Natural Gas News No Shares Says Asselin

MONTREAL—(AP)—Hon. Edouard Asselin, government leader in the Legislative Council and chairman of the board of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation, denied Friday that he speculated in shares of the corporation and was party to what Montreal Le Devoir has described as a $20,000,000 market coup.

In a statement carried by La Presse, Mr. Asselin said Le Devoir had made "false statements and baseless accusations" about himself and others, which "I consider defamatory."

In a series of articles started June 13 Le Devoir has said the sale of the Montreal household gas distribution system of Quebec Hydro to the privately-owned gas corporation was marked by a $20,000,000 stock market coup. The corporation has said the sale was carried out "ethically, legally and in the open."

The newspaper has named seven cabinet ministers, a former cabinet minister now lieutenant-governor of the province, five legislative councillors and Premier Dufresne's private secretary as shareholders or former shareholders of the corporation.

Ontario Minister Resigns

TORONTO—(AP)—A third Ontario cabinet minister has resigned because he held stock in Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company Limited.

The resignation of Lands and Forests Minister Mapledoram was accepted Friday by Premier Frost. At the same time, Attorney-General Roberts announced that charges will be laid against the president and vice-president of Northern Ontario Gas for violations of the Ontario Securities Act and Ontario Corporations Act.

The president of the company, formed in 1954 to distribute Western Canada natural gas to Northern Ontario communities, is Ralph K. Farris of Vancouver. Executive vice-president is C. Spencer Clark of Seattle, Wash. Charges were not specified but Mr. Roberts indicated they arose out of evidence suggesting shares were sold from the company's treasury prior to filing with the Ontario Securities Commission, required before selling securities to the public.

The two previous Progressive Conservative ministers to resign were William Griesinger, May 6, former public works minister, and Philip T. Kelly, last summer, former mines minister.

Dunton Quits CBC Post

OTTAWA—(AP)—A. D. Dunton, who guided the tremendous growth of the CBC for almost 13 years, Friday accepted a new challenge as president of Carleton University here.

Mr. Dunton marked his 46th anniversary Friday by resigning as chairman of the CBC board of governors and accepting the university post, effective July 15.

SEE HOMESITE VANISH --- Mrs. M. J. McKay of Cornwall (right) sits in a deck chair in the middle of a once busy highway at the main corner of Moulinette, now evacuated. Under the umbrella is her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Finlay Mackay of Toronto. They are watching the rising waters of the new lake flood the site of Mrs. McKay's home, now just a patch of mustard flowers but soon to be submerged. Government officials say the new lake will be ideal for fishing and may be stocked with muskellunge, pickerel, pike and bass. (CP Photo).

Parliament

More Help To Provinces On Road Building

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government apparently is planning further partnerships with the provinces on road construction, once the trans-Canada highway is completed late in 1960.

Works Minister Green gave a broad hint that is the government's thinking when he told advocates of a second trans-Canada highway in the Commons Friday: "Don't be discouraged."

The suggestions came from Frank Howard (CCF—Skeena) and Hugh M. Horner (PC—Jasper-Edson), but J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonaville—Twillingate) opposed the idea.

Mr. Pickersgill said the first highway should be completed before a second one, desirable though it might be to the West, is started.

FINANCE DIFFICULTIES

He said some provinces are having difficulty sharing on a 50-50 basis with the federal government the cost of building the trans-Canada artery.

Developments in the Commons Friday included the announcement by Revenue Minister Nowlan that A. D. Dunton, 46, has resigned as chairman of the CBC board of governors, effective July 15, to become president of Carleton University in Ottawa.

Other government statements: 1. Prime Minister Diefenbaker said the fullest consideration will be given to the possibility of appointing a commission to study government economies. Such a commission has been proposed by Gordon Chown (PC—Winnipeg South).

TO DISCUSS DROUGHT

2. Agriculture Minister Harkness said the agriculture ministers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be in Ottawa next week to discuss ways of meeting the drought threatening crops in the two Prairie provinces.

Elsewhere during the debate on public works estimates, Erhart Regier (CCF—Burnaby—Coquitlam) suggested the government study the possibility of building a causeway joining Vancouver Island to the British Columbia mainland.

Mr. Pickersgill joined in with a suggestion that a similar study be made on the possibility of a causeway between Newfoundland and the Labrador coast, across the Strait of Belle Isle.

The suggestions came as the Commons approved the expenditure of $360,000 for studies into the feasibility of a nine-mile causeway, at an estimated cost of between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, between Borden, P.E.I., and the Cape Tormentine, N.B., area.

Stay Lengthened From Three To Four Days As Sign Of Good Will

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, (CP)—President Eisenhower flies to Ottawa Tuesday for a goodwill visit that ranks as one of the most significant peacetime trips an American president ever has paid to Canada.

His stay, originally scheduled for three days, has quietly been lengthened to four—from July 8 to 11—and this is being taken here as a reflection of the president's desire to emphasize the great importance he attaches to close Canadian-American relations.

He is believed to be anxious to avoid leaving with Canadians any impression that this is a routine goodwill mission and to stress, instead, the keen interest the U.S. has in its northern ally and neighbor and to do anything he can to offset the recurring Canadian criticism about the United States and its policies.

Eisenhower indicated this when he told his press conference this week that relations with Canada should be "just as close as we can possibly make them" and declared his willingness to talk about anything Prime Minister Diefenbaker would like to bring up.

TO ADDRESS PARLIAMENT

Making his first visit to Canada since late 1953, the president flies to Ottawa Tuesday morning with a program that includes an address to the Canadian Parliament, several full-dress conferences with Diefenbaker and members of the Canadian cabinet, two state dinners and a round of golf at Ottawa's Hunt Club.

With him on the trip will be Mrs. Eisenhower, State Secretary Dulles and Mrs. Dulles.

There is no formal agenda for the Ottawa talks but Eisenhower, in his press conference comments, indicated some of the things he has in mind for discussion. Problems existing between the two countries, he said, include surplus wheat disposal, development of water resources in the northwestern United States, imports of Canadian oil into the U.S. and American tariffs on lead and zinc imports.

These and other problems, he suggested, should be placed "right out on the table" to see whether "sensible men, people of goodwill on both sides," could find ways of solving them without too much damage to either side. That, he added, was the sort of understanding he hoped to achieve at Ottawa.

DEFENCE OF CONTINENT

To the president's list of possible topics, Dulles added two more at his own weekly press conference—economic problems and joint defence of the North American continent. Dulles said he hoped the Ottawa conferences would produce "some useful results."

Cuba

Another Try To Free Hostages

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—U.S. Consul Park Wollam prepared today for another effort to win release of 45 North Americans kidnapped by Cuban rebels.

Wollam returned to the U.S. Navy base on Guantanamo Bay in eastern Cuba Friday night after reporting to the American Embassy here of his venture into the jungles to seek freedom for rebel captives.

The diplomat brought back four Americans and one Canadian Wednesday after his first negotiations with rebel Paul Castro, Raul's brother Fidel, the leader may be about to launch new efforts to overthrow Batista in connection with the fifth anniversary July 26 of Castro's movement.

Seek Motive For Suicide

TORONTO—(AP)—Police today still sought clues to the shooting death of Chief Constable John Jock Chisholm, 61, head of Metropolitan Toronto police.

Chief Chisholm was found at noon Friday, slumped behind the wheel of a police car in west-end High Park. He had been shot through the head with his own 38-calibre revolver and Dr. Smilie Lawson, Ontario's chief supervisory coroner, termed the incident "most certainly suicide."

Macmillan And Dulles Accepted In Paris As A Matter-Of-Fact

By ED SIMON

Canadian Press Staff Writer
In the supercharged atmosphere of Gen. de Gaulle's assumption of the reins of power, the presence of Prime Minister Macmillan or State Secretary Dulles in Paris would have been unthinkable.

When the general was voted into the premiership by a reluctant Chamber of Deputies barely a month ago, triumphant right-wing demonstrators hailed him as the messiah who would liberate them from the domination of the United States and Britain.

Now a placid city plays host to Dulles, having given an equally matter-of-fact reception to Macmillan last weekend, for cordial conferences reaffirming Western unity.

DIFFERENCES HIDDEN

Once again, the general has played his cards close to the chest, telling the French people virtually nothing in advance of decisions made and policies set in motion. The absence of street demonstrations and impassioned editorials is the measure of his success in lowering France's political temperature.

France is anxious to acquire nuclear weapons, with or without U.S. assistance. She desires a friendlier attitude by her Western partners toward her difficulties in Algeria and a stronger voice in Middle Eastern affairs.

Undoubtedly the general's advocacy of these desires with something less than unqualified enthusiasm.

SECURITY GOOD SIGN
But in the very secrecy of the talks lies their greatest promise. The weak parliamentary regimes that governed France in recent years had been forced in increasing measure to issue defiant proclamation of policies forced on them by their shifting majorities in the Chamber of Deputies, leaving them little bargaining power in international negotiations.

De Gaulle, temporarily freed by his dissolution of the chamber of political pressure is able to pursue his own course, subject only to his ability to retain control of the coalition of soldiers and Algerian settlers that put him into office.

For the present, his authority appears to be unchallenged. The Algerian committee of public safety has swallowed the news of an agreement to withdraw French troops from neighboring Tunisia, an avowed base of operations for Algeria's Arab rebels. And it has restrained its impetuosity over de Gaulle's resignation of some of their parliamentary adversaries in his cabinet. Meanwhile, the visits of Macmillan and Dulles are helping de Gaulle mend his fences abroad while he makes the best of the current political tranquility to improve matters at home.

Her Husband Must Be Henpecked

PERRY, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Carmen Araiza, 28, Friday yakked her way into a $1,000 in prizes and became the new world's champion talker.

Mrs. Araiza talked for 93½ hours and was still going strong when she quit at 8:30 a.m. She had been talking since 11 a.m. Monday and outlasted four other contestants in a contest sponsored by a furniture store and radio station.

The previous record was 92 hours, accomplished last month by a Pittsburgh, Pa., woman, Miss Sue Huron, in a similar contest at Fayetteville, N. C.

Within three days, more than 45 cargo ships were lined up waiting to move through St. Lawrence Seaway locks onto the new lake.

CUBAN KIDNAP

The Cuban rebel followers of Fidel Castro conducted a campaign of kidnapping, grabbing 59 Americans and Canadians and taking them into the hills.

Castro's bold new action was aimed at bringing world attention once again to his fight against President Batista, and the rebels apparently took care not to harm their captives.

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Dominion Day was celebrated with a big bang—literally—in sea-way valley, where a man-made lake was born on the St. Lawrence, Canada's largest river.

A total of 63,000 pounds of nitro were used to blast a 600-foot cofferdam, unleashing the river flood into the lake basin, which is 35 miles long and five miles wide and will be ringed by picturesque parkland with sandy beaches and picnic sites.

The shock was felt in downtown Cornwall, more than five miles from the blast that created the lake, which now becomes a key feature of the St. Lawrence power project.

Tons of earth were thrown 200 feet into the air and rock boulders were sent whizzing more than 1,000 feet. But thousands of folk who watched from a distance saw little more than a puff of smoke.

Meanwhile, State Secretary Dulles of the U.S. went to Paris for meetings with de Gaulle.

GIFT UPROAR

Sensation was piled on sensation in Washington as Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine testified about his gift-giving habits.

Goldfine put the label of "lie" on charges that he got favored federal treatment through his long-time friend Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 aide.

He described John Fox, also a

The Canadians kidnapped were: Richard Sargent, about 50, Toronto, manager of a sugar mill; and Harold C. Kristjanson, 37, Geraldton, Ont., and Edward Cannon, 50, Cornwall, Ont., both engineers.

Cannon and two Americans were the first released, the Canadian emerging with words of praise for the rebels' treatment.

ALGERIA PLAN

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, visiting Algeria for the second time since becoming premier of France, proclaimed a "vast plan" for that war-ravaged territory.

He said the plan, providing for economic expansion, social improvement and political reform, will give Algeria its "rightful share" in the progress of France.

At the same time, the premier issued a sharp rebuff to the extremist all-Algeria public safety committee, whose insurgent action brought him to power. De Gaulle was "too busy" to see members who came to visit him in Algiers.

Meanwhile, State Secretary Dulles of the U.S. went to Paris for meetings with de Gaulle.

NEW STATE

The United States congress finally voted to make Alaska, which is almost as big as Quebec and has a population of 130,000, the 49th state. The Senate vote, completing congressional action, was 64 to 20.

President Eisenhower's signature was assured and only approval in a territorial referendum remains before statehood is formally achieved. Alaskans whooped it up with parties re-millionaire from Boston and his chief accuser, as a sick man who has told many lies "and will tell many more, I am sure."

Goldfine later testified that he had given cheques as Christmas presents to 33 past and present White House and congressional employees.

MID-EAST WAR

The baffling civil war continued in Lebanon, where rebels have been trying for eight weeks to topple the pro-western government of President Camille Chamoun.

Daily fighting took place in one unusual move, rebels and government forces got together in Tripoli and agreed to eliminate heavy-weapon fire, for the sake of the civilian population.

United Nations observers, meanwhile, reported they have been unable to ascertain whether any rebels or weapons have come from the United Arab Republic, as charged by Chamoun. Rebels had barred the watchdog teams from certain areas.

WARNING LETTER

The Soviet Embassy in London said an anonymous letter was received, supposedly from a United States pilot, saying he was going to drop an atomic bomb off the coast of England.

"It's an obvious fake," was the comment of the U. S. Embassy, and the U. S. Air Force agreed. Signed simply "W," the letter said it was planned to drop the bomb near enough to land to cause casualties and thus dramatize the horror of nuclear war. The plane then would fly to Russia.

Scotland Yard and U. S. investigators sought the source of the letter.

STATUE SPEAKS

Countless thousands have marvelled at the British soldiers of the life guard regiment, who stand so still and silent on sentry duty, in imposing helmets, plumes and breastplates.

Tradition was suddenly shattered this week when one sentry, Trooper John Tedbury, spoke on duty—just four words.

"You are a liar," grunted Tedbury, addressing a professional guide who was accompanying a group of Americans.

Tedbury's friends drank to his health after he explained that the guide had said, among other things, that the Guards wear "plastic" trousers. The soldier wasn't punished.

horror epics. But the kids take them seriously.

And what is the status of comedy on the screen? Poor. Comedy used to be a standard commodity in films. Now there is only one comic turning out movies regularly and finding success—Jerry Lewis.

COMEDY LOST ON TV

Comedy is also becoming virtually extinct on television. This, of course, cannot be blamed on the youngsters. But if they demanded more comedy on TV, they would get it. The demand does not seem to be there.

The young people control the music industry today, because they're the ones who buy records. And look what they go for! The great mass of it is tasteless and humorless.

The new funny men work mostly not in the mass media but in small night clubs, where their satiric barbs can be enjoyed by an enlightened few. You see nothing like the great clowns—Chaplin, Lloyd, Keaton, Skelton, those whose insight appeals to the great mass of humanity.

Where are the humorists, the pranksters, the fun-lovers of yore? Have they been beaten down by the age of uncertainty? Or have they just been ignored by controllers of mass media?

Let's hope only the latter is true.

OPINION...

by Gerald McDuff

The Magog city council, fearful of the town being ignored when the new superhighway bypasses it, has taken steps to stave off an onymity.

A plan, drawn up by Engineer Germain Rivard and officially adopted by the council, was submitted to the Province.

No estimates were given but the scheme provides for a link up from Highway No. 1 to the new road.

It's actually an alternative and, in a sense, an appeasement offering to the businessmen who wanted the highway to run through the town.

The merchants in a delegation protested at Quebec earlier this year.

They felt, as many small town businessmen believe, that bypassing would automatically mean a drastic cut in sales.

The city council listened to their plea but instead wisely chose to have a definite and more practical plan drawn up.

Magog, besides, probably depends more on its home-town and regional sales than on the odd tourist dollars.

Mr. Rivard, in a lengthy memorandum, points out that Magog is at the crossroads of an economic area, on the mainline of industrial development in the Eastern Townships and at the centre of a tourist-alluring scenery.

Thus, he concludes, it would be a disaster to leave Magog out in the cold because it would mean financial death to a whole region.

The tie-up with the superhighway, as the engineer sees it, would be made from route

No. 1 just out of Magog on the Montreal side where a large motel is located.

The link does not cut in directly to the highway but parallels with a clover-leaf turn-off.

In other words, traffic would flow on and off the link and be absorbed with relatively little danger and no loss of speed.

From Route No. 1, the tie-up will cross the CPR line and marshy land to join the superhighway which in part follows the old stage coach from Magog to Orford.

Governmental engineers haven't decided how to get around Mt. Orford.

One proposal is to follow the CPR line through the gap between Mt. Shony and Mt. Orford for one lane of traffic. The other road along Orford Lake could be used as a lane for traffic the other way.

The City Parks Department is putting its shoulder to the wheel it seems.

The zoo at Victoria Park is to be graced with new inhabitants not the smallest of which is to be a white polar bear.

His cage is being equipped with a swimming pool but there is no mention of ice cubes.

His room mates, in a manner of speaking, will be three newly born deer from the Quebec zoo.

Plus a flock of birds. Zoo officials have done a good job with the zoo. They have cultivated a primitive atmosphere.

The cabins are mostly log, the pine trees have not been topped carelessly nor has the ground been invaded by garish concession stands.

Ald. Carl Camirand's complaint that the park was becoming commercialized can be appreciated.

There are three concessions now but the door is open for more. Let's hope the city fathers are prudent and protect the zoo against commercial encroachments.

Mayor Nadeau will be in Joliette for a directors meeting of the Mayors and Municipalities Association of Quebec, July 26 and 27.

He is expected to formally accept this year's presidency of the association which will be ratified at the convention in August.

What's more important though is that the Mayor must hold office to ascend to the presidency, which means he likely will throw his hat in the ring for the mayoralty immediately after he returns.

Eddy Blouin, contrary to supposition, says he does not intend to move from Sherbrooke but will take trips to Europe and the United States with the missus.

La Presse, the large French-speaking daily, is considering opening a Sherbrooke office.

BROWN'S HILL — Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Butler, Elaine and Wendy, were guests of relatives in South Stukely and Foster.

Killers In The Home

Poisons Greatest Potential Danger

Mrs. Housewife - there's a killer in your home!

But you don't need weapons to defend yourself, the National Safety Council says. Just common sense and a lot of caution.

The killer? Poisons. They lurk everywhere - in the medicine cabinet, under the kitchen sink, on dressing tables. You'll even find them on food shelves, in the workshop, and in your cleaning closet.

These camouflaged killers in the home, the Council points out, take more than 1,000 lives annually. They take a steady toll throughout the year - about 120 lives a month.

Most frequent victims are children five years of age or younger. But right up there as home poison victims are persons in the 25-44 and 45-64 age groups.

The types of accidental poisoners are as varied as the containers they come in - bleach, permanent wave solution, shampoo, nail polish remover, furniture polish, art supplies, bug killers paint removers.

Regardless of the killer, in just about every instance there's an accomplice to the crime - carelessness or ignorance.

For example, some potential poisoners are properly labeled - but a lot aren't. Doctors aren't always sure if a product is poisonous. And some ingredients, harmless to most persons, can kill others - especially children.

In many instances, the killer is an otherwise harmless object - aspirin, for example. About one out of five children treated for accidental poisoning in a recent year had swallowed aspirin, the Council reports. Kerosene is a troublesome household commonplace, especially in rural areas and in the South.

Old houses, too, can be booby-traps for children. Tots can be poisoned by peeling paint on window sills and frames, or by crumbling plaster. Each can cause lead poisoning.

The way to prevent poisoning? 1. "Education," the Council says. "Parents should be made aware of the dangers lurking in their homes."

2. Stricter state and federal laws. "Ingredients should be listed on bottles or cans containing poisonous substances - even products valuable to our everyday living."

Best way, though, is to prevent the poisoning, the Council says. How?

By following these rules: (1) Store medicines out of the reach of children, (2) Don't put poisons near foods - it's too easy to confuse the two, (3) Don't take medicine in the dark, (4) Keep poisonous substances out of soft-drink bottles, used jelly jars, or pans, for example, and (5) Have a locked poison compartment in your home.

Progress In Lennoxville Well Project

The Lennoxville water project, designed to augment the municipal water supply, is well underway at the moment and work is progressing favourably, Mayor Ernest Gilbey declared yesterday.

At the moment, said the Mayor, engineers are removing silt from the well, a sign which they claim, indicated an excellent waterbed.

According to latest reports, the Mayor continued, the well has reached a depth of 86 feet and is producing 800 gallons per minute. The other well produces a maximum of only 600 gallons per minute. The Mayor did not say when he expected the engineers to be finished with the project, but he indicated that it would not be very long.

A further report on the project is expected in the forthcoming council meeting, to take place in the Town Hall on Monday night.

Two Remanded To Higher Court On Theft Charges

Noel Proulx 22 and Registre Lafrance, 22, both of Sherbrooke, appeared in Court of Sessions yesterday for their preliminary hearings before Judge Joseph Marier on charges of breaking into a car and stealing a car radio and two tires, on June 24.

Proulx and Lafrance are accused of having stolen the car belonging to Joseph Casteau of Short street, and removing a radio and two tires from it.

The two accused were traced by Sherbrooke police with the help of Lloyd Baldwin, who phoned police after he noticed two men driving away with his neighbor's car.

After hearing the testimony, Judge Marier ordered the two accused to stand trial at the next sessions of the Criminal Assizes.

Vermont Driver Is Acquitted On Driving Charge

Atly Waterman, 28, of Vermont was acquitted by Judge Joseph Marier in Court of Sessions yesterday on a charge of impaired driving.

Waterman was arrested by Provincial Police Officer Rosaire Daigle near Coaticook on June 29 when the officer noticed that the accused looked suspicious when he stopped his car on a side road. Mr. Daigle noticed that as soon as he approached Waterman's car, the accused was standing beside the car, tried to jump back in and drive off before the officer arrived.

Mr. Daigle in his testimony said that Waterman had a strong liquor smell on his breath and that the accused had some difficulty in walking.

Judge Marier said that there was not enough evidence to prove the man guilty and that he could not risk an injustice by convicting the man because there was a lack of evidence.

Fire Damages Memorial Hall At Stanbridge

STANBRIDGE EAST (Special) — An estimated $1,000 worth of damage was caused by fire here yesterday afternoon when flames spread through the roof of the porch and one side of the ceiling of the Memorial Hall. Volunteer firemen brought the flames under control in a few minutes and the outbreak was virtually extinguished about three-quarters of an hour later.

The flames were first noticed at about 3:00 p.m. by a passerby who immediately notified the fire department. The rest of the volunteers were summoned by ringing the town bells.

Most of the loss is believed to be water damage.

The same building was razed to the ground eight years ago. That outbreak was put down to an electrical failure. Cause of yesterday's fire is not yet known.

Man Fined For Possession Of Illicit Liquor

A 24-year-old Sherbrooke man was fined $200 and costs in Court of Sessions yesterday by Judge Joseph Marier, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing illicit home made liquor.

The accused was arrested after he bought the liquor from a local resident whom R.C.M.P. officials had under surveillance for a long time.

Judge Marier gave the accused a minimum fine after it was found out that the 24 year old man had bought only two bottles.

Records Stand Despite Cool June Weather

The weather man provided nothing for the records insofar as June 1958 is concerned. While the month was cooler, sunnier and drier than the 44-year average, none of the records set in former years were approached.

For instance, the average temperature for the month was 57.76 degrees, somewhat lower than the 61.83 average over the 44 years that records have been maintained at the Lennoxville Experimental Farm and decidedly below the 66.26 degree average for June 1957. But extremes were lacking. The high of 80 degrees set on the 29th was far short of the 95 mark established June 26, 1948. The low for the month was 23, or three degrees above the 25-mark set on two previous occasions, June 6, 1934, and June 2, 1945.

Sunshine for the month was 234.4 hours, as compared with 268.8 hours last year and a 44-year average of 216.4 hours. The record was set in 1933 with 276.3 hours and June 1922 was the darkest month with only 156 hours.

A total of 3.59 inches of rain fell for the month, almost unchanged from June 1957 with 3.63 inches and the 44-year average of 4.01 inches. June 1922 experienced the heaviest rainfall with 10.34 inches and the driest June was in 1949 with only 1.69 inches. The heaviest rainfall for the month was on the 13th with 1.14 inches, compared with an all-time June record of 4.08 inches on June 15, 1943.

Hotelmen, Taxidrivrs Fined In Drive Against Juvenile Delinquency

Fines totalling several thousands of dollars have been imposed in Sherbrooke Social Welfare Court on barmen and waiters charged with selling alcoholic liquor to juveniles and upon taxi-drivers who obtained the same for juveniles.

Among those fined were Florent Beaudoin and Roland Laroche, of the Aylmer Hotel in Garthby; Gilles Carrette and Alphonse Brouard, of the Hotel Disraeli, Disraeli; Remi Vincent and Edouard Laroche, of the Moulin Rouge, Sherbrooke; Jacques Gelin and Eugene Turgeon, barmen at the Mount Orford Club, Magog; Miss Bernadette Blodreau, waitress in the Hotel Frontenac grill, Lake Megantic; Laurien Boulanger, Hotel Royal, Lake Megantic, and two taxi-drivers, Oliva Jolin and Gerard Leroux, of Magog.

Judge J. C. Samson also announced that fines amounting to thousands of dollars have been imposed recently upon adults who were not barmen or taxi-drivers but who had procured liquor for teenagers on joy rides. The court has been especially severe in cases where liquor was used as a means of promoting immorality.

Fines have been imposed invariably on youngsters who infringed the liquor laws in these cases.

The judge also declared that stool pigeons are never used to prepare cases against barmen and that at no time were youngsters permitted to go to hotels or grills for the purpose of preparing a case. The court, he said, will proceed not only against hotel-keepers but also against youngsters who obtain liquor under false pretences.

He said names had been made public in a number of cases to indicate the law was being rigidly enforced.

De Gaulle And Algeria

Premier de Gaulle's new proposals to spend more money for aid to Algerians and to grant them more rights have brought comments along the usual political lines by Paris newspapers but have produced little reaction from the people most vitally concerned — the Algerian Moslems themselves and the European colonists there who insist that France must retain control of her North African territory.

Premier de Gaulle wound up a three-day trip to Algeria on Thursday by pledging in a broadcast from Algiers that France will pour more money into factories, farms, housing and schools there.

All Algerians, including women, will have equal voting rights for all public offices and Algerians will get a chance at civil service jobs previously held by Frenchmen.

In France the independent newspaper Figaro, which leans to the right in French politics, said Moslems in Algeria finally were being given practical measures destined to have tangible and immediate consequences, while the leftist Combat applauded de Gaulle's refusal to meet the Committee of Public Safety, which calls for continued strong French control in Algeria.

A Grim Lesson

Safety on the water while boating is not necessarily a matter only of the skill of those boating. Tragedy is often no further away than the next sudden storm squall, motor failure, or large swell.

How true this is was grimly pointed out a few weeks ago when five members of the RCMP drowned in a boat mishap on Lake Simcoe. A coroner's jury last week rendered a verdict of accidental death in the case, blaming the accident on storm conditions, and failure of the outboard motor.

These summer days, the many lakes and streams in the Eastern Townships are becoming more and more crowded with pleasure craft of all kinds. It is safe to say that few of those who enjoy the sport are as competent as the RCMP victims were in this particular activity. It is also safe to predict that some local pleasure-boaters, competent or otherwise, will end up as death toll statistics before the summer is over.

But most boating accidents can be avoided if a little foresight is used and a few simple safety rules are followed.

The Canada Steamships Act of 1934 sets the main ones as follows:

1. Never overcrowd a boat of any description, even for a short voyage.
2. All motor powered boats must have at least one life saver, or life-saving cushion per passenger.
3. All larger boats should carry adequate fire extinguishing apparatus.
4. All boats powered with 10 horsepower motors and over must have proper running lights, red in the bow and green on the stern.

In addition to these precepts, which are actually law, a little common sense in regard to weather and maintenance of the motor and craft will prevent fatal accidents.

None of this is difficult. Yet the pleasure of skimming over dancing blue waves, under sunny skies, with the fresh wind in one's face seems to lull some boat owners into a sense of false immunity to mishap every year.

They neglect these simple precautions — and often pay for this neglect with their lives, and/or the lives of friends and loved ones.

This And That

Nature couldn't make us perfect so she did the next best thing and made us blind to our faults.

In Malaya a wild boar dashed out of the jungle into the dining room of a hotel where he was killed, butchered, roasted and served for dinner. Oh, well, can't say he wasn't asking for it.

The Soviet knuckle-rappers are back chastising actors again for their profligate lives. Wouldn't the reformers have a field day in Hollywood?

When a woman suffers in silence, that's suffering.

Again the average life span is increased. If we live to be much older, we shall be our own posterity, which would serve us right.

The true pacifist believes in a noble idea, but not enough to fight for it.

The easiest way to get your face lifted is to smile once in a while.

Instead of arguing with the youngster about taking a bath, just let him water the lawn.

Nothing makes a politician less critical of what goes on in Ottawa than being elected to office.

Saturday's Sermon

The Towel

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

There will be many who will think THE TOWEL a strange topic for a Saturday sermon in a month associated with beautiful foliage and exquisite flowers, green fields, wistful skies and dreamy and magical lights. But there must be, amidst so much romance and beauty, a place for the commonplace. And there is!

Now the towel is such a article which irrespective of the time of year or the place, awaits to be used. In the home its chief centres are the kitchen and the bathroom. Nor is it limited to these two for if you travel to the lake, the mountains, the seashore, there it is the reason for such expressions as "Get your towel?"... "Lend me a towel..." "Give me a towel, please?"

A TOWEL — IN CHURCH

Are you surprised that there is a towel even in the House of God which you visit at least once a week. Where? sayest thou! Well, you will find the officiating minister wearing a stole round his neck and thereby hangs the romantic and beautiful story of The Towel. Back to the third century we go when that servant of the church named a DEACON carried over one shoulder a towel to cleanse the Eucharistic vessels. About 400 A.D. the Council of Laodicea forbade sub-deacons to wear the stole which had lost its original purpose and developed the shape we know now. So, the original napkin, having become a stole, the deacons used a towel carried over the left arm or in the fingers of the left hand. Not until the twelfth century did this towel become, like the stole, a formal vestment, the maniple.

THE BIBLE, TOO

In the Holy Bible, I delight to read that moving story how our Great High Priest, Christ, on Holy Thursday, took a basin and towel and having girded Himself therewith, instituted that SACRAMENT of SERVICE prior to the institution of that of the communion cup and loaf — The Blessed Sacrament. (John 13:4-5) For this there must have been compelling reasons. And there were! Greed, selfishness, had so blinded the disciples to the Cross and all that goes with Calvary that they needed such a drastic awakening. Of course the Master might have flung a thunderbolt, proclaimed the law, denounced with flaming fire the things He saw deep in their hearts; but no, with movement patient, yearning, slow, He washed their feet and wiped them with a towel.

YOU MUST SERVE.
To a similar service in the Brotherhood and sisterhood too, of humble service, victoriously done, Christ and His Church call you. Though it is Godlike to serve, it will not be easy. No doubt it would be easier to give by indirection. Easier to sit back, criticize, gossip and insist on being both different and difficult. But that is not the Jesus' way. And surely the privilege of being a co-worker with Him Who made the basin and the towel as sacramental as the communion cup and loaf and who accordingly expects that whatever we do, speak or frame will all be done to the glory of His Name, well, this is an ample reward. Isn't it?

NATURE DOES.
Serve the Lord with gladness, then. And men thy brethren, too. Listen and be convinced that all over God's World He has written the word "service." The clouds serve, freighting water. The mountains serve, holding the winter snows and pouring them down the thirsty valleys in summer. The ocean currents serve, doing a vast task as they modify climate, guiding men's destinies by determining his food supply. Every part of nature serves some part as hands and feet and ears and eyes serve the total bodily organism.

Motivated by love with the accent on tact, skill, and the gift of forgetting oneself in immortality, let us do our duty and as children of God, members of Christ and inheritors of the kingdom of heaven, see to it that we enlist NOW in the thrilling and useful ministry of helping others — a ministry as strong as it is exquisite — Whose Inspector is Christ who "Himself to this world came and wore the robe of human form."

Strange isn't it? That in 1958 we still find many hearts strangely warm as well as minds, willingly and prepared to follow Him Whose proud affirmation in days of yore was "I am among you as He that serveth (Luke 22:27). Rise up, O Child of God and, by saying Good Bye to lesser things, resolve henceforth to serve the good Lord AS HE DESERVETH. By giving without counting the cost; fighting a and not heeding the wounds; toiling and not seeking rest; working and not asking for any reward save that of knowing that we are doing the Will of God and man and thereby hasten that day, by prophet bards foretold, the Day of Brotherhood, the reign of Christ the King Who selected for us the insignia of the basin and the towel.

MRS. BENHAM

As this sermon being written in the apartment of Mrs. Percy Benham, West Shefford marks a milestone, I find no better illustration of one whose motto might well be ICH DIEN — I SERVE — than Mrs. Benham whose home I have shared during the past twenty years. On May 1st last, this noble woman who has specialised for many years, serving others in Iron Hill, Cowansville and latterly West Shefford, entered the Court Rest Home, South Stukely to be ministered unto and there to live on in Shefford and the surrounding countryside for many a moon, whilst her motto "Ich Dien", I serve, inwrought in the lives and hearts of unnumbered recipients could well be embroidered on her badge of service, — A towel.

My prayer, on the eve of Mrs. Benham's ninety-third birthday, is that the good Lord will be her Guide and Friend, her Strength and Stay till the end of the day. Then dear Lord, of Thy great mercy, grant her a safe lodging, a holy rest and peace at the last. AMEN.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — It has become obvious to a good many persons of late that the real boss in the Senate is Senator William R. Brunt, and not the newly-appointed government leader, the veteran Senator Walter M. Aseltine.

Nominally Brunt is only Aseltine's deputy. Actually he is the spark plug of the Senate, the expeditor of government business. What Prime Minister Diefenbaker wants done in the Senate, Brunt arranges to have done. Aseltine goes along, and the general belief is that Brunt will succeed Aseltine as titular leader before the next parliamentary session.

Diefenbaker appointed Aseltine this spring, following the resignation of the octogenarian former leader, Senator John T. Haig. But unlike Haig, Aseltine was not taken into the cabinet. The result has been that instead of dealing directly with Diefenbaker on Senate matters, Aseltine has to work largely through Brunt, who not only has Diefenbaker's ear but also the PM's unbounded confidence and trust.

Going on 72, Aseltine is one of the tiny band of Tory senators who survived the lean years of the Liberal occupation. He's in his 24th year in the Senate, and for many years he served with distinction as chairman of the Senate's hard-working Senate divorce committee. It would have been unkind and it would have been bad politics for Diefenbaker to have passed him over when Haig retired. Brunt, 55, is a corporation lawyer from Toronto and Hanover, Ont. He is the ball-of-fire type — of which there are not many examples in the Senate. He operates on a tight work schedule which keeps him shuttling back and forth between Ottawa and Toronto. He is thus not an easy man to get to see.

Brunt has been a Senator only since Oct. 12, but he has been a close friend of Diefenbaker for 20 years. They met at the Tory convention which elected Dr. Bob Manion and, as Brunt says now, his reaction to Diefenbaker was "That's my boy — he's going to be prime minister."

His boy has done just that, and in no small degree Brunt has contributed to Diefenbaker's success. He supported Diefenbaker's forlorn candidacy against George Drew in 1948. He raised money for Diefenbaker's electioneering last year and this. He traveled with Diefenbaker through out the election campaign of 1957 in the role of confidant and counsellor. He is one of not more than a half dozen members of Parliament whom Diefenbaker trusts utterly and without reservation. He is the PM's fixer, adviser and friend, and the two telephone lines into his office are frequently busy with calls from those who want him to act as their intermediary in approaching the PM or Mrs. Diefenbaker — for the latter was a friend of the Brunts.

long before she and Diefenbaker married.

Diefenbaker promised last year that "We shall make the Senate an effective instrument of government". That is the job he has assigned to Brunt.

Brunt's cagey about how much reforming he's going to do in the Senate. But he is annoyed at the Senate's lack of work. He wants more legislation introduced first in the Senate, "where we have men of great ability who have more time to study legislation than the members of the Commons. We can take the rough edges off it for the Commons".

The Liberals tried this a few years ago, but their enthusiasm for the idea petered out. Maybe their trouble was that they didn't have a Bill Brunt to MC the show.

ROSE VIA NON-PERMANENT MILITIA

(Ottawa Citizen)

The retirement of Lieut.-Gen. Howard D. Graham, to take effect on August 31, will end a career of public service that stretches back, with few interruptions, to World War I. Yet at 59 the army's chief of staff, a vigorous man with great personal charm, will be finding fresh outlets for his energy and talents. As a start, he will make a comprehensive survey of civil defence needs throughout the country.

General Graham went overseas in World War I, and between the wars, as an officer in the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, was one of the group of devoted men who helped keep the non-permanent militia in being as an efficient organization. In 1939, when the unit was mobilized, he was its second-commander. Later, he commanded the regiment. In 1943 he was in command of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade, with which he took part in the Sicilian and Italian campaigns.

Having served in the ranks and risen through the non-permanent militia General Graham understood the army from both the professional and the citizen viewpoints. This understanding gave him particular value as chief of staff. For while professional standards must be maintained, Canada's armed forces have no life of their own, and can have none, outside the general pattern of civilian society.

General Graham is of retirement age only by the military yardstick. By any other measure, he should have years of active life and service ahead of him. After his next assignment is completed, no doubt the community will hear from him from time to time. In the meantime, there will be a general desire to wish him well, and to felicitate his successor, Maj.-Gen. S. Findlay Clark, on appointment to the post of army chief of staff.

FALSE-CARD LESS THAN BRILLIANT

Hard Luck Joe won East's nine of spades with the ace and led the queen of clubs for a finesse. The finesse lost to East's king and East promptly shot back the deuce of hearts. West's queen knocked out dummy's king and Joe tried the diamond finesse. West took his king and a heart return enabled East to set the contract with three heart tricks. "There I go again," said Joe. "Two finessees wrong and brilliant defense was necessary to beat me this time."

"Well, you gave the defense all the help you could," said North. "You should have won the first spade lead with the king, not the ace."

"What difference did it make?" asked Joe.

"A lot," replied North. "Your silly false-card marked you with ace-king of spades and warned East that there was no future in the spade suit. If you had won with the king, East could not have located the ace since maybe you would have started with king-jack. In that case he might have returned the spade whereupon you would have made the contract, bad breaks and all."

North was right. Joe's false card was worse than useless.

TRADE CUT

Finland's exports for the first quarter of 1958 were 8 per cent in volume lower, imports down 22 per cent, from 1957.

SCANNER'S CORNER

(Fort William Times)

Children of French Canadians who moved to Fort William a few months ago have been picking up the English language quickly, playing with neighboring children in the west end of the city.

The other day one of the boys, a bright lad, was observed by a neighbor fooling around with his garden hose. "What are you doing?" the man asked.

"I am going to wash your grass," the youngster replied.

Matter of FACT

The "Tom Thumb," a steam locomotive about the size of a modern railroad hand car, was the first steam locomotive designed and built by an American. It was built in 1830 by Peter Cooper of Baltimore. In a race with a horse-drawn railroad car, the Tom Thumb lost because of a slipped drive.

Crack CMR Students Pull Occasional Prank

By GERALD FREEMAN
ST. JOHN'S, Que. (CP)—Chests out, chins in, spines like ramrods, the preparatory class at College Militaire Royal was drawn up in three ranks on the parade square, but drill instructors muttered and shook their heads.

"This is the first time they've ever pulled anything like this on me," grinned an officer as he went to bring Group Capt. J. G. Archambault, college commandant, to inspect the cadets.

A man of wry humor, Group Capt. Archambault blinked when he saw them, then went tongue-in-cheek about the inspection.

COLORFUL BUNCH
One oldie cadet was topped with an olive helmet. Others wore dungarees, or sashes about their waists. Beside the bugler stood an apparition from a West Indies travel folder, wearing a ragged straw hat and strumming a mandolin. A cadet with a toy drum came up tardily, panting.

Amid the studied disarray, cadets in standard dark blue uniforms looked out of place. Such mild high-jinks are rare at this split- and - polish military school, 25 miles southeast of Montreal, where no officer walks unsaluted, and no cadet bare-headed. The boys got away with it because they had just finished their curriculum and were preparing to dig into final examinations.

UNIQUE SYSTEM
They were winding up a year unique in Canadian schooling. CMR is the only bilingual military college in Canada, the only one of the three in which cadets can patch up high school deficiencies with a preparatory year.

It is also the newest of the three, opened in 1952 on the site of old Fort St. John, where American forces seeking to capture Canada during the American Revolution were kept at bay for so long that their campaign failed.

The officers' mess was built in 1839, but most of the buildings—including the three residences, the sports centre and the instruction building with its modern laboratories and 38,000-volume bilingual library—have been erected since 1952.

The Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., was founded in 1876, and Royal Roads, near Victoria, in 1941.

RMC IS GOAL
RMC at Kingston expects soon to be granting degrees itself. It takes students into its third year from CMR and Royal Roads, for two additional years. Science, engineering and military studies are stressed. Students who started in all three take an extra year at a recognized civilian university for degrees.

Cadets at the three schools choose their service on entering, and spend their summer months with the army, navy or RCAF. The present quota of cadets is 20 per cent navy, 40 per cent each for the others.

The air force administers CMR, the navy looks after Royal Roads and the army handles RMC. But instructors may be civilian or from any of the services, and commanding officers alternate among the services.

NO FOOLING
A typical day at CMR starts at 6:30 a.m., and cadets are permitted little nonsense as they parade, keep their rooms spick and span, attend classes, pound books through compulsory study periods and struggle in athletic events.

"We train the whole character, physical, intellectual and moral," says Group Capt. Archambault. "They come in here looking like nothing on earth, but you should see them when they leave."

The commandant says CMR was founded to provide military training for French-Canadian youngsters without a strong grasp of English.

For the first half of the month only French is spoken at the college, except in classrooms where instruction may be given in the cadet's mother tongue. During the other half, only English is spoken.

One English-speaking cadet and one who speaks French share residence room. Language, like everything else at CMR, is on a complete basis.

Bonfire Explodes

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Seven persons were injured—none seriously—when a July 4 holiday bonfire exploded early Friday. A stack of 1,000 empty beverage cases blew up when a match was touched to gasoline poured over it. The blast bowled over scores of spectators who had assembled to watch the spectacle.

More Vandalism At Frelighsburg

FRELIGHSBURG — On coming in from the field recently, Mrs. Eric Corey was astonished to find her day's washing scattered about the yard and torn; some of it was even burnt as a result of being thrown into the high tension wires. The clotheslines were twisted and other property damaged. Mr. Corey believes the destruction at his farm was the work of adults.

This is not the first case of vandalism in this community. During past months, tin cans have been thrown at public buildings and windows broken. Not long ago the ski tow owned by Mr. Gosselin was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars. So far no arrests have been made.

ROME (AP)—A couple of Carabinieri walked up to American television star Teddy Reno Wednesday night and asked politely: "Is your name Ferruccio Ricciardi?" Reno, back in his native land producing a weekly TV show, said yes. The national police then served him notice that he's on the wanted list for evasion of compulsory military service in Italy.

Vacation eating for children often is hit or miss. Ice cream bars, candy and soda pop may substitute for a balanced, refreshing meal. If this is true, then growing youngsters may find themselves with skin problems as well as upset tummies. No matter the heat, plan meals to be eaten regularly and in a relaxed atmosphere.

If Mom Rules Family, Could Be Because Dad's a Child

Look, Papa. Mama doesn't want to be boss. Even if she has taken over your job as head of the family, she is probably living for the day when you'll grow up enough to take the reins in your own hand.

How do I know? Well, recently I wrote a column suggesting that it was time we put Pop back in his rightful place—as head man on the family totem pole.

That column brought a flood of letters—but only a few of them were from wives who resented the idea of Papa's being reinstated as head of the family.

Most of them were from wives who asked, "How do you get a husband to grow up enough to want to be head of the house? I don't make the decisions, take full responsibility for the upbringing of the children, budget the family finances and show the children the only good times they have because I like it that way."

"I've had to take over little by little simply because my husband is too immature to assume family responsibilities."

"This way, whatever goes wrong, I'm to blame. And that is just how he likes it."

Not a very pretty picture, is it? Not nearly as comforting to male sensibilities as the commonly accepted idea that Papa is no longer head of the house because Mama willfully dethroned him and established Momism as the rule of the land.

But even though it isn't a picture that is likely to soothe the male ego, it does have the ring of truth.

For it's not a theory of the experts. It's the disillusioned cry of women who want to look up to their men—but can't.

Return To Work Keeps Older Woman Young
NEW YORK (AP)—Older women are getting younger all the time, says Dr. Winifred G. Helmes, who works on the womanpower program for the U.S. department of labor.

"When I speak of older women, I mean those who want to go back to work after their children are big enough to look out for themselves," she says.

"Now that girls are getting married so much younger, many, after raising their families, may be ready to go back to work at the age of 35. When you look at some of our most glamorous movie stars, you will agree that 35 is not old, or even middle aged. But a woman who has been out of the business world for 15 years faces the same problems in returning, at any age."

Dr. Helmes was in New York to act as moderator in a panel discussion on womanpower at the recent convention of Zonta International, attended by some 2,000 women executives from all over the world.

"The greatest demand for women workers," continued Dr. Helmes, is in "nursing, teaching and secretarial work. Any woman who is trained in any of these fields can practically write her own ticket. She can have full or part-time work. She can fit the job into her personal schedule."

Dr. Helmes is deeply interested in the program of getting mature women back into paying jobs.

"There's still another field that offers both the greatest need and the greatest opportunity for the woman of mature years, whose children are grown and whose life has been spent at home-making and raising children. Such a woman could start a whole new life as housekeeper for a family—and there are many desperately in need of just such a 'substitute mother.'"

"Professional women with families always are trying to find someone intelligent and responsible to take over their households and take care of their children. Widowers with children are in the same situation. And there are many families in which the wife likes to accompany her husband on business trips, but needs someone to keep things in order on the home front."

"The chief difficulty here is to find a new name for the job of housekeeper—one that does not suggest the status of servant."

Homemaking
Children who run about barefoot need a foot bath at the end of a play day. But you'll probably have to inspect them to see they have followed instructions. A soft brush will help them get toenails clean. And be certain feet are dried thoroughly to avoid such things as athlete's foot.

Renowned Band To Play North Hatley Band ConcertsCook's Show Band And Circus Band Wagon To Open Concerts July 6

The Sunday evening Band concert, long a favorite with rural communities will experience something of a revival this summer at North Hatley with a smart carnival-styled group under the direction of the well-known musician, Wendell W. Cook, formerly of Springfield, Vt.

In former times, every Sunday evening, crowds of people from the community would gather at the local park to listen to an hour or two of marches, overtures and even popular renditions of old favorites.

Unfortunately, in most communities, the band concert is a thing of the past. However, one Township community which once featured some most enthusiastic groups was North Hatley when local musicians such as the Woodward brothers and the Sampsons turned out with their bands at the Lake Shore Park every Sunday evening.

However, times too have changed and it has become necessary to bring in outside talent to maintain the performances at the park. In past years the Sherbrooke Regiment RCAC Band, the Sherbrooke Harmony and other bigger bands have entertained at the North Hatley Park.

Next Sunday, Mr. Cook's famous Show Band and Circus Band Wagon will play the first of a series of five summer Band Concerts at the Lake Shore Park in North Hatley, starting at 8:00 in the evening. Concerts will run from July 6 - 20; August 3, 17, and 31. In case of rain the concert will run the next alternate Sunday night.

This is the first appearance of the group in Canada and is certain to thrill young and old alike with its variety of snappy marches, classical and popular tunes.

The Band Wagon is unique in that it not only carries a group of outstanding musicians, but also contains its own library of music, uniforms, instruments, P. A. system and lighting as well as other maintenance equipment.

This Famous Show Band and Circus Band Wagon is the only unit of its type in the East. It has appeared throughout New England and New York states since its origin in 1951, including such events as Orleans County Fair, Barton, Vt.; Union Agricultural Fair, Blandford, Mass.; Nashua, New Hampshire's Centennial; Keene's 200th Anniversary in New Hampshire; Ellis State Convention, Barre, Vt.; Worcester, Mass. Annual Farmers Field Day; Drive-in Theatre; Super Market opening; and various other special events. It will close its season for a return engagement for the seventh year at the Great Danbury Conn. State Fair for a nine day event.

Wendell W. Cook, the Band conductor is also promoter and proprietor of the Band Wagon and Show Band. He was born in Barton, Vt., and educated at Barton Academy and Grade School. He has since been appointed, for two terms, a member of the Vermont State Recreation Board and was a conductor of the Springfield Community Band for 10 years.

In 1951, after having played and conducted at various Fairs and Vaudeville for several years, Mr. Cook conceived the idea of the Band Wagon. The Wagon itself is over nine feet high, 16 feet in length and eight feet wide, capable of holding as many as 12 musicians.

Mr. Cook engages the best musicians available in the district in which the unit is appearing and as many as 60 musicians have been employed during a season of engagements. Since coming to Canada a new unit has been organized and rehearsed, featuring some of the best musical talent in the Eastern Townships.

North Hatley, one of the most beautiful spots in the Eastern Townships and one of the most enviering tourist towns, is in full stride for the early part of what is expected to be a booming tourist season.

Four hotels with first-class tourist accommodation are available for travellers: The Connaught Inn, Hovey Manor, Pleasant View and the Brae Manor which also features top entertainment in the form of a professional summer theatre. The North Hatley Playhouse.

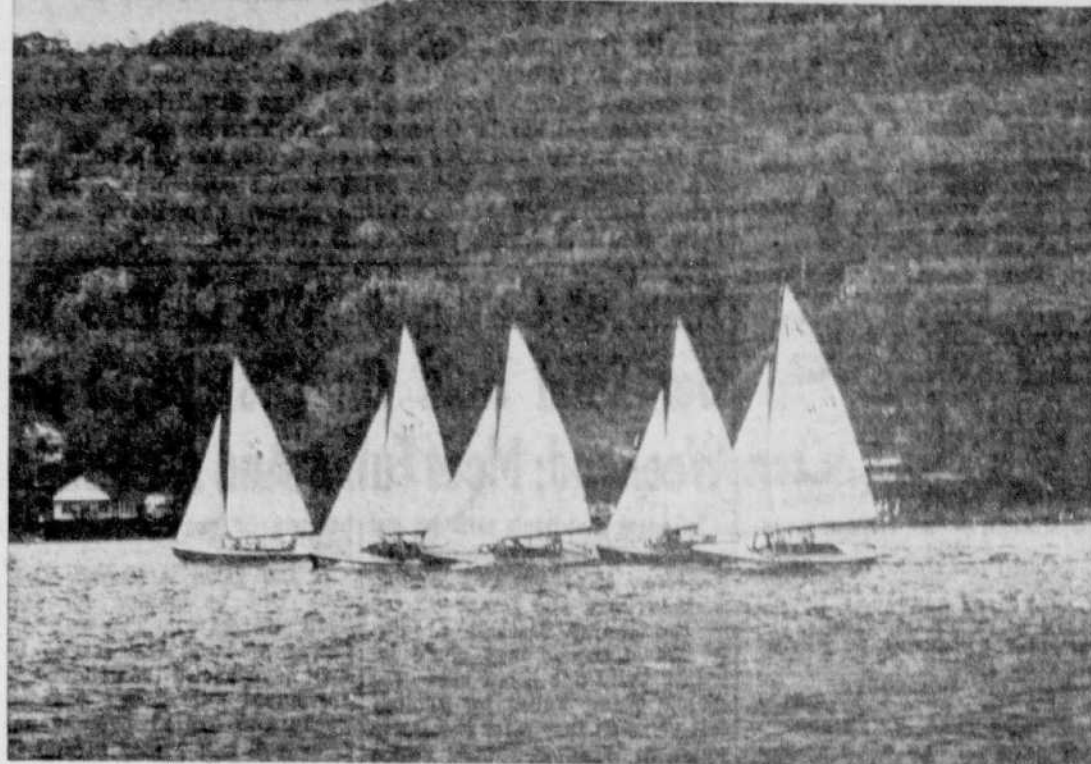

All proprietors and managers of these four resorts have agreed that, should their own establishments not have room available, they would find other accommodations for vacationers.

North Hatley features all the holiday pastimes available in a much larger tourist resort. There is a top-rated, nine-hole golf course with equipment available for rent; sailing is one of the more popular recreations and races are held every week-end; three liverys for boat rentals are located centrally. Woodard's Boat Service, Ride's Boat Livery and Henry Taylor's.

Swimming facilities at North Hatley are also of first rate quality. Immediately below the Pleasant View Clubhouse is a public beach, owned by the Pleasant View Hotel and under the direction of Mr. Paul Simard.

North Hatley is conveniently located for one and all. It is only 12 miles from Sherbrooke, with a bus service several times a day for people who wish to travel into town and back. Again, the picturesque little resort is only nine miles in the other direction, from Magog, saving travellers from Montreal the trip all the way around via Sherbrooke.

Fishermen, campers, tourists and vacationers alike should find their holiday on the shores of the 10-mile-long Lake Massawippi, soul-satisfying and relaxing.

MONDAY RED LETTER DAY FOR SHERBROOKE COUNTRY CLUB

The shareholders of the Sherbrooke Country Club will be called upon Monday to decide if they wish to construct a new club chalet and curling rink at a total outlay of $200,000. This is a very vital issue and all shareholders are asked to be on hand.

Tony Turmel, chairman of the Special Committee, has outlined the project in a very effective manner and didn't overlook any details and now it will be up to the shareholders to give their views on the proposition.

It is a well known fact that the present clubhouse is too small for the present number of members. If the number should increase within the next few years like it did this season then not only the club will be too small, but the course as well.

Another point to consider is that eventually the club will have to sell out and move elsewhere if the City continues to expand within the next few years like it did during the past two. At present the grounds are almost surrounded by residences and this brings up several other facts.

Several members figure the picture of the proposed club is too elaborate for Sherbrooke and too large but on the other hand if they are going to build they might as well do it right and get a suitable place. We don't think along these lines at all. The big item as far as we are concerned—is it proper and is the time suitable.

If this proposition is turned down they will have to make additions to the present quarters to accommodate everyone who is taking up the game and once you commence to tinker around with an old house everyone knows just what it costs in the long end. It would be cheaper to sell the old place and erect a new one.

Anyway Monday evening everything will be decided so boys you had better be on hand to voice your opinions, for or against, but at least show up and let your board of directors explain their side of the story. There is more to this than what is on the proposal sheet.

Received a very interesting letter from Bob Bedard, who is at present in Toronto playing against Cuba in the Davis Cup competition. He gives us the low-down on the training period they had at Forest Hills, N.Y., last week. It seems they played against Rosewall, Gonzales and Hoad in preparation for their matches with the Cubans.

Bob thinks the team should fare well against the Americans next week depending on how Don Fontana does against Cuba. Lorne Main, playing captain, figures that Fontana hasn't reached his peak and Bob expects there may be some changes for the American round. It seems from looking at the first round results that Bob is in for a good year. Keep rolling Bob the whole City is pulling for you.

The 4th annual Quebec Professional Golf Championship for the Dow Trophy and a purse of $3,500 will be at stake tomorrow at the LaSalle Golf and Country Club. Jack Kay of Pine Grove will be on hand to defend his title while seeking another top prize of $700 which goes with it.

A record field of 69 pros and class "A" assistants will tee off commencing at 7:00, the earliest since the pro tourney was inaugurated in 1955 by Dow Brewery. It seems that Joe Leblanc, pro at the Country Club, will have to sit this one out as well as Garth Smith. A ruling of the CPGA holds them on the sidelines until late this fall, although they took part in a few so far.

There is a ruling which states that before any player can play in any of the CPGA sponsored tournaments he must sit out a two-year waiting period. It seems to us if a player is good enough to perform with the top-rated, or so-called pros, why can't he take part in their tourneys. Suppose some of the aging boys are afraid of the up-and-coming club-swingers.

The Association claims it was installed to keep the top amateurs out of the business and make it a little harder to become a professional. Suppose it has it pros-and-cons but it still seems a little funny to us.

See where the Hilles R. Pickens, newly appointed manager of Quebec's Interprovincial Willingdon Cup Team, has announced a major change in the method of selection of the 1958 team who will compete at Toronto July 19. In years past the Quebec Amateur champion has always been an automatic member of the four-man squad but this year it will be different.

This seems logical to us. It was hard to understand how one player could make the team while the other three had to play in three medal competition to qualify. We understand that the winner of the Amateur crown will get a trip just the same as a substitute. The main idea behind this move is to try and get the best medal players in the Province to represent the Association.

The final team trials will take place July 12-13 in Montreal over two courses to be announced at a later date. It will be interesting to see how this new method will work out. We believe it will produce the best medal players in the Province and should help the squad.

While on golf don't forget that today the Joe Colby Memorial Trophy event will be held at the Country Club. This is an 18-hole affair with prizes for the various classes in both gross and net.

The Sand Hill Gun Club is staging a trap-shoot out tomorrow afternoon commencing at 2:00. This is open to non-members and guns will be loaned by club members to anyone who wishes to take part in the event. We understand that the club will hold them every two weeks. So boys now is the time to get started and try your hand at a little trap-shooting. It is a very nice sport.

Cy Pyke, genial manager of Sherbrooke's United Store, is leaving to take up a new position with the firm in Saint John, N.B. We understand that it is quite a jump up the ladder and on behalf of all your sporting friends we wish you the best of luck in your new position.

Cy and Mrs. Pyke are very well known in sporting circles and are keen curlers. In fact we believe that is where we had the opportunity of meeting him. We know that the "Breakfast Club" will certainly miss him and his good humor in the mornings and on their behalf Cy we add our good wishes to your many friends who are leaving in Sherbrooke. We wish you "Bon Voyage" and don't forget to drop around and see your old friends in the Townships.

They say that in curling you make friends and this is one case where we agree. Mrs. Pyke and Cy were always ready to go anywhere to curl and we are sure that they are leaving their mark. We are sure that once you are established "Down East" it won't be long before you will find many more friends to replace the ones you have left here. You just can't miss. So once again Mrs. Pyke and Cy "God Speed" to you both and the best of luck.

The annual All-Star game is slated for Tuesday July 8 in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium and for the first time since World War II days the public had nothing to do with the selection of the players. The basic idea behind the game, as conceived by the late Arch Ward, Chicago Sports Editor, was to have the customers elect the starting lineups.

Millions cast ballots and this helped to promote endless arguments and made baseball a leading topic in living rooms, offices and pubs but now that the game has been taken away from the fans. We think that Commissioner Pritch should have left still left in the hands of the fans for the good of the game. The players certainly made some drastic changes in the lineups but the managers came around with their additions, just the same as they have for years.

So we wonder why the change. Maybe last year's brainwashing tactics of the Cincinnati sportscoasters brought about the change but we believe that this could have been fixed without taking away from fans, the pleasure of picking the All-Star lineups.

Weather Will Play Big Factor In Deciding Winner For Dow's Quebec Professional Golf Event At LaSalle

Stan Baird, host pro for Sunday's Quebec Professional Golf championship tourney at LaSalle Golf and Country Club, hazards two predictions as to what it will take to win the title, the Dow Trophy and top prize money of $700.

"A score of 139 should do it if the weather is fine, but this could easily balloon to 146 if it isn't," says Baird. Par for 18 holes at LaSalle is 72, and the model play event calls for 86 holes.

Biggest weather factor which may affect the pros is the wind, according to Baird.

"It blows off the river and across the course in pretty fair

Windsor Cardinals Have Chance To Get Solid Hold On First Place This Weekend; Meet Fuller And A's Sunday

Windsor Cardinals will be out to increase their first place lead tomorrow afternoon and evening as they have two games on tap in the Junior Baseball League. In the afternoon they could increase their one game lead over second place Fuller by another full game as they meet the Pepin squad in Windsor. Should Fuller win it would put them on an even keel with the Cards in first position. Each team would have an eight and four record.

In the evening St. Jean Baptiste plays host to Windsor at the Sherbrooke Park at 7:30. The Athletics dropped a close 6-3 decision to Fuller Thursday night and will be trying to regain second position. At present the A's trail Windsor by two games and Fuller by one. Should Windsor take both games they would have the largest lead any team has had this year, two and one half games.

INDIANS PLAY
There is a possibility of another game this weekend between the Sherbrooke Indians and the Coaticook Canadiens in Coaticook Sunday afternoon. The game was scheduled for Thursday night but was washed out because of poor playing conditions.

If the game is played, Coaticook will be looking for their third straight win. The club is in fourth place in the league but they have shown tremendous improvement during the past two weeks and are at present only three and half games behind the top-spot club. The Indians will be looking for their first win in 11 starts in Sunday's game. They have not won a game since May 26 when they topped St. Jean Baptiste 12-8.

Windsor have however been setting the hottest pace in the league. Their climb into first place has been on the strength of improved consistent play. They have won their last six ball games and have been beaten only three times this season.

The Cards have had a faithful following all season. They always have a fine contingent of supporters whenever the team visits Sherbrooke.

Attendance has improved at Sherbrooke with the Athletics apparently having the largest following. The Indians have some faithful supporters but the attendance for their games should increase.

36-Hole Playoff Needed To Decide British Open Golf Champion As Peter Thomson And Dave Thomas Tie

ST. ANNES-ON-SEA, England (CP)—Peter Thomson of Australia and Dave Thomas of Wales tied with record 278 scores after four regular rounds in the British Open golf tournament Friday. They will play off for the championship over 36 holes today.

Their scores for 72 holes wiped out the former open record of 279 first made by Bobby Locke of South Africa at Troon in 1950 and equaled by him at St. Andrews last year.

Today's playoff at the Royal Lytham and St. Anne's links is the first in the open since 1949. The competition on the last few holes produced a head-to-head, lead-changing drama that belongs among the classics of golf.

Thomson had rounds of 68, 72, 67 and 73. Thomas scored 70, 68, 69 and 71.

ONE SHOT BEHIND
One shot behind Thomson and Thomas with 279 were British Ryder Cup players Eric Brown, the Scottish champion, and Irishman Christy O'Connor.

Thomson and Thomas, who were paired, engaged in a hole-for-hole battle that sent thousands of excited spectators running after every shot.

The main drama was packed into the last four holes. The confident Thomson was two strokes ahead at the 14th but at the 24th yard 15th he sent his third shot into a bunker and took three more to get down for 6. Thomas seized his chance and holed out in 4 to draw level for the first time.

With the crowd roaring him on, Thomas, 23, sank a single putt on the 16th green for a birdie 3 to go in front by a shot. At the 17th, Thomson, on the green in 2, holed out in 4 against a 5 and they were level again. Thomas had pulled his tee shot.

On the 18th, Thomas was short, some 20 yards from the flag, while Thomson with his second shot was 12 feet from the pin. Thomas sent his ball narrowly past the cup and finished a yard wide. Thomson missed his putt by inches and both finished with 4s.

To other records were equalled Friday. Brown came home in 30 this morning for a third round 65. The 18-hole score matched the open record, first set by Henry Cotton in 1934 and equalled by Argentina's Leopold Ruiz Thursday. The nine tied the low mark Brown set himself last year.

Both men won more comfortably than the distances suggest. MacKenzie, with a time of eight minutes 28 seconds, was seven seconds better than Ivanov.

LITTLE LEAGUE LOOP

By Ted Anderson

By TED ANDERSON

"Junior Baseball League Day" is being held to-day at Delormier Stadium. Montreal when junior baseball players of all ages will be the guests of Molson's Ltd. at the Toronto—Montreal tilt.

The executive, umpires, managers, coaches and players of the Sher-Lenn Little League will travel by bus leaving at 5:00.

Chief Umpire Bill Webb had a new man on duty on Thursday evening in the person of Ronnie Olson. Its good to see Ron back in the loop. His knowledge of Little League rules will be a big asset to the umpiring staff.

Understand that the Sher-Lenn Little League will meet St. Johns Little League in the Provincial play-offs in Sherbrooke July 26. The manager and coach of the All-Star team, who will represent the league, have been chosen, and that their names with the players will be released.

Charlie Clark's White Sox are still leading the pack and a win over Lennoxville would give them two-point lead. The Athletics and Senators are breathing down each others neck as the games roll along. These two teams are pretty evenly matched.

Andy Matte with his coaching staff of Bobby Morin, Claude Ruel and Junior Langlois are beginning to make the Indians presence felt in the league. The acquisition of Bobby Morin as head coach was a smart move on Manager Andy's part. The players are responding well under Bobby's tutelage.

What's Wrong With The Red Sox And Yankees? Red Sox have now lost eight in a row something out of the ordinary with Alf Savage at the helm. The play good ball but in almost every game they come up with that one bad inning and mostly that one they lose out on.

This corner thinks that once Alf solves his catching problem the team will improve. His boys, once they get on base, are really fast. Here's hoping Alf that you get that first one soon and begin to click.

Yankees are a team that are not living up to expectations they have a fairly amount of good material but they lack being in the game consistently. Loose field play and slow fielding has been most of their undoing. Hold onto that ball fellows when there are men on base and keep on your toes at all times. You will win more games and remember to stay in the game all the way.

Magog Takes On Sherbrooke In ET Soccer Match

Magog and Sherbrooke clash this afternoon at Jacques Cartier Park at 3:00 in an Eastern Townships Soccer League game. Sherbrooke, at the moment, is on top of the league but Magog is challenging them for the leadership.

Magog came up with a good win, their second of the season, last Saturday downing Drummondville by 2-0 score. They will be out to repeat that performance against Sherbrooke this afternoon.

Magog have in Peake and Mac Alpine two of the classiest players in the league, their foot work being a treat to watch. Canavan and Hamilton on defence are also steady. Ripka from Sherbrooke is perhaps the best right half in the league and Bayer and Shields look after the defence chores in fine style. All these players will be worth watching this afternoon.

The lineups follow:
Sherbrooke: Zeigler, Bayer, Shields, Ripka, Turnbull, Cote, Boucher, Williams, Kennedy, Murdoch, and Simmonds.

Magog: Whittier, Canavan, Hamilton, Booth, Robinson, Mellin, Hines, Peake, Corwell, Barlow and Mac Alpine.

B. C. Lions Lose Dick Foster But Acquire Bingham

VANCOUVER (CP)—B. C. Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union announced Thursday the loss of holdover import tackle Dick Foster to the U.S. Army and the acquisition of import halfback Don Bingham, formerly of Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

Foster, 23, was released by the U.S. Army after two seasons with the team. Bingham, 24, was released by the Chicago Bears after two seasons with the team.

Bingham, a six-foot, 4½-inch giant, holds the title. Ivanov, a muscular, six-foot army officer based in Moscow, is the Olympic champion.

TWO WINS APICE
Ivanov has beaten MacKenzie twice—in the heats and finals of the 1956 Olympic games in Melbourne. And twice MacKenzie has crushed Ivanov—in the Henley final last year and later in the 1957 European Games championship.

The edge might be with Ivanov because the 22-year-old MacKenzie has a slightly strained back which has troubled him for several days. It recurred Friday but he was able to beat George Justice of Britain by 1½ lengths.

Ivanov, 23, beat Martin Gaylard of Britain by three-quarters of a length in the other semi-final.

Both men won more comfortably than the distances suggest. MacKenzie, with a time of eight minutes 28 seconds, was seven seconds better than Ivanov.

Lead American League By 10½ Games, Post Win Before 20,688

Some Independence Day in the American League! Those overlord New York Yankees lead by 10½ games and no club has had a bigger July 4 bulge since guess who led by 11½ in 1939.

The Yankees, sweeping the three-game set and winning their fourth straight game, twice cracked the last-place Senators before the league's largest crowd of the day, 20,688 at Washington. Bob Turley won his 12th with a three-hitter in the 2-1 opener, and Art Ditmar, pitching his first complete game for the Yankees, won the nightcap with a fourhitter 13-2.

Second-place Kansas City swiped two at Chicago, beating the White Sox 6-5 and 4-3. Boston and Baltimore split, the Red Sox winning 5-1, the Orioles 5-3. Cleveland rapped Detroit 6-1, but the Tigers took the nightcap 3-1.

SHAKY START
Turley gave up two singles and walked a run across before he got a man out, then allowed only a fifth-inning single by Roy Sievers. Turley's second 1958 home run tied it and Tony Kubek's single off loser Pete Ramos 6-6 won it in the seventh.

Mickey Mantle hit his 19th homer as did Sievers in the nightcap, when the Yankees slugged 22 hits—a one-game league high for the season. Norm Siebern and Bill Skowron also homered for the Yankees, with Siebern, who was 4-for-5, belting his seventh with a man on in a wrapup, six-run sixth. Truman Clevenger was the loser.

The A's, trailing 5-0, chased Early Wynn and handed Turk Lown his first defeat when injured Bob Cerv cracked his 22nd home run, a two-run pinch-hit shot in the eighth. Jim Landis and Earl Battey hit two-run homers in the first for the Sox, who then got but one hit—Ray Boone's homer—over the last 1-3 frames from Bob Grim, winner Tom Gorman 2-3 and Dick Tomaneck.

SIMPSON, TUTTLE HOMER
Early Simpson and Bill Tuttle homered the A's into a 3-0 lead in the nightcap and Pete Daley won his first with Tomaneck's second perfect relief job of the day after Sherm Lollar homered with a man on in the ninth. Ray Moore 5-3 lost it.

Lary Doby was 4-for-4 and drove in four runs, three with a first-inning homer off loser Paul Foytack 6-8, while Cal Melliash won his fifth for the Indians. Herm Wehmeier won his first for Detroit in the nightcap on Hilmy Martin's solo home run off loser Jim Grant 6-6 in the seventh.

Sammy White's bases-loaded triple capped a four-run sixth in the opener for the Red Sox as Frank Sullivan won his sixth with a five-hitter. Connie Johnson lost it in relief of Milt Pappas, forced out by a knee injury. The Orioles overhauled a 2-0 Boston lead with three in the nightcap sixth, then put it away on a double by Brooks Robinson and Billy Gardner's sacrifice fly in a two-run eighth. Arnie Portocarrero 6-5 won it with Mike Fornieles 6-5 the loser.
