Forced back to Red China

Refugees return

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong police and British troops have rounded up thousands of refugees from China in recent days and returned them to their Communist homeland.

Overcrowded Hong Kong doesn't have room for them and other non-Communist countries won't take them.

Some had endured almost incredible hardships in their futile flight by land or sea.

Border patrols of police and Gurkha soldiers caught many as they hid in the underbrush-covered hills on the Hong Kong side of the border.

Others were trapped aboard junks or picked up on side roads as they tried to make their way to the cities of Hong Kong and Kowloon, there to disappear on the crowded streets or in the jammed tenement areas.

They were gathered at a police camp in the closed border area, fed, given some food to carry, and then returned to border-crossing stations in police vans and trucks. Their fate, after their forced return to Red China, is unknown.

NUMBERS UNDISCLOSED
Government officials refuse to say how many illegal immigrants have been returned. The Conservative English-language Morning Post, quoting sources close to the police, said several thousands had been forcibly returned to China in the last week.

Residents in the area said they saw 20 or more truckloads of men, women and children hauled to the border every afternoon for the last four days.

Since 1948, the year the Chinese Communists mounted their final drive to seize control of the mainland, more than 1,000,000 refugees have crossed the border into this tiny British colony.

Future talks clouded

W. Germany, the US in split over Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — An open split between the United States and West Germany clouded the outlook today for future U.S. talks with Russia or Berlin.

U.S. officials said the Kennedy administration is determined to go ahead with the exploratory conversations. State Secretary Rusk is due to have another meeting with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin in the next week or so.

President Kennedy is expected to discuss the situation at a mid-afternoon press conference, probably emphasizing his intention that the conversations be carried on in full consultation with West Germany and other interested countries.

Washington officials said the situation is complicated further by an evident disagreement within the German government itself.

Lisbon calm today

Portuguese officials blame Reds for riot

LISBON (Reuters) — Lisbon was reported calm today after Tuesday's anti-government riots—officially blamed on the Communists—in which an elderly woman was killed and 10 persons injured, one critically.

Police patrols were stopped Tuesday night after the riot was put down and only the usual traffic police were on the streets this morning, but the newspaper Diario de Noticias said more than 100 persons, including several women, were under arrest.

Newspaper accounts said some rioters fired shots at police from rooftops and windows, but no policemen were hit.

A statement from the information secretariat described the riots as "Communist manoeuvres" and said calm had returned to the capital, although security measures still were in force.

The statement said police used tear gas and fired warning shots "in the course of prompt suppression of these Communist activities." In a "few cases" police used arms after being attacked, it said.

Dead was a 62-year-old woman who was hit by a bullet as she watched the demonstrations from a fourth-floor window in central Lisbon.

Of 10 civilians brought to the Sao Jose Hospital, five were suffering from bullet wounds.

The riots began after leaflets were distributed urging the people to demonstrate. Police cars carrying armed, steel-helmeted police began patrolling the central streets and squares.

Five mentally deficient men who have been confined to Sherbrooke's Winter Street Jail for the past five years will be moved to a Joliette mental institution within the next two weeks, Sheriff Donat Jacques said this morning.

Sheriff Jacques said that he had received instructions from both the Provincial Department of Health and the Attorney General's office to prepare for the moving of the men and to wait further orders before transferring them.

A spokesman for the Department of Health said this morning that the department "has been looking for a place for the men for the past two months."

He added that it had been very hard placing them because all the mental institutions in the province are overcrowded.

Charles E. Cantin, Deputy Attorney-General for the province said in a telephone conversation today that the orders for transferring the men would be issued within the next few weeks.

The five men, ranging in age from 22 to 27 were illegitimate children from orphanages near Montreal who grew up in institutions and were never able to adapt themselves to society.

They were all transferred to the Winter Street Jail from Bordeaux in order to keep them out of the company of hardened criminals. They have all been sentenced for crimes of one sort or another. The nature of the crimes was not disclosed.

The men are reported to be housed in ordinary cells and they mix with the other prisoners. They have not been receiving any special care or psychiatric treatment.

The plight of these mentally deficient men was revealed over two months ago when an informed source close to the jail said the men had been confined there for five years although only sentences of less than two years are served there.

Earlier, Cpl. M. H. J. Noel, 41, was demoted to a private and sent to jail for 90 days for carrying opium across the border himself twice, and for arranging two other deliveries—one of them by S. Sgt. Hockman.

Cpl. Gerald Albert West, 33, was broken to private and given 30 days in jail for carrying opium for Noel and a package, which he believed to contain gold, for Maj. William A. Platt, Maj. Platt's trial begins here Monday.

Three other soldiers were fined $100 each and severely reprimanded by a senior officer in Indochina. Two external affairs department employees, whose names have never been released by the government have been dismissed.

None has faced criminal charges. The Criminal Code, which provides a maximum penalty of up to life imprisonment for trafficking in narcotics, does not apply to offences outside Canada.

Hockman's sentence is subject to automatic review by the army's adjutant-general, Maj. Gen. W. A. B. Anderson. It also must be confirmed by Defence Minister Harkness.

An appeal on a point of law is open to Hockman, though this is considered unlikely since he pleaded guilty as charged. Such an appeal normally would go to the Court Martial Appeal Board, a division of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

Hockman, unmarried, is a native of Theodore, Sask., and now lives in Ottawa.

After spotless record of 18 years

Is dismissed from Canadian army for Indochina opium smuggling

OTTAWA (CP) — After 18 years with a spotless army record, S. Sgt. William John Harry Hockman was sentenced by a court martial Tuesday to be dismissed from the service for opium smuggling in Indochina.

Hockman, 38, had a rank of acting warrant officer last year when, at the behest of a corporal, he put 11 pounds of opium in a briefcase and carried it on a plane trip across the border between Laos and South Viet Nam. He was paid about $300.

His defending officer said Hockman came to realize that he made a stupid mistake, and that he took the opium through customs at a time when he was "looking for excitement," and shortly before he was to be posted home to Canada.

The sentence of dismissal was the heaviest of three handed out so far by courts martial to soldiers involved in the smuggling of gold and opium while on duty with the Canadian delegation to the international truce supervisory commission.

Previously, through the long months of terrorist provocation and revenge, the white-robed Moslem women had been allowed to move freely through areas where their men went in fear of their lives.

But Monday four women were shot and it was feared the Secret Army had decided on this tactic as a means of provoking Moslems into bloody retaliation against Europeans which would force French troops into action against them, thus sabotaging the French-Algerian peace agreement.

INCIDENTS FEWER
However, only one Moslem woman was killed Tuesday and police said her death might have been for a private motive.

In the capital Tuesday a Moslem died every 15 minutes at the hands of gunmen and throughout the territory 43 persons — 39 of them Moslems — were killed and 27 wounded, 22 of them Moslems.

CANBERRA (Reuters) — The Australian government is considering sending a small number of Australian army jungle warfare experts to South Viet Nam to help American troops already there training local forces, it was learned Tuesday.

The question of direct Australian participation in South Viet Nam was expected to be a major topic of discussion between the government and U.S. State Secretary Rusk at the current Anzus talks here.

Pickpockets follow Dief, too
COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The municipality of Cowansville was visited by two very different groups Monday afternoon.

One group was that of the Prime Minister of Canada, John Diefenbaker and his following while the second group, much less distinguished, consisted of pickpockets.

Police Chief Ernest Deschamps reported Tuesday that pickpockets roamed through the crowd on hand to greet the Prime Minister Monday and cleaned the pockets of five people.

Victims reported by the Chief are: Adams Stolars, of 137 Elizabeth Street Cowansville who had his wallet containing two dollars cash, his driving license and other papers lifted.

Another victim was Eddy Adams, 198 Caroline Street, Cowansville who lost his wallet containing $32 cash, Eugene Goyette, of Adamsville lost his wallet containing $100.

Chief Deschamps said that he received two other phone calls Tuesday morning from two other people claiming that they had had their wallets lifted, but they had not filed a report as yet and their names were still unknown.

Little Beth is placed in home

By ALISON SCHOENFELD (Record staff reporter)

A foster home has been found in St. Johnsbury, Vt., for little Beth Arnett, found abandoned in downtown Sherbrooke last Saturday.

An official of the Vermont Children's Aid Society was taking her to the home this afternoon. The official told The Record this morning that the home will be a temporary one, and in a week's time, the four-year-old girl will be surrendered for adoption.

A spokesman for the St. Johnsbury branch of the Vermont State Police said that the child is illegitimate and the mother has since married and she and her husband do not want to see the child again.

Beth's father, to whom the child was handed over three weeks ago by her mother has not been traced.

The Children's Aid Society official said the society had in its possession a signed consent from Beth's mother and step-father authorizing the society to place her for adoption.

Beth had been living in a Sherbrooke nursery — the Elizabeth Nursery on Belvedere Street in the North Ward — since being found by Sherbrooke police last Saturday.

Wide publicity given the case in the New England states by the FBI resulted in Beth's mother coming forward to identify the child yesterday.

Up until that time, only the child's name had been known.

The Townships took Beth to his heart during her stay here. Since the weekend, City police authorities have been deluged with offers to care for or adopt the child. All offers had to be rejected pending a full investigation of the case.

Until three weeks ago Beth had been living with her mother, Mrs. Walter Murton in Ryegate, Vermont, a town about 125 miles south of Sherbrooke near the Vermont-New Hampshire border. Police at first reported that the child came from New York state, but further investigation showed that Vermont was her home.

Beth was found wandering on Wellington Street on Saturday afternoon. Her identity was not discovered until Tuesday morning after the Sherbrooke Police called on the FBI and the State police for assistance.

Both the Vermont branch of the FBI and the Vermont State police said that as far as they were concerned no charges would be laid against her father whom they believe to have abandoned the child.

Bridge tolls abolished
QUEBEC — Premier Lesage today announced an agreement with the federal government to remove tolls on the Jacques Cartier and Victoria bridges, linking Montreal with the South Shore of the St. Lawrence River. The tolls will be removed June 1.

Under the agreement, Mr. Lesage told the legislative assembly, the federal government will acquire Victoria Bridge from Canadian National Railways and will pay for its upkeep.

Quebec will buy Jacques Cartier bridge for a nominal $1, the premier announced, and will pay $744,426 to meet accumulated deficits on the upkeep of the bridge.

The federal government will pay off the bridge's mortgage, the premier said, but did not disclose how much this would be.

No change in respective position
Little hope is seen for talks between railways, non-op union

MONTREAL (CP) — Little hope was expressed today that new contract negotiations between Canada's railways and their 110,000 non-operating employees will get very far.

The negotiations were arranged Tuesday on orders from a federal conciliation board set up after the first series of talks between the railways and the unions collapsed Feb. 23 in an apparently hopeless deadlock.

No date for the resumption of the negotiations was announced.

The pessimism felt about the new talks was based on the fact that neither the railways nor the 15 CLC-affiliated unions that bargain for the non-ops have given the slightest indication of willingness to change their stands at the moment.

The three-man conciliation board itself did not seem to be putting too much hope into the possibility of concrete progress in the new talks, since it announced that the conciliation hearings proper will start early in July.

The members of the board are Mr. Justice Craig Monroe of the British Columbia Supreme Court, chairman; Halifax lawyer A. G. Cooper, company nominee; and Toronto lawyer David Lewis, the union choice.

SEEK WAGE INCREASE
Both parties have clashed in the past over two main issues—wages and job security—without budging.

The non-ops are seeking a 22-cent-an-hour wage increase. This demand is tied to the so-called durable goods standard, an average of wages paid in several basic industries in Canada.

The railways have rejected this stand.

The non-ops now earn an average of $1.91 an hour, about 10 cents an hour behind the durable goods average.

On job security, the unions are seeking a program amounting to a virtual job freeze that would limit reductions in the number of employees with five or more years' seniority in any class to one per cent a year.

The non-ops, employees not involved in the actual running of trains, signed their last contract a year ago. It expired, however, at the end of last year since it had taken 18 months to hammer out.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Clinics offering free oral contraceptive pills to unwed mothers on relief rolls were proposed Tuesday night by city welfare director Raleigh C. Hobson. Hobson told the city council that the combined use of contraceptive pills and voluntary sterilization would make a significant reduction in the number of illegitimate births. A law passed by the 1962 Virginia General Assembly permits voluntary sterilization.

Three party leaders stake claims today to Ontario seats

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Leaders of three parties went to do battle today to stake a claim to Ontario's rich prize of 85 seats in the June 18 general election.

Only political chieftain absent from the Ontario campaign scene was Robert Thompson of Social Credit, who planned to meet party candidates in Edmonton and visit his own constituency of Red Deer. He spent Tuesday in Vancouver.

The other leaders sought to enlist support in thickly-populated agricultural and industrial regions of Ontario, a province that provides nearly one-third of the Commons' 265 members.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, fresh from a two-day swing through Quebec, was to fly from the St. Lawrence River community of Mont Joli to the RCAF station at Trenton. This was to be followed by a train trip to a Progressive Conservative rally tonight in Brockville with a stopover in Kingston.

After two days of campaigning in his own riding of Algoma East, Liberal Leader Lester Pearson was in Toronto to pitch the first ball of the Toronto Maple Leafs' International Baseball League home opener. He was then to drive around the western end of Lake Ontario, with stops in lakeshore towns, for an evening rally in Hamilton.

DOUGLAS RECOVERED
T. C. Douglas, who now describes himself as in "first-class condition" after a bout of stomach flu, was to address a New Democratic Party rally in Kitchener.

He rejoined the campaign trail in Welland Tuesday after being sidelined in bed since Sunday. However, to ease his return a scheduled motorcade through the Niagara Peninsula, a coffee party and a press conference were cancelled.

The 57-year-old NDP leader pledged his party's protection for the Canadian consumer in his speech to some 350 persons at a rally for the ridings of Welland, Lincoln and Niagara Falls.

It was time, he said, the government went to the aid of the consumer who had been gouged and cheated by the economic monopoly in Canada. The NDP, if elected, would appoint a minister "to protect the Canadian consumer against price-fixing conspiracies, unscrupulous promotion techniques and poor quality goods."

Mr. Douglas challenged Mr. Diefenbaker to bring up the question of "free enterprise versus socialism" which the prime minister had forecast last year as the chief election issue.

PLEDGES 'CANADA FIRST'
Mr. Diefenbaker wound up his Quebec tour in the south shore St. Lawrence town of Rimouski with a declaration that he plans to expound a policy of "Canada first, foremost, and always" in his campaign.

"Our policy will be Canadian, and it will not be dictated by anyone else in the world," he told some 1,000 persons at the Rimouski community centre.

Earlier, he outlined campaign strategy for Conservative party workers at Riviere du Loup. The key to victory was through the efforts of party organizers at the poll level.

The prime minister said he assessed the political wind to make him "very, very hopeful" that the 1958 results, which swept the Conservatives to power with the largest majority in Canadian history, will be repeated.

During the day Mr. and Mrs. Diefenbaker visited the summer home of Sir John A. Macdonald, Canada's first prime minister, at St. Patrick.

PEARSON TOURS ISLAND
Liberal Leader Pearson had a hard day's driving over back roads on Manitoulin Island to take coffee and cookies and say hello to his constituents. His largest audience was about 400, mostly school children, while his chief political speech was to a group of about 100 Indians at Wikwemikong.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Perry Mason, ill-disguised by a new crew cut and using the name Raymond Burr, passed through New York like a small hurricane, on his way to a two-week Italian holiday.

He paused long enough to say hello to his CBS employers, see two Broadway shows and the Peter Lind Hayes supper club act—and spend hours on the long-distance telephone settling his Hollywood housing problems.

Next season the production of Perry Mason moves to a new studio, a shift proving more disturbing to Burr than the impending transfer of his program from the network's Saturday night schedule to Thursday nights.

When his show is in production, Burr stays at the studio during the week and until now has lived in a small bungalow—once Mae West's dressing room. He carries the major burden of the weekly hour show and spends almost all his non-sleeping hours studying his lines. The problem is to find him living space at the new, smaller studio.

Between calls to California, Burr managed to find time for a few harsh words about last season's output of Perry Mason programs—he was, frankly, unhappy about the quality and complexity of the scripts and the rigidity of the show's format.

"I think—perhaps I should say, I hope—we'll do better next season," he said. "Anyway, moving the show to a Thursday night where we'll be running into some real competition will put us on the firing line. It will be good for us."

After a two-week trip to Italy, Burr will spend a month playing Critic's Choice in summer theatres in Chicago and Detroit. "Getting back on a stage will be a real vacation," he said.

PROSPERITY FOR TOWNSHIPS — Paul O. Montreal - Sherbrooke autoroute

E.T. has more to offer tourists but resources are not developed

MAGOG. — (Special) — The importance of a limited access auto-route linking Sherbrooke and Montreal was stressed Tuesday evening in Magog by Paul O. Trepanier, president of Quebec Province Architects Association.

Mr. Trepanier spoke at the Cabana Lodge to members of the Magog Lions Club and invited guests, which included representatives from most local organizations concerned with the tourist trade of this region.

Comparing the Eastern Townships with the Laurentian Mountains area, Mr. Trepanier stressed that this district has far more to offer holiday-makers and tourists than the region north of Montreal, but deplored the apparent lack of planning here.

He noted that with all the resources of the region to attract tourists the Townships are far behind in their promotions and endeavours to claim vacation trade.

Mr. Trepanier also said he thought it time that the name Estrie was adopted for the Eastern Townships.

Gaston Breton, of Granby, one of the "Committee of Fifteen" planning the path to be taken by the proposed auto-route said the highway would be designed to offer best possible advantages to all communities in the Townships.

Mayor Ernest Simard argued that the auto-route would pass too far out of his city, and it was pointed out by Mr. Breton that the auto-route came closer to Magog than most other larger communities in the region.

Mayor Simard said it would be a shame to build a road that would deprive motorists of the pleasure of seeing Lake Memphremagog as they pass. Mr. Trepanier said the idea of an auto-route was not to provide a scenic drive, but a fast means of transportation.

Paul Henri Hamel, a Magog merchant attending the dinner said the answer would be to use the existing routes as scenic drives, and improve them with this idea in mind.

Among the guests attending were Mayor Simard; Mr. Rene Letourneau, M.P. for Stanstead County; Claude Langlois, president of the Mount Orford Provincial Park; Ben Tourgeon, head of the Magog Tourist Commission; Omer Girard, president of the Magog Chamber of Commerce; Paul Brouillard, president of the firm proposing a holiday resort area at Wright's Beach, besides a large number of other local businessmen.

Mr. Trepanier was introduced by J. S. Moynan and thanked by Louis Philip Galipeau, Jean Charles Messara, president of the Magog Lions Club chaired the meeting.

Shareholders could 'throw out' directors

ETAA directors vote to sell grounds

By BERNARD BROWNRIGG (Record staff reporter)

Directors of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association approved a motion of association's executive last night according to which the property would be sold to the City of Sherbrooke for $50 a share.

The city will include in its private bill to the Legislature a request for power to buy the E.T.A.A.

During the meeting Alderman Everett Nicol, second vice-president of the association said he wouldn't be surprised to see the shareholders "throw out" the present board of directors, at their next meeting.

Ald. Nicol made the statement in reply to a comment by Len O'Donnell, an executive director of the ETAA, who told directors present at the meeting that the shareholders have the power to dismiss the board of directors.

"Just because the shareholders have the power to throw out the board of directors, it still doesn't change our ideas," said Mr. Nicol.

"I know very well we can be thrown out by the shareholders, and don't think we haven't discussed it," Ald. Nicol said.

Ald. Nicol told the Record after the meeting that the board of directors have been expecting to be dismissed by a group of larger shareholders who are not in favor of selling out to the City of Sherbrooke for a low price.

Harry Blue, a director, said the present offer made to the city doesn't prevent shareholders from looking for other bidders and, if another proposition is received this should not stop the shareholders from voting on it.

Sen. C. B. Howard asked Mr. Blue if he was serious about selling the grounds to a higher bidder. Mr. Blue replied that "the ETAA doesn't have to give its property away."

Sen. Howard said, "In order to assure the continuance of the good work done by the ETAA it would be beneficial to both the city and the ETAA to work together."

He noted that the ETAA would lease from the city its property for a period of 99 years at a nominal fee of $1 a year.

The next meeting of ETAA directors will be held only after the reading of the city's private bill at the legislature.

Louis Colore, executive committee member proposed that the shareholders would have the right to vote before the deal of selling the property to the city is completed and was seconded by Ernie Taylor.

During the meeting Colin Campbell, honorary vice-president gave the board of directors a letter received by Maurice Allard, M.P. for Sherbrooke, from Hon. Alvin Hamilton, federal minister of agriculture.

The letter stated that the ETAA as a listed firm, has $95,434.89 left from $100,000 entitled for major capital expenditures as authorized under the exhibition grants.

Regulations specified that a major capital grant shall not exceed 50 per cent of the value of work completed, and in the case of repairs to the industrial building, maximum grant would be given only if the buildings were to be used to house agricultural products, or for accommodating livestock attendants and members of boys and girls farm clubs taking part in the exhibition.

The minister suggested the ETAA contact J. H. Tremblay, district supervisor of the production and marketing board, who is in-charge of the grants in Quebec who will co-operate and investigate the possibility of securing a grant for repairs to the industrial building.

Builders say

CNTU responsible for brotherhood part in strike

The Record learned Wednesday that officials of the Eastern Townships Builders' Association and representatives of the United Brotherhood of Joiners and Carpenters of America were in Quebec City for strike talks.

It is believed that the association and the brotherhood will meet with Labor Minister Rene Hamel to discuss the possibility of having the brotherhood represent the Eastern Townships contractors in the strike, an association spokesman indicated.

The Builders' Association said in a press release today that the Confederation was responsible for the fact that the brotherhood has become involved in the strike.

The association said that yesterday's refusal to attend the meeting between the brotherhood and the Builders' Association showed the "anti-democratic spirit" of the confederation union.

Removal of poles is sought

Lennoxville town council will request the Southern Canada Power Company to remove street light poles near the entrance of Warren and Wilson Street so that work on the widening of the entrances to the streets may begin, council announced Monday night at their monthly meeting.

Two hundred maple trees have been delivered to Lennoxville residents who placed orphans and 5,000 spruce trees have been planted, Alderman Albert Raycraft reported.

Alderman Frank Taylor, chairman of the finance committee, will make an extensive study of the unpaid accounts which in his opinion are difficult, if not impossible to collect and will make a recommendation to council at the next meeting as to what action should be taken.

At Rotary Club

Local businessman gives views on European and Israeli sites

A Sherbrooke businessman's first impressions of some of the famous cities of the world he visited recently were outlined at the Sherbrooke Rotary Club Tuesday night.

Cleanliness and color first struck Lewis Rosenbloom in Rome.

"I think it is probably the cleanest city in the world," he said. "The streets, hotels, restaurants, and especially the farms are absolutely immaculate." He said the rusty color of the buildings, with red tile roofs and old farm buildings, most of them over 100 years old in Roman brick, were most striking in color.

While in Rome Mr. Rosenbloom got in on an audience with the Pope. "It was really a state affair," he said, "but most noticeable was the large number of people in audience, some there out of curiosity and others because of a deep feeling for their faith," he said.

Florence, Mr. Rosenbloom, said, was a perfect vacation spot for anyone interested in arts. Streets too narrow to open an umbrella in and gala gondolas were first impressions of Venice, Mr. Rosenbloom said. "We even saw a cargo of Coca Cola go past on a gondola," he said. Every building, he said, had two entrances, one from the street and one from the canals.

Mr. Rosenbloom although English-speaking noted how useful his little knowledge of French was in Europe. "Many of the people I met knew little if any English but we managed to get by with French, which a majority of them had some command of."

In Milan, music and arts dominated the tourist's mind, he said.

Mr. Rosenbloom's first reaction in Israel strangely enough was the aroma of orange blossoms and fruits. In Israel the blossoms and the fruit come forth at the same time.

"Probably even more striking is the beauty of the children there," he said. "They are out-of-doors all the time and are well-taken care of."

Thirdly, was the shortage of water. "There are only about 29 days of rain in Israel and everywhere we went we noticed how no water was ever wasted."

Mr. Rosenbloom said it surprised him to see Hebrew spoken so much by so many people. "Hebrew, I thought, was

Opening gates to Red China refugees

A national American magazine recently made a fervent appeal for the United States and the rest of the free world to open their gates wider to the thousands of refugees who have fled, and who continue to flee, from the harsh Communist regime in Red China.

Now, the Hong King Human Rights Council has called on Canada and other relatively unpopulated countries of the free world to provide some living space for these unfortunate people.

The Council points out that Hong Kong — which, under British rule, has been accepting many more of the refugees than any one place should have to — has almost reached the saturation point.

There are few places outside of Asia where Red Chinese immigrants can find refuge at the present time. On this continent, in South America and in Australia and New Zealand, restrictive immigration laws against Orientals bar the refugees.

Canada's laws in this regard are not quite as harsh as Australia's. Our regulations at least permit a small quantity of "respectable" and well-connected Chinese to enter Canada; Australia normally will not allow any in.

These regulations are indicative of a trend of thought that has so far kept the problem of Red Chinese immigrants at arm's length.

The problem, of course, is one of race and color.

In the fall of 1956, during the rape of Hungary by Russian forces, Canada, along with other free world countries was only too happy to waive normal immigration proceedings and allow large numbers of Hungarians to enter this country virtually without restriction.

How will we respond to the Hong Kong Human Rights appeal?

Well, there will probably be many dark mutterings about the unemployment situation, about flooding the Canadian labor market with cheap hands, about extra burdens on our social welfare system, about the sociological difficulties, about just about everything except the stark fact of an unreasonable dislike for people with yellow skins and an alien cultural tradition.

It is to be hoped, however, that our national leaders will rise above these prejudices, and give the appeal the answer it deserves. Certainly, it is not expected that Canada should do the whole job, but we can at least follow the Council's suggestion that we amend our immigration laws to absorb a few thousand immigrants from Hong Kong every year. The example as well as the action could open closed portals elsewhere, and serve notice on the Communist world that democracy can still be a way of life as well as a fine-sounding word.

Enduring remainder of public service

In naming four new streets after persons still alive, the Lennoxville town council has paid a high compliment to people whose devoted service has helped the municipality progress.

Baker Street, for instance, was named for one Lennoxville's pioneer families. It was also in recognition of the work of the late W. W. Baker and of his son, W. R. Baker, who is still living in the community. Both served as town secretary-treasurers.

Codere Street, on the other hand, is a tribute to Louis Codere who made his home in Lennoxville before moving to Sherbrooke and who served on the council.

Two other men, Robert McMurray and Albert Raycraft, have both done yeoman service for the benefit of the town. Mr. McMurray served as mayor and alderman for many years. Although he is one of the town's senior citizens, he still fills the post of justice of the peace.

Mr. Raycraft, the dean of the council has given 24 years of his time in the public interest.

The street names will be enduring reminders that a community thrives on the selfless-efforts and dedication of its public-spirited citizens.

Some love affairs are really taken to heart, others to court.

Word coiners enjoying field day

They're at it again! Those word coiners.

In a single issue of a sedate United States newspaper, discussions of economic problems brought forward two brand new words — "disemployment" and "wellfluence."

Disemployment is in itself a result of another comparatively new word, automation and according to its proponents it means the decrease in employment associated with increased productivity.

But lest this definition prove too technical, the alternative suggested is: The total decline in employment associated with the decline in unit-man-hours.

However, for the benefit of the extremely stupid, as represented by most of us, it means jobs lost through the introduction of more efficient machinery.

Similarly, "wellfluence" is rather hard to define, but it is described as the condition which exists when the welfare state transforms itself into the affluent society. It results when welfare payments in one form or another make it more profitable for a man or woman to loaf than to seek employment.

Regardless of the economic or political implications of these two words, they do illustrate the claim that English is a living and growing language.

Some of the words which make their appearance from time to time may be monstrosities, but sometimes they do serve a real purpose.

For an example, a Canadian politician who recently charged his opponent was suffering from "intellectual silivosis" explained the disease thus:

"Gathering of dust in that part of the head which houses the brain in an ordinary individual."

Other papers say:

Test decision, one of moral courage

In the sea called Pacific, meaning peaceful, near the island called Christmas the ordeal of another series of atmospheric nuclear testing begins.

The ban-the-bomb marchers have no monopoly on regret.

Until the last, who has not hoped that by some miracle in Geneva the vicious chain of terror could be broken? What a joyful Spring we should be entering if men had found a way to put behind the weapons the whole world abhors.

allow that dream to be entertained in the light of our common day. From the moment President Kennedy announced some two months ago his decision to allow preparations for testing to go ahead, all the signs have inexorably pointed to the inevitability of this moment.

Compassionate and earnest voices cry out for moral courage to oppose the testing.

But what required more moral courage of President Kennedy?

It took moral courage beyond the capacity of any of us to know — because we do not know the responsibility — for Mr. Kennedy to order the tests to begin again. Neither the President nor anyone else is speaking smugly about the wisdom of the decision. That is left for history to judge. But let no one say that it was not courageous. The easier way by far would have been not to act.

Mr. Kennedy offered frank, full and convincing arguments why, unless a test-ban was negotiated in the meantime, the United States should go ahead with the new tests. (Ottawa Journal)

How west winds blow — 2

Campaign is a slow-moving one but extravagant claims are made

By RAY ARGYLE

VANCOUVER — Politicians' election predictions can be many splendored things, and in the West all parties are making extravagant claims of voter support in what is still a slow-moving campaign.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson, for example, predicts up to 100 of his party's candidates winning election June 18.

Tommy Douglas sees "40 or 50" New Democratic supporters in the next Parliament. . . enough to hold the balance of power.

These predictions, made straight-faced and usually reported straight-faced, are normally thrown off during any campaign to catch the voter who wants to be on the winning side.

One party stalwart (who will remain anonymous) declared to me that his party was sure of winning six seats in a certain western province. But he quickly added: "That's off the record, of course. If it's for publication, we're going to win 12!"

The "battle of the predictions" hasn't so far faded any of the candidates.

Progressive Conservatives, who held 66 of the 72 Western seats in the last parliament, expect just as much success this time out.

Terry Nugent, BC MP for Edmonton-Strathcona, predicted to me that Social Credit will not win a single seat anywhere in Canada, and that the PC's will again take all 17 Alberta seats.

OLD THRILL But the thrill of hearing a national leader introduced as "the next prime minister of Canada" always brings the party faithful to their feet.

When Liberal leader Pearson appeared in Victoria recently, he got just this kind of an introduction. Pearson also appeared pleased with the response he got from another line which he will probably use with increasing frequency during the campaign: "The talk I had with the President . . . referring to his visit to Washington for a Nobel Prize-winners' dinner at the White House."

Pearson was in Victoria to whip up support for ex-Navy officer David Gross, one of the half dozen candidates the Liberals are banking on electing in B.C. June 18.

Conservatives took 18 of B.C.'s 22 seats in 1958, the other four going CCF.

With the New Democratic party the strongest threat to the government on the west coast, Liberals are campaigning as the "only alternative" to the PC's.

The only test the PC government has had west of the Rockies since 1958 was the 1961 by-election in Esquimalt-Saanich where Liberal Groos came within 545 votes of capturing the seat formerly held by George Parkes. PC George Chatterton, who retained the seat for the government, is rated only a 50-50 chance of winning again.

Liberals also figure to take at least three Vancouver area seats from the government. They're counting on electing former provincial leader Arthur Laing in Ernest Broome's South Vancouver riding; J. R. Nicholson in Vancouver Centre where Chinese-Canadian Douglas Jung is in trouble; and Rhodes Scholar economist John Davies in Bill Payne's riding of Coast-Caplanova.

External Affairs minister Howard Greene in Vancouver Quadra and Justice minister Davie Fulton in Kamloops are considered shoo-ins.

Also expected to win reelection handily are the four former CCF MPs. They are strongman Harold Winch in Vancouver East, divorce crusader Frank Howard in Skeena, veteran H. W. Herdige in Kootenay West and Erhart Regier in Burnaby-Coquitlam.

BRIGHTEST HOPE New Democrats expect to elect at least another half dozen members. Their brightest hopes are pinned on Vancouver newspaper columnist Barry Mather who is running in New Westminster; Robert Pritto in Burnaby-Richmond (the NDP controls all provincial seats in the riding); firebrand Colin Cameron in Nanaimo; and former provincial leader and No. 1 vote getter in civic politics, Arnold Webster in Vancouver Kingsway.

A seat all parties regard as up for grabs in the Vancouver Island riding of Comox Alberni where former CCF'er William Moore, mayor of Courtenay, is running for the Liberals against the PC's H. McQuillan.

Social Credit delayed nominating most of its candidates until this week but the party plans a whirlwind campaign promoting the need for Secord members in parliament to protect B.C.'s interests at Ottawa.

Social Credits is expected to pick up Tory votes — if not seats — and Liberals and NDP candidates hope to pick off several seats with the help of the Secords.

All through the West, foreign trade and the Common Market have turned up as issues of surprising importance.

Conservatives have maintained much of their prairie farm support as a result of the China grain sales and the success of Agriculture minister Alvin Hamilton's appeal for orderly marketing of beef cattle. Prices, instead of falling as expected, actually rose.

British Columbia, which sells 70 per cent of its manufactures to foreign markets — and almost all of its fish, lumber and aluminum overseas — is especially dependent on foreign trade.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker believes he has won Western support as a result of his lobbying with London on the need for Commonwealth trade protection when Britain enters the European Common Market. Liberals in the West say the PM has been fighting a lost cause and should instead be concentrating on the adjustments in trade patterns that Canada will have to develop to offset United Kingdom trade losses.

PRO-LIBERAL Newspaper support for the parties in the West is confined to the Liberals and PC's with Liberals having the edge in this department. Only three of Western Canada's 10 leading dailies have declared in support of the Conservatives.

The Vancouver Sun, which supported the Conservatives in 1957 and 1958, announced it would support the Liberals again in this election because "the Conservative promise has proved only a disappointment."

At this stage of the campaign, Liberals and New Democrats look as if they can each win about 15 seats in the West, which would still give the PC's 42 Western seats.

New Democrats could raise their B.C. representation from four to six or seven, add perhaps two seats in Saskatchewan, and four to six in Manitoba. Liberals could win half a dozen in B.C. and two or three in each of the prairie provinces, plus the Mackenzie river riding in the North West Territories.

Social Credit, even with a substantial pick-up in votes, could still be blanked in the fight for House seats.

If this happens, Liberals would have to hold Conserva-

Where East meets East

Nepal China's next target?

By BERNARD HARRISON

What is Asia's most wait-listed air route? Where are hotels booked furthest ahead? The likely answer is Katmandu, capital of Nepal, a country open to visitors less than a decade.

Right now, it is a prime tourist attraction. If your travels take you anywhere near Nepal, see it while you may. No visitors reach neighboring Tibet, and Nepal could well be the next morsel for the Chinese dragon — very appetizing, with its valuable forest products, undeveloped mineral resources and eavesdropper's access to India.

We jostled politely with Communist Chinese passengers at Katmandu airport. Communist literature dominated the newstand at the Royal Hotel. This rambling old warren was once a palace of the Rana family, who usurped and retained, for over one hundred years, the power of the Nepal throne.

King Mahendra's father regained power only eleven years ago. The prime minister of the one and only elected government of Nepal has been in prison since December, 1960. To the royal annoyance, a democratic government in exile, headed by General S. S. J. B. Rana (yes one of the family) the last deputy prime minister, looks on and criticizes from India.

One fine evening I called on the general. No sentries guard his headquarters. The garden gate was open, as was the front door. The leader-in-exile of the opposition, Bharat Shum Shere, beckoned me to come upstairs. Soon the general appeared, informally dressed, a friendly terrier for companion. Denying complicity in the recent frontier raids, reputedly India-based, General Rana explained them as spontaneous revolts against tyranny and oppression. He protested his loyalty to the throne, having been one of those who fought for the restoration in 1951. He believes that, outside the fortress capital of Katmandu, the king has lost touch with the people.

In Katmandu, the economic overshadowed the political. Poverty, squalor, and medieval industrialization are the real oppressors. Tiny pocket-market faces smile upward in supplication for your minutest charity. The menfolk, such redoubtable warriors, seem grimy ghosts of the Gurkha regiments' dignity and prowess. Expediency forces their homeland to accept advice from one or both of their two giant neighbors — China and India. Either one makes strange company for a monarchy. Considering its own problems, India's aid, quoted at $56 millions has not been ungenerous, strings or no. For all that, India is in Nepal's dog-house for granting asylum to the government in exile. The Nepalese also question what help they could expect from a country unable to secure its own frontiers against Chinese encroachment. They are afraid too, that India has never forgotten that Gurkhas helped Britain suppress the Indian mutiny in 1857.

China's offer to build paper and cement mills for Nepal caused India, and the rest of the world, very little concern. When the Communists offered a road to join the capital, Katmandu, with Tibet, India saw it as a Chinese dagger at its throat. But Nepal and Tibet have long been trading partners. And, to a country more than five hundred miles long, with only sixty miles of railroad and a few hundred miles of motorable highway, the offer of a road to hell might seem attractive.

Nepal's expenditure on education this year will amount to around three-quarters of a million dollars — that for a country with half Canada's population. The only bigger budget items are defense, the police, and the royal household. The Russians are taking Nepalese children of high school age for a five-year educational course. A government spokesman asked whether, say, Canadian service clubs might be approached for comparable help. He pleaded, "You don't even need to pay for their education. Just let them live and work in your country, so that, one day, they may bring back to their homeland knowledge and experience of your way of life." (TNS)

Sunshine Tea sponsored by Knowlton Group

KNOWLTON — A delightful Sunshine Tea, under the auspices of St. Paul's Women's Auxiliary was held in the Church Hall, May 1, when members of the United Church Women, ladies from the Nesbitt Anglican Residence and the St. Paul's Ladies Missionary group were guests.

The Junior W.A. of St. Paul's Church sang two Easter songs. Mrs. J. H. Walsh read a letter from the secretary of the Forgotten Patients Department of the Verdun Protestant Hospital, telling of the progress of the patients adopted by the various organizations here.

Mrs. Alexander Hutchison, guest speaker gave a vivid description of her recent trip to Uganda, Africa, where she visited her son, Rev. Eric Hutchison and family. Besides telling of her trip, beginning at the time she boarded the plane at Dorval Airport, until her return home, she gave a most comprehensive picture of conditions in Uganda, as she saw them.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. F. M. Bowen and thanked by Mrs. E. C. Pilson.

Following the talk, tea was served with Mrs. Thomas Boyd and Mrs. J. H. Walsh pouring. Mrs. George Porritt, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Pilson, Mrs. Eva Bradley, Mrs. Norman Page and Mrs. Bert Smith, was in charge of the kitchen.

The dining room was looked after by Mrs. T. E. R. Nurse, and Mrs. S. C. Robson. Serving the guests were Martha Page, Nancy Crandall, Carolyn Westcott and Margaret Ross.

At the conclusion of the tea, the W.A. executive met and formulated plans for the annual rummage sale, which has had to be postponed to May 16, in the Church Hall at 12 noon. Committees were appointed for this event.

Miss Louise Williams has invited Auxiliary members to her home for the May meeting, when they will be entertained at a luncheon.

Legion Auxiliary reports sizable bank balance

FITCH BAY — At the May meeting of the Ladies Legion Auxiliary in Georgeville at the home of Comrade Henry Dixon, Comrade Adams reported receipts from the collectors for the Red Cross of Fitch Bay and Georgeville, the bank balance as $249.30, without $10 to be deducted. Dues of $10 were received.

Comrade Sheldon reported proceeds of $6 from a card party and raffle, the raffled crocheted dolly being won by Comrade Eva Pelkie.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale at Georgeville, the date to be set by the appointed committee.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED
No applications have been received for the scholarship, but should be made soon to the secretary, Mrs. George Hornby, of Georgeville. This is a $50 cash gift to a Grade 10 or 11 student. If none eligible a Grade 9 pupil may apply. Open to children of Fitch Bay and Georgeville veterans only.

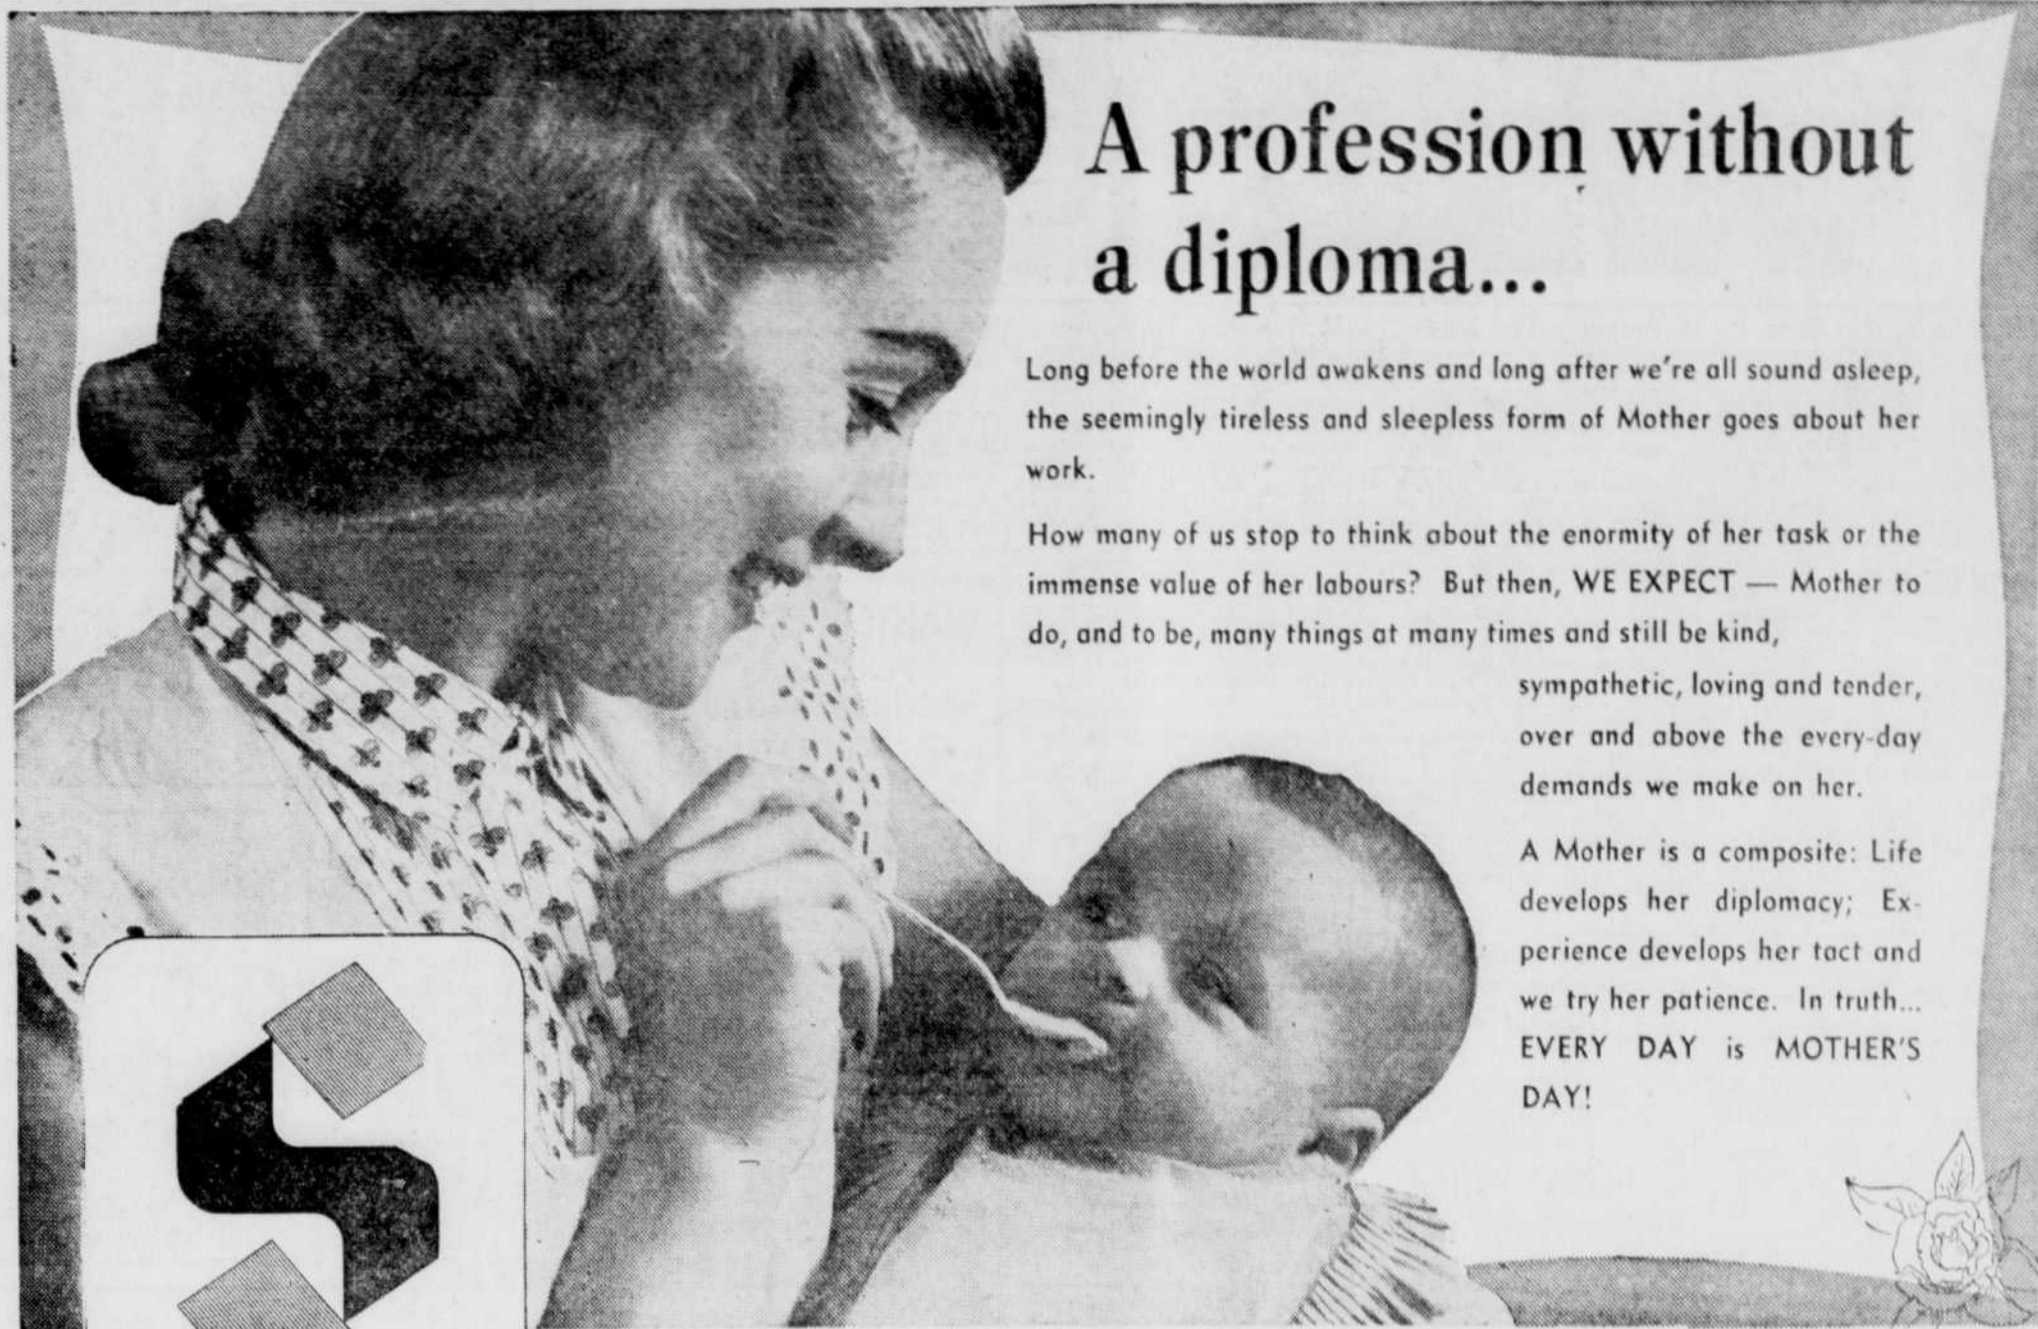

Comrade Dixon reported visiting Capt. John McEwan in the Julius Richards Nursing Home, Montreal, finding him happy to be remembered by the Auxiliary.

The Fitch Bay sick fund committee was requested to remember a sick veteran, Rufus Davis of the 117th Battalion who is still in the Military Hospital at Ste. Anne de Bellevue. A card for him was signed by all.

After the meeting refreshments were served, with a number of Senior members present. All were pleased to greet Comrade Henry Dixon at home again.

HIGH FOREST —

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Law and Mrs. Wm. Snowitch, of Montpelier, Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Law Jr., of Burlington, Vt., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lowry.

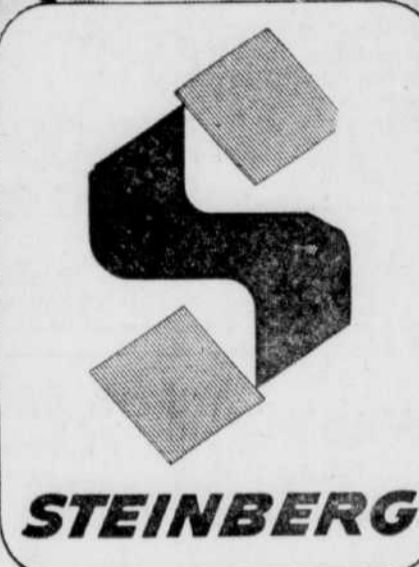

A profession without a diploma...

Long before the world awakens and long after we're all sound asleep, the seemingly tireless and sleepless form of Mother goes about her work.

How many of us stop to think about the enormity of her task or the immense value of her labours? But then, WE EXPECT — Mother to do, and to be, many things at many times and still be kind, sympathetic, loving and tender, over and above the every-day demands we make on her.

A Mother is a composite: Life develops her diplomacy; Experience develops her tact and we try her patience. In truth... EVERY DAY is MOTHER'S DAY!

Women become tight-wads for reason

In most United States families, it's the wife who's the tightwad.

At least that's what a pilot study conducted by the Public relations Board shows. In most households, papa is pretty open-handed, watching his wife and children to have whatever they want that he can possibly provide. It's mama who pinches the pennies.

Unless anyone gets the idea that women are natural-born tightwads, it is only fair to point out that in any family someone has to watch the pennies.

Wives often have to assume the role of penny-pinchers simply because their husbands enjoy being open-handed about money.

After all, if a man gets a glow of pride and satisfaction out of being the kind of good provider who hates to say "no" to anything his wife or children want, somebody has to keep the family from going bankrupt.

So mama, instead of taking big-hearted, open-handed papa at his word when he is being generous, often gives him credit for wanting her to have the things she knows they can't afford without actually buying them.

For instance, papa sees mama's eyes light up as she stops to look at a display of mink stoles. So, papa says magnanimously, "Let's get you one; you've been wanting one for years."

When mama refuses to go in the store, she is being the family tightwad—financially speaking. But actually she is making it possible for papa to be as generous and open-handed as he likes to be. He has had all the fun of making a generous gesture, and it hasn't cost him a cent or wrecked the family budget.

The same thing is true when mama marches downtown to return some faulty item that papa bought but wouldn't think of taking back, himself. It doesn't humiliate mama to return a purchase that turns out to be a lemon. Again she plays the tightwad role.

If women refused to play the role of tightwad, then the men would have to take it. They needn't worry about that. Any woman with an ounce of femininity would rather be a tightwad than be married to one. It's really as simple as that.

Bath Beats Pills

Unless there's a medical reason for taking them, shun sleeping pills. Try a warm bath as a safe, relaxing sedative.

St. Faith's Guild

Maytime tea proves a social success

St. Faith's Guild held a very successful Maytime Tea on Monday afternoon, May 7 in St. Peter's Memorial Hall. Daffodils and pussy-willows were used to decorate the hall and upon the stage was a large green basket of daffodils and pussy-willows. The food table and window sills were also centred with arrangements of daffodils and pussy-willows. In charge of the decorations was Mrs. Guy Bryant and Mrs. Lennox Wilson.

The many guests were welcomed by Mrs. E. B. Peabody and Mrs. R. D. Rice, with Mrs. George Chapman acting as cashier.

Spring flowers were used on the individual tables and the lace covered tea table was centred with a large silver bowl of daffodils and pussy-willows, flanked by yellow candles in silver candelabra. Pouring tea was Mrs. Lennox Wilson, Mrs. E. Grigsby, Miss A. Baldwin, Mrs. H. Baugh. The tea replenishers were Mrs. S. E. Dufour and Mrs. F. Clark.

The tea was convoked by Mrs. W. Hunter and Mrs. Lynn Atto and the tea tables were cared for by Mrs. R. D. Rice, assisted by Mrs. B. Bishop, Miss B. Giroux, Mrs. H. C. Bennett, Mrs. G. Kandalaft, Mrs. K. Bartlett, Mrs.

Lynn Atto and Mrs. J. D. R. Franklin.

Hot scones, delicious homemade jams, cheese and squares were served, making this tea a little out of the ordinary.

The table of delectable foods looked very attractive with a basket of daffodils, placed at one end of the table. Here were to be found, home-baked breads, squares jams etc. and was presided over by Mrs. J. Corfield, Mrs. H. L. Pettis and Mrs. Bert Simm. Mrs. Gordon Stewart acted as cashier.

The very lovely table of aprons and fancy articles were cared for by Mrs. Guy Bishop, Miss Gertrude Fox and Mrs. C. K. Bartlett.

The arduous task of kitchen duties were ably carried out by Mrs. Frank Milne, Miss G. Parrock, Mrs. Reford Stewart and Mrs. E. M. Wiggett.

Couple honored at bridal supper in South Bolton

SOUTH BOLTON — Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Barnes entertained 30 guests at their home at a buffet supper on April 28, in honor of their daughter, Faye, and Ross Cote, of Vale Perkins, who were married that day in Westfield, Vt.

The couple was presented with many beautiful gifts with the congratulations and best wishes of their relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cote have taken up residence in part of the dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. Wightman.

HONORED AT SHOWER

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Cote was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower which took place at the home of Mrs. O. Wightman.

On arrival the guest of honor was greeted by 60 or more friends from this vicinity, Knowlton Landing, Vale Perkins, Mansonville, and Potton.

She was then escorted to a special seat before a table decorated in pink and white and laden with gifts. Since her mother Mrs. Matthew Barnes, was unable to be present, Mrs. Levi Cote, the groom's mother, and Mrs. Jones, his grandmother, assisted in opening the parcels which contained beautiful and useful gifts. The recipient voiced her appreciation.

Lunch served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lindsay Davis, Mrs. Dick Burnham, Mrs. Wightman, and their helpers, included a bride's cake decorated by Mrs. Wightman.

STANBRIDGE EAST —

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stone, of Cowansville, spent a weekend with the former's mother, Mrs. Ethel Stone, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Witts. Other weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. Aiken and family, of East Farnham.

Miss Sheila Westover, who underwent a tonsillectomy in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, spent a week with her parents, before returning to her teaching duties at St. John's High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore have rented their home and left by jet on April 27 for St. Lucia in the Windward Islands, where they will make their home. Their daughters, Valerie and Margo, are being taken care of by Mrs. Harold Blinn until school closing, when Margo plans to join her parents and Valerie will seek a position in Montreal. The Misses Moore, after bidding their parents farewell at the airport, spent the weekend with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mignan, in Montreal.

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Gage took place at the morning service at the United Church on April 29. The baby received the names, Floyd Sellwood.

Delegates to the Diocesan Synod meeting of the St. James Anglican Church, May 1, in Montreal, were Messrs. G. Hamilton, James Cheek, George Hayes and H. Guthrie.

The District of Bedford annual Masonic church service was held in the Trinity Church, Cowansville, on Sunday afternoon, April 29. Over 80 were present. Following the service, members assembled in the Lodge Room for a special meeting, after which refreshments were served.

COATICOOK —

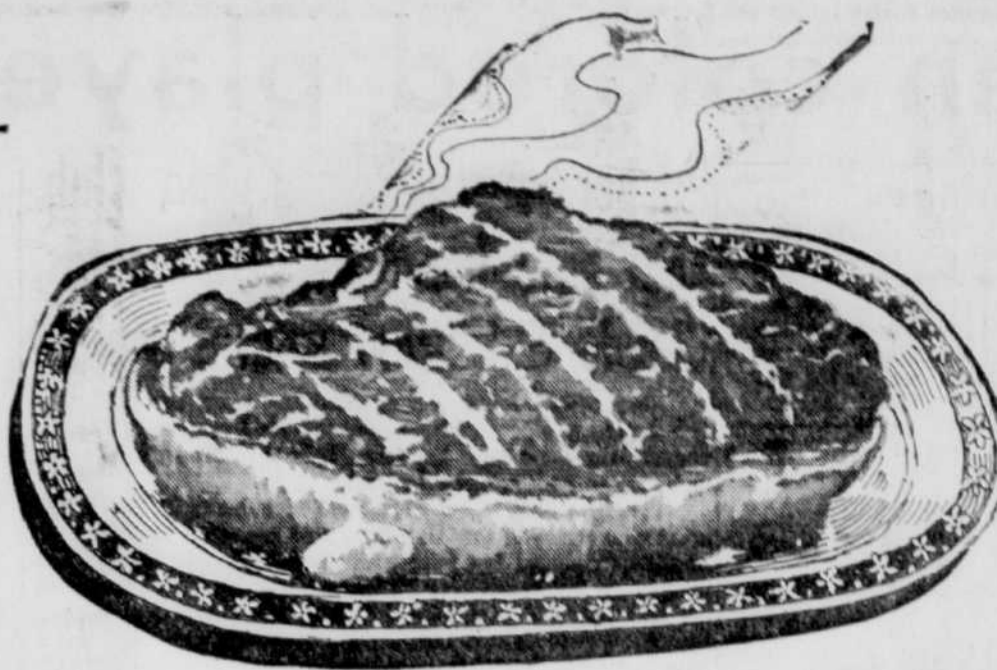

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hansford were recently in Portland, Me., having been called there by the death of their uncle, Mr. Charles Jordan. Mrs. Jordan was formerly Beatrice Bryan, of Coaticook. Mr. and Mrs. Hansford also visited relatives in Boston.

Mr. R. A. Rosenberg was in Sherbrooke on May 1 to attend a banquet and program by the Quebec Industrial Safety Office.

The annual church parade of Ashlar Masonic Lodge will be held this year in the Baptist Church with Rev. Emrys Jenkins presiding. Brethren from other lodges in the area are invited to the regular Sunday morning worship hour on May 30th.

Two American colored players sign with Alouettes

Herb Elliott benched by Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Martin Heath, former British degree here. He recently announced his retirement from bigtime competition. Elliott, whose 3:54.5 record for the mile stood for almost four years, ran a bad last in the four-year-old race of the British Amateur Athletic Association.

Pitcher, first-baseman join club, both have impressive US records, Claude St-Vincent returns tonight

Sherbrooke Alouettes announced last night the signing of two American colored players for the 1962 campaign. The announcement came after the Larks held their first practice last night at the Park Avenue Stadium.

The first player is a 20-year-old right-handed curve ball artist who comes to the Als with a fine record to back him up. Al Hooker, played last year with the Indianapolis Clowns and pitched his club to victory 21 times while losing only once. In the year previous he won 14 and lost 5. Born in St. Petersburg, Fla., the young right-hander owns a deceiving curve ball and a good fast ball.

Al Hooker

Lew Skinner

Hooker just did manage to get to the Als first. He was detained for some time yesterday at the customs office in Rock Island. Yvon Ellyson, general manager of the team, was called to the border before Hooker was allowed to come through.

The other American player is a 21-year-old first baseman who also sports an impressive background. Lew Skinner also played with the Clowns last year and finished the season with a .350 average. He hit 27 home runs and finished the year high on the league's RBI list with 103.

Both players seemed to like Sherbrooke although there was some difference of opinion on the weather. Don't worry boys, winter 1962 is over and we want that warm weather as much as you do.

The Larks have called another practice for tonight and officials plan to sign more prospects. The team plays its first game at home Sunday, when they play host to the Quebec Braves in an exhibition game.

Claude St. Vincent, coach of the team, will be here for this evening's practice. Claude has just returned from Trail B.C. where he was with the Montreal Olympics in their unsuccessful Allan Cup bid against the Smokies.

Dick Donovan and Willie Tasby payoff for their new club with limely hitting as Indians win

Cleveland general manager Gabe Paul has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

The two often-peddled players, both acquired from Washington Senators, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Twins Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland within one game of the American League-leading New York Yankees.

Paul got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

The 29-year-old Tasby, who hit .251 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-5 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

In that stanza, Donovan aided his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby stroked his hit.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 24-year-old righthander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned-run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Meanwhile, Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit Tigers to a 10-1 triumph over Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore and Chicago-Washington were postponed due to rain.

7 --- Putting

Putting offers more leeway to the player than any other phase of golf.

I never saw two people who putted exactly alike, but there is one thing common to all good golfers. They don't move their heads. Too many forget that they must keep their heads fixed in relation to the ball.

PAUL HARNEY "You're moving your head"

When Paul Harney failed to qualify for the United States Open at Inverness in Toledo in 1957, he went home to Worcester, Mass., to lick his wounds. He played a few rounds with his dad.

remember about putting is that your stance must be comfortable and give you the feeling that you can't miss. You must have confidence. It doesn't matter a bit if the putting style that gives it to you makes you look more like a contortionist. Some of our best players look just as funny as you ever could on the greens.

NEXT: Irons.

"Son," said Papa Harney, "you're moving your head when you putt." Paul corrected the fault and went on to win the next two big tournaments. Another important thing to Pitching — Jay Hook, Mets, pulled New York out of National League cellar with four-hitter that beat Chicago Cubs 3-1.

Red Wings win Memorial Cup in rough battle

E. T. Track Association competed in Montreal Meet, Nancy Smith wins juvenile shot-put crown

MONTREAL — The Eastern Townships Track Association made its first showing here Sunday at the Paul Sauve Sports Center with some good results. In these Montreal Indoor Championships, E.T.A.A. received two firsts, four seconds, one third and two fourths for 26 points as a team effort and placed seventh with West Isle winning the aggregate, 60 points.

In the Bantam division Marlene Rediker of Beebe ran the 50 yd. in 6.9 seconds to take second place. In the boys section Wayne Morrison of Stanstead leaped 4 ft. 10 in. to capture a second place in that event.

Winston Ingalls of Ayer's Cliff took first place in the Mid-get high jump with 5 ft. 2 in., while Bob Crawford tied for fourth in that event. Ingalls also came in third in the 50 yd. dash.

Nancy Smith won the Juvenile girls shot put championship with a toss of 29 ft. 1 1/2 in., well ahead of second place. In the boys high jump Morgan Barnes of Rock Island took second place. In this same section Paul Coulombe took fourth in the mile. George Cooke of Rock Island placed second, in the 220 yard dash in the Junior section to complete the scoring for E.T.T.A.

The Eastern Townships Track Association will be recruiting new members from all parts of the Townships in the near future. Certain standards have to be met by the athletes in order to belong to the Association.

The team is coached and managed by J. Terauds of Stanstead and the purpose of the organization is to encourage interest in track and physical fitness in the Townships, and also to sponsor better athletes to higher competition on Provincial and Dominion levels.

Three goals within a minute and 23 seconds payoff for Red Wings, Howie Young and Eddie Bush clash

KITCHENER (CP) — Three goals in a minute and 23 seconds of the third period Tuesday night brought Hamilton Red Wings their first Memorial Cup.

The scoring spree, climaxing a wild game that took 3 1/4 hours to complete, gave the Wings a 7-4 victory over Edmonton Oil Kings to set up the best-of-seven series for the Canadian junior hockey championship 4-1.

It was played before a screaming, sell-out crowd of 7,071 who paid a gross gate of $16,402 at the beautiful Kitchener Memorial Auditorium — worth more than $9,000 to the two clubs and the biggest gate in the hockey history of this city, the home of Kitchener-Waterloo Beavers of the Eastern Professional League.

"It was a lot of hard work by a lot of good hockey players that won it for us," summed up Hamilton coach Eddie Bush after the smoke had settled.

And smoke there was — not only on the ice but in the stands, where two fights developed.

One involved Bush, Det. Sgt. Charles Bignell of the Kitchener police and Howie Young, explosive former defenceman of Detroit Red Wings who was demoted to Edmonton Flyers of the Western League last season in hopes of cooling him down.

Bush emerged from the tussle unscathed. The policemen went to hospital with facial cuts and Young wound up in the jug awaiting possible charges.

The spectators, doing their best to prolong the struggle, littered the ice with debris including a bottle of green ink. A further delay was caused in the third period when Harrison Gray, Edmonton's brilliant goaltender, was struck in the head by the puck and had to retire for stitches.

Lowell MacDonald of Thornburn, N.S., scored twice for the new champions as did Wayne Rivers. Howie Menard, Pit Martin and Paul Henderson got the others.

Marc Dufour, Roger Bourbonnais, Butch Paul and Vince Downey scored for the westerners.

Surging Giants edge Cards 4-3 on combined efforts of Cepeda and Marichal, Mets move out of cellar

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. And whatever became of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

Taking on their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night, the Giants carried away a 4-3 victory over St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson—who'd whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span—and withstand a late Cardinal threat. But they did both on the pitching of Juan Marichal (5-2) and the hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in the last 13 games.

Meanwhile, Los Angeles Dodgers counter-rallied against Houston Colts for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings, Philadelphia Phillies trimmed Cincinnati Reds 6-4 and New York Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago Cubs into the cellar by downing them 3-1. The Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates were rained out at Milwaukee.

JACKSON VICTIMIZED

The Marichal-Cepeda combination paced the Giants, with Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey chipping in with vital hitting help. Cepeda slugged a two-run double against Jackson (3-3) in the first inning, then he and Alou connected for successive doublers in the eighth, breaking a 2-2 tie. Bailey came through with a single, delivering what proved to be the winning run.

The Cards hit the long ball against Marichal, a homer and double by Stan Musial, a homer by Carl Sawatski and Ken Boyer's double. Sawatski's homer and Boyer's double came in the bottom of the ninth, but Marichal weathered the uprising for his fifth complete game and the ninth in 11 games for Giant pitchers.

The amazing 41-year-old Musial, with a host of records already to his credit and on the way to more, climbed into the league batting lead with a .388 average.

The Dodgers dissipated a five-run lead against the rambunctious Colts but pulled it out behind the hitting of rookie Larry Burright and Maury Willis. Burright, who tripled and doubled earlier, legged out a bunt single off Bob Tiefenauer (1-1) with two away in the 10th and moved to third on Frank Howard's pinch single. Willis cashed in the winner with his third single of the night, then two more runs scored on Dick Farrell's wild pitch and catcher Merritt Ranew's bad throw.

Reliever Ron Perranoski (2-0) was the winner.

The Colts collected 10 hits against Sandy Koufax and Larry Sherry, who also gave up a bases-filled walk apiece.

Cincinnati was given one chance after another by Philadelphia's shaky pitching and defence, banging out 15 hits, drawing four walks and helped along by three Phillie errors. But the telling figure was the 16 runners stranded by the Reds. Winning southpaw Chris Short (1-1) yielded 12 hits before he was replaced in the eighth by Dallas Green, who was tagged for Frank Robinson's two-run single. Jack Baldschun took over in the ninth with one on, gave up two singles, then set down the final three batters.

Billy Klaus' two-run homer was the big hit as the Phils built a 4-0 lead against Jim O'Toole (2-4) and they nailed it down with two more off Howie Nunn in the sixth.

The Mets eased out of the cellar with help from the Cubs' erratic outfield. One New York run came in when Billy Williams muffed a pop fly for his second two-base error of the game and the Mets wrapped it up when Felix Mantilla's key single skittered through George Altman's legs.

COACH PHILOSOPHICAL

Edmonton coach Buster Brayshaw, who has led the Wings in two of three successive Memorial Cup defeats, was philosophical.

"I thought we deserved a better fate tonight," he said. "I thought we more than matched them, but they only count the shots that go in."

Casey Stengel meets his two new hurlers, Miller and Mizell, and gives them starting assignments

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel peered out of the dugout at Wrigley Field—the first time he had been there since leading his old Boston Braves against Chicago Cubs in 1943.

"Must be a dozen fans up in them stands," said the New York Mets manager. "Must be the cold weather. It couldn't be because the Cubs are playing us."

The opening of the three-game series—the battle of the National League cellar—actually drew 1,396 customers Tuesday. It was the smallest Wrigley Field gathering of the season.

The Cubs lost 3-1 as Jay Hook stifled them on four hits in his second route-going performance of the 1962 campaign. Fielding errors by Billy Williams and George Altman gave the Mets two unearned runs as they climbed out of the basement for the first time while the Cubs dropped to the last spot.

Stengel was in a talkative mood. He told reporters: "I just met my two new pitchers (Vinegar Bend Mizell and Bob G. Miller) and this is what I said to them: 'Miller, how many innings you pitched?' He looked at me and said: 'Three or four.' I said: 'I guess you are ready for anything so now you can consider yourself one of my early starters.'"

"I said to Mizell: 'Can you Angels.

In shots on goal, the play was close. Gray stopped 26, Buddy Blom of Hamilton 27. There were 19 minor penalties, of which the Wings drew 10.

Hamilton was lucky to emerge from the first period with a 2-0 lead on goals by Henderson and MacDonald, the latter deflecting past Gray off Bourbonnais' skate.

Edmonton scored twice in half a minute of the second period to tie it up on goals by Dufour and Bourbonnais and Paul and Young wound up in the jug awaiting possible charges.

The spectators, doing their best to prolong the struggle, littered the ice with debris including a bottle of green ink. A further delay was caused in the third period when Harrison Gray, Edmonton's brilliant goaltender, was struck in the head by the puck and had to retire for stitches.

Lowell MacDonald of Thornburn, N.S., scored twice for the new champions as did Wayne Rivers. Howie Menard, Pit Martin and Paul Henderson got the others.

Marc Dufour, Roger Bourbonnais, Butch Paul and Vince Downey scored for the westerners.
