PRICE TWO CENTS

CONFIDENT THAT THE STRIKE OF LONGSHOREMEN WHICH HAS VIRTUALLY PARALYZED THE NEW YORK HARBOR, WILL VERY SHORTLY BE SETTLED

Officials of the International Longshoremen's Union are Again Today in Control of the Thirty Thousand Workers—Leaders, Were Unable to Induce Men to Return to Work. Mass Meeting Held Last Night and the Placing of Men on All Such Freight Consigned to New York City.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Again in control, at least partially, of the more than thirty thousand longshoremen who struck without sanction of their national organization, officials of the International Longshoremen's Union today began efforts to bring about a settlement of the strike which has virtually paralyzed New York harbor. Ascendancy over all agitators, who, it is charged, caused the strike, was gained last night at a meeting of strikers, when a proposal to place their case in the hands of the officials was adopted. The leaders present, however, were unable to induce the strikers to return to work pending negotiations and the inactivity at the various piers which has resulted in a great congestion of trans-Atlantic freight and the placing of an embargo on all such freight consigned to New York, prevailed again today.

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE STATES GOVERNMENT IS NOT ABLE TO FRAME ITS POLICIES ON THE LINES OF THE MINERS' SUGGESTIONS

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Oct. 10.—Premier Lloyd George, answering demands made by British miners at yesterday's conference, admitted that many advantages could be secured from joint control of mines by capital and labor, but declared the Government was unable to frame its policies on the lines of the miners' suggestion.

The Premier spoke for one hour and made it clear the Government was not prepared to accept the recommendation of the Coal Commission, headed by Sir John Sankey, to acquire and run the mines as state property. He expressed the hope that the Miners' Federation and the Trade Union movement as a whole would co-operate to obtain the largest possible measure of agreement for the Government's scheme as already outlined by himself in the House of Commons, according to unofficial reports.

Mr. Lloyd George conceded that the demand for nationalization had been a plank in the labor platform for years, and that the deputation which called upon him yesterday was acting, not from any selfish interest, but with a desire to benefit society as a whole. The Government, however, felt, he said, that nationalization was not a step which was in the interest of the state.

At the close of the conference the deputation promised to report its results to members of the various unions on October 22, and that subsequent action would be left to the Parliamentary committee which was appointed at the Trades Union Congress recently held in Glasgow.

It is understood that, in the view of the deputation, the Premier's statement was most unsatisfactory, one delegate characterizing it as "positively disheartening."

An official statement was issued late yesterday that Mr. Lloyd George had agreed to the deputation's request for payment of wages to miners made idle by the railway strike, instead of giving them an unemployment allowance.

A feature of the addresses made by members of the deputation to Mr. Lloyd George was, according to unofficial reports, a complete absence of bluster or violent language. Their statements were intended to show by reasoned arguments that nationalization of the mines was entirely in the interests of the community, and also that the miners were supported in their demands by the whole body of trade unionists throughout the country. From quoted statements of prominent labor leaders, it is apparent they not only believe nationalization desirable, but are convinced there will be a constant unrest in the labor world until it is granted. It appears to be their impression that if extreme action is necessary to enforce the demand it will not only be the miners who will strike, but trade unionists generally.

It is becoming increasingly evident that, apart from arguments claiming that nationalization would be a benefit to the community, there is a strong feeling among workers that the present system of private ownership carries with it indefensible injustice to the miners. This feeling clearly rankles in the minds of workers. It is not concealed, moreover, that the present agitation, if it secures its immediate aim, will not stop at mines.

"The nationalization of mines," says the Herald, labor organ, "is the question immediately at issue, but is, of course, a precursor to a complete policy of nationalization of industry. Here is the battle joined."

On neither side is there any doubt that the fighting will be stern. "The possessing class, the class which lives on labor of others, has everything at stake and will shrink from nothing in an attempt to frustrate the movement."

Representing the anti-nationalization view, the Telegraph does not expect the miners to be converted from their present opinion, although it sees some little hope in the appeal to other trade unionists. It adds: "The prospect is the reverse of attractive. It means renewed trouble, anxiety and unrest, and that at a time when the nation can least afford it."

GERMAN TROOPS ARE MARCHING ON RIGA

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Germans are marching on Riga, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail from its Helsingfors, Finland, correspondent dated Thursday.

GOVERNMENT'S MOVE RE IRELAND INTERESTS MANY

Some Officials Declare that Movement Now is Virtually Confined to Westminster.

(Associated Press Despatch)

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Political circles here are awaiting with interest, but it is said without much hope, the reported renewed attempt by the British Government to accomplish a settlement of the Irish question at the forthcoming session of Parliament. That movement now is virtually confined to Westminster, as, according to high Irish authorities, the various sections all have had their say.

Persons in authority declared that the Government idea is that although no plan it could propose would be acceptable to Ireland, yet a programme is possible, and workable, which would throw upon the Irishmen themselves the responsibility for an Irish Government and relieve the British ministers of the task.

CLAIM BRITAIN IS TRAVELLING "ROAD TO RUIN"

Drifting on Without Evidence of Real Reform in the Government's Wasteful Extravagance, Says Daily Mail.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Forecasting another loan to replace the nation's floating debt, the financial editor of the Daily Mail declares it is the opinion of business men that Great Britain is still travelling "the road to ruin" and drifting on without evidence of real reform in "the Government's wasteful extravagance."

Notwithstanding warnings from J. Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and others, relative to the danger of the situation, national expenditures, the writer points out, during the three months of July, August and September actually exceeded those of the previous quarter, and the Government was continually forced to borrow money. He cites an instance in which the Government was obliged to raise £30,000,000 by overdraft on the Bank of England last week to meet interest on the war debt and pay off exchequer bonds.

The writer asks "whether the Government intends to follow the same method in repaying £200,000 more of exchequer bonds falling due in the next eight months, and urges greater economy to enable the revenue to cover expenditures. He says if the public is conscious that this is being done, "the result of a real clearing up loan will be very different from the meagre response to the recent Victory Loan drive."

KING EXPECTED TO SIGN PEACE TREATY TODAY

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The "King's copy" of the German peace treaty will probably be signed by King George today, and forwarded to Paris, it was learned today by the Associated Press. It is expected that the signing by the King will be followed by his peace proclamation, which would complete Great Britain's ratification of the peace treaty.

The instrument to be signed by King George is printed on vellum and is beautifully bound in leather decorated in gold. For the first time in Great Britain's history, water seals will be used instead of the ponderous hanging seals attached to former treaties. The document will be tied with ribbons in the colors of the various royal orders, such as the Order of the Garter and the Order of the Bath.

FOUR FRENCH SOLDIERS WOUNDED IN RIOT

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Oct. 10.—A French major and three soldiers were wounded in a riot at Sarrebruck in occupied Germany, on Tuesday, according to a despatch today to the Petit Parisien. The riot is described as having grown out of labor demonstrations against the high cost of living, in which Spartacists joined.

CANADA'S MONEY BALANCE SHEET DISAPPOINTING

During Past Month the Net Debt of Canada Was Increased By Nearly $65,000,000.

(Associated Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 10.—A disappointing situation in regard to the Dominion finances is revealed in the monthly balance sheet of the Finance Department. During last month, the net debt of the Dominion increased by nearly $65,000,000, as compared with an increase of a little under $28,000,000 for the month of September last year. The net debt now stands at $1,750,000,000. Before the war the net debt was $336,000,000. As compared with September, 1912, ordinary revenue shows an increase of four millions. It totals for the month $26,693,000, about a million and a half more than the ordinary expenditure. In September, 1918, ordinary revenue was $22,682,881, but ordinary expenditure was $9,446,000. Pensions and interest on loans are included in ordinary expenditure.

Revenue from customs and excise for the month both show an increase in comparison with last year. In September, 1918, the customs revenue was $10,848,000; last month it was $13,238,000. In September, 1918, excise revenue was $2,655,000; last month it was $3,523,000. Revenue from direct taxes—business profits and income—increased, in comparison with September last year, about $250,000.

Expenditure on capital account, exclusive of war, last month was $4,152,000. In September, 1918, it was $2,007,005.

FEATS OF AIRMEN IN BIG RACE ARE HIGHLY PRAISED

Enthusiastic Aviation Officials See End of Transportation Difficulties in Few Years.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Aviation enthusiasts at the American Flying Club here last night were loud in their praise of the feats accomplished by Lieut. Maynard and Captain Lowell H. Smith, who met at North Platte, Nebraska, on their way west and east. Some of them saw the end of all transportation difficulties within a few years. Chance M. Vought, chairman of the Contest Commission of the Club, said Lieut. Maynard's arrival in Cheyenne, Wyoming, 1,896 miles away from the point he started on Wednesday morning flying only in daylight, and with compulsory stops at official stations en route, and Captain Smith's performance, coming east, admirably demonstrate the purpose of the contest.

Neither leading pilot has experienced any mechanical trouble, flying through snowstorms, rain, and wind, and over mountains, lakes and extensive forest. These remarkable performances disclose the tremendous possibilities of aerial development and travel in the next two years. The emphasis is placed on the great prerogative of the airplane in the economy of straight line.

FIVE MEN SENTENCED TO PAY DEATH PENALTY

Date of Execution Has Been Set for January 14th.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PETERBORO, ONT., Oct. 10.—At last night's sitting of the Assizes here, Chief Justice Sir William Mullock imposed the death sentence on Thomas Konek, Michael Bahri, Samuel Zalinski, Alexander Martynuk and Philip Rotensky. The date of execution was set for January 14th next. Each of the five men was convicted of the murder of Philip Yanooff, who in June last was shot to death while sleeping in a bunk house on the property of the Ontario Rock Company, near Havelock. Robbery was the object of the crime. A recommendation for mercy was added in each case.

Big Plane Was Forced To Land At Greenport Last Night Owing To A Shortage Of Gasoline

The "Atlantic" Encountered Strong Head Winds During Entire Trip, Which Used Up the Fuel Supply Expected to Carry Her to Mineola With Ease, and Was Forced to Land Ninety-five Miles from New York—Made a Perfect Landing in Field—Residents Were Aroused By Roar of Motors as Giant Plane Swooped Low Over the Village.

(Associated Press Despatch)

GREENPORT, N.Y., Oct. 10.—The Handley-Page plane flying from Parrsboro, N.S., to Mineola, N.Y., was forced to land here shortly after 11 o'clock last evening because of a shortage of gasoline. The machine made a perfect landing. The "Atlantic" landed in a field on a farm about a mile north of this village. The roar of the motors as the giant plane swooped low over the village aroused many of the inhabitants from bed. Chief of Police Howard, leaping into an automobile, gave chase when the plane nosed down to its landing field. Following the chief was a host of visitors, so that the aerial travellers did not lack a reception committee, despite their changed plans.

Major H. Brackley, of the Royal Air Force, who piloted the big machine, when he determined that it would be necessary to land, circled around to pick out an available field. To the unpracticed eyes of the passengers on board, forest and field look alike, but the major, with no lights to guide him, glided down skilfully into a field as perfect for aviation purposes as if a committee of experts had spent weeks in selecting it. After gasoline had been obtained the machine will "take off" headed for Mineola.

The field where the plane now rests is 95 miles from New York and is on the tip end of Long Island. The "Atlantic" encountered strong head winds during the entire trip, which used up the fuel supply expected to carry her to Mineola with ease.

The passengers were enthusiastic about the trip, saying that it was perfect in every respect, despite the battle with the winds, which delayed them long beyond the hour they expected to arrive. Great interest was shown by the passengers while Major Brackley was making the landing, and it was declared that not one felt a trace of nervousness. Aside from running out of gasoline, the ship functioned perfectly. Not the slightest mechanical difficulty was experienced from the time she rose from the field at Parrsboro until she landed here.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS OBSERVED BY LOCAL COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Codling, of East Sherbrooke, Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage.

The completion of fifty years of married life—their golden wedding—was the event celebrated recently by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Codling, of East Sherbrooke, when a number of friends gathered at their home to offer their congratulations.

The marriage took place in October of 1869, in the Stroud Church, Kent, England, not long before Mr. and Mrs. Codling came to Canada. Miss Codling was then Miss Jennie Drew, and both were from Kent.

Mr. Codling served many years in the Royal Marine Light Infantry, being one of only fifteen survivors from H.M.S. "Captain" when that ill-fated vessel—the first of the turret ships—turned turtle in the Bay of Biscay, and her captain, officers and crew, together with her designer, Mr. Cowper-Coles, and seven hundred men nearly all met their death. In 1875 he narrowly escaped death when H.M.S. "Iron Duke" collided with and sunk H.M.S. "Vanguard."

INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—After an hour's recess today the National Industrial Conference decided to adjourn until Tuesday. Meantime the general committee of fifteen will consider the proposals presented by the three groups—capital, labor and the public.

LETTISH TROOPS ARE ATTACKED BY GERMANS

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Oct. 10.—(Havas)—German troops attacked Lettish forces on October 8, according to a protest received by the Peace Conference from the Lettish Government. The Allies are asked to take decisive action against this "violation of the peace treaty", and to compel Germany to comply with the terms of the Versailles pact. It is claimed German troops in Latvia are "threatening the world and uniting with pro-German Russians." The Lettish Government declares it will defend its province.

PARLIAMENT ABANDONS ALL HOPE OF COMPLETING ITS PROGRAMME OF WORK DURING PRESENT WEEK

House Will Adjourn Today Over Thanksgiving—Prohibition Bills Were Not Taken Up Yesterday, But it is Understood that Legislation Will Be Gone on With—Several Other Important Matters.

OTTAWA, October 10.—Parliament has abandoned all idea of finishing business this week, and the session will run well through next week also. Yesterday it was decided to adjourn on Friday until over Thanksgiving day, and to proceed with business on Tuesday next. By that time the special committee which is dealing with soldiers' problems may be ready to bring down its report. A statement as to the Government's proposals in regard to railway legislation is promised for this afternoon.

The prohibition bills were not proceeded with yesterday, although it is understood that the net result of the long-drawn-out conference on the matter this morning was that the legislation will be gone on with. Ministerial explanations in regard to the bills in caucus, it is said, went a long way in the direction of smoothing out opposition on the part of the Government's supporters.

The afternoon sitting was devoted to consideration of the bill under which the operations of the Grain Board will be continued after the proclamation of peace.

Mr. D. D. McKenzie was disposed to think the method of handling the Canadian wheat crop adopted by the Government was absurd, while J. A. Robb complained that the price of wheat was lower in Canada than the United States, because of the Wheat Board's control.

Sir George Foster vigorously defended the plan adopted, and it was likewise approved by Hon. T. A. Crerar, former Minister of Agriculture. Sir George told the House that approximately fifty per cent. of the surplus wheat crop had been disposed of by the Grain Board. He would not undertake to state the ultimate price the farmers would receive, because the sale of the remainder of the surplus would spread over several months and prices might vary considerably.

On the second reading of the bill to permit the temporary manufacture, importation and sale of oleomargarine, Donald Sutherland, J. H. Sinclair and other members renewed their objections, but oleomargarine found a friend in Dr. Michael Clark, who defended it as a food and as a free trader favored its importation.

Finally Mr. Frank Glass, Middlesex, moved the six months' hoist, and after some further discussion this was declared lost without a division.

LEGISLATION IMPORTANT.
In reply to a question by Mr. McKenzie, Sir George Foster said he did not think it would be possible for Parliament to prorogue this week. There was an important committee sitting which would not be able to present its report as soon as was expected. As a result, he thought it better for the House to inform its duties on Thanksgiving Day and to devote itself to giving thanks. He appealed to the whips of both parties to arrange to have as large an attendance as possible for the important legislation which was to come up.

Mr. McKenzie asked if Sir George meant to intimate that legislation was coming up which had not yet been introduced.

Sir George Foster—"I have no announcement to make with reference to that, but an announcement will probably be made tomorrow as to what is to come down."

Mr. Archambault asked if the Government was aware that while

AMERICAN SOLDIER SHOT AND KILLED BY RUSSIAN OFFICER AT VLADIVOSTOK

(Associated Press Despatch.)
OMSK, Oct. 10.—An American soldier in Vladivostok was shot and killed recently by a Russian officer, it has been learned here. This and other incidents led to a demand from the Allied commanders at Vladivostok for the removal of the Russian troops from that city. A vigorous protest by the Omsk Government, however, led to the withdrawal of the demand.

the military service act was in force before the armistice, one thousand bogus passports were issued by the Russian consul-general in Montreal. In reply to Mr. Campbell, the minister of railways said that 425,000 ties were taken from the Hudson Bay Railway during the year 1917 and 1918, and turned over to the Canadian National Railways.

CLOSING OF WINNIPEG MARKET.

On second reading of the bill respecting the Canadian Wheat Board, Sir George Foster took occasion to reply to some criticisms which had been made of the Government's action in closing the Winnipeg grain market. The Winnipeg market, said Sir George, had been opened under the impression that it might be possible to sell this year's crop in a normal manner and without Government control. Had conditions been known, it would not have been opened at all. The Government, said Sir George, had not been anxious to undertake any controlled system of marketing the Canadian crops. It had hoped that now the war was over, shuckles might be removed and trade in wheat be allowed to resume its normal course. However, it developed that under normal methods it would be impossible to find a ready sale for Canadian wheat. To begin with, there was a lack of speedy decision on the part of European powers as to what amount of wheat they required. They were not sure what their own production would be.

There was also the question of financing. Credits had to be arranged between the Canadian Government and European powers before they could contract for wheat. For these and other reasons it was considered advisable to revert to the system of Government control in marketing the crop.

THE WEATHER

LOCAL SHOWERS; TURNING COOLER.

The disturbance which was over Minnesota yesterday has moved to Northern Ontario with diminishing intensity. Showers have occurred in Ontario, Quebec and the Bay of Fundy district, while in the Western Province the weather has been cold.

Fresh southwest winds with local showers or thunderstorms; Saturday, westerly winds and turning cooler.

Miss Kathleen O'Malley, of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end at the home of her parents recently.

Mr. Roy Lafontaine spent Sunday with Mr. Wm. Patterson, East Bolton.

Mr. George Chamberlain, of Richmond, spent the week-end at the home of his father, Mr. Aaron Chamberlain, and Mrs. Mamie Boynton, of Sherbrooke, was also a week-end guest at the same home.

Mrs. Annie Minor and daughter Marion, and Mrs. Leslie Call and son Wendell visited at "Hillcrest Farm" one day last week.

The community was much shocked and saddened on Saturday last to hear of the death by drowning of Mr. Stanley Sheldon, of Fitch Bay, at the lake near the "Hermitage Club." The late Stanley Sheldon was a brother of Mr. Ralph Sheldon, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bachelder, of Griffin, visited at the home of their brother, Mr. Harlow Bachelder, on Wednesday of last week.

HILLHURST.

Mrs. W. G. Snow and Miss Eleanor Pocock visited in Quebec over the week-end, returning on Monday evening.

Mrs. N. Robertson has returned to Bath, Me., having spent some time here with her mother, Mrs. Nish, at the home of Mr. W. Birch.

Mr. George Heath, of Richmond, was here on Tuesday, stopping over at Capelton with Mr. B. S. Ingham, to attend the ploughing match held there on Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. A. Teele visited friends here on Thursday.

Mrs. G. L. Pocock will entertain the Ladies' Aid on Tuesday next, October 14.

MARBLETON

The following is copied from a Boston paper relating to the death and burial of the late Miss George L. Bishop, whose death occurred on the thirtieth of September.

"George L. Bishop who passed away last Saturday, was born in the Province of Quebec, Canada, and spent her early years in Constable, New York State, where she received her education."

Later she attended a private commercial school in Springfield, Mass., and after graduation entered the employ of the New England Plumbing Supply Company. Here she gained a reputation for faithful efficiency which resulted in her being transferred to an important position in the Cambridge Office, where she remained until she felt the need of change and rest."

She passed from this life on September 10th, at the Homeopathic Hospital, Boston, Mass., following an operation."

Miss Bishop was an official member of Harvard Street Methodist Church, constant in attendance and helpful in all departments. She will be greatly missed. The funeral service was held at Litchfield's Undertaking Rooms in charge of Rev. Dr. E. A. Elliott. Interment was at her residence home in Constable, New York. She is survived by two sisters, Miss Alice Bishop, of Cambridge, and Mrs. Nellie Griffin, of Roxbury, and a half-brother, Mr. Perry Bishop, of Constable, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Bishop, uncle and aunt, Mr. H. G. Bishop, uncle, Mr. Edward Jenkinson, Mrs. K. A. Willard cousins and many others."

BROOKBURY

On Friday evening, September 27, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bennett entertained at a reception at their home in honor of their son Carroll and his bride. The young couple, with their parents, received the guests in an archway of evergreens and flowers. A very pleasant evening was spent. Luncheon was served during the evening by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Harold Webster, the Misses Doris, Lucie and Gertrude Card, House and Grace Bennett. On dispersing, good wishes were extended.

The annual harvest thanksgiving service was held in St. John's Church on Sunday last at 3 o'clock, the Rev. C. T. Lewis preaching a sermon of interest and help. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables, and festoons of autumn foliage. The service was largely due to the Turner family for the adornment. The organ was played by Miss B. E. Turner, who is at present supplying the place of organist.

Thanksgiving service was also held in the Methodist Church here by the pastor, Rev. M. Brundage. The pulpit and surroundings were prettily adorned with fruit, flowers, vegetables and autumn leaves. The music was under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Bennett, the organist.

On Monday evening a party was given in honor of Mr. Conrad Leonard's twenty-second birthday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Leonard, of "Brookdale."

The Brookbury Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. D. E. Bennett on October 3. The report of the sale and supper was given, the net proceeds being $55, and it was pleasing to find there would be funds to clear the debt on the church hall, and it is hoped that the debt for lumber, etc., will soon be met. The next Ladies' Aid meeting will be entertained by Mrs. Carroll Bennett, on October 22, at their regular meeting.

Much sympathy goes out to Mrs. A. B. Bailey in the sudden death of her brother, Guy C. Tite, of Edmonton, Alta., whose death was caused by a fall from a house on which he was working. The deceased was 34 years of age last May, and was the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Tite, of this place, and was born and brought up in Brookbury. He

NATIONAL DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO. OF CANADA, LIMITED.

The Road to Health is Smooth and Clear If You Use Nujol

THE real Road to Health is an intestinal highway 30 feet long. When Constipation clogs this road, it's the same as when a landslide blocks a mountain pass. There is a difference, however. Constipation not only blocks the way, but breeds poisons which menace health.

The obstruction in the mountain pass can be blown out with dynamite, and the obstruction in the intestines CAN be blown out with powerful drugs—but any drug powerful enough to do this is bound to harm the body.

There is only one way to relieve Constipation without in the least measure endangering the delicate mechanism of the human system.

That is the NUJOL way.

NUJOL is absolutely harmless. It is NOT a drug. Not a particle of it is assimilated by the body. All it does is to soften the mass impacted in the colon and lubricate the way to normal expulsion.

NUJOL does this without causing any pain or discomfort. It does not in any way interfere with the digestive processes. It has no more effect on the delicate membranes and tissues than to smooth and soothe them.

It is a healing force which gently but effectively removes the intestinal obstruction, and performs this great service to health without in any way lessening Nature's provisions for protection.

Its sole province is to help Nature help herself.

Nearly everyone is subject to Constipation at some time or other. Nearly everyone has proved the worthlessness of ordinary "remedies" as to lasting results. Now try Nujol—and learn that there is a lasting relief for this curse.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) 50 B'way, N. Y.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All other imitations are inferior.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery! Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

FREE TRIAL. Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 10c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

PURITY - QUALITY - ECONOMY

With the increased cost of labor and materials due to war conditions, it is not reasonable to suppose that a really first class baking powder can be made and sold at the old prices. Rather than sacrifice the quality of

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

we found it necessary to make slight increases in price during the war period. Even though Magic Baking Powder may cost a few cents more than the ordinary kinds it is still by far the most economical baking powder on the market to-day when purity, strength and leavening qualities are taken into consideration.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS

WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer, or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the Bismarck form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

REAL VALUE

is based, not on the price paid for a commodity, but on the benefit derived. That is why Zam-Buk is the cheapest skin healer on the market—because the benefit derived is 95% greater than can be got from ordinary ointments. This is due to the fact that Zam-Buk is all medicine—100%. Ordinary ointments are 5% medicine and the balance animal fat.

The superiority of Zam-Buk is proved by the many cases of chronic skin trouble and old sores which yield to the power of Zam-Buk after all other treatments have failed.

The unusual power of penetration which Zam-Buk possesses enables it to reach the underlying tissue, where skin troubles have their "root." Then the germicidal properties in Zam-Buk destroy all germs. Until this is done healing can never be thorough. The reason why sores that have been treated with ordinary ointments break out again is because the remedy has never got to the seat of the trouble, but has only healed over the outer skin. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, uproots skin disease, and the cure is complete and permanent.

Zam-Buk should always be used for eczema, ringworm, scald sores, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, blood-poisoning, itchy, piles, cuts, burns and scalds. All dealers for Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, $ for $1.25.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from the other ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, as you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parnit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parnit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

FOSTER

The death of Mr. Fred Blunt, of West Bolton, which occurred at his home on Tuesday morning, has cast a gloom over this community, he being one of West Bolton's most highly respected citizens and most favorably known here.

Much interest is being taken in two weddings in which two of our most promising young men figure. The marriage of Mr. Sidney Taylor to Miss Winifred Shutter, of England, will take place on Monday (Thanksgiving Day) at 3 o'clock in St. Paul's Church, Knowlton, and will be of a military nature. Mr. Taylor has recently bought a farm here, where he and his bride will reside. Mr. Ivan E. Williams and Miss Gladys Ellen Pierson, of Bolton Pass, are to be married on October 22 in St. Paul's Church at Knowlton.

Mr. Merrill Knowlton, who recently came here from Clear Lake, S.D., is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank Hooper, very ill with typhoid fever. His sister, Nurse Katie Knowlton, is caring for him.

Thanksgiving service in the Creek Church on Sunday next at 10:30. Rev. F. W. Boyd, of Magog, will be the speaker. Rev. A. J. Ward gave for the occasion on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKelvey, of Boston, are stopping at Mr. John Dixon's and visiting friends in this section.

Mr. Albert Young was in West Bedford on Wednesday attending the funeral of her uncle, the late Henry Jones.

Mr. Lionel Allen, of Granby, spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Allen.

Miss Mildred Phelps left on Monday for Granby, where she has a position in the office of the Southern Power Co.

Mr. Clair McLaughlin is home from Macdonald College for the holidays, also Mr. Gordon Phelps from Lennoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Molyneux and son, of Sherbrooke, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown.

Mr. I. J. Kendall, of Boscobel, has purchased what is known as the "Island." There are two dwellings on it. He takes immediate possession.

Mr. W. Rothwell Beers has purchased a farm in Melbourn Ridge. He is moving this week. During the two years of Mr. and Mrs. Beers' and Mr. William Beers' residence here they have made a host of friends, who remain very much their removal. All wish them every success in their new home.

Miss Beckwith is rapidly convalescing after an illness of two weeks. Miss Beckwith is stenographer in the Bedford Manufacturing office.

The engagement is announced of Andr e de Varennes, daughter of the late Hon. Ernest de Varennes and Mrs. de Varennes, to General Garneau, son of the late Hon. Edouard Garneau and Mrs. Garneau, of Quebec.

Mr. Wallace Scott has rented a house in Farnham, and expects to move there in a short time. Mr. Scott has a position on the C.P.R., and finds it more convenient to reside in Farnham.

BONDVILLE

The Ladies' Guild will hold a social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hunter's, "Inverness Farm," on Saturday evening, October 11.

The annual Harvest Thanksgiving Service will be held in the Church of the Good Shepherd, on Sunday next, at 10:30 a.m.

Mr. W. M. Hillhouse and family, of Sherbrooke, spent the week end at their cottage here, on the lakeshore.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wet's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

FORMAL OPENING OF AYER'S CLIFF ACADEMY HELD

An Interesting Programme Was Presented—Large Number of Parents Present.

AYER'S CLIFF, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—The formal opening of the Ayer's Cliff Academy was held on Tuesday evening, and to every one's joy the evening was fine, without the torments of rain which have nearly always accompanied the occasion during the past. The hall was filled with parents and friends when the opening march was played shortly after eight o'clock. The pupils marching in sang a chorus, "Mighty Britain."

The Rev. Churchill Moore presided and made a few remarks, then called upon the Principal, Miss Marjorie Ashe, B.A., who extended to all a hearty welcome and expressed the wish that all would enjoy the evening's entertainment. She expressed her thanks for the hearty welcome she had received on her arrival and for the assistance of the School Commissioners. Miss Ashe's report was as follows:

"In my report for this year, I have great pleasure in stating that we have a very good attendance. In the whole school we have seventy-seven enrolled, twenty-three of whom are in my own room. Six of these are preparing for the Matriculation examination for McGill. In Grade X, there are five, three of whom are taking Latin with full intention of continuing through Grade XI.

"In Grade IX, there are twelve pupils. One thing I deeply regret is that out of this large class not one pupil is taking Latin. I feel the parents should be appealed to the schools at this age do not realize the great importance of this subject.

"Miss Woodman the Model teacher takes Grades VI, VII, VIII and has at present an unusually large attendance.

"Miss Converse, the Elementary teacher, has a very large class of beginners, several under the age of seven. It is impossible where the attendance is so large to give individual attention, and the most pressing needs of the High School at present is more teachers. We trust the Commissioners will find it in their power to grant this school one soon.

"Physical drill is given every Friday. We hope to accomplish more in this needed course when we have some gymnastic apparatus.

"I wish to thank all those who have so kindly contributed prizes for last year, as prizes always afford keen competition. I would be pleased if the list was made as large this year or added to in any subject."

Following the principal's report was a dialogue entitled "Practical Joker," by Lyle Thompson, Iris Daniels and Daisy Scribner, and Marjorie Ashe, Dorothy Fish, Iris Daniels and Helen Robinson sang in motion "Blowing Bubbles."

The chairman then introduced Professor Boothroyd, of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, who gave a most interesting address entitled by humor. His most serious remarks, brightened by wit, were enjoyed by all. He spoke on "What is the School Going to do for our Boys and Girls and Community."

It is a serious topic fitting children for life, he said, "People in general divide life into three parts—work, play and sleep, and most speakers ignore the third part, 'sleep,' and speak of work as being the most important." Professor Boothroyd claimed play was the most important, as play time fits us for work.

In looking back through the year, which part do we remember the quickest? It is the holiday time. The best preparation for work is play. Too many people have the idea that the business of life is making money. They spend their years with that end in view and find they do not know how to enjoy the things the money can buy. You can train yourselves to enjoy reading a book. Reading is one of the greatest sources of happiness in the world. You can sit comfortably in your arm chair and travel the wide world over. No carfare, no discomfort, just pure enjoyment. Train your imagination and make play of your work. Imagination will work wonders in the plainest task if given a chance. In studying the dryest lesson, pictures can be brought before the mind's eye that make them like a story book," said Professor Boothroyd.

A chorus by the boys, "Heroes of the Flag," followed. A collection for the Library was taken. Juliette and Amery Volsaid then sang a duet; Marjorie Woodard played a piano solo, and then Dr. C. L. Brown, chairman of the School Board, was called on for a few remarks in which he urged parents to assist the teachers, and for pupils not to feel they could finish with the tenth grade. "The eleventh grade always helps whatever you decide to enter into in after life," he said.

A Hawaiian Scene was enacted by ten girls in costume, singing several popular choruses. The girls pupils sang a chorus, "Have a Smile." After the closing chorus, "Ring Out Sweet Bells," the National Anthem was sung and the pupils marched out.

PUBLIC PARK IS PRESENTED TO NORTH HATLEY

Three Well Known People Purchased Land and Donated it to Village—General News.

NORTH HATLEY, Oct. 10.—(Special.)—Mr. Jean B. LeBaron, Mrs. H. A. McCrae and Mrs. H. L. Call have purchased the land, which for several years has been used as a park in this village, and which is ideally situated for that purpose, and have presented it to the town. This gift is much appreciated by the townspeople, and will be much enjoyed in future years, as it has in the past.

General Notes.

The local Boy Scouts recently completed a very good "stunt," considering their short training. They delivered a message a short distance of one and three-quarter miles in exactly five minutes.

The North Hatley Boy Scouts have received a special invitation from District Scout Master Dennis to attend the welcome for the Prince of Wales in Sherbrooke on October 29.

Miss Grace Perry, of Montreal, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her mother, Mrs. Dora Perry.

Miss Bernice Cowan, principal of the High School, is attending the teachers' convention in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Oliver, who recently sold their home at Lennoxville, have been staying at Mr. E. J. Oliver's.

Mrs. B. A. Oliver and daughter Frances have been spending a week with Mrs. Oliver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McCoy, at Barnston.

Mrs. D. Johnston returned on Thursday from Adrian, Mich., where she spent the summer with her sister.

Miss Dorothy Demery, of Coaticook, is a guest of Mrs. C. Ernest Parker.

The Snagproof, Ltd., are shortly to start the manufacture of overalls here, in the North Hatley Mfg. Co. They intend to employ about fifteen hands to start with.

THREE VILLAGES

Mr. Maxime Maloux has purchased this week the former Tilton farm, lately owned by Mrs. Emma Curtis, near Crystal Lake. It is understood that Mrs. Curtis intends moving to Orleans, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Saunders and daughter, of Huntingdon, Que., are spending a few days at their former home at Rock Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrell, formerly of this place, and now of Bedford, Vt., are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Miss S. Brouillette, of Newport, is a guest of Mrs. John Whybrow for a few days.

Thirty-five young people from Derby Line, Rock Island, Granville and Newport gathered at the home of Mrs. Henry Hartley, of Beach avenue, Derby Line, on Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Hartley's birthday.

A most enjoyable time was spent with music, games, dancing and refreshments as the chief features of the evening. Mrs. Hartley was presented with a fine and complete dinner set as a collective present from the assembled guests, and also a beautiful Waltham watch from her husband.

Academy was one of $5.00 from Mrs. Isabella Giddon an aged lady who takes a keen interest in all affairs. This prize, which was given for improvement in manners and work and best all round boy, was won by Reginald, grandson of Mrs. Peter Colt of this place.

Miss Ashe and Miss Woodman are attending the Convention in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Farrington, of Windsor Locks, Conn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lanford Emery.

Mrs. G. U. Thompson and children are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McVeigh.

M. F. J. Wilkinson is holding a large auction on Saturday next. Considerable interest is being shown in the sale of eleven fine building lots on Sanborn Street, the new street just opened through his property joining School Street.

About fifty guests were entertained by Mrs. Lucy Berry and Mrs. A. P. Duestin, on Tuesday afternoon, at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid. The proceeds totalled $7.50.

Mrs. M. Clarke, of Providence, R. I., has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Clifford.

Miss Flora Paul is home from North Hatley confined to the house by illness.

New books added to the Library in the Post Office are: "The Star in the Window," Olive H. Prouty; "The Short Cut," Jackson Gregory; "The Man Next Door," Emerson Hough; "The Land of Strong Men," A. M. Chisholm; "The Rider in Khaki," Nat Gould.

Service in St. George's Church on Sunday next at three o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Vial, of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, will conduct the service.

The Guild will meet with Mrs. A. E. Hurd on Thursday afternoon, October 16.

RATIFYING TREATIES.

Great Democracies Have Different Methods.

The British method of ratifying treaties differs from that of the other democracies that took part in the war. It may surprise some persons to learn that the French and the Italians have a more representative system than either Great Britain or the United States.

According to British custom a treaty may be proclaimed by the Government without the approval of either House of Parliament. In 1911, discussing the same questions raised as to an international treaty amending the rules of warfare at sea, known as the Declaration of London, Sir Edward Grey told the House of Commons: "I have already stated in answer to a supplementary question, asked on 18th November, 1910, that the consent of Parliament is constitutionally not necessary to the ratification of the Declaration of London." He added, however: "But, as is well known, no Government would advise his majesty to ratify a convention against the declared opinion of the House of Commons."

In the House of Lords, in 1911, Viscount Morley of Blackburn, speaking on the same subject, said: "There is a great state in which the treaty-making power is divided between the executive and the Legislature, but I am not sure that those who have to deal with that great and most friendly community always find that an advantage, and I think you will be introducing a very dangerous principle or maxim into our constitution if you insist the treaty-making right now vested in and practiced by the crown."

Lloyd George nevertheless submitted to Parliament both the Treaty of Versailles and the tripartite alliance treaty recently signed by France, Great Britain and the United States. They were both approved, although they could have been proclaimed without such action.

The French constitution requires treaties of peace and certain other classes of treaties to be laid before the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies for action. The lower House, which is by far the more powerful branch of the French Parliament will take the lead in discussing the treaty. A majority in either branch may amend or reject.

The Italian constitution also provides for the approval of treaties, by both legislative branches. The lower House at Rome greatly overshadows the Senate. Much more than the French Chamber it is the Government. The Italian Parliament will probably delay action on the treaty with Germany until after the Austro-Hungarian and Turkish treaties are completed. Italy's interests are only slightly affected by the settlement with Germany. They will be vitally affected by the terms of the later settlements.

In Japan, as in Great Britain, the treaty-making power is vested exclusively in the crown. If the Japanese Parliament is allowed to pass on the treaties ending the war it will be only as a matter of imperial courtesy.

The treaty-making power in the United States is vested in the President and the Senate. The popular branch of Congress—the House of Representatives—has no voice in the ratification of conventions with foreign powers. But, on the other hand, it can annul them in whole or in part by refusing to pass legislation carrying them into effect or by passing legislation in conflict with their provisions.

The Senate is the only check on the President in the United States scheme of treaty making. And the Senate's influence on the process is enhanced by the fact that the draft of a treaty submitted by the executive must be approved by two-thirds of the Senators present instead of by a mere majority.

Virtues of the Onion.

Onion eaters, as medical men have noted, are rarely ill, and that because onions clear the complexion, does all the poisons and impurities and germs from the body. Onions, in fact, are strong disinfectants, and if sliced raw and put about a sick room would gather to themselves all the infectious germs just as well as an expensive disinfectant would.

It is for that reason that it is extremely dangerous to eat a hot or skinned onion that has been exposed to the air. It has cleared the air, but gathered to its raw surface what it has cleared.

Medically, onions are excellent for insomnia, and they aid digestion. Further, an onion diet is one of the cures for rheumatism. This is due to the large proportion of sulphur oil in onions.

It is that oil, too, which produces a beautiful, clear, and healthy complexion. Bretons, great onion eaters, are noted for their smooth skins. Onion juice, too, gives immediate relief from the pain of wasp and other insects' stings.—Answers.

Hospital for Birds.

A hospital for wild birds has been established and is maintained at Colorado Springs, Col., by Dr. W. W. Arnold, which consists of a commodious aviary in which there are constantly from 25 to 30 birds which have been disabled by coming in contact with wires and in other ways in the course of their migrations. Incidentally, the doctor is acquiring a fund of information about the habits of his feathered patients.

DREAMS SHOW DESIRE.

Those of Children Are Frank, While Adults Are Camouflaged.

A London physician has made written records of dreams of over five thousand school children between the ages of eight and sixteen years, and finds that they support the belief that a dream is merely the expression of some desire, but changed in expression by one's subconsciousness in order that it may not awaken the sleeper. Frequently subconsciousness itself is caught napping, and the sleeper awakens in a fright and says that he has suffered from a nightmare.

Again the subconscious mind does its work so cleverly that the wish or desire of the sleeper is often disguised so that an expert in the study of dreams has difficulty in uncovering the theme, but the London physician found that the dreams of children are fairly frank, while those of students from 18 to 22 years were so thoroughly camouflaged that he abandoned their study.

The eating element dominated in children between the ages of eight and 14, being more common with the children of the poorer classes than with those well-to-do. It appeared, too, that an appreciable increase in these dreams was noted toward Christmas. What seemed unusual was that dreams in which fear was dominant were more common among boys than among girls, while with both sexes the fear of an old man was the most common. The fear of animals was also common, but the type of animal differed with the sex of the dreamers, as the boys were in fear of lions, tigers and bulls, while the girls were terrorized by dogs, mice and snakes.

The war had great effect upon the dreams of boys, but little upon the dreams of girls, the war dreams being rare with either sex under the age of 10. As with adults the dreams were frankly egotistic. It appeared, too, that from the age of 10 there came a marked falling off in dreams in which eating figured, and an increase in those which fear dominated.

The result of this careful investigation supports the modern theory of dreams in which theory science is now greatly interested, especially that branch of it which concerns itself with mental troubles.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash Poisons and Toxins from System Before Putting Food into Stomach.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before eating more food.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing.

NOTICE

PROTECTION FOR BEES DURING THE WINTER MONTHS

The Best Methods for the Wintering of Bees Explained.

In all parts of Canada it is necessary to provide some protection for the bees during the long cold winter months in order to obtain the best results from them. This protection can be given in two ways, either by placing the whole apiary in a special repository or cellar, or by packing the bees in cases outside. In the colder parts of Canada such as the prairie provinces and the northern parts of Ontario and Quebec, while it may be possible to winter outside if sufficient packing is given, it would be safer to winter in the cellar. In the warmer regions, outside wintering appears to be equally as good as cellar wintering.

The first essentials for successful wintering inside are that the cellar should be well insulated against the variations in outside temperatures, it should be dark and dry and the temperature should be regulated so as to stand at 45 degrees to 50 degrees F. Very little ventilation is required. The bees should not be disturbed any more than is absolutely necessary during the entire winter. For outside wintering, cages can be used that will hold one or more colonies, one holding four colonies appears to be the most desirable. The cases should be large enough to allow from 3 inches to 6 inches of packing on the bottom and four sides, and about 10 inches on top. For packing, either planer shavings, forest leaves, or chaff, can be used. There should also be a wind-break around the apiary. An evergreen hedge or an eight foot board fence are the best.

Before deciding which method to adopt, the beekeeper should study his conditions and what he has available. If he has a good cellar meeting the above requirements, it would be advisable for him to use it, especially if he has only a few colonies. Under other conditions it may be easier and cheaper for him to build cases and winter outside. There is more labour attached to packing bees in the fall and unpacking in the spring than there is in carrying the bees into the cellar and out again. On the other hand, bees in the cellar will need more attention during the winter. As a rule, bees packed outside do not need attention from the time they are packed until they are unpacked in the spring, whereas the cellar will need cleaning up and temperature regulated throughout the winter.

Both methods of wintering have been tried for a number of years at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The bees wintered inside are placed in the cellar beneath the Bee Building, and those wintered outside are placed in quadruple cases with planer shavings used as a packing, and an eight board fence as a windbreak. The average loss of bees in the cellar is 5.4 per cent. for outside, while the consumption of stores does not show much difference; for the cellar it was 21.3 lbs. against 23.8 lbs. for those in the cases. The average number of combs covered in the spring shows an advantage for those wintered outside, being 5.4 against 5.0 for the cellar. These figures are taken from October 11, when the bees were packed outside, and April 15 when the bees were removed from the cellar. It has also been found that sealed covers have given better results at Ottawa than upward ventilation, also that 3 inches of packing gives as good result as 6 inches. In comparing the above figures, it will be found that there is a greater risk of loss from outside wintering especially during a very cold winter as in 1917-18, when our loss occurred, that the consumption of stores differs but very little in the two methods. Also that the bees wintered outside were somewhat stronger in the spring.

CHARGED MACHINE GUN

CANADIAN SOLDIER KILLED WHOLE GERMAN CREW.

Sergt. E. W. Sifton Won His V.C. by Making It Possible For His Company to Take and Hold Trench at Vimy Ridge—He Was Killed a Few Minutes Later Keeping Guns at Bay.

FOR most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty. During the attack in enemy trenches. Sergt. Sifton's company was held up by machine gun fire, which inflicted many casualties. Having located the gun, he charged it single-handed, killing all the crew. A small enemy party advanced down the trench, but he succeeded in keeping these off till our men had gained the position. In carrying out this gallant act, he was killed, but his conspicuous valor undoubtedly saved many lives, and contributed largely to the success of the operation.—Official Record.

Vimy Ridge is a low, undulating plateau lying between Arras and Lens, crossed about mid-way by a highway. Although the ridge is insignificant in normal times, the Germans, in seizing it in 1914, gained thereby control of all that sector of the battle front. It remained in German hands until April, 1917.

The Somme battles in the fall of 1916, as well as the historic stand in the Ypres sector, had earned for the Canadians a reputation as shock troops, and when the higher command decided that Vimy must be taken in the spring of 1917 the troops of the Dominion were withdrawn from the Somme area and went into training for several months behind the Vimy salient.

Easter Monday, April 9, was chosen for the day of the attack. The morning broke cloudy and uncertain in temper. At 5.30 o'clock, the moment of attack, a chilling rain began to fall, followed later by a keen northwest wind. At 10 o'clock snow fell, then the clouds broke and brilliant sunshine poured down on the hillside up which the Canadians were toiling.

The western slope of the ridge was a conglomeration of broken wire, mud, and other debris, scattered helter-skelter by the terrific bombardment to which it had been subjected by the British artillery. The preparation for the infantry advance, says one of the brigadier-generals who was there, was perfect. Over the spongy ground, pitted with shell holes full of liquid mud, went the Canadians, dragging themselves along under their heavy kits.

The attack was made and objectives taken on scheduled time. There were four lines of defences to be taken. The first line, consisting of six trenches, lay just behind the Arras road. Here the Canadians met slight resistance. The Germans were dazed by the terrific artillery bombardment, and, indeed, some of them were starving hungry, for they had not had food for two days on account of the artillery barrage, and now their emergency rations all gone, they came meekly out of their dugouts, some of them even offering souvenirs to the invaders for bread. They were hustled back to their cages, where they fell on the food given them like wild animals.

But at the second line of trenches, which ran through the cellars of the demolished village of Thelus, the Hun was prepared to put up a fiercer fight. Machine gunners were hidden away in concrete fortresses and as the Canadians passed they poured an enfilading fire, causing many casualties.

The 18th Battalion went over the top in the first wave of the attack and soon reached the second line of defence, where its orders were to consolidate, leaving the next wave to go through to the third, and fourth lines. The battalion itself attacked in four waves on a three-platoon frontage. As the men of C company jumped into the second trench like a steady stream of bullets from a hidden gun riddled their ranks. So carefully was the gun concealed that it was some time before it was discovered.

Sergt. Ellis Sifton first caught sight of the gun barrel speering fire over the parapet. Without a thought he sprang into the trench, charged the crew, overthrew the gun and turned on the gunners with his bayonet, killing them all. At this time a party of Germans was seen running down the trench to the aid of the gun crew. Sifton turned again with his steel and held them at bay until his comrades jumped down into the trench. While this was going on a dying German, who had fallen in the first onslaught of the Canadians, rolled over to the side of the trench, picked up a rifle, and taking careful aim, shot Sifton. The 18th Battalion moved on to its objective, but the hero who had made it possible lay dead in the captured trench.

Ellis Welwood Sifton was born at Wallacetown, Ont., October 12, 1891. His father, John James Sifton, still lives in that town. Ellis attended the Wallacetown public school and soon after entering high school decided to go farming, which he was successfully pursuing when he answered the call for men for the overseas army. He enlisted in October, 1914, joining the 18th Battalion, Queen's Park, London, Ont., as a private. He went to England with the second division in April, 1915, transferring to the Army Service Corps on going to France. He was transferred back to his old unit at his own request, and went with them to the Arras front in January, 1917. Before going into the battle of Vimy Ridge he was made sergeant.

The Victoria Cross, won by Sergt. Sifton, was presented to his father by the Governor-General of Canada at a public ceremony in Toronto in the fall of 1917.—Carolya Cornell in Toronto Star Weekly.

Music In Bohemia.

For the past two hundred years almost every musical generation in Europe has counted among its stars a Bohemian—either with a genuine Slavic spelling or a German or Germanized name. Bohemia certainly has the right to be proud of the fact that one of Gluck's teachers, the Prague monk and hymn-writer, Bohuslav Tchernohorsky, was of Czech blood, and that the influence of the famous pianist, Johann L. Dussek (1761-1812), was equal to that of Clementi, while in invention and idealism he surpassed the great Italian composer.

Frantisek Skrzep (1801-1862), the composer of the first original Bohemian opera, in his "Where Is My Fatherland?" anticipated the glory and joy that came to Czechoslovakia in December, 1918. The Czech national movement found, however, its first real centre in the National Theatre, which was opened in Prague in 1862, and Bedrich Smetana (1824-1884) set the ball rolling by writing his famous opera, "Branibor v. Czechach" ("The Brandenburs in Prague"). Smetana, the founder of the Bohemian School of National Music, took not only the subject of his principal compositions from the history of the Bohemian people, but also nationalized the department of orchestral music.—Family Herald.

Burgundy at Its Best.

Burgundy wines of 1915 are reported by the most eminent connoisseurs of Paris to be the best since 1865. In fact, their verdict is "perfect."

The summer of 1915 was hot, as was the autumn, with light rains now and again at exactly the right intervals. M. Mathieu, celebrated savant on the subject of wines, writes: "Since 1865 there has been no Burgundy like that of 1915 in delicacy or strength. The 1915 vintage is a remarkable synthesis of bouquet, aroma, body and flavor." But, of course, all this is of merely academic interest to us.

BENEFIT BAZAAR DRAWS CROWDS AT COOKSHIRE

Event Premises to Prove a Huge Success—Other General News.

COOKSHIRE, Oct. 10.—The grand benefit bazaar under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church, organized by the ladies of this congregation, opened on Monday evening last in Victoria Hall, and was largely attended. Attractive booths have been erected, and the hall presents a very festive appearance. Planché's orchestra, which was in attendance, gave several fine selections during the evening. The committee in charge of the arrangements announces that the bazaar will continue all this week until Saturday, when the drawings will take place. The winner of the popularity contest will be announced on Friday evening. It is expected that a record crowd will be on hand both on Friday and Saturday evenings.

St. Peter's Church Notes.

The Lord Bishop of Quebec will hold a confirmation service on Sunday evening, October 12, in St. Peter's Church at 7.30 o'clock. In the morning the thanksgiving service will be at 11 o'clock, and Sunday School at 10 o'clock.

General Notes.

On Sunday morning last the members of the I.O.O.F., Vera Lodge, and Rebekahs attended divine service in St. Peter's Church, and the rector, Rev. Ian A. R. Macdonald, officiated at the service and delivered an excellent address, the lodge, being augmented by members of out-of-town lodges. Special music was rendered by the choir, with Miss Georgie Coates presiding at the organ.

Miss E. Marjorie Planché is spending a few days in Montreal. On Wednesday evening, October 15, at 8 o'clock, a soldiers' smoker will be held in Victoria Hall, to which all returned men are cordially invited, also all men of the town and surrounding district. The evening's programme will comprise a couple of reels of an up-to-date movie, interspersed with vocal and orchestral selections.

Miss Nannie Bray has returned to her home in Sherbrooke after spending a few days in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ayton Cromwell.

Mrs. J. W. Andrew and Miss Dorothea Andrew were in town on Saturday from Bishop's Crossing.

Mrs. George Horner, who has been the guest of her brother, Mr. C. C. Lusk, and Mrs. Lusk, for the past few days, left on Thursday for Waterloo en route to her home in Ottawa.

Mrs. William Cathcart and Miss Grace Armstrong, of Bury, spent Friday in town.

Mrs. C. Frasier has been spending a week with relatives in Bishop's Crossing.

Mrs. David Beaulieu, of East Hereford, has been the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Beaulieu.

Mrs. Harry H. Moe, who came to town for the Hovey-Cromwell wedding, has returned to her home in Bishop's Crossing.

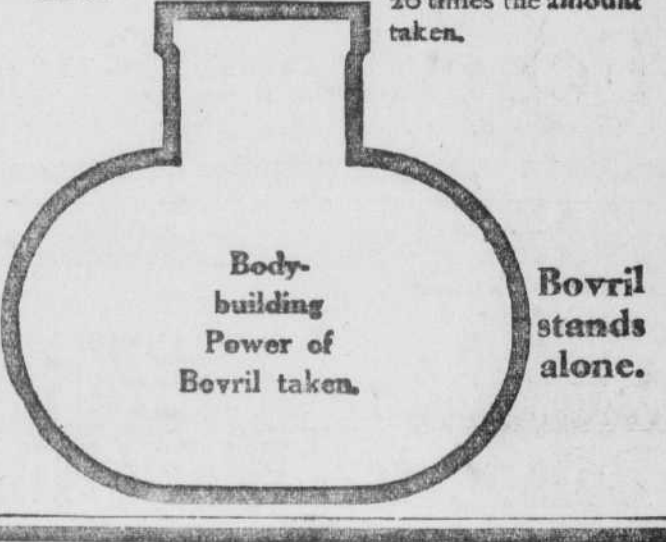

Give her BOVRIL

Bovril is one of the most precious food substances in the world. Its beneficent effects are immediate; it acts like a glass of champagne, but without the reaction which wine sometimes brings. Bovril does permanent good by building up the very fabric of the body.

To get the full benefit of Bovril, take it regularly day after day. The value of "a course of Bovril" has been scientifically demonstrated by the independent investigations of Professor Thompson.

Canadian Forestry Association, Ottawa

Every Forest Fire is a Bolshevik--Block Him!

Burning down a forest is the same sort of business as burning down the Town Hall, or confiscating a workmen's savings bank.

It robs the timber savings-bank of our country without a hope of restitution of the stolen goods.

It thieves from the public purse, because ninety per cent. of all Canadian timber lands are public-owned.

It destroys employment, because the thousands of busy saw mills, pulp and paper mills, etc., are as helpless without logs as a steam-engine without steam.

Canada's chief hope of national success is by cashing in on fertile lands and growing forests.

Forest Fires Are Red Anarchy

Not organized anarchy, but anarchy by consent. Do you ever leave your camp fires burning while hunting or fishing in the woods? Put them out. Dead out. Do not throw away lighted matches or cigarettes while in the bush! Put them out. Dead out. These trifling things are the seeds of forest fires.

VOLCANIC JAVA.

The Place Where "Hell Blew the Lid Off."

The recent eruption of the Klot (or Kalut) volcano in Java cost 40,000 native lives, destroyed 20,000 acres of crops, principally rice, by its flow of hot mud, and did millions of dollars' worth of damage by the falling ashes in regions outside the devastated districts.

Volcano-made in the first place, and constantly being remade by them, Java has more volcanoes than any area of its size in the world. Estimates of the active and extinct craters range from 100 to 150. Everywhere in Java, in the huge crater lakes, in fissures that now are river beds, even in ancient temples, half fished when interrupted by some fiery convulsion, are evidences of cataclysmic forces—such turbulent forces as now are in continuous hysteria in the Valley of the Ten Thousand Smokes in Alaska and break their crusted surface cage intermittently in Java.

The "treacherous Klot," as the natives call it, all but wiped out the town of Britari, but even its devastation, as reported to the State Department, was mild compared to the violent upheaval of Krakatoa in 1883. Then Mother Nature turned anarchist and planted a Gargantuan infernal machine on the doorstep of Java. Krakatoa is a little island in the Sunda Strait, between Sumatra and Java. Australians, as far from the explosion as New York is from El Paso, heard the terrific detonation, more than half the island was blotted out, parts of it were flung aloft four times as high as the world's highest mountain, and to touch bottom below the water's surface, where most of the island had been, henceforth required a plumb line twice as long as the height of the Washington monument. Skyscraper waves flooded adjacent islands and rolled half way around the earth. Every human ear-drum heard, though it may not have registered, the air waves as they vibrated three or four times around the earth.

Krakatoa loomed a smaller tell in human life than Klot, because of its isolation, and many of the 35,000 deaths from Krakatoa's eruption were at far distant points by drowning.

"Naturally the native religion is fatalistic. A free translation of an inscription on an old tomb runs:

"What is the use of living, of kissing lovely flowers, if, though they are beautiful, they must soon fade into nothing."

In the native folklore are innumerable stories of the earth opening up to swallow a dancing girl. Such tales betoken another physical feature of the island fraught with human tragedy. Not only has it steaming vents, spouting geysers, sulphur lakes, but great chasms open and close, and they have been known to swallow villages.

DAILY RECORD READERS SELECT LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES THROUGH RECORD ADVS.

To the Manager, Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Dear Sir:—

You have asked us regarding results obtained from the advertising of the Canada Life in your paper.

We are pleased to state that these have been extremely satisfactory.

For instance, our last advertisement in the Record brought us six inquiries. Following up with personal interviews, we wrote four of these prospects, one for two thousand and the others for one thousand each. These inquiries came from widely separated points in the Townships, namely: Bury, Scotstown, West Shefford, East Angus, Sweetsburg and Lennoxville.

We have written many thousands of dollars' business as a result of direct inquiries from our advertisements in your paper.

Yours truly,
J. G. WATSON,
District Manager, Canada Life.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lucius Morkill, and Mr. Geoffrey Morkill, who since their arrival from England have been visiting relatives and old friends in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, have left for Montreal, on their way to Victoria, B.C., where they intend to make their home for the future. The other members of the party were Miss Anne Wright, Mrs. Morkill's sister, who accompanied them to the coast, and Miss Wilson, a cousin, who will return to her home in Albany, N.Y.

Get Ideas from Beasts and Birds.

The dwellers in a big city are always mourning over the artificiality of it all. That is really only a left-handed way of congratulating themselves that they have become so differentiated from the lower animals that they have totally lost sight of the origin of things they consider conventional evidences of civilization.

As a matter of fact, man got most of his ideas originally from the beasts and birds.

Cave-dwelling creatures taught him the advantages of a lair, and burrowing beasts probably gave him the first notion of building one for himself. He learned the art of plastering from the birds—the swallow is particularly adept. He got his primal lessons in mechanics from nature. Has any inventor improved on the screw pattern of the shark's egg case?

Someone has claimed that the art of dancing is the very epitome of civilization. Absurd. We got our latest popular steps from tribal dances of the people who learned them direct from the birds. The lady oriole was an expert skirt dancer before woman had draperies with which to imitate her vibrant plumes. Remember the stately minuets of the whooping crane.

Like the birds, too, man has a singing voice in mating time. It is merely a product of this mechanical age that now, instead of trusting to it, he is more apt to buy his sweetheart the phonograph record of some song he feels more perfect than his own; the primary intention is all the same—to please her fancy. Does he take her out to dine? I have seen the towhee offer the bird of his choice a particularly luscious morsel to the same end.

The most unnatural appearing product of civilization is clothes. I took a puritanical exception to the raiment of a pretty, sweet-voiced girl in a garment she would have hesitated to don if it were offered her to wear at a fancy dress ball instead of on the streets as an exposition of the current styles. Perhaps the uniformity of the feathered clans was in my inmost mind. "Why does she attract attention to herself that way?" I thoughtlessly demanded.

Her employer had a twinkle in his eye. "Stupid," he said, "this is no place for her, in an arid office, caged behind a desk; she wants a nest."

Cramp it by economic pressures, deny it for any consideration you can name, beneath our surface veneer, beneath the very barriers we set up to blind our tantalized eyes, lies the big reality we share with all living things, the need of our own nest.

Miss Celia Beckett, graduate nurse from New York, is at her home, "The Willows," Beckett road, for a month's vacation, but at present is engaged on a case at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mr. Douglas Dollor, of Napanee, Ont., who has been on a tour for his firm, through the Lower Provinces, was in town yesterday, looking up old acquaintances.

MARRIAGES

McCONNELL—DENONCOURT.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Anthony's Church, Lennoxville, Que., on the 8th instant, when Miss Noemi Denoncourt was united in marriage to Mr. William J. McConnell, of Sherbrooke, Que.

During the wedding ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Father J. A. Parent, parish priest, hymns were rendered by the choir, the soloists being Misses M. Beaudoin, F. Mullins and E. Biron. Music was furnished by Bourgeois's orchestra.

A reception was held at the home of the bride after which luncheon was served to the immediate relatives of the bride couple. The happy pair left for their honeymoon which they will spend in Quebec, Montreal, Hamilton and Detroit, and on their return will reside in Sherbrooke.

The numerous gifts received testified to the esteem and regard in which the young couple were held.

BROWN—THOMAS.

AYER'S CLIFF, Oct. 10.—A very pretty autumn wedding took place on October 8 at the home of Mrs. M. J. Thomas, North Hatley, when Miss Caroline Thomas and William H. Brown, of Lennoxville, Que., were united in marriage. The Rev. Churchill Moore, of Ayer's Cliff, officiated.

Mrs. Andrew Thomas played the wedding march as the bride party entered the parlor, and stood beneath a beautiful arch of autumn leaves and evergreens. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Place, of Ayer's Cliff, sister and brother-in-law of the bride. Little Marjorie Place was the flower girl.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Andrew Thomas, and wore her wedding suit of navy blue serge, with pale pink crepe de chene blouse and blue hat, feather trimmed, a bouquet of roses and spray of ferns. Mrs. Place wore white net over satin, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and pearl bar pin; to the matron of honor, a pin; to the best man, a watch chain; to the little flower girl, a gold beauty pin, and to Mrs. Thomas, a brooch, and to Mr. Thomas, a stick pin.

The wedding supper was served in the dining room, which was decorated with flags, red, white and blue ribbons and branches of autumn foliage. About one hundred guests were present, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

After a short wedding trip they will return to Lennoxville.

HILLER—DAVIGNON.

The marriage took place on Wednesday, Oct. 8th, in St. Edward's Church, Knowlton, Que., of Miss Stella Davignon, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Davignon, of Knowlton, to Mr. Edward George Hiller, of Waterloo, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Hiller, of Maplewood Avenue, Outremont.

The bride was given away by her father, and Mr. Hiller acted as witness for his son. Rev. Father Larose performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a dark brown suit with taupe fox fur, and a black hat. She carried a white rose.

The wedding music was played by Miss Lillian Davignon, and singing was beautifully rendered by Mrs. J. A. Lemieux, of Waterloo. After the wedding a buffet luncheon to about twenty-five guests, was served at the residence of the bride's parents, and later Mr. and Mrs. Hiller left for their wedding tour to Toronto and Niagara. On their return they will reside in Waterloo, Que.

There were noticed from out of town Miss Pearl Davignon, of Boston, sister of the bride; Mr. J. R. Hiller, the Misses Ethel, Florence and Evelyn Hiller, father and sisters of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald and Miss Jeanne Gates, all of Montreal; Mrs. Lemieux, the Misses Lefebvre, Mr. Chas. Lefebvre, and Mr. H. Poirier of Waterloo; Mrs. Nault, of Manchester, N.H.; Miss Corinne Davignon, of Minneapolis, Minn.

MacKAY—MORKILL.

The marriage took place September 8 at All Saints' Anglican Church, Milan, Italy, of Miss Marian Carlotta Morkill, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lucius Morkill, to Mr. Roderic William MacKay, of Brite, Scotland, British vice-consul at Milan, and formerly lieutenant in the Gordon Highlanders.

The ceremony was performed by Captain the Rev. J. Wilson, chaplain to the British troops in Italy, and the bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father. She wore a lovely gown of white satin, with gold-embroidered panels and other garniture of rosepoint, with veil of Limerick lace, confined by a half wreath of orange blossoms and white heather. Her only ornament was a rosary of pearls and gold, the gift of her mother, and she carried an ivory prayer book, with a spray of heather.

The best man was Captain Macdonald, F.R.A.M.C.

About thirty guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Morkill, parents of the bride; the British consul and several members of the staff, with other friends. At the conclusion of the service the bridal party partook of light refreshments at the hotel, and Mr. and Mrs. MacKay left for Lemo, Lake Como, where the honeymoon was spent. The bride wore, going away, a tailor-made costume of brown cloth with brown satin hat, trimmed with feathers.

The wedding presents received from friends in England, South America and Italy were valuable and numerous.

During the war Mrs. MacKay was engaged in patriotic work in England, under Lady Drummond, and at the South American depot.

TIME ARRIVED FOR A CLEAN-UP OF THE GARDENS

Much Work Yet to Be Done Before Cold Blasts of Winter Set in.

With autumn well advanced and many of the flowers in the gardens past season, there appears a great deal of work to be done before the cold blasts of winter set in.

The general fall clean up is one of the most essential parts of the garden work to be attended to. It may seem possible to leave this operation till the springtime, when pleasant days come, but this is not to be recommended, on account of the over numerous army of various insects that are liable to find shelter in which to hibernate, and next spring, before the deferred clean up is accomplished, these insects which have sheltered in your garden will be out on the hunt for the first plants that appear.

With insect poisons at very high prices, it is well known how much it costs to keep the garden pests under control, so with this in mind and knowing that it is possible to control to a very great extent many of these pests, no time should be lost in making the clean up as complete as possible.

RECENT INVENTIONS OF INTEREST

TO EASTERN TOWNSHIPS FARMERS

(By C. J. Lynde, Macdonald College, Que.)

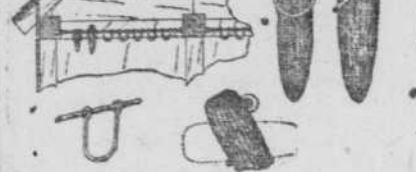

FRUIT BASKET
The handles here are interlocked when used for carrying, but are folded down on the bottom when the empty baskets are nested, or when the filled baskets are covered with lids for shipping.

(Gaines M. Walker, St. Louis, Mo. U. S. Patent, 1,808,824.)

SEED CORN HANGER.

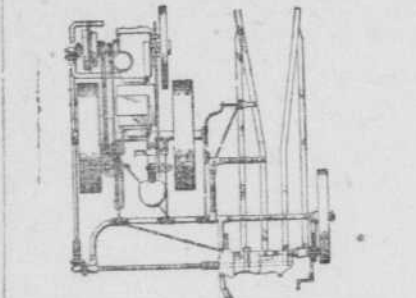

These U shaped hangers suspend ears of any size from wires strung between rafters where they dry quickly.

iv and are protected from rats, mice, and other animals.
(E. M. Sallust, Owen County Ind. U. S. Patent, 1,812,271.)

CORN HARVESTER.

The special features of this harvester are: first, that the cutting parts are driven by power from the tractor; and second, that the harvester frame sible.

By the destruction of all kinds of garden rubbish the spores of plant diseases of various kinds will be done away with and thereby make the clean up serve a double purpose.

In the raspberry, currant and gooseberry patches pruning is very essential to the future ability of the plantations, to yield large crops. In the raspberries prune out all canes that bore fruit during the past season. Black currants should be pruned so as to have an abundance of these past seasons wood left, because it is on this wood that the next season's crop will depend, while in the case of the red and white varieties of currants, the fruit is produced on spurs on the two year old wood, and wood that is older, so that in order to insure a good crop in the case of the latter kinds it is very essential to prune with care, leaving some wood varying in age, from one to three years old. All brush removed should be promptly burned.

Where best results are desired from the garden, it is necessary to plough or dig the ground in the fall. This fall preparation serves many purposes such as absorption of moisture from the fall rain, destruction of eggs, larva or grub, and pupa stages of the insect pests, and leaving the garden ready for the spring planting.

For more detailed information along these lines apply to the Lennoxville Experimental Station.

What it Costs You to Do Without a Renfrew

SELLING butter-fat at now-a-day's prices is like selling gold out of a mine on your farm. Imagine the owner of rich gold quartz extracting the gold with a machine chosen for its cheapness! One man chose an ordinary cream separator for its low price. Pretty soon the bowl wobbled, gears rattled. The women complained about the high supply tank, the toilsome cleaning and the hard running. Inside of two or three years that man was convinced of the folly of "saving" money on a cheap separator.

Save yourself this costly experience by investigating the

Renfrew
CREAM SEPARATOR

First step is to find out what your present separator is really doing for you. Just send a sample of your skimmed milk to any government dairy school for a Babcock test. We gladly welcome this "skim-the-skim-milk" test.

When you get the result compare it with the Renfrew record; the Renfrew

Gets 99.99% of the Butter Fat
(Results Confirmed by Dairy Schools' Tests)

We know by experience that you will more than likely discover a costly leak in your butter fat profits with your old machine.

Take your pencil and figure the loss on your herd for a year. Won't it pay you to know what it costs you to do without a Renfrew?

And what does it cost you if you want to increase your herd considerably to replace an ordinary separator—or to stand the losses of an overtaxed machine? The Renfrew's exclusive interchangeable capacity feature gives you the full and complete advantage of a new machine by simply changing the bowl and fittings.

Write for our new folder, the "Big Five," and get full details of our exclusive wide open bowl, self oiling system, convincing endurance features, easy running, low supply tank, etc., etc. Send the postal card to-day.

How to Get Better Yields of Milk

Many a farmer has been perplexed after learning something about rationing to discover that his feeding is not producing results. Many feeds are high in milk-producing protein but fail because the feed is so indigestible that little of it is absorbed into the system. Getting that digestibility factor right is one of the niceties of rationing which has been taken care of in

Monarch Dairy Feed

Its high digestibility means that a maximum amount of nutrient elements is assimilated. Therefore you get more feed value from Monarch than from other feeds. It means both economy and better yields of milk.

Monarch Dairy Feed is composed of oil cake meal and cottonseed meal, both of which are rich in protein. For bulk there is bran, corn feed and barley feed. The proportions have been calculated with the utmost accuracy for producing better yields of milk. The proper balance of oil cake meal and cottonseed meal prevents constipation that takes place when cottonseed meal is used alone. Monarch is palatable and highly digestible. To keep your cows in best condition the year around, thus getting better yields in the milking season, it certainly will pay you to use Monarch always. Guaranteed analysis: protein 20%, fat 4%.

Get a ton from your dealer. If he does not sell Monarch, write us direct, giving dealer's name.

ALL CINCINNATI IS CELEBRATING TODAY THE VICTORY OF THE REDS— CLEARLY OUTPLAYED WHITE SOX

Reds Cinched the Title Yesterday When They Stacked Up an Early Lead and Retained it Throughout the Game—Joe Jackson Led the Batters During the Series—Mayor Proclaimed Day a "Public Holiday" in Cincinnati.

(Associated Press Despatch)
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 10.—A glorious Cincinnati rose this morning to celebrate in a "public holiday" the triumphal return of the Reds from Chicago, where they won the baseball championship of the world yesterday from the White Sox. A proclamation calling on all citizens to observe the day as a public holiday from eight o'clock until noon was issued by acting Mayor Jacobs and was widely observed, many business houses remaining closed.

Joy, following news of the winning of the World's Series by the Reds, was at flood tide last night, and while impromptu processions formed and marched through all sections of the city, representative men of affairs met at the Business Men's Club and appointed committees and made final arrangements for the "official celebration" of the home-coming of Manager Moran and his athletes to the city. The Cincinnati Reds are the champion baseball team of the world, having defeated the Chicago White Sox at Chicago yesterday for the fifth time in the world's series of 1919. Yesterday's score was 10 to 5. The Reds indulged in a hitting field day, driving two Chicago pitchers from the mound and hitting their third one hard. The American Leaguers staged a rally in the eighth by combining several clean hits off Eller with an unfortunate occurrence for Cincinnati when Neale completely lost a ball in the sun, and while they tallied four runs, they were still far behind. The Reds made sixteen hits, the highest total for one game made during the series. The game was also the longest of the series, lasting two hours and twenty-seven minutes.

The unofficial batting averages of the world's baseball series show that four White Sox batted over the .300 mark during the series, while five Reds are over that figure. Of the men who have played in a batting average of .375. He is closely followed by Neale, of Cincinnati, with .357. The official averages were not finished when the official scorers caught their trains out of this city last night, but the unofficial averages show that Cincinnati outbatted Chicago as a team by a percentage of .255 to .224.

PAT MORAN A HAPPY MAN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—"The Reds are the champions and I am the happiest man in the world tonight," said Manager Pat Moran, of the triumphant Cincinnati club. "I cannot praise my players too highly. They played remarkable ball, fought every minute to win, and there never was a time when they lost confidence. 'Eller got himself in a couple of bad holes today, but he recovered quickly and had the Sox at his mercy. I want to say that the Sox are not quitters. They are a game lot of players. They fought to win, but were outclassed, in my opinion. The series ended as I thought it would, but I must admit that the Sox gave us a scare."

"If Williams had shown some stuff in the first inning, it would have been a different story to tell," said Manager Gleason, of the Sox. "But he did not have a thing except a desire to beat the Reds. That first inning, and waited for the ball to go over his head. Kopf took Felsch's grounder and tossed to Daubert, for third out. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.
CINCINNATI.—Rariden hit into Gandil's hands for the first out. Eller was hit by the first pitched ball and trotted to first. Rath singled to second base, Risberg managing to stop it but could not recover it in time for a put out. Eller taking second. Daubert singled to center and Eller was caught at the plate when Liebold made a wonderful throw to Schalk. Rath reached third and Daubert took second on the throw to the plate. Groh popped out to E. Collins.

No runs, two hits, no errors.
CHICAGO.—Gandil hoisted to Neale, who caught the ball in right center while on a full run. Risberg struck out. Groh gathered in Schalk's grounder and threw him out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning.
CINCINNATI.—Weaver took Duncan's bouncer and threw him out. Weaver came over fast getting Kopf's grounder and throwing to Gandil for the second put out. Neale walked, and was caught stealing, Schalk to E. Collins.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
CHICAGO.—E. Collins line flied to Duncan. Weaver hoisted a high fly that Rath made a circus catch of, going back and barely getting it. Jackson then put one into the right field bleachers for a home run. It was the longest hit made during the series at this park. Neale was playing deep backed up to the fence to beat the Reds. That first inning, and waited for the ball to go over his

WANT A NEW WORD
TO REPLACE "SALOON"

Prize Offered for New Name—Deluge of Responses.

(From the Portland Oregonian.)
Responses far out of proportion to the pecuniary reward promised have followed a recent announcement that the managers of the city life exhibit of the Methodist centenary celebration at Columbia, Ohio, would pay $5 to the person providing "a word which will do as the name of the substitute for the saloon." Such a substitute is to be one of the novelties of the exposition. Celebration headquarters have been deluged with suggestions. It is said that all parts of the United States are represented by the competitors.

But new words, which have a way of coming themselves on occasion, do not come when bidden. The committee lets it be known that among the several thousand offered there are few, if any, promising candidates. It expressly calls for a "coined word," representing an entirely new start, a word which will be "as new as the new era to be ushered in with prohibition." This bars (no pun intended) a vast number of obvious candidates. There is nothing new, for example, about "The Oasis." The saloons already have appropriated it. For that matter, the saloons had overworked the term "cafe," although they seldom dispensed coffee, and they have been disguising themselves as "buffets" for more than a generation. The prohibitionists are not first in the quest for a word conveying the idea of liquorlessness.

The committee rejects "noolas," which is made by reversing the letters of "saloon." The saloon has met with reverse all right enough, but the dregs want a word that won't mean saloon even when viewed in a plate glass mirror. "Sofateria" seems to have friends among the judges, but it is robbed of novelty by "cafeteria," which has already won a place in the language and presently will get into the dictionaries.

Meanwhile we go on calling the institution a "soft drink parlor," although it is not clear why parlor should have been picked on. The parlor brings up memories of haircloth sofas, marble-topped center tables and a general air of stuffiness, due to its being ventilated only on ceremonial occasions. It has been practically abolished in modern home designing, in favor of the more cheerful "living room," or its equivalent. If the new institution is to draw trade it must not be a "parlor," at least of the old-fashioned kind. The contest is an interesting one. The successful competitor undoubtedly will deserve his $5 if he provides a word which meets the conditions, and which will catch the fancy of a gregarious and a bibulous people.

GALLERY WIT.
An old-timer was reminiscing at the club. "Speaking of famous singers," he said, "I remember being present at a concert at which Madam Nilsson was to sing, but she was indisposed. The foreman who announced the fact said: Madam Nilsson sees a little horse."

"Noticing a ripple of laughter run through the audience, he repeated in some confusion, 'a little horse, a little horse, a little colt.' "Whereupon a facetious occupant of the gallery brought down the house by asking, 'Well, then, why don't you trot her out?'"

THE HUMOR OF IT.

While there is tragedy in the Irish situation, which comes once more to the fore, there is also a vein of humor, characteristically Milesian.

The Irish Executive "proclaims"
 this or that lawless county; and the Sinn Feiners double the number of "proscribed" public meetings. The Government looks up the leaders; and the Sinn Feiners shoot a few policemen, from behind the hedges—not so much from wickedness, as from the sense that the Government must be outwitted and beaten in the game—
 even at the risk of murder, which in Ireland is lightly regarded, in the sport or making the present government impossible.

The Sinn Feiners are getting arms
 into the disaffected parts; Lord
 French brings over machine guns,
 which he points at the Mansion House;
 and in the same breath Sir Edward Carson says to all and sundry, that Ulster will fight to the death against any form of Home Rule that disposes of the minority in the North of its place in the Empire.

The Sinn Feiners insist that the Republic is set up; and they have an envoy at present in the United States.
 The President also is there, and may have to stay, for he is an escaped prisoner, and would probably be laid by the heels if he attempted to get back to Ireland.

The Government makes arrests; but
 the prisoners go on hunger strikes and smash the jail furniture, and compel their liberation.

Could whimsicality farther go!
 And all the time what Ireland wants for peace and prosperity, under the British flag, is—work!

That is too prosaic for a poetical
 people; and so they have instead "Captain Moonlight," and devilry, and general political hopelessness, concurrently with material prosperity.

SIR LOMER GOING?

It is rather singular that the rumor should persist that Sir Lomer Gouin is going to retire from the premiership of Quebec.

At first it was said that he would go to Ottawa; latterly, he was to go to France, as the Dominion Commissioner.

Sir Lomer might possibly go to Ottawa as the leader of the French wing of the Liberal party, and there exert concurrent power with Mr. King.
 That would seem congruous enough.
 The Liberals from Quebec would form
 a solid block; the position as leader would gratify ambition; the arena is large and increasingly influential; and such an arrangement would have important and, possibly, beneficial effects all over the Dominion.

Our commercial relations with France are not extensive and likely continue to be so that it would seem absurd to suppose that Sir Lomer would take a position in Paris as representative of the Dominion Government there.

Of course, Sir Lomer would not think of such a thing; but he might be tempted by the leadership of the French party at Ottawa. After all the big things in our political life are shaped at Ottawa. The latter is the pulse of our young nation.

The big policies are conceived there.
 Destiny is fashioned on Parliament Hill. Quebec is interesting and has a great future; but the large power of the more opulent future at Ottawa might well tempt Sir Lomer.

Letters to Editor

VACCINATION.

Editor of Record.

Sir:—Will you please allow me
 through your paper to cite the opening statement in the evidence of Dr.
 W. H. Hadwen, J.P., M.D., L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S., L.S.A., etc., given March 4, 1913, before the Legislative Council to take evidence for and against vaccination in the Isle of Man.

After thanking the Council for the honor and privilege conferred upon him in being asked to give evidence upon this matter, Dr. Hadwen said:
 "First of all, I should like to deal with the question from a moral and political standpoint. That is, to approach it, not merely as a medical man, but as a parent and a citizen. I consider that it is absolutely wrong for any Government or any State to embody a medical prescription, even supposing the prescription were a right one, amongst its legal enactments, and to force that upon the people against their wills and consciences. The only ground upon which that could possibly be justifiable would be, first of all, that the conditions are of such a nature as to demand such a law; secondly, that the power which enforces it is prepared to guarantee that it will effect the purpose which it professes to carry out; and thirdly, that it shall produce no injurious results. Now, with regard to the first point, as to the conditions, whatever may have been the conditions 120 years ago,
 certainly the conditions at the present time do not warrant any such enforcement, because smallpox has gone the way of the black death, sweating sickness and the plague, which, by the sanitary improvements of time,
 have simply departed from the country. There is practically no smallpox at the present time, and, what is more, I do not believe that smallpox ever again will be able to get hold in any country such as the United Kingdom, or Germany, or other well regulated countries.

"In the second place, with regard to the guarantee that the State ought to give as to its effecting the purpose
 it professes to accomplish, no Government has ever attempted to give such a guarantee, and no medical man with a reputation to preserve, has ever dared to promise such a thing,
 and every promise made by the alleged inventor of vaccination, Edward Jenner, has been falsified.

"Then as to the injury or death
 which it may cause, the British Government has been approached again and again, but they decline to give any guarantee; all they can say is that they supply the lymph and nothing else. We know it has resulted in thousands of instances in injury or death. Consequently, we maintain, from these three points, it is quite unjustifiable to force such a measure upon the people, especially when there are such strong conscientious objections to it. That is my first point.

"Then as to the next point, I would come more particularly to the historical position, and that is this—that the practice of vaccination is purely superstitious in its origin and that every attempt to place this practice upon a scientific basis has failed.
 It was Edward Jenner who was supposed to be the discoverer of vaccination. As a fact, he never discovered anything at all. He was a small apothecary in a tiny village, living about eighteen miles from where I am now in practice at the present time, and although Barron, his biographer, has declared that he spent years in searching out this matter,
 and at last discovered it. As a matter of fact, there is not a single shred of evidence in the whole universe that he ever spent five minutes in elucidating the problem. It was merely a legend of the Gloucestershire dairy-maids which existed years before Jenner was born—a supposition by which they supposed a person who had once contracted cow pox, an affection of the cow, could never have smallpox. Jenner did talk about this matter with his friends of the Medico Convivial Society, but they laughed at the legend, and it is well known that at that very time the cow doctors of the period ridiculed the whole thing. Now the view was that if cow pox be a preventive of smallpox, it would be a splendid plan to give people cow pox, so that they might never have smallpox, but the idea was not Jenner's, because the operation was performed by Benjamin Jesty twenty years before. The record of it is described on his tombstone in the churchyard where he is buried. Jenner simply adopted a legend of which there was no proof, which was common in the district in which he lived.
 That was the origin of the whole thing.

"It was not a question of scientific deduction at all. It is quite clear from the records of the time that Jenner never performed but one complete experiment in his life, and that was on a boy named James Phipps. (I may say that the descendants of that family are patients of mine at the present time and that they are all stout antivaccinators.) Jenner inoculated this boy with some cow pox matter, and seven weeks afterwards he injected some virus of smallpox. Now this case is the one upon which the whole theory of vaccination has been built—namely, that this boy, James Phipps, was vaccinated with cow pox and that he did not take smallpox when it was inoculated into him seven weeks afterwards. Jenner in his own account of the matter says that he presented,
 after the inoculation of smallpox, the usual signs which are present when a patient has had variolous matter applied and he was having either cow pox or smallpox. That is, he performed an operation by what was called the Suttonian method, which produced a smallpox vesicle upon the arm, which was a condition which was produced whether the person had been vaccinated or not. There was no evidence, therefore no proof, that the cow pox had prevented smallpox, for it would have been exactly the same if he had not been vaccinated at all. That is the solitary fictitious case on which the whole great system has been built up."

Yours, etc.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY RESTS WITH YOU

Depend on Canada's New Victory Loan

DURING the past four years
Canada's prosperity has been due largely to orders from Great Britain and our Allies.

Canada was able to obtain these orders because she advanced credit to these countries.

Canada was able to give this credit
only because you bought Victory Bonds.

Great Britain, with France, Belgium, and other Allies, are now prepared to place large orders with us for the products of our factories, farms, forests and fisheries—provided Canada again gives them credit.

Credit must be given if we are to have any guarantee of good times and good wages. But our workers on these orders must be paid their wages in cash; so, much of the money that you invest in Victory Bonds will go out in wages to Canadians.

You will be absolutely protected—
you will get a good rate of interest and all of your money will be paid back at the time stated in the Bond.

Every cent will be spent in Canada,
and ultimately circulate to the benefit of all.

Canada can give this credit only if you again buy Victory Bonds.

If Canada is not able to give this credit, other countries will.

Therefore Canada's continued prosperity rests with you.

LOST AND FOUND

GOLD WRIST WATCH LOST THIS WEEK. Reward to finder on returning to Mrs. N. Bray, 56 Queen Street.

A Prescription.

If people always knew beforehand just what the doctor's prescription would be, most of the time it would be quite unnecessary to consult a doctor. A patient with a vague and indeterminate complaint sought out the late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell and described what he thought were the symptoms of imminent collapse. The famous physician heard her out with courteous gravity, wrote a line or two on a bit of paper and then said: "Take this to the drug store across the street and they will fill it for you." When the ailing hypochondriac showed the paper to the apothecary, he smiled and handed it back. "I'm afraid you'll have to fill it out yourself, madam," he said, deferentially. "What do you mean?" Then she read what was written. It was simply the Bible verse: "Greater is he that ruleth himself than he that taketh a city."

The Zubern Affair.

What is known as the Zubern affair occurred in the town of Zubern, Alaska, in November, 1913, and was the culmination of the brutal treatment of the populace by the officers and soldiers of the Ninety-ninth Prussian Infantry, commanded by Col. von Beter. Lieut. Baron von Forstner, the most notorious of the officers, had provoked several clashes between the soldiers and the citizens, and ordered the soldiers to bayonet any one insulting the German flag. He, himself, gashed a crippled shoemaker, which raised a great storm. He was tried and sentenced to 43 days' imprisonment, although his conduct was strongly defended by von Reuter. Both von Forstner and von Reuter were reported killed in Belgium early in the war.

LATEST LOCAL AND FOREIGN NEWSAdventurous British*Will Attempt Once More*To Reach the South Pole

THE old call of the land of Eternal Silence is upon many British seamen. With the war ended, the adventurous spirits are anxious to be off on voyages to the Antarctic; to the South Sea Islands; to the uttermost ends of the earth. This call of the unknown is strong upon Britishers who have inherited through long lines of ancestors the desire to explore and conquer.

A newly-formed Antarctic expedition is to be led by John L. Cope, who was with the Shackleton expedition from 1914 to 1917. He expects to remain in the frozen regions nearly six years.

"There are those who may express the opinion that further expedition to the Antarctic is hardly necessary," said the explorer, in talking of his undertaking, "but those who are in on the plans will admit this is untrue. They have been laying the foundation and building stepping stones whereby civilization may receive permanent benefits.

"To assist as much as possible in the wished for consummation will be the endeavor of the British Imperial Antarctic Expedition.

"We hope to start from England in the early summer of next year on Scott's old ship, the Terra Nova, with a roll of some fifty-eight souls, including the shore and ship parties.

"Our objects will be:

"1. To ascertain the position and extent of the mineral and other deposits already known to exist in Antarctica, and obtain data for their practical development as a further source of imperial wealth.

"2. To obtain further evidence of the localities and migrations of whales of economic value, and to create British industries in this region.

"3. To investigate the meteorological and magnetic conditions in the Ross Sea area and at Cape Ann in connection with their influence in Australasia and South Africa, respectively.

"4. The circumnavigation of the Antarctic continent.

"5. The obtaining of further scientific data of economic importance.

"It is an ambitious program, but we shall have plenty of time in which to carry it out, as the expedition will not be returning until 1926.

"The first year we intend 'Wintering' on the Great Ice Barrier, that huge mass of ice between King Edward VII. Westward and South Victoria. No party has hitherto spent a winter there, so that it will be a novel experience for us.

"Accompanying us on the Terra Nova will be an airplane in which, at a suitable 'start off' point, some of us hope to fly to the South Pole.

"To provide against failure the machine will be equipped with sledge, provisions and tent, as a forced landing in polar regions under such conditions may well entail a very long 'halt'.

"I hope, though, for success, in which case a return journey to the South Pole from the 'barrier' should easily be made within the twenty-four hours.

"That there are possibilities of commercial development of the Antarctic regions is well known. The capability of the British resources, being once proved and aerial navigation made a more or less usual affair, the good that will accrue will be incalculable.

"The cost of the expedition, which, by the way, is being organized in connection with the Falkland Island Dependencies, will be somewhere around $500,000. Already kind offers of assistance in various ways are reaching us.

"For our chief of scientific staff we shall possess a first rate man in R. C. Mossman, P.R.S.E., meteorologist to the Scottish National Antarctic Expedition and to the Argentine Government.

"It is, of course, true that from a strictly commercial point of view polar exploration has produced no direct profit, but from the scientific point of view man is richer by the vast amount of practical knowledge so obtained. The relations of meteorological conditions in the Antarctic and the Antipodes speak for themselves. They have spelled a direct commercial gain.

"It is to further open the gates of commercial exploration that next year's expedition is being made. Few fields of commercial exploration offer such wide scope as the Antarctic continent and the islands lying in its approach.

"There are wonderful harbors which, in the northern parts can be worked for at least six months in a year.

"The climate is easier to live in and the natural forces more easily contested than in Siberia or Klondyke.

"Manganese, coal, granite, marble and rubies have already been found there, while experts are of the opinion that there is more than a possibility of finding gold."

Insects In Block of Amber.

The proverbial "fly in amber" is strikingly exemplified in a collection of red amber from Burma recently presented to the British Museum by Mr. R. G. J. Swinhoe, of Mandalay.

The amber is unusually rich in inclusions, according to Prof. T. D. A. Cockerell, who has examined the material. 31 new species, of which five are types of new genera. Most of these are found in a block of amber rather larger than a man's fist. This has been cut into slices about half an inch thick. Nearly every large order of insect is represented with the exception of ants.

"Do" Fibre.

Authorities of West Africa have been giving special attention to the raising of "do" fibre. While do can take the place of jute in the manufacture of various fabrics, it is equally good for rope making.

"Scoot" Is Ordered on Oct. 20thGrand Trunk Must Restore Richmond - Coaticook Service Is Decision of Railway Commission.

OTTAWA, October 10.—(Special)—The Railway Commission has handed down its decision in the "Scoot" case and this decision orders that this train shall be restored Monday, October 20th.

It asks the railway company to keep a monthly record regarding the train's operations from now until the first of May next, and gives it permission to apply again in the meantime for another hearing as to discontinuance, providing the Grand Trunk considers the train's showing in the future justifies it.

SINN FEINER IS PUT IN JAIL FOR YEAR AND HALFFound Guilty on Charge of Seditious Utterances Today.

(Associated Press Despatch) DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Patrick O'Keefe Sinn Fein member of Parliament for the northern division of Cork, who was acquitted on September 25, by a court-martial on the charge of having arms in his possession, but was held on further charges including the accusation of sedition, was sentenced today to eighteen months imprisonment for seditious utterances. He was arrested on September 12, during the raids and searches for arms carried out by the authorities here and elsewhere in Ireland.

EMPLOYERS ARE SATISFIED WITH RETURNED MENSoldiers Who Took Up Vocational Training Give Satisfaction to Employers.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—Vocationally trained soldiers are giving splendid satisfaction to their employers in Canada, in the opinion of several employers heard by the special committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. There were eight witnesses who had employed disabled men in various lines of work, and all of them were delighted with the industry of the men. Many of these employers had trained the men and then kept them right on as employees of their industries. There had been failures, but they were the exception. Men were not always proficient when they first took up vocational training, but some of the witnesses favored extending the term, but they said a man was well grounded in his trade and would soon improve in his new work. Organized labor is sympathetic to the returned men, the witnesses stated.

In the evening, Mr. T. A. Stevenson, labor representative on the D.S. C.R., voiced the idea that Canada had the best vocational training system of any of the Allied countries. He thought also that labor conditions here were not such as to justify pessimism. He suggested that Canada should have all employment bureaus under a centralized control and that every private employment office should be abolished.

Another witness during the evening was the wife of a returned soldier, who made a plea for all dependents of veterans. She praised the G.W.V.A. plan and declared "the Government ought to do something to help the returned soldiers," as they really need aid.

R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation, giving evidence in the evening, said that the idea of increasing the income tax to boost the revenue would be a serious mistake. He thought it would be better if the income tax rates were made lower in Canada than in the United States, because capital and immigration are essential to this country. Mr. Breadner stated his belief that if the income tax had been in effect from the beginning of the war, the revenue would not have been increased by twenty million dollars. Mr. Breadner stated that a wrong impression exists as to the number of really wealthy men in Canada, there being fewer than most people supposed.

"CRYSTAL SPRING CAMP." NEAR GLEN SUTTON IS SOLD TO E. E. EASTMAN

(Special to the Record.)
SUTTON, Oct. 10.—The woodland near South Mountain, Glen Sutton, for years known as "Crystal Spring Camp," and which has been a favorite spot for pic-nickers and holiday seekers, has been sold by Mr. William Brown to Mr. Ernest E. Eastman, of Glen Sutton, for the sum of $900.
Part of the mountain lot has been used as a sugary, and a little camp, with sugar house and wood shed stands about one and a half miles back, at the foot of South Mountain. Mr. Brown sugared in this camp for a number of years, but for the past eight years it has stood idle.

TELEPHONES IN LENNOXVILLE OUT OF ORDER

Cable Supplying Phone Service to Suburb Was Struck By One of Street Workers.

Put completely out of order, when the cable supplying them with power was struck by one of the workmen on Wellington street, the telephones in Lennoxville were shut off all day yesterday, and that suburb was left entirely without phone service during the whole day.

The trouble occurred when one of the men working on Wellington and King streets, preparing the way for apparently struck and broke the duct in which the cable was contained. The water entered and trouble ensued, every telephone west of the viaduct bridge being cut off for some thirty-six hours.

Some degree of confusion naturally resulted, for much business and placing of orders, as well as personal conversation, is carried on over this line, and Lennoxville, three miles away, was entirely cut off from Sherbrooke, where most of its men come to work. Housewives, deprived of the convenient telephone, had to go out to get their supplies, and a very unpleasant day for shopping it was at that, while not a chance remained for the tired commuter to phone his home in Lennoxville that "business would keep him at the office," or that perchance it was incumbent upon him to sit up with the proverbial "sick friend."

The Bell Telephone Company immediately sent to Quebec for an expert engineer, who is now at work, and some of the phones were at work at noon today, while others are expected to be remedied later.

HOMEMAKERS' CLUB MEETING WELL ATTENDED.

The September meeting of the Homemakers' Club was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. E. Reed, Main Street, the large attendance and hospitality of Mrs. Reed making the afternoon a most enjoyable one.
During the routine of business, the Secretary read a communication from MacDonald College, which stated that the authorities had decided to give the various Homemakers' Clubs in the Province a course of lectures on Household Science, instead of holding the usual winter short course at the College.

These lectures embrace all lines of women's home work, and after discussion it was decided to ask the demonstrators for a day's services, and to have dressmaking, remodeling, and easy arrangement of meals.

This will be open to all those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity to learn many practical suggestions, and the local Homemakers will endeavor to have this session well attended. A letter was read from the Canadian Home Journal putting before the members the advantages of reading the reports of the Women's Institutes, also the announcement of the first convention of the Canadian Women's Institutes which will be held in Toronto in November.

It was decided to donate $50 to the Memorial Fund. At the close of the business, Mr. L. G. T. Lynch, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Commerce, came in and gave an instructive paper on "Banking," during which an insight was given his hearers of the great system of banking which "every citizen has something to do with, and yet so many do not understand, but just take for granted," remarked Mr. Lynch. The readers told how the heads of banks kept in touch with happenings throughout the world, of the modern system of branch banks, of the desire of bankers to co-operate with farmers, and of the popularity of the Canadian banks.

He also referred to the long and varied route of the check before it reaches its resting place, and of the system that is now used for detection of fraudulency.

In referring to the exchange premiums between Canadian and United States money, Mr. Lynch gave figures that showed Canada was more fortunate in this, than in several other countries, adding: "this, of course, is due to war conditions, but our financial position is good."

In closing, he drew attention to the coming Victory Loan, and complimented the Club on their excellent work and progress, and wish them every success.

Mrs. McCurdy moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, expressing on behalf of the members their appreciation of the time given by a busy man for their benefit.

Tea was served by Mrs. Reed, assisted by Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. W. Johnson, and before leaving the members were invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Paige, Prospect Street, in November.

St. George's Guild Tea.

The first social tea for the season in aid of St. George's Guild was held in the parish hall on Wednesday afternoon.

The President, Mrs. McMurray, received the guests, and Mrs. McClary poured tea, while the guests were waited upon by the members of the Guild.

The pleasant social hour over a "cup o'tea" was greatly enjoyed, and the proceeds were most satisfactory.

"Chicken Pie Supper" Held.

Douglas Hall looked most inviting last evening, where bedecked with autumn flowers and foliage, and with the long tables laden with good things the members of the congregation and their friends gathered to partake of the annual Thanksgiving Supper. The menu was in charge of the ladies of the church, and left nothing to be desired.

After full justice had been done to the many good things, the guests repaired to the church where an excellent program was given. Vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. Tremblay, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Watson, with Mr. J. A. Hurley, at the organ. Rev. T. P. Perry, pastor of the Sherbrooke Methodist Church, and Rev. J. Seller, gave addresses, referring to the great festival of Thanksgiving.

PHYSICAL INSTRUCTION CLASS STARTS AT Y.W.C.A.

But Room is Too Small for Games and Gymnasium is Needed.

The physical instruction class of the Y.W.C.A. was held for the first time this season on Wednesday evening in the assembly hall. Miss McDonald, the instructor, was much encouraged by the attendance and the interest taken, and it is believed that the class will be successful.

As the equipment of bars, clubs and dumb-bells has not yet arrived, the exercises were only manual, but were performed to music. Miss Ethel Stewart presiding at the piano. During part of the evening Mr. C. E. Heywood, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and formerly physical instructor of the class, was present, and assisted Miss McDonald in leading in some drills.

Mr. Heywood expressed his satisfaction at the organization of a girls' class, and regret that the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium could not be placed at its disposal.

He hoped soon to see a well-equipped gymnasium in connection with the association for the use of the members, with a proper swimming tank.

It is understood that next year an effort will be made to build a gymnasium on the grounds of the association, and thus fill a long-felt need of the city—a place for the physical instruction of girls.

In the assembly hall now being used, such games as basketball, volleyball, etc., cannot be indulged in, owing to the small size of the room; nor can there be suitable gymnastic apparatus.

If the parents of the city are as solicitous as to the health and well-being of their daughters as of their sons, they will be willing to forward such an enterprise by every means in their power, and a gymnasium will be an assured fact.

Begging a Fine Art.

The well-fed German out here (in Syria) used to call the Turkish soldier an "artiste de faim." The poor Syrian is a genius at it. Begging is the most flourishing trade in Syria, and the only one at which the craftsman gets a proper apprenticeship. Interspersed among the real starvers you will find child actors who would win a furore in London. They lie in an attitude of death in a woman's lap, their well-rounded limbs carefully covered with verminous rags. You will see them ten minutes later, when mamma has gone home for lunch, playing touch.

Thieving in all its branches—piracy from off-loading ships, fraud, smuggling of stolen goods, pilfering and pocket-picking—had such a boom on the arrival of the British as was never known in the best Turkish days, though now it is waning because of a somewhat determined police surveillance. Animals? They talk at home of selling army horses out here. Well, the Arab and even the Syrian knows the value of his horse, and that while he is in working order it pays to keep him so. That is the utmost limit; and as to worn horses, or any other animals it would need all the staff of the R.S.P.C.A. to keep even the streets free of eyesores.

The Spanish Novelist.

There has been some discussion as to the name of Vicente Blasco-Ibanez, says Outlook. The Cumulative Book Index, for instance, catalogues his books under "Blasco," with not even a cross-reference under "Ibanez." We find the following explanation in the current Bookman: "In Spanish a man's name still clings to the old Roman custom of having the surname or family name in the middle. Therefore this author's father's name was Blasco. But there is an additional custom which combines the name of his mother with that of his father, and the two are supposed to be used together. Thus Blasco-Ibanez—not just Ibanez. Furthermore, there is still another social distinction which rules that if any one calls a man by his mother's maiden name—e.g., calling this man only 'Ibanez'—the implication is that his father and mother were not married. It is a curious custom, but a fact." Speaking of Ibanez, or Blasco-Ibanez, or Blasco Ibanez, a book reviewer in a journal is said to have pronounced a pseudo-advertisement for a man to take a temporary job reviewing Ibanez's books—evidently a shot at the rapidity with which this author's books have been brought out in English.

Time-keepers.

A professor was in Egypt supervising the erection of a telescope. He learned that a gun was fired every noon and was anxious to know how the system worked. He accordingly sought an interview with the gunner and asked how he knew just when to give the signal. "Oh, I look at my watch," replied the gunner. "And how do you correct your watch?" asked the professor. "I take it to the watchmaker in Cairo," explained the soldier, "and he tells me the error." Forthwith the professor interviewed the watchmaker and asked him to explain how he checked the error of the gunner's watch. "I always get the correct time from the gun," was the reply.

Fewer Bibles.

While the demand for Bibles in Mexico has reached an unprecedented magnitude, the American Bible Society has been compelled by the increased cost of paper and postage to curtail its output of Scriptures.

"Apostle Spoons."

These spoons, also called "gossip spoons," were gilt spoons given by the sponsors or "gossips" to a child at its christening. They were so called because each spoon had a figure of an apostle on the handle. Wealthy people gave the whole Twelve Apostles; those of less means and generosity gave the Four Evangelists; while poorer persons had to be contented with one, bearing generally the figure of the donor's or of the child's patron saint. There is a capital picture of a full set in Hone's "Everyday Book," copied from one in possession of the author. It is noticeable that each apostle seems to wear a broad-brimmed hat—the hat being in fact a plate of metal which was put on the head to preserve the features from injury, and which is to be seen on all genuine apostle spoons.—Family Herald.

THREE YEARS IS SENTENCE FOR ROBBING MAILS

Percy Rives, of North Hatley, Receives Penitentiary Sentence—Numerous Other Cases.

Three years in the penitentiary for theft from the mails was the sentence meted out to Percy Rives, of North Hatley, who appeared before Judge Mulvena, in the Magistrate's Court today, on a charge laid by Mr. L. E. Dastous, of the Post Office Department, in connection with the disappearance of several letters from the mail on Rural Route No. 2, North Hatley, on which Rives was letter carrier.

The preliminary hearing resulted in evidence being submitted, that several letters containing money had disappeared from the mail, and that money had also been paid for postal orders and so forth, and never turned in.

Rives was committed for trial, and asking for a speedy trial, he admitted having taken one letter, addressed to T. Eaton and Company, but denied other accusations which were alleged in the evidence. The Court reminded him that it made no difference as to whether he had taken one dollar or a thousand, so far as his guilt was concerned. The law fixed a minimum of three years and a maximum of life imprisonment for the offense of theft from the mails, and there seemed no reason for the court to fix a smaller penalty, even if it were allowed. Accordingly the sentence of three years in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary was assigned.

MORE CHARGES AGAINST ROONEY.

Two more charges were laid today against Charles Rooney, arrested a few days ago for the robbery of the store of G. W. Thompson, at Kinnear's Mills, and who was committed for trial yesterday on this accusation and also for attempting to pass several false cheques in Sherbrooke.

The two charges laid today are for the theft of a handbag valued at $30, and containing goods valued at $50 from Zoltique Chartrand, and an overcoat, valued at $30 from M. Bruneau, both of which disappeared from the Grand Central Hotel, the latter charge being laid by Mr. J. A. Bayeur, proprietor of that establishment. The preliminary hearing is being proceeded with.

Several other cases were brought up today, resulting in fines of various magnitude. For failing to affix a war stamp, Corinne Roberge, of Magog, was fined $50 and costs, while Alfred Raymond, of North Ham, was assigned the same penalty on each of two similar accusations.

For illicit possession of liquor, Jos. Lacombe was fined $100 and costs; for operating a temperance hotel without a license, Phillip Comeau, of Lorne, was penalized $20 and costs; while Antonio Dion was fined $20, and Achelais Bolduc, James Reed and Alkide Vidal each $10, for infringement of the motor laws.

He Had a Reason.

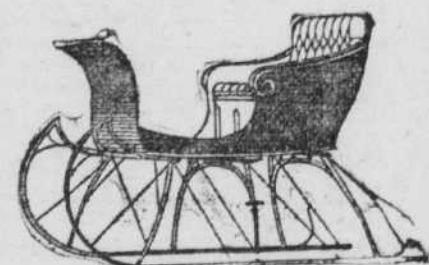

In a crowded omnibus a stout woman vainly endeavored to get her fare out of the pocket of her cloak, which was tightly buttoned as a precaution against pickpockets, relates Tit-Bits. After she had been working in vain for some minutes, a gentleman seated on her right said, "Please allow me to pay your fare." The lady declined with some acerbity, and recommenced her attacks on the pocket. After these had continued for some little time her fellow passenger said, "You really must let me pay your fare. You have already undone my braces three times, and I cannot stand it any longer."
