Strike called

ROME (AP) — Italy's 40,000 miners started a 48-hour strike Thursday called by Communist and non-Communist unions to protest the breakdown of negotiations for a new labor contract. They staged a similar two-day strike last week.

More small exhibitors suggested

Director says the Winter Fair needs to be rebuilt, improved

A director of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association Thursday pointed out the need to rebuild the Winter Fair and restore it to its proper place among the best in Canada.

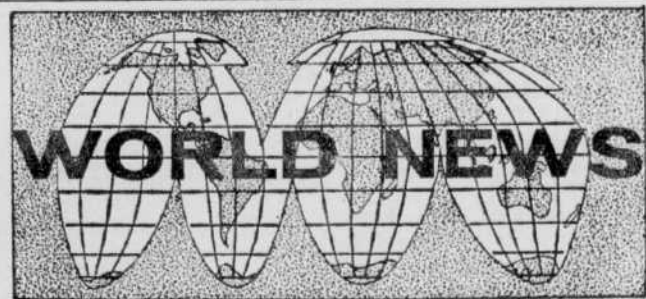

Newton George Bennett addressed the association at its annual shareholders' meeting held at the Sherbrooke Arena Thursday.

Mr. Bennett said that there was no reason why Sherbrooke should not have one of the best fairs in the country, comparable to those at Trois Rivières and Quebec City.

He added that firstly the Winter Fair must be rebuilt in order to attract the small exhibitors.

"We must bring back our small exhibitor," he said, because every person brings someone with him, and we must find a way to get the people back to the fair."

KATAHDIN IRON WORKS, Me. (AP) — Air force rescue parties set out at dawn today over this mountainous, snow-covered area in search of the wreckage of a B-52 jet bomber believed to have crashed near here Thursday night.

The big eight-jet bomber, with nine men aboard, left Westover Air Force Base, Mass., on a routine training flight at noon Thursday. It was due back at 5:30 p.m., but never returned.

OTTAWA (CP) — A nine-day session by the nine-member Northwest Territories Council ended Thursday with the announcement of the intended birth of a new territory and subsidized university education for students from the territories.

Nunassiq is the new name for the eastern section of the territories to be divorced from the Mackenzie district in the west—probably by next year. The time depends on the necessary legislation getting through the Commons.

The N.W.T. Council made the christening after Eskimos twice voted in favor of the name, meaning "the beautiful land."

LONDON (Reuters) — Desmond Clough, 33, a London newspaper man who refused to disclose his sources of information to a British security tribunal, was sentenced today to six months in jail after being found guilty Thursday of contempt of court.

Clough, defence reporter for the mass-circulation Daily Sketch, said he would appeal the conviction, by England's lord chief justice, Lord Parker.

OTTAWA (CP) — Mr. Justice T. G. Norris and Seafarers' Union lawyer Joseph Nuss appear to be heading for a showdown clash over the federal investigation of Great Lakes labor strife.

The Vancouver jurist Thursday questioned Mr. Nuss' honesty as a lawyer—a declaration angrily objected to by the Montreal counsel.

Mr. Nuss, 28, has been the main legal counsel for the Seafarers' International Union of Canada since the one-man inquiry was launched last August. The SIU lawyer has come under fire—not only from the judge but also from lawyers for other parties appearing at the inquiry—for trying to delay and disrupt proceedings.

By JAMES DAVIES (Record staff reporter)

The Eastern Townships Agricultural Association Thursday afternoon agreed to sell its property to the city of Sherbrooke for approximately $200,000.

The city will acquire the arena, the race track, and the land behind the baseball park in the transaction.

The decision was taken at the annual shareholders' meeting.

The E.T.A.A. will continue to present the annual summer exhibition, the Winter fat stock show and the Breeders Show.

The Sherbrooke city council Jan. 14 decided in principle to offer the association $50 for each of the 2,836 shares, $55,000 which is the sum that the organization recently paid out for a new grandstand, and $7,500, which was the amount spent by the E.T.A.A. on a new fence.

Voting yesterday was 1,106 shares for selling and 314 shares against.

The city must still get the assent of Sherbrooke property owners and then submit the plans to the Quebec government for its approval.

THREE-HOUR MEETING The meeting lasted for three hours. Vigorous opposition to the sale was registered by one of the directors of the E.T.A.A. — Harry J. Blue.

The basis for Mr. Blue's opposition to accepting the sale at the moment was, he said, because he did not believe that all the shareholders had been informed that such a decision would be taken at the meeting.

Therefore he said, he wished to prevent the decision from being made at this time.

Mr. Blue also contended that legal advice should be sought by the E.T.A.A. before completing the transaction.

Mr. Blue said: "The disposal of the property should not take place today. Rather there should be a separate meeting called to consider the matter. This is a big deal, and we should designate a legal adviser before we proceed any further. We should go into all the legal aspects of the matter."

"Also, many shareholders may still not know about the deal, and I don't think that by postponing the decision on the matter for another two weeks or a month that any harm will be done."

Mr. Blue also added that he thought that they were trying to railroad the issue through.

In reply to Mr. Blue, President Wes Nichol said that he did not understand why there should be a delay of perhaps another year on the matter.

Senator C. B. Howard also agreed that he did not see any reason for a delay of the decision.

N. G. Bennett, one of the association's directors lent his support to those wishing to accept the offer.

Thompson in foreign policy debate

Warns trading with Reds 'digging our own graves'

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian trade with Communist nations is "suicidal stupidity," says Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson.

"We are so blinded by the profit motive or by political expediency that we are digging our own graves," he said Thursday in a Commons foreign policy debate which Opposition Leader Pearson will continue today.

"We will trade ourselves into defeat and slavery," Mr. Thompson said. The issue was more critical than the question of nuclear arms.

Mr. Thompson, along with Paul Martin (L—Essex East) and T. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, pressed the government for a statement on nuclear policy.

But neither of the government's two spokesmen — External Affairs Minister Green and his parliamentary secretary, Heath Macquarrie — touched on nuclear weapons policy in the day-long debate.

Mr. Douglas, again urging a non-nuclear policy, said it is shameful that the government has not yet made a clear-cut statement on the issue.

SAYS PROBLEM IGNORED Judging from Mr. Green's speech, he said, "there might have been no such thing as a problem of nuclear armament."

"The government has never been either frank or fair with the people of Canada. . . .

"If they do not intend to acquire nuclear weapons, we should know why they are continuing this inexcusable waste of public funds. . . .

"I urge the government to come out from behind this screen of doubletalk and take a stand, I say to the government."

Stay granted

NEW YORK (CP-AP) — A stay of execution to Feb. 4 was granted Thursday to Frederick Charles Wood, 51, confessed slayer of five who said he didn't want a postponement. He was to die at Sing Sing Thursday night. Wood told police after his arrest for slaying two men that he had killed his teen-aged girl friend in 1926 by feeding her poisoned cream puffs and in 1933 beat a young woman to death with an iron bar. He served 17 years for fatally beating a man in 1942. A lawyer obtained the stay independently.

Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia, Turkey, Bulgaria and parts of the Soviet Union were hit as the winter's fury concentrated on the south.

In Denmark, Germany and Belgium it was getting a little warmer. Britain, almost totally snowbound for more than a month, expected a slight thaw within 24 hours.

The normally sunny coasts of Spain and Portugal were struck by fierce storms. Nearly 300 persons waited through the night for rescue from two Spanish ships in difficulties in storm-ravaged bays of southern Spain.

Attacks de Gaulle position

Kennedy appeals for unity

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy has appealed to French President de Gaulle to unite with Britain and the United States to strengthen the North Atlantic Alliance until the tide of communism loses its momentum.

While communism now is in "disarray," Kennedy said, it still controls more than 1,000,000 persons. Acting alone, neither the U.S. nor Europe could be certain of restraining Red expansion. For the West, the reality of danger could not be obscured by personal or national differences.

He told a press conference Thursday he has confidence in de Gaulle's pledge to respond to the needs of the alliance and "I hope that our confidence in him would be matched by his confidence in us."

In quiet tones, Kennedy rebutted de Gaulle's argument for blocking Britain from the European Common Market. De Gaulle maintains Britain is not ready for admittance; that she is maritime, insular and has too many interests in other parts of the world. Kennedy countered that without Britain, there can be no unity in Europe.

WOULD HELP UNITED "We have strongly supported Britain's admission to the Common Market because we think it helps build a united Europe," he said.

Impoverished nations are in great need of help and the U.S. hasn't sufficient resources to respond alone. That was another reason why the U.S. supported Britain's entry into the trade bloc. Together, the new Europe and the U.S. could meet the resources task on a basis of equity.

De Gaulle said a week ago France could not accept integration in a NATO multilateral nuclear force because France fears the U.S. might not respond in the event Europe came under a nuclear threat. That, said Kennedy, is inaccurate. The U.S. has pledged to defend Europe and though some parts of Europe may not believe that, "I believe Chairman Khrushchev does and I think he is right."

SENATOR ANGRY Kennedy's pleading public response to de Gaulle's blunt rejection of American proposals contrasted with the inner anger known to exist in the Kennedy administration against de Gaulle's policies. But some of this anger emerged in the Senate Thursday when Senator J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee and a close Kennedy friend, publicly accused de Gaulle of endangering Western security and prosperity with "romantic illusions of a Napoleon."

South badly hit

LONDON (AP) — Europe's killer winter—which already has claimed more than 200 lives—showed signs today of slackening its grip on parts of northern Europe.

The southern fringes of the Continent reeled under the lash of storms, blizzards and intense cold that left a fresh trail of floods, wreckage and death from the Atlantic to the Black Sea.

Gales and rainstorms struck at the southern Spanish coast, smashing several fishing boats. Storms in Portugal sank two fishing craft off Vila Real and destroyed 14 more in Sagres Harbor.

In Italy, where 24 persons have been killed by the lethal coldwave, snow fell for the fourth straight day in parts of the central Apennine mountains. Some 300 communities are isolated there.

In Yugoslavia the death toll stood at 29. Factories and shipyards were closed because fuel ran out.

While Kennedy concentrated on European problems, questioners expressed greater curiosity about Kennedy's part in the 1961 Cuban invasion and reports of a new Soviet arms buildup on the Caribbean island.

Judge rules bumps, grinds for everyone

NEW YORK (AP)—Faith Dane, a bugle-blowing stripper, had her case tossed out of State Supreme Court Thursday.

The subject before Justice Thomas Aurelio was "bumps and grinds" as exemplified by the brunette Miss Dane during the Broadway run of the musical Gypsy.

A grind might best be described as a writhing motion of the female tummy, followed by a bump—a forward thrust of the torso.

This, Miss Dane claimed, was what she did in Gypsy in the role of "a stripper in the WAC drum and bugle corps," accompanying herself with blasts on a bugle.

Miss Dane called her rendition original and sued producers David Merrick and Leland Hayward for $50,000 because they replaced her with another girl who imitated her act, bump, grind, bugle and all.

Justice Aurelio thoughtfully watched the statuesque Miss Dane toss off a few of her bumps and grinds. Then he viewed colored films of Miss Dane's performance in the movie version of Gypsy.

SOUTH AVOIDS SACRIFICE TACTICS

When your opponents hold the spade suit and are not vulnerable you can expect them to take a game or a slam contract away from you by the simple expedient of bidding against you.

One way to stop this is to convince your opponents with that spade suit that you are gambling desperately and that they don't need to sacrifice.

At his second turn to bid

South could have used Blackwood and bid a heart slam once his partner showed him two aces. If he had used those elementary tactics, East or West

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood entered its fabulous era on Oct. 6, 1927, when Al Jolson first sang on a screen in The Jazz Singer.

Wednesday night ABC special, Hollywood: The Fabulous Era, picked up the history of the movies at that point. It was, for the most part, fascinating, but it would have been infinitely more effective had the producer concentrated on the most glamorous movie years—up to 1940, for instance.

The most intriguing material included excerpts from the earlier talkies—John Gil'ert speaking in a piping English accent; Dick Powell singing to Ruby Keeler; Mae West inviting fresh-faced Cary Grant to come up and see her some time.

The post-war film material had less charm and appeal. It just isn't old enough.

People who keep a sharp eye on the television industry have been puzzled for months. It is well known that when a hit show emerges during a season, the imitators get busy.

This season's surprise smash hit has been the country-style comedy, Beverly Hillsbillies, on CBS. The puzzle has been that, nobody has announced plans for a new series called Chestnut Hillsbillies, about a southern mountain family moving to New York.

CBS has dropped the other show and the suspense is over. Its schedule next season will include a new comedy called Ozark Widow.

St. Hilda's Guild

plans supper at

Waterloo meeting

WATERLOO — It was decided at the regular meeting of St. Hilda's Guild on Jan. 21, that the members would serve a hot dish supper, preceding the Vespers meeting on Jan. 28, which will be at 6:30 p.m. The meeting to be held at 8 o'clock.

Rev. G. L. Norris opened the meeting with prayers.

The Guild plans to hold two 500 parties for February. One scheduled for Feb. 2, the other to be held on Feb. 23.

The apron, which was circulated among the members and friends during the last year, made its last trip on Monday evening. Each lady sewed a patch over a piece of silver and passed it on. The names under the patches were put in a box, and Mr. Norris drew out the winner, Mrs. Bernard Rainville. The amount raised through this plan was very satisfactory.

Receipts from the fall rummage sale proved gratifying.

Members voted $300 to the church wardens. They will also purchase some stacked chairs for use in the church hall.

Told what to think, what to do, when to do it

Children cannot accept responsibility, they are guarded, directed, shielded

By SANDRA PICKFORD
(Record staff reporter)

An education official said Thursday night that school children are guarded, directed and shielded to such an extent today that they cannot stand up to responsibility and decision.

C. Wayne Hall, acting director of the McGill Institute of Education at Macdonald College, told members of the Lennoxville and Ascot Home and School Association at a meeting at Lennoxville High school that the goal set for children today is not their own.

"From kindergarten to graduation they are guarded, shielded and directed. They are told what to think, who to do and when to do it. Then, they are criticized for not standing up to the goal set for them," Mr. Hall said.

School children, said Mr. Hall, are shelter from making decision and from meeting the consequences of their own decisions.

"Thirty-five years ago, when I was writing my final examinations at Lennoxville High School there were fewer teachers, but it was to our advantage," he said. "We had to learn to work for ourselves and by ourselves, and to learn to accept responsibility," he said.

Today, he said, too much of this is deprived of the children. They do not have the chance to learn for themselves, obtain personal integrity and pride with themselves.

He said the results of this directing have already been noticed. "At McGill University, brilliant students coming from schools with high standards, have failed in their first year, simply because they could not work for themselves and accept responsibility," he said.

Parents, Mr. Hall said, must have the courage to let their children make a mistake.

Young people, the speaker said, must be induced to want to learn—not to be taught. "If they realize there is a purpose in what they are doing, they will reach through to thrilling accomplishments," he said.

Mr. Hall said young people must be directed, but must be allowed to set their own course.

They must be allowed, he said, to search out their own answers and decisions and then be able to face the consequences of them.

They must be allowed, he said, to discover the fascination of thought and acquire the habit of the utilization of knowledge.

Y.M.C.A. registers $530 surplus, membership declined during '62

The Sherbrooke Young Mens Christian Association came through the year ending December 31, 1962 with a surplus of $530.80 after revenues of $25,139.33 and expenditures of $24,608.53.

The figures were contained in the financial statement read at the annual meeting of the organization which was held Thursday night.

Although the membership in the organization for the past year declined from 969 to 841, the president of the Y.M.C.A., Art Wright re-affirmed his faith in the purpose and accomplishments of the organization.

Said Mr. Wright "23,504 boys used the facilities available at the Y during the past year and certainly this is an indication of its worth to the community." He said that the Y has served, and will continue to serve the city of Sherbrooke, and that he had no doubt that the ideals for which the institution stood were the highest possible.

"The development of those qualities necessary to community living will always be our purpose," he said. Reverend Matthews congratulated the president and the organization for their accomplishments and for upholding the principles of Christianity in the "midst of a hostile world."

Special thanks were extended by General Secretary Forest Keene to Ralph Johnson for the donation that he made to the Y.M.C.A. of a completely equipped summer cottage, located on the St. Francis River near East Angus.

He noted that this was only one of the many contributions that Mr. Johnson had made to the Y.M.C.A. mentioning specifically the work that he had done in the past at the Y.M.C.A. in Beauséjour.

Roland Dewar, president of the Y's Men's Club read a report on the activities and financial standing of this section of the organization that has at present 25 members.

He gave a similar talk on the Boys' Camp.

J. Schmidt, president of the Hi-Y Club also outlined the activities of this phase of Y.M.C.A. life.

Few changes were registered in the elections that were held during the evening.

Returned to office were the following: J. K. Edwards as honorary president; Art Wright as president; W. Johnson as vice-president; W. Mutchler Jr. as treasurer; A. C. Stevens as chairman of the board of trustees; Forest Keene as recording secretary and general secretary.

Robert N. Mayhew, was re-elected president of the Quebec Hereford Beef Association at an annual meeting of the association at the St. George's Club on Dufferin Street Thursday.

Elected to the vice-presidency was Leo Paul Langevin, of St. Pie de Bagot, while J. C. Tanner, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

He said the total year's receipts in 1962 were $3,844.78 while in 1961 they were $3,906.54.

A total of $1,218.43 was spent for picnic and fieldwork at Lake St. Jean, the Sherbrooke Exhibition, the Sherbrooke Winter Fair, Quebec Fair and the Theford Mines Fair. The total disbursements for the year were $5,631.25, Mr. Tanner said.

He said the age limits for animals this year for the Spring Fair are a minimum age of 12 months and maximum age of five years for bulls, a minimum of 10 months for heifers, and a maximum of six years for females.

To aid purchasers where a government subsidy does not apply, the Quebec Beef Cattle Association will pay 10 cents per animal per mile to purchasers living outside a 50 mile radius of Sherbrooke, Mr. MacMillan said.

Paul Sylvestre, superintendent at the Experimental Farms Service in Lennoxville, during a supper time address urged dairy farmers to change to beef farming.

"I believe you have a very serious responsibility in changing over and will have to be very careful in starting your stock because just one failure could mean a big loss," Mr. Sylvestre said, urging the dairy farmers to seek advice from the Experimental Farm officials before changing over to beef.

"We will be glad to talk to anyone starting out in beef farming or changing over from dairy to beef farming and let them know their requirements and also give some beginning tips," Mr. Sylvestre said.

Directors of the association decided to raise the calf prize money from $15 to $25 this year.

Report on 1962 works given at ETAA meeting

Among the major improvements made by the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association during the year 1962 was the erection of a new $125,000 grandstand at its exhibition grounds in the East Ward.

The building of a new fence at a cost of $15,000 at the same site also constituted another effort by the ETAA to improve its facilities.

These were highlights contained in the 1962 report of the ETAA, president Wes Nichol which was delivered at the annual shareholders' meeting held Thursday at Arena at the Fair Grounds.

Among the other big steps taken last year by the organization in an attempt to put the exhibition grounds in the city of Sherbrooke on a par with those of other cities, the ETAA, commenced negotiations with the civic authorities for the transfer of the territory to the municipality.

Thursday afternoon the association accepted the agreement drawn up by Senator C. B. Howard for the transfer of the property to the city.

In his address, the president pointed out that the activities of the organization were as successful as could be expected. When mentioning the success of the Winter Fair, President Wes Nichol said "Possibly the Winter Fair has done more to encourage farmers to produce better livestock than any other organization in the district."

The president also expressed delight at the high quality of livestock and agricultural exhibits at the summer fair, although he did express regret that the industrial exhibits were so low and attributed this fact to the bad condition of the industrial building.

Mr. Nichol was appointed honorary president of the ETAA, Thursday after stepping down as president.

The dates of the 1963 Exhibition are August 23 to August 29, while the dates of the 1963 Winter Fair are October 5 to October 10.

Election of officers was also held at the same meeting and the results are as follows:

Elected to the presidency was Ivan Dugre; new 1st vice-president is Everett Nicol and the new 2nd vice-president is Len O'Donnell.

Retiring president Wes Nichol was elected honorary president for the year.

Elected as honorary vice-president was M. T. Stenson. All directors were returned.

Danville's Myron E. Chaddock

Former mayor's term was marked by 'twinning' with Vermont town

By Wm. H. LUNAN
(Special to The Record)

DANVILLE — Former Mayor Myron E. Chaddock who retired from office at the end of his term this year will be remembered for his part in the town's centennial celebrations in 1960.

The celebrations were held from July 30 to September 5. Mr. Chaddock and Howard Calkins, selectman of Danville, Vermont, the town's American twin, were presented with the keys to the Quebec community. The ceremony included opening the gates of the town and a parade of 1,500 persons who went to town hall where they signed a "twinning" agreement.

In leaving his post to which he was appointed in July, 1960, Mr. Chaddock paid tribute to other members of the council. During his term, the council accomplished several projects.

In November, 1960, an industrial fund of $100,000 was set up. In May, 1961, a winter works program was outlined to enlarge and extend Briquettier Street; LaFrance Blvd; 3rd Avenue and St. George, 2,400 feet of sewer system was installed on LaFrance Blvd, at a cost of $10,842.

In June, 1961, an amount of $50,000 was borrowed on the industrial fund for the construction of a manufacturing plant.

In October, 1961, a grant of $8,000 was received to help defray the $8,508 expenses of street and road improvements.

In February, 1962, an additional amount of $25,000 was borrowed on the industrial fund for industrial expansion in the town.

In November, 1962, a winter works program was approved for sidewalks on Hebert and Giguere Streets to the amount of $3,000.

The provincial government spent $10,000 this summer for improvements to Hamilton Street, College Street, Ste. Augustine Street, 3rd Avenue, and Blvd. LaFrance. An additional $5,000 grant was received for asphalt paving.

This fall a new bridge was constructed at the foot of Main Street, over the CN Railway tracks at a cost of $42,000. The Transport Commission stood 50% of the total cost; the CNR, 25 per cent and the Provincial roads department, 25 per cent. The approaches were financed by the provincial department of roads.

Recreational facilities were greatly improved over the course of the past two years and the Town's local groups prospered through the aid of local grants. A sum of $1,000, Vincent de Paul Society; and $100 to the Braves hockey team.

An additional amount of $8,000 has been marked for a new fire-engine which is to be delivered soon, and $5,000 for playground facilities; $100 for other necessary fire fighting equipment.

Few laughs are missed in Players' production

By MALCOLM REID
(Record staff reporter)

The Lennoxville Players'cad he'd been made out to be, Thursday took their Bishop's College School Auditorium opening-night audience from the chill of Canadian winter to the stifling climate of London during "The Season."

The season is spring, when wealthy British mothers' thoughts turn to piloting their daughters safely through the marathon of London social events to suitable marriages.

William Douglas Home's The Reluctant Debutante is weakened when he apologetically takes it all back after beginning a condemnation of this marriage marathon, but the Lennoxville group miss few of the laughs the playwright has sprinkled along the way.

Edna Perry plays Sheila Broadbent, mother of the debutante, as a female field marshal, commanding the coming-out campaign with iron hand and cunning strategy. Yet she is almost convincing, too, when she softens and tells reluctant Jane, "We only wanted what was best for you, dear."

Jane, played by Diana Glass, is a rebellious lass with too much of her mother's own strong will to be docile about parental plans. At first she worries mother by yearning to be back in the country with her horse Tommy, later by falling in love with the wrong sort of chap.

John Anido, as Jimmy, the even more reluctant father of the debutante, calculates at one point that the Broadbent coming-out party will cost him five pounds a minute. But what really bothers him is the cold-bloodedness of the whole thing, and he leaps at a chance of plotting with Jane to persuade Mrs. Broadbent to let true love triumph over social dictates.

Mr. Anido's bound-like deadpan over the breakfast table after the ball is a more telling comment on the debutante season than the author's wittiest line.

As Jane's suitors, Wendell Beattie is a properly bumbling David Bulloch, the loser, glibbing olives and not knowing what to do with his guardsman's sabre, while Robin Allen is the mysterious David Hoylake-Johnston, too sweet for anyone to believe all those nasty rumors about him.

When the second David turns out to be an Italian duke of stainless chivalry, and not the Higher payments for home purchases

The decision of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to curb excessively low deposits on homes built under the National Housing Act should provide a degree of stability now lacking in the home-owning business.

Probably the decision to permit the building of a $16,000-home with a down payment to the promoter of $800 had the laudable purpose of promoting the construction industry and increasing home-ownership among Canadians.

But the practise has brought financial disaster to thousands and has depreciated the sale value of older, even if modern, properties.

In many cases families have brought homes by making a nominal down payment in the belief that within a few years they would be owners of their own properties. But they have found the monthly payments beyond their reach and after sacrificing even the basic pleasures of life have been forced to abandon their properties which have then been repossessed. The down payment and the sums added to the monthly rental bills to cover payments on the principal have been lost.

Furthermore, small home owners have found it almost impossible to dispose of their properties. Prospective buyers often plead that they can build a new home for so little cash that it is folly to make the substantial down payment generally sought by the homeowners who has acquired some equity in his property.

Owning one's home is considered a desirable development in many quarters and probably it should be encouraged. But government agencies should take steps to assure that the purchaser has a reasonable opportunity of retaining his property, which can be done best by enforcing a reasonable deposit on the purchase price.

A quite common nightmare is a dream with her hair in a flock of curlers.

Civil service bargaining rights

Not everyone may like the Canadian postal workers threat to engage in a slow-down, or work-to-rule, policy in their dispute with the federal government but there can be no argument with the justice of the cause they are espousing. Simply, they are asking the right, enjoyed by employees of private companies and of many Crown Corporations, for civil servants to bargain collectively and to negotiate binding agreements with the government.

The existing system whereby the government by itself decides the salary scales for various classifications of public servants is based on the thousand-year-old principle that the citizen was in duty bound to render such service as he could to His Majesty without remuneration. Later he would receive such compensation as His Majesty thought appropriate for the services rendered.

While technically holding to this belief the government has long discarded it in practise. Salary scales are set in advance of the position being filled. The applicant can accept or reject the position as he sees fit. But once he has accepted the post there can no collective bargaining for improved compensation in the light of changing positions.

Any changes in salaries and working conditions are subject to the unilateral decisions of the government of the day.

All governments, either at the federal or provincial levels, have enacted legislation making collective bargaining compulsory in private industry under their jurisdiction. In many cases this has been extended to cover Crown companies or agencies engaged in non-governmental activities — the Canadian National Railways and Hydro-Quebec being cases in point.

In view of this keen support for the idea of collective bargaining it is difficult for the state to deny such rights to its own employees.

Is highly indignant over editorial

Dear Sir:
An editorial in yesterday's issue of your newspaper, January 22, greatly surprised me and left me highly indignant.
I always considered your newspaper as a serious and honest publication. After your editorial yesterday on the joint action of the three property owners' leagues of our city, I have been wondering a great deal. Am I dealing with the yellow press? ("feuille de chou").

There is a person at your place who writes at random about things of which he knows nothing. Forgetting about the individuals involved, the deliberations which mark of our undertakings. We are, believe us, citizens animated by the purest civic spirit. What is the mark of your editorial writer? He seems to have used the same ink which Gladys Taylor uses, except that he is less brilliant than this talented lady.

I enormously regret this attack against these people who believe they are respectable and who, individually, occupy positions in society of which they are proud.

It would certainly give me pleasure to know your opinion about this serious journalistic misunderstanding in order to clarify the discussion which is bound to occur at the next joint meeting of our three organizations.
Yours,
Armand Leroux, chief, economic division, faculty of commerce, University of Sherbrooke.

Suggests hospital ship venture

WASHINGTON (CP) — One of the great foreign aid ventures Canada could undertake would be the launching of a well-staffed hospital ship similar to the 15,000-ton USS Hope, says Dr. William B. Walsh, founder of the American project.

Raising funds through the nickels and dimes of public donations and staffing his floating hospital ship mainly with unpaid volunteers, the 42-year-old heart specialist has awakened in malaria-infested jungles and poverty-stricken villages a new warmth and affection for the white-coated Westerners, ready to extract a tooth or repair a heart artery.

"We're not short of volunteers but we are short of ships," said the Brooklyn-born president of the People-to-People Health Foundation on his return from Peru, where the floating health centre now is at work.

"We have but the one ship and we could use more. We're now launching our annual campaign for $5,000,000 to keep this ship going and to acquire several more, smaller craft to work deeper inland, in Africa and South America."

"Canadians have a wonderful reputation and there would be nothing more heartening than if Canada would join in this venture by launching a ship of her own. We would be glad to give Canadians the benefit of our experience and could even interchange personnel."

"Eventually we would like to see all Western nations participate. The need is great and there is much work to be done."
Walsh, an assistant medical professor at Georgetown University here, got the idea of a floating medical ship back in 1958 when former president Eisenhower invited him to initiate a project of international goodwill.

By September, 1960, a naval ship that had seen action in Korea was converted and staffed with a permanent nucleus of doctors, surgeons, dentists, nurses and dietitians. This was augmented by a call for volunteers to work for a period of two to four months on a rotating basis and to serve without pay.

"There is a basic good in people," said Dr. Walsh. "So many professional people volunteered, we had to pick and choose. Even now we have trouble getting these people off the ship. Once they get on, they seem to want to stay on."

Because donations to sustain the project came largely from Americans, project directors decided at first to restrict the staff to American citizens. Now that rule has been breached. A Canadian has been permitted to serve on board. He is Dr. Robert W. Shepherd, 40, of Dorval, Que., who will do a seven-week stint with the USS Hope, working at Salaverry, the port for Trujillo, Peru.

Painted a gleaming white with the letters H-O-P-E on the hull, the vessel visited Indonesia on its 1960 maiden trip; then went to South Viet Nam and finally to Peru, where it is expected to complete a 10-month stay late in February and then return to New York for repairs and refitting.

Equipped with 230 hospital beds, the ship has medical

Invasion brings social changes

By RUKMINI DEVI

Canadian Press Correspondent

BOMBAY (CP) — The Communist Chinese invasion of India's northern frontiers is producing some heart-warming social changes in this country.

Social workers have appealed for years to wealthy Indians to contribute to welfare schemes for the poor, who are in massive majority in India. But the calls have fallen on deaf ears in the past.

Some rich Indian women took to community work to get their names into newspapers but for the most part the upper classes, even in the surging days of Gandhi's freedom struggle, generally shunned any connection with those called the "menials."

Today, on the heels of the Chinese invasion, change has come rapidly, bringing one newspaper to describe the new attitude as "an avalanche of public spirit among our citizens."

"We now have realized," the Welfare Board, will house poor who otherwise sleep in the streets. Even the massive Delhi town hall, where British viceroys once held receptions, is being thrown open every night for the homeless.

A dramatic response has come, too, to the Delhi municipal administration's scheme to obtain foster parents for the capital's orphans. Hundreds of citizens, including two former princes and wives of wealthy businessmen, have flooded civic officials with requests for details of the scheme—in sharp contrast to three years ago when a similar project in Bombay flopped.

President Radhakrishnan has been on a country-wide lecture tour telling Indians to take up the challenge of Communist ideology "in a fundamental way." He and Prime Minister Nehru tell the vast audiences which come to hear them that "a spirit of national cohesiveness is the best answer to China."

"All the social and economic walls between Indian and Indian must be pulled down," says Nehru.

3—The Suez Crisis

By FLETCHER REYNOLDS

The hot winds of war blew around the globe in the autumn of 1956. Hungary was swept up in revolt. But the spark that could have ignited the world was Suez.

On Oct. 29, Israeli forces smashed through Egyptian lines on the Sinai peninsula and began a headlong dash toward the Suez Canal. At the same time, British and French forces attacked Port Said. The Israelis claimed they were getting even for Egyptian incursions into Israel. The British and French said they were acting to keep the Suez navigable.

are on duty with the U-N in the Gaza strip. The last of the British and French have left Egypt and the Suez Canal is being operated smoothly under the Egyptian flag.
However, the Middle East peace-saving operation is still costing the U-N millions of dollars a year and — like the Congo operation — has threatened to bankrupt it.
In recognition of his U-N plan, Mr. Pearson was awarded the Nobel Peace prize.

Housewives need not worry about leaving canned soups on their shelves indefinitely. Heat-processed soup will remain in good condition for years if stored in a cool, dry place. Caches of canned foods left by explorers in the Antarctic were found to be fresh and edible 46 years later. In heat-processing, the cans, after being filled with soup and sealed, are heated by steam in a closed-pressure vessel called a retort.

The Soviet Union plans to increase its sugar beet production to 80,000,000 tons by 1965.

A bus always seems to go faster when you're on it than when you're waiting for it.

Dirty cells—a form of punishment

The detention cells of most police stations in Quebec seem to have been modeled after dungeons of medieval fortresses. They are usually poorly-lit, dirty, foul-smelling and overcrowded.

The concept of equal treatment before the law is applied to the letter in the case of jailing a person in these cells. The motorists who has been taken into custody for a traffic offense might find himself rubbing shoulders with the incurable drunkard or the petty thief, perhaps an interesting experience in human relations for some, but a harrowing one for the majority of people.

The city of St. Laurent, bordering Montreal on the north, has built new cells at its police station which should set an example for other communities to follow.

The nine new cells include glass doors, large picture windows, built-in bunks, indirect lighting, thermostat controlled heating, ventilation and a pastel color paint scheme.

As the city's Police Director Camille Hetu points out "very often, the person being held in cells is not a dangerous criminal and there is no reason to make him feel like a convict. The glass front, instead of bars makes it easier for us to keep an eye on the occupant and gives him a feeling of spaciousness."

Central to our system of justice is the belief that the accused person, no matter what his crime, remains a human being. Otherwise, our court procedure, from arraignment to trial, would be meaningless.

Housing people in filthy cells is another form of punishment from which there is no appeal.

Other papers say:

Hare-brained self-delusion policy

We are pleased to note that Premier Lesage has described as an "error" the claim of an anonymous manifesto-writer in the province's Department of Cultural Affairs that the Quebec government has decided upon a radical change in constitutional nomenclature.

An employee of the department's French language bureau, this man has circulated among the newspapers of Quebec a request to eliminate the words "province" and "provincial" from journalistic usage. His substitutes — "the government of Quebec," "the state of Quebec" — doubtless will be recalled years hence as one of the more hare-brained suggestions of a wacky lot.

But ridiculous though the plea may be, it does possess the one characteristic, self-deception, common to all pronouncements made by those intoxicated by any sort of racial mystique, French, English, German, or whatever.

For, above all, the circular obviously is the work of a man who, disliking reality, wants everyone else to share his life in a phantasmal land where reality is overcome by dreams.

Apart from the fact that the request is scarcely honorable (because it asks reporters to foster the misapprehension that Quebec is somehow "independent"), it is one which merely advocates self-delusion. Even if all the writers of Quebec acceded to the request (an impossibility), no Canadian journalist outside the province would do so. The result: Quebecers might read constantly of their independent "state," but the secret thrill of the thing would be fit only for psychiatric examination — simply because Quebec's status as a province would not be changed one iota thereby.

rive at a decision at the meeting.

Said Mr. Bennett, "The quicker we sell this enterprise to the city and get it prosperous, the better it will be for everyone concerned."

"If we keep on, and don't pass this thing, then the city may well refuse to make the purchase later.

"We have talked this thing over for over two years and the sooner we get this matter over with, the better it will be not only for the businessmen of the city, but also for all the people living outside the city."

Agronomist W. G. MacDoug-

all said: "The city of Ottawa has the same agreement with the Ottawa Fair Association that we are negotiating with Sherbrooke at the moment, and the success there has been overwhelming."

E. G. Taylor another director of the association, said in reply to Mr. Blue's remarks: "You have had a long time to think this thing over, and I don't understand why you did not organize some form of opposition before this."

Following the discussion, N. G. Bennett proposed that the property be sold, while Mr. Blue proposed an amendment seconded by F. Webster to this motion to the effect that the decision be deferred for two weeks.

A total of 342 shares were cast in favor of deferral, not enough to carry the amendment.

Is fined $100 for obstructing police constable

Leon Joyal, 23, of Stanstead, was fined $100 and court costs by Judge Evender Veilleux in Sherbrooke Court of Sessions Thursday after he pleaded guilty to obstructing a police officer in line of duty in Stanstead.

Joyal failed to give any reason when he was asked by Judge Veilleux why he obstructed the police officer who was carrying out his duty.

"It is always a serious offence to obstruct a police officer, and you can be punished by up to five years in prison for it," Judge Veilleux said while ordering the accused to pay the $100 fine or spend one month in jail.

Jean Marie Goulet, 19, of Asbestos, was sentenced to three months in Winter Street Jail by Judge Evender Veilleux Thursday afternoon after he pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and stealing $200 from the Roberge Garage in Asbestos on Nov. 11.

Raynald Frechette, defense lawyer for the accused asked the court to impose a time in jail sentence on his client because he had already spent 18 days in Sherbrooke jail cells and either other days in the Asbestos police cells.

"He was kept eight days in the Asbestos police cells without charges laid against him," Mr. Frechette told the court.

Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel asked Judge Veilleux to impose a six month sentence because Goulet had a previous police record and was arrested four times during the past two years for car thefts.

"On his latest car theft he was sentenced to eight days in jail Nov. 3rd," Mr. Turmel said.

"Another thing is that the accused didn't spend eight days in Asbestos cells. He spent five, and the reason he spent them there is because his father didn't want to have anything to do with him," Mr. Turmel added.

Mr. Frechette then said he thought that a three month sentence from the time of his client's arrest would be sufficient sentence.

"I think I will agree with Mr. Frechette," Judge Veilleux said, "because I think a six month sentence is a bit stiff for the theft, even though the law allows us to sentence these law offenders to 14 years in jail."

"We will let him off easy this time, — but I hope he learns his lesson and doesn't return to a life of crime," Judge Veilleux said.

"I hope so too," added Lawyer Frechette.

Paul Emile Hamel, 43, of Magog was ordered by Court of Sessions Judge Evender Veilleux to appear at the 1964 criminal assizes for the District of St. Francis to face an indictment assault charge against a nine-year-old Magog girl.

Cassius Clay lives up to his predictions knocking out Powell in third for his 17th straight win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "I'm the greatest" chirped irrepressible Cassius Clay after easily disposing of Charley Powell Thursday night in the round he called. Then he offered to fight two boxers in one night.

Clay, 21, the sport's prognosticating poet, referred to his next heavyweight fight with Doug Jones and a possible rematch after that with Billy Daniels.

He had just finished playing punching bag with Powell's head by knocking him out at two minutes, four seconds of the third round. The victory was his 17th straight without a loss and his 14th by knockout.

Clay weighed 205, Powell 214. "Jones must fall in six," Cassius predicted about his March 13 fight in New York. "Daniels must fall in two. I'd like to fight Daniels and Jones in one night and get it over with."

Clay's ambition is to become the youngest heavyweight champion in boxing history by beating Sonny Liston by next November.

"I'm ready for Liston tomorrow," he said. My managers and Liston are the only things keeping me from him."

One member of Clay's board of directors, William Cutchins, said Clay is "a year or so" away from a title fight.

Waterloo loses five times over weekend

WATERLOO — During the weekend games Waterloo came out with one victory and five defeats. The games were played with Granby on Jan. 19 and with Bedford on Jan. 21.

On Friday night, Waterloo was defeated in all four games. In basketball, the Intermediate girls lost by a score of 12-7. Brenda Hamilton made 3 points; Anne Irwin and Jenny Ray each came through with two points.

During the Senior hockey game which ended with a 6-3 victory for Granby, Bud Graves, Butch Perkins and Dave Reed each scored one goal.

On Monday, January 21, the Senior Hockey team defeated Bedford 2-1 in a close-fought game. Bud Graves scored both Waterloo goals late in the third period, bringing the game to an exciting finish.

The Intermediate Girls' Basketball Team suffered defeat, with Bedford winning by a score of 41-10. Heather Blampin and Patty Pugh scored four and three points, respectively, to account for seven of Waterloo's 10 points.

Lennoxville High School 'A' squad blanked 5-0 by St. Pat's Pee Wees

St. Patrick's Pee Wees sewed things up for the Green-and-White club at 10:05 when he flicked in the puck from a maze of players in front of the Lennoxville net.

Lennoxville tried desperately to even up the count and never gave up, hoping at least to spoil Gauthier's shutout. During the match, LHS had three break-aways on St. Pat's however, Gauthier turned in brilliant performances on each drive and stopped LHS cold.

St. Pat's Pee Wees are being coached again this year by Paul Legendre — a senior student at the High School who has done a commendable job with the boys.

Mrs Badger's rink posts 9-7 win over Mrs Houghton, Mrs Guild stops Mrs Hatrick, Mrs Racey stops Granby

Mrs. R. Badger's Sherbrooke rink won the main event of the 18th annual Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club Bonspiel last night while Mrs. C. Guild and her North Hatley foursome copped the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Trophy. Mrs. D. Racey of Sherbrooke and her quartet walked off with the Bishop Memorial Trophy.

Following the final matches Mrs. J. A. Dion, ladies president, presided at the presentation of the trophies and prizes assisted by Mrs. Bruce Bishop, Bonspiel Convener, Mrs. Dion presented the LSCC Trophy to Mrs. R. Badger while Mrs. J. Daly awarded the Rand Trophy to Mrs. C. Guild. Mrs. Dean Bishop presented the Bishop Memorial Trophy to Mrs. D. Racey.

In the finals Mrs. Badger's rink pulled through with a 9-7 win over Mrs. W. Houghton of Windsor in a see-saw battle. The Sherbrooke rink jumped in to an early 4-0 lead after three ends before Windsor counted two. Sherbrooke got one more but Windsor bounced back with another two.

Sherbrooke moved ahead 8-2 in the next two ends before Windsor registered a three-end. Skip Houghton missed her shot and shoved a Sherbrooke stone in for 9-3 score coming home.

In the final Windsor pulled out with two as Skip Badger made sure they couldn't count more with two nice shots and win 9-7.

Mrs. C. Guild opened in her battle with Mrs. R. Hatrick but the latter got three and then Mrs. Guild knotted the count. In the sixth Mrs. Guild's rink held a 6-3 lead. Mrs. Hatrick got one but Mrs. Guild's rink picked up three in the eighth. The next end saw Mrs. Hatrick register two but in the final end Mrs. Guild got the final counter to win 10-6.

In the Hamilton-Racey battle it was slightly one-sided as Mrs. J. Hamilton's Granby rink failed to show any of the line playing which earned them a berth in the finals. They just couldn't get untracked while Mrs. Racey's quartet were keen.

It was tied 2-2 after three ends but from then on it was all Sherbrooke. They added points in every end and led 10-2 after the eighth. Granby got two in the ninth for a 10-4 count and in the final Skip Hamilton finally conceded the match.

In the main trophy, Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club, Mrs. R. Badger of Sherbrooke knocked over Mrs. N. Lothrop, also of Sherbrooke 10-4. In the other half of the draw Mrs. W. Houghton of the Canada Paper Curling Club of Windsor eked out a close 11-8 victory over Mrs. M. Delany of the Quebec Curling Club.

In the Rand Trophy Mrs. C. Guild of North Hatley posted a 14-6 win over Mrs. M. Pichie of the Montreal Wentworth Club.

In the other half Mrs. R. Hatrick of North Hatley pulled through with 8-6 win over Miss E. McMurray of Danville.

In the Hatrick-McMurray battle it was close the whole way. After six ends Mrs. Hatrick held a 5-2 lead. They added one more in the seventh but Miss McMurray drew in to pick up three and change the looks with the score 6-5. Hatley got two and in the final end it was nip and tuck until the skips came to play.

McMurray's rink had built up a good house but the Hatley rink cut them down and then with the final stones Miss McMurray missed and Mrs. Hatrick pulled in to pick up two and finish with the score 10-5 in her favor.

Mrs. Goyette of Sherbrooke and Mrs. J. S. Hamilton of Granby staged a real battle the whole way. Granby got off to an early lead and after six ends they held a 8-3 advantage. Mrs. Goyette picked up one for a

Sandford tosses contract back

NEW YORK (CP)—Jack Sanford, the righthander whose 24 victories had a lot to do with winning San Francisco Giants the National League baseball pennant last year, has opened the 1963 season by pitching his contract back at his employers.

Sanford, who held out through part of the spring training season before signing for a reported $24,000 a year ago, said Thursday that he and the Giants "are farther apart" this year.

It looks like a tough winter for the Giant front office, which has already had similar news from outfielder Felipe Alou, the slugger from the Dominican Republic, another big factor in San Francisco's pennant run, is reported to be asking $30,000 against the club's offer of $26,000.

Other major league clubs reported better luck with their negotiations.

TIGERS SIGN 7

Detroit Tigers headed the list with no fewer than seven satisfied customers Thursday, headed by front-line pitcher Phil Regan, catcher Mike Roark, infielder Jake Wood and veteran utility men Vic Wertz and Bubba Morton. The others were rookie pitcher Doug Gailagher and infielder Mike Christino.

Outfielder Don Landrum, a 282 hitter last season, signed with Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds landed right-handed pitcher Jim Maloney.

Charley Keller Jr., son of the slugging New York Yankee outfielder of the 1930s, was one of three men signed by Minnesota Twins. A first baseman, Keller was drafted by the Twins from the Yankee chain after hitting .289 for Amarillo of the Texas League. The Twins also signed reserve infielder John Goryl and pitcher Gene Ross, who led the Appalachian League with 113 strikeouts last summer.

France's Annie Famose runs off with Special Slalom at St. Gervais, Linda Crutchfield finishes 22nd

ST. GERVAIS, France (CP)—Annie Famose of France struck another blow Thursday at the invincibility of the strong Austrian women's team on the alpine ski slopes.

Miss Famose, one of the steadiest of France's girl skiers but never before the winner of a big international race, produced a daring run in the second heat to win the special slalom of the St. Gervais grand prix.

It was a bitter blow to Marie-Jane Jahn, Austrian double world's champion in slalom and giant slalom. Out of three big international slalom races this year she has won only one—at Schurs, Austria. The Grindelwald title went to Barbi Henneberger of Germany, who did not compete here.

Miss Jahn won the first heat in 40.47 seconds over the crisp snow in three-degree temperatures. Miss Famose was second with 40.73 seconds.

Miss Famose was timed in 42.23 on the second run for a total of 82.96 seconds. Miss Jahn was closed in 43.05 for 83.52 and second place. Olympic champion Hedi Biebl of Germany was third.

Linda Crutchfield of Shawinigan, Que., was the leading Canadian finisher, winding up 22nd with a time of 46:17-49.95-96.12. Shelagh Pike of Edmonton was third in 54:17-53.10-107.27. Karen Dokka and Vicki Rut-

Olympics withdraw from league, Vics edge Rockets 3-2

Claim "Injustice" from league, QAHA and CAHA, to file $28,000 damage suit, game was postponed

Montreal Olympics of the Eastern Provincial Hockey League officially pulled out of the Len O'Donnell circuit last night.

The management of the Olympics made it known that the club intended to take a $28,000 damage suit against the C.A.H.A. and the Q.A.H.A. and the Provincial League.

The team claims that they will take action because of different injustices committed against the club which resulted in a deficit of approximately $28,000.

The players and the coach of the Olympics were unaware of the management's decision until last night.

Last night Sherbrooke coach Gilles Dube was notified by Roger Picard that the Olympics would not go to Sherbrooke last night to play their scheduled game.

The management of the Beavers were later notified by telegram at 6:10 that the Olympics would not turn up in Sherbrooke because of unfavorable weather conditions.

At this time there was no mention made of their intention of withdrawing from the league.

The president of the league, Len O'Donnell, was later notified by telegram that the Olympics had withdrawn from the league as the result of a decision taken at a meeting of the club directors.

He later learned that they planned to take a $28,000 damage suit against the previously mentioned leagues.

According to club officials, they had suffered enough from financial loss. They cited the instance of Andre Bessette, who was suspended by the U.S.A.H.A. for failing to report to the club to which he belonged.

Olympics claimed that they had lost money as a result of his suspension. However, he had been notified by vice-president of the Q.A.H.A. Henri Crochetiere that they also mentioned the case of junior Gilbert Harvey who they claim was supposed to report to their team instead of to the Vics.

"We have withdrawn and that is definite, we have lost some $28,000 since we have been a member of the league. We have been playing with a team that has been decimated by unjust suspensions and decisions that have always been against us. It is with regret that we must take such a decision, but it is irrevocable," stated Marcel Lafond, vice-president and manager.

St. Pat's Bantams post 3-1 victory over BCS Hurons, Mills, Thibert and Hoy tally, Burbridge gets BCS goal

St. Pat's Bantams posted a 3-1 victory over BCS Hurons Thursday afternoon in a snowed-under hockey match.

The game was played only after both squads agreed to go on with the struggle under the adverse weather conditions.

Postponement of the St. Pat's-Lennoxville Midget match was announced Thursday afternoon however.

The first period saw Mills pick up the first goal on a pass from teammate Rogerson from the right corner. Mills flicked in the goal at 9:00.

For the remaining minutes of the first frame, BCS came up with the majority of the offensive plays; McCurdy, Bradley, and Molson sweeping in many times on St. Pat's goalie Distefano.

St. Pat's scored again late in the second period when Bushnell stopped a BCS shot in his own zone, raced down the ice with the puck, faked out a BCS defenseman and snapped a pass to teammate Thibert who hoisted the puck in the upper right hand corner of the net for the second goal of the game.

Hoy fired in what was to be St. Pat's last goal of the match at 0:20 of the third period on a hoist shot that got by goalie Goldberg of BCS. Vear gave the pass to Hoy in an excellent combination play that clicked.

BCS Hurons doggedly hung on in the third frame of the struggle and managed to come up with a picture-book goal at 18:10 of the stanza.

Burbridge of BCS picked up a loose puck in the centre ice area, and slapped a long drive right on Distefano of St. Pat's from the blue line. Molson of the Hurons raced in after the shot and was in position to pick up Burbridge's rebound to flick in the BCS lone tally.

Paper Makers blank Magog 2-0, Ben Lapierre and Maurice Audet do scoring, meet Richmond Sunday

WINDSOR — (Special) — Windsor Paper Makers defeated the Magog Aces 2-0 here last night and ran their unbeaten string to five games. Ben Lapierre and Maurice Audet did all the scoring in the first period. The shutout was Jacques St. Laurent's second of the year. He stopped twenty shots to earn his shutout. Windsor peppered Magog with 27 shots.

Sunday the Paper Makers play host to the Richmond Braves. The last time the two met, Windsor dumped the Braves 7-3.

The Aces carried the puck in the first period but the Paper Makers put it in the net. Ben Lapierre scored Windsor's first goal at the five minute mark after Wellie Bibeau stole the puck from a Magog defenseman in the corner and fed him linemate on the doorstep. Lapierre's goal was only his second of the year. Last season he finished seventh in the league scoring race.

Maurice Audet put Windsor ahead 2-0 at 15:20 after Raymond St. Cyr laid the puck on his stick at the goalmouth. Marcel Forgues drew assists on both Windsor goals.

Windsor were outshot 9-5 in the opening period and Jacques St. Laurent had to be fast on several occasions. The period was relatively clean with but two penalties, both of them coming in the last minute of play.

Ben Lapierre was caught hooking at 19:30 and Magog's Real Boucher went off for the same reason 19 seconds later.

Windsor played much better offensively in the middle period but could not score. Jacques St. Laurent stopped the few chances that the Aces had and the period ended with Windsor still leading 2-0.

St. Cyr broke in alone twice but Letarte pulled off fine saves.

Windsor picked up $2,140 second money in the Bing Crosby tournament last weekend to bring his total earnings this year to $9,440.

This boosts Player, a native of South Africa now living in the United States, to the No. 1 spot on the Professional Golfers' Association list released Tuesday.

Arnold Palmer, the man who set an all-time record last year by earning more than $80,000 on the tournament trail ranks second with $9,000.

Bill Casper Jr., winner of the Crosby tournament, is third with $8,308.

Learning to ski without the improving the balance. (See illustration). The next few articles will include highlights of this parallel method of instruction and should enable you to visualize how it works.

Because the skier will start off parallel, various exercises to improve balance and help him get the "feel" of his skis are necessary.

LIFTING SKIS
The first basic exercise is simply the lifting of the tails of the skis. The knees, ankles and skis are kept together and the weight is forward on the balls of the feet. Now you are ready to lift the tails of the skis, one at a time.

Afterwards you lift both tails at the same time, just a small hop.

Once this exercise is accomplished on the flat, you move to a gentle slope to practise exactly the same movements while sliding slowly down the "fall-line." The "fall-line" is the direction which a rubber ball would take when rolling down a slope.

Big M gets two, Canadiens - Wings tie 1-1

Toronto Maple Leafs' Frank Mahovlich ended his famine with a feast in Boston Thursday night, firing two goals and adding two assists in the Leafs' 6-3 win. Mahovlich's linemate veteran centre Red Kelly, sparked the Leafs with a goal and four assists.

Mahovlich had gone nine games without scoring a goal going into the game. But his torrid goal-scoring streak in December was enough to maintain the National Hockey League lead in goals. He now has 25.

In Thursday night's other game, Dickie Moore scored early in the last period after a dazzling series of fakes by linemate Henri Richard to give Montreal Canadiens a 1-1 tie with Detroit Red Wings.

Moore, considered just about through at the start of the season because of two dinky knees, has made an amazing comeback. He has averaged a point a game in Canadiens' last 18 games and has been a big factor in their drive upward from fourth place.

TIE FOR SECOND
As a result of Thursday's games, Leafs and Canadiens are tied for second place, two points behind Chicago Black Hawks. But Canadiens have played one game fewer than Chicago and Toronto.

Detroit follows five points behind in fourth place. Rangers are 14 points behind the Wings in fifth and the Bruins are floundering seven points farther back in the cellar.

Mahovlich moved back into the league lead in the points race with his output, a position he hasn't occupied alone since late December.

The Big M, a 200-pound native of Timmins, Ont., now has 49 points, one more than Boston veteran Johnny Bucyk, who gathered two assists.

Pint-sized centre Dave Keon scored twice for Leafs and Bob Nevin, who plays on a line with Kelly and Mahovlich, scored drilled home their second goals of the night to make it 6-3.

Rookie goalie Ed Johnston of Bruins made 34 saves, compared with 27 on Toronto goalie Don Simmons. Toronto's aggressive Eddie Shack and the Bruins' hard-hitting defenceman Ted Green had just brawled and been given major penalties when the Leafs scored outburst took place in the first period.

In Detroit, right winger Andre Pronovost scored Detroit's only goal early in the first period. Pronovost played for Canadiens two seasons ago.

CHECKING CLOSE
The game then became a defensive battle, with play close-checking and extremely even. Both goalies made 26 saves.

After a scoreless second period, Moore took a pass at the Detroit blue line from Richard, who had just deked two Red Wings, and came in along on left wing. He beat Detroit goalie Hank Bassen with a low 15-footer for his 12th goal of the season and his fourth in the last five games.

Moore's goal also gave him third place in goals among modern-day left wingers. Moore has 242 goals, one more than Harvey (Busher) Jackson, a former Toronto great. He trails only Ted Lindsay, former Detroit star, who had 365, and Aurel Joliat, old-time Montreal Canadian, who had 270.

Come up with two goals in overtime to post a close 3-2 victory in a wide-open battle to extend lead

GRANBY—Granby Vics last night potted two out of three goals in an overtime period to edge Drummondville Rockets by a score of 3-2. The win gives the Vics a five point advantage over the Sherbrooke Beavers.

No goals were scored in the first and second periods although seven penalties were handed out during the two rough and close checking periods.

The Rockets opened the scoring at 3:37 in the third period when Ronnie Racette picked up a pass from Gilles Leblanc in front of the Vics nets and put played goalie Payette.

Deslauriers gave the Vics their first goal of the game at 4:20 of the third period on a pass from Denis Bergeron.

Two penalties were handed out in the third period. Andre Samson got a lucky goal with less than four minutes to play in the overtime period. He picked up the puck from Robidoux in the centre of the ice at 6:35 mark and shot catching goalie Hamel off guard.

Rene Boudreau gave the Vics a 3-1 lead two minutes before the end of the game when he scored on a pass from Bouchard and Samson.

Fernand Lemay scored the last goal of the game for the Rockets on a breakaway.

The next game in the Provincial League will be Sunday afternoon when the Rockets meet Sherbrooke Beavers for the last time this season.

Richmond Pee Wees sweeping tilts against clubs in preparation for International Hockey Tournament

RICHMOND—The Pee Wee Aces are at it again this season as in the past. They have come out on top winning several exhibition games played prior to preparation for the trip to Quebec City where they will again compete in the International Pee Wee Hockey Tournament.

The tournament is being staged Feb. 16 to 23rd and the Aces will open Class C section of the tourney on the first day and a special train is being readied for the trip.

Coach Real Cote has his charges in good shape for the coming tournament and to date, the team has won victories over Drummondville 4-3, Victoriaville 3-1, Rock Island 9-1 and a tie with Victoriaville 3-3. Victoriaville and Drummondville clubs are in the Class A section of the tournament at Quebec.

In Drummondville, goal scorers on the Aces' side were Bernard Manseau, with two, and one each by Marc Beaudoin and Raymond Houle. M. Dionne scored twice and R. Gallant the other goal for the losing club.

The Aces last year won the championship at Quebec in Class C with four straight wins from other Quebec clubs. They went down to defeat by a stronger club from Rockland, Ontario.

The special train is being organized by a local group and they are hoping parents will be among the passengers. A reasonable price will be maintained for the trip and tickets will go on sale this weekend. Help encourage the youngsters by joining them on the trip.

The Record's Farm Report

Hamilton Gives Direction To Dairy Policy

Agriculture minister Hamilton, speaking to the Dairy Farmers of Canada at London last week gave a concise appraisal of the present butter situation. The picture he outlined differed from that presented recently by some sections of the dairy industry.

Butter production exceeded consumption in 1961 by 75 million pounds and the current support of 64 cents per pound tends to encourage increased production. The first six months experience with the 12-cent per pound consumer subsidy introduced May 1, 1962 indicates that, at best, this plan can only raise butter consumption by about 40 million pounds annually. This increased consumption will cost taxpayers well over a dollar per pound increase. Mr. Hamilton made it clear that he did not believe the problem was going to solve itself.

The minister proposed a broad approach toward solution, emphasizing four main points. These included: (1) complete cooperation between dairy farmers' organizations and provincial and federal governments in bringing production of the whole dairy industry into closer balance with demand; (2) improved organization of production and marketing controls especially in Ontario and Quebec; (3) supplying dairy products to newly developed countries through the world food bank and international cooperation in marketing dairy products; (4) diversion of land now in marginal dairy farms into other more profitable uses.

Mr. Hamilton said three courses of action had been suggested, 1) working toward support levels below 64 cents, 2) provincial restriction of surplus fluid milk and (3) domestic and foreign butter disposal programs.

Cattle Down With Exports, Outlook Down

Canadian cattle exports to the U.S. rose from less than 700 (mostly feeders) in the first week of 1963 to more than 2,500 (mostly slaughter cattle) two weeks ago. This change-over to the export basis is largely responsible for the drop in fed beef prices.

Since June, 1962, virtually all Canadian fed cattle were taken up in the domestic market at prices higher than the "floor" set up by the U.S. export outlet. This meant very favorable prices for Canadian beef producers without any sharp increase in the basic North American (U.S.) prices. This pattern has now changed. Plentiful feed grain supplies and high 1962 fed beef prices have encouraged a build up of cattle on feed. The domestic market will not absorb the available supply at prices higher than the export level. As a result Canadian beef has moved back to an export basis with prices adjusting downward to the equivalent of U.S. fed beef prices.

A substantial increase over last year in fed cattle marketings in the next six months is now predicted in the U.S. and U.S. prices are expected to drop by $2 to $3 by June. If the anticipated build-up in Canada's fed cattle markets is realized, prices here will follow that pattern.

Hamilton OK's $1.56 For Beets

Agriculture minister Hamilton has announced that sugar beet growers in Quebec, Manitoba and Alberta are to receive $1.56 per ton deficiency payment on 1961 sugar beets yielding 250 pounds of sugar a ton. These payments on the 1961 crop will amount to $791,113 in Alberta, $289,258 in Manitoba and $168,890 in Quebec.

Cost Rise Outstrips Farm Income Increase

DBS reports that farm cash income from farming operations for the first nine months of 1962 was up two per cent from a year earlier, increasing from $2,156.7 million to $2,199.5 million. All provinces shared in the gain except Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Manitoba. Western farmers, in addition, received $86.6 million in supplementary payments (PFAA and acreage payments) in the period compared to $80 million in 1961 giving a total increase in farm cash income of 4.7 per cent.

But farmers aren't much better off. Cash operating costs have been increasing at an average rate of between three and four per cent per year since 1951. Between 1960 and 1961 the increase in cash costs was estimated at well over five per cent. At this rate of cost increase, cash incomes must go up better than three per cent per year if farmers are going to stay even.

Pesticide Use Jumps But Safety Assured

The rapid increase in the use of pesticides on Canadian farms is demonstrated by statistics recently released by DBS. For the 12 months ending September 30, 1962, sales of agricultural dusts, sprays, livestock treatments and herbicides amounted to $27.8 million dollars compared to $25.0 million one year earlier, an increase of over 11 per cent.

This rapid expansion in the use of chemicals in agriculture has caused some qualms about the effects of residues on human health and concern about upsetting the biological balance of nature. But reassurance came last week from a meeting of the Canadian Society of Zoologists in Ottawa. Noting that chemical control of insects had become indispensable to Canadian agriculture, scientists appeared to agree that regulations enforced by the federal food and drug directorate were keeping the danger to humans well below the danger point.

Fit trees to landscaping

By MARGARET DOVE

Before buying trees and shrubs for your garden look at the stock and check it at a reputable nursery.

Beware of the salesmen who come to the door offering plantings and soil you know nothing about. Always before purchasing from such persons ask for references, the supplier's identity and mailing address. Then check them with a member of the Canadian Association of Nurserymen, an all-Canadian group set up to protect the buying public and to ensure fair trade practices as well as standards of sizes for all nursery stock.

Most reliable nurseries display the crest of this organization and if you deal with such a nursery you will find it can still be located later, if something is wrong with the stock you have planted.

LIMIT PLANTING

An especially good rule to remember when doing your own landscaping is to always limit your plantings; confusion will surely result when one overplants with a bit of this and that.

For best effects use a few good varieties for a start, then wait a couple of seasons, even longer, to see the size and shape of the established plantings. If more stock is needed it can then be added.

1—Check the size of your grounds to determine the space available for major and minor trees, also to arrive at the proper locations for securing the best in landscape effects and to make sure the sun and shade factors will be right for planting areas, play areas and patios.

CHECK HEIGHT

2—Check on the ultimate height of your tree. It may, for instance, grow much too tall for a ranch-type home.

3—Check the ultimate spread of tree or shrub and ask to see a picture or sketch of a mature specimen, then you will know if the form is suitable.

4—Check the height of the lowest branches. Unless the tree is to be used to screen an undesirable view, a clearance of from five to nine or ten feet is usually desirable.

5—Check on the possibility that the trees you prefer have undesirable characteristics, perhaps being attractive to enough kinds of insects or diseases that tree beauty is uncertain and the cost of special care too great.

GROWTH RATE

6—Check rate growth. Extremely rapid growth usually means that the wood is weak and brittle and that the tree is hazardous and subject to major storm damage.

7—Check the root system. Some trees are notorious for clogging sewers and heaving driveways and walks.

8—Check for seasonal color effects. (TNS).

Do-it-yourself

Apply helpful tips to make shades' go up and down smoothly

BY MR. FIX

Take your pick as to which is the most annoying—the window shade that snaps up to the top of the window suddenly or the shade that just hangs there limply, refusing to go up no matter how hard you try to raise it.

Regardless of the ailment, it's quite likely that you are capable of curing it yourself.

Up and Downs

What happens when you roll down the shade is that a spring in the hollow end of the wooden rod is wound up. Rolling up the shade unwinds it.

Ratchet pawls or catches drop into place and prevent the spring from unwinding. All this mechanism is at the end of roller with the flat pin.

When you raise the shade, the slight downward pull you give it first causes the pawls to move out of their locked position. This permits the spring to wind the shade back up.

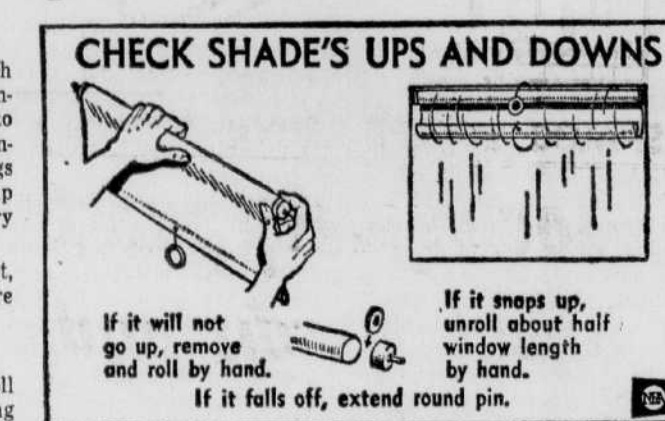

If you can't raise the shade, this could mean there isn't enough tension in the spring. It needs some extra winding. Pull the shade a half to two-thirds of the way down. Remove it from the window brackets and roll it up by hand. Keeping it rolled, place the roller back in its brackets and pull it down.

Too Much Snap

When a shade snaps up there is too much tension. The cure is just the reverse of the remedy for a spring that lacks tension.

Raise the shade as high as you can. Remove it and unroll it about half way. Replace it and try it again. You may have to unroll it further if the tension is still too great.

Sometimes the spring tension is all right, but a shade will refuse to stay down when

If it will not go up, remove and roll by hand.

If it falls off, extend round pin.

If it snaps up, unroll about half window length by hand.

pulled down. The trouble in this case is that the pawls are failing to catch. If the pawls are exposed, lubricating the mechanism may cure the problem.

If the pawls are not exposed, however, you may run into trouble if you remove the cap. It would probably be easier in the long run to buy a new roller.

Sometimes the difficulty is a broken spring. You will probably need a new roller, in this instance.

Other End

The other end of the roller is simply a round pin that holds the roller in the bracket. If a shade is wobbly or tends to fall out of its brackets the cure is handled at this end.

Wobbling is caused by a bent pin or warped roller. You can pull the pin out and straighten it with pliers or hammer, but if roller is warped you'll have to get a new one.

If the shade repeatedly falls, the pin needs extending or the brackets should be moved closer together. You can do the latter if the brackets are mounted on the face of the window frame. If they are on the inside you might try extending the pin.

Farm Forum Activities in the E.T.

COOKSHIRE

The Cookshire Forum met this week at the home of Mrs. J. R. French with his sisters Miss F. French and Mrs. Parry as hostesses.

The broadcast of November 12 had brought out answers indicating the indifference of very many farm people to their farm organizations and the broadcast of this date sought in turn answers as to reasons for this attitude.

This group expressed that farmers generally are not acquainted with what many of these organizations can or have done for them and their necessity if their opinions and claims are to be properly presented in either Quebec or Ottawa.

Due to language difficulties, the English speaking farmers of Quebec there is felt a need for an organization that can represent them at Quebec in co-operation with the organization of French speaking farmers.

It was felt farmers already have in the Quebec Farmer's Association the nucleus of such an organization. It, however, needs both the financial and personal support of the majority of English speaking farmers before it can become effective, this group felt.

The question is, are you willing to do anything about it? Mr. Farmer?

If you are, information may be obtained through any Farm Forum or by writing to Box 237 Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

SAWYERVILLE

The Sawyerville Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morrison with East Clifton forum and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. MacMillan as guests.

There were 22 members. The broadcast Organized Action by farmers was listened to and followed by the discussion of the guide questions.

Question: How do you account for indifference in farm organization?

Answer: Cause for indifference are caused by the lack of education. People also lack interest because of the lack of suggestions to their executives. They also find that the policies do not concern everyone. There is also a language barrier. This group felt that more suggestions from the general membership were sent to the office holders it might help overcome some of these indifference.

It was also felt that if every farmer paid a membership fee and farm organization would be able to have a much better program.

A recommendation this forum would make concerning a national farm organization is, Whereas the Sawyerville Farm Forum recommend an overall National Farm Organization with every farmer becoming a member. This could be financial by having legislation passed so that fees could be collected from each farmer. A few specific suggestions for improvement of our farm organizations structure are that there is a definite need for more educated leaders and strong will members.

A farmer also would be more happy to finance one organization that would give the same results as the number we now have.

Following this discussion lunch was served. The next meeting being a fourth night is to be held at the Sawyerville High School. This meeting is to take the form of a career night.

THIRD RANGE

The regular meeting of the Third Range Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Descoteau January 21, twelve members were present.

After the Green - leaf was read and a very good broadcast listened to on, "Organized Action By Farmers", the following questions were discussed:

Question: The farm forums stated, in their reports from Nov. 12th, that indifference is a major problem in farm organization in Canada. How do you account for this indifference?

Answer: This group felt that many times an organization starts up and a member expects immediate results too soon and if they don't get them they lose interest in the organization.

Question: What can be done about it?

Answer: Better co-operation between the farmers and more support to the farm organizations by the members, this group felt.

Question: The Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the National Farmers' Union will be meeting in February to discuss the work of farm organization in Canada. If your forum would attend that meeting, what one recommendation would you make concerning:

(A): Membership in a national farm organization.

Answer: It was felt that this group should have membership in national farm organization.

(B): Financing a national farm organization.

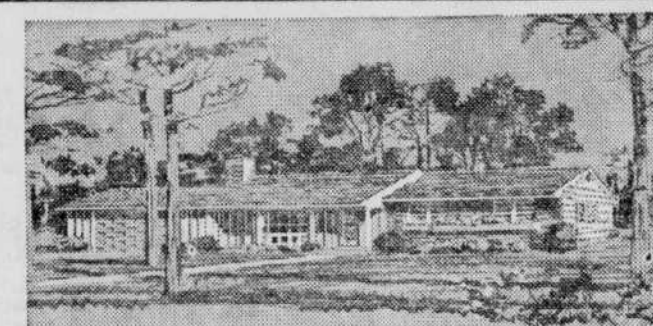

Answer: This forum felt that a national farm organization should be supported. One suggestion was to take a certain percentage of income from all commodities. This forum felt that their group does not know enough about provincial farm organization structure to make any suggestions for improvement.

After the discussion period cards were played at 3 tables. The hostess served lunch assisted by the members.

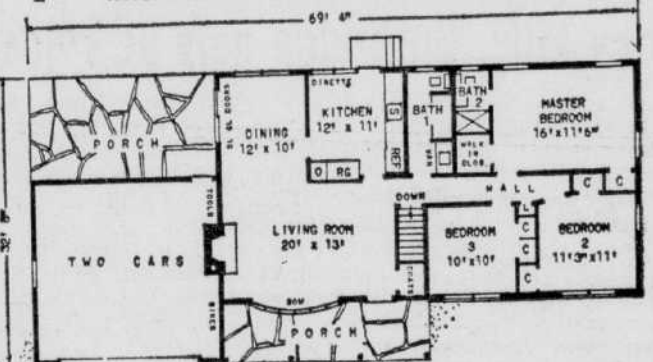

The next meeting, fourth night, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richie Harrison, Beckett Road, Sherbrooke.
