of macadam, but now it is full of mud and freight cars. Buildings are being demolished to make room for more tracks, and pedestrians have a busy time dodging filth and dust. From Black's Bridge to Colborne street there is a good stone pavement, but it is simply reeking in filth, and is bound to give visitors coming to the city by boat anything but a favorable impression of Montreal.

WILLIAM STREET.

William street, which is in the very heart of the butter and cheese district, is dirty. From Dalhousie to Nazareth street the old wooden block pavement looks like the rocky road to Dublin. It is one mass of holes. From Nazareth to McGill street the stone block pavement is in good condition, but full of filth. It is a busy thoroughfare, however, and would require much attention to keep it free from a certain amount of dirt.

ST. PAUL STREET.

St. Paul street is in a fair condition except near the hay market, where it is covered with bits of hay and straw and also with manure. The rest of the street is fairly clean and in good order.

NOTRE DAME STREET.

Notre Dame street, from McGill west is badly in need of repairs. If immediate attention was given to patching the numerous holes in the asphalt on this thoroughfare there can be no question but that the city would be saved a large bill of expense which later on will have to be faced. The roadway as a whole is not bad, but here and there are deep indentations which from day to day are growing worse, and which in the course of time will make it necessary to renew the entire street.

Instant repairs on Notre Dame street would mean the saving of thousands of dollars. At the present time the Montreal Street Railway has a gang of men on the street repairing the pavement between and upon both sides of their tracks, and the city could not do better than supplement these w... n with a gang of their own.

As a whole this thoroughfare is cleanly, having received a due amount of attention from the street cleaning department.

EAST ST. CATHERINE AND DORCHESTER.

East St. Catherine street, from St. Lawrence to St. Denis street, with the exception of a few ugly looking holes in the pavement, is in a passable condition. It is not, however, always kept as clean as it might be.

Dorchester street, from St. Lawrence to St. Denis street, without exaggeration, has few equals in any other city on this continent. The old block pavement in front of the Montreal General Hospital, especially opposite the chapel, is one mass of ridges and holes, and must be very annoying and painful to the patients who are being conveyed to the public institution. It has been nick-named "the Cradle of Death" by citizens, who formerly resided in the vicinity and were eye-witnesses to the numerous accidents in this part of the street. From Cadieux to St. Denis street there is no permanent pavement of any kind, and the thoroughfare resembles a country road, with the exception, of course, that it is not nearly as well kept and is in a filthy condition. It is also full of bumps and gullies. All the cross streets in this neighborhood are in a more or less careless looking condition.

ST. DOMINIQUE STREET.

An inspection of St. Dominique street shows one thing conspicuous, and that is holes. From St. Catherine street to Craig these can be noticed in a great quantity. The street must have been a good while without being cleaned, as it is covered with rubbish of all kinds. The crossings are far from improving the appearance of the street. Some of them have stones missing, while the holes are filled up with earth; others are in chaos, as there is no level.

CADIEUX STREET.

Cadieux street is certainly one of the many streets where cleanliness is not the special feature. All along the street from St. Catherine to Vitre street it is covered with all kinds of rubbish, such as rotten oranges, cucumbers and other vegetables. Holes are in a great abundance, and it is a wonder that there are not more accidents as some of the holes are deep.

Dear Doctor—
I owe you so much.—
for you saved my Mama's life.
She was awful sick—the Doctor came and Papa cried—so did I.—
The Doctor could not help her—
but Aunt Emma—She told
Mama to take Dr. Pierce's Favorate
Prescription—and so she got well in nough time.
I thank you very much

To Dr. R. V. Pierce. Enid Decker.

Many mothers of families in the United States have reason to be grateful to the person who recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a medicine specially prescribed for diseases of womankind. It does not cure eczema, catarrh in all its forms, nor heart disease, for it is put up for the single purpose of curing diseases peculiar to women. It has a reputation of over a third of a century of cures, and has sold more largely on this continent than any other medicine for women. Another point in its favor—it does not contain a single drop of alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. An alcoholic compound for women is something no woman should take and yet "Favorite Prescription" is the only tonic and nervine put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's weaknesses, that does not contain alcohol and that too in large quantities. Womanly weakness will always bring nervous irritability and a nervous condition, for which alcohol is the worst thing in the world. What a woman thus afflicted needs is a vegetable tonic and invigorating nervine like Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which will build up her delicate system and bring about a healthy tone. It cures the drains and weaknesses of women, also displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion, retroversion, irregular and painful periods and kindred ailments.

If you want to know what ails you the United States mail will bring you the best medical advice for only the cost of writing materials and stamps.

Many women owe their present good health to the fact that they consulted Dr. Pierce by letter, giving him all possible information about their condition, symptoms, etc., and received in return good medical advice which cost them nothing. This is why we advise you to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce by no means confines himself to prescribing his well-known proprietary medicines. He tells you in the most common-sense way what ails you, what you ought to do, what line of treatment should be followed out in your particular case, and if your case does not indicate the need of his proprietary medicine, he tells you plainly and frankly what you do need, and the best possible method of improving your health. If you are a young woman just entering upon the duties of life, you should have good medical advice of a confidential nature. If you're the mother of children, you may want advice about yourself and how best to put your system in order that your children may be healthy. To sufferers from chronic diseases which do not readily yield to treatment, or to people who are past the youthful stage of life and want confidential advice about their ailments or their physical condition, Dr. Pierce offers careful consideration and the best medical advice within his power, free of cost.

"'Favorite Prescription' is indeed an ideal medicine for women, and by far the best I have known to restore lost health and strength," writes Mrs. R. C. Roelker, 24 Ingram Street, Henderson, Ky. "I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with flooding. My back ached and I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. Would often awake from sleep in such pain and suffering it would be hours before I could close my weary eyes again. I dreaded the long nights as well as the weary days. Consulted two different physicians hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me I tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as a friend had recommended it so strongly. Am glad that I followed her advice for it was the only medicine for me. Every ache and pain has gone, and not only this, my general health has improved. I feel well and strong, have a fine appetite, have gained flesh and never looked better. My advice to suffering women is to take the 'Favorite Prescription' and they will never be disappointed with the results." Formula printed on wrapper.

You should read The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps, for this 1008 page book in paper covers, or 50 cents for the cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOTELKEEPERS FINED.

Keeping Gambling Machines and Violation of Liquor Law Offences.

Two hotelkeepers were brought before Judge Choquet at yesterday afternoon's session of the Police Court.

Arthur Bellveau, of Notre Dame de Grace, was fined $30 and costs or three months in gaol for allowing slot machines for gambling to be kept in his hotel.

Rodrigue Lamoureux was condemned to pay a fine of $50 and costs or one month in gaol for having sold liquor without a license in the rooms of the Carillon Athletic Club on St. Catherine street.

Fine 50 Cents, Costs $24.10.

Antonio Catios was condemned yesterday by Judge Sicotte in Recorder's Court to a fine of fifty cents and costs, amounting to $24.10 or one month in gaol for threatening to assault Henry Hanson on Fletcher's Field a couple of weeks ago. It is alleged that Hanson and Catios' son had a quarrel at the drinking fountain, near the incline railway station over young Catios abusing some little boys who were drinking at the fountain. In the mix-up young Catios stabbed Hanson four times with a knife and the father threatened him with a shovel. Young Catios will have his trial in the Police Court for aggravated assault. Both men were arrested by Sergeant Dettmers, of the Mount Royal Park police.

Artillerymen to Visit Vermont.

The Second Regiment Canadian Artillery will spend Saturday afternoon and Sunday in St. Alban's, Vermont.

They will arrive in St. Alban's at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and a parade will then be held through the principal streets. In the evening a band concert will be held in the park, and a dinner will be given by the officers of Company B, 1st Infantry V. N. G., and the former officers of the National Guard, to their visitors.

Sunday morning the regiment will attend divine service, half going to the First Congregational Church and half to St. Luke's Episcopal Church. The regiment will return home on Sunday night.

STREET RAILWAY BY-LAW.

Sub-Committee to Consider Proposed Franchise Extension.

There was a short preliminary meeting at the City Hall yesterday afternoon of the civic committee appointed by Council to consider the draft by-law asking that new arrangements be made with the Montreal Street Railway.

It was decided that the meeting should be held in private. Ald. Carter was elected chairman. After the meeting Ald. Carter said that the committee had decided to appoint a sub-committee, composed of Ald. Payette, Ald. Lariviere, Ald. Clearihue, Ald. Proulx and Ald. White. The business of the sub-committee, Ald. Carter said, would be to study the by-law, as well as offers made by the company to the city for an extension of franchise, and at the same time to confer with the officials of the company.

CUTTING IMMATURE TREES.

Provincial Government to Investigate—Inspector Said to be Named.

The cutting of large numbers of immature trees on timber limits is said to have finally attracted the attention of the Provincial Government, and the cases will be immediately investigated. It is alleged that no less than 80,000 trees of a size forbidden by statute have been cut by one firm on a limit within one hundred miles from Montreal. The legal fine for this offence is $3 a tree, so that the total amount would reach $240,000. Reports of such illegal cutting have become so frequent of late that it is rumored that Mr. Morency, of Sherbrooke, has been appointed to thoroughly investigate the whole matter and that his appointment will very shortly be gazetted. Mr. Morency is an authority on the subject of forestry and the Crown lands of the province, being one of the provincial cullers. The illegal cutting is supposed to have been done prior to the advent of the Gouin administration.

Stowaways Must Go Back Home.

When the steamship Tampican sailed at daybreak to-day she took back to Germany, Vermulus Petrus, Leopold Lamnrich, Chano Debisket and Manthy Guy, four men who were arrested here when the ship arrived in port a few days ago. They had come to Montreal as stowaways and were caught when the cargo was being taken out of the boat. They were put in gaol until last night, when Detective Trudel called and put them back on board the ship, and they will now have to work their way back to Germany.

THE ANTI-USURY BILL.

The committee on Banking and Commerce—when it at last took the Anti-Usury bill from the table—had no patience with objections to so moderate and necessary a measure. The representative of the Toronto money-lenders, who were ill-advised enough to send a spokesman to make a public plea for a continuation of the right to exact usury, found himself beating upon flint. No one seems to have taken his arguments seriously, and his proposals were greeted with laughter and the cry, "What a modest young man!"

This undoubtedly represents the attitude of all disinterested people, who have considered the matter at all, toward the question. With any who take the position that usury, even at the rate of 120 per cent. per annum, is justifiable, few of us have time to dispute. The cruelty, the outrageous vampirism, of such practices are now beyond question. The country is ready for a vote. It knows that it most emphatically desires to make usury a crime and the usurer a criminal, and it looks to Parliament to carry out its mandate in this regard.

It is difficult to believe that the bill can have any more open opposition to encounter. If the Government are genuinely behind it, neither ought it to be in any danger from being carried off into a back-water until the stream of the session has flowed past. In the Senate, it should find an old friend; for the Senate is the pioneer in legislation hostile to usury. Great care must be taken, however, against the insidious amendment inserted at the last hour. It will not do to permit any secret enemy to provide the usual carriage-way for the coach-and-four through this measure in the guise of some innocent provision.

The new clause, added in committee, to the effect that this bill should not apply to loans on which the interest does not exceed fifty cents, has a dangerous appearance. It is introduced for the convenience of the banks which never charge less; but it is by no means certain that the usurers would not be willing to take the trouble to utilize this clause in order to make usurious loans in bundles. We shall see usury coupons issued, all under fifty cents. It would be far better if the banks would hit upon some other method of dealing with their small loans.

THE GOVERNMENT AS A BARGAINER.

The various enquiries at Ottawa this session have established one thing beyond a peradventure; and that is that the Government is a bad buyer. It appears invariably to "get soaked"—to employ the vernacular. Sometimes it seems to go out of its way to get done out of its hard-earned money—the hard-earning being done in this case by some one else. To buy through a middleman is always to invite the levying of, at least, two profits; and the Government departments appear to have hard luck even in the choice of middlemen.

What the Government should get is an expert buyer. It would pay the country to let the departments employ a man and give him a commission on all he saved over and above the prices for which they have habitually to "stand." A good purchaser would save his salary every few weeks, and it ought not to be beyond the power of a Government to employ a man who knows how to buy.

Some day the people will get tired of seeing their money spent in this way. It is not a sight for which they are indebted to any one Government or to either party exclusively. All politicians and all civil servants seem by nature to be reckless spenders—of other people's money. The records of the Public Accounts Committee at Ottawa are full of evidences of this from time so far back that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. Even Senator McMullen cannot remember a day when the men in authority knew how to make a good bargain for the country.

Friends of Government ownership should note that it is such exhibitions as these that make people suspicious of their programme. Friends of the Intercolonial will observe that their road might have a better chance if it were quite free from this commonest sin of all Government departments. What the country loses by this fatal tendency—in addition to the hard cash it drops—would be hard to estimate; and there will come a time when the people who foot the bills will grow tired of the custom of putting all the philanthropists in the buying department.

HOW CONFEDERATION WAS CARRIED.

Mr. John Lewis, of the Toronto Star, in his admirable Life of George Brown, just published, discusses again the old and once explosive question as to whether the end justified the means taken to carry Confederation. He goes so far as to claim that there is much to be said in favor of Alexander Mackenzie's view that Mr. Brown ought to have refused to enter the Confederation Coalition at all, confining himself to a general support of the scheme.

"By this means," says Mr. Lewis, "he would not have been responsible for the methods by which the new constitution was brought into effect, methods that were in many respects repugnant to those essential principles of Liberalism of which Brown had been one of the foremost champions. At almost every stage in the proceedings there was a violation of those rights of self-government which had been so hardly won by Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick."

The story of the making of the Canadian nation is a familiar one, but Mr. Lewis throws into sharp relief those portions of it which wore the appearance of a betrayal or a defiance of public opinion. "There are arguments by which these proceedings may be defended," he continues, "but they are not arguments that lie in the mouth of a Liberal. And it we say that the confederation in spite of these taints in its origin, has worked well and has solved the difficulties of Canada, we use an argument which might justify the forcible annexation of a country by a powerful neighbor."

As long as humanity shall fight its way forward by the rough-and-ready process to put it baldly—of compelling the far-sighted few to drag the dull-visioned many after them, we shall have such ethical problems to deal with as that presented by the methods of the Makers of the Dominion. Mr. Lewis' simile is a capital one. He tells us, with the air of a man who produces a conclusive argument, that this reasoning "might justify the forcible annexation of a country by a powerful neighbor." Quite so. It might, for instance, justify the annexation of India by Britain or of Porto Rico by the United States.

Again and again in the history of the human race communities have made progress apparently against their will. At times, it is a powerful group of leaders who drag them forward, but oftener they are drawn up the arduous slopes of advancement by some outside force. What would Egypt be to-day if Britain had never landed her marines at Alexandria? For answer, consider the condition of the populations which are still under the heel of the Turk.

In truth, is it always accurate to say that these communities do oppose their own progress? Is it not oftener true that certain of their leaders are able to temporarily mislead them? Thus, for example, what did the Egyptian fellaheen know about the comparative advantages of British and Turkish rule? Absolutely nothing. But they were in the hands of native rulers who could plunder them more effectively under the old conditions; and so were manoeuvred into the appearance of opposing the British occupation. If the fellaheen ever get an opportunity to express a free and informed opinion on the subject, it will be because of the liberating effect of this very occupation.

As for Confederation, were not our people again torn between the conflicting advice of two sets of leaders; and has not the seal of wisdom finally been affixed to that of those who counselled the forward step? In the two Canadas there was no great opposition. In New Brunswick, the wiser second thought of the people was favorable. From Nova Scotia to-day we have the very man in the Federal Government who last lifted the flag of separation. The policy of Sir Charles Tupper has been vindicated by the adhesion of his opponents.

The University of Ottawa, in conferring the degree of LL.D. on Mr. John Reade, the veteran leader writer of the Gazette, honored one of the most scholarly journalists the profession in Canada possesses. Mr. Reade has been producing literature, of the unhappily evanescent sort which the conditions of daily journalism compel, for many a year which would have secured him a permanent place on the shelves of the libraries, not only of the country, but of the world, had it been crystalized in book form. As it is, much of his work will live, although the better part of it must live alone in the higher culture and the wider appreciation of the best things in letters to which he has helped his fellow-countrymen.

DISPUTES BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR

Chambre de Commerce Discusses Establishment of Compulsory Arbitration.

LORD'S DAY LEGISLATION.

Committee in Charge of Subject Urged to Hasten Its Action Against Bill.

The settlement of all disputes between labor and capital was a subject of discussion at a meeting of the Council of the Chambre de Commerce yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Isaie Prefontaine, in introducing the subject, advised the compulsory application of the law passed in 1901 for the settlement of labor difficulties by an arbitration commission. Mr. Prefontaine was of the opinion that a compulsory application of the law would be a benefit to both labor and capital as it would tend to a speedy adjustment of difficulties; this being done by a body of men who were fully capable of handling the subject before them.

Mr. Damase Parizeau pointed out that under the present conditions workingmen were not always advised by those who understood their interests, but with the arbitration commission, their delegates chosen from their own people, would no doubt be in a position to give safer and wiser counsel and thereby lead to more satisfactory results. Mr. Parizeau said he knew of instances where prolonged strikes had prevented the heads of families from giving their children the comforts and education which they could have otherwise done.

It was decided to refer the suggestion for further study to the special committee on legislation.

LORD'S DAY ACT.

Mr. A. V. Roy urged that the committee entrusted with the study of the Lord's Day Observance Bill make a report as soon as possible, in view of the attitude that was actually being taken with regard to the legislation at Ottawa. In making the request, Mr. Roy declared that the enactment of such legislation would curtail the liberties of the individual, as no law had done up to the present time. However, he thought that its application would especially affect the working classes, and he urged that something be done to check a piece of legislation that might degenerate into an abuse.

Mr. J. A. Beaudry, acting on behalf of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, sought the support of the Chambre in a measure to amend article 520 of the Criminal Code, so as to compel merchants to sell all labelled goods at the price determined by the manufacturer. Mr. Beaudry, who is also a member of the Chambre de Commerce, claimed that a good deal of dissatisfaction had been caused among customers by merchants advertising these goods at a lower price and then substituting an inferior article. This subject is already in the hands of a special committee.

SENATE REFORM DISCUSSED.

Member Calls Attention of the Chamber to Lord Strathcona's Cables.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—In the Senate on Wednesday Hon. Mr. Ferguson drew attention to the reports of Lord Strathcona's letters of April and May to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in which Lord Strathcona said he had not altogether approved of the North Atlantic Trading Company contract, and the statement that he was conversant with all the negotiations was only true in part. Senator Ferguson wanted to know if the letters were in the possession of the Government on June 15th when he had called attention to a London despatch stating that Lord Strathcona repudiated the responsibility for the contract. Sir Richard Cartwright had then said the correspondent knew nothing of what he was talking about.

Hon. Mr. Scott said the letters were to the Prime Minister. All the matters brought to the attention of the Prime Minister were not brought before Council.

Senator Lougheed asked if Mr. Preston would be dismissed now that Lord Strathcona had contradicted his evidence.

Hon. Mr. Scott said the matter had not been considered.

Hon. Mr. Ellis continued the debate on Senate reform.

Senator Ellis said he could not endorse the proposal to give the minority of the Commons the naming of a certain number of Senators.

This provision for minority representation was unnecessary. A small minority could voice the views of the party.

RECOMMENDS NORWEGIAN SYSTEM.

Senator Ellis did not think the Commons would give up to Senate the right of introducing private bills, as had been proposed.

There seemed to be a general feeling that a change should be made in the constitution of the Senate. He would favor a system along Norwegian lines, if there were to be a change. He would have the term of a Senator the term of three parliaments. He would select as members of the Senate a certain number of the members of the Lower House returned at the general elections. The vacancies created in the Commons by their appointments to the Senate could be filled by supplementary elections. This would not be more disturbing to the Lower House than the elections resulting from contested seats of gentlemen who have succeeded in being returned by the usual means.

Senator Sullivan, who followed, did not think there was much wrong with the Senate. Its trouble was only a little constitutional derangement. It only needed to take a higher view of its destiny, its powers and position.

The following bills were given their third reading: Respecting the Windsor, Essex and Lake Shore Rapids Ry. Co.; to incorporate the Cobalt Railway Company; Montreal, Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal Company; to incorporate the Temegami, Cobalt and Temiskaming Railway Company; to incorporate the Burk's Falls and French River Railway Company; to incorporate the Sterling Life Assurance Company; to incorporate the Anglo-Canadian Insurance Company; respecting the Court of Appeal for Manitoba; respecting Revillan Bros.

Empress of Ireland.

The Empress of Ireland will, it is expected, carry the mails from Moville on her maiden trip to Quebec. The Empress of Ireland sails on Friday next, the 29th inst., and will have a large number of passengers. Captain Carey is in command. It is thought that Mr. Arthur Piers, manager of the C.P.R. steamships, will be a passenger during the maiden trip from Liverpool.

Capt. Evans Ill.

The steamship Lake Champlain, of the C.P.R. line, sails for Liverpool on Saturday. Captain Evans, who contracted pneumonia on the recent voyage, is at the General Hospital, but it is thought he will be well enough to leave with his ship on Saturday.

Many Scotch Immigrants.

The Allan line Sicilian arrived in port yesterday. Capt. Fairfull reports meeting a great deal of ice in the Gulf. The Sicilian had on board 396 passengers from Glasgow, a very large majority being Scotch immigrants bound for the West.

Montrose in Port.

The Montrose, of the C.P.R., reached port yesterday afternoon from Antwerp, after landing 600 third-class passengers at Quebec. Forty-eight cabin passengers were brought here.

CAVALRY CAMP CLOSES.

Inspection by General Lake and Col. Lessard Has Taken Place.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 28.—The 3rd. Cavalry Brigade will break camp early to-morrow morning. This is field day, various regiments being under reconnaissance orders covering the whole country for six miles around the camp. General Lake, and Col. Lessard, occupied the entire day yesterday with the inspection. The weather was fine and everything in splendid condition. The troops will return home in good health and spirits. The veteran medical officer of the 13th, Dr. McDonald, of Sutton who has seen more than a quarter of a century service states that he has never known a healthier militia camp.

ARMY DEFENDS IMMIGRANTS.

Denies Quebec Rumor that Some Brought Out Were Undesirable.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—A recent despatch from Quebec represented that immigrants especially of a vicious and undesirable class, had been brought out by the Salvation Army and located in that city. For this statement there appears to be absolutely no foundation, and Brigadier Howell, who is at present in Ottawa, has adopted prompt measures to vindicate the Army. He gives out telegrams received from Hon. J. P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario; Mr. Thomas Southworth, director of colonization for Ontario, and Mr. W. D. Scott, Dominion superintendent of immigration, all praising the work the Army is doing and the class of people being brought out.

World Gossip

American Funds for the West.

Mr William Wiseman, of Philadelphia, reached Montreal yesterday on his way to the Canadian North-West. He carries with him authority from a number of monied men to speculate to the amount of a million or more dollars.

In speaking at the Windsor last night, Mr Wiseman said that he had no idea just where the money would be placed, but his people have a great deal of faith in the future of Canadian securities, and he will think the question over carefully before coming to any decision.

Mr. Wiseman at one time was a Milwaukee brewer, and it was in the city of beer that he made most of his money.

"I have just had a glass of your Canadian ale," he said, "and I don't believe it can be beaten anywhere in the world, not even by the celebrated English ale."

Respects Canadian Justice.

In New York city they have a profound regard for Canadian justice. This was made plain last evening by Mr. Eyrcol Bradshaw, a young lawyer, who has been connected with several of the more celebrated cases which have taken up the attention of New Yorkers during the past few years.

"I have watched some of the criminal cases in Canada," he remarked, "and it is interesting to note that some of the travesties of New York justice are not repeated on this side of the border. Here is the case of Patrick, slayer of millionaire Rice. It is over four years since he was sentenced to death in the electric chair, yet he is still fighting for his life. I have nothing to say as to his right to leave nothing undone in order to escape the chair, nor do I comment on the justice or injustice of the verdict, but I do say that the man's guilt ought to be settled one way or the other, and the sentence of the law carried out.

"In Chicago they were in a state of terror a few months ago because it seemed impossible to punish men for crimes. There were something like one hundred murders or attempts to murder, and, if I remember rightly, only about three executions in half a year. Finally public sentiment reached a point that left no doubt as to what would follow if the police did not do something. I really believe that the people would have taken the law into their own hands if something had not been done. There were about 1500 new men put on the police force, and now there is something like order.

"I am going to call on some of your legal men to-day. I met them in New York at different times, and they much impressed me with their knowledge of the law as it pertains to both sides of the border line."

Thinks Bryan Will be a Candidate.

"I don't see any other man for the job," was the reply given by Mr. Thomas Agnew at the Queen's last night, when he was asked if he thought that Bryan would again get the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

Mr. Agnew has spent all his life in United States politics. He comes from the west, and so, naturally, has a leaning for Bryan. He is a red-hot Democrat, and he does not care who knows it.

"Bryan is gaining ground every day. I was in New York a few days ago, and old-time Democrats, who would not hear of his nomination a short time since, now say that they think he is the only man. I have reason to know that Bryan has signified his intention to some personal friends to accept the nomination if it is properly handed to him, but there must be no fighting about it. It must be handed out on a tray held by every member of the party in the United States, and, this may startle you, I don't think Bryan cares very much whether the tray is of silver or gold.

"Roosevelt is on record as saying that under no circumstances will he accept a third nomination, and I don't very well see how he is to go back on that statement. If he does, surely it will suggest that he would break his promises in other matters. I think Roosevelt has made a good President, as Republican Presidents go, but the time has come for a change, and a change there is going to be.

"By the way, I have been making a few enquiries into your politics on this side of the border, and, if I am to believe all that I have been told, it is pretty nearly time there was a change over here.

"Any way, when a party is in power for ten or twelve years, it gets careless, and it is time to change, independent of politics or anything else."

English Globe-Trotters Here.

There was a party of three gentlemen at St. Lawrence Hall yesterday who are on a trip around the world. They are Robert Cousins, of Manchester, Eng.; William Jones, of Liverpool, and Francis Bourne, of Sheffield. They are all manufacturers, and though out for a few months' pleasure, they are making careful enquiries into the trade and commerce of the various lands through which they pass.

In speaking of the trip, yesterday, Mr. Jones said that, though they had expected great things of Canada, they had not looked forward to anything like such a remarkable country as that which they are now viewing.

"You seem so prosperous," he remarked. "Every man is on the go, and the business houses have an air of activity that is hard to beat. When in some of the cities in the United States we were struck by the alertness and the quick movement of the people, but, really, over here it seems of a much more solid character. Your banking buildings struck me very forcibly. I have seen nothing finer in the world than the present Bank of Montreal building, and, in fact, every one of them suggests a prosperity that will force Canada to the front in the world's greatest countries."

Suez Canal Profits.

NOTWITHSTANDING the readiness of the French directors of the Suez Canal to make concessions in favor of British ship owners, as announced a fortnight ago, no scheme of that nature—either looking toward duplicating the canal or reducing the tariff—came up at a meeting of the shareholders in Paris. Nothing but a financial statement was submitted. This, however, was significant. It showed that the receipts for last year were over 2,000,000f. less than the receipts for the preceding year. The total receipts for 1905 amounted to 117,308,196f., and the total expenditure to 40,984,184f. During the same year 4,116 ships, representing a tonnage of 13,134,105 tons, passed through the canal, being a decrease of 121 ships and 267,730 tons as compared with 1904.

Nevinson's Exciting Career.

Henry W. Nevinson, whose revelations of the Portuguese slave-trade in Africa, contained in his recently published volume, "A Modern Slavery," are now receiving the attention of the British Government, has had a very varied career. After a few years as a land-surveyor he became war correspondent and volunteer in the war between Greece and Turkey in 1897. The following year he was sent by his paper, the London Daily Chronicle, to watch the various movements in Spain during the Spanish-American war, where he succeeded in discovering the hiding-place of the finest Spanish battleship—so splendid a vessel that the Spanish Government refused to use her during the war for fear she might be damaged. In 1899 he was shut up in the siege of Ladysmith for four months, without relief of any kind, and afterwards accompanied Lord Roberts' column on the march to Pretoria. Toward the end of the South African war he was with Lord Kitchener's army, and witnessed the conclusion of the peace, afterwards riding through the length and breadth of the devastated republic. In 1903 he was sent on a special mission for the relief of the Macedonian peasants, at that time suffering more than usual from Turkish pillage and massacre, and in the next year he undertook for the Harpers the expedition to Central Africa which forms the subject of "A Modern Slavery." On returning from the equator he was sent to Russia for the revolution, and was present during all the fighting at the Moscow barricades last winter. He is now somewhere in the extreme north of Europe, and will probably go to Egypt should open hostilities arise between England and Turkey. In spite of his many exciting adventures he has found time for a good deal of writing, chiefly on events to which he was an eye-witness, and classical subjects. "The Plea of Pan," "Books and Personalities," and "Between the Acts" are all well known.

Mexico's Soda Lakes.

One of Mexico's natural assets is the Adair soda lakes, which are only about 3,000 yards inland from the Gulf of California. The Mexican Investor is convinced that there is much money in them. "Under the blazing sun of the desert," it says, "surrounded by barren and bleak sand dunes, lie vast lakes of carbonate of soda, to all appearance great masses of snow and ice, but in reality a substance from which will be made millions of tons of soap and millions of panes of glass. At only one other place in the world is natural soda found under conditions which admit of industrial development, and at that place it must be shipped several hundred miles by rail, and many tons of water must be evaporated by coal to obtain a ton of the product. The Mexican Government declines to dispose of these lakes to any one. President Diaz believing that they may become sources of enormous income to the country, just as the nitrate of soda beds are to Chile. What it may mean to the soap and glass industry of Mexico may be judged when it is stated that at present manufactured soda, one of the principal items of cost, sells for $75 per ton in parts of the country, while the same article from Adair Bay may be delivered for less than one-third of that price. An estimate of an engineer is to the effect that there is enough soda on top of the ground to produce 100 tons daily for 75 years."

No More Danger From Moths.

Professor M. I. Sitowski, of the University of Cracow, has made a discovery which will render clothes immune against the attacks of clothes moths. The discovery is reported in the Bulletin de l'Academie des Sciences de Cracovie. The professor has prepared a liquid with which he soaks the cloth to be protected. This liquid poisons the larva or the maggot of the clothes moth as soon as it attacks the fabric. The larvae dies immediately upon taking one bite of the cloth, and consequently it does no appreciable damage. After a few larvae have been killed they cease to attack the cloth at all, for such in the intelligence or instinct of these little creatures that they quickly learn to know what is fatal to them. The liquid is colorless, and consequently does not stain the cloth or other fabric. It is not poisonous to human beings. It does not diminish the durability of clothes or impair their wearing qualities in any way. It will be desirable in future that the cloth makers should soak their product in the liquid before sending it out, but private persons can obtain the new fluid and apply it to their garments, in case they have not been rendered moth proof. There are three principal species of moths that destroy garments and draperies. They belong to the family Tineidae. First there is Tineola bisselliella, the clothes moth. Its larvae burrow in woollen garments in May and June, and utterly destroy them if undisturbed. The next is Tinea pellionella, the fur moth. The larvae makes coats for themselves out of any fur that they can get in. Then there is Tricophaga tapetzella, which eats carpets and silk hangings. The larvae build themselves long galleries in the silken fabric until it falls to pieces. The Sitowski liquid is fatal to all of these.

Suppose you do like the tea you are using. How do you know it is the best tea you can get for the money?

MANY were satisfied with the tea they were using before they tried Red Rose Tea.

When they tried Red Rose Tea they found it had that "rich fruity flavor," found it was strong—that it requires less to make a cup of good tea than the brand of Ceylon alone they had been using.

Now, why not be sure you are getting the best tea to be had.

You cannot be sure till you try Red Rose Tea.

LARGE AMOUNT OWING FOR WATER

City is Still Unable to Collect $158,000 from Last Year.

DETAILS GIVEN BY WARDS.

Issue of Reduction of Water Rates is Again to be Raised in Council.

A statement has just been completed at the City Hall showing that last year the city was unable to collect the large sum of $158,351.74 for water supplied. Civic officials hope, however, that during the present year part of the outstanding amount will be got in.

Those who are opposed to the city charging such heavy prices for water made the assertion to-day that if the water rate was cut down by one-third the city would not have to stand such enormous losses.

Another table which has been completed, shows that since 1897 the arrears on the water taxes, which are now on the city's books, are over half a million dollars.

The following table shows what was owing, by wards, for later last year.

Wards	Outstanding for 1906.
East	$2,096.85
Centre	3,530.91
West	3,790.35
St. Ann's	11,314.90
St. Joseph	14,059.74
St. Andrew	6,047.36
St. George	8,030.56
St. Lawrence	18,850.11
St. Louis	21,209.38
Lafontaine	11,518.49
St. James	8,229.25
Papineau	18,179.64
St. Mary	9,529.81
Hochelaga	2,814.68
Duvernay	4,075.75
St. Jean Baptiste	9,277.82
St. Gabriel	6,102.75
St. Denis	23.81
Total	$158,351.74

The total which the city had to collect for water last year was $758,613.45.

Because of this condition of affairs questions are to be put in the City Council asking if it would not be in the interests of the city itself, as well as in the interests of taxpayers, that the water rates should be reduced.

Arraigns English Meat Trade.

London, June 28.—Jacob Meyers, editor of the New York Butchers' Advocate, is the authority for a statement that English slaughtering plants are in worse condition than those of the United States. Slaughter houses are in dark corners where inspection does not reach, he says, and cheap meats are brought into the open market to be ground up and preserved in tin, earthenware and glass, and sent by tens of thousands of packages throughout the small stores of the country.

The American editor expresses his conviction that the outcry in England is tainted by commercial motives, and says the English will soon feel the boomerang and realize the extent of the losses needlessly inflicted on the United States trade.

No Agreement on Railway Rate Bill.

Washington, June 28.—No agreement has yet been reached in the conference on the railway rate bill, but discussion shows that the pass provision will closely follow the lines of the original Senate amendment. Certain classes of persons will be named as recipients of passes, and all others excluded. The pipe line provisions will also follow the line adopted by a previous conference, providing that the phrase "common carriers" will give to the word railroads, thus allowing owners of pipe lines to transport the product owned by them.

St. Cesaire Trial Nearing Close.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ste. Hyacinthe, June 28. — Friday will probably see the end of the trial of Rodrigue Decautels, accused of the murder of Mrs. Gendreau, of St. Cesaire. A number of witnesses for the defence were called during the afternoon and the forenoon yesterday. The weight of their evidence was to show that "Flea" Lapointe, as the accused was called, had expressed none but the friendliest feelings towards the victim of the murder, and that his clothes were not covered with burs, as sworn by some of the Crown witnesses.

Killed Wife, Then Himself.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 28.—Because his wife would not give him money which he was too shiftless to earn for himself, Fred Haas, of Cleveland, last night killed his wife, Maud Haas, and severely wounded Mrs. Ida McElroy, with whom his wife was living, and afterwards shot himself through the forehead, as the police were trying to capture him.

CORONER'S JURY HOLD THAW GUILTY

Stage Manager of the Theatre Relates What Thaw and His Wife Said.

New York, June 28.—That Stanford White came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Harry K. Thaw, was the conclusion reached by the jury empanelled by Coroner Dooly, to investigate the death of the eminent architect.

A great crowd had assembled about the Criminal Court building, and a large force of police was necessary to keep them back.

Every seat in the Coroner's Court was taken when Coroner Dooley arrived, and Thaw was brought in and took a seat beside his counsel.

The most important testimony at the inquest was given by Lionel Lawrence, stage director at the Madison Square roof garden theatre, who said that immediately after the shooting, Mrs. Thaw rushed up to her husband, and throwing her arms around his neck said: "Never mind Harry, I will stick to you through thick and thin". Thaw turned to the crowd which surrounded them and said "That—— ruined my wife and I got him and I fixed him for it."

Montreal Case in Exchequer Court.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—In the Exchequer Court this morning the case of "The King vs. Lovejoy" was argued by R. Taschereau, for the Crown, and Mr. J. C. Hickson, for the defendants. The case involves a claim by the crown for some $1,679.00 customs duties and $6,524.00 representing the value of the goods forfeited, by reason of alleged evasion of the customs duties payable upon certain articles used by the dental profession, and imported into Canada by the defendants, who do business in Montreal under the name, style and firm of the "Dominion Dental Manufacturing Co."

The defendants claim they bought the goods in Canada, and are not liable for the duty. The claim for penalties amounts to some $77,000. Mr. Justice Burbidge reserved judgment.

Long vacation in the Exchequer Court begins on the first of July and extends to the 31st of August.

Hunters Chasing Three Rivers Whale

Three Rivers, June 28.—The old trifluvian city has more excitement than usual between the military camp on one side and the whale in the St. Lawrence near the St. Maurice. Messrs. Gladstone Baptist, Hugh Blair and others spent the day shooting at the marine wonder, but though many shots are supposed to have reached him, he seems to wear well. Those who have approached the monster say he is thirty feet long, while many believe it is the ordinary mackerel or scad.

Millionaire Must Serve Half Time.

Paris, June 28.—Elliott F. Sheppard, of New York, grandson of the late W. H. Vanderbilt, will have to serve at least six weeks of the three months' term, as well as pay fines of $120 and $4,000 for running down a little girl with his automobile at St. Ouen, in April, 1905. The Ministry of Justice refused to recommend a remission of the penalty, but will advise President Fallieres to reduce the term to six weeks.

Lt.-Gov. Clarke's First Official Visit.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—The Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, Hon. Mortimer Clarke, paid his first official visit to the capital to-day, and presided at the closing exercises of the Ottawa Ladies' College. This afternoon he will lay the corner stone of the new Stewarton Presbyterian Church.

Masson Gives Bonus for Shoe Factory

Masson, Que., June 28.—In return for a bonus of $10,000, a grant of two acres of land and an exemption of taxes for twenty years, voted by the village council, Mr. Louis Senes has agreed to establish here a shoe factory employing fifty hands and pay $25,000 a year in wages.

Life Size.

It is not every day that a man catches fish in the house. However, this happened about 6 o'clock last evening, when Mr. Meunier, who lives at the corner of Boucher and St. Denis street, St. Denis ward, caught a little two and a half inch rock bass, as it came out of the tap in the corner of his store. The accompanying sketch shows the fish life-size.

"When it came out of the tap, which is only half an inch in diameter, it appeared to be numb and lay on its side in the water for several minutes showing scarcely any signs of life," said Mr. Meunier, describing the incident to The Star. "But after being placed in a large dish and letting the water run on it for a few minutes it began to move more energetically and soon swam about like any other fish. How it came through the tap is more than I can explain. I think it must have been at the head of the tap for some time before it finally made its exit, on account of the half dead condition it was in when it appeared. The poor little fish is perfectly clean. However, it seems to me that such things should not be allowed to filter through, because a person drinking a glass of water in the dark might swallow one of these things with serious results. I think I will keep a net under my tap in future," remarked Mr. Meunier with a smile.

A Star representative was told by a conductor on the street railway this morning that about a month ago a worm, such as is used for fishing, came through the tap in his house on Dufferin street.

"I had drunk the glass of water," said the conductor, "and when I happened to look in the bottom of the glass I saw this big red worm, which might just as well have gone down my throat while I was drinking the water, for I had not taken the precaution to examine the contents of the glass before quenching my thirst. I will be more careful in future."

One expert fisherman to whom it was shown this morning was of the opinion that it was a sunfish. He thought the rock bass are greyer than this fish, which has reddish fins. However, most of those who saw this fish have come to the conclusion that it is a rock bass. It is thought that there are many fish in the reservoir now, and that this little bass might have filtered through into the water mains, while it was very, very small and subsequently grew to its present size while it was in the mains between the reservoir and the tap in the house of Upper St. Denis street, where it made its exit last night.

COMMISSION SITS IN LONDON

Loans to Dr. A. O. Jeffrey, a Director of the London Life, Investigated.

Special to The Montreal Star.

London, Ont., June 28.—The insurance commission commenced work upon the companies with head offices in this city to-day.

The London Life was the first on the list, and it is likely that the Northern Life will be taken up to-morrow, although it was reported that there was to be no investigation into its affairs.

Manager Richner, of the London Life, was questioned by Junior Examiner Tilley all morning. He told of loans given to Dr. A. O. Jeffrey, a director of the company. Merely matters of routine business were discussed and nothing of particular interest elicited.

Derailed Engine Blocked Traffic.

Shortly after eight o'clock this morning a freight engine ran off the Canadian Pacific track opposite Sohmer Park. The engine did not turn over and a wrecking crew placed it back on the track in about fifty minutes. Meanwhile incoming trains were delayed and a number of passengers walked up to Notre Dame street and finished the journey on the street cars. No damage was done.

PERSONALS.

(See Also Page Fourteen.)

Dr. Robert H. Craig, Peel street, has returned from New York.

The engagement is announced in Ottawa of Miss Thais de Boucherville, daughter of the late Vercheres de Boucherville, to Mr. Paul Pinard.

The marriage of Miss Clara L. Lunan, to the Rev. Ernest E. Dawson, of Kildare, will take place very quietly at Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, on Wednesday, July 11th.

Mr. Percy Wilgar, of Cobourg, was married in St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, yesterday, to Miss Stewart Low, formerly of Kingston. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Constance Low. Mr. Edward Herbert Pense, of Kingston, was best man. Rev. Dr. Herridge officiated.

The marriage of Miss Clara Luella (Lulu) Stephens, daughter of the late Mr. Barclay Stephens, to Mr. Robert Billings Johnson, took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Somerville avenue, Westmount. Owing to the recent illness of the bride's mother the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Duclos, of Valleyfield, uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Scott, of Douglas Church, was witnessed only by immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Dr. Mann, of Renfrew, wore a lace robe embroidered in pearls and mounted on white silk. Her tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a gold necklace set with pearls and amethysts, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor, Miss Jessie Eveleigh, wore white silk batiste over pale blue taffeta with trimmings of Valenciennes lace, and a pale blue girdle. She wore a coronet of pink roses, and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. Mr. Stewart Rutherford was the best man. Mrs. Stephens, mother of the bride, wore pale grey peau de soie, with point lace applique, and carried a bouquet of violets. Miss Stephens, sister of the bride, was gowned in pale blue crepe de chine, with white lace hat, and carried red roses. Mrs. Tanner, sister of the bride, was in embroidered cream crepe de chine, with white lace hat. Mrs. Johnson, mother of the groom, was gowned in cream Duchess lace over mauve silk, with mauve toque. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will spend their honeymoon in the United States, the bride going away in a costume of navy blue silk with touches of pale pink, cream lace blouse, and pale blue mohair hat trimmed with pink roses. On their return they will reside in Westmount. The bride received many handsome presents, including several cheques. The groom's gift to the maid of honor was a gold dragon brooch, set with pearls, and to the best man he gave a pearl tie pin.

Du Maurier's Famous Picture.

Probably not fifty people know that the drawing by Mr. du Maurier which has been the most widely circulated is the one that millions of people have seen and are still seeing every day without ever suspecting whose the drawing is, and it has been seen by millions of people who never even heard of Mr. de Maurier's name.

The drawing in question is the picture of the bubbling spring which decorates the label of every bottle of Apollinaries Water, and the original design is in the possession of the Apollinaris Company, London.—The Bookman.

FREE TROLLEY RIDES FOR POOR CHILDREN

Montreal Street Railway will Give Them Two Mornings of Each Week.

The Montreal Street Railway has made a handsome offer to the poor children of the city.

At the head office of the company it was announced to-day that during July and August, the heated term, they would on two mornings of each week, give the children of the city, those who could not afford to so indulge themselves, a free trolley ride over its system, including a trip around the mountain.

Further, the management is prepared to grant the privilege of free special cars, once during the season, to any of the orphan asylums or old folk's homes.

In discussing the matter the managers of the Montreal Street Railway stated to-day that the details had not all been worked out, but that cars would be supplied in plenty and the children given the best sort of an outing. The cars will pick up the children right in the districts in which they reside, and the youngsters will therefore be put to no inconvienience or expense.

The experiment is a novel one, and has never yet been tried to any extent by any of the street railway companies of the continent.

ALLEGE TARIFF FRAUDS.

Wholesale Dry Goods Men to Interview Minister of Customs.

A strong deputation of members of the Wholesale Dry Goods' Association proceeds to Ottawa to-day, there to interview the Minister of Customs respecting some points in the tariff.

The members of the association strongly object to certain provisions of the tariff whereby goods are entered at two rates, one for the purpose of manufacturing in Canada, and the other in the ordinary course of business. In numerous cases certain cloth stuffs are allowed to enter when for manufacturing purposes at a lower rate of duty than would otherwise be the case. The wholesale dry goods men state that this is used largely as a means by which frauds are committed; that goods entered for manufacturing purposes under the lower rates of duty are as a matter of fact imported to be sold, and are sold, much to the detriment of the honest trader.

GAS FOR STE. CUNEGONDE.

Gas Company May be Asked to Supply New Suburb.

At the next meeting of the City Council an application will be made that the Gas Company be asked to supply Ste. Cunegonde with gas. It is stated by Ald. N. Lapointe that only two streets in the place have gas lighting.

Col. Steele Returning to Canada.

Word has been received here through an indirect source that Colonel S. B. Steele will soon be back in Canada again. Gossip in military circles has it that Colonel Steele has been offered an important command in connection with the new method of sub-dividing the militia of the country. At present Colonel Evans is in command of all the cavalry and mounted infantry between the Eastern boundary of Manitoba and the Pacific Ocean, and as the military strength of this enormous district is very quickly being raised to about ten times its strength of former years, it is natural that it should be divided up and some of the responsibility taken off of Colonel Evans' shoulders. Colonel Steele is expected to leave South Africa next October and spend the winter in England, probably arriving in Canada the beginning of the spring.

Valuable Properties at Auction.

A large audience was present at Fraser Bros.' salesroom this morning when the following properties, belonging to estate Mrs. Belasco nee Hart, were sold: The stone building, No. 102 to 106 Notre Dame st. east, containing about 3,000 feet of land was sold for $15,525 to Mr. David Blumer, and the stone and brick residence, No. 118 Durocher street, lot about 30x100 feet for $8,025, to Mr. T. C. Doyle. Competition was keen on both the properties.

The Late Simeon Coutlee.

The funeral of the late Simeon Coutlee, chief crier of the Superior Court, took place this morning. The funeral service was chanted at St. James Cathedral by the Rev. Father Roussin, of Pointe aux Trembles, cousin of the deceased. The funeral was very largely attended, among those present being Chief Justice Sir Melbourne M. Tait, and Messrs. Justices Curran, Robidoux, Mathieu, Taschereau, Lavergne and Loranger.

PAID COMMISSIONS TO ARCHITECTS

Toronto Civic Investigation Brings Out Some Startling Facts.

Toronto, Ont., June 28.—Heavy commissions paid to architects on civic contracts by the contractors was the feature of the civic enquiry this morning. George Douglas, of Douglas Bros., testified that he had paid between two and three hundred dollars each to Messrs. J. W. Siddell and Beaumont Jarvis in connection with the St. Lawrence Market Roofing Contract. Some of the payments were never entered on his books. Mr. Douglas also got the Kent pipe contract on the City Hall, and out of this he had to pay Joseph Wright $200, A. Matthews $250, Wheeler and Bain $250, and the Metallic Roofing Company $200. In the payments made to Architect Beaumont Jarvis some entries were made under the name of Jones.

Pure Food Bill Reported.

Washington, June 28.—The pure food amendment has been agreed upon by the House and Senate conferees and reported. The House bill has taken as a basis of agreement and into this was grafted many of the important sections of the Senate amendment, which had been given great attention by Senators McCumber and Heyburn, extending over three sessions of Congress. The bill as agreed upon makes it a misdemeanor to manufacture, sell offer for sale any article of food, drugs, or liquor which is adulterated, unless branded so, and which contains any deleterious substance. It prescribes for each offence a fine not to exceed $500, one year's imprisonment, or both, and for each subsequent offence a fine of not less than $1000 or one year's imprisonment.

Fires Thought to be Incendiary.

Toronto, Ont., June 28.—Crown Attorney W. L. Haight, of Parry Sound, has asked the Ontario Government to send Inspector Rogers to investigate the burning of the frame school house at Restoule Lake, three years ago, the burning of Mr. M. Stevens's barn a few months ago, and the destruction of Mrs. Jacob Pilger's flour mill lately. Suspicion is diverted to a young man who is either insane or evilly disposed, and recently fired at the daughters of Mrs. Pilger, the bullet passing between the two.

Canadians Saw the King.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, June 28.—A large number of Canadian visitors were at the St. Pancras station this morning to obtain a view of the King on his way to visit Derby. The King took special note of the party.

The Standard severely scores the red tape which declines to comply with the request for a special colonial stand for visitors to witness the trouping of the colors before the King to-morrow.

Three Recounts Demanded.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., June 28.—Yesterday was declaration day in Halifax county, and three recounts have been demanded: In Kings, where the Union Reform Liberal led the poll; by Hon. H. H. Wickwire, who was 92 behind his running mate; in Lunenburg by the Conservative candidates, the highest of whom was 123 behind the lowest Liberal; and in Cape Breton also by the Conservatives, where the highest Conservative is 150 behind Gillis (Liberal).

Bishop Would Not Marry Unitarians.

London, June 28.—Right Rev. Arthur Ingram, Bishop of London, declared in an address that the marriage question is the most difficult he has to cope with. He has refused to sanction the marriage of two American Unitarians in one of the churches of the diocese, as he considers it would be an act of hypocrisy on his part, and that of the contracting parties, as the service must be used only by those baptized into the Christian Church.

Killed by Flying Stone.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Quebec, June 28.—Damase Mercier, aged six was killed as the result of a blast at Montmorency village last night. A piece of rock from the excavation being made for the water works striking him on the head as he stood on the gallery of his father's residence fractured the skull.

By-Laws Submitted to Electors.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, June 28.—Voting on four by-laws takes place to-day. The by-laws are to authorize Sunday car service; to raise $200,000 for the extension of the school system; to provide for a board of control patterned after that of Toronto; and to authorize the construction of a civic power plant on the Winnipeg river, at a cost of $4,250,000. It is believed all will carry with the exception of the one providing for Sunday cars.

British System Fair.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, June 28.—The Yorkshire Post in commenting upon the cancellation of pensions to ex-ministers in Canada says, that the system in this country requiring an affidavit of need before granting the same, meets all valid objections and fulfills the need of the situation.

A STRONG RALLY AFTER WEAKNESS

Stocks Recover at Noon and the Rally Lasts for a Couple of Hours.

MR. J. H. PLUMMER'S REMARKS

At the Steel Meeting in Regard to the Dividend on Preferred were Well Received.

A thick gloom settled over the financial district this morning, and no surprise would have been felt had the Wall Street market followed up yesterday's violent decline with a drop of 10 points.

The early literature that came over the wires was very bearish in tenor and there was a no-hope-beyond sort of feeling in all quarters.

The market opened easy and went lower.

Around noon there was an expected rally.

The list gathered strength at about 11.45 and by 12.45, many of the leaders had rallied around 1 to 2 1-2 points from the low level, perhaps on covering by shorts.

There was no news again, although one disturbing feature was a rise in call money.

In the local market Power was again the leader, moving from 96 5-8 to 97.

Steel was off at 27 1-4, Scotia to 66 and Mackay to 71 3-4. There was general easiness but no liquidation to speak of.

MR. PLUMMER'S REMARKS.

About the most interesting remark made at the Dominion Steel meeting to-day was Mr. J. H. Plummer's announcement in regard to reorganization and dividends. He said that a reorganization with a view of paying back dividends was not practicable, and that the preferred shareholders would feel the same way about it when they realized that the company would be creating a permanent and additional charge.

He hoped that before long the company would be able to resume dividends on the preferred stock, not pay off accumulated dividends, but pay the current rate and then pay off back dividends from time to time. The remark was liberally applauded by the large number of shareholders present.

Mr. Plummer spoke hopefully and said that while the directors were not satisfied with the earnings they were well satisfied with the progress made during the year.

Instead of producing liquidation here the drop in Wall street has made the local market exceedingly dull. Traders, as a rule, seem inclined to hold on to their stocks, and while the demand has been withdrawn in most cases prices have not declined to any great extent.

Stocks that are listed here and in Wall street have been more or less susceptible to the downward movement there, although Pacific and Toledo have held rather well. Pacific making about as good a showing as anything on the railroad list. It was very quiet to-day around 159 to 159 1-4. As will be noted elsewhere Pacific is still four points above the low level of the year, while from the highest it shows a decline of over eight points. Declines in some of the other roads have been twice that, while in Reading and the Hill stocks they have been unusually severe.

The Hill stocks were soft. Great Northern opened at 285, went to 283 and recorded 285 1-4. Northern Pacific opened at 196 3-4, and went to 194 1-2.

The New York banks have lost $11,000 to the Sub-Treasury since Friday.

Bar silver in London was up 1-8d.

Money was stiffer in Wall street, and was quoted at 4 1-2 per cent.

Dominion Steel bonds were steady at 86, and there was a small sale of Montreal Street bonds at 104.

Perhaps the weakness in Electrical Development lately is due to the fact that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission is now getting down to business. It held its first meeting on Tuesday. Representatives of a number of Ontario municipalities are to meet in Galt on July 24 to discuss the power question.

Bell Telephone remains dull. Parliament has decided to compel the company to give independent companies connection over its long distance lines. The Canada Machine Telephone Company, which has a competitive franchise in Brantford, has started the work of installing the system, which will be in operation by the end of the year.

Duluth earnings for the third week of June showed an increase of $4,705. From July 1 the gain is $350,150.

In answer to a query, the editor of the Wall Street Journal expresses the opinion on Toledo Railway stock: The stock of Toledo Railways & Light Co. is a fair speculative investment. The policy of the board of directors to improve the physical condition of the property has increased its earning capacity. If earnings continue at the present satisfactory rate, you will probably see good profit in it for a long pull.

RECOVERY AFTER THE BREAK.

The Wall Street List Acts in a Very Uncertain Fashion.

Wall Street, Noon.—A rally carried Anaconda 3¼ over last night. With the establishment of the higher level, there was a pouring out of stocks in the second hour, and the selling looked eager. The subsequent violent recoveries pointed to a bear origin for large selling. On the break, Great Northern pref. lost 4, Northern Pacific 3¾, Reading 2⅝ and Mis. Pacific and Delaware & Hudson 3; U. S. Steel pref. fell 1¾ to par, and American Car lost as much; St. Paul 1⅝. Pressed Steel Car 1¼; Penn. and Col. Fuel 1⅜, and N. Y. C. 1¼. Many stocks lost a point. Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha fell 9. Rallies on short covering reached 2¼ in Great Northern pref., and 1⅜ to 2 in St. Paul, Reading and Northern Pacific. The recovery placed a few leaders above last night again, but the demand ran down. Bonds were irregular.

BANK OF ENGLAND LOWER.

Reserve to Liability Shows a Decrease This Week.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, decreased £20,000; circulation, increased £414,000, bullion, increased £394,500; other securities, increased £1,820,000; other deposits, increased £1,905,000; public deposits, decreased £115,000, notes reserve, increased £5000. Government securities unchanged.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 47.44 per cent. as compared with 49.04 per cent.

MONTREAL CLEARINGS GAIN.

Montreal clearings were fairly large this week, the gain being some $2,500,000 over last year as follows.

	Clearings.
Total for week ending June 28th. 1906	$27,637,170
Corresponding week, 1905	24,159,878
Corresponding week, 1904	19,262,934

CONSOLS ARE DOWN AGAIN.

British consols could not hold the improvement they made yesterday, and closed weaker on further selling by insurance concerns.

The closing was 87 15-16 for money, and 88 for account.

TORONTO HEAVILY LOADED.

Here is Mackay common down close to 71 and Toronto loaded to the neck with it.

Toronto bought Mackay very heavily around 74 to 75, thinking that the stock would rise strongly on the dividend.

The stock was sold to them by the experts in New York.

Mackay is good, but Toronto looked for a quick turn on it.

GATES TURNS A SOMERSAULT

Big Wall Street House Now Said to be on Bear Side.

A somersault was performed yesterday by Gates & Co., according to houses in touch with the Westerners' doings. They have been rampantly bullish; now they have become out and out bears, it is said. Wall Street says the Gates coterie has made a fine art of using language to disguise its thoughts, and consequently a number of shrewd operators were declared to have "coppered" yesterday's gloomy advices.

MUCH LESS NEW CAPITAL.

New capital issued in London from January 1 to May 5, amounted to $288,788,915, as against $434,216,505 in the same period in 1905.

GOSSIP ON DETROIT UNITED.

One of Causes of Recent Weaknesses in the Stock.

One of the causes, no doubt, of the recent weakness of Detroit United is the fact that the People's Railway Company, the three-cent fare proposition of Detroit, has filed articles of incorporation with a capital of $100,000. Under the franchise, the capital and bonded indebtedness is limited to $40,000 per mile laid. Capital must be increased with construction. The franchise, which is before the council, must go to a referendum vote.

Incorporators are: Henry Blackwell, Col. Will A. Waite, Louis N. Stein, Geo. W. Archer, Fred. W. Zoller, Martin E. Wolff and James D. Casey.

BATTLE OF GIANTS IN WALL STREET

Increase in the Anaconda Dividend was Rogers' Reply to T. W. Lawson.

THE LATTER'S PREDICTIONS.

Says that Copper Stock will Go to 50 and Anaconda Will Drop Below Par.

T. W. Lawson.

There is a battle of giants going on in Wall Street, T. W. Lawson vs. H. H. Rogers.

Lawson fired his "bomb" at Amalgamated Copper and Anaconda, and Rogers replied by increasing the Anaconda dividend.

Lawson retreated as Anaconda rose 17 points, and came back with another attack the next day.

Wall Street believes that circumstances have made Lawson stronger than he has ever been before, although the "Street" itself still looks with disgust upon his methods.

Lawson writes:

"Any one carrying stocks on margin should keep all four eyelids skewed back during the next few days, and it will be well to sleep with one eye shut outside the sentry post for the next few nights.

"There are things congealing which are deciding the big uns of Wall Street to dump stocks just as fast as this limited market will take them."

June 28th is to be the death knell of copper stocks.

November 4th is to mark a bad time for U.S. Steel.

He says Steel, preferred, will drop to 60.

Amalgamated, Lawson predicts, will go to 50. Anaconda at less than 100, and Trinity (Lawson's pet stock) will sell above 25.

"MR. WALL ST. LIAR! THIEF!"

Don't be Alarmed, Gentle Reader—Only Mr. Lawson.

Mr. T. W. Lawson, the Boston prophet, put this on the wires to-day:

"At last. Well, Mr. Wall Street, Liar, Thief, are you satisfied? You have been given a long eighteen months to play your bunco game on the public to the last squirm, and you are now face to face with the end. Disaster is inevitable, you can have no excuse this time that you had no warning. Well, and good; now take your medicine, and bear in mind during the crash you will receive that same mercy you have administered. The heel will be ground into your face to the boot top, and will be removed only when there is no face left."

VAN HORNE NOW OWNS IT ALL

Sir William is the Whole Thing Now in Cuban Railroads.

The Cuban Senate, last night, passed the Van Horne railway subsidy bill, appropriating $6,000 a kilometre for the construction of twelve branch railway lines, with feeders for the Van Horne system. Subsidies will be paid at a rate not exceeding $500,000 annually until all roads are completed.

There has been considerable opposition to the bill, but it was taken up and passed last evening in the absence of the strongest advocate of the amendment providing for public bidding.

The Senate refused to amend the bill in this particular.

President Palma has decided to approve the bill on the ground that the country owes a debt of gratitude to Sir William Van Horne for building the main line of the Cuban railway.

This measure gives the Van Horne people full control of the transportation situation in central and eastern Cuba.

STANDARD OIL CROWD OUT?

From to-day's stock movements it was apparent that the so-called Standard Oil clique was doing nothing to support prices. If current reports are to be believed, they liquidated most of their holdings prior to to-day.—N.Y. Post.

AMOUNT TO $158,049,292.

The dividends payable in the States on the first of July will reach a total of $158,049,292.

Canadian dividends will be over $3,000,000.

NIPISSING MINES.

Nipissing Mining stock was quoted on the New York curb at 5⅜ to 5½.

GRANBY GOES LOWER.

Granby was offered at 10¾ to-day, with 10⅝ bid. The decline seems to be in sympathy with the marked weakness in all other copper stocks.

REAL ESTATE HURTS STOCKS.

(Moody's Magazine.)

It is history that when speculation in real estate begins to assume boom proportions, speculation in Wall Street begins to wane.

SELLING OUT.

(T. W. Lawson.)

For weeks the Standard Oil pirates have been unloading everything.

Charles Head — Outside of a firmer tone in the call money rate, which is entirely natural in view of the near approach of July 1st there is no news of importance, the weakness being due almost entirely to the heavy liquidation, which has resulted largely from extensive calls for margin sent out last night.

J. S. Bache — The attack was futile, as recovery was instantaneous, and very few stocks came out. Call money went to 4½ per cent., but attracted little attention. Scattered liquidation may come, but the worst seems over.

E. & C. Randolph—Liquidation has now temporarily ceased, and the market has had a moderate rally, but there seems to be no disposition to follow prices up, and the only people now who want stocks are those who have previously sold them. Sales to noon, 697,750.

H. L. Horton & Co. — No change in opinion, but rallies must happen in every bear market.

N. P. Bryant—Our impression is that it is bargain day for a considerable time to come.

Burnett & Co. — The heaviest sellers were the traders, while some good buying is said to have made its appearance at the low level.

English watches repaired and guaranteed. R. Hemsley, 255 St. James st.

It is understood that Lord Strathcona has purchased the salmon fishing rights on the Tobique River belonging to the New Brunswick Ry. Co.

Lord Strathcona, while an enthusiastic fisherman, does not often take a holiday to indulge in that sport.

Later on this year, however, he is coming to Canada for a little fishing, and will be accompanied by Lord Northcliffe, formerly Sir Alfred Harmsworth, the famous English publisher.

Recently the Governor-General and his party have been fishing on the waters now owned by Lord Strathcona.

It is said that the recent buying of Canadian Bank of Commerce stock in this market has been for New York account.

The bank will, no doubt, fall into line and pay dividends quarterly.

It is rather interesting to compare the showing of the Dominion Steel Co. with previous years.

The figures indicate decided progress:

	1906.	5 months 1905.	Year 1904.

* Deficit.

At the present rate of progress the 1907 statement should be encouraging.

One of the great troubles with the Montreal market from a speculative standpoint is that we seldom ever have any decided short interest.

Whatever opprobrium may attach to the operation of selling short, a short interest in a stock is always an assurance of stability.

In sudden and severe breaks of the market it insures buyers, where otherwise nobody would be willing to take stock at all.

The Merchants Bank of Canada has made marked progress in the last few years, and the bank's profits last year were the biggest on record.

Here is a showing of the yearly profits and dividends paid since 1895:

	Profits.	Dividends.
1906	$740,398	$420,000
1905	649,000	420,000
1904	729,714	420,000
1903	733,939	420,000
1902	550,600	420,000
1901	501,024	420,000
1899	417,819	450,000

Mr. F. H. Mathewson, Montreal manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is expected home from Europe about the 8th of August.

Canadian Pacific's fiscal year ends on the 30th of this month.

With one more week to be heard from, the road shows total gross earnings of $59,481,000, an increase of $10,879,000 over the same period of 1904-5, and an increase of $14,781,000 over the same period of 1903-4.

The statement that the public is not in Dominion Steel is slightly wide of the mark. The public, no doubt, wishes it was true.

WHEAT MARKETS DECLINED.

Favorable Crop Reports Prime Factor —Local Oats Market Very Dull.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Ill., June 28. — July wheat sold from 83⅜ off to 82⅞, and up to 82¾; September from 83¾ to 82⅝ to 83. They closed yesterday at 83⅜ and 83¾ respectively. There was a sharp let-down in wheat values, with the Jones-Inglis report on crop conditions in the winter wheat belt the prime factor. These two experts have gone over the winter wheat belt carefully, and they estimate the yield at 420,000,000 bushels, with the quality excellent. There were purchases by Armour of 50,000 bushels new crop wheat raised in Missouri and Illinois, and several 5,000 bushel lots were bought by other elevator concerns.

F. W. Thompson, of the Ogilvie Milling Company, wired Brosseau: Our Liverpool cable says estimate of European wheat crop this year will likely run approximately two hundred to two hundred and fifty million bushels less than last year. Conditions in Roumania and Bulgaria bad. Whole of Russia largely less than last year.

The Liverpool spot wheat market closed steady, at 6s 6d to 6s 6½d for No. 1 nor. Man., 6s 3½d to 6s 4d for No. 2, and 6s 2½d to 6s 3d for No. 3. Options closed steady, at 6s 7½d for July, 6s 8⅛d for Sept., and 6s 7⅞d for Dec. Antwerp was steady, at 17. Paris closed 5 up on June, at 24.20, and 10 down on Sept. and Dec., at 22.85.

Winnipeg was ¼c down at noon, at 82c for June, 82¾c for July, and 80⅝c for October.

Chicago was ⅜c down on July, at 82⅝c, at noon, and on Sept., at 83c. July corn was ⅝c down, at 51⅞c, and July oats steady at 39⅛c.

Duluth was ⅛c down, at 84⅝c.

Inspections at Winnipeg yesterday were:

	Cars.
No. 1 hard	0
No. 1 northern	42
No. 2 northern	13
No. 3 northern	0
No. 4 northern	1

England—Weather fair but cloudy; forecast, unsettled.

France — Weather, North, overcast; South, partly cloudy; forecast, hot.

LOCAL MARKET. — The market for oats was again very dull. There is little or no change in the situation, holders being fairly firm in their ideas and demanding full quotations for the most part. These are still 42¼c store for No. 4 oats, 43c for No. 3, and 43½c for No. 2.

COTTON EASIER AT NOON.

E. & C. Randolph's New York cotton market letter says: The Journal of Commerce's reports so far published certainly point to a maintenance of condition by the report of that authority when it is issued, probably next Monday, and between now and next Tuesday there will be a number of private reports, which may have more or less influence on the market. Meanwhile we must not forget the necessity for a large crop presented by the big trade demand, nor the fact that it is usually during July and August that the crop deteriorates and not during June.

Liverpool was due 1 to 2 higher. Opened steady, 2 higher. At 12.15 p.m., steady, 1 to 2 higher. Spot, quiet, 4 higher, 6.15d. American middling. Sales, 6,000, 5,000 American. Estimated ports, 5,000; last week, 4,313; last year, 9,352.

Prices at noon were as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low	12.30
January	10.44	10.44	10.37	10.37
July	10.16	10.18	10.13	10.16

FRESH FRUIT NOW IN FULL SEASON

Ontario Berries and California Fruit Plentiful—Firm Lemon Market.

CHEESE RATHER FIRMER.

Butter Holds About Steady—Wheat Market was Lower on Good Crop Reports—Cotton Easy.

Demand for fresh fruit of all kinds is very active just now, the season being at its height, and the weather being hot and altogether favorable.

Canadian strawberries are now arriving daily from Ontario. The quality is fine, and the quantity is liberal. Consumption is apparently large, demand continuing active.

California fruits are also in liberal supply. Arrivals on this market are taking place almost daily. The fruit reaches here in good condition, and meets with a good demand.

During the past week the price of strawberries has eased off slightly, vegetables being generally also considerably lower. Apricots, however, have advanced, as have also lemons and Valencia oranges.

Messrs. Hart & Tuckwell's circular quotes prices as follows:

STRAWBERRIES.—Canadian fruit is arriving daily, and selling around 9 to 10c per box.

APRICOTS.—4-basket crates. California stock is 25c dearer, at $2.50 a crate.

PEACHES—California, $2 per box.

PLUMS—Californias, $2.25 to $2.50 per 4-basket crate.

CHERRIES—California, $3 per box.

ORANGES—California, late Valencias, 96 and 126 size, $5.50; 150, 176, 216, 250 and 288 size, $5.85; Messina oranges, half boxes, 80 size, $2.50; 100 size, $2.75.

LEMONS—The market is very strong, and prices have advanced about 25c per box. Extra fancy Maiori lemons, cases 300, Valencia style, finest lemons on the market, $4.75; do Messina lemons, 300 size boxes, $4.

VEGETABLES — Tomatoes (4 basket carriers), $1.25; new potatoes, per bbl., $4; new cabbage, per crate, large size, $2.50; cucumbers, per basket, $2 to $2.50; Egyptian onions, 1¾c per lb.

PINEAPPLES.—Orders for preserving purposes are now large; an advance in prices is expected shortly. Fancy colored, 18 size, $3.65; 24 size, $3.35; 30 size, $3.15; 36 size, $3.

BANANAS.—The market is steady at $1.75 to $2.25 per bunch for Jumbos.

MAPLE SYRUP—Guaranteed pure, in tins, about 8 pounds, tin, 70c.

NEW COCOANUTS—Fresh car new nuts, per bag, $3.40.

DATES—Hallowee golden dates, per lb., 4½c.

NUTS.—New stock; Grenoble walnuts, 14c; Tarragona almonds, 12c; Sicily filberts, 10c; shelled walnuts, 24c; Brazils, 15, Pecans, large, 15c; do. Jumbos, 17c; shelled almonds, 26c.

PEANUTS — "Bon-Ton" roasted, 11c, "Sun" brand, roasted, 10c; "Coon" brand, 6½c; "Virginian," shelled, 10½c; Spanish, shelled, 11c.

CHEESE MARKET FIRMER.

BUTTER. — Several dealers thought they saw an easier tendency in the market for butter this morning. Of course, country boards were fractionally lower than a week since, but that is not necessarily of any particular weight. Some private cables from the other side apparently have predicted a decline in the near future. However, it is asserted that very recently cable offers of 21¼ to 21½c have been received for choicest creamery, and that 21¾c has been made lately for special two per cent. salted. If these reports are correct, it becomes less surprising to find these prices ruling here. Other dealers, however, declare that they would like to get bids at these prices, they having found it utterly impossible so far.

There is some demand locally, and the market appears to range around 21½c for choicest, with more being asked by many holders.

Receipts of butter reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 10,454 pkgs.

CHEESE. — The market for cheese is holding quite firm, notwithstanding the rather lower prices in the country yesterday. So far as the local market is concerned, there are many holders who have full confidence in prices, and are not prepared to accept less than 11⅝c for their finest goods. There are others, however, who will take 11½c, and these have had opportunities to do business, as there are buyers at that figure. In fact, it is claimed that private cables practically permit trading at present figures, a rather firmer market in England being thus indicated. Easterns are quoted at slightly higher prices to-day, owing possibly to the increased demand they met with at the recent unusually wide spread they occupied below Ontarios. To-day none could be had at less than 11¼c, and some holders were demanding 11⅜c.

Receipts of cheese reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 2254 boxes.

EGGS. — There seems to be very little change in the market for eggs. Choicest straight gathered stock is bringing 16½c, and probably 16¾c, while less desirable stock is obtainable at 16 to 16¼c. Dealers are still trying to buy at 15c, country points, and in many instances they are succeeding. Many invoices at higher figures have been returned. Candled, select eggs are being sold at 19c, and No. 2 stock at around 14c. The quality of the offerings is now quite poor, and the consumption has fallen off greatly since the hot weather and the fresh fruit arrived.

Receipts of eggs reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 1160 cases.

COUNTRY CHEESE BOARDS.

Stirling, June 28. — At the meeting of the cheese board, 945 boxes were offered; all sold at 11 3-16c.

Picton, Ont., June 28. — At our cheese board, 2 factories boarded 1,505 boxes, all colored. Highest bid, 11¼c; all sold.

Woodstock, Ont., June 28. — At the weekly cheese market, there was offered 4,656 boxes, including 2,131 of white and 2,525 of colored cheese, the largest board of the season. Prices ruled practically the same as last week, with the demand somewhat keener. On the board the bidding ranged from 10⅝ to 10⅞c, and no sales were registered. After the board meeting about 3,500 boxes sold from 10⅞ to 11⅛c, according to quality. This is two cents in advance of the price paid this time last year. The make continues the heaviest in years. In all 26 factories boarded cheese to-day.

Three Rivers, June 28. — Three hundred and six packages of butter and 369 boxes of cheese were boarded. Prices obtained were: 21¾c for salted butter, 21½c for unsalted butter, and 11c for cheese.

Lawrenceville, Que., June 28. — At the Lawrenceville butter and cheese board, 1,228 boxes of cheese and 100 boxes of butter were boarded. The market price for cheese was 11¼c, and the butter 21c.

NO BUYERS IN HAY MARKET.

MILLFEED — The market has been steady on bran and shorts for some time past. Shorts are in good demand for feeding, but bran is dull. Bran is quoted at $18 per ton, and shorts steady at $20 to $21 per ton.

FLOUR — The market for flour was firm. First patents, Manitobas, are quoted at $4.70, and second patents or strong bakers', $4.20, Montreal freights.

Ontarios are $4.40 to $4.50 per bbl. for patents, $4 to $4.10 for straight rollers, and $1.90 to $2 for straight rollers, in bags, extras being $1.65 to $1.75.

ROLLED OATS — The market is rather dull, but prices seem firm and fairly uniform, at $2.10 to $2.15 per bag to jobbers, and $2.25 to grocers. Barrel lots, double the price, and 25c added for barrel.

HAY — The market was reported in very bad shape this morning. It appears that there are no buyers to be found in this market just now, and that prices have suffered another decline. Liverpool is down 12s 6d, and demand is exceedingly light. Local quotations are $7.50 to $8 per ton for clover mixed, $8.50 to $9 for No. 2 timothy, and $9.50 to $10 for No. 1 track.

DIVIDENDS ON PREFERRED STOCK

Important Announcements made at Dominion Iron and Steel Annual.

PAST YEAR ENCOURAGING.

President Plummer Expresses Hope that the Government Will Continue Steel Bounties.

President J. H. Plummer, of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, made two important announcements at the annual meeting of that corporation, held at noon to-day in the Street Railway Chambers.

The first was that no plan of reorganizing the company's finances was contemplated; and the second was that he expected before long the company would be able to pay current dividends on the preferred stock; it being the intention to start in these payments by paying the interest as it fell due, and look to the deferred, or back payments, later on, when the corporation's financial standing is better than at present.

Mr. Plummer stated that the directors of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company are not satisfied with the earnings; they were satisfied however, with the progress which had been made during the past year. He pointed out that the company had earned during the year $767,000 over and above the bounties paid by the Dominion Government. This indicated progress for the year, as twelve months ago the statement did not show a dollar's profit over and above the bounties paid by the Government; while the year previous, 1904, the condition had even been worse.

FINANCIAL RE-ARRANGEMENT.

Respecting a re-arrangement of finances, Mr. Plummer stated that the matter had never come up before the Board, though it had been discussed privately by himself and other members. There was, in his opinion, no practical plan whereby a re-arrangement of finances would benefit the company; and there were many reasons why the banks which had come to their assistance, and had been extremely kind when the company was in a bad way, would object.

In answer to an enquiry, Mr. Plummer stated that the sum of $110,000 figuring as sinking fund in the liabilities, represented the amount which should have been taken up within the past two years, and was not because of lack of funds. A call would be issued now within a few days for the instalment due last July, and the next would be redeemed when due.

ASKS CONTINUANCE OF BOUNTIES.

Mr. Plummer, in concluding his remarks, spoke cheerfully of the company's future, and expressed the hope that the Government would see its way clar to maintain the bounties for some time to come; for while, perhaps, they could get along without the sums it represented it was nevertheless a matter of great moment, and its abrogation might be the means of crippling them very greatly.

Mr. Plummer referred to large expenditures which had been necessary during the year and which did not show on the general statement individually. For instance there was the rearrangement of the yard tracks which had been necessary owing to the increased tonnage handled by them. Then again it had been found necessary to build a new laboratory. Up to this time they had utilized a building which was little better than an old shed and not suited to this important department.

BESSEMER PLANT.

The Bessemer plant which they are now building would prove an important addition. It was no experiment—they could not afford to experiment—but had been used most successfully elsewhere. This would largely increase the capacity for the mills are capable of taking much more steel than the present furnaces can produce.

The president stated that the increased production and the decreased cost had been fairly satisfactory. They had suffered somewhat from the higher cost of materials, such, for instance, as manganese.

Messrs. Gordon Strathy and J. J. M. Pangman were appointed scrutineers, their duties being extremely easy as an old board of directors was re-elected unanimously with one ballot.

Secrecy—Despatch—Accuracy

The three cardinal points in an efficient audit are: "Secrecy, despatch, accuracy." The report which the auditor makes after the checking of the accounts has been done, should be placed in the hands of the manager of a company alone. A company also should not deter the working of a business by being too long on the books. Rapidity as a requisite of good auditing is only second to accuracy.

Weak Men

READ THIS PROOF.

James A. Pearce, Wincey Mill, Paris, Ont., who has just received a cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble, writes as follows.

Dr. McLaughlin,—

Dear Sir,—Your Belt, which I purchased some four months ago, has done me a world of good. I cannot say too much in praise of it. I had only worn it a week when I found a great difference in myself. The swelling began to go out of my leg, and instead of being hard and swollen, they began to be quite natural. I only wore the Belt for three months, and I can honestly say I am a well man. Instead of hardly being able to drag myself around with swollen feet and legs from rheumatism, I can now walk with pleasure, which I had not done in two years. I feel better in every way than I have for years. I am so glad you persuaded me to take your best Belt. It's been worth double the money to me.

You are at liberty to use this as a testimony, with my full endorsement, and trust that it may influence some poor sufferer to try one.

Such letters come to me every day. There is not a town or hamlet in the country which has not cures by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

NOT A CENT UNTIL YOU ARE CURED.

That is my offer. You take my latest improved appliance and use it in my way for three months, and if it does not cure, you need not pay me. My only condition is that you secure me, so that I will get my money when you are cured.

Give me a man broken down from dissipation, hard work or worry, from any cause which has sapped his vitality. Let him follow my advice for three months, and I will make him as vigorous in every respect as any man of his age.

I will not promise to make a Hercules of a man who was never intended by nature to be strong and sturdy. Even that man I can make better than he is; but the man who has been strong and has lost his strength I can make as good as he ever was.

I can give back to any man what he has lost by abuse of the laws of nature.

A man who is nervous, whose brain and body are weak, who sleeps badly, awakes more tired than when he went to bed, who is easily discouraged, inclined to brood over imaginary troubles, who has lost ambition and energy to tackle hard problems, lacks the animal electricity, which the Dr. McLaughlin Electric Belt supplies.

The whole force of vitality in your body is dependent upon your animal electricity. When you lose that in any manner my Belt will replace it and will cure you.

It's as good for women as for men. Worn while you sleep, it causes no trouble. You feel the gentle, glowing heat from it constantly, but no sting, no burning, as in the old-style belts.

Call to-day or send for my beautiful book, full of the things a man likes to read if he wants to be a strong man. I send it sealed free. Cut out this ad.

Borden as leader, and congratulating J. P. Whitney on his administration of provincial affairs and elected the following officers:—President, Dr. W. B. Cavanagh, Cornwall; vice-presidents, J. C. Milligan, for Cornwall town; J. Frank Cameron, for Cornwall township; Jas. Milligan, for Osnabruck; A. O. Miller, for Roxborough; H. McMillan, for Finch township; F. D. McNaughton, for Finch village; treasurer, A. T. Shaver; secretary, W. Gibbens.

Mutual and Equitable to Quit France

Paris, June 28.—Vice-President and General Manager Emory McClintock, and other officers of the Mutual Life, advise strongly that the French business of the Company be curtailed as it is impossible to find among the securities allowed by law, sufficient investments at four and a half per cent. for the amount of French premiums. The Equitable also advertises a whole floor of its Paris building for rent, indicating that it too will quit the field.

CALLED THEM 'GANG OF BUMS'

Former Canadian Finance Company Employee Criticizes Them in Court.

SCENE IN COURT ROOM.

Action Taken to Recover Money Alleged to Have Been Extorted by Finance Company.

The "friendship" which exists between the clients of the Canadian Finance Company and the officials of the concern was clearly demonstrated yesterday afternoon, in the case of Ulric Lescarbeau vs. S. P. Anderson, under whose name the Canadian Finance Company was doing business, when after a decision by Judge Dorion against the plaintiff, Gilbert Lang, former employe of the Canadian Finance Company, wanted more satisfaction than that given by the court, and threatened to take it with his fists. He was not at all bashful in his comments upon the Canadian Finance Company, which he branded as a gang of bums. Paluski, the company's official present in court, evidently relished neither the comments nor the threats, and when Lang wandered near him, he turned pale and became very nervous. Paluski was going to have a warrant sworn out against Lang for abusing the company so, but the official's friends advised him to keep out of as much trouble as he possibly could. He took the advice and accompanied by his counsel left the court room.

TO RECOVER PAYMENTS.

The plaintiff in the case was Ulric Lescarbeau, who claims that he was defrauded out of $44.60 by the Canadian Finance Company. He declares that on the first of May, 1905, Lang called at his place and offered him one hundred dollars at 5 per cent. a month. Upon accepting the offer, Lescarbeau said he was made to sign an agreement, the meaning of which he did not understand, as it was written in English. The result was that after eleven months he was obliged to pay $174.65 to the company, instead of $130, the amount which Lescarbeau claims was really due, according to the rate of interest agreed upon.

He therefore brought suit against the Canadian Finance Company to recover the difference, namely, the sum of $44.60.

Yesterday's hearing was on a motion made by the plaintiff to obtain a seizure on the company's property, prior to the court adjudicating upon his action. In support of his motion, Lescarbeau alleged that S. P. Anderson, the head of the concern, had left the province, with the intention to defraud his creditors, himself in particular. The evidence, however, showed that Anderson had never been in Canada, although business was being carried on here under his direction. For this reason Judge Dorion said that he was unable to grant Lascarbeau's request, and despite the persistent argument of Mr. Charlemagne Rodier, he dismissed it with costs. The hearing on the action itself will take place later.

The plaintiff in the case and those who like him are trying to recover money which they claim to have been extorted from them are much disappointed at the turn the case has taken, and seem to fear an unfavorable issue. They gave very free expression to their feelings at the court house.

UNDER FALSE PRETENCES.

Two Agents are Accused of Fraudulently Obtaining Money.

Ovide Lamouche was arraigned before Judge Lafontaine to-day on a charge of having obtained money under false pretenses from Joseph Hoolahan, tobacconist, 213 Notre Dame st., East.

Lamouche was working for Mr. Hoolahan as commission agent. It is alleged he made out a fake order for goods sending the same to Hoolahan and securing his commission. When the employer made up the order he found that no order of the kind had been given, and as a consequence the charge was laid against Lamouche. The latter pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until Tuesday for enquete.

Arsen Belair also appeared on a similar charge, being accused of having obtained $20 under false pretences from one Lefebvre, a plumber, for whom the accused is said to have done some bill-collecting. It is alleged that instead of turning in the money collected the prisoner kept it for himself. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for enquete on Tuesday next.

CHINESE CONSPIRACY CASE.

Three Accused Have Been Convicted, Fourth Now a Prisoner.

Another development took place in the Chinese conspiracy case to-day when Hum Fee appeared before Judge Lafontaine on a charge of conspiracy against Lee Johnson, whom the prisoner and three others accused of keeping a gambling house on Lagauchetiere street. It will be remembered that the three other Celestials were tried on this charge, found guilty, and convicted. Hum Fee managed to get away, but he was captured at Lac des Isles, by High Constable Cyr. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded till next Tuesday.

Is Charged with Burglary.

Burglary is the charge on which Joseph Jarri appeared before Judge Lafontaine to-day. He is accused of having entered No. 43 St. Phillip street, at 4 o'clock this morning, and of having stolen a bank book and $10 in money. The prisoner pleaded not guilty and was remanded till Tuesday for enquete.

DECIMAL MISPLACED.—In the list of the creditors of the New York Skirt Company, published yesterday, the Canada Paper Company was quoted as being a creditor to the amount of $475. It should have read $4.75.

MANY REQUESTS FOR CITY CHARITY

Civic Committee Considered Forty-Two Applications at Yesterday's Meeting.

The Committee on Civic Charities met yesterday afternoon, Ald. Robinson presiding. A report was read showing that the following applications had been made to the committee:

For committals of insane patients, 22; for committals of uncared for children, 13; for placing paupers in refuges, 4; and for sending incurable patients to the hospitals, 2; making a total of 41 cases.

Of the 22 insane, 16 were committed temporarily, pending investigation; one was sent back to a house of refuge, from which he had wandered; one died in gaol, while under medical examination, and the remaining four are still under medical examination.

The committee considered thirteen cases which had been sent in to commit children to industrial schools. It was decided to accept eight of the children. The remainder were refused, as it was thought they ought to be cared for by friends. Much time was spent in discussing the cases of the insane. It was thought the city was more or less being imposed upon by having to take care of insane who were not really citizens of Montreal. One case touched upon was that of an immigrant who was insane before sailing to this country. Another case considered was that of a woman who was so badly addicted to liquor that much of her life had to be spent in insane asylums. It was decided to refuse the care of certain paupers who had been sent to Montreal from foreign places.

Waterways Commission Adjourned.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 28.—The International Waterways Commission took no action in the application of H. H. Warren, of Massena, and S. L. Dawley, of Ogdensburg, for permission to build a power canal on the Long Sault channel of the St. Lawrence. The commission meets again in Toronto in July.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR CATTLE MARKET

Canadian Pacific will Spend Thousand Dollars, if City Will do Same.

When the Market Committee met yesterday afternoon a complaint was made that certain farmers, who stand at Bonsecours market, had got into the habit of giving customers short weight. It is charged that the farmers in question labelled their meat showing the weight, but that when taken home and weighed, the farmers' weights were found to be false.

The committee gave instructions to have the matter enquired into and a full report made upon it.

The C. P. R., lessees of the Eastern Cattle Market, wrote the committee saying that it was willing to vote one thousand dollars to repair the alleys of the market if the city would vote an additional sum to do additional paving. A report will be made as to what the city's share of the work would be.

The Approach of Bright's Disease

Bright's disease as well as the other dreadfully painful forms of kidney disease can usually be prevented and cured by giving some attention to the diet and to the activity of the liver and kidneys.

Excesses in eating and the use of alcoholic drinks must be avoided, and the filtering organs can best be kept in good working order by the use of Dr Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The derangements which lead to Bright's disease usually have their beginning in a torpid liver, and there is suffering from headaches, biliousness and indigestion before the kidneys fail and such symptoms appear as backache, scanty, highly colored urine, painful, scalding urination, deposits in urine, etc.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills succeed where ordinary kidney medicines fail, because of their direct and combined action on the liver and kidneys. This has been proven in thousands of cases of serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Offer of $150,000, 7% Cumulative Preference Shares

By agreement, dated April 24th, 1906, between Smart Bag Company, Limited, and a Syndicate of Underwriters represented by Chas. A. Smart, Wm. Strachan, and H. N. Chauvin, Syndicate Managers, $400,000, 7 per cent. Cumulative Preference Stock has been underwritten and $150,000 is now offered for public subscription at par, carrying with it a bonus of 25 per cent. fully paid-up Common Stock of the Company. The balance of the stock has been taken up by the Directors and underwriters.

After the above stock is issued there will remain in the Treasury, for future issue, $100,000 Preferred Stock and $250,000 Common Stock.

Organization.

This company has been formed for the purpose of manufacturing jute and cotton bags of every kind, burlaps, buckrams, paddings, ropes, twines, etc., and under date of the 24th February, 1906, Mr. C. A. Smart transferred to the Company all his rights in a contract with the JOHN DICK, LTD., dated the 27th January, 1906, by which the entire Bag and Canvas business of JOHN DICK, LIMITED, embracing factories at Toronto and Winnipeg, was taken over by the Smart Bag Co., Ltd.

The purchase price of the business of John Dick, Ltd., was $150,000.00, of which half was payable in cash and the balance, $75,000.00, in 6 per cent. bonds, secured by mortgage on the Toronto property. These bonds are to be retired in amounts of $1,875.00 every six months, and the interest is payable semi-annually. The bonded indebtedness of the company will, therefore, be gradually reduced, as well as the fixed charge for interest.

The factories acquired are to be enlarged and improved, and contracts have been given for the erection of a modern up-to-date factory at Montreal, which will be ready for operation by October, 1906.

The Bag Business.

The bag business is an important industry in this country, with its great and growing agricultural production, and with the steadily increasing population of Canada, owing to the large immigration into the North-West and the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, it is bound to continue to expand for many years to come.

Last year the increased demand for jute and cotton bags was fully 25 per cent. in excess of the preceding year, and existing factories were unable to cope with the business in the fall of the year, at which time the demand is always greatest.

Whereas formerly there were three companies in the field competing for business, there are now only two, as two of the companies have been merged, while the third, John Dick, Ltd., has been incorporated with the Smart Bag Co., Ltd.

There are at present in course of construction, enough new flour and cereal mills, to consume the entire output of a moderate sized bag factory, such as this Company proposes to erect in Montreal.

Properties and Assets.

With factories located at the three principal distributing points, viz., Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, this company will have the advantage over its competitors of being able to effect a considerable saving in freight rates, and will be able to make more prompt deliveries to its customers.

The Directors confidently expect that the properties at Toronto and Winnipeg, when enlarged and improved, will be capable of doubling the present output.

The paid-up capital of the Company will be sufficient to provide ample working capital, and full advantage will be taken of all cash discounts on purchases.

The Montreal and Winnipeg factories will be entirely free of encumbrances, the Bond issue of $75,000 being applied on the Toronto property only.

Management.

The Management of the Company will be in the hands of Mr. Charles A. Smart, who has had fifteen years' experience in the bag business and is well and favorably known to the consumers from Halifax to Victoria.

Mr. J. T. F. Keene, who for many years was Mr. Smart's Assistant in the management of the Dominion Bag Co., Ltd., is Secretary-Treasurer of the Company and is thoroughly acquainted with the trade and its requirements.

TORONTO BRANCH.—Mr. F. Judd Kennedy, formerly a Director of John Dick, Ltd., and who for many years had the management of the Bag and Canvas branch of that Company, is Manager of the Toronto Branch of this Company, and brings with him a large and valuable connection.

WESTERN BRANCH.—The Winnipeg end of the business is under the able management of Mr. W. G. McMahon, who has managed the Winnipeg Branch of John Dick Ltd., for many years, and who is well and favorably known to all the trade throughout the North-West. Mr. McMahon is Western Managing Director.

Past Earnings.

The earnings of all the companies in the bag business for the past twenty years have been entirely satisfactory. The average net yearly earnings of the bag and canvas business of John Dick Ltd., for the four years ending April 1st, 1905, exceeded $30,000 or over 15 per cent. upon its capital, after allowing for all expenses of management, salaries and fixed charges. The net earnings for eleven months ending March 1st, 1906, were $43,677.09.

PURPOSES OF PREFERRED STOCK ISSUE.

Working Capital	150,000.00
	$400,000.00

Future Earnings.

With increased facilities and the valuable trade connection brought to the Company by Mr. Smart and Mr. Keene, it is confidently expected that the volume of business done by John Dick, Ltd., will be more than doubled, with profits in proportion.

For the first three months that this Company operated the Toronto and Winnipeg plants the sales have increased $33,600, equal to 41 per cent., as compared with the same period last year.

Average net profits of John Dick, Ltd., on business of $400,000	$30,000.00
Increased business, say, $500,000.00 on same basis of profit	37,500.00
	$67,500.00

Application for Shares.

Application for shares should be addressed to the Montreal Trust & Deposit Company, who have been appointed agents to receive subscriptions at its Montreal office, payable:

10 per cent. with subscription.
10 per cent. on allotment.
20 per cent. August 1st, 1906.
20 per cent. October 1st, 1906.
20 per cent. December 1st, 1906.
20 per cent. February 1st, 1907.

Interim receipts will be given for each payment, bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum from the date of their issue, until February 1st, 1907, when they may be exchanged for the relative share certificates of the company.

The full amount may be paid up on any of the above dates, when stock certificates will be issued.

All the directors of the Company have taken their full proportion of this stock.

It is the intention of the Directors to have the stock of the Company listed on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

The Directors reserve the right to decline any subscription or to allot to any applicant for shares, a less number than applied for. In cases where allotment is not made, the deposit will be returned.

Subscription lists will be opened Monday, June 25th, and closed at noon on Saturday, June 30th, 1906. Subscriptions mailed on or before June 30th will be considered.

Montreal, June 4th, 1906.

A complete prospectus has been issued and copies can be had, together with application forms, by applying to any office of Smart Bag Company, Ltd., to the solicitors or auditors, or to any branch in Canada of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

EXEMPTION CLAUSE OF LORD'S DAY BILL WAS REJECTED BY THE HOUSE

American Sunday Papers Excluded From Canada—A Variety of Opinions Expressed by Various Members—Ministers Differ—Mr. Borden's Clause Passed.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Press Gallery, House of Commons, Ottawa, June 28.—Practically the entire sitting of the House yesterday was devoted to the Lord's Day bill, and some progress was made. The clause excluding American Sunday newspapers was adopted, the opinion being almost unanimous that if wholesome, and respectable Canadian Sunday newspapers were to be prohibited, inferior and often trashy American publications should not be sold on Sunday.

There was a lengthy discussion over the clause proposing to grant exemption to Jews and others observing the seventh day of the week. Several amendments were proposed but all were voted down, and then the clause itself was rejected, so that the exemption disappears from the bill.

The question of the jurisdiction of a provincial legislature to legislate respecting Sunday observance was raised and Mr. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, stated that in the Ontario appeal that went before the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council, that court held that the Ontario law in issue was ultra vires because it trenched upon the domain of the criminal law which belonged to the federal parliament. It was certainly within the jurisdiction of a provincial legislature to legislate on all questions relating to property and civil rights so long as they do not encroach upon the domain of criminal law. He could see no reason why they should not legislate validly as to Sunday observance.

When the House resumed at 3 o'clock, the House in committee of the whole returned to clause 9 of the Lord's Day bill, which prohibited target shooting on Sunday. An amendment proposed by Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition, was accepted by the Committee, and it was passed in place of the clause as it appeared in the bill. Mr. Borden's clause was to the effect that it shall be unlawful for any person to shoot at a target, etc., on Sunday for gain, or in such a manner and place as to disturb persons attending religious service or who are otherwise observing the Lord's Day.

AMERICAN PAPERS EXCLUDED.

The committee then passed to clause 10, which reads as follows: "It shall not be lawful for any person to bring into Canada for sale or distribution or to sell or distribute within Canada on the Lord's Day any foreign newspaper or publication classified as a newspaper."

This led to a long discussion. Mr. Bourassa, Liberal of Labelle, read a letter he had received from the keeper of the news stand in a Toronto hotel, pointing out that the clause if enacted, would close such stands on Sunday and would also prevent the sale of postage stamps.

Mr. Bole, Liberal of Winnipeg, held that the American Sunday newspapers should be kept out of Canada. Most of them, said he, were a disgrace to civilization.

Col. Hughes, Conservative of Victoria-Haliburton, held that some of them were excellent.

Mr. Ross, Liberal of Yale-Cariboo, said that if they were going to stop the publication of respectable Canadian Sunday newspapers, then to be consistent they should prohibit the Sunday sale of American newspapers.

Mr. Bourassa thought the same. It would be wrong to stop the publication of clean Canadian Sunday newspapers and let in trash from the United States. He also pointed out that the American papers would come in on week days and take the field that Canadians would have occupied had not their Sunday papers been stopped.

Mr. Macdonell, Conservative of South Toronto, saw no difference between a news stand selling magazines and newspapers. If the laboring people could buy a good newspaper on Sunday the reading of it on that day did them no harm.

Mr. Macpherson, Liberal of Vancouver, also held that Canadian Sunday papers being prohibited, American papers should not be sold on Sunday. The average American Sunday paper was far below the standard of the Canadian press.

Mr. Verville, Laborite of Maisonneave, spoke to like effect. They had stopped the wholesome Canadian Sunday paper that the working people wanted—solid, moral Canadian papers—and they should not let in the American rival that, as a rule, was very inferior to the Canadian publication.

The clause was then adopted without serious opposition.

CLAUSE FAVORING THE JEWS.

The next clause was that in favor of the Jews and others. It read as follows: "Notwithstanding anything herein contained, whoever conscientiously and habitually observes the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath and actually refrains from work and labor on that day, shall not be subject to prosecution for performing work or labor on the first day of the week, provided that such work or labor does not disturb other persons in the observance of the first day of the week as holy time; and that the place where the same is performed is not open for traffic on that day."

Mr. Bourassa held that all this should be left to provincial legislation. However, the bill was before them, and he moved an amendment to the clause to the effect that if the Jews or others coming within the scope of the exception worked on Saturday or on whatever day was their holy time, then they should be compelled to refrain from working on the Christian Sunday; but if they refrained from working on Saturday or on their holy day then they should be permitted to work on Sunday, provided they did not disturb the day for others who observed it.

It was better, said Mr. Bourassa, that the small Hebrew population should suffer some hardship than that the liberties of two million Canadians should be curtailed—two millions whose forefathers established civilization in this country. Nor did he believe in forcing the Jews to observe two days a week, and so compel them to earn their livelihood within five days a week.

Mr. Smith, Liberal, of North Oxford was opposed to any exemption in favor of the Jews. They were only a handful, this was a Christian country and the Jews should conform to the laws of the land.

Mr. Bickerdike, Liberal, of St. Lawrence, Montreal, was in favor of Mr. Bourassa's amendment.

Mr. Kennedy, Liberal, of New Westminster, thought the Jews should accept the first day of the week as their holy day.

CABINET AT VARIANCE.

Mr. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, admitted that the members of the Cabinet were not of one mind respecting this question. As for himself, he did not believe in making an exemption in favor of the Jews, who formed only one-half of one per cent. of the population. The Jews were not strangers in Canada, and when they came here they knew it was a country in which the Christian Sunday was observed. He would vote against the amendment and against the clause itself.

Mr. Bergeron, Conservative, of Beauharnois, spoke highly of the Jews; they were a law-abiding, industrious charitable people. Canada was a Christian country, but we could best show our Christianity by being tolerant.

Mr. Blair, Conservative of Peel, simply stated that he was opposed to the exemption.

In so far as the exception was in the direction of civil and religious liberty, said Mr. Monk, Conservative of Jacques Cartier, he was in favor of the same; but he feared the exception would lead to agitation, and that year after year other classes would come to Parliament and ask for exceptions similar to that enjoyed by the Hebrew population. In this way the observance of the Sunday would become a political question to be tossed back and forth like a ball in the political arena. That would be an undesirable state of affairs.

MR. MONK'S APPEAL.

Apart from that Mr. Monk directed the attention of the committee to cases that would be affected by the bill as a whole. Near the entrance to the Cote des Neiges Cemetery (Montreal), and in his constituency of Jacques Cartier, a helpless cripple sat on Sunday, and sold light refreshments to persons going to the cemetery. In this way that unfortunate person earned a meagre livelihood. The bill would prohibit the carrying on of his little business; what then, who had represented him.

And there was the case of the poor who on Sunday put the graves of relatives in order and who at the entrance to the cemetery bought a flower with which to decorate a grave. They had not been heard.

He did not challenge the motive of those who framed and introduced the bill, but it would open up a field of discussion from which good would not be the result. The bill should not have gone farther than the connecting of gross abuses in and about the large cities.

PREMIER BELIEVED IN EXEMPTION.

The Prime Minister reminded the committee that the House having passed the second reading of the bill its prinicple had been accepted. It was practically useless to argue about this matter, for their conclusions long since arrived at, were due to early training, education, and special circumstances. As for himself he was in favor of exemption in behalf of minorities. The bill did not propose to compel the religious observance of the Sunday, but to secure one day of rest out of every seven days for all classes of the population. He would accept the amendment proposed by Mr. Bourassa.

As regards the cases cited by Mr. Monk—working on Sunday, on the grave of a relative—were provided for in the bill. They would come under the head of works of mercy and were therefore permitted.

Mr. Fielding also had a draft of an amendment, but he did not present it then. It would permit those who habitually observe one day of the week as a holy time shall be permitted to work on Sunday in a building, but in such a manner as not to disturb the peace of others, but they must not engage in the buying and selling of merchandise.

"In these matters," said Mr. Fielding, "we must live and let live." If the views of a minority could be met without injury to the other elements of the population then such action should be taken.

Mr. Ganong, Conservative, of Charlotte, opposed the proposed amendment. It would permit a Jew running a factory to carry on his business on Sunday, but those whose business was outside of a building could not work. In short he opposed any exception. Everybody had sufficient religious liberty in this country.

MINISTERS' CONTRADICTORY VIEWS.

Mr. Lemieux, Postmaster-General, held that Mr. Bourassa's amendment embodied in true Liberal principle and all Reformers should support it.

Mr. Paterson, Minister of Customs, did not agree with his colleague. This, he said, was not a matter of conscience, because it did not compel religious observance, it simply secured a day of rest. He could not support the amendment.

Dr. Schaffner, Conservative of Souris, had been a member of the select committee that studied the bill, and the more he heard of it, the more he was convinced that a Lord's Day bill was impracticable. The principle of the measure was sound, but it was difficult to work out. He was opposed to the exemption in favor of the Jews. In regard to Sunday amusements, he said the people of Manitoba wanted none of them. In fact, nowhere was the Sunday better observed than in Manitoba.

The peculiar position of the members of the Government on this question was pointed out by Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition. Two ministers agreed with Mr. Bourassa, and yet the position of the latter was inconsistent with the views of the Minister of Justice. Notwithstanding the fact that the bill was introduced by the Government there was this remarkable divergence of opinion.

MR. BORDEN CITES HOLY WRIT.

Mr. Borden objected to Mr. Bourassa's amendment on the ground that it would permit those claiming the benefit of the exemption to set up any day of the week as a day of rest. There had been no general demand for so wide an exception. Holy writ spoke of two days of rest—the seventh or Sabbath of the Jews, and the first day of the week, or the Sunday of the Christians, who formed the great majority of the population of this country. It would be better to keep to these two days of rest and not adopt Mr. Bourassa's amendment, which went beyond the necessities of the case.

Mr. Foster was opposed to the amendment and he would also oppose the proposed amendment of Mr. Fielding if it was presented.

Mr. Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, suported the clause in the bill.

Mr. Parmelee, Liberal of Shefford, said he believed in protecting minorities and he spoke in behalf of the Seventh Day Adventists, of whom there were a large number in his county, all of whom were law-abiding respectable people. Their conscientious views respecting the Holy Day should not be trampled on.

It had been stated that many of the employes in the factories owned by Jews were christians. In Montreal, said Mr. Ames, that was not the case, where ninety per cent. of such employes were Christians.

Mr. Gervais, Liberal of St. James, Montreal, said he would support the clause giving the Jews exemption for that was about the only good feature of the bill, and he would reserve his right to vote against the bill as a whole.

That clause did not give the Jews a new right; it simply confirmed a right granted in 1829 by a statute giving Jewish congregations in the old Province of Quebec the right of worship and the right to keep registers of births, deaths and marriages. A day of religious observance was essential to worship so that the Jews had a right to observe the seventh day according to the practice of their religion.

At 11.20 o'clock Mr. Bourassa's amendment was put and was lost, 43 members supporting it, and 94 opposing. It was a vote in committee of the whole, when in voting the members stand and are counted, no record of names being kept. Three Ministers voted with Mr. Bourassa—The Prime Minister, Mr. Brodeur, and Mr. Lemieux.

Six Ministers were among the 94 who voted against Mr. Bourassa's amendment; namely, Mr. Aylesworth, Sir Frederick Borden, Mr. Emmerson, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Fisher.

Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition voted on the same side.

MR. FIELDING'S AMENDMENT.

Mr. Fielding then presented his amendment, the effect of which would limit the work that Jews are to be permitted to engage in on Sunday to such as can be performed within a building. That would prevent the work being offensive to others and it would prevent a grievance arising. Mr. Fielding spoke of the gracious act of the King who had given up Friday night as the time for his receptions, so as to permit Jews to attend; they could not attend on that night because their Sabbath began then.

Mr. Carvell, Liberal of Carleton, N.B., and the Minster of Agriculture, spoke against the amendment.

Mr. Fielding's amendment was lost without a count being demanded, and also one by Mr. Ames, his amendment limiting the exemption to the seventh day.

The original clause 11, as it appears in the bill, and which provided for exemptions in favor of Jews was then put and last—ayes 57, nays 79.

Three Minsters voted for the clause; namely, the Prime Minister, Mr. Brodeur and Mr. Fisher.

Mr. Borden, leader of the Opposition, voted on the same side.

Three Ministers voted against the clause. Mr. Aylesworth, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson.

Among the Conservatives who voted on the same side were: Mr. Foster, Dr. Sproule, Mr. Stockton.

The committee then proceeded to other clauses, a number of which were passed. At the suggestion of Mr. Gervais, it was provided that violations of the bill must be prosecuted within 30 days after their commission. After that time prosecutions would be barred.

At 12.15 a.m. the committee rose and reported progress. The House then adjourned.

The Sunday bill will not be proceeded with again before Friday at the earliest.

THE BELL TELEPHONE BILL.

One hour of the evening was devoted to private bills, and one was disposed of. It was the bill authorizing the Bell Telephone Company to increase its capital to $30,000,000. It stood for a third reading and Mr. Maclean, moved in amendment, that the company be compelled to dispose of its new stock by private sale at the current market price.

Mr. Maclean and his supporters forced the amendment to a division, when the amendment was lost. Ayes, 24; nays, 96.

Ontario to Issue Bonds.

Toronto, June 28.—The Provincial Government will issue $3,000,000 provincial bonds direct. This is for the continuing of the second section of the Temiskaming and Northern Railway.

OTHER MILITIA CHANGES.

A Number of Promotions, Retirements, Etc., in Regiments of Quebec Province.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—General militia orders contain a number of announcements of some interest. Among these is the appointment of ten officers from the Imperial army temporarily to various branches of the Canadian permanent forces. Those appointed to the Royal Canadian Artillery are Captain St. Leger Montgomery Moore, R.G.A. and Lieut. Travers Kirkland, R.F.A. To the Royal Canadian Engineers go Major R. R. Ward, R.E.; Captain Maximilian St. Leger Simon, R.E., and Lieut. H. L. Wright, R.E. The Ordnance Store Corps gets Captain F. J. Odevaine, A.O.D.; Hon. Captain E. H. Robinson, A.O.D., inspector of ordnance machinery, second class; and Hon. Lieut. John Wight, A.O.D., assistant commissary of ordnance. To the Permanent Army Service Corps, go Lieut. M. L. B. H. Lambert, A.S.C., and Lieut. A. H. Roberts, A.S.C. Most of these appointments are for two years; the exceptions are Captain Robinson, whose term is four years, and Lieut. Wight, who comes for six months only.

Col. J. F. Wilson, R.C.A., and Lt.-Col. A. Roy, D.O.C., No. 7, are gazetted hon. A.D.C.'s to the Governor-General.

Other appointments and promotions, etc. of interest to Quebec province are the following:—

7th Brigade, 15th Shefford Battery—To be provisional lieutenant: Sergt. Joseph Calixte Marcotte.

Lord Grey Enjoying Fishing Trip.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 28.—His Excellency the Governor-General is reported to be enjoying excellent fishing in the Metapedia river, Bonaventure county, where he is holidaying in company with Lady Sybil Grey.

His Excellency recently made a catch of four fine salmon, one of which he sent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, another to Premier Gouin, of Quebec, and another to Sir Louis Jette, and the fourth to Mr. Charles Marcil, federal member for the county.

Scientist Up for Manslaughter.

London, June 28.—Dr. Geo. Robt. Adcock was arraigned at the Old Bailey to-day charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Major John Nicholas Whyte, of the Lancashire Fusiliers. He pleaded not guilty.

Dr. Adcock, after many years' practice, became a Christian Scientist, and it is charged by the Attorney-General, Sir J. Lawson Walton, that he should have known his action was fatal to his patient.

How China Pays Its Rainmakers.

Tien-Tsin, June 28.—Five criminals condemned to death in Chi-li, obtained their deliverance in a unique manner. Extreme drought has prevailed, and Viceroy Yuan Shihkai told the men that if their prayers for rain were heard within three days, they would be liberated. A slight rainfall followed, and now five others are engaged in prayer under the same condition.

Algeciras Treaty Laid Over.

Washington, June 28.—According to an agreement between the opposing parties in the Senate, the treaty negotiated at Algeciras, in which the United States, the European powers and Morocco are concerned, will be reported in December, and voted on not later than December 20.

FLOWER SALE ☛ MILLINERY PARLOR

An Unrivalled Clearance Sale

This week brings the first radical and general clearance of the season. All odds and broken lots are marked at deeply cut figures and everything that we wish to move out promptly before the season progresses further is marked at "double quick" prices.

The following lots include many stocks recently bought from manufacturers, and which are singled out for immediate clearance at prices which are astonishingly fractional. Advertising is the key that opens the door to economy on behalf of the buyer. Any publicity that does not do this is short lived. People who have bought in response to our announcements are keen readers and buyers to-day.

HOMESPUN SUITS, all new styles, regular prices up to $16.50. Choice at $12.00
HOMESPUN AND TWEED SUITS, worth $12.00. Choice $7.98
ALL WOOL BLUE SERGES AND TWEEDS, all sizes worth up to $15.00, for $9.90

Our announcement of values are carefully given and we would rather under-estimate (and give better than we promise) than over-estimate.

FRENCH DOCTORS IN CONFERENCE

Session at Three Rivers Drawing to a Close—Visit to Shawinigan Falls.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Three Rivers, June 28.—The third annual convention of French-speaking doctors of the continent of North America has been going on here for the past three days.

The official opening of the congress did not take place until the evening, however, when His Honor Sir Louis Jette, the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec; His Lordship Mgr. Cloutier, Bishop of Three Rivers; and the Hon. Lomer Gouin, Premier of the Province of Quebec, graced the gathering by their presence. Baron d'Halewyn, the vice-consul from France; Mr. H. Triboulet, doctor of the hospitals of Paris, and official delegate of the French Government and of the Therapeutic Society of Paris, to the convention, and Mr. Proust, the official delegate of the University of Paris, were also present, and made speeches during the evening.

Yesterday the professional business of the congress commenced in earnest, and several interesting and instructive lectures were delivered by the different delegates on medical subjects, the session finishing up with a lecture and discussion upon alcoholism.

Last evening Dr. and Mrs. Panneton entertained the visiting doctors at a reception, and this morning the whole delegation left on a visit to Grand Mere and Shawinigan Falls offered to the official delegates by the local [illegible] work and became emeritus professor. For many years he acted as registrar of the faculty and for a long period was the treasurer. He was appointed Dean in 1859 and had long occupied the chair of hygiene and public health, a position he filled with the greatest satisfaction to the medical fraternity and the public. He was a strong believer of the germ theory of disease when a youthful student and his graduation thesis was "on the nature of zymotic diseases." For many years past he was a prominent member of the Provincial Board of Health and his advice and suggestions were always of the greatest help to the Board. He was consulting physician to the General Hospital and by virtue of his office as Dean, he was a governor of the Royal Victoria Hospital and had much to do in assisting in its internal arrangements and equipment with the very latest improvements in furniture and instruments. The present building of the medical faculty of McGill, which was opened in 1885, found a strong and warm supporter in Dr. Craik. He and other eminent physicians saw its necessity and were ably seconded in their efforts by many public spirited citizens who, on the appeal of the Dean and others, found the money necessary to provide and furnish a building worthy of the profession and McGill.

McGILL VASTLY IMPROVED.

Dr. Craik held the appointment of Dean of the Faculty until 1901, and during his administration the progress of the faculty was phenomenal. Vast additions were made to the buildings and equipment, and the number of professors and teachers was doubled. The number of students also was more than doubled. In 1888-89 the number was 227; in 1900-01, the number had risen to 490, of whom 467 were undergraduates.

During the same period the Montreal General Hospital, so intimately associated with the work of the Faculty, was extended, remodelled, and practically rebuilt, and the Royal Victoria Hospital, also closely allied with the Faculty, was built, equipped and established as a great working hospital. In all of these operations, Dr. Craik took a prominent and active part. In 1895 he received the honorary degree of LL.D. from his Alma Mater in recognition of "eminent services to public health, to the university, and to medical education."

AGRICULTURE A HOBBY.

Dr. Craik found time in his busy professional life to devote attention to agriculture and the turf. He was an enthusiastic farmer and breeder of fine stock. At his country place, "Craikstone," situated on the northern outskirts of Montreal, Dr. Craik developed one of the finest herds of Polled Angus cattle in America, a herd which won many prizes at the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893 and he was lately engaged in perfecting an equally fine herd of Holstein-Fresian dairy cattle. Many thoroughbred horses from his stables have won fame for themselves and their owners on the turf, and he had several Queen's Plate and Hunt Cups to his credit.

In 1856 Dr. Craik married Alice, eldest daughter of the late Alexander Symmers, of Dublin, Ireland, solicitor in Chancery. Mrs. Craik died in 1874 without issue.

Dr. Craik was a member of the Mount Royal, St. James's, Bel-Air and Hunt Clubs.

BRITISH-AMERICAN CONCERT.

King Edward Attends to Hear Canadian Singers and Music.

London, June 28.—King Edward received a cordial welcome both outside Queen's Hall and inside, when he was escorted to his box by Lord Strathcona, to attend the British-Canadian concert, organized by Dr. C. A. E. Harriss, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the Minto Cottage Fund in Canada. Dr. Harriss' "Pan" was the chief feature of the concert and was enthusiastically received. He was assisted by the London Symphony Orchestra, and a chorus of 250, while the soloists were Mlle. Donalda, Miss Ida Kahn, John Harrison, Frangcon, Davies. The programme included selections from the works of Mackenzie, Parry, Stanford, Elgar, Cowen, conducted by the composers.

There's but 150 Parasols in To-morrow's Offering at 50c

We refer to the lot now on view in our windows. Best to state the quantity exactly, because from the enquiries we've had about these parasols there won't be half enough to supply those wanting them, and we dislike so much disappointing people, but we can't get any more to sell at that price, not likely to have later on either, so come early to-morrow.

There's blue and white, black and white, and ecru and white stripes; white with Dresden designs, plain white, cream and ecru, crepe, watered and mercerized coverings, straight and shepherd crook enamelled wood handles, worth up to $1.50. Friday 50c

Colored Quilts — Colored Honeycomb quilts, size 87 x 60, blue and pink, with fringed ends. Reg. $1.15. Friday, each 75c

Hammocks — Full size Fancy Colored Cord Hammocks, with valance and spreader, a $1.50 value. Friday, each . $1.15

Curtain Muslin — A 24 inches wide Fancy Stripe Open Work White Curtain Muslin, a 10c value. Friday, yard 7c

OUTING REQUISITES FOR DOMINION DAY

To be in need of a Skirt, Suit or Hat for the holiday outing and overlook this sale would certainly be injudicious, because the styles are eminently desirable for the purpose, and the prices are of such unparalleled lowness that you may not have such another opportunity.

Crash Linen Outing Skirts — cut full flare, well made and perfect fitting, two of the season's most popular styles of Outing Skirts. To-morrow special at 89c

Ladies' White Duck Skirts — A splendid range of these pretty Outing Skirts, excellently made and perfect hanging, a very special value Friday at $1.75

Cream Serge Skirts — and Lustres that are suitable for either outing or street wear, hand tailored, several styles, ranging in price from .. $5.95

Ladies' Linen Hats — An elaborately trimmed hat is certainly out of place at a picnic or excursion. See our natty styles of Ladies' White Linen Hats Friday at $1.25

Ladies' Shirtwaist Suits — A full range of Percale, Muslin and Gingham Suits, cool and dressy, all colors and all styles. Four special values for Friday at $1.10, $1.25, $2.25, $5.95

PROBABILITIES FOR NEXT 24 HOURS.

Light to moderate winds, fine and decidedly warm.

To-day is one more argument in favor of the virtue of a summer home and the sinfulness of working in high temperatures. Any far-seeing politician who would bring forward a Hot Day Observance bill would find a multitude of supporters in down-town offices. It was the general opinion that the only persons who should be allowed to toil in such weather are street car operators and purveyors of liquid refreshments. The only ones dissenting from this almost unanimous resolution were the parties mentioned.

Charlie Yep Again Acquitted.

Charlie Yep, who was accused of having counterfeited a $2 bank note, was acquitted before Judge Desnoyers in the enquete Court to-day. On May 19th he was arrested for having counterfeited a $5 bill. During the trial a $2 bill was produced as having been also counterfeited. This was ruled out as not being included in the charge, and after he had been acquitted on the $5 bill charge an action was entered against him for counterfeiting the $2 bill.

FAMOUS SPORTSMAN DEAD IN HAMILTON

Mr. William Hendrie, who Organized the Railway Cartage Service, Expires.

HIS CAREER IN BUSINESS.

Came from Scotland Early in Life and Took Prompt Advantage of His Opportunities.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., June 28.—William Hendrie died at his home here yesterday. He had been very ill for some months, not having been out of the house since last November. He made a determined fight for life and the doctors expressed wonder that he should have lived so long. Several months ago they said that he would not last another hour. During the races here Mr. Hendrie took a great interest in the events. Dr. Osler, Professor of Medicine at Oxford University, was called some time ago in consultation and an operation was performed.

WILLIAM HENDRIE,

The distinguished sportsman and capitalist, who died in Hamilton yesterday.

LATE MR. HENDRIE'S CAREER.

William Hendrie was a native of Scotland, having been born in the city of Glasgow in the year 1831. He and Mrs. W. K. Muir, of Detroit, wife of the former general manager of the old Great Western Railway, were the oldest and twin children of John and Elizabeth (Strathearn) Hendrie. Mr. Hendrie received his early education in Glasgow, and studied law in that city for a few years. Not taking a great fancy to that vocation he, at the age of 17, entered the service of the Glasgow and South-Western Railway, and from that date his successful career as a railway man began. In 1851 he accepted an appointment in the head office of the North-Eastern Railway at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and was in the freight department for several years.

In 1855 Mr. Hendrie received the appointment which brought him to Canada, coming to Hamilton to enter the service of the then Great Western Railway. This road, since absorbed by the Grand Trunk, was then being constructed and Mr. Hendrie at once took up this branch of the work. He also took general contracting work on a large scale, one of his first great works being the laying of the mains of the Hamilton water works system. He was one of the promoters of the Wellington Grey and Bruce Railway, and built most of the system from Southampton to Kincardine. He also built Harrisburg and Brantford branch, the Canfield and Welland division and the Allanburg and Clifton branch. Subsequently, in conjunction with others he built the Northern and Pacific Junction from Gravenhurst to the Canadian Pacific Railway at Lake Nipissing.

ORGANIZED RAILWAY CARTAGE.

Mr. Hendrie's most important business enterprise, however, was the organization of the present railway cartage system in Canada. In 1855, the year of his arrival in Canada, he saw the inefficiency of the delivery service, and proposed a cartage system to the then manager of the road, Mr. J. C. Brydges. The scheme was approved of, and, in partnership with Mr. John Sheddon, the service was started in Hamilton and London. So successful was it that it was soon applied to the entire system. In 1858 the partners separated, Mr. Hendrie taking all the business of Hamilton and all points west. Mr. Hendrie served as president of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway, director of the Hamilton and North-Western and the Northern and North-Western Railways, director of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, president of the Ontario Cotton Company, president of the Hamilton Bridge Company, president of the Ontario and Qu'Appelle Land Company, and director of the Canada Life Assurance Company, the Toronto Ferry Company, the Hamilton Gas Light Company, the Victoria Rolling Stock Company, and various other institutions. He was for over thirty years a director, and at one time president of the Hamilton Great Central Fair, and was one of the most successful stock breeders in Canada. For many years he imported and bred Clydesdales and other breeds of the best heavy draught horses, and as early as 1863 began the importation of thoroughbreds.

His Valley Farm, across the bay from Hamilton, and containing about 600 acres was the home of such famous horses as Martimas, winner of the great Futurity in 1898; Derwentwater, the sire of the Queen's Plate winners; Butter Scotch and Lyddite, themselves winners of the plate; Coquette, Harvey and other famous sires and dams. Among the celebrated trotting horses owned by him were the stallions Jackson, Jupiter Abdallah, Orphan Boy and Confederate Chief. He was also the breeder of some of the most celebrated Leicester and Cotswold sheep on the continent. Mr. Hendrie was one of the organizers of the Ontario Jockey Club, and its almost perpetual president, holding that important office to the present time.

Mr. Hendrie was twice married. His first wife was Margaret Walker, of Arbroath, Forfarshire, Scotland. Three sons and four daughters by this union are living. Hon. John S. Hendrie, a member of the Cabinet of Ontario; William, managing director of the Canadian Cartage business; George M., Detroit; Mrs. Hay, Toronto; Mrs. Braithwaite, wife of the New York manager of the Bank of Montreal; Mrs. H. Eckford, of the North-West and Miss Hendrie. His second wife is a daughter of Mr. Alexander Murray, by whom he had one son, Mr. Murray Hendrie, manager of the Dominion Canister Co., Dundas. Mrs. Ledyard, of Detroit, and Miss Phyllis Hendrie.

Mr. Hendrie was for ten years chairman of the board of managers of the Central Presbyterian Church.

PERSONALS.

St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, London, was the scene of an interesting wedding on June 16th, when Lord Howick, only son of Earl and Countess Grey, formerly in the 1st Life Guards, was married to Lady Mabel Palmer, only daughter of the Earl and Countess of Selborne. Owing to the absence of the bride's father and mother in South Africa, where Lord Selborne is His Majesty's Lord High Commissioner, the wedding took place from the house of her uncle, the Marquis of Salisbury. The officiating clergymen were the Bishop of Southwark and the Rev. Lord William Cecil, vicar of Bishop's Hatfield. The bridegroom, with his best man, the Hon. E. Wood, waited at the entrance to the chancel which has been restored and beautified, and was charmingly decorated with white flowers. The eleven bridesmaids waited at the end of the central aisle. They were the Ladies Beatrice and Mary Cecil, cousins of the bride; Lady Evelyn Grey, sister of the bridegroom; Misses Eva and Mary Cecil, daughters of the Rev. Lord William Cecil; Miss Cockerell, Miss Fellowes, Miss Stopford, Miss Sybil Broderick, Miss Benson and Miss Grenfell. The grown-up bridesmaids wore dresses of pale mauve mousseline de soie over mauve soft silk, the full skirts trimmed near the hem with three wide tucks and a narrow rouleau of silver tissue. The bodices were arranged with chemisettes of tucked ecru net and berthes of Valenciennes lace, elaborately embroidered in a design representing roses and rose foliage, carried out in silver tissue. These berthes were finished in front with silver tissue bows. They carried bouquets of pale pink sweet peas, and wore ruby and diamond pendants, the gift of the bridegroom. The three tiny girls were in white, two in white muslin, with little lace caps, and rosettes of pale mauve baby ribbons. The third, who walked directly after the bride, with the page, Lord David Cecil, Lord Salisbury's second son, wore a white satin Tudor dress, and little tight lace cap, like the other children. These little people carried no flowers. Lord David wore a suit of pale mauve taffeta. The bride, who came with her brother, Viscount Wolmer, who afterwards gave her away, wore a trained dress of soft ivory duchess satin, trimmed with Malines lace. The veil of old Honiton lace was arranged over a coronet of orange blossom and leaves, and the two rows of pearls, the gift of Comtesse de Franqueville, were the bride's only ornaments. As she passed up the aisle the choir sang "O Perfect Love," and the hymns, "Thine for ever, God of Love," and "Now thank we all our God" were also in the service. As the register was being signed the bridesmaids distributed favors of white carnations. A reception was held at 20 Arlington street by the Marchioness of Salisbury and Lady Gwendolen Cecil. Among those present at the ceremony were the Duchess of Portland, the Duchess of Buccleuch, the Duchess of St. Albans, Lord and Lady Londonderry, Right Hon. Jos. and Mrs. Chamberlain, Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Duke of Northumberland, the Earl of Durham, Lord and Lady Crichton, and many others. The Marchioness of Salisbury wore palest pink ninon de soie inserted with pale pink lace. Her black crinoline straw hat was trimmed with pink ostrich feathers and tulle. The Countess of Antrim wore a pale blue and white striped muslin dress, with insertions of lace and a straw hat the same shade, trimmed with blue ostrich feathers. Lady Victoria Grenfell was attired in palest mauve. Viscount and Viscountess Howick left after the ceremony for Buckhurst, lent by Mr. and Mrs. Benson. The bride's travelling dress was of pale blue crepe de chine, with insertions of French lace, in Greek walls of Troy design on the skirt, and formed a bolero on the bodice. A hat to correspond was worn. The wedding presents were displayed in the ball-room of Lord and Lady Salisbury's residence. They were very numerous, the total reaching nearly four hundred, and were handsome and interesting. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught gave the bride a string of large agate beads with crystal discs between. They are very rare and of beautiful color, palest grey, with a sapphire-blue light in them. Princess Patricia of Connaught's gift is a water-color drawing of her own. Lord Howick gave a necklet of magnificent oblong fire opals, graduated in size, surrounded and linked together with diamonds. The Earl and Countess of Selborne a high diamond tiara; the Marquis and Marchioness of Salisbury and Lady Gwendolen Cecil, a long chain of double oblong links of fine diamonds; Lady Mabel Palmer's present to Lord Howick was a fitted dressing case, ivory and silver; with coronetted and monogrammed fittings. Earl and Countess Grey, large and beautiful oval-shaped diamond and ruby pendant, also a diamond and ruby necklet of fine design, festoons holding up large rubies set in diamonds; Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, Miss Balfour, Lord and Lady Rayleigh, Mr. Gerald and Lady Betty Balfour, Mr. and Lady Frances Balfour, Mrs. Sedgwick, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dugdale, piece of furniture; the Countess of Antrim, the Countess of Minto, and Lady Victoria Dawney, a Georgian silver tea service; Mr. Arthur and Lady Victoria Grenfell, complete canteen of table silver; The Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch, Louis Seize clock, white marble and brass figures; Duke of Northumberland, tortoiseshell inlaid brass set of writing-table furniture; Duke of Abercorn, silver dish; Duchess of St. Albans, a blue beryl scarfpin; Katharine, Duchess of Westminster, coffee-cups on trays; Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry, diamond and ruby crescent brooch, transfixed by gold bar set with three large pearls; Marquis and Marchioness of Lansdowne, set of six liqueur bottles in case; Lord and Lady Alice Stanley, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Stanley, Major and Lady Isobel Gathorne-Hardy, and the Hon. Arthur Stanley, a bangle of links of rubies and diamonds studded with whole pearls; Lord Tweedmouth, a platinum and gold bangle, with watch in centre, set round with rubies and diamonds.

At Olivet Baptist Church, this afternoon, the marriage took place of Miss Lillian St. Leger Turnbull, second daughter of Mr. Robert Turnbull, to Mr. William Henry Archibald, jr., Rev. J. L. Gilmour officiating. The decorations of the church were carried out in pink and white. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white radium silk, over white taffeta with trimming of Duchess lace. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Her sister, Miss May L'Estrange Turnbull, who was bridesmaid, wore white lace over white accordion-pleated silk and a pale blue hat with white plumes and pink roses. Her bouquet was of pink carnations. Mr. J. D. G. Tippen was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Thomas and Mr. Johns. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 199 Bishop street. Mrs. Turnbull, mother of the bride, wore black radium silk trimmed with white lace, and a white hat trimmed with white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald leave this evening for North Sydney, C.B., the bride going away in a pale grey homespun costume with a lingerie blouse and a pale blue Malines hat, trimmed with white roses. On their return to town they will reside at 465 St. Urbain street. The groom's gifts to the bridesmaid were turquoise brooch and ear rings, to the best man a sapphire and pearl pin; and to the ushers pearl tie pins. The bride's presents included: From the bridegroom, diamond and sapphire ring; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Archibald, sr. (North Sydney), entire furnishings of house; Mr. J.
