Ormstown Exhibition Opens Next Week June 6th

Next week, Wednesday, June 6th, the big event will be the opening of the annual Ormstown Exhibition, at Ormstown, Que. There will be the usual parade of floats by the Ormstown High School and this year promises to be another spectacular. The school always does a good job on the floats and they have plenty of meaning which makes them that much more interesting to the public. This year, we understand the parade will have means of transportation as the main theme of the floats. Better get there early on opening night and see this parade.

Following the parade and opening speeches, the horse show will go on and the midway and other attractions will be in full swing.

Besides the regular exhibits there will be other attractions each evening at the shows in the arena. Among these will be the Labatt's Aberdeen Angus Calf Scramble, on Thursday evening and the Four Horse Draft Teams on Wednesday evening and the Six Horse Draft Teams on Thursday evening. These are teams of very beautiful horses which are all but faded from our age. It is therefore something to see these magnificent animals as they used to be in the days past. On Friday evening the Cattle Parade and Parade of floats by district 4-H Clubs will be another attraction well worth seeing. At this time patrons will see some of the finest of the show, many of which represent our own area and therefore should be a source of pride to all local citizens. Saturday evening there will be the Square Dance Competition sponsored by Green Giant Company of Canada Ltd., and this will be followed by a public dance to wind up the Exhibition.

On Saturday afternoon there wil be harness racing and flat racing.

The King Reid Shows will occupy the midway as usual and it can be assured that this will be a good one with plenty of rides for everyone and plenty of fun too; prizes, toffee apples, candy floss, guess your weight, hot dogs, balloons and all the trimmings which go to make a Fair.

There will be a showing of the new automobiles, many lines of farm machinery, trucks and tractors, as well as novelty items to attract your attention. In the Industrial Building will be exhibits of various kinds for the house, the milk house and the barn. If you want to know anything about these exhibits, ask the person in charge and they will tell you and show you what you want to know.

There is a big parking space right on the grounds so you can drive your car in and you will be directed. The Secretary's Office is in the Industrial Building and this is also where you make reservations for seats in the arena and obtain any information you need about any part of the Exhibition.

The Fair Exhibits are all under cover, so if it is wet there is no need to miss seeing them. Judging of the cattle and horses goes on each day in the arena and you can have a seat and watch this being done. Actually more peole should take an interest in this important phase of the Exhibition, for by so doing they would learn much of what has to be achieved to win an award. The poultry exhibits are also under cover and the judging is done right in this area. Pigs and sheep are also judged in the barn. Judging for the horse show is done in the arena as each class is called and put through its paces.

Be sure to buy a program so that you know just what is coming up each day and evening and about what time. It will keep you better informed and thus make it all the more interesting. Book your seats early and make your arrangements now, if you leave it too late you may be disappointed. Seats in the arena are often sold out well in advance and if you have groups they may not all be able to get together. It is not too early to start thinking about Ormstown Exhibition, so give it some thought now.

Miss Dorothy Cosgrove Chosen Maple Leaf Grange Princess

At the last regular meeting of Maple Leaf Grange, the officers' chairs were filled by the youth of the grange.

The young people marched in and took their places in an officers' seating drill. The officers were the following; Master, Sister Dorothy Cosgrove; Overseer, Bro. Arthur Rankin; Lecturer, Sis. Shirley Patterson; Chaplain, Sis Lydia Disch; Steward, Bro. Grant Hawley; Assistant Steward, Bro. Cecil O'Connor; Secretary, Sis Kathleen Cosgrove; Treasurer, Sis. Sandra Rankin; Gate Keeper, Bro. Leo Curran; Ceres, Sis. Ann Donnelly; Flora, Sis. Judy Smythe; Pomona, Sis. Carolyn French; Lady Assistant Steward, Sis. Rosetta Cosgrove; Ex. Comm., Bro. Peter Tully; Ex. Comm., Bro. Roger Bergevin; Ex. Comm., Bro. Donald Grant; Flag Bearer, Sis. Gail Hawley; Pianist, Bro. Dave Rankin.

Following the meeting, the Youth Committee with Bro. Cecil O'Connor as chairman, presented a very interesting program.

Sister Dorothy Cosgrove having been chosen as candidate, was crowned, by Brother Peter Tully, as "Maple Leaf Grange Princess", for the year 1962/63.

The entertainment program followed a pictorial journey through the grange year. Sis. Shirley Patterson and Bro. Hubert Taillefer, dressed appropriately for the different occasions of each month, turned the pages of the large calendar at the side of the stage. Background music suitable to each month was played on the piano by Sis Anita Smith.

A five minute item, prepared by different groups, was presented for each month. In charge, for the month of January was Sis. Evelyn Donnelly. She presented an intresting item and a tableau on Father Time and the New Year.

Bro. Roger Bergevin in charge of February presented a skit on St. Valentine's Day and a reading. March was in charge of Sis. Rosetta Cosgrove and a selection of Irish songs were sung.

Sis Margaret Wilson presented a reading for April and everyone sang 'Easter Parade.'

Little Miss Jo Ann Hunter represented Spring in a skit that also depicted spring work. This month was presented by Sis. Dorothy Brown. Sis Ena Taillefer was in charge of the month of June. A Poem entitled "June" and a reading and tableau on St. John the Baptiste was presented. Van Rankin ably portrayed John. July was taken care of by Bro. Allan Hunter. He presented an item on confederation.

Sis. Shirley Grant and Lydia Disch presented a humorous skit on travelling for August. September brought to mind school days in a number presented by Dorothy Cosgrove.

October under the direction of Sis. Madeline Curran made a memorable impression when seven little tots, each representing a letter for October, brought harvest gifts and laid them at a small church door in thanksgiving. November in charge of Rupe Hawley commerated Armistice Day.

A Christmas scene beside a fireplace with a reading and carol singing was presented by Sis. Janet Grant.

The final item was a drill presented by sixteen young members of the grange accompanied by Bro. Dave Rankin on the piano. Sis Dorothy Cosgrove sang "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Congratulations are certainly in order for the efforts of all these young people who took part in the various numbers.

Jack Lanktree Soon To Hold Auction Sale of His Stock, Etc.

The way things happen in Huntingdon, appear to run in cycles and right at this time several things are happening, or will in the near future.

A Gleaner representative happened to be going by the Kelly & Lanktree Store, the past week and the door was open and Mr. Jack Lanktree was inside. This is rather unusual, for the store has not been open at usual hours for a very long time. However, the representative wanted to ask Jack a question and therefore stepped into the store to do so.

When he got in he found Jack packing the stock into boxes and the whole store seemed to be in a state of upheaval. This naturally aroused the reporter's curiosity and he said "What is going on in here, are you moving out?" Jack replied, "Yes, going to take this stuff over to Grove Hall and have an auction sale". "That means you are going out of business?" asked the reporter. "Yes" said Jack. "What are you going to do then?" asked the reporter. "Well", said Jack, "reckon I am not going to start in any more big business, I am getting a bit too old for that". "Then you must be going to retire", said the reporter. "Guess you can call it that", said Jack.

Further conversation brought out the fact that Jack Lanktree had gone into partnership with R. E. Kelly in this business about the year 1918 or 1919. Jack couldn't remember which, he said it was about the end of the First World War. Anyway it is quite a few years ago and we left it at that. Later R. E. died and the partnership was with his son, Lloyd. This went on for a few years and then Jack decided to go it alone. He did this until the present time and has now decided to give up business altogether. So in due time an auction sale of his stock and so forth will be held at Grove Hall.

So here we have another old time business that has closed its doors. Jack was asked if anyone else was taking over the store. He said he thought someone had rented it, but he did not know who it might be.

There are many rumors as to what may happen, but until we get the true facts, we are not going to repeat them. However, it does seem fairly certain that there will be a number of changes take place right in this immediate vicinity within the next few months. We have reason to believe that all these changes will be for the benefit of Huntingdon and fit in with the period of progress that seems to be taking place here once again.

Officers Elected For Insurance Brokers Association

The Insurance Brokers Association of the Province of Quebec, District of Valleyfield, held a meeting on May 17th, in the Hotel Chateau, Salaberry, Valleyfield.

The month of May is the busiest period of the year for an Insurance agent, or broker, that is why fewer members attended the above meeting. Mr. P. H. Boyer, President, was re-elected for another year; Mr. Bruno Giraldreau was re-elected secretary and Mr. Antoine Vallee was elected treasurer.

Messrs. P. H. Boyer and Bruno Giraldeau were chosen as delegates to the annual meeting of the Insurance Brokers Association of the Province of Quebec, to be on June 11th and 12th, in Manoir Richelieu, at Point au Pic.

The President invites members to attend the annual meeting in the greatest number possible. All should be reminded of the results obtained in the past and the benefits secured.

Lost War Savings Certificates Found After 20 Years

Two War Savings Certificates belonging to the late Kenneth C. Cameron, son of Mrs. S. K. Wells, Churchill St., Huntingdon, and a brother of Mrs. Wm. Rowat, Prince St., were found by an 11-year-old boy in Eastbourne, England, recently.

The late Mr. Cameron, one of the first to enlist from the Hemmingford district in World War II, was a member of the Black Watch Regiment. While overseas, he spent some time in Eastbourne, a seaside resort in Sussex, England. This town with a population of 3,000 during the war but now with upwards of 50,000 inhabitants, was heavily bombed during the early years of the war. The most devastated area was used by the troops as a training ground. It was during this time that the certificates were lost.

It was not until this past winter that the area was cleared and rebuilt. During the work eleven-year-old Michael Pittam found the certificates folded tightly together, blowing in the rubble. He took them home to his father who in turn mailed them to Mrs. Wells. They happened to arrive on her son's birthday, so naturally this unexpected reminder of the past brought back many memories.

In the ensuing correspondence with Mr. Pittam, an ironmonger, it was learned that the citizens are still on the alert for live ammunition that the children seem to ferret out. Young Michael once brought home a live bomb, luckily with no disastrous results. Mr. Pittam also stated that the help given by the Canadians during the war was fully appreciated and will never be forgotten.

Mrs. Wells was very grateful to receive the certificates which, incidentally, were in perfect condition and she felt that her good fortune would be of interest to Gleaner readers.

A Little Bigger Than This Week's Gleaner

Mr. C. Lyall Sparrow of New Erin was a recent business caller at the Gleaner Office and before leaving, he was asked if he had his yacht in the water yet. Lyall replied that he had been to Cornwall and Valleyfield on Sunday and it felt good to be on the lake again. We asked him if he had any boat trips in mind for the summer and this led into another topic. He said he and his wife are planning to leave around July 1st to motor to Calgary, where they will attended the Stampede. After a few days there, they will travel on to Seattle, where they will take in The World's Fair of 1962. (Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow make this trip annually, varying the route each time. Mr. Sparrow has an aunt and several cousins in Seattle). Lyall also told us that Mr. and Mrs. George Collum would be leaving Huntingdon around the same date and would be taking in the Stampede and 1962 World's Fair too. The couples are not travelling together as Mr. and Mrs. Collum plan to continue down the west coast to California where Mrs. Collum has relatives.

"Say," would you like to see The Seattle Times World's Fair Edition?" Lyall asked. Assuring him we would, he said he had loaned his issue but would have it returned and brought to the office. "It's a little bigger than this week's Gleaner," he smiled, when he brought it in the next day.

He tossed 380 pages of newsprint on the counter, weighing 4½ lbs. Enough reading to last the average person a full week, maybe longer. The publisher of The Seattle Times had printed a front-page note to readers: "The Seattle Times and its employees take pride and pleasure in presenting this special April 8 Souvenir Edition commemorating the Seattle World's Fair of 1962. We hope that those receiving this edition through your thoughtfulness will enjoy our efforts".

The complete issue for the day required 875 tons of newsprint. The 380-page newspaper edition was the largest ever produced in the Seattle Times long history and the souvenir supplement was decribed as almost twice as large as any other World's Fair supplement published in the Pacific Northwest. The rolls of newsprint used in the Souvenir Edition would extend from Seattle, Wash. to Miami, Fla. and back to Seattle, a distance of about 5,500 miles. Some of the press runs had been made weeks in advance of publication date.

The Gleaner agreed with Lyall that it was "a little bigger than this week's Gleaner". Undoubtedly other Chateauguay Valley families are planning to attend the Calgary Stampede this year and go on to the 1962 World's Fair if so. The Gleaner would be pleased to learn of the plans and after the trip, the highlights of the tour.

Dedication Service For High School Graduates Sunday Evening

Many homes in the Huntingdon area are being disrupted these days while some member of the family works toward the success of the Dedication Service for the graduating class of Huntingdon High School, which is to be held this coming Sunday evening at eight o'clock in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The mothers of the Grade Ten class, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. Thompson and Mrs. Ottney, have the refreshments well planned for the reception in honour of the graduates and their parents. The girls of Grade Ten will serve and the boys of the class will do their part by ushering at the church service.

Miss Mary Pringle is once again in charge of the Flower committee and will, no doubt, have some beautiful baskets placed about.

The clergymen, the teaching staff of Huntingdon High School and the graduates will form a procession with everyone wearing caps and gowns. These are loaned by various churches in the area and arranged for by Miss Mabel MacMillan. She and Miss Pringle will also be on hand Sunday evening to see that caps are straight and gowns fit as nearly as possible.

The Reverend R. Stote has arranged for the guest speaker this year. He will be the Reverend Walter P. Steven, M.A.,

Rotarian George Thompson Speaker At Rotary Club Meeting

This week's regular luncheon meeting of the Huntingdon Rotary Club at the Chateau Huntingdon, on Monday, marked the fourth consecutive meeting with 100% attendance. President Allister Somerville reminded members of the Bingo tonight (Wednesday) in aid of the Nurse-Training Benefit Fund. He asked every member to attend and to invite one or two guests. These Rotary-sponsored Bingos are proving quite popular and a good attendance is anticipated. People are anxious to support the Rotary Nurse Training Benefit Fund and at the same time have an evening's entertainment playing Bingo.

The President read a letter from the Cornwall Rotary Club inviting Huntingdon Rotarians to attend the official opening of the new International bridge linking Cornwall and Massena, on July 3rd.

Rotarian George Thompson addressed his fellow members in an interesting and humorous manner. He told of the trip he and Mrs. Thompson enjoyed last year, calling his topic "How to enjoy one's self when unexpectedly faced with six weeks vacation".

Rotarian George and Mrs. Thompson drove from Huntingdon to Vancouver on an all-Canadian route. He said the roads were excellent with the exception of an 87-mile stretch, which was a good gravel road if there is such a type of road. En route they picked up Mr. Thompson's eldest son, Blair, who is a school teacher in Edmonton. Entering the province of Manitoba they chose a four-lane highway that took them most of the way to Calgary. The road had extra wide shoulders and the travellers soon learned the reason for this: driving along at a good clip, they suddenly saw a large moose emerge from the fir trees; like all bovine-type animals, acording to the speaker, the moose stared for a moment, decided the travellers were harmless, and proceeded onto the road. The driver braked the car and pulled well over onto the wide shoulder to miss the animal. Without the wide shoulders, animal and moose might well have collided and there would have been a lot of bull (moose) around. Mr. Thompson said the animals at that time of year had no antlers, but later in the year when the bulls had grown them, they were considered dangerous as they invariably looked for something to try them out on.

As the Quebecers proceeded west, they noticed an increasing number of cars bearing Florida and Alaska license plates. Contrary to their expectations, at no time did they have the road to themselves; traffic was steady east and west. The Rotarian said prairie people like to be on the go and think nothing of driving a hundred miles or so "to run over and see a friend".

In Edmonton one evening they were having dinner in a hotel and glancing across the dining room saw an old friend and his new bride, Bob and Mrs. Sellar, who had been married that day. The couples met again three days later in Vancouver, both having travelled the John Hart Highway to the coast. (Incidentally, the Edmonton Sellars will soon be on their way to Ottawa where they will visit Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Watson Sellar. They are expected to spend a few days in Huntingdon before going to Massachusetts where Dorene has a sister living).

The Thompsons visited National Parksites and enjoyed a trip through the Okanagan Valley. At Jasper and Yellowstone they obeyed the warnings "Do Not Feed Bears". The animals appear harmless when they sit on their haunches and look for handouts, but they are temperamental animals and become enraged at the slightest provocation (maybe a peanut wasn't roasted enough)) and become dangerous. Mr. Thompson said 176 tourists to Yellowstone required medical attention last year because they didn't heed warnings.

Motels, hotels, etc. were plentiful in both Canada and the U.S.A. Rates were very reasonable, the couple seldom paid more than eight dollars per night. In Canada the hotels featured kitchenettes as well as luxuries such as TV, wall-to-wall carpeting, air-conditioning, etc. The American motels were equally plush but did not have kitchen facilities.

Mr. Thompson said he had always believed one of the necessities of such a trip would be a brand-new car. However, the one he had was running as well as it ever did so he asked the advice of his youngest son whose hobby is mechanics and cars. The lad tried the family car out and said "Look Dad, you'll only get so much for it on a trade-in and if it breaks down somewhere you can always walk away from it and get home for the same money." Mr. Thompson took his son's advice, gassed the car up and started on the trip. It took them there and back and the only car expenses were gas and oil.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson thoroughly enjoyed their trip and the Rotarians equally enjoyed the humorous travelogue.

Huntingdon High School Fashion Show Held Monday

On Monday afternoon, May 28th at 4 o'clock in the cafeteria of Huntingdon High School a "Fashion Show" was sponsored by the Home Economics classes, under supervision of Mrs. Dahms and Mrs. Greig, the teachers. The Grade 6 girls opened the show by modeling their first project in their school years, for which they are to be congratulated, cooking aprons. These will be useful throughout the following school year.

For cool spring and summer wear the Grade 7 classes made cotton gathered and box-pleated skirts with a wide variety of matching pop-tops. Little Sarah McCoy was a big hit with the guests as she accompanied her sister Lois. Lois has completed two matching projects, one for herself and one for her sister.

Bedtime dreams and fluffy stuffed toys followed as the girls in Grade 8 held a pyjama party. There was a wide selection of cotton pyjamas or dusters which the girls can wear on chilly summer nights.

Many of the girls in Grade 9 made tailored skirts of wool flannel, rayon suiting or cotton summer dresses. A busy little girl in this grade was Evelyn Todd. She managed to make 3 dresses this year. One for herself and two for her sister Jessie who is in Grade 1. Evelyn's dress was a mint green embroidered cotton, featuring a low round neck and gathered skirt. Jessie modelled a dress with her sister and another with Beverley Johnson who wore a striking green dress. Ellen Bulow also had a companion, her brother Peter. She wore a flowered print sun dress.

Lovely garments made of plaid, striped or checked material were made by Grade 10. One of the outstanding pupils was Marsha Hooker. She has successfully accomplished two projects. A pretty blue and white sheath as well as a coat of light spring green with large pearl buttons.

Our graduating class this year were allowed to choose their own style of dress. Shirley Caldwell has completed a very lovely sheath of rainbow colors plus a black party dress with spaghetti straps. Betty Lough made herself a bright primrose pair of Bermuda shorts. Betty also made a peach and orange striped sheath, also an ivory brocade evening dress. Charlene Faille made a soft green and silver brocade dress with a cumberbund of the reverse side of the material.

The commentators were Beverley Hamilton, assisted by Gail Godin, who are both in Grade 10. The pianists were Jean Fraser and Lois Ann McCoy, who provided lovely music throughout the enjoyable event.

All the guests and models sincerely wish to thank Mrs. Dahms and Mrs. Greig for their patient work in the preparation and planning to make the Fashion Show possible. We also appreciate and wish to thank Mrs. Watson for the thankless hours of working and planning the invitations and programmes which were distributed among the guests. Nitro

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lusiginan were Mr. and Mrs. C. Mattison of Massena, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Latour were also pleased to receive a visit from Jerry's sister, Mrs. A. Latour of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Flynn and their grandson, Paddy, were Sunday guests at the home of Lil and Mark Elson.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Lavigueur were Mr. and Mrs. D. MacDonald of Montreal.

We also had our share of guests including Betty and Bruce Dingwall and Mr. Hank MacDonald.

I also noticed a former resident Mr. Don Fullerton in Nitro, visiting old friends. This time of the year is the time for visiting Nitro, it seems.

I also hear that this Sunday, two of our young ladies, Miss Laurie Campbell and Miss Kitty Latour will be making their first communion. I would like to wish them good luck.

Have you ever asked yourself these questions?

WHY should you travel extra miles and use up extra hours to shop out of town?

ANSWER: You shouldn't! You can save time, gas and trouble by shopping in your Plaza Huntingdon stores. Furthermore, modern distribution brings the newest merchandise here as fast as anywhere and lower overhead costs than in larger places helps keep prices DOWN.

HOW can this community grow and prosper, provide career opportunities for our young people, unless hometown folks spend most of their money here at home?

ANSWER: It can't! Dollars spent away are gone forever. Dollars spent here stimulate local trade activity, finance business expansion, increase employment.

WHERE is the money coming from to maintain and improve our schools, streets, playgrounds and civic services, our churches, hospitals and other community facilities?

ANSWER: Much of it must come from taxes paid and contributions made by our local business people. Part of every dollar you spend with them helps build a better community for you.

Two Bands Join Forces For Opening Night At 1962 Ormstown Exhibition

Ormstown Exhibition time has rolled around once more and next week the population of Ormstown will grow many times its normal size. People will congregate from near and far... Canada's finest show horses will be seen... also prime cattle and other animals, fowl, etc.... It's Ormstown Fair time and young and old are looking forward to it, because there is something there every year to attract the fancy of each and every person.

A few days after the Exhibition the town returns to its normal pace, as does Huntingdon which also feels the temporary influx of visitors to "The Little Royal".

This year at least one thing is going to be felt long after the Exhibition is over. A new bond of friendship between Huntingdon and Ormstown will begin next Wednesday evening when Huntingdon and Ormstown bands will join forces to lead the Opening Night Parade through the streets of Ormstown. This band will be a 35 to 40-piece band and its calibre will fit the occasion.

Two weeks ago an article appeared in The Gleaner asking members of Huntingdon Citizens' Band to attend a meeting to decide if the organization was to disband or continue. The big problem was to find a suitable bandmaster. At the meeting, someone suggested that Bandmaster Lindsay Cullen of Ormstown might be persuaded to help if he was asked. Acting on this suggestion, a delegation met Mr. Cullen and he said he would be pleased to act as bandmaster in Huntingdon. The following has since been accomplished:

A practice was held last week under the direction of the new Bandmaster. Eighteen members turned out and more signified their desire to become active if Mr. Cullen would be bandmaster. Mr. Cullen was pleased. He asked if any Huntingdon bandsmen would help the Ormstown band out at the Exhibition. Three nights later fifteen bandsmen practiced with the Ormstown players in Ormstown. Next Monday night another practice will be held in the Ormstown Arena and Wednesday night the two bands will play as one under the direction of Bandmaster Lindsay Cullen.

There is talk now that Ormstown and Huntingdon bands should become one. Why not? They now have the same bandmaster, each can help the other and ten miles isn't great enough to pose any travelling problem. Should the two bands join, there would be a good brass band available for any function in either town. At the moment, plans are that practices will be held every two weeks. Concerts will be given in both towns during the summer. Some have gone so far that new names for the proposed combined band have been suggested, such as "Twin Town Band", "H-O" Band, etc. Come what may, there is a new feeling of comradeship between Huntingdon and Ormstown. If the proposition becomes a reality, and later proves successful, the two bands might well pave the way for the Boards of Trade and other organizations to work together for mutual benefit too.

In the meantime, every success to Bandmaster Lindsay Cullen and his band(s).

Friday guests of Miss Frances Walker and Miss Della Ingraham, were Miss Connerty and Mrs. McFaul of Montreal. These ladies were nurses in the First World War. Week-end visitors at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall of Montreal.

-o-

Mr. James Elliott of Howick was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Ellen Ewart during the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elder of Massena were callers at the same home.

-o-

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Forman of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bennett.

-o-

Mr. Jos. C. Moore of Montreal, spent a few days last week at the home of his cousins, Mr. and George Collum.

Military Whist

Eleven tables of military whist were played at the Legion Hall, on May 16th, Mrs. J. Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arthur and Mr. Wilbur Arthur, won the 1st prize. Mrs. A. McAdam, Mrs. D. Cairns, Mrs. V. Begbie and Mrs. G. Lennox won second prize. The door prize was won by Mrs. Ernest Fennell. Two drawings were won by Mrs. Edgar Helm and Mrs. J. Perrot. After cards, three most amusing skits were put on by members of the Grange. The Ladies' Auxiliary extend their grateful appreciation for this. They made a most pleasant finish to the evening. Refreshments were served afterwards.

Thought For Today — The best thing to do behind a person's back it to pat it.

St. Edward's Church

The rummage sale that took place last Thursday, in Beauharnois, was a huge success considering the weather was so unsettled. The money from this sale goes towards the W.A. Fund.

Trinity Church

Last week, the W.A. of Trinity Church held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Gladys Pirrie, Bellevue. Plans were discussed for the coming season. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was spent by all.

A coffee party, food sale and Tupperware demonstration will be held June 15th at 10 a.m. in Trinity Church Hall. Please keep this date in mind.

The June W.A meeting will be the last one until September. Do hope all have a very pleasant summer.

Best Wishes

Very best wishes to Mr. Jacques Parent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodrigue Parent, and Miss Lucille Dufort on their marriage which took place on Monday, May 21st, in Bellevue. Seventy-five guests attended a reception in their honour at the Gai-Motel, Chateauguay. Mr. Parent and his bride are now honeymooning in Miami, Florida. Upon their return, they will take up residence in Bellevue.

W. R. A.

Work has started at the Club on the site where the swimming pool will be located. Good progress is reported and the work is attracting considerable interest.

Sympathy

Our deepest sympathy to the family of Mrs. Michael Landy who passed away May 24th, at St. Mary's Hospital. Funeral was from St. Malachy's Church on Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Landy and family were for many years residents of Woodlands.

Also our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Gordon McIntosh of Bellevue, on the loss of her mother, who passed away in Holland. Mrs. McIntosh returned from Holland last week.

Summer Drivers

I do hope our police will be on the job this coming summer. Now that the good weather is here, and the summer drivers are on the road, the speed law on Lake St. Louis Road should be obeyed. This goes for trucks and buses too. Our children walk and ride their bikes on the lower road for safety. Maybe if we went to our Town Meeting once a month something could be done about this speeding. Last year our police were very good in handling this situation. The buses have taken their toll of pets — let's hope something is done, or our children could be next.

Sickness

Nice to hear that Ward Ross is over the chicken pox. This disease was certainly prevalent in Bellevue and Woodlands this spring.

Birthday Greetings

Many happy returns to Mrs. Patricia Rae who celebrates a birthday on June 4th.

Bon Voyage

Nantel Brissett of Woodlands, along with thirty-five students from Loyola High School, will be leaving on June 15th for Europe. They will sail from Montreal. Do hope you enjoy your trip.

Mrs. C. L. Cann and son Stephen sailed last week for Germany to join her husband who is with the Canadian Army. They will spend three years there. Mrs. Cann is the daughter of Mrs. Huxley of Bellevue.

Wedding Rings

June is month for weddings and I've been reading up on wedding rings. Quote: "Most of the people who study the customs of long ago agree that the wedding ring was used first in the days when men used to own their wives. In those times, which people call 'the good old days', men used their brutal strength to make women their slaves. It was customary to put a chain on a slave to show that he had an owner. After a time, as men became a little better, instead of actually putting anything like chains on their wives, or rings around the neck or body, they invented something which would have the same meaning without being really bad. Anything that stands for something else, like this, is called a symbol. We now believe that the wedding ring began as a symbol, meaning that the wife was the husband's property".

CANDIAC — DELSON — LAPRAIRIE

New Board of Managers

On June 4th, from 12 noon until 2 P.M. at 274 Principale, Delson, nomination of a new Board of Managers for the Protestant School of Greater Laprairie, will take place. Due to expanding developments in this area, rural schools were unable to cope with the number of children registered, thus the Board Members of the St. Constant, Delson, Cote Ste. Catherine and Candiac Boards empoyered a Management Committee and Sub-Committee to take care of the administration of schooling in the district where two grades are taught in St. Constant, two in Delson and five in Candiac.

Union of the four boards was first brought up at a meeting held for this purpose in December 1960, and thereafter at meetings held from time to time, often under the chairmanship of the Education Board inspector, Mr. G. Lessard, and the manner in which this Union would come about was set down. Finally, at a meeting held on August 29th, 1961, the four boards signed individual petitions requesting this Union by Order-in Council. But it was not until March 28th, 1962 that this request obtained sanction and that Union of the four Boards became a legal fact with effective dates of June for election of Board Members and July 1st, 1962 for all other purposes.

Nominees for the new Board comprise, Mr. Gordon Pitcher, Chairman, Delson; Mr. Donald Fulton, Delson; Mr. L. St. James, St. Constant; Mr. Gordon Le Gros, Cote Ste. Catherine and Mr. Frank Elliott, Candiac. These gentlemen will be working closely with the Home and School Association. Under discussion is a suitable location for a new school which will include grades 1 to 11; a 20-classroom school is anticipated.

Successful Scout Food Sale

The sale of home cooked food, promoted by the Group Committee of the 1st Delson Boy Scout Troup, was held in Delson Protestant School last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. W. Leo Neville took charge of the arrangements for this event which was a great success. During the afternoon Mrs. A. Cressell served refreshments; and everyone took advantage of the opportunity to relax while enjoying coffee and doughnuts. Mrs. Harold Ball Sr. was invited to draw a ticket for a door prize, which was won by Mrs. E. Poirier; little Miss May Cressell drew for a large cake, Mrs. Leo Neville being the winner. The remaining food was auctioned by Hal Ball, who proved to be an excellent auctioneer. Proceeds amounting to $95. will be used to buy camping equipment and other needs for general activities of the Boy Scouts. Mr. James Malone, Committee Chairman, expressed thanks to all for their support and co-operation which made this effort so successful.

The Members of St. David's Anglican Church have been busy for several weeks as groups of ardent workers have met in the evening hours, to clean, paint and beautify the Church in preparation for the 40th Anniversary which will be celebrated this Fall. We regret that Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith will be leaving this district, both are truly pillars of the Church and will be greatly missed.

The Annual meeting of the Canadian Bible Society was held in St. Andrew's United Church last Friday evening, May 25th, Mr. Harold Ball Jr. presiding. Student Minister Mr. R. McIntosh led in Prayer and Mr. Andre Courchesne read the Scripture lesson. Following the Devotional period Mr. Ball read the Annual report which included the financial support of the members of St. Constant Baptist Church, St. David Anglican Church and St. Andrew's United. Collectors for 1962-63 were named as follows, Mrs. L. St. James, St. Constant Baptist Church; Mrs. Gilbert Friend, St. David's and Mrs. Andre Courchesne, St. Andrew's. Mr. H. Ball Jr., was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer and was thanked by Rev. Jones for his faithful service in past years. Rev. Jones gave a not impressive discourse on the great work being done by the Canadian Bible Society, Auxiliary of The British and Foreign Bible Society. At least one book of the Bible has now been published in 1181 languages. The complete Bible has been published in 226 languages and the New Testament in an additional 281. The film, "So great is the Light" was shown and the congregation was made aware of the great need of the Canadian Bible Society, for financial support in the world-wide work of Translating, Producing and Distributing the Word of God. Rev. Jones closed the meeting with prayer and Benedicition.

Our very best wishes for a speedy recovery to health and strength, go to Rev. Father N. Poirrier, Parish Priest of the Church of St. Thérèse of the Infant Jesus. Father Poirrier is now convalescing in Hull, Que., after an illness for which he has been hospitalized for sometime. It was good news indeed, to know that Father Poirrier is now truly on the road to recovery.

Reform At What Price?

CONTRIBUTED

This article does not necessarily reflect the Editorial Policy of this newspaper. It is published solely to provide the public with general views and information and is accepted under such conditions.

The history of reform governments down through history has not been very encouraging.

It was under the guise of reforms against Baptista that Fidel Castro came to power. This is a modern, close-to-home, example. Baptista had served himself up a copious slice of Cuba's gambling and other nefarious industries to wax swollen and rich. Castro the reformer stopped all that. His method was merely to stop stealing at such a petty level. He "stole" the country, lifted two billion of American assets in Cuba and has finally stolen even the liberty of the people. In the Province of Quebec in the past 22 months since the Levesque — Lesage government came to power the public has been exposed to long, wearisome exposées of previous government mal-practices. In the meantime a cult has been permitted to spring into prominence who would take over Quebec as a sovereign state, dissolve Confederation, make much of the St. Lawrence into a kind of Mare Nostrum and sheer off Canada's Maritime Provinces and direct access to the Atlantic. The Levesque — Lesage government de-cries the Separatist Movement publicly, but in the same breath has set furiously to work on a policy of Nationalization of major utilities. Success of such a program would provide the Radical Separatists with the very economic sinews to make a run at their objectives.

It may well be asked how much more to be feared are such tendencies than the items which the new Levesque-Lesage government have been so vociferous about reforming. Charles II of England and his Cavaliers may have been criticizable, but Reformer Oliver Cromwell and his Radical Roundheads nearly ruined the country. It is not too early to appraise the threat of the Levesque-Lesage government.

Fireworks Display on Provost St.

Hear that residents of Provost St., the Station, enjoyed a lovely fireworks display on Saturday, May 19th, which started at 9 p.m. Mr. Daly and neighbours there organized the firework's party for the children of that area. Traffic was directed by one of the fathers while the others attended to the fireworks. The Fire Dept. and the Police Force had been notified of the display in advance.

On Tuesday night, May 22nd, Mr. William Reid was appointed as Lay Delegate to Presbytery for the current year, replacing Mr. Sidney Modeland who for the time being finds it impossible to attend the Presbytery meetings regularly. Mr. Modeland has served both this congregation and the Montreal Presbytery well during his term as delegate, having taken an active part on the Pension Committee and the Home Missions Committee of Presbytery.

At the Official Board Meeting held in the Memorial Hall, on Tuesday, May 22nd, Dr. R. DeWitt Scott representing the Finance and Extension Board of the Montreal Presbytery gave a very informative talk. His topic was the work being done by the F. and E. Board in helping new congregations get started and in giving assistance with church building projects where needed. Folders entitled "That Others might worship as we do", are available for anyone who might be interested.

The Chateauguay Valley Ministerial Association met on Monday afternoon, May 28th in the Caughnawaga United Church. Mr. Colin Campbell, Notary addressed the group and answered questions concerning legal matters as they relate to the marriage counselling task of the Clergy in this Province.

Sunday was "Rural Life Sunday" at St. Andrew's and the following excerpt from the Observer is worth perusal. "Of the 2700 Pastoral Charges in the United Church of Canada, 1750 are rural. This is, they centre in and round towns and villages of 2,000 population or less. They have been the backbone of the Church, providing spirtual power, moral conviction and candidates for ministry. There are many thriving country congregations, but the agricultural revolution and the drift to urban life has had an effect. Many country churches are sadly reduced in strength so that about 600 of them receive aid from the Home Mission Board, supported by the Missionary and Maintenance Fund. Yet the day of the rural church is not over. The drift toward the city may not continue. It is estimated one-fifth of the Canadian people will continue to live in country places. It encourages both laymen and ministers in country places to re-think their task and program in the light of social and economic changes.

Congratulations to Mrs. Eva Howard of Provost St., the Station, who just received word of the birth of her sixth grandchild in London, England. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howard. Her daughter Mrs. Bernhardt with whom she resides thus becomes an aunt.

Hear that our Musical Friends "The Benny Davis Trio" had the privilege of playing with the Inkspots of New York, at the Hotel Laberge in Valleyfield, on Friday and Saturday, May 18th and 18th. These boys are certainly ambitious and seem to be going places.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Bradley of Dupont St., the Heights, left by plane on Friday for Rome. Happy holiday folks.

Last week I mentioned a happy visit by some of our Chateauguay friends to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dafoe of Geenfield Park, I should have written "OTTERBURN PARK". My apologies to all concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bernhardt, their two young sons and grandmother, Mrs. Eva Howard of Provost St., the Station, motored to Ausable Chasm on Saturday and report that the mosquitos are out in force just as much as in our town.

Mrs. Theresa Hetherington and her daughters Karen and Lynne of Gilmour Ave., flew to Ottawa and spent the Victoria Day week-end as guests at the Chateau Laurier. Of particular interest to the girls was a tour of the Parliament Buildings and the lovely tulips now blooming in the Capital.

Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Rene Reid, who have just recently taken up residence on Trudeau Avenue. They will be married one year on June 3rd and we add our good wishes to those of their family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Peltzer and family of St. John Blvd., the Station, are now in residence on St. Denis St. in West End. The Joe Owchar's of Watt Avenue, the Heights, will shortly move into the former Peltzer home, good wishes to all.

Birthday greetings to Willa Mitchell of Desrochers St., the Station. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Longley of Gordon Avenue motored to Burlington, Vt., on Friday for a week-end stay.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Guy David of Chateauguay Centre, on the sad loss of his mother, Friday, May 25th. Guy is the young man who delivers bread on the Bourcier Bakery route in the Heights.

We are happy to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McDonald, residents for some forty years on Gilmour Avenue, who recently purchased the Findlay MacDonald home on Gordon Avenue have settled comfortably in their new home. Mr. Findlay MacDonald and his wife are now residing in Scottstown, Que. The Roger Hamerbeck family of lower Gilmour Avenue will be in residence shortly at the Arthur McDonald home. Our best wishes to all three families.

Birthday greetings to Miss Mary Gardner, teacher at the Julius Richardson School, not only from her friends but from her pupils too. The happy day is today (Wednesday). Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Foster Gardiner of St. John Blvd., on the sad loss of their brother-in-law Mr. Rene Saulnier. Mr. Saulnier and his wife Iris were residents of Chateauguay Station for many years and are well know in that area. To Mrs. Saulnier and her family, our sympathy is also extended.

Mr. John Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holly of Oliver Ave. and Miss Agnes Paterson of Chateauguay Station, left early today to attend Memorial Services three days in the Capial attenin in Ottawa, Ont. They will spent three days in the Capital attending various ceremonies commerating the signing of Peace of the Boer war.

Letter To The Editor

Chateauguay Heights, P.Q., May 29, 1962.

Editor,
Chateauguay Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Que.

Sir:

I wonder how many citizens of Chateauguay Heights realize that the main drainage ditch for this area is being deliberately left uncleaned by the Heights Council.

It seems obvious that if water is permitted to lay in this ditch that the Heights is not being properly drained and the cesspits and wells in certain areas, specifically in the Hercules section, are not going to function properly.

Do you realize that this is a main "process verbal" ditch that no one has any right to block and in fact that must by law be kept cleaned out at all times? Do you realize that this is so important a ditch that the Town of Chateauguay (Basin) paid out $12,000. in hard cash to clean their section of it properly?

The water in some sections of this ditch is quite deep enough for a child to get drowned. Does this mean that we must wait for one or more children to get drowned in this ditch, this main process verbal ditch, before the Council of the Heights can raise itself from its lethargy and clean this main ditch?

Does it mean that we must enjoy the annoyance and literal danger to health from the hordes of mosquitoes that this ditch breeds so lavishly all summer long, just because the Council seems more interested in getting elected to office, rather than in protecting the health and even the lives of its citizens?

Shall we hold a grim lottery of Death to see which child will be the first to be drowned in this unsanitary and uncleaned ditch?

A Council that has not the ability to even clean a simple ditch to take away the rain water that falls, hardly gives us much confidence in its ability to run a town properly. A Council that claims it is powerless to prevent a process verbal ditch being blocked is, in fact, rather a pathetic figure. A Council that permits uncleaned ditch water to swamp cesspits and breed mosquitoes all summer long is hardly a figure to breed citizens' confidence as well.

Special Service Held At St. George's Anglican Church

At St. George's Anglican Church, on Sunday, May 27th, was an Order of Service for the Rogation Sunday integrated with the Holy Communion. The Processional Hymn 308, "We plough the fields..." Then came the act of Offering the Soil Seed, Fertilizer, and the Labour that produces our Daily Bread:

Two members of the congregation which were Mr. Earl Wakefield and Mr. Frederick Lunn proceeded to the Chancel Steps, bearing the representative soil, seed and fertilizer in suitable containers. Then the first member said to the priest, who had come to the steps to meet them, "Reverend Sir, on behalf of this congregation I present to you this soil of our Land and mingle with it this fertilizer, which signifies that 'As all things come from God, so they must return, for you to offer at the Altar".

Then the priest took the containers of soil and fertilizer and placed them upon the Altar. Returning again to the Chancel steps, and the second member handed him the container of seeds, saying: "Reverend Sir, on behalf of this congregation I present to you this seed which represents all the seed to be sown in our Land this Spring, praying you that as you offer it at the Altar, you may ask God's blessing upon our families, that we indeed be the fruitful soil, to bring forth much fruit of His Holy Word".

Then the priest took the container of seed and placed it upon the Altar, after which the two members returned to their family pew, then the Service of Holy Communion proceeded. A very inspiring sermon was preached by the Rev. John. M. Buck, followed by the singing of the Offertory Hymn 278 "Sow the Seed beside all...." Then the Bread and Wine were brought forward with the Alms.

The congregation remained standing while the priest made the Offertory on their behalf:

Soil and Seed: "Here O God we present to Thee the Land and its Workers: farmers, miners, fishermen, woodsmen, and their families, symbolized by these offerings which we implore Thee to accept; and whatever is unworthy in them or in us, do Thou O God, accept and bless through the Atonement once made for us by Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord". Amen.

Alms: "We thank Thee, O Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, for these and all the gifts of Thy Creation. These Alms, the fruits of our livelihood, we offer unto Thee for the service of Thy children in need, and in token of the Sacrifice of ourselves to Thee in union with the Sacrifice of Christ for the whole world". Amen.

Bread and Wine: "This food of bread and wine, the product of Thy gifts and of our labour, we offer to Thee, praying Thee to give them back to us as the food of eternal life to be shared by all, and beseeching Thee to give us grace that all our industry of hand and brain may be done solely for Thy Glory and the service of all mankind; for Thine is the glory through Jesus Christ for ever and ever". Amen. Then followed the singing of the Doxology, and then ending with the Benediction.

With the singing of the Recessional Hymn 600, "This is my Father's World... the choir, priest and the congregation proceeded to the outside of the Church, and all gathered on the lawn to watch the Rev. John Buck scatter the seed, and say a final prayer. He also told the congregation they were welcome to some of the seeds, for their use.

Back The Beavers

(by Mildred McCutcheon)

J. F. Vanderwoude, Akela of the Beaver Cub Pack has appealed to parents of the Cubs in the following manner: — "We would like to send the Cubs of the Beaver Pack on a week-end outing to Hemmingford. This type of activity incurs certain expenses. A bus must be chartered and food provided in order that each child may have all the necessary care. The resources of the pack are limited. They are derived solely from the weekly collection obtained from the children. On the other hand we would like to reduce the cost to the parents. Therefore, we have decided that the best solution would be to hold a Military Whist for the benefit of this undertaking. Your help will mean an unforgettable week-end outing for the Cubs". It would be grand if all parents supported this event, regardless of whether they have a Cub in the family or not. Call OX. 2-4947 for details and tickets.

Gerry Laniel, Liberal Candidate Opens Campaign In Chateauguay

There was a good attendance of the opening meeting in the Liberal campaign of Gerry Laniel, held at the Beauchateau Shopping Centre at Chateauguay, on Sunday. The opening guns were fired for the constituency of Beauharnois-Salaberry at this meeting and following is the address given by Mr. Laniel, the Liberal candidate.

It is with great pleasure that I come before the population of Greater-Chateauguay for the official opening of my campaign which will bring us to the 18th of June and to a new Liberal Government with Lester B. Pearson as Prime-Minister and Gerry Laniel, your humble servant, as representative for Beauharnois-Salaberry. This feeting of the coming change is not only local, it is felt everywhere, in the Province of Quebec and all through Canada from coast to coast. Newspapers, radio and television bring us all kinds of indications in the form of interview and Gallup polls. Everywhere, the Liberals are ahead and the Conserv. Party is loosing ground steadily from day to day as the campaign goes on.

It is not my intention during this first meeting of the campaign, to make you live again these past four years, The Years of Record I Call Them: Record of unemployment, Record of Deficits, Record in cost of living, record of the per capita National Debt, record of dollar devaluation, record of incompetence... Instead, I want to draw a parallel between what the Conservative Party offers you in this campaign and the Program of the Lib. We thought it was our duty to be honest with the electors by presenting them with an edited program available to everybody, and in which are the solutions in writing, of what our party believes to be good administration for the country. The purpose of such a program is to give the voters of Canada a clear statement of what they will be doing if they entrust the country's affairs to a New Liberal Government.

Since the present government came into office, our economy, has slowed down. The cost of this slow-down to Canadians is $14 Billions. That is the difference between our actual production, in the past 4½ years, and the production we would have had if the economic growth of previous years had continued. This slow-down means The Loss of 300,000 Jobs for Canadians, extra jobs which would now exist and should help eliminate a good part of the unemployment.

The Conservatives have refused to admit the existence of an unemployment problem; they refuse to speak of unemployment in the House of Commons, and they even accuse the Liberals of working to bring on a depression and of gloating over unemployment and of exaggerating the economic situation for political advantage. Mr. Diefenbaker surely forgot that Big Promise he made to the Canadian peopole in 1958, and I quote: "So long as I am Prime Minister, no one will be allowed to suffer in this nation".

This declaration and many others did not arouse the Conservative government which permitted a trust fund (The Unemployment insurance fund) of some $942 millions to dwindle to zero: and within recent months, the Fund has had to borrow $25 million in order to keep operating.

The Liberal Party does not pretend that everything can be done easily and at once. The Liberal idea is progress that is rapid and yet is hardly noticed, because it goes on steadily, smoothly and soundly. There is no reason why Canada should ever stand still; but we need good govrnment, government that marries progress and responsibility, foresight and practical ability; we need a liberal government with team work, with a written program and a plan of action. We will choose Lester B. Pearson as Prime Minister in this election, by voting Gerry Laniel.

In the field of university education we will establish 10,000 scholarships a year, valued at $1000 a year and available for four-year study. The administration of this plan will be independent of government. We will also set up a student loan fund. These loans will be interest free during the period of study and for five years afterwards.

It is impossible to enumerate here in one speech all the policies found in the Liberal program; but, beside the Prosperity We Offer To Everyone, we guarantee Security For All Canadians.

A Liberal government will establish, in co-operation with the provinces, a medical care plan which will enable everyone to get health care at the time it is needed, there will be no restrictive conditions. The patient will be free to choose his doctor. The doctor Will Be Free to Practice as He Chooses.

I sincerely solicit your support for the coming election, on the 18th of June. I will be back here in Chateauguay with you all, to celebrate our victory in Beauharnois-Salaberry.

Chateauguay Guide News

(by Mrs. T. L. Elliott)

On Wednesday May 23rd, the 3rd Chateauguay Guide Co. held their closing meeting for this season. The Guide Captain, Mrs. Miller, arranged a mother and daughter banquet, which was a great success. Two of the Guides, Jane Miller and Sharron O'Connell made a huge cake in honour of the occasion. Linda Stephanson and Mary Heslop flew up to Guides the previous week and should have been received officially into the Guide Co. this week; unfortunately, they were unable to be there. Two Guides who "flew up" from the Brownie Pack last fall were enrolled. They were Helen Lamond and Susan Elliott.

After a great deal of last minute work on the part of the Guide Captain and Lynn Ried, Lynn earned her 2nd class badge. Congratulations to these girls.

The girls in the Oriole patrol entertained with a series of very humorous skits and the evening closed with a camp fire singsong. A heartfelt thank you goes out to Mrs. Miller and Mrs. O'Connell for the work they have done with these girls during the winter. A Company hike is planned for June 23rd.

It is with great regret that we hear of the passing of Mr. D. Stewart, student minister at Howick United Church. Mr. Stewart (who has recently graduated and was to be ordained in June) suffered a heart attack. The congregation of Chateauguay Centre United Church join Mr. and Mrs. Alistair Riddell in extending sincere sympathy and prayers to Mrs. Stewart.

We are sorry to hear little Johnny McKnight is in hospital, after being knocked over by a bicycle on Parkview Blvd. Johnny received cuts to the back and front of his head and is suffering from concussion. Also, his mother Mrs. McKnight, is expecting to enter hospital this week to undergo an operation. I know all readers will join in best wishes and prayers for Johnny and his mother.

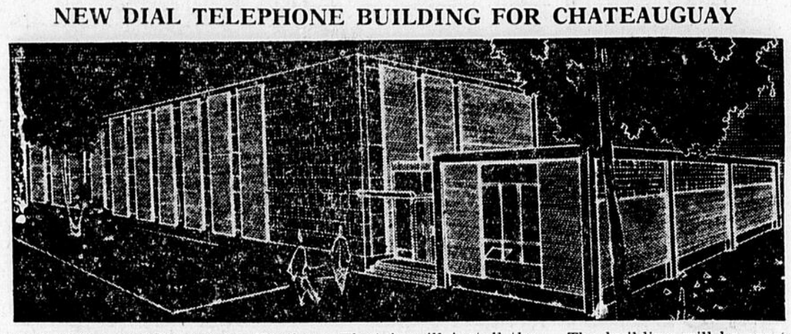
Attention Brownie Mothers — 3rd Pack — We are planning to take the Brownies to Granby Zoo on June 23rd. In order to do this we must have all the money in for the fare on June 6 at the latest, so please remember to send it with your daughters so the Pack will not be disappointed. We also need six mothers to help look after the Brownies — anyone interested in helping please call 692-8853.

NEW DIAL TELEPHONE BUILDING FOR CHATEAUGUAY



Because of the rapidly expanding population in Chateauguay, Bell Telephone is constructing a new dial exchange in the municipality.

The new building is scheduled for completion by January, 1963, after which technicians from Northern Electric will install the complex facilities required, including new automatic "crossbar" equipment.

R. C. B. Love, Bell manager for this region, said the building will house 5,000 terminals, each one representing a telephone number.

The building will be erected by J. G. Fitzpatrick Ltd., and will include two floors and a basement, all measuring 125 by 66. Situated near the Chateauguay Regional Shopping Plaza, it will have an attractive design conforming with the residential motif of the community.

Kinsmen Ambulance For Disposal

In view of the recent fact that the Kinsmen Ambulance was returned to the original donors, it has been brought to the attention of this newspaper that the local Kinsmen Club would like to dispose of the vehicle. If any responsible Group or Organization in Chateauguay sees its way clear to operate the vehicle in the area, please contact Kinsman Kevin Duffey in writing, before June 15th, 1962, who will in turn discuss this with the general membership.

CHATEAUGUAY SPORTS ROUND UP

(by JOHN McDONALD)

Discuss Swimming Pool

A meeting was held in the basement hall of St. Jean de Baptiste de Marie Vianney Church, on Wednesday, May 23, 1962. This meeting was organized by Mr. Gilbert Biron of the Loisirs to discuss the possibility of building a swimming pool for residents of Prudential, Parkview and Chateauguay Park. A twenty minute film was shown on the construction of such a pool in Lachine. After the film, Mr. Biron explained how such a pool could be financed. One thousand families at fifty dollars per family for the first year would cover the cost of the pool, club house, etc. and the following years the members would only have to pay expense costs of the pool, such as life guards, light bills, taxes, etc., etc., which should amount to between $12.00 and $16.00 per year per family. Of the fifty or so that attended this meeting, all were in favour that such a project should be undertaken and Mr. Biron stated that if all went well, construction could be started and completed so that the pool could be in operation sometime this summer.

The pool will be L shaped and olympic size with a wading pool for the small fry, someone will be calling at your door in the next week or so to explain this project to you and sign you up as a member if you so wish. Anyone requiring information on this pool or would care to do a little canvassing on your own street, should contact Mr. C. Biron at 692-4909. This is a very sound and practical project and deserves the support of all concerned. Other projects like this are in operation and are working out very well for those who are members.

A reminder to all C.C.R.A. members that this coming Saturday, June 2nd, is registration day for all boys and girls of the C.C.R.A. wishing to take part in the summer softball activities. Mr. C. Young, Sports Chairman of the C.C.R.A. and all the coaches will be at the ball Park at 10 o'clock A.M. to take the names and ages of all the youngsters. This year there will be Mosquitos (7 to 14 years), Pee Wee (10 to 12 years) Bantam (12 to 14 years) Midget (14 to 16 years) and Junior (16 to 19 years) and 12 to 16 years for the Young Ladies.

THE LEADING ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN THE DISTRICT OF BEAUHARNOIS

Notes and Jottings FROM Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

My father belonged to Invernesshire, and sailed for Canada in 1826. He took up lot 39, for which he paid $2.50 an acre to Colonel deRouville, who claimed a large tract. Like our neighbours we built our shanty on the front of the lot, but finding it wet and unpleasant my father raised another on the ridge, and, in course of time, his neighbours to the east of him did likewise, and it came to be known as the Scotch or Highland ridge. There was a good deal of fever and ague in those days and the storekeepers sold quite a quantity of quinine. There was much in Canada that struck the settlers with surprise, and they, coming from where game-laws were strictly enforced, wondered to see men freely fishing and shooting deer and partridge at pleasure. My mother had never seen a snake until she came here and the first warm night, when the air was filled with sparks, she was greatly alarmed, thinking it was raining fire, and could not believe the spectacle was due to flies. Knowing no better, my father, on cutting up the trees, dragged the pieces with a rope to the house, and continued to do so until a neighbor showed him how to construct a handsled. It was a long while before my father got a yoke of oxen, and until he did, Breaky would come with his, receiving payment in day's work in return on his own farm. During the first winter, my father had occasion to be away one night and before leaving forgot to show my mother how to heap the ashes and keep a gathering-coal for the morning. She thought she left it as usual, but, on rising on the morning, found the fire had burned out. There were no matches in those days and there was no flint and steel in the house, and it was too far to go through the snow to the next house. So she went back to bed to keep warm and remained in it until father came. He took down the musket he had brought with him from Scotland, and pouring some powder on the pan and placing a bit of punk in it, drew the trigger, and secured the means of restoring the fire. To take our first grist to mill, my father gave a blanket to a Canadian, who hauled it in his traineau through the woods to Fort Covington and back again. Our shanty was so buried in the bush, that in chopping a tree in front of it, it fell differently from the direction my father expected, and crashed against the door, which it forced open and the tree-top lodged on the shanty-floor, giving my mother a fright. There were wild beasts around us, and we lost a 3-year old heifer, which was found dead, with the marks of a bear's claws in its torn back. There was a clearing on the top of a knoll on our lot, in which, on hoeing in corn and potatoes, we found bits of pottery, shells, and arrowheads, leading us to suppose that Indians had once had a camp there. As no bones were found, it could not have been a burial-place. Among the settlers we had a poet, Wm. McEdward, who lived a little west of us, and who came in 1830. He had been a shepherd in Scotland and his education was limited to the ability to read print, so he composed his verses mentally and then dictated them to someone who could write Gaelic. In 1836 he went to Montreal to have the poems of Peter Grant and Dougald Buchanan, copies of which he had brought with him, reprinted, and added 17 hymns of his own, one of which has Canada for its subject, and is devoted mainly to reproving the laxity with which its people keep the Sabbath and the like. When he came back with the book he was thin and pale and his friends believed he had denied himself in the city to make ends meet. The book was printed by J. Starke & Co. in 1836, and the edition was disposed of by the poet's travelling far and near among his kindred Celts, he realizing sufficient to pay off the balance due on his farm. McEdward sang his own hymns, and as he had a soft, sweet voice, it was pleasant to hear him. He always wore, winter and summer, a Scotch bonnet, and a hoop was slipped into the crown to extend it to shade his eyes in summer. When the weather required it, he enveloped himself in a large Rob Roy plaid. He never worked much but went about among the neighbours a good deal, and was a capital story-teller, delighting to relate ghost and fairy tales. When, at the end of one, he would be asked "Is it true?" he would reply, "Weel, weel, I don't know; I just tell it you the way I heard it." His visits were other than social however. He was a Baptist and of a pious spirit, and never failed to visit those who suffered under sickness or other trial, and his players were devout and earnest. His ideas of Sabbath observance were very strict. Thus one day he saw a settler come into church with a fine new blue bonnet of genuine Scotch shape. To have asked him where he had bought his cap would have been to violate the Sabbath, so he refrained, and next day walked 5 miles to get the desired information, which resulted in his renewing his headgear. His daughter married John Campbell, who had been a fisherman in Scotland, and who lived on lot 60, 1st range, who was also a Baptist and travelled about a good deal, preaching when he found opportunity. He went as far in his trips as Hemingford. His sermons were very tiresome. McEdward one day was complaining of the laziness of his son-in-law, remarking that fishermen were always lazy. "Ay, and shepherds too", caustically rejoined his neighbor. The poet died in 1856 when 80 years of age and is buried in Laguerre churchyard. Campbell moved to Michigan three years afterwards.

The hamlet at Laguerre, which was the centre of this and the other settlements adjoining, promised during its early years to become a village. Ogilvie and McBain employed many men in their asheries and in lumbering, and blacksmiths, coopers, shoemakers and other tradesmen gathered around them. All winter the country presented a busy scene from the teams hauling timber and cordwood on the river-bank and the oxsleds of settlers many of whom came from a considerable distance, with black salts and potash to exchange for store goods. When the ice left, the river was so full of rafts that canoes had difficulty in picking their way, and bateaux came in from Montreal with goods and later on in the season, with immigrants. The trade in ashes was large and remunerative, as may be judged when Ogilvie averaged 250 barrels each season, and pearled 50 barrels McI Bain did as large a business in ashes, although he directed his attention mainly to lumbering. On the flats along the river he cut a great quantity of oak and pine, immense lots of masts, oars, and flatted timber of all sorts. The bateaux could not take full loads from the wharves owing to the sandbar at the mouth, so the balance of their lading was sent off to them in another boat. The freight to Montreal was $1 the barrel of potash.

An interesting subject connected with the early days of the district, is that of prices. Up to 1835, when the supply began to be exhausted, the great article of export was timber. What was most sought for was masts and oars, and as the woods were plundered of these, square timber grew in importance. The mast-trade was exceedingly profitable, and as the price was in proportion to the length, exertions were made to get them out of the woods without trimming. To this end, mast-roads were formed, and of these there were two of such length that they led from the lake to the 4th range. The oldest ran back by where Cazaville now is, and after it had ceased to be needed for lumbering, was used as an ordinary road, so that when the sideline between 48 and 49 was opened. Castagent had difficutly in getting people, who preferred the old to the new road, to cease trespassing on his lot. A little to the east of his road, Bagg & Waite cut out another which angled across the country to the west-branch of the Laguerre. It passed over several hills, one so steep that a rope was attached to the mast and given a turn round a beech tree, and two men paid it off to let the mast go down gradually. One day the rope snapped, when the nigh team were rendered unfit for further service. After that a chain was used. The sled that bore up the head of these masts, was so massive that, by itself, it was as much as a yoke of oxen could draw. With 20 horses, or as many oxen, attached to a mast, and with many men, the noise made the woods ring, and they could be heard long before they hove in sight. Of one white-pine mast, got out for McBain, a memorandum has been preserved. It was 84 feet long, 25 inches at the butt and 18 at the small end. The average pice settlers received for delivering pine at the stump was $20, and rock elm $25, paid in goods. It was worth as much more if delivered on the rafting-ground. White-ash oars, from 15 to 19 feet long, 4½ inches square at one end and 2 at the other, and 6 inches wide at the blade, averaged 80 cents a pair. Cordwood was almost given away. The most of the maple on the Scotch-ridge was sold standing at 12½ cents a cord to French Canadians, who rafted it to the city, and as late as 1934 it was only worth 15c. Delivered at Laguerre it was worth $1 a cord. Ashes seldom went below 12½c the bushel.

Hi Neighbours!

May 21st week-end was a busy one for all so any bits of news reached us rather late, but we shall mention all we can this week-end.

-o-

Many friends and neighbours dropped around to Seigniory Park, when they had visitors week-end and what a successful one it must have been with the weather co-operating so beautifully, many enjoyed a free swim.

-o-

The Frosts of St. Jude, entertained Mr. and Mrs. G. Giltinan and nephew over the long week-end and had a pleasant get-together.

Heard tell that the tulips are a sight to behold in Ottawa. Imagine its worth a trip to have a look-see.

-o-

Quite a number of people had some lovely fireworks displays on the 21st. Has anyone heard of a two fire cracker display. Evidently it was worth watching!

-o-

Delegate from Ireland

Jeanne and Eric Ellis entertained a Mr. Johnson from Ireland, who was a delegate attending the Duke of Edinburgh's Commonwealth Conference. He was a most interesting gentleman and proved very interested in our Canadian way of life.

-o-

Let's not take nature for granted and glance up at the orchard in bloom while it lasts, we wouldn't see such a sight in town!

-o-

Last week Yolande Gilbert entertained her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Desjean, and her two children who seemed to enjoy our relaxing surroundings for a few days.

-o-

For your information, if any of your children contract German Measles, the Protestant School ruling is that they must stay at home for 10 days.

-o-

Scott Carpenter's orbital flight proved very exciting, perfer terre firma personally.

-o-

Hope everyone is enjoying glancing through the Electoral Voting List! Apparently many unheard of occupations exist! Wouldn't dare to count the errors.

-o-

Denise Desrosier entertained her little friends last Thursday, in between bursting rain cloud, broken clothesline, and sudden high winds. Everyone enjoyed themselves in spite of the hazards.

Tony returned home to business after three weeks then Betty and Pamela went on to Scotland for two more enjoyable weeks, with weather not being so pleasant. Pamela had a wonderful time visiting all her relatives but said on returning home, "Now I have no one to call me Wee Pet!"

Last Saturday afternoon the Ladies Committee held their Bookmarket — Candy and Rummage sale, which turned out to be a huge success. Piles of magazines, hard covers, pocket books and comics were eagerly bought by children and adults alike for a few cents, which would give countless hours of reading pleasure. The home made fudge counter attracted many — for, who hasn't a sweet tooth ? The rummage table, piled high with clothes and knick-knacks had its share of customers. The small fry had a grand time going through the assortment of odds and ends, trying to figure out just what Mum and Dad would like. Wonder how many parents were surprised at some of the items brought home ?

To all who took time to visit and buy at our sale — many thanks. Also sincere thanks to all residents who were so kind in their donations. Last but not least, on behalf of the Ladies Committee a great big thank you to George Rankin, Hank Hillock, Billy Hulshoff, Fred Myers, Carl Cotton, John Simmons, George Gourley, John Fuller and Peter Poupart who cleared a section of St. Denis Square and also were busy transporting tables, etc. By the way, guess everyone would like to hear the good news — $63.02 was the net profit realized from this sale.

SOFTBALL — Any boy between the ages of 6 - 16 wanting to play softball this year, please register at the ballfield this Saurday, June 2nd, at 10.00 a.m. The coaches of all the teams will be there to take your names and ages, for the various teams.

The Ladies Committee will be holding their next meeting on Monday, June 4th, at the home of Mrs. L. Golden at 8.30 p.m.

Another Grocery Bingo is coming up on Wednesday, June 6th. at the home of Mrs. Stan Mackey. Conveners to be Lois Smith and Lee Fuller.

At the last West End Homeowners' Association meeting held on Tuesday, May 22nd, Mrs. Syd Mitchell and Mr. George Gourley were both presented with trophies by Mr. W. Hulshoff, President, and Mr. Borselino, Membership Chairman. Mrs. Syd Mitchell was named "THE Executive of the Year", while George Gourley received the most votes as "THE Member of the Year." Congratulations to both of you !

A new committee has been formed with regard to purchasing land for the Building Fund. Mr. John Simmons, Mr. Y. Larose and Mr. George Ingram are to look into this matter and report their findings at the next homeowners' meeting in June.

SOCIAL HI-LITES

The Scouts enjoyed another outing this week-end when Scott Cushing, Dougie Campbell, Allan and Ronnie MacIntosh left Friday night for Fort Montgomery. Glad to get back to Mum's home cooking, boys ?

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Metcalfe wish to thank everyone for their kindness and generosity to their daughter Joanne, who is a patient in the Montreal Children's Hospital. The Metcalfes were quite overwhelmed with the gifts of a transistor radio, flowers and a pyjama bag, and to Joanne it was quite a thrill to receive the lovely gifts. Little Joanne will be a patient for several more weeks, when it is hoped she will be fully recovered and able to return home once again.

To Ben and Micheline — These gifts were a small gesture of appreciation for the many times you have opened your home to the residents and shown interest in any project undertaken by the community.

Birthday Greetings go to Richard Brown of Manor Drive, who has occasion to celebrate this Thursday, May 31st.

It is with regret that we record the death of Mr. Sidney Presland Jones, a resident of Somme Apts. for several years, who passed away on Friday, May 25th in his 74th year at the Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital. He leaves to mourn his death his wife, the former Emily Janet Clare Norton; a son Ronald, in England; a daughter Louise (Mrs. A.C. Scoble) in the United States also a daughter Winifred (Mrs. W. W. McTavish) of Winnipeg. Funeral services took place on Monday at 3 p.m. at D. A. Collins Chapel, 5610 Sherbrooke St. W. Interment was in Field of Honor, Pointe Claire.

We extend our deep felt sympathy to Mrs. Jones and her family in their bereavement.

Mrs. Betty Portingale of Somme Apts. last week suffered a nasty cut in her hand which required emergency medical attention. Stitches were necessary to close the wound and the attending physician remarked that only by prompt treatment, blood poisoning was avoided. Mr. Matt Will of Dunkirk Apts. was the good samaritan who in his own car, accompanied by Mr. Nelson LaVine, drove Mrs. Portingale to the doctor.

This accident was caused by the use of one of the old type can opener. Its lethal qualities far out weigh its effectiveness. If you harbor one of these dangerous weapons in your kitchen we can only but suggest, (with summer coming on when so many of us rely on quick and easy meals,) that treacherous items like these be discarded from your kitchen workshop.

We are happy to welcome Jimmie and Olive Cashion of Cambrai Apts. back home after their six weeks sojourn in France and England. Mr. and Mrs. Cashion have been busy settling back into their regular routine and getting their flower gardens planted without any further delay, so I have hesitated to trespass on their time too much in obtaining the highlights and some of the details of their trip. These I hope to have for you for next week and I feel sure that all armchair travellers will be interested and enjoy hearing them. In the meantime they wish to convey their thanks to Mr. Bill Cooper of Mons Apts. who very kindly looked after their gardening interests during their absence.

-o-

Before we close this week's column we would like to direct the Chateauguay City Father's attention to the deplorable state of the road on Molson Ave. During the construction of the new St. Willibrord Elementary School on MacLeod Ave. and all the new homes, a tremendous amount of traffic was re-routed along this avenue to St. Charles St. Trucks, tractors, bulldozers and heavy equipment have taken a heavy toll of the surfacing that was, at it's best in the beginning, only a light one. Great gouges and pot holes confront both the motoring and pedestrian traffic as a result. Our residents of Vetville feel that they pay sufficient rent to have this road properly maintained, it is also a hazard to our young children in this district who use it to go and come from school. Just a few days ago I ran down from my apartment to help and comfort a little fellow who was lying in a pot hole in the road crying and his school bag lying in another one in front of him where it had slithered when he fell. So let's start beautification week with a step in the right direction and one that the people and children of this district can be reasonably sure will be on the level.

-o-

Folks of Vetville, it takes more than one person to make a Community — it takes more than one person to help make a Vetville News Column. I am relying on your past co-operation for news items of your visitors, your birthdays, your anniversaries and any other happy events that happen to you or our neighbors. We hope they will offset any sad news that might occur from time to time. My telephone number is Oxford 2-2358. I have a deadline of Monday morning to meet. Please let me have your news if possible before then or hand it in to our Superintendent, Major Robert Mitchell at his office. Thanks.

Salvation Army Ready To Help Suicide Caller

VANCOUVER (CP) — Members of the Salvation Army's anti-suicide bureau usually can tell from the tone of a caller's voice whether he really intends to carry out his suicide threat.

"If the voice is flat and toneless we can bet the person really means to kill himself," says Brig. R. M. Bamsey, in charge of the bureau that has been operating here 2½ years.

"But if it has a healthy resonance, chances are the caller just wants to get his troubles off his chest."

The person bent on suicide can talk things over with a bureau officer trained to detect the danger signs. Many of the telephone calls are referred to the police.

Brig. Bamsy said there were 63 suicides in the Vancouver area last year compared with 52 in 1960. But from May to November of 1961, 94 would-be suicides—53 men and 41 women —called the bureau.

Stay Anonymous

"We can't say how many lives we save because very often the caller won't give his name," said the officer.

He believes unemployment is the chief cause of despondency and thoughts of suicide.

Bureau members never "talk God" at the start of a conversation with a person threatening suicide, said Brig. Bamsey.

"Usually we leave any talk of God until we see them personally. We meet them as a friend over the telephone first and as a Christian friend later."

Parliament follows at 12 noon. At 1 P.M., the Army and Navy Veterans, Ottawa Branch, provide luncheon for the South African Vets and their wives. A government sponsored banquet will be held in the evening at the Chateau Laurier for all South African Veterans and Prime Minister Diefenbaker will be the principal speaker.

Daughters of the Empire, Ottawa Branch, are looking after the lady members of the convention and the evening will close for all at Trafalgar House, Royal Canadian Legion Branch 16.

The Montreal contingent are expected to arrive back June 1st at 7.40 p.m.

Branch 108 is sponsoring a mixed bowling league this fall to be held at the West End Bowlarama. Cde. John Haworth has already received over 60 names and he hopes to receive all entries on or before June 1st, as reservations must be made at this time for the alleys.

Cde. Harry Robinson leaves Saturday for Halifax, to represent the branch at the Dominion Convention, and the next regular meeting, Tuesday, June 5th, will have Cde. Norm Palmer in the chair pinch hitting for the President.

Cde. Norm Palmer is our District Representative and he would appreciate receiving the names of those who intend to be present at the District Rally to be held at Valleyfield, Saturday, June 16th, starting at 2 p.m. There is a moderate charge and supper will be provided.

Due to pressure of business Cde. Phil Chartrand was unable to carry on as Bar Chairman and the offer of Cde. Bob Jennings to fill this post was gratefully accepted by Pres. Harry Robinson. There are still two chairmanships to be filled, namely for the Poppy Day Drive and the Armistice Day Ceremonies and Pres. Robinson would welcome volunteers for these two very important jobs which offer real opportunities for service.

for lawns that look like putting greens...

use LAWN BOY

Lawn-Boy gives your lawn the close-clipped, broadloom look of a putting green because it cuts grass properly. Lawn-Boy's blade is part of the secret. It's made of case-hardened spring steel (like butcher knives) to give you a keen, long-lasting edge that cuts, not rips. Each blade has a special stiffener that stops the turning force from bending it, keeps it level to cut level. Blade height adjusts easily. With most models, you can buy a new grasscatcher that works like a vacuum cleaner to clean as you cut! The result is a lawn that's not just cut . . . but perfectly cut. Your Lawn-Boy dealer will show you.

Should Not Be Allowed To Die

THIS may seem rather early to be writing about something which will not take place until October, and when we have hardly entered Spring. However, it is something that needs time for consideration and action in order to be in readiness when the time comes. We are referring to the Huntingdon Adult Community School, which has filled a long felt need for a number of years, but is now in danger of not continuing.

There have been many good projects which have been organized and carried on for a while, only to fail for this or that reason, in Huntingdon. We do not know if people tire easily of the many things, or why it is, but it is so. We do feel that some things should not be allowed to die and should be carried on. The Adult Community School is one of them.

This Community School has carried great interest among a large number of the people right from its inauguration and has had a good following. It is true that some of the courses have not been as well attended as was thought, but then others have been overcrowded. In such cases, perhaps a revision of what is most useful would help to have all courses well filled, even if perhaps there were fewer of them. Last year, 1961, there were 14 courses, some of them were very well attended and would be well patronized again. Some subjects are of a type that the length of the school period does not allow adequate time for too much benefit. We believe this part of the school needs an overhaul in order to make the courses the most beneficial in the time allowed.

The Safe Driving Course had to be limited last year, but it would appear this is a popular one and easy to fill, National Affairs created much interest and drew well and was well talked about, it would appear that such a course could be renewed. In past years there have been equally good courses offered and those attending the school have registered their enjoyment of this period.

There have been difficulties to be overcome, as there are in almost everything that has to be done. But now experience has been gained and things could work much more smoothly. It takes a number of willing workers to look after the arrangements and conduct the school. It takes money to operate, as nothing can be done without some expense. Of necessity persons registered for school can only take one course. This is because the school is held on only one evening a week. To be able to take more than one course would entail more evenings and more expense in every way. Many people have signified a wish to take more than one course, this tends to prove the popularity of the school and is all the more reason why it should not be allowed to die at this time.

The difficulty at the present time is that a sufficient number of people are not available to fill the offices of the organization. Some people formerly on the directorate have left, or are leaving Huntingdon, and thus replacements have to be found. At the present time the organization is lacking a chairman, the co-chairman is desirous of retiring from that office. There is a need for a new director and a replacement is required on the refreshment committee. It is felt that without people willing to fill these offices, it will not be possible to operate the school in October of this year.

The Gleaner is therefore putting this matter before the people of Huntingdon in the hope that someone may come forward in the very near future and offer their services in behalf of this very worthwhile community effort. Should anyone reading this feel they would like to help, please get in touch with Mrs. Gordon McLean by calling CO. 4-2631 in the evenings only. Mrs. McLean has had much experience with the school and could give information needed.

May we hope that a sufficient number of volunteers will come forward in order that the Huntingdon Adult Community School will again operate as usual this fall. Huntingdon is once again in a progressive mood, let's not do anything that will retard it.

Ormstown Exhibition - - - 1962

ONCE again, the time has come around to the annual Ormstown Exhibition which will open on Wednesday evening, June 6th and continue until Saturday night, June 9th. This is a time of year when Ormstown becomes the busiest of towns for many miles around. People flock to Ormstown from all parts of the country and numerous points in the U.S.A. All roads lead to Ormstown during the period of Ormstown Exhibition, which is also known as "The Little Royal".

Ormstown Exhibition results in Ormstown being quoted on many occasions throughout the year in a number of publications and announcements. It is quite common to see a quote that such and such an animal was a winner at Ormstown Exhibition. There is no doubt then that this Exhibition is very beneficial to the Town of Ormstown as well as to the area adjacent to it.

Once again there is the promise of a very good fair providing a variety of things to do and entertainment features. Those entering exhibits in the many different classifications will be interested in the judging results and anxiously awaiting the completion. Then there will be the various events as they are held each evening in the arena —these provide both competition and entertainment. There is the midway which provides the fun and amusement for children and adults. The industrial exhibits give an insight into new machinery, cars, trucks, household appliances and numerous articles of interest to every one. The exhibits of course, which are the main theme of the Fair, also provide plenty of interest for the patron of the exhibition. There is no doubt that all who attend the Exhibition will find plenty to see and plenty to do and at the same time enjoy a few days outing.

The trek will start next week to Ormstown Exhibition, so we will be seeing you there.

How's The Election?

IN the local field the election campaign so far remains fairly quiet. It may step up a bit after official nominations June 4th. At that time also, we should know if there will be any more candidates in the field from the other parties. If not, then the contest will be between the two old line parties, the Liberals and the Progressive-Conservatives, as far as Chateauguay-Huntingdon-Laprairie riding goes. Therefore the choice is narrowed and it could be the reason why there is not too much enthusiasm, or very much talk at this time.

Generally speaking the whole election campaign has not too much to offer. There is no real up and coming issue in the campaign. Each group is offering to cure all things while promising all kinds of things which may be hard to carry out. We, the electors, know of old that much of what is said can be taken with a grain of salt. The unemployment situation is not going to be cured overnight, not one single party has the power to create such a change in a short time and not one really has a cure for it. This is a situation that has come about due to our economy and until we can change the trend of the economy, it will remain with us. As far as give-away programs are concerned, we all know what that will mean to the taxpayer in the end.

The devaluation of the Canadian Dollar may have its advantages in some ways, but it will also have disadvantages. It will mean we shall have to pay more for all imports, but we gain an advantage on exports. If the latter does take place, then employment may improve. Business between Canada and U.S. may improve, but it will be a sort of one-way street. It will be advantageous for people of the U.S. to buy here and to visit here, but we shall be the losers both ways. The U.S. dollar will be at a permium which we shall have to pay when we accept this money. The Canadian dollar will be at a discount when it trades in the U.S. direction. It is hard to tell right now if inflation will set in or not. This then is now causing considerable comment in election circles.

It is therefore not a time for any wild promises, or give-aways on the part of any party. It is a time of sober reflection on how best to get our economy back on its feet. This should be the first and foremost concern of any party seeking the vote of the people. So far, Social Credit seems the only party with a platform that tends to harp on economy. The old line parties had better wake up before it is too late and realize that they are promising too much. The people are capable of knowing the possibilities and they realize that the promises cannot be fulfilled for a long time to come. Mr. Pearson is promising a new deal for the people of Elliott Lake. Such a deal could take years to bring into effect and then not amount to much.

The PC's are not entirely to blame for the conditions prevailing, but they should be doing more casting around for a remedy of the situation. The Liberals have not come up with a surefire remedy for all our evils but are promising all sorts of other things. The NDP's and SC's are attempting to offer solutions, but none can point the way to the road that will once again lead us back to more prosperous times. The times when Canadians were for the most part fully employed and business throughout the country was carrying on without temporary and permanent shut-downs.

"The Start Of Old Age Pensions"

The old age pension is now a way of life but was once a political bargaining tool, due to the outcome of the 1925 general election being a nightmare to the old Parties. True, the Progressives were riddled but neither Party had a majority. The division in the House of Commons was:

	Before	After
Liberals	116	101
Conservatives	49	116
Progressives	63	25
Labour	3	2
Independent	—	1
Vacant	4	—
	235	235

The King Government had enjoyed Progressive support from 1921 to 1925, but the group was now split with neither those from Alberta nor Agnes Macphail attending caucus. On the other hand, few among them had anything in common with the Conservatives. Mackenzie King, although personally defeated, and in substantial minority, clung to office. Consequently, in the ensuing months there was bargaining for support. Ultimately, another election was called to clear the air.

"Ask No Quarter" written by Mesdames Stewart and French is an interesting biography about Miss Macphail, the only woman MP at the time. She despised the devious ways of Mackenzie King but, distrusting the Conservatives, generally voted with the Liberals. Limited was her respect for Robert Forke, leader of the Progressives; therefore, she looked most frequently to J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Labour Party, for guidance.

Mr. Woodsworth was a strange man. He was a clergyman who refused use of "Rev'd." and had a martyr complex. He was suspected by the orthodox because of the prominent part he had taken in the Winnipeg General Strike in 1919. (He was jailed). To some, he was a saint-in-politics, to others he was a Red. Arthur Meighen's dislike was absolute, but King was willing to deal with him.

Actually, Woodsworth's bargaining strength was limited. His deskmate Abe Heaps was honest, but flexible and with few illusions about mankind. Many years later he was to become a Liberal office-holder without any lifting of eyebrows. More important was Woodworth's influence over Agnes Macphail — Vincent Massey was supposed to ride herd but was not always a successful go-between.

This, I think, was the reason why Mr. King took seriously a letter dated January 8, 1926, from Mr. Woodsworth. I now quote from "Ask No Quarter:"

> . . . On January 29th he rose to tell the House with complete candour what he had done behind the scenes.
> He had sent identical letters to Mackenzie King and Arthur Meighen, requesting the enactment of an old-age pension. He could promise either man the support of enough Progressives to help achieve this legislation. King's letter of January 28th, agreeing to bring down legislation, has become a treasure in C.C.F. archives. King had agreed; Meighen had stalled. Therefore, King, with J. S. Woodsworth gently propelling him, would continue in office until the Old Age Pension Act was passed.
> The good ladies over-simplify and, being in the wings at the time as private secretary to Hon. James A Robb, Minister of Finance, may I fill in some gaps.

A quirk in Mackenzie King's make-up was that either he or the Liberal Party, must be able to claim to be 'first' in promoting new welfare policies. So far as old age pensions were concerned, the record was against him. Back in 1906 Mr. Pringle, Conservative M.P. for Stormont, had proposed that the Government consider introducing an old age pension scheme. For 19 years he had been treasurer of Cornwall and knew of the plight of elderly people when let-out by the cotton mill. His motion attracted no support from the Conservative benches, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier had spoken in a friendly way, at the same time pointing out that, by the BNA Act, the matter was within the jurisdiction of the provinces. The motion had been withdrawn, but the debate was of record.

During the 1921 election, Mr. King had made passing references to the need for such a scheme and, being the winner, wanted to cultivate the ground. He also knew that the Liberals would divide were a vote taken.

Early in the first Session of the new House, the Member for Hull took the floor to propose a study of old age pensions. Doctor Fontaine was elderly, enjoyed the repute of speaking at length and in French. There was no simultaneous translation in those days, so the House quickly thinned out, but some MPs had notes ready as soon as they had a speech in English to indicate what the Government was prepared to do. No minister rose. Speaker Lemieux could show dignified speed when the occasion demanded and, seeing no Member on his feet, declared the motion "carried." King had won what he wanted — a blanket decision in favour of a study of old age pensions.

There was some consultation with the provinces, but nobody was in position to finance the cost. For this reason, old age pensions was not an issue in 1925. However, the Cabinet knew that "Holy Joe" Atkinson was putting pressure on Mr. King.

Mr. Atkinson was, in many ways, an exceptional man and a strange mixture. If there was such a thing as a 'consecrated Liberal' in Toronto he was it. Mr. Atkinson was also the owner of the Toronto Star and it was said by those in position to know that he was netting $1,000 a day from its operations. He was money-greedy and had once been disturbed over the fact that he had neither readers nor advertising income on Sunday. Ultimately, he had mollified his Methodist conscience by establishing the Star Weekly which could be put in circulation late Saturday afternoon. Conversely, he was sincerely interested in improving life among the poor. He wanted an old age pension scheme and King could not afford to ignore him. A Bill was drafted, but it was meeting with mixed reception in the Cabinet.

This was the state of affairs when Mr. Woodsworth's letter arrived. King had just won a House vote by a margin of three votes, so was prepared to negotiate. Contrary to the quotation above, Mr. Woodsworth had made no promise of support — that had to be found by reading between the lines. King stalled, held conferences with Woodsworth and Heaps and at the same time had the Bill polished up to the satisfaction of the Cabinet. Towards the end of January, the Whip passed on word that Woodsworth planned to make a major speech on January 29th.

On the 28th A. W. Neill rose to ask what the Government planned to do about old age pensions — stories were floating around. Mr. Neill was a man no Party ever controlled, so the question was accepted as original. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, House Leader for the Government, replied that a Bill had been prepared and that, as a matter of fact, had that morning been listed as new business for the Order Paper to appear on the 29th.

Therefore, when Mr. King wrote Mr. Woodsworth on the afternoon of the 28th, he was able to point out that the query had been unnecessary: action speaks louder than words. Formal notice had already been given of a Bill and he trusted it would have general support. The Conservatives might snort, but once again King had outgeneraled all. In passing, Woodsworth, Heaps and Miss Macphail gave King support throughout the Session, although the first and last sometimes first examined their conscience in public.

The Conservative-controlled Senate rejected the Bill by 45 to 21, on the grounds that it was a matter within provincial jurisdiction. The Liberals winning the 1926 election, the Bill was again before the Senate within nine months and without even a comma changed. This time the vote was 61 to 14 in favour — 25 senators had reversed themselves. Some explained the reason why. None did it better than he who saw no reason why he should hasten Senate reform.

The plan called for legislation and administration by the provinces, with Ottawa reimbursing 50% of the cost, provided the payment was not more than $20. a month and paid only to those: (a) 70 and over, (b) were British subjects, (c) had resided in Canada for at least twenty years, (d) did not have an annual income in excess of $365 and (e) who had not made "any voluntary assignment or transfer of property for the purpose of qualifying for a pension." The last was to be the headache.

It was now up to the provinces. Among those that did not adopt the scheme forthwith was Quebec. Therefore, I knew what a topic of conversation would be when I noticed Mr. Robb picking up Hon. L. A. Taschereau in the concourse of the Ottawa railway station. The Minister of Finance had a private car on the Montreal train and Mr. Taschereau was Premier of Quebec.

Mr. Taschereau was frank. He recognized the value of the scheme as a vote-getter, nevertheless, the principle was wrong. It was the duty of children to look after their parents in old age, so this sort of thing could undermine family responsibility. He hoped that it would never be necessary to adopt it in Quebec to keep him in office and he expected to be Premier for years to come.

Mr. Robb did not press the matter further. Later, I asked why. He laughed and said it was because Mr. Taschereau's argument had recalled a little experience of many years before. He was then President of the St. Louis de Gonzague Show and had driven over from Valleyfield for a meeting. After stabling his horse, he walked over to Notary Martin's office. The evening was warm and he was early.

The door in the inner office was open, so he had necessarily listened to a family settlement being arranged. The farmer, in his eighties, had lost his wife and the home was being broken up. He would stay so many weeks with each of the children. One would supply clothing, another boots, a son would keep his tobacco pouch filled, a daughter would arrange for the pew in the church, and so on. It was a fair deal to father and children and was being amicably arranged.

The Notary put it in writing and asked the old man to sign first. He hesitated and pointed to a contingency, suppose he should get married again? All were taken aback, but the favourite daughter rose to the occasion: "You and the new mama will live with me. Tachereau might be right. If there had been an old age pension, the family might have been cold-blooded and sent him to an institution.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment, a report on union violence and a seaway expropriation provided the news in Ottawa during the week.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Canada's unemployment total fell by 75,000 to 485,000 as of mid-April, and the federal labor department described the drop as "a normal change for this time of the year". The April jobless total a year ago was 622,000.

The mid-April unemployment report — likely to be good fuel for the election campaign fires — is the last to be issued before the June 18 election. The report for May will not come out until a day or so after the election.

The month's jobless total represented 7.5 per cent of the labor force compared with 8.7 per cent a month earlier and 9.7 a year ago.

The size of the labor force increased to 6,492,000 from 6,454,000 a month earlier. Employment also rose — to 6,007,000 from 5,894,000 — with the job gain largely in outdoor activities, chiefly agriculture.

Union Violence

Prime Minister Diefenbaker was urged to take action to halt violence in an inter-union struggle on the Great Lakes before lives are lost.

The urgent request came from Claude Jodoin, head of the 1,070,000 - member Canadian Labor Congress in a letter delivered to the prime minister's office.

He cited incidents of beatings, break-ins, shootings, threats, harassment and hard-knuckle tactics, arising out of a jurisdictional dispute between the Independent Seafarers International Union of Canada and the fledgling Canadian Maritime Union.

He requested "all possible steps to end violence, restore order and protect the safety of individuals."

The CMU was set up — with CLC help — after the SIU was expelled from the Congress for raiding another union. The younger union broke the SIU's hold on Canadian shipping last month when it gained a contract with Upper Lakes Shipping Limited, covering some 400 seamen on 25 ships.

Since this break-through, Mr. Jodoin declared violence has erupted around the Great Lakes — beatings in Port Arthur, rifle shots at Toledo, obscene telephone threats to CLC secretaries in Toronto, intimidation at Trois-Rivieres, Que., and other incidents.

Enlarge Canal

The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority — with the approval of cabinet — expropriated 320 acres to permit the "future" twinning of the all-Canadian Welland Canal between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie.

The expropriated land is in the St. Catharines and Thorold areas, around four single locks in the 27-mile waterway bypassing Niagara Falls.

The surprise take-over was accomplished by formal filing of plans and property descriptions in local registry offices in the area. No mention was made in the Ottawa announcement of when the multi-million dollar twinning project might be undertaken.

Early Dry Spell

On the farm front, it was reported that the impact of drought on the Western Canada cattle population has emerged more than a month earlier than last year.

Worst hit is a 20,000-square-mile belt in southwestern Saskatchewan and Eastern Alberta.

Agricultural Minister Alvin Hamilton informed the Manitoba Saskatchewan and Alberta governments of readiness of the federal government to help in moving fodder or cattle.

The next day, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported good seeding progress in Saskatchewan and broad Alberta areas. There was little advance in Manitoba, however, due to wet weather.

The bureau reported moisture conditions improved markedly in Alberta and Manitoba, while only light rainfall touched on Saskatchewan. But moisture reserves still are much below normal over wide Alberta and Saskatchewan regions.

Family Spending

As the result of another survey, the bureau reported that the average Canadian spent more money on the upkeep of the family car than on clothes.

The special survey shows that 9.3 per cent of the average Canadian family budget goes into the car — 9.1 per cent is spent on clothing.

The survey was based on a sampling of 1,672 families of two or more in 60 urban centres of more than 15,000 population.

The average size of the families was 3.70 persons — approximating a husband, wife and two young children — with an average family expenditure of $5,570. In 24 per cent of the sampled homes the wife contributed to the family income.

Food and shelter were by far the largest items in the budget, food accounting for 23.8 per cent and housing, including fuel, light and water, 16.4 per cent.

Car and clothing came next with personal taxes lower down the list at 6.8 per cent.

Education Policy

Premier Robarts of Ontario, who is also the provincial education minister, in a speech to the Canadian Club at Ottawa denied what he termed "irresponsible statements" that academic instruction in Ontario secondary schools is being sacrificed for technical and vocational training.

"Not only will the academic program be retained but with a more careful selection of pupils suited to academic pursuits, the content of courses can be strengthened and made more significant," he said.

The premier said the need for a program providing technical and commercial training is underlined by these statistics:

Of 100 students who entered grade 9 in 1955, only 78 proceeded to grade 10 in 1956; 55 went on to grade 11 in 1957; 46 reached grade 12 in 1958; 24 entered grade 13 in 1959; 13 obtained grade 13 honor graduation diplomas; nine indicated they intended to enter university; six actually did and "the chances are that only four will graduate".

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec Government this week took the first step towards buying out an American-owned paper company in Matane County.

First reading was given a Bill which would allow Quebec to buy Hammerhill Paper Company for $2,500,000. The company owns 195 square miles of timberland containing 1,200,000 cords of wood.

Forestry Minister Bona Arsenault told reporters that acquisition of Hammerhill is part of the Liberal Government's plan to redistribute forest wealth among regional mills.

Hammerhill leases would be opened for cutting to companies already in the area and would also feed a mill to be built at Matane.

Mr. Arsenault said the economy of Matane and Gaspe North Counties had been "seriously injured" because Hammerhill did not process its wood there.

The attention of the Legislature centred on business and industry during the week.

Provincial Secretary Lionel Bertrand announced that the Government will create a Ministry to oversee the $200,000,000 Tourist Industry — "An industry which ranks third in the amount of revenue it brings us from outside."

The Ministry probably won't be created before the next Legislative Session, however.

Mr. Bertrand also indicated a bill may be submitted this session through which the Tourist Bureau would grant permits for operation of tourist information booths. Guides would be required to take courses and would be forbidden to solicit tourists in public places.

"We are going to rid the roads of information booths whose only aim is to exploit the tourist," Mr. Bertrand added.

An argument developed over government advertising in Quebec's weekly newspapers when Opposition Leader Daniel Johnson said "There is unqualifiable patronnage" in distribution of the advertising by an advertising agency which bases its contracts on recognized business methods.

Mr. Johnson suggested that advertising went to pro-government weeklies but Mr. Bertrand replied that the government had no say in the distribution of contracts by the private agencies.

The Opposition Leader said no advertisements had been given the Pro-Union Nationale Montreal-Matin, which had a circulation of 125,000 while Le Devoir, the other French-language morning paper in Montreal, had received advertising though its circulation was 30,000.

Mr. Bertrand said Le Devoir

St. Joseph's Parish Honors Mgr. J. A. David On His Fifty Years Of Priesthood

St. Joseph's Parish, Huntingdon, Que., was in a true holiday mood over the week-end of May 19th, for it was celebrating with joy Mgr. David's golden anniversary. He was ordain in 1912.

The celebrations opened on Saturday at 5 p.m. with a Solemn High Mass, sung by Mgr. J. A. David. Rev Jacques David, nephew, acted as deacon and Rev. P. L. Thibault, O.M.I., a cousin, as sub-deacon. His Excellency Mgr. Percival Caza presided. The sermon was preached by Mgr. Valerien Belanger, Auxiliary of Cardinal Leger. The Choir of Rigaud College sang beautifully. This Mass was attended principally by the clergy, religious, relatives and friends of the Jubilarian. A Banquet followed at the Chateau. Mr. Hector Provost as Master of Ceremonies, introduced the principal speakers, Bishop Caza and Mgr. David.

A diocesan medal of merit was presented to Miss M. A. Thibault by Bishop Caza, in appreciation of all she has done for the Valleyfield diocese during the 38 years she has been housekeeper in a number of rectories. The choir of Rigaud College entertained by singing folk-songs.

On Sunday, Canon J. T. D. Fortier, who comes to St. Joseph's Parish as assistant quite often, celebrated his 50th anniversary too. He sang the 9 o'clock Mass. The Solemn High Mass at noon was presided over by Bishop J. A. Langlois. Mgr. Laurent Morin, Bishop of Prince Albert, Sask., was in the sanctuary. This Mass was sung by Mgr. David with Rev. E. Daigneault as deacon and Rev. P. J. Vianney O.F.M. as subdeacon. St. Joseph's Men's Choir sang a specially prepared Mass. The sermon of the day was delivered by Rev. P. J. Vianney.

At 1.30 p.m. the St. Joseph and Notre Dame Cadet Bugle Band assembled in front of the rectory and played two selections in honour of Bishop Langlois. With Chief L'Heureux leading the march, the band under the direction of Mr. Hervé Tessier proceeded to the Chateau, followed by a cortege of the distinguished guests. A banquet tendered by the parishioners was served to about 250 people. Mr. Harold Higgins as Master of Ceremonies called upon Bishop L. Morin to ask the blessing. In an address Mr. Roger Leduc, Warden-in-charge, offered the congratulaions and good wishes of the French-speaking parishioners to their Pastor. He called upon Miss Thérèse Leboeuf to present Mgr. David with a golden purse and four vestments in heavy gold brocade in appreciation of his untiring devotion. Mgr. David stated that he will wear these beautiful vestments on many important feast days, thus allowing the donors to share his happiness in having them to add to the beauty of the ceremonies. Alain Leduc presented a gift to Canon Fortier in recognition of his many services to the parish. The committee ordained that this money should be spent in travel (from Huntingdon to Seattle) return.

The Mayor of Huntingdon, Mr. Paul Lefebvre, in a few well chosen remarks proposed a toast to the venerable pastor. The Girl Guides sang three selections in a pleasing manner.

Mr. Harold Higgins read a telegram of good wishes and regrets from H. A. D. Sommerville, M.L.A. He then expressed the appreciative sentiments of the English-speaking parishioners and stated that he hoped Mgr. David would be blessed with good health for many years and be able to continue working among us, although not as hard as he has worked in the past. He called upon Canon Fortier to give us in a few words some of his experiences of the past 50 years. Canon Fortier said that Mgr. David and he have been fast friends since their college days. During their entire ministry, if one were in need of help, he could feel assured that his call would be answered by the other.

Bishop Laurent Morin, Bishop of Prince Albert Sask., a life-long friend stated that it pleased him greatly to see the marks of respect and admiration showered upon Mgr. David on this happy occasion.

The Jubilarian arose and thanked all who had participated in making the big feast such a success. He told the gathering how much it pleased him to have the clergymen of the different Denominations present at the Saturday evening banquet in response to the invitations that had been sent to them. He was also deeply moved by the attendance of Bishops Langlois, Caza, Morin and Belanger. He said he wanted to make special mention of his devoted Curate, Fr. Gareau, and thanked him for the great assistance he gives him.

Over the head-table hung Mgr. David's Coat of Arms. He gave a detailed description of its true meaning.

An afternoon Tea was served at Notre Dame Hall by the Ladies of St. Ann. The entire parish was invited to this. The Ladies' Choir was happy to favor Mgr. David with a rendition of the two selections they sang at the music festival. The floral and other decorations in the Church and halls were very artistic. The Anniversary Cake was truly beautiful. This family get-together brought all the festivities to a happy conclusion.

was chosen because it was read cover-to-cover while Montreal-Matin was read for its sport pages alone.

"The people who buy Montreal-Matin want the news in brief," said Mr. Bertrand. "They have to go to work early while those who have the time in the morning buy Le Devoir and the Gazette and read them completely."

Later, Opposition Leader Johnson charged that uncertainty and confusion reign in Quebec business circles as a result of Liberal statements. Investors wanted to know whether people who favored nationalization or free enterprise ran the government, he said.

Premier Lesage declared that industrial development is burgeoning in Quebec and referred to announced plans for a stainless steel mill at Tracy and a zinc refinery at Valleyfield.

"Other industries are to be established," the Premier said. Research Centres are being established in Montreal ..."

A highlight of the week came when the Liberals and Union Nationale voted alike 78-0 in favor of an Opposition motion calling on the government to "continue the constitutional fight" for recognition of Provincial rights to direct taxation.

Armand Maltais (UN-Quebec-East) said the spirit of the constitution indicates that the provinces should get the first whack at direct taxation.

Taxes on firms exploiting natural resources and revenue from succession duties were specifically mentioned.

On The Question Of A Central High School

Over the past few years there has been discussion from time to time with regard to the possibility of a Central High School being built to serve the Chateauguay Valley area. Some people in some areas favor such a school, others are definitely against the idea. There are also some who believe it is only a matter of time until such a school becomes a reality, irregardless if it is wanted or not. There are many problems to be considered, pro and con, and some of these problems differ for each area concerned. As of now, it is known that Chateauguay, previously considered in the proposed school for Southwestern Quebec, now have their own high schools and would not be included. School areas to be considered would be Beauharnois, Dundee, Franklin, Hemmingford, Howick, Huntingdon, Ormstown, St. Anicet, Valleyfield. Geographically, such a school would probably best be located in the Rockburn-Ormstown-Dewittville area.

This newspaper is not proposing such a central high school would be good; nor is it saying it would be bad. We feel there are many, however, who would like to know more about such a proposal so they may judge for themselves if it is good or bad. For that reason during the next few weeks, articles derived from reports made to the Quebec Protestant School Board re. such a school for the Chateauguay Valley will be published in the belief that it will help people to judge whether or not they would favor sending their children to a central high school instead of to local high schools.

Memorandum to :

Members of Sub-Committee on Central School Boards.

Subject : Report of Sub-Committee to Protestant Committee dated November 11th, 1960.

This report included :

1.—3 Major Problems to be faced;
2.—7 Principles which are endorsed;
3.—12 Proposals for modification;
4.—A Summary.

The terms of the agreement which made my services available as Consultant to the Sub-Committee were contained in a letter from Mr. Munroe to Mr. Buzzell dated December 20, 1960 In this, high priority was accorded to the preparation of criteria, in accord with the principles of the Sub-Committee's report, to be used in establishing school administrative and attendance units.

While trying to establish these it has seemed to me essential that the proposals should be expanded in greater detail to make certain that members of the Sub-Committee have a common conception of the implications. With this object in view this memorandum is submitted. It is designed to form a basis for discussion at an early meeting of the Sub-Committee.

General

The Summary envisaged the passage of legislation which would be general in character. It is not desired to have special legislation to provide for each Regional Board as it is set up. These Regional Administrative Units should function within the prescriptions of the Education Act since they will comply with the definition of "school municipality" in section 2, sub-section 3 of the Education Act.

A new subsection to Section 71 to be known as 71C might be drafted authorizing the union of school municipalities by Order in Council upon the recommendation of the Protestant Committee and the Director of Protestant Education or Superintendent. If this is done the existence of the Central School Board Act could be an inconvenience until such time as all Central Board areas had been revamped. At that time there could be a petition for the repeal of the Central Board Act. However since the local municipalities have retained their identities under the Central Board Act it should be possible to unite the school municipalities and let the Central Boards be dormant as in Argenteuil-Two Mountains until the reorganization is complete.

Proposed Section 71C might read: Whenever either Committee of the Council of Education recommend, and with the approval of the Superintendent, the Lieutenant Governor in Council, for reasons deemed advantageous and after having published a notice to that effect in two consecutive issues of Quebec Official Gazette, may unite the whole or part of the territory of any number of municipalities thereby creating a new Regional municipality for Protestants or Catholics as the case may be. The Order in Council shall specify the name of the new municipality.

Such unions shall take effect on the first of July following the date of the relevant Order in Council.

Further such unions will be subject to review after they have been in existence for a period of five years if a petition requesting such a review is addressed to the Superintendent bearing the signatures of at least 20% of the electors in the territory included in the union.

Notes :

1.—More study will be required to be certain that such an amendment would authorize the inclusion in the new school municipalities of areas not currently organized as school municipalities. It is important to assure that properties owned by Protestants or Roman Catholics are taxed for the support of schools of the faith of the proprietor irrespective of their location.
2.—Since Section 427 is not in accord with the spirit and philosophy of the Education Act consideration should be given to making a recommendation that the section be repealed.
3.—Also, in this connection, there should be study given in respect to a clarification of Article 250.

Proposal 1 :

The sub-committee will prepare, from recommendations and by study, a revamping of the Province into Regional school municipalities. If desired one or more could be organized as soon as the necessary legislation has been passed because minor adjustments in territory can be made from time to time. Tentative proposals for one or more areas should be submitted for study by the sub-committee as soon as possible so that it can examine the implications and potentialities.

The Regional Municipality envisioned will encompass many existing school municipalities and may be larger than many of the Central Board areas. All will include several attendance areas and some may include more than one high school attendance area. The organization of the Regional Municipality must precede the re-organization of the attendance areas. However the plan for the creation of a specific Regional Board should indicate a desirable arrangement of attendance areas, high, intermediate and elementary.

Proposal 2 :

The Order in Council creating a Regional School Municipality will specify the number of members on the Board and delineate the electoral districts. Each school municipality should have the right, by resolution, subject to the approval of the Superintendent, to determine whether there shall be five, seven or nine members. Section 131 of the Education Act could be revised by adding a paragraph making this provision.

Special problems associated with the mechanics of elections which are not specifically provided for in the Education Act would be handled best by directives of the Department. Eventually it might be expedient after an experimental period, to incorporate the procedures as Regulations of the Protestant Committee or as part of the School Law.

Proposal 3 :

Definition of Elector (Section 125) must be amended to extend the right to vote to all adults, male and female, who have been residents in the school municipality for a period of six months prior to the election.

Proposal 4 :

Sections 88 and 151a of the Education Act already provide the authority for the proposal that the members of the Regional Board be elected in such a way as to reflect a ration of the number of pupils of school age to the number of members. If desired a Regulation of the Protestant Committee could be drafted requiring Boards to divide their territory into wards, or electoral districts.

Proposal 5 :

If no mention was made to the contrary it would be assumed that Regional Boards would operate within the framework of the Education Act.

Proposal 6 :

Section 78 of the Act makes provision for the division of the assets and liabilities when new school municipalities are formed from parts of others. It should follow that the Order in Council establishing a Regional Board could indicate that the Regional Board assumes the assets and liabilities of the Protestant School Municipalities from which it is created.

However Section 77 makes provision for the continuation of a special tax in those parts of a new municipality which had a special tax at the time of the creation of the new municipality An additional paragraph to section 77 would be required stating: "Section 77 does not apply to unions created under the authority of Section 71C except in cases when an existing school municipality is divided between two Regional School Municipalities. In these cases the Regional Board having the territory in which the school for which the debt was incurred, is located will be responsible for the assets and liabilities and Section 77 will apply in that portion of the school municipality annexed to the Regional Board which did not acquire the assets and liabilities of the school municipality which was divided.

Flower Boxes

There was a time when window boxes were just that, and nothing more, but now they are architectural devices which are used to relieve the dull blankness of a garage wall, frame a patio, or brighten an apartment balcony.

You can have a box constructed to meet your requirements out of any moisture-resistant wood such as redwood, cedar, or exterior fir plywood. The wood should be at least one inch thick and the plywood three-quarter inch thick. The box should be at least ten inches wide and ten inches deep to allow sufficient root depth for most window-box plants and enough room for an attractive arrangement of plants.

It fairly breathes in the air again,
Our beasts are being groomed again,
The band is getting tuned again.

The majorettes will prithee,
Step along quite merrily.

Who will win the race patate?
Whom be champion of the Scrambling Calf?

Our Mr. Barrington, M.P.
Will open up the jubilee

And celebrities galore
Will greet you from the platform floor.

You'll see the graceful horses vie
As they pass you, prancing by;
The draft horses, brass bedecked
Stately moving with arched neck.
The Shetland ponies — oh! oh!
They're the joy of any show.

An undercurrent of worry runs
'Tis the plague of June exams.
Cheer up pupils, in '63
Perhaps the fair, will later be.
Maybe then you'll be in clover
The horrid exams done and over.

A hundred sights and heaps of fun.

And fill the hours with laughter.

must have proper drainage. To carry off the excess water, bore three-quarter inch holes in the bottom of the box at intervals of eight inches. Treat the inside of the box with a wood preservative to prevent rotting, as well as painting the outside. Calk the seams and joints to make them waterproof.

When the box is completed, place it so that the top is level with the window sill and make sure it is adequately braced and securely fastened in position to support the weight of the soil when it is wet.

After the box has been installed fill the box up to two inches from the top with a standard soil mixture.

For a window box with a sunny exposure some of the best upright type plants to use would be petunia, nasturtium, dwarf marigold, heliotrope, geranium, begonia, ageratum or coleus.

Both the German and English ivies do well in window boxes with a sunny exposure, as do trailing geraniums and trailing lantana.

If your box is in a shady location almost any fern or foliage plant can be grown successfully, along with begonia, viola, fuchsia and forget-me-not.

Mrs. E.M. Wood returned on Friday from a month's visit with her brother and sister-in-law in Los Angeles, Cal. She left Montreal by plane and changed to a Continental JET at Chicago. Actual flying time was 7 hours. The weather during the month was on the cool side and averaged 70 degrees. During her visit Mrs. Wood's brother was away two weeks in San Francisco acting in his capacity of first Vice Pres. of the International Lawn Bowling Asso., as director of the tournaments with the visiting Australia team. For the next two weeks the visitors played at greens in the vicinity of Los Angeles, with Mr. Hay still directing. On Mother's Day the Australians attended the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood in a body and Mr. Hay and Mrs. Wood accompanied them. It was a most impressive service. The church has a capacity of 1,700 and is always filled at the 9 A.M. and 11 A.M. services. There is a splendid choir of 60 voices and a junior choir of 75 voices. During her visit Mrs. Wood enjoyed a tour through a very large nursery where the flowers of all kinds were a sight to behold. Another day she enjoyed a visit to an Orchid Hot House where she saw thousands of orchids of all kinds in bloom and saw how they were packed for shipment all over the country. Each visitor that day was presented with a lovely purple orchid which an attendant pinnd on the shoulder. On another day she and three friends motored to Laguana where they enjoyed lunch at the Victor Hugo Inn, and also visited the Old Mission — San Juan Capistrano. A most interesting and historical place. This Mission is famous for its white doves which land on one's head, shoulder and arms, and eat seed from one's hand. Mrs. Wood had a picture taken while many doves landed on her. On the last day of the Australian's visit to Los Angeles they were taken through the Helm's Athletic Foundation. This Hall houses Trophies from every known sport won by outstanding athletes all over the world. It would take at least three days to do full justice to viewing all the interesting medals, and trophies contained therein. Delicious refreshments were enjoyed to the visitors on the patio. Later all went by bus to the Beverley Hills Bowling Green and while the men played their matches the ladies were taken on a drive of their own choosing and many points of interest were enjoyed. They returned to the Green at 3.30 when refreshments were served to members and visitors by the Club members. In the evening a banquet was held at the Rancho Golf Club a delicious meal and a good entertainment. Mr. Hay received a number of presentations from the Australians in recognition of his outstanding work in connection with the tour. Mr. Hay is known all over the world as "Mr. Lawn Bowler Himself". Mrs. Wood had the pleasure of being with the Australians during the day's activities and found the visitors very interesting and friendly people. She left L.A. the next night for home leaving on the 11 P.M. Jet for New York. During the night some rough weather was encountered which made for bumpy flying. Altitude on flight reached 37,000 ft. and speed reached 620 miles per hour, Nevertheless one is not conscious of the speed but most of the time there is a sensation of being still. At one point the captain informed the passengers that the outside temperature was 78 degrees below zero. There was a two and a half hour wait at New York for the plane to Montreal but actual flying time was 6½ hours.

Graduation Dance At Hemmingford High School

A canopy of green and white, a dainty trellis fence and an archway of apple blossom and lilac made a charming setting for the annual dance held at Hemmingford High School, on Friday evening, May 25th, for the Graduating Class. Around the walls, on flowered bordered plaques, were inscribed the names of the six girls and one lone boy, who are graduating this year.

As the graduates entered with their escorts, through the arch, they were introduced by Master of Ceremonies, Joe Paré. Then they, and all present, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Alister Somerville, Mr. and Mrs. John Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Matheson and Graduate Sandra Greer (President of the Students Council) and her escort, Richard Puttee.

The ladies in their gay spring dresses, many wore formal gowns, the fine music of the Bill Moodie Orchestra and the delicious refreshments prepared by Miss Ann Northup, Mrs. A. Kyle, Mrs. Glen Clark and the Grade 9 girls, all added up to a particularly enjoyable evening. The decorations were in the capable hands of the students of Grade 10, ably assisted by Mr. P. Pederson.

An evening which will, most certainly, be long remembered by the 1962 Grads to whom go congratulations and best wishes for their future careers and happiness.

Obituary

The Late Mrs. John B. Murphy

A Requiem Mass and funeral service took place in St. Aloysius parish Church, Montreal, on Tuesday, May 22nd, for Mrs. John B. Murphy (Clare Massam) of 1440 Morgan Blvd. The Reverend D.H. McCormick officiated assisted by Rev. M.D. Dube and Rev. John Campbell c.s.c. Mrs. Murphy died in St. Mary's hospital, on May 19th, at the age of 57.

Born at Huntingdon, Que., the youngest daughter of the late Edward Massam and Anne Caine she was educated in local schools and in the Valleyfield Normal School, after which she taught for several years.

Some time after her marriage to John B. Murphy the family went to Montreal and settled in St. Aloysius parish, where Mrs. Murphy has been an active member of the Catholic Women's League for many years, having been twice President of the St. Aloysius Council. She was also 3rd Vice-President on the Archdiocesan Board of the League, Spiritual and lay convener, and child welfare convener. At the time of her death she was Vice-President of the Valleyfield Normal School Alumni. Lately, she had returned to a teaching career and was until recently, on the staff of the St. Aloysius Boys' school.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, James (seminarian) Edmonton, Alberta and four daughters, Sister Joan Elizabeth s.n.j.m. (Lois) Sister Clare Lois, s.n.j.m. (Carolyn) Sister John Patrick, c.s.c. (Patricia) and Mrs. R. Hersey (Betty) four sisters, Mrs. Wm. Whittaker Montreal, Mrs. Edward Bannon, Huntingdon, Mrs. James Smythe, Huntingdon and Mrs. C. Grimshaw, St. Jerome, and one brother, Mr. Ray Massam of Ensign, Alberta.

The Planting Of Trees And Shrubs

The advent of spring reminds us that it is time to be thinking about making preparations to plant trees and shrubs. Mr. Roland Gilbert, specialist in ornamental horticulture of the Quebec Department of Agriculture, gives the following advice.

It is a good idea to choose those kinds and varieties which are hardy and suited to the local conditions of climate and soil. It is also a good idea, in order to avoid making mistakes, to try to imagine what the tree will look like in twenty years. If this is done, the tree or shrub is more likely to be chosen wisely and to fulfil expectations.

Planting should be done as early as possible, that is to say as soon as the soil has warmed up and can be worked easily. If the soil is refill or excavated material, a hole about 18 to 24 inches deep should be dug, the poor soil removed and replaced with good earth, rich in organic matter and plant nutrients. The tree or shrub is then placed in the hole with its roots well spread and the soil is replaced. Care should be taken to tramp it down well so that no air pockets will be left. A good watering does much to ensure success.

The tree or shrub should be set about two inches deeper than it was in the nursery. When the plant is received, it is easy to tell from the colour of the bark how high up the trunk the soil came before the plant was dug up. Dead roots and weak, or frozen branches should be removed. The number of branches retained should be in proportion to the amount of root remaining.

When a tree is chosen in its natural setting, it should be taken from a sunny spot. Earth should be moved with it at the rate of nine inches in width at the surface of the ground for every inch of diameter of trunk. Note should be taken of its natural orientation so that it can be replanted in the same way. As fertilizer, bonemeal is recommended, and also 8-16-16 at the rate of ½ to 1 pound per inch of diameter of trunk.

Amateurs would do well to read publication 244 of the Quebec Department of Agriculture, entitled "Shrubs" and supplied free of charge to applicants.

With the $10 monthly increase in the universal old-age pension, it is estimated that current spending power of Canadians aged 65 and over will average about $123 monthly, compared to $122 monthly for personal disposable income for the population as a whole.

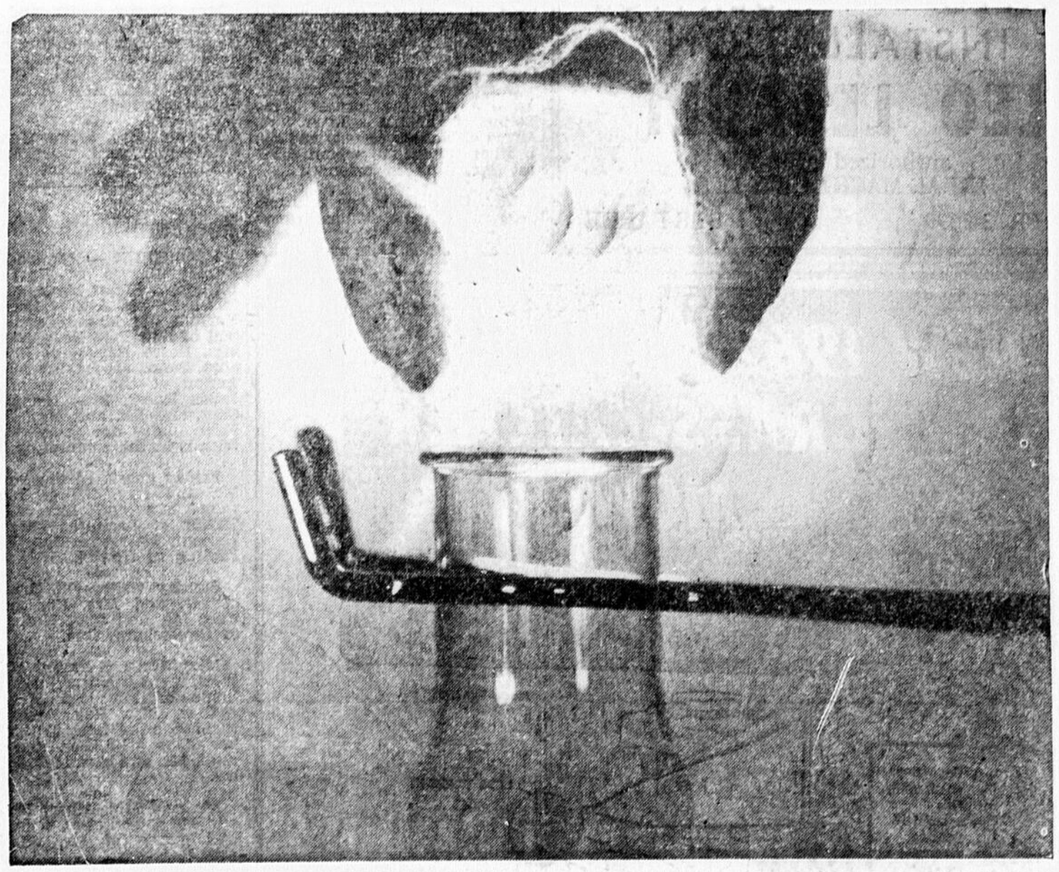
90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial

At Imperial Oil's laboratories at Sarnia, Ontario, more than 200 scientists and technicians are working to improve present petroleum products — and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents.

Another 130 scientists and technicians are working at Imperial's Calgary laboratories on ways to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.



Every barrel of crude oil contains some of the sun's heat. Imperial research works to unlock more of this energy. After five years' intensive research, Imperial found a chemical additive which makes more heating oil available from Canadian crude oil. One important result: less oil imported to heat Canadian homes.

Bicycle Safety Test At Howick Proves Successful Event

HOWICK — Saturday morning, two stalwart police officers from the Huntingdon detachment arrived at Howick High School, to assist with the long awaited Bicycle Safety Test, organized by the Howick Women's Institute. Co-chairman, Mrs. Haddon Kerr and Mrs. James Crawford had worked hard arranging all the details, but now the staff was on hand, the course of tests laid out and shortly after 9 o'clock. Mrs. J. R. Younie asked Mr. Ken Younie, convener of the staff of men to start the program. He called on officer Hirsch, who gave a short talk on safety with Mr. Lamoreux giving the same in French.

Then Sandra McFarlane and Milton Reddick, Student Council, of Howick High School and Louise Laberge and Robert St Jean, Catholic School were asked to register and take the first tests. Soon things were rolling along as everyone became familiar with his or her role. Officers Kyle and Hirsch gave the signals test, assisted by Mr. Lamoreux. Other men who conducted and marked tests were Messrs Rorison, McMullan, Wright, Stuckey, R. Turner, Menard, W. Gruer, Meunier, D. Morrison, A. Champ, B. Champ, Morgan, Fingland, Gourley.

A staff of ladies handled the registrations, oral tests, prizes, etc. Mesdames J. D. Lang, P. Laberge, M. Lemieux, A Kerr, H. Kerr, A. M. Ness, J. R. Younie, J. Crawford. Mrs. F. Sutherland had the last word with the boys and girls, as she gave each one a container of delicious flavoured milk donated by Mr. Findley of Cherry Bank Dairy. Mr. Findley showed great interest in the Safety Test and gave assistance with the organization. Officers Kyle and Hirsch did a wonderful job on the Signals Test, which is a most important one; making sure that each child understood what was expected. This was the first test they had been invited to attend in this area and they hope other tests will be held later on.

Favourable comments were heard about the clear directions given by all the testers. On the whole 58 entrants enjoyed the experience and parents feel their children are now more aware of the safety rules.

The W.I. was encouraged on receiving so much support from the Cercle des Fermieres, Catholic School teachers, Protestant Home and School, Howick Council, Aubrey-Riverfield W.I. and others. Don Brady and Ken Younie did a splendid job organizing the men and laying out the course. Mrs. Don Brady (bilingual) supervised the play grounds. Due to three bilingual testers not being able to attend, last minutes changes had to be made, for which apologies are made to the conveners of the tests.

Howick Council prizes for highest marks given to English speaking boy or girl $5.00, French speaking boy or girl $5.00 were won by: Sandra McFarlane and Dorothy Reddick (tie) and Richard Daoust. second prizes given by Cercle des Fermieres to boys from both schools went to Richard Brault, Marcel Patenaude (tie) and Milton Reddick. Second prize to girls from both schools went to Louise Laberge and Cathy McFarlane from Howick W.I. Bicycle stands went to all the 2nd prize winners.

Mrs. Jas. Crawford and Mrs. H. Kerr donated prizes of money to three students who tied for first place in tests 2-7. This gave students with new or old models an equal chance to win. Austin McKell, Alex Templeton, Cathy McFarlane.

Eighteen draws were made as the tests were finished and a supply of reflector tape given to the following, Sandra McFarlane, Richard Daoust, Diane McArthur, Lynn McArthur, Pam Miller, Bruce Morgan, Marcel Patenaude, Dick Angell, Kelly Brown, Janice McFarlane, Jane Stuckey, Jean St. Denis, Billy Leblanc, Donald Chisholm, Gordon Chisholm, Alex Templeton, Gordon Nugent. These were donated by Mrs. A. M. Ness, Ralph Reddick and Howick W.I.

Others who took the test were Robert St. Jean, Francine Menard, Jimmy Rorison, Leon Verdurman, Andy Ness, Jo Anne Rorison, Carla Morgan, Jean Stonehouse, Patsy Stonehouse, Cathy Glover, Iona Robertson, Barbara Brown, Janet Holmes, Douglas Stonehouse, Claude Brunet Carol Carson, Keith Rorison, Marcel Fortin, Richard Champ, David McArthur, Judy Clarke, Roy Younie, Mary Brown, James Morrison, Scott Gebbie, Michael McMullen, Réal St. Denis, Malcolm Peddie, Roger Holmes, Graeme Angell, Nancy Rorison, Leonal Vincent, Chris Ness, Myron Nussey.

Gasoline Buyers Changing Habits

TORONTO (CP) — Many Ontario motorists, according to a report from the provincial energy resources department, are inclined to drive up to the gasoline pumps and tell the attendant: "Fill it up with whatever you sell here."

The report said motorists are beginning to favor price and convenience over brand names and apparently consider gasoline "a homogeneous product which does not fall below an acceptable level of quality no matter where it is sold."

This is only one change in gasoline marketing in Ontario, said the report from the energy studies branch of the department. Marketers in many cases treat gasoline "as one of the many items in their stock, and not necessarily a major one."

The report notes that up until the last two years the conventional service stations have been the major retailers of gasoline, selling products under the brand names of the large oil companies.

New Trend

Three new groups now are in the field: large leaders in tires, batteries and accessories; discount stores and department stores.

Such merchandisers believe the consumer views gasoline in much the same manner he regards other forms of energy he uses—as "a regrettable but completely unavoidable and worthwhile expense."

"The new retailers see the consumer as starting to discount the importance of brand names in buying gasoline and paying closer attention to factors of prices and convenience."
