FRANCE NOT PREPARED TO DEMAND SANCTIONS IN AFRICAN TROUBLE

Understood French Desire to Support Britain Will Not Go to Limit of Affronting Italy—Britain May Propose Moral Condemnation of Italy at League Session Rather Than Application of Sanctions—General Strikes Loom in Europe if War Is Declared.

The French cabinet today met to define France's stand before the crucial meeting of the League of Nations Council on Ethiopia next month, and, as expected, decided nothing definite. Premier Laval, who will head a strong delegation to Geneva, was given a free hand on the understanding that France will support Great Britain, yet cannot adopt such a rigid stand as would affront Italy.

The French stand lent credence to Paris reports last night that Britain herself would propose moral condemnation of Italy, rather than call for sanctions, in event of Italian aggression.

Laborites of both Britain and the continent, it was reported, are planning general strikes and labor boycotts against Italy to prevent a war in East Africa.

Giuglielmo Marconi, radio inventor, will direct the telegraph, telephone and wireless communications of the Italian armies in East Africa. The Italian Government announced all furloughs suspended in a move to marshal all its military strength in event of a crisis.

ITALY CANCELS ANNUAL FURLOUGHS OF SOLDIERS

Rome, Aug. 28.—The Government, marshalling every resource to meet a possible crisis in Ethiopia, today decided to cancel all furloughs to the military personnel, it was disclosed by informed sources.

The order, these sources related, will cancel the annual holiday of every member of the army, navy and aviation forces.

Meanwhile five vessels are being reconnoitered to reinforce Italy's route to East Africa, it was reliably reported. These ships are reported to be among several of those recently purchased abroad to augment Italy's facilities for transporting the army to the Ethiopian battlefield.

The ships have been renamed the Campagna, Lombardia, Umbria, Lazio and the Liguria. The source from which they were obtained was not disclosed, but it is understood that when they are reconnoitered they will be able to transport four thousand men each.

The Minister of Propaganda today officially denied reports published abroad that 12,000 Somali troops armed and trained by Italian colonial officers had deserted to Ethiopia with their arms.

"The Government," said the spokesman, "officially denies there is any foundation for this report, and likewise states it is untrue that the Italian legion in Addis Ababa has asked for the requisitioning of these arms and their return to the Italian colonies."

NATIVES TERROR STRUCK AT SIGHT OF GAS MASKS

Addis Ababa, Aug. 28.—Emperor Haile Selassie today ordered a gas mask drill Friday to convince superstitious natives that these protective devices are not faces of devils.

The mask rehearsal was decided upon after an American correspondent, trying out a gas mask in a hotel corridor, met a half dozen Ethiopians, who fled shrieking in terror.

Afflicted with financial worries resulting from the heavy drop of the thaler amidst preparations for the impending hostilities, the Emperor arose today before dawn to consult his "brain trust," headed by Everett Andrew Colson from Maine.

Colson is generally credited with having inspired the restrained policy of the Emperor in not provoking Italy during the mounting crisis and also in calming the fiery tribal chiefs who are clamoring for action.

Colson came here, in 1930, primarily as financial adviser to the Government. His position has since been greatly broadened.

He frequently works twenty hours daily, dividing his time between the palace, where he confers lengthily with the Emperor, and the dual offices of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Finance.

INTEREST TODAY CENTRES ON ITALIAN CONFERENCE

With the Italian Army, Bolzano, Italy, Aug. 28.—The military manoeuvres on this Austrian frontier drew to a close today to permit Premier Mussolini to preside over an extraordinary cabinet meeting this afternoon.

Premier Mussolini's recent vehement statements that "sanctions mean war" led to the feeling here that if an attempt were made to adhere absolutely to the letter of the covenant, all hope of peaceable settlement would be lost.

All groups are in agreement that the cabinet session, the first ever held outside of Rome during the thirteen years of the Fascist regime, will result in some decisive conclusions relative to the Italo-Ethiopian conflict though these may be kept secret.

The cabinet members, many of whom have been actively participating in the manoeuvres, faced problems complicated by the attitude of Great Britain. Political circles called attention to the fact that a regular cabinet meeting had already been scheduled for September 15 and mentioned that Il Duce would

FRANCE WILL BACK GREAT BRITAIN

Paris, Aug. 28.—France will back Great Britain in support of the League of Nations covenant in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, but will oppose too rigid interpretation of its provisions as likely to be viewed by Italy as an act of hostility, the cabinet decided in its emergency session this afternoon.

DAY OF NATIONAL CHURCH FOR DOMINION HELD NEAR

Moderator of United Church, on Return from England, Believes Institution Will Come During His Lifetime.

Quebec, Aug. 28.—Firm in the belief that he would see a national church in Canada during his lifetime, the Rt. Rev. Richard Roberts, D.D., Moderator of the United Church of Canada, returned home yesterday from Europe. The former minister of the American Presbyterian Church, Montreal, was accompanied by Mrs. Roberts.

Beyond stating his conviction on a national church, Dr. Roberts did not care to discuss the subject of church union. Like Principal Morgan, of McGill, however, he appeared to be anxious about the Abyssinian situation. Britishers were much concerned, he reported, because the threat to the peace of the world caused by the rift between Abyssinia and Italy raised the racial question in a very acute form.

"I think that the League of Nations is a very great instrument for the preservation of collective security," he remarked, "and that is the most important thing just now."

THREE INJURED IN MISHAP AT WEST SHEFFORD

Claire Lamoureux, Ten Years Old, Suffered Injury to Head and Fractured Shoulder When Driver of Car Took Ditch to Avoid Striking Cyclist.

West Shefford, Aug. 28.—A ten-year-old girl suffered a fractured shoulder and two older people were badly shaken up and bruised last yesterday, when the automobile in which they were travelling overturned in the ditch after the driver swerved to the side of the road to avoid striking a cyclist.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, their step-child, Claire Lamoureux, ten years old, and Mr. Campbell's brother were driving on the Granby-West Shefford road when the accident occurred. In front of the Lawrence farm, Campbell closed up upon another of his brothers who was riding a bicycle and honked for the road.

The brother recognized the sound of the horn, and waved a hand, signalling John Campbell to pass. However, just as Campbell passed, however, the cyclist lost his balance and fell in front of the car. To avoid striking him, Campbell gave a strong jerk to the steering wheel and caused his car to swerve into the ditch where it overturned.

Claire Lamoureux suffered a deep gash to the back of the head and a fracture of the left shoulder. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were badly shaken up and bruised. Campbell and the girl were removed to Dr. Runnells' Hospital, after first aid treatment had been rendered by Dr. Picard, of West Shefford. The condition of the young girl was reported as satisfactory this morning.

Campbell was allowed to return to his home last night.

QUEBEC'S CREDIT HIGH AMONG LONDON BANKERS

Assistant Provincial Treasurer Claims "London Market Is Strongly Confident of Sanity of Quebec's Administration."

Quebec, Aug. 28.—"The London market is strongly confident of the sanity of Quebec's administration," A. P. B. Williams, Assistant Provincial Treasurer of Quebec, said here last evening on his return from an unrevealed mission to England.

"Money is abnormally cheap in London for refunding operations," he added. "The lists for a $10,000,000 refunding loan for India were closed within five minutes and at a low per cent. An Australian offering was immediately over-subscribed."

While Mr. Williams refused to discuss the reason for his trip to London, he remarked that Quebec's credit stands high and pointed out that the 3 1/2 per cent. 1936 bonds, one of the few issues listed in the Old Country, are selling above 102.

YOUTH'S DEATH NEAR RICHMOND OFFERS RIDDLE

Rene Brodeur, Twenty-Three Years Old, of Valcourt, Found Dead in Field Four Acres from Abandoned Automobile.

Richmond, Aug. 28.—The Attorney-General of the Province of Quebec will decide whether an autopsy will be performed upon the body of Rene Brodeur in an effort to clear up the mystery of the death of the twenty-three-year old resident of Valcourt, who was found dead in a field near his home yesterday. Brodeur was discovered about four acres from where his automobile was found. He had been missing since Friday night when he left his home in his motor car. Valcourt is a village situated between Richmond and Waterloo.

Following the discovery of the dead youth's body yesterday, Dr. P. Langlois, district coroner, held an inquest and the verdict which returned read that "Rene Brodeur was found dead in the woods with twelve dollars, 1's watch and ring. There were no marks of violence. He was found about four acres from his automobile. He had been dead about eighteen hours. Death was due to an undetermined cause."

Brodeur's automobile was found on Saturday morning parked on a lonely road leading from the main highway towards his home. The discovery was made by a butcher who notified Philip Brodeur, father of the victim. In the car were found Brodeur's hat, coat and collar and some food which he had purchased. The gasoline tank was full and the keys of the car were found inside.

A search was started immediately and yesterday Brodeur's body was found in a field. A doctor was called and pronounced the man dead, stating that he had been dead about eighteen hours. No cause of death was given.

Farmers living near where the automobile was found told Brodeur's relatives that they had seen an automobile stop late on Friday night. They saw the lights extinguished, but heard nothing else. They stated that they did not see any occupants leave the car.

GERMAN AVIATOR EXECUTED AS A SPY

Berlin, Aug. 28.—The silk-hatted executioner of Pletzenze prison swung his axe for the third time this week when at dawn today he beheaded Lieut. Mueller-Heinecke of the aviation corps, convicted as a spy.

The officer was one of many sent to the block on charges of betraying military secrets.

The same headsman yesterday executed Frau Charlotte Juenemann, convicted of starving her three infant children, and Willy Gehrke, robber and killer.

MESSAGE TRAVELLED LONG DISTANCE ON MERCY TRIP

Conductor on Speeding Passenger Train Credited with Starting Chain that Travelled 220 Miles to Save Boys Two Miles Away.

Sterling, Ill., Aug. 28.—The conductor of a speeding passenger train was credited today with starting a chain of messages that travelled 220 miles to send a rescue squad two miles and save five youths whose sail boat capsized in Rock River.

Elmer Jackson, of Elmhurst, Chicago suburb, conductor on a Chicago and North Western passenger train, yesterday saw the accident two miles east of here, where the tracks skirt the river. He wrote a note and dropped it off at Nelson, Ill., three miles farther east.

PEER SEEKING TRIAL BEFORE UPPER CHAMBER

Baron de Clifford, Charged with Manslaughter, Expected to Answer Charge Before House of Lords.

Kingston, England, Aug. 28.—Edward Southwell Russell, Baron de Clifford, today was committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter arising from a motor car accident. Indications were he might seek trial by his peers, the House of Lords.

Baron de Clifford, scion of an historic family whose lineage goes back to the thirteenth century, is a racing motorist and a son-in-law of the late Mrs. Kate Meyrick, night-club queen. The charge arises from the death of Douglas Hopkins, in a collision between his car and that of Lord de Clifford. The accident did not occur in a race but on the open highway.

In addition to manslaughter, he is charged with dangerous driving and driving without due care and attention. The twenty-six-year-old peer reserved defence, after pleading not guilty. When the judge ordered him tried at the central criminal court—the Old Bailey—the prosecutor interjected, "before the House of Lords, I think."

Whether the trial proceeds before the House of Lords depends on whether the prosecution decides to proceed with the manslaughter count. If it does not, the minor counts would be heard before the Old Bailey. The last comparable House of Lords trial of a peer was in 1901, when the trial for bigamous marriage of the Earl of Russell to Mollie Cook in Nevada shocked Victorians.

ALBERTA HALTS REDEMPTION OF CERTIFICATES

Government Takes Drastic Action Following Run by Investors After Victory of Social Credit Forces in General Elections.

Calgary, Aug. 28.—In the big auditorium of the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute, built by William Aberhart before he turned to politics, sixty-three candidates of the Aberhart Social Credit party were to meet today to decide points of policy before taking over the Government of Alberta. It was expected Aberhart would become Premier on September 3, one of his successful candidates resigning a seat in his favor.

On a wave of popularity, the Aberhart forces were swept to victory at the polls last week but they will take office amid disquieting financial reports. In Edmonton yesterday, Premier Reid announced payment of provincial savings certificates had been suspended temporarily because of an unusually heavy drain on liquid funds.

While Reid and Aberhart joined in issuing reassuring statements, pointing to the temporary embarrassing financial position and predicting things would be running smoothly in a week or ten days, Mayor Davidson of Calgary, served notice the city would be forced to default on its bonds unless the province or the Dominion came to its assistance.

One of the decisions to be made at the caucus today was whether the Social Credit party would merge with the Stevens Reconstruction party in the federal election on October 14. Although negotiations were opened between Aberhart and Stevens shortly after the provincial election, no definite decision was reached and it was left to the party caucus to decide whether joint or separate candidates would be placed in the field.

It was taken for granted here that Aberhart would enter candidacy at the Dominion election, either his own or jointly with the Reconstructionists, but it was understood he would not enter Manitoba and Saskatchewan without being asked by organizations in those provinces.

For ten or twelve years, Alberta has accepted savings in denominations of $100, the fund growing to $10,244,093 by June 30. Since that time and particularly in the last month, there have been steady withdrawals with the result the liquid position of the fund was disappearing rapidly. This led to the decision to suspend payments.

Government officials, Premier Reid among them, would not disclose the extent of the withdrawals but it was understood they aggregated about $1,300,000. The province invested about $2,000,000 of the funds in its own bonds which have fallen in price in recent months.

URGES GOVERNMENT TO UNDERWRITE ADVANCES

Edmonton, August 28.—Voicing fear the banks will decline to make advances to the new Social Credit Government, the Edmonton Central Council of the Canadian labor party has passed a resolution asking the Dominion Government to under-

AUSTRO-GERMAN CONCILIATION APPEARS NEAR

Italy's Imminent Preoccupation with Ethiopia Makes It Necessary for Austria to Find Aid from Some Other Neighbor.

Vienna, Aug. 28.—Conflicting reports of an Austro-German reconciliation and a new Fascist Heimwehr regime with the restoration of Hapsburg monarch flitted through Vienna today.

The reconciliation rumors at least had a solid basis, for an understanding was reached yesterday between Egon Berger-Waldeneck, Austrian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Franz von Papen, German Minister to Austria, to the effect that the newspaper "hate campaign" must cease on both sides of the Austro-German line.

Observers noted that Italy's imminent preoccupation with Ethiopia is likely to make it necessary for Austria to lean on some other neighbor.

Peace with Germany is one way out. However, there are also indications of a closer co-operation with the Little Entente which is lately becoming more friendly with Prince von Starhemberg, Austrian Vice-Chancellor.

The Von Starhemberg regime would welcome the Little Entente—Rumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia—as an effective bulwark against the Hapsburg restoration for the next few years.

NEWFOUNDLAND STORMS CAUSE FORTY DEATHS

Rescue Vessels Today Busily Engaged Searching Derelicts Following Storm that Claimed a Dozen Ships.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 28.—Search for bodies went on today as Government steamships rounded derelicts reported drifting off the Newfoundland coast in the wake of a gale believed have taken a toll for forty lives and a dozen ships.

Broken communication lines made it impossible for authorities to get a clear picture of the havoc caused by the storm along the northeast coast, but reports from around the Avalon peninsula indicated at least seventeen dead—lost from schooners or going down with their craft.

From fifteen to twenty more persons were feared lost as four battered hulls were sighted and six others were on a schooner posted as missing after the terrific week-end blow.

Five brothers and another Newfoundlanders went to their deaths when the schooner Walter sank off Trepassy. Three others of one family, Captain Walsh and his two sons, aged eleven and thirteen years, were found dead aboard the schooner Annie Anita when she drifted into the rocks off the head end.

Six others of the Anita's crew were believed to have been washed overboard.

Captain Walsh's oldest son was skipper of the schooner Mary Bernice, found drifting bottom-up in Placentia Bay yesterday, her crew missing.

Three other derelicts sighted off the coast with no sign of life aboard remained unidentified. Each would have carried at least five men, it was said.

The Lunenburg banker Beatrice Beck, put into Cape Broyle yesterday to report the loss of Seaman Samuel Frank, washed overboard by heavy seas.

Struck by the tail end of the storm while heading for Newfoundland from Greenland, the Portuguese schooner Senora Dosantos was badly battered and lost one man overboard before she reached St. John's. Two others of her crew were tossed about the deck by the sea.

There was no word of the schooner Helen Healy, due in Long Harbor on Saturday, and Captain Mulrooney and his crew of five were believed lost.

Crews of five other schooners escaped when their vessels were driven around. The coast of the Avalon peninsula was covered with wreckage of smaller craft that had been wrecked from their moorings and piled up on the rocks.

The storm raked up a tragedy six months old when it cast up the body of Norman Courtney of Qitres, who was drowned with two brothers last January.

Five hatch covers from an unidentified steamship drifted ashore on the southeast coast, but in the absence of S.O.S. signals it was assumed the ship was not seriously damaged.

NOTED DOCTOR TAKES DAY AWAY FROM HIS CHARGES

Dr. A. R. Dafeo Reports Dionne Quintuplets, Entering Sixteenth Month of Life Today, Were Never in Better Health.

Callander, Ont., Aug. 28.—Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo watched the Dionne quintuplets enter their sixteenth month of life today and then hurried off to the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto where their parents, Olivia and Elzire Dionne, already are visiting.

But there was no reason for the fifteen months old youngsters to feel deserted on their "birthday." Several hundred persons crowded around their hospital-home to watch them go through their two daily appearances and there were two kind nurses to look after their wants in the hospital.

A BIG SUCCESS REGISTERED BY RICHMOND FAIR

Record-Smashing Attendance at Second Day of Annual Exhibition of Richmond County Agricultural Society.

Richmond, Aug. 28.—Richmond County's Agricultural Society's annual exhibition is going down on record as an unparalleled success, record-smashing attendance being registered yesterday in spite of the overcast skies. The final day of the three-day show was inaugurated this morning and the directors, officers and committees were confident that before nightfall the Society's coffers would be bulging with the proceeds of another gratifying performance.

The exhibits at the Richmond Fair this year are of a higher standard than usual and have received much favorable comment from the patrons. In fact, the showmen are so heavy that yesterday the judges had difficulty in making their decisions owing to the keen competition in every class.

The grand stand attractions during the afternoon and evening were witnessed by a large number, the horse races being especially interesting. Two classes were run off yesterday afternoon. There were five starters in the 2:18 class and eight in the 2:28. Jennie Geddes, driven by Courmeyer, won the 2:18 in straight heats. In the 2:28, however, five heats were necessary before a winner was declared. "Forest C" driven by Herb Call, bringing home the victory.

The grand stand performance was greatly appreciated. The animal act, in which eight ponies first entertained the spectators, to be followed by a large elephant and two well-trained ponies, proved exceedingly popular, while the "bucking mule" was the cause of much amusement.

Among those who attended Richmond Fair yesterday were Alfred Wood, president and editor of the Sherbrooke Daily Record, and S. E. Desmarais, M.L.A., for Richmond.

The detailed results of the horse races were as follows:

HOWICK FARMER HONORED FOR AGRICULTURAL WORK

Earl Ness Among Recipients of Diplomas and Medals for Exceptional Merit in Agriculture.

Quebec, Aug. 28.—J. Emiliani Toupin, manager of the demonstration farm at St. Isidore de Laprairie, John Earl Ness, Howick farmer, and the Montreal Cottons, Limited, Valleyfield, were yesterday awarded medals and Diplomas of Exceptional Merit in agriculture. Mr. Ness also won a $200 prize.

The winners automatically became Commanders of the Agricultural Merit Order. Their insignias will be presented by Hon. Adolphe Godbout, Minister of Agriculture, during celebrations connected with agricultural merit activities at Quebec Exhibition grounds on September 4.

There were twenty-five contestants for the gold medal, forty for the silver medal and thirty-eight for the bronze medal. Two other prizes of $150 and $100 will be given Edouard Landry, L'Assomption, and Eusebe Landry, St. Lim, who ranked fifth and sixth respectively in the contest for the gold medal.

WORK RELIEF BUDGET TO PROVIDE FUNDS TO IMPLEMENT "NEW DEAL"

United States Administration Turns to Four Billion Dollar Fund to Provide Cash Denied by Filibuster of Third Deficiency Bill by Huey Long—Two Important "New Deal" Projects Now Before Supreme Court—Louisiana Activities of Huey Long to Be Probed.

Washington, August 28.—The United States administration turned to the $4,800,000,000 work relief fund today to find the money needed to start the machinery set up by newly-created "New Deal" laws.

While no final decision had been made, indications were that the fund would be the source of the cash required to replace the millions killed off by Senator Long's adjournment filibuster of the Third Deficiency Bill.

Senators and House members emerging from a long conference with President Roosevelt yesterday, at which they reviewed the problem of finding cash elsewhere under the watchful eye of Comptroller-General J. R. McCarl, said they were confident that funds would be obtained to:

Start the Social Security Act going, but perhaps minus aid to crippled children, mothers and the blind.

To take care of bus and truck regulation.

Put into operation the new Alcohol Control Act, the Labor Relations Board, utility regulation and the Guffey coal law.

Continue the operation of the Bankhead Cotton Act.

These were the chief operations that had been endangered, although there were almost a dozen other items carried in the supply bill. Leaders indicated the most important of these would be taken care of.

TWO IMPORTANT PROJECTS FACING TESTS IN COURTS

Washington, Aug. 28.—Supreme Court tests of the constitutionality of the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the Tennessee Valley Authority, two principal pillars of the "New Deal," were demanded yesterday in briefs deposited with the court.

The briefs bring to an issue the legal battles in which the administration's recovery programme has been heavily attacked and warmly defended and in which the Supreme Court will be final umpire.

Deepest interest is manifested in the outcome, as Congress has just enacted legislation designed to strengthen the laws against onslaughts on the grounds of constitutionality.

Stanley Reed, Solicitor General, filed the AAA brief through which the Government seeks to overturn the First Circuit Court's opinion delivered by Judge Scott Wilson, declaring the processing and floor stock taxes illegal in the case of the Hoosac Mills Corporation.

Forney Johnston, counsel for the Alabama Power Company, who has fought the TVA through the courts in that famous case left the other brief with the court in advance of formal docketing.

Mr. Johnston contests the decision of the Fifth Court of Appeals, which ruled for the Government in the suit of Alabama Power Company stockholders against the TVA.

He argued that to carry out the TVA programme would mean Government authority not merely to regulate local industry by federal competition, but also to dominate the production, the distribution, manufacture, distribution and sale of "every principal commodity and every substantial utility service heretofore considered as held open to citizens by the constitution."

To uphold the TVA's contention of Congressional authority, he said, "would vest in the production, the form and functions of the federal Government and the industrial organization of the American people."

SOUTHERN JAPAN SWEPT BY TYPHOON

Tokyo, Aug. 28.—A typhoon swept over Kyushu and Shikoku Islands off Southern Japan today, forcing shipping to seek shelter or to remain in port, delaying their schedules.

No casualties were reported immediately, and the extent of the damage was believed to be not extensive.

EXPECTS STEVENS AND ABERHART TO CO-OPERATE

Edmonton, August 28.—Co-operation with Social Credit forces in the Dominion election was forecast today by A. C. Mackay, of Calgary, Alberta organizer for the Reconstruction party. "Negotiations are pending," he said, "and I hope they will be satisfactorily completed to night at Calgary. That will mean the sinking of party differences in a common cause."

STEEL OUTPUT FOR DOMINION AT HIGH LEVEL

Pig Iron Production for First Seven Months of 1935 Was 310,290 Tons Compared with 194,586 Tons in 1934 and 67,899 Tons in 1933.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that Canadian iron and steel production for the first seven months of the year remained far in advance of 1934 production.

Pig iron production in July totalled 50,513 tons, an average of 1,620 tons a day, against 14,503 tons in June, or an average of 1,475 per day. For the seven months ending July the production was 310,290 tons, as against 194,586 in 1934 and 67,899 in 1933.

LEGAL EXPERTS DEBATE ADMINISTRATION OF LAW

Noted British and United States Barristers to Attend Twenty-First Annual Meeting of Canadian Bar Association.

Winnipeg, August 28.—Ready to discuss the law and its administration, lawyers from all parts of Canada gathered in Winnipeg today for the opening of the twenty-first annual convention of the Canadian Bar Association.

Noted visitors from Great Britain and the United States will participate in the three-day programme, addressing convention sessions, luncheons and the annual banquet Thursday evening.

Arriving in Winnipeg yesterday, Sir Boyd Merriam, president of the Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division of the High Court of Jus-

CLAIMS WORLD SURROUNDED BY INTENSE HEAT

British Scientist Advances Theory that "Celestial Inferno" of 1,000 Degrees Centigrade Would Prevent Man from Reaching Moon.

London, August 28.—Man will never be able to reach the moon, says Prof. E. V. Appleton, chairman of the British national committee for radio telegraphy.

Professor Appleton advanced the theory that in the upper atmosphere encompassing the earth there is a vast layer of intense heat hitherto unknown to science.

Appleton was quoted by the Daily Mail as asserting this "celestial inferno" of a temperature of 1,000 degrees centigrade constitutes an impassable obstacle to the age-old ambition of shooting a rocket with a human cargo to the moon.

The scientist, who discussed his discoveries with members of the Royal Society before making his announcement, said the disclosure of a fiery globe-encasing band would upset the whole system of researches now being carried out by radio short-waves, as well as the possibility of harnessing micro-waves for radio transmission.

Prof. Appleton also contended he had upset the theory that the atmosphere grows colder the farther one travels from the earth. He asserted the atmosphere becomes increasingly hotter after the first seven miles. He based this conclusion on calculations he made by sending wireless waves into the atmosphere 150 miles from the earth.

There, he said, the waves struck what he called the ionosphere and were reflected back toward the earth.

Prof. Appleton, who was welcomed by Isaac Priolo, K.C., Winnipeg, president of the association, said W. L. Ransom, president of the American Bar Association, is heading United States visitors to the convention. Mr. Ransom who comes from New York, will address the convention on "The Organized Bar Faces the Future." His address will be given this afternoon.

NEW DEMOCRAT ORGANIZATION IS PREDICTED

Prominent Leaders in Democrat Party Reported Planning Revolt Against Domination of Party by "New Dealers."

Chicago, Aug. 28.—An independent Democratic party similar to the Palmer Buckner party of 1896 is about to be formed, it was authoritatively asserted by a prominent citizen returning from the California home of William Randolph Hearst.

Democrats standing on the principle of State's rights and Jeffersonian policies will be invited to join the movement intended to give to Democrats opposed to administration trends an opportunity to voice their political views next year without turning a protest to the Republican party.

Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State in the Wilson administration, skilfully with newspapermen, but confined the conversation to general matters, insisting that he could not discuss details of his plans for McGill. He had actually taken over his duties and familiarized himself with the situation at the University. He exhibited a keen interest in European affairs and, before returning to McGill matters, asked for the latest news of the Italo-Ethiopian situation.

LITHUANIAN POLICE AND PEASANTS CONTINUE WAR

Two Peasants Killed in Continuation of Trouble that Began with Killing of Policeman During Disturbance.

Kaunas, Lithuania, Aug. 28.—Two peasants were killed today in a continuation of skirmishes with police that began with the killing of a policeman yesterday when farmers manifested their dissatisfaction with low prices.

Reports from an area twenty miles south of the capital said several thousand farmers, many of them armed, are occupying forests on both sides of the road leading to Kaunas.

NEW PRINCIPAL IS ANXIOUS TO ASSUME OFFICE

Arthur Eustace Morgan, Vice-Chancellor and Principal of McGill University, and His Family Arrived in Montreal Today.

Montreal, Aug. 28.—Arthur Eustace Morgan, the new Principal of McGill University, arrived in Montreal early today with Mrs. Morgan and their three daughters. The party docked at Quebec last night aboard the Duchess of Richmond and continued here by rail.

Mr. Morgan was welcomed by W. M. Birks, senior governor of the University, whose guests he and his family will be for a week at Mr. Birks' summer home at Mount Bruno.

The new Principal will meet other governors of the University at a dinner here on September 5th. He will be inducted into office early in October.

McGill's new Principal chatted amiably with newspapermen, but confined the conversation to general matters, insisting that he could not discuss details of his plans for McGill. He had actually taken over his duties and familiarized himself with the situation at the University. He exhibited a keen interest in European affairs and, before returning to McGill matters, asked for the latest news of the Italo-Ethiopian situation.

"The reputation of McGill in England is that of being one of the greatest of the universities in the Dominions," he said in answer to one question. "But it is not for me to say whether it is the greatest. Other people must judge that."

He said that he was "pleased with the honor done in inviting me to occupy a position recognized as one of importance and distinction." He continued: "I fully recognize the trust the governors of McGill have placed in me, but it must be remembered that by origin and training I am an Englishman and, therefore, I have a great deal to learn. I am not one who believes, however, that because an institution is English it is necessarily the best in the world."

Canada is responsible for the development of a cultural and social system of its own. Undoubtedly, the country owes an immense amount to leaders from the Old World, but, as I see it, it is only inferior as the new peoples of the world develop their own culture that they can play their full part in contributing to human welfare and progress.

"In this matter, universities must play a leading role and if McGill continues in the future the work she has done in this connection in the past, she will surely be true to her high calling. I come to Canada with a sense of responsibility for I realize that my duty is to assist, in what small measure I may, in guiding McGill in her work for Canada and the world. You may say that this is pitching one's ideals high. Well, I agree. But it is only insofar as one keeps one's vision on the distant horizon that one can maintain one's course."

Principal Morgan declared that he would assume his duties officially at the university next week but, in the meantime, he will pay short visits to McGill to acquaint himself with his new colleagues and surroundings.

Montreal, August 28.—Further price recessions were registered on the Montreal Stock Exchange today's early dealings with the tilters proceeding at a slow pace and interest about evenly spread over the list. Volume for the first hour and a half of the session totalled 2,974 shares.

not have called today's extraordinary meeting if he had not some important decision he wished to consider.

The newspaper, Corriere della Sera of Milan, called attention to the changed attitude of Japan with reference to the Italo-Ethiopian conflict. Japan, after strong opposition, has now become friendly, the newspaper pointed out. This gave point to unconfirmed rumors that Japan agreed to support Japan's claim for a bigger navy in return for the latter's neutrality in Ethiopia.

EUROPEAN LABOR DEBATES ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATION

London, August 28.—General strikes today were reported being planned by British and continental laborers in the event hostilities break out in East Africa.

These reported plans, which are to be reviewed by the Trade Union Congress at Margate next week, include strikes against handling supplies consigned to Italy.

When C. R. Attlee, deputy opposition leader in the House of Commons, conferred in Paris recently with Leon Blum, French Socialist leader, he carried out instructions from Georges Lansbury, leader of the Opposition party in Parliament, to exchange views and possibly lay groundwork for future joint action in the industrial field.

Results of cabinet meetings today at Bolzano, Italy, and Paris, were awaited with keenest interest at Whitehall. Sir Samuel Hoare, Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, were putting the finishing touches on the announcement of British policy to be made at the League Council on September 4.

As the reporter of the ill-starred Paris trip, Mr. Eden, is expected to make a strong point of Mussolini's blunt rejection of the Anglo-French proposal to establish international police forces in Ethiopia in return for the pledge of IDuce not to make war.

The Daily Mail today quoted Mussolini as saying: "After the cabinet council session the Italian Government will publish a declaration announcing its complete readiness to respect all rights of the British Empire, and disposing of any suggestion that Italy has any plans which would be prejudicial to British interests."

NEW YORK MARKET SHOWS MORE RESISTANCE TODAY

Steel, Bethlehem, Auburn, General Motors, Westinghouse, J. I. Case, Briggs, American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Sears Roebuck and General Electric. Oil Steel and Consolidated Gas were in the pile column with small advances. The ticker tape fell behind floor transactions a minute or two several times during the first hour. Call money renewed at 1-4 of 1 per cent.

RELIGION HAS UNIFYING, NOT DIVIDING, AIM

Catholic Editor Claims Religious Differences in Canada Are More a Unifying Factor than Anything Else.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 28.—Religious differences in Canada are more a unifying factor than anything else, the Institute of Human Relations was told today by Henry Somerville of Toronto, editor of the Catholic Register. Racial differences, he declared in the course of round-table debate on "What We Can Learn from Canada," were more troublesome.

"You will generally find that when there is apparent strife between religious bodies to the detriment of the body politic there are other antagonizing factors, racial, political or economic," he said. "Canada's great national problem arises from the racial division between French and English, using the word English for all except the French."

It is a tremendous task to keep in one political allegiance on terms of equality two races so entirely different in mentality as the French-Canadians and the British, he continued.

"Neither race wants to fuse with the other. We have got to have two languages, two cultures, two souls in one body. The French hold the Province of Quebec and wherever they go through the remainder of the country they aim to have their own schools from the primary grades to the university. Generally speaking, they succeed in realizing their aims despite enormous forces against them. They have against them not only the Anglicizing influence of Canada but the Americanizing influence of this northern continent. They do not succeed by suavity. They cause friction: they appear to other people to be fanatical. Canada has to make the best of the situation."

The Catholic Church in Canada has more trouble than the nation itself from this factor of racial difference. Practically all the French-Canadians are Catholics but we English, Irish and Scotch Catholics don't find French irregular verbs any less irregular than they are to our Protestant fellow-countrymen. We have not been happy when we have been in parishes with French clergy who spoke our language with difficulty and who looked on us as foreigners. We have not been contented when our children have been in a so-called bi-lingual school under a French teacher who spoke English in a manner that made his teaching unintelligible to our children."

The English-speaking Catholics of Canada, sympathizing with the French in religion but in secular matters aligned broadly with the Protestants, hold a mediating position, "not a very grateful position, but a useful one from the national viewpoint," he added. "If the racial lines of division in Canada were always the same as the religious lines I would have little confidence in the national unity, but as things are the religious differences are a nationally unifying factor."

ASBESTOS MAN ON TRIAL IN LIQUOR CASE

Judge Refuses to Have Police Divulge Name of Informer at Rosario Gagnon's Trial for Illegal Sale of Liquor.

Mr. Informer remained hidden behind his cloak of mystery in the Magistrate's Court this morning. Despite the efforts of Emile Rioux, attorney for Rosario Gagnon, of Asbestos, who went on trial today on a charge of illegal sale of liquor, the name of the man who allegedly purchased the liquor from Gagnon under the watchful eyes of Quebec Liquor Commission officers remained secret. "Personally," declared Judge J. H. Lemay, "I prefer to have all the witnesses appear in Court in any case over which I preside. But if the police classify this particular man as an 'informer,' I cannot oblige the police to divulge his identity."

Mr. Informer—as he does on so many occasions—paraded through the Court proceedings without a name and without any mark of identity.

Arthur Barrett, of Montreal, liquor policeman, stated that on the night of June 22nd, 1935, he had gone to Asbestos to make a case against Rosario Gagnon. He had been accompanied by Officer Boisvert. "At about 11:50 o'clock that night," Barrett testified, "we sent an informer to Gagnon's place while we—Boisvert and I—remained hidden near a shed about twenty feet from Gagnon's door. The informer drove up to Gagnon's, honked his horn twice, and Gagnon came out. We had given the informer four one dollar bills."

The informer, Barrett continued, asked Gagnon for a dozen bottles of beer. Gagnon re-entered the house, and then came out with the liquor. "I saw the informer hand him the money—one bill at a time, saying as he did so, 'One, two, three, four.'"

Barrett added that the dome light of the car was on, and that the kitchen light of Gagnon's house also provided some illumination.

Mr. Rioux then examined the witness. He asked: "You said that the informer obtained the beer?" Barrett answered: "Yes."

"You are sure of the date, and of the hour?" "Yes," Barrett answered.

Cesaire Gervais, Q.L.C. attorney, objected. An informer's name could not be divulged, he said. Mr. Rioux agreed upon that, but contended that the man who had allegedly purchased the liquor had not been, in the direct sense of the word, an informer. He wanted the man before the Court to prove that the liquor had been purchased. An informer was a man who came to the police with whispirings. Mr. Rioux believed that he had a perfect right to examine him. Judge Lemay said: "But if the police call him an informer, I cannot bring him before the Court."

So Mr. Rioux did not press his point any further. He said: "All right, then," and continued his cross-examination of the witness. He asked how Gagnon was supposed to have carried out the dozen beer. Barrett said that he had the beer piled up on his arm.

"Like an armful of wood?" queried Mr. Rioux.

"Yes—just like that."

Mr. Rioux scratched his chin thoughtfully and a bit incredulously. He looked at the quart bottle on exhibit. He said: "Twelve bottles of that size?"

Barrett nodded. "Yes—twelve—a dozen."

"You think that is feasible?" Barrett appeared to think that it was.

"Ever try it?" snapped Mr. Rioux.

Barrett said that he had. "We'll let you try it again," said Mr. Rioux—"and see how many you drop."

Barrett said confidently: "I do not think I will drop any."

The case is continuing.

IN THE VALLEY OF THE VOICES.

The Voice of the Valley of the St. Francis has spoken on several occasions, and twice has spoken loudly for Hon. Mackenzie King. Credit for the change of heart in 1930 was accorded to the Record, but full payment was made to one Rainville, who posed as a provincial organizer.

According to the partizan mind it may be charged that it was the nice things we said about Hon. R. B. Bennett which sent the border counties into the Conservative column.

Yet dimly do I recall receiving a message through William Morris that one Conservative candidate said that if he wanted to be beaten he would get the support of this journal. He was beaten. The poor chap did not stop to think that different methods apply to different candidates, and that it is the thought behind the pen which has the power.

Every politician knows that it is better to be damned daily by newspapers than to never be mentioned at all.

There are three members from these Counties whom I would dislike seeing beaten: Dr. Pickel, Hon. Sam Gobeil, and the Prince of Huntingdon, Dr. J. C. Moore. Their electorate should be proud of them. They were among the three hardest-working members of the House. What a pity Mr. Bennett did not accept the right advice sent him five years ago, and give the Postmaster portfolio to Gobeil instead of to the oft-discarded Sauve, who would have better been a letter-sorter were it not for his lack of the language which is used as the official word in business.

We cannot feel any chagrin at the thought that Hon. Mackenzie King may succeed Hon. Mr. Bennett. Mr. King is not a novice. He has had sixteen years as leader of the Liberal party, and previous to that was a Deputy Minister in one department under Laurier. His speeches are worth listening to, for they are only a bit laboured when he reads them over the radio, without benefit of that inspiration which only a crowd can give. He has led his party in office and out, and has represented Canada abroad and in other countries. Experience is a great teacher, and the Mackenzie King of to-day should be half as good again as he was five years ago.

The oratorical qualifications of Mr. King are backed by a strong articulation, with only an occasional lapse into the sing-song which usually marks the resting of a voice in a flow of language. He has a facility and felicity of phraseology, with a logical sequence which has improved much in the passing years.

It is a refutation to those who malign the weaker sex when one observes that these two bachelors have pretty much lost the hair on the top of their heads in the place where the hair ought to grow. They cannot blame it on the female nagging, even though Miss Aggie Macphail has kept them both unhappy.

Still, Mr. Bennett tried the power of a counter-irritant in the Senate. Why not have put Aggie in the Senate, for it is a soporific?

FIGURES FOR YOUR ANALYSIS.

You may wish to analyze the general election vote of 1930 by provinces from the official figures as compiled by the Canadian Press accountants. We take but the Conservatives and the Liberals, for the 200,000 mavericks do not affect the result, nor will they.

Quebec polled 1,020,261 votes, of which 542,135 were Liberals and 436,037 were Conservatives, even though the Province elected but 24 Conservative members and 41 Liberal members.

Ontario polled 1,339,576 votes in 1930, of whom 743,414 were Conservative and 390,071 were Liberal votes.

One Province really did elect a member who went crazy, but not crazy enough to resign his seat. The other Provinces scored as follows:

	Conservative	Liberal
Prince Edward Island	29,692	29,696
Nova Scotia	140,513	127,189
New Brunswick	109,839	75,221
Manitoba	111,312	97,234
Saskatchewan	129,420	153,676
Alberta	67,908	60,148
British Columbia	119,074	98,933
Yukon	846	658

This gives the Conservatives a majority of the popular vote in all the provinces, except Quebec and Saskatchewan, neither of which provinces have much in common.

In 1930 the Conservatives elected 137 members out of the 245 seats.

Of Liberals there were..... 88
United Farmers of Alberta 9
Liberal Progressives 3
Progressives 3
Labour 3
Independent 2

But at dissolution there were twenty-four vacancies in the House, mostly caused by party appointments, and leaving the Conservatives without a majority, or with but 113 members out of the 245.

SOME PREFER THE LUXURY.

A newspaper is not a luxury. It is a daily necessity. Without the knowledge and the insight into affairs given to you by your daily newspapers you may have the mind of the hermit, who is a most uninteresting fellow.

The neighbour who boasts that he never reads the newspaper may wonder why his friends are inclined to leave him alone. When it costs but the price of a single postage stamp it would, indeed, be false economy to try and get along without your paper.

Just now when all the newspapers carry matters of interest to you in the public affairs, when Italy is unduly exciting the foreign correspondents, you can ill afford to suffer the handicap of not knowing.

In the pre-Lincoln days in the United States there was a political party which was called the Know-Nothings. It has its prototype in Alberta, where a sagacious adventurer has worked the vote-seller and the gullible eater of wild promises to its ultimate end. On the hypothesis that many electors sell their votes for from $2 to $3, this gentleman promised that that state would pay each one of them $23 a month out of the taxes. The gullible voters forgot that he would have to pay the dose out of the taxes he took away from them.

This is the thought that comes today when you have a candidate boasting of how many grants and gifts he got from the Government for his constituents. They know that the Government first took it away from them, and before returning it extracted a big percentage for costs of government.

THERE IS SENTIMENT IN BUSINESS.

It is nice always to meet the man or woman who wishes to do something for you—to give you some token of their sincere and unselfish liking. This thought came to me when a farmer's wife on the old Montreal road, after seeing the picture of "Mother" on my wall of distinguished faces, returned to her home in Beaver Meadow and composed a bouquet of permanent roses to sit beside the picture of the one I hold most dear. Mrs. Frank Thompson has inherited the spirit of maternal regard. All the children in the school district surrounding her farm home seem to recognize that spirit, for they rush to her embrace as do the lambs to their mother.

Patiently working and weaving for weeks Mrs. Thompson had devised a bouquet which only lacks the breath of the rose to make it natural or plant-like, and it was she who dedicated it to my mother. Doubly nice comes the thought that here is one loyal friend who gives freely without asking, or wishing for some favour in return. Too often we greet the friend who is friendly only when he wants something, and who never thinks thanks nor offers them, do you give him the publicity he seeks. Possibly it is that reaction which makes me fond of a weekly voyage to the Beaver Meadows, where Bruce Fletcher is building a home in memory of his parents.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Britain's withdrawal from the League of Nations would mean the bust up of the League, and the return of the Mother Country to the policy of "splendid isolation." The cubs of the great Commonwealth would welcome the outcome, and the sequence of freedom from the quibbles and quarrelling of the plot of nations which are liable to go up in the air as did Austria when a poor princeling was shot by a crazy maniac of illegitimate birth.

Which would you rather? A package of chewing gum or a daily newspaper? Your neighbors can tell your preference by the shape of your intellectual brow.

WORLD JEWISH PARLEY AGAIN IN AGREEMENT

Orthodox Zionist and Labor Groups Compromise Differences Over Imposing of Penalties on Sabbath Violators.

Lucerne, Switzerland, August 27.—The deadlock in the World Zionist Conference was broken when the orthodox Zionist group Mizrahi and the Laborites settled their differences and general debate was resumed.

The Labor Agency reported the Labor delegation, which has been protesting against the imposition of penalties on Sabbath violators, finally resolved by majority vote to accede to the demands of the Mizrahi.

The Jewish Telegraphic Agency stated the Mizrahi group had flatly refused to enter the new Zionist executive or actively participate in the congress until definite assurances were given by the Laborites that the Sabbath and dietary laws would be observed in colonies supported by funds of the Keren Kayemet, land purchasing agency, and the Keren Hayesod, colonizing agency.

The congress was thrown into an uproar last night, the Labor Agency said, when someone shouted "Heil, Hitler." Demands were immediately made that anyone who used the Nazi cry be expelled from the congress.

The outbreak occurred when the congress overwhelmingly defeated a proposal by the Jewish State party that the transfer agreement between Germany and Palestine should be discussed in open session.

The most violent attack on the Nazis in Germany that has thus far been heard at the sessions of the congress was given by M. Tarblum, Labor delegate from Paris, according to the Labor Agency.

"Anti-Semitism in Germany is becoming the law of the land," Tarblum said. "We at this congress protest against Nazi barbarism and demand the anti-German boycott to the whole world. We send our greetings to the Jews of Germany and to all labor in Germany."

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR.

Dedicated to my Father,

Roberta Butterfield

For thirty years through snow and rain,
He's watched the sufferer; softened pain,
He's cheered the heartsick, helped the poor,
He's turned no patient from his door.

For lack of funds, he's always served,
From service's path he's never swerved.

When first he came to this small town
Unknown, untried, they aimed to down
His valiant courage, but they found
This man was brave, his mind was sound.

To him they gave their utmost trust,
Never his iron will did rust.

To him they went for help, advice—
And nearly always to entice him,
"Please, charge it, just this time,"

And soon it was an endless rhyme.
Some gave him food or wood for pay
But the doctor only said "okay."

And still he went for miles around,
On his never-ending calls bound—
To lumber camp, o'er mountain top
To cross swollen stream, he made his stop—

Where'er Death lurked in dread disease,
Where e'er a sufferer needed ease.

There he went, though sick himself,
With no thought of pride nor self.
He struggled oft in deepest snow
When he was tired to go.

Yet he went the sick to aid,
Oft he went tho' never paid.

His youth had long now been faded
Yet his mind was never jaded.
His practice now was firm as rock
He'd weathered every dirty knock.

And still he went thro' snow and rain
To help the sick to bear their pain.

And as years weave their endless chain
God knows he has not lived in vain.
For when in dire despair, they turn
To him, who watches with concern
The poorest baby as he lies
With Death near to break life's ties.

Heartsick and tired oft he yearns
To free his heart of all its burns,
Of sorrow, indelibly traced
In blood never to be erased.

Oh God in heaven only knows
The troubles he sees, the good he sows.

Indeed the country Doctor holds
The dearest place in heaven's folds,
For like a beacon in the night,
And like a hero of the fight—
He stands supreme—apart from all
A man who answered the gospel call.

Gifted with a deep insight,
Bathed in purest holy light,
He stepped forth—gave his life
Cut his heart out with a knife,
Gave it to mankind—a token
Of his promise never broken.

Oft he thinks that he has failed
But not for he has sailed
Far beyond the goal success,
Ask his patients—they'll confess
If ever man was close to God
The doctor has the nearest trod.

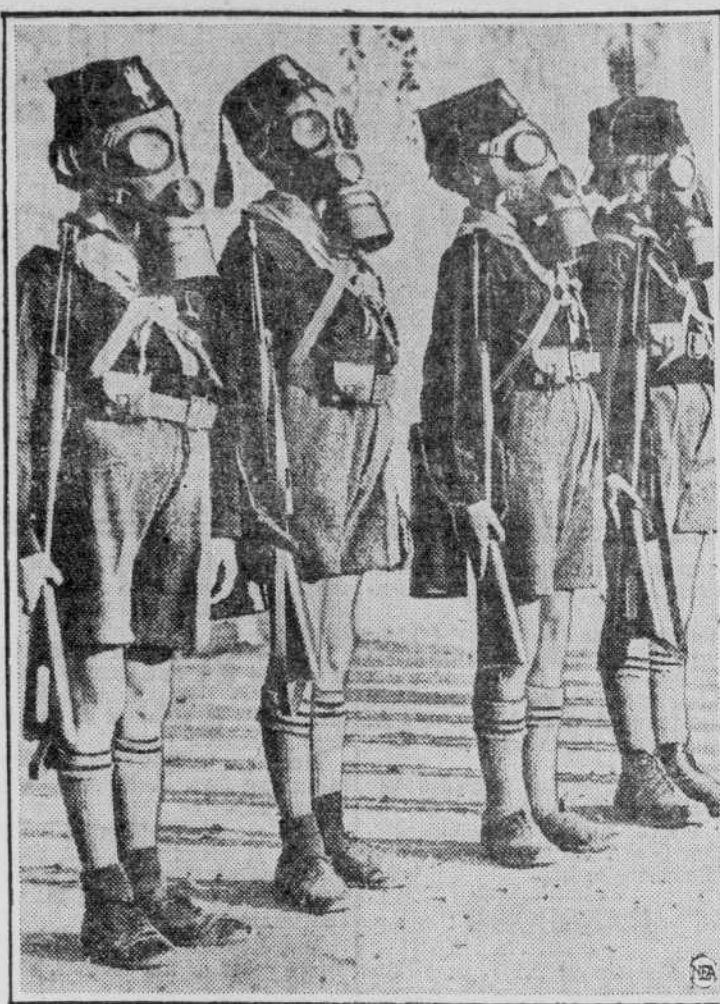

And with the cross ahead he goes
To fight death and disease—his foes!
And ever onward to the height
Of heaven's gate, O blessed sight!
Where all the angels shall acclaim
The country doctor's immortal fame.

SAY KIDDIES IN GREAT BRITAIN ARE UNDERFED

Writer Declares "No Children Should Be Underfed in Country Such as Ours" — Too Many Overfed Grown-Ups.

London, August 28.—"The Wayfarer," the woman's editor of Overseas, published by the Overseas League, says it is estimated that one per cent. of the children in Great Britain are underfed.

"This does not sound a high percentage; it is not, but no children should be underfed in a country such as ours," the writer says. "I should like to know what the percentage of wrongly fed people is? I hazard the suggestion that it is probably about ninety per cent. There are still too many underfed children; far too many overfed grown-ups and, worse still, far too many children and grown-ups who are being wrongly fed altogether.

"We are making headway but I grow more and more puzzled at the inertia and lack of intelligence in my own sex. Why is it, that on the whole, the British are such poor slurs on us as a people than that our housekeeping should be a by-word among foreigners. We bring up our children well, sensibly, scientifically and affectionately, but we are neither economical nor instructed in matters pertaining to food and able at reasonable rates. INVESTIGATION IS BEGUN INTO BABY'S DEATH

Sergeant Detective Haney Has Uncovered Evidence Infant Was Thrown into River at Sherbrooke or at Some Other Point Farther Up the St. Francis.

Evidence that the body of the murdered infant found last weekend at Bromptonville was thrown into the river at Sherbrooke or some other point farther up the St. Francis River has been uncovered by Sergeant Detective James Haney, of the Provincial Police, who is investigating the crime.

The body was found at about three o'clock on Saturday afternoon last. On Saturday morning, some Brompton Pulp and Paper Company employees working on the river, about three miles from Sherbrooke, saw the body floating down, according to Sergeant Haney.

"But the men thought that the body was a doll, and paid no further heed," the detective said. He felt convinced that the baby had not been slain at Bromptonville.

The case is a difficult one, and its solution no easy matter. The body may have been deposited in the river by absolute strangers to the district. The infant, when found, had been dead about seven days, and the autopsy conducted by Dr. J. M. Roussel indicated it had lived seven or eight days. Death was due to suffocation, although the infant was dead before being thrown into the water.

Mother Mab Says:-

There's one thing I never try to skip on and that's pickling! I'd advise you not to either if you want to make pickles that all your friends will praise.

Supposing all your spices are good except the mustard that you "saved" on. Result: poor pickles. You may have bought your cinnamon for a bit less, but remember—cinnamon soon loses its strength if left uncovered.

Don't use adulterated vinegar either. Making pickles takes a lot of time and labor, so be sure your efforts will not be wasted.

Pick a grocer, known to be perfectly reliable, and trust him to supply you with the best of spices and condiments.

Try Stenson's and you will be delighted with the results.

Here are some of the things you'll probably need:

Celery, Mustard and other seeds, Tumeric, Stick Cinnamon, Chilies, Peppers, Garlic, Onions, Silver Skin Onions, Malt, Tarragon, and the finest vinegar available.

$1,500 FRAUD DESCRIBED BY VICTOR MICHEL

Wottonville Mayor Tells Court How He "Loaned" Albert Toutant Large Amount for Purchase of Still Which Was Subsequently Seized.

How Victor Michel, mayor of Wottonville, "loaned" Albert Toutant in the presence of Wilfrid Rochon the sum of approximately $1,500 for the purchase of a still, and the profits from the illegal manufacture of alcohol, subsequently to lose his investment when the R.C.M.P. were "tipped off" and seized the apparatus, was recounted in the Magistrate's Court before Judge J. S. Couture yesterday.

Victor Michel, a thick-set man who sought the protection of the Court before telling his story, testified at the preliminary hearings of both Toutant and Rochon on charges of having illegally offered for sale a still, part of a still. Because Michel claimed that he had merely "loaned" Toutant the money and had not taken part in any transaction involving the sale or purchase of equipment for the illegal manufacture of alcohol, Judge Couture deemed the proof against the two men insufficient to warrant binding them over to Court of King's Bench and dismissed the charges.

Both Toutant and Rochon, however, had previously been committed to the Criminal Assizes on a number of offences. Toutant is a hotel-keeper of Wotton. He will stand trial at the fall Assizes on two charges of having been in possession of a still for the manufacture of alcohol and on one charge of conspiracy to defraud. Rochon, the man of many aliases, who is known to police as T. G. Robert, Arthur Morin and Arthur Allain, in addition to the name of Wilfrid Rochon, will go on trial on three charges of possession of a still and one charge of conspiracy. Bail in Toutant's case was renewed at $2,000 and in Rochon's case fixed by Judge Couture at $6,000.

Zephira Marchand, of Wotton, also told how he had been deceived by the two accused. Marchand said that on July 30th, 1934, Toutant and Rochon paid him a visit, Toutant explaining that his friend, Rochon, was in the soft-drink business. Marchand was told that Rochon had secured a still and was manufacturing alcohol in Montreal and offered shares. He did not want to buy, but finally loaned the two men one hundred dollars, receiving a promissory note in return. On August 6, 1934, he was informed that the manufacture was operating full blast and was a paying proposition. He was offered $1,200 worth of shares for $900 and told that all that he had to advance was $800, as he had already handed over $100. After some coaxing, Marchand bought the shares, giving the accused $800 and the promissory note. In September of 1934, Toutant informed him that his money was lost—and that Rochon instead of being in the soft-drink business had been dealing with bootlegging apparatus.

A declaration which Michel made to R.C.M.P. officers was introduced by Hettel O'Bready, R.C.M.P. counsel, but not admitted into the Court record.

HARVESTING IN THIS DISTRICT IN FULL SWING

Yield Per Acre Will Be Less than 1934 With Crop of Potatoes Below Last Year, States Department of Agriculture Report.

Harvesting is general in Sherbrooke, Compton, Stanstead and Richmond counties, according to the telegraphic report on crop conditions issued by the Quebec Department of Agriculture. The yield per acre is reported less than in 1934 and the crop of potatoes in this district will be less than a year ago.

Crop harvesting is general throughout the province, the report continues. Rains during mid-August improved conditions in most sections and the yield as a whole will be good. Root plants fared well and the potato crop will be lighter than last year, the quality will be good.

In Montreal, Jesus Island, and in Vaudreuil and Soulanges, harvesting is going forward rapidly and the yield is reported good. The corn crop in this district is said to be splendid.

In Gatineau, Hull and Pontiac, haying is entirely completed with the exception of a second cutting of alfalfa. Harvesting is progressing and oats will offer a fine crop.

In the Quebec district, including Charlevoix, Saguenay, Montmorency and Portneuf recent torrential rains caused damage to crops and market gardens in some places. Referring to agricultural pests, the report says grasshoppers did damage in some counties, particularly the upper part of Bellechasse. The cabbage white butterfly is reported everywhere and is even attacking turnips. Blight on potatoes is disturbing according to reports. Apple scab seems less prevalent, but there are more borers. Celery rust is abundant in places where the threat was insufficient.

LEADERSHIP OF SOCCER LEAGUE IS DEADLOCKED

Victory Over West Brome Placed Cowansville on Even Footing with Knowlton at Top of Brome-Missisquoi Soccer League Standing.

Cowansville, August 28.—The Cowansville Pirates are on edge today as they prepare to invade Knowlton this week-end for a scheduled fixture which will decide, temporarily at least, the leadership of the Brome-Missisquoi Soccer League. A four to nothing victory over the West Brome Athletic Club placed the local Buccaneers on even terms with the Brome Lake summer resort's eleven and set the stage for the first "crucial" fixture of the season.

The local aggregation has played three games to date and Udonis M. Forster has yet to be beaten. He held the Farnham Glen Athletic Club scoreless while his team-mates were netting three goals and continued his brilliant netminding against West Brome to post a perfect record for one hundred and eighty minutes of play.

The Pirates outplayed their visitors from West Brome during the first half and only the fine defensive work of the backs and goalkeeper Askew kept the home team from scoring more than once. Baker, short-legged outside right and one of the best ball carriers in the circuit, notched the first Cowansville tally and Captain Brown was credited with the second marker on a penalty kick.

Play was confined in centre field during most of the second half as West Brome tried doggedly to avert a shutout. The black and yellow-jerseyed visitors, however, found the local defence too hard to pierce. Cowansville, regaining their stride after playing a defensive game, sailed the decision away with two points in the closing minutes. Brown registered his second counter and "Bishop" Forster netted the fourth Cowansville goal.

Brown, the Forster trio and Baker starred for the winners, while Worden, newly-acquired fullback, turned in a creditable performance for West Brome.

The line-ups follow:
Cowansville: West Brome
M. Forster goal Askew
Lodway l. fullback Matthews
T. Forster r. fullback Worden
Sutherland l. half C. Royce

CHICAGO SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER WITH NEW YORK

Even Break in Twin Bill Kept White Sox in First Division and Dragged Yankees Further Away from League Leading Detroit Tigers.

The Chicago White Sox, early season sensations when they surged to the fore in the American League, had their backs to the wall yesterday when they managed to split a double bill with the New York Yankees and stay in the first division.

There may be some who would charge Jimmy Dykes and his men with blowing up, but those who have watched the situation closely still contend that the White Sox are the marvels of the current campaign. With only mediocre material and beset with injuries and other bad breaks, the White Sox have shown a spirit that has kept them in the fight. That their slipping was no fault of Jimmy Dykes was indicated in the action of Owner Louis Comiskey when he renewed the pilot's contract the other day.

The New Yorkers outpointed the Pale Hose in the first game yesterday by thirteen to ten, but Chicago rallied in the second contest to shade the McCarthy men by four to three. That first tilt went three hours and sixteen minutes, there being as much verbal protestation as baseball.

In the opener the Yanks pounded out eighteen hits of every variety except home runs, while the Sox collected sixteen blows, including Al Simmons' fifteenth circuit clout. Chicago assumed a five-run lead off Pat Malone before New York's heavy artillery went to work and collected four three-run clusters. Sam Jones, Carl Felscher and Whit-Low Wyatt, Ray Radcliff struck the deciding blow in the eighth. With the score tied at two-all Radcliff cracked out his tenth homer with one on in the seventh inning. The Yankees struck back in the ninth, but the rally fell a little short.

The Detroit Tigers strode a little farther away from the trailing Yankees when they swept a double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics by scores of six to five and five to nothing. Wildness on the part of Carl Doyle decided the first fixture despite the fact that the Tigers got only seven hits to the twelve safeties gathered by the Mackmen off Vic Sorrell. "School-boy" Rowe registered his sixteenth victory in the afterpiece, struck out twelve, within one of Merritt Cain's season record, yielded only five hits and issued but one intentional base on balls. The double triumph added a full game to Detroit's lead which now stands at nine and a half games.

The St. Louis Browns, apparently out to regain lost prestige if nothing else, made their consecutive victory string six straight as they defeated the Washington Senators in both ends of a barnburner. The scores were ten to six and eleven to one.

Three St. Louis hurlers were touched for fourteen safeties in the opening game but their team-mates bunched thirteen hits to emerge victorious and then landed on Buck Newson, a former St. Louis player, to capture the nightcap.

The Brooklyn Dodgers ended their seven-game losing streak by turning back the Cincinnati Reds by ten to one in the second game of a twin bill after dropping the curtain-raiser by a count of seven to five. Watson Clark hurled eight-hit ball to win the second tilt after home runs by Ival Goodman and Lew Riggs had led the heavy Cincinnati attack on Van Mungo, ace of the Brooklyn mound staff in the first struggle.

Rain postponed the other three National League games and the Boston-Cleveland fixture in the American League.

TWO EASTERN TOWNSHIPS JUNIORS ELIMINATED

Montreal, August 28.—Eastern Townships hopes of capturing the 1935 Province of Quebec junior men's singles tennis championship today rested on the slim shoulders of Harold Mooney, of Sherbrooke. Mooney advanced to the second round with a bye and was scheduled to play A. Gagnon today. The winner of this second-round match is slated to clash with J. Richer later in the day.

Yesterday's play witnessed the elimination of the other Eastern Townships contenders. A. E. "Buddy" MacKay, of Sutton, reached the third round where he suffered a 6-2, 6-1 defeat at the hands of Robert Pednault, a seeded performer from Quebec City. MacKay had scored a 6-3, 6-4 triumph over P. Archambault earlier in the day.

Johnny Hibbard, of Sherbrooke, extended M. Langlois to three sets before admitting defeat. After dropping the opening set 6-4 Hibbard rallied to square the match by taking the second tilt with the loss of only one game. The deciding battle went twelve games before Langlois earned the right to advance to the fourth round.

NORTH HATLEY RACES PROVED VERY EXCITING

Youthful Skippers and Veteran Sailors Battled with Gale-Like Wind During Thrilling Sail Boat Contests—Several Crafts Came to Grief.

North Hatley, Aug. 28.—A north-easterly wind of gale-like velocity provided North Hatley's amateur sailors with plenty of difficulty during the past week-end's sailing activities on Lake Massawippi. The wind troubled the junior skippers on Saturday and continued undiminished when the veterans staged the annual round-the-lake feature on Sunday.

By McCrea won both heats in the junior skipper class, while the ouvrier for the start of the morning event, young McCrea upset his craft but managed to right the boat in time and got away with the remainder of the field. The ducking apparently afforded McCrea the necessary stimulation to romp across the finish line ahead of Stoddard and Grosvenor.

In the afternoon a strong, gusty, shifting wind gave the youngsters plenty of anxiety, but the second trial was not marred by upsets. The nine boats rounded the second mark within one minute of the leader. McCrea was first around, closely followed by Miss deRosset and Stoddard, and the three leaders maintained their respective positions as they finished.

The weather man furnished plenty of wind for the round-the-lake classic in the inter-lake class. Coming from the northwest over the high hills the wind was very gusty and variable and was more than the boats could comfortably handle.

Seven boats lined up for the start of the first leg from the club dock here to the Government wharf at Ayer's Cliff. Stebbins got the Marlow away to a fine start, but Bradley moved the Moira into the lead in the first quarter-mile. Calamity, however, hit Bradley, a sudden shifting squall upsetting his craft. After righting the capsized boat Bradley joined his rivals at Ayer's Cliff and crewed for Cate on the way home.

Owing to the shifting breezes the boats changed positions frequently. Stebbins was out in front most of the way to Blue Point where Cate forged ahead and maintained the pace-setting berth until his boat partly filled a mile from the finish. Blue finally reached the Government dock first followed by Cate, Meagher and Stebbins.

Following a basket lunch on the Ayer's Cliff dock the run back was made in two legs. In the back-of-the-bay from Ayer's Cliff to the Rugg boathouse on Blue Point, Cate established a sizeable lead which he maintained on the reach to Blueberry and increased on the beat to the Point. Ransom was second, ahead of Meagher, Blue, Grosvenor and Stebbins, while the latter that order. On this leg Grosvenor's forestry was carried away and valuable time was lost in re-rigging.

The last lap—from the Rugg boathouse to the home dock—brought grief to two entries. Grosvenor had more trouble with his forestry and with a foul fouling Blue. Cate's main halyard was carried away and Bradley climbed the mast in an attempt to run a new one through the mast head. His weight, however, at the mast-head capsized the boat. The crew righted the craft and accepted a tow home.

Blue and Meagher staged a battle royal down the home stretch. Blue winning with Meagher in second place and Ransom and Stebbins bringing up the rear.

The standing in the inter-class to date is: Jabberwock, Cate, thirty-seven points; Josephine, Stebbins, thirty-five points; Loretta II, Grosvenor, thirty-one points; Loretta, Blue, twenty-nine points; Moira, Bradley, twenty-seven points; Gar-gary, Dick, twenty-one points; Ceti, Ransom, nineteen points; Marion, Stebbins, thirteen points, and Miss-chief, Cole, eleven points.

The final races in the junior skipper and inter-class schedules will be staged this week-end and will bring to a close one of the most successful sailing seasons experienced in North Hatley.

LAMB CAPTURED CANADIAN OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

Montreal, August 28.—Willie Lamb, of the Lambton Golf Club, Toronto, is back at the top of the Canadian open ladder and for the fifth time since 1923 is the holder of the coveted championship—successor to Jules Huot, of Quebec. Lamb's deadly consistent rounds of 74-71-71-72 brought him in ahead of Bobby Alston, of Chaudiere, who started yesterday's play with a six-stroke lead over the field. The Toronto shotmaker's 72-hole aggregate was 288, while Alston finished with 293.

LOCAL BOY SEEKING BERTH WITH MONTREAL WHEELERS
Howard "Swede" Purdy, middle wing with the Sherbrooke Athletics for the past few seasons, is a candidate for a berth on the Montreal Football Club line this year. Purdy, the third local rugby graduate who has tried to crash the "Big Four" in recent years, turned out to practice with the Wheelers in Montreal last night.

The husky ex-Sherbrooke Athletic was introduced to the Wheelers' coach by a former Sherbrooke team-mate, Stan Perry, who has held down the inside wing assignment for the Montrealers for the past two years.

Also seeking to make the grade with the Foramen was Billie Gordie Titcombe, square-shouldered Lennoxville stalwart who learned his rugby at Bishop's University and played in a Sherbrooke uniform last season. Titcombe is attached to St. Lambert High School teaching staff this year.

MONUMENT TO PERPETUATE LACHINE'S 1689 MASSACRE

Monument Will Stand on Ground Occupied by One of Families Who Were Victims of Carnage Bands of Iroquois Indians.

Lachine, Que., August 28.—To perpetuate a page of Canadian history fraught with terror, the Historic Sites and Monuments' Board of Canada will erect a granite monument here in commemoration of the massacre of hundreds of Lachine Indians during the night of August 4-5, 1689.

Mr. Justice Edouard Fabre Surveyor, Quebec representative on the Board, visited Lachine recently and chose a spot on St. Joseph street, opposite the Convent of the Sisters of Ste. Anne, as the site for the monument. It will stand on ground occupied by one of the families who were victims of the slaughter.

Construction work will start in the fall with the unveiling ceremony expected to take place before winter.

TO DEDICATE BUST OF CHAMPLAIN

Fort Niagara, N.Y., August 28.—A bust of Samuel Champlain, great French explorer, will be dedicated at Old Fort Niagara on October 5.

The bust is a gift to the Old Fort Niagara Association from the Comité France-Amérique of Paris. It will be placed in the powder magazine of the French castle, built when France was struggling with Britain for control in the new world.

COATCOOK ENTRY HOLDS STANSTEAD GROUP LEAD

Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 28.—Coaticook and Ayer's Cliff today are the only two teams definitely assured of play-off berths for the championship of the Stanstead County Amateur Baseball League and the Carpenter Cup. Magog, Beebe and Stanstead are still in the running for the two remaining places in the post-season series with the latter entry tottering on the verge of elimination.

Coaticook finished its twelve-game schedule in first place by travelling to Magog and scoring a nine to one victory over the Textile Town representatives. The triumph gave the present pace-setters a season's record of nine wins and three losses, while the defeat dropped Magog into a third-place tie with Beebe. The co-holders of third position have both won six contests and dropped four to date.

Stanstead kept its play-off hopes alive with a nine to five decision over Rock Island. The best Stanstead can do now is to finish with a 500 average and to achieve this end they must defeat the second-place Ayer's Cliff entry next Saturday. An Ayer's Cliff victory over the College Town contenders would settle the play-off question regardless of the outcomes of Magog vs. Hatley and Beebe vs. Rock Island engagements.

The Stanstead County Amateur Baseball League standing to date is:

	P.	W.	L.	P.C.
Coaticook	12	9	3	750
Ayer's Cliff	11	8	3	727
Magog	10	6	4	600
Beebe	10	6	4	600
Stanstead	11	5	6	454

TWO THOUSAND ONTARIO MEN FIND WORK ON FARMS

Many Districts Still Report Shortage of Help Despite Drive to Purge Single Men from Relief Lists.

Toronto, August 28.—Late reports to the Ontario Department of Labor, announced yesterday, show that more than 2,400 unemployed single men have been placed on farms through the work campaign opened after Premier Hepburn ordered closure of the hostels.

Employment offices in eastern Ontario have reported that men are now being investigated by H. C. Hudson, head of the Ontario division of Employment Service of Canada.

Premier Hepburn stated that it is believed a large number obtained employment without the assistance of the government agencies.

Transients in the White River section, congregated there after being chased off freights, have scattered until the peak number of 400 has dwindled to about 250.

According to the Premier, the majority went to the district in the hope of obtaining work on the trans-Canada highway. The agreement between the Federal and provincial governments, whereby all highway employees must be obtained through the official government administered employment offices, checked them in this attempt and they were left stranded.

Premier Hepburn refused to discuss the government's attitude to these men but it was learned from official sources that arrangements have been made to feed them until they are evacuated.

NEGLECTS FARM CHORES TO DESCRIBE NUDIST COLONY

Will Searies Declares Nudist Who Looked Like Three Hundred Pounds "Was Pretty Terrible."

Long Valley, N.J., Aug. 28.—All this fuss over the nudists who say Will Searies was peeking at them up on Schooley's Mountain is keeping Will Searies from getting his hay in.

That's because Will has been so busy talking to people who drop in on him and ask him where he saw the nudists and what they were like. Will says the one who looked like three hundred pounds was pretty terrible.

Sunday it was so bad Will didn't get the cows milked until after nine o'clock, and all day people came tramping up to his gate and yesterday and today was the same.

Will was to have gone to court yesterday to answer to a disorderly conduct charge made by the nudists, but the charge was dropped and another charge made. This time Will is to go before Magistrate Louis Hyer in Netcong Thursday. The nudists want him to sign a bond to keep the peace.

Will blames it all on the mules to start with, because he wouldn't have noticed the nudists if it hadn't been that Jennie and Buddy got skittish every time they swung around the corner of the meadow where Will was mowing hay. That led him to see the nudists and then he went picking blackberries. It happened that he went to that corner of the field to pick the berries and there were the nudists.

SMALL ONTARIO VILLAGE THREATENED BY OUTBREAK

Eight Persons Rendered Homeless by Fire that Once Threatened to Destroy Business Centre of Plattsville, Ont.

Plattsville, Ont., Aug. 28.—Danger over the seven hundred inhabitants of this village twenty miles northeast of Woodstock breathed easier today as the ruins of six buildings destroyed in a $35,000 fire which at one time threatened the entire business section smouldered in the early morning sun.

Eight occupants of the ruined buildings got out safely but their possessions were a total loss. At one time all three blocks on the main street were in danger. The fire, fanned by a west wind, swept through the frame buildings in centre block. Firemen brought the fire under control before it spread further.

AUSTRALIAN MODERATE LABOR LEADER RESIGNS

Reasons of Health Given by Former Premier James H. Scullin for Retiring from Party Leadership.

Melbourne, Aug. 28.—Former Prime Minister James H. Scullin, leader of the federal Labor party since 1928, resigned that post last night for reasons of health.

Mr. Scullin, heading the moderate faction of the Australian Labor forces, was Prime Minister from 1929 until the accession of the United Australian party in 1931.

F. M. Forde, deputy leader, is expected to succeed him.

Two travellers arrived at the hotel and were shown a rather dingy room.

"What," said one, "does this pig-sty cost?"

Promptly the proprietress replied: "For one pig 30 shillings, for two pigs 50 shillings."

NAZI DEFENCE AT INSTITUTE PROVES SHOCK

German Woman Delivers Impassioned Defence of Hitler Regime at Institute of Social Relations Meeting.

Williamstown, Mass., August 28.—A defence of Nazi Germany, spoken quietly by a woman in the midst of a meeting devoted to the "errors" of Nazism, startled the Institute of Human Relations.

More than five hundred members of the institute, meeting at Williams College under the auspices of the National Conference of Jews and Christians to learn how to improve inter-group relations in the United States, had just heard an editor, a rabbi and a Protestant minister discuss the ramifications of the Hitler regime.

A tall, strongly-built woman rose from the audience and asked Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War under President Wilson and chairman of the meeting, permission to speak. Baker granted her five minutes, the same as any other speaker from the floor. She said she was Frau Schirmacher-Oncken of Berne, Switzerland, widow of a German and mother of a young Nazi.

"The truth of the matter is Germans prefer inside slavery from a Government that is willing to rescue them from outside slavery of the entire. The latter was not more bearable," Frau Schirmacher-Oncken said.

"America passed 160 years ago and seventy years ago the same experience. American people revolted against the suppression of England in 1776 and made order in their inner affairs in 1895. Just the same thing now happen in Germany."

Whispered exclamations of disagreement interrupted the quiet interest of her audience, however, when she asserted that Jews could blame some of the anti-Jewish discrimination in Germany on themselves because Jews "were not in their own homes in Germany," and in pre-Hitler days "didn't hold themselves in the background."

She criticized Protestants and Catholics, too.

"I lived thirty years in Germany," she said. "I know that most of the Protestant ministers preached there a bourgeois Christianity, imagining themselves to be men of property in the religious sphere and helping nobody to accept the salvation of Jesus Christ, having never experienced salvation themselves. And Catholics used their power upon Catholic German souls to make politics and to use in selfish aims the Catholic Centre Party."

YOUNG CANADIANS CHOSEN FOR AIR FORCE TRAINING

Canada's Future Airmen Are Excellent Cross-Section of Healthy, Vigorous and Intelligent Youth.

Ottawa, August 28.—Early next month between seventy and eighty young Canadians will be taken into the Royal Canadian Air Force. From a "waiting list" of nearly 6,000 youthful flying enthusiasts the Defence Department has selected this number to begin their three years' course.

The training is largely occupied with mathematics and mechanics. After three years Air Force men emerge well qualified to enter civil professions requiring knowledge of these sciences, said one officer.
