RESPONSIBILITY FOR BIG WRECK

Placed Upon Engineer And Fireman Of Michigan Central Train Yesterday

Valparaiso Ind., March 4—Responsibility for the death of thirty seven persons in the train wreck Sunday night at the Porter, Ind., intersection of the New York Central and Michigan Central lines, was placed on the Michigan Central engineer and fireman at the inquest held today by Dr. H. O. Seipel, Coroner of Porter County, and they were formally charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Dr. Seipel after several witness to the disaster had testified that the signals were against the Michigan Central, swore out affidavits against the men—William Long, of Niles, Mich., the engineer, and George Block, of Michigan City, Ind., the fireman—and ordered them bound over for trial. They were released late to-night on bonds of $5,000 and $3,500, respectively, furnished by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, which sent a special representative from Cleveland, prepared to give bonds up to $100,000. They declared the union would assist in the defence of Long and Block.

Neither Long nor Block testified at the inquest, although both attended. They issued a formal statement through their attorney, however, declaring that the signal at the derail switch 210 feet from the crossing, gave them a clear track, although the distant block, 4,500 feet away, showed a yellow light which meant that they were to bring their train under control. This was done, they said.

Charges that the railroads were largely to blame for the disaster in maintaining a crossing which they termed a death-trap, were made by the enginemen.

Witnesses today testified that they had seen the home or derail signal was against the Michigan Central train as late as one minute before it reached the crossing where the New York Central flyer crashed in, cutting it in two. The brakemen on a freight train on a siding and the engineer of the freight, gave this testimony.

Another bit of evidence was that the engine crew might have confused a green light on the order board just across the intersection with the derail signal light, both being in the line of vision.

Testimony was given by the conductors of both wrecked trains that the Michigan Central signals were red, or against that train, immediately after the wreck but it was pointed out that any interference with the signals, such as would be caused by the smash-up, automatically would turn the lights to danger.

The Michigan Central train normally had the right of way at the crossing, it was said, but was eight minutes late Sunday night.

Joe Cook, tower man, repeated his story that he had given the New Central the right of way. He said that while he had only worked the levers but once before, he was certain he had made no mistake.

J. A. Roy, conductor of the New York Central train, said his train probably was making 45 or 50 miles an hour when approaching the crossing, while Perry B. Foote, Michigan Central conductor, said his train had been making fifty miles some distance from Porter, but had been brought within the State law limit of 40 miles an hour for crossings when a test of air-brakes was made west of the intersection.

LATEST DIVORCE CASES

CANADIAN V.C. HOME AGAIN

Lt. Michael O'Leary Back In Dominion—Made No Definite Plans

St. John, N.B., March 4—The first Canadian V.C., of the Great War, Lieutenant Michael O'Leary, of Kanturk, Ireland, late of the Irish Guards, arrived in this city today on the C.P.O.S. Empress of Britain, and left shortly afterwards for Ottawa.

It was during the battle of Givenchy in February 1915 that he, singlehanded, charged a German machine-gun nest, slew some eighteen men and then turned the gun on the Huns. After this act O'Leary was called back to Buckingham where King George pinned the Victoria Cross on the Canadian's tunic. In recognition of his gallantry, O'Leary was not only decorated, but awarded a commission with the Connaught Rangers, and the Czar of Russia decorated him with the Cross of St. George of Russia.

O'Leary said he was going to Ottawa, but had made no definite plans for the future. He thinks he will stay in the East, however. His wife and twin boys are in Ireland and will await until daddy has got settled, when they will join him here.

LAST SESSION OF LEAGUE COUNCIL

Swiss Minister To France Expressed Confidence At Closing Session

Paris, March 4—Confidence that in any future cases which might arise between Switzerland and the League of Nations a settlement agreeable to both sides would be reached because of the growing closeness of their relations, was expressed at the closing session of the Council of the League today by Dr. Alphonse Dunant, Swiss Minister to France.

Dr. Dunant made this statement in giving to the Council the reply of his government to the observations recently made by Leon Bourgeois of France to the effect that Switzerland had delivered a blow to the moral prestige of the League by refusing right of way across Switzerland to the League force for police duty during the forthcoming plebiscite in the Vilna area.

The Swiss Federal Council, Dr. Dunant said, recognized that besides the formal juridical obligations arising from the covenant, members of the League had a moral duty to uphold the recommendations of the council and that members called upon to collaborate in any emergency should take into account "not only their private interests, but also the general interests o fthe League."

In view of the present status of the conict between Poland and Lithuania, it is not expected in League circles that the League force will ever be called upon to proceed to Vilna.

EVENTS GREATLY EXCITE MOSCOW

Extraordinary Steps Have Now Been Taken To Prevent Revolts

Riga, March 4—It is reported that there is great excitement in Moscow over the events in Petrograd and that extraordinary steps have been taken to prevent revolts. The city of Moscow has been dividend into four districts for defence and troops are concentrated at strategic points during the night. Troops are also being sent from Moscow to Petrograd.

Soviet newspapers publish an official declaration signed by Premier Lenine and War Minister Trotsky under date of March 2nd, admitting grave disorders, which they say occurred days after the news of disorders was published, thus clearly proving what they term a White Guard conspiracy. Petrograd city and the immediate district have been placed in a state of siege, adds the declaration, and all authority has been placed in the hands of a committee of defence.

The declaration states that Kozlowski and other officers, backed by Socialists, openly mutinied on March 2nd. They arrested M. Kisoin, Commissary of the Baltic Navy, M. Vasiliev, President of Kronstadt, and other administrators.

It says that Kozlovski and his accomplices thus have been made outlaws.

OFFICIAL MESSAGES DENY DISTURBANCES

Moscow Claims All Quiet In Both That City And Petrograd

Riga, Letvia, March 4—Official Moscow wireless messages deny that there are any disturbances in Moscow or Petrograd, M. Tchitcherin, the Foreign Minister, has sent a note to the Letvian Government, describing as lies all Moscow news disseminated by the official Letvian Telegraph Agency, and requiring the recall of the members of the Letvian Mission at Moscow for spreading the news.

Mr. Hanetski, Soviet Representatice in Letvia, and M. Joffe, of the Peace Delegation, have refused an invitation to an official reception, tendered by the Letvian Prime Minister, as a protest against "this campaign of lies." The official Moscow newspapers, however, print resolutions adopted at meetings of Communistic laborers, admitting the existence of strikes and disturbances, while an official Moscow wireless despatch late today referred to the situation in Petrograd, thus:

"The recent revolts of former General Kosvloski and the crew of the steamer Petropavlovsk, were organized by Allied spies."

ENFORCE NEW LAW

Lisbon, March 5—The authorities have decided to put in force an old law for the arrest of any persons who spread false reports. Under this law Dr. Camille Castello the late Minister of Foreign Affairs, in office when the monarchy fell, has been arrested for speaking against the present administration and in favor of his political ideals.

LONDON PRESS IS INTERESTED

In American Attitude To League — Congratulations And Good-Will For Harding

London, March 5—President Harding and his inaugural address are the subject of congratulations and good-will in the London press this morning. The newspapers display great interest in the attitude of the States toward the League of Nations. The Daily Mail says President Harding is a man who may be trusted to make good use of his great power.

The Morning Post expresses the belief that with the introduction of Mr. Harding, the outlook for the present and future relations between the United States and Great Britain were never more pleasant or more hopeful.

This newspapers says it finds nothing in the President's declaration of policy which suggests conflict between British and American ideas.

The Post finds in Mr. Harding's policy of "non-involvement" in European affairs a natural maintenance of the principle on which the Constitution of the United States is founded and which does not exclude that practical association of nations for a definite object, "which is of such incalculable potential value in the world," not only for keeping the peace, but removing occasion for irritation endangering the preservation of peace."

The address of Mr. Harding is regarded by the "Post as virtualy pronouncing the doom of the League of Nations. It declares there can be no effective League without the United States a member.

The Daily News reclares itself able to say nothing but "amen" to President Harding's refusal to enter alliances and his aspirations for peace and disarmament. It regrets, however, that he leaves his attitude toward the League of Nations indeterminate.

The News expresses the earnest hope that the United States will not "by contemptuous indifference or passive discountenance strike a disastrous blow at the hope the League has inspired and thus hurl Europe back into the pit from which it is with such infinite suffering and difficulty climbing.

The Daily Telegraph says Mr. Harding stands for the national craving to return, it may be, to the old tried ways in which the United States found prosperity, relative political tranquility and the general diffusion of happiness that were the envy of the world.

After enumerating the problems before the new Administration the Daily Telegraph concludes:

"The people of this country wish well to the United States statesman who has made himself a warm advocate of cordial amity between his great nation and the British Empire."

The London Times, commenting on that part of the address of President Harding concerning the United States participation and sympathy in international affairs, says that there he spoke the thoughts of civilized humanity. Regarding the President's declarations with regard to the exercise of national sovereignty and that a world super-government could have no sanction in the Republic, the Times says "nor would it be sanctioned by any civilized nation were it proposed."

Referring to Mr. Harding's statement that the people of the United States are ready to encourage a seemly programme the Times says:

"No sensible man of the Allied nations ever doubted it. But the people of the United States will understand that the relation of these ideals to the working of their constitutional institutions is at times a matter of perplexity in Eurcpe" . . .

"There is perplexity now at the attitude of the United States towards the League of Nations, but no tendency to deny the people of the United States the right to decide for themselves the steps they shall take toward the realization of the great ideals which Presiden Harding proclaimed . . .

"His declaration implies some form of obligation and peoples sharing these ideals will look forward with anxious hope to see by what action the President of the United States will redeem this promise to civilized mankind."

The advent of a new administration is welcomed by the Chronicle, which says:

"We shall now be able once more to regard the United States policy as something definite and stable—a very great gain to everybody."

It is of the opinion that the President's reference to disarmament was the principal foreign point in his speech, declaring that Great Britain certainly will do everything possible to support his practically conceived initiative. The principles which Mr. Harding laid down, comments the Express, do not differ materially from those of George Washington.

"Mr. Harding definitely repudiates the principle of the League of Nations," it adds, "so far as we see, he is nothing but an aloof, self-centered American. His statement that the United States is ready to encourage, eager to initiate, anxious to participate in any seemly programme likely to lessen the probability of war and promote that brotherhood of mankind which must be God's highest conception of human relationship, associates the United States with the task of rebuilding the war-shattered world on terms which will be readily accepted by the other English-speaking peoples, the Express says.

The Laborite Herald sums up its impression of Mr. Harding's address as follows:

"The voice of big business rang out with a challenge. Mr. Harding sighed over the prospect of the wage never returning and told the workers, with plenty of thunder, that the United States was no place for revolution."

FRENCH VIEWS VERY VARIED

Regarding Harding's Speech —Range From Approval To Bitterest Criticism

Paris March 4.—The inaugural speech of President Harding to-day created a sensation in French parliamentary circles, where it was discussed with varied comment ranging from the warmest approval to the bitterest criticism. The speech was received too late to be published by the Temps and other afternoon papers.

The paragraph of the speech referring to the payment of war debts and obligations received the greatest attention, being interpreted as meaning that France must repay her loans from the United States but it was declared Germany must also pay for reparations.

"We are quite willing to pay the United States providing Germany pays us," said the former Minister of Finance Klotz one of the signers of the Versailles treaty.

Mr. Harding's reference to a non-involvement policy in European affairs caused deputy Charles Bernhard of the National bloc to declare.

"By this policy of Pontius Pilate, Mr Harding washes his hands of all European affairs. It seems we have fallen from bad to worse—from Wilson to Harding."

Abbe Wetterle, deputy from Alsace, on the contrary, said he thought Mr. Harding's speech quite favorable to France, as it left France free to deal with Germany as she saw fit without interference.

In the absence of Premier Briand in London, Minister of War Barthou the ranking minister refused to make any comment.

Deputy Ramedi, Socialist Radical, declared he thought there were too many references to God in the speech. He declared:

"If the United States engages in war with another Power it will have to rely upon other weapons."

Meanwhile, the Chamber voted immediate mobilization of the class of 1921, which will remain under the colors for eighteen months.

METHODS OF SECURING LIQUOR FROM DISTILLERY

Chief Vendor In B.C. Government Dispensary Off For Old Country

Victoria, B.C., Mar. 4.—It is announced by the Attorney-General's Department that H. A. Urquhart, chief vendor in the Government dispensary in Vancouver was been dispatched to the Old Country in connection with purchases to be made by the British Columbia Government when the new liquor control measure comes into effect.

He will especially obtain information as to more economical and more advantageous methods of securing liquors direct from the distillery. This information will be for the use of the Board of Control to be applied under the new legislation.

It is understood to be no part of the Government's programme to have Mr. Urquhart go into any question of bartering British Columbia salmon for liquor in the Old Country.

SERIOUS NEED FOR REORGANIZATION

Of Police System In Montreal, Judge Weir Tells Court

Montreal, March 4—"There is serious need for the reorganization of the police system in Montreal", said Mr. Justice Weir in speaking to the Court of King's Bench here this afternoon. "Our police organization should be entirely remodelled and it should be completely reorganized and more efficient and intelligent men should be placed at the head of affairs. It is brains that is needed in our police department—brains and ability. Both are sadly lacking today."

This arraignment followed as the result of the trial this afternoon of Henri Beurtin, accused of shop-lifting. The fact that he was insane was so obvious that Mr. Justice Weir expressed astonishment and indignation that he had been kept four months at Bordeaux Jail without a report being made to the Attorney-General and without any attempt being made to transfer Beurtin to an asylum.

ABOLISH LABOR COMMITTEE

New York, March 4.—The National Association of Railway Executives at a meeting to-day voted to abolish its labor committee, asserting that it had virtually completed its work and that further maintenance was a constant invitation to seek a uniform settlement of labor matters, which ought to be settled between each railroad and its own employees.

The Association also decided to stand clear of national boards of adjustment, declaring itself in favor of centralization in labor relations.

ALLIED VERDICT NOT LIKED BY THE GERMANS

Strongly Object To Decision That They Were Responsible For The War

PREPARING REPLY

To Some Of Arguments Used By Lloyd George In Ultimatum

London, March 4—Awaiting advices from Berlin as to whether new proposals are to be submitted to the Allies on Monday, Dr. Simons, the Foreign Secretary, and the German experts are busy preparing a reply to some of the arguments used by Mr. Lloyd George in delivering the Allied ultimatum yesterday. The Germans strongly object to the verdict of the Allies that they were entirely responsible for the war and the Prime Minister's arguments that if they taxed themselves as France and Belgium had done, they would be able to pay what is demanded of them. They claim internal taxes, such as those on sugar, tobacco and spirits have not been taken into account, and they are prepared to produce figures showing the Allies have under-rated their impositions.

With regard to the question of responsibility for the war, the Germans maintain the European Powers were equally at fault and cite a recent speech by Mr. Lloyd George in which he is quoted as saying that the world drifted into the war.

"It is hard to make a man who believes he is innocent say he is guilty," said one of the delegates today. "As for myself I would rather commit suicide than admit Germany alone was responsible. Any Government which made such an admission would promptly be overthrown. So if the Allies are determined to carry out their demands they must impose them upon us; they soon will find that the penalties which they outlined yesterday will not produce what they expect.

It is the general opinion of Germans in London that new propositions will be laid before the Supreme Council but they have no hope they will satisfy the Allies. They say it is impossible to satisfy France and they now fear Mr. Lloyd George from whom they had expected more lenient treatment, considering that he committed himself so far to the French view in his speech yesterday that it is impossible for him to recede.

Speech Is Received

Berlin, March 4—Paul Loebe, President of the Reichstag, today informed the Chamber that he had received in part the speech of David Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister, concerning the penalties to be inflicted on Germany in case of nonfulfillment of the Allied reparations demands. Herr Loebe then read a part of the speech, and added:

"No one in this house will consider these penalties compatible with the treaty of Versailles."

This statement aroused deafening applause in which the galleries joined, while the Independent Socialists and Communists vigorously protested. Herr Hoffmann, Communist, ascended the tribune, but was prevented from speaking by a chorus of "Throw him out!" from the members of the Right.

Herr Hoffmann demanded that the full text of the Lloyd George speech be read which led to a further uproar. Herr Loebe said he was unable to comply with the request, as the text was not yet available. A fresh commotion followed, during which members of the Right and the Left hurled epithets at each other such as "Idiots", "Traitors" and "Marionettes".

Herr Loebe thereupon suspended the sitting for three-quarters of an hour.

IVENS PROTESTS THAT HE WAS INNOCENT

Of Seditious Conspiracy Charges For Which He Was Convicted

Winnipeg, Man:, March 4—Vehemently protesting that he was innocent of the seditious conspiracy charges on which he and other strike leaders had been convicted, Rev. William Ivens, whose year-term in jail expired last Monday, took part in the debate on the Address at this afternoon's session of the Legislature.

With grim humor, he commented upon the irony of fate which had sent him to jail, "ostensibly for the purpose of helping to make law". Declaring that he intended to be loyal to his convictions, whatever the result of that loyalty be, he stated that he had gone to prison because he was standing for certain principles and that he stood for them today only "a little stronger".

Mr. Ivens predicted the doom of the Norris Government, claiming that sooner or later it would have to give way to those who were better able to deal with the changing circumstances of society.

CHIEF DETECTIVE OFF FOR HALIFAX

Yarmouth, N.S., March 4.—Chief Detective Kennedy, of Halifax, who has been here since Monday evening investigating the circumstances surrounding the mysterious murder of Captain George Perry, at his home here last Saturday night, left this morning for Halifax.

Detective Kennedy, it is understood, took with him several pieces of wearing apparel, said to have been taken from the Perry household, and the iron bar with which the murder is supposed to have been committed. These exhibits, it is said, will be examined by analysts at Halifax.

EXCESS RAINFALL IS PREDICTED BY HATFIELD

Medicine Hat, Alta., — A rainfall, which will far exceed the maximum of four inches called for in his contract, is predicted by C. R. "Rainmaker" Hatfield in a letter received here. Hatfield has a contract with the United Agricultural Association calling for the building of a rain precipitation and attraction plan to be kept in constant operation from May 1 to August 1, 1921, in an endeavor to bring about the largest possible increased precipitation in a section of territory at least 100 miles radius with the city of Medicine Hat as a centre.

Hatfield in his letter says: "I believe that with the powerful operations that are to be conducted this summer in your district that fully seven or ten inches will be forthcoming. The operations to be conducted will be the most pronounced and striking in the increased production of rainfall ever attempted by

The Dictograph Never Says "Busy" to the Boss

YOUR man may be at the other end of the factory, but you get him at the first call—The Dictograph doesn't say "Busy" to the Boss because the executive always has the right of way—nobody can interrupt. Think what this means in Time Saving alone—think what it means in the saving of friction. Think what it means in speeding production by getting instructions all over the plant at once.

Think what it means to hold a conference and not call a man from his desk—

Think what it means to cover acres of space and yet have your organization practically co-ordinated in your own office—

Just throw the key and the Dictograph carries your voice from one end of your plant to the other and brings back your answer as clear as a bell.

What ball bearings mean to a smooth-running car—the Dictograph means to a smooth-running business.

If your time is valuable, the Dictograph is Cheap.

GRAY FLANNEL FOR THIS TRIM FROCK

(By GERTRUDE BERESFORD)

Flannel in all colors is a favored fabric in the realm of dress. In the model that is illustrated a very pretty shade of gray is chosen. It is fashionable on the simple lines that so accentuate the youthfulness of the figure. Dark blue cire braid in two different widths decorates this delightful dress, which boasts the very short sleeves that are remarked on many of the new creations for Spring. The hat of gray crepe de chine is a new version of the sailor. The crown is softly draped and the brim lightly rolled away from the face. A band of crepe de chine is drawn around the crown and tied at the sides so that the ends swing to the shoulder.

Seasonable Salads

(By LOREETO C. LYNCH)

An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

In the Summer time, when lettuce and tomatoes are rather plentiful and, therefore, fairly cheap, we find them on the average menu frequently. But in the Winter some housewives forget that there is such a thing as salads.

Out in California they serve a fine potato salad. The hot, boiled potatoes—boiled just right at a bubble rather than a boil—are cut into half-inch cubes. Sufficient mayonnaise to well moisten is added. The potatoes, being hot, drink in the mayonnaise and acquire better flavor than when spread over cold ones.

An equal quantity of diced table celery is added and additional white pepper and salt. The salad is arranged on leaves of lettuce on a pretty dish, and finely chopped hard-cooked egg sprinkled over the top. Stars cut from canned pimentos dish the pretty touch of red.

This salad is nourishing as well as attractive, and, together with cold sliced ham and hot tea biscuit, makes a fine supper.

In Winter most everyone gets cabbage. There are any number of devices on the market for shredding cabbage. And shredded cabbage salad is delicious when well made. Shred two cups of cabbage, pour cold water over and let stand an hour or more. Drain and dry in cheesecloth to remove as much water as possible. Add an equal amount of cut celery cubes. Moisten with cream dressing.

Since several readers have asked for Cream Dressing, the recipe follows: In the top of a double boiler mix together one level teaspoon each of dry mustard and salt and two level teaspoons of flour, one two level teaspoon of powdered sugar, and a few grains of cayenne. Add one teaspoon of melted butter and the yolk of an egg.

When well mixed, pour on very slowly one-third of a measuring cup of vinegar. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Cool. Beat until stiff one-half cup of thick cream, and to the cream slowly add the other mixture.

Another recipe for cabbage salad combines shredded cabbage soaked and dried with half as much finely chopped pimento and a little green pepper. A little finely chopped white onion may be added. The dressing is made by beating together nine tablespoons of oil with three tablespoons of vinegar. Any desired seasonings may be added, such as salt, paprika, dry mustard, celery seed.

Macedoine salad is very colorful and affords a pretty way of using up those few spoonfuls of vegetables left from yesterday's meals. If these are peas, rinse off the butter or other dressing by pouring boiling water over the peas or other vegetable in a strainer. Beets, carrots, potatoes, cut into small cubes, may be combined with peas to form a palatable combination.

Moisten with nine tablespoons of oil beaten together with three tablespoons of vinegar. Seasonings may be added. Arrange a little pile of peas, then a little pile of beets, and so on, on the lettuce leaves or the vegetables may be mixed together. Chill all salads before serving.

Stuffed egg salad may form the principal dish at a luncheon or supper, or it may be served when the meat or fish course is a bit scanty. Hard-cook eggs, peel them, and when cold cut them in half lengthwise. Carefully scoop out the yolks. Mash them.

For every four yolks mix together one-eighth level teaspoon of dry mustard, the same quantity of salt and a tablespoon of melted butter or oil. Mix with the egg yolks. Carefully pack the yolks back into the whites. Sprinkle with paprika.

KEEN SATISFACTION FELT IN GOVERNMENT CIRCLES OVER MORNING DIVISION

Majority Of Twenty Five, In Full-Dress Debate Felt Ample Mandate To Go Ahead With Programme—No Business Of Great Importance For Few Days

Ottawa, Ont., March 4.—(Canadian Press)—Keen satisfaction is felt in Government circles with the result of this morning's division in the House.

At the opening of the session it was felt that the Government might command a majority of between 25 and 30. But illness and absence had called several Government supporters—there was difficulty over pairs—and it was thought that the Government would be fortunate to secure even twenty. Some estimates placed the majority as low as from twelve to fifteen. A majority of 25 in a full-dress debate, it is felt, is ample mandate, so far as Parliamentary following is concerned to the Government to go ahead with its program.

It is probable that business in the House will not be of great importance for the next few days. There is as yet practically no contentious Government legislation yet submitted and discussion is likely to turn mainly on motions standing in the name of private members. Questions growing in number on the Order Paper since the opening of the session will receive attention and the estimates may be expected probably on the early part of next week.

The Budget is still in the air and may not come down till late in April or early in May.

The all-night session of the House ending in a nearly morning division was followed to-day by a restless afternoon wandering over a variety of topics. First came a deluge of answers from the Government to the questions which have been growing on the order paper day by day since the opening of the session. Subsequently there was discussion of oil lands in the Western Provinces, on the investigation now under way into the "wanton" destruction of public documents at the Government Printing Bureau and on the bill introduced by A. R. McMaster (Brome to require a Minister of the Crown to resign and directorships he may hold in corporated companies.

Consideration of the bill on second reading brought some amusing by-play. Mr. McMaster had been urging the necessity of his bill when the Prime Minister interupted to ask if Mr. McMaster would not also make the bill applicable to the Leader of the Opposition.

"I have no obection," said Mr. McMaster, as Mr. McKenzie-King nodded acquiescence.

"Would you make it applicable to the eader of both Oppositions," Mr. Meighen pressed, with obvious reference to Hon. T. A. Crerar, Leader of the Progressives, and also President of the United Grain Growers, Limited.

Mr. Crerar at the time was not in the House.

"I think it would be in the public interest to include the Leader of the Opposition in the bill," remarked Mr. King.

The Prime Minister smilingly rejoined that it was not Mr. King he had in mind. "I was just leading through him to the other," Mr. Meighen said, the House laughing.

Debate on the second reading of the bill was adjourned and the House rose till 3 p.m. on Monday.

Imperial Conference.

The Prime Minister intimated that at the coming conference of Prime Ministers of the different parts of the Empire, called for June, in London, the following among other subjects will be in the agenda:

1. Renewal of the treaty of alliance with Japan, of July, 1911.
2. Question of naval policy based on the principle of co-operation.
3. Review and consultation upon the general course of the foreign policy of the Empire

Correspondence, Mr. Meighen said is now proceeding on the subjects for discussion.

On the question of discussing in the House the subjects to come up at the conference, Mr. Meighen said: "Should there be an indication of a general desire on the part of the House of Commons for a discussion, the Government would be prepared to arrange facilities and would welcome expression on opinion from all quarters; but in view of the fact that the meeting is of the nature of a conference the Government could not depart from the invariable practise by making commitments in advance of the meeting. Necessarily any proposal resulting from the conference and affecting Canada must be subject to the approval of the Canadian Parliament."

Queries Answered

The following announcements were made in the House this afternoon:

Representatives of Arthur Young and Company, or Griffenhagen and Associates, have been refused payment of their fees to the Civil Service Commission in United States currency.

Forty eight vessels of the Canadian Government fleet are at present in service. They sail between Canada and the United Kingdom, West Indies, South America, British India, Australia and New Zealand, and Newfoundland.

The management of the Intercolonial Railway have under consideration a revision of the present plan of superannuation, any proposals along this line would be submitted to the consideration of the employees before adoption.

Representatives were made to the Department of External Affairs in August, regarding the danger to the mission of Lieutenant-Colonel Burnham (of Winnipeg) in Montenegro.

The matter was taken up with the British Foreign Office and it was learned that a protest had been addressed to His Majesty's Minister to Belgrade to the Serb-Croat-Slovene Government, against threats said to have been made against Colonel Burnham. The Serbian Government has denied that Colonel Burnham had been arrested, threatened or subjected to discourteous treatment. Colonel Burnham had withdrawn his mission from Montenegro and the Government saw no reason to interfere further in the matter.

The Government has not sold any patrol boats to the Kirkwood Steamship Company.

The cost of floating, repairing and making ready for sea, the Canadian Recruit, which was caught in the ice below Quebec a year ago, was approximately $545,0000. The total insurance on the vesse l was $810,000. The sum of $335,023 has been paid on her by marine insurance companies.

Rumania has failed to pay interest on the Canadian loan. On April irst, next, the interest will amount to $1,475,234.96. The question of the overdue interest and future interest installments, has been the subject of negotiations between representatives of the Dominion of Canada and the Kingdom of Rumania.

Greece has paid interest in full to June 30, 1920. Interest account to December 31, 1920, amounting to $153,916 was rendered in due course and the overseas branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, London, has now been able to present the same to the representatives of the recently established Greek Government in London for payment.

A credit of $35,000,000 was extended by Canada to the Government of Belgium in order to facilitate the purchase of goods in Canada.

The Belgian Government has availed itself to the amount of $1,762,789 of the credit. Of this amount $1,485,045 was used for the purchase of manufactured goods and $277,744 for foodstuffs.

At the Imperial War Conference in 1917 the President of the Board of Agriculture undertook to remove the restrictions upon importation of Canadian Cattle into Great Britain.

The Government is making unceasing efforts to have the restriction removed.

The total amount of domestic war loans issued and outstanding on January 31, which are exempt from taxation, is $1,381,783,400.

Proceeds from Dominion loans exclusive of cash receipts from war savings certificates, debentures, stocks, etc., were as follows:

For the fiscal year ending March 31, 1916, $97,003,600; 1917, $115,889,812; 1918, $517,430,056; 1919, $584,281,459.

Worwmen have been laid off in the Sorel Shipyards on account of the lack of authorized work. Work will be resumed in thes pring and the men laid off will be gradually reemployed.

Owing to the fact that accounts have not yet been received by the Government from the cities of Toronto, Montreal and Quebec that the Government has not paid any monies these cities for unemployment relief.

Sixty two million, six hundred and eighty seven thousand, two hundred and fifty eight dollars and two cents was collected up to February 28th, 1921, under the Income War Tax Act, and $957,980.27 of this amount was collected from the farmers of Canada. The total amount collected in each Province and the amount collected from the farmers of each Province was stated as follows: —

Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island totals $1,651,727.48, farmers $2,721.72;

New Brunswick total $994,727.33; farmers $2,393.30;

Quebec total $20,734,083.75; farmers, $9,500.75;

Ontario total, $28,061,667.25; farers $67,974.75;

Manitoba total, $5,040,695.73; farmers, $151,036.17;

Saskatchewan total, $1,466,418.49, farmers, $340,900.98;

Alberta total, $2,035,573.17; farmers $861,218.39;

British Columbia, total $2,668,710.13; farmers, $22,203.63;

Yukon, $38,886.67; farmers $30.55

It was stated that the statistics for the calendar year 1919 were not yet available.

"No" is the only answer given by the Government to three questions put by Joseph Archambault, Chambly-Vercheres. Mr. Archambault asked if the war painting borrowed from the War Records Department to fill in some unfinished panels in the Senate Chamber would remain there permanently. Then he asked the Government if it did not think there was some Canadian scenery worthy of that chamber. Then he asked if the painting were placed in the Senate to perpetuate the depressing spirit of war and armaments.

The answer was simply "No."

Exchequer Court

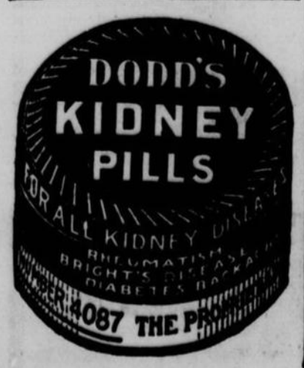
At the opening of the House this afternoon the Minister of Justice submitted a bill to amend the Ex-

Workmen have been laid off in time in an appeal to the Exchequer Court from a ruling of the Commissioner of Patents, a private party has the right of appeal to the Supreme Court from the Excequer Court. The bill is to give the Commissioner of Patents the same right of appeal.

W. S. Middleboro (Grey-North) chief Government whip, informed the House that to the list of pairs on this morning's division the names should be added of J. P. Molloy, (Provencher) who has paired with the Hon. D. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture.

Hon. W. L. MacKenzie-King, asked when the estimates would be brought down.

Sir Henry Drayton: "Next week."



TRAILER JUMPED FROM THE TRACK

Stone In Groove Of Rail Caused Serious Street Car Accident

Toronto, Ont., March 4—As a result of a trailer attached to an eastbound car on the street railway jumping the track on the Gerrard Street bridge over the Don, at 5:30 this evening, and being sideswiped by a westbound street car, one passenger, John Evans, Jr., was fatally injured, five passengers were seriously wounded, two being in hospital in a critical condition, and thirteen received injuries more or less severe. It was stated that a stone in the groove of the rail caused the trailer to leave the track.

John Evans, Jr., an elevator repairer, aged 39, was removed to the General Hospital with a broken leg and suffering from shock. He died a few hours later.

William Younger, a printer 16 years of age, received fractures in both arms and both legs and was in a critical condition when conveyed to the General Hospital.

Miss Christina Veitch, a factory operator, aged 18, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, with internal injuries and a fractured arm. Her condition was regarded as serious.

Others seriously injured are:

Mrs. Annie Mills, fractured shoulder.

Isaac Johnston, compound fracture of one leg. These are in St. Michael's Hospital.

ASK CHANGE IN GAME AND FISHERIES ACT

Toronto Fur Dealers Are Proposing Changes To The Ontario Government

Toronto, Ont. March. 4.—Local fur dealers are proposing to the Ontario Government that the Ontario Game and Fisheries Act be changed and that certain suggestions they offer be considered. They consider that present royalties on furs are far too high to allow for profits.

It is asked that the stamping system now in vogue in Quebec be substituted for the present coupon system for Beaver and Otter.

They object to disclosing their fur shipper's names and addresses, claiming that such information is a trade secret. It is also recommended that no license be required for the destruction of bear, wolf, fox, lynx or ermine as they are game destroyewrs and a menace to domestic animals.

A change in the license fees is also recommended.

POLICE INACTIVITY WILL BE AIRED.

Ottawa, March, 4.—The alleged inactivities of the Hull Police Department in the matter of attempting to curtail the illegal sale of liquor in the city will be aired at the city council meeting on Monday night. A motion will be presented, it was learned this morning, asking for dismissal of at least one of the members of the department.

It is stated that both Ald Legault and Talbot are not satisfied with the results achieved by the police department. Certainly "blind pigs" have not decreased numerically but on the contrary are said to have spread to all sections of the city.

SUBMARINE FLOATED.

New Bedford, Mass., Mar.4.—The submarine O-8 was floated late today by the coastguard cutter Acushnet, assisted by the crew of the Cuttyhunk coastguard station.

The submarine grounded on Penikez Island yesterday.

The Acushnet narrowly escaped going aground herself, getting very close to Gull Island in the heavy seas, but in a short time both submarine and cutter were safe in deep water.

GUABITO TAKEN BY COSTA RICANS

Eighteen Dead And Many Wounded In Battle—Messages From League

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, March 4—Guadbito, lying a short distance to the northwest of Bocas Del Toro, in Panama, was captured by Costa Rican forces at five o'clock this morning. The Panamans retired toward Bocas Del Toro leaving behind eighteen dead and many wounded.

The Costa Ricans have occupied the Almirante Railroad and now are beseiging Ciudad De Almirante, Guabito, which is near the Atlantic coast side of Panama, was taken by the Costa Ricans after several hours fight.

Messages from League

Paris, March 4—Messages have been sent by the League of Nations Council, to Panama and Costa Rica, calling their attention to the fact that the two republics are members of the League and consequently undertook to subscribe to its principles and obligations.

A few hours after the messages were sent and presumably before they arrived at their destinations, the League received a cablegram from the Panama Government, reporting several attacks on Panaman shores by regular troops of Costa Rica and protesting against "acts of violence committed by a member of the League. It said the Panaman Government had accepted the good offices of the United States with a view to reaching a friendly solution of the dispute with Costa Rica.

HAVE APPRENTICESHIP COUNCLIS FORMED

Composed Of Representatives Of Employers And Employees In Dominion

Ottawa, March, 4.—Establishment of apprenticeship councils composed of representatives of employees and employers and architects and industrial engineers all of which will be governed by a National apprenticeship council are to be formed in the principal building and construction centres in Canada.

Provision for the establishment of such bodies has been made by the National Joint Conference Board composed of representatives of the building trades and members of the Canadian Building and Construction Industries Association which were in session at Ottawa Wednesday and Thursday.

The length of time of apprenticeship agreement varies, but on the average will be about four years.

St. John, N.B. March 4.—Nathan C. Scott, prominent North End grocer, and a shipbroker, died this afternoon at his home here. Two of his daughters were killed in an automobile accident in Nova Scotia a few years ago.

C.P.R. EMPLOYEE DEAD.

St. John, N.B., March 4.—As the result of injuries sustained on Tuesday in a fall on the C.P.R. trestle near Mill St., Thomas Stears, of Fairville died in the hospital this morning. He was employed as a section foreman with the C.P.R. He was 49 years of age and leaves his widow, five sons and two daughters.

LOCAL WRITER FOR AUTHORS' CONFERENCE

Montreal, Que., Mar. 4—Among well-known Canadian writers who have signified their intention of attending the convention of Canadian autohrs to be held in this city on Friday and Saturday of next week, is Mrs. H. H. Sharples, Quebec.

Meetings will be held in McGill University Friday and Saturday and there will be a banquet on Friday night.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Cornwall, Ont., March 4—Donald McIntosh, aged about seventy years, of Finch Village, was found frozen to death beside the C. P. R. tracks in that village about 2:30 o'clock this morning. The deceased was a pool-room proprietor in the village, and closed his place last night at the usual hour, leaving for home, carrying a lantern with him. He left the lantern on the steps of his home and proceeded toward the C. P. R. tracks, where it is thought he must have become entangled in the wires which control the semaphore.

QUESTION NOT YET DECIDED

Whether National Joint Industrial Conference Will Be Held This Year

Ottawa, March, 4.—The question of whether or not a national joint industrial conference to be attended by thirty representatives from the ranks of labor and as many from the building industry and presided over by the Minister of Labor is to be held this year has not yet been decided by the Minister of Labor.

Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, stater this morning that the question had not yet been decided, and that his department was still considering it.

The request that such a conference be held was made to the Minister by representatives of the National Joint Conference Board composed of representatives of the Building Trades and Representatives of the Canadian Building and Construction industries at the conclusion of its quarterly session last night.

INSTRUCTION CLASSES IN FIRST-AID

Needed In Every Factory And Plant With Many Employees

Montreal, March 4—The necessity of establishing instruction classes in first-aid to the injured in every factory or plant where there are many employees, was urged today by Colonel Charles A. Hodgetts, of Ottawa, in addressing the annual meeting of the Quebec Provincial Council of the St. John Ambulance Association, over which Colonel D. D. MacTaggart presided at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. Following this address, the Council went on record with a resolution to the following effect.

"That in view of the importance of first aid from an industrial standpoint, this meeting goes on record as approving the policy of organizing classes of instruction in every factory or other establishment where a number of men and women are gathered together; and that regulations calling for first aid certificates, with qualified attendants, should be incorporated in the Workmen's Compensation Act of the Province."

SOCIALISTS FIRED BUILDING.

Rome, March 4—Members of the Fascisti or Extreme Nationalist Party today stormed the Labor Bureau at Siena, 31 miles south of Florence, and set the building on fire. The Labor Bureau at Empoli, fifteen miles to the southwest of Florence, also was burned. Those responsible for the Empoli fire said it was set in protest against the violence of the Communists.

BANDITS OVERLOOKED BET

New York, March 4—Three highway men in their eagerness to escape with $1,300 from the office of a Brooklyn manufacturer here today overlooked $5,000 lying in a cash drawer nearby. The armed men secreted themselves in the building occupied by J. Rubin and Sons, paper box makers, and when one of the office force remained after the rest had left for the day, entered the office with the command of "Hands up". The police believe that the men escaped in an automobile.

THREE BURGLARS CAUGHT IN BOSTON

Boston, Mass., March 4.—An attempt at safe-cracking was defeated early today by police in the South Boston district, who captured three men after an exchange of shots in the office of Sumner Crosby and Son, Inc., grain dealers. Thomas Logan, one of the men captured, was shot and taken to hospital. Two confederates who had concealed themselves during the gun battle ventured out half an hour later and were pursued but escaped although the police fired at them.

REDUCED WAGE SCALE APPROVED

Montreal, Que., March 4—A reduced scale of wages for labor was unanimously approved by the General Contractors' Association here at a meeting held this afternoon. It was decided to apply the new scale on March 15, but in some cases it will not commence until March 10 and 11.

The new scale is: Unskilled building laborers 40 cents an hour; carpenters, 65 cents an hour; bricklayers, 90 cents an hour; plasterers, 75 cents an hour; painters, 60 cents an hour; cement finishers, 60 cents an hour; stone masons, from 60 to [illegible] cents an hour.

YUKON TERRITORY BOTH COLD AND DRY

Vancouver, B.C., March 4—The entire Yukon Territory and some northern sections of British Columbia, are not only cold but dry for the moment at least. No more wet goods may be carried through United States territory, even if in bond in transit from one part of Canada to another, by a recent ruling on the Volstead Act, according to telegrams arriving from Dawson, White Horse and other points. Yukon officials have made a formal protest to Ottawa.

Local dealers who make liquor shipments to the North Country contend that a treaty under which Canadian imports were to be allowed to pass through Alaskan territory, takes precedence over the ruling.

CONFERENCES ON THE NEAR EAST

Allied Representatives Heard Opinion Of Greeks And Turks Yesterday

London, March 4—A series of conferences was held today to discuss the Near East problems, at which the Allied representatives heard the opinion of the Greeks and Turks. Opposition again was voiced by the Greeks to the plan whereby a commission would decide the future of Smyrna and Thrace, but M. Kalogeropoulos, Chief of the Greek Delegation, declared his willingness to transmit to Athens any "equitable proposals which the conference might formulate, for the purpose of realizing peace."

Reiterating their assent to the appointment of an investigating commission, the Turks suggested the inquiry be carried out under the control of the Allies. They also declared themselves ready to accept the provisions of the Sevres treaty provided they were adapted to conditions which the Ottoman delegates described as indispensable to a "free and independent Turkey".

The Allied representatives announced they would consider the statements made by both sides and expressed the hope that private conferences between the Greeks and Turks would aid in reaching an agreement.

SWORE HUSBAND TRIED TO KILL HER.

Montreal, March, 4.—Seated in a chair reserved for lawyers because she was too weak to stand as a witness in the box, Judith Mercier, wife of D. Dimoff, swore under oath she left her husband, who is charged with attempting to kill her, because he tried to induce her to live in a house of prostitution. The accused was remanded for voluntary statement by Judge Cusson at the conclusion of his wife's testimony. Last Friday noon the complainant wife was shot at three times, one bullet entering the left side and a second one lodging in her hat. She was the only witness heard.

THE CITY MUST PAY DAMAGES

Chief Justice Sir Francois Lemieux of the Superior Court gave judgment yesterday morning in the case of Mr. Lender J. Conway against the City of Quebec. Last October, Mr. Conway, Manager of the Canada Lumber and Box Company while driving in his automobile struck a piece of wood lying on the roadway near Dorchester Bridge, which caused the car to crash through a fence and turn turtle. The car was badly damaged and Mr. Conway made a claim for $1,200 damages. In his judgment Judge Lemieux allowed $400 damages and costs.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR PROMINENT MASON

A memorial service will be held tomororw evening in St. Stephen's Church, Montreal for the late Most Worshipful Brother I. H. Stearns. The service is under the auspices of the Isaac Stearns Lodge, A.F. & A.M. The sermon will be preached by the Rector of St. Stephen's M.W. Bro. the Rev. Frank Charters, D.D., who ministered to the deceased brother in his last illness. An invitation is extended to other Masons of various degrees to be present on the occasion.

The late M.W. Bro. Stearns was one of the best known Grand Lodge Officers in the Province of Quebec, and for years held the important position of Grand Treasurer, and shortly before his death had the distinction of being elected to that position for life. In his official capacity he had on various occasions visited the different Masonic Lodges in this city and was held in the highest esteem by local brethren.

WOODROW WILSON PASSED THROUGH DAY THAT TAXED BROKEN PHYSICAL POWERS

Eight Storm-Tossed Years In Presidency Of United States Ended Yesterday For Wilson—Just Private Citizen Again —Took No Part In Inauguration Ceremonies

Washington, D.C., March 4—Eight storm-tossed years in the presidency of the United States filled with moments and scenes that will live in history, ended today for Woodrow Wilson, "just plain Woodrow Wilson," now, as he himself smilingly asserted.

Under his own roof again as a private citizen, the former President rested tonight with his burdens of State transfered to other shoulders and the shouting and tumult of public places behind him.

Through a day that had taxed his broken physical powers greatly, he came smilingly and with a whimsical, humorous twist to his comments, yet with no hint at regret at his retirement from high office There was but one incident of the day when that cheerful mood seemed to fail. As he stood in the President's room, Mr. Wilson had been telling Senator Knox that he would not witness in the Senate the inauguration of Vice-President Coolidge as he doubted his ability, owing to his physical infirmities, to negotiate the few steps he must climb.

"The Senate has thrown me down," he said to the Pennsylvania Senator in reference to battles of the past, and the peace treaty, "but I am not going to fall down."

Congress Adjourns

A moment later someone touched his arm to call his attention to the fact that Senator Lodge had arrived in the room as head of the joint committee to inform the President that the sixty sixth Congress stood ready for adjournment if he had no further communications to make to it.

Mr. Wilson turned toward the man who led the fight against the treaty. His face lost its smile as its smile as he listened to the Senator's formal report and there was in his own tone a touch of cool formality as he said: "I have no further communication to make. I appreciate your courtesy. Good morning."

Mr. Wilson's share in the inauguration ceremonies remained in doubt to the last. It was not until he had finished the business that called him to the Capitol that the retiring President made known his final yielding to the entreaties of his physician and Mrs. Wilson, to spare himself the ordeal his physical condition would make of adherence to precedent.

Shown Utmost Courtesy

From the moment he emerged from the White House to mount first the rear seat of the automobile which carried them to the Capitol, Mr. Wilson was shown utmost courtesy by Mr. Harding who lost no opportunity to share the President's feelings. As he started the painful descent to the White House steps, Mr. Wilson was aided by Secret Service men who placed his feet on each step and then on the running board of the automobile. After he sank back into his seat on the right, Mr. Harding stepped in and they rode side by side down Pensylvania Avenue, neither incourtesy to the other, responding to the cheers that greeted them.

At the Capitol, the car drew up first at the Senate wing entrance under the great steps that sweep up to the main floor.

Mr. Harding and others in the car, except Mr. Wilson, alighted and here the crowd waited. Evidently it had been pre-arranged that there should be no public comparison drawn between the big, strong figure of the new President and the crippled form of the old, for Mr. Wilson rode on alone to a little used door where he had but two steps to mount and there Arthur Brooks, negro custodian, of the White House awaited.

Lifted Out Of Car

Mr. Wilson was lifted out of the car and up to the two steps by Brooks. At the top he paused to change his glasses and apparently to recover from the effort.

Then, grasping his cane, but alone and unaided, he moved through the door to plod slowly over the three hundred yards of stone flagging to the elevator. The crowd at the other door had missed Mr. Wilson and set out to find him. They caught up with him as he rounded a corner, turning toward the elevator at the other end of the building, from that used by Mr. Harding. There were murmurs of sympathy as the spectators caught sight of the gray-haired figure going so slowly and with much evidence of bodily powers driven to their work only by a mastering exercise of will, but Mr. Wilson nodded and smiled back as he forced himself on.

Lifted one floor in the elevator, Mr. Wilson, still alone, made his way the short distance to the President's room and the business before him. He greeted the Senators waiting there, exchanged humorous quips with some of them, and signed or waved away the bills that were laid before him.

Harding's Sympathy

As he said good-bye to Mr. Wilson, the incoming President again displayed the sympathy he felt for his stricken predecessor. They clasped hands and Mr. Harding said:

"Good-bye Mr. President. I know you are glad to be relieved of your burden and worries. I want to tell you how much I appreciate the courtesies you have extended to me."

Mr. Wilson seemed to agree that he was glad to be free, for he even gained in cheerfulnes as he moved out of the room, with Senator Knox escorting him to the elevator.

"I can't get accustomed to this feeling," Mr. Wilson said to the Senator as they moved slowly along. "My feet feel so light."

In the elevator the President swung his cane by its curved handle into the breast pocket of his coat as the cage reached the lower floor and stood with his right hand on the shoulder of the operator.

"Good-bye son", he said, then stepped out to retrace the long, slow way to the waiting machine.

Again in the automobile with Mrs. Wilson, Admiral Grayson, his physician, and Jos. P. Tumulty, his private secretary, throughout the eight years in the White House, Mr. Wilson seemed if anything to have gained in cheerfulness through the ordeal. He was whirled back over the Pennsylvania Avenue route, raising his hat in answering greetings as he was recognized by the waiting crowds or the salutes of soldiers and police who lined the way.

Passing the White House the machine raced, now without escort of troops or police, and Mr. Wilson gave the stately structure, so long his home, not a glance. He was carried swiftly to his new home on S. Street and there a few hundred neighbors had gathered to cheer him unmindful of the ceremonies blocks

QUEBEC, MARCH 5, 1921

LUMBER AND PROTECTION

Canadians who have been used of late to hear much moans with reference to the depleted forests of the United States when pulpwood is on the tapis will be surprised to learn that the Dominion actually imports some two hundred million feet of lumber annually from those same United States. Yet such is actually the case, as was recently demonstrated by Mr. A. L. Clarke of the Clarke Lumber Company of Dallas, Texas, in a letter addressed to the Chairman of the Congressional Ways and Means Committee, protesting against a proposal contained in the since defeated Fordney Tariff Bill to place a duty upon lumber and mill products.

The total imports and exports of lumber to and from Canada, as given by the Washington Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce for 1918, 1919, and eleven months of 1920 are as follows:—Imports from Canada, 3,552,835,000 feet; Exports to Canada, 551,228,000 feet. This, it is pointed out, is such a negligible quantity as compared with the total production and consumption of lumber in the United States that it would seem almost in the nature of an affront to erect a tariff against so good a customer and friend without provocation or necessity.

It is further shown that the value of all importations and exportations during the same period was as follows:—

Imports from Canada, $1,498,633,017; Exports to Canada, $2,531,267,147. Thus Canada buys from the States practicaly two dollars' worth of goods for every one dollar's worth purchased by the latter—including all its imports of Canadian lumber and wheat.

Still later it is shown that the principal exportations of lumber into the States comes from British Columbia, where the cost of production is very much greater than in Washington or Oregon. Even though the British Columbia industry should expand, it will probably not do so relatively as fast as that in the United States declines, so that the latter will be the ultimate beneficiary of this source of supply in direct protection of her own. In any event it will always be a small factor in the total consumption of the States; nor will it ever menace American market conditions since higher manufacturing costs inevitably impose a natural tariff.

Indeed the free entry of lumber is all to the advantage of the United States, while the imposition of the proposed tariff would have been more of a protection to Canada's forests than anything else. The argument is frankly used that if there is any basis for the general belief in the importance of conservation, the erection of a tariff wall cannot be justified against the relief from continued and more rapid depletion of American forests through free importations from Canada.

"It has already been pointed out," Mr. Clarke contends in summing up his arguments. "That the total volume of commodities sold by the United States to Canada is practically double what the United States buys from Canada. Therefore to erect a tariff wall against Canada on one of the principal commodities of her exports to us, would be to put a knife into her industrial heart, and the unprovoked wound would undoubtedly arouse her and lead her to retaliatory tariff legislation. Where would we get off at in that case? She would immediately legislate against us on many times the value of our exports to her over those comparatively small imports of Canadian lumber over here. At the present time Canada appears to be satisfied with conditions as they are. With the balance of the trade so greatly in favor of the United States, why "rock the boat," and start something that could only result disastrously to the United States?"

ENTER WARREN HARDING

The exit of Mr. Woodrow Wilson has been effected and the "fierce white light" now beats upon the countenance of President Warren Harding of the United States. King Stork is dead, long live King Log! The career of the new incumbent of office has been almost as neutral as his personality and there is little to go upon in forecasting the trend his future administration is likely to take. Straws, however, show which way the wind blows and some have been blowing about already.

Thus President Harding has broken every precedent by using the nomination of his Cabinet as a pretext for appearing in person before the Senate on Inauguration Day to assure that august body of his desire to maintain intimate and cordial relations with it. Wilson flouted and ignored the Senate: Harding is going to cajole and defer to it. The new President again has signified his desire for a powerful navy, which slogan has caught the ear of the masses. Now Wilson had a happy knack of running counter to public opinion and it seems fairly certain that whatever his countrymen in general and the Republican Party in particular may happen to want, Harding will want too. Wilson led and did not care who followed but Harding intends to watch which way the crowd is headed and then keep sufficiently in front to avoid being run over.

In personal appearance the new President is described as a man to attract a second look in any crowd. He carries his two hundred and ten pounds without a hint of obesity, although he is not quite six feet tall; and his massive features round out an impression of force and distinction. His hair is iron grey—almost silver grey—making sharp contrast with the unusually heavy black eyebrows that almost mask a pair of calm grey eyes. It is only in repose that his face takes on the aspect of severity seen so often in his photographs. When he talks or listens the lines are broken by a smile that radiates cordiality.

President Harding walks slowly, talks slowly, and makes up his mind slowly; but he gives the impression of polished deliberation rather than of ever-caution or nervousness. He is a good conversationalist and a good listener, and has a faculty of getting through embarrassing situations with little show of embarrassment. As an orator, Mr. Harding never has rated himself as witty or eloquent, though he attained considerable success a few years agon on the Chautauqua platform. He seldom attempts fine word pictures or humorous passages, but cultivates a deliberate, unembellished utterance.

Election day was Mr. Harding's fifty-fifth birthday, and all the interests of his lifetime had been rooted in the immediate vicinity of Marion. He was born at Blooming Grove, O., in an adjoining country, the son of a county doctor, George T. Harding, who still visits his patients about Marion in the one-horse carriage of the old-school practitioner. The new President's mother has been dead for many years and his father remarried.

Young Harding attended college at Iberia, O., and then tried school teaching for a year before he began his newspaper career. For more than thirty years his bread and butter has been earned by the Marion Star, whose responsibilities he assumed under heavy mortgage and whose early years he nourished at the expense of going hungry more than once himself.

Three time before he has held public office. He served in the Ohio legislature and as lieutenant governor of the state, and six years ago he was elected to the United States Senate where he became a member of the Foreign Relations Committee. In 1916 he was chairman of the Republican national convention. But whatever else he may be, Warren G. Harding always classifies himself as an Editor, publisher and printer, proud of his professional accomplishments and training. His luck-charm and most sacred possession is a printer's rule, carried in his pocket wherever he goes; and his close friends say he would rather set a stick of type any day than grant an audience to an ambassador

HOW DISASTERS HAPPEN

Attention is once more drawn to the inadequacy of the most elaborate mechanical devices to ensure safety when the human factor breaks down by the recent train disaster at Porter, Indiana, in which more than a score of lives were lost. It would be hard to imagine more perfect precautions against mishap than those which obtained at the particular spot where the collision between the New York Central and Michigan Central trains occurred and, indeed, the management might well have been excused for considering them as "fool-proof." And yet the apparently impossible happened because human calculations failed to eliminate all the possibilities in advance and human vigilance became momentarily relaxed.

There were two mechanical devices for preventing a collision of trains at the crossing of the New York Central and Michigan Central tracks at Porter. The block signal was the first safeguard. It was the towerman's duty to set it against the train not entitled to the right of way. The engineer of that train, seeing the signal set against him, was supposed to bring the train to a stop till the right of way was clear. When the block signal was set a derailer device operated automatically to throw the train off the track should the signal not be observed.

In the actual event, the Michigan Central train failed to obey the signal that the towerman declares was set against it. The derailing device operated, however, and threw the train off the track The purpose of the derailer was to bring the train to a stop before it could collide with the New York Central train. But the Michigan Central train proceeded along the ties of the track until the engine had crossed the intersection and two passenger cars were on it when the New York Central train reached the crossing and dashed into them.

Now, since the derailing device was to prevent a collision in the event of the block signal being disobeyed, the question is being asked why was it not so placed that the train to be derailed would leave the tracks far enough from the intersection that it could not travel to it on the ties? Why did not the engineering brains of the railways and those of the governing bodies which control the railways provide for a margin of safety that would have absolutely prevented a collision when the block signal was not obeyed? Had the Michigan Central train been thrown off the rails a few rods farther back it must have come to a stop on its side of the crossing and forty lives would have been saved.

It is easy to indulge in post-mortem criticisms of this character and it is right to profit by the lessons of painful experience, but it remains none the less true that accidents must always result from human imperfections and the limitations of the human mind. When we consider the extent of these imperfections and limitations the real source of amazement is, not that disasters happen, but that they happen so seldom.

It will be a sad set back to the legal talent of the Provincial Government if the liquor law that it has prepared with so much time and care turns out to be unconstitutional after all.

The new British Minister of Agriculture has been defeated in his bye-election on the issue of the Canadian cattle embargo. We did not expect the Resolution of the Quebec Legislature to take effect so quickly.

The Division at Ottawa on the Mackenzie-King amendment to the Address, which took place in the small hours of yesterday morning, proved conclusively that there is no division in the ranks of the Government supporters. The Leader of the Opposition will have to restrain his ambitions a little longer.

OUR EMPIRE PRINCE

(London Daily Chronicle)

Seven years ago the Prince of Wales was a subaltern, now he is a colonel with a string of hard-earned war ribbons. He has made strides towards approaching the record of his father, who is easily the most travelled of sovereigns in this or any other period; he has become a finished public speaker, and has changed from a shy youth into a young man with an intimate knowledge of everyday affairs, immensely popular wherever he goes.

OUTSIDE OF THAT

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

Outside of an occasional cock-fight, Sunday appears to be a dull day in Toronto.

The Tremendous Problems That Face Harding

"Of all the Presidents who succeed war Presidents, Mr. Harding will face the most appalling mess," according to the New York Herald (Ind. Rep.), while the New York Nation avers that "with the single exception of Lincoln, probably no President in our national history has taken office with as pressing a burden of unsolved questions." Mr. Harding "must meet and overcome obstacles greater than ever Roosevelt surmounted," says the Newark News, which assures him "he need never fear that history will tint his administration as drab."

While the domestic problems of the incoming President are indeed formidable, peculiarly baffling and fateful, journalistic observers agree, are the problems of foreign policy that confront him. Europe, remarks the Outlook, turns to America "with mingled envy, fear, and hope," and "it is for the Republican Administration to justify that hope with assistance based upon an understanding of reality, and to sweep aside that fear and envy with justice and good will." The Providence Evening Bulletin (Ind.) recalls with approval Mr. Harding's Armistice-day speech at Brownsville in which he thus defined our foreign policy: "We choose no aloofness, we shirk no obligations, we forsake no friends, but we build on nationality, and we do not mean to surrender it."

In the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, March 5th, there is a careful presentation and explanation of the many problems that will confront President Harding both at home and abroad, together with opinions of leading newspapers of all political persuasions regarding them.

FREEDOM FROM LABOR TROUBLE

Work Of Industrial Councils Should Be Basis Of Good Co-Operative Effort

Ottawa, Ont., March 4—That the work of industrial councils should be the basis of a good cooperative effort between employer and employe without which there could not be the same control and stability, was one of many interesting statements made by Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, in an address on industrial relations delivered before the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Col. C. P. Edwards, chairman, paying tribute to the efforts of Senator Robertson and the Labor Department to bring about a better industrial understanding stated that if Canada had enjoyed remarkable freedom from industrial trouble it was due in no small measure to the tact of the Department of Labor.

Senator Robertson said there had been a tendency on the part of the employers to look too much on the profit side of their business, without regard to the welfare of their employes. Before employes decided that it was necessary to organize profits had overshadowed all other considerations. There were many things, he concluded, to be thankful for in Canada in respect to our industrial conditions and relations. There had been influences this country working for the destruction of things established and the substitution of something that was nice in theory but was not workable in practice.

Senator Robertson said he believed the salvation of industrial relations was dependent on the promotion of a spirit of mutual confidence and co-operation.

AIRPLANE BELIEVED BOOTLEGGING LINK

Winnipeg, Man., March 4 — An airplane, believed to be the link between an international game of bootleggers, is reported to be making frequent night trips from a place a few miles south of Winnipeg to a destination in the United States, according to a story published in a local newspaper today.

The story says the plane apparently picks up its cargo from a shallow land depression six or eight miles west of the station of St. Agathe, about forty miles south of Winnipeg.

HAS GOOD HOPES FOR EXHIBITION

Hon. J. E. Caron Says Quebec Fair Will Turn Out All Right

The question of the Quebec Exhibition came up incidentally in the Legislative Assembly last night when the estimates of the Department of Agriculture were under study in committee of supply.

An item of $32,000 for exhibitions, led the Leader of the Opposition to ask about the local fair.

Mr. Caron said that the Quebec Exhibition would turn out all right.

The reason he asked, Mr. Sauve said, was because he had seen by the newspapers that the results were not entirely satisfactory.

Mr. Caron said that he wanted to make exhibitions more educational and to concentrate upon the industrial exhibits, which included agriculture, for modern agriculture was an industry. He wanted to eliminate certain frivolous features which tended to convert exhibitions into circuses.

Mr. Sauve agreed with Mr. Caron that exhibitions in general should be made more educational.

THREE WITNESSES HEARD YESTERDAY

Blanche Garneau Preliminary Investigation Adjourned Till Next Friday

The second day of the preliminary investigation in the Blanche Garneau murder case saw three witnesses examined. They were Coroner Jolicoeur, Dr. A. Marois and Mr. Barbeau, the step-father of the victim.

There was no session of the Court inthe investigation yesterday morning, and it only started at three o'clock in the afternoon, when the three witnesses were called, one after the other.

The tro repeated the evidence they gave at the Coroner's inquests and also at therecent investigation held before Judge Choquette, while at the close of the afternoon's hearing the investigation was adjourned, in order that the stenographic notes of the evidence which was given in French, might be transcribed and then translated to permit William Frederick Palmer, alias Cole, who is the first of the pair to have his preliminary investigation, an opportunity of cross-questioning the witnesses. The case will probably be resumed on Friday next.

Coroner Jolicoeur gave report of the inquest he conducted over the remains of the victim of the dastardly crome, while Dr. A. Marois described the holding of the autopsy. Mr. Baribeau, the girl's stepfather repeated the same evidence as has been heard on several occasions.

It is reported that a subpoena has been issued for Gaudias Cinq-Mars, the street car conductor who described how he had seen two men getting on his car, which ran through Victoria Park to Stadacona at the time of the crime, on the evening of July 23, the day after the crime was committed, in a very excited state. The conductor has been in Montreal, where he saw both Binet and Cole, or Palmer, and identified one of the two as being one of the men who got on his car.

His evidence will probably be given next week, when the case will be re-opened, following its adjournment yesterday afternoon. Whether Duval and Dube, who are supposed to be two very important witnesses for the Crown in the case, will give their evidence next week, is not known, at present, but the indications are that the evidence will not be required. Chief Lorrain, of Montreal however, it is understood he will be called to the stand, where he will recount the story as it was related to him by Binet, while Detective Rioux, who accompanied the prisoners from Montreal to this city, will substantiate Chief Lorrain's testimony.

Duval and Dube are at present in the city, and are being maintained as material witnesses in the case.

Absolute reticence is being maintained by Judge Lachance, Aime Marchand, K. C., Crown Prosecutor and all persons connected with the case, but it is understood that during Thursday's sitting of the Court, while Binet was giving evidence against Palmer, the pair nearly came to blows during the course of Binet's evidence.

Binet, who it is rumored, has turned King's evidence in the case, may also undergo an investigation as to his share in the crime, but uless the prisoner, Cole, alias Palmer, talks himself, it will be difficult to nullify Binet's evidence, which is in his own favor as regards the degree of criminality.

Whether or not Cole will be ordered to stand trial at the Spring Term of the Criminal Assizes on April 11 will be known next week, when Judge Lachance, who is taking the evidence in the case under consideration, renders judgment in the matter.

The preliminary investigation in the case of Binet, if there is any, will probaly start next week, Binet was remanded for eight days on Thursday afternoon, following his damagging evidence against Cole.

The testifying of Binet against his alleged accomplice is believed to have been most sensational. The star witness, it is understood, related how he alleged Cole had assaulted the young lady and when she had tripped over the rail, knocking her head on the track and becoming unconscious, she was dragged in the bushes.

How the alleged murderers had then made their escape from the Ancient Capital without even paying their bill at the hotel and leaving their luggage was also related in detail by Binet.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are changeable—one bright, the next one cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BIG AMERICAN INVADING ARMY

Of Tourists Already Booked For St. Anne De Beaupre Shrine

The booking of tourist travel from the United States to Quebec during the coming Summer months, indicate that the volume of visitors will be even greater than last season. This particularly applies to bookings made to date through tourist agencies with Mr. J. A. Everell, Superintendent of the Montmorency Division of the Q. R. L. H. & P. Co., in reference to train service to St. Anne de Beaupre. It would appear however, that the tourist stoppage in Quebec will be of short duration due to the well known fact of restricted hotel accommodation and the high prices demanded last summer by certain rooming houses.

The feature of the tourist travel next summer is the number of special bookings for St. Anne de Beaupre, and the unusual number of Chicago people who are coming to visit the Shrine of St. Anne. It would appear from the advance advices that have already been received by Mr. Everell that there is to be a veritable invasion from Chicago. The Powers' tourist agency have already booked five parties of 100 each to visit St. Anne's from that Western city, while the W. M. Baile agency have so far booked one party of 100 persons and the Singer's Escorted Tours have advised Mr. Everell that they are bringing a party of 500 members of the Kiwanis Club from Chicago who will visit St. Anne and spend only one day in Quebec, thence going to Halifax en route to New York, and from the latter city will return to their homes. In addition to the foregoing a party of 800 are booked to St. Anne from Cambridge, Mass., and a party of 85, conducted by Mr. Wm. A. Stanton of the Buffalo Catholic Union and Times.

The first pilgrimage to arrive will number 900 from the St Anne Parish, Montreal, June 25th and a pilgrimage organized by the Fathers of Rosemount parish, composed of the Third Order to the number of 800.

The American Express Travel Department has organized some seven parties that will centre at Detroit and come by water to visit the Shrine of St. Anne at Beaupre, and Mr. Everell has been advised that three parties to the number of approximately 50 in each, will arrive at Quebec on the following dates: July 1, July 15, July 29, August 12, August 26, August 29, and September 5th.

It is further expected that when the Convention of Railway Passenger Agents meet at Toronto on the 10th of March they will decide to lift the embargo on excursion and pilgrimage parties that had been in existence during the time of the war to the present. If this should be carried into effect, it will in the opinion of passenger traffic managers give a much greater impetus to tourist travel from the United States to Canada next summer.

In the meantime, Mr. Everell is very optimistic over the prospects and says he expects to see even a greater number visit the Shrine than last summer. Speaking of the local traffic on the Montmorency division, Mr. Everell made the statethat the trains carried on an average of 5,000 passengers daily both ways. He also said that the Company had sufficient rolling stock to meet the increase of traffic next summer.

ATLANTIC ICE FLOES CATCH TWO VESSELS

St. John's, Nfld., March 4—North Atlantic ice floes caught two vessels off the Newfoundland coast today. The schoner Tipperary bound here from Lisbon with a cargo of salt was crushed in a floe off Cape Race. Her crew reached land by walking over the ice, crossing the patches of open water in a small boat brought from the vessel.

Grinding ice so injured the bow of the Roald Jarl, from Philadelphia for this port, with coal, that she will be tied up here for two weeks before repairs can be completed.

AMENDMENTS TO COLONIZATION ACT

Several Amendments Made In Assembly--Grasshopper Bill --Complements Exchanged

The resolutions and bill amending the law regarding colonisation passed through committee stage of the Legislature yesterday afternoon, and were given third reading. Dr. Parrot, member for Temiscouata, and E. Moreau, Lake St. John, made several suggestions to the Hon. J. E. Perreault, Minister of Colonization, which he thought would improve the law, and the Minister accepted two or three amendments, while others he promised to give consideration to and if necessary bring forward amendments in the Legislative Council. Arthur Sauve, Leader of the Opposition, pointed out that under some conditions the law should allow a settler to buy more than two lots, especially if he had a numerous family of sons, and he believed that seeing that it would be just to the settlers if the government did not adopt that policy today it would not be long before they did so, and then try to forget the fact that it was advocated by the chief of the opposition. As an illustration of the forgetfulness of the government members in these matters, Mr. Sauve recalled that for two years he had been contending that the government had not given justice to the municipalities in making them pay 50 percent of the cost of maintaining highways, and less than two weeks ago he had reiterated his demand and declared that before long the government would be obliged to grant that demarks. Not a single member on the Government side had seconded his remarks, and had even applauded the Minister of Highways when he had replied to the suggestion made. And yet only the previous day many of the Liberal deputies had gone secretly to a dark corner of the parliament building, and had there demanded of the Prime Minister and the Minister of Highways to reduce the contribution of the municipalities towards the cost of maintaining the provincial and regional roads, and had practically received a promise that it would be done. The Opposition made its demands in broad daylight before the province, what they considered was for the good of the province, they did not say white in the House and black elsewhere. The Opposition had the courage to approve of good measures and had the same courage to criticise bad measures, which he believed was carrying out the mandate given them by the electors.

The amendment that will be made in the Upper House to the bill will help the squatters who have been on their land for twenty thirty or forty years, who have never secured even their location tickets, let alone their letters patent, but have cultivated their land and erected their buildings. As the law stands at present these men have no right to their land, and would have to apply for a location ticket and wait six years before getting their letters patent. Under the amendment that will be proposed the Minister of Colonization will have the power to grant them letters patent forthwith.

An amendment that was made to the law was that where there was no commercial timber on a lot the settler would have the right to secure his letters patent within three years, instead of six, provided he fulfilled all the other conditions of settlement. A change was also made to protect the genuine settler—inasmuch as it will prevent the imitation colonist, from securing good land and then letting it go out of cultivation—by enacting that before a letters patent has been issued a settler will have no right to sell his cut of lumber. Another clause adopted yesterday was that a settler cannot sell his lot in whole or in part during a period or five years after the issuing of a location ticket. This will apply to all lots sold under the old law, but under the new law the prohibition period will extend to six years, and although the bill before the House stated that this would apply to all lots sold since 1919. Dr. Parrot pointed out that this would be unjust to those who had made contracts under the existing law, and the Minister of Colonization agreed to amend this to make it go into effect from the date of sanction of the new law.

The Grasshopper Bill

There was an amusing discussion earlier in the afternoon between Mr Ricard, the new member for St. Maurice, and Arthur Sauve leader of the opposition, over a bill of the former regarding the destruction of grasshoppers. The proposed amendment to the Quebec Municipal Code gives to any municipal council the right to compel the proprietors or occupants of land, whether under cultivation or not to contribute towards the destruction of grasshoppers in such manner and at such times as the council may determine. Mr. Sauve wanted to know what kind of poison was used to kill the grasshoppers, and Mr. Ricard said that there were several kinds.

Mr. Sauve: Is this an election promise? Did the member for St. Maurice promise to drive the grasshoppers out if he was elected?

Mr. Ricard: No such thing.

Mr. Sauve: I am sure the Minister of Roads never made such a promise when he was down in St. Maurice opposing Mr. Ricard, and that is why Mr. Ricard was elected. Will the member for St. Maurice say that he will keep his promise and fulfil his mandate.

Mr. Ricard: I promised to defeat the bad measures of the Opposition.

Mr. Sauve: What about the bad measures of the Government, it is the government that present measures for the administration of the province, not the opposition.

The chairman of the committee started to read the bill again when Mr. Sauve called a halt declaring that he wanted to finish with the member for St. Maurice. Then he wanted some more particulars about the poisons and whether they were dangerous, and the Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture came to the rescue of his colleague and declared that the poison used was harmless to big cattle and even to small animals being less dangerous than that used for killing potato bugs. The bill was then given third reading and passed on to the Upper House.

A bill presented by the Hon. J. E. Caron for the protection of thoroughbred cattle from damage through the escape of other cattle from control, and giving the owner right to claim damages, was also passed through committee and third reading.

Quebec Bill Passed

The bill to amend the charter of the City of Quebec was put through committee of the House and given third reading with the amendments made to it by the private bills committee.

Evening Sitting

The House was in friendly mood for the evening sitting. At the outset, Mr. Sauve twitted the Government about the Journal of Agriculture which costs the Province $27,000 a year. This paper is printed by Le Canada, of Montreal, and the Leader of the Opposition, aroused laughter among the members and in the galleries by his inquiries and sallies concerning "Le Canada".

The item was finally voted and Mr. Sauve then gave his attention to Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture. He said that he had learned that the Minister would leave shortly on a trip for the benefit of his health. He hoped that the respite from the arduous duties of departmental work would prove both pleasant for the Minister and that he would return thoroughly restored to health.

Mr. Caron thanked the Leader of the Opposition for his good wishes and said that he would think of him often during his absence and hoped that the rest which he would take would fit him for further discussions with the Leader of the Opposition in the House.

Continuing in Supply the House turned to the estimates of the Department of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries. A sum of $90,000 for fisheries and game was voted while $5,000 was voted to cover suspense accounts.

Mr. Sauve in commenting on the last item said that it was apparently a plan of the Government to withhold payments in the different departments and thereby bolster up a surplus.

Before the adjournment of the House, Mr. Sauve rose and said that he had noted by an evening newspaper that the Premier would on Saturday celebrate the 54th. anniversary of his birth, and he took the occasion to wish Hon. Mr. Taschereau many more years of happiness and prosperity.

Hon. J. E. Caron as the oldest colleague of the Premier joined the Leader of the Opposition in his wishes to the head of the Government.

Premier Taschereau wondered if a man who had passed the half century mark was entitled to congratulations or sympathy. He thanked the Leader of the Opposition for his kind words and said that he hoped some day to be in the Opposition himself and then to have the opportunity of extending like compliments to Mr. Sauve.

He thanked his colleagues for the loyal support which they were giving him at his first session as Premier and said that he had no reason to complain of the position in which his friends had placed him.

After the adjournment the members of the House gathered about the Premier's seat and wish him many returns of his birthday.

ONE U.S. SUBMARINE IS STILL STRANDED

Navy Tug Gone To Her Assistance—Other Boat Is Refloated

New York, March 4—The submarine O-7 remained stranded on the rocks off Fisher's Island to-night, but the Navy tug Larking had gone to her assistance and it was thought she would be floated before morning.

The O-8, which was also stranded last night at about the same time as the O-7, was floated this afternoon. Her rescuer, the coastguard cutter Acushnet, narrowly escaped being thrown upon the rocks after the work of floating the undersea craft had completed.

Both submarine were enmeshed in a heavy fog last night, the O-8 going on the rocks at the east end of Pennkeez Island on Buzzards' Bay and the O-7 on the Wilderness Rocks off Fisher's Island in Block Island Sound.

BIG BILLIARD TOURNAMENT HERE

Press Gallery Experts Are Mobilizing Their Forces To Challenge Members

The championship of the Parliamentary Press Gallery in English billiards will be settled decisively next Saturday evening at the Chateau Frontenac, when a miniature tournament on the knockout principle will take place. Owing to there being so many dark horses among the parliamentary men, who will not disclose their prowess until the actual tournament, it has been impossible to arrange any handicap, so every competitor will start at scratch. For the first round and the semi-final the game will be 150 points up, but for the final round it will be 250 points. Entries for the tournament to date number eight, and it is announced that a championship prize will be awarded to the winner —"to be donated by someone at present unknown but looked for." The entries will close on Friday afternoon next, and the draw for opponents will take place on Friday evening. Present entrants are W. O. Farrell, Herald vice-president of the Gallery; A. Vineberg, Gazette, past president; R. Holmes Parson, The Star, I Masson, L'Action Catholique, R. de la Durantaye, L'Evenment; D Potvin, Le Soleil, secretary; A. Cinq-Mars, La Presse, J. M. Fortin, La Soleil, Edmond Chasse, L'Evenment, and J. A. Davis, "The Chronicle."

Further details of the tournament will be announced later. If the wielders of the pen show the ability that it is rumored they possess, a challenge will be issued to play a regular billiard match against the members of the Legislature, some of whom feel that they have a score to wipe off against the press gallery, and rather fancy their ability to get revenge through the medium of the cue, and blue chalk.

Some newspapermen outside the Press Gallery are also anxious to play a match with the parliamentary men, and it is likely that the session will have to be prolonged in order to provide the necessary opportunity unless evening sittings of the House and committees are abolished on some days.

The annual dinner of the Press Gallery will take place at the Parliamentary Cafe on Tuesday evening.

Montreal, Que., March 4—J. K. L. Ross announced tonight that Chris J. Fitzgerald had declined to accept the position of racing manager of the Montreal Jockey Club and has decided to remain with the New York Jockey Club as steward during the racing in New York.

Mr. Ross also announced that Carroll Shilling, former jockey and recently assistant trainer to H. G. Bedwell, had severed his connection with the stables.

CITY AND DISTRICT LACROSSE LEAGUE

Will Meet Wednesday Night When Plans For Coming Season Will Be Brought Up

There will be a meeting of the Quebec City and District Lacrosse League on Wednesday evening next at the Victoria Hotel when plans for the coming season will be studied. This League has been in existence for the past two years and was the means of reviving lacrosse in this city. Last year it was composed of four teams, Frontenacs, the champions; C. N. R., Dominion Arsenal and the Firemen, and there is no reason to doubt that this year it will be a six-club League.

The brand of lacrosse played last year was very good and was the means of attracting great crowds of spectators who were always on hand to cheer their favorites to victory.

Judging from the present outlook there will be additional interest this coming summer, for a large number of promising young athletes who became followers of the game last year have manifested their intention of getting into lacrosse actively next summer.

Lacrosse has always been very popular in Quebec and with the leading athletes breaking into the game there is every reason to believe that it will again become one of Quebec's favorite summer sports.

A large attendance is expected at Wednesday night's meeting to formulate plans for the coming season.

WILL PREVENT TITLE MATCHES

No Championships To Be Held In Michigan Says Governor Grosbeck

Benton Harbor, Mich., March 4—Governor Alexander Gorsbeck will prevent title boxing matches in Michigan in the future, such as the Dempsey-Miske fight here last Labor Day, according to a letter from the Governor to the Rev Paul Yourd, a local pastor. The letter, received today, was in reply to the pastor's protest against the proposal to bring Johnson here for a bout next summer.

The Governor's letter was taken here to mean that Jack Dempsey will not engage in a championship fight in Michigan. Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons has been known to favor such a match in the State during the coming season.

M'GILL POLOISTS ARE CHAMPIONS

Won Inter-Collegiate Water Polo Title By Trimming Toronto Varsity

Montreal, March 4—Overcoming a handicap of three goals tonight, players representing McGill's aquatic polo club took the inter-collegiate water polo championship from Toronto Varsity by one goal by defeating their team six to two. Since Varsity had defeated McGill 4 to 1 this makes a total in favor of McGill of 7 to 6. The championship was won in the final quarter, the honor of scoring the goal going to Georges Vernot, Canadian champion swimmer, who easily outswam the best of the players for Varsity in securing possession of the ball.

MILITARY INDOOR RIFLE LEAGUE

Sergt. Trepanier Of Voltigeurs Leading In Race For Individual Honors

The race for individual honors is still an exciting one, the standing remaining unchanged from the last match except that Sergt. Creeggan of the Artillery team jumped from seventh to fifth place and put himself well in the running for one of the first three positions at the end of the season, for which medals are awarded. The four leaders, however, increased their percentage while those tagging on only retained their former percentage and, so increased the difference between them.

The list of leaders who have fired in at least five matches follows:

	P.C.
Sergt. Trepanier, Voltigeurs..	87
Sergt. Conlan, G. R. A.	86.7
Gunr. Tingman, R. C. G. A...	85.9
Major H. F. Hall, M.C., R. R..	85.2
Sergt. Creeggan, R. C. G. A....	84.6
B.S.M. Paradis, Voltigeurs ...	84.3
Lieut. Jos. Matte, Voltigeurs..	83.8

The standing of the clubs in the Military Indoor Rifle League, including the matches shot off on Wednesday night last, is as follows:

	W.	D.	L.	Total Ser.	Pts
Voltigeurs	6	1	0	2949	13
R. C. G. A. . .	6	1	0	2945	13

February Spoon Shoots.

In the monthly spoon shoots of the R. C. G. A. Rifle Association, Capt C. C. Shaw again proved his ability as a marksman by heading the list with 352, a percentage of 88, but as he had already gained a spoon this season the two spoons went to Bombr. C. Shell and Gunner E. McGrath who both tied with 87.5 p.c., scoring 350. Bombr. Shell won the first spoon of the season in Class II. with a percentage of 75.6 and has now worked up to a second place in Class I. with an increased percentage of 12.

In Class II. Gunr. Flynn walked away from the remainder with a score of 310, the runners-up being Gunner Roche with 279, and Q.M.S.I. H. Wood with a score of 272. The first named two secure a spoon.

AKRON WANTS TO HOLD FRANCHISE

To Go Ahead With Plans To Be Represented In The League

Akron, Ohio, March 4—Another chapter was added to the baseball muddle here, when Ralph Lattimere, selected to manage the Numatics in 1921 announced tonight that the Akron Exhibition Company would fight through the highest courts to retain its franchise in the International League.

Despite announcements that the club had been sold to Roy Mack, of Newark, N.J., for $25,000, Lattimere said this city would go ahead with his plans under the expectation of having representation in the League this season. Lattimere, who just returned from New York where he attended the International League meeting Tuesday said the League officials had decided that Akron would be allowed to sell to Montreal for $41,000, or keep the club.

Montreal, March 4—Much indignation is manifest amongst the sporting fraternity of this city today over the failure of Montreal to secure the Akron franchise at the International League meeting held in New York yesterday. It is claimed that two or three of the owners and managers of other clubs had made up their minds to keep it away from Montreal at any cost. In an interview this morning Frank Shaughnessy said that as far as he was concerned professional baseball was out of the question for Montreal this season as it was now too late to approach any other leagues, owing to the amount of "red tape" that would necessarily have to be got through.

C.P. MESSENGERS TO HAVE REVENGE

Will Meet Montrealers In Return Game At Arena Tomorrow Morning

The C. P. R. Telegraph Messengers of this city, champions of the Quebec Juvenile Hockey League, will clash with the C. P. R. Telegraph Messengers of the Montreal office at the Arena Sunday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. It will be remembered that when the Quebec boys journeyed to the Metropolis they forced their opponents to go eight minutes overtime before they could submerge into victory despite the fact that the latter had a couple of ringers, including Alexander and Legault, who are no longer juveniles. Manager Prior of the Montreal Club, thinks his team can repeat the stunt, but Manager Mike McMahon, of the Quebec boys, is confident his boys will turn the trick this time, so a great game is expected. The admission will be free so a great crowd is expected to cheer the Quebec boys to victory.

The following will probably be the locals line-up: H. McMahon will be between the posts, while W. McMahon and J. Farrell will break up the attacks, while O'Connell, Kane and Crane will make up the forward line, while Quinn, Tuppert and Haberlin will do relief work.

THE DOG SHOW.

All lovers of domestic pets,
Including spinsters, lads and Vets
Will greet with joy the gladsome news
That this announcement must infuse:
The members of the Kennel Club,
At their last meeting held in pub,
Planned to stage another dog-show
About the end of June or so.
These big meets of well-bred wow-wows
Bring the cream of social high-browns,
Who then foregather to discuss
The latest scandal and to fuss
About the lines and conformation
Of the lords of pup-creation
The lap-dog, setter, hound and pug
Will take a place in quarters snug,
And connoisseurs will trace their blood
To days as ancient as the flood,
When Papa Noah, wise old lark,
Held the first dog show in the Ark
If you possess a dog at all,
No matter whether big or small;
Just do your duty by that pup,
And you may win a handsome cup.

Rocky Kansas has signed to meet Benny Leonard in Madison Square Garden, on March 17, and is likely to get into a merry little squabble as a result. Rocky had signed to meet Richie Mitchell in a return bout in Milwaukee, on March 9, but Tex Rickard insists that he cancel that engagement if he meets Leonard Dan Rogers, Kansas' manager, has tried to have the Milwaukee fight postponed, until after the New York engagement, but Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee promoter, insists that Kansas keep the date or suffer suspension, not only in Wisconsin but in other States as well. The tangle has not yet been straightened out and is not likely to be unless Rogers can persuade Rickard to allow Kansas to fill the Milwaukee date.

MONTREAL MAY STAGE BIG BOUT

Possibility Of Dempsey-Carpentier Bout Being Held In Metropolis

Montreal, Que., March 4—(Canadian Press)—C. F. Graham, representing parties who wish to stage the Dempsey-Carpentier fight in Montreal, stated tonight that "there is a good prospect of Dempsey and Carpentier coming to Montreal on July 2nd, and if they do it will be under conditions that will bring the meeting fairly and squarely within the law in such a manner that no legal objection can be validly set up against it."

Mr. Graham, accompanied by John Kerry, of the legal firm of Kerry and Bruneau, legal advisers to the men who are willing to finance the fight here, will leave for New York tomorrow night to discuss the matter with Tex Rickard and his attorneys there.

It is stated that, once satisfied of the legality of the fight being fought in this Province. Rickard will not hesitate in definitely choosing Montreal as the location for the world's championship heavyweight fight.

It is intimated that the local promoters will be backed in the venture by capital secured in the United States sufficient to build an arena and to guarantee Rickard against loss.

DEFENDERS HOLD BOSWELL SHIELD

Colin Sewell's Rink Failed To Wrest Cup From George Van Felson Last Night

Another futile attempt was made last night to wrest the Boswell Shield from George VanFelson's rink at the Victoria Curling Club. The challengers on this occasion were skipped by Colin Sewell, and, though they made a gallant attempt to secure possession of the trophy the effort proved beyond them and George VanFelson still retains the cup, and is likely to do so for the remainder of the season. Challenges, however, are numerous, and the veterans as well as the plate glass skips are busy working out problems as to what players can be grouped to beat the invincible quartette, which appears to be stronger every time they are called upon to defend the trophy.

The rinks and scores were as follows:

Defenders.	Challengers.
A. A. Fleming....	Col. W. H. Leonard
Jules Balcer.....	George Love
Col. A. de M. Bell.....	A. D. Scott
Geo. VanFelson.....	Colin Sewell
Skip—16	Skip—7

VanFelson wins by 9 shots.

C.N.R. FREIGHT OFFICE WON FROM C.P.R.

At The Garrison Rink Last Night—Score Was Three To One

In a closely contested game of hockey played at the Garrison Rink last night the C. N. R. Freight Office trimmed a sextette from the C. P. R. Freight Shed by the score of 4-2.

Both teams started out at a fast pace and both goalers were called upon to save from all sides, and it was only after about ten minutes of play that the C. N. R. registered their first goal. This seemed to make the C. P. R. bunch wake up and they also succeeded in netting a point. After this the C. N. R. sextette started on their own and had the score four to one before the C. P. R. boys knew where they were.

The game was witnessed by many supporters of both sides, including Mr. John Noonan, the Freight Agent of the C. N. R., who led the rooters of the victorious boys.

Walter Derouin and Paul Drouin handled the game in a very satisfactory manner.

The line-up of the C. N. R. consisted of Normand, Seston, Lemelin, Power, Kane and Murphy, with Boudreault, Dallaire and Frechette; while the C. P. R. had Fortin, Pacaud, Fortier, Lambert, Buteau and Berrigan, with Plamondon as substitute.

CANADIAN CURLERS BACK.

St. John, N. B. March 4.—On board the C.P.O.S. Liner Empress of Britain, which arrived in port this morning from Liverpool, were the Canadian curlers returning to their homes throughout Canada, after a most enjoyable and successful tour of Scotland, where they won the greater majority of their matches and proved to be clever exponents of the Scotch national game.

In all, 34 matches were played, the Canadians winning 29 and losing 5.

The score by rinks was as follown:

Nova Scotia won 27, lost 7; total points up 276.

Manitoba (two rinks) won 51, lost 14; total points 461.

Ontario (two rinks) won 43, lost 21, draw 1; total points 294.

Quebec (one rink) won 23, lost 8, draw 4; total points 161.

SNAG IN GRAND TRUNK CASE IS OVERCOME

Threatened To Hold Up Proceedings For Week—Demand Abandoned

Montreal, Que., March 4—(Can. Press)—The snag that threatened to hold up for a week proceedings in connection with the Grand Trunk Arbitration Commission sitting to ascertain the physical value of the Grand Trunk Railway prior to its acquisition by the Dominion Government, was overcome today when the counsel for the railway abandoned their demand for an adjournment so as to their prepare their financial case.

In default of immediate evidence bearing on the main railroad, the Grand Trunk Pacific was brought into the case by way of a formal statement by the Vice-President and the general counsel of the Grand Trunk. This gave an outline of the birth and early years of the G. T. P. project and intimation that the original plan had been altered under political pressure. Further general evidence was furnished by J. B. Berry, expert railway engineer of Chigao.

NOTED SURGEON DIES WHILE OPERATING.

London, March 2—A despatch to the Daily Express from Geneva states that Dr. Victoria Vella, a noted Swiss surgeon, died while performing an operation. Two nurses who were present called Dr. Vella's assistant who rushed in, found the patient recovering from the anaesthetic and completed the operation on time.

The woman who was being operated upon will recover.

SEVERAL BLOCKS HEATED BY NEW SYSTEM IN SASK.

North Battleford, Sask., Mar. 4.—Several business blocks, an hotel and the Carnegie Library of North Battleford are now heated by the new heating system, which utilizes the exhaust steam from the engines at the power station, and plans are under way to extend the system.

The mains are laid underground and the advantages of the system, as set forth by M. D. Cadwell, superintendent of utilities, are uniformity of heat, absence of dust and dirt, no expense in operating individual systems, economy in production, lessened fire hazard, saving of boiler and coal space and an added value to property.

Superintendent Cadwell claims that North Battleford is the first municipality to establish such a system as a public utility and the second to offer steam to the citizens as a commodity.

Chronicle's Review of Coming Attractions For Next Week

THE EMPIRE

Maurice Tourneau has made his chief reputation with sea pictures. When he offers a photoplay with the ocean as its background, everybody knows that he will give the best possible. His sea pictures are always admirably interesting. They forever ring true to sea-life. Such is "Deep Waters" which opens a four day run to-morrow at the Empire Theatre.

His screen visualizations are always teeming with human interest, heart throbs and thrills. "Deep Water", is no exception to this rule. It is a Paramount picture.

When Tourneur picked his cast for F. Hopkinson Smith's well known story, "Caleb West, Master Diver", he searched for the best. It was necessary, because portrayers of these New England characters had to be life-like, not just "made-up" to represent the types.

The girl-wife of Caleb West, played by Barbara Bedford, is the most exquisite little character seen on the silver sheet for some time. She is Tourneur's latest find, from the middle West, just out of school, and a perfect darling still in her 'teens. Broerken Christians is the husband, Caleb West, and his portrayal of the character is faithful in every detail. Beloved Lydia Yeamans Titus makes an adorable and amusing Auntie Bell, while her husband, the skipper, is well played by George Nichols.

Tourneur has correctly fashioned his photoplay after the New England coast life, with characterizations here and there that bring laughs, tears, and then giggles. He has touched all of life's emotions, and yet not one is shown more than necessary. Jack Gilbert, one of the young screen writer-actors, has moulded a scenario from the book that takes one from the rush of everyday city life to the simple existence of these plain people in their small seaport town.

The picture is also spectacular, for it brings in a few thrills and some exciting moments. It has a big shipwreck, builder's troubles at the lighthouse site, on the rugged point, a storm at night and numerous other absorbing episodes.

A comedy and other short subjects complete the bill.

The picture for the second part of the week has not as yet been selected but it is certain to be up to the usual standard of the Empire management.

The Empire orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Bailey F. Alart will render a very choice programme at all performances.

THE VICTORIA

"Red Foam", a Ralph Ince Production released by Selznick, will be the main attraction at the Victoria theatre for four days, starting tomorrow Sunday.

"Red Foam" was originally published as a story in the Saturday Evening Post, and is considered the best work its author, William H. Hamby, has ever done. It is a story of a small town and small town people, but the theme back of it is as large as humanity itself.

Andy Freeman, a traveling salesman for an agricultural supply house, is one of the most popular men in Buckeye Bridge and, when he announces that he has rented a cottage and is about to bring his wife to the town to make it his residence, the news is received with great acclaim by the townsfolk.

In direct contrast to the high favor enjoyed by Freemen was the unpopularity of Arnold Driscoll, which was based on no reason except for his natural reserve and the fact he attended strictly to his own business. Therefore it was not surprising that when Andy Freeman was found dead and Driscoll standing over him with a still smoking revolver, that the temper of the populace of Buckeye Bridge boiled up until it was whipped into the red foam of mob rule. But it all works out for the best and, as truth, like murder, will out, Arnold Driscoll is revealed, not as an arch villain, but a man the town could well be proud of.

Ralph Ince has brought out all the high lights of a most powerful story which has been produced with all the resources of a big organization back of it. Zena Keefe, Huntley Gordon, Harry Tighe, Freeman Barnes and other well known players will be found in the cast.

A comedy and another episode of "Bride 13" complete the bill for the first part of the week.

William Fox has picked another stage masterpiece for use as a film drama for his noted star Pearl White. It is Henri Bernstein's "The Thief", and it will open at the Victoria Theatre next Thursday.

"The Thief" was picked for Miss White because its story is one that will give her a wonderful opportunity to show her myriad of followers all over the world her real dramatic ability as distinguished from her work in serials. According to all reports Miss White is more attractive in "The Thief" than she ever was in those "Continued-next-week" stories.

Antonio Moreno in the "Veiled Mystery and a comedy are also on the program.

THE AUDITORIUM

On Sunday the Auditorium will present Gladys Leslie in "The Golden Shower" also the fourth episode of the serial "Fighting Fate" a comedy weekly, etc.

For next week Vivian Martin will be seen in a picture entitled "The Song Of The Soul", a wonderful picture, considered even better than "The Beamding Iron. Vivian plays the part of a blind young woman who rather than see her husband and her baby are and not as she has imagined them in her blindness stands before the bright sun after an operation that she may not recover her sight and better keep the image she has dreamed as her husband and babe.

This picture is very dramatic and full of heart interest.

As usual there will also be five acts of Vaudeville which promise to be very good. Caplan and Wells will present some new stunts in comedy juggling. Ann Gray will please all lovers of harp music, Miss Gray is considered one of the best lady harpists on the vaudeville stage at the present time.

Peaks Blockheads will present a comedy manikin act which should amuse old and young alike.

Alexandria is a xylophonest player of note and will present some of the latest hits on his instrument.

Elsie La Bergere & Co. in novelty posing dog act will present some very striking and spectacular scenes which should find favor with all present at all performances.

THE CLASSIC

For the first part of the week the Classic Theatre will present Constance Binney in "Something Different".

Some of the extracts from the story are as follows:

"You are perfectly hopeless", said the aunt, and departed still creaking.

"Oh damn!" lisped Alicia, lighting one of the reprehensible cigarettes "I suppose in the end I'll marry Richard, and settle down, and get my excitement by buying a magenta hat with yellow feathers. But first I'm going to find out two things, and one of them is how it feels to be in danger of my life, and the other is how it feels to be kissed by a bad, big, burly of a man who has never had his fingers manicured."

In consequence of this resolve, two weeks later beheld Alicia on shipboard with four trunks, full of the most daring gowns she could find in New York, and many hand-embroidered etceteras to go with them, including absurd little slippers, stockings with embroidered butterflys hats that made her look like a naughty school-girl trying to be sophisticated, and a full supply of the tiny, red-tipped cigarettes.

Richard always wrote on heavy stationery. She thought of Richard contemptuously, correct, conventional, studiously considerate. A woman did not want roses and candy, compliments and courtesy. She wanted kisses that bruised, she wanted to be beaten, so long as it was for love. She wanted something that the Richards of the world could not give, something different.

A comedy, classic weekly and other short subjects will complete the programme.

"When we were twenty-one" featuring H. B. Warner is the picture for the second part of the week.

"When We Were Twenty-One" is a photoplay version of H. V. Esmond's stage drama, in which Nat Goodwin, with Maxine Elliott, scored his greatest triumph. It tells the story of the sacrificial love of a man, for a youth to whom he has been father, mother and brother.

The youth falls for the wiles of a scheming adventuress. She marries him for his money, but promptly leaves him for another man when she finds him penniless. It is a terrific blow to the boy, who thought his love was a noble, beautiful thing that was willing to shield a misunderstood woman from the slandering tongues of a lying world.

A Classic news weekly and a comedy will complete the bill.

THE CANADIAN

The Canadian theatre will show all next week "The Devil" featuring George Arliss.

Those who have had the good fortune to see "The Devil", which brings Mr. George Arliss to the screen in a picturization of the character he made famous on the stage, say that the photoplay is infinitely more in keeping with human experience than the stage play.

It has necessarily been stripped of much of its brilliant dialogue and, happily, of much of its cynicism. It was found possible to retain Mr. Arliss' fine characterization of evil, and to make him the moving spirit of a natural, logical story.

The scenarist, Edmund Goulding has built around the leading character—"The Devil"—two beautiful inspiring and powerful love themes which run side by side throughout the drama. The devil is till a bizarre, diabolical, and strangely fascinating figure, but he is robbed of his victory in the end.

"It is all very well to shock people a little—to jolt them into thinking—to facing the truth in themselves and in the world," says Mr. Arliss, "but it is not morally right to depress and discourage them. Besides, evil is not stronger than good. If good contends valiantly, good carries away the victory. If this were not so what would be the use of all of us—the use of everything—of anything?"

It has generally been considered that "The Devil" photoplay is greater than "The Devil" stage play, which set the theatrical world of two continents by the ears in 1908-9. The surprises, the dramatic climaxes, the severest lines have been retained.

There will also be other subjects on the programme which as yet have not been announced but it is quite certain to be up to the usual standard of the Canadian Theatre who run a continuous performance from 1 to 11 p. m.

"RED FOAM"

By William H. Hamby

Scene from "RED FOAM" A Ralph Ince Production

For months he had stood by and watched the woman he loved being abused, deceived and insulted by the man who, with treacherous lies, had stolen her from him. . . . But, there is a time when patience ceases to be a virtue, and that moment had arrived. . . .

That moment is but one of many, tense and powerful, that are shown in this gripping adaptation of the Saturday Evening Post story, read and enjoyed by millions.

CLAIM DAMAGE TO FRENCH ART

Ministry Of Fine Arts Ask For Billion Francs From Germany.

Paris, March. 4.—The French ministry of fine arts has presented a bill to the Reparations Commission for collection from Germany for damages done by German invaders to France's art treasures and monuments.

In a statement to-day the ministry says that more than 1,000,000,000 francs are needed to repair the German damage to these art treasures and monuments and even then the story of the Teutonic invasion and of marauding and heartless sacrilege will remain to counter-balance any propaganda the Germans historians of the future may make.

Before the war art lovers of all nations studied the public and private collections in northern and eastern France, where the heritage of generations of artists—works rarer than anything found in the Louvre, in Brussels or in the Luxembourg Palace—were gathered.

As a result, the Germans found, much to their surprise, that they would not have to reach Paris in order to capture most of France's art treasures, and under the plea of protecting them they transported thousands of canvasses, sculptures and wood carving to the Valenciennes Museum with the intention of selling them to German bidders as soon as Germany's victory in the west was assured.

But a majority of these art collections taken by the Germans have been returned more or less damaged or ruined, to their original owners. The Germans, when it became doubtful to them whether they would be able to hold their western front, whose the patriotic director of the Royal Museum of Belgium, M. Gevaret, sheltered the French art possessions after assuring the Germans it was folly to risk further damage to them by leaving them exposed.

From the Brussels cellars where they were placed, Mr. Gevaert personally directed their return to the Museums of Lille, Laon, Cambrai, Douai and La. Fere early in 1920 Some of the famous tapestries of Lille had been torn ruthlessly by German officers, who used them as coverings for windows which had been broken by shell-fire.

The Cambrai Museum suffered more than the others, for some of its ancient legacies such as porcelains and pottery of the 17th century and several Watteaus, the finest including the "Return from a Campaign," have never been traced.

The 1,000,000,000 francs asked of Germany naturally cannot be applied to the restoration of these treasures, but will be applied to the reconstruction of the damaged buildings throughout the invaded regions.

More than 800 edifices and statues, classified by the ministry of fine arts as "public monuments," are known to have suffered from the German invasion, some of them having being razed. Rheims alone needs 150,000,000 francs to restore the skeleton of the Cathedral, and the ancient walls of St. Remy. Arras' account reaches 120,000,000 francs if the second story of her famous belfry is to be rebuilt. Aisne chateaux the most imposing of which is the Chateau de Croucy, with hundred of thousands of francs worth of five-century old paintings and furniture, adds 300,000,000 francs to the bill, while 42,000,000 francs are needed for the Meuse monuments, including Verdun's cattered Cathedral and episcopal buildings.

Mr. E. . Duckworth, of Montreal, is among the guests registered at the Chateau.

FEEL HARD ON 'LODGE FARMERS'

East Elgin Liberal Association Urge Overthrow Of U.F.O. "Class Legislation"

Alymer, Ont., Mar. 4—The United Farmers of Ontario, their aims and what they may develop into were the subjects discussed at the annual meeting of the East Elgin Liberal Association held here this afternoon. A resolution was brought in urging that the Association take a stand to overthrow and do away with "class legislation of the variety being developed by the U.F.O."

A dozen delegates including some women, spoke in connection with the resolution and declared their feelings against what was termed "that group of lodge farmers".

Dr. Miller declared emphatically that the United Farmers of Ontario have set the clock back a hundred years and that the organization was ultra reactionary and opposed to the principles of good government.

Secretary Rogers declared that the U.F.O. has in it very vicious principles which could not be tolerated. If allowed to gain ground "Canada would become like Russia and the business and professional classes would lose their vote and be eliminated from a choice in the Government of the country."

John McIntyre said he was a "farmer through and through" but declared that "Premier Drury had no more right to govern Ontario than Premier Meighan had to govern at Ottawa."

It was finally decided not to pass the resolution.

MONTREAL STEAMSHIP AGENT SUICIDES

Montreal, Que., March 4—With a bullet in his brain, the body of Henry Sitarski, steamship agent, of 850 Hochelaga Street, was found lying in his bedroom, by his wife, when she returned from an errand on which he had sent her this afternoon.

Sitarski had suffered in health recently and had had business troubles. He had told his wife once or twice that he would take his life.

TRACK-WALKING HORSE DELAYED COMMUTERS' TRAIN

Melrose, Mass., March 4—A track-walking horse delayed the supper of several hundred commuters on five Boston and Maine trains here today. The animal took to the tracks just ahead of the first train and refusing to be disturbed by whistle or bell continued its amble down the rails.

It piloted five slow-moving trains in and out of Melrose Highlands station, only trotting faster when boys attempted to drive it from the track. At Greenwood, the next station, the horse was lured from the road bed and the trains proceeded.

FIRST MEETING OF LIQUOR COMMISSION

Montreal, March 4—The first experiment in Government control of liquor on this continent was inaugurated today when the recently appointed Liquor Commission held its first meeting at the Provincial Government offices in this city. It was intimated at the termination of the meeting that the Commission had passed the law in review and had set out to draw up some mode of procedure.

SLASHED WITH RAZOR

New York, March 4—The crowds in Columbus Circle were thrown into a near panic to-night when they saw an unidentified man spring from a doorway, seize a young woman and slash her face and throat with a razor. The man escaped in the throng.

The woman, Mrs. Grace Adams, was a cigar clerk in a nearby cabaret. At the hospital where she was taken, it was said her wounds were serious.

Our portrait is of Mr. MICHAEL T. ROONEY, of 65, Granville Avenue, Long Eaton, England, who writes:—

"Some years ago whilst touring Ireland with 'Sanger's Royal Circus,' I contracted some kind of an irritable skin complaint, which seemed to baffle different treatments in the way of ointments and lotions, all of which utterly failed to give me the slightest relief. Recently at Long Eaton, where I am engaged as Advertising Manager of The Picturedrome, the conductor there begged me to try Clarke's Blood Mixture, but I refused. However, he, knowing its curative powers from experience, made me a present of a bottle, which I began to take. Recognising a slight improvement in my limbs, I got another bottle, and continued the treatment until I had used four bottles, and now my skin is perfectly healthy again."

Sufferers from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Piles, Eczema, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout, should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief—to be sure of complete and lasting benefit, the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter, the true cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes, and expels the impurities, that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

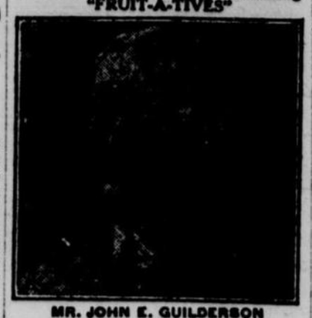
HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"



MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 128, Parrsboro, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance.

I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

RESTORATION OF GOLD STANDARD

Very Much Needed In Great Britain According To Financial Expert

London, March 4—Need or restoration of gold standard in Great Britain was emphasized at a meeting of the Sound Currency Association recently held here.

Sir George Paish, financial expert who visited the United States about a year ago, said the financial position of this country would not be sound until the gold standard was restored. "We could then be able to pay for things we require from other countries in goods or operations and without fearing the gold drain from this country", he said. "The gold standard of Europe must also be reestablished. We will not be able to resume the gold standard here until we are able to put out new capital abroad to the extent of £400,000,000."

D. M. Mason, who presided, said the Chancellor of the Exchequer had estimated that we would have at the end of the fiscal year a surplus of £234,000,000, which he proposed to use for the reduction of the public debt.

Mr. Mason suggested that if £50,000,000 or £100,000,000 were set aside for the purpose of gradually redeeming the redundant currency, in a comparatively short time there would be parity of exchange between Great Britain and the United States and other gold standard countries.

SWELTERING IN OHAMA

Ohama, Neb., March 4—Ohama experienced its hottest March day in 47 years today. The weather Bureau reported it was 80 degrees at 3:30 p.m., the highest temperature for a March day since the bureau was established. The next highest figure recorded was 79 on March 3, 1905.

POLICE LORRIES BOMBED

Dublin, March 4—Police lorries escorting prisoners to Dublin Castle were fired on and bombed tonight along the north quays. The policemen returned the fire, killing three persons and wounding four others. On reaching Grattan Bridge, the lorries again were subjected to a fusillade. Several more persons were wounded, among them two of the policemen.

BROWN'S WIFE IS VERY HOPEFUL

Toronto, Ont., March 4—"I saw Edgar at the jail yesterday and he appeared hopeful that everything would soon come out all right" Mrs. E. M. Brown, wife of E. M. Brown, who has confessed to the recent Bank of Montreal robbery, declared today.

"Edgar told me that the bank would receive back every cent that had disappeared, although how this was to be done he did not say. He looked far from well."

FLYING COLUMN AMBUSHED

Belfast, March 4—Fifty men ambushed a flying column of police and military in the mountainous district of Carrick-On-Shannon, County Leitrim, today, and a fierce fight ensued which lasted an hour.

A lieutenant commanding the troops was seriously wounded and five soldiers and two policemen were wounded slightly.

DEFECTIVE SCHOLARS.

Montreal, Que., March 4.—That the percentage of Montreal school children suffering from serious defects, caused by malnutrition, is just about identical with that of the recruits who were found unfit for service during the war, is the statement of Dr. A. B. Chandler, of this city, speaking before the Natural History Society, here.

BARRED FROM CITIZENSHIP

Germans And Austrians Are Excluded For Ten Years—Some Exceptions

Windsor, March 4.—Before subjects of Germany and Austria are granted naturalization papers by Canadian courts, they must produce that they were born in territory now controlled by the Allies, according to word received today by a local barrister from Dominion Government officials. Those who cannot furnish such proof will be barred from citizenship for 10 years. Twelve men whose applications for naturalization were accepted today by Justice Lennox at Sandwich, represented seven nationalities. Not a single Austrian or German was among the successful applicants.

LIST INCREASING VERY STEADILY

Number Of Canadian Girls Who Have Married British Or Foreign Titles

Montreal, March 4—With the marriage recently of the Earl of Minto to Miss Marion Cook of Montreal attention is drawn to the fact that the list of Canadian girls who have married British or foreign titles is steadily increasing. Perhaps the most interesting marriage was that of Mdlle. Eliza Agnes Joy to the Prince of Salm-Salm.

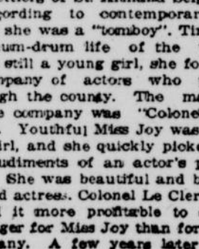
The house of Salm-Salm is one of the few surviving "Palatine" families. It has important French, German, and Austrian branches. The old "hotel" of the French branch in Paris, is now the Chancellery of the Legion d'Honneur. It was the German branch which opened its ranks to Mdle. Joy who, after a life of rare adventure, joined the Carmelite order and buried herself in a monastery in the Tyrol. Eliza Joy was born in the little village of St. Armand West, Missisquoi county, Quebec, 1840, the daughter of one of the settlers of St. Armand Seigniory.

According to contemporary account she was a "tomboy". Tiring of the hum-drum life of the village while still a young girl, she followed a company of actors who passed through the county. The manager of the company was "Colonel" Le Clerq. Youthful Miss Joy was a clever girl, and she quickly picked up the rudiments of an actor's profession. She was beautiful and became a good actress. Colonel Le Clerq soon found it more profitable to act as manager for Miss Joy than for a full company. A few years later while she was filling an engagement in Washington, she met Prince Felix of Salm-Salm, a young soldier of fortune who journeyed wherever there was fighting to be done. By her marriage in 1862 Miss Joy became Princess Felix of Salm-Salm.

After serving in the German and Austrian armies, Prince Felix had come to America to draw his sword for South or North, which ever retained him first. By his wife's influence he obtained command of a New York regiment and fought through the Civil War, the Princess serving as a nurse. After the war the two went to Mexico, where Prince Felix became aide-de-camp to Emperor Maximilian, and head of his household. He was captured with the Emperor at Queretaro, and was only saved by the intercession of his wife, who rode ninety miles to plead with President Juarez.

Prince Felix's next field was the Franco-Prussian War. He went back to his old regiment, the Grenadier Guards. His military career was ended at Gravelotte, in 1870. Eliza Joy, the village tomboy, Agnes Le Clerq, the popular actress, Princess Felix, the great lady, now all merged into Mother Salm-Salm, a Carmelite nun.

The first Canadian born to acquire a title by marriage was Genevieve Mascart, a granddaughter of Louis Hebert, the first Quebec colonist. She married the Marquis d'Aloginy de la Croix, an officer in the Carignan regiment. The first Canadian woman to marry a German nobleman was Marie Louise Labadie, of Pointe de Levy, who in 1778 married Baron von Adelsheim, a German officer serving in the English army. Many Canadians have married Germans. The list includes Countess von Zeppelin, a Miss McGarvey, of Huntingdon, Que., Lt.-Gen. Count von Waldensee, one of the Kaiser's right hand men, was partly Canadian, his grandmother having been a Miss FitzGerald, of St. John, N.B. On the other hand, General de Castelnau, the famous French general, was also partly Canadian, being a descendant of Louis Jolliet the Canadian explorer. A daughter of Sir William Mackenzie of Toronto, married Count de Lesseps, a noted French aviator, and son of Count de Lesseps, engineer, of Panama Canal fame.



Tiny Dose and Baby Is Happy

THE medicine a mother takes for her own constipation is seldom the right medicine for her baby. Thousands of mothers for thirty years past have been giving babies Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple herbs with pepsin. The full formula is on the package. This remedy is mild and gentle and does not gripe. It contains no narcotics. Half a teaspoonful will relieve constipation, biliousness, feverishness, colds and many other symptoms that indicate baby's inactive bowels. Mother, a sixty-cent bottle will last you months, and if it doesn't do as claimed your money will be refunded.

If you would like to test Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin free of charge before buying it in the regular way of your druggist, send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 19 Front Street, Bridgeburg, Ont., and a free trial bottle will be sent to you promptly, postpaid.

When Baby Complains.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

PRESIDENT'S WIFE HAS OWN IDEAS

Mrs. Harding Possesses Unusual Degree Of Pluck And Outspokeness

Washington, March 4—Florance Kling Harding, the new First Lady of the Land, possesses an unusual degree of pluck and outspokeness. She has ideas of her own on many subjects and she does not hesitate to speak her opinions straight out from the shoulder. Those who work for her count her a kindly and delightful mistress, but they know that an delinquency will call down a reprimand they will not soon forget. On occasions she has been seen shaking a forefinger at her husband—but of course nobody knows what that all is about.

All her life Mrs. Harding has been a determined and tireless worker, not only in the details of her household, but in the broader field of business and community welfare. She comes of fighting blood, her father, Amos Kling, having been a rugged power of the pioneer days of Marion. She was born there, and although in her girlhood her parents attained to moderate means they were not the sort who lean to extravagance.

When she married Mr. Harding in 1891, his newspaper, the Star, was not yet out of the woods financially and she went to work in its business department. She applied herself to advertising and circulation problems with an eye for efficiency all along the line. She watched the original purchases of print paper and materials and she stood at the presses and gave instructions to the newsboys daily before they started on their rounds with the finished product.

It is said of her in Marion that when she became the wife of the struggling young editor she told her friends she expected to make him president some day, and it is known that a some of the most discouraging stages of the pre-convention campaign last year it was she who insisted most vigorously that the fight be continued.

During the strenuous days when thousands were marching to the front porch of the Harding residence on lit. Mt. Vernon Ave. she was the most active figure about her husband's headquarters. She was beside him every time he spoke at home or away; she shook hands with as many men and women as did he; and she was in and out of his offices from morning until night, rounding up details and giving him advice on all serious questions before him.

Late on the night of the last front porch meeting a newspaperman passing the Harding home saw someone moving about the dark recesses of the big veranda. It was Mrs. Harding, drawing the porch chairs back against the wall for the night, and softly whistling a quiet little air of contentment.

"You seem happy enough", he called across to her.

"I surely am", she replied, "and why shouldn't I be? Isn't it wonderful?"

Mrs. Harding is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the Harding's alternate attendance between that and the Baptist Church, of which the new president is a member. She loves children and chooses horses and dogs for her pets. Cruel treatment of dumb animals arouses her to militant protest, and on more than one occasion she has stopped on the streets of Marion and Washington to reprimand a drayman or a cabby for abusing his horse. In her younger days she was a skilled horsewoman.

Of medium height, the new First Lady carries herself erect and with a charming dignity. Pictures seldom do her justice, for although her hair is streaked with silver her eyes are bright and her glances and smiles as radiant as when she was sixteen.

GOOD HEALTH CAN BE YOURS

If Your Blood Supply is Kept Rich and Red.

It is a waste of time and money to fight merely the signs of disease; in the long run you are probably worse off than when you started. What is far more important is that you should intelligently examine the various symptoms and trace the cause. When you remove the cause, health will be yours. For example anaemic people often endure months of suffering while treating its symptoms, such as indigestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and exhaustion after any small efforts.

The apparent stomach and heart troubles are generally nothing more than the result of an insufficient supply of pure blood. This anaemic state may have followed some previous illness, or an attack of influenza; or it may have arisen from overwork, worry or too little fresh air. To obtain good health the sumple and proper course is to build up the blood, but to do this you must select a reliable remedy with a reputation such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood which carries nourishment to all the organs of the body and enables them to do the work nature expects of them. Thousands of men and women have proved this for themselves. One of these is Mrs. T. Flynn, R.R. No. 1, Erinsville, Ont., who says: "Last spring I got into a badly run down condition. I had no energy; work left me exhausted, and the least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a trial and got a half dozen boxes. I had not been taking the pills long when I felt a decided improvement in my condition and by the time I had used the six boxes I could do my housework with ease. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INAUGURATION CEREMONIES

away at the Capitol, where his successor was taking his oath of office.

Inaugural Ceremony.

Washington, D.C., March 4.—The reins of Presidential authority in the United States passed from Woodrow Wilson to Warren G. Harding today in an inaugural ceremony at once the simplest and most cramatic of a generation.

The drama centered about the retirement of Woodrow Wilson to private life. Insistent to the last moment that he would carry out a retiring president's customary part in the ceremonies, Mr. Wilson finally yielded to the pleading of relatives and to the warning of his physician that he might endanger his life and only accompanied his successor to the Capitol.

Before Mr. Harding had been President an hour, he had revived a precedent set by George Washington, by conferring with the Senate in executive session, submitting in person the nominations of his ten Cabinet officers, all of which were immediately confirmed. Within another hour he had gone to the White House to "hang up his hat and go to work" as he himself often had said, unlocked the White House gates which for four years had been closed, to the public. The public celebrated the event by actually overrunning the grounds and peeping through the windows to see the new President in conference with Cabinet officers.

Mr. Harding took the oath of office at 1:18 P.M. exactly eight years to the minute from the time the same words of obligation were spoken by Mr. Wilson at his first inauguration.

The inaugural ceremonies, conforming to Mr. Harding's wishes, were kept free from almost every show of pomp and circumstance that usually surround the coming of a Chief Executive. Thousands witnessed the oath and cheered the old and new presidents along Pennsylvania Avenue, but the crowd was only a fraction of the customary inauguration throngs.

On the Bible used by George Washington at his first induction into office and on a verse of Scripture extolling the virtue of a humble faith in God, Mr. Harding plighted the best ability to the presidency that was in him. In his inaugural address he reaffirmed his reverence for the traditions of the Fathers and reiterated his belief that the Supreme Ruler was to bring the country once more to normality.

Before his own inauguration began, Mr. Harding attended that of his Vice-President, Calvin Coolidge, in the Senate Chamber.

Reaching the White House shortly before 3 o'clock the President and Mrs. Harding had luncheon with the immediate members of their families, Dr. George T. Harding, of Marion, the executive's father, sitting at his son's table as a guest of honor. Afterward the Hardings held open house to the folks of Marion, who had come on several special trains to see their neighbors settled in the Executive Mansion. It was late in the afternoon before Mr. Harding made his first visit to his offices and issued an order opening the White House grounds to the public. In doing so, he fulfilled a prophesy of Mrs. Harding, who declared on election night last November that one of the first act, of the next Administration would be to "take the policemen away from the White House gates."

Most of Mr. Harding's first evening in the Executive offices was spent with his secretary, George B. Christian, Jr., making a preliminary survey of the unfinished business left by the retiring Administration.

Breaking a precedent which has stood since the days of Washington and Jefferson, President Harding appeared today at an executive session of the Senate to present nominations of his cabinet officers. Within less than ten minutes after he had finished his address of five minutes the Senate had confirmed all ten nominations. The new President submitted no other nominations besides his cabinet officers, and in presenting those to the Senate said he desired to "maintain close and amicable relations" with the legislative body during his administration, and had, therefore, presented the nominations in person.

Cabinet Appointments.

The Harding Cabinet officers as confirmed today were:

Secretary of State: Charles Evans Hughes, of New York.

Secretary of Treasury: Andrew W Mellon, of Pennsylvania.

Secretary of War: John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of the Navy: Edwin Denby, of Michigan.

Secretary of the Interior: Albert B. Fall, of New Mexico.

Secretary of Agriculture: Henry C. Wallace, of Iowa.

Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover, of California.

Atty.-General: Harry W. Daugherty, of Ohio.

Post-Master General: Will H Hays, of Indiana.

Secretary of Labor: James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania.

They will be sworn in tomorrow.

NEW BIRD FOUND.

Cornwall, Vt., March 4—Ornithologists are endeavoring to determine the species of a strange bird that descended in the barnyard of Mrs. F. D. Manchester, wooed a Plymouth Rock hen and was slain in a duel with a jealous rooster. The intruder was grey about the size of a duck, had a long red beak and such short legs that it maddled with difficulty. Its feet were webbed and in fighting it used its bill like a rapier. Superior agility won for the rooster.

THE CANADIAN WOOL MARKET

Dominion Livestock Branch Issue Statement For Week Ending On Saturday

Ottawa, Ont., March 4—(Canadian Press)—Reporting on the Canadian Wool Market for the week ending March 3rd, the Dominion Livestock Branch, Ottawa, states as follows:

Sales during the past week have cleaned up all graded lots of cooperative consignments made in 1920. There is a steady market for considerable quantities of graded wools. It is estimated that in Eastern Canada, some 2,000,000 pounds of wool are still held in farmers' hands while in Western Canada there will be in the neighborhood of several hundred thousand pounds. Further consignments are being made by farmers to the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, Limited, Toronto, from week to week. Prices being quoted for Eastern wools are as follows:

Medium combing 28 cents; low medium 24 cents; low combing 20 cents; coarse combing 16 cents.

Western wools will be on the average run 3 cents to 4 cents lower in price than Eastern.

The average price for Canadian graded wools for the season has been about 30 cents and sales have been made as high as 60 cents.

MORE CUTS IN BREAD ANNOUNCED.

Montreal, March, 4.—The price of the one and a half pound loaf of ordinary bread will be dropped 2 1-2 cents and the price of fancy breads 1 1-2 cents on Monday, by most of the English bakers in the city, it was announced to-day. Competition for new business by the leading bakers is said to be responsible for the cut in prices.

PACKING HOUSE EMPLOYEES TO RESIST WAGE-CUTS.

Chicago, Ill., March. 4.—Declaring that the 200,000 packing house employees throughout the United States would resist to the last ditch a reduction in wages and a return to the ten-hour working day, a formal call was issued here to-day for a national conference of the employees at Omaha on March 9, and 10.

Mother!
Look at Child's Tongue

Give "California Syrup of Figs" only—Say "California"

When your child is pale, listless, feverish, full of cold and doesn't eat, sleep, or act naturally, don't wait: the little stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle thorough cleansing at once. Give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food, and sour bile gently pass and you have a well, playful child again. Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless laxative because it never fails. Children fearly love its delicious "fruity" taste. Full directions for babies and for children of all ages printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits. Mother, you must say "California". If you don't say "California" you may get an imitation fig syrup.

NEW WHITE ALBINO TOMATO

This novelty came as a sport, but comes absolutely true from seed now. The fruit is quite large, averaging nearly three-quarters of a pound each. Its color is absolutely white clear through; is most valuable for table use, and as it contains no acid it will become very popular, for thousands of people do not care to eat tomatoes on account of the acid. The flesh is solid and firm, and on this account makes a splendid shipper. No garden will be complete without this valuable addtion. Sold in packets only. Per pkt. 30 cts.

BURDENED WITH GERMAN SHIPS

Disadvantages Of "Reparation In Kind" Forcibly Brought Home To Britain

The disadvantages of "reparation in kind" are being brought home to the British Shipping Community very forcibly by the "dumping" on the British market of at least a million and a half of ex-German shipping, and there is more to follow, is the comment of Donald MacLeod & Co. of London. "These forced sales are bringing about a tremendous slump in shipping values, for instance, sister vessels, offered for sale by Lord Inchcape, were recently sold within three weeks of each other at a drop of about £50,000. A remarkable sale also is that of a 7,000 tonner built in Europe in 1911 for British owners at a cost of about £8 10s. a ton, at that time considered a high price, but which today would cost anything between £30 and £40 a ton has been sold at the extremely low price of £16 10s. a ton. A 6,100 tonner, 15 years old, is reported sold at £5 a ton, and older tonnage at £3 10s.

These low prices nevertheless offer a most favorable opportunity to British owners who have capital lying idle to go in again, but as there are many old and undesirable vessels among these prize ships it is all the more urgent that British owners be given full freedom in the disposal of their older boats to German buyers who, it is known have recently been bidding for old British liners, only to be informed that the Ministry of Shipping refuses to grant a transfer to the German flag, and this notwithstanding the fact that a British ship may be chartered to a German firm without even going through the formality of securing a license, an anomalous position which simply reacts in favor of American and Scandinavian owners, who are only too willing to accommodate any buyers, German or otherwise.

An announcement by the Reparations Commission states that up to December 31 last 2,054,729 tons gross shipping had been delivered to the commission, of which 2,019,654 tons were steamships, 9,750 tons steam trawlers and 25,325 tons sailing vessels. Germany still has about 500,000 tons of shipping to deliver. The commission has allocated 1,514,872 tons, as follows: Great Britain, 1,470,839 tons; France, 166,924 tons; Italy, 124,901 tons; Japan, 28,678 tons, and Belgium, 15,831 tons. Of 38 steamers which were in South American ports and which have to be delivered to the commission 29 have already arrived in Germany for repairs. Sales of these vessels are now going on, not only in this country but in Belgium, France and Italy, so that it is obvious that the demand of foreign buyers for British tonnage is bound to be restricted for some time, except in the case of Germany, who will be a buyer if we encourage them.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The White Star Line steamer Cedric arrived at New York yesterday.

• • •

The White Star Line steamer Vedic, which arrived at Boston from Liverpool February 28th, is scheduled to leave New York for Liverpool on March 19th at noon, instead of March 10th.

• • •

The White Star Line steamer Kroonland arrived at New York on Wednesday last.

• • •

The Cunard Line SS. Caronia sails March 17th, not 16th.

• • •

The Anchor Line SS. Calabria sails March 19th.

• • •

The Cunard Line SS. Albania, westbound April 9th and eastbound April 26th, are cancelled.

• • •

The Anchor-Donaldson Line SS. Cassandra arrived at Liverpool on Thursday morning, March 3rd.

• • •

The C. G. S. steamer and icebreaker Lady Grey left Quebec at 7:15 a.m. yesterday for Grosse Isle Quarantine Station, having on board Dr. Martineau and a number of workmen, who have gone there to get the station in readiness for the opening of navigation.

• • •

The C.P.O.. Empress of Britain, from Liverpool, arrived at St. John yesterday morning with 1,192 passengers, 98 first-class, 437 second, and 657 third, 1,707 bags of mail, and 256 packages of parcel post and general cargo.

• • •

• • •

Mr. Joseph Nordman, travelling passenger agent for the Montreal office of the White Star-Dominion Line, has been appointed to take charge of the White Star interests in Poland with headquarters at Danzig, and will sail on the steamer Cedric from New York on the 12th instant to enter upon his new duties, which will specially deal with emigration and guard against undesirables sailing for Canada and the United States, a duty that Mr. Nordman is well qualified to fill as he is familiar with the situation and has said that skilled labor is not available for emigration being wanted at home for reconstruction.

• • •

St. John, N.B., March 4 — None of the passengers from the Empress of Britain came ashore until this afternoon. The liner had 99 first, 437 second and 657 third-class passengers, in addition to 1,130 tons of general cargo, of which 243 tons was consigned to this city; 1,797 bags of mail and 856 packages of parcel post. The mail will be sent out this evening on the regular C. P. R. train going to Montreal in five special cars.

• • •

New London, Conn., March 4—Capt. Frank Berrien, at the submarine base here today, stated that the submarine 0-8 which was on Penikes Island in Buzzard's Bay was floated by the United States cutter Gresham and is now proceeding to New London. No attempt will be made to float the 0-7 on a sand bar in Block Island Sound, until the afternoon tide.

• • •

New York, March 4—The agreement between the International Mercantile Marine Company and the British Board of Trade, requiring the company to operate its ships without injury to British commerce, applies only to British flag vessels, P. A. S. Franklin, President, of the Company said in a statement issued here today. This agreement recently was attacked by the Shipping Board which yesterday declared the company exclude from the agreement all its ships under American register. "The decision of the Shipping Board does not in any way conflict with present organization, or methods of conducting our business," said Mr. Franklin.

• • •

Montreal, March 4 — Furness-Withy Shipping Co. have purchased the Fraser Building and site at the corner of St. Sacrament and St. Alexis streets and will remodel or rebuild on the site a building which will be in keeping with the other structures which the company has erected in other world ports. The new building will be known as the Furness House, the name given to the company headquarters in other places. Transfer of the property was said to involve $100,000 approximately.

• • •

Montreal, March 4—The C.P.O.S. liner Victorian, which for many previous years ran exclusively to Quebec will run to Montreal this summer, the C.P.O.S. officials stated today. It was further announced that the Victorian had been remodelled in consequence. The remodelling has taken many months, her laying-up date being January 28th last and her re-entry into service is scheduled for April 15. Plans of the remodelled Victorian reached the city this morning and show many distinctive features which will make the new Victorian rather attractive in the one cabin class to which she now belongs. All her first-class or saloon space known as the promenade deck has been turned over for the cabin passengers as lounge rooms, card rooms, etc., while the lower promenade deck has been converted in some part to a children's play room, a new feature for a one-cabin boat.

• • •

Boston, March 4—The wrecking and probable total loss of the four-masted schooner Anna Laura McKenney, of this port at Puerto, Mexico, was announced in a cablegram to her owners by Capt. Davis today. Vessel and cargo were valued at about $150,000. All the crew are believed to have escaped.

Commercial and Financial News

Closing Letters Canadian Press

(By Canadian Press)

New York, March 4—Business on the stock exchange today was overshadowed almost from the outset by the inaugural ceremony in Washington, the Street manifesting unusual interest in incidents attendant upon the change of administration.

Excerpts of President Harding's address were issued by the news tickers during the intermediate period of the trading. The views of the new chief executive regarding abnormal expenditures in the United States readjustment of war taxes and adequate credits struck a responsive chord in the financial district.

Other developments included advices from the Pittsburg district indicating a further let down of operations in the steel industry, an advance in oil prices on the Pacific Coast and the firmness of foreign exchange.

Atlantic-Gulf and West Indies shares were again the spectacular features of the irregular to heavy market. The common and preferred sustained early losses of five points on heavy selling due to postponement of dividend action on the major issue, prompted by the company's financial requirements.

Other oils, as well as motors and their subsidiaries, steels, equipments and food specialties, were tossed to and fro reacting quite generally, however, in the last hour. Trading in rails was negligible, apart from a moderate inquiry for the cheaper issues, where variable gains were partly retained. Sales amounted to 475,000 shares.

Conditions in the bond market were unchanged, many of the more prominent domestic and foreign issues, especially the latter, extending their recent declines. Liberty bonds also continued to ease the 3 1-2's, making a new low at 90.80. Total sales (par value) aggregated $9,675,000.

Sugar Market

New York, March 4—The raw sugar market was unchanged at 4 3-4 cents for Cubas, cost and freight equal to 5.77 for centrifugal. There were sales of 1,000 bags of Porto Ricos.

Refined was unchanged at 7.75 for fine granulated. Futures were quiet, but prices were steadier on covering and at midday showed net gains of 5 points on active positions.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By Bruneau & Dupuis)

New York, March 4—The Presidents message, though practically covering the ground expected has had little or no effect on the market. There was nothing new or of importance throughout in the message which had not been anticipated and consequently it made no impression on prices. The market was somewhat heavy in the middle of the day but improved a little bit toward the close. The main thing that stands out in the president message is that there is little prospect of these countries attempting to amend, and then join the league of nations. It looks as if the president was bent on carrying out an independent although helpful to foreign policy which would appear to be in accordance with the results of the last election. As Germany has been given until Monday to make their answer to the Allies, nothing new has come from Europe. Trading was in about the same narrow limits and money the same, so there was not much of interest in the days session. Sales 484,300.

(Breen, Gourdeau & Charlebois)

New York, March 4—The current week in the securities market witnessed no relief from the price irregularity nor the professional make-up of the dealings, such as have characterized practically every session for the past several weeks. The unwillingness of public interests to engage in new speculative commitments continued strongly in evidence, a similar condition to that which has existed for sometime, and it was due to this state of caution upon the part of the speculative public that was responsible for the unsatisfactory actions of the share list. In addition to the various factors of doubtful outcome that have been affecting sentiment developments during the week contained new considerations chief among which was the conference at London between the representatives of the Allies and Germany and also the inauguration of a new administration at Washington. Quoted values tended lower in the earlier sessions of the week, improved somewhat during mid-week, but trading quieted down very materially toward the close, practically marking time pending somewhat improvement in outlook. Nothing was disclosed during the week of any definite change in the market's character.

Sales, 484,300; bonds, $8,642,000.

(By L. G. Beaubien & Co.)

New oYrk, March 4—President Harding's inaugural speech has had little effect on market movements this afternoon. Mr. Harding's general attitude has been thoroughly set forth and his speech today did little more than generalize. There was some industrial weakness this afternoon in the specialities. Stromberg Carburator went off several points when its dividend was passed. Food Products, General Motors, the Sugar stocks, and the Mexican oils were also reactionary.

The railroad zone was better with Reading and a number of the low priced issues working upward.

There has been higher trend recently in a number of the low priced rails such as Kansas City Southern, San Francisco, St. Louis Southern, Colorado Southern and Rock-Island.

The Montreal Stock Exchange

Montreal, Que., March 4—Breweries led today's market on the local Stock Exchange with Brompton second. The former range between 45 and 46 1-4 and the latter over a range of two points between 36 3-4 and 34 3-4.

The only outstanding feature was the recovery in Riordon which regained 4 points lost yesterday and an extra 1-4 point, selling up to 123 3-8 and closing 123 1-4. Howard-Smith also in quiet trading added 3 1-2 points at 91 1-2. Abitibi was up a fraction at 36 7-8; Laurentide gained 1 1-4 points at 82 3-4; Spanish Common was up 1 1-8 points at 71 1-8 and the preferred a fraction at 82 1-2 with Wayagamack the only loser in the group, selling down a point to 69.

Other material net gains were Canada Car Common up two points to 33 Canadian Cottons Preferred up 4 1-2 points to 77; Glass up a point to 59 and Wabasso Cotton, up 2 points to 48.

The largest losses were scored by Canadian Cottons Common, which was down a point; General Electric down 2 points; Lyall and Twin City down a point each. In the banks, Montreal and Nova Scotia each lost a point.

Bonds were slightly less active and held their ground. Total sales, listed 7,326; bonds $310,050.

The Chicago Produce Market

Chicago, Ill., March 4—Increased confidence in values showed itself in the wheat market today largely on account of crop conditions and export business, but also owing more or less to optimism based on President Harding's inaugural speech. The market closed firm at 1 1-2 to 3 cents net higher. Corn gained 3-8 to 5-8 to 3-4 and oats 1-2 to 5-8 cent. In provisions there was a set-back of seven to fifteen cents. Close:—

Wheat, March $1.73; May $1.63 1-2.
Corn, May 71 3-4c; July 73 3-4c.
Oats, May 46 1-2c; July 47 5-8c.
Pork, May $22.00.
Ribs, May $11.77; July $12.17.

Egg Market

Ottawa, Ont., March 4—An easier feeling prevails in the market for eggs and slightly lower prices are to be noted. Consumptive demand is good and trading in a jobbing way is active. Cable advice does not hold out any immediate prospect for export business on a satisfactory business.

Toronto easier; specials 51c; extras 49c to 51c; firsts 47c to 48c.

Montreal receipts slightly in excess of requirements. Dealers paying forty to forty three f. o. b country. Jobbing at 48c to 50c.

AMERICAN TRADE IN EUROPE DROPS

United States Dept. Of Commerce Reviews Volume Of Business.

Washington, March 4—There was a sharp falling off in American trade with Europe in January, as compared with December, and a reduction in the volume of trade with South America.

A review by the Department of Commerce shows that exports to Germany decreased nearly $10,000,000 as compared with December, and imports from that country nearly $1,000,000. The export figures were $48,862,000 and the total imports $4,630,000.

Exports of $110,802,000 to Great Britain compared with $138,850,000 the month before, and imports were $17,437,000, compared with $19,334,000.

RSC INVESTMENT SERVICE

Mortgages vs. Equities

THE difference between bonds and stocks is this. The bond is a mortgage. The bondholder is a secured creditor. If principal and interest are not paid, bondholders can foreclose. Bond principal and interest are prior charges on assets and earnings.

Stocks are equities. Shareholders are partners, not creditors. Their share is that part of the assets and earnings which are left after bondholders are satisfied. Returns on stock equities, i.e. dividends, fluctuate with industrial prosperity and depression. That is why the values of shares move widely up and down on the Stock Exchanges.

It also explains why bond values are more stable than stock values.

• • • • • •

Industry does not benefit from stock market speculation. Industry thrives because of the confidence of the investor — chiefly the bond buyer.

The difference between the industrial bond buyer and the buyer of equities is that the first is a well-secured creditor of industry; the second is sometimes a speculator, who hopes for a profit and must prepare for a loss.

Not so the bondholder. He has little to fear from temporary business depression.

• • • • • •

The truth of this is borne out by the turn of the wheel in the last eight months.

Up to June of last year everything favoured the speculator. He made money quickly and sometimes was envied by the investor; but to-day the investor may congratulate himself,

All those who hold bonds of well-managed and conservatively operated industrial enterprises should hold fast to them and buy more; because industry is the foundation of all wealth, and the mortgage bonds of all sound industries are to-day selling at prices which are exceedingly attractive.

• • • • • •

This is the time of times to buy industrial bonds. Write to us for our list.

Educat'on.

The Rev. Dr. Waugh, Presbyterian minister, was eulogizing, at a public Sunday School meeting, in London, on the blessings of education; and, turning to his native country, Scotland, for proof, told his auditors the following anecdote:—"At Board-lay at the penitentiary at Millbank, the food of the prisoners was discussed, and it was proposed to give Scotch broth thrice a week Some of the Governors were not aware what sort of soup the barley made, and desired to test a specimen before they sanctioned the measure. One of the officers was accordingly directed to go to the wards, and bring a Scotch woman, competent of the culinary task, to perform it in the kitchen. After a long delay, teh Board fancying the broth was being made all the while, the fellow returned and told their honors that there was not any Scotchwomen in the house."

Real Estate.

Mr. Adjutor Dussault, one of the heirs of the estate of the late Mrs. F. X. Dussault, has purchased the latter's former magnificent residence on St. John Street for $6,000. Mr. F. X. Drouin, advocate, has purchased the Pye property on St. Ursule Street, consisting of the building now occupied as No. 1 Police Station and Health and Detective offices. He has paid $1910 for same.

Cockfighting.

The descent of the Provincial Police last fall upon a cocking main in St. Sauveur, the seizure of a number of valuable birds, and the arrest and fining of several of the participants at the affair, has not apparently put an end to this brutal sport here. It is claimed that frequent battles are now fought, but that their locality is often changed to avoid detection, and that a few days ago a fight between bigger bipeds than game cocks occurred at one of these entertainments, with the result that one of the contestants was so badly injured that he was unable to walk for some days.

The Crescents Won.

The Crescents and Junior Quebecs played off their match for the Carnival trophy, in the Quebec Skating Rink, last night. The game was stubbornly contested throughout. When time was called each team had two games to its credit. After a brief rest, the tie was played off and the Crescents scored another game, this winning the match.

QUEBEC MAN GIVES HIGH PRAISE TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Absolom Duchesneau Gives Three Reasons Why He Advises Everyone to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills for Kidney Ills.

St. George, Beauce, Co., Que., Mar. 4th (Special)—Just how much good Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in one family is told by Mr. Absolom Duchesneau, a well-known and highly respected resident here.

"My health is very much better since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills", Mr. Duchesneau states. "For two years I was in pain, but since taking Dodd's Kidney Pills the pain is gone.

"I also induced my mother to use Dodd's Kidney Pills for sleeplessness and the result was very satisfactory.

"My sister, too, took Dodd's Kidney Pills for backache, and she is better.

"Do you wonder that I advise everyone to use Dodd's Kidney Pills?"

The reason Dodd's Kidney Pills have come to occupy such a prominent place in the family medicine chest is that so many of the ordinary every-day ills come from sick kidneys. Rheumatism, urinary troubles, backache, diabetes and heart disease can all be traced directly or indirectly to sick kidneys.

Ask your neighbors if Dadd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick kidneys.

THE ABERDEEN INSTINCT.

There is one thing noticeable about Scotsmen—sensitive as they are in some respects, they never seem averse to telling stories against themselves, as witness this one fired off recently at a Scottish corporation gathering by no less a personage than the Lord Provost of Glasgow.

A Glasgow man (he said) brought down from Aberdeen a horse which he had bought there. While leading him down Sauchiehall Street on the way from the station, the animal suddenly stood stock still and declined to move a step farther.

A crowd gathered and presently there strolled up a man from Aberdeen, who at once suggested to the owner of the horse that he should "look at his feet."

This he promptly proceeded to do. He lifted the first—nothing wrong; the second, the third — nothing wrong there either. The fourth hoof he could not lift.

But with the united efforts of several bystanders the hoof was raised. Under it was a sixpence!

• • •

The Pedlar's Parade which was held last evening in the Gymnasium of the Young Women's Christian Association, a most successful affair was instrumental in raising a large sum of money for the Educational Department of the Association. Jolly vendors of various dainties called their wares in strident or musical voices as they were able to a crowd of people who entered very much into the spirit of this lively and novel entertainment.

• • •

The Pedlars commenced with a parade around the room laden with the wares one sees at old-fashioned country fairs and circuses after which they mounted in turn to the platform to recite an appropriate verse. When this was over they mingled with the crowd and sold from their packs or pursued their various trades.

• • •

The Pedlars on this occasion were: The Lemonade Man, Mr. Burt; Pie The Lemonade Man, Mr. Burt; Pie Man, Mrs. E E. B. Rattray; Cake Vendor, Miss Trixie Jackson; Hurdy Gurdy Man, (who had to be paid to stop playing) Mr. James Harrower; Fortune Tellers, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Glass and Mr. David King; Cream Puff Vendor, Mrs. Gordon Perry; Boot Black, Master Stuart Elkins; Blind Musician, Mr. Webster; Baker, Mr. Johnston; Indian Woman, Mrs. Harris; Pickle Woman, Miss Black; Fruit Seller, Mr. Wright; Candy Sellers: The Misses Yvette Lafferty, Frances Stocking and Helen McGachen; Preserves Vendor, Mrs Tweddell; Pop Corn Vendor, Miss P. • • •

Mr. William Ross in addition to his role of hokey pokey man also played selections on the piano with his usual taste and brilliancy. The organisers of this affair were: Mrs. Darlington and the Educational Committee of the Y.W.C.A.

Pains

THOUSANDS of people suffer the agonizing pains of rheumatism, believing them to be inevitable. Yet, the truth is that rheumatism is generally caused simply by the failure of the kidneys to remove impurities from the system.

The action of Gin Pills is to help the kidneys perform their natural function again. With healthy kidneys, impurities cannot remain in the blood. That is why Gin Pills are recognized as so efficacious for rheumatism. If your life is made an intolerable burden through the pains of rheumatism, try Gin Pills without delay. THREE EYES NEEDED.

The Editor of The Chronicle,

Sir:— A friend once said to me, —your readers can decide whether he belonged to the "keen observer" class or was merely witty, or neither —that Nature would, in time, supply Quebecers with three eyes, as a matter of preservation of the local species during Winter. One to watch out for the astonishingly carelessly handled vehicular traffic, one for the abnormally slippery sidewalks, especially for the miniature mountain range of ice formed by the drippings from the eaves, and the other for the terribly dangerous icicles that hang like thousands of Damocleesian swords over the sidewalks of our main thoroughfares.

Though your readers are aware that he diamination of the curb in Winter necessitates the looking out for all three dangers at the same time, I do not ask them to believe that we will really become tri-eyed, I mention it as introductory to my great idea, that, in order to dispense with the necessity for a third eye, and so as to make the city streets safe for the democracy and others using them, we start a campaign, or an agitation, or a riot, or something convincing, for "Better Roofs" on the buildings lining our main business streets.

Of course we must preserve our historic buildings but I do not think the city would suffer by the elimination of these dangerous ice accumulating, historic roofs.

The cost of keeping a roof of this kind clear of ice, should go a long way toward paying the interest on the cost of a safe one but if it does not at present, the clearing laws could be made sufficiently stringent that it would.

And if, at the same time, the shop fronts were modernized, it would greatly improve the general appearance of the city and would not so impress strangers that our civic methods and manner are as historic as our buildings, and other landmarks.

I remain, Yours truly,

CIVICUS.

Blood-Iron Phosphate Makes Thin Folks FAt

If you are weak, thin and emaciated and can't put on flesh or get strong, no matter how much you eat, go to Henry Willis or any other druggist and get enough Blood-Iron phosphate for a three weeks' treatment —it costs only 50 cents a week—and take as directed. If at the end of three weeks you don't feel stronger and better than you have for months if your eyes aren't brighter and your nerves steadier; if you don't sleep better, and your vim, vigor and vitality aren't more than doubled, or if you haven't put on several pounds of good stay-there flesh, you can have your money back for the asking and Blood-Iron Phosphate will cost you nothing.

White Lingerie.

From real good linen, at the manufacturer's price cut in half, we shall give from now until March 12th, 2 articles for the price of one or one article at half the manufacturer's price.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY PLEADINGS MAINTAINED

Montreal, March 4.—The pleadings of the Bell Telephone Company have been maintained by Mr. Justice Bruneau in the Practice Division of the Superior Court against the injunction proceedings instituted by David Legault against F. X. Beauchamp, in which petitioner sought to compel respondent to surrender and the telephone company to give him the number St. Louis 3333.

Petitoner submitted that when he bought Beauchamp's business (an automobile garage) he acquired the right to his telephone number.

The court ruled that the telephone company was not bound to give any particular number to a particular person. The contract was to supply service and not a particular number. The petition for a writ of injunction was therefore dismissed with costs.

It has been discovered that it is possible to transplant trees without injuring them if the operation is performed while they are subject to the effects of an anaesthetic. A tree so treated sheds its leaves after transplanting in the summer instead of in the autumn, but it soon recovers itself and becomes normal.

ARMY CAPTAIN FEELS LIKE OLD SELF AGAIN

Quebec Man Says Tanlac Fixed Him Up After Everything Else Had Failed—Gains 10 Pounds

Capt. Adelard Huerteau, M.B., of 28 D'Aiguillon St., Quebec, is still another who has been so benefited by Tanlac that he comes forward with an unqualified endorsement of the Medicine. Capt. Huerteau served for two years overseas as a Lieutenant with the 25th aBttalion, and now holds the rank of Captain in the regular army. He is also completing his study of medicine at Laval University, of Quebec.

"I suffered so from indigestion," he said, "that I couldn't eat a thing without distress. Why, after every meal I was simply miserable. I had constant pains in my stomach and back, and was so nervous I couldn't sit down and study or read for any length of time. I never knew what it was to walk the floor until I became exhausted.

"So many others were getting relief by taking Tanlac that I decided to try it and it was certainly a wise move, for the medicine has rid me of all my troubles and built me up to where I feel like my old self again. Why, I have gained ten pounds in weight, and I'm certainly thankful to Tanlac for my good health, for it fixed me up when everything else failed me."

Tanlac is sold by Martel & Dion, and Jolicoeur's Pharmacy.
